

FOR SECOND TIME

L. C. Thomas To Retire

Retirement — for the second time — is approaching for L. C. Thomas and his wife, Grace, who will leave Hereford Sept. 1 when their terms of service at King's Manor come to an end. The Thomases have worked with residents at the manor for the past four years, he as business manager and she as a beauty operator. Well known in the Hereford community, the couple has been here since 1946, when they came from Ranger. They have worked at King's Manor since 1963, when Thomas "retired" and resigned his position as a principal in the Hereford Schools.

Mrs. Thomas has also worked in the schools here, she has been an elementary teacher and also has worked for some time as a beautician.

Although the Thomases recall their years in Hereford as "some of their happiest," they do plan to move to Corsicana, where they can be nearer other members of their family. They have two sons, Vincent of Midland and Quentin of Beaumont, and four grandchildren.

When they first came here in 1946, Thomas was associated with a brother in the grocery business, he joined the teaching staff of the town's elementary school.

Sewer Tests Okay

Rumors of polluted waters running from the Hereford sewage plant into Tierra Blanca Creek and eventually causing a fish kill in Buffalo Lake were somewhat dispelled Monday morning.

Statistics in a "Sewage and Industrial Waste Report" from the Texas State Department of Health Laboratories in Austin show that the BOD (Biochemical oxygen demand) at the final effluent of the sewage plant was 14.0. The maximum count required for a state permit is 26.

Results of the tests, which were made on samples taken here July 10 by Millard Bruce, sanitarian with the health department, were received by City Manager Dudley Bayne Monday morning.

The results of other samples of water taken by Bruce on the same day include 250 yards above the sewage plant in the creek a BOD of 6.5, 50 yards above the plant (BOD of 2.4 at the intake of the plant (raw sewage), BOD was 220 and 200 yards below the BOD was 21.

"We're very pleased with the tests," said Bayne. "They show that we certainly are running well within the state requirements."

NON-CERTIFIED PERSONNEL

School Raises Salaries

By TOM PORTER
Staff Writer
Raises in salary for the majority of non-certified employees of the Hereford Independent School District and initiation of an adult education program were major items approved Tuesday night by the board of trustees. Supt. Johnny Clark, in submitting the salary increases, pointed out that they were mainly for cafeteria employees and "the cafeteria was in good financial shape last year." Clark said the raises already had been anticipated in the 1967-68 budget, which was submitted last month for approval by board members. The budget at that time showed a total of $81,127 which needed to be trimmed to put it on the level with anticipated revenue.

The raises among the cafeteria personnel were $10 a month in almost every case, with some of those persons who put in less hours getting a $5 increase.

For secretaries in the elementary schools, the beginning salary was raised from $220 to $235, with an increase after the first year of $10, and $5 each succeeding year.

For junior high and high school secretaries, the beginning salary was raised from $250 to $265 a month, with the same increases in tenure as those from the lower grades. The maximum salary for the elementary school secretaries will be $300 and the junior high and high school secretaries $330.

Salaries of several other administrative employees were adjusted upward to what Clark said was "more deserving."

Board members gave Clark and his staff the go ahead on an adult education program which they hope will "be evidence that communities can do something to help problems such as unemployment and poverty."

Tentative plans, as Clark explained, call for the school to offer adult classes for which there is a demand. There would be a tuition fee, but only enough to pay for expenses.

Clark said the planning could be handled by the Education Committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce and the program set up. Still speculating, board members said classes should be held after school hours possibly from November to March.

When discussion on the adult education classes began, Clark said there was one type program which pays the adult to attend classes and another which will reimburse the student about 50 per cent of his costs.

Board members unanimously opposed the program which pays the students to attend, one stating that he felt the program would mean more if the person had to make some sacrifice to attend. They told Clark to look into the reimbursable program and its chances here.

Also approved by board members was the initiation of a self evaluation study by the school system for accreditation purposes. Clark pointed out that "the State Board of Education policies require that all accredited schools conduct self-evaluations and be visited periodically by staff members of the Texas Education Agency under the direction of the Division of School Accreditation."

Clark said it had been several years since Hereford had been visited and he felt that the visit would be this year. The superintendent stressed the importance of Hereford keeping its accreditation and felt such a self-evaluation also would serve to keep the administration "on our toes."

The school system has received a total of $9,320 under the National Defense Education Act for a counselor during the coming school year, Clark told trustees. The funds from the Texas Education Agency will pay the salaries of a counselor and his secretary and the major portions of the operating expenses.

The school will pay a total of $950 for materials, office facilities and travel for the counselor, who will be stationed at Central Elementary School. See SCHOOL, Page 2

Five Persons Indicted By Grand Jury

Five persons, two of them not yet in custody, were indicted Monday by a Deaf Smith County Grand Jury.

Indicted for murder with malice in the July 16 death of Toni Wester was Frankie Wayne Wester, 24. Bond for Wester was set at $7,500 and he remained in Deaf Smith County Jail in lieu of bond Wednesday afternoon. Wester was arrested July 26 after Cliff Roberts, Amarillo Justice of the Peace, had ruled homicide in the death of the six-month-old baby girl. Roberts made his decision following an autopsy.

Wester is represented by Andrew Shoval of Hereford. An examining trial had been planned for Monday morning, but was bypassed after a consultation between Shoval, 69th District Court prosecuting attorney Bill Hunter and Deaf Smith County Sheriff Ed Roberson.

Ernesto G. Lira, 32, was indicted for the July 15 rape of a 14-year-old Latin American girl near the Griffin and Brand Camp. Bond was denied Lira.

Jose Arnulfo Munoz entered a plea of guilty before Judge Archie McDonald shortly after he was indicted on a charge of theft by bailer. He was sentenced to 4 years probation.

Two more cases were passed by the Grand Jury until the next session and three cases were no-billed.

Representative Clayton Speaks Friday Morning

Bill Clayton of Springlake, this district's representative to the Texas House, will be at the Caison House at 7 a.m. Friday to give a "report to the people."

The breakfast meeting, being sponsored by the government affairs committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, will be $1.25 a person.

Clayton will report on the accomplishments of the legislature which adjourned in May, and he also will predict events coming up for the legislative body when it meets in special session next January.

The chamber of commerce has requested that those planning to attend call that office at 364-5333 in order that they may make an estimate on the number of persons to be at the meeting.

Heavy Damages - Minor Injury in Accident

More than $1,300 damage and one minor injury occurred about 11:30 a. m. Monday when two cars collided less than a mile west of Hereford at the entrance to the Griffin & Brand Camp.

Treated and released at Deaf Smith County Hospital was Wanda Lorene Boone, 48.

Highway Patrolman Chuck Moore said Dan B. Charles of Lamesa, N. M., was attempting a left hand turn off U. S. 60 into the camp when the collision occurred.

Moore said three cars were heading west, with Charles in the lead and a 1964 Pontiac driven by Frank W. Boone in the rear. Boone, who was moving from Oklahoma to Clovis, N. M., apparently did not see the cars ahead slowing, said Moore.

When he saw the two cars stopped, he swerved to the left to miss the middle car and hit the Charles car as it made the left hand turn. Damage to the Charles vehicle was estimated at $450 and the Boone car, which was pulling a U-haul trailer, at $900.

A citation was issued for failure to control speed.

Whitefaces Do It Again

The Hereford High School Whiteface Band, recipient of awards all during the 1966-67 school year, reached the pinnacle of success Sunday afternoon when it was declared "Honor Band" for the State of Texas.

Announcement of the award came during the Texas Band Masters Association convention in San Antonio. A panel of judges had spent considerable time before the announcement looking at the records of eligible bands and listening to taped sessions of each group. Little was known here about qualifications for the award, but several supporters said the band had to be nominated by someone in the district and be a Sweepstakes winner.

On hand to receive the acclaim was Ben Gollehon, director, and Jim Priest and Lynn McLarty, assistants and directors at Stanton and La Plata junior highs, respectively. The three were expected to arrive home either late Wednesday afternoon or this morning.

One mark of eminence accompanying the award, band enthusiasts said, is that the band will play for the Texas

Music Educators Association convention at Austin in February.

During the school term, honors won by the HHS band included Sweepstakes Award in the Area 1 Texas Interscholastic League and being named "Honor Band" at the Buccaneer Band Festival in Corpus Christi.

Judge Archie McDonald

Judge Goes To College

Archie McDonald, 69th Judicial District Court Judge, will leave this week to join a select group for the 1967 session of the National College of State Trial Judges, being held at the University of Nevada in Reno.

Judge McDonald was one of the 150 United States judges selected from nearly 500 applicants to attend the intensive four-week course.

Now in its fourth year, the College is part of the continuing education program of the American Bar Association. The session is designed to acquaint judges with methods of effective judicial administration through an exchange of ideas and information among trial judges of the nation.

During the session, leading trial judges and law professors serving as the faculty will present courses in court administration, modern trends in evidence, sentencing and probation, criminal procedure, pre-trial procedures and other developing fields of trial court administration.

Tom C. Clark, associate justice of the United States Supreme Court, stated "at the end of this summer's session there will be a total of 700 graduates, which is 20 per cent of the nation's state trial judges. This is numerical evidence of the contribution which the College has made and will make to the improvement of the administration of justice in our nation. GSPA Meets Friday

Producers of grain sorghum from Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico will gather in Amarillo Friday, August 4. Approximately one hundred are expected to participate in the 4th Quarterly Board of Directors meeting of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association at the Herring Hotel at 10:00 A. M., according to Elbert Harp, the association's former-elected president from Abernathy.

Harp indicated that the officers of the county organizations will be asked to give direction on several items of business including: changes in the grain standards, bargaining powers for farmers, membership and budget development, as well as subjects suggested by the participants themselves.

The morning session of the 10:00 AM to 3:00 PM meeting will be utilized to gain expert background and technical information on sorghum related subjects of current interest, according to Bill Nelson, Executive Vice President of Amarillo. He said the new sorghum disease found in the area, "maize dwarf mosaic virus," will be discussed by the man who confirmed its presence, Dr. Robert Toler, virologist of Texas A&M University, and Dr. Tony Bockholt, also of A&M. Russell Bean of Lubbock will show slides about Water, Inc. and discuss proposed importation of surface water to the area. The new service programs for area feed lots will be outlined by Floyd Bergama, Executive Director of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association. Both morning and afternoon sessions are open to anyone interested in the subjects being discussed.

Four-Year-Old Hit By Auto

A four-year-old boy was reported in good condition Wednesday afternoon in Deaf Smith County Hospital with injuries received when he was hit by a car on Park Avenue Tuesday night.

Eddie West, son of Mr. and Mrs. Travis West of 208 Whiteface, received multiple bruises and contusions when he was hit by a 1960 Sunbeam driven by William J. Kester, 28, of 236 Avenue J.

Police said Kester was driving east on Park Avenue when the small boy ran across the street into the path of the car. The accident, which was about 8:45 p. m., was near the intersection of Avenue J. and Park

Group Votes To Incorporate

By LARRY FUHRMANN
Staff Writer

Deaf Smith County Water Association, Inc. formed some months ago within the bounds of the chamber of commerce Tuesday morning voted to incorporate the association and elect president of the group was R. C. Duck, Godwin, who has been serving as chairman of the group since its original formation.

Also approved by the 40 attending the meeting at the Caison House were nominations rendered by the nominating committee which named persons to serve on the board of directors and also those to serve on the executive committee.

Assisting Godwin will be Wilburn Axe, vice-president and Joel Hodges, secretary-treasurer. Also on the executive committee will be Ray Cowsett, Andrew Kershen, Henry Sears and James Witherspoon.

The board of directors' 21 members are to be Axe, Labry Ballard, Dudley Bayne, Bruce Brown, Paul Conaway, Cowsett, Clint Formby, Leo Forrest, Bill Godwin, Donald Hicks, Hodges, Charles Hoover, Kershner, Palmer, Norton, John D. Pittman, Denzil Pulliam, Austin Rose Jr., Percy M. Rosenow, Sears and Witherspoon.

After a brief discussion, the group present did go ahead and approve plans for incorporation.

Godwin told the group that prospects for water coming to West Texas via the Texas Water Plan were slim, and that projects aimed at taking care of this area were much brighter according to reports by the Bureau of Reclamation, which has been making studies of bringing water via canals from the Mississippi River.

The county water association needs to promote information relating the need of water in this area, Godwin told the group. It also will have to prove its capability to pay for the resource, as well as convince others of the value it will contribute to the overall economy of the state and/or the nation. Promoters throughout the area will need to see if farmers here are ready to contract for specified amounts of water, Godwin said. He emphasized the need for coordination of plans within Farmer, Bailey, Castro, Deaf Smith, Potter, Randall and parts of Lamb counties in order to distribute water after getting it to this area — the "western middle High Plains" — in the first place. Plans are that the Deaf Smith association will assist in organizing county associations in the other six counties.

Power to name committee members was vested in the executive board by the board of directors at the Tuesday meeting; the five committees will be membership, information, research, conservation and importation.

Projects needed to be undertaken by the research committee included studies on depletion, tail-water and rain runoff water losses, irrigated and irrigable land, piping costs of irrigation water, farmer repayment capability analysis, economic contributions of this area, projected costs of water importation, and studies analyzing the willingness to contract for water among primary, secondary and tertiary beneficiaries.

The county water association will not be working against Water, Inc. officers exclaimed. It will be working in cooperation with the area association, and also will work in conjunction with other county associations, the Bureau of Reclamation and Corps of Engineers, the Texas Water Development Board, and other groups working on water projects within this geographical area.

Membership in the Deaf Smith County Water Assn. is open to any individual, partnership, corporation, association, institution, political subdivision or other entity interested in the purpose of the association, according to the by-laws adopted. Dues have been set at a minimum of $10 annually.

An annual meeting will be conducted, at which time directors, elected for one-year terms, will be named by the membership present.

Officers and directors of the association, nominated by a committee of Wilburn Axe, Bruce Burney and Percy Rosenow, were elected by acclamation.

CITY DUMP IMPROVEMENTS — Lady Bird Johnson's beautification program got a boost in Hereford recently as the city has planted willow trees, elm trees and cottonwood trees at the city dump. The newly constructed city barn and several other buildings were constructed 200 feet from the road in order to make a park between the road and buildings.

New Teacher Banquet Is Scheduled

The 4th Annual Chamber of Commerce New Teacher Banquet will be held at the Hereford Country Club Thursday, August 24, 7:30 p. m. Members of the Chamber are asked to sponsor a teacher and his wife or husband. The cost to the sponsor covers the cost of the meal which is $2.50 per person, according to Bill Thompson, manager.

The purpose of the event is to welcome the new teachers to Hereford, let them meet the business leaders and to present them with a program which will help them to know their new home community.

A program of interest is being arranged by the Chairman of the Education Committee, Leo Forrest. Members are urged to bring their wives.

Hereford Team Eliminated From Tourny

The Hereford Pony League All-Stars were eliminated from the Sectional Tournament here after being defeated Monday and Tuesday nights.

 tary school (Central) in 1952 and then became its principal in 1954. He retired from this position in 1963, before accepting employment at King's Manor Sept. 1 of that year.
 Although the Thomases are looking forward to a new home in Corsicana, they feel a little poignant over their departure from their home for the past 21 years. "There's really nothing up here that we don't like," Thomas says. "We like the climate, the people, and our church relationships, but we would like to be closer to our families." Although no plans have been definitely made, the Thomases hope to do some traveling soon after their move to Corsicana.
 "Some of our greatest pleasures have been in our associations with the residents here at King's Manor," Thomas will tell you. "A person couldn't help but stay young when working with the active residents out here."
 A party to bid farewell to the Thomases, as well as to introduce new members of the faculty at the Manor, is being planned later this month.

 Larry Brown, who has been assistant coach in football and baseball, and American History instructor, was approved as head of the Social Studies Department by the board. Brown was recommended by Clark.
 Resignations of five instructors were accepted by the school board, including those of Jerry R. Moore, Patricia Hagar, Gerald Weekley, Patsy Renfro and Adan Salgado.
 Also approved was the hiring of three teachers — Elizabeth Wills, Wanda Louise Hubbard and Anita Messenger.

 Officials of the State Parks and Wildlife Department and the Texas Stream Pollution Control Board in Austin have stated that much of the polluted waters which hit Buffalo Lake June 17 and 18 and caused a big fish kill came from the sewage plant. Tests taken by their specialists on March 7, and June 17 and 18 show the BOD count to be as high as 300.
 About two-thirds of the lake reopened July 17 after being posted for some two weeks.

BOOK ON THEATER
GUILD PLAYWRIGHTS
NEW YORK — An unpublished manuscript by the late Lawrence Langner is being prepared by his widow, Armina Marshall, for publication "at the right time."
 The book contains descriptions of 24 playwrights whose works were produced by the Theater Guild of which Langner was a co-founder. Miss Marshall said release of the material had been delayed because she felt another Langner work, "G. B. S. and the Lunatic" was published too soon after her husband's death in 1962.

Gaston's — Sugarland, this week opened its doors for a trial run prior to the big Grand Opening celebration to be held a little later.

Difficulty in getting merchandise due to riots and unrest back east, coupled with the in-between season of the year, leaves the store with many holes in the merchandise but new goods are arriving daily and the management has hopes of having a full stock before long.

Meanwhile, the doors are open. A few workmen are still wandering around but they should be out of the way soon.

Ivan Tipps, manager of the store, gave us a guided tour Wednesday and we found it to be everything that Irving and Teddy Alexander had said it would be.

Meantime, Gaston Baer, who has operated on Main St. since 1921 says that he will still be at his usual spot on Main St. The new store is fine, but he still likes the old one too.

—HB—
Jesse Barrett, owner-manager of Barrett Plumbing Co. now has us on his well known list. It seems that we listed his name in a news story about the boy scouts making a trip to Canada, and returning August 15. The truth of the matter is, Jesse's sons are making the trip and we had intended to list his name only as the parent of the youngsters but some how got our wires crossed. The only adults making the trip from Hereford are Gid Brown and Frank Ford. The others listed are merely parents of the boys going on the trip.

Jesse really wasn't too upset. However he says his customers were beginning to call and asking when he was going to return. It seems that everyone's plumbing broke loose at the same time — immediately after they thought he had left town.

Representative Bill Clayton will be in Hereford Friday to make a "Report to the People" at the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce Governmental Affairs committee. The meeting will be held at 7 a. m. at the Caison House and anyone wanting to attend is asked to call the Chamber office to make reservations.

Clayton will report on the accomplishments of the past legislature and also report on events coming up for the next session.

Pick Harman, who drives a 1960 model Thunderbird (and quite proud of it), decided recently that he would repaint the old bird, re-upholster the inside, and generally work it over and keep it. He likes the old car and just doesn't want to get rid of it.

However, fate plays some dirty tricks on a person occasionally. While mowing the lawn recently with a power mower (the big riding kind), the clutch stuck on the mower, rammed into the T-Bird and banged it up pretty good.

One thing about it though, in spite of the damage to the T-Bird, and to the mower, Pick was on private property and couldn't be issued a citation by the police department for reckless driving.

—HB—
And a Japanese electronic firm, according to the Columbus (Ohio) Citizen Journal, has come up with a TV set that should do well on the American market. It has a one-inch screen — to match the quality of many summer programs.

Texas Meat Lets Hereford Land Option Drop

Texas Meat Packers, Inc., based in Dallas, has dropped an option on a 50-acre tract of land near Hereford. It had been planning a $2 million packing and rendering plant here, but announces that it will locate in another city in the panhandle. Final plans will be forthcoming in about 60 days, officials of the firm have said.

The proposed plant is to have a capacity of 8,000 head weekly, says Archie Sloan, founder and co-owner of the firm. He hopes the plant will have an eventual capacity of 16,000.

Sloan said that Hereford could not supply the quantity of water needed for the plant's operation, but it has said been said that "inability to arrange financing" has been the determining factor.

Fashion Right -- From Bikinis to Mom's Dresses

With sewing machines quietly humming in the background, Dolly Textiles, Inc. has moved from a position as a seasonal factory to a year-round operation that is moving into markets from coast to coast. As far as Dolly is concerned, gone are the days of 90-day work seasons frantically put together by a temporary crew of seamstresses.

The frantic element is still there, however, says manager Herschel Black, who works under lots of pressure to get orders out in record time for his contract customers.

Contract orders are what keep Dolly sewing machines operating 12 months out of the year, Black says. The garment trade is seasonal, creating the need to find work for slack periods in order to alleviate the financial burden carried in overhead costs. Rent, straight salaries and some utilities cost the company money every month, machines running or not.

Dolly began manufacturing here in April, 1964, when it started making little girls' dresses. Under the brand name "Dolly Miss" the clothes were going to market. Problems arose, however, in the fact that fast and slow periods put Dolly textiles on an uneven keel; it was costing in terms of personnel training.

Today there are 35 women working on the "assembly line" in the upstairs quarters of Dolly Textiles at the corner of N. Main and Second Streets. The women are for the most part permanent employees, who can now count on working 40 hours a week for months in succession.

Herschel Black is assisted by Wayne Milam, production superintendent, Dewey Taylor, cutter, Margaret Hare, bookkeeper, and Marie Mize and Paula Milam, supervisors.

Dolly Textiles is a locally owned corporation with 35 stockholders. President of the board of directors is Virgil Marsh, a county farmer; other board members are Paul Harvey, Jerry Detwiler, Neil Cooper, Jimmy Allred, James Witherspoon, Grady Rogers, C. P. Worthan, Charles Hoover and Black.

The finished products coming from this powerhouse of a local industry have been shipped to 35 states from coast to coast, Black points out. At the present time, all Dolly has manufactured has been ladies' wear; children's clothes have been sold under Dolly's own trademark, and the company has only recently begun in ladies' wear of its own. It is now making ladies' shifts, and Black says that Dolly hopes to expand this line soon.

Dolly recently made the news nationwide when the company began manufacture of paper bikinis, and also men's swim suits, for a Dallas firm. Latest report indicates the venture to be highly successful-with probability for another order (possibly a repeating one) for more of the same. Also in the mill at the present time are plans for the manufacture of paper dresses.

Contract labor is, as Black said, what keeps Dolly Textiles active the year around in Hereford. Currently in the processing stages are orders for wholesalers in Dallas, Fort Worth, Grand Prairie, and Purcell, Oklahoma. They keep the company moving fast, with some manufacturers expecting their orders out of the factory in a matter of just a few days.

And dresses and bikinis aren't the only things coming off the line; Dolly is now working to develop a new style of hospital gown, a baby sleeping bag, and costumes for barmaids for a major motel chain. They've also done a few novel items, such as Christmas stockings with a fuzz so irritating that the sewers had to wear surgeon's masks to get the job done.

A big expense in Dolly's business — as in every manufacturing concern using skilled labor — is incurred in training people. At a recent manufacturers' meeting in Dallas, Black learned that the average investment in an employe in training is estimated at $2,000. This is all spent in hard cash before an operator, at maximum production, will begin to make money for a business. Black estimates the period to be as long as six months.

This is where full-time employment helps Dolly Textiles. Now that work is permanent, Black has found the turnover of help to be considerably reduced. Not only has the average fixed cost incurred at Dolly been reduced, but the cost of training has been reduced. More money per operator is coming into the business — and Dolly does keep tabs on the work of each individual worker.

Although the work load is increasing, and Black is kept scurrying just to meet what orders he has on hand now, Dolly Textiles is not pushing for expansion at the present time. But the company has "pulled up the slack" in its working year and puts lots of its formerly slow periods into money-making projects.

FROM OKLAHOMA

Pharmacist Builds Reputation

Hereford's younger set would hardly refer to Wayne Edwards as one of the area's old-timers, but this local pharmacist has built a reputation in the town over a period of some 20 years. Edwards is the owner of Edwards Pharmacy, now located in a new building at the corner of Fourth and Miles, across the street from the Hereford Clinic.

Edwards' Pharmacy today is larger, brighter, and definitely a convenience for its customers who like the "across the street" drug service. The new building, surrounded by parking spaces for some 35 vehicles, also has a drive-up window for rushed customers.

G. W. Edwards started in the drug business here in 1947 when he bought the City Drug Store, which he sold in 1960 to Kenneth Coker. Edwards came from Leedey, Okla., where he also had operated a store.

Raised in Elk City, Okla., Edwards attended the University of Oklahoma at Norman and graduated there in 1933. He was first initiated into the drug business in 1937.

After his arrival in Hereford, Edwards opened the present day pharmacy in 1950, owning it and the drug store concurrently for 10 years. He had been located adjacent to the Hereford Clinic prior to building on Fourth. He also operated prescription shops in Amarillo and Tucumcari, which he has sold. Today Edwards Pharmacy is his sole enterprise in the drug business. Edwards is assisted in the store by Jim Arney, who also comes from Leedey, Okla. He has been associated with the pharmacy now for seven years. "Hereford's been real kind to me," says Edwards, who has raised two children, Linda and Larry, here. Linda is married to a veterinarian and lives in Riverside, Calif., and Larry, also a veterinarian, is in Sherman.

Pharmacy is a continual change, Edwards remarks; education in the business is not merely a matter of getting a degree from a school. With new products coming to the front of the market continually, the pharmacist has to run to keep up with the advancing technology in medicine.

Demand for pharmacists has always been good, he says, but better salaries, more technology and better working conditions have all contributed to upgrading the profession.

Perhaps Edwards, whose father was a farmer in western Oklahoma, is being a little modest in analyzing his contribution to Hereford when he claims "I just work here."

New Business Schedules Grand Opening

Hereford's newest business — PK Supply Inc. — will have a three-day grand opening beginning at 9 a.m. Friday at 801 W. 1st.

"ASSEMBLY LINE" PRODUCTION — Seamstresses at Dolly Textiles work as assembly line workers would do in any large factory; each operator specializes in some small facet of clothing production, speeding up the production process. Under normal conditions, Dolly Textiles can produce some 400 dresses of typical detail in one day.

TO MEET CEASELESS DEADLINES — Dewey Taylor can cut through as many as 250 layers of fabric as he works to meet deadlines on contract order at Dolly Textiles. The local manufacturing concern has expanded into contract work in order to put it business on a year-round basis.

LONG TIME PHARMACIST — George Wayne Edwards, who has served Hereford as a pharmacist since he first bought City Drug Store in 1947, now owns and operates Edwards Pharmacy across the street from the Hereford Clinic. Edwards is originally from Oklahoma.

Magazine Picks Dumas As Champs

Hereford High School, according to the magazine "Texas Football," will likely finish fifth in the District 1-AAA race this season and have one player on the All-State selections.

The yearly magazine, which makes its predictions after interviews with coaches in the different leagues, also predicts that Dumas will experience little difficulty in winning the district crown. The Demons are rated the second best team in Class AAA to begin the season.

In describing this year's Whitefaces, the magazine says "Hereford is due for a major overhaul under the aegis of newly-arrived coach Larry Wartes, and 200-pound senior full-back-LB Tony Malouf, well-liked in many places, is a fine rebuilding hub who figures to stir new memories of the power displayed in last year's 8-2. With only 2 offensive and 5 defensive regulars returning, however, Wartes faces line problems. Ernie Williams in the backfield, and Johnny Cornelius, Donnie Fangman and Karl French up

Malouf, who is pictured and also listed as guard, is on the magazine's "Class AAA Honor Roll." Accompanying him is Ronnie McInturff, Dumas end.

Cornelius, Williams and Malouf will be captains for the season, having been chosen by the team members just prior to the ending of school in May.

Speaking of the Demons, the magazine says "The forecast for 1967, then, doesn't exactly blaze out as headline news. Dumas, returning 12 lettermen, including 5 offensive and 5 defensive regulars from a 9-1-1 squad, is solidly entrenched as District 1-AAA favorite once again; it has, in fact, enough quality to make it a significant factor in the state playoffs."

Behind Dumas in the rankings is Perryton, with 4 offensive, 5 defensive starters from a 4-6; Canyon, with 5 offensive, 4 defensive regulars from a 3-7; Muleshoe, owning 2 offensive, 6 defensive hands from a 2-7-1; Hereford, and Tulla, with 6 offensive and 4 defensive starters from a 5-5. Other opponents for the Whitefaces and information concerning them from the magazine include Monahans, last place in District 2-AAA with 2 offensive and 1 defensive regular from an 8-3-2 state semifinalist; Olton first place in Dalhart 3-AAA with 5 offensive and 6 defensive regulars; Floydada, third place in District 2-AA with 3 offensive and 2 defensive starters; Hale Center, last place in District 3-AA with 4 strong regulars from a 5-5 season, and Portales, N. M., no information.

The 1967 football season will begin Sept. 8 when the Whitefaces host Floydada. The remainder of the schedule includes Olton, Sept. 15, there; Hale Center, Sept. 22, here; Monahans, Sept. 29, there; Portales, Oct. 6, here; open date, Oct. 13; Canyon, Oct. 20, here; Perryton, Oct. 27, there; Muleshoe, Nov. 3, here; Tulla, Nov. 10, there, and Dumas, Nov. 17, here.

A string of eight straight winning favorites in the Florida Derby ended in 1966 when Williamston Kid won on the disqualification of Abe's Hope and returned $183.60 for $2.

Calumet Farm won the Florida Derby with Gen. Duke in 1957 and scored with Tim Tam the following spring.

NEW BUSINESS AND MANAGER — Jesse Diaz, manager of PK Supply Inc., looks over some of the merchandise in Hereford's newest business. Located at 801 W. 1, the supply supermarket will have its grand opening Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Fresh tuna steaks may be marinated in a mixture of olive oil, lemon juice and crushed garlic before they are grilled. For a dozen slices of cinnamon toast, use 1/4 cup sugar combined with 1 teaspoon cinnamon.

Miss Sharon Tinnin, whose marriage to Ronald Gray is planned for August 26, was honoree Tuesday evening at a lingerie shower in the home of Miss Sidney Bayne.

Miss Barbara Langley, who is to be maid of honor at Miss Tinnin's wedding, and Miss Cynthia Leasure were also hostesses. A dozen close friends of the prospective bride was invited for the pretty party.

The refreshment table was appointed in pink and white, colors to be used in the wedding. Pink roses and tapers were arranged to center the white linen cloth.

Party Observes 71st Birthday Of County Man

A birthday party for S. N. Thweatt, resident of the Garcia community in far west Deaf Smith County, was given recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sevier. His 71st birthday was on July 25.

Games of 42 entertained the guests, who presented birthday gifts including a handsomely decorated cake made by Mrs. John Jones. Homemade ice cream and cake were served home.

Guests were Messrs. and Mmes. Thweatt, H. D. Buse, Elton Sorrells, Bill Page, Elmer Northcutt, Joe Rutherford and Jones; also Debbie and Linda Sorrell, Darrell Jones of Fort Worth, Debbie Sue and "Hot-shot" Byers of Hereford, Mike Hogan of Lorenzo and Lisa Page.

Party guests included Mmes. J. T. Gilbreath Jr., Ralph Hastings, Robert Veigel, Jimmy Oswald of Stanford, Calif., Tommy Braddy, Lisle Patton, Charlie Hays of Dimmitt, Lyle Holmes of Lubbock, Dudley Bayne, Ernest Langley, R. G. Peeler and Miss Gail Homes of Lubbock.

Cadet Lynnwood H. Hamilton

Dimmitt Man In Training

FT. SILL, OKLA. (AHTNC) — Cadet Lynnwood H. Hamilton, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Beryl T. Hamilton, Route 4, Dimmitt, has been firing the Army's M-16 rifle while attending Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps summer camp at Ft. Sill, Okla. He is a student at New Mexico Military Institute, Roswell.

He is receiving six weeks of training in leadership, rifle marksmanship, physical conditioning and other military subjects.

Upon successful completion of summer camp and graduation from college, he will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army.

Put those frozen bread slices right into the toaster. It takes only a few extra seconds of toasting time before they'll be just right to crunch!

Spice-Rice Party Given For Bride

A "spice and rice" party was an out-of-the-ordinary compliment to a summer bride-elect, Miss Ruth Ann Allison, when Mrs. B. F. Cain and Miss Sidney Bayne were hostesses Sunday afternoon in the former's home.

They served tea from a table centered with a rose tree flanked by pink candles on a pink cloth.

Each guest brought a box of spice and a recipe for the bride-to-be, and the hostess gift was a spice rack and a hand-decorated recipe box.

Rice bags were made of pink and green taffeta, net and ribbons, ready for the wedding reception.

FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD

THIS MEASURE

Here is my watch. If it is to be of value to me, it has to be a watch I can count on. When I look at its face, I must know beyond doubt, that it can be trusted. If I have to be forever checking it, it is of little use to me, and certainly it is not fulfilling the purpose for which it was created. Life, too, is that way! If a man is to be of value, he must be the kind of person that can be counted on. His face must radiate dependability. If those who live about you have to be forever checking on you... you are not fulfilling the purpose for which God created you. Now, Paul said, "those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do; and the God of peace shall be with you." Help us to attend church worship every week and to draw near to Thee. May we gather in thoughts that stray and control feelings that may be troublesome. For sin give repentance, for sorrow give trust, for strife of passion and care grant rest. Through this timepiece illustration, may we be led to bring our lives to Thee, that we may test and measure them by thine unerring law.

You in The Church
The Church is You — form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child with the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

OUR FRIENDS—THE BIRDS

The Papa mocking bird that has sung so sweetly for us all spring and summer has quit singing and gone to work. He is teaching the little mocking birds how to fly, and to search for food for themselves. Art and I spent a most interesting evening last week watching him, the little ones and the mother bird. Many lessons can be learned from our friends, the birds.

One lesson that I learned is that I too must quit singing and fooling around and be more diligent about my garden chores. The weeds must be controlled, the crab-grass, and other grasses gotten rid of, and attention given to the plants and shrubs that might be stricken with diseases and insects which are so prevalent this time of year. Mildew is showing up on the roses, zinnias, fall asters and other plants. Rust is appearing on the green beans, black spot is plaguing the roses. First we must control the weeds and other garden enemies, there is no need to work with the plants, shrubs, etc., until they are cut and destroyed. Then too they are the Hay fever victims worst enemy, unless it might be Bermuda grass which has seeded (this is my worst enemy). When the first task is completed then rid the plant of the diseased portions, burn, and apply a well recommended spray. You can combine the mixture for mildew and blackspot in the same spray and apply together, also a plant food if you use a liquid. Use care that all portions of the plants and shrubs are thoroughly treated. This should be done weekly. Recommended sprays will include one of the fungicides containing captan, phaltan, zineb or maneb. Avoid over fertilizing, especially with nitrogen, because you do not want more foliage to become infected. In checking your plants look first at the new growth, especially on the roses, as there is where the mildew first appears.

Referring again to the birds, I was pleased when I read in the newspaper that the birds are included in the plans which are being made at Buffalo Lake to improve the facilities and enjoyment of this resort.

Quoting from Mr. Hansen, manager of the Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge "As we see it the birds are for the people and we have one of the largest concentrations here in the country. We are working up a tour route which we hope to have open by early November. More than 500,000 ducks and 30,000 Canadian geese winter at Buffalo Lake.

Plans call for building about a dozen blinds so that citizens may watch and photograph birds and even test their bird and wild animal calls. Guided tours will be planned for Saturday afternoons in which visitors will be shown banding methods, and educational exhibits will be arranged and shown. He further stated that he expected a recreational specialist to be assigned to the refuge this year who will work with interpretative type displays which will be located along the tour routes.

"For the members of the Audubon Society in our area and others who are interested in birds of various kinds this will be a new outlet for study and pleasure. This will also be good for Junior and Intermediate Garden Club groups, Camp Scouts and other youth organizations. Much can be learned from study of Our Friends The Birds.

The Landscaping that has been done at The La Plata School grounds, especially that which was done by the Freshman Class. Congratulations for a job well done, and one which is beautiful.

The gorgeous roses, a d crepe myrtle, showing above the back-yard fence at Mrs. Bob Wilsons, 218 Texas. They seem to be nodding their heads and saying, "Come on in, there is beauty behind these walls."

Some of these days I am going to visit some of the back-yards which are so beautiful. More about this later.

Washington Report

From Congressman
BOB PRICE 10TH DISTRICT, TEXAS
1323 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. • 753-2706

Thomas Jefferson, the architect of our Constitution, wrote in 1791: "I had rather be exposed to the inconveniences attending too much liberty than to those attending too small a degree of it."

Were Jefferson here today, he would surely agree that there is more than inconvenience attending "too much liberty" or rather the abuse of liberty.

As Committees of Congress prepare to investigate recent riots and the breakdown of law and order in Detroit, Newark, and other cities, some of the civil rights leaders called for an end to mob law and supported the President's plea "upon all our people, black and white alike, in all our cities to join in a determined program to maintain law and order, to condemn and to combat lawlessness in all its forms, and firmly to show by word and deed that riot looting and public disorder will just not be tolerated."

But at the same time, another so-called civil rights leader, H. Rap Brown, a militant black power advocate, after being arrested and accused of inciting racial violence at Cambridge, Maryland, shouted "we built this country and we'll burn it down," as he was arrested — and later released on bond.

Later at a rally in Washington, D. C., Brown urged Negroes to shoot and loot.

"Lyndon Johnson is my enemy. . . If Washington, D. C., doesn't come around, Washington, D. C., should be burned down."

He condemned the best-known leaders of the Civil Rights movement for their appeal to Negroes to cease rioting. The nation's Capital is apprehensive of what might follow. It is obvious that not only Washington but other major cities are "powder kegs."

The cry has changed from civil rights to black power. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell from his Bimini retreat said "black rebellions are a necessary phase of the black revolution."

In Cuba, Stokely Carmichael was quoted as saying "In Newark, we are applying the tactics of guerilla warfare. We are preparing groups of urban guerrillas for defense in the cities. This struggle is not going to be a mere street meeting. It is going to be a struggle to the death." Fidel Castro cheered.

It is obvious now, as it has been to some before, that there is a definite pattern and plan to the uprisings and that there will be more of them. Whatever the causes, it is past the time of pleading or any further kid-glove approach. Congress can and will conduct full scale investigations of the violence. The President has appointed a Special Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders and I have joined other House members in committee to conduct a full and complete investigation to determine the causes of the riots.

The House Un-American Activities Committee has also scheduled hearings on the subversive elements involved and the Senate Judiciary Committee has called hearings on the House-passed anti-riot bill.

But these hearings will not stop the near state of insurrection the country is now in.

The basic concept of government is protection of its citizens and the answer now must be a hard-hitting determined effort to stop the aggression of a relatively few so that law-abiding citizens can continue to live under the protection of local governments.

The evidence mounts that the riots, looting, arson and murder in city after city across the nation may be the result of organized planning and execution on a national scale. So while the duty to protect its citizens is primarily one of the local community, the Federal government must accept its national responsibility.

The violence of the few must not be allowed to injure the cause of the many. The most basic of civil rights is being denied the American people and it is time that all government officials make it absolutely clear that under no circumstances will violence and rioting be tolerated or rewarded. The abuse of freedom has gone too far.

Another Thomas Jefferson quote might be worthwhile reading for those who urge insurrection and rebellion: "A Republican government is slow to move yet when once in motion, its momentum becomes irresistible."

Young-Albracht Win Finals In Golf Tourney

The first annual Hereford City Partnership Golf Tournament was completed last weekend at John Pitman Golf Course with Jimmy Young and Terry Albracht winning the final match.

Young, who will play for Oklahoma State's golf team next year and Albracht, a high school senior who has improved rapidly after beginning golf a year ago, defeated Andy Channer and Steve Hendon six and four in the finals. Channer, a college sophomore, was a standout for Hereford High School's golf team, and Hendon is presently on the H.S. squad which has won the District I-AAA championship for the past two years. The two teams left in the finals survived the 14 team championship flight by a process of elimination matches.

Young and Albracht reached the finals by winning their first and second round matches and then taking out Dale Tinnin and Ted Young 4 up in the semifinals.

The match itself was a seesaw battle which saw the lead change hands 4 times. Hendon and Channer led 3 up after 9 holes, but then watched as the champions won four straight points in the next two holes which they never relinquished for the next five holes.

VISITORS GET ONCE-OVER — A group of Turkish engineers who visited the Hereford area last Thursday were given a close inspection by a dog during the laying of an irrigation pipeline on the Joe Broman farm about three miles north of Hereford. The visitors from Turkey weren't the only ones looked over by the dog, however, as it had a wary eye for everyone.

COMPLETES COURSE

FT. HUACHUCA, ARIZ. (AH-TNC) — Army Private Tommy J. Easton, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Easton, 706 Irving, Hereford, Tex., completed a field communications crewman course at Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., July 28.

During the course, he was trained to string wire from the field to the communication center. Instruction was also given in basic electricity, switch-board installation and operation and pole climbing.

William Gillette, American actor noted for his portrayal of Sherlock Holmes in the early years of this century, had his home built with granite walls four to five feet thick at the base and hand-hewn oak interior trim. His estate is now a state park near Lyme, Conn.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

She Sews Fine Seams

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Togas were garments worn by ancient Romans, but Caesar and Antony never found anything in the Apian Way haberdashery shops that looked like the togas being worn by Hereford women these days.

SOME PEOPLE CALL them three-sleeved shifts but Mrs. Gwynne Owen, who has made 115 of them in recent months, prefers the name toga. Not nearly so voluminous as the Roman robe, the popular modern dress resembles it in its wraparound style.

Mrs. Owen, who likes to sew "or do any kind of handwork," made a dress for herself last winter in the basic sleeveless design, which has three armholes so that it is worn twice on one arm.

She thought it would be more practical with sleeves, so she worked out a way to add them. So many people complimented her on the dress, she decided similar frocks would make good Christmas gifts, and made 15 of them as gifts for friends before acceding to requests that she make some to sell.

BEFORE SHE KNEW IT she was in business, and has continued to make an average of three a week. Her dresses have gone to several states, as far as California and North Dakota, and to numerous Texas cities as they have been bought for gifts or by visitors.

Some she decorates with braid or applique trim, and all are completely lined so they are reversible.

Her customers buy their own material or choose from a selection she keeps "because not all material is suitable for these dresses; the design must look well crossways and the material must be wider than most dress goods."

MRS. OWEN CAN hardly remember when she began to learn to sew, but she had progressed to making her own dresses before she enrolled in home economics classes at school.

That was in Memphis, where Ruth Akins grew up. After high school she attended a Western Union training school in Springfield, Mo., and came to Hereford as manager of the local Western Union office.

She met her husband here and they have lived in Hereford since their marriage. They have a son, Roger, who will be a sophomore in the University of Houston this fall.

COOKING IS ONE of the enthusiasms of the brown-eyed housewife, who likes to entertain and to plan food for company. She is an avid recipe collector.

Another interest is "doing outdoor things with my family," which includes skiing on both snow and water.

A member of First Baptist Church, she is immediate past president of its Women's Missionary Union and superintendent of a junior Sunday School department.

From her recipe collection she chooses a gelatine salad which has an unusual fruit flavor and is very easily made, and a strawberry dessert which she says "we always make for family gatherings." Both are excellent "beforehand" dishes to prepare for company meals.

JELLED FRUIT SALAD
Prepare a large package of orange-flavored gelatine dessert and while it is still warm stir in a package of frozen red raspberries. When the berries are thawed, add 1 cup applesauce. Mix well and allow to jell.

STRAWBERRY DELIGHT
1 lb. crushed vanilla wafers
2 eggs
1 1/2 cup powdered sugar
1/4 lb. soft butter
1/2 pt. whipping cream
1 pt. fresh strawberries, or 1 pkg. frozen strawberries.

Beat together the eggs, sugar and butter. Whip the cream and add the crushed berries.

Butter a pan. Place a layer of vanilla wafer crumbs in the bottom, a layer of sugar mixture and a layer of strawberries and cream. Repeat the layers, and top with wafers. Chill overnight.

—Small Talk—

There are some quirks of time and space that puzzle me and maybe some other people have similar reactions — anyway I hope so, and that this is not a private mental abnormality.

THERE ARE SECTIONS of road that I travel frequently, which seem much longer than other sections of equal mileage and for no logical reason. For instance, the 13 miles from here to Dawn.

Driving east, it seems to me the distance to Dawn is half-way to Amarillo. After getting that far it takes only a minute or two to go on to Canyon.

But on the way back, the long stretch is from Canyon to UMBARGER, and when I get to Dawn it's barely outside the city limits of Hereford. The explanation is not that the first part of the trip seems farther; going south, Dimmitt seems much nearer here than Dawn.

Oh well, that's just one of my peculiarities.

SOMETIMES YOU can start on an errand and everyone you see is scowling or looking unhappy so you get to your destination very down-at-the-mouth.

On the contrary, as I drove a short distance Monday morning there were two boys dressed only in shorts, tanned and husky looking, evidently an older and younger brother, pedaling along on bicycles, talking and laughing happily. Mrs. A.-B. London, vigorously sweeping her front porch, looking up to wave cheerfully.

A cute little red-headed girl in a car that I pulled up beside at a stop sign, who smiled at me and showed me her new ball in pantomime. . . and one of the elderly women that you can see any morning in any part of town, out doing some dirt gardening in a neat yard that shows the result of their loving care, who looked up with a grin as another weed bit the dust.

IN THE MAIL this week is one of those releases from the Department of Agriculture beamed to homemakers, with hints to be heeded.

This one says better baking with instant flour results if you take out 2 level tablespoonsful of flour from each cup as you measure. This is because instant flour is in smaller particles and packs more into a cup than regular flour.

It's nice to have information like this, and time I had it because I'm away behind. Didn't even know there was such a thing as instant flour. What in the world is it anyhow, and why? What can flour do in an instant that would be better than taking a few minutes?

Rotarians View Masters Film

Highlights of the 1967 Masters Golf Tournament were shown members of the Hereford Rotary Club during their regular noon meeting Monday.

The film, made by the Arrow Shirt Co., was presented by J. R. (Monk) Johnson, a Rotarian. Gay Brewer won the crown.

A brief history of golf also was included in the film.

During the theater season in Buenos Aires, June to August, footlights glow in 35 to 40 theaters.
