Hereford Is Expanding At Record-Setting Clip, City Manager Reports

"Hereford is witnessing an unprecedented growth boom at the present time, being tagged as the third fastest growing city in Texas by the Texas Division of the Department of Commerce," City Manager Dudley Bayne said Wednesday.

Bayne said that in July permits were issued for 39 new family units, compared with 14 in Wichita Falls for the same month; 27 for Waco, 23 for Plainview; 12 for Dumas; seven for Canyon, three for Borger; 120 for Amarillo and two each for Friona, Dalhart and Childress.

"Cities over 10,000 are required to have a paid fire department and several other basic changes are required, but the census must be official, and an official census will not be made until 1970," Bayne said.

Hereford Rides Roughshod Over Littlefield, 21-0

Hereford High School Whitefaces marched down the victory path for the second time this season Friday evening as they traveled to Littlefield and presented the Wildcats with a 21-0 drubbing.

The Whiteface defense clamped down and held the Wildcats until the ball was turned over to Hereford on downs.

The Whiteface offense wasted no time in marching the ball downfield in a 85 yard drive that was climaxed when Mike Moore carried the ball over from eight yards out for the first score of the game.

Angelo has answered many thousands of calls for Hereford residents, during his service as a volunteer fireman and fire marshal.

Angelo explained, "During the past few years, due to the size the city has grown to, we have somebody staying by the phone at all times, that would be capable of handling another fire, if a second alarm were to come in."

 during the entire time of its organization in Hereford.
 He was named a special deputy of the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department and served in that capacity for more than six years under the administrations of Lowell Sharp and Charles Skelton.
 He served as a radio dispatcher for the city of Hereford, for more than 18 months.
 Angelo has been official weather observer for 14 years and has provided the high and low temperatures, that appear at the top of the Hereford Brand, for many years.
 He has served as corporation court judge during periods when the job was not filled by a full-time judge and during absences of the corporation court judge.
 In other activities, Angelo served as secretary for the local Masonic Lodge from 1959 until 1962.
 When Clay began working full-time as a fireman in 1951, the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department had only three trucks, and now the department, which is rated as one of the finest in the state, boasts six modern trucks.
 "When I joined the department in 1924, we had two trucks, one was an old Maxwell and the other we call a Napoleon."
 "The Napoleon had to be pushed more than we ever drove it, but they all served their purpose."
 In recalling his many years with the Hereford Fire Department, Clay said, "I've been to a lot of warm ones and cold ones."
 "Perhaps the worst fires we ever had here were the Pitman and Fraser Elevators, which burned on separate occasions."
 "I remember I pumped for six straight hours, never letting up, when the Fraser Elevator burned."
 Clay appeared before the city commission last month and announced his intentions to resign. He will serve as a part-time dispatcher for the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department, and will reside with his wife Gladys and daughter, Deborah at 13th and H.
 The city commission commended Angelo for the fine job he has done during his years of service with the city of Hereford and said the association had been a very pleasant one.
 Angelo said, "I would like to take this opportunity to express my thanks to all of the people of Hereford, especially the businessmen, who have made my job so pleasant through their fine cooperation."
 "I would also like to commend City Manager Bayne and the entire city commission for the fine job they are doing and the support they have given me and the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department during my years of service."

 to Cook for 14 yards, placing again, with a pass from Cain the ball on the Wildcat 26.
 A series of off-tackles plays gave the Herd a first down on the Wildcat eight yard line and Halfback Gene Drummond connected on a seven yard pass to Lynn Cook for the second tally of the evening, giving the Herd a 14-0 edge.
 The attempt for a conversion by passing was intercepted, leaving the score at 14-0 with more than three minutes remaining in the first half.
 Littlefield ran the kickoff back to the 50 yard line and unleashed a passing attack that was broken up when Steve Hodges intercepted a pass on the 35.
 However, the half ended before the offense could start another attack.
 Greg Richards took the kickoff back at the beginning of the second half to the Herd's 30 yard line.
 The offense failing to move, the Herd was forced to punt from their own 30 to the Littlefield 14.
 The Littlefield offense was even colder and they failed to move the ball during the series of downs. The Wildcats attempted to punt on the fourth down, but a bad snap from center sent the ball sailing over the punters' head and into the end zone. Lynn Cook fell upon the ball for the third Whiteface touchdown. Greg Richards kicked for the extra point.
 The Wildcats pressed again in the final minutes of the game, driving near the Hereford goal line, where the ball was picked off in mid-air on the fourth down by Jimmy Quiterrez.
 Hereford had 14 first downs on 147 yards rushing and 55 passing. Littlefield had nine first downs with 103 yards rushing and 30 passing.
 Hereford now sports a 2-1 record while Littlefield's stands at 0-3.

 "That's just part of the story" House told the team leaders assembled at the bank. "Every phase of the operation effects the youth of this community in one way or another", including the Salvation Army, and the Deaf Smith County Commission on Alcoholism", he said. "By helping an adult, we automatically help the children in that family."
 The United Fund drive for the past two years has fallen about 10 percent short of its goal, but fund drive leaders this year hope to be able to "go over the top".
 "We are getting bigger every day", House said, "and our responsibilities are growing bigger." By the same token, we should be able to raise more funds." He pointed out that everyone who was not a recipient of — welfare, probably should be contributing to it.
 Plans this year call for a days pay from every working man and woman, plus the generous contributions which have always been given by the business and professional men of Hereford.
 "All campaign workers are urged to be on hand Thursday morning to hear Dan Eddy", House said, "and anyone else interested in hearing this dynamic speaker is welcome to be at the hotel ballroom at 10 a.m., whether you have a job in the fund drive or not."
 The program will start promptly at 10 a.m., and will disband almost immediately after Eddy speaks. At that time, campaign workers will start their solicitation for the 1964 campaign.

 The first Homer and Jethro routine began in 1936, when they appeared regularly on several radio programs.
 During the war years, Homer and Jethro were separated, as Homer was in the Pacific and Jethro was in the Atlantic, "which kind of spoiled the act", according to Homer.
 After WW II, the pair began their act again and were more successful than in years previous to the war.
 The first recording was made on the RCA label in 1945 and was a very successful venture for both RCA and Homer and Jethro.
 "We like to consider ourselves as peddlers of sophisticated corn," Homer promptly replied when asked about their routine.
 Homer is Henry Haynes and Jethro is Kenneth Burns.
 After the performance in Hereford Thursday evening, the men left for Chicago, where they will tape the next Jimmy Dean Show and will then travel to Los Angeles to film more Kellogg's Corn Flake commercials.

 Roy Rogers, son of Mrs. and Mrs. W. L. Rogers, 521 Avenue K, chalked up his tenth victory Monday night by defeating Murphy Gordwin of Houston on a technical knockout in the seventh round of a scheduled 10-round fight.
 Rogers is a former member of the Hereford Athletic Club boxing team, and was undefeated during the 4 years he fought with the Hereford team. He is former Golden Glove Regional Champion, and advanced to the finals at Ft. Worth prior to entering the professional ranks two years ago. He is undefeated in professional fighting, with only one mark against his record — a draw with the man he defeated Monday night.
 Gordwin was bleeding at the nose and his left eye was closed when referee Pat Riley stopped the fight.
 There were no knockdowns. Rogers, now with a 10-0-1 record, weighed 198 with Gordwin topping the scales at 195.
 The Hereford fighter now lives at Levelland, Texas where he is employed in oil field work. He is managed by T. J. Watt of Levelland, father of Gary and Carson Watt, both well known in this area for their boxing ability.

 The diversion payment rates have been increased to 50 percent of the county loan rate in order to provide greater incentive for maximum diversion; thus, continued progress could be made in reducing excessive grain stocks.

REGARDING SAND TRAPS

The Sand Trap is designed for protection from debris entering the main sewer line. It is required by City Ordinance for the owners of garages and filling stations to keep them cleaned at all times and not allow the overflow of solids to enter the discharge drain of trap. Also, the clean out plug is not to be removed except for an emergency of rodding a stopped line.
 The pit is drained by a siphonage method and not by removing the clean out plug. The pit should be cleaned each day if used and all debris dipped or boiled out — not forced out by water which will cause the mixture of dirt, grease and other trash to enter the sewer causing a stopped line.
 Spot inspections have been made of stations and several were found with improper cleaning and pits filled with sludge and debris.
 In the future all sand traps will be inspected by the Plumbing Inspector and if the Ordinance is being violated the owner is subject to legal action which can result in a maximum fine of $200.00.

FOR LINCOLN'S PARTY — Guest speaker for L'Allegra Study Club recently was Mrs. George M. McDaniel, Borg-er, third-term vice-chairman of the Executive Committee of Texas Republican Party. Here she has just been recapping the party platform and emphasizing again that for the first time Texas GOP has a full slate of candidates for state

GOP Speaker Traces Party For L'Allegra

Speaking on the Republican Party for L'Allegra Study Club, Mrs. George M. McDaniel, Borg-er, surveyed the history, aims, platform, and current candidates of the party.

Third-term vice-chairman of the Executive Committee of Texas Republican Party, Mrs. McDaniel had recently returned from the Texas State GOP Convention in Austin and stressed, therefore, the working party set up from precinct to national level.

"The machinery for governing ourselves is here if we will make use of it," she declared.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Wes Fisher, program chairman for the day, who pointed out that Mrs. McDaniel, the former Miss Kathryn Davies, was a one-time home economics teacher in Hereford High School.

In addition Mrs. Fisher cited Mrs. McDaniel's having served on both rules and platform committees at previous GOP national conventions.

Mrs. Fisher noted also, that although long interested in the Republican Party, Mrs. McDaniel's active participation in the party began in 1949 and continued progressively thereafter through local, regional, state, and national GO affairs.

A political party, Mrs. McDaniel defined, is a group of people of similar beliefs who band together to promote these beliefs. Then she summarized briefly the party history from its 1854 beginnings with two separate parties, and at Jackson, Mich., having the same aims, forming resolutions concerning the Kansas-Nebraska Bill, an anti-slavery bill; through Civil War and Reconstruction Days and the Twentieth Century.

When choosing a political party for individual participation, she recommended, one should look at the platform and candidates of each party, compare and contrast what they say and what they do. She cautioned that one should consider not only what is contained in the platform but also what is omitted.

She emphasized the value of acquaintance with the tenets of the GOP Platform and pointed out salient factors in these divisions: education, crime, Supreme Court Communism, state election law reform, administration, civil rights, with Texas GOP opposition to candidates of the Democratic Party.

Re-emphasizing the necessity of every member participation, Mrs. McDaniel declared that the individual must participate at precinct level if he would make his voice heard and thereby influence the choice of candidates and representation in government. "This is how Goldwater became a presidential candidate," she said. "His candidacy began as a grass roots movement."

At the brief business meeting, Mrs. Joe Easley, president, presided. Members heard a message asking for individual participation in the United Fund Drive and for enthusiastic support of it.

For this second invitational program for a more informed electorate, hostess was Mrs. Bob Veigel.

Guests included Mrs. Paul Scott, Mrs. Oscar Easley, Mrs. Robert Hickman, Mrs. Gene Cope, Mrs. C. E. Leasure, Mrs.

Vance Robinson, and Mrs. W. C. Russell.

The following members were present: Mrs. Cameron Gault, Mrs. Wheeler Sears, Mrs. Jim McDowell, Mrs. John Beasley, Mrs. Dennis Lomas, Mrs. Joe Lyons, Mrs. Dwaine Walker, Mr. Alex Schroeter, Mrs. Wes Fisher, Mrs. Hilton Higgins, Mrs. Walter London Jr., Mrs. Easley, and the hostess Mrs. Viegel.

At the next meeting there will be a study of party candidates.

Madre - Mia Reviews Art Of Make-Up

"The Art of Make-Up" with lecture-demonstrations by Miss Sheryl Mullins, Amarillo, formed the program for La Madre Mia Study Club at its meeting Thursday evening in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

Miss Mullins, who models for fashion concerns as a "debut-teen," gave facial demonstrations with Mrs. Lee Drake serving as a model. After explaining cleansers, moisturizers, and toners, she showed correct make-up step by step. Mrs. W. C. Russell served as program chairman for the evening.

Conducting the business session, Mrs. Sparks, president, directed committee reports, correction of yearbooks, and the affirmative vote of the club to sponsor third grade Happy Blue Birds of Northwest Elementary School. Mrs. Dan Paul serves as Blue Bird sponsor.

Mrs. Sparks introduced Mrs. Jim McDowell as a new club member and recognized Mrs. Gibson as a Hereford visitor. Mrs. Walter London Jr. presented a report on activity on behalf of the United Fund, further explained its purpose, and urged club attendance at the kick-off coffee, Oct. 1, in the Jim Hill Hotel.

Members present included Mrs. John Beasley, Mrs. Joe Brooks, Mrs. Clyde Coleman, Mrs. Jerry Detwiler, Mrs. Charles Frye, Mrs. Ben Gollehon, Mrs. Joe Hacker, Mrs. Dean Herring, and Mrs. Gene King.

THE BRANDIN' IRON

By Melvin Young

Rene Batard, the personable young exchange student from France, has been taking quite an interest in this country's politics, although he cannot take sides or participate in any way. The exchange program explicitly prohibits such activities. It is quite an educational opportunity for the young man, however, just to sit back and observe; to compare our political situation with his native France and other countries of Western Europe.

It will take a while, we're sure to indoctrinate Rene into our methods of doing things in this country, but we're betting, on the record of the exchange students of the past, that it won't take too long.

One thing that seems to amaze this young man, is the freedom we enjoy in all our endeavors, but more especially in the exercises of our freedom of speech.

In France, for instance, to express harsh criticism of the President in a public place could result in being put in jail. If that were the case in America, half the people and most all the politicians would be conducting their campaigns from behind bars. In this country, a public official is fair game for almost anything it seems, and we think at times that the candidates themselves set the pace for campaign workers on the local level.

"Another example," says Rene, "is that the candidates who oppose the President are allowed only two hours total time on TV and radio during their campaign period (generally 18 months). The TV and radio channels are run by the state as a monopoly.

Rene is acutely conscious of the freedoms that we enjoy in this nation. "Freedom," he says, "is an ideal for which one has been fighting and will be fighting for, for a long time. No other ideal could have been reached independently because of the lack of liberty and will not be reached before FREEDOM has become a real concrete notion. And the very notion of the word FREEDOM is gradually fading in France.

Rene reminds us that France helped the American colonies with their independence from England, and stated his desire that people of all nations might one day be free and have at least the individual liberties that Americans enjoy.

Rene is a pretty sharp young man, we think, and it's a pleasure to have him live and study in our community. We hope, however, that the upcoming American elections won't get him too upset. After all, politics in this country is a national pastime. Maybe as popular as baseball.

HB. Ponies... ponies... ponies. We'd bet there are more horses per capita in the country now than there have been in many, many years. The experts attribute this to the rising participation in riding clubs throughout the country, but others have come to the conclusion that a horse today is a status symbol. Maybe even better than owning a Cadillac, or a mink stole.

Perhaps it's a combination of the two, but if you're driving around the country anytime soon, take note of the number of horse in pastures.

HB. Now we're not including people like Charlie Holt, who has been dabbling in the racing business for several years. Charlie and others who own the thoroughbreds, wouldn't let their priceless steeds graze in "just any old pasture." Why, they rate almost as high as the wife and kids.

We're thinking rather, about folks like Neil Cooper, who now has (at latest count), more horses than he has kids. In fact, he has six horses and only three youngsters. Now we wouldn't say the horses get better treatment than the kids, but we will say they receive some mighty special attention.

Jimmy Lassiter, butcher at Cooper's Market, also has four horses... and no children. If that's not getting to be a status symbol, I don't know what is.

HB. Personally, we never could afford a status symbol. We heard a fellow say one time that if you called your Cadillac a Cadillac, you were pretty high on the totem pole. But his feeling was that since he couldn't afford the Cadillac, he wondered if it was just as good if he called his Falcon a Cadillac. Which reminds us of the fellow who drove around town one summer with his auto windows rolled up. He didn't have air conditioning, but he wanted his friends to think he did.

HB. Have you noticed the large number of hawks around the country? More than we have seen in many years. We wonder why the sudden influx? Could it be that it has been so dry around the country that the hawks are moving to the irrigated areas, too? Well, that's a thought.

HB. Opening his mail one morning, Henry Ward Beecher, a well-known New England clergyman, opened a sheet of paper that read simply, "Fool". In a sermon the next Sunday, he referred to the message by saying: "I've known of instances where a person forgot to sign his name to a letter, but this is the only instance I know of where the writer signed his name and forgot to write the letter."

4-H Is Marnell 'Family Affair'

EDITOR'S NOTE: Joann Marnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Marnell, is following in her mother's footsteps in the 4-H program. The Marnell family has made 4-H a "family affair".

Through 4-H club work, my family has made a tremendous gain. We seem to accomplish more things and to enjoy doing things together. To us, 4-H is a very important "member" of our family.

I first became interested in 4-H eight years ago, when I met a neighbor who belonged to 4-H. She was a year younger than I.

and could do many things in homemaking that I could not. Mother had had some pleasant experiences in 4-H, and she encouraged me to join.

I thought it would be well worth the work, but little did I realize how much I would later learn.

My most important projects have been foods, clothing, civil defense, electricity and public speaking. I have just returned from a trip to Houston to present the civil defense demonstration that my partner, Lou Ann Witkowski, and I gave to the state convention of the Texas Home Demonstration Association.

It was a real thrill giving it to over 300 persons and without my training in public speaking I could never have given it.

I have really enjoyed my leadership activities, and I have really had a good chance because of all the younger members of our club. When I teach them anything, I usually end up learning as much, if not more, than they do.

I have learned a lot about parliamentary procedure and it has been invaluable to me. I have held many offices in different clubs since I joined 4-H, and I have been able to fulfill my duties much better because of my previous training and experience in 4-H club work.

In my future life, 4-H will definitely help me obtain the things I want out of life. No matter what career I should choose, 4-H will have already made a firm foundation.

Teacher will be the internationally famous expert Frank A. "Pat" Patterson, Phoenix, Ariz., who has conducted such clinics throughout the nation for many years. Recent schools in this area include Abilene, El Paso, Lubbock, Amarillo and Plainview, all of which have been "repeat" school, Patterson says. He has taught four such schools in Lubbock.

Eighteen firms have signed up for the school which will include such topics as these:

How do "star" salesman achieve success. The right and wrong selling approach, buying motives, the sales presentation techniques, how to quote prices, overcoming sales resistance and objections, how to close, effective speaking, how to remember names and human relations.

Sponsors said the clinics will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights, skipping Wednesday evening. Those interested in signing up for the courses were asked to call EM 4-1860.

Patterson has been selling since 1926 and is still at it, his sponsors said, and he has been teaching salesmanship and customer relations since 1938. He has trained some of the top-flight business leaders of the nation. Patterson owned the Dale Carnegie Institute franchise in Washington D.C., Maryland and Virginia for four years prior to World War II, and was official "public speaking coach" of the War Production Board during the war. His classes were limited to "dollar-a-year" men and those in the upper brackets. The instruction also is a featured speaker at industrial and sales conventions nationally and has conducted clinics throughout the nation for a number of years.

He offers these suggestions to people in the sales field: Know your product, be ambitious, re-

Conference Foes Win, Lose Games

Hereford Whitefaces District 2-AAA opponents lost two, won two and tied one in hard-hitting action Friday evening.

The Demas Demons smashed Artesia, N. M. 32-21 after they came from behind in the third quarter. The Demons remain undefeated in their first three outings.

Clovis surprised Muleshoe, as they clawed their way to an 18-7 upset victory over the Mules. The Mules dropped their third straight game, now showing a 1-3 record for the season.

The Tulla Hornets put quite a sting to the Dimmitt Bobcats, as they rolled past the Bobcats 35-0, Tulla, utilizing its superior speed, broke the game wide open with a 21-point outburst in the first quarter.

The Canyon Eagles received a sound drubbing from the Phillips Blackhawks by a 39-7 score. The Blackhawks remain undefeated in four outings.

Perhaps the hardest fought of the evening came when the Perryton Rangers and Dalhart Wolverines deadlocked 6-6 at Perryton. All of the scoring was done in the first quarter.

The Levelland Lobos were defeated 13-0 by the Denver City Mustangs. The Lobos meet Hereford at Levelland Friday evening. They have a season record of 1-4-1.

Hoffman Tells Of Hog Project

EDITOR'S NOTE: National 4-H Week begins today, and several stories are included in this issue. This story is by Stephen Hoffman, member of Dawn Boys' 4-H club.

Nov. 17, 1961—I received a registered Hampshire gilt through the 4-H club program. In return I had to give a gilt from her first litter to some other 4-H club member.

I fed this gilt and cared for her according to directions in the book "Feeds and Feeding".

Aug. 11, 1962—She had her first litter of 10 pigs. I sold these and then kept three gilts from the second litter born Feb. 24, 1963. Each year I keep the best gilts and sell the rest on the market. Last year I sold several to FFA members. They entered them in the annual livestock show here and they placed fairly well.

Starting out with one gilt and one small hog house, I have built up my herd to 51 market pigs plus my breeding stock plus the 54 I have sold previously. I also have an automatically heated and cooled farrowing house to accommodate 30 sows. There also are shelters, self-feeders, automatic waterers, and alfalfa pasture.

My dad furnishes the grain and I buy the supplement and all other needs. Hereford Grain Corp. gives me a discount on all hog feeds since this is my 4-H project.

I hope to finance my college education with this 4-H club swine project.

MAN THAT'S KORNEY — And that is probably what this pair thought when they received Corn Flakes instead of a steak at the Junior Chamber of Commerce Benefit
Dinner. The men shown are left to right Jethro Burns and Homer Haynes of the famous team of Homer and Jethro, who were the guest celebrities for the dinner.

Homer and Jethro are famous for their singing and comedy, but to the kids they are just as famous for their Kellogg's advertise-

will build a blood bank at the Deaf Smith

Miss Gail Miller

AWARD 1960 — Beginning work at Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, in October is Miss Gail Miller, 1960 winner of the Medical Auxiliary Scholarship here. After 1963 graduation from Hendrick Memorial School of Nursing, Abilene, Miss Miller worked there and then in Navarro County Memorial Hospital, Corsicana. Considering different fields for specialization, Miss Miller concludes, "At present I find general duty nursing exciting and challenging." Deeply convinced that nursing is the right profession for her, she has appreciated Hendrick's program offering academic credit at Hardin-Simmons University and psychiatric affiliation with San Antonio State Hospital. "I shall always be grateful," she emphasized, "to these Hereford people who helped make it possible for me to become a Registered Nurse." She is the daughter of Mrs. Norman L. Miller and the late Mr. Miller, Friona.

The Nightingale Pledge

I solemnly pledge myself before God, and in the presence of this assembly, to pass my life in purity and to practice my profession faithfully. I will abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug. I will do all in my power to maintain and elevate the standard of my profession, and will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping and all family affairs coming to my knowledge in the practice of my calling. With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work and devote my life to the welfare of those committed to my care. (By Lystra Greter, 1893)

Among scholarships offered locally each year is Hereford Medical Auxiliary's $400 award to further the recipient's study in nursing as a career. The Auxiliary's object thus is to encourage girls' activity in the Future Nurses Club of America in high school and to add extra incentive for their participating in such community endeavors as will lead them into the field of nursing.

Here presented are those who have received the scholarship or an equivalent award that helped them pursue the necessary training for the career of nursing. Graduates of schools of nursing: two are now working in hospitals; two are in their junior year and another is a freshman working toward a B.S. in Nursing. Those having taken the Florence Nightingale Pledge found it a moment of rededication to their profession; the others look forward to that high point in their training. All are grateful for the award that made possible their future career as a nurse.

Miss Barbara Tiefel

1961 WINNER — September graduate from St. Louis Lutheran Hospital School of Nursing, Miss Barbara Tiefel is now relocating in a California general hospital. She expects to work in surgical nursing, her specialty. 1961 graduate of Hereford High School, Miss Tiefel that year won the Hereford Auxiliary Scholarship. She had been president of the Future Nurses Club of 18 members and was a member of the National Honor Society for High Schools. Her three years of intensive study in nursing, she observed, required extending her resources — financial, physical, mental, and spiritual — in one direction. The nurse must integrate all, she believes, following Christ in helping those who cannot help themselves, and in helping all in every circumstance — in happiness or sorrow. Sharpening her skills for thus serving others, she concentrated on training for surgical work. Miss Tiefel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Tiefel, 124 Ave. J. (Fette Studio Photo).

Miss Kathleen Kuper

CANDLELIGHTER — Freshman at Marymount College, Salina, Kans., Miss Kathleen Kuper is the newest winner (1964) of Hereford Medical Auxiliary's scholarship. She plans a nurse's training course of four years and one summer, leading to B.S. in Nursing and eligibility to be an R.N. She will receive special training through a hospital allied with the college. Her various activities in high school point to her increasing interest in the career of a nurse: Future Nurses of America, treasurer and delegate to state conventions in San Antonio and Abilene, 1963, and 1964; Future Homemakers of America, received State Homemaker Degree, delegate to state convention in Dallas, 1963; American Red Cross High School Unit, chairman; Junior Gray Lady, 1962-64; "Pink Angel", 1963-64; Grady Lady, summer, 1964. Having served as 1963 historian and 1964 secretary of Saint Anthony's Youth Club, she was chosen outstanding 1964 girl of the club and honored as queen of the annual prom. Considering "How far that little candle throws its beam," Miss Kuper thinks she has made a beginning in the profession she will like best. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kuper, Route 5.

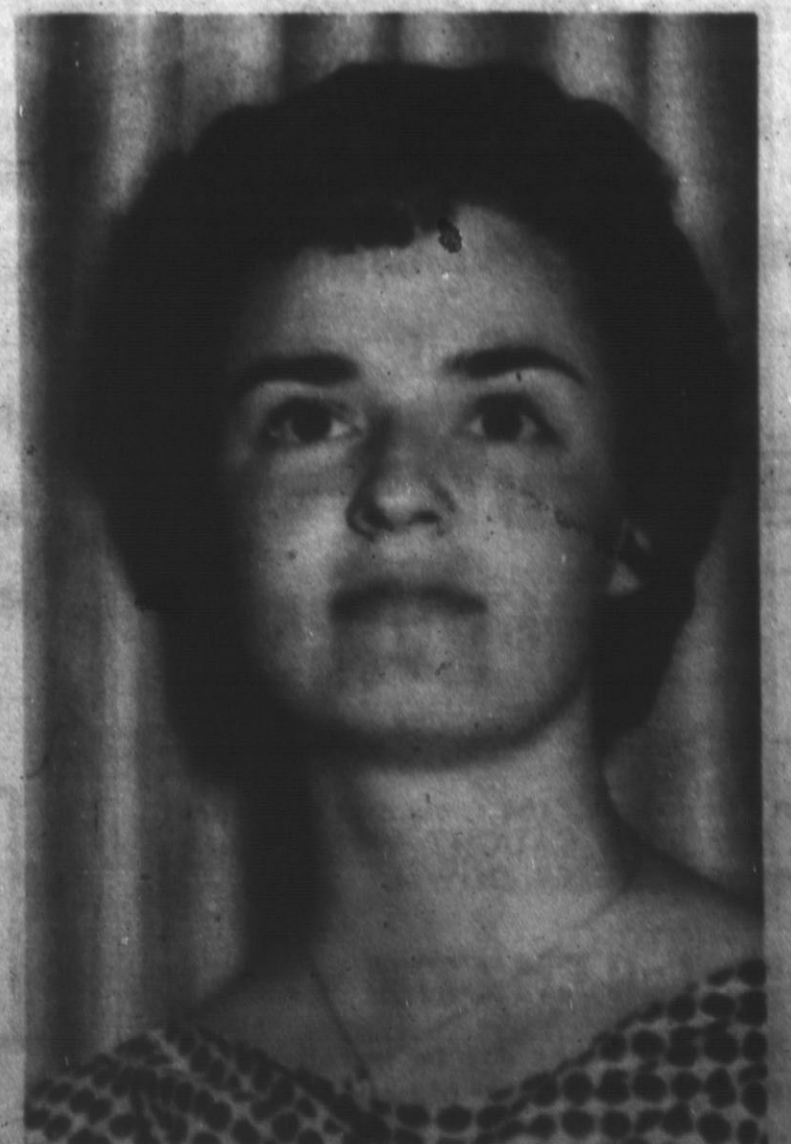

Miss Lavonne Thompson

NIGHTINGALE TWINS — 1962 graduates of Hereford High School, Miss Kathryn McClain and Miss Lavonne Thompson, college roommates, are now juniors in Baylor School of Nursing, Dallas. Their training experiences have been parallel to date. Active members of Future Nurses of America in high school, both entered Baylor University, Waco, on scholarships and completed the two years of pre-nursing courses there, 1962-64. Transferring to Dallas for the next step in their training, they completed nine weeks (Summer, 1964) of introduction to nursing in the Dallas Baylor unit. They expect to complete the four-year course leading to B.S. in Nursing and eligibility to take the State Board Examinations for Registered Nurse Certification.

Miss McClain strives to develop more and more specialized skills required for teaching nursing, she explains, and to that end she will eventually be doing graduate study. With her required schedule in pre-nursing, she worked one semester in Baylor library, and this autumn she will add part time in Baylor Medical Center. Her study has shown her, she says, that becoming a nurse is long and hard work, but worthwhile and requires one to be dedicated to helping others. She believes that it will be infinitely rewarding to one who likes people. She is the daughter of Mrs. Vinta McClain, Wildorado.

Miss Thompson, awarded scholarships on high school graduation, added to her Baylor studies membership in Sigma Tau Lambda, professional nursing club, and Texas Nursing Students Association. In 1963-64 she was first on the Dean's Distinguished Honor List (3.8 or higher average) and then on the Dean's Honor List (3.5 average). During the past summer she received the Bell Scholarship for expenses at the 1964 summer session at Baylor unit, Dallas, and also from Baylor School of Nursing and Good Samaritan Foundation of Houston scholarships to further her training. She expects to specialize in psychiatric nursing. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thompson, Route 3.

Mother Decides What Is Best For Daughter

EDITOR'S NOTE: Sandra Fry had no choice when she joined in a 4-H sewing group—her mother had already made that decision. But when results came, Sandra said she was glad that she had learned.

I decided to be in a sewing group about ten minutes after they called to see if I wanted to be in it. Mother wanted me to learn how to sew because she did not learn when she was young, so without asking me she told them that I would.

We didn't do much at our first meeting except sew a piece of paper so that when we started our garment at the next meeting, all of our seams would be straight. Well, I got to be first.

Our machine has a pedal and hers had a thing that you push with your leg, and I didn't know that there was any other kind besides the way ours is.

When I sat down at her machine I couldn't find the pedal and when they told me that it didn't have one, I felt like an idiot.

When I started to buy the mutton material, but Mother wouldn't let me get it because it had a slick finish. We found some other material with red roses on it, that I thought would make a very nice apron.

After I finished my apron, I was pleased, because I never thought I would be able to do anything of that sort.

Vegetable kabobs are good cooked in the oven broiler or over glowing coals. Some cooks like to marinate the vegetables — mushrooms and chunks of zucchini and onion in French dressing before cooking. Wide strips of green pepper also make good additions to skewers but these should not be marinated.

J. W. 'Lefty' Thomas Serves As County Agent Near 7 Years

Winding up almost seven years as agriculture agent for Deaf Smith County, J. W. "Lefty" Thomas expressed the pleasure for the many pleasant years of association with the farmers in the country.

Thomas will leave his post as Co-operative Extension Agriculture Agent near Oct. 1, and will assume similar duties in Panhandle, county seat of Carson County.

"Deaf Smith County has the most progressive farmers, who exhibit the highest quality of leadership that can be found anywhere in the United States," Thomas said.

"This kind of farmers make a job a whole lot easier for the county agent, they also make for a very pleasant job, which is a lot easier to perform with this kind of cooperation."

Thomas came to Hereford in July of 1957 from Wellington, county seat of Collingsworth, where he had been county agent for over 14 years.

Having been with the Texas A & M Extension Service for over 22 years, Thomas was first assigned to Waxahachie, where he served as assistant county agent for nine months.

After serving the short time as assistant agent there he moved to Wellington for his first assignment as a county agent.

Thomas was born in Abilene and was raised in West Texas, where he developed a "liking to the West Texas ways."

"I lived out of West Texas for one job after I graduated and just did not like it. I served as a vocational agriculture instructor in southeast Texas and it just did not compare with this area."

According to Thomas, the local extension office is broken down into various sections, serving different phases of Deaf Smith County Agriculture.

These are livestock, vegetable, crops, soil and water conservation and 4-H. All of these have committee chairman, who direct the activities with the assistance of Thomas.

Thomas has taken a personal interest in the 4-H phase of the extension program during his stay in Hereford. He has worked with area youths in the organization, teaching and training with the purpose of making better farm youth of them.

During Thomas' tenure of duty, the local 4-H chapter has shown progress that can be attributed only to the quality of leadership that has been given to local organization.

Thomas has had national winners in many of the various 4-H contests and his youth have shown leadership qualities that have earned them offices over the district and state.

Thomas has been very active in livestock shows, project reports and any other activity that could be associated with 4-H.

According to reports released by Texas A & M, the local 4-H chapter rates in the top grouping of the state and has been very active in the state-wide organization.

The nickname "Lefty" came from the days during the depression when Thomas was working in the oilfields as a roughneck and playing baseball on the oil company baseball teams.

Thomas recalled that getting a job in the oilfields did not depend on experience in the fields, but rather how good a baseball player you were. Tryouts for the baseball team were held before you could get a job in those days.

He was a pitcher for several different teams and recalls pitching two or three no-hitters. Thomas and his family have resided in Hereford at 117 Aspen for the past several years.

The commissioners court commended Thomas Monday for the fine job done during the past several years and the work done with the youth of Deaf Smith County.

"We feel Lefty has done a job with the local extension service that will be a tribute to the county, the local 4-H chapter and all agricultural phases served by the extension service," County Judge H. C. Williams said in behalf of the court.

Thomas said he planned to go to Panhandle Saturday to make arrangements for a house there—after he took four 4-H youths to Amarillo to the Tri-State Fair, who were winners in the wheat contest.

Most Questions Have Two Sides, Including Politics

The political pot has ceased simmering, and started to boil, which is well in keeping with the times. Unfortunately, however, as the momentum picks up we are faced with considerable dissension on the local front and, once again, a few people are getting downright mad.

Invariably, when political campaigns get into full swing, this happens — even to the point of some people acting a bit childish. It is due in part to the fact that many of them are political "new-comers," people who seldom before gave more than passing interest to politics. It also occurs frequently when people become over-zealous in their support of an individual candidate, or political cause.

Getting downright mad at a neighbor or friend over politics is neither democratic, American or intelligent. The other fellow definitely has as much right to his opinion as we have to our opinion, which is basic to our country. By the same token, we would

Tri-State Fair Proves An Adage

Probably in all of the history of the Panhandle there is no single development so often "cussed" and deplored as the Tri-State Fair. Area merchants, including scores from Hereford, complain and gripe to high heaven over the fact that the fair takes money from their tills — and that we even close down our public schools to help beat them down. This is nothing, however, to the howl we often hear from many Amarillo merchants, who have an even sadder tale of woe. Everyone, it seems, loses business — except the midway.

One good thing about the fair, though, is the fact that hundreds of footsore and weary mothers and fathers do get some exercise, whereas they would otherwise be sitting behind a desk or playing bridge in comfortable air-conditioned quarters. These folks, too, let out an audible howl when fair time rolls around. In fact, when you get right down to brass tacks, it is impossible to dig up anyone who wholeheartedly endorses the event.

All of which brings up the question of why do we have a fair, anyway? The answer is simple. Folks do complain, gripe and even occasionally swear — but they still turn out in droves to attend. Maybe it's the kids who lead the way, and there is also the possibility that a lot of people, like going to the circus, are inclined to use the children as an excuse.

Meanwhile, the Tri-State Fair went over the top with new and bigger attendance records this year than ever before. And so long as people continue to turn out in droves, there is little doubt but that the fair will not only continue — but that it will be bigger and better from year to year and decade to decade.

Nothing, after all, succeeds like success, and the Annual Tri-State Fair unquestionably falls into this category. Amarillo, as host city, does an excellent job in promoting and presenting the fair, which has built up an outstanding reputation amid the annual valley of complaints. We can't think of any other business just like it and, like the poet and his purple cow, if they ever come up with one we know we'd rather "see than be it."

'Yes, But We're Not Calling It War'

TEXAN IN WASHINGTON

Both Parties Backing Texan's Aid Program

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON, (B)—A foreign aid program that has bipartisan support is administered by a former Texas college professor. It's the "Partners of the Alliance," a direct people-to-people relationship between groups in this country and Latin America. In charge is Jim Boren, one-time Arlington State College faculty member and later an aide to Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., until a year ago when he became deputy director of the Agency for International Development (AID) program in Peru.

An enthusiastic supporter of Boren and his program is Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Mich. He cited to the House these numerous examples of projects involving widely scattered communities in the U.S. and in Latin America.

"A streetsweeper donated by a California city is cleaning 150,000 tons of debris dumped by an active volcano on a Costa Rican village.

"A pump from Idaho is supplying water for the residents of an Ecuadorean city being rebuilt after destruction by an earthquake.

"A vital farm-to-market road in Peru was built by farmers with tools provided by a Texas labor organization."

Describing differences in this partner program and the more traditional forms of foreign aid, Broomfield said:

"First, and most important, is emphasis where foreign aid funds are often funneled through Washington and the capital cities of recipient nations, this program deliberately avoids this route.

"Instead, every effort is made to link an area in the United States with another area with as little tie do with Washington as possible.

"By taking this direct route, the bureaucratic 'middlemen' are eliminated and assistance goes directly to where it will do the most good.

"Second is cost. Rather than mammoth 'prestige' projects designed to grab headlines and sway political opinion, the 'Partners' program sets itself less ambitious goals. It simply tries to help those who need help with as little fuss and as few complications as possible."

And commending Boren for the manner in which he had administered the program, Broomfield said:

"He has resisted the temptation to dictate to these local 'partners' committees and instead has shown rare good sense in staying in the background and letting these committees make their own plans for cooperation."

Edward Marcus, executive vice president of Nelman Marcus of Dallas, is chairman of the Texas Partners of the Alliance.

The Texas example cited by the Michigan representative was the instance in which the AFL-CIO state headquarters in Austin gave funds for the purchase to have to get mad at anyone who chose to belong to a church other than the one to which we belong — or anyone who did not choose to live in the same town which we have selected. Our whole country is based upon this theory which, in turn, is fundamental with intelligent application of democratic principles.

In the second place, we have only to note that the candidates themselves maintain this attitude. After a tough race, they still visit with each other, drink coffee together, compromise among themselves on various state and national problems. Lyndon Johnson, for instance, engineered most of Dwight Eisenhower's legislation — although they disagreed bitterly during the campaign. More recently, Sen. Dirksen has been highly instrumental in putting through extensive Johnson legislation.

Why? Because these men are "big" enough to realize that there are two sides to every question, and because they feel that the interests of the nation are far more important than their own personal preferences. Most of them, too, are wise enough to recognize the fact that they could be wrong.

To bring the situation even closer home, ask yourself how many of the candidates would be willing to lose a friend over you. Also ask yourself how many of them are actually worth the unnecessary loss of an esteemed friend or neighbor.

Working for a candidate or a cause is fine, but like a football game or baseball game — someone has to lose. And losing one's temper over politics is far more childish than most of us realize. We have a fine country and will continue to do so as long as we have two major parties. A major tenet in our government is the right to free speech, to agree or disagree. Once this right is removed, it will be a sad day, indeed — and the quickest way in the world to remove it would be through elimination of the same right to others, including our friends and neighbors.

City Airport Proves Worth

Formal opening of the new Holly plant last Saturday marked a big day for Hereford from many standpoints, and not the least of these was the tremendous number of dignitaries and visitors here for the occasion, including Gov. Connally and a generous sprinkling of Washington officials. Things clicked off like clockwork, but behind the scenes were many factors which contributed to success of the occasion.

Hereford's municipal airport, for instance, played a tremendous role — and perhaps the greatest tribute which could be paid to the facility is the fact that everyone took the service for granted. During the day, the local airport handled 32 planes, including some rather large equipment, including DC 3, Lodestar, Aero Commander, Queen-Air, Beech D-18, Cessna 310, Twin Bonanza, Cessna 182, and Bonanza, all in addition to several light, single engine craft. The planes came in from Colorado Springs and Denver, Cleveland, Ohio, Garden City, Kansas, San Antonio, Wichita Falls and numerous other points in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Gov. Connally, who had to cancel an appearance in Lockney, was able to make it here, by using aircraft service, for instance, and we feel sure that a number of other visitors might well have "not quite made it" had Hereford not boasted an airport which would handle craft of this type. In fact, without adequate air facilities, it is doubtful if the Holly plant would even be located here, and this is definitely true of several other industries which are considering the area.

Thanks to sound planning and public foresight back down the line, Hereford does afford better than average aircraft facilities. For good measure, we can further take pride in the fact that the airport is operating on at least a break-even basis these days — which means it is available without additional money from the taxpayer's pocket. The community, at the same time, benefits from the service which last year numbered around 3,500 transit aircraft in and out of the local airport, and traffic movements for the year were approximately 12,000. In addition to charter and rental service, the airport offers instruction, FAA approved maintenance shops, which handle around two aircrafts per day, and serves as base for at least two agricultural applicators.

Regardless of one's personal outlook on the subject, air travel and air freight are definitely here to stay and, as the area grows, they are destined to expand. Even now, it seems to us, the community should be making a united effort to secure feeder-line service or air freight and passenger. It takes an occasion like last Saturday to point up the value of the facility and, by the same token, it should spur us on toward continued growth and expansion.

The Dumas Chamber of Commerce will be putting on a drive for membership Tuesday, Oct. 6 with Dale McLaughlin in charge. When the functions of the Chamber of Commerce are so important to the economic development of the area to business and enterprising goals, the one day should be taken seriously by all of the residents of our area whether in business, agri-business or directly associated with the industrial growth of our community. —North Plains Press

The VFW-sponsored drive to get Spur businesses and residents to fly the flag on appropriate holidays was a tremendous success on Labor Day. A total of 101 flags were in evidence. Sixty-five businesses displayed flags, 10 on flag poles, such as schools, etc. and 26 on residences. —The Texas Spur (Spur)

Work is moving along rapidly on Slaton's new municipal golf course northeast of town. We took a quick look at the layout Monday with Bill Ball, and the greens and tee boxes have already been roughed in. You can now visualize how the course is going to look. —The Slaton Slatonite.

Another fair is over and now that we have finished typing up all the results we are happy to report the affair was a howling success. Even with the cold dark weather folks turned out for the parade and barbecue in larger numbers than ever before and more community participation was recorded this year than in the past . . . We believe we have a group of folks in this area that don't have to take their hats off to anyone in the agricultural department anyway, and the samples we saw last weekend made our belief along this line just all the stronger. —Stratford Star (Stratford)

Oilton area farmer Ershel Johnson doesn't particularly need the irrigation well these days, and it's a good thing. He couldn't make it work anyway. Not without the 90-horse gearhead and drive shaft which were stolen from the well last week. The missing parts, worth about $675, were taken during the night from a well on his place five miles east and two and three-quarters north of Oilton. —Oilton Enterprise.

Enrollment in Kermit schools rose to a new all-time record high earlier this week when 2888 students were in attendance. Superintendent C. E. The small playmate died within the hour. And something indescribable, something warm and wonderful, went out of the little boy's eyes that hour. It's a terrible sense of futility to hold, to watch, to wonder at a small boy who needs to cry, to sob deeply and cannot. Supper went untouched, the TV silent, the books forgotten, the funeral in the backyard was quick, silent and moving. The moon is full, the air is still, the grave days old, but the small boy out there now, showing to unseeing eyes the work performed today in school, talking to unhearing ears about Jimmy's new kitten, and carrying on a one-sided conversation with a dear playmate. What do you say when he asks "Why?" (Editor's note, the boy's small dog had been poisoned.) —James Roberts in Andrews County News

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Bindweed farm claims he knows what Russia's new weapon is.

Dear editor:

As I understand it, Mr. Khrushchev has announced Russia has invented a monster weapon which can wipe mankind off the earth, and the experts are now debating whether he's telling the truth or not and if he is, what is it?

One set of scientists claims he's just bragging, but they may be the set who said the same thing when Russia launched the world's first satellite. Another claims he may be right, and that the monster could be a new improvement on the hydrogen bomb, this one so powerful it could split the earth in half right down the middle and then scatter the parts around the universe.

I have decided they're both wrong. Russia has invented a weapon that could wipe man off the earth, but it's not a bomb. It's the Russian farming system.

For 30 years now, the Russians have been working on a farming system which is designed to end man's life on this earth, and while they've got it functioning along this line in Russia, they haven't been very successful in spreading it to other countries, excusing maybe Cuba. Cuba has tried it out and it works, the more you use the system the less you have to eat. But it hasn't caught on yet in other countries.

The Russian farming system is based on the well-known human fact that a man will keep worse care of a state-owned tractor than he will his own, that a piece of borrowed equipment gets less attention than one you paid for yourself, that a rented house runs down faster than one you own yourself. A man is never as interested in the oil level of a rented car as he is in his own. How many people in a public bus ever wondered if the oil was getting low?

It is this universal trait which the Russians have hit upon to guarantee a short crop every year.

I could go on but I've got to stop now and return a neighbor's trailer before that low tire on it gets so low it blows out.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Thelma Warren Enjoys Sewing

EDITOR'S NOTE: Thelma Warren is a member of Merry Maidens 4-H club. Of the many 4-H projects members may participate in, she enjoys sewing most.

Of all that 4-H offers, I find I like sewing best. The first year I made an apron, modeled it in the 4-H style show, and won first place. This year I made a skirt and modeled it, too.

To my surprise, I again won first place. I am looking forward to next year when I get to add a shift to my school wardrobe.

The hardest thing in making my apron was putting in the hem and putting on the band. The skirt wasn't very simple either. I had trouble with the band, placket, and hook and eyes.

By attending charm school I learned to model my clothes. I have attended charm school for three years.

"The problem obviously was one of just getting these things to those who needed them, and to help them help themselves."

Projects for Peruvian towns and villages sponsored by school groups and other organizations in Texas, in addition to that for the farm-to-market road, include:

Sunset High School, Dallas, Pan American student forum, provided dye pots for a small village school; Justice K. Kimball High school, Dallas, materials for two bath houses in another Peruvian community; Navasota High School, pressure lanterns for night literacy program; Pedernales Electric Cooperative, Johnson City, the Texas Vocational High School Association and the Ampchamp Co., each provided small portable electric generators to be used for lights at night literacy classes in small Indian villages; Circle K Club, Baylor University, scholarship for young farm leaders to attend a rural education institute in Peru; Texas Rehabilitation Association, shop equipment to outfit a rehabilitation center in Lima; Pan American Forum clubs and Midwestern University, in Wichita Falls, gas-operated chain saw for a cooperative program and materials for a chicken raising project; Texas Good Neighbors, Travis High School, Austin, pressure lanterns for Indian literacy program.

Rainbows Bring Seven Into Order

Order of Rainbow for Girls initiated seven girls into Assembly 157 at their meeting in Masonic Hall Monday evening. The candidates included the following:

Kerri Dameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Dameron, 808 Ave. K.; Cynthia Hanna and Joette Hanna, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hanna, Route 4, Deans Hickman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hickman, 814 Ave. K. Lynda Jacobsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Jacobsen Jr., 208 East 6. Pamela Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce L. Miller, Harrison Highway. Carroll Todd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Todd, 138 Ranger Drive.

Each candidate for Rainbow is a daughter of a Mason, or of a member of the Eastern Star, or a friend of a Rainbow Girl.

After the opening ceremony under direction of Miss Jo Frances Deavenport, worthy advisor of the local assembly, Grand Officers of Order of Rainbow of Texas were introduced: Grand Visitor, Mrs. Cortez Dowlen, Canyon; and Grand Representative from Massachusetts to Texas, Miss Elaine Louder, Canyon.

Members of the advisory board of the local assembly present were Mrs. Jimmy Mercer, mother advisor, Mrs. Larry Summers, and Mack Noland.

Guests were Bruce L. Miller, Larry Summers, Jimmy Mercer, Mrs. Joe Deavenport, Arthur Thompson, Troy Stambaugh, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hromas, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Todd and visiting members of Mr. Todd's family.

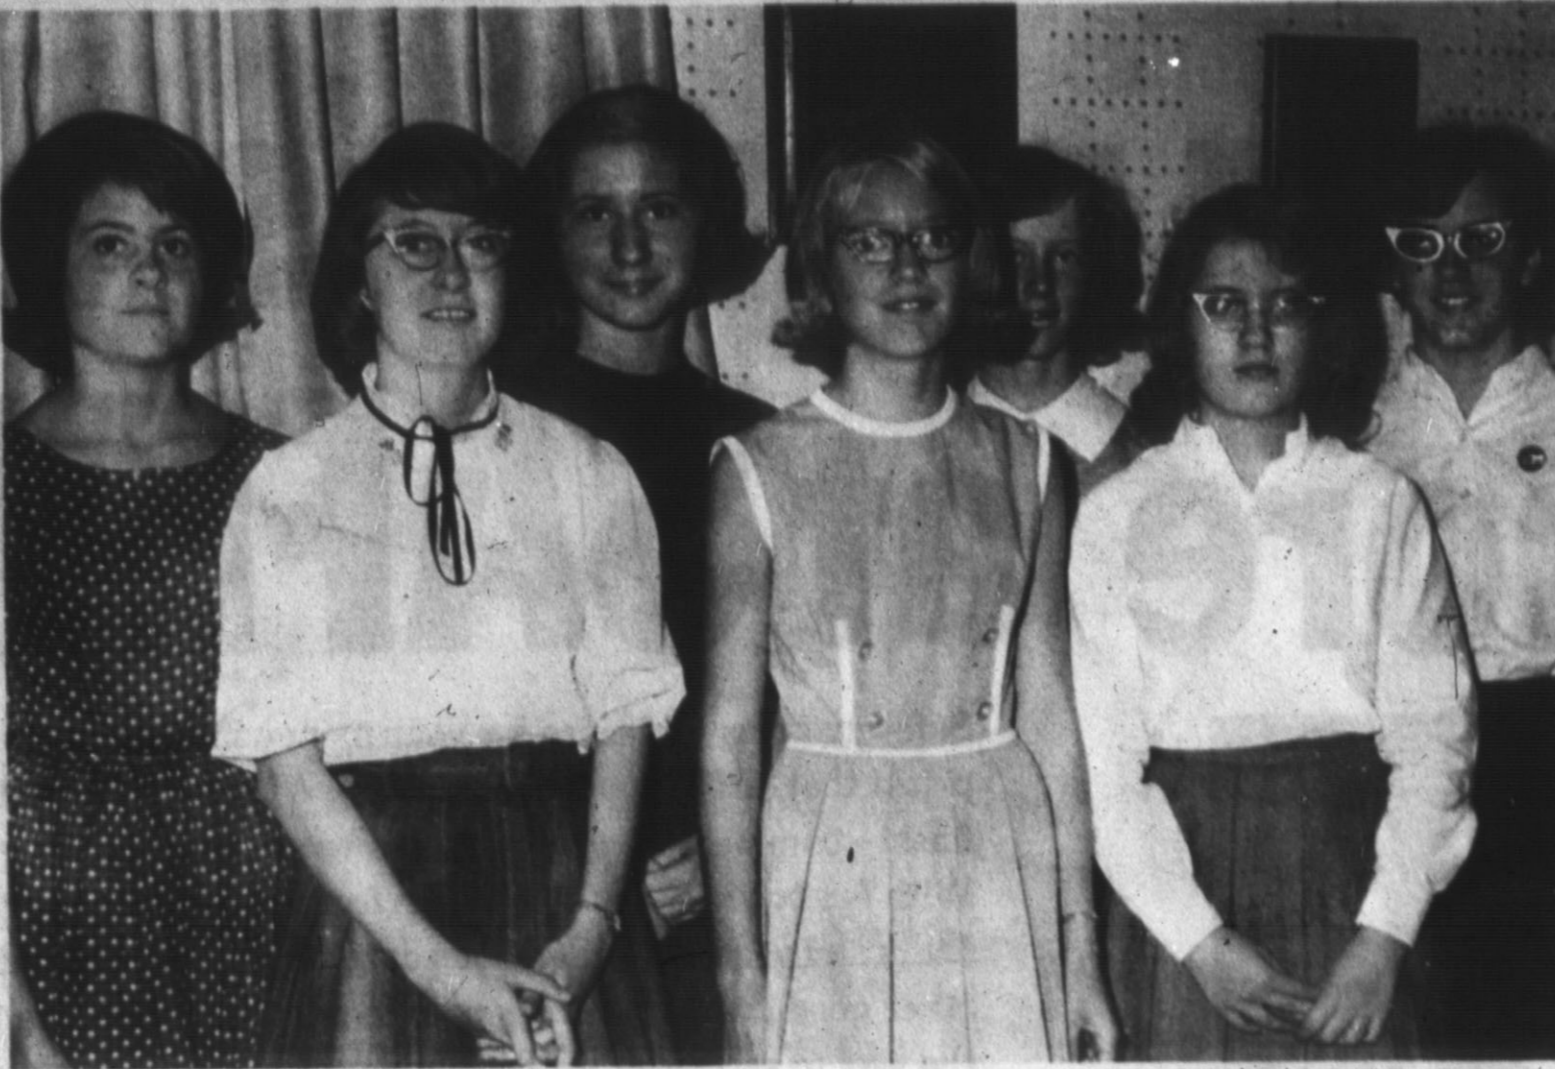

Officers of this assembly expressed gratitude and thanks to the Worthy Advisor for having been asked to serve with her during her term of office.

As this was the last meeting of Worthy Advisor Deavenport for her term of office, she finished the session by reading I Cor. 13:4-7, which exemplified the theme she had chosen for her term: "Love Through Service."

A junior in high school, Jo Frances is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Deavenport, 247 Ranger Drive.

personality more fully by removing my shyness.

I share the knowledge I have learned through public speaking with my fellow club members by helping them with their demonstrations, posters, and record books.

I feel that I am very fortunate in having good parents, leaders, and agents who have helped me in this project. I am especially grateful to my older sister Sharon, 1962 state winner, for her assistance. I hope to follow her footsteps in public speaking.

This year I belonged to a county wide public speaking subject matter group taught by Virgil Dodson of the Toastmasters' Club.

Even though I had been in public speaking four years, I found out there was still much to learn. We learned about toastmasters, topic chairmen, MCs, round table discussions, extemporaneous and prepared speeches. Our group took turns serving in these different positions.

Of all my 4-H projects I believe that public speaking broke the ice for me. I feel that this project is responsible for me being MIC of two first-place Share-the-Fun skits, for acquiring narrator on the radio for National 4-H Club Week.

As 1964 4-H queen and an officer in my club, I feel that public speaking has been most helpful to me for conducting meetings and reporting to my club. No other 4-H project has been as beneficial to me as public speaking.

Rudd Addresses Club On GOP Platform

Kenneth Rudd was guest speaker on "Review of Republican Platform" for Hereford Study Club at their Sept. 12 meeting in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Co. Mrs. Labry Ballard, program chairman, introduced Rudd.

Pointing to the apparent gradual decline in freedoms in this country, Rudd anchored his discussion to the Republican Party's recognition of the need to change direction of the U. S. government and the ability to reduce the size of Federal Government, reduce government controls, and return local and state responsibilities to local and state governments.

Reemphasizing these ideas Rudd noted the birth of freedom in this land with the formation of the U. S. Government almost 200 years ago and Republican Party's present fear that freedoms are being eroded away and citizens will lose them through encroaching socialism in federal government, under government controls, and through increased size of the federal government. The party platform, he observed, is based upon the ideals which all wish to preserve for their children's heritage.

Rudd named the Republican Party as having the largest number of people active in political conservatism, which, he pointed out, recognized the individual's worth. An individual will solve many problems himself, he added, if given an opportunity to do what he is capable of doing. He noted that in the Farm Program supports should be reduced.

On foreign aid, the speaker observed that this country's aid abroad would be truly effective only if those helped develop desire to become self-supporting. On defense, he pointed out that military men should be professional soldiers; that the nation should not depend on missiles alone but should be provided with the various weapons needed for the job to be done, to protect this nation, and to keep the peace.

As to civil rights, Rudd explained that a government police state type of enforcement is not the answer to the civil rights problem. "The key to racial and religious tolerance," he stated, "lies not in laws alone, but in the hearts of men."

Mrs. C. R. Winget, president, presided at the business session. Mrs. Walter London Jr. spoke to the club regarding the United Fund Drive.

Present for this meeting were Mrs. T. E. Braddy, Mrs. Dick Gholson, Mrs. Marvin Knox, Miss Gladys Setliff, Mrs. Art Stoy, Mrs. Maurice Tanshill, Mrs. Ed Wilson Jr., Mrs. J. W. Witherspoon, Mrs. Oscar Wylie, Mrs. R. N. Yarbro, Mrs. Garland Solomon, Mrs. Winget, and Mrs. Ballard.

ject. She is a member of Ford 4-H club—this is her project story:

I began my public speaking career in 1960 when I helped my older sister with her speech. I admired her speaking ability and thought I would like to be like her.

Through my public speaking project I have developed better leadership by being able to speak up and express myself. I am more confident in conducting business meetings and in leading games. It has also helped me in my school work. I no longer get stage fright when I give a reading, a poem, or give a book report.

In public speaking I have learned to "believe in your message and others will believe in you."

Through public speaking, I have learned to feel more at ease before an audience, and in meeting the public. I have learned that no amount of training and practice will give me as much self confidence and courage as my own firm belief in what I am saying. I have learned to be sharp and to the point, how to be interesting, and how to make my meaning clear. Public speaking has taught me the correct way to give a platform speech or talk to a friend. I feel this project has developed my

Cooking Is Big Help At Home

EDITOR'S NOTE: In a family with six children, Maura McAndrews has found that being able to cook is an important asset. Maura has learned a lot of her cooking as a result of her 4-H work.

Maura McAndrews

Being able to cook is an important thing in a family of our size. There are six children so you can see that we are going to consume a lot of food. Being able to help my mother with the meal planning and preparation is a big help. The foods that we have been learning to prepare in 4-H are very good and we have enjoyed them a lot.

To date I have not been too successful at the bake shows but I know I will keep trying. Some of my products have not been too good, but I know that practice makes perfect so I keep trying. Sometimes my family gets tired of eating the same product over and over, however being able to freeze products helps out a little in this way. I can freeze the extra and we can use it at a later date.

One of the things I have enjoyed most is learning to make yeast products. I have found it quite interesting to find out what makes the yeast work, how it raises up and how it can raise too much and then fall. Learning to judge when it is just right has been an interesting experience. Also striving to produce uniform product has been a challenging thing. Here again I find that practice does help. I try not to make the same mistake twice. I find that my family likes

Tommy Bezner Has Three Years' 4-H Experience

EDITOR'S NOTE: Tommy Bezner, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bezner, has been in 4-H work now for three years. The following account tells of his projects in this time.

Before I was old enough to belong to 4-H, I used to wish that I could do things like my older brothers and sisters. Now I am in my third year of club work, and I am getting to do things they did.

The first thing I did in 1962 was to show two barrows in the junior livestock show. I bought them on credit from my daddy. I fed them out and showed them, and then I paid him back with my profit. With the remainder of my profit I bought a baby calf.

From this baby calf my herd has increased to four head. When I sell a calf my daddy won't let me put my money in the bank. He insists that I buy something else. So with constant investment of my cattle I hope to have a college fund.

In 1962 I took a subject matter course in money management which helps me with my bookkeeping. I also learned the importance of saving.

In 1962 and 1963 I took a subject matter course in tractor hot bread very much, so I am glad to be learning to make them. Learning to judge my products has been another interesting experience. Knowing what to look for I am sure will help me turn in a better product for this bake show.

My sister and I tried several recipes before we found the one we thought was the best. Perhaps finding the best recipe was the hardest part of the work. Then we work trying to make the perfect product. Well, the unsuccessful products were fed to the family. They are my severest critics, being boys they know exactly what they want and what tastes the best.

In doing the demonstration, that is making the product, I tried to use the correct procedure at all times. Clearing up my own mess and getting all the materials out before baking were the hardest because I never do these.

Practice makes perfect but I'm not sure. At least our products will be the best we can do, but I'm afraid I'm not very patient.

Cooking requires practice and learning, and I was fortunate to be a member of two food units. These lessons are so beneficial because they teach us the proper procedures and nutrition also. We started with simple foods because we knew nothing about cooking or good food practices. Gradually we were led to frying chickens and broiling meats. All this took time, in fact, six years. They sure were delicious years.

I am thankful to 4-H for teaching me this. My family is grateful because my failures are less numerous.

maintenance. I have had units A and B. Even though I am too young to drive a tractor, I think I learned a lot about safety.

In 1964 I attended a subject matter course in public speaking. Even though I had some speaking experience by giving demonstrations the past two years, I think I profited by taking the course. I learned about Toastmasters, topic chairmen, MCs, round table discussions, extemporaneous and prepared speeches.

In 1964 I enrolled in a field crops subject matter group. We plan to learn the complete season cycle of a crop from getting the land ready to harvesting the crop. We are also keeping records to submit for awards. I have two acres of milo. We ended this course with a tour of our crops.

All 4-H'ers look forward to the annual awards program. We get to dress up, gather with our families and friends for a banquet and receive our awards for the past year.

I have had a lot of fun in the share-the-fun contest the past two years. Our club placed first in the local division in 1962 and 1963. County contest is a lot of hard work, but we learn by participation, so I always enter.

This was my third year to represent my county at district. I went two years in soil, water an range conservation and this year in public speaking.

Add a bouquet garni to that soup! For the bouquet, tie together a bay leaf, a sprig of thyme, a parsley branch and some celery leaves.

Hereford Man To Wed Massachusetts Girl

Her Mother Is Big Help With 4-H Activities

EDITOR'S NOTE: Patsy Paetzold is the only girl in her family—and she wanted to get together with other girls her age and learn to cook and sew. Here is her 4-H story:

Patsy Paetzold

I wanted to join 4-H because I am the only girl and wanted to do things with girls of my own age and also learn to cook and sew. I was after my mother a long time and finally I went to my first meeting in the spring of 1962. Ever since I remind her of the date of meetings.

I help clean house, make my bed and wash dishes, fold clothes. But these jobs don't seem so hard and tiresome now. One of my favorite jobs is baking and 4-H has helped me so I can bake and cook even when mother is too busy to help me.

In 4-H I have learned to model a little at charm school and how to keep our hands neat and our shoes clean too. I found out that it is important to keep seams straight and keep your sewing neat and clean. It is getting easier to use a needle without sticking my fingers. This year I made a shift for school as a sewing project.

I have entered the foods activity contest for two years, but my biggest thrill was the change to go to district contests in Canyon in the favorite foods show.

I have won first in county and district the past two years. I just couldn't believe I had won but I have learned so much about nutrition and why the foods make a difference since I started in 4-H.

I have taken foods unit I and IIA. My parents pay for all the things I use in cooking and we can use them for meals and snacks, and with two brothers nothing goes to waste.

I have tried to clean up my messes after I get through cooking. I have entered bake shows three times; this year I had the best brownies even if I did hard to find time to do everything I like to do because we have so many lessons in school.

The young couple are planning a June wedding.

I am learning to cook and sew and can, also to get along with other girls. This will help me so much when I am bigger. Winning ribbons in 4-H has made me try harder and do better next time. But the most important thing is I am learning to do things I can use later on to make me a better person. I enjoy 4-H work very much.

TOURING WITH LOPAT

HILLSDALE, N.J. (AP) — Ed Lopat, former manager of the Kansas City Athletics, has been making the rounds of the farm teams owned by the Athletics and came home to pitch to one batter in the Old Timers game in Yankee Stadium.

Two days later Lopat was off for 10 days at Daytona Beach, Fla., to inspect prospects on Kansas City's team there in the Florida State League. He had been to Dallas, Birmingham, Lewiston, Idaho, Burlington, Iowa and Wytheville, Va., to get first-hand reports on youngsters for Kansas City owner Charles Finley.

Bill Walser Begins School On WTSU Opportunity Plan

Billy Jack Walser, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Walser, Hereford, entered West Texas State after his application for a loan from Opportunity Plan, Inc. was approved.

Walser is one of the many students who will receive an education at West Texas due to the availability of money in the program. "The money I will be borrowing will be from the money contributed by the Jim Hill Estate to Opportunity Plan," Walser said.

A $5,000 check was presented to Dr. Milton Morris, executive secretary of Opportunity Plan Inc., by the Jim Hill Estate on Sept. 3 of this year.

The $5,000 kicked off the scholarship fund sponsored by PEP an organization of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. The proceeds gathered in the Deaf Smith County area will be contributed to the Opportunity Plan, Inc. to promote the education of area youth at West Texas State University.

Opportunity Plan, Morris explained, was formed in 1954 and has climbed from $500 to a $275,000 fund. A total of $360,000 has been loaned to students who now owe only $7,842, without a single account being delinquent.

Installation Of Northwest Cafeteria Nearing Completion

"Food for more than 1500 students is being prepared in the Hereford High School Cafeteria," Mrs. Gifford Smith, dietician said this week "but after the new equipment is installed at Northwest Elementary, the number will be cut in half, allowing the food to be prepared easily for both schools."

The equipment for the cafeteria at Northwest Elementary has arrived and is presently being installed, according to school officials.

Northwest's food has been prepared at RHIS cafeteria ever since the school was constructed and was carried to the elementary school and served to the students in the dining room.

A cafeteria and dining area was constructed, but officials felt at the present time the meals could not be prepared economically at the school.

More than 700 students are being fed at Northwest at the present time, and the board officials decided this year the cafeterias should be separated.

Officials hope the equipment will be ready for tomorrow, but there is a possibility it will not be ready for preparing food before the end of the week.

The cafeterias in the Hereford Independent School District, all come under the direction of Mrs. Gifford Smith, dietician.

"Approximately 40 women are employed in preparing the food for the Hereford Schools, including myself," Mrs. Smith said.

The board approved at a recent meeting, raising the meal in the cafeterias from 35 cents to 40 cents.

"This allows us to serve the students more food and includes a dessert. The dessert was extra before and so the cost will really be the same, but will be across the board," Mrs. Smith said.

"We will have an Ala Carte Line for those students, who do not prefer to eat the two type 'A' lunches offered. This line will include, hamburgers, hot dogs, sandwiches and salads."

Milk and Desserts are also served in the Ala Carte Line.

Farm and Ranch Luncheon Fetes Mrs. Wagoner

Mrs. Joe Wagoner, who is moving soon to Dumas, was named honoree at luncheon by members of the Farm and Ranch Study Club Thursday, Sept. 17, in the home of Mrs. Paul Rudd.

Garden flowers decorated the rooms and luncheon table. The club's parting gift to the honoree was a milk glass epergne.

Hamilton Cops Top Honors In Tourney

More than 65 area golfers were in Hereford last weekend to participate in the 13th Annual Hereford Invitational Golf Tournament, which was won by Buddy Hamilton of Amarillo, who shot a three under par 67 to walk away with the championship.

Danny Elliston, formerly of Hereford, returned to Hereford while awaiting assignment with the U. S. Air Force, and captured the runner-up trophy by shooting a one under par 69, the second best for the tourney.

Bill St. Clair, Muleshoe, walked away with top honors in the consolation bracket when he shot a two over par 72 to take the trophy.

According to tournament chairman, John McClesky, there were 68 persons entered in the annual tourney, some 38 players under the tournament held last year.

Bob Lindsey, defending champion, finished fourth in the tournament after he shot a 73 in the final outing. Lindsey tied for fourth place with Roy Hartman, who also shot a 73.

Gayle Pyatt of Hedley won the first flight and runner-up in the flight was Jimmy Curtis, Hobbs. Winner of the second flight was Dick Garner of Plainview and runner-up was Walter Seed of Hereford.

Jake Watson won the third flight and Dean Herring was chalked up as the runner-up in the flight.

Dwight Whitaker, Black, won the flight in consolation bracket, Gene Edwards, Hereford, took top honors in the second flight consolation bracket and Joe Soliz, Hereford won the third flight consolation honors.

"We had a real good tournament this year and think everything went pretty well according to schedule," said McClesky.

Lee Short placed third in the standings with a one over par 71.

McCulloughs' Family Reunion At Quartz Mt.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McCullough, 139 N. Texas Ave., are attending a reunion of Mr. McCullough's family this weekend at Quartz Mt. Lodge, Lone Wolf, Okla.

Present at this family get-together will be five brothers, the surviving children of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCullough, who settled in Indian territory and reared their family in the area that is now Anadarko, Okla. McCullough was an Indian Agent for the United States Government.

About 50 will be in attendance at the reunion, including Mr. and Mrs. Don McCullough and Mr. and Mrs. Ray McCullough, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McCullough, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. John McCullough, El Reno, Okla.; and the Ralph McCulloughs. Numerous nieces and nephews will be there from New Mexico, California, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Texas.

The present 750,000 acres of city and county parks should be doubled in size immediately to meet current demands, a study by Resources for the Future recommends.

WHAT MAKES GECKOS CLICK

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — For its size, the aggressive little gecko lizard is the noisiest inhabitant of the arid desert in Southwest Africa.

W. D. Haacke, a zoologist of the Transvaal Museum in Pretoria, who visited the Namib recently, said gecko lizards "clicked" at night by opening and closing their mouths — "just like barking dogs."

Haacke, with Dr. Charles Kock of the Namib Desert Research Station, found a new species of gecko, called Ptenopus kochi, which he claimed was the noisiest of the noisy lizards. "He has a range of 11 'clicks' in his call and clicks very quickly," he said.

Why do geckos click at night? "It may be a love call or one proclaiming territorial ownership," said Haacke. "We don't know yet but there is somebody at the research station trying to find out right now just what makes geckos click."

Your Red Cross In Action

ANOTHER PROFILE OF YOUR RED CROSS IS ABOUT THE VOLUNTEER.

Some years ago The Readers Digest carried an article "America's Amazing Women" (as volunteers.) We believe this should be broadened to read "The Amazing Volunteer" to include the men as well. Do you know anyone in this community who is not a volunteer for one thing or more?

VOLUNTEERS MAKE UP YOUR CHAPTER OF RED CROSS. Without them there would be no chapter or even a Red Cross. Our chapter roll includes nearly 200 persons, and in fund drives it doubles that number, as many of our group are active in that very necessary phase. Besides 25 members on the board of directors, headed by Melvin Jayroe, as chairman, there are many committees, instructors, and volunteer service groups. Each member of the board serves as a chairman of a service or has some definite duty to perform. Mrs. William Dameron is the chairman of volunteers, for recruitment, development of services and for orientation as needed.

Besides this position on the board she is both a Water Safety Instructor (WSI) and this past year became a First Aid instructor. There are only two others in the chapter who have had this double training. They are John Gilliland, who heads the First Aid as chairman and Joe Don Cummings, who aided with the Water Safety Program this past summer. Besides these three, we have other new instructors in First Aid, Mrs. Jas. E. Higgins, Mrs. Walter London Jr., Mrs. Cameron Gault, Miss Sylvia Sparks, and W. C. Davis. Among those with longer service, whose authorization to teach is still current, are Miss Della Stagner, Dr. Bruce Beene and Lee Newman. (Others may be re-authorized with a review course) A total of 10 instructors. Instructors in Water Safety Program, other than ones named above were carried in an earlier column. They number 10.

Mrs. Steve Clements, who has served as chairman of Nursing Services for the past 5 years, works with three instructors, and other services. Mrs. Earl Springer, has taught Mother and Baby Care for the past 6 years and recently had a review course. Mrs. Fred Stindt, is newly authorized in this program and will be aiding her as needed. Mrs. J. F. Durham, is instructor for "Aid to the Sick and Injured" (the revised Home Nursing course of old) These classes are taught both in school and in the community as called for. Mrs. Jo Solomon, has recently been authorized to teach the "Nurses Aide" course as a new community service and when needed and arranged for under Mrs. Dameron. Another profile will be presented next week. This one has stressed our instructors who give many hours of volunteer work when they teach even one class.

DAY AFTER DAY
I SLAVE OVER THIS
HOT STOVE! ...
DOES ANYONE
APPRECIATE
IT?

NO!

DOES ANYONE SAY
"NICE MEAL, COOKIE!"
OR "YOU'RE A GREAT LITTLE COOK!"?

NO!

THEY JUST EAT AND RUN

I DON'T EVEN RATE

by MAC RABOY

PAMN,
THE GIANT
ALIEN
LOCKS
FALLEN
SPACESHIP
AND IS
HER,
WHEN...

OH! THE BEAST
IS ANGRY!

HE THINKS
I WANT
TO HARM
HIS
BETTER
FAST!

TO ESCAPE THE CHARGING ELK, THE ADAPTABLE ALIEN CHILD GROWS WEBS ON HIS HANDS AND FEET... AND DARTS OFF DOWN THE RISING FLOODWATERS

A FLOOD-FIGHTING MACHINE IS CHANGING EARTH INTO HOT LAVA, WHICH HARDENS QUICKLY INTO A TOUGH DIKE...

AND AS PAMN WADES TO THE SHORE...

HEY! LOOK OUT!
GET OUT OF THE
WAY! YOU'LL BE
BOILED ALIVE!

PAMN'S LEGS
SUDDENLY
AND A FEW
LONG LEAPS
SAVE HIM!

HEY! IT'S THE MONSTER!

THE ALIEN
MONSTER!
GET HIM!!

AND THE
CHASE
IS
BY
AND
MECHANIZED
FRONTIERS!
NEXT WEEK--
UNEXPECTED
