School's Sacked but Driveways Packed

Jean Ann Bartles, of 700 Ave. F., a Hereford High School junior got the day off today as far as school goes but found she could not escape doing some kind of work. Five to 5½ inches of snow fell in

5 Inches of Snow Force School Closings

Snow, five inches worth, forced Hereford Independent School District officials to dismiss classes today for the first time due to bad weather in more than five years.

Classes were cancelled last on Dec. 15, 1972. Today's cancellation is the third because of bad weather in seven years. "The worst part probably was the wind last night. We were afraid that because of the drifting on country roads that we couldn't get our buses out there," said Larry Wartes, assistant superintendent. "We had some people 20 to 25 miles out in some of the areas."

Wartes praised city street and Texas Highway Department workers who have been on the job since about 4 a.m. today. "We're always appreciative of the city and highway people. Those people really do work. In fact, the roads this morning had already been cleared by the time school was supposed to have started. It was just slick."

The snow, at least the most recent go-round, began about 3 a.m. in the Panhandle-South Plains. It was still falling, although lightly, at 7:30 a.m.

Gusty northeasterly winds caused the heavy snowfall to pile into drifts sometimes three feet high in the area.

The Texas Department of Public Safety today issued traveler's advisories for the entire Panhandle-South Plains, stating that roads south of Hereford were the most snow-packed.

"All the roads are packed and slick," said a dispatcher for the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office.

Little melting is anticipated today with the high expected to reach only in the low 20's. The low tonight, according to the National Weather Service in Amarillo will be around 5. Dimmitt and Hart were among area schools which called off classes today.

The most snow was reported in the southern half of the Panhandle and northern part of the South Plains, particularly around Lubbock where nine inches fell.

Clovis, N.M., reported six inches, Tucumcari, N.M., four, Amarillo five, Pampa five, Dumas four and Childress three.

Pampa now has a total of 11 inches of snow on the ground, Borger eight to 10 and Hereford approximately six.

"It's over," said a NWS spokesman at 9 a.m. "There is a slight chance of more snow early next week, but it's doubtful."

Today's NWS forecast calls for continued cold through Sunday with temperatures expected to stay in the 30's through the weekend. Winds today will be 10 to 15 miles per hour out of the northeast, shifting to out of the north at five to 10 miles per hour tonight.

Snow accumulation is not deep between Abilene and Fort Worth, but roads are covered with wet snow and in some portions the snow was receded by periods of freezing rain and sleet, giving the snow an ice base, making driving very treacherous.

Bridges and overpasses are covered with ice and snow over most of the northern half of the state.

Highway travel over most of North and West Texas is described as poor at best and some areas were expected to have impossible driving conditions before the snowfall ended late in the day.

South of the area struck by the latest Winter storm, rain and some fog spread eastward from the mountains of Southwest Texas early today into Central Texas. The rain was expected to continue, moving eastward through the southern half of the state during the day.

The only clear skies reported early today were in the extreme southeast corner of the state and in far Southwest Texas in the area west of the Davis and Guadalupe Mountains.

Temperatures remained quite cold in the northern half of the state and early morning extremes ranged from a bonechilling five degrees at Dalhart in the Panhandle to a comfortable 57 at Brownsville in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Hereford was 13.

Other readings included 14 at Amarillo, 24 at Wichita Falls, 35 at Texarkana, 34 at Dallas-Fort Worth, 42 at Austin, 37 at Lufkin, 39 at Houston, 56 at Corpus Christi, 55 at McAllen, 46 at Del Rio, 39 at San Angelo and 18 at Lubbock. Snow was being reported at Abilene, Amarillo, Childress, Dallas-Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and Lubbock.

Forecasts called for the snow to end from west-to-east late in the day with hazardous driving conditions expected to continue throughout the day with little improvement over the northern half of the state. Highs today were expected to range from the 20s in the northern sections of the state to the middle 60s in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Railroads Hurting In Midwest States

CHICAGO (AP) — The economies of the nation's Midwestern farm states may be in jeopardy unless a way is found to keep the financially troubled, grain-carrying railroads operating, a railroad executive says.

John W. Ingram, president of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad, said Thursday at a federally sponsored forum on the problems of Midwestern railroads that a plan such as his FarmRail proposal might provide the economic help the rail lines need.

He warned that if the concepts of pooling equipment and facilities, market swaps, consolidation and new solutions contained in his FarmRail proposal are not adopted, there will be a "premature dislocation" of the farming business "from which some towns might never recover."

Nationalization, merger or the formation of a Conrail system for the Midwest is not the answer for farmers, shippers of such bankrupt railroads as the Milwaukee Road and the Rock Island, Ingram said.

None, he said, adequately solves the problem of less profitable, low density railroads that haul Midwest farm products — as opposed to heavy density lines that primarily haul industrial material and finished products.

FarmRail would not be like Conrail, in which several Eastern railroads merged into one, but would involve five railroads, each of which would keep their separate identities but cooperate on numerous cost-cutting and service-improvement projects.

Ingram defined FarmRail as "A re-engineering through a precise and intensive voluntary coordination of activities in the 15-state Midwest territory."

He said he would not be a merger or a "big take-over" but rather like membership in a country club in which "any member could play in any foursome he wants, and change partners if he wishes." The federal government would not be involved in the plan except to lend money to individual railroads for specific improvement projects.

The primary roadblocks that stand in its way, Ingram said, are "artificial corporate boundaries" and union regulations.

FarmRail would consist of parts of the Milwaukee Road, Rock Island, Illinois Central Gulf, Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad and the Kansas City Southern and involve 30,000 miles of track, 114,000 freight cars and 45,000 employees. The lines serve states from North Dakota to

Carter Makes Deadline Today for Strike End

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiations to end the 7½-week-old national soft coal strike resumed today against the background of an informal Carter administration deadline to get a contract accord by the end of the day.

Labor Secretary Ray Marshall met separately with union officials and representatives of the Bituminous Coal Operators' Association before reconvening a joint session.

Marshall, taking the role of chief mediator, had kept the parties around the bargaining table nearly continuously from Thursday morning until 2 a.m. today when the bargainers recessed for a rest.

On Thursday, Marshall announced his intention to push for agreement sometime today, although he said that was not a hard and fast deadline.

But he said, "We don't have long. This thing can't go on."

There was other pressure from the administration retreating step-by-step in recent days from its policy of non-intervention in labor disputes.

President Carter met with governors from a dozen states hard hit by the strike. Gov. James Thompson of Illinois said Carter remarked he would personally "step in" — a term that was not explained — if the talks don't result in agreement.

The White House dispatched presidential aide Landon Butler to the Labor Department to monitor the negotiations.

The administration also was beginning to talk more openly about the possibility of invoking the strike-halting provision of the Taft-Hartley Act.

"People are certainly talking about Taft-Hartley if this effort the talks fails, but no final decision has been made," said one administration official who asked not to be named.

White House press secretary Jody Powell said, however, there are "no plans to invoke Taft-Hartley" today or at

Hereford-Bound Plane Crashes; Woman Dies

AMARILLO — A Hereford-bound private plane carrying six passengers hit an east Amarillo house and crashed into a city park Thursday, killing one person and injuring the others aboard.

Mattie Hebbinck, 69, of Enid, Okla., died after the plane, a Cessna 310, had engine trouble while heading north to Tradewinds Airport in Amarillo, clipped a wall and porch at 1718 East 8th and came to rest at a curb at East Park.

The plane, according to Federal Aviation Administration spokesmen, had averted its flight plan for Hereford to land in Amarillo.

The plane's pilot and passengers apparently were headed to Hereford to visit George Pratt, owner of Pratt Chevrolet. The pilot was Leonard Northcutt, of Enid, a friend and former business associate of Pratt. Northcutt was treated and released from Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. Critically injured in the crash were Bernard Hebbinck, 70, the dead woman's husband; and Mrs. Alice Wiebe, 68, Mrs. Wiebe's husband, Albert, was listed in serious condition today at Northwest Texas Hospital. Donald Roberts, 37, was treated and released from the hospital.

Larry Ladue, inside the house when the plane clipped it, was treated for minor injuries. The other members of family were in the opposite part of the house at the time of the crash and was not injured.

According to FAA reports, Northcutt asked the airport tower for an instrument approach, then said he could see the runway and cancelled the request. Weather was not blamed in the accident.

Northcutt owns Northcutt Chevrolet in Enid. Pratt worked at the car dealership for several years before coming to Hereford.

Bailar To Retire As Postal Head

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Benjamin W. Bailar, a financial expert who was not able to eliminate the Postal Service's chronic deficits, is returning to private industry. And he suggests his successor take "a very vigorous approach to cost cutting."

Bailar announced his resignation Thursday, saying he had enjoyed his three years in the job, but that "a businessman's place is in the business community and I'm looking forward to going back."

He said he will have a higher salary as an executive vice president of United States Gypsum Co. in Chicago than the $66,000 the postmaster general earns. However, he did not specify his new salary.

In leaving, Bailar spoke out against pending legislation that would strip away much of the independence from Congress and the White House that the Postal Service was given in 1971 when the Post Office Department was abolished.

The mail agency was largely freed from political considerations and was organized like a private business and given the goal of breaking even financially. However, it has been in the red ever since.

Haldeman Book Goes On Sale Today

NEW YORK (AP) — H. R. Haldeman, once Richard Nixon's alter ego, went public on Watergate with a single, strident theme: Nixon, the president, was behind it all.

According to Haldeman, Nixon "himself caused those burglars to break into Watergate."

Nixon "was in on the coverup from Day One."

Nixon may have submitted to blackmail from Charles W. Colson.

Nixon threatened to embarrass the CIA if it refused to participate in the cover-up.

Nixon "simply began to erase all of the Watergate material from the tapes when he started to worry that they might be exposed."

Without offering any new evidence, Haldeman makes these conjectures in a new book, "The Ends of Power," rushed to bookstores today 10 days early because of a headlong media race to publish excerpts.

The only reaction from Nixon's seaside villa in San Clemente, Calif., was a one sentence statement: "Former President Nixon's memoirs will be published in May."

Ashley To Seek Rehearing in Suit

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Fired Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. executive James H. Ashley will seek a rehearing of an appeals court that nullified his $1 million award against the company for alleged wiretapping activities.

The 11th Court of Civil Appeals in Eastland on Thursday overturned a trial jury's finding that Southwestern Bell invaded the privacy of Ashley and his wife by wiretapping their telephones.

The higher court erased the $1 million award that the trial jury directed Southwestern Bell pay the Ashleys.

Evidence presented during a three week long state district court trial in December 1976 did not support the verdict against Southwestern Bell, the appeals court ruled.

Ashley, who was fired in 1974 from his $55,000 a year telephone company job, charged in the original suit that Bell invaded his and his wife's privacy by wiretapping their telephones.

Bus Driver Shoots Nigerian Hijacker

DALLAS (AP) — Officials say a young Dallas bus driver faces possible loss of his job for carrying the pistol he used to shoot a Nigerian national who allegedly commandeered a bus and three passengers with a weapon that turned out to be a toy pistol.

Osoogie Omoredioion, a 24-year-old car wash attendant who has used the name Tony Johnson, remained in serious condition early today with a gunshot wound to the neck. Police said he faces four counts of aggravated kidnapping.

Kenneth Earl Cobb, 22, a Dallas Transit Authority driver for three months, grabbed his pistol and shot the alleged hijacker Thursday afternoon after the man had held the bus for about 45 minutes.

Cobb was illegally carrying the pistol, but police spokesman Ed Spencer said, "The Department has no intention of filing any charges on the bus driver. We will turn our investigation over to the district attorney's office."

Jerry Johnson, DTA director of marketing, said it is against regulations for a bus driver to carry a weapon. "The matter will have to be taken under advisement," added Johnson, who said "it is conceivable" that Cobb could be fired for carrying the pistol.

Police Report

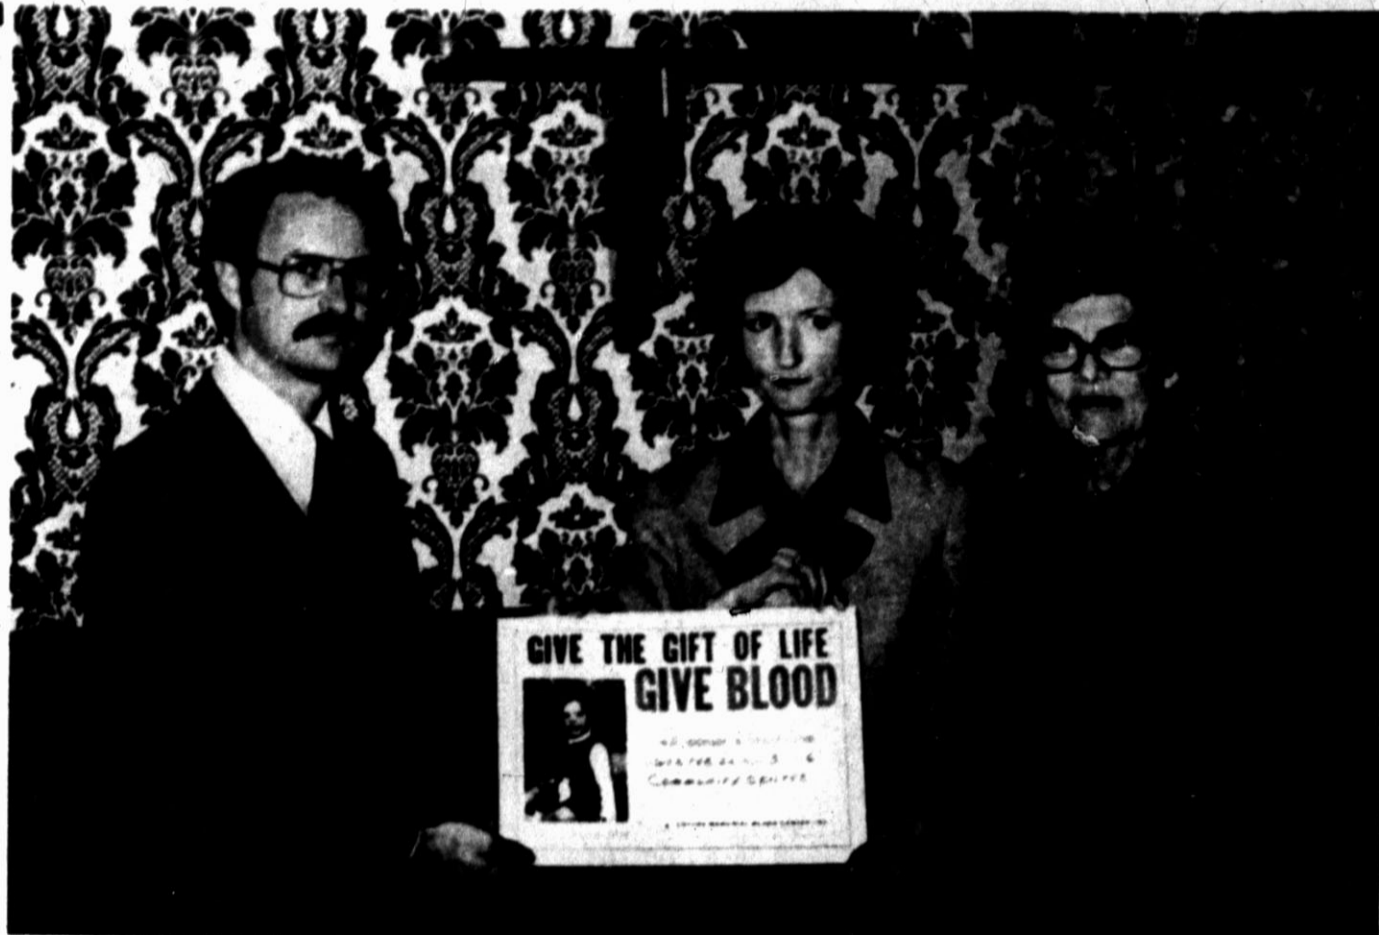

Police reported no criminal offenses Thursday through this morning but investigated several traffic accidents, including two today.

Railroads

Texas and from Colorado to Illinois. Ingram said he has not yet approached any of the other railroads mentioned entering into a FarmRail-type venture.

FarmRail would do such things, Ingram said, as pool hopper cars to follow the harvest, allowing a railroad working the Texas spring wheat harvest to use the hopper cars of another railroad sitting idle in snow-covered Wisconsin, and vice versa.

It would encourage lines to "swap markets," a maneuver in which the Rock Island, for example, could tell the Milwaukee Road to serve a Rock Island market area if the Milwaukee Road could do a better job, he explained.

any specific time. Sentiment in favor of invoking the act is tempered by a widespread feeling that miners will ignore any back-to-work court order issued under the act. And Pennsylvania Gov. Milton Shapp said the governor's advice to the president was not to invoke the law.

In an interview with journalists Thursday, Carter said that "We... have Good candidates for pooling and combining facilities, Ingram said, are the Rock Island, Milwaukee Road and ICG truck lines between Chicago and Council Bluffs, Iowa. Another prime candidate for pooling facilities would be Kansas City, where, Ingram said, the yards of the five FarmRail lines could be combined to create "one humdinger of an effective operation."

As for new ideas, Ingram said, a local, small shuttle train with two crew members could reduce or eliminate the problem of short-haul, one-car orders that plague some railroads.

As an example of the problems these orders create, Ingram said that currently, if all goes well, it takes five days and the

The president said if the Taft-Hartley Act is invoked, "it will require a little more attention to law enforcement to make sure there is no violence perpetrated against persons or properties."

Meanwhile, dwindling coal stockpiles part-time efforts of 36 workers to move one hopper car from the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, yard 37 miles to a grain elevator at La Porte City, Iowa, and back to a food processing plant at Cedar Rapids.

If done by truck, he said, it takes four employees only three hours to complete. Using a small shuttle train would save comparably, manpower and time, he said. This and other innovative plans, Ingram said, might face union opposition since the unions "may continue cutting off their nose to spite their face."

He contended, however, that such plans would produce more railroad jobs and would be in the best interest of farmers and the nation.

Hah-Ki-Ya-Ko and Mi-Kia-Lo Horizon Clubs will introduce the evening's program, which will follow the banquet theme, "Camp Fire, The Giving Tree." The Senior Camp Fire Girls will provide narration. Program music will be under the direction of Randy Vaughn with Mrs. Vaughn offering accompaniment.

Meldrim Thomson, the state's conservative Republican governor, has hinted at a possible race against McIntyre, particularly if the Democrat votes to ratify the Panama Canal treaty. But a Thomson bid for a fourth term as governor is seen as more likely.

The expected Maine race between Hathaway and Cohen is viewed as a toss-up. But a number of volatile issues likely to be raised at the Bangor "town meeting" find the two men taking opposite views.

Hathaway is one of the few Maine politicians to endorse the administration's proposal on Indian claims. Cohen has opposed an out-of-court settlement.

Hathaway also parts from Cohen in a drawn-out debate over the proposed Dickey-Lincoln hydroelectric project on the St. John River in northern Maine, supporting a plan to flood 88,000 wilderness acres for 900 megawatts of power. Cohen opposes the project.

Campaign Swing Begins

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's first campaign swing of this election year is taking him to three New England states where Democratic senators face re-election challenges.

Carter scheduled a midway departure today for the 25-hour trek into Rhode Island, Maine and New Hampshire.

The White House is not calling it a campaign journey because public events occupy most of the president's schedule. But when Carter is not engaged in overt politicking, he will be campaigning on behalf of his programs and seeking voter approval of his new stewardship.

Because the trip officially is deemed mostly non-political, Democratic organizations will pay only a minority share of the cost.

The biggest event on the president's Rhode Island schedule was a nationally broadcast regional news conference, at a hotel ballroom in Cranston this afternoon.

But he also set aside time for a reception for Sen. Claiborne Pell, a three-term Democrat who is not expected to face major Republican opposition.

In Bangor, Maine, where Carter will field questions from citizens at an evening "town meeting," the president may confront critics of a proposed Indian claims settlement, a federal plan for a big waterpower project and a Pentagon blue-print to all but shut down Loring Air Force Base in Aroostook County.

Moreover, Democratic Sen. William Hathaway is expected to get a stiff GOP challenge from Rep. Williams S. Cohen and perhaps from Gov. James Longley, a Democrat turned independent who is judged potentially capable of beating both.

Carter will take part in a Hathaway fundraiser and, on Saturday morning, join the senator at a political rally before flying to Nashua, N.H.

The president will hold a 90-minute question and answer session with New Hampshire high school students in Nashua, then return to Washington.

With Carter in New Hampshire will be Democratic Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre,

Hereford Ups Blood Goal

While Hereford's record in blood campaigns is held up as an example to other cities surrounding Amarillo, an increased goal is being set to keep pace with a 20 percent rise in blood needs, it was announced Thursday by Joan Bookout, blood campaign chairman for the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the committee held a luncheon meeting Thursday at K-Bob's with John Mitchell, community relations director for Coffee Memorial Blood Bank. Mitchell congratulated the group for a "highly successful" blood donor campaign in 1977.

"Hereford is the only area town where we have regularly scheduled monthly visits," Mitchell said. He added that Coffee Memorial is seeking to set up similar campaigns in Pampa and Borger, "and we're using Hereford as an example of what can be done."

Jury Nixes Bell Suit

A six-man, six-woman jury deliberated three hours in 222nd District Court Thursday night and found no negligence on either side in a $48,484 personal injury suit against Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Plaintiffs in the suit were Hector Garcia and his wife Irene, who injured her back, according to testimony during the trial, when the car her husband was driving struck a concrete cable across obstruction on Forest St. Sept. 18, 1976.

Testimony was that the plaintiffs' car struck the obstruction in a ditch while swerving to avoid an oncoming car.

Attorneys for Bell were H.C. Pipkin of Amarillo and Marlin Gilbert of San Antonio. The Garcias' attorneys were Jimmy Craig and John Aikin of Hereford.

Ann Landers Parents Appreciated

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm writing in response to the teenager who was "sick and tired of being under her parents' thumb." I'm a 16-year-old girl who would hate to think of where I'd be without my parents' thumb. That "thumb" is a symbol of their love for me.

At times I felt their judgment was wrong when I wanted to do something or go somewhere and they said no. Even though I was disappointed (and sometimes furious) I know deep down they said no because of their concern for me.

We don't have a lot of money but I feel overprivileged to have a mom and dad who put my welfare ahead of everything else. I know there are many more parents in the world like mine but I know, too, that there are the other kind - parents who take the easy way out and don't stand up to their kids because they hate the hassle. I'm thankful for mine. - Lucky And Know It

DEAR LUCKY: I wonder how many teenagers who read your letter today will appreciate their parents just a little more. I wonder, too, how many with "collapsible" parents will envy you the "Thumb." Thanks for writing.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: That letter from "Grossed Out" about the boy and girl who got carried away under the table in the high school cafeteria prompted me to write.

I don't think your suggestion, "Take your complaint to the principal," was very realistic. The principal is probably a gutless wonder. What's more, one complaint from a lowly sophomore isn't exactly a pressure group. The complainer would have to wait his turn - after the curriculum study group, a bud-driver's grievance committee, or a minority enrichment program - and then maybe something would be done about policing the corridors and lunchroom. A student government code of behavior might help but that, too, is doubtful.

Parents do not have remote control over their kids. When they are in school it's up to the administration and faculty to insist on respectable behavior. The teachers know what goes on and who the offensive kids are, but they didn't want to stir up any trouble so they keep quiet.

I urge every decent student who is offended by the sight of kids making out all over the place, is against the use of foul language, smoking pot on the school steps, etc., to tell your parents, members of the school board, the newspapers, clergymen, anyone who has clout. Eventually something will happen. If you want to clean up your school you'll have to take some action. - Made The Scene

DEAR M.T.S.: I was surprised at the number of students who wrote to say they don't like what goes on in their schools but "there is no discipline from higher up and we can't do anything about it." If any high school principals or faculty members out there want equal time, you can have it.

DEAR ANN: I work with a lovely, attractive woman who is 30 years of age. She is planning to marry a man who is a few years younger. Although I'm old enough to be her mother, she treats me like a sister, which is, of course, flattering.

In the last two months she has come to work with black eyes, a twisted neck, a sprained arm and several broken ribs. I suspect her boyfriend has been beating her up. She always has excuses (fell down the stairs, bumped into the cupboard, etc.) Should I ask her to tell me the truth and then try to talk her out of marrying him? - Concerned

DEAR C.: Nothing. When (and if) she feels like talking, she will. If she doesn't - you shouldn't.

Children are Equal! Children are equal to adults! I can hear a parent protesting. "Don't be ridiculous. I know more than my child and I've lived longer. He can't possibly be my equal."

No, of course not. Not in knowledge, experience or skill. But these things don't indicate equality even among adults. Equality does not mean uniformity.

In spite of the differences and abilities of individuals, each person has the same right to dignity and respect. A person's sex, color, age or wisdom does not make him inferior or superior.

Yesterday I explained to a little girl who was guilt ridden about her feelings that it's OK to like and dislike just as adults do.

I told her, "You know kids are people too!"

For God So Loved The World

IN WAR OR PEACE, WASHINGTON PRAYED TO GOD

George Washington was a great deal more than just a military leader and a great statesman. He was a composite of all the dedicated patriots of his day, whose character traits included a willingness to risk everything they had in order to gain this Nation's freedom, and an absolute reliance upon God's guidance. Washington prayed for it during the darkest hours of battle, and he continued to seek it after he had attained the presidency. Moreover, his writings prove that he was a great believer in religious freedom of choice. Honor his birthday and follow his example by attending the Church of your own choice regularly.

"He...was strong in faith, giving glory to God; And being fully persuaded that, what he had promised, he was able also to perform."
— Romans 4:20, 21

Almighty God, we make our earnest prayer that Thou wilt keep the United States in Thy holy protection...
— George Washington

Bernard, SD Headline Card

Brute Bernard meets the Super Destroyer in what may be a pair six main event next Saturday night, as the Hereford Lions Club once again presents wrestling at the Bull Barn. Starting time has been moved up to 8:30 p.m.

Bernard, called the French Canadian Champion by north of the border revolutionaries, steps in at 260 pounds. The Super Destroyer is from Los Angeles, weighs 250; and has not been unmasked in eight years. Along with Larry Lane, he contested in a round robin in last week's main event, which Bernard won.

Dory Funk Jr., former World Heavyweight Champion, leaves his ranching chores in Umbarger and Canyon to meet New Jersey's J.J. Dillon in the semi-main event. He holds a five-pound weight advantage at 243. Dillon, not known as an ethical contestant, nonetheless is a grappler of some skill. When not wrestling, he manages Bernard and Angel Morrell.

Dennis Stamp, the 235-pound former Minnesota and NCAA champion, will meet junior heavyweight Bobby Pico of Mobile, Alabaa. Pico, at 205, gave away forty pounds to battle ex-sumo champion Mr. Onoumi in last week's opener. Despite the size and age difference, the youthful Pico fought to an exciting draw. Stamp may prove a tougher proposition. He was all-American in both football and wrestling at Concordia College, and professionally has held the brass knucks title.

Alex Perez, the seasoned veteran of many ring battles with both fist and grappling tactics, will have a ten pound pull over North Carolina's Rip Hawk as he steps in at 240 in the opener. Perez was surprised in last week's card by former collegiate great Ervin Smith, who pulled out an unexpected victory from near-defeat with a power slam.

Perez was somewhat less than popular with fans at the Bull Barn. Hawk topped Don Fargo in last week's action with a neck breaker. Perez, former national boxing champion, may prove a harder nut to crack.

Lions club officials reminded that Bull Barn action starts at 8:30 p.m., one half-hour earlier than usual.

As part of a course assignment, Gladchuk cooked a complete meal for 150 people at a Quarterback Club luncheon this fall. He served chicken cacciatore, rice, cauliflower, tossed salad and, for dessert, something called "Minuteman Cake," a maroon and white creation to match the colors of his school.

Coach Says Hogs Don't Need Killer Instinct

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer
DALLAS (AP) — Arkansas keeps winning games and people keep trying to find something wrong with the nation's No. 1 ranked basketball team.

For example, the Razorbacks slapped Southern Methodist 86-75 Thursday night for their 25th victory in 26 games and Arkansas Coach Eddie Sutton was asked why his team didn't have a killer instinct.

Armstrong Named To Direct Bears

By JOE MOOSHL
AP Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Neill Armstrong, defensive coordinator for the Minnesota Vikings the last eight seasons, is the new head coach of the Chicago Bears.

"The ultimate goal is to win," said Armstrong, who was reached at his home in Minneapolis after he was named Thursday night. "It takes people to win."

"I've coached in all phases of the game and I've coached on offense," said Armstrong, in an attempt to prove that he is more than merely a defensive coach.

Armstrong's decision was announced by Jim Finks, vice president and general manager of the Bears.

Armstrong, 51, has been in the National Football League for 13 years and becomes the ninth head coach of the Bears. He succeeds Jack Pardee, who left the team after three years last month to take over the Washington Redskins.

The Bears called a news conference for today to introduce Armstrong, who played for Oklahoma State from 1947-1951 when the team won 21 straight games and was a member of the Philadelphia Eagles as a receiver and a defensive back.

Armstrong completed his playing career with Winnipeg of Somewhat bemused, Sutton said "Well, its something that doesn't concern me. We just can't go out and blow people away because we're not a physical team. We have to depend on 100 percent intensity to be effective. But I'll tell you this - we have a lot of confidence and we're quick."

It used to be Sutton was questioned about a potential lack of depth on his bench.

"Our bench is OK now," said Sutton. "We have a lot of confidence in the three kids Ulysses Reed, Michael Watley and Chris Bennett that we bring in. I mean when you take 6-11 Steve Schall out of the game we can be dynamic."

Arkansas, the nation's leading shooting team with a 56 percent average from the floor, is now 13-1 in Southwest Conference play - a game ahead of No. 12 ranked Texas.

The Razorbacks are in Houston Saturday afternoon for a regionally televised game against always dangerous Houston.

"Houston is good enough to beat anybody," said Sutton. SMU Coach Sonny Allen, who saw his team fall 110-86 to No. 2 rated Kentucky in the first game of the season, said "Arkansas can play with Kentucky. Arkansas is so skilled that they know what they are doing all the time. Kentucky is big and strong but you can get only so physical before they call it a foul."

"I'd pick Arkansas in a matchup against Kentucky on a neutral court. I don't think Arkansas has a bad bench. You put the subs in and they don't shoot. There are still three great players out there. Marquette won the NCAA with just six players."

Arkansas is the only SWC team ever to be rated No. 1 in The Associated Press poll. It happened after Kentucky was upset by LSU last Saturday in Baton Rouge, La., where Arkansas had downed LSU earlier in the year.

"Kentucky would give us trouble because it is so strong but we would create problems for them with our quickness," said Sutton. "We are similar to Alabama which beat Kentucky. But you can't compare scores now. We all have a long way to go."

If Arkansas wins the SWC regular title then it gets a bye into the post-season tournament in Houston. The Razorbacks would play in the championship game against the round-robin survivor.

Ron Brewer scored 23 points and Sidney Moncrief had 20 as Arkansas never trailed against SMU before the second largest crowd in Moody Coliseum history - 9,890 fans. Phil Hale was high for SMU with 18.

TUBA TOO TOUGH
CINCINNATI (AP) — Offensive tackle Vern Holland of the Cincinnati Bengals recalls how he nearly became a musician instead of a football player.

"I went to high school in Sherman, Texas, and the coach invited me out for the team," Holland said. "On my first day, they were crushing me, throwing dirt in my eyes, and giving me a going-over. I wanted no part of it. The next day I went out for the band. I asked to play the clarinet and they handed me a tuba. That's when I went back to football."

Celtics Regroup; Winning Again

By The Associated Press
Don't count the Boston Celtics out of the National Basketball Association playoffs yet.

The Celtics, seemingly out of contention not long ago, suddenly have regrouped, winning six of their last seven games, and are beginning to again put fear into their opposition.

Their latest victory was exceptionally eye-catching, a 98-95 decision Thursday night at Phoenix, where the Suns had won 16 in a row.

"You have to give Boston credit..." said Phoenix Coach John MacLeod, whose Suns have the league's third best record, 36-18. "They controlled the game for the most part and made the big plays at the right time."

Boston now is 20-31 and has a long way to go to overcome some of the teams ahead of them in the playoff race. But since captain John Havlicek announced his retirement, effective at the end of the season, and Kermit Washington was reinstated following a two-month suspension, the Celtics have played more inspired basketball.

In other NBA games, the Cleveland Cavaliers routed the Denver Nuggets 119-87, the Washington Bullets whipped the Buffalo Braves 123-109, and the New Jersey Nets beat the Seattle SuperSonics 101-92.

Cavs 119, Nuggets 87
Cleveland took command by outscoring the Nuggets 13-2 during the final 3:45 of the first period for a 27-16 lead. By half-time, the Cavaliers were ahead 58-38 and Denver, the Midwest Division leader, never got closer than 16 points after that.

Jim Chones and Bingo Smith scored 18 points apiece for the Cavs, Austin Carr had 17 and Campy Russell 16, while rookie Anthony Roberts paced Denver with 19.

Bullets 123, Braves 109
"We were doing basketball things that are pretty," Washington Coach Dick Motta said after the Bullets' lopsided victory that avenged a 37-point loss - the worst of the season - to Buffalo in their last meeting.

"We were awful...awful from the start," admitted Braves Coach Cotton Fitzimons.

Elvin Hayes topped the Bullets with 25 points. Bob Dandridge and Kevin Grevey each had 22, and Wes Unseld scored 14 points and grabbed 17 rebounds. Swen Nater led Buffalo with 20 points and 16 rebounds.

Nets 101, Sonics 92
"The acquisition of John Williamson has given the team the confidence it didn't have earlier in the year," said New Jersey coach Kevin Loughery after the Nets - the losingest team in the league - had beaten the Sonics.

Williamson, nicknamed "Super John," lived up to his billing, connecting for 39 points. Kevin Porter chipped in with 23 points and 13 assists for New Jersey, while Gus Williams was high for Seattle with 24 points.

Morgan Leads LA Tourney

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A bunched field in the $200,000 Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament set sights today on an atomist who leads his closest competitors by two strokes.

Dr. Gil Morgan, who has postponed a career of looking into eyes to look down the fairways, fired a 5-under-par 66 in the opening round and says it might be nine years or so before he stops playing competitive golf.

The 31-year-old eye doctor from Wewoka, Okla., shot seven birdies with putts of up to 30 feet to head 146 rivals in the quest for a $40,000 winner's purse in this 72-hole event at the 7,029-yard Rivera Country Club course.

Dr. Morgan, winner of the B.C. Open at Endicott, N.Y., last year, banked $104,817 in tournament earnings in 1977 and admits that's more than he would make any of his first few years as an eye doctor.

"I think I'll continue playing golf until I'm 40 or until I'm not competitive," he said.

He faces tough competition at Los Angeles. Deadlocked at 68 after the first round were Danny Edwards and Forrest Fezler with five more at 69, another five at 70 and yet another five at 71.

A dozen were at 72, including Jack Nicklaus, Billy Casper and last year's Los Angeles winner, Tom Purtzer, plus Bill Rogers, who captured the Bob Hope tournament just last week.

In 1814 a Harvard education cost about $300 per year.

Super Sport: Genia Beasley

Some experts ranked North Carolina State at top women's college basketball team in the country this year. One big reason is Genia Beasley, a tall, sharp-shooting center.

Last season, Genia averaged better than 17 points per game. She is six feet, two inches tall.

Genia is majoring in pre-med. She would like to become a baby doctor.

The Life of George Washington

Washington was born on Feb. 22, 1732, in Virginia. His father, a landowner, died when George was 11.

George went to school when he was 6. Math was his favorite subject. He was good at writing. He stopped school at 15.

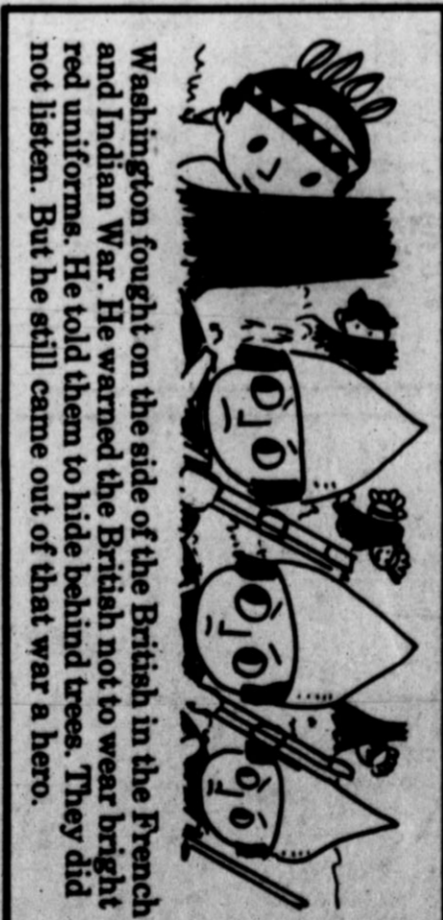

He liked fishing, boating, riding and dancing. The story of his chopping down a cherry tree is not true, but it is a popular legend.

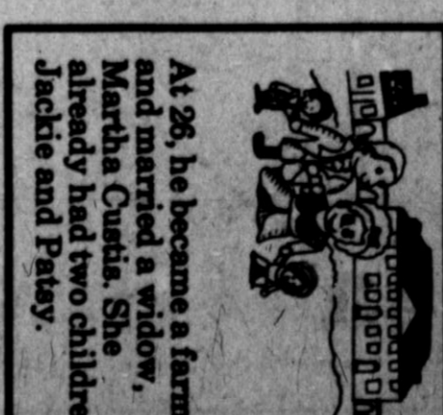

At 15, he became a surveyor and made maps of Virginia.

At 20, he became a major in the Virginia citizens army.

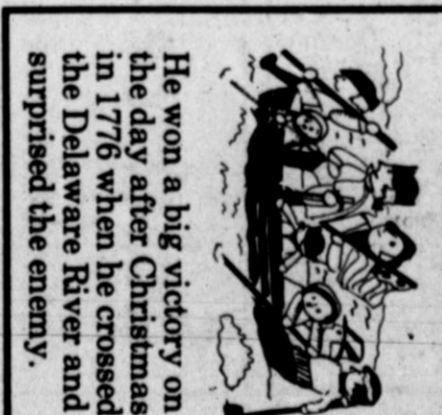

Washington fought on the side of the British in the French and Indian War. He warned the British not to wear bright red uniforms. He told them to hide behind trees. They did not listen. But he still came out of that war a hero.

At 26, he became a farmer and married a widow, Martha Custis. She already had two children, Jacke and Patsy.

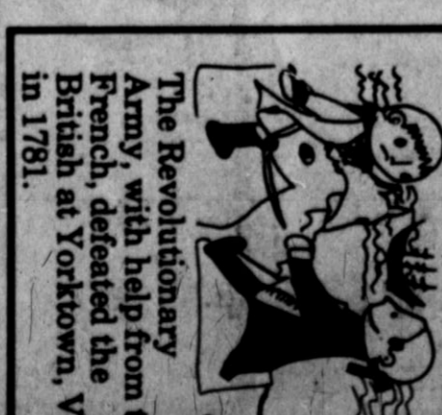

Washington was chosen commander-in-chief of the Revolutionary Army in 1775.

He won a big victory on the day after Christmas in 1776 when he crossed the Delaware River and surprised the enemy.

The war lasted six years. The winter of 1777-1778 at Valley Forge was a bitter one. His troops were cold and hungry.

The Revolutionary Army, with help from the French, defeated the British at Yorktown, Va. in 1781.
