

Rural School: 'Lonely But Rewarding'

By DUDLEY LYNCH
News Editor

WALCOTT — Comparatively speaking, Principal Tom Collins of the Walcott School, a brick edifice situated on a lonely four-acre plot 31 miles west of Hereford, has a lot in common with a ranch foreman.

The area of his jurisdiction is big. When all the loose ends are tied together, the Walcott school district covers 466 sections of Deaf Smith County land, making the district the third largest in Texas.

Collins, 59-years-old and in his 11th year at Walcott, doesn't dispatch cowboys to ride the fences but keeping four school buses winding their regular ways over more than 250 miles of route daily makes him a veteran in that area, too.

Lives at School
The chuckwagon has been replaced by a modern kitchen, but — being a long way from the grocery store — the school's 86 students make that weekly trip for supplies a necessary habit.

Collins lives on the home place, the school grounds which have been neatly sliced out of pasture land on the west side of Texas Highway 214, seven miles north of Bootleg, a three-house junction which had obvious beginnings back in prohibition days.

On one side of the $170,000 brick plant a windmill lately churned in light breezes; on the other a herd of 25 Angus cattle slowly grazed along. Company is scarce.

It is in this atmosphere that eight complete grades are being provided for children of the families who live on those 466 sections of land, enough for a number of good sized ranches and numerous farms.

"The thing that I appreciate about teaching in the country is that it seems to me you can see more results from your efforts," philosophized Collins who, as might be guessed, has taken more than his share of ribbing about that "Tom Collins" label.

Can See Results

Collins is aided in the instruction of his 86 pupils by three teachers, one of whom is a long-time sidekick and teaching companion, his wife. Collins teaches the seventh and eighth grades. Miss Shirley Bourquin handles the fifth and sixth grades, and Mrs. Collins has the third and fourth. Miss Paula Green instructs the two lower grades.

The two young teachers are now in their fifth year at Walcott, and Collins recommends them with pleasure.

Praises Teachers

"I feel like they were God-sent," he beams, and, after this See WALCOTT, Page 6

BUILDINGS

School Plans Okayed

The Hereford Independent School District board of trustees Tuesday night approved plans for remodeling the present high school library and the construction of a new band hall and also considered plans for a new junior high school with a separate gymnasium.

The construction is part of a massive $2.4 million building program authorized by the school district taxpayers in a special election early in 1964.

Construction on the band hall addition will begin as soon as final specifications can be completed and approved, and bids let for the work. Library remodeling work will be delayed until the end of the school year. Both should be completed by August 1.

Hire Two Teachers

In other action, the board approved payment of monthly bills, approved the sale of certain out-buildings from some recently purchased property near Stanton Junior High, accepted the resignation of two elementary teachers and approved the hiring of their replacements.

Architect Herb Brasher of Brasher & Goyette Co. of Lubbock was given the green light on plans for the new band hall which has an estimated cost of $46,000. The structure will connect to the present high school band hall, extending east from the high school building and will be exactly twice the size of the present facility. The old hall will be converted into a choral room.

Cost Is Fared

A total of $88,000 has been budgeted for the band hall and library remodeling work, but Brasher estimated the library at not more than $30,000, making a total for this phase of the building program of $76,000.

The library remodeling program will incorporate the present facility plus an area now being used for a study hall. It is on the second floor of the present high school plant. See SCHOOLS Page 3.

Youth Is Washington-Bound

HONORED GUEST Dr. Edwards To Attend Inauguration

Dr. Lena Edwards of Hereford, winner of the Presidential Medal of Freedom, has received a special invitation to the inauguration ceremony next Wednesday in Washington, D. C. She operates a hospital for migrant farm workers here.

Dr. Edwards will be an honored guest, along with the other winners of the Presidential Medal.

She plans to leave Sunday and return next Friday. Dr. Edwards will leave from Amarillo.

"My invitation to the inauguration and ball arrived a few days before Christmas and at that time I just did not see any way I could attend the ceremonies," she said.

Dr. Edwards also received a telegram recently, inviting her to a reception, following the ball for the performers who will furnish the music for the inauguration festivities.

The woman physician said she would not attend the ball but will go to the reception which also will honor all of the Presidential Freedom award winners.

"I'll probably have to close the hospital while I'm gone since we have a shortage of doctors," she said.

In addition to the inaugural ceremonies, Dr. Edwards has been called to the National Committee of the March of Dimes New York headquarters Feb. 4 and 5 for a national child welfare conference with 15 other doctors and general social workers.

Special emphasis will be placed on methods of reducing the high rate of prenatal death in the United States.

Youth, 11, Gets Inaugural Invite

By PHIL DUNCAN
Staff Writer

Can you get an invitation to the Inaugural Ball in Washington, D.C., just by getting on the Democrats' mailing list?

Pondering that question this week in Hereford is an 11-year-old school boy who — due to an intriguing and not fully explained set of circumstances — has received an invitation and has talked his father into a jet-flight trip to the big event next Wednesday.

The spunky youth is Roy Dale Messer, the son of a Deaf Smith County farmer, who takes more interest in politics than polled Herefords.

His plea — for weeks — has been a trip to see President Lyndon B. Johnson inaugurated for his first full term. But, bound by economics and a lack of time, his parents maintained a firm front and a stiff "no"

The young Messer was disappointed, but like a good politician, was still persistent.

Then the parents' dam of rigidity broke.

Here's the straw that did the job:

A large white envelope came in Tuesday morning's mail for Roy Dale. There was no return address on the letter from Washington, and it was simply addressed to Roy Dale Messer, Route 1, Hereford, Texas.

Mrs. Messer, believing it was just some more material Roy Dale had requested from Washington, D. C., opened the letter and pulled out a big, white invitation to the Inaugural Ball.

UP ALLOWANCES

County Officers Purchase Auto, Authorize Audit

Meeting for the first time with two freshmen members, the Deaf Smith County Commissioners' Court Monday reviewed a number of topics, but took action only on a few, including a new car for the sheriff's department.

New commissioners are Earl Holt, elected in 1964 to represent Precinct 1, and Bruce Coleman, newly-elected commissioner for Precinct 3. Hold-over commissioners are Donald Hicks, Precinct 4, and Marcus Latham, Precinct 2.

The court approved a request by Sheriff Lowell Sharp for a new patrol car, but tabled action on his request for deputy salary increases.

Low bidder for the new squad car was Hiway Auto Sales whose bid of $1795 was under the nearest competition by $200.

90-Day Delivery Date
The bid of the local Dodge dealers represented the difference between a new 1965 Dodge Coronet and the 1962 Plymouth to be traded in.

The bid was accepted unanimously.

Others submitting bids were Kinsey-Osborn Buick, $2500; Stephens-Hudson Motor Co. (Ford), $2293.73 and Dishman-Hale Chrysler-Plymouth (Plymouth), $1997.

Delivery of the new automobile is expected in about 30 days. Also tabled until a future meeting was a request by Commissioner Coleman concerning the rate of rent on a county-owned house in his precinct. Coleman asked the court to rescind a previous order and lower the rate to $25 per month. The rent had been raised at a recent commission meeting to $35 monthly.

Employee On Call
Coleman pointed out that there were several houses within six miles of his home that could be rented for no more than the See COURT Page 3

'ARE THEY GOOD,' ASKS WRITER

The Cows' Teeth

If Bill Thompson, chamber of commerce manager, is all smiles this week, it's not because he lives in "The Town Without a Toothache" — but almost.

Thompson has just pulled off a responsive public relations coup and has more than 30 hand-written letters to prove his prowess.

All the letters are from grade school students in Stillwater, Okla., who — thanks to Thompson and Miss Cherry Holt, a Hereford student now doing student teaching at Stillwater — have in their possession a bottle of genuine Hereford water.

Here's what some of the students wrote Thompson:

"Thank you for the bottle of fluoride water. Every time

I brush my teeth I drink some fluoride water you gave me. I think its doing some good to my teeth. I have one yellow tooth. The dentist has been grating off a little at a time with cold water. Its a sensitive tooth."

Annual Livestock Show Slated Here

Event Opens Today

Entries edged up to 317 in the final hours before the start today of the Golden Spread Western Junior Livestock Show, an event which — although it has changed names once — will be staged for the 19th consecutive year.

The show animals, most of which will be in place at the Bull Barn, just off U.S. Hwy. 60 in east Hereford by tonight, will include 52 steers, 105 lambs and 160 barrows.

Youngsters who are members of 4-H clubs or Future Farmer of America chapters in a four-county area surrounding Hereford will be the showmen.

Winners Do Well

The Hereford livestock show has gained a measure of respect in the bigger shows in Texas because of the success of the champions here in higher competition. "Winners here have always placed in top positions in Amarillo, Fort Worth and Houston," said Bill Thompson, manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce and show publicist.

Sponsors of the annual show are members of a non-profit corporation representing livestock men in the four counties, Deaf Smith, Oldham, Farmer and Castro.

They are assisted in staging the event by members of the Deaf Smith County Young Farmers group and the Hereford Rotary Club, which began the show as the Hereford Rotary Club Junior Livestock Show and staged it for many years.

Sale on Saturday

The biggest single event of the show usually is the livestock sale, which will place the top 30 steers on the auction block during the show sale beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Other animals which will be up for purchase include the champion lamb in each class, the grand and reserve champion barrows, the top 21 lambs and 48 barrows.

The judging schedule has the barrows before the reviewer at See SATURDAY, Page 2

ANNUAL BUDGET SET

Chamber Board Favors Retaining United Fund

Hereford's United Fund organization should be continued and strengthened, the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce has recommended.

Directors of the chamber, in a regular meeting Wednesday morning, thrashed out the United Fund possibilities — including abandonment of the common fund-raising project for the seven member agencies — and eventually voted to support retention of the UF.

In other action, the chamber's directors:

— Approved a budget of $40,500.

— Heard recommendations for the presentation of the Hereford Bull Award.

— Listened as president Wayne Thomas reviewed some of the objectives he hopes to see the chamber accomplish in the current year.

— Reviewed details and ticket sales for the coming chamber banquet.

Clint Formby, manager of Radio Station KPAN, reviewed a list of policy recommendations compiled by a committee studying the Bull Award, a statue of the famed animal, that is presented, in a function similar to a "key to the city" presentation, to visiting dignitaries.

— Visited Survey Updated

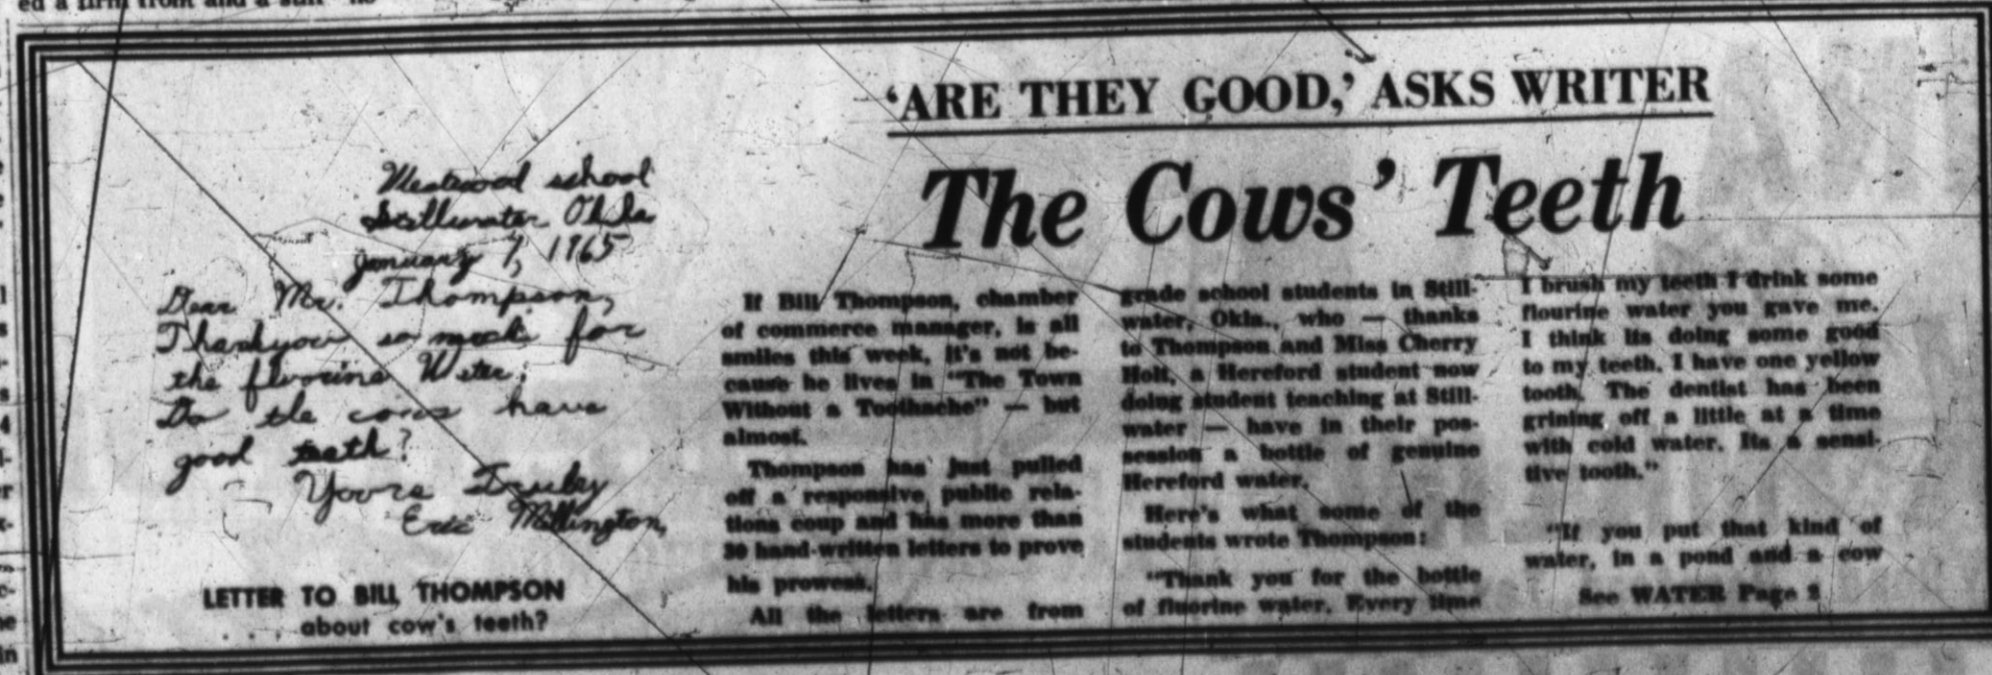

One of the recommendations presented by President Thomas was the updating of the Blanton Survey, an economic and industrial survey made 10 years ago by a Dallas engineering firm. The survey, chamber officials said, has proved valuable in presenting the potential here to prospective industrial firms. But the survey has been outdated by the area's present growth.

The budget was approved after its presentation by Bert Boomer, head of the budget committee.

Bill Thompson, chamber manager, reported ticket sales to the Jan. 21st banquet are progressing satisfactorily. A recommendation was made and approved that ticket sales tables be set up in the town's two banks during the week of the banquet. See CHAMBER, Page 3

4 p.m. today, the lambs at 4 p.m. Friday and the steers at 7 p.m. Friday.

T. Euel Limer, registered swine breeder of Lubbock, will judge the barrow entries. Division superintendents are Don Jackson and Howard Hunter, Hereford.

John H. Baumgardner of the animal husbandry department at Lubbock's Texas Tech will do the lamb judging and the steer placement. Virgil Marsh of Hereford and Tom Heffernan of Nazareth are superintendents of the lamb division. Heading the steer department are Dwaine Walker and Jamie Clearman.

Deadlines Listed
C. Palmer Norton and Floy Driver, both of Hereford, are general show superintendents.

Eight teams of 4-H and FFA livestock judges from schools and clubs in the four-county area are expected to participate at 9 a.m. Saturday in the livestock judging competition.

All barrows must be in place at 10 a.m. today; All lambs must be in their pens by 5 p.m. today, and all calves in place by 10 a.m. Friday.

Memberships in the show association will be sold at $1 each to help offset the cost of producing the show and paying for trophies and ribbons. Each person donating the dollar will receive a membership card.

Trophies will go to the champions and to the two top placers in each class. Ribbons will be presented to the other placers in each class, with some classes extending to seven places.

A concession stand will be operated by Camp Fire girls with proceeds going toward expenses of the exchange student program.

Mrs. Hale Boggs Roy Dale will leave Monday from Amarillo for Washington, where he will spend one day sightseeing before the big day Wednesday.

Wrote Constantly
Mrs. Messer said she did not really understand her son's interest in politics. "My husband and myself are not really out-spoken where politics is concerned. Roy Dale just started rooting for the Democrats nearly two years ago, when Argen Draper (County Home Demonstration agent) returned from Washington and gave Roy Dale all of the pamphlets and material she had collected while up there.

"He began writing for this and that and soon he was writing for autographed pictures of everybody. I guess he just got on their mailing list and was included in the Inaugural Ball invitation list."

This could well be the case, but it must not be ruled out that somewhere in Hereford young Roy Dale Messer has an unknown friend who knew of his avid interest in politics. And knowing Lyndon Johnson's gift for turning picayune planning into political plums... well, who knows?

But the Democrats have gained a life-long party member, anyway.

PRELIMINARIES — Workers embark on the time-consuming task here of erecting dozens of makeshift pens to hold lamb and barrow entries in the Golden Spread Junior Livestock Show, which opens today and runs through Saturday. The Young Farmers organization of Deaf Smith County, assisted by FFA students and sponsors of the show, began early this week the conversion of the Bull Barn to a display hall. (Staff Photo) $35 figure. He also emphasized the importance of keeping the present county employe living in the county-owned house, since he is charged with the responsibility of looking after the precinct barn and the equipment. He also told the court that the employe was on-call constantly in case of emergency.

 "We want him there, and we want him happy," Coleman told the court.
 In other action, the court:
 -Approved payment of monthly bills.
 -Discussed the possibility of an efficiency study for the county offices.
 -Authorized the firm of Brown, Graham and Glover to conduct the annual audit.
 -Visited with a representative of the Knights of Columbus concerning purchase of the organization's property at 4th St. and Sampson.
 -Voted unanimously to more than double in-county travel expense allowances for each precinct commissioner.
Okay Extra Help
 -Discussed a compulsory retirement program.
 -Reviewed an old county court order concerning drilling of irrigation wells too near to the section line.
 -Approved the hiring of extra help in the tax office for the rush season ahead.
 -Signed a previously approved contract for installation of a sprinkler system at the hospital.
 Ed Dziuk Jr., representing the Hereford chapter of the Knights of Columbus, met briefly with the court concerning the sale of the KC's property at 4th St. and Sampson.
 The court had previously gone on record with an offer of $32,000 for the property. Dziuk told the court that the offer was still being considered and that they were making an effort to find suitable replacement property on which to construct a home for the organization.
Hold Offer Open
 "We'd like to get enough out of our property to relocate," Dziuk said. "We feel that this property is more valuable to the county than anyone else, and we want to deal with you." He pointed out, however, that they need more time in which to locate replacement property and make plans for a new building.
 The Knights now hold regular meetings in the old school building located on the 4th St. and Sampson property.
 The county court voted unanimously to hold the offer open until March 8.
 The court also voted unanimously to raise in-county travel expenses for precinct commissioners, effective Jan. 1.
 The commissioners furnish their own transportation, and in the past had been allowed $35 monthly for operating expenses. This includes all gasoline, oil, tires, repairs and wear and tear on the vehicles. The expense allowance was raised to $75 per month.
 This allowance is in addition to the monthly salary of $365 presently paid to the commissioners.
 The court also reviewed an old court order which prohibits the drilling of irrigation wells within 55 feet of a blind section line. The court cautioned county farmers against drilling closer than the specified 55 feet. "These section lines may eventually be opened up as county roads," Holt said. "Proper spacing will prevent the needless expense of relocating a well."
 The lengthy session adjourned at 5 p.m.

BUILT CHURCH THEMSELVES
LOUISVILLE - Talk about bargains, the Trinity Church of the Nazarene in Louisville has a new building valued at $100,000 but it cost only $41,000.
 The pastor, the Rev. W. Eudell Milby, acted as general contractor, a line he once pursued before entering the ministry.
 It helped, too, because his brother is in the building supply business and could furnish materials at cost. The Rev. William Kelly, a carpenter by trade, was superintendent of construction and members volunteered for most of the work.
 The 21-foot, aluminum spire was obtained with trading stamps.

Schools

 The trustees also considered, and tentatively approved, a basic plan for a new $650,000 junior high building, but instructed Brasher to make certain modifications. After the modifications are made, the plans will be considered again by the board.
Separate Unit
 The junior high will include 18 classrooms, 4 service rooms, a homemaking room, administrative area, industrial arts area, an all purpose lunch-assembly room, a band room and choral room.
 The gymnasium was being considered both as a separate unit or attached to the school building.
 As a separate unit, the gym could be used for varsity basketball games. It would have a seating capacity of 1,800 and would cost approximately $250,000. A much smaller gym, attached to the school and designed for junior high use only, would add about $175,000 to the cost of the school building, saving the district $75,000 on the overall construction.
 It was pointed out however, that the separate unit might be less expensive in the long run since the present high school gym is now inadequate for the needs of the system.
No Air Conditioning
 Air conditioning for the schools was turned down, although initial construction costs (with or without the air conditioning) was approximately the same.
 Cost of operation plus the short period of time used were the primary reasons for refusal to include air conditioning.
 Initial construction cost would differ only slightly, according to Brasher. "With air conditioning we can design a more compact unit and eliminate some exterior wall. The savings in this will pay for the air conditioning system," he told the board.
Accept $315 Bid
 The new junior high building will be located north of Whiteface Field, according to present plans.
 The board unanimously accepted the high bid submitted by Homer Hulsey for purchase of two out buildings located on property recently secured by the school district. Hulsey submitted a bid of $315 for the two buildings. Other bids submitted ranged from $50 for one building to $259 for both. Hulsey said he would have the buildings removed from the property within two weeks.
 The board also accepted the resignation of Mrs. Nancy Richie and Mrs. Barbara Brown, teachers at Northwest School, and named their replacements as recommended by Supt. Darrell Williams. The board commended the teachers for their work at Northwest and accepted the resignations "with regret", effective Jan. 15.
 Mrs. Peggy Scott, now on leave of absence from the school system, and Mrs. Martha Ann DeBord were hired to replace the two Northwest teachers.
 Mrs. DeBord is a graduate of West Texas State and is now completing practice teaching at Aikman Elementary.
 Supt. Williams also told the board that the bus barn, now under construction north of the high school building, should be completed in about three weeks. A new elementary school is also under construction and the brickwork at Aikman Elementary should be started in about 10 days.
 Next regular meeting of the board is scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 8, at 7:30 p.m.

Speaking of Sports...

by PHIL DUNCAN
BRAND SPORTS EDITOR

I understand there is not a locally organized independent basketball league this year. Something ought to be done about this.

The Jaycees sponsored a fine league last year and the results were excellent. I talked with Carl Carlike of the Jaycees and he said they did not wish to form or sponsor a league this year, but would be interested in playing in one.

Several other groups and businesses around town have teams already formed or would be interested in forming one. It looks like the only thing needed to kick this thing off right is a little working together on everybody's part. Anyone interested in organizing a league may call this writer at EM 4-2030 and I will contact the other teams.

This will be a very good thing to work out. Most of the teams last year were church teams. It would be a good thing to combine these with business teams and other independent teams.

I had a chance last week to visit with Bob Baker, the new pro at the John Pittman Municipal Golf Course. Bob is a real personable fellow and is really sold on the sport.

I thought I was going to be signed up for some lessons before I left. He is really sold on golf and looking over his past accomplishments, it is easy to see his interest in the sport.

The pro-shop is really stocked with the finest in all types of golf equipment. Anyone interested in learning the game would be on the right course by contacting the new young pro. He has four years of experience in teaching at Amarillo High School.

I understand he turned out some real fine teams while he was there. Stop by and chat with him whether you are a golfer or not — but the chances are you will be when you leave if you aren't already.

Say the Jaycees are really bringing a unique event to Hereford tomorrow evening. The Harlem Road Kings, featuring the great Goose Tatum, will appear in the Hereford High School Gymnasium.

Everyone who does not wish to travel the 150-plus miles to Perryton will have a chance to see this great old professional in action.

Tatum was with the original Harlem Globetrotters from 1943 until 1955. He is nearing 55 years of age, but still possesses his great form of past. The old professional is to basketball what Babe Ruth was to baseball. He was considered one of the first greats in the basketball world.

The game will be at 8 p.m. in the gym, and promises to be a ball for everyone. Don't miss it.

Coach Jack Meredith is really putting his football boys through the paces as they work out every evening on the weights and isometrics. Meredith is doing a real fine job and undoubtedly the results of his efforts will be realized next fall.

Everyone should be real proud of the 1965 edition of the Hereford Whiteface gridder. I am predicting one of the best teams in many, many seasons. They have the material and if the desire is there, I pity poor Dumas. They will just have to do without a district championship for a change.

Coach Jesse Geron is the track coach. I could not get any comment out of him concerning his outlook on the cinders this year. It will probably be a pretty good year, though.

All coaches are very pessimistic before the season starts. Our local coaches are no exception as they are all afraid to talk before the season begins.

In fact, you can hardly find them to talk too and they will invariably say the outlook is awful. But, it seldom turns out this way.

If they are wrong — nobody gripes because everyone likes a winner. If they are right — they can say that was what they predicted in the first place and everyone should have expected it. Sounds like a pretty sneaky system to me, though.

Coach Joe Brooks' junior varsity, dropped two games in a double header in Tullia last Saturday. This made the junior varsity 5-5 for the season. They have looked real good thus far in the season.

Tulia Drops Herd In Overtime

Strange Back In Form Hitting 25 Big Points

Hereford High School Whiteface cagers lost a heart-breaker Tuesday evening as the Tulia Hornets put the sting on the Herd, by winning a squeaker 68-67 in overtime.

The final buzzer sounded and caught the game in a 59-59 position and the two teams took to the courts for another two minutes only for the Herd to be outscored by the Tulia team.

Robert Strange hit 25 points for the Herd, while Weldon Mote, 5-7 senior, paced the Hornets with 18 points, followed closely by Robert Clemmon who had 14.

Robert Lemons had his best evening of the season as he hit 18 points.

The Herd came back in the third quarter gaining a 47-45 lead and the game ended with the score 59-59. The Hornets hit nine points in the overtime and the Herd could only manage eight. Tulia and Hereford both racked up 27 field goals each and the Hornets had 14 free throws to the Herd's 13.

Hereford was charged with 19 fouls, while the Hornets were charged with only 17.

Strange was the only Whiteface to foul out. He was fouled out late in the fourth quarter.

Brooks was the only Hornet to be fouled out of the game.

Four of Tulia's players hit in the double figures and the other one hit eight points.

Hereford missed 11 free throws and the Hornets missed nine.

Hereford will hit the road again Friday evening as they travel to Perryton for a contest. Dumas will play the Hornets there.

ONLY FATHER, SON COMBINATION

'Goose' Tatum, Son Play In Hereford Gym Friday

Hereford High School Gymnasium will be the scene for a bedlam-of-laughter Friday evening as the Harlem Road Kings invade the local courts for a special appearance arranged by the Hereford Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Harlem Road Kings feature the great Reese 'Goose' Tatum, who is considered by most sports fans to be the greatest basketball player in the history of the sport," Carl Carlike, chairman of the event, said.

The game will begin at 8 p.m. and will feature the Harlem Road Kings vs. the equally famous New York Olympians.

Tatum was with the famed Harlem Globetrotters from 1943 until 1955.

Playing by his side when the "Golden Goose" goes onto the court to cut his capers will be his 23-year-old son, Reese Tatum Jr., better known in the sports world as Goose Junior.

This is the fourth season the two have played together. Young Tatum joined the Road Kings four years ago after completing a hitch in the Navy. Although he was competing against his own father for his job, he made the team and now he is a full-fledged member of the great barnstorming pro team.

The two Tatums, senior and junior, alternated playing last year. Although he had great confidence in his offspring Papa Goose hesitated to take out a more experienced player to make room for his son.

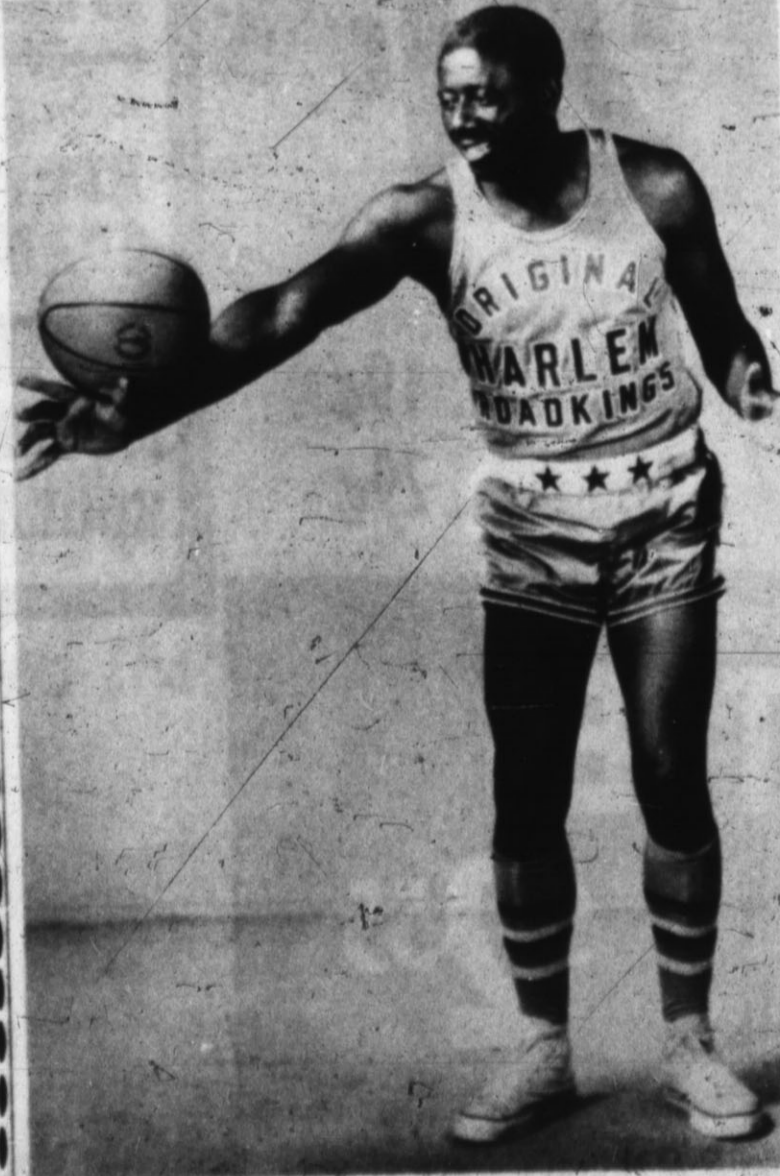

But before the season was over Goose Junior had won a regular job for himself and this season is listed as a starter, right along with his famous father. He has learned to handle a ball like his dad, and time has shown that he inherited many of his famous father's talents.

So when the Harlem Road Kings come to Hereford to play the New York Olympians, fans will be seeing not one Goose, but two.

Goose Tatum Jr. is five feet, 11 inches tall and weighs 180 pounds. He is not as tall as his father, but tall enough to play in big time basketball. He now is regarded as one of the greatest dribblers in the business.

Also with the stars will be Bryce Vann, formerly of the Kansas City Steers.

There will be outstanding half-time entertainment.

"GOLDEN GOOSE" — Reese "Goose" Tatum, the golden goose of basketball will appear in Hereford Friday evening at the Hereford High School gymnasium. Price for admission is $1.00 for students and $1.75 for adults. The game will start at 8 p.m. and will pit the Harlem Road Kings against the New York Olympians.

NTSU Cager Is Averaging 19.3

By HAROLD RATLIFF

DENTON, Jan. 13 P — Watching Willie Davis in action, you figure the North Texas State sophomore has played basketball all of his young life, has never been sick a minute and one day had to fight college recruiters off with a club.

After all the husky 6-8, 235-pound 19-year-old is currently the top sophomore in the powerful Missouri Valley Conference with averaged of 19.3 points and 15.5 rebounds per game.

It's easy to figure Davis wrong. This is only his fourth full season of competition, chronic nosebleeding kept him out of athletics two years under doctor's orders and very few major college teams contacted him after his high school career.

Five years ago as a freshman at Dogan High School in Fairfield, Tex., Davis never got on the floor.

"By my sophomore year, they'd let me travel with the team," recalls Davis. "I think the coach wanted to keep me interested because I played in only two or three games near the end of the season. We were in the state tournament and I didn't play a minute."

In 1961-62 as a junior, Davis finally had his chance at playing regularly. His two-year school-boy career was good enough to attract maybe 13 schools, counting a lot of junior colleges.

North Texas Coach Charlie Johnson had picked up a tip on Davis but had not checked further since his varsity Eagles were still busy.

Assistant Coach Travis Duncan didn't have a thread of the rumor when he stopped at a service station in Fairfield en route to a tournament. "Got any big basketball players around here?" asked Duncan, who maintains that is always his greeting during travels.

Told there was a seven-footer in town, Duncan decided to double back through the small Central Texas town the next evening.

ing. "Willie was only 6-8 but I saw him get 32 points and 29 rebounds that night. He convinced me," said Duncan.

That's the biggest gas stop Duncan ever made. And Davis is the Eagles' biggest and best hope since John Savage graduated last year. Savage, three times All-Missouri Valley first team, had a great collegiate career after being "discovered" in Detroit, Tex.

Rebounding is Davis' favorite game pastime and his strongest suit. He pulled down 19 against Oklahoma City and 20 against Houston. His lowest recovering total was 11 in a recent game against nationally ranked Wichita, but the Shockers' best could only get 10.

In seven games, his sharp shooting hand has proved Davis to be more than just a huge

Dimmitt Man Has 1st Ace

Jimmy Butler of Dimmitt blasted a "hole-in-one" on the John Pittman Municipal Golf course Sunday afternoon for the golfer's first ace in his career, according to Pro Bob Baker.

Butler got the ace on the No. 5 hole which is 150 yard drive with a par of three.

He was playing with D. C. McWhorter, Troy Moore, John D. Pitman, Ted Young and J. E. Wahlgemuth.

For the round, Butler shot 37 on the 35 par course.

36 YEARS BETWEEN ACES
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Al Lopez received so many hand shakes during the winter baseball meetings here that a Texan might think his Chicago White Sox had won the World Series. But congratulations were in order for a hole-in-one the manager made a few days previous at Tampa's Temple Terrace course. Lopez aced the 162-yard 15th hole with a 6 iron.

"It was the second ace in my life," says the former catcher. "The first one was 36 years ago at a Tampa course no longer in existence. It was at the old 9-hole Airport course."

Lopez's latest ace cost him $63 for refreshments but he had hole-in-one insurance which cost him $1.

He was playing with Tony Cucinello, his third base coach; attorney John Berry, Charley Gregory and pro Barney Rackley.

Just the week before, Lopez saw Berry ace the 8th hole at the Florida course.

rebounder. He has hit 48 of his last 92 field goal tries for 52.2 per cent and 45 of his 61 free throws for 72.8 per cent.

Willie's favorite shots are the jumper and the "muscle". He describes the muscle play as the one where "I just take the ball close in and go hard for the basket."

As long as Willie goes hard, the Eagles figure they'll make gains in their long and often frustrating campaign to compete equally in the MVC. Better yet, there are two more Davis years after this.

A BAVASI JOINS DUKES
ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Peter Bavasi, son of Los Angeles Dodgers general manager Buzzie Bavasi, is the new business manager of the Albuquerque Dukes of the Texas League. A native of Bronxville, N. Y., young Bavasi is 22 and a June graduate of St. Mary's College in San Francisco.

Walcott School District Covers 466 Sections

tending to his account of the predicament from which they rescued him, you wonder if he might not be right.

The summer of 1960, Collins was a week away from opening and was short two teachers. A husband-and-wife team had resigned to return to school for advanced degrees. The harried Collins could find no replacements. Accompanied by his wife, the Walcott principal drove to Wichita, Kan., and then started back to Harford, stopping "at every county seat and school superintendent to ask if they knew of anyone interested in teaching here."

The answer everywhere was "no."

He saw an old friend at Lateral, Kan., who knew of no one but said any possible prospect who inquired would be given the information.

"The next Monday these two girls came by and looked us up," Collins said. "They came here without any experience, and they have certainly made fine teachers."

Miss Bourquin and Miss Green share one of the three residences on the school grounds. The Collins occupy a second and the caretaker and his family have the third. (The current caretaker and cook, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Duncan, are leaving this week.)

The small country school, which has largely faded from the Southwestern scene as economic demands and improved transportation methods led to consolidation after consolidation, has its problems, as Collins realistically admits.

"One of the biggest problems we have is getting our buses through the snow and mud when we have inclement weather — we have so many miles to drive," he explained. The longest route covers 188 miles. The earliest passengers, who ride about 25 miles, are "picked up about 6:30 a.m., and don't get home until 5 p.m."

Concerning actual instruction, Collins lists the biggest drawback as the combined grades. "There is some confusion to one grade as they try to study while the other is reading. But in the total outcome we do just about as well as the others in preparing the student for higher education."

Enrollment Grows
Each teacher stays with her group throughout the day, including recess periods, which, if the weather is blustery and cold, are conducted in the combination gymnasium, cafeteria, auditorium opened in January, 1964.

"We have grown from an enrollment of 51 to 96 in the past 30 years," said Collins. "And I had a call awhile ago that we'll have another elementary student tomorrow as well as a high school student to take to Harford."

The Walcott system buses about 30 students to Harford High School, a practice followed since a switch was made 11 years ago from sending high school students to Grady, N. M.

Three school board members direct the school system, keeping a close hand in administrative affairs and doing the hiring and dismissing of employees. Present president of the board is G. V. Hall. Loyd Brown is secretary and the other member is Willis Duggan. A board election is scheduled in April.

Three 'Rs' Face Rural Youngsters, Too

A PUPIL RECITES — Mrs. Tom Collins, wife of the Walcott principal and third-fourth grade teacher, patiently listens with the other students as a student shares his knowledge. One of three teachers (plus Collins) at the rural school 31 miles west of Hereford, Mrs. Collins has lived and taught the elementary grades there for 11 years. (Staff Photo)

PLAY TIME — First and second grade students, led by their teacher, Miss Paula Green, churn through morning exercises in the Walcott school combination gym-auditorium-cafeteria. The new facility, opened early in 1964, provides a much-needed play and eating area for the school and gives the community a meeting place for after-school functions. (Staff Photo)

Knitting Can Be Relaxing, Says Mrs. McGhee

By LOIS DEDYNE
Women's Editor

"Knitting is not only an art, it's a tranquilizer," says Mrs. C. R. McGhee, "because you can express your own personality and put some of yourself into your work." This is certainly very much in evidence in the McGhee home at 500 W. Park. It is a show place of hand made articles.

Mrs. McGhee does custom knitting and her own blocking and has made stoles on order for Neiman Marcus of Dallas. She also knits hats, coats, suits and afghans. The stocking knit stitch is very popular for sweaters but she said a tighter stitch is required for garments than for articles such as afghans.

Afghans are very popular for couch throws and bed coverings. She often uses mohair for these and a large needle produces a loose stitch resulting in a very soft finished product.

Crocheting, cutwork embroidery, needle-point, oil painting, and ceramics are also among Mrs. McGhee's accomplishments.

In the home there are hand made hooked rugs, tapestries and chairs done in needle-point. "Blue Boy" and "Pinky" which she has done in tapestries feature the exact colors which are in the original oil paintings, and are done in petti-point.

Her cutwork tablecloth which has matching napkins is in the dogwood pattern. To satisfy her own curiosity she measured the amount of thread it took to complete this work of art and the total would be equivalent to 5 and 1/4 miles of thread.

When commenting on her ceramics she called attention to ceramics done in porcelain and an original maple leaf made from dry dirt to the finished product.

"Hand crafts have always been a part of my life as well as in my family for generations," she said. Mrs. McGhee has an heirloom lace tablecloth made by her mother and a piece work quilt in flower garden design which is from her husband's family and is more than 120 years old. "I don't remember when I first used the needles, I was too young." When asked about a crochet table cloth she replied that it was one she had made when she was a young girl of about 14.

While teaching handicrafts at the state hospital Mrs. McGhee noted that knitting was excellent therapy and is a form of self-expression as well as a good outlet for the imagination. She used a pattern for some of her knitting but adds originality and creates her own designs.

Mrs. McGhee, who prefers to be called Mollie, suggests a few tips for beginning knitters. "Learn and master the two stitches — knit and pearl — and

White Tea Rose Is Named As Memorial To President Kennedy

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newfeatures

A classic, fragrant white tea rose has been named as a memorial to the late President John F. Kennedy.

The new rose was tested in 1964 by rose experts in most of the states.

One trial grower reported from Elgin, Ill., that the Kennedy rose was the best white hybrid he ever had "so far as flower form, lasting quality and plant vigor are concerned."

Ralph E. Perkins, president of the company introducing the rose, reported that plants had been donated to 299 public gardens throughout the country. A John F. Kennedy memorial rose garden will be dedicated next June at Sterling Forest Gardens near Tuxedo, N. Y.

The hybrid tea was developed by E. S. Boerner, who has created more than 150 roses.

ALL-AMERICA FLOWERS

Take a delphinium, a petunia, a dwarf snapdragon and a zinnia and you have the 1965 All-America flower selections. Seeds will be available this spring.

The new delphinium, "Connecticut Yankees," unlike the tall perennial floral spires, is a bushy 2 1/2-3 feet tall. It will start blooming the first year from seed, bearing 2-2 1/2 inch flowers on base-branching plants. Colors range from light, medium and dark blue through lilac, lavender and purple, with an infrequent white. This delphinium development was achieved by Col. Edward Steichen of Connecticut.

(Zinnias do best when grown in place from direct seeding.)

The four winners were chosen from among 26 entries on the basis of testing at 26 locations in all sections of the U. S. and in Canada.

Well worth growing if you haven't tried them are some winners of recent year: Celosia Fireglow, a cardinal red cockscomb; dwarf zinnia Thimbelina and zinnia Pink Buttons; Salvia Evening Glow.

Westway Group Hears Exchange Students

Mrs. Ruth Lewis, Mrs. McGhee's mother, is 89 years old and still is knitting afghans, making hooked and deep pile rugs and painting in oils. A custom made rug for the family pet dog was also made by Mrs. Lewis.

Mementos Of Big Manhunt Serve Deputy As Lamp

Deputy Sheriff Ed Roberson of the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department has a unique lamp which serves as more than a lighting device.

The lamp is made of a sawed off 16-gauge shotgun, and a butcher knife is mounted on the mahogany base of the lamp.

Raymond Beene, custodian at the court house, made the lamp for Roberson from the two weapons that were taken nearly two years ago from two youthful bandits in a manhunt, which started in the far northwest corner of Deaf Smith County and ended up south of Montoya, N. M.

The youths walked boldly into a Deep Rock Service Station near Glen Rio, N.M., but in Deaf Smith County, and pulled the shotgun and butcher knife on the attendant, Charlie Gonzales.

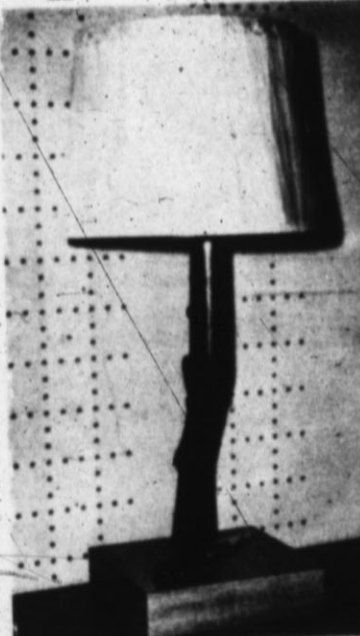

It was at 3 a.m. on a Monday morning when the armed robbery occurred, with the bandits making off with more than $120, tying up the attendant and escaping on foot.

Sheriff Lowell Sharp and his two deputies, Roberson and Pete Cole drove to the station and assisted New Mexico law enforcement officers in tracking down the two bandits.

The suspects ran through a road block, and abandoned their car, eluding the officers once again. The pair then proceeded on foot, hiding in a barn.

Airplanes then took up the search, and an alert pilot noticed a barn door shut that had previously been open. The officers on the ground were alerted and proceeded to the scene arresting the pair.

The boys were taken to Tucuman, where they waived extradition rights and were re-

Haskell Citizens Begin Watch For Mysterious Killer of Livestock

HASKELL, Ok. — With the coming of colder weather, Haskell residents began keeping a close lookout for whatever it is that people call The Thing or The Varmint.

Whatever it is, it kills and eats livestock. And when it has been sighted, it generally scares the viewer.

No one knows why the animal likes to prowl when the nights turn cool. Some believe it spends the summers in the somewhat higher elevations of the Kowa Peak area west of here.

Some Don't Believe There are some who do not believe the stories told about the animal, saying that they are the products of a small fact grown larger because of the stories. But this always has been game country. Haskell County was the scene of several of the largest buffalo slaughters in West Texas in the 1870s and 1880s. After the buffalo were skinned for their hides, the carcasses were left behind.

Old timers say these lured wild animals from hundreds of miles away. One cat-type which is a native of Mexico was found in this North Texas area afterwards.

The late R. E. Sherrill, in his "History of Haskell County," tells of one incident when he discussed cougars, mountain lions and panthers.

Eight Feet Long On Sept. 15, 1888, T. A. Caperton and Williams Callens found a 4-year-old mare killed. They rolled a large stone down in the gulch where they supposed the animal might be lurking. When it ran out, they shot it. They reported, "It measured eight feet from tip to tip and weighed 300 pounds."

In November of 1891, Jim Fields, his father and brothers were hunting on the Clear Fork of the Brazos River in rugged country southeast of here. The dogs treed an animal.

While Jim was under the tree looking up the others shot. The animal jumped almost upon Jim — so close that he punched it with his rifle and then shot. The animal proved to be larger than a cougar, measuring nine feet from tip to tip.

Residents who believe the stories of the prowler believe the descendant of one of these animals lurks in the broken land south and east of Haskell.

Oliver Wendell Holmes called Baltimore the "gastroνομic metropolis of the Union."

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Gingerbread Plus: Homey Snack or Dessert

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Do you, like some cooks we know, have a special category in your recipe file for those rules that include wheat germ? Such a category usually makes a health-conscious cook feel virtuous because wheat germ offers high-quality protein and it is, especially rich in the B vitamins and vitamin E. But no matter how virtuous you enjoy feeling, we suggest that you carefully choose the recipes featuring wheat germ, making sure that they are the ones your family and friends will relish.

With taste buds as well as nutrition in mind, then, we have no hesitation in recommending that you add the following homey recipe for gingerbread to your file. When the rule was tested at our house, our tasters rated it high.

Another plus — this recipe is extremely simple to prepare. Regular flour is called for, but it does not need to be sifted before measuring; neither does it need sifting with the leavening (baking soda), salt and spices — all you have to do is stir. There's no creaming of the butter or margarine and sugar, either, because the fat is melted. The batter is just beaten together in jigtime.

WHEAT GERM GINGERBREAD
2 cups unsifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 1/2 teaspoons ginger
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup wheat germ
1 cup buttermilk
3/4 cup light molasses
1/3 cup butter or margarine, melted
2 eggs

In a mixing bowl stir together the flour, baking soda, salt, cinnamon, ginger, cloves, sugar and wheat germ. Add buttermilk, molasses, melted butter and eggs. Beat just until batter is smooth. Turn into a well-greased square cake pan (9 by 9 by 1 1/2 inches). Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 35 to 40 minutes or until a cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean.

Cut into serving-size portions in pan and remove with a wide spatula; serve hot. Or cool gingerbread in pan placed on wire rack for 5 minutes; loosen sides with a small spatula; turn out on wire rack; turn right side up; cool; store tightly covered

REP. ROGERS REPORTS

Deplores Actions Taken Against Bolting Solons

By WALTER ROGERS
U.S. Representative.

There is an old saying, "Politics makes strange bedfellows." The truth of this statement has certainly been proven by the recent actions of both the Democratic and the Republican Parties in the House of Representatives. The Democrats punished two of their Members for failure to support the Presidential and Vice Presidential nominees in the last election, and for supporting the nominees of the Republican Party.

On the other hand, the Republican Party kicked out their Leader in the House of Representatives in spite of the fact that he had been one of the most vigorous supporters of the Republican nominees for President and Vice President. This created a situation where all three were pretty well stripped of seniority rights with regard to committee assignments. Seniority is of great importance to every Member of Congress, hence the loss of it is a substantial blow.

'Had Some Defectors'
Press reports indicate that the Republican Party had a number of defectors among the Members of the House of Representatives. There was no discussion as to punishment of these defectors for bolting the party; on the contrary, there was some talk that they may be the leaders of the new "Image" of the Republican Party.

Summed up, it would appear that the two Democratic defectors stripped of seniority because they bolted the party, and the Republican Leader stripped of his powers even though he vigorously supported the party nominees, are in the same political bed—outcasts from their own parties for completely reverse reasons, but political bedfellows nevertheless.

Violates The Rules?
I would not presume to pass judgment on the actions of the Republican Party or its Members in the House of Representatives. However, I do not occupy the same situation with regard to the Democratic Party. I vigorously disagree with the action of the Democratic Caucus in punishing John Bell Williams and Albert Watson. I do not agree with what these two men did, but I would forever defend their right to do it.

Whether or not they should be punished should depend entirely upon the law and the rules applicable at the time the action was taken. The Constitution of the United States in Section 9 contains the following proviso: "No bill of attainder or ex post facto law shall be passed."

It is undeniable that there were no rules or requirements in the Democratic Party applicable to Members of Congress that if they failed to support the Presidential and Vice Presidential nominees of the Party that they should receive certain punishment. Hence the infliction of the punishment upon John Bell Williams and Albert Watson was in violation of the Constitution.

Cites 'Cruel' Punishment
It might also be pointed out that the Eighth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States provides as follows: "Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted." A basic principle and belief of our people has always been "equal justice under the law." In the case of Williams and Watson, both the Eighth Amendment of the Constitution and the basic principle of equality of justice were violated.

John Bell Williams had been a Member of Congress for 18 years and had followed the rules which made him, because of seniority, the number two man on the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. He was next in line to become chairman of this, the oldest committee in the history of Congress. Albert Watson of South Carolina is a new Member of Congress, relatively speaking, and had acquired only the seniority of one term.

Nevertheless, the same punishment was inflicted upon both men. John Bell Williams was stripped of seniority that had taken 18 years to build up. Albert Watson was stripped of seniority of only two years' duration. This punishment was inflicted on both of these men for the same identical offense.

Hence, mathematically speaking, Williams was required to pay a penalty nine times greater than the penalty paid by Watson. Morally speaking, the action against these men was unjustified, because the same identical offense with which Williams and Watson were charged had been committed a number of times in recent years and had gone unpunished and without any effort to challenge the offenders, or to write a rule prohibiting such defections.

It is my studied opinion that the grievous wrong committed should be corrected before this session of the Congress gets further under way.

WORLD PEACE

WORLD PEACE! That cry comes straight from every heart today. We must not lose heart, we must continue to believe in God and His good will for His world. War is wrong! War is contrary to all the teachings of Jesus. God is no more satisfied than we are with our war-torn earth. Our Lord is the Prince of Peace; His ways are the ways of truth and love. He is calling us to work with Him more faithfully and more intelligently. We have been war-making instead of peace-making.

HAVE we trusted that somebody else would make Peace? Have we trusted that Kings would bring about peace? Their very position makes them war-makers. Our demand that they bring prosperity to the people at the expense of another is a war demand. Have we trusted armies to make Peace? Again we have erred. Their very business is war-making; they must subdue other armies. Have we expected that economic treaties would make Peace? Again, the business of the world is highly competitive; investors demand profits from their money and their toil... profits that come from economic victory. INTERNATIONAL CONFLICT CAN BE SOLVED; WORLD PEACE MUST COME. How?

CHRIST is our answer, and we must answer to Christ. RELIGION IS OUR HOPE; RELIGIOUS PEOPLE WHO FOLLOW THE GREAT TEACHER AND FRIEND AND SAVIOR WILL MAKE PEACE. The Cross is the symbol of Peace. SWORDS MUST GIVE WAY TO PLOUGHSHARES, AND SPEARS MUST BE REFASHIONED INTO PRUNING-HOOKS. What is that word you spoke yesterday? Did it make for Peace or for strife? When you finished the business transaction, did you leave a friend on the other side of the bargain? THE PRINCE OF PEACE IS NOT A RULER OF MEN, BUT A FRIEND AND A SUFFERING SERVANT. Are you and I willing to suffer in the cause of Peace? We have suffered enough for war. Our boys want to live, and to live abundantly; to construct, not destroy; to love, not hate. Peace will cost us much; kind words, generous dealings, goodwill, helpfulness and patience and self-control. Do we pray first for our own success, or for Peace? God is the Peace-maker; Peace-makers are the children of God. Grace and Peace belong together; graciousness of spirit will go ahead of abiding Peace. Are you and I gracious toward every other person? PEACE IS A MATTER OF SPIRIT AND OF SACRIFICIAL BEHAVIOR. We are being watched. Shall we make sacrifice for Peace? Shall we forget the Crown and the Thorn? Shall we carry a cross?

Chamber Warns Against 'Shady' Carpet Sellers

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce has advised homeowners to be wary of carpet companies attempting to sell them long-wearing "industrial" carpeting at bargain prices.

Bill Thompson, manager of the chamber, said carpet vendors engaged in this scheme depreciate the construction and wearability of regular home carpeting and claim that "industrial" or "commercial" carpeting "wears like iron" under heavy traffic conditions.

The Institute said carpeting intended for home or commercial use is available in various grades designed to withstand varying traffic conditions but the differences in grade or quality are not apparent to the layman.

In view of these facts, NBBB advised consumers to deal only with carpet firms of known reliability.

Suggest Caution

According to the National Better Business Bureau, with which the local Chamber is affiliated through membership, several chambers of commerce have reported that carpet companies or itinerant vendors in their areas are trying to sell "industrial" carpeting to the public.

One salesman said he represented an industrial carpeting company that had sections of carpeting left over from a hotel job that it would make available to homeowners at bargain prices.

The salesman said this carpeting was not available in retail stores, NBBB noted, and offered a long-term guarantee to support his claim that it will last far longer than carpeting sold in retail outlets.

Not Good Judges

The American Carpet Institute, said NBBB, has stated that "commercial carpet" is a trade designation for a long-wearing grade used in restaurants, theaters, hotel and bank lobbies and other public places.

However, ACI noted that consumers are generally in no position to determine whether carpeting offered them is "commercial," "industrial" or regular home carpeting, or whether price is necessarily an index of

Attorney Speaks To Study Club

John Alkin was guest speaker for the L'Allegria Study Club at their Thursday meeting in the home of Mrs. Dwayne Walker, with program chairman, Mrs. Jim Carnahan.

For the program on state government, Alkin explained the operations of the three different branches: executive, legislative, and judicial, and how one can not go to extremes to infringe on the workings of the other. He said that two of the top three government posts of the state are held by West Texans, Lt. Governor and Attorney General, which is important for our area.

Mrs. Joe Easley presided for the business meeting when it was noted that in keeping with the programs on government there will be a campaign to encourage everyone to buy poll taxes.

Members present were Mrs. Jim Carnahan, Mrs. Tom Carnahan, Mrs. Joe Easley, Mrs. Wes Fisher, Mrs. Cameron Gault, Mrs. James Higgins, Mrs. Hilton Higgins, Mrs. Virgil Marsh, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Alex Schroeter, Mrs. Wheeler Sears, Mrs. Bob Viegel, Mrs. Dwayne Walker and Mrs. David Gibson.

The Whiteface

(OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF HEREFORD HIGH SCHOOL, HEREFORD, TEXAS)

The Hereford Brand, Hereford, Texas, Thursday, Jan. 14, 1965

NO. 16

Editor's Notes:

By VICKIE INMAN

There is good news in the air for all Whiteface readers. Next week a school newspaper separate in itself. For many years, HHS was the only school in the district that continued publishing the school paper in the community newspaper. Now — hooray and hallelujah — the Whiteface will have a remodeling job.

Many thanks for all the help in the form of advice and purchases of equipment and supplies goes to Bill Michael, principal; Bill Caraway, assistant principal; Darrell Williams, superintendent; the school board; all members of the faculty; James Gillentine, editor of the Brand; and Melvin Young, managing editor of the Brand. Without this help it would have been virtually impossible to even think about a separate Whiteface.

Now is the time for the help of the student body. First of all, the Whiteface needs a new masthead. (A masthead is the box with the word Whiteface that usually appears at the top of the newspaper.) To promote interest in such a project, the Whiteface is offering $5 to the person who turns in the best masthead design. The design could be done in skinny or fat letters, small or capital letters, bold or light print and with or without a design. The choice is up to the designer.

Entries should be turned in by the time school is out on Tuesday to Mrs. Jimmie Howell, room 105, or to me, Vickie Inman. Everyone try out — you cannot lose anything and you might gain $5.

The second thing that HHS students can do is help report the news. Anyone remotely interested in journalism or photography please contact Mrs. Howell. The Whiteface has a camera and will soon have a photography lab. Help is needed.

The first Whiteface will be presented free of charge to all HHS students. Subscriptions for the semester will be $1.50, which will include a copy of the "Reject" each month. The Whiteface will be sold by subscription mainly; any extra copies will be sold individually. If any townspeople are interested in subscribing, please mail a check for $1.50 to the Whiteface Staff, Hereford High School.

Now to get off the subject of newspapers for awhile. Tomorrow is a holiday for students. The poor, overworked teachers are using Friday to grade papers and prepare report cards. In other words, Friday is a time for students to be kind to teachers in the interest of semester grades.

By now, surely everyone is aware that the student council is selling Whiteface pennants for a dollar and Whiteface book covers for 20 cents. The price really is not exorbitant when school spirit is considered. When football season is over, it seems as if HHS settles down for a long, long winter nap. The student body needs to wake up and show the student council that they are behind them.

Congratulations, Nancy Boyer and Gail Witherspoon. Nancy and Gail won $40 and $25 each in a typing contest over the Christmas holidays.

Since this is the first of the year, we of the Whiteface staff are now serving notice that the next Whiteface will be an entirely new paper the next time it is published, Happy New Year!

Jane Messick Vacations In Mexico

Just as birds fly south for the winter, so do people when they get the chance; and what could be a better chance than Christmas vacation.

Jane Messick, junior, her parents and one brother went to Mexico over the holidays in order to see the country and enjoy the warm weather. The travelers left by car on Saturday, Dec. 26, and returned early Monday morning, Jan. 4. They drove to Chihuahua and rode a train from there to other places they visited.

"The people of the United States and Mexico are so different that one would hardly believe they were neighboring countries," Jane commented. "They are the friendliest and most warm-hearted people I have ever met!" Most of them still carry water on their backs since there is a scarcity of this resource and not everyone can afford their own wells.

Pictures depicting a Mexican man sleeping on the ground under a large sombrero are not far from wrong since many of the people do sleep on the ground due to a lack of sleeping facilities. "We in the U.S. are really lucky," Jane said.

There are very few cars in Mexico and most of them are in the large cities, which are few in number also. Juarez can claim many automobiles, but there are no stop signs or traffic signals in the city.

Since the people of Juarez are so different from the true Mexicans deeper in Mexico, they are not claimed by the rest of Mexico's people. These true Mexicans consider Juarez a separate territory. The city is noted for its open market, which is quite fascinating and picturesque, according to Jane. It also boasts a six million dollar dog racing track.

From Chihuahua, Jane and her family rode a train to the Gulf of California. One of the picturesque little towns on the coast that they visited had flowers everywhere they looked. Every house, no matter how rich or poor its inhabitants were, had poinsettias and other flowers, nearly covering the exterior of the house.

Between Chihuahua and the coast, the Messicks traveled through the Grand Canyon of Mexico. Although it is wider and deeper than the Grand Canyon in Arizona, it is not as colorful.

Another place of interest Jane and her family visited was the estate of Luis Torrazas, a great cattle baron who once owned nearly all of the state of Chihuahua. Since he had so many people working for him, his estate included such buildings as a cathedral, school, jail, and riding stables. These were attended, occupied, and used by only his laborers.

Mexico is composed of one territory and 29 states, one of which is Chihuahua. In the city of Chihuahua, the capital building stands with murals of the Mexico Revolution on every wall.

Chihuahua is one of the major cities of Mexico. Chihuahua alone can boast of over 232 millionaires. The bell in a cathedral proudly rings constantly with only an occasional 20-minute rest.

The Poncho Villa Museum, named for its benefactor, is located in Chihuahua. One of the guides showed the Messicks through the museum. The Messicks were shown the car in which Villa was riding when he was assassinated. Villa is noted as a leader of the Mexican Revolution.

"It is quite hard to talk to the people there because very few speak English and their language is different from the Spanish we learn in school," commented Jane. "I learned quite a bit of the spoken language while there." Part of Jane's help came from a group of 15 college boys on their way to the university in Monterrey. While on the same train as Jane, they played the guitar and sang. "It was pretty interesting," Jane laughed.

The Messick family saw no bullfights while in Juarez since the minor but important persons in a bullfight had gone on strike. They did drive by the bullfighting arena, however, and noticed the horses and bulls standing at the entrance.

At Christmas, the people of Mexico decorate their town plazas with many differently colored lights. Christmas is a season of gaiety and fiestas so the houses and streets are decorated. Nearly every family had a manger scene.

Mexican food is quite different from American food. Even the steaks prepared by the Mexicans are highly seasoned. A Mexican filet mignon is about three times as large in diameter at an American one and about one-fourth as thick.

The weather of Mexico is quite warm and becomes more tropical the farther south one travels. There are many sandhills since the average rainfall annually is one inch.

Jane stated that she would go back if another opportunity arose. "There is still so much to see and learn," she commented.

Ana Mendez To Be U.S. Citizen

Ana Mendez, a senior at Hereford High School, has applied to become a naturalized citizen of the United States.

Though she has lived in the United States since she was three months old, she has been unable to obtain citizenship until she became 18 years of age.

Ana's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Mendez, lived in the States but returned to Tampico, Tamaulipas where Ana was born in 1946.

Before Ana could become a naturalized citizen there were papers to fill out and an examination she had to take.

After receiving her application form from San Antonio, the marshal in Amarillo notified Ana to come and take her examination, which she did last Thursday. Serving as her witnesses from here were Mr. and Mrs. McAndrews. Her application is now being sent to her godparents for their signature. After that she will receive her citizenship papers.

Ana is staying at St. Joseph's Mission at the Labor Camp, doing mission work for the Catholic church. Ana has been doing this for three years. "I enjoy it very much," stated Ana.

Patricia Maxwell To Tour Europe With U.S. Band

Patricia Maxwell, senior, will tour Europe as a member of the All-Student Band, USA, June 12 until July 11. Chosen for her outstanding musical ability and talent, Patricia will perform on concerts in the major European cities. To highlight the trip, the final performance of the band will be at the New York World's Fair.

The trip is designated for music students and teachers. In addition to the routine sight-seeing excursions, the group will have the advantage of seeing events and places of particular interest to the musician and music lover. The trip will include visits to the opera, concerts, conservatories, birthplaces of noted composers, and lectures on the important contributions to music in each major area visited.

Patricia taped a 12-measure audition piece and Ben Gollebon, band director, sent the recording to Paul Noble, judge and director of the student band. Noble, his wife (who is a soprano soloist), a doctor, a nurse, minister, translators and guides will accompany the students on the trip.

The Lions Club will help finance Patricia's trip by providing $400 out of $850 needed for expenses. The tour rate includes the transatlantic on the Sabena Boeing 707 jetliner. The jet will go from Washington, D. C. to London and on the way back it will go from Brussels to New York. Travel in Europe will be by private motorcoach on land with the exception of certain sections where rail or steamer service is scheduled.

Leaving from Washington, D. C., the band will fly by jet to London, cross the channel by steamer and will travel on the continent by motor coach.

Officers of the bowling league are Jim Owen, president; Don Ravizza, vice president; and Kerry Thompson, secretary.

This league will close the last week in May.

Resolutions

By MIKE PASCHEL

When the old year has come to an end and the new year is dawning, it's the accepted practice, or at least the custom, to make New Year's resolutions.

"Aw," you say, "who needs them?" Well, if you think about it, you need them. A resolution made in earnest can be very rewarding. For example: A person may have a habit he thinks is bad, say, smoking. If he makes a firm resolution to stop it, and has the will-power to overcome this habit, he will surely be satisfied with the results. Or, one may decide to be kinder to his friends and be more charitable. This is one resolution which can never go wrong and may reap many rich rewards. A person being kinder to his friends will gain more respect and be better liked.

Most resolutions are made when a person senses in himself a need for improvement. Human nature is human nature, and everyone has faults. There is not one person who cannot find fault with himself, and resolve to correct this fault. If this were done, that would be one less fault for which you might be disliked.

Ask yourself, "How many resolutions have I ever made that I actually kept?" Many may find they have not kept a single one. If this is the case, there is room for improvement. New Year's resolutions are usually made either before or after midnight on Dec. 31.

Many find that three or four resolutions are too difficult to keep. Did anyone say you had to set a record for the greatest number of resolutions? Certainly not! Wouldn't it be better to make one badly-needed resolution and keep it than make five not-so-badly-needed ones and not keep a single one?

So if you are going to make resolutions this or if you already have, stick by them. It is undoubtedly worth it. Go ahead — give it a try. You won't be sorry.

New Whiteface Masthead Needed For 'New' Paper

A prize of $5 will be given to the winner of a masthead contest sponsored by the Whiteface.

On Friday of next week, the Whiteface will appear as a separate paper. "We thought," said Vickie Inman, editor, "that a new masthead (the nameplate that tells the name of the paper) would help bring out the fact that the Whiteface would be completely new, a fresh start."

Contest entries should be done on unruled paper in black ink or pencil. The contest entries can be any size, but preferably in a rectangular shape. Any size or type lettering of the word Whiteface with or without a design will be accepted.

Bowling League Is Organized

Hereford Bowling League met for the first time Jan. 7. There are four members on each team and all of the teams play each other.

The league is a member of the American Junior Bowling Congress and will be sanctioned by them. This will include awards given for outstanding games.

Members of the league will be under the supervision of Allan Duroy, the manager of the lanes, and Fred Beversdorf, secretary of the Hereford Bowling Association.

Bowlers meet every Thursday at 4 p.m. The cost is $1.15 for bowling. It is open to any senior high school student.

Officers of the bowling league are Jim Owen, president; Don Ravizza, vice president; and Kerry Thompson, secretary.

This league will close the last week in May.

C. the band will fly by jet to London, cross the channel by steamer and will travel on the continent by motor coach.

ENMU Another Choice For The College-Bound

Among the youngest institutions of higher learning is Eastern New Mexico University, located in Portales, N. M. The University offers a balanced program combining both general and specialized learning.

An applicant for admission to Eastern New Mexico University must possess the physical and mental health and moral character necessary for the best interest of the student body of the University.

Before a student is permitted to register, he must have on file in the Office of University Relations completed application forms as well as a transcript of high school work.

An applicant must take the American College Test prior to admission and must make a satisfactory score.

men and sophomore men are required to live in University dormitories and to take their meals at the University cafeteria.

ENMU provides opportunity and facilities for faculty and student research. An atmosphere conducive to good study habits is available. Study areas of many types are available in Eastern's library. These study areas include traditional table and chair arrangements, semi-lounge and lounge-type seating, and forty private enclosed study carrels.

The University provides an integrated program of student activities that affords opportunities for wholesome relationships with other students as well as with faculty members. Among these are the play and musical productions, national fraternities, student council, publication of a college newspaper, and the athletic program. There are also several recognition societies, one which is the Silver Key, an honorary scholastic society.

The fact that Eastern is not actually a large university makes it possible for the faculty and the students to develop a cordial and cooperative relationship. It allows a large amount of time of student participation in those activities that develop leadership.

Strange Named To All-Tourney

Robert Strange was recently selected for the all-tournament team at the Caprock Holiday Tournament on Dec. 28, 29 and 30 at Lubbock.

Strange was chosen as one of the ten outstanding boys in the tournament, in recognition for his position as forward.

The team was purposed to recognize boys who played outstanding games. Strange totaled 31 points in two games Hereford played.

Strange has been playing basketball since the seventh grade and is a two-year letterman. He wants to play college ball at North Texas in Denton after graduation.

Coach Kitchens comments on Strange: "He has been working hard this year and does good in all phases, including defense, offense, shooting, rebounding, and moving with the ball."

The treaty ending the War of 1812 was signed by American and British emissaries at Ghent, Belgium, on Dec. 24, 1814, but the news did not reach the United States for many weeks. In the meantime, the Battle of New Orleans broke out on Jan. 8, 1815.

Sure.

You might find another car as new as the Delta 88.

But not this year.

This is Oldsmobile's Delta 88. It's unique. Unique because it's new. New clear through.

Styling is new. So new, not a line nor a highlight was borrowed from last year.

Power plant is new. Super Rocket V-8 is the biggest in Olds history: 425-cubic-inches big, up to 370-horses strong.

Transmission is new, too. Turbo Hydra-Matic, available on any Delta 88, provides up to 40% more torque from a standing start, superlative performance at all speeds.

New styling. New engine. New transmission. This year, only Delta 88 lets you have all three, all new. Other cars have a lot of catching up to do.

McWhorter Meets Mrs. Kennedy

While in Aspen, Colo., at a ski resort, a former HHS student had an experience that he is not likely to forget for a long time.

By chance, Dan McWhorter became acquainted with Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy. It seems Dan was standing in a cafeteria line waiting to be served; when Mrs. Kennedy and her children, Caroline and John Jr., stepped in behind him. They soon became engaged in a conversation, and Mrs. Kennedy asked Dan to look after her children while she went to get some cigarettes. When she returned, she bought Dan a bowl of chili as a token of gratitude.

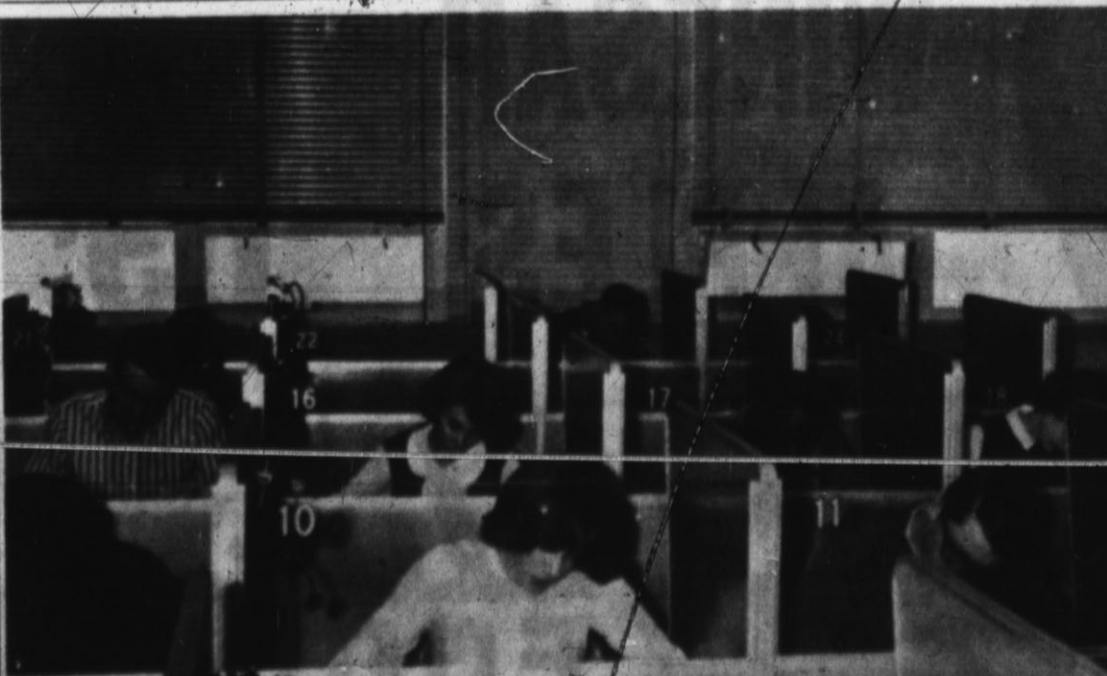

"And I've still got the bowl," said Dan. Dan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McWhorter of 20 Texas. He attended HHS last year and is now attending Schroeder Military Academy in Kerrville.

Welcome to the sorority were Mrs. Weldon Skinner, Mrs. Ted Sheffy and Mrs. Charles Hottel, all of Dimmitt; Mrs. Earl Holt, Mrs. Sue Painter and Mrs. O. Wertenberger, all of Hereford. Luncheon was served to approximately 50 members and was catered by Calson's Western Wheel Inn.

Hereford Man
Is Given Post

A Hereford resident has been elected to a two-year term on the board of directors of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, Canyon.

He is Russell E. Carver, president of the Hereford State Bank, who joins Mrs. H. A. Cavness, who was elected in January, 1964, and is beginning her second year of service.

The selections came during the foundation's annual meeting Sunday at Canyon. About 40 other persons from the Panhandle area were named to two-year terms, six were named to one-year terms and about 40 are now serving two-year terms.

At the meeting, Pete Givin of Givin & Terrell announced that his company would start construction of the Sound and Light Control building at Palo Duro Canyon State Park in 10 days. This building will be at the entrance to the Amphitheatre, resting on the wall which is already there. It will sit on pillars, leaving a promenade and rain shelter underneath.

Also presented were plans for a summer program in the Amphitheatre, and the board voted to proceed with preparations for an hour program, to be given six days a week, except when special evenings have been arranged. The program will reveal the beauties of the Canyon and some phases of Western life.

Lutheran Pastor
Begins 2-Year
Religious Study

A two-year Bible training series began last night at the Immanuel Lutheran Church with the Rev. Fred Beversdorf, pastor, as instructor.

Called the "Bethel Series," the program is designed to give a Bible student a good overview comprehension of the content of the Scriptures. "It is not denominational or specifically doctrinal in nature but is aimed at showing the overall purposes of God for man in His redemptive plan and His dealings with Israel and the Church," said the minister.

Immanuel Lutheran Church has paid a lifelong enrollment fee of $500 to permit it to offer this course. It will be opened to the public in January, 1967, after this two-year teacher training course is finished.

People who take the teacher training course will attend a 2½ hour lecture and discussion period every week for nine months out of the ensuing two years. They will have about 10 hours of homework each week. Those who teach adult Bible classes in any church are eligible to enroll.

STARTS BIBLE SERIES — The Rev. Fred Beversdorf, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran Church, is teaching a two-year course here in a non-denominational Bible program designed as the "Bethel Series." He attend a two-week training session in Wisconsin last summer in preparation.

FOR A SUCCESSFUL

Golden Spread

Western Junior Livestock Show

We know that it will be a success as it has in years past. This is a new year and the show has a new name, but Hereford and the surrounding area is still turning out the same high quality livestock.

We note with pride that many successful businessmen and farmers and ranchers started with a financing plan through the First National Bank... many more will begin through the years and through their 4-H and FFA Club work.

GEHL ROTARY SHREDDERS

Gehl now offers you two new rotary shredders for weeds, grass and pasture clipping as well as stalk shredding. These Clean-Cut Shredders are available in a 72-inch model which easily handles two rows of stalks and the giant 144-inch unit that cuts a full four rows.

CC-6 The handy 6-ft. Clean-Cut gives you 20% more cutting capacity than the conventional 60-in. shredders. Available in either pull-type or pick-up models, the Gehl is especially useful in controlling the corn borer.

CC-12 One of the many features of the 12-ft. Clean-Cut Shredder is the "V" shield attached to the rear bottom side of the hood. With the "V" in place, you get perfect spreading with your shredding. Without it, you leave an even windrow. A heavy-duty hitch enables you to pull a disc behind the shredder.

Stop in soon. Ask to see the new Gehl Clean-Cut... the right move in rotary shredding.

Mrs. Ed Yates, a former resident of Hereford and now living in Dallas, was riding down a Dallas street recently aboard a city transit bus, when she looked out the window and saw a street sweeper parked at the curb with "The City of Hereford" painted plainly on the side. Further investigation revealed that the sweeper was one recently traded-in by the City of Hereford for a new model.

Mrs. Yates is a niece of "Pack" London who was visiting in Dallas at the time. She tried to get "Pack" downtown to see the thing, but he figured he's seen it enough on Hereford's streets without battling the Dallas traffic to look at it again.

"Makes you feel like you're living in a pretty small world," Pack said.

Well, those Dallasites better watch us. We'll follow the example of some other growing city and place "Hereford City Limit" signs on Commerce Street.

Byrle Elliston and Elmer, Patterson have just returned from another of their excursions looking for Indian artifacts, antiques and museum pieces for the Deaf Smith County museum.

This time Byrle and Elmer ventured into Oklahoma and came back with everything but the governor.

Most of the items garnered on the trip came from the vicinity of Coalgate, Okla. where Byrle has a number of relatives. Chester and Lee Elliston of Coalgate are cousins.

Probably one of the most interesting items picked up is a brass spittoon, commonly seen in the saloons around the turn of the century. This one was a little lop-sided, perhaps because some big-footed cowboy used it for a bar rail. The more he drank, the heavier the foot got.

It's a real education to look through this collection. Many items we have seen before. Some we can remember being used around our home. Most, however, are much older than this writer, and some better preserved. Some would make pretty good merchandise today, particularly for the outdoorsman. For instance, included in the load was an old iron coffee pot, an iron waffle iron, a lemon squeezer and one old butter mold. Two lanterns, a cross cut saw (of little use with chips), an old horse collar, an axe head and one grubbing-hoe head, were included.

We couldn't begin to list everything here, that the boys picked up at Coalgate.

In looking over the items secured from the Ellistons and from other sources in Oklahoma, we began to wonder how many of our present generation had ever seen a butter-mold. Or butter, for that matter.

Margarine has about taken over the spread business, and it isn't too common to see butter on the table, must less being churned in an old fashioned churn and placed in a mold.

Churning the butter was a chore that we once had. Being too young to milk the cows when we lived on the farm, it fell our lot to do some of the other chores. Churning the butter was one. Bringing in the kindling wood and the coal for the stove was another.

Actually, we suppose the old grubbin' hoe is about extinct in this part of the country, also. In the first place, we have very few stumps to "grub out", and in the second place, most of the digging today is done with mechanical diggers mounted on the back of tractors. We suppose the grubbing hoe would come in handy, though, in trimming up the sides and corners.

It was a pretty hand tool just a few years ago, and maybe we're retiring it too soon.

Another interesting antique brought back by Byrle and Elmer was an old sausage grinder. That's another of the kitchen tools that has gone by the way-side. We doubt that many people kill hogs on their farms today. Most of the slaughtering is handled in commercial plants.

We're not kicking about the advancements made over the past two or three generations you understand, but it is rather interesting to rummage through these antiques and reminisce about earlier days.

And before you jump to conclusions, we might add that we're still in our middle-thirties. But hog killing and butter churning was a practice around our home until after the outbreak beyond the call of duty in this city, and we don't envy the folks who have to make the final choice. It's a tough job every year.

By the way, Byrle and Elmer made a trip earlier to the Iraan, Texas area where they secured a number of prehistoric sea shells. These too are quite interesting. # Sandi Says...

By SANDI THOMAS

Hulloeth!!
First of all, I'd like to urge everyone over to Perryton for the basketball game tomorrow night. The boys will be playing their hearts out, so the least we can do is get out to support them.

One more interesting Christmas vacation I forgot to mention last week was Jane Messick's trip to Mexico. She and her family went by car to Chihuahua, Mexico, and took the train from there to a little fishing village on the Gulf of California. All in all, it sounds pretty exciting!

The Whiteface will now be published as the school's own paper. It will consist of four pages, including sports and editorial pages. Anyone who wants to work on the staff can do so during homeroom if a seventh period class is scheduled. Copies will be ten cents apiece or $1.50 per semester if a subscription is bought. Subscriptions include a free "Reject" each month. The first issue will come out Jan. 22, and will be free!

The student council members are selling Whiteface pennants and bookcovers to boost school spirit. The pennants are $1 apiece and the bookcovers are 20 cents apiece, or three for 50 cents.

Congratulations are on hand for Trish Maxwell on making the US Band. She will tour Europe next summer with band students from all over the United States.

In case you're wondering what that new building northeast of the high school is going to be, it's the new bus barn. It is designed to hold 36 buses.

It takes talent to have a wreck in a car that's five minutes old, and Mike Paschel has that talent. He had ten miles on his brand new '65 Comet when George Muse ran into it from the rear. His car (which is still in the body shop) is pecan frost on the outside topped by black vinyl, with an interior of palo-mano tan. Sounds pretty!!

Two Hereford girls recently took top honors in a typing contest at Western Republic Business School in Amarillo. Nancy Boyer won first place - $40 to be exact. Gail Witherspoon carried off $25 for second place. Congratulations, girls!!

Mrs. Durham, home ec teacher, and Cindy Loerwald returned last Sunday from Dallas where the state convention for Young Homemakers and Young Farmers was held. Cindy was chosen last spring as the Young Homemaker's Little Sister. About 17 homemakers and farmers from this area went.

Speaking of homemakers, the FHA girls are sponsoring a chili supper for the benefit of the exchange students. The tickets are now on sale at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. It will be held Jan. 23, 5:30 to 8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Last Tuesday the boys and girls taking homemaking had a style show for their mothers. The ones taking sewing modeled their garments while those in the cooking course served refreshments.

Yesterday, the homemaking girls prepared brownies to put in the teachers' lounge for Teacher Appreciation Day. The girls do this every second Tuesday of each month.

Since semester tests end today, we will have a holiday tomorrow. (Ray! Ray!) That would be a good opportunity to get out to the livestock show in the bull barn.

There will be a dance this Saturday night at the community center with the Esquires playing. Admission is $1 per person for dancing from 8:30 to 11:45.

Deborah Thomas, Suzanne Hart, Susan Ballard, Sid Bayne, and Nancy Tyler went to Tullia last Saturday for the B-team and Freshmen basketball tournament. The B-team lost both games while the Freshmen won one and lost one.

I guess that's about it, so I'll see you tomorrow night in Perryton.

London's bow bells were silent for nearly 20 years after a bombing in World War II. With the restoration of the bells followed by reconsecration of the Church of St. Mary-le-Bow in the business heart of London in June 1964, Cockneys feel the war is finally over.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Grab Bag Of Surprises Hits At Capital

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Surprises come fast and furious on the political scene in Austin.

First surprise of the new year was the resignation of veteran Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson.

Then came an even greater one.

Just as the Legislature was about to open and everything was in readiness under the old management... presently confronted with problems both old and new... Gov. John Connally named House Speaker Byron Tunnell to fill Thompson's old post.

Thompson, once the battling mayor of Amarillo and for more than 30 years a scrapper on the Railroad Commission, had been ill for many months. Only recently he had been moved from an Austin hospital to his home in Amarillo. He had two years yet to serve.

Tunnell is an East Texan. He's the first person from the East Texas oil area to serve on the Railroad Commission in 23 years. He was just beginning his third term as legislator from the Tyler-Kilgore region and expected to preside for a second term as House Speaker.

Immediately upon learning of Tunnell's appointment, Rep. Ben Barnes of DeLeon, Tunnell's first lieutenant during the 1963 session, began contacting legislators about the speakership. Barnes already had announced as a candidate for Speaker of the 1967 session.

Simultaneous with Barnes' race for the speakership were similar activities by other House members, either openly or behind the scenes.

This list included Henry C. Grover of Houston, Jack Woods of Waco, Paul Haring of Goliad, George Richardson of Fort Worth and Wilson Foreman of Austin.

There were several other potential candidates.

LONG SESSION — Most observers feel that the 59th session may run through the summer. Certainly it will dominate the 1965 Texas political scene.

These results seem likely:

Lawmakers will spend a record amount of money, much of it to uplift higher education. Budget proposals of both Governor Connally and the Legislative Budget Board awaited Senators and Representatives at their capitol desks.

School teachers will get the $45 a month pay raise they are asking. But they will have to figure out who is going to foot the bill.

A few more exemptions are going to be removed from the state sales tax. Just enough to balance the budget, but not enough to hurt much.

Commission on Higher Education will be reorganized along lines recommended by Governor Connally. But the successor agency may not get all the power Connally would like it to have.

Stormy hearings will be held over legalizing horse race betting and sale of liquor by the drink. Both proposals may move farther than they ever have before. Maybe all the way.

A congressional reapportionment bill eventually will be adopted. However, it's difficult to see any agreement on legislative redistricting.

Other key issues which will occupy the 59th Legislature are statewide water planning and financing, oil and gas tract pooling, mental health and tuberculosis programs, criminal code revision, judicial redistricting, state property tax repeal, extension of the medical care for the aged program as authorized by constitutional amendment voted on Nov. 3, equal rights for women, gasoline tax exemptions for municipal bus lines, and enlargement of state tourist and industrial attraction programs.

GARY BEING ACTIVATED — Texas Educational Foundation selected Dr. Oscar J. Baker, superintendent of schools at Dickinson, as director of new Camp Gary Training Center near San Marcos.

First group of 37 teachers will arrive at the war-on-poverty training base by Feb. 1. Then the first 300 students are due in March.

Base eventually will enroll 2,000 trainees in 45 vocational programs and basic education.

COURTS SPEAK — Third Court of Civil Appeals handed oyster fishermen another setback in their suit to keep shell dredgers a long way from live oyster reefs. Court agreed Austin trial court was justified in dismissing suit. This since law did not provide for appeal from decision of Parks and Wildlife Commission which permitted dredgers to operate within 300 feet of reefs (old limit was 1,500 feet).

State Supreme Court invalidated City of La Porte annexation ordinance taking in 12 square miles of land including city of Seabrook and proposed town of Bayshore, but held La Porte home rule charter constitutional.

Court of Criminal Appeals, which overturned first conviction of former Houston Probate Judge Clem McClelland for felony conversion, upheld the second. Court also affirmed bribery conviction of a Houstonian involved in the same case.

BUILDING COMMISSION SWITCH — Governor Connally has yet to take a position on the Texas Research League's recommendation that he turn his job as a member of the State Building Commission to someone else.

But the other two commissioners have indicated they wouldn't mind giving up one job too many.

Commission administers State building construction and operation. This includes the State Capitol and the six buildings now in the Capitol complex. Also, others in Austin and over the State. Recently they recommended construction of another multi-million dollar State office building. Also a new mansion for the Governor.

But the Governor did not support the recommendation he helped make when he revealed his 1966-67 budget proposal.

League suggested that the Commission — now composed of the Governor, Attorney General and chairman of the Board of Control — be made over and instead be headed by three citizens appointed by the Governor and approved by the Senate.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, who was relieved of some 16 extra board positions by an act of the 1963 Legislature, has indicated he'd be glad to give up another job that takes time from his big job as the State's attorney. Board of Control Chairman Charlie Coates of Chappell Hill says he'll do whatever the Legislature wants. But Connally's staff says the Governor hasn't made up his mind.

HIGHWAY RECORD — Before the end of 1965, Texas will have 1,623 miles of super roads. Total interstate highway system designated for Texas is 3,025 miles.

California, heretofore the leader, has a designated interstate system of 2,173 miles. Interstate construction in Texas costs $610,000 a mile, compared with about $1,000,000 nationwide.

WATER CHANGES SOUGHT — Texas Research League has called for a switch in water planning functions from the Water Commission to the Water Development Board.

League sees Commission's role as a water rights' administration agency.

Initial decisions on water supplies needed for the next century must be made within six years to assure Texas' continued growth and prosperity. So states the League in the first of a series of four reports following its two-year study.

League said the state must be prepared to finance "a reasonable share" of some $4,000,000,000 in water development projects during the rest of this century. It recommends broadening the purposes for which state water development funds can be invested.

COMMISSION "STUCK" WITH OIL — Railroad Commission is having a difficult time getting rid of more than 107,000 barrels of oil, impounded because of illegal production. Some of it has been tied up since 1938.

About 70,000 barrels of this oil has been stored in Beacon Tanks in East Texas for close to 30 years. State can't find a buyer for it because Federal law prohibits the sale of illegal oil into interstate commerce, says Fred Young, attorney for the Commission.

Young said the counties have the Commission's problem. When a well is shut down on an illegal production order, oil at the well is impounded in tanks at the well site. When oil operators want to use their tanks, the Railroad Commission will let them give the impounded oil to counties for road construction free.

COMPLIANCE PLEDGED — State Board of Education voted 13-5 to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights law, a necessary ingredient for acceptance of some $37,000,000 in Federal funds for public school operation. But the Texas Commission on Higher Education, which will administer the new Federal college construction grant program, says it has not been requested to sign any such agreement.

WATER HEARING ENDS — Texas Water Commission wound up its hearing on the Colorado River Municipal Water District's application to change its proposed dam and reservoir site from Mitchell County to a point downstream near Robert Lee in Coke County.

Proposal was attacked by the Lower Colorado River Authority, Mitchell County officials, downstream water rights holders, the City of Austin, the Highland Lakes Tourist Association, and the Pedernales Electric Co-Op. Attorneys for both sides have until Feb. 7 to file supporting briefs.

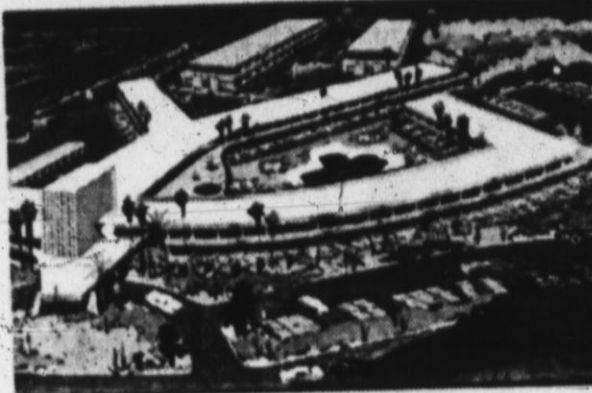

SHORT SNORTS — Governor Connally appointed Dr. Melver Furman of Corpus Christi to the Texas Commission on Alcoholism and reappointed Dr. Ira Woods of Grapevine and Dr. N. Jay Rogers of Beaumont to the State Board of Examiners in Optometry. Col. Homer Garrison Jr. of the Department of Public Safety urges motorists to "start the new year with a safe vehicle" by getting the 1965 vehicle inspection stickers. Court of Criminal Appeals picked Judge W. T. McDonald of Bryan, as presiding judge for the next two-year term. State Labor Commission Charles King, who held a two-day hearing on ways to improve regulation of boxing and wrestling, says that boxing is the more rambunctious problem child of the two. Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr held, in an opinion requested by Dist. Atty. James A. Morris of Orange, that the State Highway Department can build a bridge over Cow Bayou without being liable for compensating landowners downstream. State Parks and Wildlife Director Weldon Watson has inspected a 27,000 acre tract of land north of El Paso in Franklin Mountains as a possible state park.

Corpus Christi Man Finds Hobby In Making Authentic Ship Models

CORPUS CHRISTI — Ray Veasey spent 16 months building a ship he can't sell — a 5 1/4 foot, 90-pound model of a 15th Century British man-of-war.

The craft is the third turned out by Veasey in his spare time. He figures it took him 3,000 hours to finish.

The payoff is the smiles of visitors and the satisfaction which comes with creating.

Veasey calls his latest product Princess Royal. It is intricately carved, like its prototype of the days when ships looked like floating castles.

Carved Many Items

On the stern are trios of miniature stallions and mares representing the power of the sea. Veasey also hand carved such and a shackled prisoner on the ship.

Veasey also built two other model ships from magazine plans. One adorns a restaurant here. He started a fourth — a three-foot model of a 15th Century Venetian carrack that traders used to haul their wares across Mediterranean.

The entire ship, except for a few tiny metal screweyes, was done by hand.

"There's not a nail in her. Everything was either glued or pegged," Veasey says.

Veasey, a 35-year-old native of Lafayette, La., has been around ships and the sea much of his life. He was in the Navy for seven years, began longshoring in Galveston in 1953 and moved to Corpus Christi five years ago where he continued longshoring.

Took Up Painting

As a hobby, he took up painting, particularly of religious subjects, and then ship building. The first model was called Black Rose.

"In the beginning," he said, "I was going to build a model for my home. Then someone talked me into exhibiting my paintings and the Black Rose at the Art Fair. Everyone who came along looked at my ship and didn't even look at my paintings."

He found ship building slow work.

"It took real concentration to build," he said. "Sometimes I'd sit for three or four hours before I'd make a move. The cigarette people really made a killing off me. I smoked about three packs a day working on her."

Mrs. Veasey also took up part of the hobby, sewing the embroidered pennants and sails.

Parts Are Movable

Veasey started with the keel, working up to the deck and then put on the masts and rigging. "All the rigging is workable," he said, "and all parts can be operated."

The ship has two gun decks carrying 64 cannon. For materials he used teak wood from the Orient, and Honduras and Philippine mahogany, along with a little ebony.

His original tools, with which he built the Black Rose, were a jackknife, coping saw, hand drill and a tiny plane. Since then he has accumulated a more sophisticated set of instruments. These include 150 to 200 different drills and shapers, tweezers, needle-nose pliers, dividers, a horn-make lathe, a jig saw and a number of other items.

His favorite, however, is a tiny electric drill, hanging from the ceiling on a flexible shaft, much like those used by dentists. The original motor conked out, so Veasey installed one from a lawn edger and it works just fine, he says.

Was Given Plans

The carrack which he is now building is only one of the projects he has in mind. He also plans a model of a clipper ship, "any my wife wants me to build a Viking ship," he adds. "She still is waiting for that model I promised her for the house."

Veasey has gone to infinite pains to obtain the huge rolls of ship plans which crossed his workshop. He originally started by writing American consuls in various countries. Through them he was placed in touch with various agencies of the countries who sent him many authentic plans of early ships.

He contacted a French society devoted to authentic ship models, and received plans of 16th and 17th Century warships in the French navy.

He also received plans from Holland, Spain, Norway, England and Scotland.

Most are accompanied by a series of photographs showing of the carving and construction of the hull and superstructure.

He supplements the plans with

Prospective Fire Marshal Changes Mind, Stays Put

A chagrined city manager revealed Tuesday that the fourth prospective Hereford fire marshal has slipped through the city's fingers after getting a raise in salary back home.

"I've about given up," said Dudley Bayne.

The latest applicant was the fire marshal at Paducah, Price Sandlin, who in a recent visit to Hereford, agreed to accept the position providing his retirement benefit credits could be transferred to Hereford. They could, said Bayne.

But meanwhile, Sandlin was offered a raise in pay at Paducah and decided to stay. Hereford has no other applicants in sight, related Bayne.
