City Ponders Civic Center As Bids Go Above Estimate

Lowest Offer Is $13.95 Sq. Ft.

Nine bids for construction of Hereford's proposed Community Center were tabled for further study by the City Commission Monday night.

Monday afternoon was $131,131 by Killsworth Construction Co. of Dimmitt. The bid, however, was considerably higher than the $100,000 that the commission had hoped it would cost to build and equip the center.

Absentee Voters Stay Away From School Contests

No absentee ballots for two posts on the Hereford Rural High School District Board had been cast Wednesday.

Absentee voting for board members began Monday and ends March 31 in the school tax collector's office in the County Courthouse.

Election of school trustees for the Deaf Smith County School District Board, Walcott Common School District Board No. 6 and the Hereford board will be held in the county from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. April 4.

On election day, voting on the Hereford board posts will be held at the Dawn schoolhouse and the school tax collector's office.

In the county school district race, polls will be open at the schoolhouse and County Attorney's office for Precinct 1; Commissioner's Courtroom for Precinct 2; and Ford schoolhouse for Precinct 4.

Voters in the Walcott District will cast ballots at Walcott schoolhouse.

County school board candidates are J. C. Morrison for re-election to Precinct 2; H. M. Benson for re-election to Precinct 4; J. V. Perrin for election to Precinct 2; and N. R. Miller for re-election to Precinct 1.

For the Hereford board, candidates are Charlie Seeds, Ivan Block and Dr. L. B. Barnett.

Waldron H. Melton and Jim Monroe are contested for a single post on the Walcott board.

Second low bidder was Doyle Construction Co. of Amarillo, which offered to build the center for $135,400. High bid was $146,950.

The low bid would constitute a total of $13.95 per square foot for construction. Current plans for the building specify 9,400 square feet.

"All the bids were good bids," City Manager Dudley Bayne told the commissioners, "but the kind of building we want just costs more than what we had estimated."

The $100,000 sum was to have included $60,000 from the Jim Hill Estate, pledged to the project with the community's contribution of $40,000.

Bayne said construction plans may have to be changed to permit the center to be built for the $100,000 which will be available for the project.

Bayne recommended that the two low bidders be invited to meet with the commissioners to determine what procedure to take next or to find out what price adjustments could be made.

Mayor Ray Godwin said the two low bidders indicated Monday afternoon that they would be glad to meet with the commission at any time.

Dr. R. R. Willis, a commissioner, said that quality of construction should not be cut, regardless of what action the commission decides to take.

City Engineer Bill McMorris said the figures offered by bidders were considerably higher than he estimated. "While bids were being tabulated," he said, "I felt sure that a low bid of $110,000 would be reached."

It was moved by Dr. Willis and seconded by Commissioner Troy Moore that the bids be tabled for further consideration, pending a future meeting with the two low bidders for contract. (Continued on Page 2)

Around Town

"I am still confident we are going to get a Community Center in Hereford," Ben Childers, fund drive chairman, said Wednesday.

In the face of construction bids much higher than had been anticipated, campaign officials this week have intensified their efforts to collect donations from the public. About $33,000 has been donated or pledged toward costs of building a civic center in Hereford.

Estimates were originally made of a total cost of $100,000 for constructing and equipping a large community center. The Jim Hill Estate had pledged $60,000 toward cost of the building, provided the remainder could be raised by public subscription.

However, low bid submitted to the City Commission Monday was $131,131, which would not include furnishings. Architects presently are at work trying to cut some corners without lowering the quality of construction. It is believed that estimates can be trimmed to make the total cost not more than $110,000.

Biggest shock since Sec. Benson dropped maize prices was observed Monday afternoon as bids were tabulated on construction of the Community Center. But since there was little spread, the builders apparently weren't off-base. Most folks seem to think the architects just went overboard too far. Hereford still should get the building, although the plans are going to have to be revised considerably on some items.

Clarence Andrew Booth, of Amarillo made $500 bond was released Sunday after a charge of driving while intoxicated. First offense, was set Saturday.

Booth was arrested in Hereford Saturday by Highway Patrolman Kenneth Maxwell. Trial in County Court is pending.

Funeral services are pending at Gilliland Funeral Home for Mrs. Maxine Jennings, 61, who died early Wednesday morning in the home of a sister, Mrs. U. G. Hardy, in Dallas.

Mrs. Jennings made her home at 208 Blevins in Hereford. She had been in Dallas for the past ten weeks in a Dallas hospital.

She was born Feb. 28, 1898, in Woodsprings, Tex., and came to Deaf Smith County in 1927 from Dallas. She was married to Waldo Jennings Dec. 27, 1926, in Dallas.

She is survived by her husband, Waldo, of the home in Hereford; a sister, Mrs. U. G. Hardy of Dallas; two aunts, Mrs. Eva Stapples of Tyler and Mrs. Loney Cassells of Amarillo; and an uncle, Mr. Staples of Tyler.

AFTER STABBING HIMSELF on the docks of a New England coastal village, an ex-barker is comforted by his wife in the Hereford High School Mixed Choir's production of "Carousel," to be presented Thursday and Friday at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium. Presented as the fourth and final production of the current Community School Concert Series, concert tickets will be good for each performance and tickets will be sold at the door. For the second year, the choir will end a concert series with a Rodgers and Hammerstein musical. Last year the choir ended that season with the musical team's "Oldaboma!" Star roles of "Carousel" will be played by Gwin Morris as Billy Bigelow, the carousel barker, and Sylvia Wiman as Julie Jordan, the barker's wife. Others who will be featured in the cast are Linda Noland, Pat Caywood, Durward Jacobs, Lee Kimball, Sheila Owens, Jan Wallace, Mickey Griffith, Danny Cleveland, Gary Wertenburger, Janie Bookout, Erin Wertenburger, John GIBland and David Larsen. Before the setting of a small New England village, the choir, under direction of Don Moore, will sing "June Is Bustin' Out All Over," "If I Loved You," "When I Marry Mr. Snow," "When the Children Are Asleep," "A Real Nice Clambake," "What's The Use Of Wond'rin'" and "You'll Never Walk Alone." Included in the musical will be fun at an amusement park of the coastal village, the festivities of an old-fashioned clam-bake and the scenes in heaven. A school graduation scene climaxes the production. Plot of the story concerns the events that result when a penniless ex-barker, at an amusement park, attempts a robbery in desperate pursuit of money for a baby which will be born soon. When the robbery fails, the barker stabs himself to death. (Continued on Page 2)

Plainview, Borger To Meet Hereford Friday, Saturday

The Hereford High School baseball squad is scheduled to meet two strong 3-AAAA teams this weekend when they clash with Plainview Friday and the Borger Bulldogs Saturday. The game with Plainview is tentatively scheduled to be played at West Texas State College and the Whitefaces should meet Borger at Amarillo.

Hitting the diamond for the second time this season Tuesday, Hereford took a 31-2 Wholoping from the Tascosa Rebels at Amarillo.

Plainview was stopped by Dumas, 9-7, last week. It was the season opener for both teams. The Borger Bulldogs lost to a strong Pampa Harvester squad, 6-4, in a non-conference game in Pampa Tuesday.

Borger was leading Dumas, 3-0, Saturday at Borger when the game was called off after two and two-thirds innings because of unfavorable weather. That would have been Borger's opener. (Continued on Page 2)

Auto Tag Sales Less Than Half; April 1 Close

With an April 1 deadline rapidly approaching, less than half the vehicle owners in Deaf Smith County have obtained 1959 license plates. Only 2,409 vehicles had been registered through Tuesday, according to Dave Alexander, county tax assessor-collector. Nearly 3,000 sets of plates have not been sold, Alexander said.

The tax office received a total of 5,190 sets of plates before tags went on sale Feb. 2. Alexander urged all vehicle owners to put on new plates as soon as possible to avoid the last minute rush.

Of the number of licenses sold, 1,764 were for passenger cars, 144 for commercial vehicles and 501 for farm vehicles. Automobile tags cost from $11.88 through $25. Truck licenses vary according to the weight of the vehicle.

Vehicle owners should take their certificates of title and last year's registration to the tax office when registering a vehicle, Alexander advised.

Thomas Given Top Scholarship

John Thomas, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. "Lefty" Thomas, this week was named winner of a $700 scholarship from the Alpha Zeta High Council, national agricultural scholastic organization.

Thomas is a senior at Texas A&M, where he is president of the Student Senate. He is the first Aggie to ever win the award, the top scholarship sponsored by the organization.

Thomas will use the scholarship to work toward his M. S. degree in entomology and a B. S. degree in agricultural economics. He will graduate with a B. S. in entomology in May and plans to enter Graduate School at A&M.

Applicants for the four Alpha Zeta awards are judged on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character and service. Second, third and fourth place winners in the annual competition received $500 each.

Fire Destroys Some Furniture

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department Tuesday extinguished a fire of unknown origin at the residence of Wilson Gyles, 211 E. Fifth St.

Fire Marshal Clay Angelo said no estimate of damage has been made, but that the fire resulted in considerable smoke damage besides destroying a chair, table and lamp and burning a three-foot section of the living room carpet.

Nobody was in the house at the time the fire started, Angelo said. The fire was reported by a neighbor at 6:50 p. m.

 Chairman of the fund-raising campaign Ben Childers told the commissioners about $33,000 in cash and pledges had been secured through last week.
 Last fall the Jim Hill Estate offered $50,000 toward the cost of the building, providing the public would raise the remainder of the necessary funds.
 Pledges may not be payable after Dec. 31 of this year. There will be no additional cost after construction since the city has agreed to pay all operational and maintenance expenses.
 The building will be centrally located on city-donated land at the corner of Park Ave and C St. The center will not be primarily for adults, but for use by all ages, particularly for young people, drive officials last week pointed out.

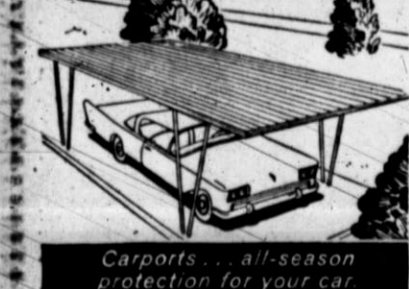

In other business, the commission let contract of $15,604.34 to Viking Supply Co. of Dallas for pipe and fittings to be used to tie existing water mains to the new overhead tank and to the Wayne Wallace subdivision in the northwest part of Hereford.

Next lowest bid for the contract was $16,144.85 by Morrison Supply. Two other companies offered bids for the contract also.
 Items in the contract included 2,050 feet of 10-inch pipe, 1,300 feet of 12-inch pipe and 100 feet of 14-inch pipe to be used between the new overhead tank and existing water system structures.

In the Wallace subdivision, contract includes 2,000 feet of 3-inch pipe. Fittings and valves constituted $2,052.84 of the low bid. Bob Campbell of Lubbock represented Viking Supply at the meeting.

The city officials also authorized the filing of delinquent suits for taxes prior to 1939.
 Bayne said a bill is now pending before the legislature in Austin to abolish all delinquent taxes prior to 1939. Locally, Bayne said, nine suits should be filed. Total amount owed is about $2,200.

The city officials also authorized the changing of the designation "North Knight St." to "Sunset Drive." The action was a result of a petition, signed by all property owners on Knight St., presented to the commission.
 Reason for the change, Bayne said, was because persons unfamiliar with the street, often mis-pronounce or mis-spell the street name, property owners said.

Bayne announced that vegetable producers would probably be at the next meeting of the City Commission on April 6 to discuss the disposition of vegetables at the city dump grounds.

He said Jack Renfro, Hereford vegetable producer, speaking on behalf of several producers in this area, requested that a meeting be arranged.

 coming in, Childers said. He urged that all volunteer workers complete their solicitations as soon as possible, so officials can figure how much more will be needed.

The proposed building will have 9,400 square feet of floor space, divided into several different areas. A great part of the building is planned for use by young people.

There will be no charge for use of the community center, except those groups which normally charge admission or make assessments for meals. This would include civic clubs.

After the building is constructed it will be completely paid for and all maintenance and operational costs will be paid by the city, which will have charge of the building.

All donations to the building program will be tax deductible, Childers pointed out.

This week, Hereford High student body leaders started selling pennants, with proceeds earmarked for the community center.

A carousel, Mr. Webster says, is a merry-go-round. But "Carousel" is a musical by Rodgers and Hammerstein which had an extended run on Broadway. Local producers and backers already know that there will be a two-night run Thursday and Friday for the high school choirs. This will be the final community concert of the season, so make plans to see "Carousel" one of the two nights.

 Voting for post of mayor and two city commission places will begin at 8 a.m. and end at 7 p.m. April 7 in the City Manager's office.
 Absentee voting began Wednesday in the City Clerk's office. Persons who will be unable to vote on April 7 should cast votes by April 3, deadline for absentee voting, City Attorney Earnest Langley said.

Only the post of mayor is contested. Candidates for mayorship are Dr. R. R. Wills and Woodrow "Woody" Wilson.
 In the two commissioners' openings, Don Little is seeking re-election to Place One and Gid E. Brown is candidate for Place Two.

 George said he expected the new Hereford diamond to be ready for home games next week. The game with the Dons will start the home schedule if the field is ready at that time.

Track Team Off And Running In West-Tex Relays

Hereford High's track team will have its first formal competition of the season Friday and Saturday, and tough opposition it will be.

The Whiteface squad will be competing in the West Texas

Relays at Odessa, against a huge array of AAAA and AAA high school track talent.
 Coach John Thompson has about 20 boys working out in preparation for spring meets, but most of them are untested freshmen and sophomores.

This year's West Texas Relays will have three of the world's fastest sprinters on hand for special races: Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian College; Dave Sime of Duke University; and Glen Davis from Ohio State.

About the only known quantities on the Whiteface team are a pair of seniors. Danny Martin has been looking good in his 100-yard dash times while Paul Higgins, getting a late start after basketball, is rounding into form in the broad jump, high jump and high hurdles.
 Thompson has been getting boys ready with some informal dual meets. His squad will enter the Panhandle Relays at Panhandle on April 3 and 4, followed on April 10 and 11 with the Sandie Relays in Amarillo. District 1-AAA competition will be in Amarillo on April 18. Regional track will be held April 25 in Lubbock, for those placing in the district meet. The Red Raider Relays for high school tracksters who placed in regional will be held on May 1 and 2. The state track meet is set for May 8 and 9 in Austin.

There will be some dual meets with area schools sandwiched in with the relays, Thompson said.

Legion Observes 40th Birthday

Members and guests of Hereford Post 192 celebrated the 40th anniversary of the founding of the American Legion with a supper and program Tuesday evening. There were 55 members present, plus a number of special guests. Grant Hanna spoke to the group on the history of the American Legion, tracing the growth of the organization in Hereford. Originally formed in 1921 in Hereford, the American Legion lost its charter in 1925 and was re-chartered in 1929 with 70 members. Only charter member present for the birthday dinner was C. O. Wilkins. Post Commander Ira Ott served as master of ceremonies, recognizing Tommie Thompson of Tulsa, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Stark of O'Donnell as special visitors. Getting special recognition during the program were Ott,

Grant Hanna was a frequent visitor in The Brand Office earlier in the week as he conducted a research campaign on organization of the American Legion post in Hereford. Grant finally located the story about the organization in the issue of Nov. 7, 1929; before he found it, though, he got all carried away with the prices back in those days. Flour, for instance, was 95 cents for a 48-pound bag, and a new Ford automobile could be had for $435. Grant's idea was to secure background for a talk at the 40th national anniversary of the Legion Tuesday night. Naturally, a lot of old timers' names appeared in the organization story, but about the only present day member he could locate with a charter office was Frank Gyles. Frank was listed with the important post of "KP."

stunt like this in 1959. I doubt if their language has improved too much, either. Maybe this is a sample of the "good old days" you often hear old timers mention. Anyway, such high-handed male domination has about as much chance coming back as does the $435 Ford — and if you think this is probable, just go over and have a little chat with Bill Morris or Charley Seed.

It looks as if the women are turning back the pages of time on one thing, though, and that is wigs. Mrs. R. W. Tyler and Mrs. George Jowell created quite a furor with a couple of these wigs Tuesday morning, when they showed up for coffee in the drug store. Mrs. Tyler had on a beautiful pastel blue job, while Mrs. Jowell was wearing silver. I mentioned these new fangled wigs several weeks ago as being all the rage back East. They can be cleaned at will — and you can have several colors; namely, one to match each frock.

And just to show how the female sex has wigged out from under the thumbs of mankind, the organization story said that wives and girl friends would wait outside in the cars until the men finished eating. Later, when the dance started, the ladies would be allowed to come into the hall. The idea, according to the article, was that some of the men might use language to which the ladies could object or take offense.

WALKER VISITORS
Dr. and Mrs. L.A. Beyer were dinner guests Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Walker, Sunday afternoon Mrs. Beyer and Stephen and Mrs. Walker, Joe, Jerry and Connie went out to the Edward Paetzold farm and took rides in an airplane.

me, though, was when Slim casually remarked the other day: "I say, Old Chap, would you kindly pass the sugar?" Next thing you know, both banks will install special tea bars and offer free crumpets with savings accounts.

I haven't seen it yet, but several people have told me that the recently remodeled Wheel Inn is a thing of joy and beauty to behold. I also hear that Magnolia is rebuilding their service station on Highway 60, probably as a result of the highway widening program. Still another project which is creating enthusiasm is the development program on the extension north of Texas Avenue.

Few people have lived in this area longer, or contributed more than C. R. Smith, who was buried Monday. As the story goes, C. R. who had a great deal to do with the naming of The Brand. Back in 1901, C. R. was foreman of the Escabada Division of XIT Ranch, he invited E. L. Vandenberg, publisher of the newly created Hereford Register, to a round-up. Editor Vandenberg watched with interest and was especially intrigued by the branding procedure. When he got back to town, he changed the name of the publication to "The Brand." His sister, also a guest at the round-up, later became Mrs. C. R. Smith.

Since that time, Mr. Smith has gained an enviable reputation as an honest, dependable man and a staunch citizen, whose word was as good as his bond. Probably no other person who ever lived here has contributed more to the growth and welfare of the community than did C. R. Smith.

Spring is just around the corner, and I am waiting breathlessly to find out what it will bring. It used to be the signal for the kids to start playing marbles, next they plugged tops, and then along came the Yo-Yo. Last year, the fad shifted to hula hoops. There is no telling what will show up this year. I am just hoping it won't be a miniature moon rocket or a pocket version of the atom bomb, although I guess they wouldn't be much worse than the "Tether Ball" craze of 1957, which cost me exactly four pair of eye glasses: three for my son, and one for myself.

Very few people pay much attention to the shift to Mountain time at Texas, but T. J. Clay got quite a kick out of the deal, while at the bus station the other day.

A Negro man approached the counter and asked when the next bus left for Clovis, and the lady replied: "1:45 p.m."

"When do it arrive?" asked the Negro.

"1:45 p.m.," replied the lady; "do you want a ticket?" "No, Ma'am," answered the Negro, "but if you-all don't mind, I sho would like to stand inside heah and watch that little jet-raschal take off."

CAREERS

Strict Qualities Required Of F. B. I. Special Agent

F. B. I. — SPECIAL AGENT

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, is the general investigative agency for the federal government, with jurisdiction over all violations of federal laws and undertakings which concern the United States Government, and also cases in which the United States is or maybe partly interested, except those violations of federal laws the investigation of which has been specifically designated by congressional enactment to another investigative agency for examination.

The key man in the FBI is the special agent, the individual who carries on the actual investigative work of the Bureau. For this work he must be an all-around investigator endowed with many talents and abilities, so that when he arrives in the locality to which he has been assigned, he can handle all the cases awaiting investigation in that region. If each of the Bureau's special agents were qualified to handle only one type of work, the FBI would have to send great numbers of special agents to the site of every crime, with the resultant overlapping of duties, and confusion.

The duties of a special agent of the FBI consists of one of the following: (1) A graduate of an accredited law school, or (2) a graduate of an accredited accounting school, with three years of practical accounting experience, or (3) possession of a college degree, with long investigative experience, or a college degree with proficiency in foreign languages.

Because of the nature of his duties, and their wide variety, every special agent must be highly resourceful and aggressive. He must display tact and energy, and be highly adaptable to any and every kind of situation.

The panel consisted of two students — one boy (president of student council) and one girl (F. H. A. representative); two teachers (one homemaker and one basketball coach); two merchants (one lady from Popular ready-to-wear store); one mother and one father of teenager, with vice president of F. H. A. as panel moderator.

F. H. A. girls — Doris Wiloughby, Glenda Allison, Cheryl Holt, Judy Bradley, Linda Renfro, Kay Griffith, Joy Story — modeled garments for various wear, and questions were asked and answered by panel on problems of buying, types of garments suited for every occasion and fashion trends.

Hereford High School Students Attend Library Meet At Abilene

Abilene was host to the T. A. L. A. State Convention Feb. 27-28.

Ten years ago this organization was founded in Abilene with about twenty schools participating. At the Birthday Convention in Abilene this year there were about 300 schools represented, with more than 800 delegates attending.

The purpose of T. A. L. A. is to encourage more students to go into library work in college. One of the projects of T. A. L. A. is the raising of money for a scholarship of $300 which is given each year to a junior in college who is planning to go into library work. District I, of which Jane Pool is president, is also planning to give a scholarship in the near future.

This year the students met in the auditorium of Abilene High School, with Sue Darden of Berger presiding. The first general session featured programs by Nederland, Kerrville, Corpus Christi, San Angelo and Beaumont Schools. At 5 p.m. a tea was held for Sue Darden, state president, in the Garden Room of Hotel Windsor. The girls from this district, District I, were asked to wear formal. Jane Pool and Patricia Haley of Canyon posed at the tea.

The night meeting on Friday was held in Eagle Gym. It featured a Birthday Banquet. The

F. T. A. MEETING

The F. T. A. held its regular meeting March 10 in the library. Emily Ann Pavlicek opened the meeting. Connie Robinson, the historian, showed the scrap book which she has been keeping for the F. T. A. Mrs. McDougal showed the year book, which was designed and made by Erin Wertenberger and Jany Bradley. Joelle Tillier-Laroche, exchange student from France, and Helen Hidirogou, student from Greece, spoke to the group about their schools in home towns. Several questions were asked of Joelle and Helen. The meeting was then adjourned.

An Editorial Teenagers Menace On The Highways?

Teenagers are frequently blamed for the high rate of deaths on the highway. No doubt about it, teenagers are dangerous behind the wheel. Their record is especially bad when it comes to fatal smashups. In proportion to the amount of driving they do, it is estimated that teenagers have five times as many deadly accidents as people of their parents' age.

Teenagers are no worse than their older brothers. The most dangerous drivers in the United States, in the opinion of the National Commission on Safety Education, are not high school students but young men of twenty to twenty-five. For years this group has had the highest accident rate of all. Not that the two-groups matters much. The fact is that both groups are menaces to themselves and to everyone else on the highway.

The problem does not involve girls. Their record is comparable to that of the average adult, and insurance companies allow girls to take over the family car without charging higher premiums. Although the girls' share in minor accidents is proportionate to their numbers, they have only half as many fatal crashes on the average.

At 25, a man is still more likely to die in a car than he was at sixteen. If he's married, his chances of survival are better. Apparently wives make effective backseat drivers.

A young man is second to none in ability to handle a car—quickness of reflexes, keenness of eyesight. It's attitude that he falls down on, his judgment being no match for his desire to show off, to prove to himself and the world, by the way of his automobile, what a remarkable fellow he is.

MEASURE OF A MAN
Not - how did he die?
But - how did he live?
Not - what did he gain?
Not - what was his creed?
But - what did he give?
These are the units
To measure the worth
Of a man as a man
Regardless of birth.
Not - what was his station?
But - had he a heart?
And - How did he play
His God - given part?
Was he ever ready
With a word of good cheer,

To bring back a smile,
To varnish a tear?
Not - what was his church?
Not - what was his creed?
But - Had had he befriended
Those really in need?
Not - What did the sketch
In the newspaper say?
But - How many were sorry
When he passed away?
What did Whistler call to his mother when she went upstairs?
"Mother, you're off your rocker."
Now I lay me down to sleep,

conditions. Of the qualities necessary for a special agent, John Edgar Hoover, Director of the FBI, says: "...ability to concentrate, alertness, zeal, and loyalty, plus careful schooling in which we do our utmost to make every man to a degree self-sufficient. He must be a good marksman and have courage to shoot it out with the most venomous of public enemies. He must know how to take finger-prints, and what to do with them afterwards. He must learn that no clue, no matter how seemingly unimportant, can be overlooked. He must have constantly before him the fact that science is a bulwark of criminal investigation and neglect no avenue toward this end. And he must realize that no case ever ends for the FBI until it has been solved and closed by the conviction of the guilty or the acquittal of the innocent."

Because so much is required of him the basic salary of an agent starting in the FBI is $3,200 a year. Many an experienced special agent working in an investigative capacity only may receive $4,600 or $4,800 a year.

The applicant for the position of special agent must be between the ages of 23 and 35. This minimum age is higher than that of any European national police organization, and higher than that the minimum age of the majority of law enforcement agencies in the United States. The reason for a high minimum age is that the special agent must be able to impress a court of law with his maturity and reliability as a witness.

In addition to the educational requirements that have already been mentioned, the applicant must be in prime physical condition. He must present a physician's certificate testifying that he appears capable of performing the vigorous physical activities frequently required of special agents. He must have good eyesight, and must be completely free from color blindness. His hearing must be such that he can hear ordinary conversation at a distance of at least fifteen feet with each ear.

The applicant must furthermore be a citizen of the United States, and be willing to serve in any part of the country or its territorial possessions.

Omnibus Bill Avoids Label Of 'Sales Tax'

By VERN SANFORD
AUSTIN — A possible shaft of light has pierced the murky tunnels of legislative tax study in the form of an "in-between" type money raising bill.

An omnibus tax measure introduced by Reps. R. L. Strickland of San Antonio and Wesley Roberts of Lamesa would tax a raft of things not previously hit, but avoid the label "general sales tax." It is regarded as a possible compromise between Gov. Price Daniel's tax program and Rep. Frates Seelgson's general sales tax, neither of which have attracted widespread support.

Strickland and Roberts estimate their proposal would raise from $200,000,000 to $300,000,000, an impressive sum even in the face of current huge needs.

New tax sources it would tap include sales of real estate, bonds, debentures, corporate stocks, transportation of persons and commodities, occupancy of a retail establishment, hotel and motel use, and trading stamps. It would increase the natural gas production tax and raise sales taxes on new cars, cosmetics, playing cards, radios and telegraph companies.

"Strings" attached to the bill are that after the state deficit is paid off, the money raised could be used to provide school teachers a $600 a year raise, add $13,000,000 to higher education programs and $2,250,000 to the hospital program.

In terms of decisions, the tax program has made no dramatic forward strides.

Rep. Frates Seelgson of San Antonio, introduced his 1.5 per cent general sales tax measure. It would raise an estimated $67,000,000 annually earmarked for the school foundation program. Informal surveys indicate a majority of lawmakers pledged opposition to a general sales tax in their campaigns last summer.

Despite urging from Gov. Daniel, the House Tax Committee showed itself in no hurry to get out the bill that would raise corporation franchise taxes. Committee declined, on a 15-2 vote, to order a report from the subcommittee which holds the bill.

Part of the governor's plan was to get this bill passed in time to take effect May 1 so the added revenue from it could help offset this year's deficit. Committee also agreed to allow more time to hear groups wishing to oppose a proposed trading stamp tax.

Texas public school teachers won the first round in their campaign for an $800 a year pay raise.

Senate Committee voted favorably on the $107,800,000 public school improvement program recommended by the Dale-Aiken Committee. Teachers' raises would account for the bulk of the cost, about $80,000,000. Other items would include lengthening the school year to 180 days, increasing transportation allowances, programs for the academically gifted and for non-English speaking children, driver education, etc.

Some 3,000 teachers, plus many citizens from other walks of life, came to the Capitol in behalf of the bill.

Another crowd-getter was the Senate hearing on the bill to reduce maximum working hours of firemen and policemen.

With feelings running high, the committee voted to send the bill to sub-committee for a week's study. Same bill was voted out favorably by the House Committee.

Texas Municipal League is strongly opposed to the measure which they say is about as palatable as having the federal government set wages and hours for Texas Highway Patrolmen. League's counter-measure would abolish state regulation of city firemen and policemen.

State Board of Water Engineers is caught in the middle of a king-sized struggle over Trinity River water.

Houston asked the Board for permit to construct a dam at Livingston and impound some 1,750,000 acre feet of water.

Trinity River Authority was joined by Dallas, Fort Worth and other Upper Trinity towns in howls of protest over Houston's "water-grabbing." TRA filed a petition asking that Houston's application be dismissed and also filed an application for the same permit Houston is seeking.

A hearing on Houston's application had been set for April 6, but the North Texans are asking for delay. Indications are that such a set-to between Texas' major cities probably cannot be settled for some time.

Commission on Higher Education is recommending the Legislature adopt a new system of automatic tuition increases for state-supported colleges.

By the Commission's formula, tuition would be in proportion to the college's spending. If legislative appropriations to the college went up, so would tuition.

It was estimated the formula would raise present tuition for in-state students from $100 a year to about $125 to $137.50. Many students protested that the hike would be an undue hardship on the 65 per cent who earn part or all their college expenses.

Gov. Daniel's Statewide Water Committee is asking the Legislature to restore proposed cuts in the Water Board budget.

Governor Daniel told a meeting of the statewide water group that water development in Texas needs all the $1,700,000 asked by the Water Board. Legislative Budget Board recommended only $900,000.

Daniel said he felt more water planning had been accomplished in the past two years than ever before in the state's history. To cut back now, he said, would amount to "complete surrender" to federal control.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson nimbly side-stepped efforts to get him to rule on the proposed equal rights for women amendment. Senators had dodged the issue by asking for an attorney general's opinion on how the amendment would affect existing legislation concerning women. Wilson said the question was too general and that he didn't feel he should tell the Legislature what it should do.

age pop singer. By the way, Ricky Nelson's "It's Late" is moving up fast on the hit parade.

How about Johnny Mathis with his ballad type singing? Maybe your choice is Jimmie Rodgers, the young singer who sold well over a million with his first recording, "Honeycomb." Fabian, who is only sixteen, is well received all over the country. Two of his hits are "I'm A Man" and "Turn Me Loose."

Maybe you like a female vocalist, such as Cathy Carr with her hit, "First Anniversary." Patti Page has a sure fire winner with this new one, "Trust In Me". Joni James pops up again with two potential hit makers, "There Must Be A Way" and "Sorry For Myself."

Connie Francis, who started with "Who's Sorry Now" but won't end up with "My Happiness", because she'll be back again with another winner.

THE LAST SUPPER

What a significant meal for these twelve men! What a privilege to be in such high company! They were chosen to carry on God's work and to help bring in His kingdom. Can we hear him say, as Dr. Gordon did, "I have no other plan, gentlemen, I am depending on you." Imagine the seriousness of the situation. Jesus was through. Tomorrow He would die on the Cross. These twelve imperfect men must carry on. One loved his money, one was afraid, two had unruly tempers, and the others sometimes ran away. But Jesus loved them and needed them as He needs you and me. His kingdom must come on earth. Thus, the Lord has no other plan but to count on you and me. The Last Supper has become a continuing supper. Churches call their members together about their Lord, and administer the ordinance, saying, "this do in remembrance of me."

ODDS ARE STACKED

No Blue Chips In Nevada Land Game

(Editor's Note: In view of the interest shown locally in filing on desert land in Nevada, the following Associated Press story about the modern-day land rush is presented as a public service.)

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — There is a land rush to Nevada in progress, but would-be farmers probably could do better on the state's legal dice and card tables.

Nevada's vast open spaces have drawn land gamblers from some 1,600 Texans, Oklahomans, Idahoans and Californians in the past two years.

They have been applying under two old federal acts — the Pittman and the desert entry laws — for plots of sagebrush and bare alkali ranging in size from 320 to 2,560 acres.

Nevada is the only state in which desert entry applications are allowed from non residents. The Pittman Act applies only in Nevada.

The current session of the state Legislature has called on Congress to repeal the Pittman Act, and to amend the desert entry law so only Nevada residents can use it for land filings.

The legislative resolution sent Congress says: "The Pittman Act and the Desert Land Act are now being used by unscrupulous speculators and nonresident promoters to take advantage of unsuspecting residents of Nevada and other states of the nation."

The resolution was proposed by the Committee on Public Lands, which has explained its stand this way:

"Filing on Nevada land under these two acts has become a racket for so-called 'land locators.' The federal government gets only 25 cents an acre to file on these lands but the unscrupulous 'land locator' charges a fee of $1 to $10 an acre after painting bright word pictures about nonexistent artesian wells and fertile valleys. Most folks applying for these lands with the idea of some day owning their own ranches or farms are just headed for heartbreak."

The Legislature's position is supported by comparing the land gamble with that in Nevada's 24-hour casinos.

Chances of winning back money on the dice and card tables, for instance, are less than 5 to 4 against you. But chances of ever acquiring ownership of land through a Pittman or desert entry application are more than 200 to 1 against you.

A study by the U. S. Bureau of Land Management — which administers more than 47,000,000 acres of Nevada land shows there have been 3,136 desert filings and 1,456 Pittman filings in the past 20 years.

Only 17 persons have met all the requirements and received title to land under the Desert Entry Act in all that time. Only four of the 1,456 Pittman Act filings have resulted in ownership.

The reasons for this are obvious from a reading of the law. A desert entry applicant must show that the 320-acre he wants contain evidence of underground water. If the Bureau of Land Management classifies the lands as suitable for agriculture because of soil suitability and water potential. It allows the application. Provided, that is, that livestock men and other range users don't protest.

Once the applicant is allowed entry on the land, he has four years to reclaim the land and apply for ownership. During that time he must drill the wells, dig the trenches and do the other things which will enable him to irrigate all — not just part — of the 320 acres which is irrigable. Land experts say this would take an investment of $20,000 to $40,000.

Under the Pittman Act, the applicant must, within two years, produce a well capable of irrigating 20 acres economically — an almost impossible task in view of the high cost of operating deep well pumps.

Lest We Forget: The saints of old, even from righteous Abel to the end of time, were called to a life suffering and by it were made perfect. Thus also must we go through much tribulation in our way to the heavenly kingdom, and fill up the measure of suffering which is allotted us in this vale of tears.

The Scriptures give us a long catalog of worthies, who approved themselves faithful until death and thereby obtained a good report. We are exhorted to follow their example, and more especially the example of our blessed Lord. A most cordial welcome to you.

New Fashions Subject Of Local Conversation

By ARGENT DRAPER

It seems that most everyone is talking about sewing fashions and new styles.

Are you good at stretching clothing dollars? It is what most homemakers spend a lot of time considering. Outfitting the family with spring and summer clothing represents quite an investment; therefore, careful planning before buying will pay off in savings and satisfaction.

Careful planning also is the secret of having a wardrobe of costumes or outfits that go well together instead of a collection of miscellaneous items that never seem quite right. The Home Demonstration Club women seem to like the idea of coordinating by beginning with color.

Instead of having one basic color, as we use to advocate, we combine three or four neutrals that harmonize and then work in the colors with accessories and ideas that do not last one or two seasons.

This is the time of the year to take careful stock of clothing on hand. Make necessary alterations of clothes you plan to keep. Bring them up to date or put them in first-class condition.

Then plan what clothes you will need to supplement what you have. Keep in mind your activities as you make this list. Some women wear the same type of clothes to all the activities they attend. They simply change the accessories. This takes very careful planning. The dresses and suits need to be simple in line, good quality fabrics and, with very little trim. A final word on dressing well — when in doubt, leave off that extra trim. It's better to use too little than too much!

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

49-Star Flag Probably Will Become A Collectors' Item

To the people of the 18th District:

It seems that the long battle on Hawaiian Statehood is now over. I have written a number of newsletters on the subject of Hawaii attempting to become a state.

The action of the Senate and the House last week approving statehood for Hawaii ended the long battle, and Hawaii will unquestionably be a state before July 4th. Further reports on the subject will concern the activities of Hawaii as a state, rather than as a territory attempting to become a state.

The proponents of statehood hope to have everything in order, so that Hawaii, along with Alaska, will be recognized on July 4th as being entitled to designation in the flag of the United States as a full-fledged state. This will mean 50 stars rather than 49. The flags which have been manufactured with 49 stars will, no doubt, become collectors items.

Most of you know of my opposition to the admission of both Alaska and Hawaii. Contrary to many news stories portraying the opposition as being interested in racial matters, voting strength, and other surface items, the actual opposition of the sincere opponents was based upon the fundamental proposition stemming from the fact that both Hawaii and Alaska were separated from the other 48 states by the high seas, in the case of Hawaii, and by the high seas and foreign territory in the case of Alaska. In both cases the territory separating us from Alaska and Hawaii was territory over which we did not have exclusive jurisdiction.

In the history of governments in the world, the creation of statehood status for Alaska and Hawaii found no precedent. In other words, it has never been tried before. Basically, that was the premise upon which the opposition was based.

Those of us who opposed the move to the end felt that the present is not the time to be embarking upon experiments in the philosophy of government — namely for the reason that we are told daily that our philosophy of government is face to face with the greatest challenge in the history of man — namely communism. However, since by the application of democratic processes the decision has been made to embark upon this new political sea, certainly those of us who opposed the move yield to the decision of the majority and will endeavor by our greatest efforts to make the venture an outstanding success.

We all hope that the great merrymaking and rejoicing, which took place in the Hawaiian Islands when passage of the statehood bill was announced, is fully justified, and we shall work toward that end.

Turning to the other side of the world, we do not find rejoicing or merrymaking. Rather, we find despondency and fear. We find tension at a high pitch — the result of the bomb that has been set by Mr. Khrushchev in his demand that allied forces depart West Berlin by May 27.

The sentiment in Washington is mixed. Many feel that our foreign negotiators have permitted us to slip into a trap. Others feel that the matter can and will be worked out. This latter group subscribes to the policy that Khrushchev does not consider his position with regard to West Berlin of sufficient importance to trigger a war.

Others feel that Khrushchev has spotlighted the Berlin situation because the Russians are planning to move forward at some other spot. A review of Russia's activities in the past would indicate that this latter group could be right. Whatever analysis is correct, we are sure of one thing, if Khrushchev undertakes by force or otherwise to effect a removal of the allied forces in West Berlin, he will be in violation of both the Yalta and Potsdam Agreements. This is something that cannot be avoided by anyone but the USSR.

The integrity of any nation, like the integrity of an individual, is within its sole control. It was the lack of integrity on the part of governments in the past that resulted in the violation of treaties and the resulting armed conflicts. We had hoped, perhaps wrongfully, but nevertheless the hope was there, that those in control of the communist form of government, opposed as it is to our basic policies, might realize that basic integrity is indispensable in any successful endeavor; that so realizing, they would honor the responsibilities and obligations incident to solemn agreements entered into in good faith on our part.

Should Khrushchev violate the agreements of Yalta and Potsdam in the Berlin crisis, it will provide conclusive proof of the complete lack of any hope that the communists ever intend to subscribe to or abide by any code of honor. It was certainly good to see several people from home in Washington last week, all of whom came by the office, either on business or just for a visit. Paul Spillman and John Coleman from Wellington were in town. Homer Johnson from Pampa, dropped by the office a few minutes. John Amend of Amarillo is in Washington temporarily attending the FBI school. A. W. Anthony from Friona is in Washington in the interest of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association of the Panhandle.

A very fine group of high school students from Amarillo and Pampa were in Washington last week where they stopped en route to New York to attend a meeting for young journalists at Columbia University. They spent one day sightseeing in and around Washington, and one day here at the Capitol where we had the pleasure of being with them in their visit to the Senate and House, and in calling on Senators Lyndon Johnson and Ralph Yarborough, and Speaker Rayburn. They also had lunch here at the Capitol.

This group of 17 students and 3 sponsors consisted of — Mary Ann Miller, Bette Bennett, Faris Ann Mebbett, Lynn Curtis, Carol Ann Minor, Linda McCasland, Sharon Vinyard, Martha Amos, Alward White, Mike Neely, Bill Clough, Leo Dromgool, Tommy Don Kale, Jim Bob Hodge, and Herman Hill III, all from Amarillo High School; and JoAnn Thompson and Anne Triplehorn from Pampa High School; along with their sponsors and advisors, J.F. Paschal, Director of Publications at Amarillo High School, Mrs. Lynn Bennett, mother of one of the girls; and Miss Elizabeth Hurley, Journalism Instructor at Pampa High School. They are a wonderful group and are certainly making the most of their trip.

Pleats Studied At Club Meet

The Rural Home Variety Club met last Thursday in the home of Mrs. Dave Downey, with Mrs. Bill Roberts demonstrating how to make shadow box pleats. Roll Call was answered with "My Favorite Bible Verse."

OFF THE Shelf

A turning point in World War II came when the Russians turned away the Germans at the gates of Stalingrad, eventually surrounding and capturing the forsaken army.

Heinrich Gerlach has written authoritatively about the battle that boiled for months inside the "Cauldron" that contained the doomed Sixth Army. The book is translated from the German by Richard Graves.

Gerlach was a schoolteacher who joined the Nazi party to keep his job. But the war came and he served in Poland, France, Yugoslavia and Russia. Recovering from illness, he rejoined the Sixth Army outside Stalingrad late in 1942, just before it was cut off. Severely wounded, he was among those marched into captivity on Jan. 30, 1943 — the tenth anniversary of Hitler's accession to power.

He managed to write of the debacle while in prison camp, laboriously copying it in tiny handwriting into a copybook of just 20 pages. An attempt to smuggle it out was cut off by the MVD and both the copy and the original were confiscated.

Released in 1950, Gerlach was unable to recall the book from memory. Only after hypnotic treatment did it begin to return, but it still took him five years to reconstruct the book.

The Forsaken Army in late 1942 consisted of about 300,000 troops who depended upon a thinly stretched supply line. When they were encircled, their situation became desperate. Living in holes in the ground and rationed to one slice of bread per day, the German troops soon ceased to be soldiers and became a rabble scrounging for survival in the face of starvation, ceaseless attacks and bitterly cold weather.

While staff officers sent out frantic appeals for aid, by messenger and radio, Gerlach followed a number of persons as their days became numbered. Hitler and his leaders promised relief and supplies, but neither appeared. Finally Hitler announced that the troops at Stalingrad would fight to the last man and the last cartridge and mentally wrote off 300,000 troops.

From the number of troops surrounded, Russian reports said 142,000 German and Roumanian dead were counted on the battlefields, with 91,000 bro-
