

Tierra Blanca Creek Problem Solutions Start Shaping Up

State Officials Say Cooperation Excellent

By WAIN MILLER
News Editor

The problem of water pollution in Tierra Blanca Creek is being tackled by Hereford industries "with utmost cooperation," a state official in charge of water pollution control groundwork told the Brand in a telephone interview Friday.

He made the comment moments after learning that one Hereford meat packing plant has ceased all practices which might in any way add to the problem.

Chase Ends In Lake

Four persons were jailed Friday night in connection with a chase with city police, a deputy sheriff, and a unit of the Texas Highway Patrol.

The four eluded police for awhile after the chase by running into a field after they drove their auto into a lake north of Hereford.

The Highway Patrolmen and a deputy sheriff searched the fields with the aid of search lights from a fire truck.

ONE OF THE youths called the sheriff's office from a farm house later and told them of his location, and city officers picked him up there. Two of the youths were picked up at a potato shed where they work, and the fourth was arrested when a Highway Patrolman accompanied his wife to near the location of the auto.

The driver of the auto, identified by officers as Marvin Edward Tohm, 26, 606 Knight, was charged with two charges by city police, and four charges by the Highway Patrol.

A $25 bond was posted by Tohm on a charge of running a stop sign, and he was given ten days to appear on a speeding charge filed in City Court.

A total of $286 in fines was levied against him in Justice of the Peace Court on charges of speeding, failure to stop at a stop sign, failure to signal left turn, and failure to yield to a stop intersection.

THREE OTHER youths posted bond in city court, identified as Michael Henry Timms, 17, Forrest Ave. apartments, $25 bond for littering a public street; Roger Lee Neussendorfer, 18, Forrest Ave. apartments, $25 bond on a charge of minor conduct. See CHASE on Page 2

And moments following the conversation with a Brand reporter, Hereford's mayor and city manager walked into the Austin office to offer their aid in helping to solve the problem.

A few days earlier, the state Water Pollution Control board office of the State Health Agency had received an official application for a waste discharge permit for another Hereford industry.

ALL OF THESE are typical of the cooperation extended to the state water pollution control office by persons interested in the Tierra Blanca Creek pollution problem, said Hugh Yantis, executive-secretary of the Austin pollution control office.

He said that moments before the Brand called to check on developments in the movement to clean up Tierra Blanca, a Hereford slaughterhouse operator had informed him that any pollution his firm might have been causing definitely came to a complete stop Wednesday.

Pete Caviness, owner of Caviness Packing Co., said that his plant is installing open air oxidation ponds to handle all wastes.

THIS PROJECT has been in the mill for more than two years, Caviness said. He also commented that a recent series of articles appearing in an Amarillo newspaper, pointing a finger at slaughterhouses along the Tierra Blanca was not responsible for his firm's decision to install the waste control measure.

Caviness and a consulting engineer contacted the state water pollution control agency long before. See TIERRA on Page 2

RECORDS PROGRAM EXPLAINED

Bavousett Named Prexy For Hereford Breeders

Hereford Breeders Association members, their wives and guests were challenged to do "everything possible to meet the needs of the beef industry" and offered details on a tool to help them do so at the group's first annual banquet Friday night.

And a new slate of officers, headed by Steve Bavousett of Dawn as president, was elected. Some 60 persons were present for the event, held in the Caisson House.

ISSUING the challenge to the registered Hereford breeders was John Jones, Kansas City Mo., director of the American Hereford Association's Total Performance Records program. Earlier, two Hereford 4-H Club members were presented checks from the Hereford Breeders Association in honor of their stock show wins at Hereford and Amarillo.

County Agent Justin McBride presented checks on behalf of the association to Bill Cole and Margaret and Nancy Minks. Cole showed the grand champion calf at the Amarillo Junior Fat Stock Show a few days after

Margaret Minks earned the grand champion honor at the Hereford show and exhibited the reserve champion at Amarillo. McBride, in making the presentation, said that although Margaret showed the calf, it had been groomed for the shows jointly by Margaret and Nancy. JONES COMMENDED the two junior exhibitors later for their accomplishments while commenting that a "good livestock show has much value in helping to determine the proper stock for herd improvement." Members of the association elected Bavousett to head the See BAVOSETT on Page 2

MANY AID PROJECT

Race Track Work Gets Send-Off

Some 50 persons were on hand early Saturday afternoon as ground was officially broken for an oval race track to be known as Hereford Raceway.

BEING BUILT by an organization titled Hereford Racing Association, the track is to be located some three miles east of Hereford, adjacent to Hereford Feed Yards.

City officials and representatives of several other organizations were on hand for the ceremony marking the beginning of construction of the quarter-mile oval.

Clay Lindsey, president of Hereford Racing Association and Bill Byers, chairman of the track building committee, said the track should be completed by April 1.

THE DIRT track is being built, Byers said, in order to provide a place for area teenagers and adults to race "stocker" autos and motorcycles.

He said that several individuals and merchants were supporting the project and that the track will be operated as a non-profit organization.

Entrants in races at the track will be limited to those who have autos conforming to accepted stocker racing safety standards, he pointed out.

He said that the track will be the only one in the area where teenagers may compete in stock car races.

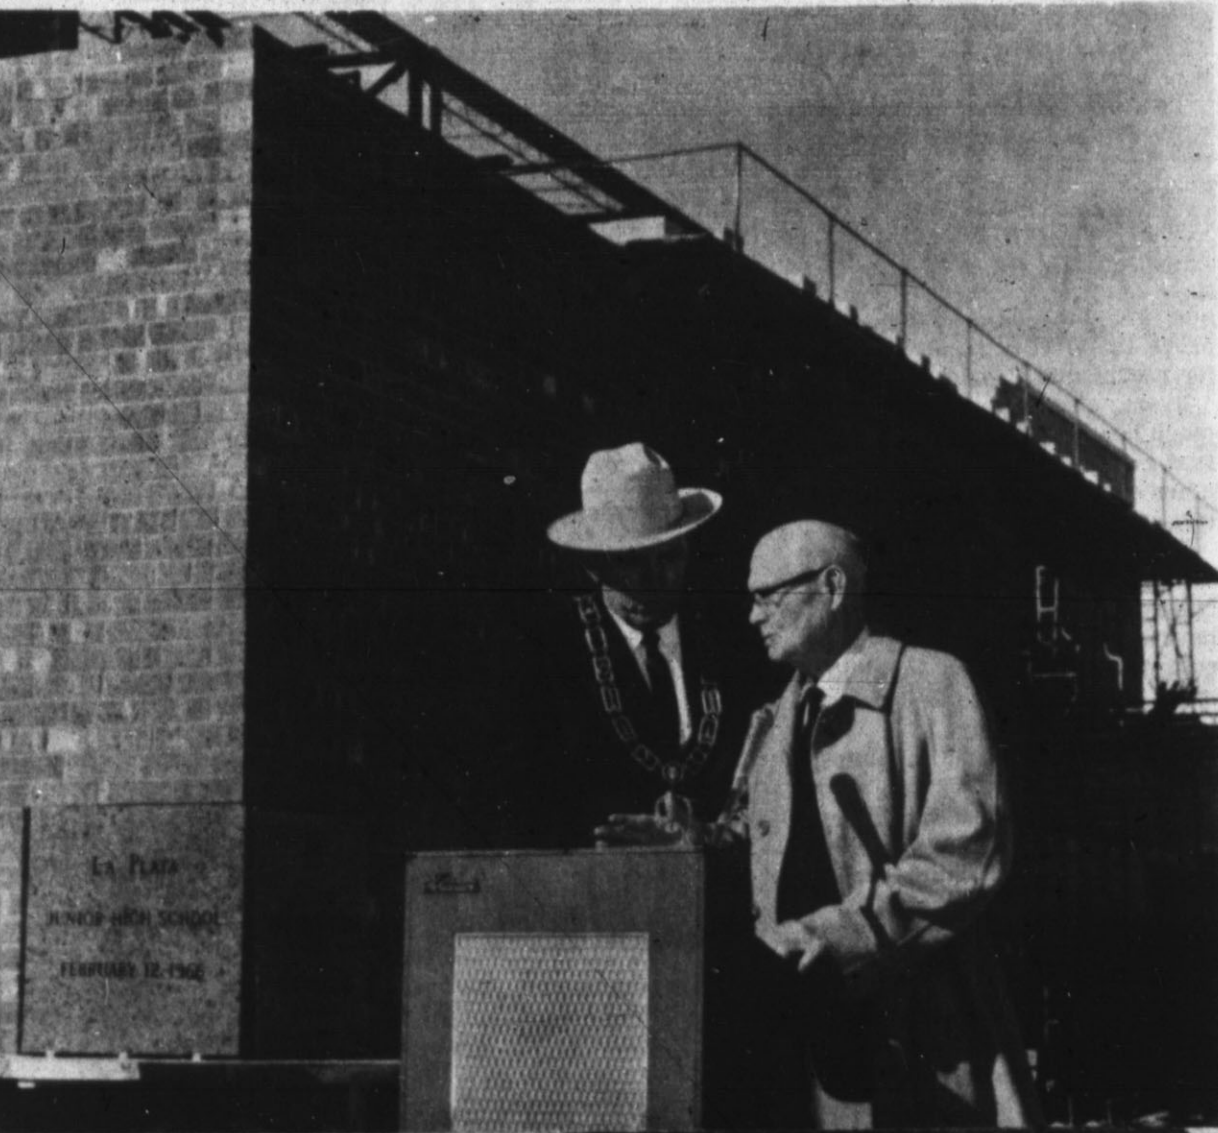

"SOME PEOPLE may not understand what we mean by stockers," a spokesman said. "These are old, inexpensive autos which have been altered to provide driver safety more than anything else."

Teenagers wishing to compete on the track must furnish written permission from parents, it was pointed out.

Also included in plans for the track is a motorcycle course inside the larger oval for autos. THIS WILL provide racing room for motorcycle enthusiasts from throughout the area.

Byers said the track is being built as a result of "many teenagers, and adults too, who want a place to race on Sunday afternoon."

"The cars running out here will be safe in every respect. See RACE on Page 2

LEVEL CORNERSTONE — H. W. Fullingim, Grand Master of Masons in Texas, headed the program for a cornerstone levelling ceremony at La Plata Junior High here Saturday. ### IN SYMBOLIC CEREMONY

Cornerstone Placed

In a symbolic ceremony Saturday afternoon, Hereford's newest school project received a cornerstone leveled by the Grand Master of Masons in Texas.

Some 200 persons watched the ceremony and heard H. W. Fullingim, Grand Master Mason in Texas, of Odessa, outline the significance of the occasion.

The cornerstone was placed on La Plata Junior High School, currently under construction in northwest Hereford at a cost of some $875 thousand.

ASSISTING the Grand Master in the ceremony were numerous Masons from throughout the Hereford area.

The cornerstone was furnished by the Grand Lodge of Texas. On hand were representatives of Hereford schools, and other local organizations.

AMONG THOSE present was Vern Witherspoon, a Deaf Smith County resident for the past 77 years, who quipped "I once owned the whole town of La Plata" — the one-time county seat which gives the junior high its name.

The town was active until just prior to the turn of the century, when most residents picked ed up and moved to what is now Hereford.

Witherspoon, who was one of 17 students in the La Plata school in 1890, explained that "it was after the people left when I owned La Plata."

THIS WAS a lighter moment in an otherwise serious ceremony symbolizing the cementing together of good lives, just as the cornerstone was cemented to the brick surrounding it.

Also featured on the program was Jack Hightower of Wichita Falls, Grand Orator for Masons in Texas.

"It is important that each following generation know what the Lord hath given the people of Hereford in the form of this school," he commented concerning the reason for the cornerstone.

Prior to the leveling of the cornerstone, those on hand for the ceremony had the opportunity to insert items into a metal box to be sealed in the cornerstone.

Special programs of instruction and services in the Hereford School System will be discussed in a symposium at a meeting of the Deaf Smith County Unit of Texas State Teachers Association at 7 p. m. Monday in the high school auditorium.

Interested parents are invited to the program, Miss Della Stagner, unit president, announces. Mrs. Alice Christian is program director and Robert Thompson, high school counselor, will be moderator for the symposium.

Congratulations to the 1966 Basketball Homecoming Queen and her attendants. Charlotte Hill is the Queen and her court consists of Barbie Rhodes, senior; Debbie Thomas, sophomore; and Becky Owen, freshman. The Queen and her attendants were presented to the student body in a rip-roaring pep rally Friday afternoon.

The Herd will play its final game against Dumas Tuesday. It should be well worth attending. So ya'll come and yell!

FRIDAY WAS a day filled with excitement at H. H. S. Not only was it Homecoming but someone set one of the "trash cans" on fire during fifth period. Necks craned to hear the roar of sirens outside of the school. But noses went up as the wind blew the "aroma" of the contents on fire into the school.

IT LOOKED like a great disaster at first. There were many of the usual comments heard from the high school set. Some were, "yeah! the school's on fire," "they burned the food in the cafeteria again," and witty Mike Paschal was heard to say "Calmly leave the school, it is on fire, this is a recording." Well, from the mouths of babes.

Members of the football team received their new letter jackets. The jackets are the traditional maroon with white leather sleeves.

Cynthia Leasure is a living example that impromptu parties are the best. Tuesday night after the basketball game Cynthia had members of the teams and anyone else who desired to come to her home for hot chocolate, pop corn, dip and chips, and chatter. It was a good morale booster after the loss to Canyon.

HAVE YOU noticed that some of the boys who have always looked so "clean cut" are looking a little rugged lately? They aren't losing their all-Americanism, they're just growing beards for Western Day. Some of the felas with the shadow are John Perrin, Wynn Buck, Robby Lemons, Biggy Mims, and Roger Owen, just to name a few. Steve Hodges did have one but he "just couldn't take it."

Our first baseball game is scheduled to be here March 8 with Palo Duro of Amarillo. That's a sure sign of spring, which we really need with this ridiculous weather. Who ever saw it snow with the sun shining?

In life there is nothing more unexpected and surprising than the arrivals and departures of pleasure. If we find it in one place today, it is vain to seek there tomorrow. You can not lay a trap for it. — Alexander Smith fore commencing construction of the packing plant here, which opened in 1964.

At that time, Caviness received permission to use the temporary system until further arrangements could be made.

ASKED ABOUT other steps to clear up the Tierra Blanca problem, Yantis replied, "You can be assured that things are going fairly good and are picking up steam all along.

"It is going along slow, all right, but no slower than can be expected and I think it will all work out very satisfactorily." He said that another Hereford industry had officially applied for a waste discharge permit in order to comply with state rulings regarding water pollution.

The name of the firm was not available to the Brand. Yantis explained that an engineer representing the water pollution control board would be in Hereford to check out the application soon.

"THIS WILL not be a blanket investigation, but merely an engineering study of the application presented by the firm, as is done in all waste discharge applications which reach our office," Yantis explained.

In other developments, Yantis said that his office had compiled a complete list of all industries bordering the Tierra Blanca and that letters of inquiry are being mailed to them.

"We are asking each business to review its operations and in effect see whether water pollution control statutes apply to them," Yantis said.

He said that no dates had been set for visits to Hereford and that when they do occur, it will be only to check out any applications reaching the office, which has also received many replies from letters previously sent to Hereford firms.

City manager Dudley Bayne and Hereford mayor Ray Cowsert, in Austin Friday on other business, visited Yantis.

They told the Brand Saturday that they had checked concerning the city sewer treatment plant. Yantis said there is no violation of state regulations along this line.

"We are all interested in this thing and it looks like it will work out fine," Mayor Cowsert said.

OUTLINING THE registered Hereford breeders' role in today's beef cattle industry, Jones began by saying, "The overall beef cattle industry has but one purpose, to supply the expanding population with high-protein, tender, and tasty beef."

To meet this goal requires successful upgrading methods by all segments of the industry — retailer, packer, and commercial feeder — but perhaps most of all on the breeder, Jones asserted.

"We as purebred breeders must produce the stock to meet these demands," he continued. "IN ORDER to help breeders accomplish this purpose, the American Hereford Association has installed the workings for and successfully launched its Total Performance Record TP

R) service to give the breeder more information to use in determining which of his stock can be relied upon for in-herd improvement," Jones said.

He explained that through TPR, breeders can keep permanent records of individual stock in order to compare qualities of offspring, production costs, and market returns.

"USING TPR, it soon becomes evident which lines of animals within a herd are superior quality and which are not. This information is valuable to the breeder in many ways, both in in-herd improvement and for sales purposes."

He concluded by saying that "good sound judgement of a cattleman can never be replaced, but TPR has proved valuable in helping the Hereford breeder do all he can to meet the goals of the beef cattle industry."

USDA Approves Deaf Smith For Farmer Measures

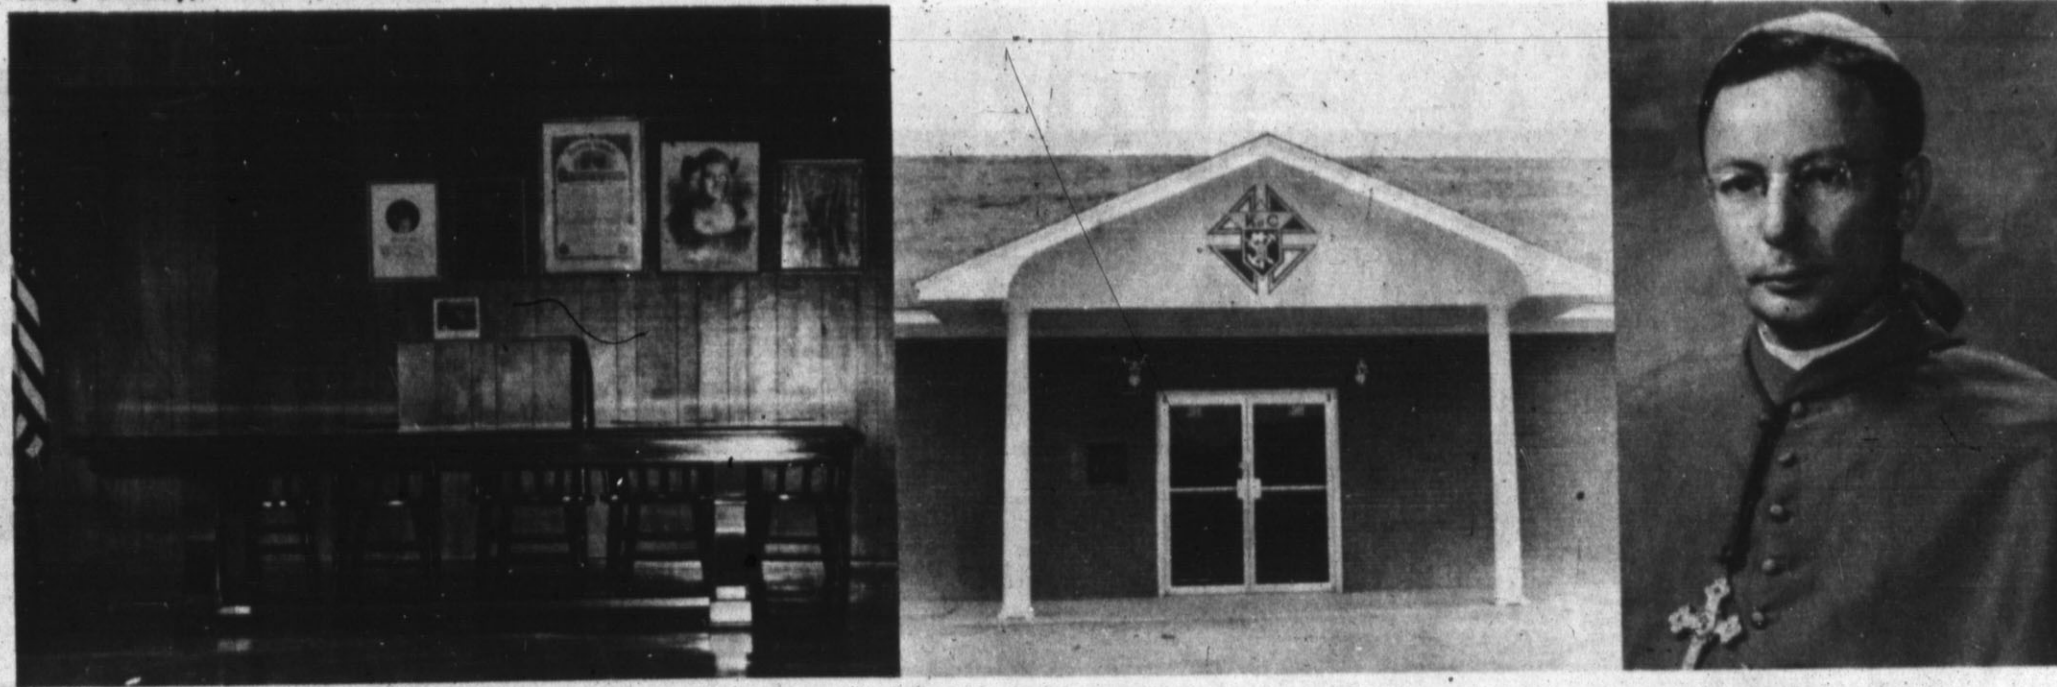

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has approved 16 of the 23 Texas High Plains counties for accepting producer certification of planted cotton acreage in 1966.

They are Bailey, Castro, Crosby, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Farmer, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum. In Deaf Smith County the approval applies only to cotton, but in all the others it applies as well to wheat and feed grain acreage. ASCS personnel will measure acreage in the other seven counties as in the past.

THIS IS a part of a pilot project which USDA is trying to reduce ASCS operating costs by letting farmers measure their own acreage and then certify to the accuracy of their measurement at the ASCS office. Probably about one-fourth of the self-measured farms will be checked later.

Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., doesn't think very many farmers will do their own measuring because of the stiff penalties imposed in the event of error, even within the allowable tolerance.

A farmer will be found not in full compliance if he winds up with an excess acreage of cotton, a deficiency of diverted acres or acreage in excess of his allotment on another farm. BUT UNLESS the county ASCS committee determines that a scheme to defeat the objectives of the program is involved, producers will be allowed a certain tolerance without losing all payments and other program benefits. Planted or diverted acreage may deviate from that the farmer has certified to by no more than the larger of two acres or five percent of the farm allotment, but not more than 15 acres in any case.

If the farmer's measurement error falls within this tolerance, he will still be penalized in the form of reduced payments. If the error exceeds this range, the producer will lose all program benefits and be required to return any payment already made to him with six percent interest. And after certification of acreage, he will not be permitted to plow up the overage in order to get back in compliance.

Within the established tolerance, the penalty is "only" twice the loan rate (21 cents) times the projected yield for the farm times the acreage by which the farm fails to fully comply. Therefore a farmer with 200 acre allotment could overplant up to 10 acres without losing all program benefits. But he would be subject to a per-acre penalty of 42 cents per pound times his projected yield the penalty would come to $210 per acre or a total of $2100.

Johnson feels that with such a severe penalty farmers will not be able to afford the chance of error. And by having the ASCS office either pre-measure cotton land or measure it soon after planting, the danger of having payments reduced can be avoided. Otherwise, a producer would almost be forced to plant well below his allotted acreage, just to be sure he wasn't overplanting.

ASCS WILL charge a fee for either pre-plant or post-plant cost to the farmer, according to Lubbock County ASCS Office Manager Walter Wells, will be $10 per farm, plus $5 per plot measured, plus 5 cents per acre, and the farmer will also be required to pay 9 cents per mile for whatever mileage is involved.

Even so, farmers will recognize that a $40 or $50 measuring expense is insignificant in comparison to the consequences of an error made in self-measurement. And because of this fact, the farmer certification of acreage plan is not apt to reduce the cost of ASCS operations at all, but will merely shift a part of the cost to the farmer. Some believe this to have been the intent of the whole thing from the beginning.

The fee for measuring acreage after planting has not been set, but Wells says it will be only about half as much as the pre-measuring fee. So some farmers who do not plan to put down fertilizer or herbicides before planting may prefer to do their own pre-measuring and call on the ASCS to verify the acreage with a post-plant measurement.

Wells says the pace of farmers signing up for the 1966 farm program has slowed considerably this week. In fact, he has asked that PCG advise farmers who have already made up their minds on program alternatives to sign up now instead of waiting until the last few days before the end of the sign-up period April 1. If they don't, he said, some farmers will be waiting in line at the last minute.

Dogies Drop To Tulia In Road Game

Stanton eighth graders dropped to the Tulia five Thursday by a narrow 33-30 in a road game.

HEREFORD GOT off to a slow start as the Hornets led by a 15-3 margin by the end of the first period.

The locals were not able to score but five points in the second stanza as the Tulia five scored nine points, giving the Hornets a 24-8 lead at the half time intermission.

As the second half began the Hereford bunch came alive scoring 12 points in the third period while holding their opponents to only four.

AGAIN IN THE fourth period the locals ripped the cords for 10 points while again the Hornets scored only four points.

But the comeback was not enough to close the wide gap and the locals were at the short end of the 33-30 score.

Marsh Pitman led the scoring for the eighth graders with 10 points and Jackie Meredith was second high man with seven.

Hereford hit well from the charity line, making six of nine shots. Tulia players hit two of five shots from the free-throw line.

Most impressive to Rural Home Variety Club members among facts given them by Teresita Parba about her native and, the Philippines, was the amount of rainfall, up to 250 inches a year. Miss Parba, exchange student at Hereford High School, spoke to the club Thursday afternoon.

The meeting was in Community Center, with Mrs. C. P. Worthan and Mrs. Woodrow Dutton as hostesses. Mrs. Dutton was program chairman who introduced the petite Filipino student.

Information about her home islands was given in an informal talk, and she showed scenes on slides.

Pictures of beautiful wildflowers which bloom all year were among the scenes most interesting to the club members, who presented the speaker a gift of appreciation.

Mrs. Bill Walden was a guest and members present included Mmes. Boyd Foster, Bill Roberts, Fred Boren, Davis Sawyer, Bryce Finley, Arthur Howe, Dale Hallows, Joe Hysinger, Jack Coleman and Cliff Hutson.

The next club meeting will be on March 10 with Mrs. Finley and Mrs. Howe as hostesses. Monthly meetings are held by the group, of which Mrs. Foster is president.

Whitefaces Down Mules 62-53

Pull Come-From-Behind Act To Take Victory

Hereford Whiteface cagers pulled a come-from-behind act Friday to win a shootin' match with the Muleshoe Mules 62-53.

At one time during the game the Whitefaces were more than 10 points behind the Mules and at the half time intermission trailed by a close 33-31 margin.

As the third quarter began the Whitefaces held their own and at the end of that stanza they held a one-point margin with a 45-44 score.

Hereford's defense toughened in the second half and allowed the Mules 11 points in the third quarter and nine in the fourth period.

THE WHITEFACES were hitting good from the floor in the game but were unable to hit from the charity line. They tallied a 40.9 hitting average from the floor while gaining only a 38.7 average from the free throw line.

Micky Wilson was the Whitefaces' biggest problem during the first half as he scored 18 points in that half, but turned ing for the Whitefaces as he marked up 18 points in the game. He also fared well for himself in rebounding as he pulled down 10.

Gene Duvall was second high man with 13 points. He saw only limited action in the game due to a back injury which kept him out of the game with Canyon earlier this week.

STEVE HODGES was right behind Duvall in scoring when he tallied 10 points. He also led in rebounding, grabbing 12 balls off the board in the game.

Gary Payne led with Hodges in rebounding, also grabbing 12 off the board.

This was the last home game for the Whitefaces and Tuesday the locals will wind up their season in Dumas when they clash with the Dumas Demons.

Earlier this year the locals downed the Demons after the Dumas five had been undefeated in conference play.

Since that time the Demons have won only one game. Game time will be 8 p. m. in Demon Gym in Dumas.

Baseballers Set For First Game

Hereford Whiteface baseball team has been warming up for the past few weeks in the cold weather for their first game with Palo Duro High School of Amarillo Mar. 8.

THE GAME will be played on the local diamond just east of the football stadium and will begin at 4 p. m.

District competition will have a new look this year with the addition of Canyon to the list. In the past few years, only Hereford and Dumas have had teams and on occasions they have played eight games with each other.

But now with the debut of the Canyon Eagles the teams will meet each other three times on the regular schedule.

Last year the Whitefaces started the district off on the wrong foot when they lost their first game out to the Demons, but later took the crown in a sudden death playoff in Amarillo.

Seventh Grade Wins Road Game Over Tulia Five

Stanton Junior High seventh grade cagers downed the Tulia seventh grade Thursday 23-26 at Tulia.

HEREFORD TOOK an early lead, but by the end of the first quarter the Tulia five was within one point of the locals with a 5-4 score.

The locals came back in the second quarter to score eight points while holding their opponents to two, giving them a half time 13-6 advantage.

In the third stanza the locals scored 10 points and allowed the Tulia five to score only four, but in the fourth quarter the locals were unable to score at all with Tulia scoring six points.

BUT THE SIX were not enough to put the Hornets ahead of the Dogies and the final 23-18 score gave the locals another win for the season.

Greg Chisholm was high man for the Dogies with nine points. Jerry Hardin was second high man with six.

RUN OVER MULESHOE

Bees Win Ninth Straight Conference Cage Victory

Only one more game to go and the Hereford Whiteface B-team will have a perfect conference record. The cagers tallied a 9-0 record Friday when they swamped the Muleshoe Mules 89-49.

DANDY DALE SMITH starred in the show as he hit 14 of 20 shots from the floor and tallied 29 points in the game. Smith scored 14 points in the third quarter to set the pace for the lopsided lead.

Hereford's defense was outstanding in the game grabbing the ball away from the Mules on 49 different occasions and many more times off the board as they did an excellent job of rebounding. Jim Childers led the rebounding, grabbing 10 during the evening.

Hereford jumped to an immediate lead as the game began and by the end of the first stanza held a 23-6 lead.

BUT THE WIDE margin did not continue as the Mules scored 22 points in the second quarter to come within eight points of the Whitefaces by the end of the first half. Hereford led 35-30 as the half time whistle blew.

In the third quarter the Whitefaces made a comeback as they scored 31 points while allowing the Mules to score only 12 giving the Whitefaces a 69-42 lead.

Hereford players began the fourth quarter on the right foot and scored 20 points before the final buzzer sounded. The strong defense of the Whitefaces held their opponents to seven points in the final stanza.

BILLY WATTS WAS second high man in the game with 25 points. He was also credited with eight rebounds off the board.

Tony Malouf also did his share of rebound grabbing as he took seven balls away from the Mules.

The Bees have lost only one game since the Christmas holiday break, and that was to Por-

Legal Notice
THE STATE OF TEXAS

To any Sheriff or any Constable within the State of Texas — GREETING:

You are hereby commanded to cause to be published once each week for four consecutive weeks, the first publication to be at least twenty-eight days before the return day thereof, in a newspaper printed in Deaf Smith County, Texas, the accompanying citation, of which the herein below following is a true copy.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO: FLORENCE PARCELLS, also known as FLORA PARCELLS, and husband FRANK B. PARCELLS, and the unknown heirs and/or assigns and legal representatives of the said Florence Parcells and husband, Frank B. Parcells, Defendants, Greeting:

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear before the Honorable District Court of Deaf Smith County at the Court-house thereof, in Hereford, Texas, by filing a written answer at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 28th day of March A. D. 1966, to Plaintiff's Petition filed in said court, on the 9th day of February A. D. 1966, in this cause, numbered 5067 on the docket of said court and styled, TOMMY D. CARNAHAN and JAMES P. CARNAHAN, Plaintiffs, vs. FLORENCE PARCELLS et al, Defendants.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit:

COUNT I.
In trespass to try title whereby Plaintiffs claim to be the owners of the E/2 of the South 437.87 acres of Section 17, Twp. 2 North of Range 3 East of a Capitol Syndicate Subdivision, Deaf Smith County, Texas, and that Defendants ejected them and withold possession, and that Defendants claim some right, title or interest in and to said land and that Plaintiffs are the fee simple owners in and to all of said land.

COUNT II.
Plaintiffs claim fee simple ownership in said land above described by reason of the Statutes of Adverse Possession of the State of Texas, and seek to cut off any possible interest on the part of Defendants, or either of them, by virtue of an erroneous acknowledgment of Florence Parcells, et al, to J. If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The officer executing this writ shall promptly serve the same according to requirements of law, and the mandates hereof, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the seal of said court at Hereford, Texas, this 9th day of February A. D. 1966.
Attest: Lucille Posey Clerk, District Court Deaf Smith County, Texas.

By MELVIN YOUNG
 Ever hear of General 'Chesty' Puller?
 If you have never served in the United States Marine Corps, chances are the name means little or nothing to you. If you are familiar with the General, you probably remember him only as the man who liberated Seoul.
 But if you're an ex-Marine, you've heard of 'Chesty' Puller. He is a legend in Marine Corps history.
 He was a fiery little officer. Barely large enough to make the legal size limit for the nation's elite. The "Chesty" nickname probably came from the fact that he had none. As a matter of fact, the slight-built General wasn't the epitome of a Marine — he would have been more in character physically as a college professor.
 And again, he might have picked up the nickname for another reason, for General Puller was one of the most decorated officers of World War II — and there were few major campaigns in which this island hopping Marine had not been involved. He never backed away from a fire-fight — and he never asked for quarter. Chances are, he was the first man in and the last man out when it came to an encounter with the enemy. He had what it took on the battlefield, and he had the know-how to direct troops in and out of battle. He also had the love and admiration of every man that served in his command.
 We first encountered General

Puller some 20 years ago while serving with the Marine Garrison Forces in the Hawaiian Islands. He was a Colonel then and was commanding officer of Marine Barracks, U. S. Naval Base, Pearl Harbor, and I was an obscure correspondence clerk in the headquarters of General Samuel L. Howard.
 I had a great deal of admiration for both officers.
 Colonel Puller was shipped back to the states a few months after I arrived in the islands. He had been overseas for many months and was headed for a much deserved tour of duty within the continental limits of the United States.
 It was some five years later before we heard of Puller again. He was still a Colonel, and he was still in the thick of things. The 1st Marine Division had landed at Inchon and it was Colonel Puller's boys that spearheaded the drive into Seoul.
 Having been called to active duty after the outbreak of the Korean War, I was stationed at Camp Joseph H. Pendleton at Oceanside, Calif. when the hero of Seoul returned to the states — to be decorated again, and to receive his first star. He had been promoted to the rank of Brigadier General.
 Puller was then given the responsibility of forming the 3rd Brigade with a bunch of kids, a fresh out of boot camp — All green, but eager to go.
 It was here that we had our final encounter with General "Chesty" Puller.
 My tour of duty with the Corps was about over. I was assigned to a transient barracks awaiting discharge when the duty NCO walked into the squad room one day and picked out a work detail. A friend from Long Beach was placed in charge of the detail and given instructions to "scrub-down" a certain building in the area. He didn't know it at the time, but it was the office building of General 'Chesty' Puller. The work was to be done at night and he naturally assumed no one would be around.

But smack in the middle of the floor scrubbing task, someone walked down the hall and across a freshly mopped section — irritating the heck out of one of the men in the detail who spewed out a string of oaths — that would have scorched the pants off Satan himself, and ending with:

"Where in hell do you think you're going?"
 "Outside, son," was the General's only reply.

And outside he went, leaving a detail of Marines shaking in their boots.
 That performance was typical of this Marine officer who was "hell-bent-for-leather" in battle, but kind and understanding when dealing with his troops. The young man in question could have been court-martialed for his outburst.

We shall never forget General Puller. Perhaps because of the above incident. Perhaps because he was a fine field officer. Whichever the case, we find ourselves thinking of him whenever we read of the trials and tribulations of our troops in Viet Nam. We wonder how many Pullers we have in the battle line now?

Perhaps many. Maybe that's the secret of our great strength. For whenever the going gets rough, there always emerges a Puller, or a Patton, a McArthur or a Halsey. Rough as cobs on the outside — but underneath the crust, they're just "people."
 —HB—

And it is men such as the above that should be directing the operation in Viet Nam. Not the politicians.

It's men like these who know how to win. And they know that the only way to win a peace, is to win the war first. Any one of a hundred fine staff officers could tell you more about how to deal with the Viet Cong than can all the Fullbrights, the Morges and hundreds of others of their ilk put together.

Perhaps that's why so many people get so upset when the pacifist begin talking "peace at any price." It's pure nonsense.

Lasting peace will come only after a total victory. If you don't believe it, just ask the soldier or Marine who is now patrolling the neutral zone dividing North and South Korea. Ask him how many of his buddies have died since the beginning of the so-called "peace" in Korea? It might surprise you.

Peace at any price, is no peace at all

HEDRICK DODGE HONORS FIRST CUSTOMER

A couple who purchased the first auto sold by Hedrick Dodge in Hereford received the keys to their new car — plus some extras — in a ceremony marking the milestone for the city's newest auto sales and service firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Byars, 410 Avenue B, who purchased a 1966 Dodge Dart 270 on Thursday afternoon, received not only the keys to their new auto, but also a savings bond and a steak dinner for two at the Coison House.

The savings bond was designated for the Byars first child, which is due soon.

Making the presentation was Tom McCaleb, sales manager for Hedrick Dodge, home of the "Dodge Rebellion" in Hereford at Sampson and Second.

Also on hand for the presentation were Jerry Detwiler of the First National Bank of Hereford (left) and Glenn Hedrick, owner of Hedrick Dodge. Mr. Byars is at right.

Byars is associated with Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. here.

During the ceremony, Hedrick commented, "We are proud to make delivery of our first auto in Hereford to such a fine couple and hope to have the pleasure of doing so for many more Deaf Smith and Castro County residents."

"We are overwhelmed with the welcome we have seen in the week we have been open for business, and we plan to stay." (PAID ADV.)

Background For Garden Is Studied

Mrs. Jesse Stanford and Mrs. Homer Newton were hostesses to Garden Beautiful Club, Tuesday in the Stanford home. Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr. presented the program on Background planting, discussing plans for perennial and annual borders. As the horticulture tip of the month, members were advised to check labels on trees, shrubs and perennial bulb plantings in late winter to see if they are still legible. Rewriting faded labels was suggested, with a ballpoint pen, soft lead or labeling pencil.

Busy Week Has Telling Result

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

A busy week at the Extension Office has accomplished many things. The Recreation Workshop Thursday was well attended. There has been another training meeting at the Labor Camp.

Rita Huckert, Kate Gamble and I are working on the Panhandle Economics Study. This has been much work, but will be worth it. James Murphrey, Farm Specialist, is completing the Panhandle Economic Study. The information will be available to all of us when it is possible.

A NUMBER OF people have gotten order blanks for trees. These will be shipped from the state nursery as soon as weather is favorable and labor is available.

FALLING LEAVES are not necessarily a cause for alarm, says our landscape horticulturist, Everett E. James. As the old leaf matures and is no longer functional due to shading or crowding by younger leavers, it will turn yellow or brown and drop off. Most hollies also shed their leaves in the spring or early summer as the new foliage matures.

Unless there is an abnormal loss of leaves or there are noticeable spots or lesions on the fallen leaves, there is usually little cause for concern when the evergreen sheds a portion of its leaves.

MOBILE HOMES are gaining in popularity each year, yet the increase in mobile homes purchases points up the fact that more attractive and well-planned trailer park facilities are needed, says Mrs. Jane Berry, Texas A&M University Extension Housing and Home Furnishing Specialist.

She says that high quality, but poorly located mobile home parks are forced to compete economically with other types of housing which can be more favorably located.

CUTTING FAMILY food costs by skimping on milk is poor economy, says Miss Louise Mason, Extension nutritionist at Texas A&M University. Without enough milk, one can hardly provide meals that meet the family's calcium needs — and milk is also a good buy for high quality protein, the B-vitamins, riboflavin and other vitamins and minerals necessary for healthy growth.

Save by comparing prices, checking to see if milk companies in your area offer discounts on canned evaporated milk and checking skim milk and non-fat dry milk prices.

TROUBLED WITH FUZZ balls on sweaters. They can be removed by brushing them with a dry sponge, suggest Extension clothing specialists at Texas A&M.

REMOVE DISCOLORATION left by a drippy faucet by applying a paste of cream of tartar and peroxide says Housing and Home Furnishings Specialists of the Texas A&M University Service.

FOR HOLIDAY dinners, try this recipe that is a little different, for the ever-popular Cherry Pie.

Have enough pastry for a double-crust 9-inch pie. For the filling, you'll need one No. 2 can of frozen cherries, 3/4 C. sugar, 5 tablespoons all-purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon and 1 1/2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

To prepare, roll out the dough for a double-crust pie and fit the bottom layer into the pan. In a saucepan, place the frozen cherries. Melt cherries over low heat, blending in dry ingredients. When cherries have thawed, turn heat to medium setting. Stirring frequently with fork, continue cooking until thickened.

Remove from heat. Cool slightly before pouring into unbaked pie shell. Dot with butter or margarine. Add top crust and seal edges. Bake in 450 degrees F. oven for about 10 minutes, then reduce heat to 400 degrees F. and continue baking for 35-45 minutes, or until nicely browned.

HAZEL RAYBURN, Pat Smith Arvella Lauderback and Ruth McBride gave Edna Earle Smith a surprise birthday party. Hazel brought a very good cake.

SHEATH CAKE
2 C. Sugar, 2 C. flour. In sauce pan, bring to a rapid boil 1 stick oleo, 4 T. cocoa, 1 C. water, 1/2 C. shortening. Pour over dry ingredients. Mix well. Add 1/2 C. buttermilk, 1 t. soda, 1 t. cinnamon, 1 t. vanilla, 2 eggs slightly beaten. Bake in flat pan 400 degrees for 30 minutes.

ICING
Start 5 minutes before cake is done. In sauce pan, bring to a boil 1 stick oleo, 6 T. cream, 4 T. Cocoa. Pour over 1 box powdered sugar, add 1 t. vanilla and 1 C. nuts.

DR. R. R. WILLS asked for Sourdough biscuit recipe. I worked out this recipe for him from a demonstration given by Goose Ramey and Hap Wiseman. You know cowboys don't measure ingredients. Anyway, you can start with this recipe and adjust as needed.

SOURODOUGH BISCUIT
To start a batch of sourdough take 2 T. grated old Irish potato and add about 2 C. of flour and enough water to make a batter. Pour into a gallon jar and leave for 24 hours to rise. This sourdough is both leavening agent and liquid.

When ready to make biscuits, mix flour and salt and add enough sourdough batter to form a dough that can be rolled out. Cover the bottom of the hot skillet with grease. Cut out the biscuits, dip them in the grease first on one side and then on the other and put them in the oven.

Sourdough biscuits can be cooked only in some kind of Dutch oven. In it, they cook quickly.

To keep sourdough — Pinch off some and put in crock. Cover with water.

At-Home Student Made Camp Fire 'Adoptee'

Without spending a single day in the classroom, 13-year-old Patricia Betts is completing her seventh-grade studies in Stanton Junior High School while she is confined to her home recovering from spinal surgery.

She has been "adopted" as a member of the Yi-Nes Camp Fire Girls group and at a meeting in the Camp Fire Hut Thursday she was presented pictures and brochures about Hereford, supplied by Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce, as well as a box of the candy which Camp Fire Girls here are selling this month.

Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Betts, 222 Ave. D, is a newcomer to the city. The family moved about a month ago from Iowa Park, where Patricia formerly attended school and was in the Camp Fire Girls program for a while.

She underwent surgery last August to correct a spinal curvature and has since worn a brace which prevents her remaining seated for more than short intervals, so she cannot attend school. Teachers have visited in her home to assist her in keeping up her school work.

Although she cannot participate in all Camp Fire activities until the brace is no longer needed, Patricia is making friends in the Yi-Nes Group with girls who will be her classmates when she goes back to school.

They believe she could surpass them in one activity, hiking, if daily mileage were counted. As part of her post-surgery treatment, Patricia walks more than a mile each day. She takes a cheerful attitude toward her illness, referring to spinal x-rays as her "pin-ups."

Girls in the Yi-Nes Group include Souad Malouf, Shella Lind Kay Tucker, Cathy Doughman, Sherry Rogers, Karen Kendrick, Kathleen Funk, Gail Renfro, Brenda Saul, Virginia Vargas, Mona Gail Gibson, Elizabeth Gandy and Judy Cargo. Mrs. Bob Doughman is the leader.

Lubbock Parties Honor Miss Hill

Friends in Lubbock and at Texas Tech, from which she was graduated last month, gave two parties this weekend for Miss Sharon Hill of Hereford who will be married Feb. 26 to Charles Knibbe of Spring Branch, a Tech senior.

Miss Hill and her mother, Mrs. Elmer Kimball went to Lubbock to a twilight tea Friday in the home of Mrs. Cecil Bowles and a kitchen-linen shower Saturday afternoon in Mrs. Jimmy Smiths home. Her fiance's mother, Mrs. L. L. Knibbe, was also a weekend visitor in Lubbock and a guest at the parties.

Kappa Kappa Gamma sisters of the honoree and other friends on the Tech campus were invited for the shower Saturday. Mrs. J. H. Meadows of Midland and her daughter, Rebecca, who will be maid of honor for the wedding, were hostesses with Mrs. Smith.

Receiving guests with Miss Hill were Mrs. Kimball, Mrs.

Knibbe and the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. Elsie Shamrock of Lubbock.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a cloth in two shades of blue and centered with a pair of large bells. Smaller bells were attached to ribbons extending from the centerpiece.

For the twilight tea, hostesses were Mmes. Lenore Keeton, L. D. Fletcher, Tom Loyd, Burnell Mueller, Wallace Wardrop and Bowles. The latter greeted callers, who registered at a table where Miss Shirley Bowman presided. Miss Hill, Mmes. Kimball, Shambeck and Knibbe again formed the receiving line.

Misses Carol Fletcher and Sherry Mueller served tea at the candlelight table which was appointed in blue and silver. An oversized snifter filled with blue net pompoms and spring flowers was set between candelabra holding blue tapers.

Justice, Herr Make Top Talks

Club Previews Coming Events

Looking toward the spring flower show which Hereford Garden Club has scheduled May 20, Members discussed Friday a draft of the schedule as presented by Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr., and suggested revisions. Theme of the show, to be staged in Community Center, is A Day in the Garden.

A called meeting of the club was announced by Mrs. Ray L. Johnson, president, for 2:30 p. m. Feb. 28, in the Flame Room of Pioneer Gas Company, where the luncheon and workshop were held Friday. The program of the extra February meeting will be a lecture, New Concepts in Flower Arranging, by Mrs. A. L. Manjeot.

The club's meeting in March will open to the public, a lecture at 7:30 p. m. March 11 by Col. Sam H. Sharp of Amarillo on the subject, Roses for Every Garden. The speaker has been president of the Men's Garden Club in Amarillo and is an experienced rose grower.

Members were reminded by Mrs. Manjeot of a flower show school scheduled in Amarillo April 24-26, open to interested Garden Club members of this area.

Roses From the Ground Up was the subject of a program in three parts. Mrs. Ralph McCullough gave instructions for preparing the soil and setting rose plants; Mrs. G. W. Newton discussed use of insecticides and plant food; Mrs. R. L. Wilson spoke of pruning rose bushes.

Each of the three speakers gave suggestions from her own experience in growing roses in Hereford.

Ten members brought abstract flower arrangements to the meeting, and these were studied and evaluated in a general discussion. Roll call was answered by naming garden plants which attract birds. The program opened with the flag pledge.

Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Art Stoy were hostesses for the salad luncheon which was served at noon to 21 members.

Messenger H.D. Club Nominates Mrs. John Jones For Award

THE CHURCH I LOVE
... IS ONE IN NUMBER (7th in a series)

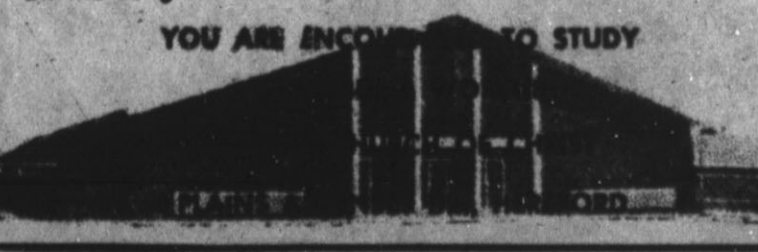

Jesus Christ built the church (Matt. 16:18); and purchased it with his own blood (Acts 20:28). Our Lord said, "There will be one flock, and one shepherd." (John 10:16). The night before our Savior was crucified on the cross, he prayed in part: "But it is not for these alone that I pray, but for those also who through their words put their faith in me; may they all be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, so also may they be in us, that the world may believe that thou didst send me. The glory which thou gavest me I have given to them, that they may be one, as we are one; I in them and thou in me, may they be perfectly one. Then the world will learn that thou didst send me, that thou didst love them as thou didst me." (John 17:20-23 NEB).

The church is the body of Christ, (Ephesians 1:22, 23); as Paul continues to write by inspiration, he declares, "There is one body and one Spirit, as there is also one hope held out in God's call to you; one Lord, one faith, one baptism; one God and Father of all." (Ephesians 4:4-6).

The same passage that tells us there is one Spirit, one hope, one Lord, one faith, one baptism, and one Father, tells us there is one body, which is the church.

God is not a God of disorder (confusion) but of peace. (1 Corinthians 14:33). The Heavenly Father gave us peace in Christ Jesus; so one else gave us all the religious disorder and confusion in Christendom.

American Music Put On Parade

MONDAY HOSTESSES — Mrs. D. W. Palmer opens the front doors of her new home at 149 Liveoak, where Music Study Club will hear a guest lecture Monday afternoon on Early American Music. Mrs. W. S. Fisher, who with Mrs. Dick Godwin completes the hostess list, stands ready to welcome those attending the program. Mrs. Palmer's handsome dog, Silver, joins the receiving group.

FEBRUARY IS Parade of American Music Month in Federated Music Clubs, which emphasize composers of this nation each year in programs during the month. Both the Music Study Club of Hereford and the Dawn Music Club are observing the tradition.

A GUEST LECTURER, Dr. Wallace C. McKenzie of Wayland College, Plainview, will discuss Music of Early America at the Music Study Club meeting Monday afternoon. A second program for that group, on Feb. 28, will be presented by students of members. American folk songs and compositions by well-known native musicians will be included.

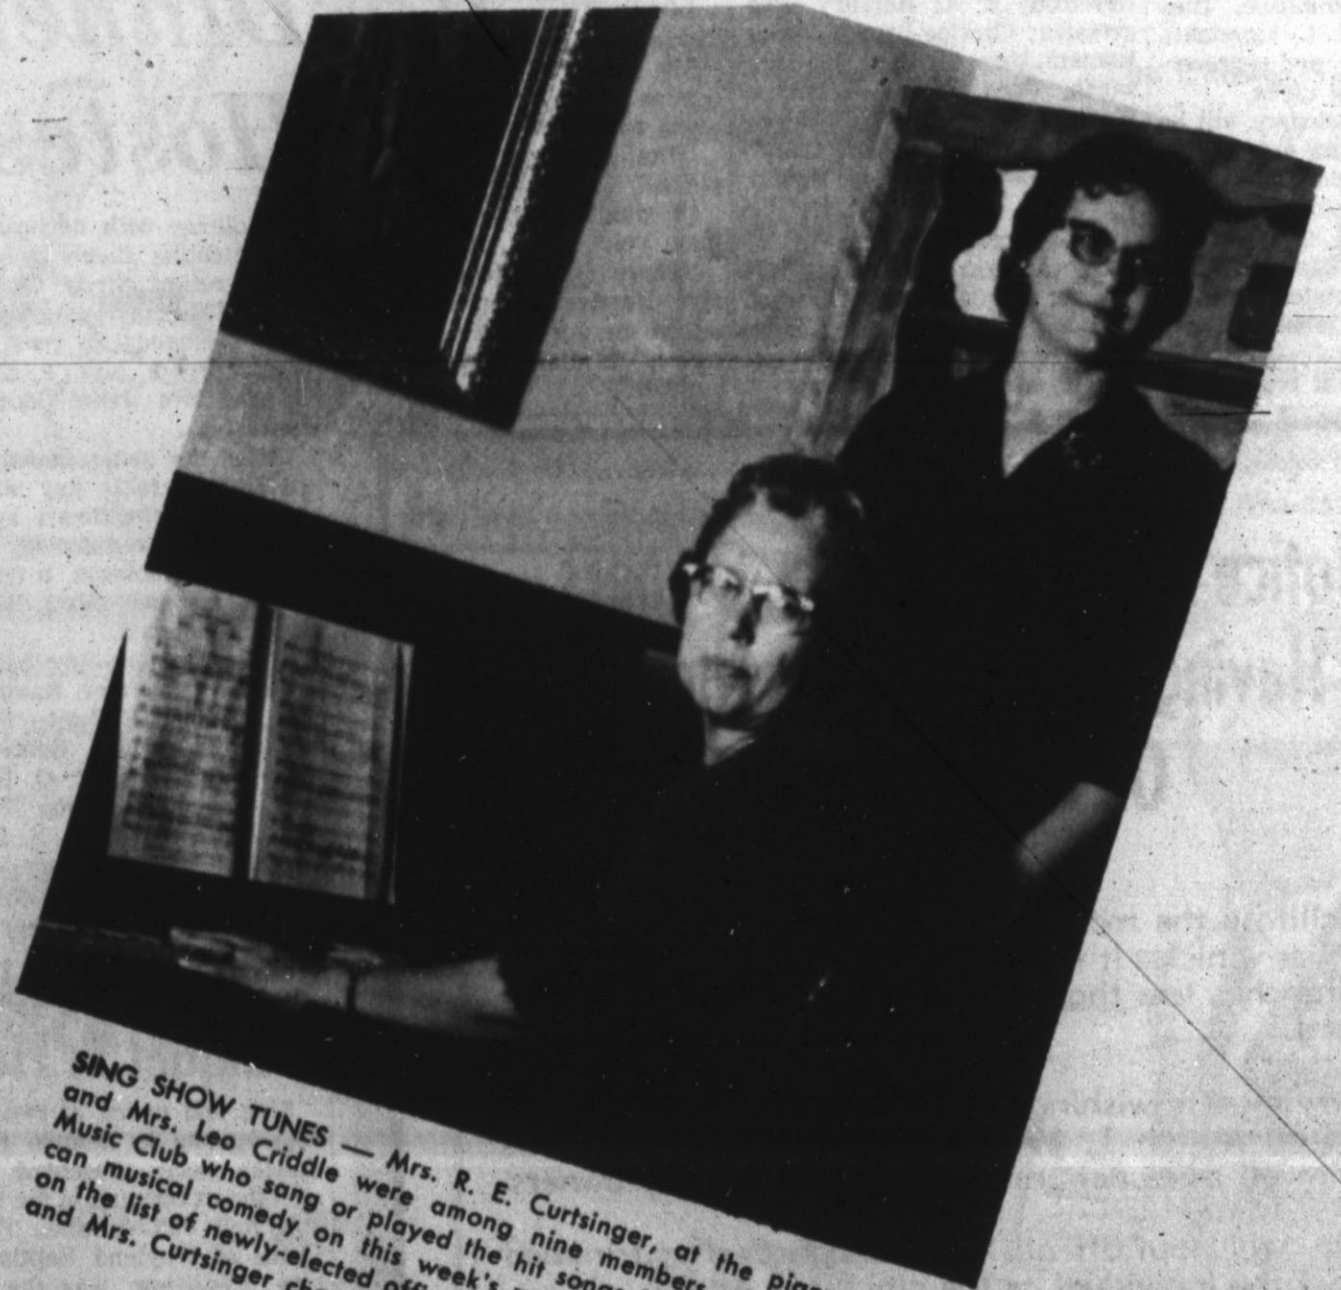

TUNES FROM A STAGE musical, Unsinkable Molly Brown, were featured on Dawn Club's program Tuesday. The American flavor of composer Meredith Wilson's score and the story background in Colorado mining days made the musical comedy an appropriate choice for the program.

PRESIDENT-ELECT — Officers for next season were elected in Dawn Music Club at its February meeting. Mrs. Ray Polan, pictured in her living room, was named president to succeed Mrs. Steve Bavousett. Mrs. William Wimberly will be vice president, Mrs. Edgar Sowell treasurer. Dawn Club is preparing to entertain the convention of First District, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, next fall.

PROGRAM LEADERS — Mrs. Joe Hacker, left, is this year's program chairman for Hereford Music Study Club and Mrs. Ellis Coombes, seated, is leader for the meeting scheduled Feb. 28 when music students of members will be heard in varied selections from the repertory of American music. Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwaite is a member of the program committee which planned special February programs as a part of the year's study course.

SING SHOW TUNES — Mrs. R. E. Curtsinger, at the piano, and Mrs. Leo Criddle were among nine members of Dawn Music Club who sang or played the hit songs from an American musical comedy on this week's program. Both are also on the list of newly-elected officers, Mrs. Criddle the secretary and Mrs. Curtsinger choral director.

MUSIC STUDY CLUB HEAD — Mrs. Bill Brady is president of the Music Study Club of Hereford, which is following an annual custom in relating its February programs to the Parade of American Music theme. She is seated at the piano in the home of Mrs. D. W. Palmer, where the club meets Monday afternoon.

—Small Talk—

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Humorists have won reputations and written books on such office mysteries as, where do all the coathangers come from in summer and go in winter?

ALSO, WHY DOES everybody in the office want a cup of coffee, and have a caller who also wants one, on the day the coffee supply runs low and only one potful is available, while appetite for coffee is suddenly shy when a whole urnful is ready?

No answers have ever been found to these and similar puzzling circumstances, so they are still good subjects for the would-be humorist.

Right now, I have no clever answers to propose, but it sort of bothers me that loose change, and even a dollar bill, has remained safely in my desk drawer for days, but pencils and 19-cent ballpoints keep disappearing like magic. Not in the dead of night, but during the day while I'm working at the desk.

COMPLAINTS ARE often heard, and I heartily second 'em about telephones in some homes being answered by children too small to understand who is calling, who is wanted, or even the simple question, "Is your mommy there?"

All the junior phone-answers I've encountered here in calls I make at work every day, are in another category. They all seem big enough to handle the receiver, take a message, or give pertinent information, even if it's in baby-talk.

A rude one hasn't answered yet, and it's fun to hear a small voice with good manners to break the day's routine. I'm thinking now of one heard when I called Mrs. Pat Robbins' home for a club report.

MY THANKS for some timely assistance in taking pictures of Dawn Music Club members at the Robert Strain home are due another member of the younger set, Jennifer Strain, who competently directed the lights as needed, helped by her sister Sherry's warning that "You're shining the light in Mama's eyes!"

HEREFORD SCHOOL Board's decision to begin a teaching program leading to a school orchestra must be the best news in a long time to people interested in better music for the city. It's a logical step for a school system which boasts fine band and choral groups.

Strings, of course, are the basis of an orchestra and string players can't be trained overnight, so it is a long-term project.

With the prospect of playing in a school orchestra more young musicians will have an incentive to study violin and the related instruments now. This will brighten prospects for string teachers and in turn encourage adult violinists who may need brush up instruction.

Surely there are some such violinists in Hereford, although Mrs. Gene Brink is the only one I've heard of during my eight months here. A few more talented fiddlers are needed to balance the city's musical stock, which is of a commendably high quality in general.

Miss Gay King Is Bride Of Ernest D. Sadler

In a double ring ceremony, Miss Gay King became the bride of Ernest David Sadler of Dimmitt Saturday afternoon as the Rev. Herschel L. Thurston, pastor, read vows in First Methodist Church.

A pair of seven-branched candelabra held white tapers at the altar, flanked by baskets of red and white carnations.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jacob A. King Jr., 335 Ave. I, and Mr. and Mrs. Ezell Sadler, Route 1, Dimmitt.

The bride's father gave her in marriage in a service preceded by traditional wedding music. Richard Brown played organ solos and accompanied Miss Jolene Hamilton as she sang "Whither Thou Goest and The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Geraldine Chase of Amarillo was Miss King's maid of honor, Miss Carolyn Parmer bridesmaid and Miss Brenda Kay King, the bride's younger sister, junior bridesmaid.

Kenneth Presley served as best man and Jerry Walker as groomsmen. Both are Dimmitt residents. Ushers were Bobby King and Larry Sadler, brothers of the bride and groom, respectively. Karl Lynn King, also a brother of the bride, carried the rings on a heart-shaped white satin pillow edged with lace.

A bouffant gown of white Chantilly lace was chosen by Miss King. Sleeves were fingertip length and the figurine bodice had a scalloped neckline accented with sequins. Cascading lace tiers on the back of the skirt also sparkled with sequins.

Her silk illusion veil, held by a tiara of the lace encrusted in rhinestones and seed pearls, fell below the waistline. She carried a bouquet of red and white carnations on a bridal Bible.

Miss Chase and Miss Parmer were dressed alike in red velvet sheaths with cap-sleeved overblouse of scalloped lace. Their hats were of white tulle and red velvet roses, their long gloves and slippers were white.

The junior bridesmaid was dressed in the same material, her frock designed with full skirt. All had smaller bouquets similar to the bride's.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. King wore a two-piece suit of champagne brocade with a matching hat and other accessories in black. Mrs. Sadler was dressed in a pink silk shantung suit with black costume accents. Corsages of both mothers were of red and white carnations.

Mrs. Wayne Stovall registered guests at a reception in the church fellowship hall immediately after the ceremony. Mrs. Edgar Roe, Mrs. Troy Gandy, Mrs. Wayne Jones and Miss Jeannette Roe were at the refreshment table, which was decorated in red and white.

When she left for the wedding trip to New Mexico, Mrs. Sadler was wearing a white wool suit accessorized in red. After a trip the couple will be at home on Route 1, Dimmitt.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Hereford High School. Sadler who is employed with the Texas Highway Department attended Dimmitt Schools.

Out-of-city guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. John W. Chase, Okie Bess and Winter came with a blow. Snow was reported 3 to 4 inches deep. Lots of cold weather along with it. Down to 6 and 8 below zero but the past few days things have changed to spring. Some spring rain would be more than welcomed by the farmers. The snow wasn't very wet and some say that some of the wheat is dead.

Mrs. Bruce Coleman entered the Methodist hospital in Lubbock the first of last week. Bruce and the children and Mrs. Coleman's mother, Mrs. Busby, all drove to Lubbock Saturday morning, visited Mrs. Coleman and spent the night. Mrs. Coleman was able to spend the night at the home of Mrs. W. D. Mount and returned to the hospital Sunday afternoon.

Bruce Coleman and children, Mrs. Busby, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Busby and family, Mr. and Mrs. David Busby and family of Hobbs, N. M. were all dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Mount.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt visited Spain Thweatt in Littlefield Jan. 30.

Mrs. Elton Sorrells and daughters made a business trip to Amarillo recently. They also visited Mrs. Sorrell's mother.

Guests other than the honoree were: Jerry Northcutt and son, Kemp and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Northcutt of Garcia; Tom Northcutt of Clovis; Miss Judie Ballard of Dumas; Mr. and Mrs. Charley Kemp of Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Hartman of Rhea; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clark and daughter, Janice of Friona.

Debbie Sue and Robert Byers of Hereford spent the weekend in the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Jones.

Mrs. N. A. Brown, Mrs. Eldred Brown and son, Tommy, were in Hereford Monday afternoon on business.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt received a letter from Charlie Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thompson of Perrie, S. D., formerly of Hereford.

Charlie is spending six months in Lima, Peru as IFYE from South Dakota. In this letter, Charlie said he was living with Juan Aguilar on his Alpaca hacienda. The house was located at 16,500 feet and they had snow every couple of days, a total of 1 1/2 feet in the past week.

He stated he was wearing a sweater, a coat and two ponchos for two reasons — first the outside weather and second the inside weather. The houses aren't heated, as the only source of fuel is Alpaca manure and there is only enough of that for cooking.

Charlie said the most of the people there consider the Estados Unidos as some sort of heaven, and it seems to be a dream of many to be able to go to the States some day.

Charlie has been in Peru now three months and has covered a lot of country. He will be home in early April.

Tower Continues Fight For 14B

AUSTIN, Tex. — Basing his campaign on his record as a progressive conservative, U. S. Senator John G. Tower of Wichita Falls, has announced that he will stand for re-election this November.

Senator Tower, who has drawn national recognition for his fight against repeal of Texas' Right-to-Work Law, paid his filing fee here. He discussed his candidacy in a press conference in the state capitol building.

about a vote for me," he said. "They know exactly where I stand on the issues of the day, they know I will continue to vote for the best interests of our State and Nation, and they know I will continue to help all Texans with their problems in Washington."

In his six years in Washington, Senator Tower has earned a reputation as a leader known to heads of state and key business executives throughout the world as well as a fighter for the interests of Texas.

"THERE ARE imperative national issues at stake in the 1966 elections," Senator Tower said, "but the vital importance of representing the people of Texas in Washington cannot be overlooked."

"The tremendous value of seniority in the Senate will have a great influence on Texans in the next six years," Senator Tower added.

"When the chips were down on the depletion allowance," Senator Tower said, "I fought for and obtained votes that could not be reached by anyone else in the Texas delegation or in the administration."

As examples, Senator Tower cited his service on two major subcommittees, Armed Services and Banking and Currency.

"IN ADDITION to the conduct of the war in South Vietnam, the Armed Service Committee is vitally concerned with the many military installations in Texas," Senator Tower said. "This committee, on which I represent Texas, still has a great deal more work to do in seeing that our fighting men receive everything they need to win."

Senator Tower has made one extensive trip to South Vietnam since hostilities started there. As a member of the Armed Service Committee, he has visited and worked with U. S. servicemen at most of the 36 military installations in Texas.

On the Banking and Currency Committee, Senator Tower is on five key subcommittees: Housing, Small Business, International Finance, Financial Institutions and Production and Stabilization. He also serves on the joint committee on Defense Production, the Civil War Centennial Commission and the committee on Committees.

AN ACTIVE legislator, Senator Tower saw nine major bills bearing his name become law in 1965, ranging from the San Antonio Hemisfair Bill to far-reaching Soil and Water Conservation measures.

Senator Tower was born in Houston, September 29, 1925. His parents are Dr. and Mrs. Joe Z. Tower of Atlanta, Cass County. Dr. Tower is a retired Methodist clergyman who is a former executive secretary of the Texas Conference of the Methodist Church.

John Tower graduated from Beaumont High School in 1942 and then served three years aboard a Navy gunboat in Asian waters. He received a B. A. degree in Political Science from Southwestern University, Georgetown, Texas, in 1948; worked for a time as a radio announcer and insurance man; then in 1953 received an M. A. degree in Political Science from Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

He did post-graduate work in 1952 and 1953 at the University of London in Great Britain. In 1951 he joined the faculty of Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, where he taught until June 1960 and where the Tower family now maintains their home.

DURING 1965

Holly Sugar Net Income At High

Holly Sugar Corporation, the nation's second largest producer of beet sugar, today announced net income for the 9-month period ended December 31, 1965, which compares with a quarterly dividend of 45 cents a share was paid on January 4, 1966, which compares with a quarterly dividend of 40 cents paid in early February a year ago.

Holly's chairman of the board, Russell T. Tutt, and Dennis O'Rourke, president and chief executive officer, pointed out the significance of excluding the investment tax credit for comparative purposes. The 9-month period ended December 31, 1964 included a tax credit of $1,015,000, or $1.50 per share, earned because of the completion in 1964 of Holly's multi-million dollar beet sugar factory near Hereford, Texas.

Tutt and O'Rourke pointed out that the operating results in Holly's eleven producing areas were generally favorable, except in the Corporation's four northern Rocky Mountain areas. A quarterly dividend of 45 cents a share was paid on January 4, 1966, which compares with a quarterly dividend of 40 cents paid in early February a year ago. Sales of sugar, by-products, beet seed and livestock to date total $73,975,398, an increase of more than $14,000,000 over sales a year ago.

THEY ADDED that average unit sales proceeds for the fiscal year to date are approximately the same as those realized in the corresponding period in the preceding year.

Tutt and O'Rourke concluded by saying that the acreage limitations set forth by the Secretary of Agriculture would restrict the national 1966 beet crop to 1,435,000 acres, which would allow Holly's more than 3,000 growers to plant approximately the same acreage that they planted in 1965.

New Stamp Plan Outlined By Distributor

Yes Stamps, representing a new departure in trading stamps "bankable and spendable," will become available in Hereford soon, it was announced this week by Fred Sims, owner of Tri-County Stamp Co., distributor of the stamps.

Sims said that Yes Stamps will provide "savings when you purchase, savings through an interest earning account, and savings by keeping the money in the local community."

Two Hereford financial institutions, Hereford State Bank and Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union, are cooperating in the Yes Stamps program, Sims said.

AT EITHER, the Yes Stamps saver can submit filled stamp albums to be credited immediately with savings accounts at $6 per album. The resulting account will earn interest at the regular rate.

Sims said that in this manner, savers will receive two percent of all purchases at participating merchants in return for their stamp redemptions.

In addition, Sims continued, savers can use the Yes Stamps to purchase merchandise and services from participating firms at the rate of $5.50 per book.

FIRST roster of participating merchants in the three counties — Deaf Smith, Castro, and Oldham — served by Tri-County Stamp Co. will be published soon, Sims said.

By the same token, the statewide Yes Stamps program is similar in financial arrangements, Sims said, adding that The Republic National Bank in Dallas is the Yes Stamps state depository.

The Yes Stamps was developed and is distributed by General Values, Inc. Rogers, Ark.

A&M Research Earns Approval In Wheat Fields

Rapid and dramatic changes in acreages of wheat varieties in Texas from 1959-64 indicate grower response to varieties developed through research. The new varieties have been made available through research conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, says Dr. I. M. Atkins, small grain section leader for the Texas Station.

THE 1964 variety survey made by the USDA shows the widespread grower acceptance of the new varieties. Tascosa was released by the Station in 1958 and the next year was planted on 1,043 acres. In 1964 it was grown on nearly 500,000 acres or 12 percent of the Texas acreage. Growers like Tascosa, Atkins said, because of its excellent straw and tight husk which resists shattering. The milling and baking trade give high praise to its good milling and baking qualities and, adds Atkins, it is especially suited to production under irrigation.

Another Texas developed variety, Crockett, was grown in 1964 on 307,000 acres or 7.5 percent of the state's acreage. But the most widely grown variety in 1964, Atkins said, was Improved Triumph which occupied 18.9 percent of the state's acreage. It was developed by an independent breeder.

Other varieties grown on a large scale were Wichita, Concho, Kaw, Milam and Quannah. The new variety Caddo was released in 1963. Its acreage has increased rapidly during the past two years because of its wide adaptation, leaf rust resistance and quality. It is rapidly becoming one of the more widely grown varieties, Atkins said.

As for the future, Atkins said new varieties in the near future from the Station may include a short stature wheat for irrigation and other high production levels. Extensive research on hybrid wheat is also in progress, he said.

ONE VOTE MADE DIFFERENCE

CANTON, Mo. (AP) — The American adage that one vote can change history is well known to the people here and especially to those involved with Culver-Stockton College.

Twelve years ago the college was floundering and enrollment had dropped to an all-time low. The Board of Trustees met to decide whether to close the school or not. The decision to remain open was determined by the influence of one vote.

Enrollment is now at a record high. Many faculty members are Ph.D.s. A more than $5 million development program is rolling ahead.

Hardin-Simmons Endowment Tops $1 Million

Hardin-Simmons University officials have disclosed that the first $1-million in the current endowment campaign has been reached.

This includes approximately $750,000 in either cash or pledges raised by drive leaders and a $250,000 matching gift from Carr P. Collins Sr., of Dallas.

Sam Waldrop, chairman of the campaign's steering committee and Dr. Lee Hemphill, H-SU vice president of development and promotion, announced that plans are underway to raise an additional $1-million by the end of 1966.

"I THINK the campaign has gone real well to date," said Waldrop. "It's amazing how many people have come forth and volunteered their gifts."

Three key H-SU leaders, including Dr. W. B. Irvin of Dallas, chairman of the Board of Trustees, Ned P. King, also of Dallas, chairman of the Board of Development, and Hal Haralson of San Antonio, chairman of the Young Associates, have expressed pleasure at the progress of the drive.

"I think it's the greatest thing that has happened to Hardin-Simmons this particular generation," said Dr. Irvin in discussing the endowment campaign and the announcement that the $1-million has been raised.

He added, "I think this type of endowment campaign is the framework under which we must continue if we are to build a first rate institution of higher learning. We are most appreciative to Carr P. Collins Sr., for his contribution."

King, a strong booster of H-SU in recent years, said, "I'm thrilled and grateful to God for the successful completion of the drive for the first $1-million. I'm confident we will reach the second $1-million during 1966."

Haralson voiced similar sentiments by saying "I think the future is bright for Hardin-Simmons because of this new support and confidence in Christian education. We appreciate the leadership in this drive and the man who has inspired the campaign, Mr. Collins. We feel the Young Associates have been marvelous in their response."

Dr. James H. Landes, H-SU president, and Dr. Hemphill joined Waldrop in expressing appreciation to the many H-SU alumni friends and supporters who have contributed to the campaign and to the host of volunteer workers who have contributed their services to this drive.

Collins, founder of Fidelity Union Life Insurance Co. of Dallas, announced a "challenge gift" of $500,000 at a joint meeting of the H-SU Board of Trustees, Board of Development, Young Associates and academic Foundation last June 18, saying that if H-SU supporters would raise $1.5 million in endowment funds that he would give one half million dollars to the school.

THE FOUR groups voted to accept the challenge and immediately began plans for a campaign to raise the funds.

On Sept. 28, H-SU leaders held an endowment campaign kickoff luncheon and honored Collins, the man who had inspired the drive.

Supporters from throughout the state attended perhaps one of the most significant luncheons in the school's recent history. Dr. Landes and Waldrop, at the helm of the campaign, announced that $362,000 had been pledged by the time of the kickoff luncheon.

Gifts began pouring in from over the state, including some from persons who wished to remain nameless and ranged from $10 to more than $50,000. Several families, who have supported H-SU for many years, pooled their resources to make joint gifts.

By late November nearly $900,000 had been raised in cash and pledges.

Dr. Landes, in making public that 50 per cent of the $2-million goal has been reached, said "I share with friends of Hardin-Simmons University and Christian education the joy of this good news. I know that many have made sacrificial gifts to this drive and the campaign leaders and workers have spent long hours in behalf of the drive."

"Sam Waldrop and his committee and Dr. Lee Hemphill have done a magnificent job in heading this campaign. We have the faith and confidence of the ultimate success of the drive. We also express our sincere appreciation to Mr. Collins for his contributions to Christian education and to Hardin-Simmons University."

"Always God has given his people a man to match the hour. For this disturbing and difficult hour, God has given this institution new hope through a friend by the name of Carr P. Collins."

"Mr. Collins has seen the problem. He has offered his means and his mind to help in solving the problem. The gift of money is generous. The gift of himself means ever more to those of us who are closely related to Hardin-Simmons."

GREAT MOUNTAIN RANGES

If you read any or all of the Great Rivers of America series you will probably be interested in the new one planned for the Mountain Ranges. The series is to be written over a period of time, as was the river group.

The first book entitled "The Appalachians" by Maurice Brooks is about the Naturalist's America. It contains beautiful drawings by a husband-wife team of Lois and Louis Darling. And their work is as similar as their two names. The volume has some 50 photographs in black and white and in color. There is also a fine map.

NO DOUBT the book will endure because of the information, some of which is technical but easily read and understood by the layman. It is well and simply narrated, with many personal experiences given by the author.

One can easily see his great love for the Smokies, only a part of the chain. He writes of the many contrasts found in the separate Mountain ranges which make up the Appalachians. These are found in all manner of things; the trees, the flowers, the soils, bird-life, temperature, altitudes, animal life and all that makes up nature. He also includes many interesting historical anecdotes.

There are several pages devoted to trails for walking, hiking, or auto. Trails for the amateur, the average, experienced hiker and the professional. These trails are state maintained in many instances and others are of rugged nature in the original condition.

IF YOU are a nature lover or one who dotes on the study of what we once called "geography" or a traveler-you will enjoy this book. To any one who has been in any part of this country it will mean much.

One would have to see "the famous pink-beds" — the rhododendrons which grow in masses on Roan Mountain to really appreciate his description of them. Especially we, who try to keep a potted azalea a cousin) beautiful as long as we can, in our almost flowerless plains country.

You may check this book out now. But if you must wait until another nature lover has returned it to the shelves, you might ask the librarians about the river series. We liked the one on the Rio Grande by Laura Gilpin, $17.7 particularly. Because it is near us and because of the beautiful photographs shown throughout.

The Road To Frustration

As an example of human misery, the plight of a band of protesting Mississippi Negroes who have taken up living in a squalid tent city is pathetic. As an indication of the direction civil-rights leaders are taking, it's worse.

The angry tenters at Strike City, as they call it, number only 160, but they typify in many ways the wretched conditions Southern Negroes often suffer. To a century of discrimination have been added the economic realities of modern plantation agriculture, notably the reduced acreages allowed for subsidized cotton crops and the increasing pressure on farm owners to automate under the threat of a minimum wage requirement. The result is that farm jobs are dwindling, leaving more poverty and attendant social ills.

But there is an extra bitterness this year, acerbated unintentionally by the civil-rights movement.

As injustices to Negroes became thrust upon the national conscience, so the Negroes themselves came to believe that by sufficient pleading and pressure on the Federal Government a better life could be theirs almost instantly. Yet in the past couple of years alone, two major civil-rights laws have been passed, frequently with little effect on the impoverished Negro's life. Disappointment has given way to frustration.

Strangely in the circumstances, many civil-rights leaders continue to press for Federal solutions with greater impatience and greater militancy. In the case of the Strike City residents, the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party and the National Council of Churches' Delta Ministry encouraged a group to break into an abandoned Air Force barracks, there intending to remain until the Government provided them, as a basic right, with jobs, land, homes and food.

Nor would they listen to officers who promised to deliver their grievances to Washington. They were eventually evicted, angrily screaming their betrayal. The demonstration was futile, but at least it demonstrated how completely the civil-rights movement has been conditioned to look to Washington.

Some of the resentment, in turn, was invited by the Administration, which has long implied that it could legislate away any social problem. The result is that many Negroes at Strike City believe the Federal Government is omnipotent if only it exerts its will. Since their plight has not improved, they reason, it must be that the Government does not care about them. The supposed solution is to threaten harder and plead harder until the Government comes to the rescue.

Worse than leading to this woeful exaggeration of Washington's might, the Government-directed appeal also postpones the day when leaders who would improve the lot of the Negroes begin to look to the Negroes' own resources, as they sooner or later must.

For while the impoverished Southern Negro is to a great extent not responsible for his environment, the unhappy truth is that he is more likely to pull himself from it than to be yanked out by someone else. Negro leaders have hardly begun to explore working with Negroes themselves in the areas of education, job training, family counseling, relocation to healthier economic climates, battling apathy and developing intelligent use of growing local political and economic power.

It is hard to understand the reluctance of the civil-rights leadership to concentrate more of the movement's great energy in these efforts. Perhaps it is because the task is quieter and more worrisome than headline-catching demonstrations. Perhaps it is because it would mean abandoning the promise of immediate gratification. Even so, by this time there must be at least a creeping suspicion of the futility of seeking Governmental cures alone.

Men of good will can only admire the aim of undertaking to help those who are oppressed or beset by misfortune. That is why it is depressing to watch so many of the leaders continuing down a road which for a lot of the people they seek to help, can only lead to further frustration.

Credibility Gap

A "credibility crisis," the capital phrasemakers call it. The situation described is so apparent that even high administration officials complain about it. A considerable number of people think the United States government plays fast and loose with the truth.

The skepticism of Americans in recent years toward official pronouncements was publicly remarked a few weeks ago by no less a personage than U.N. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg.

There are plenty of recent examples of truth-bending. Very few Americans have believed down through the years that the U.S. government is always as painfully honest as the boy George Washington. But many were shocked when, several years ago, an assistant secretary of defense publicly proclaimed that the government has a "right to lie." Even more have been discouraged to note numerous demonstrations since then that he may have been stating official policy. It is hardly surprising that Ambassador Goldberg now finds a widespread tendency to doubt that the administration's word is good as gold.

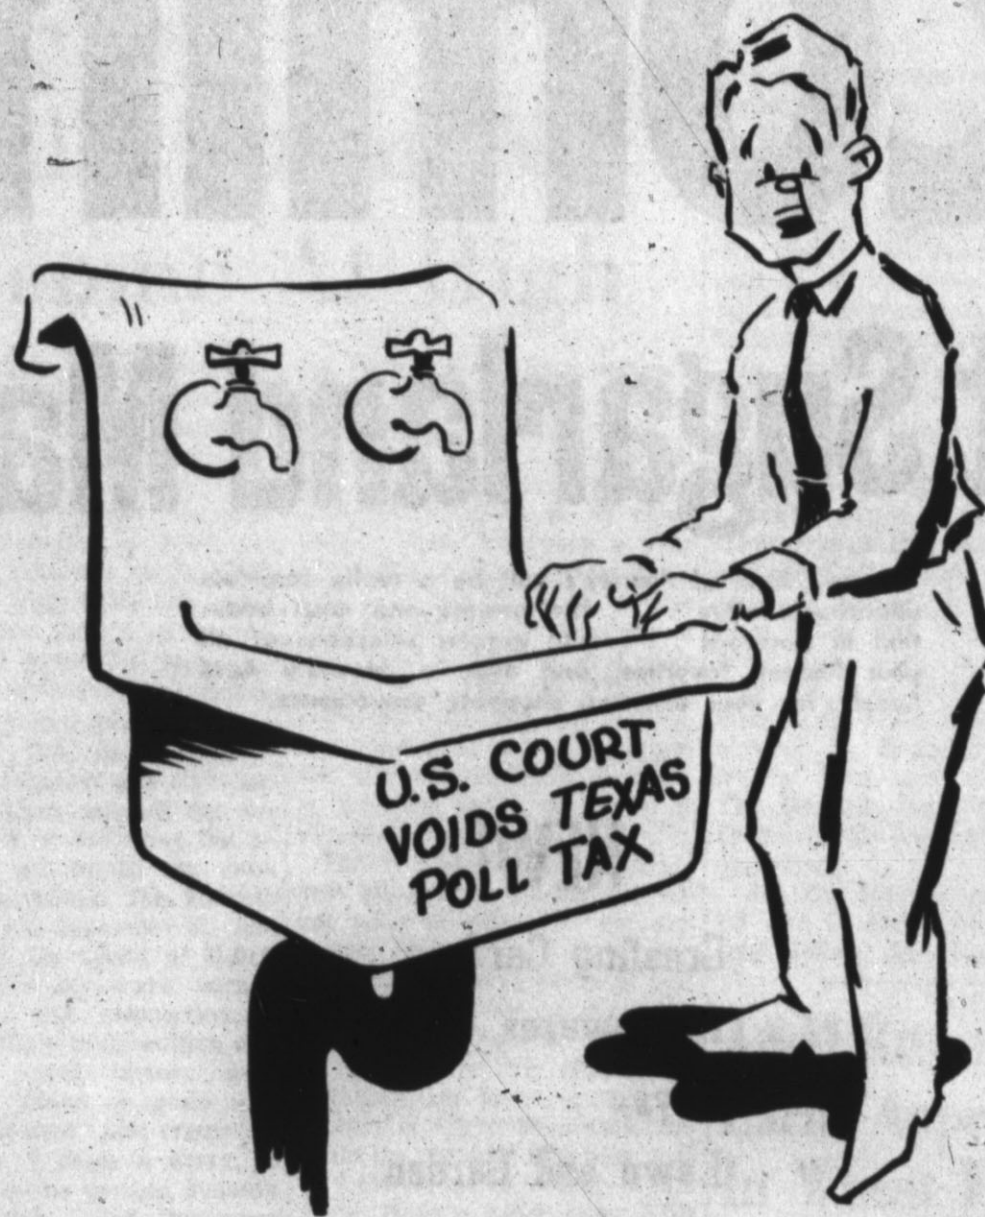

Use of falsehood, half-truth and purposely misleading information is certainly not new. The Eisenhower regime did not exactly win a Sunday-school gold star in the U2 affair. But it is clear that the practice of calculated deceptions has been refined to a shabby art by the Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

These have been found out both on the domestic scene and on the stage of international diplomacy. There are too many to list all of them here. The Bay of Pigs fiasco spun a tangled web that first brought the issue of "managed news" to the fore. The Southeast Asia situation has produced a whole string of statements that have later proved false. A report on Viet Nam by a panel of senators back in 1963 noted that "instead of hiding the facts from the American public, the State Department should have done everything possible to expose the true situation to full view."

Our government's fiery declaration that we would stand to the last on enforcement of dues collection in the United Nations folded up like the empty bluff it was.

On the domestic scene, there are also many instances in which the administration has winked at the truth. The price roll-backs were enforced by crushing federal pressures, that revealed just how "voluntary" the "voluntary" price guidelines were. Federal government silence about the illegal transit strike showed the falseness of its claims to objectivity in intervention. The recent federal budget estimate is

Nation's Most Popular Hero Lauded In Capitol

By BERT MILLS
WASHINGTON, D. C. — February is a month that politicians appreciate because it contains the birthdays of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln — thus affording an opportunity for almost anybody to make a political speech.

Congress takes a recess of a week or more to allow Republicans to extol Lincoln, and members of both parties to pay tribute to Washington, The House of Representatives concludes its February 22 business to listening to a reading of Washington's Farewell Address.

Of all our national heroes none will ever match the popularity of Washington, the Virginia gentleman who was a living legend in his own lifetime and has remained "first in the hearts of his countrymen" ever since.

THERE WOULD probably be a United States of America today even if there had never been a George Washington. But no man did so much to shape the new nation and steer its course in its earliest days as the surveyor-soldier from the banks of the Potomac, as it was spelled in his day.

If ever a man was born for his time and trained for his destiny, it was Washington. If ever a man had greatness thrust upon him by force of circumstance, it was Washington. If ever a patriot personified the indomitable will of a new nation, it was Washington.

Washington Was A Doer
Facts of Washington's life are well known to every schoolboy but there are certain events of his career that deserve remembering as the 134th anniversary of his birthday is commemorated. The first is that from his teen years, Washington was a doer.

At 14, Washington was already a surveyor. At 21, he was a Lieutenant Colonel in the Virginia militia. At 23, he fought his first battle, losing to the French in what was the initial skirmish of the French and Indian war. Washington was to lead a number of the losing battles later in his life.

At 23, Washington was an aide to British General Edward Braddock in the French and Indian war. He barely survived. Four bullets hit his coat and two horses were shot from under him. These soldierly risks were assumed voluntarily. He could have sat back on his estate and led the life he was born to, as a gentleman planter.

WHEN THE second Continental Congress met in Philadelphia in 1775, Washington was a delegate from Virginia. The battles of Concord and Lexington had already been fought but at that point the rebellion of the colonists was confined to New England.

The government has a credibility crisis all right — and no wonder. The administration is having to work as hard to convince the American people of its sincerity as it is to convince the Communists of its resolution in Viet Nam and has not succeeded in either.

There is one solution, and only one: Tell the truth and stick by it.

Panhandle Paragraphs

Based on a report appearing in the San Francisco Examiner that the office of Economic Opportunity is financing a drive to establish co-operative stores in the San Francisco Bay area, C. Wilson Harder, president of the National Federation of Independent Business, has written Director Sargent Shriver for a denial.

"If this report be true," he says, it "can only mean that the War on Poverty is actually a War on Business."

According to the published reports, the War on Poverty forces have approved an expenditure of $500,000 over a two-year period to promote three co-operative store locations to "help the poor." The claim is that the poor are kept that way by unfair retail practices, advertising and brand names.

Of the first year's budget of $256,000, some $154,000 is reportedly earmarked for salaries of officials in carrying on a propaganda war against business, with literature calling upon the poor "to avoid falling into the brand name trap" and other similar phrases.

Congratulations to the Hondo Garden Club, the City of Hondo, and to everyone who helped towards Hondo's entry in the National Achievement Award Contest. As a result of the fine work by so many people, Hondo has won a top award in the national contest.

Special congratulations go to Mrs. J. R. Duncan, president of the Garden Club; Mrs. W. L. Taylor, chairman of the Cleanest Town Project Committee, and members of that committee.

This top award follows by only two weeks the national beautification award to Hondo by the Postmaster General.

These two national awards are excellent examples of results that can be accomplished when the people of a community are willing to work together for the betterment of the city.

There's something topsy turvy about a country which handles its citizens like this.

Support is growing among some of the nations' lawmakers to rescind the president's power in time of crisis. This power was given the President by Congress in August 1964. It enables him to make decisions, such as to resume air strikes against the Viet Cong, without congressional approval. A few of the Great Society Democrats are heading the group, while to the surprise of others most Republicans unite in support of the present policy. It will be interesting to follow this debate.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his blindweed farm explains some of the facts of life to Castro in his letter this week. Unfortunately, Castro doesn't subscribe to The Brand.

Dear editor:

According to a newspaper which a friend in town gave me yesterday, well I don't think he exactly gave it to me, he rustled it sort of impatiently to indicate he had something else to do besides talk with me and handed it over as I left to make sure I was on my way. Castro is having some more trouble in Cuba.

In addition to being pushed off the front page by Viet Nam, Castro is having a hard time understanding Communism.

Red China, he explained to his people in a four-hour television speech, promised to deliver him a million tons of rice or some such amount and to take some of his sugar in exchange, but now she has gone back on her words and he thinks this is outrageous.

Somebody ought to take Castro aside and tell him all about Communism.

He ought to find out that when a Communist leader for example says I'll send you a million tons of rice, it means what the ordinary person means when he says I'll dance at your wedding. It has nothing to do with dancing or delivering rice.

When a Russian Communist says Stalin was a saint, what he means is he's a saint till everybody is ordered to call him a bum.

Truth in Communist countries is like a calendar in other countries. After 30 days you tear off a page and start over. What you said in January has nothing to do with what you say in February.

Castro is sort of new at the Communism business and I'm afraid he's in for a lot of disappointments if he goes around believing what his new friends tell him. It's a very unreliable way to get any rice.

Fidel, a Communist's word is as good as his bond, which is why nobody would buy one.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Flortorial Districts Back In Practice For Texas

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Flortorial districts You'll hear these two words used often between now and the November election. And probably a long time thereafter.

What are flortorial districts? They are voting areas created by combining counties, or parts thereof, to comply with the Supreme Court's edict that all states must have districts of equal population.

IN TEXAS, this has resulted in rural counties sharing representivities with metropolitan counties, or vice versa.

A three-judge federal court at Houston has just upheld the 1965 Reapportionment Act of the House of Representatives, with the exception of 11 flortorial districts.

These flortorial districts are areas around Austin, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Tyler, Waco, Sherman-Denison, Lubbock, Abilene, Temple, Odessa and Angleton.

Court gave the Legislature until August 1, 1967, to correct the flortorial law.

So, this November, voters will select representatives on the basis of the original reapportionment draft.

Texas' four largest counties — Bexar, Dallas, Harris and Tarrant — will gain a total of 18 seats in the House for a total of 51 representatives. Under the new redistricting plan, 12 out of Texas' 254 counties will have a majority of House votes.

ALTHOUGH their power on paper is enormous, as a practical matter representatives of metropolitan areas seldom if ever vote as a bloc. So rural interests aren't likely to be ground under the heel of big city lawmakers.

State senatorial reapportionment never was subject to change.

Congressional redistricting was upheld earlier.

MORE TOURIST FUNDS ASKED

Governor Connally will ask the 1967 Legislature for a bigger budget for tourist advertising.

"Considering the magnitude of the market," he said, "we still are going after an elephant with a peashooter."

Connally cited a 14 per cent increase in tourists last year — totaling 14,200,000. He reported that advertising by the state produced more than 57,000 direct replies.

Although visitors spend more than $680,000,000 a year in Texas, the governor feels the surface has barely been scratched. Tourists in Florida spend three times as much.

He called for further development of natural and man-made attractions, and predicted HemisFair 1968 in San Antonio will have a "strong impact" on progress of the tourist program.

Current biennial budget of the Tourist Development Agency is $32,000. It was $292,000 in 1963-64.

EDUCATION COMMITTEE MEETS

Governor's Committee on Public School Education held its first meeting here for a look at school needs and began preparation of a master plan for future development.

This 15-member committee is charged with a "pervasive inquiry" into all aspects of the school system. Its report is due to be made to the governor and Legislature in August of 1968.

First session dealt largely with employing a staff for the big job ahead.

LEASE SALE PROFITABLE

School Land Board's first oil and gas lease sale of 1966 brought the state $8,300,000 for 136,948 acres or an average of $61.25 an acre.

High bid of $620,000 was on a 1,440-acre Gulf tract in Calhoun County. Next highest was $270,090 on 1,500 acres in Calhoun and Matagorda Counties.

Some $91,500,000 was added to the school land fund last year, boosting the fund to $669,184,011.

JOB CENTERS REVIEWED

Fears of expanded Federal Control over the Gary Job Corps Center near San Marcos, faded after a cards-on-the-table session between Governor Connally, Gary officials and directors of the War on Poverty project in Washington.

Connally reported there will be no basic change in the center's operation. Also that the Texas Education Foundation Inc. a non-profit organization which administers it, may direct the new women's job center at McKinney.

BUSINESS RECORDS SEEN

February is the 60th month of business upswing, in Texas. It's an all-time record for peacetime business, according to the UT Bureau of Business Research.

A "high level" of business activity is predicted for 1966. However, curbing inflation "is going to be very difficult," reports the Bureau.

Additional military expenditures projected for the year will make the state's economy much like that during the Korean War. Medicare is seen as signaling a big increase in demand for medical services and as setting off a boom in hospital and nursing home construction.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED

Governor Connally named Robert C. Sneed of Austin to the Texas School Land Board.

Tom Miller Jr. and William Petri of Austin, Thomas C. Ferguson of Johnson City and E. A. Arnim of Flatonia were named by the governor as new members of the board of the Lower Colorado River Authority.

Connally designated a 25-member advisory committee to implement planning for the first Texas Governor's Conference on Libraries, to be held here on March 23.

Speaker Ben Barnes appointed the following to the interim study committee on water safety: Reps. Ben Atwell of Dallas, Otha Birkner of Bay City, James D. Cole of Greenville, Henry Fletcher of Lockhart and Leroy J. Wieting of Portland.

AG REPORTS

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr says members of the Texas Association of Home Builders may be appointed as State Executive Reservists and Advisors to the State Highway Engineer, in his position as Director of Construction and Housing in the Emergency Resources Management Plan.

Carr also said fraternal benefit societies, burial associations, mutual aid associations and local mutual assessment companies are exempt from general insurance laws. However, they aren't exempt from laws governing escheat and are required to report abandoned property.

A BRIEF has been filed by Carr with the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals in Denver, attacking the Federal Power Commission's order setting the well-head price of gas in the Permian Basin of Texas. Carr said both the economy of Texas and the state school system would be adversely affected by the order.

According to the attorney general, a defendant in a misdemeanor case tried in county court can elect to have the judge or jury fix punishment — just as in felony trials.

VEHICLE LAWS BOOK

A new 262-page book detailing Texas Motor Vehicle Laws is available for 50 cents by writing the Texas Highway Department, Motor Vehicle Division, 40th and Jackson Avenue, Austin, 78703.

Books are offered without charge to U. S. State, County and City governments and to school districts.

TEXAS VS U.S.A.

The U. S. Army and Texas met head-on over plans of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers to build channels and levees on a stream where the state plans to construct a reservoir.

State opposed the Sulphur River project, estimated to cost $700,000, because the state master water plan calls for a reservoir covering the channel work and levees the Corps is planning to build.

BANK CLOSURES

Blanket Bank has been closed and placed in the hands of the State Banking Commissioner for liquidation, according to Commissioner J. M. Falkner.

However, its assets have been sold and its deposit liabilities assumed by the bank, so every depositor will be paid in full, Falkner stated.

SHORT SNORTS

Cigarette tax collections increased more than $2,000,000 during January, over the first month of 1965, to reach a total of $9,600,000.

A Texas legislative Council committee, seeking ways to modernize county government, will hold hearings over the state.

Department of Public Safety reports it has more than 100 job openings in uniformed services for men 21-35 years of age.

Sixth annual meeting of Texas Civil Defense directors will be held here February 21-22, with Gen. Earl G. Wheeler, chairman of U. S. joint chiefs of staff, as principal speaker.

Conference on the Older Americans Act and Medicare as applied in Texas is slated here March 4.

A PERSON who refuses to surrender his suspended license within 10 days of date of suspension is subject to a fine up to $200, DPS warns.

Texas Industrial Commission conducted an economic development clinic at Lamesa.

Third Court of Civil Appeals instructed State Savings and Loan Commissioner James O. Gerst to reconsider an application of the Livingston Savings & Loan, rejected in 1964.

HIGHWAY PATROL REPORTS

January Crashes Claim One Life

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated seven accidents on rural highways in Deaf Smith County during the month of January, according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, Highway Patrol Supervisor.

THESE CRASHES resulted in one persons killed, one person injured and an estimated property damage of $15,565.00.

April 15 is the deadline to have your motor vehicle inspected. During the past five and one-half months only 2,000,000 or 40% of the approximately 5,000,000 registered vehicles in Texas have been inspected. This leaves 3,000,000 vehicles to be inspected in approximately two months.

IF THE number of uninspected vehicles were divided evenly among the 5,200 official inspection stations in Texas each would have approximately 577 vehicles to inspect in about 40 working days, or about 15 vehicles per day. The inspection stations in heavily populated areas will have more than this average number to inspect. In areas where there are only a few inspection stations you may have many miles to travel to get your vehicle inspected.

The Sergeant urges motorists to have their vehicles inspected without delay to avoid the inconvenience of waiting lines.

Remember — no extension of the Safety Inspection deadline, April 15, 1966.

all the colonies into the fray against the mother country. Washington was chosen Commander in Chief by the Continental Congress.

His difficulties can hardly be understood today. He had no real Army to face trained professionals. He lacked money, equipment, and suffered from lukewarm support from some of the colonies. Many colonists sympathized with the British. But Washington was a doer, and he found a way.

Fortitude His Greatest Trait

Washington's troops were not fit to meet the superior strength of the British in battle. So he devised a strategy of harassment, retreating most of the time. Meanwhile he organized his forces and built an Army. He endured Valley Forge in the cruel winter of 1777-78, setting an example for fortitude never exceeded in nearly two centuries.

Finally Lord Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown in 1781, but peace was not to come for two years. When it was achieved, Washington's only wish was to retire to a peaceful life at his beloved Mount Vernon. But it was not to be, for the new nation had severe growing pains and badly needed leadership.

Washington presided over the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia in 1787. When a government was formed, he was the unanimous choice to hear it. He accepted with misgivings, knowing that America was a weak nation with only 4 million people, 700,000 of them slaves, no real Army or Navy, no treasury, and with little to go on but a Constitution of general principles.

Washington was a middle-of-the-road President, following the Constitution to the letter. He was not a politician and deplored the formation of opposing parties. He set the precedent of noninterference in foreign affairs. He set the two-term precedents for Presidents, broken only once since, and now the law of the land.

The circumstances which produced a Father of our Country will never be repeated. But those who fly the flag on February 22 will do well to remember the epitaph spoken by Abigail Adams, wife of John Adams, our second President. She remarked with amazing foresight: "Possessed of power, possessed of an extensive influence, he never used it but for the benefit of his country. If we look through the whole tenor of his life, history will not produce to us a parallel."

Abigail said a mouthful.
