

Price Would Strengthen Viet Nam Battle Gear

Bob Price, Republican candidate for U. S. representative of the 18th District of Texas, spoke here Tuesday night at the high school cafeteria.

In opening the program, Keith Jorde, county Republican chairman, announced, "The Americans-for-Constitutional-Action organization has rated Price's congressional campaign as the most likely to succeed in Texas in the November election."

Price owns and manages land in Gray County, the fourth generation on the land. He has a B. S. in animal husbandry and a minor in field crops from Oklahoma State University.

He is former president of Top O' Texas Kiwanis Club, chairman of Gray County Airport Board, and a member of Farm Bureau, Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Panhandle Chamber of Commerce, Panhandle Livestock Producers Association, Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association, Oklahoma State University Alumni Association, and vice president of Reading State Bank.

During the Korean war, Price flew 2 combat missions as a saber jet pilot. He was a recipient of the air medal. Price is married and has three children. The family is a member of the Baptist Church.

In his opening remarks, Price said that "too many people are ashamed to be caught working." He stressed government on the local level. "Too many people in Washington are playing political football with people's lives," Price said.

Price vowed that, if elected, he would fight to send only the best of equipment to the men fighting in Viet Nam. He claimed the United States to be following a "no-win" policy in Viet Nam today.

Opposed to the sale of wheat to Russia, Price asked, "Are we so devoted to the almighty dollar that we have to sell our wheat to a country that is trying to destroy us?" He said he had rather see our surplus wheat rot before a communistic nation got it.

Price said that in the period 1900-1964, Republicans and Democrats both had 32 years in office. During this period, Republicans had 22 balanced budgets, Democrats had three; Democrats had three wars, Republicans, none. Republicans were responsible for 44 percent of the national debt, Democrats, 95.6 percent, he declared.

Price strongly urges arming Cuban refugees, letting them take back their homeland. He said that "he would be ready

Club Studies Setting Goals, Reaching Them

XI Epsilon Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, at regular meeting Tues., Sept. 1, heard a program on "What We Want," directed by Billie Huddleston.

Knowing ourselves, the speaker pointed out, is essential to our attaining objectives in life. She suggested the use of one's best abilities in meeting needs with skills and materials immediately at hand.

She stressed the necessity of wide reading and the values to be gained from reading and from a good sense of humor; and the development of qualities most essential for living fully. She closed with this quotation: "I do not fear tomorrow because I have seen yesterday."

Jerry Balum and Vida Graham conducted a question-answer session on "What We Want" and "How to Get What We Want." A composite of answers showed that members would like to be "a good Christian mother," have happiness, create and enjoy a nice home, and have a healthy family.

The speakers gave a final suggestion that to achieve what one wants, one would do well to seek guidance through prayer.

At the business session Mrs. Walter London Jr. spoke on the United Fund Kick-Off Coffee at Jim Hill Hotel Oct. 1 at 10 a.m.

Members were urged to plan to attend the Beta Sigma Phi area convention to be held Oct. 17 and 18 in Pampa.

Thirteen club members enjoyed the program and social hour with Anna Bailey and Katie Kendall as hostesses.

At the next meeting, Oct. 6, Lois Hollingsworth and Mary Anna Laing will present the program; and hostesses will be Nita Roberson and Catherine Russell.

to serve again to help win back Cuba."

Price emphasized that "we can still have good times, but put it on a paying basis." He pointed out that "people are selling a little freedom for a little more pottage" from the federal government.

Cuts in foreign aid was one of his major points. Price pointed out that he would try to cut out aid to countries with communist or socialistic leanings.

He said that at the present time there are 57 welfare programs—spending $45 billion annually. He said President Johnson's "War on Poverty" was merely an election year "gimick," and that it involved spending almost a billion dollars.

Price said the social security program was operating $300 million in the red.

In closing, Price explained that his opponent would claim to have more seniority and experience—14 years. Price claims his opponent has had "one year of experience 14 times". He said the present representative

Points, picas, agate lines, and ABC

Along about 1886, publishers joined with representatives of allied trades in voluntarily adopting common standards of printer's measurements. This is called the "point system." Today, point, pica, and agate line are rigidly defined units of measure universally understood and used in our industry.

In 1914, publishers joined with representatives of advertisers and advertising agencies, and once again voluntarily adopted a common set of standards — this time, to measure circulation values. Further, publishers cooperated in setting up an organization to maintain these standards, and to use them in measuring and reporting the circulations of publications.

In helping to set up this organization, publishers willingly gave advertisers and advertising agencies majority voice in its operation, its standards, and its application of these standards in measuring circulations.

This year the Audit Bureau of Circulations marks its fiftieth year of providing the basic measures of circulation values. Along with more than 4,000 other members, we pause with pride to salute the accomplishments of this outstanding example of self-regulation in industry.

Through the reports issued by the Audit Bureau of Circulations, we, along with other ABC publisher members, voluntarily and regularly give you, the buyers of advertising, more verified factual information about ourselves than is available for any other media at any time.

The distribution of your sales messages in this newspaper is a measured fact, verified by independent audit. Measured facts also provide the basis for our advertising rates.

Whether you use inches or points, ABC is your yardstick for measuring circulation values.

Texas-Produced Cinder Stars Were Good, Too

By Harold V. Raliff Associated Press Sports Writer Texas never has produced a national championship track team nor come close to it; thus is not noted for its efforts on the cinder path. But there have been plenty of great individual performances, which accounts for the fact that this state has as many Olympic champions as any other, if not more. In 45 years of trying, Texas has had nine Olympic champions although the first came in 1932 and it was a girl who gave Texas its initial fame. Babe Didrikson won the 80-meter hurdles, the javelin throw and was first in the high jump only to be ruled out because she did not use the standard form, diving rather than jumping over the crossbar. In all three events she bettered the world's record. Four years later Earle Meadows won the pole vault for Texas' third Olympic championship. In 1952 Walter Davis, a lanky man from Texas A & M, took the high jump. Then came the biggest winner of them all, an athlete who was the greatest in the world for 1956—Bobby Morrow. Morrow captured the 100 and 200-meter dashes and ran on a world's record 400-meter relay team. In 1960 Texas had two Olympic champions. One earned his fame in another state—Rafer Johnson, the ex-Hillsboro boy who won to college in California and was Olympics decathlon champion. The other was a man from another state who starred at a Texas college. He was Earl Young, who ran on the 1600-meter relay team that set an Olympic record. Young competed for Abilene Christian College. It will be an eternal regret that the Olympics were not held in 1940 and 1944, because if they had been Texas would have had a hurdles champion. The second World War robbed Fred Wolcott of Olympics glory because he was the greatest in the world in that period and never lost a hurdles race when he finished. Twice he was beaten and then only because he struck hurdles, fell and couldn't run it out. Texas has had two second place men, too. Both of them came in the same Olympics—1956. Darlow Hooper was runner-up to Parry O'Brien, in the shot put. Eddie Southern was second to Glen Davis in the 400-meter hurdles. Texas will have six in this year's Olympics and at least two of them could win first place. Fred Hansen, the old Rice star, is a heavy favorite to win the pole vault, an event in which he holds the world's record of 17 feet 4 inches. Randy Matson, the Texas Aggie freshman giant, might well win the shot put although he was second in the Olympic trial.

He lost to Dallas Long, over whom he holds one decision. Matson has gone over 65 feet and is the third best shot putter of-all time. Olan Cassell, formerly of University of Houston; Billy Penelton of Abilene, Christian, and Ed Red of Rice are the other Texans in the Olympics. Cassell runs the 400 meters, Penelton pole vaults and Red throws the javelin. All three appear capable of placing. Penelton probably higher than the others. The other Olympian from Texas does not live in the state now. She is Earlene Brown, who made the women's Olympics team in the shot put although she has little chance to win a gold medal in view of the way the Russian girls throw the iron ball. All this is pretty good for a

Of The Crowd Yet Not Of The Crowd

A Reporter Looks At Barry

Editor's Note: Phil Duncan of The Brand staff went to Amarillo Tuesday to take pictures of GOP Presidential Candidate Barry Goldwater, and herewith he writes a reporter's "purely objective" story of the event as a reporter would view the visit without editorial comment either for or against the candidate. We think he has captured the "objective" angle which he sought.

By Phil Duncan

I joined a crowd of more than 6,000 which was jammed into Potter County Stadium in Amarillo Tuesday afternoon to greet and cheer Republican Presidential hopeful, Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Due to the quite large delegation of Deaf Smith County Republicans attending the rally, and the presence of Richard Brown, a Hereford High School student, on the program, I was sent to Amarillo to cover the visit by the senator from Arizona.

Being from a portion of the Panhandle that is traditionally Democratic in their voting views and than had little organized Republican leadership, this large gathering of Republicans was indeed a new experience for me.

Having never seen the Arizona Conservative leader, I had formed many opinions as to what I would expect upon my first contact with him. After hearing many, many commentators and columnists discuss Goldwater, I had expected to see a fire-breathing monster with horns come rushing off the plane.

However, a well-groomed, seemingly quiet-spoken man advanced down the ramp of the giant 727 Boeing Astrojet, with a very attractive woman at his side. The usual large welcoming party was on hand at the Amarillo Air Terminal to welcome Senator, as well as some 500 well-wishers, who came to the airport to catch a glimpse of the famous personality.

The senator was quickly ushered to an awaiting limousine, where he began the journey through downtown Amarillo and to the Potter County Stadium, where he would address a crowd of some 6,000 persons.

The press party was boarded on three large chartered busses, where we followed close behind the senator's car. The route was line with an estimated 12,000 to 15,000 persons, all seeking a glance at the senator.

The organization of the entire visit, was obviously planned to the second by Republican leaders in Potter County.

Schools were turned out during the appearance of the motorcade in downtown Amarillo, which was timed to arrive during the lunch hour, allowing persons downtown to view the motorcade.

The absence of hecklers was noted by reporters on the press bus. Only three LBJ signs were seen by viewers from out of the bus during the entire 15 mile journey.

The crowds, were thick at several points during the journey of the motorcade through downtown Amarillo, nearly stopping the caravan at points on Polk Street.

Upon arriving at Potter County Stadium, we were allowed to enter the stadium before Goldwater, assuring the possibility of taking some pictures of the senator before he entered the field.

Goldwater entered the field, where he was greeted by the crowd of more than 6,000, with thunderous applause and wild cheering.

Goldwater began his speech after he was introduced by Republican nominee for the 18th Congressional District, Robert Price.

He in turn introduced gubernatorial hopeful Jack Crichton and a candidate for Congressmen at Large, Bill Hayes. Goldwater urged the election of these candidates and the re-election of Representative Ed Foreman, who was on hand for the occasion.

Immediately following the formalities involved in introducing the candidates, Goldwater blasted into the foreign policy of the present administration.

Wasting no time, he accused the administration of "keeping the news from America on the Viet Nam situation" and censoring the news so much that "one might wonder if the administration is getting any information."

The candidate for the presidency immediately denied recent claims that he was "tigger-happy" concerning his foreign policy.

After speaking for some 25 minutes, being applauded during the highpoints of the speech, he prepared to leave the platform.

Through a previous arrangement I had made with his chief aide, Goldwater was posed with Richard Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gid Brown, Hereford.

The senator posed with Richard for the photograph, but appeared almost unconscious of the surroundings, with everyone yelling and tugging trying to arrange a picture, ask a question or hurry him to the awaiting limousine.

Being on the platform, just a few feet from the famous Arizona, I noticed a tired expression, that obviously came from several days of hard work on the campaign trail.

He was rushed back to the limousine, where the press corps were allowed to board the buses and advance behind the senator for the trip back to the airport.

On the trip back to the terminal, I overheard the comment of the national reporters, who travel with Goldwater during the campaign jaunts.

The reporters, who are supposedly hostile to Goldwater, were exchanging notes on portions of Goldwater's speech.

Overhearing the portion of the conversation I heard, I could not discover any real animosity toward the senator, but I understand, after hearing the brief exchanges, why men of such prominence are so often misquoted.

While "eavesdropping" on the reporters, I heard several supposed quotes, which were only

Civil Defense Program Set

Efforts to get the Deaf Smith County Civil Defense program reactivated will be made at a meeting in Chamber of Commerce headquarters here Friday night, it was announced Wednesday.

Here to aid in setting up the program will be C. O. Lane, deputy director of Civil Defense for Texas, Austin.

He will meet with all Civil Defense officials here and outline steps to be taken to get the program reactivated, says Bill Thompson, the new director of Civil Defense for Deaf Smith County.

a portion of the original statement made by the senator.

We soon arrived at the airport, where the presidential nominee hurried aboard the plane and flew to Albuquerque, N. M., where he addressed a crowd of some 12,000 persons.

The airport soon cleared out and the candidates, who arrived in Amarillo to share the spotlight with Goldwater, were on their way to different parts of the state, where they will continue to speak until their fate is decided on Nov. 3.

Special Dallas Officers Check Holdup Artists

DALLAS, (AP)—A special law enforcement group trained to cope with potential racial troubles when schools here integrated in 1960 has become one of the most versatile arms of the Dallas Police Department.

So far, 75 policemen have had the special training, and Police Chief Jesse Curry said recently he would like to have a force of 400 to 500 men trained in the special skills.

The detail's main job at present is to catch holdup men and burglars in the act and to find provokers. The outfit has police dogs.

The special enforcement squad was formed on a voluntary personnel basis and we have had more volunteers than we could use," said Asst. Police Chief Charles Batchelor. "These men, who were selected in the beginning, got special training and they are given refresher courses in crowd control twice a year."

The formation of a squad came when it became apparent that Dallas schools would be integrated. Police officials hoped that no trouble would follow in the wake of the integration, but they had to be prepared.

Initially the squad was given three weeks' special training and issued special equipment including helmets and clubs.

Since its formation the special enforcement officers have received three-day training periods twice a year.

Under the command of veteran Lt. H. C. Holloway, the squad rapidly adapted itself to special law enforcement in all fields of Officers from this squad have been placed in buildings in areas where burglaries have been high, and also where we believed burglars would hit," Chief Batchelor said. "They have been successful in apprehending many burglars."

It was also special enforcement officers who were called on to do stake-out work in liquor stores and small drive-in grocery stores, which are frequently preyed upon by bandits. Some bandits have been killed in the act of robbery.

The special enforcement officers also stop suspicious cars and they have been successful in apprehending felons wanted by the department.

Letter To The Editor

Editor: Lyndon B. Johnson, in his acceptance speech, spoke of the dreams of Franklin D. Roosevelt, of Harry Truman, of John F. Kennedy, and of himself.

We are, indeed, living in a dream world, but it is fast running into a nightmare.

We, the people of the United States of America, are responsible for the rise of Communism in the world and the enslavement of the millions ground under its heel.

We are co-operating with the Communists wherever they have a cause to further.

We are rapidly creating a socialist dictatorship in our own country. Our chief executive can state in a public address that anyone who thinks that the States have any rights "is living in the age of the dinosaur" and go unchallenged.

Sander Vanocur, in criticizing Governor Wallace's statements before the Democratic Platform Committee, may be technically correct when he says that he knows of no-one in this country who advocates land reform. However, if he will refer to NBC tapes of the speeches made by John F. Kennedy in 1961 and 1963 on his Latin American trips he will find that our President on those occasions urged those countries to "adopt a graduated income tax, enact social welfare legislation, and institute land reform" (changing "land reform" to "agrarian reform" in his 1963 speech).

Our vaunted prosperity is a myth. With the exception of the years 1948 and 1949, we have been operating on a war economy with deficit spending, a mounting public debt, and continuing inflation. Our dollar has depreciated 63% since 1933.

We must escape from this Utopian dream world induced by the drug of socialism. The withdrawal pains may be serious, but they will be bearable.

Once we have emerged into the world of reality we can become, again, a Nation of Character, respected throughout the world. (Name Withheld By Request)

INDIVIDUAL DESSERTS — Whether made with timbale iron or in muffin tin, or from frozen pastry shells, tarts can be a special dessert! They offer great variation with small berries or fruits — fresh, canned, or frozen — folded in whipped cream (marshmallow or low calorie topping). Another treat results from pears crowned with minted chocolate. (AR, ASR Photos)

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

Time For Tarts, Minted Pears

Of course you can buy a timbale iron, the fascinating device that produces crisp batter tarts. But if you look in your attic or basement, in Grandma's trunk or Great-aunt's chest, you might just find one there. Timbale irons were popular in late Victorian days and some still lurk, undiscovered, in odd places. We received ours as a birthday present — a friend found it in an antique shop. If you have a new timbale iron you probably have accompanying directions for using it. But if you ferret out an old iron, you might want to try our directions.

In either case, we recommend filling the tart shells, with a combination of whipped cream and one of the small fruit — fresh, frozen or canned.

BLUEBERRY TIMBALE TARTS

- 1 large egg
 - 3/4 cup milk
 - 1 teaspoon oil
 - 1 cup flour
 - Dash of salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 - Fat for frying
 - Whipped cream
 - Blueberries, frozen or canned
- Into a mixing bowl put the egg, milk, oil, flour, salt and nutmeg; with a rotary beater (hand or electric) beat just until smooth. Allow batter to stand at room temperature for 30 minutes. Lower timbale iron into hot fat for a minute or two; drain iron thoroughly. Dip iron into batter just to (not over) top; dip batter-covered iron into hot fat just to (not over) top. Allow timbale to brown lightly; with a fork, slip tart from iron and turn to brown inner surface. Remove from fat; drain on absorbent paper. Continue making timbales the same way. Store cold tarts in airtight container.

At serving time, fold blueberries into whipped cream; spoon into tarts, cover fillings with more blueberries. The number of tarts you make and the amount of filling needed will depend on the size of the timbale iron.

You may not need to dip your iron in the fat, before covering with batter, for every single tart. If the iron is too hot, too much batter will cling to it and the tarts will be on the thick side.

The French dessert classic, "Pears Helene," receives a few deft touches when made with Bartlett pears for "Minted Chocolate Pears." The result: An elegant dessert you can prepare ahead of time and assemble in moments just before serving.

Bartlett pears reach their seasonal peak in September; but frozen or canned pears will do as well.

MINTED CHOCOLATE PEARS

- 4 fresh Bartlett pears
- 1 cup water
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 teaspoon mint extract
- 1/2 cup semi-sweet chocolate bits
- 1/2 cup light corn syrup
- 2 tablespoons butter

Pare and core pears from blossom end, leaving on stem. Combine water and sugar in saucepan; heat to boiling and stir in 1/2 teaspoon vanilla and 1/4 teaspoon mint extract. Reduce heat, add pears and simmer until fork tender, about 10 minutes. Transfer pears to shallow dish. Boil sugar mixture until thick; spoon over pears to glaze. Cool. Melt chocolate over hot water; stir in syrup, butter and remaining vanilla and mint extract. Cool. Serve over pears in individual serving dishes. Makes 4 servings.

WEEKDAY LUNCH

A hint of lemon gives fetching flavor to blueberry muffins. Egg and Tomato Salad. Blueberry Muffins. Beverage.

BLUEBERRY MUFFINS

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/3 cup sugar
- 1 large egg
- 1 cup milk
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted.

1 teaspoon grated lemon rind. Into a medium mixing bowl, sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Beat egg until thick and ivory color; milk and beat to combine; stir in butter and lemon rind. Add egg mixture to sifted dry ingredients; stir only until moistened; disregard lumps. Fold in blueberries. Fill buttered muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven about 25 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 12 to 14 if wells are 1/3-cup size.

BLUEBERRY BISCUIT

- 2 cups blueberries, rinsed
- 6 tablespoons sugar
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup biscuit mix
- 2 1/2 tablespoons cream

Turn blueberries into two individual glass pie plates — each about 6 inches across and one inch deep. Stir together the sugar and flour; sprinkle over berries; dot with butter. With a fork stir together the biscuit mix and cream; divide in half. Roll out each half of dough into a round large enough to fit over berries; with a pastry wheel, cut each round into 4 wedge-shaped pieces; place on berries. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until biscuit browns — about 25 minutes. Serve warm with vanilla ice cream. Makes two large servings.

FAMILY FARE

This salad may be as popular at your house as it is at ours! Chef's Tuna Salad. Hard Rolls. Honeydew Melon with Lemon Wedges. CHEF'S TUNA SALAD. 3 cups salad greens, packed. 1 tablespoon minced chives. 1/4 cup each julienne cooked ham, cheddar cheese and celery. 1 can (7 ounces) solid white tuna (albacore). Olive oil, wine vinegar, salt, pepper and seasoned salt. Into a salad bowl turn the greens, chives, ham, cheese and celery. Drain tuna, separate into rather large pieces and add. Toss together. Toss again with oil, vinegar, salt, pepper and seasoned salt in amounts to suit your own taste. Makes 3 medium or 4 small servings.

OLD GLORY — Special flag-raising ceremonies were a part of Pioneer Club's dedication of the new flagpole in Mother's Park Tuesday. Boy Scouts of Troop 52 will be in charge of daily flag raising during the coming year. Mothers' Park Gets Own Flagpole

With special ceremony and flag-raising Tuesday afternoon, Pioneer Club dedicated the flagpole in Mother's Park, North Main and Park Ave.

Mayor Ray Cowsert, in his dedicatory address, gave a short history of this nation's flag, for its turbulent beginnings to the present, stressing what it stands for to all citizens of the United States. "It is a constant reminder of our duty to God and to our Country," he said.

He noted that in its particular location, the flagpole enables traffic from all directions to see the flag.

Presentation to the city of a special United States flag that had flown over the national capitol was made by Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr., Boy Scouts of Troop 52 (who will be in charge of daily raising of the colors) raised the flag while "The Star Spangled Banner" was played by the Whiteface Stage Band under direction of Ben Gollehon. Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. led Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, followed by Gollehon's singing "America the Beautiful" to the band's accompaniment.

The Rev. Eugene Brink had given the invocation for the ceremonies; and Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, chairman of the club's religion committee, gave the prayer of dedication. The services were in charge of Mrs. Ralph McCullough, club project chairman.

To begin their special day of Americanism, the club had met for salad luncheon in the Community Center. The head table carried a large arrangement of red, white and blue flowers—roses, asters, and Michaelmas daisies; miniature bouquets decorated the other luncheon tables. Each place was marked by a small United States flag.

At the head table was displayed the deed to Mother's Park, dated 1930 when Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Thomas deeded the park area to Pioneer Club (then known as Mothers' Club).

Mrs. Lookingbill, club president, presided at the short business meeting when essential reports were heard; the club voted to send a letter of thanks to Senator Yarborough for the flag to be used in Mother's Park; and Mrs. John D. Pitman gave a report on the United Fund, urging club support.

Luncheon guests were Mrs. Brink and Mrs. Kenneth Rudd. Members present included Mrs. Buri France, Mrs. N. E. Gass, Mrs. Ray Johnson, Mrs. J. E. Beyer, Mrs. Manjeot, Mrs. N. C. McClure, Mrs. McCullough, and Mrs. H. E. Miller.

Also Mrs. Wirt Phillips, Mrs. Paul Rudd, Mrs. Mary Seigler, Mrs. Delmar Sigle, Mrs. P. B. Sowell, Mrs. C. R. Walser, Mrs. Bess Werner, Mrs. R. L. Wilson, Mrs. William Wimberley, and the hostesses, Mrs. A. G. Bell, Mr. Frank Ball and Mrs. Ted Panciera, with assistant hostesses.

SCULPTURE ACROSS CANADA — Works of art in stone, bronze, wood or concrete may one day link Canada from coast to coast.

A project, to be known as the Way of the Arts, has been launched here.

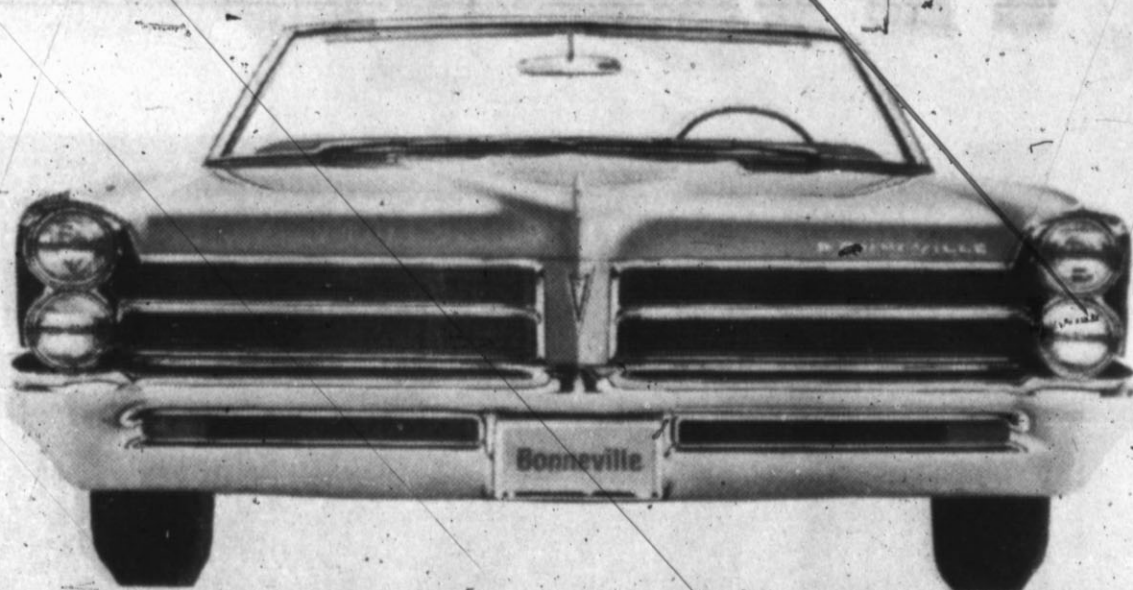

Members were reminded that Mrs. J. W. Walker, Plainview, would be guest speaker at the next meeting, Oct. 13.

A number of internationally acclaimed artists are given room, board and a salary, on conditions that they work in public and leave their creations behind them when the job is finished.

Eleven artists from 13 countries are at present working on great blocks of stone on the slopes of Mt. Royal. Their work may be sent to points across Canada later.

Today is '65 Pontiac Day.

1965: The year of the Quick Wide-Tracks

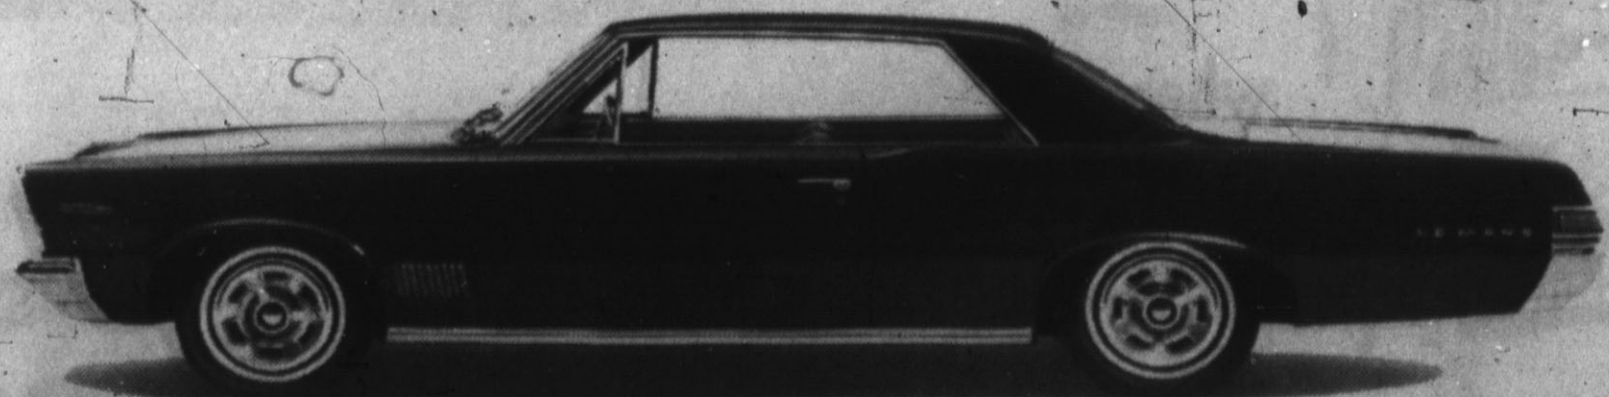

What do we mean by "quick"? Just this: A new-all-over Pontiac Pontiac offering a new Turbo Hydra-Matic—the silkiest, swiftest-shifting automatic transmission you ever touched a toe to; eager new Trophy V-8 power; new steering agility; a surer-footed Wide-Track ride. And a new Pontiac Tempest that's become even more of a Pontiac with new style, new length and Pontiac-quick reflexes to match. You never knew cars could be so beautiful, and so keenly alert to your touch. This is your year to drive a Wide-Track—quick!

'65 Pontiac Pontiac

How does the success car outdo itself for 1965? Beautifully, just beautifully. But this Pontiac has no intention of getting by on looks alone, though it could. So there's new quickness, Pontiac style. A new nimbleness. New fuel savings. A smooth, easy new ride. Drive a '65 Pontiac and see how one success leads to another.

'65 Pontiac Tempest

Tempest's even more of a Pontiac now, and what more could a car be than that? The '65 Tempest looks like a Pontiac, as you can see. Rides like a Pontiac on Wide-Track. Goes like a Pontiac, too: a 140-hp six is standard. Or you can get a quick V-8, up to 285 hp. You'll wonder how we can keep the price so low on so much car.

Carr Offers Eight-Point Program To Check Crime

By Vern Sanford

Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Speaking before more than 300 district and county attorneys, sheriffs and judges at a Law Enforcement Conference here, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr proposed the following 8-point program:

1. Expand training and education of law enforcement officials
2. Provide more officers and pay them better;
3. Teach personal knowledge of confinement to juvenile offenders;
4. Teach and gain increased parental responsibility;
5. Make parents financially responsible for damage done by juveniles;
6. Place responsibility on juveniles themselves through such programs as the Texas Youth Conference;
7. Continue and improve the annual Attorney General's Law Enforcement Conference; and
8. Step up local community "crime drives".

SHELL GAME — State Sen. William Patman of Ganado and Rep. Paul Haring of Goliad have entered strong protests with the State Parks and Wildlife Commission, on behalf of their constituency, opposing an application by Heldenfels Brothers of Corpus Christi to dredge for oyster shell in Copano Bay.

According to Haring, Heldenfels Brothers wants to use the shell to build a road by Copano Bay. But the State Highway Department would readily accept the use of lime instead. Protestors insist that dredging in the bay would kill off live oyster reefs and destroy fishing, sporting, and tourist attractions in the area.

A-G OPINIONS — Attorney General Carr ruled that Rep. H. G. Wells of Tulla, who represents Briscoe, Hale, Swisher and Floyd Counties, should get legislative pay through this term even though he now is attorney for the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1. Wells is not running for reelection.

Carr also held that professional roller derby contests are not taxable under the Admissions Tax laws of Texas; and "concrete containers" to be used as burial vaults, in garden-type cemeteries to keep graves from settling, are funeral merchandise under state law and are not exempt as crypts or mausoleums.

APPOINTMENTS — Gov. John Connally has appointed George Dowlen of Canyon as Criminal District Attorney of Randall County. He succeeds the late Truett G. Hull Jr.

Connally also picked Paul N. Howell of San Antonio to succeed E. E. Voigt on the San Antonio River Authority Board. Howell, an oilman, also is a director of the San Antonio HemisFair.

PALMETTO DAM — Edna and Ganado area people packed a Water Commission hearing room when Bureau of Reclamation representatives and the Jackson County Flood Control District took up consideration of the proposed Palmetto Bend Dam Project.

Most of those attending the hearing favored construction of the 15-mile dam, which would cost $48,150,000 to build. However, Commission Chairman Joe Carter said no written protests had been received.

Harry Burleigh, area planning engineer of the Bureau of Reclamation, outlined the two-part project. It will begin with construction of a dam across Navidad River to form a reservoir with a capacity of 192,000 acre feet and a conservation level of 44 feet.

Part two of the plan would extend the dam across nearby Post Oak Branch and Lavaca River.

Burleigh said that the first phase, if authorized by the Commission, plus the Federal House and Senate and the people of Jackson County, would satisfy Jackson County's water needs for about 19 years.

Approval of both phases at one time would result in savings, Burleigh stated. But Commissioner Otho Dent was reluctant to consider part two immediately.

"If phase one is an entity unto itself and you don't intend to do anything with phase two for 15-20 years, I'm not in favor of the state surrendering its rights to control of water in the second watershed at this time," Dent said.

Commission, which will write the state's comments on the project, took the matter under advisement after six hours of discussion.

HEARINGS CONCLUDED — A legislative study committee completed its hearings on congressional redistricting and settled down to figuring how to draw 23 districts of equal population.

At the final meeting in Austin Rep. John Traeger of Seguin suggested a redistricting plan which would create a new 16 county district in the Guadalupe River Basin. His proposal also would combine the East Texas districts of Congressmen John Dowdy of Athens, Wright Patman of Texarkana and Lindley Beckwork of Gladewater.

Unless the study committee of the Texas Legislative Council comes up with something better, Traeger served notice he intends to submit his plan to the next Legislature.

Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe, committee chairman, indicated repeatedly that the panel is aiming for a plan in which no district varies more than five per cent in population from the mathematical average of 416,500.

OIL PRODUCTION HELD — Texas Railroad Commission held Texas oil production to 27.9 per cent of potential.

New order will peg October production at 2,866,252 barrels a day, compared with an October, 1963, figure of 2,878,206 under a 28 per cent order.

MENTAL RETARDATION — Texas' biggest effort to initiate a plan reaching into many communities for combating mental retardation is under way.

Planning work was authorized by a special committee appointed by Governor Connally.

Goal of the committee is to measure the size of the problem, pinpoint available services and accurately forecast needs to treat and prevent retardation. A long-range study is planned under federal grants.

Mental retardation afflicts 300,000 Texans. Over 8,000 mentally retarded children are born each year, the committee was told.

LUBBOCK CHOSEN — After inspections covering 12,000 miles and 17 cities, the State Board for Hospitals and Special Schools picked Lubbock as the site for a new school for the mentally retarded. Estimated cost is $2,500,000.

School will serve an 84-county West Texas area.

Plainview, Odessa, El Paso, Levelland, Midland, Fort Stockton and Amarillo also were seriously considered as sites. Thirty-nine cities originally expressed interest in having the facility.

DISASTER PLAN — A new "hospital zone support concept" which would link all Texas hospitals in the event of a major disaster was unveiled here.

Texas Medical Association and the State Advisory Committee on Health and Medical Aspects of Civil Defense have set up a statewide conference of disaster medical care directors. They will detail medical and health disaster plans.

Texas Hospital Association initiated the project for the linking of hospital services and the handling of casualties.
