Reduction In Sugar-Beet Acreage In '65 Looms For Area Growers

Nation's Growers Had Sought Boost

Farmers in this four-county area who grow sugar beets for Holly Sugar Corporation's nearly-completed $21 million plant here may find their acreages reduced in 1965 despite the fact that the present USDA sugar program probably will be continued for another year.

This was revealed Saturday by James Witherspoon, Hereford, Executive Secretary of the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association.

Prospect for lowered acreages loomed despite the fact that the nation's growers only only seven days ago had asked for a 750,000-ton increase in sugar produced domestically from beets.

Witherspoon said Congressman Harold Cooley (N.C.), chairman of the powerful House Agriculture Committee, will ask that acreages be reduced. The committee is to meet early in August and make its recommendations to congress before adjournment of that body Aug. 24, Witherspoon explained.

"Growers met in Salt Lake City recently and asked that the nation's total sugar beet production be boosted 750,000 tons per year," he said. "We feel that such an increase would bolster the general economy and would permit the United States to produce much of its sugar needs, thus cutting down on imports."

Witherspoon said the growers' recommended increase over the present level would lift the nation's yearly output to 3,450,000 tons as compared with the present fixed quota of 2,700,000 tons for the entire industry.

On the strength of prospective increases in sugar beet acreages for this area, served by the new plant here, Holly last year increased the capacity of its plant after construction was started.

Altogether, the four counties in Holly's territory — Deaf Smith, Castro and Palmer in Texas and Curry in New Mexico — had acreage allotments of 27,500. Yield from this acreage would have been sufficient for Holly to turn out 50,000 tons of refined sugar here. This would have been only about half the ultra-modern plant's capacity, Witherspoon explained.

Rule-of-thumb production is 2½ tons per acre.

If acreage is cut back sharply, the plant here would have difficulty finding enough beets in this area to keep it operating even on a 50,000-ton level, he added.

"Such a cutback, if the committee goes along with Cooley's proposal, would leave us with no room to grow in the sugar industry," he said.

Beat Canyon, Castro County

Hereford Little League Team Takes 2 Straight To Win Title

Hereford Little League All-Stars romped to two smashing victories over the Castro County and Canyon Little League All-Stars, Thursday and Friday to earn a berth in the District tournament, Monday at 8 p.m. in Dumas.

The local all-stars clinched a place in the tournament, when they defeated the Canyon team 20-5, coming from behind in the fifth to win the game.

The winning pitcher was Tommy Pool, who was relieved in the fourth by Jackie Meredith. Tommy Tucker was charged with the loss for the Canyon team, but was assisted by Tommy Arrington, Jerry Marriner and David Erwins.

Hereford jumped a head as Tommy Pool slammed a double in the top of the first inning, but Canyon came back in the bottom of the first and tied up the score at one-all.

Hereford went ahead again in the top of the third as the local batters clouted three singles and gathered a walk, to bring in a run.

Canyon scored four runs in the bottom of the third, assisted by a three run homer by Calvin Yarbrough.

Hereford returned strong in the top of the fourth inning to tie up the score at six-all, assisted by a double by Jackie Meredith, three walks an error and a hit batter.

Canyon gained their last lead of the game, by gathering two runs in the top of the fourth.

Hereford came from behind in the top of the fifth and scored six big runs to run up a decisive lead. Robert Holmes hit a double in the fifth, assisted by five walks and a fielders choice.

Hereford picked up nine runs in the sixth on four singles and doubles by Gary Lemmons and Santry Rush. The Canyon team was charged with three errors in the sixth inning.

Hereford gathered 20 runs on 11 hits, 13 walks and three errors, while Canyon scored eight runs on six hits, seven walks and five errors.

Hereford pitchers struck out four, while Canyon fanned seven.

Hereford's 'Big Week' Ends; Scores Attend Events Here

Hereford's big mid-summer week of entertainment came to a noisy close early Sunday as happy but weary folk trudged home from a carnival, rodeo, barbecue supper or wrestling matches — one or all.

All the events were declared successful, the Lions carnival again putting several thousand dollars in the coffers of the club's many humanitarian projects. J. F. Martin, general chairman of the six-day event, said a checkup could not be made until sometime today, but added that the club was "pleased and grateful" for the support which area folk have given the club.

In the first two days alone, 28 booths operated by the club as part of the carnival, brought in a gross of $4583. Other nights were equally successful with the grounds crowded with fun-seekers from opening to close.

The Rotary club's annual barbecue, staged especially for members of the Riders Club which sponsors the rodeo, fed hundreds of persons. The event was open to the public.

Rodeo crowds also were large for the three performances Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. Rodeo results for Saturday night were not available, but for the first two nights, standings were as follows, according to Harold Beauchamp: Tie-down roping: Roy Byrd

Team roping: Sam McGregor and Ralph Guest (both of Amarillo) with a time of 12.3. Bulldogging: Eldon Bryant (Continued on page 2)

'Neighbor' Contest Deadline Is Near

The Brand's "Know Your Neighbor" contest comes to a close at 5:30 tomorrow afternoon, and Advertising Manager Bill Penn urged persons who have not turned in their entries to do so as soon as possible.

Penn said the possibility of anyone turning in a perfect score is slim. There are 120 pictures to identify. This means first names, last names and firm names. And that adds up to 360 facts which must be given for a perfect score.

Additional entry blanks are available at The Brand office, 130 W. 4, and there's still time to secure the blanks, fill them out and deliver them to The Brand office before the 5:30 p.m. Monday deadline.

Participating firms were advised by The Brand to tell people who call on the telephone, asking for information, to come by the store or business house and meet the person pictured.

"The idea of the contest is for people to become acquainted by personal contact and not by phone," Penn explained. "This is a 'know your neighbor' contest, which means the people who serve you in the various firms in Hereford."

Cash prizes totaling $200 are to be given the best entries. First-place winner will receive $75. Second place winner will get $35, and third place $20. In addition, the seven next best will receive $10 each.

The winners will be announced in next Thursday's issue of The Brand when the pictures will be re-printed with cutlines carrying the full name and firm name of each person shown.

Whodunit Clue: 'Victim' Dun It

For awhile Friday it looked as if some big, bad highjackers had struck in Hereford, holding up a filling station in the wee hours, and escaping with $108.

But the attendant's story was "too good," police said. He remembered all the details, how the men looked, what they said — everything except the license number, things a fellow just wouldn't remember when facing a gun even no bigger than a .22.

So, Tommy Ely Coggins, a night service station attendant, later in the day Friday pleaded guilty before Justice of Peace C. B. Miles to a charge of false reporting.

Coggins, an employee of Phillips & Lawrence Service Station, 588 E. 1, admitted to police officials that the "armed robbery" which he had reported was all a hoax. Coggins, formerly of Arizona and a resident of Hereford for only three weeks, had told Hereford police that "two men entered the station from a side entrance and pulled a .22 calibre pistol." They ordered him to hand over all bills in the cash register. Coggins obliged.

He told police that the thieves cut the telephone lines, ran out the same door they had entered and got into an automobile. A third person, he said, was waiting for the highjackers.

Coggins, in his earlier report, said he could not make out the license number of the escape vehicle, but that the license plates were black and yellow.

Interrogating officers became suspicious of the report, simply because Coggins gave so many details in his description of the entire affair.

"Things just didn't add up," Police Chief Marshall Padgett said. "He remembered too many small details, things that you just normally wouldn't notice."

Police began questioning Coggins Friday, morning, and it wound up with the signing of a statement admitting the hoax shortly after 1 that afternoon.

Coggins said he took $108 from the cash register, cut a phone wire and then flagged a passer-by and asked him to report the "robbery" to the sheriff's office.

While waiting for officers to arrive, Coggins said he became frightened and tried to flush the money down a commode in the station restroom.

All the money would not go down, so Coggins recovered $30 which he said he intended to return the following night.

Saturday Coggins was still in Deaf Smith County Jail in lieu of $200 for fine and court costs.

Five New Buildings At Kings Manor To Open; Ceremony Set

By Ray Martin

Kings Manor is sprawling all over the place these days, and come September 3, the home for older folk will open five new buildings, including one of the most complete hospitals in the Panhandle, the Executive Director, the Rev. Don Davidson, announced Saturday.

Units added this summer to the home at Hereford's northwest edge have brought the total valuation up to $700,000, a feat accomplished in less than three years.

The September 3 program will be called "Open Campus," Mr. Davidson said, since the term "open house" would hardly "be adequate for" a ceremony which includes five new buildings.

Here for the program will be a number of high officials of the Methodist Church, owner of King's Manor, heading the list will be Bishop Eugene Slater,

San Antonio, bishop for this area. Others who are to be here for the day, Mr. Davidson announced, will include Dr. Olin Oeschger, Executive Secretary, General Board of Hospitals and Homes of the Methodist Church, Evanston, Ill., and Dr. Carl Kelgley, editor of The Texas Methodist, Dallas. A part of the program will be given by Dr. V. N. Henderson, Amarillo district superintendent of Methodism. Kings Manor specifically is owned by the 67-county North Texas Methodist Conference.

Brand's Gadding Gal Visits Kennedy Grave

By Sara Gillentine
A visit to Washington, D. C., the nation's capital, would not be complete without seeing at least some of the art museums and shrines, as well as the public buildings.

In these numerous museums, a visitor may see anything from the Hope diamond to the original Bill of Rights, to the Gutenberg Bible.

Although the Library of Congress is being remodeled this summer and next fall, many of its 29 million books, manuscripts, records and pamphlets are available to visitors for study and reference. Among these many items are Thomas Jefferson's rough draft of the Declaration of Independence, Abraham Lincoln's first and second drafts of his Gettysburg Address, and many treasures of early printing including the Gutenberg Bible, Childean Books from four centuries, and many early books from Israel.

Among the collections of sound recordings in the Library of Congress is a large Archive of Recorded Poetry and Literature in which the voices of famous poets and literary figures are preserved. Also located in the Recording Laboratory, a large selection of Folk-Music from England, France and the United States. Both types of records are on sale in the Recording Laboratory office.

The National Institute of Art, one of the finest museums in the world, is also located in Washington. The featured painting at the present time is Whistler's Mother. There is also a collection of Rembrandt's works in three of the rooms.

The museum, which was a gift of Andrew Mellon, former secretary of treasury, also contains many famous pieces of sculpture.

The Smithsonian Institute, which is made up of the National Museum, Astrophysical Observatory, National Zoological Park, and the Arts and Industries building, was a gift to the United States from an English (Continued on page 2)

Cars Battered In 3 Crashes

Police investigated three minor accidents this week with the heaviest damage resulting in a collision in the 500 block of Irving Saturday, shortly after 9 a. m.

Vehicles driven by Burke W. Inman Jr., 517 Irving, and Theodore Terez, were in collision with more than $750 damage resulting to the two vehicles.

According to investigating officers, Terez was slowing down to enter a private driveway on Irving street and Inman's vehicle struck the car from the rear. Inman told police he did not see the car until it was too late, and attempted to swerve but could not avoid the collision.

Inman was cited for following too closely, and Terez was cited for not possessing a valid Texas Driver's License.

Vehicles driven by Francisco O. Salinas, San Juan, and Francisco Zamora, Blank, were in collision in the 900 block of Main shortly after 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Zamora was attempting to parallel park, according to investigating policemen, but was (Continued on Page 2) scientist, John Smithsonian. Located in the Arts and Industries Building are Lindberg's Spirit of St. Louis, the Wright Brother's Kitty Hawk and Wiley Post's Whistle Mao. Also in this building are a collection of coins, both from the United States and foreign countries, military exhibits, and many other exhibits which illustrate the art and industries of America.

In the Natural History Museum, which is located in a new building several blocks away, are the Hope diamond, and an exhibit featuring wax statues of all the first ladies in America wearing original costumes.

Also located in this building is a large collection of carriages and early automobiles, as well as many farming tools which were used in the early years of our country.

Probably the most crowded place in Washington is Arlington National Cemetery and the grave of former president, John F. Kennedy. In front of the grave burns an eternal flame and around the site are fresh flowers. Guards are on duty 24 hours a day to keep order and see that the crowds keep moving by the grave.

Also located in Arlington National Cemetery is the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. This site is also guarded and the changing of the guards is an inspiring spectacle.

Overlooking the cemetery is the Curtis Lee Mansion, which is open to visitors at a cost of 25 cents. In this mansion is original furniture and behind it is the servants quarters.

Across the Memorial Bridge, on U. S. Highway 50, is a 78-ft. bronze reproduction of Joseph Rosenthal's two Jims flag raising photo. This statue is known as the Marine Corps War Memorial.

There are also many sites worth visiting in the area around Washington. Sixteen miles south on the George Washington Memorial Highway is Mount Vernon, the colonial home and burial place of George Washington. It is on the shores of the Potomac River and can be reached by excursion steamer in the summer.

Although only 8 miles from Washington, Alexandria has retained much of the appearance and atmosphere of another century. It dates to 1749 when the Five teachers in the Hereford school system attended a conference on using newspapers in the classroom, held at West Texas State University recently. The affair was sponsored by the Amarillo Globe-News. Attending from Hereford were Caudie Olin Brown, Mrs. Spicer, Mrs. S. R. Brown, Mrs. Spicer Gripp, Mrs. S. R. Ratcliff, Gladys Setliff and Della Stagner.

Boy Scouts from Hereford and other troops in the Llano Estacado Council who have been attending the national Scout Jamboree in Valley Forge, Pa., saw "The Founders," a spectacular drama, at Williamsburg, Va. "We hardly see why we would import 45 percent of any commodity if it can be produced more economically domestically, and at the same time, aid American economy. Yet such would be the case if the acreage assignment to the various sugar beet mills is reduced."

He said any reductions in sugar beet acres would practically "eliminate all possibilities of additional refineries here or anywhere else in the nation." He called hopes of Plainview and Dumas to secure sugar beet refineries for those areas, "practically hopeless."

To help block the proposed cut in allotments, the Executive Secretary of the growers' organization recommended that "action be taken immediately."

He added: "We should all get busy and write letters to congress, and especially to Congressman Cooley, to block any such movement. We have a growing sugar beet industry, but many of our growers are new. A cutback would nip any plans for increasing this lucrative farm crop here."

Courtesies Extended Miss Donna Rogers

Miss Donna Rogers bride-elect of Jimmy D. Ivy, Lazbuddie, has been honored with showers recently in both Hereford and Lazbuddie.

The home of the Paul Harveys, 518 Avenue I, was the setting of a miscellaneous shower Tuesday evening.

Greeting the guests was Mrs. Paul Harvey, who introduced them to the receiving line: Mrs. Joe Rogers, mother of the bride-to-be; the honoree, Miss Donna Rogers; Mrs. Jimmy Ivy, Lazbuddie, mother of the prospective groom; Mrs. Ronnie Smith, sister of the future groom, Earth; and wedding attendants — Miss Rosie Rogers and Mrs. Bill Bookout, both sisters of the bride-elect, and Miss Sara Gil-lentine. Miss LaVerne Kimbell presided at the guest book. Forty-five guests registered during the calling hours.

The bride's colors of yellow and white were carried out in bouquets of flowers and other house decorations. The serving table, laid in white net with wide border of satin over white damask, was centered with white daisies and greenery within a giant crystal snifter.

Miss Gail Webb and Miss Avie Justice served yellow punch and white cake squares topped with miniature yellow bells and white lilies-of-the-valley.

Hostesses with Mrs. Harvey were Mrs. Delbert McKinley, Mrs. Lynn Kester, Mrs. Otis Lee, Mrs. Virgil Justice, Mrs. A. O. Smith, Mrs. Clarence Schultz, Mrs. Roy Calvert, Mrs. Cecil Boyer, Mrs. Clyde Rayburn, Mrs. Pat Neill, Mrs. Jimmy Gilentine, Mrs. Gordon Slaughter, Mrs. Aubrey Cook, Mrs. Jimmy Allred, Mrs. Carlos Anderson, and Mrs. Fritz Christman.

Miss Rogers was honored also at a shower Wednesday afternoon July 15, in the Lazbuddie First Baptist Church Annex.

Joining in this courtesy were ten hostesses: From Friona, Mrs. Jim Burgess, Mrs. John Gammon, Mrs. J. T. Mayfield, Mrs. Roy Daniel, and Mrs. C. C. Graef.

And from Muleshoe, Mrs. Joe Briggs, Mrs. Gary Dale, Mrs. Don McDonald, and Mrs. Wayne

Hereford Is On The Move

May Dept. and Varsity Stores are conveniently located at 208-210 N. Main in Hereford.

The friendly atmosphere which predominates these stores at all times has placed them in a class by themselves and can well be termed "shopping headquarters" for the city and surrounding territory.

May Dept. and Varsity Stores feature nationally advertised brands such as Jarman Shoes For Men, Campus, H. I. S., Duke of Hollywood, and Playboy of Calif. Sportswear; English Leather, Mayfield Suits by Stylemart, Botany Suits, Marshall Ray Suits and Sportswear, Levis, Lee Riders, Western Shirts by Miller and Karman, John B. Stetson hats, Westbury Fashions of New York, Stockton of Dallas, Ralph's Originals, Gay Gibson Div. Miss Couture, Nan Dorsey, Queen Elizabeth and Morgan Jones Spreads and Blankets, Kayser and Movie Star Lingerie, Classic and Lady Diane of Calif. Uniforms and many others.

We call the attention of our readers to the advantage of having a unique store like this, featuring nationally advertised brands at discount prices.

George Masso emphasizes that all their merchandise is guaranteed. This policy should guide one to do business with this reliable firm which has the interest of every customer at heart. It is evident from the tremendous response that this firm has had, that they more than doubled the space in less than nine months of operation.

Most recently, they became the exclusive dealers for the Singer Sewing Machine, vacuum cleaners, typewriters, stereos and transistorized T. V. all by Singer. And for this, further expansion is being planned.

This in reality is a pride to our community.

panded Kings Manor facilities is the new Westgate-Kings Manor, a $250,000 nursing unit which will provide facilities for 25 patients who can not be taken care of in the "well-care units," the director explained.

This unit, which is now nearing completion, will be one of the most modern hospitals in West Texas, and staff already has been named for the hospital.

He said that since the hospital could not be opened to the public for inspection after it is occupied, residents who are to occupy the Westgate-Kings Manor or will not check in until the day after Open Campus.

Also nearing completion is an elaborate addition to the original Kings Manor, a "central service unit" which is costing $120,000. Vastly expanded reception areas, new kitchens and dining rooms also will be included in this portion of the building, in addition to providing rooms for additional guests.

Mr. Davidson said that when the new unit is completed, Kings Manor will expand its facilities to house 40 "well-care" residents.

Other new buildings which will be open for the September ceremony will include a new $17,000 home for the manager, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Thomas, and for three duplex dwellings costing $33,000. These units, while essentially for employees of the home, also will provide some space for permanent residents of the home, he explained.

Actual program for the September 3 event will be staged from 2 to 4 p.m. although visiting and tours will take place until 6 p.m.

Kings Manor is a "new" project and has shown remarkable growth since construction of the first unit was started early in 1962. Original unit cost $220,000 and provided facilities for 25 residents, Dr. Davidson explained.

It all began back in the spring of 1961 when interested persons got together at an open meeting and laid the groundwork for the mammoth project for oldsters. Area residents pledged $100,000 for the starter, and the Hereford Area Foundation paid $98,000 into the building fund which also included the site. A grant from the Hill-Burton Federal fund of $270,000 was secured for the nursing unit.

"We are particularly proud of our financial record" Mr. Davidson said. "We value the campus — land, buildings and all — at $700,000 and yet we owe less than one-third of this amount which speaks very well for the wonderful response that the home has had from many, many interested persons."

Kings Manor is located on a 10.8-acre tract and is joined on the south by a 3.2 acre park which is to be developed shortly.

To lay plans for publicizing the open campus ceremony, the home's publicity committee met Friday. The committee is composed of the Rev. Herschel Thurston, pastor of the First Methodist Church here; Melvin Young, managing editor of The

Deaf Smith 4-H Girl Wins First

One of four top winners in District I 4-H Dress Revue held in Amarillo Thursday is Lou Ann Witkowski, Deaf Smith County's winning entrant in the senior division. The four winners are eligible to compete in the State 4-H Dress Revue at State Fair, Dallas, in October.

Listed with Lou Ann as winners were Peggy Little, Dallam County; Prescilla Swink, Ochiltree County; and Patricia Henderson, Hansford County.

Chosen by official judges, winners of this revue were among 19 competing entrants from this 20-county district who modeled dresses or costumes they had made in their 4-H classes. This all-day event was held at the Federated Women's Club, Amarillo, where contestants were honorees at a tea that afternoon.

Also modeling their dresses, but not competing, were county winners in the junior division of 4-H. Representing Deaf Smith County 4-H clubs was Jane Witkowski, 12, sister of Lou Ann.

Lou Ann fashioned her winning petit point blue (sky blue) costume from wool broadcloth for (See Picture, Page 1) a basic sheath dress and from wool mohair for matching full-length coat. The collarless dress she designed with away-from-neck neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves. The long-sleeved coat was fully backed and lined and featured soft tailoring in the small collar.

She made her close-fitting hat of bluebonnet blue with eyebrow veil. Her black iridescent shoes and handbag were complemented by white gloves.

Accompanying the Deaf Smith 4-H dress revue winners to the Amarillo competition were Jean Beene, assistant county home demonstration agent, and the girls' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Witkowski, 215 N. Texas.

100 Attend Annual Reunion Of Progressive Community

With 100 registered attendance the Progressive Community Reunion was held at Community Center Sunday, July 19. This was the fourth such organized event for this community that began to progress with the turn of the century and pro-pered through the years.

Officials greeting committee for these old friends and neighbors were Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ricketts, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Boyer, Mrs. Norma Tomberlin, and Miss Lucille Park.

Cattle Futures Market Is Seen By Specialist

— A cattle futures market. Ridiculous, you say? Maybe not, according to Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.
 The Chicago Mercantile Exchange has hired a private consulting firm to study the possibility of such a market. Although most segments of the livestock industry feel there is a need for a futures market of livestock, they do not fully understand how it can best be used, says Uvacek.
 There are many problems in establishing a livestock futures market because of the nature of the product. In live cattle trading, there is difficulty in establishing specifications, carcass beef contracting isn't very appealing to either producers or buyers and boneless beef normally doesn't have the price variation needed for attractive speculation.
 Early investigations show that carcass specifications might be the best solution.
 Another problem with establishing a futures market is the large amount of educational

Six County 4-H Youths In Camp

Going to the second annual 4-H Electric Camp for District I at Scott Abie, N.M., Monday through Friday are three girls and three boys from Deaf Smith County 4-H clubs.
 Lou Ann Witkowski, council delegate, Nancy Smith, Joyce Betzen, and Kevin McAndrews will leave Monday at 9:30 a.m. from Southwestern Public Service Co. Adult leaders accompanying the group are Mrs. Leo Witkowski with the girls and A. J. Bezner with the boys.
 Chief purpose of the camp, sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Co., will be to help youth learn how to "live better electrically" in the home and on the farm. Council delegates will attend a workshop on leading 4-H work in the country.

FASHION INSPIRED BY STEEL WORKERS
 New York — Steelplant workers are setting a fashion style for children without knowing it. Fluorescent orange-colored gloves, worn by safety-minded steelworkers because they can be seen from a mile away, have attracted attention for youngsters. "Steel Facts," published by American Iron and Steel Institute, reports that parents are delighted with the new fashion, because mitten-wearing youngsters can be easily seen by car drivers. Also, if a mitten is lost, it can be quickly spotted.
 The bright orange color is the result of mixing a fluorescent pigment with vinyl. In addition work that must be done to insure a full understanding of the program by cattlemen.
 However, eventually the difficulties will be worked out and the thing that couldn't work, a futures trading market on live cattle and beef, will be a reality, says Uvacek.

Costly Program To Boost Higher Education Proposed

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN. — A costly plan for "catching up" with other states in the field of higher education has been outlined to Texans by the Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School.

It will take considerable money to accomplish just one of the major tests of excellence on education — bringing Texas faculty salaries up to the national average. More is needed for libraries and research facilities.

To help achieve goals in those three fields, the Committee recommended that further college construction be delayed. By using present classrooms and laboratories more hours a day and more days a year, this saving can be accomplished, the committee felt.

Gov. John Connally conceded that it will take new taxes to finance the program which he has termed his No. 1 interest. Neither he nor the committee recommended a financing plan. Committee did say the Legislature should double college tuition, so students and their parents would share more of the cost of education.

Plan calls for expansion of the junior college system, and wide use of vocational training to prepare students for skilled and semi-skilled technical jobs in industry.

Coordination, to eliminate duplication between state colleges, would be placed in the hands of an 18-member board appointed by the governor. Board would take over duties of the present junior college division of the Texas Education Agency and the Commission on High Education. This would put junior and senior college and university supervision in a single group.

Goal would be to make junior college training available to all, and to raise its level of excellence so all junior college credits would be immediately transferable to senior colleges.

Committee, headed by H. B. Zachry, San Antonio construction executive, is taking its case to the public in a series of meetings with business leaders in their communities.

CUT AGAIN — Another 28,600 barrel cut in daily oil allowances was ordered by the Texas Railroad Commission as it held August production to 26.5 per cent of the capability of the wells. Two large purchasers complained they are over-supplied with oil and unable to sell it.

A POPULAR PLACE — Texas' State Capitol is being invaded daily by both Texans and out of state tourists who came here to pay tribute to the history of the state. Men, women and children — about three times as many children as parents, it seems — literally crowd the Capitol's halls, their numbers reaching as many as 1,200 a day.

One of the most popular stops on the informal tour (there are no guides) of State buildings is the State Archives and Library, just across a walkway from the Capitol.

There, renowned artists Peter Hurd and his son-in-law Peter Rogers are executing a mural of Texas' history, featuring remarkable likenesses of Stephen F. Austin, Sam Houston and Anson Jones, as well as Davy Crockett and William B. Travis. The mural depicts the conquistador as well as the cowboys.

Visitors are invited to pull up a chair and watch the artists at work, and they do. They are also treated to a newly-arranged re-creation of a room from Gov. Elisha Pease's (1853-57, 1867-69) mansion. Furniture was donated to the archives when former Gov. Allan Shivers bought the venerable mansion.

MAKING WAY — A large number of Texas cities with populations of less than 50,000 are planning now for the year 1990 by developing a blueprint for progress under a Federal-local program being administered by the State Health Department.

Under this program, a city can obtain studies of current facilities and projections of future needs in every area from economic and sociological needs to budgeting for capital improvements. The Housing and Home Financing agency makes grants for the master plans and the city pays one-third the cost, while the Federal agency pays two-thirds.

A typical town under study is the West Texas city of Winters, which has a population of 3,300 and will spend 14,845 toward a $13,385 master plan.

So far, 109 cities have enrolled in the planning project to see where they can go and how they can get there over the next 25 years.

PUBLIC PIER — Parks and Wildlife Department will advertise a second time for bids for concession rights on the new State fishing pier at Port Lavaca. Only one person submitted a bid July 1 after 13 said they were interested.

The 3,200-foot-long pier, which replaced one destroyed by Hurricane Carla, is said to be the world's longest fishing pier. Access to it will be free to the public, but the department is trying to provide a source of bait, soft drinks and fishing gear via a concessionaire contract.

HEAD CHANGE DUE — Texas Animal Health Commission will decide July 27 on a new commission director to replace Dr. R. G. Garrett of Taylor who plans to resign.

Decision will be made at a meeting to be hosted by Chairman Ed Knoke of Sandia at his Knoke Jersey Farm in Jim Wells County. Knoke said there have been several "well-qualified" applicants for the post, but declined to list them. However, it has been rumored that a staff veterinarian with the commission, Dr. S. B. Walker, will be favored.

PROGRAM BLOCKED — Animal Health Commission postponed to Sept. a decision on whether to let a Type II brucellosis control program be set up in one part of Brooks County. Commission has been informed. (Continued on Page 11)

ed that many Brooks County producers want to organize a program, but the King Ranch which has 3,991 of the 16,000 of cattle on county tax rolls does not. Approval of the owners of 75 per cent of the cattle in a county is necessary so the proponents want to organize a program in just the soil conservation district which covers all of the county except King Ranch property. Commission said it lacked sufficient information for a decision at this time.

Louise Isbell Becomes Bride Of Melvin Eugene Fowler

Before an archway of greenery and baskets of white gladioli and white mums in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hollingsworth, 203 Gough St., Virginia Louise Isbell and Melvin Eugene Fowler exchanged marriage vows. Judge H. C. Williams officiated at the double ring ceremony Friday evening, July 17, in the presence of relatives and close friends of the couple.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Digby, 102 Heiback. The groom is the brother of Mrs. Carl Hollingsworth.

Mrs. Joe Hacker, pianist, presented a program of traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a two-piece suit of pink lace over satin. The overblouse was accented by embroidered edging at jacket hemline, wrists, and collar, closed by softly knotted sailor tie of pink satin. She wore a pink rose hat with nose veil and carried a bridal bouquet of white roses in cascading style. Her jewelry was a diamond heart necklace with silver chain.

The bride's attendants were her sister, Mrs. Richard Pate, Norfolk, Va., and Mrs. John Brannon, Amarillo. They wore street length pink dresses designed with full skirts and ruffles accenting sleeves. They carried white pom-pom mums in snowball design. Trudy Hollingsworth, in white organdy and pink silk dress, served as ring-bearer.

Attending the groom were Jim Culpepper and Richard Pate, Norfolk, Va., brother-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Charles S. Digby, mother of the bride, chose for her daughter's wedding, a sand-colored silk suit with iridescent accessories. Mrs. Hollingsworth, sister of the groom, wore a navy blue suit and white accessories. Their corsages were cymbidium orchids.

For the informal reception, rooms of the Hollingsworth home were decorated with flowers in varying shades of pink—the bride's color scheme. Bouquets of the bride and her attendants were decorative pieces on the bride's table laid in white linen. The three-tiered bridal cake was encircled by pink roses. Appointments were in crystal.

Mrs. Don Metcalf served the guests, and Nina J. Underwood, Amarillo, presided at the guest book.

After a short wedding trip, the couple have established a home at 241 Avenue C.

A 1960 graduate of Hereford High School, the bride graduated from Central Technical Institute, Hollywood, Calif., 1961. She is presently secretary to Mark IV Realtors. After graduation from Hereford High School, Fowler served two years in the U.S. Navy. He is a partner in Fowler and Kelly Electric Co.

After the opening of birthday gifts, the hostess served spiced tea and coffee with birthday cake.

was born July 18, 1879, near Albany, Ohio. She and her husband came to Texas in 1909 settling on a farm in the Hereford area. He preceded her in death in 1939. Of their two children, Dale died in 1935; and their daughter, Mrs. Olson, shares the duplex at 407 West 4th with her mother. Mrs. Bodkin has two grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren, most of whom live in this area.

Once an ardent member of quilting clubs in Hereford, Mrs. Bodkin has replaced that hobby with flower gardening on a limited scale. She likes visiting with friends by telephone if they don't or can't come in to see her. She made a trip to Phoenix, Ariz., in June to see her great-grandson graduate from high school. Equality Brings Responsibilities

All of us are aware of the present fight for civil rights among minority groups and The Brand, as in the past, feels that any American who is subject to paying taxes, answering draft calls, and performing other duties of citizenship, is definitely entitled to equal consideration in all public fields in the pursuit of life, liberty and happiness.

There is, however, one point which demands equal emphasis. Recently Hereford was roundly criticized in the state-wide publication because it did not provide free medical care for certain groups, which apparently find it difficult to afford regular hospital facilities provided through county channels; needless to say, the same sort of criticism has been directed toward other communities, especially in the deep South, where racial equality is being sought.

Frankly, it seems to us, that equality on one front also means equality on other fronts. Many people of Latin and Negro extraction are using the hospitals and other facilities provided by the community, just as many negroes use these same facilities in the south — and these are the people who have earned and deserve the badge of equality.

With the equality of American citizenship comes many advantages — not paralleled anywhere else in the world — but the achievement also involves certain responsibilities and some disadvantages, including taxes, payment of bills, assistance in community growth, and contributions to worthwhile causes. To establish a basis of equality every race — black, brown, red or white — must realize and meet this challenge. Only when this has been accomplished can any group consider themselves on a basis of equality with other groups which meet the same obligations. In a nutshell, the situation is summed up in an old West Texas adage: "You can't have your cake, and eat it, too."

Lions Carnival

The Hereford Lions Club continually amazes many people, including a generous delegation here in Deaf Smith county and, certainly, their annual carnival is a good example.

The carnival, some 30 years of age, has grown to the point that it is now classified as "big business", but it still retains some of its original qualities in that volunteer workers donate their time, in that the proceeds are used for community improvement and public welfare, and in that its operation is thoroughly efficient. Besides all of this, the merchants and professional people who man the stands appear to get a "real charge" out of the annual activity; some, they say, even look forward to the occasion with gusto.

Interesting, too, is the cross section of the community represented in the week-long hullabaloo, which rivals anything on the West Texas, including professional carnivals which operate with paid employees. Whether one approves of the venture or not, it is obvious that the Hereford group does a most thorough and complete job, which is indeed amazing when you stop to consider the long period over which it has operated.

New Industry

People all over the Panhandle continue to show interest in Hereford's new Holly sugar plant, which is scheduled to be ready for handling the fall harvest.

In spite of the many problems which are bound to come along with a new operation, the plant procedure is scheduled to move along in a routine fashion. The beet crop for the area is good, and will in the future likely expand. A normal staff of around 75 employees was originally projected for the Hereford plant, along with peak employment hitting as high as 450 during seasonal periods.

The plant, withdrawn from public inspection during construction, plans an open house in September which, no doubt, will draw tremendous attendance from over the entire North Plains territory.

All in all, we would say that the new industry is progressing on schedule. It has already paved the way for extensive growth in the community and, according to most observers, this growth will probably continue for the next decade.

Stock Market

Sylvia Porter, the well-known financial analyst, has devoted one of her columns to recent activity on the stock market. It has been a very lively market of late. On occasion it has touched historic new highs and that is the kind of market that, in past times, has often resulted in gambling fever, to be followed after a length of time by a major break.

Has the current market produced similar danger signs? Miss Porter goes into this in some detail, and her considered judgment is NO. In her words, "There have been outbursts of speculation — but so far at least, the attacks are neither general nor out of hand — which reassuring indeed."

This is a tribute to the good sense of the vast majority of American investors in common stocks. Their interest is in improvement in values and in a fair return on their investment. They aren't gamblers. They have faith in the future of American corporate enterprise, and they want to share in that future.

It is, also, a tribute to the safeguards that prevent catastrophic market declines and to protect the public against dubious dealings. Government agencies have been responsible for many of these. But — and this is not as generally known as it should be — the major exchanges, most notably the New York Stock Exchange, have voluntarily imposed rules and regulations of their own, and some of them are stricter than those of government. This is self-policing of the most desirable kind.

No one can tell what the market will do tomorrow or next year. But one thing is sure — it will honestly reflect the economic conditions of the time.

Nugget

Past 21-residents of Dallas who rode down Elm Street about 7:30 Thursday morning wondered whether this city was facing a new picket line of one kind or another. Nothing of the sort — the 2-block-long line of several hundred teenagers was merely waiting, good-humoredly, to buy tickets to a forthcoming motion picture. The sight would have gladdened the hearts of Hollywood, except for a minor detail. The movie features England's Beatles.

'Hereford Day' Draws Big Amarillo Crowds

Monday was "Hereford Day" in Amarillo, the Queen City of the Plains. It is not known exactly the number of Whitefaces that trailed through the streets of the Fair

50 YEARS AGO

City, but there was so few left in Hereford that stranger would have thought that everybody had gone to the "colton patch."

Leaving Hereford by auto and by train, the Hereford crowd showed up at the proper hour. Those in their cars, with banners and flags flying, found Polk Street, the principal thoroughfare of that city, and quietly stole their way thru the city. Their presence attracted the attention of everyone and they were greeted with "welcomes" and "cheers."

"The dawn of a new day" is predicted for the newest city of the Plains. And what more fitting name could have been selected than the word of one syllable — Dawn. This new town, located some thirteen miles east of Hereford on the great transcontinental railroad, the Santa Fe, is just dawning, just coming to light. A visit there this week was a revelation even to one who had witnessed the rapid growth of many Southwestern towns.

Situated in the very heart of a great shallow water district and having for its purpose the development of an irrigation field, virgin in soil and resourceful in pure water, there is nothing that could prevent it's sure prosperity.

One man was injured in a truck accident, and several vehicles were damaged in collisions in Hereford and the county during the last few days.

Janis Head, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Head, was honored with a birthday party in the home of her parents Friday afternoon.

Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served to the children.

Mrs. D. W. Hawkins returned Thursday from Tulsa where she spent a week with her son, Bill Hawkins and his two sons who were batching while Mrs. Bill Hawkins and a daughter were in Soap Lake, Wash., visiting a sister, Mrs. Russell Thomas and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Favorite and children of Pleasant Lake, Ind., stopped in Hereford Wednesday for a short stay with old friends, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mountz. They were en route home from a vacation trip to New Mexico. Tom Harris of Filer, Idaho, is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Sisk. He formerly lived in Hereford.

Panhandle Paragraphs

There has been a series of accidents this week in and around Dumas that are building up the property damage for Moore county at an alarming rate and also causing serious injury to some. Chief of Police Frank Hudson asked that we appeal to the automobiling public to "stay alive, drive with a little more alertness and slow down just a little."

Bessie Rainer has some African violets growing over in the Greenbelt building that are worth going by to see. They are the most luxuriant I have ever seen. Bessie is also a dahlia grower, but she can't raise dahlias like I can raise dahlias — in fact, few people in Wellington can. Come by to see them in about a month. This may not seem very modest, but as Dizzie Dean says, "If you can do it — you ain't braggin'."

There can be no just criticism of the tactics used by the Goldwater supporters in their effort to secure the nomination of the Arizona senator as presidential nominee of the Republican party. Instead the leaders of the moderate and progressive wing of the GOP are at fault for not providing leadership for their wing of the party in the fight for delegate strength at the convention. Undoubtedly the John Birch society played a considerable role in the pre-convention maneuvering of the conservative faction of the Republican party, promoting the Goldwater movement. . . . But to a disinterested Democratic bystander such as myself, the whole controversy at the Republican convention seemed to center around the fact that Senator Goldwater seemed to court the support of the John Birch Society and other extreme right wing groups, even to the extent that they might figure to a prominent degree in his administration in event he won the election.

The Denver City school board has adopted a "policy of dress" for students of the senior and junior high schools. The new policy, first of its kind within the Denver City school district . . . prescribes modes of dress and hair grooming for both boy and girl students. . . . In a formal statement the board said: "It is not the intent of the school to regulate the details of students' dress. However, it is the duty and responsibility of the school to encourage and insist upon proper dress because it feels that proper dress is necessary to good learning procedure and character development."

Big excitement came at Brownwood (on my vacation.) There I was, minding my own business, both lines in the water and not caring if or not something took one. Something did. THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his biweekly form probably has been watching television too much, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

One thing I've learned from watching political conventions on television is that politicians have developed the English language to a much higher and more satisfactory instrument than the rest of us and I don't see why we can't get up on their level too.

For example, one of those television interviewers with a box strapped to his back and ear muffs on, I guess to keep from hearing the same thing over and over again, will corner politician and say:

"There's a rumor that you might be selected as the vice president candidate. Can you confirm this?"

"I can confirm the rumor, but that's all."

"Would you accept the nomination if offered?"

"Let me make this clear, I've said again and again that I am not seeking the office, that I'm happy with the job I have. A man, if he believes in his country and the future of this party, and let me say I certainly do, has to do what he has to do, as duty dictates. I don't see how I can make it any clearer."

This is what I'm talking about. Now say a store calls you up and says, "We have your check here for $3.25 which has been returned by the bank. We wonder if you will please make it good?"

"Well," you ought to be allowed to say, "let me make this clear. I have always believed in fiscal integrity, it's the corner stone on which the Pilgrim fathers landed, and I don't mind saying for the record that excessive government spending and financial irresponsibility in Washington have got to stop, and that goes for Cuba too, not to mention what we all know about the situation in Viet Nam, and while I certainly consider it a signal honor that you have mentioned my name in this matter, I have always taken the position that no man should cross two bridges at the same time, whether he has come to them or not, nor should he attempt to burn one, whether it's behind him or not, or to his left or right. The middle of the road is the best way to sail safely into port. I don't see how I can make this any clearer."

Voters seem to go for this sort of language, why can't store owners?

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Letter To The Editor

THE BRAND
Hereford, Texas
Dear Editor:
The following is a copy of the letter I have mailed to Senator Kenneth Keating, (R), New York.

Dear Sir:
The Constitution and Bill of Rights of the United States of America created the most liberal government ever known in the world. Under this Charter man first attained real freedom to seek the Divine purpose in his being. Under this Charter the individual's rights are protected — though he be a minority of one.

Ours is a Government of Law, and not a Government of Men. In our Nation there can be no political Right and Left. There can only be RIGHT and WRONG.

Those sophists who prate of extremism — of the ultra-conservative, of the extreme rightist, and of the radical right — are usually referring to patriotic citizens dedicated to the preservation of our freedom under our Constitution. Such prattlers, with their advocacy of socialistic measures repugnant to the spirit and letter of our Constitution, are our real threat.

Political appellations properly used in connection with Old World governments, are inappropriate in our country. They are intended to, and do, only confuse the real issue: we are either dedicated to the preservation of our freedom under our Constitution, or we are trying to destroy it, whether knowingly or unknowingly.

You and your colleague, Senator Javits, swore to defend the Constitution. You were elected as representatives of a sovereign political entity, the State of New York. Your primary duty as members of the Senate is to protect the rights of your State from Federal encroachment. Apparently, each of you has repudiated his solemn oath and his solemn duty. Why not be honest? Why hide your intentions behind such terms as "Liberal", "Progressive", "Moderate", and "Modern"? Why not openly state that you are socialist? Why not openly state that your intention is to alter the form of government recognized as the best the world has ever known?

These are, in truth, "times to try men's souls". Those misguided individuals who would follow your leadership must be awakened to the fact that they are being led down the path to destruction, both as individuals and as a Nation.

This is, truly, the hour. Each of us must be willing to stand up and be counted. We must openly defend right, and condemn evil, lest by our silence we condone evil. There can be no compromise.

Jess M. Carter

Card Of Thanks

We would like to express our thanks to doctors, nurses, and hospital staff who were in attendance during the illness and death of Mrs. Joe R. Kendall, and our deep gratitude to each member of the community for their prayers and loving messages of concern in various forms. Such thoughtfulness is comforting in our overwhelming experience.

The many deeds of kindness in memory of our wife and mother are deeply appreciated.

Here and There

with Mrs. Merlin Kaul

Included among those registered at the Barn Museum at the Turrentine Farm Sunday were visitors from Iowa and Oklahoma. More antique items continue to be added to the items displayed.

The steel lance or sword point on display may have belonged to the Coronado expedition. It was found south of Tucumcari, N. Mex. and has the appearance of weapons that were used in Spain in the Middle Ages. It has an overlay of metal with ornamental configurations.

The Coronado expedition passed through the Tucumcari area in the spring of 1541 during its long search for the fabled Seven Cities of Gold.

After spending the winter in an Indian pueblo on the Rio Grande near present Bernalillo, Coronado and his soldiers set forth on a journey to the East on April 23, 1541.

Rounding the northern edge of the Sandia Mountains they traveled up the Gallista River Valley and through Glorieta Pass to Pecos Pueblo, then called Cicyue.

The expedition went south on the west side of the Pecos River to a point near the present community of Anton Chico, where a bridge was constructed across the flooded stream. From there they traveled east across the plains to the valley of the Canadian River following it into what is now known as the Texas Panhandle passing north of Tucumcari.

On the return trip, the Coronado expedition is believed to have passed south of present Tucumcari. It is a known fact that the expedition was in the vicinity of the place where the old weapon was found.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Welch have returned after a motor trip to the northwest and Canada. Their four took them through Raton, N.M., Utah, Oregon, Washington, Canada, to Grand Coulee Dam, and back via the Black Hills in South Dakota. They visited Mt. Rushmore near Sturgis, South Dakota before turning toward Hereford. Mrs. Welch says they visited at least 20 outstanding places, but the most outstanding was Vancouver, B.C. in Canada. She said the flowers were beautiful and the flower beds laid out in perfection. The quaint buildings, the uniqueness of the city goes far beyond what Mrs. Welch says she has ever taught in geography.

Bud Taylor, Mercedes, was in town one day last week. Bud formerly worked in the Jack Renfro offices. His family moved to the valley as soon as school was out here in the spring.

Debbie Gholson is spending the week in Quanah with her grandmother, Mrs. Rena Gholson. Debbie will return home Sunday and sister Barbara will go to spend a week with Mrs. Gholson.

Miss Gladys Setliff went to Littlefield to visit a few days with her mother, Mrs. B. S. Setliff, and brother Chester. On returning home she will bring Tommy, Keith, and Karen Setliff, children of her brother, to stay for a few days while their parents go to Austin on business.

Mrs. Pearl Milam, Waco, was here last weekend to visit her sister, Mrs. Ervin Robinson Sr., Mr. Robinson and other relatives. Mrs. Milam was the former Pearl Runton and grew up here.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Ellis, Long Beach, Calif., long-time friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hare, were their guests here last Wednesday and Thursday. They were enroute to Waco and Hillsboro from their home in California.

Miss Naomi Hare is attending the annual conference of the Methodist Church in Mexico. She has been teaching in Monterrey, Mexico, but will be coming back to Hereford the first of August for a year's leave of absence. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hare.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dunavant, accompanied by his brother, H. A. Dunavant and wife of Brownwood, went to Cheyenne, Wyo. last Monday. They attended the first performance of the 68th Annual Frontier Days Rodeo Tuesday. They report that Bussy (Walter) Kaul, who is a bulldogger, was not on the program that day. This is the fifth trip the Dunavants have made to the Cheyenne celebration.

Miss Bonnie Ivie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Ivie, is spending the summer with relatives in Hayward, Calif. Bonnie was employed at the Hereford Clinic before going to California.

Mrs. Gary Griffith and son, Clovis, N.M., have been guests this week in the Maurice Means home on K street. Guests this week in the Raymond Higginbotham home included her sister, Mrs. Woodrow Duckworth, Lubbock, and her niece, Mrs. Jack Wright and daughter Leslie Ann, San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Kaul, Virginia and Galen, Sabetha, Kan. and Paul Dientsbier, Topeka, Kan., are spending several days with the Merlin Kaul family. Vernon and Merlin are brothers.

If you were watching the TV show "Let's Make a Deal", from Hollywood last Friday, you saw two familiar faces — Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Owens. Ralph, a mortician, is employed at Gilliland Funeral Home. He and his wife had been on the show in California two weeks before it came on the screen. They had taken a gallon of Hereford water with them and Ralph had made a unique sign to advertise "The Town Without a Toothache" and these items gave them their chance to be admitted to the show. Ralph said the line of people with gadgets of every description hoping to get in was a half block long and four people deep.

Ralph admits that he's the one (this time) who muffed the "deal." Wife wanted to ask $100 for the Hereford water, but Ralph said 50 cents. So they lost $200 and the chance to "Make a Deal."

Since it was the 2nd of July and the Owens' 2nd wedding anniversary, they had decided that "Door No. 2" would be their choice if they made it. Their loss included a trip to the Bahama Islands, a movie camera and projector and $500.

Yes, they were pretty sick! Marlin Gilliland and Dr. R.R. Wills have returned after a Colorado fishing trip. And they report a wonderful time — wonderful fishing. Marlin says they caught their limit every day they were there except two.

They stayed at Jean and Urilin Streu's Cabin Camp and passed on the word that the Streus are fine hosts and have some fine modern cabins. Their camp is seven miles from Crested Butte which is not far from Gunnison.

The Brand's "Know Your Neighbor" Contest caused more commotion around Hereford than did the Republican National Convention in San Francisco. Everywhere we went Thursday, scores of people were huddled over the paper trying to figure out "who this guy is?" and due to the many business changes and new firms locating in Hereford over the past years, we could not help a bit. We had thought at one time, that we knew almost every businessman in Hereford, and most of the employees. But that has changed. Of course, we don't have the opportunity to visit the many stores like we once did. Back when, (and now we sound like a pioneer); but back when we were selling advertising, we tried to see most of the merchants at least once per week. That would be quite a chore in 1964. There are, we would guess, somewhere near 300 merchants in Hereford, including service stations, barber shops, appliance and TV repairment, beauty shops, plumbers, etc. And if you're one of the people who visited every business listed on our contest sheet, (120) you'll know that it takes a while to make the rounds.

When interviewed by the Brand, however, he claimed up. "No comment" was all we could pry from him. And here we thought we had the major news story of the year but we can't get verification from the embarrassed party. He did, however, invite us to come by the station, and made a point of the fact that we could come in either the front door or the back, whichever suited our purpose. We're still mulling over that one.

Don't forget the open house this afternoon at Hereford Insurance Agency, and while you're out, be sure to drive by 210 Ranger and see Hereford's first totally electric home. The home was built by Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Justice and is reportedly the first in Hereford that is "totally electric". Jesse Stanfort was telling us Thursday night about a little story he had picked up in Plainview. "It's odd," says Jesse, "that a man has to go to Plainview to get the news about homefolks. Apparently, it's a case of suppressing the news in Hereford." Jesse, it seems, was in Plainview visiting with son Bill, and while there also visited with Marshall Formby, co-owner of Radio Station KPAN. Marshall, of course, has never been known to keep a secret. Particularly where-as nephew Clint is concerned. And that's when the cat was let out of the bag. What, apparently, was cavorting at the local Country Club swimming pool recently, and diving into the pool, lost his trunks. He quickly retrieved the errant britches, and got them back on without creating a scene. "Thank goodness there wasn't anyone near the pool at the time", Formby told friends.

When interviewed by the Brand, however, he claimed up. "No comment" was all we could pry from him. We're still mulling over that one.

We dropped by the City Hall Friday for a tour of the upstairs portion which is now undergoing extensive remodeling. City manager Dudley Bayne was in an unusually jovial mood, which automatically put us on guard. And justly so. It seems that he quoted in the paper as saying he was going to Amarillo to look over some furniture for the office, which brought a storm of protest from the local folks who prefer to see City tax money spent at home. Normally, we would just keep out of Dudley on the spot, but feeling that we might have missed, we'll explain further. The furniture will be purchased by competitive bid from one of three local office supply houses. The Amarillo trip was made to look over a "display of furniture" which is handled by one of the local firms. According to Bayne, every effort is being made to purchase equipment and supplies on the
