EFFECTIVE TUESDAY, AUGUST 1

You've known it-we've known it-that the time must come soon when advancing costs would force an increase in today's ridiculously low dry cleaning prices.

All Hereford Dry Cleaners have agreed upon an adjustment of prices. This is a step in cooperation with the industrial code now being formed. These new prices have been made necessary because of increased production costs.

Every fair-minded person will agree that an adjustment in dry cleaning prices is long past due. We are confident of maintaining the splendid cooperation our customers have offered in the past.

Henry Ford

IN ANSWER TO A LADY'S LETTER

A lady writes to say that she does not understand why an 8-cylinder car does not cost more to run than a car with fewer cylinders. She refers to my statement that our Ford V-8 develops more power on a gallon of gas than any car we have made.

The use of 8-cylinders does not mean the addition of two or four extra fuel consumers. It is not, for example, a 4-cylinder engine multiplied by two. Our 8-cylinder engine takes the fuel supply of an ordinary 4-cylinder engine and divides it eight ways. And why?

By reducing four larger explosions into eight smaller ones, we get engine smoothness and quietness. Eight-cylinders indicate the way the gas is used, not the amount. It is just the difference between going upstairs in four long jumps or in eight ordinary steps.

Two things use up gas-bad engine design and useless car weight. Besides having an engine that gets a high percentage of power out of the fuel, the Ford V-8 has a light, strong body and chassis so that no power is wasted in moving excess weight.

The only extravagance about the new Ford V-8 engine is in the building of it. The extravagance is ours-the economy is yours.

The whole question of car economy needs clearing up. An economical car gives economy all round. Price, operation, upkeep, all play their part. If what you save on gas you lose elsewhere, that is not economy.

As to upkeep, our dealers say that in recent years the improved quality of Ford cars has cut down their repair business 50 per cent. As to price with quality, -judge for yourself.

As to economy, here is the record of a stock car three weeks out of shop in Oklahoma:

On a run of 10,054 miles at the rate of 1,000 miles a day-the Ford V-8 gave 18.8 miles per gallon of gas. Not a drop of water was added to the radiator. The oil was changed once in 1,000 miles.

That should answer a lot of questions.

Locomotives That

Made Civil War History The old wood-burning locomotive known as the "General" has long been on display at Chattanooga. The equally famous "Texas" is housed at Atlanta. In Civil war times some enterprising Union spies stole the "General" while it stood with steam up on a siding near Big Shanty, Ga. The Confederate engine crew were having breakfast at a tavern near at hand. By handear and afoot they followed up the track until they found and commandeered the old freight engine, "Texas," and then the real chase started. Box cars on fire were rolled down grade on the single track line by the fleeing Federals. Heavy rains were falling, but they managed to set fire to a bridge at Chickamauga over which the "Texas" scooted just before it crashed. At last the Unionists set the "General" in reverse and sent it speeding southward while they took to the woods. The southerners reversed the "Texas" just in time to avoid a collision, and then managed to capture these enterprising spies.

Manna Found No Favor

With Wanderer in Asia Iraq is not all plain and marsh: there are forests in the north, which yield even the "divine" food of the Hebrews in the wilderness. For the first time, in Bagdad recently, I saw manna (sap of the European flowering ash), and I did not hanker for a fraction of an omer of it. A look, a taste—and the mercy of Jehovah!

It is exhibited in burlap, a blackish mass, hard and insipid. Even made into a candy plentifully powwooden boxes, it is no more than acceptable; "Turkish delight" makes it bitter with envy.

When the Bedouin Arab tasted first the crude product and then the candy, he said: "My boot, if cooked with sugar, will be toothsome." He preferred pickled locusts.-Ameen Rihani in Asia.

AT THE STAR THEATRE

What is said by critics to be the best offering by Paramount in recent months is found in "The Eagle and the Hawk," schedule for a two day showing at the Star + + + Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, August 2 and 3.

Based on a story by John Monk Saunders, author of "Wings," the story has been worked into a wonderful screen play by Bogart Rogers and Seton I. Miller.

Fredric March, Cary Grant, Carole Lombard and Jack Oakle take leading parts, and are backed up by a cast worthy to support such outstanding stars. It is a war picture, and as the name suggests, has to do with the aerial department. Thrilling air battles, close escapes, and many + bair-lifting moments are contained within this picture, and it is to be run in Hereford for only 10 and 20 cents admission.
