

Ed Skypala Named Citizen Of The Year By Lions

Burger Points Finger At Central Control

"Speaking up" was the remedy suggested to the average man concerned with federal extravagance, in Joseph E. Burger's address at the annual Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce banquet Thursday evening.

"No scepter is more powerful than a five-cent pencil in the hands of an American citizen," he reminds the 636 persons at the banquet as he urged each to write his view to his congressman.

Subject of the address was "Pay Day - Some Day" and the Pasadena, Calif., businessman began with the statement, "A day will come when we have to pay for massive federal spending and concentration of power."

A speaker much in demand at conventions and meetings of trade associations and businessmen, Burger was introduced by Neil Cooper, new Chamber of Commerce president, who presided for the dinner in the County Bull Barn. After his address Burger was given the Hereford Bull Award which is a special honor conferred at the banquet each year.

Guests were introduced from a number of West Texas cities and some farther away, the most distant Delhi, India, home of the Rev. S. M. Sagar who was in Hereford during the week for talks to Methodist See BURGER Page 2

At Annual Convention

Sugar Growers Told Price Boost And Acreage Increase

Sugar beet farmers got a shot in the arm this week when the Department of Agriculture announced that a raise of 30 cents, straight across the board would be coming to the growers in this area. This raise is per ton regardless of the sugar content of the field according to James W. Witherspoon, who made the announcement here.

Witherspoon told the growers that all restrictions have been released and that the company wants 10,000 more acres planted.

Named at the banquet for outstanding production were: J.B. Barrett, Bovina high producer, with 42.81 tons per acre, Glenn Phillips, delivering at the Clovis dump, 35.49 tons per acre; Keith and Wendell Garner, Friona with 34.44 tons per acre; Duane Alired, Dawn high producer with 26.63 tons per acre and Douglas Nix delivering to the factory with 35.23 tons per acre.

Growers cited for producing over 10,000 pounds of sugar per acre were Barrett, Dudley Bailey, Clovis, Phillips and the Garner brothers.

About 32 growers were cited for unusually high production. Highlight of the year 1966 has been the unity of the sugar beet growers throughout the country," beet growers were told yesterday in the business session of their annual convention.

The annual report given during the afternoon business by James W. Witherspoon, executive secretary for the organization illustrated the progress that the growers had made by unified efforts for price adjustments.

Meeting at the Bull Barn, the growers had an informal viewing of farm equipment from dealers throughout the growing area, and heard the annual report.

Witherspoon recalled the Denver meeting of growers, called after the rising cost of labor, machinery and additional sales tax forced farmers to seek a higher price for sugar beets.

Farmers cooperating pushed the issue to review in Nebraska in November when the secretary of Agriculture called for a price hearing.

Witherspoon also pointed out that the need for food is increasing and that this need has been emphasized by the disappearance of surpluses.

R. B. McAllister KSCL radio man, entertained the growers and their wives with a humorous talk at a banquet last night in the Bull Barn. Caisson House catered the affair.

Wives were entertained during the afternoon with a style show at Hereford Country Club. Children were given tickets to Star Theater while the ladies were at the style show and the men were in the afternoon business session.

The association is comprised beet growers farming in Deaf Smith, Castro, Parmer Counties in Texas and Curry County in

New Mexico. Sugar beets have been produced on a commercial basis on the High Plains for more than 20 years. Growers in the four counties involved report yields ranging from 17 to 28 tons of beets per acre with an average sugar content of 15 to 18 percent. About 30,000 acres are harvested annually from this area.

removed from change cups. It was theorized that the door panel was broken and the burglar pushed his hand to the inside of the door and unlocked it.

Deaf Smith County Sheriff deputies investigated entries at Oswalt Industries on East Highway 60 and the Dawn Co-op. At Oswalt, someone had broken into the building during the night by pushing open the west door, which had been closed with a one-inch piece of angle iron holding it.

The candy and coke machines were pried open with a small tool. It also appeared, deputies reported, that the thief tried to take a tractor radio, as it was unhooked from the battery and moved across the building. About $3.50 was believed taken from the two machines.

The scales office of the Dawn Co-op was broken into during the night by breaking the glass on the south door, reaching inside and opening the door. The coke machine was opened with a key which was left in the machine since the drinks are given away. There was no money in the machine.

The candy case was opened and about 3 dollars and some change taken along with a box of candy and a box of gum. Nothing else was bothered.

Burglary Rash Strikes Hereford And Dawn

Friday the 13th lived up to its reputation — at least to city and county law enforcement officials — as five burglaries and attempted burglaries were reported soon after dawn broke on the much publicized day.

Three of the burglaries, all at laundries, were reported to the Hereford City Police.

At the Askew Laundry, 611 Park, patrolman Frank Mansley found that the dollar change machine had been forced at the top and bottom, but not entered. An attempt also was made to open the store room door of the laundry, which is open 24 hours a day. Damage to the door was estimated at $5 and the machine $25.

Herbs Laundry, 1009 - Park Ave., was burglarized between 10 p. m. and 2:15 a. m., officers were told. The rear door to the store room was opened by forcing the vent open and reaching through to the door handle.

Mansley reported that he had checked inside and everything was in place. Damage to the door was about $3. The laundry closes at midnight.

About $8 to $10 in change was taken from Edwards Laundry, 201-13th Street, between 10 p. m. and 2:15 a. m. Officers found a door into the back room had a panel broken and change was

Mineral Feed Plant Will Manufacture Here Soon

Swift To Give Details This Week

Another feed manufacturing company will locate in Hereford soon with details expected to be announced early this next week. Swift and Company will begin the manufacture here of mineral blocks that serve as feed supplement for livestock, as soon as final plans are formulated and their plant can be built. It is expected that the product will be a mineral and protein formula.

In town this week, but not ready to divulge information has been Eric Lorenz, associated with Swift.

"I would like to wait until all details are final," he said in an interview Saturday.

He said that he probably could make a firm announcement after negotiations are completed next week.

Witchita Industrial Manufacturing Company is rumored to be handling design and construction contracts.

Distribution of the finished feed product that will probably be in operation before the year is out, will encompass all of this area, extending into the feeding areas to the north and west.

"I would like to give you the details now, but it would be more expedient to wait a few days," Lorenz said.

Even the capacity of the plant and the number of people employed is not yet announced. The plant will probably be a medium sized operation, employing about 10 or 12 people, according to speculation.

White, Ballard Announce For School Board

Shortly after the announcement of election date for school trustees, Raymond White and Labry Ballard announced their intentions to run for re-election to the school board.

Saturday morning, no other names had been submitted to the office of the election clerk, Orpha Click.

Two places will be open this year, with the election to be held April 1, 1967, the newly elected trustees to take office that month at the regular meeting, the second Tuesday of the month, April 11.

Ballard is serving his second term, making six years on the board. He is presently president of the board. White is serving his first three year term.

"After one term, you are more familiar with the school system and can be a better member," White said when announcing his decision. He said that the work is rewarding because schools are accomplishing so much.

"I know that we will have some problems, but everything seems to be working pretty good," White said when discussing the local school situation.

Ballard, who was vice president of the board last year and secretary before that, said that he felt the job worth seeking again because "I'm real proud of some of the things that have been accomplished during the years I've been on the board. I think that you learn something each year you serve."

"I've enjoyed being on the board and having a chance to work with community projects, the men on the board and Johnny Clark," Ballard continued.

Filing deadline is March 2 with absentee voting scheduled for March 13-28. Candidates may file by placing their name with Click at the school tax office.

Soliz Examining Trial Not Set

Date for an examining trial for Demetrio Soliz, 32, charged with murder with malice in the Monday morning shooting death of Henry Lopez, 33, has not been set by District Attorney Bill Hunter.

Lopez was shot to death in the front yard of Soliz's home at 215 Hereford Calle shortly after 1 a. m. Monday. He was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Ernest Wade, acting as coroner, and autopsy was ordered by Wade. Results of the autopsy still were not known late Saturday.

Arrested at the scene, Soliz was freed Monday afternoon after posting $2,500 bond set by Wade.

Chief of Police Marshall Padgett said the search was continuing for two men believed to be with Lopez at the time of the shooting.

PEP Moves Into Action

An effort to improve the financial future of Deaf Smith County and its residents will be made in the first detailed action of PEP (Panhandle Economic Program) at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Community Center Ballroom.

Dealing with "Financial Management," the program will include discussion in three major areas. James Murphrey, area farm specialist, will talk on "Understanding Financial Management" — Values, Goals, Use of Resources.

3. Exploration of outside water sources for the future.
4. Careful development of new irrigation projects in marginal areas.
5. Conservation and proper land use to reduce production costs, increase income and lengthen economic life of the land.

Wreck Is Veiled With Mystery

A light pole was knocked down one man injured, a car totaled several bottles of beer found and police were left in a state of confusion after an accident Friday evening on east First Street. The one-car accident involved a 1963 sedan owned by A. G. DeLaPaz, 304 W. 6th, who told police that he did not know who was driving his car Friday.

The accident occurred when the vehicle was going east on First, jumped the curb about 100 feet from the intersection with Main St., hit a light pole and knocked it out of the ground. The occupants of the wrecked vehicle jumped out of the car and ran from the scene. Police and county sheriff Ed Roberson got one youth from the wreckage and found another lying in the weeds behind a nearby building south of the railroad tracks. Still another fled from the scene and was not found. All appeared to have been drink- See WRECK Page 2

REGISTRATIONS

Voting registrations neared the 1,000 mark late Friday afternoon in the Deaf Smith County Tax Assessor-Collectors office, but still are lagging.

Mrs. Nell Miller, tax assessor collector, said 956 persons had signed up to vote. The deadline is Jan. 31.

Landscape Plan Is Garden Club Guest's Topic

Planning and planting are both necessary, in that order, for effective landscaping, Mrs. Charles W. Odell of Amarillo told guests and members of Hereford Garden Club at a program in Community Center Friday afternoon. Her subject was Landscaping For The Future.

President of Amarillo Garden Club, Mrs. Odell has a particular interest in the plans and work which result in attractive home grounds, Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. said in introducing the guest speaker to approximately 40 women.

Mrs. Ray Johnson, club president, poured tea and coffee after the program, at a table centered with a formal arrangement of yellow mums and white stock in a silver compote. Mrs. R. L. Ethridge made the centerpiece.

Mrs. Ben Childers, A. E. Hodges and Glenn Burrus, who comprise the social committee, were hostesses for the meeting. Members of other garden clubs here were invited, as well as individual guests of the host club members.

Mrs. Odell advised considerations.

None of the youths involved in the accident admitted being driver of the automobile. Damage to the Southwestern Public Service light pole was estimated at $200 and the automobile was totaled at $1800 damage. Police were investigating the matter further Saturday.

This year's show was first expected to top the number of entries in last year's but a big contributor, Hart, dropped out. About 50 entries were usually received from there.

tion of maintenance in planning a home landscape. She said that trees are the basic part of a landscape plan and should be chosen carefully. A common fault in plans for a city lot, she added, is use of too many trees, especially in front of the house; future growth of trees and shrubs is often underestimated.

The speaker discussed neighborhood plans for landscaping in some new housing areas, which new housing areas, which which permits entire blocks to be planted for a harmonious effect.

Sugar . . .

ranges from $50 to $100 per sugar beet acre. They say that some reduction is possible by adapting equipment and pooling of farmers resources.

Beet growers in the area market their beets with Holly Sugar Corporation. Many farmers feed their beet tops along with stubble or wheat pasture or rent or lease the beet top acreage to cattle feeders for additional income from their beet acreage.

Marketing expense is composed of a "mill contribution," and grower association dues. Growers in this area contribute $1 per day of beets marketed for plant location and construction until $5 million has been raised. Voluntary association dues are collected by the sugar company and submitted to the grower association.

Income is based on sugar content, price of commercial sugar and tonnage per acre. Payments are made to growers three times throughout the year. The final payment is made in late summer for the previous year's production.

Government payments are based on 80 cents per hundredweight for commercially recoverable sugar.

This past year saw some problems with curly top virus. Extent of damage will not be known until final tonnage reports, along with sugar or content are released.

While the afternoon business session was in progress, wives of visiting members were entertained by officers' and directors' wives with a tea and style show at Hereford Country Club. Mrs. Jay Boston, who was chairman of arrangements, greeted callers with Mrs. Shirley Garrison and Mrs. James W. Witherpoon.

Mrs. Virgil Marsh and Mrs. Raymond Higginbotham were at the registry. Mrs. H. C. Williams, Mrs. Pete Davis of Clovis and Mrs. Donald Shipley at the serving table. A showing of spring styles was presented by Gaston's Store.

For the first time in a number of years the dinner was catered locally, by the Caison House, and it was the first time the Chamber of Commerce had staged its banquet in the remodeled and redecorated Bull Barn, where the large crowd had ample seating space.

Burger, using a flip-chart to emphasize points of his address, spoke in easy conversational tones and spiced his talk with humor. The chart made more impressive the statistics he used, showing vastly increased spending by the U. S. government since 1954 for non-defense as well as national defense items.

Federal cash spending is far outstripping the population growth, he said as he turned to pages charting deficit spending for the 1931-1966 period, the rising national debt for those years and the decline in the dollar value.

Excessive centralization of power is the great danger in America today, the speaker said and the federal government already is operating many different types of businesses in a trend which can lead to national socialism.

He named three groups which do not think of themselves as socialistic but which receive federal aid — farmers who are paid various subsidies, big business which vies for defense contracts, and unions which insist on wage and work regulations. He added, "Federal aid inevitably results in federal control."

Burger cited a historical cycle which he said has been typical of great nations in the past, a path from bondage to spiritual faith, to courage, freedom, abundance, selfishness, complacency, apathy, fear, dependency and back to bondage.

Principles of the American founders, who sought to protect men from oppression by government, led to the freest government the world has ever known, and the highest standard of living of any people, he continued.

Now we have adopted "Take it easy" as our slogan, Burger said, but ease will not guarantee our freedom and more hard work might solve some of our problems such as crime and juvenile delinquency.

Power of the individual to change current trends in government was underscored in the talk, as Burger insisted that every citizen should inform his congressman and senator of his wishes, and work through civic groups in his own community to petition and publicize.

"One voice or one vote is important," he concluded.

Wildlife, Riflery Studied By 4-H

Meeting indoors for the first five meetings, a class of youngsters taught by James Higgins went outdoors for their first practice lesson on the handling and shooting of guns.

The class, which is dedicated to the purpose of teaching the students gun safety and marksmanship, is a project of the 4-H Club and is open to 4-H Club members only. The class meets every other Wednesday at the Community Center after school.

In the forthcoming meetings, the group will practice, with shooting guns.

During the first five classes indoors, they were taught wildlife conservation by means of films, and later getting practical lessons in the use and knowledge of guns.

The class has an enrollment of 18 students with Joe Lyons assisting Higgins.

THE CHURCH I LOVE . . . WISHES TO GROW TOWARD MATURITY IN CHRIST

"Him (Christ) we proclaim, warning every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man mature in Christ." (Colossians 1:28).

Christ recognized the immaturity of his generation; and compared the people with children. (Matthew 11:16-19).

It is written, "And his gifts were that some should be apostles, some prophets, some evangelists, some pastors and teachers, (why this arrangement?) for the equipment of the saints, for the work of ministry, for building up the body of Christ, until we all attain to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to mature manhood, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ; so that we may no longer be children, tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the cunning of men, by their craftiness in deceitful wiles." (Ephesians 4:11-14).

Anne Nunemaker writes in Moody Monthly . . . "If you can see someone you know deliberately snub you, and still make allowance for his actions . . . that is maturity . . . if you can see a person do an act which is against your Christian standards and react without self-righteousness — that is maturity . . . if you can listen to someone criticize you, even unkindly, and receive instruction from it without hard feelings — that is maturity . . . if you can see a work which you have begun taken from you and given to another without feeling bitterness — that is maturity."

The immature person dislikes most to be told he is immature, and will argue the point. While the mature, when he is told he is immature, will stop to consider if the accusation is true.

We are exhorted to "grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To him be the glory both now and to the day of eternity. Amen." (2 Peter 3:18).

Auditions Being Held For Chorus

Auditions are now being held for membership in the Amarillo Symphony Chorus.
 On the final concert of the symphony season, the chorus will perform Francis Poulenc's Gloria in G major for Soprano, Chorus and Orchestra. This great religious work won the Pulitzer Prize in 1961 as the best composition of the year. Joining with the chorus will be the famous Metropolitan Opera soprano, GIANNA D'ANGELO.
 Schedule for rehearsals will be each Monday night, 7:30 to 9:30 at Amarillo College from February 6 through March 20. The performance will take place on March 21.
 Auditions will be held January 30 from 7 to 10 PM in the music building (24th and Van Buren) at Amarillo College. Contact chorus manager Bobbie Bruce, DR 4-5739 or Box 2552, for any additional information.
 Professional voices are not, necessarily, a requirement. The Amarillo Symphony Chorus is comprised, basically, of amateur singers who have pleasant voices, reasonable reading abilities, and strong desires for the promotion of choral singing in the Panhandle.

By MELVIN YOUNG

Another successful Chamber of Commerce year has come to an end, culminated by the annual banquet. The affair this year was again one of the largest in the area, although not a record for Hereford by any means. The food was catered locally and in the opinion of many, was much better than under the old system of importing a caterer.

We were particularly pleased this year that Corinne Neeley received recognition for her work with the United Fund. Corinne has given unselfishly of her time and efforts since the inception of the United Fund program back in 1957, and we wonder sometimes if the program would ever have cleared first base had it not been for the devoted efforts of Corinne Neeley. She has received little pay — most years donating her salary back to the Fund — and has gone far beyond the call of duty because she believes in the United Fund program.

She has received little recognition for this work — probably because she was not looking for any. Her only concern has been to serve the community and the people in it.

By the same token, Ed Skypala, the Lion's Club Citizen of the Year, has been a loyal, hard working member of our community and there have been few community-wide projects that did not find Ed Skypala in the middle with his sleeves rolled up, hard at work. He has been active over the years with the Lions Club and has been particularly interested in the Hi-Plains Eye Bank, sponsored by the Lions of District 2-T1. His community activities have been many and varied and personal recognition has never been his goal.

The choice for Citizen of the Year was a good one.

Don't forget to register to vote. You don't have to pay poll taxes anymore, but you do have to go by and register.

There are numerous elections coming up this year including school board and city. And perhaps a bond issue or two.

It is important that you be an eligible voter.

Martin Injured In Viet Nam

Mrs. Myrtle Martin of 805 Lee in Hereford was notified this week by the Defense Department that her son, Cpl. James M. Martin, 25, was wounded while fighting in Vietnam, where he has been less than two weeks.

A telegram to Mrs. Martin from Lt. Gen. R. C. Mangrum, acting commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps, explained that "Martin was injured Jan. 8 in the vicinity of Thua Thien, Vietnam." The telegram said Martin "sustained a gunshot wound to the right thigh as a result Philip S. Halberman, speaking in Boston recently on the subject of "socialized law," predicted the emergence of a system similar to that operated experimentally now by the Office of Economic Opportunity, in which bills for legal services to persons in low-income brackets are paid by federal and local funds.

He said the criteria for free legal help would be economic status rather than age.

New Members Meet With H.D. Club At Bippus

Two new members, Mrs. C. T. Douglas and Mrs. Wayne Sifford, were present at the first 1967 meeting of Bippus Home Demonstration Club in the home of the president, Mrs. C. F. Burk, Wednesday. Mrs. Bob Ritzel was a guest.

Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent, gave the program an Old Fashioned Thrift, advising members to be thrifty with time, energy and other resources as well as money. Each person's spending plan is different, she said, and should be flexible. She urged use of a spending guideline or budget for family money management.

Members listed club meeting schedules in new yearbooks, setting the next meeting at 2:30

H.D. CHATTER District Has New Agent

By Mrs. Argen Draper Home Demonstration Agent

A District Agent has been appointed for this district. She is Mrs. Sue Farris and comes from Marshall. This is a release that came in the mail today. Effective February 1, 1967, Mrs. Sue Farris will be appointed District Home Demonstration Agent with headquarters at Amarillo, to fill the vacancy in District I created by the retirement of Miss Edith L. Wilson.

A native of Lamar County, Mrs. Farris has been Home Demonstration Agent in Harrison County since 1957. After serving as assistant agent-in-training in Hopkins County, she was appointed county home demonstration agent in Marion County in 1954.

Mrs. Farris received her BS Degree in Home Economics from Texas Woman's University and has continued advanced study there and at Colorado State University.

DURING HER TENURE AS county home demonstration agent, Mrs. Farris has trained five new county home demonstration agents, has developed outstanding programs in family living through the county program building process, and has taken an active role in the Texas Community Improvement Program.

Mrs. Farris received the Distinguished Service award in 1965 given by the National Association of Extension Home Economists in recognition for outstanding educational programs

p. m. Jan. 25 in Mrs. J. G. Fortenberry's home.

Those present included Mmes. J. V. Perrin, John Hill, Elmo Hall, C. F. Homfield, Fortenberry, Inmon Larson, G. V. Hall and Jimmie D. Bradley.

and leadership development. She has served as a District Director of the County Home Demonstration Agents' Association of Texas and as Chairman of the State Professional Improvement Committee.

She is a member of the American Home Economics Association; Texas Home Economics Association; Alpha Zeta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Phi, Extension Service Professional Society; Marshall Music Club, Women's Committee of the Marshall Chamber of Commerce and the Marshall Altrusa Club.

THE PEP PROGRAMS are going well with much enthusiasm from those attending. A good program on Financial Management has been planned for Tuesday night. It will be at the Community Center at 7:30 P. M.

Miss Joy Arrington, Management Specialist, from A&M will give a program on Business Centers. I almost said, "Mind your own business," however, that would sound sassy. There will be helpful suggestions on organized ways of keeping business papers safely and conveniently.

James Murphrey will give "Understanding Financial Management," he will include values and some of the things that determine persons' values. In a meeting last week, he said one make of car costs the same as a college education.

Mr. Murphrey has been in Deaf Smith County many times since 1959 and I can think of some good managers he helped train.

Management programs should be attended by couples as management is a family affair for parents and all the children to discuss, plan and carry out. A 4-H girl who has been asked to give a program on Money Management will attend the meeting Tuesday night to get training. Everyone is welcome and encouraged to attend.

COUNCIL COMMITTEE meet Monday and Wednesday. Home demonstration clubs on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday. Rita Huckert and I will attend a meeting in Pampa on Thursday with Miss Arrington on using the Money Management guides. Council meets on Monday, January 23.

Mon Amis Hears Talk On Flowers

Flower arrangements for the home were demonstrated by Mrs. Bill Wheeler, a member who gave the program for Mon Amis Study Club Wednesday afternoon in First National Bank Community Room. Mrs. D. L. Thomason was hostess.

Mrs. Wheeler showed how to use accessories such as figurines and pieces of weathered wood to make flower arrangements more interesting, and demonstrated techniques of constructing a flower piece.

The club resumed regular programs at this meeting, after a holiday schedule in December when a party was given for members' husbands Dec. 16 and a tour of the Holly Sugar Plant was taken Dec. 14. Mrs. Billy Baker presided for business.

Also present were Mmes. Jim Lookingbill, David Hutchins, J. D. Greeson, Jamie Clearman, Glenn Walsler, Jack White, Billy Bell and Cliff Almon.

Use as little liquid as possible when you are braising chicken or meat. How much liquid you will have to add during the braising process will depend on how tightly the cover fits the cooking utensil.

VISITOR FROM INDIA INTRODUCED — The Rev. S. M. Sagar, administrative assistant to the Methodist bishop of Delhi, India, was a visitor in Hereford this week, spoke at the Wednesday evening service in First Methodist Church and again to residents of King's Manor Thursday morning, showing slides illustrating Methodist work in schools and other institutions. He was introduced at King's Manor by Mrs. C. W. Fisher, who became acquainted with the Indian minister and his wife on a tour last summer which took her to India and other Asian countries. Rev. Sagar is traveling and speaking in the United States after attending the recent Methodist General Conference, a world-wide meeting. He was a guest in the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Mims while he was in Hereford.

Baptist Men's Day Is Slated

Members of the Calvary Baptist Church will join an estimated 15,000 churches in the Southern Baptist Convention Jan. 22 in conducting "Baptist Men's Day."

The "Rev. Clarence Powell, pastor, said activities during the special day will include a fellowship breakfast, testimonies, special recognition, and a men's chorus.

Sponsor of the event is the Baptist Men's unit of the Calvary Baptist Church, which is located a mile north of Hereford on Texas 385.

Rev. Powell will make the major address during the morning worship service. "Baptist Men's Day" has been held in most Baptist churches since 1933.

1-24 vogler may Harry J. Vogler, Rt. 2 was transferred to Northwest Hospital in Amarillo after a Wednesday evening accident at the intersection of north 385 and Moreman Street.

The accident, which knocked Vogler from his 1964 motorcycle and sent him 51 feet through air occurred as 16-year-old Mary Robinson, 313 Ave. B, attempted a right turn onto Moreman from 385 and Vogler tried to pass her on the right side. The cycle continued 60 feet from the point of impact and overturned on Moreman.

Vogler was first taken to Deaf Smith County Hospital by Gilliland Ambulance and transferred to Amarillo Thursday morning, where he was treated for a broken leg.

The family reported Saturday that he was doing well, though doctors had found a bone chip in his leg and were discussing surgery. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Vogler.

Social Security Victims Feel Squeeze Of Inflation

LBJ's State of the Union message to Congress Tuesday night included the usual promises of "cradle-to-grave" security which one would expect from a man who has proposed, and pushed through Congress more social legislation than any other president since Franklin D. Roosevelt, but a few of the points mentioned are worth looking at again.

Included among these is Johnson's plans for the social security program. Our elder citizens who must live on the meager returns from a Social Security check have been the ones to suffer from the sweeping inflation that has beset this nation over the past year, and particularly the past three or four years. No longer can they be expected to live on the minimum payments now coming from their Social Security insurance.

For years the senior citizens have been caught in the price squeeze, with cost of living skyrocketing while their insurance payments have remained virtually the same. Little change has been made in the program since its inception some 30 years ago.

The President has proposed that the minimum payment be raised by fifty-nine percent — from $44 to $70 monthly, and a guarantee of a minimum benefit of $100 per month for those with 25 years of coverage. He will also propose, according to the message Tuesday evening, that the limits retired workers may earn without losing Social Security benefits be raised.

This is a sound proposal. Many able bodies retired citizens would like to accept part time employment, and many firms have part time jobs available for these people, but the maximum allowable is so low that it is hardly worthwhile for either group. A change here is in keeping with good business practices, and will aid both the retired worker and business, not to mention the fact that it will not cost the tax payers one red cent.

Although all people, outside a few specific professions, now come under the Social Security law and pay the prescribed tax, the legislation was enacted to help those who could not, by any other means, provide for financial security in their old age. Payments to those who are still earning a full salary would certainly violate the spirit of the legislation, even though they have contributed to the program. This is the reason for the limit on earnings to begin with, but rising living costs now make it imperative that this maximum limit be raised to a more realistic figure.

These changes are long past due. There is little security in a monthly check that won't buy the needed food supply, and there is little merit to a program that will not allow an able-bodied retired citizen to supplement his income when needed. The purpose of Social Security is to help, not hamper.

Madame Minister's Sinister Plot

Modern technology will soon put a man on the moon, but we are having trouble getting the commuter home from work in time for dinner.

Cities are becoming so clogged with traffic that London is considering collecting a toll from motorists who enter downtown areas during rush hours. No city has ever used such a fee system to curtail vehicle congestion.

Britain's Transport Minister, Mrs. Barbara Castle, visited New York recently and advocated that the fee system be tried there too. This provoked a rather explosive reaction from traffic commissioner Henry Barnes. "The whole idea is impractical. It would penalize persons of low or middle incomes. Our problems are not hers," said Barnes, who reluctantly escorted Madame Minister around Manhattan.

Although the details haven't been worked out yet, Mrs. Castle seems intent upon forcing British commuters to use the mass transport systems: "Ambitious plans for additional expressways are self-defeating. We have developed the use of the private car. I want to know how you have accommodated the cities to the car. It (the car) will soon swallow us up."

About the only point that Barnes and Mrs. Castle agree on is not banning traffic from certain areas of the cities. Both say that this simply moves the jam out a few blocks.

Encouraging people to use public transportation has not always been so successful. In Southern California, where traffic jams are legend, the scheme of paying commuters to ride buses and trains was investigated. The matter was suddenly dropped when it became apparent the people couldn't be bribed to use public means for less than $1.50 each trip.

Fool Proof Judge We Hope

A computer in Dudley, England, has been programmed to pick Worcester College's beauty queen because some of the contestants said they were too shy to appear in skimpy swimsuits.

Let's just hope the computer is properly trained and does not kick over the traces and names something like a soft drink machine as the fairest of them all.

Go Bankrupt

A Fresno, Calif., man and his wife who went broke and declared themselves bankrupt now offer a unique service to fight poverty. They are helping people declare themselves bankrupt. The poverty fighters are Tom Hutchinson, 35, and his wife, Anyce, 30, who started their service after losing their own possessions and their home because of debts and joblessness.

They're a big help to the bankrupt. All they do is type up bankruptcy forms which already have been filled out by clients. Their slogan? "Fight Poverty. Go Bankrupt." Hutchinson emphasizes that the service is not for legal advice. "We give our clients sympathy . . . show them how to file the papers . . . and after a while they have a go at it themselves. I think it's almost impossible for a lay person to file bankruptcy schedules competently because they are so complicated," he said. "If it is not done properly a man can lose his home."

Somehow, we feel more sorry for the creditors than for the people who go broke.

Use Of Leisure

If a man works eight hours a day and sleeps another eight, what does he do for himself and society that is useful and constructive in the remaining eight hours of leisure? The answer is generally very little.

Throw in two non-working days a week, 10 public holidays a year and another three weeks of annual vacation and it becomes plain that today man has a great deal of time to do very little.

Negro Senator Is Object Of Capitol Investigation

By BERT MILLS

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Freshmen Senators seldom make much of a splash on Capitol Hill but one of the 1967 newcomers will be watched with unusual interest. He is Edward W. Brooke, a Republican from Massachusetts, who is the first Negro to serve in the Senate in nearly a century. The reason the curiosity about him is that he is a most unusual representative of his race. He received over one million votes in a state where only two per cent of the voters are Negroes.

There are six Negroes in the House, all of them representing city districts where Negro voters predominate. Two have attained enough seniority to become chairmen of important committees. But a Negro Senator, representing a whole state and not just one congested area of a city, is a novelty.

Senator Brooke is an unusual Negro politician, because he does not act like one. He doesn't even look like one, being light-skinned. In fact, he is three-quarters white and has a white wife, an Italian he met in her country while in the Army in World War II.

Negro pressure groups do not know quite what to make of Senator Brooke. He is not a rabble-raising integrationist, and is hardly a candidate to lead a new civil rights crusade. He is not an advocate of "black power."

Some Negro extremists have tried to pin the "Uncle Tom" label on Senator Brooke, on grounds that he has failed to defend his race. His stepping stone to national office was service as Attorney General of Massachusetts since 1962. One of his rulings at the state level was that a school strike by Negro children was illegal.

Native Comes Home Senator Brooke is that rarity, a native of Washington, D. C. His mother still lives here. His father was a lawyer with the Veterans' Administration. According to his grandparents, his ancestors included Thomas Jefferson, a British Admiral, and Rupert Brooke, the English poet.

Brooke graduated from Howard University in D. C., a predominantly Negro institution. His degree was in science and he intended to become a doctor, but World War II intervened and he became an infantry intelligence officer. He became a Captain, serving in Italy where he met his wife-to-be.

After the war, Brooke went to Boston where he planned to become a partner in an engineering concern with two Army pals. When these plans failed to jell, he entered Boston University Law School, gaining two degrees in three years.

Now 46, Brooke has been in politics for 16 years. He made See MAIN STREET Page 9

MARCH OF EVENTS
DEMOCRATIC GOVERNORS
HIT JOHNSON TECHNIQUE
PRESIDENTIAL POLICIES
A CONCERN TO MANY

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer
WASHINGTON—While the outspoken criticism of President Johnson by a group of Democratic governors came as a surprise, the Johnsonian smoothing of their feathers was not. It was a typical presidential response of the kind of public political criticism that he could not answer publicly and a performance that was completely in keeping with the President's own approach to the solution of problems.

Bluntly put, the President was once again successful in building a false facade that accomplished nothing more than removing the differences from the front pages. There is absolutely no evidence that any agreement was reached to correct the basic short-comings that caused the Democratic governors to speak out so bitterly in the first place.

What concerned the governors was that the magnitude of the November election reverses, in their view, could be attributed to the federal administration and to the performance of the President himself. Their voices reflected their deep concern that a continuation of the same policies, programs and attitudes would bring about a national defeat for their party in the 1968 presidential elections.

To some of these very governors, their concern now is that these policies, programs and attitudes will be continued and that they have been, temporarily at least, muzzled in their efforts to force a change.

What they were protesting, in part, was the Johnson technique of administration; and it was that very technique that contributed to their being hushed up. Undoubtedly the President gave some assurance that he and his administration would change. But there is an uneasy feeling among political observers that change will be minimal and the appearances of change maximal.

And 1968 remains a bigger question mark than ever for the future of the Democratic party as the dominant political force in American life.

● DECORATED—Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of Defense for Public Affairs, is the Pentagon's official handler of the Vietnam fighting news at the policy level.

Sylvester is a former reporter who now fights as zealously to "manage" the news as he did for a free press in his old reporter days. Fortunately, he retains the fine sense of humor and high degree of detachment that reporters must cultivate.

However, even his sense of humor was strained recently when a new decoration was presented to him by Pentagon information officers in Vietnam. It read: "Ambushed at Credibility Gap."

● "EXTREMIST?"—Barry Goldwater, the 1964 GOP Presidential candidate, was a recent visitor to the Peace Corps. He was invited to participate in a question and answer session with college students working in an intern program.

One of them asked Goldwater if he had any plans to run for the presidency again, to which the witty Arizonian replied: "If I thought I was going to be a future nominee for the presidency I would join the Peace Corps right now and ask to be sent to the farthest country."

Notwithstanding Goldwater's expressed abhorrence for another presidential race, he does plan to run for election to the Senate from Arizona in 1968.

50 YEARS AGO

The pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Newell was thrown open in welcome Sunday, in celebration of the New Year, when Mrs. Newell entertained a party of her husband's friends with a 12 o'clock dinner.

Those who shared the pleasures of the occasion were Messrs. Ray Brandt, Cockrell, Lovelace, Patton, and Louis Arnold.

A deal was consummated this week whereby Mr. C. H. Dyar gets the 50 foot corner lot on the east side of Main Street, across from the Heifner Millinery store.

On this lot Mr. Dyar will soon start the erection of a modern theater. This is an excellent location, and as Mr. Dyar contemplates a first-class building, this will be quite an addition to the town.

On last Saturday night and Sunday the cold wave that has been giving the North and East states real winter, arrived here with a full consignment. Saturday night and Sunday, the mercury reached 10 above. The cold was accompanied by a snow of several inches. There was little wind and the damage to stock, if any, will be slight, as feed is plentiful and most of the cattle are in good shape.

The snow will be very beneficial to wheat as well as putting moisture in the ground for spring crops.

25 YEARS AGO

Sale of Defense Savings Securities took a record spurt in Hereford in December as citizens responded to the nation's war needs by purchasing three to four times as many bonds as they had in previous months. The percentage increase in stamp sales was even greater than the bond sale jump, according to Postmaster J. R. Lipscomb.

Building permits totaling $29,600 were issued in Hereford in 1941, with practically all building in the form of residences, according to records at the City Office, where twelve permits were issued for the year.

Installation of a new Bundy Incubator and Hatcher was today announced by Jack Wright, manager of West Texas Feed and Seed Store. He invited the public to visit the store and to inspect the modern equipment.

That age-old custom of friends gathering from round about on New Year's day to enjoy openhouse is a highlight of the holiday season for many. That fine old custom of sharing food with friends and relatives becomes uppermost in the minds of many hostesses.

One such occasion was the order of the day for members of the Tuesday Dinner Club and their invited guests with Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Fox as host at their home on Lee Avenue.

Present were Messrs. and Mesdames J. L. Pitman, C. C. Acker, S. P. Rosson, H. A. Close, J. C. McCracken, A. R. Bateman, W. A. Davis, Jimmie Gillentine, J. H. Pitman, E. B. Hedrick, Oscar Easley, Mrs. Seth B. Holman, Eloyse Pitman, W. M. Emmons, Mrs. Alton Fraser and the hosts.

"This weather may not make anybody think of going out and starting a garden, but it is a good time to start thinking about the matter and buying seeds for use this spring," says Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, county home demonstration agent.

In Deaf Smith County alone, Miss Oliver states, there will be 450 new home gardens next year, and this increase is being duplicated all over the country.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — Miss Sharon Rae Breith, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. McClure, 431 Star, will marry Wilson Elliott Eidelberg of Valley View community June 3, her mother, Mrs. Jettie C. Breith of Midland, announces. The couple, both graduates of Midland High School and freshman students at McMurry College, Abilene, plan a wedding in First Methodist Church of Midland and a return to McMurry in the fall. The bridegroom-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Woody W. Heidelberg of Valley View. Miss Breith spent much time in the McClure home when she was a child, and has frequently visited relatives here so she is well acquainted in this county.

Last Saturday night was the Football Banquet and several boys received honors. Among these were Ricky Fangman who received the "Fighting Whiteface" award from the Hereford Brand. The "Husting Whiteface" Award was presented to Tony Malouf from the cheerleaders. The cheerleaders also gave another award, the "Skull Award", to Gary Tucker. The football players presented the coaches, Mr. Phillips and the cheerleaders with awards also. During the banquet the varsity players received their letter jackets. Not only are the boys proud of their jackets, but a few girls around school would like to wear them too. I wonder who they are. It was also noticed that only one sophomore boy had a date. Are the sophomores that bad, are is it that they are bashful.

The Whitefaces played their first district game with Tulla, Tuesday night. Even though they didn't come home with a win, they played a good game. The Whitefaces played Perryton there Friday. Tuesday they will play Canyon here. Then, Friday, the Whitefaces will play Muleshoe here. This will not be just a regular game, but it will be Basketball Homecoming! This is another activity that makes the year complete. Don't forget that Homecoming will be January 20.

The Deuces Wild played at the dance Saturday night at the community center. The next dance will be January 26, after the Homecoming game here with Muleshoe. Jekyl and Hydes from Plainview will be playing.

A waiter in a big-city restaurant was stricken and rushed to an emergency room. On the operation table, in great pain, waiting for attention he saw an intern passing by, and pleaded, "Doc, I'm sick. Can't you do something?" "Sorry," the doctor said. "This isn't my table."

two unsuccessful tries to gain election to the state legislature. He also lost in a 1960 race for secretary of state. Then, in 1952, he was elected Attorney General of Massachusetts. He began to attract national attention then, and made a favorable impression at the 1964 Republican National Convention.

Republican politicians, anxious to regain the Negro vote which had been going to the Democrats for three decades, marked Brooke as a "comer." When Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, "Mr. Republican" in the Bay State for a generation, decided to retire at the expiration of the 89th Congress, Brooke was the logical successor.

Could Become V. P.

As a Negro who takes a middle-of-the-road approach to racial matters, Senator Brooke is already being mentioned as a possible G. O. P. vice presidential candidate. It is a longshot at this point but it could happen as early as 1968. Few freshmen Senators are so considered.

However, the last five Vice Presidents have come from the Senate. Two of them, Harry S. Truman and Lyndon B. Johnson, have succeeded to the White House, and Richard M.

Book Reviewed
At Class Party

Review of the book, The Family Nobody Wanted, by Helen Doss, was presented for Victory Class of Avenue Baptist Church by Mrs. F. W. Duncan at a meeting Thursday in Mrs. C. E. Coleman's home. Mrs. Carlyle Sargent was the presiding officer.

Plans were made for the class sweetheart dinner Feb. 9, when members will entertain their husbands at the Hickory Log Restaurant.

Mrs. Joe Ed Cappell was a guest and other members present were Mmes. Billy Wall, Marvis Southward, Clois Kemp, Charlie Riffin Glen Breeding and Johnny Townsend.

Relatives Here Attend Funeral

Hereford relatives attended the funeral of Earnest Hughes, 68, at Abernathy Friday afternoon. He was the brother of Mrs. Ira Ricketts. She and Mr. Ricketts, with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Russell, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ricketts went to the service in First Baptist Church of Abernathy.

Mr. Hughes had been a resident of that city about 35 years and was water department superintendent for 19 years. He died Wednesday in a Lubbock hospital.

Survivors include two sons who reside at Abernathy, a daughter of Houston, three sisters, two brothers and 12 grandchildren.

Nixon barely missed. A two-year apprenticeship in the Senate would be extraordinarily short but then Senator Brooke would be an extraordinary candidate.

The politicians will be watching Brooke with the utmost care in the months and years to come. That might not be a bad idea for the rest of us.

Winter Requires Repairs

Every year during the winter months, the city of Hereford sends its maintenance crew out to fill cracks in the pavement which occur annually due to the coldness and dryness of the season.

A compressor unit is used first to blow all dust and foreign particles off the cracks. Asphalt is then poured from buckets into the cracks by the workers. About eight men are doing the job this year which will require about two weeks or more. The procedure started over a week ago and is expected to be completed sometime this week.

Each crack must be filled with the asphalt before any moisture is received. If the moisture falls into the cracks and settles under the pavement, it would freeze and later could cause holes on the streets.

"This year the cracks seem to be a bit bigger and more plentiful than the previous years," stated Dudley Bayne manager of the city of Hereford. "The unusual dryness of this year accounts for a big reason."

Last stage of the work is dusting the seams.

Teachers Hired, Contract Time Is Being Revised

School board members this week, in extending a vote of confidence to Johnny Clark, Superintendent of public schools, voted to raise his travel expense by $50 a month. This action was in addition to the offering of the three year contract. Other action by the board this week included the accepting of recommendations to hire teachers to replace some who had resigned and others to fill positions that have been filled with substitute teachers so far this school year.

Treva Dunn will be teaching first grade at Northwest, Leanne Phillips will be teaching third grade at Shirley, Shirley King will be teaching at LaPlata as will Adele Clements, Jon Birdsong will teach at Stanton and Mrs. Bill Thompson will teach English in high school.

The board determined that the logical time for considering coaches contracts would be in March, stating that the February meeting would be devoted to the discussion of Principal's contracts and that the coaches would then be recommended by the principals and considered at the next meeting. This is an amendment to the regular policy that has been in effect in the school system. Prior to this time, both principals and coaches contracts were considered at the February meeting.

In a transportation report, the board learned that most crowding is being eliminated but that some buses are still overloaded. They stated that they hoped the purchase of the new larger buses would alleviate part of the problem. Buses are running 2257.2 miles per day covering a route of 1128.6 miles. Pupils riding buses or that are eligible to ride the 24 buses used by the system number 1388.

General school enrollment shows a slight increase of 70 scholastics over this time last year, but a drop of 222 students from the last reporting period in December.

More children are using lunchroom facilities this year, the board was told. Too, cafeteria expenses are more nearly balanced this year being about $12,000 under last year's tab. Although still running in the red, the lunchrooms are in better shape, partly because of the increase in children's lunch prices started at the first of this school year.

The board also heard a report prepared by the high school counselor, Robert Thompson, analyzing the student body as to future plans, number who had left school and why. (This report will be discussed at length in next Thursday's Brand.)

Hit And Run Is Reported Here

Mrs. Dale Wright, 427 Western, reported a hit-and-run accident to the police this week. Her 1964 sedan was struck by an old model, light colored Ford as she turned onto Moreman from US 385 Wednesday morning. Mrs. Wright told police that she chased the car several blocks before it escaped. She said there were 2 teenage boys in the car. Damage to her vehicle was estimated at $250. Police are still looking for the hit-and-run vehicle.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Woman's Editor

A social as well as a civic occasion, the Chamber of Commerce banquet Thursday night brought out as elegant a collection of pretty women in pretty dresses as you could wish.

CORRINNE NEELY received her special award in a royal blue dress with shirtdress collar partly covered with a fur stole.

Wives at the speaker's table presented an attractive picture to other diners, Mrs. Neil Cooper in white with draped neckline, Mrs. Raymond White in sunny yellow, simply cut, and Mrs. Bill Gentry in a mauve suit with rhinestone buttons.

Introduced after the Citizen of the Year award had been presented to her husband, Mrs. Ed Skypala stood briefly, long enough for her apricot-colored dress to be seen.

DIRECTORS' WIVES and special guests were at a front table, and even if they were seated so you could see only their backs, the ladies' gowns added to the gala look at the Bull Barn.

There was red-haired Mrs. Wayne Thomas in powder blue with big buttons down the back, Mrs. Johnny Clark in gold tunic and straight skirt, Mrs. Russell Carver in a pink jacket with white brocade pattern, Mrs. Ernest Langley in white.

Mrs. Bill Thompson, wife of the Chamber of Commerce manager, chose black with self-material belt and bow at the low waistline, and Mrs. Hilrey Aven was also in classic black. Mrs. H. C. Williams, the county judge's wife, accented her simple off-white shift with shoes of many-colored brocade.

TWO DRESSES in different shades of green were close together: Mrs. Ed Line's of apple-green and Mrs. Jerry Detwiler's a bronzed shade. Brunette Mrs. Frank Ford's suit was an intense shade of orange and Mrs. Johnny Pool was dressed in raspberry pink with a scarf collar looped into a tie.

Mrs. Pete Caviness had on a wine-colored suit with a scarf in a blending pastel shade, and Mrs. Labry Ballard wore lilac and had large earbobs sparkling above her shoulders. Wish I'd had a better view of that table; some of the women were out of range for me.

Dozens of guests scattered over the big hall were just as strikingly dressed; the entire effect was of a "best bib and tucker" party. Table decorations helped that impression, with masses of white and yellow flowers on front tables, yellow streamers and candles on all.

WHEN THE G. W. NEWSOMS come home earlier this month from Florida, where they had visited a few weeks, they changed their plans to stop in some Gulf Coast cities along the way because the weather was too rainy.

"We wanted to bring some of the rain home with us, but couldn't manage it," Mrs. Newsom says ruefully.

They visited their son John and his family at Homestead, Fla., spent some time in Miami Beach and on the Keys. Fishing was a pleasant pastime and Mrs. Newsom did bring back a fish story. She caught a sailfish so big that she had to enlist John's help in landing it. It weighed 45 pounds and was seven feet long.

"Just too long to have mounted," her son informed her, "because the price of mounting a fish is figured by the inch!" And that's a really sad example of too much of a good thing.

TALKING WITH Mrs. C. N. McClure about her pretty granddaughter, Sharon Breith of Midland, who is to be married soon, I learned that Sharon is a member of the McMurry College Choir which will make a tour of this area later in January. It will sing in Dimmitt Methodist Church Jan. 26, and it is a safe bet that the McClures will be in the audience.

Mother Of City Resident Passes

Funeral services for Mrs. W. T. Johnson of Hale Center, mother of Jack Johnson and sister of four other Hereford residents, were conducted in First Baptist Church at Hale Center Tuesday afternoon and burial was in Plainview Memorial Park.

Mrs. Johnson, 91, died Thursday morning in a Lubbock hospital. A native of Sidney, Ark., she and her husband moved to Childress County in 1902 and to Hale Center in 1918. Mr. Johnson died in 1959.

She is survived by the son here and another, G. C. Johnson of Hale Center; two daughters, Mrs. Willie Ritchey of Portales, N. M., and Mrs. Lloyd Louthan of Hale Center; five sisters, Mrs. Afton Jones, Lester Sparkman and Deward Roberson of Hereford; Mrs. L. V. Johnson of Hale Center and Mrs. R. A. Gillion of San Angelo; two brothers, Earl Springer of Hereford and F. J. Springer of Kress; 19 grandchildren, 44 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Add lots of parsley sprigs to tomato juice and refrigerate overnight. Remove the parsley before serving - it will have added subtle flavor to the juice.

A family gathering at Golden Eagle Lodge at Red River last week was held by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fields of Amarillo and Adrian. They were joined by their daughter, Diane, and her guest, Pete Johnston, both University of Texas students; another daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Friedberg of San Francisco, now in Florida studying for an overseas assignment with the Peace Corps. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fields of Claude and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stewart of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Fields of Groom and their daughter, Mrs. Rose Helen Harvey of Amarillo, and her daughter Lori.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Rich and children spent the holidays in Bethel, Okla. with her father, E. W. Tucker, also visited in Wichita Falls with Rich's sister and family, the Clifford Sewells.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Russell and Henry Cretz of Amarillo were Sunday visitors of the Loren Cretz family.

Town Turns Out For Chamber Banquet

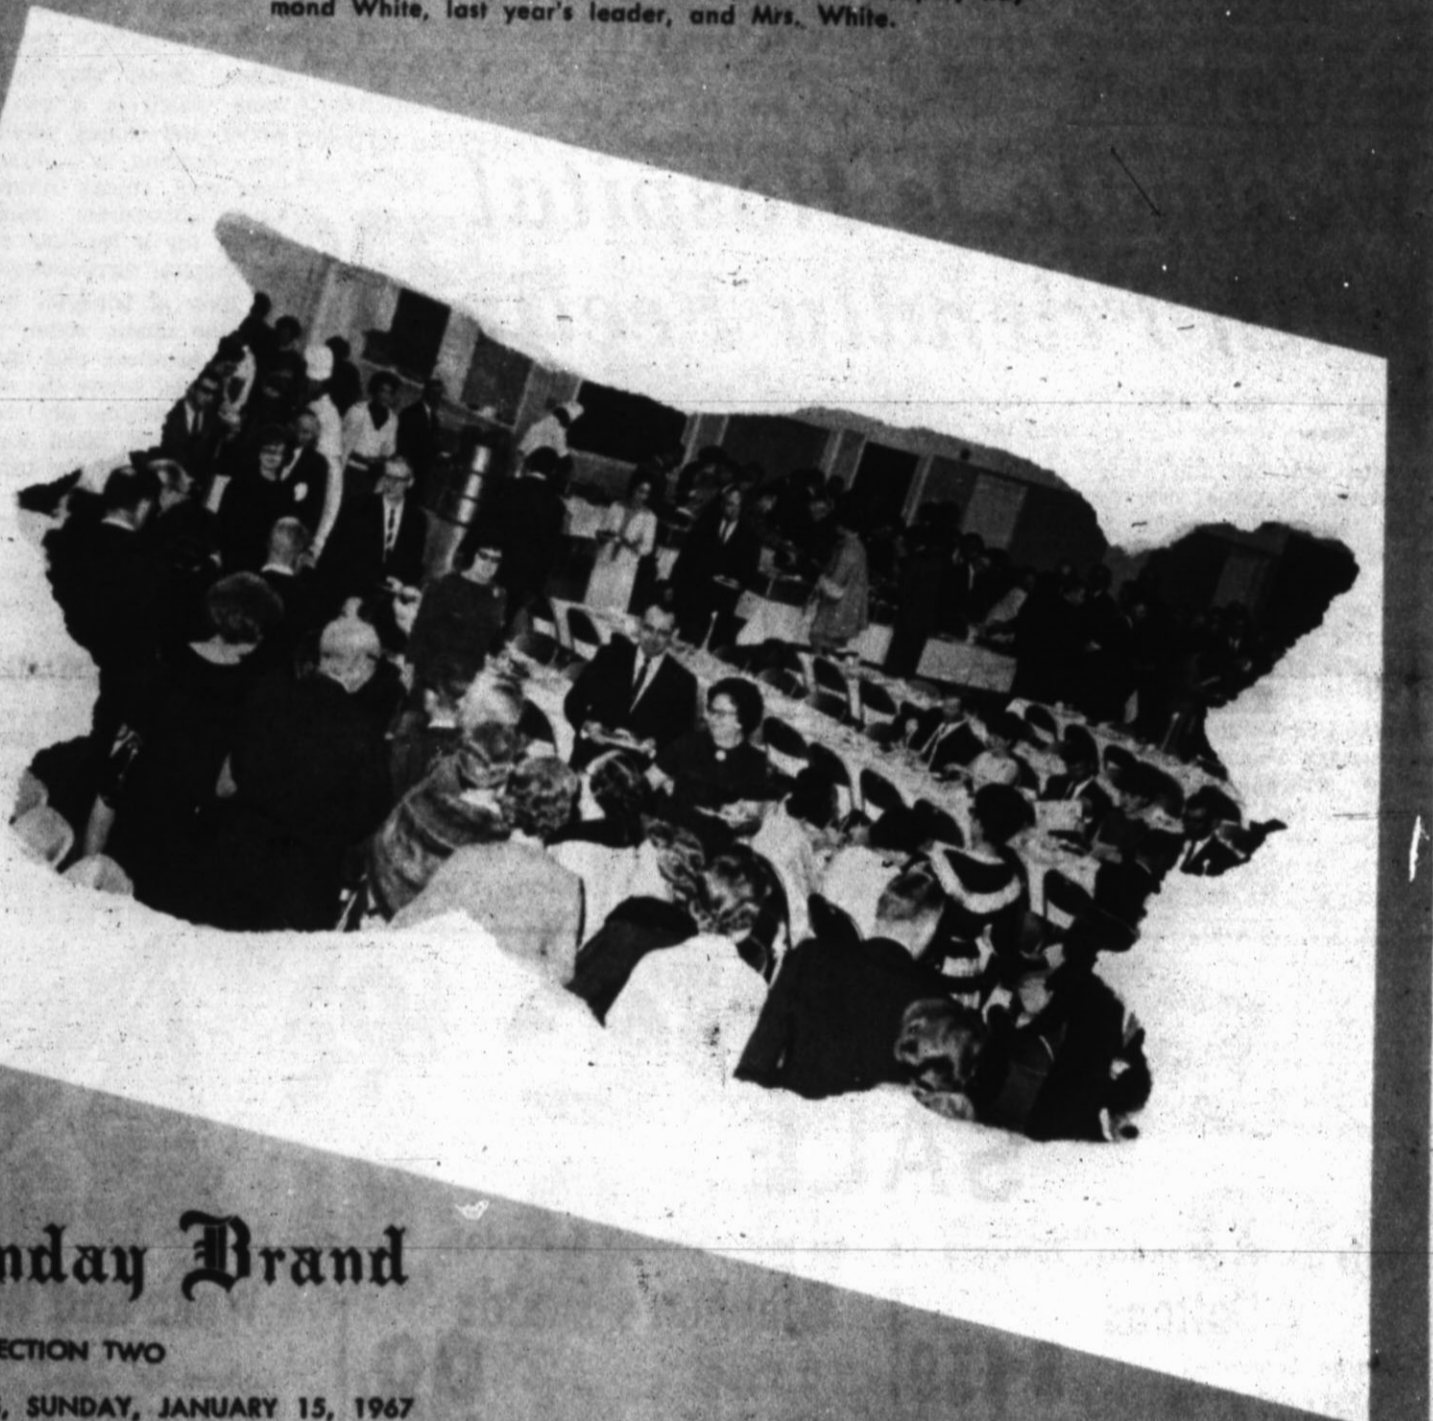

A GALA EVENT of January in Hereford, the 1967 Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce banquet drew hundreds to the County Bull Barn Thursday evening, featuring award presentations and a guest speaker. One award went to Corinne Neely, above, for her decade of service to the community in United Fund headquarters office. Melvin Jayroe made the presentation.

HELPFUL INFORMATION from a member of the Hereford Mustlers, special Chamber of Commerce group whose maroon-coated members served as ushers in the big dining hall, is given a guest. Attorney Wayne Thomas is gesturing a direction. Facing the camera are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gentry. As president of Hereford Lions Club, Gentry presented the Citizen of the Year award.

VARIED FACES OF WESTGATE — Personnel at Westgate, the hospital unit of King's Manor retirement home, is concerned with varied phases of the comfort and happiness of its residents. Some of the many facets of daily activity are suggested by these camera studies. At left is Lucille Gibbins, supervisor of nursing service, pausing at the lectern in a corner of the living room in an interval of her busy day. Growing plants in the background and on the piano are typical of many in halls and rooms of the building. At the telephone, Byrdie Dee Fellers gives information to a caller, one of her duties as office manager and book-keeper. An employee of Westgate since its opening, Florice Powell, dietician, gives personal attention to preparing a dessert for patients' meals. The large, convenient kitchen and cheerful dining room are her domain. Sunshine from east windows in the sunroom at the end is reflected down the gleaming surfaces of floor and walls in a corridor. Gladys Dowd, a member of the staff, walks toward a patient's room. Residents watching a television program can be glimpsed in the sunroom. (Staff photos by Joe Bran)

Accent On People

Westgate Is Hospital With Friendly Feeling

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Sunshine splashes the entry of Westgate Hospital, shining through south glass doors on green plants which grow in a tall box to one side, and giving the visitor a first impression of the cheerful, relaxed atmosphere in this unit of King's Manor, Methodist retirement home.

WESTGATE IS NOT so well known as the Manor proper, a Hereford showplace since it opened some four years ago. By its nature, the hospital unit is out of the path of casual visitors, occupying its own building on a corner of the grounds behind the main building.

Unlike the active residents of the Manor, those at Westgate are persons who need nursing care although many are ambulatory and some remain in the hospital section by choice. The building has 30 beds, one of them always reserved for a possible patient from King's Manor.

Lucille S. Gibbins is the supervisor of nursing service, credited by other staff members with maintaining the pleasant atmosphere of the place. She brought years of experience in nursing and in managing homes for older patients, when she came to Westgate last October.

A VISITOR IMMEDIATELY feels the serenity as he walks through immaculate rooms and corridors. Sitting in the foyer, one can hear a murmur of voices in friendly conversation punctuated with laughter; residents walk, or are wheeled, past, some alone and some accompanied, pausing to talk with each other or with staff members.

Some sit in the sunroom at the east end of the front corridor, chatting or watching television, others may be in the room which is a combination parlor and chapel, others visiting, reading or serving in their own rooms where most have accessories from their homes for a familiar touch in the hospital surroundings.

A row of windows lets light into the dining room, with its maple furniture and flowers on each table, where the staff and all residents who are able gather for meals, often waiting in the corridor for the bell to announce dinner.

ALWAYS THERE ARE members of the nursing staff moving quietly about, ready to respond to a patient's call or to check on their needs.

"We employ worlds of TLC (tender, loving care) and find that the finest medicine is to make each patient feel needed and wanted," says Mrs. Gibbins. "It is not easy to find the right persons to work with our patients. To care for and love old people one must feel a special calling and a closeness to God."

In addition to her background in nursing with emphasis on the field of geriatrics, Mrs. Gibbins expresses a devotion to professional standards and a strong religious bent.

HER INTEREST in nursing began in childhood, she says, as she went on calls with an uncle who was a doctor, and often helped care for his patients under his instruction.

Born in Toronto, Canada, she says the highlight of her childhood was an educational world tour when she was 10 years old. She chose nursing as her profession when she was 18 and pursued it actively after graduation from college.

Married to a Texas native, she raised her family in Oklahoma and after her husband's death about two years ago moved to Plainview, where her younger son is a lawyer. Another son lives in North Carolina, a daughter on the West Coast.

HER WORK HAS taken her to various parts of the United States and abroad. She has nursed in England; last year she accompanied a patient to Coblenz, Germany, and then a couple to Hawaii.

"Looking for a niche where I could fit and be needed, I found just that in Westgate," the slender blonde supervisor says,

"and it is a beautiful experience. Hereford is a wonderful place, the nicest little community I've ever had the pleasure of living in!"

Training of the Westgate staff to meet high professional standards is one of her chief duties, she believes, and she considers the training to be a continuous process. Sixteen young women are now being taught to care for patients' comfort as their primary duty, then to attend to the details of keeping a hospital fresh and spotless, to practice courtesy and professional behavior.

HER AIM, she says, "is to impart to each girl the idea that these elderly people have given so much in their lifetime, it behooves us to return in part the love and kindness, they need, and to make them know they are important and wanted."

Their attitude, as well as their snow-white caps and uniforms and their competence in the tasks assigned them, can have a vital bearing on the patients' welfare, Mrs. Gibbins insists.

With the entire King's Manor organization, Westgate is under the administration of Dr. Don Davidson, executive director. Two staff members who are in charge of important departments are Byrdie Dee Fellers, office managers, and Floriece Powell, dietician and kitchen supervisor.

MRS. FELLERS, in charge of the bookkeeping, admissions and other clerical duties, has been in the Westgate office a year and a half. She had a number of years experience in bookkeeping for a milling company here and a grain elevator in Amarillo.

"It was quite a change to come here, but I love it," she says of her varied work.

A resident of this area since she was five years old, Mrs. Fellers completed high school work in Hereford and then had training in a business school. Her home now is at 128 Aspen, where she likes to work in the yard, sew or read for relaxation. Baby-sitting with some of her five grandchildren is also included in her list of hobbies. She has two sons, Don B. Fellers of Lubbock and Dick D. Fellers of Bovina.

ONLY STAFF MEMBER at Westgate since its opening, Mrs. Powell has a busy schedule as she plans all menus including special diets, supervises food preparation and takes a hand herself. Good, wholesome food, well cooked and attractively served, is her contribution to the patients and staff.

In addition to regular meals, she finds the special wants of the residents and tries to provide them. When anyone has a birthday she makes a special cake and decorates it for the occasion.

Previous experience in producing meals for a household of people was achieved by Mrs. Powell in the kitchen of the Methodist Camp at Ceta Canyon, where she worked two years. Her college major was in home economics, but she did not complete work for a degree.

WHEN SHE WAS employed at Westgate she went to Tech for a short course on special diets, and she has continued to study that phase of her work. "But I've learned that you can't always go-by the rules," she laughs, "and every day of work here teaches me things that the textbooks leave out."

With her husband, B. V. Powell, she lives in one of the cottages on King's Manor grounds. Her three sons live in other cities, her daughter, Willa Kay, is a senior in West Texas State University. She also has five grandchildren whose visits she enjoys.

Two Initiated As Members Of VFW Auxiliary

Initiation of two new members was conducted at the meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary Thursday evening in the VFW Clubhouse, with Mrs. Orpha Nickerson, president as director. Norma Huckert and Liza Rodriguez became members in the ceremony.

Memorial gifts honoring the late Blue Turpen and the three sons of Mrs. Leonard Davis, an Auxiliary member, were voted by members. The contributions will be sent to the memorial chapel in Austin sponsored by VFW and Auxiliary organizations of Texas.

Attending the meeting were Mmes. A. J. Ralston, David Rettman, Henry Murrell, Wayne Driskill, Clarence Hollabaugh and Davis.

Cord Of Thanks
I would like to express my thanks for all the kindnesses bestowed on me. The cards, the flowers and the prayers and also to Dr. Hicks and the nurses while I was in the hospital.

Capitol Gets Attention Of Austin, Entire State

By LARRY FUHRMANN
Hereford Brand
Austin Bureau Chief

The whirlwind of action in the Capitol city has taken a change — it's shifted 10 blocks to the south of the University of Texas campus to the Capitol, where legislators have been converging for the session beginning January 10th. The Capitol halls, long silent, are filled with "welcome back" greetings and anticipation of the action to take place in legislative chambers soon.

Meanwhile, campus activities at the University of Texas has disappeared as the Academic Center becomes the focal point for many; the semester ends this week.

Two big issues in the session may be liquor and horse betting. The 1965 legislature stranded the horse race betting proposal in a subcommittee and killed in

Guides Ready On Red Cross Handwork Items

Specifications for items needed in veterans' hospitals and military hospitals, and requested by the American Red Cross, have been received at Deaf Smith County Red Cross office 319 Sampson, announces Genevieve Miller, executive secretary.

Volunteers who wish to make any of these articles, some to be sewn and some knitted, are invited to inquire by telephone, or to come by the office and receive the instructions.

Donation of material by the volunteers will be appreciated, Mrs. Miller says, but the county chapter can supply some materials. Some of the items can be made with scraps of cotton fabric or yarn.

Many of the articles are very simple to make; others, such as pajamas, require more skill. The volunteer may choose items to suit her experience in sewing or knitting.

Representative Clayton is predicting that both issues will be squelched again this year.

Senator-elect Red Berry of San Antonio claims that parimutuel betting on horse races would solve the state's tax problems, which are really on the increase this time.

Kiwanians Hear ZIP Explanation

Members of the local Kiwanis club were shown a film on zip code procedures at their regular luncheon Thursday.

Postmaster Nolan Grady showed the film, "The Straight Line," which primarily explains the zip code and shows how the code can be of help to mailers.

The film gave several examples of zip code helping the mailer, from the individual mailer to the large companies. One example showed how a shopping center put out an advertising bulletin and saved valuable time by using zip codes, thus helping with the store's sales promotion.

Another example showed a company that had an automatic data processing unit which used the 5 digits of the zip code as part of the customer's account number, adding 3 more digits for their own purposes.

Presiding over the meeting was new club president Dean Herring.

putting the legislature in a precarious position.

Polls of legislators indicate that the city sales tax plan is not receiving much hope. Mayors believe that it would bring in about $70 million annually for the cities, about 10 per cent of their overall budgets.

The state Republican Executive Committee will be meeting in Austin Jan. 13-14 with primary purposes of adopting a budget for 1967 and discussion of opportunities for 1968 campaigns, says Peter O'Donnell Jr., chairman.

Texas Senator Ralph Yarborough has been named recipient of an award for "public service for his authorship of Tile VI of the Higher Education Act of 1965 and strong support of the program for use of new educational audio-visual equipment, tape records and science teaching aids." The presentation was made by the National Audio-Visual Association at its conference in Dallas last week.

Contact lenses may be fitted only under the direct supervision of a license physician or licensed optometrist, Attorney General Waggoner Carr has ruled. An ophthalmic dispenser may not lawfully fit the lenses, although he can lawfully manufacture them according to specifications prescribed.

Mrs. Perry R. Bass of Fort

Worth, chairman of the Mansion Subcommittee of the Texas Fine Arts Commission, announces the beginning of a state-wide fund-raising campaign to raise funds to convert the grounds of the Governor's Mansion into a garden.

The beautification and conservation program was prepared under Mrs. Connally's supervision and has been approved by the Fine Arts Commission.

The plans include a formal rose garden with colonial arbors, a gazebo, pools and fountains framed and surfaced with brick patios and retaining walls. The plans will be in keeping with the ante-bellum style of the official residence that has been the home of Texas' governor since 1856.

The last legislature gave the responsibility for the supervision of the governor's mansion to the Fine Arts Commission. The commission has asked the State Board of Control and the State Building Commission to proceed with details so that the bidding of the project can begin within 90 days. Contributions to the Texas Fine Arts Commission — Mansion Landscape Fund can be mailed to Mrs. John Connally, The Governor's Mansion, 1010 Colorado, Austin.

For dining in the French style—
PLACE VENDÔME
by Thomasville

This is the kind of elegance that flowered in France in Louis XV's time. The lovely curving lines, the graceful cabriole leg and carved motifs bring the spirit of that luxurious era to your dining room today. You see the Louis XV influence, too, in the beautifully inlaid parquet table top, in grille doors and fine imported cane. The veneers are prized walnut with a subtle Patina finish, hand-rubbed to a mellow glow. With Place Vendôme in your dining room you'll be proud to welcome your guests!

Along The Frio

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Brand's Frio Correspondent

A church-wide Bible study has been held at Frio Baptist Church this week, with the Rev. Sam Ogan teaching adult classes, and 59 persons had been enrolled by Thursday night. Mrs. Bill Struve has been in charge of refreshments.

Clark Andrews helped the George Zetsches move Saturday to the place where his par-and Mrs. A. McDaniel of Edmondson and an aunt, Mrs. Alton Chiddix of Plainview. Sandra and Terry Harkins went home with their grandmother for a few days' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. P. Pilgreen of Vernon visited their granddaughter, Mrs. Joe Andrews, and family Tuesday and Wednesday. The Andrews left Thursday for a weekend trip, going to Abilene to visit her parents, the Herbert Haseloffs, and on to the Uvalde area, where part of the Powers vegetable industry is located.

Clark Andrews helped the George Zetsches move Saturday to the place where his parents, the J. B. Zetsches have lived. The J. B. Zetsches have moved into a new home in Friona. The George Zetsches now live 20 miles west and four south of Hereford, or nine miles north of Friona on a farm to market highway from Harrison Highway to Friona. The J. B. Zetsches improved the place about four years ago when they moved there from Bowie.

Visiting the John Simpsons during the weekend were their daughter, Mrs. Leon Roberts, and her daughter, Mrs. Ronnie Ford and baby from Dodson. They and the Robert Simpsons and J. C. Simpson family had dinner with the Simpsons on Sunday.

Tommy Sparkman left on Monday night from Amarillo to help G. C. Merritt care for the Collins Hereford cattle in the National Livestock Exposition at Denver. T. L. Sparkman Jr. went Friday to see the show.

Mrs. Laura Littrell and Miss Alma Andrews spent Tuesday night with Mrs. Littrell's sister, Mrs. Allie Burris, at Texico and visited Wednesday in the home of their brother, W. F. Andrews, at Melrose.

The Rev. and Mrs. Sam Ogan went to Spade Thursday, for her to attend an Associational WMU meeting. They also visited his aunt in a hospital at Littlefield.

Harry James Vogler, who was injured in a car-motorcycle accident Wednesday afternoon, was transferred Thursday from Deaf Smith County Hospital to Northwest Texas hospital, Amarillo. Harry 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Vogler, suffered a broken leg near the knee as he was riding the motorcycle at the time of the accident.

Frio Homemakers Club will meet at the First National Bank-Community Room, Hereford, Tuesday for its regular meeting. A guest speaker is expected to give the program.

IDENTIFYING RACE HORSES

FRANKFORT, Ky. — The distinctive colors worn by jockeys in horse racing serve a purpose. You can't tell one horse from another on the far side of the track, but you can identify them by the jockeys' colors.

Music Club Officers Headed By Mrs. Godwin

Mrs. R. C. Godwin was named president of Music Study Club for the 1967-68 season, to succeed Mrs. Bill Bradley at the close of this term, when officers were elected this week. Mrs. W. C. Fisher and Mrs. Dale Young were chosen as vice presidents.

The meeting was in Mrs. Godwin's home and Mrs. Bill Dameron, vice president, conducted the business session when the nominating committee's report was accepted. Mrs. Frances Parker was elected secretary, Mrs. Ellis Coombs corresponding secretary, Mrs. Paul Lyons treasurer and Mrs. Carl Mount reporter-historian.

Mrs. Zack Pannell was director of the program on Impressionism and Expressionism in Music. The former type of music, she said, is marked by the use of unorthodox means to express impressions or emotions. Expressionism is a more complete break with traditional music she continued, characterized by excessive dissonance, lack of obvious rhythmic design and complicated structure.

The speaker discussed the career of Claude Debussy, French composer, as the perfect example of impressionism. Mrs. Richard Jackson sang one of his works, Beautiful Evening, accompanied by Mrs. J. C. McCracken. A recording of his three symphonic sketches titled La Mer (The Sea) was played. Miss Pam McCutchen, piano student of Mrs. Lyons, was a program guest who played Nocturne by Kabalevsky. Mrs. Gene Brink, violinist, was accompanied by Mrs. McCracken as she presented the Berceuse from Godard's Jocelyn.
