Henslee Resigns As County Judge

County Counts 12,969 While City Has 7,473

Select Successor In November Vote

Regular County Commission meeting closed on a surprise note Monday afternoon when the resignation of County Judge Homer E. Henslee was accepted.

Immediately after the Commissioners accepted the resignation "with sincere regret", they appointed Henslee to serve until his successor is elected at the November general election or until such time as the successor qualifies for the office.

Henslee, who will be 66 next month, told the Commission he was resigning at this time in order that the County Democratic Convention could name a candidate to be placed on the November ballot.

The convention meets Saturday afternoon. "I felt I was not serving Deaf Smith County as it should be served by the County Judge due to my health," Henslee said after the meeting.

Henslee agreed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation after the Commissioners said they would find someone to handle right - of - way acquisition for the planned expansion.

County Approves Institute Study

Key employees of Deaf Smith County Monday were approved to attend an Institute on Alcoholism at the University of Texas June 26 - 29.

Expected to attend from the county will be Jewell Smith, county welfare officer, and Lowell Sharp, sheriff - elect.

Commissioners left the number open, saying they would pay expenses for all who were able to attend, sharing Reese's expenses with the 69th District.

Request for the authorization was made by Herb Boardman, chairman of the Deaf Smith County Committee on Alcoholism, and the Rev. Joel Treadwell and Francis Hardwick, members.

"We are neither wet nor dry," Hardwick pointed out to the group as he explained the function of the committee.

The Institute is held each year at the University of Texas and is staged by the University in cooperation with the United States Health Department.

County Judge Homer Henslee read a resolution passed by the Northwest Elementary School PTO requesting temporary paving from Texas Avenue west on Moreman Avenue to the school.

The letter also urged that city, county and school officials work together.

Activity will continue at the local links Friday, Saturday and Sunday, when the second annual "Golf Begins At Forty" tourney will be played.

Play in the pro - Am was by low ball, with amateurs receiving half their handicaps. Each golfer played 18 holes.

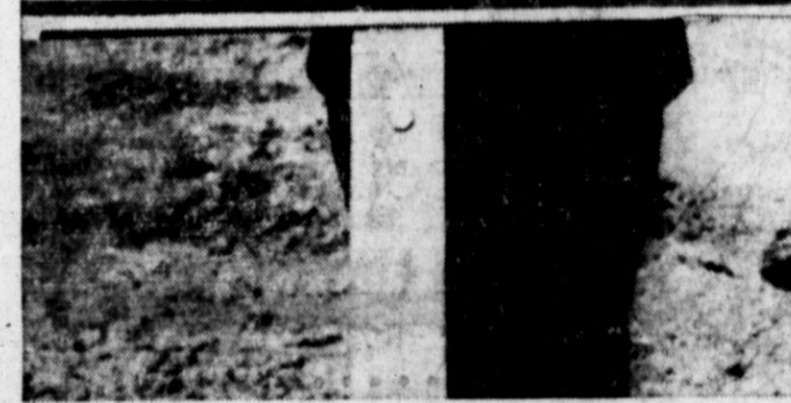

Hereford professional Bud Posey expected about 10 pros and 90 amateurs to play in the tourney.

HEREFORD CITY LIMIT EST. POP. 7500

A PERPLEXING PROBLEM was presented this week when census figures were revealed for Hereford and Deaf Smith County.

Although generally smaller than had been expected, preliminary census figures released this week for Hereford and Deaf Smith County indicate some significant gains.

Hereford's population was set at 7,473 while Deaf Smith County was reported to have 12,969 by the area office of the U. S. Census Department in Amarillo.

Compared with the 1950 census count when Hereford had 5,207 and the county just 9,111, the gain is about as good as for any comparable town in the Panhandle.

The new figures give Hereford an increase of 2,266, which is up 42.2 per cent from 1950. The county had a total gain of 3,858, which is an increase of 43.5 per cent.

Comparing the increases for Hereford and for the county, there is an increase of 1,592 rural residents. This is a reversal of the common trend for a drop in rural population that has been seen in other census reports from the Panhandle.

In 1940 Hereford's census count was 2,584, while it was 6,056 in the county at the same time.

Final, and official, count for the city and the county will be announced later.

Winner of the Brand census contests will not be announced until the official total is revealed.

District Court Sentences Six

Two men were found guilty of driving while intoxicated, second offense, by jurors in 69th District Court Monday and Tuesday in Hereford. Another jury was scheduled to hear a DWI case Wednesday.

District Judge Harry Schultz also heard four pleas of guilty during the session, which started Monday morning.

J. D. Hethcock, 45, of Pampa was sentenced to 90 days in Deaf Smith County Jail plus $250 fine and court costs after pleading guilty to driving while intoxicated, second offense, before a jury Monday afternoon.

A jury found O. T. Tice, 32, of Hereford guilty to charge of second offense DWI Tuesday and assessed punishment at one year in the state penitentiary.

Entering pleas of guilty before Judge Schultz Monday morning were: Jerry Wayne Williams, 17, of Dumas, to

Herd Bi-District Foe Undecided

Hereford's bi - district opponent in AAA baseball has not yet been decided, according to the athletic chairman of District 2-AAA.

T. A. Roach of Andrews, in a telephone conversation with Hereford High principal Stanford, said the winner might not be determined until the first of next week.

Currently baseball teams from Kermit and Ector of Odessa are tied for the lead with 6-2 records. Monahans is in third place with a 4-4 mark. Ector was the state AAA baseball runner - up in 1959.

District winner must be decided by May 18, according to Texas Interscholastic League rules. The bi - district winner must be determined not later than May 25. Winner of bi - district will meet the winner of 3-AAA and 4-AAA to decide the regional champion. That team will advance into the state play - offs.

Hereford coach Joe Smith said Wednesday he favored a one - game play - off for the bi - district title. TIL provides that the bi - district competition may be either one game or a two - out - of - three series.

County Convention Battles For Ballot Spots Forecast

Normally - routine county political conventions are expected to be lively places Saturday because of two offices which need to be filled.

Both major parties will hold county conventions on Saturday, May 14.

The Democratic Party convention will be held at 2:30 p. m. in Stanton Junior High School while the Republicans will meet at 3 p. m. in the Hereford Community Center.

Louis Woodford is Democratic County Chairman and Kenneth Rudd is chairman of the Republican County group.

Offices which hinge in the balance include Deaf Smith County Judge and Deaf Smith County Clerk.

Homer E. Henslee is presently filling the office of county judge, vacated by his resignation Monday. Mrs. Lurline Smith is now serving as County Clerk, filling the vacancy created when her husband, Ralph Smith, died last month.

Mrs. Smith, in a resolution sent to all Democratic precinct conventions last week, said she would not seek the County Clerk's office in the November general election and did not wish to serve after November.

Texas election laws provide that each party may name only one person to appear as that party's candidate in the general election for any one office if the vacancy is created after the primary filing deadline.

Thus, county Democrats will be allowed to name only one person as its candidate for County Judge, and one for County Clerk. The Republicans also will be allowed to name only one person to appear as that party's candidate in the general election for any one office if the vacancy is created after the primary filing deadline.

Bayne Places 4th At State

Dudley Bayne, a Hereford High School senior, placed fourth in AAA Number Sense division of University Interscholastic League state contests at Austin Saturday morning.

Bayne competed against seven other state finalists in the contest, which was held on the University of Texas campus. Another Hereford High senior, Ronald Anderson, also competed in the Number Sense division.

The two local students made bid for state honors by winning the regional UIL contests in Odessa last month, Bayne placing first and Anderson placing second.

In District League contests at West Texas State College in Canyon early in April, Anderson placed first in Number Sense and Bayne placed second.

A contestant from Cleburne placed first in the state competition. Bayne and Anderson were accompanied to Austin by James Garner, Hereford High School mathematics instructor.

Recently-hired superintendent Paul Stevens was given a three-year contract by the board. Stevens currently is commuting between Hereford and Galena Park. He has been given full authority for the Hereford school system.

Tuesday night's meeting was the first regular session Stevens had attended since his appointment.

Stevens was authorized to answer a letter of request from School Parent-Teacher organization for a temporary paving job from Texas Avenue west on Moreman to the school.

Trustees again explained they are willing to pave around the school property, but cannot participate in any other paving program. Copies of the letter are to be sent to the City Commission and County Commission.

Precincts 1, 8 and 11 endorsed B. F. Cain, while boxes 3, 4, 6 and 9 went for Mrs. Crume. Only Precinct 11 bound its delegates to the unit rule. Boxes 2 and 7 are uncommitted, while Precinct 10 failed to turn in a report of its convention.

Deaf Smith County unit of P-TA will meet Thursday, May 12, at 8 p. m. in the Hereford High cafeteria. All incoming and retiring officers are asked to be present for the installation ceremonies, which will be conducted by Charles V. Eads of Amarillo. There will be a film and refreshments after the installation. The public is invited to attend.

Consider this another reminder that May 31 is the final day to file for homestead exemption. That is handled at the county tax assessor's office.
B-11-28-TFC

Troop 50 Boy Scouts will be around Saturday to put welcome banners in store windows in advance of next week's convention of International Park Highway Association, most of which is U. S. 385. A hundred or so folks are expected in Hereford on May 19, 20 and 21 for the meeting.

Hereford Garden Club will meet at 3 p. m. Friday, May 13, in the home of Mrs. R. L. Wilson in the Westway Community.

A number of persons interested in organizing a Little Theatre met Tuesday night at the Hereford Community Center. Pat Loerwald was named chairman of a committee to contact other groups for backing and assistance. Joy Doans is charged with reading material for future production. Marilyn Barkley urged all persons interested, regardless of age or experience, to attend the next meeting on Tuesday, May 17, at 8 p. m. in the Community Center.

Hereford go-karters (or is it "go-kartists?") won five of six possible trophies in races at Canyon last Sunday. Champs include Chuck Callaway, Carl Hollingsworth, Forrest Bridges, Lois Hollingsworth, and Bary Gabbert. Hereford will stage another trophy race here on Sunday, May 22, at 2 p. m.

Bobby Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erle Marie Brown of Hereford, recently was recognized as an outstanding senior student at Texas Tech. He was one of 32 students singled out in "Tech Salutes" in the school annual. Brown, who was Lubbock's community ambassador to Chile last summer, is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Cox of Hereford.

All finished with their trash barrel painting, members of the Oasis Shrine Club of Hereford will be making the rounds of residences again Sunday, May 15. This time they will be at the front door, seeking donations for their work. All proceeds will be used in staging the fifth annual Handicapped Children's Clinic here next week. If you are going to be gone, they request you mail a contribution to Oasis Shrine Club, P. O. Box 565, Hereford. And all Shriners are requested to report to the Jim Hill Hotel at 1:30 p. m. Sunday to get ready for the canvass.

Glenn Scott, from Southwest Bell Telephone, will present a program on electronic brains, guided missiles and man-made satellites for the Kiwanis Club on Thursday, May 12, at noon. The meeting is slated for the IOOF Hall.

Deadline is May 31 for requesting transfer of students from one school district to another. If such a request is sought to get a student enrolled in a district other than the one in which he resides, the request must be filed with the County Superintendent by the child's parents before June 1 for the 1960-61 school year. After approval by the County Superintendent, requests are subject to protest by the school districts involved. If the transfer is protested it is either approved or cancelled by the County Board of School Trustees.

County conventions will be held Saturday, May 14. The Democrats meet at 2:30 p. m. in Stanton Junior High and the Republicans at 3 p. m. in the Community Center.

Two banquets are set for Saturday night, May 14. Annual ladies bowling banquet will be at 7:30 p. m. in the Jim Hill Hotel. And that long-anticipated affair, the Junior-Senior banquet, will be at 8 p. m. in the high school cafeteria.

And if you don't know how many days are left until the end of school, you just don't have a child who attends classes.

High School Students Display Skills

Music and art from the Spanish department

Skills and knowledge acquired during the past year were put on display Monday night during the annual Hereford High School achievement night.

The gymnasium was packed with displays and exhibits.

Preceding the displays, homemaking students were presented at a style show in the high school auditorium, modeling clothes they had made in sewing and design classes.

Students and instructors were on hand during the evening to explain some of the classroom work and various projects which had been handled during the year.

IRENE JESSUP . . . She just loves jewelry

Petticoat Tycoon's Parties Profitable

By DOROTHY ROE
Because she likes to give parties,

Irene Jessup of San Francisco is today one of the country's highest-paid saleswomen.

You might say Irene is a typical American wife and mother — except for her income. Smart, slender, blonde and pretty, she is the wife of a house painter and mother of two children, 19-year-old Gary and 4-year-old Mary Anne. Before she discovered the possibilities of salesmanship, she was a beauty operator, earning $40 a week. Today her income is more than $30,000 a year, and expected to hit $40,000 in 1960. How does she do it?

"Well," says Irene, "one day I went to a football game in San Francisco with my husband, and the man behind me dropped a hot dog into my lap. While he was apologizing and helping mop up the mustard, we got acquainted. He turned out to be Daniel O'Farrel Zermeno, executive vice president of a big costume jewelry company, and he asked me if I would like to show the jewelry to some of my friends.

"Well, one thing led to another and the first thing I knew I was giving a party, and we had a fashion show of this jewelry, designed by Sarah Coventry, which is sold only this way, in homes. Since these women were all my friends and neighbors, I felt at ease, and before the evening was over I'd sold a lot of jewelry.

"Then I started getting the other women to hold parties and fashion shows, and before I knew it I was area manager for the company in northern California."

This was about five years ago. Since then Irene has become a busy executive, in charge of some 700 sales people throughout her area, traveling 600 to 700 miles a week, showing women how to give fashion show parties in their homes.

"It's really a natural thing," says Irene. "The women just invite their friends in for an evening, and the jewelry is there, and the guests themselves act as models. Many women who would feel self-conscious about trying on things in a store just love the chance to do it in an informal, friendly atmosphere."

Irene gave her first fashion show party just to earn money to buy a new sewing machine. She got the machine, but she never has had time to use it since.

Nowadays Mrs. Jessup works principally with supervisors in the various towns of her area, instructing them in how to recruit new saleswomen and give fashion shows. Says she:

"Most women love jewelry, and when they have a chance to try it on at leisure, and have a personal contact with the representatives of the company, it makes all the difference.

"The women who give the parties can make as much as they want to and have time for. Some just do it for a short time, to earn money for some specific thing, like my sewing machine. Others go on to become supervisors and often find a new fulltime career."

Irene finished high school, but never went to college. A brief course in cosmetology was her only professional training. But because she likes people, enjoys her home and family and knows how to make friends, she has become a petticoat tycoon. Says she:

"It has all happened so fast, I'm still amazed when I stop to think about it. But I'll always be glad that I went to that football game that day, and that my present boss dropped that hot dog in my lap."

NO PROGRESS
BALTIMORE — Several years ago, a station wagon seen around the town was labeled on the door, "Aintgonofarm." There's a new one now which must be owned by the same people. It says, "Westilldont."

OFF THE Shelf

By H. A. TUCK
Moss Hart is a big name in American theatre as a writer and director. Act One is his autobiography, and one of the most revealing stories ever of the work that goes into a Broadway production. Autobiographies can be pretty boring things, but Act One isn't. It has a smidgen of Horatio Alger and properly it should. Moss Hart was the son of a cigar maker, a Jew who had come to the United States from England. When machines began to turn out cigars faster and better, times got hard for the Harts.

Moss found he couldn't play street games, but he could tell stories that would keep his contemporaries enthralled for hours. He developed a dramatic sense that would bring them back night after night. A man of impulse, Hart walked out of his job in a fur storage vault at noon one day to work on Broadway. He could no more resist the theatrical world than an addict could a deck of heroin. Starting in a road show office, Hart learned the intricacies of the theatre. Although he had wanted to be an actor, he dashed off a play in four nights and found it was destined for a shot at the big time. It flopped. So did his acting debut. Next step was as social director of a number of summer resorts, a rough life but one that put polish on his dramatic sense. In winter he directed little theatres in and around New York City. The highest-paid social director on the old Borscht Circuit, he wrote another play and gambled that it was good enough for Broadway. It was his first comedy effort. George S. Kaufman was called in to collaborate with Hart on Once In A Lifetime. They worked tirelessly, except Kaufman existed on two light meals per day while Hart almost starved. Out-of-town try-outs were terrible. The audience laughed continuously until the middle of the second act, when they literally yawned with boredom. An entire summer was used to doctor the play, which ultimately became an all-time favorite. Hart was on his way. Among his best-known hits were You Can't Take It With You and The Man Who Came to Dinner. He has worked with Irving Berlin, Cole Porter, Kurt Weill and Ira Gershwin. His latest is the now legendary My Fair Lady. He is married to TV star Kitty Car-isle. Hart ends Act One with the detailed explanation of how Once Upon A Lifetime was whipped into shape and his decision to move his family out of Brooklyn, with only one suitcase. With an obsession to sleep until noon and to eat his fill, Hart has become one of the finest playwrights. His book, Act One, is a polished, entertaining and educational adventure in literature.

Yankees Shell Cardinals In Opening Game Monday, 21-1

Taking up where they left off last year, the Little League Yankees staged a terrifically long barrage to shell the Cardinals 21-1 in the opening game of the season Monday night. Winners of the 1959 crown, the Yankees again proved they are the team to beat. They have lost just two games in the past three years. A 16-run uprising in the fourth was the key to the victory. Steve Hodges was credited with the win while Ed Mims took the loss. Using just 10 pitches, Hodges struck out the Cards in the first and then the Yankees went to work. Two walks, a single and a double by Danny Baize netted two runs for the Yanks in the first. In the second, the Cards got one run on a pair of singles their only score of the game that was called at the end of five innings. Held to a single hit in the second, the Yanks got three more runs on a single, a double by Steve Hodges and two errors. The fourth was a track meet for the Yankees. With one out, Danny Lester, Terry Hill, Danny Baize and Jimmy Lester blasted out consecutive singles to greet Lee Robinson, who relieved Mims. Errors put the next two on base before Robby Lemon blasted a homer over the right field fence. Gene Duvall doubled, Hodges doubled and Lester was safe on an error, Hill doubled, Danny Baize was on by error, Allison doubled and Wynn Buck was safe on an error, Bill Jack Gilliland singled, Lemon walked, Duvall got on by fielder's choice before the side was retired. Felix Albiar came in for the Yankees and gave up just one hit in the fifth, while the Yankees cooled off and scored no more runs. The game was called at the end of five innings under official rules governing the score spread and a time limit. Hodges gave up one run on two hits, while striking out eight and walking three. Albiar allowed one hit and gave up one walk. Mims, Lee Robinson, Larry Brown and Brant Knox combined to give up 15 hits, 21 runs, while walking seven and striking out nine. There was no minor league game because of the season opener ceremonies. BOX SCORE

Batenhorst, Route 4, Hereford, recently participated with other personnel from the Fourth Armored Division in an eight-day command post exercise in southern Germany. The exercise, conducted under realistic combat conditions, was designed to determine the effectiveness of units of the fourth Armored Division, a major element of the NATO Shield of defense in Europe. Specialist Batenhorst, a driver in Headquarters Co. of the division's 51st Infantry in Ulm, entered the Army in November 1958 and received basic training at Ford Hood. He arrived overseas in April of 1959. He is a 1953 graduate of Vega High School.

HE FINDS A HOME MONROE TOWNSHIP, N. J.

Dr. John S. Zakrzewski, former olympic swimmer and member of the polish underground, feels he was born again when he came to the United States five years ago. Of his earlier life, he recalls serving with the polish underground against the Germans, being wounded and sent to prisoner of war camp, liberation and returning to the underground to fight communism. Faced with arrest in 1951, he fled the country and finally reached the United States under the sponsorship of St. Francis Hospital in Jersey City. The 47-year-old physician now serves in the New Jersey State Home for Boys, a correctional institution which houses some 600 youths. He will stay there, he says, because the institution and the hospital "are my family now" and the boys need my help.

Bob And Ray: Funny Business Their Game

By Hugh A. MULLIGAN
Who is Wally Ballou and what is he really like?

For the answer to this question turn to RCA Victor's "Bob and Ray on a Platter," another hilarious album of dead pan satire on broadcasting foibles by two of the funniest men alive.
You'll find Wally Ballou, mythical man with a mike, interviewing a cranberry grower who didn't know cranberries can be served as cranberry sauce with turkey or crushed into cranberry juice. In the background, sirens wail, shots ring out, people go screaming and rushing about, but Wally Ballou doggedly sticks to the business at hand, probing the cranberry bogs for pithy quotes.

You'll also meet Stubby Burkhouse, describing the between halves color of a Saturday afternoon televised football game. "Gee, it's a thrill to be here," he begins, while down on the field 1,100 boys riding elephants and antique automobiles signal the start of the half-time festivities. Soon a dirigible, made by the science department, appears overhead and 1,100 ROTC students bail out in parachutes made by the sewing department in the old school colors.

Bob and Ray also bring you a radio sports and weather show, sponsored by Rudy and Irma's Dance Studio, that gets sa bogged down in commercials time runs out before they can give the other half of the Ohio State score.

Expertly satirizing Ed Morrow's "Person to Person," Ted Malone's poetry reading sessions, TV westerns and TV program awards, Bob and Ray are in the groove all the way, delivering 40 minutes of deftly executed mimicry and satire that beats anything else around today.

Humor on records is a perilous business that seldom comes off, but the industry seems to be getting better and better at it. Another gem in this rare field is Capitol's original cast album of "Little Mary Sunshine," the hit Broadway musical that deliciously spoofs the musical comedies of Victor Herbert, Rudolf Friml and Sigmund Romberg.

Rick Bessoyan, who did the book, the music and the lyrics, has an infallible ear for the corn of the old masters. By singing it absolutely dead-pan, the cast makes magic nonsense of such tongue-in-cheek "period pieces" as "Colorado Love Call," "Every Little Thing," "In Izzenschnooken On the Lovely Essen-zook Zee" and all the other schmaltzy Bessoyan umbers. The sugar-sweet plot has to do

How Can I?

Q. What do you consider as one of the most important factors in a woman's struggle for a good figure?

A. Posture—a woman's habit of holding herself correctly. One must throw the weight of the body where it belongs, and no matter how large the abdomen, FLATTEN it, or try to flatten it by drawing it in. This, in itself, is a good exercise—and if practiced often enough and long enough, will have a big effect in reducing the size of the abdomen.

Q. How can I prepare myself a good, cleansing facial beauty mask at home?

A. One of the best and simplest consists simply of raw oatmeal mixed to a paste with milk.

Q. What is a good and effective way to remove egg stains from an unwashable dress?

A. After the stain has dried scrape off as much of the egg as possible with a dull knife, then remove the remains with some cleaning fluid.

with noble forest rangers, a mortgage on the old homestead, hostile Indians and Old Vienna. If there is any resemblance to "Rose Marie," it is purely intended. Wisely, Capitol has substituted a full orchestra for the twin pianos that provide the musical accompaniment for the stage version.

"Rejoice, Dear Hearts," another RCA Victor album, presents the off-beat humor of Dave Gardner, a Southern comic who has appeared on the Jack Parr show several times but not always to best advantage.

Gardner needs time to get his particular brand of humor across, and this album provides the opportunity. Happily, he makes the most of it. The result is a comic style that is decidedly different from anything around today, a weird and thrilling change.

Tourist Spending Declines In State

By VERN SANFORD
AUSTIN. — Texas Highway Department soon will come out with a brochure aimed at attracting out-of-state tourists to Texas.
Publication of the booklet with State Highway funds has been okayed by Attorney General Will Wilson. State Comptroller questioned the legality of using road-use tax revenue for non-highway purposes, and the Attorney General's opinion as to legality was requested.
Actually, the brochure sticks pretty close to the road. It contains a map of the Texas highway system, tells about traffic laws and highway markers and makes a strong appeal for safe driving.
Its publication was declared legal on grounds that to refuse authorization would, in effect, declare unconstitutional the amendment approved by the people to allow advertising of Texas with state funds.
Expense of the brochure, said Wilson's opinion, "will be refunded to the highway program many times due to the great increase in automobile travel and the resultant increase in gasoline taxes."
Tourist spending in Texas dropped by $100,000,000 last year. This has been attributed by many to the fact that other states have advertised vigorously while Texas has not.
State Board of Education is considering proposals for revising requirements for education of public school teachers. Decision is to be made next summer.

Suggestions include:
1. Requiring all teachers to take 18 hours in subject matter and skills to be taught plus another 18 hours in related areas. An optional plan would be 24 hours in one subject and 18 in another.
3. Requiring future teachers to spend six semester hours of practice teaching. It was suggested (Continued on page 2) gested that this requirement could be set aside for persons with a college degree and three years actual teaching experience.

Biggest problem in driving on the new long, straight, controlled access highways is that it's too easy. Drivers get bored, inattentive, sleepy. "Rhythmic hum of powerful engines mile after mile... soft rumble of tires can produce a decided hypnotic effect," says the State Health Department Bulletin.

It suggests these ways for a driver to keep awake and alert: (1) Watch for police cars. (2) Chew gum - a full pack at a time. (3) Sing loudly and talk to yourself out loud, or to a passenger. (4) Drive in your stocking feet. (5) Sit on something hard. (6) Keep moving your eyes. (7) Don't overeat before a trip. (8) Make periodic stops.

Finally, says the Bulletin, if you get sleepy, the only real cure is to pull off the road, stop, and go to sleep. It cautions against artificial stimulants and driving after taking tranquilizers and antihistamines.

Anyone who buys a jar of gasoline for his lawn mower could be accused of violating the state's anti-bomb law, a Dallas labor lawyer argued before the Court of Criminal Appeals.

His client was convicted of having assembled materials for a "Molotov cocktail" - a home-made bomb consisting of a jar of gasoline with a rag stuffed in the top for a wick.

In the case at issue, the bomb was exploded in the driveway of a non-striking employe during a Dallas labor dispute.

Dallas assistant district attorney disagreed with the charge that the law involved is unconstitutional. He said the statute makes it clear that possession of gasoline for use as a fuel is legal, but for use in bomb making it is illegal. He said the law had been upheld seven times by the Court of Criminal Appeals and twice by the U. S. Supreme Court.

More and more attention in Texas is being given to plans for setting up courts of record to try traffic cases only. Lawyers and law enforcement officials have been concerned for years.

Public interest was suddenly sharpened this year when the State Board of Insurance adopted automobile insurance rates tied to the driver's traffic violation record. People who had been paying fines rather casually began to wonder what kind of shake they could get if they went to court over a ticket.

A State Bar Association committee has suggested a two-pronged plan - one for rural and one for metropolitan areas. Under this plan, county seats with 50,000 or more population would set up a city traffic court of record. Less populous areas could set up a county-wide traffic court. City judges would be appointed, county judges elected.

In each case, the new courts would be restricted to traffic cases, and usual corporation and justice of the peace courts would continue to function.

University of Texas Law School Dean Page Keeton has suggested that county traffic courts be set up so that appeals could go directly from them to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

State Supreme Court has ruled the state has a right to collect a tax on gas when it is taken from the ground a second time.

Francita Gas Company had been taking gas from the ground in Jackson County, running it through a cycling plant and then re-injecting it into the ground. It paid a tax for the first ex-

Paralyzed Skin Diver Is Underwater Humanitarian

By LARRY OSIUS
YUKON, Okla. — "I can't go up so I had to go down," says the powerfully built man in the wheel chair. "I started swimming for pleasure and exercise, and then for adventure. Everything now is outer space. But I can't do that." So Dean Wallen, paralyzed from the waist down since polio struck him at the age of 12, found his adventure at the bottom of lakes and rivers.

The 28-year-old Wallen, a justice of the peace, has helped recover dozens of bodies, wrecked cars and stolen goods from lak and river bottoms. It's strictly volunteer and has cost him hundreds of dollars for time, expenses and equipment.

When a call comes for help, Wallen wheels to his hand-controlled station wagon and heads for the scene. There, he wriggles into his skin-tight rubber "dry suit", a pretty neat trick for a man who can't use his legs. He scrambles out of his wheel chair and into a boat. Once over the spot Wallen drops over the side and dons his air tanks, a face mask and lead weights.

In the water he uses the boat's anchor rope as a guide and the lead weights to overcome natural body buoyancy.

"On the bottom I go into a prone position and pull myself along, feeling for whatever—or whoever—it is we're looking for," he says. Although he's made the trip below hundreds of times, Wallen treats it with respect always.

"Anything can happen down there—a rock can cut your air line or a tree limb can snag you. The minute something goes wrong, you panic. Anyone who says he doesn't panic is a liar. The trick is to catch it before you do something wrong."

When the body or object is found, Wallen drags it to the anchor rope and ascends for a rope.

While Wallen and his team— he never dives alone—are working below, the "surface man" is keeping watch above. He carefully checks all equipment and has it ready for instant use. He watches the divers' air bubbles on the surface.

"A good surface man," says Wallen, "can tell if you are following the right search pattern, if you're in trouble—even what you're had for breakfast—just by watching those bubbles."

Future Shopping A Threat To Housewife's Ego, Survey Shows

By EDWARD KITCH
CHICAGO — A woman is sure of herself when it comes to cooking or buying a hat, but furniture frustrates her.

A sample survey of 400 housewives by Pierre Martineau, manager of the research and marketing bureau of the Chicago Tribune, shows furnishing her home leaves a woman in a quandary.

"The purchase of furniture is continually delayed by the homemaker because she views the furniture shopping situation as a potential threat to her ego," he said. Martineau and his staff sought to solve the secrets of a woman's thinking when she looks for furniture.

"Why," they asked, "does a person or family take a trip to Europe, buy a car every two or three years and yet their furniture is 25 years old?" Making the selection and finding a theme for furnishing her housewife goes through a period when she is not sure she made the right choice. In time she becomes "used to" the furniture but remains somewhat indifferent to it.

Newlyweds often feel that "this will do until we get on our feet," then they will refurbish.

During the first four years of housekeeping, only 15 per cent of the housewives considered durability was an important consideration.

A woman hesitates to call in outside help of an interior decorator. She says in so doing that she can't afford to do what she believes a decorator would want to do.

But Martineau suspects that she declines this aid because she fears she will be admitting her own failure.

Instead she likes to dream a Cinderella dream of how she would like to furnish her home by looking at homemaking magazines.

Furniture is seen as an aesthetic good. In order to appreciate this good, the housewife believes that one must possess a faculty called taste. Few women believe they have this gift. But they feel they should.

Despite this handicap 64 per cent buy furniture on their first trip to one store. Those who shop around and return number 36 per cent.

The search ends in a neighborhood shop for 44 per cent.

Martineau found that 58 per cent said they didn't like the furniture they have. They tend to keep a stiff upper lip when hearing friends discuss their furnishings.

Martineau says this attitude is obviously a definite pose rather than an objective reality. She knows that furniture is the symbolic evidence of her taste, her income level and her ability to create a home rather than a mere house.

"There is a pathetic quality about all these responses which indicates just how deeply the woman is involved in the situation where she is helpless," Martineau said.

"For these women, furniture is indeed an Achilles heel."

die to live

The Book says this earthy body must die IF it is to live. How cheerfully the farmer plants his corn! He knows it must die, but he also knows that 'death' is part of the process of life. Immediately after the seed is buried in mother earth, all the ministries of God are set in motion to work a miracle. For it is said, that to make one little yellow grain, requires the sunshine and the rain, the hoarded riches of the sod — and God. It is all the miracle of Life. The hull rots and falls away much like the sins of a man being reborn of God. It is the Lord's way of carrying on His creative process to multiply the sustenance of both man and beast. Then thank God for life that is born of death. The fruit of summer and of autumn waits upon this death-to-life miracle of a good God, as a reborn soul waits to be used of his Lord. Then, there is no death... what seems so is transition. Come with me to church this week.

Do you have a maid? Ever had one? Want one?
 This needn't bring up a vision of a 25 - room home on a 40 - acre estate staffed with butler, cook, downstairs maid, housemaid, nursemaid, chauffeur and gardener.

There aren't many of those left now.

But more homes than you might think have live in servants.

wants whose jobs range from housekeeper to cook to babysitter.

Even more homes have daily help, usually a cleaning woman who comes in once or twice a week.

In fact, the demand for domestic help exceeds the supply.

And the common complaint in too many cases, employment agencies say, is: "Why can't I keep a girl?"

It can be a serious problem for the young mother of four, trying to keep up an eight - room house and a calendar full of community activities. It's also a headache for millions of employed wives who do office work days and housework at night.

Lee Ahneman, operator of a big New York employment agency specializing in domestic help, has a constant backlog of job offers.

"One problem is that 'servant' is almost a dirty word in this country," Miss Ahneman says. "Where both sides respect the other, it can mean dignity and a decent living for the maid."

"But too many women have no conception of how much they ask their maids to do. And then they're surprised if a girl quits."

Granted there are slow maids, stupid maids and lazy maids. Miss Ahneman concedes that housewives have a legitimate gripe about girls who don't do the job they're paid for. But she's ready to get that when trouble comes, 90 per cent of the time it's the employer's fault.

She has this advice on how to keep a maid happy:

Allow at least a month for her to get used to you — and vice versa. There will inevitably be friction between two women working in close association day in, day out. Take time to let the rough edges smooth out.

Keep promises. The maid's one day and night off each week should be sacred. So should an afternoon rest period. Don't assume that all her time is your time.

Let her know right away about family likes and dislikes. If you want trouble, wait until she serves fried onions to tell her nobody in the house eats onions. You'll have something besides a kettle simmering in the kitchen.

Stick to what you've told her she'll have to do. The nursemaid - cook - cleaning woman is going to revolt if her title is expanded to laundry - dog walker - super - market shopper - weed digger - and "before you go out would you iron my dress." The glory in such a case isn't worth the pay.

"Women don't understand that maids are hired believing they will 'help' the housewife," Miss Ahneman says.

"They don't expect to be saddled with the whole responsibility of the household and they're just not equipped for it."

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

Checkers In Reverse Is International Game

With only a few days remaining before the four-power summit conference in Geneva, Communist boss Khrushchev has renewed threats to conclude a separate peace with East Germany and thus attempt to isolate Democracy's outpost in West Berlin.

By a curious historical coincidence, the grave problems of Germany present a striking comparison with the difficulties confronted almost 100 years ago by Union leaders just before the Civil War.

Fort Sumpter, a Northern outpost in the midst of a hostile

Confederacy, offered an obvious threat to the security and territorial integrity of the South. The seceded states immediately demanded that the garrison in Charleston Harbor be removed, and established a tight blockade of Fort Sumpter to back up its position. If the North had agreed to leave the Fort, however, it risked at least a tacit recognition of independence for the Confederacy. Lincoln's decision to maintain Sumpter led directly to war.

The separate peace with East Germany which Russia has threatened to sign would produce substantially the same situation. Khrushchev said recently if the Soviets should sign a German treaty the West would be denied access to Berlin by land, sea, or air.

Another airlift, he indicated, would be met with force of arms. The East Germans and their Russian masters would regard the presence of a free Berlin as a geographical threat similar to the one posed by Fort Sumpter a century ago.

Geographically at least, the President would find himself in the same dilemma as Lincoln: efforts to reach West Berlin and maintain the Americans and Germans there would be a serious risk. Although I hope I am wrong, it is doubtful the summit conference will approach a German solution.

French President de Gaulle, on the same day that Khrushchev delivered his threat to Berlin, told the Congress in a joint meeting that he did not believe the troubles in Germany could be resolved at any time in the near future. If M. de Gaulle's view is substantially the one held by other Western leaders—and I believe that it is—the possibilities of even an approach to the German question appear rather remote.

I believe that the position America finds itself in today is one we have frequently occupied since the end of World War II. Anyone with even a vague understanding of checkers can understand this position quite readily. Assume there are two opposing men facing each other across an empty square, and that all the other places on the Jand Sunday to visit his mother, and a brother-in-law who is in a hospital there.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stocks and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weaver and children visited their mother in Pampa Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Carlson and children visited her parents Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Heltzer.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. D. Evans of Amarillo were dinner guests of the J. G. Fortenberry Sunday.

Mrs. Jim Perrin and children went to Amarillo Saturday, in observance of field day at Adrian School.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Dean attended church at Bippus Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter attended services at Bippus Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Jake Fortenberry, Corajie and Patty visited in the J. G. Fortenberry home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mays and children attended services at Bippus Sunday.

A good attendance was reported at Sunday School and worship services Sunday. A total of 35 were present. Visitors at the services made up for the ones who had gone to visit their mothers in observance of Mother's Day.

Everyone is reminded of the Fifth Sunday singing at Bippus May 29. Singing will begin at 11 a. m. and a basket lunch will be served at noon.

board are filled. In a game of checkers, the obvious effort would be to lure the opposition into the empty square so that the man could be jumped.

In the international climate, however, the object is drastically reversed. Rather than lure the opposing man into the empty square, the aim has been to occupy that square as rapidly as possible, and thus confront the opposition with the deadly choice of "jumping" the opposition or merely attempting to live with the new situation.

The Russians have played this game all over the world with measurable success. We made the decision and, rightfully, I believe, to "jump" them in Korea, but at the cost of thousands of men and many years of direct possibilities for World War III. The record shows, however, that in the majority of cases the United States has not considered it diplomatically and properly ethical to "jump" the other man.

The examples of this are legion. And the Russians have reaped substantial gains all through Eastern Europe, Asia, and Africa. The upcoming summit conference will subject our foreign policy - past, present and future, to an important and possible far-reaching examination. I sincerely hope the President has done his homework well.

Checkers in reverse could be played in Berlin, if Khrushchev carries out his threats. And the far-reaching implications of this game can be seen with a simple review of the dilemma which faced the North at Fort Sumpter.
