GRAND CHAMPION — Twice in one week, he took top honors here in Hereford. Perry Kirkland of Vega has walked off with the top honors at stock shows. Showing a Hereford steer at the four county show, Thursday he copped the prize in Vega with an Angus steer. (Hereford Brand Photo)

One of Hereford's largest stock shows to be held in recent years was climaxed yesterday with an auction of the top animals exhibited. The show this year had 379 entries and was only a few entries short of last year's.

Perry Kirkland, a Vega 4-H Club member, copped high honors in this year's show with the exhibition of the Grand Champion Steer of the show. He just recently captured the high honors also in the Oldham County Livestock Show held in Vega Thursday. This time, he exhibited a Hereford steer and in Oldham County, he won with a showing of an Angus. He exhibited this year's winner in the light class.

Reserve Champion honors went to a local youngster, Bill Cole. Cole, a member of the Happy Hustlers 4-H Club, exhibited the Grand Champion steer last year also. He won the award with a showing of light weight class Hereford.

Kirkland sold his Grand Champion steer to the First State Bank of Vega for $1,236 in yesterday's sale.

Cole's Reserve Champion sold for $756.10 and was bought by First National Bank, Hereford. The Grand Champion Barrow of the Four County judging was sold for $770 to Foster Hart of Lazbuddie. The reserve champion barrow was sold to J. R. Matthews of Dimmitt for $69.65.

Others were Champion Fine Wool of Four County, Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative, $136.30; Crossbred Champion Four County, Furrs Food, $38.50; Medium Fine Wool Champion Four County, G. I. Clingsmith of Dimmitt, $118; Other Breeds and Crosses Four County, Worley Grain Co. of Farwell, $112; Grand Champion Angus Four County, Pitman Grain Co. of Hereford, $729.

The Kirkland and Cole calves topped a field comprised mainly of Hereford and Angus steers.

The judging of the steers took some four hours due to the fact that there were four classes this year. There was a division for Hereford steers with a light-weight and a heavyweight class and a division for Angus and other breeds composed also of the lightweight and heavyweight class.

Some 88 steers were judged in this annual event Friday.

The final standings are as follows:

Hospital Cracks Down On Past-Due Accounts

Hospital board members, meeting with county commissioners here Thursday night decided that past due accounts will be handled on the local level using collection assistance from local courts.

Simpson brothers of Amarillo had approached the hospital manager, T. E. Seigler and the Commissioners Court, requesting that they be given the accounts receivable from the hospital on a percentage basis.

The board, along with the approval of the commissioners decided that a certain portion of the past-due accounts would be placed for collection through small claims court here in the county.

Accounts past-due for 1966 exceed $70,000 over $10,000 more than past-due accounts for 1965, the hospital manager said.

At the annual meeting officers for the coming year were named for the board of managers. John Douglas Pitman was named president, Aubrey Cook, vice president and Ed Loerwald, secretary.

Dr. J. H. McCrary was welcomed as the newest member to the board, filling a vacancy created by the resignation of J. T. Gilbreath Jr.

A security guard for the hospital grounds and building has been approved by the commissioners court and the hospital board seemed receptive to the idea. No one has been named as yet to the position. The guard will be a deputy sheriff and will work under Sheriff Ed Robertson.

VOTER REGISTRATION

Only seven registration days remain for Deaf Smith County residents who want to vote in upcoming elections, County Tax Assessor-Collector Nell Miller warned Friday. Late Friday afternoon, the total of voters already registered had climbed to 1,565, a figure still far below normal. Deadline for registering, which is free, is Jan. 31.

Seigler told the board in his annual report that medicare had required the hospital to include depreciation as an expense item and that the law had required the local hospital to discount the charges to medicare patients and that the total loss to the hospital was about $6,000. Depreciation losses for the year totaled over $30,000, making a high loss figure for the hospital year.

Over $9,000 was spent during the year on new paving and enlargement of the service area and for repainting the children's wing, the kitchen and the x-ray department.

Seigler said that the hospital is planning to add outside lighting around the parking area to help the security guard in cutting down parking lot thefts.

Total charge off amount was $72,669.36. This is the largest amount that has ever been charged off at the hospital. This increase was more or less expected since the volume increase was over $100,000, for last year.

New wage and hour laws are having a direct effect on hospital operations making the hiring of extra people necessary and rising costs will naturally make hospital care more expensive for the individual patient.

Seigler pinpointed some of the problem areas that will need attention during the coming year.

He said that x-ray equipment presently in use is needing replacement. This could run in the neighborhood of $30,000. The present machine is 19 years old.

Too, boilers in the building are 19 years old and the boiler inspector said that the life expectancy of boiler is 20 years old. The hospital has had problems, at one time having both boilers out of commission. The inspector suggests that larger boilers be purchased for the larger building.

Records are over-flowing the space allocated for records and the manager said that a decision would soon have to be made as to what can be done — add space or microfilm the records they have.

Bulk storage space is also becoming a problem.

Business Pushes For Strong Opener

Is Hereford headed for another upswing in business, or is it just first-of-the-year activity? Is the supposedly "tight money" loosening up?

These are questions which of course can only be answered with time. However, numerous residents began talking optimistically this week of trends which indicate an economic rise.

County Clerk B. F. Cain said that in the first fifteen days of 1967, recordings in his office have totaled 150, slightly higher than the total of 144 recorded in 1965, the city's biggest building year.

Items filed in the county clerk's office include deeds, deeds of trust, transfers and assignments. In the past six years, recordings during the first 15 days of each year include 1962, 119; 1963, 118; 1964, 44; 1965, 144; 1966, 38, and 1967, 150.

Cain also added that recordings on financing statements, which were previously called chattel mortgages, totaled 124 during the same period. "Up until then, they had been averaging about 40 per week," said Cain.

"The average month on recordings in 1966," Cain continued, "was about 250. This all indicates there is some activity. Lots and houses are being sold and money is being borrowed. Whether it is activity that was just carried over to the first of the year or not, I don't know."

Tax officials at city hall also have maintained a steady pace, as 11 building permits had been issued by late Friday afternoon totaling $132,100. A breakdown of the total shows four permits for additions to businesses total. See PROPERTY Page 3

Mothers Slate Sunday March

Dr. Noble Ballard, chairman for Deaf Smith County March of Dimes announced this week that the Mothers' March will be held this afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock. Area chairman have blocked off the town and volunteers will call on residents for their donations.

Dr. Ballard said that the March of Dimes is making important progress in birth defects, but we need increased public support to continue and to expand these programs.

Chairman for the Mothers' March is Mrs. Jack Allen. She is being assisted by Mrs. Mary Gibson and Mrs. Nicki Dameron. Cindy Cavness is junior chairman, being Teenage Program Director.

Mrs. Allen said that she had had unusually good cooperation in organizing the march. Area chairman will meet at the First National Bank to turn in funds.

One-third of this money stays in the county, she said.

Chairman are Mmes: Alex Schroeter, Dale Henson, Albert Cherry, Lewis Lea, Harold Morton, James McDowell, Kenneth Gooch, John Cavassa, Bob Sims, Gene King, M. H. Richie.

The schools are planning assemblies Wednesday and a dance will be held Friday night with the Torrents at the Community Center.

Miss Cavness said that the teenagers will set up booths next Saturday in the Mall and downtown to accept donations. The teenagers have 1500 packages of candy and over 500 pieces of bubble gum to give to donors.

Cindy will be assisted by Camille Pavlicek and Patty Roach who will be home from Tech for the semester break this week. About fifty or sixty volunteer teenagers will assist these girls.

Calf Raising Is Family Fun

By SHERRIN BETTS
Staff Writer

Working in the Willing Workers 4-H Club for 4 years, 13-year-old Cheryl Cole said she was "very surprised" that her Hereford Whiteface steer won Reserve Champion in the Deaf Smith County Competition at the Junior Livestock Show Friday afternoon. Proud as she was of her animal, she says, "I'm prouder of Bill's," for she showed his steer, which won Grand Champion for Deaf Smith County and Reserve Champion for the four county area including Deaf Smith, Castro, Parmer and Oldham Counties.

With Cheryl showing her brother's steer, the situation was a bit confusing and got even more so when she announced that her steer had been shown by Bill. Explaining the situation, she laughingly said that it had been a joke between the two of them. "You see," she explained, "He was going to show mine because he thought he was better at showing them. Then I showed his. Since his steer won, that proved that I was better at showing them."

"It doesn't really, though," she added, casting a wary glance in her brother's direction to be sure he didn't hear her. "his steer was better than mine and he is good at showing them."

She feels that she's lucky to have someone like Bill to help her, for it is he that feeds the stock early in the morning before school, so Cheryl doesn't have to. They also have to be fed at night and she says, "Bill and I do it together."

Being a cheerleader at LaPlata Jr. High School, she doesn't have much time to watch after her steers during football and basketball seasons, and it's then that she says Bill is most valuable.

Cheryl's steer came from an uncle's Oklahoma ranch; Bill got his from the Dameron Ranch. Hers was entered in the heavyweight division, weighing 999 pounds, while Bill's was an 839-pound lightweight. Cheryl said her father buys the feed for them adding, "We couldn't make it without Daddy. . . and my mother helps sometimes when Bill's gone."

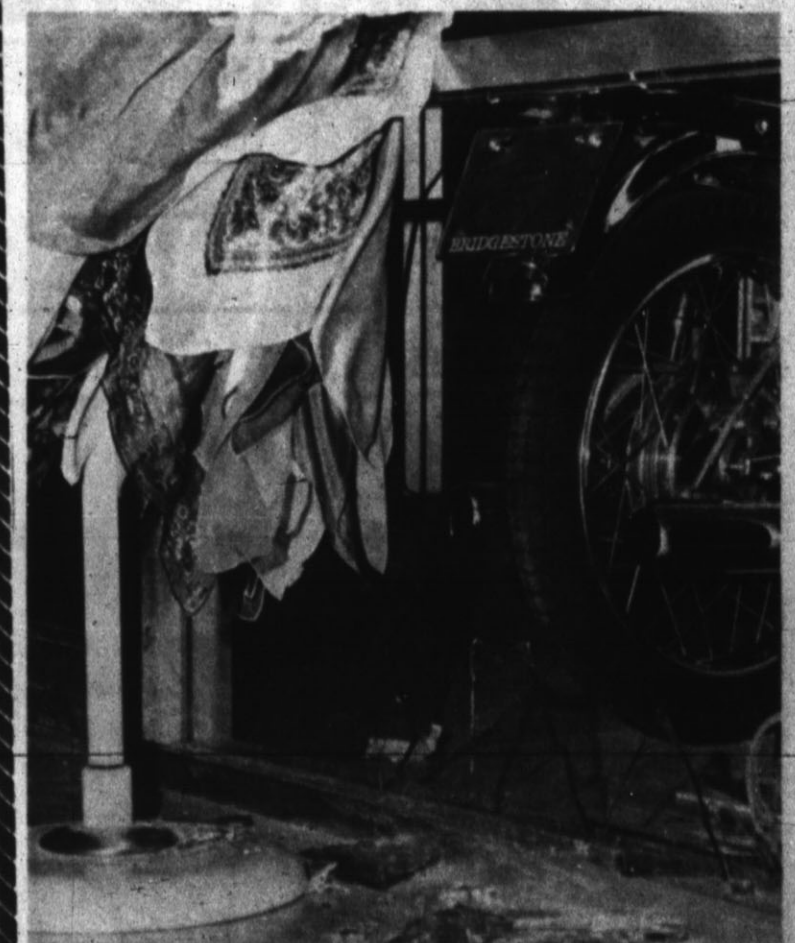

When she mentioned that she enjoyed showing the steers at the stock shows, a friend suggested that it was because she liked to miss school. "I don't like that part," she said, "I love school."

Cheryl explained a few of the rather weird-looking grooming techniques one finds at stock shows. The hair spray some use is designed to keep the steer's hair in place and crew wax is used on the leg to raise the hair and make the bones look bigger, she said. Bill and Cheryl use saddle soap rather than crew wax, however, they achieve the same purpose.

In the past Bill, who is a sophomore at Hereford High, owned a winning steer that won Reserve Champion in this Stock Show and Grand Champion at the Amarillo Stock Show. Cheryl had the Grand Champion steer at Dimmitt in 1963.

They are son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cole who farm 2 miles west and 6 south of Hereford. The entire family is interested in 4-H work. Bill has been a 4-H'er for 7 years and is presently a member of the Dawn Boys' Club. Cheryl and her younger sister, 9-year-old Beverly, are members of the Willing Workers Club and Jana, who graduated from Hereford High last spring and is a freshman at Baylor University was a 4-H member for several years.

BURGLARS HIT PENNEYS — Entrance to the J. C. Penney Co., where more than $270 in merchandise was taken sometime Thursday night or Friday morning, was made by knocking out a window near the entrance on the northwest side of the building. Two motorcycles were sitting where entrance was made. See story inside. (Hereford Brand Photo) ing $10,500, two permits for additions to residences totaling $8,500, and permits for residence construction totaling $113,100.

As comparison, from Jan. 1 to March 31 in 1966, building permits issued by the city totaled approximately $592,000.

Henry Sears, president of the First National Bank, said the banking business has "picked up right along. Deposits are up, loans are up." Sears added, however, that the "tight money" situation is "not lessening at the present time."

Joel Hodges vice president of the Hereford State Bank also said activity has been good, with deposits and loan going up together, but stated that "tight money has not lessened. I don't look for it to lessen within the next few months."

Myron Morgan, executive vice president of the High Plains Savings and Loan Association, had more encouraging words on the "tight money." Morgan said "it seems to be easing up. We're beginning to see where it could get better."

The activity in business establishments also appears to be unusually high, with more than 10 announcements being made of ownership changes and plans for new stores.

John L. Sneed, executive vice president of the Sweetbriar Corp. of Denver, Colo., was in Hereford last week to finalize plans for a Sweetbriar Dress Shop. The store will be located in Sugarland Mall, with moving in expected to begin in the next few weeks.

Paul Harvey, manager of C. R. Anthony and Co., announced Friday that his company will open a new store in Sugarland Mall March 2. Harvey said the new store will have a 75-foot front, and "we intend to carry more items because we will have more space." The Anthony's store in downtown Hereford will remain open.

The A to Z Tire and Battery Co. opened for business at 128 W. 1st on Jan. 2, carrying a full line of Dayton tires and batteries. Ray Newman of Hereford is manager of the local branch of the Amarillo based company.

Gabriel's Department Store also will move into the Mall in late February or early March. No further details were available on the move.

Swift and Company has announced that it will build a plant in Hereford for the manufacture of mineral blocks. Negotiations still are not complete on the transaction, but it is expected that manufacture of the finished feed product will begin before the end of the year.

Mrs. Ruby Jones of Lubbock has taken over as owner-manager of Mademoiselle Coiffures Beauty Shop in the Mall, replacing Mr. and Mrs. Dale McCree in the business. Mrs. Jones said Friday she has already hired two people and added that the name of the shop will remain the same.

Shook Tire Co., formerly at 128 W. 1st, has moved to 600 W. 1st. John Childers, manager, said the company was still handling the same brand tires, "but we've found what we think is a better location."

New owners of Masters Cleaners at 229 W. 3rd and Mrs. Dorothy Rudder and Earnest Kendall, who replace C. D. Fitzgerald in the business. Kendall also has purchased half interest in Corbett Cleaners from Mrs. Rudder.

Alex Schroeter, who had an accounting office at 244 E. 3rd, has joined the Howard Gault Company at 108 S. Sampson. Schroeter's building is being filled by W. C. Bowie and Co., which had been located on West Highway 60.

At least two other businesses in Hereford have changed hands since Jan. 1, but owners asked that announcements not be made. There also are rumors of several other new businesses moving into the immediate area, but the rumors could not be confirmed.

As expected, a few businesses have closed their doors completely.

A report on "Building Construction in Texas" published this month by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas shows that Deaf Smith County totaled $138,700 in November for total construction of nonfarm buildings.

The report states that only 59 percent of the nonfarm population in Deaf Smith County is covered by monthly reports to the BR, but that the area had averaged $266.97 per capita in total construction from January, 1966-November, 1966, for a total of $2,042,850.

Nonresidential construction totaled $15,650 in November and totaled $519,900 for the 11-month

Lillie was transferred to Hereford, Texas in 1963 as manager of the Hereford District. As western agricultural manager, Lillie will supervise all of Holly's agricultural operations in northern and southern California.

Rosenow, 53, is a native of Billings, Montana and attended high school in Sidney, Montana. He graduated from Montana State University Bozeman, in 1936. Beginning with Holly as an agriculturist at Miles City in 1938, he was promoted to agricultural manager at Sheridan, Wyoming in 1947. In 1950 he was transferred to Hardin, Montana as agricultural manager. He was appointed northern agricultural manager in 1963.

Daniels, 49, is a native of Denver, Colorado. He was brought up in Santa Ana, California and graduated from the University of California at Davis in 1939. Daniels joined Holly in 1944 as an agriculturist in Fresno, California. In 1947 he was promoted to agricultural manager for Holly's Imperial Valley and Santa Ana agricultural districts. In 1964, he was made western agricultural manager. As eastern agricultural manager, Daniels will have responsibility for the contracting, growing, and delivery of sugar beets in the areas served by Holly in Montana, North Dakota, Wyoming, Nebraska, Colorado, Utah, Texas and New Mexico.

Yeager said that these transfers reflected the Corporation's desire that its top employees have experience in all the Corporation's major beet growing areas.

items, from the viewpoint of hospital patients, is a proposed monitoring system that would be installed in four patient rooms. At least this number is needed for patients who are critically ill and need constant attention. These machines would be connected directly to the nurses station. They would show change in pulse, respiration or blood pressure. At the same time an electrocardiogram could be run so that the physician could study the change and the reasons for it. This equipment has an estimated price of $5,000.

The changes in nurses hours, hospital wages, etc. will cause changes that have not been determined exactly at this time.

Others on the hospital board meeting Thursday night were Wayne Thomas, and Carl Perrin. County commissioners comprising the commissioners court that supervises the county hospital are Marcus Latham, Donald Hicks, Bruce Coleman and Earl Holt.

As this issue of the Brand goes to press, another Junior Livestock Show has come to a close. Another successful show, we might add, considering not only the quantity of stock but the quality also.

It is interesting to note incidentally, that almost as many Angus calves were entered this year as were Herefords, with only seven more of the Hereford bred on tap.

We understand however, that although the Angus is gaining in numbers in the county, the Herefords still hold the edge.

It is surprising though, how the gap has closed over the past 19 years, probably due to the work of such Angus breeders as Jack Brown, Charles Hoover, C. R. Damron and others. All are top-notch cattlemen and certainly have contributed their bit to furthering the Angus industry.

We wouldn't hazard a guess as to which breed of cattle is the better, but would venture to say that either would go well in the food freezer.

Things were kinda slow around Hereford last year with only $2,008,400 in building permits issued.

At least we thought that was slow after the records chalked up in 1963, 1964 and 1965.

But it isn't necessarily so.

The above total has only been topped 4 times before, and three of those years were during the record breaking period of '63, '64 and '65. The other year was 1955.

Hereford Men Join Association

KANSAS CITY, MO. — W. W. Thomas and Leland Rutter, Hereford, Texas today were named to membership in the American Hereford Association, the world's largest purebred registry organization, with headquarters in Kansas City, Missouri.

One hundred and fifty-nine Hereford breeders were placed on the Association's official roster during November and December. The Association maintains active accounts for more than 60,000 breeders of registered Herefords over the nation.

The Hereford Association, during the last fiscal year, recorded 467,573 purebred calves. The year's total recordings were the eleventh highest on record and almost twice the combined registrations of other major beef breeds.

January Time For New Start

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

January programs on Financial Management have been well received as this is the time people think more of management and it is a time to start over. PEP is proving very interesting, so there is a lot to look forward to.

A PHONE CALL from Mrs. Clara Fry at King's Manor. She knew our new district agent — Mrs. Sue Cagle-Farris. Mrs. Fry knew her at Jefferson and recommends her highly.

JAMES MURPHYREY, District Farm Management Specialist, is leaving District I. He and his family are moving to the Dominican Republic to take an assignment with Extension Service. James has given many programs in Deaf Smith County and some of the concrete things done have been the financial management with couples.

EDNA EARLE SMITH was in the office showing us a birthday present for her mother-in-law. It is a mother's ring. Alvin Smith is one of ten children of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Smith of Canyon. It is a beautiful ring with ten stones of the children's birth months.

FOR ONE OF the sewing groups, we need some help on materials. Any cotton material 21 to 27 inches length, any color thread or something to make dish towels. Too, worn sheets can be used. So — if you want to cooperate, we are in a receptive mood in the office.

BOOTS TODAY are not only functional — they're right at the top in fashion importance, says Miss Rhea Boyles, Extension clothing specialist at Texas A & M. Because they're now a fashion necessity, you'll have a very extensive, exciting selection this season. Boots are styled in leather, rubber, plastic or other man-made materials. They may be to wear over shoes or without shoes.

Styles vary in height from ankle-bugging to calf-length some are knee-high even above-the-knees. Many have linings of plush or fur, for extra protection against the cold. Finishes include patent, waxed, textured, grained or suede.

Heels may be flat, wedge, stacked or high. In trimmings and closings, boots may come with convertible cuffs, lacings, zippers, elastic gores or straps. If you're choosing on a color basis, there's lots around besides the usual black or brown-reds, whites, yellows, even pastels.

MISS BOYLES suggests these shopping tips:

- 1) To get the correct size, try on both boots.
- 2) Be certain boots are waterproof if you want complete protection in rainy weather. Water-repellent boots just shed water; they're fine in light rain, but may soak through in a downpour. Waterproof boots, such as plastic or rubber, won't let in a bit of water.
- 3) Construction details of waterproof boots shouldn't hinder the boot's water resistance. For example, fabric exposed on either side of industrial zippers will let water seep in.
- 4) Check the inside of the boot to be sure finishing is smooth.
- 5) When vinyl or rubber boots are to be worn over shoes, boot heels should be reinforced and the boots properly shaped to fit over shoes.
- 6) Look for back seams that are straight, evenly stitched and squarely in the middle.

FOR THE BUSY homemaker, time is money.

It pays to prepare many potato dishes with dehydrated, frozen or canned potatoes rather than fresh ones, suggests Miss Frances Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A & M.

You can have your potatoes mashed, French fried, au gratin, scalloped, hash brown or in the form of puffs and soups — from processed potato products that require less of your time and attention.

Preparing frozen potato puffs, only 3 minutes compared with 35 minutes if you start with unpeeled fresh potatoes. Frozen au gratin potatoes required only a minute, au gratin potatoes from fresh potatoes take 32 minutes.

TASTE PANELS have rated most of the processed products just as tasty as dishes made from fresh potatoes. American families agree with them because the amount of the U. S. potato crop going into these products has tripled since 1956.

In nutritive value, processed and fresh potatoes are similar except for fat content. Processed potato products contain more carbohydrate and mineral and less protein than fresh potatoes. This is not critical because potatoes are not a major source of protein in U. S. diets.

The main nutritive difference is that frozen potato products take up more fat while frying. Frozen French fries, for example, contain about 19 to 28% fat when served. You can cut down on the fat content by reheating frozen French fries in the oven. They will contain about 8 to 16% fat, with shoe-

ENJOYING THE BROWSING AREA — in the LaPlata library are librarian, Maxine Hartman and Laquita Robinson, a student. They are looking at one of the books found in this corner of the library which is designed for "students who just come in to enjoy themselves." Mrs. Hartman says, "We're still trying to make it attractive and inviting." The library will be one of the main objects of interest during LaPlata's open-house Monday evening from 7-9. THE CHURCH I LOVE... MUST GUARD AGAINST PHARISEISM

The Pharisees were a religious sect when Christ lived on the earth. When Jesus was teaching the people, these religionists, who were envious of Christ, often asked him questions to embarrass him or trick him. These people, holding to the traditions of men were described by our Lord in this manner, "So, for the sake of your tradition, you have made void the word of God. You hypocrites! Well did Isaiah prophesy of you, when he said: 'This people honors me with their lips, but their heart is far from me; in vain do they worship me, teaching as doctrines the precepts of men.'" (Matthew 15:6-9).

"He [Jesus] also told this parable to some who trusted in themselves that they were righteous and despised others: 'Two men went up into the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector. The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee that I am not like other men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even like this tax collector. I fast twice a week, I give tithes of all that I get. But the tax collector, standing far off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, God, be merciful to me a sinner! I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other; for every one who exalts himself will be humbled, but he who humbles himself will be exalted.'" (Luke 18:9-14).

"Then said Jesus to the crowds and to his disciples, 'The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses' seat; so practice and observe whatever they tell you, but not what they do; for they preach, but do not practice. They bind heavy burdens, hard to bear, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with their finger. They do all their deeds to be seen by men; for they make their phylacteries broad and their fringes long, and they love the place of honor at feasts and the best seats in the synagogues, and salutations in the market places, and being called rabbi by men.'" (Matthew 23:1-7).

Post Card Hobby Grew Easily For Mrs. Vaughn

By SHERRIN BETTS
Staff Writer

Chuckling and saying that, "I never intended to go into the card business," Mrs. Carlos Vaughn, 303 Ave. H. now has a collection of 1640 picture post cards, most of which she has collected only in the "last few years."

Collecting picture post cards is an unusual hobby, but Mrs. Vaughn says she has been very surprised since starting her hobby "that there were so many collectors." Card collecting is designed simply for the enjoyment of the collector, but Mrs. Vaughn has decided that she would like to begin sharing some of her more beautiful cards with friends. She is presently purchasing a projector-type machine which enlarges objects up to 100 times their normal size. Mrs. Vaughn can use this machine to show her cards as one would slides, thus sharing the enjoyment she gets from her collection.

Born in Nova Scotia, Canada, Mrs. Vaughn's mother died when she was a baby and her father traveled a lot. She says he sent her post cards from time to time and she saved some of them. Later she moved to Boston, Mass., where she picked up some cards.

She remained there until 1944 when she married a soldier who was a native Texan. A year later he brought her to Hereford, where they have remained for over 20 years.

With friends and relatives in both Canada and Boston, she has many cards—from those areas. Others she has acquired on various trips she and her husband have made. She says, "Everywhere we went my husband would say, 'Don't you want some cards?'"

Telling of her favorite cards she declares, "Oh, I've got some real cute animal cards. I'm crazy over zoes. My husband and I spend all our time in zoes." She also favors water scenes, explaining that she was born near the water and has always loved it. "I remember getting up one night and the moon was beautiful shining on the water," she reminisced. "When I first came to Hereford," she adds, "I missed the trees and the water... but you get used to it."

She and her husband are planning a trip back to Canada, though they aren't sure when they will take it. It has been 25 years since she was there, she says.

Mrs. Vaughn's collection includes 80 cards from Canada several from 14 foreign countries besides Canada and some from all of the states except Delaware. This includes Alaska and Hawaii.

She tells of a trip to the World's Fair when it was in Seattle, Wash. She and her husband took a 5-week tour across the western part of the United States, doing a lot of sight-seeing on the way to the Fair. They returned with over 160 post cards.

Advertisements in women's magazines helped her to get into a "Round Robin" group. These are groups of about 6 women who collect cards. They all send several cards to one of the names on the list, the cards eventually get to all the names with some being extracted by members who want them. Each person adds her own that she doesn't need. When the cards finally get back to Mrs. Vaughn, she chooses the ones she wants and sends them on to the next in line. If there are any left of the ones she first sent, she is supposed to take them out. However, Mrs. Vaughn says, "I guess they liked them. I've never gotten any back, anyway."

"Usually I send some of Texas, since they're all from other states," she says, adding, "but I sometimes send one if I have duplicates." Presently she is trying to collect all of the states' map cards and capitols. To date she has 19 of each.

Mrs. Vaughn seems a little dazed at the number of cards she has collected, almost without really trying. She says, "I never thought of it when I started. I just kept a few that I treasured and meant a lot to me."

Besides her hobby with the cards, she is an expert with a needle, doing a lot of knitting and crocheting. She says, "Anything with a needle, I like to do."

Another very time-consuming hobby which Mrs. Vaughn says she thoroughly enjoys is being a pen-pal to several people in the United States and one in England. She says, "I've really

Ford H.D. Club Opens New Year With Program

Mrs. John A. Smith, president of Ford Home Demonstration Club, was selected as that group's nominee as a delegate from Deaf Smith County to the district H.D. Association meeting. The club met in Ford Community Building Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Leroy Edwards as hostess.

At this first 1967 meeting Mrs. Smith began her term as president and members completed new yearbooks by listing meeting dates and programs for the year. Names were drawn for secret pals.

Argen Draper, county agent, gave the program on thrift and home management. Most people save something, stamps or money, she said, and it is important to have a goal to save for. Savings to meet family emergencies were stressed.

Self-discipline in shopping is a sign of good money management, the speaker added, and a good rule is to never buy more than three things on credit at a time.

Refreshments were served to Meses. Harry Brorman, W.A. Carter, Raymond Flores, J.C. Gossett, A.L. Hollingsworth, A. B. Kent, Joe Meyers, Tex McKnight, Raymond Smith, Troy Waller, John A. Smith and Draper.

Where There's Smoke, No Fire

By JOE BRAN
Staff Writer

Cold, screaming sounds of sirens filled the crisp morning air Thursday that seemed to say that the town was on fire.

I had just stepped out of La Plata Jr. High and quickly turned around to see if there were any signs of smoke so I could determine where the fire was. As I looked around, I saw smoke coming out of the High School Athletic Department on Plains and Centre.

Hurriedly, I went there with the thought of being the first to arrive at the scene of the fire. A couple of teachers from the school apparently had the same thought and got there just as I did. Quickly, they opened the door and rushed inside to stop the fire. To our surprise, we found nothing! The janitor was sweeping the floor very casually and when asked where the fire was, he apparently thought we were cold from being outside so he pointed toward the heater. "Isn't there a real fire in here?" asked one of us. It was then that he knew what kind of fire we meant and he burst out smiling.

"There is no fire in here. You probably saw the vapor from the clothes dryer coming out through the exhaust vent on the roof and thought it was smoke," he explained.

We left, not disappointed though, but could still hear the sound of the sirens. I drove off and still wondered where the fire could be. I later discovered that it had been only an electric motor that had been burned in a local business store.

Recently Wed Couple Honored

Honoring a recently married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Nichols of Canyon, a reception in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hopson, Sunday evening introduced Nichols to family friends here.

Miss Randy Hopson and Nichols were married Dec. 30. A winter graduate of West Texas State University, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Knox Nichols of Lefors.

Callers at the Hopson home, 507 Ave. J, were greeted by the hosts and the couple. Mrs. Nichols was wearing the white silk faille suit in which she was married in a high noon wedding at a Clovis, N. M. Church of Christ.

Her grandmothers, Mrs. Charlie Kemp and Mrs. B. E. Brumley, poured spiced tea and her sisters, Misses Daun and M'Lynn Hopson, assisted in serving party sandwiches and cookies from a table decorated in gold and ivory.

The ivory linen cloth was trimmed with hand-made crochet and napkins were embossed with a gold border. A gold tea service was used. The centerpiece was of ivory blossoms and gold-sprayed foliage in a compote.

Sedan Receives Slight Damage

Involved in an accident Friday afternoon were Tommy Ray Porter, 305 Ave. F and Jonathan E. Trotter, 429 Miles. The collision occurred as Porter was attempting a right turn onto Miles St. from a private drive and Trotter was backing onto Miles from another drive.

Porter's 1965 sedan incurred $125 damage while damage to Trotter's 1960 pickup was estimated at $15.

Reporter Reaction

By SHERRIN BETTS
Staff Writer

Just because Tom Porter, Hereford Brand news reporter, wrote an amusing article about a wreck she had a few months ago, causing her much grief and embarrassment, this writer wouldn't want to "rub salt in the wound" after Porter himself had an accident—or would she?

Porter's accident occurred as he was leaving the Brand office at 130 W. 4th Friday afternoon. Coming out of the parking lot behind the Ink Spot and turning right onto Miles St., he met a pickup backing from a residential drive onto Miles also. The pickup incurred almost no damage at all, though damage to Porter's 1965 sedan was es-

Old Relics Gets New Attention

As unique in history as it is in looks, a 70-year-old jail cell has become one of the newest additions to the Deaf Smith County Museum.

The large steel cell was donated by Vern Witherspoon of 201 N. Jackson, who said it had been purchased by the county when La Plata was formed about 1890.

"They brought the cell in through Amarillo, put it up at La Plata and then built a house around it," said Witherspoon. "There was only one prisoner ever kept in it," he recalls, that one being a man timated at $125. Porter was said by co-workers to be "white as a sheet" following the accident. In fact, the receptionist went out to his car to check on him several times — to make sure he hadn't fainted.

The final insult to Porter was flung at him by several amused friends who had seen the "Bang Aid" — an oversized adhesive bandaid — which he's only recently placed on the damaged fender of this writer's car. The so-called "friends" suggested that Porter needed another such bandaid for the sad-looking fender of his own vehicle. Porter was last seen going about town almost as usual — whistling as he WALKED.

continued. "They never did lock it and we would go in and play in it." The cell later was moved to near the county courthouse and kept until the new cells were built about five years ago and the building it was in torn down. Witherspoon asked the county at that time if he could have the cell.

Coveted Committee Post Secured By Congressman

It was announced Friday that Congressman Bob Price of the Panhandle has been named to the Agriculture Committee of the House of Representatives.

Agriculture is the most important industry in the 18th District and I am very pleased to have my request for assignment to this committee honored by the House leadership," Price stated.

"In connection with this post I would like to add my support to that of Senator Dirksen and Congressman Ford as expressed in their State of the Union address Thursday night. I will support the concept of fair farm prices in the market place without price-depressing manipulation as practiced by the present administration."

"The mass and maze of federal farm laws, rules, regulations, and forms must be simplified. Every farmer knows there is enough to do on the farm without a load of federal paperwork," Price added.

The 18th District representative also expressed full agreement with other points in the Dirksen-Ford report including immediate repeal of the Participation Sales Act which distorts the true status of the Federal budget.

"I will also be giving my wholehearted support to efforts to cut non-essential domestic spending and to a proposed bill which would withdraw the President's authority to obligate and spend funds appropriated by previous Congresses — until the present Congress has a chance to review them," Price said.

The Panhandle congressman also expressed the hope that the seven percent investment tax credit will be reinstated immediately and that the 90th Congress will pass the Human Investment Act which will give tax credits to industries which hire and train unskilled workers.

"For the present, however, I hope the Congress will take the lead in channeling all the efforts of the American people toward winning the war in Vietnam," Price concluded.

Miss Lee, Bride - Elect, Is Tea - Shower Honoree

A compliment to Miss Deborah Lee, who is to marry Ben Old of Lubbock February 11, was a tea and shower in the home of Mrs. Clint Lundry Friday afternoon. She is at home from Lubbock Christian College, where she has been a student the past semester.

The honoree received callers with her mother, Mrs. Al Lee; her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Archie Old of Lubbock; Miss Linda Pulliam, who will be maid of honor, and Miss Charlotte James of Denver City, who will be a bridesmaid in the wedding party.

Misses Pulliam and James are classmates of the bride-elect, as are Miss Arlene Hinkley of Albuquerque and Miss Sandra Hückabee, who served in turn with Misses Nancy Smith and Cynthia Knox at the refreshment table and guest book.

Covered with white, the table had a unique centerpiece, a gold and crystal epergne with three small containers around a center container, each holding a tall candle with white carnations arranged around the base. Touches of cranberry red were used in decoration of the petit fours served with punch.

Hostesses with Mrs. Lundry were Meses. Denzil Pulliam, Joe Locke, Dale Young, Bobby Dugan, R. A. McNeece, E. W. Allen, Willodyne Brooks, A. R. Diller, J. C. Reese, Houston Roberts, Armon Lauderback, J. D. Kelly, A. J. Hudson and E. D. Hopson.

Capping Ritual Slated Friday

Capping ceremonies for six members of the Vocational Nursing class now in progress at Deaf Smith County Hospital are scheduled for 7:30 p. m. next Friday at First Baptist Church, with the public invited.

For the first time in Hereford, the class this year includes a man, Douglas Womble. He will be presented a certificate as the other class members, Betty Davis, Sarita Grandado, Katie Koehn, Carol Lohr and Florence Vaught, receive their caps.

T. E. Seigler, hospital administrator, will be the speaker. Caps will be presented by Joyce to the qualified students introduced by Frances Carver, director of training.

Mrs. Joe Hacker will be pianist. The Rev. B. L. Davis, First Baptist pastor, will give the invocation and the Rev. Eunan Walsh of St. Joseph's Catholic Mission the benediction.

After the program, Licensed Vocational Nurses of Hereford will be hostesses for a reception honoring the six students.

This ceremony marks the end of the pre-clinical period of their training, which has been devoted chiefly to classroom study. For the remainder of the one-year course they will spend more time in practical work on the hospital floor. Graduation will come next September.

Last Rites For Mrs. U. E. Cook Held Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. U. E. Cook, who died in a hospital here Friday morning at the age of 71 after a long illness, were conducted in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor of First Methodist Church, officiated for the rites. Mrs. Cook was a member of that church. Burial was in West Park Cemetery, with Mrs. Cook's nephews serving as pallbearers.

Mrs. Cook, who lived a mile west of Hereford on the Holly Road, was the former Clara Brownlow, born at Athens, Tex. Aug. 24, 1895. She married U. E. Cook Nov. 11, 1911 at Childress and they came to this county from Dougherty in 1947.

Her husband's death occurred in 1966. Survivors are a son, Elmer Cook of Hereford, and four sisters, Mmes. Jewel McNeese, Irene Holt and Johnny Sanders of Hereford and Mrs. Eula Carmac of Pine Bluff, Ark.

Scouts To Attend Council Meeting

Approximately 500 Boy Scouts from throughout the Panhandle are expected to attend the Llano Estacado Council of the Boy Scouts of America Saturday night at Caprock High School cafeteria in Amarillo.

Ed Skypala of Hereford, district chairman for the Tierra Blanca Boy Scout District, said a large delegation of scouts from this area is expected to attend. Skypala said scouts desiring tickets should contact him, Roy Faubion, Nolan Grady or Louis Machuca in Hereford.

Highlight of the meeting will be the presentation of the Silver Beaver Awards, the highest award that a council can present.

Scout Training Courses Planned

Training courses designed to assist all den mothers with their Cub Scout meetings will be held Wednesday and Thursday at the Hereford Community Center.

Two training sessions will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. each day and two will begin at 7:30 p. m. each day.

Oliver Streu, Tierra Blanca District Leadership Training Chairman, said the morning training courses will be designed to assist all den mothers in den operation and program planning for the Den and Pack.

The Wednesday evening training course will cover Pack operation and management and is of special interest to Pack Committeemen and Cubmasters, Streu said. The workshop Thursday night will include programs advancements helps and theme craft.

Funeral Conducted For Four-Year-Old

The funeral of Oscar Lopez, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lopez, of 319 Bradley, was held in St. Joseph's Catholic Mission Friday afternoon with the Rev. Raymond Gillis officiating.

The small boy died Wednesday in a hospital here. He was born in Hereford Jan. 10, 1963. Burial was in St. Anthony's Cemetery, directed by Gilliland Funeral Home.

This past week has been a very busy one for several people around BHS. Basketball coronation was Friday night and the cheerleaders were kept very busy for this event, making locker tags and signs to put up in the halls.

Candidates for Basketball Queen were: Seniors — Carol Robins and Sharon Garrison; Junior — Kandis Hill; Sophomore — Patricia Hill. Carol Robins was chosen the Queen for 1966-67. This is a very exciting moment and especially for these girls.

Tuesday, the Whitefaces played Canyon here. The Cagers lost the game by three points. It was a very exciting game but disappointing in the end. The game with Muleshoe was the fourth district game. Only six games are remaining. Tuesday, January 24, the Whitefaces will travel to Dumas. Friday, they will play Tulla here. Let's give the herd all our support.

This past week was rather a black one for some students. Report cards were given out Thursday. Maybe everyone will try a little harder this next semester so they can be exempted from the final exams.

Argen Draper Loves Full Time Demonstration Job

By TOM PORTER
Staff Writer

When hired, home demonstration agents are employed on a regular working schedule. But they also are hired to do the job, and it doesn't stop at 40 hours.

Deaf Smith County's Argen Draper has been doing the job nearly 20 years, and wouldn't swap her 50-60 hour week for anything.

Doesn't she get tired? "Yes, sometimes," she admits reluctantly, "but then I see the results of good work. That's one of the most restful things there is."

It was in high school at Wellington, where she was born, that young Argen Hix developed a love for home economics.

"I suppose I got interested because I had a good teacher," she recalls. When she finished high school, Mrs. Draper began work on a bachelor of science degree in home economics education from Texas Tech in Lubbock—a degree she received 10 years later.

Seven of those 10 years were all spent, however, as she taught in a one-teacher school at Kesler, 10 miles southeast of Wellington. Mrs. Draper taught all grades, which reached as high as a freshmen one year. Classes ranged in size from three to 15 children.

After graduation from Texas Tech, where she had been an assistant in the clothing department, Mrs. Draper served as home management supervisor for Farmers Home Administration in Tahoka and Levelland for two years and then was County Home Demonstration Agent in Hemphill County from 1942-1946.

Argen Hix and Tom Draper were married at Wellington in 1946, lived at Tahoka one year and moved to Hereford in 1947. Mrs. Draper went to work as County Home Demonstration Agent three days after they arrived and has been at the job continuously since.

Although the duties are many and varied, the main job is "to dispense information in home economics to all people." Mrs. Draper and her assistant, Mrs. Rita Sue Huckert, also a Texas Tech graduate, say that their work actually is "off-campus education."

The home economics information is dispensed mostly through speaking to various organizations throughout the county. With 11 home demonstration clubs totaling about 175 club members and seven 4-H clubs numbering about 150 members, Deaf Smith County alone has enough activity to keep the agents busy. But the two also exchange work with agents in other counties and serve as judges in several fairs.

Mrs. Draper, speaking of the 40-hour week, said "I sometimes get those in by Wednesday night. But when home demonstration agents are employed, they are just employed to do the job." She laughingly says that "I think of retirement about six o'clock every morning, but then about 10 a. m. I forget it."

Through the years, Mrs. Draper also has continued her education. She received her master of science in home economics education from Texas Woman's University in 1964, and has completed nine hours on a doctorate in management. "I had 1971 set as the date to finish work on the degree, but that's only four years off," she exclaimed.

The soft-spoken agent explains that the agent's job doesn't leave much time for a social life or anything else, "but I like my work so well I count it as social." She adds that "my religion is loving my fellow man," and says that people are what makes her work so enjoyable.

Mrs. Draper also has found the spare time to keep membership in numerous organizations. Included are the American Home Economics Association, Texas Home Economics Association, Texas Agricultural Workers Association, and Texas Safety Council.

She is a charter member of the County Home Demonstration Agents Association of Texas and was one of four agents in the state to be recognized for "Distinguished Service" in 1957; is a member and co-chairman of District 1 of Epsilon Sigma Phi; is a member and past president of the American Legion Auxiliary; a past matron of the Order of Eastern Star.

and is a member of the Church of Christ. She also has had several articles published and writes a weekly column for the Hereford Brand.

Mrs. Draper was recognized for her outstanding work in 1967 when the Hereford Lions Club named her "Citizen of the Year."

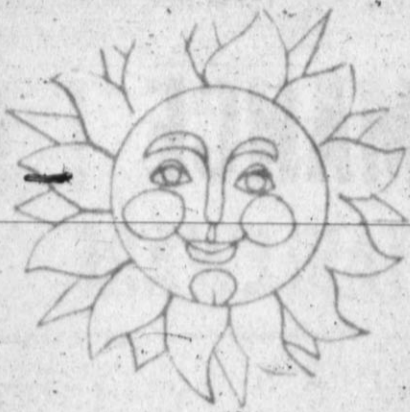

When at home, 7 miles south of Hereford Mrs. Draper does chores for her husband, who is a stock farmer. Draper, who attends many of the meetings with his wife, also is described as "one of the best club members we have. He likes them."

Through the years, Mrs. Draper naturally has seen changes in the county and her profession "I've seen the population go from rural to urban, very definitely. Our work has gone from skills to intangible things, like management," she explains. Mrs. Draper states emphatically that "I don't want to work anywhere else. My next move will be to the farm."

Drama Teacher Speaks To Club

Bob Renfro, speech and drama instructor in Hereford High School, was the program guest of Calliopean Club Thursday evening to discuss Southwestern Drama, one of the club's studies in its series on The Great Southwest.

Mrs. Alton Fraser was hostess at her home and Mrs. Gene Parsley was program chairman. Mrs. Clyde Cave, project chairman, reported in the business period that the club has completed its assignment for the Deaf Smith County Museum, filling a display case with costume accessories and jewelry of the county's pioneer era, and will arrange a second display.

A new faculty member at HHS this year, Renfro comes from Wichita Falls, Mrs. Parsley said in introducing his talk. He spoke of current interest by Texans in drama, adding that this has been a continuous interest in the Southwest.

Quoting from a publication compiled in Texas Centennial year, 1936, titled Pageants and Plays of Pioneers, he traced the beginnings of drama in the state. Writers and producers of drama who won national fame were listed, topped by John William Rogers and his prize-winning play, Judge Lynch.

Mrs. Parsley told of the theater as a popular relaxation from hardships for pioneer Texans, saying that Houston and some other cities had theaters before they had a church.

Traveling companies, some with famous stars including Sarah Bernhardt, appeared in the state in its early years. Later the Little Theatre was developed, reaching its height in Dallas in the 1930's, she continued.

Mrs. Parsley mentioned the production of Paul Green's musical drama, Texas, in Palo Duro Canyon as a notable example of recent southwestern drama.

German Student Guest Speaker To L'Allgera

Guest of L'Allegra Study Club for a program Thursday afternoon was Tomas Graf, who spoke of his home city, Karlsruhe, and other areas of his native Germany. Graf is the American Field Service student in Hereford High School this year.

Introduced by Mrs. Tommy Carnahan, who was hostess to the club in First National Community Room, he showed views of Germany and nearby mountain sections of Austria and Switzerland as he spoke. Agricultural areas and beautiful scenes in the Black Forest were also pictured in color.

Graf described Karlsruhe as a popular tourist city, and showed some of the historic buildings and beauty spots which appeal to visitors.

Club members planned a trip to Gristown on their next meeting day, Feb. 2, as Mrs. Alex Schroeter presided for business discussion.

They will meet at the home of Mrs. Bob Sims, 108 Aspen, at 1 p. m. that day and drive to the girls' residence home near Whiteface. The club sponsors one of the girls who live there, and the visit will be to her especially.

Present Thursday were Meses. Houston Frye, Bud Snyder, J. H. McCrary, Dennis Lomas, Joyce Lyons, Gene Cope, Jimmy Conkright, Jim Carnahan, Noble Ballard, Ronald Zimmerman, Hazen Woods, Bill Warrick, Bobby Veigel, Sims and Schroeter.

FROM OUR AUSTIN BUREAU

Redistricting Builds New Legislature Atmosphere

By LARRY FUHRMANN
Hereford Brand
Austin Bureau Chief

House and Senate chambers at the Capitol were the scene of a giant swearing-in ceremony in Austin as legislators convened for their session, anticipated to last well into late spring. The Texas Senate is completely new in the sense that all members had to take the oath of office since they are representing new districts. Of the 31 Senators, one is a woman, a Negro, and a liberal — Barbara Jordan of Houston. She is the first Negro to be elected to the Texas Senate since Reconstruction. Ten of the 31 Senators have been elected to their positions for the first time. Senators also have to determine their tenure; they will draw for 16 two-year terms and 15 four-year terms.

The 150-member House of Representatives now has two Negroes, and three Republicans. The Senate also now has one Republican member.

Another innovation for the 60th Legislature may be the adoption of the seniority system in naming committee members and heads. The speaker now appoints all Committee members and designates the chairman and vice-chairman. Under new rules he would appoint the full membership of only the committee on rules and a new committee on House administration.

Redistricting has also changed the face of the Legislature, which now includes more big city legislators than ever before. "In previous years we have had a predominantly rural Senate," Lt. Gov. Preston Smith has said. "But they worked with the senators from the cities. In my opinion there will be very little difference this time. There may be a lot of talk but the city and rural folk will work together."

Speaker of the House Ben Barnes says, "There has got to be a lot of different attitude of state government toward city government's more cooperative attitude, more willingness to be a partner."

Governor Connally, in advocating spending of $911.5 million from the general revenue accounts, has promised to make new tax recommendations. Income is now estimated at $847 million for 1968-69.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dameron of Dimmitt; Mrs. Lucille Cook, Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Kendrick, and Ken Kendrick of Amarillo.

Doubling of tuition in the state's higher education system, which would bring in $44 million of the money needed, is not receiving favorable response among the lawmakers. The legislators are also thinking in terms of a teachers' pay raise that would mean another $100 million in 1968-69 spending. The governor had not approved either an increase in state college tuition or the teachers' pay hike.

There may be a chance for a liquor-by-the-drink bill making it through the 60th Legislature, but parimutuel betting doesn't have favorable prospects at the present time. Governor Connally's proposal for constitutional revision is in general acceptance, but there is disagreement on how it should be accomplished.

Annual sessions of the Legislature are favored, and many legislators say they want to retain the death penalty along with stiffening penalties for major crimes.

And about that teacher pay raise: information from the Texas State Teachers Association shows that Texas has gone from 29th to 33rd among the 50 states in its pay scale, falling below the national average of $6,821. The Texas figure is now $6,025. The rankings were prepared by the National Education Association.

If the Texas Legislature approves the pay increase proposed this year, the extra money would "just barely" bring Texas up to the present national average "and no higher," claim the TSTA.

Dr. Joe B. McNeil, chairman of the association's legislative committee, says that Texas now has a shortage of 5,000 teachers.

The Capitol crowd saw one "old timer" taking his oath of office last week for the fourteenth time, making his tenure in office longer than any other elected state official. He is Jesse James, Treasurer of the State of Texas. He was appointed to the office in October, 1941, following the resignation of Charley Lockhart, and has been reelected every two years since. He has let more than $2 billion from public funds go through his hands.

Tuesday January 17th was a big day for Austin as the 90-minute inaugural parade took over Congress Avenue downtown. The parade emphasized the growth of tourism in Texas since 1963. Eight festivals were represented in the parade, including the drama "Texas" which is staged in Palo Duro Canyon.

Daniel Rubin, executive secretary of the Communist Party of America, said in speaking to a crowd of 400 in Austin that "the war in Viet Nam can only be ended when the people of South Viet Nam are allowed to determine their own government and socio-economic system."

"It is the position of the United States Communist Party," he said, "that the National Liberation Front should be represented in a coalition government, and that the coalition should provide the basis for a policy of true neutrality, without United States military presence."

Rubin was speaking on "How to end the War in Viet Nam: A Communist View" at St. Edwards University. He asserted that effects on the United States have been just as devastating internally as the costs seen in lives and finances.

"War expenditures mean curtailment of vital domestic programs; they mean pressure to increase taxes; and they create pressure to suppress civil liberties," Rubin asserted.

"Our (the American Communist Party's) strong feeling is that the war must be halted as soon as possible. The longer it goes on, the greater the risk of nuclear and hydrogen weapons confrontation, and the greater the cost in terms of so-many things that are very important to the American people.

From the administration standpoint, it appears the only solution the United States would accept at the end of the war would be a Vietnamese government that was anti-Communist. It would have to be friendly toward the United States and its policies would have to favor United States military presence to insure the future of that government."

Rubin also said that if the United States were to be induced into negotiations, the purpose of the negotiations would be in line with either a policy of total victory or a war of attrition, which Communists believe to be the present United States tactic.

Dr. George I. Sanchez, professor of Latin American Education at the University of Texas, charges that "a succession of governors and legislators have beat their breasts as champions of education — as well as champions of mother love and kindness to little children."

"But to what end, insofar as the Spanish-speaking population is concerned I want action, not words. It is time for a change!"

Sanchez' comments came at a Mexican American Joint Conference held in Austin. The group is instigating a program to take action on problems of Spanish speaking people in Texas. Sanchez pointed out that in Texas, persons of Spanish surname, 17 years of age or older, had only 4.7 years of schooling, while Negroes had 8.1 and others more than 10.

In other action, the group agreed to adopt permanent voter registration, work for increased services to immigrant workers by recommending that competent Mexican American serve in executive positions, oppose renewal of the bracero program; oppose city sales taxes, work for a state minimum wage law of $1.25 an hour, and set $3,000 as a policy level of poverty for a family of four.

The group said in discussion that communities could hinder the organization. Albert Pena, county commissioner from San Antonio, said, "We must make the politicians listen to us. If we don't get an answer, we must be willing, if necessary, to march on Austin."

The group plans to meet before its conference, scheduled April 6, 7 and 8 in San Antonio. It will review the action of the 60th Legislature and other phases of public government in deciding a program of political action.

The University of Texas expects some 25,000 students to enroll at the end of this month for the spring semester, following a fall enrollment of 27,200. Predictions for fall, 1967, are in the neighborhood of 27,000, depending on the number of servicemen returning from Viet Nam. An enrollment of 35,000 is expected by fall of 1975.

FIRST INNING SHOCKS

WASHINGTON — Pitcher Phil Ortega of the Washington Senators holds one distinction he would rather forget about. He was the only major league pitcher who allowed two first-inning grand slam home runs during 1966.

Willie Horton of Detroit hit Ortega for a four-run homer in a June 22 night game. Four nights later rookie Joy Foy of the Boston Red Sox crashed a grand slam against Ortega. Both drives came in the first inning.

Wedding Vows Repeated In Candlelight Service

Miss Gloria Damron, daughter of Claude R. Damron, 126 Fir, and Dennis Blake Rickman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rickman of Austin Road, exchanged wedding vows in a ceremony conducted at First Christian Church Saturday by Rev. Ron Harpster, pastor at Avenue Baptist Church.

Mr. Damron gave his daughter in marriage at the candlelighted altar, in a double ring service just before sunset. The bride party moved down a white carpeted aisle lighted by white votive tapers on the pew ends.

More candles burned in branched holders flanking an altar arrangement of white gladiolus, backed by masses of greenery. The couple knelt on a bench cushioned in white satin.

Bride's attendants were Miss Shari Jo Carmichael and Mrs. Johnny Mack. Eldon Howell was best man, Carl Stapp, Dickie Slaughter of Lubbock and Gayland Ward were ushers.

Tanya Ray of Sudan, small cousin of the bride, was the flower girl and Kyd Kendrick, her nephew, carried the rings. Wedding music was by Don Baugous, who sang solos. This is My Beloved and The Lord's Prayer.

Wearing a fitted French lace gown with peau de soie overskirt which flowed into a curved train, the bride carried a bouquet of white roses. Copies of the flowers in the bouquet, three satin roses accented the deep V of the neckline at center back. Seed pearls embroidered the lace on the petal-point sleeves and the bodice front.

Layers of tulle formed the veil which fell past the waistline from a circlet of seed pearls. She wore two pieces of keepsake jewelry, her late mother's pearl necklace and wedding ring.

Dresses of the bridesmaids introduced a color motif of wine and pink. They were fashioned in empire style of wine satin, floor length and with bell sleeves. Trim was in pink to match the glemias they carried, and their headpieces were roses of the wine satin.

Hereford Country Club was the scene of the reception where guests registered at a table where Mrs. Carol Fletcher presided. Mrs. Ira Ott, Mrs. Pete Carmichael and Mrs. George Olson were at the refreshment table.

Three tables were arranged in half-moon effect, covered in pink and lighted by pink tapers. In the middle table was an arrangement of pink and wine was used at the registry.

Mr. and Mrs. Rickman left after the reception on a trip to Dallas, and plan to be at home in Fort Worth after Jan. 25. The bride chose for travel a beige and gold dress and coat ensemble with matching accessories. Her white rose corsage flowers. A smaller bouquet was from her bride bouquet.

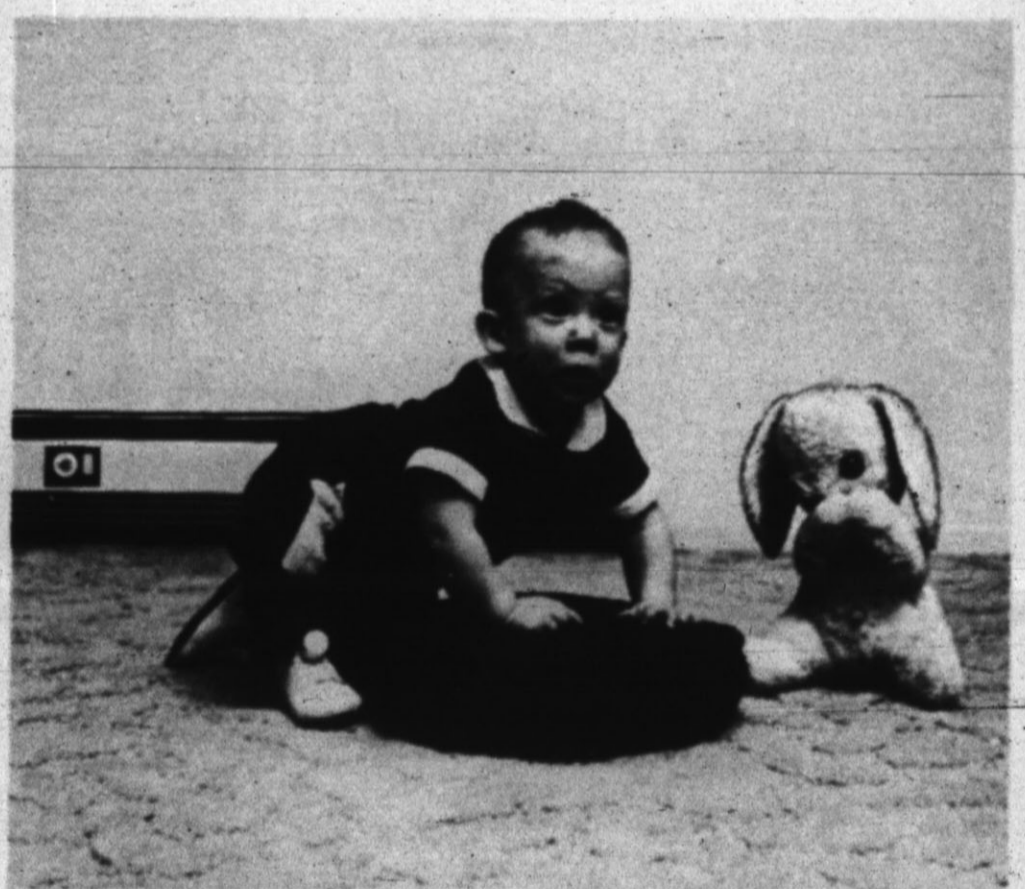

Both are graduates of Hereford High School and have been students in West Texas State University. Mrs. Rickman was a junior, majoring in speech therapy, and Rickman has completed two years of study.

Out-of-city guests included the bride's sister, Mrs. Timothy Woolston, and Mr. Woolston of Albuquerque, Mr. and Mrs. R. Thompson of Muleshoe, Mr. and Mrs. P. Hammer of Plainview; Messrs. and Mmes. Henry Williams, Loyd Gilreath, Connie Hill and Jerry Ray of Sudan;

Appreciation For Girlstown Gifts Voiced

Appreciation to Deaf Smith County residents who have contributed recently to Girlstown, U. S. A., girls' residence home at Whiteface, is expressed by Mrs. Viola Williams, Girlstown representative in this county.

"Through these fine and generous gifts received around Christmas, the 60 residents of Girlstown were made much happier," she said, "and I want to thank everyone who has contributed."

"As a representative of Girlstown, I cordially invite every one to visit the home, so they may better understand the needs there. The location of Girlstown is nine miles south of Whiteface."

Many individuals, clubs and business firms have made contributions of cash, Christmas gifts for the girls, food and supplies for the home this winter. Lately the Hereford Lions Club has given $1,000 and promised a $50 monthly contribution.

James M. Barry

TCUL Director Will Speak At Annual Meeting

Speaker for the annual membership meeting of the Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union, to be held at 7:30 p. m. Jan. 31 in Hereford High School auditorium, will be James M. Barry of Dallas, managing director of the Texas Credit Union League.

Dyalthia Benson, manager of the Hereford Credit Union, announces that the public is invited to hear Barry, whose experience in credit union organizations dates back to the 1930's when he was a teacher in the Buffalo, N. Y., school system and organized a Teachers Credit Union.

He was managing director of the Kansas-Nebraska Regional Credit Union Association before coming to Texas in 1944, when there were 228 credit unions in the state. Now there are 1,364 groups with more than a million members.

The annual meeting here, which is planned to begin at 7:30 and close at 9 p. m., is primarily for members and their families but guests are welcomed, Mrs. Benson stresses.

No fresh mint in the house to add to cooked green peas to be served with lamb. Add a little mint-flavored jelly along with butter after the peas are cooked and drained; heat slowly to melt the jelly and allow flavors to blend.

ART HAS MANY FACTS

As modern as tomorrow is the new book, "New Trends in Flower Arrangement" by Rae L. Goldson. Mrs. Goldson is not only the author of several books in this field, but she is a celebrated lecturer, a national accredited judge and a flower exhibitor of note.

Her latest book is one which will be welcomed by the garden clubs and the individual flower arranger. It is comparable to the simple line arrangements by the Japanese. The most modern aspect of the arrangements seem to be in the accessories which Mrs. Goldson uses. But the vases, urns, backdrops, figurines, and other objects do not detract from the flowers used in the floral picture. This is a rule which must be followed in this art.

Still another book in the arts deals with "Perspective," which is the title of the book by Victor Perad. It is simply written and illustrated throughout to explain perspective in sketching. Beginner artists can learn from this one in all phases of his work. Examples of how to draw seascapes, landscapes, the human head and body, circles, buildings, and various slants for all these, as well as unusual approaches to the objects, are shown and discussed.

The art of writing has a good model in Jesse Sturart, who has written a new book entitled "My Land Has a Voice." He is an individualistic writer, who writes with depth and understanding of nature and the people of Kentucky and Tennessee mountains. In his manner and style there is a freshness which is pleasing. This is his twenty-eighth book, and compares favorably with the best of them. Stuart has won fame with his writing. He has received awards, honor and praises from the severest of critics.

The book does not seem like a mere collection of stories, as he deftly guides you from one set of characters and happenings to another. Whether or not you have read any of his past books you will want to read this one.

'SWEET CHARITY' GOES HOLLYWOOD

NEW YORK (AP) — The Broadway musical "Sweet Charity," which was based on an Italian movie, is now to be the source of a Hollywood movie.

The stage show stars Gwen Verdon as a dance-hall hostess who always falls in love with the wrong man. In the original film, "Nights of Cabiria," the story took place in a circus. Universal Pictures has acquired screen rights to the adaptation which has a music score by Cy Coleman and Dorothy Fields.

Sue Rife, John Lesly Wed In Campus Chapel

A campus wedding for Miss Sue Rife and John L. Lesly, both students at West Texas State University, was solemnized in Hill Chapel at mid-afternoon Friday, with the Rev. Russell Wingert of Hereford's First Presbyterian Church reading the double ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rife of Guaymas, Puerto Rico, former Hereford residents. Lesly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lesly of Hereford.

Miss Paula Stephens of Lamesa was Miss Rife's only attendant and Wynn Buck acted as best man. Ushers were the bridegroom's brother, Tom Lesly, Mike Harvey, Bob Duzenski of Philadelphia, and Luis Saravia of Guatemala City.

Miss Candy Irwin of Phillips was the wedding soloist, who sang "All For You and Walk Hand in Hand." Mrs. W. G. Roe, also of Phillips, played the marches and organ accompaniment for the vocalist.

Large baskets of blue-tinted gladiolas were set on pedestals on either side of the altar, with paired candelabra holding tapers in the same shade of blue.

White peas de sole made the bride's gown, fashioned on princess lines with a Sabrina neckline cut low in the back and finished with a wide bow and streamers which flowed to the hemline. Elbow sleeves were edged with a flare of lace, matching the kneedeep band around the bottom of the floor-length skirt.

A double pouf of silk illusion veiling curved to her shoulders from a coronet of crystal and pearl beads. She carried a lace-covered Bible with a cluster of orchids. Her jewelry was a small gold disc with center diamond, which had been her 18th birthday gift from the bridegroom, and her mother's wedding band worn on her right hand.

Miss Stephens' dress was in powder blue, the empire waistline accented with a velvet ribbon, sleeves short and puffed. Her flower was a single long-stemmed red Colonial rose.

After the marriage ceremony a reception was held in First Methodist Fellowship Hall at Canyon. The bride's table was covered with white net and centered with the bridal bouquet. Misses Cynthia Haile and Barbara Zinser served the wedding cake and punch.

Leaving on a trip to Colorado Springs, Mrs. Lesly had changed to an orange-toned wool shift with long sleeves, accessorized in black. Her corsage was an orchid from her bouquet.

The couple will be at home after Jan. 24 at 187 Ponderosa Apartments, Canyon. The bride, who attended Hereford High School as a sophomore when the Rife family lived here, is a freshman in WTSU, majoring in secondary education.

Leslie, a graduate of Westworth Military Academy, also attends the university and plans further study in the University of Texas Law School.

In addition to those from Canyon and Hereford, wedding guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. M. M. Cain of Teague, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Stephens and family of Lamesa and Tim Bornholtz of Iowa City, Ia.

An executive board meeting preceded the chapter session, and a meeting of the decoration committee for the Valentine Ball was held afterward. Mrs. Harold Kids, president, was in charge of the business discussion in which 20 members took part.

Future BSP Activities Are Mapped

An informal party to begin spring rush activities was planned at the meeting of Kappa Iota Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, in Community Center this week. The Coke party is scheduled for the afternoon of Jan. 28 at Community Center.

For the program on Feb. 7, a joint meeting with Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter was slated; members will see a film of the American Cancer Society titled Breast Self-Examination.

Membership by transfer was voted for Mrs. Walt Hanson, who recently moved here from Hart.

Football League Discussion Point

Since the American Football League came into existence, National League fans have been arguing that the new league wouldn't have a chance against competition of NFL calibre. What's more, since the big Super Bowl last Sunday, we are bound to agree with the NFL opinions.

Independent Mood Shown By Congress This Session

By BERT MILLS
WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congress has begun its new session by demonstrating an independent mood, as shown by the House in revolting against its leadership on two key issues on the very first day of the session. One of these issues was widely publicized — the ouster of Adam Clayton Powell as Chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee and the at least temporary denial of his seat. The other was abandonment of the 21-day rule, which allowed the House Rules Committee to be circumvented if it failed to act on a bill within three weeks.

In both of these issues, Speaker John W. McCormack (D, Mass.) was on the losing side. Also, in each case it was a Republican motion which prevailed, because it won the support of Southern Democrats. The GOP-Dixie coalition of yesterday is back in business in the House.

This is highly significant for the future. There are now enough Republicans in the House — 187 — to become a majority if they vote as a bloc and if they attract support from Southern Democrats. Thus the Democratic majority in the House is more apparent than real.

Disregarding party labels, the conservatives control the House. This will inevitably affect the course of "the Great Society" for the next two years. This explains why President Johnson has trimmed his liberal sails a bit this year.

59 Are in Swing Group
The Chamber of Commerce of the U. S. has analyzed the membership of the House in the new Congress, and decided that the balance of power is held by 59 Representatives who cannot be identified as either conservatives or liberals. These are the legislators who will decide the outcome of close votes in the House.

According to the Chamber's head count there are about 186 conservatives in the House and 178 liberals. At present there are 433 House members and two vacancies. That means it takes 217 votes to comprise a majority. If the conservatives all vote together, they need only 21 ballots from the "swing" group to win.

To show what such a conservative majority would have meant in the past two years, the Chamber points out that three key bills passed by the House last year would have been defeated. In two cases, presidential laws would have been defeated. In the third instance, the House-passed bill was beat-

Will Free Vote Attract People?

Did the $1.75 charge prevent many people from voting in Texas?

Finally, in 1967, we are to get an answer following generations of arguments over the question. This year, although required to register, the voter pays not one cent for the privilege of exercising his franchise as a citizen.

Monday, the Deaf Smith tax office reported a total of 1,028 exemption certificates issued this year against a total of more than 3,000 poll taxes in 1966. It was pointed out, however, that many people waited until the last minute to get poll taxes, and that probably the same trend will hold with certificates. The tax office, to say the least, is expecting a big rush during the next eight days.

If lack of funds was a legitimate excuse for not voting, Deaf Smith should establish a new, all time high record in 1967. If, on the other hand, disinterest and lethargy previously kept people from getting their poll tax, we can expect pretty well the same thing to happen with the exemption certificates.

What is your guess on the subject and, more important, where will you stand when the time comes to cast those important ballots.

however, apparently did a lot for the game, and provided entertainment for millions of people from coast to coast. Pro football, in addition, has upheld the theory that more people attend the games when they are consistently televised than when they are not, due primarily to general spreading of interest among new fans.

The Super Bowl failed on one point, though; instead of settling an old argument, it seems to have created scores of new ones. The latest version we have encountered is that NFL's second place Dallas could have taken AFL's first place Kansas City to a cleaning "with eleven hands tied behind their backs".

Grass Roots Reaction Stirs Congress

Hereford's annual Chamber of Commerce speaker, Joseph E. Burger, this year presented some rather alarming cost figures and consequences arising from our centralized federal government controls in his talk "Pay Day — Some Day".

Due to the generally progressive type of people in this community, we doubt that he brought anything new to most of the audience, a fact which is pretty well substantiated through the voting record of this immediate section. His talk did, however, serve to remind his listeners that the situation not only continues, but in ever-increasing degrees.

The real point, we thought Mr. Burger missed is highly current, and is possibly resulting from the spreading of information of the type he used. By this, we mean, the worm is perhaps beginning to turn. At long last, it seems, we are beginning to notice a return of power to the Legislative branch of our government. Congress, still Democratic ruled, certainly shows every indication of standing on its feet and being heard.

Until Congress met this week, it had apparently become the custom of the body to "rubber stamp" every little item the Administrative branch saw fit to recommend. Things had become so out of balance that any whim of the President (sometimes even those of his wife if she did not happen to like junk yards) became the law of the land. Our Legislative branch has continued to exist, but certainly it has ceased to function in accordance with the planning established in our Constitution by our founding fathers.

Our first surprise of 1967 was when Congress literally "put its foot down" on the Adam Clayton Powell scandal. While the President did not publicly sould off on this issue, it does seem that he should have recognized it had Congress not saved him the trouble. If Mr. Powell is not guilty, he definitely should be re-established. On the other hand, if he is guilty, he should fare no better or worse because of his race, and as one New Mexico Representative pointed out, had Powell been white he would long ago have been removed. In the past our nation has seen many Governors, along with a President or two on the carpet from time to time.

Our next pleasant surprise occurred when our Congress once again seems to have banged down its foot on wasteful spending. Whether the new surtax passes or fails, we are happy to see Congress delve into the spending question. If we need the money for defense, for survival, or even progress; we think the American people want to go ahead and meet their honest obligations. However, when it comes to squandering uncounted millions through red tape, superfluous whims, and wasted efforts to buy influence and friends, then we believe the average American draws the line — and we saw a faint trace of this beginning in the last general election.

Most heartening of all, though, is the fact that Congress has gone back to work. They are on the job, representing us — not the President. We certainly hope that they will not be coerced or outmaneuvered in the months to come. Their beginning has been tremendous, and they give every indication of being the kind of folks who will plow down the middle of the rows.

For the first time since 1931, the new year has brought us a movement away from politics, and back toward statesmanship. Let us all pray earnestly that it will continue and grow, for upon this single thread pretty well rests the welfare and the future of our republic.

50 YEARS AGO

A number of Hereford music lovers are arranging to be in Amarillo on the evening of January 28, to hear the renowned singer, Mabel Kiegelman. Some will go by private auto, others will go down on the evening train. It is thought Hereford will be represented by a score or more upon that musical occasion.

The political bee over in Randall and Crosby counties has not confined its buzzing to its accustomed haunts, among the time-honored, predestined holders of office and incidental custodians of the emoluments thereof, but is being heard among Josiah Allen's "cooing doves, whose only mission it is to sweetly coo."

Mrs. W. B. Dameron returned this morning from Austin, where she was visiting her son and daughter, who are attending school there.

25 YEARS AGO

These "Bells" for defense rang in the New Year for Uncle Sam in a materialistic way, for Jan. found James H. Bell making airplanes for Uncle Sam, Lt. Charles A. Bell, flying them; Lt. Robert A. Bell, finding them and Major D. G. Bell shooting them down.

They are the four sons of Mrs. A. G. Bell of Hereford. James H. Bell is making airplanes for the Consolidated Aircraft Corporation in San Diego, Calif.; Lt. Charles A. Bell is flying for the U. S. Army Air Corps in the Canal Zone; Lt. Robert Bell is finding the planes in the U. S. Aircraft Warning Service at Seattle, Wash., and Major D. G. Bell is shooting them down for the U. S. Army Anti-Aircraft in Hawaii.

And Still We Kill

Every time there is an appeal for common sense driving on our highways the public seems to resent it, as much as a 45-year old man whose aged and senile mother can't resist telling him to brush his teeth or wash behind his ears.

There are those who suggest that the increase in highway fatalities over the previous year is merely a reflection of our increasing population — more people are driving now and consequently highway accidents and fatalities must increase also.

This is not necessarily true for small armies have been known to conquer large armies because of better equipment, and our highway systems today are certainly better equipped than ever before. Agencies at all levels of government have been pouring more and more assistance into making travel safer. This includes additional law enforcement officers; bigger, better, and safer road systems; helpful signs and safer devices.

MARCH OF EVENTS
"COMMUNICATIONS GAP" WIDENS ON WAR FRONT
LBJ 'S CHIEF TARGET AS CRITICISM MOUNTS

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer
WASHINGTON—Nothing in recent years has shaken Washington as has an outstanding United States reporter's on-the-scene evaluation of the effectiveness, or lack of it, of the air bombings of North Vietnam. The reports have brought on an unparalleled crisis in the realm of confidence in the Johnson administration.

Completely aside from the merits involved, their timing, coming as it does along with the assembly of a new, less Johnson-influenced session of Congress, serves to escalate the level of debate that was bound to ensue over administration policy in the Vietnam fighting. Not only will that policy be attacked both by "hawks" and "doves," but it is now subject to attack on grounds that the publicly-stated policy was not in fact the actual policy that has been applied.

It is incredible to witness the shifting positions of official government "spokesmen" on certain aspects of the North Vietnam bombings, each change made to conform to new disclosures that contradicted the previous explanation. There is abundant reason to conclude that the "credibility gap" has been fathered by an almost unbelievable "communications gap" between the military spokesmen in Vietnam and the Washington officials who have to explain U. S. policy in that war.

Because President Johnson has insisted that the White House be the fount of all information on the major activities of his administration, the President finds himself in the position of being the principal target of criticism concerning war policy and its applications. Unlike some previous administrations, Johnson cannot lay the blame upon some other department functionary. It is there, right at his own personal doorstep.

The most frequently heard comment in Washington is that, if Johnson had to run for reelection today, he'd lose decisively.

NAME CHANGE—The Department of Housing and Urban Development launched its new urban rehabilitation program early this year under the name "Demonstration Cities." Recently, however, the Department has been referring to the program as "Model Cities."

Secretary Robert C. Weaver explains that when confronted with the demonstration cities name, "people think of demonstrations in cities, and this is not what the program is designed to do."

SLOGANEERING—The origins of political slogans can be interesting. It was disclosed recently that the "Great Society" phrase describing President Johnson's social betterment program was coined by one of his former speech-writers.

But another Johnson slogan—"All the Way with LBJ"—originated in the mind of a high school lad whose father holds a government position on Capitol Hill.

The lad worked the slogan out in a junior high school print shop in 1960 and showed it to his father who saw that it got into then-Sen. Johnson's hands.

Johnson wrote the youth, "The slogan you thought up is one of the best I ever heard. I am deeply grateful to you for sharing your imaginative talents with me."

School boy dreamed up that slogan

This time of year is when most families resolve firmly to use a better filing system next year — the same thing they resolved at this time last year.

WHEN YOU BEGIN getting the figures together to make out the income tax return, or to have it made, you run into that problem again.

What's happened to the bank statement for July? ... here's June, August, September, this envelope marked "October" is empty ... oh yes, here are the October checks in with those for November.

Those receipted doctor bills were all put up together, very carefully, but where ... this drawer maybe ... nope, maybe in this box ... or on the closet shelf ... it was some place where it couldn't be forgotten!

HOW ABOUT the car expense tickets? ... Where's the receipt for the February house payment, can I prove I contributed to the United Fund and Boys Ranch ... was it in 1966 or 1965 that I paid those taxes? Well, next year I'll keep all the records in one place so it will be easy to find the information ... this drawer will be a good place, if it's cleaned out ... All this other stuff can be put in another drawer, or a closet shelf, or someplace ... for right now I'll just leave it where it is, and move it out later ... Hmmm, wasn't that what I said last year at this time?

NOMINEE FOR the cutest telephone answering service of the week: the small voice that said "Hello" at the Duke Poywells when I called Hilda for her Beta Sigma Phi report. Haven't met the owner of the voice, but am eager to.

ONE OF THE THINGS that makes me, unhappiest on my job is to have people tell me about parties, weddings, club meetings, or anything that I write about — and tell me so late that the story really isn't news anymore and so it can't be written at length or with a big headline.

No matter how many times we put reminders in the paper that we need information on the wedding before it happens, engagement announcements for the Sunday paper on Thursday at the latest, club reports just as soon as the meeting is over, and tips on showers and parties several days before the event, some people forget.

THEN THE BRIDE is hurt because the headline on her wedding story is in smaller type than that on the report of her friend's wedding, or the club reporter wishes she had longer stories for her scrapbook.

Their plight makes me as unhappy as it makes them, maybe more so, but in the news business the main thing is news value, and "it's news if it's something new."

Best thing to do is ring our telephone quick, as soon as you know a piece of news. If you can tell us about it before it happens, that's even better than just after it happens!

'STUDENT PRINCE' COMES BACK

NEW YORK — One of show world's sturdiest operettas, "The Student Prince" is to have a new Broadway production next year.

The plan follows a successful engagement on the west coast under sponsorship of the Los Angeles and San Francisco Civic Light Opera associations.

"The Student Prince" was originally done here in 1924; revived in 1931 and 1943.

NEA members invite women of this area to enroll for the course, which will include instruction in self-improvement, modeling techniques, makeup for daytime and evening, social graces and etiquette, personality development, wardrobe planning fashion and styling, posture and figure correction.

The instructor operates the Jeane Campbell School of Fashion and Modeling here and in Dimmitt. She will conduct a question and answer session at the beginning of each class.

Florence Robinson is chairman from the NSA Chapter on arrangements for the class. Reservations may be made with her or with the chapter president, Avis Northcutt, or any member. Fee for the course is $20 and deadline for enrolling is next Tuesday.

Classes will be held in Pioneer Gas Flame Room; time for each session is 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. en in the Senate. The laws that would have failed are rent subsidies and demonstration cities. The House voted $12 million to help pay the rent of low income families, and the margin by which the bill passed was only eight votes. The vote on demonstration cities was also close enough to expect the result would be reversed in this Congress.

The new complexion of the House does not mean that these and other laws will be repealed. It does mean that some of the more unpopular welfare programs are in for trouble this year. Appropriations may be withheld or scaled down.

Labor Claims Majority
AFL-CIO claims that Labor's friends still constitute a majority in both the Senate and the House. Their figures show that 58 Senators out of 100, and 222 Representatives out of 433, either were elected with labor's help or vote with the unions more than half the time.

However, these figures tend to obscure the fact that organized labor took a licking at the polls last November. Also, even heavier majorities in Congress the past two years failed to enact most of Labor's pro-

Amarillo Man Is State Historical President

AUSTIN — Charles Woodburn of Amarillo is the new president of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

Woodburn succeeds John Ben Sheppard of Odessa, who has held the post for the past four years.

The Texas State Historical Survey Committee is composed of 18 members appointed by the Governor. Woodburn was appointed to the Committee in 1963.

The Committee is the official state agency for historical marking and preservation. It coordinates the work of 254 county historical survey committees in carrying out the RAMPs program — a program to Record, Appreciate, Mark, Preserve and Survey Texas history.

Woodburn, 47, was born and raised in Amarillo. He attended Amarillo College and the University of Texas.

He is a member of the Potter County Historical Survey Committee and a member of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society.

He is a member of the board of directors of the Texas Historical Foundation, private affiliate of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

Woodburn is vice president and general manager of the printing division of Russell Stationery Co. of Amarillo. He has been associated with the firm since 1934.

Guest Cellist Slated In Canyon

CANYON — Two internationally acclaimed artists will be presented in concert-recital appearances at West Texas State University Feb. 5 and Feb. 8.

Ottomar Borwitzky, principal cellist of the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra, will be guest soloist with the WTSU orchestra Sunday, Feb. 5 at 3 p. m.

Jeffrey Siegel, Leventritt Foundation award-winning pianist, will be presented in recital Feb. 8 at 8:15 p. m.

The concert will open with the performance of Vivaldi's "Concerto for Two Trumpets," featuring four student trumpet soloists, Richard Bales, Tullia graduate; Wayne Billingsley, Amarillo sophomore; Gene O'Rear, Amarillo junior; and David Chism, Hope, Ark., junior.

Also on the program will be "Psalm and Fugue" by the contemporary American composer, Alan Hovhaness. Beethoven's seldom-hard "Jenaer Eymphony" undiscovered for 120 years has also been selected for the program.

There is no admission charge for the programs which will be in the Fine Arts Auditorium. All seats for the Feb. 8 recital are reserved, however. Complimentary reserved tickets may be obtained by writing or phoning the WTSU Music office.

Winner of four national competitions, Jeffrey Siegel will appear in recital Feb. 8 through the cooperation of the Leventritt Foundation in New York City.

As a guest soloist, he has appeared with the Chicago Symphony, the London Philharmonic, Milwaukee, Montreal, and St. Louis Symphonies. He has appeared three times with the Artyst Showcase Orchestra on NBC television.

Currently on a concert tour in the United States, Borwitzky appears as guest soloist with the University Orchestra Feb. 5 at the request of its conductor and his friend, Herbert Albin. A native of Germany, Albin was formerly conductor of the symphony orchestra in Freiburg, Germany.

A Fulbright Scholar and Juilliard School of Music graduate, Siegel placed second in the international Montreal competition and was awarded a special prize for outstanding interpretation of Bach in Bolzano, Italy.

On his numerous concert tours through Europe and the U. S. he has appeared as soloist with some of the world's most famous orchestras and conductors.

Borwitzky will perform the Haydn "Concerto in D Major" accompanied by the University orchestra.

A Bach selection which he has chosen for his WTSU appearance is "Toccata in D." Other program selections are "Sonata No. 1 in F Minor, Opus 11" by Schumann, "Four Preludes" by Rachmaninoff, and "Sonata, Opus 28" by Barber.

New Agent Named For District 1

COLLEGE STATION — Mrs. Sue Farris, Harrison County home demonstration agent since 1957, on February 1 will become district agent for Extension District 1 with headquarters at Amarillo.

During her youth, she was an outstanding 4-H Club member and a Gold Star award winner.

In making the announcement, Extension Service Director John E. Hutchison said Mrs. Farris replaces Miss Edith Lois Wilson who retired on December 31, 1966. In her new position, the director added that Mrs. Farris would supervise the Extension Service's programs in the 22-county Panhandle area relating to home economics, adult and 4-H, through the county home demonstration agents.

In 1965, Mrs. Farris received the National Association of Extension Home Economists' Distinguished Service Award in recognition for outstanding educational programs and leadership development over a period of 10 or more years. She has served as a district director and state committee chairman in her state association. Her programs were developed through the County Program Building Committee. She was also cited for her active work in the Texas Community Improvement Program.

The new district agent is a native of Lamar County; a graduate of Blossom High School and Texas Woman's University with a B. S. degree in home economics education. She has also done graduate work at TWU and Colorado State University. Mrs. Farris was first employed by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in 1954 as an assistant-in-training in Hopkins County. Within the year, she was named home demonstration agent in Marion County where she served until her transfer to

Brink Member Of A Cappella Choir

FORT WORTH — The A Cappella Choir, composed of 47 singers selected from the University at large, and the Chamber Orchestra of Texas Christian University will begin their sixth annual concert tour on Jan. 26 with appearances scheduled in 10 cities.

Jim Brink of 211 Sunset, Hereford, is a member of the choir.

Organized six years ago by B. R. Henson, TCU director of choral activities, the choir will appear in Bartlesville, Okla., on the first day of the tour. Other concerts will be given in Wichita, Kan., Jan. 27; Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 28; Rock Island, Ill., Jan. 29; Platteville, Wis., Jan. 30; Chicago, Ill., Jan. 31; St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 1; Springfield, Feb. 2; Bonham, Feb. 3; and Dallas on Feb. 4.

Radiography Is Good Job Field

COLLEGE STATION — Recent high school graduates looking for a relatively short training course to prepare for good paying jobs might consider industrial radiography.

Texas A and M's Engineering Extension Service launches its third 16-week school for industrial radiographers Feb. 8 at the A and M Research Annex.

Twenty graduates of earlier schools averaged about $8,000 annually in starting salaries, noted Eugene Kronenberg, the school's chief instructor. Employment opportunities are expected to increase steadily in space technology and other fields, he noted.

Industrial radiography is essentially a non-destructive method of testing valuable in maintaining quality control and production costs. X-ray and gamma ray equipment operation are stressed in A and M's $25,000 laboratory. Both are photographic processes which depict flaws in metals and materials.

Aircraft, missile, shipbuilding, and foundry industries are among the largest employers of industrial radiographers. Plastics and ceramics firms also are expanding use of industrial radiography.

Adding to classroom and laboratory work at A and M are field trips to industrial plants in the Houston area.

Graduates of the school can be licensed by the Texas Department of Health to do radiographic work.

Incoming Valencia orange crop is showing good progress in both the San Joaquin Valley and Southern California. Recent rains have helped to increase fruit sizes, and most districts have a better than average set of fruit.

Harrison County. The new district agent holds membership in the American and Texas Home Economics Associations; Epsilon Sigma Phi, Extension professional society; Marshall Music Club; Women's Committee, Marshall Chamber of Commerce; and the Marshall Altrusa Club.

Announcement was made that the next meeting, Feb. 2, will be a luncheon observing International Day, with a program emphasizing fine arts in an international theme.

Mrs. W. J. Gilliland was hostess in the directors room of Rural Electric Co-op Building. Mrs. Dexter Lillie and Mrs. Justin McBride were named vice presidents, Mrs. Earl Holt secretary, Mrs. Gilliland corresponding secretary and Mrs. Will S. Kerr treasurer.

Brownfield Man Heads Welfare

AUSTIN — Burton G. Hackney of Brownfield has been sworn in as Commissioner of Public Welfare for Texas after having served twelve years on the State Board of Public Welfare, eight as board chairman.

He succeeds the late John H. Winters, State Commissioner of Welfare for twenty three years.

Hackney was named to the vacant administrative post by the Board of Public Welfare, December 4, 1966, shortly after Winters' death.

Present for the ceremonies today were Will Bond of Hillsboro, and W. Kendall Baker of Houston Vice Chairman and Secretary, respectively, of the Board of Public Welfare.

Associate Justice Meade F. Griffin of the Texas Supreme Court, presided as Hackney took the oath of office.

Following the ceremony in the Hearing Room of the John H. Reagan Building, a reception was held at the Department's headquarters in the same building for families, friends and public officials.

Commissioner and Mrs. Hackney have two children. A son James, is a graduate of Texas Technological College and is the second year student in the Law

Time Limit Placed On Veteran Loans

Time is growing short for veterans of World War II to use their eligibility for guaranteed loans for homes, farms or businesses. A. W. Stratton, Chief Benefits Director of the Veterans Administration warned today. The final deadline for application for a VA guaranteed loan is July 25, 1967.

There had been an upsurge in veteran loan activity. The July 25, 1967, deadline does not apply to veterans of the Korean Conflict or veterans who have been included in the new legislation who have served since January 31, 1955. The expiration date for Korean veterans is 1975, and for veterans of the Vietnam era, ten years plus an extension for time served, from the date of their discharge.

Stratton said that while over 7-million veterans had used their eligibility to purchase homes, farms or start businesses, there were many still eligible who had not taken advantage of this provision.

The Veterans Administration has guaranteed 6,370,909 home loans to veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict. There have been a total of 238,752 business loans and 71,654 farm loans guaranteed under the program. Loans insured by the VA total $62-billion.

Art Guild Sets Special Program

Art From Many Worlds is the subject of a special program planned by Hereford Art Guild for its meeting Tuesday evening. The program will be given in the Chandelier Shop with the owners, Mrs. Jack Renfro and Miss Alma Paetzold, in charge.

Supper in the Hickory Log Restaurant at 6:30 p. m. will precede the meeting which is scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. Hostesses will be Mrs. S. O. Wilson and Mrs. Hilrey Aven, members of the Guild's social committee.

In addition to the guaranteed loans, the Veterans Administration has made 258,962 direct loans totaling $2.3-billion. These loans are made in areas where local financing is not available.

Stratton advised veterans of World War II planning on utilizing this privilege guaranteed to them by Public Law not to wait until the last minute before selecting their home, farm or business. Loans are arranged for by the builder in most instances, but the guarantee can be used to purchase existing homes as well as new homes.

With less than eight months remaining for veterans to use their eligibility, Stratton said

Your passport to the world

Your telephone can carry your voice to almost any corner of the globe at the speed of light. Pretty amazing when you stop to think about it. Fact is, you can reach 97 percent of the telephones in the world by Long Distance. And closer to home, you can call more people and more places in Texas than ever before. That's just one way your telephone service has grown in value over the years.

Another way is in transmission quality. Today's phone users can talk as though they were four feet apart. Back in the early 1930's, it was 35 feet. And the low cost of telephone service makes it a real bargain. Today you can make a three-minute, station-to-station call to any point in the continental United States (except Alaska) for $1 or less after 8 p.m. or all day Sunday. Better service to more places at lower cost. We think that's a winning combination.

Club Plans Aid To Blood Bank

Cooperation in the "walking blood bank" program of this community by setting a time for blood typing of members was planned in Hereford Study Club Thursday evening. Mrs. Art Stoy is chairman of the project for the club.

A medical technician will be present at the next meeting, Feb. 2, at the Tannahill Fabric Mart, and members were asked to be present early for a recording of their blood types. These records will be placed on file for reference when blood donors are needed here.

"Strong, healthy men are preferred as blood donors," Mrs. Stoy told the clubwomen, "but fraailer, willing women are acceptable — and those with unusual blood types are often badly needed. All adults of the community are invited to register their blood types in this project, to supply an up-to-date record."

The meeting Thursday was in the home of Mrs. C. R. Winget, with Mrs. T. E. Braddy as co-hostess. Mrs. Labry Ballard presided for business and Mrs. Shirley Garrison, program chairman, introduced as guest speaker the American Field Service student in Hereford High School, Tomas Graf of Karlsruhe, Germany.

Graf's talk on Germany as he knows it was followed by a question and answer period in which he replied to queries of interested club members. Contrasts in the educational systems of Germany and the United States were of especial interest to the women present.

To fill an office vacancy left when Mrs. Dillie Kelley recently moved to Albuquerque, N. M., Mrs. Winget was elected publicity chairman. Plans were made for a sweetheart party scheduled for Feb. 16, when members will entertain their husbands in the home of Mrs. Garland Solomon. Mmes. Mer-

Shortage Felt By State Patrol

The Texas Department of Public Safety is faced with the greatest manpower shortage in its history. In order to replenish the ranks of the uniformed services, employment procedures have been changed to allow for immediate employment, announced Major Harry Hutchison, Regional Commander of this area.

Applicants who successfully meet all the requirements can be placed on the payroll within ten (10) days, and will be assigned temporary duty at any of the regional, district or sub-district DPS offices over the state until a recruit training school begins. Periodic training schools will be held at the DPS Law Enforcement Academy in Austin.

To qualify for a position in the uniformed services, a man must be between the ages of 20 and 35, not less than 5 feet 8 inches in height, a high school education or its equivalent, sound physical condition, good vision, a citizen of the United States, and a resident of Texas.

Applications and full information can be obtained by contacting any Department of Public Safety Patrolman or station. A Representative of the Texas

Dee Taylor and Owen Andrews. The next meeting will be Feb. 7 at 2:30 in the kitchen of Frio Baptist Church, with Mrs. Springer as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams and Mrs. Gail Alexander of Idalou, returned home last week from an eight-day trip to California. Mrs. Alexander visited her son, Charles, who is stationed at George Air Force Base, near San Bernardino. The Barbers visited her cousins, Mrs. Ruth Davis, Mrs. Iola Vest and Mr. and Mrs. Leverette Redwine, all near Lakewood. The Williams visited his mother and brothers in that area, also. They all visited the Williams' son, LeRoy, on duty with the Coast Guard, as his ship was in at San Diego for a few days. They toured Balboa Park and Zoo at San Diego and visited other points of interest.

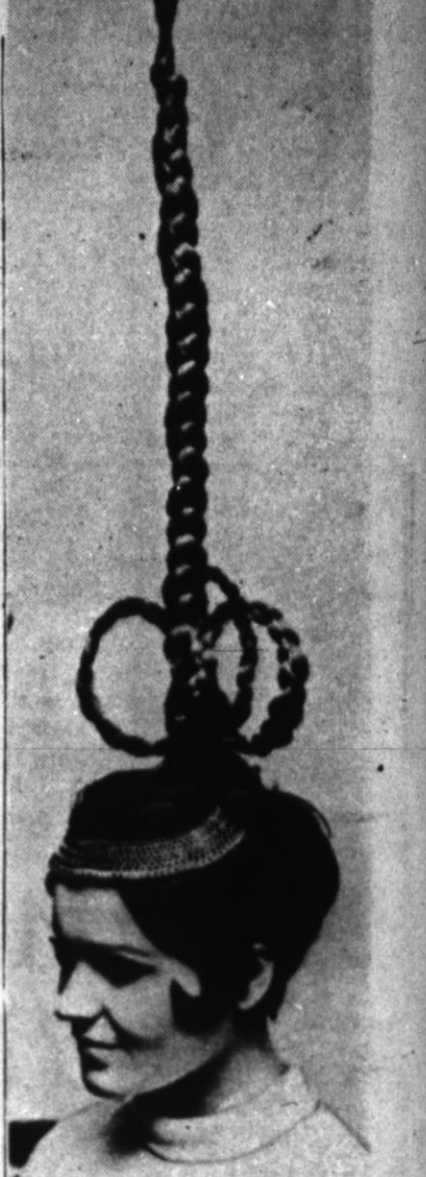

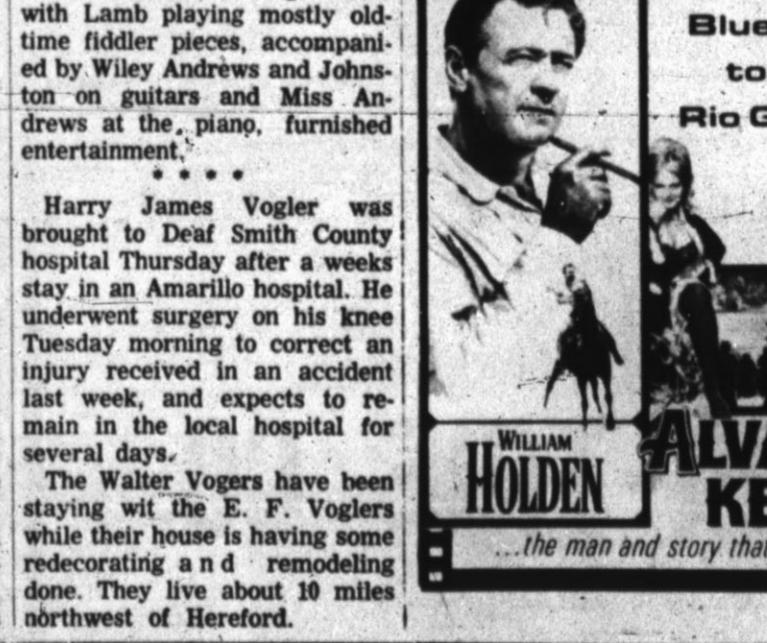

The Barbers have helped Mrs. Alexander, whose husband died recently, to move to Idalou from their former home at Petersburg. She plans to work at the Baptist Book Store in Lubbock, and her daughter, Jan, is transferring from Hardin-Simmons University to Tech this semester, and will live with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lamb, Borger, spent Monday night with their relatives, the W. H. Andrews. Visiting there that evening also were Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Andrews and Mrs. Fred Andrews from Melrose. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Johnston and sons, Mrs. Elmer Jones, Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Clark Andrews and family Miss Alma Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Owen Andrews. String music with Lamb playing mostly old-time fiddler pieces, accompanied by Wiley Andrews and Johnston on guitars and Miss Andrews at the piano, furnished entertainment.

Harry James Vogler was brought to Deaf Smith County hospital Thursday after a weeks stay in an Amarillo hospital. He underwent surgery on his knee Tuesday morning to correct an injury received in an accident last week, and expects to remain in the local hospital for several days.

The Walter Voglers have been staying with the E. F. Voglers while their house is having some redecorating and remodeling done. They live about 10 miles northwest of Hereford.

The two are from Amarillo and were adding a 600 pair cable to one of the main lines of the telephone company. Work such as this is done depending upon how rapid the town or a certain section grows. TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

Many Are Urging Tower Toward Presidential Race

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON — Increasing mail to Sen. John Tower of Texas from persons in widely scattered parts of the nation is urging him to seek the Republican presidential nomination. This, along with the fact that he has emerged as one of the foremost GOP leaders in the South, makes it virtually certain Texas will play a key role in the 1968 GOP national convention. Such a role might lead to Tower getting at least the No. 2 spot on the ticket.

Aware that many a presidential drive has been nipped in the bud by bad timing, the 41-year-old one-time political science professor is saying little at this point.

"It's too early for the party to be picking sides," he observes. "We have a number who would make good nominees. For myself, I'm not seeking any other office, but of course it's flattering to be mentioned."

A sample of the letters is one received from Anthony F. Andrade Jr., chairman of Sacramento County unit of the Young Republicans of California.

"Speaking on behalf of the Sacramento County Young Republicans," he wrote, "I respectfully request that you consider the possibility of placing yourself in the position of becoming a candidate for the office of the presidency in 1968."

A group of students at Chamaine in Hawaii wrote of plans to start a "Tower for President" club.

Letters from leaders of GOP groups in Missouri, Indiana and Florida have also been received by Tower.

With persons like Govs. George Romney of Michigan and Ronald Reagan of California and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon being mentioned as likely choices for the Republican presidential nomination, Tower is said by friends to be holding no illusions he would have much of a chance.

But, wise to the ways of politics and the adage "You don't run for the vice presidency," he let a "Tower for President" boom build up so that he can go to the convention with sizeable bloc of delegate votes. He thus would be in a good trading position that could lead to the vice presidential nomination.

Possible division of delegate votes on the first presidential ballot at the 1968 GOP convention could place Tower among the leaders. Texas will have 56 delegate votes out of 1,333. It will take 667 to win. New York will have 92, California 86; Pennsylvania 64; Ohio and Illinois 58 each.

Tower, the first Republican to be chosen by popular election from the South since Civil War days, is expected to have the support of most Southern delegates.

Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, although now a Republican, issued a statement recently saying he would not seek the GOP presidential nomination. He switched from the Democratic party in 1964.

Tower traveled widely to speak on behalf of the Republican ticket in 1964. In fact, he and a Texas GOP stalwart, Peter O'Donnell, played an important role in getting their party's nomination for Barry Goldwater. It would not be surprising, therefore, if Arizona and some other western states threw their support behind Tower in some of the balloting and behind-the-scenes bargaining.

Mrs. Boothe Leads Club Discussion

Suggestions to wives given in a magazine article titled "Why Husbands Die Young," provided the topic for discussion by members of Simms Study-Craft Club at a meeting Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Robert Lloyd.

Mrs. J. M. Boothe Jr. directed the impromptu program, which was substituted for a planned demonstration of remedial reading instruction because work on the building at Adrian School prevented a meeting there.

Refreshments were served after Mrs. Boothe's review and routine business, to Mrs. E. Lawrence Jackson, Dwayne Casels, E. L. Young, Terrell Hodges, Leland Burns, James Bulard and Boothe.

Moving into the contemporary period, La Afflatus Estudio Club's study series on wives of U. S. presidents was concerned with women in the administrations of Harding through that of Truman, in a program presented this week by Mrs. B. F.

Markham. Mrs. Reddell was hostess in her home. Opening the program Mrs. Walter Johnson gave the thought for the day titled "Worth of a Man."

White House experiences and previous lives of Florence Harding, Lou Henry Hoover, Eleanor Roosevelt and Bess Truman, whose public careers come within the memory of most L.A.E. Club members, were reviewed by the speaker.

Refreshments were served to 12 members.

ATTENDS WORKSHOP

Don Waters of Hereford, Texas is in Okla. City this week attending a Smith-Douglas sales workshop at the Sheraton Hotel. Purpose of the meeting is to learn more about fertilizer, farm chemicals and nitrogen needs of crops grown in the Hereford area.

Waters attends a Smith-Douglas workshop each year to keep up to date on the latest agricultural practices, in order to recommend programs to farmers in the Deaf Smith County area that will grow more profitable crops.
