Eye Hereford Council Plans

Hereford Community Council meets Wednesday afternoon to continue its work towards effecting solutions to problems facing migrant and other low-income workers in the area.

The council, which organized several weeks ago, will meet with the number two man of the Texas Office of Economic Opportunity, Bob Allan of Austin, to continue its discussions with the OEO.

MEANWHILE, however, the Community Council is awaiting action from the county commission and other local agencies which could have bearings on the plans of the group.

Virgil Dodson, council chairman, said that application to the Regional OEO headquarters for a project development grant for the council has not been submitted as yet, due to the need to give further consideration to some details of the grant request.

AMONG business to be conducted at Wednesday's meeting of the council will be to review the original plans and consider what changes, if any, might be advisable.

In the council's March 21 organizational meeting, the council agreed to incorporate as a non-profit corporation and seek $3,000 from the OEO to finance operations during its initial three months of work.

Several proposed areas of work were outlined and means of accomplishing these goals utilizing OEO aid were discussed.

Since that time, committee work has been postponed somewhat as details in connection with submitting the application are being worked out, Dodson said.

FOUR ARRESTED

Countfeit Bills Circulated Here

A total of three counterfeit $20 bills were turned over to the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office this week and four Lubbock men have been arrested in connection with the bogus money.

Local sheriff's officers said a fake bill was discovered Wednesday in the J. C. Penney Co. bank deposit.

TWO OTHER bills were discovered here Thursday. One had ended up in the cash till at the county tax office and another was turned in by McDowell Drug.

Two Lubbock men were arrested in Nazareth Thursday and charged with passing a fake twenty at a Tulla service station after a service station attendant accepted a fake bill and notified law enforcement officials, giving the license number of the auto the men were driving.

And Friday, two other Lubbock men were jailed on charges of possession of counterfeit money.

Richard Tivis, 37, a night club operator, and George Edward Hudson, 33, were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Frank R. Murray in Lubbock Friday and released after Tivis posted $2,000 bond.

Pennies Blamed For Fire Which Guts House Here

A Hereford Latin American family lost all of their belongings when flames gutted a small frame house in southeast Hereford shortly after 7 p. m. Thursday.

Interior of the house was gutted by the time firemen arrived at the scene, located at 321 Norton.

Occupants of the house were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mauricio and children.

Rodriguez told firemen that his family was out in the yard when the flames were discovered. Fire department officials said the fire was apparently caused by two pennies used in place of electrical fuses, allowing an electrical circuit to become overloaded.

Lions Expect More Than 800 For Meet Here

Hereford's standing as a city suited for conventions gets its first full-scale test of all systems this week as the District 27-1 Convention for Lions International brings an anticipated 800-plus visitors to town.

And the Hereford Lions Club is sparing no pains to put on a three-day show well worth the coming-to-for members of the men's civic organization from 50 Texas Panhandle towns.

THREE FULL days of convention activities are on tap, with 9 a. m. Friday marking the opening of registration in the Hereford Hotel Jim Hill.

Tournaments for golfers and bowlers are included in Friday's agenda, as well as a cabinet meeting for top district officials.

The day will be capped with a western barbecue in the Bull Barn, one of several facilities being utilized during the three-day meet.

SATURDAY'S schedule includes a business session in the high school auditorium, a District Governor's Banquet, and a Queen's Ball at the Community Center.

Final day of the convention gets underway with a church service in the high school auditorium.

Election of a new slate of district officers comes at 2 p. m. and a queen's contest (feature) See LIONS Page 2.

Listed in "poor but improving" condition at the hospital Saturday was Billy Joe Stevens, employe of Hereford Feed Yards, who was shot shortly before 10 a. m. Friday while at work in the office of the huge facility.

A co-worker, standing less than 10 feet away from Stevens at the time of the shooting, helplessly witnessed the blasts.

"He walked in and just started shooting," the witness told Deaf Smith County Sheriff Lowell Sharp as he began to piece together the story of the shooting here . . . and another, which resulted in death, in Canyon.

The sheriff arrived at the feed yards east of Hereford to find the man later charged with the shooting "waiting peacefully and calmly" to be arrested.

TAKEN INTO custody at the scene was William Bond Clifford, 33, widely known Canyon farmer, auctioneer, and rodeo announcer.

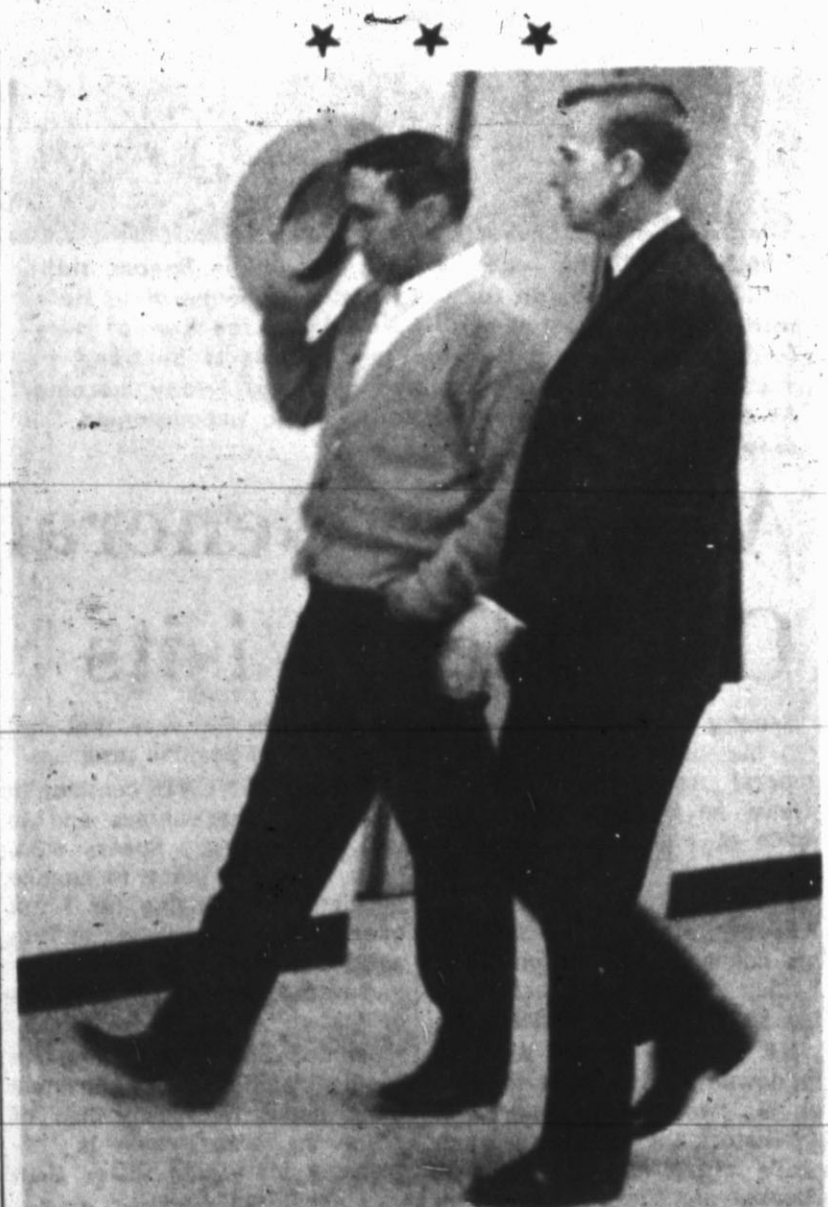

Clifford was charged with attempted murder here and later charged in Canyon with the murder of his estranged wife in connection with a shooting in her Canyon apartment.

THREE OF the Cliffords' four children witnessed the shooting and told investigators that their father had shot their mother about 9:30 a. m. Friday.

After being arraigned here Friday afternoon on a charge of assault with intent to murder before Justice of the Peace C. B. Miles in connection with the Stevens shooting, Clifford was taken to Canyon where he was ordered held without bail on a murder charge stemming from his wife's death.

Meanwhile, Stevens had been taken by ambulance to Deaf Smith County Hospital, where his apparent survival was described as miraculous by attendants late Saturday.

Stevens and his wife moved to Hereford less than a year ago. See LOCAL Page 2

Elevators Pressed To Meet Deadline

Grain elevators throughout the region and in Texas in particular are faced with a "serious problem" which could have effects on virtually every individual grain producer, it was disclosed last week.

The problem relates to an order from the Kansas City office of the Commodity Credit Corporation-United States Department of Agriculture.

ELEVATOR operators who fail to comply with orders to load CCC grain may face suspension from the CCC approved list.

Complicating the problem is a shortage of rail cars with which to ship out the grain, local grain elevator spokesmen said.

AS A RESULT, grain producers of Texas are being advised by directors of the Texas Grain and Feed Association that some Texas grain warehousemen, "through no fault of their own," may be unable to accept 1966 grain under the CCC loan support program.

"If the shortage of rail cars continues as it now is, the only thing that will save us — and apparently most other area elevators — from suspension is a change of heart by the CCC," one local elevator spokesman said.

C of C Agriculture Group Discusses Farm Problems

The Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Committee continued its survey of several area farm problems and possible solutions during a meeting here Thursday morning.

Committee members studied several items, including the seriousness of the CCC threat to suspend grain warehouses not complying with shipping orders. (See story above.)

THE DISCUSSION resulted in the decision that each committee member should contact the elevator with which he does business and determine what action needs to be taken.

Talk also centered around the problem of weed control in barrages. After discussing experiences of other counties, a subcommittee was named to gather as many facts as are available on the subject and to report back at the next meeting with recommendations on action the committee might recommend.

Committee chairman Bill Gentry, on another topic, reported that information received from the Hereford Public Schools indicates there is no means available at present for aid in establishing an adult training course in farm machinery.

THE CHAMBER committee last month had passed a recommendation that such a program be established, if possible.

The committee then agreed that efforts should be made to look into possibilities for such a program through the extension service.

Committee member Ed Wilson reported briefly on the pollution control hearing held in Hereford and reviewed the testimony of various witnesses. HE STATED that it had been reported that the hearing has not satisfied the pollution control board and that further effort is going to be needed.

Leo Witkowski reported that hearings will be held in Amarillo and Lubbock later this year concerning problems of agriculture in Texas, and that written and oral testimony would be accepted by the state agency sponsoring the hearing to feel the pulse of the state's farmers and ranchers.

Don Riley of Tucumcari refused voluntary extradition, but proceedings have been commenced by the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office to return the man to face theft charges along with a Bovina man also indicted last week by the grand jury.

A sheriff's deputy said that Riley and Don Bandy, 25, of Bovina, are charged in connection with the theft of 55 sacks of custom-made cattle cubes from the Charles Hoover farm near here on March 13. The cubes were valued at $2,000.

Attorney General Candidate Visits

Senator Franklin Spears brought his campaign for attorney general to Hereford Friday where he stressed the importance of maintaining the independence of the attorney general's office.

Spears attended a coffee in his honor at the Calson House Friday morning where he visited several local residents.

HE LATER greeted residents in downtown Hereford to wrap up his two-hour visit here.

"Historically the attorney general's office has been one of checks and balances on the three branches of state government," the senator from Bexar county said, "and no one should be elected to this office who is controlled by any group, clique, special interest or individual."

"I'm not anyone's lap dog," Spears said. "I want to be and will be a watch dog."

Senator Spears said that he looked upon the attorney general's office "not as a resting place, but as a working place" and said that he was the only candidate in the race that had "any kind of positive program."

"MY OPPONENTS continue to call each other names and to call me names," Spears said, "but I am not going to engage in their mud-slinging for I am convinced that the voters of Texas are weary of these tactics and want to hear the real issues discussed."

Senator Spears said that he had dedicated himself to do something about the rising tide of crime in Texas which is "increasing six times faster than our population growth."

"The attorney general of Texas should take a leading role in bringing better training facilities to local law enforcement, to encourage better pay for police officers and to provide by means of bulletins, newsletters, seminars and conferences very latest interpretation of court opinions affecting police work," Spears said.

told the Brand Saturday. "THIS IS NOT a Hereford problem or an Amarillo problem or a Tulla problem — the CCC order coupled with the lack of cars seems to have everybody in the same boat," he continued.

The Kansas City office has for some months warned grain warehousemen that it will suspend from its approved list any warehouse which falls within 90 days to comply with orders to load out grain, the Texas Grain & Feed Association said in a release to the Brand.

"IN THE MEANTIME, a nation-wide shortage of boxcars has become critical enough to provoke a series of I. C. C. service orders and has made it virtually impossible for some warehousemen to comply fully with the loading orders.

"Thus it is technically possible that some warehouses may be suspended from the government's approved list at harvest time, in spite of any efforts the warehousemen may make in the meantime to comply. Seven Texas grain warehouses are now under this technical suspension," the release continued.

Directors of the Texas Grain and Feed Association point out that that suspension under the above conditions would not necessarily imply any physical, financial or ethical weakness on the part of the warehouseman and should not be considered by his customers as any form of discrediting.

The Texas Association's Board of Directors considered a proposal that they consider court action in the case of any Texas warehouse which, at harvest time, is suspended from normal competition by this action of CCC-USDA, and where good faith of the warehouseman has been established.

The action was held up pending other representations to be made by the trade group to government officials, in the hope that a reconciliation could be effected well ahead of harvest time.

ago from Dimmitt. They are parents of a two-month-old child.

Co-workers with Stevens told the Brand that Stevens and Clifford had been "friends for a long time" and often traveled to rodeos together.

HOW THE bizarre story unfolded was recounted by investigators and witnesses:

Randall County Sheriff L. S. (Slim) Johnston of Canyon said that his office was notified of the murder of Mrs. Clifford at 9:31 a. m. Friday.

A resident of an apartment near Mrs. Clifford's apartment in Canyon first phoned to tell of the shooting, but seconds later, 11-year-old William F. Clifford called the sheriff's office, saying that he had just seen his father kill his mother.

"THE BOY said that Clifford came in the house, said a few words to Mrs. Clifford, and then started shooting," Johnston told the Brand.

The boy said that his father then ran away. He furnished a description of the auto.

"WE THOUGHT he would probably be headed towards Amarillo and we obtained the license number and description of the auto, which showed on registration records to be a 1956 Oldsmobile. Roadblocks were set up between Canyon and Amarillo and we also tried to cover all roads leading out of Canyon, but he got out towards Hereford."

Meanwhile, a Hereford deputy sheriff headed towards Dawn to look for the auto described in the bulletin.

IT WAS later learned that Clifford was driving a 1962 model Oldsmobile, which the Hereford deputy sheriff passed shortly before Clifford turned off the highway to the feed yards.

Clifford had traded autos recently and the new registration had apparently not had time to be placed in the vehicle registration records, causing the erroneous description of the auto.

"HE TOLD me that he blew out a tire while driving about 110 miles per hour, but just kept going till he got to the feed yards," Johnston continued.

Clifford farms 10 miles northwest of Canyon.

His wife, Carol — a Sunday School teacher in a Canyon Church and 1953 valedictorian at Hart High School — had filed for divorce recently and received custody of the four children.

Clifford had been placed under a restraining order and ordered to pay $400 per month child support. He had cross-filed in the divorce proceedings, which were still pending at the time of Mrs. Clifford's death.

WITNESSING her death were three of the children, James, T., 8; Geoffrey Todd, 5; and William. Three-year-old Christopher was in the home of his grandparents in Tulla.

Mrs. Clifford was shot four times in the head with a .22 caliber pistol.

Employees at the feed yards described the shooting of Stevens.

Alfonso Tomes was working in the office a few feet away from Stevens, who was operating scales weighing a truck driven by Tioflo Villareal. Both said they witnessed the shooting.

Tomes told the Brand that Clifford "just walked in and started shooting. He didn't say anything."

Then Tomes continued, he

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Ray Morrison finally discovered who was using his new color TV set when the family was out.

Four evenings in a row the set, equipped with an electronic device that turned it off and on by remote control, was going full blast when the Morrisons came home.

The next night Morrison was in the living room with the TV off when the telephone rang. The set immediately came to life. Research showed that, at certain times, the ringing of the phone triggered the control gadget.

CHILD WELFARE..... and your District Judge

14 years ago Judge Harry Schultz established in each county in the 69th district, a Child Welfare Board of seven people (each serving without compensation) who were concerned with the welfare of children. The advise of these groups is sought by Judge Schultz in all cases of dependent or neglected children of divorcing parents, because by law these children are the wards of the courts. These Boards have brought about a high percentage of reconciliation of parents who sued for divorce.

Because of his pioneering in these matters Judge Schultz was elected, last July, as a member of the Family Law Section of the Texas State Bar Association — before he ever attended a meeting of this Section.

At his second meeting with this Board he was appointed chairman of a committee to assist the Texas Legislative Council in codifying our statutes on marriage and divorce, and to recommend improvements. He is now actively working with this Council.

You would think a long weekend would be filled with activities. However most students, college and high school alike, are taking the opportunity to catch up on much needed rest.

With a little extra rest we will have more energy to end the year with a bang.

Congratulations are extended to Philip Cain and Claudia Loerwald. They were elected to represent Hereford at Boy's and Girl's State. Alternates are Nancy Smith and Gary Story. All are junior students who are certainly worthy of the honor.

Easter Seal Appeal Helps Disabled Texans

Although the 1966 Easter Seal officially closed Easter Sunday, J. A. Hodges, Jr., Deaf Smith county's Easter Seal representative said today late contributions will help provide care for disabled Texans in need of services from the Texas Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Hodges, who serves as contact representative for Deaf Smith county's disabled children and adults with the Society, pointed out that last year 14, 395 Texans were cared for under the Easter Seal Program. Under an ever-growing case service program, this direct care load is expected to increase greatly next year.

THE SOCIETY is also carrying out a program to reach every disabled person in the state who needs assistance. This program is to insure that every crippled child and adult has an equal opportunity at a normal way of life.

He asked that anyone who knows of a disabled child or adult who is "suffering in silence" suggest to that person's family that the Texas Easter Seal Society can aid in locating or providing the services which are needed.

There are three reasons why a handicapped person might not be receiving needed treatment, Mr. Hodges said. They are: (1) He doesn't know that facilities are available; (2) He or his family cling to the old-fashioned idea that a crippling condition is shameful; (3) He has a little money and doesn't want to accept "charity."

Hodges urged that those who have not yet responded to the 1966 Easter Seal Appeal send their contributions as soon as possible to: Easter Seals, Hereford State Bank, Hereford, Texas.

Sandi Thomas, editor of the school paper, received honorable mention on a sports story she wrote for the paper.

"The Whiteface" placed second in Class B in the school newspaper contest judging.

MARK HICKS
clears 5-10 1/2 for new mark.

Hereford Cindermen Top District Opponents Here

Hereford tracksters took top honors in a three-way meet held at Whiteface Stadium Thursday in a partial preview of District I-AAA track competition.

Local cindermen came out on top in competition against district rivals Tulla and Canyon. The Whitefaces tallied a total of 212 1/2 points. Canyon finished with 133 1/2 and Tulla, 122.

THREE HEREFORD track records fell to the Whiteface competitors before the day was over, two in field events and another in track running under the lights Thursday night.

Mark Hicks placed first in high jump and at the same time cleared the old record from the books by topping 5-10 1/2. Previous mark was 5-10.

Second record to fall was at the hands of Ricky Fangman in the discus. Standing record was 132-6 until Fangman stretched it to 139-5 1/2.

NIGHTFALL didn't slow the Hereford delegation. Gary Goodin carved a fraction of a second from the existing standard for high hurdles here. Previous mark was 15.2, but Goodin hopped through in 14.9 for first in the meet and a new track record.

Robbie Lemons stepped the 100-yard dash in 10 flat for a win there after spanning 20.1 in broad jump for his first win of the day.

Hereford's 440-relay squad — Gregg Richards, Billy Frank, Goodin, and Lemons — lead the pack for another Whiteface victory.

OTHER Hereford placings included:

In the high jump, Gene Duvall came in second and Jimmy Childers third.

Jonny Cornelius was awarded fourth place and Bob Gentry fifth in the discus.

Roger Suttle was second in the pole vault and Gary Tucker fourth.

Bill Coffin was second in the shot put and Gentry fifth.

David Kelly won second in the 880 relay with Eugene Diller fourth place and Mark Hicks in fifth place.

In the 100 yard dash, Richards came in third.

Tony Malouf tied for first in the 440 and Billy Frank was fifth.

Gary Goodin came in second in the low hurdles, while Jimmy Childers tied for third place.

The 220 yard dash saw Larry Champ run in second place, Richards third, and Bill Watts tied for fourth.

Charles Inman ran second in the mile run, with Childers in fifth place.

In the mile relay, Hereford's team placed second. The team consists of Lenny Petree, Malouf, Champ and Frank.

The next meet for the team is slated in Perryton next Saturday. This meet is to begin the district competition for the Whitefaces.

UNDER NEW GI BILL

Loan Programs Cited For Vets

Veterans with more than 180 days of active military duty discharged from the service since January 31, 1955, have at least until March 3, 1976, to complete a GI home or farm loan under the new GI Bill, the Veterans Administration pointed out today.

The new law, bringing to veterans of the post-Korean period GI loan privileges hitherto available only to veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict, carries its own minimum deadline of ten years after the actual signing of the bill on March 3, 1966, Jack Coker, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco said.

A MAXIMUM eligibility date of twenty years after discharge from the qualifying active service is also in the law. Veterans discharged because of service-connected disabilities will have the maximum 20-year entitlement.

Between those minimum and maximum periods, individual veterans will reach the termination of their eligibility according to the following formula:

Add ten years to the date of the last discharge from active service plus one year for each three-month period of that service.

THE VETERAN must hold a discharge other than dishonorable. If released because of a service-connected disability, the service time may be less than the stipulated 180-plus days period.

The new law also benefits those servicemen who remain on active duty after completing at least two years of service. They may obtain VA-guaranteed loan while still in the armed forces.

For a post-Korean veteran or serviceman, VA may guarantee a home loan made by a private lender up to $7,500 or 50 percent of the loan, whichever is less.

FOR A FARM real estate loan other than for the acquisition of a home, the guaranty may not exceed $4,000 or 50 percent of the loan; and for non-real estate farm loans, the guaranty may not exceed $2,000, or 50 percent of the loan.

This means that a lending institution will receive the Government's guaranty which is intended to be in lieu of a down payment or to reduce the down payment which the lender normally requires.

The maximum amounts of entitlement apply to each person who qualifies under the new law. In other words, an individual who is eligible as a serviceman will not gain additional entitlement when he is released or separated from the service; further, an individual who can qualify as a post-Korean veteran and who later serves for 181 days will not receive additional entitlement for the later periods of service.

LOANS MAY be for the purchase of homes; to make alterations, repairs or improvements in homes already owned and occupied; to purchase farms or farm supplies or equipment; to obtain farm working capital; or to refinance delinquent indebtedness on property to be used or occupied by the veteran as a home or for farming purposes.

The new GI Bill offers only guaranteed loans to post-Korean veterans and servicemen; insured loans are not authorized for such veterans and servicemen. Also, business loans are not authorized for individuals who qualify under the new GI Bill.

VA direct home loans will be available only for the purchase of homes and farmhouses in areas where such loans have been authorized. The maximum direct loan possible has been raised from $15,000 to $17,500.

There is no maximum on the amount of a guaranteed loan. ALL LOANS made or guaranteed by VA will bear interest at 5 1/2 percent.

Under the new law, a one-time non-recurring fee, not to exceed one-half of one percent of the loan amount must be paid to the VA before a direct loan is made. However, it may be included in the loan, but it cannot

SUGARLAND MALL Walgreen Drug PHONE EM 4-2344

By MELVIN YOUNG

Plans are now being completed for an event that may well mark the beginning of a new era for the little city of Hereford. If all goes well, the Hereford Lions club will register from 800 to 1000 people for the biggest convention ever hosted by this city, and will help to establish Hereford as a convention site. The event is scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Certainly, the smaller meetings that have been held here have been exceptionally well received, and folks around the area apparently like to come to Hereford for conventions.

Some 15 or 16 years ago, the Lions were hosts for a similar event, and if our memory serves us correctly, had to rely on homes of local club members to house the visiting Lions. There simply were not enough room available.

In 1959, local Rotarians bid for and got the convention for the Rotary District Conference, and were faced with the same problems that the Lions had encountered earlier. Of the 350 plus registering for the event, many were forced to drive back home nightly.

Since that time however we have added a number of motels and additional rooms onto existing motels, which now puts us in a much better position for serving a convention of this magnitude.

In addition, we now have a convention center. The local Bull Barn has been remodeled and will serve nicely as a banquet hall for the principal dinner meetings. To top it off, a local restaurant plans to cater the Governor's banquet as well as some of the breakfast meetings and luncheons. In years past a dinner meeting of 500 people or more would certainly have necessitated bringing in out-of-town caterers.

This will be a new experience for the restaurant people. Although they have catered many banquets in years past, this is the first time they have ever tried one so large. If successful, and we're betting it will be, then we can assume that some of our other large banquets will be catered locally.

But in order to keep people coming back to a city for convention, it takes a little more than physical facilities and good food. Although these things are important and must be available in the prospective convention city, probably the final decision may be determined by the reception received at "the last one."

Convention goes seldom miss a meeting. Chances are, many of the people who were instrumental in bringing the Lions Convention to Hereford (outside our own club), still remember the warm reception they received a number of years earlier. In fact, we would bet on it.

Wives too, have a great deal of influence on which city is picked. And there again, we have a plus factor working for Hereford. We have had the pleasure of being host city for both the Federated Women's Clubs of America and the Federated Music Clubs of America within smiles, the past two years. Both meetings were tremendous successes.

It all adds up, and we should keep one thing in mind during the meeting next week. It costs very little to go first class.

In this case, just a friendly very little o go first class. In a kind word, a handshake. That can be our contribution to the effort. The rest can be left in the hands of the local Lions Club —and off hand, we can't think of a more enthusiastic group — They've gone all out to supply an exceptional program for the event.

Local historians and persons interested in the establishment of a museum in Hereford are reminded of a meeting to be held Tuesday morning at the Bull Barn. Plans for bringing the museum into being will be outlined at this meeting by Mrs. Elmer Patterson, chairman of the Deaf Smith County Historical Survey Committee.

The meeting will begin at 8 p. m.

According to Mrs. Patterson, all history teachers in the local school system have also been notified of the meeting and have been urged to pass on the information to their students in the event these youngsters are willing to help with the volunteer group which will be formed. This group will be known as the County Historical Society.

This it seems, is the logical first step towards obtaining a museum, since such groups have laid the ground work for similar projects elsewhere in the state which have met success.

The county now owns the old Catholic school building and adjoining lots which have been paved for parking. The Commissioners Court and the Historical Survey Committee agree that this building should be put to use in collecting and storing valuable materials which are in danger of being lost to posterity if they are not collected now.

We hope this will be the beginning of the museum that has been talked in Hereford so long.

Everyone interested should attend the Tuesday night meeting to help get this project off the ground.

At the risk of being considered sacrilegious at this season of the year, we must tell one more story on our friend Rev. Gene Brink, minister of The First Christian Church of Hereford.

It seems that Gene, as a young divinity student, had volunteered to fill the pulpit at a country church outside Dallas, and was doing his best to bring the word of the Lord to the members of the small but enthusiastic congregation.

The little church building was typical of small churches of a few years ago; of wood frame construction with lots of windows and air conditioning provided by raising the windows and opening the door.

Gene figured it was a better than average sermon and the congregation seemed to be responding favorably. That is, until it came time for the invitation.

As the congregation raised their voices in song and Gene stepped down from the podium, a big Collie dog walked through the door, headed straight down the aisle and stood directly in front of the young preacher. That broke up the services.

This may not have been the first response to Gene's preaching, but without a doubt the most unique.

An optimist; we understand, is a bald man who goes into a drug store and orders a preparation of hair restorer. As the druggist goes to get it, he asks him to bring a comb while he is at it.

Foundation Farm System Utilized

The High Plains Foundation Farming System developed after 8 years of research at the High Plains Research Foundation will be extensively used this year over the High Plains. This system of farming involves skip-row and interplanting cotton with other crops such as grain sorghum or castors in the following pattern: Two rows cotton, skip one row, two rows of another crop, skip one row, and two rows cotton.

THIS SYSTEM is in compliance with the 1966 Agricultural Program and therefore will not receive a penalty. The combined effects of price penalties for low quality cotton, reduced allotments, decreasing water supply, and a new farm program make it necessary for farmers to employ all means available to maintain farm income.

Tests on the farming system conducted at the High Plains Research Foundation during the 1965 crop year involved such factors as irrigation, water use, fiber quality, yields, cotton flowering, and cotton maturity as compared to solid planting of cotton. Loyd Landford, Associate Agronomist, reports that micronaire was increased from 3.0 in solid planting to 3.4 in skip-row interplanted cotton.

THE FIBER Pressley strength was increased by 3,900 pounds of pressure per square inch. Interplanted cotton also produced higher yields on 38 percent less water. Cotton yields were increased 210 pounds of lint per acre in a three-year average; grain sorghum 1,332 pounds per acre; and castors 270 pounds over solid planting.

In other tests conducted by Dr. Arthur Gohlke, Principle Soil Scientist, interplanted cotton showed increased flowering which resulted in increased yields. The higher air temperature in interplanting hastened cotton maturity and increased micronaire from 3.3 to 3.7 over solid cotton.

INTERPLANTING also produced higher yields with earlier maturing cotton and slightly higher micronaire than cotton in 2 x 1 skip-row pattern. Constant air temperature measurements show interplanting resulted in higher air temperature and longer effective lint producing days than was possible in either 2x1 or a solid planting pattern.

Farm Centered Demonstration on twelve farms over the High Plains showed micronaire and white cotton were increased in interplanted fields when compared with solid planting. Higher yields were produced with 24.23 percent less irrigation water. Interplanted cotton matured quicker which resulted in earlier harvest.

A PROJECT sponsored by Plains Cotton Growers involving fiber testing, spinning performance, and yarn testing was conducted at Texas Technological Research Laboratories. Five bales of cotton from interplanting was compared to five bales of solid planted cotton which included five different varieties. The tests showed a general increase in micronaire, Pressley strength, and stielometer reading in grams per tex. Yarn quality was better as measured by the yarn tenacity tests. When spinning the longest fiber at high speeds, the number of ends down per 1000 spindle hours was significantly lower in the interplanted cotton.

Don Johnson, Executive Vice-President of Plains Cotton Growers, states, "Any system of farming that will improve quality and spinning performance of High Plains cotton certainly needs to be put into practice by the farmers."

John Anderson, Assistant Director, Commercial Production Division of Baker Castor Oil Company, had the following to say: "The interplanting of cotton and castors is a money maker. Up to 50% higher yields on both crops have been obtained by the use of this system as compared to solid planting. At the same time, production costs were reduced with a saving in irrigation water. There has been no problem in mixing of cotton and castor seed, due to the nature of harvesting of the two crops."

INTERPLANTING evenetly works with castors as evidenced by the fact that in 1965 the lowest yield per acre of interplanted castors was 2,500 pounds per acre and yields ranged up to 3,775 pounds per acre."

F. F. (Flip) Calhoun, Chairman of Board of Supervisors of the Hale County Soil Conservation District No. 32 says, "The High Plains Foundation Farming System has outstanding possibilities under our present farming program. It not only saves water, but can give the farmer increased production of cotton with a better quality lint."

The information pertaining to the High Plains Foundation Farming System may be found in Reports 178, 179, & 184 of the 1965 Annual Research Report, High Plains Research Foundation.

Lutheran Minister Will Work To Translate Bible Editions

Pastor Fred Beversdorf of Immanuel Lutheran Church will be conducting his final service as pastor here today.

The Rev. Beversdorf leaves his pastorate here to begin preparations for work towards translation of the Bible into foreign language.

Pastor Beversdorf has been granted a peaceful dismissal from Immanuel Lutheran Church in order to begin study for a new type of ministry. He will prepare himself further in the study of languages in order to translate the Bible into languages that are still not in written form.

IT WILL probably take about four years before he will be able to complete the first such translation, he said.

There are still 2,000 tribes and nationalities in the world that have no written language. Bible translators are succeeding in going to these tribes, reducing these spoken languages to writing, and then translating the Bible into this language.

Pastor Beversdorf said he wishes to express his appreciation to the community of Hereford and to the many fine people living in it for all the contacts he has received during his four-year stay here.

He will be living here a few months until work is completed on a project called "DREAMLAND PLAYGROUND" which is a 90 acre plot between Springlake and Littlefield. This venture, he hopes, will produce the necessary living expenses for Pastor Beversdorf to do this other work.

Linda Higgins Married In Home Of Parents

Mrs. Alfred Edwin Berthold
... nee Linda Helen Higgins

A home wedding of beautiful simplicity was conducted for Miss Linda Helen Higgins and Alfred Edwin Berthold Saturday afternoon with the Rev. Russell A. Wingert, Presbyterian minister, officiating.

Urns holding white stock, gladiolas and mums flanked a pair of spiral candelabra to define the altar area in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne T. Higgins of Wildorado. Mr. Higgins gave his daughter in marriage in the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Berthold of Chevy Chase, Md. Miss Kyla Higgins attended her sister as maid of honor and the bridegroom's father acted as best man. Wedding music was by Miss Iva Parr of Friona, pianist.

A re-embroidered lace panel accented the front of the fitted bodice and controlled skirt of the bride's gown of white satin. Sleeves were long and the skirt floor-length.

Her illusion veil fell past the waistline from a circle of satin encrusted with lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and orchids.

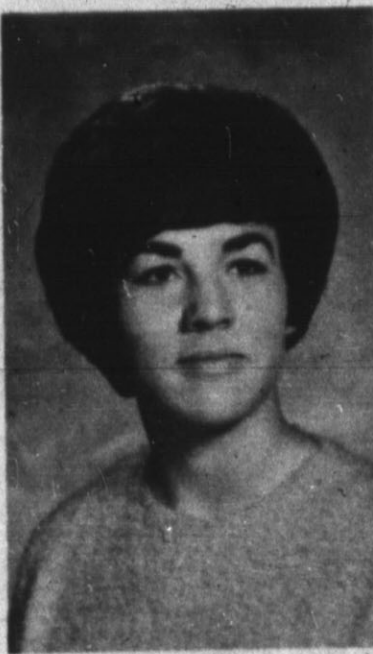

The bridesmaid's dress was of apricot satin, street length, styled similarly to that of the bride. She wore a short veil of illusion held by a satin bow and carried roses in apricot shade.

For the reception after the ceremony, the dining table was draped with white satin overlaid with satin-bordered white net. Silver candelabra held spiral candles and the centerpiece was of white roses. The three-tiered wedding cake, topped with white satin bells, was set on a circular reflector.

Mrs. Berthold changed from her bridal gown to a navy blue suit with circular cuffs of lace on the three-quarter sleeves to leave on the wedding trip. Accessories were all white and her corsage of orchids were taken from her bouquet.

After a honeymoon in Acapulco, Mexico, the couple will reside in Apartment F-17, 2902 Third Place, Lubbock. Both will continue studies in Texas Technological College.

A sophomore majoring in art education, the bride is a graduate of Hereford High School. Berthold is a senior architectural major. He was graduated from Landon School for Boys in Bethesda, Md.

Wonder if the person or persons who set those forsythia bushes on the curb at opposite ends of the 100 block on West Sixth Street did it on purpose, or if separate householders just happened to plant the same type of shrubs in those spots.

ANYHOW, WHOEVER did it was a contributor to civic beauty, and I hope is around to see the results. The larger shrub, on the east end of the block, bloomed first this year, but both have been covered with the gold en-bell flowers for several days.

After all the freezing nights we've had, it's nice to see many shrubs still in flower, and the chartreuse blooms on the Chinese elm trees not nipped, and white petals drifting off the pear trees instead of curling up, blackened.

A RATHER UNUSUAL family reunion was held last week by the family of Mrs. Pearl Boyer. Her four sons and their families got together, which wasn't out of the ordinary, but it was a sort of continued reunion with members of the family dropping in during the week.

The occasion was a visit here by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Boyer, their son Don and their granddaughter, Donna Davis, from Lancaster, Calif. Bill Boyer is Mrs. Pearl Boyer's son; two more sons, Roy and Cecil, live here, and the fourth, Dave, in Amarillo.

They and their wives, a number of children, grandchildren and in-laws made up the family group which was here, off and on, until the California visitors left for their homes Thursday.

Grandchildren of Mrs. Boyer from other cities included Mr. and Mrs. Pat Newman, Mr. and Mrs. James Boone of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. James Urton of Pampa.

West Texas Industry Is Club Topic

Products of a West Texas textile plant were shown and discussed at a meeting of Simms Study Craft Club Wednesday afternoon in Mrs. Terrell Hodges' home. Mrs. Julian Perrin was program director.

She told of the textile factory at Rails, which makes fabric from a blend of cotton and paper, treated for extra durability and weatherproofing. Much of the output is used for cotton bagging, she said as she showed samples of the material.

Use of short staple cotton and fiber which would otherwise be wasted is a feature of this operation, Mrs. Perrin added.

Reports were made in the club's business session, from committees planning for work on the Simms Community Building. Cost estimates, fund-raising plans and other phases of the work which the club will sponsor were discussed with Mrs. J. M. Boote presiding.

Also present were Meses, James Bullard, Leland Burns, Charles Durham, Allen Ehresman, Robert Lloyd, Edwin Morrison, Roscoe Pinnell, Louis West and Emmett Young.

District Legion And Auxiliary Convention Preparations Begun

With emphasis on April as Child Welfare Month, Mrs. Jack Flynt of Dimmitt spoke to the American Legion Auxiliary at its meeting this week in the Rock Clubhouse, outlining the Legion and Auxiliary program for children. Plans were made in the business session for the 18th District convention, to be held here April 30, May 1.

Mrs. Grant Hanna introduced Mrs. Flynt, who stressed the two main purposes of the child welfare program: To assure care and protection for children of veterans, and to improve conditions for all children in order to meet their physical, intellectual, emotional and spiritual needs.

She said $194 million has been spent on this program, and that funds come principally from the Poppy Fund, which is also used for hospital treatment and rehabilitation of veterans. Aid to mentally retarded and abused children is included, as is a scholarship fund.

A total of 2,500 veteran-made poppies were ordered by the Auxiliary to be sold here in May. Another order for jeweled flag pins was made; these are being sold as a money-making project for the Auxiliary.

Preparing for the district convention, which will have headquarters in Hotel Jim Hill, plans were made for decorations and favors. A meeting was set for 7 p. m. April 19 in the Legion Hall to make dining room decorations.

Health Career Boost Is Topic For PNO Unit

Encouragement of careers for young Texans in the field of health was discussed by the Professional Nurses Organization at a recent meeting in Deaf Smith County Hospital dining room.

T. E. Seigler, hospital director, was guest moderator for a question and answer session.

Not only nurses, but more doctors, physical therapists, laboratory and x-ray technologists and medical record librarians are badly needed, and too few are in training to meet future needs, the discussion brought out. Texas is lagging in the number of residents entering these professions, the nurses were told as they talked over ways in which students might be interested in choosing careers in the medical profession and its related work. Taking part in the general discussion were Sidney Ann Owens, Jan Hamilton, Vida Grady Azalea Hodges, Jo Solomon, Jean McKenzie, Anna Stindy, Martha Wilshire, Winnie Ruth Anderson, Dorothy Phillips, Tillie Miller, Joyce Wesson and Ella Mae Childers.

Alma Paetzold works with beauty

FOR EX-ARMY NURSE

Second Career Started

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A second career is well launched now by Alma Paetzold, after one which would be considered a full life's work by most women — some 20 years as a U. S. Army nurse.

HEARING OF HER accomplishments in that role, including duty in Pacific combat areas during World War II and later hospital administrative work on three continents, one expects to see a woman larger than life-size. Instead, one meets a slight, pretty blonde whose appearance fits better her second career, that of artist.

Through all her service with the military, the Hereford woman was pursuing a hobby which led her into the work she is doing now, as interior decoration consultant and joint owner of a shop dealing in gift items and objects d'art.

She studied art, design, and interior decoration whenever she had the time and opportunity, wherever her duties took her, from Australia to Maryland to Tokyo to Paris, and points between. Now she is completing the final phase of study, by correspondence, in the Chicago School of Interior Decoration, and will soon receive her diploma in that field.

BACKGROUND FOR her formal study was supplied in her travels, as she noted the arts, architecture and crafts of each spot she visited except during the periods when she was actually in combat zones of World War II, and was too busy to pay attention to anything except wounded American soldiers and the civilians caught in the savage fighting.

After a year in Deaf Smith County Hospital following her completion of nurse's training at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo, she entered the army in May, 1941 with a relative commission as second lieutenant. It became a regular commission the next year, after the outbreak of the war with Japan.

She was in El Paso when war began with the attack on Pearl Harbor in December, 1941, and the next month she was with a group of nurses on the way to Australia.

There and in nearby New Guinea they were outside the scene of action, and were simply in waiting, she says, but after a time she was sent on to the Netherlands East Indies, Leyte and, when the Philippines were liberated, to Manila.

A COMPANY of nurses entered that city and nearby Santo Tomas only three days after Gen MacArthur's forces, and Miss Paetzold was among the number. Their first duty was attending the internees whom the Japanese had held at Santo Tomas, who included the American nurses captured at the fall of Bataan in early days of the war.

Internees were promptly sent back to the United States, she says, and again the hospitals were filled with soldiers. Miss Paetzold generally had supervisory duties and work was unceasing. She was in Manila when the war ended.

With peace, she returned to El Paso, left the service briefly and then went back to take assignments in administrative work which sent her to Tokyo, to West Coast bases, then to Germany for three years where she was in charge of an outpatient clinic at a field hospital which cared for military personnel, their dependents and civilian workers.

THERE WERE SHORTER stays at New Orleans, Fort Sam Houston, in California and Honolulu. While she was in Germany she took advantage of opportunities to travel over Europe, especially enjoying Rome and Paris, and to the Middle East including a trip into the Holy Land.

She started serious study of line, form and design at El Paso, and whenever she was stationed near a college she took additional courses — at the University of Maryland, Ft. Sam Houston, the University of Tokyo.

In Australia she learned something of leathercraft, and became expert at making gloves, which she fashioned for her friends among the nurses to wear with their uniforms.

HER INTEREST IN art developed after she was an adult, Miss Paetzold says. Laughing, she insists that she lost any interest she had in the subject when she was a youngster because she wanted to draw a horse and couldn't make the animal recognizable.

It is not so much creating art objects that she enjoys now, as arranging objects, using colors and her knowledge of design to make beautiful rooms or backgrounds. She hopes to keep studying and learning more as she practices this art.

She and other members of her family are long-time residents of Hereford, although she was born at Groom in the eastern Panhandle. She attended Hereford schools and completed high school work here before she began training as a nurse. She returned to make her home here in 1963, after ending her first career, ready to start the next.

Messages from their "adopted" teenager at Gristown were discussed by L'Allegria Club members with reports on proceeds of a recent style show which raised club funds to assist her, at the club meeting Thursday afternoon in Mrs. W. C. Russell's home.

The Gristown resident sponsored by L'Allegria members is recovering from recent spinal surgery and will be confined to bed several months. To give her extra assistance, the club staged the benefit style show last month.

For the program Thursday, Mrs. Edwin Ake, publicity chairman for the annual Cancer Society fund drive, presented a film on detection and control of cancer.

Reports on various workshops in the recent County Leadership Training Course were given by club members who attended, Mmes. Dwayne Walker, Alex Schroeter, Dennis Lomas and Russell.

Announcement was made of a change in the meeting place for Apr. 21, when Mrs. Jimmy Conkright will be hostess in her home. Annual election of club officers is scheduled for the May 5 meeting.

Armstrong 4-H Farm Sale Set

The Armstrong County Annual 4-H Club Farm Machinery Sale will be held April 30 at Claude. This sale not only provides an opportunity for farmers and ranchers to dispose of surplus equipment, but also makes available many bargains to buyers. This sale was among the first of its kind in this section of the country, and has attracted statewide attention. Gross sales have reached $15,000 in a single year.

A small commission is collected on all items sold or passed out. These proceeds help finance activities of the Armstrong County 4-H Clubs. Auctioneers will be Wildon Hundley and Doug Britten of Claude, Texas, and Meade Michael, of Canyon, Texas, who will donate their services for this event.

Anyone wishing to consign equipment for this sale should contact Bo Wheeler, County Agent, Claude, Texas. Early consignments help to make an attractive handbill, which helps make a better sale.

New on the memorial shelf in the library is "The Loving Brand Book," which has been assembled with an historical introduction by Charles Goodnight III. His grandfather, Charles Goodnight Sr. and Loving were friend — and partners at one time.

The introduction is the only written part of the book and it is good straight history. The remainder of the book is made up of the cattle brands themselves, a photostatic-like copy of the original brand book which was kept by Loving.

FOLLOWING the introduction is a page with these words, "Please take special good care of this book and return same to me when done work." (Dated) May 4th, 1884. (Signed) J. C. Loving, Jacksboro, Texas.

Each page is classified with the headings of earmarks, brand, name of owner, Rancho, county and Post office address. The signatures of the cattle-owners are written clearly and reflect the age when penmanship was stressed.

A FRIEND who had called our attention to the book also informed us that our paternal grandfather was listed in the book, with his brands. This was before 1888 when he moved to Deaf Smith County with his cattle. Perhaps, you too will find one of your ancestors, or someone you know, in this record book.

Another book on Texas is the "Famous Texas Landmarks" by W. L. Hopper. Seldom do we read the last of a book first, but this one we did because information on our part of the country is there.

In chapters titled, "The Legend of Adobe Walls" ("Mobeetie"); "The City of Memories" (Quannah); "The Royal Gorge" (Palo Duro Canyon); "Tascosa Toughest Town in Texas" (Now Boys Ranch) and "Land Marks in Ranching" (includes XII, XIII, XIV, XV, XVI, XVII, XVIII, XIX, XX, XXI, XXII, XXIII, XXIV, XXV, XXVI, XXVII, XXVIII, XXIX, XXX).

Use Of Benefit Funds Discussed

Members present included Mmes. Jim McDowell, Hilton Higgins, David Gibson, Cameron Gault, Joe Easley, Bob Sims, John Smith, Conkright and those on program.

PENNY ON THE LOOSE ALTON, III. — A copper penny with a 1943 date worth as much as $4,000 was stolen from a local collector.

Police feel certain that the thief who took the collection had no idea of the value of the penny and has probably long since put it in circulation.

The U. S. Treasury Department says only aluminum alloy pennies were made in 1943. But collectors say they know of at least three copper pennies dated that year. Two more are known to exist in private collections on the East Coast.

ONE VERY interesting story of Tascosa had Billy the Kid, Temple Houston (a relative of Sam Houston), a District Attorney at the time, and Bat Masterson in the leading roles. A pistol shooting match was lined up between Billy the Kid and Houston, with Masterson as director of the match. Masterson tossed a plug of tobacco into the air and Houston shot the star off of it while it was in mid-air. It is said that Billy refused to continue and said in Spanish, "That is good enough."

And though Billy and his bunch appeared in Tascosa occasionally after that, they walked softly and never gave any trouble.

These books are additions of merit in the Deaf Smith County Library's well-stocked shelves of Texana.

MEETA CHEETAH NAIROBI, Kenya — East Africa still is the place to meet a cheetah, reports the East African Wildlife Society.

Nearly 2,000 were sighted in Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania during a six-month survey.

Man's expansion will inevitably reduce the available habitat and the need for adequate conservation measures is urgent," says the society.

But it adds that for the moment cheetah in East Africa do not require rescuing.

Jesus said, "Do not marvel at this; for the hour is coming when all who are in the tombs will hear his voice and come forth, those who have done good, to the resurrection of life, and those who have done evil, to the resurrection of judgment." John 5:28 & 29. Martin Luther said, "Our Lord has written the promise of the resurrection, not in books alone, but in every leaf in the springtime."

"But some one will ask, 'How are the dead raised? With what kind of body do they come?' You foolish man! What you sow does not come to life unless it dies." When we sow flower seed a stem comes forth and then a lovely, beautiful flower. "So is it with the resurrection of the dead. . . . It is sown a physical body, it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a physical body, there is also a spiritual body." Please read I Corinthians 15:35 thru 56. "For the Lord himself will descend from heaven with a cry of command, with the archangel's call, and with the sound of the trumpet of God. And the dead in Christ will rise first; then we who are alive, who are left, shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord." I Thessalonians 4:16 & 17.

Congress Eyes Rural Areas

Congress is suddenly showing a tremendous interest in developing Rural America. Their feelings, so far, indicate that while only one-third of the national population lives in rural areas that more than one-half of the people prefer living on farms and in the smaller towns. This, we feel, is probably correct.

And while any action on the part of Congress at this stage of the game is comparable to "locking the gate" after the proverbial horse has been stolen, it seems that most people do appreciate the interest. Primarily, Congress proposes to instigate the "Community Development District Act of 1966," which would provide improved facilities and services in the rural areas of the nation. The idea being that people are leaving the rural areas because the larger cities have so much more to offer in the way of luxuries and comforts. This, we doubt to be the primary cause of urban migration.

Most people, in our opinion, leave the rural areas for one reason — and one reason alone; that reason is survival, and it is based on finding a job. In a way Congress created all of this trouble in the manner in which farm subsidy acts were established. Because the tenant farmer got a huge cut of the pie, the land owners saw their only means of survival in operating the farms themselves. This, of course, was aided and abetted by appearance and improvement of the tractor and of other mechanized farm equipment. As a result millions of farm workers were literally forced to seek employment in other fields.

While this particular area has been indeed fortunate in that it has continued to grow in population, such has not been the case in other rural areas across the nation.

Oddly enough, production on the farms has continued to soar — and with far, far less farm labor than in the past. Meanwhile, industry is seeking more and more to locate in strategic rural points, and with this movement has gone a small portion of the population, primarily in the Deep South and in some points in Texas.

If Congress is sincerely interested in this problem, the answer appears simple: People will go where the jobs are to be found! Conveniences are appreciated, but survival is still the primary factor with most people.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his blindweed farm touches on a point that we don't understand either.

Dear editor:

The trouble with picking up two newspapers instead of one is that it frequently leads to confusion.

For example, in one paper I found out here yesterday I read an account of Mrs. Indira Gandhi's visit to the United States in her job as Prime Minister of India to discuss world affairs and possibly step up the amount of grain the U.S. is sending over there.

In a speech she made at the White House she said India is staying neutral in the nuclear arms race, that while her country has the brains, the techniques and the capacity to make nuclear bombs, if it set its mind to, it has decided not to.

In another paper I found, apparently blown against the same fence by the same wind, an article explained how the United States is sending agricultural experts to India to try to teach that country's 60-million farmers how to produce more.

This is what's confusing about getting too many facts at one time.

If India has the capacity to produce something as complex and expensive as a guided missile if it wants to, it seems to me it'd use some of that capacity to produce a little more grain. Launching a tractor isn't any harder than launching a rocket, and you can do the former on a cloudy day. Looks like India would drop its program of providing guided walking plows for its farmers and get into the tractor age. I believe any man who could build a guided missile could operate a tractor, even if it's as complicated and headstrong as the 17-year-old one I use on this blindweed farm.

As I understand it, the American farmer is now growing enough for himself and 33 other people. If the 60 million farmers in India did as well, they'd produce enough for nearly 2 billion people, which is five times that country's population, and would result in grain-hungry Prime Ministers visiting there, instead of the other way around.

All this proves is that a man with two newspapers sometimes can be twice as confused as the man with one. By the way, I don't know who the 33 other people are I'm supposed to be feeding, but if my tractor blows a gasket one more time I recommend they put in a garden at once.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

WTSU Image Gets New Look

Not long ago, ex-students of West Texas State University attended a meeting and took inventory of many things concerning the college. In general, the outcome was one of praise for the services which the university provides to the Panhandle.

WTU does fill an important niche in the way of life in this part of the country including, of course, Hereford and Deaf Smith County. We all look forward to the time when it will do far more.

Touched briefly in the discussion was the "image" which the school reflects and, we are afraid, that presented at the session does not always agree with the "image" held by many high school graduates. Far too many area youngsters go to WTU primarily, "because it is the only place they can afford," because of its proximity, or because it is there or nowhere. The WTU "image" also continues to be clouded from the old days when it was regarded as a "teacher's normal."

Since that time West Texas has expanded into the scope of a university. It maintains some of the best instructors in the nation on its staff, and the new Kilgore Research foundation is a good example of just how much it can ultimately mean to this part of the country. In our opinion, the "image" has not kept pace, due primarily to the attitude reflected by administration, faculty, students and ex-students. Ex-students, for instance, probably contribute more toward molding the "image" of Texas A&M than any single factor.

We, as citizens, can also contribute much along this line. First we need to visit the school occasionally and realize just what it does afford and how much it means to this area. Second, we should analyze the things it has to offer, and compare them with other institutions of higher learning. Actually, WTU is one of the finest and richest resources the Panhandle possesses. It will become even more valuable if all of us will take the time to become better informed, and go out of our way to give the school such recognition as it justly deserves.

Salute To Pastor

Recently members of the First Presbyterian Church recognized 20 years of ministry and service by Rev. Russell Wingert, pastor. While we have no plaque to award, we would also like to join these good people in expressing appreciation for the work which Rev. Wingert has accomplished.

During all of these 20 years, Rev. Wingert has been good for Hereford, as well as good for the church which he serves. Recognized as an outstanding family counselor, he has contributed untold hours in behalf of scores of people, many of whom did not belong to his church. He has been active in community affairs, and is accepted as an outstanding thinker along practical lines. Through his long service as a pastor, Rev. Wingert has come to know many friends, both in his church and outside of it.

We never asked what he would do if he could turn the clock back 20 years, and start over again, but we suspect that he would once again choose to come to Hereford, Texas, or to some town of parallel calibre. Rev. Wingert likes it here because he loves people, because he is dedicated to his work, and because he finds untold challenge of a practical, "grass roots" nature.

During the past 20 years he has helped hundreds of people over many rough spots. He has been "good for Hereford", indeed, and we know that the community, in turn, has been good for him. All of which makes it a genuine pleasure to say, "Congratulations to the Wingerts — it couldn't happen to nicer folks!"

Camping They Are Going

Now that we have thousands of plush, luxury motels at the resort areas what happens?

People go crazy for camping out, that's what. But don't get the idea camping is anything like it was years ago. It isn't. The stores are full of gadgets for the comfort of the man who wants to rough it, if you insist on calling modern-day camping that.

The National Geographic Society says 41 million Americans are taking to 10,000 public campgrounds as compared with 10 years ago. This undoubtedly gives the National Geographic something different to write about. The Society will, of course, come up with pictures and stories about some of the funniest creatures of all, city men and women in all shapes and sizes, crawling into comfortable sleeping bags up in the mountains, or in the valleys or at the seashore. The National Geographic will have color pictures, no doubt, of these people cooking, playing and even napping in a camp-out type of hammock underneath a shady tree with a portable air conditioner throwing cool breezes across the face of the snoozer and driving insects away. Good!

Camping used to be a cheap way to spend the night in the woods. Tourists used to frown on those who pitched a tent, or slept in a trailer. Cheap skates trying to avoid paying for a motel room, they said.

No more, though. It takes money — and lots of it — to camp out in style today. Don't think so? Just pay a visit to a sporting goods department where they sell four-room tents, thermal underwear (for winter, of course), camp cook stoves, portable refrigerators, toilets, (for goodness sake!) radio, television and you name it. There's comfort in camping today, if you can afford it.

We may be prejudiced. Just give us an air-conditioned room in a plush motel. An hour or two roughing it is enough. That hour is usually consumed loading and unloading the car, and you'd think we'd run into a bear up in the mountains the way there's huffing and puffing from that amount of roughing it. Get in bed and turn on the vibrating mattress. That's roughing it! — TOPS

MAIN STREET, USA

Public Health Service Cites Cancer Progress

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — Cancer ranks second to heart disease as a killer of Americans. Each year about half a million people develop cancer and over half of those afflicted die as a result.

A RECENT public opinion poll reported that more people fear cancer than any other disease, with blindness ranking next. A major reason for the widespread fear of cancer is that most people know so little about it.

U. S. Public Health Service is attempting to remedy the information gap. It has just issued a free booklet for laymen, entitled "The Cancer Story." A single copy may be obtained without charge by simply sending a postcard to: Public Health Service, Washington, D. C. 20201.

The 52-page pocket-size publication is also available in bulk quantities at 25 cents each, with a discount for orders over 100. Copies may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

Public Health Service expects its booklet to be widely used in junior and senior high school science classes. Several teaching aids are available for use along with the publication.

100 Varieties Known

There are at least 100 different types of cancer identifiable under a microscope. Most cancers occur in older people but some forms are found most often in children. Scientists know a lot about some cancers and can prevent their occurrence. The cause of many others is still entirely unknown.

CANCER CAN arise in any organ or tissue of the body. Its main characteristic is an abnormal, seemingly unrestricted growth of body cells. The resultant mass, or tumor, compresses, invades and destroys adjacent normal tissues.

Cancer cells can break off and leave the original mass, being carried by the blood to distant parts of the body, there setting secondary growths which attack and destroy the organs involved.

The number of cancer deaths has increased steadily in the U. S. for 50 years. However, this is a somewhat misleading fact because older people are the principal victims and the percentage of the population in that age group has risen sharply.

WHEN POPULATION ratios are taken into consideration, both the rate of occurrence of cancer and the death rate, have changed but little in a half century.

This is not true of specific types of cancer. Lung cancer among men, which was a relative rarity only 30 years ago, is now among the top three cancer killers of men. On the other hand, in the same period, stomach cancer among both men and women has dropped 80 percent in both occurrence and deaths. Science does not yet know why this is so.

Skin cancer is the most common variety among both men and women but most patients so afflicted are successfully treated and do not die of this disease.

Biopsy Needed to Confirm Diagnosis

There is no single reliable test for diagnosing cancer, since there are so many varieties. Usually a person has symptoms that causes his physician to suspect cancer. Here are the most important "danger signals"

1. Any sore that does not heal, particularly on the lips, tongue, ears, eyelids, or the genital organs.

2. A PAINLESS lump or thickening that persists.

- Every diagnosis of cancer made by a physician is subject to confirmation by a biopsy. This is a surgical procedure in which a small piece of suspect tissue is removed, placed in a preservative, cut in very thin slices, placed on a glass slide, stained with special dyes, and examined under a microscope. A biopsy may be performed quickly during surgery.

NEW YORK NEEDS SHER-LOCK

NEW YORK (AP) - Some New York cops could stand a few lessons from Sherlock Holmes. Fifteen of them recently were invited to watch a new movie, "Ten Little Indians," based on the Agatha Christie mystery classic, and to try to guess who the murderer is. They marked their guesses on a card during a 60-second "whodunit break" just before the movie's climax. The results: with two suspects to choose from as the murderer, eight of the cops guessed wrong.

Civic Project Chosen By Club

Aid in supplying tableware for the newly-remodeled County Bull Barn, to ready it for use as a banquet room or for convention meals, was selected as a project of Hereford Study Club by members meeting Thursday evening.

Mrs. Marvin Knox was hostess in her home and Mrs. Baxter London presided for business. Club members agreed to contribute to the purchase of flatware for the Bull Barn.

Mrs. T. W. Braddy was director of the program on the generally subject, Education. She discussed the work of school counselors, telling of their training and duties in a variety of situations.

The next club meeting will take members to Canyon to see West Texas State University Opera Workshop's production of the musical, Carousel, on April 21. This will be the club's annual Fine Arts program.

Other members present were Mrs. J. W. Witherspoon, Miss Gladys Setliff and C. R. Winget, Ed Wilson Jr., Maurice Tan nahill, Don Robinson, W. H. Gentry, Johnny Clark and N. D. Bartlett Jr.

Frio News

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Brand Correspondent

Mrs. W. H. Thompson, former resident of this community, is much improved after having been seriously ill. She has been in Deaf Smith County hospital more than two weeks. All the Thompson children except one daughter, Mrs. Charles Gregg of Guthrie, Okla., came to be with the Thompsons during the critical period of her illness. Mrs. Gregg was ill and could not come.

Milton Thompson of Vallejo, Calif., flew; Wade, his wife and Ann, Steven and Jeff, children from Muncie, Ind., drove through. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Thompson and Glenna, one of their five children, came from Oklahoma City as did Mrs. Otho Snow, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Irwin and children, Connie, Lynn and Diana, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Starry and Billy, Keith and Walter. The three women are Thompson daughters.

The Rev. and Mrs. Bill Hindman and children, Mark and Dale of Farmersville were here. He is pastor of Trinity Baptist Church there. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Meacham of Dallas also came. He is in college and she will be a graduate nurse in June. The other daughter is Mrs. Don Cox, who with her family lives in Hereford.

Members of the three Hereford High School, FHA chapters attended Frio Baptist Church in a group Sunday evening, observing National FHA Week. Jana Cole is president of Royal Rose Chapter Adult sponsors accompanying them were Mrs. J. J. Durham and Mrs. Joe Bradley. Also present was Mrs. O. G. Hill, Jr., chapter mother. Refreshments were served to the guests and others in the congregation in the church dining room after the services.

Miss Reba Hall accompanied Mrs. Noah Spencer and her daughter, Ann, of Sunnyside to Brownwood last weekend to attend the Statewide G. A. Queens Court observance. All Intermediate Girl Auxiliary members who had completed steps to the standard required of Queens were honorees in the three days of programs. Reba is a member of Intermediate G. A. of Frio Baptist Church.

Frio Homemakers Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Edgar Vinson at Hereford. The program was by members of Frio Jolly Workers 4-H clubs. Several from here, including the Rev. and Mrs. Sam Ogan, attended funeral services at Calvary Baptist Church, Friona, for Mrs. J. L. Taylor Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Taylor, grandmother of Dee Taylor of this community, died suddenly Sunday afternoon after having been ill for three years. She was 72 years of age.

THEY'LL DRINK AND DRIVE

LONDON (AP) — More than half of Britain's seven million drivers see nothing wrong in having "a drink or two" despite government propaganda to the contrary, says an Automobile Association club report just issued.

The AA, which has more than three million members, reports that a survey shows that about 13 per cent of British drivers don't drink because they are abstainers and 37 per cent make a point of abstaining when driving.

Of those who do drink and drive, says the survey, a third estimate that three drinks is a safe consumption, one in 10 do not know and the remainder reckon that up to six drinks is reasonable.

Nearly half of all car owners consider that the "rule of three" — three half pints of beer or three single whiskies — is reasonable, one fifth think drivers should not drink at all, while research shook me up quite a bit. The part that most shoppers are not carrying shopping lists. Here's a part of the story:

The family shopper, most often the homemaker, is spending an average of 26 minutes shopping at her local supermarket which is larger and has more items than five years ago. Most shoppers are not carrying shopping lists but are relying instead on what they see in the supermarket for suggestions.

The Du Pont film department started gathering information about the buying habits of the consuming public in 1935. The "Seventh Study" covered a sampling of 7,147 shoppers in 345 representative supermarkets distributed nationally in 63 metropolitan areas.

Over half the shopping, 54.7 alone, but 15.2 percent of the women shop with one child, 10.5 percent of the men do the shopping alone and 8.6 percent of husbands and wives shop together. Over half of today's shoppers are between 30 and 49 years of age and more than half are buying for three people or less.

Nearly one-fourth of the homemakers shop once a week while another one-fourth shop twice

Girl Uninjured In Auto Mishap

A 13-year-old Deaf Smith County girl escaped with only minor scratches as the vehicle she was driving struck four trees after slipping from a dirt road 10 miles northwest of Hereford Wednesday night.

Denice Ann Melton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Melton of Rt. 4, told an investigating Highway Patrolman that the 1961 model stationwagon she was driving ran off the road when she looked away from the road.

The auto then crossed a shallow harditch, grazed two trees, struck a third head-on, and swung around to hit a fourth tree broadside.

The vehicle was demolished, investigators said, but Miss Melton was uninjured. The mishap occurred shortly after 7 p. m.

The mother of the girl was cited for permitting an unlicensed minor to drive on a public road.
