Governor Says Gambling Ring Fixed Races

'I Have Evidence To Prove' Ring Reaped Big Profit, Says Jimmie

AUSTIN (AP)—Governor Allred revealed Thursday he had ordered a sweeping investigation into operations of Texas race tracks of a ring purportedly "fixing" races through use of narcotics. The governor said the inquiry had been quietly under way for several days, starting after eight trainers at Alamo Downs, San Antonio race course, were suspended for alleged improper practices. Governor Allred expressed the belief certain former state employees might be involved. He said as far as he knew only one Texas track was involved. Allred said the inquiry disclosed information on "doped" horses had been wired to all parts of Texas and outside the state. The governor said: "There is no doubt from investigation that doping of horses is being done and gamblers are reaping a big profit. I have evidence to prove it."

Murderer Who Hauled Prey Is Captured

Confessed Killer Carried Victim From Michigan To California

SACRAMENTO, Calif., (AP)—A murder suspect's two thousand mile automobile ride with the body of his alleged victim was disclosed at a police outpost on the California - Nevada border Thursday and solved the disappearance of a Kalamazoo, Mich., trucking contractor. Clarence Frechette, 25, the driver of the machine, it was reported by Captain Joseph Blake, California highway patrol, confessed he shot Robert Brown, his employer, at Howell, Mich., Jan. 29, carried the body in the trunk of the machine nine days. Frechette became known as "the flying bandit" seven years ago when he was convicted of slugging his flying instructor, Harry W. Anderson, with a hammer during a flight from Pontiac, Michigan.

Their respective topics were a short history of scouting in America; the 10 year plan of scouting; and the Scout Jamboree which will be held this year in Washington, D. C. Jack Cummings, local weatherman who is also scoutmaster of Troop 3, gave a very interesting classification talk on forecasting and recording the weather. Chic Eubank, accompanied at the piano by Helen Duley, favored the club with two vocal selections. The program next week will be in charge of Dr. Wofford Hardy.

Nail Holes In Kidnap Ladder Are Attacked

Woman Says Dead Isadore Fisch Borrowed Large Sum, Did Not Repay

FLEMINGTON, N. J. (AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's defense Thursday pursued a hint of "framed" evidence with an expert witness, Dr. E. M. Hudson, New York physician and fingerprint man, who insisted in the face of photographs and government reports, that three incriminating nail holes in the Lindbergh kidnap ladder were not in existence when he examined it. Hudson clung to his testimony that "rail sixteen"—part of the kidnap ladder—the state charges came from Hauptmann's attic—had only one square nail hole when he saw it March 13, 1932, 13 days after the Lindbergh baby was kidnaped and slain. The rail, in evidence, has four nail holes which state experts and police said, jibed with nail holes in joints of Hauptmann's attic. Mrs. Augusta Hile, mother-in-law of Gerta Henkel, who testified Wednesday, said the dead Isadore Fisch, accused by the defense as receiver of ransom money, borrowed $4,350 from her and never repaid it.

Deputy's Report Commendatory To Schools Of City

Report of the deputy state superintendent on Big Spring schools, made by J. T. H. Bickley after his visit here early in December, has been received by local school officials. "The schools are due commendation," the report stated, "for the many evidences of good teaching and improved general organization of the entire system." Commended also were the school board's business-like attitude in regard to the financial conditions of the public schools, and the citizens of Big Spring for the splendid co-operation given the board in its endeavor to finance the school system properly. Chief among the recommendations included in the report were: The adding to the library until it reaches about twice its present size. Only then can it be considered adequate to the needs of the school. The building of a professional library for teachers, board members and citizens interested in understanding modern education. A more definite organization and supervision of the physical education classes. The continuing of the effort of the school board to eliminate overcrowded conditions in the elementary grades.

Important Don'ts For All Motorists

Here are a few important don'ts for motorists. Don't forget you can now purchase your 1935 license plates. Don't put them on your car before April 1 of this year. Don't fail to pay license fees for 1934 on cars to be used in February and March if not already registered. Don't forget that midnight April 1 is the latest date for paying for your 1935 tags. State Highway Patrolmen W. W. Legge and Joe Fletcher said Thursday they had taken 1935 tags off several cars in the past few days. They said they would take them off of other cars putting them on before April 1.

STOP IT

Newspaper accounts recently told of a woman store keeper being shot to death in a robbery that netted a hair trigger bandit ninety cents.
Thinking people rebel at robbery regardless of amounts, but it is revolting to think that some human rat would deliberately take the life of a poor woman because she stood in the way of his getting ninety cents.

This should serve as a powerful reminder that one of the most challenging problems with which the United States must cope today is crime.
Crime, like charity, usually begins close at home. There is seldom a case where a child, brought up right by good parents, turned out wrong. On the other hand, most cases show that the criminal came from bad surroundings, or from a good home, was reared carelessly.

Crime conditions are like weeds.
You must cut down the weeds and destroy the seeds if you would be without either. Presence of either will detract from and ultimately destroy worthwhile things if not curbed.

Not long since a speaker rose up in this city to lay the blame for crime upon the door steps of what we are pleased to call our good citizens. We condone and assist crime, he said, when we buy articles we know are stolen goods because of the impossibly low price.
Our children, seeing us buy these things, get the idea it is all right.

Aside from the speaker's remarks, we must observe that we allow our young people to operate their own used cars. Not a few of these youngsters in this city get their gasoline from the tanks of other cars. Not a few youngsters get their spending money by lifting radiator caps and other accessories from parked cars. They dispose of these at a pittance to some "respected" dealer in such ways when their dealer knows they are stolen.

Elmo, the Greenville Banner scribe, reveals that South and Central Texas sport writers have started a movement designed to result in the calling of a referendum on the eight-semester rule. He says one sport writer after another has taken up the hue and cry and it is reported that many interscholastic League members have joined the movement and are ready to demand of league officials that the question again be submitted to a vote.

"It is significant" says Harold V. Ratliff of the Ciebure Times-Review, "that in voting the eight-semester rule the biggest ballot and the final influence was from the schools that do not even participate in football but confine their athletic to basketball solely. Most of the schools that play football were against the rule."

Spike Henninger's Couden Olers, "tops" in the West Texas independent basketball circle, may have a difficult time drawing teams here for their invitation tournament March 2. The Olers were so impressive in winning the Christoval tournament that most of the clubs
chance here.

Many of the wrestling fans would like to see Jack Gorman of San Angelo tossed into the ring with Jimmie Black of Ohio, the boy who almost got Barnackman Tuesday night. Our opinion is that Gorman would not last long enough to make it a good show.

Herman Fuhrer, the referee, intends to bring Dutch Mantell here before long. Mantell is about the meanest in the business, and has probably seen the inside of more jails than all of the other wrestlers combined. Black would probably give him a good battle, but it might be hard on the ring-side customers.

Fuhrer has come in for considerable criticism because of his tactics as the third man in the ring. Most of the critics fail to understand his work.
Many illegal holds appear O. K. to them. Fuhrer does not necessarily make them out on the rough stuff, but he believes in sticking to the rules. Another thing he tries to prevent is stalling.

Golf followers often wonder how much the playing pros make on their tours about the country from year to year and the record compiled by the tournament bureau of the P.G.A. for 1934 is very interesting. It shows that Pat Runyan, the flashy little shotmaker who holds the P.G.A. championship, collected $6,767.01 for his labors in competitive play.

Besides grabbing first money of $1,000 in the national championship for professionals at Buffalo, he finished in front of the field in several other events.
He won the Glen Falls; the Tournament of the Gardens at Charlestown, S. C.; the Cavalier open at Virginia Beach; the St.
Petersburg open and Florida West coast open. He won money in 21 events. His poorest showing was in the national open at Merion in June, where he finished out of the money in a tie for 25th place.

Mustangs Hold Three Wins, No Losses

FORT WORTH (Sp.)—The principal developments in the Southwest Conference basketball race during the last few days have been the climb of S. M. U. into a tie with Texas for second place in the standings, and T. C. U.'s break into the victory column, at the expense of the Baylor Bears.

The Mustangs now have three victories and two defeats. They take on the Farmers from A. & M. in Dallas Saturday night in a game that may settle whether or not the Methodists or the Farmers are to continue to climb.

The Frogs won their first conference game when they defeated Baylor in Waco last Saturday night. Coach Meyer's pupils looked far from impressive, however, and are still being picked for the cellar position.

Games Friday and Saturday night may reshuffle the conference standings. Arkansas and Baylor play both nights, in Fayetteville; Rice meets Texas in Houston, and A. & M. plays S. M. U. in Dallas.

The Longhorns, the Farmers and the Mustangs all have but two losses to date. When the games are over at least one—perhaps two—will have to be credited with three losses. If the Baylor Bears should be able to take a game from the Razorbacks, there would be great cheering in certain sections of the conference.

Texas Cagers In Long Grind

Coach Karow's Boys Face Seven Tough Conference Games

Conference competition again and numerous changes in the lineup brought on the loose play.

As a result the probable starters Saturday night against the Owls will be Gray and Francis at the forwards; Collins at center; and Sands and either Wittman or Pennington at the guards.

The Longhorns will depart for Houston Friday afternoon, after working out briefly here in Gregory Gym.

AUSTIN (Sp.)—With term examinations behind them and a sche-dular of seven conference games waiting for them in the face, the University of Texas Longhorn cagers went into their training grind this week with a view to regaining the high standing in the conference which they held earlier in the campaign.

Long and strenuous workouts, dotted with scrimmages sessions with the freshman squad featured the program of preparation for the re-opening of their schedule with the Rice Owls in Houston on Saturday night.

Sands In Line-Up Again
The return to eligibility of Morris Sands, sophomore guard, was the one encouraging note in the Steer camp this week. The sand-headed youngster looked better than was expected in the game with the Hunt Olers last Saturday night and Coach Karow feels that his defense is considerably strengthened with his return. Before Saturday, when the final reports will be in, several regulars on the Longhorn "five" are likely to be on the "scholastically ineligible" list.

The Longhorns' chances of trim-ing the Owls Saturday took a decided downward trend when they fell rather easily and unimpressive-ly before the Hunt Olers. The Owls took a pair of games from the East Texas-stars earlier in the season, rating them considerably better on paper than the Orange and White quintet.

Fault In Defense
However, Coach Karow's men had had a two-week lay off and were recovering from a week of term examinations. Nor was the Longhorn offense at fault. It was the ragged defensive playing, compiled with a failure to connect with free throws, that made the Longhorns look shaky.

But then Karow was seeking his best combination before going into

Diltz Bakers Defeat Elliott's Drugmen

The Diltz Bakers scored an easy 47-5 victory over the Elliott Soda Skeets Wednesday night, leading all the way.

Led by Harris, who tallied 16 points, the Bakers scored at will.
The victory bettered their chance at the league crown and shoved them into a tie for first place along with the CCC boys, who defeated the Fiewellen 'five' Monday night.

backache, leg pain, loss of pep and vitality, stomach up, nausea, headache, swollen feet

If kidneys don't empty 3 times every day

WITNESSES SEEING VIOLET SHARPE ON KIDNAP NIGHT

Anna Bonesteel (right), restaurant proprietor of Yonkers, N. Y., testified at the trial of Bruno Hauptmann that she saw Violet Sharpe carrying a blanket the night the Lindbergh baby was kidnaped. The girl waited in her restaurant for a time, then was driven away in a car. Mrs. Bonesteel is as she was escorted to court by Edward J. Reilly, chief of defense counsel. Another defense witness, Lupica (left), Princeton student, told of seeing a car with a ladder in it near the Lindbergh home the afternoon of the kidnaping. He said the car's driver resembled Hauptmann. (Associated Press Photo)

"I CANNOT TELL A LIE"

YOU can trust advertisements . . . and the companies that advertise. Because written selling is a pledge of faith. No established business can afford to put a wrong in writing. To advertise an inferior product is simply to hasten its failure.

Make the hard part of your shopping easy—as you sit in a comfortable chair at home. This newspaper reviews the shopping news of the day. Advertisements point the way to genuine bargains. They recommend variety for menus . . . they present the honest merits of products you need.

A few quiet moments, spent with the advertisements, will save you many hectic hours of shopping around. And when your buying is done, you'll find that you have reliable things, bought at fair prices and giving genuine service as promised.

providing for supervision of elections, Congress can pressure the times, places and manners of holding such elections.
Control of the National Guard of Louisiana is vested in the state authorities. The militia of each state is organized and disciplined under national law, but except in time of war the national government does not exercise authority over it.

Mace

—Bumptious governors occasionally have tested out the extent of which they might defy the national government. They soon discovered that it was wise to desist. On the other hand, the government has avoided interference in state quarrels, however turbulent, so long as federal laws, agencies and activities were not disturbed.

With all of Long's novel and extravagant outbursts it has been noticed that he knows how to avoid fatal encounters with superior power. He goes far with the state's political machinery, with a showing of popular support behind him. This is very different from an encounter with federal power. Long is not ignorant. He knows the law. His power is confined to Louisiana and to state affairs. He knows that if he should attack federal authority he would suffer a knockout blow by the iron mace of federal power.

If Long should deliberately provoke a clash with the federal government for political reasons, to stir up insurrection and revolution, he would learn still more.

Stabilized

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau's manipulation of our $2,000,000,000 currency stabilization fund is one of the deepest, darkest secrets in all of Washington. This is the fund used to keep the dollar on an even keel in international exchange.

Reports and rumors will persist, however. They are passed along on yach. It is whispered among those who profess mysteriously to somehow be in the know that we have about a $200,000,000 profit to our credit.

If this is true it would be at the expense of England. The hope is, though, that this will even up in the course of time and both sides will come out about square. The dollar and the pound seem to be unofficially stabilized within a variation of five cents.

Divorce

Marriner Eccles, the western banker who changed his economic philosophy during the height of the depression and became an ardent supporter of New Deal financial policies; is expected to be confirmed by the Senate as Governor of the Federal Reserve Board. Not, however, until Senator Carter Glass, of Va., father of the Federal Reserve Act, has taken him for what the boys might sprightly call a short buggy ride.

As chairman of the sub-committee investigating Eccles' qualifications the unconstructed Virginia is taking his good, sweet line. He says he wants to go into the Governor's possible "interest" in a holding company which took over 24 banks after the 1933 bank holiday. Eccles divorced himself from this enterprise when he went on the Federal Reserve Board, in accordance with law, but Glass will inquire into any possible interest Eccles' brother may still be nursing.

Bankers generally are reported to be satisfied with Eccles' appointment. They would like to refer one of their own right-wing brethren but they are thankful the choice veered no further to the left.

Regulation

—FDR points out clearly that too much haste would be poor legislation in aviation regulation. His reference to the development of "interrelated planning" may embody a hint of the difficulty to be smoothed out between interstate and intrastate regulation. At any rate it is impracticable for the government to undertake complete assimilation of all transportation agencies until further studies have been made.

In this as in other matters the question of delegation of authority to the courts is a matter which under the old order would be dealt with by the courts. Much judicial authority has been delegated to administrative bodies. The President points out that it is wise to lodge judicial functions in agencies accustomed to exercising those powers. It's easy to propose "regulation", but not so easy to do it.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for their loyalty and sympathy in the long illness and death of our dear son and brother, R. W. Words of appreciation cannot express our deepest gratitude for your kind deeds of love. Eternity alone will tell of your reward. Our prayer is that our Lord shall bless you. "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His Saints"—PSA 116-15.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Earnest and family.—adv.

Aircraft

—Opposition to the Aviation Commission's plan for procurement of aircraft by private negotiation rather than competitive bidding will probably prevent that plan going through Congress. Rumors of irregularities in purchases of this sort still hang over both the War and Navy Departments despite sterile grand jury inquests.

NEW YORK

By James McMillan

Tactics

—Informed New Yorkers say that Frenchmen are chucking in their beads at the breakdown of our trade and debt negotiations with Soviet Russia. John Bull has no reason to be displeased either. Our withdrawal opens up rich trade fields for their benefit—and they aren't bothered by little things like the settlement of carlist debts. Recently both France and England have grabbed off Soviet contracts which were supposed to come our way.

Well-posted sources are convinced that France had more to do with busting up our Russian negotiations than the world will ever know. She had two excellent reasons for doing so. One was the obvious trade advantage she would derive. The other was to keep intact what might be called the European Brotherhood of Uncle Sam's Defaulting Debtors. It would be a terrific blow to the French if any important nation should make an effort to settle its obligations. France's backstage tactics have been subtle but they can be traced.

For instance—despite her plentiful financial troubles at home—she recently arranged a sizable credit to the Soviets for goods bought in France.

Abandoned

—This question of credit has been the chief obstacle to our efforts to reach an agreement with Russia. The Soviets would have been willing to acknowledge most of the obligations we claimed and to pay them off in the form of higher prices for the goods they bought.

—PROVIDED we would lend them about twice as much as they owed. The Russians wanted credit so badly they might have compromised if France hadn't stepped into the breach. Naturally her assistance was gratefully received—especially as there were no debt settlement strings attached. That stiffened Russian resistance to our ideas and there's reason to believe that France strongly encouraged her to do the high hat.

The collapse is taken as final by New York authorities. Reports are current that plans to build up an impressive embassy staff at Moscow will be abandoned.

Orient

—Japan is gradually marshalling the Asiatic world under her leadership. That's the meaning of her current pressure on China to form a definite alliance. The Chinese have not yet agreed.

—It is likely that before the year is over Japan will be recognized—tacitly as China's boss and reorganizer—except by a minority of irreconcilables. Financial New York will mostly approve. Anything which stabilizes and modernizes China will strengthen the large Far Eastern investments of powerful banking interests.

But Britain has reason to view with alarm. The English are due to be delicately squeezed out of their dominant financial position in China, and growth of the pan-Asiatic idea means Indian trouble in carload lots.

Bounce

—Those who should know comment that there's a lot more junk in the Congressional Gas rate base than the item of deficit amount carried at $102,000 recently brought to light at a legislative hearing. They add that Mr. Carlisle is due for some unpleasant surprises if he's as unaware of other overvalued scrap-heaps as he was of that tidbit.

Several of the Con Gas plants are said to be carried at a figure much closer to their original cost than their present worth. The word is that new appraisals will be demanded before any Con Gas proposition is acceptable to state city authorities.

A number of Con Gas executives are likely to be bounced on their ears also. Those who are shown to have been over-zealous in protecting their company's income at the public expense will not be allowed to stand in the way of Mr. Carlisle's hopes for better public relations.

—New York is amused at the Treasury's precautions to keep its new baby bonds out of large financial maws. The non-transferable feature makes them ineligible as collateral for bank loans—so the banks can't grab 'em that way. The owner of these bonds can only raise cash by re-selling them to the government after six months.

Ultra-conservatives are worried because the interest on these bonds will be discounted instead of being paid out coupons. They see this as a step toward their pet horror—printing-press money.

But keen observers scoff at these alarms. They point out that the banks have been buying discount bills in vast amounts for some time without anyone getting hot and bothered.

Experts look for the "babies" to find a ready market. They also think Secretary Morgenthau is a bit naive if he expects to raise "bun-

—Six Lettermen in Group of Thirty-Two Longhorn Candidates

—AUSTIN, (Spl.)—With but six lettermen in the group of 32 candidates who reported for the Longhorn baseball team Monday, and four of them outfielders, Coach William (Uncle Billy) Disch is faced with the problem of building an infield and a pitching staff that will be able to stand up with the others in the Conference.

Opera

—Musical circles believe that Herbert Witherspoon has the inside track over Edward Johnson for the directorship of the Metropolitan Opera. It is almost certain to be one or the other. Witherspoon is a native American—which may be a factor. Johnson was born in Canada.

Sidelights

—Railroad men generally approve of coordinator Joe Eastman's solution for their troubles. The Hudson-Manhattan Railroad is dicker with the city to take over its Manhattan subway lines and cut out mutually damaging competition with the city's own road.

Farmer Victory Expected Tonight

—FORT WORTH, (Spl.)—The Texas Christian University Horned Frogs play their third game this week when they take on the A&M quinter here Friday night. The Aggies are the only team that the Frogs have not yet met, and a Farmer victory is expected.

OIL NOTES

—In Ector county Empire Gas and Fuel company is preparing to start drilling on a wildcat test in the southeast corner of section 10, block 45, T-1-N, T&P survey, northwestern part of the county. It is in the same section with the Davidson and Atlantic No. 1 Cummins, small wildcat producer completed in 1934 and is northwest of Landreth-Humble No. 1 C. Scharbauer. In section 20, block 44, T-1-N, T&P survey. The latter well, a 36 to 40 barrel producer, has been shut down for several months waiting on a pipe line outlet.

The Landreth Production company is working on a deal to drill in the southwest corner of section 18, block 44, T-1-N, T&P survey. This location is two miles east and a mile south of the new Empire location of the Landreth well has not been settled. It is probable that Landreth will drill a third well to offset some of the American Marschobe acreage in the Landreth-Humble Scharbauer block. Drilling of these wells will be followed since geologists have kept a eye on the area.

Nothing but more depth has turned up in the John L. Moore No. 1 unit test in Glasscock county. It is now past 6939 feet in black shale.

WASHINGTON AND TEMPERANCE —J. F. J.

In spite of the hatchet story, we as a nation do not doubt the integrity of Washington. With all his dignity and fearlessness he was never in any sense a poseur. The following quotation, the conclusion of a long letter of his overage, written during one of his long absences, speaks for itself:

"I shall not conclude this letter without exhorting you to refrain from a state of usefulness into contempt and at length suffers, if not perishes, in penury and want.

"Don't let this be your case! ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. Darrow Extension Service Editor

County agent terracing in Texas on 12,769 farms amounted to 484,295 acres in the 193 counties reporting at the end of 1934, according to figures compiled by M. R. Bentley, Extension Agricultural engineer.

An additional 61,287 acres in 62 counties were terraced by 4-H club boys as part of their year's club work.

Texas farms terraced in 1934 by everyone reached the impressive figure of 18,399 including 774,315 acres in 196 counties.

Of this acreage 158,000 acres were terraced by the use of county tractor and road grader machinery, which indicates increasing use of this tax payer's investment.

Plans for terracing in 1935 are so wide spread that it almost seems as if general recognition of the necessity for this work had been at least achieved. People are terracing for soil conservation; for water conservation; and for flood control. They are terracing crop and pasture lands. Gardens, orchards, and even yards are being terraced to preserve the fertility of the soil, save the moisture, and prevent gully washing.

SAFEGUARD HIS FOOD THE YEAR 'ROUND with ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION

BABY'S food needs the protection of Electric Refrigeration in winter as well as in summer, for Nature is a poor substitute for an electric refrigerator in this part of Texas. Milk, the main item on Baby's menu, spoils quickly unless refrigeration is used, and one warm day or keeping food in a warm kitchen without refrigeration may cause trouble and illness. Electric refrigeration costs less in winter than in summer, for during cool nights the refrigerator has less work to do, and is always protecting food with a 50-degree temperature or less on those days when the temperature in the kitchen or on the porch climbs above this safety mark. Be safe and let your electric refrigerator give you year-round food protection.
