STATE BOARD ASKED TO APPROVE ELECTION ON JUNIOR COLLEGE DIST.

Reviewing The BIG SPRING WEEK
by Joe Pickle

Big Spring people were becoming more and more conscious last week of the fact that they were being asked to approve a junior college district election for Howard county by the state board of education. The board of education is asking that the board of trustees here Saturday.

County Trustees Adopt Resolution For Vote On Petition Of 873 Residents

Approval of the state board of education of a move to call a junior college district election for Howard county was asked in a resolution passed unanimously by the county board of trustees here Saturday.

The board checked names on petitions asking that an election be called to determine whether a junior college district be established for the county and found that there were 873 qualified signers.

Fully 100 additional persons had signed but their names were not entered on the tax rolls. The 873 was far in excess of the ten per cent required by law before the election can be ordered.

Should the state board, in its next meeting, find that all requirements have been met thus far, an election will be ordered to ascertain whether a junior college district shall be established in Howard county and for Howard county in its entirety in accordance with the requirements of the junior college law.

The district, according to the resolution, has a valuation in excess of $12,700,000 and more than the required 500 high school students.

Miss Anne Martin, county superintendent, said that she planned to contact W. A. Nelson, college examiner, to find when the earliest hearing could be given the Howard county case before the board.

Members of the board indicated they were anxious to order the election so the people could give a clear expression on the proposal. Response accorded those who circulated petitions led to the belief that the issue will receive a strong favorable vote when it is placed before the people.

Some observers believed that the action at Highway and Knott Saturday in voting to consolidate strengthened the position of the junior college idea. In event the two school districts should elect to install a consolidated high school, the number of high school students in the county would be perceptibly increased.

Child's Bones Unearthed By Accused Man

Leads Officers To Place Where He Said Remains Of Four Buried

ATHENS, Mar. 14 (AP)—The skull and teeth of a child were unearthed today on the farm of George Patton, 54-year-old recluse charged with the murder of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McGehee and their two small sons.

At 1 p. m. today, Sheriff Jess Sweeten said Patton told him that he would lead officers to the spot where the bones were buried. Patton, Sweeten and State Ranger Dan Hines went to the Patton farm, six miles north of here.

Leads Way to Spot

Patton, the sheriff declared, led the officers to a spot near a gatepost leading from the farm to the stock lot. The accused man wielded the spade and the child's bones were found near the surface.

When the spade unearthed the skull and a few teeth from the jaw of the child, the sheriff said he ordered Patton to quit digging. The prisoner, who was quoted in a statement by Sheriff Sweeten early this week as saying he killed McGehee after the latter had bludgeoned Mrs. McGehee and their two children, was returned to the Henderson county jail.

Sheriff Sweeten said Patton, who is charged with murder of the McGehee family in 1932 changed his story several times.

Although he purportedly related in a signed statement that the four bodies were placed in a meat cooking vat, and the bones afterward burned, Patton later accompanied officers to his farm north of Athens and placed a stick in the ground, to indicate the place where the bodies were buried.

Sheriff Sweeten said Patton, still a prisoner, retracted his previous story that McGehee, while in a drunken rage, killed his wife and children and attacked Patton, who wrestled a club from him and killed him by a blow on the head. Instead, the sheriff said, Patton claimed that two men killed the McGehees during a holiday, forcing him to assist in the killing.

Puzzled by the discrepancies between these versions, the officers took Patton back to the Tyler jail and renewed later questioning.

SPRING RAINS FLOOD PENNSYLVANIA HIGHWAYS

Heavy spring rains, flooding Pennsylvania streams, put roads under water as the area of inundation widened. This view of a highway along the Schuylkill river at Flat Rock dam, north of Philadelphia, shows a typical scene in the flooded regions of the Eastern part of the state. Floods throughout the North-eastern section of the United States Saturday had taken a toll of 29 lives. (Associated Press Photo.)

Hitler Asked To Send Envoy To Conference

Developments Serve To Ease Tension Throughout Europe

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Mar. 14 (AP)—An embattled France offered tonight to soften its stand on the question of Germany's remilitarization of the Rhineland as 14 nations sat in judgment on the violator of two treaties, intended to insure Europe against war.

"We do not want to stick blindly to our insistence on evacuation if we can get something better," said a French spokesman attending a meeting of the league of nations council called to consider the Reich's violation of the Locarno pact and the Versailles treaty.

Tension Eased

The "something better" was left unexplained. The French proposal, however, and the council's invitation to Chancellor Adolf Hitler to state his case Monday afternoon through a representative eased the tension which has gripped Europe since Reich troops goose-stepped into the Rhineland a week ago.

The French spokesman emphasized, however, that his nation was willing to parley with the Germans only on the question of the Locarno treaty denunciation and France will not discuss Hitler's peace offer until the Rhineland dispute is settled.

The French viewpoint, the spokesman pointed out, is that Germany would automatically recognize continuance of the Locarno treaty if a Nazi representative comes to the council table.

May Not Accept

The council meeting in secret session, extended its offer to Reichsfuehrer Hitler to lay his cards on the table after being assured by Britain, in a public meeting, of the fullest cooperation for the building of a new peace structure.

It was indicated that Germany will not attend Monday's meeting, since the Reich feels it was invited as a signatory of the Locarno treaty. "Germany considers the Locarno pact dead and buried," an unofficial but well informed source pointed out.

The invitation had not reached Hitler, since it arrived in Berlin after he had departed for Munich.

France and Belgium joined in a demand at the public meeting of the council that the league condemn the Reich as a breaker of treaties for its occupation of the demilitarized Rhineland just a week ago in violation of the Locarno pact and Versailles treaty.

Anthony Eden, Britain's foreign secretary, supporting the charge that an "incontestable breach of treaties has been committed," declared it was for the council to deal with the crisis.

Britain To Cooperate

Asserting the peace of Europe depended on the wisdom of the council's action, Eden declared the community of nations could count on Britain's help in "reestablishing peace on a firm foundation."

With words of peace and war still echoing through the great scarlet and gold drawing room of St. James' Palace, the members of the council adjourned their public session until Monday and went immediately into their secret session.

Deciding to invite Hitler to send a representative here to explain his case and open one more path to conciliation, the council expressed hope that the German representative would be here in time for Monday's session.

Extortion Charges Filed At San Angelo

One other thing about the traffic situation. City Manager E. V. Spence, in an address before one of the local service organizations, said that "common sense" would be the basic principle of enforcement of the new laws. "Common sense" is not a stickler for the letter of the law, nor does it shut its eyes to flagrant violations. The same principle could be used to advantage in all enforcement.

Only Half Of Estimated Age Claims Filed

Judging from the response at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon, a junior college proposal is going to prove popular. For one thing, the suggestion that Howard county be declared a junior college district has met with strong support in the rural section, more names having been signed to petitions circulated out of town than on those in town. First and foremost consideration seems to be that it will make college training available to local boys and girls at home. Second, a junior college stands a good chance of being designated as a regional junior college by the state before long. Third, a junior college might attract more people to make their homes here. In addition to these, and a summation of all others, the college would fulfill a very definite need.

Applications For Benefits Total 1,453; 3,000 Anticipated

Slightly less than 50 per cent of the number of old age assistance applications anticipated from this district have been received by the district office and forwarded to the state commission. District Supervisor George White said Saturday.

Figures released by the state office pegged the number due to apply from this 13 county district at 5,000 or two-thirds of the 4,500 persons past 65 years of age. Saturday 1,453 applications had been sent to the state commission by the district office.

Counties having sent in more than 50 per cent of their estimated quota include Dawson, Gaines, Garza, Lynn, Midland and Terry.

White said that an average of 25 applications was being received here daily.

Applications and quotas by counties follow:

County	Estimated	Rec'd.
Andrews	40	16
Borden	70	25
Dawson	450	257
Ector	150	35
Gaines	100	55
Garza	200	135
Glasscock	70	15
Howard	850	325
Lynn	400	215
Martin	150	60
Midland	225	125
Terry	225	165
Yookum	70	15
Total	3,000	1,453

School Union Is Approved

Knott and Highway Vote First Consolidation In This County

Unofficial returns Saturday gave the consolidation proposal for Knott and Highway school districts a big majority.

Although no exact figures on results were available immediately, it was reliably learned that both districts favored consolidation by wide margins.

At Knott, an independent school district, the margin was only two votes shy of being 3 to 1 in favor of the move.

Highway was said to have given a heavy favorable vote.

Results of the election make this the first consolidation in the history of the county. Several similar proposals have been defeated in the past.

JAPANESE-SOVIET TROUBLE RENEWED

MOSCOW, Mar. 14 (AP)—Word of another explosive incident reached Soviet Russia's capital today from the far-away borders where Bolshevik and Japanese spheres of influence meet.

Tardy dispatches from Khabarovsk said motorized Japanese-Manchukuan soldiers, driving along the Manchukuan side of the far-eastern frontier, had fired upon Soviet workmen engaged in dredging the Amur river.

COAHOMA MAN DIES

W. W. Anderson Succumbs To Long Illness

W. W. Anderson, 80, Coahoma, succumbed at 3:30 a. m. Saturday at the Big Spring hospital after a long illness.

A long time resident of Howard county, Anderson had lived in Coahoma for the past several years. Funeral arrangements were pending the arrival of his widow from Plainview. Anderson died on his eightieth birthday.

ENDORSES THE SALE OF US POWER LINES

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14 (AP)—Amendment of the $42,000,000 Norris electricification bill to permit sale of government-financed power lines to private interests was endorsed today by Morris Cooke, rural electrification administrator.

Trio Named; Theatre Man Was Chosen As The Victim

SAN ANGELO, Mar. 14 (AP)—Two men, J. F. (Jack) Williams, 66, and R. L. White, 34, both ex-convicts and Mrs. Katherine Thomas Williams, 27, recently acquitted on a liquor charge in county court here, were charged late today with attempt to extort $10,000 from John D. Jones, manager and co-owner of a chain of local theatres.

Charges were filed with Jesse T. Couch, U. S. commissioner here, by J. C. Mertz, department of justice agent. Couch set bonds at $10,000 each.

The two men were arrested on the Ballinger highway by Sam Haynes, chief of police and two other officers who had followed Jones out as he delivered $1,000 in ten-dollar bills to be placed in a telephone on the roadside as instructed by a telephone call this morning. The first letter of a series was received Saturday, March 7, by Jones. It advised that he had been selected as the victim and that instructions would follow on how to deliver the money. His life and those of members of his family were threatened.

Earth Tremor Felt In Oklahoma

IDABEL, Okla., Mar. 14 (AP)—A slight earth tremor was felt over a 30-mile area in this county today. Telephone operators here and at Broken Bow and Wright City reported buildings were shaken by the tremor.

Several women rushed from their homes in Broken Bow when the shock was felt, the operator there reported.

No damage was reported. It was believed the shock was so light buildings were not affected.

MORE TAX RETURNS

Federal Payments Show Increased Incomes

Further substantiation of the already established fact that 1935 was a better business year than 1934 is seen in reports from several local accountants and attorneys who have been handling income tax returns.

Without exception they have serviced more returns than for the preceding year, a few reporting an increase of more than 100 per cent. Income tax returns must be in not later than Monday midnight since March 15, deadline, falls on a Sunday.

'BOOKIE' CHARGES

Man Arrested, Named In A Complaint Here

Charges in connection with the alleged race book-making were filed in the county court Saturday against a man giving the name of William Jones.

The sheriff's department picked the man up at a local hotel Saturday afternoon, a few hours after he reportedly had opened for business.

PICCARD WILL TRY FOR NEW RECORD IN NEXT STRATO FLIGHT

WARSAW, Mar. 14 (AP)—Prof. Auguste Piccard, stratosphere pioneer, today ordered a new balloon for an attempt to ascend to 30,000 meters (98,430 feet).

It was learned he intends to try to break the record in Poland this summer. The present high mark is 23,395 feet.

E. W. POTTER RESTING WELL FOLLOWING AN OPERATION

Condition of E. W. Potter, superintendent of Coeden refinery, was given as satisfactory Saturday evening at Bivings hospital where he underwent an appendectomy Friday evening.

FLOODS MOVE TOWARD COAST, TOLL MOUNTS

INVITATIONS TO EXECUTION TO BE MAILED

TRENTON, N. J., Mar. 14 (AP)—Invitations to the electrocution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann will be mailed next Saturday, Gov. Marjory G. Minkler, warden of the New Jersey state prison, announced today.

Barring an improbable eleventh-hour respite, the convicted killer of the Lindbergh baby will go to the chair the week of March 30—probably at 8 p. m. on Tuesday, March 31.

Governor Harold G. Hoffman has said the only thing likely to save the condemned man now would be the disclosure of new evidence.

29 Deaths, Damage Of 50 Millions Already Recorded

(By The Associated Press)
Convulsed by rain and thaw, New England rivers swept great ice packs toward the sea Saturday night, threatening coastal cities with the same flood devastation that already has wrought havoc among their headwaters.

Elsewhere in the eastern United States and Canada flood waters began slowly to recede after a two-day rampage.

Altogether 29 deaths have been attributed to spring floods thus far and property damage in the New England area alone was estimated at $50,000,000. The highest casualty lists were recorded in the Maritime provinces of Canada, where thirteen perished and in New England, where ten died.

More Rain Forecast

New England rivers, particularly the Merrimack which isolated Concord, N. H., and forced 3,000 families to seek higher ground, receded slightly Saturday morning. Floods also were abating in the Hudson valley in New York.

The forecast of rain Sunday caused new apprehension, however. Officials in New England considered appealing for army bombing planes to break ice jams which backed up the flood waters. Three coast guard amphibians were ready at Salem, Mass., for emergency rescue work.

It was estimated that 75,000 New Englanders were left jobless by inundation of mills.

The Connecticut at Hartford reached a level of 23 feet at 7 a. m., seven feet above flood stage, and still was rising. Railroad service between Hartford and Boston via Willimantic, Conn., was abandoned. Relief supplies from New Haven were distributed to refugees at Willimantic and Hartford, where several hundred persons were without food or shelter.

Other rivers in Connecticut were receding. A thousand WPA workers were cleaning up debris.

FLAMING METEOR ROARS OVER N. JERSEY

NEWARK, N. J., Mar. 14 (AP)—A flaming meteor so near the earth that it rattled windows and woke many persons from slumber, shot across the sky over central New Jersey early today and then vanished, apparently into the Atlantic ocean.

The speeding object lit up the countryside for many miles and was visible in buildings as far as Washington, D. C., approximately 225 miles away.

Air tremors from the fiery body were reported felt many miles north and south of Newark.

Credit Meet Slated Today

First delegates for conference arrive here Saturday, and more were expected Saturday night, for the spring conference of credit bureau secretaries and credit managers of West Texas, to be held at the Crawford hotel here today. More than 30 towns are expected to have representatives at the session.

Speakers on the program, which opens at 9:30 a. m. and lasts until 4 p. m., will include John R. Clark, Port Worth, district chairman of the Associated Retail Credit Men of Texas; W. S. Pickett of San Angelo, vice-president of the district organization; A. S. Jacobs of El Paso, credit manager; Vincent W. McConn, El Paso, secretary-manager of the Business Men's Protective association of that city; Charles T. Luz, secretary-manager of the State Retail Credit Bureau; J. B. Collins and Ira Thurman of Big Spring.

Addresses by Pickett and Jacobs are scheduled for the morning session, and the others will be heard on the afternoon program. Court-sites to visitors will include an automobile tour at noon and a luncheon at the Crawford at 12:45.

Local arrangements and the program have been completed by L. A. Eubanks, secretary-manager of the association, and the local business men interested in credit problems to attend today's sessions.

Those who arrived here Saturday included McConn, Jacobs, Martin Wiggs, credit manager; Jerry Harris, Creditors' Service Bureau manager; and Mrs. Jane Edmondson, manager of the Protective association for foreign exchange department, all of El Paso.

Funeral for Long-Time Resident of City Will Be Held Today

Last rites for James Phillip Smith, 82, will be held at 3 p. m. today from the East Fourth Baptist church with Rev. W. S. Garrett, pastor, and Rev. B. G. Richardson in charge.

Smith succumbed at the family home, 1207 W. 8th street, 6:30 p. m. Saturday. He had lived in the county for more than three decades.

Born in Cherokee, Ga., Jan. 20, 1854, Smith early became a member of the Baptist church. In 1873 he was married to Miss Joan Gregory. To that union 12 children were born, one dying in infancy and another, Luther, Howard county treasurer, succumbing in 1925.

Survivors are his widow and these children: Herschell Smith, Walter E. Smith, and Marshall Smith of Big Spring, Mrs. J. G. Arnett, Midland, Mrs. Oscar Stanton, Lomaha, Mrs. Emmie Scott, Stanton, Mrs. Sam Coffey, Midland, Mrs. Haskell Coffey, Anson, Mrs. Ben Sample, Knott, and Gordon Smith, Bakerfield, Calif.

Burial will be in the Mt. Olive cemetery. Eberly Funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

NEW GOVERNMENT OF PARAGUAY IS RECOGNIZED

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14 (AP)—American recognition of the new government of Paraguay was formally announced by the state department today.

OVERPASS EAST OF CITY IS COMPLETED

The second railroad overpass completed in Howard county within a year stands ready for use when the highway is connected with it.

Saturday the structure spanning the Texas and Pacific tracks 15 miles east of here lacked only painting and back filling of being finished.

A much smaller job than the $60,000 overpass six miles west, the structure was completed in less than three months working time.

300 More Trees Needed For Highway Beautification

175 Plants Pledged, 500 Required For Entrances To The City

About 300 additional trees are needed before a project to beautify highway entrances to Big Spring can be launched, Mrs. J. M. Morgan, county chairman for highway beautification, said Saturday.

Five service organizations and one individual have pledged 175 trees to date, she said. At least 500 are needed before the project can be started.

Mrs. Morgan urged individuals or organizations interested in see-

FASCISTS ARRESTED BY SPANISH POLICE

MADRID, Mar. 14 (AP)—Spanish police arrested 200 fascists today, including members of the executive committee of the Spanish fascist organization, as they sought the leaders of rioters who burned church buildings in downtown Madrid yesterday.

Heading the list of persons taken into custody was Jose Antonio Primo de Rivera, son of the late dictator and leader of the fascist party.

De Rivera and the committee members were held on the charge of failing to furnish authorities with a list of names and addresses of members of their party.

FD Works On Relief Plans

Will Deliver Recommendations In A Message Next Week

WASHINGTON, March 14. (UP)—President Roosevelt worked today on a message that he will transmit to congress next week on relief requirements for the fiscal year 1936-37.

Mr. Roosevelt, urged by congressional advisors to hold his relief request to $1,000,000,000 for seven months after July 1, began drafting the recommendations after a conference last night with Harry Hopkins, Acting Budget Director Daniel W. Bell and Corrington Gill, deputy relief administrator.

As Mr. Roosevelt prepared his estimates in the seclusion of his study on the second floor of the White House, there was the general feeling that the amount asked would be slightly in excess of a billion dollars inasmuch as there is a billion dollar carry over from the $4,850,000,000 work fund.

The president's recommendations are expected to be delivered to Capitol Hill between Monday and Thursday. On that latter date he is scheduled to leave for the south for a two weeks vacation.

'Magnificent Obsession,' From Popular Novel, Features Program At Ritz Today

Irene Dunne, Robert Taylor Seen In Leading Roles

The poignant romance through which two persons eventually find happiness after a long fight against tragedy, known throughout the nation to readers of the popular book, "The Magnificent Obsession," is brought to the screen in the film version of Dr. Lloyd C. Douglas' best-seller. It plays Sunday and Monday at the Ritz theatre.

Already approaching in popularity the book itself, the film features Irene Dunne and a newcomer to the screen, Robert Taylor, in the featured roles. Others in the cast are Charles Butterworth, Betty Furness, Sara Haden, Henry Armetta, Ralph Morgan, Cora Sue Collins, Arthur Treacher, Beryl Mercer, and Gilbert Emery. The picture was directed by John M. Stahl, whose work includes such dramatic successes as "Back Street," "Only Yesterday" and "Imitation of Life."

The Story
There are few unfamiliar with the story of "The Magnificent Obsession"—how a young wastrel, through love and a realization of his futile life, develops into a useful character.

Taylor is seen as the young man who indirectly is partly responsible for the death of a famous surgeon. He later meets the surgeon's widow (Miss Dunne), falls in love with her, and makes an attempt to interest her. He succeeds one time by ruse, getting her into his car, but when she steps out of the car to avoid his advances she is struck by a passing vehicle, and the injury leaves her blind.

The story develops through situations of pathos. Stirring are the incidents which show the young man, filled with remorse, do all in his

Laurel-Hardy Bring Comedy To An Opera

Funsters At Lyric Today In Revised Version Of 'Bohemian Girl'

When Michael William Balfe, poetic Irishman, wrote the popular opera, "The Bohemian Girl," nearly a century ago, little did he dream that one day would be the basis of a comedy motion picture. The work of the conceived, it was a dramatic story of the adventures of a gypsy band, interspersed with ballads noted for their pathetic sentiment.

Now come Laurel and Hardy, chief among Hollywood's funmakers, as stars of a new and hilarious version of the noted production, a version devoted to laughter, but nevertheless "The Bohemian Girl." The picture plays at the Lyric for three days beginning Sunday.

The picture is the third full-length one for the two comedians, who offered something novel in farce with "The Devil's Brother," and "Babes In Toyland."

Made Revisited
Produced by Hal Rosch-M-G-M, the feature picture has lost none of the spirit of the original manuscript. Practically all of the never-forgotten music, both instrumental and vocal, has been retained. Such familiar ballads as "I Dream I Dwell In Marble Halls," "Then You'll Remember Me," "In the Gypsy's Life You Read," and "The Heart Bow'd Down," are included.

The story differs considerably, however, to permit Laurel and Hardy to caper as is their custom, and to the advantage of the play from an entertainment standpoint. Likewise, the picture version has dropped many of the incidental characters of the original play.

For sheer fun and because of its unsurpassed music, "The Bohemian Girl" promises novel entertainment. It is fast-moving and contains the usual Laurel-Hardy comic touch. Others featured in the cast are Antonio Moreno, Jacqueline Wells, Miss Busch, James Finlayson, Darja Hood and William P. Carleton.

THE BOYS HAVE FUN IN

Your old friends Laurel and Hardy try a new outlet for their comic efforts in a picture playing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Lyric. It is "The Bohemian Girl," a revised version of the famous opera. The songs are retained, but the story is altered to introduce farce.

Negro Given Death Penalty

Is Sentenced Within A Week After Deputy Slain

TAHOCA, Mar. 14 (AP)—Elmo Banks, negro, was under death sentence today for slaying Deputy Sheriff F. E. Redwine in a jail break a week ago.

The jury's verdict late yesterday ended one of the speediest trials on record in the plains country. The death sentence was the first ever returned in Lynn county and the second in the 106th judicial district.

Redwine was shot five times with his own pistol when he attempted to lock the negro in a cell the night of March 6. The negro was captured Sunday and his trial opened Thursday.

The negro pleaded innocence and his court appointed attorney based his case on the predicate of self-defense. Banks testified he wrested the pistol from Redwine's hand, adding that the officer had cursed and threatened to kill him.

Redwine told officers shortly before he died in a Lubbock hospital the negro shot him.

WEEK'S CARLOADINGS ARE ABOVE LAST YEAR

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14 (UP)—The Association of American Railroads today announced carloadings for the week ended March 7 totalled 634,828 cars, 47,638 above the corresponding week in 1935 and 38,295 below the preceding week.

The decrease under last week's carloadings was largely due to reduction in the movement of coal, the association reported.

The population of the Kentucky state prison is 1,110, about double the number its buildings were constructed to house.

Handwork To Be Exhibited

Meeting Of Home Demonstration Clubs Slated At Forsan Wednesday

A special display of handwork will be a feature of a meeting of home demonstration clubs of southern Howard county, to be given under auspices of the Forsan Parent-Teacher association, next Wednesday. The session will be held at the school gymnasium, beginning at 8:30.

Mrs. Nora K. White, president of the Forsan P. T. A., said the organization is inviting the home demonstration clubs of Chalk, Elbow and Forsan to participate in the meeting, and to exhibit wearing apparel, rugs and all other types of handwork. An invitation is issued to all to enter the articles in the display.

A program to be given at the meeting will be featured by a talk, "Wise Use of Leisure," by Miss Mayme Lou Parr, county home demonstration agent. Entertainment will include a trombone solo by Donald Austin, a reading by Emma Hoard, and selections by the Forsan choral club.

GIRL WINS SAFETY AWARD JUST BEFORE FATHER IS KILLED

AUSTIN, Mar. 14 (UP)—Gov. James V. Allred yesterday awarded 18-year-old Ruth Pattillo, Austin high school student, a book as first prize in a traffic safety poster contest. Her poster showed the red, orange and green lights of a traffic signal marked respectively "Stop Wait-Then Go."

Last night Ruth's father, W. L. Pattillo, 75, chief bookkeeper for the state board of control, was struck and killed by an auto while walking across the street.

U. S. War On Racketeers Is Basis Of Film

George Brent, Bette Davis Co-Starred In 'Special Agent' At Queen

Another phase of the U. S. government's efforts to rid the nation of its arch criminals is dramatized in the film presented at the Queen theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. It is "Special Agent" with George Brent and Bette Davis in the stellar roles.

"Special Agent" is an exciting drama with a glowing romance, based on the exploits and adventures of the undercover men in the treasury department. These sleuths relentlessly follow the trail of gamblers, extortionists and racketeers of every sort until they get their men behind the bars of federal prisons for violation of the income tax laws. In "Special Agent" the inner workings of these operatives are revealed.

Bette Davis has the role of personal secretary to the head of a powerful band of racketeers. She gets her job without realizing what it is, but after learning the secrets of the gang she cannot step out for fear of reprisal. She is in love with Brent, a reporter who works to bring the criminals to justice and at the same time save Bette from assassination.

Both go through some harrowing experiences in their battle with the gang before they land the crooks in the government net in a surprising climax.

Ricardo Cortez appears as the shrewd leader of the band of crooks. Others in the cast include Robert Stranoe, Jack LaRue, J. Carroll Nash, Joseph Sauer, Henry O'Neill, Joseph Crehan, Robert Barrat and Paul Gullfoyle.

Mayor Oscar Hofcombe said if the contract is adopted, it will contain a provision that the city may impound revenues due the company, even should litigation come before final payment is made on the meters.

The successful bidding company is owned by local business men and was incorporated three weeks ago with a capital stock of $15,000.

The outstanding 4-H club member in North Carolina for 1935 will be awarded a four-year scholarship to the North Carolina State college.

Talmadge Denied The Right To Pay Out State Funds

ATLANTA, Mar. 14 (UP)—A three-judge superior court today dealt a blow to Governor Eugene Talmadge's financial "dictatorship" by holding state funds can not be withdrawn from depositories without an appropriations bill.

The decision restrains J. B. (Tobe) Daniel, Talmadge-appointed defacto state treasurer, and George B. Hamilton, ousted treasurer, and the four depository banks from paying out any money except as directed by statutory appropriations. More than $2,500,000 in state funds is involved.

Governor Talmadge has insisted that even though the general assembly of 1935 failed to pass an appropriations bill for 1936-37, he had the right to administer funds of the state.

The governor ousted Treasurer Hamilton, and Comptroller General W. B. Harrison when they refused to honor a warrant drawn on the state treasury for 1935 funds for the state board of control, which administers the state's eleemosynary institutions.

CHILD WELFARE MEET CALLED FOR MAR. 20

AUSTIN, Mar. 14 (UP)—Chairmen of 67 county child welfare boards today were called to meet here March 20 by Mrs. Violet S. Greenhill, chief of the state board of control's child welfare division.

Work with underprivileged children and status of mother's aid will be discussed. Speakers will be Miss Eleanor A. Schoppe, Dallas, and Miss Florence Sullivan, Texas representative of the U. S. children's bureau.

SHE HAD EARNED IT Woman Cites Mistreatment To Get Divorce

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14 (AP)—Mrs. Edith V. Allen wanted a divorce—and among her reasons were the following allegations:
Her husband put salt in her bed.
Kicked her out of bed.
Threw gin in her face.
Burned her on the neck with a cigarette.
Beat her with a pair of wadded pajamas.
She got the divorce.

"If anyone thinks I ain't educated, just read this spelling. If you don't think I practice what I preach, you don't know that I drink lots and lots of milk from the Hank McDaniel Dairy, every day."

According to Irving Fisher, Professor of Political Economy at Yale University, "At least as much should be spent for milk as for meat, poultry and fish."

Winkler, Ector Extensions Chief Oil Developments

Gaines County Test Strikes Sulphur Water; Yoakum Prospect Shows After Bailing; 31 Locations Made During Week

SAN ANGELO, Mar. 14.—Extending of the Sayre field in Winkler county another half mile north by Humble No. 1-D Walton and the Goldsmith pool in southwestern Ector county one and a half miles northwest by Wm. H. Dunning, Jr., No. 1 Schaeffer were among principal favorable oil developments in West Texas this week. Others included the completion of Fields, Cherry & Keyes' No. 1 Farmers & Merchants bank of Abilene for a flow of 595 barrels to open a new producing spot in Winkler county or extend the Sayre pool two miles south, and the virtual exhausting of salt water in Honolulu-Cascade No. 1 L. P. Bennett in Yoakum county, which was scheduled to be treated with acid in an attempt to open the farthest north pool in the Permian Basin.

The greatest disappointment was W. T. Walsh and Harry Adams Corp. No. 1 Averil, three miles northwest of Seminole in Gaines county, which struck one-half barrel of sulphur water hourly from 4,802-04 feet. Upper markers and gas in 17 horizons in the salt and sand section supported geophysical indications of a "high," but there was not a showing of oil or gas in the gray lime. The section was broken, there being a trace of anhydrite as low as 4,875 feet, but some picked the lime top at 4,545 feet, 1,233 feet below sea level.

19 Completions
Locations, after dropping to 16 last week, numbered 31 in eight counties this week. Prior to last week the weekly average for three weeks had exceeded 30. Ward led last week with 10, Winkler being second with eight.

Total daily potential production of 10,130 barrels of oil was registered by 19 wells completed in seven counties. Ward county added a quartet rating 3,123 barrels daily. Jones county a pair for 2,143 barrels. Winkler county four wells for 2,036 barrels. Tipton county four for 1,340 barrels. Pecos county three for 574 barrels. Ector county one for 514 barrels, and Fisher county one for 400 barrels.

Whether or not Permian lime production would be developed by Humble No. 1 Tubb, a western Crane county wildcat, was expected to be determined in a test late in the week. Plugs had been drilled from 4.58 inch casing which was cemented at 4,582 feet after drilling reached 4,375. If No. 1 Tubb fails to produce from the Permian 112 on Feb. 29. Two days earlier it headed an estimated 75 barrels of oil when a swab was run 300 feet into almost a hole full of oil that had accumulated during a five-months shutdown at 5,096 feet. The oil was struck at 4,094. Location is in the center of the northeast quarter of section 678, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

Abandoned
Wahlenmaier and York & Harper No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones, Gaines county wildcat 17 miles northwest of Seminole, in the southwest corner of section 414-G-CSD&RGNG, was abandoned a failure at 5,224 feet, 1,696 feet below sea level. It ran low and showed no oil, gas or water.

One of the heaviest royalty plays West Texas has seen in many years accompanied the drilling of the Walsh-Adams wildcat farther south in Gaines county. There was comparatively little leasing as open acreage was scarce. The test, which appeared a failure after encountering sulphur water Friday from 4,802-04 feet, is in the northeast corner of section 228-G-WTTRII.

Two Wildcats Are Spudded In Jones Co.

Another Producer Recorded at Hawley, While 2 Extensions Fail

ABILENE, Mar. 14.—Spudding of two new Jones county wildcats, completion of the second Hawley producer from the 2,200-foot pay at a 1,276-barrel well, and failure of two extension tests to the Hawley field were features of activity in this section during the week.

The third wildcat to start in the area north of the Hawley field in Jones county is the Fain-McGahn Oil corporation No. 1 Nettie Hayden, about two miles north of the field. It is a projected 2,000-foot test, located 200 feet from the north line and 2,411 feet from the east line of the Hayden 464 1-2-acre tract in the G. Martinez survey No. 195.

An eastern Jones test was started this week about five miles southeast of Nugent, the Tom E. Medders No. 1 P. M. Neas, supported in acreage by the Gisham-Hunter corporation of Abilene. It is about a quarter-mile southwest of his wildcat test on the Manley land which failed in Bluff Creek sands. It is projected for 2,000 feet, and is 2,400 feet from the west and 1,170 feet from the north lines of section 42, block 14, T&P survey.

1,378 Barrels
Completion during the week of railroad commission pot a 1 1/2 gauge on the Thomas D. Humphrey No. 4 Henry Dorsey estate rated the well as the second highest flush producer for the field with 1,276 on flow. The second producer from the new play, it topped sand at 2,208 feet and drilled to 2,212 feet. Rig was moved 400 feet north to location for the Humphrey No. 7 Dorsey, in the southwest corner of section 19, Bueno survey No. 196.

Of the two other wildcat tests north of the field, the Thomas D. Humphrey No. 1 A. A. McDuff, located in the southeast corner of section 1, block 17, T&P survey, was nearing the first possible pay horizon on this week drilling at 1,975 feet; and the R. C. Parker No. 1 C. L. Brown, in the northwest corner of the 298-acre tract in section 2, T. & N.O. survey, was drilling less than 1,000 feet.

Fortex Oil corporation and Dancier Oil & Refineries No. 1 Dorsey, which tested for a northeast extension to the field, was plugging this week after failure to make commercial production from lower Tannehill sand. It was drilled to 2,434 feet in the dry hole sunk by the Union Oil company of Nevada about six years ago. The hole was filled in, but was originally about 30 feet above the 2,200-foot horizon. It is in the northeast corner of section 5, Bueno survey No. 197.

Rotary Test
Hal Hughes et al, No. 1 R. D. Bumpus, testing for a southwest extension to the field, had drilled to 2,350 feet and had obtained no showings. King sand was expected about 2,370 feet, but chances for a commercial showing were considered unlikely. It is in the north end of the T. Malby survey.

First rotary test for the Hawley field will be the N. H. Martin & Son No. 2-C Dorsey, and will be a re-drilling of a dry hole sunk by the Union Oil company of Nevada about six years ago. The hole was filled in, but was originally about 30 feet above the 2,200-foot horizon. It is in the northeast corner of section 5, Bueno survey No. 197.

At Lueders, the Lesh & McCall No. 1 J. W. Jennings, first-rotary-drilled test for the new King sand field, had progressed past 1,800 feet in little more than a week. It is located in the northwest quarter of section 1, I&GN survey, seeking a northeast trend to the pool.

In western Shackelford county, two miles southeast of Lueders the Root-Rhodes No. 1 J. P. Vickers, in section 212, ETRR survey, was nearing Bluff Creek pay on a test for extension of the Mims-Vickers pool, drilling at 1,425 feet.

Fisher Completion
In Fisher county, General Crude Oil corporation No. 7 William Flanagan, in the west-central part of the Royston field of northeast Fisher, was completed as a 400-barrel well after acidization to 3,100 feet, total depth. It is in section 200, block 1, BB&C survey.

West of Rotan in Fisher county, the Forest Development corporation No. 1 A. M. Fry, projected for a 4,000-foot wildcat, was plugging back to 1,400 feet from a total depth of 2,170 feet to straighten hole. It is located in section 108, block 2, H&TC survey.

Merry Brothers & Perini and Tide Water Oil company No. 2 Mary Howard, five miles northeast of Rotan, was drilling at 1,050 feet in lime. It is southwest of the new production found at 1,650 feet on the Howard farm, and is in section 180, block 2, H&TC survey.

INCREASE IN AIRMAIL VOLUME WILL BE SOUGHT IN BIG SPRING

Poundage Boost Wanted To Back Request For Additional Stops By Ships Here

Concern over the possibility of Big Spring's losing its airmail service was expressed by chamber of commerce directors at a meeting Friday night, when steps were taken to assure retention of present facilities and to seek restoration of schedules that have been dropped.

Chief task, civic leaders asserted, is to boost airmail poundage out of the city, and plans were discussed for a campaign to promote more general use of air mail.

The directors voted to petition the postoffice department for additional stops of American Airlines here, to restore the schedules that formerly included stops here. Plans make one stop a day each way, and the postoffice department will be asked to authorize two stops each way.

One problem in connection with the plans stops is that of airport improvement, and the chamber of commerce leaders have moved to

First Adult Class Monday

Enrollees To Meet For Conference At The High School

First class under the new adult education program offered here under WPA auspices will be held at the Big Spring high school Monday evening at 7:30. It was announced Saturday by Supt. W. C. Blankenship, who is assisting in directing the program.

Work offered at the outset will be in English and business arithmetic. There have been nine enrolled in the classes, but others interested in the work may enroll Monday evening, Blankenship said. Mrs. Gould Winn has been engaged as teacher of the courses, and will confer with those who attend the session Monday night. The instruction is free to all adults. Classes will be held each evening.

Safety Comes First in the Ford V-8

A SAFE CAR helps make a safe driver. There is no compromise with safety in the Ford V-8 for 1936. Ford safety begins with the desire to make a safe car, regardless of cost. It is carried through every detail of design and construction. Ford safety, therefore, is not merely the safety of dependable brakes. It goes farther than that and includes a genuine welded steel body structure and Safety Glass throughout at no extra cost. An additional point is that its steadiness and instant response help you to avoid trouble. Every driver is a better driver in the Ford because of its ease of handling and the alert, capable performance of the V-8 engine. The 1936 Ford brings you safety, beauty, comfort and roominess as outstanding as its V-8 performance. Many modern features put it in a class by itself in value and satisfaction.

$510 AND UP F. O. B. Detroit. Fifteen body types. Standard accessory group, including bumpers and spare tire, extra. Convenient, economical terms. You can now buy any new Ford V-8 car for the usual low down-payment and $25 a month. Ask the nearest Ford dealer for complete details of the new UCC 1/2% per month Finance Plans.

FULL TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE
A fine-car feature—exclusive with Ford at a low price. Gives you better performance and greater stability when accelerating or stopping quickly. Combines with front radius rods to insure firm, smooth brake action.

Far above other low priced cars in all but cost!

TERRAPLANE

Yes, different from other low priced cars—and far ahead of the rest—in style and everything else that counts! Can we prove this? Just look at a few facts about Terraplane.

Wheelbase, over-all length, inside leg room, head room, shoulder room—unmatched by any low priced car. Untouched by some costing $125 and $145 more.

"Extras" At No Extra Cost
Of all low priced cars only Terraplane gives you—at no extra cost—a rear opening baggage compartment with more room than the average trunk model, with spare tire lying flat inside.

Power—the same story. Terraplane is ahead of other cars in its price class by as much as 18 horsepower. And no vibration at any speed! Terraplanes with 125,000, 150,000 miles and more to their credit show you what that smoothness means in long life.

23.95 Miles per Gallon
Interested in economy? Here is Terraplane's latest—23.95 officially certified miles per gallon over 352 miles of mountain roads, with three passengers and baggage, in the recent Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy Run.

More... Terraplane is the only leading low priced car with body all of steel and seamless steel roof. And no other car in its whole price range has Duo-Automatic Hydraulic Brakes (patent applied for) . . . Radial Safety Control (patent applied for) . . . Tru-Line Steering . . . or The Electric Hand, optional at small extra cost.

The most amazing car in the low price field—this 1936 Terraplane. And right down with the lowest in cost for the model and features you want. Come in and see for yourself.

MAKING THE ROUNDS...

Country club women golfers have decided to stage an invitation tournament here this spring. Exact dates will not be set for some time in order to avoid conflicting dates with the Women's West Texas event which will be played over the Mineral Wells course...

Cooperating with other Texas newspapers, the Herald will soon take part in a poll of readers on the outstanding college seniors of 1935 (football) and then the leading coach. Reason—These all-stars will play the national pro champion Detroit Lions in Chicago September 1. From this all-star squad is to be taken the nucleus for an all-star team to play the Chicago Bears at the Texas Centennial grounds the night of Sept. 7...

Big-time pro golfers of a few years ago are having their financial reverses... Flight experts expect a gate of a million and a half if and when Joe Louis and champion Jimmy Braddock meet. Braddock would be the underdog, but with a few baffling tricks, Howard does not use trick decks of cards, and seldom plays bridge and never poker. If you are interested in learning how the hand can be faster than the eye—much faster—see Howard at the Douglas hotel...

The Brooklyn Dodgers have two minor league batting champions of 1935 on their roster—Oscar Eckhardt, the husky Texan who led the Pacific coast sluggers with a .395 average, and John Cooney, pace-setter in the American Association who batted .371 for Indianapolis... Press dispatches say University of Alabama boys are proud of their college baseball players. Reason—They lost three off their 1935 squad to professional clubs. Pitcher Lee Rogers is with the Boston Red Sox, outfielder Don Hutson belongs to Knoxville of the Southern Association and Red Houser is property of the Pittsburgh Pirates...

The Big Spring Rebels are looking baseball games early. They're to meet the T. & P. Steer backfield candidate, was reported injured in practice last week... Here's one we can't figure—The highway department builds a $60,000 bridge but there's no road leading to it, and the city builds tennis courts without putting up posts for nets... Gene Gardine, junior high school Bronco club is about the hottest softball contingent in the country—so believes Coach Gene... There are according to reports, 8,000,000 bowling addicts in this country... Here is the Bronco softball lineup: Bobby Savage, p; John Miller, c; Harold Bethel, 1b; L. Boettich, 2b; Bob Martin, 3b; Barton and Conrad Watson, ss; R. A. Creek, 9. Wright and Tabor Rowe, outfielders.

CUBS LOOK GOOD IN SPRING WORKOUTS

GRIMM IS SATISFIED WITH TEAM. By ROBERT MYERS (Associated Press Sports Writer) LOS ANGELES, Mar. 14 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, until something better comes along, look "mighty good" to win their second straight National league flag. That's the idea gained after watching the club bustle around for a matter of days in spring drills, and listening to the well known baritone of Manager Charley Grimm.

"Yes sir," declared the great-voiced Charley John, perched on the back of a players' bench at the Wrigley field today to air a few seasonal observations along with a couple of tired business feet. "The boys look mighty good and oughta go places this year." Kicking off one shoe into the grass by way of emphasizing the point, and wiggling his toes into a sneaker, he continued: "We've got a fast bunch of young ball players, the same club we had last year, only a year older and better."

"Of course," he reflected, the other shoe joining its mate, "we'll have a hard fight. There's St. Louis, New York, Pittsburgh—say, those Pi rates are going to be tough. Plenty of speed, power—all they need last year was a couple of pitchers."

"The lower division clubs, Cincinnati, and Brooklyn, for instance, are stronger. The campaign is going to be hotter than ever."

"But we won't have to win any 21 straight games again, you can bet on that. We're going to start off earlier. Why, we're ready now. My pitchers could start in tomorrow. We had a great workout this spring, sunshine every day at Calumet. My main worry is to hold the boys down until the season begins."

The Cubs, he said, will carry 23 men—eight pitchers, seven infielders, five outfielders and three catchers. The pitching staff at this stage looks like the veteran Charley Root, Lon Warneke, Larry French, Bill Lee, Tex Carleton, Roy Henshaw, Fabian Kowalki, and one more, possibly Clay Bryant, the rookie prospect who looked good last year but wound up with Birmingham.

Grimm isn't certain Root will be as good as his 15 wins in 1935, but figures Carleton, the big Texas righthander, will show improvement. "There wasn't anything wrong with him last year," Grimm said, "except that with Root, Warneke, French and Lee going like they were, there just wasn't a chance for him to break in."

Gabby Hartnett, the club's most valuable man last year, will carry the burden of the catching, with Jimmy O'Dea and Walter Stephenson sharing the job. Grimm and Phil Caveretta will more or less divide first base, with Billy Herman back at second, Bill Jurges at short and Stanley Hack at third.

"Along around June and July Caveretta begins to wilt under the heat, and the bat gets heavy for him," Grimm said. "I had hoped he would report with a little more weight this year, but he didn't. So I'll probably fill in and we'll both work the spot."

Gene Lillard, home run king of the coast circuit, looks good—but not good enough to beat out Hack. Similarly, in the outfield, Johnny Gill, who batted .361 with Minneapolis last season, shapes up well, but not well enough to beat out Frank Demaree, Augie Galan, Tug Stainback or Chuck Klein for regular berths. Klein, so Grimm believes, is heading back to battling laurels he hasn't enjoyed since he left Philadelphia.

Garden City Cops 1st In Sr. Division

Coahoma Wins Jr. Section Of Track Meet With 21 Points. GARDEN CITY, Mar. 14 (Sp)—Garden City high school carried off first honors in an invitational track meet here today with a total of 48 points. 21 College Gym Teams Invited To Temple Meet. PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 14 (UP)—Gymnasts from 21 American colleges and two Canadian institutions have been invited to Temple university March 28 for the annual individual championship meet of the Eastern Intercollegiate Gymnastic League. Although only six of the colleges which have been mailed entry blanks by Thomas F. McLaren, league president, are members of the conference, athletes from virtually every section of the country are expected to compete. League representatives will include Army, Navy, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Princeton, Dartmouth and Temple. Other eastern teams will be New York University, Rutgers, Penn State, Lehigh, Pennsylvania Military, Springfield and Bowdoin.

Sportsmen To Meet Tuesday. Delegates To Wildlife Conference Will Be Selected. Sportsmen of Big Spring and Howard county have been called to meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the Seton Wildlife department and president of the General Wildlife Federation; Carl Shoemaker, secretary to the U. S. senate wildlife committee; Dr. Walter P. Taylor, Texas agent for the U. S. biological survey department, and Governor James V. Alfred. It is the aim of the conference to coordinate the work of existing conservation and protective agencies.

Mysterious Howard To Show Here This Week. Mysterious Howard, an accomplished magician, will appear in Big Spring this week before various civic clubs and school groups. Folks like to be fooled, according to Howard, who added that city folks are easier fooled by the tricks of the magician than are rural dwellers. Sophisticates get a kick out of being fooled, whereas their "country cousins" resent it. Lawyers and doctors are the most glib of any group. Women, however, don't like to be fooled. At least they don't want you to think that you are outsmarting them. But they do like "pretty tricks." Children are harder to fool than adults, according to Howard.

WASH-WOMAN DOWNS SOCIALITES IN GOLF PLAY

MANILA, Mar. 14 (AP)—A wash-woman is the open golf queen of the Philippines. Competing against a select field of American socialites, hunky Domingo Capala, 25-year-old Filipino girl, captured the 1935 title. She was the only Filipino entry—and she never had a golf lesson. Domingo took up golf in 1932, won the women's championship the next season and came back to the throne this year.

Taking time off from her floor-scrubbing and clothes-washing at the Calamba sugar estate, where she has the title of house-girl, she won the medal with 37 and the trophy with a neat 357 for 72 holes. Domingo tells an interesting story of her start in golf. While working as a lavandera (wash-woman in the United States) she watched wealthy women strutting around a nearby golf course. Broad-shouldered and powerful, Domingo got herself one club, and, imitating the stance and swing of the American women, she drove a ball straight down the middle, some 200 yards.

Then she patterned her game after that of Larry Montes, one of the best golfers in the islands. Her shots became long and true, her putting exceptional. Tournaments don't perturb the golfing menial. After shooting 37 to win the medal on a Sunday morning, she went to Canlubang in the afternoon and played third base for a baseball team. She then returned to the Manila golf club on Monday and swept on to the golf title.

Plans Made For Invitational Golf Tourney At Friday Meeting. Mrs. Gordon Phillips Is Made Tourney Chairman. At a meeting of the women's golf association at the Country club Friday, Mrs. Gordon Phillips was made chairman for an invitational tournament to be staged on the Country club links here either the latter part of May or early in June. Ladder play with handicap was the feature of the Friday matches, with Misses Chas. Worley and H. L. Ellis winning golf balls for first and second place.

Phillips Is Track Coach. Junior Athletes at Moore; Rowland Only Senior Out. MOORE, Mar. 14 (Sp)—Ted Phillips is coaching a junior track team here this year. Only one senior has reported for track. He is J. D. Rowland, who pole vaults and heaves the shot. Phillips' junior relay team is composed of Grover Griffice, Bob Shields, Doyle Thomas and J. R. Goodman. Phillips is training Jack Payne for the broad jump and high jump. Rowland's pole vaulting record is approximately nine and one-half feet.

Annulment of Bonus Is Order of Commissioner. DETROIT, Mar. 14 (AP)—The Detroit News says Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis has ordered annulment of the bonus offered the Detroit Tigers by the owner Walter Briggs if they place first or second in American League's 1936 race. Judge Landis' order, the News says, was issued today after complaints from several club owners against the $50,000 reward plan. The News predicted that the bonus offer "undoubtedly will stand" after being "called off officially" and turned into a "reward for unusual service" at the end of the season.

LOCAL PLAYERS NOT TO ATTEND M'CAMNEY MEET. Big Spring will not be represented at the Permian Basin baseball league meeting in McCamey this afternoon. Bill Collins of Midland, president of the circuit, will speak for the Big Spring fans. He was told Saturday that Big Spring would like to place a team in the league, but that enough money had not been raised to back a club for play in the Permian Basin. League officials, anxious for Big Spring to get in the league, are expected to hold up final organization until some time next week. Local players have been promised over $300 in cash and building material for a park here. They need considerably more than that for a start.

Gelbert Had Hard Fight After Injury

30-Year-Old Charlie Has Been Looking Good With Cards. ST. LOUIS, Mar. 14 (AP)—A year ago, when Charlie Gelbert reported at Bradenton for the training sessions, Cardinal players and doctors alike shook their heads as the one-time brilliant shortstop limped around the practice lot. The consensus was that Charlie was in camp merely as a sympathetic gesture on the part of the Cardinal management, which appreciated the fine work he had done in the Red Bird uniform before he was incapacitated.

But the opening of the 1935 season found Gelbert still with the Cardinals. As the campaign wore on, his leg gained strength and he found himself inserted into the lineup more and more frequently until, by the time the curtain was rung down on the season, he had taken part in 61 games and boasted a batting average of .296. Rebuilding Program. He regaled a greater part of his on-line form by working day in and day out, winter and summer, to build new tissues to replace those which had been torn away in the fall of 1932 when, on a hunting expedition, a load of gunshot ripped the muscle off his left leg just above the ankle.

For a year he coached a college baseball team, took long hikes in the company of his wife and did everything possible to regain use of his leg despite the discouraging reports from his physician. No one gave him any hope of complete recovery, but he had faith and kept plugging away. Just how complete his comeback was last season is best indicated by the trade the Cardinals made with the Giants. Frankie Frisch never would have let Burgess Whitehead go had he not been convinced that Gelbert's comeback was complete. Whitehead had proved an able substitute infielder and a necessary one since the Cards' manager is feeling the wear and tear of 16 years of campaigning in the big leagues.

Hot Corner Expert. Last season Gelbert filled in at short and at third base. He looked very good around the hot corner where he was not required to cover so much territory. In fact, his work was so good that Frisch was prompted to move Pepper Martin to the outfield and use Gelbert steadily in the infield. When the regular season closed Gelbert continued playing with a band of barnstormers for a few weeks. He was going so good he hated to quit. All winter he has religiously practiced a series of special exercises designed to strengthen his leg and keep him fit so that he could report to Frisch at Bradenton in condition to play the brand of ball he showed in 1932 before he was injured. He is only 30 years old, and with his leg apparently as strong as ever, he should have four or five years of big-time baseball left in him.

The Cardinals have another comeback in camp this spring—Terry Moore, who is stepping around without any signs of the limp that resulted from a broken leg he suffered last summer just when he was rapidly forging to the front of an outstanding rookie find of the 1935 season.

Beauty To Be Combined With Playing Skill. WICHITA, Kas., Mar. 14 (AP)—Beauty as well as individual playing skill will be recognized at the women's national A. A. U. basketball tournament here March 23-27. The beauty queen of the annual blue ribbon event of women's basketball will be chosen, as usual, by vote of the spectators. The best sharpshooters on the teams will compete for the freethrow championship won the last two years by pretty Opal Hill of Shreveport, La., a beauty candidate, too. She sank 16 shots out of 60 from the foul line to retain her title in 1935. F. A. Lightner, secretary of the tournament committee, announced that not more than 32 teams will be accepted for competition. The Stenos of Tulsa business college, twice champions, will defend their title against a formidable group of challengers from several states.

BRONCOS DEFEAT CUBS IN SOFTBALL FINAL

Pro Tennis Troupe To Play In Abilene Soon

ABILENE, March 14. — Bill O'Brien's professional tennis troupe will definitely appear in the Hardin-Simmons University stadium Friday night, March 20 at 8:30 o'clock despite stories to the effect that the group had canceled its Texas tour.

A wire from O'Brien to G. B. Defer, Hardin-Simmons athletic manager, gave definite assurance that the troupe composed of Ellsworth Vines, Jr., Berkley Bell, George M. Lott, and Lester Stofen, would give a schedule exhibition in Abilene that night.

While the world famous players will appear in Fort Worth where no contract was signed, they will play two singles and one doubles match in the Abilene university's stadium. A clay court has been constructed on the football field directly in front of the stands.

CALVES OUT OF TOURNEY 1ST ROUND

Gene Gardner's Broncos won the invitational softball meet here Saturday night by defeating the Colorado Cubs in the final, 16-15.

The Broncos advanced into the final round by defeating Coahoma, 31-3, and Elbow, 15-12.

Ben Daniels' Calves, favorites of the meeting, went out in their first game when the Cubs had them helpless for the seven innings. The Coloradans copped the game, 3-1.

In the final game, the Broncos jumped into a two-run advantage and held it until the fifth when the visitors took the lead with a four-run rally.

The locals continued to trail until the seventh when they pushed the tying tally across the plate and won out in the second extra inning when DeWitt Tucker tallied.

Bobby Savage, the winning pitcher, clouted out a home run to aid in the victory drive. Savage gave up 15 hits while the Broncos were collecting 19 off Mann.

Other results were: Hiway 14 Midway 3; Broncos 31, Coahoma 3; Colorado Cubs 3, Calves 1; Colorado Independents 16, Elbow 18; Colorado Cubs 3, Hiway 9; and Broncos 15, Elbow 12.

SOFTBALL FANS HOLD MEETING

By HANK HART

Jim Recknagel and Vernon Whittington were elected president and secretary, respectively, of the Big Spring Softball Association in its initial meeting Friday.

Six clubs posted entry in the circuit while possibly two others will join, the managers indicated.

The 12-inch inelastic ball was adopted and a 60 foot playing field was agreed upon.

The adoption of the new size pellet may bring about a change in the lighting system on the Mundy diamond. Both outfield lights were erected in short fields and may be too close for the smaller ball. If the arcs are changed they will be moved some 10 or 15 feet farther back, while a new pole may be put in center field.

The adoption of the new ball will also force changes in local rules.

Have You Ever Tried Eating Crow? Not As Good As Chicken, Very Palatable

Heretofore, no fowler has been allowed to use a mitt except the first baseman. Batsmen will be forced to don larger pads. Spikes may also be used.

The Munny playing field will undergo some improvements before the umpire yells play ball for the first time. Bleachers will be erected around the first and third base lines and the infield will be leveled.

Flawellen, Cooden, Cooden Lab, Anderson Music Company, Frost Pharmacy, and the Rebels were the teams represented at the Friday night parley.

Form Accents Mont Blanc's Bid In Derby

Pete Bostwick Enters Colt Bred By Aga Khan Famous Stable

EDITOR'S NOTE: Herewith is presented the record of another Kentucky Derby candidate.

United Press Association

By THOMAS H. NOONE

NEW YORK, March 14. (UP)—His Royal Highness The Aga Khan, who won the English Derby in 1930 with Elmehem and again last year with Bahram, bred Mont Blanc who is nominated for the Kentucky Derby by the famous International Jockey, Pete Bostwick.

Mount Blanc is one of the finest bred horses in the world and should have a big following. His sire, Coronach, enjoys the unique distinction of earning $247,370 in 10 victories, three seconds and one third in 14 starts. He won more money than any other horse in England in this century. He is third on the winning list of all European money winners.

Mont Blanc's dam, Blanc Manne, is a daughter of that English marvel, Hainault. He looks a real racer, is bred like a real racer and races like a champion racer. He won three out of his first four starts in race-horse fashion. In his second appearance he virtually was left at the post and, backed heavily throughout the country and at Hialeah Park, he gave one of the greatest exhibitions of all times by getting up to win on the post.

Considered Real Threat

If Mont Blanc should win this year's Kentucky Derby it will give the members of the press plenty of material on which to work over and over again. The struggles between Coronach and Colorado are fresh in the memory of this generation of racing devotees. In view of the fact Mont Blanc is such a threat factor in this year's Derby, Coronach's record in England is worth calling to attention.

Coronach at 2 in 1925 made his first appearance in the Salisbury Plate. He won. He then won the Rous memorial at Goodwood, the Champagne Stakes at Doncaster, but in his final race at 2 he was beaten a neck by Lex in the Middle Park Stakes at Newmarket. At 3, he won the Column and Produce Stakes and ran second to Colorado in the Two Thousand Guineas.

Coronach turned the tables on Colorado in the English Derby when he won the blue ribbon event in a gallop. Coronach also won the St. James Palace Stakes at Ascot and defeated Lex, who had beaten him in the Middle Park Stakes. Coronach won his next two starts at 3. He won the famous Eclipse Stakes at Sandown worth $60,000 and the St. Leger, the oldest stakes in the world. This race also was worth more than $60,000.

Narrowly Misses Record

At 4, Coronach won the Coronation Cup and the Hardwick Stakes at Ascot. He finished second to Colorado in the Prince of Wales Stakes at Newmarket and finished third to Colorado and Mario in the Eclipse.

If Coronach had won his last start in the Eclipse he would have won more than $200,000, the English record which has stood for over 30 years.

Coronach, like Ormonde, "The Horse of the 19th Century," was affected in the wind, but notwithstanding when Lord Woolavington filled his book for his first three retired him to the stud in 1928 he years at $1,500 and $2,000.

Coronach is by Hurry On from Wet Kite by Trevellick.

Mont Blanc is a flashy red colt of plenty of bone and looks the part of a real Derby horse. In regard to Coronach's thickness of wind, it must be noted Ormonde, although "thick," sired a line of horses here and in England that never showed any signs of "roaring."

Trained by Sammy Smith

Sammy Smith, the Beau Brummel of turfdom, trains Mont Blanc, one of the three imported colts accounted for in this year's Kentucky Derby. The other two are Warren Wright's Crossbow II and William Woodward's Isolator.

Rack in 1917 Charles Borel piloted Omar Khayyam, an imported son of Maroo, to a commanding victory. Omar Khayyam went on to immortality by winning nearly all the major races for 2-year-olds that year. His race at Laurel beat "The Poet" in 2:02 for the mile and one-quarter, was the biggest attraction ever programmed in Maryland. Colonel Winn, "The King of Derbys," promoted this big event, as he did the big International at Lexington when Saracen ran his sensational mile and a quarter race.

Athletes Go To Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, March 14. (UP)—Track and field athletes from three states will arrive in Fort Worth next Friday and Saturday for the 14th renewal of the Southwestern Exposition track and field meet, which has developed into one of the largest outdoor path carnivals in the state.

More than 1,000 athletes from universities, colleges, junior colleges, high schools and municipal clubs will match speed and strength in the athletic scramble which will see over 200 officials keeping check on events.

Headlining the meet will be Saturday's special 100-meter dash, in which the southwest's fastest runners will run. Among the top contestants will be Chick Wallender, Texas speed merchant, Elmer and Delmar Brown, the Denton Teachers College twins, and their mid-jet teammate, Johnny Stovall, the southwest's fastest football player.

The university division will afford the southwestern fans with a record of the annual conference meet, which will be held in May. Rice Institute, Texas Christian University, Southern Methodist, Texas A. & M. University of Texas and Baylor University will be represented. Texas is the defending champion.

The high school division draws the largest entry list. Last year more than 500 entries in this division competed in the various events, coming here from Oklahoma and Arkansas as well as Texas. The high school preliminaries will be held Friday afternoon with the finals in all divisions slated for Saturday afternoon.

SNARELY SELECTED

ITHACA, N. Y., Mar. 14. (AP)—Cornell's search for a new head football coach which began, unofficially, even before "Gloomy" Gil Doble resigned under fire Feb. 1, has ended with the selection of Carl G. Snavely of the University of North Carolina.

The selection, made from a list of nearly 100 applicants, was announced today after North Carolina authorities, reluctant to release Snavely from a contract which still had a year to run, failed in a final effort to persuade him to remain at Chapel Hill.

Snavely comes to Cornell under Aggie's made a clean sweep of seven events. A heavy track resulted in slow time for the track events.

DATES SET FOR TEXAS TOURNEY

SAN ANTONIO, March 14. (UP)—The Texas Junior Golf tournament which annually draws a field of the state's brightest young links talent, will be played over the Brackenridge Park course here, Aug. 31, Sept. 1, 2, 3 and 4, it was announced here today.

The reports received neither confirmation nor denial in official athletic circles.

Garland A. Woodward was in Dallas Saturday on legal business.

NEW STANFORD AID

PALO ALTO, Cal., March 14. (UP)—Davis Winkleman, Fort Worth, Texas, high school coach, shortly will be appointed first assistant to head Coach Claude E. (Tiny) Thornhill, Stanford university mentor whose teams have represented the west in the Rose Bowl for three consecutive years, it was reported today.

a three-year contract, understood to call for a salary of $8,500 a year.

Eastman Agrees To Delay Action On Terminal Plan

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14. (UP)—Railroad Coordinator Joseph Eastman has agreed to defer his order for terminal consolidation in eleven cities, J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, said today.

The consolidations were postponed, Pelley said, to allow more

Group To Fix Details For C-C Display

District's Part in Centennial Exhibit Will Be Arranged

Representatives from four towns in the district will leave Monday for Stamford and Fort Worth, where they will make preliminary arrangements toward arranging the exhibit of district 6 of the West Texas chamber of commerce at the Frontier celebration in Fort Worth, as a part of the Texas Centennial observances.

On the committee are Taylor White of Odessa, S. A. DeBenn of Midland, George Beardon of Lamesa and W. T. Strange of Big Spring. The group will go first to Stamford to confer with WTCC officials, then to Fort Worth, where the exhibit space will be surveyed and arranged.

The district's display will be a unit in the major West Texas chamber of commerce exhibit, to be erected as a permanent feature at Fort Worth. Each district of the regional chamber is giving emphasis to some particular natural resource of the area, and this division's display will feature the livestock industry. Growth of the industry from Texas' early days to the present will be depicted. Definite form of the exhibit is yet to be completed. A district-wide meeting on the matter probably will be held soon after the committee returns from Fort Worth.

Big Spring has been asked by Texas Centennial central exposition officials to select a date on which "Big Spring Day" may be observed at the Dallas celebration. While on the trip, Strange was expected to obtain information on the plans for that day, so that definite date can be fixed later.

Kiss Costs $50

SUDBURY, Ont. (UP)—It cost Christopher Rowles $35 and costs of $15, or one month, to kiss Miss Alice Simard. Miss Simard told the court Rowles stopped her, spoke a few words, then kissed her. She said she had never been kissed before.

Pelley revealed his association would not challenge the interstate commerce commission's recent order cutting railroad passenger fares from 3.6 to two cents a mile, effective June 1.

Some of the large railroads individually may seek to block the reduction in court, he said.

Rehabilitation Work In Texas Discussed At Austin Parley

AUSTIN, Mar. 14. (UP)—A demand for public cooperation in rehabilitating paroled convicts arose today from an initial statewide conference of volunteer county parole boards and civic workers.

Governor Allred, addressing the meeting, called on citizens to cooperate in making it possible for the ex-convict to re-establish himself in society.

Reed Cozart of San Antonio, United States probation officer, decried "hostile public sentiment" which sometimes hinders parolees in re-adjusting themselves to society.

Education of the public to accept paroled prisoners with more sympathy is a vital point, he said, asserting "it is not necessary to mollycoddle these men."

"All we need to do," he said, "is to see that the public gives them a chance to live a normal life without harassment, ridicule, and continual taunting about their past." Cozart said there was need of efforts to help parolees "overcome the mental idea that they are 'ex-convicts' and that every person who sees them pass on the street says, 'there goes an ex-convict.'"

It is a tremendous mental handicap.

Cozart praised the volunteer county parole board system, instituted by Governor Allred, as an approach to solving the problem and suggested it should be bolstered by an official agency which lay advisers would aid.

Frank Loveland, in charge of a prison classification program, and formerly of Massachusetts, complimented Texas "as one of the few states having begun an attack on the problem." Data obtained in the prison survey, he said, would be available to parole board members.

Hospital Notes

BIG SPRING HOSPITAL Mrs. Ebb Hatch, who underwent a major operation Thursday of last week, continues to improve.

Mrs. W. H. Wright of Crane has been admitted to the hospital and is under treatment for pneumonia.

R. C. Grimes of Crane underwent treatment for an injury to his right eye.

Mrs. Harry Weintraub will be dismissed from the hospital Sunday evening, and will leave on the Sunshine Special for Los Angeles, where she will visit her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Greenfield. She will be accompanied by her husband. The couple were married in Bridgeport, Conn., late in December and were enroute to Los Angeles by car when an accident overtook them on the west highway near Stanton on the night of January 5. Mrs. Weintraub received severe facial and head injuries, and a broken leg and wrist. After a visit with her parents, they intend to return to Bridgeport, Conn., to make their home.

Powells Entertain Baptist Young People Young people of the First Baptist church were entertained last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Powell with a "kid" party. Those who attended were costumed as children and played children's games. Afterwards they staged a camp fire program. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to Billye Francis Grant, Dee Trainer, Orville Bryant, Nedra Pitts, Tillman Bryant, Edna Cochran, Mildred Bryant, Margaret Ausley, Jack Bryant, Lelah Anderson, Dorothy Lay, Eltha Bryant, Lorine Anderson, Ames Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Robbins and Mr. and Mrs. Howell.

FIRST RABBIT DRIVE

Shoot Will Be At Guitarr Ranch On Friday

The spring war on rabbits will be opened in this county Friday morning when the first rabbit drive of the year will be held at the Guitarr ranch.

Shooters will leave the Guitarr ranch house, northwest of here, at 9 a. m. and will drive on the ranch during the morning. In the afternoon they will make a swing through the open country north and east of the ranch.

A barbecue dinner will be served to those taking part in the shoot. Residents of that area declared that rabbits are numerous this year.

Don Woltz is spending the weekend in Fort Worth at the fat stock show.

Seek A Means To End Strike

Board of Arbitrators Named in N. Y. Building Dispute

NEW YORK, March 14. (UP)—Five "arbitrators" named by Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, called union leaders and building operators to gether today to end the two-week old strike of service employes which police said has affected 2,500 buildings.

The really advisory board, representing the operators, immediately accepted the negotiation call, but so far as could be learned, James J. Bambrick, local president of the building service union, was unavailable and did not answer the arbitrator's telegram.

Mayor LaGuardia, in despair of breaking the strike deadlock by his individual efforts, named the survey board composed of prominent jurists, merchants and city officials.

WPA MAN CHARGED

Complaints Filed in Loss Of Over $4,000

PINE BLUFF, Ark., March 14. (UP)—James W. Murrow, 40, assistant district WPA engineer, today was held in county jail here charged with forgery and embezzlement in connection with the loss of $4,100 in WPA funds.

Murrow was arrested late yesterday at the request of Floyd Sharp, WPA administrator, who said Murrow confessed to taking money in payment for fictitious truck and team hire.

The thefts, Sharp said, ranged from $50 to $188.25 and covered a period of seven months, starting in September, 1935.

Murrow, according to Sharp, said he mailed bills to the state office and had them re-mailed to his own postoffice box here.

9 a. m. and will drive on the ranch during the morning. In the afternoon they will make a swing through the open country north and east of the ranch.

A barbecue dinner will be served to those taking part in the shoot. Residents of that area declared that rabbits are numerous this year.

Ship Subsidy Is In Doubt

Major Portion of Ocean Mail Payment Eliminated by Senate

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14. (UP)—American ship operators today faced possibility of losing all government aid by July 1 unless one of three pending ship subsidy bills is enacted over great obstacles.

The senate has eliminated the major portion of a $38,500,000 ocean mail subsidy provision from the postoffice-treasury appropriation bill.

Effect of the elimination would be to grant only $4,500,000 for carrying ocean mail, on a strict poundage basis, depriving ship operators of the indirect government aid on which they had depended for building and operating the merchant marine.

Final action on the item rests with senate and house conferees who will be appointed soon to iron out differences in the two bills.

Shipping men predicted that American shipping would suffer "the worst catastrophe in history" and that "the American flag would be withdrawn from the seas" if the ocean mail appropriation were eliminated without passage of a direct subsidy measure.

Ship owners contended that construction of ships by private firms in the future would necessarily be in European yards, where labor and material costs are cheaper.

DOUG'S CAR ROBBED

Newlyweds Reach Seville Minus Their Coats

SEVILLE, Spain, Mar. 14. (UP)—Coatless Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. and his bride of a week reached Seville today on their honeymoon tour, the victims of thieves who looted their motor car.

Fairbanks and the former Lady Ashley told police the car was looted of two overcoats, a camera and a bag shortly after they had arrived from suburban Santa Cruz, and the American cinema star added:

"What I feel most is that they also took my wife's fur wrap, which I bought her as a wedding present in Paris. It cost me 10,000 francs (about $600)."

The newlyweds planned to fly to Madrid today.

MEDFORD, Ore. (UP)—One live black rooster, several burned out electric light globes, one medicine kit was the loot taken from the parked car of Dr. B. C. Wilson. Overlooked were two live turkeys and a rifle.

HUDSON AND TERRAPLANE LINES ARE ADDED BY MARVIN HULL MOTOR CO.; MODELS ON DISPLAY

Announcement has been made of the acquisition by the Marvin Hull Motor company of the dealership for Hudson and Terraplane automobiles, and new models of these cars are now on display at the company's showrooms, 409 East Third street.

This is an addition to the Chrysler and Plymouth lines already carried by the Hull firm. Marvin Hull said Saturday that his concern would also continue as agent for Chrysler, Plymouth and Diamond-T trucks. All models of the 1936 Hudson Eight and Terraplane lines are on display, as well as a new Terraplane pickup. The public is invited by Hull to see the new cars. Above is pictured the Terraplane sedan, advertised as the roomiest car in the low price field.

FORMER MANAGER OF TRANSIENT BUREAU IS NAMED IN CHARGE

C. R. Treat, manager of the federal transient bureau here for almost a year before it closed in 1935, was lodged in the Howard county jail Saturday to face a grand jury indictment charging forgery.

He was arrested in San Angelo Saturday morning on advice from the sheriff's department at Big Spring.

Officers had been searching for Treat since the indictment was returned by a 70th district court grand jury in September, 1935.

Treat was manager of the bureau when it ceased operations here. Bond of $1,000, set by District Judge Charles K. Probst, had not been posted Saturday evening by the defendant.

Mr. and Mrs. Loy Acuff are in Fort Worth for the week and attending the opening of the fat stock exposition.

John Henry Lewis Has Visions of Big Things

NEW YORK, March 14. (UP)—John Henry Lewis, one-time Phoenix, Ariz., heavyweight champion Saturday to extend his reign as light-heavyweight champion all around the globe.

Conqueror of Jock McAvoy, middleweight and light-heavyweight champion of the British empire, in a brisk 15-round duel Friday night in Madison Square Garden, Lewis seriously considered offers to defend his title from London to Australia. He has a tempting offer from Sydney, Australia, one from London, and another from Paris.

By winning the unanimous decision of referees Arthur Donovan and the two judges over McAvoy, the tall, brown-skinned negro went a long way toward rehabilitating the light-heavyweight division. A crowd of 12,980 paid $37,712.24 to see the best 175-pound title fight since Tommy Loughran and Jimmy Slattery staged their whirlwind 15-round battle in 1920. Lewis weighed 172 1/4, McAvoy 168 1/4.

Lewis won by a wide margin, but for some unaccountable reason the crowd booed when Joe Humphries raised his hand.

Mrs. G. A. Woodward is ill.

Closes Series Of Talks Here

Many Children Hear Lectures Against the Use Of Alcohol

Having concluded a series of lectures on the effects of alcohol, Rev. Carson Taylor left here Saturday for his home in Dallas before resuming his work in West Texas. Rev. Taylor spoke to approximately 2,000 persons, mostly school children, in his one week's engagement here under the sponsorship of the local W. C. T. U. unit.

He based his campaign against liquor on the premise that in the next ten years 20 million new voters will come on the stage of action and that education is the best way to make these voters adverse to liquor. "There is only one effective way to contact these prospective voters," said Rev. Taylor, "and that is through their leadership." He said that efforts would be made to inform 60,000 college professors and 600,000 teachers on the effects of alcohol.

Rev. Taylor has twice studied under Miss Bertha R. Palmer, who is head of the department of Alcohol Education of the national W. C. T. U. and author of a syllabus on alcohol which has sold 150,000 copies. The national organization is attempting to raise $500,000 for a five-point program on alcohol education. It is the belief of the organization that a new generation, learned in the effects produced by use of alcohol, comprises the most sensible

KILL THE PENSION RACKETEERING
What should arouse public indignation to the point of drastic action against the frauds are reports coming that parties posing as "pension" investigators are bleeding innocent old people of sums of money with false promise of securing for them pension money.
Petty though the sums involved may be, there is no lower, baser scheme than such fraudulent practice.
The Texas old age assistance commission has provided legitimate investigators to handle all claims made for age benefits. These men are state employees, paid to administer the pension program, and no individual is required to pay them a cent.
The petty racketeering of course adds to the difficulties of the investigators' work, and they will do all within their power to curb the fraud. They should have the full cooperation of all the people, however; and every person should take it upon himself to explain to all oldsters known to be pension applicants to pay out nothing for old age assistance, and to deal only with the state officials.
Investigation of applications must proceed along legitimate lines, because it is probable that there will be minor grafting in the other direction—that is, on the part of some seeking age benefits who are not entitled to them.
The state's Confederate pension fund, deeply in the red, has suffered from payment of undesired claims. A report some two years ago of the state auditor revealed that Confederate pensions were being paid to several persons who had valuable property and a living income.
These cases resulted because liberalizing of the pension law permitted adding of names of persons whose claims were not properly investigated.
Early indications are that the investigation of age assistance applications will prevent a repetition of this in the new program. Investigators are doing their job as best they know how—a job that is a difficult one.
They must fight attempts at "chiseling" on both sides, from those who make false claims for benefits, and from those who graft off the needy old people. They deserve the full support in their efforts to stop the petty racketeering, and should be given pertinent information on any case that comes to hand.

Man About Manhattan
By George Tucker

NEW YORK—"Sally, darling," I said, "don't be inelegant. Get up."
She was sprawled on the floor and gave no indication that she even knew I was in the room.
"Get up, Sally, darling. That's neither lady-like nor polite. I've come all the way from Madison avenue to see you."
The jade continued to subject me to the silence cure—that deadly cold silence which is always a part of feminine cruelty.
"You bane make talk or ay bane go home," I warned, attempting a jocos vein and not succeeding quite. But Sally let that pass too. She pretended vast interest in some pictures on the wall; I knew she wasn't really interested in art.
"All right," I said stiffly, "if that's the way you want it—okay."
At that she turned and favored me with an indolent stare, as if to say "Well, what's keeping you?"
I made one more effort.
"Sally darling, what irks you? Get up Sally—Sally, darling, where is your maidenly modesty? Get off that floor."
Without so much as a nod she turned to the pictures again, staring at those framed lithographs as if all the beauty in the world were imprisoned behind their glass coverings.
That was too much. I leaned low so that she could hear what I had to say. "Take that!" I hissed, jabbing my toe into her ribs.
That got her. That made her talk.
"Mo-o-o-o-o," said Sally.
Sally is the three-year-old mouse cow on exhibition at the National Sportsmen's show over in Grand Central Palace.
Max Ree, the not-so-melancholy Dane, is off for London to do some work with Korda. Max is a whanging good designer and the man who costumed Garbo for her first picture in America, "The Temptress." Max Reinhardt thinks he is the only man in the world who designs clothes for Garbo correctly, and says so. Ree is also a winner of the Academy award.
Another of Broadway's Scandinavian colony is Kaj Gyst, the Stockholm lass who came to America and wrote that Negro play, "Rang Tang," several years ago.
She has written another, "Cock of the World," which traces the efforts of the Negro to find a land suitable to himself. After wandering over the world and failing, even in Africa, to find a place where he belongs, the Negro realizes that, after all, America is his real home, and back he comes. Langsdon Hughes, the Negro poet and playwright, has assisted with the script. He already has one play on Broadway, "Mulatto."
Continuing our Swedish monologue, the glegg is now Broadway's most potent drink. It is a combination of brandy, port, and a number of spices, such as almonds, cloves, raisins, cinnamon, and sugar. Then you light a match to it so that, as Bob Reud says, when it flames up you flame out.

WASHINGTON—Top-hat new deniers are strongly urging a "purge" of work-relief rolls. The demand is based on two grounds:
(1) That the federal government is carrying too large a share of the relief burden.
(2) That many now holding work-relief jobs are no longer in need of them and should be eliminated to make room for others in greater want.
Those arguing the first point are new deniers not connected with the Works Progress administration. They are advocating that the WPA load be reduced to 3,000,000. Originally, the president set 3,500,000 as the WPA's limit. Actually, it is now carrying more than that maximum figure.
The proposal for a check-up of relief job holders comes from within the WPA. Reason for this follows:
To be eligible for a WPA job, it was necessary for an individual to have been on the dole prior to last October. Under WPA rules, those who get jobs were, in effect, assured of steady work until July 1, 1936.
In many cases, however, individuals on the dole last October are no longer in that status. One or more members of their families have secured private employment and therefore they now are not entitled to government aid.
Also jobs were given without proper inquiry into eligibility of the recipient.
The General in New York city under General Hugh Johnson is cited as an example. It is asserted that in order to fill his quota in record time the general put many on the job rolls from non-dole sources. Such persons, the WPAers maintain, should be weeded out.
While the proposed "purge" would mean expense, it is being urged also as a move to offset charges of favoritism made by administration foes.
Hearst-Roosevelt Union
The bitterest acid poured on the Roosevelt administration comes from the vast network of newspapers owned by William Randolph Hearst. But that apparently does not prevent Roosevelt's son, Elliott, from becoming an executive in the Hearst organization.
Elliott is to be vice president of Hearst Radio, Inc., which owns six broadcasting stations. Also, he will be president of two additional stations to be controlled by Hearst. The latter two are known as Austin, Texas, and KTSA at San Antonio.
This became known when Elliott arrived in Washington this week to make personal application at the Federal Communications commission to transfer the Austin and San Antonio stations to Hearst-controlled corporations.
The Austin station was purchased at $45,000, while $180,000 was paid for the San Antonio set-up.
For some months, young Roosevelt has been vice president of the Southwest Broadcasting system, of which the Austin and San Antonio stations are a part.
It is reported that Roosevelt also has an option to purchase three other stations in this chain: KTAT, Fort Worth; KOMA, Oklahoma City; and WACO at Waco. Whether these also will be sold to Hearst could not be ascertained.
Advice
Big, genial, red-headed Robert Burns is attorney for Cities Service before the senate lobby committee. One of the facts brought out by the committee was that Henry L. Doherty, head of the corporation, unloaded his stock holdings at a huge profit at a time the shares were being sold at a high price to his employees.
Burns made an impassioned defense of the Doherty firm and then, as he concluded, stepped over to the press table and whispered: "How'm I doing?"
The reporters never got a chance to answer. For at that moment Senator Ernest W. Gibson, white-haired Vermont republican, called to Burns:
"When you go home this evening, Mr. Burns, you want to make out a good fat bill for your services, for you handled very admirably an exceptionally desperate case."
Massachusetts Muddle
The president has been giving a little personal attention to the political muddle in Massachusetts, reported to be bitterly anti-new deal. Some interesting highlights have developed.
Chief one is that Judge John Burns, formerly of the Massachusetts supreme court, now counsel of the securities and exchange commission, is being backed privately by the president as democratic candidate for governor.
Also it is no secret that Gov. James Michael Curley hopes to run on the senatorial ticket against Cabot Lodge, blue-blood grandson of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge.
One of the mysteries of modern American politics is how Curley still remains on the Roosevelt bandwagon. But he does. Probably more run-arounds have been given to James Michael than to any other Roosevelt supporter. But he always comes back for more.
Ambassador Curley
Immediately after Roosevelt was elected, James Michael indicated that he sought the glorified title of American ambassador to Rome. And he indicated it in no uncertain language.
In fact, so definite were his views on the matter that Jimmy Roosevelt was called into tell the would-be ambassador that the president would be delighted to appoint him to the post if the opposition of the Italian embassy in Washington.
Whereupon James Michael hopped into a taxi, drove to the Italian embassy and asked the ambassador point blank why Rome was against him.
Naturally, Rome was not. Real reason for the veto was supposed to be the objection of Cardinal O'Connell.
This left Curley in something of a huff.
Ambassador to Poland
However, the ambassadorship to Poland had been offered to so many people that the Polish ambassador in Washington even came down to the state department to protest that this was not in keeping with the dignity of his country.
So Curley turned it down.
Next, he wanted to be American minister to the Irish Free State. This time he was told that the state department had an invariable rule against sending an American Catholic to Dublin.
After that James Michael gave up. No wonder he made a wry face the other day and announced that he had "spent $100,000 for Roosevelt and never got a single job from it."
But he continues on the Roosevelt bandwagon.
Thomas Edison
Herbert J. Drane, married and forthright member of the federal power commission, tells a story of how he slept in the same room with one of America's most famous men—and didn't know it.
"it was in the early days when Tampa, Fla., was a village with only one hotel. I got off the train one day and got to the hotel ahead of the others.

came up to me in the lobby—Mittelbach was later governor of the state—and he said:
"Drane, I want to know who that stranger is. He looks suspicious to me. Last night three of us wanted to play cards, and we asked him to sit in on the game, but he shook his head and pretended he didn't know how. Looks like he's trying to avoid company, and he's up to no good. I want you to find out who he is."
"A little bit later I got to talking with a fisherman that this stranger had had some dealings with, and I found out that he knew the stranger's name, and I asked him what it was, and he said: 'Here it is where he wrote it on a piece of paper, and I looked and it was "Thomas A. Edison."
That is Commissioner Drane's story. He adds that later he found out Edison had come to Florida hunting for a special kind of wood suitable for filaments in his new electric light bulbs.
"Since that time," adds Drane, "Tampa has changed considerably. There is more than one hotel, and the lights are not extinguished by blowing."

Large Hiway Track Squad
Twenty-One Track Athletes Are Reporting To Coach Turner
HIWAY, March 14. (Sp.)—Twenty-one track aspirants—seven senior boys, four junior high school, and five each from the junior and senior grammar division—are reporting to Coach Turner at the high school here.
Senior high school boys: Olie Grauke, J. Brown, Red Milasa, J. T. Langley, George Denny, John Reidy and M. Milen; junior high school: R. V. Thomas, Parks Lawley, R. C. Thomas and Martin Brown; senior: Buster Brown, M. L. Daughtery, Marion Lancaster, Willie E. Walker and William King; junior: J. N. Lane, Gorman Wray, Bert Matthes and Sonny Chapman.
Turner's brightest prospect is L. J. Grauke, a dash man.

WPA Worker Holder Of World's Checker Title
TOLEDO, Mar. 14. (UP)—Asa Long, checker champion of the world, who is a WPA worker, is in "training" to defend his title.
And getting into trim for a championship checker match can't be done overnight, the 6-foot, 23-year-old titan, whose sandy hair stands on end, explained as he reached into his dinner bucket for another sandwich.
Edwin F. Hunt, of Nashville, is the man who is gunning for Long's title. The Tennesseean is recognized by the American Checkers association as the "national" champion.
But the association recognizes Long as the "world champion." Friends of each believe this confusion of titles should be cleared up, so they arranged a match.
Elections of the American Checkers association have been given the encounter, and details turned over to a committee. Papers have been signed, but the site has not been chosen. The match probably will take place next December, Long said.
Marion Robinson of Coahoma is spending the week-end with Deveda Lee Moore.

THE BOOMERANG CLUE

Chapter 30
ANOTHER SNAG

"I think one was love and the other was business," said Frankie. "Carstairs was carrying about the Cayman's photograph for a reason. He wanted it identified by somebody, perhaps. Now listen—what happens? Someone, the male Cayman perhaps, is following him and seeing a good opportunity, steals up behind him in the mist and gives him a shove. Carstairs goes over the cliff with a startled cry. Male Cayman makes off as fast as he can—he doesn't know who may be about. We'll say that he doesn't know that Alan Carstairs is carrying about that photograph. What happens next? The photograph is published—"

"Consternation in the Cayman menage," said Roger helpfully. "Exactly. What is to be done? The bold thing—grasp the nettle. Who knows Carstairs as Carstairs? Hardly anyone in this country. Down goes Mrs. Cayman, weeping crocodile tears and recognizing body as that of a convenient brother. The two also do a little hocus-hocus of posing parcels to bolster up the walking-tour story."

"You know, Frankie, I think that's positively brilliant," said Roger with admiration. "I think it's pretty good myself," said Frankie. "And you're quite right. We ought to get busy on the track of the Caymans. I can't think why we haven't done so before."

"This was not quite true, since Frankie knew the reason quite well—namely, that they had been on the track of Roger himself."

"What are we going to do about Mrs. Nicholson?" she asked abruptly. "What do you mean—do about her?"

"Well, the poor thing is terrified to death. I do think you're callous about her, Roger."

"Oh, but do be fair! What can she do? She's no money and nowhere to go."

"The truth of the matter is that you would find something to do," said Roger with decision. "Roger, it was clear, did not like them helpless. Moira, on the other hand, clearly did not think very much of Roger. She had called him weak and had scouted the possibility of his having the guts to murder anyone."

He was weak, perhaps—but undeniably he had charm. She had felt it from the first moment of arriving at Merroway Court. Roger said quietly, "If you liked, Frankie, you could make anything you chose of a man . . ."

Frankie felt a sudden little thrill—and at the same time an acute embarrassment. She changed the subject hastily.

breathless. "Nicholson isn't in yet," he said. "I left a message." "I don't see why you want to see Nicholson so urgent," said Sylvia. "You suggested this plan, and it's all arranged, and Henry has consented."

"I think I've got some say in the matter, Sylvia," said Roger gently. "After all, I'm Henry's brother."

"You suggested this plan yourself," said Sylvia obstinately. She bit her lip, turned away, and went into the house.

"Tomorrow death comes to the house."

Counties to talk
"ROAD PLANS WITH STATE COMMISSION"

AUSTIN, Mar. 14. (UP)—Thirty-six county delegations today had registered to discuss their road-building programs with the state highway commission Monday and Tuesday.

Occupations Class
Program Is Revised

Directors of diversified occupations classes in five West Texas high schools completed plans for revising and unifying their work following a two-day conference which ended here Saturday.

Working toward a more concrete form of instruction in all of the many occupations open to students, instructors accepted the task of compiling job sheets on several occupations during the year. Ralph Barton, Cisco, accepted the automobile mechanics assignment; Bill Hopper, Brownwood, that of banking; C. Pennington, Cisco, commercial training; Mark Lowery, Breckenridge, hardware; L. P. Starke, Lamesa, electrical contracting; and Pascal Buckner, Big Spring, retail selling.

Seth Parsons and Mrs. Jewel Isbell, Big Spring teachers, took part in the party which opened here Friday afternoon.

TEXAS TECHNOLOGICAL COLLEGE BAND PLAYS HERE MONDAY NIGHT

TECH MUSICIANS TO APPEAR IN CONCERT MONDAY NIGHT

Proceeds From Program Will Aid In Financing Division Contests Next Month

Big Spring citizens who attend the Texas Technological college band concert here Monday evening not only will be treated to a program by one of the major musical organizations of West Texas, but they also will be contributing toward the local municipal band fund to entertain an even larger aggregation of bandmen here next month.

On April 17 and 18 the western division of the Texas Band Teachers' association will sponsor the annual concert for high school bands, the event to be held here. Some 30 musical organizations of West Texas are expected to enter, and since the bands average 50 pieces or more in size, approximately 1,500 musicians will be here for the two days.

Plans are going forward for the April contests, one of the big musical events of the state. Director Dan Conley of the municipal high school band said Saturday.

Centennial Trip
Centennial music will be featured in the contests this year, and bands attaining highest ratings will be given trips to the central exposition at Dallas during the summer.

On Tour
The concert will be given at the municipal auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock. The Lubbock organization, now under direction of D. O. Wilky who achieved fame as leader of the Hardin-Simmons Cowboy band, will be on a six-day tour of this section, during which they will play 14 concerts.

Wiley's musicians are recognized as one of the most efficient groups in the state, and an entertaining program of marches, overtures and novelty numbers. The Tech bandmen are expected to arrive here Monday afternoon.

also will be awarded winners in solo contests. Men prominent in the music world will be judges.

Features of the two-day session here will be the marching event, in which all bands will participate at the football stadium, and a massed band concert by a huge organization made up of selected players from all groups present.

Sweetwater Man
Elected Head Of Teachers' Group

ARILENE, Mar. 14. — L. A. Woodbridge, principal of John H. Reagan junior high school, Sweetwater, was elected president of the Oil Belt Educational association here today at the conclusion of its annual convention.

Several teachers and school officials took part in the Oil Belt Teachers' association meeting which closed in Arilene Saturday.

J. A. Coffey, mathematics instructor, spoke on the "Place of Mathematics in Curriculum Revision." Mrs. Mollie Lowe, commercial instructor, presented a unit in her work.

OH BOY! OH BOY! OH BOY! IF MA COULD SEE ME NOW I'D BE WITH AN AMBASSADOR! I GET ME INTO THE WHITE HOUSE AND MEET THE PRESIDENT!

Without waiting for her reply he turned away and went rapidly into the house. The two women stood looking after him.

"I cannot understand Roger," said Sylvia impatiently. "About a quarter of an hour ago he was positively urging me to arrange for Henry to go to the Grange. Her tone held a distinct note of anger."

"All the same," said Frankie, "I agree with him. I'm sure I've read somewhere that people ought always to go for a cure somewhere far away from their homes."

"I think that's just nonsense," said Sylvia.

Family Of 12, One On Relief, May Soon Be In the Millionaire Class

JACKSONVILLE, Mar. 14 (UP)—Oil, the "black gold" which can turn worthless land into fabulously rich property, promised today to make millionaires out of a family, one of whose members is now on relief.

The potential millionaires are the heirs of the late T. G. A. Willis and his son, the late Dr. T. J. Willis.

One member of the family, J. R. Willis, is now working on a government relief job in Los Angeles at a salary of $80 a month. The other heirs are his brother, Robert Willis of Redessa, La.; two sisters, Mrs. E. F. Aber and Mrs. Guy Rummally of Jacksonville; their children, and the children of deceased brothers and sisters, about 12 in all.

Exact value of the estate is unknown, but investigators revealed that it may amount to $10,000,000.

"That is an amount almost beyond our comprehension," said Robert Willis, who had to borrow $50 to come from California to investigate the property.

Appraisal of the property was made more difficult by litigation involving some of it.

Part of the property lies in the new Redessa oil field recently opened up in northwestern Louisiana and northeastern Texas. J. R. Willis estimated that the Louisiana property was worth $1,900,000.

Other property belonging to the estate, it was said, includes 1,603 acres in Cherokee county, Texas, and tracts of various sizes in Ellis county, Rusk county, Smith county and Cass county. Some of this, in the East Texas oil field, has producing oil wells on it.

Richard Esley, Los Angeles attorney, is checking the property. T. J. Willis, father of four of the heirs, was murdered in Caddo Parish, La., in 1927. Charlie Adams, his convicted slayer, is serving a life sentence in the penitentiary at Baton Rouge.

Cunningham In Win Over Rivals

NEW YORK, Mar. 14 (AP)—In a race that was travesty on the stop watch but a triumph in strategy, Glenn Cunningham, world record holder, whipped his two eastern rivals, Gene Vanke and Joe Mangan, tonight in the Columbus mile, a feature of the annual Knights of Columbus games.

It was the Kansan's first victory on the Garden track this winter, and his time of four minutes, 46.2 seconds testified to the remarkable character of the race.

LANDON FAVORED

Jersey Group Views Him As Best GOP Choice

TRENTON, N. J., March 14 (AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon today was commended to the New Jersey voters by the state republican county chairman's association as the "best republican to run for the presidency."

Landon's national manager remained silent as to his candidacy in New Jersey.

Ethiopians Accused

In Massacre Executed

ROME, Mar. 14 (AP)—Italian dispatches from Amara said today that 18 Ethiopians, accused in a "massacre" of 57 Italian road workers, have been captured and executed.

Borah Taking Campaign To West Coast

Ready To Seek Support In California Primaries On May 12th

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14 (AP)—Senator Borah of Idaho today pushed his fight for the Republican presidential nomination into a fifth state—California—and prepared his strategy for the republican primary there May 5.

The veteran senator will clash on the coast with Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, whose supporters yesterday completed a slate of delegates pledged to him.

Senator Borah soon will start a speaking campaign in Ohio in preparation for the primary there May 12.

Cal G. Bachman, the Borah manager, authorized E. Weaver Campbell, Los Angeles and Washington lawyer, to circulate petitions necessary for Borah's entry into the primary.

"Senator Borah will make formal announcement in the next few days relative to campaigning in California," Bachman said.

Borah has already entered in Nebraska, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio. He will be opposed in Ohio May 12 by the favorite son candidate, Robert A. Taft, and he will lock horns with Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, in Illinois, April 14.

Ross G. Marshall, Southern California campaign manager for the Landon supporters, said yesterday the governor had approved the pledging of a California slate. Landon still has not made formal announcement of candidacy.

Personally Speaking

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Jones, Mrs. Fox Stripling and Mrs. J. B. Pickle are expected back this evening from Austin where they have been visiting with their sons, Jimmie Jones, John Stripling and Jake Pickle, students in the university.

Mrs. Byron Housewright and son, George, have joined Housewright here to make their home. He has been located here since October.

Mrs. Geraldine Steward returned to her duties as nurse in the office of Dr. P. W. Malone Saturday. She sustained several fractured ribs a month ago when the car in which she and her husband, J. B. Steward, were riding overturned 25 miles southwest of Sonora.

Mrs. J. E. Bristow and Mrs. George W. Barcus, mother of Wilburn Barcus, who has been visiting here, left Thursday for a motor trip to San Antonio. They plan to go to Brownsville then return to Big Spring. Mr. Barcus will meet his wife here Friday.

Mrs. Emma Miller left Saturday night for Fort Worth for the Fat Stock show. She will return Monday night and bring her mother back with her.

The Week

owes it to itself to see that they are given an opportunity to do the constructive thing.

Trade oldsters, in comfortable circumstances but thirsting after $38 per month from the bounty of the state, are suffering under the erroneous impression that the Texas electorate voted "pensions" to all persons over 65 years of age. Astute investigators have discovered a very effective way to correct these false beliefs. They merely produce a copy of the ballot used in a constitutional amendment election last year. "For (or against)" reads the ballot, "the amendment giving the legislature the power to provide a system of old-age assistance not to exceed 12 dollars per person per month and to accept from the government of the U. S. financial aid for old age assistance." Please note the term "old age assistance." We got exactly what we voted for.

And we nominate for the whipping post those despicable leeches who suck financial blood from poor, old people with bogus pension schemes. They take a nickel, a dime, a quarter or what ever they can get out of the oldsters and when the supply is gone, tell their "clients" since no more money is forthcoming the whole deal is off.

The relief problem, thought solved, reared its head for another scare the past week. Thanks to the course of county commissioners, the head was resolutely shoved back down again. An agreement, verbal but perfectly honorable, was reached in January when the county judge and court agreed to turn its charity appropriation over to a private welfare agency provided it assumed all welfare and charity work including hospitalization cases and take the entire load off the county officials. Further support was promised by the city. The judge's objection to carrying through the bargain was that the organization had not assumed all charity. It could hardly do that when aid at the courthouse was still available in some cases to those assisted by the welfare agency. But the situation seems solved—for another month at least.

Three city commissioners, as foreseen a week ago, announced for re-election the past week. One, a veteran on the commission, was reluctant to run again but pressure by friends brought him around. The school board election, set for April 4, may not see either of the incumbents running again. One is tired of the job, the other's private position may require that he not be a candidate.

Citizens should cooperate in every way with those men and women who started to work last week taking the scholastic census. Every 100 scholastics they are able to list means $1,750 to the schools of this county. If that many are missed, then the schools are deprived of revenue equal to the county tax on property valued at $350,000.

A new crop for this county is a possibility according to the opinion of Frank Dearen, Vincent farmer. He is an advocate of wheat crops for northeastern Howard county. It pays better dividends over a period of years than some rich lands in the "farm belt," he declares. Don Garlington, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Garlington, is going into wheat growing on a large scale and has fair prospects to succeed this year. If his 3,600 acres of wheat, oats and barley make, he may be able to tell cotton farmers how to run their farms.

About 650,000 farmers own stock in federal land banks through their farm loan associations, while more than 200,000 farmers are connected with production credit associations.

Big Spring Stores Announce the Latest and Most Authentic FASHIONS FOR SPRING

It's Centennial Year in Texas . . . a time when everybody is planning on going places . . . and entertaining out of state guests. Everything points towards this as being the most prosperous gay and exciting year Texans have ever known.

The time occasions need for greater wardrobes, for many and different places you will be going and things you will be doing. Big Spring stores have prepared for you the greatest collection of beautiful apparel and accessories in their history. They now invite you to visit their stores and see the very latest and most authentic styles that will be worn this spring and summer.

Longer Lines Stressed For Evening Gown

Silhouette For Spring Is Prettier, More Graceful Than Ever

PARIS (UP)—The new feminine evening silhouette is prettier and more graceful than any seen for several years. Longer lines, with skirt fullness concentrated into a waistline in back, coupled with emphasis on the bodice front by means of draping, bows of tinted flowers make the evening gowns becoming to almost all types. The tailored midnight suit, on the other hand, is becoming only to the tall woman with a very slender figure.

White, angelskin satin is used for a gown fashioned on princess line, moulding the figure to the knees, then swirling out in full folds at the floor. Three soft bows of the white satin caught in by clips of brilliants make the bodice of the gown and extend well beyond the shoulder line.

The classic line likewise is used for an evening gown in turquoise crepe made on long, slender lines with a tailored belt at the waist and a full flaring skirt. Pleated pieces of the material are used on the front bodice in a circular cowl drapery which is caught down and held in place by rhinestone shoulder straps. The turquoise hip-length coat is entirely pleated and is made to hang loosely from the shoulder with long, full pleated sleeves.

Work Resumed On Brazos, Colorado River Projects

AUSTIN, Mar. 14 (UP)—Work on the principal Colorado river dam near Llano has been continued under instructions from the U. S. reclamation bureau. Two weeks' pay checks for the 526 workers at Buchanan Dam, totaling $22,000, were ordered released and Colorado river authority officials were authorized to proceed with surveys on other dams of the system.

The order from reclamation officials said an injunction obtained in Washington by seven Texas power companies last week had been modified to permit continued work. They asked and obtained a restraining order on the ground that federal works funds were being used to build power dams instead of flood control and irrigation dams.

A single cake weighing more than 700 pounds was baked in Birmingham, Ala.

Ostrich Plume Tops Chapeau

A flaring curled feather tops this new hat. The head-piece is worn slanted low above the eyes, and the plume, slotted through the brim, cascades over the crown.

Color Is The Keynote; Pastels Win Over White This Season; And The Outfit Must Have The Mannish Touch

Colorful will be the spring and summer ensembles of 1936, says the head of one of Big Spring's apparel shops. White has taken a decided back seat in favor of the pastels, both solid and prints. This is not to say that white will not be good—just not the latest. However to wear all white this year just won't make any hit at all. There just must be some of that—color.

Looking over the layout one finds most of the dresses have capes or short coats. Buttons are prominent. These buttons may be in the shape of a football, top hat, a prune, water glass, thimble or almost anything as long as it doesn't look like a button. Materials for the dresses are designed with these same figures.

Must Be Mannish
But regardless of what type dress it is, or what design it bears, the ensemble won't be complete unless there is something that is mannish. This might be one of the little watches that are worn in the top pocket of the coat, suspenders for the skirt, or a four-in-hand tie. A bowler or a snap brim hat, studs for the shirt or cuff buttons may be used. Some excuse can be found for almost anything you may desire to wear.

Now about these hats. Broad brims have and always will be the most flattering to the majority of women and several beautiful styles are shown. But right now the rage seems to be a distinctly mannish hat or one that resembles greatly an inverted flower pot with the foliage at the wrong end. While these are particularly becoming they are reminiscent of the styles many years ago when flowers were used to a great extent. Remember when the hat was made entirely of feathers and some even had birds in the nest decorating them? Well, these haven't got that hat—that is not yet. The models are lovely and the woman who can withstand the tolerant smiles and words of the stronger sex will probably enjoy wearing her flowery bonnet very much.

Oath to King Refused
HAMILTON, Ont. (UP)—Because she refused to take the oath of allegiance to King Edward VIII, Alderman Agnes Sharpe may lose her seat on the city council. Her case has been referred to the Ontario government for a ruling.

One hundred sixty of Missouri university's 40,000 graduates live in the Orient, and more than 200 are in foreign countries, an alumni survey showed.

SILHOUETTE SIMPLER Chanel Collection Stresses Freedom Of Line

PARIS (UP)—Chanel says that her new collection stresses freedom, and therefore follows the natural silhouette without taking on the exaggerated trimming of past eras. In achieving this silhouette she has lifted the waistline slightly in front and dipped it in back, giving a longer, more slenderizing line which is particularly flattering to small women. In contrast to the broadened, padded shoulders seen at many houses Chanel retains a feminine shoulder line, but inserts fulness into sleeves between the elbow and shoulder.

Her spring suits illustrate the freedom and practicality of this fashion trend. One in green tweed is made with a straight skirt which flares toward the mid-calf hemline to allow freedom in walking, and a loose, short jacket which is worn open to reveal the blouse underneath. The sleeves of the jacket achieve

Flowers Are Really 'Tops' This Season

They Grace The Head Of Milady As She Goes Out In The Evening

Flowers for Madame—Flowers are the tops this year for they grace the head of milady when she sallies forth into the evening for a round of dancing or a formal affair.

The demure socialite may wear a taira of tiny buds over a softly waved coiffure or some small blossoms just above or behind the ear. These are in the natural color. For the older, more sophisticated the posies are done in gold or silver and look particularly good in dark hair.

Of course the dress of the hair has a great deal to do with the type of floral trimming. One simply can't wear a long straight Garboish bob and flowers. The short hair dress is the type. With the bias part that is the most popular of all parts right now there are many possibilities.

To be sure the evening dress has quite a lot to do with the wearing of the "flora." Gowned in a fluffy, ultra feminine creation, one might wear an orchid directly on top of her head.

With the more tailored evening raiment, flowers are confined to the shoulder corsage or the waist. The most popular way tho' is to wear them on the lapel of the mannish cocktail jacket or the dinner coat.

The main idea is to brighten the spot where you are with color—regardless of how you get it or where it lands and what better way to get it than with flowers whether they be artificial or fresh—just as long as they furnish Dame Fashion's demand for color.

Cougar Lurks Near School
ESTACADA, Ore. (UP)—John Slope, school bus driver, probably saved the lives of Peggy and Earl Goggins when he drove two miles out of his way to take them home. Returning from the children's home he saw a large cougar near the place they would have been had they walked.

fulness by inserted godets between the shoulder and the elbow. The blouse is of sheerest white cotton aceraucker princed with sprigs of spring flowers. A matching green straw hat with a squared crown is trimmed at the front of the brim with a small nosegay of artificial flowers.

Another suit of black wool dotted in white is trimmed with amusing little daisy shaped buttons. The buttons running down the center front of the skirt are white with black centers while the buttons trimming the blouse of white starched linen are in black with white centers.

Singing Duck Print
A four-leaf clover, coral branch, bow and arrow, needle and thread, star, anchor, flag, heart and strawberry, all appear in white, chartreuse, rose, blue and beige silhouettes on one brown crepe. Singing yellow and white ducks with a scale of musical notes flying out of their bills, gay red and gray dance harlequins and multicolored puzzle maps appear on the dark grounds of others.

An Abyssinian print splashed with nemeses, bushes and lions and Chinese prints embroidered and printed in Chinese figures are other novelties, while prints patterned with colored parrots and bees printed behind a dark barred weave representing the cake of the honeycomb are among the most intriguing of the new designs. Leaf prints so realistic they even have colored worm holes patterned over a white background are also shown.

Aquarelles have been launched as something new in prints. In soft shaded tints, which look as though they had been handpainted on the crepe instead of stamped, and outlined with what looks like fine black ink tracery, they make striking effects. Aquarelle morning glories, roses and other old-fashioned flowers are splashed sparingly over crepes, leaving wide spaces between.

Rianchini has launched new flower prints which vary in design from a tiny sprig of lily of the valley appearing about once every foot to huge morning glories or bouquets of roses. Some of the biggest flower prints Paris has used in years appear in the collection.

Unusual Designs, Attractive Color Combinations Important In Choosing Your Footwear For Spring Ensembles

Superative in every detail—the unusual design—trim and enticing color combinations are the main point to look to in your selection in spring footwear, according to one of the local stylists. His shop carries a complete line of Jacqueline and Paris Fashion shoes in all the latest models.

Patent leather is the center of attraction in every shoe department. Just now the trend is toward navy, black and grey, but as the days grow longer the pastels will be nightly popular.

Sandals and straps have captured milady for this season. The sandals are fragile looking but fairly strong wearing creations that are fashioned in every pastel shade and combination imaginable. Some have thin and other the broad straps (the latter tending to shorten the appearance of the foot).

Jacqueline straps recently advertised in Harper's Bazaar emphasized blunt toes and broad straps. These are beautiful numbers in patent leather, suedes, calf and fabric with leather of a brighter color.

Cotton and Linen In Pastel Shades Being Featured

PARIS (UP)—Wanda Kofler, a Viennese who has been showing her knitted and crocheted clothes in Paris for the past two years, has presented a new collection of lightweight clothes for spring and summer.

She uses many cotton and linen threads in soft pastel shades, for one and two-piece costumes knitted in a loose, irregular stitch. The classic suit line is usually followed at this house, the jackets, occasionally double-breasted, are made with wide reverses frequently finished by a crocheted edging. Some jackets are belted all the way round and others just in back.

Certain sports suits in knitted wools are heavier and there is one hand-woven heavy coat in a plaid of green, cream and brown which is fashioned loose and full to three-quarter length. It is worn over a fine machine-knit one-piece dress of chartreuse green.

For summer white knitted silks and linens, still in one or two-piece costumes, are combined with bright belts and scarves of green and purple. One three-piece outfit in pale blue has small reverses hand-embroidered with a floral design and the suit is worn with a pale rose blouse.

There is an evening suit consisting of a long black skirt and a white knitted silk jacket, another long, trailing evening gown in burgundy knit, a third in deep rose of Italian Renaissance inspiration

COLORFUL EMBROIDERY COVERS THE JACKET OF WHITE LINEN SPECTATOR SPORTS DRESS

This lovely spectator sports dress is made of white linen imported from Ireland. The top is covered with colorful red, yellow and blue embroidery and the little jacket fits snugly around the waist. The linen is crush-resistant, which makes it a practical as well as extremely decorative model for the south-land vacation or summer wardrobe. The hat, also of white Irish linen, is unusual in treatment and exceptionally chic.

Colorful Is The Word For Spring Hats

They'll Be Gay To Match Gay Eyes, Says One Designer

NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—Bright, glamorous colors will be the vogue in women's hats for the coming season, according to Lily Dache, one of America's most illustrious designers. Interviewed at her salon in New York after a recent trip to Paris, Mme. Dache said that there is a strong trend toward effervescence and gaiety in hats this spring because of a deep psychological change that has taken place among people generally.

"Hats must be designed," she explained, "in accordance with a woman's mood, particularly as it is reflected in her eyes. Feminine faces are much, much brighter this year, so women want hats that will match this spirit, that will emphasize the brightness and sparkling colors of their eyes. Vivaciousness is the keynote."

As examples of the latest modes, Mrs. Dache showed a number of new creations in which gay flowers predominated. Her salon, where she designs hats for Joan Crawford, Marlene Dietrich, Gladys Swarthout, Carole Lombard and a legion of celebrities from the stage and social ranks, was strewn with startling red carnations, wood violets, and cornflowers. Hats of intriguing colors and enchanting shapes were everywhere. Some were constructed wholly of flowers, some were of Florentine straw, still others were made of nothing but coarse net, with a tiny bunch of orchids to be worn just above the hairline.

"Flower trimmings must be chosen so as to flatter and emphasize the particular color of a woman's eyes, of course," said Mme. Dache. "The shape of the hat, too, can bring out their hidden beauties. The hat-line should follow closely the contour of the face and should extend over the eyes in front. A tiny veil of the type that is becoming more and more popular is a subtle way of bringing attention to the most important feature of a woman's face. A stalk of flowers straight up from the brim in front also gives a flattering effect."

Materials, too, like cosmetics, can and should be selected with the eye color in mind, said Mme. Dache. Vivid blue flowers or feathers can be smartly used by the blue-eyed girl for example, and deep reds are appropriate for the brown-eyed miss.

Mme. Dache declared that the gay note in hats is very marked in Paris and other European capitals. While most of her spring designs were shown before her recent voyage abroad, she said she found that French fashion styles have also adopted the vivacious, colorful spirit that is apparent here.

TOLEDO (UP)—The streets were covered with slush. A grey-haired called to two street-cleaners: "Make a path here. I want to cross," she commanded. The men cleared a path with their wire brushes.

how where it ends abruptly and charmingly without a semblance of a cuff. I like this sleeve best for Spring and Summer only, because I am afraid that the below-elbow tightness would not be the most comfortable fashion for Summer.

If you bought a dress with this sleeve last season, you were just a little bit ahead of fashion, for they are right up in front in smartness now. Trace their ancestry back to the Chinese, for they are straight and full, hanging free from shoulder to the point of termination which may be anywhere from elbow to wrist. I like this sleeve far better than the ordinary puff sleeve, and there isn't a single, solitary woman who cannot wear it becomingly. Because it is not caught tight at any point, it will be comfortable for wear all Summer long.

Divided Skirts Or Trouser Costumes To Be Found In Most All Collections

PARIS (UP)—Although the vogue for trouser skirts has not made nearly the stir that was anticipated, almost every house shows one or two costumes with divided skirts or trousers. Beach and tennis clothes, coming under a different category invariably are made with divided skirts, but most Parisians consider the trouser style too eccentric for anything but country wear.

Robert Piguet shows a spring suit in black wool with a divided skirt which is camouflaged under simulated tucks. The tailored jacket has large leg-of-mutton sleeves trimmed with insertions at the shoulder of crisp white pique in a waffle pattern.

Marcel Rochas version is in white wool with trousers patterned like a man's and pressed into folds in front. It is worn with a sheer white blouse and a finger-tip white coat printed in a conventional pattern. This Rochas coat has new lines, being slightly belted and fitted, whereas the former finger-tip coats were all made full and hung loose from the shoulders. Schiaparelli makes a knicker dress for the beach in white linen to be worn with a turquoise fringe and the reverse and cuffs of the jacket are piped in white.

Tailored Sports Clothes Featured In One Paris Line

PARIS (UP)—Vera Borea has gained a reputation as a creator of expertly tailored sports clothes and of charming youthful evening gowns. Her spring collection features for the most part these two types. Two-piece suits stress slightly the broadened shoulder line which has been revived at almost every house this year. The new suits are in wools and linens, also flannel. In sand-colored wool, the lapels and certain seams are outlined with coarse peasant stitching in a contrasting reddish brown shade. In linen a two-piece dress of rough linen in navy blue fastens down the front with the famous Vera Borea buttons, made of a composition material and painted by hand. For spring and summer there is a white pique dotted with small red squares made into a short sleeved dress with a squared shoulder yoke of crocheted linen thread. A pique Breton sailor with upturned brim matches the dress. A girlish dinner gown is fashioned in white satin printed in flower circles. The square neck is edged in a double, ruffled band of pure white satin, and the same edges the hem of the full skirt.

'All Dressed Up And Some Place To Go' When Tricky Luggage Purchased To Add To The New Spring Wardrobe

A Big Spring store we know about—you should visit them all as we did in looking over the spring offerings—counts a pleased customer as a good advertiser, and consequently stresses service, individual attention and never-failing courtesy. This sort of thing just naturally goes with a lovely shop—a place as beautiful as you will find in the big cities—and filled with garments as appealing as the shop.

It is interesting to note that one can walk into the establishment, buy a complete outfit and have the assurance that one has bought nationally known and nationally advertised goods. Over a Sunshine or a Levine dress, one might wear a Princess coat or possibly it'll be a Princess suit, this being that sort of a season. Or it might be a Bradley knitted suit or a Nattiknit. On one's head will be a hat stamped Dobbs, or Stinson or Screen Vogue. All of these lines bear the stamp of excellent workmanship and current styles.

To this ensemble could be added distinctive styles in shoes. Suppose that after you dressed yourself so becomingly and are decked out with the extra details of purse, clinking bracelets, bobbing ear-bobs—all in an excellent style as your costume; suppose then, being all dressed up, you have no place to go!

Ah, but the shop can remedy that. It can sell you one of its high-powered "Aviation" pieces of luggage. And when you get one of these you simply have to travel; your conscience would not permit you to hide such a charming combination as you and your luggage make together.

By the way, the word Aviation does not necessarily mean that these bags will not fit into a car trunk or under a Pullman berth; the company added aviation just to show how extremely swank its products were.

Long Distance Rates Reduced Sixth Time

1. AFTER 7 EVERY NIGHT

person-to-person long distance charges are now lower, except on some shorter calls.

2. ALL DAY SUNDAY

long distance rates are reduced on both person-to-person and station-to-station calls.

These reductions apply on calls to points more than 100 miles distant, and to many shorter calls. In the past the only reductions were those after 7 at night on station-to-station calls.

This is the sixth time in 10 years that the telephone company has lowered long distance charges. Other reductions were made in 1926, 1927, 1929, 1930 and 1935.

Patou Offers New Colors

A Spring Green and Mauve Pink Being Shown In 1936 Collection

PARIS, (UP) — Every year the House of Jean Patou creates one or two new colors which soon become outstanding shades of the season. In his spring collection the firm chooses Spring Green and Cattleya, which are frequently used in combination for evening wear.

Spring Green is halfway between the Nile and Chartreuse, with a definite yellow tone. Cattleya is a mauve pink, similar to an orchid color with a pinkish cast.

The two colors are particularly lovely in an evening gown of pleated silk in Spring Green which is fashioned with pleated strap crossing the front of the neck to match the flowing skirt. From the shoulders hang long, pleated streamers which are lined with Cattleya and which reach the floor.

Patou offers an innovation with his new beaded prints. Chiffons in four or five pastel shades are embroidered in sequins or oblong crystal beads over certain designs of the print. For example, one print has a brown background which has been re-embroidered with brown sequins of the same shade, while another background is left untouched and pale pink roses with green leaves are re-embroidered on the pattern.

Sports clothes and afternoon dresses remain conservative at this house while beach and evening clothes become more unusual. Many of the colorful linen beach costumes are cut away in front, showing a triangle of bare skin at the abdomen. Evening clothes, similarly, are split above the knee occasion- ally, sometimes a discreet V decol-

Silk Alpaca Used In These Dresses

Silk alpaca is the exciting new fabric used in the navy and white dresses worn by the Selby triplets, winners in Miami Beach. The triplets talk alike, dress alike and walk alike although their arch curves are all different—reading from left to right—high, medium and low.

The Ayrshire herd of the North Carolina agricultural experiment station is composed of granddaughters of Penhurst Man o' War.

Mules Fall 85 Feet, Live GRANTS PASS, Wash. (UP) — Two pack mules, frightened when one of their mates fell of a six-foot embankment and was killed, reared and plunged off an 85-foot cliff and escaped unhurt. The animals landed on mattresses packed on their backs.

Don't Forget The Perfume And Jewelry

Your mood will determine the odor you will likely select from the perfumes which are sold in one of Big Spring's shops.

Mystery Gardenia might be worn by the elusive lady who keeps her admirers guessing; Lost Orchid sounds sad and glamorous; and Orange Petals hints of orange blossoms and June and the strains of Mendelssohn's march.

With each bottle of this perfume comes a small corsage of orange blossoms or a gardenia, artificial, of course, that may be worn on your dresses or coat lapel.

Shown in the novelty department of the shop are the latest creations in costume jewelry. Outstanding are the new Centennial pins. Two styles are shown, one in the shape of the Lone Star and the other is fashioned in the shape of the state of Texas. Into the latter is worked a cowboy hat. Both numbers have the year 1936 and are brilliantly covered in white rhinestones with red and blue touches.

Oh gold and yellow are most fashionable in the newest dress clips and belt buckles. The old gold ones look as though they might be heirlooms with the sole purpose of lending dignity to the dress they adorn.

For summer bone is being shaped into bracelets and buckles. These are shown in white and the popular pastels. They are very wide and are carved and are worn to a good advantage when banding the glove of an opposite color at the wrist.

DIRECT RULING TO BE MADE ON GUFFEY BILL

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14 (UP)—The new deal has waived all technicalities to permit the supreme court to rule directly on the basic question of the power of congress to regulate the bituminous coal industry.

The waiver was during argument by Assistant Attorney General John Dickinson, who said that he would direct his plea to the basic question. He was defending constitutionality of the Guffey coal control act.

This question of congressional power to regulate industry had been assumed by Frederick H. Wood, New York lawyer, who successfully attacked NRA, and former Federal Judge Charles I.

New Shoes In Color, White

Displayed Locally Are All Styles—And Sizes For All Feet

Being displayed now in the show window of one of the city's fashion stores are the spring styles in shoes—shoes of all types, even for the woman with hard-to-fit feet.

Dawson, who, while on the Kentucky federal bench, ruled against validity of three new deal meas-

At present the window is filled with colored patent-leather sandals, but consolation for the conservative dresser lies in a prediction of the shoe man of a heavy season in white footwear, possibly to offset the colors in midday's ensemble.

An innovation that will be welcomed by walkers on rocky grounds—and who isn't out here?—are the new non-scruffable heels. They look like patent leather, but one understands that they are made of taklite, or some such. If you don't wear white, you can be fitted in dark blue or slush black patent—not to mention the wide variety of colors available. The local stock is new and well selected.

Mrs. Jack Nail received word of the illness of her father, Charles Rieman of Temple.

MAKES A KILLING Runs Blackjack Winnings Up To $11,800

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Mar. 14 (UP)—One of the richest "killings" in the history of legalized local gambling has been reported by A. (Blackjack) Sweitzer who ran $3 up to $11,800 in two hours of play. The gambler ran a series of five phenomenal blackjack hands in which he showed two "blackjacks" and drew "21" on two eleven-spits. Sweitzer ran his $3 up to $260 and then bet that amount on most hands with his top bet of the day fixed at $1,000.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. A. Robinson left Sunday for Fort Worth to attend the Pat Stock show.

Stores Here Offer Full Collection Of Spring Creations

Fashions Of Major Style Centers Available; Color, Variety Mark Trend Of 1936 Season Offerings

This spring the merchants of Big Spring have brought to their customers the fashions of New York and of Hollywood, style centers of the world, in a more bewildering array than ever before. They have assembled such a lovely collection of frocks, coats, hats and accessories and their offerings are brought to the public in today's issue of The Herald.

Summarizing styles for 1936 one is at first aware of color, second its distribution. Never was a style more convenient for the woman who loves variety, or for the person who can not concentrate on one color ensemble. This spring and this summer one can revel in all one's favorite shades from the corsage on one's shoulder to the shoes on one's feet.

Although the style centers are in the United States, the inspirations this year had a most delightful habit of popping up from all over the world. Summarizing the spring fashion geographically one discovers why the Tyrol is in Austria, and notes for yodelers. Bright answer, but that isn't all. It is noted among other things for grand skiing and other sports. It is noted for gay colors, riotous embroideries, rakish hats, and the pleasant people on earth.

If you want a very good picture of the Tyrol, just get around into the stores. One can find any number of smart fashions whose ideas could have originated nowhere else in the world. For instance the Hittite shawl suits that boast jackets, short and shorter, fitted to give a tiny waist. These are as Tyrolean as a yodel. Some of the shorter swaggers look exactly like those worn in the photographs of Tyrolean peasants. And all the em-broderies of the season plainly show this influence.

Many of the accent touches on Spring clothes mark the Tyrol as their ancestor. You can see some clever frocks and suits with pockets that were hearts. Give American designers credit for copying them from their Tyrolean relatives. Gay colors, and bizarre combinations are as typical as feathers in hats. If you want to get gay, you will certainly turn Tyrol on your American background.

Old Spanish Custom
Click your castanets, my dears, while one goes into a song and dance about the new Spanish fandangos for Spring. Where do you suppose all those cute boleros came from? It took more than tangoes and rumba rhythms to inspire them. Take a look at a picture of a torero, then go right down into the stores and look at the bolero dresses. Some even have wide masks!

Even millinery speaks with a decided Spanish accent. Rolled brims, upstanding edges, pom-poms in threes, all come from Castile. When you go romantic at night with bows and flowers in your hair, you are aping a sweet sen-

SPRING APPAREL FROM THE LOCAL SHOPS AS DISPLAYED AT STYLE SHOW HERE

The women pictured above appeared on the stage of the Municipal auditorium last Friday evening wearing new spring costumes for five of the city's

by the Ladies Salon; Mrs. R. F. Boston in a becoming tailored suit from J. & W. Fishers; Mrs. Charles Worley who is in an evening ensemble (coat on arm) from the Albert M. Fisher company; Miss Lucille Rix, modeling a lovely white net evening frock from the Hollywood shoppe; Miss Anna Pau-lyne Jacobs in a shirred chiffon evening dress of soft pink that came from the Fashion. (All photos by Thurman.)

Lingerie And Hankies Must Get A Thought

In A Big Spring Store One Can Find Lovely Models Of All Kinds

In thinking of the merchandise in the shops this spring, you also think of lacy lingerie—satin pajamas with beautiful lace and the Kayser label, or possibly backless gowns or perfectly fitting slips. Or "bras" in the Maiden Form or the Form O Uth.

You think too of the most beautiful hankie you ever carried, possibly one of Appenzel embroidery—that bluish thread, you know. You are offered all kinds, from sports to wedding handkerchiefs.

But in one of the stores into which your correspondent strolled, there was the reminder, too, of a tricky gift package that the nimble fingers of a saleswoman have done up for you when you were on your way to a shower.

This store has never lost interest in its piece goods. Its stock embodies some of the prettiest materials available in cotton, silks, laces. And it has built up its accessories until it is a drop-in-place for those seeking the perky little gadgets that make a costume truly an ensemble.

On the men's side of the store, there are the smart spring offerings in shirts, shoes, hats and so on. But just now the men's department is catering to the ladies and you'd never guess with what-loud plaid shorts. The women buy them and take them home—and they say their husbands wear them.

The jacket fastens with a zipper to the high neck where a checkered stock scarf is tucked inside the vest. The costume is worn with brown suede sports shoes with flapping tongues and a brown felt hat. Bavarian is inspiration, trimmed with two green quills.

rita from Andalusia, and you couldn't do a wiser thing. Jewelry and bells are also muy espanol and do a lot to add to the American landscape of fashion.

Shanghai Gesture
East meets west . . . and little Lotus Blossom's fashions have been transplanted to American shops. One will like the coolie hats, and they are easy to wear, surprisingly so. They don't seem a bit freakish, either, and you won't feel like running ahead of a rickshaw in one. That's a big point, for often in some of the most charming fashions one may feel hopelessly out of place.

A bowl of rice, a cup of tea, and thou, little mandarin jacket we're Chinese snow. The fashions to be seen were not strictly mandarin jackets, but their honorable grandmothers were. These are really tunics, with slits up the side, and

When the saleswomen of a Big Spring clothing store have opportunity to dress customers, they say to them that a New York or Los Angeles shop would discreetly whisper: "Let's begin with the foundation."

They build the foundation from the ground up—or to put it more precisely, from the skin out. In order to this for the spring of 1936, the local store has one of the best stock of corsets, girdles, and one-piece foundations this side of the style centers. All in summer weights, too.

What is attracting the eye of customers are the cunningest silk net girdles you ever dreamed of on a blistering hot day. They are two-way stretch and have the intriguing name of Goss Amour. There are also the Miss Simplicity garments and the well-known Gossard line. These are the inescapables of every smartly turned-out woman, be she ever so like a bear the same smart loose sleeves. Lots of times the neckline is a simple high band, like that on a man's shirt before he attaches his collar, and very Chinese.

Here Comes the British
Sometimes it has been difficult to find enough British looking tweeds, but this is one season when the stores have done right. Some of them look like a bit of English countryside . . . heath blues, English violet, moor greens, all simply beautiful in tweeds. Some of them catch the sophistication of London town like the grey flannels that England's royal ladies are so often seen wearing in photographs.

One finds some suits with longer jackets, fitted trimly at the waist. . . the kind of jackets that British huntsmen wear when they ride to hounds. One has to be pretty tall to wear them becomingly, but if you can get away with some, you'll have a suit that's quite distinctive.

Wear your English tweeds rather shortish, and choose your shoes with low heels for perfect harmony.

Tweed Uses Leather Trim

Many Combinations Of These Materials Shown This Spring

PARIS (UP)—The combination of tweed and leather will be worn a great deal this spring. Some houses show woolen skirts worn with matching or contrasting jackets of suede while others show jackets whose collars, cuffs, reverses and pocket flaps are faced with suede or leather.

There is a new latex leather of fine kid which has been pulled into puckered designs by the elastic threads drawn through it. This is used in white for a heavy blouse which fastens high at one shoulder with black clips and is worn with a black belt. The same latex leather is used in all colors to make collars and cuffs on spring suits.

There is a smart little sleeveless brown suede vest which can be worn either for town or country. It adds extra warmth and chic worn under a sports coat during cold weather and is used over a dress for spring. In the latter case, it is shown over a short sleeved green and brown checked wool which is made with two kick pleats at the front of the skirt.

The high neck and large brown buttons are hidden when it is worn under the brown suede vest which has a high, rounded neck over a square shoulder yoke. Two pleats, matching those on the skirt of the dress, give fullness above the waist, which is pulled in by a trim brown

SKIRT LENGTHS FOR EVENING GOWNS VARY IN ONE COLLECTION

PARIS (UP)—The Mainbocher collection shows several silhouettes for evening, including gowns with short skirts, others with ankle-length skirts in front and short trains in back as well as full length evening gowns.

Outstanding is one in a heavy rough white crepe that is embroidered all over with a leaf pattern in gold pearls. The high neck is rounded and ties with a slender cord. The front bodice is slit to the waist over a vest of pale green satin. A row of small gold pearl buttons trim the waistline which is fitted and belted. The long skirt has a train cut-in-one with the back of the dress. Long tight sleeves extend to the wrist.

More formal is a gown in pale blue cloque satin which is cut very décolleté with the front and back bodices formed by a surplice effect. The waistline dips below the V back and is belted by a piece of the blue cloque satin. Mainbocher's most recent interpretation of the bustle is seen in the full train which is superimposed on the back of the skirt to trail backward in full folds.

Pale green silk mousseline is used for an evening gown which is pleated. The bodice is of finely pleated mousseline held in by hand of lace in imitation of the classical Greek robes. Two bands of lace define the waistline and the pleated skirt hangs in pointed tiers of unequal length.

Farmers of Mississippi in 1935 utilized only 56,125 tons of commercial feeding stuffs, the second lowest usage within recent years.

Nuptial Rites Read Saturday Evening For Miss Modesta Good

Is Married to San Angelo Man

MRS. J. B. (DICK) SIMPSON Photo by Thurman

Married To J. B. Simpson Of San Angelo

Rev. R. E. Day Performs Ceremony In Home Of Bride

Of premier interest in the past week's events in Big Spring was the wedding Saturday evening of Miss Modesta Good to James B. (Dick) Simpson of San Angelo.

The rites were read in the Good residence at 7 o'clock in the evening with only members of the two families present.

Floor baskets holding pink and bronze anemones formed an impressive altar before which the couple said their vows. The Rev. R. E. Day, pastor of the First Baptist church, read the ring ceremony.

The bride was attired in a suit of robin's egg blue of Angora wool with a silver fox collar. Her accessories were of navy. She wore a corsage of red sweetheart roses. Immediately after the ceremony she and Mr. Simpson left by motor for Fort Worth where they will spend their wedding trip.

Mrs. Simpson is the daughter of a prominent ranching family, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Good, whose ranch is about twenty-five miles north of town and whose town home is at 1406 Scurry street. The wedding took place in town.

She was a popular student in high school. In '33 she was queen of the high school carnival and in '34, her graduation year, she was queen of the high school rodeo. That year she was also elected most popular girl in school. She was leader of the Pep squad. Previously she had served as its secretary-treasurer.

Her first year away at school was spent at Ward-Belmont. Last fall she entered T. C. U. and was chosen in December as a candidate for the Horned Frog popularity contest. Her husband was her escort at the T. C. U. revue at which all the candidates were presented. An attack of appendicitis brought her home for an operation in January and the announcement of her betrothal followed soon after her recovery.

The bride has been interested in various forms of athletics all her life and has won many honors in a number of competitions along this line. For three summers she attended Camp Mystic and was signally honored there. She received the "M" given for ten best campers, she was tribe captain of the Tomkawas, a member of the Mystic Musketeers, a riding club, and of the Swan club, whose specialty was swimming. She received medals in archery, horsecback riding and riflery.

She has represented Big Spring twice at the Cowboy reunion at Stamford and once at the Abilene rodeo and race meet. At the latter she was voted the best woman rider. When the West Texas chamber of commerce met in Big Spring several years ago she was elected Miss Big Spring for the occasion.

Last summer she returned to Camp Mystic as a counsellor in horsecback riding. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Simpson of 1601 Webster street, San Angelo. He completed his work for his A. B. degree in January and will go back in June for the conferring of degrees.

Like his bride, Simpson was an especially popular student in his high school days and was especially interested in athletics. He was graduated from the San Angelo high school in 1932.

He was prominent in track and was captain of the football team in his senior year. He was elected best all-around boy in high school in '31.

In T. C. U. he played two years on the varsity team. He was vice-president of the student body, also of the "A" (athletic) association. He was assistant dean of men and proctor of Clark hall and a member of Bryson club.

He is now connected with the Cardinal Oil company and is located at Irvan on the company's lease. There he is assistant to the superintendent. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson will make their home on the lease.

Present for the ceremony were the parents of the bride, her brother, Jeff, a step-brother Clarence Porter and an aunt, Mrs. Fred Henderson, O'Donnell; also the parents of the groom and a sister, Mrs. Mary Mehler, also of San Angelo.

Former Resident Is Boomed For Office In State Junior C-C

Walter N. Glenn, formerly of this city and manager of Postal Telegraph office in Longview, is being boomed by his townsmen for the position of state secretary of junior chamber of commerce clubs in Texas.

Members of the Longview organization, of which he is secretary, are to push him for the state honor in the September convention in Corpus Christi.

Glenn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glass Glenn, was connected with telegraph companies here several years ago. He went to Tyler from here.

Two Hostesses Entertain For Lucky 13ers

Mrs. M. Wentz and Mrs. Hallie Robinson were joint hostesses Friday evening for the members of the Lucky 13 bridge club at the home of the latter.

Mrs. Waters and Shirley Robbins were the highest scorers; each received decks of cards, customary prize of the evening.

An unusually clever refreshment plate, containing a high-hat salad and individual cakes shaped like shamrocks, was passed at the close of the games.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Shive and Mrs. J. C. Smith played with the members. Also present were: Messrs. and Mrs. H. G. Keaton, O. E. Bolinger, M. Wentz, Shirley Robbins, Hayes Stripling; Meses. O. M. Waters and Cecil Collins.

Mrs. Hal Farley Gives Earthquake Party For Club

Mrs. Hal Farley gave the members of the Matinee bridge club an Irish earthquake party Friday afternoon. The earthquake applied to the disturbing method of dealing and playing the cards. Instructions were issued at the beginning of each game and the hands had to be played accordingly.

The green color scheme was used throughout the party, from the pictures on the wall to the playing cards and the refreshments.

The table covers were of green and white. High scores were awarded at each table. The prizes were green Congress playing cards and were given to Meses. Jimmy Tucker, J. A. Smith and P. W. Malone.

Mrs. W. G. Wilson received a card box for bingo. Lime soda pop, hamburgers and green candy were served; Meses. E. C. Boatler, Tom Donnelly, George Harvell, Joe Clark, J. E. Fort, Tucker, A. E. Underwood, Sam McCombs, W. G. Wilson, Jr., P. W. Malone and J. R. Williamson.

Mrs. H. G. Foosee will entertain next.

First Baptist W.M.S. The First Baptist W.M.S. will meet in circle sessions Monday afternoon as follows: Lucille Reagan with Mrs. F. J. Gibson; Florence Day with Mrs. R. E. Day at 3 o'clock; Mary Willis with Mrs. A. P. Clayton; Central circle, Mrs. J. C. Douglas. The Christine Coffee will not meet Wednesday because of the district convention.

Mrs. Lamar To Be Given Decoration

Local Rebekahs Go To San Angelo For State Meet

The Big Spring Rebekahs will take an active part in the grand lodge meeting of their order to be held at San Angelo this week-end.

Most spectacular participation will be the conferring of the decoration of Chivalry by General Briel of the Patriarchs Militant at the city park Tuesday afternoon.

Spring canton 23 and the Ladies Auxiliary of the local V. F. W. will assist the general in this ceremony.

A local woman, Mrs. Jones Lamar, will be one of six women on whom the degree will be conferred.

Those taking part will be: Meses. Lamar, L. L. Gulley, Della Herring, Mabel Glenn, Ora Martin, Eula Robinson, Lullie Lykins, Ruth Wilson, Thelma Randolph, Sallie Kinard and Fern Burleson.

The V. F. W. trio will sing. In this are Mrs. Willard Read, Mrs. R. E. Blount and Miss Ruby Bell. They are not connected with the lodge but their reputation as singers in state and national V. F. W. encampments won Big Spring the honor.

The Rebekahs lodge No. 284, Big Spring, will sponsor the joint memorial program to be held at the Municipal auditorium Sunday evening. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. K. P. Barton of the First Methodist church, San Angelo.

The convention will open with a reception Saturday evening for all visiting Odd Fellows and Rebekahs at the Odd Fellows hall.

Today there will be a tea at St. Angelus hotel given by past presidents in honor of the visitors. Among the hostesses will be Mrs. Ada Ramsey of Big Spring, mother of Mrs. L. R. Kuykendall. After the tea the Past Grand masters and past president will be banqueted at the same hotel.

Matters of state business will occupy the Monday and Tuesday session with dances at the two hotels each evening.

Mrs. Lamar Honored The decoration of chivalry, one of the high honors of the Rebekah lodge is being conferred on Mrs. Lamar because of her high degree of service in the nine years of her membership. Mrs. Lamar is deputy president of the local lodge.

An unusual feature of her award will be the fact that a child will pin on her the jeweled pin that forms the decoration. The child is little Miss Lanora Lloyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lloyd of this city.

A large group of local Odd Fellows and Rebekahs plan to attend the convales. Among them will be: Mr. and Mrs. Jones Lamar, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Gulley, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Herring, Mr. and Mrs. Glass Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Martin, Mrs. Levi Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Lykins, Mrs. Earl Wilson, Mrs. R. W. Sandolph, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kihard, Mrs. C. R. Burleson, Mrs. Ada Ramsey, Mrs. L. R. Kuykendall, Mrs. Gene Crenshaw, Mrs. Lela Harper, Mrs. Nova Ballard, Forsan, Mr. and Mrs. A. Richardson, Mrs. J. L. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sandridge; Messrs. Ben Miller, J. H. Haller, W. S. Morrow, J. H. Lloyd, C. P. Williams, L. E. Christian, M. L. Hayworth, J. F. Henderson, E. W. McCleod.

Of these the following are officers: Mrs. Gulley and Mrs. Crenshaw are state deputies, Mrs. Wilson is the noble grand of the local lodge. Sandridge is the Odd Fellows' representative.

R-Bar Home D. Club Meets At Mrs. Reid's

"A clean garment is not as apt to be stained by moths and for that reason alone all clothing should be well cleaned before being stored away during the summer," said Miss Mayme Lou Parr, county home demonstration agent at an all-day meeting of the R-Bar club. The club was held recently in the home of Mrs. H. C. Reid.

Miss Parr assisted members in cutting and checking foundation patterns.

Members present were: Meses. W. F. Heckler, A. D. Martin, R. V. Fryar, H. W. Muagrove, Clarence Fryar, Earnest Rainey, G. C. Coates, Earl Hull, R. E. Martin, J. H. Reeves, Paul Bishop, G. W. Davis, H. W. Robison, W. H. Wise, Bill Eggleston and Miss Parr.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. W. F. Heckler.

Garden Club Is To Hear Spence Talk

The members of the Garden club will hear a talk by E. V. Spence, city manager Tuesday afternoon on the subject of disposal of garbage.

Inasmuch as this is a vital part of civic beautification, Mrs. L. E. Eddy asks that all members make it a point to attend the program without being called beforehand.

The club will set a day for plant exchange and take up other matters of business. The meeting will be held in the city courtroom Tuesday at 2:30.

Sub-Deb Club Honors Mary Louise Inkman

Members of the Sub-Deb club were entertained by Mary Alice McNew Friday afternoon in Miss Cox's apartment. The occasion was a special party celebrating the birthday of Mary Louise Inkman.

Many attractive gifts were presented the honoree by the club members.

Bowls holding candy aided in furnishing the girls with good time. The refreshment plate employed the St. Patrick color scheme. A large angelfood cake iced in pale green was surmounted by 17 candles. The salad and punch were in the green colors.

Present were: Doris Cunningham, Elouise Kuykendall, Mary Louise Wood, Nancy Phillips and Wynell Woodall, in addition to the honoree and hostess.

Mrs. R. H. Miller Is Double Four Hostess

Mrs. R. H. Miller was hostess to the Shuffles and Cut bridge club and a group of friends Friday afternoon at her home.

Prizes were distributed to Mrs. Summerlin for club highest score, Mrs. Hammond for visitor's highest; Mrs. Crosthwait for winning in bingo. Mrs. L. R. Terry captured the floating prize.

Playing with the club were: Meses. Clarence Miller, Lydell, Watson Hammond, L. R. Terry and J. M. Chapman. Mrs. Summerlin will entertain next.

Vesta Michael Given Honor At U. of Texas

Vesta Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Michael, who is a junior at the University of Texas, was signally honored recently by election into the Texas Alpha chapter of the Tau Beta Pi fraternity.

Members are elected into this on a basis of character, personality and scholarship. Vesta's honor is all the more an honor because membership is usually honored seniors in college.

Idle Art Bridge Members And Friends Enjoy Mexican Meal

Spend Evening At Dancing Instead Of Bridge Following Mexican Supper; Men Are Honor Guests

The members of the Idle Art bridge club held the first evening party since its reorganization and entertained husbands and friends with a jolly Mexican supper at a restaurant in the Mexican quarter of town Friday evening.

Instead of bridge the time was spent in dancing after the meal.

Club members present were: Meses. Robert Riegel, Fletcher Sneed, Glen Queen, Tommy Neel, Searcy Whaley, Misses Evelyn Merrill, Emma Louise Freeman and Eleanor Gates.

FLORIDA STYLES FORECAST SUMMER TRENDS

Styles smart feminine American has worn at southern resorts this season may affect the trends in summer styles. These Florida models have been shown, Marie Rutherford Jones, (left), in a modern little Red Riding Hood as she displays one of the ensembles seen on the Florida beach. The suit is of white silk jersey with blue dots, the color scheme being reversed for the cape. The trousered skirt, which Eve Mortimer (center), is modeling, is slated for wide popularity this summer, designers say. Trousers in fact, are headline news for southern wear, as witness this Ginner gown modeled by Adelaide Brownle (right), with its skirt cut like harem trousers. The skirt waist blouse is another feature of many of the smart models for evening wear introduced this season.

Lions Of Six Clubs Gather In Big Spring

Organization Activity Discussed At Zone Conference Here

Delegates from six Lions clubs in this zone Friday evening heard club problems and reports discussed in meeting held from the Settles ballroom.

Brief talks, ranging from Lionsism's part in the Centennial to club programs, were given by speakers for clubs represented. Rev. P. D. O'Brien, Colorado, pointed out that local Lions clubs could do much toward beautifying their towns to make them more attractive to Centennial visitors. It was at his suggestion that a resolution was adopted requesting the state Lions organization to maintain a Lions booth at the Centennial exposition.

Other speeches were made by Omar T. Burleson, Anson; Otto Berlin, Hamlin; Joe Pickle, Big Spring, and Jim Goodman, Midland. Secretaries of the Colorado, Hamlin, Anson, Midland, Snyder and Big Spring clubs gave reports of activities for the past year.

Program for the evening was executed in reverse to demonstrate disdain for superstition surrounding Friday the 13th. The meeting was opened with the benediction and closed with singing an opening song and the meal was served in reverse order.

The high school glee club, under the direction of Mrs. Bruce Frazier and accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Kirkpatrick, favored the group with two numbers. Jake Smythe, Snyder, zone chairman, presided over the meeting.

Baptists From 70 Churches Expected At District Convention Here Next Week

Three Associations To Be Represented At Meeting; Denomination Leaders Will Appear On Tuesday, Wednesday

With an attendance goal of 1,000 set for the first annual convention for district No. 8, Baptists of three West Texas associations are ready to stress participation of "the whole church in the whole program" here Tuesday and Wednesday.

Messengers are expected from more than 70 churches in the Big Spring, Lamesa and Mitchell-Scurry associations, component parts of the district. In addition to qualified messengers, convention leaders anticipate scores of other visitors here for the two-day stand.

W. S. Garnett, pastor of the East Fourth Street Baptist church where sessions will be held, will preside over the district's initial convention. He is accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Kirkpatrick, district secretary, and other auxiliaries have been holding separate district conventions but this year the Sunday school, B. T. U. W. M. U. and Men's Brotherhood are meeting in a combined convention.

Leaders Participate Outstanding state and district leaders will appear on the program. Among them are Dr. Thomas Taylor, Brownwood, president of Howard Payne college; George J. Mason, Dallas, treasurer for the general state convention; G. S. Hopkins, state Sunday school secretary; Hal F. Buckner, Dallas, head of Buckner Orphan's home; R. A. Springer, Lubbock, state B. T. U. president; Mrs. B. A. Copas, Fort Worth, state W. M. U. president; H. Lyman Wren, Snyder, district laymen's president; Mrs. J. Lee Jones, Colorado, district W. M. U. president, and J. E. Barron, Lamesa, district Sunday school president.

Heffernan, Lamesa, and Mrs. C. B. Reeder, Lorraine, will report for the associations of which they are leaders. Chairman of standing committees to report are Mrs. F. D. O'Brien, Colorado, Mrs. Austin Walker, Knott, Mrs. H. F. Nix, Lamesa, Mrs. K. S. Becker, Big Spring, Mrs. J. A. Woodfin, Snyder, Mrs. W. C. Harrison and Mrs. Paul Moss, Odessa, Mrs. O. C. Speck, Lamesa, Mrs. H. L. Wren, Snyder, Mrs. Bob Hubbard, Mrs. C. P. Gary and Mrs. J. M. White, Mrs. H. A. Copas, Fort Worth, state W. M. U. president, will conclude the afternoon session with an address at 4 p. m.

After the devotional by Mrs. P. D. O'Brien has been given at 7:20 p. m. Tuesday, the winning Y. W. A. stewardship essay will be read and Miss Amy Hesselmeier Stallworth, state young people's leader, will bring an address. Concluding features of the day will be a sermon by George Mason.

Rev. James Easterwood, Roscoe, will open the Wednesday meeting with a devotional at 9 a. m. and will be followed by Rev. E. F. Cole, Lamesa, in an address on "District Missions."

Hopkins To Speak B. T. U. conferences will be presided over by Mrs. Ira Powell and Miss Pearl Bryant, Big Spring. Mrs. A. J. Woodfin, Snyder, Rev. W. C. Harrison, Odessa, Rev. Willis J. Ray, district missionary, Big Spring, and Mrs. M. Powell, district B. T. U. president.

G. S. Hopkins, state Sunday school secretary, will speak on his department at 10:55 a. m. and will be followed by J. E. Barron, Lamesa, in a discussion on the state Sunday school convention. Rev. G. W. Parks, Roscoe, will end the morning session with a sermon.

The final session will start at 3 p. m. with an address by Hal Buckner, Dallas, in support of the Buckner orphan's home, Baptist supported institution. Rev. W. C. Harrison, Odessa, will speak for the Baptist cooperative program and after goals have been set for the state B. T. U. convention, officers elected, reports made on the time, place and leader for the next convention, Rev. P. D. O'Brien, Colorado, will bring the meeting to a close with an inspirational address, "Looking Forward."

Messengers to the convention here will be entertained on the Harvard plan—bed and breakfast free. Each church, of which there are approximately 75 in the district, is entitled to five messengers for the first 100 members or any part thereof and one additional messenger for every additional 100 members provided the maximum does not exceed 10.

STORIES FOR PASSES They'll Tell Anything To Crash the Centennial

DALLAS, Mar. 14. (UP)—There's no end to the means some persons will employ to obtain free passes to the Texas Centennial exposition, officials learned today. One man, doing his best to get an "Annie Oakley" from W. H. Kirtrell, assistant to the general manager, said he believed he should have a free pass because "I'm the great grandson of Stephen F. Austin." Stephen F. Austin, as a pioneer Texan will recall, was a bachelor. North Carolina is credited with 9,299 miles of surfaced roads.

Spring Frocks Put Emphasis On Flowers

Blossoms On The Hat, Or On An Ascot, Or In The Buttonhole

Designers point out unmistakable signs of spring—signs that are significant of what smart women are doing to transform their dark winter clothes into gay frocks for the new season. And flowers are leading in the transformation. Violets, in a lovely English blue, are perched on the tip of gay hats, and small matching bouquets are fastened under the chin to the ascot or worn in the buttonhole. Red and white carnations do the famous contrast trick. One white and the other a blazing truck red, are tucked in the neck line of a slim navy blue dress. Two more are used on the small straw hat. Manish suits are not complete without a tiny gardenia in the lapel, and printed silks emphasize a predominating color with a cluster of flowers.

The shops are showing waistcoats and fake blouse fronts for suits in gaudy new felts in such eye striking colors as scarlet, canary yellow and bright blue. They are nice with dark tailored suits.

Rather short jackets with three-quarter length sleeves are accented with dazzling gloves or some of those new tricky affairs of white with red inside section—a half and half arrangement. Despite the startling description these gloves are grand for spring street clothes.

It's cape weather, according to some and there is a decided demand for snappy short capes that look like spring, but act as decorative windbreakers against any gray winter weather. The most sophisticated outfits are brilliant printed silks with solid wool capes. The capes are always short, sometimes not reaching any lower than the waistline.

Bill Gage And Miss Crain Wed

Bill Gage and Miss Dolores Crain were married in Midland Thursday evening, and surprised their relatives and friends by the announcement this week-end.

The bride is a teacher in the West Ward school, now teaching her second year. She is a graduate of N. T. S. T. C. Denton and came to Big Spring from Denton, which is her home.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Gage who moved here about five years ago from Austin. He is employed by his father in the operation of the wholesale Gulf Refining company.

St. Mary's Auxiliary Plan Shrub Shower

Members of St. Mary's Episcopal auxiliary are asked to meet at the church at 10 o'clock Monday morning for a shrub shower for the church grounds and to sew on curtains for the welfare cottage. Lunch will be served at the church. The aim of the shrub shower is to procure enough shrubs and evergreens to make the church grounds attractive. All members of the church are asked to keep this in mind and bring what they can.

Art Exhibit Is To Be Held All Day Monday

The art exhibit to be held at the West Ward school building will be on Monday instead of Tuesday. There will be displayed 250 prints of the works of famous masters sent out by the Practical Drawing company. A small admission fee will be charged. The exhibit will start at 10 o'clock and will continue all day and through the evening. Room mothers of the P. T. A. will act as hostesses throughout the day. The public is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hart, son, Howard, and Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Hart left Saturday for a visit with relatives in Callahan county.

Funds Voted For Townsend Plan Inquiry

Proponents Of Pension System Defeated In Attempt To Cut Sum

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14 (UP)—Amid angry debate the house Friday approved a $50,000 appropriation to investigate the Townsend and other old age pension plans. The appropriation was approved after Townsend plan supporters tried unsuccessfully to cut the request from $50,000 to $10,000.

Chairman C. Jasper Bell, D. Mo., of the Townsend inquiry committee, charged Townsend sympathizers were insincere in protestations of support for the investigation because they attempted to "cripple it through lack of funds." Red headed Rep. Joseph P. Monaghan, D. Mont., tried to make five different points of order against the resolution but failed each time.

One was that the original investigation resolution contained "insulting language" and reflected on house members by referring to investigation "schemers." Speaker Joseph W. Byrns ruled no points of order had been made. "The chair has nothing to do with whether the house can act intelligently or not," said Byrns. Monaghan shouted something about "very tricky procedure." Rep. Marion Ziencheck, D. Wash., demanded the remarks be stricken out.

"I withdraw them," came back Monaghan, giving Byrns a chance to lecture the house for the second day in succession on dignity. "I am not going to permit any personalities to be discussed in the house for the remainder of the session," he said. House Townsend supporters urged that the appropriation be cut to $10,000 on grounds that most of the Townsend organizers were in Washington and $50,000 was too much.

Rough Weaves And Pastels Noted In '36 Paris Styles

NEW YORK, Mar. 14.—The hat collections in Paris show a definite tendency toward toasted tones, such as blonde tortoise shell, burnt straw, natural beige, fawn, and also a lovely shade of tomato red which is very often combined with black and navy blue. Black and navy blue continue, of course, to be very important. There is a great deal of emphasis put on pastel colors for spring—particularly a soft shade of pale faded pink that is sponsored by everyone. This color is known as ashes of roses or old pink.

Among the fabrics shown for spring, there is a general tendency toward rough weaves and a very strong feeling for satins and bright surfaces. Bianchini stresses mostly coarse surfaces and toils fabrics, but they place a very noticeable importance as well on satins and austrous finishes. The Persian influence is seen in their collection on both chiffon and heavier grounds. They show changeable affets and printed taffeta with very interesting designs of stars, ears of corn, comets and zodiac signs.

Vermont's collection emphasizes several ribbed effects in stripes in relief on different backgrounds, some being Roman with satin relief ribs in different patterns. Duco prints are the important feature of this collection, some representing multicolored bouquets on taffeta backgrounds, while others combine discharge prints with floral themes. Ath Duco centers in bright colors. Duco is also used on several backgrounds for polka dot spattered effects.

Mrs. R. A. Parker Entertains With Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. Reuben A. Parker entertained her luncheon club and a number of guests at a lovely spring luncheon held Thursday at the Settles hotel.

Among the guests were Mrs. George W. Barcus of Fort Worth and Mrs. J. E. Bristol. They were present for the luncheon only, having to leave immediately afterward for San Antonio. The centerpiece was a bouquet of spring flowers further enlivening the party theme and the accessories were harmonizing in spirit.

Two tables of bridge players spent the remainder of the evening at concert. In addition to the guests named, the party was composed of Misses: J. Gordon Bristol, Wilburn Barcus, Bill Tate, Lee Rogers, M. H. Bennett, Ralph Rix, Robert Currie, Verd Van Gleason and J. B. Young.

LOVE STRIKE OFF Boys And Girls Had Protested Hand-Holding Ban

COLLINGSWOOD, N. J., Mar. 14 (UP)—Young Romeoos and Julietas of Collingswood High school returned to classes today after their "love strike" called off because of rain. The controversy started when John B. Ritter, superintendent of schools, forbade boy and girl students to hold hands on the school grounds or in corridors. Approximately 100 girls and boys mobilized across the street from the school.

"We want social freedom," they shouted. The noon bell sounded, calling the students back to their class rooms. A few left the ranks. The others continued their shouting. It began to rain.

The student rushed for shelter in the school building. The strike was over. There will be no punishment, Superintendent Ritter said.

Jimmy Hahn Has Nice Birthday Party

Master Jimmy Hahn, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hahn, entertained a group of his small friends Friday afternoon in celebration of his having reached the age of three. Outdoor games, picture-taking and refreshments were features of the party. The favors were tied onto the end of ribbons and tucked into the hole in the center of the birthday cake. The guests pulled out the ribbons and secured a variety of little toys. The cake was served with ice cream.

Mrs. W. M. Gage, grandmother of the honoree, and Miss Alta Mae, his aunt assisted his mother with the party. The guest list included: Patry Ann and Doris Nell Tompkins, Patry Sue McDaniels, Billy Jean and Donnie Joe Randolph, Jimmy Brooks, Nancy Whitney, Rose Nell and Bob Short, Jill and Sonny Tatum, Marilyn Youngblood and Dolores Gage.

Mrs. McCleskey Is A Candidate For Dist. Clerk's Post

Mrs. N. W. McCleskey, long-time resident of Big Spring, Saturday authorized The Daily Herald to announce her candidacy for the office of district clerk, Howard county, subject to the action of the democratic primary in July. Mrs. McCleskey asked the support and influence of the voters, and stated she hoped to see each one of them personally in the near future.

Zimbalist To Be Guest Artist On Program Tonight
Efrem Zimbalist, who has played his violin in practically every large city in the world, will be guest artist on the Ford Sunday evening hour, Sunday. The program, which features music of the Ford Symphony orchestra and chorus, under the direction of Victor Kolar, will be broadcast from 9 to 10 p. m. EST, over the complete coast-to-coast CBS network.
Zimbalist was born in Russia in 1889. His first and most critical instructor was his father, a famous orchestra leader. He made his Berlin debut at the age of 18 and his American debut in 1911 with the Boston Symphony orchestra. His ability has been acclaimed on every continent. He is an American citizen and lives in New York City winters and in Connecticut in the summer.
On the Ford Sunday evening hour, Mr. Zimbalist will play three compositions, including: Sarasate's Fantasy from Bizet's opera "Carmen"; Lenki's aria from Tchaikovsky's "Eugene Onegin," and a "Tarantelle" by Sarasate.

HAS BIRTHDAY

Mrs. M. A. Berry of Colorado, mother of Mrs. J. R. Creath, is spending her birthday—the 73rd—today in Big Spring, the guest of her daughter.

PLANS VACATION
Roosevelt To Make Fishing Trip In Florida Waters
WASHINGTON, Mar. 14 (UP)—President Roosevelt sped up administration work today, eager to get off within a week for a spring vacation. He will use the new residential yacht Potomac, rather than Vincent Astor's yacht, Nourmahal, on which he cruised on previous spring vacations.
As before, Mr. Roosevelt has chosen Florida waters. He will fish and rest in preparation for one of the toughest political campaigns of his career. Observers saw in his abandonment of the Astor yacht a political significance made pertinent by this being a campaign year. Some public men, particularly the late Sen. Huey P. Long, criticized Mr. Roosevelt for vacationing in the company of a wealthy man with extensive connections with "the interests."
On the homeward swing he will stop in Arkansas, the home of Sen. Joe T. Robinson, majority leader, in Indiana and Kentucky.
With congress expected to be out of the way in May, Mr. Roosevelt plans to attend the Texas Centennial celebration at Dallas about June 1.

STRANDED BY AAA

Scientists Sent Out Are Denied Salaries

HONOLULU, T. H., Mar. 14 (UP)—Scientists are stranded at widely separated points throughout the world because the U. S. supreme court outlawed the agricultural adjustment act, it was learned today.
Ten men sent to Hawaii to study plants and insects and carry out various AAA projects have received no salaries or expense money since Jan. 1, and a number of them were said to be without funds to return to their homes. They are dependent upon charity of friends in the islands or loans from mainland relatives, it was said.
In one case, a wife was reported stranded on the island of Kauai while her husband is isolated without funds in Africa, where he was sent to hunt insects for use in destroying Mediterranean fruit flies.

D'ANNUNZIO IS ILL
Famous Novelist, Dramatist Suffers Pneumonia
CARDONE, Italy, Mar. 14 (UP)—Gabriele D'Annunzio, famous Italian novelist and dramatist, was ill of pneumonia today.
D'Annunzio, whose 73rd birthday was yesterday, first was stricken with influenza, which developed into pneumonia. Dr. Antonio Duse, his physician, was optimistic although friends were worried because of D'Annunzio's age.

JEWELRY, FURS AND SILVER ARE STOLEN
DALLAS, Mar. 14 (UP)—Deputy sheriffs searched today for thieves who broke into three homes in an exclusive Dallas residential district yesterday, escaping with silverware, fur coats and jewelry valued at more than $3,500.
The prowlers were last seen riding in a black sedan, with out-of-state license plates.

OIL COMPACT GROUP TO MEET IN DALLAS

The Purpose of Bank Loans

—is to aid business in carrying out useful and profitable operations.

THESE operations create employment, meet public demands for commodities and services, and promote Community prosperity.

Through familiarity with local conditions, through intimate and confidential contacts with local business men, through accumulated judgment as to their plans, abilities and practices, we are able to direct our loans into safe, useful channels. Thus, we can devote our loanable funds to aid and support the business activities which give this Community a full, well-rounded business life.

By honesty and skill in management that will command the confidence and support of our fellow citizens, we seek to meet in full these obligations of good banking.

Bobbed Hair Wins A Nazi Defender

BERLIN, Mar. 14 (UP)—Bobbed hair, bathing suits and sex appeal were defended today in "Das Schurze Korps," official organ of the black-uniformed S. S. Elite storm-troopers who form Adolf Hitler's bodyguard.
The article attacked as old-fashioned and snobbish the one-time Nazi attitude towards women and their hair styles. Under the title of "Women Are Not Men!" the magazine attacked those who desire to create an "ideal type" and struck directly at the Nazi German Girls league, female counterpart of the Hitler youth organization, for its marching-in-uniform activities.
Pointing out that no girl is less German because she has bobbed hair, the article repudiated the long-haired, blue-eyed Gretchen ideal.
"Long hair doubtless is beautiful. So are long, flowing beards," Das Schurze Korps said. "Why do people wear these priceless adornments so seldom these days? Obviously because we want honesty without pomp and obscuring accessories."

CONTRACT IS LET BY FORD COMPANY FOR A HUGE GAS PROJECT

DEARBORN, Mich., Mar. 14.—A $1,000,000 project, involving construction of the world's largest welded steel gas holder of its particular type, has been announced by the Ford Motor company.
Contract for the gas holder, which will have a capacity of 10,000,000 cubic feet, has been awarded to Stacey Brothers Gas Construction company, of Cincinnati.
The gas holder will be 220 feet in diameter and 244 feet high—equal in height to a 34-story building.
The construction will involve the use of welded rather than riveted plates, an innovation, and will require 3,000 tons of structural steel plates and shapes, 25 tons of weld rod and 200 tons of miscellaneous equipment. Its reinforced concrete foundation will measure 1,500 cubic yards, supported on 200 piles about 100 feet long, driven to bedrock. About one year will be required for completion of the project.

Navajo Blankets Exhibited Here

A collection of more than 50 Navajo blankets, from the Navajo Indian reservation in New Mexico and Arizona, are being shown at the Sefties Hotel, on the mainline floor. The display was brought here by Pat Read, who formerly was a special officer with the Indian service, stationed on the Navajo reservations.
Included in the exhibit are all types of Navajo blankets, including ceremonial pieces; also shown are rugs, saddle blankets and pillow tops. The collection is one of the largest of authentic Navajo weaves being shown in this section.
The display is open from noon to 10 p. m. The public has been invited by Read to inspect the collection.
