Hot Weather Dominates Hereford Scene

Heat Relief Not In Sight

The black triangle apparently was waving above the fair weather flag signal this week and cast a shadow on Hereford activities.

The black flag means that the area can expect warmer weather and the white flag means fair weather in nautical communications. A combination of the two can mean 'hot and dry' in plain West Texas terms.

July has had a 'steady' heat without nights cooling enough for residents to notice.

Several problems can be directly attributed to the heat.

One that is actual but cannot be proven in any given circumstance is the affect the heat has on people's tempers.

Slight Tremor Felt In Area

Some Panhandle residents were "shook up" Tuesday night as "very weak" tremor passed up a 100 mile strip of Texas, causing no damage but surprising a lot of Texans, including Hereford residents.

Borger, Amarillo and also Dimmitt felt the earth shake a little about 3:05 a. m. Wednesday. Amarillo apparently felt it more than any other place; persons in one building described the event as similar to a sonic boom, but the distance covered was too great for such an occurrence.

Seismograph readings in Lubbock, at Texas Tech, recorded the tremor as very weak. It stretched along an area of some 130 miles, extending in northeastern New Mexico.

Heat Cools Power Line

Blame it on the heat. That's right, blame it on the heat because it was the heat that did it. Power was off in Hereford and rural areas Monday morning because an automatic device decided that the weather was just too hot and emergency measures were in order.

Hereford Ahead In Consumption

"Although the old expression says that it is not the heat, it's the humidity, the fact is that both the heat and the humidity are making a big contribution to the increase in the electrical load, which is accompanied by an increase in our customer's bills. When the humidity is as high as it has been lately, refrigerators, freezers, and air conditioning systems have to work harder than they do when it is hot and dry," Melvin Jayroe, Manager of Southwestern Public Service says.

Hereford, along with the rest of the Panhandle Plains, has been setting records for electrical consumption the last few weeks, with the local area being one of the pacesetters of the region because of the recent rapid growth of the city.

Jayroe says the local electrical load shows a 11.5% increase over last year, as compared with a company wide increase of just under 8% for the 45,000 square mile service area of the electric company. The Hereford electrical load has increased by 11% or more for each of the last four years.

System wide, or for the area extending from Elkhart, Kansas across the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles, the South Plains and Eastern New Mexico to Carlsbad, Southwestern has not yet reached the peak load that was projected for this summer. The company anticipated that the 1966 peak would be 1,280,000 KWH and the biggest single hour demand so far has been about 35,000 KWH short of that estimate.

The company's ability to serve Hereford will be doubled in the near future when a transmission line is completed to the new sub-station in the northwest section of the city. In addition, future plans for 1967 call for construction of the 69,000 volt loop around the city and this, too, is an indication of the optimistic outlook for the growth of the city. 69,000 volt loops are usually constructed around communities several times as large as Hereford.

Electrical service to Hereford and six sub-stations owned by the Deaf Smith County REC were knocked out for 10 minutes Monday at 11:35 a.m. and officials were until 5 p.m. finding the cause of the total outage.

Cause was finally traced to a relay unit which kicked off due to excessive heat in a small metal building located at the main substation on New York Ave.

The unit is operated as a protective device and breaks the circuit under an excessive load, according to Southwestern Public Service officials.

However the unit was not overloaded since the station is rated at 50 megawatts and at the time of the outage, equipment rated the load at 30 megawatts — 60 per cent of the load which the station is built to carry.

Melvin Jayroe, local SWPS manager, said that the station will much more than carry the peak required by Hereford residents from the station.

He added that the station had reached a peak just before the outage occurred, but it was not near enough to overload the circuit.

During the past few weeks the residents have been using a large amount of electricity, due to the intense heat which requires almost 24-hour air conditioner use, but he added that the local company had the facilities to carry any load that the city residents might require.

Only last week a portion of northeast Hereford and the south relay stations were out for 20 minutes when W. C. (Bill) Davis came in contact with a live wire while changing a bad capacitor bank unit.

Davis was rushed to the hospital where he was treated for second and third degree burns on the hands and was reported in good condition, by hospital officials.

Jayroe said Tuesday that measures were being taken to provide ventilation for the building to prevent the relay unit from cutting the power again.

Some Blame Heat As Jailhouse Fills

Gone crazy with heat. Yessir, it must be the heat.

That's the size of it, folks. Come summertime, and things apparently pick up around the sheriff's office. In and out, people coming left and right, it all makes for a lively time in this little nook at the Deaf Smith County Courthouse.

In the good old summertime, as the song goes. Working full time, the man at the jail house is kept busy locking them up, turning them out, taking them to court, bringing them back.

"This is the fullest I've ever seen the jail," matter-of-factly says one pretty young miss behind the counter at the sheriff's department.

Felony cases go to the district court, presided over by District Judge Harry Schultz of Dalhart.

Most offenders now locked up are Latin Americans; second group is the whites, and third is Negroes.

The City of Hereford boards its prisoners at the county jail, since the city does not have facilities to take care of prisoners for any length of time. Texas Highway Department also boards its prisoners in the county cooler.

BELIEVE IT or not, some of the "residents" of the institution are in a position to save Deaf Smith County some money.

Quite a bit, in fact, perhaps upwards of $10,000 annually. As pointed out by the Sheriff's Department, some law breakers by no means come under the heading of dangerous criminals. Violations such as drunkenness put some persons in the jail time after time — perhaps to the point where it's just as well that they live there.

Known as the trusties, these are the men who assist in maintenance. See SOME, Page 2

City Commission Whips Through Varied Agenda

For the first time in eight years, the city is preparing condemnation proceedings against buildings in Hereford.

City commissioners wrapped up an agenda including this and other items in a short and concise meeting Monday night. A tax equalization board was appointed, water line quotations considered, a note to clear up small city debts was signed, health officer reports on property were given and a plan to cooperate with West Texas State University in youth employment was discussed. Also under consideration was an annexation request by south Hereford residents.

Date for the tax equalization board meeting was not set, but Ed Warren, Ernest Kendall and Oliver Streu were appointed to the board.

The water line specified a plastic line and Dudley Bayne, city manager, said that he had expected the cost to be under the $2,000 mark — a 69 cent per foot bid for the 3,000 feet of line. Bayne said that he thought negotiations with the company, Bryant Brothers, could bring the cost to the required amount.

B & J Irrigation Supply quoted

6 cents per foot or $2,280.

Mayor pro-tem Albert Maxwell signed a note for $59,000 to pay debts incurred by the city that cannot be paid out of the general fund. The city has little or no revenue from January to October and usually the general fund drops into the red by the middle or late summer. This year, the problem was aggravated by the cost of the new city barn.

The budget had allowed for $15,000 for a city barn, but the burning of the old barn threw an additional $12,000 strain on the general fund. Also draining the fund are new trucks and paving.

Reports from the city health officer, Tom Crawford, were heard by commissioners concerning local residences on which condemnation proceedings have been begun.

One of these had been the object of complaints heard by the commissioners last week. (See related story)

Commissioners also agreed to look into a plan advanced by West Texas State University proposing the employment of local youths.

The proposed program would place the students in the employment of the city at no cost to Hereford. The students will be paid by See CITY, Page 2

Property Cited In Condemnation Proceedings

In an effort to keep major housing and building problems from developing, the city commission authorized the building inspector Tom Crawford, to make an inspection of residential units in questionable condition.

Crawford's report was heard Monday night by the commissioners.

"It is not our intent to dictate to people how they are to maintain their property, but we would like to encourage them to keep it in a state of decent repair," one commissioner said.

The building inspector's report initiated action taken by the city commission to begin condemnation proceedings against four different residences within the city limits. Dudley Bayne, city manager read the report to the commissioners.

One of the pieces of property was an apartment house which has been the center of a number of complaints by neighbors in the 400 block of Schley.

CRAWFORD reported that the building was "dangerous," that the "general plumbing and electrical systems in the building were not in good working order and the floors and ceiling weak."

"Insects, rats and mice are a problem in the building and are a hazard to human health," the report concluded.

Chamber Restates Policy; Hears Committee Reports

Meeting early Wednesday morning at the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce office, directors of that organization took action to change a policy statement, making it effective for the coming year, approved expenses for the chamber and looked over reports made by various committees of the chamber.

The directors made only a slight change in administrative policies of the chamber; the original policy was adopted in 1962. Only change was a portion reading "Office equipment is to be used for Chamber of Commerce work only except by special arrangement." An exception was made for a xerox machine, which will be made available for general public use in exchange for a small fee.

A statement of receipts and expenditures was approved by the directors, along with cancellations of five memberships.

Upon recommendation of the government affairs committee, it was moved by Wayne Thomas and seconded by Frank Ford that the local chamber recommend to the United States Chamber of Commerce that:

Joseph E. Burger
Chamber Speaker

"An indispensable element of the constitutional form of government of the United States of America is the continuing power of the people to control, through the elective process, those who represent them in the Legislative and Executive Branches of the government. This elective power of the people should be preserved by retaining the constitutional requirement for the biennial election of the entire House of Representatives and of one-third of the Senate and the President, and in otherwise upholding the established system of checks and balances between the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Branches." The recommendation was approved by the decision-making body.

Recommendations of the annual banquet committee asked that Joseph Burger be retained as the featured speaker, at a fee of $550, inclusive of his expenses. Price of tickets was set at $4, with the banquet planned for Thursday, Jan. 12.

Recommendations of the recreation committee, made at the meeting May 23, were approved by the directors. The recommendations forwarded to the policy-making body included consideration given to providing needed facilities for other recreational sports such as tennis and swimming (all season) a part of the physical education program at Hereford High School. Deputy Sheriff Tommy Simon, counting through the file box giving data on each prisoner, said the jail was accommodating 32 apparent law-breakers Tuesday morning; but that's nothing compared to the day before.

ROUGHLY ESTIMATING, he guessed 65 prisoners had places in this isolated society located on the north side of the courthouse. And it was a mite crowded and confused from 4 to 4:30 — visiting hours at the jail on Mondays and Fridays.

Of the inhabitants, most are being held for driving while intoxicated or forgery. Simon pointed out that charges are divided into three main divisions, minor misdemeanor, major misdemeanor, and felony.

Sixteen persons are in for felony, two for major misdemeanor and five for minor misdemeanors at the present time. Seven wetbacks will be transferred to the border patrol for transportation back to Mexico.

Minor misdemeanors include charges for drunkenness and theft under $5, among others. Justice of the Peace C. B. Miles or Corporation Court Judge Jim Neill usually try these cases.

Listed under major misdemeanors are driving while intoxicated (first offense), aggravated assault, and theft under $50. County Judge H. C. "Hank" Williams usually tries cases in this category.

At the top of the list — or bottom, depending on how you look at it — are the felonies. Murder, assault with intent to murder, forgery, theft over $50, all are in this bracket.

 tenance of county facilities and equipment.
 Trustees are used in the court-house, in the jail, by the sheriff's department, in any areas of public service. They can be used on public jobs, but cannot be used for private projects.
 The kitchen's cook at the Deaf Smith jail is a trusty; incidentally, he really knows his way around a kitchen according to the department officials. The county now spends approximately 50 cents per day to feed a prisoner; this is considerably less than the $1.20 figure on the books before the jail installed its own kitchen, using the labor available.
 Meals in the county institution consist of more than a crust of bread and a glass of water twice a day.
 A breakfast menu may include bacon and eggs, or salt pork if prices get a little steep for the county's tastes. And the cook will throw in flap jacks once in a while for variety. Lunch time is a little sparse, but not a whole lot of energy has to be exerted during a few days' jail tenure. Some light refreshments get the prisoners through their day until supper time in the evening.

COMPLETED IN 1960, the Deaf Smith County Jail is well equipped to keep pace with developments in sanitation, safety, and practicality.
 Quite unlike the box cells seen in the western movies, rooms in the Deaf Smith institution take safety and sanitation as prime factors in their planning.
 A jail break isn't as easy as it was in the old days. It would really take more flying than it's worth to get out of that place. Those doors and bars are pretty good barriers to discourage any thoughts about an escape attempt, although it certainly has been tried before.
 In the first place, there's too much metal to try to get through if a person plans on cutting his way out. In the second place, there are too many bars and doors to stop him if he plans to use the lock and key method. Which brings up another innovation of the local law enforcement department. Keys aren't the only things to open doors. Other systems have been installed, making it nearly impossible for a jail break of any sizable proportion.

 Knobs, wheels, panels, locks, some running the full length of a door, all are safety measures to keep those who have run afoul of the law in step.
 Floor plans have provided safety measures as doors are set when moving prisoners about the jail. Hallways, special cells are arranged so that a law enforcement officer can move one prisoner at a time without running the risk of having to deal with several.
MODERN CONTROL devices allow a door to a cell to be opened from an outside panel. A prisoner's name is called, he steps out the automatically opened door into another "interim" cell. The door to the cell behind him, which more than likely has several other prisoners in it, is then closed.

 the federal government and by WTSU. They will work 32 hours during the week and will attend some type of vocational school the remainder of the week as a part of the government youth program. It is designed for 18-20 year-olds who have dropped out of school.
 Bayne is to meet with Dr. Emmitt Smith of the University
 Only then is the exit of the "interim" cell opened, when the officer steps forward and escorts the prisoner to another part of the building.
 Practicality is a key word in the jail, where sanitation can become a problem—unless effective cleaning measures are in full force.
 Scrubbing down the floors, cleaning the bars and doors, all are part of the work crew's duties. The jail is designed to facilitate the cleaning process.
 The traditional padded cell, the drunk tank, the women's quarters, juvenile quarters, all are included.
 Designed for a purpose, the drunk tank is a small room lined with benches for those who are sick and vomiting. The special room helps keep the rest of the jail building sanitary, and facilitates in the cleaning processes.
WHAT ARE THE chances for rehabilitation of the offenders? Chances are good for the first offender, a deputy in the office believes. But when three or four "jobs" are on a person's record, it seems they're pretty well "on the road" to a career of crime, from all indications.
 The weather's hot; sometimes it's sticky; people are "circulating." It's only natural that the jail house be a little fuller right now. If it rains just a little, things will quieten down accordingly. Man is like the animal; when the storms come, he heads for shelter and lays low. When it's nice, he's out. Thus "surmises a deputy at the sheriff's office.

Heat . . .

 The Association agrees that there is nothing that can be done about the outside temperature and unless you have air conditioning, there is nothing you can do about the inside temperature either.
 What you can do, the medical men say is: Stay out of the sun as much as possible, especially during the middle of the day when rays are hottest. Wear light, loose clothing, the less, the better. The ladies have an edge over the men in this respect. Drink more liquids than usual, but take extra salt only on your physician's advice; particularly if you have liver or heart trouble.
TAKE A SHOWER or a dip in the pool once or twice a day to cool off. Get plenty of rest and sleep. Eat your regular diet and don't go overboard on cold cuts and salads unless you like them anyway.
 They advise that heavy work be done early in the morning or at dusk in the evening, but try to avoid heavy exertion during the hottest hours of the day.
 Exercise is considered essential, but moderation is advised for the hot summer months.
 The more relaxed outdoor life of the summer months has many advantages to compensate for the year. Stay relaxed and use common sense, the association says.
 These are suggestions for beating the heat; no results are guaranteed, however.

Saturday Rites Are Scheduled For C. E. Carney

Rosary service for Charles Earl Carney, 64, will be conducted at 8:30 p. m. Friday in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home, and funeral rites at St. Anthony's Catholic Church at 10 a. m. Saturday with the Rev. Angelus-Delahunty, S. A., officiating.
 A retired farmer, Mr. Carney died Wednesday at his home, 122 Fir, after a long illness. A Rosary service was held in the chapel Wednesday evening. Burial will be in Rest Lawn Cemetery.
 He was born Oct. 8, 1901, at Winterset, Iowa and came to Texas at the age of seven. He married Miss Mary V. Kostjens in 1925 at Kingfisher, Okla., and the family moved to this county from Pampa in 1948.
 Survivors are his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Werner Koelzer of Hereford, Mrs. Robert Van Vleet of Oakland, Calif., and Mrs. Jack Travers of St. Louis; three brothers, Frank of Amarillo, Bill and Robert of Groom and Fred Carney; and a sister, Mrs. Louis Hesseldein of Albuquerque.

 sidents from the adjoining neighborhood appeared at city commission meeting to voice complaints about the general condition of the building and sanitary conditions about the dwelling.
 Nature of the complaints was directed against trash and sewage problems connected with the building.
A SECOND RESIDENCE is located at 112 Catalpa. Crawford said the plumbing and electrical systems in the building were "unfit."
 He added that the building which is not occupied at the present time, was a bad fire hazard.
 The same comments were made in the report about two other residences at 126 A and B 25 Mile Ave.
 The persons owning the property are given the choice of either cleaning up the property and removing the hazards or they must destroy the buildings and level the lot.
AFTER THE property owners are notified by the city, they will have a hearing time set to discuss the problem with the city commission.
 After the hearings, if appropriate action is not taken the city may eventually remedy the problem at the cost of the property owners.
 By keeping a careful watch over property deterioration, the commission hopes to prevent any major "slum condition" from developing and spreading in Hereford residential areas.

 abandonment of support for the proposed large dam on Tierra Blanca Creek immediately west of the city; the committee moved to institute a study of costs and locations for one or more small dams to impound less than 200 acre feet of water, preferably to be locally financed and to be used for recreational purposes. The Board of directors approved this action taken by the water committee.
 An amendment to the Christmas decoration committee was brought out in the early bird meeting. It was moved by Thomas, approved by Melvin Young that "no new decorations be purchased this year, that all receipts over and above the actual costs of hardware and repair be applied to retiring the note; that the light strings on U. S. Hwy. 60 be hung just one to the block and that that the remaining strings be hung where most effective on U. S. Hwy. 385 between Hwy. 60 and Park Ave." The amendment was approved by the directors present.
 In final action, recommendations of the education committee were endorsed.

That old thermometer is still hanging around the century mark, and with a little humidity to go with it, it has been rather sticky around Hereford.

Mrs. Irene Beavers, just returning from a trip to cool, colorful Colorado, brought us a clipping from the La Junta Tribune-Democrat telling of the feats of some Koshare Indian rain dancers — co-starting with a live bull snake. Just two hours after the performance, the southeast Colorado countryside was drenched with a rain storm the likes of which haven't been seen in that part of the country since the days of Noah's Ark.

According to the spokesman for the Koshare dancers however, this was just a preview of things to come. Apparently this was an unusually "soggy" snake that the braves were using, destined to bring bigger and better rains in the future. The Koshare spokesman also says that he has sent flood warnings down river in anticipation of the day when they bring in a dozen or so bull snakes and really start stomping the ground for moisture.

We do appreciate Mrs. Beavers bringing us this informative clipping — which she anchored on the doorstep of the Brand with a rock from the flower planter where all the flowers are dead from lack of rain — but if she is suggesting that we do a rain dance to bring on the precipitation, we respectfully decline.

We doubt seriously if we could bring on a rain although such a performance might create a riot. Regardless, we'll leave the rain-making to the Koshare Indians and Dan True.

Speaking of the weather — and who isn't — we received a note yesterday from Mrs. Pat Hanlon of Long Beach, California, which we thought would be of some interest to our readers. Mrs. Hanlon is a former resident of Hereford and a subscriber to the Hereford Brand. Incidentally she seems to think both are great — Hereford and

The Brand. But Mrs. Hanlon was somewhat put out by a quote of another former Hereford resident which appeared in a Long Beach publication stating briefly that Hereford, Texas was "hot, dry and windy" — and insinuating at the same time that it might not be a desirable place to reside.

Along with Mrs. Hanlon, we would hasten to take pen in hand and defend dear old Hereford. In fact we will say most emphatically — it hasn't been a bit windy lately.

Hot — yes. Dry — yes! But unfortunately, the one redeeming factor that we have at a time like this — the cooling breeze — has not been present.

Now everyone familiar with the area knows that when the wind blows here — in earnest — it really blows, and perhaps that's the secret to our near perfect climate. It keeps things stirring.

But thanks Mrs. Hanlon for your kind letter. We know as you do, that there really is no place like Hereford, Texas and we must assume that the misguided former resident has simply forgotten how pleasant it can be when the cool evening breezes arrive to assure us of another night of restful sleep — without the need for air conditioning.

There's not many places like it.

Just received. A bill from our friendly competitor, Clint Forby in the amount of $262.40 for our half of the United States flags which the two organizations purchased for resale in Hereford.

That's all well and good — it was the incidental charges that floored us. To wit:

Ulcer pills (for Clint's ulcer in explaining how over 100 American flags could be lost for two weeks) . . . $11.21.

Time lost on the job (Faubion talked with everyone connected with every flag company and with every Santa Fe official in the country concerning the flags to Santa Fe; and Santa Fe to the Flag Companies. We are highly suspicious that he must have talked outside the U. S. also) . . . $9.32 (a price which we feel is exorbitant for Faubion).

Where Employed

ANY SECRETARY, interested in being considered for "Secretary of the Month" recognition should fill in the above blank and return to the Hereford Brand immediately. First recipient of the monthly award will be announced early in September. You need not be a member of any Secretaries organization to be eligible for this recognition.

Gasoline (19 trips to the Santa Fe office checking to see if the flags arrived) . . . $3.20.

Phone bill (AT&T has just agreed to settle the LD bill on this account for half of KPAN's assets or $75.00 whichever is greater).

As the situation stands now, we have paid the $262.40, which we suggested to Forby might be forwarded to the flag company via mule train, but we're still negotiating the incidental expenses.

In cooperation with the local chapter of the National Secretaries Association, the Hereford Brand is sponsoring a program to recognize a "secretary of the month" beginning in August with the announcement of the first award recipient to be announced September 1. All secretaries in — and around Hereford will be eligible regardless of your membership status in the newly formed organization.

However we do need to know who you are and where you work. Elsewhere in the Brand today is an entry blank to be filled-out and returned to this organization for that purpose. Only one entry is necessary unless you change jobs, and then we would appreciate hearing from you again.

The selection will be made by a group of Hereford businessmen, who for obvious reasons, will remain anonymous.

Criteria for selection is equivalent to the definition of a good secretary. Personal qualities of personality, appearance and efficiency in dealing with the public will be considered.

But don't forget to return the blank. This is for the purpose of locating you only — and as we said before, we need only one blank. Don't be modest. The purpose of this program is to help you, as a secretary, help yourself and in so doing, you will have automatically made a valuable contribution to the business for which you work.

Employers too, are encouraged to take an interest in this program and give the girls your support. And see that their names are entered in the competition too. It's a worthwhile project.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Friday in Central Church of Christ by Bill Brown, Lubbock minister, and Gene Fooks, minister of Central Church. Burial will be at Abernathy. Local arrangements are in charge of Gilliland Funeral Home.

A memorial has been established in Mr. Benefield's name for the heart fund.

He was born at Dunn on Feb. 9, 1915 and married Lovella DeRusha at Plainview in June, 1946. They came to Deaf Smith County in 1962 from the Plainview area. Mr. Benefield was a member of the Church of Christ and a veteran of military service in World War II.

Survivors include his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Truby Smithers of Hereford, Donnell and Levenie Benefield of the home; two sons, Johnson and William Benefield of the home; a sister, Mrs. Donna McBride, and a brother, Fred Benefield, both of Plainview.

projects, we're reminded of the elderly gentleman who observed a young lad trying to reach a door bell in order to ring it. Since the boy couldn't reach that high, the kindly old man rang the bell for him. Then he asked the boy what he was going to do next. "Run like the dickens," the boy replied. "What are you going to do?"

Cleo Littleton, Wichita State University basketball player during 1950-54, set 11 individual school records that still stand.

Glad's Garden

By GLADYS HOWLON MANHEU

Good morning! Feeling rather low? one of the best tonics for such a condition is to go into a garden, in the early morn, the beginning of the new day.

"So here has been dawning another new day, Think will you let it slip use- less away?"

Out of eternity this new day was born, And into eternity at night will return." copied.

My Mother taught me many things as a child, some of these were, that each day was special and must be accounted for; that the early morning hours of a day were the best; and that the fresh opened flowers were the prettiest.

There is nothing comparable to a fresh new opened rose, while the dew is still on it. The aesthetic and emotional beauty will start a NEW DAY right.

As we enter the garden, we should be mindful of the freshness and stillness of the morn- ing; should stop, — stand still for a while, feel the throb of the good earth, the awakening of the creatures, an awareness of the birds' songs, chirp and buzz of insects, flight of colorful butterflies, and a realization that we are co-workers with God in the creation of one tiny flower. This all combines to make one of the great enjoy- ments of a gardener. As I write these lines of poetry come to mind:

"So I'll seek my God in the morning,
And He'll guide me all of the way;
For the blessing that comes from the morning,
Will give me strength for the new day." R. B. Doug- lass.

Referring to new things, I want to name and discuss brief- ly some of the new floral in- troductions, how they are grow- ing and proving themselves in our gardens.

Since our interest in Hereford is focused on the petunias, we will mention them first. Recent- ly I was in a garden and while there I counted ten or more named varieties, some were old favorites and some were new.

The following are the names: White Magic, White Satin, Red Satin, Comanche, (this is the variety which is doing so well in The Memorial Garden at the Hereford High School, as a pro- ject of The Hereford Garden Club. Mrs. Ralph McCullough, a beloved and most capable gardener, is the chairman of the project) Pink Balcony, Fire- chief, and Deep Purple.

NEW SNAPS? — A new variety of snap- dragon is minus the snap. These were grown in the yard of Mr. R. W. Mitchell.

The planting was so arrang- ed, that as I looked down upon it, I was reminded of a beauti- ful old piece of tapestry. The deep rich tones of the dark ones, the subdued tints of the pastels, the clear intense colors accent- ed by the white lacy ruffled ones, all interlaced with the lush green foliage, and so fitted to- gether, it truly created a pic- ture of sheer beauty and lovell- ness.

The new varieties were, Sugar Plum, Appleblossom, and Star- fire. Sugar Plum, is a lovely two tone petunia in a blend of purple and lavender (these are growing in profusion in Mother's Park. It has good substance, sturdy erect bush growth, flor- ous, pleasing fragrance, and is proving of excellent quality in our area. Appleblossom petu- nia is a light pink grandiflora with a white wide throat, and a fluted edge. It is resistant to weather conditions, blooms abundantly, thrives in the gar- den, and is a choice planting for window boxes or the patio. Its grace and beauty add in- trigue and loveliness, wherever planted.

The Starfire is a multiflora petunia, having a deep coral color, with a blazing white star striking out from the cen- ter to the edge of the floret. It is indeed an attention-getter in any planting. Those who are growing it here are well pleas- ed. White Avalanche, Petunia Melody, Blue Magic, and Petu- nia Pink Cameo, are others listed in the All-American Selec- tion, which have proven themselves as being adaptable to our locale.

Another NEW, is the green zinnia, "Green Envy". It is a strong bushy plant, with good textural qualities and enjoys an easy culture. However it thrives best in a sunny location. The color is actually green giving to the garden a color never seen before in the zinnia family. The range of color is exciting, in- cluding shades of light-yellow- green, chartreuse green and cool inviting apple green. The green tones may be intensified by shading the plants with a cheese- cloth covering.

For a TRIO of Green, in your garden and for arrangements, combine the new Envy zinnia, with Green Ice-gladiola, and Bells of Ireland. This combina- tion is a real symphony in greens. An arrangement made in a darker green glass con- tainer, would be most appro- priate for a luncheon table on a hot summer day. (The menu could be so planned that all could be an extra special occa- sion.)

Another purpose for an ar- rangement would be for a pa- tio supper, using a woven bak- et for the container, and per- haps add some green limes, ap- ples or green grapes. The TRIO blends well with other garden ornamentals, and their keeping qualities are exceptional, indoors as well as outside. To grow these is a delight, just to look down into the center of the Green Envy zinnias with their intri- cateness, is payment supreme. Picture a lovely sunset suf- fused with a touch of gold, yellow, and coral and you have the color harmony of the next NEW, which we are going to discuss. It is "Bright Butterflies," a snapdragon. A new look has been given to the snapdragons in this country. In place of the tubular-throated flower so long familiar to us, this flower is open faced. Sometimes a change in flower form is a disappoint- ment but this, time it is a triumph, adding a touch of in- formality to the previous for- mality of the snapdragon, which we have grown so long.

Colors? They are suggested by the name "Bright Butter- flies," as they come in mixed colors, yellow, coral, red, pink, bronze, blends, and white. The new snapdragons are thriving in gardens here. In Mrs. R. W. Mitchell's garden (my neighbor) they are growing abundantly. She has featured them in her "yellow and white" corner. They are as fine as green-house grown snaps. The spikes are tall and sturdy, and are com- pletely covered with closely spaced florets. The florets are indeed an eye-catcher, the dainti- ness of the fluted tubular shap- ed floret, the dainty intricate center, is a thing of beauty. One of the changes is, the SNAP has been taken out, I for one miss this, as I have since a child always gotten pleasure from the Snap, as I would play with them, and then later as I grew to enjoy them in flower arranging. Since Glad, likes GLADS, I can't close this article without mentioning at least one new gladioli, which I have grown and LOVE (yes, a true garden- er LOVES her plants, flowers etc.) It is the "Purple Heart". It is tall, erect in stature and its smart well-groomed spikes are sturdy and weather resis- tant. Looking upon these, one is well aware of the sheer gleam- ing whiteness, and the Purple Hearts, like eyes that are al- ways looking at you, all fash- ioned together gives one a pic- ture not to be forgotten. This glad is an excellent cut flower and good keeper, choice ma- terial for-arranging, and com- bines well with roses or dah- lias. The later preferably in the color of the Purple Heart.

These are just a few of the proven introductions, if you are not growing them this season, do put them on your list as a MUST for next year, and they will bring gladness to your heart.

REMINDERS:

Divide and transplant your searded iris. Lift rhizomes, trim the leaves into a triangle shape, about six inches at the tallest point, and plant in a pyramid formation, having a rhizome at each point, with the center open. They should be spaced 14 or 16 inches apart, by doing the next time they are to be transplanted the center hardened rhizomes can be lifted and the plants left for two or three more seasons of growth. This is a time and energy saver.

Cut faded flowers from an- nuals, and feed lightly for later bloom. Be sure and keep the withered florets picked on the petunias so that they will continue to give an abundance of flowers.

Keep the tomato plants well watered, during these hot days, to avoid blossom-end rot.

Have you seen the pretty petunias growing in front of The Hereford Insurance Offices at 323 Sampson Street, and at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ewton, 163 West Haven Drive (Mrs. Ewton is a member of The Garden Beautiful Garden Club). Write or call me about other petunia plantings in town or country, and we'll compare notes, give names of the varieties if possible.

THANKS! for the letters, phone calls, and words of ap- preciation and interest which you have shown. This is your column, too, so share findings of the Garden World with me. Be an "EARLY-RISER" Gar- dener.

Hereford Paisano Lions Club Rebels will host the Amarillo Indians in an all-important game Sunday at Whiteface Field at 2 p. m. IF THE local team can swing its way to a win it will take first place in the Panhandle City Local Ballteam Organization. Earlier in the season the locals were downed by the Amarillo team 6-5, but since then have mounted a five-game winning streak for a 11-4 season record. LAST SUNDAY the Rebels hosted both Muleshoe and Friona in a doubleheader - winning both games. In the first game the locals downed Friona 6-1 and in the second the team took an 11-7 win over Muleshoe. Winning pitchers in the games were Alex Diaz and Naho Gonzales. Alex Diaz, Ray Martinez and Al Salinas led the Rebels in hitting with three hits each. CHARLIE Moreno, Obe Lial, Robert Wagoner, Longo Cuellar and Rudy Martinez followed with two hits each. In the Muleshoe game Hereford was scoreless during the first three innings. Alex Diaz and Al Salinas both singled and Obe Lial drove a triple into the right field corner scoring both Diaz and Salinas. Lengo Cuellar hit a line drive over third to bring in Lial. With Cuellar on second the next two men were left swinging. RAY Martinez hit a single to centerfield, bringing in Cuellar. At the end of the third inning the Rebels had taken a 4-2 lead over Muleshoe. Muleshoe came back in the bottom of the third inning to tie the score up at 4-4. In the fourth inning the locals scored three runs to get back into the lead 7-4. ONCE again in the seventh inning Muleshoe scored enough runs to tie the score at 7-7. Hereford came back to score five more runs to give the final 11-7 win. In the second game the Rebels were scoreless in the first inning, but came back in the second to take a 1-0 lead over Friona. Both teams remained scoreless for four more innings and in the seventh inning Hereford scored five more runs for a 6-1 lead.

IN NAZARETH

Pony All-Stars Win One Lose One In Tournament

Hereford Pony Leaguers will continue in the third day of tournament play tonight at Nazareth when they clash with Littlefield at 6:30 p. m. MONDAY evening the locals downed Littlefield 5-3 in the first game out and Tuesday the all-stars dropped their second game to Borger 11-1. If the Hereford team loses one more game they will be eliminated from tournament play, but if they win tonight they will continue onto the semi-finals against the loser of the Castro County-Borger game, which will be played tonight at 8:30 p. m. IN OTHER action during the week Castro County downed Anton 5-3 and Littlefield defeated Anton 14-2. Anton was eliminated from the tournament with the second loss. Monday Jerry Odom was the winning pitcher. The local team did not score until the second inning. MARK Woodward got on first on an error, he then moved on to second on the same error. Lonnie Coffey walked, stole second and went to third on a passed ball. On the same passed ball Woodward scored the first run for Hereford. Keith Duncan singled bringing Coffey home and then stole second and third and came home on a fielders choice. IN THE third inning Jeff Loerwald and Jerry Odom got on base with an error. Santry Rush singled scoring both Loerwald and Odom. Rush then came in finishing the scoring for the Hereford all-stars in the game. In Tuesday's play Keith Anderson was the losing pitcher against Borger. ALAN Wagner scored the only run of the evening for the locals in the final inning. Wagner singled, getting the scoring run started. Loerwald then came up and got on first base on an error. Wagner traveled to third and then home. Loerwald was picked off third to end the game at 11-1 in favor of the Borger team. Bill Wall is the coach for the team during the tournament.

CAP Cadets Work For Long Range Rewards

Cadets of the Hereford unit of the Civil Air Patrol under-go an intensive program to prepare themselves for a future in aeronautics. Most of it is hard study and the 'fun' is in the form of actual experiences with air transport and training bases.

At a recent meeting of the group, visiting Col. O. G. Minden of Amarillo explained to the group that the Vietnamese conflict was curtailing many actual flight experiences the group might have.

THIS SUMMER, Cadet T-Sgt. Ren Lee and Cadet Airman 1st Class Mark Roberson will attend summer encampment at Perrin Air Force Base, Dennison, Texas. They are leaving July 23 for an eight day training as part of requirements for a certificate of proficiency. This requirement must be met before they can attain an officer grade, flight training or any top rank.

Five Hereford cadets have received the certificate of proficiency: Cadet 2nd Lt. Ray Ogleby, Cadet 2nd Lt. Galen Evans, Cadet Master Sgts. Jim Owen, Chuck Schneider, and Dale Minor.

In the CAP cadet program, phase one consists of eleven weeks of orientation for candidates. At this time, Christine Torrigian, Bill McClesky, John Torrigian and Joe Walker are engaged in phase 1 activities.

PHASE 2 is a long training period of six units, each made up of eleven weeks of study. Some of the sessions are devoted to power, some theory. Others deal with navigation, some aero-space developments, basic military drill and discipline such as wearing of uniforms.

Phase 2 cadets include: Ren Lee, David Kelly, Mark Roberson and Chuck Conyer.

Also included in the program are a series of moral lectures delivered by the chaplain, 1st Lt. CAP Gene Fooks.

With the summer encampment, the trainee can receive a certificate of proficiency after the phase 2 training.

Advancement to cadet officer grade comes during Phase 3. One eleven week study advances the candidate to the rank of Cadet 2nd Lieutenant.

Cadets in phase three study staff procedures and help with phase 2 training. Advancement to 1st lieutenant requires four-11 week periods.

THE AVERAGE student must study about two hours a week in addition to the two hour formal training required.

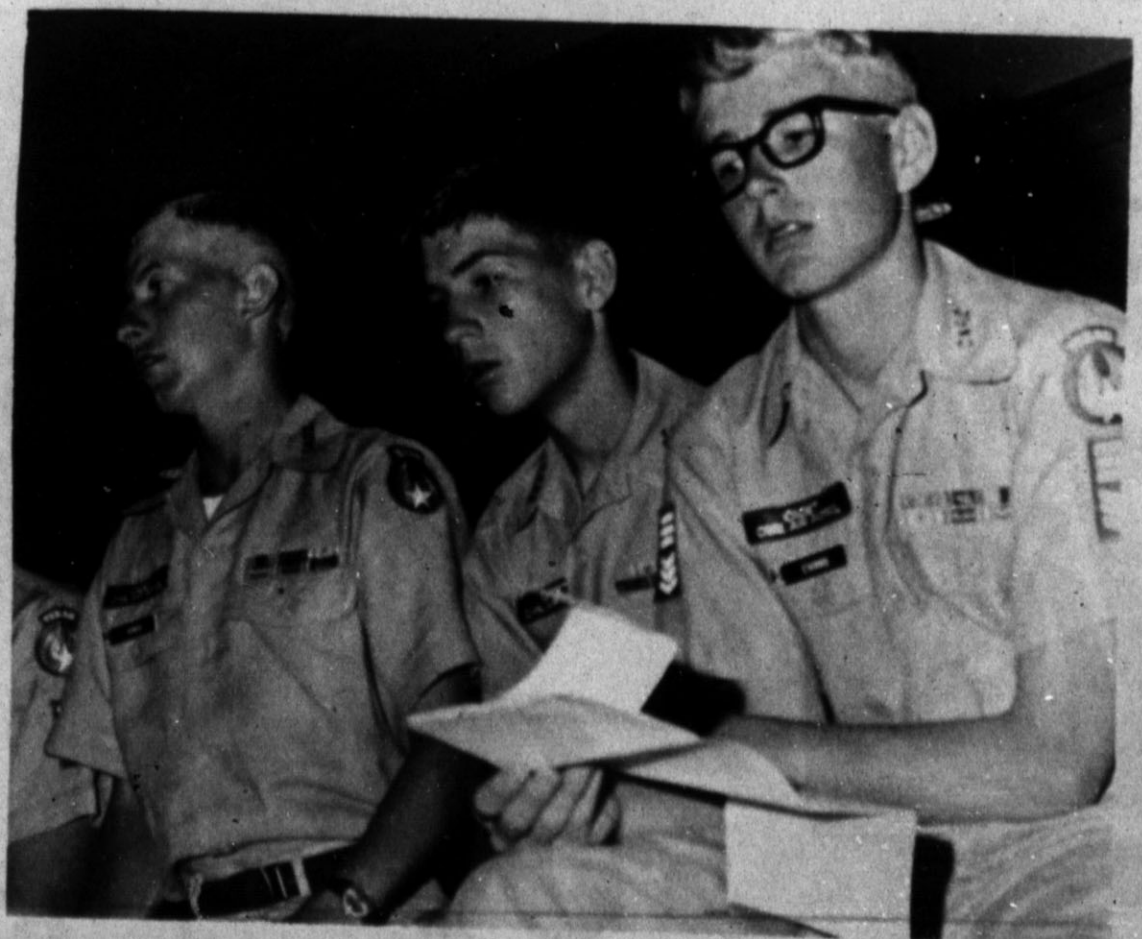

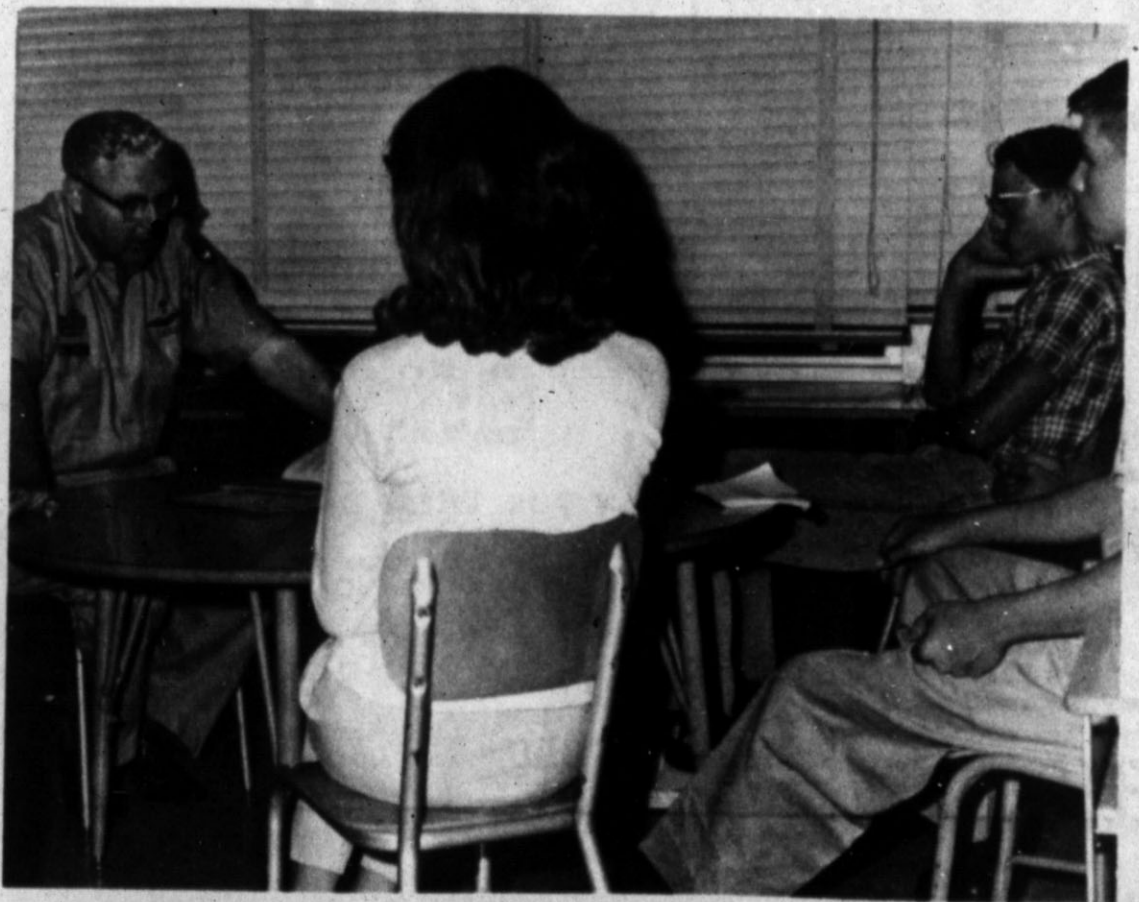

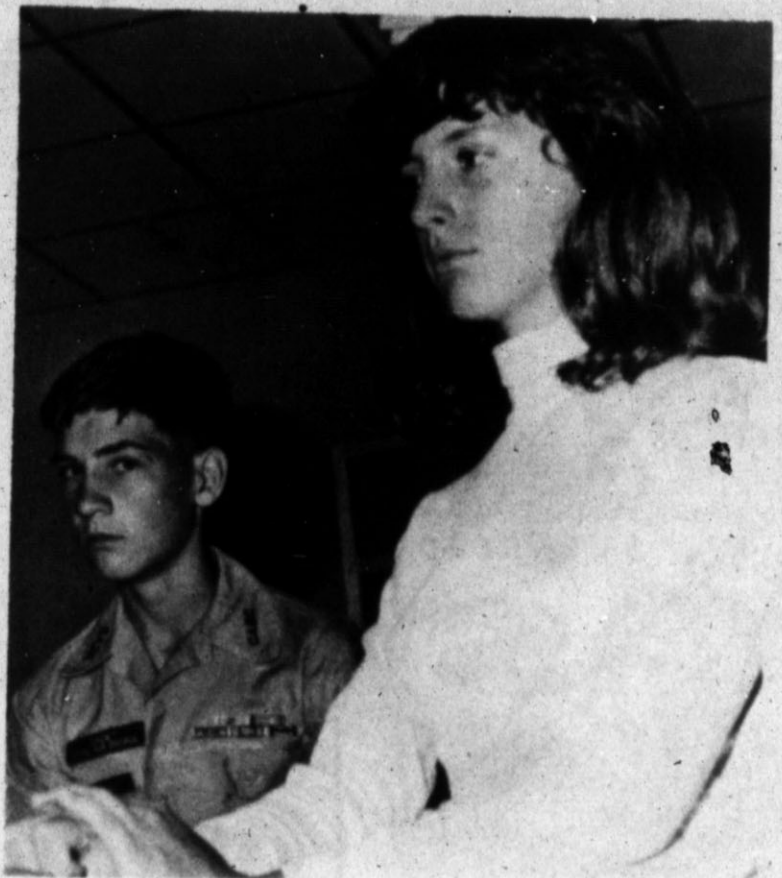

Physical training requirements are guided by the national standards of physical fitness.

In the training program a cadet can achieve the rank of cadet colonel.

Cadets may enter the training program if they are 13 or over. Ages 18-21 are offered a choice as cadet or senior member of the CAP.

Captain of the Hereford Cadet training program is Milton Adams. Deputy for Cadets is Bill Thompson.

Members are embarking on a project to acquire a building for their meetings. They hope to have access to the municipal airport and to have room to house electronic equipment that is part of their practical training for space age living.

We were browsing through the magazine racks recently and noticed that many of the sports publications are already talking football.

IT SEEMS hard to believe, that in less than a month many of the high school and college football teams will be hitting the season practice sessions and in about six weeks teams will be kicking off the high school playing season.

Although AAA schools are not allowed to hold spring training sessions, the outlook for Hereford is good this year. Only two holes were left in the line by graduation and coach Jack Meredith says he hopes to have a strong back field by the time the season begins.

We can say that at the present time it looks like the battle for the district 1-AAA championship will be a royal battle between Dumas and Hereford.

DUMAS WAS almost completely unharmed by graduations, losing only one or two players from the lineup.

Tulia will probably make a strong comeback this year although they did lose a number of players and will have a new staff to be slighted coaching staff this year.

None of the teams in Here-this year though, because District 1-AAA is known for its strong football teams.

SPEAKING OF football — some lucky Herefordite will get a trip to the Cotton Bowl in January, compliments of the Hereford Brand.

The Brand will again be sponsoring the annual football contest for those who have a talent at predicting the football games during the fall.

Contestants will enter during the season — each week — and at the end of the contest the entrant with the most correct answers will win free tickets to the Cotton Bowl.

WE HAVE received several ballots giving us a chance to predict the outcome of Southwest Conference ball this winter.

Although many persons try to place the teams — the Southwest Conference is one of the most difficult to tell about. Often the standings change each weekend.

We predicted that Arkansas would dominate the conference again this year and would take the title for the second consecutive year.

J. T. King's Red Raiders will be our next choice in the conference. Tech did well for themselves last, losing only two games in conference play. The first was to Texas and the other was the exciting game with Arkansas.

TECH IS continuing to build and we feel that they can capture second place in the conference and may give Arkansas some problems.

Although Texas did not make a spectacular showing last year — for the first time in a number of years, they will have to be our choice for third place.

Texas may surprise a few people and place higher, but we feel third is where they will place.

a number of seasons. Graduation didn't seem to hurt the Buffaloes this year and coaches are predicting a strong team.

The Buffaloes do have a tough schedule ahead of them this fall, but we feel that the team will be able to hold its own against all of its opponents.

These predictions are off the cuff and not as soundly based as many professional predictions but who knows how the teams will finish.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

Old-Timer Gives Recipe

One-room schoolhouses, each with a handful of pupils in five or six grades, were the rule in the sparsely-settled Panhandle around the turn of the century, and teenaged Vida Orr taught in three of them in the north part of Deaf Smith County.

MARRIAGE TO John Jacobsen in 1907 ended her teaching career, as married women were not employed by school systems in those days. She has lived in Hereford since that time, 58 years in the home at 643 West Second which she still occupies.

Mrs. Jacobsen is well known here as a member of a pioneer family and a homemaker; in 1965 she was honored as the County Home Demonstration Club Woman of the Year. Her membership in West Hereford H. D. Club dates back about 20 years and she has held various offices.

Her black eyes sparkle as she talks of amusing incidents of her years as a young school-teacher, some of them not so amusing when they happened as they have become in recollection.

THE ORR FAMILY came to Deaf Smith County from Denton in 1902, arriving on the train and staying in a hotel until the arrival of the freight car which brought their household goods and two horses.

While they waited for a house to be built on their place 13 miles north of town, on what is now the Strafus land, they shared a house with a neighbor. A four-room home was soon completed with the help of neighbors, and a cellar dug as a storage place for food.

Because they came too late in the season to grow a garden, the neighbors gave the new family produce from their gardens, and Mrs. Jacobsen remembers especially the fine heads of cabbage that had been grown by a Mrs. Ward.

NEIGHBORLY SWAPPING of food was one of the ways the early settlers managed to provide for their families with the use of little cash, Mrs. Jacobsen says; hog-killing at one farm meant fresh meat at many nearby homes.

Although homes were widely scattered over the open plains, with the Orrs' nearest neighbor a mile and a half distant, there was a close community of interest and a sense of mutual dependence. It was an all-day trip to Hereford, so shopping was no casual event. Most food was produced at home, and clothes were made there.

Vida Orr looked younger than her 18 years when she began teaching at the Ward School, four miles on north of her home. Enrollment varied from six to ten during the school year, with pupils in six grades.

THE BUILDING had been moved from old LaPlata, the original county seat of Deaf Smith which vanished when it was by-passed by the railroad. It was a one room wooden structure, heated in winter by a pot-bellied stove in the center.

Other buildings in which Vida taught were in the same pattern, Day School near Wildorado and Files School near the Rutherford Ranch home. Able to live at home when she taught at Ward, she boarded in patrons' homes in the other districts.

She went to school in a horse-drawn buggy, as did the pupils who didn't come horseback. Schoolhouses were located centrally in the community, usually not very near any house. Pupils were from the few families who lived in reach of the building.

BUILDING A FIRE in the stove on wintry mornings, "while my feet were still frozen," was one of the unpleasant tasks for the teacher. In extremely cold weather, when snow was drifted across roads, school would simply dismiss because the children could not get there.

Pupils received individual attention from the teacher because there were seldom more than one or two in any grade. Usually seventh grade subjects were the most advanced, but

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A stroll on Main Street Monday morning — and a stroll was the best progress you could make — indicates that a sidewalk sale is a social occasion in Hereford as well as a merchandising event.

NO MATTER WHO you are, you meet friends among the bargain-hunters, while you get fresh air and sunshine as a bonus. Some of the social meetings sort of blocked traffic for the serious shoppers, but nobody seems to mind that at a sidewalk sale.

In a few minutes we said hello to Margaret Kelly and Julia Brown, ~~teasing, discouraging~~ or discouraging — each other in grabbing of the marked-downs; Wilma Baugous looking at shoes for her three lively boys who appeared more interested in the lemonade stands; Ora Morgan pausing at a display of purses; Ruth Bartlett in a most attractively cool-looking ticking-striped dress; Bobby Metcalf trying to keep on a businesslike course on her way to the post-office.

And why is it that the bargain dress you really do like, turns out to be size 8 or 20 when you're only a medium?

MR. AND MRS. Fred Weich are back with interesting accounts of a trip to Manitoba, Canada, and points between. The drive through South Dakota Badlands impressed them in this country, then across the border they found much of interest around Winnipeg, the provincial capital.

Lower Fort Garry, a national park, showed them 150 years of Canadian history since the Hudson's Bay Company built it to protect its fur trade. The Roy-

Vida had one pupil who was ready to begin the study of algebra so she brushed up on that subject and led the student into it.

"And that wasn't the only time I learned as much as the pupils," she laughs.

School buildings were used for all sorts of community gatherings then, and church services were held in them on Sundays.

"WE WENT TO Sunday School twice nearly every Sunday," Mrs. Jacobsen says. "It was held in the morning at Ward and in the afternoon at Ford School, north of us. Whenever a visiting minister was available, there would be a church service too."

Entertainment, like the clothing and food of the pioneers, was mostly home-made. Parties in homes were enjoyed often, but Mrs. Jacobsen remembers one especially. A heavy fog enveloped the country while the party was in progress and guests were reluctant to drive out into it.

"So we just spent the night there, and kept on playing games and had a real good time," she explains.

AFTER THEIR MARRIAGE, the Jacobsens lived in an apartment for a year until their house was built. It had just two rooms then but later another two-room building was moved in and joined to it, then another addition was built before it became the rambling, comfortable residence it is at present.

The Jacobsens had four children. Chris lives in Hereford and Berry in Amarillo now; another son, John Jr., died only recently and their daughter, Louise, who like her mother was a teacher, died in 1940. There are four grandchildren, two girls and two boys.

Mrs. Jacobsen says she is not a "fancy cook" but she gives a recipe for a cool and pretty summer salad, easily prepared.

PINEAPPLE-CHERRY SALAD

- 1 package cherry Jello
- 1 package dream whip
- 1 can (No. 2) shredded pineapple

Dissolve Jello in about 1 1/4 cups boiling water. Let stand to egg-while consistency, then whip.

Mix dream whip with 1/2 cup cold milk, whip it well and mix with whipped Jello. Fold in the pineapple and chill.

al Canadian Mounted Police had its start there. They also visited a museum and art gallery in Winnipeg.

Northward to Lake Winnipeg, they found the beach swarming with swimmers and boats, and at the port city of Selkirk were fishing vessels and freighters which serve residents around that large lake. The Hereford couple took a lake tour to an Icelandic commercial fishing village.

Enroute home they went through much of the province of Ontario, along Lake Superior, into Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa.

MR. AND MRS. George F. Batty of Long Beach, Calif., are visiting Mrs. Ruby Gilbreath. Mrs. Batty is the former Harriette Shirley of Hereford.

TWO DAUGHTERS of Mrs. Mabel Wagner, 138 Beach, and their families are her guests for several days. Lucille, Mrs. D. L. Hayden, and her children are here from Kinder, La., and Louise, Mrs. Ed Mitchell, with her husband and son are visitors from Dallas. They are also visiting in the home of Mrs. Wagner's son, Lester Wagner, 224 Centre.

I've met lately is Rowdy, who rushed in and took possession of the Camp Fire Girls Hut one morning when his mistress, Mrs. Philip Barkley, was helping line up a group of girls for a picture. He acts sort of like he owns the place, and all the girls who happen to be in it.

Mrs. Bodkin Is Birthday Honoree, 87

Mrs. Mary Bodkin was honored on her 87th birthday Monday with an informal coffee in the home of Mrs. Paul Hoff. Mrs. Bodkin is a long-time resident of Hereford and has been designated the oldest active Home Demonstration Club member in this county.

Other members of her club, North Hereford H. D., were among the friends who were guests to share the birthday cake which Mrs. Hoff had baked to serve with coffee Monday.

One guest was a former Hereford resident, Mrs. Arch Conklin, now of Fort Smith, Ark. Others were Mmes. Otto Olson, A. E. Hodges, Fred Barrett, O. L. Williams, Clay Ridgeway and Otto Massie, also Deborah and Kiska Hodges.

Brothers and sisters who form the nucleus of the family are Horace Hershey of Hereford, Howard Hershey of Dimmitt, Mrs. Arch Conklin of Fort Smith, Ark., Mrs. Travis Clegg of Carrizozo, N. M. and Mrs. Mary Ella Ricketts of Portales, N. M.

M. and Mrs. Arnold Hershey of Abilene.

Friends who attended the reunion included Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ethridge, Mrs. Clay Ridgeway and Mrs. Andy Thomas.

Progressive Community Holds Annual Reunion

A singing reunion of Progressive Community residents Sunday kept up a tradition that any gathering of Progressive folk will end in a songfest. Former residents from Arkansas, Oklahoma and Colorado and over Texas were among the 133 persons registered. (See pictures page one this section.)

Haskell Benson was elected president for the 1967 reunion, set for the third Sunday in July, and Miss Lucille Park was named secretary. They will succeed Jeff Roberson and Mrs. Cecil Lady in the respective offices.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberson, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Lady were hosts for the seventh annual reunion in Community Center. A picnic lunch was served after an informal morning gathering. Tables were decorated with arrangements made by Mrs. R. L. Ethridge of beautiful gladiolus and other flowers grown by Augustine Gregory.

Led by D.Y. Edwards, Cecil Boyer, Millard Gregory and Virginia Bowman Bussell, the group joined in hearty singing of favorite gospel songs.

Special music was by a quartet comprising Jake and Millard Gregory, Boyer and Eunice Caldwell Boyer with Augustine Gregory as pianist; a duet, Katherine Ricketts Russell and Mrs. Boyer with Mrs. Lady at the piano; Marjorie Kemp and her father, Mr. Watts, accompanied by the latter's guitar.

In memory of Fred Caldwell, community resident whose death occurred in the past year, a moment of silence was observed. The dinner invocation was by Noel Higgins, opening and closing prayers for the afternoon meeting by Ira Ricketts and Boyer.

Mrs. Bess Werner told the group of developing plans for the Deaf Smith County Museum and invited Progressive residents to become members of the Deaf Smith Historical Society which sponsors the museum.

Traveling the longest distance to attend the reunion, Mrs. Arch Conklin came from Fort Smith, Ark., 500 miles.

County Precincts Viewed By State Supreme Court

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN — There could be a new look around many Texas county commissioners courts under a reapportionment opinion laid down by the Texas Supreme Court in the case brought by Mayor Hank Avery of Midland. Avery maintained that it isn't constitutional for one Midland County Commissioner to represent 95 per cent of the county's population — the City of Midland — while the other three only 5 per cent of the people. Supreme Court agreed, 8-1, but with reservations. It held that the ratio was not fair representation, but that the re-division of county precincts, which it told Dist. Judge Joe B. Dibrell of Coleman to order, could consider factors other than population. Declining to extend the population-only rule which the U. S. Supreme Court has applied to state legislatures, Supreme Court held that a commissioners court is not a legislative body. Court's majority wrote that the road, bridge and tax activities of the commissioners courts of the county have more concern to rural residents than to city dwellers. In recent years, such courts have concerned themselves mainly with non-urban areas, leaving city matters to the city governments. Supreme Court concluded that not just population, but also factors such as miles of county road, taxable values and geography, plus the "convenience of the people" set out in the Texas Constitution, can be taken into account by a commissioners court in dividing the county into four precincts. High court agreed with Judge Dibrell that the present Midland County situation obviously is arbitrary and should be declared invalid. Case either will go back to Judge Dibrell for final decision or will be appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court by either Mayor Avery or Midland County — since neither won a clear-cut victory.

INTEGRATION WARNING
Sixty-four Texas school districts have received letters from the federal office of Education warning of slowness in faculty integration, reports Leon R. Graham, assistant state education commissioner.

Graham said 33 other districts around the state were notified that they had violated federal law by failing to submit plans for integrating teachers. He said the Office of Education expects districts to employ at least one Negro teacher for each school which was previously all-white and at least one white teacher for each previously all-Negro school. Some flexibility, however, is allowed, he added.

No federal funds will be given schools which fail to comply with the regulations of the Office of Education, Graham noted, and the federal government wants not part-timers or substitutes.

NEW EGG REPORT
Texas Department of Agriculture's Marketing Division begins publication of a new one-market egg price report July 19, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

Formerly, quotations from six separate state egg market areas were used in reporting egg prices. "Advantage of the new policy," White said, "is that the single state-wide price quotation for each grade represents a true market for the state, so the information is more useful to producers and buyers alike."

NURSES NEEDED
Former Gov. Allan Shivers has launched a statewide campaign to pull Texas up from rank of 46th in the United States in number of registered nurses on the job.

More than 200 civic and business volunteers from all corners of the state joined with Shivers in seeking $12,000,000 within the next five years to recruit and teach enough nurses to make up for the 10,500 shortage now. Their meeting was the first of the Development Council of the Texas Hospital Association health careers program.

Gerald Mann of Dallas, newly appointed chairman of the development council, said the group will ask the legislature for more funds to fight the critical shortage of nurses.

MORE AIR SERVICE
Texas Aeronautics Commission approved applications by two small airlines to provide three new state routes.

Houston Commuter Airlines, a new organization, will run two flights daily between Houston and Laredo with a "whistle stop" at Alice. Hood Airlines of Killeen will extend its present service to include a Houston-Ft. Worth flight and a separate Killeen-Houston run.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

Out-of-state witnesses in felony trials and grand jury hearings must be paid by counties up to limit of $2,000 at usual rate for out of county witnesses, Att. Gen. Waggoner Carr held. Carr ruled that:

—A City judge sitting as a magistrate has jurisdiction to accept local complaints in cases which he cannot try, issue warrants of arrests and transfer the cases to other magistrates for examining trial.

Vocational Rehabilitation Division of Texas Education Agency can pay tuition for handicapped persons to attend denominational schools for training.

—Thirty-one-year-old dormant Galveston Junior College still is in legal existence and may be reactivated by disannexation of overlapped territory of another district.

FUTURE PROBLEMS EYED
Governor's Committee on Public School Education adopted further research project guidelines for its three-year study of school needs. One committee member insisted on adding to the list of study topics, "how to get rid of incompetent teachers."

Committee recommended a budget of $253,338 for 1968 and $40,000 for 1969 to finance its work through the 1969 legislative session.

SHORT SNORTS
Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont has asked an investigation of auto insurance rates by Texas Legislative Council research arm of Legislature. Light investigations of pink bollworm were reported in Trans-Pecos cotton fields, according to U. S. Department of Agriculture, which also reports Valley cotton is opening three to four weeks later than in 1965. State Highway Department will acquire scenic easements to protect area around President Johnson's LBJ ranch from commercial signs and buildings. Railroad Commission has set August 1 hearing on application of Texas and Pacific to discontinue passenger train service between Dallas and El Paso. Governor Connally announced approval of 16 projects under Economic Opportunity Act, including initial program development grants for Cass and Marion, Potter and Randall counties and $189,643 employment project grant for Atascosa, Karnes and Wilson counties. Governor's Council on Mental Retardation is studying proposal to extend services of State Welfare Department to families with mentally-retarded children in 37 East Texas counties served by Denton State School.

Birth Rate Due To Increase

NEW YORK — A dramatic reversal is due shortly in Deaf Smith County's birth rate, which has been following the national pattern and been dropping for some time. It is expected to zoom upward now on for a period of at least five years.

Why the change? Because of the large crop of postwar babies, now grown up and reaching marriageable age.

Locally, the number of young women who will become 20, the most popular marrying age, during the next five years, will be about 21 percent greater than in the past five years.

These girls were part of the tidal wave of children who were born in the United States between 1946 and 1951, just after the war.

Data on their pending coming-of-age has been compiled by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and by the Department of Commerce. The figures show that Deaf Smith County will participate fully in the upswing. The number of young women locally who are now in the 14- to 19 bracket and who will be 20 to 25 years old during the next five years is placed at 688.

The big questions are when will they choose to have their first children and what size families will they want.

The decision that young couples, in Deaf Smith County and elsewhere across the country, make on that score will have a profound effect on the national economy.

Should the vogue change from the present 2.3 children per woman, to an average of 3.0, the population would rise about 50 percent in the next 25 years.

For most young couples, the dollars and cents factor is the principal one involved, according to the Public Health Service. Job security, the cost of living and the cost of raising children are their major considerations.

The official figures show that the birth rate in the United States has been dropping ever since 1957.

The latest government report lists Deaf Smith County with a rate of 38.1 births per 1,000 population.

This compares with a rate of 19.5 per 1,000 for the nation as a whole and 22.2 per 1,000 in the State of Texas.

Mrs. Jim Arney follows club aim

MADAM PRESIDENT . . .

Club Name Describes Presidents Status

A stenographer for an oil company before her marriage, Mrs. Jim Arney, new president of Young Mothers Study Club, finds a homemaker's career more rewarding, especially now that her children are growing up.

The attractive brunette is the mother of three, Jimmy, 9, Cheryl, 8, and David, 6. She enjoys her club's programs, in which members study relationships with their own children, and its projects, usually directed toward helping less fortunate children.

In her five years as a member, Zula Arney has been in various offices and committee work. She joined the club shortly after the Arneys moved here from her native state, Oklahoma.

Her schooldays were completed at Leedey as she grew up in Western Oklahoma, and she was employed in an oil company office at Elk City after graduation. Occasional temporary jobs are her only connection now with the business world.

Family recreation with emphasis on outdoor activity is favored by the Arneys. Most fun of all for the children, Mrs. Arney says, is a visit to her parents' farm home where they have the run of the place.

Work in First Methodist Church is another interest of Mrs. Arney, who is superintendent of the younger children's division in the church school. She is also a member of the Woman's Society and has been an officer. Related to the church program is her membership on the Migrant Ministry Board.

Her aim for Young Mothers Club is to foster "fun in earning together" and she is looking forward to a busy club year beginning in September.

VFW Delegates To Give Reports

Reports on the annual Texas convention of Veterans of Foreign Wars will be given at the Hereford post meeting this evening and at the Ladies Auxiliary meeting July 28, by the three delegates who went from this city.

C. W. Smith, commander-elect of District 13, and Harry A. Burke, senior vice commander-elect of the district and commander of Post 4818, represented the VFW district. Mrs. Burke was the representative of the Hereford Auxiliary.

The conventions of both organizations were held July 2 and 3 in Houston. Highlight of the program was an address by the national commander of the veterans group, Andy Berg. Mr. and Mrs. Burke went from Houston to Shreveport and other places in Louisiana, then to Tulsa for a visit before they returned home Saturday.

Card Of Thanks

We take this means of expressing our appreciation to each and everyone for all the acts of kindness shown us during the loss of our Mother, Mrs. Leora Robinson. For all the flowers, food, memorials, cards and prayers we are deeply grateful. May God's richest blessings be forever yours.

able from East Texas. He says in the first place, the Water Board in its determination of the amount of excess water has used the lowest runoff period rather than taking an average runoff over a period of years.

Second, he thinks it likely that the East Texas area has padded its foreseeable requirements for water.

As to the cost of the water transported to West Texas, Nelson notes that no economic study has been made for West Texas comparable to that made for South Texas. And he calls attention to the fact that the total cost of irrigation projects is never charged to growers, but is partially subsidized by federal reclamation laws in the interest of assuring sufficient food and fiber for national needs.

He contends a thorough study of the cost factor should be made, and that West Texans should then be allowed to determine whether they can afford it.

He says: "The water plan should provide for the more immediate and pressing needs of all Texas, not just a part of it, pending the day in 25 or 30 years when out-of-state water sourced can be made available to the state."

The PCG committee is expected to study the plan in its entirety, attend the various hearings being held across the state by the Water Board, and to work close with Nelson's Water for the Future Committee and others toward correction of any inequities before the plan is finally adopted.

Letter To The Editor

LUBBOCK — The Executive Committee of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., has authorized PCG President J. D. Smith to appoint a water committee to study the Texas Water Plan proposed by the Texas Water Development Board.

The Texas Water Plan is being formulated by the Texas Water Commission and the Texas Water Development Board at the request of Governor John Connally. It is "a flexible proposal for the protection, conservation, development, redistribution and administration of water resources to meet water needs for all purposes throughout the state to the year 2020 and beyond."

A major portion of the plan now laid out in the TWDB is concerned with the impounding and redistribution of surplus surface waters in Texas.

But the High Plains and the rest of West Texas is specifically excluded from the redistribution plan. Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., says the plan, in effect, declares West Texas an "ineligible receiver," and allocates all surplus water to South Texas.

State Senator Joe Kilgore, chairman of the water board's Consulting Advisory Panel, has stated that the most urgent water requirement facing the state is an adequate surface water supply for irrigation on the High Plains and in the El Paso and Trans-Pecos areas.

That statement and the rest of the quote is contained word for word in the TWDB report. It continues "There is not enough surface water in the rest of Texas, excess to foreseeable requirements, to provide for the present level of water use in these West Texas areas. If excess water were available, under the concept that each user and those who benefit directly by such use should pay the cost of water delivery, West Texas irrigators could not pay the price, estimated to be at least $188 an acre-foot, to develop and transport East Texas water to the west."

The report goes on to say that West Texas will have to rely on water imported in a regional plan from such out-of-state sources as the lower Mississippi or the northwestern United States.

It makes no allowance for the fact that there is no hope water could be made available to Texas from such sources in less than 30 years, nor the fact that a decline in irrigated acreage is predicted for West Texas beginning in 1980, less than 15 years hence.

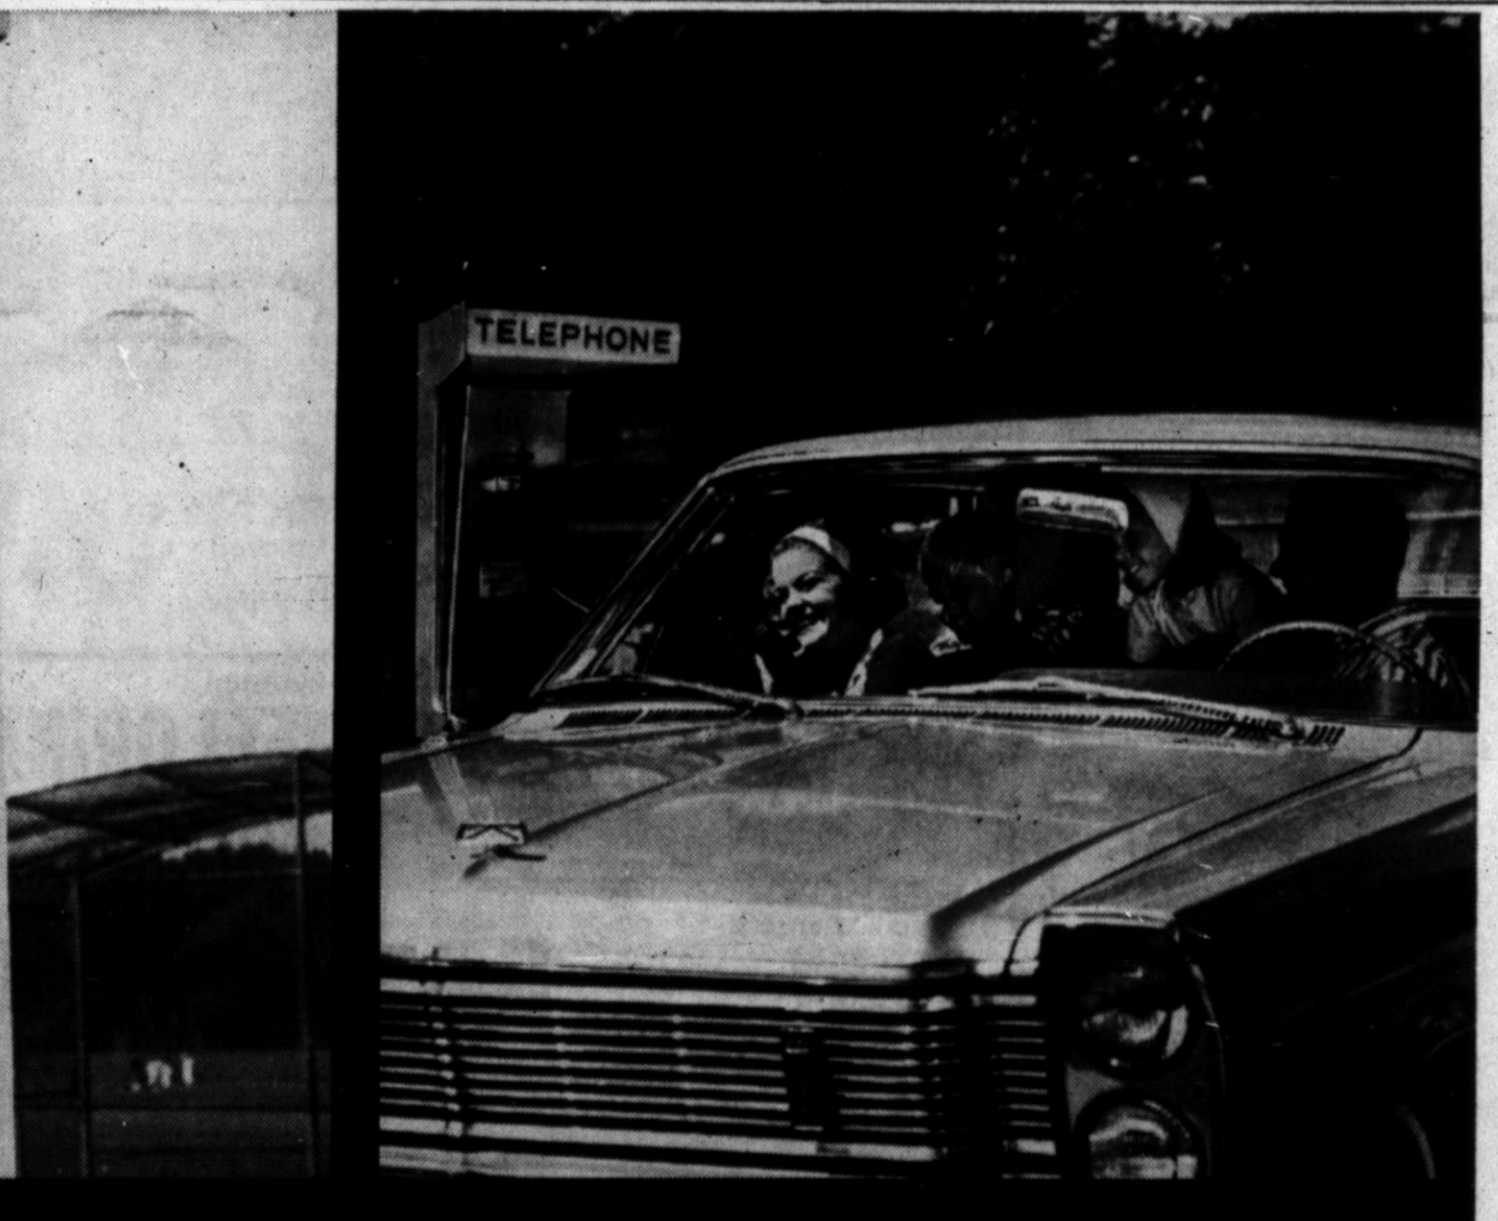

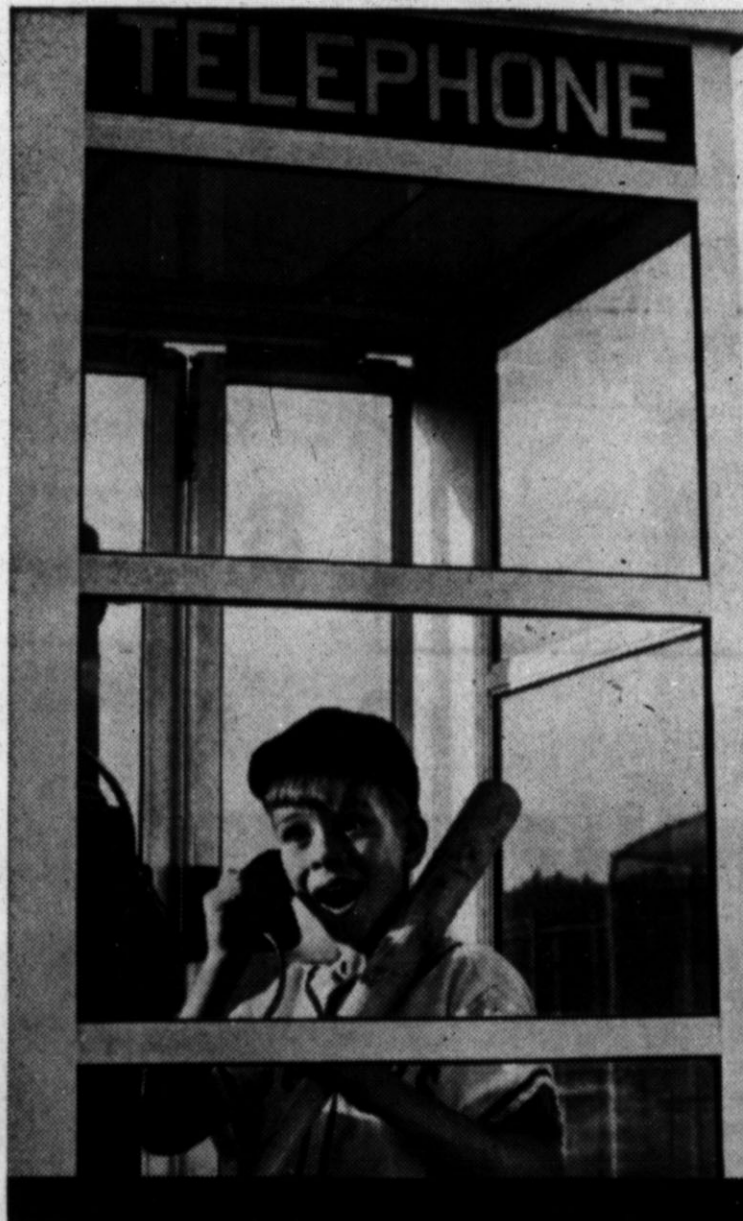

G. H. Nelson, Chairman of the Water for the Future Committee of the West Texas Water Institute, is one of those who feels West Texas is not getting a fair shake under the plan.

He agrees there isn't enough surplus water in Texas to supply all of the needs of both South Texas and the High Plains until the year 2020. But he points out that the plan proposes to furnish irrigation water to some 830,000 acres of land which has never before been irrigated, and some of which is not even under cultivation, in the Coastal Bend and Lower Rio Grande areas.

And he questions the justice of using the state's available surplus water to build a new economy on newly irrigated land while allowing the Plains economy, already established on irrigation, to decline.

Also, Nelson takes exception to the report's statement that only two-and-half million acre feet of surplus water is avail-

HemisFair Plans Texas Culture

SAN ANTONIO — Architects have unveiled completed designs and scale model photographs of the proposed Institute of Texan Cultures at HemisFair 1968.

The presentation was made to the executive committee of the fair by the Houston-based firm of Caudill Rowlett Scott, and the associated architects, Collins & Wagner of San Antonio.

The three-level structure of concrete and glass will occupy a 13-acre site in the southeast corner of the HemisFair grounds. It will be contained within a sculptured embankment or berm on four sides. Entry through this earthen wall will be by a bridge across a pool in front of the warm, light-colored main facade. Water in the pool will flow from a series of tributary streams at one end over rapids to a quiet basin area at the other, culminating in a high lofting fountain. It is intended to symbolize whole Texas culture and its contributing ethnic elements.

The Caudill Rowlett Scott group included Thomas A. Bullock, partner; Bert E. Ray, project manager, and Norman Hoover, project designer.

Bullock said the building was designed primarily as a center for presentation of the ethnic history of Texas culture, from the earliest Indians to the present society. Unlike conventional museum displays, these histories would be traced using modern sound and graphics media, such as films on rear projection screens, magnetic tapes, photomurals and slides. Representative artifacts and archives would be on loan on occasion from other institutions for display supplementary to the audio-visual presentations.

They would be viewed by fair visitors, and some of the material produced would be made available where possible to broadcast media, museums and other institutions, for maximum exposure of authentic Texas folkways and the recorded complex history of Texas people.

Bullock said "visitors will come to see and hear, and discover the events of the past, not to view collections of artifacts and archives. Those collections are the important and useful business of existing museums."

The building will be 50 feet high and measure 365 feet by 240 feet. It will have a gross floor area of more than 145,000 square feet.

Ray showed plans for the center level to contain the principal exhibit area with a vaulted ceiling equipped with viewing screens. The lower level is planned for auditorium, dining and lounge areas.

The third level will house the projection areas, production rooms, mechanical facilities, and administrative offices.

Plans call for landscaping the interior walls of the berm with grass and a four-month sequence of Texas wildflowers. The approach to the building will be grassy and tree-filled. The Texas Legislature has appropriated 4.5 million for the first phase of the project, to complete the building and exhibit areas in time for the six-month exposition in 1968.

Bullock noted that "the institute was conceived by Gov. John Connally as a center of information on the cultural history of Texas, to be of lasting value to Texans, beginning with the opening of the HemisFair."

GYPSY CHILDREN SENT TO SCHOOL

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — Only 10 per cent of the gypsies who live in North Bohemia enjoy civilized conditions of life, the news agency CTK reported. There are 17,000 of them in that area, and special commissions are now attempting to change their way of life.

For one thing all gypsy children are to attend school regularly, starting in September this year.
