

New City Well Proves Out With Test Pumping

Preliminary tests on water from the city's new deep well indicate that the water is good and that it is much softer than water presently flowing through taps in Hereford homes.

Housewives should not be thinking about throwing away their water softeners or discontinuing a water softener service because the well will be mixed with water from other wells serving the city and the little difference will not be measurable after the mixing process.

Too, the new well will not be in service until late spring or early summer according to Dudley Bayne, city manager.

Reason for this is that this well is part of a complex being developed on the western edge of town that will not only add wells to supply water but will give additional storage capacity and booster system.

The city presently has 15 wells in operation. The new system will add three wells that are being drilled into the Ogallala formation or the regular stratum of water used by most area farmers. The one deep well is over 900 feet into the Santa Rosa Stratum. Several farmers in the area over the past few years have drilled into this stratum which is about 600 feet deeper than the normal water sands being used for irrigation.

Of concern when going for that deep water is the amount of sodium found in the water. Too, drillers need to know the sulfate content. Water with a heavy sulfate content will have a foul odor and a harsh taste that render it unsuitable for human consumption except in emergencies.

The new well is in fine position to be compared with the other city well that was drilled just across the draw from it recently. O. Z. Golden, research technician, said that the sample he was given was taken before the well had been pumped very long and that he expected the quality to be improved if he gets a sample after several more days or weeks of pumping.

Sodium content of the deep well is still far below levels considered non-useable by people or for irrigation purposes.

The softness of the water can be measured in grains and present water in use in the city contains about 12 to 13 grains of mineral parts per million. The new well measures only five grains per million and in an informal soup test, "we got real good suds" one of the drillers said.

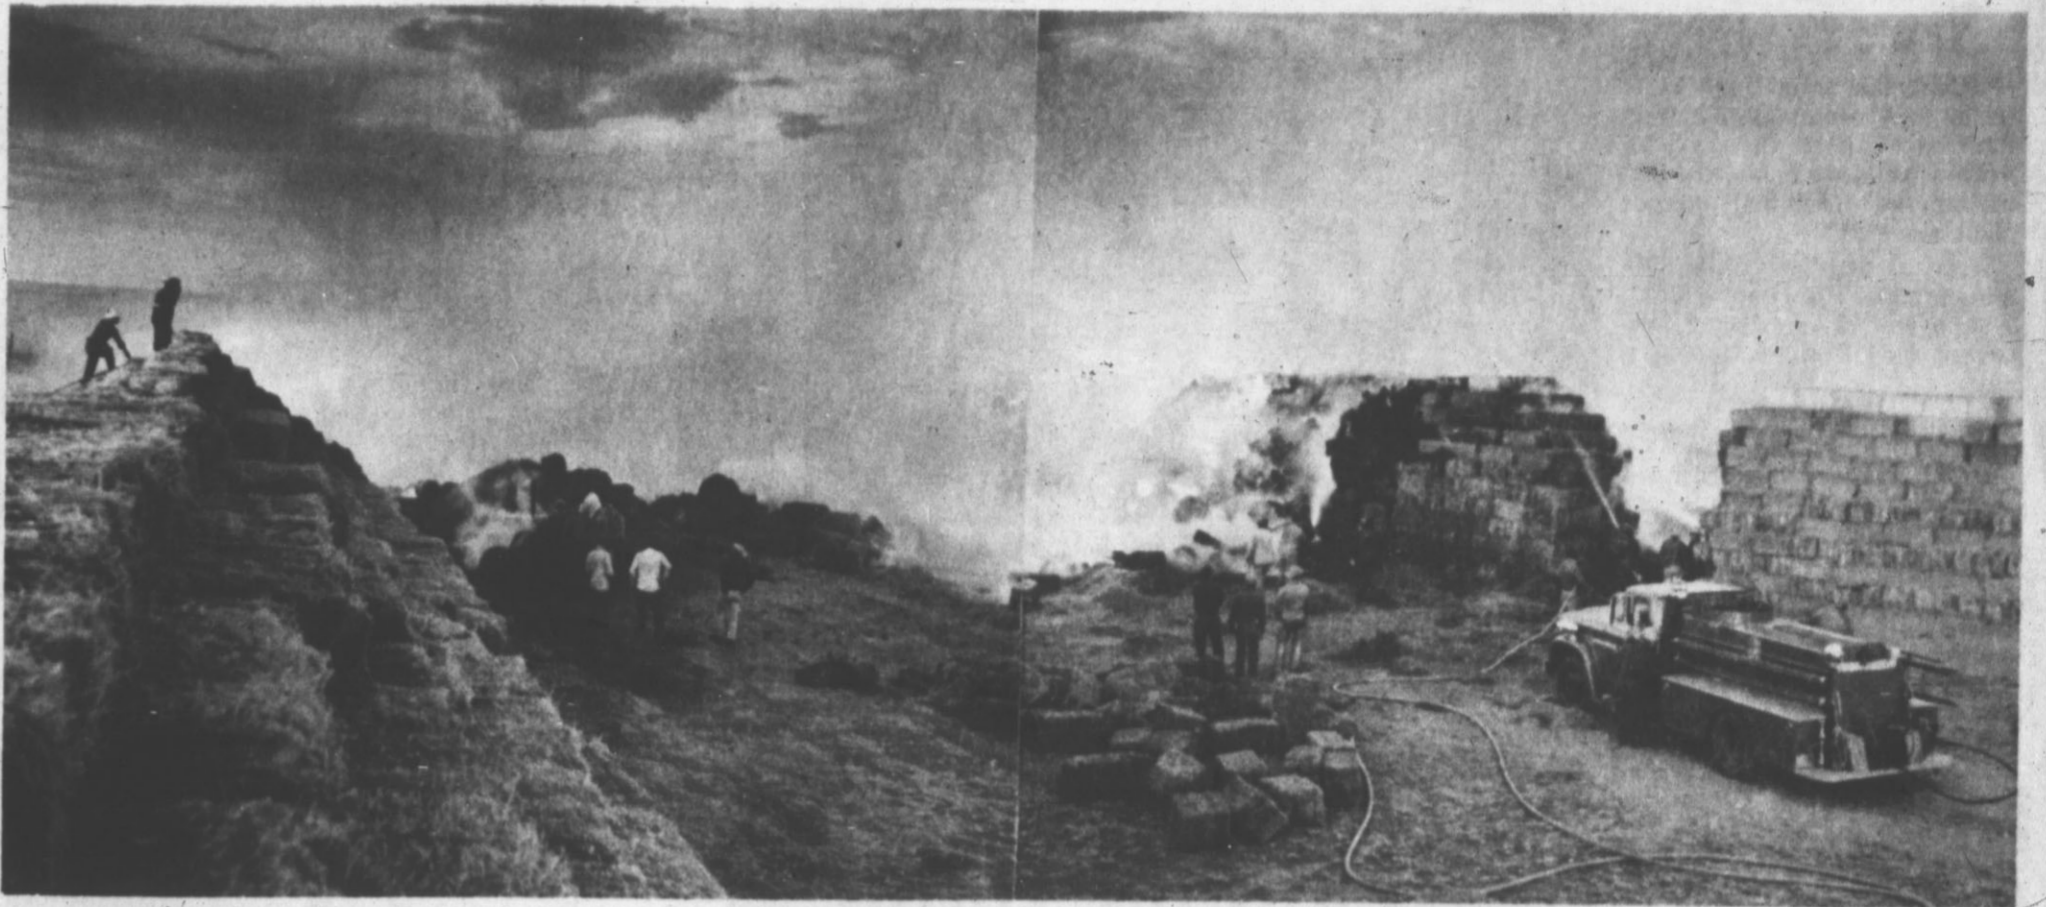

The Ogallala well measures 62 parts sodium per million and the Santa Rosa or deep well jumps to 170 parts per million. This is some higher than existing Santa Rosa wells which have been pumped for some time in the area. Most of them range from 105 to 120 parts per million, in the test.

The new well runs a higher quality of sulfate than the wells that have been pumping longer and is quite a bit higher than the other city well on that property.

The Santa Rosa well measures 150 parts sulfate per million while the Ogallala well measures only 106 PPM.

This amount of sulfate is comparable to the wells that have been under operation for some time.

This well's water will be added. See NEW Page 2

Feed Yards Fire Loss Proves High

Estimate of damages at the Easley Feed Yards, where Hereford and Friona firemen battled a baled feed fire more than 15 hours Wednesday and Thursday — then returned for another hour of fighting Friday morning — will run between $12,000 and $15,000.

The wind-blown fire, which began about 4 p. m. Wednesday, destroyed between 400 and 500 tons of the bales ensilage before the two volunteer fire fighting units and employees at the feed yards could bring it under control. The feed yards is located 16 miles west of Hereford on the Harrison Highway.

The burned feed had been stacked in four separate rows with the bales piled 15 and 20 deep. The fire began on the north end of the rows, which were about a block long, and heavy machinery was used to separate three rows and save at least half of each one. Another fire was extinguished in the fourth row before it could get started good.

Hereford sent four units, Friona brought two units and seven tanker trucks were used to transport water from nearby wells. One of the biggest problems firemen encountered, besides the high winds, was lack of water at the fire scene.

The original crew from Hereford which began fighting the fire was relieved about 11:30 p. m. and the final group left the yards about 7:30 a. m. Thursday. "We were fighting it pretty near all the time," said Fire Marshall Terry Hale.

At the height of the blaze, 25 men from the two fire departments, about 10 to 15 employees of the feed yards and several area residents were helping fight.

The blaze was contained to the north ends of each row by 5:30 p. m., but the baled feed continued to burn and smolder throughout the night and kept firemen alert for flareups. The wind shifted directions during the night Wednesday, forcing the cattle in pens closest to the blaze to be changed to adjoining lots.

Coffee was relayed to firemen at the scene from Hereford by city policemen and the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office.

Hereford firemen were recalled to the scene about 8 a. m. Friday but found only a small fire which had broken out after smoldering for hours.

Personnel at the feed yards said Saturday they had not determined the cause of the fire, but firemen said it was believed that cotton seed piled around the base of the stacks had caught afire.

Thompson Takes Last Phase Of Defense Plans

Hereford has a trained radiological defense officer as of this week. Bill Thompson, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, has been attending a civil defense training school.

Under the direction of the federal government, the school was under the direction of Texas A&M. Designed to prepare individuals to meet community needs in the event of a national nuclear emergency, the classes concentrated on instruction for evaluating exposure tolerance for particular cases.

The third phase of defense training, the school concentrated on mathematical, technical and practical problems. Thompson said that a person trained in this field would not be in authority in a community, but would only be available for advice to the authorities.

The nature of that advice would be practical exposure periods, types of jobs considered to be emergency, priority jobs and how long men could be exposed to complete these jobs.

Policemen, firemen, and other community servants would be checked to see what they individually could withstand, or what additional exposure would be considered safe.

At the beginning of an attack, the radiological officer could advise as to when citizens should be asked to go to shelters and then he could help to determine when it would be safe to begin normal living after the attack was over.

Thompson said that people need to realize that with information and proper training, people in a community can survive even the worst of attacks.

Christmas Card Project Planned

Designation of funds which are raised this year in Project Christmas Card was made by Hereford Medical Auxiliary, the sponsoring organization, at a called meeting this week. Dental equipment for Deaf Smith County Hospital will be purchased.

Each year the Auxiliary conducts the project, receiving contributions from area residents, and gives the county hospital a piece of equipment which it needs, but cannot include in its regular budget. Also, a part of the money goes for a scholarship to a high school graduate to study nursing.

The Auxiliary asks residents to contribute to the project instead of sending Christmas greeting cards to friends locally. Then, a page greeting is published in the Christmas edition of the Hereford Brand, carrying the names of donors and their holiday good wishes to their friends.

Decorated canisters have been placed in banks, the hospital lobby and supermarkets here, with envelopes in which the contributions and the donors' names may be dropped.

Mrs. David Hamblen is president of the Auxiliary this year, leading the group in its plans. No special project committee is appointed; all the members work on its each year.

Gifts Collected For Girlstown

Hereford residents have caught onto the true meaning of Christmas and opened their hearts in an effort to make those at Girls Town, U. S. A. in Whiteface a lot happier.

Numerous individuals and organizations have contributed both large and small gifts to the home and more are expected before Wednesday, when the items will be taken to Whiteface.

One of the largest gifts presented thus far is one and a quarter beef by the Hereford Riders Club. A complete list of the items donated will be carried in Thursday's issue of the Brand.

Persons wishing to donate a gift or gifts may contact Elmore Rains of 211 Beach or Lloyd Pittsinger of the Grand E Tractor Park.

Rains said the gifts will be taken to the home Wednesday. "Anything at all will be accepted," Rains added.

Memberships Are Sought By Two Veteran Groups

Hereford's two veterans organizations, the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, faced with a problem of declining membership and lack of interest from area veterans, have started a campaign urging that memberships be paid up before January first so that memberships can be secured for 1967.

American Legion membership can be paid as early as October 20 for the following year and must be paid by December 31, 1966 to secure 1967 membership. On January 1, a member of the American Legion becomes a delinquent member with rights to be re-instated if he pays his dues by January 31. These dues make him a voting member for the calendar year 1967.

Ira Ott, American Legion member and a past commander said that the organization needs the active support of all veterans who are eligible.

He stated that at the last Legion meeting, only 13 members attended.

"That is one of our problems," he said, "Our major problem is money to build a post home and that money problem could be solved if more members would become active."

The American Legion now meets in a converted barracks located in Veteran's Memorial Park. They have been saving money from many projects in order to have enough money to build a post home where they could work on projects in keeping with their constitution. Ott said that the group does not plan a home for a recreational hall, nor does the group permit alcoholic beverages in their post home or at their meetings.

Ott was a charter member of the Legion here, post 192, and was also a charter member of the Roy Blakemore post located in Plainview. The American Legion was organized in Hereford in 1930 and for ten years or more met in City Hall, sharing space with the Firemen.

After the firemen needed more room, the Legion decided to build a post home and Ott recalls that the city had agreed to give the Legion the lot where the present city swimming pool is located. The Legion had, at that time $4,000 to put into a home, Ott remembers, and after World War II, someone conceived the idea of asking the veterans to take over the present park area.

At that time, the park, constructed by the OCC and having been given to the county by the state, was operating at a deficit of about $3,000 per year, Ott said.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars a group that was relatively new then, joined with the American Legion and agreed to operate the park, jointly.

Ott, a member of both organizations, but more active in the American Legion, having served in several official capacities in the Legion, said that he is a member of the park board. He said that he did not mind the general public knowing that he favors the proposal made by several veterans that the city be given the park without any restrictions as to the development of the area. He said that the job is more than the two veteran's groups can handle with their present limited number and that he feels that the city could handle the project.

At the time the OCC built the rock clubhouse that is presently used by the Veterans of Foreign Wars as their post home, the American Legion paid $600 to get a wooden floor put in the building rather than the cement one that the government had authorized, Ott said.

The American Legion donated their $4,000 building fund to the park purchase.

The rest of the money for the original transfer of the park from the county to the veterans organizations was raised through private subscription from Hereford citizens, not necessarily veterans and by money raising campaigns such as tickets with a jeep as a prize.

"I don't think that the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars can be blamed for the problem (the lack of development of the Memorial Park) but I do think that the men who are members or should be members are to blame," Ott said in discussing the problem.

The organizations, as structured are fine organizations, he explained, but if the men who attend do not consider the group responsibilities, then the organizations do not accomplish what they could.

There still remains about 240 acres in the plot of ground. Some of this would not be desirable for park area such as the lots located along New York Ave. Other portions of property belonging to the two groups is located along the south side of the road bordering the park on the south. This area would be enhanced in value by the development of the park by the city, Ott said.

Any man who has been a member of the armed forces during any of the wars from World War I, through World War II, the Korean conflict, and anyone having served and possessing an honorable discharge from the Vietnamese conflict are eligible to become a dues paying member of the American Legion. The annual dues See MEMBERSHIP Page 2

Jaycees Planning Lighting Contest

The annual Christmas Lighting Contest sponsored by the Hereford Jaycees begins today with $65 to be presented after the contest ends Dec. 20.

Larry Haney, chairman of the Lighting Contest committee, said the first place winner will receive $25, the second place winner $15 and third place $10.

A special prize of $15 will be given this year for the best religious theme, Haney added.

Four persons chosen by the Jaycees will judge the contest on the night of Dec. 21 and winners will be announced in the Hereford Brand and on KPAN radio.

Haney said the only rules in the contest were that it is restricted to residences. Additional information may be obtained by calling Haney at 364-4324.

Haney requested that entry blanks be left at the Southwest Public Service Company office no later than Dec. 20. See this paper for an entry blank.

VFW Repairs Toys For Tots

Take a wheel from this little unrepairable car, put it on that one which has only a broken wheel and there's another one of the "Toys For Tots."

For the past month, members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars have been repairing toys at a steady pace in order to make Christmas just a little bit brighter for numerous Hereford youngsters.

Harold Loerwald, VFW president, said members of the organization have been doing any kind of repair work on broken or unwanted toys which are given to the group. "We take parts from one toy which is completely broken and repair another one of the same type," he explained.

"Santa's helpers" meet just about every night in the VFW Ballroom at Veterans Park to work on the toys and have taken many of them home to repair. Loerwald listed bicycles, tricycles, dolls and cars as some of the items under repair, but added that "we'll try to repair any type toy that is donated."

In order to be sure that the neediest children get the gifts, a list of names is obtained from the Deaf Smith County Welfare office. Using the list, the members determine which children may not have any Christmas at all and set out to remedy the situation. The members also can see how far the toys will go.

Loerwald said no definite date has been set for distributing the See VFW Page 2

County Official

Clerk Job Mushrooms

Keeping the records for a county mushrooming in size like Deaf Smith County is enough to cause an overly developed nervous system. But quiet, mild-mannered B. F. Cain takes the position of County Clerk all in stride and says "I like it real well."

Cain has been the "man of records" since 1960, when he was elected to finish out the two-year term of Ralph Smith, who had died. During that time, he has seen every facet of the office triple in size.

Cain was born May 16, 1917, in Cordell, Okla., and live there a year before his family moved to Shattuck, Okla. After eight years in Shattuck, a move was made to Shamrock, where Cains father held the position of city manager and secretary for 30 years.

When he graduated from Shamrock High School, Cain was awarded a scholarship in football at West Texas State University. He had received the scholarship on the merits of his pigskin play in the center position.

In 1938, Cain married a Shamrock girl, Morgan Thomas, in their hometown. He entered the Navy for a four-year stretch in 1941 and the couple began to travel. Cain did most of the traveling naturally, spending a part of the time in the South Atlantic hunting submarines as a Radioman First Class.

Florida was home to the couple for an enjoyable two years, and the Navy also financed training at the University of Idaho. Previously, Cain also had some schooling at Texas A&M University.

While Cain was in the Navy, his wife moved from Shamrock to stay with her parents, who had transferred residence to Hereford. "She picked up a few cattle on the side," Cain explained, "and kind of got started in the cattle business with her folks. Then when I came out here, she wanted to stay." Cain at first joined with his father-in-law, who was doing extensive farming in the Hereford area.

Soon after, Cain was set up on his own farm 8 miles west of Hereford. He also entered the egg business, "but things just got too competitive for the small men," so he sold the farm and egg business after being approached by the Democratic Committee about running for the position of Deaf Smith County Clerk. "I don't really know how I got into this position," Cain explained, "I just had a desire to get into politics."

Keeping records of Deaf Smith County is no minor chore. Records must be made of deeds, births, marriages, brand registration and wills. "Anything that requires records, we'll take it," states Cain.

The duties, however, don't end there. Cain also must sit in on County Commissioners meetings take the minutes and put them on record.

His office doesn't slow him down in outside activities, however. Cain has been secretary and treasurer one year each for the Hereford Lions Club and presently is a member of the Lions Board of Directors; is president of the Hereford Whiteface Booster Club, and is a member of the Masonic Lodge and the First Christian Church. Mrs. Cain has been church secretary for a number of years.

To keep up with his profession, Cain is a member of the County Clerk's Association of Texas and attends one, and sometimes two, meetings each year. "The meetings are real informative," said Cain. "They are always changing certain things, especially in the criminal code procedures. And we have to go in order to keep up."

Christmas Stamp Is Now Available

Every envelope bearing the 1966 Christmas postage stamp will be a masterpiece. Postmaster Nolan Grady said today.

The special holiday stamp is a replica of a painting by Hans Memling, Flemish master of the Renaissance Era, now hanging in the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C.

The stamp, which is now on sale at the Hereford post office was designed from the central portion of Memling's oil, "Madonna and Child with Angels" which was painted on wood about 1488.

Postmaster Grady noted that use of the stamp for sending of greeting cards assures first-class handling. That means the cards will be forwarded if the See STAMP ed to the present system next summer when all three of the shallow wells are completed and the storage tank and booster plant are built.

With the addition of the 3 1/2 million gallons per day, the city system will be capable of producing over 9 million gallons a day.

Bayne explains that this amount is necessary to take care of summer months when peak use hits the system during hot afternoons.

The new city reservoir will be unique in design. Conceived by Bayne in an effort to eliminate constant repainting to 'clean up' the tanks after teenagers splash them with their school year and slogans, the new tank is designed to give each class a place.

This place will be designated by years and seniors will get to use that section of the tank for their slogans.

Actually to be painted in school colors of maroon and white, the tank will have the maroon in arches that will accent the position of each class. The tank will be visible in several directions and from highway 60.

Capacity of the tank is about a million gallons and the steel structure will be about 30 feet high.

Over 5,000 feet of concrete tile will connect the system. Total estimated cost of the entire new addition to the water system is $240,000 with the deep well tabbed for $36,000 of that amount.

Water use in the city varied from year to year but on the whole, consumption is leaping up on production, making the addition necessary.

In 1960, 590 million gallons were used from city mains. Use of water jumped a half a million gallons in 1961, slowed up in 1962 and jumped to 757 million gallons in 1963.

"You can tell the dry years," Bayne explains, "use of water goes up as the rainfall goes down."

various measures necessary in the event of an emergency.

The last phase, the defense officer, trains men to evaluate reports turned in by monitors. Thompson said that there are enough existing shelters in the area to take care of all the citizens here — 'not in arm chair comfort' but people would be alive.

Twelve men took the course, six from Amarillo Air Force Base, Thompson said. Four days of intensive instruction were followed by a half day of testing Friday morning.

In Regional Band Fifteen Students

Placing in the AAA-AAAA All-Region Band tryouts Tuesday were 15 Hereford youth, all of whom are members of the Hereford High Band, stated Ben Gollehon, high school band director.

This tenth annual AAA-AAAA All-Region Band will play in concert Saturday night, December 19, at 7:30 p. m. in the Pampa High School auditorium. Director for the evening will be Doctor A. Clyde Roller, popular associate conductor of the Houston Symphony Orchestra and former conductor of the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra.

The Hereford youths who will be privileged to play under Roller's direction are Chris Hutcherson, Don Maxwell, Jack Aiken, Lowell Wiggins, Joel Williamson, Jimmy Haile, David Evans, Lupe Alvarado, Roger Greeson, Edlana Vinson, Lynn Fisher, Wanda Fuhrmann, Patsy McCutcheon and Barbara Brook.

Roller conducts the Student Concerts, the Summer Park Concerts and certain "Special" Concerts of the Houston Symphony Orchestra. He quickly establishes rapport with his audience and has a pleasing stage presence.

Mr. Roller came to Houston in September 1965 from Rochester, N. Y., where he was Professor of Ensembles at the Eastman School of Music and conducted the Eastman School Wind Ensemble and Philharmonia Orchestra. Now, in addition to his position with the Houston Symphony Orchestra, he is Professor of Music at the University of Houston, where he directs the University Orchestra and teaches courses in Instrumental Conducting and Orchestral Literature.

He has had years of practical experience in music education, teaching and conducting. He was Music Supervisor in Birmingham, Ala., and was on the faculty of Southern Methodist University in Dallas, where he directed both the orchestra and the band.

He was Conductor and Musical Director of the Amarillo (Texas) Symphony for 13 seasons, and under his leadership it grew to an outstanding community orchestra. Amarillo showed its gratitude by naming Mr. Roller "Man of the Year" in 1961.

Mr. Roller made his Houston debut by conducting a Houston Chronicle One Dollar Concert for 10,000 in Sam Houston Coliseum. In addition to student concerts in the Music Hall, he has conducted the Houston Orchestra in regional concerts and will conduct a subscription pair during the 1966-67 season.

Participating schools in the all-region competition are Amarillo High School, Caprock High School, Palo Duro High School, High School, Pampa High School, Canyon High School, Dumas High School, Hereford High School, Perryton High School and Tulla High School.

Mrs. Harrison Funeral Held

Funeral services for Mrs. E. W. Harrison, who came with her family to Deaf Smith County in 1901, married another old-timer and raised her family here, were conducted at the First Methodist Church Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Harrison died in an Amarillo convalescent home Thursday. She had lived in Hereford until she went to Amarillo a few years ago.

Born June 14, 1879, at Rose Dale, Ark., she was Sally Pearl Turrentine, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Turrentine who moved here from Ellis County. She taught in Hereford schools before her marriage in September, 1907, to Esca W. Harrison.

Prominent in business and civic affairs of the county, he promoted such activities as building of the road west from Hereford which is now known as Harrison Highway.

Mrs. Harrison was also interested in public affairs of the pioneer community and devoted time to the First Methodist Church, women's clubs and other organizations.

The couple lived for a time on a New Mexico homestead in the early years of their marriage but returned to bring up their family in Hereford. Mr. Harrison died July 7, 1928.

Mrs. Harrison is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Mattie Loy Simpson of Amarillo; a son, David, of Eads, Colo., five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren; also a nephew, George Turrentine, who lives west of Hereford.

Her church membership had been transferred to Polk Street Methodist Church in Amarillo, and the pastor, Dr. Jordan Grooms, conducted the funeral service here. Burial in West Park Cemetery was directed by Gilliland Funeral Home.

Serving as pallbearers were Robert Thompson, Oscar Easley, Art Manjeot, Homer Brumley, Henry Sears and Gerald McCathern.

Sears Is Named District Master

James H. Sears of Hereford has been named District Deputy Grand Master of Masons for Masonic District No. 100, which includes five Masonic Lodges in Deaf Smith, Oldham, Castro and Parmer Counties.

Sears, who is president of the First National Bank of Hereford, is a Past Master of Hereford Lodge 849. He is also active in other Masonic organizations.

Sears is a member of the Methodist Church. He was Mayor of Hereford in 1953-1957 and on the school board in 1946. He has been active in civic associations and professional organizations for many years.

The appointment was made by the newly-elected Grand Master of Masons in Texas, J. D. Tomme, Jr., of Fort Worth as the 131st Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge of Texas was concluded in Waco December 8.

District Deputy Grand Masters are appointed for each of the 132 Masonic Districts in Texas. They are the personal representatives of the Grand Master, head of the state's largest fraternal organization with nearly 250,000 members.

Police Reports Slight Damage

The police department reported minor damage in the two wrecks which occurred Wednesday and Thursday of last week. The first accident occurred Wednesday afternoon at the intersection of E. 4th St. and Sampson St. Roy Grubbs, Jr. of Rt. 3, Hereford and Paula Bernal, 200 Vera Cruz, were involved in the accident. Grubbs was driving his 1965 sedan east on 4th Street when Mrs. Bernal, who was driving a 1959 sedan, failed to stop at the stop sign on Sampson and the two cars collided, causing approximately $150 damage to Grubbs' vehicle, which is owned by Hedgecock Leasing Co. of Amarillo. The Bernal vehicle was not damaged.

The other accident occurred Thursday afternoon when Mrs. J. H. Hinds, 310 McKinley stopped at the light at the intersection of 25 Mile Ave. and Park Ave. and Earl D. Jackson, 116 Douglas, who was following her, failed to stop in time and the two collided. Jackson's vehicle is owned by A. E. Jackson of Bedford, Tex.

Damage to the Hinds vehicle was estimated at $50 and $150 was the estimated damage to Jackson's Auto.

Hereford Riders Elect Directors

Three new directors were elected during the Thursday night meeting of the Hereford Riders Club.

Chosen were Miss Nell Spradley, Mrs. Marie Sears and Harold Beauchamp. Outgoing directors are Al Lee, Charlie Hill and Fred Ruland. Other directors are Laurence Dirks, Lowell Sharp, Andy Shuvall and Jay Crofford.

The club also voted to donate one and a quarter beef to Girlstown, U. S. A. in Whiteface for Christmas. Some members also are donating clothing individually.

Teenager Joins County Work Of Helping With Museum

By SHERRIN BETTS
Staff Writer

With the development of a museum in Deaf Smith County, all of the old-timers hereabouts have dug into their closets, attics and basements, salvaging many precious antiques and lending or donating them to the museum to make it completely authentic. There doesn't seem to be much that the younger generation can do, however. Sure, a group of 4-H members spent a lot of time and effort scraping walls, cleaning the museum, etc. But there seemed to be nothing a teenager could do to add to the museum's collection of antiques and artwork.

Joyce Bezner found a way to make her work be remembered, however. The striking blonde, who is active in the Ford 4-H Club, was working at the museum with several other 4-H members. She talked with Mrs. Henry Sears about the museum and Mrs. Sears told Joyce that they would have to find someone to dress the mannequins.

Joyce says, "I just decided that I'd make their clothes." Thus, one conscientious teenager in Hereford found a way to make her contribution to her own county's museum a lasting one.

Beginning in October with the task she had made for herself and working it in between the various club, family and church activities she takes part in, Joyce's project is almost completed. All that remains to be done is to secure some early 1900 style oots, trim the by mannequin's wig and curl the little girl's wig, Joyce said.

The little girl goes in the parlor of the museum, while the little boy will be seen in the kitchen. In making clothes for these figures, Joyce made something she had never attempted before — a pair of overalls. Made of faded blue denim, they cover a store-bought shirt. Joyce says, "I started making the shirt and then didn't have enough time, so I bought one." The little girl's dress is also a period costume which Joyce made. She acquired the little black shoes which go with the costume from Mrs. Elmer Patterson, who says that they are from the early 1900 period.

Of this sewing that she is doing, Joyce says, "I just love it." She stated that she was also interested in the museum itself and thinks "it's a good idea our county has one."

The museum also lacks a settee and two chairs of the Victorian Era and a mirror for the northwest room. Museum personnel have been trying to find these articles in Hereford, but as of yet have not succeeded.

Though she is very interested in the feminine art of sewing, Joyce also enjoys working with livestock and has entered her calves in several shows. Her 4-H work envelopes much of her time, as it has for all of the Bezners. Joyce's older brother and sister, Jody and Mrs. Jerry Dunnam attended the National 4-H Convention in Chicago when they were in 4-H. Her younger brother, Tommy is active in several activities of the club, her sister, Beth is also a 4-H'er and Charlotte, who is only 8 years old, will be able to join next year.

In addition to her duties as president of the Ford 4-H Club and secretary of the livestock subject matter group, Joyce is historian of the local FHA chapter and an active member of the Catholic Youth Club.

Joyce has entered many 4-H dress revues and won division honors. She has also entered several livestock shows, including Houston, Dallas and Amarillo shows. Last fall she won 2nd place at the State Fair in Dallas in the Shorthorn division then was one of the six who in that division, though her calf did not win the title.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bezner. Joyce and her family live 11 miles north and 6 miles east of Hereford. Tommy is an 8th grader at Stanton and Beth and Charlotte attend 6th and 2nd grades, respectively, at Aikman Elementary School.

Joyce who is a Junior at Hereford High School, is planning a major of home economics in college. She is look-

The 4-H Wild Life and Gun Safety study group met at the second win of the season.

In the tournament opener, the Herd dropped their ninth game of the year by a 66-59 score to Monahans. Allison tallied 20 to lead the local roundballers in the game.

The Herd was scheduled to play the consolation semifinals game Saturday morning in the Andrews Tournament, but no score was available at press time.

Lamesa will travel to Hereford Tuesday night to play the Herd in La Plata gymnasium, and Childress will be entertained here Friday night. The "B" team game begins Tuesday at 6:30 p. m., and Friday's "B" game begins at 6:15. Both varsity games begin at 8 p. m.

SHOPPING IS FUN IN DOWNTOWN VARIETY PARK

THE BRANDIN' IRON

By MELVIN YOUNG
Recent publicity concerning the plight of the dump ground that we now call Veteran's Memorial Park has kept the phones ringing around the Brand and we do appreciate the interest of those calling. We might add that the consensus of opinion has been unanimous. The citizens of Hereford want an adequate park — and they not only want a park, they also want to see the mess in Veteran's Park cleaned up.

It is inconceivable that the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion would want to continue to block the park project any longer unless, over the years, they have become so short-sighted and self-centered as to think of nothing else than their own personal enjoyment. And we don't believe that this is true. Already, the Hereford Post of the American Legion has indicated that they no longer want to continue with, and would like to withdraw from the court action concerning right-of-way for the city's sewer lines. They have indicated, by a vote of the organization, their willingness to cooperate with the city of Hereford on a reasonable basis concerning the right-of-way — a situation which smelted of pure blackmail from the beginning.

We should, in all fairness, recognize this organization and commend them for their actions. But we have had no such reports from the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

We might report also, that the American Legion at one time, voted to convey certain properties to the City of Hereford for the purpose of developing a usable park subject to the approval of the Veterans of the VFW had to dig into the by-laws of the organization and pull out the two-thirds majority clause on transfer of property to block the issue. The vote at that time was 43 to 37 in favor of turning the property over to the City of Hereford for development 10 votes short of the two-thirds needed. Again, a minority group blocked the deal and Hereford and Deaf Smith County still do not have the park and the facilities that were pledged by members of this same organization some 19 years ago.

In the building that was to be set aside for the use of boys and girls, we are now housing a bar. And just in case you have forgotten what the promise was, we quote from the paper of July 24, 1947:

"The present club house (we presume the Rock Club House) will continue to be available to the public for use on the same terms as in the past when it has been under jurisdiction of the County Commissioners."

"In addition we plan to build, adjacent to the present club house, a gymnasium building which will be large enough to serve as a modern gymnasium; as a banquet hall as a meeting hall for local organizations desiring to use it; and a playhouse for boys and girls clubs."

That club house is no longer available to boys and girls. Instead, it contains a bar. The rollings hills of Veteran's Memorial Park have since grown up in weeds and litter has made the park so unsightly that it isn't even fit for use as a camping ground for Boy Scouts.

This is the 'public playground worthy of our town' that was promised by those veterans who solicited funds back in 1947 with which to purchase the park area. In 1947 was a lot of enthusiasm in 1947 for the park project. One man secured the promise of two pump companies to drill wells for the purpose of watering the park. One on the north side of the creek — one on the south side. He also secured the promise of dredging equipment to clean out the creek bed. At the time, a plan was suggested whereby the local citizens would build some low-water dams along the creek to hold a portion of the water. These are relatively inexpensive and can be placed without the permission of anyone other than property owners.

Andrew Kershen, who farms along the Tierra Blanca west of Hereford has installed some of these dams and is having good luck with them. The dams are intact and the creek almost always full of water. This could be done in Veteran's Memorial Park. The creek then could be stocked with fish for the amusement of our young people. Many of you reading this column today will remember when the natural flow of the springs kept the creek full and when fishing was an everyday affair from the banks of Tierra Blanca.

Camp facilities could be added in the park for those who like to rough it.

There are many problems concerning the park to be sure. First of all, the city's disposal farm is located on the eastern edge of the park. It is unfortunate that the sewage system was placed in this particular spot rather than being constructed a couple or three miles further out. Not only is it unsightly, although we presume sanitary, but the smell is rather unpleasant when the wind is from the southeast. And we would suggest to the city fathers that when and if the time comes that the city needs to expand its sewage facilities that they explore the feasibility of going further out. In the meantime however, it's still there and very little can be done with that end of the park as long as it is there.

Caliche is still being carried out of the park and one end has almost been leveled. We doubt seriously that this was the intention of the two groups of veterans in 1947 when they promised to make this a "public playground worthy of our town."

Could it be that we have spent our time playing — and have failed to get the park project of the ground? Think it over. As a veteran and as a citizen of Deaf Smith County — how do you stand?

Pupils Will Sing Music Of Yuletide

Songs of Christmas will make up a workshop program by voice pupils of Mrs. D. W. Palmer Sunday afternoon in her home. Families and a few friends of the performers have been invited to hear the informal concert.

It will open with Virgil's Slumber Song (Edwards) by Jaime Pitman and two selections by Kerry Dameron, Song of the Seven Lambs (Warner) and Little Bells Thru Dark of Night (Kountz).

Mrs. J. D. Pitman will present, John Jacob Niles' composition, What Songs Were Sung, and Slumber Song of the Madonna (Head). Two familiar songs by Mrs. A. H. Davis will be Jesu Bambino (Piero Yohn) and the traditional German version of Silent Night.

Miss Susan Oglesby's solos will be Glad Things There Be (Young) and Carol of the Cricket and the Star (Johnson). Walsh's The Christmas Story is to be sung by Mrs. G. S. Solomon; Sleep Holy Child (Peterson) and Bethlehem (Bowker) by Mrs. G. R. Polan.

On program for Mrs. W. S. Dameron are Dougherty's The First Christmas and Carol of the Cricket and the Star. Mrs. R. C. Godwin will present Six Christmas Songs by Peter Cornelius.

Closing the program will be a trio of songs by Marsh Pitman, Jesus Rest Your Heat (Niles), the traditional folk melody, What Child Is This, and a lively composition by Kountz, The Sleigh.

Wiring Needs Get Heavier With New Equipment

COLLEGE STATION — The fact that your house is relatively new does not necessarily mean that its wiring system is up-to-date, points out William S. Allen, agricultural engineer with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

For example, the builder of the house may not have known the extent of your own special electrical needs. Or, the house may have been built to meet a price which did not allow for anything but just "good enough" wiring. Or, perhaps after moving in you immediately began adding a lot of extra appliances you hadn't thought about before.

You do not have to be an expert to tell whether or not your house is suffering from "weakness of the wiring." There are many little symptoms that show up every day you live in an inadequately wired home. Here are some of them:

1. Lights flicker and dim

2. Appliances such as irons, room heaters, or toasters operate slowly or not as well as they should.
3. Fuses blow or circuit breakers trip too frequently.
4. TV picture shrinks in size or "winces" when other appliances go into action.
5. The radio fades or sounds scratchy when an appliance is turned on.
6. Too few outlets and switches where you need them.
7. Multiple "octopus" connections are used for several appliances and lamps at once.
8. Long cords are strung around rooms in order to connect lamps and appliances.

If you recognize these symptoms in your home you are not realizing the fullest benefits of the electricity you pay for. An electrician or power supplier representative can help plan for correction of the symptoms of improper wiring.

After wheat was cut and stacked in fields, threshers separated the grain from the straw and the wheat from the chaff. Threshing crews and machines now are largely things of the past.

These Decorations Simple And Fun To Make At Home

Christmas tree decorations can be bought at a store or made at home. The store-bought ones may have more glitter and sparkle. The ones made at home have other ingredients. They are the products of a close family. They have warmth. They have love.

Here are some Christmas decorations that even the youngest children can make, with their mother's help. Drawings are from Childcraft — The How of The World Book Encyclopedia.

To make the angel, begin by drawing a large circle on shelf paper, using a large circle pattern. Cut out the circle and fold it in half. Cut the circle in half along the fold. Bend the half circle into a cone, bringing corners A and B together as in the picture. Fasten it in place with staples or paste.

Fold a sheet of white paper. Put the small circle pattern on the paper, with the edge of the circle at the fold. Draw around the circle and cut it out, but do not cut across the fold. When you unfold the paper, you will have two small circles fastened to each other. See picture. Draw a face on one of the small circles. Paste cotton hair to the other. Paste the bottom of each circle to the top of the cone.

Fold another piece of shelf paper. Draw a wing at the fold as shown in the picture. Cut it out. Unfold, and paste or staple the double wing across the angel's back.

You can hang your angel up with a string loop attached to the head.

To make the fuzzy snowman, start by drawing three circles on stiff paper. Make one big circle, one middle-sized circle, and one small circle. Cut out all three circles. Then paste the circles together as shown in the picture.

Draw a face. Draw buttons on the snowman. Cut a hat out of paper and put it on the snowman's head. The hat can be colored black, or you can cut it out of black paper.

Carefully cover the snowman with the store snow. The snow will stick to the wet glue. Let it dry, and tie a string to the top of the snowman so that you can hang it from a tree.

To make a candy cane, begin by bending a pipe cleaner into a cane shape. Cut a thin strip of crepe paper. Then wind the strip on a slant around the pipe cleaner. Glue the ends to the pipe cleaner. Then hang the cane on your Christmas tree.

You can make other decorations for your Christmas tree — pyramids, cubes, and things called polyhedrons.

To make the cube, trace the T-shaped figure in the drawing. Now follow the steps listed for making the pyramid. When you are finished, you will have a cube.

You can combine triangles and squares design. Then follow the steps you used to make your pyramid and cube. When you are finished, you will have a shape called a polyhedron.

Buy colored paper stars at the store and glue them to your pyramids, cubes, and polyhedrons. Then attach string to them and hang them on your tree.

Your own Christmas tree decorations, made in your home by your family.

Women Grads Using Education

WASHINGTON D. C. — College degrees aren't wasted on women, according to the U. S. Department of Labor.

In fact, 51 percent of the June 1967 college graduates were in the labor force seven years after graduation, a Department report entitled "College Women Seven Years after Graduation" shows.

The survey, conducted by the Department of Labor's Women's Bureau, focused on the graduates' activities and plans for employment and education.

Its findings have "significant implications" for women, counselors, educators, and particularly for employers, Mrs. Mary Dublin Keyserling, Director of the Women's Bureau said.

Many of the women surveyed had continued to work in spite of the fact they were near the peak of childrearing and family responsibilities. The report reveals that 85 percent of the survey group studied had been married and 66 percent were mothers. Of the still married graduates, 41 percent were in the labor force, while 94 percent of the single or formerly married women held jobs.

THE CHURCH I LOVE . . . RECEIVES WITH GRATEFUL HEARTS THE GIFT FROM GOD "For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life." (John 3:16).

GENE DOOKS

Our heavenly Father could have given each of us a million dollars in each pocket; ten sections of the best irrigated land with all wells and the finest cattle on the land. He didn't give each of us this great wealth. But he did give to mankind a great big beautiful, wonderful world that has buried within its bosom great amounts of natural resources; enough for all of the human race, if we get rid of our greed and selfishness and distribute God's material gifts properly to our fellowman.

Here is the trouble. Man with material things alone will not use them properly. Some men who are strong will get an over supply of goods and wealth, while his weaker brother goes without food, clothing and shelter needful for the body.

So, in addition to material gifts, Jehovah God gave men an even greater Gift, his only begotten Son. Jesus Christ has shown us how to live unselfish lives that we may distribute properly the material gifts from God. Then why don't we? Simply because we have not fully received Christ into our hearts. We have received this Gift from God only nominally.

Men will fight one another and kill for the material gifts from God, but at the same time they will reject the Spiritual Gift, Jesus Christ. This leads to our undoing.

There is a second very important reason for God's gift of his Son. We have eternal souls. We all have sinned. Sin causes the soul to be lost in eternal punishment. God so loved us that he gave his Son Jesus Christ to purify us from sin, to save us. "Since all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, they are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption which is in Christ Jesus." (Romans 3:23, 24).

LITTLE PEOPLE, BIG APPETITES — Two of the big eaters at the Hereford Lions Club Fish Fry Friday night were Brian Lady, left, 3½-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lady, and Kassia Stevenson, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stevenson. When the picture of Kassia was snapped, she was telling her mother that "I want another catfish." Approximately 700 persons filed through the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn to enjoy the supper. (Hereford Brand Photos by Tom Porter)

Shows That Weed Control Saves

COLLEGE STATION — Weed control comes high and all Americans help foot the bill. Dr. Jack Price, leader for the agricultural chemicals program, Texas A&M University's Agricultural Extension Service, says weeds, including the cost of controlling them are responsible for national losses to agricultural productivity amounting to around $5 billion annually.

Weeds compete with desirable plants for nutrients, water, light space and other requirements for growth. Left uncontrolled, they can reduce both quantity and quality of crops and livestock products. Weeds also harbor insects, nematodes and disease producing organisms. They clog farm ponds, irrigation and drainage ditches, recreational lakes and streams and who can forget an experience with poison ivy? asks Price.

One weapon that is being used against weeds is the modern herbicide. Herbicides, explains Price, are chemicals developed to control weeds and brush. The manufacture, sale and use figures for herbicides shows it is the most rapidly expanding segment of the general pesticide industry both in terms of pounds and dollar value, says Price.

From 1961 through 1965, sales figures for U. S. made pesticides, other than herbicides and hormones, have remained relatively constant. Sales of herbicides and plant hormones jumped from 95 million pounds in 1962 to 194 million pounds in 1965. While this total is still well below the 440 million pounds of organic insecticides, fumigants, rodenticides and soil conditioners, sales values in terms of dollars are much closer with herbicides and plant hormones accounting for 42 percent of the total of all organic pesticides produced in the U. S. in 1965.

Where are these products used? In 1961, the latest year to-tails available, Price says herbicides were used in the continental U. S. on 85 million acres of agricultural land; on 4 million acres of home gardens; and on 30 million acres of highway and utility rights-of-way.

And, asks Price, are Americans getting a good return on their investment for weed and brush control? He thinks so. More and better food, livestock and livestock products, and at reasonable prices are the payoff. To say nothing of improvements in industry, recreational areas and highway and utility rights-of-way.

Dr. R. Glenn Reed, Jr., Marietta, Georgia, president of Kiwanis International (left), presented a scroll to The Honourable Lester B. Pearson, Prime Minister of Canada in the Prime Minister's office in Ottawa, November 14. The scroll represented Kiwanis' appreciation to the Canadian people and their leaders for the support which they have rendered to Kiwanis during the past fifty years. Kiwanis celebrated the Golden Anniversary of the establishment of its first club in Canada — Hamilton, Ontario — on November 15, 1966.

Kiwanis President Visits Canada

Dr. R. Glenn Reed, Jr., of Marietta, Ga., president of Kiwanis International, extended the thanks of his organization for Canada's fifty years of support for Kiwanis to Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson in the Prime Minister's office in Ottawa, Monday, Nov. 14. Kiwanis celebrated the Golden Anniversary of its coming to Canada the following day in special ceremonies conducted by the Kiwanis Club of Hamilton, Ontario which was organized Nov. 15, 1916.

Word of President Reed's visit to the Prime Minister and to the Hamilton Club was received here by Gene Campbell, president of the Kiwanis Club of Hereford.

During his visit to the Prime Minister Dr. Reed presented a scroll which read: 'An Appreciation to the great Canadian nation for the understanding, sympathy, and support which it has rendered to Kiwanis and its work for half a century; To the great Canadian people who have permitted Kiwanis to serve them where it can, and who have furnished members to its ranks with such prodigality; To the leadership of Canada for maintaining the climate where human dignity is paramount, and where man, working in concert with his fellow man, can reach his fullest potential in all things, and thus in Kiwanis, too;

And to the Honourable Lester B. Pearson, the Prime Minister, long-time friend of Kiwanis and its work, leader of that great nation and its people.

May we in Kiwanis, at the time of our Golden Anniversary in Canada, measure up to the support and the challenge which you vouchsafed us through the years... and may we grow in service as this great nation itself grows in the community of men."

Tuesday evening, Nov. 15, Dr. Reed was principal speaker at a Golden Anniversary banquet of the Kiwanis Club of Hamilton, which attracted about 350 Kiwanians from nearly 40 clubs in Canada and the United States. Singled out for special honors at the meeting was Norman Firth of Hamilton, last surviving founder of the Kiwanis Club of America Kiwanis was organized originally in Detroit on January 21, 1915. Today the organization serves in 18 countries of the free world and numbers 5400 clubs and 270,000 members.

When buying a Christmas tree two ways to make sure it is not dangerously dry is to shake it vigorously and note whether needles fall, and then bend the branches. If the branches snap off, they are too dry and brittle.

Innovations Give VA Assistance

A new concept of medical care assistance is being implemented by the Veterans Administration with the help of its thousands of volunteers who aid in VA hospitals. Recognizing that long term hospitalization in many instances is not necessary the VA has instituted a new "The Patient Returns to the Community" program.

The VA is enlisting the help of its army of volunteers in putting the program into effect. A two year pilot project in 10 of the VA's 165 hospitals showed that many patients following completion of their hospitalization had need of assistance upon returning to their home communities.

The project is advancing with the increasing availability of outpatient treatment and care. Restoration centers, day treatment houses and nursing home care, all facilitate the successful and early return of veterans to their home communities.

Patients in communities near VA hospitals may receive hospital treatment in day care centers and return to their homes at night. Patients ready to begin employment in the community where the VA hospital is located during the day, and return to the hospital at night.

These innovations in veterans' care have registered their most dramatic successes with older patients, the chronically ill, and especially the mentally ill. These groups occupy more than half the VA hospital beds. The goal of the VA project is to return these veterans to their communities as independent and self-supporting citizens.

To augment the new program, the VA called on its hundred thousand volunteers from civic and welfare groups and veterans' organizations. Last year these volunteers donated over eight million hours of their time to assist veterans in VA hospitals.

There is a close cooperation between the volunteers at the hospitals and the volunteers in the veteran's community. Through their liaison, contact is made at the community level when a veteran is scheduled for release from the hospital. The VA Volunteer Service Director, in consultation with social workers, finds a service organization or veterans' group in the patient's town who agrees to supply voluntary assistance.

Both the VA and the volunteer service have found that many people are willing to help. The results are evident in the number of patients who assume normal, active lives as part of their community.

An Answer For Jimmy

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is the first in a series written by students of creative writing at Hereford High School, under the direction of Ted Swindle.

Dear Mr. Editor,
My name is Jimmy. I am eight years old. My friend told me that there is no Santa Claus. He told me my Dad was Santa Claus. Mr. Editor, who is Santa Claus?

Jimmy
Jimmy, there definitely is a Santa Claus. Children have asked this question for years. The best answer I have written years ago. A letter was written to a child such as you by Charles Dana in 1897.
"Dear Virginia,

Your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except what they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little.

In this great universe of ours, man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus.

He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! How dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance, to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in Fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in chimneys on Christmas evening to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove?

Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see.

Did you ever see Fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there.

You may tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart.

Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond.

Is it real?
Ah, Virginia, in all the world there is nothing else real and abiding.

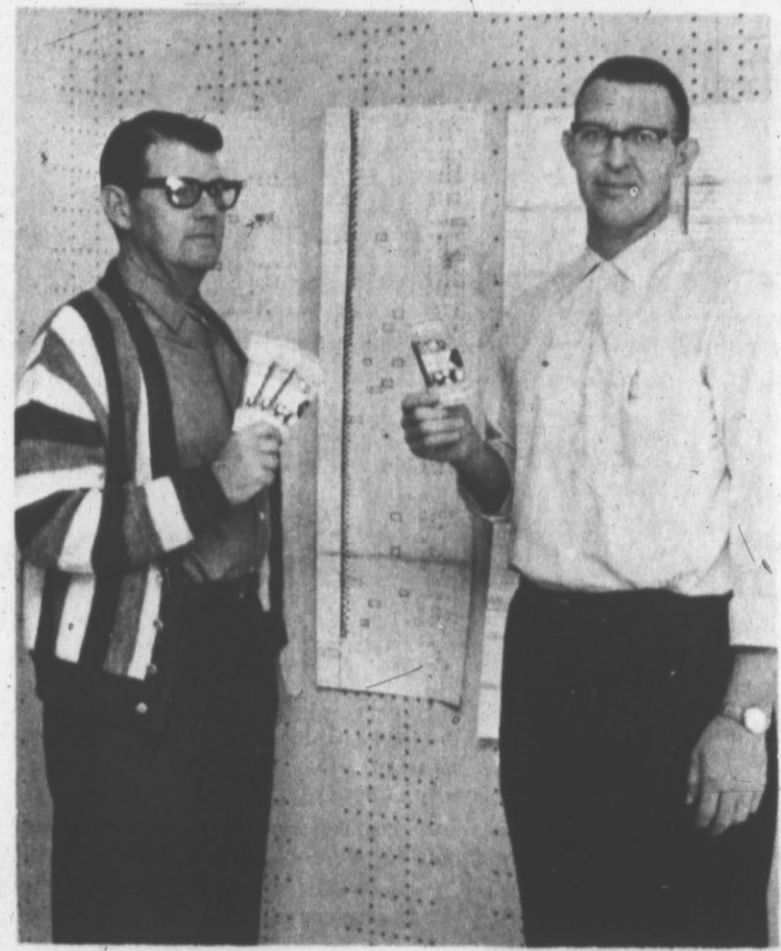

No Santa Claus? Thank God, he lives and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

Jimmy, Santa is a symbol of the true meaning of Christmas. You seem to be a bright boy since you spend some effort to learn the truth.

There does not have to be a gift given for Santa Claus to be alive; there only has to be joy and love for and to all.

Turfgrass Confab Slated At A&M

COLLEGE STATION — Irrigation and management of turfgrass will be main topics of discussion at the 21st annual Texas Turfgrass Conference, Dec. 5-7. All sessions are scheduled for Texas A&M University's Memorial Student Center.

Over 300 members of the Texas Turfgrass Association are expected to attend the three day conference which will deal primarily with irrigation and management of the turf on golf courses, parks, schools, industrial sites, highways and cemeteries. Management includes the use of fertilizers and chemicals for weed and disease and insect control, said Dr. George McBee, program chairman.

Two of the featured speakers will be Dr. J. R. Watson, director of agronomy, the Toro Manufacturing Corp., Minneapolis, Minn., and Dr. Marvin H. Ferguson of College Station, the mid-continent director, U. S. Golf Association, Green Section.

An additional highlight of the conference will be the showing of a film, courtesy of International Minerals and Chemical Corp., titled "This Garden England."

The conference's annual banquet is scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 6, in the MSC Ballroom. The Honorable Ralph Wayne, Texas House of Representatives, from Plainview, will be the speaker.

President of the association is Quinton Johnson, superintendent Brookhaven Country Club, Dallas. The conference is sponsored by the association and Texas A&M University, McBee said.

as Department of Public Safety and the Texas Highway Department.

The TSA Holiday Safety Campaign is sponsored by the groups Church Activities Section under the direction of J. O. Musick of Austin, TSA General Manager and Mrs. W. B. Streetman of Fort Worth, TSA Vice President for Church Activities.

Republicans Say To Be Positive In New Actions

By LARRY FUHRMANN

Austin Bureau Chief

"The natives are restless" is the way United States Congressman-elect George Bush sums up the November 8th election, which saw him, along with Bob Price, taking two representative seats in Washington for Texas and the Republican party. Bush was elected in a new district created in the Houston area.

"The size of the Republican victory speaks out on the abandonment of alternatives which was seen in the 89th Congress," Bush told members of the University of Texas Young Republican Club in an appearance Wednesday night.

"I don't think it's good when you do away with dissent. There will be plenty of balance and plenty of debate when the 90th Congress convenes in January. There is going to be a legitimate use of Congress."

Bush's speech to the student group reflected changing attitudes of the Republican party in the state and the nation as he stated, "I wouldn't want to be cast in the role of being too critical of the administration. I don't believe in the old idea of all poor being lazy. You don't want to turn your back on them."

"I say we have a role in the alleviation of human suffering. But we must remember that Athens ceased to be great when it sought freedom from responsibility.

"Although we certainly want a better standard of living for the unfortunate, we must remember that some approaches to the problem, such as the rent supplement, create an erosion of responsibility.

"The answer to the problem is to break the cycle of poverty — educate hope into the children of the poor in order that they themselves will take advantage of opportunities and government programs to help bring them out of the lowest ranks of socio-economic status."

A more reasonable approach to poverty, coupled with more fiscal sanity, is what Bush said he thinks will come out of the 90th Congress. "Lyndon Johnson has a very sensitive political antenna," he commented.

"There is no longer any question that you can get the country moving by spending more than you take in," Bush said. There is, however, a second half to that theory, one that is seldom mentioned. (Bush took his Bachelor of Arts degree from Yale University with a major in economics.)
The second half of the theory points up the fact that when the economy is overheated, it is time for the government to provide a budget surplus, which up to now has not been provided, he said. He advocated more federal grants-in-aid with fewer strings attached.

"Perhaps because of the federal tax structure, the states were not able to accept responsibility in the past and were not merely ignoring their duties."

"When you have a strong two-party system in a state, you're going to have a government more responsive to the people," he said about Texas. "Republicans need strength, and we don't have it in Texas. You don't build strength by being against."

"I think the way Bob Price and I behave in Washington is going to have a lot to do with whether we have a two-party Texas. I think we have a job to assist Texas Republicans. A two-party system would result, I think, not in liberals, but rather in more sensible government. Institutions must advance with the times."

A standing ovation for Bush came as he closed with, "These are the goals, next comes the action." With Republicans picking up 47 seats in the United States Congress, it looks like he may get it.

Cafeteria Staff Has Yule Party

Annual Christmas party of employees of public school cafeterias here was held Wednesday evening with 36 present. Mrs. Carroll Hagar was master of ceremonies for a series of games. Mrs. Barrett Sowell received the door prize.

Others present for the party and salad supper were Mmes. Earl Davis, Lloyd Pittsinger, Leo Olig, Bill Turner, Mark Lindeman, James Shaffer, Buck Parker, Harry Coffin, Pat Lawhon, Tom Sanders, Willard Witherspoon, Wayne Wilcox, Olen Baird, Bill Kee.

Also Mmes. Jake Jaques, John Fleider, Virginia Anstey, Joe Ed Cupell, Clyde Smithers, Raymond Garrett, Dennis Williams, R. Durham, Eugene Guinn, Charles Dones, Ronda Bay, E. W. Dungan, Glenn Williams, Henry Murrell, G. A. Brown, J. K. Gore, Ronald Matthews, Roy Buechler, Earl Cox and Miss Cecilia Burrus.

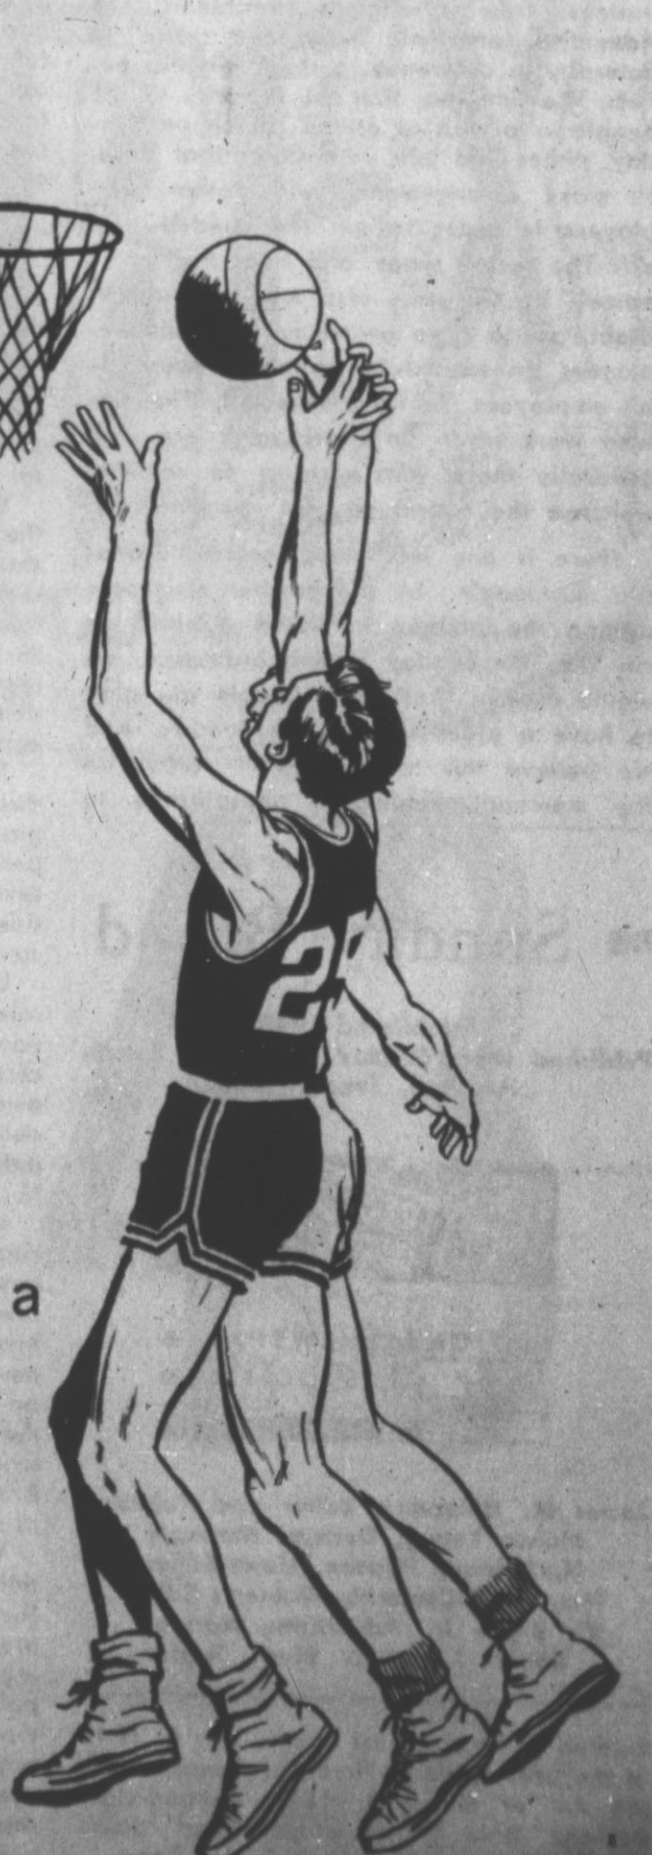

Bush had commented in his speech, "I think the conservative can be positive." From all indications, his speech would be the best example of it. One Democrat was mentioned only once — Lyndon B. Johnson — and then it was in the form of a compliment.

Voluntary Adjustments May Be Only Answer To Blue Law

An effort by the Austin City Council to enforce a Sunday Closing ordinance has led to a rebellion of citizens against the city and a fast repeal of the same ordinance, which was voted earlier this month.

Uniformed policemen were stationed at several discount houses last Sunday and issued citations to 92 persons who bought merchandise. Fines of up to $200 could have been imposed against violators.

But the action of the Austin City Council apparently was not viewed with favor from local residents and more than 3,000 signed petitions protesting the law.

Similar efforts by other cities at "forced Sunday closing" have failed as well, although some cities have worked out their problems on a voluntary basis. Apparently this is the arrangement that has been used in our neighboring city of Amarillo.

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce recently appointed a committee to study the problem as related to Hereford and to make some recommendations in the near future. It is hoped that this committee will come up with a workable solution before the situation gets completely out of hand and Sunday becomes just like any other shopping day.

But who is to say which stores will remain open and which stores will close? Certainly, we should all realize by now that it is desirable to have the "convenience type" operations open so that we may pick up emergency food items. And it's a sad traveler who happens through a city, low on gasoline, and finds no service center open for his convenience.

How about that Sunday dinner at the restaurant? Should we make an effort — or pass laws — to close down all these establishments? And who is to decide which of these stores is to remain open "for our convenience" if we chose to be selective in this matter?

It is a big problem. And it is obviously one that cannot be corrected by legislation. Store owners should have the right to open and close their stores at whatever hour they please and on any day they see fit.

And we can hardly justify closing any business from a religious standpoint. The Adventists, after all, close their stores on Saturday in deference to their religious beliefs. We find too, that the majority of the people who wish to attend church on Sunday, either find jobs with stores that close, or make arrangements with other employees in order to get the needed time off. The recent wage and hour laws passed by Congress also makes it unprofitable for a store owner to work his employees an excessive number of hours, so all employees do have time off. The few who work seven days a week are most generally those who wish to do so, and welcome the opportunity for overtime pay.

There is one solution of course. Economic. But judging by the number of people signing the petition in Austin against the city and its Sunday closing ordinance, we would assume that many people are glad to have a place to shop on Sunday. And we believe this to be true — otherwise the merchant, finding it unprofitable to keep his doors open on Sunday, would close.

The only other solution to the problem then, is through the "voluntary" plan. Whether this will work or not remains to be seen, but we believe that a committee of clear-thinking, responsible individuals can, through a concerted effort, secure the voluntary cooperation of the merchants involved.

Games, Giveaways And Unfunny Prices

As games and giveaways spread through supermarkets and other retail establishments, unamused consumer groups are pressing a counter-attack. They have a point, but maybe not the right one.

Since prices are rising right along with the sales promotion devices, many consumers figure the two must be inextricably linked. The Government lends credence to this view by launching an investigation of supermarket promotional practices. And it's certainly true that bingo games, trading stamps and any other allegedly jolly gimmicks a business uses to draw customers add to costs.

One consideration the outraged consumers overlook, however, is that no retailer can safely set prices solely by adding up his costs and tacking on a reasonable margin for profit. Anyone who tries to operate in this easy way is likely to be eased right out of business by a more competitive shopkeeper down the street.

Instead, a half-way sensible businessman starts from the cold hard fact that some of his costs, like heat and light bills, are fixed. If a promotion is successful, fixed costs will shrink in relation to sales; paradoxical as it may sound, a game or a giveaway can then actually help keep prices down.

Often ignored, too, is that consumers decide whether promotions are successful. If housewives don't want to play games as they shop, either because they dislike gambling or worry about the alleged price impact, the games will disappear. Only a few days ago, Safeway Stores cited shoppers' protests when it dropped its "Bonus Bingo."

Even a device with appeal can seldom do more than bring a customer through the door, anyway. Few people will be willing to go on putting up with high prices and poor service merely to get a chance to win a little money; opportunities to gamble, legally or otherwise, are not all that hard to find.

When promotions proliferate, of course, they tend to lose their ability to generate sharp sales gains. For this reason many service stations already are backing away from giveaways and once again competing in more conventional ways. Here, again, the consumer has called the tune; once demand has been sated the normal reaction is buyer indifference.

The whole process is admittedly a little disorderly, but that happens to be the nature of our uncommonly successful competitive system. Before condemning it too severely, perhaps the critics should consider the alternative: Increased Governmental regulation.

Unquestionably the Government has a role in promoting free and fair competition, a role it pursues with sometimes excessive zeal. But even if games and giveaways have gone to ridiculous extremes, outlawing them would not promote competition but curb it — and that, it seems to us, would really be absurd.

It's conceivable that a flat ban on the currently popular forms of promotion might temporarily help hold prices down, though even that is highly debatable. In any case, inventive merchants would soon think up new ways to compete. Once embarked on a program of curbing competition with the professed aim of preventing price rises, where could the Government stop? Would it set limits on sizes of ads and numbers of salesmen?

What is especially foolish about all of this is that it is the Government, and not the retailers, that is putting the upward pressure under prices. For years Washington's inflationary fiscal and monetary policies have poured excessive amounts of money into the economy, funds that now are being used to push up the prices of everything, not only in supermarkets and service stations but everywhere else.

Consumers wield immense power to influence the shape of competition, and it might be well if they turned thumbs down on some of the wilder forms of merchandising. Far better would be for them to do something, as voters, about the true source of the price increases they understandably resent.

Question Of Ethics Will Confront New Congress

By BERT MILLS

WASHINGTON, D. C. — First problem likely to confront the 90th Congress which convenes January 10 will be an ethical question: Should the House of Representatives allow to be seated one of its duly elected members who has been sentenced to jail for criminal contempt of court?

The member is Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D., N. Y.), the flamboyant and controversial Harlem preacher who has been a member of Congress for 22 years. He is one of the leaders of the House, serving as Chairman of the Educational and Labor Committee.

Rep. Powell has been defying the law for a long time. Four jail sentences have been imposed on him for refusing to obey orders of various courts, in connection with a $164,000 libel judgement against him. The jail sentences add up to 14 months.

For years, Rep. Powell has avoided arrest by absenting himself from his district except on Sunday, when he was immune from arrest. Now that escape hatch has been closed to him and he is liable to arrest on sight in New York State, any day.

Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin (D., Calif.) has served notice that on January 10 he will move on the House floor to prevent Rep. Powell from taking his seat, unless he has complied with the court orders outstanding against him. Rep. Powell has been silent and has shown no signs of complying.

Rules of the House make it the sole judge of the qualifications of its own members. At the beginning of a new Congress, any member-elect may move that any other member-elect be asked to "stand aside" while the oath of office is administered. Then the House votes whether to seat the questioned member.

Army Would Not Accept Powell

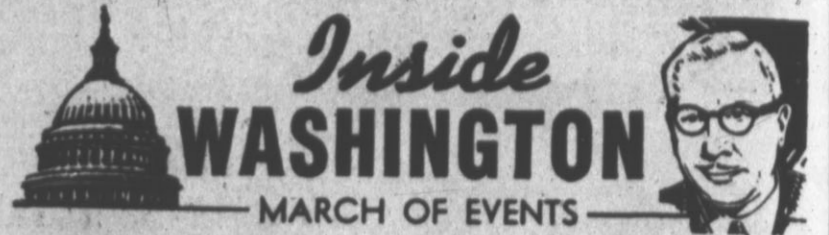

As Rep. Van Deerlin has pointed out, the jail sentences outstanding against Powell would prevent him from enlisting in the Army, nor would Selective Service classify him as fit for military service.

The Californian added: "It would be a monstrous perversion of patriotism and morality if a man would be barred from serving his country in uniform because of unlawful acts which affect the lives of men who do serve."

"At a time when great criticism is being directed at young people for lack of morals and ethical practices, it is more than ever the responsibility of Congress to set an example for moral and ethical conduct." He added, "No tradition of Congress would be hallowed enough to justify seating him."

The Constitution not only makes the House the judge of the qualifications of its own members but grants specific authority to "punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member."

There are precedents for use of all these powers. Some members have been censured for corrupt acts, assaults on the floor, and even for indulging in personalities in the heat of

HOW WILL GOP USE ITS "NEW" MUSCLE?

PARTY GOOD FIRST, NOT INDIVIDUALISM

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—If President Johnson has anything to be thankful for as a result of the November elections, it is that the Republican surge in voter strength came while he still has two more years to serve in his present White House term.

The President
Has two years to prepare

Assuming the President will seek re-election—and no one believes he won't—he has been given an opportunity to review the situation that brought about the decline in his own popularity and that of the Democratic Party, and do something about it.

Being the kind of man he is, the President undoubtedly will pursue this course vigorously. In fact, there are some within his own party who are concerned that he will over-react and lose a segment of liberal voters.

There is another element present in the situation, however, and that is the way the re-invigorated GOP elects to use its muscle in the next two years. In times gone by, the party out of power that gained strongly in the "off-year" national elections believed with some justification that it would go on to capture the presidency.

Because in recent decades that out-of-power party has been the Republicans, it has been the GOP that usually benefited from the psychological lift given during these off years. However, most times, their dream of winning the presidency has been just that.

A lot depends on the responsible opposition attitude adopted by the GOP minorities in the Senate and House. Up to now, they have been content to speak individually and let whatever image happened to result to emerge. Now, they must think in terms of the national party good if they are to translate 1966 gains into 1968 victories.

● INTERIOR DECORATION — The President's oval sitting room on the second floor of the White House is most attractively done in yellow, with some beautiful paintings and book-laden bookshelves.

The paintings are genuine, and include two pastoral scenes by the 19th century French artist Paul Cezanne.

Not all of the books are genuine, however. On the upper shelves of niches that flank the door appear to be a matching, 37-volume set of The Harvard Classics. Close examination shows, however, that they are simulated bindings and that they contain no texts.

However, they do look nice and convey the proper air of intellectual appreciation for lasting literature!

50 YEARS AGO

A pleasant surprise was given Mrs. Anne Ferguson, mother of C. C. Ferguson, when seven of her very dear friends accompanied her to the home of her son C. C. Ferguson on Sunday from the Presbyterian church to an elegant turkey dinner which was served by Mrs. Chas. Ferguson, assisted by Mrs. Alice Lea.

The directors of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce have called a meeting for the annual election of officers, the meeting to be held at the District Court room on Tuesday evening, December 19th, 1916 at 7 o'clock sharp. The officers selected at this meeting will serve for the following year. The present board urges every business man in Hereford to be present at the meeting. It is important — come out.

A cordial invitation to visit the Hereford Public Library, particularly during the week beginning December 11 extended to all city officers, business men, parents, children, teachers and all who are interested in reading. This week is being observed in libraries all over the country; the object being to arouse interest, impart information and help those who are selecting books for Xmas gifts. A carefully selected list of children's books will be given to any one who wishes it. The public library has been called the People's University and is of value in proportion to the use made of it. Come at least once during Good Book week.

Many of the small towns in eastern New Mexico and the Panhandle of Texas have been complaining of a scarcity of coal for some weeks. Some of them received shipments which were divided and made to go as far as possible as there was no assurance when more would arrive. Fortunately the weather was mild but since the norther which struck this section, last Saturday, it is feared that many families will suffer for lack of fuel. The shortage of cars is said to be responsible for the failure of dealers to get shipments contracted for.

25 YEARS AGO

America's entry into World War II, presaged by Japan's lightning attack on Pacific outposts on Sunday and continued attacks all week, found Hereford citizens, together with those of the rest of the country, a little dazed by the suddenness of the whole thing — despite the increasing war danger of the past few months.

Briefly the local reaction may be summed up as follows: Nobody is happy about this war, but the people are confident of eventual victory for American arms. The treachery of the Japanese attack has welded American thought into one aim — to defeat Japan and to end the danger of any future stab-in-the-back international tactics.

The following are quotations from Hereford citizens on the general war situation.

JOHN PATTON — We can't be happy about it — especially those of us who have boys in service — but we can whip them.

MRS. JOE SHEPPARD — If they'd just let us know they wanted fight, we could have already had them whipped.

LYNN KESTER — It won't be so easy, because of Germany's being behind the Japanese.

E. B. POSEY — What I can't understand is how they took Pearl Harbor — incidentally I think we should be taking some decided measures to provide for civilian defense right here in Hereford.

MRS. G. W. HEARD — Those devils! And after all the money the Methodist Church has spent on missionaries. (Mrs. Heard later apologized for the strong word but stated that she still felt that the same way about the Japanese.)

Urging that every home in Hereford enter the annual Christmas decoration contest this year, not only to give Hereford a beautiful appearance but to help show the true Christmas spirit in world war, G. M. Hudson, president of the Lions Club, and Mrs. N. E. Gass, president of the Garden Club, this week announced the contest.

Urge Removal Of Many Restrictions

AUSTIN — Texas Police Association President W. E. (Pat) Speir said today he is "most encouraged" by public response to the Association's statement of position recommending removal of unnecessary restrictions on law enforcement from the new Texas Code of Criminal Procedure.

"Since our statement was adopted at the annual conference last June, urging certain revisions in the code of procedure, it has been most encouraging to hear and read public statements being made by many members of the Texas Legislature and others indicating that the people are expressing themselves against the trend to afford the criminal undue protection from justice," Speir said.

Confronted as we are today with a steadily increasing crime rate, it is our position that the law-abiding public needs better protection against crime, and since it is our job to provide that protection, we need the tools with which to do it.

"We feel that our approach to certain problems presented by enactment of the new Code of Criminal Procedure in Texas is a reasonable one. The vast majority of the provisions of the new Code are sound and well developed by those who drafted it. However, as with all things new and untested, experience often shows the way toward improvements."

The TPA president said the organization is operating through two major committees in seeking to bring to the attention of all members of the Legislature and other responsible Texas citizens the urgent need for clarification and relief from the undesirable provisions of the Code. The Legislative Committee is headed by Richardson Police Chief W. J. Golden; and the Public Relations Committee is headed by C. C. Benson, Southwestern Division Manager of the National Automobile Theft Bureau.

Championship Match

Houston Is Scene Of Boxing Bout

Muhammad Ali, nee Cassius Clay II, and Ernie Terrell, will meet for the undisputed heavy weight boxing championship of the world in Houston's Astrodome on Monday, February 6.

The fight arrangements were made by Astrodome Championship Enterprises, Inc., the fight promoters and a newly formed organization wholly owned by the Houston Sports Association.

"The Ali-Terrell fight should settle once and for all the man who deserves to wear the world heavyweight crown," said Fred Hofheinz, President of Astrodome Championship Enterprises, Inc. "It was inevitable that these two great fighters should meet, and we are very happy that they have chosen the Astrodome as the setting for the fight."

The Astrodome received world wide plaudits from fans and newsmen alike as a boxing arena during the Ali-Cleveland Williams fight on November 14, when the Astrodome set an all-time indoor boxing attendance record with 35,460 paying customers.

Ticket prices will be $5, $10, and $15 in the permanent Astrodome stands, and there will be three ringside ticket prices at $25, $50 and $100. The $100 seats will be confined to the first rows at ringside and these seats will be a special upholstered and cushioned type seat. "We have created many more of the $10 seats than were available for the Williams fight as we found that these seats were the most popular with the fans," said Hofheinz. "We have also decreased the price on the field box level seats and other seats throughout the stadium in an effort to make it practical for more fans to see the great spectacle of a championship fight."

Tickets may now be ordered by sending check or money order to Ali-Terrell Title fight, Astrodome, Box 1691, Houston, Texas.

The fight will be shown on closed circuit television and on the Early Bird Satellite under the direction of Main Bout, Inc. Ali will receive 50% of the live gate, Terrell 20%, the Astrodome 17 1/2% and ACE 12 1/2%.

Ali, 24, has won all of his 27 professional fights, including 22 by knockouts, while Terrell, 27, has won 39 of 43 fights, including 18 by knockouts.

Jake Street

Dumas Manager Is Project Head

Jake Street, presently manager of the Dumas Chamber of Commerce, will assume new duties January 1 as projects director for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The announcement was made today by Jack G. Springer, executive vice-president of the WTCC.

Street brings to his new assignment experience as a chamber of commerce executive in and public relations work.

The projects director position is a new one in the WTCC organization. Street will have the responsibility of arranging details for special meetings, directing the organization and operation of special projects of the various committees and serving as an assistant to the executive vice-president in the program of work.

A native of Arkansas, Street earned his BS degree in Business Administration and has completed management courses in the University of Houston.

"With the growth of the program of work of the WTCC during the past few years, it has become necessary to assign a man to the projects director post," Springer said. Further, he stated, "We think that Street is eminently qualified to handle the many and varied duties of this new assignment and look forward to having him on our staff."

Mr. and Mrs. Street are members of the Baptist Church and have been active in civic and professional organizations. Mrs. Street has been a teacher in the Dumas Public Schools for the past three years. The Streets will move to Abilene January 1.

Two weeks is the limit to keep a Christmas tree in the home, otherwise it reaches a dangerous stage of dryness — no matter how well it's treated against burning.

WTCC Will Talk With Lawmakers

West Texas Senators, members of the house of representatives and businessmen will meet in Midland and Odessa on December 16 and 17 to discuss matters of interest to West Texas and issues facing the 60th session of the Texas Legislature.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring this pre-legislative conference and will have representatives from all sections of the 132-county area encompassed by the WTCC. These representatives will discuss with the legislators problems which are common to West Texas.

The first session will be held at 3:00 p. m. December 16 in the ballroom of the Lincoln Hotel in Odessa at which time the businessmen will present their views. The second session will be held at a breakfast at the Scarborough Hotel in Midland Saturday morning, December 17, at 7:30 when the legislators will explain the issues facing the legislature and some of the problems of the West Texas delegation.

Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith and Speaker of the House Ben Barnes, both West Texans; will be present and head the groups from their respective branches of the legislature. Howard Rose of Midland, WTCC State Affairs chairman, will moderate the afternoon session in Odessa.

Special entertainment is being arranged for the wives of the legislators and wives of the businessmen who attend the meetings. A dinner will honor the legislators and their wives Friday evening in Odessa.

Legislators and their wives will be guests of the WTCC during the two days. Special private planes will fly them from their homes to the meeting and return them on Saturday afternoon.

Special invitations have been extended to all members of the WTCC State Affairs committee and the members of the WTCC board of directors, but other members of the regional organization will attend to represent all segments of West Texas economy. Farming, ranching, oil, industry, tourist and other business interests will have representatives.

The American bison or "buffalo" is the only representative of wild cattle in the New World. The bison came to the U. S. late, during the Ice Age, perhaps only a little while before men came. It is not a true buffalo, but has a close relative in the early extinct European bison or wisent.

The four main points of concern are:

1. The Texas Code requires the arrested person to be taken "immediately" before a magistrate, while "without unnecessary delay" is the terminology of the federal rules of procedure. It is felt that some investigative time is necessary if for no other reason than to eliminate the innocent.

2. The Code gives defense attorneys the right of "discovery" (to examine the state's evidence and witnesses) — the state should be afforded the same opportunity.

3. The Code requires that a warrant be "in hand" to arrest, whereas federal rules provide legal arrest can be made when the officer has knowledge that the warrant has been issued. A copy can then be furnished as soon as possible.

4. The new Code does not provide for arrest for misdemeanors when committed in view of an officer. It should so provide.

Leadership Holds Hot Potato When the Van Deertin motion is made, Speaker John McCormack and other House leaders will be presented with a hot potato. They can hardly condone Powell's contemptuous conduct, and yet he was duly reelected to his seat. It will be interesting to see what stand they take.

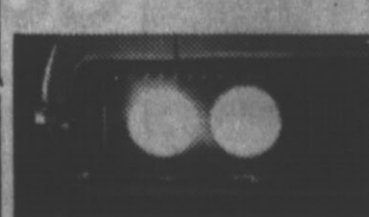

Many other charges have been made against Powell in the past but he has survived them all. He has made capital of the fact that he is a Negro and that he can charge his foes are racially motivated. However, such a counter charge will hardly alter the fact that he cannot represent a district he cannot even visit without being arrested.

Kiwanians Hear Industrial Talk

Guest speaker for the noon luncheon of the Kiwanis Club Thursday was Hershel Black of the Dolly Textile industry in Hereford. Introduced by Clint Formby, program chairman for the month of December, Black began his speech by saying that Dolly Textile was owned by local businessmen "who were interested in seeing Hereford grow."

Black emphasized the increase in prospective employment that this industry provides. Dolly employs 30 women, he said, and many of them could not find previous year-round employment in Hereford. Operating on an assembly-line basis rather than doing home-type sewing, Clark told the club that Dolly maintains 50 commercial grade machines. Clark said that Dolly feels that a woman gets better and more efficient when she performs one task all day, rather than shifting around to complete each garment she works on. He stated that Dolly produces an average of 600 dresses daily or 18 to 25 dresses per worker per day.

Though Dolly previously manufactured only Toddler size 1 through Girl's size 12 dresses, Clark said they have recently begun manufacturing Jr. Petite sizes. Clark told the club that producing little girls' dresses was a very seasonal job and only occupied about 6 months of the year, so it was necessary for Dolly to find something else to manufacture during the slump. He said they have done some western shirts and some ladies Christmas boots. He told the club that back-to-school and Easter was the biggest season for them and that clothes for one season are begun about 6 months in advance.

Clark told of the cutting table (50 feet long and 5 feet wide) and the cutting device by which the cutting operator can cut 1200 dresses from a pattern at one time. He said that at the present time Dolly supplies stores in 29 states and that their primary accounts are with C. R. Anthony, Sears and Roebuck and J. C. Penny Co. He further explained the work of Dolly and the marketing process. Clark urged all of the men "even though you don't sew often" to come by the plant and tour it, adding that a Bluebird group would be touring it Friday.

Club members discuss the Workhorse Award recipient and Dale Young announced that a club bulletin would soon be formed, asking for any suggestions for names of the bulletin.

Jim Arney, blood chairman of the walking blood bank, took names of all the men who agreed to donate blood when needed. Dean Herring told the club members of the installation of the Lt. Governor of Kiwanians and urged them to attend. Plans for a Big-Brother type program in working with the junior high school students of Hereford was discussed.

December 22 was set as the date for the club's Christmas Party for the children. Gene Campbell, club president, urged the men to also invite their wives.

Work Survey Is Being Made

WASHINGTON D. C. — An employment survey to solve urgent manpower problems is being conducted in ten U. S. cities, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said.

The Labor Secretary said the survey is designed to provide statistical information needed to develop "effective" manpower programs at the national, state and local levels.

In testimony before the Senate Subcommittee on Intergovernmental Relations Secretary Wirtz said he hoped the survey would be useful in "meeting unemployment in the slum areas of our major cities."

The State Employment Service has administrative responsibility for surveys to be conducted in: New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Boston, New Orleans, St. Louis, San Antonio, Phoenix and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Of the approximately 1,700 persons currently taking part in the household enumeration, more than 1,100 are employees of state agencies, over 300 are from local Community Action agencies and 170 are employees of six different bureaus of the U. S. Department of Labor. Also, 100 Neighborhood Youth Corps enrolling as helpers and guides in roll-ups from local projects are the survey.

The cooperative effort of administrative staff in Washington D. C., in the States, and at the local level is an "example of how creative federalism can be put to work to solve urgent problems," Secretary Wirtz said.

Careless Customers

Five-year-old Billy, on his own at the supermarket, took energetic command of a shopping cart. For about 15 minutes he trotted along joyfully, pushing the cart in front of him. But at last, veering around a corner, he rammed the cart into an unsuspecting woman shopper.

Painfully injured, the woman sued the management and won a substantial judgment. The court said there was plenty of time for store employees to have noticed Billy's antics and brought him to a halt.

Case No. Two: A woman shopper was standing at the checkout counter, her arms laden with groceries, when a heavy can of peaches slipped from her grasp. It landed squarely on the toe of a man behind her. And he too sought to collect from the management for his pain and anguish.

But this time, the victim's claim was denied. The court said this was the kind of accident that not even careful supervision by the market would have prevented.

It is not rare, on a store's premises, for one customer to carelessly cause injury to another. For assorted reasons, the victim may sue the customer who injured him but the management.

As the above cases illustrate, the store may indeed be held liable—but only when the danger could have been reasonably foreseen and reasonably prevented.

What if there is some inherent danger in the merchandise itself? That adds an extra dimension to the store's policing responsibilities. Thus:

A gun shop that allowed a patron to manipulate a loaded shotgun was held liable when he accidentally shot another customer.

And a sports shop that let golfers take practice swings in an unguarded area was held liable when one man's club hit another man's head.

Suppose the customer is not merely careless but reckless or even vicious. As a rule that is not considered foreseeable, so the store is not to blame.

For example, a store was held not liable when a man suddenly and deliberately shoved a woman through a plate glass window. The court said the management need not guard against an act that, in ordinary experience, simply does not happen.

Three Days For Yule Holiday

WASHINGTON — What kind of Thanksgiving did you have last week?

Was it leisurely and enjoyable? Did it give you an opportunity for calm reflection of the things you have to be thankful for?

Or were you harried by the rush of a one-day trip to visit relatives and friends with whom you like to share Thanksgiving dinner? Did the thought of returning to work the next day bother your digestion?

If you wished the holiday adjoined a weekend, so as to provide a three-day holiday, you were not alone.

A poll of its membership recently completed by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States shows that businessmen overwhelmingly favor changing some holidays, including Thanksgiving, to a uniform Monday observance as a way of creating more three-day weekends.

Completed questionnaires were received from 9,964, or one-third of the members polled. The returns show that 85% of the respondents favor the general idea of observing Memorial Day, Thanksgiving, Independence Day, Veteran's Day and Washington's Birthday on Mondays. The questionnaire noted that there have been proposals to designate Washington's Birthday as President's Day, honoring all Presidents. The questionnaire did not discuss changing the observance of Christmas or New Year's Day.

Significantly, 90% of the businessmen felt that their employees will like the idea and that it will improve employee morale. In addition to supporting the idea as an aid to their employees, more than half of the businessmen said that the changes would help production work schedules. One-third expressed belief that the changes would stimulate the sales of goods and services.

About 14% disapproved the idea. Objections most frequently dealt with the traditional aspects of existing holiday observance dates and the possibility that more highway accidents might result from increasing the number of three-day weekends. Interest by the Chamber members in this subject was underlined by the enthusiastic remarks of many respondents. A small Wyoming service company said: "This would be the smartest thing that ever happened." A California banker queried his employees and "was amazed at the spontaneous enthusiasm for the idea."

Finally, as a small publisher in Illinois said: "I have heard of physicians advising their patients who are under great tension to take shorter and more frequent vacations. The long weekend in a natural for this. The United States is spending millions to develop hovercraft vehicles for such versatile jobs as flood and rescue work, anti-submarine warfare and amphibious assault.

Texas Camp Is Open In Dec.

In the Spring of 1965, the only Indian Reservation in Texas near Livingstone opened a picturesque and modern building and containing a Museum Arts & Craft Shop, and a Dining Room. An authentic Indian Dance Square was added where Tribal Dancers perform each week-end. Also Big Thicket Tours are being conducted by trained Indian Guides. To date in 1966 the Project has had 60,000 visitors. The story behind this move by the Indian people is as interesting as their history and culture.

As far back as 1957 when a new Indian Agent was appointed it was realized that the Indian people needed to have an aggressive tribal council to share the administrative load and work toward making the Reservation self-sufficient.

It was decided by the Tribe, that since so many people were interested in the past culture of the Indians, the best way to create jobs and produce the needed revenue was to develop the Tourist Business. Some of the older members of the Tribe objected at first as they felt the public would invade their privacy and interrupt community life, however this uneasy feeling is now dispelled.

The Tribe secured funds through loans and opened the first phase of a Tourist Program which they hope to enlarge each year and attain the goal of making the Reservation fully self-sufficient.

Matthew Bullock, Tribal Council member stated: "The program has operated so well this year and so many people have requested that the activities be extended longer this season, so the Tribal Council has elected to extend all activities through Nov. 25, 26 & 27, and Dec. 10 & 11 through Dec. 17 & 18.

Silver Wedding Open House Set

Open house at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Justice, 210 Ranger, will be held from 2 to 4 p. m. Sunday in celebration of their Silver Wedding anniversary. All friends of the couple are invited to call.

Hosts will be their children, Mrs. Cliff Lewis of Abilene, the former Avie Justice, and Ken-ny Justice, a student in Hardin-Simmons University.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Justice of Petersburg, who acted as best man and maid of honor at the Hereford couple's wedding on December 6, 1941, will be in the receiving line with them.

Mrs. Cecil Boyer and Mrs. Pat Neill will be in the house-party to assist in serving the traditional anniversary cake with punch and coffee. Mr. and Mrs. Justice have requested that no gifts be made.

Married at Lamesa, Mr. and Mrs. Justice were both residents of Post before their marriage. She was Miss Geneva Bingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bingham.

La Plata Club Planning To Share Holiday Joy

Pleasures of the holiday season for themselves and others were planned by La Plata Club members at their meeting this week, when they voted a contribution for Christmas gifts to patients in Wichita Falls State Hospital, and scheduled a Christmas program.

It will be presented at a meeting Dec. 13 in the home of Mrs. Clint Formby. Members will exchange "white elephant" gifts then, and also bring food to fill a basket for a needy family here at Christmas.

Mrs. Philip Shook, president, was hostess and presided for business. A report was made on the historical plaque which the club presented to La Plata Junior High School. Expressions of appreciation were given from faculty and students for the marker which details the history of the school name.

A request was presented for club cooperation in the "walking blood bank" in which local residents' Blood types are listed for reference in case of need for emergency transfusions. Members voted to assist in this community project.

Mrs. Jim Neill and Mrs. Wayne Hedrick were new members chosen by the club.

A comet's tail may stretch millions of miles.

WIND WHIPS DECORATIONS — Insistent high winds, which plagued Hereford residents all week, created even bigger problems for employes of Southwestern Public Service Co. who were contracted to put up an attend to the city's Christmas decorations. Many of the large ornaments were blown down by the gusty winds, with "quite a few of them pulled loose from the poles on Wednesday," company officials said. (Hereford Brand Photos)

Summer Theater Given Acclaim

"TEXAS," the musical drama which plays each summer in the Palo Duro Canyon is to be included in the FESTIVAL USA of carefully chosen productions throughout the United States which are suggested to travelers from foreign countries as particularly interesting. They are prepared by the United States Travel Service of the US Department of Commerce in Washington and are distributed through twenty outlets overseas.

This program is being developed through the Department of Commerce in order to make foreign travel in the States easier. Although there are many reasons why it is important and valuable for the people of all countries to see us as we are, the responsibility for encouraging foreign travel is placed in the hands of the Department of Commerce. This is done in the hope that a large increase in foreign visitors will balance the financial strain of dollars spent overseas by our travelers to other lands, and that the cultural advantage of being known will be accompanied by the improvement of our financial balance.

The privilege of being one of the productions on the FESTIVAL USA list includes USIS distribution of background material to each of its outlets: posters, souvenir programs, special news releases, slides, etc. It includes a mention in all published lists of attractions. It includes reproduction of a basic picture or two for distribution to all overseas outlets (8x10).

On the other hand it is the responsibility of the attraction to prepare the necessary materials for distribution and to have them ready to send. It is also important to prepare a flyer to insert in each package of brochures, telling about the attraction in the language of the country to which it goes.

If you are fluent in Dutch, or Swedish, or Japanese, or Portuguese, or Italian, or German and would be willing to translate a one-page flyer into your language, write to Box 268, Canyon, Texas.

If you would be free to act as guide or host to these groups when they come and will be on hand this summer so that we could count on you, please let us know mentioning the language you are competent in.

Since one of the problems of attracting foreign travelers is the great expense of seeing our vast country, we are not in a position to employ translators and will not be until there is a large volume of foreign travel in this area. However, translators and guides can be sure of some interesting experiences, if they will volunteer.

Write to us immediately if you can help! Box 268, Canyon, Texas.

Annual Presentation...

...The Messiah

A CHRISTMAS TIME MUSICAL tradition in Hereford is the holiday concert of the high school's Mixed Choir, which will present the seasonal music from Handel's oratorio, The Messiah, next Thursday evening in the school auditorium. As in past years, guest soloists will assist in singing this classic of religious music, the masterpiece of a German composer who lived and worked in England until he is often considered as belonging to that country. The public is invited to hear this Christmas gift of music.

DIRECTOR RICHARD JACKSON signals for softening of a passage, above, and for full volume of the choir's voices, right, in a dress rehearsal. Sections of the choir at rest and singing, are shown in other photographs. Ben Gollehon, HHS band director, will be guest director to conduct some of the choral selections which are the basic songs of The Messiah. Mrs. Joe Hacker will be accompanist.

Betzen-Warren Wedding Vows Recited In Church

Miss Mary Betzen and Jerry Warren were married Saturday afternoon in St. Anthony's Catholic Church, where poinsettia blossoms on the altar set the seasonal note in decor. The couple left on a trip that will take them to Little Creek, Va., where they will make a home.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Betzen of Route 4 and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warren of Route 2. The Rev. Alexander Beaton read the double ring ceremony in which Mr. Betzen gave his daughter in marriage.

Wedding music was by Mrs. Jim Cramer, organist, and Ben Gollehon, vocal soloist. Selections were The Lord's Prayer, More, Ave Maria, Whither Thou Goest and the traditional marches.

Miss Joyce Warren, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and the other bridal attendants were Miss Sandra Hedgecoke and the bride's sister, Mrs. Jesse Cash. Jim Marshall acted as a best man. Groomsmen were the bridegroom's brother, Joe Warren, and Eddie Gallagher of Amarillo.

Tim Betzen, Charlie Vasek, Bob Schmucker and Ralph Warren ushered guests to their seats. Snowflake crepe fashioned the bride's slim-lined gown, with Chantilly lace overlaying the empire bodice and fashioning long sleeves.

Of the same lace, a panel train bordered with crepe was attached at the back shoulder line. Her layered veil of illusion was gathered to a headpiece of white silk petals embroidered with seed pearls, and fell over her shoulders.

She carried white roses and wore her mother's opal ring and opal earrings which were the bridegroom's gift. Ankle-length dresses of bright navy crepe were worn by her attendants. Cut empire style, the gowns were made with shallow scoop neckline and elbow sleeves. Their hats and shoes were in poinsettia red, and each carried a long-stemmed red rose.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Betzen wore a teal blue dress with black accessories. Mrs. Walter Warren chose a suit in olive green with accessories matched to the color.

A reception was held after the ceremony in St. Anthony's School Auditorium. The bride's table was centered with her bouquet, and the wedding cake.

Wills Described For Optimists

Wills and their importance were explained to the Hereford Optimist Club during its regular weekly meeting Thursday.

Ed Line, Hereford attorney, described the different types of wills and explained how they are enforced under Texas law. A question and answer session followed the speech.

Optimists voted Thursday to drop participation in the Turkey Shoot in order to spend more time in the annual Christmas tree sale.

Ladies Night will be held Thursday night at Jones Restaurant, and the regular noon luncheon Thursday will be cancelled. Charlie Sheets was appointed chairman of the planning committee for Ladies' Night.

—Small Talk— Income Ratings Reduce Taxes

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

In this season of holidays which began as religious observances but have become more hectic than holy, there has grown up a custom which seems to me due for a change.

THAT'S THE COMPULSION for every organization in the world, including those in churches, to have a Thanksgiving party and then a Christmas party — right at a time when all the members are head-over-heels in the middle of other holiday activities so that one more party is a catastrophe, not a pleasure.

I'm not talking about the special holiday services in churches, the carol singing, choir programs and children's programs which keep the proper religious note in the season.

The ones I mean are the class parties, youth group parties, men's organization and women's organization parties, church school teacher's parties, church officials' parties, ad infinitum.

ANYBODY WHO IS slightly active in a church finds himself involved in a covered dish dinner or a round of games with gift exchange, nearly every night near Christmas.

Social activity for church groups is fine and I'm all for it, but how about some other time for the annual big party? That would enable members to devote their attention to the religious observances which hold the true meaning of Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Furthermore, the big party would be enjoyed much more if it were scheduled in the dull days later in winter, for instance. And if some childish voice cries out that there wouldn't be a gift exchange then; why not?

MAKE IT A GROUND Hog Day gift, and it might start a whole new trend of gift-giving on a holiday so far ignored for that purpose. The sales-promotion boys should be quick to seize that idea!

What I started out to say, though, before getting carried

COLLEGE STATION — December is the last chance this year for farmers, ranchers and other self-employed people to level or adjust their income — with the object of reducing income taxes.

Leveling income between two or more years is a common practice to avoid the increased taxes that come with a highly variable income, particularly that of farmers and ranchers. James I. Mallett, Extension area farm management specialist at Texas A&M University, explains how income leveling is away by the subject, is that one club here has made a move which should win them a citation of some sort (because clubs run to Christmas parties as much as church groups do).

National Secretaries Association members decided not to have one — in fact, not to meet at all in the busy month of December. They will provide a basket of groceries for a hungry family at Christmas, and that's all. Congratulations, and may your example be followed!

NOTE TO A NICE person who sent me a clipping titled Gifts With Dignity: But you didn't sign your name to your note! Like most newspapers, this one avoids using anonymous contributions. We might use your suggestion but withhold publication of your name, if you request it, but we want your name for reference.

This particular clipping does not concern a controversial matter, but the policy is the same anyway. Why? Because if I published your suggestion it would be under my name, there for everyone to see, agree or disagree with. If you don't care enough for it to have your name used, why should I use mine?

ually high. Another effective way to level income from high to low years is by the fast depreciation options. There are three options available.

First is the straight line depreciation method. Here, the same amount is depreciated each year of the depreciable life of the object.

Next, is the double declining balance method. It is two times the straight line rate; times the declining balance. In this method the first year depreciation is twice as much as the first year of the straight line method. Eligible assets include tangible property with a useful life of 3 years or more.

The third option is the first year 20 percent fast depreciation method. This method can be taken in addition to the double declining method or the straight line method on the remaining balance. This makes a first-year depreciation deduction of over three times the straight line method alone. Assets eligible for the first year 20 percent fast depreciation include machinery and equipment with a useful life of 6 years or more.

For complete information about requirements and limitations of these depreciation methods see IRS publication No. 225 Farmers Tax Guide, 1967 edition available from county agricultural agents or the District Director of Internal Revenue Service, suggests Mallett.

By shifting income or expenses from one year to another, farmers can keep income fairly stable, he said. For instance, if income is unusually high this year, sales of crops or livestock could be delayed until the next tax year.

Or, production items for next year, such as fertilizer, or supplies could be bought before the end of the current tax year and charged to this year's expenses.

Both of the above help shift taxable income from this year to next year with little or no effect on total income or expenses for the two years. The leveling effect on taxable income or expenses for the two years. The leveling effect on taxable income would mean a tax saving, Mallett said.

The opposite strategy would apply if the current year's income is low and next year's income is expected to be unus-

BSP Members Decorate Community Center Tree

Decorating the Christmas tree which will stand in the clubroom at Community Center during the holiday season was completed by members of Kappa Iota Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, at their meeting this week.

This task is an annual gift of the chapter to the community meeting place. This year's tree is a handsome green-flocked plant, now in sparkling seasonal dress.

A contribution to Gristown at Whiteface was voted. Proceeds of a sale of Christmas costume pins will be given, with added funds from the treasury to help meet an emergency need for food at the girls' home.

Plans were made for a buffet dinner at which members of both BSP chapters here will entertain their husbands Dec. 20. It will be held at Community Center.

Cooperation in the "walking blood bank" for this county was voted. Mrs. Bud Kelly was named chairman for the chapter's part in this project of enrolling residents and noting blood types.

Mrs. Wendell Maloney presented the program titled Pleasures of Possession. She spoke of the hobby of collecting mentioning various objects which form interesting collections and giving special attention to antiques.

Hostesses were Mrs. Lowell Hill and Bob Pugh. Others present were Mmes. Roger Shipley, Denzil Vaughn, Melvin Fowler, Harold Kids, Rudy Metz, Pat Parker, Duke Powell, Bobby Shelton, Houston Frye, John Gilliland and Max Goforth.

Anniversary Buffet Dinner Honors Couple

Shortly before they left for a holiday visit with their son's families in Houston and San Antonio which will include a celebration of their Golden Wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Fuller were honored with a buffet dinner in the George Stambaugh home.

Hosts with the Stambaughs were Messrs. and Mmes. C. J. Crump, Kenneth Coker, Harry McCauley, Ernest Wade and Emmett Milburn.

Gold roses were arranged with ivory candles in a centerpiece on the handmade lace cloth which covered the buffet table. Guests presented anniversary gifts to the Fullers, then enjoyed dinner and bridge games.

They included Messrs. and Mmes. Howard Gault, Clyde Rush, J. C. McCracken, Jim Lipscomb, George Warner, R. G. Peeler and Troy Moore, and Mrs. Bess Moore.

Teachers Convene In Dallas, Dec. 9

DALLAS — About 350 Texas teachers will convene here Dec. 9-10 to further the cause of movement designed to lift the professional status of educators to higher standing.

The movement has the initial name of "TEPS" — which stands for "Teacher Education and Professional Standards." Texas is a leader in the movement and the Texas version of TEPS began here in Dallas eight years ago in a similar conference.

The movement has many concerns and aims — but its chief hope is to raise the standing of teaching among the other recognized professions.

The Dallas conference will headquarter at Baker Hotel. It begins with registration at 2:30 p. m. Dec. 9 and closes the following afternoon at the conclusion of a work session.

In between these events, the conference, which is sponsored annually by Texas State Teachers Association, will hear from a number of educators.

Main speaker at a 6:30 p. m. banquet session Dec. 9 will be Dr. Roy Edelfelt, of Washington D. C., associate secretary of the National TEPS Commission of the National Education Association.

His talk will be on "The Teacher and His Staff" — the theme of this year's conference. Other banquet session participants will be Dr. W. T. White, superintendent of Dallas public schools; Sam M. Anderson, of Big Spring, TSTA president; Miss Bobbie Wilorn, Dallas, a junior high school counselor, member of the National TEPS Commission and chairman of TSTA's TEPS Committee; Mrs. Barbara Bigham teacher at Snyder; and Mr. Oather Raynes, a Dallas teacher.

Others taking part in the conference include Dr. J. W. Edgar, Texas commissioner of education; Miss Antoinette Miller, of Houston, TSTA vice president; Dr. T. M. Stinnett, professor of education at Texas A&M University and former associate secretary of NEA; John H. Lovelady, of Austin, director of TSTA's Division of Professional and College Relations; Harvey Falls, of Sulphur Springs a student at East Texas State University who is president of Texas Student Education Association and a vice president of National Student Education Association; Bob Ashworth, superintendent of Amarillo public schools, and Mrs. Margaret Wisdom, classroom teacher from Houston.

Baptist Gifts Top Records

DALLAS — Gifts from Texas Baptist churches in November were the largest of any single month in the history of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

The announcement of $1,121,000 in receipts through the state convention's Cooperative Program during November came from T. A. Patterson, Executive secretary of the 1.7 million-member BGCT, at a meeting of the convention's Executive Board here Friday.

The 192-member board, which meets quarterly to conduct the business of the convention between its annual sessions, re-elected its three major officers, elected two persons to positions on the BGCT professional staff, gave approval for steps leading to an $8 million expansion program for Baylor University Medical Center, heard plans for an association to link the convention's nine colleges and universities and one academy, and voted several other business matters.

The more than $1 million received through the Cooperative Program, almost $150,000 above the month's budget, boosts to a record $10,893,778 the total Cooperative Program receipts for thus far in the year. The amount is in reach of an all-time high of $12 million which Dr. Patterson has said was possible for the year. He termed the Cooperative Program "our arm of compassion to a needy world."

Re-elected as the executive board's three officers were W. M. Shamburger, pastor of First Baptist Church, Tyler, as chairman; Ralph Smith, pastor of Hyde Park Baptist Church, Austin, as vice-chairman; and R. A. Springer of Dallas, BGCT treasurer as secretary.

A recommendation that Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas be allowed to conduct a $4 million fund raising campaign and be allowed to arrange initial negotiation for another $4 million in long-range financing was approved. Terms of the loan will require further executive board approval.

E. N. Jones, secretary of the BGCT Christian Education Commission, presented a progress report on a proposed organization which would act for Texas Baptists' nine colleges and universities.

Plans were outlined for an organization, the Associated Baptist Colleges of Texas, Inc., which would promote activities must report the amount received during the month to their employer. If you have a problem, write Internal Revenue Service, P. O. Box 394, Dallas, Texas 75221, and ask for Document No. 5635, "Employee's Daily Record of Tips and Reports of Tips to Employer."

MOISTURE NEEDED: In most of the winter wheat producing areas of the Southern Plains no additional moisture has been received since mid-September, except for light generally ineffective showers occurring during mid-October. In much of the five states of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and Colorado the accumulated moisture deficiency for the year 1966 is from 7 to 12 inches or from one-third to one-half of the normal precipitation.

Father Officiates For Miss Ogan's Marriage

With the bride's father officiating, Miss Anna Ruth Ogan and Jackie Dwayne Andrews exchanged marriage vows at the candlelight altar of First Baptist Church Saturday afternoon.

She is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Sam Ogan and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Andrews. Her father, pastor of First Baptist Church, was assisted by the Rev. B. L. Davis, First Baptist pastor, in conducting the double ring ceremony.

Her sister, Miss Deborah Sue Ogan, was her maid of honor, Mrs. Johnny Janeway of Borger, the matron of honor, Miss Carl Coffey of Wayland College and Miss Darlene Sparkman the bridesmaids.

Acting as best man was Arvell Williams, with J. D. Harder, Norman Harder and Lynn Bogle as ushers, Ronnie Andrews, Riley Harris of Silverton and Steve Conaway as groomsmen. Greg Robinson carried the rings; Elizabeth Andrews was the flower girl.

White tapers set in an arch of foliage were lighted before the ceremony by Sammy Ogan and Rocky Andrews while Mrs. Lowell Sharp, organist, played a medley of wedding music. Mrs. Weldon Stephens sang the solo, "Whither Thou Goest, One Hand One Heart and Wedding Prayer."

Blooming poinsettias and palms flanked the central arch to complete the background for the wedding party.

The bride's gown was of white velvet with lace overdress, the lace skirt parting, in redingote effect to sweep into a wide train the bell sleeves wrist length. Petals outlined in seed pearls held the bouffant illusion veil to her blonde hair. She carried a cascade of white roses on a prayer book.

Her attendants were dressed alike, all in red velvet styled with floor length skirt and sleeveless empire bodice. Their headpieces were bows of the veil yet with circlet veils. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of poinsettias and the other bridesmaids white muffs with sprays of holly pinned to the front, while the small flower girl had petals in a white basket.

Guests were received by the couple and their parents after the wedding, in the church fellowship hall. Red punch was served with the four-tiered wedding cake at a table brightened with touches of the holiday colors.

Mrs. Godfrey Baldwin of Austin, sister of the bridegroom, poured punch. Others assisting at the table were Mmes. Dave Yandell, Olan Parris, Lloyd Schultz, Bill Williams and Hal-lan Barber.

Leaving afterward for a honeymoon in Ruidoso, Mrs. Andrews was wearing a white knit suit with red velvet and accessories in the same color. Her corsage was of roses from her bouquet.

The couple will travel on to Long Beach, Calif., where they will be at home after Dec. 17.

The bride has been a student in Wayland College, Plainview, after graduation from high school in Arvada, Colo. Andrews now in the United States Navy stationed at Long Beach, is a Hereford High School graduate and attended West Texas State University.

Among out-of-city wedding guests was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. T. W. Hatchett of Stephenville.

Scouting Awards Given At Dinner

By LOUIS MACHUCA
DISTRICT EXECUTIVE
BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

The Tierra Blanca District of the Llano Estacado Council Boy Scouts of America held its annual district dinner on Tuesday at the Calson House. Ed Skypala, District Chairman, presided at the meeting, which was attended by scouters from throughout the district.

Roy Faubion, chairman of the District Organization and Extension Committee, presented Honor Unit ribbons to the following Scout Units and leaders for meeting their membership objectives for 1966: Pack 151, sponsored by the First Christian Church of Hereford, Joe Hacker, Cubmaster; Troop 154, sponsored by the Wesley Methodist Church of Hereford, Robert Nelson, Scoutmaster, Post 154, sponsored by the Wesley Methodist Church, Jackie McNeese, Post Advisor; Troop 16, Shirley Chesser, Scoutmaster, sponsored by the Vega Jaycees; Troop 34, Robert Jacobson, Scoutmaster, sponsored by the Adrian Lions Club and Troop 52, sponsored by the First Methodist Church, Frank Ford, Scoutmaster.

Faubion also presented certificates of recognition to leaders who had outstanding participation in helping boys to "Follow the Rugged Road to Adventure through scouting in the various phases of the Scouting program throughout 1966. Certificates were presented to: Don Morgan of Adrian and Mrs. Jean Ragan of Hereford in the area of Cub Scouting; to Frank Ford, Robert Nelson, Charlie Galan and Armando Perez in the field of Boy Scouting and to Porter Roberts of Friona, Jackie McNeese, J. W. Dickerson and the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department. Dickerson accepted the Certificate on behalf of the Fire Department, which has worked closely with the Emergency Service Corps of Post 52, sponsored by the First Methodist Church.

Ray Bosley, chairman of the district Camping and Activities Committee presented the National Camping Award to troops that have carried out an effective year round camping program. Troops receiving the award were Troop 32 of Adrian, Robert Jacobson, Scoutmaster; Troop 52, Frank Ford, Scoutmaster; Troop 55, sponsored by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Oliver Rudd, Scoutmaster; Troop 151, sponsored by the First Christian Church, Roy Harris, Scoutmaster, Troop 154, Robert Nelson, Scoutmaster.

District Officers for 1967 were installed by Louis Machuca, District Scout Executive. District officers are Ed Skypala, District Chairman; Eddie Skypala, District Commissioners;

Roy Faubion, Chairman of the Organization and Extension Committee; Nolan Grady, Chairman of the Advancement Committee; Charlie Bell, Chairman of the Finance Committee; Dr. Eugene Hendon, Health and Safety Chairman, and Oliver Streu, Leadership Training Committee Chairman.

Members at Large of the Committee are Steve Messenger of Friona, Dan Ethridge of Friona, Loren Crietz of Adrian, Jim Haliburton of Vega, Bruce L. Miller and Dr. M. C. Adams of Hereford.

Certificates of Appreciation from the Council were presented by Ed Skypala to Steve Messenger of Friona for his work as Chairman of the Friona United Fund Drive, to Don Morgan and Loren Crietz of Adrian for their work on the Adrian Independent Campaign, and to Radio station KPAN in Hereford for its service to boyhood through the promotion of the Boy Scout program. Roy Faubion accepted the Certificate on behalf of the radio station and its personnel.

Nolan Grady, District Advancement Chairman, recognized boys who had received the rank of Eagle Scout during the past year. They are Robert Nelson Jr. Troop 154; Robert Grady, Troop 50; Miles Lillard, Joel Osborn, Gary Shirley and Randy Farr of Troop 56, Friona; David Bosley of Troop 151 and Gary Paetzold and Steve Hendon of Troop 50 of Hereford. Each boy was presented with a miniature Eagle tie clasp. Ray Bosley and

Dr. Hendon accepted the award on behalf of their sons who were unable to attend.

Grady pointed out that only about 2 percent of the boys in Scouting attain the rank of Eagle and that these boys had set themselves apart from others by their hard work and perseverance in reaching their goal of Eagle rank. Some 300,000 boys had received the rank of Eagle since the start of the Boy Scout movement in 1910.

In his closing remarks to the assembled scouters, Ed Skypala challenged them to set high goals for themselves and for their scouting units so that they might bring a better program of Scouting to more boys in the District during 1967.

Old Grave Marker Holds Mystery Of Early Texan

OLD JONESBORO — The history books of the Red River Valley won't tell you anything about Jane Chandler Gill.

Yet she was one of the valleys early pioneers.

Her grave, marked with a large slab of marble bearing an emotional inscription from her husband, is in a small mound of rich riverbottom soil left untouched by modern plows.

The marker, broken in three pieces and stained, says Jane Gill died 150 years ago at the age of 31 in Jonesboro, Red River County.

Did she die of a frontier disease or at the hands of Indians? What were she and her husband doing in the wild North Texas valley in 1816?

The first white man known to invade the valley has a Tennessee trapper, Adam Lawrence, who was killed by Indians about 1815. The Claiborne Wright family arrived by keel boat two weeks before Jane Gill died.

Within 50 yards of her grave is a better-known marker, commemorating Sam Houston's crossing of the Red River at Jonesboro. But historians say the Gill marker, because of its 1816 date has even more significance.

The hand has changed hands many times but each owner reading the words of William Gill. "This last sad tribute to her love and praise," carefully plows around the marker.

How Jane Chandler Gill lived and died remains a mystery of the valley.

The barely legible marker tells of her husband's love. It reads:

"This small monument is erected by her affectionate husband. I shall go to her but she shall not return to me.

"In her sorrow weeps her virtues sacred dust. Such were the tears we shed who grateful pass this last sad tribute to her love and praise."

Cauliflower Is Smart Buy Now

COLLEGE STATION — Cauliflower is more versatile than most vegetables, says Miss Frances Reasonover, Extension nutritionist at Texas A&M University.

The raw florets of cauliflower add zest to the relish tray or salad bowl, she points out. They make neat dippers when served in the appetizer course. Cooked, cauliflower serves equally well as a vegetable or as a salad ingredient.

Cauliflower is generally sold by the pound, sometimes on special by the head, occasional broken down into florets, Miss Reasonover explains. The vegetable is slowly moving toward peak supplies this season. She also gives these interesting facts and suggestions about cauliflower.

Cauliflower prefers a cool, humid climate. Cool enough to develop excellent quality, too cool to develop quantity is the present situation.

To produce the typical creamy-white curds, cauliflower must tuck its head beneath its leaves, away from the sun. Head-tucking doesn't come naturally with cauliflower, so hand labor is required to tie the leaves over the heads.

When selecting cauliflower, look for compact, firm, clean, creamy-white heads. Attached leaves should be fresh, crisp, and green.

Cooked cauliflower is at its best with melted butter, salt and white pepper. It goes well with a creamed or cheese sauce. For flavor's sake, cook in an open kettle of salted boiling water until just tender. A teaspoon of lemon juice added to the cooking water promotes the whiteness, and adds an interesting flavor. Cauliflower is extra elegant served with hollandaise sauce.

Cotton Payments Part Of Support

LUBBOCK — Direct payments to cotton producers on the Texas High Plains in 1967 should come to over $24 million more than in 1966 under the newly announced provisions of next year's cotton program.

This is according to the calculations of Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the organization that represents growers in 23 counties surrounding Lubbock.

Johnson emphasized that these payments are a part of the cotton support price. The loan level under the 1967 provisions has been set at 20.25 cents per pound, down from 21 cents in 1966. Under previous government cotton programs, not involved, the lowest level reached by the loan was 20 cents per pound in 1964.

"Direct payments, as any cotton grower can tell you, are in no sense of the word a bonanza to farmers," Johnson stated, adding that "they are simply a method of keeping the price of cotton to American farmers high enough that, in theory at least, he can afford to produce it."

Johnson said the additional area income would be the result of three factors — a higher level of payments per pound for both price support and acreage diversion, an increased average per-acre projected yield, and a slight increase in cotton allotments on the Plains.

The 1967 cotton law provisions set the price support payment at 11.53 cents per pound, 2.11 cents above the 9.42 cents paid in 1966. This payment is made on each producer's projected yield from domestic acreage, which has been set again this year at 65 per cent of total allotment.

Acreage diversion payments next year will be at the rate of 10.78 cents per pound, paid on the projected yield from that part of an allotment, up to 35 per cent, which the farmer diverts to conservation uses. Payment for acreage diversion in 1966 was 10.50 cents.

Weighted average projected yield per acre on the Plains in 1966 was 513 pounds per acre, raised 29 pounds to 542 for 1967. Minimum acreage diversion for those who wish to participate in the program is again 12.5 per cent.

The total Plains allotment for 1967 comes to 2,185,872 acres, compared to 2,122,770 this year.

Johnson used these new payment rates, the new allotment figure and the higher projected yield to come up with the $24 million increase. He assumed the same rate of acreage diversion on the Plains as in 1966, which was 32.7 per cent.

"The cash incentive to producers will be even greater next year than this," Johnson said, "and we may see the acreage diversion percentage in the area even closer to the maximum 35 per cent."

Concerning the 20.25 cent loan rate for 1967, Johnson said "Most cotton men are speculating from the area's crop will sell in the market place at prices either equal to or above prices paid this year, so the increased direct payments may show up as increased net income to producers," Johnson stated.

He explained that cotton might sell at greater premiums over the loan rate in 1967 because USDA also announced that the minimum sales price of cotton in OCC stocks would not drop below this year's 22.5 cents. "If this announcement holds true, then current crop cotton next year will have more head room above the loan level, and farmers will not lose much if any income because of cotton's price," Johnson said.

He went on to say that of course each farmer would have to calculate for himself what changed payment rates and projected yields would mean to him in 1967. Some Plains counties had a decline in projected yield for 1967, and these will naturally show a smaller increase in income. But, based on the average projected yield for the Plains, direct payments for the coming year — spread over the entire allotment — will be about $11 per acre higher than in 1966.

The December 1 estimate of cotton production for the 23 High Plains counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., totals 1,313,500 bales, 194,750 bales below the estimate made on November 1.

Estimates are made jointly by PGC and the Lubbock Cotton Exchange each year on the first of each month, August through December.

The drop from the November 1 estimate is generally ascribed to under-guessing the damage done by the mid-October freeze which blanketed much of the area.

The three classing offices on the Plains, at Lampasa, Brownfield and Lubbock, through December 1 had received 1,048,000 bales for classing. So, based on the final production estimate, the area harvest was something like 80 per cent complete at that time.

Through December 1 last year the three offices had only received $31,000 bales, which was less than 45 per cent of the 2,205,000 bales finally harvested.

The October 1 estimate for this year, made after beneficial rains and before the devastating October freeze, set the High Plains crop at 1,585,000 bales. If the final estimate of 1,313,000 bales is assumed correct, then, the early freeze can be said to have cost the area 271,500 bales or about 17 per cent of anticipated production.

The untimely cold weather also contributed to the lower quality of this year's crop, down in every category excepting staple length.

As of November 25, the date of PGC's latest semi-monthly quality report, micronaire on this year's cotton stood at a 3.3 average, compared to 3.5 at a period last year when only a little greater percentage of the area crop had been harvested.

Pressley, or fiber strength, this year averaged 73,000 pounds per square inch to November 25, compared to 78,300 pounds for the comparable period last year.

At about the same point in the harvest, percentage-wise, in 1966, 65 per cent of the crop graded white. This year only 12.6 per cent fell in that category.

The reverse is true of staple length. Staple of the 1966 crop as of November 25 was averaging 30.7 thirty-seconds of an inch, with 18.2 per cent one inch or longer. Last year, on a similar percentage of the total crop, staple averaged 30.3 thirty-seconds with only 9.5 per cent one inch and longer.

SENATOR YARBOROUGH

Water Is Primary Concern For Texas, All America

Dear Fellow Texan,

During the past two years, while the 89th Congress has been in session, there have been some dramatic chapters written by water itself into the history of the water needs of our State and Nation.

In 1965, hurricane-lashed waters brought destruction all along the Gulf Coast while in other western areas streams and rivers shrank in a withering drought. Texas experienced again in 1966 an over-abundance of water in many areas by flooding rains over the state, but many of our farming counties were left dry and parched by Nature.

In other parts of the country, such as New York, millions of gallons of water went unused down the rivers, although the entire Northeast was going through the worst dry period in its history, with water rationed in the cities.

New Yorkers could only watch the Hudson River flow by their doors, because the water stank and was too polluted to use.

America and Texas are facing a critical challenge in the growing problems of water supply, water management, and water pollution control. The need for action is immediate, and the 89th Congress just completed has written into law more progressive legislation to solve our water problems on a national level than ever before.

The Congress has demonstrated it is ready to work in every productive way with state, interstate and local groups to solve these problems.

National water needs will be more than doubled in 1980 over the demands of 1960. It is estimated that some 600 billion gallons daily will be required. Since much of our water is polluted, we must clean up our streams and rivers.

The 89th Congress has established five significant programs for water resource planning and research.

These include the Water Resources Planning Act of 1965 which encourages Federal, State and local cooperation; the Saline Water Conversion Act which authorizes up to $185 million between now and 1972 to find an economical way to desalt water; the Federal Water Project Recreation Act which opens up new developments for water-based recreation, fishing and wildlife; and the highly important Federal Water Pollution Control Act amendments.

In the first session of the 89th

Holiday Foods Now Plentiful

COLLEGE STATION — Holiday food shoppers can look for especially good supplies of broiler-size chickens this December, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Reports from the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicate broiler supplies will run about a tenth greater than this time last year.

There'll also be big supplies of pears, grapes, and raisins. In addition, you'll see lots of pork and canned salmon at local food markets.

This year's big Bartlett pear crop is overlapping into the winter season. So you'll find unusually large stocks of these pears along with the winter varieties of Anjou, Comice and Bosc.

Market news office of USDA's Cnsumer and Marketing Service report increasing arrivals of such popular California table grapes as Emperor, Almeria and Ribier. They'll make a delicious looking centerpiece for your holiday table.

Raisins will be a real boon to your holiday banking. They add flavor to such a variety of cakes, cookies and pies. A raisin pie is hard to beat for the holiday season.

With such good supplies of pork on hand, you'll want to include a ham on your shopping list. Baked ham and cans of salmon in the pantry can make snacks extra easy to prepare.

For the best in eating this December, plan your shopping around these plentiful foods.

Congress, we moved to stop pollution of water by authorizing the setting up of standards of water quality for all interstate waters. Federal grants for research and development programs were provided, and the Federal share of costs in the building of good waste treatment plants was increased.

In the second session of the 89th Congress we made it plain that we mean business in this water pollution control field, by strengthening the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration and moving it to the Department of Interior.

Texas must move forward in following the lead of the Federal government in these areas. We cannot simply leap from one crisis to another, but we must have long-range plans to use to the fullest all of our water supplies.

Water is one of our most vital natural resources, with air and land, one of the three indispensable resources. We must work together so that our farms and cities, industries and people do not die of thirst or pollution in the midst of plenty. We should be helped, not hurt by the air we breathe, and refreshed, not poisoned, by the water we drink.

A TEXAN WRITES HIS AUTOBIOGRAPHY

William A. Owens, in his autobiography entitled This Stubborn Soil, tells a gripping story of early settlers who lived near Paris, Texas in the small community of Pin Hook.

It is an exceedingly well written book. The boy grew to manhood and became Associate Professor of English and Director of Summer sessions of Columbia University. This accomplishment was not easy for a boy with his background of privations, hardships and discouragements, and with little early schooling. It is told without over-sentimentality but the story of how he and his family wrested a bare existence from the stubborn soil will probably become a Texas classic.

Most of the story takes place on their homestead in Pin Hook, but with an occasional departure to try their hand at farming in other nearby communities, hoping to better their condition and way of life. These efforts were on share crop basis and for various reasons beyond their control seldom paid off. Then they were forced to return to their own land where there was no payment to be made.

The author as a boy made a few trips to the big towns. First, Paris; later his goal: Dallas. He tried at different times to earn a living for himself and to help his widowed mother, and his brothers, but with little success.

In the days of hard work for survival there was little time for humor. When it did occur it was usually extreme — one, he told of when the men and boys celebrated Christmas with the women folk looking on.

The story covers many of the early day Texas customs, religious rites and camp meetings; burials, medicine and doctors; their speech and expressions. Also describes the lack of many materials so badly needed for even a little comfort and security. He describes the crops of corn and cotton as their mainstay and of an occasional venture with vegetables and peanuts. At times there is a light touch of family get-togethers, play parties, dances and Christmas celebrations.

We were so impressed by Owens writing that we checked the library files on his other books and found one, entitled The Slave Mutiny. It is a powerful story of the early traffic in the African slaves, during the time of Van Buren presidency. This was the beginning of the negro problem which is still with us today in the form of revolts and segregation problems.

Pete Progress

speaking for the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce

Pete felt inclined to relate the details of how the Christmas decorations come into being each Christmas season over the streets of the city. His point seemed to be that they don't just happen!

The planning, the purchasing and the installation of the Christmas decorations which beautify Hereford during the Christmas season involve a great deal of planning and work. Shortly after the decorations came down last January a committee representative of all areas of the city met to discuss how the decorations might be improved in 1966. With those ideas in mind the next question then was how could the improvements be financed?

The decorations are purchased by voluntary contributions of business and professional people from all over the county. Business men on Main Street are asked to contribute one dollar per front foot based on the width of their store facing on cal bank which agreed to loan the money to finance the decorations.

"Particular note should be made of specific other very large contributions to the program. The City of Hereford has paid for the installation of the decorations the past two years relieving the fund of an over $400 obligation. The City has also purchased the replacement light bulbs needed each year. The Hereford Junior Chamber of Commerce for any years prior to this year have volunteered many man hours of labor to the installation. This year a crew of Southwestern Public Service Company employees, headed by Ted Higgins, have handled the installation on a contract basis making all the necessary maintenance prior to installation and agreeing to see that the decorations are maintained after they are installed.

"Another major contributor this year and in the past has been Southwestern Public Service company who have made available their equipment and personnel to supervise the electrical installation and maintenance. Deaf Smith County Electric Coop has in years past also made its equipment available without cost. And Deaf Smith County has made a storage place available without charge also. This is a new problem facing the committee at the end of the year in that the space previously used for storage in the Bull Barn is no longer adequate.

"I have often heard members of the Chamber Board say that of all the projects they would like to give up it is this one; but they realize that if the Chamber did not handle it — who would? The project is one which seems to generate more displeasure in its effort to please than any other. Those who are willing to contribute are carrying the load for those who are not. Perhaps the only real solution would be for decorating to be done by the city where every one would share the cost through their tax dollars (Many cities do handle this project as a municipal service) but the city is already so burdened with the problems of a growing city it probably would not consider taking on this headache.

"In short, the Chamber sincerely appreciates the help that everyone gives to make this project go. We think that the Decorations in Hereford are among the most attractive in Texas. They don't just happen — people make them happen with their voluntary dollar contributions and their realization that Hereford would be a lesser town without the decorations at Christmas, decorations which CARROTS: Forecast at 2,552,000 cwt., California's late fall carrot production is 9 percent above the 1965 level and 8 percent above average. Good volume is expected to continue through December. Heaviest supplies should originate from the central coast areas during November with additional supplies from the San Joaquin Valley and the south coastal districts. Harvest is expected to decline steadily in all areas after January 1.

Hunting Bountiful Commission Says

AUSTIN — The anticipated abundant 1966 wildlife harvest has been borne out by actual successes in most hunting categories, reports the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Delighted with the results of the state's wildlife management program, biologists foresee one of the greatest overall game bags in modern times. Naturally, they know it was all possible because of an extraordinary combination of weather and planning.

Deer not only are reported plentiful but field men agree the condition of trophies and venison was never better. The wild turkey harvest also has been satisfactory.

From the Panhandle to deep south Texas, the quail crop has the scatter gunners exclaiming about a seemingly endless surplus. They ecstatically have responded to wildlife biologists' observations that, unless there is a substantial harvest of the bobwhites and blues that seem to prevail in equally enormous numbers, there will be an inevitable heavy dieoff, mainly from predators, disease and starvation.

The technicians stress that this is also true of deer since many ranges are struggling to sustain a bulging deer population possibly more than the conservative pre-season estimates of 2,500,000.

Even participants in the public hunts conducted by the Department on its wildlife management areas have had conspicuous success. For example, on the Matador Area near Paducah 37 quail hunters bagged 219 birds on the first day. On the Engeling Area near Palestine, 133 hunters killed 492 squirrels. Hunters on the Cherokee Area near Lufkin got 575 bushytails during the first 3-day hunt.

On the Kerr Area near Kerrville, hunters killed 26 deer, mostly bucks, by noon of the second day after the season opened.

In-Service Class Helps Teachers

When Texas teachers can't go to school — as a student! — the school may come to them through the medium of the Texas Education Agency program of in-service training.

This week and next will see examples of two kinds of in-service training sponsored by the Agency during the 1966-67 school year.

One type program, in which Agency personnel sets up a workshop in a local school district, is being conducted in Gateville, Millford, and Muleshoe December 6-8 by three Agency library consultants.

A second type, in which teachers and other school personnel come to the Texas Education Agency, will be held December 14-16 at the agency building. This workshop in programmed instruction (an individualized type of learning, either in book or machine form) is one of four programmed instruction workshops scheduled for this school year.

Like all such workshops, the December 6-8 workshops offering training in media and library materials are designed to help teachers become proficient in the production and utilization of graphic arts and simple projected materials. The library training is specifically aimed at aiding teachers who have library responsibilities but have not had formal training in the subject.

The trio of Library Consultants from the Texas Education Agency who are conducting this week's workshops are Miss Ruth Richey at Mountain View school at Gatesville, Mrs. LaVerne Morrison at the Millford Administration Building, and Miss Angela Kammiah at the Curriculum Director's office at Muleshoe Junior High School.

These in-service programs are set up anywhere in the State where a minimum of 18 teachers indicate they want to learn more about their field of study, said Mrs. Mary R. Boyvey, Library Program Director in the Agency's Division of Instructional Media.

Agency personnel refer to them as "drive-in sessions," because the teachers drive to the school for training during the day, return to their homes in the evening, and come back for another session of the workshops.

Eight more workshops have been scheduled by the Agency's Division of Instructional Media to round out the school year. All of them will be held at the Agency building.

Three workshops for visuals (material projected on a screen in a classroom) will be held January 11-13, March 8-10, and April 19-21. They will be conducted by Bob Jobs and Sam Potts, Consultants in the Agency's Division of Instructional Media. Mr. Jobs will also conduct two workshops on graphic arts February 8-10 and April 5-7.

Sherman Wagner, also a Division consultant, will conduct the December 14-16 workshop on programmed instruction and three others on January 25-27, February 22-24, and March 22-24.

VA Establishes Regional Centers

The Veterans Administration is setting up eight regional centers, relocating key personnel and streamlining answered answer forms to make it easier for more than two million veterans and their dependents to return annual income questionnaires.

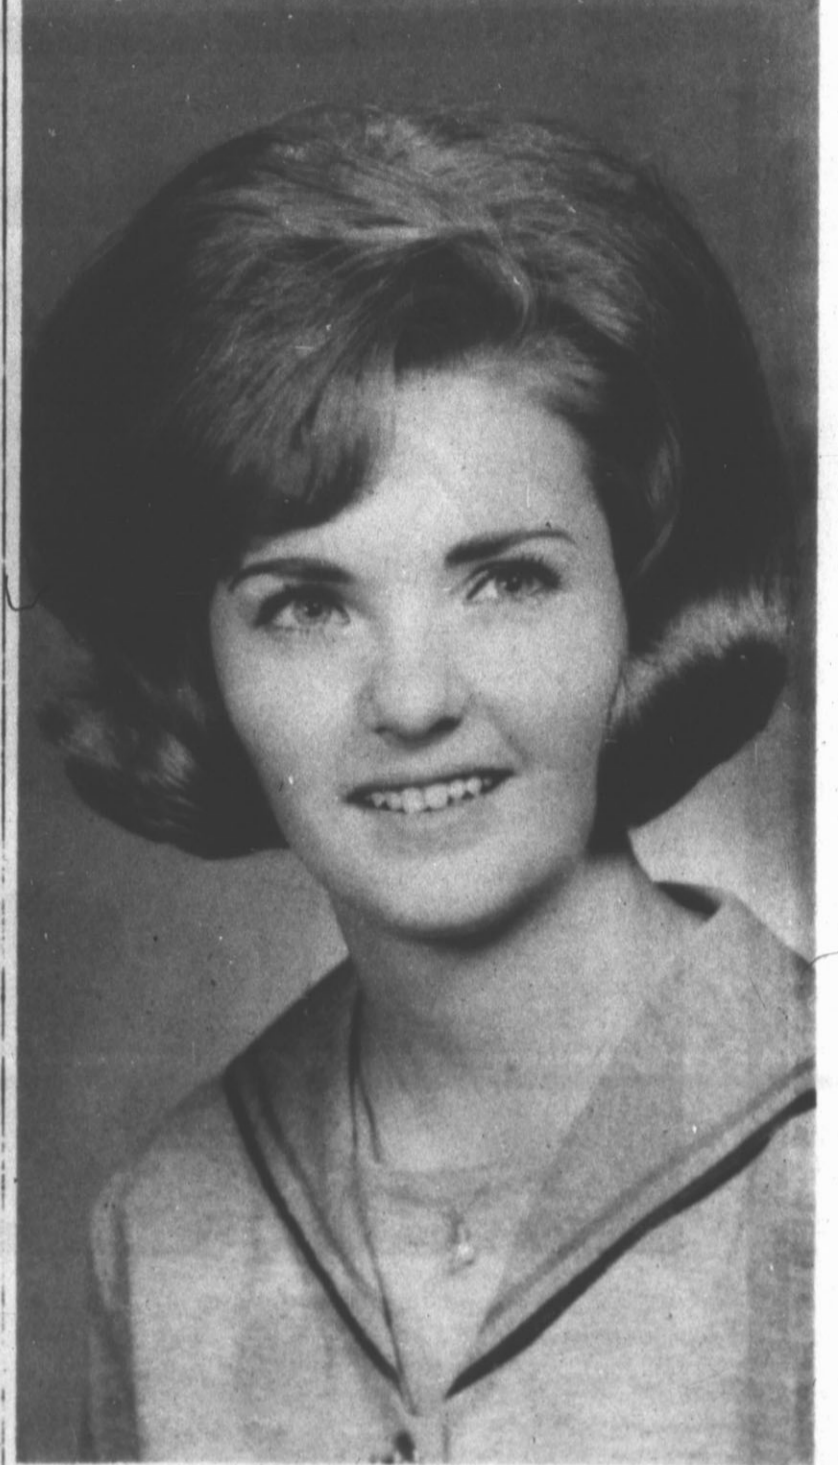

The VA mails these income questionnaires to all pensioners, and to parents who receive dependency and indemnity compensation because payments are based on incomes.

The questionnaire form will be mailed out with the November checks, normally received early in December.

The forms must be returned before January 31, 1967, or those on pension rolls face the possibility of having payments stopped.

The form, which bears the return address, must not be mutilated, folded or cut because it will be processed several times through electronic equipment. The processing centers will be in Philadelphia, Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Los Angeles, St. Paul, Seattle, and Washington.

Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hart, 506 Star, announce the recent marriage of their daughter Linda Lee, to Michael William Ferguson, son of Mrs. Louise Ferguson, 217 Ave. D.

The marriage vows were exchanged in the First Baptist Church of Clovis, N.M. by the Rev. Ralph W. Hovey, pastor.

Both bride and bridegroom are students at West Texas State University. Mrs. Ferguson formerly attended Texas Tech and is a sophomore student at WTSU. The bridegroom, a junior majoring in accounting, is a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity.

H.D. CHATTER Good Students Thrill Teacher

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

During the recess at the area PEP meeting at Canyon on Thursday, no group seemed more excited than the one around Dr. Pat Sullivan, who visited with some former students.

Those enjoying the caucus were Don Viegel, Carl Strafus, John Hammett, Bob Hicks and a few others. It is quite thrilling to a teacher to observe success in students; in fact, that is the measure of effective teaching.

IF YOU SEE more buzzing around than usual on third floor these days, part of it is a committee of women working on a cookbook. Mrs. A. E. Hodges, Mrs. Paul Hoff, Mrs. Paul Corbett, Mrs. H. L. Hershey and Mrs. A. L. Hollingsworth are compiling recipes of home demonstration club women.

The cookbooks should be on the market by Wednesday. They sell for 25 cents and have appetizing. So, if you see some salesladies trying to sell cookbooks with a pink cover, you will help a good cause — your cause — to buy one for yourself and some to go in packages for gifts.

AT WESTWAY HD club on Thursday, two interesting exchange gifts were food. Ann Ker shen made uncooked fruit cake and Bess Werner, skillet cookies. Mary Douglas had made some good candy. Here is her recipe.

CRYSTAL-CUT CANDIES
Combine 2 cups granulated sugar, 1/2 cup light corn syrup, 1/2 cup water and dash of salt — Bring to boil. Cook to soft-crack stage (290 degrees).
Add few drops red or green food coloring and about 12 drops oil of Cinnamon or oil of wintergreen; gently swirl mixture & blend (use red food coloring with cinnamon or green food coloring with wintergreen).
Put into 8x8x2" metal pan. Let stand few minutes, till film forms over top. Mark candy in little puffs, each about 3/4" square. Using a spatula, press a line across pan 3/4" from edge. Continue this procedure.
AT THE INSTALLATION service for club officers, Mrs. Werner made some very philosophical comments; comments that provoke thought for any group whether it is organized said the group is the product of many sets of officers and results of every person who has gone before.

She stressed cooperation and work. The more work a person has to do, the more he can do, as he will economize his time so, he can accomplish more.

Club officers given this admonition were Mmes. Albert Lamb, J. C. Morrison, Andrew Kershen, R. W. Hairgrove and Donald Douglas.

THE SCENTED LAMP oil is very popular this season. The small lamps on the market are cute, but some very interesting old kerosene lamps are making their appearance in prominent places.

A very attractive lamp was seen at the Donald Douglas home and Janice Turrentine was given an antique lamp by her grandmother.

The scented oil is in several fragrances. I like the Scotch pine and peppermint; too, there is bayberry, and what could seem more like Christmas?

THE FOLLOWING is good after-the-holiday eating as it is sweet and tastes good after rich festive foods.

PEPER POT
1 1/2 pods chili peppers
1 quart vinegar
1 quart water
Pour this solution over boiled eggs, weiners, viena sausage or whole onions.

Fred Waring Will Present Concert

A major part of the national tour of "The First Fifty Years," Fred Waring's golden-anniversary musical coming to the Amarillo Municipal Auditorium on Tuesday Dec. 13 at 8:15 p. m. is visiting a score of colleges the country.

Waring and the Pennsylvanians have been a favorite of American college youth and the youth of all ages since this famous musical organization was founded fifty years ago. Its popularity has been maintained with annual visits of the Maestro and his talented performers in his original and novel musical extravaganza.

The current tour of "The First Fifty Years" will take the Pennsylvanians to a score of colleges, such as Wisconsin State University, Michigan Tech. University, Colorado State University, Washington State University, and Arizona State University.

The Everglade kite enjoys an exceptionally long nesting season which may extend from January to June.

Rebekah Lodge Names Officers

Mrs. David Retzman as Noble Grand heads officers elected in the Rebekah Lodge this week. They will be installed to begin a new term in January. Mrs. Benny Cooper presided for the election.

Mrs. Bud Rogers was named vice-grand, Mrs. Ross Lomineck financial secretary, Mrs. C. E. Beauford recording secretary, Mrs. Ada Hollabaugh treasurer.

Plans for the annual Christmas party to be held Dec. 20. were made by the 15 members present.

Gift Auction Is Club Tea Event

Auction of handmade articles suitable for Christmas gifts, an annual event in Summerfield Study Club, was the feature of a guest day tea held Thursday in the home of Mrs. J. R. Euler. Mrs. L. B. Lookingbill and Mrs. Harry Lookingbill were co-hostesses.

Mrs. J. B. Noland served as auctioneer to sell items varying from fancy pincushions and powder boxes for the boudoir, to aprons and kitchen gadgets, to flower arrangements, to holiday candy and cookies. Money raised in the sale goes to club projects.

One, a customary Christmas project, is a contribution to Boys Ranch which will be made again this year.

Christmas Around the World was the topic for Mrs. J. C. Clearman's program talk. Afterward, refreshments were served with decorations in the holiday spirit.

Tea guests were Mmes. John Patton, Lawrence Jackson, Alene West, Lynton Allred, Roy Euler, David Hays of Dimmitt, Jamie Clearman and Cleo Edwards.

Club members present included Mmes. Ky Lawrence, R. E. Lance Jr., Earl Lance, George DeLozier, R. B. Baker, Thurman Ahchley, Mack Noland, Clayton Sanders, Jack Streun and Guy Walser.

Many persons go too far to add authenticity to their Christmas displays — cotton batting for snow scenes, saw for manger scenes. Unless these are made flameproof, they represent a real fire hazard.

Gifts To Girlstown Residents Sent From City For Christmas

Services of Dasher and Blitzen and the other reindeer will be lacking, but Mrs. Viola Williams will make a fairly realistic Santa Claus when she takes an annual Christmas trip to Girlstown next week, her car loaded with gifts, food and clothing for the girls who make their home at that institution near Whiteface.

Hereford merchants and other residents have contributed to the collection as they do each year. Mrs. Williams, who has been designated as Girlstown representative for this county, makes the Christmas collection and delivers the gifts to Girlstown.

"Every chance I get, I tell anybody who will listen about the home, the 60 girls who are living there because in most cases they literally have no other home, and their many needs," Mrs. Williams says.

From being casually interested in the home, she has grown better acquainted with its work, many of the girls and their problems, and dedicated to helping them.

Girlstown, she reminds her hearers, is a privately owned establishment administered by a board of directors who are residents of various cities in Texas. The manager is Marshall W. Cooper, who with his wife and three children lives at Girlstown. He has headed the staff there for four years.

The home is supported entirely by donations. A number of the girls are sponsored by organizations or individuals who "adopt" them, send them clothing, school supplies and personal gifts.

Lone Star Study Club of Hereford recently chose a girl to sponsor, and L'Allegra Club has taken the responsibility of aiding a girl through this year as it did last year.

The Girlstown Christmas letter sent to many Texans carries the suggestion that the person "who has everything" may appreciate having a contribution made to Girlstown in his name. Checks may be made and mailed to Girlstown USA, Whiteface Texas.

Officers Named At Garden Club Holiday Party

Naming several officers including the president, Mrs. Ray Johnson, for another two-year term, Hereford Garden Club held its election at an old-fashioned Christmas party Friday afternoon in Mrs. A. L. Manjeot's home.

Mrs. Ben Childers was returned as first vice president, Mrs. Manjeot as second vice president and Mrs. D. K. Brook as secretary.

New officers to be installed with them at the close of this club year are Mrs. Merlin Weber, third vice president; Mrs. S. Williams, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. C. Hromas, treasurer; Mrs. Glenn Burrus, parliamentarian; Mrs. Alfred Smith, reporter; Mrs. R. L. Ethridge, Federation member.

Mrs. Johnson presided for business. Reports were made on sale of bulbs and on planting of bulbs by club members at King's Manor and in the memorial garden at Hereford High School, as well as in downtown Hereford as a part of the club's campaign aimed at a show of bloom when the bulbs flower next spring.

Mrs. R. L. Wilson, Mrs. Emmett Hale and Mrs. Burrus were hostesses with Mrs. Manjeot for the party, which featured amusing games and readings by Mrs. Wilson, who presented Thoughts on Keeping Christmas and two poems, Thinking About Christmas and Christmas Reflections.

Gifts were exchanged from a heap of gaily-wrapped packages placed around the base of a small tree made of pink net tiers decorated with gold balls. The refreshment table was laid with a red cloth and a Christmas arrangement was centered against the wall behind it. The fireplace and other points in the rooms also showed holiday color.

Members present for this last meeting of 1966 included Mmes R. E. Lance, John N. Jacobsen Jr., Glenn Boardman, C. D. Kellon, A. O. Thompson, Tom Draper, R. W. Mitchell, J. V. Pickens, A. M. Stoy, Weber, Williams, O. G. Hill Sr., Hromas, Ethridge, Childers, Roy Botkin and James Brown.

The first callope and only eight keys, though later models had 32. A coal or wood-fired boiler furnished steam. Firm pressure on a key opened a valve, which sent steam coursing into a pitched pipe. Music of sorts came out of it.

Farmers May Get Milk Change

The U. S. Department of Agriculture today recommended amending the North Texas and the Oklahoma Metropolitan federal milk marketing orders.

Consumer and Marketing Service officials said the proposed action would eliminate supply-demand adjustments in fluid milk prices from January through March 1967. Such adjustments now provided for in the two orders can also affect fluid milk prices of the San Antonio, Central West Texas, Austin-Waco, Corpus Christi, Lubbock-Plainview, and Red River Valley federal orders. Currently, however, the supply-demand adjustments in the two orders are resulting in little, if any changes in fluid milk prices, officials said. The orders set minimum prices to dairy farmers serving the areas, but do not regulate prices consumers pay.

Representatives of dairy farmer cooperatives and dealers testified at a public hearing, held by USDA in Dallas November 9, as to the need to suspend supply-demand adjustments through March 1967. They said this would allow time for an industry group to study them and to recommend any necessary improvements in the provisions.

Today's recommended decision will appear in the Federal Register December 10, and exceptions or comments may be filed up to December 13. Four copies should be submitted to the Hearing Clerk, Room 112-A, U. S. Department of Agriculture Washington, D. C. 20250, where they will be available for public inspection.

Copies of the recommended decision may be obtained from the market administrators of the two orders, or from the Dairy Division, Consumer and Marketing Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250.

The word "cracker" is one of those interesting words that came into being because breaking the "biscuit," as crackers were once called, made a crackling sound.

WMS Observes Week Of Prayer

Temple Baptist WMS met at the church for a general assembly Tuesday evening. Presiding over the meeting was Mrs. Bill Lamm, president.

Mrs. Glen Hendrickson presented the program on the Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions and the Lottie Moon Christmas offering. The women studied the work done by Baptist missionaries in foreign fields.

The pastor, the Rev. Tommy Phelps, will climax the week of prayer in Sunday morning service with a special emphasis placed on the goal set for the church in this annual contribution to foreign missionary work.

Choir and band members probably received more inspiration Monday, than the rest of us, but everyone did seem to enjoy the choir program which was presented by the West Texas University Choral and Brass Choir. We will be able to hear our own choirs, directed by Mr. Jackson, Thursday December 15.

Messiah, which they will present with the choirs, this coming Thursday.

As Christmas is drawing near, the Whiteface staff has urged all clubs and organizations to decorate the halls in order to instill a Christmas atmosphere around the school.

The Whitefaces traveled to Andrews this week-end to play in a tournament. Tuesday they will play Lamesa here. The B team game will begin at 6:15 and the varsity will play at 8:00. Be sure and give them your support by showing your school spirit and by attending the games.

"Well, now, little girl," said the department store Santa to the tot on his lap, "have you been good all this year?"

"Oh, yes!" replied the child. "I even learned to count."

"Good," said Santa. "Let me hear how you do it."

"One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, Jack, Queen, King!"

Cheryl Solomon

Milton Morris, from West Texas, talked to the juniors and seniors Tuesday, about plans for college. It is just the beginning of new experiences to the juniors, but to the seniors it is just another reminder of their last year in high school.

Member Gives PNO Program

Discussion led by Jan Hamilton in the Professional Nurses Organization at a recent meeting in the dining room of Deaf Smith County Hospital, concerned symptoms and treatment of nephrosis, a type of kidney disease.

In her introduction, Mrs. Hamilton said there are a dozen different variations of the disease, six of them most common.

Taking part in the discussion were Esther Springer, Jo Solomon, Winnie R. Anderson, June Rudd, Ella Mae Childers, Anna Stindt and Jean McKenzie.

THIS WUZ TH' TIME BRER RABBIT WON TH' AGREEMINT AN' LOST A POST...

YESSUH...T'DAY I IS GONNA START PUTTIN' IN POSTS FER MY NEW PASTURE FENCE.

HOLD ON THAR, BRER RABBIT! YOU IS INFRINGIN' ON MY PROPPITY RIGHTS!

BRER GOPHER, THIS HERE IS MY LAND.

BUT YOU IS PUTTIN' A HOLE IN MY ROOF!

HIM IS MESSIN' UP TH' ATTIC, DADDY!

YUH AWTA SEE MAMA'S KITCHEN.

US'LL SUE!

DANGDANGLE IT! STOP BOTHERIN' ME, YOU HAS PLENTY OF ROOM DOWNSTAIRS!

HMMM... THAT'S A IDEE!

PSSST... PSSST PSSST.

HEYDAR! WHAR'S MY POST?

US PUT IT IN TH' CELLAR!

IT'S BETTER TO NEVER GIT STARTED... THAN TO FINISH WID EMPTY HANDS.

IT'S TIME WE GOT OUR HOLIDAY GREETING CARDS TO SEND OUT.

OKAY.

REMEMBER THOSE GRAND CARDS WE SENT OUT LAST YEAR?

YEH, THEY SURE WERE GREAT!

THAT'S THE TROUBLE NOW-- THOSE CARDS WERE SO WONDERFUL LAST YEAR...

...THAT IT'LL BE HARD TO FIND ANY CARDS AS GOOD THIS YEAR!

ANYWAY, LET'S GO OUT AND HOPE WE FIND CARDS AS GOOD AS LAST YEAR'S.

OKAY, I'LL GET MY HAT AND COAT.

Y'CAN RELAX, DEAR -- WE WON'T HAVE TO GET CARDS AS GOOD AS LAST YEAR'S.

WHY NOT?

I JUST FOUND OUT I MUST'VE FORGOTTEN TO MAIL THEM LAST YEAR.

PAW!! I SHORE AM GLAD YO'RE BACK HOME-- I'M AFERED I GOT BIT BY TH' VIRUS BUG.

VIRUS BUG, MY EYE!!

YO'RE PROBL'Y WORE OUT FROM HANGIN' OVER TH' GOSSIP FENCE WIF ELVINEY TH' WHOLE BLESSET FOUR DAYS I BEEN OFF FISHIN'.

THAT JEST AIN'T SO, PAW-- EVEN LEETLE JUGHAID WUZ FEELIN' SO PORELY I KEPT HIM HOME TODAY.

THAT YOUNG-UN DON'T FOOL ME NONE-- I BET A HOSS HE HAD A 'RITHMATIC TEST COMIN' UP IN SCHOOL.

OUR PORE OL' MULE AIN'T LET OUT ONE HEE-HAW SINCE YOU BEEN GONE OFF.

THAT LOP-EARED VARMINT!! SHE'S TOO LAZY TO HEE-HAW EVEN WHEN SHE'S FEELIN' GOOD.

AN' OL' BULLET' AIN'T WAGGED HIS TAIL SINCE DAY AFOR VESTIDY--
