Youths Charged With Vandalism

Charges were filed in Deaf Smith County Juvenile Court Friday morning against two Summerfield youths in connection with several acts of vandalism committed March 25 and 26.

Charged with allegedly having violated the penal code of the state of Texas by committing a felony were David Huckert, 15, and Bill McMinn, 15.

A hearing to determine whether or not the youths should be declared juvenile delinquents had been set for Wednesday morning in Deaf Smith County Court before Juvenile Judge H. C. Williams, but Andrew Shuval, attorney for McMinn, asked for a continuance in the case.

In asking Judge Williams for the continuance until Tuesday,

April 18, Shuval explained that he had prior commitments which required him to be out of town. Judge Williams granted the request, stating that the defendant has the right by law to a first continuance.

On the night of March 25, and the early morning of March 26, there were six vehicle windshields broken with large rocks and two yard lights broken all in Hereford. Also, more than $1,500 in liquid fertilizer was lost at three area businesses when valves were turned on at the fertilizer tanks. The charges against the Summerfield youths arose from the incidents, officers said.

Carl J. Mountz Funeral Service Held Saturday

Mr. Mountz had retired about 15 years ago after 43 years as a railroad telegrapher for the Santa Fe System. He came here from his native state, Indiana, in 1907 to work as telegraph operator and in the ticket office of the railroad.

Born in Artic, Ind., June 25, 1889; he married Miss Calla L. Lambert in Hereford Sept. 12, 1912. Their home is at 106 West Seventh Street.

Surviving Mr. Mountz are his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Marie Crosthwait of Hereford; a son, Carl D. Mountz of Lubbock; a brother, Walter D. Mountz of San Diego, Calif.; four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Interment was in West Park Cemetery. Serving as pallbearers were Frank Daniel, R. G. Blue, John Renfro, Pink Gilliland, W. B. Phillips, Jim Auten, John Hacker, John Turner and Ezra Norton.

POTATO WORKSHOP

Potato men are invited to attend a meeting Monday night at the Community Center. Doyle Burns, executive secretary of the national potato council from Washington, D. C. will be the speaker. He will discuss promotion and selling of potatoes on the national level.

All interested people — potato growers, fertilizer and implement dealers and chemical men are invited.

Miss Hanna will go to Austin for the Girls State session on June 14-24 and will participate with 400 other girls from throughout the state. Girls State will be held in the School for the Blind in Austin. She was selected by the American Legion Auxiliary of Hereford. Her alternate is Kanda Hill.

Miss Hanna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hanna of Hereford and Miss Hill is the daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. O. G. Hill, Jr. of 122 N. Texas.

During both sessions, the Hereford youths will participate in the organization of political parties, campaigns, elections, and the enactment and enforcement of their own laws within a mythical state.

Based as one of the Legion's outstanding youth-training programs, Boys and Girls State affords the youngsters the opportunity to learn the functions of government. They will also see the importance of the role a good citizen has in discharging his citizenship responsibilities, soon discovering how government depends upon the active interest of every citizen.

Both delegates were chosen on the basis of leadership, character, courage, honesty, scholarship, cooperativeness and physical fitness.

The program is a non-political, non-partisan attempt to inculcate in the youth of America a love of God and country.

GLISTENING — Even the lights at night look brighter when they are diffused by rain on the pavement. Farmers particularly enjoy rain, but the moisture this weekend was too late to do the dryland wheat any good. (Hereford Brand Photo)

Rain Rain Rain...

It rained again in Deaf Smith County! It really did! In amounts ranging from a trace to as high as 1.70.

Large thunderheads, which loomed ominously over the area most of the day Friday, unloaded their contents on the thirsty soil at least twice in most sections. Much lightning and light hail accompanied the rains, but no damage was reported.

The rain teased city residents throughout the day, starting and stopping before the ground could get good and wet. About 9:30 p. m. things began to change, however, as thunder began rumbling and lightning flashed.

Light rain fell until shortly after 10 p. m. when the bottom fell out and the city began to receive the heaviest rain in several months. Gusty winds whipped the rain and made the light hail sound much bigger than it actually was.

Officially, the city measured .50, bringing the total for the year to .94. A Sunday afternoon thundershower on March 19 left .26 on the ground.

Best news for area farmers came from area weathermen, who said evaporation from the rain would be very light because of high humidity readings. One area farmer stated that his land was so dry that it had left nothing to evaporate. "It soaked the rain up like a sponge."

Raymond Flores, who lives 17 miles due north of Hereford, reported the highest moisture reading — 1.70. Mrs. Flores said enough hail had fallen to "whiten the ground." The rain fell soon after dark.

Mrs. Herb Schmidt, who lives 12 miles west of Hereford, wasn't sure of the measurement but reported a "good shower." No hail fell in that area but high winds blew briefly. Mrs. Schmidt said .25 fell about 1 1/4 miles south of her home.

Phillip Miller, who lives 15 miles west and six miles north of the city, was jumping for joy Saturday morning as he measured 1.5 in the rain gauge. Mrs. Miller said a lot of small hail had fallen.

About .50 was reported by Mrs. C. L. McBroom of Wildorado, the rain falling in two showers — one about 3 p. m. and the other about 9 p. m. There was some hail.

Mrs. Bill Ellis said .50 fell at her farm about 12 1/4 miles northwest of Hereford and the same amount was measured at another Ellis farm 2 1/2 miles west of the city. There was no hail, Mrs. Ellis added.

A total of 1.8 was reported on the Leo Witkowski farm in the Arney community, 20 miles southeast of Hereford. Jim McCabe, who lives south of Dawn, had little luck, receiving "just a shower."

Dean Stallings reported .30 in the Milo Center area north of Hereford, saying that "it was real nice, but there wasn't enough of it."

Local Employment Office Occupys New Building

By TOM PORTER Staff Writer
Need a top-flight, high paying job, or one just mowing a lawn for the minimum wage?

Need to work in Hereford, New York, N. Y.; or Peoria, Ill.? Chances are the rapidly expanding Texas Employment Commission in Hereford can find the job for you. They have been for 18,000 to 20,000 persons a year.

Set up in Hereford about 10 years ago, the TEC was reclassified from strictly a farm office to a full service office Jan. 1. Continuing with the progress, manager Joe Bradley and the other five employees moved from 138 W. 3rd to a new building at 403 W. 7th on Feb. 24.

Working with a primary purpose to "get the employer and applicant together," the TEC had dealt mainly with farm labor prior to becoming a full service office. Non-farm orders and applications had been handled only on a demand basis, said Bradley, but "now we strive to serve those people in the same capacity."

The TEC manager since July 1, 1964, Bradley explained that in the past, employees have gone out to contact the farmer, and "now we will be using this employer contact service to give better service to all employers."

In addition to the placement program, the local TEC office also takes claims for unemployment. This service, Bradley said had been done in the past by a representative from Amarillo, who would come once every week or so. "Again, this gives us a better opportunity to get jobs for the applicant."

Also handled are all of the special programs such as the CAP (Community Action Program), National Youth Corps, and HRD (Human Relations and Development Program).

Bradley stated that the interviewers in his office also have been schooled in counseling. "Some of the people who come in need it," he said. "We try to build them up."

A sub-office of the Hereford TEC is operated strictly as a farm office in Dimmitt. Two people are employed there.

Although it has contact with TEC offices over the United States, the local office was set up to serve Deaf Smith, Parmer and Castro counties. Bradley explained that the TEC offices cooperate through Austin in getting applicants work. "I may send a group to Amarillo for work or they may call See LOCAL Page 2

Childers And Hanna Are Representatives

Two Hereford High School students, Jimmy Childers and Cynthia Hanna, have been selected as local delegates to attend the 1967 session of Texas American Legion Boys and Girls State in Austin during June.

Childress was named from among various candidates and will join 750 other students from throughout the state when the session starts. The session will be held at the University of Texas in June 10-17. He is the son of Mrs. Ella Mae Childers of 1008 Grand Ave.

Named as alternate to Childers is David Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. Kelly, of 204 Aspen.

Miss Hanna will go to Austin for the Girls State session on June 14-24 and will participate with 400 other girls from throughout the state. Girls State will be held in the School for the Blind in Austin. She was selected by the American Legion Auxiliary of Hereford. Her alternate is Kanda Hill.

Miss Hanna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hanna of Hereford and Miss Hill is the daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. O. G. Hill, Jr. of 122 N. Texas.

During both sessions, the Hereford youths will participate in the organization of political parties, campaigns, elections, and the enactment and enforcement of their own laws within a mythical state.

Based as one of the Legion's outstanding youth-training programs, Boys and Girls State affords the youngsters the opportunity to learn the functions of government. Both delegates were chosen on the basis of leadership, character, courage, honesty, scholarship, cooperativeness and physical fitness.

See Buff Follies Monday

If the St. Louis Cardinals who have signed West Texas State's Teddy Wheeler to a pro football contract could see him as Miss Bull Thistle in the Buffalo Follies, they might switch his contract over to the St. Louis Civic Opera and Ballet.

Yet, as Miss Bull Thistle he is in a scene of the Buffalo Follies which will appear in the Hereford High School Auditorium at 8 p. m. Monday.

Wheeler teams with other WTSU football players of the 200-pound plus variety to present a colorful, comedy-filled hour of entertainment which has captured the hearts of area audiences. A stage full of guards and tackles doing the Booms A Daisy is not an everyday sight, nor is it often that a person can see the latest fashion creations presented with such daintiness and grace.

Female stars of the show are the West Texas State University cheerleaders and Miss Sheri Kerbel, daughter of head football coach Joe Kerbel. Miss Kerbel is featured in several songs and premieres a catchy tune entitled "Did You Say Texas."

Emcee Bob Davis of Amarillo belts his way through a series of toe-tapping melodies and hits the climax with "Bill Bailey Won't You Please Come Home."

Veteran Panhandle show-woman Dixie Dice Watson, has fashioned the show into a colorful, fast-moving parade of zaniness. Musical accompaniment is provided by a band of Amarillo businessmen.

Sponsored by the Hereford Boosters Club, the show is free to the public.

SUITABLE SETTING — Paintings loaned by the Ford Foundation, on display in Deaf Smith County Museum for the month of April, are arranged in museum areas suited to their subjects. Mrs. Alvin Smith of Hereford Art Guild, which is sponsoring the exhibit here, is placing a pioneer town scene in one of the cane-bottomed chairs of the kitchen, one of the rooms which are replicas of those in turn-of-the-century homes in this county. The public is invited, without charge, to the exhibit opening from 1 to 6 p. m. today.

Ford Art Show Opens

A collection of paintings from the Ford Foundation, most of scenes from western states, will open at 1 p. m. this afternoon in Deaf Smith County Museum, free to the public.

Hereford Art Guild has arranged the showing of this collection in the new museum, and members have hung the 30 paintings so they are incorporated into museum areas; a landscape with a dirt road is placed on the seat of the old buggy, an apple blossom painting is in the replica of the pioneer-day bedroom, a scene of a downtown street on the roll-top desk where relics of long-ago business houses are displayed.

These paintings, by four contemporary American artists, are originals which have been reproduced in Ford Times, the magazine published by the Ford Motor Co. They are to hang in the museum here throughout the month of April, to be view during regular open house, from 2 to 5 p. m. Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

Artists for the Hereford showing, whose paintings represent four distinct styles and techniques, are Alfred Dunn, Douglas Snow, Robert Banister and James E. Peck. All are painters of the realistic school, rather than the abstract style which most people think of as "modern" art.

The only one who is not a native of a western state is Peck, born in Pittsburgh and a graduate of Cleveland Art Institute. He has studied on a Guggenheim scholarship, been head of the art department of the Seattle Art School and now is art director for an advertising agency.

Snow is a Utah native, presently teaching in the University of Utah. Study in Italy on a Fulbright fellowship, in New York and at Cranbrook Academy in Michigan has developed his painting talent.

Professor of art at the University of Idaho, Dunn is a graduate of that school and of California College of Arts. He was born in Los Angeles, has been a commercial artist in Seattle.

Bannister, born in Oregon, a graduate of the University of Oregon who has taught and supervised public school art in that state and Utah, is now staff art director at March Air Force Base.

The exhibition of their paintings is one of 42 now on tour in the nation from the Ford Foundation. Approximately 7,000 work of more than 700 contemporary painters, are included.

Judge Williams Named To Represent County

Don Zimmerman was re-elected president of the Deaf Smith County School Board Thursday afternoon during the first meeting of the trustees since the April 1 election.

Lawrence J. Strauss was elected secretary of the board, replacing J. C. Morrison, who did not seek re-election.

Trustees voted to appoint Deaf Smith County Judge H. C. Williams to represent the County School Board at a meeting in Amarillo Monday, at which time an area educational center will be discussed. Johnny Clark Jr., superintendent of the Hereford Independent School District, had earlier been chosen to represent his board.

One representative from each 12-grade district and one representative for schools in the county with less than a 12-grade system will attend the Amarillo meeting.

Members of the Walcott school board had sent word to the county trustees Thursday that they would like to recommend Judge Williams for the job. In discussion Thursday, members of the county board agreed that they needed a representative who would speak out in their behalf at the Amarillo meeting.

Plans call for a board to be set up and the district to be in operation by September. The area educational center would coordinate school districts throughout the area, establish a media center to facilitate audio-visual materials and dispense Title III funds, materials and ideas.

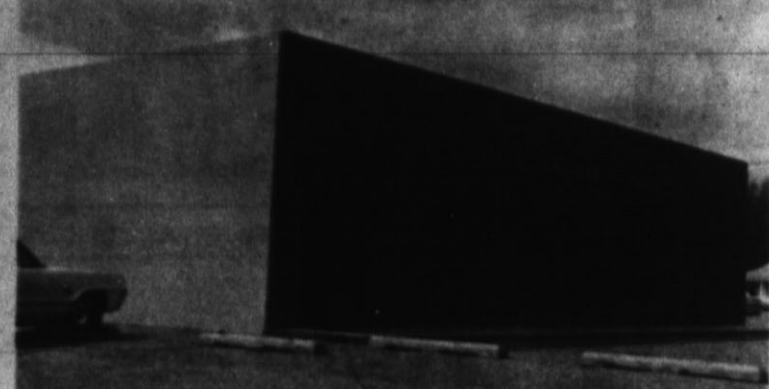

Representatives to the meeting Monday will serve the board of directors as an advisory committee after the permanent organization is set up.

Trustees expressed their wariness of the center, fearing loss of local control in the schools through the permanent board and center.

Morrison was nonvoted by the board when Zimmerman stated "I need to pass a resolution expressing appreciation to J. C. Morrison for the 30 years given of his life freely for the betterment of our school and community. See JUDGE Page 2

Veteran Affairs To Be Studied

The selection of a Presidential-inspired study panel composed of national experts on Veterans' Affairs was announced today by William J. Driver, Administrator of Veterans Affairs. Called the Veterans' Advisory Panel and chaired by Robert M. McCurdy of Pasadena, California, long active in veterans' affairs, Chairman of American Legions' National Rehabilitation Commission, the group will conduct a comprehensive study of the pension, compensation and benefits systems for veterans, their families and their survivors. Meetings are scheduled in May, June and September in eight major cities to get grassroots points of view on problems facing veterans, and proposed solutions. In a special message to Congress on January 31, 1967, President Johnson asked the VA Administrator to submit recommendations by January 1968, "to assure that our tax dollars are being utilized most wisely

Sunday School Confab Slated

An estimated 2,500 Baptist Sunday School laymen and pastors are expected to converge on Corpus Christi starting Wednesday for the annual State Sunday school convention, April 13-14.

The two-day conference, sponsored by the Baptist General Convention of Texas (BGCT), will be held in the First Baptist Church of Corpus Christi, with registration starting at 8 a. m. Thursday.

"Bible study will be magnified in every session of the convention," said William R. Bumpas, secretary of the Sunday School Department, BGCT. In addition, Baptist workers will receive specific instruction in age-group teaching conferences during both days.

Four top denominational leaders have been named keynote speakers for this year's conference. They are Dr. Gordon Clinard, Bible teacher and pastor of the First Baptist Church, San Angelo, and a former Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary professor of preaching; Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the world-renowned 13,000-member First Baptist Church in Dallas; Dr. Robert Naylor, president of Southwestern Seminary, the denomination's largest seminary located in Fort Worth, and Dr. T. A. Patterson, BGCT executive secretary, Dallas.

A highlight of this year's meeting will be the Association of Sunday School Officers Banquet to be held at 5 p. m., April 13, in the First Baptist Church dining hall. Naylor will deliver the opening address at 11:30 a. m. Thursday. Patterson is scheduled to bring the second major address at 7:30 Thursday night with Criswell closing the convention Friday evening at 7. Clinard will conduct Bible study sessions Thursday at 10:30 a. m., at 7:30 p. m., and Friday at 10:50 a. m.

Sectional conferences on lesson planning and preparation have been scheduled both days. The BGCT is comprised of 3,927 churches and 502 missions, totaling over 1.8 million members.

Farmers Union Slates Meeting

A report on the National Farmer's Union Convention will be presented at 8 p. m. Thursday in the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn during a meeting of the local organization. Leo Witkowski, president of the Farmers Union here, said the public is invited to attend the meeting, where refreshments will be served.

Eight members of the Farmers Union attended a meeting in Clovis, N. M., Thursday night to hear the National Farmers Union president, Tony Dechant, speak. Making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zinzer, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Marnell, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Witkowski and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jackson.

Trustees then lauded outgoing board member Melvin May for his approximate five years of service to the board.

Prior to the meeting Thursday, Cynthia Vines, County Clerk's deputy, presided over swearing-in ceremonies for the newly elected members, Grant Hanna, Robert Strain and Straffus.

Mike Reid, Penn State's sophomore middle guard, made 63 unassisted tackles last season. He helped on 44 others.

Baylor Professor To Tour Russia

On August 15 Dr. Ralph Lynn, a professor of history at Baylor University, after this summer will give up a hobby — taking students on European tours during the summer vacation.

Since 1961 Lynn, a travel enthusiast, has taken an average of 20 to 25 students abroad during the summer months on planned tours. Recently the history professor announced that this summer's tour would be his last because of commitments at home.

Lynn said that 17 students have signed up for this summer's tour beginning June 8 in New York and that he was anticipating more students signing up.

"Our buses usually hold about 40 passengers," Lynn said, but he explained that there was no limit on the number that could go. He described the tour as a "semi-official Baylor tour." The tours, Lynn said, are arranged under the title Reid-Lynn 1967 European Tour, and are not limited to Baylor students. "Robert L. Reid is also a professor of history at Baylor. Lynn said that he was eager to make this trip since another country, Hungary, had been added to the itinerary. Hungary offers no particular tourist attraction other than the hydrofoil ride planned on the Danube, Lynn said. It is just a country he has not yet visited.

The tour comprises sightseeing and activities in England, Holland, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, Denmark, Sweden, Finland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Scotland, Germany and the Soviet Union.

"Russia is fantastic," Lynn said, speaking of what he thought to be the high point of past tours. "The Hermitage is the richest art gallery in the world." Reid explained that the Soviet museum contains the greatest Rembrandt collection and the greatest assembly of 19th Century Impressionist paintings in the world. Numerous works of both Cezanne and Renoir are on display there.

"To see Russia and to see how those people carry on activities is the remarkable thing," Reid said. "Students are never better treated anywhere in the world." Reid explained that Intourist, the official Soviet tourist service will furnish guides to show students the tourist attractions of Leningrad and Moscow this summer.

"Other than that," Lynn said, "we are completely on our own." Lynn said that hotel accommodations in Moscow were perhaps the best and most modern on the trip.

Though Baylor does not sponsor the tours, Lynn explained, the tours themselves represent the character of the university. Screening for those students who will go on the tours is "almost automatic," he said.

Lynn said that people seemed to be more receptive to the idea of a college professor's conducting the European tour. Mrs. Lynn plans to accompany her husband on the trip.

The closest thing to an incident, Lynn said, was in Russia and did not involve the students on the tour. He said that the official guide through the Lenin Museum there began a tirade against capitalism and the United States for the benefit of Russians in the group.

"Our Intourist guide was furious," Lynn said, "and she got involved in an argument with the museum guide. "Afterward," Lynn said, "our guide was embarrassed and wanted to apologize for the scene."

SENATOR YARBOROUGH REPORTS

Aid For Spanish Speaking Part Of Poverty Plan

AID TO SPANISH-SPEAKING

In Texas today — and all over the Southwestern United States — Spanish-speaking Americans, comprising 12% of the population, face a language barrier. Beginning in the first grade they are suddenly forced to use only English, a language which with they may have had little or no contact. This limits their education, contributes to a higher school dropout rate, and makes it harder to find jobs.

Two of my latest bills attack his problem. The Bilingual American Education Bill would provide $7 million in its first year to blaze new trails in creating bilingual educational programs, with English to be learned as the other language. The Southwestern Human Development-Bill seeks an end to the existing poverty among the Spanish-speaking citizens, through programs designed to develop job opportunities, ease the cultural adjustment, and emphasize self-help in achieving economic independence.

CRIMINAL INJURIES COMPENSATION BILL GAINS SUPPORT

With our increasing — and proper — efforts to prevent crime and to protect the rights of accused criminals, the innocent victim of violent crimes has become the forgotten man in our society. The accused are cared for and given legal advice but their victims may have to spend the rest of their lives crippled, maimed, and deeply in debt due to medical expenses. President Johnson's Crime Commission has endorsed the principle of my Criminal Injuries Compensation Bill, which would set up a Federal commission to consider claims, examine evidence, and provide compensation for these victims. Covering only those areas policed by the Federal Government, the bill would serve as a model and example for the States to pass such plans.

The frontier days are gone when each man carried his own gun for protection. That government which claims to protect its citizens must also take the responsibility to compensate those whom it fails to protect.

CONSERVATION

During this session of Congress I have introduced three more bills to protect the natural wonders of Texas. My Big Thicket National Park Bill would save a portion of that area in Southeast Texas which abounds in rare wildlife. The proposed Dinosaur Trail National Monument near Glen Rose, Texas, would preserve the site of 30 dinosaur tracks, 135 million years old. The third would create the Amistad National Recreational Area at the Amistad Dam on the Rio Grande near Del Rio, on the Mexican-American border.

COLD WAR GI BILL AMENDMENTS

I have been greatly encouraged by the fact that 54 of my Senate colleagues are co-sponsoring my bill proposing amendments to my Cold War GI Bill passed by Congress last year. This new bill will raise the benefits for Vietnam and Cold War veterans to the same level as Korean war veterans, and put flight training, on-the-job training and on-the-farm training back in the bill.

ADULT BASIC EDUCATION

Over 2,000 of the Adult Basic Education classes teaching adults to read and write have been shut down. Another 2,000 are scheduled to close by July 1, 1967, due to a lack of funds. My bill to supplement the program by $10 million cannot answer all the demands for classes, but at least it will help keep this effective program going. Thousands are learning to read and write under it and to hold jobs and earn money for the first time in years. It gets people off the relief rolls. They earn more money. They have better lives. It saves them and tax money at the same time.

HIGHLANDS FESTIVAL WITH NO 'KITCHEN SINK'

PITLOCHRY, Scotland — The 1967 program at the Theater-in-the-Highlands is starting earlier than before and, in accordance with an audience poll, kitchen-sink drama is being omitted from the festival agenda.

The survey indicated that spectators prefer a mixture of and something "in between" like Barrie, Bridie or Shaw. The 17th season opens April 1 with "The School for Scandal," and winds up seven plays later with "The Duchess of Malfi."

ALLERS GOES BACK TO SERIOUS MUSIC

NEW YORK — Franz Allers, veteran conductor of Broadway musical comedies, is restricting activities hereafter to opera and concert work.

The 61-year-old native of Austria who came to this country in 1938, said a congestion of commitments had caused him to cut down and he chose opera and concerts as "a gradual moving to where I came from."

Among shows he served were "Paint Your Wagon," "Came-let" and "My Fair Lady," which he conducted during most of its Broadway run plus premieres in Berlin, Vienna, Munich, Milan, Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev.

a job here," he said.

The General Aptitude Test Battery will begin at the TEC office soon, Bradley said proudly. He explained that the program will allow the office to determine what type work a person is suited for, how well he works with his hands, how he is at typing and shorthand, and numerous other important items.

Employed at the TEC office are Jim Boston, Ann Woodward, Alex Torres, Judy Birdsong and Orville Galley, who heads the farm division.

Bradley said some people usually call his office the "Texas Unemployment Commission," but "unemployment is just a little phase of the work." He added that his area is far below the state average in unemployment.

Prior to becoming a full service office, the local TEC was locating jobs for an average of 150 persons per month. "Now that we're going after all of them," Bradley said, "we expect it to increase."

And the best part of the operation — there is no cost to the job seeker. The work is done as a public service.

ONE MINUTE PLEASE

THE CHURCH I LOVE ... PLAYS THE GAME OF LIFE ACCORDING TO THE RULES

Every game has rules to govern those who play. The player cannot make up his own rules; but must play according to the rules set down by the authority. If he does not abide by the standard rules, he is disqualified or forfeits the game. He cannot win the prize. The same is true in the game of life.

Paul the apostle put it this way, "An athlete is not crowned unless he competes according to the rules." (2 Timothy 2:5).

In the fierce competition of life, the Christian has rules that govern his activities and also the way he plays the game. Failing to live up to rules God has laid down in the Scriptures, is called sin. The sinner is the one that breaks the rules. If he continues flagrantly to disobey, he is kicked out of the game of life and does not have a chance for eternal life. But, even if the sinner repents, God is merciful to forgive.

The rules hold us within bounds of the strait and narrow way that leads to eternal life. The rules are not always according to our personal liking. But, since God loves us, we know they are for our good.

Like any other book of rules, we must study the Bible, our rule book, in order to know what are the rules that govern life. This study requires time and effort.

Sad, but most people who claim to be Christians, take more seriously the rule book for bridge or baseball, or some other, than they do the Bible, the rule book of life. They do this to their own harm.

To abide by these rules, we will have to deny ourselves some gratifications of the flesh; we'll be called upon to make some sacrifices; we'll have to take some "booin'g" and cursing from those who hate the rules. But, because we believe Christ and look forward to receiving the crown of life, we'll stick to the rules regardless.

"Blessed is the man who endures trial, for when he has stood the test he will receive the crown of life which God has promised to those who love him." (James 1:12).

Trouble Shooting Contest Slated

About 45,000 high school auto mechanics students in 48 states will participate this spring in the 19th annual Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest. The group is the largest in the history of the event, according to Robert Anderson, general manager of Chrysler-Plymouth Division.

A total of 72 local contests will be held during the April-June period, with over 1,800 schools entering teams in the competition. Last year there were 59 contests in 37 states.

"We are happy that we are able to help in arranging to bring this fine event to more schools this year," Mr. Anderson said. "The expansion is the result of requests for the contests from school administrators, teachers, and our dealers."

Trouble Shooting combines classroom theory with a working knowledge of the modern automobile engine. A team consists of two students who compete against the clock and other teams to see who can most rapidly and accurately find and fix a series of malfunctions which have been deliberately placed in an engine to keep it from starting or running properly. School instructors select their teams from their regular auto mechanics classes and all class members are eligible to "try out for the team."

Winners in the local contest will receive trips to Detroit to compete in the Plymouth National Championships June 19, 20 and 21 for college scholarships, prizes, tools and equipment valued at $100,000.

The contest in which the Hereford team of the Auto Mechanics class will participate will be held in Lubbock on May 13. The local team will be sponsored by Dishman-Hale Chrysler-Plymouth Inc.

The team to represent Hereford is not yet known, as the two students chosen will be selected next month.

By MELVIN YOUNG
Not being an "ex" from West Texas State, it's amazing how we can get involved in so many things that concern WT. But when you have an ex-president of the ex-students in the person of Wayne Thomas, and another member of the exes as husky as Earl Stagner, you just naturally bow to circumstance and say "OK fellows, what is it the ex-student's want today?" And sure enough, it was a simple request. They merely wanted a little publicity for a very large subject: The Buffalo Follies of 1967.

Actually, everything has worked out for the best. The group coined Henry Sears and the First National Bank into running an ad for the Follies, and Leo Forrest (who innocently sat down for a cup of coffee) into contributing $10 bucks towards the sandwiches. After watching that performance, we decided that the Brand didn't have a chance, so we agreed without a battle to publicize the comedy performance in the Sunday paper.

or. Now what we can say about the Follies is something again. The first thought that entered our mind was: "Great guns, what a bunch of beef on one stage?"

Really it will be interesting to see. Will the floor not give way? How many sandwiches can a WT footballer eat? How many bites does it take one of those giants to devour a sandwich?

Well, some of these questions will probably never be answered but if you're looking for some fun, don't miss the Buffalo Follies. It's a comedy show put on by the West Texas State University football team, and we understand that the performance is great. Besides that, it's free. The show will begin at 8 p. m. Monday night in the High School Auditorium. Everyone is urged to attend.

By the way, we're thankful that Wayne Phillips and Bill Davis are Aggies rather than WT exes. We have enough trouble just staying out of trouble as it is, and if you added those two huskies to the list, we would just have to give up.

Actually, Wayne and Bill have both lost quite a few pounds recently, and it has really embarrassed one so-called column writer.

Perhaps this story shouldn't be told, but an agreement was made with Wayne that yours truly would lose 10 pounds while Wayne was taking off 30. Now a bargain is a bargain, but Wayne takes these things seriously.

He didn't stop at 30 pounds. He lost 50. Me? You guessed it. Gained five.

However, with a little urging from the family, another effort is being made to pull off a few pounds.

It's a little hard however, for one who likes to eat so well. In order to drop the weight and to get a little exercise too, (without working) a noon-day hike has been the order, plus a light lunch.

It has to be light since anyone knows that no man could stomach my cooking. It's terrible.

But what makes the situation worse, is the fact that all along the route, we must be tormented by the smell of food coming from the homes of "Good cooks." It's pure torture.

Now, B. F. Cain, over at the courthouse, has suggested that bicycle riding is the answer.

It's doubtful however that the bicycle could stand-up to the punishment.

Oh well. Time will tell. In the meantime, we understand the fish are biting and the towns' avid fishermen are getting their gear in order.

Everett Wiseman, who farms up near Vega, recently told the story about the most expensive fish he ever caught.

According to Wiseman, he ready for the fishing season.

You know — new boat, motor and other equipment. He and caught one fish. Now that's an expensive fish. But Wiseman figures that he's catching up. He went fishing again last year and caught his second fish. That makes the fishes just cost $1250 each.

Who knows, in a decade or too he may get the price of fish down to the point he can afford to eat one.

Of course, if a man was overweight, he could sure take the pounds off by fishing with Wiseman.

And speaking of fishing, it's about time for "Slim" Wester and Jim Lipscomb to come-up with some new tales concerning "the one that got away."

We've heard all of last year's stories.

Over on Main St., N. D. Bartlett Jr. has been doing some face-lifting on his business buildings in the fourth block. They really look nice.

Actually, the contractors have not completed the work yet, but you can already tell that it's going to be a big improvement.

The remodeling starts at Kester's Jewelry and goes to the end of the row of buildings.

Perhaps some of the other property owners on Main will be doing some remodeling too. A few of the buildings certainly could use new fronts.

Now don't forget the Buffalo Follies. The show comes to Hereford highly recommended. And as we said before, it's free.

And then there's the story about the proud papa who congratulated his daughter on terminating a telephone conversation in just 30 minutes. His hopes were dashed when she explained it was a wrong number.

SECRETARIES WEEK SET — A proclamation setting April 23-29 as Secretaries Week is studied by members of the Hereford Chapter, National Secretaries Association, after it was signed by Mayor Ray Cowsett recently.

The three form the NSA committee on observance of the week. Standing, from left, are Jean Kennedy, committee chairman, and Avis Northcutt, chapter president. Faye Dirks is seated.

Week Defined For Secretaries

Proclaimed by Mayor Ray Cowsett, Secretaries Week will be observed in Hereford April 23-29 by the local chapter of National Secretaries Association.

The proclamation calls upon "all business and industry to join in giving due recognition to... these skilled office workers who are usually taken for granted."

Avis Northcutt, president of the Hereford NSA Chapter, notes that the 18th annual observance of Secretaries Week in the United States is also a commemoration of the 25th anniversary of the NSA, which sponsors the week.

Jean Kennedy will serve as chairman of the observance here, heading a committee comprising Faye Dirks and Mrs. Northcutt. Wednesday, Apr. 26, has been set aside as Secretaries Day.

Several events are planned for the week, and as a preface some NSA members here will go to Amarillo Apr. 22 for a seminar sponsored by Palo Duro Chapter.

Not only NSA members, but all women employed in secretarial work are invited to this all-day program to be held in the YWCA. The general theme

H.D. CHATTER Club Women Review Past

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Armstrong County Home Demonstration club women rolled out the Red Carpet Thursday when we met there for the spring convention of District I, Texas Home Demonstration Association. Mayor Cecil Waggoner gave the welcome.

IT WAS DIFFERENT from the typical convention welcome in that he gave a tribute to Mrs. Phebe K. Warner, who was one of the founders of women's clubs in the United States. He referred us to page 4 of the special edition of the Claude News.

This story tells of the beginning of clubs in Claude in 1903 which was the beginning of the women's club movement. In the story, a tribute is made to Hereford's Mrs. Ethel Curry.

The quote, "Mrs. Ethel Davis Curry, a Texas-grown girl and Clarendon College student, decided they would have a club in their part of the county."

That is all the statement I need to know they did have a club as Mrs. Curry is a very strong-willed and persistent woman who has always accomplished what she determined to do.

Often we take club work lightly, but I often think how much better one area is because of the strong women who have banded themselves together for the improvement of family living. Incidentally, the first project of Armstrong County women was planting trees on school yards. At that time the county, as all West Texas counties, had many rural schools.

AND INCIDENTALLY, can someone tell me — how long after hernia surgery is it before a man can safely dry dishes? There seems to be differences of opinion and the opinions are almost entirely "split down the middle" among men and women.

The men's answers range from one year to never. A few of the free-thinkers among men say that stopping the dish-drying was never intended as part of the recuperation.

At Claude Thursday, I polled the nine women at the luncheon table and to the person, they thought dish drying should never have been stopped. This may be one of those problems which has no solution.

DON'T FORGET the Revisit Center Benefit program on Friday, April 14 at 8 p. m. at St. Anthony's Auditorium. This is the home furnishing style show. Those giving their time and knowledge and efforts are working hard to make the style show outstanding.

For the small-admission price you can help in contributing to the support of the Revisit Center. Too, you can get some good ideas for home decoration adding furnishings or remaking furnishings.

On this occasion, everyone gains and no one loses. Your gain will be the satisfaction of helping those who cannot at the moment help themselves. Be seeing you April 14, 8 p. m. at St. Anthony's Auditorium.

HERE ARE TWO recipes that are quick and different.

GRIT AND CHEESE CASSEROLE

Cook 2 cups of quick grits as directed on package.

Shifting Seen For WT String

CANYON — Football players at West Texas State University are playing a game of musical chairs this Spring, and the result has been highly successful.

Fourteen players have been shifted to new positions in an effort to strengthen the 1967 squad and put the best 22 players on the field. Coach Joe Kerbel expects other changes to be made before Spring drills come to a close here April 13.

One of the more recent changes has been the shifting of sophomore speedster Aaron Banks from flanker to halfback. With only two days practice behind him, Banks sparked a fired up White team (second unit) against the number one Reds in the Buffs' third spring scrimmage in Plainview Saturday night. Final score in the scrimmage was a decisive 44-3 victory for the Reds, but this was a vast improvement for the Whites, who absorbed a 99-9 shellacking in Dumas last week. Operating behind the second and third team lines, Banks gained 36 hard yards against the stubborn number one defense. On many instances he appeared trapped behind the line, only to wiggle free and gain yardage.

Jesse Powell, who started at defensive tackle on last year's 7-3 Buff team, has been converted to linebacker this Spring. The Buffs' linebacking corps was depleted last season when senior starters Dave Gasser and the Wood twins, Burl and Earl, completed their eligibility. All three have been signed to play professional football in the Canadian League.

In other Spring personnel switches, junior-to-be Frank Goodish has moved from center to defensive tackle. He's also been tried briefly at linebacker. Goodish started at defensive tackle on the number one Red unit in Plainview Saturday night and defensive line coach Lee Harrington says "Goodish played a fine game considering he's only been playing defense for three days. Frank's got the size (6-4, 245), speed and desire to make a fine defensive player."

Changes among second unit players have been numerous.

Before Spring drills began, Billy Hatchett was moved from tackle to guard; Dag Azam shifted from guard to tackle; Willie Brown from defensive to offensive guard (now he's playing both ways); Jim Adian was moved from guard to center; Skipper Curtis was retooled at middle linebacker after playing guard last season and Gary Clark shifted from flanker to defensive safety and back to flanker. Freshman quarterback Jackie Wilson was shifted to center and back to quarterback and freshman linebacker Mike Mohon has switched from linebacker to center. Freshman Jim Wheeler is being tried at both quarterback and defensive halfback.

Perhaps the biggest juggling act involves Byron Jones, powerful 6-3, 220 pound transfer from Cameron Junior College. Jones began spring drills at tight end, switched to defensive tackle and then to linebacker where he performed on the number one Red unit in Saturday night's Plainview scrimmage. Jones intercepted a pass and was then shifted to offense where he caught two passes for 24 yards.

BATES IN SHAKESPEARE
STRATFORD, Ontario (AP) — Featured performers in the 15th annual Shakespeare Festival here next summer will include Zoe Caldwell, Christopher Plummer and Alan Bates.

Miss Caldwell and Plummer are set for "Antony and Cleopatra," the premiere of which has been postponed from June 12 to July 31. Replacing it as the opening production will be "Richard III" with Bates in the title role.

Fourth Straight Victory Is Won By Whitefaces Friday

A masterful pitching job by Hereford High School sophomore Lynn Betts led the Whitefaces to their fourth straight victory Friday afternoon as they beat Clovis, N. M., 5-10.

Betts pleased not only his coaches and teammates, but the local baseball fans as he twirled a three-hitter for his second win of the season. He has lost two. The right-hander struck out six and gave up singles in the second and fifth innings before serving a home run ball to the Clovis centerfielder in the sixth.

Bill Watts drove in the first run for the Herd when he doubled home Gene Duvall in the first inning. Hereford picked up two more in the second and one run each in the fifth and sixth.

Barry Johnson got the only other extra base hit for the usually hard-hitting Whitefaces, a double in the second stanza.

Betts, Duvall, Johnson and Kenny Hagar got the other Hereford hits.

The Whitefaces travel to Poyales, N. M., for a game Tuesday, beginning at 3 p. m. (MST), and will begin District 1-AAA competition at Canyon Friday at 4 p. m.

The team presently stands at 8-7 with two of the losses being attributed to the "B" team.

Varsity-Alumni Game April 13

CANYON — The West Texas State University Varsity-Alumni football game has been re-scheduled for Thursday night, April 13. The game, which will conclude the Buffs' Spring football training, will be played in Buffalo Bowl beginning at 7:30 p. m. The Varsity-Alumni clash was originally scheduled for April 14.

This year's game promises to be one of the most explosive football exhibitions in many years.

Such stars as Hank Washington, who broke all West Texas passing records in just two seasons with the Buffs, Ronnie Maukin, Tom Moody and James Cowell will head the alumni backfield. The line will boast such stalwarts as tight-end Ted Wheeler, tackles Bobby Duncum and Doug Kriewald, center Phil Hampton and guard Percy Green, all standouts on last year's 7-3 team.

Defensively the alumni will be led by the torpedo-like tackles of linebackers Dave Gasser and the Wood twins, Burl and Earl. Also expected to take his place in the alumni line is former Buff tackle George Allen, 6-7, 300 pound tackle with the Houston Oilers. Another standout will be Marc Allen, rugged 6-4, 245 pound defensive guard who started for the Buffs the past two seasons.

Several other former Buff greats are expected to be added to the alumni roster next week.

Paul Waite, 6-3, 215 pound junior is expected to draw the varsity's starting quarterback slot. He'll be calling on a deep corps of outstanding ball carriers led by sophomore-to-be Duane Thomas, a streamlined 6-2, 215 pounder and speedster Eugene (Mercury) Morris, last year's leading Buff ground gainer and scorer. Also figured to rip off large chunks of yardage will be Curley (Bear) Waters, the nation's 11th ranked punt returner in 1966, bulldozing fullback Eugene Harper, a 6-2, 225 pound transfer from

Cameron J. C. and breakway threats Aaron Banks, a 9.0 speedster and Jimmy Leonard. Backing up Waite at the varsity quarterback slot will be junior Roy Winters, a deft ball handler and one of the most improved players on the Buff roster. Precocious sophomore Frank Bettencourt will also direct the Buff offense.

Leading targets for the Buff quarterback corps will be all-America split end candidate Dave Szymakowski, flanker Hot-foot Charley Henderson and tight-end Dan Andrews.

"We expect this to be one of the most explosive football games in the history of the West Texas Varsity-Alumni Clash," says head coach Joe Kerbel. "We predict a titanic struggle."

HE'D HAD A MOTHER

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Kenny Zac was interviewing a young man who applied for a job. "Are you married?" asked Zac. "No, I'm not," came the reply, "but I can take orders, if that's what you mean."

Junior Track Is Kiwanis Project

Final preparations for a junior track meet were discussed during the Kiwanis Club's noon luncheon Thursday. The meet will be Friday at Whiteface Stadium.

The meet will start at 3:30 p. m. and will have most members of the club working at one time or another in different events. The meet will be for boys in the 4th, 5th and 6th grade levels in school.

Announcement was made by Dean Herring, president of the club, that the Key Club will meet Monday night at the Red Rooster Restaurant and that all directors were present for the board meeting this past week.

Clint Formby welcomed Don Snow to the club as the 59th member. The Hereford club has often been acclaimed as the fastest growing civic club in town and the fastest Kiwanis Club in Texas by members of the club and by other higher officials of the Texas-Oklahoma District Kiwanis Clubs.

The program featured as guest speaker, Dick Godwin, member of the newly formed Deaf Smith Water Association. He discussed water — its usage what must be done to avoid wasting it and what is being done by different statewide committees for future needs.

The newly formed association was just formed this past week when both Deaf Smith County Water Resources Committee and the PEP Water Committee met in a joint session.

Bub Sparks received the friendship dollar this week.

Astros Season Opens Tuesday

The Houston Astros raise the curtain on their 1967 official baseball season 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Astrodome when they meet the powerful Atlanta Braves in the first of a short two game home stand that will conclude the following night with a ladies night attraction.

It will be Houston's sixth season in the big leagues and their third under the big bubble. Houston will be trying to even their opening day mark at 3-3. The Astros lost their 1966 opener to the Dodgers in Los Angeles by a 3-2 score and then came home to the Astrodome on April 18 to again lose to the Dodgers 6-3 before 25,182 fans. The Astros also lost their Astrodome opener in 1965 to the Phillies by a 2-0 score.

A crowd of 30,000 is expected for this year's opening night that will be highlighted by a colorful pre-game show by the world famous Apache Belles and Band.

Dick Kelley, another Atlanta southpaw, is the probable starter in the ladies night affair

Wednesday night against young Larry Kierker for the Astros.

Good seats are still available for the first two games and may be purchased at the Astrodome, all Foleys stores and most Trans-Texas Airways' counters throughout the Southwest.

PROGRESS REPORT — Dale Young presented folders to Chamber of Commerce president Neil Cooper this week. A project of almost a year, the brochure revision presents Hereford as having the essentials of transportation, industrial development, academic growth, recreation, for the traveler, government, healthy living, shopping needs, and communications essentials. The brochure explains that a bare minimum of each of these is not what is being counted — first class all the way — from motels to churches. Shown with Cooper is Wayne Thomas, who has worked several years in various capacities with the local chamber. The brochures are now available at the chamber office. Printed in full color, the paper for the brochure is a pliable pebble paper, making the folder more durable. (Hereford Brand Photo)

Mrs. London Is L'Allegra Guest

A quiz preceding her talk on Mental Illness was given by Mrs. Walter London, guest who gave the program for L'Allegra Study Club, Thursday afternoon in Mrs. Jim McDowell's home. Mrs. Howard R. Johnson was co-hostess.

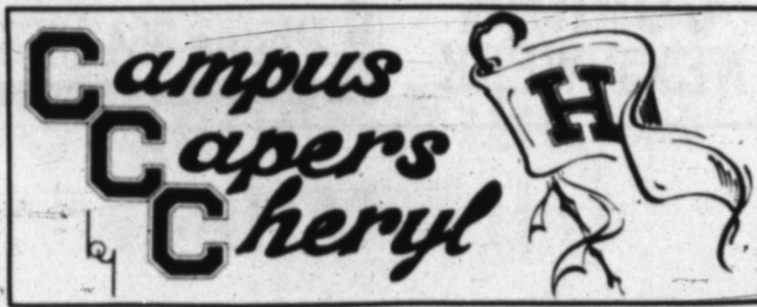

As members graded their own quiz papers they discussed the questions and discovered many mistaken ideas they had about schizophrenia, the type of mental illness Mrs. London chose for her talk.

It is a very prevalent type, she said, affecting approximately a fourth of all mental patients. She gave statistics on the number of cases in the United States, adding that this illness is found most often in patients of the 18-30 age group.

Symptoms shown by patients were described, and the speaker also told of treatments used, including some new ones.

Mrs. Danny Martin was a guest of the club. Other members at the meeting were Mmes. Alex Schroeter, Bobby Veigel, Bill Warrick, Bud Snyder, Noble Ballard, Jimmy Conkright, Houston Frye, David Gibson, Cameron Gault, Dennis Lomas and Richard Pickens.

Hi.

Another six-weeks has gone by. It seems like time is flying, but for some it is not fast enough. Six weeks test were this past week and for some students it will be their last. Doesn't everyone wish they had and "A" or "B" average so they could be exempted from finals!

On March 18 several band members went to Canyon for solo and ensemble contest. Students who received first place rating in ensembles were: Kerry Thompson, Colleen Sanders, Patsy McCutchen, Martha Kate Aikin, Lupe Alvarado, Lowell Wiggins; David Evans, Steve Hendon, Chris Hutcherson, Glenda Sue Dillard, Edlana Vinson, Joel Williamson, Don Maxwell, Jack Aikin, David Brink, David Moya, Lynn Fisher, Jimmy Haile, Patricia Hill, Barbara Brook and Wanda Fuhrmann.

Students placing first ratings in solos were: Kerry Thompson, Patsy McCutchen, Colleen Sanders, Wanda Fuhrmann, and Lowell Wiggins.

Congratulations are in order for all of these band students who placed so high in solo and ensemble contest. The band is now getting ready for contest, which will be held in Hereford this year. Also in May, the band and choir will go to Corpus Christi, for a contest which will be held there.

Cheerleader tryouts were held Friday in the HHS Auditorium. Eight juniors and eight sophomores tried out. The juniors were Kandis Hill, Debbie Ogan, Suzanne Hart, Carroll Todd, Sheila Rhodes, Margaret Adams, Cathy Young, and Shelly Rush.

The sophomores were Daun Hopson, Sue Easley, Luann Kendall, Denise Daniels, Becky Owen, Kay Golden, Suzanne Oglesby, and Margaret Phipps.

These girls have worked real hard these past few weeks getting ready for tryouts. It takes a lot of courage to get up in front of the student body. Good luck to all who tried out.

Thursday was "Mr. Irresistible" day at HHS. Friday Wayne Winget, a sophomore, was announced Mr. Irresistible. Ricky Grubbs, a junior was runner-up. The seniors seem to be slipping their last few days in high school.

"I want you to understand," said the teacher, "that it is the law of gravity that keeps us on this earth."

"Please," asked little Nellie, "how did we stick on before the law was passed?"

Study Of Happy Home Reviewed

A book recalling a boyhood poor in money but rich in family affection was reviewed by Mrs. T. E. Braddy for Hereford Study Club Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Marvin Knox. Mrs. Shirley Garrison was co-hostess.

Mrs. Braddy, a counselor at Hereford High School, was assigned the topic, Psychology, for her program.

She chose Sam Levinson's book, Everything But Money, as an example of "a psychologist who was an immigrant mother, by today's standards quite unlearned in the science of human behavior, but supplying the need for love which to children is greater than any outside force."

She quoted the author is saying he was "a fortunate son in a home which immunized eight kids against a poor environment, a home which was a field not only for survival but survival with dignity."

The parents set the moral tone of the family, expecting the best of each child, and supplying the clarity and consistency which is needed today in dealing with confused teenagers, she added.

Club members voted to cooperate in Deaf Smith County Museum's request for hosts to serve during weekly open hours. The next meeting was planned at Aikman School, with Mrs. M. C. Kaul as hostess to show new equipment used in the elementary reading program of Hereford Public Schools.

Those present included Mmes. Don Robinson, Art Stoy, Maurice Tannahill, C. R. Winget, R. N. Yarbro, Noble Howard, W. H. Gentry, Johny Clark, N. D. Bartlett and Labry Ballard and Miss Gladys Setliff.

Garden Spots Of Europe Viewed

Gardens and parks visited by a member, Mrs. E. W. Young, on a trip to Europe last summer, were featured in the films she showed on a Garden Beautiful Club program Friday afternoon in Community Center.

Scenes in the mountains and forests of Germany, Austria and Switzerland were included in the collection of pictures taken by Mr. and Mrs. Young on the trip, as well as views of noted buildings and city streets.

Mrs. Tom Carter and Mrs. J. Howard Walker were hostesses. Mrs. Charlie Noland conducted the business session, in which the club's project of planting on the grounds of King's Manor retirement home was discussed.

A bed of flowers for summer bloom, to be cut by residents as they wish, will be planted this spring, and the club will continue its work in the upkeep of a perennial bed.

Members agreed to serve as hosts at Deaf Smith County Museum for an assigned period, in cooperation with other organizations of the county. Plans were made for a tour of the Graham Gardens at Amarillo on the next meeting day, May 5.

A new member, Mrs. Carl Swanson, was among the 15 present.

Mrs. Mary Virginia Buchanan, 89, died at her home in Manteca, Cal., last Thursday. Funeral services were held in Manteca Saturday, and the body went by train arriving in Hereford Monday afternoon. Grave services were held at Plainview cemetery Tuesday morning. Coming also on the train were her son, Cleo Buchanan, and nephew, Bill Buchanan, both of Manteca. Here to meet the train was Cleo Buchanan's daughter, Mrs. Marvin Holland, Mr. Holland and daughter, Lisa, of Plainview.

Mrs. Buchanan had visited her relatives here many times over the years. She was a native of some 20 years near Plainview, being widowed in the 1920's. About 20 years ago she had moved to California.

Bill Buchanan, nephew, who lived several years in the Palo Duro Community before moving to California a few years ago lived with his aunt during the Plainview residency, having been orphaned as a young boy.

Local relatives of Mrs. Buchanan include Mesdames A. T. Jones, T. L. Sparkman Jr. and Deward Roberson, nieces, and J. E. Springer, nephew.

A. L. Hodges, who died Wednesday at his home in Tullia, is a former resident of this community. They lived a mile north of Jumbo and were active members of Frio Baptist Church during the '50s. Due to his ill health they sold the farm and have owned and operated a cleaning business in Tullia since leaving here.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete Friday awaiting the arrival of a son, Johnny, who is with the armed forces in Viet Nam. Other survivors include his wife, Nadine, and daughters, Mrs. Charles Love of Manteca, Calif. and Mrs. Kidwell of Idaho Falls, Idaho.

The program will be presented by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in the Student Union ballroom on the WTSU campus in Canyon.

James Priddy of Hereford, president of the Golden Spread Chapter of the SCSA, said the film "is unique in audio-visual presentation in that it uses three, 35mm slide projectors, three sevenfoot portable screens and special electronic equipment. There are 813 color slides, programmed to change on cue from recorded high frequency signals from a tape that also carries the narration and mood music."

Priddy added that "the presentation acknowledges the challenge before those responsible for providing the outdoor recreational needs and desires of Texans and their visitors."

The meeting is open to all interested persons and admission is free. Wilton Green of Hereford is secretary-treasurer of the chapter.

Pro Scouts Find WT Promising

CANYON — Professional football scouts have found West Texas State University a happy hunting ground for finding prospects. To date eight of 21 seniors from the 7-3, 1966 West Texas team have signed pro contracts. This figure not only represents an all-time school high, but also represents a high among Texas universities and colleges.

One of the key reasons scouts give for the selection of eight West Texas players is that the Buff offense is tailored to develop an athlete for the pros.

"We feel that our pro split-T offense is similar to that employed by the majority of teams in professional football today," says Joe Kerbel, head coach at the Canyon-based university. We line up with split ends, slot backs and various combinations of these sets. We hope that this variety of offensive formations presents one serious problem to the defense.

"We favor a wide-open attack and wide flanker formations," continued Kerbel, "but we also are split-T thinkers. We want to run the best possible play at the weakest part of the defense and we check signals at the line of scrimmage to accomplish this."

"Our primary purpose in choosing this type of attack is, of course, to produce a winning team. We do think, however, that our athletes enjoy playing the more wide open type of game and we also feel the fans appreciate it more," concluded Kerbel.

West Texas players who have signed pro contracts are quarterback Hank Washington (New York Giants), tight-end Ted Wheeler (St. Louis Cardinals), tackles Bobby Duncum (St. Louis Cardinals) and Doug Kriewald (Chicago Bears), guard Mar Allen (Baltimore Colts) and linebackers Dave Gasser (Edmonton) and twins Burl and Earl Wood (Vancouver).

Building Permits Still On Rise

Hereford continued to be up in building permits during March, as 19 permits totaling $312,500 were issued.

Broken down, the total shows 16 of the permits were taken out for construction and remodeling of residential structures, while three permits totaling $101,400 were for businesses.

Big permit during the month was to Allied Chemical Corp. for construction of a $100,000 all metal structure. The permit was filed at City Hall March 31. The other $1,400 was for repairs to businesses.

The 16 permits for residential construction included eight homes, one trailer-house, and a metal garage. The remainder was for additions to homes.

For the first three months of 1967, building permits total $958,010. In comparison, permits for the first three months of 1966 totaled $553,800.

In the record setting year of 1965, permits during the first three months totaled $2,074,160. The three-month total in 1964 was $1,211,300. Permits for the full year in 1965 totaled $5,313,010.

Chamber Committee Choses April Beauty Spots For City

Beauty Spot of the Month for April is the Howard Gault residence at 298 North Texas. The commercial selection is Hereford Insurance Agency, 323 North Sampson.

The commercial selection has a background of well-groomed evergreen shrubs with a sparkling accent of flowering bulbs.

The turquoise of the building adds to the bright green of the evergreens and the golden yellow of the tulips blooming next to the sidewalk, making a beauty spot with only a few inches of soil running the width of the building.

The Gault home has plantings that enhance the French Country Provincial styling of the house.

Plantings soften the straight lines of the house and the curved tinted drive-way. The Gaults had the drive tinted a slate gray to make it blend into the over-all picture.

Mrs. Gault hires some help in her yard, but said that she likes "to putter." "I know it's a lot of work — but I enjoy it. Things grow so nicely here — even with our problems with Panhandle weather. Actually with the wind — you earn every bit of a pretty yard."

Daffodils sparkle along the edge of the slate drive. "We add a few bulbs every year — otherwise the beds would die out," she explains. The Gaults have their bulbs clumped into thick masses rather than marching in single file.

Flowering quince and flowering plums are now blooming in the front yard. Other plants are mostly evergreens with many small plantings that will give bright flowers on into the fall. "We learned something when we started — landscaping — this place," Mrs. Gault says. "We learned to use shrubs that give a variety of greens and a different texture."

Greens shade from bright lime green to dark blue greens, giving a pattern throughout the yard. Vines play an important part in the over-all plan. They tend to give the country look that the Gaults have desired. Besides ivy, they have planted euonymus coloratus near the front entrance and euonymus sarcocoxe on the lamp post and between overblooming climbing roses on the fence bordering the driveway. The vines used in the backyard are wisteria.

The Gaults use a liberal sprinkling of commercial fertilizer. They watch their watering plan carefully and keep adding new plants to give variety of color and blooms all season.

This year, they planted their last daffodils after Christmas — they are the ones blooming right now. This makes about 300 bulbs altogether in the yard.

The whole effect is knit together with the soft blue-green of a velvety lawn of blue grass.

American Legion Plans Post Home

Members of the American Legion, Post No. 192, decided this week to begin construction of a new post home on property adjacent to the present barracks building in Veteran's Park. Dr. M. C. Adams post commander presided at the Tuesday night meeting.

The building will be located on American Legion property just inside the rock entrance to the park. Planned to house both Legion and Auxiliary meetings, the building will be designed for large dinners with a modern kitchen and dining room.

Club rooms can be thrown together for large meetings or separated with folding doors for individual meetings, members decided. It is estimated that the building will cost the local post about $25,000.

Members reportedly had considered remodeling an older building downtown, but decided to utilize their own property.

At the regular meeting, the membership voted to order 200 grave flags for Memorial Day. Anyone desiring to have a grave flag should contact a Legion member.

Benny Womble, American Legion baseball chairman reported to the group that the summer baseball season is being set up and will continue as it has in the past.

Representatives to Boys and Girls State were chosen this week. See story in this paper.

PRODUCER DIDN'T PAY FOR PARTY

NEW YORK — A revision in the ritual of opening-night celebration is being tried by producer Alexander H. Cohen.

Instead of charging off the costs of the traditional after-show party to the production, guests at the "Black Comedy" festivities were required to ante $35 per couple. Receipts in excess of expenses were earmarked for the Actors Fund, a principal theatrical charity.

STAR THE GREATEST SINGERS EVER LIVED COMING NEXT WEEK

Huge fortunes are being made every day in the music business by newly-discovered songwriters. Here, at last, is a truly valuable book that reveals step-by-step how you can become wealthy even if you have never written a song and have no musical training.

How To Make A Fortune Writing Songs

Every day, hundreds of people from all walks of life are making thousands of dollars by writing songs. Only a few years ago, a young man with practically no musical education was a wealthy man. Today, that former bellhop is a wealthy man because he used his natural talent to become a songwriter.

Housewives, truck drivers, lawyers, factory workers, students, salesmen, laborers, teachers, secretaries, clerks and people from virtually every imaginable situation have reaped fantastic rewards for their songwriting efforts. They had no special training and most had no musical education. They simply used their natural talent. Here, at last, is a highly valuable book that reveals step-by-step the secrets of earning big money as a songwriter.

Just about everyone at one time or another has written a song. Maybe it was while singing in the shower, or while washing the dishes, or driving the car. Perhaps after realizing that we just made up a song of our own we said to ourselves, "That's pretty good... I ought to do this for a living." Probably during your next meeting with a friend.

Strangely enough, that song might have been worth a fortune to you in money, and a fortune in contentment knowing you are doing the work you always dreamed of doing, but you thought it was for other "special" people. The "special" people, however, are not special at all. They are just people like you and your neighbor, me and my neighbor. The only thing special about songwriters is that they do something about the songs that they write. They applied their ability, and you let it pass. It might surprise you that some of the top professional songwriters get their ideas "by songs" while "singing-in-the-shower," washing the dishes, or driving the car. Professional songwriters then are not special other than the fact that they do not let opportunities go by. They say that "Opportunity knocks only once." This is not true in songwriting. It knocks many times. Every time we think of a title, a melody, a catch phrase, an idea... that is opportunity knocking.

Hospital Notes Paddlewheeler To Be Launched

Probably for the second time in the entire history of Texas, every person in the state is being invited to a boat christening.

On Sunday, April 23, Texas' famous paddlewheeler, the Riverboat Commodore, will be re-launched at its homeport of Greenshores Resort on Lake Austin.

At its maiden voyage 18 years ago, owners-operators of the large party boat invited all Texans to help with the launching. They again are urging Texans to bring their individual boats to Greenshores at 2 p. m. on April 23 and join the gala escort down to the Austin dam and back — or be on hand on shore to cheer this gigantic member of the Texas Navy.

The late Governor Beauford Jester commissioned the riverboat as his official flagship. Since then, it has maintained this distinction. It also has become dear to the hearts of Texans — as the only one of its kind operating this side of the Mississippi. It is the largest genuine paddlewheeler in this portion of the world.

Reason for the second launching is that growing popularity of lake recreation made it necessary for the builders, owners and operators of the boat, Texas Naval Commodore and Mrs. Marion Fowler, to enlarge its carrying capacity. Now the party vessel will hold 450 persons, where before only 200 could board her.

At its homeport, Greenshores also are found other resort facilities — like rustically modern rent cabins, a party hall, beaches and docks.

Mrs. Fowler caters parties herself, being especially famous for her catfish dinners. She has served as many as 700 at one dinner on the spacious Greenshores lawn.

During its 18-year history, the riverboat has carried over 200,000 persons.

One unique item which only the famous Riverboat Commodore has is its own little "girl." Tagging along behind her — and a duplicate of her — is The Commodore's Pup. According to Mrs. Fowler, several springs ago nearly all their dogs were having babies — so it seemed only natural that the Riverboat Commodore should also bring forth a pup. The Commodore's Pup will accommodate an additional 50 persons on party-trips.

It will be on hand to tag along on the riverboat's second relaunching April 23 — together with many lake-loving Texans.

History Teacher Confab Planned

PLAINVIEW — A Service Center conference for teachers is scheduled on the Wayland College campus April 15.

The conference aim will be to bring teachers, especially history teachers, up to date on interpretations of history. Dr. Charles Ogilvie, assistant professor of history at Wayland, and area-director of the American Heritage Program which is co-sponsoring the conference, said although the program is designed especially for teachers of history, no teachers will be excluded.

The program is scheduled from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. in the Home Life building. There will be no charge.

Conducting the conference will be Dr. J. Meredith Neil, assistant history professor at Sam Houston State College, and Dr. Jack P. Greene, associate professor of history at John Hopkins University.

Dr. Neil, native of Idaho, received his A. B. degree at Yale, his M. S. at the University of Wisconsin and his Ph.D. at Washington State University with political science, history and American studies among his majors and minors.

He was teaching assistant in the history department of the University of Wisconsin and Washington State University before going to Sam Houston in 1964.

Dr. Greene with A. B. and M. A. degrees from the University of North Carolina and Indiana University respectively and his Ph.D. from Duke University, has had teaching experience in several universities, including Columbia and Harvard. Both he and Dr. Neil have written articles that were published in numerous journals and magazines.

RURAL ELECTRICITY helps America grow...

Placing power lines where they are needed is fun for a child, but it is a big job for the nation's power industry.

Today, consumer-owned electric systems such as ours serve 54% of the rural population, and the demand doubles every seven years.

Meeting the rising power-needs and preparing for tomorrow takes the best efforts of the entire power industry. In our area we are proud to be carrying our share of the load.

Washington Report

From Congressman BOB PRICE 10TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1322 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. • 225-3706

Congressman Bob Price introduced two agriculture import restrictive bills in the house Monday.

One, Price said, would roll back quotas on dairy products and close the loop holes in present dairy regulations under which the flow of foreign milk and dairy products into this country last year hit 2 billion pounds and is running at an even higher rate this year.

The other bill would amend a section of the Agricultural Adjustment Act under which the U. S. Tariff Commission may impose quotas. "Section 22 of this act has been ineffective," Price said, "because of the time involved in tariff commission hearings and the reluctance of the Secretary of Agriculture to triggering a hearing."

"The bill I and others have introduced would apply to all agricultural imports including beef," Price stated, "and would give Congress the Authority to initiate the action upon resolution of either the house or senate agricultural committees."

"Both Dairy and meat imports could be brought to reasonable levels under such procedures before reaching the present alarming and damaging levels," Price concluded.

Groves-McGee

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Groves of Stinnett announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Susie, to Douglas Dwight McGee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McGee, former Hereford residents. Both attend West Texas State University, the bride-elect majoring in physical education and McGee in business.

Date of the wedding is set for June 10 at 7 p.m. The place is the Stinnett Church of Christ. McGee is a 1963 graduate of Hereford High School and Miss Groves was graduated from Stinnett schools.

Sherrin Betts Is Bride Of Wichita Falls Man

The marriage of Miss Sherrin Louise Betts to James Clarence Simpson of Wichita Falls took place Saturday evening in City View Baptist Church at Wichita Falls, with the Rev. Don Terry, pastor, conducting the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lesley Betts, 506 Avenue J, and Simpson's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Simpson of Wichita Falls. That city was the home of the Betts family before a move to Hereford early in 1966.

A white prayer bench before the church altar was flanked by tall baskets of white gladiolas and mums. White candelabra twined with foliage held green tapers on either side to complete the wedding setting.

Mr. Betts gave his daughter in marriage and her matron of honor was Mrs. Jimmy Dorey of Irving, her cousin. Misses Elaine Woods and Sue Covington of Wichita Falls were bridesmaids and Miss Patty Betts, the bride's sister, junior bridesmaid. Carrie Kelsey of Garland, a cousin, was the flower girl.

Charles Simpson of Nacogdoches attended his brother as best man. Another brother, Sam Simpson of Abilene, and a cousin, Doy Terry, were groomsmen. His nephew, Bill Jeffress, carried the rings.

Ushers, who also lighted candles, were Wayne and Lynn Betts, brothers of the bride and Clifton Smith of Wichita Falls.

Petite blonde Miss Betts was gown in Chantilly lace cut on empire lines, with the skirt gathered to back fullness. The Sabrina neckline was traced with seed pearl and sequin embroidery and sleeves were long. A chapel train of the lace was attached at the shoulders.

Her elbow-length veil was held by organza petals encrusted with pearls and sequins. She carried a classic bouquet of white roses surrounded by carnations, on a bridal Bible.

Her attendants wore identical frocks of mint green satin, the empire bodice overlaid with lace and a lace panel extending from a back bow to the bottom of the ankle-length A-line skirt.

Headpieces were of organza flowers, briefly veiled and bouquets of white carnations. The small flower girl's dress, in similar fashion, was floor length, and she carried petals in a white basket.

For the wedding and the reception at which she and Mr. Betts were hosts afterward in the church fellowship hall, Mrs. Betts chose a navy blue suit with touches of white in the accessories. Mrs. W. O. Simpson was dressed in a two-piece blue bonded lace dress. Both had white carnation corsages.

A three-tiered, columned wedding cake decorated with bells and cupid figurines was set at one end of the refreshment table and a crystal bowl of mint punch at the other. Midway between, the bride's bouquet was placed on a circular reflector backed by antique candelabra with five green tapers. The cloth was white net over green.

Mrs. T. O. Slater of Houston, the bride's aunt, Mmes. Gwen Woods, Glendale Cannedy, Sidney Smith and L. H. Whittenberg of Wichita Falls, Misses Sherrin Sevier and Sharon Lamm of Hereford served in turn at the table. Mrs. Bill Lane registered guests.

When Mr. and Mrs. Simpson left on a trip to South Texas, the bride was wearing a suit and accessories in black and white with the cluster of roses from her bouquet pinned at the shoulder line. After April 13 they will be at home at 1607 Taylor, Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Simpson, a 1966 graduate of Hereford High School, previously attended W. F. George High School in Iowa Park. She was a member of the National Honor Society. Since graduation she has been employed in The Hereford Brand newsroom.

Simpson attended Midwestern University after graduating in 1964 from Wichita Falls High School, and recently completed a tour of duty in the U. S. Marine Reserve.

Guests from Hereford at the wedding included Messrs. and Mmes. Vernon Innon, Don Waters and Brice Glass; Mrs. Lamm, Shirley Simpson, Becky Long, Barbara Willis and Ray Oglesby.

Preceding the marriage, Miss Betts was complimented by friends here, in Wichita Falls and nearby Iowa Park with parties. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents Saturday afternoon in a Wichita Falls restaurant.

Drug Use And Misuse Is Subject

Use and misuse of the drug LSD was discussed in LaPlata Study Club at its meeting this week in Mrs. Jack Brown's home. Mrs. Clint Formy presented the program, Fascinating Fantasies.

She reviewed a book about the drug, written by a physician, and also played a recording showing reactions of some experimenters to the drug's effects.

She spoke of use of LSD as a useful tool in treatment of some forms of mental illness and alcoholism, but said it is being widely used without medical supervision with questionable results.

Plans of LaPlata Club members to take their turn as hosts for a month at the new Deaf Smith County Museum were made in a brief business period. Mrs. Philip Shook presided.

Other members present were Mmes. Dennie Richardson, M. H. Richie, Kenneth Rogers, A. J. Schroeter, Raymond White, Louis Woodford, Elmer Patterson, Wayne Hedrick, Tom Hark-

Sergeant First Class Jose A. Ramirez has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal in recognition of his heroic action on October 16, 1966 while serving in the U. S. Army as an advisor with the Republic of Vietnam para-military forces stationed within Tuy Phuoc District, Binh Dinh Province, Republic of Vietnam.

Ramirez was cited for exposing himself to enemy fire while providing covering fire to the friendly forces so they could seek protective positions. As a result of his timely action, the friendly forces so they could munitions killing 12 while the friendly force sustained only one minor casualty.

The announcement was received from the Headquarters of the United States Military Assistance Command in Vietnam in a letter to Ramirez's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Ramirez.

FIVE TONS OF PEAS MELBOURNE — Five tons of shelled peas spilled from an overturned truck and spread 18 inches deep across the main Melbourne-Geelong road. Traffic was blocked briefly.

People from nearby houses carted off the peas in wheelbarrows, buckets and other containers for home refrigeration.

Lilac time is a special event in Hereford, and if the town should ever choose a flower to be viewed on a pilgrimage the lilac is my nominee. Nothing is prettier than a well-tended lilac bush in full bloom, and no scent could be more delightful.

OF COURSE IT is just a common shrub, quite old-fashioned, but that's probably why it is so plentiful. And its abundance makes it the ideal pilgrimage blossom. Also, at lilac season a lot of other lovely spring flowers are in bloom to add to the picture.

Brought to West Texas by the earliest white settlers, the shrubs are especially plentiful in older parts of town, but builders of new homes have evidently liked the samples they saw, and many small bushes in recent additions to Hereford are showing plumes of lavender.

THE NEW HOME of the Bill Smiths, whose move back to Hereford was recently recorded here, is next door to the Glenn Nelsons, and Helen Nelson tells me she now has a name problem. Mrs. Smith's name is Gladys, and so is Mrs. Irving Willoughby's, who lives next door on the other side.

Helen considers referring to them as Gladys North and Gladys South, but she says she's mighty glad to have the Gladyses, who are both fine neighbors.

The Nelsons had as guests last weekend his sister, Mrs. Odie Whorton of Hollis, Okla., who spent several days here. Another sister, Mrs. Irene White of Plainview, came up to join the family party.

NAMES OF MRS. Mike Justice and Mrs. Charles Weatherford were skipped in the list of guests in the story of a shower last Sunday for Maribeth Gilliland, who is marrying today. The shower guests were young-marrieds and not-yet-marrieds who were friends of Maribeth when she was in school here.

PINS IN THE SHAPE of tiny gold roses, to be worn with their Beta Sigma Phi pins, presented to Jo Shearer and Eleanor Cramer in BSP rituals last week, mean more than merely length of membership in the sorority. I've learned from Linda Kids.

To receive this Order of the Rose, a member must be unanimously endorsed by her chapter and then approved by the international office as worthy of the "gratitude or esteem" of her fellow-members.

A real honor, from women who have worked with her at least 15 years and so are bound to know about her faults as well as the service by which she has distinguished herself. That's an acid test, undiluted.

SOME SHORT NOTES on spring dress: Rita Huckert and Jean Kennedy out on an errand downtown, the first all in bright yellow and the other in equally bright red, like they had just left a bed of tulips. . . . Clora Brown wearing brown slacks with a fringed top that swirled tones of rose and purple to blend with browns for a most becoming color effect. . . . Rita Bell wearing those new sleeves that are finished with a wide circular flounce below the elbow, and if everybody's arms look as graceful as hers in them, every woman in town needs some.

VISITORS LAST Sunday in the home of Mrs. Joe Story were Mrs. Lydia Saha of Oswego, N. Y., Mrs. Ruth Saha and son, Billy and Lee, of Fritch, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Behrends of Dimmitt, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Welland of Amarillo.

IN THE PROCESS of moving from Biloxi, Miss. to Alaska, S/Sgt. and Mrs. L. C. Rodebush and children will make a stop in Hereford to visit Sunday. Rodebush has been transferred to the far northern from the far southern state.

Office Education Is Vocational School Addition

Teachers of Vocational Office Education, and their students have a busy schedule on their desk calendars for the month of April, reports Everett W. Fuller, Director of Vocational Office Education at the Texas Education Agency.

Vocational Office Education, one of the newest programs in Vocational Education, is in its third year of operation in Texas and has a combined enrollment of 6,771 students. The program, which is presently taught in 125 high schools and 15 junior colleges, is offered to senior high school students as well as junior high school students and adults.

April's big news to VOE students is the annual Statewide Youth Leadership Conference to be held April 28-29 at the Sheraton Motor Inn at San Antonio.

"We hope to have every one of the State's 125 high school Vocational Office Education programs represented," Mr. Fuller said. "We expect to have more than 800 people attending the conference."

A highlight of the conference will be 14 different contests for participants in the 1966-67 Office Education Association Contest and awards competition. One of the unique features of the contest is that students, in the typing competition, will be required to correct their errors as they go along.

Trophies will be presented to the local chapters whose contestants place first. The top winner in each category will also receive an award, Mr. Fuller said. And each contestant will receive a certificate of recognition.

The month's activities get under way on April 1 with the first of four one-day workshops for high school VOE teacher-coordinators. Mrs. Katherine Yates, VOE area consultant at Houston, will conduct the workshop in Houston.

Other area consultants who will conduct workshops during April are Marian Cantrell of Denton, who will supervise a Fort Worth meeting on April 8; Mrs. Maxine King of Corpus Christi, meeting in Brownville April 15; and Floyd Pannell of Big Spring, meeting in Lubbock April 22.

Two Are Given Special Honor In BSP Rituals

Climaxed by conferring the Order of the Rose on two 15-year members, spring rituals were conducted for Beta Sigma Phi chapters here with the City BSP Council as hostess in Community Center.

Mrs. James Shearer of Dimmitt and Mrs. Jim Cramer, members of the exemplar chapter, Xi Epsilon Alpha, received the Order of the Rose, denoting 15 years of faithful service in the sorority. Five spring pledges were received into Kappa Iota Chapter, and four of its members were advanced to the exemplar group. Taking part in the pledge ritual were Mmes. Bob Coons, Jack Waggoner, Taylor Holland, Jim Aldridge of Dimmitt and Johnny Griggs.

Those who became exemplars are Mmes. Harold Kids, Pat Parker, Walt Hanson and John Gilliland. The first two, president and vice president of Kappa Iota, will continue to fill those offices until the end of this sorority year in May.

A group of fall pledges to Kappa Iota participated in the ritual of jewels, marking full sorority membership. They include Mmes. Denzil Vaughn, Gene Larson, O. H. Majors and Roger Shipley. Mrs. Ted Wimberley, transferred from an Amarillo Chapter, was also in this group.

Roy Thompsons Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

Married 50 years and living most of those years in Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thompson celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary with a family luncheon and a reception for relatives and friends last Sunday.

Flossie Valentine and Roy Thompson were married March 24, 1917 in the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Rucker, at Amarillo. The pastor of First Baptist Church of that city performed the ceremony.

Except for a few years on a ranch near Friona, the couple has resided in Hereford since. Their daughter, Mrs. Charles Laing of Hereford, and son, Billy Roy Thompson of Amarillo received reception guests with them in the IOOF Hall Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Alton Fraser was at the door to greet the callers, and Mrs. Gilbert S. Hooper of Amarillo at the registry. Both are sisters of Mrs. Thompson. Mrs. Billy Roy Thompson served the anniversary cake and Mrs. J. W. Satterwhite of Seminole, a niece, ladled gold-tinted punch.

An ecru cutwork cloth covered the table, which was centered with an arrangement of yellow mums and bronze daisies with gilded leaves and the gold numerals, 50. Gold leaves circled the tiered white cake.

Other gold-hued flowers sent as gifts to the couple were used to decorate the hall, which was furnished like a living room. On one table were circles of styrofoam simulating wedding bands, tied with gold ribbon with names of the couple and the wedding date.

Mrs. Clyde Whitaker at the piano played background music during the afternoon. Mrs. Zephia Lloyd, another sister of Mrs. Thompson, was at the gift display table. Mrs. Jackie Hooper and Mrs. Dave Stalkers of Amarillo and Mrs. Viola Williams assisted in serving refreshments.

Proceeding the reception, luncheon was served at the Laing home to 33. An original poem written to honor the couple on the anniversary, by Dick Hoyt of Denver, a cousin, was read at the luncheon.

Those present for the day included the couple's grandchildren, Ricky Roy, Carla, Cindy, Dianne and Chris Thompson of Amarillo; Kenneth and Randy Laing, Jerry Don and Clyde Whitaker.

Out-of-city guests were Mrs. John Frerich, Dave Stalkers, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thompson Jr., Amarillo; Mrs. Ida Davis and Mrs. Nora Russell, Clovis; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Littlejohn and Orville Harris, Portales; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hoover, Canyon.

Also Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Valentine Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Valentine and children, Vega; J. W. Satterwhite and James Satterwhite, Seminole. Telephone calls were received from Bart Sisk Jr. of Bakersfield, Calif., and Mrs. Dick Hilliard of Wichita Falls.

89 Present At Chapter Guest Day

School administrators were guests, with husbands of members, when Delta Xi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, women educators' society, entertained at a covered dish supper recently in LaPlata School Cafeteria.

Hereford members of the group were hostesses, with Mmes. W. T. Legg, Fred Welch and J. J. Durham forming the arrangements committee. Present were 89 persons, including members and guests from Bovina, Friona, Hart and Dimmitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Zack Pannell sang and pianists from Dimmitt played on a musical program. Mrs. Merlin Kaul, president, welcomed guests and Mrs. Claude McDougal spoke on the relationship of Delta Kappa Gamma to school administrations and the overall program of the school in its community.

In 1967, the Northern Hemisphere spun into spring at 2:37 a. m. Eastern Standard Time on March 21. Winter officially ends when the sun crosses the equator and day and night are equal the world over.

Many Attend Funeral From Other Cities

Relatives and friends from other cities who attended the funeral of Kenneth Coker here recently, came from four states in addition to Texas.

They included Mr. and Mrs. Frantz Coker of Fair Oaks, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grigsby of Cucamonga, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kuykendall of Wichita, Kan., Mr. and Mrs. Ed Poyner of Tucuman, N. M.

Also, from Oklahoma, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Reynolds and Mrs. W. E. Tindel of Hinton; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baker, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Reynolds, Mrs. R. L. Moore and Kenneth Baker of

New Law Can Cause Loss Of Hospital Capital Funds

On February 20, 1967, Congressman Wilbur Mills, Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, introduced the Administration's proposed changes in the Medicare law. There are several features in this bill but the one which has hospital trustees and administrators disturbed in section 129 (H.R. 5710). This amendment provides that hospitals may include depreciation in their reimbursable cost for Medicare ONLY if the depreciation funds are placed in escrow and spent as directed by the state planning agency. This section also gives the Department of Health, Education & Welfare and state planning agencies broad authority to make and change regulations affecting capital expenditures by hospitals.

The effect of this legislation on hospitals is obvious. As each hospital's capital assets are converted to depreciation funds, these would become subject to confiscation. Hospitals that have assumed heavy mortgages in the past in order to purchase buildings and equipment would now find that they could use depreciation funds to retire these mortgages only if the state planning agencies deemed it necessary. A hospital would be unable to use these funds to remodel or purchase equipment necessary to serve its patients, unless the state planning agency agreed to the purchases.

This provision, according to David H. Hitt, executive director of the Texas Hospital Association, is undoubtedly intended to strengthen areawide planning throughout the United States. Hitt points out that expansion of hospital facilities and the construction of new ones should be planned so as to conserve the scarce personnel and the public's money, but turning over the control of depreciation funds to others is considered too extreme a measure in forcing acceptance of areawide planning. Such planning, as always, should be on a cooperative, voluntary basis and certainly does not call for the relinquishing of control of present assets of existing hospitals in furtherance of this objective.

Area hospitals then may soon be forced to make a drastic decision concerning the Medicare program if H. R. 5710 is passed.

The bill seems to be another step towards the eventual control of medicine by the Federal government. Schools already are feeling the tightening grip of federal control, usually brought on by a desire for federal assistance.

Like the schools, penalty for non-compliance will be a withholding of funds. In this case, payment to hospitals for medicare services as provided by the Social Security act.

An alternative? Sure! Hospital administrators can withdraw their facilities from the Medicare program and deprive our elderly citizens local hospital care for which they are entitled under the social security program.

We realize of course, that some restrictions must be placed on hospitals concerning the administration of the medicare program to insure patients of adequate care at reasonable costs. We do believe however, that local hospital administrators are capable of continuing handling their own funds, and we do not advocate any situation whereby the federal government, if it so deemed, could either confiscate funds from the hospitals or dictate their use.

There never has been a good substitute for local control.

Vocational Class Offers Advantage

America today boasts more gadgets, commercial and household than any nation in the world — and seem to be producing fewer and fewer repair men.

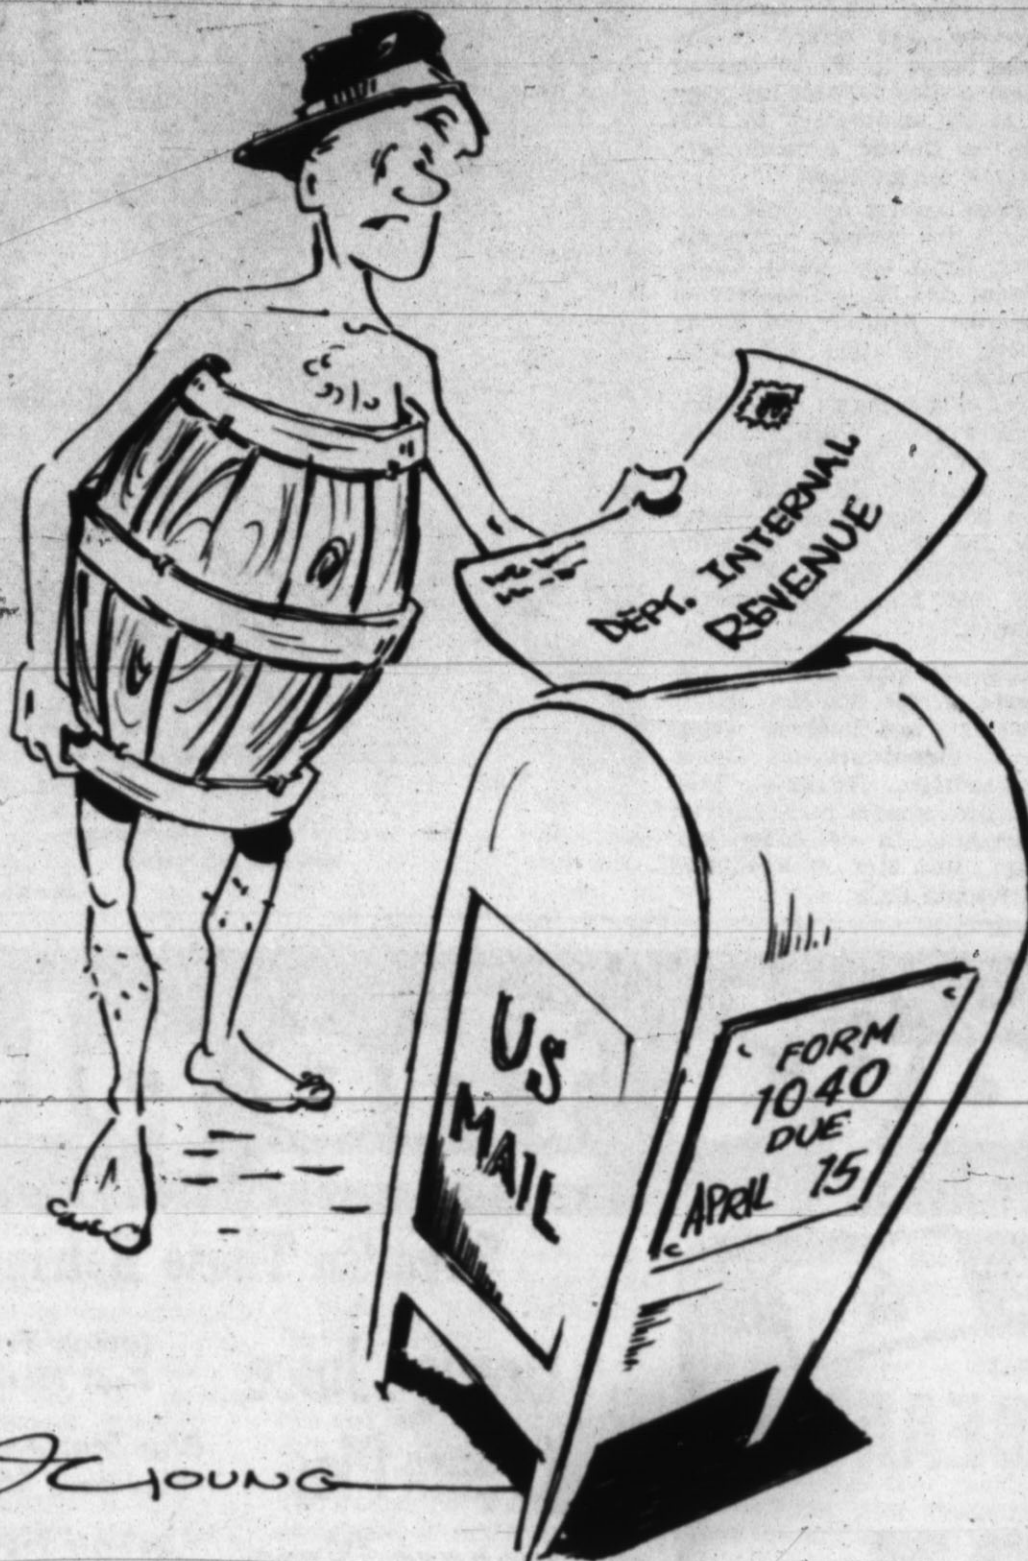

For this reason alone, it seems to us that the Vocational Training Program sponsored the past year in our local schools should be encouraged and continued. Vocational training, for that matter, is not new to this country, having recently observed it's 50th anniversary in the nation; it is now offered in 16,000 of the nation's high schools, including Hereford.

Vocational training serves its best purpose in cases where the youngsters do not wish to continue into the field of higher education or, for some reason, finds such additional training impossible or impractical. His next best alternate is vocational training in a job with a future. Due to the present shortage of skilled workmen, most of these trainees do unusually well, become exceptionally substantial citizens, and frequently avoid the pitfalls of "trouble" which many of the nation's youth encounter.

There are also thousands of youngsters who do pursue higher education who make the accomplishment possible through application of skilled trades learned through vocational training. Others find that possession of a good trade is invaluable when they enter some other field realized through continued higher education. "It is like an insurance policy," they say.

Sometimes we wonder if, in our rush for accomplishment, we are not prone to overlook the forest because of the trees. Today, there is a tremendous demand for skilled workmen on the local, regional and national levels. Diligent application of a well planned Vocational Training program appears to be the best answer we have seen in a long time, and we are happy to note that Hereford is listed in this phase of progress.

MARCH OF EVENTS
JOHNSON FRUSTRATIONS
OVER CRITICISMS GROW
GROWING CASUALTY LIST
DEEPLY DISTURBING

By HENRY CATHCART

Central Press Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—When President Johnson says he is "weary" of some of our critics' of Vietnam policy, he utters the understatement of the year. His deep frustration over the inability to get his side of the story across to a large segment of the American public is growing increasingly visible.

As any man in public life, Johnson wants to be "liked" by his constituency. Being liked and, in fact, well liked is the stock-in-trade of politicians—without it they are doomed to defeat, both their programs and their future.

The President's mounting frustration with his critics seems to pervade official Washington. He is deeply disturbed as the American casualty lists increase inevitably because of the larger number of fighting men that have been committed to the battles. He is deeply disturbed over the implication that the war we are fighting is not humane, while his critics ignore the far greater atrocities committed by the Viet Cong on their own countrymen. And he is deeply aware that the course many of his critics advocate—suspension of some of the forms of battle—most probably would contribute to still greater numbers of American fighting men.

Johnson has voiced these views publicly on many occasions, and privately to some of his critics in even more blunt and forceful language, but public inability to grasp them encourages the critics to continue.

The President is not a patient man. He can be irritated to an amazing degree for a man in such high office who has served in public life for so many years. One question being asked in Washington is: Will Johnson's frustrations cause him to do or say something he will regret? And in the case of his differences with Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, has he already done so?

● VALUE OF THE DOLLAR—There is a lot of talk these days about inflation and the declining value of the dollar. Walter W. Heller, former chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, made a recent trip to France, "imitation" and his faith in the dollar was bolstered. Sincerest Flattery

He told a meeting of the Congressional Joint Economic Committee that the dollar can't be in such bad shape, after all. French counterfeiters, he said, print more dollars than any other currency. Are their activities one of the causes of inflation?

Phone Service Was Worth Wait

Hereford boasts many achievements in which the community may take pride, but one which many of us seldom stop to consider is the ultra-modern telephone equipment at our disposal.

Amarillo, like Dallas, Ft. Worth and numerous other cities, offers direct dialing to its patrons—with reservations. In these cities, it is necessary to dial the figure "1" before the area code, prefix and number. Lubbock residents, on the other hand, are dialing at the mouth in anticipation of any type of direct dialing, since it is not available in any form in that city. Most of the Southwest, in fact, finds itself with no direct dialing at all, or with converted plants such as the one in Amarillo.

Meanwhile, Hereford can boast of telephone equipment as good as the best in the nation, including the ultra-modern touch tone dialing.

All of which is wonderful, but it didn't just happen. Any of the old timers will tell you that things got a lot worse, before they got better in the telephone business for the area. The truth is, Hereford went from the ridiculous to the sublime following World War II. Our local service and equipment got so terribly bad that one good solution was to discard it and start over. This is what Southwestern Bell did, along with a modern building to house the new exchange. Consequently, one of the reasons that our present telephone service is so modern may be attributed to the situation that some of the old timers put up with obsolete facilities for so many years.

Has it worth the sacrifice? Today, we would say "Yes", but there was probably a time when the answer would have drawn an argument from several quarters. As things stand now, though, it is wonderful to be ahead of the crowd, rather than to be dragging up as a poor last.

Lightning Death Toll Is Higher Than Tornados

By BERT MILLS
WASHINGTON, D. C. — Lightning strikes the earth 100 times each second, as part of the 1,800 thunderstorms which are in progress around the world at any given moment.

In an average year, lightning kills 600 people in the United States, and injures another 1,500. The death toll for lightning is higher than for either hurricanes or tornados.

Weather experts at the Environmental Science Services

Administration have not uncovered all the mysteries about the phenomenon of lightning but they have learned enough to produce a fascinating leaflet. It is called "Lightning" and may be purchased for 15 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20462.

Lightning causes property damage each year of more than $100 million. This takes the form of fires in forests and structures, deaths and injuries to livestock, damage to aircraft, and disruption of electromagnetic transmissions.

Airplanes are often struck by lightning, usually without the passengers knowing it. It is rare for a plane to be knocked out of the sky by a bolt of lightning but in 1963 a jet plane crashed in Maryland after its fuel reserve tanks were ignited by lightning.

Can Develop in 30 Minutes
ESSA describes lightning as "a secondary effect of electrification within a thunderstorm cloud system. Updrafts of warm moist air rising into cold air can cause small cumulus clouds to grow into the large cumulonimbus cloud systems we associate with thunderstorms.

"These turbulent cloud systems tower above their companions, and dominates the atmospheric circulation and electrical field over a wide area. The transition from a small cloud to a turbulent, electrified giant can occur in as little as 30 minutes."

How a thunderstorm becomes electrified is not completely understood by scientists; but it is known that there is usually a large negative charge around a positive area in the lower portions of the cloud. This negative charge induces a positive charge on the ground below.

Lightning occurs when the difference between the charges becomes great enough to overcome the resistance of the air and to force a conductive path for current to flow between the two charges. The result may be as much as 100 million volts of electricity.

There are many forms of lightning. Some of them are streak lightning, forked lightning, sheet lightning, heat lightning, ribbon lightning, beaded lightning and ball lightning. The latter is the most controversial, appearing as a luminous globe or doughnut-shaped. It hisses as it hurtles from cloud to earth, maneuvers at high speeds, rolls along structures, or hangs suspended in the air.

Safety Rules Listed
People struck by lightning receive a severe electrical shock or burns, or both. First aid, such as artificial respiration, See MAIN STREET Page 5

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm northwest of Hereford looks at the crime situation this week.

Dear editor:
According to a copy of a newspaper I pulled off my front gate yesterday before it broke it down — my gate is sort of like my financial situation, so delicately balanced the slightest additional load could collapse it — 53 per cent of the crime in this country is committed by youths 19 years or younger, mostly by 15 and 16-year-olds.

Since the figures came from a national crime study committee I suppose they are accurate, although I know of very few bankers 19 years old or less who have been convicted and you rarely hear of a 17-year-old politician caught misappropriating funds.

At any rate, in the same paper there was an article saying the bulk of the working and spending force in America is now under 30 years of age. There are older people working and spending of course, but the majority is under 30, and any company wanting to sell big has to reach that group, and any politician wanting to win an election has to get that vote.

I won't argue with these statistics, but I got to thinking, if a majority of the money and the votes is in the hands of people under 30, and most of the crime is committed by people under 19, what have the rest of us got to worry about?

If there's a crime wave in this country, let the youngsters take care of it. They've got the money and the political power, let them take care of the teenagers. I wash my hands of the whole thing.

Speaking of crime, some people are saying the increase is due to the Supreme Court's recent decisions, but I have my doubts. I just don't know of very many 15 and 16-year-olds who are very well posted on the Supreme Court's rulings. It would be handy to put the blame there, but I'm afraid there's very little connection between a missing hubcap or a shot-out school window and the Supreme Court.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

50 YEARS AGO

The children of Texas are coming into their own. With the passage of the free kindergarten law, kindergarten privileges will be placed within the reach of approximately all the children of the state between the ages of five and seven. This is a vital step toward good citizenship. Two years of kindergarten training, coming as early as it does in the child's life, is worth more than any two succeeding years of school work. It furnishes the correct and natural basis for school work and obviates many of the difficulties which ordinarily confront the primary teacher.

Unless all indications fall the United States will be in actual war with Germany in less than Twenty-four hours. The Senate, after a long and heated debate, passed the President's war measure, only six senators voting in the negative.

In 1916, $138,289,514 worth of automobiles were exported from the United States. Many cars were bought here for war use.

The Hereford Nursery is busy this week putting out trees and shrubs. This means that Hereford realizes the value of the large number of trees which have already made her celebrated through the Panhandle, and intends to maintain her reputation as the prettiest town on the plains.

At a session of the Deaf Smith County Commissioners last Tuesday, an order was issued awarding the contract for the first section of a public highway through the county and will be part of the Ozark Trail. This contract will cover the road leading from the city limits to the Green Valley Headquarters east of Dawn.

25 YEARS AGO

Druggists today pointed out that in cooperation with government orders it will be necessary for persons purchasing toothpaste, shaving cream, ointment and other materials in collapsible tin tubes to bring a tube in for exchange. They declare this to be an order, asking cooperation of the public to save embarrassment. Tin salvage stations have also been placed in drug stores for persons who wish to leave tin tubes to be reclaimed for government use.

Coat hangers can last a long time. When the the new ruling forbidding their manufacture went into effect this week, some Hereford cleaners stated that they would still get coat hangers from the old Orr Tailor Shop, which has been out of business for ten years. But the hangers are even older than that—they are a heavy type which has not been manufactured since 1925.

Polls will open at 8 o'clock next Tuesday morning, April 7, in the city election at which a mayor and two city commissioners will be chosen by Hereford voters. Voting will continue until 7 o'clock p.m. Mayor C. J. Padlock and Commissioners Verne Witherspoon and Nester Goss have announced for re-election and are without opposition.

Elizabeth Womble this week announced the opening of the Deaf Smith County Insurance Agency, with offices in the building formerly occupied by the Commercial Oil Company, north of the Chocolate Shop. The new agency is taking over the Leonard Foster insurance business and will sell all general lines of insurance—fire, property, hail, windstorm, life and automobile—and will feature old line companies.

Greenbugs which are already reported to have done heavy damage here to the wheat crops in the section south and east of Abilene had made their appearance in at least one isolated spot of Deaf Smith County this week, but since the insect pests work in small patches—never covering an entire field at one time—it is hoped that an early start would combat the menace here.

can sometimes revive a lightning victim. There is no danger in touching a person struck by lightning because a victim does not retain an electrical charge. What to do when lightning threatens? ESSA urges stay indoors and away from open doors or windows. Avoid fireplaces, radiators, stoves, metal pipes, sinks and plug-in electrical appliances such as radios, TV sets, lamps and refrigerators. Electric appliances should not be used during an electrical storm.

Also keep off the telephone, for outside lines may be struck. If caught outdoors, don't touch metal objects, like fishing rods and golf clubs. Abandon a tractor, especially if it is pulling metal equipment. Get off the water and off small boats. If in a car, stay there — automobiles offer excellent lightning protection. If no shelter is available, the best plan is to crouch in the open, staying clear of tall trees, hillsides, wire fences, etc. ESSA's final safety rule is: "When you feel the electrical charge — if your hair stands on end or your skin tingles — lightning may be about to strike you. Drop to the ground immediately."

LAE Club Pays Visit To Museum

Visiting in a group, members of La Afflatus Estudio Club had time to inspect closely the displays in Deaf Smith County Museum on their meeting day this week. They met first at the home of Mrs. B. A. Reddell, and held a short business session in which they agreed to join other organizations in the county in sharing duties as host at museum open hours. Then they went to the museum and spent a pleasant hour seeing its exhibits which recall early days of this area. A guest, Mrs. Alvin Hewitt, enjoyed the museum trip with 11 club members.

Aid To Servicemen's Families Growing Fast

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Without ever reading the headlines, Genevieve Miller could tell that U. S. military action in Viet Nam has increased, or as Washington says, escalated.

SHE CAN TELL by the number of requests she is receiving at the Red Cross office here for assistance to families of servicemen in that Asian conflict. As executive secretary of Deaf Smith County Red Cross Chapter she handles all such requests, routine or emergency.

A year or so ago, the local office averaged three or four such cases a month. In March 14 were recorded, and that is not the entire story because several of them involved more than one contact with the serviceman's family here.

One especially complicated case involving a serviceman stationed overseas, his ailing wife, six children, the wife's aged parents and a teenage daughter who herself is the wife of a man in military service, called for 18 separate personal meetings or telephone calls.

LAST WEEKEND Mrs. Miller's Saturday began at 3 a. m. with a telephone call concerning the death of a serviceman's relative. She sent the emergency message through the Red Cross procedure specified by military authorities, then prepared to drive to Pampa, taking four girls to a Red Cross Youth meeting, another phase of her work.

When she returned home after the all-day meeting, another emergency message was waiting and she began the process of notifying a man aboard ship that his father had suffered a heart attack.

Several hours were required to reach this serviceman and learn that he would be granted a leave and returned to the U. S. as soon as his ship reached a port.

MEANTIME SHE HAD helped a mother file a request that her soldier son be given an emergency leave to care for the family business while his father recovered from an injury received in an accident.

And as incidental chores during those hours, Mrs. Miller did her household work which she allots to the weekends when her office is officially closed, and also found a substitute to teach her Sunday School class.

Diversity of the services she renders to military families is shown in these cases, and three more which she handled in one day this week.

A small loan was made to a wife whose allotment check from her soldier husband had been delayed; a serviceman was notified of his mother's serious illness, and emergency medical aid and drugs were arranged for a veteran who was a diabetic and had been injured just after he came to Hereford to start a job.

ROLE OF THE RED CROSS in most of these cases is the transmittal of messages concerning emergencies, health and welfare of servicemen's families, a task assigned by the military.

A prescribed routine must be followed to move the message from the family at home through the local Red Cross office to the Red Cross field director and through military channels to the serviceman.

Red Cross personnel cannot give leaves or any form of discharge but they can inform the serviceman or his family on proper procedure, supply forms

BOOKS

It is to the greater glory of books that television will never replace them in the hearts or in the minds of children. The three most popular shelves in the Casa de Amigos are the children's bookshelves. Comic books sometimes hold a like appeal, but that soon fades. Toy trucks blocks and dolls never compete with books for children's attention. You can hold onto a book, and every time you turn it over or let it fall open you see something new that you want to show around to your friends. You enjoy a book open or closed, right side up or upside down, in black and white or wild with color.

As children grow older, books seem to become less available and are allowed to become less appealing. Children always find what they want to find in a book, but older boys and girls seem to lose the magic touch. At the Labor Camp there is little encouragement to read, although there is sometimes the temptation and often the time. Few families own books, although old magazines are frequently in evidence. Most barracks apartments and private houses are too crowded to afford any member of the family many hours in a quiet corner. Leisure hours are passed communally. Children speak very little, in deference to their elders. An old television or radio is usually playing, much of the time unheeded.

The Casa de Amigos should be able to encourage the use and the enjoyment of books among youth and adults as well as among the small children. Even an adult who cannot read can find answers, ideas and pleasure in books by himself or with the help of others. Two additions to the facilities at the Casa should promote a more extensive voluntary use of books at the Camp. First, since a new room is being constructed for the storage and display of used clothing, the existing addition will soon be available for educational use. It can be reserved for evening study hall and for quiet recreation with books, puzzles, games, drawing and coloring, and television at specified times. Second, the use of books at the Camp should be promoted by a recently-arrived selection of about one hundred new books.

This VISTA Book Kit was prepared by the National Book Committee under a grant from the Fund for the Advancement of Education. In the Kit are books of four general types: reference, adult, young adult, and children's books. The selection now available at the Casa was intended by a highly imadie, discussing new policies and Cross offices over the Panhandle procedures to meet law needs.

ONLY MESSAGES of death, birth physical or financial emergencies may be sent by military electrical communication systems. Such messages as health and welfare reports are sent by airmail.

Red Cross service to veterans is on a short-term emergency basis only, in occasional cases where action through the Veterans Administration is not immediately available. Another service is to youths in the Job Corps and their families at home.

Growing scope of Red Cross Service to Military Families is indicated in a meeting which Mrs. Miller will attend in Amarillo Apr. 18, when Bonnie McAfee, regional SMF chairman, will spend a day with five executive secretaries from Red die, discussing new policies and Cross offices over the Panhandle procedures to meet law needs.

MRS. MILLER IS assisted in her work here by the county Red Cross SMF committee, Mrs. Will Walker, Mrs. Magdalena Delarosa, the Rev. Gene Brink, the Rev. B. L. Davis, Dr. Bruce G. Beene and the Rev. Gene Suttle.

Mrs. Delarosa has a special function as an interpreter if one is needed by Spanish-speaking families, although Mrs. Miller says those who cannot speak English usually enlist the aid of a minister or a neighbor who can be the interpreter.

The busy secretary also values the help of Cecil Braly, manager of the Western Union office here, and Don Daugherty, clerk at the Santa Fe station, who assist her with messages received or sent by wire at all hours.

gnative group of librarians and educators to hit upon the particular usefulness of books in a labor camp environment.

Reference books cover a spectrum of subjects, from Dr. Spock's Baby and Child Care to a descriptive essay on the National Citizenship Test. Adult books include titles varying from 838 Ways to Amuse a Child to A Job For You. Young adult selections range from a First Book in American English to Dorothea Hanley's Hair-do Handbook. The selection of nearly fifty children's books includes nearly every title that a child of yesterday would insist be passed on to his own children. A booklet of useful suggestions accompanies the Kit. This booklet also offers a carefully compiled list of additional titles, including books in Spanish and in simplified English, inspirational biographies, and books useful in homemaking, job training and job placement.

Imaginatively put to use, this collection of books and a room devoted to quiet recreation should bring useful and pleasurable books closer to many youth and adults at the Labor Camp. From that point, it is a far shorter leap to using the public library and to seeking out the other channels of information which facilitate self-help in the community.

Screening Of Junk Planned By State

AUSTIN — The Texas Highway Commission today approved a program to beautify the state's highways in 86 counties by screening 154 junkyards with right of way landscape planting.

The 1967 junkyard screening program will be submitted to the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads for acceptance under the federal Highway Beautification Act of 1965. If the Bureau of Public Roads concurs the federal government will pay 75 per cent of the 1964,300 estimated cost of the program.

Junkyards will be screened in 22 of the Texas Highway Department's 25 districts throughout the state under the 1967 program. The department initiated its junkyard screening program in January, 1966, with nine projects which were completed by its own maintenance forces.

In early 1966 the department also conducted an inventory of junkyard and roadside signs in compliance with provisions of the beautification act. The inventory disclosed a total of 2,220 junkyards, dumping grounds and other unsightly blight along the state's federal-aid highways which could be concealed by landscape planting or would require removal away from the right of way.

The beautification act provides that any state failing to cooperate in the junkyard screening and beautification program will sustain a 10 per cent reduction in allotments for the building of highways. The penalty for Texas would amount to about $20 million a year.

In approving the 1967 junkyard screening program, the highway commission observed: "It is the desire of the Texas Highway Department to cooperate with the federal government to improve the beauty and sightliness of the highway system. "In this spirit of cooperation the State Highway Engineer is directed to proceed with the submission of projects to the Bureau of Public Roads for their acceptance and at such time as bureau approval is received, proceed with the program in the most feasible and economical manner."

The Texas Highway Department has won a world-wide reputation for its highway beautification programs. Wildflower and other landscape plantings were begun by the department more than 30 years ago. More than 900,000 acres of right of way are under cultivation at the present time and more than 1,100 roadside parks, safety rest areas and scenic turnouts have been constructed along the 68-thousand mile state-maintained highway system.

In February the department was the recipient of the first special Highway Beauty Award to be presented by the newly-organized Department of Transportation. The award — which will be expanded to an annual nationwide competition — was presented to State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer in Washington by Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson, wife of the President.

The department also has a 1966-67 state-wide beautification program which totaled $8.8 million on February 1. This program is for construction of roadside parks, safety rest areas, scenic turnouts and general highway landscaping. Included are comfort stations in safety rest areas along the interstate system.

Founders Day Dinner Is Planned

Plans for the annual Founders Day dinner for Beta Sigma Phi members here were completed at a meeting of City BSE Council Wednesday evening. The dinner will be held in Ward's Restaurant at 6 p. m. April 30.

It will be the 36th anniversary of the sorority's Founders Day. A Girl of the Year, elected from each chapter by secret vote, will be presented. Awards will be given to these honored members by Mrs. Howard Gore and Mrs. Jack Straw.

A resume of the year's work will be given from Kappa Iota and Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapters, and a preview of its program from a new preceptor chapter which is being organized this spring.

In order to make a larger contribution to Girlstown, a major project of this year, the group decided not to use funds from the treasury for the dinner, but to have each member pay the expense of her meal. Another fund-raising event was planned for this spring, a surprise kidnap breakfast.

Announcement was made of the area fall convention to be held Sept. 30-Oct. 1 in Amarillo.

Wheeler Signs Pro Contract

CANYON — West Texas State University's career pass receiving champion, tight-end Ted Wheeler, has signed a professional football contract with the St. Louis Cardinals calling for an estimated $25,000. Wheeler was a ninth round draft choice of the Cardinals.

Wheeler is the eighth player from the 1966 Buff Team to sign a pro contract. In four seasons with the Buffs, Wheeler gained 738 yards on pass receptions and caught a record 71 passes.

Council members present were Mmes. Harold Kids, Clete Collins, Harold Beauchamp, Larry Summers, Bob Pugh, Rudy Metz, James Shearer and Duke Powell.

He ranks fourth among the all-time receivers in yards gained from passes. Junior split-end Dave Szymakowski leads this career department with 69 receptions for 1,079 yards.

This past season Wheeler caught 39 passes for 392 yards and four touchdowns.

A native of Detroit, Wheeler came to West Texas on a basketball scholarship. During his freshman season he lettered in both basketball and football. As a basketball player he led the team in rebounding and scored 32 points in one game. Following his freshman year, he decided to give up basketball.

Auto Sales Are Up For Year

DALLAS — American Motors today reported that car sales in its Dallas Zone reached a seven month high in the final 10 day period of March.

Wm. F. Dunlop, Zone Manager said the climbing sales pace made March the best sales month so far in 1967.

Dunlop said the March total rose to 700 units, a 19.2% gain over February deliveries, and in the last 10 days of the month were 35% above those of the preceding period.

The final period of March exceeded sales in any 10 day period since August of 1966.

"The new Rambler American program, under which prices were reduced as much as $234, has brought results exceeding our highest expectations," Dunlop said. "To keep pace with demand, the Company has scheduled a 60% increase in production of this series."

WTCC Publishes New Color Magazine Promoting Area

"THIS IS WEST TEXAS" is a completely new concept for a publication issued by a regional Chamber of Commerce," according to John Ben Shepperd, Odessa President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. "The new magazine, which goes to members this week, will 'sell' West Texans and others on the economic advantages, recreational and cultural opportunities of the area as well as the historic and tourist attractions of the region," Shepperd said. Color prevails throughout the magazine. The various stories for the first issue include industrial development in Hereford, the historic significance and reconstruction of Fort Davis, the Annual Pilgrimage through anti-bellum homes in Waco, a feature on bench rest rifle shooting in West Texas, the story of the famed Midland-Odessa Symphony Orchestra. After 47 years of service as a "house organ" for the WTCC, the old publication West Texas Today has been discontinued.

No longer will the official publication chronicle the doings of its parent organization and its members; this type of news is being reported in a monthly newsletter to members. "The new format will be a great help in telling the story of West Texas to all of our friends in and out of the state. It should generate great interest among industrialists and tourists," according to R. W. Whipkey, Big Spring newspaper publisher and chairman of the WTC Information Committee, which determined the general plans for the publication. Members of the committee include editors, publishers, public relations experts, advertising department heads and other publication specialists from West Texas. "A great deal of research and study has gone into the production of the new magazine," stated Whipkey. "Numerous meetings of the committee were required and consultations were held with knowledgeable people throughout the field of communication media." Twelve thousand copies of the first edition will go to members news media, industrialists of the nation, investment bankers, Congressmen, state and federal government officials and others who need to have a better picture of the economic climate and the other factors which make West Texas a desirable place to live, work and visit. Many West Texas firms are sending hundreds of copies of the magazine to industrial prospects and investors in West Texas properties. Motels are furnishing complimentary copies of the new magazine to their guests. News stands sales are also planned for the publication. The first issue has a four-color photo of the fabulous McKittick Canyon in the new Guadalupe National Park. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce Executive Vice Pres-

He parked his car in front of the building, entered the lobby and walked up to the front desk. "I'd like a single room for two nights," he said. "This is a newspaper office," he was told. "My gosh," the stranger gasped, "I thought it was a motel." board. Contributing editors of each issue will be professional writers from various parts of West Texas.

A HISTORY OF WESTERNS
The Western is a book which tells of a way of life to be found only in the United States. It is written by George N. Fenin and William K. Everson and deals with movies on this subject from the silent screen through the sound area, television and cinerama.

The volume is dedicated to William S. Hart, "the finest western star and director of them all, and the best friend the West ever had." More recognition and space are given him than any other western star.

A true western story is made up of a plot with the hero (who fights against the bad man), a villain, often the Indian, a woman, adventure and the law. There is a moral influence considered, with the plot and action vying for first place. It is necessary also to keep alive the legend of the old west.

The first movies are classed as primitives and The Great Train Robbery is representative of this group. This period dates from 1903 to 1919, although there was some material before 1900. In this age the western really got under way through the direction of David W. Griffith and Thomas H. Ince.

The period when movies were available to the masses was known as the William S. Hart time of realism. He was the dominant figure in production and as a star. Then came Tom Mix who is remembered for his showmanship.

Many stars who became famous later for other roles in the cinema began their careers in westerns and Douglas Fairbanks was one of them. He, with John Ford, ruled in 1913-1920 as a successful team of the time. The outstanding movies of this era

National ASCS Leader Honored

One of the highest honors open to career civil servants will go to Horace D. Godfrey, Administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), R. T. Price, Chairman of the Texas ASC State Committee said today. The announcement that Godfrey and nine others would receive the National Civil Service League's Career Service Award was made in Washington March 23, 1967. The actual presentation will be at a special ceremony in Washington April 21.

Godfrey has been Administrator of ASCS and Executive Vice President of the Commodity Credit Corporation of the U. S. Department of Agriculture since 1961. He has been an employee of the agency which administers farm action programs since 1954.

He is receiving the award for excellence in several phases of his career in government. These include efficiency in administration, leadership in career development, advancement of understanding between rural and urban people, assistance to congress, implementation of equal opportunity in program participation and employment and fundamental basic improvement in agricultural as a result of his entergetic leadership over the years.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman praised the selection of Godfrey for the Award. "In his job as Administrator, he has accomplished goals that could only have been reached by a man with his unique combination of long-term career service plus extraordinary leadership and ability," Secretary Freeman said.

"I do not know of a better administrator or a better administrator anywhere in the entire federal government. These programs (ASCS program administered by Godfrey), plus expanded exports, have brought farmers to a supply balance that permits us now to look toward expanded production of some crops. This is truly 'a new era' in agriculture, and I am extremely happy that this award is being given Horace Godfrey, a man who has done so much to help create a brighter future for the farmers and consumers of America."

Backing Causes Minor Wreck

Approximately $175 worth of damages resulted when two vehicles collided Wednesday morning at the intersection of Union and Ave. L.

A 1962 sedan, driven by Raymond Keller III of 517-B Ave. H, and a 1964 pick-up, driven by Durwin Eustace of 1881 47th in Lubbock, were the vehicles involved with no damages resulting to the pickup.

The mishap occurred as one vehicle was traveling north on Ave. I and the other was backing from a private driveway onto the same street. The back of one vehicle struck the other on the right front fender as the two were moving.
A ticket was issued for negligent collision and failure to yield right-of-way.

LUNAR BASE THREE! LOOKS RUGGED!

I GUESS YOU'RE MR. GODFREY LEDGE? I'M YOUR LIAISON MAN FROM WSC!

WELCOME TO MOON BASE, GORDON! THE OTHER SPACE CONTROL OFFICERS ARE HERE! I'LL NOW DEMONSTRATE MY MOON LAUNCHER!

THAT ION SHIP IS DESIGNED FOR GREAT SPEEDS TO EXPLORE THE OUTER PLANETS! BUT IT HASN'T THE POWER TO LIFT OFF THE MOON'S SURFACE!

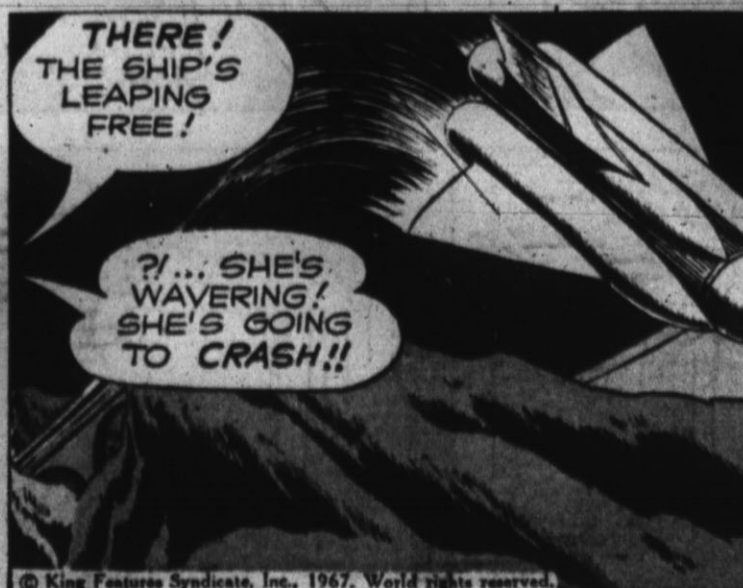

MY MAGNETIC LAUNCHING RAMP WILL DO THAT JOB! YOU SEE, POWERFUL MAGNETS UNDER THE RAIL ARE STARTING TO MOVE THE SHIP FORWARD!

HOW DOES IT PICK UP SPEED?

MAGNETS ALL ALONG THE GUIDE RAIL INCREASE THE PULL ... UNTIL THE SHIP REACHES ESCAPE VELOCITY ... WATCH!

THERE! THE SHIP'S LEAPING FREE!

? ... SHE'S WAVERING! SHE'S GOING TO CRASH!!

WHAT WENT WRONG, MR. LEDGE?

NOT A THING, GORDON! IF THIS MODEL SHIP REACHED FULL VELOCITY IT WOULD PUNCTURE OUR MOONDOME! THE FULL-SCALE RAMP WILL HAVE POWER TO SPARE, I ASSURE YOU!
