

Commissioners Discuss Better Roads, Insurance, Tax Collection

By WAIN MILLER
Staff Writer

County commissioners took little action but contemplated several far-reaching moves in a courthouse session Monday in which the officials expressed gratification at the county's improving financial picture.

The commissioners voiced strong approval of the financial report for March, which showed March 31 balances far ahead of those recorded on the same date in 1964.

But the main portion of the meeting was devoted to discussions dealing with:
— Proposed additional benefits for county employees through changes or additions to group policy insurance plans.

— Road improvements and paving.

— Use of the county-owned Bull Barn.

— And collection of delinquent taxes and overdue hospital accounts.

In other business, the commission okayed the opening of the first mile of a proposed new county road, canvassed the results of Saturday's stock election in Precinct 3, and agreed to purchase some 50 tons of cold mix left over from a school paving project.

REVIEWING THE county financial report for March, commissioners noted improved balances in all departments with the exception of the various hospital funds, where recent improvements brought the figure slightly below that for this time last year.

However, the county's catch-all general fund registered a balance on hand of $15,549.88. On March 31, 1964, the general fund was $30,833.34 in the red.

The improved balance totals result from increased tax collections and slightly lower expenditures.

COMMISSIONERS, who have been studying the possibility of providing county employees with improved group insurance plans, decided Monday to appoint a committee of insurance company representatives to advise the court as to plans available.

The committee, comprised of three local insurance representatives, is to select a form of plan which, if the commission approves, will be offered to all interested insurance agencies on a bid basis.

Currently, the county has Blue Cross-Blue Shield group accident coverage.

HOWEVER, THE court hopes to be able to arrange coverage for illness and death, in addition to or instead of the present plan.

The additional coverage would be made available on a voluntary basis to the employees. The advantage would be reduced rates through a group plan.

Several items with the over-all goal of road improvements were eyed by commissioners.

Easements for the first mile of a proposed two-mile graded county road to be located just west of the Hereford Feed Yards were recorded, opening the way for work to begin.

MOTION THAT easements be recorded was made by Earl Holt, seconded by Marcus Latham.

Commissioner Holt said that several people had complained about a bridge on a county road which crosses a creek some four miles south of Dawn.

Load limit on the 15-foot long bridge is 10,000 pounds.

"A good-sized truck weighs that much by itself," Holt reminded.

Commissioners agreed that something should be done to relieve the problem. Holt said he would get an estimate on reinforcing the bridge.

THE COUNTY clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for two miles of paving, which will run a mile east and a mile west of U.S. Hwy. 385, crossing the highway about a mile south of the Santa Fe underpass. Bids will be opened at the commision's May 18 meeting.

Commissioners also discussed early proposals for a far-reaching paving project which is in its early planning stages.

Although no definite decisions have been reached concerning the proposals — which would pave some 40 to 50 miles of roads in several sectors of the county — commissioners are expecting to meet with state officials soon to discuss the matter.

THE BASIC plan for the paving would — if accomplished — place almost all county residents within three miles of pavement. However, commissioners at the COUNTY, Page 2

A Check With Hereford High School Officials Shows That Seven Per Cent Of The Student Body Has Become 'Dropouts' This School Year.

By LARRY FUHRMANN
Staff Writer

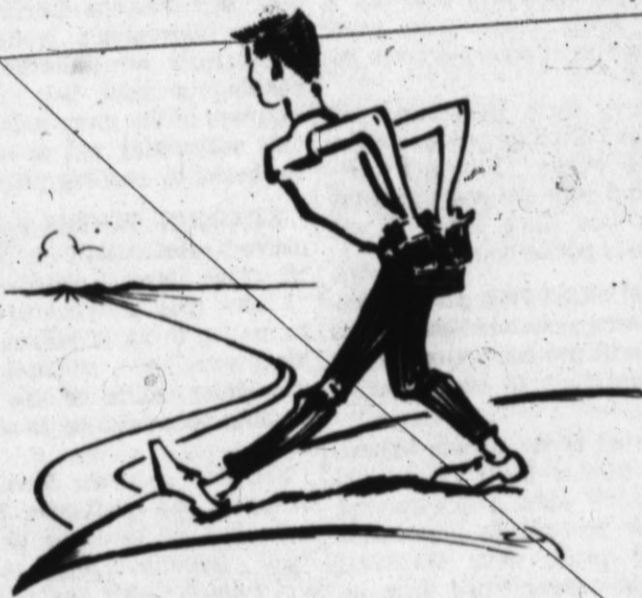

The scholastic dropout, unlike radioactive fallout, does not always move in the direction of the prevailing winds.

The dropout problem — one increasingly recognized as a detriment to the nation's economic vitality — can be prevalent in areas of relative prosperity where there's not a warning cloud in sight. Areas like Hereford, for instance.

A current check by Mrs. Stan Sigman, office secretary at Hereford High School, revealed that 61 students have been classified as "dropouts" this school year.

That is roughly seven per cent of the matriculating students.

Identifying the potential dropout is not a simple task, explains Robert L. Thompson, high school counselor here. But he says that the end of the sophomore year is when identification is easiest. At this time, most students are turning 16 — which up to this time has been the legal age when a student could leave school.

Amounts Are Modest County Soaks Up April's 1st Rains

Thunderstorms wafted into the Hereford area after dark Sunday, ushering in a 48-hour seige of April showers and erasing an ominous "goose egg" from the month's moisture record.

The rains, most of which fell in an on-and-off pattern Tuesday, threw a welcome kink in farming schedules.

BUT THE AMOUNTS, which appeared to average about .25 of an inch over most of the county, apparently will be only a momentary stimulant to the water-starved dryland areas.

Hereford received .45 of an inch, the first recorded here this month. Reports of heavier falls — ranging up to .75 — came from an isolated region northwest of Hereford.

Cotton planting schedules received a three-to-four day setback. Sugar beets and vegetables probably will be the biggest recipients from the rains. Some temporary viability should be shown by stunted dryland wheat.

THE RAINS also bogged down the incipient Variety Park project in downtown Hereford.

Moisture totals in this area are still uncomfortably anemic. The U.S. Weather Bureau says that Hereford's average moisture fall through April 30 is 2.87 inches. Including this week's rains, the current total is 1.60 inches.

Spot checks around the county indicated that only the extreme northern, western, and northwestern sections missed out on the roving rain system.

J. V. PERRIN, who farms some 40 miles northwest of Hereford, reported receipt of .75 of an inch from Sunday to Tuesday night. A Summerfield area farmer, W. M. Edwards, measured about a half inch of rain — but he said he didn't let up on his irrigation.

Low temperatures Tuesday, created by the cold front which set up the rain-producing turbulence, brought scattered reports of frost-burned sugar beets to County Agent Justin T. McBride. But he said he did not think the damage was extensive.

SEVERAL farmers reported sporadic spots of ice Tuesday, although the thermometer in Hereford stopped at 37 degrees. City Manager Dudley Bayne said the rainy weather set the Variety Park remodeling project — which started last Thursday in downtown Hereford — back at least two or three days.

Crews from Bledsoe & Caldwell Construction Co. of Amarillo had old sidewalks and curbing removed in the 100 block by weekend, leaving the exposed dirt accessible to the rain water.

The ground was too muddy to facilitate the trench digger for storm sewer installation both Monday and Tuesday, when workmen did intermittent tasks between showers.

Bayne said it would probably be late Friday before crews could start pouring curbing and gutters in the 100 block. "They would have run it Monday," he said Wednesday, "but I don't know if they can pour in the morning or not. I think it will probably be Friday or Saturday."

BASED ON UTILITY TOTALS Hereford's Population? Best Guess Gives City About 11,000 Residents

Just what is the population of Hereford? The best guess, says Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce manager Bill Thompson, is about 11,000.

Thompson said the estimates, which suffice between the official surveys made every 10 years by the U.S. Census Bureau, are arrived at with the aid of utility figures, notably water, gas and electric service.

The last detailed study was conducted about this time in 1964, Thompson says, and will be updated in June. (The population figure may be part of the industrial survey now being compiled by the Blanton Co. of Dallas and due for release in late June.) The 1964 estimate was 10,400.

Thompson says his estimate may be low. "Every indication we get from the utilities says we are conservative. We have been saying 11,000. They say we are wrong. It's kind of unusual when the utilities get ahead of us."

Changes on the highway signs at the city limits are made only at the request of the city and after city officials have officially estimated the population and certified the figure in a letter to the Texas Highway Dept., Thompson says.

The last changes in the signs were made in 1963.

Two cotton experts from the Texas Extension Service gave pointers on insect and weed control and improved harvesting techniques at a session here Tuesday night.

Some 30 area cotton producers heard two and a half hours of explanation of the do's and don'ts of cotton culture in a meeting at the Community Center, sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Program Building committee crops subcommittee.

Emphasis was placed on control of insects attacking cotton during its early stages of growth.

"EARLY INSECTS represent the biggest problem to cotton producers in the Deaf Smith County area," asserted Don Rummel of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock.

Rummel was the first of two speakers on the program.

Fred Elliott, weed control specialist for the Texas A&M Extension Service at College Station, explained the use of chemical weed control programs and touched on improved mechanical harvesting methods.

He averred that herbicides are valuable weed control tools but declared that the mechanical cultivator should not be overlooked.

ROCKET

Blast Injures 2 Frio Youths

Two teen-aged brothers were injured, one of them seriously, Wednesday afternoon when a homemade rocket device exploded on their farm near Frio.

The youths, Wayne, 15, and Roy, 12, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reinart, were brought to Deaf Smith County Hospital about 6:15 p.m.

A doctor said Roy appeared to be the more seriously hurt of the pair. He was sent into surgery with shoulder and abdominal injuries.

Wayne sustained injuries on the forearms, the physician said.

The accident apparently occurred about 5:45 p.m. No other details were available.

For 18 years, Mrs. J. J. Boydston has maintained a day-to-day check on the reading pulse of Deaf Smith Countians, and she reports that their bibliophilic — love of books — rating today is higher than ever.

It doesn't require a stethoscope to keep track of this interest in books, either.

Mrs. Boydston, the county librarian, suggests with a smile that a perfunctory glance inside the courthouse facility about 4 o'clock any afternoon will be evidence enough.

"WE WILL PROBABLY be so busy we can't even look up," she said.

It is in this atmosphere — surrounded by nearly 30,000 volumes, triple the amount of books owned by the county when she started — that this petite, quiet custodian of the county's reading shelves notes this week probably her last National Library Week on the job.

County To Meet With State On Paving Project

Discussion a rose concerning the use of the county-owned Bull Barn in connection with a request from a local church to use the Little Bull Barn for a revival meeting.

Commissioners finally okayed the request, but only after considerable discussion.

MAKING THE request was the Calvary Baptist Church, whose pastor, the Rev. Clarence F. Powell, had contacted commissioners last week concerning the matter. He said the church currently meets in the IOOF Lodge.

But other activities scheduled at the hall would prohibit the church from scheduling a week-long revival, hence, the request for the county's facilities.

All commissioners voted in favor of allowing the church to use the Little Bull Barn May 22-28.

In discussion preceding the vote, however, commissioners voiced reluctance at setting a precedent which might cause problems in the future.

COMMISSIONER Lathan said he saw no reason why the decision would cause future problems.

Commissioner Donald Hicks pointed out that the commission had turned down requests from churches to use the facilities in the past from groups who had no other place to meet. He said the commission in the past had shied from getting taxpayer-owned facilities "involved with religion."

"This could get to be a habit," Hicks said. "I don't think it is up to the county to furnish religious groups with a meeting place."

Commissioners agreed that the county should not be expected to make the facilities available on a regular basis.

In later discussion, Holt said, "We've let groups hold dances there... so I would hate to turn down a religious group."

LATHAN MOVED to let the church use the Little Bull Barn. Hicks seconded the motion.

Then came comments explaining the county's agreement with the Herford Lions Club concerning weekly professional wrestling matches in the Bull Barn.

Commissioners pointed out that the Herford Lions Club invested $17,000 to furnish the Bull Barn with bleachers, plumbing, folding chairs, wiring, heating, rest rooms, concession stand, and dressing rooms.

THIS DONATION came after the county found itself short of funds to complete the Bull Barn, which cost the county some $44,000.

In return for its contribution, the Lions received a contract entitling them to hold weekly professional wrestling matches in the facility. The contract expires in December, 1971.

"I think the agreement has worked out to be the best deal the county has out there," Commissioner Hicks commented.

"We have never had any problems... the Lions have been treated equally with other groups who use the facilities."

IN ADDITION, Lions pay utilities and utility fees of $15 weekly for the nights they use the Bull Barn, commissioners pointed out.

The county usually bears such cost when benevolent organizations use the Bull Barn.

A similar agreement exists with the Deaf Smith County Rural Electric Cooperative, which purchased a $1,000 amplifier system for the Bull Barn. The cooperative was promised use of the Bull Barn for its annual meeting.

Brief discussion arose concerning collection of delinquent taxes and past-due hospital bills.

THE COMMISSIONERS agreed that steps should be taken along this line and decided to ask to meet with the hospital board to discuss taking action on hospital accounts overdue.

The group also decided to take up the delinquent tax matter with the county attorney, and also with another local lawyer who had agreed to try to collect non-paid taxes some two years ago. But no collections had been made by him to date.

In other business, the commission canvassed results of the stock law election held Saturday in Precinct 3. The cattle law was declared passed by a 26-1 vote. The law covering other livestock passed by a 22-3 margin.

RED CROSS Corinne Neely Retires In July

Mrs. Corinne J. Neely, executive secretary of the Deaf Smith County Chapter of the American Red Cross since 1963, announced plans for retirement following the chapter's annual meeting here Tuesday.

Her retirement will become effective July 1, according to Melvin Jayroe, Red Cross chairman.

The Red Cross board of directors named Mrs. H. H. Miller of Dawn — who has been active in Red Cross work here for some 15 years — to replace Mrs. Neely.

MRS. NEELY'S resignation was presented at a board meeting which followed the annual meeting of the local Red Cross. More than 30 persons were present.

Highlight of the meeting was the presentation of service awards to outgoing board members and to several volunteer workers.

A capping ceremony for a new group of Gray Ladies was also held.

HONORED FOR the completion of two three-year terms on the Red Cross board were Dr. Bruce Reeme, Mrs. Steve Clements, and W. T. (Bill) Thompson.

Although retiring from the board in accordance with Red Cross policy after serving two terms, the trio will remain active in Red Cross work in other capacities.

Service bars were presented to several volunteer workers. Mrs. Frank Wilhelm received her third four-year chevron, representing 12 years of continuous service as a staff aide.

NEW MEMBERS of the board of directors, who will take office on July 1, are Mrs. Leroy Aven, Mrs. Paul Engler, Mrs. Norman Minks and Mrs. Nolan Grady.

Re-elected to their second three-year terms were James E. Higgins and Don Zimmerman. Miss Della Stagner will retire from the board.

Mrs. Miller, the new executive secretary, has served seven years on the Red Cross board, three years as Junior Red Cross chairman, a Gray Lady for six years, and has helped with office administration and case work for several years.

ALONG WITH HERBICIDES Speakers Suggest Use Of Oldtime Methods

Introducing the speakers was County Agent Justin McBride, who encouraged growers to consider cotton's value as a key crop in Deaf Smith County.

"Anytime the opportunity presents itself to grow more cotton in the county, I think it will be to the advantage of farmers here to do so," McBride commented, citing excellent cash returns and water conservation afforded by cotton as compared to other major crops grown here.

DESCRIBING cotton insect problems and remedies, Rummel urged caution in the use of insecticides, for two reasons.

First of all, he said, careful study of insecticide residue should be given by farmers who plant food crops — especially vegetables — on treated ground.

He referred to the instance in 1963 when a carload of Hereford carrots was banned because of insecticide residue.

"For your own protection, records should be kept showing insecticide usage and soil analysis should be made to determine their residue before planting vegetables on ground which has been heavily treated with chemical insect controls," Rummel advised.

HE TOLD THE cotton producers that insecticide application should be based on field inspection.

"Insecticide application where it is not needed is simply money down the drain."

He reminded that most pests which damage cotton in the Hereford area "do have effective chemical controls. But timing is the important thing."

Rummel listed fleahoppers, spider mites, aphids, and boll worms and boll weevils as the problem cotton insects on the High Plains.

SINCE BOLL weevils generally pose little problem here, Rummel said that insects which attack cotton during early stages — from emergence to one-third growth — "bears the most watching."

First to attack cotton here is usually thrip, which thrives on young leaves. Thrip build up in small grain crops then move to cotton as it emerges from the ground.

"Heavy thrip infestation will set back cotton growth some two to three weeks," Rummel warned. "And with the short growing season you have here, it will hurt your pocketbook."

HE SUGGESTED several pre-emergence systemic insecticides which will protect cotton during its initial four to six weeks of growth.

Rummel spoke of one experimental plot at the Lubbock station which saw a pre-emergence systemic insecticide application net $50 profit over untreated cotton in a year when thrip infestation was heavy.

"If you do not choose to apply a pre-emergence insecticide," you should begin watching for infestation as soon as cotton comes out of the ground," Rummel said.

Fleahopper usually begins to attack cotton about the time the plant begins to put on its first squares, Rummel said. "These can also cost you a lot of cotton, especially in a short-season area such as this."

HE EXPLAINED why early-season pests tend to cause "more damage than many people realize":

Some 80 to 90 per cent of the blooms which come on the plant by the time it is 60 days old will stick and make fruit, but as the plant increases in age, the percentage of blooms which stick decreases.

The plant reaches its peak blooming stage at the age of 100 to 110 days, Rummel continued, but the chances of blooms at this time making fruit are considerably less than the ones which came on in 60 days.

"THUS, IT BECOMES important that you protect your early squares against fleahopper," Rummel said.

At this point, Rummel cautioned growers to keep in mind the value of beneficial insects.

He reminded that late application of early-season insecticides will not give beneficial insects time to get re-established in fields in time to fight boll weevils and other late-season pests.

Again, he urged farmers to base insecticide application on field inspections, applying it only after it becomes evident that it is needed.

CONCERNING chemical weed control, Elliott recommended band application of most herbicides and named side-oiling as an economical practice which should not be discounted.

"Chemical weed control in cotton is actually cheaper than hand hoeing when properly carried out," Elliott commented.

"But I think you are defeating your purpose by attempting to do away with cultivation completely," Elliott said, citing tests at Texas A&M which showed the most profitable results from joint use of herbicides and cultivation.

Elliott recommended an eight- to 12-inch band application of herbicide at the time of planting.

EXPLAINING, he said, "First of all this is much more economical than broadcast application, and secondly, I would hesitate to go overboard with herbicides until we can look at them (their residue problems) over a five or six year basis."

For plants such as Johnson grass, he said a side-oiling of naphtha would provide economical and effective control after cotton has attained sufficient height.

Calibration of herbicides is very important, Elliott reminded, in view of residual tendencies of most chemicals.

He also described improvements which farmers can adapt to mechanical harvesters to up yield and grade.

ADDS EACH YEAR Library Claims 30,000 Volumes

She dismisses such talk, however, with the observation that good public relations never hurt anyone.

The library, whose ancestry includes humble beginnings back in 1910 in a South Main St. store room, now occupies a ball-walk of several rooms on the ground floor of the courthouse.

Despite the seemingly insuperable problem of never enough funds, the library apparently has stayed in the good graces of the county governing officials in the 35-year kinship. (The county took over in 1930.)

MRS. BOYDSTON notes that the facility's circulation last year was 35,735 volumes — an average of 4,344 per month checked out by the more than 4,000 persons registered. Less than 50 were not returned.

More new books arrive every month. "We buy about a thousand new books a year," Mrs. Boydston reveals. She and her assistant, Mrs. Marie Newman, who will become librarian on Mrs. Boydston's retirement, make their own selections, depending on book lists, reviews by some of the more knowledgeable authorities and on requests for books by reading patrons.

READING TASTES have improved substantially in the last 18 years, Mrs. Boydston says. "I think they are reading for information in an increasing technical vein," she adds. "For one thing, more of them are reading because they must keep up."

She has requests from businessmen and craftsmen for information on business management, manufacturing, farming and related fields and advancements in technical areas.

Interest in non-fiction continues to increase, she notes with satisfaction. And she thinks she knows one reason why: "It is better written than it used to be. They used to just write out dates. But now they write it out in story form and it's all true. It makes it much more interesting."

ESOTERIC FIELDS also are attracting small but perceptive followers. "Hypnotism, for instance," says Mrs. Boydston. "We have two or three persons who have read everything we have on hypnotism." Other topics that are gradually expanding into modestly-populated sections of a book shelf include analysis of handwriting, religion, creative writing, art, medicine and the "do it yourself" gamut from doll making to boat building.

A real "hot spot" in the library, says Mrs. Boydston, is the section on Texas.

AN AMAZING THING to her is the serious interest in science by children. "This science thing is growing by leaps and bounds," she claims. "We have second and third graders come in here asking for books on science. We think they are too young for it. But we have some that they can read."

Why the spurt of scientific interest by the young minds? "I think television is perhaps the thing that is doing it," she answered.

MRS. BOYDSTON is only the third librarian since the county assumed financial responsibility in 1930.

But it was the active interest of two early-day Hereford club women who gave weak but viable substance to the dream of a public library. They were Mrs. G.A.F. Parker and Mrs. F. T. Roloson, who pursued a sometimes discouraging course. Mrs. Roloson later became the first librarian at $1.25 a month.

In 1929, members of a group — the Bay View Club — vigorously championed a petition calling for an appropriation by the county commissioners to support the library. The special election drew 1,100 participants — everyone, Mrs. Boydston surmises — that must have been in the county. The issue was approved.

IN JULY, 1930, the county library opened its doors with 1,000 books. Mrs. Roloson, bothered by ill health, was forced to resign, but was helpful in securing Mrs. Lillie Hostetter, who served until 1940 and who, now nearly 90, resides at the King's Manor rest home here.

Next was Mrs. Clara McLean, who remained until 1948. She resigned in a salary dispute with the commissioners, and Mrs. Boydston — who was then her assistant — was named as librarian. (Mrs. McLean is now the medical librarian at the Big Spring Veterans hospital.)

Mrs. Boydston had no library science training when she started. "I'm sure when I first started I didn't do as good a job as a trained librarian would want to do," she says. "But I sure worked at it."

Now that she is facing retirement after 18 years of library work, there is one sure thing in her future schedule: She plans to read some good books.

Japan, top fishing nation since 1948, has slipped to second place, after Peru, followed by China, the Soviet Union and the United States.

GETS FEDERAL GRANT

Olton Uses Job Corps To Retain 'Dropouts'

(Continued from Page 1) counselor," he says. "A big part of our potential dropouts do stay in school. I'm biased to keeping them in school, but I try not to make the decision for the student. I try to get them to see both sides and the resulting consequences which will come if they drop out of school."

With the advent of the War on Poverty, emphasis has been placed on the dropout problem by the Johnson Administration. The Federal government has instituted the programs of Job Corps and the Neighborhood Youth Corps, specifically aimed at youth who have dropped out of school, or who are considering such.

"For many, the socio-economic status and intelligence ratings are a chief cause of their leaving school. The new programs are aimed at relieving financial needs and helping to restore initiative."

IN THE WEST Texas area, several schools will participate in the federally-instituted program. Olton and Dimmitt have both secured contracts with the government for the program, which can go into effect at any time. The school systems are waiting for state and local approval. Roosevelt School, near Lubbock, also has made application.

Olton is expecting its contract to meet approval in Austin at any time, with only the local board's approval required before the program will go into effect.

"Our dropout figure here is higher than most thought it would be," points out Johnny Clark, superintendent of the Olton district, following a survey made by the school. "We have a real high dropout rate in this region," Clark said, surmising, surprisingly, that the prosperity of the West Texas area is an important factor.

"We revised our contract about half a dozen times before we sent it in," Clark said. The program has already approved about 30 students for participation. The maximum number they can approve under the program is 36.

"WE SET up a committee to select the participants," Clark explained. "The students will work about 10 hours a week as library assistants, laboratory assistants, clerical assistants, teacher aides, physical education assistants, nurses aides, custodial workers, bus mechanics, gardeners, lunchroom workers, and those more advanced scholastically will tutor."

The federal government will spend about $10,000 in Olton, with Olton putting up about $3,000. The local share of the funds can be furnished in either cash or equipment and goods used in the program.

Olton students will draw $1 dollar per hour for their work. However, part of the time spent each week will be devoted to counseling and supervision, so the actual rate of pay for their labor will be approximately 83 cents per hour. During the summer months, students will be allowed to work 36 hours per week.

"We do expect to fire some," Clark asserted. "The program provides for supervision of the students. It is not just a handout program, as the students will have to work — if they don't work they won't participate."

IN 1962, A research program was instituted by the West Texas Schools Study Council. The study was directed toward high school dropouts and those who had graduated from high school but were not planning to attend college.

What signals come from the potential dropout? The West Texas Council reports these factors: tardiness; unexcused absences; lack of initiative or self-confidence; nonparticipation in class; and failure in a required course.

Factors developing the potential dropout are all developed by each other, the study explains, saying that discouragement with studies can lead to the lack of initiative — resulting in non-participation in class and the unexcused absences.

THE SCHOOL, home and personality of the dropout are the three main areas causing him to leave school.

Scholastic aptitude is often a contributing factor. Tests have shown that a majority of the dropouts scored below their classmates on intelligence tests. Poor reading ability is a contributing factor here.

An inadequate curriculum contributes to the dropout situation. Often young people fail to realize the connection between their high school activities and what they will be doing after they are out of school. One statistical study undertaken reported that dropouts "did not take part in formal extracurricular activities or informal classroom and playground activities." Some claim the effect of extracurricular activities to be as great as the effect of IQ and academic performance.

PERHAPS THE most crucial influence exerted by the home is that of attitude. Parents of dropouts are often "unimpressed with the values of education."

The West Texas Study also has included suggestions on what can be done to reduce the number of dropouts.

The number 1 problem, according to the study, is the inadequacy of the curriculum; dropouts find little in the traditional curriculum which appears to relate to their needs and interests. A diagnostic and remedial reading program is also suggested.

The Study Council also advocates a different system of evaluation of the students, by comparing them with their own achievements and capabilities instead of those of the more advanced students. Guidance is another leading role in helping the potential dropout find for himself a better position in school.

CONCERNING chemical weed control, Elliott recommended band application of most herbicides and named side-oiling as an economical practice which should not be discounted.

"Chemical weed control in cotton is actually cheaper than hand hoeing when properly carried out," Elliott commented.

"But I think you are defeating your purpose by attempting to do away with cultivation completely," Elliott said, citing tests at Texas A&M which showed the most profitable results from joint use of herbicides and cultivation.

Elliott recommended an eight- to 12-inch band application of herbicide at the time of planting.

EXPLAINING, he said, "First of all this is much more economical than broadcast application, and secondly, I would hesitate to go overboard with herbicides until we can look at them (their residue problems) over a five or six year basis."

For plants such as Johnson grass, he said a side-oiling of naphtha would provide economical and effective control after cotton has attained sufficient height.

Calibration of herbicides is very important, Elliott reminded, in view of residual tendencies of most chemicals.

He also described improvements which farmers can adapt to mechanical harvesters to up yield and grade.

TWO GAMES WITH CLOVIS FIRST

Whiteface Baseballers Head For District Play Tuesday

Hereford Whitefaces swing into district play at Dumas Tuesday — in the first of eight loop battles against the dangerous Demons — but two non-conference games are on schedule first.

The Herd is slated to travel to Clovis again Friday for a game at 7 p.m. MST, then return here for a single game against Clovis at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Then comes Tuesday's trip to Dumas, where the hometown Demons have a powerful reception committee lined up for the 'Faces on the diamond.'

The Demons held a record of five wins and eight losses for the year, as of Wednesday. Hereford's record is 7-7-1.

However, all of the Demon outings have been against AAAA schools, with the exception of two easy wins over Guymon, Okla.

Pitching depth for Dumas is said to be good, and the team boasts a host of hitters.

LEADING batting for Dumas is first baseman Robert Moffitt, a three-year letterman. Moffitt boomed two homers last week against Guymon in a 19-3 rout which saw Dumas collecting a total of 18 hits.

The Demons have improved since the first of the year, according to coach Jerry Hale. Pampa clouted the Demons in season openers, but Friday Dumas got partial revenge with an 8-4 win.

Dumas had no games scheduled this weekend; however, Hereford has been out of action since April 20.

GAMES scheduled by Hereford for Tuesday and last Friday were rained out.

Hereford mentor Ronald Speed attempted to begin district play early in order to avoid a schedule conflict later in the season, but Dumas refused.

Speed had asked that district play be moved up to Saturday.

Hereford Golfers Fifth At Regional

Hereford High School golfers ranked fifth at the Region 1-AAA golf tournament held Thursday and Friday at Odessa Country Club.

The Hereford foursome shot a 36-hole total of 666, outdoing Muleshoe by 41 strokes. Muleshoe previously edged Hereford in the district 1-AAA tourney played at Muleshoe Country Club.

KERMIT RAN away with first place at the regional meet, however, posting a 633 mark. Andrews and Snyder fought it out for second, but the Andrews squad finally edged Snyder by 641 to 643.

Kermit and Andrews will compete at the state level. In fourth place was Lamesa, which had a 654, just 12 strokes ahead of Hereford.

Jimmie Young and Roger Owen paced the Hereford foursome. Both are juniors.

Owen shot an 81 total for Thursday, then went to a 82 Friday for a 163 total.

YOUNG OPENED with an 84, but shot a 78 on Friday for a 162 total.

Senior Gordon Golden had 81-88 for a 169 total. Andy Channer, also a junior, posted an 88-84 for a 172 total.

Last year, Hereford failed to qualify for the regional meet.

This season saw the HHS golfers ranking second at both the district meet and the Hereford

Invitational High School golf tourney, and running away with first honors at the Morton Invitational Tourney.

The local foursome competed in seven tournaments.

Also on the Hereford golf team were senior Bob Reinauer and freshman Steve Hendon. Coach is Cuby Kitchens.

Hereford Church Team Takes Easy Win Over Bovina

Butch Walterschied and Gary Kreighshauer paced Hereford's St. Anthony's Catholic Church baseball squad to an 18-3 win over St. Ann's Catholic Church of Bovina here Sunday afternoon.

Both boomed homers for the Hereford team, which had little trouble in subduing the visiting team.

It was the first game of the season for the local team, which is comprised of 18- to 25-year-old ballplayers.

Senior Gordon Golden had 81-88 for a 169 total. Andy Channer, also a junior, posted an 88-84 for a 172 total.

Last year, Hereford failed to qualify for the regional meet.

This season saw the HHS golfers ranking second at both the district meet and the Hereford

Goodin Named Boosters Club Head For '65

Calvin Goodin was elected president of the Whiteface Booster Club to head the slate of officers named Monday night.

Goodin replaces Stan Sigman as the head of the organization aimed at supporting all school athletic troupes.

B. F. Cain was named vice president, Jimmy Tucker was selected secretary, and John Haney, treasurer.

About 30 persons were on hand for the elections and to hear reports from coaches on current athletic activities.

Last year Goodin served as vice president of the Boosters, L. B. (Scat) Russell was secretary, and Cain was treasurer.

Submitting the list of proposed officers was a nominating committee comprised of the club's past presidents: Jim Wiman, Ed Skypalo, Debbs Knox, Earl Stagner, and Sigman.

All officers for the coming year were elected by acclamation.

PONY LEAGUE TO ORGANIZE SOON Little Leaguers Prep For Season

Raindrops provided competition for Little Leaguers during minor league tryouts and major league practices here this week, but the summer baseball program is rapidly taking shape.

BY 3-2 SCORE

Rebels Downed In Opener At Brownfield

Hereford Rebels lost their season opener to the Brownfield Aces at Brownfield last Sunday by a 3-2 score.

Brownfield's Amalio Garcia opened scoring in the bottom of the second, then the Rebels tallied their only two runs in the third-inning.

RAY MARTINEZ boomed a bases-loaded double for the Hereford team, driving in Sammy Garza and Mona Carrez. Gilbert Moreno was pegged at the plate as he tried to score on the play, to retire the side.

Brownfield tied the score at two all in the bottom of the third. It was not until the ninth inning that the Aces could push across the winning score.

ALIX DIAZ went the distance for the Rebels on the mound, surrendering three runs on seven hits. He struck out 12 and walked one.

Winning pitcher was Elias Garcia, who allowed 12 hits and two runs, struck out seven, and walked three.

The Latino-Brownfield Pirates game scheduled here Sunday was canceled after some of the Brownfield players were injured in an auto mishap near Brownfield en route here.

Two all-women teams provided action at the Latino Ball Park, with the Senoritas downing the Senoras by the score of 18-10.

SEASON OPENER for the league is set for May 10. Little League umpires are due to meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Community Center to get lined out on rules for the coming season.

Minor league tryouts were conducted amid sprinkles Tuesday afternoon. Teams selected in the player auction Tuesday night will be listed in the Sunday Brand.

ABE DAVIS, president of the Pony League — for boys age 13-14 — said that league will organize soon, although no definite date had been announced Wednesday.

Work at the Little League's two ballparks is continuing in preparation for the season, according to Gene Loerwald, league president.

"We would like to have as many men as possible out to help us finish up the parks this weekend," Loerwald said. League officials and fathers of Little League ballplayers will work on the two parks, located at 13th and Ave I, Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

ALL PERSONS interested in helping to umpire Little League baseball have been asked to attend the Monday night meeting at the Community Center.

Debbs Knox, umpire-in-chief for the Hereford Little League, said at least 40 men will be needed to umpire games here this season.

Members of the Hereford Optimist Club, which volunteered to aid in umpiring, are also urged to attend the meeting, Knox said.

Bob Farrington, 35, national harness racing champion three of the last four years, was a bricklayer until driving his first race in 1955.

Hereford High School tracksters earned 14 points at the Region 1-AAA Track and Field meet held Saturday at Odessa Junior College to climax their best overall year in recent history.

Saturday's competition ended what coach Joe Brooks termed "a very good season" for Hereford, although some Whiteface performers had what he described as "an off day."

THE HERD'S 14 points ranked eleventh in a field of 17 schools at the regional clash. Whitefaces outdid District 1-AAA foes, with the exception of Dumas, however.

Snyder pulled off its predicted run-away with the team totals at the meet, garnering 109 points.

Other totals were Monahans, 76; Andrews, 50; Kermit, 34; Littlefield, 32; Dumas, 32; Lamesa, 30; Lake View, 22; Ector, 22; Fort Stockton, 16; Tullia, 12; Brownfield, 12; Perryton, 10; Canyon, 10; Muleshoe, 7; and Seminole, 6.

HEREFORD'S ENTIRES in the 440-yard and mile relays and the 100-yard dash had their worst times of the year, but all other Whiteface competitors posted their best performances of the season.

Gary Goodin — the hurdling freshman — ranked fourth in the low hurdles with a time of 20.2 only one second behind the winner.

Walter Williams posted a 50.7 for the 440 dash, his best time of the year, but was relegated to fifth place in a close pack. Williams was clocked at 51.4 at district.

Ricky Fangman had his top discuss mark of the year — 140 feet, which bettered his district effort by 14 feet. He ranked sixth in Saturday's competition.

Mark Hicls, another sophomore who continues to improve, topped 5-7 for sixth in the high jump. His district mark two weeks ago was 5-6.

Kenny Justice was fifth in the 100-yard dash with a time of 10.2. Two weeks ago he won the district meet — and set a new record with a 9.7 time.

Hereford's sprint relay team failed to place after missing a baton pass for the first time this year.

Road-E-O Slated Here Saturday

A Teenage Road-E-O which offers local teenagers a crack at national safe driving competition will be held here Saturday.

The Road-E-O, which tests teenagers' driving skills and knowledge of safe driving rules, is sponsored by the National Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Hereford Jaycees.

WINNER OF THE event here Saturday will compete at the Local FFA Team To Attend State Meet At A&M

The poultry judging team of Hereford High School's Future Farmers of America chapter will participate in the state judging contest to be held at Texas A & M at College Station this weekend.

The team, comprised of three boys, will leave today for the Saturday event. They will return Sunday, making the trip are Darrell Knabe, Dwayne Knabe, Ronald Paetold and David Nicholson, sponsor.

THE POULTRY team placed first in district competition and sixth in area. Seven other teams competed in the area contest at Texas Tech Saturday, but were not eligible for state contests. The 21 boys at the area meet were entered in livestock, poultry, dairy cattle, meats, dairy products, grass and land judging. The top ten teams in each division in each area compete at the state level.

The state judging contest will be the last contest for the local chapter. The Parent & Son banquet is scheduled for May 6, according to Jess Robinson, sponsor of the local chapter.

state level, with local Jaycees paying expenses for the trip to the state contest in Fort Worth. State winners compete on a national scale for the top prize, a 1965 Mercury convertible and a $500 scholarship.

The contest is set to get underway here at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the Community Center.

LOCAL JAYCEES said any teenager who possesses a driver's license or a student license may compete. There is no entry fee. Entrants must be in junior high or high school.

Winners will be determined from scores on written tests covering driving laws and safe practices as well as the driving test.

Entrants will drive autos furnished by Stephens-Hudson Ford Co. in the driving contest. The Mercury Division of Ford Motor Co. helps promote the Teenage Road-E-O on a nationwide basis.

Saturday will mark the second time the Hereford Jaycees have staged the event here. Last year the local winner placed fourth in the state contest, according to Wayne Fuller, Hereford Jaycee vice president.

A bicycle parade down Main St. Saturday morning brought to an end the Optimists' "Bicycle Safety Week" after local club members had checked more than 600 bicycles at local schools to inform parents of the conditions of their youngsters' vehicles.

Preceding the parade, bicycles were judged in three separate age groups with first, second and third places being awarded in each group.

In the 8 and under age group, Ru Dawn Shelton won first, Dee Ann Miller was second, and Gary Watson was third. Sandra Jean Caison was first in the 9-10 year olds, with Shariene Powell placing second and Cheryl Smith placing third. In the 11 and over group, Nancy Fisher was first, Sharon Renfro was second and Jeff Deavenport was third. Cash prizes were given.

Following the parade, the Optimist Club sponsored a free movie with free candy being given away, more than 1600 children appeared for the occasion.

Assisting the Optimists with the Saturday events were members of the Tan Da Horizon Club: Carol Moore, Gwen Cargo, Claudia Loerwald, Charlotte Hill, Carol Clearman, Sidney Davis, Linda Lynch, Jean Robertson, Pam Winget, Sharon Garrison, Cynthia Knox, Edith Davis, Ruth Davis and Mary Lynn Gibson.

The Optimist Club slogan for their bicycle safety program is "Be alert so they won't get hurt."

Voters Approve Stock Laws In Precinct 3

Voters in Precinct 3 gave approval to measures prohibiting the free running of livestock in an election Saturday which saw only 25 votes cast.

The two proposals involved drew three negative votes each.

IN THE CATTLE law election, voters gave a 20-3 nod in favor of the law which will prohibit cattle from running at large in the precinct.

A 22-3 "yes" vote passed the catch-all measure which covers horses, mules, jacks, jennets, donkeys, hogs, sheep and goats.

THE LAWS GO into effect on May 24, 30 days from the election date, according to county attorney Bruce Miller.

Actually, the law serves to transfer responsibility for damages incurred by livestock from landowners to the person who owns the stock.

All other precincts in the county have had stock laws for several years.

The popular hymn, "The Old Rugged Cross," was composed in 1913 by Salvation Army Captain George Bennard.

Three Students Advance To Finals In UIL

Three Hereford High School students advanced last weekend to state competition in the University Interscholastic League regional contests at Odessa.

Two other Hereford students won third places in the regional event.

AS A TEAM entry, the Hereford group placed third in Conference AAA with 45 points, behind Andrews' 127 and Snyder's 60.

Two readywriting contestants from Hereford, Myrna Botkin and Wynn Buck, captured first and second place, respectively, and will be the Region I entries in that event in AAA competition May 8 at Austin.

Readywriting is the written equivalent of extemporaneous speaking. Contestants are given a choice of three topics and required to write a 1,000-word theme in two hours.

ALSO TAKING a first place was Sharon John in shorthand. Miss John's sponsor to the state meet will be Janice Boren. Donald Farmer, the readywriting tutor, will accompany the group as boys' sponsor.

Taking third places were Tyler Thompson in science, which required the taking of a written quiz on a variety of scientific areas, and Vickie Inman, who placed in feature writing during journalism competition.

WILL HONOR TEACHERS Central School Parent-Teachers Organization will stage its annual Teachers Appreciation Program at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Central School Cafeteria. Former teachers and students have been invited to attend.

Notaries Public!

Secretary of State Crawford C. Martin announced that all qualified Notaries Public desiring re-appointment for the new term ending June 1, 1967 must re-qualify by the payment of the required fee and the filing of a new oath and bond with the County Clerk of his residence between May 1, 1965 and May 15, 1965, inclusive.

Martin emphasized that Notaries Public should not send requests for re-appointment or for commissions directly to the Secretary of State. The law specifically requires that the County Clerks approve notary bonds.

Any person not now a Notary Public who desires appointment should apply to his County Clerk before May 20, 1965. Application during this period will assure that the appointment will be made in sufficient time for the applicant to qualify at the beginning of the new term.

The Secretary of State further pointed out that each person applying for a commission as a Notary Public must be at least 21 years of age and a resident of the county for which he is appointed. The exact name and permanent address of the applicant must be furnished the County Clerk.

Baseball Camp Set At LCC

Applications for the second annual West Texas Baseball Camp for boys age 8 through 18 are currently being taken, according to Ronald Speed of Hereford. Speed is local representative for the camp, which is held at Lubbock Christian College. Four two-week sessions are scheduled, beginning June 13. Further information may be obtained from Speed at EM 4-1877.

City Man Sentenced On DWI Conviction

A 48-year-old Hereford man was sentenced to ten days in county jail and ordered to pay a $50 fine and court costs after being arrested by Highway Patrolmen here Tuesday night on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Sentenced by County Judge H. C. (Hank) Williams was Florence Theisman, whose address was listed as 504B West Fifth St.

WILL VIEW LIGHTS

County commissioners are scheduled to view a lighting demonstration at 8 p.m. today at the courthouse. Representatives of Southwestern Public Service Co. are due to demonstrate floodlights which would illuminate the south side of the courthouse. Commissioners for several years have contemplated installation of lights to "show off" the structure. Tonight's demonstration is to give the commission an idea of the effect which would result.

OLD EASTER SYMBOLS

KANSAS CITY — The egg, the chick and the bunny — which are featured on today's Easter cards — can be traced way back to antiquity.

According to legend, the rabbit originally was a large and handsome bird, a pet of Eostra, the goddess of spring. One day Eostra, from whose name our word "Easter" is taken, changed the bird into a rabbit. Because of its former nature, goes the story, the Easter bunny builds nests and fills them with colored eggs.

The earliest Easter specimen in the Hallmark Cards vast collection of antique cards here was published in 1878. It shows a series of tiny angels scattering flowers over a large egg on which has been lettered, "Arise! Rejoice Arise! Sing earth and sing the skies! Alleluia!"

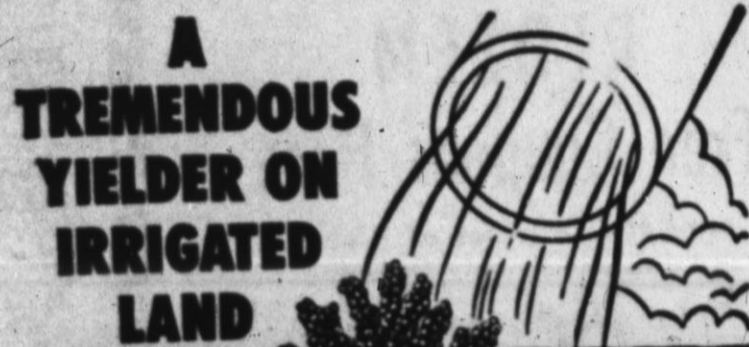

The ancient Hebrew calligraphers wrote with ink on goat-skin parchment. They ruled the pages and hung the tops of the Hebrew letters from the lines.

Advertising is news, too!

People buy this newspaper for news of the world, the country and our community in particular. Our readers are also interested in news about food, clothes, entertainment, automobiles, furniture and all of the necessities and luxuries that have to do with daily living.

Through advertising in this paper you can give our readers the up-to-date news about your merchandise and services. Each one of your advertisements can be a newspaper within a newspaper.

Of course you should know all about the circulation of the newspaper that is carrying the news of your business. How many people buy the paper? Where are they located? How was the circulation obtained? To give you this information and many other facts that you need and have a right to know when you buy advertising space, this newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

Established in 1914, the Bureau is a cooperative, non-profit association of nearly 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers. Its purpose is to furnish advertisers with verified reports on the circulation of its publisher members.

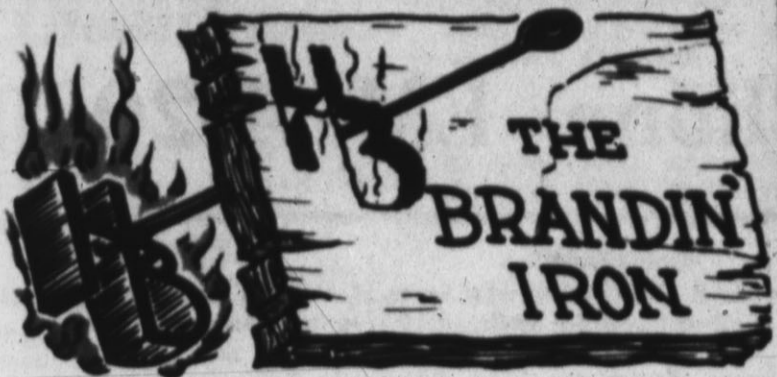

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced auditors makes a thorough inspection and audit of our circulation records, just as the bank examiner makes a check of your bank's records. The information thus obtained is published in official A.B.C. reports. When you buy space in this newspaper our A.B.C. report tells you just what, in circulation values, you get for your advertising investment.

This newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

Advertisers are invited to ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

ABC REPORTS — FACTS AS A GUIDE TO THE VALUE OF ADVERTISING

By MELVIN YOUNG

Current estimates indicate that some 2 1/2 million youngsters will complete secondary education this spring, with about half that number entering colleges and universities around the country. The other half will enter the labor market. That's about a million and a quarter who will be knocking on the door of prospective employers seeking a job.

What are they qualified to do? Surprising as it may seem to some parents, many of them are perfectly well qualified right now to step in to good jobs. The problem the majority faces is twofold: the kids themselves fail to recognize their own capabilities and they just plain don't know that the jobs are available.

Fortunately, some organizations and industries are doing something to call the youngsters' attention both to their own abilities and to career possibilities. The automobile industry, for example, annually faces a shortage of good, skilled mechanics who are needed to keep the 170 million cars on our streets in safe, efficient running order. The number of cars being sold each year continues to increase, but the number of young men seeking careers as mechanics fails to keep pace.

This problem of course, is prevalent in the entire industrial field. Not just the automotive field.

One attempt to solve this problem is being made by one of the manufacturers. They conduct a trouble shooting contest—a program which offers concrete incentives to boys who have mechanical ability. Working with 1,550 schools in which auto mechanics courses are taught, the company is conducting a series of contests across the country. The boys who prove to be the best mechanics will win trips to the national finals at Detroit in June and a chance to compete for college scholarships to continue their mechanical education. Company officials report that in the past about 85 per cent of the boys who competed in the finals have obtained jobs as mechanics. Moreover, they have entered a field which offers relatively high annual earnings as they grow in experience and skill.

This example may suggest to the prospective graduate who does not plan to enter college that there are available jobs in other fields as well. And, indeed there are. Not all of us are equipped or inclined to be doctors, lawyers, or merchant chiefs. The successful mechanic has a far more satisfying life than the mis-cast individual who aspires to one of the "professions."

The first step is an honest self-appraisal of one's own abilities. The second is far easier—simply start pushing the doorbells of prospective employers.

One of the finest programs ever initiated on the local level to help youngsters whether they are going on to college or not, is the DE (Distributive Education) program, designed not only to teach high school students the whys and wherefores of selling, but to give them a little more confidence in their own ability to produce.

The Brand has participated in this program since its inception some 15 or 16 years ago and has the highest regard for its record of accomplishment. To date, if our memory serves us correctly, we have had from 15 to 20 Distributive Education students working over this period of time, and cannot recall ever getting a "dud". Some are better than others to be sure, but all have been eager to learn and have tried to do a good job. They have been looking for a future—not a handout.

Incidentally, one former DE member, Wain Miller, is now working full time on our staff—doing a mighty fine job. Others have gone elsewhere. Some to college. Some to other jobs. But in the end, the pattern has been the same. All have secured good paying jobs.

Perhaps it is because the student had the incentive to join the DE program, or perhaps the DE program was solely responsible for the success. But either way, the combination seems to add-up to success.

We have just returned from

'PUT OUR BAGS IN THERE' — Hereford High School mixed choir member Gary Don Roberson had a problem when it came time to load baggage for these three girls and the other 147 members of the mixed choir and band for their trip to the Buccaneer Music Festival in Corpus Christi. The band and choir left Hereford at 6 a.m. Wednesday and are due to return Sunday afternoon. In addition to competing with some 100 top bands and choirs from throughout the state, the Hereford musicians and vocalists will present a concert today at Trinity University in San Antonio. Other events on tap during the trip include sight-seeing and swimming at Padre Island. Shown from the left are Alana Cromer, sophomore band member; Doris Parsons; senior band member; and Lynne Poarch, senior choir member. (Staff Photo)

The Panhandle Press Convention held in Amarillo, bringing home a couple of laurels for The Brand. The General Excellence Award for newspapers over 1500 circulation, and the first place award for column writing. Both of which we are quite proud.

And upon returning home, we were honored with another bit of recognition for The Brand. That being a Certificate of Merit presented to this organization by the Texas Federation of Music Clubs for our coverage of the planning sessions and of the senior and junior day conventions of the First District, Texas Federation of Music Clubs held in our city last year. The reporter was former Society Editor Carma Thomas.

Audrey Thompson brought the certificate around. Even after we referred to her in the paper last week as Mrs. A. L. Thompson instead of Mrs. A. O. Thompson. Audrey says she "couldn't find that woman in the phone book."

And speaking of music clubs, the coming week (May 2 thru May 8) is National Music Week and will be commemorated locally by special radio programs daily over Radio Station KPAN, 2:15 p.m.

The Hereford Music Study Club will be sponsoring the local programs.

The showers this week have indeed been refreshing. But let it rain a little in this country and everybody gets excited. Harold Kidds, Max Leon and Kenneth Coker were discussing the possibility of floods, and Mr. Kidds was actually sporting an umbrella.

Now some folks don't know what an umbrella is. In fact, there may be a few who have never seen rain.

Hereford Student Named V.F.W. Sweetheart Queen In Amarillo

Miss Connie Watson was crowned V. F. W. Sweetheart Queen Saturday evening in Amarillo. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Watson, Country Club Road, Hereford. Miss Watson, a junior at Hereford High School, competed with seven other contestants for the title and was crowned during the V. F. W. dance by their commander, Al Lock. Girls entering the contest were between the ages of 16 and 18, and were sponsored by post members. This was the first such contest Miss Watson has entered and winning the crown will make her eligible for competition in the district contest the 16th of May which will be in Amarillo. Further Sweetheart contests will be in El Paso for State Queen and Chicago for National V. F. W. Sweetheart Queen.

City Incinerator Is Nearly Ready

The city's new $50,000 incinerator complex at the dump ground should be fired up for the first time early next week, City Manager Dudley Bayne said Wednesday.

Standing in the way now are the assembly of the chain activating the conveyor and the concrete floor of the 60-odd-foot-high burner. Bayne said the high burner would be finished this week. The incinerator will give the city controlled disposal of most types of garbage picked up by the city trucks.

Youth Gets 10-Day Sentence Monday

A 16-year-old youth was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail Monday by County Judge H. C. Williams.

Sentenced was Johnny Costello of Hereford, who appeared for the third time on a charge of driving without a driver's license. Judge Williams said the youth had been before the court three times on similar charges after being placed on probation several months ago for another charge.

In another juvenile case Monday, a 12-year-old youth was placed on probation for writing a forged check.

Oyster Deserves Credit For Limestone Legacy

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — When man gets around to erecting statues to its best friends, it must build one to the oyster.

Of all the creatures the little bivalve mollusk spends most of his life creating his shell. When he dies, another oyster begins to form on the lifeless shell.

Thus through millions of years, oyster reefs have been built up.

THEY EVEN HAVE become points of controversy in Texas, over how close oyster shell dredges can work to live oyster beds.

The shell the little oyster makes is almost pure limestone, and although there are massive amounts of mineral limestone, none is closer to the Gulf of Mexico coast in Texas than the Balcones Fault, which runs west of San Antonio and north toward Austin.

Texas had hardly been discovered before the oyster shell was found to be useful. It was ground up to make gravel for many uses, particularly for giving roads a semi-hard surface.

THE SHELL IS used for that, still, as roadbed for concrete highways.

But the huge value of shell to the gulf coast now is in its chemical use, with perhaps the most important that of making cement.

A pioneer in the use of the limestone in oyster shells was the Lone Star Cement Co., which built a plant on the present Houston Ship Channel in 1915.

In making concrete, the cement is mixed with ground shell and goes into everything from a residence driveway to a skyscraper or a superhighway.

CHEMICAL USES include a bleach for pulpwood — this helped bring Champion Paper and Fiber Co. to Houston; lime for poultry and livestock food; anti-knock substances for the automobile gasoline tank.

Lime for the process of making manesium; whitewash; water clarifiers; soil nutrients; carbon dioxide; dry ice; and many others.

Deadline For School Transfers Is June 1

Scholarship transfers from one school district to another must be made before June 1, County Judge H. C. (Hank) Williams has reminded.

Parents who plan to send their children to a school outside the district of residence should make application for the transfer to the county judge, who also acts as county superintendent.

Though less than six inches long, the feather-tail glider can leap 30 feet or more. It belongs to a specialized group of pouched animals that volplane themselves from tree to tree.

Forgery Suspects Held In Lieu Of $1000 Bond

An alert store manager noted a questionable address on a check which a 17-year-old girl attempted to cash Monday night. Two men are being held in Deaf Smith County Jail on a charge of forgery as a result.

Held in lieu of $1,000 bond Wednesday were Alvin Hall, 22, who listed his address as Childress, and Marvin Ross Hyatt, 46, of Greenboro, N.C.

Bond was set Tuesday by Justice of the Peace C. B. Miles.

Sheriff's deputies said the men were arrested after a girl attempted to cash a check at Taylor and Sons Grocery here. Manager Jack Nunley became suspicious about an address on the check and notified the sheriff's office.

Deputies arrested the two men near the store.

Tri-Matic
IRRIGATION SYSTEM

LABOR SAVER

With the Tri-Matic, one worker can water up to 48 acres a day and can operate four Tri-Matic Systems at the same time. He can water 640 acres in less than 14 days. Less than one man hour of labor per watered acre is required for the entire watering season.

WATER SAVER

With the Tri-Matic, you can get better water distribution and conservation. The Tri-Matic is designed to handle 200 to 2,000 gallons per minutes on 1/2 to 6 acres per setting.

With the Tri-Matic Multi-Line System, you can operate as many as four 1/4 mile sprinkler lines simultaneously. This will give you 6 acres watered per setting. The Tri-Matic operates backward or forward and may be driven or towed endways to an adjacent field. It may be guided to the right or left while watering.

The Tri-Matic is the most economical mechanical move irrigation system on the market today and has been called the industry's most intelligent answer to mechanized irrigation. There are hundreds of satisfied users of the Tri-Matic throughout the Plains area.

Miss Bradley Gives Opening Exercise For Home Demonstration Council Meet

Mrs. E. C. Hammett was the presiding officer for the Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Council when they met Monday in the County Courtroom.

Four clubs were reported to be 100 per cent and nine other clubs were represented.

Miss Mary Bradley of the West Hereford Club had charge of the opening exercise and the council group opened the meeting with the salute to the flag.

Thank you notes were read from Mrs. A. E. Hodges, Mrs. Argen Draper and Miss Sandra Ruebush thanking Council for corsages, lunch tickets and other courtesies from the Council.

According to the Education Committee report, more than 100 people were in attendance for the Youth Symposium.

The group decided to move the date for the Recreation Workshop to be held some time following the State meeting in September.

Reports were given on the District meeting held recently in Canyon. Mrs. Taft McGee gave the Recreation Workshop, Family Life workshop given by Mrs. Charles Packard, Citizenship workshop, Mrs. Viola Williams, and Health workshop, Mrs. E. C. Hammett.

Mrs. Jimmie Bradley gave the Safety workshop and the 4-H workshop was by Mrs. A. J. Bezner.

The clubs voted to assist with the veteran's picnics in Amarillo this summer. It was announced that the delegates to the State meeting will be elected in May as well as the T. H. D. A. chairman. The State Meeting is scheduled for September 22nd and 23rd in Austin. The National Meeting will be August 9th through the 13th in Purdue, Indiana.

Two clubs reported that they had made a budget for the year, seven clubs had 4-H programs and 63 ribbons were brought back by 4-H from the District meeting in Canyon.

Twenty-one 4-H girls and boys will be going to the Round-up at College Station in June.

Miss Bradley led in a math game to guess ages of women attending and also a game of guessing the amount of change each had in their purse. She also read a poem for the group.

Mrs. Jimmie D. Bradley attended to represent the Bippus H. D. Club, Mrs. A. E. Hodges, and Mrs. Paul M. Hoff, North Hereford; Mrs. Paul Rudd and Mrs. Bess Werner, Westway; Mrs. Huey Lowrie and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Young Homemakers; Mrs. J. G. Gandy, Mrs. J. D. Love and Miss Viola Williams, Cultural; Mrs. John A. Smith, Ford; Mrs. E. C. Hammett, Mrs. Taft McGee, Mrs. J. D. Gilbert Jr. and Mrs. H. L. Hershey, Progressive; Mrs. Carl Schroeder and Miss Mary Bradley, West Hereford; Mrs. Ira Ott, visitor and Mrs. Charles Packard, Wyche; Mrs. Argen Draper, agent, Miss Sandra Ruebush, assistant agent and Mrs. A. J. Bezner visitor representing 4-H.

New Fabrics Are Discussed At H.D. Meeting

Mrs. Argen Draper brought a program and discussion of "Handling New Fabrics" for members of the Cultural Home Demonstration Club when they met Friday in the home of Mrs. J. D. Love.

It was announced that all members are requested to bring material scraps for the next meeting. These will be delivered to King's Manor for the making of patch work quilts.

This meeting will be May 14th with Mrs. Art Lewis to bring a program of "Keeping America Beautiful." The luncheon will be in the home of Mrs. George L. Olson.

Members present for this meeting were Mrs. Louie Olson, Mrs. P. M. Houser, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Paul Corbett, Mrs. Grady Parsons, Mrs. Ted Sumner, Mrs. C. R. Gandy, Mrs. Earl DeHart and Mrs. R. Scott.

Tulia Sets Tea, Flower Show

"Spring Toppers" will be presented by the Tulia Garden Club for their annual flower show and silver tea from 2:30 to 6 p.m. May 15th at the Willie Room in Tulia.

Judges will give an award of merit, award of distinction, one tri-color award, two sweepstakes awards, and other special awards for outstanding exhibits.

Included will be a horticulture division, artistic division, including a class for men only; a section for iris, roses, shrubs or tree branches and an educational exhibit.

Mrs. Dewey Seay, publicity chairman, has announced that the public is invited to attend the flower show and tea.

HEREFORD LAWYER NAMED

Attorney General Waggoner Carr has announced the appointment of John D. Aiken of Hereford to serve as official representative for Deaf Smith County, for 1965 Attorney General's Youth Conference On Crime. This Third Annual Conference will attract over 1600 youth leaders from throughout Texas to study projects for implementing in Texas communities for the prevention of delinquency.

Barn Museum Is Toured By H.D. Club Members

Mrs. Bess Werner guided a tour through the Turrentine Barn Museum for members and guests of the West Hereford Home Demonstration Club Tuesday.

After meeting in the home of Mrs. Vern Witherspoon, the group toured the museum. Mrs. George Turrentine served coffee and cake.

Hostesses for this meeting were Mrs. Witherspoon and Mrs. N. E. Gass.

Others present were Mrs. John Jacobson Sr., Mrs. Bell Grimes, Mrs. Verna Schroeder, Miss Mary Brady, Miss Evelyn Bell, Mrs. J. B. Shirley, Mrs. Argen Draper, Mrs. Hubert Duncan and the visitor, Mrs. F. E. Young.

The May 11th meeting will be at 205 Norton Street in the home of Mrs. Verna Schroeder with Mrs. Bell Grimes serving as co-hostess.

Miss Tobolowsky To Be Honored At Dimmitt Dinner

The Delta Xi Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Sorority will have a dinner in the Colonial Inn Restaurant located on the East side of Highway 385 in Dimmitt which is slated for 7:30 p.m. Saturday evening.

This dinner is to honor Miss Sara Tobolowsky, Alpha state president. Her address will be "Cultures in Change."

Guests for this dinner will be Gamma Iota and Epsilon Delta Chapters and the program will be "A Tribute to Our Founders" brought by Miss Della Stagner.

Mrs. Merlin Kaul will lead the group singing in "Delta Kappa Gamma Prayer" and "Delta Kappa Gamma Song."

Rain Fails To Dampen Cancer Drive

Donations totaling $1503.83 were collected in a door-to-door canvass Monday evening by the Deaf Smith County chapter of the American Cancer Society.

In spite of rainy weather, according to Mrs. Gene Cope, chairman of the campaign, approximately 80 women turned out to assist with the canvass.

The Citizen's Band Radio Group, directed by Jim Pruitt, set up their headquarters in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Company, also the headquarters for the workers, in order that they could assist and patrol the area.

"Once again," said Mrs. Cope, "the citizens of Hereford responded extremely well and were very generous. Donations are still coming in and we expect to know the exact total by the week-end."

Workers distributed literature and stressed that the leaflet be read and people visit their doctor for a cancer check-up.

According to Mrs. Cope, the drive would be a complete success if one life would be saved by a cancer check-up. "Our attempt in the community is to prevent cancer through research and check-ups," she said.

Mrs. John Robert Miller was co-chairman for the project.

Bob Womble Reports To Helicopter Unit

USS LAKE CHAMPLAIN (Special) - Navy Lieutenant Robert W. Womble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Jewell of 114 Lake St., Hereford, has reported for duty with Helicopter Anti-Submarine Squadron Five aboard the anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier USS Lake Champlain, operating out of Newport, R. I.

His squadron flies anti-submarine detection missions for units of the U. S. Atlantic Fleet as part of the Fleet's "hunter-killer" team.

Ford H.D. Has Workshop On Sewing Tips

Mrs. Argen Draper was the guest speaker for the Ford Home Demonstration Club when they met last Thursday in the home of Mrs. Leroy Edwards for a clothing workshop program.

Mrs. Draper said the two most important things in sewing is to be sure the pattern is the right size and the material is on the straight of the grain.

If a lining is to be used, she related, it should be compatible with the other material. Several samples of knits, whipped cream and stretch materials were shown with the patterns suited for them.

There was also a discussion of the types of thread and stitches to be used for these materials.

Mrs. A. L. Hollingsworth, president, was the presiding officer and Mrs. John A. Smith gave a council report.

Roll call was answered with showing a problem in construction.

Co-hostesses for this meeting were Mrs. Leroy Edwards and Mrs. J. C. Gossett. Mrs. Edwards showed her hostess report which was a bedroom suite that she had refinished in "Old Master."

Mrs. Bruce Hicks was welcomed as a new member to the club and others attending were Mrs. Harry Bromman, Mrs. O. G. Heard, Mrs. Hollingsworth, Mrs. John A. Smith, Mrs. Raymond Smith, Mrs. Bruce Hicks, Mrs. J. C. Gossett, Mrs. Edwards and the guest speaker, Mrs. Draper. A salad luncheon is being planned for the May 19th meeting which is slated for 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Raymond Smith. Each member has been asked to bring her favorite salad.

TAILWATER RETURNED

Water is money to the Farmer! It means increased production and increased profit! Gifford Hill-Western can design and install a Tailwater Return System that can make your water produce more profit from your farm. Check these advantages:

1. 20 to 25 percent increase in additional water for irrigation purposes.
2. Use of a large head of water to get water to end of rows quicker, providing more uniform moisture penetration.
3. Improved plant growth because of warmer water temperature. Cold ground water causes a temporary cooling of the soil and reduces rate of growth for a few days.
4. Prevents ponding at lower end of field which interferes with plant development.

4 good reasons to learn more about a tailwater return system for your farm. Your Gifford-Hill-Western Sales Engineer or Sales Office can help you put your tailwater to work. It's the cheapest water you can pump!

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Citrus Marmalade Brightens Breakfast

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

COOKS WHO enjoy having their own batches of preserves on hand may be interested in putting up some marmalade. If you are a marmalade fan, you know how delicious the home-made product is on hot buttered toast or English muffins.

The following recipe, using oranges, lemons and grapefruit, was tested in our kitchen and produces a pleasant preserve. Because citrus fruits are high in pectin, they jell well. The trick in making marmalade is to have the fruit tender, and this recipe gives directions for achieving this result.

Marmalade-making does take time because several processes are involved. But if you gain satisfaction from being a "from scratch" cook, you'll probably think the results worth the effort.

CITRUS MARMALADE

- 2 large navel oranges
- 2 large lemons
- 1 large grapefruit
- Sugar and salt

Wash and dry oranges; cut into 4 to 6 lengthwise wedges. Discard any seeds and the stringy white centers. Slice paper-thin.

Treat lemons in the same fashion as the oranges; add to oranges.

Pare grapefruit so no white membrane remains; cut sections away from dividing membranes; slice sections into smaller pieces and add (without juice) to orange-lemon mixture. (Drink juice!) Discard grapefruit peel, dividing membranes and any seeds.

Measure the combined prepared fruit; there should be from 4 to 4 1/2 cups; add 3 cups of hot water for each cup of fruit. Cover and let stand in a cool place overnight.

The next morning, boil gently until lemon peel is tender — 30 to 45 minutes. (The test for lemon peel is given because it takes a little longer than orange peel to become tender.)

Divide the fruit mixture into 2 batches. To do this, dip up cup by cup from the bottom of the kettle so that the liquid and solids are evenly distributed. For each cup of prepared fruit, add 1 cup sugar and 1/8 teaspoon salt.

Cook each batch separately; stir over moderate heat until sugar dissolves, then boil rapidly until barely at, or not quite at, the jelling stage — this usually takes from 15 to 20 minutes. Quickly skim off any foam and pour boiling hot marmalade to within 1/8 inch from the top of pint or half-pint fruit jars. Place dome lids on jars; screw bands tight. Invert jars for 2 or 3 minutes, then stand upright to cool. If fruit rises in jars, wait until syrup begins to thicken, then shake jar to redistribute fruit. Makes 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 pints. (Prepare jars and lids according to manufacturer's directions.)

WEEKDAY DINNER

You can prepare this main dish ahead and reheat. Oxtails with Tomatoes and Peas French Bread Tossed Salad Pineapple Upside-down Cake

OXTAILS WITH TOMATOES AND PEAS

3 1/2 to 4 pounds oxtails, cut up
1 teaspoon salt mixed with 1/4 teaspoon pepper and 3 teaspoons paprika
3 medium onions chopped
1 clove garlic, crushed
1 can (1 pound) whole tomatoes undrained
1 can (1 pound) green peas, drained

Rub oxtails with mixture of seasonings. In a heavy saucepan, brown the oxtails, adding a little fat if necessary. Add the onions and garlic. Cover tightly; simmer, turning several times, until very tender — about 3 hours; add a very little water from time to time if necessary. With a slotted spoon, remove oxtails to a container; cover and refrigerate. Refrigerate gravy separately. After chilling, usually overnight, skim off fat from gravy; reheat with oxtails, tomatoes and peas, adding salt and pepper to taste. Makes 6 servings.

FAMILY DINNER

This combination of salad ingredients is first-rate. Polenta with Tomato Meat Sauce Everyone's Vegetable Salad Strawberry Spanish Cream

EVERYONE'S VEGETABLE SALAD

2 cups each torn romaine and chicory
1/2 large cucumber, pared and thinly sliced
1/4 to 1/2 small red onion, thinly sliced and separated into rings
1/2 small carrot, thinly shaved

with a vegetable parer
1/2 sweet pepper (preferable red cut into thin strips)
French dressing

Turn all the ingredients except the dressing into a salad bowl and chill. Just before serving, toss with dressing. Makes 6 servings.

SATURDAY PARTY

Nice for a crowd!

- Tossed Cheese Rolls
- Fresh Fruit
- Modern Chocolate Fudge

MODERN CHOCOLATE FUDGE

2 packages (12 ounces each) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 jar (about 1 pint) marshmallow cream
1 can (14 1/2 ounces) evaporated milk, undiluted
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 1/2 cups sugar
1/8 teaspoon salt

Into a large deep mixing bowl, turn the chocolate and marshmallow cream; reserve. Turn the remaining ingredients into a 3-quart saucepan; cook and stir constantly over medium heat until sugar is dissolved. Bring to a boil; boil, stirring constantly, for 6 minutes. Pour over reserved chocolate and marshmallow cream; stir until blended. Turn into 2 greased 8-inch square baking pans. Cool. Cover with saran and allow to stand in a cool place or refrigerate until firm enough to cut — overnight if necessary. Makes about 4 pounds soft fudge.

REP. ROGERS REPORTS

On Goldfish, Marathon Dances And The Kooks

By WALTER ROGERS
U. S. Representative

I remember quite well when I was at the University, the marathon dance fad swept the Country. A poor bedraggled couple would dance, or perhaps "stand and shake" would be a better term for it, until they dropped from utter exhaustion. The two who avoided total exhaustion longest would win the prize. The fad caught on to the extent that there were some pretty sizable money prizes being offered to the nuts who had little enough sense to strain their mental and physical facilities in such a manner.

It was the prize money that probably appealed to most of the college students who participated, and there were a great many. Food and lodging were hard to come by in those days, and I suppose some of the folks thought that since they had no place to go and nothing to eat, they might as well dance and maybe win a prize.

A FEW YEARS later it became the popular fad to eat goldfish, without benefit of the frying pan, that is. Just simply reach into the fish bowl, grab one by the tail, and swallow him whole. This practice did not last too long, probably due to the lack of participants who were willing to pay any price for a little publicity, or a shortage of goldfish that increased the price to the extent that only the well-to-do could enjoy the game. I have always suspected that it was the desire to the individual to be noticed that prompted most of these crazy ideas.

Then, along came the flag pole sitting era. Some screwball with nothing more to do would pack a light lunch, tuck a pillow under his arm, skin the nearest flag pole and perch on top of it until inclement weather or total exhaustion drove him down. I don't know who finally won the title, or who presently holds it, but I do think that the prize should have been a minimum of two years in some mental institution.

AFTER THE FLAG pole era came the practice of seeing how many young people could get into a telephone booth. I don't know how many finally succeeded, but I was of the firm opinion when this was going on that the best solution to that problem would be to lock the telephone booth after they were all in and disconnect the telephone.

Then came a period when Russian roulette was popular. This was discontinued, I understand, because too many were losing the game and the ranks of the "kooks" (formerly known as nuts, screwballs, and crackpots) were being thinned alarmingly. It is also pointed out that those who lost the game and received the publicity which they were seeking were unable to enjoy it.

WE ARE NOW going through another similar era in which these same type eccentrics are engaging in marches, demonstrations, and sit-ins. They daily parade in front of the White House or any place that they think they can receive attention. They pose as representing all shades of the political spectrum, the economic spectrum, and the spiritual spectrum. They invade the halls of the Nation's Capitol and other public buildings, and engage in what they call civil disobedience.

In a great many instances, this so-called civil disobedience is nothing less than a violation of criminal statutes and ordinances for which the participants should be held responsible.

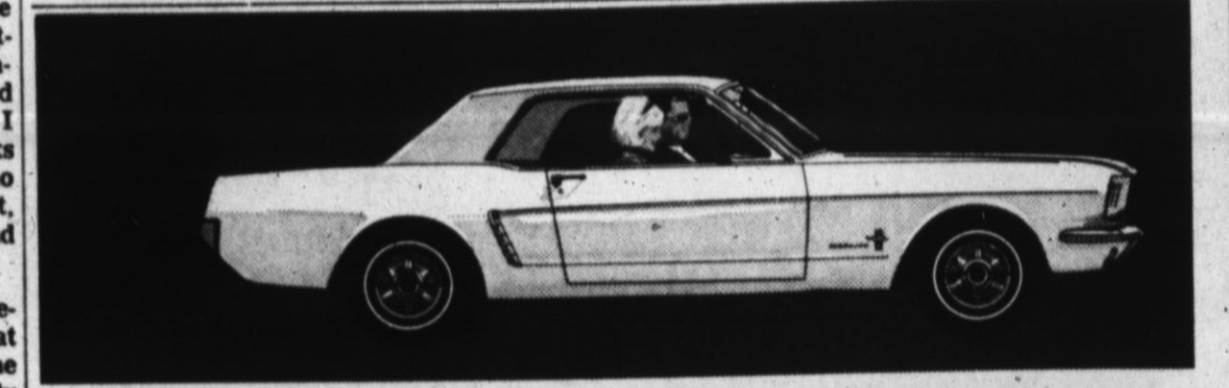

THEIR ACTIONS and deeds encroach upon and invade the rights of honest, law-abiding citizens who are the basic strength of this Nation. The laws of this Nation and all of its States provide for proper hearing and redress of the grievances of any individual citizen or any group. It was never intended by the founders of this Country or those who firmly believe in its Constitution that the practices being employed at the present time should be tolerated.

A great number of these people are doing nothing more or less than seeking publicity. They look forward to the appearance of their names in newspapers and periodicals, or their faces on television. Their right to do this would not be challenged by anyone so long as they do not violate the rights of other individuals and the public. When their activities do so they should be dealt with accordingly and without delay. A good dose of no publicity and a night or two in the County jail might be the proper remedy. At least it would test their sincerity.

As one member of Congress so ably put it to a group of kooks who had invaded his office: "If you are sincere in wanting to protect my rights, I wish you would go shave and take a bath first."

Trades Dentist Coat For That Of Stewardess

DALLAS (AP) — Dr. Carol Dietz has taken off the white jacket of a dentist and replaced it with an airline stewardess' uniform. She recently was graduated from the American Airlines Stewardess College at Greater Southwest International Airport and was assigned Chicago as her home base.

"I've wanted this ever since I took my first plane ride," she said.

WHEN WAS HER first flight? "On my way to dental school. By that time it was too late." She attended Northwestern University Dental School and then practiced a year and a half in her home state of California. Miss Dietz maintained that she enjoys dental work but complained, "I got tired of staying in the same place. I am at an age where if I were going to be a stewardess — well it was now or never."

SHE IS 26 and American's maximum age for applications is 27.

Many applications are made by young women who know the job is an excellent one for meeting marriageable men.

"Right now marriage doesn't appeal to me," said Miss Dietz. "I went to school with nothing but men and I learned a lot about them."

Stormy Week Worries Austin

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — In the stormiest week of the 59th Legislature, House and Senate deadlocked over the entwined issues of longer terms of office and addition of eight more senatorial districts.

Whatever the outcome, many feared resulting hard feelings from the feud would so dent harmony that finishing up necessary business at hand without a special session would be difficult indeed.

BIG PROBLEM began when some representatives, as the price of going along with a constitutional amendment to give statewide officials four-year terms, demanded the same consideration.

House tacked onto a Senate proposal to increase membership of the upper house from 31 to 39 (and increase senatorial terms to six years) a provision for four-year terms for representatives, too.

Senate had decided its pet proposed constitutional amendment to enlarge membership to 39 should be submitted to an election on August 7 without the controversial term attachment.

HOUSE STRIPPED a Senate

compromise calling for a November election on lengthened terms for both houses (as a separate proposal) of the six-year senatorial term provision.

Senate-retaliated by threatening to block the House version of legislative redistricting and leave reapportionment up to federal courts.

Also caught in the backwash of the feud were such major legislative items as the state budget, congressional redistricting and teacher pay raises.

Both houses played a rough game of bluff, bluster and brinkmanship in efforts to break the logjam of their own, advantage. Even the best solution appeared likely to leave some deep scars on the face of harmony.

TAX DEFERRAL — Resolution authorizing a constitutional amendment to give special tax consideration to farm land needs six more House votes for passage.

Constitutional amendments require 100 votes for passage, but the resolution's sponsors, Rep. Bill Dungan of McKinney, Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton and Rep. Wayne Connally of Floresville, could muster only 96.

If passed by the Legislature and approved by voters, the amendment would require tax assessor-collectors to put two values, for agricultural land on tax rolls — the valuation based on income from agricultural purposes and the non-agricultural (or speculative) valuation.

Land owner would pay taxes based on the presumably lower agricultural valuation. However, if he sold the land, he'd have to pay the difference between the two values for the three previous years.

Valuation would affect all taxes — city, county, state and school district.

TAKES TALKED — Top-level lawmakers are speculating on possibility of a two-cents-a-pack cigarette tax boost and extension of the two per cent sales tax levy to all alcoholic beverages (now exempt).

Increased spending — including teacher pay raises and medicare costs — may make as much as $100,000,000 in new taxation necessary, some believe.

About $50,000,000 could be raised from the cigarette tax boost and $21,000,000 from placing the retail sales levy on liquor and beer, according to reliable estimates.

Another $12,000,000 could be gained by extending the "temporarily" increased corporation franchise taxation level, observers noted.

A joint conference committee continues to wrestle with the general budget bill, which has been delayed nearly two weeks beyond the "deadline" previously set by House Speaker Ben Barnes.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor John Connally named Mills Cox of Gay Hill in Washington County, Grover A. Pitts of Brownwood and Robert B. Gilmore of Dallas to Texas Water Development Board.

Cox, succeeding C. Y. Mills of Mission, was designated chairman. A native from Dublin, he is a retired president of Transwestern Pipeline.

Senate confirmed appointments of Carlos Cadena of San Antonio as associate justice of Fourth Court of Civil Appeals; Dr. J. W. Edgar of Austin as Texas Commissioner of Education; and William S. Lott of Georgetown to State School Land Board.

SCHOOL APPROVED — Two weeks after he first recommended creation of new James Connally Technical Institute at Waco, Governor Connally received final legislative authorization and signed the bill into law.

Institute at old Connally Air Force Base is scheduled to go into operation September, 1966, just three months after the $41,000,000 installation will be deactivated militarily.

It will be administered by Texas A & M University, authorized by the new legislation to accept the base from the federal government. Installation includes 107 permanent buildings, 866 housing units, and 2,228 acres of land.

"INDIAN TERRITORY" — Heap-big doings are planned on the old Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation near Livingston.

Bill by Reps. Emmett Lack of Kountze and Will Smith of Beaumont to create a State Commission for Indian Affairs to run the reservation received approval of House Committee on State Hospitals and Special Schools.

Smith said the commission would help the Indian Tribal council achieve self-sufficiency for its 550 people, largely through tourism.

More than 400,000 people would visit the reservation each year if it is properly developed, predicted Supervisor Walter Broemer. He outlined plans to provide a lake, amphitheater, museums and an arts and crafts shop.

OIL CUT ORDERED — Railroad Commission ordered oil production for May held to 27.2 per cent of potential with allowable set at 2,800,000 barrels a day.

April's 28.5 per cent order permitted a 2,900,000 barrel daily maximum.

May, 1964, production was 2,800,000 barrels under 28.5 per cent order.

OIL BILL ADVANCED — Senate Oil and Gas Committee approved the bill extending to independent oil purchasers ratable taking requirements.

Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association said recent pipeline proration makes the bill needed. Another bill to require major purchasers to purchase ratably within an area was sent to subcommittee for two weeks. TIPRO spokesman said bill would allow the Railroad Commission to force purchasers to extend lines into new areas which may otherwise have trouble selling production.

OVERHAUL EYED — Senate State Affairs Committee agreed to major changes in state unemployment compensation program.

Bill by Sen. Culp Krueger of El Campo would disqualify for four to eight weeks those who quit their jobs voluntarily or get fired for misconduct.

Another provision would authorize increase in employer contributions to jobless benefits from 2.7 per cent to 4.5 per cent — but not more than .8 per cent in a single year.

PRESTIGE LICENSES — If your name happens to be Sam, for example, you can get it printed on your auto license plates under a new act of the Legislature.

Bill authorizing prestige license tags (for an additional $10) was passed and sent to the governor, who recommended it. Anticipated revenue of $5,000,000 per year will go to tourist and industrial development program.

AG OPINIONS — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has held that the bill authorizing refund to city transit companies of three-fourths of their state gasoline payments is unconstitutional. In other opinions, Carr ruled that:

It's illegal for a motor hotel to give free beer or mixed drinks to guests or to transport liquor into dry areas;

Justices of the peace in counties over 500,000 population can conduct inquests and order autopsies in absence of official medical examiner.

SHORT SNORTS — Senate tentatively passed Texas "Little Hoover Commission" bill, sponsored by Sen. Bill Patman of Ganado and Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria, to study state governmental economy, after 22-day delay . . . Bill by Sen. Walter Rich-ley of Gonzales raising the per diem of State Soil Conservation members from $10 to $20 a day is ready for the governor's signature . . . House Speaker Ben Barnes of DeLeon (at 26, the youngest speaker ever elected to the House since Reconstruction days) was feted during the biennial "Speaker's Day" on Tuesday April 27 . . . Lower Colorado River Authority adopted a resolution changing the name of the lake where the President likes to spend summer weekends boating from Lake Granite Shoals to Lake Lyndon B. Johnson . . . State draft boards have been called on to furnish 41 physicians for the armed forces, the state's share of a national call for 650 doctors.

STUDENT TEACHER — DENTON (Special) — Darwin Carl Miller of Hereford is among some 672 North Texas State University students serving as student teachers in Dallas-Fort Worth-Denton area schools during the spring semester.

Food Personnel To Host Supper

Personnel of the Hereford schools food service will sponsor a spaghetti and meat balls dinner from 5 to 8 p.m. Saturday at the Junior-Senior High School cafeteria.

Proceeds will be used to pay expenses of members of the group to the school food service workshop at Texas Tech beginning June 7.

Tickets, available at the door, will be 50 cents for children and $1 for adults. A bake sale also will be held in conjunction with the supper. Homemade pies, cakes, cookies, cinnamon rolls and bread will be available.

The menu will include tossed salad, crescent rolls, butter, coffee or tea, a desert choice and spaghetti and meat balls.

ANCHORED

Do you have an anchor? Ships without anchors will drift. People without anchors will drift too. Do you know where to drop your anchor? Can you say, "My heart is fixed trusting in the Lord?" Psalms 112:7. Are you an anchor holding family and friends together? Is your anchor imbedded deeply in truth and righteousness? Phil. 1:28.

EVERY MAN must answer to God and to his own conscience. The sins we do by two and two; we must answer for one by one. If God holds your soul, your feet will never be moved, Psalms 66:9. Do right though the Heavens fall. Be true even if all others are false. The Church, the Bible and daily prayer are sure anchors for every man.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that purity and holiness are showered with benedictions that glorify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religion's great character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" — form a combination for peace. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

GOV. CONNALLY SAYS

Litterbugs Rob Residents Of New Highway Mileage

AUSTIN (Special) — Texas motorists paid for many miles of new highways last year. But they never were built.

Governor Connally emphasized this point in accepting the first of a quarter-million litter bags given to the Texas Highway Department by the Galveston Chamber of Commerce and the Galveston Convention and Tourist Bureau.

The bags will be distributed to motorists at each of the eight Tourist Information Centers located at points of entry on key highways of the State and in the Capitol rotunda.

"THE TEXAS Highway Department is charged with the construction and maintenance of the State's superb 66,000-mile highway system," Governor Connally said. He added:

"But the truth is that more than $1.5 million of taxes levied on highway users is wasted each year to pick up litter thrown along the right of way by careless motorists. This money could better be used to build more miles of new highways, and to protect the taxpayers' $4 billion investment in our existing system."

THE BAGS WERE donated by the Galveston Chamber of Commerce to encourage litter control among out-of-state visitors. They also bear a message of invitation to visit the Galveston Island resort area.

D. C. Greer, State Highway

Engineer, pointed out that approximately 12 million visitors come to Texas each year.

"These visitors represent an industry of more than one-half billion dollars a year," Greer said. "We hope that Texans will become conscious of our litter problem and help us present a 'clean house' for our paying guests."

The Texas Highway Department has distributed litter bags through the Tourist Information Centers for many years. However, this is the first instance that any organization has donated such a large number of bags for free distribution.

SOME 400 THOUSAND tourists visited the Information Centers last year. Besides litter bags, nearly two million pieces of travel-oriented literature were handed out. In addition, Information Center personnel encouraged tourists to extend their trip to visit other Texas scenic and historical attractions.

Presentation of the first litter bag was at a ceremony held in the State Capitol. Edwin D. Hunter, president of the Galveston Chamber of Commerce, presented the initial bag to Governor Connally. He said:

"Galveston merchants who are financing the purchase of these bags are very happy to try to help solve the State's litter problem. We are intensely interested in the tourist program. Only by presenting clean, inviting attractions can we hope to encourage out-of-state visitors to come to Texas again, and again, and again."

Present at the ceremony besides the Governor and Hunter were Greer; John McCann, president of the Galveston Convention and Tourist Bureau, and Pam Latham, travel counselor at the Tourist Information Center in the Capitol rotunda.

Electric Co-op's Annual Meet Set

Registration for the annual meeting of the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative begins at 10 a.m. today at the Bull Barn.

A barbecue is set for noon. Election of two directors and the distribution of $194,000 in capital credit checks for the year 1964 highlights the agenda.

The finals of an oratorical contest which will send two contestants, a boy and a girl, on the 11-day, expenses paid trip to Washington, D. C., also is on the schedule.

Is Named Outstanding Airman At Lubbock

LUBBOCK (Special) — Airman First Class Nicholas J. Fank, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Fank Sr. of R. R. 2, Bird Island, Minn., has been selected Outstanding Airman of the Quarter in his Air Training Command (ATC) unit at Reese AFB.

Airman Fank, an administrative specialist, was chosen for the honor in recognition of his exemplary conduct and duty performance. His unit supports the ATC mission of training airman and officers in the diverse skills required by the nation's aerospace force.

The airman, a graduate of St. Mary's High School, is married to the former Norma A. Frazier of 2010 Bradley St., Hereford, Tex.

The 1964 Youth Photography Award, sponsored by the Family Ministry of West Germany, produced 7,000 entries. Eighty-five were boys but more than 25 per cent of the 43 top prizes were won by girls.

SAYS KINGVILLE PROFESSOR

Stuttering Therapy Starts With Stabilizing Child's Home Life

KINGVILLE (Special) — When Dr. Jack P. Clark wants to help a child who stutters, he helps the parents first.

Dr. Clark is professor of speech at Texas A & M College here, and holds advanced clinical certification in speech therapy.

Stuttering classes for parents begin before the child starts school.

HE ENCOURAGES parents to stabilize their home life, making it as pleasant and calm as possible.

Dr. Clark suggests that children get plenty of rest and go to bed at a regular time, for increased speech difficulty follows fatigue.

Children need to be shown plenty of love and should not be treated as if their speech difficulty sets them apart, says the speech expert.

When a child makes a mistake or stutters, he should not be corrected. If the parents set a good speech example by using good grammar and speaking in an unhurried manner, children will try to do the same.

"ONE OF THE worst things a parent can do when a child stutters," Dr. Clark said recently, "is to stop him and say, 'now, stop and start all over,' or 'slow down!'"

At the moment he is working with college students with speech problems.

"When working with college students who stutter, we first try to get rid of the secondary afflictions that bother them, such as twitching or facial contortions," said the professor. He does this by working with them in front of mirrors.

STUTTERERS must be taught to relax and this takes practice. A stutterer knows in advance when he is going to stutter. He can feel the muscles in his throat begin to tighten. We try to get them to relax before the muscle spasm hits."

Dr. Clark said adult stutterers can overcome their difficulty if they faithfully practice the corrective exercises and really try to improve their speaking.

Dr. Clark said three times as many boys as girls stutter, while more girls than boys lisped.

Local Students In WT Musical Comedy 'Kismet'

Four former Hereford High School students will appear in the musical comedy "Kismet," which opens May 5th in the West Texas State University Branding Iron Theater.

Appearing in the fast-moving Arabian knight-styled comedy are Joe Ella McGee, Ken Betzen, David Dziuk and Jim Dziuk. Ticket sales for the production begin today. The presentation is slated for May 5-8 and May 12-15 at 8:15 p.m. in the Branding Iron Theater.

Betzen appears in one of the key roles as the villain who is outdone by the so-called good people (who resort to some rather off-color tactics themselves) in a rollicking series of events.

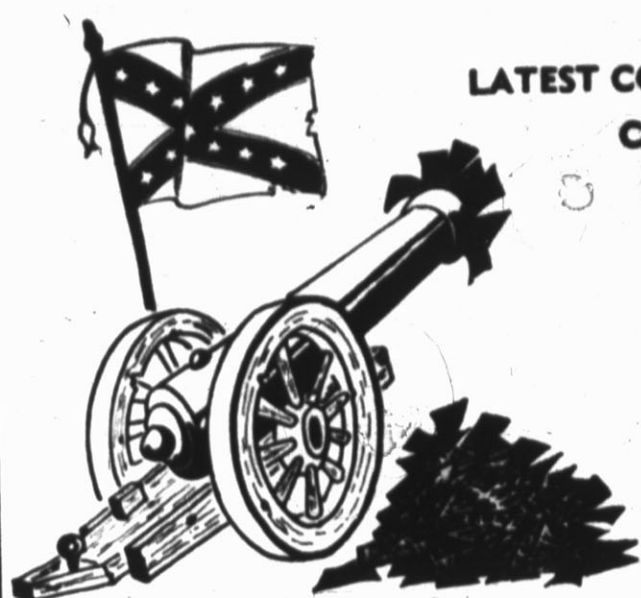

Local ACC Student Is Play Director

ABILENE (Special) — Jackie Fooks, Hereford junior, will direct William Inge's one-act play, "Come Back Little Sheba," next week at Abilene Christian College.

Miss Fooks, speech major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Fooks, 320 Star, Hereford. All seminar speech and drama majors are required to direct a one-act play.
