Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Fiday and then it will be too late to pay your pall tax. You won't be able to vote in the impending liquor election, the city election, two democratic primaries and the general election. You won't have any feel my in how your government. ernment is to be run, and ought not to if you don't get poli inx. You have put it off long enough, get it Monday.

County commissioners court this week received a petition a king that local option elec-tion be called. There is nothing that the court can do but call the election since it is assumed a sufficient number of qualities a sufficient number of qualities of votoes signed. This vote is due for the latter part of Pebruary or early March. As it stands now, it is due to see the county so dry, by a close margin, perhaps. Tom Green county voted dry last week and it is generally concoded to be more likeral in its liquor views than Howard county. Old timers rewent dry because saloon keep era refused to listen to good mivice. Times haven't changed much in the last quarter cen-at Decatur, Ala., on Feb. 17.

Contradicting reports of officers on yesterday's altercation, one of the defendants said Powell cut Deputy Edgar-Bialock 'after Mr.

Deputy Edgar, Bialock "after Mr. Blalock slapped him."

Two of the negroes attacked officers with knives as they were being brought to the jail here.

Fifty national guardsmen were ordered to "stand by" by Adjutant General John C. Coleman, sent here by Gov. Bibb Graves to "survey the situation." Coleman first ordered the men to patrol the hospital area, but changed his inpital area, but changed his in-structions a few minutes later. Powell was shot in the head by Sheriff J. Street Sandlin of Morgan county, who sat healde Blalock at the time of the attack.

Tothe PRESIDENT Howard Chumbler Christy 1935

No GOOD time that you could have the rest of the year would be more fun than coming to the third annual Birthday Ball for the President-and no good time could do more good!

Everywhere in the country marvelous birthday parties are planned. And any one who misses the occasion will regret it afterwards. The best thing to do is fill out the coupon below and mail it with your check right awayso you can't forget!

YOUR CHECK MEANS-

It will definitely help the fight against infantile paralysis, since the total fund raised goes directly for this purpose.

Seventy percent retained in the communities which raised it, to provide hospital equipment, to defray expenses of treatment and to finance research.

Thirty percent is used at the Warm Springs Foundation to carry on its national fight against infantile paralysis.

WORK MUST BE CARRIED ON-

Everyone knows about the terrible epidemics of infantile paralysis that have swept the country in recent years, and the tragic results for those who suffered from it. There are over 300,000 victims in the country who need treatment.

Through the generous donation of time and funds great strides have been made in the fight against this disease.

This great charitable cause is supported by men and women of every race, creed and conviction. This advertisement endorsing the fight against infantile paralysis is paid for and sponsored as a generous contribution of one of the leading firms of this community.

Don't miss this wonderful celebration. Fill out the coupon below right now - and mail it with your check to the Committee for the Birthday Ball for the President.

paralysis, and to provide relief for its victims. The Foundation in which he is interested has made much progress in combatting the disease. Its program has been aided by the nation's support in past Birthday events, and can be further promoted by additional financial aid this year.

And remember this: of what you may contribute to the Warm Springs Foundation, none goes to Warm Springs directly; 70 per cent of it stays at home for the aid of local unfortunates who have been stricken by the dread disease and the rest of it is distributed to establish research and experimental laboratories for the study of the disease and of possible means of prevention and cure.

Big Spring has contributed commendably in past Birthday events, and can be expected to do so again. Purchase of a ticket does not necessarily mean that one must attend

A picture that gives charming little Shirley Temple the bignest, dramatic part of her brief career is "The Littlest Rebel," which is the major attraction on the Ritz program for Sunday and Monday, gram for Sunday and Monday.

The picture is adapted from the immortal play of Civil war days, "The Little Rebel," and it goes to show that when a little girl and her happiness are involved, the Biue and Gray are all friends.

Reviewers generally have described "The Littlest Rebel" as the most important of the Temple pic-tures to date. She appears as the tiniest Con-federate in Virginia. John Boles and Karen Moriey are her par-ents. Separated by the war, they are rejoined just before the mother succumbs due to hardships. Boles, though he fears apprehension as a spy, undertakes to deliver the child to her aunt in Richmond. Goes To President

The production is a hilarious ager for a big Broadway, producer, comedy of backstage, with songs and dances coming in naturally as a part of the action of the theatrical troupe involved in the story. There are several new song and dance numbers staged by Busby Berkeley, who directed the entire play.

And of course there are always the Brown comic efforts. The story centers about Joe, a hoofer and comic in a burleague show, whose stage partner is his wife. Am Dyor, at the story centers is his wife, Am Dyor, and the story cast incl. 'es Joseph in the investment asked for the service.'

Pioneer Resident, Builder Of First Water And 'Phone Systems, Recalls

Old Times As He Visits Big Spring

Charles L. Alderman, father of the waterworks and telephone systems in Big Spring, is back for a visit in the country he helped to build.

For years one of the leading citizens of Big Spring, Alderman has for the past 15 years resided in Mc. Connelsville, Ohio, where he went to manage the affairs of his father on selling his interests in the Western Telephone company which served a wide area of West Texas hotel and plans to visit with old friends for several days.

The meaning open, on election day. Later when citizens pleaded with the bartenders to close their businesses on certain nights and days, the liquor dealers turned a deaf ear and a local option election was called. The town went dry.

Alderman was on a board which opened up the first transcounty roads—those to Colorado, Stanton, Garden City, Lamesa, and Gail. Then, as now, ranchers stormed the lastopping at the Douglass hotel and plans to visit with old friends for several days.

So Alderman said no more. He concerned himself strictly with the few buildings scattered along Main to serve the needs of Big Spring.

This done, he returned to his country was suffering from seven room in the old T&P hotel and years of drouth that had left the went to bed At 3 a. m. John Bird-errain barren as pavement and well, manager of the hotel, rapped on his door and shouted: "Better pull your windows down! It's pourng down. You hit it this time but don't try it anymore."

Many times after the people would try to get Alderman to predict the weather but he chose to rest on his 100 per cent record. Striking a bargain with the railroad and signing a contract to fur nish the company with water, Alderman set about the task of in-stalling the first water system for the town. By August the next year water was turned into the main and the flow was started which ordered six-inch cast-iron mains. The system was installed prinipally because of the railroad con ract but 200 people had also signed saying that they would take as many taps at $2 per month. As an added attraction Alderman and associates also installed several fire plugs to serve the city.

disconlent broke out. The citizens called an indignation meeting to protest the water rates. One after another heaped coals of fire upon he head of Alderman until a Dr. Burroughs arose and bluntly ask-ed: "What are you yelping about?" They yelled that the rates were too high. "Too high," retorted the "why you forget that a li tle while ago you had a barrel back of your house; you hauled your water and you paid four-bits a barre

Then Alderman began to think over several offers he had received from the Southwestern Bell Tele-phone company. He never did fully decide to sell, however, until talk of an oil boom made it appear that Big Spring and the surrounding

His parents were growing old and wanted them to return to Ohio and manage their affairs so they left the prairies they had learned to

"I never had but one employes strike," recalled Alderman. "One day the operators came in and told me what they wanted and I said Til tell you now that I won't grant it.' They said they would strike and I told them to go to it. I told the chief operator to turn the gen-erator off and she said: 'You can't

We will do it. I told her and we did. In a day or so a petition signed by 200 people came in say ing that we would either put the girls back on and restore service

When Alderman came to Spring there was not a fence in loward county save for a drift ly in the northwest It looked as if it would pour down in a few minutes. Alderman said: "You better let your windows down, It's going to rain."

Back in West Texas, Alderman is outspoken in his praise for the section, declaring it to have the best climate in the world and brushing aside complaints against sandstorms by calling them "health storms."

In December, 1894, Alderman climbed down the steps from the lown of Big Spring, a not-so-thriving village of 800 weather-beaten and drought-stricken inhabitants.
