Boy Electrocuted Monday While Flying Model Plane

A LAMESA BOY working on his uncle's farm near Hereford this summer was electrocuted Monday when the control line to the model plane he was flying hit a 7200-volt high line. Dayle Reid, 18, was rushed to Deaf Smith County Hospital after the accident, but he was dead on arrival. Artificial respiration failed to revive him as he was driven to the hospital. The accident occurred 2 1/2 miles west of Hereford on the Jack Fambrough farm, where Mr. Reid had been working for his uncle, O. O. Reid.

According to reports of the accident, which happened at about 7 p.m., Mr. Reid had been controlling his model plane with a homemade wooden handle, through which a control wire anchor passed

Rush Begins at ASC Office Here

The big, annual rush at the U. S. Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office began this week as farmers started applying for loan on their wheat. According to one worker in the office, 573 applications had been handled by noon yesterday, and the total expected by the Jan. 31 deadline will be between 1,500 and 2,000. Loan rate on the farm this week, for No. 1 wheat, is $1.83, and elevator loan is approximately $1.72. Maturity date is Mar. 31, 1959.

To obtain the loan, farmers take their warehouse receipts to the ASC office, fill out a loan form, the office workers make out a draft which is taken to the banks, and there they are paid.

HHS Athlete in Shooting Mishap

A snake-hunting trip on Tierra Blanca Creek ended with the infliction of a .22 rifle slug in the left ankle of C. D. Fitzgerald Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Fitzgerald Sr., Monday evening.

The 17-year-old fullback on the Hereford Whitefaces football team is still in Deaf Smith County Hospital, but the injury is not believed to be serious, according to the attending physician.

According to the several companions with him at the time of the accident, he and the group were hunting snakes on a rubber raft in Tierra Blanca Creek several miles east of Hereford. Fitzgerald had just shot a water moccasin and the .22 rifle he was using fell from his hands and went off, inflicting the wound a half inch below the ankle.

The slug is still imbedded in his ankle, but the physician said if it gave him no trouble later, an operation would not be required.

Immediately after the accident, which happened about 7 p.m., three of his companions, Bill Drake, Carl Zimmerman and Bobby Shelton, helped him to a car and drove him to Deaf Smith County Hospital. He will be in the hospital a few days, according to the physician.

Fitzgerald will be a senior at Hereford High next fall, and is a fullback on the Whitefaces squad. He has been working at Parker Bros. Planing Mill, Inc., this summer. He and his parents live at 806 Miles. Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald operate Master Cleaners.

Potato Shippers Start Fight for Better Market

Potato shippers representing more than 35 businesses in Plainview, Dimmitt, Muleshoe, Hereford and other towns banded together at a meeting in Hotel Jim Hill Saturday evening, passing a six-point resolution under which better selling prices are insured. The shippers felt, it was expressed during the meeting, that "rollers," shipments of produce sent to a market center for sale rather than being sold before shipping, were the cause of lowered market price in the past. No "rollers" will move from the area this season, they voted. This is the first attempt of the sort in the local vegetable history.

Not only will the new method prevent "rollers," but a constant check on marketed man and shipments from the area is being kept. This will prevent the digging of potatoes when shipment is needed.

Handling the central office for all clearances is Austin Anson, executive vice president and general manager of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers, from Harlingen. Anson has set up office in the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce conference room in Hotel Jim Hill. "I think it's wonderful that the Chamber would take the interest in this thing as it has. It has been most helpful and advantageous for us," he stated.

"This group feels it has the opportunity to have the best potato market since 1956. If the growers and shippers will work together, they will all benefit. The job can't be accomplished just by the shipper; the grower must do his part, too," he said.

Continuing, Anson stated "I wouldn't venture to guess what the prices will be, but it should be very, very satisfactory. The trade is very anxious to secure well matured — spuds with good skin — potatoes, so it will behoove everyone to dig only those potatoes which are well matured."

"THESE WHITE potatoes with red eyes ruined the market for many years, just because some 'eager beavers' got them on the market too early — before they could mature."

Anson told, during an interview Tuesday, of a most disastrous situation just finished in the valley, where a "most beautiful crop of tomatoes you ever saw" was a total flop because of the shippers down there sending out rollers.

"You get good quality, sell it before you roll it, and the price will take care of itself," he said, and gave the Laredo area's onion harvest as an example; three years the no-roller system "wied, three years a good market."

"I'll be here as long as the shippers need me," he said. Every shipper in the district is calling Anson on the phone each morning, and some more often.

At last report from his office yesterday afternoon a

ON THE OIL SCENE

Humble Well Is Started Monday

DRILLING OPERATIONS swung into high gear Monday at the Humble Oil and Refining Co. well, and geologists at the F. H. Lindsay No. 1 well Monday said they expected to be drilling in granite wash some time this weekend.

Drilling at the Humble well was at 1500 feet Tuesday evening. A total of 300 feet of surface pipe has been set at the well, and drilling should go faster now, according to Joe Renauer. The well is located on the Reinauer Bros. property, 35 miles west of Hereford near the New Mexico state line.

A layer of practically 100 per cent limestone was penetrated Tuesday at the Lindsay well, and drilling Wednesday morning was in shale (Continued On Page 5)

Walking Woman Struck by Auto

THREE ACCIDENTS injured one pedestrian and damaged three vehicles in Hereford Saturday through Monday.

The first accident happened at 9:02 p.m. Saturday on the 100 block of Main, and involved Don Ray Veige, 23, 501 E. Third, and Mrs. Oralia Cortez, 20, 404 Schley St.

Damage to the Veige car was $30, and $80 damage was reported on the Cortez car. Mrs. Cortez was issued a ticket for following too close and for having no driver's license.

Concepcion Garcia, 14, 317 Ave. I, was taken to Deaf Smith County Hospital after being hit by a car Sunday at 6:30 p.m. on Grand Ave., 100 feet off Ave. H. She was released shortly afterward.

Driver of the car, police said, was Lee Carl West, 48, 206 Ave. I.

An accident at 4:10 p.m. Monday on Park Ave., 50 feet west of Blevins, involved Bobby Gene Provenge, 18, Box 455, and Mrs. Peggy Nixon Heney, 22, Rt. 1. Provenge was driving a city-owned two-ton truck and no damage was reported on the vehicle. Mrs. Heney was driving a pick-up, owned by A. F. Huckert, Rt. 2, and damage was reported at $40.

Commissioners Studying Proposed Sewer Rate Hike

A SUGGESTED HIKE of 40 cents on sewer rates was discussed at the City Commission meeting Monday night, but no immediate action was taken.

Reason for the suggested hike, they said, was to take care of bond retirement and to help pay for the new trickling filter system installed this year. Also, water revenue has been low because of recent rains.

The present sewer rate is 60 cents for residences. The commission did not decide whether or not commercial sewage rates would be affected at the present time if the suggested rate hike goes into effect.

Installation of runway lighting at Hereford Airport also was discussed at the meeting. It was suggested that a flying farmers system of lighting be used on the project, as it would cost only $800 or $900 and would light 2000 feet of the runway.

One commissioner suggested placing lights at the ends of the runway also, but no action was taken pending further estimates.

A three-man tax equalization board was appointed by commissioners, but names of those appointed have not been revealed as the men appointed have not yet been contacted. Names of the new board members will be announced later.

Services Monday For Mr. Price

Final Rites for Mr. W. H. Price, 86, of 322 Ave. B, were held Monday at 10 a.m. in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home. Burial was in West Park Cemetery.

Mr. Price died Saturday in Deaf Smith County Hospital. The Rev. Doyle Chapin, minister of the Church of Christ at Amherst, and E. Ramey of Hereford officiated at the services.

Mr. Price was born Nov. 14, 1871, in Ravenna. Survivors are his wife, Cora, of Hereford; two sons, Ralph of Black and Roy of Canyon; a daughter, Mrs. Lena Fleming of Ector; a brother, John Price of Ravenna; and seven grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

BrandPlaces In Contest

In an announcement from the National Editorial Association received yesterday morning it was learned that The Hereford Brand has been named second place Best News Story winner for 1957 in the category for newspapers over 2,000 circulation.

This marks the second time The Brand has won a plaque in as many years in the huge, 2,043 entries this year, contest. Last year a first place was won in the General Excellence division. The paper was automatically disqualified for entering the same category this year.

Judging was made on an entry covering the blizzard which occurred in March, 1957. Reporter Sterlin Holmsley was given credit for the winning story, however, former editor Roy Clark assisted him in the coverage.

The Redford Observer of Detroit, Mich., placed first ahead of The Brand.

Commentary by the judges was: "HEREFORD BRAND. Massive news play won second for Reporter Holmsley on a Texas blizzard that 'brought one death, an unusual birth, blocked roads' etc. to Hereford area. Holmsley must have gone all-out to gather facts on dozens of families and communities and no reader should have needed any answers to what happened. Especially good, was a lead under the main deck telling of an attempt to get insulin to his diabetic son."

Only two other area newspapers were listed as winners in the contest. The Canyon News placed second and the State Line Tribune of Farwell placed as one of three honorable mentions in Excellence in Typography, under a division for weeklies under 2,000 circulation.

The board voted to raise the wages of Mrs. L. J. Clark, accountant and bookkeeper in the school tax assessor-collector's office, from $250 to $300 monthly.

On the school's program of special education, superintendent Cunningham told the board the program had been accepted and applauded by the state department of education. "Acceptance of the program means savings to the district of about $7,000," Cunningham told the board. The state pays for almost all expenses for special education.

CUNNINGHAM ALSO said the state department had asked for several additional copies of a bound publication prepared by the local school on its policies of special education for districts (Continued On Page 5)

RELAXING—Patrolman C. L. Lynch of the Hereford Police Department takes time out at his home, 113 Ave. F, to enjoy his newspaper. Lynch, who has just been in Hereford a little over three weeks, says he really likes the town. "The people are nice and friendly." He and his wife, Geneva (in the picture on his right), moved to Hereford from Amarillo. They have four children. (Staff Photo)

ABOUT OUR LAW OFFICERS

Admiration Leads to Life as Policeman

By DAVID STOKER

"I ALWAYS ADMIRED policemen and it inspired me to be one," says C. L. Lynch, patrolman of the Hereford Police Department.

Lynch, a soft-spoken young man who has been working here only about three weeks, seems to be a man who moves a lot. But now that he is in Hereford he seems to have finally found him a home.

"The people here are nice and friendly and the whole town is courteous. I really like it," he says.

He was born Feb. 23, 1926, in Delwin, Tex., the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lynch Sr. Lynch grew up at Delwin and went to school ten years there. Two years of his high schooling were spent at Valley View, a community near Delwin. In high school Lynch took an active part in athletics, being a three year letterman in baseball and basketball.

Following high school Lynch took his turn with the U. S. Army. He served for about two years from April 15, 1945 to Dec. 29, 1946. Serving with the Occupational Forces in Korea, Lynch saw 15 months of overseas duty mostly in Korea.

He returned to Delwin after the service and started farming. He farmed until 1949 when he entered Hardin-Simmons University, majoring in physical education.

Never completing college,

Lynch packed his bags and moved to Sweetwater and began working for a sheetrock company. After about one year with the company, he decided to take up farming again, this time at Roaring Springs, Tex. For one year he gave farming his best try but couldn't make a go of it.

"I wasn't much at farming, almost went broke," he says with a laugh.

It was at this time, about 1952, that Lynch finally found his type of work. He moved to Amarillo and found work as a patrolman on the Amarillo Police Department. For four years, nine months and 15 days he was a steady employee.

But the road must have called him again or apparently he was tired of the work and thought he could find something better. He left the department and found him a job with a local contracting company in Amarillo. It didn't last long. Soon the badge caught up with him, and he had to get back to enforcing the law. This is when he moved to Hereford and began working for the police department here.

Lynch is a man who really enjoys the great outdoors. "I like hunting and fishing and just about any sport. Back in Amarillo we had our own baseball team, and I used to really enjoy playing," he says.

Lynch and his wife, Geneva, currently make their home at 113 Ave. F. Married in November of 1947, they have four children, Mike, 9; Tommie, 8; Vicki Lynn, 6; and Wayne, 4.

OFF THE Shelf

By V. J. SANDERS

Anatomy of a Murder, by Robert Traver, is listed as a Best Seller by the New York Times Book Review. It is a story written in first person about a small town lawyer and his big murder case.

This book is not in the class of a murder mystery because the reader knows who killed who and why from the first two pages. Rather it is a step-by-step analysis of a murder trial, but it cannot in any sense be compared with the melodramatic slush of Agatha Christie.

Traver is a lawyer, a real lawyer, and the reader is in his mind at all times.

The book contains no unbelievable twists to build up false expectations, and yet the simple, step-by-step construction of the story slowly and surely introduces its own type of mounting tension.

From the very beginning when we become acquainted with Paul Biegler, we follow the intricate mechanisms of his trained thinking. We gather countless bits of information, discard those we cannot use, and enlarge upon those that might have some bearing on our case. With Biegler, we reason the effect of every question and answer before we speak, we phrase each sentence so that it will receive the perfect answer for our case. And with Biegler, we suffer the set-backs, the elation, the constant insecurity that is his.

The whole plot of the story is this: Lieutenant Frederic Manion walked into a bar one night and shot and killed the owner, Barney Quill. He claims that more than an hour before the murder occurred, Quill had criminally assaulted his wife, Laura Manion.

Paul Biegler takes the case for the defense and after thorough investigations, decides that his client will plea temporary insanity.

The real threat to the whole case for the defense rests in whether or not to believe the Lieutenant's wife in her claim of Quill's attack. And yet, even if it is true, it cannot help the case, because Lt. Manion was not a witness, and to put more fat in the fire, he waited a full hour before he went after Barney Quill.

The actual trial covers little more than half of the book — and that trial is one blast after another.

To start the whole thing off, Biegler and the prosecuting attorney suddenly acquire an intense dislike for each other, and this dislike is the introduction of one of the most interesting parts of the book. The reader is kept on his toes seeing through the acid, sarcastic (and often humorous) remarks that these two lawyers throw at one another.

That is all that can be told about the book — within the realms of time, patience and, oh, yes, space.

But in addition to its being a wonderfully close-knit, smooth-running plot, the reader is surprised when he realizes what a brilliant lawyer Paul Biegler is, despite his humble way of telling the story.

Read Anatomy of a Murder. You'll have a treat and a threat to a layman's idea of the law.

TELEPHONE TALK

by W. L. Leavy, Manager

EXPERIMENT WITH DDD

Have you wondered if we will someday be able to dial person-to-person and collect calls the way we are now dialing other long distance calls? Well, it looks like we may be able to do it before too long.

Experiments are being conducted in two cities now to see how people like the idea. This is the way it would work: If you wanted to call Joe Smith in Amarillo, you would dial "0" first. Then 806 for Amarillo and the rest of the number. While the switches are working and the call is going through, the operator would come on the line. She would ask you whom you wished to speak to. She would stay on the line until Joe Smith is reached, and then begin timing the calls. Collect and credit plan calls would work the same way.

Remember, we don't have this system yet in Hereford, but if it works satisfactorily in the test cities, I'm betting Hereford will get it too.

TIP FOR BUSINESSMEN

Ever try answering your out-of-town mail with long distance calls instead of letters? Nothing can beat long distance when it comes to getting things done.

Just the other day, for example, I had three or four letters on my desk, all waiting to be answered. I just couldn't seem to get to them. Finally, I picked up the telephone and called the people. In 20 minutes I was through. I must have saved myself at least an hour's work.

Try doing it that way yourself. When you do, I think you'll like the quick action you get—as well as the small amount it costs.

DRESS UP YOUR KITCHEN

A lot of people who have remodeled their kitchen add a finishing touch by ordering a wall telephone in color to blend with the new color scheme.

You don't have to remodel, of course... a wall telephone in color will brighten your present kitchen—let you reach for the telephone and bake a cake at the same time.

There are seven attractive colors... light gray, cherry red, white, moss green, ivory, pastel yellow, and light beige. Table model telephones are available in all these colors, too, plus aqua blue and rose pink. Call the telephone company today to put more color in your kitchen—or any other room in your home.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

OUR CORNER

A mother, annoyed because her 14-year-old daughter had been calling her boy friends too frequently, took a tip from a former war-time advertisement and posted a sign over the telephone: Is this call necessary?

Next day there appeared, pencilled on the card, a brief but logical reply: How can I tell 'til I've made it?

Elders Son Has Tough Row to Hoe

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D. "ED IS THE MOST difficult child in our family. He always has been. He's 15 now. He is forever hurting Sally's feelings and he can't pass by Tom without giving him a punch that more often than not leads to a fight. We can't get him to do a bit of work around the house and his grades aren't very good in school."

What a list of complaints about one boy! Let's look at what Ed has to say about his family. He has a list of complaints too. "Sally, she's Dad's favorite. Dad thinks she is just about perfect. Why can't I get good grades like Sally? Why can't I be polite like Sally? Why don't I keep my room neat the way Sally does? Namby-pamby little sissy - I wouldn't be like her for a million dollars."

"As for Tom, he's a brat. He's always getting into my things and Mom won't do a thing to stop him. He broke one of my best jazz records the other day. I'd told him never to touch them - and all Mom did was to say, 'Accidents will happen.' They expect me to do all the chores - I'm supposed to cut the lawn, wash the car, clean the cellar. "I'm the eldest, they say, and I should take some responsibility for the home. Maybe I'm the oldest but there's nothing the matter with those other kids, and they don't have to do a thing."

"And something else" - when Ed gets going his abuses at the home just pour out of him - "They try to treat me like a baby. Where are you going, Ed? Be sure to be back on time." "Ed, its time to go to bed." "Ed, wear your rubbers." It's sickening."

What is the real trouble in Ed's family and what can he do about it? Probably some of the trouble started long ago - too late now to go back and change. But perhaps if there's a bit more understanding on the part of both Ed and his parents of how things come about it will help to improve family relationships now.

For the first three years of Ed's life he was an only child and had the undivided attention not only of his parents, but of his grandparents as well. Then along came Sally and all of a sudden Ed had to share his most precious possessions (his family) with this intruder. To this day he hasn't gotten over his jealousy of Sally. It hasn't made it any easier for him that his parents hold Sally up as an example of perfection to him. This only increases his resentment against her.

Ed needs to be appreciated at home for what he is. He is a good athlete, crazy about baseball. He is interested in mechanics, wants a car of his own as soon as he's old enough for a driver's license. His father says no teen-ager of his will ever have an old jalopy.

Ed's parents need to do a job in making him feel more worthwhile. They need to build him up and let him know they think he is a good kid.

Ed himself is old enough to understand that much of his resentment is not really based on fact as it is today. His sister does have some good points and she's tremendously proud of her big brother's record on the baseball team. Brags about him to all her friends. She's as much interested in jazz as he is and with a little real effort on both their parts they might discover that each was not only bearable but even quite decent.

Tigers Climb to Tie With Red Sox

The frisky, red-hot Tigers took over a share of first place Monday night in Pony League play as they outscored the last place White Sox, 10-9. Now tied with the Red Sox, who dropped the Indians, the Tigers were led to victory on the bat of third baseman Joe Mack Hale. Hale picked up three hits in three times at bat, scoring one run and blasting across five. His hits consisted of two doubles and a single.

The White Sox led most of the way, scoring their nine runs early in the game, but the steady scoring of the Tigers was too much. RED SOX ace Gary Kendrick cooled the big bats of the Indians and tossed a pretty three-hitter as the Red Sox dumped the Indians Tuesday night, 5-4.

Righthander Kendrick went all the way and had little trouble. Only in the last inning did the Indians threaten. They scored three runs before Kendrick could stop them and take home his win.

The win placed the Red Sox into a first place tie with Tigers and dropped the Indians into second. pluck up 2 boxes and standings RED SOX (5)

Export Agency Set By Grain Producers

An export marketing program to expand sales abroad U. S. grain farmers was announced today by 19 major producer-owned regional marketing associations.

The new enterprise climaxes more than a century of program and institutional growth and development by American grain producers working together in the field of marketing.

One-Hundred and two years ago farmers organized the first local marketing association at Madison, Wis. More than 2,500 successful local associations are now in existence. These have more than 3,000 elevators with storage capacity in excess of 820 million bushels.

Most of these later were formed into regional marketing associations to create and expand markets for farmers at the regional and national levels.

The regional associations now have storage space in excess of 215 million bushels. Together the local and regional associations have aggregate warehousing space in excess of a billion bushels.

Most of the grain storage facilities are in the form of tall steel and concrete elevators which are a characteristic feature of the landscape in the principal wheat, corn, soybean, oats, rye, barley and grain sorghum-producing areas of the nation.

In all, more than one million farmers now utilize their associations for grain merchandising and storage services in all of the principal grain and oilseed producing areas.

Producers Export Company will establish headquarters in New York City and maintain agents in all of the principal nations which import grain and oilseeds. A staff to operate the agency is now being recruited to be headed by a general manager of the export firm.

Truck Driver Is Fatally Injured

A newly-hired truck driver, Burke Inman, 239 Ave. E., was fatally injured early Saturday morning on the highway between Tulla and Silton when another truck struck him.

The driver of the other truck was Albert Lee, 34-year-old of Tulla. His wife is in "pretty condition" in the Tulla hospital.

The driver of the other truck is also in the Tulla hospital but is considered still in good condition.

Inman was employed as a waiter at the Villa Cafe for a year and a half. He was driving a truck for the firm when he was struck.

The truck was owned by Mrs. Allen Sunday. She and her husband were on the highway 19 miles west of Tulla because of electrical trouble in the truck. Two agents in all of the principal nations which import grain and oilseeds. A staff to operate the agency is now being recruited to be headed by a general manager of the export firm.

LEN WAS hauling a load of Renfro potatoes to Muskogee, Okla., at the time of the accident. He was taking his wife to her parents' home in Muskogee, and she was to stay with them until his return.

Inman had driven on four trips before the accident. He had hauled two loads of potatoes from the Muskogee area.

Mrs. Inman said late Tuesday that she had yet been found. They found, however, that he had been born in Kansas City. He also inlisted in 1941 and discharged in 1947 from the same city.

Mrs. Allen's sister is the sister-in-law of Mrs. Inman.

Angel Presented Optimist Trophy

Bill Angel Tuesday was presented with the Optimist of the Year award during a regular meeting of the Optimist Club. Presentation was delayed because the receiver was on vacation when the recognition was held recently.

Special guest who presented the program on the Ground Observer Corps was S/Sgt. Calvin of the USAF.

Angel and Kenneth Manuel were appointed as a committee to reconduct the club's high-road signs.

John Estes With Plainview Firm

A former Hereford man, John Estes, recently moved to Plainview where he is now associated with the Walker Brothers Produce there as sales manager.

Estes, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Estes, 615 Knight, had been with the Mills Brokerage of Dallas for the past two years. Previously he had worked with the Howard Gault Co. of Hereford six years.

After graduating Hereford High School in 1942 and Texas A&M, Estes, 33, served as a bomber pilot in the U. S. Air Force. He married the former Miss Janice Boston and the couple now have a 3½-year-old son, Johnny.

ACCIDENT NEAR DAWN—The Ralph Storms family of Albuquerque, N. M., stands by while highway patrolman Kenneth Maxwell takes information regarding the wreck they had just been in near Dawn early Tuesday morning. Storms was attempting to pass a Taylor-Evans truck when its driver, L. H. Benham, 31, made a left-hand turn. The Storms car struck the trailer's dollies leg, saving it from plowing underneath the trailer and possible serious injuries. The family was returning home from vacation in the east. Benham was issued a ticket for failure to make a turning signal. Mrs. Storms is the former Jackie Cook of Amarillo. (Staff Photo)

Potato...

About 2 p.m., Anson stated: "Hereford — loaded 400 bags No. 1 potatoes yesterday. Slow digging, but excellent quality."

"Muleshoe — 10 cars, plus 400 bags, yesterday and expect about 11 cars today. Market very good."

"Plainview — couldn't get in the fields yesterday, but will start about 5 p.m. today."

"Spring Lake — One car out yesterday, expect another today."

"Dimmitt and other shippers here in Hereford — expect to start loading tomorrow, but will be light, not over 15-20 cars over the entire district tomorrow."

Anson said the Idaho harvest has started, but is being held up somewhat because of a very strict inspection law of the state. "Those boys are always very conscientious of price," he said.

The committee held a meeting last night to survey the program's results to date.

At the Saturday evening meeting, shippers reported on estimated acreages and expected yields of both red and white potatoes. It was determined there were 9,025 acres planted, with an anticipated yield of 1,596,730 bags.

A breakdown shows: for acres and bags:

For reds: Warbla, 60 and 9,000; Dazoc, 2,180 and 310,500; Red Sports, 30 and 4,000; La Sofa, 2,520 and 479,000; Pont, 1,925 and 325,500; totaling 6,615 and 1,128,000.

For whites: Rushmore, 60 and 9,000; Cobblers, 100 and 15,000; Gems, 1,310 and 204,000; Ches, 515 and 82,000; Kenna, 425 and 58,750; totaling 2,410 and 378,750.

THE SIX-POINT program set down by the meeting shippers was:

"1. Enforce the agreement reached by the group that 'No potatoes be rolled unsold.'

"2. That every effort be made by all factors to secure good maturity and 'That all U. S. No. 1 potatoes must meet specifications,' mostly 'moderately of better maturity.'

"3. That all shippers report to Association office each evening if possible or not later than 9:30 a.m. the following day unsold cars and also unsold floor stock.

"4. Don't roll any cars of trucks unsold.

"5. Report any variation of any above agreements to the Association office, EM 4-0481, Hereford, or your committeeman in your territory.

"6. The committeemen selected for the first week will be: Plainview territory, Chas Walker; Muleshoe territory, Stan Barrett; Friona territory, Kenneth Neill; Hereford territory, E. C. Reinauer and Jack Renfro."

and limestone at 8436 feet. The Tuesday morning depth was 8307 feet.

The Lindsay rig, owned by Royalty of America, Inc., is located on Gregg County school land, labor no. 18, one-half mile south and one-fourth mile west of La Mance No. 1.

The earlier part of the week, the Humble rig was ready for spudding after the blow-out valve was set and surface pipe started. Reinauer said drilling had just about penetrated through the red beds of clay Tuesday evening.

Lindsay geologists said that the layers still looked favorable.

CONTRACT DEPTH of the Lindsay well is 8800 feet, and geologists said last week sediments were changing rapidly and they could run into something favorable in some of the granite wash sections below. They said there would be a favorable limestone section at about 8400 feet.

The section between 7750 to 7780 feet, where a test recently was made, would be given special attention when electronic logs were run, they said.

Tentative plans for testing the Humble well were set at 10,000 feet, but Reinauer said drilling would go deeper if necessary. The rig is good for 14,000 feet, he said.

The Humble Co. has leased 9200 acres of land on the location, but $500 acres in the vicinity has not yet been leased, according to Reinauer.

THE BODY was transported Tuesday morning by Gilliland Funeral Home to Lamesa, where services are pending. Mr. Reid was born Sept. 30, 1939, in Lamesa.

Survivors besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Reid Jr. of Lamesa, are a brother, Kenneth, a sister, Mrs. Bill Boty, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Reid Sr., of Lamesa.

Cates, Baize Pitch No-Hitter Tuesday For Yankee Victory

Behind the big hat of first sacker Wayne Hastings and the scoreless hurling of Danny Cates and S. D. Baize, the Hereford Little League Yankees made it number six Tuesday night as they blanked the last place Dodgers, 5-0.

Hastings was the leading hitter for the night, racking out a double and two singles in his three trips to the plate. He also had one run batted in and scored a run.

Cates and Baize were in their usual top form, combining to give the Dodgers only three base hits. Cates yielded two hits in his three inning show, while Baize gave up only one in his three.

The Yankees have one more game to play against the Giants. If they win they will have completed the season undefeated.

In other Little League action, the Cardinals and the Giants fought it out for seven frames Monday only to end in a tie, 4-4. The game was called at the 9:30 p.m. time limit.

It was the Giants late uprisings that kept them in the ballgame. They were behind 3-0 going into the fourth inning. They scored three big runs to tie it up. The Cards didn't score again until the top of the sixth. They scored one run, making the Giants play catch-up again. In the bottom of the sixth the Giants came through and pushed across the big run to tie it. The two clubs played another inning before the game was called.

The Cardinals remained on top in minor league play, stopping the Giants, 9-1 Monday night. Tuesday night saw the Dodgers beat the Yankees, 9-5.

Flood conditions postponed City Tournament play until this week, with the finals to be held Sunday. Don Vaughn was one of a foursome found on the course Sunday afternoon, and is shown teeing off. ## State Becoming Case-Hardened To Disasters

AUSTIN — J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, said today that Texans are becoming "case-hardened" to fatal traffic accidents, and are accepting them as a part of routine news and not as state and national disasters.

The Galveston flood of 1900 with its 6,000 fatalities, the Texas coast hurricane of 1915, the New London school explosion in 1937 and the Waco tornado five years ago with its toll of 114 lives represent some of Texas' worst disasters, he said. They are headlines of yesterday and they won't soon be forgotten, he added.

But the combined death toll from these and other tragedies falls short of the 7,697 lives lost on Texas streets and highways in just the past three years, he said.

"In fact, in the twenty years since the New London explosion, traffic smashups have claimed more than 40,000 lives in the Lone Star state. We are apparently becoming case-hardened to reports of these motor-cases, because, we continue to tolerate them in spite of published, effective measures of accident prevention."

The safety expert was speaking in behalf of TSA's current Slow Down and Live campaign, which is being conducted by the statewide organization during summer's peak vacation months, and he urges drivers to reduce their speed.

Musick said that speed was the contributing factor in 57 per cent of Texas' rural fatal accidents in 1957, thus making the Slow Down and Live program a campaign that is directed at the heart of the traffic problem.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Payne, Larry and Darla, of Hereford, visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rader, last Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Collins of Perryton, Robert Pierce and son, Byron, and Judy Hestor of Oxnard, Calif., who were on their way to Oxnard, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Collins last Thursday. The group left early Friday morning.

The Collins family spent Saturday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Price of Floydada. Before returning home Sunday, they attended church services in Aiken and visited with the D. M. Marshall family.

Farm Safety Week Set

COLLEGE STATION — "The health, prosperity, and well-being of our rural families are vital to the strength of the Nation, and accidents suffered by rural residents result in thousands of deaths and injuries each year and constitute a serious social and economic problem," President Eisenhower said in his proclamation announcing National Farm Safety Week for 1958.

In setting the week of July 20 as Farm Safety Week, the President also said "Experience has shown that these accidents can be reduced through educational programs directed toward safety precautions in the homes, in the fields, and on the highways of the nation. I, therefore, call upon the people of the Nation to observe Farm Safety Week and urge all farm families and all persons allied with agriculture to join in a continuing campaign to prevent needless accidents."

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council has pledged its support to this campaign and join the President in requesting all persons and organizations interested in the welfare of farm people to participate in National Farm Safety Week activities.

In the United States last year, almost 13,000 farm people lost their lives in accidents and more than a million suffered injuries. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council suggests that a little checking be done in every neighborhood for the purpose of finding and eliminating accident hazards.

"Only by finding the cause and then making sure the same mistake isn't made by someone else, can we cut the farm and home toll of accidents," the councilmen said. "Safety," they point out, "works for you when you work for safety."

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Economic Forecasters Turning Eyes Upward

By VERN SANFORD
AUSTIN, — Mid-way through the so-called "recession year" of 1958, Texas economic forecasters are turning their eyes upward again. Statistical reports show steady improvement in overall business activity since the bleak lows of February and March. If the hoped-for pick-up in oil demand develops during the latter half, analysts say, "1958 may be a good year after all."

Some of the bases for the current atmosphere of cautious optimism are these:
Folks have lots of money in the banks; in most areas, more than last year. Response to the Texas Banking Commission's mid-year call for condition of banks showed that most have higher deposits than last summer and some are at new record highs. Dallas County bank deposits increased by $333,000,000; Harris County (Houston) by more than $267,000,000 over a year ago. Towns with all-time high deposits were Amarillo, Corpus Christi, Tyler, Midland, Denton and Fort Arthur.

Despite saggs here and there, Texas retail sales are expected to run some seven per cent ahead of '57, says the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Because of low months early in the year, sales volume for the first five months of '58 were one per cent below the same period for '57. But a late spring upsurge put May, 1958, sales ahead of those for May, 1957. Apparently Texans are concentrating on essentials. Compared to last year, farm implement sales were up 27 per cent, food up 11 per cent, autos down eight per cent.

BBR's latest report shows the 1958 level of general business activity four per cent below May 1957. But May, 1957, was a dizzy pinnacle, the highest point ever reached by the Texas business index. Since the low in March the index has made encouraging progress, pulling up by eight points. Fall will bring the tip-off, says BBR, as to whether recovery momentum is sufficient for a rise to a new crest.

Although thousands more were out of work than a year ago, Texas Employment Commission's most recent overall survey showed a substantial shortening of the jobless lines. Like the general business index, employment seemed to be making a steady recovery from the early spring "drough." Number of unemployed dropped 4,500 during May, TEC reported, and non-farm employment rose to

Rain Plays Indirect Part In Break - Ins

MRS. R. L. PINNELL

Saturday night rain fell over the Hereford area, bringing parts of from 1.70 inches to 2.50 inches. At Dumas the rain was flooded with the water that fell over the week later was over the high-mountain places and a wash reported on the Rock Island Railroad.

In Hereford rain indirectly played a part in two break-ins in town last night. Morgans' Cafeteria and Clara's Cafe both entered by the rear window glass was broken to reach the lock. They entered into Primores Service Station but to do so. The only clues muddy footprints in the kitchen and on the floor of the cafe, which were found at 6 a.m. when opening for the day.

Nothing was taken from the cafe, but the cigarette machine was pried open at the station. A total of $12 was in the till, but it was not taken. Sheriff Doy Thompson of Oldham County investigated the case.

Late Wednesday afternoon, as the wagon crew for the Trujillo Cattle Co. were finishing up the summer round and branding, a rather freakish thing occurred. George Lotspeich had taken his late model pickup and trailer for use on the ranch that day. A five inch rain fell the night before, on the Canadian River so most of the draws were muddy from the overflow. In attempting a crossing, the pickup stuck and the men went for help. While away, the river rose again and swept both the pickup and trailer down the river. The men searched all night, but it was not until late Thursday that the pickup was found in the river bed about a quarter of a mile down stream, but the trailer was not recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddie Chapman, Sarah Jean and Bill of Arlington spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Edd Jacobson en route to Yellowstone Park. Buddie was raised in this area and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Chapman.

Linda Pinnell visited this week with her cousin, Janan Johnson, in Dumas. She returned home Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pinnell.

Edd Pinnell hit a 500-pound heifer Sunday night on the pavement east and south of the Pinnell home. The calf was killed and the right front of the pickup was badly damaged. Neither Edd nor Judy Tomlinson, who was riding with him, were injured seriously.

Things are picking up, probably as a result of the wheat crop. Anyway, most merchants are reporting nice gains for June. Dollar Day last Monday broke a few records around town — and it followed on the heels of one of the best Saturdays in a long, long time.

When things are going good, most folks are prone to forget about the importance of the weather. However, I had a couple of telephone calls and three personal requests this week wanting to know about the moisture prospects for 1959. One or two were kind enough to say that they were asking because of the astounding accuracy reported by this column for the past five years, and especially for hitting the nail on the head as concerns 1958.

It's good news! Another wet year in 1951! Fact is, we are in a wet cycle. It will run on until 1961, then taper off gradually into another dry cycle. Some years may be wetter than others but, generally speaking, 1959 will be a wet year; probably about like '58, give or take a little bit either way.

THE CITY OF HEREFORD BY: s/ Mary V. Watts City Clerk (Seal)

late. On July 4th, Oliver did a lot of back yard barbecue cooking and, lacking the latest equipment, used his son's sand shovel, contrived a swab and stinged his fingers handling a short fork. It was quite a chore, according to Oliver who, upon opening his birthday present next morning, found a complete set of barbecue tools, including one of those fancy little shovels, a long-handled fork, basting brush and all.

"Just to think," says Young Streu, "the blasted things were in the closet all afternoon while I was sweating it out."

I wonder who is the best backyard, barbecue in town? How about some nominations? You might also list their specialties. I figure the women started this craze mainly to get out of cooking supper but, after all, the women are the ones who usually insist on subscribing to the paper — so I will go along with the deal.

Glenn Williams says he thinks the best vacation of all would be to stick around the house for a week or two, but the family usually wants to go somewhere. He figures this is likely because they stay around the house so much of the time that they are ready for a change, when vacation time rolls around.

We had a note from Sterlin Holmsley, former Brannad newspaperman. Sterlin is now located in Corpus Christi, where he has a editing job on the Caller-Times. He says it is hot, but otherwise ley, have a dog named "George." A few days ago, George went out looking for greener pastures and didn't come back for several days and nights. He came romping home Sunday afternoon, however, and received a royal welcome, along with instructions from Mrs. Edmonson that he be given a bath. The girl's got George in the tub and, in the course of things, the dog's paw got stuck in the drain hole. Unable to loosen the animal — and George was yowling no, little bit — they finally called in their granddad, Abe Martin, and, ultimately, Jack Gilliland, a veterinarian.

"I don't know if it was the time away from home or the bath tub incident," says James, "but George sure is a different dog these days."

Cliff Estes and son, Clifford, are planning a "father and son" fishing trip to Colorado in the near future. Both of these guys are good fishermen, too. Sounds like quite a contest before they get back to Texas.

Clyde Truly, former local Chevrolet agency manager and automobile dealer for some 20 years, switched horses in 1956 and went into the real estate business. Recently, it came to pass that Clyde had to have a couple of automobiles overhauled and, after receiving his first repair bill in 20 years or so, he took a good look and remarked:

"Doggone, if I don't believe I made a mistake when I got out of the automobile business."

Oliver Streu says the best he can figure, he was born one day they like it fine. A lot of boys and girls will recall Mrs. Holmsley, who taught music in the Hereford Schools last year.

LOWER COST steaks and roasts are predicted for late July and August, chiefly because the feed lots in the Corn Belt are packed and jammed. They say 12 per cent more than last year. Choice grade steers sold Tuesday at $28.50 a hundred, down from the 1958 peak in April at $36 a hundred.

Meanwhile, the bus strike continues. Several of the drivers have been out beating the bushes and telling their side of the story. In a nutshell, the boys say that their pay rate per mile is lower than the Pacific Coast drivers and lower than the run east, although they drive the same type equipment and carry the same passengers on the Greyhound affiliated line. They say they are holding out for only partial equalization. The surprising thing, to me, is the fact that the strike seems to be causing very little inconvenience. We have to carry our papers to Friona, Black and Summerfield, but very few people seem to be serious handicapped from the lack of bus service.

A man looked across the fence and asked his neighbor: "What are you burying in that hole?" "Just replanting some of my seeds, that's all." "Seeds!" shouted the man angrily. "It looks more like one of my hens." "It is. The seeds are dead of size." "Mentioned a fence between an and a flea."

Little Boy: "Well, you can have fleas, but you can't have elephants."

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

Adams-Goldfine Case Still Occupies Nation Spotlight

To the people of the 18th District:

The Adams-Goldfine case continues to occupy the spotlight in Washington. Rumors are going in every direction, and it is sometimes difficult to tell gossip from facts. However, Mr. Goldfine appeared before the subcommittee and made a statement that could prove most interesting. He could turn out to be the spider that wove the web in which several flies, including Adams, might be caught.

I believe it was Shakespeare who said: "What a tangled web we weave when we practice to deceive."

The first story that came out of this escapade was that Mr. Goldfine had given Mr. Adams a vicuna coat, a Persian rug and numerous stays in luxurious hotels as gifts. Mr. Adams was then quoted as saying that part of the loot was gifts, but that the Persia rug was only a loan. Mr. Goldfine apparently owns a number of corporations.

The next chapter of the story was that these gifts or loans, as the case may be, had been charged to the corporations and not to the personal account of Mr. Goldfine. This led to the question of whether or not the expense incurred for the coat, the rug, and the hotel bills had been charged off as a business expense when the income tax return was filed.

corporate expenses as they were charged, then Mr. Adams was wrong in his statement that they were personal gifts from Mr. Goldfine.

The subcommittee decided to call Mr. Goldfine for the purpose of answering that and other questions. It must be remembered that, if these gifts were given to Mr. Adams by Mr. Goldfine, the value of them was not properly deductible as a business expense or a personal expense. If the rug was loaned to Mr. Adams by Mr. Goldfine or any of his corporations, the value of the rug was not properly deductible as a business expense.

Mr. Goldfine came before the subcommittee faced with this dilemma. Should he plead the Fifth Amendment on the grounds that he might incriminate himself, or should he reveal the full facts concerning the situation? The answer to this question undoubtedly kept a number of lawyers up nights trying to figure out an answer. If Mr. Goldfine pleaded the Fifth Amendment, it wouldn't have helped him much because the information was a matter of record and could be obtained. So the decision, undoubtedly, was to tell the truth, which should have been done sometime ago.

The result of Mr. Goldfine's own statement is this. If Mr. Goldfine considered the vicuna coat, the Persian rug, and the hotel bills as legitimate,

Another story which seems to be gaining momentum in the nation's capital is to the effect that those interested in the Adams-Goldfine side of the recent revelations have employed an outstanding public relations firm to do a snow job on the American public — a publicity campaign that will blind the American public to any possible wrongdoing in this affair and display the alleged culprits as innocence personified.

This sort of thing could prove more dangerous to the American way of life than even the acts of misconduct in public office already proven. Propaganda is a very dangerous thing. This has been proven no less than three times in our generation. I refer to Hitler, Stalin and Mussolini.

Give the American people the truth and the facts, and they will make an honest, fair and correct decision. Only by this method can a free nation be preserved.

All of you are aware the Senate last week passed and sent to the President the Alaskan Statehood bill which had earlier passed the House. As many of you know, I have always been opposed to the admission of Alaska as a sovereign State of the United States. The reasons for my opposition were many, and, I believe, sound reasons. The Congress has acted otherwise, however, and it now appears that Alaska will become the 49th State of the Union. I hope, sincerely and earnestly, that the fears harbored by some of us concerning the admission of Alaska will never ripen. The people of this country have spoken through a majority of their elected representatives, and our great system of the democratic processes has properly functioned. I shall do my best to help insure the success of this undertaking.

Rocket Ship Pilots May Wear Lead Armor

NEW YORK (AP) — Space knights in leaden armor may pilot tomorrow's rocket exploration of the mysteries of space.

Latest reports from our first tiny satellites indicate the earth is hemmed in by a spherical blanket of high energy rays — rays that could eventually kill a space traveler by destroying vital body cells.

Lead armor suits weighing about 100 pounds could cut X-radiation some 90 per cent and enable space pilots to stay in the radiation area for some six months without too much danger.

The blanket of rays may reach as high as 10,000 miles above the earth and as low as 600 miles.

Space travelers bound for the moon or other planets would pass through this radiation band so quickly that it would not be too much of a hazard. But they would probably wear protective armor anyway.

The real danger would be to men who would work and live on an earth satellite orbiting through the radiation band. Without protection they might die after a prolonged exposure to X-rays.

This band of radiation is just one of the dangers of space. Probably it can be overcome, but two other monstrous barriers will continue to stand between man and his search for new life on other worlds of the universe.

Those barriers are his own short life span and the incredible distances of space.

A man piloting a space ship that traveled 100,000 m.p.h. could fly for 30 years and still be barely out of his own dusty corner of space.

He would have traveled some 44 billion miles. The nearest star is 24 trillion miles away. He would have to travel some 30,000 years at 100,000 m.p.h. to reach it.

Look at it this way: If the earth were a mere bit of buckshot, the sun would be a two-foot beach ball some 213 feet away. The nearest star, another beach ball, would be 11,000 miles away.

Yet sooner or later man will want to look into the other solar systems of the universe. Some astronomers believe there is life — at least as advanced as ours — on perhaps some 100 million other planets.

The only answer to the problems of penetrating the universe seems to be more speed — perhaps approaching the speed of light, 186,000 miles a second.

If man can ever find a way of rocketing through space at even half that speed, he could reach the nearest star in about eight years as against the 30,000 years it would take at 100,000 m.p.h.

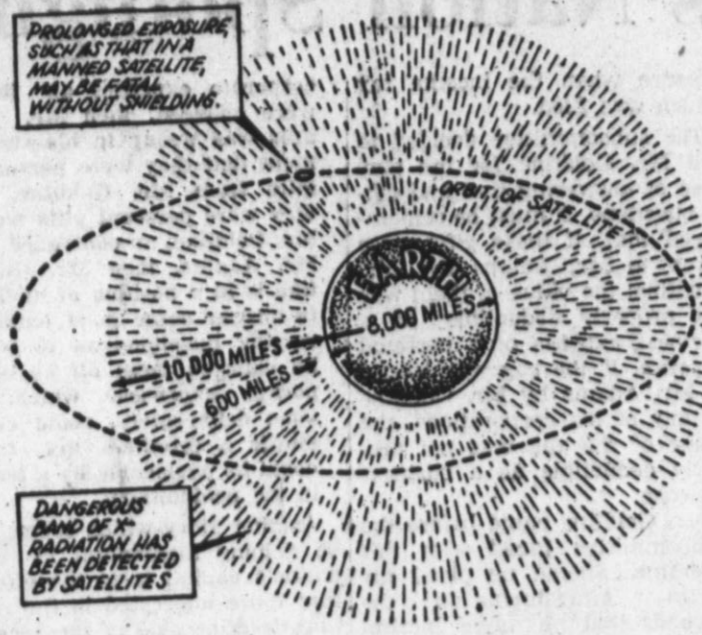

Right now, however, the barriers of distance seem insurmountable. Man may have to content himself with conquering his own solar system — the eight planets that accompany the earth on the silent journey around the sun.

These planets are almost within reach. This year rocket flights are planned to the moon, only some 240,000 miles away. Someday — perhaps in the next few years — men will rocket to the moon in five hours.

After the moon has been won, space scientists will shoot for the planets.

Venus — almost earthlike in size — is the next planet on the sun-side of our orbit. We know little about it because of the density of its atmosphere and the heavy clouds about it.

On the other side of our orbit is little Mars. With its strange looking canal-like markings and its changing colors, Mars has been given the best chance of having some form of life, possibly vegetable. It is only half the size of earth.

Perhaps these two planets, if they can support life, may become earth suburbs in space.

Beyond Mars the planets get colder and colder with the greater distance from the sun. First the space traveler would encounter the asteroid belt — a wild merry-go-round of spatial debris, chunks of planets perhaps. This ring of flying matter seems to be strongly influenced by the pull of Jupiter, the largest planet and the next one out from Mars.

Jupiter has 12 moons of its own — and it is at least as big as all of the rest of the planets lumped together.

Beyond Jupiter are Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto. Once they have been conquered, some scientist looking out at the spiral cluster of stars that is a distant galaxy will wonder how man can boost his rocket speed still higher to measure the universe.

Or perhaps a scientist of another people on some other world billions of light years away is wondering now if there is life in the Milky Way.

MUCH TOO DEEP
RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — City Councilman Phil J. Bagley Jr. looked at the excavation for a new dog pound, already 12 feet deep.

"At the rate they are going," he said, "they will have more money under the ground than above."

45 Years Ago
Several weeks ago a number of ladies met at the court house for the purpose of organizing a U. D. C. Chapter in Hereford. After several meetings were held to discuss preliminaries an organization was perfected on the 28th of June. The new chapter is to bear the name of E. T. Woodburn, in compliment to one of the resident veterans of Hereford. The following officers were elected at that time: Mrs. Evans, Pres.; Mrs. Sellars, vice pres.; Mrs. J. J. Gallagher, treas.; Mrs. A. J. Lipscomb, sec; Mrs. S. J. Dodson, historian; Mrs. B. S. Arnold, registrar; Mrs. R. M. Johnson, chaplain. A very interesting program on Jefferson Davis Day was enjoyed by a number. Mrs. Gibson was hostess to the chapter and veterans on June 3, when a very interesting Jefferson Davis program was enjoyed. The next meeting of the chapter will be held at court house, Saturday, July 12, at 4 p.m.

25 Years ago
Sheriff John B. Miller is a vigilant peace officer, in fact he is at times almost too much so. R. A. Walls of the Western Union office phoned Sheriff Miller one day this week that an out-of-town car had been parked in front of his office all day and that he had seen two "suspicious" looking characters get out of it that morning. Sheriff Miller investigated and discovered from the license plate that the car was from Randall county. Whereupon he had the car stored with the Hereford Motor Co. and phoned the sheriff at Canyon to come and get it. The car belonged to H. D. Foster of Canyon who is working this summer with his brother, Paul Foster. Rufus Sewell of the Hereford Motor Co showed the car they had in storage. Mrs. Foster told him: "No, that is not a stolen car. It belongs to my brother-in-law and he is looking for it right now!"

Kartoffelkuchen Iss Gooten!

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Ever visit an old-time cook and gobble up a plateful of potato pancakes as fast as she could take them out of the frying pan?

Crisp around the edges, golden brown, they're made chiefly from grated raw potatoes and eggs. Applesauce is their traditional accompaniment.

You'll find these pancakes called potato cakes (kartoffelkuchen) in Pennsylvania-German country. They probably originated in Germany where they are specialties in the Rhineland and Berlin.

We don't know how potato pancakes came to be associated with applesauce. A Rhinish dish of mashed potatoes and applesauce is called Heaven and Earth (Himmel und Erde). Sounds as if, ages ago, someone discovered the combination was wonderfully good!

The potato pancake recipe we are giving you is our version of a classic one. It calls for the grated onion added by one school of cooks, omitted by another. Other versions have mashed potatoes thrown in. Still other substitute cracker meal for the flour, and some cooks add both.

One of New York's oldest and most famous German restaurants adds nutmeg and parsley and serves the pancakes with stewed apples and crisp bacon. The stewed apples are customary in some regions of Germany and in others the pancakes are offered with mixed stewed fruit.

The only work involved in making the pancake mixture is grating the potatoes. Cooks differ about just how the potatoes should be grated. Some want them fine, some coarse; we like them the latter way. There are differences of opinion, too, about whether the potatoes should be drained (when they are finely grated) before they're mixed with the other ingredients.

We used long white potatoes when we tested this recipe. Those are the smooth-skinned potatoes that are in markets all summer long.

POTATO PANCAKES

Ingredients: 1 pound potatoes, 1 1/2 teaspoons finely grated onion (1/2 of a small onion), 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, 1 tablespoon flour, 1/2 cup (about) corn oil.

FROM BEYOND THE RHINE—Potato pancakes or Kartoffelkuchen, a mixture of grated potatoes and eggs browned to crispness, are a specialty in the Rhineland and Berlin.

Method: Pare potatoes and at once grate coarsely (using a grater whose slots are 3/16 of an inch wide); there should be 2 1/4 cups packed down. Mix with onion. Beat eggs until thick and ivory-colored; beat in salt, baking powder and flour; fold in grated potatoes and onion. Heat 1/4 cup of the oil in a 10-inch skillet (to 380 degrees if electric skillet is used). Drop heaping tablespoonfuls of mixture into hot fat, taking up some of liquid at bottom of bowl each time. Spread potato shreds thin over each pancake as soon as they're dropped into fat. Cook until golden-brown on each side. Add more oil as needed for each batch. Place cooked pancakes in slow oven or on top plate of very hot roaster as they are cooked so potato shreds will mellow and soften a bit if necessary. Serve piping hot with applesauce of a fine brand of sliced apples packed in sugar syrup. Makes about 16 pancakes.

Mayonnaise inherits its name from Mahon, a port on the island of Minorca off the coast of Spain, where the salad dressing first appeared.

PHONING IN THE DARK

NORTHLAKE, Ill. (AP) — An illuminated telephone dial has been developed.

It takes the guess work and eyestrain out of night-time telephone dialing in an unlighted room. The design incorporates a "Panescent" lamp as the source of light that shows through translucent numerals and letters.

No bulbs, tubes, filaments or cathodes are required in this lamp. It consists of a porcelainized steel sheet with a ceramic-phosphor coating. It utilizes the principle of electroluminescence — the creation of light through the excitation of certain phosphors placed in an electric field.

Developed by Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., the lamp is said to have a useful life of 30,000 hours.

KIDDIE-MINDER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A supermarket here has built a miniature theater inside the store to keep the kids occupied with cartoons while Mom shops for the groceries.

Household Scrapbook

Washing Paint

If the paint looks dull after washing it, you will have a glossy finish if you wash it again with the following mixture: Pour one tablespoon of turpentine, one tablespoon of milk, and one-half tablespoon of soap jelly into one quart of hot water. Silver

Common lump starch is good for cleaning silver. It should be rubbed on with a damp cloth, allowed to stand for a few minutes, and then rubbed dry with cheesecloth.

Coffee

An improvement in the flavor of coffee can be had if a little salt is sprinkled on the bottom of the pot before the coffee is put in.

Patent Leather

A patent leather bag or similar articles can easily be cleaned of fingerprints by wiping with a rag dampened with milk. When the leather has dried, rub with a soft dry cloth to bring out the shine.

Body Builders

Some of the foods that build up the body and that should be served at least once a day are milk, butter, eggs, green and leafy vegetables, and fruits.

Whiter Clothes

Clothes that are dried slowly, will be much whiter than when dried quickly.

Nuts

When using nuts in cakes or candies, shell them a day ahead of time. This will give the air an opportunity to take away that dry taste of the nut and bring out the oil and moistness which is so delicious.

Cracker Crumbs

When a recipe calls for cracker crumbs and there are none on hand, try using corn flakes. Toast them, then crush with a rolling pin, and you have a tasty substitute.

Cherry Stoner
A new steel pen makes a good cherry stoner. Place the point of the pen in the penholder and use the other to scoop out the pits. This method will leave the cherry whole.

Candlesticks

Do not try to scrape off the wax that has collected on the silver or brass candlesticks, and run the risk of scratching the surface. Merely place the parts with wax on them in boiling water. The wax will melt and disappear.

CHURCH CENSUS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A study presented at a conference on city churches shows that Roman Catholics and Jews are more concentrated in urban areas than Protestants. And that the Protestant denominations with the highest proportions of members in cities are the Protestant Episcopal Church, the United Lutheran Church, and the United Church of Christ.

NOMINATIONS PLANNED

NEW YORK (AP) — A committee has been set up to nominate a new presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church, who will be elected at the church's general convention in Miami next October. He will assume office when the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill retires at the end of 1958.

A CHRISTIAN LIFE REQUIRES CULTIVATION

a new life

What was once an old caterpillar, hanging on a limb, has suddenly become a beautiful butterfly. The cocoon has taken on newness of life.

What a parable! The old wrapping has turned loose, broken away and given up the new, perfect butterfly. A man must give up some old things too, when he decides to follow the Lord. Deciding for God changes ones habits, ones life. One throws off the old and puts on the new and suddenly finds himself happier running errands for Jesus, than when sowing seeds for satan. The transformed individual loves his fellowman... do you? To him the Golden Rule has greater meaning.

"Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: Old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." 2 Cor. 5:17.

Beauty at Home

By Lynn Carter

Q. How can I make a good bleaching pack for very much neglected hands?

A. Mix three tablespoons powdered oatmeal with two tablespoons of clear, fresh peroxide of hydrogen and three or four drops of tincture of benzoin. Work this between the fingers and over all the hands. Then pull on rubber gloves and let it stay on half an hour to an hour. Then wash off, and rub the hands with olive oil.

Q. How can I remedy the roughness of the skin on my upper arms?

A. By the application of oil or rich cream, and plenty of massage. It is also good to treat the area with a complexion brush and soapsuds to stimulate the bloodstream. Do this every night before using cream, and the roughness will vanish.

Q. What can I do about brow wrinkles?

A. The best preventive is to avoid the habits which cause brow wrinkles — frowning, squinting, raising the eyebrows incessantly. Concentrate on keeping a serene brow at all times. When you cream your face, massage across these lines.

Q. What can I do about annoying and unsightly dandruff flakes in my eyebrows?

A. Give the brows a good scrubbing with a complexion brush and warm soapsuds, and rub in a little olive oil or mineral oil before retiring.

Q. What are some good rules for true hair beauty?

A. Wash your hair as frequently as necessary. Brush every day. Change styles with the seasons. Be sure to examine the back as well as the front of your coiffure with a hand mirror. Give your hair sun, air, exercise, nourishment, and a medicine if it is ailing.

Q. How can I help to get rid of that "spare tire" around my waist?

A. After covering your hands with massaging cream, grasp the unwanted flesh and squeeze hard for a number of times. After this, put a turkish towel over the part you're working on and slap hard. Massage such as this should always be preceded by scrubbing with a brush to stir up thoroughly the layers of tissue, to break up the fat cells, and to stimulate the circulation so that the broken cells can be speedily removed in the blood stream.

Q. How can I mix myself a good, efficient, and inexpensive shampoo?

A. Heat together an egg and a teaspoon of mild skin soap. Apply this with the fingertips, rubbing well into the scalp. Rinse with hot, then lukewarm, then cold water.

Q. How can I prevent the constant smearing of my lipstick?

A. Probably your best answer to this one is the exercise of a little more care. But if you'll add a bit of perfume over the lipstick, it will give it more permanence until you are ready to remove it with cold cream.
