Reagan Heads to Europe for 10-Day Tour

It's Just A Matter Of Timing

First Methodist's Troy Waddell showed how it's done as he umpired a YMCA Men's Church League Softball game Tuesday night before his team played. Waddell managed to keep his chew intact as he called the bases as Immanuel Lutheran and Community Church fought it out, with the latter winning, 14-13. At left, Waddell enjoys his chew, waiting for a batter to step to the plate as he watches from his position between the pitcher's mound and second base. In center photo, the chewing stops as he watches the pitch, and at right, it's time to eject a little juice as the batter is retired and the inning is over. WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, off on his first European trip since taking office, will discuss mutual economic problems with leaders of the major industrial democracies and try to win popular support among the allies, aides say.

The president, who is beginning his 10-day tour today, said Tuesday that U.S.-European ties are closer than they have been "for some years." He added: "I think we're seeing much more eye-to-eye than we have in the past."

But he told European reporters in a live television interview that he wonders whether opponents overseas "think I am a threat to peace" as a result of "some imagery that has been concocted for them."

The president, who is scheduled to leave Washington this morning and arrive in Paris shortly before midnight, Paris time, said he would seek to portray himself "as someone who believes very much" in the U.S.-European alliance.

The president's aides have emphasized efforts at winning popular support in Europe almost as much as they have stressed the substantive issues of high interest rates and protectionism, key topics at the economic summit conference that is the first major event on the president's schedule.

The interview with European reporters on the eve of Europe has had on him, Reagan told his European interviewers, "they're kind of following the leader," and referred to arms reduction proposals he made during the 1980 presidential campaign.

The key events on the president's 10,689-mile trip are the 8th annual international economic summit conference; a visit with Italian leaders and Pope John Paul II in Rome; conferences with Queen Elizabeth II and Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher in Britain; and a summit of the leaders of North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations in Bonn. Reagan's departure was the latest in a White House effort to soften the president's image in Europe.

Administration officials have acknowledged that they are anticipating demonstrations in Europe protesting the president's proposals to increase defense spending.

Aides have said that the timing of the president's recent speeches encouraging arms reduction talks with the Soviet Union was dictated — to some extent — by the trip to France, Italy, Britain and Germany.

Schroeder Named La Plata Principal

Superintendent Harrell Holder of the Hereford Independent School District has announced his plans to recommend two new principals and announced the reassignment of two others. The changes will be effective for the 1982-83 school year and are subject to approval by the School Board at its June meeting.

New principals named are Raymond Schroeder at La Plata Junior High School and John Dominguez at Shirley Intermediate. Those moving to new positions are Gary Billingsley from Bluebonnet Intermediate to Northwest Primary and Howard Birdwell from Shirley Intermediate to Bluebonnet Intermediate.

Schroeder has been serving as Assistant Principal at Hereford High School for the past two years. He holds a BS degree from Panhandle A&M and a MS degree from Oklahoma State University. He joined the Hereford Schools in 1978 as a golf coach and social studies instructor. He had previously served in schools at Muleshoe, Sundown, and Texhoma, Oklahoma. British Have Upper Hand

By The Associated Press

British forces held the high ground overlooking the Falkland Islands capital of Stanley today. But military sources in London said the ground troops may delay their advance for two or three days, until troops moving up from the west and southwest bring the assault force to some 4,000 men.

Meanwhile, British artillery on the heights, warships on the sea side and Harrier jet fighters were expected to give the Argentine positions a constant pounding.

"Stanley is cut off. Time is on our side. The Argentines have nowhere to go, and they know it," said one source in London.

Argentina's ruling junta dispatched three high-ranking military officers to U.N. headquarters in New York to try to make peace. But Foreign Minister Nicanor Costa Mendez said they "aren't carrying any new proposals." And Gen. Mario Menendez, the Argentine governor of the Falklands, delivered a rousing martial broadcast to his estimated 6,000 troops, calling them "To arms! To combat!"

Menendez told his men: "Argentina is watching us — our parents, wives, girl

Official Says Housing Bailout Won't Help

By LORRAINE CICHOWSKI
AP Business Writer

Multibillion-dollar plans pending in Congress to bail out the home construction industry won't have much effect by summer, say private economists and a Cabinet member.

Samuel R. Pierce Jr., secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, declined to say Tuesday whether Reagan would veto the home-mortgage subsidy plan, which apparently is nearing final congressional approval. Slightly different versions of the plan have been endorsed by both houses of Congress, but Reagan has said he opposes it.

"Even if it passes, no veto, friends, children....We not only have to defeat them (the British), but we must do it in such a way that their defeat is so crushing that they will never again dare to invade our land."

The British Defense Ministry continued a virtual blackout on news of current military operations. But correspondents with the British forces, in dispatches passed by the censors, reported the capture of 1,535-foot Mount Kent 12 miles west of Stanley, and Bob McGowan of the London Daily Express said marine commandos stormed the strategically vital Two Sisters ridge three miles closer to the town.

"Nobility is going to commit now while rates are so high and there is still the prospect of more than 650.

"Opposition throughout was slight," McGowan reported. "We found enemy trenches with boots, ammunition and clothing still in them, indicating that the Argentines ran when they saw the British sweeping in on them."

The Argentine junta acknowledged indirectly that the British had taken Mount Kent but claimed they were unable to advance. A spokesman for the joint chiefs of staff said as a result of Argentine bombing, "British forces stayed on Mount Kent. They have not passed Mount Kent."

Another 3,500 British troops are reported to have landed north of Stanley, but the Defense Ministry has not confirmed this and there has been no mention of their location in correspondents' reports from the British task force.

Losses on both sides increased. Britain said 250 Argentine soldiers were killed in the fighting for Goose Green Saturday, raising the known total of Argentine dead and missing in the conflict to more than 650.

I can't see it having that much impact by the summer," Pierce said.

He and David Cross, economist for Chase Econometrics, said the weak housing industry is still plagued by high interest rates that make it expensive for builders to finance new construction and difficult for young people to buy new homes.

"Nobility is going to commit now while rates are so high and there is still the prospect of more than 650.

Mrs. Ray Johnson True Pioneer in Spirit, Deed

By LINDA CAUDLE
Family News Editor

Mrs. Ray L. (Billie) Johnson of Summerfield, selected Pioneer of the Year Saturday during the Mid-Plains Pioneer Celebration, is a pioneer in name as well as deed. Since she came here from Gainesville in 1921, Mrs. Johnson has taken an active role in public affairs, volunteer and community service, and club activities.

Born Feb. 24, 1899, Mrs. Johnson is the daughter of R.J. and Ada Lane Smith, who came to Texas soon after the end of the Civil War and then to Hereford in 1921 to visit Dr. and Mrs. J.A. Freeman, an early dentist.

Mrs. Johnson was educated in Gainesville and at Baylor. She taught in Paris, Texas and then in Summerfield for three years before marrying Ray L. Johnson, a rancher who had been in this area since 1907.

Mrs. Johnson has one daughter, Billie Ra, the wife of Col. L.P. Hansen, USAF Ret., from Winter Springs, Fla.; two grandsons, David, of Germany, and Daniel, of Santa Barbara, Calif., and one great-grandson, Christopher Hanson of Washington, D.C. She had a granddaughter, Diane, deceased in 1974. Her husband, Ray, died in 1976.

Mrs. Johnson took an interest in club work early in life, when she joined the Junior Federation at Baylor and became its president. She also studied drama while a student there and later organized the Community Players in Summerfield, and then the Little Theatre (called Shadow Players) in Hereford, serving as president and director in 1954.

She is a charter member of several well-established area women's clubs, including the Hereford Garden Club and the Women's Forum, which was known as the Deaf Smith County Federation when she helped to organize it at Summerfield in 1926. She is a life member of the Forum, the Pioneer Study Club, Summerfield Study Club, and Hereford Garden Club. Some have called her "the club woman" because of her interest in club work, organization, and parliamentary procedure.

Mrs. Johnson says that one of her favorite things is giving book reviews. She recalls that at one time, when she belonged to a book review club in Amarillo, she heard a review of "The Grapes of Wrath" that she didn't agree (See PIONEER, Page 2)

Local Ham Places High In Contest

A Hereford amateur radio operator has received word that he was among the top performers in a nationwide contest staged last January. Glen White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne White of 813 Baltimore, placed third in the nation in the American Radio Relay League's (ARRL) Novice Roundup.

The event, staged each year by the ARRL, is open only to Novice and Technician Class radio amateur licenses. The contest lasts 30 hours, and participants attempt to contact as many other stations as possible during the contest period.

White, who recently upgraded to the General Class level, accumulated 65,110 points during the contest, placing third behind a New Jersey Ham (KA2BNF-82,875 points) and a Colorado ham (KA0GFA-69,445 points).

Operating under his novice calls of KA5GWI, White made 746 contacts during the 30-hour period.

A total of 469 entries were received by the ARRL for Novice Roundup 1982. The field of entrants ranged from one 10-year-old operator from Maryland to amateurs in their early 60's.

White now operates on the amateur bands using his new call, N5ETS, since he upgraded in April. His father, Wayne, is an Advanced Class licensee, KB5NO.

Secret Service Probes Bogus $100 Bills Spotted In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — The Secret Service says it is continuing an investigation into a ring suspected of operating out of Houston or Detroit and manufacturing counterfeit $100 bills.

Five San Antonio residents were indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday on charges of conspiracy and possession of counterfeit currency in connection with the alleged plot. One of the suspects allegedly was selling the fake $100 bills for $30 apiece.

Investigators said that $11,000 in false money has been discovered in the San Antonio area and much more is believed to exist, but that none of the five local people indicted was suspected of being involved in printing the money.

The investigation began on May 15 when Alice Bright Jones, 32, was arrested for allegedly trying to pass one of the bogus bills at the Broadway National Bank here. Subsequently more of the bills were passed at a local discotheque. Secret Service agents said they seized still more bills at a local residence.

Agents later arrested Gray Hill May 19; Ernest Ruiz, 21; Steve Allen Woods, 27; Charles Edward Compton, 36; Leonard Hill, 23, and Rene Leonard Grant, 27.

Compton was indicted Tuesday on a cocaine possession charge, but was not charged with possessing counterfeit money.

Barney Boyett, agent-in-charge of the local Secret Service, said the bills seized so far are of sufficient quality to hoodwink the average cashier, but that they have several flaws that a currency expert can detect.

The portrait of Benjamin Franklin on the phony bills is flat and less like a photograph than on real money, he said, and the counterfeit bills are slicker to the touch and lack the tiny red and blue fibers in real bills.

Boyett suggested that merchants who have doubts about any bill should inspect it carefully and assure themselves it is legitimate before accepting it.

California Lifts Three Counties From Quarantine

LOS GATOS, Calif. (AP) — Satisfied with the success of its $80 million campaign against the Mediterranean fruit fly, California has lifted fruit and vegetable quarantines in three counties and may declare two more counties medfly-free next week.

At the same time, the Agriculture Department in Washington said it was launching a precautionary program to prevent potential medfly infestations in other parts of the nation.

"We're putting about 25,000 traps throughout the United States ... concentrating them in the Southeast, the Gulf Coast states and other areas with favorable climates, heavy international traffic, produce terminals and a variety of medfly hosts," said Harvey Ford, deputy administrator of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service.

While Ford said it is unlikely the fruit flies will be found in those areas, he said the California outbreak probably began with the entry of a single piece of infested fruit into the state. Early detection of any similar situation elsewhere can prevent rapid spread of the pest, he said.

Quarantine signs were taken down in Los Angeles, Stanislaus and San Benito counties Tuesday by officials of the California Department of Transportation, according to Roger Blake, spokesman for the medfly eradication project.

Four other counties remain quarantined but if no new medflies are found they may all be declared free of the crop-destroying pest by early September, Blake said.

Dope Dog Searches Okayed In Appeal

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal appeals court said marijuana-sniffing dogs cannot be used to search students, but can still be used to find illegal drugs in cars and lockers at a public school.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals on Tuesday ordered a Houston judge to grant an injunction against sniff-searching of students.

The ruling came in an appeal filed for three students at Goose Creek Independent School District at Baytown, Texas, near Houston.

"The Constitution does not permit good intentions to justify objectively outrageous intrusions on student privacy," the 5th Circuit said, reversing U.S. District Judge Robert O'Connor Jr.

The earlier decision had held that a program to sniff-search students' outer garments subjects them to minimal intrusion, humiliation and fear and thus does not violate the due process clause.

Grocery Bills Zoom Fastest Pace In Almost A Year

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Grocery bills went up last month at the fastest pace in almost a year, according to an Associated Press market-basket survey which shows higher prices at the meat counter were to blame for much of the increase.

The AP survey showed that the price of a randomly selected list of 14 food and non-food items, checked at one supermarket in each of 13 cities, rose by an average of 1.3 percent during May. That compared with a decrease of eight-tenths of 1 percent during April.

The AP began its survey on March 1, 1983. Prices have been rechecked on or about the start of each succeeding month since then. The findings are not weighted to reflect seasonal adjustment or to show what percentage of a family's actual food budget each item represents.

The latest survey showed that the marketbasket bill increased during May at the checklist store in 10 cities and decreased in three cities. The overall increase of 1.3 percent was the largest since June 1981 when prices also rose 1.3 percent.

Comparing today's prices with those at the start of the year, the AP found that the marketbasket bill was up at the checklist store in 10 cities and down in three, for an overall average increase of 3.1 percent during the five-month period. The average marketbasket bill dropped 6.4 percent in the same period last year.

One of the few bright spots for consumers last month was the continuing decline in the price of eggs. The AP survey showed the price of a dozen, medium white eggs dropped at the checklist store in 10 cities, rose in one and was unchanged in two.

Prices for meat — particularly pork — were up sharply last month, however. The price of a pound of center cut pork chops went up at the checklist store in 10 cities, declined in one and was unchanged in two. The price of chopped chuck went up at the checklist store in five cities and the price of all-beef frankfurters rose in four cities. Meats accounted for about one-fifth of all the items surveyed by the AP, but they accounted for two-fifths of the May increases.

The higher prices for meat at the supermarket reflect higher prices for hogs and cattle. Ranchers and hog farmers, who had been long money because of low meat prices, have cut back production, meaning smaller supplies and higher prices.

The day of the week on which the check was made varied depending on the month. Standard brands and sizes or comparable substitutes were used. The AP did not compare actual prices from city to city. The only comparisons were made in percentages of increase or decrease.

The items on the AP checklist were: chopped chuck, center cut pork chops, frozen orange juice concentrate, coffee, paper towels, butter, Grade-A medium white eggs, creamy peanut butter, laundry detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, milk, frankfurters and granulated sugar. The cities checked were: Albuquerque, N.M., Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, R.I., Salt Lake City and Seattle.

Permits Paltry

A $20,000 addition to the HHS fieldhouse was the only thing that saved the month of May from being a near-bust as far as local building permits go as only eight permits for a total of $39,100 were issued by the city.

Despite the low figures for the month, it was still better than May of 1981, when only four permits for $18,650 were issued.

But, the 1982 total for the first five months is far below the same period a year ago. The January-May total this year for 49 permits is only $213,400 as compared to $1,141,050 issued for 58 permits during the first five months of 1981.

attack on Mount Kent, but British casualties were said to be only a few wounded. The British have reported 138 deaths among their forces so far.

Brig. Jose Miret, the leader of the Argentine delegation sent to New York, said the ruling junta was empowered to respond "almost immediately" to any proposals by U.N. Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar. But he told reporters in Buenos Aires: "We have ceded and are ceding everything that is prudent to achieve an honorable peace."

Britain's U.N. ambassador

Sir Anthony Parsons, said after a meeting with Perez de Cuellar: "What we were seeking and have sought all along is Argentine withdrawal."

In the U.N. peace talks that collapsed earlier, the British agreed tentatively to a mutual withdrawal of forces followed by negotiations on the Argentine claim to sovereignty over the islands. But after the British landing last week, Prime Minister with so, consequently, she began giving reviews of the book, backing it up with personal experience and things she had actually seen, and ended up reviewing the book at least eight times throughout the Panhandle for various clubs.

Always active in promoting gardening and flowers (even when no one thought she would be able to grow flowers here), Mrs. Johnson was instrumental in organizing the Hereford Garden Club in 1937 and was the club's first secretary. She has served as president two terms.

Mrs. Johnson won four blue and several red ribbons at the Garden Club Flower Show held here recently and says that her newest hobby is growing daylilies. "My daughter is coming and we are leaving to go to the National Daylilies Convention in San Diego June 18," she comments.

Mrs. Johnson took night courses in horticulture and landscaping when she was in Florida with her husband because of his health. She has an extensive library on horticulture and flower arranging and loves to learn about the subject. She frequently supplies flowers for church services and weddings at a small Baptist church one block from her home, which she has enjoyed supporting and sometimes attends. She is a member of First United Methodist Church in Hereford.

Mrs. Johnson has also been a sponsor of Junior Gardeners, the last group being in 1970. Most of the young people were from Summerfield and they later named themselves the Johnson Growers, often meeting in

Mrs. Johnson's home. "Many of them received state honors at shows," she notes.

Other hobbies include oil painting, traveling (she went to Europe by herself last summer), and writing the history of Summerfield, which she is in the process of doing right now. She is also known as a good cook.

Mrs. Johnson was selected Outstanding Club Woman at the 50th and 75th anniversaries of the General Federation of Women's Clubs held in 1941 and 1966, respectively. The Deaf Smith County Federation selected her the first time and Pioneer Study Club the second time. In 1966 she was also made a life member of the district board, of which she had been a member since 1930.

In addition to her club work, Mrs. Johnson has taken an interest in politics, having served 30 years as Democrat precinct chairman and also serving as county Democratic chairman.

Slutz Leads Vega Class

Heading the class of 1982 graduates at Vega High School were Valedictorian, Alfred Slutz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Slutz, and Mrs. Sharon Slutz, and Salutatorian, Sharon Borman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Borman and granddaughter of Mrs. Joe Borman and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Loerwald of Hereford.

Slutz had a grade point of 96.56, while Miss Borman held a 96.30 grade point. Named as honor student was Sherri Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Batenhorst. She had a 96.12 grade point. Thirty eight graduates received diplomas at the recent ceremony.

Slutz is president of National Honor Society, treasurer of Key Club and CYO, and received a chemistry award, "I Dare You" award and award for Outstanding Marcher in band.

He participated in UIL literary spelling events for five years and was a member of the golf team and Vega Longhorn Band. He participated in UIL State Ensemble Contest in Austin May 31, playing in a brass sextet. He will tour Europe as a member of the American Youth Symphony Band and Chorus Group, giving concerts in six different countries in July, and will enroll as a pre-pharmacy student at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford, Okla. in the fall.

Slutz has received a James R. "Pedro" Scott Memorial Scholarship, a Don and Sybil Harrington Honor Scholarship, a scholarship to attend a state-related college, and scholarships from SWSU Pharmacy School and East Texas State.

Miss Borman was a cheerleader for two years, and a member of the Vega Longhorn Band, flag corps, and the golf team. She received the shorthand award and DAR award and was voted Best All-Around and Senior Class Favorite.

She was a member of the National Honor Society and has held offices in her class, PHA, student council, band, and CYO. She participated in UIL spelling, typing, and shorthand competition. She also participated in UIL State Solo and Ensemble Contest in Austin, playing the clarinet in solo and trio divisions.

Miss Borman will attend Texas Tech University this fall majoring in business education. She has received scholarships from the Texas Council of Church Related Colleges, a Don and Sybil Harrington Honor Scholarship, and a James R. "Pedro" Scott Memorial Scholarship.

One Arrested In Shoplifting

Nancy Guzman, 23, was arrested Tuesday on shoplifting charges. According to Hereford police, she had taken about $75 in items, mostly clothing, from TG&Y.

A vandalism report in the 500 block of Sycamore was cleared up when officers found that neighborhood kids, including the complaining party's son, had been throwing eggs at houses.

A bike reported stolen from Green Acres Pool was later found by the owner returned to the pool.

Disorderly conduct was reported by a resident in the 900 block of South McKinley. A man had come to the residence and stood on the porch yelling profanities.

Officers investigated two minor accidents and issued seven citations.

Christie Ottesen Honored Saturday

A bridal shower honoring Miss Christie Sue Ottesen, of Houston, bride-elect of Charles Patrick Carrigan, was given Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Ralph Futrell.

Miss Ottesen's chosen colors of ivory and blue were used in corsages presented to the honoree; her mother, Mrs. Richard Ottesen; Mrs. James Abbot, maternal grandmother from Greely, Colo.; and Mrs. Gilbert Ottesen, paternal grandmother, also of Greely.

The serving table was laid with an ecru tablecloth edged with a wide band of fagoting. A centerpiece of silk magnolia blossoms adorned the serving table and refreshments of coffee and punch, fruit, and finger food were served from brass serving pieces.

Friends of the bride who served include Mrs. Kim Poarch of Amarillo, Miss Kim Sarchet of Hooker, Okla., Mrs. Allen Donnell of Stillwater, Okla., and Miss Karen Scott of Dallas. Other out of town relatives attending were Mrs. Eugene Nelson of Greely and Mrs. Emmalou Sarchett of Hooker, Okla, maternal aunts of the bride-elect.

Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Mmes. Jim Arney, Clyde Rush, Gid Brown, A.T. Mims, Ken McLain, Jelly McGowan, Jimmie Gillentine, Frank Barrett, Austin Rose, David Hutchins, Rex Easterwood, Bill Lyman, Pete Caviness, Steve Clements, Earnest Langley, Harlan Vanderzee, Charlie Bell, Carroll Newsom, Joe Reinauer, Sr., Elmer Kimball, Jeff Smart, Joe Robinson of Clarendon, and Ralph Futrell.

Honored With Shower

Disease Affects New Born

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am writing to you with the hope you will be able to help. My first child was born last month with a serious condition the doctors said was "epidermolysis bullosa." This is an uncommon genetic skin disease and not much is known about it. My precious daughter had huge blisters all over her body, and many parts of skin were missing. She had difficulty nursing because of sores in her mouth. My husband and I were not allowed to touch her because of the fragility of her skin. The doctors said she would probably die because the blisters could become infected and cause massive damage internally, as well as externally. She was put in isolation. They lined her crib with sheepskin and handled her very gently. They fed her through a syringe. The nurses were wonderful. They gently applied antibiotic ointments on her open sores to prevent infection and soft bandages on certain parts of her body to protect them. Although it was tragic to see such a tiny infant handled this way, my baby did not die and is now starting to smile and respond to us. She is home now and we are learning through trial and error how to care for her, but we feel so isolated. We keep wondering if we are alone in dealing with this problem. Is there any place we could turn to for help and more information about this disorder? I hope you will respond to this inquiry. It would mean a great deal to us.—Sincerely, D.S. In Staten Island three married sons who live near us so we get to see them and their families often. The grandchildren range from three months to nearly seven years of age. We really love those kids to pieces—until about 8 p.m. Now we can no longer have a quiet game of cards, listen to good music or turn on an adult-level TV program. The children want to see THEIR favorite programs and it helps to "keep them quiet," so we, of course, can't see ours. They are permitted to stay up until 10 or 11 o'clock and sometimes fall asleep on the floor. It is especially irritating when my husband and I want to discuss family matters that we'd rather not talk about in front of the children. Little pitchers have big ears. Am I as old-fashioned as our daughters-in-law seem to think? Please express your views on this subject.—Granny In Greenwich

DEAR D.S.: About 10,000 Americans have this miserable inherited skin disease. There is no known cure at the moment, but it is being studied in many research laboratories and one day they will crack the code. I urge you to write to DEBRA (Dystrophic Epidermolysis Bullosa Research Association of America), 2936 Ave. W., Brooklyn, N.Y. 11229. This organization wants to hear from you. They will provide literature and emotional support. People who share a common problem can do one another a world of good. Good luck and God bless.

Former Resident To Be Installed During Public Employees Week

Governor William P. Clements has designated next week as Public Employees Week in Texas. This annual affair recognizes the role of the state, county and city employees in performing the vital functions of governments.

The Texas Public Employees Association, composed of over 24, 248 public employees, has selected the theme of "T.P.E.A. and Texas, A Proud Tradition" for the 1982 Public Employees Week.

Highlights of the week will be the 37th Annual Meeting of the Texas Public Employees Association Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Hilton Hotel in Waco.

Topics of the meeting will be addressed by Representative Betty Denton, Lt. Governor William P. Hobby, Speaker of the Texas House Bill Clayton, Honorable Bob Bullock, Comptroller of Public Accounts and Representative Bill Hollowell.

Emmett W. Solomon, a former Hereford resident, will be installed as new president of the association Tuesday. He was elected to the Board of Directors in 1979 from Region VI and previously served as president-elect, second vice-president, third vice-president; Region VI president, Chapter No. 24 president as well as other offices at the Chapter level.

He is a protestant chaplain at the Eastham Unit of the Texas Department of Corrections. He was employed as a chaplain in the Department of Corrections in 1964 after pastoring churches in New York.

Solomon is a graduate of Hereford High School, a graduate of Bob Jones University in Greenville, S.C., a graduate of New York Theological Seminary, New York City and a graduate of the Institute of Contemporary Corrections at Sam Houston State at Huntsville.

He also did graduate study at Asbury Theological Seminary at Wilmore, Ky. and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth. He completed three quarters of Clinical Pastoral Education at the Huntsville Unit of T.D.C. and one quarter of C.P.E. at the Baptist Memorial Hospital in San Antonio.

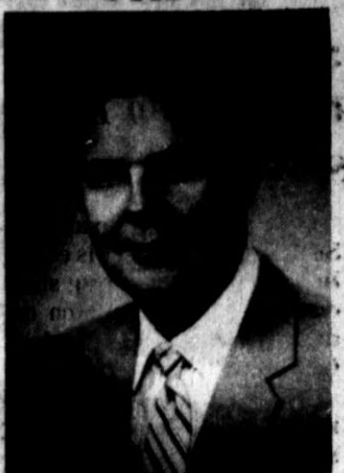

Solomon is a past vice-president of the American Protestant Correctional Chaplain's Association, past president of the Institute of Contemporary Corrections Alumni Association.

Professional membership include the American Correctional Association, the Texas Correction Association and the Association for the Clinical Pastoral Education.

Born in Memphis, Tenn., he attended public schools in that city and in 1954 graduated from HHS. He is the son of Velma Solomon of Hereford.

He is an ordained Southern Baptist minister. He resided at the Eastham Unit for 15 years with his wife Jan, a kindergarten teacher in Lovelady, and two sons, Matthew, a senior, and Mark, a sophomore at Sam Houston State.

Cultural EH Club Holds Last Meeting Of Season

Mrs. Johnnie Townsend was hostess for the last meeting of the season of the Cultural Extension Club Friday evening. The meeting was held in the lounge of the Community Center.

Mrs. John Hunter read "The 1922 Farmer's Resolution" for opening exercise. Roll call was answered with "The Reason I joined an extension club" and some members noted that they had been members since 1928.

Bertha Dettmann will be attending the state meeting in El Paso in September as a delegate. Recipes were turned in for the upcoming Tasting Bee Cookbook. Plans were made for the first fall meeting.

Others attending were Mmes. Art Lewis, M.W. Sumner, M.H. Wiseman, J.T. Stehr, Tom Hargrave, Jewel Rogers, Vernis Parsons, and Carrie Mae Doak.

Food Giveaway Expands To Butter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Millions of pounds of butter will be distributed to the nation's needy as the government expands its cheese giveaway to other dairy products and possibly beyond.
 "Up to 50 million pounds of butter will be available to the states through the remainder of the year," Agriculture Secretary John Block said Tuesday.
 Block's announcement marked the second time in less than a week that the administration, faced with burgeoning stockpiles of milk products, has widened its free distribution of dairy products to needy American families.
 USDA officials have also said within recent weeks that the government's free food distribution program could be expanded beyond perishable dairy products to include such surplus commodities as honey, turkey, rolled oats and peanut butter.
 Last week, Deputy Agriculture Secretary Richard Lyng said the cheese giveaway program would be increased by another 120 million pounds to a total of 220 million pounds.

 "The expanded cheese distribution provides food valued at over $320 million to needy persons," Block said. "The butter distribution will be patterned after the successful cheese program and will make available nearly $75 million of donated food to needy persons."
 The government, under its multibillion-dollar dairy price support program, currently owns some 380 million pounds of butter and nearly 700 million pounds of cheese, stored in warehouses around the nation.
 Earlier this month, the government stocks of surplus cheese, butter and nonfat dried milk were valued at some $2.5 billion. Storage costs for government-owned commodities have been placed in excess of $100,000 a day.
 Both the butter and cheese are being distributed through local nonprofit organizations with the department's Food and Nutrition Service assisting as much as possible.

Today In History

Dairy Produce Continuing Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although the nation's dairy industry is well aware of its costly production excesses, statistics highlighting the problem continue pouring out of the Agriculture Department.

"Total cheese production continued its upward trend in 1981, reaching a record high 4.23 billion pounds, 6 percent above 1980," department analysts reported Tuesday in their annual dairy products summary.

Butter production at 1.23 billion pounds was up 7 percent over 1980 and nonfat dried milk for human food production rose 13 percent to 1.31 billion pounds, they said.

It's those three commodities that the government buys up to support market prices for American dairy farmers, and that price support program, now expected to cost taxpayers a record $2.2 billion this year, has become a target of budget cutters in the Reagan administration.

"Based on current conditions," USDA analysts say, "U.S. milk production in 1982 is currently being projected to increase around 2 percent compared to 1981."

The continued increase in U.S. milk production despite a freeze since October 1980 in the government price support is also seen as a major reason world dairy production this year will rise by 6 billion pounds over 1981, the analysts say.

There is general agreement that the federal price support program for milk, the most expensive of all government commodity plans, must be revised. But the debate over how to build in an incentive for farmers to control production is just beginning in Congress.

Agriculture Secretary John Block wants approval of a plan that will allow him to impose the first cut in federal price supports in 32 years. Congressional critics of that plan are trying to convince their colleagues that systems of production controls and farmer penalties will work better.

In late May, Deputy Agriculture Secretary Richard Lyng said the government owned more than 400 million pounds of butter, nearly 700 million pounds of cheese and well over 1 billion pounds of nonfat dried milk. Based on government figures, that surplus is worth some $2.5 billion and is costing $100,000 a day to store.

Because of the growing surplus, the Reagan administration has continued to expand the dairy products giveaway it initiated for needy families in December. To date, 220 million pounds of cheese and over 50 million pounds of butter have been released for free distribution nationwide.

Continued cheap grain prices that keep dairy feed costs down and low slaughter cattle prices that discourage farmers from selling off their least productive cows all suggest that butter, cheese and nonfat dried milk production this year will exceed the 1981 levels, which were already much higher than consumer demand.

"Thus surplus production will continue to accumulate in government-owned inventories held by the Commodity Credit Corp.," the analysts said.

Nonfat dried milk production is expected to exceed demand by so much that by year's end, U.S. stocks will account for half of all nonfat dried milk in the world and twice the amount America uses in a year, they said.

Treating Damage To Early Crops

LUBBOCK — Hail has severely damaged early vegetables in many locations on the Texas High Plains, with onions and potatoes hardest hit, reports a vegetable specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Growers are faced with deciding the best course of action to take in treating these damaged crops.

In some cases, timely irrigation and weed control may be the best approach, said Dr. Roland E. Roberts, the Extension specialist. In other cases, he said, the application of fungicide and nitrogen sidedressing may help to stimulate vigorous new growth. "At best, it's a tough decision," Roberts said.

In the case of onions, if the day after the hail turns out to be sunny and dry with some afternoon wind and a forecast for continued drying for several days, the injured tissue will dry back and heal over, he said. There would be little or no chance for fungus to infect and spread and no advantage to spraying with fungicide in this case.

However, if the weather stays cloudy and evening showers are forecast at the 50 to 60 percent level of chance, the injured tissue could stay wet long enough for fungus spores to germinate and infect the leaves. In this case it would pay to spray, Roberts said.

For best coverage of the leaves with a uniform film of fungicide, use ground equipment with a nozzle for each row, he advised. Concentrate the spray pattern to drench the small neck area of the plants where the leaf blades have been crushed. Bravo 500 and the zinc ion-maneb complex fungicides appear to be most effective, he said.

There is no benefit from applying nutrients to injured onion leaves, the vegetable specialist said. "Sidedress nitrogen on Granos only if a soil test shows that your nitrogen is running low."

The key factor in hastening recovery and promoting large bulbs is optimum soil moisture, Roberts said. "Don't let the root zone dry out. This means irrigating often enough to keep good moisture in the soil three to 12 inches below the surface."

The long-day onion varieties—Sweet Spinach, Ringmaster, Chieftain and other long-day hybrids—will profit from a nitrogen sidedressing if the soil tests between low and medium in nitrate, he said. Fields getting high rainfall should be tested now to give a clear picture of the soil nitrate concentration, he advised.

Potatoes injured in the younger stages of growth, up to the time of stolon formation, can recover and make a good yield of well formed spuds, Roberts said. The red varieties, Red LaSoda and Viking have the ability to make stronger regrowth than the Norgold Russet.

Plants injured in the tuber formation stage will make new leaves, but the tubers already set will stop enlarging for a time after the hail shock. After a few days these tubers will start to grow again.

This second growth will give the tuber a knobby appearance or may cause a large growth crack to form. Either condition makes the tuber unmarketable.

Stolons which have not formed tubers will likely produce a well shaped spud, though it may be smaller when mature.

Growers with hail-injured potatoes are in a "no win" situation, Roberts said. Even slight damage to the leaf canopy will hurt yield potential. Most fields are too far from harvest to have made good size, and most of the early planted fields have started to set tubers, thus making it hard for them to recover fully.

"A grower has such a high investment in a potato crop that he must try to spray the injured tissue with fungicide as soon as possible and wait more than a week to evaluate the vigor of the regrowth."

Meat Consumption Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans may not spend any more on meat and poultry than they did last year, although prices will be up for some items, says the Agriculture Department.

That is because production and consumption of meat and poultry, overall, will be down in 1982. Much of the decline will be due to cutbacks by hog producers.

According to the department's Economic Research Service, per capita consumption of red meat and poultry is expected to drop 5 to 7 percent from 1981, including declines of 1 to 2 percent for beef and poultry, and 14 to 16 percent for pork.

The figures, published in the agency's latest livestock and meat situation report, showed that on a per capita basis Americans spent $329.75 on meat and poultry last year, up from $326.17 in 1980.

"Total expenditures on red meat and poultry are expected to remain stable in 1982," the report said. "Declining per capita consumption of red meat and poultry, coupled with only slightly higher retail prices, should further reduce the proportion of income spent on red meat and poultry."

Last year, it said, Americans spent an average of 3.72 percent of their disposal income to pay meat and poultry bills, compared to 3.97 percent in 1980.

But the report said the forecast for 1982 could be altered by economic developments, particularly in the second half.

"The net result of a combination of modest economic growth, a July tax reduction and a moderating inflation rate will be a slight increase in consumer purchasing power for this year," it said.

Per capita consumption of meat and poultry averaged 207.9 pounds last year, down slightly from 208.4 pounds — computed on the basis of retail weight — in 1981.

Beef consumption was up for the first time in some years, averaging 77.3 pounds per person against 76.5 pounds in 1980.

Pork, on the other hand, averaged slightly less than 65 pounds, down from 68.3 pounds in 1980.

Lamb and mutton consumption showed a slight gain to an average of 1.5 pounds per capita from 1.3 pounds in each of the three previous years.

Veal consumption, reflecting the decline in calf slaughter the past several years, was unchanged at 1.7 pounds. In 1977, by comparison, per capita veal consumption was 3.4 pounds.

Total red meat consumption in 1981, according to the report, averaged about 145.5 pounds per person, down about two pounds from 1981.

In the poultry sector, per capita consumption last year overall averaged about 62.4 pounds of retail weight, up from 60.6 in 1980.

Of that, broilers accounted for approximately 48.6 pounds, turkeys 10.8 pounds, and other chickens the remaining 3.1 pounds.

In 1980, the breakdown included: broilers, 47 pounds; turkeys, 10.5 pounds; and other chickens, 3.05 pounds.

AD Proposing New Additive Procedures

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is proposing an expedited procedure for approving new or expanded use in meat and poultry of additives already approved by the Food and Drug Administration.

The proposal, which will be the subject of public comment until Aug. 12, effectively leaves to the discretion of the department's Food Safety and Inspection Service administration the decision on whether to subject FDA-approved additives to a more rigorous USDA approval procedures.

In the past, FSIS Administrator Donald Houston said, all additives were subjected to the lengthy Agriculture Department process that in some cases withheld them from use "for months or even years after questions about their safety have been answered."

Houston said the extended USDA additive review is appropriate in some cases when legitimate questions about an ingredient's safety have been raised.

Deaf Smith Farms Comply To Program

About 66 percent of the wheat farms in Deaf Smith County are in compliance with the 1982 acreage reduction program, according to John Fuston of the county ASCS office.

Fuston said 701 of the 1,050 wheat farms in the county are participating.

Statewide, farmers are removing 464,593 acres of cropland, according to Charles W. Mayfield, state executive director.

In the county Fuston said about 200,000 acres will be harvested, half dryland crop.

"We hope the dryland wheat will average better than 10 bushels an acre," Fuston estimated. "We think that's what is going to be though. About 35,000 acres of dryland wheat won't be harvested due to drought."

As of May 17 18,941 of the 62,416 wheat farms were participating.

Farmers in compliance are eligible for deficiency payments, crop loans and grain reserve when they take out of production at least 15 percent of their acreage.

Ag Scientist Doesn't Agree With Theory

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Agriculture Department scientist says he disagrees with those who predict that the rise in atmospheric carbon dioxide concentrations from burning fossil fuels will raise surface air temperatures by several degrees.

Some climatologists say that an increase of 2 to 4 degrees Celsius will change the world's weather, melt polar ice caps, flood coastal cities and generally raise havoc with agriculture.

Sherwood B. Idso, a physicist and meteorologist in the department's Agricultural Research Service says temperatures will not increase nearly that much and that burning fossil fuels will cause no climatic problem.

Idso's views were reported in the latest issue of Agricultural Research, which is published by the agency. Idso for the past 12 years has conducted research in Phoenix, Ariz., on incoming solar and thermal radiation, using variations in dust and water vapor as substitutes for projected increase in carbon dioxide — CO₂.

"There is essentially no danger of significant climatic warming due to any forthcoming increase in atmospheric CO₂ concentration, even for a tenfold increase," he said.

"Hence, not only is an increase in CO₂ not detrimental, it is desirable, for a doubling or tripling of the atmospheric CO₂ content could increase global agricultural production by 20 to 50 percent."

Spoons' stars Ricky Schroder and Joel Higgins as a son and father with a twist. The father, who's preoccupied with playing Pac-Man, acts more like the boy, while the son, who attends military school, is more worldly.

Jon-Erik Hexum and Meeno Peluce headline in the futuristic adventures of "The Voyagers." Hexum possesses a time device that catapults him and Peluce into historical events.

On the action-adventure side, there's "Powers of Matthew Star" featuring Peter Barton as an alien prince who combats evil. "Knight Rider" starring David Hasselhoff as a sleuth who prowls around in a computerized talking car; "Remington Steele" featuring Stefanie Zimbalist as a female private eye who hires a handsome male to do her dirty work, and "Gavilan" headlined by Robert Ulrich as a James Bond-styled undercover agent.

NBC will also beam "St. Elsewhere," a saga in the "Hill St. Blues" vein; "Cheers," an offbeat sitcom about a bartender in Boston, and "Mama's Family," a spinoff from the old "Carol Burnett Show."

FLICKS — Before they begin work on their respective NBC series, Robert Ulrich and Meredith Baxter-Birney will team in "Take Your Best Shot," a CBS movie about a struggling actor ailing next season.

SWC Adopts Shot Clock for '83

WEST COLUMBIA, Texas (AP) — Southwest Conference basketball teams relying on a run-and-gun offense got a little help from the conference, which has adopted the use of a shot clock next season.

Bill Morgan, SWC public information officer, said Tuesday that under the new rule teams will have just 45 seconds to shoot the ball each time it has possession in the first 35 minutes of play.

However, Morgan said the shot clock, similar to the ones used in professional basketball, will not be used in the final five minutes of a game or during an overtime period.

The SWC experimented with a 30-second clock during the 1975-76 season, he said.

Commissioner Cliff Speegle also announced that for the first time the conference beginning this fall will officially sanction seven women's sports.

The league will sanction women's play in basketball, volleyball, outdoor and indoor track, cross country, swimming and tennis, Morgan said, in each sport in which at least six of the conference's nine schools field teams.

The conference also agreed to play its postseason basketball tournament in Houston's

Summit in 1984, 1987 and 1988. The 1983, 1985 and 1986 tournaments will be in Dallas' Reunion Arena, Morgan said.

The conference restored a year of eligibility to Akeem Abdul Olajuwon, a 7-foot-tall basketball center for the University of Houston. Olajuwon originally lost the year for participating in a single UH practice session two years ago, before he was a team member.

The conference also announced hardship cases, granting an extra year of eligibility to nine athletes who played less than 20 percent of a season because of injury.

The group included four football players — Michael Carter of Southern Methodist University; John Elkins of Texas A&M; Kent Rowald of Rice; and Scott Davis of Texas Tech.

Basketball players included Bubba Jennings of Texas Tech and Tom Miller of Rice.

Texas Christian track team member David Walker and tennis player Lance Armstrong were granted hardship status, as was Texas A&M high jumper Jimmy Howard in both indoor and outdoor track.

Football players Clint Groves of the University of Texas and Texas A&M's Michael Timothy Ward were granted medical relief status, under which their eligibility was reinstated although they interrupted their careers.

Bill Wendlandt, a basketball player, lost eligibility for the first two games of next season because he played in out-of-town tournaments for a club although he had been red-shirted by Texas, Morgan said.

Football players Klint Groves of the University of Texas and Texas A&M's Michael Timothy Ward were granted medical relief status, under which their eligibility was reinstated although they interrupted their careers.

Bill Wendlandt, a basketball player, lost eligibility for the first two games of next season because he played in out-of-town tournaments for a club although he had been red-shirted by Texas, Morgan said.

The Tech representatives will be placed in foursomes with local golfers for a Florida scramble tourney beginning at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow, then Moore and other Tech officials will speak at a dinner Thursday evening.

Dave Hopper, chairman of the Hereford Red Raider Club, said all Tech exes and interested Raider supporters are invited to attend the social hour and dinner beginning at 6 p.m. Thursday at Hereford Country Club. Cost is $10 a person.

The golfing deadline was today, but interested players can check with the pro shop this evening to see if there are any openings in the tourney. Cost for the golf and dinner is $25 a person. Jiffy Payne is heading up the golf tourney.

Hopper explained that non-golfers are welcome to the social hour and dinner. Women are also invited to the dinner party.

On 6, you won't be able to see your second shot."

Growing Interest in Soccer Helps Local YMCA Program

Hereford & Vicinity YMCA director Weldon Knabe is hoping the growing interest in soccer in this country, and area in particular, will help the Y's soccer program to continue growing.

"As soccer grows as a paricipant sport across the country, the Hereford YMCA's soccer program is continuing to grow also," Knabe said. "Kids have learned that the game is loads of fun since everyone participates in all aspects of the game."

Knabe said that coaches and physical education specialists have also come to realize that size is not so important in soccer as it is in other sports, and that agility and coordination are much more developed by playing it.

The YMCA's youth soccer program is set to begin July 12, with registration open now through July 3, and practices slated to begin July 5. The league formation will depend on enrollment, Knabe said. "We hope to have 1st-2nd, 3rd-4th, and 5th-6th grade divisions, and separate leagues will be formed for boys and girls if enough interest is showed."

Team rosters are selected by drawings made at the YMCA office, and rules are set up so that every child gets to play at least half of each game. "Fair play and values are the backbone of the program," Knabe said. "YMCA emphasizes a game played by children who respect themselves, the other team, the officials, and most of all, want to have fun."

Knabe also said that the YMCA depends upon volunteer coaches to run the program.

The fees for players are $7 for YMCA members, and $14 for non-members. Included in the fee are a team shirt, use of equipment, and awards.

Baseball's Top Brass Eye Face-Lift in Game

By WILL GRIMSLEY AP Special Correspondent

Baseball's top brass — the shapers and shakers of the game — gather in Chicago the middle of this month to give the old American pastime a face-lift and put its house in order.

Good luck.

While the game seems to have reverted to some sort of stability with the four-year labor settlement following last summer's strike, it still is beset with problems.

Among them:

1. Restructuring (tightening the ship). A special directors' committee, headed by Peter O'Malley of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Roy Eisenhardt of the Oakland A's, has been busy on the drawing board and will have a report.
2. Election or re-election of a commissioner. Bowie Kuhn's contract comes up for renewal in August, 1983, after a 14½-year tenure. There's been some in-fighting among owners on the issue.
3. Television. How to tap the airwaves' broadened potential with proliferation of cable TV.

4. Marvin Miller's union. Although the 1981 Players Agreement should have taken away the heat for a while, what are the owners going to do when the players, taking a hint from their football counterparts, start looking hungrily at the pools of TV cash? (The NFL signed a $2.2 billion TV contract and the players are asking 55 per cent of the clubs' gross).

O'Malley and Eisenhardt have been very close-mouthed about the report they will present at Chicago's O'Hare Hyatt Regency June 14-15 but here are a suggestions — unsolicited, free and without charge — from left field on this and the other burning issues:

1. In restructuring, put all of baseball under a single umbrella, as the National Football League has done so successfully with the merger of the NFL and AFL.
2. Rehire Bowie Kuhn. He's the most principled, qualified and dedicated administrator available.
3. Be prepared to cut in the players for more of the loot when Marvin Miller comes knocking at the door. It's not necessary to consider giving them the key to the safe, as football players union's Ed Garvey is demanding, but they have legitimate claims.

4. End the adversary relationship built up between management and the players, restore a rapport. There's breathing room — and enough dough — for all.

Red Raider Day Set Here

Raider football coach Jerry Moore and a group of coaches and Texas Tech representatives will be in Hereford Thursday for a "Red Raider Day" party.

The Tech representatives will be placed in foursomes with local golfers for a Florida scramble tourney beginning at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow, then Moore and other Tech officials will speak at a dinner Thursday evening.

Dave Hopper, chairman of the Hereford Red Raider Club, said all Tech exes and interested Raider supporters are invited to attend the social hour and dinner beginning at 6 p.m. Thursday at Hereford Country Club. Cost is $10 a person.

The golfing deadline was today, but interested players can check with the pro shop this evening to see if there are any openings in the tourney. Cost for the golf and dinner is $25 a person. Jiffy Payne is heading up the golf tourney.

Hopper explained that non-golfers are welcome to the social hour and dinner. Women are also invited to the dinner party.

Stadler Likes Kemper Course

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defending champion Craig Stadler thinks the Congressional Country Club in suburban Maryland, site of the Kemper Open which begins Thursday, suits his game despite this year's changes lengthening the course.

"The key is driving the ball well," said Stadler, winner of this year's Masters and Tucson Open and the leading money winner of 1982 with $240,058. "Almost everything sets up toward a fade. And that's my normal game."

Congressional has been lengthened 119 yards, from 7,054 to 7,173, and will play to a par 72, instead of 70, for the field of 156 who will be seeking $400,000 in prize money, with $72,000 going to the winner.

Two holes have been extended for the tournament, and par raised to 5 as originally designed by architect Robert Trent Jones in 1961. It is the first time there has been a change on the Bethesda, Md., course for a touring pro event. In the 1964 U.S. Open and the 1976 PGA, as well as two previous Kempers, Nos. 6 and 10 played as par 4s.

No. 6 has been lengthened 86 yards from its previous 456 yards to its present 542. And 33 yards have been had added to the back tee on No. 10, increasing it from 460 to 493.

"The only thing is it will make it a couple of shots easier," said Stadler, referring to the changes on the two holes. "Ten will be a little better hole because the new yardage will the lake more into play. On 6, you won't be able to see your second shot."

Lakers Roll Over 76ers, Take 2-1 Series Lead

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It got very quiet at the Forum late in the first quarter when perennial all-pro center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar drew his third personal foul and went to the sidelines.

But the Los Angeles Lakers proved long ago that they can function quite well without their captain.

Because of his foul problems, Abdul-Jabbar missed the final 14:15 of the first half Tuesday night in Game Three of the 1982 National Basketball Association Championship Series. But the Lakers rolled to a 129-108 triumph over the Philadelphia 76ers.

Los Angeles, which never trailed in taking a 2-1 lead over the 76ers in the best-of-seven series, led 24-17 with 2:15 to go in the first quarter when Abdul-Jabbar was sidelined with his third foul.

If anything, that served as an inspiration as the Lakers scored 16 of the game's next 19 points to take a 40-20 advantage. The 76ers weren't closer than nine points after that.

Los Angeles showed what it could do without Abdul-Jabbar two years ago against the 76ers in the sixth game of the Championship Series. Abdul-Jabbar sprained an ankle in Game 5 and couldn't play at Philadelphia a few days later, but that didn't matter as the Lakers rolled to a 123-107 victory to win the NBA title.

Last December, the six-time NBA most valuable player missed six games because of an injury, and the Lakers were victorious in all six.

Bob McAdoo, who played center most of the time Abdul-Jabbar was watching Tuesday night, was a key factor in keeping the Lakers on top as he scored all 14 of his points in the first half.

"I think it's indicative that when a team loses at this level it always responds with a much-better effort," said Los Angeles Coach Pat Riley, whose club dropped a 110-94 decision at Philadelphia on Sunday. "The only adjustment we made was in attitude.

"I really thought the effort and the intensity level was up defensively in the first half, and that's really the nature of the game. At this level right now, you can talk about adjustments and going back to the chalkboard, but it comes down to who plays the hardest.

"I expect Philadelphia to come back in a different frame of mind Thursday night."

Riley referred to the fourth game of the series, which also will be played on the Lakers' homecourt, starting at 6 p.m., PDT.

While the Lakers got fine efforts from just about everyone who played, the 76ers were generally unimpressive outside of guard Andrew Toney.

"I just thought they were a step quicker than us in every phase of the game," said Philadelphia Coach Billy Cunningham. "The reason we lost is they played so well. We just did not play well as a team. We looked to establish something and we just did not do it tonight."

Toney scored a game-high 36 points, connecting on 13 of 21 field-goal attempts and nine of 10 free-throw tries. The other 76ers combined to make just 26 of 67 floor shots and 20 of 30 from the foul line.

Overall, the 76ers made only 44.3 percent of their floor shots to 54.9 percent for the Lakers. Including team rebounds, Los Angeles outrebounded Philadelphia 66-54.

Three other 76ers scored in double figures; Julius Erving had 21 points but pulled down only three rebounds; Maurice Cheeks had 17 points and nine assists, and Darryl Dawkins had 14 points and a game-high 13 rebounds.

Norm Nixon led the Lakers with 29 points, all but eight coming in the second half. Earvin "Magic" Johnson added 22 points, making eight of his nine field-goal attempts. He also led his team with nine rebounds and eight assists. Jamaal Wilkes and Abdul-Jabbar added 17 and 16 points, respectively, for Los Angeles.

"This is the first game we were able to take command early," said Nixon, who had only six points on three-of-14 shooting in Game 2. "We made a conscious effort to get to the front early.

"I think if I don't have a good night scoring, I hurt my team. So I went out from the gun and tried to score. I found my rhythm in the second half. I lost it in the second game."

The Lakers scored the game's first six points, but the 76ers came back to tie the count at 8-8. Los Angeles scored the next six points to go ahead for good.

Philadelphia battled back from the 40-20 deficit to get as close as nine points four times late in the second quarter, but the Lakers made it 60-48 at the intermission on Michael Cooper's three-point field goal as the first half ended.

Clark's Pinch Hit Wins Game

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

San Francisco outfielder Jack Clark is a tough man to keep down, even when he's hurting.

Last week's National League Player of the Week, Clark was held out of the starting lineup Tuesday night against the St. Louis Cardinals because of a sore foot.

But it didn't stop him from pinch-hitting in the 11th inning — and winning the game with a run-scoring single as the Giants topped the Cardinals 4-3.

"I didn't want to make any mistakes," Clark said. "I talked to the doctor at 7 o'clock. He said I couldn't hurt it any worse. I just wanted to swing and get it over."

Which is exactly what he did, hitting reliever Doug Bair's first pitch into center field to bring home Darrell Evans from second base.

His game-winning hit made the foot feel a lot better.

Reggie Smith and Evans opened the 11th with singles and Smith was forced at third on a bunt by Milt May before Clark belted his game-winning hit.

Elsewhere in the National League, Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 4-1 in a game shortened to seven innings by rain. San Diego walloped Chicago 9-1. Atlanta turned back New York 7-3 and Pittsburgh beat Los Angeles 3-1. The Houston-Montreal game was rained out.

Reds 4, Phillies 1

Greg Harris pitched a five-hitter and singled in a run as Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia. The Reds took a 1-0 lead in the third on Dave Concepcion's RBI single, then made it 3-0 in the fourth on run-scoring singles by Larry Bittner and Harris.

In the fifth, Concepcion singled with one out, took third on Dan Driessen's single and scored on Mike Vail's infield hit.

Harris, 2-0, who was recalled from Indianapolis of the American Association May 20, struck out three and walked four in gaining his first complete game.

The Phillies scored their run in the sixth on Bo Diaz' RBI double.

Padres 9, Cubs 1

Ruppert Jones slugged a three-run homer and Broderick Perkins drove in three runs with a triple and a single to power San Diego over Chicago.

The Padres scored four runs in the second inning and four more in the third to wrap up the game early and make it easy for John Montefusco, who worked only five innings. Randy Martz, 4-4, took the loss.

Braves 7, Mets 3

Dale Murphy's three-run homer keyed a four-run first inning, triggering Atlanta over New York. Murphy took over leadership in the NL home run race with 15. He also is the leader at driving in runs with 42.

Randy Jones, 6-4, was the victim of the Braves' assault in the first inning, allowing all four runs without retiring a batter before he was lifted. The game marked Jones' second attempt to notch the 100th victory of his career.

Atlanta's Ken Dayley, 2-2, gave up a two-run homer in the fourth to Ellis Valentine and a solo shot to Rusty Staub in the sixth before needing relief help. Steve Bedrosian and Gene Garber pitched the last 3-2-3 innings, finishing up a combined six-hitter.

Pirates 3, Dodgers 1

John Candelaria and two relievers combined on a five-hitter and Bill Madlock hit a two-run homer to lead Pittsburgh over Los Angeles.

After the start of the game in Pittsburgh was delayed 65 minutes by rain, Madlock rapped his two-run shot in the first inning off loser Jerry Reuss, who fell to 5-5 with his fourth loss in five decisions.

Candelaria, who retired the first 10 batters before yielding a single to Bill Russell, surrendered a solo home run to Ron Cey in the fifth inning, his fifth. Candelaria, 2-3, left the game after seven innings due to a stiff left elbow and Rod Scurry and Kent Tekulve finished up, with Tekulve getting his sixth save after coming on with one out in the ninth.

Twins Tie Club Loss Record

By HERSHEL NISSENSON AP Sports Writer

It took 20 years for Billy Gardner to return to the Minnesota Twins, but not nearly that long for him to experience a sense of deja vu.

Gardner was an infielder with the Washington Senators when they moved to Minnesota in 1961, became the Twins and suffered through a 13-game losing streak.

Gardner was traded to the New York Yankees later that season and didn't put on a Twins uniform again until last year, when he signed on as a coach after a 12-year managing career in the minors. He replaced Johnny Goryl as manager of the Twins on May 22, 1981, and Tuesday night, Gardner's youthful 1982 Twins tied the 1961 club record of 13 consecutive losses when they dropped a 6-4 decision to the Cleveland Indians, who have won nine in a row.

In other American League games, Detroit edged California 2-1, Oakland nipped Boston 3-2, Kansas City shaded Chicago 4-3, Toronto downed New York 5-2 and Milwaukee beat Seattle 2-1. The Texas-Baltimore game was rained out.

Minnesota, which blew a 2-0 lead in the fourth inning when Cleveland's Andre Thornton hit a three-run homer, his 15th of the season, tied the game 4-4 in the top of the eighth on Kent Hrbek's infield hit.

Tigers 2, Angels 1

Dan Petry pitched eight shutout innings and Dave Tobik notched his first save of the season as Detroit moved into first place in the AL East, one-half game ahead of Boston. The Tigers scored their runs in the second inning against Ken Forsch. A single by Richie Hebner and Larry Herndon's double set the stage for a run-scoring grounder by Lance Parrish and an RBI single by Lou Whitaker. A's 3, Red Sox 2

Rickey Henderson, who stole his 50th and 51st bases earlier in the game, hit a two-run homer in the fifth inning for the tying and winning runs. Henderson's steals gave him 51 in 51 games. The homer off Chuck Rainey was his fifth of the season and his second in two days. In the third, Tony Phillips singled and was forced by Henderson, who stole second and scored on a single by Dan Meyer.

Oakland's Rick Langford allowed three hits and two runs in the first inning but only three more hits until he was replaced by Tom Underwood in the ninth.

HEALTH Are there still stones?
Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

I'm female, age 64, and in good health as far as aches and pains are concerned. I stay busy and am on the go quite a bit, so I feel kind of drabby sometimes.

Nearly four years ago I had what my doctor diagnosed as a gallbladder attack. He said a stone had lodged in the common bile duct. The night before I had eaten quite a bit of fried shrimp and was quite sick the next day. I stayed in the hospital eight days and haven't had any problem since. I can eat anything and never have any discomfort.

Opinions vary on the advisability of removing a gallbladder full of stones if there are no symptoms. It depends somewhat on what kind of stone you have. Because new medicines that dissolve stones are under intensive study, some stones may be treated with medicines.

POLLY'S POINTERS
Polly Fisher

Brine solution

DEAR POLLY - What is meant by a 10 percent brine solution? This is for pickling or curing foods. Is it a brine diluted with 90 percent clear water, or what? - MARGE
DEAR MARGE - A 10 percent brine solution means simply that the brine is made in the proportion of 10 percent salt to 90 percent water. For example, you would use one and one-half cups salt for each gallon of liquid, or six tablespoons salt for each quart of liquid. (These measurements, although not mathematically precise, are accurate enough for practical use.) By the way, an old test for judging the strength of a brine is that a 10 percent brine should float a 2-ounce egg. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - Have you ever had trouble opening a soda water bottle with a screw-on lid? Try using a nut cracker. It's the perfect tool to grip the cap, and it will not bend the cap. - KRISTAL

DEAR POLLY - The real cure for shrinking pie crust is to use a little more shortening in the dough. When you have the right amount of shortening, the crust will keep its size as you roll it out, not shrinking or crawling back as you work. The extra shortening will also give you an excellently flavored pie crust. - G.J.L.

DEAR POLLY - I'm a bartender and I've gotten a number of good ideas from reading your column. Here are some of my own pointers about using gallon plastic jugs.

Place a gallon plastic jug filled with water upstairs in your house as an emergency fire extinguisher.
Use gallon plastic jugs around boat docks as a safety buoy. They float. - ED

DEAR POLLY - Plant a few sprigs of dill near your tomato plants. This keeps worms off the plants. Marigolds in the garden will ward off rodents and insects. - J.P.
