Hereford Promotion Projects Are Planned

Sales Event To Lead Off New Program

Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, working through committees, this past week launched two projects, one a publicity-for-Hereford promotion and the other the first of a series of sales promotion events.

"Business is good, and we want to keep it that way," Cleo Corliss, chairman of the retail and service business committee, told a gathering of 50 merchants Friday morning, adding: "We need to promote an almost continuous series of programs in order to keep pace with the times."

As the first in this series of sales promotions, Hereford stores will have a special Leap Year Day next Saturday — February 28. This was decided on at the Friday morning meeting as the kick-off in the series of special events planned for the spring and next summer.

For the occasion, the merchants will specialize in 29-cent items, and most stores in Hereford will join in to make the day one of the biggest single event projects ever launched here.

Many of the stores also are offering unique prizes and special inducements. One appliance dealer told the group he plans to offer "free" marriage licenses on that day.

Another committee which met this past week, the Community News and Publicity committee, is considering four projects to "tell the public about Hereford and Deaf Smith county."

That committee is headed by Roy Faulbon, and other members are Bill Penn, Maurice Means and Frank Ford Jr.

The committee is considering putting billboard-type signs on highways at the county line welcoming people to Deaf Smith county. Briefly the billboards will welcome travelers. First of these signs, under the committee's plan, will be located on east U.S. Highway 60, but similar signs eventually will be located at all highway entrances into the county. The committee also is considering a sign similar to the highway historical markers, to be located at the airport, giving air travelers a thumbnail sketch of this county. Faulbon said the sign will have "10 or 12 lines of basic information."

Still another project which the news and publicity committee is considering, will be offering small plastic bags to travelers which will be filled

Jack Renfro

Jack Renfro Dies In Sleep

William Bryon (Jack) Renfro, nationally-known rancher and vegetable producer, died Thursday night while on a fishing vacation in Aransas Pass. Funeral services were held Saturday at 3 p.m. in the First Methodist Church, with the Rev. Herschel Thurston officiating.

Graveside rites will be at 2:30 this afternoon in Frederick, Okla., under the direction of Gilliland Funeral Home.

Mr. Renfro was born on his parents' farm near Frederick Jan. 16, 1909. He was graduated from Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, in 1931, with a degree in marketing research. He and Dorothy Lee Arnold were married May 20, 1932, in Leonard.

After teaching in Elmer, Okla., Mr. Renfro served on the Oklahoma State Marketing Commission from 1935-1942. He was chairman of the agricultural committee of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1942. From 1943-1945 he was chief of the Fruit and Vegetable Branch of USDA as regional director of War Foods Administration for seven states.

Mr. Renfro became involved in the potato business in the 1930's. After he and Mrs. Renfro moved to Hereford in 1946, he acquired about 6000 acres of land for potatoes in Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico. His interest included production, marketing, and research.

With extensive ranching interests, Mr. Renfro won many honors in cattle shows. His ranch holdings included the Cimarron Trust Estate near Boise City, Okla., the 120,000-acre TO Ranch, near Raton, N.

CAA Here May Acquire T-34 For Local Use

The possibility of acquiring a T-34 airplane for the Hereford Composite Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol will be discussed at a special meeting to be held this Sunday afternoon.

An announcement received by the unit from Texas Wing Headquarters indicated that some T-34 aircraft will be made available to Civil Air Patrol by the Department of Defense.

Indications are that the plane will require a major engine overhaul and certain modifications before they can be licensed by the FAA. Cost of the maintenance, estimated to be $3000, must be born by the unit requesting the aircraft and evidence that the funds would be available must be presented to Wing headquarters.

The meeting today, to be held at 335 N. Miles in the office of Dr. Milton Adams at 4 p.m., will be for the purpose of determining first whether the unit desires the aircraft and secondly if the necessary funds could be obtained. Use of the plane, if acquired, would be limited to Civil Air Patrol pilots in the unit. Title to the aircraft remains with Civil Air Patrol Wing headquarters.

Certain limitations apply to the use of any Civil Air Patrol aircraft. They cannot be flown outside of the state except with special prior permission from Wing headquarters.

They cannot be flown for hire nor can they be used to transport passengers.

200 Farmers Learn Of New Grain Sorghum Herbicide

Two-hundred farmers, most of them growers of Deaf Smith county's second crop, grain sorghum, turned out for a meeting at the Bull Barn here Thursday night to hear a discussion of a new grain herbicide. Speaker was Charles Cypert, Plainview herbicide expert.

He told of a new pre-emergence herbicide for grain sorghum grown for feed or seed which will be ready for farm use in this area this season. The new herbicide, propazine, will eliminate cultivation under certain conditions, says A. L. Wiese, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station agronomist.

Until late last year, the herbicide was approved for use only on grain sorghum grown for seed. But the farmers here were told that its use will be most effective "on irrigated fields where weeds have been difficult to control by mechanical means. Propazine is a wetttable powder and must be applied in 25 to 40 gallons of water per acre treated.

The farmers were told that the herbicide requires "considerable agitation to prevent the powder from settling to the bottom of the spray tank. A pump with return capacity of 10 gallons per minute is satisfactory agitation with a four-row rig."

The biggest advantage is said to be that the chemical controls both grasses and broad leaf weeds, it was pointed out. If rainfall occurs before chemical application, weeds may germinate and grow through the Propazine on the soil surface. Another advantage is that if drift occurs during application, it is non-toxic to cotton.

The speaker quoted Wiese as saying, "It is dependable because it still will work well even if rain doesn't follow soon after application."

The only crops which can be grown successfully the year following the herbicide's application are corn and sorghum. However, it was pointed out that because of this long residual period in the soil, its use is not advised on dryland fields in West and Northwest Texas.

The farmers were told that propazine research has been un-

Deaf Smith County Democratic men are to meet at the community center at 7:30 Monday night. Officers for the year will be elected.

Lowered Imports Pleases Ranchers

Area stockmen were pleased to learn this past week that Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has cut imports of beef, veal and mutton to the United States markets.

One prominent cattleman here said the move "will definitely aid the cattle price situation and should be a green boon to all Panhandle cattlemen."

The new limitations on beef will push the incoming supplies down to the 1962-63 average or about 6 percent below the 1963 level.

The stockmen here learned that future expansion of beef imports will be "far below recent levels."

Australia's shipments had increased by 89 percent in 1962, and in 1963 were 17 percent above 1962. Without these agreements, beef and veal imports this year were expected to increase another 8 to 10 percent. Instead they will decline by about 6 percent in 1964 and will increase by less than 4 percent in 1965 and 1966.

Deaf Smith county cattlemen, who have been advocating a reduction in imports, explained that "beef imports cannot be substantially upgraded by a further shift to prime cuts under the agreements."

Other provisions of the new "see" ruling include: At least 180 days notice if either government wants to terminate the agreement; renegotiation of the "rate of increase in shipments in 1966, and assurance of continued efforts by both governments to improve access to world beef markets in the Kennedy Round

Ice is Blamed For Collisions

City Police investigated three accidents this past week, and at least one was blamed on ice on the pavement following Thursday's unexpected snow.

An accident at First and Park Friday at 7:30 resulted in damage to two vehicles, police reported. Martin Gutierrez, driving a '64 Ford pickup, was in collision with a '58 Chevrolet driven by Buck Richard Luckey. Damage to Gutierrez' car was estimated at $50 and damage to the Luckey car at $75. Gutierrez was uninjured.

Candidate Filing Deadline Nears

Politics simmered in Deaf Smith county this week as deadline for filing in city and school board elections neared the deadline. Although a record number of persons paid poll taxes before the Feb. 1 deadline to indicate much interest in the 1964 elections, interest at the moment seemed to be lagging, observers said.

Candidates for school board posts have only until 5 p.m. March 5 in which to file with the school tax collector. Four men are seeking the two posts to be vacated on the board this year, including one incumbent. Two high men will receive board posts.

Labry Ballard and Tom Robinson now hold the two positions; Ballard is seeking re-election, but Robinson had not filed up to Friday afternoon.

Three other candidates are Dr. H. A. Cavness, Denzil Pugh and Raymond White. Deadline is 30 days in advance of the election which has been called for Saturday, April 4.

Deadline for filing for city council positions is 5 p.m. March 6. Places now held by Dale Tinnin and W. J. Howard are to be filled by the voters April 7.

To date, Tinnin has not filed for re-election. Candidates for that position are Mike Justice, Gerald Hale and Lloyd D. Sharp.

W. J. Howard has filed for re-election, and will face two opponents in the April election. They are William R. (Bill) Dickson and Albert Maxwell.

On the county level, 11 Democrats and one Republican are seeking the voters' nod in May 2 primaries. Deadline for filing for county offices was Feb. 3.

Only Republican seeking office is Marvin Diller, who is running for the office of county

Lions' Variety Revue Ticks Capacity Crowd

Hereford Lions club whooped it up Thursday and Friday nights in their fourth annual variety revue which had for its theme, "Everything's Coming up Roses."

There were lots of acts, lots of kidding, and general corn that pleased a capacity crowd Friday night, although Thursday night's quickie snow cut attendance.

Ben Gollehon, band director for Hereford High School, put the show together, and Earnest Langley acted as the joke-telling emcee.

Although the Lions club backed the project, almost everybody in town who had talent got into the acts, and one was presented by a couple of muscle boys from Amarillo who did a tumbling act.

The clown for the show, Ray Moore, billed as "the Local Yodel" wandered in and out of the acts at will, frustrating the 100-man Lions' straight-man chorus no end.

The dance band, Charlie Bell's combo, the high school's stage band and Ray Martin at the organ provided preliminary music

Auto License Sales Lagging

Cold weather, including a surprise snow at mid-week, may have been the reason, but just the same automobile tag sales are lagging, says Nell Miller, county tax assessor-collector.

Deadline is April 1.

Mrs. Miller says only 931 of the 1964 passenger car plates had been sold up to office-closing time Friday afternoon. And truck sales had reached only 396.

This time last year the number was considerably greater, she says.

Mrs. Gregory Recalls Real 'White Winter'

By Larry Fuhrmann

Most folks think this last snow storm was a dilly, which it was, but Mrs. H. N. Gregory of Hereford says that there has been worse. She said that although there was more snow, the situation wasn't as bad since the people back then just stayed home and kept comfortable.

Mrs. Gregory came with her husband, Al Morrison, to the West to homestead in 1912. Her husband's health was bad, and it was thought the climate would do him good. They built their home about eight miles south of Ende, N. M., and lived there until 1915, when they came to Hereford.

She remembers all the men wearing "Winchesters, guns, and holsters, but they didn't use them much."

Times were a little rough in New Mexico at that time. Some of Mrs. Gregory's daughters learned to walk on the dirt floor of their 20x24 house, which had a lean to on the back of the building, making two rooms. "Home" to them was this ship-lap building, which had been papered on the inside with old newspapers (old copies of the Endee Enterprise, to be more specific). Mrs. Gregory said, "But everybody was happy! You just didn't seem to notice the dirt floor and all the inconveniences. There was lots of hard work involved, but we didn't mind a bit."

Mrs. Gregory has five daughters, and she remembers the time she and three of them had to go to Ende for groceries. They rode the faithful burro, and always tried to get back to the house before dark. One time not all went to schedule, and they were coming back as the sky was darkening.

She used a whole box of matches just to snare the coyotes away from the burro and its load. Nevertheless, the coyotes got away with some of her chickens.

Mrs. Gregory and her husband came to Hereford early in 1915. It seemed that New Mexico just wasn't the place to make a living. Mr. Morrison leased some land south of town and then started farming, but later owned the Hereford Wrecking Yard. He was better known as a mechanic anyway, according to Mrs. Gregory.

And then came the winter of 1915 . . . "It was a booger," said Mrs. Gregory. Snow began about Armistice Day and they didn't see the ground until the following March.

The snow didn't all come at once . . . it would just start snowing before the last snow had had a chance to melt off.

That winter was especially bad on the cattle, she remembers. The cattle died by the hundreds . . . especially in the far reaches of the county. She remembers some of the ranchers at that time, like Charley Donald, the McIntoshes, W. H. Fuqua, H. H. Boardman, Billy Hicks . . . and others. No telling how much money each one of those fellas lost that winter. These people would go out and skin their cattle, so that they could collect the $1 per hide.

Life wasn't rosy in town either . . . there was a bad epidemic of influenza that winter. E. B. Black at the funeral home had lots of business. He improvised a sled to take the deceased to the cemetery. This was his "hearse". Mrs. Gregory made it through the with sugar from Holly's new plant due for opening this autumn.

These would be Holly "firsts," the bags containing some of the first Texas-produced sugar to come from the new plant.
The publicity committee also is considering building a library of slides depicting every phase of activity in Deaf Smith county. These slide series would be loaned to outside groups for free showing. Chamber Manager Bill Thompson said the chamber has already received two requests for such a slide series, one from a Mormon missionary stationed in Argentina and another from a California group to show at a surprise party being planned for a Holly family being transferred to Muleshoe.

The slides, if the program is carried out, would be offered in series, such as agriculture, industry and community scenes.
All four of these proposals are being studied by the committee.

The merchant group decided to hold a breakfast meeting from 7 to 8 a.m. at the Jim Hill Hotel, starting next Friday morning when merchants can get together and discuss promotion plans.

The merchants failed to reach an agreement on next winter's Christmas plans, although considerable time was spent in discussing various programs. A sub-committee composed of Monk Johnson, Bob Huddleston and Paul Harvey was named by Corliss to draw up proposals to be heard by the full Chamber board.

Downtown parking is becoming an increasing problem, it was pointed out at the merchants' meeting Friday morning.

winter without even a cold. Of course, the sick had to have help. Mrs. Gregory devoted many hours in helping those who were ill and their families. Even though he was constantly exposed to the disease, she never did take it.

Cars didn't get out on the roads that winter... as a matter of fact, the Morrison's Chevy wasn't even started all winter. The Morrissions lived on Ave. B, where the 100-block is now, and so they were close enough to town to just walk. She remembers that there were very few buildings downtown, and the old wagon yards.

Mrs. Gregory had time that winter to make rugs and quilts, and another thing that took up her time was delivering babies. When she went to San Angelo in 1941, she operated a rest home.

Mr. Morrison died in Deaf Smith County Hospital in 1935. Mrs. Gregory married H. N. Gregory in 1941, and he passed away in 1961.

People just stayed home while it snowed. Everybody had their own gardens, and so of course their pantries were full. Social events were rather uncommon, and one of the few ones was the literary society, which met at Frio about every other week. This was simply an old-fashioned get together.

All in all, Mrs. Gregory says that times really weren't so bad as some people like to make them out to be. She recalls that "everybody was everybody else's friend," and this was enough to see anybody through.

and a sub-committee was appointed to consider this problem. On the committee are James Roberts, Dub Reeves and Robert Miller.

The new agreements apply both to Australia and New Zealand, who are the principal suppliers to the U.S. of beef and veal.

Specifically Australia has agreed to limit its exports (to the U.S.) in 1964 to 242,000 long tons; in 1965 to 251,000 long tons and in 1966 to 260,000 long tons.

New Zealand has agreed to limit its exports in 1964 to 103,000 long tons; in 1965 to 107,000 long tons and in 1966 to 111,000 long tons.

der way since 1958.

Propazine has been more effective than any of the others, Wiese says. Because of favorable results in test plots, Propazine has been applied to field-size plots on two farms each year since 1961.

Average yields of grain were 6,000, 5,850 and 5,625 pounds per acre for areas receiving one, two and three pounds per acre of Propazine. Where cultivation alone was used for weed control, yields averaged 5,710 pounds per acre.

Billy Gunter, area extension agronomist, says suggested rates of application for Propazine on the High Plains are two pounds per acre on silty clay loam soils for control of both grasses and broadleaf weeds.

If careless weeds or pigweeds are the only weeds present, one pound per acre applied broadcast is sufficient for season-long control, he added. Goat heads won't be controlled with one pound per acre.

In fields where the soil type is fine sandy loam or coarser, one pound per acre should be the maximum rate applied, Gunter continued.

"It's not advisable to use Propazine on fields of pure sand because serious injury to the crop may result," he added.

The most profitable use of Propazine on the High Plains, experts agreed, will be for weed control in sorghum planted in narrow-row fashion, a growing practice under irrigation.

Sorghum planted in 10-inch rows is difficult to weed mechanically, they pointed out, but will produce up to 1,000 pounds per acre more grain than sorghum planted in 40-inch rows.

DAWN NEWS

Dawn Music Club Has Dinner Party

by Mrs. Ray Polan

Dawn Music Club had a valentine party Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gentry when the group enjoyed a dinner, bridge and "42."

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Miller Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Pat Miller, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. McCabe, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCabe, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strain, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Tooley, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wimberly, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Caraway, and Mrs. William Wimberly.

Shirley Anderson spent Saturday night and attended church services with Linda Lemons. Linda is practicing with the Hereford Madrigals. The group will go to Amarillo Feb. 29 for district rating.

Linda Lemons and Linda Tooley were in Canyon Saturday morning taking the American College test at West Texas State University.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sowell, Danny and Deanny, left Saturday morning for Coleman to attend the wedding of their niece, Marsha Sowell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. O. Sowell. They also visited Mrs. Sowell's mother, Mrs. Key Williams, at Balinger and a brother, S. B. Williams, returned home with them.

Mrs. Lester English and Mrs. William Wimberly attended the Goodwill Center's committee meeting Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church in Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester English attended a "42" party in the home of the Jimmy Allreds Saturday night.

Paul English celebrated his 11th birthday Monday with a dinner party. Guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Davenport, Keith and Kevin and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lemons and Beverly and Gary. The dinner was held at his parents' home, Mr. and Mrs. Lester English.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lemons attended the Sweetheart and Beau banquet held Saturday night at the Bull barn in Hereford. Mr. and Mrs. Lemons are chapter parents of the Little Sisters' chapter. Approximately 125 attended. Gary Richardson was elected king of the chapter. Others from Dawn attending were Randy Tooley and Earl-dean Jackson.

Mrs. Edgar Lemons helped with her son's valentine school party. Gary is in the 5th grade. Mrs. A. D. Moore from Kress visited her daughter, Mrs. L. W. Tooley and family Sunday.

Mrs. L. W. Tooley attended the sub-district Woman's Society of Christian Service meeting held Tuesday at the Wildorado Methodist Church. A luncheon was served to approximately 65 women.

Bob Strain and Melvin May visited Ernest May at a hospital in Amarillo Tuesday night.

Reese Stewart was dismissed from the Neblett Hospital Saturday. He is recovering nicely.

Mrs. Duane Barrett had a piano recital featuring her students Sunday afternoon in the LIONS' CHORUS — Hereford Lions club presented its fourth annual "Variety Revue" at the high school auditorium Thursday and Friday evenings, and among the events was a 100-man chorus, made up of members of the club. Here is a small part of that chorus. Ben Gollehon was the show's director. (Brand Staff Photo)

First Baptist church, Hereford. Those from Dawn playing were Resemary Stewart, who played "Jesus Lover of My Soul" (Wesley) and "Reverie" (Debussy); Gary Lemons and Beverly Lemons who did a duet, "Chopsticks" (Schaum) and Beverly played a solo, "Whispering Hope" (Hawthorn). Gary Lemons played "Whirley Bird" (Cobb).

Mrs. Charles Davenport, Keith and Kevin, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Caraway and Alaoe Ann, Mrs. Ray Stewart and Linda and Bette, and Mrs. Reese Stewart attended the recital.

E. S. Bellew from Clarendon visited Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Caraway.

The Robert Oglesby family from Stannett visited last weekend with the Stewart family and with the J. B. Caraways.

The Dawn community night will be held Friday, Feb. 29 at 7:30 with the Dawn Home Demonstration club in charge of the program. Refreshments will be served.

Wayne Higgins, Melvin May and Ray Polan attended the advisory board meeting Tuesday of Producers Grain Corp. in Amarillo. They also attended a De-kalb meeting at noon at the Big Apple in Amarillo. They were met there by Robert

DIG THE CRAZY NUT! — Here is one of the spectacular attractions which was on the Lions' club Fourth Annual Variety Review. The idiot who is putting on the act is Ray Moore (this is all in fun). The show included all types of acts, including local yokels such as Ray and also some from Amarillo. Behind emcee Earnest Langley is the 100 man chorus, composed of Lions. In front is the stage band from the high school. The show was held Thursday and Friday nights in the high school auditorium. (Bradly Photo)

Strain, Ted Richardson and Alfred Smith.

Mrs. Melvin May and Mrs. Ray Polan attended the Democratic Women's meeting held Saturday afternoon in Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller attended the funeral in Oslo community of Hansford county last Friday of Mrs. Miller's uncle, Melvin Jensen of Roy, N.M.

Recent visitors in the H. H. Miller home were their daughter, Audni, and her roommate, Kaye Wilke, Alice. Both girls are students of Texas Lutheran College, Seguin.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Miller recently visited his sister, Mrs. Harold Richardson, and her family in San Antonio. Lt. Col. Richardson is assigned to Lackland AirForce base there. Audni Miller and Kaye Wilke accompanied the Pat Millers home.

Mrs. H. H. Miller and Steve Bavousett were among those who attended the board meeting of the Deaf Smith County chapter of the American Red Cross in Hereford last Thursday.

The Dawn boys' 4-H club had as guest speaker Grant Hanna of Hereford. He discussed the meaning of the national flag and gave rules to be observed in displaying the flag in various situations.

Mrs. H. H. Miller spent Tuesday of last week with her sister, Mrs. Billy Hill, in Canyon.

Recent dinner guests in the H. H. Miller home were the Rev. and Mrs. Orris Sougstad, Ruth, David and Timothy Sougstad, Amarillo.

ATTEND WMU CONFERENCE

Those attending the Women's Missionary Union conference in Amarillo Tuesday night were the Rev. and Mrs. B. L. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Barrett and Lisa and Terry. Miss Mamie Silvertooth, Mrs. W. H. Hare, Mrs. A. L. Thompson, Mrs. O.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharp Will Live In Corpus Christi

An archway of candelabra and baskets of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums formed the background for the wedding of Miss Wilma Lou Higgins and Leslie O. Sharp Saturday at 5:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Higgins. A 1962 graduate of Hereford High School, she has been a secretary with Brown, Graham, and Glover, an accounting firm. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd B. Sharp. A 1958 graduate of Hereford High School, he attended Texas Technological College for two years and is now a pilot for Central States Gas Company in Corpus Christi, where the couple will make their home after Feb. 25.

The double ring ceremony was read by Elder W. L. Bolinger of the Primitive Baptist Church. Soloist Pat Smithers, accompanied at the organ by Shirley Alston, cousin of the groom, sang "Because," "Whither Thou Goest," and "Wedding Prayer."

Candles were lighted by Mary Lynn Gibson and Jenny Roberts. Flower girls were Karen and Sharon Sharp, twin nieces of the bridegroom. They wore sleeveless dresses of white brocade fashioned with scooped necklines.

Maid of honor was Miss Elva Leen Martin, and bridesmaids were Miss Janis Ruland, Miss Sandy Campbell, Miss Carolyn Hammett, and sisters of the bride, Miss Loretta Higgins and Miss Wanda Higgins. They wore street-length dresses of yellow brocade. Half overskirts of the brocade were fastened at the front waistline with bows. Side pleats gave a bouffant effect to the overskirts, which were rounded over the front hemline. Miss Martin carried a bouquet of yellow feathered chrysanthemums, and the bridesmaids' bouquets were white feathered chrysanthemums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta. The fitted bodice featured a square neckline and long, fitted sleeves. The tiered overskirt terminated in a chapel train. The fingertip veil of illusion was attached in two tiers to a rhinestone tiara. Frenched white chrysanthemums centered a large white Cattleya orchid in her bouquet, which was in a prayer book style.

Best man was Bill Kester. Groomsmen were C. D. Fitzgerald, Ray Bolinger, brother-in-law of the bride; Phillip Sharp, brother of the groom from El Paso, Randy Dowell, and George Davis. Ringbearers were Greg Sharp, nephew of the groom, and David Dowell was usher.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Higgins chose a black dress with white collar and cuffs, white hat and gloves, and gray accessories. She wore a pale yellow cymbidium orchid. Mrs. Sharp, mother of the groom, wore an off-white dress with bone and toast accessories and a beige cymbidium orchid. Following the ceremony, there was a reception at the church. Guests were registered by Mrs. Jim Millsap and served by Mrs. J. R. Bolinger, sister of the bride, and Miss Judy Rowland. The bride's table was covered with a white taffeta cloth overlaid with white nylon marquette. Appointments were in crystal, and the centerpiece was an arrangement of the bridesmaids' bouquets between two white lovebirds and yellow can.

Mrs. Ken White Is Guest Speaker

"Why I Am a Democrat" was the topic of an address by the state democratic chairwoman of New Mexico, Mrs. Ken White, Clovis, during the Membership Tea of the Democratic Women's Club Feb. 15 at the Community Center.

Mrs. Ray Johnson introduced the speaker. Mrs. White traced the history of the Democratic Party, beginning with the founder, Thomas Jefferson, and listed the accomplishments of each Democratic administration since Jefferson.

"I am glad to be an American first, because it is the greatest country in the world, and a Democrat second, because it is the party of the people," said Mrs. White.

During the business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Louis Woolford, the constitution was read and approved. The next meeting will be March 16, with each regular meeting set on the third Monday night of each month.

Members of the membership committee, Mrs. Bob Lamm, Mrs. Leo Witkowski, and Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr., were hostesses. Those attending were Mrs. M. R. Latham, Mrs. Carroll Higgins, Mrs. Hilton Higgins, Mrs. Guy Waiser, Mrs. B. F. Cain, Mrs. Andrew Kershen, Mrs. Ray Polan, Mrs. Melvin May, Mrs. H. C. Williams, Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr., Mrs. R. A. Daniel Jr., Mrs. Leo Forrest.

Dr. Millar Burrows' book, Dead Sea Scrolls, was reviewed by Mrs. Leroy Aven during the meeting Thursday of Bay View Study Club in the Hospitality Room, First National Bank.

Mrs. Aven explained that the book is based on scrolls found in 1947 in caves near the Dead Sea by a Semite boy who was hunting his goats. The ancient manuscripts were in a jar with treasures of gold and silver.

Other scrolls, continued Mrs. Aven, were found in caves in a radius of fifty miles around Jerusalem, some dating back as far as 175 B.C. to 25 A.D. The scrolls must be unrolled very carefully to keep from breaking the parchment. They are usually cut in strips six inches wide.

Sections of the Jews who had rebelled against their community life told of the basis for their Christianity in some of the scrolls. There were several of these groups, but the largest and most important was the Qumran Community, Mrs. Aven told her audience. Other materials she used were Bible of the World.

Young Farmers and they'll see that the job is done. "We think the Young Farmers should be commended for their efforts on this project. It has not been but a couple of years ago that a young girl was seriously injured when her hair caught in the drive shaft of one of the area irrigation wells. Unshielded drive shafts are extremely dangerous, not only to children who might be in the vicinity of the well, but to adults as well. Loose clothing is a natural hazard around the things, but a shield will virtually eliminate the danger."

It is rather embarrassing when we have to depend on the Chamber of Commerce to get a copy of the Hereford Brand. But that's just what happened last week, when we were desperately looking for file copies of the "Abundant Land" supplement published last summer. We had exhausted our supply of file copies, but Bill Thompson, local C of C manager, came to the rescue. He still had a couple left."

We never fail to chuckle at the current run of teen-age jokes making the rounds, but now we find, that adults are taking up the craze.

Anna Jo Wilson was telling us one the other day about the man who ate yeast and drank shoe polish. He'd "rise and shine" each day.

But the one that really threw us was one that Bill Thompson dropped while we were having coffee recently.

"Do you know where to find a purple Beetle? In Grape Britain, of course." And then there's the one about the monkey in a Volkswagen who ran into the last of a parade of 25 elephants, killing the poor beast. "That will cost you $75,000, said the owner."

"But I only killed one elephant!" protested the poor Monk. "Yes", said the keeper "but you pulled the tails from the other 24."

The Hereford Optimist Club will hold a "Turkey Shoot" this Sunday at 2 p.m., according to Roy Boyer, chairman of the project.

The contest will be held 2 miles west of Hereford at the old caliche pit. Proceeds from the event will be used for community work.

And the Amarillo Symphony Guild will present Fred Waring's "Magic of Music" show Wednesday, February 26 at 8:15 p.m. in the Amarillo City Auditorium. Tickets for the show may be obtained at Cooper & Melin, 614 Polk St., or Phone DR 6-5782 for reservations.

The Panhandle Plains Auto Club is having a "Travel Party" in the High School Auditorium in Hereford at 8:00 p.m. Monday night.

This party has been named "Hereford Day with AAA", according to Mrs. Ruth McNeil, World-Wide Travel Department.

Postmaster Nolan Grady dropped by the office this week for a short visit, and while here began talking about some of the problems now faced by city carriers.

ent problem now facing carriers, plus the tremendous growth, plus the constant shifting of older residents on top of the lack of house numbers adds up to one big headache, it seems.

"We figured," said Grady, "that the rest of the folks would be pretty cooperative if we could just get The Brand to put up their number on the front of the office."

Sure enough, we did not have a number on the front of the building. And that, in this day of code numbers, is the unforgivable sin.

To top it off, we couldn't remember what the address should be. All we could come up with was our Zip Code number, our mother-in-law's direct dial telephone number, and even our old Marine Corps serial number . . . but the address of the Hereford Brand had faded away.

However, after hurried consultation (with the phone directory) we assured the good Postmaster that we would "get that dog-gone number up today."

And before we forged it again, we had best write it down. Let's see now, was it 130 West 4th or 136 West 4th?

And speaking of house numbers, have you ever driven up Avenue K and checked the numbers on each side of the street? Rather confusing to say the least. Numbers on one side of the street do not coincide with those on the other due to the fact that more streets join K on the East side than on the West.

Apparently this is getting to be a problem in other sections of the city also, notable in and around the West Haven addition.

Cannon fire boomed in Austin, bells and blacksmiths' anvils pealed forth throughout the countryside, and jubilant citizens roared their approval in town streets. It was early March, 1861, and the Texas Secession Convention had just declared that Texas was no longer in the Union! Amidst these exuberant cries, the convention rushed instructions for its delegation in Montgomery, Alabama, to secure admission of Texas to the Confederate States of America. When Governor Sam Houston bitterly protested that this action represented a gross usurpation of authority, the secession group removed the old man from office because he would not take the mandatory oath of allegiance to the Confederacy. With Governor Edward Clark in the gubernatorial position, the convention met no further opposition as it set about bolstering state defenses. Prior to its March 25 final adjournment, the Austin group increased the size of Texas military forces, took steps to acquire additional weapons and ordered the occupation of some twenty posts that had been evacuated by United States soldiers.

Several weeks later, in mid-April, Texas was shocked by a second wave of electrifying news — Fort Sumter had been fired upon and war now existed between the North and the South! For months to follow, state leaders were preoccupied with the many problems involved in raising troop units and in gearing a state for war. Imperative troop levies from the Confederate government had to be met with utmost haste. Cavalry-minded Texans had to be lured into joining critically needed infantry regiments. Young men willing to serve for twelve months had to be sold on the idea of volunteering for the duration. Competitive recruiting agents had to be coordinated. Delays in mustering units into Southern service had to be eliminated. In these and dozens of similar instances, the leadership and the patience of the state government faced the acid test.

A typical example of the mechanics involved in forming a unit took place at Marshall in late April, when enthusiastic young men hurried forward to enlist in the mounted W. P. Lane Ranger Company. The volunteers supplied their own mounts and the state agreed to

PLANNING AHEAD — Retail committee of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce met Friday to make plans for future promotions. furnish the necessary arms. On the announced day, the men assembled in the center of the town, had their horses superficially checked for serviceability, elected their company officers and were administered an oath of allegiance to Texas by a local judge. The rest of the day was spent in completing the company's roll of members and in attending a special church service. The next morning saw the company form in the town square and await the presentation of a unit flag that had been made by the young ladies of Marshall. A specially celebrated local beauty delivered an ultra-romantic presentation speech and handed over the banner (a gigantic affair that was said to measure six by fifteen feet). A young officer then uttered a few words of appreciation and accepted the flag in behalf of the company. By noon, amidst tears and good-bys, the unit took up its march to its destiny. A few miles down the road, however, destiny was temporarily delayed while the men were feasted at a local college. By dusk, the badly scattered organization straggled to a camping site and dined on delicacies brought from home. After being feted, lauded and blessed in almost every town through which they passed, the Rangers finally arrived at San Antonio where they were mustered into Confederate service and were assigned to frontier defense in Texas.

As more regiments were formed, an increasing scarcity of state owned firearms caused serious concern. In many instances this problem was abruptly solved by threatening that the unit involved would see no action until the soldiers had armed themselves on their own initiative. Usually within a few hours the company would reform itself bristling with an array of all sorts of weapons — rifles, muskets, flintlocks, shot-guns, pistols and knives. In some areas, the local citizenry would help in arming the men; in fact, it soon became the unofficial duty of patriotic blacksmiths to grind fierce-looking knives out of used saw blades for members of locally raised companies.

To meet anticipated armament needs of the future, Governor Clark sent agents to purchase guns and ammunition in Mexico, Cuba and Europe. Also, the state government encouraged the establishment of arms factories and powder plants. As for other military equipment, such items as clothing, blankets and messing equipment would have to come from the penitentiary cloth mill at Huntsville, from private donations, through trade with Mexico or from Confederate supply dumps.

Uncle Sam One Employer Who Can Violate Rules

There is a major employer who works his employes at overtime rates rather than adding new employes — and in many cases their overtime adds 25 per cent to their income.

He stands accused of discriminating against hiring and promoting older workers. Instead of hiring the best qualified applicants for jobs, in one major department he allows supervisors to hire friends.

He has poor grievance procedures. He's laggard in retraining employees who are displaced by automation.

Who is the culprit? According to the House Civil Service Manpower subcommittee, it is the United States Government. In every case cited here, the Government has not been behaving as it wants private employers to behave.

The House Committee, headed by Rep. David N. Henderson, North Carolina Democrat, hopes that such situations, and some others they mention, will be corrected over a period of time. And it hopes that President Johnson's program for getting more work from fewer employes will pan out.

Yet, it calls attention to the fact that there are understuffed departments in the

Sugar Beets To Expand Profits

Without undue flurry or excitement, farmers this week started signing up on beet acreage for 1964. Equally encouraging is the fact that the new refinery is scheduled to go into operation here next fall.

While the refinery will provide some employment and industrial expansion, it has always seemed to us that the greatest benefit to the area from this particular venture will be the expansion of farming interests into a substantial money crop. The starting figure of 26,500 acres definitely bears out this thinking.

Much of this acreage will no doubt replace other crops, including grain sorghums which are currently classed as a secondary crop along with small grains, such as oats and barley. Deaf Smith county boasts under 15,000 acres of cotton — and has dropped sharply in wheat allotment acres during the past 10 years. Consequently, sugar beets could most easily provide a substantial source of farm income in 1964, which will likely expand further as the years pass.

While all who plant beets may not set records the first year, we do have the most experienced and largest assembly of growers in Texas at the present time, and past production records indicate that sugar beets will hold an important place in area economy in the future. In addition, our already diversified territory will become even more diversified — and less dependent upon any specific crop.

Diversification, after all, is the secret to Deaf Smith county's formula for success. Cattle, wheat, vegetables, alfalfa, sugar beets and grain sorghum are each important and profitable but, in the overall picture, none of them can individually account for all of our growth and prosperity. Continued diversification is always, welcome.

Government as well as overstuffed ones. This it attributes to poor personnel management practices.

Of importance to taxpayers is the comment of the Committee that the Federal offices are rapidly promoting their workers to the higher pay grades. In 1955, only 4.2 per cent of Federal workers were in the upper pay grades. Now almost 10 per cent of them draw executive-level pay. The Indians have proliferated fast enough, Heaven knows, but it seems the Chiefs are multiplying even faster.

From other quarters, word comes that Congress will have to appropriate more billions for the Federal pension plan. Employees have been contributing 6 1/2 per cent of their pay, but the Government has been deferring its own share. The arrears will exceed $35 billion by July 1, and sooner or later we taxpayers will have to work it over.

So much for Uncle Sam, ideal employer. —Amarillo Daily News

Building Codes Merit Thought

Hereford's new-fangled Operation PEP, scheduled through the Chamber of Commerce to study housing conditions, this week did some research on building codes. And while they made no specific recommendations, the topic appears timely and practical for the community.

Building codes, generally enforced through cities, are primarily established for the protection of the public as well as the specific buyer or builder, and although they occasionally draw criticism through red tape and inspections, they are considered a "Must" in all larger cities and are being adopted extensively by smaller cities.

In general, building codes conform fairly close to FHA and other minimum practices and standards. Inspections do assure that these basic standards are met in construction, providing a safety catch to the average buyer, along with protection to firemen and other public employees who may be exposed within the structure in the performance of their duties; they furthermore contribute to advantageous fire insurance rates.

With houses sprouting all over town in mushroom fashion, it seems to us that adoption of standard codes might be well in order, and most certainly worthy of careful consideration at this particular time when many new contractors and builders are coming into the territory.

The building code is not and never will be a "cure all" for our entire troubles but, at the same time, it could be a step in the right direction, when coupled with zoning ordinances, building permit requirements and other steps previously taken along this line by the city commission.

Can't Lose On Food Storage

Many people are interested in the "food for preparedness" program currently underway in the community, and reports indicate that scores are taking advantage of the idea.

This is the same program the government unsuccessfully tried to sell in connection with preparedness against atomic attack. The big difference is that it makes more sense to the average housewife when attached to probable isolation due to weather and snow.

And when you put the two together, it makes more sense than ever. Suggested stockpile lists appear to be well planned and adapted to most size families, including non-perishable items most likely to tide folks through any type of disaster — including an unexpected visit by Aunt Mary.

The primary consideration is a few dollars invested in a simple insurance policy against hardship — and if it isn't needed for this purpose, the food can still be worked back into the weekly grocery budget without any loss at all.

TEXAN IN WASHINGTON

Castro's Civil Rights Stand Aided His Cause, Texan Says

by Tex Easley
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Henry Gonzalez, D, San Antonio, is writing a report on his most recent trip to the U.S. Naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba.

The report, which Gonzalez says he will submit to the House and the state and defense departments, is expected to have significance because of his interest in U.S. — Latin American relations.

On his most recent visit to the base, Gonzalez interviewed many of the Cuban civilians employed at Guantanamo. Gonzalez, who speaks Spanish, and is the first Texan of Mexican descent to be elected to Congress, sought to learn what they think of Fidel Castro.

"One fellow I talked with shed light on the subject," Gonzalez said. "He was a Negro, and after reluctance to talk at first, told me that before Castro Negroes were not allowed to enter some places. Now they can."

This particular worker, Gonzalez said, seemed to feel that in the long run Castro was a false leader for civil rights, but many other Cubans are still loyal to him because of the racial question. Approximately 35 to 40 per cent of the Cuban population is Negro, Gonzalez said.

The House took up the Civil Rights bill shortly after Gonzalez returned, and he was among the four Texans who voted for the bill when it passed, 290-130.

The others were Reps. Albert Thomas, Houston; Jack Brooks, Beaumont, and J. J. Pickle, Austin. The others of the 23 Texas House members voted against the measure, except Rep. Clark Thompson, Galveston, who was out of the city.

During debate on the bill, Gonzalez attended a meeting here of the Interamerican Parliamentary Conference and addressed the group in Spanish, discussing the U.S. role in the Alliance for Progress. Answering a question about his bilingualism, Gonzalez told a friend that in such situations he thinks in Spanish rather than English. "It's just like flipping over a switch," he said.

H.L. Hunt, the multi-millionaire Dallas oil man, recently visited Rep. Carl Albert, D-Oklahoma, the House majority whip. Hunt, who has a nephew who lives in Albert's district, had come here to attend the funeral of a relative in Baltimore.

Celia Hare Martin, former Rio Grande Valley newspaper reporter and now secretary to Rep. Joe Kilgore, D-Texas, was urged by many in that part of Texas to run for the House.

The urgings came after Kilgore announced that he would not seek re-election.

Mrs. Martin, who first came to Washington as secretary to former Rep. Lloyd Bentsen, Kilgore's predecessor, rejected the suggestion. Texas has never had a woman member of Congress.

The Highway 70 widening project finally is off the ground. Olton will seek a firm commitment from the State Highway Department for the widening of Highway 70 and, once it is received, proceed with detailed engineering and acquisition of right-of-way for the project. Those are the first steps in the long-sought improvement plans, as outlined Tuesday night at a regular city council meeting. A Littlefield engineer, Ralph Douglas, told the council he believes the state will reply speedily to Olton's request for a commitment.

Lamb county farmers have signed letter-of-intent to grow 4525 acres of sugar beets, it was received this week in Olton where the majority of growers signed up. A total of 71 farmers inked the letters-of-intent at Olton, Sudan, Amherst and Littlefield. These farmers have a total of 37,560 acres. The commitments were to be presented before the sugar division of the department of agriculture in Washington. The action is part of an area project to locate a $20 million sugar beet refinery in the Plainview area.

Residents of north Wheeler county braved snow and slushy streets to vote approval for a $250,000 bond issue directed at construction of a new hospital here. Final tally on the ballots was 616 for and 134 against. Mayor Thomas Daughtry said it was an exceptionally large turnout, and that the number of voters was better than had been expected. Construction is anticipated to begin within the next two or three months.

The government has just released, in the first report of the kind it has ever issued, data on the amount of money being spent in Ochiltree county for public aid. There are 60 people in the county who get an old-age pension check. This is at the rate of 125 per 1000 men and women in the age group of 65 or over. This compared with the U. S. rate of 148 per 1000. The average amount the Ochiltree county pensioners get is $49 per month, certainly not enough to allow for lavish living.

The drive to secure $100,000 to provide land for a site for the state school for mentally retarded is only $20,000 shy of the goal. Chamber of Commerce Manager Gene Yeager, coordinator of the fund drive, said late contributions have pushed the total to the $80,000 mark. Drive officials are hopeful the final amount can be pledged this week. The money is to be used to purchase an 85-acre tract of land adjoining Levelland airport if the site is approved. Site selection is due June 1.

THE BOOTLEG

—Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Bindweed farm must have more leisure than he realizes, to be worrying about what he is this week.

Dear Editor:

One thing about an expert is that he can worry a problem from more angles than anybody else. A first rate expert can worry about a problem before it gets here, while it's here, and long after it's gone.

I got to thinking about this after I read a magazine article last night about some college professors who foresee a grave threat to mankind in the amount of leisure he may gain.

"The problem of too much leisure is closer and more threatening than you realize," they said.

They pointed out the 36-hour work week, a 13-week vacation and other situations now developing in many industries, and estimated that in 20 more years 98 percent of the world's productive work will be done by two percent of the population.

Now the problem these experts are worrying about is — can the people stand that much leisure? What will they do with themselves? Who'll clean all those fish they catch? How long can a tourist kid himself that he's having fun touring?

Like the question. Can man survive in space, this is a serious matter and deserves careful thought and preparation.

Just as we wouldn't think of shooting a man into space without first testing, neither should we allow man to risk rushing headlong into leisure without seeing if his constitution and nervous system will stand it.

Now I have had a certain amount of advance training in subjecting the human body to the strains of leisure. I will volunteer to go the whole way if the government is willing.

It won't be necessary to go to any elaborate preparation. I won't need a count-down or detailed weather report. Not even a television camera. Just have Washington mail me a check every month and I will plunge headlong into 100 percent leisure, keeping full notes on how the human body reacts to this new adventure of the 20th century.

Your faithfully,
J.A.

NOTICE OF ANNEXATION ORDINANCE

Notice is hereby given that the following ordinance of the City of Hereford, Texas, was duly introduced and passed on first reading at the regular meeting of the City Commission of the City of Hereford on February 17, 1964.

In accordance with the Charter of the City of Hereford, this ordinance will be finally acted upon by the City Commission on April 6, 1964, at 7:30 o'clock p.m.

Any citizens of Hereford, or of the territory to be annexed, desiring to contest said annexation, may file a written petition setting out their reasons for said contest with the City Commission, and such person may be heard in support of his contest at the City Commission meeting on April 6, 1964.

Said ordinance reads as follows:

ORDINANCE NO. 680
AN ORDINANCE ANNEXING THE HEREAFTER DESCRIBED TERRITORY TO THE CITY OF HEREFORD, DEAF SMITH COUNTY, TEXAS, AND EXTENDING THE BOUNDARY LIMITS OF SAID CITY SO AS TO INCLUDE WITHIN SAID CITY LIMITS SAID HEREAFTER DESCRIBED PROPERTY AND GRANTING TO ALL OF THE INHABITANTS OF SAID TERRITORY ALL OF THE RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES OF OTHER CITIZENS, AND BINDING SAID INHABITANTS BY ALL OF THE ACTS, ORDINANCES, RESOLUTIONS AND REGULATIONS OF SAID CITY.

WHEREAS, a public hearing before the City Commission of the City of Hereford, Texas, where all interested persons were provided with an opportunity to be heard on the proposed annexation of the hereinafter described territory, was held at 7:30 o'clock P. M. on the 3rd day of February, 1964, which date is not more than 20, nor less than 10 days prior to the institution of annexation proceedings; and

WHEREAS, notice of such public hearing was published in a newspaper having general circulation in the City of Hereford, Texas, and in the above described territory, on the 23rd day of January, 1964, which date is not more than 20 nor less than 10 days prior to the date of such public hearing; and

WHEREAS, the total corporate area of the City of Hereford, Texas, on the 1st day of January, 1964, was 1971.24 acres; and

WHEREAS, the population of the City of Hereford, Texas, is

9,800 inhabitants; and
WHEREAS, the hereinafter described territory lies within the extra territorial jurisdiction of the City of Hereford, Texas; and

WHEREAS, the hereinafter described territory lies adjacent to and adjoins the City of Hereford, Texas; and

WHEREAS, the hereinafter described property contains 121.08 acres:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF HEREFORD, TEXAS:

The following described land and territory lying adjacent to and adjoining the City of Hereford, Texas, is hereby added and annexed to the City of Hereford, Texas, and said territory hereinafter described shall hereafter be included within the boundary limits of such City, and the present boundary limits of such City, at the various points contiguous to the area hereinafter described are altered and amended so as to include said area within the corporate area of the City of Hereford, Texas, and the property so added hereby shall bear its pro rata part of the taxes levied by said City, and the inhabitants thereof shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of all the citizens and shall be bound by the acts, ordinances, resolutions and regulations of the City of Hereford, Texas, and said territory so annexed is described as follows, to wit:

BEGINNING at a point in the existing City Limits line, along the South line of Section 80, Block K-3, at the Southwest corner of Block 3 of the John W. DeAtley Addition to the City of Hereford;

Phosphorus Need Is Increasing

One of the significant changes in fertilizer use in the Northern High Plains of Texas is the increased need and use of phosphorus fertilizers this past year. This trend in fertilizer use will continue to increase at an accelerated pace.

This increased use of phosphorus has resulted from the depletion of our native soil phosphorus. Our rates of nitrogen over the past four to six years has resulted in high yields of milo, wheat and cotton with a resulting depletion of phosphorus levels in the soil.

A common comment by farmers is that "my nitrogen fertilizer is not doing the job that it used to do." In many cases, this has been due simply to the depletion of soil phosphorus to a critical level. The addition of a phosphorus fertilizer will usually result in better use of the nitrogen which is applied. Proper nutrient balance continues to be one of the most important aspects of fertilizer use.

Many sources of phosphorus are available and several different methods of application are currently being used. Ammonium phosphates, either liquid or dry, such as 7-21-0 or 11-48-0, are excellent sources of phosphorus. Their main advantages are the high degree of water solubility and the fact that they contain a small amount of nitrogen to go with the phosphorus which is supplied. The super-phosphates, 0-20-0 and 0-46-0, are adapted to broadcast applications of phosphorus. Various other mixed fertilizers containing phosphorus are available.

Method of application can often be important in phosphorus utilization by plants. A banded application placed approximately four to six inches below the ular meeting of the City Commission of the City of Hereford, by Commissioner Brown, seconded by Commissioner Davis, and by unanimous vote was duly passed on first reading and ordered published in the HEREFORD BRAND, the official newspaper of the City of Hereford, one time, on this the 17th day of February, 1964.

seed and one to four inches to the side would be considered an ideal method of phosphorus fertilizer placement for most efficient use. A common method of application in this area would be the dual application of liquid 7-21-0 plus anhydrous ammonia on 20 inch centers. Dual application of dry 11-48-0 plus anhydrous ammonia is also a good method of fertilizer application.

WHERE'S ALL THIS EQUIPMENT GOING, CAPTAIN GANDOR?

SOMEPLACE DOWNSTREAM, THEY SAID THEY'D FLAG US.

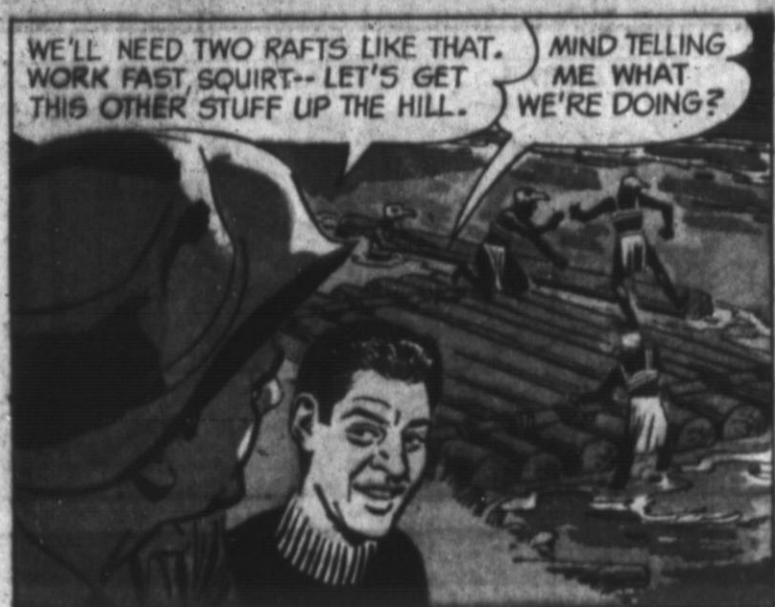

HERE COMES OUR STUFF!

SY BARRY 2/23

BUNCH OF PAGAN SAVAGES. NOW WHAT ARE THEY GOING TO DO WITH ALL THAT HEAVY MACHINERY-- DUMPED IN THE MIDDLE OF THE JUNGLE?

WE'LL NEED TWO RAFTS LIKE THAT. WORK FAST, SQUIRT-- LET'S GET THIS OTHER STUFF UP THE HILL.

MIND TELLING ME WHAT WE'RE DOING?

WHAT ARE WE GOING TO DO WITH THIS ALUMINUM BIRD, SMILEY?

WHAT DO ALL BIRDS DO, SQUIRT? THEY FLY. WORK AND DON'T TALK SO MUCH.

ALL THIS EXPENSE. I HOPE IT WORKS-- IF NOT, WE'LL BE FOOLS--

DON'T WORRY. GET YOUR PRIESTS TO WORK NOW.

THE HOUR IS AT HAND! REPENT-- OR THE GOD OF GANDOR WILL STRIKE!

LISTEN TO THE OLD FOOL--

CONT'D

BRINGING UP FATHER

by BILL KAVANAGH & FRANK FLETCHER

DIMPLES, HAVE YOU FINISHED YOUR HOMEWORK?

YES, AUNTIE

WELL, PUT YOUR BOOKS AWAY, DEAR! YOU MUST LEARN TO DEVELOP NEAT HABITS--

JIGGS, HAVE YOU FINISHED WITH THESE MAGAZINES?

YEAH

WELL, PUT THEM BACK IN THE MAGAZINE RACK! DON'T LEAVE EVERYTHING FOR ME TO PUT AWAY

MAGGIE IS ALWAYS COMPLAINING ABOUT OTHER PEOPLE-- BUT SHE DIDN'T PUT THE HAMMER AWAY WHEN SHE FINISHED WITH IT--

YOU DIDN'T PUT THE HAMMER BACK IN THE TOOLBOX

I WASN'T USING IT! BUT WHILE YOU HAVE IT IN YOUR HAND--

DID YOU SEE THE HAMMER, MAGGIE? I WAS ABOUT TO HANG UP A PICTURE

YOU'LL HAVE TO WAIT, DEAR

JIGGS IS GOING TO BE USING IT FOR A FEW HOURS!

DO YOU REALLY THINK WE'LL FIND GOLD?

SURE, WIMPY.. THE DESERT IS FULL OF IT!

HM? I BET THAT LITTLE INDIAN KNOWS WHERE THERE IS GOLD!

GREETINGS, RED FRIEND! PALEFACE NEEDS YELLOW ROCK... PAY BIG WAMPUM FOR YELLOW STONE!

UGH! BE RIGHT BACK!

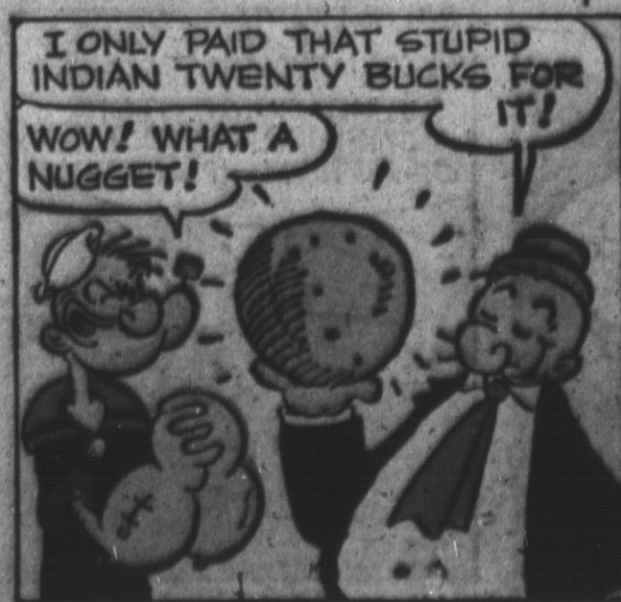

GULP!

YELLOW ROCK!

YOU BUY?

POPEYE! EUREKA!

I ONLY PAID THAT STUPID INDIAN TWENTY BUCKS FOR IT! WOW! WHAT A NUGGET!

IF CRAZY PALEFACE LIKE YELLOW ROCKS ME PAINT PLENTY MORE!

TIM TYLER'S LUCK

by Lyman Young and Tom Massey

I HEARD THE DIPPING OF A PADDLE!

ME, TOO, SPUD! SOUNDS LIKE IT'S DRAWING CLOSER!

IF IT'S NEWT RUDDY WE CAN EXPECT A BARRAGE OF ARROWS... IF HE SPOTS US!

I'LL GENTLY EASE UP TO THAT SOUND... IF THE MOON KEEPS COVERED LONG ENOUGH, WE CAN TAKE THAT BOATMAN BY SURPRISE!

ZING!!!

DOWN, SPUD, DOWN! RUDDY'S SPOTTED US!

HE'S STARTED HIS OUTBOARD, TIM! H-HE'S BEARING DOWN ON US AT FULL SPEED!

CRASH!

TO BE CONTINUED!

HOW'S THAT FOR A WAD, POP? WE'RE IN THE SNOW-SHOVELING BUSINESS! I LINE UP THE JOBS AND SAMPSON DOES THE SHOVELING FOR A 30% CUT, BECAUSE HE'S USING MY SHOVEL!

DON'T YOU THINK THE WHOLE DEAL SMACKS OF SELFISHNESS, MYRTLE? BESIDES--THAT SHOVEL BELONGS TO ME, AND NOT YOU!

NOW, WATCH THIS! FREDDIE WON'T BE CONTENT UNTIL HE HOODWINKS HER INTO GIVING HIM A 50% CUT OF THE SPOILS!

I WAS HER PIGEON LAST WINTER! SHE SWEET-TALKED ME INTO SHOVELING OUT EVERY DRIVEWAY IN THE BLOCK! TWO HOUSES WERE VACANT AND THREE REFUSED TO PAY, BECAUSE THEY HADN'T ORDERED THEIR DRIVE CLEARED!

HEAVENS! SAMPSON'S EXHAUSTED! WE'D BETTER GIVE HIM SOME VITAMIN PILLS--ER--I MEAN VITAMIN PILLS!

REMEMBER HOW I TALKED YOU INTO BURYING MY BONES LAST SUMMER, JUNIOR?

I HAVE A HARD TIME GETTING MY HUSBAND TO WORK AROUND THE HOUSE! HOW DO YOU MANAGE?

YUM, YUM! THAT DEAL SMELLS SO FISHY I CAN TASTE IT!

IT'S EASY! I LET ARNOLD EARN HIS TOBACCO MONEY BY DOING LITTLE ODD JOBS, DON'T I, DEAR?

THAT'S NO EXCUSE FOR SWEARING OFF WORKING THIS WINTER, SLUG!

TRY SOME OF MY HOME-MADE COOKIES, SAMPSON, DEAR!

SAMPSON, DEAR--LET ME FLUFF UP YOUR PILLOW! ARE YOU COMFORTABLE?

FOR PITY TAKE! 30% ISN'T TOO BAD WHEN YOU CONSIDER ALL THE EXTRA BENEFITS!

BUT, MOM! HE'S GOT HIS BIG FEET ON YOUR FAVORITE PILLOW, HE'S SPILLIN' CRUMBS ON THE SOFA, AND YOU ALL ACT LIKE HE'S A HERO OR SOMETHING!

EXTRA BENEFITS!

GRANDMA

by Chas. Kuhn

HI, BOYS!

I'M FINISHIN' UP IN THE KITCHEN. BE WITH YOU IN A MINUTE!

KEVIN, WHERE'S YOUR BROTHER?

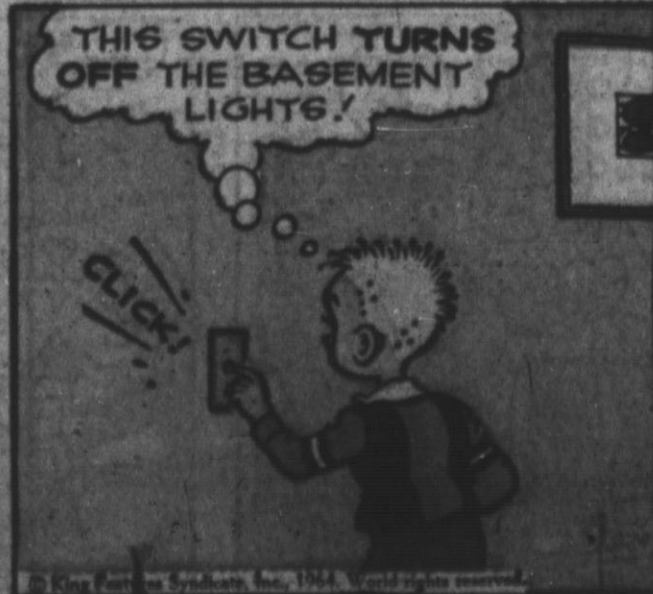

GOSH, I DON'T KNOW!

WE'VE LOOKED UPSTAIRS AND DOWN HERE... AND STILL NO LITTLE WILBUR!

H-M! I'VE GOT AN IDEA!

THIS SWITCH TURNS OFF THE BASEMENT LIGHTS!

HELP!

I'VE FOUND HIM, GRANDMA!

ALL THEY DO IS EAT! I'M SICK AND TIRED OF COOKING FOR YOUR OLD NAVY BUDDIES AND THEIR LAZY WIVES.

THE TROUBLE, BABY SISTER, IS YOU COOK TOO GOOD.

I'VE GOT A BRIGHT IDEA! WHY DON'T YOU GO OFF SOMEWHERE, AND I'LL DO THE COOKING?

I'VE NEVER TASTED SUCH FOOD IN MY LIFE.

LUCILLE'S A JEWEL.

I CAN HARDLY WAIT FROM ONE MEAL TO THE NEXT.

WELL, FOLKS, LUCILLE'S BEEN CALLED TO THE BEDSIDE OF POOR AUNT TRUDY. BUT BE OF GOOD CHEER - NONE OTHER THAN THE WORLD-RENOWNED CHEF, ROSCO SWEENEY, WILL CATER TO YOUR CULINARY TASTES.

WHAT'S BURNING?
I SMELL SMOKE!

DON'T WORRY, FOLKS, IT'S ONLY THE ROAST.

I HOPE YOU DON'T MIND YOUR MEAT A TRIFLE WELL-DONE.

YEAH, WELL-CHARRED!

BURNED TO A CINDER!

TELL ME, HOW DO YOU MAKE YOUR BISCUITS, ROSCO? WITH CEMENT?

EEK! I BROKE A TOOTH!

CHEER UP, FOLKS. WE CAN FILL UP ON PIE!

EEK!

OF ALL THE BLUBBER-HEADS! INSTEAD OF SUGAR YOU USED SALT!

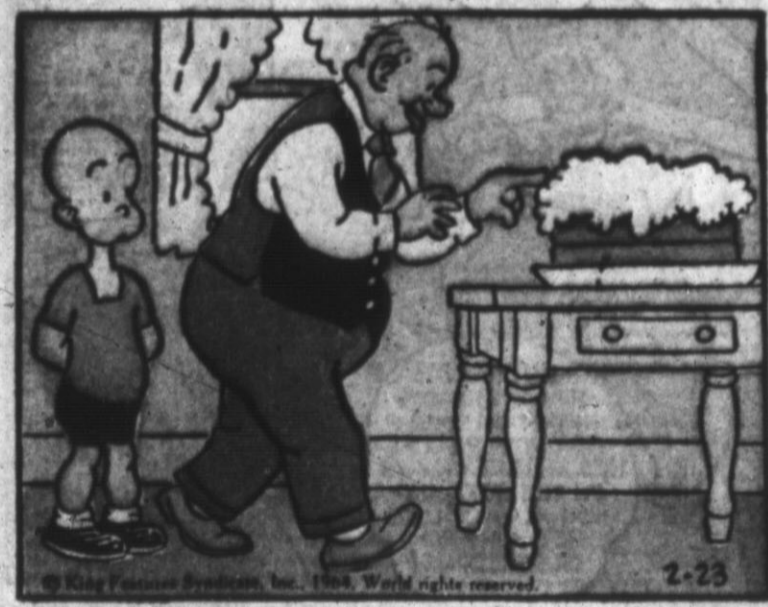

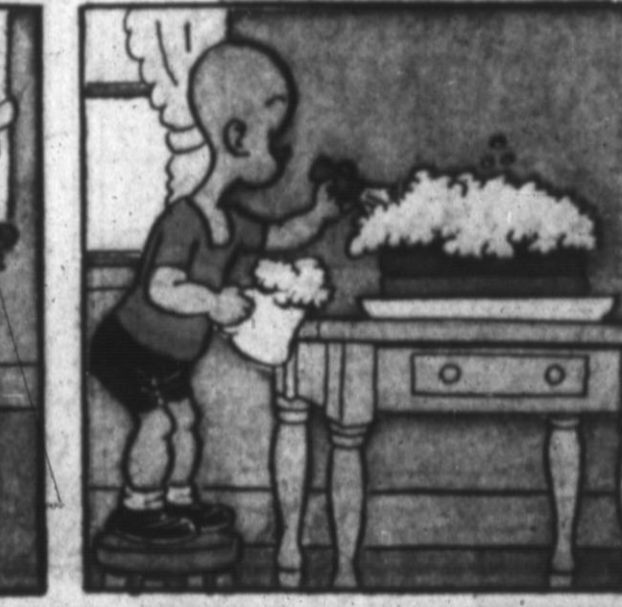

YOU CAN COME HOME NOW, BABY SISTER. THEY'RE GONE!

I'VE MADE THE GREATEST DISCOVERY OF THE AGE: THE QUICKEST WAY TO SPEED THE PARTING GUEST IS TO STARVE HIM!

WHAT'S FOR DINNER TONIGHT?
SOMETHING SPECIAL!! MABEL GAVE ME THE RECIPE FOR HER FAMOUS VIENNESE GOULASH SUPREME!

IT'S THE DISH YOU RAVED ABOUT SO MUCH AT HER HOUSE LAST WEEK!
LET'S SEE NOW - PACKAGE OF FROZEN PEAS...

DEAR ME - I DON'T HAVE ANY -
OH, WELL... HE'LL NEVER KNOW THE DIFFERENCE.

NO NOODLES EITHER!
I'LL HAVE TO DREAM UP A SUBSTITUTE FOR THE TOMATO PASTE TOO.

ONIONS - MUSHROOMS - SLICED ALMONDS - PARSLEY FLAKES...
OH, WELL - I'M SURE IT WILL TASTE FINE WITHOUT THEM -

BUT WHAT WILL I USE IN PLACE OF THE GROUND BEEF?

AREN'T YOU READY YET?
COME AND GET IT!

THAT'S HER FAMOUS VIENNESE GOULASH SUPREME?!!
WELL - I HAD TO MAKE A FEW CHANGES... I DIDN'T HAVE ALL THE INGREDIENTS!

OH - A KINDA GROWN-UP FAIRY TALE

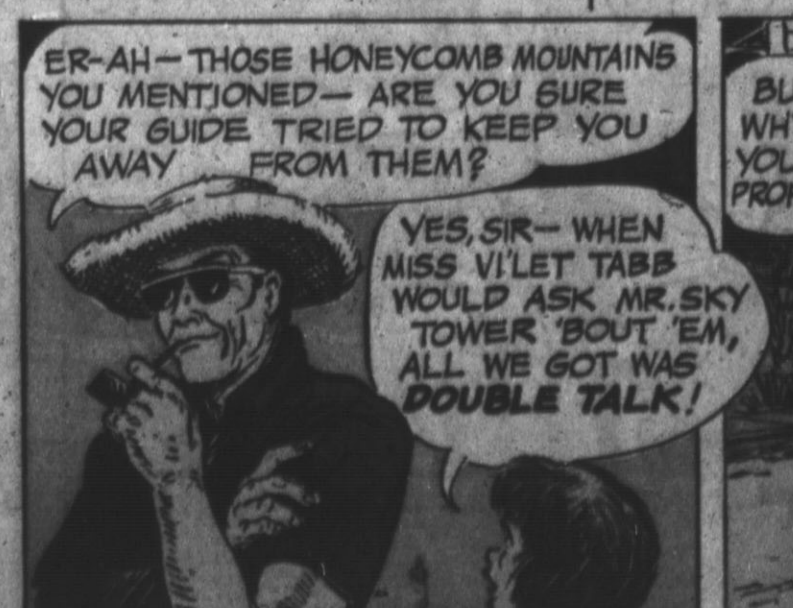

MRS. JONES - WHILE YOU GOT THE SCISSORS OUT I WONDER IF YOU'D CUT MY HAIR - IT'S--
NO! LITTLE GIRL SPOSED TO LOOK LIKE LITTLE GIRL - NOT LITTLE BOY -

THAT WHY I MAKE 'EM YOU SQUAW DRESS - LITTLE GIRL WEARING MAN PANTS NOT RIGHT - YOU STAY LITTLE GIRL!

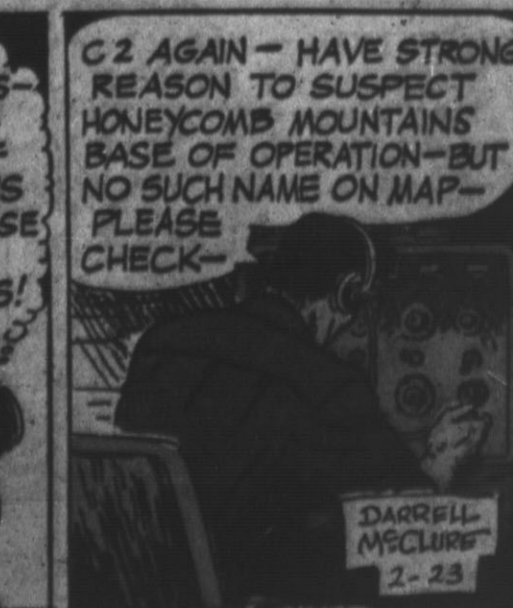

SO - AM I CORRECT IN ASSUMING YOU HAVE LOST ANOTHER ROUND WITH THE REDOUBTABLE MRS. JONES?
IF YOU MEAN DOES MY HAIR STAY UN CUT - YES, SIR!

ER-AH - THOSE HONEYCOMB MOUNTAINS YOU MENTIONED - ARE YOU SURE YOUR GUIDE TRIED TO KEEP YOU AWAY FROM THEM?
YES, SIR - WHEN MISS V'LET TABB WOULD ASK MR. SKY TOWER 'BOUT 'EM, ALL WE GOT WAS DOUBLE TALK!

BUT WHY DO YOU CARE, PROFESSOR?
OH - THEY SOUND LIKE AN INTERESTING GEOLOGICAL FORMATION - THAT'S ALL MY GOODNESS - HE ASKS A LOT OF QUESTIONS 'BOUT THOSE CRAZY MOUNTAINS!
