

School Business Manager Resigns

Kelly Accepts New Mexico Job

Dillie Kelley, business manager of Hereford Public Schools resigned late Friday afternoon. Board members accepted his resignation Saturday morning at a called breakfast meeting.

Kelley is accepting a position as business manager of Southwest Cooperative Educational Laboratory, Albuquerque and asked to be relieved of responsibility November 4.

Roy Hartman and Bill Phillips will fill in until permanent arrangements are made for a replacement.

Kelley's letter stated that he would have a higher salary. Kelley was presently receiving $12,000 a year. Also, he said that he would have fewer responsibilities and shorter hours.

The business manager had a two year contract with Hereford schools. He came to the system July, 1965.

Supt. Johnny Clark said that he hated to lose Kelley, but if it had to be, that this is the best time of year for a business manager to change.

During the year is a difficult time for teachers to make changes, but the managerial positions require heavy summer work to prepare the school for fall opening.

Clark explained that most of the heavy responsibilities for this term have been met, mentioning the first payroll, football tickets, etc.

Kelley has been in charge of the cafeteria program and the transportation system as well as other purchasing and expenditures.

It was the general consensus of those board members present Saturday morning that Kelley had had too heavy a load.

The bus problems culminating in a citizens meeting with the school board added heavily to the burdens of the office, one school official explained Friday.

At the called meeting, the board was told by Clark that a separation of duties that would allow the business manager of the school to have closer contact with principals and the actual curriculum of the system would seem preferable to him. He proposed the hiring of more men, the duties of special classes such as the PESO reading stations and other manager.

Veigel Named Young Farmer

Bob Veigel was named Young Farmer of the Year at a banquet last night. Workhorse of the organization is Floy Driver. Named Young Homemaker of the year was Mrs. Clark Andrews.

The two organizations Young Farmers and Young Homemakers, had their awards banquet together at Hickory Log.

Farmer of the Year Veigel lives 10 miles north of Hereford and farms about four sections of land.

He raises soybeans, and vetch as soil builders. Usual crops for the area are also on his farm. One unusual feature of his operations is 20-30 acres of pecan trees, planted near his home.

The Veigel family lives on the farm. Ella Marie and Bob have two children, one boy and one girl.

The award winner was presented a plaque by the local chapter and is now eligible for Panhandle area competition and if the area winner, to compete in the state contest. State winners receive awards valued between $8000 and $10,000.

Speaker of the evening was Jack Tompkins, farm editor of Channel 10 TV, Amarillo. Special guests included county commissioners and their wives.

Herd Chalks Two District Victories

By TOM PORTER

Take one part high powered offense, one part rock hard defense, throw in one talented toe and a whole lot of ball control. Mix thoroughly for four quarters and you have a 10-0 football victory. At least that's what the Hereford Whitefaces got Friday night against the Perryton Rangers before a large homecoming crowd in Whiteface Stadium.

The win, sixth of the year against a single defeat and second straight in District 1-AAA competition, keeps the Herd in a first-place tie with Dumas and Tullia.

The Demons ran over Canyon 47-8 Friday night, while Tullia slammed Muleshoe 28-0.

The Whiteface offense, honed to a fine finish and looking better each week, dominated play throughout most of the game as they had 75 total offensive plays to only 36 for the Rangers. Perryton got the ball for only seven plays and 2:30 in the final period, while Hereford ran 24 plays and scored the vital touchdown. After Hereford took the opening kickoff and moved to the Perryton 20 before giving up the football, the Rangers cranked up what turned out to be their most serious drive of the night.

The visitors got a crucial first down by a 15-yard penalty against the Herd and moved on down to the Hereford 4. Whiteface defensive ace Donnie Fangman set the Ranger quarterback in reverse for a seven-yard loss and Perryton was forced to try a field goal from the 11. The kick was no good.

After the two teams exchanged drives several times in the second quarter, Hereford took over on their own 33 with 50 seconds left in the half. Elusive Halfback Ernie Williams thought nothing of the distance to the goal and broke loose for a rapid 34 yards and a fast down on the Ranger 33. Two plays later, Quarterback Phillip Cain booted the pigskin through the uprights from the 33 and the Herd had a 3-0 lead.

An inside kick following the score was recovered by Hereford near midfield and the high spirited partisan crowd began to chant, "kick another field goal." The half ended, however, as QB Jim Childers was trapped for a loss while attempting to pass.

Hereford End Bill Watts took personal charge of the first Perryton drive of the second half, tackling the passer for an eight-yard loss and then intercepting an aerial on the next play at the Hereford 26.

On the next Perryton drive, Childers stepped to the forefront for the Whitefaces. The long, lean junior put the stop to one Ranger who broke into the clear and appeared headed for paydirt, then stretched high in the air to bat down a Ranger aerial.

Following defensive heroics by Childers and the Whiteface forward wall, the aroused Herd took over on its own 23 and began to march toward the promised land. Behind the running of Halfbacks Billy Frank and Gary Tucker, Fullback Tony Malouf and Williams, the team moved steadily downfield until Malouf bulled his way over from the one yard line with 8:21 left in the game. Cain, who had completed a 14-yard pass to End Mike Davis in the drive, split the uprights for a 10-0 lead.

Sticky-fingered Charles Brewton got the ball back for Hereford on the first play following the touchdown when he intercepted a Ranger aerial on the Perryton 42. The Herd, feeling gracious, returned the ball after one play by fumbling.

Hereford made one more stab at scoring after they took over on their own 41 with 5:01 left in the game. With only seconds left, Cain passed from the Ranger 20 to Tucker, who made it to the three. A clipping penalty was called on the play. See HERD Page 2

Two Vista Volunteers Receive Job Transfers

Denise Walkman is remaining in Hereford and will be joined by three new workers by the middle of November.

Chubb has been reassigned to Dardeneña, Ark. and Miss Ferris has been transferred to Port Lavaca, and possibly will go on to Laredo.

Board of directors of the Migrant Ministry met Saturday morning and were told of the change in plans by Virgil Dodson, president of the group.

The two volunteers had asked for transfers because of personal reasons, Dodson said.

The workers come to Hereford under the sponsorship of the Ministry but this year, the Ministry has supplied only program money and furnished the apartments. The government is paying rent, food, clothing and travel allowances for the workers.

The workers live among the people with whom they are working. Assignments are made by VISTA in Washington but the group works directly under the supervision of Eunice Wasques. See TWO Page 2

Vandals Strike

Vandals struck early for Halloween — destroyed film of the Whiteface ball game that was in the Perryton bus.

It was reported that this film was tossed through windows at LaPlata Junior High — in any event windows were broken in this school.

Other destruction included extensive damage to the fountain at Kings Manor. Two or more of the lamps in the fountain were broken and a pipe was bent. The ropes to the flag pole were broken and a pipe was bent. The ropes to the flag pole have been cut.

Police are investigating the incidents.

J.D. Kirkland Will Head National Well Drillers

They say professions aren't hereditary but you can't tell J. D. Kirkland that. He is now serving as president of the National Water Well Drillers Contractors Association and each of his six sons and one son-in-law either is presently or has been associated with the water well business.

Those sons presently associated with water wells are J. D., Jr. of Amarillo, Gerald Ray who owns Kirkland Pump in Farwell, N. M.; Jack who works at Hereford Pipe and Supply; Walter, who owns Kirkland Construction Co. and works with West Texas Drilling and his daughter Alice's husband, who works with water well drilling in Farwell.

Neither of his twin sons are presently in the water well business, though Billy Dean who works in Amarillo has been in business with his father and "probably will again." Bobby. See KIRKLAND Page 2

Political Picture Comes Into Focus

Starting off with a relatively mild Democratic primary, November 8 election prospects are ranging full fire with the surprise resignation of Sheriff Lowell Sharp and the announcement of democratic, republican and two write-in candidates.

Under 2500 voters named the democratic candidates May 7 to be on the upcoming ballot except for one run-off between C. B. Miles and Ernest Wade — Wade getting the nod in the final analysis.

Judge H. C. Williams received 1294 votes in the primary with his opponent L. B. Russell receiving 1160.

Charlie Sowell received 573 votes in the primary for the office of Justice of the Peace with Miles tabbing 1021 and Wade 894. Donald Hicks, commissioner for precinct 4 received 105 votes and his opponent, Paul Metcalf received 47.

Strong interest has been evident in the county in the congressional race with Dee Miller running on the Demo side and Bob Price across from him on the Republican slate. Senator John Tower, Republican, is opposed by Waggoner Carr, Demo candidate for Senator.

Unopposed county officials on the ballot are B. F. Cain, County Clerk; Velma Hodges, County Treasurer; Lucille Posey, District Clerk; Ernest Wade, Justice of the Peace; A. J. Schroter, County Surveyor; and M. R. Latham Commissioner precinct Two and Hicks Commissioner precinct Four.

Leland (Pete) Cole is the only local name on the ballot in the Republican column and he is opposing Edward B. Brubaker, Democrat in the sheriff's race. Kenneth Maxwell and Charles Skinner are actively seeking the sheriff's office as write-in candidates. See story on this page for procedure for accurately writing a name in on the ballot.

Election interest built up momentum from the moment Sheriff Lowell Sharp submitted his resignation. He tendered his resignation Monday, October 17 with the Democratic Executive Committee having placed Ed Roberson's name on the ballot. The Republican Executive committee was notified and they picked Pete Cole just under the wire to get his name on the ballot. See POLITICAL

Amendments Get Appraisal

The government affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce met Friday at noon to discuss the proposed constitutional amendments facing Texas voters November 8.

The group, under the chairmanship of Joe Whitley decided to either approve, disapprove or pass each amendment after short discussion.

Action is in the form of recommendations, to the Chamber board that particular amendments be endorsed or rejected.

No action on an amendment is an indication that the amendment is not particularly applicable to this area or people, or that the committee did not have enough information about that particular article, or that the committee did not have full understanding as to the full import of the amendment.

The first to be favored by the group with a five to two vote was Amendment No. 1 which would provide tax refuge for persons (not corporations) with land adjacent urban areas who were still using that property for agricultural purposes and depending on it for their livelihood.

The second amendment, dealing with the formation of a multi-county taxing area or similar situation, where a taxing body is needed but not already functioning as a taxing agency, the group voted unanimously in favor. Specifically, this amendment will permit the formation of airport authorities.

An amendment dealing with the funding of Arlington State College not discussed by the group since it is not of particular consequence to this area — individuals will have opinions but community action seem unnecessary to the committee.

Amendment 4 adds a new section to the constitution limiting terms of office of directors of conservation and reclamation districts. The local committee felt that they did not have adequate information to discuss this amendment intelligently.

The group voted to recommend passage of amendment 5 which would give counties the authority to establish retirement, disability and death benefits. See AMENDMENTS Page 2

Balloting Needs Voter Attention

To vote properly in a Texas election, the name voted against must be marked out. Any name not marked through is getting the voters nod, the election judges assume.

In order for a voter to cast a vote for a write-in candidate, it is necessary to mark candidates for that office — move across the ballot to the write-in column and write in the individuals name for which the vote is intended under the title of office printed in that column.

Straight party voting can be done by marking through an entire column and leaving the party of your choice unmarked. All parties must be marked through except the one the voter is backing if this procedure is followed.

Constitutional amendments are voted using the same principal — marking out the one not wanted — either the FOR or the AGAINST portion under each number. Voters have 18 amendments to consider. See inside pages of this paper to read an analysis each of these amendments.

A FRIENDLY NATIVE? — Well, just refuse her a treat and see if you don't get tricked! Gene is in the Navy in Viet Nam right now, but his father says he will be working with him again when he returns.
Very often father and son teams work in the same line of business, but seldom will you find a father and six sons all interested in the same type of work.

Kirkland has long been a distinguished member of the Water Well Drillers Contractors Association and has held a number of offices at the state and national level.

He was installed as national president of the Association at the national convention in Columbus, Ohio this year. He will preside over next year's convention which will be held in Des Moines, Iowa. Kirkland says there were 2132 persons registered at the national convention and "It was a big success."

In addition to the honor of being named president of this association, Kirkland was given a surprise birthday party in his suite the night before his installation. It was attended by 80 people, including a group from Holland who have been touring the US and studying irrigation.

Kirkland has served as secretary, treasurer and president of the state association and of the national level he has been treasurer, secretary, vice president-elect. Now serving under Kirkland in national offices are G. E. Miller, Lawrenceburg, Tenn., vice president; George Keys, St. Paul, Minn., secretary; Richard Sullivan, Oakdale, Mass., treasurer and Robert Heater Cary, N. Carolina, president-elect.

Throughout his life Kirkland has served on city councils school boards and was deputy sheriff for several years. He has served on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and is now chairman of the Board of Water Well Drillers of Texas by appointment of Governor Connally.

Kirkland is an Oddfellow and a member of Avenue Baptist Church.

Some of his duties as president will be meeting with the board of directors of the Association four times during the year to guide the executive secretary and staff in the work they do. He will deal with legislative problems, correspond with other countries who seek knowledge of our systems of water well drilling and working closely with public relations of the Association.

Kirkland says he feels that being president of the national association is a "great honor, but it's a big responsibility, too... a very big responsibility." He will be asked to appear at several state conventions throughout the year and will probably make several television appearances during his term, Kirkland says.

Kirkland's wife, Sherry has been named president of the women's division of the national association in connection with her husband's work. He and his wife and their four-year-old daughter, Tina live at 146 Kingwood Drive.

Bob Price Speaks

Bob Price, Republican candidate for the 18th Congressional District seat, will be speaker during a Harvest-Time Barbecue and Rally at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.

Price is scheduled to speak on "Our American Heritage," and also will discuss the issues of our time.

Roy Faubion of KPAN Radio will serve as master of ceremonies and also will give first public hearing of a recording he has made. Faubion said the response to the recording which is a recitation concerning Viet Nam, will determine whether or not it will be cut for national distribution.

Mary Joe Godwin will sing the "Star Spangled Banner" and entertainment will be provided by the Hereford High School Brass Sextet and the Pampa Belles.

Six Qualify As Red Cross First Aid Instructors

Six Hereford residents are newly qualified to teach junior, standard or advanced Red Cross first aid courses, after a training session for instructors conducted by Gilbert Gribble, Red Cross first aid field representative.

Completing the course and passing tests were Milton Adams, Baxter London, Lea May, Craweek and Lottie Wertenberger. They had previously had the beginner and advanced courses.

Groups in the community interested in forming a first aid class are invited to notify Mrs. Genevieve Miller, executive secretary of Deaf Smith Red Cross Chapter. Since more instructors are available, she hopes that several classes will be in progress soon.

"It was a great pleasure to have had these Deaf Smith County citizens as member of the instructors course," said Gribble. "They now stand ready as volunteers to teach others in the community."

Standard and advanced first aid classes had been taught by Mrs. Bill Dameron and John Gilliland to precede the instructors class.

Kansas Farmers Tour Hereford

Touting the Panhandle Tuesday and Wednesday of this week will be a group of Kansas farmers who are interested in Texas farming. The group will be in Amarillo Nov. 1 and 2, though most of the 2nd will be spent in the Hereford area.

Accompanying these farmers is E. L. Vanmeter, county agricultural agent of Rush County, Kansas. Joining the tour of Hereford will be Deaf Smith County agricultural agent, Justin McBride, who will be available to answer any questions the farmers might ask.

Arriving in Hereford at approximately 11:20 a. m. Wednesday morning, the touring will begin with the Bravo Smoke plant. After lunch the group will tour Holly Sugar's feed lot and sugar factory. Later they will visit the Hereford Gin and view the processes there.

This band of Kansas farmers is making a complete tour of Texas farming.

Dinner Guests At Toastmasters

"Guest night will be held by the Hereford Toastmaster Club Thursday night at the Hickory Log Restaurant.

Speakers for the meeting will be Bob Rott, Ernie Neff and Ken Rudd. Serving as toastmaster will be V. E. Dodson, and general evaluator will be Stan Knox.

All members have been asked to bring a guest to the meeting. Awards last week went to Ken Coker and Bob Lohr.

Child's Book To Be Published

Mrs. Gladys Miller received word this week that a book she has written will be published by Naylor of San Antonio. The book was written with the technical assistance of Margaret Bell, Mrs. Miller said.

She and Mrs. Bell worked on the 37 chapter book together. The book is "Junior Dear" and is a historical novel relating to the area of Deaf Smith County during the thirties.

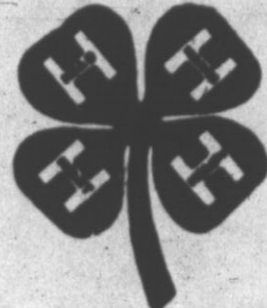

A sub-teen book, the book was written to appeal to older readers, Mrs. Miller said.

"It is my intention and hope that it will be read and enjoyed even by older people — making their minds go back to their own childhoods," she said.

Mrs. Miller has been writing for about 15 years. A fiction book, the story nevertheless has credence since Mrs. Miller reared several children in this area during the time of the story setting.

Her children are Jed, Odessa; Wilma Jean Jacobs, Edna; Herschel, Dawn; Joy Dmones, Elizabeth Indiana; and Robert, Hereford. She has 15 grandchildren.

Mrs. Miller's communication from the publisher said that her book was well written and suitable for schools and libraries. She is well launched into another book to be named "Irish Defoe."

NEWS

Meeting at the community center Monday evening the Happy Hustlers 4-H Club heard a speech by Melvin Jayroe, manager of Southwestern Public Service in Hereford.

Those receiving awards were: Kay Atchley, clothing; Charles Atchley, agriculture and field crops; Laroy Justice and Kenneth Justice, demonstration; Rodney Herr, food and home improvement; Bill Cole and James Lee, judging; Rodney Herr, electricity and Gary Goheen, Rodney Goheen and Charles Atchley, entomology.

Firemen Sell Extinguishers

The Hereford Fire Department in an effort to purchase a "Minteman" resuscitator, has intensified efforts to sell small fire extinguishers.

Fire Chief J. W. Dickerson Jr. said the proposed new addition to the department actually is three instruments in one. The emergency apparatus is listed as a resuscitator, which is an automatic breathing machine for use when the patient is not breathing; an inhalator, for use when the patient can breathe but needs more oxygen, and an aspirator, for use in clearing his air passages of mucus, froth, blood or other obstructions.

Proceeds from the sale of fire extinguishers will be used to pay for the resuscitator, said Dickerson. The $3.98 "Fires Out" extinguisher will put out small fires instantly and can be carried in the automobile. The pressurized can is operated with a push valve.

Extinguishers may be purchased from any fireman or at the fire department in City Hall.

Statistics from the contest showed how much Hereford dominated the Rangers. The Herd had 17 first downs to 10 for the visitors, 222 yards rushing and 50 yards passing while the Rangers had 91 and 55, and intercepted two aerials while Perryton stole one. Hereford received 10 penalties for 55 yards and Perryton had four for 25 yards, and the Herd lost two of four fumbles while Perryton lost one of three bobbles.

Watts and Childers each were credited with 11 defensive gems to lead the defense, while Williams gained 80 yards rushing on 12 carries, Frank rushed 56 yards on 16 carries, Malout got 42 yards on 9 carries and Tucker 40 yards on 15 carries.

Tucker caught two aerials for 36 yards and Davis nabbed the other completion for 14 yards. The Herd completed three of eight passing attempts, and Perryton had five of 18 caught.

Coach Jack Meredith said of Friday night's game in Muleshoe, "We've got to get ready for this one just like all the rest. They can't be taken lightly because they are a better football team than the scores against Dumas and Tuffa indicate. Two of Tuffa's touchdowns against them Friday night came with less than two minute left in the game."

A unanimous vote gave committee approval to amendment 6 authorizing the payment of assistance to surviving spouse and minor children of law enforcement officers, etc.

Number 7 received unanimous committee approval. This amendment clarifies the constitution on poll tax by ridding the state voters of the poll tax requirement which has already been institute an annual registration requirement.

Also receiving unanimous approval was Amendment 8 which would authorize the legislature to enact laws permitting voting in general elections even when local voting residence requirements are not met.

The committee took no action of amendments 9, 10, 13 and 15 for various reasons.

The board approved amendment 11 which would supply additional funding for the Texas Water Development Board, also amendment 12 providing for dissolution of hospital districts upon the discretion of the district.

Amendment 14 dealing with servicemen's right to vote was given unanimous approval, as was number 16 setting a date for elected member of the legislature to qualify and take office.

Annual Drive Set For CROP

The fellowship hall of the First Methodist church will be the gathering point for 500 CROP volunteers, tomorrow evening at 6:30, as they prepare for the annual halloween campaign.

The volunteers, high school and junior high students interested in collecting money for the Christian Rural Overseas Program, will each receive a section of the town to cover. Jim Arney, CROP campaign chairman, states that the students can canvass most of the town in three or four hours. Transportation will be provided for all needed it.

Last year, through the efforts of students interested in the program, CROP collected $1900 in the Hereford area. Of this total $1100 was collected during Halloween.

The volunteers will be working in groups of three and four, and will be wearing yellow identification tag, with the word "CROP, the Community Appeal of Church World Service." Arney asked that people not give money to students not carrying this identification.

Alertness Urged For Motorists

AUSTIN — The Texas Safety Association today warned motorists to be on the alert for "trick-or-treaters" on Halloween night and advised parents to take special precautions to make the annual fun festival safe for children.

"Halloween night can be a happy time for children, or it can be tragic," J. O. Musick, "Far too often a serious accident tags along on a broomstick."

The safety director pointed out that as youngsters gaily roam the streets, they get so wrapped-up in their activities that they often forget their safety rules.

"They fail to look both ways when crossing streets, often cross in the middle of a block and quite frequently dart in front of oncoming traffic," he said. "It's up to all motorists to be on the alert for such actions."

He suggested parents cooperate in the Halloween safety drive by dressing youngsters properly. Avoid face masks as they restrict the child's ability to see. Try cosmetics for facial decoration. Make sure youngsters carry flashlights when they are out after dark. They can see where they are going and motorists can see them. If it is necessary for a child to wear a dark costume, make sure it has plenty of reflective tape strips on it.

In addition to seeing that youngsters are safe in traffic, Musick warned parents to keep them away from unsupervised bonfires and to forbid carrying pumpkins lighted by candles. Halloween costumes also should be close-fitting enough to prevent serious falls.

"The hosts that haunt our streets on Halloween are very much alive," he concluded. "Let us see that they stay that way."

College News About Students From This Area

SHERMAN — Woodrow Mitchell Bonesio of Hereford is one of 204 Austin College students named to the Dean's List for spring 1966.

Bonesio, a senior last spring, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holt of 122 Avenue D. in Hereford.

The Dean's List, released by Dean Leo L. Nussbaum, is composed of students with a grade average of 3.25 or better for last spring. Broken down by classification there were 47 freshmen, 38 sophomores, 44 post-graduate.

Three Athletes And One Manager Join Honor Hall

AUSTIN — Three former athletic greats and an "all-America manager" who became a leading ambassador of good will for The University of Texas will be inducted into the Longhorn Hall of Honor in ceremonies here Nov. 23.

The four newest members will be enshrined at the Crystal Ballroom of the Driskill Hotel the night before the A&M-Texas football game here. The banquet starts at 6:30 p. m.

The four, representing three sports at the University, are Harvey "Clink" Wallender, sprint star of the thirties who still holds a share of the Southwest conference 220-yard dash record; Gover "OX" Emerson, one of the greatest guards in UT history who played on the 1930 conference grid champions; F. T. "Star" Baldwin, baseball captain and star infielder of Uncle Billy Disch's 1911 and 1912 teams and who is called the "father of the Hall of Honor," and Billy "Rooster" Andrews, who gained fame as the "all-America waterboy" and placekicker on the Texas war-time teams of the forties.

The Hall of Honor was organized in 1957. Four new members have been added each year, bringing the current total to 40.

Wallender, a successful independent oil operator in Tyler, is the only sprinter in Southwest conference history to win both the 100 and 220-yard dash titles in each of three varsity seasons. He captained the 1936 championship team and anchored the great UT relay teams of Clyde Littlefield that had consistent success at the Texas, Kansas, Drake and Penn Relays.

His 20.5 clockings in the 220 in the 1935 and 1936 SWC meets were still in the record books when the straightaway race was made into a curve event in 1964.

Emerson, now coach of Lanier high school in Austin, gained all-conference laurels as an all-around lineman on the Longhorn championship team of 1930. He is a native of Orange and later had a great professional grid career with the Detroit Lions where he was all-pro for five of his eight years. He has been a successful coach at Wayne University, Del Mar Junior College, Alice and Austin high schools and was an assistant coach at Texas in the early 1950's.

Baldwin, an outstanding Houston lawyer for over 40 years, was an outstanding infielder for Disch's Longhorn baseball team before World War I, helped found the Longhorn Hall of Honor and is a past president of the Hall of Honor Council. He is the father-in-law of Former Texas Governor Price Daniel.

Andrews, president of C&S Sporting Goods company with headquarters in Austin, served as manager of Longhorn grid teams for four years during WW II while doubling as a drop-kicking extra-point specialist. He served as manager for the East-West Shrine game one year and was a manager of the College All-Stars for five years at Chicago. He also lettered on the 1944 UT baseball team. Once sent in to draw a base on balls, he punched a hit over the infield to score the winning run. He's known as one of UT's top ambassadors of good will.

'Pressed' Cotton More Resistant

Durably pressed cotton garments with improved abrasion resistance can be made from fabrics chemically treated by a new process, a team of U. S. Scientists reports.

The new process, still in the laboratory stages of development, has been used to treat small lots of cotton fabrics, which exhibited up to twice the abrasion resistance of control material process used to impart durable creases.

Research leading to the new process is part of a continuing program by USDA's Agricultural Research Service to help improve cotton's position in the highly competitive textile market. Responsible for the work are ARS Chemists Wilson A. Reeves, Carl Hamalainen, Hubert H. St. Mard, and Albert S. Cooper, Jr., working at ARS' Southern utilization research laboratory, New Orleans, La.

The experimental process involves 2 separate chemical treatments whereas conventional processes require only 1. Laboratory scientists don't yet know why cotton treated by the new process resists abrasion better than cotton given present treatments.

To test the abrasion resistance of fabric made by the new pro-

Ghost Riders Aid Olympic Funding

CANYON — The Ghost Riders, a male student organization dedicated to boost athletic team and campus spirit here at West Texas State University, have joined the nationwide drive to help raise money for the United States Olympic Team.

Outfitted in red corduroy shirts, the 50 WT Ghost Riders will be seeking voluntary contributions from spectators at the West Texas State-Memphis State Game here in Buffalo Bowl Saturday night.

The cost of selecting, outfitting, training, transporting, housing and feeding more than 1,100 of America's finest young amateur athletes through the Olympic Games is $3,500,000. This amount is derived from contributions by people throughout America, without government subsidy, and is the responsibility of the United States Olympic Committee.

The Olympic Team's first competition will come July 22-August 7, 1967 when they compete in the V Pan American Games in Winnipeg, Canada. The X Olympic Games are held six months later, followed by the XIX Olympiad Games in Mexico City eight months later.

Abalos Is Named Teacher Of Year

The Deaf Smith County Unit of the Texas Classroom Teachers Association announces that the Teacher of the Year for this county is Paul Abalos, special education teacher at Stanton Jr. High School. Abalos is now eligible for the state and national title.

Abalos, who began supporting himself and his family when he finished junior high school, has a BS degree for special education and expects to get an MEd degree next summer. He has taught nine years in regular classrooms and two years in special education.

A member of the men's clubs of his church, Abalos also works with the migrant ministry and is secretary of the Piasano Lions Club of Hereford.

He works in a sports program for underprivileged children, helps people find jobs and homes, works with the Latin Americans trying to get the percentage of voting higher and has a radio program in which he explains laws, responsibilities, etc. to the Latin Americans.

Abalos is a member of several professional organizations including the National Educators Association, Texas State Teachers Association and Texas Classroom Teachers Association. He is First Vice President of TCTA.

He and his wife, Pilar, have five children. They live at 97 N. Lee.

First runner-up for title of Teacher of the Year is Mrs. Mabel Wilson, Northwest Elementary School teacher. Mrs. Wilson was graduated from West Texas State University with a BS degree and a Master degree in education.

She is a member of Sigma Chi, Kappa Phi and Omicron Phi. She was also a member of an honorary home economics national organization. Mrs. Wilson is a member of several professional organizations including TSTA, NEA and TCTA.

Mrs. Caudie Brown, Lottie Berger and Margaret Durham were also nominees for Teacher of the Year. All are members of the NEA, TSTA, and TCTA.

In addition, Mrs. Brown is a member of Delta Kappa Gamma and TAIR. Mrs. Wertenberger is a member of Western Arts, Texas Art Association, International China Painters, Porcelain Art Club of Amarillo and the Hereford A.T. Guild. Miss Durham is a member of the Wesleyan Service Guild, Delta Kappa Gamma and the National home economics organization.

Paul Abalos Teacher of Year

She acts as sponsor for FHA and Young Homemakers and works with the American Field Service. She is also a member of the Lone Star Study Club.

Mrs. Wertenberger teaches at LaPlata Jr. High School and also sponsors the Red Cross organization there.

Mrs. Brown also teaches in LaPlata, though she taught at Stanton until this year. Mrs. Durham teaches home economics at Hereford High School.

Mrs. Sheppard Club Hostess

Mrs. Clois Kemp directed the when Mrs. Edith Sheppard was hostess in her home and Mrs. Clint Lundy was speaker on the topic, My Neighbor. Mrs. M. J. Koelzer presided for business.

The hostess gift went to Mrs. George Miner, the penny-ante gift to Mrs. Elmer Fryar. Mrs. Denzil Pulliam and Sharon Pulliam were guests. The next meeting, Nov. 8, was announced for the home of Mrs. C. E. Watts.

Cancer Society To Hear Report

Dr. Bruce Beene will report on the recent state meeting of the American Cancer Society, which he attended in Houston, to members of the Deaf Smith County chapter and visitors Thursday evening.

The chapter meeting will begin at 8 p. m. in Community Center, and Mrs. Armon Luderback, chairman, announces that the public is invited to this and all Cancer Society programs.

By MELVIN YOUNG

"If we go by the bumper stickers," according to one local party official, "this fellow ROBO is going to win the sheriff's race hands-down."

Voting in the 1966 general election has become a little more complicated perhaps than in past years, and in view of this, we might discuss in this column today, some of the trouble spots.

One of the biggest misconceptions of all, we suppose, is the idea that one cannot split a ticket. That is, vote for some Democrats and some Republicans. This idea has caused many to stay away from the polls time and time again when their political party nominates a person or persons who they cannot support. Rather than "splitting" the ticket, these people have consistently "gone fishing."

But to vote, in any election, is not just a privilege. We would consider it more a responsibility. An obligation to pick the man or woman who will, in the voters opinion, discharge the duties and obligations of the office to the best of his or her ability.

It is your responsibility to choose the man or woman who will fill each of these offices, and you should weigh their qualifications, their willingness to work, their integrity, their ability and then vote for the person, regardless of party affiliation, who will make the best possible public official.

Don't let anyone intimidate you. Vote for whoever you please. It's your vote and your decision to make.

There is one rule however, that all remember. Vote properly. If you're voting for a write-in candidate, be sure that you scratch out the names of the other candidates, however many there may be on the ballot. Many people, wanting to vote for a write-in candidate, fail to scratch the other names appearing on the ballot and consequently, their ballot is subject to being "tossed-out." A lot depends on the election judge of course. Some are quite lenient on this point, and if the voter's "intent" is clear, they will accept the ballot.

But don't put the burden of responsibility on the election judge. Do it right, and it will make his job much easier.

And speaking of responsibility, we would remind you that serving in a public capacity is a great responsibility. It should not be taken lightly. And whoever chooses to serve the public most certainly will at some time or another incur the wrath of an aroused citizenry. It is inevitable. But the official who is conscientiously dealing with all the problems of the office need not be too concerned about a little criticism.

If you have a complaint, let the party in question know about it. Get the idea that you must threaten one with violence. Besides, he just might accept your challenge!

Judge E. C. Nelson, the gentleman who has been filling in for Judge Harry Schultz of the 69th Judicial District, was telling us recently about an incident that happened while he was still serving on the bench.

It seems a lunatic was being taken to the state hospital at Wichita Falls by a deputy sheriff from Amarillo.

Although the man had been committed to the mental institution, all outward appearances would indicate nothing more than an ordinary, level-headed citizen. He was clean shaven, well dressed and showed no particular signs of having a disturbed mind.

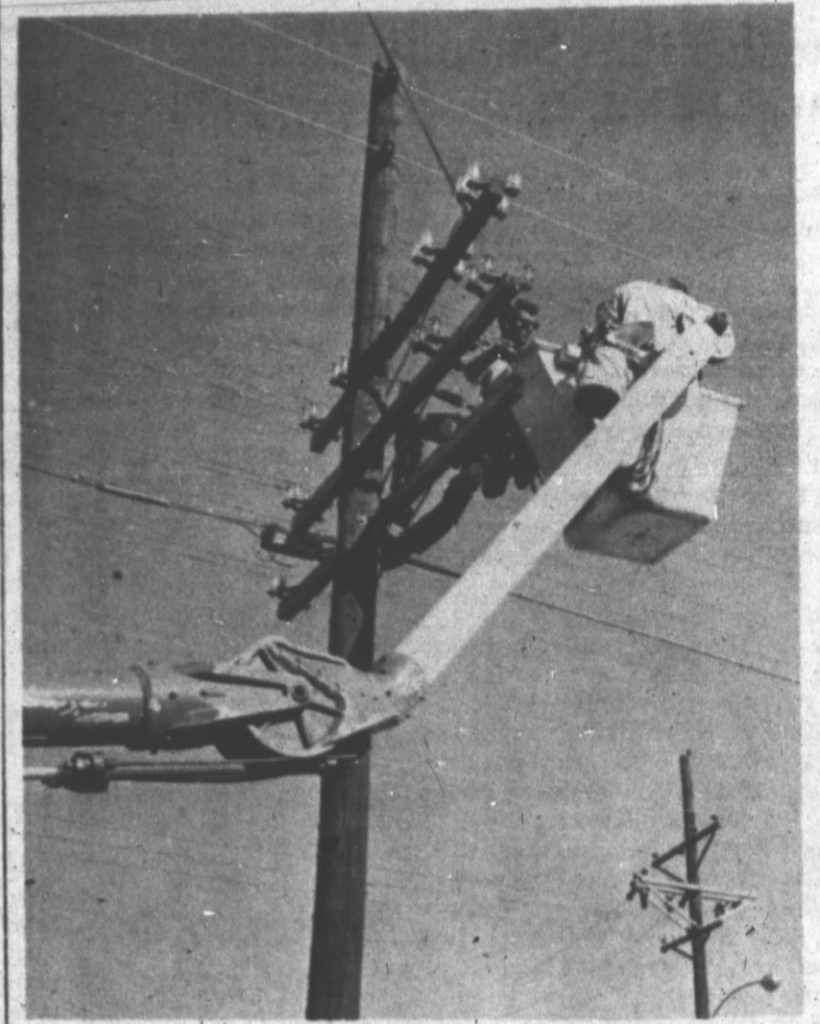

When entering the institution at Wichita however, the lunatic stepped forward and told the attendant "I have a man to commit."

The startled deputy could only stammer his protests.

It finally took a phone call back to Amarillo to get the situation straightened out — to find out who was the deputy sheriff, and which one was he lunatic.

Everyone within listening distance thought the above story pretty funny. Everyone that is, except District Attorney Bill Humer, who experienced a similar situation himself.

It seems that Hunter, along with Sheriff Lowell Sharp and Otham County Sheriff Harold Wheeler had been to Missouri to extradite a man who was being charged with swindling in Deaf Smith County.

On the return trip, the trio stopped along the way for the night and as is the usual procedure, went by the local jail to lodge the prisoner for the night. The prisoner was dressed in a business suit, looking every bit as dapper as Perry Mason. The District Attorney however, was in his shirt sleeves, and having a heavy beard anyhow, was looking a little worse-for-wear by the time the group arrived at the stop-over.

The jailer looked at Hunter, back to the prisoner, back to Hunter and back to Sheriff Sharp who was grinning from ear-to-ear. Hunter was saved from the lock-up by the prisoner who stepped forward and identified himself.

"I felt sure," said Hunter, "that Lowell would identify me eventually, but I didn't know when."

"A joke is a joke," said Hunter, "but I wasn't looking forward to spending the night in jail."

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin R. Gordon, 213 Beach, announce the engagement of their daughter, Vicky Kay, to Joseph H. Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Adams of Vincennes, Ind.

Both Miss Gordon and her fiance are students in Eastern New Mexico University at Portales. She is an elementary education major. He is to graduate next June with a degree in industrial arts. Active in student affairs of ENMU-campus, Adams is a member of Alpha Alpha Chi fraternity.

Definite date for the wedding has not been set.

Local Minister Attends Confab

Rev. Clifford Trotter of Hereford represented his district at the annual meeting of the Methodist Home's Board of Commissioners in Waco.

Rev. Trotter will have the key role in orienting Methodists of the Amarillo area as to the importance of the annual Christmas offering which will be made in Methodist churches throughout Texas and New Mexico in December.

Bishop W. Kenneth Pope addressed the 157 who attended the meeting in Waco Wednesday and Thursday (Oct. 26 & 27). He listed the Methodist Home's recent advances in the field of child-care and challenged Methodist laymen and ministers in Texas and New Mexico to do their parts to aid in the Homes continued program.

"There are more than 360 children on the campus at The Methodist Home today, and the average child there is the by-product of a home destroyed by alcohol, divorce, crime, mental illness or desertion," said Rev. Trotter.

"We are dedicated to contributing our support to the staff's ask of providing love, understanding and special counseling and to furnishing food, clothing and shelter for these children. The Methodist Home has a heart-warming 78-year record of working to provide a child with a healthy, normal life and with the ability to make his own way and meet the demands of society," added Rev. Trotter.

Optimists Hear Newspaper Whys

A brief look at the newspaper world "one of the most fascinating and often frustrating professions in the world," was presented the Hereford Optimist Club during its noon luncheon Thursday.

Melvin Young, general manager of the Hereford Brand, told the Optimists that "the newspaper, either small or large, has four primary purposes — to inform, influence, entertain and serve."

"No other news media has as much influence on public opinion as the newspaper," said Young. "Over the centuries they have been protectors of freedom. Emperors and kings have lost power because of newspapers, and a dictatorship cannot get a toehold in a country where there is freedom of the press."

Quoting, Young said, "People without reliable news is sooner or later a people without freedom," and "the job of the news paper is to comfort the afflicted and to afflict the comfortable."

"If you notice a little dig in our paper at times," said Young, "we may be afflicting the comfortable."

Young traced the history of the newspaper from its beginning, described the first newspapers in the United States, and outlined its contents. "The newspaper industry is unique," he continued, "in that we have to plan, manufacture and sell an entirely new product every day, or twice a week in our case."

The editorial page was described by Young as "probably the most misunderstood part of the paper. Editors and publishers have definite opinions on issues and express it through the editorial page or a column with his name at the top."

Young closed by saying, "I recommend that you read more than one newspaper, especially the editorial page and news stories. You would be surprised what your candidate really stands for."

WHICH WAY DID IT GO? — The driver of this large express truck, right, got quite a shock Friday in the parking lot of Hi-Way 60 Truck Stop, Inc., when the trailer came loose and remained behind. No damage was caused to the trailer, which was raised up by a wrecker so the truck would back into position. Attendants at the station said the driver apparently had failed to check the trailer. Common Warts Are Contagious Almost all of us have warts at some time in our lives. Ordinary warts are not dangerous to health. About half of all warts eventually disappear even if untreated.

In a new pamphlet the American Medical Association reports that a wart is a viral infection of the skin. It also can be described as a virus-caused growth. Ordinary warts are not malignant and do not become so.

Adults are less likely to have warts than children. This may be the result of an acquired immunization — a build-up of antibodies — that occurs as a person grows older. And, of course, some people never get warts, while others have dozens of warts covering extensive areas of the body.

Warts are contagious. They can be transmitted from one person to another. Scratching or picking at warts sometimes causes them to spread. They can also be spread by shaving over them or by brushing and combing the hair if there are warts in the scalp.

Warts can occur on any part of the skin, but most often appears on the hands, fingers, and on the soles of the feet. Those on the soles — plantar warts — cause the most trouble. Because of the pressure of shoes and walking, they are pushed inward instead of bulging outward, sometimes causing sharp pain.

Usually warts are treated medically only when they are tender or painful, when they interfere with functions of the body or when they are so located as to be unattractive cosmetically. There are several methods of treatment. Your physician will

WOMEN OF EARLY AMERICAN HISTORY

At present there is a trend in books and magazines to stress women's place in the past and present. There was a time when the average or above average woman's place was an inconspicuous one and she was given little credit except in wife or mother roles.

Frank Donovan's latest book entitled 'The Women in Their Lives-The Distaff Side of the Founding Fathers, sets out to give credit to both mothers and wives of these famous men. Donovan has written ten other biographies or histories among which are 'The Americanism of Barry Goldwater and Mr. Roosevelt's Four Freedoms. He has also written seven juvenile histories.

Before beginning to write of the wives of the founding fathers he has a chapter on their mothers and how little is known about them because in documents and letters written by the sons all the credit is given to their fathers.

In writing of the wives, the author seeks to give as many facts as possible about their lives, backgrounds — their place of importance in lives of the fathers of our country. Included in this group we find chapters of: The Many Interests of Benjamin Franklin; The Unlucky loves of George Washington; the one Woman of John Adams; The Tragic Loves of Thomas Jefferson; The Two Women of Alexander Hamilton and The Late Love of James Madison.

Beside the women who became their wives, the early or youthful loves are also mentioned, including women from the peasant to Patrician lineage. But their wives were all virtuous, industrious, old fashioned (even in their day) and they served well as help-mates to their husbands. All earned and deserve more credit than they have been given, the author thinks.

Their lives together ran from ten to forty years. Jefferson's wife died after ten years, Alexander Hamilton and wife had been married twenty-five years when he was killed in a duel with Aaron Burr and she lived many more years. The other four couples lived forty or more years together.

One of the best educated wives and most able women to be of political aid to her husband was Abigail Adams. The most diplomatic and most entertaining was Dolley Madison. A supplementary reading for this book we recommend an article in September Geographic Magazine entitled 'Mr. Jefferson's Monticello' which enlarges on his ability and contribution to our heritage.

Pioneer Banking Is Club Topic

Sidelights on banking in Hereford and nearby Panhandle counties in pioneer times were given by Mrs. Sue James as interesting notes in her talk on Southwestern Banking at a meeting of Calliopean Study Club Thursday evening.

Mrs. B. F. Cain was hostess in her home for the program, one of a series on The Great Southwest. Mrs. James, club president, is on the staff of First National Bank here.

Sketching a history of Panhandle banking, she said the first bank was founded in Canadian, and before 1900 others followed at Clarendon, Panhandle, then Amarillo. Hereford had a bank in 1900, she added.

She read from old minutes of the Panhandle Bankers' Association to give an insight into methods and problems of early-day banks.

Invitations from two other clubs were read, asking members to attend the sampling luncheon to be sponsored by L'Allegria Club Nov. 3 and the Music Study Club's 50th anniversary tea Nov. 13.

Refreshments were served to 13 club members. Announcement was made of the next meeting, Nov. 10, in Mrs. Ansel McDowell's home.

Rushes Of KI To Be Honored

A preferential tea for rushees of Kappa Iota Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday in the Calson House. The tea will conclude a series of rush parties and a model meeting which have introduced rushees to the sorority chapter.

Fall rituals will be conducted Tuesday evening in Community Center for both chapters, with the City BSP Council as hostess.

It will honor not only the new members of Kappa Iota, but several of that chapter's members who have completed its program and are entering the exemplar chapter, Xi Epsilon Alpha.

INFANT IS BURIED

Graveside funeral services for Martin Salinas, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Salinas, Griffin Brand Barracks, were conducted by the Rev. Euman Walsh at St. Anthony's Catholic Cemetery Saturday afternoon. Burial was directed by Gilliland Funeral Home. The baby was born Oct. 3, 1966. The family recently came here from Dimmitt.

Date Fixed For Holiday Gift Bazaar

With an art table as a new feature, and such popular past features as a tasting table and handmade gift display, Women of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church will hold their annual holiday bazaar Nov. 19.

Recently remodeled, the church building will offer better facilities this year for serving food and showing the sale articles, says Mrs. Howard Johnson, who will be general chairman.

Mrs. Bill Waldrep will head the committee for the tasting table, at which food made by members from their choice recipes will be available for sampling and copies of the recipes will be on sale.

Chairman of the food table is Mrs. Alton Fraser. Mrs. Prehn chairman of the art table, a 1966 addition to the bazaar program.

Opening hour for the bazaar is 9 a. m., and for the tasting table, 11 a. m.

Engaged Girl Feted

A shower honoring Randy Dowell's pretty fiancée, Miss Jana Conner of Pampa, was given this week in the home of Mrs. Olin Parris. Mothers of the couple, Mrs. Jim Conner of Pampa and Mrs. W. B. Dowell, helped Miss Conner receive guests.

Fuschia and white, colors to be used in decorations for the wedding Nov. 4, appeared gladiolas and mums which formed the tea table centerpiece.

Mrs. Joe Mac Hale and Mrs. Jerry Curtsinger served refreshments to callers who registered in a bride's book where Miss Mary Sue Neff presided. Helen Warren and Estelle Clark were guests registered from Pampa.

In the hostess party with Mrs. Parris were Meses. Dub Curtsinger, Buck Hale, W. C. Russell, H. A. Cavness, Marvin Coffey, Richard Winget, Zearl Candler, Sanford Smith, Calvin Edwards and Lloyd Sharp.

Coffee Will Honor Wife

Mrs. Dee Miller of Amarillo, wife of the Democratic candidate for congress from the 19th district, will be introduced to women voters of Deaf Smith County at a coffee in the home of Mrs. O. G. Hill Jr., 122 N. Texas.

All women of the area are invited to call between the hours of 10 and 11:30 a. m. Tuesday.

Taking turns in receiving guests with Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Hill will be Meses. Wheeler Sears, John Douglas Pitman, Earl Hoer, Bill Gentry, Harold Martin, Jay Boston, Louis Woodford, Leo Forrest and Charles Hoover.

Those to serve coffee are Meses. Walter London, Cecil Hart, Ed Wilson Jr., F. A. Marshall, Hershel Miller Jr., Frank Zinner, Bill Messick and O. G. Hill Sr.

Tote-Bag Sale Planned To Earn Funds For Club

Sale of "tote-all bags" as a fund raising project was started at the meeting of Bippus Home Demonstration Club recently in Mrs. J. G. Fortenberry's home. All members will have the bags for sale.

Three guests were present to hear with members a program on Family Health. Mrs. Jimmie D. Bradley's subject was What Is Mental Health?, and she presented a yardstick for judging the healthy mind, stressing that mere absence of mental illness is not an adequate goal.

Mrs. C. F. Burk, speaking on choice of retirement homes, urged several visits to the home under consideration and gave a list of points to look for. The next meeting, Nov. 9, will be in the home of Mrs. Bradley, an all-day session with a salad luncheon.

Club visitors were Mrs. Wayne Sifford and Kevin, Mrs. Nannje Fortenberry and Mrs. John Hill's sister, Mrs. P. E. Eason of Dallas. Other members present were Meses. C. F. Hornfeld, J. V. Perrin and Hill.

Kindergarten Provides Enjoyment For Teachers

By SHERRIN BETTS
Staff Writer

Five-year-olds are going to school, too. Many children in Hereford are attending kindergarten schools this year in preparation for their first year in the public school system next year. Several of the Spanish children in Hereford many who don't speak English, are attending a certain kindergarten in town.

Beginning in 1962 with an average enrollment of 17, the kindergarten at the Hereford Goodwill Center now has an enrollment of 80. What do they do with all those kids? Why, they enjoy them!

Teachers of the kindergarten are Mrs. W. C. Davis and Mrs. Jack Nunley. Mrs. Davis was the original teacher five years ago, then it became necessary to secure another worker.

The third year of the kindergarten the center had decided to limit the class to the first 25 who enrolled. Mrs. Davis says there were 45 who arrived on enrollment day! Thus the center began separating classes by a partition and placing 20 in each class.

Neither of the kindergarten workers speak Spanish for they feel that this will encourage the children to speak English more freely. One worker laughingly said she couldn't speak if she wanted to, "because I don't know how." If there is real difficulty, however, Mrs. Tino Valdez, who drives the Center's bus can calm the children and understand what they are saying.

Finances for the Center are taken care of by all the local churches. With the beginning of the center costs for its upkeep, workers salaries, etc. were estimated, the total number of church members of Hereford was found and an amount was decided upon for each church member, thus the amount each church is obligated to donate to the Center depends upon church membership.

In addition to the money provided by the churches, each child must pay $2 per month to provide for his paper materials, etc. Any surplus that is left EARLY ARRIVAL — These children who attend the Goodwill Kindergarten arrive about 8:45 a.m. Monday through Friday eager for the day's activities. Holding the door of the Goodwill Center's bus is Mrs.

Tino Valdez who drives the bus each day. The kindergarten also has an afternoon class which is in operation from 1:00 until 3:00 every day. (Hereford Brand Photo)

PLAYTIME PASTIME — This slide remains flocked with children waiting to get to slide down it during playtime each day. The boys seem to prefer a rougher sport like cowboys and Indians and hiding in the fort made of tractor tires. (Hereford Brand Photo) from this at the end of the school term is used to purchase things the Center needs. Printing machines have been purchased in this manner and last year's surplus was used to paint a sign on the side of the school bus.

This year's group of 80 children is divided into four classes which meets at two different times. Two classes meet each morning Monday through Friday from 8:45 until 11:00 and the remaining two meet each afternoon from 1:00 until 3:00. Though the number of children seems to increase by great amounts each year, both teachers remain enthusiastic with their jobs and are eager to work with the Spanish children.

Mrs. Davis stressed that the kindergarten is not a Bible School, but that the purpose of the Goodwill Center is strictly to help them with their language problems." She says, "We don't just dodge everything connected with religion" but that the Center is more like a pre-school.

The Center was originally located in a building on Third Street, says Mrs. Davis. It was not every adequate, however. So when the First Baptist Church bought the stucco building behind the church and had no specific purpose for its use, they allowed the Center to take it over. This new location provided more space for the children to play and more parking space for cars and the bus.

Women who sometimes substitute for one of the teachers are Mrs. Floyd Coker and Mrs. Eugene Sparks. Jim Auten acts as custodian for the Center.

Classes are served with refreshments each day, which are paid for out of the fund contributed by the churches.

The children enjoy riding on their new bus which was bought last April. When the Center opened in 1962 they used a bus which belonged to Avenue Baptist Church, later a Volkswagen bus was bought. Then the Center got too large for the bus and a

REWARDING EXPERIENCES — The children are taught to read the names of the major colors such as blue, green, etc. Then they are given sheets of paper with various items marked with the name of a color and are tested to see if they can color the item with the color written on it. This young gentleman has properly completed his sheet and is allowed to draw on the back of it, using any color he chooses. (Hereford Brand Photo)

PLEDGING THE FLAG — It is one of each day's important features. The teachers at the Center try to teach each child to say the pledge and encourage them to speak English which will be helpful to them when they begin school next year. (Hereford Brand Photo)

Grain Producers Protest Program

"The 1967 Feed Grain Program provisions as announced by Secretary of Agriculture, Orville Freeman, will not maintain farm income to grain sorghum producers," according to Elbert Harp, President of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association. Harp said that this conclusion was reached and confirmed by the executive committee of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association in special session immediately after the program announcement.

Within 24 hours after the program was announced, Harp along with GSPA Executive Vice President, Bill Nelson, were enroute to Washington for conferences with administrative and Congressional leaders to point out this failure of the program and to seek corrective measures which would restore the producers income while bringing the requested formerly diverted acres back into production.

Analysis indicates that the farmer who has been complying with the program at the 20% diversion level may actually have an income increase but the fallacy is that this is not the farmer that is being asked to bring acreage back into production — this will come from the farmer who has been diverting voluntarily a portion of his farm from 50 to 20%. In most instances with normal production costs, a net farm income loss will be experienced. USDA in their projections were found to be using a grain sorghum cost of production figure of 70 cents per 100.

GSPA's proposal for restoring the income loss is (1) spread the 53 cents per 100 price support payment over the entire acreage planted on the farm instead of only 50% as announced by USDA, or (2) increase the price support loan level from the announced $1.61 to a level high enough to make up for diversion payments lost.

Nelson and Harp returned from Washington over the weekend for conferences with other area farm leaders and to assemble additional information before returning to Washington Monday night, October 24, for additional sessions with administration program and policy officials. In summarizing progress of the conferences underway Harp indicated that "We have been very successful in getting the attention and time of everyone we have attempted to work with to hear and analyze the situation, but we have had to encouragement to indicate that program changes may be in order." He hastened to add, "Nor have we had any refusal to do so either."

new one was purchased.

Mrs. Davis says the children usually put on some type of Christmas program and that they would be happy for anyone to "see what we're doing" at that time.

All of the workers seem to heartily agree with Mrs. Davis when she says, "I have really enjoyed doing it." In fact, one wonders who enjoys kindergarten most.

NORMALCY NO VIRTUE

NEW YORK (AP) — Being 'normal' is not necessarily good, the Rev. Dr. James E. Loder says in a new book, "Religious Pathology and Christian Faith," published by Westminster Press.

Normalcy, he adds, is rather "the name of whatever is being done at the time by most of the people who might possibly be doing it"—and is not a valid standard for judgment.

TOMBSTONE TERRITORY

Before World War I Fairy Soap was the largest seller on the American market. Mother used it as a beauty aid. Junior used it in the bath tub. Sister used it to shampoo her hair. And father used it to wash that portion of his face which wasn't covered with mustache and mutton chops. In magazines, on bill boards and in newspapers, you would see advertisements of Fairy Soap.

During the first great war the demand for Fairy Soap was so great that the manufacturers dropped their huge advertising program with an eye to making a bigger profit. They figured Fairy Soap was so well known it would carry itself. They were wrong. Other far sighted soap manufacturers stepped in with appealing advertising campaigns and took over the market. Fairy Soap was never able to come back and today lies in the graveyard alongside the Gold Dust Twins, Saint Jacobs Oil, Melon's Baby Food, Dolly Varden Chocolates, Omar cigarettes, Maxwell automobiles and many other products that died a natural economic death due to lack of advertising.

CHRYSANTHEMUMS AS A HOBBY FLOWER

Chrysanthemum or "Golden Flower" is one of the most popular flowers grown. The chrysanthemum is grown nation wide, and since they have been hybridized, and perfected so that they can be grown year-round, their popularity has increased.

Today mums, are a very versatile flower. The mum has many uses. It is used extensively outside for landscape purposes. It is grown on a large scale commercially, both in greenhouse and outside in fields, therefore is perhaps one of the very best of the florist sellers, and gardeners everywhere, can grow them. They will probably be found in more gardens than any other blooming plant.

Chrysanthemums provide flower arrangers with a wealth of riches in floral materials. There is a chrysanthemum which will meet most any requirement of the arranger. Numerous varieties in each of the many types include anemone, incurve, single, reflex, pompon, quill, spoon, spider, spindle, and many novelty types. Sizes range from miniature to large. Colors range from almost pure hue to subtle blendings. Practically any color harmony can be executed by the arranger with chrysanthemums.

Not only are they adaptable in colors and sizes, but they can be used in most any type arrangement. They are very popular for mass arrangements, the many oriental types, and are used in many period arrangements. In recent garden club fall shows, we have seen them used in abstract arrangements. Texturally they are compatible with almost all containers. They combine beautifully with other flowers, fruits and vegetables. They are used universally for for Halloween and Thanksgiving.

If you were fortunate enough to attend the recent Tour of Homes, which the Hereford Garden Clubs held, or the Chrysanthemum Flower Show in Amarillo last weekend, you know readily that what has been stated is true.

In the illustrations accompanying this article, chrysanthemums have been used in an antique coffee grinder. They have been used with small ornamental pepper clusters, and leaves, also which have small pods on them. Different size mums were used, and the colors are red, bronze, and sand. The accessory apples, are in a wooden bowl. The arrangement was used on a food bar, with brown woven mats. Also pictured is an arrangement of chrysanthemum, autumn leaves, (pin oak) and cat tails (small) this was made in a container of beaten brass, and the color accent is bronze.

If you are bored and want a thrill, select some mums (Jack Frost has not ruined all of them) and try the creative art of flower arranging. It's FUN! and most satisfying. Entertain a gay young crowd, after a football game or on the weekend, or let it be one of the Halloween activities. Start things off or win them up — with a get-together around the spiced table where punch and donuts are served. For a centerpiece use a filled with chrysanthemums in the lovely autumn colors.

Now is an excellent time to make your list which you plan to plant in the spring time, while the chrysanthemums are in-bloom and your memory is fresh as to the varieties, colors, sizes which you want to have in your yard or garden another season. Mums, as they are so often called, are very popular hobby flowers. Later when planting time approaches we will have some information pertaining to it.

The following is a suggestive list of chrysanthemums which do well in our area.

HARVEST GIANT SERIES

Excellent performers, and early bloomers are: Indian Summer — bright bronze-red. Large deep flowers, Pumpkin — light golden bronze 5 inch flowers, very compact, held skin — showy bright, maroon red flowers up to 5 inches. Touchdown — Flowers large. Color blended pink all sturdy stems.

FOOTBALL SERIES

Cheerleader — Fully double, brilliant yellow. Quarterback — color rich pink touches of yellow. Beautiful foliage.

Sodium Queen — very large, when grown disbudded. Petals strong red with bronze reverse. Homecoming — Very early blend of pink and yellow, large flowering.

SINGLE AND DAISY

Happiness — lovely yellow. California Daisy — sturdy, good white petals.

ANEMONE

Angel Face — lovely lavender, single petals, with beautiful center. Sincerity white, and grows well here, sturdy, and excellent extra true anemone blooms. light buff. Medium in size, and yellow and as it ages, becomes light buff. Medium in size, and very good for arrangements. Yellow anemone — very lovely, and beautiful in color.

POMPON

Nocturne — gardeners favorite, pinocchio. clear sharp white, daisy and prey, pink cherub. good grower, and nice color for arranging.

BUTTON

Irene and Little Irene — pure white flowers, ideal for borders, Lemon Drop. yellow, rich foliage, and very hardy, Gold Nugget yellow, excellent grower, arrangers favorite.

CHOICE ADDITIONAL VARIETIES AND FAVORITES

Alet. large double deep purple, with silver cast, Beautiful, Apricot, Glow. a ripe apricot bronze cushion mum Elite. very uniform, fresh bronze color, Corsage white. crisp, clear, clear, early flowering. Good for corsages. bueden petals. Raggedy Anne. Snow white, raggedy, split petals, on cushion plants. Desirable for border, early flowering.

Flamboyant. Plants strong, and erect, topped with an abundance of flaming orange bronze flowers. Excellent for cutting universe. beautiful spider, lavender and purple wotone, ColdGlobe. large, deep yellow, excellent grower, Melrose one of my very favorites, beautiful soft pink, good sized flowers. Can be used for background planting, fine for cutting. No. 2 fushia Fair. similar to Fuschia Fairy, except blooms earlier, small fushia colored blossoms.

good for border, Gold Lode. . . for his area, highly recommended by Tech growers large button type. On, and on one could go naming mums, and favorites, these, named will give you consider for another years planning.

Reminder —Time to plant bulbs. Use planting scale, and we be sure that you plant deep enough, use plant food when planting. I like bone meal, it is old and tired and proven than other bulbs, so that they won't bloom too early in the spring, when cold winds and freeze will harm them.

Have you driven out into the farming area? It not do so, The lettuce field is pretty, the maize, red and yellow is beautiful, bees heaped high are interesting, and the general hurry and bustle of the farmers is most exciting. October has been true to form in that we have had beautiful October bright blue skies, and sunshine.

Keep Happy — and Busy. Glad

WTSU Quarterback

Washington In 3rd Place With 1249 Yards Gained

CANYON — West Texas State University quarterback Hank Washington moved into third place in the nation in total offense following Saturday's 17-14 victory over New Mexico State University.

Through six games the "Buffalo Missileman" has been responsible for 1249 yards and 13 touchdowns. Washington trails Louisville's Benny Russell, the nation's total offense leader, by 176 yards. Gary Beban of UCLA is ranked second with 1249 yards.

Washington also maintained his hold on sixth place in forward passing following the New Mexico State win. He has completed 86 of 161 pass attempts for 1219 yards and 12 touchdowns. Washington's .534 passing percentage ranks second only to Arizona's Mark Reed (546) among quarterbacks who have thrown 100 or more passes.

West Texas' Dave Szymakowski, Washington's favorite target, moved into the 18th spot in pass receiving. Szymakowski caught six passes for 77 yards against New Mexico State. The acrobatic split-end ranked 20th in the nation last week.

Tommy Fambrough, the Buffs gifted kicking specialist, climbed into the nation's number two spot in kick-scoring. Fambrough has hit 22 of 22 conversion attempts and five of seven field goal tries for 37 points. He trails the nation's top scorer, Wyoming's Terry Depoyser by five points. Fambrough also ranks as the nation's 22nd leading scorer. Mel Farr of UCLA leads this department with 56 points.

Aside from placing in five individual statistic categories, the Buff also placed in the nation's top ten in three team departments.

The Buffs maintained their fifth rank in total offense with a 383.7 yards a game average. West Texas has scored 21 touchdowns. Notre Dame, the nation's number one ranked team, leads in total offense yardage with a total offense average of 529.6 per game. The Irish have scored 22 touchdowns.

West Texas also ranks eighth nationally in forward passing of fense, and might possibly have moved higher had they not been decided to play ball-control football in the second half against New Mexico State. The Buffs threw 19 passes in the first half against the Aggies and only three in the final half. The Buffs have gained 1332 yards through the airways for an average of 222 yards a game by passing. Aerial-minded Tulsa ranks as leader with a game average of 285.2 yards. Tulsa has also scored 12 times on passes.

In team scoring, the Buffs rank ninth in the nation. Through six games the Buffs have averaged scoring 28.2 points a game. UCLA is the major college scoring leader with an average of 36 points a game.

Hansen To Head Wildlife Refuge

Regional Director John C. Gattin announced today the transfer and promotion of Mr. Gordon Hansen from the Alamosa National Wildlife Refuge in Colorado, to the position of Manager of the Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge, Umbarger, Texas.

Hansen began his federal career with the Department of the Interior wildlife agency in 1961, after receiving his Bachelor of Science degree in wildlife management from Utah State University. He has served on Bear River Migratory Bird Refuge in Utah, National Elk Refuge in Wyoming, and the Hagerman and Aransas National Wildlife Refuges in Texas.

Hansen, a 30-year old native of Utah, was selected as one of the six trainees permitted to attend the Management Training Program carried on by the Department of the Interior in 1964. Mr. and Mrs. Hansen and their four children will make their home on the refuge at Umbarger about November 1.

Bacteria Called Oil's Best Friend

Although bacteria are held in low repute by many people, the oil industry thinks the wiggly little organisms run a close race with the canines for the title of "Man's Best Friend."

Billions of bacteria perform highly useful jobs in the oil industry by helping dispose of waste and by aiding in exploration and production work.

Scientists at Humble Oil & Refining Company's research affiliate in Houston have developed processes in which chemicals made by bacteria are used to thicken water to provide a viscous base for improved drilling muds. This thickened water, when pumped into underground formations, also helps increase the flow of oil to the production well.

And if it were not for "friendly bacteria," Humble admits it would be hard pressed for a method to clean the millions of gallons of water used each day by its plants and factories.

Water at the various facilities is used for cooling, generating steam, and processing petroleum products. In performing this work the water can pick up contaminants such as spent acids, caustics, and some oil.

The refineries must process the waste water, called effluent, so that it can be returned to streams and lakes in a clean condition. Bacteria which operate as chemical factories, literally eat up impurities in the water.

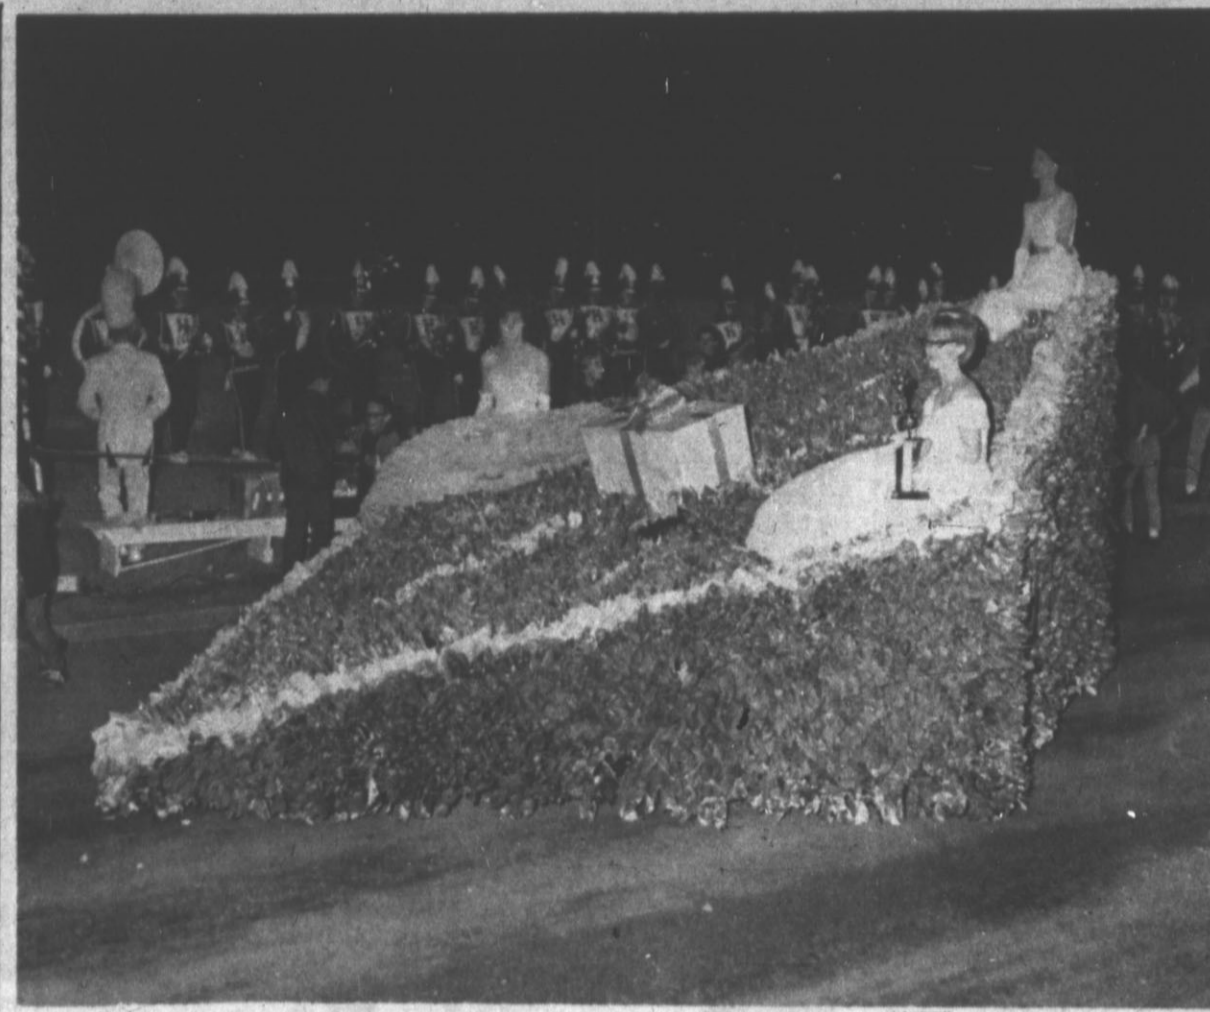

The bacteria must have a place to perform their cleanup work, and refineries provide "workshops" in several ways. These range from settling basins and water treatment plants to trickling filter systems where water pours into a sieve of algae-covered stones which house billions of bacteria, just waiting to assimilate the impurities.

Refineries also use bacteria to gobble up solid waste material on filter clays, in separator sediments, and in tank bottom settings. In some cases, oil wastes are mixed into the soil, and bacteria consume the oil, changing the organic carbon into carbon dioxide which is needed for plant growth.

To break down petroleum and its products, scientists in the oil industry are trying to harness the ability of some bacteria to utilize hydrocarbons as their sole source of carbon. Results suggest that certain organisms can carry out oxidation of some hydrocarbons to yield useful products such as stearic and palmitic acids.

With bacteria playing so many roles in the petroleum industry, ought to put them on the payroll.

"Yes," another agreed, "but they'd probably eat their own paychecks."

Legal Institute Slated At SMU

An Institute on Personal Injury Litigation, sponsored by the Southwestern Legal Foundation, will be held at the Southwestern Legal Center, located on the campus of Southern Methodist University, Dallas, according to John D. Aikin, Hereford attorney.

Aikin, resident representative for the Foundation, announced that the Institute is scheduled for November 10-11, 1966.

Speakers for the Institute include: John W. Wade, Dean, School of Law, Vanderbilt University, Nashville, will lecture on contribution and indemnity between joint tortfeasors; Moe Levine, New York City attorney and T. Paine Kelly, Jr., Tampa, Florida attorney, on the child plaintiff.

Raoul D. Magana, Los Angeles attorney, on direct and cross-examination of medical experts, jury argument-child plaintiff cases slip and fall cases; Charles J. Lueck, Sr., San Antonio attorney, photography and scientific analysis in automobile cases.

Three doctors from the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School will lecture at the institute. They are Dr. Watts R. Webb, Professor and Chairman, Division of Thoracic and Cardiovascular surgery, whose subject will be injuries to the heart and great vessels due to blunt trauma to the chest; Dr. Fouad A. Bashour, Associate Professor of Medicine, stress and overexertion as a precipitating factor in coronary occlusion; and Dr. Morris Ziff, Professor, Internal Medicine, arthritis, its varieties and the role of the environmental factors.

Texas Sized Trees Located In State

COLLEGE STATION — Champion Big Tree hunters had a busy time in Texas this summer. Their record-breaking number of discoveries included nine National Champions and six State Champion Big Trees, according to John A. Haislet, of the Texas Forest Service of College Station.

This latest addition to the growing list of champion trees gives Texas 27 National Champions and places the state third nationally, trailing only Michigan and California.

Objectives of the State Champion Big Tree program are to locate outstanding examples of native Texas trees and obtain cooperation of the tree owners to preserve and protect the champion specimens for study and enjoyment of future generations. The program is also designed to stimulate a greater appreciation and interest in individual trees and stimulate awareness of trees as a natural resource of Texas.

Texas' National Champions are:

- Post Oak, located five miles northwest of Madisonville, Madison Co., on the Cannon Estate. The tree measures 173 inches in circumference, 105 feet high and its crown diameter is 50 feet.
- Sugarberry, at Alto, Cherokee Co., in front of the Tom Hester home. The champion measures 133 inches in circumference, 98 feet high and the crown is 92 feet in diameter.
- A Texas Ash and Escarpment Black Cherry are located north of Vanderpool in Bandera County. The trees are about 1/4 mile apart. Statistics of the ash: circumference, 51 inches; height 32 feet; and crown 33 feet. Measurements of the cherry are: circumference, 62 inches; height 38 feet; and crown, 43 feet.
- The other new species added this summer are Catclaw Acacia and Texas Ebony. The acacia is located on the Mirafloz Ranch, 11 miles southwest of Uvalde. Its statistics: circumference, 58 inches; height, 38

Among those who came last Saturday to attend funeral services for G. W. Parker at Frio Baptist Church were a sister-in-law, Mrs. J. W. Parker and the Roy Robinsons from Wilson; and relatives of Mrs. Parker, L. C. Stalcup, Farwell, Mrs. W. A. Stalcup, Morton, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Stalcup, Lubbock, Mrs. Burl McCaslin, Morton, Bill Stalcup, Farmington, Rev. Bob Stalcup, Blum.

Also Mrs. Dovie Isabel, Lonnie Isabel, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Corly, Lonnie and Phyllis, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stone, all of Tahoka; the Hugh Yandell family and Mrs. A. N. Yandell, Seminole; Jack and Dan Yandell, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Herb Gnipper, Amarillo.

Jessie Suggs and Mrs. Essie Lee Roach and children, all of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Andrews returned last week after a ten-day trip to California. They attended a family reunion Sunday of Mrs. Andrews' two brother and three of her sisters. The gathering was held at the home of their father, E. F. Lee, at Ridgcrest.

There's a brand new baby son at the Weldon Stephens. The young man has been named Chad Lee and weighs nine pounds and six ounces. He has two admiring big sisters, Rhonda, 11 and Jill, 9.

Taking supper with the Stephens Thursday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Moore.

Northeast States Are Club Topic

Comparison of Deaf Smith County area with that of Rhode Island, a state which is the smaller, was a sidelight of Mrs. Virgil Dodson's discussion of Northeastern U. S. for Lone Star Study Club at a recent meeting in Mrs. G. W. Newsom's home.

The speaker gave personal observations from a trip she made through the section last year, and various other information including an account of a planned city, Columbia, being built between Washington, D. C. and New York City, started in 1960 and due for completion in 1969.

She said the city is to cover 24 square miles, with a central section for hospitals, college, office and business buildings, surrounded by nine villages, each with complete shopping center, schools and parks.

Mrs. Floyd Dumavant began the program with the thought for the day, a poem titled This Day Mrs. J. J. Durham was hostess with Mrs. Newsom.

CANDIDATE SPEAKS

Carr Spots Out Of State Money

DALLAS — Attorney General Waggoner Carr cited new evidence today that "rich eastern Republicans are pumping money into Texas in an all-out effort to keep John Tower on the job — for reasons of their own."

New Jersey has joined Connecticut and New York among sources of financial help for his Republican opponent, Carr declared.

He quoted from the nationally syndicated William Buckley column which said New Jersey's GOP Senator Clifford Case was "hurt and appalled" that money he expected to receive was going elsewhere. Buckley — himself the voice of right-wing Republicanism — said the money was apparently going to Texas for John Tower, to California for Ronald Reagan and to Ohio for John Ashbrook.

The Buckley column quoted by Carr commented, "Clifford Case's admirers thunder at the disloyalty of the Republican community of New Jersey."

Carr insisted that Tower explain why he is accepting campaign money from New Jersey, Connecticut and New York.

Carr's reference to Connecticut help for Tower was based on a Time Magazine article October 21 which said some of that state's richest Republicans had sent an estimated $400,000 to Tower and other candidates. Earlier, Carr had said businessmen told him "they saw evidence all summer long in New York" that money from outside Texas was going into the Tower campaign.

Carr again stressed that "there is only one issue in this campaign: whether we are to have an effective, independent, full-time senator, or one beholden to eastern contributors, one who has a 30% absentee voting record and votes against the people when he is there."

Crop Benefits Haitian People

A CROP shipment including 120,000 pounds of corn, 60,000 pounds of wheat and 10,000 pounds of non-fat dry milk will be on its way this week to Port-au-Prince, Haiti, to meet emergency needs created by Hurricane Inez in Haiti according to Norman A. Sundwall, Field Representative for Church World Service in Texas.

An on-the-spot survey in Haiti by Wilson Radway, Special Projects Director of Church World Service and former CROP National Field Representative, reports 50-60% loss or damage to housing in the Jacmel area of southern Haiti.

"There is virtually no food available in the area," says Radway. "We have already provided 45 tons of food, from supplies warehoused in Haiti. While some fruit is now available from salvage in ten days there will be serious hunger and starvation." Radway reports 4,000 of kwashiorkor, a protein-deficiency disease, in the devastated area.

Cotton Classing Offices Open

The seasonal classing offices at Brownfield and Lamesa began receiving cotton samples for classification on Friday, according to W. K. Palmer, in charge of Lubbock's USDA Cotton Classing Office.

The Brownfield office classifies cotton ginned in Terry, Lynn and Gaines counties.

W. L. Reeves of Lubbock will be in charge of the Brownfield office and J. U. Dedear of Austin will be in charge of the Lamesa office.

ward T. Rafferty of Gruver, 18th District President, will be introduced as well as Department President Mary Flynt. Grant Hanna of Hereford will introduce Department Commander Jack W. Flynt who will give the principal address. Committee appointments and announcements will be heard before the dance beginning at 9:00 p. m. at the Legion Hall.

Registration will resume Sunday morning at 8:30 at the Legion Hall with committees also meeting at that time. Mrs. Moore will be in charge of the Joint Memorial Service at 9:00 with the Chaplain from Amarillo Air Base as guest speaker. Delegates will attend the church of their choice at 11:00 a. m.

Commander Beard will call the business session to order at 1:45 p. m. Ira Ott of Hereford will read the Preamble followed by reading of the convention call by District Adjutant James D. O'Daniel. Committee report will be heard and Wilfred Stoerner, 4th Division Commander of Lockney, will bring greetings, as well as Department Commander Jack W. Flynt and Department President, Mary Flynt.

"I KNOW you're not listening to me — your knuckles aren't white."

HOME FRONT HOLDERS — Mrs. Dee Miller and her two lively daughters, Jennifer and Joni, are enjoying a little recreation in their home at Amarillo which has become a much busier place since Miller became the Democratic party's candidate for Congressman from the 18th District. Mrs. Miller, who recently visited Hereford on one of her swings around the campaign trail with her husband, has learned that family routine isn't the same when you are the wife of an aspirant to a seat in congress. She is the former Joanne Farquhar, daughter of the Vern Farquhars of Amarillo and member of a golf-playing family since her father was golf pro at the Phillips Country Club for years. Holder of a bachelors degree from West Texas State University, she taught in Amarillo before her marriage. She says campaigning is not really tiring because she enjoys meeting many people.

Wirth Keynotes Inauguration

LUBBOCK — Conrad L. Wirth consultant for the Rockefeller Brothers Fund and Laurance S. Rockefeller, will keynote a special evening program Oct. 30 in Texas Tech's University Theater signalling the opening of events surrounding the Inauguration of Dr. Grover E. Murray as Tech's eighth president.

Wirth, Director of the National Park Service from 1951-64, will introduce special presentations by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and Tech's Park Administration Department. The program is for out-of-town guests and delegates.

A presentation by the Texas Wildlife Department entitled "Murder of Silence," will feature more than 800 colored slides on outdoor recreational areas throughout the state.

Tech Park Administration graduate students Don Sence, Alden Sievers, Jerry Rogers and Harold Dollins will present a program entitled "Preview of the Texas State Parkway."

Tech Vice President for Business Affairs M. L. Pennington will introduce Wirth.

Wirth, who also serves as Executive President of the National Recreation and Park Association, is keenly interested in the provision of adequate recreation facilities. He initiated a movement in 1936 which resulted in the passage by Congress of the Park, Parkway and Recreational Area Study Act. He also directed the state-by-state studies which were undertaken under that Act.

He was one of the leaders in an effort to combine major professional and lay organizations in the field of parks and recreation. As a result, the National Recreation and Park Association was founded last year. The Association includes what formerly were the American Institute of Park Executives, the National Recreation Association, the National Conference on State Parks and the American Recreation Society.

Wirth was a member of the Virginia Outdoor Recreation Committee from 1964 until the completion of its duties last year. He also has served as an advisor to the Minnesota Outdoor Recreation Resources Commission and to the University of Massachusetts.

He has received numerous honors, including the Pugsley Gold Medal in 1946 for service on behalf of the national parks, the Congressional Selective Service Award in 1948, Honorary Institute of Park Executives in 1954 and the Rockefeller Public Service Award in 1960-61 for "achievement and long and distinguished career service in conservation of natural resources and the Everly Gold Medal of the American Institute of Park Executives for outstanding merit in parks and recreation."

Kiwansians Visit First Baptist

Attending the First Baptist Church morning services today will be the Kiwanis Club of Hereford, Gene Campbell, president has announced.

Periodically the Kiwanians attend one church service together, choosing the denomination by putting the names of all the local churches into a hat and drawing one. This is a part of their program to encourage church attendance.

They are asked to bring their families with them and the club will sit together in a group during the worship hour, according to Armon Lauderback who is in charge of this activity of the club.

Don Henslee presented Wayne Phillips with the friendship dollar at the meeting. The club met at the Hickory Log rather than the IOOF Hall for their Thursday luncheon.

A Director's Meeting which will be held Wednesday morning at 7:30 at the Calson House was announced.

Campbell urged all members to strive to bring in new members.

Mrs. Glenn Watts, member of the Valeda Study Club gave the introduction to the program which was the patterning film "Whatever Happened to 8" which has been shown throughout the town this week.

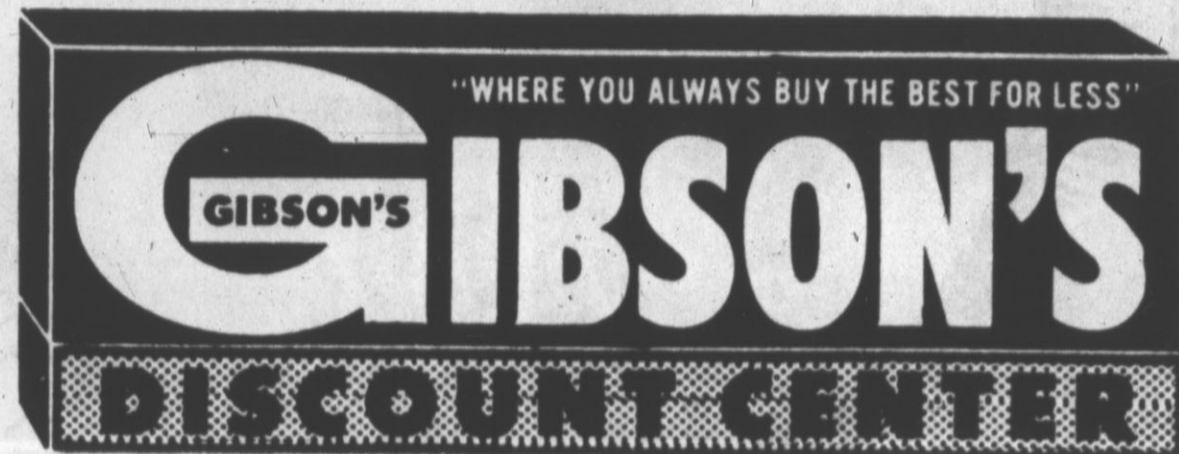

After the film members were given a chance to ask questions about the center in Hereford and the patterning program which the local children are undergoing.

WINNING COLLECTION

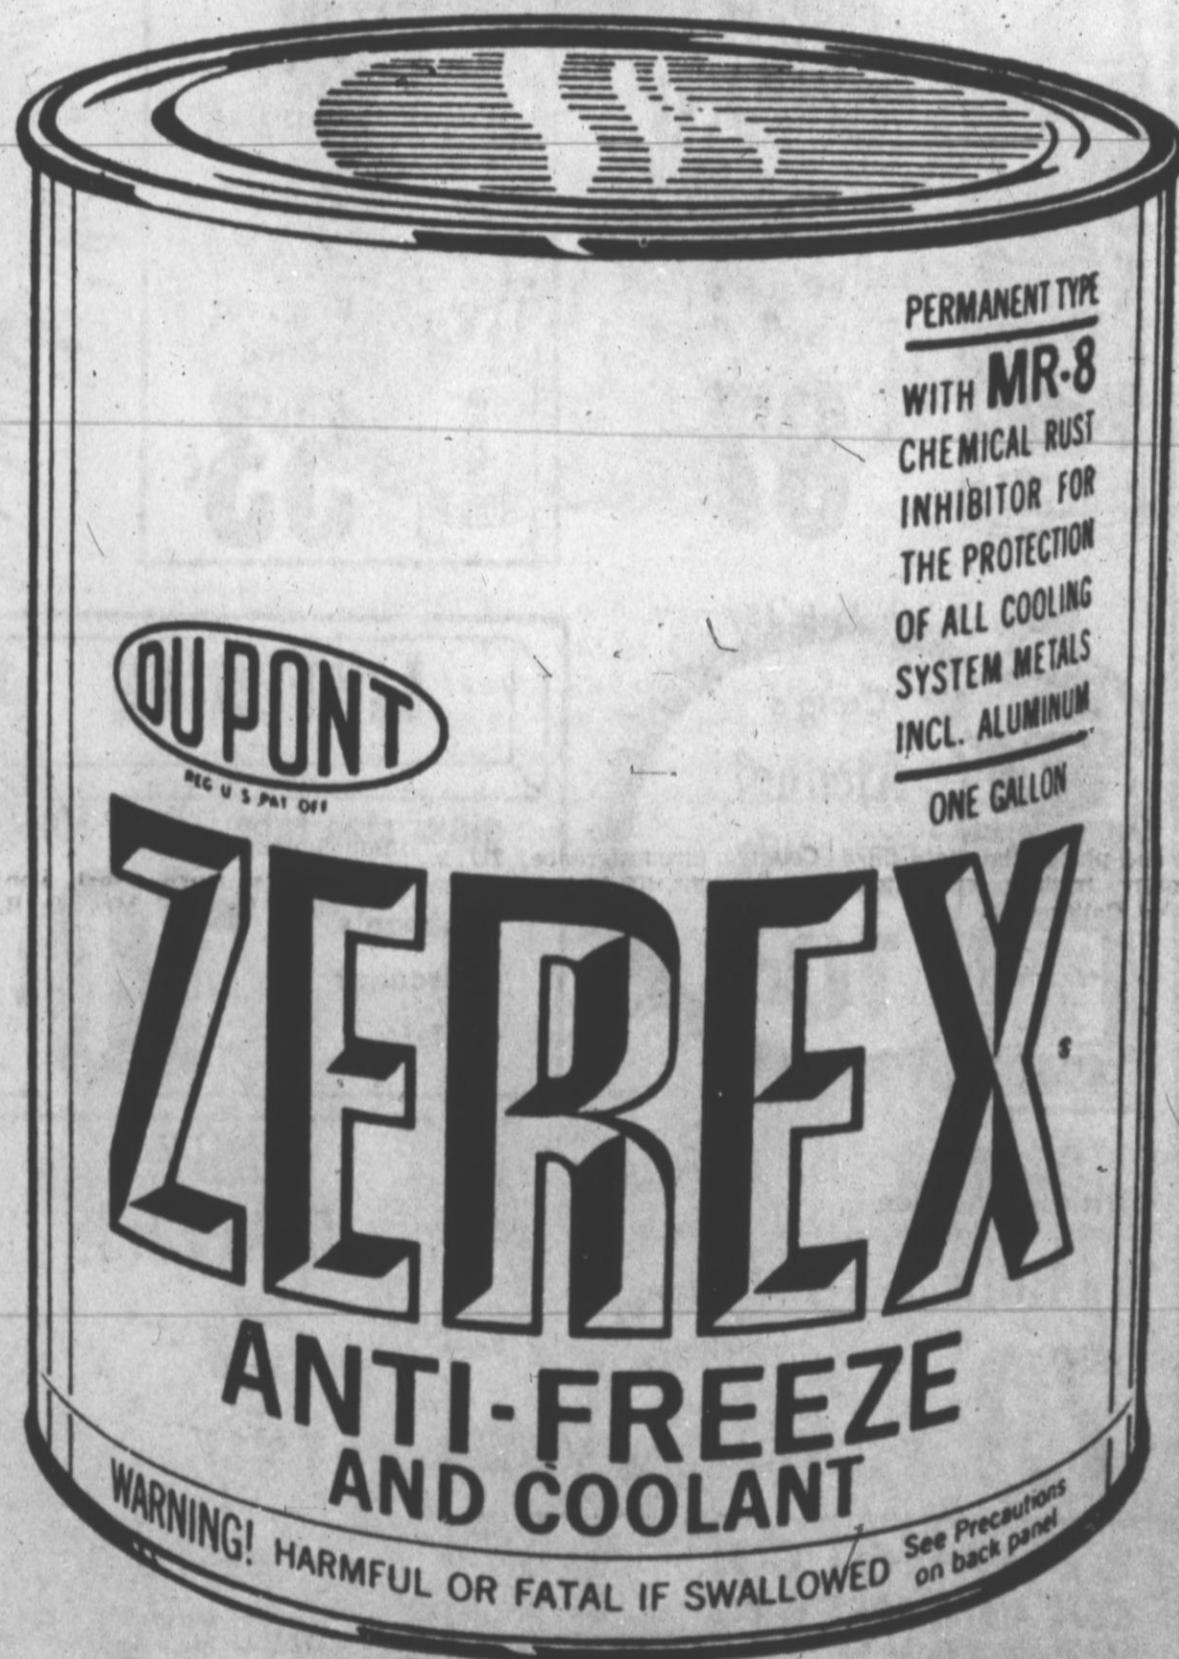

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A collection of 170 Bibles, no two alike, won the "best of the show" award at the California State Fair hobby show here. The winning entry was that of a Southern Baptist chaplain in the U.S. Air Force, Lewis H. Miller Jr.

Measuring the audience

The performer who is more interested in the size of the audience than in the number of curtain calls spends most of his time looking for work.

The successful performer recognizes that only effective efforts build responsive audiences. He seeks applause.

The same might be said for newspaper editors.

We must serve and satisfy the editorial needs and interests of people in our area. The validity of this circulation audience and the applause readers give us is registered by the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

ABC-audited paid circulation facts measure readers response in such terms as how much they pay to receive copies, how many copies they buy, where they live, and how their copies are delivered.

As a member of this independent circulation auditing organization, we recognize the power of reader confidence — that they have chosen to be a member of this paying audience of their own volition, and that they will continue to do so only as long as we effectively serve them.

For advertisers, the significant differences between counting the audience and measuring the applause is reader response.

Ask to see a copy of our ABC report.

Welcome For First District Music Clubs Meeting At Dawn

HEAD HOSTESSES — Mrs. Steve Bavousett, right, and Mrs. Herschel Miller Jr., standing above, are co-chairmen of convention arrangements for the meeting of First District Federated Music Clubs in Dawn Nov. 4 and 5. Mrs. Robert Strain, at the piano, is program chairman. All members of the Dawn Music Club are serving on at least one of the committees preparing the program and entertainment for members of clubs from over the Panhandle and as far southeast as Wellington.

DISTRICT PRESIDENT — A member of the hostess club, Mrs. Carl Wimberley of Dawn is president of District I, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, which will hold its annual convention with her home club as hostess Friday and Saturday. Meetings will be in the Baptist Church and Community House at Dawn.

(See Related Stories on Other Pages)

STATE OFFICERS — Special visitors at the district music club convention in Dawn next weekend will be the president and first vice president of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs, Mrs. Dellon Bumgardner of Carthage, above, is state president, scheduled to speak at luncheons Friday and Saturday. Mrs. B. M. Sims of Wellington, at left, is vice president and will have a prominent place on the program.

PREPARE FOR VISITORS — Each member of Dawn Music Club has her assignment for helping make the weekend district convention pleasant for those from other cities. Checking a table decoration are Mrs. Eldon Owens, of the decoration committee and club officers, Mrs. Edgar Sowell, treasurer; Mrs. William Wimberley, president, and Mrs. Clarence Betzen, vice president. Mrs. Leo Criddle, club secretary, and Mrs. Ray Stewart, district chairman of American Music, discuss their part in convention preparations.

ENCOURAGES STUDENT MUSICIANS — Mrs. A. O. Thompson, for many years active in Federated Music Clubs, has been especially interested in Federation programs for young musicians and was instrumental in achieving Junior Federation membership for school music groups here. She is pictured in her home with Camille Pavlicek of Hereford High Madrigal Singers and Kerry Thompson, member of the Instrumental Society of the Whiteface Band, both federated groups. Mrs. Thompson is a charter member and past president of Music Study Club here, a past district president and presently state chairman of Chorus Music. She will give the invocation to open Junior Day activities of the district convention of Federated Music Clubs in Dawn next Saturday.

RATING SUPERVISOR — Rating and achievement records of junior music clubs in District I of the Texas Federation are in the province of the committee headed by Mrs. Claude Groves of Wellington, whose report will be made next Saturday, Junior Day of the annual district convention in Dawn. Music is a family affair for the Groves, as all three children play musical instruments to join Mrs. Groves, violinist, and her husband, who plays the saxophone as a home orchestra. A member of Wellington Music Club four years, she has served in various offices. She and Mr. Groves are accompanists for Wellington First Baptist Church choir.

Mrs. Stewart Among District Music Chairmen

Singing is something Mrs. Roy Stewart of Dawn likes to do, whether as a wedding soloist or member of a club chorus. She is one of the Dawn Music Club members who will be hostesses Friday and Saturday to the District Music Club Federation.

As district chairman of American Music, she will report at the Friday morning session, and as counselor for the Dawn Musettes she will direct that group's participation in the junior convention Saturday.

Mrs. Stewart is a past president of her club, and during her term led in presentation of "grass-roots" opera for benefit of the community. Not only by singing, but by frequently acting as organ or piano accompanist, she encourages music in her neighborhood.

A public school music major in West Texas State University, she sang in the A Cappella Choir there after singing in high school choir and sextet, and as soloist. She directed a Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration chorus for some time and in Dawn Baptist Church she serves as pianist, assistant organist and choir singer, as well as working with young people's groups. She has given their first piano lessons to her three children.

AIDS YOUNG ARTISTS — As chairman of Young Artists Auditions and Presentation in Federated Music of Texas District I, Mrs. Wendell Heiny, Amarillo teacher and organist, heads one of the Federation's avenues of encouragement to student musicians. Mrs. Heiny, whom Hereford residents heard last winter in a concert sponsored by the Music Study Club, will present organ numbers on the programs of the annual District I convention at Dawn Friday.

Music, Study, Business Slated For District Convention Day

Fine music will alternate with conferences and reports of music club activities in a daylong program Friday when Dawn Music-Club is hostess to District I, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, in annual convention at Dawn Baptist Church and Community Building.

Climax of the day will be the performing arts program at 3 p. m. by the music department of West Texas State University at Canyon, open to the public in the church auditorium.

Delegates from music clubs over the Panhandle area will attend the Friday sessions, to be followed Saturday by the Junior Music Club convention featuring an afternoon Junior Concert, also open to the public.

Notables to be present for the convention include Mrs. Dellon Bumgardner of Carthage, president of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs, and Mrs. B. M. Sims of Wellington, first vice president and editor of Texas Music News. District I president is Mrs. Carl Wimberley, a member of the host club at Dawn. Mrs. Bumgardner will speak at the Friday luncheon in Dawn Community Center and assist in the workshop conferences of the afternoon. Theme of the convention is Sharing This Blessed Legacy, and the luncheon address topic is "Are We Boosters?"

Mrs. Robert Strain of the Dawn club, convention program chairman, will preside at the luncheon. Music will be by a Hereford band directed by Charlie Bell. Mrs. W. S. Fisher will give the invocation.

Registration in the church foyer will begin at 8 p. m. and coffee will be served for an hour in the educational wing. A board meeting is set for 8:30, also in the educational building.

Convention opening will be at 9:15 a. m. with the invocation by the Rev. F. E. Suttle of Dawn Baptist Church, a welcome to visitors by Mrs. William Wimberley, president of the host club, and response by Mrs. Bland Burson of Channing, district parliamentarian.

Mrs. Joe Hacker of Hereford will direct singing of the Federation Hymn and Texas Our Texas, the state song, with Mrs. Lois Fagan of Pampa accompanying. Mrs. Thomas Hambrick of Amarillo will lead repetition of the Federation collect and Mrs. Del Cluck of Gruver the flag pledge.

Guests will be recognized by Mrs. Herschel Miller Jr. of Dawn before the morning business hour, in which district officers and chairmen and club presidents will give brief reports. After a program of organ solos by Margaret Heiny of Amarillo, a memorial service will be conducted by Mrs. L. W. Wells with organ music by Mrs. Mack Bush. Both are of Wellington.

Conferences are scheduled in four divisions starting at 1:30 p. m. Mrs. Carl Wimberley will conduct one, emphasizing duties of club presidents and club finance.

Education and program planning will be stressed in conference No. II, directed by Mrs. John Yows of Borger; Audio-visual work and National Music Week observance are among the topics in No. III, with Mrs. Dan Spencer of Dalhart in charge; publications and publicity are leading subjects in No. IV, conducted by Mrs. Sims.

Closing formalities and presentation of awards will precede the Performing Arts recital, which will end with final remarks by the district president and a benediction by Mrs. Tom Sutton of Spearman.

YEARBOOK CHAIRMAN — Reports in the Friday morning session of the annual District I convention, Texas Federated Music Clubs, will include one by Mrs. Robert W. Brandt of Spearman, Senior Yearbook chairman for the district. Mrs. Brandt has been a member of Spearman Music Club five years, serving as secretary four years and twice working with the yearbook committee. She is the mother of two pre-school sons.

Arts Program Open To Public

Of interest to a wider audience of music lovers than is comprised in membership of Federated Music Clubs who will be in convention at Dawn Friday, the annual Performing Arts program of District I, Texas FMC, will be open to the public.

It is scheduled to begin at 3 p. m. in Dawn Baptist Church, and will be presented by the music department of West Texas State University. A varied selection of vocal and instrumental music has been arranged.

Mary Handy and Nancy Rath, violinists, with Prof. Herbert Albin at the piano, will play Sonata No. 3 by Paganini and the allegro movement of Beethoven's Sonata No. 10 will be presented by Jeanne Harper, pianist.

Danna Behne will open the program with two piano solos, a Brahms Intermezzo and Turina's composition, Trapeze Artists. Joan Wallace at the organ and Raenell Roberts at the piano will play the adagio from Toccata, Adagio and Fugue, then another Bach selection, Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring.

Miss Roberts will present in contrasting mood a solo, Capriccio, Op. 116, by Brahms. For a finale, an aria and duet from Mozart's opera, Marriage of Figaro, will be sung by Jean Gray and Judy Balo, sopranos, with Miss Behne accompanying.

Music Club Chooses An Exotic Note

An oriental flavor was evidenced in compositions on the program of Music Study Club this week when the subject was Exoticism in Music. Mrs. H. K. Fox and Mrs. Richard Jackson were hostesses in the former's home.

Mrs. Lowell Sharp introduced the numbers, most of them from the period of 1944-1908, beginning with Arabian Dance (Crist) a piano solo by Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwait. Mrs. Jackson sang The Hope Men Set Their Hearts Upon, and Mrs. Bob Wert, Esch Mori A Thousand Roses, both by Lehmann and both accompanied by Mrs. J. C. McCracken.

Shostakovich piano solos were Three Fantastic Dances, by Mrs. Zack Pannell, and Prelude Op. 34 No. 19, by Mrs. Ellis Combs. Mrs. A. J. Schroeter played Poldini's Japanese Study, and as a violin solo Mrs. Gene Brink played the Russian Gypsy folk song Two Guitars.

Mmes. Wert, Frances Parker, Dale Young, Bill Dameron, W. S. Fisher and Jackson formed a chorus to sing Carpenter's selection, When I Bring You Colored Toys, with Mrs. Paul Lyons at the piano.

Reading of the club collect and group singing of the national anthem opened the program. Mrs. Bill Brady presided for business. The hostesses served coffee and cookies to 32 members.

District Music Club Officers To Attend Meet

Coming from all sections of District I, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, district officers will all have parts to enact in the yearly convention at Dawn this weekend. Mrs. Carl Wimberley of the hostess group, Dawn Music Club, is district president.

Another member at Dawn, Mrs. J. B. Caraway, serves as her corresponding secretary. Other officers live in various cities of the district.

Mrs. Tom Sutton of Spearman is vice president. She is a piano teacher at Spearman and a charter member of Spearman Music Club, in which she has held almost all the offices.

Other interests are reflected in memberships in the Jonquil Flower Club and P-TA, and Fine Arts chairmanship in Twentieth Century Club. Her son is a senior in WTSU this year, one daughter is a beauty school student and another a fourth grader.

District secretary is Mrs. Mack Bush of Wellington, past president of Wellington Music Club, former board member of District I and sponsor of a junior music club. She is active in other women's organizations also, is a district board member of Top of Texas Federated Women's Clubs and president of Wellington City Club Federation.

Mother of one son, Mrs. Bush has taught in Childress public schools, now teaches piano, voice and organ in private classes. She holds a masters degree in education from WTSU.

Mrs. F. L. Yates, who assists her husband in operation of a drug store and gift shop in Stratford, is this season's treasurer. A native of Tulsa, she attended schools there and at Stratford, then a business school. She paints in oils and on china, and teaches a class in the latter art.

Beginning the study of piano at the age of five, she continued lessons through her schooldays. Her business career included employment with a utilities firm and in the office of the sheriff and tax collector at Stratford. She and her husband are active in civic affairs there.

A longtime worker in Federated Music Clubs, Mrs. Bland Burson of Channing is district

Past Leader Of District On Program

Immediate past president of District I, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Dan W. Spencer of Dalhart will lead one of the discussion sections which are featured on the fall convention program at Dawn Friday.

This year Mrs. Spencer is serving as district chairman of the Past Presidents' Assembly. She filled a term as vice president of the district federation before election to the president's office for a two-year term.

Her discussion section Friday afternoon will deal with audio-visual programs, choral and opera department, the Crusade for Strings, National Music Week, student work, music in hospitals, churches and schools.

A Dalhart housewife who boasts three daughters and eight grandchildren, Mrs. Spencer is active in organizations other than the Dalhart Music Club, of which she is a charter member and past president.

She is a charter member of the Home and Garden Club and 1928 Study Club and has held district and state posts in the Federation of Women's Clubs. She organized the Dalhart Girl Scout Council and was its first president.

Work on the President's Council on Youth in Dallam County, the county Welfare Board, Historical Society and Career Society is included in her civic and community job record. She also serves on church boards and is a longtime member of Central Methodist Choir.

New president of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs, she will be the honored visitor to the fall convention of District I, TFMC, in Dawn Friday and Saturday. She will speak at two luncheons, for adult members Friday and juniors the next day.

A life member of the National Federation of Music Clubs, the Texas woman is listed in the first edition of the NFMC Who's Who. She has been active in the Texas Federation since 1951.

On the district level she has been chairman of Opera and Grass-Roots Opera departments, secretary, treasurer and then president.

She is a member of the Music Club in her home town, Carthage, and also of nearby Beckville Music Club, and has filled most local offices. Formerly she held membership, and offices, in Philharmonic Club at Corpus Christi.

During her high school days Mrs. Bumgardner studied piano and voice, then varied her musical training by sharing a major in business when she attended the University of Texas.

One of her childhood memories is of community musicales held regularly in her grandparents' home, one of the factors in stimulating her interest in

Secretary Shares In Convention Paper-Work

A share in the paper-work which is a big part of a district club president's job, is assumed by Mrs. J. B. Caraway of Dawn for Mrs. Carl Wimberley, also of Dawn Music Club, who is president of First District, Texas Federated Music Clubs.

Preparation for the district convention which will begin Friday in Dawn has called for much correspondence, in which Mrs. Caraway, corresponding secretary to the president, has assisted.

Enjoyment of music has been a lifelong factor in Mrs. Caraway's life, she says. She was in the glee club and girls' choir in high school, studied piano and voice with private teachers, and in WTSU was again a choir member and music student.

She calls Dawn Music Club one of her favorite interests, was a charter member and has served in all its offices. She has a similar record in Dawn Home Demonstration Club and has attended two state H. D. Club conventions.

Five years ago Mrs. Caraway's work was recognized with the designation as County Club-woman of the Year. She is active in the Church of Christ at Canyon, a teacher of five-year-olds in Sunday School. Refinishing old furniture is one of her hobbies; armed with paint remover and can of varnish, she has produced several handsome pieces for her home. She likes to knit also, and made a coat for herself last year after practicing on sweaters and dresses.

Her husband is a farmer and their three children all have an interest in music. All three play the piano and sing; the two oldest are in school bands and the younger son, now in the sixth grade, looks forward to band membership later.

Hereford Grocers Operating Already Tight Competition

With local and area food stores already announcing price cut-backs parallel with those in other areas, where housewives have engaged in so-called strikes against high prices, we cannot help but wonder what the final outcome will be. We say this because it is our feeling that the food stores, especially in Hereford, have been forced through extensive competition to operate on closer than average margins.

To say the least, it is highly probable that the food shopper can expect some curbing of service and frills if the price slashes continue over any period of time. These will likely fall into the categories of shorter hours, less brand variety, elimination of contests and costly promotions; perhaps even free carry-out service will disappear — and last of all trading stamps. Each of these services are welcome, but the housewife is screaming for lower prices, and these will probably be the first to go if the food stores are to give the people what they want or, at least, what they are saying they want. The final result, in a way, would be a modern "discount food store."

Right now, the big problem of the food retailer is that of deciding just how far he should go with the idea of keeping the majority of his customers content and happy. It is even possible that we may wind up with at least two different types of super markets: one with service and frills, the other with bare essentials.

With around 300 percent increase in floor space on food stores in Hereford during the past 18 months, competition has been rife and local stores are geared for super-service, along with stocks which are seldom surpassed in much larger cities. As a result, local stores have absorbed many increases to meet competition, along with expansions in all departments.

What will happen if services are cut to the bone, along with prices? Is this really what the average housewife wants? Would she honestly like to have the premium of trading stamps deducted from her food bill?

These are the questions which plague the groceryman today and, we presume, to which we will get an answer in the next two or three months. All of us like the frills and extra services, but we also like lower prices; as the ball bounces today, it boils down to the old saying:

"You can't eat your cake, and have it, too."

No. 7 Is Confusing

Proposed Constitutional Amendment Number 7 will appear on the November 8, 1966, ballot as follows:

FOR "repealing the poll tax as a requirement for voting."

AGAINST "repealing the poll tax as a requirement for voting."

This proposed amendment is certain to cause a great deal of confusion unless voters understand that voter registration is also an integral part of the amendment. Actually, the outcome of the vote on this amendment will likely decide whether Texas will have annual voter registration, permanent voter registration, or some other system of registration.

A majority vote FOR "repealing the poll tax as a requirement for voting" would require annual registration of voters without payment of a fee. A majority vote AGAINST "repealing the poll tax as a requirement for voting" would open the door for some future Legislature to repeal the registration provisions of our election laws, and require a system of permanent registration.

Since the poll tax as a registration requirement is now legally dead due to federal court decisions, the only real issue is whether voter registration should be on an annual basis or permanent basis. Those who favor a system of annual voter registration believe that this system is the best protection against fraud.

Those who favor a system of permanent voter registration argue that this system would be more in keeping with the national trend of liberalizing voting requirements.

Therefore, we have a situation in which those who are vitally interested in maintaining the purity of the ballot will vote FOR repeal of the poll tax, and those who are for liberalizing voting requirements will vote AGAINST repeal of the poll tax.

Is Money Going Underground?

In business and financial circles it is being generally admitted that money can be borrowed — if one is willing to pay the price.

Reports are circulating that "black-market" interest rates are becoming quite common. An individual, or a company, becomes pressed for funds, perhaps for operating capital, or to finish a plant under construction. So word is passed around in money circles and one day the needed sum pops up — but at a stiff rate. One hears of seven, eight, nine, and in some instances of 10 per cent money. Or else there is a "service charge" attached to the loan, which is just another way to hide the rate.

Because of rising costs, a group of men building one of those luxury motels ran out of money. To their surprise they were quoted 10 per cent. Shocked, they went shopping elsewhere but found the going rough.

The ceiling on interest is therefore contributing to inflation. The operators of the motel will find it necessary to pay these high rates when the notes come due. How? By adding a couple of dollars per night tourists and businessmen will pay for rooms. The same idea is applicable to other commodities, apples, furniture, or drygoods.

Controlling inflation is difficult. It's like trying to dam up water. Somewhere along the line the water will break loose.

Washington Visitors Get Better Treatment

By BERT MILLS
WASHINGTON, D. C. — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said earlier this year that "no city in the world treats its visitors with such shabby indifference as Washington, D. C." Congress got the message, took it to heart, and is about to try to remedy the situation. Legislation was passed during the closing days of the session to establish a study commission to investigate provision for visitors and submit a report by September 15, 1967.

The study group will comprise 21 people, six of them Administration officials identified by title. Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall will serve as Chairman because the National Parks come under his direction and they serve millions of visitors annually. That makes Udall an experienced host.

Other officials participating will be the heads of the General Services Administration, Smithsonian Institution, Council on the Arts and Humanities, National Capital Planning Commission, and Commission of Fine Arts. Representing Congress will be six Senators and six Representatives, half from each party.

The other three members of the study commission will be appointed by the President. At least two of them must be from outside the Federal government, and all three must be confirmed by the Senate. Those from outside the government will receive travel expenses but members will not be paid for their services.

State Exhibits Planned
The legislation directs the study group to consider six types of activities and services, including "exhibits and displays by the individual states and District of Columbia with respect to their history, resources, scenic attractions, and other appropriate matters."

Also to be studied are "exhibits, lectures, films, and displays for informing, instructing, and orienting visitors respecting the history, growth, development of the nation, the nation's capital, and the organization and operation of the Federal government in all its branches."

Other guidelines mention tourist information and assistance, specialized aid to foreign visitors and to student groups, and provision for parking, local transportation, and information centers.

Washington now attracts more than 15 million visitors annually, according to Rep. Kenneth J. Grady (D., Ill.), who steered the study commission bill to passage in the House. He cited estimates that the total will swell to 24 million by 1970, and to 35 million by 1980.

According to official estimates, it would take about three weeks for a visitor to see something of all the sights of the

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm looks into a minor problem this week.

Dear editor:

On the theory that some day the Viet Nam problems will be solved, well I really don't mean solved, most problems like that aren't solved, they just dissolve, I was looking around on the inside pages of a newspaper last night to sort of change the subject and ran across a couple of items that interested me.

One of them was an article saying an official of the National Space Council believes that by the year 2001 spaceships to the moon will be a regular thing and he predicts that trips to the moon will be more popular for honeymooners than trips to Niagara Falls used to be.

Maybe so, but I'm afraid he's not taking any practical view of the proposition.

In the same paper I read another item about the moon, and this one pointed out that the rockets already put on that planet have reported back that at night up there the temperature drops to 260 degrees below zero. Also, the night lasts two weeks. Anybody who already this year has felt the first twinges of oncoming winter, where temperatures in the 30's and 40's feel chilly, can get some notion of how cold 260 below zero is.

Furthermore, when day finally dawns, and a day up there lasts two weeks too, the temperature soars to 260 degrees above zero.

I don't know how many honeymooners now go to Niagara Falls, but I can tell you how many will want to go to the moon under those weather conditions. None, outside maybe a flapjole-sitter here and there.

The last place I'd want to invest any money in would be a motel on the moon. About the time you got enough ice in the swimming pool to get it cool enough to swim in during the 260-degree day, the sun would go down and you'd have to bring it up to a boil for night use.

And I guess I just don't have a scientific mind, because I can't imagine two honeymooners strolling around the moon hand in hand, each one locked up inside a 50-pound space suit and both preoccupied with watching their control panels to see if the oxygen supply is holding out.

The trouble with scientists is that they can't see the people for the science. They don't seem to realize that there's no moonlight on the moon.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

"BACKLASH" MEANS
TROUBLE IS COMING

IMPACT WILL AFFECT
BOTH PARTIES IN '68

By HENRY CATHCART

Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Whether it's called "white backlash" or something else two years hence, there appears to be trouble waiting for the two major parties when they gather for their 1968 presidential conventions.

It is likely to be trouble with a "capital T" for the Democrats, because there is strong reason to expect Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace to be running for president as a third party candidate. If that happens, Wallace could drain off conservative support from both major parties. The Republicans, who otherwise might hope to have some chance in deep south states, might even be hurt more than the Democrats.

Wallace surprised everyone in 1964 when he entered northern presidential primaries, polling 30 per cent of the vote in Indiana, 43 per cent in Maryland, and 25 per cent in Wisconsin.

That was the forerunner of the "backlash" reaction evidenced only recently in Democratic primaries in Georgia, Arkansas, Maryland and Louisiana. Segregationists Lester Maddox in Georgia and Jim Johnson in Arkansas won nominations for governor. In Maryland George P. Mahoney split the Democrats by winning that state's gubernatorial nomination in an upset dominated by the open housing issue. And in Louisiana segregationist John R. Rarick ousted Rep. James H. Morrison, a Johnson administration backer.

Can the parties of Jefferson and Lincoln cut and run on the issue of equal rights? Hardly. Yet the politicians' natural inclination is to look for cover when the bombs fall. Rep. Charles Longstreet Weltner, D-Ga., may have provided an example of courage. Rather than compromise his principle by supporting Maddox, he withdrew as a candidate for reelection.

● PERFECT CHOICE—President Johnson apparently has made the perfect nomination for assistant administrator for the Agency for International Development. In selecting Herbert Salzman of New York, a corporation executive, the President has found a man who has the gift of tongues.

Salzman speaks, in addition to English, French, Linguist German, Hebrew, Syriac and Aramaic. The latter Perfect two languages aren't apt to be of much practical value to AID as both are ancient tongues not AID Choice spoken in any of today's nations.

There are, of course, some jokesters who claim that none of Salzman's foreign languages will be as helpful in the AID organization as would an executive who is proficient in the English language!

50 YEARS AGO

Hereford and Deaf Smith county is a combination which, in future, shall be the perfect symbol of things accomplished, of purposes fulfilled. The indomitable energy and unswerving determination which brought to glorious culmination the epochal event of last week proves the spirit unconquerable — the spirit that does and dares — which ever dominates a progressive citizenry.

Anything so elaborate as the industrial parade staged by the fair is seldom attempted in a town the size of Hereford. As a visitor remarked, "Hereford is surely a town with big ideas and judging from the parade its ideas materialize most wonderfully." The most sanguine were unprepared for the large number and exquisite beauty of the floats, cars and other entries. There was not an inferior entry in the parade. As it came down Main St. headed by the Hereford band, deafening applause expressed the pleasure of the crowds that thronged both sides of the streets.

At the Midland Fair and Inter-State Stock Show, 64 head of registered Hereford cattle were sold for $19,285. The highest price was paid for Hector, a bull belonging to Henry M. Haiff, of Midland and purchased by B. M. Aycock & Son, of the same city, for $3,500. J. S. Sanders of Hereford, bought the top cow for $700. It was formerly the property of Jowell & Jowell, also of Hereford.

Nearly everyone from the neighborhood attended the fair at Hereford, which, in spite of the rain, drew good crowds each day.

25 YEARS AGO

A shortage which is likely to bring home the seriousness of defense to most motorists is that in anti-freeze — a shortage of which all wholesalers have warned their dealers.

Local service station operators feel that the cold weather this week will probably be a warning to most motorists to have their anti-freeze checked and to see that they have a supply adequate for the winter.

With the prices slated to go up — perhaps by the 20th of this month — tire dealers this week were reminding motorists of the desirability of buying tires now.

Not only are the prices due for a rise, say local dealers, but also manufacturers stocks are low and it may be difficult later to get tires of the correct size.

Milk bottles in which to place donations for the Central School Cafeteria were this week placed in most stores and cafes in Hereford, and officials of the cafeteria requested that citizens remember the needs of the free lunch program when they happen to have spare change.

All owners of trucks, trailers and pickups this week received letters from the State Highway Department, requesting information on the availability of the vehicles possible defense transportation service.

No definite information was given concerning the type work for which the vehicles might be needed but it is thought that with talk of transportation shortage, they might be used to haul defense supplies.

Hereford Potatoes got a good advertisement at the Governor's Banquet given Tuesday by the Texas Dirt Farmers Congress in Austin.

Through co-operation of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, 600 pounds of choice potatoes, packed by Craner and Gaul, were shipped to Austin on October 10. With the Hereford spuds, chamber of commerce officials also included 1000 cards, bearing the "Mr. Hereford Potato" insignia which has now become almost standard advertising of the Hereford territory. The cards are small, suitable for sticking on a toothpick and placing on a baked potato or in any type serving of potatoes, and are expected to furnish excellent publicity.

Juniors To Have Day At Music Convention

Juniors will have their day at the fall convention of Texas Federated Music Clubs, District I, at Dawn Saturday. The second day of the annual convention is traditionally devoted to junior music clubs, with reports, presentation of awards, a luncheon and public concert.

Junior composers of the district will be honored at the luncheon in Dawn Community House. Awards will be presented to the junior club with the most members present, the club and the member traveling farthest, and the yearbook winner. Mrs. Delton Bumgardner of Carthage, state president of Federated Music Clubs, will speak.

The junior concert, beginning at 10 a. m. in Dawn Baptist Church, will honor the state president. Those entered in the junior composers contest will play their entry numbers.

Other music on program includes selections by Dawn and Hereford music students. A woodwind quintet from Hereford High School Band will play Divertimento No. 1 by Haydn and a lighter selection, Relax (Yoder). Members are Kerry Thompson, Joy McCathern, Linda Sue Dillard, Chris Hutcherson and Ediana Vinson.

Janene Suttle, organist, and Linda Stewart, pianist, of the Dawn Musettes will present Schumann's Slumber Song; Ricky Long, David Thomas and Joy McCathern, all of Hereford, will contribute piano solos: Spinning Song (Eilmenreich) a Clementi waltz and Quick Dance (Bright), respectively.

Mrs. Steve Bavousett of Dawn, general convention chairman, will open the junior program at 9 a. m. Saturday following a registration hour. The invocation will be Mrs. A. O. Thompson, past district president and now state chairman of Sacred Music.

Alice Ann Caraway of Dawn will welcome the juniors and Nancy Thomas of Wellington is to respond. Mrs. B. M. Sims of the same city, First Division counselor, will conduct the business session, opened with the flag pledge led by Carol Ann Bavousett.

Reports by adult leaders of junior work in the district will include one by Mrs. A. J. Schroeter of Hereford, co-chairman with Mrs. James Willis of Borgert of Junior Festivals. Mrs. Carl Wimberley of Dawn, district president, will bring greetings from the Federation.

A refreshment period will precede the concert, then the luncheon is slated at noon. At the final business session, courtesy resolutions will be offered by a committee including Becky Long of Hereford and Rosemary Stewart of Dawn.

Trio Is Responsible For Convention Setting

Co-chairmen of local arrangements for the convention of First District, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, at Dawn Nov. 4 and 5 are Mrs. Steve Bavousett and Mrs. H. E. Miller Jr., whose work has been in progress since last spring.

fall meeting, and each will have duties in entertaining visitors.

Mrs. Bavousett is immediate past president of Dawn Club and previously served as treasurer. She is acting as district chairman of Music in Hospitals this term.

Mrs. Robert Strain, program chairman, is another Dawn Music Club member who has a major duty almost completed. Every member of the hostess club has done some of the work of the preparation for the annual Born at Dawn, she is the former Mary Frye, whose interest in music dates back to piano lessons when she was a child. She also studied voice, and as a student in West Texas State University was a member of the Madrigal Club and Mixed Choir.

She earned a masters degree in art and education, and taught in public schools eight years, part of the time in Friona. Mr. and Mrs. Bavousett have two children, a daughter nine years old and a son five.

Mrs. Miller attributes her love of music to her childhood in a musical family in which she was early involved in hearing and making music. She studied voice and was a choir member at Texas Tech.

A former president of Dawn Music Club, she has served as vice president of District I. Her hobbies she lists as music, cooking and gardening, all taking second place to her family. The Millers' children are Janet, Jo Anne, Hershel and Jean, ranging in age from 13 to 3.

Mrs. Strain, a member of Dawn Club since 1968, has been its president and treasurer. After graduation from Hereford High School she received a BA degree from West Texas State College and taught high school English and speech five years.

Married to a farmer, she is the mother of Sherry, 4, and Wesley, 8 years old. She teaches in the nursery department of First Methodist Church here and is current president of the Woman's Society.

Washington area. However, the average tourist spends only three days and must decide what attractions to skip. It has been estimated that if a visitor spent only one minute looking at each exhibit of the Smithsonian Institution, it would take 95 years to see them all.

President Asked Center

Various proposals to accommodate visitors to Washington have been made in past years but Congress could never agree on what action to take. Last March President Johnson sent a message to Congress asking for establishment of a National Visitor Center. Legislation to carry out his plan was introduced.

After hearings, Congress decided not to give the White House a green light but to authorize the study commission instead. The legislation adopted calls for the planning group to have a $60,000 budget.

Even that relatively small amount was refused once by the House, on economy grounds. The authorization bill was brought to the House floor under a special procedure calling for a two-thirds vote to pass. While the measure was favored 269-106, the tally was seven votes short of the required two-thirds majority.

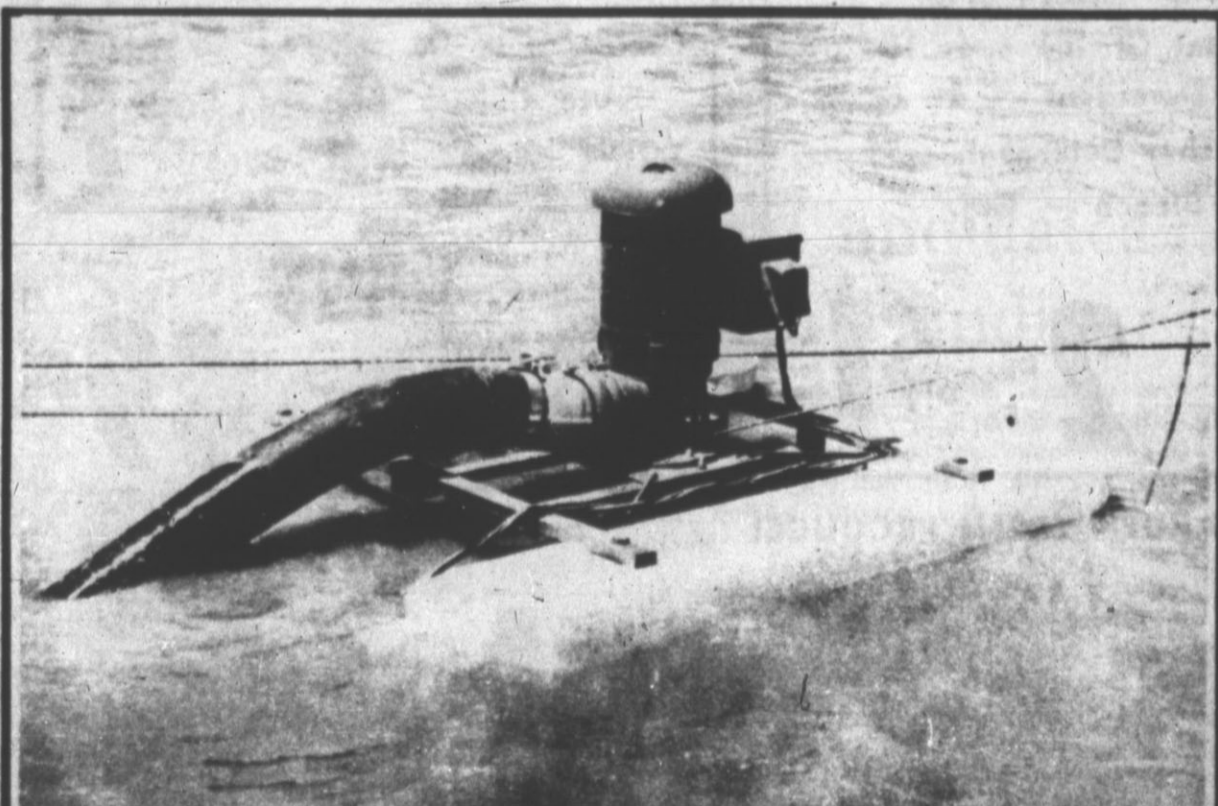

Later the bill was brought up in the House by unanimous consent and passed by voice vote, without dissent. The Senate made minor changes, including pushing back six months the deadline for a report by the commission, and passed the bill without debate.

It will take a while, but there is prospect that Washington visitors will receive better treatment in the future.

MUSIC WEEK PROMOTER — Chairman of National Music Week observance in District I, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, Mrs. Harry Morning of Amarillo is one of the leaders whose reports will be part of the program for the district convention at Dawn Friday.

She is a past president of both Harmony Club and Philharmonic Club of Amarillo, active in music club work since she moved to Texas in 1942. Her musical education was received in Kansas and Oklahoma, and she has been a church soloist since the age of 13. She has sung with vocal groups on radio, civic and church programs. At present she represents the City Federation of Women's Clubs on the Fine Arts Council of Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

HEREFORD HAS CHAIRMEN

Among the department chairmen of Federated Music Clubs of District 1, due to report their activities at the annual convention in Dawn this weekend, are several Hereford women. Three members of Music Study Club who hold chairmanships are, from left above, Mrs. A. J. Schroeter, Music Festivals; Mrs. Zack Pannell, Choral Music; and Mrs. T. W. Roberson, Insignia. Mrs. Sam Long, below, is district chairman of the Stillman-Kelley Scholarship Award a national scholarship awarded in various districts, scheduled to go to a student in this district this year. Another district board member is Mrs. A. O. Thompson, chairman of Sacred Music, who also holds a state chairmanship.

Sanford Dam To Be Saluted Tuesday

United States Department of the Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall will be the featured speaker at the dedication of Sanford Dam and Lake Meredith Tuesday, November 1, at 3:30 p. m., at the Vista Point in the Sanford-Lake Recreation Area. Commissioner Floyd E. Dominy of the Bureau of Reclamation will serve as master of ceremonies with talks scheduled by Texas Governor John Connally, Congressman George Mahon, and Congressman Walter Rogers. The climax of the event will be the unveiling of two dedicatory plaques by Congressman Rogers, Mrs. A. A. Meredith, and Secretary Udall. An entertaining program has been scheduled and the public is invited to attend. The Borger High School Band will present a concert starting at 3:00 p. m. at the same time a boat show is being staged on Lake Meredith by the Borger Boat and Ski Club. The event will be saluted by planes from Reese Air Force Base as they stage a fly-over at 3:30 p. m. The Colors will be presented by the Borger National Guard. Traffic will be directed by the National Park Service, Texas Department of Public Safety, and the Hutchinson County Sheriff's Department.

Sanford Dam and Lake Meredith are a part of the Canadian River Project which will provide municipal and industrial water to member cities of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority. Water will be delivered to Amarillo, Pampa, Borger, Plainview, Lubbock, Slaton, O'Donnell, Tahoka, Levelland, Lamesa, and Brownfield following completion of the aqueduct system.

Canadian Goose Is On Buffalo

UMBARGER — The grandest of all waterfowl, the Canada Goose, has arrived at Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge.

Bob Karges, Acting Refuge Manager, sighted eleven of the Whitecheeked geese October 24 on Buffalo Lake. The first arrivals mark the beginning of a gradual buildup which may reach 35,000 birds by January.

The gray bodied and long, black-necked birds that winter at Buffalo Lake breed in the Canadian provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

They begin their long migration journey from Canada to arrive in time for opening day of the Texas 1966 goose season.

The goose season opened on October 25 and extends through January 7 — shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise until sunset daily. The daily bag and possession limit may not include, in the alternative, more than: 2 Canada geese or 2 white fronted geese or 1 Canada goose and 1 white-fronted goose. A state license plus a Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp is required by all persons 16 years and over who hunt waterfowl.

Karges stated that the Refuge is closed to any type hunting; however, a person or group interested in viewing waterfowl are welcome. Guided tours can be arranged by contacting the Refuge office which is located 2½ miles south of Umbarger or by calling GY 9-3601.

Newsmen To Hear Experts At Clinic

"One of the most fascinating array of speakers ever assembled," is the billing given Texas Press Association's Second Annual News Clinic set for Nov. 19 in Austin.

Quote came from TPA President Jim Barnhill, Hillsboro Mirror, who will preside during the one-day session of work-type speeches and panels.

Program Chairman John Taylor, Seguin Gazette, said the roster of speakers reads like a "Who's Who in Pied Type — not because they're all mixed up, but because they are such a varied group of experts from many realms of news coverage and processing."

Co-sponsor of the event is the University of Texas Department of Journalism headed by Dr. Norris Davis.

Dr. Davis has announced a list of some 15 speakers. He stress the fact that the program will feature audience-participation in extended question-and-answer periods after each talk.

Among the varied and creative group of journalists on the program will be a reporter wounded last summer by the UT Tower Sniper; a photographer who once covered the White House; a prize-winning agriculture news editor; one of the state's foremost writers of historical journalism; and a front-page creative design artist.

Also, there will be a former TPA president; a former president of the Panhandle Press Association; a Phi Beta Kappa turned managing editor; a nationally-known sports editor turned executive editor; and a reporter who covers the state capital.

In addition, there will be a prize-winning publisher from the weekly offset field; a publisher who has been commended for his methods of handling shifting population and changing readers; a well-known daily editor; a prominent authority on legal problems involving newspapers; and a communications professor who recently made a survey of reading habits of women.

TPA President Barnhill said these speaker highlights "are enough to whet the interest of more than the 200 Texas newsmen who are expected to attend the conference."

Headquarters for the meeting will be the beautiful, historic and newly-decorated Stephen F. Austin Hotel.

Coffee Held To Introduce Wife Of Candidate

A coffee for Mrs. Pete Cole, wife of the Republican candidate for Deaf Smith County sheriff to fill an unexpired term, was given Saturday afternoon in Pioneer Gas Flame Room. About 75 women voters were invited to meet her.

Hostesses were Mmes. Barbara McGuffin, Barry T. Johnson and Herman Cherry. They introduced callers to Mrs. Cole and served refreshments during an informal hour.

Mrs. Cole is attending West Texas State College this term, commuting from her home here to Canyon. A senior, she plans to teach after she receives her degree.

TSTA Votes To Up Teachers Salaries

AUSTIN — The legislative committee of Texas State Teachers Association ended two days of hearings recently and announced a six-part package of proposed new school legislation. The suggested legislative action includes a method of providing increases in Texas classroom teachers' salaries to bring them up to the national average.

Texas now ranks 29th in the nation in classroom teacher pay. Dr. Joe B. McNeil, chairman of the TSTA legislative committee and superintendent of Wichita Falls schools, said the most immediate practical solution to a serious statewide teacher shortage that is hurting those we can least afford to hurt — the school children of Texas. McNeil's committee opened hearings Friday morning and concluded deliberations Saturday afternoon. It heard viewpoints from every TSTA-affiliated group, from classroom teachers, superintendents, principals, and from education-oriented groups such as Texas Congress of Parent-Teachers Association and Texas Association of School Boards.

The salary proposal features monthly raises in teacher pay ranging from $61 to $100 with beginning teachers and teachers with few years of service receiving the larger increases to compensate for the small increases provided them in the last salary raise.

These raises, McNeil emphasized, would be in the minimum salary schedule operated under the state's Minimum Foundation Program.

Also proposed are increased benefits to retired teachers, a minor change in the Teacher

Retirement System of Texas, clear legal status for voluntary teacher-school board consultation agreements, sick leave benefits, and a proposal for "continuing contracts and professional employment practices."

McNeil said the final approval of the proposals would come from TSTA's policy-making delegate body which meets November 5. If approved, the proposals will be submitted to the Texas legislature which convenes in January.

Cost of the pay program was figured at $85 million for the first year of operation. Of this amount the state would pay $68 million and local school districts $17 million.

Under the pay proposal the minimum state salary for beginning teachers with a bachelor's degree would be $5,004 annually. Nine annual increases would be provided with the annual salary for bachelor's degree teachers reaching $6,057.

For the beginning teacher with a master's degree the starting salary under the Minimum Foundation Program would be $5,310. Fifteen annual increases are provided to reach $7,065 on the minimum schedule.

Many local school districts pay above this minimum schedule.

Under this plan, McNeil said, all teachers would benefit. But the greatest increase would come for younger teachers.

"Too many college graduates prepared for teaching careers go into other professions to earn more money," McNeil. "This loss contributes heavily to the teacher shortage. We think our proposal will make the beginning and younger teacher's position more attractive."

Provision for keeping teachers at least at the national average by providing a $35 per month increase for each succeeding biennium remains a part of the program. However, the committee expressed its intention of recommending to the TSTA House of Delegates that this be eliminated to assure that recommendations of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education could receive full consideration by the 61st Legislature meeting in 1969. The TSTA panel felt confident that the Governor's Committee recommendations would be better than the proposed future adjustment.

McNeil said TSTA's stated goal of bringing classroom teacher salaries up to the national average is not altered by the new pay proposal.

"But our plan does provide a more effective way to attain the national average and at the same time hit the teacher shortage an effective blow," declared the veteran school administrator.

He predicted that unless immediate action is taken on teacher salaries the present shortage of more than 5,000 teachers well swell to 10,000 when school opens next September.

Another proposal with implications of helping solve the teacher shortage is the committee's suggestion for a continuing contract and professional employment practices law for teachers.

This provides that after a probationary period teachers would be protected by continuing contracts which could be terminated for cause. It also provides for hearings and appeals, as well as for teacher responsibility in keeping contracts.

While giving teachers security in their jobs, the proposal maintains the full powers of local boards of education.

A "professional consultation" bill is proposed by the committee. McNeil explained that this merely legalizes a growing trend toward written agreements of cooperation between teachers, superintendents and school boards.

The proposal will not require written consultation agreements, said McNeil, but will remove any shadow of doubt that such voluntary agreements are legal. Fort Worth and El Paso have such agreements now.

Other areas should be free to adopt such agreements if they so desire, McNeil said.

The proposed change in the teacher retirement system is minor. It would permit teachers to contribute on the basis of their total salary. No retroactive provisions are included and each member will benefit only to the extent of his increased deposit.

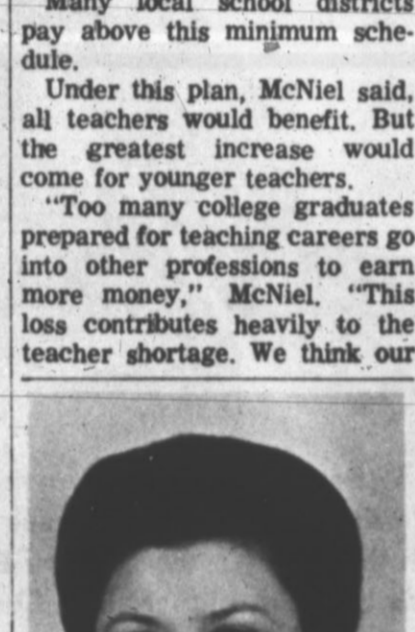

A state sick leave minimum program will be introduced. Benefits for retired teachers provide for an increase of $150 per month for each year they have been retired. A teacher re-

ON PROGRAM — Mrs. L. W. Wells of Wellington will conduct the memorial service on the Friday morning program of First District Federated Music Clubs in convention at Dawn. Mrs. Wells is district chairman of Texas Composers Guild and is starting a term as president of the Wellington Music Club. Just retired after 37 years of teaching in public schools, she taught music and directed a high school girls' chorus. She is now pianist for a church children's choir. Her memberships include the Choristers Guild of America and the National Hymn Society. She has an MA degree as a music major from West Texas State University.

FOLK MUSIC IS FIELD — Expected to attend the convention of District I, Texas Federated Music Clubs, in Dawn this weekend is Mrs. Malcolm S. McDaniel of Pampa, who is this year's district chairman of Folk Music. She is immediate past president of Treble Clef Club at Pampa, a charter member of Pampa Madrigal Singers and active in Altrusa, businesswomen's organization. She has been soloist in her church, First Methodist, many years and guest soloist for cantatas and oratorios in First Christian Church of Pampa.

OVERSEES RECORDS — Mrs. Fred McDaniel of Kerrick is Senior Achievement Record chairman of District I, Texas Federated Music Clubs, her first district music club office although she has held local offices in Stratford Music Club as well as in study clubs, church women's groups and Order of Eastern Star. She is a charter member of her music club, sings in the Stratford Methodist Church choir and has appeared in three benefit musicals, also assisting on programs of the annual Old Timer Reunions. Married to a farmer, she has a teenage daughter and a 12-year-old son.

Another big square dance in Sugarland Mall will be hosted by the Sugar Squares of Hereford Thursday evening with dance clubs from over the Plains area invited to participate and other residents to watch.

A similar dance was held in the Mall a few weeks ago, with scores of dancers and spectators present. Sid Perkins of Amarillo, regular caller for the Sugar Squares Club, will again be at the mike when dancing begins at 8 p. m.

Several clubs from Amarillo are expected to be among out-of-town groups present.

This special dance is being held, announces Billy Joe Lloyd publicity chairman for the host club, to help promote square dancing in the Hereford-Dimmitt-Friona area. Residents interested in learning the dances are especially invited to visit, and to enroll for club membership and lessons if they wish.

The Hereford club is open to all square dancers, and conducts lessons for beginners. Single adults are accepted for membership as well as couples.

Whether or not there is any wish to become a square dancer, everyone is invited for the evening of entertainment and refreshments Thursday.

STUDY CHAIRMAN — A former president of District I, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, Mrs. John Yows of Borger is now chairman of Course of Study and Program Building, and will direct one of the conference sections at the annual district convention in Dawn this weekend. Born, raised and educated in Oklahoma, Mrs. Yows has a degree from OSU and taught public school music in Jay and Oklahoma City before she came to Amarillo Air Force Base as an instructor during World War II. She married and remained in the Panhandle, is active in music club work at Borger, plays the organ.

TRY THE WORLD'S TOUGHEST 2-DOOR

This new Chevy pickup looks so good you could call it a 2-door. (You could also call it the toughest Chevy pickup ever built!)

This Fleetside pickup's got a lot more than good looks going for you. It's got new construction to bring you more durability, working ease, comfort and safety. Check that new all-steel pickup box, for example. New full double-wall side panels and tailgate keep your load from leaving its mark on Chevy's good looks. And new measures have been taken to help keep out rust and corrosion. Like the one-piece wheelhousings that now protect sheet metal against tire splash.

Inside, the color-keyed cab looks and feels like a pleasant place to work. There are a number of new safety features, too: an energy-absorbing steering wheel and a dual master cylinder brake system, to name two.

And here's another thing the new Chevy pickup's got going for you: it rides better than some cars. Choose from 26 Fleetside and Stepside models now at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Double Duty At Convention Assigned To Officer-Editor

Double duty will be assumed by Mrs. B. M. Sims of Wellington at the convention of First District Federated Music Clubs in Dawn this weekend.

As first vice president of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs, she will be an honored guest and the leader of one discussion section on the adult program Friday.

As Junior Counselor in the district, she will preside for the business session on Junior Day, Saturday.

Mrs. Sims is editor of Texas Music News, publication of the state federation, and her discussion group will be concerned with the publications department, magazine and literature promotion, publicity and junior works as well as with international music relations, legislation, achievement records and dance.

She will share honors with Mrs. DeLion Bungardner of Carthage, TFWC president, at the Friday luncheon.

Wife of a rancher and mother of twin boys, Mrs. Sims is a busy clubwoman in several fields. She is first vice president of the Top of Texas District, Federation of Women's Clubs, and has served as state secretary.

She is an officer or member of the Texas Association of Hospital Auxiliaries, B&PW Club, P-TA and Cub Scout Mothers.

Time is also given to her church and civic activities. In 1964 she was named the outstanding clubwoman in Top of Texas District, and also chosen Mrs. Texas of that year.

Proposed Texas Admendmentments In Brief

Proposition 1 on the ballot land to be assessed on consideration of only those factors relative to agricultural use.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Constitutional Amendment to provide that all land owned by natural persons designated for agricultural use shall be assessed for all tax purposes on the consideration of only those factors relative to such agricultural use."

This Amendment would exempt farmers and ranchers from paying full taxes on high priced land so long as they use the land for raising livestock or growing crops, fruit, flowers and other products of the soil. These products would have to be grown under natural conditions and the owner would have to be conducting the farm or ranch as a business venture for profit.

The wording is vague and in conflict with other constitutional requirements that all taxation shall be equal and uniform, and that all property in the state shall be taxed in proportion to its value. Its lack of clarity might void the amendment for all practical purposes but if the courts can resolve its conflicts and vagueness, it might create serious tax and bond problems for cities, towns, schools and other local districts.

In effect, this amendment is an exception to the basic constitutional requirement that taxation shall be equal and uniform. The exception would apply for all tax purposes, both state and local. It would affect local districts more since the Constitution already gives the owner of a homestead exemption from state taxes on $3,000 of assessed value. The homestead exemption applies to all property owners; this exception for agricultural use would apply to a restricted group.

The valuation and assessment of any minerals or subsurface rights to minerals would not be affected by this exception for agricultural use. They would be subject to full assessment and taxation the same as if they were on land not designated for agricultural use.

The exception could be claimed only by an owner of property, and a natural person rather than a corporation. The owner's primary occupation would have to be raising livestock or growing products of the soil. This would also have to be the owner's principal source of income. For example if the owner's income from oil or other minerals, or income of any other type, either from his land or from other sources, exceeded the income from his ranching or farming operations, he could not claim the agricultural exception.

How land would be assessed for agricultural use is not well defined. It would be assessed "on the consideration of only those factors relative to such agricultural use." The factors to be considered are not named and there is no formula for determining what is "relative." The application of these terms would have to be spelled out in future court decisions or the amendment could prove meaningless because of vagueness.

For each assessment year in which the owner wished to qualify his land as agricultural he would have to file with the local tax assessor a sworn statement in writing describing the use to which the land was devoted.

The tax assessor could require such evidence as was necessary to determine whether the agricultural use designation should apply. He could require some sort of tax return, or information, about all of the owner's income in order to determine whether raising livestock or growing products on the land involved was the owner's primary source of income.

No land could qualify for the agricultural designation unless for the last three consecutive years it had been devoted exclusively to agricultural use, or had been continuously developed for agriculture during that time.

Each year the tax assessor would make a note on his records of what the valuation would have been if the land had not qualified for a lower valuation due to agricultural use. If the designated land should be sold or used for another purpose, it would become subject to the full valuation which the assessor had noted on his records. This would apparently apply even though the land was sold to a person who would continue its agricultural use. An additional tax would be collected for the difference between the tax paid and the amount of tax payable if the land had been assessed at its full value. This tax would be collected for the preceding three years. Until paid, the additional tax would be a lien on the land. Such a lien could make financing difficult and produce problems in event of sale.

Those in favor of this amendment believe a farmer or rancher should not be forced to pay taxes on the actual worth of his land if he is not going to use it for the purpose which makes it more valuable. They point out that farming has always received special consideration and that it has value as a way of family life which this country wants to preserve. In addition, some argue that this would keep land values from snowballing too fast and would make development around cities more orderly.

Those who oppose the amendment believe it is fundamentally wrong to extend exemptions from taxes to any special group or groups of citizens to the disadvantage of others. They point out that most, if not all, local districts affected are paying off bonded indebtedness based upon a tax rate which assumes that all property will be taxed according to its real value, and they predict that in some counties there might be a very substantial reduction in the assessed value of property being held for residential, industrial or other development. They suggest that every land speculator might become a "farmer" so he could escape paying taxes on land held solely for speculation. They object to the tax collector assuming the job of investigating the incomes of all farmers who would claim the exemption, and they say the "valuation which would have been made" noted on his records by the assessor would not be checked until the time came for selling or changing the use of the land, at which date it might be too late to protest.

The governing bodies of cities whose airport facilities were served by certificated airlines, and whose airport facilities were being acquired by the airport authority, would choose whether the Board of Directors of the authority should be appointed or elected. If directors were appointed, the appointment would be made by the County Commissioners' Court. If they were elected, election would be by the qualified taxpaying voters of the county. Where the airport authority covered more than one county, one county creation of airport authorities.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the addition of Section 12 of Article IX of the Constitution, authorizing the Legislature to provide by law for the creation, establishment, maintenance and operation of Airport Authorities composed of one or more counties, and authorizing the levy of a tax not to exceed Seventy-Five Cents (75 cents) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation of all taxable property within such Airport Authority except the property of state regulated common carriers required by law to pay a tax upon intangible assets, after approval of its voters."

Immediately involved in this amendment are the cities of Dallas and Fort Worth, which were instrumental in securing its submission. The amendment would add a new Section 12 to Article IX of our State Constitution. It is proposed as a result of federal pressure for the development of regional airports.

The Legislature would be authorized by this proposal to provide by law for the creation, establishment, maintenance and operation of airport authorities composed of one or more counties.

The airport authority could be given power to issue general obligation bonds or revenue bonds, or both, for the purpose of acquisition, construction, repair or renovation of an airport of airports. This would include authority to provide landing fields and runways, airport buildings, hangers, facilities, equipment, fixtures, and any and all other property, real or personal, necessary to operate, equip and maintain an airport.

The governing bodies of cities whose airport facilities were served by certificated airlines, and whose airport facilities were being acquired by the airport authority, would choose whether the Board of Directors of the authority should be appointed or elected. If directors were appointed, the appointment would be made by the County Commissioners' Court. If they were elected, election would be by the qualified taxpaying voters of the county. Where the airport authority covered more than one county, one county might choose directors by election and in another county they might be appointed by the Commissioners Court. In case of appointment, Commissioners would be required to secure the consent to their appointment from any city whose airport was taken over by the authority.

Directors would be selected on the basis of the proportionate population of each county according to the last Federal census. They would serve without compensation for a term fixed by the Legislature and not to exceed six years. They would be residents of the county which elected them. No county would have less than one director.

There would have to be an election before any county could take part in an Airport Authority. The Commissioners' Court would call the election upon petition of 5% of the qualified taxpaying voters. Elections would be held on the same day if more than one county were involved in the Authority. Not more than one election could be called in a county until after the expiration of one year. If an election failed, a petition signed by 10% of the qualified taxpaying voters would be required before the Commissioners' Court could call another one.

If two or more counties were voting on the proposition of creating an airport authority a majority of the qualified taxpaying voters in each county would have to vote in favor. An airport authority could be created, however, composed of the county or counties that voted in favor of its creation if provision for such were submitted at the time of vote. An additional county could be added to the Authority later by a favorable vote in the county and approval by a two-thirds vote of the then existing board of directors.

The Authority would be required to assume any general obligation bonds or revenue bonds outstanding against publicly owned airport facilities it acquired.

The board of directors of the Airport Authority could levy an ad valorem tax not to exceed 75 cents on the $100 valuation of property. It would appoint an Assessor and Collector of Taxes, and the tax rolls would be approved by the board. State regulated common carriers required by law to pay a tax upon intangible assets would not be subject to taxation by the Authority.

This amendment does not create any airport authorities; it merely authorizes the Legislature to provide the means and mechanics for the creation of them through the action of the electorate in later elections which may be called for such purposes.

How high an ad valorem tax the authority may need, how much of its operating costs and bond payments can be met by revenues, and what federal assistance may be anticipated, are questions which will be raised at the time a specific airport authority is proposed and submitted to voters in local county elections.

Proposition 3 on the ballot with drawing Arlington State College from the A&M University system under the permanent University fund

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Constitutional Amendment withdrawing Arlington State College from participation in the Permanent University Fund."

This amendment completes the shift of Arlington State College from the Texas A&M University System to the University of Texas System, and the change in financing of permanent improvements at Arlington.

Last year the Legislature passed a law providing that Arlington State College "shall be under the direction of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas," but specifying that "it is the intent of the Legislature that future building needs of Arlington State College shall be financed from some source or sources other than the University of Texas' share of the principal and/or interest of and from the University Permanent Fund."

TO THE VOTERS OF DEAF SMITH COUNTY

PETE COLE

I have for the last several days attempted to contact each of you by mail or in person, and I am sure that most of you are now fully aware of the campaign in progress for the office of Sheriff of Deaf Smith County.

I am 36 years old, and have served you in this community in the law enforcement field for the past 5 years and nine months. I feel that I have served all of the people equally in all matters possible.

My wife, Anna, and I own our home at 118 South Centre, and intend to make our home and our future in this community. We hope to be able to work for the people as we both have strong feelings for the youth of our country as well as the general public. Anna is a senior at West Texas State University, and is planning a teaching career in our public school system beginning next year. We both hope to closely associate with all of you in the future years here in Hereford.

I served 14 consecutive years with the Armed Services before resigning and coming to Hereford. I worked for the Police Department for two years. I resigned from the Police Department to become a Deputy Sheriff under Lowell Sharp where I now serve.

I feel that I could serve you well as your Sheriff, and hope that you will vote for and support me in the election on November 8, 1966.

I hope that anyone or any number of you will call on me at anytime that I may be of service to you in any way.

Thanking you in advance for your consideration in electing me Sheriff of Deaf Smith County in the November General Election.

Sincerely,

Republican Candidate for Sheriff --

 this intent by including Arlington State College in the list of state institutions of higher learning which finance their permanent improvements from a special state ad valorem tax. It was included in an amendment of that section of our Constitution which was adopted last fall. Arlington and four other schools were added and the tax rate was increased from 5c to 10c.
 With these transfers, both administrative and financial, Arlington State College will no longer receive any building money from the Permanent University Fund. The purpose of the current amendment, to be voted on in November, is a technical one. It will clean up the wording of our Constitution by removing the college from the Permanent University Fund list.

Proposition 4 on the ballot terms of office of directors of conservation and reclamation districts.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Constitutional Amendment changing the maximum term of office of directors of conservation and reclamation districts from two to six years."

This proposed amendment would add a new Section 30c to Article XVI of our State Constitution to permit the Legislature to fix the term of office of directors of conservation and reclamation districts, not to exceed six years.

The amendment would apply to persons serving on the governing bodies of political subdivisions created for the purposes of Section 52, Article III and Section 59, Article XVI of our Constitution. These include irrigation districts, navigation districts, drainage districts and districts for construction, improvement and maintenance of rivers, creeks, streams, pools, lakes, reservoirs, dams, canals, and waterways. They are generally referred to as conservation and reclamation districts.

Another section of our Constitution, Section 30a of Article XVI, provides six year terms for "such boards as have been or may hereafter be established by law." It was adopted in 1912 in an attempt to attract men of high qualifications and ability to serve on such boards. But our State Supreme Court has held that this applies only to boards of state agencies, and in 1964 the Attorney General ruled that many conservation and reclamation districts are not state agencies. That meant their directors would be limited to two year terms.

All statutory provisions relating to terms of office of such directors enacted before adoption of the amendment would be validated, so long as they did not provide for terms exceeding six years. The proposal would clarify a confusing situation in favor of longer terms.

Proposition 5 on the Ballot, authorizing a state wide system of retirement, disability and death benefits

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Texas Legislature to establish A State-wide Cooperative System of Retirement, Disability and Death Benefits for the officials and employees of the various counties or other political subdivisions of the state, or political subdivisions of a county; authorizing the Legislature to provide for a voluntary merger into the system authorized by this Amendment by those officers and employees covered by the provisions of subsection b) of Section 62 of Article XVI of the Texas Constitution as now existing or may hereafter be established; providing that costs of this System shall be borne by the counties and other political subdivisions of the state and of the county electing to participate therein and the officers and employees covered by the System; and forbidding the Legislature from making any appropriations for the operation of this System."

This proposition would add a new subsection c) to Section 62 of Article XVI of our Constitution, giving the Legislature authority to provide a statewide system of retirement, disability and death benefits for all officers and employees of a county or of any other political subdivision in the state. The retirement system would include elective as well as appointive officers.

There is already a constitutional provision for Retirement, Disability and Death Compensation Funds for county employees. Eleven of the larger counties in the state have adopted their own systems under the provisions of Article XVI, Section 62 (b). This subsection requires a majority vote of qualified taxpayers to authorize a retirement system for their county. It limits the county's contribution to not more than 5% of an employee's compensation and not more than $180 in one year for each employee. Subsection (b) also requires that all funds of a county system must be invested in bonds of the United States, the State of Texas or counties or the State, or in bonds issued by any agency of the United States government if payment of principal and interest is guaranteed by the government.

There also are statutory provisions permitting pension funds in other political subdivisions such as Municipal or City employees, firemen, policemen and Navigation District employees. The language of the proposed amendment is very broad. Apparently these could be merged into the proposed state-wide system. It appears there might be a considerable overlapping of possible pension benefits and that in the case of county employees there might be a duplication of benefits.

Under the proposed state-wide system the governing body of a county, or political subdivision would determine whether it would participate, without a vote of the people. The cost of the system would be determined by the Legislature but the county or political subdivision would pay all the cost. The amendment would specifically provide that the Legislature "shall never make an appropriation to pay the costs of this Retirement, Disability and Death Compensation System."

The Legislature would be free to establish the kind of system it deemed best, to decide the kind of investments which could be made with the funds contributed, the type of board which would administer the system, and the amount of contribution for employee, subject to the limitation that the amount contributed by the county or other political subdivision must "equal the amount paid for the same purpose from the income of each officer and employee." All of these indicate a system with all funds and controls centralized at the state level.

Provision is made for the governing body of a county which has its own retirement system to make an agreement for a voluntary merger into the state-wide system provided by this amendment. If this were generally done, the present constitutional provision, and its limitations, for county retirement plans would be superseded and abandoned.

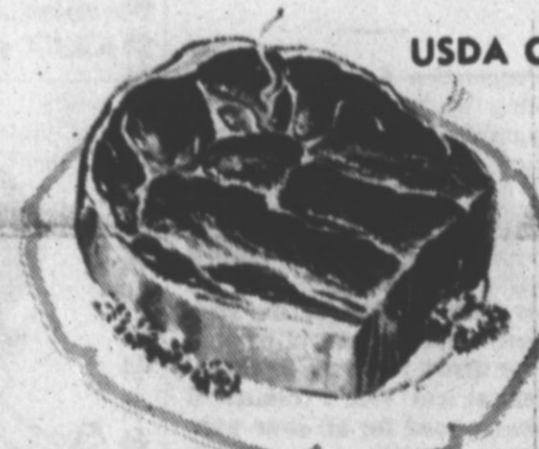

The addition of a Subsection (c) to Section 62 of Article III apparently would not affect the present Subsection (a) which sets up a retirement, disability and death compensation system for state employees. Subsection (a) restricts the amount contributed by the state for the retirement of its employees to not more than five percentum (5%) of the compensation paid to each person. It limits the type of investments which may be made by this fund and it requires a sufficient amount to be kept on hand to meet the immediate payments likely to become due each year out of the Fund. There is also a state retirement plan for judges, who are not eligible to participate in the State Employees Retirement Plan. Qualified members of the Teachers Retirement System are, however, entitled to credit for service rendered as state employees, and similarly, qualified members of the Employees, Retirement System of Texas are entitled to credit for service rendered to the public schools, colleges or universities covered under the Teacher Retirement System.

The result of Proposition 5, if it should be adopted, would be that state officers and employees, judges and college and university employees would be members of separate and restricted systems, while officers and employees of counties, cities and the various other political subdivisions could have available to them a state-wide system, virtually without constitutional restrictions. Apparently the proposition would allow school districts to be eligible for the new state-wide system, although such a shift would probably not be practical for many reasons. A school district would have to pay the cost of the program under the new system, while the State pays the costs under the present Teacher Retirement System.

There is also a broad statement that it is the further intention of the Legislature that officers and employees of counties and other political subdivisions "may be included in these systems regardless of whether their County or political subdivision participates in the state-wide system or participates in a county retirement under Article XVI Section 62 (b) such language might allow the Legislature to bring officers and employees under the proposed state-wide retirement system even though the governing body of their political subdivision had not chosen to participate. Or it might establish a constitutional right for an individual employee or officer to adopt the state-wide plan and force the governing body to match his contribution. The two possibilities mentioned are only by way of illustrating that the language employed is vague and confusing so that the exact import of this proposed amendment, if adopted, will probably have to await an interpretation by the Legislature or the courts.

Proposition 6 on the Ballot authorizing payment by the state to spouse and children of law enforcement officers, custodial personnel of the Texas Department of Corrections, or full-paid firemen, who suffer violent death in the course of their duties.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Constitutional Amendment providing for the payment of assistance by the State to the surviving spouse and minor children of law enforcement officers, custodial personnel of the Texas Department of Corrections of full-paid firemen who suffer violent death in the course of the performance of their duties as law enforcement officers, custodial personnel of the Texas Department of Corrections or as full-paid firemen."

This proposal would authorize the Legislature by general law to provide for the payment of assistance by the State to the surviving spouse and minor children of law enforcement officers, or of full-paid firemen, or of custodial personnel of the Texas Department of Corrections. The authority to pay such aid would be restricted to cases where violent death was suffered in the course of the performance of duty.

Authority granted the Legislature would not be limited to employees of the State but would apply to all law enforcement officers and full-paid firemen to whom the Legislature might be willing to extend it. Any provisions made by the Legislature would, in the case of people who are not employees of the State, be in addition to insurance or other arrangements for survivors that might be made by cities, or counties, or other governmental agencies which might have law enforcement employees or full-paid firemen.

The policy of this amendment involves selectivity as to who will be the recipient of State aid. It chooses a certain class of public employees for this special treatment. It would allow the Legislature to make further choices as to whom it would assist. It is permissive and would not require that the Legislature appropriate money or provide for assistance to all the people designated in the amendment, or any of them. It would apply only to those who suffer violent death in the performance of their duties, and in the case of firemen, it would apply only to full-paid firemen. It would not apply to volunteer firemen and presumably would not apply to part-time firemen.

This would be another exception to the general prohibition in Section 51 of Article III against granting public money to any individual or association of individuals or municipal or other corporations. Exceptions have been made to allow aid to soldiers and sailors and their wives and widows, Texas Rangers and their widows, the needy aged, needy blind, needy children and needy persons who are totally and permanently disabled. This would be a new Section 51-d of this same Article III.

It has been argued that local governments do not usually make sufficient provisions if any, for survivors of law enforcement officers and firemen, but same serious questions have also been raised about the wisdom of the State's interference with decisions which ought to be made at the local level.

Proposition 7 on the Ballot, providing for annual registration of voters without payment of a fee.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "repealing the poll tax as a requirement for voting."

This proposition would take out of our Constitution the requirement that a poll tax must be paid before a person can vote. This is really no longer an issue since court decisions have nullified the requirement.

The proposed amendment would require annual registration of voters without payment of a fee. It would provide that "before offering to vote at an election a voter shall have registered annually," and that the Legislature "shall provide by law for the registration of all voters."

These historic changes would be accomplished by amendment of Sections 2 and 4 of Article VI of our Constitution.

Unless this amendment is adopted, it is doubtful that there would be any constitutional authority for state-wide registration, in that the present Constitution, Art. VI, Sec. 4, provides that the Legislature "may provide by law for the registration of all voters in all cities containing a population of ten thousand inhabitants or more." The proposed amendment would substitute the word "shall" and would eliminate the restrictive language in italics. Thus, it would be mandatory under the proposed amendment for the Legislature to provide for registration of all voters wherever they reside.

The provision quoted above was adopted in 1891 but after its adoption there were repeated charges that special interests were controlling many voters. In 1902 the amendment requiring payment of a poll tax was adopted; this wrote into the Constitution a mandatory provision for registration of all voters twenty-one to sixty years of age.

The poll tax requirement for voting was held invalid in February of this year by a three judge federal court (United States of America vs. State of Texas, 252 F Supp. 234, D. C. 1965). It based its ruling on the due process clause of the Federal Constitution. The court said this requirement was equivalent to a charge or penalty imposed on the exercise of a fundamental right, and it indicated that any charge for registration would be illegal. The United States Supreme Court affirmed the decision.

Immediately following the three judge decision, the State Legislature was called into special session and it adopted a new registration act. The major change in the law was that registration with the County Clerk should be without any charge.

Under the law passed in February voters will register annually, as they have previously done, during the period October 1 through January 31. A temporary registration was allowed during March, 1966, but this was a one-time provision in order to clarify the immediate right to vote without payment of poll tax.

The section of the Constitution which levies the poll tax would not be repealed by this amendment. As a practical matter, collection of the poll tax may drop very substantially as a result of this change. This tax produced $1,972,150 in 1965.

Constitutional amendments to eliminate any requirement of poll tax payment in order to vote were submitted in 1949 and in 1963. On both occasions the proposed amendment was defeated by the same percentage of voters; the vote against the amendment was slightly in excess of 50% each time. One major argument against these proposals, and apparently a successful one, was that they did not require annual registration of voters.

Since the use of the poll tax as a registration requirement is now legally dead under the court decisions, the crux of the problem is (1) whether we should require the Legislature to provide for state-wide registration which would apply alike to all citizens wherever they reside and (2) whether such registration should be permanent or annual. This amendment would, in a word, require annual state-wide registration.

Most citizens apparently would agree that registration of all voters on an equal state-wide basis makes sense. There are differing schools of thought as to whether registration should be permanent or should be annual.

Some people oppose any registration and it would be possible, if this amendment is not adopted, for some future legislature to repeal the registration provisions of our election laws since our Constitution would then allow, but not require, the Legislature to provide for registration.

Most of those who oppose this amendment do so, however, because they think that permanent registration, or registration good for a period of years, would be more in keeping with the national trend of liberalizing voting requirements.

Those who favor this amendment argue that a right so fundamental as the right to vote should be clearly protected by statutory provisions of our Constitution to prevent voting the names of dead people and people who have moved, and repeat voting and other fraudulence. They believe our population is today so mobile, people move so much from city to city, state to state, and job to job, even within the same company, or into government service and back to private employment, that annual registration is the only way to keep an accurate, up-to-date record on who is entitled to vote.

Proposition 8 on the Ballot Voting by persons temporarily disqualified by reason of residence.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Constitutional Amendment permitting persons qualified to vote in this State except for the residence requirements in a county or district to vote for Presidential and Vice Presidential Electors and for all state-wide offices, questions or propositions, and permitting citizens of the United States recently arrived or departed from the State to vote for Presidential and Vice Presidential Electors."

A proposed new Section 2a to Article VI of our State Constitution would alleviate some problems of citizens who have been temporarily disfranchised.

It would authorize the Legislature to enact laws and provide a method of registration to permit a person fully qualified to vote in this State except that he had not resided six months in his county or precinct, (1) to vote in federal presidential elections, and (2) to vote for all offices, questions or propositions which are decided by a statewide vote.

It would also authorize the Legislature to enact laws and to set up a method of registration in federal presidential elections for people who are otherwise qualified but who do not meet residence requirements, if they have resided anywhere within the State for at least thirty days preceding a general election in a presidential election year, or if that person had been a qualified elector in another state immediately prior to coming to Texas or would have been eligible to vote in that state if he had remained there until the election.

It would allow the Legislature to provide a method of registration for absentee voting for Presidential and Vice Presidential electors by otherwise qualified electors who have moved from Texas to another state. This particular privilege could be granted only for enough time to permit the former resident to meet residential requirements for voting in the state to which he moved. In no case could it be granted for more than twenty four months.

It has been estimated that about 75,000 persons are disfranchised at each election because they are unable to meet the six months residence requirement in their county and that about 100,000 new residents are unable to vote because they have not lived in this State the required one year.

The State Attorney General's office held in a 1960 opinion that a person who does not meet the requirement of six months residence within the district or county is not entitled to vote for any office. This construction is not followed in some counties, which allow voting for statewide offices although these district or county residence requirements are not satisfied. Many people do not realize that a voter can temporarily lose his right to vote when he moves about within this State from one county to another.

A great deal of national at-ention has been given to the plight of those who move from one state to another. Congress passed a resolution in 1956 urging states to meet this problem so citizens could vote in presidential elections. A number of measures have been introduced in Congress during the past decade which would regulate this subject but none has been adopted. In 1962 the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws approved a uniform act for voting by new residents in presidential elections. By early 1965 eighteen states had adopted legislation of that nature.

Some people have doubts about this amendment because they fear increasing mobility of citizens would add greatly to the difficulties of holding elections and procuring ballots from fraud. There is a growing realization, however, that an increasing number of people are being disfranchised and denied the right to vote on state and national questions which are not restricted to any single district.

Proposition 9 on the Ballot Increasing the Court of Criminal Appeals to Five Judges.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Amendment to the State Constitution providing for a Court of Criminal Appeals of five members, and prescribing the term of said court."

This amendment would increase our Court of Criminal Appeals from three Judges to five Judges.

The Court now operates with three Judges and two Commissioners who are assistants to the Judges, but have no authority as members of the Court. The two present Commissioners of Appeals would become Judges and hold their offices, one for a term of two years and the other for a term of four years, beginning the first day of January following the adoption of this amendment. The Judges could, by agreement one with another, designate which new Judge would serve two years and which would have a term of four years.

The Governor would designate one of the five Judges as Presiding Judge and at the expiration of his term, and each six years thereafter, a Presiding Judge would be elected.

The Constitution now provides that the Governor shall, in case of a vacancy in the office of a Judge in the Court of Criminal Appeals, fill the vacancy by appointment until the next succeeding general election. The amendment would make two changes in this procedure: it would require the Judge's appointment to be made with the advice and consent of the Senate and the appointment would be for the unexpired term.

The Court of Criminal Appeals is now required by the Constitution to sit for the transaction of business from the first Monday of October to the last Saturday in June in each year. This proposal would allow the Court to sit for approximately the full twelve months "from the first Monday in October to the last Saturday in September."

It would also require the Court to conduct its business at the State Capitol. At present, this is the law but the Constitution would allow the Legislature to designate two other places where the Court might sit. The proposal would amend both Section 4 and Section 5 of Article V.

Proposition 10 on the Ballot

School District Taxes. You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Amendment to Section 3-b of Article VII of the Constitution of Texas providing that taxes or bonds previously voted in any independent school district or in any junior college district shall not be abrogated, cancelled or invalidated by any change in boundaries and authorizing the continuance of the levy of taxes after such change without further election."

In 1962 a provision was written into our Constitution to correct a situation which had proven a serious impediment to the efficient and economical administration of the schools, but it was limited to Dallas County. Under the law, adjustment of school district boundaries, however desirable, wiped out tax rates and vitiated unissued bonds. The 1962 constitutional provision was to the effect that a change of any kind in the boundaries of an independent school district (in Dallas County) would not abrogate, cancel or invalidate taxes for the maintenance of public free schools, or any bonds which had been voted but were unissued. It specified that the maximum tax rate after such a consolidation or annexation would be the maximum rate already voted in the district having the greatest scholastic population, and similarly, that only the bonds of the district having the greatest scholastic population could be subsequently sold and delivered.

Proposition 10 would amend

that section of our Constitution, which is Article III, Section 3-b, to make it applicable to any independent school district or junior college district in Texas. The benefits in fiscal management permitted school districts in Dallas County would be extended to the remainder of the state with junior colleges, which are in part governed by the general school laws, added.

Proposition 11 on the Ballot extending state water program to include filtration, treatment and transportation of water and authorizing an additional $200,000,000 in Bonds

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "The Constitutional Amendment authorizing the issuance of an additional $200,000,000 in Texas Water Development Bonds and providing for further investment of the Texas Water Development Fund in reservoirs and associated facilities."

This amendment would be a further implementation of the concept that the State should encourage the construction or enlargement of dams and reservoirs "for conservation of the public waters of the state, which waters are held in trust for the use and benefit of the public."

This proposal would allow the state to expand and round out its program for conservation and maximum development of its water resources. It would authorize acquisition and development of systems or works necessary for filtration, treatment and transportation of water. It would approve the issuance of $200,000,000 more in state bonds to finance this enlarged program.

In 1957 our Constitution was amended to create the Texas Water Development Board, and to authorize the issuance of general obligation bonds from which aid could be given political subdivisions in the conservation and development of water resources. This was the beginning of a program designed to assist local communities in development and ownership of water facilities for drinking, fire-fighting, irrigation and industrial uses. Money is loaned to local authorities under this program at an interest rate at least 1/2% above the cost to the state. The program is self-liquidating.

In 1962 a further amendment extended state policy on water development to include the construction or enlargement of reservoirs by the State of Texas itself, or acquiring conservation storage space in reservoirs on Texas streams constructed by federal or local governmental agencies. The purpose was to insure that reservoir sites were developed to their optimum potential and also to preserve state and local authority in areas being developed by the federal government.

The water storage program, adopted in 1962, is not immediately self-liquidating. There is a delay between the time money must be expended to acquire storage space and the date on which construction of a reservoir will be completed and there is sufficient water to fill it. Even after water is available in storage there often will be further delay until the growth of an area creates demand for the water.

When the 1962 amendment was adopted, it was recognized that a storage program could not normally be undertaken by local government because it would not be able to finance it. The state, through its program, was underwriting the future needs of its people. Eventually, the excess storage in a reservoir will be sold and the state will receive payment either in cash or in notes and bonds, or both. In the meantime payment of principal and interest by local governmental agencies to whom loans have been made will help in carrying the cost of interest and retirement of bonds for all purposes.

It is anticipated that during the fiscal year ending August 31, 1967 and in some succeeding years, part of the cost of this water storage program will have to be met out of the state's General Revenue Fund. The years in which general revenue funds will be needed and the amount cannot be exactly anticipated.

The proposed new program to be administered by the Texas Water Development Board would not be immediately self-liquidating either. Obviously, if the state is going to invest in facilities for filtration, treatment and transportation of water from the point of storage to the point of treatment and filtration and if it is going to distribute this water, there will be a time lag between the investment of funds and the date when sale of water or sale of a whole system will return some of the State's investment — a time lag during which the additional payments on state bonds will have to be paid in part from the General Revenue Fund. The Board will guard against this as much as possible. It is not likely that it will undertake a system of transporting water or build a facility and associated work unless there is an immediate demand for them.

Section 49-d of Article III, which this proposal would amend, authorized issuance of $200,000,000 in bonds. To date the Board has issued $85,000,000, the last issue being $15,000,000 in February of this year. As of June this year the amortized value of loans amounted to $43,827,150 and the cost of storage facilities purchased came to $14,998,200. Commitments for additional loans came to $2,895,000 and commitments for purchase of storage amounted to $6,241,791.

The additional $200,000,000 in bonds, which would be authorized if this amendment is adopted, could be issued by the Board only when, and in the amounts, approved by a two-thirds vote of the elected members of each House of the Legislature. The Legislature would also, under this proposed amendment, provide terms and conditions under which the Board could sell, transfer or lease any reservoirs and associated systems or works the Board has financed in whole or in part. This requirement already exists as to storage facilities acquired by the Board and the right to use such facilities but our Constitution has the additional requirement as to these storage facilities that their sale, transfer or lease may not be for less than the direct cost of the Board in acquiring them.

The Legislature in its last session gave the Board the duty of preparing a comprehensive State Water Plan, including a definition and designation of river basins and watersheds as a separate unit for purposes of water development and inter-watershed transfer. The water plan is to be a flexible guide to state policy for the development of state water resources, with the Board instructed to make such modifications and amendments as experience and changed conditions made advisable. The Legislature also created the Texas Water Rights Commission and gave it the duty of acting on all applications for permits to appropriate public water for beneficial use or storage, or to construct works for the impoundment, storage, diversion or transportation of public water.

This amendment would prohibit use of the Texas Water Development Fund, or any other state fund for water development, for financing any project that would remove from the basin of origin any surface water necessary to supply the reasonably foreseeable future water requirements within the basin for the next ensuing fifty year period. This would not prevent the transfer of water on a temporary, interim basis.

Proposition 12 on the Ballot providing the method and manner for dissolution of hospital districts.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "The constitutional amendment providing the method and manner for dissolution of hospital districts."

The first constitutional authority for hospital districts was adopted in 1954. Under it the Legislature was authorized to create county-wide hospital districts in counties having a population in excess of 190,000 and in Galveston County. The Legislature was authorized to establish the manner in which the district could be created, the district's power to issue bonds and to levy a tax not to exceed 75 cents on the $100 valuation.

This set the pattern for other constitutional amendments to cover additional counties in 1958, 1961 and 1962. In 1962 also there was adopted a constitutional provision by which the Legislature could create hospital districts in any county.

As is often the case, this current proposal was precipitated by an incident which pointed up a deficiency in the basic law. In 1965 an attempt was made to abolish the hospital district in Jasper County. The Attorney General was asked for an opinion as to the procedure and the authority for such a dissolution; and he ruled that there was no existing statutory or constitutional authority for it.

The purpose of this proposal, an amendment of Section 9, Article IX, is to remedy this situation and to provide the basic conditions which must be included in a law, or laws, the Legislature is authorized to enact for dissolution of hospital districts.

The Legislature would have to provide a process for determining whether a majority of the qualified voters of the district want to dissolve it. No election to dissolve a district could be held more often than once each year.

Assets could not be disposed of or transferred except for due compensation unless they were transferred to another governmental agency, such as a county, embracing the district to be dissolved and using such transferred assets in such a way as to benefit citizens formerly within the district.

Proposition 13 on the Ballot

consolidating some functions of government.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "The Amendment to the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to provide by statute for any county having one million, two hundred thousand (1,200,000) or more inhabitants to consolidate the functions of government and for such counties or any political subdivisions located therein to contract for the performance of functions of government."

This proposition would authorize the Legislature to enact a statute which would apparently be limited to counties having a population of one million, two hundred thousand (1,200,000) or more. Harris County is the only one presently having such a population. The second paragraph of the amendment might have broader application. Authority for such legislation would be incorporated in a new Section 63, which would be added to Article III of our Constitution.

Paragraph (1) of Section 63 would in general authorize the Legislature to provide by statute for the consolidation of some functions of government of any one or more political subdivisions comprising or located within the county, provided, an election must be had within the subdivisions involved, and such consolidation must be approved by a majority of the voters.

Paragraph (2) of the proposed amendment would in addition authorize the county government or any political subdivisions comprising or located in the county to contract one with another for the performance of governmental functions which are required or authorized by the Constitution or laws of this state, under such terms and conditions as the Legislature might provide. The term "governmental functions" as it relates to counties would be defined as including all duties, activities and operations of statewide implications in which the county acts for the state, as well as those functions of local importance.

Proposition 11 on the Ballot extending state water program to include filtration, treatment and transportation of water and authorizing an additional $200,000,000 in Bonds. You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "The Constitutional Amendment authorizing the issuance of an additional $200,000,000 in Texas Water Development Bonds and providing for further investment of the Texas Water Development Fund in reservoirs and associated facilities." This amendment would be a further implementation of the concept that the State should encourage the construction or enlargement of dams and reservoirs "for conservation of the public waters of the state, which waters are held in trust for the use and benefit of the public." This proposal would allow the state to expand and round out its program for conservation and maximum development of its water resources. It would authorize acquisition and development of systems or works necessary for filtration, treatment and transportation of water. It would approve the issuance of $200,000,000 more in state bonds to finance this enlarged program. In 1957 our Constitution was amended to create the Texas Water Development Board, and to authorize the issuance of general obligation bonds from which aid could be given political subdivisions in the conservation and development of water resources. This was the beginning of a program designed to assist local communities in development and ownership of water facilities for drinking, fire-fighting, irrigation and industrial uses. Money is loaned to local authorities under this program at an interest rate at least 1/2% above the cost to the state. The program is self-liquidating. In 1962 a further amendment extended state policy on water development to include the construction or enlargement of reservoirs by the State of Texas itself, or acquiring conservation storage space in reservoirs on Texas streams constructed by federal or local governmental agencies. The purpose was to insure that reservoir sites were developed to their optimum potential and also to preserve state and local authority in areas being developed by the federal government. The water storage program, adopted in 1962, is not immediately self-liquidating. There is a delay between the time money must be expended to acquire storage space and the date on which construction of a reservoir will be completed and there is sufficient water to fill it. Even after water is available in storage there often will be further delay until the growth of an area creates demand for the water. When the 1962 amendment was adopted, it was recognized that a storage program could not normally be undertaken by local government because it would not be able to finance it. The state, through its program, was underwriting the future needs of its people. Eventually, the excess storage in a reservoir will be sold and the state will receive payment either in amendment and the words which appear on the ballot indicate both paragraphs are restricted to Harris County, but each paragraph in the body of the proposed amendment deals with a different subject and paragraph (2) does not contain any such limitation on its application. The question is raised as to whether paragraph (2) would apply only to Harris County, or whether it could be construed to apply to any county in the state.

The impact of this amendment if adopted, would in large part depend upon the extent to which the Legislature implemented it with legislation. Should the implementation be broad, it might produce economies that would set a statewide pattern for the future combining of many of the functions of local government, either by contract or by outright consolidation.

Proposition 14 on the Ballot deleting the limitation on voting by members of the armed forces.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Constitutional Amendment to allow members of the Armed Forces who are residents of Texas to vote."

This proposed amendment would remove from Article VI, Section 2 of our Constitution a limitation on voting by a person who is a member of the Armed Forces of the United States or component branches, or in the military service of the United States. The result would be that these servicemen would be able to vote if they met the requirements of age, citizenship and residence necessary to qualify voters.

Actually, the adoption of this amendment would serve only to take out of our Constitution some wording which has little or no effect at this time. In 1965 the United States Supreme Court (Carrington v. Rash, 386 U. S. 89) reversed a decision of the Supreme Court of Texas, and held that the restrictive wording in our Texas Constitution preventing a serviceman from acquiring residence in Texas for voting purposes was no less than an "invidious discrimination" in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment.

Disqualification of military men was introduced into the Constitution in 1876 on the theory that Texas was not necessarily the free choice domicile of men in active service, and that permitting them to vote could lead to domination of civilian affairs by the military. In 1932 the disqualification was eased somewhat to allow members of the Texas National Guard, members of the Reserve Corps and retired members of the armed forces to vote provided they could vote only in the county in which they resided at the time of entering service. This is the remaining provision on the subject in our Constitution and it would be eliminated by this proposed amendment.

Both this proposal and Proposition 7 would amend the same section of our Constitution. To avoid confusion, this amendment is submitted with a provision that "if any other amendment to this Section, being for a different purpose is adopted, at the same election, the adoption of this amendment shall not be construed as nullifying the changes made by such other amendment."

Proposition 15 on the Ballot authorizing state acceptance of money from private or federal sources for assistance of physically or mentally handicapped people.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Constitutional Amendment authorizing assistance to the blind, crippled, or otherwise physically or mentally handicapped, in the form of grants of public funds, obtained from private or federal sources only, to local level or other private, non-sectarian associations, groups and non-profit organizations for establishing and equipping facilities to assist the handicapped in becoming gainfully employed, for their rehabilitation or restoration, or for providing other services essential for the better care and treatment of the handicapped."

This would, if adopted, be an amendment of Section 6, Article XVI of our Constitution.

The wording of this proposition is broad and ambiguous. The language which will appear on the ballot, quoted above, indicates that state agencies would be allowed to receive money from private or federal sources which they would then pass on to local level or to other private, non-sectarian organizations, which would use the money for vocational rehabilitation of physically or mentally handicapped persons.

The wording of the amendment itself is much broader in scope. It would allow the money to be used (1) in establishing and equipping facilities for assisting those who are blind, crippled or otherwise physically or mentally handicapped in becoming gainfully employed, (2) in rehabilitating and restoring the handicapped, and (3) in providing other services determined by the state agencies to be essential for the better care and treatment of the handicapped. The inclusion of "other services" apparently would bring under the amendment several state agencies which provide services to the blind, crippled, and physically or mentally handicapped as well as to the aged and to children; for example, the State Department of Health, State Department of Public Welfare, State Commission for the Blind, State Education Agency, Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, etc.

Article III, Section 51a of our Constitution, for example, is the authority for payment of assistance to the aged, to the blind, to the disabled, and on behalf of the children, and it also provides for medical assistance on behalf of these needy people. This section provides for "rehabilitation and other services" for these people. And further, to be able to receive federal funds for aid to the aged, the Proposition 16 on the Ballot establishing the date when newly elected members of the Legislature take office. You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Constitutional Amendment establishing the date on which newly elected Members of the Legislature shall qualify and take office." This proposition would write into the Constitution a definite date on which Senators and Representatives would qualify and take office. It would amend Sections 3 and 4 of Article III to provide that the term of office of both Senators and Representatives shall begin on "the day set by law for the convening of the Regular Session of the Legislature." The day on which the Regular Session begins is set by law under authority of Section 5, Article III. It is the second Tuesday in January of the odd years. Our Constitution does not specify the date when a Senator takes office. It had previously been the opinion that a Senator began drawing pay vouchers when he took his oath of office. This was several days after the actual election because he could not take his oath of office until after the Secretary of State had certified the results of the election. This date was the basic issue in a suit (Spears, Relator v. Davis, Respondent, 391 SW 2nd 921, Tex. Sup. Ct. 1966). Our Constitution now provides that the two-year terms of Representatives date from the day of their election. Confusion over the exact date when Senators' terms of office begin has been a major obstacle to special sessions of the Legislature in the period between a general election and the next regular session in January following. It arose when annual salaries were voted. This amendment would clarify these and many other questions.
