Ike Backers Active Here Whitefaces Show Power In 31-21 Win At Clovis

By BILL KNOX
Hereford's rejuvenated Whitefaces, displaying moments of brilliance, rolled to a 31-21 victory over the Clovis Wildcats Friday night in Wildcat Stadium.

It was the third victory of the year for the Whitefaces and their best performance of the year.

The Herd struck early with cunning deadness, counting three first quarter touchdowns. The Whitefaces scored the first time a Hereford player touched the ball. Seat Russell's crew looked like a championship contender in the early stages of the game.

But the Wildcats stiffened and the Whitefaces cooled after their brilliant first quarter exhibition to make a contest of the affair.

Score Quickly
With less than two minutes gone the Whitefaces hit the scoring trail, never to be headed after that. Donnie Fila punted for Clovis to Ed Schroeter, who took the ball on his own 40 and showed his heels to the Clovis defenders.

There was no catching the fleet-footed Schroeter who dashed untouched up the sidelines for the score. Bill Drake converted and the Whitefaces led, 7-0.

A bad Clovis punt set-up the second Hereford score—only two minutes later. Fila's punt rolled off his foot and went out on his own 30. It took the Herd only two plays to score, Bobby Veigel crashing the final 18 yards after Callaway had carried for 12. This time Drake missed the point.

Returns Punt
Still in the first quarter, Fila punted for the Wildcats for the third straight time, and for the third straight time a Hereford touchdown resulted. Bryant carried the punt back to the Clovis 40, and the Herd began to roll.

Veigel, Malone, and Callaway carried down to the 13. Then Bryant passed to lanky end Danny Elliston for the touchdown. But Hereford was penalized 15 for holding and the ball went back to the 34. Another pass failed. However, on the next play a Detroit pass to Bobby Veigel worked perfectly, Veigel carrying to the 14 for a first down. Bryant carried over from the five for the score. The extra point try was blocked. Hereford led, 19-0, as the first quarter ended.

Perfect Average
The Whitefaces gained possession of the ball only three times in the first quarter, but they racked up a perfect average with their three touchdowns out. The Wildcats failed to count a first down in their three tries.

However, things were different when the second quarter started, and at one time in the third quarter the Whitefaces led by only four points.

Clovis scored their first touchdown midway in the second period, capitalizing on a Hereford fumble recovered on the Herd's 34. After three running attempts, Wildcat signal-caller Donnie Fila went to the air and hit Torany Watson on the eight. The Hereford defense tightened, and the Wildcats faced fourth down from the five. But Harrell Fulcher was good for the touchdown. He also ran the extra point over to make the score 19-7.

Recover Fumble
After Bill Drake had kicked to Clovis to open the second half, Bill Drake pounced on a loose pignide and it was Hereford's ball on the Clovis 30.

Veigel and Bryant made eight in two tries and Veigel lugged it to the 17. Malone smashed to the 8. Hereford fumbled on the next play, but a Hereford player fell on the ball on the 12. From there Bryant hit Elliston in the end zone for the touchdown. Drake's kick was blocked.

Trailing 25-7, the Wildcats began a valiant rally. After the kickoff Fila took to the airways with three straight completions. The last resulted in the second Clovis touchdown. Joe Perry was on the receiving end of the play which cov-

Republicans Hit Streets In Bid To Gain Votes

Voters in Deaf Smith County are running a much lower "election fever" as the 1956 General Election nears than was the case four years ago when the Eisenhower-Nixon team received 2,482 votes to 974 for the Democratic nominees for the nation's top posts, Stevenson and Sparkman. But political activity gained momentum on Saturday when Eisenhower - Nixon Headquarters here moved a score of youngsters onto Hereford streets to pass out campaign material.

On Saturday morning, County Clerk Ralph Smith reported a total of 52 absentee ballots have been cast or "called for." He noted that the absentee total is showing "good" interest. Whether the absentee total this year can pass or equal the 152 votes cast four years ago can best be determined by waiting for an actual count on Nov. 2. Next Friday will be the final day for absentee balloting.

Crystal Ball Revelations
Predictions as to the outcome of the election in Deaf Smith vary: Democratic County Chairman Louis Woodford predicts a much lower turnout than was noted when 3,484 votes were cast in 1952. "I see the county total as about 1,400 votes for Stevenson to 1,040 for Ike," he said.

At the local Republican headquarters the crystal ball showed a markedly different picture. "The final vote will show Eisenhower leading by a good majority," said Mrs. Florence Trawick. "No, he will not receive the overwhelming majority that he did in the previous election, but the county will go for Eisenhower."

Need Democratic Workers
Woodford, for the Democrats, said no plans have been made for an all-out vote-getting campaign in Hereford. "We sure could use some more workers," he added.

Plans of local Republican leaders to obtain Gov. Shivers to speak in behalf of the re-election of President Eisenhower were still pending Saturday afternoon.

'TIS ALMOST HALLOWEEN

Legends Of Spirits Are As Old As Time

Ever wonder how spooks, ghosts, witches, and goblins got mixed up with Halloween?

Webster defines the word Halloween as "the evening preceding Allhallow, or All Saints Day, the evening of Oct. 31."

The Lutheran Church has set this day aside as Protestant Reformation Day. This was the day Martin Luther nailed his theses, disclosing information about why he couldn't follow the Catholic Church policies any longer, to the door of the castle church in Wittenberg, Germany in 1517.

"Nov. 1, the day when all good people who haven't done anything outstanding but lived as good people should live, is the feast of All Saints. This is regarded as the day when all good people who have lived in God's grace will be remembered, and is of the highest rank in the Catholic Church.

The thirty-first of October is a holiday, not because of Halloween, but because it is the day the country was admitted to the Union as a state in 1864.

And it's quite a spooky tale in itself just how spooks did get involved in Halloween.

When owls screech, and winds blow and whistle through the trees on Halloween eve, the supernatural influences prevail stronger than they have all years! Spirits of the dead—witches, devils, mischief making elves, and spirits of living persons sometimes have the temporary power to leave their bodies and join with the ghostly crew, according to the legends.

Long, long ago, all the husbands and wives watched their spouse vary closely for this was the evening when true nature was to show itself. If there was a new baby or a bride in the house, they

CROP "TRICK-OR-TREATERS"

Teenagers To Aid Korean Orphans

Teenagers of Hereford will be "trick-or-treating" on Halloween night, not for themselves—but for the benefit of Korean tuberculosis orphans and other disaster victims of overseas countries.

"Ghosts and Goblins" of this community are scheduling the collection for overseas relief under the sponsorship of all the Hereford churches. Replacing the usual self-centered trick-or-treat appeal, the young folks will make house to house calls seeking contributions for the Christian Rural Overseas Program campaign.

Ranked High
Last Halloween, over 400 Hereford youngsters participated in the CROP program, and collected $611.10 for the campaign. This gave Hereford the title of being the 11th highest city in Texas in the amount of contributions.

For the workers—who will ring doorbells between 6:30 and 9:30 p.m.—a party will be held afterward in the First Methodist Church. Young people are asked to be at the church early in order to pick up their outlined routes.

The workers will be identified by arm bands, CROP containers, and a letter stating that they are working for CROP, and their plea is "When your doorbell rings on Halloween, give freely."

FAMILY TRAIT
RANCHO SANTA FE, Calif. —The Roy Bargey's are on even golf terms again. Mrs. Bargey was ahead for several months after making a hole-in-one on the Rancho Santa Fe course's third. Now Bargey has done it too.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Roe, Rt. 4, are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Roe of Pilger, Neb.; his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gerhardt Koffman, also of Pilger; and another sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hiller of Albuquerque, N. M.

WORKERS FOR CROP—These high school students will be among about 400 workers for the Christian Rural Overseas Program campaign on Halloween evening. They will collect contributions between 6:30 and 9:30 p.m. and will have identification. From left to right they are, David Wertenberger, Jane Newsom, Bobby Veigel, Dorothy Daniels, and Dan Black. ## Absentee Ballot Deadline Near; Special Election Absentee balloting began Wednesday for the special amendment election called for Nov. 13. The proposed Amendment 9 to the Texas Constitution was left off the ballot to be used in the General Election of Nov. 6 so that a special election is necessary.

The amendment, if passed, will give the legislature power to provide assistance not to exceed $20 a month to needy individuals 18 years of age or older who are permanently disabled either mentally or physically.

The absentee balloting for the general election got underway on Wednesday, Oct. 17, and will continue through Friday, Nov. 2. Ballots may be secured at the office of County Clerk Ralph Smith or by writing to the office, requesting that the ballots be mailed.

Overage voters will be required to present an affidavit at the polling places on election day to the effect that they were 60 years of age before Jan. 1, 1955. Those who secured the affidavits for the recent local option election may pick them up at the clerk's office before Nov. 6. The new affidavits are available at the office of Sheriff Lowell Sharp.

The county clerk also reminded other eligible voters that they must present a poll tax receipt before.

Farm Bureau Has Annual Meeting

Election of new directors, committee reports and the consideration of resolutions were the features of the annual Farm Bureau convention held on Oct. 27 at 8 p.m. in the county courtroom.

Presiding officer at the meeting was George Heard, county chairman, who called for reports from the treasurer, the county service officer, the membership chairman and the resolutions committee.

COTTON YIELDS HIGH; LETTUCE PRICE HOLDS

Cotton farmers in the Hereford area have joined the lettuce growers in reaping a bonanza harvest of their crops. Record yields are being reported in all parts of the county, some running as high as a bale and a half to the acre on the first pulling.

Ginners report a particularly high yield from the field of C. N. McClure who is machine-stripping defoliated cotton. With only one watering, the cotton is reportedly fine both in yield and quality although the exact yield per acre will not be determined until the ginning is finished.

Best Cotton Ever

600 Kids Aid Vets In Toy Collection

Over 600 children brought repairable toys to the Star Theatre Saturday morning in order to attend the free show. The toys will be repaired by members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and distributed to needy children of Hereford.

This is the third year that the Hereford club has rounded up toys to repair for the children. Last year, they distributed 1,500 toys to about 500 needy children of Hereford, according to Wayne Lawrence. "Best response we've had," he said of the children's contributions yesterday.

Obtaining lists from the Welfare Office, Red Cross, and Labor Camp, members present the toys to the children on Christmas Eve. "We still need lots of toys," reports Lawrence, "and as early as possible, so we'll have them in time to get them repaired and painted."

They began work yesterday on the two pickup truck loads of toys obtained through the free show. Folks may bring their repairable toys to the following firms: Ruthertoy's, Lawrence Cleaners, Star Theatre, Jones Service Station, Packard Mill, Lamm Jewelry, Hereford Brand, and Farm and Home Supply.

area had ginned a total of 3,992 bales of cotton Saturday with the harvest progressing rapidly. The heavy rush of ginning will come after frost when stripping machines move into the fields, and the harvest is estimated to be about one-fourth complete at present.

The Hereford Gin and Ward Gin, here in Hereford, had processed 1,892 bales.

Manager John McClesky of the Hereford Gin comments that in his eight years in the ginning business in Hereford, he has never seen finer quality or higher yields than the yields reported already this year. The other ginners echo the same comment.

Banquet Honoring Football Players Will Be Dec. 8

Plans for the Football Banquet neared completion at the Football Mothers' meeting Monday afternoon. The banquet will be Dec. 8 in the Shirley School gymnasium at 7:30 p.m.

The banquet will be held for all high school football boys, their dates and their parents, according to Mrs. A. J. Schroeter.

Group captains were appointed to contact all mothers of the boys before the banquet. They are Mesdames Charlie Calloway, Joe B. Elliston, Earl Plank, George B. Heard, Herman Drake, Lee Renfro, Don Guseman, and Virgil Bonmar. If any mother hasn't been notified, she is asked to call Mrs. Robert Veigel or Mrs. Schroeter.

On the decorating committee are Mesdames Herman Drake, Henry Weems, O. C. Brown, Joe B. Elliston, Olean Leggett and Howard Beasley.

Saturday. The heavy supply is expected to continue through next week with a gradual tapering off of harvesting after that time. When asked about the progress of the harvest, processors here answered, "It all depends entirely on the weather."

Cotton Yield
Another cotton yield on a first-pulling which will look good on the record books is that of 22 bales from a 15-acre patch belonging to A. G. Martin. This cotton was watered only one time.

Sam Patterson of the Tri-County Gin estimates that 20 per cent of the cotton is being sold on the open market with the other 80 per cent going into the government loan. The present price is about $125 per bale.

With more favorable weather conditions prevailing after the recent area rains, the milo harvest has resumed in full swing with the cutting estimated to be about 75 percent complete. Heavy dew in the mornings and early evenings has forced the cutting operations to be limited to the sunshine hours of the day.

Freight Rates To Be Cut For Hay To Drouth Areas

Drouth still grips the dryland areas of Deaf Smith County, and to aid farmers and ranchers in keeping foundation herds of livestock, the Farmers Home Administration has announced a new freight reduction program.

The county FHA office last week was authorized to issue certificates providing a 50 per cent reduction in the freight rate of hay shipped into the area. Eligible for the reduction are only those individuals who are eligible to receive assistance under the hay and roughage program.

Drouth emergency hay and roughage, and grain program dead lines here were recently advanced to Dec. 31. The cut-off date for making applications for the assistance is Dec. 3.

Household Tips

A cluster of seedless grapes, a fresh pear halve or some wedges of red-skinned apple help to make a luncheon sandwich look and taste good. The fruit will be delicious with a filling of ham, chicken or cheese.

Quick vegetable dish: Brown tiny cubes of bread in olive oil and sprinkle over piping hot canned stewed tomatoes. Serve in sauce dishes.

Count on one tablespoon of cornstarch having the thickening power of two tablespoons of flour.

Keep either a straight-edged knife or a small spatula in your kitchen for leveling off a cup (or fractions of a cup) when you are measuring dry ingredients.

Fine dry bread crumbs often make fine casserole toppings; but first mix a cup of the crumbs with a quarter cup of melted butter or margarine.

Small rotary graters, operated by hand, are wonderfully useful for grating nutmeats—and they are widely available now and inexpensive. To peel an onion easily, first cut off both the stem and root ends.

As a rule, it's best to whip no more than 1½ to 2 cups of heavy cream at one time.

Notch the edges of thin rounds of raw carrot and cut a tiny round out of each center; pull a small sprig of parsley through the round. Result: Beguiling garnish for appetizers, salads, fish or meats.

Slice the white of a hard-cooked egg fine and add it to potato salad; press the yolk of the egg through a fine-meshed small strainer onto the top of a salad for a pretty golden garnish.

Serving fresh fruit cup as a first course or a dessert? Either way, it will taste especially good if it surrounds scoops of fruit sherbet.

When making applesauce try adding grated orange rind—for a different tang and a golden color.

Skillet-cook raw shrimp (peeled and deveined) in butter, chili powder and crushed garlic. Serve with French bread for dunking.

After-school snack: Rounds of cored apple spread with peanut butter or cream cheese.

Humidity affects the moisture content of flour; yeast-bread recipes usually take this into account by calling for an approximate amount of flour.

Choose green-tipped bananas if you are planning to make fritters of this fruit. Serve the dessert with a lemon sauce.

Sandwich fillings of chopped up meat and poultry usually freeze well.

You can usually test whether a souffle is baked enough by inserting a silver knife halfway between the center and the outer edge of the dish; the knife should come out clean. This applies to souffles baked at a constant slow temperature.

Turning lamb chops or steaks under the broiler? Insert your fork in the fat, rather than the meaty parts, so juices won't run out.

EISENHOWERS Farm Program

1. In 1952 Eisenhower promised 100% of Parity for farmers.
2. In 1954 Eisenhower and Benson introduced and passed the sliding scale price support program for farmers.
3. In 1955 Eisenhower vetoed the greatest farm bill ever presented to any President.
4. In 1956 Eisenhower promises EVERYTHING for the farmer.
5. A Democratic Victory on November 6th is the ONLY WAY to get rid of BENSON.

WHAT IKE AND HIS TOP FARM SPOKESMEN REALLY THINK OF FARMERS

- ★ Pres. Eisenhower was reported "a little vexed and somewhat irritated" over what he considered "unjustified appeals for Federal drought relief" from areas he felt did not need it (8-5-54)
- ★ Agriculture Secretary Benson said (2-5-54) that price supports were merely to prevent what he called "un due disaster." Apparently he thinks there is such a thing as a "due disaster" for farmers.
- ★ Under Secretary of Agriculture True D. Morse said (4-24-53) it would be better if the marginal farmer got out of farming.
- ★ Assistant Secretary Butz said, "Agriculture is now big business. Too many people are trying to stay in agriculture." (3-15-55).
- ★ Benson assistant Don Pearlberg described the period of postwar prosperity as "a dream world" which "no one expected would last" (8-12-55).

Streu's Diary

October 26, 1957

DEAR DIARY:
Summer has went and Fall has fell and I'm lazy as all get-out. However, business must go on (like the proverbial show) hence I indite these following paragraphs: Jean is still getting in daily shipments of gift and houseware items—shipment from "Olde Thompson" company (not the one who distills) but the one who makes wooden pepper mills, Push-O-Button spice racks, and charcoal caddies. Shipment of Bail-Jae lazy suzans and other servers and bowls in delectable new colors—also the new Tel-o-trays—an ash tray that fastens to the telephone—enabling one to relax with a smoke while transacting business or gossiping on the phone. New assortment of ash trays, cig. sets, cologne bottles and various decanters in Imperial Glass. A passel of Amber Glo Stangl Pottery—Three Mountaineer and other wooden products—bowls, cabinets, tables, cutting boards and on and on. Jean says that when you gals see something new in gadgets in the shopping section of your favorite magazine to just come on in—she has it and can generally save you money on it.
It really isn't too early to start your Xmas shopping—Xmas being only eight weeks from yesterday—and you will have the advantage of being able to select from new and complete assortments. It is well to keep in mind, also that Streu's give saving stamps and tickets for the big Xmas Give-Away at the Star Theater. All in all, Streu's is the place to shop at any season of the year.

Sold several of our used TV sets, and Oliver promptly traded for more, so we can show you a nice selection. He is feeling rather proud of closing two TV sales this morning—don't know why he should, because most everyone wants RCA Victor TV—no good reason for it except that RCA makes the clearest picture, requires the least service, and is competitively priced—and offers a wider selection of models and colors than any other line in Hereford. Lots of folks considering Hi-Fi record players for Xmas, too and Streu's has the largest showing of such machines in town—You can build your own, but I'll bet money you can't beat RCA's engineers in building Hi-Fi. Come by and give a listen one time—no obligation.
Just a few nites now until Halloween—and the usual several hours of window cleaning for the local merchants—costs from $5 to $10 for each merchant to clean his windows—wonder what earthy kick the kids get out of messing up a store window. Oh, well, that's better than throwing bricks thru them. So have fun kids—just don't tear up property.
Good Luck,
STREU

On The House

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

Design is a fancy word, but it stands for something that is very important when you plan to build, buy, or remodel a house. It can save you money, give you comfort and spare you a lot of headaches, backaches and heartaches.

Design has become so important to the value of a house that mortgage lenders are boning up on all of the things this word stands for. The United States Savings and Loan League has published a handbook on design to help its 4,300 member lending institutions know what kind of a house is a good risk for a loan.

Building costs have been going up so far that many home builders have been cutting down on room sizes in order to keep their homes in competitive price ranges. The shrunken houses are not good investments for a home owner or ered 25 yards. The kick again was good.

Clovis Fights Back

Late in the third quarter the Wildcats struck paydirt again. After recovering a Hereford fumble on the Whiteface 47, it took only six plays to score the touchdown. Darrell Fulcher threaded the final 14 yards. The point was good, and the Whitefaces held only a shaky 25-21 lead when the third quarter ended.

The game went on ice for the Whitefaces, however, in the opening minutes of the final quarter. Quarterback John Bryant sparked a drive which began on the Hereford 15 with jaunts of 18 and 22 yards. He climaxed the march by going over from the 12. Ed Schroeter missed the point.

Strong At Finish

The Wildcats weren't dead yet, but the Whitefaces crushed further ambitions that they might have had. Passes gave brief hope, but the Whiteface line penetrated the Clovis forward wall, throwing passer Donnie Fila for repeated losses as the game neared its end.

The game ended with the Whitefaces only five yards short of another touchdown. John Bryant had carried a Clovis punt all the way to the five before being hauled down.

Hereford had two touchdowns called back. One was a 19-yard touchdown pass to Danny Elliston and the other a 22-yard dash by John Bryant.

The Whitefaces open conference play with powerful Littlefield next Friday at Littlefield.

Legends...

were well protected because the spirits might carry them off.

The reason for the evil spirits to come about is simple. This was the eve of the feast of Saman, the god of death. It was believed that he called all the evil souls and condemned them to an animal to inhabit at this time. Saman was a god of the Druids, the old, old, ancestors of the Irish—from whom most of these Halloween tales originate.

The belief of witchcraft is found in the Bible and among the history of the ancient Egyptians, Romans and American Indians. During the 17th Century, in the colonies of Massachusetts, Connecticut, and Virginia, many innocent women were accused of witchcraft and punished by death.

Through Cotton Mather, there were many executions of so-called witches in Salem, Mass., toward the end of that century. The panic was so great about this time that a woman who had made an apple dumpling was charged with witchcraft. Her accusers insisted that she could not have got the apple inside the dumpling without the exercise of unholy magic. She proved her innocence by making a dumpling in court and was acquitted. The last trial for witchcraft in England was in 1712, but the accused was not executed.

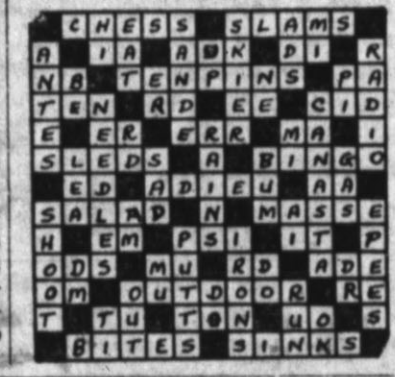

Yet the belief in witches survives in most surprising regions. German farmers in eastern Pennsylvania paint magic signs on their barns to warn the witches away, although in recent years some of them have insisted that the signs were merely ornamental. But there have been murders in that region by men who insisted that they had been bewitched and that they could be freed from the enchantment only by the death of the person responsible.

The witches must have their cats along with them on Halloween night too! If you "look just right" at the moon, you can see a silhouette of the highest witch of the clan riding her broom to the meeting of all the witches. And on her shoulder will be seen her cat.

Long ago, the cat was considered sacred, and it was believed that cats had once been human beings.

6. Color. This phase of styling is important for the single house as well as to the neighborhood. It is a potent ingredient of the seventh part of design.

7. Variation. In any neighborhood, the objective of good design is extended beyond the individual home. The objective is attractiveness for the area as a whole, avoiding monotony from house to house.

SWEEPING ENROLLMENT at Southern Illinois University two brothers from East St. Louis were almost swept away.

A mix-up in room assignments temporarily placed Arnold and Sabino Segobiano in a broom closet.

Descendant Of Famed Poet Laureate Becomes A Texan

Waco, Tex. (U) — Miss Rachel Tennyson, a descendant of the famed poet laureate, Alfred Lord Tennyson, liked her guest professorship so much last spring and summer that she has returned to the Baylor University art department on a permanent basis.

Miss Tennyson first came to Baylor last March on a temporary appointment to gain a chance to study American education.

"She liked us, and we liked her," Frederic Mizen, art department chairman, said. "We offered to make her appointment permanent, and she has accepted."

She is the great grand daughter of Alfred Lord Tennyson and the daughter of Alfred Browning Stanley Tennyson, a former inspector in the Irish government board. Her uncle, Sir Charles Tennyson, is a British business leader and has become an authority on literature, especially that of Alfred Lord Tennyson.

Miss Tennyson finds this illustrious ancestry not too much of a curious burden in her conversations with Baylor students.

"It's all according to their interests," she said. "Those who are interested in literature talk to me about it, but the others don't seem to think about it."

Even her English accent is accepted with minor notice, Miss Tennyson said. "One person did say to me the other day, 'You're getting much better.' That pleased me."

Although Miss Tennyson has been in the United States only since February and in Waco since Feb. 27, she already is at home in the Southwest.

"I like it here," she said. "The people are very friendly. I like Waco and the whole country. I was surprised to find Waco so large. It's a very beautiful city, and there are a lot of lovely gardens."

She is impressed most of all by the great distances and the flatness of the land in the Southwest.

"An Englishman has two ways of learning about the United States. He can go to the movies or else he can visit America. I hadn't done either since I'm not much of a movie goer and had never been here before," she said.

She admitted the American movies she had seen were a little "misleading."

Miss Tennyson took advantage of her summer vacation this year to become more familiar with the Southwest. She took a tour to Mexico and was so impressed that she remained two weeks after the tour had ended, making numerous Mexican sketches which she plans to paint when she gets the time.

"I tell my students to make a sketch and then paint later, but I don't know when I'll ever get around to doing it myself."

Miss Tennyson studied at Byam Shaw School and Regent Street Polytechnic in London, Winchester School of Arts and Crafts in Hampshire and Florence and Rome, Italy.

Before coming to this country she taught at the Winchester College of Art in England and at a

'Wagon' And Hit Musical Are Scheduled Film Fare

THE LAST WAGON

A unique Western drama, "The Last Wagon," is scheduled to show at the Star Theatre Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday. It is a tale of a group of desperate pioneers whose last resort for survival is to trust a man charged with murder to guide them through hostile Indian country.

Based on a story by Gwen Bagni Gielgud, the movie stars Richard Widmark and Felicia Farr. The story was rated very good by directors in Hollywood, and two other top-rate Western actors were offered the part of Todd, which Widmark plays.

He portrays a white man, raised by the Indians, and is first seen as a sheriff's prisoner charged with murder, but when the law officer is killed in an ambush, Widmark seizes the chance to prove his innocence by leading the small group of settlers through the dangers and hardships of "moving west."

Great outdoor scenes for "The Last Wagon," were filmed in Arizona, because the territory resembled the historic beauty of the old Southwest.

CAROUSEL

Cinemascope 55 presents another great picture, "Carousel," which will show Wednesday and Thursday at the Star Theatre. It was first introduced on the New York stage in 1945 and received acclaim as a great musical.

In the star roles are Shirley Jones and Gordon McRae, singing such songs as "If I Loved You" and "You'll Never Walk Alone." In word and song it is a folk story that takes place in a small town on the coast of Maine and centers around Billy Bigelow, a handsome and proud barker for a carousel, and a lovely young girl who works in a factory.

"Cedric," the expectant rabbit being passed around from Jaycee member to Jaycee member has been gaining new members for the organization. "We've gained 13 new members, already," reports Dennis Lomas. He's the man who originated the pass - the - rabbit scheme to boost the Jaycee's numbers. Date of "Cedric's" confinement is still just a guess, but the unlucky member who holds her until that day is scheduled to keep her until he's gained enough new members to equal the number of rabbits he's keeping.

"Everyone thoroughly enjoyed hearing these comments, and all the members of the F.T.A. appreciated visiting with these new faculty members," the club spokesman said.

Experts Leary Of Rockport Reports On Bird Watching

Rockport, Tex. — Few amateurs have unmet as many preconceived notions of the professionals about bird migration routes as Mrs. Connie Hager, a nationally-known ornithologist of Rockport.

A tiny, demure lady, she is the opposite of the popular notions of how a bird-watcher should look. But for 22 years, rain or shine, she has been watching birds along the beaches, among the wind-swept live oaks and on the prairies, jotting down her observations to share with other naturalists.

Mrs. Hager made her first visit to Rockport in 1933 and two years later, she and her husband moved from Corsicana, Tex., built a tourist court and she settled down to study the ornithology of the region.

She began furnishing regular reports to the "Gulf Coast Migrant", a publication started by George Williams, an English professor at Rice Institute.

Because ornithologists elsewhere were interested in the Texas Gulf Coast, Mrs. Hager's fame

Four Accidents Occur As Cars Stop Or Turn

Better look before you turn or stop on Hereford streets. Eight drivers last week were involved in four separate collisions in which cars smashed into the back of cars stopped or attempting to turn out of traffic.

Two persons were slightly injured in one accident and total property damage was around $700.

Andrew Glenn Mauldin, 18, was the driver of the car in which he and Aris Leta Mauldin, both of Hereford, received cuts and abrasions when they collided with a car driven by Maria Lizha Griego, 203 Jackson, who had stopped on First St., north of the Jackson intersection. Both drivers received tickets for "no drivers license" and Mauldin was ticketed for negligent collision. The other driver received a second ticket for stopping in the traffic lane. Police Capt. J. T. Sanderson investigated the accident.

Verl Dean Stevens, 16, 108 Bradley, skidded his car into the left rear end of a station wagon driven by Rafael Gonzalez, 21, of the Labor Camp on Thursday morning, as Gonzalez attempted to turn left off Park Ave. into the alley just east of 25 Mile Ave. Gonzalez received a ticket for failure to grant right-of-way. Chief of Police Leo Box was investigating officer.

Also on Thursday, William Harvey Snyder, 49, Hereford Camp, rammed his pickup truck into the rear of a car Ethredge Ward, 62, of Hereford, was attempting to turn off First St., near the Western Wheel. Snyder received a ticket for following too close. Chief Box investigated the accident.

Carroll Lee Elliott, 16, 606 S. 25-Mile Ave., received a ticket for negligent collision on Wednesday, after he failed to stop behind Billy Pat Newman, 15, 330 W. 4th. Newman stopped his sedan at a stop sign at Union and Ave. F just before Elliott drove up behind him. Capt. Sanderson investigated.

grew. Many came to Rockport after reading her reports to see if she knew what she was talking about.

A lot of her reports met a skeptical reception until other ornithologists confirmed that Rockport was a veritable crossroads of the migratory route taken by many species.

Her reports also brought her recognition as one of the greatest field observers of birds in the United States.

When she first listed the Connecticut warbler, some of the experts said: "Impossible! You're too far west. Those birds come into and leave the U. S. through Florida."

But Mrs. Hager says: "The poor little things didn't know they were supposed to go another way, so they just kept coming through Rockport and I kept reporting them."

About eight million American children are taking music lessons.

The First Baptist Church of Clovis, N. M., provided the setting for the marriage last Saturday of Miss Mary Tatum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Tatum of Black to Jerry Houlette, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Houlette of Friona.

Rev. Walter A. Mitchell, pastor, read the double ring ceremony as the couple and their attendants stood before an altar arranged with pink gladioli and carnations. Traditional wedding music was played by H. V. Rockey.

Duven Dillingham and Judie Barnett were the bride's attendants. They wore blue suits with black accessories and corsages of pink and white carnations. Wayne Houlette served his brother as the best man.

Bride's Attire
The bride wore an off white woolen frock featuring black accessories. Her corsage was fashioned of pink and white roses and for sentimental reasons she wore the ear rings which her great-great-grandmother had worn. She also carried a white Bible.

The bride's mother wore a brown dress with lime green accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore black. Their corsages were of white carnations.

Reception in Church
Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor where wedding cake and punch were served by Mrs. Alton Fruit, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Dick Shelton, aunt of the bride. Mrs. Frank Dillingham, aunt of the bride, presided at the guest register.

Community Work Contest Open To Federated Clubs

Federated club presidents here have received information concerning the Community Achievement Contest of the General Federation of Women's Clubs for the 1956-58 period. Mrs. Ben W. Boyd, Denton, first vice-president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs will serve as the Texas chairman.

The contest will be the third community development recognition contest sponsored by the General Federation, in cooperation with national business firms, which aim at community achievement rather than just club achievement.

Any woman's club in the continental United States, including Alaska and the District of Columbia, holding per capita dues paying membership in the General Federation of Women's Clubs is eligible to compete for prizes. The contest opened Sept. 1, and will close March 1, 1958. Final date for entries has been set for Nov. 1, 1957, but clubs are urged to make entries and start work as soon as possible.

The community improvement may relate to a neighborhood, a city, or a town; it may be county wide or cover any natural population area, regardless of municipal boundary lines.

The project may be a new one started during the contest period or the continuation of a project previously started by the club. Judging will be done on work done during the designated period of time.

Both national and state cash awards will be given and all prizes won are to be used by the clubs for some community enterprise.

Amendment Merits Praised In Talk

Members and guests of Delta Xi Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma Society, heard E. A. Sanders of Childress, vice president district 9, Texas State Teachers Assn., speak both factually and inspirationally, on Amendment 4 to the Texas Constitution which will be voted on in the general election, Nov. 6, at the chapter banquet held here Saturday night at Jim Hill Hotel.

Sanders gave three reasons why the amendment should be passed. "First, the betterment of public education depends upon its passage; second, the welfare of the teachers is at stake, and third, the welfare of coming generations depends upon the bill's passage," he said. "The amendment in general contributes to the immortal work of the teacher, the bill provides for bringing retirement benefits established in 1937 up to date, provides disability compensations comparable to those offered by industry, helps to recruit teachers into the profession and helps to hold teachers who are now in the profession," he concluded.

Mrs. Faun Welker of Dimmitt, president of Delta Xi Chapter, presided over the program preceding the main speakers address. A musical program was presented by Mrs. Bob Ballard of Plainview and Mrs. Welker who played "Minuet Mazurka Adagio" (Carl Von Weber), piano duet. Joy Walker, Gail Cooper and Ann Gollehon of Dimmitt, sang "One Little Candle" as a vocal trio. The Teacher's Collect was given by Mrs. Eloise McDougal.

Forty members and special guests attended the banquet with members coming from Farwell, Friona and Dimmitt.

It is a good time to get in some lessons in sharing, fair play and taking turns, too," she said.

Husbands Feted In New Sorority Chapter's Meet

An Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority was organized recently and regular twice-a-month meetings have been begun. Name of the chapter is Xi Epsilon Alpha and the membership is composed of former members of Texas Kappa Iota chapter who have completed four years of activity as members of that chapter.

Meetings will include a luncheon-program meet and a social meet each month. Programs for 1956-57 will be built around the course of study "The Home We Make."

Officers for the new organization are Mrs. Ronald Babione, president; Mrs. Chas. Laing, vice president; Mrs. R. J. Cramer, secretary; Mrs. Ernest Wade, treasurer and Mrs. Lloyd Warren, extension officer.

Music Study Club Program's Theme Is A Comparison

Music Study Club met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Ellis Coombes for a study program dealing with "European Music Versus American Music."

Mrs. C. C. Ferguson was program leader, giving a discussion comparing the types of music of the old masters and the American composers, telling of America's folk lore and spirituals and the works of modern composers.

The musical portion of the program included three vocal solos "Thou Nazarene," sung by Mrs. Bill Bradly with Mrs. C. W. Parker at the piano; "Music I Heard With You," sung by Mrs. Dick Godwin with accompaniment by Mrs. Parker and "He's Gone Away" a folk song, sung by Mrs. C. W. Parker with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Bradly.

Announcement was made of the seventh district, Texas Federation of Music Clubs convention held in Quanah on Oct. 25-27. Mrs. J. T. Sims served as delegate from the club and Mrs. G. N. Allison sang "One Fine Day," from Madame Butterfly, on the Fire Arts program. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Sims.

Members attending were Mesdames G. N. Allison, J. R. Allison, J. E. Beyer, Bill Bradly, W. T. Carmichael, Ellis Coombes, W. E. Dameron, Cliff Estes, C. C. Ferguson, H. K. Fox, Dick Godwin, Ed Line, J. C. McCracken, C. W. Parker, Earl Phillips, T. W. Roberson, A. J. Schroeter, W. J. Stanford, J. T. Sims, Wayne Thomas, A. O. Thompson, and Miss Frances Dameron.

tions gave a seasonal touch to the affair which was on the order of a buffet snack. A huge jack-o-lantern centered the snack bar and members roasted wieners from the flames within the lantern. Other snack goodies carried out the Oct. 31 theme in gold, orange and black colors, with witches and their cauldrons, and hob goblin figures completing the scene.

Mrs. Glen Nelson, president of Texas Kappa Iota chapter and Mr. Nelson were special guests.

Members of the new chapter include Mesdames John Pool, Pete Moore, E. N. Johnson, R. J. Cramer, Lloyd Warren, Ernest Wade, Harry Cayter and Ronald Babione.

DOLLS FOR KOREA—Busily engaged in carrying out one of the Texas Federation of Women's Club's projects for 1956-57 are these members of the welfare committee of the Summerfield Study Club: Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill, left, Mrs. Ray Johnson, Mrs. J. B. Noland and Mrs. Guy Waiser. They represent the entire club group which met in the home of

Mrs. J. B. Noland Thursday to make dolls for children in Korea. The dolls will be packed in a box of warm clothing which club members will send to Korea. Mrs. A. J. House, Yoakum, TPWC president, has announced that all affiliated clubs have been asked to take part in the project. (Staff Photo)

City Street Yields Old Spanish Dollar

Center Point, Tex. (AP) — Buried treasure on a city street?

That is what a former Boston bartender found recently, and it's set off a new hunt for $30,000 in Spanish silver.

The finder was Walter B. H. (Red) Williams, formerly of Boston and now a civilian electrician at Kelly Air Force Base. He lives in Center Point, 10 miles south-east of Kerrville.

The Spanish coin he found on a newly graveled street near the Center Point school was minted in Spain 178 years ago. The date 1778 is clearly discernable on its face. Also readable above the head of the coin is Carol—, the last two letters having been obliterated by time.

On the reverse side may be made out the words Hispanet, with other unreadable words following. Treatises on coins in Kerrville Public Library contain a photograph of both sides of a Spanish milled dollar, minted 175 to 200 years ago. On one side is inscribed Carolus III Dei Gratia. On the other side may be read HISPAN ET IND. REX.

There seems to be no question but that the coin Williams found is one of those dollars, although its size is comparable to that of a United States 25 cent piece.

But how did it make its way to the gravel in a Center Point Street?

Texas historians J. Frank Dobie of Austin and J. Marvin Hunter of Bandera both have written the story of Don Antonio Lopez, a wealthy Mexican citizen who was a merchant in San Antonio back in 1847, shortly after the beginning of hostilities between the United States and Mexico which signaled the outbreak of the Mexican War.

Don Antonio left San Antonio that year with his brother and a party of eight in an effort to reach Santa Fe, which was still a Mexican city. Dobie and Hunter wrote that in one of the three ox-drawn carretos, or two-wheeled Mexican carts, which Lopez took along was concealed $30,000 silver dollars in 30 leather bags, $1,000 dollars in each bag.

The merchant chose a route that would remove him from any possibility of encountering American soldiers and which led through Bandera Pass. But the two Lopez brothers, scouting ahead of their carts and men, discovered hostile Indians in the Pass and detoured their little convoy through the lesser known Olmos or Elm Pass, about four miles to the east.

But Indians discovered and attacked the party as it made its way through the Cordilleras, burned the carts and massacred all the men but two — a Francisco Barrera and his companion, who escaped on horses.

The $30,000? It is still in the vicinity, somewhere. Historians seem to think the money was concealed before the two men fled. Twenty years later a young Mexican named Barrera, thought to be the son of Francisco Barrera, and a companion spent several weeks in the vicinity of Olmos or Elm Pass searching for something. They found nothing.

Olmos or Elm Pass, about eight miles from Center Point, is on the old road between Center Point and Bandera.

Did the gravel used on the Center Point street this year come from the vicinity of the Pass?

Or did the two men who escaped hide the 30 leather bags north of the mountains near Center Point?

Red Williams, proudly guarding the old Spanish dollar, is still trying to find the location of the gravel pit from whence came his find.

er than the amount of liquid added.

With two pounds of potatoes, use three tablespoons of milk solids, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, pepper as desired and 1/2 to 3/4 of a cup of hot water.

Cook the potatoes until tender, drain well and break into small pieces. Sprinkle seasonings and dry milk solids and add about two thirds of the water, blending vigorously for about 30 seconds. Add the remaining water and beat until potatoes are light and fluffy.

CARD OF THANKS

Thanking the many friends who called on me while I was in the hospital, also those who sent flowers, gifts and cards.

Especially do I wish to thank Dr. Lawrence and the nurses for their untiring care and thoughtfulness.

May God richly bless each and everyone in my prayer.

No Wage Ceiling For Korean Vets Now In Schools

Veterans in school under the Korean GI Bill may earn any amount of money outside of class without jeopardizing their monthly GI allowances, Scott B. Harrington, the manager of the VA Regional Office at Dallas, Texas said today.

These outside earnings need not even be reported to VA, he added.

He explained that some veterans still confuse the Korean GI Bill with the original World War II GI Bill which did have an income "ceiling" that applied to veterans taking all types of training — in school, on-the-job and on-the-farm.

Harrington said there is no such "ceiling" for veterans in school under the Korean GI Bill. However, he added, there is one for Korea veterans taking on-the-job training. Under this ceiling, when a veteran's on-the-job training wa-

Mashed Potatoes In Modern Dress

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Here's a new way of preparing an old American standby — mashed potatoes.

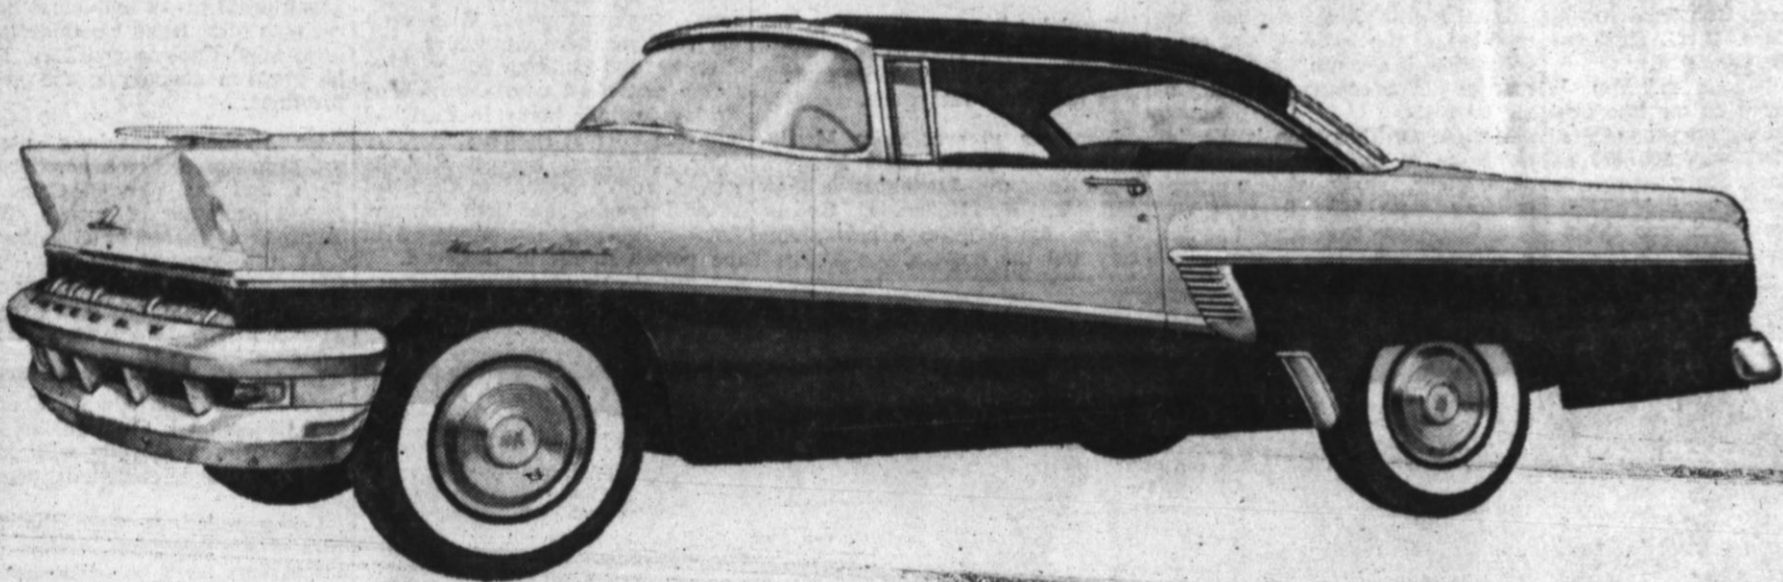

Grace Miller, Michigan State University dietician, reported that using nonfat dried milk solids and hot water assures flavor and consistency regardless of the water content of the potatoes.

With some of the wetter varieties of potatoes, she explained, adding fluid milk may give the right mashing consistency but not the right milk flavor. If more milk is added for flavoring, the potatoes are too soft.

By using dry milk solids, she said, the consistency can be controlled by adjusting the added water content to the water already in the potatoes. The amount of milk solids used is based on the weight of the raw, peeled potatoes rath-

All-School Play Casting Keep Students Wondering

Guess the rain was fine for everybody but football players, the bands, cheerleaders and spectators who had to do a little "puddle-hopping" at the game last Friday night. Anyway it postponed the Football Queen Coronation.

How do you like the idea of the football players selecting their queen? I think it's great. Cough Up The Moola, Gals H.H.S. will observe "Twirp Week" from Dec. 2 to Dec. 9 as proclaimed by the student council.

This will be a ripe time for the beginning of Christmas festivities. Girls, here's your chance.

Seniors are worried about how to celebrate the completion of 12 years hard labor (?) since they won't be having a senior trip. But don't worry, we'll think of something!

Halloween night is the date set for another campaign to collect funds for CROP. $1 sends 100 lbs. of food to the needy persons overseas. Beat that for a bargain!

What Kind Of Celebrating? I think most of the kids are planning to do their "celebrating" Saturday night!

Well, the "cat" came back in chemistry the other day. Know anything about it, Glenna?

Have you seen the cute mascot riding around with Lee Blocker? Some people are just naturally clever.

Test-Time Once Again Next week if you hear a few moans and groans around HHS, you'll know that someone is just groaning about the nine-week tests.

Everyone is quite up in the air about the All-School Play. And just about everyone is trying out for at least one part. Wonder who'll be the phantom?

Tuesday afternoon about 10 students got out of school early — four minutes — as a result of helping address letters for the Boy Scouts.

Ohhh... These Freshmen! Has anyone noticed a certain freshman girl by the name of Judy C. stuffing her mouth here lately? Better watch that, Judy!

Did you notice the display window this week? There was a beautiful display of hand-made leather belts.

FHA's formal initiation will be held Monday night at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. Everyone is invited to attend.

If you see any sophomores going around reciting commercials, don't think they've gotten a job at the radio or TV station. Mrs. Neil just made them write one to read in English Class.

The mixed choir and girls' choir are learning some pretty songs. It's about time they were giving the student body a concert, don't you think?

Some future teachers from WT visited HHS Thursday. Hope everyone was on their best behavior. Noticed some of the girls were talking seriously about going to WT. . . wonder why?

Brick Squad. . . March! Two members of this week's "brick squad" came up with some very artistic bricks. Sonnie Childers and Lee Blocker covered theirs with maroon felt and turned up with some cute mascots. Virginia Estep had a real cute one, too.

A lot of the freshmen band students are pretty worried about the band tests which are coming up soon. It seems these tests are pretty important, and of course, they're all worried about passing.

Question Of The Week The question you'd be most likely to hear this week is, "Are you going to try out for the school play?" "Really?" "What part?" "No! That's the one I'm trying out for!"

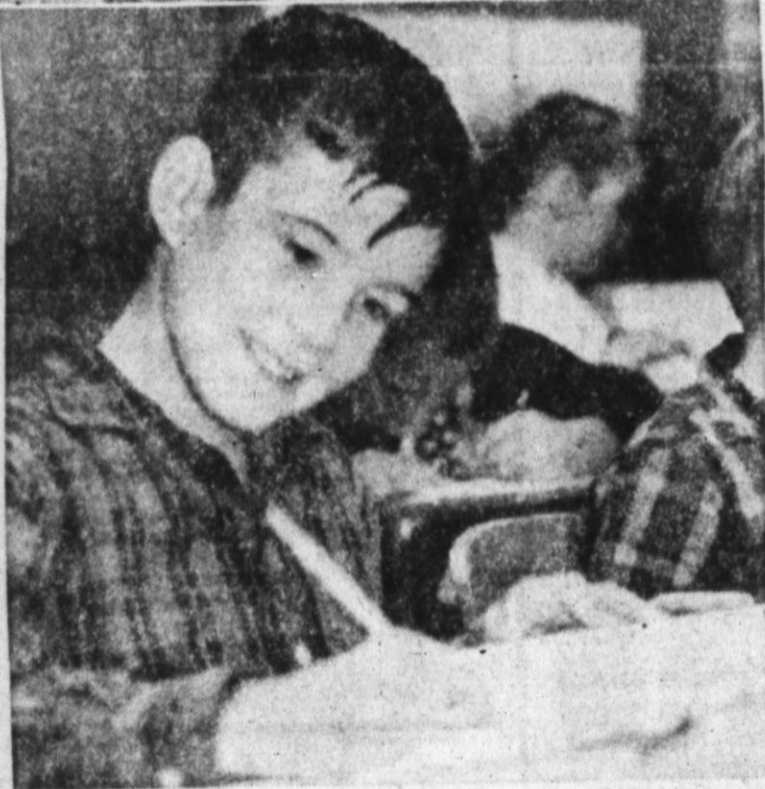

Tryouts for the all school play were Thursday, and it was certainly the topic of interest. We're all anxious to find out who gets which parts.

Telephone Troubles Bobby S. did you have any trouble getting to the telephone Wednesday night? Seems like you were very interested in a conversation between Kay Sims and Mary Dufur.

Sir Joshua Reynolds, England's great 18th century portrait painter, turned out 3,000 canvases and he painted 677 portraits within five years. Deafness which forced him to use an ear trumpet did not prevent his success.

If the telephone company still had to depend on the old manually operated system instead of the dial phones, there would not be enough women between the ages of 18 and 40 in all of the United States to perform the job now required by telephone traffic.

When completed the St. Lawrence Seaway will be the longest inland waterway ever created for ocean-going vessels. Its 744 miles from the mouth of the St. Lawrence to the Great Lakes compares with 103 miles for the Suez Canal and approximately 50 miles for the Panama Canal.

TASTES REAL GOOD TOO! Shirley School first grader, Andy Ponder, above, likes lunch-time best of all. He's just one of over 1,100 students in the Hereford elementary school cafeterias each day.

AFTERNOON ACTIVITIES consist of recreation such as fitting puzzles together, like Richard Rickman, left, Gerald Galloupe, Larry Noland, Earnest Silva and David Euler are doing. The students also participate in music recreation, art, clay modeling, and other creative work.

TIME FOR MILK and these Aikman students drink their portions with a gusty appetite after a long day of studying and playing. "That's what makes my eyes shine, and my hair grow long," says the cute little miss. The boy's expression: "Well, this day's finally over, and as soon as I can finish this milk, I can go home and play."

HOMEWARD BOUND—With a merry zip to their walk, these Central School boys leave the schoolgrounds until tomorrow morning. They take their books home with them in order to study at home. (Staff Photos)

Try Oriental Simplicity For Restful, Pretty Home

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If you'd furnish a pretty, restful home, take a tip from the Orient and avoid clutter says pretty decorator - designer Yuki Nason. She explains:

"A sofa and a couple of chairs are all a living room needs for comfort. Yet the pattern in America is to buy enormous pieces of furniture that may dwarf a room and the occupants."

Mrs. Nason, born in this country and educated in Japan, says her decorating style has been influenced by studying traditional Japanese rituals of the tea ceremony and flower arrangement.

She'd suggest that American women take the cue to give their homes a gentle, cozy look. . . lots of flowers. . . one big clutter drawer in every room for paraphernalia to be emptied perhaps once a week. . . a sofa and as few chairs as possible in the living room, cushions stacked in the corner to be used on coffee tables, benches or even on the floor for guests. . . prettier handles for sliding doors. . . floor rugs that show off the beauty of the wood grains that border them. . . subdued background wall colors with dramatic accessories. . . ceilings in contrasting colorful hues rather than pasty white. . . umbrella stands for dripping umbrellas.

Home is a place for children too, says Mrs. Nason, mother of a two-year-old. Instead of banning them from every room or expecting them to fly over precious furnishings, choose furnishings that will endure. Plastic table tops are her favorites, she says. She chooses rounded styles, safer than sharp-corner types. She hooks the standing screen that might topple on a toddler otherwise. And please, she advises, "never make a child sleep on a cheap mattress if you want to keep it healthy and happy."

At one home Mrs. Nason decorated, she consulted a small boy about his decor preferences. He replied:

"All I'd like is a floor that

JAPANESE DECORATOR Yuki Nason decries cheap Oriental furnishing and says wonderful ones are available.

could have ink spilled on it without causing too much trouble." Children need space for books, and toys and lots of things parents never consider, she reminds us, so give them room to spread out.

She's all for changing room accessories several times a year to avoid boredom. Or move them from room to room or store them in a closet, she advises.

The trend of Oriental furnishings is keeping Mrs. Nason busy, and while she adores integrating American modern, French, Italian and Swedish styles with Japanese furnishings, she laments the sad use of some of the Eastern home fashions.

"It is wonderful to have a good piece, a handsome vase or table or figurine of the type shown at the Japanese Trade Center in New York, but the cheap Oriental knock-knacks, some of the bamboo blinds and other things that people buy can do no more than ruin the look of their other furnishings."

Lacquered Oriental pieces are very popular in American homes she says, but difficult to have manufactured here because of the strenuous refinishing job - at least four sprayings of lacquer.

"All Japanese furniture requires tedious refinishing," she says, "as much of it is done by rubbing soy bean flakes (made from bean curd) in a bag over fresh wood every day. It may be washed with soap and water between times and still maintain its lovely sheen. Japanese use this method on floors also."

The most intriguing and practical home furnishing style in America now is the bed that is pulled out of the wall like a drawer in a filing cabinet, Mrs. Nason says, adding:

"That's the way all furniture should be, serving from the utilitarian viewpoint. Artistic pieces such as paintings, wall hangings, lamps should dominate the room."

Choose Right Kind Of Milk For Juniors

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
AP Newsfeatures

Milk is probably the most important food for children. However, there are many kinds of milk available. So many questions come to mind about milk it seems worthwhile to discuss the whole subject.

Cow's milk is of course the kind we use almost all the time. But cow's milk as it comes from the cow is more suitable for a calf than it is for a human baby.

Raw cow's milk is difficult for a child to digest. It forms big thick, tough curds in the stomach. These curds are so firm that the digestive juices do not penetrate them easily. Digestion is therefore slow and difficult. Babies who take raw cow's milk often have colic and do considerable vomiting and may have either diarrhea or constipation.

We can treat raw cow's milk so that it forms tiny soft curds in the stomach, curds as small as those of breast milk. There are two main ways of doing this. The first is by heating the milk, the second is by the process known as homogenization.

The more milk is heated, the smaller the curd. Pasturized milk has a smaller curd than raw milk, boiled milk has a still smaller curd and milk heated under pressure (as is done in the manufacture of dried and evaporated milks) has a still smaller curd.

Homogenization of milk is a process by which all the fat particles are broken up into such tiny bits that they do not rise to the top of the milk as cream. Homogenized milk, like heated milk, forms the small curds in the stomach and therefore is easily digested.

Babies as young as three months can digest undiluted homogenized milk, although they would have trouble with raw milk.

In addition to the digestibility of milk we must consider the question of transmitting germs to children in milk.

Milk is not only a good food for children, it is also an excellent food for germs. A few germs that may get into milk during the milking will multiply rapidly in this good food. Therefore we must take special precautions to see to it that no harmful germs are in the milk the children drink.

Evaporated and dried milks as you buy them in the store are completely free from germs. However the heat treatment does affect the taste. Babies love the taste of these milks, but older children often object. Fresh milk to be safe should be pasturized. This is a process in which the milk is heated to a temperature well below the boiling point and kept at this temperature for a definite time. Pasteurization makes the milk safe from harmful germs and affects the taste very little (much less than boiling). All fresh milk, whether cream-line or homogenized, should be pasturized. Never use raw milk. If you go off on a trip where you cannot get pasteurized milk, give the children evaporated or dried milk.

See that your children have plenty of milk to drink. Fresh pasteurized milk or homogenized milk is digestible by children too young to handle cream-line milk.

Children's aprons have a "design - it - yourself" gimmick, available with additional removable motifs that may be put on by the youngster. These may be peeled off the velon apron without leaving any mark on the apron's surface.

Dont' Forget Folks: Pay Your Poll Tax Too!

Oldsters Outdid Youngsters--

By CAROL INMAN

Halloween is nearly upon Hereford, and by Wednesday afternoon, Hereford merchants and other folks will be busily "greasing" windows on cars and stores -- because of the "soap addicts."

Some of them will probably overlook this though, and by Thursday, they'll be out front industriously washing windows and muttering under their breath that "glad Halloween doesn't come but once a year!"

But they'll remember the days way back when -- they had so much fun every Halloween -- dismantling wagons and putting them back together in the study hall of high school -- which was way back in '26.

And in the Streu case, it's "like father -- like son." Urlin remembers when he was about 12 years old, and he and a bunch of boys his age would go around "undoing" meanness done by older boys. Once his group moved several telephone poles back to the edge of the road, after some fellows had laid them cross-ways in the road. Of course, he and his gang always had lots of fun turning over "outhouses," and they loved to try to scare folks out of their wits.

One particular item he used was a "tick-tack," a thread spool with the ends notched, and with a string pulled through it. Then they'd sneak up to a window -- preferably after the person was sound asleep -- and says Streu, "it was the most unholy noise you ever heard."

Not to be outdone by Pop, Oliver remembers quite a few Halloween stunts he helped with. Back 15 years ago, the kids would roll barrels across Main Street and block traffic. Once his group of classmates dismantled the quarter-horse front gate from the race track and "arranged" it on the steps of high school.

Not to be outdone, Paul Harvey admits he's had quite a few Halloween pranks up his sleeve too, but he's keeping "mum" about the whole deal. "After all," says Paul, "some of those families still live in Hereford, and that might not be healthy." In fact, some of the kids Paul went to school with and had some gay times on Halloween are still living in Hereford. For instance, Fritz Christman and his wife.

Maybe this Halloween, the folks will get together and just "talk over the old times" they've had in years past.

But, for the record, Paul remains mum, because he's "got a boy growing up, and I don't want him to be getting any ideas!"

In Mineral Wells

Supt. Fred J. Cunningham will attend the Texas Conference on Teacher Education in Mineral Wells beginning today. It will continue through Tuesday noon. Dr. Emmitt D. Smith of the Education Department at West Texas State College, is president of the conference and will preside during the annual meeting.

Noticed F. H. Oberthier at the groundbreaking ceremonies of the new Southwestern Bell Telephone Company Wednesday morning. Oberthier, a real old-timer of Hereford, is immensely interested in the progress of Hereford, and he takes avid part in activities of Hereford.

Owned First Telephone

Oberthier owned the first privately owned telephone company in Hereford, until he sold out to the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company many years ago.

Although he has to use a cane now, and must depend upon a hearing aid, Oberthier can still be seen making the rounds of the town and is active in any of this fast-growing city's progressive movements.

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Livesay and Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Cox were in Lubbock Friday to attend the funeral rites for Mr. O. L. Denny. Denny was a nephew of Mrs. Livesay and Mrs. Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Swinney and Barbara went to Amarillo Sunday to see his brother, Charlie Swinney. They also visited her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Sneed and girls.

We are happy to see Nancy Tyler with her left arm out of the cast again. She broke her arm on Aug. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Miller of Sacramento, Calif., formerly of Amarillo, visited in the Herschel

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bomar, Don and Wayne, accompanied by Bruce Collins, drove to House, N. M., on Sunday afternoon where they visited with Mrs. Bomar's parents, the J. H. Whortons.

Weekend Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Neinst had guests in their home this weekend. Her brother, August Vasek of Stamford, came Saturday and stayed over Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Vasek and son Bobby of Lubbock came to visit on Sunday.

J. V. Perrin Sr., had a birthday Sunday. The Jim and T. W. Perrin families came for dinner and visited in the afternoon.

Fire drills have been held at Walcott School recently. The fire in the hall caused smoke which had a real effect on all present.

Mrs. A. L. Shelton's first and second grade children had charge of the program during chapel on Wednesday morning. All of the group read three poems in unison, and they were followed by singing several songs. The children then presented "The Boy and His Goats," a play taken from their reader, and "The Littlest Witch."

Visitors for the chapel period and part of the morning were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Henderson, Sidney and Billy, Mrs. Jim Stocks, Mrs. Jack Weaver, Charlene and Joe, Mrs. W. W. Laceywell, Roxie, Link and Dallas, Mrs. G. V. Hall and Danny, Mrs. N. E. Tyler and Jerry, and Mrs. Waldron Melton and Denise.

Achievement Night Held

Four-H Achievement Night was Thursday in the high school auditorium. Vieing for awards were Ray and Wayland Northcutt, Mertry Kay and Royce Lee Pruitt, Kathryn Burrus, Gary Guseman and Janell Weaver.

Sunday was a beautiful day here, warm, sunny, and quiet. It was a real pleasure to be out of doors. The Walcott teachers enjoyed seeing a tiny green hummingbird. In the afternoon, late, they got as close as a yard away to observe his busy motions as he rested on the stem of a dahilla plant. Soon he flew quickly into the air and away. To where?

Goblin Fun Keeps Moms Busy, Busy

IT'S: HER POINT OF VIEW

By PARDY LINER

"A hunting we will go" sang the men as they drove away in the wee hours of the morn. It was a bit early for them to be in good voice, and the car was overcrowded with paraphernalia for the great expedition: but these were minor details to the excited group. In enthusiastic anticipation, they set out for regions reputedly plentiful with wild game; and there was only slight remorse, if any, for the loyal wives being left behind.

Most of the wives are used to being widows during deer and pheasant season though. Our main concern is that the mighty hunter has enough warm socks and underwear and not that we won't have enough to occupy us while he's away for a week or so.

For one thing, the night for spooks and goblins is drawing nigh. What with costumes, parties, tricks-or-treats, etc., we'll manage somehow to pass the time away.

Kay McWhorter, Irene Coneway, and Jerry Grubbs are among the mamas who are busy with one gala Halloween festivity or another. Peg Hoff has to plan a special celebration because young Paul's birthday is on Halloween. I heard that Wilma Nobles had a houseful of ghosts, gypsies, animals and various other creatures on Friday evening. Helen Kent was in a quarrel because daughter Connie was invited to two parties one night, and Connie wanted to attend both.

Seldom is there the general curiosity aroused as has been over the Spook Party at the Jim Hill Saturday night. The hosts did an unusually good job of staying anonymous -- absolutely nobody seemed to know who they were. The invitations were cut-outs of Casper the ghost, and they were as cute as could be. The idea of the party sounded like fun, but the mystery in not knowing the hosts' identity was really intriguing! I guess the secret will be known by the time you read this.

Oh say, have you seen... Margaret London looking lovely in honey-beige from head to toe? Every item in her ensemble matched in color to compliment her beautiful honey-colored hair. She should look stunning!... Virginia Newell looking glamorous in one of the prettiest coats we've seen? It is gray with sparkling rhinestones embedded here and there all over the material. Really eye-catching!

Speaking of eye-catching, someone just caught mine with a "you had better get that thing finished" look. So... I'll be witching you.

Carrot Production In National Spotlight

Hereford's Newest Crop Enlarges Diversified Plan, Expands Income

The successful growth and marketing of carrots on a large scale this year added another money crop to the growing list which the Hereford territory now boasts. Just how much the crop will mean in the future, of course, remains to be seen.

Like other perishable vegetables, it is natural to presume that carrots will not be a cure-all. They do, however, extend the limits of possible diversification by a large measure, affording a complete new cash income for many farmers.

In a manner similar to lettuce, onions and potatoes, here-to-fore leading truck crops of the area, it is logical to assume that carrot growers will face price fluctuations from time to time, and that they will have years when they lose money instead of showing a profit. Other years, by the same token, will probably show startlingly high returns. Like the factor of weather, that of price seems to be an accepted hazard with the vegetable producer.

From the standpoint of the community, however, the new crop can mean much in the form of providing a large payroll. Like potatoes, lettuce, turnips, cabbage and other produce, carrots must be gathered, processed and packed properly to be competitive on the market. This year, for the first time, Hereford became recognized as a major carrot producing area—and this is the first step necessary in the establishment of any type of new vegetable crop. Another important factor is that carrot production fits in nicely with our other crops, providing employment between the potato harvest and the gathering of grain sorghum and lettuce. There is some overlap, naturally, but the situation is a step toward year-round payrolls for the area.

Beyond any question, Hereford carrots are delicious. They offer a spicy taste to the customer and having been grown on virgin soil are considered to be unusually high in minerals and proteins when compared with areas which have been producing carrots from 30 to 50 years. To the grower they also have the added advantage of being harvested over a longer period than most other vegetables.

PERSONALITY PROFILES

Commissioner Massie Sees Greater Boom Yet To Come

COUNTY COMMISSIONER OTTO MASSIE

The phenomenal changes in the economic structure of Hereford during the past decade are credited to two factors by County Commissioner Otto Massie of Precinct 2. These factors are the increase in population and the increase in farming in this area. And both of these can be traced directly to irrigation and its effects of better farmers working with better equipment, he says.

When Massie came to Deaf Smith County 35 years ago to farm there were very few farms in the county and not more than four irrigation wells. And now he rates this county as the area in Texas with the largest variety of crops grown in the state.

"Whatever grows can be grown in Hereford if the season for the crop suits our climate," the commissioner boasts.

Commissioner Massie sees a need to conserve our water with as little waste as possible as a means of insuring the bright future of the area. He has a personal interest in seeing water kept "in the fields," too: "This would help very much in keeping our roads up. Irrigation water running in the ditches makes it impossible for us to keep the county roads in the desired condition."

Transitions Start

To add background to his statements concerning the growth of farming in Deaf Smith County, Massie explained that much of the county was made up of large ranch holdings before they were broken up, beginning in about 1928. In that year, extensive plowing of the grasslands began and the number of irrigation wells began to increase.

In his glance into the future prosperity of Hereford and this area, Massie sees more industries to process crops grown here. He considers the possibility of a plant to process sugar beets particularly bright.

Next Decade

"Hereford will continue to expand," this commissioner states emphatically, "and I expect to see more growth in the next 10 years than I have seen during the 35 years that I have already lived in this country."

A native of Tennessee, he spent his boyhood in Oklahoma, coming to make his home in Deaf Smith County from there. After farming for a while, Massie sold his interests and moved to Hereford to become head miller in a flour mill here, a position he held for 15 years.

In 1945 he opened a real estate office which he and his partner, Dr. B. M. Wiltshire, now operate in the lobby of the Jim Hill Hotel. All types of real estate are handled by the two agents.

Three Children

He and Mrs. Massie make their home at 405 E. 5th. Their two married sons also make their homes in Hereford. Clinton is associated with Pioneer Natural Gas Co., and Bill is the bookkeeper for Carl McCaslin Lumber Co. Their daughter, Mrs. Lorraine Grenard, resides in La Junta, Colo.

"And I have quite a family of grandchildren," Massie adds with a smile, "Six grandsons and two granddaughters."

Pipe Is Trademark

A trademark which provokes the gibes of friends is the pipe which is a regular fixture in Massie's hand. . . or clamped tightly between his teeth.

"I smoke just one brand of pipe and one brand of straight blend tobacco. Can't take any of those others," he states.

When asked about his leisure time activities, Massie replied that he enjoys working in his yard. And he also likes to watch television with the "$64,000 question" rated as his favorite program.

Affiliations

Massie is a member of the First Baptist Church where he belongs to the Men's Bible Class. He also is a member of the Masonic Lodge and of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

He began his public life in the second year of his first term as County Commissioner of Precinct 2 here in the county. Massie considers his job to be "usually very pleasant."

"As Hereford continues to grow and we get more roads and more problems, the job of County Commissioner will increase in its responsibilities," Massie re-asserts. And he is looking forward to the challenges of the future as the representative of the voters of Precinct 2 in the government of the county.

REUNION IN TEXAS

EL PASO, Tex. — No one was particularly disturbed when a quarter-mile caravan of military and scientific experts was held up. The delay came when Maj. Gen. Leif A. Sverdrup spotted his old sergeant Serrano, from the days of the World War II attack on Manila. The pair caused an unscheduled time delay for the bigwigs by holding a reunion right on the spot.

table crops, which are subject to damage from weather hazards.

Hereford carrots "made their mark" in 1956 and we believe they are here to stay. Unquestionably, they will be a welcome asset to the economy of the area. If and when they reach the stage of importance parallel with other crops, it is well to remember that they can and will make some change in the living conditions of the community as well as in its economy. This much we have learned from the introduction of potatoes, lettuce and onions—and it is a lesson from which all of us may well benefit.

Happy Returns To Dr. G. W. Heard

Dr. G. W. Heard, pioneer dentist whose discovery of exceptionally low dental caries in this area startled the world, recently observed his eighty-ninth birthday quietly and without fanfare.

True enough, there has been considerable argument concerning the "Town Without A Toothache"—and there has been even more argument in some of the cities which sought to improve dental conditions by adding fluoride to their city water supplies. As time passes, however, Dr. Heard's contribution to dental health is coming to be recognized more and more.

Scores of towns and cities are now adding chemicals to their water. On the market are several leading dental pastes which contain the fluoride formula, all traceable back to the surveys made in Hereford following Dr. Heard's paper, delivered by an unknown country dentist before his national association.

Only time, it seems, can alter habits and change accepted theories. Gradually, as new concepts replace the old ones, Dr. Heard's discoveries may well change the course of dental history, not only in his native land but possibly over the entire world.

The Chamber of Commerce has previously recognized Dr. Heard's contribution which, elsewhere is apparently being overlooked in the rush to adapt his theories. This has been the fate of numerous scientists, painters and writers, most of whom become famous long after they are gone.

Meanwhile, the community does appreciate and recognize Dr. Heard's contribution—and joins in wishing him "Many Happy Returns" upon the occasion of Sunday, October 21, his eighty-ninth birthday.

Camp Fire Drive

Spearheaded by sponsoring Rotarians, the annual Camp Fire drive will be conducted here Saturday.

Few people welcome any drive with open arms. Camp Fire, however, holds a warm spot in the hearts of many mothers, fathers and local business men for the training it offers and for the basis upon which the organization is conducted.

In the first place, Camp Fire sets the unusually low quota of $1,500, because their sole objective is to meet necessary expenses. In addition, all of the money remains in Deaf Smith County except $30 of the $1,500, the $30 being paid out in national dues. Backing up the $1,500 in donations will be thousands of "woman hours" contributed by interested sponsors, mothers and even a few fathers.

Camp Fire has substituted hard work for dollars when it comes to supervision and administration. In putting the parents to work, it has eliminated much of the cost and, at the same time, has created a highly effective organization. As donors, most business men appreciate the effort and businesslike basis upon which the organization is operated.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Opinions On Soil Bank Law Show How Views Can Differ

Do you consider the Soil Bank Laws a political device calculated to win favor with farmers, or do you consider that its purpose is actually one of cutting surplus farm production and rebuilding the fertility of the nation's croplands?

MRS. W. J. ALBRACHT: I think they're trying to accomplish something but whether they will, I don't know.

MRS. CLIFFORD KITCHENS: We haven't had anything to do with the Soil Bank and I haven't heard it discussed.

MRS. FRED INMAN: I think that it does have a good purpose and with a few changes, would be all right.

MRS. FRED ZINSER JR.: I think the idea behind it is of a good nature and that it is to cut down on the surplus crops.

MRS. JACK STREUN: I think that it's all right for the dryland farmer but for the irrigation farmer, it's not much help.

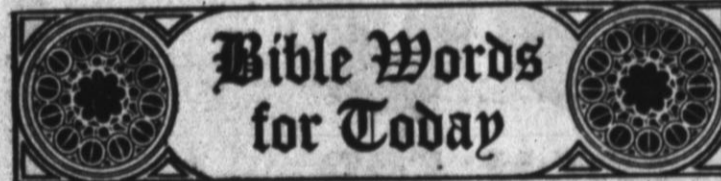

KENNETH WALTERSCHEID: The Soil Bank is pretty good in its purposes, particularly for the dryland farmers.

DICK FRYE: The Soil Bank is a political device calculated to win favor with farmers.

MRS. TONY BURRUS: I haven't even heard it discussed too much but have heard some favorable comment on the idea.

CHARLIE BURK: I don't consider it political and I do consider it good for the farmers.

DAVE BENTLEY: I think that it is good in its purposes. It's better for the dryland farmer than it is for the irrigation farmer.

II CORINTHIANS 4:16—"So we do not lose heart, though our outer nature is wasting away, our inner nature is being renewed every day." (RSV)

In these words is the secret of Paul's sustaining faith. It was not so much what took place on the outside but what happened inwardly that counted. Paul won out because he did not lose heart. He did not lose heart because he trusted in the invisible resources of God.

Life has a way of wearing out our physical bodies but in the process our souls may grow. That is, if we lay hold upon the realities of God. For in so doing the real self gradually transcends the body and dwells more and more in the eternal order of God. Only as one finds sustenance in God is his inner nature renewed. Only as one's inner nature is renewed day by day is he able to survive the struggle of life.

Though our outer nature's waste away, we will not lose heart because our inner nature is being renewed day by day.

HIGHWAY 51 NEARING COMPLETION

Completion date of the Highway 51 construction project in North Dimmitt is still uncertain, H. C. Brown, senior engineer's assistant of the Texas Highway Department, said Wednesday. He estimated, however, that the job could be completed within the next 30 days, weather permitting. All concrete work, dirt work, and base-laying on the west half of the road have been completed, and the base has been laid on the east half. After the dirt work and base laying have been finished on the east half, caliche will be hauled in, crushed and pressed. The freeway will then be ready for black-topping. This project involved the altering of more than one-fourth of a mile of the former two-lane highway to a four-lane freeway with islands separating north-and-south bound traffic.—THE CASTRO COUNTY NEWS.

DOORS ARE WIDE OPEN FOR INDUSTRY

Citizens of Littlefield joined forces this week in a united, concentrated effort to push the doors open wide for industry to come into Littlefield. Civic leaders moved swiftly during the early part of the week to bring this city within sight of a long awaited and planned Littlefield Industrial Foundation. More than $22,000 in voluntary subscriptions were made in the first two days of the week as Littlefield citizens quickly and decisively showed their faith in the city's future growth and development. The amount was sufficient to guarantee the founding of a $50,000 corporation.—LAMB COUNTY NEWS.

EXPANSION OF CITY SYSTEM FORESEEN

Perryton's water supply for years to come appeared assured Tuesday night when the city council agreed to buy 300 acres of water rights. Five test holes have been made on the Brillhart property a mile south and a mile east of town and have been proved productive. Discovery of the field, long-sought by the city, clears the way for a $333,456 water system expansion over the next four years, and removes the threat of a domestic water shortage brought on by the city's rapid growth and industrial expansion.—OCHILTREE COUNTY HERALD.

HAIL DAMAGES HEAVY OVER AREA

Some hail damage has been reported from the storm which hit isolated sections of the Muleshoe area Monday night, with the heaviest losses from hail believed to be in an area about 15 miles north of town where from 1 1/2 to two inches of rain fell, accompanied by heavy hail. One farmer in the area said he estimated the hail loss on the place at about $15 per bale, although no other reports of that heavy damage were received. Hail was also reported in the Joyland area west of town, and in the Circleback community and Progress community.—THE MULESHOE JOURNAL.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his hindwired farm is no student of Abraham Lincoln, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

You wouldn't exactly call me a student of history, I'm like most of us, I'm not sure what happened yesterday, not to mention century before last, so it was with considerable pleasure I read in a campaign speech the other day what a candidate said about Abraham Lincoln.

According to him, it was Lincoln's idea that the Federal government should "do for people the things they can't do well themselves," and he was in favor of that philosophy of government.

I want you to know that I'm in favor of it too, but the trouble is not enough government officials will follow up on it. They've left me and Abraham Lincoln high and dry.

For example, take writing a check. I don't know why it is, but the government is a whole lot better at writing checks than I am; that is, if you take the long-range view of writing a check and include getting it cashed. I don't mean to say the government doesn't write a lot of checks. My complaint is not enough of 'em are addressed to me.

Or take plowing. That's something I never have been able to do well for myself, although up to now the government has ignored Lincoln and left the job to me, as the shape my farm is in will demonstrate.

Other things I can't do very well are build a fence, patch a roof, clean out a well, butcher a hog, hoe a garden, mow the lawn, etc.

As far as I'm concerned, to take just one example, I think I can prove I can't plow very well for myself, and while I don't know that the government can do it any better, my notion is a lot of government workers are where they are in order to escape the plow, but that's not what Lincoln said. What he said was, according to this candidate, the government ought to do for me what I can't do well myself.

Obviously this opens up a brand new field for government activity, and I am now working on a list of all the things I can't do very well and will appreciate you finding out and telling me where I'm supposed to mail it. I'm on page five of my list now.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Worthy Channels Of Trick-or-Treat Fun

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D., AP Newsfeatures

It was just dusk. Dried leaves scurried noisily down the street and danced in rising whirls around the lamp posts. Like the leaves, swarms of fantastically dressed children, each carrying a big paper bag, swarmed in and out of the lighted houses. Crowds of shouting, laughing children milled about at the street corner. It was Halloween. There would be no tricks to-night, but there would be plenty of treats.

"Go in there!" shouted Amy to a group across the street, pointing to a little yellow house. "They've got lots of good stuff."

The hordes of children scampered up and down the street, piling goodies into their bottomless bags, apples, cookies, candy, popcorn. There was much more than even the greediest could eat. In the bags sticky candy stuck to cookies, apples rolled around and crushed the brittle crackers.

Amy was seven, a leader in her group. She had on a charming little ballet dancer costume and pirouetted herself about the neighborhood collecting loot until her bag was almost heavier than she could carry. Finally she arrived home, tired, happy, pleased with her success, dumped the contents on the dining room table — a crumbly, sticky mass. Mother admired her accomplishments, sent her up to bed, cleaned up the mess and threw it all in the trash.

This little episode will be repeated thousands of times over on Halloween this year.

Haven't we adults gone to rather a ridiculous extreme in diverting our children from tricks or treats?

Time was when Halloween meant pranks and damage from these same hordes of celebrating youngsters. It was a good move when householders invited the children in for pleasant fun instead of trying to board up their property against pranking hoodlums.

The emphasis has changed now.

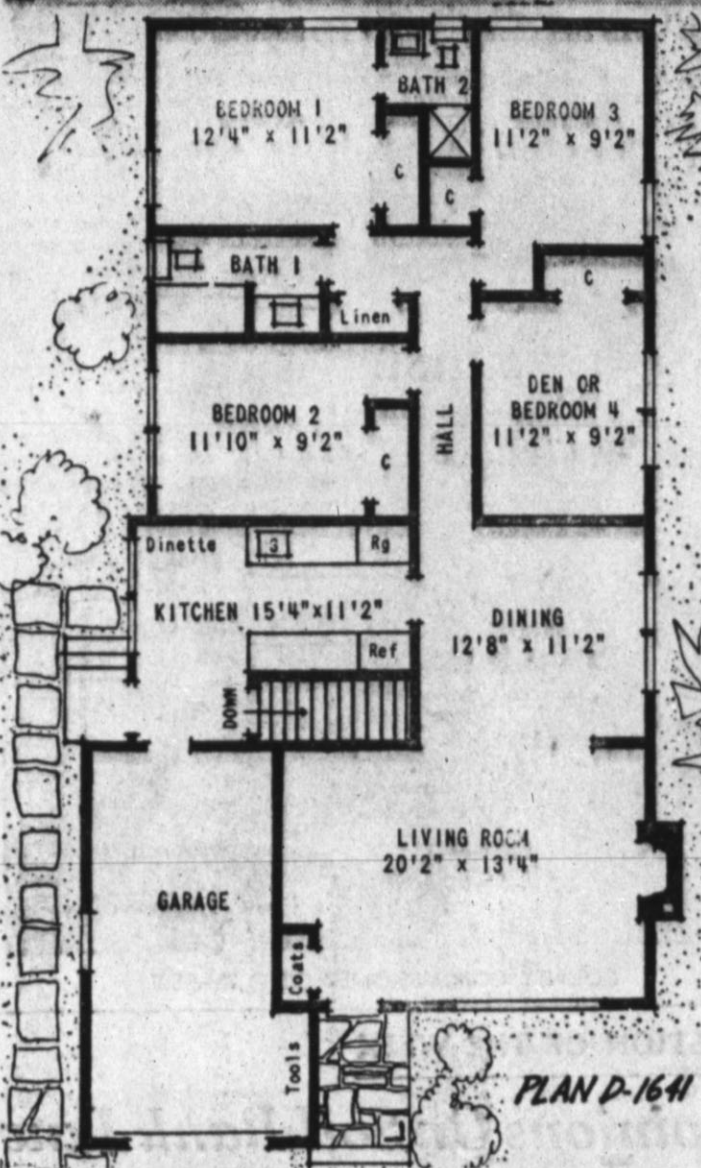

Very few of the dressed up Halloweening children have any desire to chalk up windows, let the air out of tires, or molest garbage pails. Their goal now is to get the most possible in those huge paper bags. It's volume and it's prestige they want, not the things they collect. But what a waste! All those goodies mashed together and finally thrown away.

In increasing numbers families and neighborhoods are getting together to prevent this wanton waste.

Let the children dress up and visit the neighbors on Halloween. Let them have a few goodies — what they can eat on the premises. For the rest let them collect pennies or possibly nickels — all of which go to some central place to be spent for some good cause. Prestige will come with collecting the most, as before, but pennies and nickels will not become an odorous sticky glob or rubbish. Contributions can be made to anyone of a hundred or so national or international agencies, or maybe used for some local project, a new projector for the school, new equipment for the gym or the cafeteria or books for the library. There is no community that doesn't need something.

In your community get together with your P-TA and plan a Hallo-

FOUR BEDROOMS and a built-in garage designed to fit on a 40-foot lot make this plan the answer to family needs in centrally located neighborhoods where land is an item. With a floor area of only 1,250 square feet, this should be an economical house to build. Width including garage is only 31½ feet; depth 58 feet. ### State Fair Drew Nearly 3 Million

The State Fair of Texas established its recognized position as the largest annual fair in America by running up a record-breaking 2,672,253 attendance for the 16 days of the 1956 exposition.

The gigantic total exceeded by 60,982 the national attendance record of 2,611,271, established by the fair last year in 16 days and 17 nights, one more evening than the ween that's fun for the children and useful instead of wasteful for your community.

1956 fair included. Another record was also set by the fair. Total proceeds of the important Junior Livestock and Poultry Auction Sales were the highest in history.

A total of $208,221.56 will go to the boys and girls from all over Texas who sold their steers, pigs, lambs, turkeys and broilers during the fair's auction sales. This is $35,558 more than the 1955 total of $172,663.

Junior Must Have Practice Desire, Thinks Liberace

HOLLYWOOD — All children should enjoy their piano-practicing, declares Liberace, and if not, it's usually the parents' fault.

For generations, parents have been using the wrong approach on their piano-learning youngsters, using a figurative club instead of proper psychology, according to the popular pianist.

For the millions of American fathers and mothers who despair daily because Junior and Sis consider piano-practicing an ordeal instead of a pleasure, Liberace has some interesting comments and suggestions.

Until recent years, a youngster taking piano lessons was taught to practice on the classics only. If he deviated from the rules, and indicated a preference for popular music, he was told he was doing wrong.

"That, definitely, is bad psychology," contends Liberace. "It also makes music-haters out of many potentially fine piano-players, and they give up before they have a chance to prove their abilities."

"Music should be something youngsters approach with enthusiasm rather than as a chore. And what applies to the piano is equally applicable to other musical instruments."

"It's often much better if they first become familiarized with music and instrumental techniques through the medium of popular melodies, taking up the classical later on."

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH

National Stamp Collecting Week this year (Nov. 12-18) which pays homage to the children of America will reach its culmination with the annual American Stamp Dealers' Assn. national stamp show.

The highlight of the show itself will be the first day issuance of two new U. S. international postal cards—a 4 cent single and an 8 cent reply-paid double—on Nov. 16.

The new 4 cent post card will conform in dimension and style to the present international card except for the stamp and printing in the upper left corner. It will read "United States of America" in both English and French. The 4 cent stamp will be identical to the 8 cent Statue of Liberty "In God We Trust" adhesive except the frame will be in red and central subject in blue.

Stamp collectors desiring first day cancellations of both cards should send their orders prior to Nov. 16 to the Postmaster at New York 1, N. Y., plainly indicating full name and address, with remittance to cover the face value of the cards.

The envelope to the Postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers."

The A.S.D.A. show promises to be the best in the long history of its philatelic exhibitions. This year a special feature will be a display of the proofs of all U.S. postal adhesives with every proof bearing the autograph of the postmaster general during whose administration the stamp was issued. This will be the first time that all of these proofs will have been brought together for such purposes. In addition to this display there will be more than 1 million dollars worth of postal paper from official archives in Washington.

In last week's column I discussed the new two franc stamp by Railway line. Now Luxembourg has issued a new adhesive honoring the same subject with a different design. The Luxembourg stamp a two fr brown, depicts the railway station at Luxembourg as seen through the window of a train compartment.

Here is the case of a country issuing a set of special stamps well in advance of the celebration date. Although 1957 is the anniversary date for Mexico's constitution centennial, a set of five stamps has just been issued. The lower three values are for regular mail. The higher two are airmails. More stamps in this set can be expected.

Four stamps will be issued on Nov. 1 by North Borneo to commemorate the 75th anniversary of the founding of the old Chartered Company of North Borneo. The designs include a portrait of Queen Elizabeth together with the inscription "Charter 1st November 1881." The 10 cent shows the North Borneo Railway in 1902, 15 c a native Prah, 35 c Mount Kinabalu and 1 dollar the Arms of the chartered company.

Australia reports changes in its stamps to be issued for the Olympic Games. A 4 pence adhesive will be issued instead of the originally planned 3 pence. The change was necessitated due to alterations in postal rates. Booklets containing the 4 pence stamps will not be issued.

STAMP NOTES... Canada has issued a special stamp to emphasize its fire prevention program. The 5 cents black and red depicts a sketch of a house engulfed in flames. . . . Hungary's Olympic Games set consists of eight new stamps, reports the New York Stamp Co. Depicted are: soccer match, weight lifter, equestrian event, basketball, fencing, sculling, womens' hurdling and gymnastics. . . . Vol. II of the New World Wide Stamp Catalogue (Minkus Publications) containing 640 pages is available for $5.

How Can I?

Q. How can I make a good shampoo?

A. An excellent shampoo can be made by grinding a little cornmeal as fine as possible, then adding a small quantity of pulverized orris-root. Sprinkle this well over the scalp. Let it remain a few minutes and then brush out thoroughly.

Q. How can I remove a glass that has become stuck in another?

A. Pour cold water in the upper one to contract it, and then immerse the lower one in warm water to expand it. They can then be easily separated.

Q. How can I prevent jelly and preserves from burning?

A. To prevent burning and to keep them from sticking to the bottom of the preserving kettle, rub the utensil with butter.

Q. How can I arrange short stemmed flowers satisfactorily?

A. They can be arranged neatly in a dish by covering a small embroidery hoop with mosquito netting, adding water, and placing the stems in position through the meshes of the net.

Q. How can I scour water faucets?

A. They can be scored with a slice of lemon, after the juice has been extracted. Then wash them and polish with a soft cloth.

Try Clever Costume For Stylish Spooks

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Even Halloween costumes are up to new tricks.

Mothers accustomed to raiding the ragbag for materials to stitch up outfits for junior spooks and witches now get an unexpected assist from the medicine cabinet. The new colorful star-studded plastic strip bandages make gay trimmings for small-fry costumes.

Local sewing center experts suggest making a witch costume by stitching up a basic smock out of inexpensive black cotton fabric. Use a commercial pattern or cut the front and back of the dress in a T-shape and sew side seams together. Use a drawing to shape the neck.

Make a triangular orange shawl and edge the shawl with the new decorative plastic bandages. Cut between the bandages to make a scalloped effect. Trim the belt with more bandages, baste patches on the skirt and use the plastic strips to hold down the edges.

Make a witch's hat from heavy black paper and trim it with bandages.

The plastic strips are made with pure, non-toxic colors and are safe as well as gay. They may be used to trim other costumes. And if the small trick-or-treat fans should happen to fall down and skin a knee on Halloween, they will have plenty of first-aid bandages handy, right on their costumes.

UP-TO-DATE WITCH—Her costume can be whipped up in a jiffy on the sewing machine and trimmed with the gay new colored, star-studded plastic bandages.

Camp Fire Girls Study Cooking

Practicing what they had learned in their last lesson was the feature of the Wee Tah Ni Ke Camp Fire meeting held at the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. building on Wednesday. Mrs. Dorothy Brown demonstrated the making of brownies to the girls last week, and they met at the utilities building to make cookies themselves for this week's meeting.

Leaders who attended the cooking lesson with the girls were Mrs. A. B. Higgins and Mrs. Luther Lesly.

Members present were Barbara Woody, Pat Ranspot, Clea Kay Potter, Jane Heard, Betty Huckert, Carol Ann Northcutt, Viola Encin-

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Ask ACP Include Deferred Grazing

By JIM WIMAN

The requirements for compliance with the conservation reserve phase of the soil bank program for Deaf Smith County are about ready for release. When completed they will be placed in a county soil bank handbook.

The details of the program, which is essentially a grass seeding program designed to make needed land use adjustments and take land out of production until it is needed, were worked out at a meeting of designated groups and individuals on Wednesday morning.

County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committeemen W. N. Hodges, Buren Sowell and Clinton Jackson, along with members of the board of supervisors of the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District, Luther Lesly, Ira Scott, Hardy Benson and Charles Hoover were farmers working on the handbook. Also helping with the details were Faust Collier, Hugh Clearman and myself. You can expect the handbook's release in the very near future. It will let you know just what you have to do with land placed in the conservation reserve portion of the soil bank and will tell you how much of the cost of doing the work will be paid by the government.

ACP Program

At the same meeting, practices were selected for inclusion in the 1957 Agricultural Conservation Program for the county. Only minor changes were made from the current year's program. The construction of dams for livestock water to permit better distribution of grazing on range land was added to the program for 1957 for the first time in several years.

Dropped from the program of last year was the practice of seeding both winter legumes and summer legumes. This was not done because of a lack of importance of such seedings but because the group felt that a cost-share payment had little to do with the extent to which the practice is carried out.

Grass Restoration

Recognizing that rangeland in the county has, because of extended drought, taken quite a beating for the last few years, the group discussed at length what might be done to restore grass on such lands. It was pointed out by Lesly that grass tends to make root growth in proportion to the top growth it is permitted to make. This being the case, it seemed reasonable that grass needs a chance to grow when rains come.

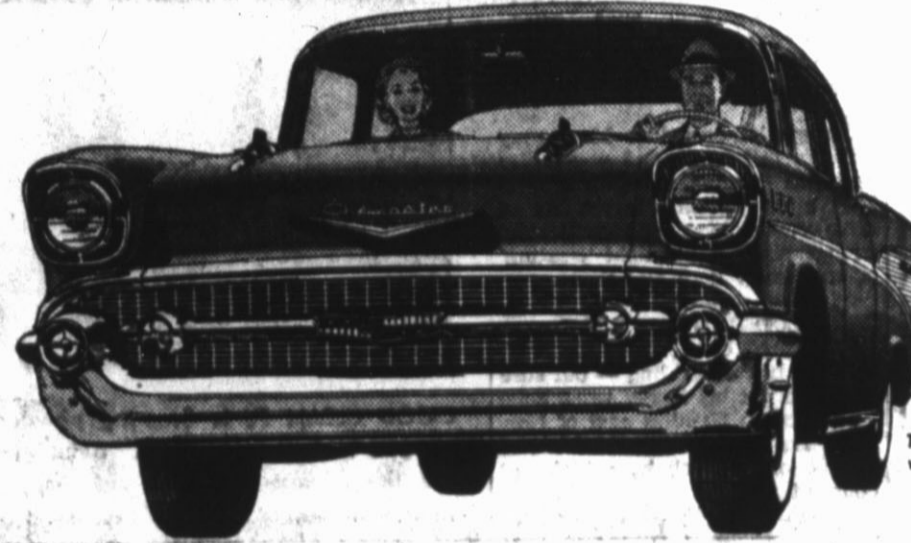

This will mean holding livestock off for a period of time to give the grass a rest and a chance to develop good top growth and new root growth. To encourage the deferment of grazing on rangeland of the county, the group will attempt to include an incentive cost-share payment for such a practice in the 1957 program.

Since the practice is not included in the list of those approved for the state, it will require special approval. It was not felt, however, that such approval would be difficult to obtain. It is expected that if included, it will carry a cost-share payment of about a dollar per acre if cattle are kept off during the entire growing season.

COUNTY SEAT FOR TWO JACKSON, Miss.—Nine of Mississippi's 82 counties have two county seats each, complete with courthouse and full staff.

The two major reasons for two-seated counties were inaccessibility because of bad roads or lack of roads and just plain old bickering over location of the county seat.

Your home, you say, is 1956 all the way through... and, well it might be... but, then again, the wiring may be of 1926 vintage. True, electrical contractors, builders and others interested in your welfare are making special efforts these days to put 1956 wiring in the newer homes. But, there's many a home, modern to the hilt... except for the wiring. So, if your home was built prior to 1956 and you'd like to bring it up-to-date, it takes just a telephone call to talk to a qualified electrical contractor. After he's finished working you'll have a home that will be electrically modern for years to come. Too, you'll be able to use all the exciting electric appliances now on the market... and yet to be discovered.

Window Soaping Goes Arty

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The season of pumpkins, turkeys, goblins and ghosts stirs up every youngster's imagination.

Better than that, Fall activities manage to keep little ones busy from "trick-or-treat" time to the Thanksgiving dinner fun.

One fun project for a group of youngsters that will keep them busy and interested for a good while is "snow painting." All that is needed is a "palette" of soap or detergent suds and a glass "canvas" for the young artists. The "snow" may be whipped up in a jiffy, and the result may even be some nice clean windows or mirrors.

Here's the way it works:

Beat up a large amount of soap or detergent with a small amount of water to stiff, meringue-like peaks. Then let the young fry go to town creating masterpieces by "painting" the mixture over windows, mirrors or even glass table tops, drawing out pictures with a brush.

Another variation requires a thin paste-like mixture made by stirring scouring powder with water. Spread a film of it over a window pane or mirror, then let the youngster set wet fingers or paint brushes to "etch" their drawings. Turkeys, pumpkins and barnyard animals are favorite fun. For more elaborate creations, suds "snow" or scouring powder "paint" may be tinted with food coloring for more realistic pictures and etchings.

On special occasions Mom may arrange fall fruits and vegetables such as pumpkins, gourds and squash on autumn leaves for a table centerpiece, and invite the youngsters to add a light "frothing" of suds snow here and there.

FLOODING BUT SURE
NORMAN, Okla. — Thad K. Holstein has a plodding but sure way to get his heavy work done on his ranch 17 miles east of Norman. The rancher owns a team of trained oxen which he exhibits at county fairs — and also hires up for farm work.

GOOD CLEAN FUN—Scouring powder and water mixed to a paste makes a wonderful "paint" for youngsters. Let them use the mixture on glass surfaces, and paint designs with their wet fingers or paint brushes.

Drouth Bad Over All Of Texas; Plagues Cowmen

College Station — Records from the 27 agricultural experiment stations and field laboratories of the Texas A&M College System show that none received normal rainfall for the crop year, Sept. 1, 1955 through August, 1956, and several got less than half their normal fall.

Statewide, A. H. Walker, extension range specialist, says this is the worst drouth situation in history because most areas in the state have had several years in succession of below normal rainfall. It has made the job of keeping grass supplies ahead of livestock a tough one.

Tall Figuring Needed
Walker says drouths are common to the state and ranchmen must include in their management plans provisions to take care of them, but when 6, 7 or 8 years of prolonged drouth must be reckoned with, some really tall figuring must be used.

He suggests steps which ranchmen can take during drouth periods. If some forage is left on the range, distribute the livestock so as to obtain uniform use of all forage. A thorough job of culling and selection should be done in an effort to balance feed and livestock numbers.

Supplement Required
For the foundation herd, which is about all that remains on many ranches, Walker suggests feeding for the best possible calf or lamb crop. This means, he adds, that enough forage must be supplied for both maintenance and reproduction. It takes a good calf or lamb crop to pay off loans so protein and vitamin A should be provided. In some areas phosphorus supplements are needed.

Cheap Roughages
Walker suggests that low value roughages such as cottonseed hulls, oat straw, peanut hulls and others be used to replace a part of the more expensive roughages.

If no range forage is available, livestock should be kept in a small pasture for feeding. There is no point in letting the stock do further damage to depleted ranges by trampling the dry grass stubble.

If conditions warrant, small grain pastures should be planted. Local county agents can supply a copy of "Range Management versus Drouth." It should be a help in planning future operations.
