TWENTY-SIX YEARS OF CONSTRUCTIVE SERVICE TO BIG SPRING

It gives us great pleasure to know we have been able to play our part in the substantial growth made in the Big Spring country the past twenty-six years. With greater resources and more years of experience we are now able to offer our friends and customers additional conveniences and facilities. We feel deeply indebted to our many loyal friends and customers for their liberal patronage and good will which is mainly responsible for our continued success. We invite you to become one of our more than 3500 satisfied customers and depositors.

In order that you may be advised of the continued growth of this institution, we publish below statement of our condition as of March 1st, 1935. We would appreciate your giving this careful study. It is with a further feeling of pride that we announce our deposits show a marked increase of more than 38 per cent for the past year. Our policy is to consistently follow a course which at all times insures the greatest security to our depositors. The officers of this bank are always ready to assist our depositors.

BEHOLD the stranger

A STRANGER moves to your neighborhood. You observe him tolerantly, but with no immediate display of interest. You are an established resident, getting along very nicely before he came.

But you do not avoid him. For reasons not entirely unselfish you wait for him to reveal himself. Possibly he may add something to your social and business life. Probably he will take a highly respected place in the community. He may even become one of your intimates. It is up to him.

So you note his manners, talk with him, and form an opinion. If he comes up to your requirements, you accept him, and often he proves a welcome addition to your group of friends.

It is with exactly the same attitude that the intelligent newspaper reader regards the advertisements of products new to him. These strangers may add something to his civilized enjoyment. They may contribute to his comfort, safety—even his success. In many ways they may prove valuable. Certainly it is wise to give them careful consideration.

Read the advertisements in this newspaper. They may be the means of introducing you to products that will take important places in your life. And every day they will give you information that enables you to buy intelligently and make your money go farther.
