Group Hears Discussion On Aging Problems

By SUE COLEMAN
Staff Writer

Community action to meet problems of caring for the elderly was discussed from varied viewpoints at a meeting sponsored by the Hereford Committee on Aging Tuesday evening in the Community Center.

The Rev. William T. Swaim, in charge of the Presbyterian Church's program for the elderly in central Pennsylvania, and H. S. Golden, manager of the district Social Security office at Amarillo, were the speakers.

IT WAS the first of a series of meetings planned by the Hereford committee to study needs of the aging in this area, inform the community of those needs and arouse interest in solving problems.

The visitor from Pennsylvania, who is an advocate of decentralized care rather than such projects as villages for the aged which he condemned as "segregation", in his talk outlined various types of services to the aged available through government.

Summertime . . . And Living Is Fairly Charitable

Summertime sometimes finds the school-age set with time on their hands, as was the case with children in the 200 block of Beach St. last week. But, due to their own ingenuity, the situation was soon well taken care of in a charitable manner.

The "Beach Fair" — conceived while thoughts of the Lions' club carnival were running through their minds — brought in $8.30, which was promptly turned over to Mrs. Eunice Vasquez, director of See SUMMERTIME, Page 2

Local Corporation Finances Venture $1.5 Million Annual Production Planned For Initial Operations

By WAIN MILLER
Staff Writer

Establishment of a facility to manufacture "lettuce cigarettes" in Hereford became a certainty Tuesday night as financial arrangements were completed for formation of a local corporation to finance the venture.

First marketing of the Hereford-produced "safe smokes" is expected by Oct. 1 of this year with planned initial annual production of $1.5 million.

Final pledges were received for a total of $105,000 from 35 local investors who will form a new corporation—Deaf Smith County Development Co., Inc.

This corporation will join with Tobaccoless Smokes, Inc. in an operating corporation known as Bravo Smokes, Inc.

Tobaccoless Smokes president Puzant Torigan, who first brought the "lettuce cigarette" idea to Hereford a few months ago, outlined details of the financial and operating aspect of the Bravo Smokes facility at Tuesday's meeting.

Afterwards, final financing for formation of Deaf Smith County Development Co., Inc., was subscribed.

Processing of Hereford grown lettuce for the "lettuce smokes" is planned to begin by Sept. 15, with 47 persons expected to be employed by Bravo by that time, it was announced.

PROMISING prospects for expansion which would hopefully put Bravo's operations in the multi-million-dollar bracket within a few years were also cited at Tuesday night's meeting in the Jim Hill Hotel.

It was pointed out that Bravo has leased a building at 1303 East Park Ave. to house the lettuce cigarette processing operation.

The facility planned to begin lettuce processing soon is described as a "pilot plant" for Bravo's Hereford operations, with larger outlays predicted for the future.

IT WILL BE the first commercial production in the nation for the "lettuce smokes" developed by Torigan and Tobaccoless Smokes, Inc. in six years of research.

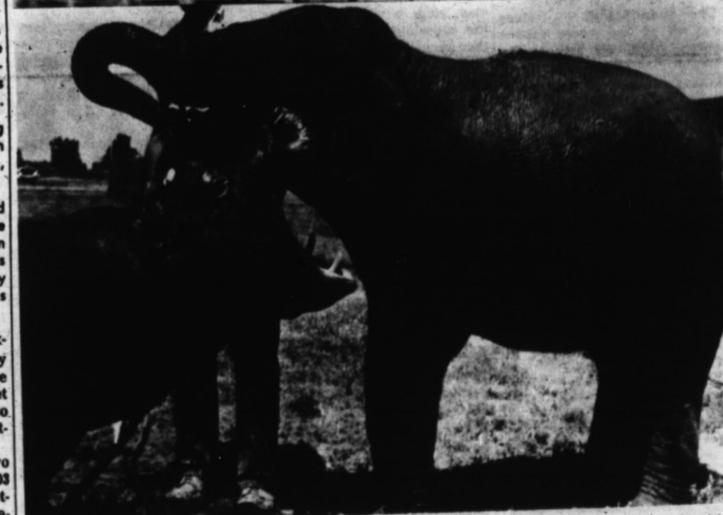

Financing and management for the three distinct but inter-related corporations which will make their home here was described as "a unique arrangement".

Torigan explained that Tobaccoless Smokes — of which he is 75 percent owner — is the research and development agent and will supply Torigan's patents to start the operation while continuing to perfect the lettuce smokes and possibly other products.

DEAF SMITH County Development Co., Inc., will serve as the financing agent and will hold all mortgages on equipment and buildings.

Bravo Smokes, Inc., will be the combination of the two corporations into an operating company.

THE 35 members who form Deaf Smith County Development Co. each are investing $3,000. Named to the board of directors of DSC Development were Carl G. McCallin, Jimmie Allred, Dr. M. W. Nobles, J. C. Williams, J. H. Sears, Virgil Marsh, D. C. McWhorter, Leo Forrest, John Douglas Pitman, See LETTUCE, Page 2

Finances Said In Good Shape For Coming Year

County Commissioners adopted a budget calling for an increase of some $100,000 over current-fiscal year spending here Monday.

The $1.1 million budget was approved following the required public hearing, at which only 11 persons were present.

Growth of operations in virtually all county departments accounted for the slight increase as no single outlay showed a sizable jump.

The commission pointed out that current county finances and the budget approved for the coming year show the county in the "best ever" financial condition.

Most notable budget allocation increase was in the general fund, where approved expenditures climb some $20,000 over the current figure.

THIS INCREASE results from additional expenses due to growth in operations required to keep up with climbing work load in most departments.

Commissioners, in outlining the budget during the public hearing, commended the administration and board of directors of the Deaf Smith County Hospital for keeping its books "in the black" while providing service at lower costs than many other area hospitals.

IT WAS ALSO pointed out that expenses of the county welfare department here are "minimal in comparison to many other county welfare offices," explaining that commissioners have kept a tight rein on those receiving welfare aid here.

It is the commission's policy "to help those who need help" while at the same time making sure those who receive county welfare "really need it."

Mrs. Bess Werner, who was present for the budget hearing, asked why the new wing of the hospital had not been used during recent weeks.

COMMISSIONERS replied that the number of patients in the hospital had dropped during summer months to the point where it was not economical to utilize the wing; however, as patient load climbs, the wing will be utilized, the commissioners asserted.

County Judge H. C. (Hank) Williams commented at the close of the hearing that the county is now "in very sound financial shape."

"ASSUMING the county were to liquidate, the county could at this time pay a refund to all taxpayers," he said.

It was also pointed out that commissioner are contemplating raises for county employees and some funds are set aside in the adopted budget for small salary hikes.

Absentee Voting Absent In Senate Change Election

No votes had been cast as of Tuesday in absentee balloting for the Sept. 7 Constitutional Amendment Special Election.

Voters will decide if membership in the State Senate should be increased from the present 21 to 29.

The amendment calls for retaining the present membership of the House of Representatives.

It also will require apportionment of the Senate according to population and delete the limitation that no single county is entitled to more than one senator.

Absentee votes may be cast in County Clerk B. F. Cain's office in the courthouse through Sept. 3. Voting began Aug. 18.

A story in today's Brand outlines some varying viewpoints on pros and cons of the proposed amendment. See "Proposed Senate Changes" on page 7, section 2.

Avid Reader

Attentive readers are appreciated in the Deaf Smith County Library but they seldom become so absorbed in a book that they fail to notice the lunch hour. One did Tuesday, and was locked in when Mrs. J. J. Boydston, librarian, went to lunch.

When Linda Boardman discovered that she had been overlooked at noon closing time, her chief concern was that her sister, Sandra, waiting for her in a car parked on a nearby street.

She telephoned the librarian, only to find that Mrs. Boydston could not be back until around 1 p.m. Then she looked for some neighborly help and telephoned the Hereford Federal Credit Union office across the street. An employee there took a message to Sandra, and Linda returned to her book to pass the time until the library opened again.

ON FARM ROAD

Two-Car Crash Claims One Life

One Hereford youth was killed and a second critically injured Sunday morning in a head-on collision about one mile east of town on FM 1259 shortly after 2 a.m.

George Joe Griego, 20, 205 Ross, was pronounced dead at the scene of the crash by Justice of the Peace C. B. Miles. Gilberto Salmon Herrera, 19, of rural Hereford, remained in critical condition in Deaf Smith County Hospital Wednesday following the crash.

OFFICIALS on the scene first attempted to cut Herrera free from his vehicle with a cutting torch, but because of a fire hazard they used jacks to finish freeing him from the demolished auto.

The collision occurred when a 1955 model sedan driven by Griego and a 1961 model sedan driven by Herrera collided head-on while traveling at a high rate of speed, investigators said.

OFFICERS said that there were apparently no skid marks on the highway at the scene of the accident. Mails was said for Griego Tuesday at 10 a.m. at St. Joseph's Catholic Mission by the Rev. Raymond Gillis, pastor. Burial followed at West Park Cemetery under the direction of Gilliland Funeral Home.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luis Griego of Hereford; two brothers, Baranado and Luis both of Hereford; three sisters, Mrs. Purcilla Lazero, Mrs. Cereilia Dennett and Mrs. Cecilia Gomez.

FOR SUNDAY AFFRAY

Man Sentenced Two Years For Affray With Officer

A 39-year-old Hereford Latin American man was sentenced Monday to two years in county jail as a result of charges stemming from a Sunday afternoon affray with a Hereford policeman.

Speaking through an interpreter, Crescino Cordero said only that he had been drunk and did not remember the struggle with policemen during which he was charged with grabbing an officer's gun and attempting to squeeze the trigger.

CORDERO was assessed the maximum penalty by County Judge H. C. Williams on the charge of aggravated assault which was filed against him in connection with the incident.

The man sat silently as policeman Don Aycock told of the Sunday afternoon struggle which resulted when police were summoned to an apartment building at 13th St. and Ave. F on a disturbance call.

AYCOCK testified that when he and policeman Wallace Shelton arrived at the scene, a group of bystanders pointed to Cordero and said he was causing the trouble.

Cordero began running, Aycock continued, and ran faster when asked to stop. Aycock then tackled Cordero and told him to go with him to the patrol car.

Cordero retreated into an apartment, the officer said. He quoted the defendant as saying, "If you come inside I'll whip your —." The officer approached him and Cordero struck him in the jaw.

The Grapes That Gearn Hath

By LARRY FUERNBERG
Staff Writer

In a country where the old is forgotten and the new is quickly replacing it, a little roadside stand sitting alongside a bustling highway is truly a different sort of business.

Seldom is one seen in the vicinity of Deaf Smith County, where the economy is based on "agri-business," not just common agriculture.

BUT DRIVING southwest on U. S. Hwy. 60, a person can get a glimpse of this once-impotent part of the American economy when he sees — of all things — a vineyard to the right of the road, complete with its little shanty, the roadside stand.

W. A. Gearn might laughingly be called the "little old winemaker" as he carefully tends his vines throughout the year. Some things "just can't be done," he says, including commercialization of grapes in this part of the country.

He makes the comment with 30 years of experience behind him, since he had raised grapes in different parts of the country before coming to Deaf Smith County. He remembers his stint in the Ozarks, where the familiar Concord grape could grow in abundance. Gearn also has raised grapes in California.

The Concord hybrids Gearn raises in his five-acre plot west of Hereford are not the type that could be sold in retail stores, he says, and that is his reason for keeping his business confined to his roadside stand.

WORD GETS around, and he reports that he has never been able to meet the demand for his grapes. He just can't handle that big a project, he says.

Concord grapes won't grow in the climate that Deaf Smith County offers, so hybrids have answered the problems to raising the fruit here. Hybrids found in his plot include Carmen, Bailey and also Beacon, which are all Concord hybrids.

Another hybrid that Gearn raises, the Stubben, has fruit that is always gone long before the demand has been met, he says. The Stubben produces a sweet fruit that is suitable for table use; the other varieties are better suited for making into jelly.

THE FIRST grapevines in Gearn's enterprise were put in the ground about eight years ago, he recalls, with his acreage being increased annually until he had 20 acres devoted to the crop.

But all did not go well as a one-man operation, and Gearn admitted that 20 acres was just more than he could take care of. His five acres now keeps him busy the year round, along with his work at a machine shop.

Several have inquired on how to start their own miniature "vineyard," and those who have tried to find out how to get one going on a commercial scale usually find they're biting off more than they're willing to chew, Gearn chuckles.

AS IS THE case with most fruit crops, a person can't make any profit from the venture for several years, and when it does start coming in, it can't be termed as a "killing," Gearn explains. His grape vines will begin bearing fruit in their third year, he commented, with production of the vine increasing until about the sixth year.

From then on, the vine can be expected to produce if it is properly cared for. As an example, he cites the original Concord grape vine, claiming that it still bears its luscious fruit every year. The vine is estimated to be well over a hundred years old.

His crop does have its good points, however, Gearn quickly asserts. Frost is never the problem that it is with other fruits such as peaches. The season in growing actual grapes is relatively short, with blooms not coming on the vines until sometime in June. A growing period of 10-12 weeks brings the grapes to maturity during August.

The fruit-laden vines smelling of the sweet grapes produce about 300 lugs to the acre, with about 22 to 25 pounds of grapes filling a lug; a lug is a small box heaped with the grapes. Gearn has hired a family to pick the grapes from the vines, leaving them in lugs along the rows waiting for Gearn's grandsons, Gordon and Kenny Gearn, to come along in a pickup to pick them up. The grapes are sold from the stand by the pound and the lug; they sell for 15 cents a pound or $2 a lug, picked.

Raising the grapes is not just a summer project, he exclaims. Winter never sees a dull moment as the tangling vines that have been built up during the spring and summer must be cut back to make room for another year's crop.

ONLY FOUR branches are left after the pruning process, with one branch extending on each guide wire. After pruning, the remaining branches must then be tied into position so that through the vineyard will not break up the vines. Each vine is eight feet from the next, with rows set 10 feet apart for easy cultivation.

He's not trying to discourage those who would like to operate on a "big time" basis, but he does say that "with fruit, you had better know exactly what you're doing."

Sixteen tracts or "natural areas," will be protected by the Interior Department's Bureau of Land Management for study and public enjoyment.

ment and private institutions and volunteer organizations. PROVISIONS of the new medicare bill to be administered by the Social Security Administration were discussed by the Amarillo office representative. Both speakers answered questions in a forum period with the Rev. Don R. Davidson as moderator.

Rev. Davidson is serving temporarily as chairman of the Hereford Committee on Aging and John Warren is secretary. The committee has recently been formed as a part of a statewide program.

The program began in 1960 with appointment of a Governor's Committee on Aging, Rev. Davidson explains. He was a member of that group, which was asked to survey needs in Texas and compile information for the White House Conference on Aging.

LATER, a State Commission on Aging was set up by the legislature, with offices in Austin. Mrs. Carter Clopton is coordinating director, State Sen. Walter Richter is chairman of the present Governor's Committee, appointed by Gov. John Connally with a lay member from each senatorial district as well as a number of professional workers with the elderly. Last year Gov. Connally asked the Texas Extension Service to incorporate into its community programs the goal of forming local committees. The Hereford Committee on Aging was organized through this leadership.

MEMBERSHIP in the committee is open to anyone interested, Rev. Davidson stresses, and all civic and service clubs here will be asked to name at least one representative.

Possible services of a local committee suggested by Rev. Swain Tuesday evening include establishment of a counseling center and day center for the elderly with a professional worker in charge, and sponsorship of housekeeping service or aged residents who live in their own homes but need some assistance.

A preliminary to these plans, he added, is a careful survey of needs and facilities.

On his birthday in 1785, George Washington transplanted several lilac bushes and young dogwood, sassafras and redbud trees.

activities at the Casa de Amigos, sponsored by the Hereford Migrant Ministry. The Saturday events, held in the backyard at the Glen Hendrickson home at 234 Beach, included darts, dropping pennies in a bucket in an attempt to win a half dollar, and other assorted games to be expected at such an affair.

Sponsoring the neighborhood "fair" were Gwen and Doyle Wolf, Patricia, Alvin and Jon Paul Hendrickson, Vickie Duncan, Lawanna Guy, Jane and Steven Parsley and Johnny Sientz.

Although the $8.30 does not constitute what would be considered an astounding sum, Mrs. Vasquez said, "We do have a lot of things we need for the building and we do appreciate the children's efforts in our behalf."

POLICE shoved him against a wall but Cordero again hit Aycock in the face and cussed him, the officer testified. Cordero was then knocked to a bed. Cordero then kicked both officers in the stomach as he continued to fight.

When Aycock reached to handcuff him, Cordero grabbed the policeman's pistol from the holster "and began to squeeze the trigger."

Aycock grabbed the gun by the barrel and locked his hand over the hammer to keep the gun from firing, his testimony continued.

SHELTON rushed in and wrestled the gun from Cordero.

After more wrestling on the bed, Cordero was finally cuffed and taken to Deaf Smith County Hospital for minor first aid before being jailed.

Cordero, who said he did not understand English, heard testimony through a court interpreter. He had pleaded guilty to the charge.

ASKED if accusations made by police were true, he replied through the interpreter that he did not know.

"Suppose you had shot the officer," the judge asked, via the interpreter.

Cordero lowered his head and replied in Spanish. "He does not know," the interpreter said.

"IS HE aware that this court will not tolerate aggravated assault on an officer?" the judge asked.

The interpreter quoted Cordero as replying that "when he is sober he doesn't go around doing things like that."

The judge commented that he was aware that the man had been charged "six or seven times" with drunkenness.

A WOMAN in the courtroom objected that the man had not caused the disturbance.

Aycock was then called back to the stand and said that police investigation revealed that witnesses said Cordero has used "very foul and indecent language" to a woman and that her husband had "merely defended his wife's honor."

Forming the executive committee are Allred, McCaslin, and Marsh.

State regulations limit the number of stockholders to 35 — unless approval is gained from the Securities Exchange Commission of Texas.

IT WAS FORECAST that a agency approval would be sought in the not-too-distant future to allow statewide sale of stock in Deaf Smith County Development Corporation to raise the total capital from the present $105,000 to some $250,000.

Also discussed was the possibility that after success of the new product is gauged, the three corporations may form into a single corporation and seek federal securities clearance for national stock sales.

"HOWEVER, this is a one-step-at-a-time operation," Torigian said.

It was pointed out that Torigian's patents not only are for the process which converts lettuce leaves into a "satisfying replacement" for tobacco in cigarettes, but also cover processes treating any type of vegetable leaf to alter odor, color, and taste for other products.

These patents are included in Tobaccoless Smokes' contribution to the new Bravo Smokes, Inc.

MARKETING is expected to begin Oct. 1 in the Amarillo and Lubbock areas, with Austin and the Dallas-Fort Worth areas to follow.

It was pointed out that success in gaining two percent of the cigarette sales market in just ten cities the size of Amarillo would assure year-round operation of the initial Hereford facility.

Hereford will be home for all three corporations, it was emphasized.

TORIGIAN left Wednesday for New York City, where he will complete arrangements for obtaining equipment.

He will also arrange contracts for marketing and advertising agencies to handle Bravo Smokes, he told the Brand.

Some equipment has arrived at Bravo's headquarters and more is expected this week.

Torigian said that training of the 47 employees who will begin processing about Sept. 15 will get underway as soon as equipment is installed.

He introduced Bob Angeley, a Hereford resident for the past several months, as assistant to the president for Bravo Smokes. Torigian will head the operation.

LOOK OUT FOR THE ARROWS Littering On Main Draws Stiff Fines

Three young men were fined $100 each and a fourth forfeited a $25 appearance bond Monday in Corporation Court for littering in Downtown Variety Park.

THE FOUR were charged for taking small pebbles from planter boxes on Main St. and throwing them into the street.

Frank Gonzales Avila, 20, 213 Ave. A and Paul Torres, 17, 313 Bradley, remained in jail Wednesday in lieu of their fine.

Vivan Garza, 18, 300 block of Ave. G, was released Monday after paying his fine.

Nicolas Perez, 605 Bowie, 23, forfeited his $25 appearance bond when he failed to appear before the judge Monday.

OFFICIALS reminded residents that "stiff" fines will be doled out to those who are destructive to improvements in the Downtown Variety Park area.

Officers also said that a number of citations were issued to persons last week who ignored the left-turn arrows on Main Street.

IN ONE instance, related by officers, a youngster narrowly missed serious injury when he was nearly struck by an automobile making an illegal left turn at the Fourth and Main intersection.

Two officers remained downtown Saturday and Sunday to help control the traffic and to issue citations to those who ignored the arrows.

Last week Hereford Chief of Police Marshall Padgett warned the public that the arrows are legal warnings equal to signs which were previously attached to the overhead lights. Those who disobey the arrows would be fined in corporation court.

Officers said that they would continue to cite those motorists who fail to obey the signal arrows located in the green lights at the Main St. intersections with Third and Fourth streets.

Services Held For Mrs. Orr, Area Pioneer

Funeral services for Mrs. J. S. Orr, member of a Deaf Smith County pioneer family, who died Sunday in Corpus Christi after a long illness, were conducted at the First Baptist Church here Monday afternoon by the Rev. B. L. Davis, pastor. Her death occurred on her 78th birthday.

Mrs. Orr was a former resident of Hereford, who came to Deaf Smith from her native Cook County as a three-year-old child in 1890. As Miss Maud L. Higgins, she married J. S. Orr here Jan. 15, 1907. Her husband died in 1950.

She is survived by a son, Duane Orr of Corpus Christi; two brothers, Ki Higgins of Hereford and Claude Higgins of Amarillo, and a grandson.

Burial in West Park Cemetery was directed by Gilliland Funeral Home. Serving as pall bearers were Boyd London, Lester Wagner, Richard Jowell, Thurmond Bruner, Ezra Norton and Frank Ball.

THEY STARTED WITH A BOOK

'How To Be A World's Champion' In A Few Not So Easy Lessons

By ANN O'DOWD

Staff Writer
"Beginners Luck" some said it was.
Others simply looked on with awe back in 1962 as 12-year-old Jo Poarch entered her first rodeo and proceeded to break all previous records in barrel racing for the Hereford arena and walk off with the $35 prize.

But the next week-end she went to Plainview and lost all of her $25 winnings.
"It hurt my pride more than anything, I guess," Jo laughed as she remembered. "But the next year I felt a lot better when I went back and won the Plainview belt buckle for the best over-all average," said Jo.

HOWEVER, it didn't take Jo a whole year before she was back in the winner's circle again. The very next show she entered, she won the barrel race and kept on winning.
In fact, after one year of traveling the Dick Ratsen rodeo circuit, Jo was awarded the trophy for the high point barrel racer.

NOW, THERE must be a catch in her story. No one enters the rodeo circuit and comes out a champion at the end of the season. Not very often, least ways.

Jo made her explanation very short. "I've got that once in a lifetime horse," she said.
BACK IN 1961 when the Poarch's entered the rodeo and horse world, they were advised against buying Cuero Jo. "He's crooked legged — and won't ever be any good," they were told.

Stubborn and inexperienced, the family purchased the three year-old gelding for Jo . . . and what a purchase he turned out to be!

"WE'LL never own another horse like him. There's only one time I failed to win at a show, and we found out later he was suffering from an optic infection," Jo bragged on her prize possession.

It was back at the beginning of the 1964 season when Jo discovered Cuero was suffering from blindness in his right eye.

"Going to his first barrel he would hesitate, but completed his run with his usual speed," Jo explained.

"ONE EVENING Mother suggested that I give him his head and let him run toward the barrel. I did, and he ran right past it," she continued.

That Christmas eve of 1963, the vets gave him two months to live.

THE ENTIRE Poarch household went around in tears for days, with the exception of Jo. "I couldn't give up, Cuero had to live," the sixteen year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Poarch said.

And live he did.
ALTHOUGH she had missed most of the bigger shows in the AJRA (American Junior Rodeo Association) circuit, she joined the group toward the middle of the season, and won her first world's championship at the end of 1964.

"Cuero was still recuperating, but he put his heart into it," Jo said.

WHEN THE pair rejoined the rodeo world, it was an entirely new beginning. Since Jo had been riding Cuero for several months before the eye infection was discovered, she had to start her training all over again when he was cured.

She would take him slowly up to the barrel and talk to him reassuring him that everything was okay. Then she would gently lead him around that first barrel.

Cuero seemed to understand Jo soothing-reassuring voice and soon he was taking that first barrel with his usual stride.

BUT THE barrel race isn't the only event that the pair enter.

At almost any—AJRA rodeo the two can be seen competing in pole bending and flag racing, as well as barrel racing.

Without Cuero, Jo enters the roping in order to be eligible for the "All-Around Cowgirl" award. She blushed as she told the favorite phrase of one of the AJRA rodeo announcers as she enters the rodeo arena to rope.

"He always says, this gal's a champion of timed events, but her roping leaves much to be desired," Jo said with a smile, "and I agree," she laughed.

OTHER THAN the usual separation of the girl and the horse during the break-away roping and ribbon roping, the two stay pretty close together during the rodeo performances.

Once when Cuero had strained a stomach muscle, Jo was forced to ride her sister's horse in the barrel race.

CUERO STOOD at one side of the arena, keeping his head low and silently bearing his pain. But all across the arena a loud whinny was heard as the announcer called Jo into the arena.

"He knew what was happening, and just wondered why he had been left out," Jo explained.

After four years, Cuero is used to his position as—No. 1 horse in Jo's life.

"With the assistance of her parents, Jo trained Cuero for barrels while she was learning herself. "I didn't know anything about barrel racing. I didn't even know the pattern," Jo admitted.

"DADDY helped me ride, and Mother bought me a barrel racing book and read it to me as practiced," she continued.

Aside from hundreds of dollars won in various amateur and AJRA shows over the past four years, Jo has sacked about 40 trophy buckles, 11 saddles, a huge box of ribbons, and a trophy case full of trophies.

THIS YEAR she made the biggest haul yet.

JO POARCH

Competing in the 1965 AJRA World's finals in Odessa, Tex., she won the title of "World's Champion All Around Cowgirl".

With the title came one horse trailer, a $350 saddle, $500 scholarship, rope can, hat can, and a trophy buckle.

That's just the beginning. She also copped the highest honor in AJRA, the trophy for high point competitor of every age division during the 1965 season. For this she received a huge four foot trophy.

THE SADDLES bearing the inscriptions: "World's Champion Barrel Racer" and "World's Champion Optional Racer" were also among the prizes brought home from the Odessa show.

"I know I couldn't have done it without the help of my mother and daddy," Jo said.

It is Mrs. Poarch that has carried Jo on her 10,000 mile road to fame. With their oldest daughter Lynn who also competes in AJRA, the three travel consistently during the summer months.

"We come home the first two days of the week, clean our clothes and leave again," explained Jo's mother.

WHILE three of the Poarch women are making the rodeo circuit for the summer, Hoot Poarch remains at home with the two younger girls to mind his welding firm and keep up his quarter horse business.

"It's so hard to settle down after the rodeo season is over," Jo said wishfully.

When Jo settled down for the winter's rest in the fall of 1964, she had not returned empty handed from the AJRA finals. That year she also won the saddles for "World's Champion Barrel Racer" and the coveted "All Around Cowgirl" award for the 13-15 division.

"I had more points than the girl who won the trophy, scholarship, and trailer, but I was not the required age of sixteen," said Jo.

Jo has been in rodeo for four years. She has been a champion for four years . . . and will be for a long time yet to come.

ONE KILLED — Joe Griego, 20, of Hereford was killed instantly when his vehicle and a 1961 model sedan driven by Salmon Herrera, 19, collided head-on Sunday shortly after 2 a. m. Advertising's third dimension

In addition to length and width, a newspaper advertisement has a third dimension—thickness. Thickness is represented by circulation, the number of advertisements printed and actually delivered.

You pay for an advertisement on the basis of length and width, but what you really buy is the opportunity to talk about your merchandise or service to a specified number of readers. Laid one upon another, a one inch stack of your advertisements in this newspaper equals 300 homes reached.

Thickness . . . or circulation . . . is the dimension that gives promise to your sales message, that it will reach potential customers.

It is important for you to know whether circulation is a promise or a fact.

The ABC insignia assures you that our circulation is measured by the highest standards in the advertising and publishing industry. It is the symbol of our membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

ABC is an independent auditing organization whose sole purpose is to give accurate and factual circulation reports. ABC audits are trusted by national advertisers and advertising agencies. They can be trusted by you.

Our tell-all ABC report shows how much circulation we actually deliver, where these copies are distributed, how much readers pay, and other information you should know, about the thickness of your advertising here — facts, without opinions, compiled from a physical audit of circulation records by traveling ABC auditors.

When buying advertising, be sure to measure all three dimensions — length, width, and thickness.

Insist on facts. Be ABC sure!

AT CANOE BASE — Hereford and Adrian ing for their eight-day stint in the wilds of Boy Scouts pose at the Charles L. Sommers Canada. The group had no contact with the Canoe Base near Ely, Minn., before depart- outside world during their journey north.

'AFOOT AND AFLOAT'

Hereford Boy Scouts See Canada Via Canoe

BY LARRY FUHRMANN Staff Writer

A two-week trip for 13 Boy Scouts from Hereford and Adrian earned them 50-mile afoot and afloat badges last week when the group returned to Hereford from its canoeing adventure in a wilderness area of Southern Canada.

Leaving Hereford Aug. 7, the group traveled with Scouters from over the area to the Charles L. Sommers Canoe Base, north of Ely, Minn. The Scouters' journey began afoot about one or two miles south of the Canadian border.

THE 110-MILE trip saw the boys paddling and walking as they went north into the wilderness area, with three men to a canoe. For the portions of the trip requiring hiking, the three Scouters split up their packs.

One carried a pack containing personal items, another carried the food and the third was responsible for toting the canoe along the trail. And, according to Scout David Grubbs, some found that canoe to be pretty heavy.

Fortunately for the adventurers, the weather was "beautiful," as they termed it, saying that it only rained on them three times throughout the trip. The coldest night was spent at the naval air base in Minnesota, when the temperature dropped possibly down in the forties.

ABOUT 125 Northern Pike were taken from the Canadian lakes by the Scouters, who threw back everything that was under two feet. By the end of the trip, boys said they were ready for a diet of another type meat. Biggest catch was made by David Grubbs, whose fish measured 32 3/4 inches.

Cooking skills were also tried on the all-male journey, with reports coming back that the group ate pretty well on their own cooking. Pies, cakes and such kept stomachs full, no one complained of getting hungry.

A NEW experience for the Scouters was seeing the abundance of wildlife. Otters, beavers, loons and such abounded near the lakes; a buck and doe had to be moved from the trail to allow passage of the hikers (hunting is not allowed), and some sighted bald eagles.

The once-in-a-lifetime outing will give the Scouters their 50-mile awards. Making the trip were Frank Ford Jr., scoutmaster, David Grubbs, Gary Paet-old, Kerry Thompson, Danny Rosser, Richard Brown, Robert Messick, Paul Hunter, Tyler Thompson, Loy Sneary and Ricky Grubbs, all of Hereford, and David Whitten, Dale Whitten and David Gruhlkey of Adrian.

SOUVENIRS OF TRIP — David Grubbs, one of 13 Boy Scouts who took a two-week trip to Canada, points out the route followed by the group as they paddled and hiked through the wilderness. The paddle he used is his souvenir of the trip. (Staff Photo)

THEY GOT IT OUT

RATAN, N.M. (AP) — The day after the three-day July 4 holiday weekend, July 6, was one of those terrible days at the Raton Daily Range.

Plant Supt. Jewell Cox was unable to make it to work because he had fallen from a ladder while working at home and injured a leg and the back of his head.

Editor Eric McCrossen, who had overslept, arrived at work and learned from Skip Grubelnik, a backshop employee, that the casting box used in making picture engravings, had blown its last fuse. Pictures for Tuesday's paper could not be cast. John Murphy, advertising manager, drove 20 miles to Trinidad, Colo., to have advertising casts made.

Publisher Frank Pfeiffer reported for work and said his house had been broken into while he was out of town for the holiday. A bottle of prescription medicine for Mrs. Pfeiffer had been taken.

Mrs. McCrossen phoned her husband that she was going to the dentist to have an abscessed tooth pulled.

Dutch Coslett, Linotype operator, reported a piece on his machine had broken and was inoperable.

Judy Kay, society editor and proof reader, told the Range executives that she was resigning to get married.

Editor McCrossen advised his readers the following day that the paper had been delivered on time that Tuesday, despite all of the problems.

School Teachers Of Area Attend Reading Confab

Elementary teachers from over the area attended a reading workshop held in Hereford High School auditorium Monday and Tuesday. A total of 158 registered, including teachers from Adrian, Friona, Muleshoe, Dimmitt, Happy, Tulia, Lamesa and Landrith, N.M.

Miss Della Stagner, elementary coordinator in Hereford schools, was in charge of arrangements for the two-day workshop. Mrs. Marguerite Holley, a teacher from Garland, was the consultant who demonstrated use of the publications, Phonics — Keys to Reading for Grades 1-3 and Keys to Independent Reading, grades 4-6.

She was assisted by Gene Self, representative of the firm which publishes the books. Hereford schools are in the second year of this reading program. All first grades in the system used the program last term and it will be extended to second grades this year.

Whiteface Football Schedule

FINAL TOUCHES TO BE APPLIED

'Faces Host Clovis In Saturday Action

Coach Says Team Ready For Action

Coach Jack Meredith and his staff will unveil the 1965 version of the Hereford Whitefaces Saturday at 7:00 p.m. when the team will see its first action in a pre-season scrimmage with Clovis at Whiteface Stadium.

"The men are beginning to get into good shape and we are spending less time on conditioning and more time on polishing individual techniques this week," the coach commented.

Coach Meredith said Steve Hodges and Gary Tucker, team punters, were looking good in practice sessions.

GREG RICHARDS will be playing for Wynn Buck at full-back position while Buck is out of action with a broken arm he received in practice.

"Richards is an able replacement and is working on his timing which has been a little sluggish," the coach said.

"OUR DEFENSIVE players are a little ahead of our offensive players now," said the coach, "but Charles Burton, Greg Richards, linebackers, showed some outstanding playing in Saturday's intersquad game."

"The Clovis men are supposed to be big and the school is supposed to have an excellent ball club, but we have not heard any details about them," said the coach.

AT THE PRESENT coach Meredith still has four positions to be filled on the starting lineup.

"We have two boys who are capable players in all four positions," said the coach.

The four positions are quarterback, left half back, right half back and right end.

Hereford's passing is coming along with receivers being better than in the past on Whiteface teams.

HODGES HAS been throwing the ball consistently well and Gary Victor is improving every day," said the coach.

The team worked out in two practice sessions Tuesday, but cut back to one session a day for the remainder of the week.

Hodges and Gene Drummond were elected co-captains for the team last spring by the football squad.

AFTER SATURDAY'S game the team will begin preparing for their second pre-season scrimmage with Brownfield the last of next week.

"I think the boys will be more than ready for Saturday's game with Clovis and will show some," said the coach.

SEASON OPENS SEPT. 1

Hunting Licenses Sales Open In Clerk's Office

Hunting licenses for the upcoming season are on sale in county clerk B. F. Cain's office in the courthouse, it was announced this week.

Open season for mourning doves gets underway at noon Wednesday, Sept. 1, and other seasons are set to open soon afterwards.

SEASON for mourning doves continues from Sept. 1 through Oct. 30. Hours will be from 12 noon to sunset.

P. B. Uzzell, wildlife coordinator for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, said prospects are favorable for substantial numbers of the most popular upland game bird in Texas.

He said reports indicate a generally good hatch in most areas and that food and water conditions have been adequate, except in a few scattered areas.

Uzzell cautioned hunters that dove hunting will be permitted from noon to sunset, that the usual regulations involving plugged guns to three shots and such will prevail, and that the season in southern Texas will not open until noon on Sept. 25.

THE DOVE limit is 12 a day or 24 in possession, after the first day only. Each dove must retain one fully feathered wing until finally processed.

Sportsmen concerned about boundary lines between the mourning dove hunt north and south x zones may find the answers by contacting persons handling hunting licenses and local Texas Parks and Wildlife Department personnel.

OPEN SEASON for pheasants will be Dec. 1 through Dec. 7. Bag limit is two cock pheasants per day and four in possession after the first day.

Open season for quail begins the second Saturday in November (Nov. 13) and continues through Jan. 31, except in Briscoe, Childress, Hall, and Motley counties, where the season is Dec. 1 through Jan. 31.

TWELVE quail per day and 36 in possession after the third day are bag and possession limits.

Turkey season is the second Saturday of November through Nov. 29 with the bag and possession limit being one turkey of either sex.

There will be no open season for prairie chicken or partridge this year.

Regulations for migratory birds are prescribed in the Migratory Bird Proclamation.

When the Los Angeles Angels played their first game in 1961, outfielder Albie Pearson at 25 was the youngest player in the lineup. This year he was the oldest at 29.

Marcelino (Lefty) Lopez, sensational 21-year-old rookie pitcher with the Los Angeles Angels, was the first American League hurler to win six games this year.

Hereford Spirit Club Set For 65-66 Athletic Year

"OUR ONLY purpose is to aid the Hereford High School athletic program with as much support as possible," said B. F. Cain, Hereford Booster Club vice president of the local spirit organization.

The club has set its first meeting for Monday, according to Cain.

Members of the club have begun selling advertising for their annual football program which they furnish to the Future Farmers to sell at all Whiteface home games.

THE ORGANIZATION sells ads for the program and pays for the printing and then gives them free of charge to the FFA boys to sell at all five home football games.

Money earned by the booster club from the advertising in the program is used for various projects to promote athletics in the High-School.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Cake Is Chocolate Treat

By SUE COLEMAN

Woman's Editor
A newcomer to Hereford who likes to cook and exchange recipes, Mrs. Arthur Pursley of 308 Ave. J is a former resident of Abilene who with her family has been here only since July 12. Two weeks of that time have been spent on a vacation which took the Pursleys to the mountains around Red River, N.M.

They have been here long enough, however, to find that this is a friendly city where new residents become acquainted quickly, "especially when you have children," says Mrs. Pursley. "They help you know all your neighbors practically on the day you move in."

In the family are Pursley, wire chief for Southwestern Bell Telephone; blonde Cynthia, who will be a high school junior; husky Philip, 11 years old and a sixth grader; and Sherry, 7, who will be in the second grade.

Pursley has worked here since April, but lived in a motel while Mrs. Pursley and the children visited on weekends and house-hunted, with the usual difficulties. Like many newcomers, they are renting a home and will probably go house-hunting again next spring to buy or build a place.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Pursley grew up in Abilene, married there and the children were all born there. They have found friends here as they attended Central Church of Christ and visited other churches. For recreation they like games, with canasta a favorite.

Mrs. Pursley gives a recipe for a cake which she likes because it can be frozen, brought out and sliced beautifully to serve with coffee or at a company meal. The recipe makes a big cake and she expects it to last several weeks, since it is served in small slices. Men always like it especially, she adds.

EXTRA SPECIAL CAKE
Melt in a double boiler, 8 Milky Way candy bars and 1 stick oleomargarine. Mix with:

2 cups sugar
1 cup shortening
2 tsp. vanilla
1-1/4 cups buttermilk
1/2 tsp. soda
4 eggs
2-1/2 cups flour
1 cup nuts.
Bake in three 10-inch pans at 325 degrees for 1 hour.

CHOCOLATE ICING
Cook to soft ball stage, 2-1/2 cups sugar and 1 cup evaporated milk. Add a 6-ounce package chocolate chips, a jar of marshmallow cream and a stick of margarine and beat until the mixture is cool enough to spread between layers and over the cake.

IN THE past the club has chartered buses for athletic teams on long trips.

A movie camera costing approximately $2,000 was given to the athletic department by the club so they could film their games.

The club also helps boys with medical expenses incurred when they are not covered by the school or insurance.

DUGOUTS on the Whiteface baseball field were built by the booster club. The club bought the school a victory bell to ring at football games and pep rallies.

Forty-five blazers were bought for the various athletic team members to wear on trips.

One of the biggest events for the booster club is their Spring Junior High Annual Track Meet which attracts from 700-1,200 people every year.

The club has recently purchased three cross-country buses which are being reconditioned and repainted with Whiteface colors for the athletic teams and the band to use on out of town trips.

MEMBERS OF the club meet every Monday night during the school year and during football season they see films from the game.

Athletes parents are invited to each of the meetings during the year by the nearly 200 members of the club.

Coach Jack Meredith, head foot ball coach, said, "A booster club is either a bad club or a good club and Hereford has one of the best I know of anywhere."

"WE HAVE gotten some things from them which we would have never obtained without their help," he continued. Membership fee for the club is $2 per year.

"OUR LINE has showed improvement in the last few days and is still improving," commented the coach.

After the two pre-season scrimmages Hereford will begin its season Friday Sept. 10 with a game in Plainview against the AAAA Bulldogs.

"Plainview is a rough team and we will get a good idea of our strength and playing ability when we meet them in that game," the coach said.

"We have a tough non-conference schedule to worry about now, and following that we have an even rougher conference slate," concluded the coach.

Student Studies Science At Coe College Institute

By LARRY FUHRMANN
Staff Writer

Tyler Thompson

Not one to let an opportunity slip by without at least making an investigation of it is Tyler Thompson, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Thompson of 518 Ave. J. Thompson, who will be a senior in Hereford High School this fall, who recently returned from an eight-week stint at Coe College at Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Thompson left for "college" June 14 and returned to his home here Saturday, after his trip had been extended to include a two-week Boy Scout canoeing trip into the Canadian wilderness.

THOMPSON'S unusual ability in the field of science has been shown through awards he has received throughout his high school career. His eight-weeks of study was an extension of study which would not be duplicated either in his high school or early college work.

Sponsored by the National Science Foundation, the Coe College institute was planned for high-ability high school students; the curriculum included mathematics, chemistry and physics. Thompson explained that only narrow subjects were taught in the three fields.

Thompson's interest in the science study program was whetted about a year ago when a high school counselor gave him a booklet explaining the program. His interest soon developed disappointment, however, when his first application was turned down. He hadn't yet studied Algebra II, a pre-requisite to being accepted for the course.

AFTER TAKING Algebra II his junior year, he was eligible for the studies at Coe College along with 29 other students from 11 states, all who had unusual abilities in scientific fields. Thompson commented that "they all had an exceptional interest in science with a good record of accomplishments showing their interest."

He was surprised at the type of people he was working with at the institute, explaining that he was expecting to be around a group of intellectuals. He was pleasantly surprised, however, explaining that the teenagers gathered at Coe College could have represented a cross section of teenagers all over the United States.

Thompson was an exceptional student in that he came from one of the larger high schools represented at the institute. Most of those participating, he said, came from schools much smaller, many with only about

State University of Iowa at Iowa City was a high point of the eight weeks, which had been preceded by "feverish" preparation.

Thompson, who is making plans for a career as a research chemist, comments that his summer program was his "first chance to study chemistry as a precise science."

SCHOLARSHIPS were available for students who would need money to meet expenses of the study. The National Science Foundation paid tuition, with Coe College donating money to meet miscellaneous expenses such as lab fees and allowances for breakage of equipment. Grants were available to meet students' traveling expenses and room and board, although Thompson and his parents footed such expenses.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Cambridge, Mass., is Thompson's first choice in the selection of a college. Other possibilities, he says, are Rice University in Houston or the Case Institute of Technology in Ohio.

Bippus Reunion Set For Sunday

Second annual Bippus Homecoming will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday in the Bippus Community House. All former residents of the community are invited to return and meet old friends during the day. Registration will begin at 10 a.m. and a basket lunch will be served at 12:30 p.m. The homecoming will be combined with the usual Fifth Sunday Singing held at the Community House.

Date Is Changed By Jaycee-Ettes

A change in meeting dates for the Hereford Jaycee-Ettes is announced by Mrs. Wayne Fuller, president, since the next regular meeting would fall on the Labor Day holiday. Instead, the date has been advanced to Aug. 30.

Jaycee-Ettes will meet at 7:30 p.m. next Monday in the Community Center club room. Members will assist Jaycees in two projects of the next two weeks. They will assist as score keepers at a bowling tournament which Hereford Jaycees will sponsor this weekend and next, and will be co-hosts at a Labor Day holiday rest stop for motorists on highways through the city.

150 in the entire four grades. THE INSTITUTE was specifically planned for what might be called the "under-privileged," the brilliant student who hails from "Pumpkin Center," Thompson said.

Time was not spent in discussing general topics. Concentration in the field of physics was devoted to nuclear physics, the shape of carbon atoms was the field of study in physical chemistry, and linear programming was the study made in math (linear programming is useful in solving complicated industrial problems) Thompson explained.

STAYING in freshman dormitories, the students were able to eat all their meals on the college campus. The three classes met for one hour each day, with two laboratory periods each week. These lab periods were each three hours in length. Thompson especially enjoyed his laboratory periods, commenting, "I got to work with more sophisticated equipment; we were able to do more 'dignified' experiments than would be available in high school chemistry." Thompson has already completed biology, chemistry and physics in his three years of high school, and will be enrolled in advance science this year.

STUDYING took almost all his spare time — with what little was left over, he practiced drums. "I studied harder this summer than I have ever studied in my life. What's more, I enjoyed it more," he remembers.

Included in the institute was a voluntary session in computer programming. Upon his return home, he found a computer that "talks his language" that he can use for problems. A tour of the computing center at the

REP. ROGERS REPORTS

Recreation Program At Meredith Listed

I have received from the National Park Service its proposed recreation facilities development plan for Lake Meredith. The report represents Park Service recommendations for spending $1.1 million authorized by the Rogers Bill passed in 1963 to insure proper recreation development at the reservoir.

THE PLAN will be reviewed by the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, with special attention to be given by my Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation, which has initial legislative jurisdiction over Federal reclamation projects such as that on the Canadian River. Construction will begin after changes, if any, are made following committee review and contracts are let.

Now, construction is completed or underway on projects costing $790,000. This was the amount authorized several years ago for access roads, boat ramps, and other projects to insure adequate access and accommodation of the public for fish and wildlife use of the reservoir. The $1.1 million total provided by my bill enacted last year will provide supplemental facilities.

The National Park Service report presents in detail its plan for developing the eight designated shoreline recreation sites - Sanford-Yake, Blue West, Fritch Fortress, Alibates, McBride, Plum Creek, Bugbee, and Blue East. WORK UNDER the fish and wildlife authorization has begun at the first six of these areas; the new plan provides for completing these developments as well as providing initial developments at Bugbee and Blue East, both of which are located on the north shore of the reservoir not far from Sanford Dam.

Meanwhile, in Washington and Santa Fe offices of the Park Service a prospectus is being prepared for mailing to prospective concessioners who would make private enterprise investments in facilities at the reservoir. The bid invitations, I understand, will be ready to go out sometime this fall.

The suggested concessioner program at Lake Meredith includes overnight accommodations; meal services; grocery or general store operations to provide boating, and sporting goods; souvenir or curio shops, transportation, boat rentals and sales; operation of mechanical boat-launching facilities; marina or dock operations; marine fueling stations; automobile and boat repair services, trailer park facilities - and, perhaps, a helicopter and small plane landing strip.

PARK SERVICE policy is not to suggest concessioner developments inside recreation areas when similar accommodations or services exist or can be developed by private enterprise outside the area but in the vicinity.

As an example of proposed development, the Park Service proposal affecting Sanford-Yake would be of special interest because this area is now perhaps most familiar of all to the general public. Thousands of persons have viewed the dam in stages of construction from the Sanford-Yake vista point high above the river bed. In this area, $173,000 is being spent from the fish and wildlife allocation and $155,000 is the proposed expenditure from the $1.1 authorization for roads, launching ramp, parking areas, water supply, sanitary facilities, picnic area and other projects. An interpretive shelter (presumably containing a map of the project area and explanatory information) and extensive picnicking facilities are planned for the former overlook.

THE CONCESSION plan when completed, may call for a concessioner-operated marina there. Another of the recreation sites already familiar to thousands of Panhandle residents is Fritch Fortress, also on the reservoir's south shore, a high peninsula providing a spectacular view of the lake and surrounding land.

In addition to roads, launch facilities, picnic areas and so forth mentioned in the report, the Park Service expresses the view that Fritch Fortress would be well suited for "a concessioner lodge or similar development which will attract visitors who want the comforts and convenience of luxurious facilities and who expect to pay for extra services." The report notes also that a marina, a golf course, and landing strip would be other likely concessioner projects.

As many of you know, Congressional action was completed in recent days on my bills to name the reservoir "Lake Meredith," in memory of that great conservationist and Berger citizen, A. A. Meredith, and to establish the Alibates Flint Quarries National Monument in conjunction with the Alibates recreation area.

Hereford Man Completes Study

The Institute of Electronic Science, a function of the Engineering Extension Service at Texas A&M University, has announced the first graduation list which includes Jeff Kirby from Hereford.

Kirby has been pursuing a high-level, two-year Electronic Technology program to prepare himself for research and development responsibilities in industry.

The scarcity of qualified technicians accounts for the numerous interviews and job offers graduates of the course receive. Each can look forward to a challenging and rewarding career because of his decision two years ago to further his education.

STOP, MAN!

... where goest thou? Your struggle is for naught. One can't run away from duty nor from God. The strong arm of conscience, the love of a friend or the power of God won't let one go. Make no mistake: He is able to hold his children and bend their wills to His. This man is desperate because his aim is low. He is a timid coward whose church attendance record is now non-existent. But wait. God can still perform miracles and does touch us on the shoulder every time we would go astray. Business successes and friends in big numbers won't help much when the end of the way is nigh. It takes a touch on the shoulder from God to satisfy man in his last hour. Stop, right now! That may be God touching your shoulder

OPINIONS VARY ON AMENDMENT

Proposed Senate Changes Now In Absentee Voting

By VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — As absentee voting gets under way for the Sept. 7 election on the proposed constitutional amendment to increase size of the Texas Senate from 31 to 39 members, battle lines are drawn.

State AFL-CIO is leading the opposition. It charges that the proposal is a "pig in a poke" offering no guides as to where the new districts will go.

"COMMITTEE for Fair Representation," made up primarily of trade and industrial association representatives, contends that Texans would get "proper representation without sparsely-settled areas" by adding eight new members to the Senate.

Lobby groups acknowledge they favor the plan because increased membership would cut down a senator's work load somewhat and make it easier to communicate with him.

The enlargement amendment, which triggered one of the 59th Legislature's most bruising battles, was intended to take some of the sting out of legislative redistricting by making it possible for most incumbent senators to keep their jobs.

BIG CITY forces are divided, while most rural interests tend to favor a 39-member Senate. Whether either campaign affects the expected light voter turnout remains to be seen. Most predictions are that the amendment will fail.

CRIME NEWS STUDY First three members of the Legislature's 11-member "Interim Committee To Study News Media on Proceedings in Criminal and/or Civil Courts" have been named by Lt. Gov. Preston Smith.

They are Sens. Dorsey Harde-man of San Angelo, Culp Krueger of El Campo and Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi. Yet to be named are three members from the House of Representatives, three from the news media and two from the State Bar of Texas.

Panel resulted from controversy over deletion of a provision from the new Code of Criminal Procedure which would have severely restricted pre-trial news coverage. New code takes effect January 1.

Study committee was authorized to take a sharp look at existing coverage.

AG RULES In requested opinions, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has held that: — Texas Western College cannot use money appropriated by Legislature for tuition scholarships to aid students living in Juarez, Mexico.

— SECTIONS of a new act instituting jury wheel system in Young, Titus and Kerr counties are unconstitutional "local and special laws."

— El Paso County commissioners have no authority to grant an easement across Ascarate Park for an underground gas pipeline.

— A city, after annexing an area including a county road, does not need permission of county to abandon and close such road or street.

APPOINTMENTS Gov. John Connally has announced his first appointments in a series of several needed to get newly-designated agencies in gear.

His choices for the Texas Commission for Indian Affairs are Dempsey Henley of Liberty, W. R. Beaumier, publisher of the Lufkin Daily News, and Ed East-terling of Beaumont, former District Attorney of Jefferson County. As Mayor of Liberty, Henley worked with the Alabama-Coushatta Indians to help achieve their severance from the State Board of Hospitals and Special Schools and self-government under guidance by the Commission.

James B. Swann of Houston has been named to head new Texas Industrial Commission office of export expansion.

Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont is interim chairman of a committee to plan office construction for House members.

OIL ALLOWABLE HELD Texas Railroad Commission set September oil allowable at 28 per cent of potential, same as the previous month.

ALLOWABLE amounts to more than 2,800,000 barrels a day, 41,000 less than for August. Commission emphasized this level would prepare industry for demands of peak winter months.

On Sept. 1, Commission will set up District 8-A, composed of 21 West Texas counties. They are Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Gaines, Dawson, Borden and Scurry.

Commissioners say the new district will promote efficiency in administering oil and gas conservation laws.

SCREWORM BATTLE Federal-state air invasion against the screwworm fly was stepped up during July with the release of 632,000,000 sterile screwworm flies over Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California and 12 Mexican states.

Dr. S. B. Walker, Director of the Texas Animal Health Commission, and Dr. John Wilbur, Veterinarian for the Animal Health Division of U. S. Department of Agriculture, report that 115,000,000 sterile flies were released over Texas where 63 confirmed cases of screw-worm were reported. Special "hot spotting" was directed in Texas and northern Mexico river beds.

LARGEST number of confirmed cases in Texas — 25 — was in Zavala County. New Mexico confirmed 29 cases; Arizona, 94; California, three; and Mexico, 800, where 438,000,000 sterile flies were released.

BRUCELLOSIS PROGRAM At the end of July, 182 of Texas' 254 counties were engaged in some phase of Brucellosis Eradication program, with 128 qualified for certification. So reports federal and state animal health authorities.

In Atascosa, Bosque, Brooks, Hood, Milam, Parker, Potter, Somervell and Williamson Counties, area testing was in progress. But some of the heaviest livestock population areas in the east of the state were among the 72 counties not yet in stride, they said.

LABOR DAY TOLL Department of Public Safety estimates 35 will die in traffic accidents in Texas during the three-day Labor Day holiday.

VIOLATIONS of Texas traffic laws will be apparent in nine out of 10 of these accidents, says Col. Homer Garrison Jr., DPS director.

As part of stepped-up efforts to curb the toll, DPS will add 150 men from other uniformed services to supplement its regular Highway Patrol force.

CANAL FUNDS ASKED Funds for more planning on the proposed 415-mile Inter-basin canal along the Texas Gulf Coast from the Sabine River to the Lower Rio Grande Valley are included in preliminary fiscal 1967 budget plans of U. S. Bureau of Reclamation.

Budget calls for planning of Sinton and Baffin Bay diversion works and study of Lower Rio Grande Valley irrigation costs. Funds also are sought for study of proposed pumping of water from the canal up the Colorado River and pipelining to West Texas cities.

SHORT SNORTS Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler has announced that 531,000 acres will be offered at the third oil and gas lease sale of 1965 on October 5 in the General Land Office.

harvests; 1,446 in grain; 811 in fruit and nut trees; 487 in livestock work; 2,652 in general field crops; 1,225 in non-seasonal farm work; and 923 in dairy and poultry jobs.

THE 1,000 teenagers who attended the third annual Attorney General's Youth Conference on Crime will distribute their findings on causes of juvenile crime and school drop-outs to youth and community organizations.

Texas Water Commission set October 25 for hearing on application of North Texas Municipal Water District, Wylie, to triple Lavon Reservoir conservation storage.

Federal water system loans totaling $24,000,000 have been granted 213 Texas communities and 218 more are seeking loans, according to Sen. John Tower. Texas Hospital Association has received a U. S. grant to conduct research on planning of community health resources for disasters.

MONDAY saw the last meeting of Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools, now replaced by new State Department of Mental Health.

Texas Railroad Commission hearings are set September 8 on request of National Bus Traffic Association, Inc. for a 10 per cent hike in local and interline rates and charter services.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN, Women's Editor

Did you ever notice, when your opinion of people falls to the lowest possible point . . . when you're positive you've been cheated at the check-out counter and the dress your favorite salesman assured you wouldn't shrink, does . . .

When you read the national crime statistics and then a news story which shows that your town is not exempt from lawlessness . . . when your neighbor's son lands in jail where you feel he definitely belongs, and your own children aren't behaving too well . . . when your sink drain stops up and you can't find a plumber who acts like he even cares . . .

WHEN THE PRICE of everything you eat goes up again and you are convinced that inflation is now galloping . . . when you make a necessary business call and the clerk you encounter is not only ignorant but insolent . . . when even your friendly postman returns your greeting grumpily . . .

Then somebody shows you some real thoughtfulness and downright kindness, for no reason, under no compulsion, going out of his way to do you a favor.

It upsets your whole perspective, and absolutely jars your faith in human nature.

ADD NOTES on progress: In pre-air conditioned days, summer travel by automobile was a dusty, clothes-writhing business that made it difficult to look fairly fresh after an hour's drive. Now we ride serenely in cool, draft-free cars and the average family on a summer trip goes into the roadside cafe looking like they had just camped two weeks in the Badlands, with no bathing facilities at hand.

NOTE ON SOCIOLOGICAL phenomenon: No employed woman will ever be convinced that equal rights legislation means anything so long as she must rush home and prepare a meal while her husband comes drifting in and finds a meal prepared.

PRIVATE NOTE TO CLUB reporters: At the advent of a new club season, The Brand will begin a calendar of events. Please run, don't walk, to your telephone and notify the society editor of the date and place of your first fall meeting. No matter if it is several weeks away yet, if the schedule is set please call it in so the
