Around Town

Christmas parties are the big thing Around Town these days. Folks are finding it hard to attend all the parties they are supposed to because of the limited number of days in a week.

The Rotary Club's annual Ladies Night Christmas party comes up Monday night. The event will be held in the ballroom of the Jim Hill Hotel.

And Thursday night the Lions Club will hold their Ladies Night Christmas party. It, too, will be held at the Jim Hill ballroom.

Jim Kirby, chairman of the Parent-Teachers Association membership committee, has urged all parents to join the organization during December. They can do so by getting in touch with him or Mrs. Charles Seed, or by sending their 75 cents to the school with their children.

Don T. Martin is now associated with the Lone Star Insurance Agency here. He will specialize in life insurance and loans.

There will be a meeting Monday (Continued on Page 3)

Santa Letters Pour Into Brand

Boys and girls haven't changed much, if the Santa letters pouring into The Brand office are any indication.

For the little boys still rank trains and guns at the top of their want list, and the little girls still want Santa to bring them a new doll for Christmas.

The letters have really stacked up, and are being rushed to the North Pole by special arrangements made by The Brand. All of them will be published in the Christmas edition.

So if you haven't written Santa yet, do it today.

County Posts Reward After Vandals Destroy Property

Unprecedented vandalism to county equipment Saturday morning led county officials to post a $100 reward as they surveyed the damage running from $400 to $500 on three pieces of equipment.

A small tractor, located south of town, possibly resulted in the greatest loss to the county, according to Otto Massey, Commissioner of Finance. All connections and extending parts were beaten off the machine sometime Friday night, leaving it in such condition that officials wondered if having it repaired would be practical.

Glass was also broken from the windows to two county maintainers, both located northwest of Summerfield — and some eight miles distant from the tractor. Estimated cost of replacing the glass ran close to $100 per machine.

Acting through the Sheriff's department, the county Saturday morning posted a reward of $100 for "information leading to the arrest and conviction of person or persons involved in the destruction."

Information leading to the arrest and conviction of person or persons involved in the destruction of county property will be rewarded.

Sullivan Turns In Resignation

Deaf Smith County Rural High School District trustees Friday accepted the resignation of Pat Sullivan, principal of Hereford High School.

The resignation was turned in at a special meeting of the School Board.

Sullivan, who took over his duties as principal at the beginning of the school year, said the resignation would become effective Jan. 1. He has accepted a teaching position at Fresno, Calif.

The resigning principal came here from Amherst. He had taught High School English for several years and served as assistant principal here for five years, before being elevated to the post he held at the time he resigned.

Sullivan had served as acting superintendent for several weeks recently, following the resignation of George Graham. He had accepted the duties until a replacement could be named for Graham. He had been a faculty member here for nine years.

Robert Wagoner, president of the School Board, said the Board would name a replacement for Sullivan "as soon as possible."

Sullivan was a member of the Baptist Church and past president of the Kiwanis Club. He is secretary of the club at present.

PAT SULLIVAN turns in resignation

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hamby and family over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kirkmeyer of Port Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Sparks and son of Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Campbell and son Douglas of Amarillo. The families spent the day visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Artie Davis.

Greenbug Survey Shows Heavy Infestations

A greenbug survey in 22 Panhandle counties was conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the A&M College System during November, and Deaf Smith County ranked among the highest in infestations.

The report showed that greenbugs were found in Deaf Smith, Pitter, Randall, Castro, Parmer, Swisher, Briscoe, Floyd, Fiske and Hereford Counties, with Deaf Smith, Parmer, Swisher and Hereford Counties having the highest infestations.

Infestation in Deaf Smith County ranged from one to eight greenbugs per foot of row.

The report showed that populations in volunteer fields continued to be spotty but generally higher than in seeded fields. Aphid predators were found in fewer numbers than they were the preceding month.

New Growers Allotments To Be Taken January 2

Applications for new cotton growers' allotments will be accepted by the Deaf Smith County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office Jan. 2, it was announced Saturday.

Applications can be taken to the ASC office that day.

Cotton Referendum Set For Tuesday In Nation

Only Two Voting Boxes In County Are Announced

Deaf Smith County cotton growers go to the polls here Tuesday to cast their ballots in the national referendum on a federal production and marketing control program for 1956.

There will be two voting boxes in the county, at the courthouse and at the Daniel community house. Eligible voters living in Communities A, B and C will vote at the commissioners courtroom and those living in Community D will vote at the Daniel community house.

Chairman for the courthouse box will be Clyde Russell. Edgar Telchik is vice chairman, E. O. Dixon is the third member and C. C. Ellis is alternate.

Community D chairman is H. V. Link. His vice chairman is J. L. Fite, the third member is R. H. Jarnigan and the alternate is Jack Bollinger.

Faust Collier, ASC secretary, said that both chairmen would be furnished a list of eligible voters in their communities. If a person presents himself at a voting place in the county other than his own, his vote will be accepted, but will be challenged by that committee and when ballots are canvassed by the county committee they will determine if the person is eligible to vote in the county, he said.

Owners and operators interested in cotton in 1955 as well as their wives are eligible to vote in the election.

Collier said the real decision will be whether or not there will be penalties on overseeded cotton.

"If the issue passes it will mean that a higher percentage of parity will be allowed. If it fails to get the necessary two-thirds vote, the price support will automatically be set at 50 percent of parity," Collier explained.

Two Clubs Pledge Aid For Hospital

Two more pledges have been made by local civic clubs on the goal sought to pay for the construction of a new children's wing at the Deaf Smith County Hospital.

The Kiwanis Club has pledged $750 and the Optimist Club $175. Earlier this week the Lions Club announced they would pledge $5000.

All the clubs were told that in all probability a large gift from private sources would be forthcoming for such a project if the civic clubs of Hereford indicated they were willing to back such a plan.

County Cotton Allotment Is 349 Acres Short Of 1955's

Deaf Smith County's cotton allotment for the coming year totals 9807 acres, 349 acres less than the county's allotment in 1955.

The figure was released this week by Faust Collier, office manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office here.

The county's original allotment was 8463 acres. The State ASC Committee also allowed 528 for small farms and 816 for hardship cases. In 1955 the original allotment was only 7062 acres. One hundred and ninety seven acres were allowed for small farms, 648 acres for hardship cases and 2215 for trend, however.

The allotment for 1956 includes no trend acreage at all. That is the factor that caused a group of West Texas growers to seek a hearing in Federal Court at Houston asking that the Court issue an injunction to keep the Texas ASC Committee from issuing Texas county allotments on the basis of the TACC recommendations. The county fared "very well" except for the fact that no trend was allowed, as compared to 2215 acres in 1955.

The state allotment of 7,210,985 acres is based on a 10 year history. The county's allotment is based on a five year history and the individual grower's allotment on a three year history.

The County Committee used an individual allotment factor of .5404. If a grower's allotment would be less than five acres, the committee used the small farm allotment to make it five acres. They did the same thing with growers whose allotment would have been more than five or less than 10 acres, giving them 10 acres. Then the remainder of the county's reserves were divided proportionately, equally among other growers, with no allotment to exceed that of 1955.

Actually growers with a three year history will have the same allotment that they had last year. In most cases, the farmer who will receive a cut this year will be the grower with only a one or two year history, Collier pointed out.

Here's how the County Committee arrived at individual allotments before adding the reserves: A farmer's three year history, 1953 through 1955, was taken. The three years crops were added together and then divided by three. That set the grower's base. That base was then multiplied by the county factor to come up with the grower's allotment. Then the reserves were added to that figure.

Here are two examples which show why the new grower will be hurt more than the farmer with a three year cotton history: Grower A had an allotment of 50 acres in 1953. In 1954 his allotment was 40 acres and in 1955 just 20 acres. That makes a three year total of 110 acres. Dividing that by three you will come up with an average of 36.6 acres. Then using the allotment factor of .5404, you find that the grower's allotment this year would be 19.7 acres. Since the farmer would share in the reserve acreage, his allotment would be put back up to 20 acres, the same that he had (Continued on Page 5)

Sugar Beet Group Begins Work On New Allotments

The State Sugar Beet Advisory Committee met in Hereford Thursday to begin procedures to set up proportionate shares of the sugar beet allotments for the coming year.

The Committee, appointed by the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced they were ready for those growers with a 1950 to 1954 history to begin making applications for 1956 allotments.

On basis of the applications the group will establish proportionate shares when they meet here again Feb. 2 with a representative of the State ASC Committee.

The State allotment is 1631 acres. Deaf Smith County is the largest sugar beet producing county in the State and will receive a vast majority of the acreage.

Applications from new growers will be accepted beginning Jan. 3.

Youthful Forger Hits Hard Here

A youthful forger took four Hereford grocery stores for over $200 here Saturday.

The forger, described as about 20 years old, six feet tall and slender, cashed checks at Hunters Food Store, Copers Market, Park Way Grocery and Thomas Food Market. He also tried to cash a check at Furr Foods, but left when asked to wait and see the manager, who was busy at the time. Another attempt was made at White House Market, but the manager there did not cash the man's check.

City Police and Sheriff's officers were busy Saturday afternoon checking down clues; but no arrest had been made.

Shop Students Are 'Santa's Helpers'

By CAROLYN INMAN
"Santa Claus is coming to town" was probably one of the melodies hummed by 60 shop students at Hereford High for the past few weeks. Because of the voluntary work of these students, more needy children will receive toys for Christmas.

Craig Johnson, instructor of the classes, explained that three of the four classes he teaches are composed of first year students, and second year students make up the other class. These boys, although they have had no experience in woodwork, have made approximately 65 wooden toys. They have taken time from their regular projects to make the toys for the needy children.

It took these boys four weeks to complete the non-compulsory projects. Each boy made at least one toy—and some of them completed two.

Toy wheel barrows held the largest majority preference for the students, and nineteen of these were completed. Other toys made were ring horses, rocking horses, pegboards, stick horses, trains, guns, and a cradle and a chair.

Most of the materials for the toys were furnished for the students by Carl McCaslin Lumber Co. Brown's Sheet Metal Shop let the boys borrow the equipment needed for shaping the curves on the metal part of the toys.

These toys will be turned over to the VFW and the American Legion soon, so they can then be distributed to needy children of Hereford.

Marionette Girls Are Installed At Ceremonial

The Marionette Girls, their sponsors and leaders held their annual ceremonial Friday afternoon in St. Anthony's school.

An impressive ceremony was witnessed as the new group of second graders became official members of the Marionettes. The ceremony opened with a prayer and a pledge to the flag, followed by the Marionette pledge. A short talk on duties and purposes of the club was given by Mrs. Jerry Albracht and Mrs. Edwin Skypala.

The table was decorated with a statue of Blessed Mother Mary and a giant rosary. Around the statue were tiny angel candles. Each leader lighted an angel candle and the marionette girl lighted her candle from that of her leader. Each new member was then presented with a Marionette pin.

New members installed into the organization were Carman Betzen, Kay Betzen, Carol Skypala, Judy Fetsch, Gwen Albracht, Doris Jean Walterscheid, Ethel Skypala, Cyn-

Formby Thinks Reasoning Best 'That I Ever Heard'

AUSTIN — (AP) — Residents of a small Cook County community asked the State Highway Commission for a farm-to-market road Wednesday after telling the commission they had to travel 11 miles for drinking water.

The road would replace the present dirt road connecting the little community of Bulcher in Cooke County with Saint Jo in Montague County.

Mrs. J. M. Shields told the commission that families in Bulcher made frequent trips to Saint Jo for drink water, shopping, schools and for water to wash clothes, since the mineral content made the water in Bulcher unfit for such usage.

"That's the strongest argument I have ever heard for a farm to market road," said Marshall Formby, member of the commission.

The length of the road would be 11.1 miles at an estimated cost of $181,000.

WE HAVE THE ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS ON Stilbestrol!

- Q. What is stilbestrol?
A. It is a synthetic hormone which has been made commercially for years and used in human and veterinary medicine.
- Q. Why feed stilbestrol to cattle?
A. When properly mixed at the right level in a well-balanced supplement, stilbestrol will produce amazing gains... and on less feed.
- Q. What are the results from stilbestrol feeding?
A. At the Purina Research Farm an average of test results with stilbestrol shows 17.2% faster growth and a saving in feed of 9.4% against check lots getting no stilbestrol.
- Q. Why is Purina's Micro-Mixing important to the cattle feeder?
A. Micro-Mixing assures the feeder that every bite is mixed just right. Every steer gets his share so he can make maximum daily gains—you market an even bunch of cattle.
- Q. Is stilbestrol a food nutrient?
A. Definitely not. Actually stilbestrol makes it even more important to feed a well-balanced supplement like Steer Fatena or Beef Chow because cattle are gaining so rapidly.
- Q. What basic rations show response when fed with a supplement containing stilbestrol?
A. Well-balanced supplements fed with either high-grain or high-roughage rations show good response. Remember there's a Purina Steer Fatena to feed with both good-quality and poor-quality roughage.
- Q. If my cattle are now on a supplement without stilbestrol will they go off feed if I change to stilbestrol feeding?
A. No. Purina Steer Fatena containing stilbestrol tends to sharpen the appetite rather than dull it.
- Q. How does time on feed effect results when stilbestrol is fed?
A. Animals respond to the stimulant very quickly. Work at Iowa State College shows response is maintained over long feeding periods as well as shorter ones.
- Q. How does Purina's work compare to other research done with stilbestrol?
A. Average of tests at Iowa State College showed fattening rations with stilbestrol increased gain by 19% and cut feed costs by 11%.
- Q. Should cattle be taken off supplement with stilbestrol for a certain length of time before slaughter?
A. Yes. The FDA has ruled that cattle be taken off their stilbestrol ration 48 hours before slaughter. Cattle should be put on a comparable ration without stilbestrol at this point.
- Q. What effect does stilbestrol fed in the supplement have on carcass quality?
A. Research work to date shows no effects on carcass quality.
- Q. What animals should be fed supplements with stilbestrol?
A. None except cattle being fattened for slaughter.

- Q. What are some of the toxic effects that could result if stilbestrol is fed to breeding stock?
A. Possible breeding trouble is the main objection.
- Q. Why is it so important that a steer get only 10 milligrams of stilbestrol in his daily ration?
A. Too little of this growth stimulant won't produce maximum gains... too much might be toxic, producing adverse health condition.
- Q. To what class cattle are Purina Steer Fatena and Beef Chow with stilbestrol recommended at the present time?
A. These products are recommended for slaughter cattle, and are not recommended for club calf feeding because of the refined characteristics desired in the show ring.
- Q. Can stilbestrol be fed to sheep?
A. The FDA has not approved its use for lamb fattening. However, there is work being done along these lines at various agricultural colleges and at the Purina Research Farm.
- Q. What about hog follow-up behind cattle fed stilbestrol?
A. Evidently not harmful to market hogs, but not a recommended practice at the present time where brood sows and gilts follow cattle.
- Q. Does the feed manufacturer profit on addition of stilbestrol?
A. We can speak only for the Ralston Purina Company. Purina is furnishing the stilbestrol in Steer Fatena and Beef Chow at cost.
- Q. Do both fattening heifers and steers respond to stilbestrol?
A. Yes.
- Q. How long has Purina been doing research work with stilbestrol?
A. More than a year. Purina now has more cattle on feed than ever before as we search for even more efficient beef-producing rations.
- Q. Can I use stilbestrol in a Check-R-Mix ration?
A. Yes. See your Purina Check-R-Mix Dealer.

Fine New Books Lead The Parade Of Work In The Arts During 1955

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK — This was the year when at long last Norman Vincent Peale was bounced out of the No. 1 place on nonfiction best-seller lists by Anne Morrow Lindbergh, when his "The Power of Positive Thinking" yielded to her "Gift From the Sea."

This was the year when a Vanderbilt wrote a book of poems and had them published — Gloria Vanderbilt, "Love Poems."

This was the year when Ballet Theatre celebrated its 15th anniversary; when the New York Philharmonic traveled half way round the world, or at least from Portland, Ore., to Athens, Greece; when the Metropolitan Opera for the first time had Negro singers on its roster — Marian Anderson and Robert McFerrin; when a great grandson of Alfred Tennyson and a grandson of Elinor Glyn came to visit us; when Fritz Kreisler turned a hale 80; when William Gaddis' "Recognitions" was published.

Perhaps the best thing about 1955 was books. Not since the start of this second half of the century have critics had so many books to arouse their enthusiasm. There was not only Gaddis' overpowering first novel; there was also "The Collected Stories" of Isaac Babel, a vanished Russian who was a grand master of the short story.

Besides these two leaders, the year was marked by the publications of such outstanding first novels as Thomas Williams' "Ceremony of Love," Alberta Murphy's "The Lilac Caprice," and from abroad, in first place, of course, Françoise Sagan's "Bonjour Tristesse." Other importations that made for tingling readers and the burning of midnight oil were Kamala Markandaya's "Nectar in a Sieve," Eileen Chang's "The Rice-Sprout Song," Isabel Quigly's "The Exchange of Joy," Bryan MacMahon's "The Red Petticoat" and other stories, and Forrest Reid's "Tom Barber."

Fiction written right at home was distinguished by novels by Anthony West, Mary McCarthy, Aldous Huxley, Francis Iry Gwaltney; by short stories by Flannery O'Connor and Lonnie Coleman; and there was a spectacular biography of Dylan Thomas by John Malcolm Brinnin. Other 1955 names were Paul Bowles Kay Boyle Erskine Caldwell, Joyce Cary, Norman Mailer, Robert Penn Warren, John P. Marquand, Herman Wouk, Hamilton Basso and MacKinlay Kantor.

Authors did a lot of coming and going. Besides the visits of Tennyson and Glyn, we were hosts to Alberto Moravia, Italy; Edith Simon, England; Ralph Ellison sailed off for a Prix de Rome year; Paul Bowles switched from Indian Ocean to Mediterranean shore and back again; the Berlin Philharmonic and the London Philharmonic, both led by Herbert von Karajan, played for enthusiastic American audiences.

William Faulkner wandered all over the map, from Tokyo to Rome return visit of Kirsten Flagstad at a Carnegie Hall concert.

Death of the husband or wife ends about 660,000 marriages in the United States each year.

What was left of Arturo Toscanini's old NBC Symphony, renamed the Symphony of the Air, performed at least one conspicuous service for its faithful followers: Edwin McArthur conducted for a

James J. Rorimer. A committee was formed to save Carnegie Hall, which was threatened by demolition; but in the meantime its principal tenant, the New York Philharmonic, gave thought, like the Metropolitan Opera in its outmoded house, to moving to a new location in a less congested area west of Broadway in the neighborhood of the 60's.

Francis Henry Taylor, for 15 years director of the Metropolitan Museum, went back to Worcester, where he formerly headed the art museum, resigning his New York post and being succeeded by ed to attend.

The Progressive Home Demonstration Club will have their annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Earl Plank Dec. 15 at 7:30 p.m.

Folks are having to watch their step at the courthouse these days. Janitors have been busy painting steps during the week.

J. R. Kirkwood, head of the Highway Patrol sub-station here, says that there have already been more highway accidents in Deaf Smith County this year than there were during the entire 12 months of 1954.

Only seven votes were cast in the Federal milk order referendum here Friday. Government red tape doesn't allow an announcement of how the vote went, however.

Only by Vanity Fair

There's so much to tell you about this lovely gown. It's Vanity Fair's famous, smooth-drying nylon tricot, with a net-bordered skirt that flows in goddess folds from a willow-slim waist. The bodice is sheer nylon tricot rich with embroidery and misted over with sheerer-than-sheer net. The superbly designed back is as beautiful as the front. The colors? So becoming!

Darkhorses Create Havoc

Sure enough, a darkhorse in each bracket of Texas AA football is now making an outstanding bid to reach the state finals. Our teams, of which two were conceded to already have the finals made midway in the season, are now narrowed down to two. The favorite in the lower bracket has been erased as has the upper bracket favorite.

Both of the two teams left are in the upper bracket and one must win. It might not be too great a surprise if both go.

In the upper bracket, the winner of the Breckenridge-Stamford game is favored to reach the finals, but New London, notched their thirteenth straight win this year by posting a 28-21 win over Honey, and they'll furnish the competition for the Bucks or Dogs and there will be plenty of it.

In the bottom bracket a preseason darkhorse is now favored to reach the finals, but another darkhorse has cropped up. Hillsboro knocked off Killen and smacked Lockhart, 42-12. They'll now play either Nederland or Weslaco.

Probably Played In Dallas

This leaves a lot of speculation as to where the state championship will be played. All of the teams, excepting Nederland and Weslaco, are in approximately a straight line, going east and west through Dallas and Fort Worth.

It would seem logical that the game be played in one of these cities if Nederland and Weslaco are eliminated, as is expected. However, it's not too bad a risk to pick Nederland or Weslaco and if one of those teams reaches the finals, probably the best equidistant point would be Austin.

So we predict that the state championship will be played in either Dallas or Austin... probably Dallas.

Whitefaces Improve Steadily

The Hereford Whiteface basketball team is steadily improving and it might not be too long before they'll present some hefty competition for some over-confident district teams.

Whitefaces Lose Two Close Games

Dalhart Wolves Score Late To Register Triumph, 53-47

The Hereford Whitefaces led for almost the complete game, then surrendered a 53-47 victory to the Dalhart Wolves here Friday. The strain of four games in a week may have been too much for the Whitefaces as an early lead faded out in the final minutes. The Whitefaces salvaged only one of the four games, defeating Olton for their first win of the year. Other losses were Bovina, Tulia and Dalhart. The Hereford "B" crushed the Dalhart "B", 68-38, for their third straight win this week.

The Herd got off to a sizzling start, taking an early lead, but Dalhart fought back to tie the count at the end of the first quarter. However, Hereford took a half time lead only to lose the margin again at the end of the third quarter. Continuing with the style of the game, the Whitefaces over-

Hornets Sting Herd For 44-36 Victory

Hereford's young but improving Whitefaces gallantly battled the very heavily favored Tulla Hornets to a much closer score than expected before bowing, 44-36, in a first round game of the Happy Invitational Tournament.

Tulla had previously defeated Pampa and are favored to win the tourney, but the Whitefaces made an impressive showing. In the final stanza a rally fell short. They had previously trailed by 18 points going into the quarter. Cubby Kitchens' charges didn't get off to a bad start, but the Tulla height and experience was too much. Lanky Jeff Carlile, long-shooting George Washington, and tricky Bobby O'Daniel paced the Tulla attack.

But the Whitefaces never were counted out of the contest. Hereford never held a lead and the score was tied only once. That was at the beginning of the game when the score was knotted at 2-2.

Hereford missed 10 free throws, enough to swing the margin of. (Continued on Page 8)

Household Tips

Serve your young people orange juice when they want a mid-morning or mid-afternoon cool drink. Recent studies show that both boys and girls of 13 and 14 years were deficient in Vitamin C—the vitamin that citrus fruits furnish in abundance.

Wrap sandwiches tightly in waxed paper, then in a damp tea towel and store in the refrigerator. This treatment will keep them fresh-tasting.

Planning a tea? Small cupcakes are easy to bake, frost, store and serve. Use a white-cake batter for some of the cakes and top with a flange frosting and a nut garnish. Use chocolate batter for the remaining cakes and top with a fluffy white frosting and chocolate sprinkles.

Broiling lobster? Serve it with a sauce made of butter, lemon juice, salt and pepper. Be sure to pour the sauce into small individual containers for individual dunking of the lobster meat.

Orange juice, grape juice and sparkling water make a fine drink. Serve over ice cubes and garnish each glass with a half slice of lemon or orange. Add a sprig of mint, too, if it is available.

Pep up that white sauce with curry powder, minced onion and a dash of ginger. Serve with fish or seafood. Another good sauce for fish is made from condensed cream of mushroom soup thinned with a little light cream and cooking sherry.

Next time you bake soft molasses cookies try sandwiching some of them together in pairs with the cream cheese. Serve at once for a tempting treat.

You can prevent fresh pears from turning brown when you are cutting them up for a pie; just drop the slices into two quarts of cold water to which a teaspoon and a half of salt has been added. After the pie has been baked, serve it warm with wedges of cheddar cheese or scoops of vanilla or chocolate ice cream.

Quick dish: turn a can of macaroni with cheese sauce into a pie plate. Top with slices of tomato sprinkled with salt, pepper and minced fresh or crushed dried basil. Heat under the broiler or in the oven.

Ever add shredded coconut to waffle batter? Good! Serve with maple syrup or with curried chicken which has been creamed and chunky.

Strips of canned pimiento add contrasting and attractive color to green vegetables; try them with green peas, snap beans or broccoli.

Vary those brown-and-serve rolls—make them into crisp and buttery tidbits to serve with chilled tomato juice. Cut them into cross-wise slices that are about half an inch thick. Spread both sides of the slices with butter or margarine; arrange them on a sheet of aluminum foil and sprinkle top sides with sesame seeds or grated cheese. Toast in a hot oven for about 10 minutes or until golden-brown and crisp.

Taking stuffed eggs on a picnic? Cut the halves together, wrap each tied-together egg in waxed paper and arrange in a sectioned egg carton. Safe carrying! But don't eat the eggs far, and eat them soon! Stuffed eggs spoil, on a day, if they are kept without refrigeration.

When your baby is ready for his first taste of solid food, take it easy! Offer no more than a tiny sample of the food on the end of a small spoon. Gradually offer more until baby is really used to the new flavor and texture.

Want a delicious snack for tea-time? Mix grated cheese, broken walnut or pecan meats and chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives; spread over slices of fresh white bread. Cut the crusts off the bread and roll up each slice. Put the cheese rolls, one touching the other, in a shallow baking pan. Bake in a hot oven until crusty and touched with golden-brown.

Ted Atkinson, Doug Dodson, Hedley Woodhouse and Johnny Choquette are natives of Canada.

Florida State University will have eight lettermen available for the coming campaign.

Only senior on the Rice Institute team is 6 foot 7 Joe Durrenberger of Houston.

When Jim Ellis, former Michigan State star, played in his first game in 1951, he intercepted three passes against Oregon State.

Camp Fire Leaders Elect New Officers

Officers for 1956 were elected at the Camp Fire Leaders Association meeting held Friday morning at the Camp Fire Hut.

Those who will be installed in January are Mrs. Jimmie Gillentine, chairman; Mrs. Altus Higgins, vice-chairman; Mrs. W. B.

Nunley, secretary - treasurer and Mrs. James N. Roberts, reporter. During the session a report on the Camp Fire fund raising campaign was given with $1423.75 now on hand.

Announcement was made that a training school for Camp Fire and Bluebird leaders will be conducted the second week in January and the theme for the annual Birthday Week, which will be observed in March, was released. It will be "Plant Seeds—Reap Friendship" this year.

Leaders and assistants attending were Mesdames Ruby Don Nunn, F. H. King, Reba Watson, Terry Kirby, Nina Robbs, Jimmy Mercer, Homer Brumley, Velma Cannon, Selma Jones, Dick Barnard, Marvin Coffee, Joan Blackwell, Laverne Boyer, Altus Higgins; Cecil Boyer, Jimmie Gillentine and James N. Roberts.

game ever mounted by any team was five points. Hereford maintained their lead throughout the first and second quarters behind Glenn Mutter and Bill Callaway, both guards. In this initial half most of Hereford's shots were made from outside, while Dalhart fast breaks in the final stanza proved to be the wrecking of the potential Hereford victory. Bobby Gray, Larry Lilley, and Hank Zinsley all shone brilliantly on the defensive side of the game for the Wolves.

Coach Cubby Kitchens' hoopsters never gave up though. In the waning moments of the contest Hereford fouls were committed trying to pilfer the basketball. These free throws made by Dalhart helped ice the game.

Hereford led at only one quarter point. . . that was a halftime by a count of 18-14. Dalhart led only once, too. . . the third quarter when the score was 34-31. The score at the end of the initial quarter was locked up at 8-8.

It started out to be a low-scoring defensive battle. But soon things opened up and the score steadily mounted for both teams. Dalhart's best quarter was the third when they scored 20 points. Hereford's best was the fourth when they scored 16.

High for Hereford was Glenn Mutter with 16 points. Ronny Hammett paced Dalhart with 17 digits. In the "B" game the Junior Herdsmen trampled Dalhart 68-38. Behind high-scoring Jim Curtising, er who scored 26 points, Hereford never was in trouble. It was their fifth straight win of the season.

victory, but on the other hand Tulia couldn't make six. The total fouls racked up by each team was higher than usual, the Herd guilty of committing 16 fouls and Tulia 15. A portion of the eight-point margin came on free throws.

Tulia displayed a splendid fast break and a fine defensive club while notching the victory. Hereford's offense and defense both left something to be desired, but at times the Herd looked good on both.

While attempting the comeback

KNOX'S KNOTHINGS

A Tulia Hornet basketball team that defeated Pampa won over the Herd by only 44-36 and that's certainly no disgrace. When the Herd gets some experience under their belts they'll make no disgrace of their representation of Hereford.

Also, when mid-term rolls around the Whitefaces will receive a considerable bonus. It should help plenty and with that bonus and the experience the regulars have gained Hereford should make a pretty good showing.

Place Five On All-District

Hereford made an excellent showing on the official all-district team released recently. The Whitefaces placed five men, and were second only to Phillips in that category. Twenty-two men were picked and it wasn't distinguished between first or second team.

Wayne Smith and G. C. Merritt were named in the backfield, and Martin Moore, Walter Kaul, and Danny Elliston were picked in the line. Every one of these players except Elliston will be lost for next year. Elliston will be back for one more year.

In the final quarter, mostly against a Tulia reserve team, the Whitefaces rolled up 13 points and allowed Tulia only three points.

But the Hereford comeback started too late. Tulia got off to an early lead and continued to increase it until reserves were installed in the final stanza. They held a margin of 16-10, 26-17, and 41-23. Their best quarter was the first, while Hereford's best was the fourth.

Pacing the Tulia attack was Washington with 14 points. O'Daniel had 12 and Jeff Carlisle had seven. For Hereford Bill Callaway was high with 10 points. Glenn Mutter had seven and Terry Higgins scored six before fouling out.

Hereford was eliminated from the tournament in the second round by power-l Bovina. The year before the brilliant Hereford power-house had won the tournament easily by defeating Dumas and Perryton.

Architects And Builders Should Plan For Children

WHY NOT revive the old-fashioned playroom? Make it the spacious kind built just for the kids, popular when grandmother was a girl. Growing families need more of the same today, what with children outnumbering adults 6 to 2 in some houses.

But still parents go on planning and buying houses that look like whistle stops. Dad might argue for a den or a workshop. Mom might express a yearning for a sewing room, although these things might not materialize. But when it comes to the kids — how many can share a small bedroom is the only question in parents' minds.

TIMES have changed. Why don't parents and home builders reconstruct their ideas of home? Little tots swarm over the house, warned not to touch electric light cords, important lamps, ashtrays, bibelots. They are supervised over waxed floors, protected from television set and fireplace — hazards to small lives, that take their toll in time and effort on Mom's part. They are barred from kitchen and living room furniture and for the most part are prisoners in a home bursting at the seams.

If youngsters had a lobby they'd probably demand a safe and sane play area. One room organized to their growing needs could do it even for a small population of lilliputians. If not available, the bedroom could be arranged to combine a sleeping and play area.

THE RESULT of a sampling of small fry about their playroom requirements reveals that a 6-year-old boy would like a slide, roller skates and boxing gloves. A 4-year-old girl would like a doll and carriage maybe even a set of doll furniture. A boy of 3 would like to have a "thwing." The over-12 set went for a tennis table or a hoop on the wall for a basketball. All would like to have playthings readily available in one spot.

Mom might need steady nerves to withstand the ruckus created by these active bodies. But how much better to have it all in one room instead of over the house? Even the baby can be parked in a playroom to be a noisy observer of older brother's and sister's play. One good size bedroom housing two youngsters for sleep time in space-saving bunk beds could be equipped with a slide, play pen and perhaps a small swing. Peg board on the wall can hold skates, boxing gloves, a couple of guns in holsters. Doll and carriage are at another end of the room. Sound-softening rubber tile or vinyl will make a good flooring.

The older child's room might have a minimum of furniture, perhaps just a slim studio bed, pillows for floor sitting instead of a chair, storage shelves for clothes instead of bulky chests. Paint a shuffle board game on the floor, put a hoop up on the wall for basketball practice shots, and a sturdy wall could even be used for handball games. Table tennis and badminton could be played in a large room.

Although cattle and horses were introduced into the Pacific Islands by early European navigators, they do not thrive there.

Metals such as aluminum, copper and gold, when ground very fine, are used as pigments in paint. Paint will often blister when it is applied to damp materials.

About four million U. S. motor vehicles were scrapped during the year of 1954.

Capital letters are 11.8 percent harder to read than small letters, says the Better Vision Institute.

Common Sense Safety Tips To Prevent Accidents

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D.
AP Newsfeatures

Accidents kill more children after infancy than does any single disease.

During the first year your baby needs absolute protection. He cannot yet take any responsibility for his own safety.

Babies wiggle. A brand new baby cannot wiggle enough to turn himself over or to move very far from the spot where you put him down. So you become accustomed to leaving him on his dressing table while you answer the phone or run into the next room to get the can of powder.

But it's only a few short weeks before he can give a heave and get himself over. Then one day you hear a thud, and if you're lucky you immediately hear a low bellow. (The louder and quicker your baby yells after a fall the less likely it is he has done himself real harm.)

You thought he couldn't get over the edge, but he fooled you. He's developing faster than you think. Never, never leave your baby for a single minute on a high place from the time you bring him home from the hospital.

Don't even leave him in the middle of a big double bed. Maybe you think such precautions are silly. "Of course he couldn't get to the edge of the bed" you say. But babies do. And every year several hundred babies suffer fractured skulls from just such an accident. Don't let it be your baby.

It's a good idea to get a play pen early—by the second month at least. By this age your baby will have longer and longer waking periods when he'll want to play. Maybe he's not yet ready for many toys but he'll want to kick and wiggle and thrash around and cry. You will need a safe place for all these activities. You can put him on a blanket on the floor. He can't fall off the floor! However he soon can roll off the blanket and maybe hit himself against a table leg, or even knock a lamp over onto himself. A play pen is safe.

You can use the crib for this early play. The crib at least is safe. It does however have other disadvantages. We want our baby to think of his crib as a place to sleep. If you put him into his crib sometimes to sleep and sometimes to play he is confused. He'll develop better sleep habits if he only goes into the crib when he's ready to sleep.

Speaking of cribs and safety—always pull up the side of the crib when you put your baby into it. Before you know it he can pull himself up to the side and if it's low he can tumble right over onto the floor.

Farm Ranch Club Honors Husbands With Hobo Party

Farm and Ranch Club members and their husbands were entertained at a hobo party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Waldron Melton Friday evening. Guests dressed as hobos, made their way through a debris of broken rubbish to the entrance of the Melton home where "Ma and Pa Kettle" greeted them. The dinner was served from a table featuring a patchwork quilt for a cloth and miniature figurines suggestive of hobos around a camp fire. Guests were seated in a circle on the floor and ate from cans, paper bags and paper plates.

Following the dinner games of Dollar A Second and Charades were enjoyed.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Perrin, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Solomon, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Tyler, the hosts and their families.

Parents Confuse Children, Says Psychiatrist

AP Newsfeatures

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Young people are not crazy mixed-up kids—but the world they live in is.

So says a University of Michigan child psychiatrist.

Dr. Ralph D. Rabinovitch, chief of the children's service, Neuropsychiatric Institute at the university, explains:

"With all his problems, the adolescent has priceless assets which given proper nurture, far outweigh the negatives—but some things continually get in his way."

In an article in the English-Journal, printed by the University of Chicago Press, Dr. Rabinovitch takes aim at some current child psychology axioms which he thinks have gone astray.

In trying to give their child independence many parents, Dr. Rabinovitch believes, go too far, depriving them of needed family security and guidance.

As a result, he says, they are forced to stand on legs too wobbly to hold them.

"In some families," he writes, "it is thought parents no longer dare direct a child after he has reached the magic age of 16. . . It is certainly nice to grow up with one's children, but it is also wise to be more mature than one's children."

"Comic books are the evils of the times." But, he says, this theme, is overdone. Dr. Rabinovitch feels that the horrors of everyday life are more gruesome than most comic books.

He believes that adolescents do need more than a school course in the anatomy and physiology of sexual functions. He says:

"The primary elements of sex education are found in family relationships, in feeling tones between parents and in feeling tones between parent and child."

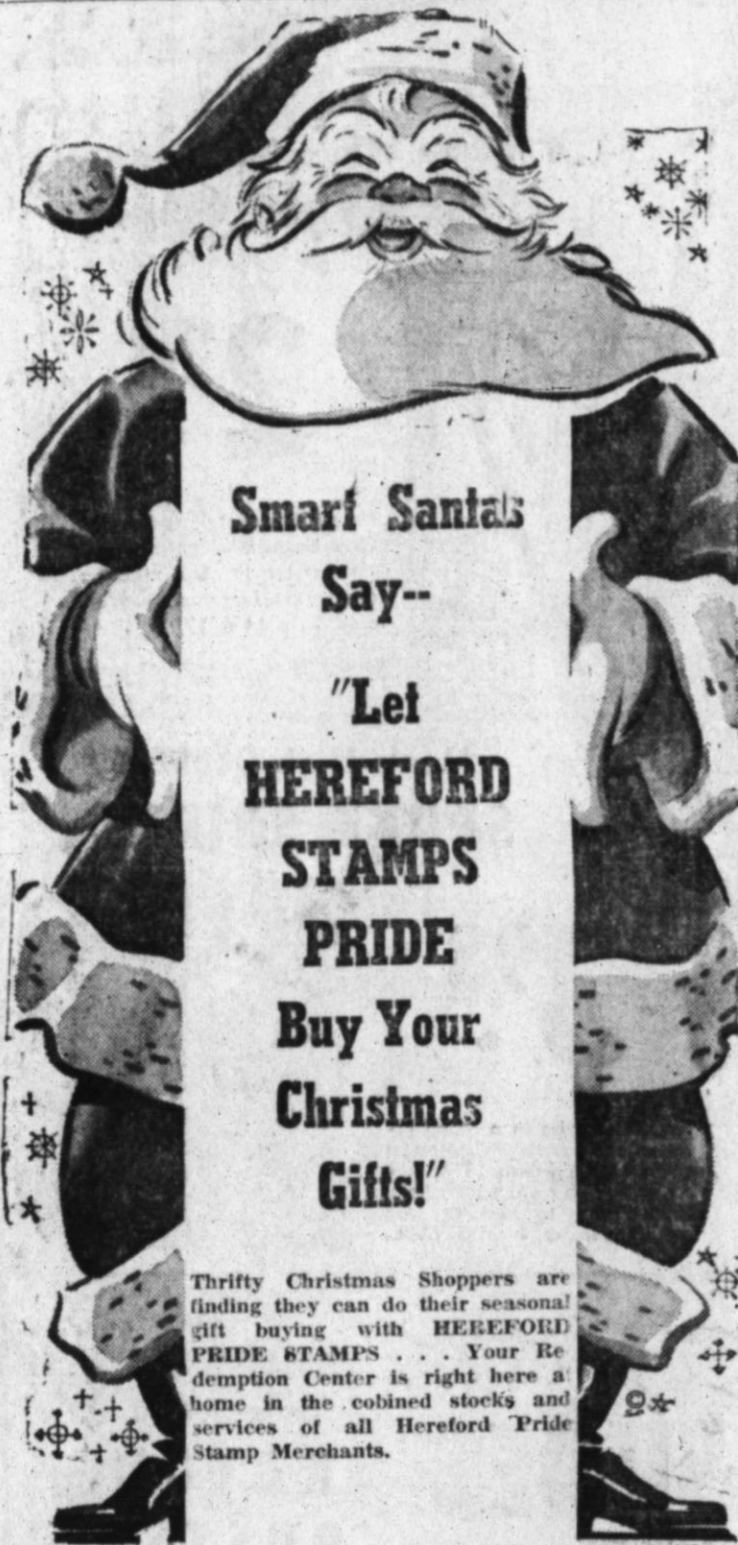

There is too, much of an effort now, Rabinovitch says, to keep sentiment out of young lives, to give adolescents a sort of toughness.

By JIMMIE GILLENTE

Curtis Traweck is quite upset. The thing that has him in a quandary is the fact that he read in The Brand where some of the local organizations and private sources are making an effort to add a new $100,000 wing to the hospital without passing a bond issue.

"Who ever heard of paying for anything you could clip the tax payer for?" says Curtis. He figures maybe we are getting out of step with the rest of the country—and that such thinking, if it gets around, might land all of us down in Terrell, or some other state institution.

Actually, the situation does sound a bit odd for these days and times. However, it looks like a pretty good deal. I am not too familiar with the inner workings of the plan but, it seems, that the various club directors, the Commissioners Court, the Hospital Board and others have given the effort considerable study—and their endorsement. The general idea appears to be establishment of a children's ward, which the local institution is said to urgently need. I'll admit that it is a bit unorthodox in approach, but it could turn out to be a wonderful thing for all concerned.

Right now, though, Christmas shopping seems to be in the spotlight. Most of the merchants report that total sales are running right along with 1954—but the items are smaller. Some say that they are selling 50 percent more items this year, while the total amount of daily sales are running about the same as last year. Another thing I notice is that the stocks are more abundant, cleaner and better displayed than ever before in the town's history.

Notice where they are having a free show and Golden Age Party at the Star Theatre Monday afternoon. Francis Hardwick says anyone over 60 is eligible—and invited. These clubs are being organized all over the Panhandle, and are very active in some places. Anyway, it doesn't cost anything and the show, "White Christmas" is well worth seeing. The only drawback will be that a lot of people won't be willing to admit that they are 60 years of age. On the other hand, I know quite a few people who are hoping they will make it.

ABOUT DOLLS! It's getting so we are afraid to leave at night, due to the antique dolls around the place. Mrs. Frank Brinkman let us borrow one which has been in her family for more than 100 years. She has only owned it for the past 16 years, however, and cannot compete in the contest. It is most interesting, though, having been imported from Holland when her grandmother was a girl. It was given to Mrs. Brinkman by her mother who, in turn, got it from the grandmother. Mrs. Brinkman's mother is now 89 years of age. It is quite a doll for any age—and for 100 years ago, it is out of this world.

Roberta Campbell also brought in an interesting doll, although she has only had it 30 years. The doll was purchased at Skelton's Variety Store in Hereford and is a "Bye-Lo" patented product. Roberta says that the manufacturer paid around $25,000 to use a three-day-old baby which posed for the head. It is one of the prettiest of the lot, and I could not help but wonder why the line did not flourish and expand. Such must have been the dream of the manufacturer.

Meanwhile Ed Skypala is carefully checking the electric train assortments over town. The Skypalas already have almost as much rolling stock as the Santa Fe. They even sit around and work out problems whereby they can derail cars, load and shift by pushing buttons. It sure is going to be rough on Ed when his kids outgrow the trains. He will have to buckle down and admit that he likes them himself. He reminds me of the fellow who says: "I sure hate to go to the circus—but Little Joe will have such a good time, so I guess I'll have to take him."

Several people have had comments about the high-pressure book selling methods—and even more have suggested that I mention vacuum cleaners. This, they say, tops all of the other high-pressure ventures in 1955. I heard about one lady who purchased a new cleaner, used it six months, and was then told by a salesman that the motor brushes were about gone. He neglected to mention, however, that the brushes could be replaced for 15 cents—and wound up selling the woman a new cleaner by allowing her $20 on the old one. Honest, though, I don't know much about this business. It is definitely a good rule to check prices against those of local merchants, many of whom handle reliable, well known lines. Besides, someone has to pay the salesman who makes these house to house calls—and these boys don't work for peanuts. If house to house selling were the most practical, it would be universally used rather than stores. Besides, the store owner is still there backing up the merchandise "when the brushes get bad." He might even fix them for 50 cents or $1.

I believe the worst deal I ever got mixed up in was with a piano salesman. These boys are truly sharp and, to make a long story short, I now own a piano, plus mortgage and all the trimmings. I just hope the day never comes when I am faced with the necessity of buying an organ or a callopo.

That's why this new song, "SIXTEEN TONS" is so popular. It embodies all of the woes of installment buying but, still shifts the blame off onto a poor, defenseless old Negro man. Every time I hear it, I think: "Well, that's one guy I am better off than..."

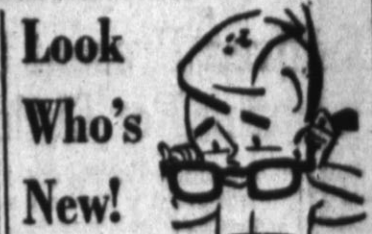

ABOUT SNOWS! Gieve Owens says there is no question but that folks could survive a long, drawn-out snow—even three or four feet. He says it actually happened in 1918 and, while it was no picnic, things rolled along. He recalls that he and Clyde Roberson rigged up some sleds and went into the dray business on a big scale. Folks paid $80 a ton for cake, then another $20 to have it sledged out to their farms. This was the year the old timers are always talking about. The cattle actually ate the bark off of fence posts, and most of them finally crowded into fence corners and died. The first snow fell on Nov. 19, 1918, and some three feet stayed on the ground through March of 1919.

Gieve said that they had some relatives who came in from New Mexico in a wagon, en route to Quitaque—and it turned into quite an extended visit. After 40 days, the visitors hitched up and took off in the snow, however. Another surprising thing was that the snow melted out south of Dimmitt, but having none of our modern day communications, most of the folks around here figured that it was about the same all over Texas.

Gieve figures that butane would be no big problem, in view of the fact that the folks in 1918 had pretty scant supplies of coal. Most of them ran out in two or three weeks. He says there's no doubt in his mind, they'd make it—and have something to talk about for another 25 years. Incidentally, also they made a whale of a wheat crop following the big snow in '18. Snow and wheat, it seems, go hand in hand out in this country.

Stuff Her Stocking With Glamor

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

The Christmas stocking stuffer is the most versatile gift in the world. It is certainly the answer to the Yule shopper with a small budget.

It is the ideal token gift for baby sitter, nurse, grocery clerk, favorite sales girl, teacher, cleaning woman, small-fry cousins, aunts, and visiting firemen.

Put it in the Christmas stocking for members of the family. Wrap it in unusual packaging for outsiders.

If you're looking for ideas, run the gamut of gifts in the bracket you can afford. Glamor types deserve a gift of imagination even though it is inexpensive. Tag for them small perfume atomizers. One new one may be refilled each time with a dram of perfume. Or give her a gold plated eyelash curler and tweezers, not expensive but different. A powder or lipstick brush will appeal to her no doubt. Ditto a compact. Purse accessories from pill box to comb case, leather covered or in silver and gold plate are sure-fire hits. Good nail scissors or cologne are welcome too. Ditto eye makeup compact.

Bath sponges and plastic bottles will appeal to lady travelers. Soap, sachet, bath powder, bath oil and bath salts are other good bets in the small-gift category.

Baby sitter and other young friends will enjoy hand lotion perhaps in a dispenser bottle, hair ornament, powder-compact, face lotion. Soap in interesting shapes also appeals to the sub-deb set.

You can make some interesting gift packages by wrapping your little present and then fastening a special ornament to it. Take a few tiny Christmas ornaments and a couple of pine cones, tie them together to attach to the package. A little angel might be made out of a celluloid ball painted with cotton hair, aluminum foil wings. Or take some colored straws, fasten them to your ribbon to make an interesting pom-pom.

You can find interesting ideas to perk up your small package. It is always more fun to have an attractively wrapped package even if the gift is a diamond ring. It is fun to guess for a few minutes before the gift is opened.

Woman Hit By Car Not Hurt

A Hereford woman escaped injuries here Thursday evening at the corner of Fourth Street and Main Street.

A 1949 Chevrolet Pickup 3/4 ton, driven by Raymond A. Wells, going south on Main Street and turning onto Fourth Street, knocked the pedestrian, Mrs. E. W. Young, down, police said. The pedestrian was walking north across Fourth Street. Mrs. Young said she wasn't hurt.

cutting hot brown bread, and it will not crumble.

Q. How can I toughen new china and glassware?

A. Place it in cold water and slowly bring to a boil. Allow it to boil for three or four hours, and then let it stand until cool. If this is done, hot water will never crack it.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I keep the bristles of the toothbrush stiff?

A. Every person should have two toothbrushes and should use them alternately. This gives each brush a chance to dry and regain its stiffness before using again.

Q. How can I prevent hot brown bread from crumbling when cutting it?

A. Try using a silk or linen thread, instead of a knife, when

Maine Boys Learning To Sew

By BILL LANGZETTEL
AP Newsfeatures

ELLSWORTH, Maine — Ellsworth High School has an all-boys home economics class.

And it's not a snap course designed to keep football players happy. There isn't an athlete among the 16 boys in the class.

The boys have different reasons for taking the course. Edward Wonchaba, for instance, wants to be a chef; his brother, Bill, figures that "I've got to learn something, anyway." Several are thinking ahead to the Army, with a view to getting a cook's job.

The 16 boys — there aren't enough facilities for many others who wanted to join them — started out by learning how to run a sewing machine. Now they're making chef's aprons and caps they'll wear in the next phase of their studies — cooking.

Admittedly skeptical at first, teacher Mrs. James Moore now is enthusiastic.

"The boys are no trouble at all," she says. "They keep the classroom in good order, although they sometimes forget their turns at cleaning up."

Principal Thurlow Pitts thinks Mrs. Moore is the key to the success of the project. He said the course "has proved very valuable but has to be skillfully taught and not every high school is prepared to present it."

Food preparation is the main subject in the curriculum. But the boys also will be taught which spoon to use when dining out, how to plan a budget, simple sewing and even a little first aid.

Mrs. Moore quickly found that her boy pupils have one definite advantage over girls. When a sewing machine gets out of whack, she says, a girl will call for help, but a boy will go right ahead and fix it.

Streu's Diary

December 9, 1953

DEAR DIARY:

Here I am, late again! But business is good, and I'd much rather sell merchandise than write this drivel. We have been selling RCA Victor Hi-Fi sets right along, and truly this is no accident, for RCA Hi-Fi is the next best thing to being right in the room with the orchestra. Such realistic reproduction of music is truly amazing—come in and give a listen—you, too, will want the new RCA Hi-Fi player.

Still have plenty of RCA TV also, due to our buying a car load in September — in fact, we have more different models than ever shown in Hereford before. We do take trade-in's, and we do sell on easy terms — so come in and make your selection—now!!!

Should you need a gift for a woman — any woman, Jean has something that will fill the bill—prices range from 39 cents to $50, so regardless of the contents of your billfold, you can find a fine gift at Streu's. Don't forget the free gift-wrapping on Xmas gifts purchased from Streu's — sorry, but we just don't have time to wrap items bought elsewhere.

Expecting a new shipment of records again about Monday — most all those received last Monday are gone—did you know you could give a Gift Certificate for records from Streu's? Can do.

Would like to continue this chat, but I am late now for lunch—and I'd rather eat than write, so—

So long,
Streu

Wanted: A New Crop!

Yelling 'Calf Rope' Is To Admit Failure

Hereford played host to Congressman Walter Rogers this week, and from the visit we have learned that area farmers can expect about the same amount of government support that they received in 1955 — no more, probably no less. The situation pretty well confirms previous announcements made by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson, although they do not necessarily reflect the wishes or opinion of Cong. Rogers, we can safely assume that they are fairly close to right.

The situation, we might add, does not present a rosy picture for the ambitious farmer, currently faced with rising costs on every hand, due chiefly to labor increases and recent guaranteed annual wage scales.

All in all, it appears that the farmer has alternatives: he must somehow cut his cost of production—or, failing along this line, he must seek and find a more profitable crop. In this regard, most farmers we know declare that they have already cut production costs to the bone; they also say that further curtailment can easily result in rising production costs. This is especially true of grain sorghums, which have contributed a major portion of the economy in this area during recent years.

All in all, this leaves only one answer, and that is to change to other crops. This, of course, is difficult in view of acreage allotments and government controls on marketing. Livestock production may possibly absorb some of the slack, since the area is generally considered to be naturally well adapted. The vegetable industry, despite its present woes, might also point the way for limited acreage and a few small tracts. Generally speaking, however, the situation presents a dilemma to most producers. To us, it is the inevitable outgrowth of federal controls—and with it goes the answer as to why so many great Americans have held out so bitterly to preserve States Rights.

The Brand does not pretend to have the answer. However, it does appear that this irrigated area has something with which few other areas in the nation can compete. It is entirely possible that we may have been wasting our resources on small-money-per-acre crops, when the same number of acres and the same amount of water might have paid much more in returns. It is possible that the present situation may result in a new era of agriculture for the area. Certainly, if the cost of producing grain sorghums under irrigation is not profitable, most producers will cease to plant the crop.

Thirty years ago, this was a cattle country. Then someone started growing wheat, and soon the area became famous for its winter variety of hard wheat. Ten years ago, this was a wheat country. Today it is a grain sorghum empire. These transitions came about as a result of much the same situation we face today! They occurred because someone came up with a better crop for the area—a crop with more dependable yield, greater acreage—and more net profit to the grower.

To say the least, the irrigation belt does have a definite advantage over most other areas. Our per-acre yields have proven this time and time again. If we cannot take such an advantage, adapt it to our situation, and come out on top, then we are definitely not of the same calibre as our forefathers. The Constitution of the United States offers us the right to PURSUE happiness and wealth. It definitely cannot guarantee them.

School Dancing Poses Question

We never like to straddle the fence on a given subject, but there are times when such an attitude appears definitely feasible. In our opinion, the policy outlined by the Ministerial Alliance in a recent letter to the Hereford Rural High School Board of Trustees offers a solution — and we wholeheartedly agree with the ministers.

The Ministerial Alliance, while definitely pointing out that they could not approve of school sponsored dances, at the same time made it plain that they could see no place or time where the school district might be compelled to act against persons who wished to sponsor orderly private or group dances. This, in our opinion, is the practical answer to a strictly touchy question.

School sponsored dances, as many will quickly point out, do have some advantages through professional supervision, blanket invitations and a general attraction to which students will look forward throughout the year. On the other hand, there are many people who feel that dancing is an outrageous sin—and who class dancing in much the same light that many other people consider one's failure to pay debts, downright theft, adultery, or Communism. If you disregard the other angles of dancing, is it fair to assess taxes from these people to pay for school projects which they view with such apprehension?

Because there are many people in this area with such sentiments, it hardly seems practical to split the community wide open with such a trivial matter as officially sponsored dancing.

Parents who, on the other hand, favor dancing can, with very small expense, group

"BE PATIENT, SIRS I'M SHAKING OUT HIS PIGGY BANK AS FAST AS I CAN."

By ROBERTA CAMPBELL

We will nominate Mrs. Lewis West's angel food cake as the prettiest one we ever saw and one Mrs. L. J. Strafuss brought to the H.D. Market as the highest.

Mrs. West iced her cake with a pink icing and covered it with shredded coconut. It was much too pretty to cut but 14-year-old appetites can easily ignore beauty.

The texture of both cakes was excellent but the one made by Mrs. Strafuss was so tall that the lid to our plastic cake pan was left suspended so we solved this problem by freezing half of it and letting Buster finish off the other half.

— tp —

One of the most welcome discoveries we have made on the grocer's shelves is the packages of miniature marshmallows. When we think of all the times we have cut up the larger ones with a pair of scissors or a sharp knife (that always seemed to be stuck up with marshmallow) we wonder if the manufacturer really realizes just what he has done for humanity.

— tp —

We see by the paper that the coffee distributors are afraid of a drop in price as it looks as if there is going to be a surplus in coffee. About 12 and one half million bags over the normal export requirement. Wouldn't it be swell to be able to drink a cup brewed up at home without the price tag on the can giving you indigestion?

— tp —

together and sponsor such dances as they please. It might, in some cases, result in heart-breaking episodes for youngsters who might not be invited, and it could easily create friction within the homes of parents who frown upon such activities. Still, these are family questions which must, sooner or later, be settled—and the only place they can be settled is within the individual home. How they are settled always has been and, always will be, a matter of personal rights and personal convictions.

Certainly, it is not just for the man who condemns dancing to cram his opinion down the throats of parents who think it is all right. This is unquestionably true where the pro-dancing parent is willing to pay his own way. To us, it is a different thing, however, when we extract taxes by law to sponsor and pay for a program, which a possible majority of the people oppose and consider to be a form of sin and iniquity.

The answer to the problem appears to be a simple one. It has been reviewed and surveyed by the Ministerial Alliance. After much thought and consideration, they have merged with a sensible answer. It does not attempt to settle the question of dancing but, as concerns officially sponsored dancing in our public schools, it is a thoroughly democratic solution.

Time is our most valuable asset, use it carefully.

Simple things and simple people are often the great among us.

The newspaper without any mistakes has never been published.

Community Builders

By JIMMIE LEE

"Hereford is the prettiest and the neatest town of its size in this part of the country," Rev. Russell A. Wingert, this week's community builder, said when asked what he thought of Hereford. He also says "I enjoy the friendship and the association of the people in the town as well as the members of the church."

Rev. Wingert was born Sept. 15, 1910 in Chicago, Ill. He attended grade school and high school in Chicago. He graduated from Carroll College in Wisconsin in 1932 and graduated from Theological School at Princeton, N. J. in 1935. On April 26, 1939, Rev. Wingert married Dorothy D. Peters at New Orleans. They have one daughter, Ann Dolson Wingert, who is 13 years old.

From 1944 to 1946, Rev. Wingert spent these two years in the army with the tenth Mountain Division in Italy. After his army years, he moved to Hereford and has been here 10 years as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

Since he has been pastor, a new church was completed in 1950 and was paid for in 1955. The congregation has grown through the years that Rev. Wingert has been the pastor and he is now a senior minister of the church.

In the past Rev. Wingert belonged to the Rotary Club and the Lions Club here in Hereford. At the present time he is a member of the Ministerial Alliance.

Humor From Other Columnists

Paul Crume tells this one in his "Big D" column in The Dallas Morning News:

"A couple of youthful lawyers were talking learnedly the other day on the shopper's bus, otherwise known as the lawyer's special.

"These juries have been hard on prosecutors lately," remarked one. "I was lucky to get that one off the other day."

The other nodded. "Any women on that jury?" he asked sagely.

"No," replied his companion. "There was one woman on the panel, but I got rid of her."

Says Harold Hudson in his "From The Sideline" column in the Ochiltree County Herald: "School days can be the happiest days of your life, if your child is old enough to attend."

And credit this one to Warren G. Stanton, publisher of The Westlaco News:

"So you're a painter?"

"Yep."

"Paint house I presume."

"Nope, paint men and women."

"Oh — I see, an artist."

"Nope, just paint 'Men' over one door and 'Women' over the other door."

A reckless driver, says Harold Hudson in the Ochiltree County Herald, is someone who passes you on the highway, "no matter how fast you go."

Life's rewards cannot always be demonstrated by living examples.

To be effective, laws or court decisions must have the support of the majority.

The difference between profit and loss is often a matter of intelligent advertising.

Too many people know all the answers and too few have sense enough to know they don't.

BAILEY COUNTY EYES VEGETABLES

Bailey County farmers who are wondering what to plant on diverted cotton acres may have an answer in the projected plans of the Alexander Marketing Co., which has a packing and shipping plant in Muleshoe. DIMMITT FIRE DEPARTMENT BUSY

Sunday was an unusually busy day for Dimmitt volunteer firemen as they responded to four calls, one of which turned out to be a major fire at the Dimmitt Gin seed house exacting a total loss of $8500. Firemen also completed their thirty-fourth run in 11 days Sunday, most of which have been small gin fires, according to Fire-Chief J. B. Moore.

LITTLEFIELD FIGHTS COTTON CUTS

The Littlefield Chamber of Commerce took steps this week-end to raise $600 or $700, to help finance the court action against the ASC cotton allotments. The state committee of the ASC has increased cotton allotments to East Texas farmers for next year and reduced West Texas allotments. Four West Texas farmers have filed suit against the committee to prevent this. It is estimated that it will cost about $8,000 to finance this suit all the way to the Supreme court. Lamb County has been asked to raise $600 or $700 of this.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

(Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has been thinking about the farm problem again, but the problem is still here.)

Dear editor:

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has called on "everybody" to send him some answers to the farm price problem, so I brought the matter up at the meeting around a stove during the cold snap last week and here are some of the ideas I picked up, and Sec. Benson is welcome to them:

(1) "The whole trouble comes from ever letting farmers get prosperous in the first place. That's where the country made its big mistake. It's just hard to go back to the days of one-gallus farming when you've gotten used to living like other people."

(2) "The way to reduce the farm surplus is to cut out all the nonsense about reducing. Let the Department of Agriculture offer a prize for the woman in every town in the nation who gains the most in the next six months. You take right here in Deaf Smith County, if every woman really let go, the farm surplus would meet its match."

(3) "That won't do it. The way to reduce the surplus is to stop producing so much, and the way to do that is to abolish the tractor. The tractor is what enabled a farmer to produce four times as much as he used to. Get Congress to outlaw the use of the tractor, and in two years we won't have a surplus. Turn the farmer loose, let him produce all he can, provided he does it with horses and mules."

(4) "Won't work. All it'd do is bring on a depression for the tractor manufacturers. The thing to do is put all the white-collar farm experts and professional agriculturists at work farming. Nothing will produce a scarcity faster than that."

(5) "What about this soil bank idea? Take a tenth of the land out of cultivation, build up the soil's fertility and hold it in readiness until the country's population doubles."

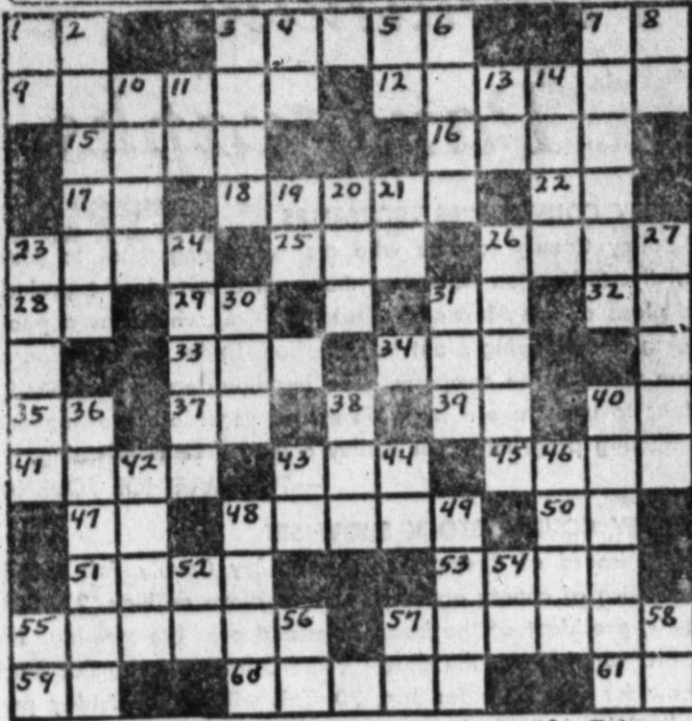

(6) "Won't work. It'd work all right maybe if you could get Mexico, South America, Brazil, etc. to join up, but you cut down on production in the U.S. and production on every scrap of land elsewhere on earth will be doubled. Every time the U.S. cuts production by 1 acre, Brazil steps hers up by 4."

As you can see, this area is pretty well divided on the solution to the farm problem, and if the rest of the country is in the same shape, you can understand how it's hard for me to understand how anybody would want the job of finding an answer. Secretary Benson is welcome to his job, I don't think anybody out here wants it.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Household Scrapbook

Bleaching Clothes
Five minutes of actual boiling is usually enough to give clothes a good color. If boiled too long, it has a tendency to turn the goods yellow. The juice of one lemon added to the boiler will help produce a real whiteness.

Vinegar Uses
Hot vinegar is excellent for removing paint from glass surfaces. A little vinegar will make old ink usable again. Chapped hands will respond beautifully to vinegar application.

Artificial Flowers
If the artificial flowers have acquired a rather faded appearance, they can be made to look like new by placing them over the steam of boiling water for a few minutes.

House Plants
If one is to be absent from home for a few days and wishes to keep the house plants fresh, soak a large sponge with water and place it on the dirt in the pot. The moisture will be absorbed and the plant will keep in good condition.

Suede Shoes
If the suede shoes become spotted with mud, rub the spots with the fine emery board from the manicure set. It will loosen the mud, which can then be brushed off easily.

Rubber Boots
Rubber boots will not crack, and the air will be permitted to circulate freely through them, if the boots are held erect with rolls of cardboard when they are not in use.

In the Laundry
When adding washing powders to the laundry suds, mix them in thoroughly before adding the clothes. If the powder is sprinkled over the clothes, it may prove so strong that it will damage the goods.

Iron Utensils
Before using iron pots and pans for the first time, be sure that they are well larded and placed in the oven for an hour. The utensils will last longer and it will mean less rusting.

Stains
To remove yellow spots on porcelain, try using household ammonia. If this does not give satisfactory results, use javelle water or bleaching powder.

Buttons
Buttons on children's clothing will seldom require repeat sewing if crocheted cotton is used to sew the buttons.

Q. How can I take special care of the skin on my arms and elbows?
A. Use a brush, while bathing, to keep arms and elbows soft and clean. After drying, massage well with cream or lotion. C after elbows that are rough stained or calloused with a cuticle-softening preparation, and then rub with pumice stone. Bleach elbows with cream or lemon juice, and keep them lubricated with hand cream or lotion.

Q. Can you suggest a facial mask that will help de-emphasize freckles?
A. Mix the white of an egg with the juice of a lemon, and blend with enough almond meal to make a thin paste. Spread this on the face, and leave on at least 20 minutes, then rinse off with some warm water.

Q. My hair is excessively sticky and oily. How should I shampoo it?
A. With a toothbrush, apply the beaten whites of two eggs to the hair and scalp, and let dry. Then brush this out with a stiff-bristled brush. Your hair should then be clean, fluffy, and glossy.

Q. How can I remove carbon paper stains from my clothing?
A. These can be removed from washables by laundering in a heavy suds of soap and water. Sponge unwashables with a liquid of one cup alcohol and two cups water; then sponge with cold water.

Q. What exercise will help reduce very large buttocks?
A. Sit on floor with legs straight and lifted from the floor until your body weight falls directly over the largest portion of your hips. Now roll onto the right hip and catch yourself with your hands. Keep rolling, and keep legs off floor throughout the exercise.

Q. Does light or dark nail polish affect the appearance of one's hands?
A. Yes. Light polish makes the hands appear longer, while dark polish makes them appear shorter.

Q. What is a quick way to camouflage circles under my eyes?
A. A slight rouging of these circles will help hide them.
Q. How can I mix myself a good homemade hand-and-arm bleach?
A. Mix cucumber juice with equal parts of rose water and glycerine.
Q. How can I add the illusion of greater size to what is popularly called a "button nose"?
A. Use a light foundation cream in a straight line from the eyebrows to the tip of the nose and over the nostrils, and this will seem to increase its size. Further enlarge it by using eyeshadow to bring out the line from the inner curve of the eye sockets to the brow line.

Q. How can I remove lipstick stains from one of my washable dresses?
A. First work in some petroleum jelly or glycerine, then wash in warm soapsuds. Don't use soap BEFORE the stain has been loosened, because the alkali in the soap may set the stain.
Q. What is a good rinse for overcoming mouth odors?
A. One good solution consists of five grains of chloramine (obtainable at any drug store) in a quart-glass of water.

Bible Words for Today

PHILIPPIANS 2:5,6 and 7. "Have this mind among yourselves, which you have in Christ Jesus, who, though he was in the form of God, did not count equality with God a thing to be grasped, but emptied himself, taking the form of a servant, being born in the likeness of men." (RSV)

Here is a challenge to the most brilliant, the most sophisticated, the most highly trained student in our midst. Our minds are remarkable instruments; so wondrous in design, so charged with power, so capable of influence for good or evil that God must shudder when we use them for insignificant and unworthy purposes — when we fail to discipline them for His Glory and Honor.

The Apostle Paul, writing to the people known as the Philippians — people prone to be proud and selfish, as are we all — people who gloried in their own conceits — said sincerely and forcibly: "Have this mind among you, which you have in Christ Jesus."

Does Christ have the opportunity to use the minds God has given to us? Or are our minds so occupied with facts and figures, profits and losses, power and position, personal honor and pleasure that we have no time left for the only real peace of mind possible — the peace that comes from having the mind among us, which we have in Christ Jesus? God wants your mind and mine dedicated to Him who loved us and gave Himself for us.

- ★ Raises, Lowers. Reverses With One Hydraulic Cylinder
- ★ A Universal Plow Designed to Fit Any Tractor With out Special Hitch

Every Preferred Feature

All of the best features of a reversible plow have been built into Caldwell's. You can plow 36 to 38 inches, up to 12 inches deep with ease. You can plow to the ends of the rows, reverse the discs, plow back and lay the new-turned earth right alongside the land just plowed. No corners are left to plow out.

Fits Any Tractor

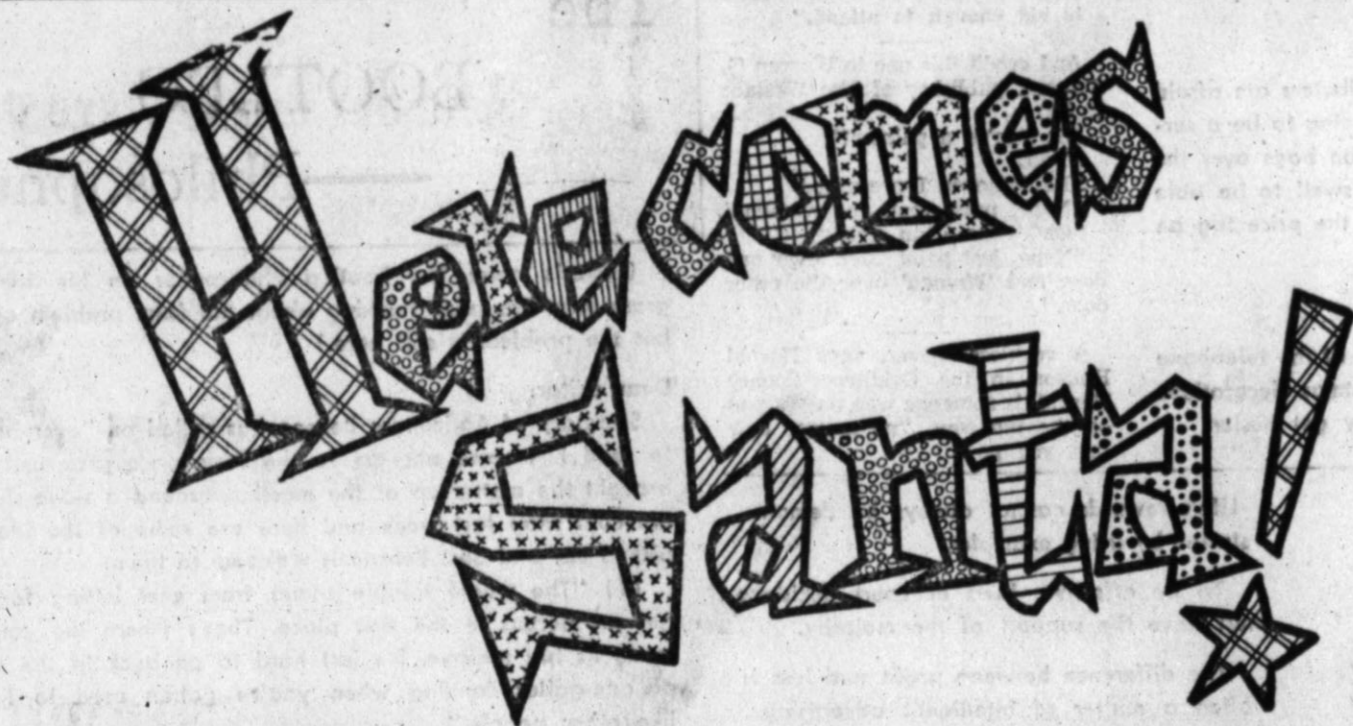

Caldwell's REVERSIBLE PLOW is a Universal type. It will fit any tractor, thereby doing away with the cost of a special hitch. It can be pulled on a swinging bar. It can be turned as short as you can turn your tractor. A medium-power tractor can handle the plow with ease. Every moving part is Timken Bearing equipped.

Only One Cylinder

A single hydraulic cylinder raises, reverses and lowers the 26-inch discs in 8 seconds time. It's all done automatically. There are only two hoses to connect, and this can be done in two to three minutes time. Caldwell's REVERSIBLE PLOW is built to save you time and money . . . to help you plow more acres in a day's time.

Keeps Land Level

When you plow with a Caldwell REVERSIBLE your land is kept level. No water furrow is left in the middle of the land. The discs can be set at three different pitches for different types of soil. Regardless of the type of land you are plowing there is no side draft on the tractor. This is prevented by a sharpened steel coulter wheel mounted in the rear of the discs.

A turkey dinner will be featured at 6 o'clock and members are requested to bring gifts for the O.E.S. Old Folks Home at Arlington, to the meeting.

This will be the grand deputy's official visit to the local chapter.

At The Movies

White Christmas

The entertainment world is agog about Paramount's brand new musical comedy extravaganza in Vista Vision, Irving Berlin's "White Christmas," and it is little wonder. It will show Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Star. It stars Bing Crosby, Danny Kaye, Rosemary Clooney and Vera-Ellen.

"White Christmas" spins the romantically humorous tale of two Army buddies, Bing Crosby and Danny Kaye, who become a top-notch musical comedy team after the war and eventually produce their own Broadway hits. They become involved with a sister act, Rosemary Clooney and Vera-Ellen and the quartet proceed to Vermont to spend a white Christmas.

Kiss Me Deadly
"Kiss Me Deadly" is the third novel of Mickey Spillane featuring his redoubtable private eye, Mike Hammer, to be brought to the screen and there is as much, if not more, blood, guts and sex in this rousing film as there were in the other two. "Kiss Me Deadly" will show Wednesday and Thursday at the Star.

In this film Ralph Meeker stars as the hard-boiled, hard-to-make, ultra-violent Mike Hammer. The three women who feature most prominently in this tale of mayhem and murder are Maxine Cooper as Velda, Mike's ever loyal secretary; Cloris Leachman, a girl who is picked up by Mike, later murdered and Gaby Rodgers as a pert sexy suspect.

PULASKI HONORED

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — The first Pulaski Club, established here about 1779, has no Polish members. According to local tradition, the club was founded soon after a visit by General Casimir Pulaski. Reputed to be the oldest social club in America, its members still meet at the Cole Shop on Duke of Gloucester Street. Now a book shop, the Taliaferro - Cole Shop was built prior to 1782 and bought in 1804 by Jesse Cole who operated it as an apothecary, post office and general store. The inner sanctum of the back room was given over to members of the Pulaski Club.

Membership was not lightly won. Men of leisure with a thorough knowledge of local affairs and talent as conversationalists might sit on the fringes in the outer shop for months — even years according to legend — waiting patiently until their presence was recognized they were awarded a chair near the iron stove in the smoke filled room to enjoy the companionship of good conversation.

Bible Words for Today

PSALM 46:10 "Be still, and know that I am God." (RSV)

During these days when all of us are worrying either about our own problems or about those of the world in which we live, it would be well for us to meditate upon the words of the Psalmist as God speaks through him to us saying, "Be still, and know that I am God". As we think of these words and their meaning for us a great sense of calm and peace comes into our lives. We are in God's good hands. He is the creator and sustainer of His Universe. He cares for all of His children. He knows of our trials and tribulations before we tell Him about them. It is our privilege to put our lives into His hands knowing that He will do what is best for us.

Eight Fatalities During Month Occur In Panhandle

Fewer deaths and injuries and an increase in property damage was the report issued by the Panhandle Highway Patrol District this week.

The report covered November accidents in the 26 counties, including Deaf Smith, covered by District 5 officers. The comparison was with November, 1954.

Deaths totaled only eight during the month, as compared to 11 during the same month last year. Seventy-eight persons were injured, compared to 87 in November, 1954. There was an estimated $101,226 in property damage, however, as compared to only $64,554 in November of 1954.

The report also showed that Panhandle drivers can prevent accidents when they set their mind on it. Capt. J. W. Blackwell reported that on Safe Driving Day, Dec. 1, only three accidents involving just one injury occurred on the rural highways in the area. That is approximately one third the daily average number of accidents and one-half the daily average number of injuries.

The eight deaths brought to 89 the number for the year. There have been 763 persons injured, and property damage now totals $804,284.

In the first 11 months of 1955 there were only 86 deaths, 607 injuries and $759,456 in property damage.

There were 149 accidents in the area during the month (not counting those in towns over 2500 population), 103 of them on State and Federal highways, 19 on Farm-Market roads, 18 on county roads and nine in small towns.

Many Of India's Millions Are Terrorized By Tales Of Snakes

AP Newsfeatures
NEW DELHI, India — If you found a deadly cobra in your home it probably would be killed promptly. But most Indians won't kill any kind of snake although thousands die from snakebite.

Here's a report from Patna in northeast India which is typical of the kind of story which helps prevent more effective snake control among Moslems and Hindus.

The wife and brother of J. Ahmad, a district officer, killed a snake in their home, the report says. The next morning, Ahmad's shirt, which has hanging on a peg mysteriously caught fire. A suitcase containing winter clothing became warm to the touch and burst into flames when opened. At the same time a quilt and rugs on the floor caught fire.

HELP SOUGHT
 Dazed and frightened, Ahmad sought help from friends who sent him on a 40-mile trip to consult a holy man. He returned with amulets for himself and family, guaranteed, after payment of a fee, to ward off evil spirits. He was told that the dead snake really was the son of a djin or ghost who was now seeking revenge.

In a few hours the amulets disappeared and Ahmad said he was so frightened by other manifestations that he moved out of his home.

But in his new residence, other cobras turned up. A dagger was thrown at Ahmad's 3-year-old son from a mysterious source he could not explain. Cooked food in the kitchen quickly turned sour and salty.

STAY ON VERANDAH
 The frightened family spends sleepless nights on their verandah, fearing to remain indoors during night hours.

Ahmad thinks he might cure his troubles if he could visit shrines of Moslem saints of India. But he's afraid to go.

"What will happen to my family while I am gone?" he asks. And what will happen to me on such long journeys.

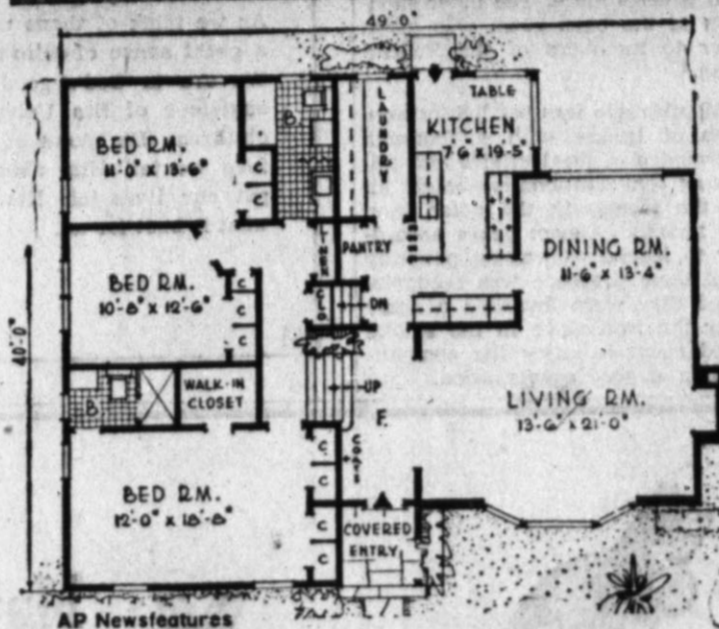

The Ahmads are Moslem, but the belief that snakes are the reincarnation of people now dead who seek revenge for killings extends to a very large proportion of the nations 370 million people regardless of their religion.

WOODPECKER SUITE
ST. LOUIS — A New York animal dealer, preparing a shipment of birds to the zoo here, should have known better when he packed two great spotted woodpeckers in a crate separated from each other by a wood partition.

The partition had a hole in it, and the woodpeckers — friends, no doubt — were together when the shipment arrived.

A Christmas program was presented with Carroll Willoughby telling a Christmas story and traditional ceremonies of "Breaking the Pinata" were conducted. The Pinata, this year, was made by Judy Jersig and Carroll Willoughby and was filled with candies and nuts.

Gifts were exchanged. They will be wrapped and packaged later to be presented to the local Labor Camp children as Christmas gifts. Refreshments were served to Buddy Sparks, Jimmy Bradley, Karolyn Kirby, Linda Hair, Helga Thorne, Carroll Willoughby, Margaret Hershey, Mary Beth Oswald, Sue Sowell, Robert Davis, Sheron Burk, and sponsors, Claude McDougal and Mrs. Charlotte Calvert.

What's This

By Chris

Well howdy folks!! Everything is beginning to look so Christmasy that it's just downright exuberating. Don't you think so? This is the time of year I like best; the time of clear frosty mornings, pungent aromas of sugar and spice and everything nice, and best of all, good will to men. Everyone files around doing little favors for everyone else, which really doesn't mean very much. . . . until you start thinking about it. . . . then you have a sort of warm feeling of contentment and well-being. By the way, it's about this time every year that I over hear little comments such as, "I just can't decide what to get Mother (or Dad) for Christmas." Of course you want it to be something extra special to show them how much you appreciate them and sometimes the things you buy, somehow just don't seem quite right. So why not tuck a "chore promise" in their Christmas cards? We all know that the dearest gift to receive is one which has been a sacrifice on the giver's part, so how about a promise to relieve Mom of 15 dish washings, which she can start collecting on January 1? Or for Dad, a chore promise which consists of 10 thorough shoe shines, (with no strings attached such as, if you will let me use the car eight nights a week.) You will be amazed at the way in which your parents receive these gifts. Sometimes they look as if they are going to cloud up and cry, because their "beloved" son or daughter is just the most! That's the funny part; to see the effect these gifts have on the antiquities, but it also makes for a family feeling. There are lots of chore promises on my gift list. Charlene is gone and now Glenna is keeping Bill's side warm again. Wow! What a crazy mixed-up triangle! But then there are a lot of those so called triangles in action in Hereford. Jesse Ann Head, I could warn you right now what you are getting into, and it isn't very pleasant.

My, my—did you see all the red faces in assembly Wednesday. I think Mr. Sullivan should have made the "young lovers" move don't you? It would have been hilarious and besides, it would give me more to write about.

Did you see Virginia C. coming out of the principal's office on Thursday? Her face was a little red too, but not very. I wonder if it had anything to do with Glenda and Myrna? I was in the "wailing hall" at the time, getting an admit slip. My heart stood still, because I just knew they had caught me, but when I proceeded to tell them of my experience they listened grudgingly at first, then unbelievably. And if you like, I'll tell you. I had a flat! Simple sentence isn't it? Here is the catch—it took me 30 minutes to painfully but surely make the switch (tight lug bolts you know) I was ecstatic when the messy job was finished and I could remove the jack. Then I realized that something was so dreadfully wrong. The spare had decided to follow the pattern of the tire I had just removed. So, bravely and staunchly I made with the jack again, took off the tire then called a service station attendant who "couldn't possibly come down for a while." A while indeed! And as the final touch, the meek little attendant whined, "You blankity blank woman driver, why did you take off the tire? How do you expect to get it to the station?!"

That is my "own true story," and Mr. Phillips, if you and Mr.
