Feeding Technique Studied By Indians

A delegation of representatives from the Crow Indian Reservation in Montana was in Hereford this past week touring the feedlot operations in this county and surrounding area.

The purpose of the tour was to gather information concerning the possibilities of feeding cattle in such a way in Montana. Included in the seven-men delegation was Edison Real Bird Chairman (Chief) of the Crow Tribal Council of the Crow Agency; James Big Lake, Administrative Aid of the Crow Tribal Council; Francis Bear Claw, Credit Manager; Floyd Real Bird, Executive Committee Cedric Not Afraid, Negotiating Committee on Tribal Enterprises; Pius Real Bird, Advisor on the Council and Otto Weaver, Superintendent of the Crow Reservation, Bureau of Indian Affairs.

The group was invited to visit Hereford by a former resident, Paul Engler. Engler used to manage the Hereford Feed Yards until last year when the company bought a ranch in Montana and he moved there to manage it.

The first group to arrive in Hereford came in about 11:20 a. m. Wednesday and consisted of five. They were welcomed to Hereford by the Hereford Hustlers, a chamber of commerce group which welcomes visitors to town. The others, Engler, Weaver and Pius Real Bird, arrived somewhat later in the day. The first group left Montana Monday by car. The others flew in.

The group that arrived first on Wednesday were guests of the Hereford Lions Club during their weekly noon luncheon.

The Crow Tribe consists of some 5000 Indians and about two-thirds of them reside in the Montana reservation. The reservation is located on the southeast part of the state and spreads over some 2 1/2 million acres of land.

Some of the best trout in the country are located in this valley. Climate in that part of the country was reported by Chief Real Bird as being "not too cold during the winter and not too hot during the summer."

The war bonnets which the Indians brought to Hereford are made of feathers from eagles. Each bonnet requires the feathers from two eagles as 24 tails (feathers) are required for each bonnet. The bonnet is awarded only to those of high rank and then they must still kill the eagles for the tails. Purpose of the bonnets is merely for special occasions and celebrations now.

As for the customs of the tribe, all traditional customs are still carried out as always, but the tribe does abide by the laws of the state. Such as in marriage, all necessary procedures must be carried out legally but they also perform the traditional ceremonies.

fed in pastures at present and the delegation hopes to learn enough to start a feeding operation of their own.

Farming is carried out only in growing hay at the present time at the reservation.

One of the main reasons which contributed to the Crow delegation coming to Hereford was that this town was making a lot of news up there. Things such as the tremendous growth of feedlots, the Holly Sugar Corp. factory and the new meat packing plant which will be built soon were of the most interest, the delegation said. Having been acquainted with Engler for some length of time in Montana, they decided to visit the Hereford facilities.

One amusing remark that one of the Indians made was that the rains which fell in this area just this past week were brought by them.

The group left Hereford Friday afternoon. Engler and some of the Indians flew back by way of Amarillo, Denver, Colorado and Billings, Montana.

Quick Action Results In Two Charge Arrest

The action of a Hereford man led to the quick apprehension of three Latin American men Friday night for the theft of hubcaps at a private club.

The man told officers at the scene that he had seen the men take four hubcaps from cars at the Hereford Club and had written down the license number of the car they had been driving. The police had been called at 10:17 p. m.

At 10:45 p. m., three men were arrested at the skating rink. During questioning, one admitted the theft and took officers to a culvert south of Hereford where four hubcaps were found.

Charged with theft over $5 was Valentin Garcia, 21, 2nd Reginaldo Munos Salazar, 19. Garcia also was charged with making alcoholic beverages available to minors.

Charged with illegal consumption of alcoholic beverages were Salazar and Albino Alvarez Al-daco, 19.

City Parks Improved

Hereford parks, from the smallest to the largest are ready for the summer season.

Of the nine city parks, only two are presently being worked on. City Manager Dudley Bayne, said North Park has been plowed up and reseeded, but the job probably will have to be done again in June or July because of the weather. Dandelions are receiving treatment in Dameron Park.

North Park is located between 14th and 15th streets and Dameron Park is along Park Avenue and Main Street.

The other parks include one by the Deaf Smith County Hospital; Mother's Park, just east of Dameron Park; Moreman Park, just south of Kings Manor; Greggs Park, bounded by 4th Street, Bennett and 25 Mile Avenue; another triangular park between 7th and 8th streets, Jackson and 25 Mile Avenue; a large park on U.S. 385 on the south end of the city; and a park located near the swimming pool on 7th and McKinley.

Durham practices her approach with Mrs. Dallas Phillips, 308 Sunset. Both are volunteer section leaders for the canvass of Hereford homes to be made Monday evening. Mrs. Phillips' small daughter, D. Ann, backs her mother in receiving the caller.

Cancer Drive Plans Monday Night March

Homes in Hereford will be visited Monday evening in the annual house-to-house canvass which is a part of the American Cancer Society Crusade, and this year for the first time residents will be asked to cooperate in a brief health survey.

Mrs. Armon Lauderback, chairman of the house-to-house program, announces that volunteers who will make the calls are to meet at 6 p. m. in First National Community Room for final instructions and to receive educational materials they are to distribute.

Any others who will help in the campaign are invited to the bank building and will be most welcome, she adds. Residents are asked to turn on porch lights as a signal that callers will be received.

Dirt, Hail, Cold

Typical Panhandle Weather Prevails

Just so that the populace won't become smug and expect plain spring weather, the Panhandle dished up a little bit of everything this week.

Monday morning dawned just plain old dry. Dry as only several years of drought can make the plains dry. Tuesday saw moisture — by the bucketful and with a few twister threats thrown in. Wednesday turned the land into a swamp, but with a smattering of hail.

As temperatures dropped, threatening a frost, the only thing left for the weather was a good, old-fashioned dirt storm, so Thursday served that one in typical Panhandle style. Friday made a citizen glad that he resides in the area — and relieved that the first part of the week had at least dumped some rain on parched fields and pastures.

Moisture in the county so far this year has exceeded what fell during the same period during 1966, but last year was dry, dry, dry.

Total moisture measured for the year 1965 exceeded 26 inches, but 1966 fell to just under 13 inches.

Reports of moisture so far this year indicate that in many areas the rain fell so fast and furiously that little of it stayed in the fields. Total for the first three and a half months is 2.94. Last year the total at this time of year was .90.

Herb Schmidt reports that on his place north of Westway that he did get quite a bit of moisture, but that it fell hard, packing the ground and now he is having to pump water off one end of a field that is dry at the upper end.

Moisture for this past week ranges from about an inch in spots southeast of town to over 4 inches near Wildorado. Hail fell in most areas but only one section so far has been found where hail was large enough to cause major crop damage.

Adolph Jacobs who farms northeast of Hereford said that he lost his first cutting of alfalfa due to the hail Wednesday and that his wheat will probably be cut by one-third because of it. He has no vegetables planted. Hail was about the size of pecans, Jacobs said.

Spotted damage to small beets has been reported, but most crops withstood the pea sized hail very well.

Areas fifteen miles west recorded 1.5 inches for the week, with little hail.

Summerfield moved up to 1.75 for the week, no hail damage.

Leo Witkowski reports that his farm southeast of Hereford received 2.6 for the week with slight hail damage to advanced wheat heads.

Further east in the Dawn community, both rain and hail were light with moisture measuring about 1.35 south of Dawn.

Easter had the same light moisture with little noticeable

Whiteface Band Hosts Area UIL Contests

"Certainly an outstanding performance."

"Very fine and superb performance."

"... this band and it's director are a credit to our music field."

Those were the statements of the judges Wednesday morning after they had heard the Hereford High School band perform in concert and sight reading during the University Interscholastic League Band Contest.

The 86-member band received ratings of I in three categories to earn a Sweepstakes Award — the fifth consecutive for Whiteface bands. During the fall, the band under the direction of Ben Gollehon, received a I rating in marching.

Later in the day Wednesday, Levelland High School joined HHS in winning a Sweepstakes Award for Class AAA. Amarillo Tascosa, Plainview High School and Pampa High School won Sweepstakes Awards in competition for Class AAAA schools Thursday.

In placing the Whiteface band in the elite group, judges also added comments on their sheets for the director. One stated, "very nice conducting. Certainly an outstanding performance."

Another went further, saying, "My, my, I'm so impressed. This thing went so swiftly for the most part that all I want to do is listen. You certainly make it a pleasure, band. I hope you get as much pleasure out of playing as I do listening. I just can't even make minor comments after a performance like this, except to say that this band and it's director are a credit to our music field."

A third judge stated, "a very fine and superb performance."

For their three numbers in the concert competition, the HHS band played "Pride of the Wolverines" by Sousa; "Fantasia for Band" by Giannini, and

"Symphony in Bb" by Hindmith.

Other ratings from Class AAA were Canyon, II in marching, II in concert and I in sight reading; Muleshoe, II I marching, III in concert and II in sight reading; Tulsa, I in marching, I in concert and III in sight reading; Littlefield, I in marching, II in concert and III in sight reading; Dumas, II I in marching, I in concert and III in sight reading; Lubbock Dunbar, II in each category; Chil-

The manager added that ensilage is now being contracted for delivery in the fall. About 20 persons will be employed at the operation.

Herd, Demons Push To District

DUMAS — The Hereford Whitefaces and the Dumas Demons were running neck and neck for the District 1-AAA track championship. Saturday afternoon as each had about 60 points.

Final standing found Dumas winning the meet, with points totals Dumas 136, Hereford 120.

The 440-yard relay team ran a 43.6 finish behind Dumas. Mark Hicks won second and Gene Duvall fourth in the high jump, while Jim Childers and Bobby Burwick had qualified for the broad jump.

No word was available at press time on the standings in the district golf meet, also being held at Dumas. The Whitefaces were vying with Perryton for the crown.

Cutoff Date Set On Vet Loans

Less than five months remain for thousands of veterans of World War II to use their privileges for a GI loan to purchase a home, farm or for business purposes. This warning came from William J. Driver, head of the Veterans Administration.

Present laws provide that the absolute cutoff date for World War II veterans will be on July 25, 1967. This deadline is the result of Congressional action which has delayed the final date of eligibility several times.

The cutoff will not affect veterans of the Korean Conflict or since January 31, 1965. Driver pointed out, as these veterans are covered by different legislation.

Almost seven million loans have been guaranteed by the Veterans Administration to veterans since the beginning of War II. One out of every five homes constructed in the United States following World War II was with VA guarantee.

Driver urged veterans planning to purchase a home to make their selection as soon as possible, avoiding the last minute rush for certification.

Mrs. John E. Smith presided for a business session and named Mmes. Hershel Black, Herring and Bill Lankford as a nominating committee. They are to present a slate of officers for the annual election at the next meeting, Apr. 27, to be held at the bank building.

Two new members, Mrs. Lynton Allred and Mrs. G. M. Merritt Jr., were voted into the club. Those present included Mmes. David Honea, John Cranford, James Gentry, Carl Carlile, Don Walsler, Travis Taylor, Eugene Sparks, Harvey Penner, Bobby Owen, and Charles Frye.

Public Library Takes Salute During Week

National Library Week, Apr. 16-22, gives Hereford residents with others in the nation a time to salute the work of librarians and the service a public library gives the community.

Deaf Smith County Library, adult readers and 1,965 children, is staffed by two full-time librarians and three student assistants, and last year saw 65,816 books and periodicals checked out to readers.

Lorene Newman, librarian, and Gwen London, assistant, are full-time employees in the library located on the first floor of the courthouse. Sidnye Davis, a high school senior; Rhonda Stewart, who is working her first year in the library as a student aide and Yolanda Martinez, who works under the Neighborhood Youth Corps program, complete the staff.

Mrs. Newman explains that the number of readers is much larger than those registered, since many families check out books for the entire family on one card. There are actually more children than adults who are consistent library patrons, she adds.

Young readers are encouraged by such events as the annual summer reading program, to use the library for entertainment as well as for the reference books which students on all levels of school seek frequently.

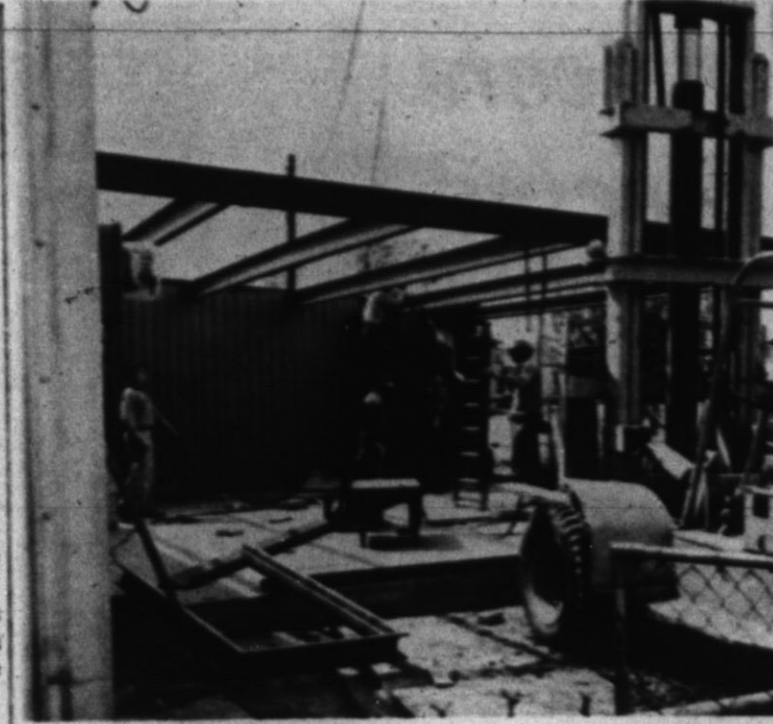

By standards of the American Library Association, the library here is far short of the standard as to number of books. There are 24,172 volumes on the local shelves, and based on the population of Hereford, the ALA standard is 43,000.

Supported by county funds, the Deaf Smith Library also receives a number of gift books each year, from clubs and individuals, and as memorials, Mrs. Newman says.

Benjamin Franklin is credited with being the father of the public library system. In 1731 he founded the Library Company of Philadelphia, forerunner of the public library as we know it today.

"Libraries have improved the general conversation of the Americans, made common tradesmen and farmers as intelligent as most gentlemen from other countries, and perhaps have contributed in some degree to the stand so generally made through the colonies in defense of their privileges," the venerable Franklin said.

Few would dispute his statement today. Libraries have enriched the minds of generations of Americans, shedding light along the pathway to progress.

The U. S. Office of Education estimates that there are now more than 7,300 public library systems in the U. S. employing over 21,000 persons full time.

The importance of their efforts is not going unrecognized. Last September President Lyndon B. Johnson established a committee on libraries "to appraise the role and adequacy of libraries, now and in the future, as centers for the distribution of knowledge and as links in our nation's rapidly evolving communications network."

The committee is charged

Baptist Women Hear Guest Talk

Review of a recent meeting he attended at Waco of TANE, a Texas organization concerned with education on use of alcohol and narcotics, was presented by Harvey Penner, guest speaker to night circles of First Baptist Women's Missionary Society Thursday.

He reported facts about alcohol and its relation to crime as shown in statistics as well as in case histories. Mrs. J. O. Clark introduced the speaker. Mrs. Lynn Kester gave the call to prayer and Mrs. A. O. Thompson the prayer.

Mrs. Otis Lee presided for reports by circle chairmen. Others present were Mmes. E. W. Young, Sam Morgan, B. A. Reddell, Cecil Oglesby and R. B. Hutson.

Price Battles For Rail Service

"Passenger train service between Denver, Dalhart, Amarillo and Dallas is both needed and necessary and should not be discontinued," Representative Bob Price told the chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission today. In a letter to ICC chairman William H. Tucker, Price asked that the commission order public on line hearings before approving the railroads' notice of discontinuing the trains on May 10.

For the past two months, Price has conducted a running battle with the Post Office Department over the removal of railway post office cars that were carried by the trains. The removal of the postal cars on March 31 resulted in a $300,000 a year revenue lost to the railroads. Price said and has resulted in the notice of discontinuance.

Price had also protested the Post Office action to the chairman of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

"The mail from the trains which was diverted to airlines should have been left on the trains," Price said. "Airmail service was already available at airmail rates for those who wished to use it and pay airmail rates."

"Also," Price said, "the Federal Government is subsidizing high speed rail transportation between Washington, New York and Boston where there is already frequently scheduled rail passenger service."

"It seems entirely inconsistent to me," Price added, "that another agency of the Federal Government should cause the loss of the only remaining passenger service on the Ft. Worth and Denver line."

World Gardens Studied In Club

Gardens in other parts of the world were discussed by Hereford Garden Club members in a program with an international accent Friday afternoon at Pioneer Gas Blue Flame Room.

Each member brought packets of vegetable and flower seeds to the meeting, to be sent to a garden club in Florence, Italy. Guests representing other nationalities were Mrs. Olivia Espada and Mrs. Carlotta Morales.

Color slides showing gardens in several European countries, made during a trip abroad, were shown by Mrs. A. L. Manjot, with other views of gardens in this state.

Mrs. Manjot was elected club delegate to the convention of Texas Garden Clubs Inc., to be held in Houston early in May. Reports on the recent District I convention at Big Spring were made by Mrs. S. S. Williams and Mrs. J. V. Pickens.

They and other members were at the convention, where Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. of the Hereford Garden Club, completing her term as district governor, was honored with a life membership.

Mrs. Ray L. Johnson, president of Hereford Garden Club, gave the invitation, which was accepted by vote of delegates, for the 1966 convention to come to this city.

Remaining meetings of this club season, both special events, were planned. Members will hold a work day at King's Manor and the Memorial Rose Garden at Hereford High School the afternoon of April 28, and make a garden pilgrimage visit to Amarillo May 12.

The work day is scheduled to prepare flower beds at the Manor and high school for summer bloom. Both are continuing projects of the club. A gardening therapy program at the Manor is carried on during the year, and a report on it was made by Mrs. Williams.

The trip to Amarillo will include a luncheon at which officers, again headed by Mrs. Johnson, will be installed. Several gardens in that city will be visited.

Mrs. E. D. Sawyer was elected to club membership by the 17 members present.

Rural Accidents Low For March

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated four accidents on rural highways in Deaf Smith County during the month of March, according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person injured and an estimated property damage of $1,875.00.

The rural accident summary for this county during the first three months of 1967 shows a total of 26 accidents resulting in two persons killed, 9 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $14,885.00.

The final entry in the 1966 Texas traffic records has been entered and closed. An all-time record high of 3,406 persons killed, 208,319 persons injured, and an estimated property loss of $557,414,000 was sustained. This compares to the 1965 record of 3,828 persons killed, 198,062 injured, and an estimated property damage of $486,079,000.

Since the death count of 2,354 in 1966, Texas has gained steadily each year. The Sergeant stated, "If the death rate increases during the last four years of this decade as it has during the first years, the death count will stand at 4,745 in 1970." What is the solution? Only you, Mr. Motorist, hold the answer!

Amarillo Medical Center Available

George Edges of Amarillo, president of the Texas Psychiatric Mental Health Association, visited several Hereford officials during the past week to remind them that the Amarillo Medical Center will be open to all area residents.

Edges said different portions of the Medical Center will be opening up during the year.

Included will be the High Plains Baptist Hospital, the Psychiatric Pavilion of Northwest Texas Hospital, the Killgore Children's Psychiatric Center and Hospital, the Bivins Memorial Nursing Home, a regional Mental Retardation Center, and other facilities which are pending.

Funeral Rites Of Frank Marrs Are Conducted

Funeral services for Frank Marrs, 77, resident of Hereford since 1917, were conducted Friday afternoon in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home by the Rev. Russell Wingert, Presbyterian pastor.

Mr. Marrs died Thursday morning in a local hospital. He had been retired in recent years, but was formerly in the garage business here for a number of years. He resided at 2 West Ninth.

Born Dec. 27, 1889 in Missouri, he married Grace Owen Treston, Mo., and they came to this county in 1917.

He is survived by his wife; daughter, Mrs. Violet Orr of Paso; a son, Frank, of Amarillo; a brother, Lynn Marrs who lives in Idaho; five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Interment in West Park Cemetery was directed by Gilliland Funeral Home.

Outdoors Holds Safety Hazards

With the advent of the spring season of 1967 most of us are beginning to get out of doors again. There are gardens and lawns that need work and outdoor chores of all sorts that have accumulated during the winter.

With the return of outdoor activities comes once again the hazard of minor accidents, cuts and scratches. Most often these aren't serious and will heal quickly if properly cleaned and protected.

But sometimes these little scratches can be more serious. Sometimes they are the channel through which you get tetanus (lockjaw).

Tetanus-producing spores lie dormant in the soil of your garden, the dirt of your garage, and the dust inside your house. These spores can infect you through the tiniest wound — a pin scratch, a bee sting or a small cut, says a pamphlet of the American Medical Association.

Tetanus spores may remain in your body for long periods without producing the disease. Or, they may produce poison effect in five to fourteen days, even though the wound has healed. First signs of tetanus are irritability and restlessness. Muscles rapidly become rigid, eventually causing a clenched-jaw leer that gives tetanus its nickname — lockjaw.

When symptoms appear, the outlook is grim, even with the best treatment. To avoid the deadly consequences, be sure you are immunized with tetanus toxoid. When you are immunized, your body manufactures antibodies that will fight tetanus toxin. A booster is needed every ten years and whenever you are injured.

If you aren't protected, in an emergency there is no time for immunization. If you have no built-in immunity, your physician may inject tetanus anti-toxin. An emergency shot, however, is not always effective. Your only long-range guarantee against tetanus is immunization with tetanus toxoid. Only one of every four Americans has this protection. Have you?

Herd Snatches Win From Eagles

A grand slam home run by Kenny Hagar in the seventh inning brought Hereford's scrappy Whitefaces from the depths of certain defeat to a 12-8 victory over the Canyon Eagles in the District 1-AAA opener Friday afternoon.

Although reeling after a four-run outburst by the Eagles in the bottom of the sixth, the Herd refused to die. They loaded the bases and then Hagar, who had driven in a run earlier with a double, slammed the cowhide out of the park.

The Whitefaces weren't satisfied, however, and got four more runs in the inning, including two on a homer by Barry Johnson. Sid Shaw also homered and Robert Wagner doubled to lead the 12-hit barrage by the Herd.

Alex Diaz, who replaced Lynn Betts on the mound in the sixth, won the game, his fourth victory against two defeats. Betts had gone in for Bill Watts, who started.

Hereford went ahead in the second inning by scoring two runs, but the Eagles tied the count in their half of the second and went ahead 3-2 in the third. They added another score in the fifth and, after Hereford had tied it 4-4, scored four in the bottom of the sixth to take what appeared to be an unsurmountable lead.

Canyon got their eight runs on nine hits, including one homer. The Eagles committed five errors, while Hereford had three miscues.

The victory was the 10th of the season and sixth straight for the Whitefaces, who travel to Dumas for a 4 p.m. game Tuesday. The team travels to Tucumcari, N.M., Friday for a game at 3 p.m. (MST)

Tourist Events Offer Cowboys

AUSTIN — The cowboy and the pioneer are favorite subjects for Texas recreation and community events this spring and summer, according to the Texas Calendar of Events just published by the Travel and Information Division of the Texas Highway Department.

A full one-fourth of nearly 450 events in 177 cities are rodeos, reunions and frontier days celebrations. The Apr. 1-Sept. 30 pocket-size guide carries still another 41 events featuring horse shows and race meets.

Forecasting a possible "Texas, Land of Water" slogan are 64 water sport, fishing and aquatic events with every area of the state represented. In addition, fairs, art exhibits, music festivals, flower shows and sports are scheduled each month.

The semiannual calendars are part of some four million pieces of free travel literature provided annually by mail, and to 750,000 travelers who visit the Highway Department's eight Tourist Bureaus.

A copy of the new calendar may be obtained by writing the Travel and Information Division Texas Highway Department, P. O. Box 5064, Austin 78703.

Second baseman Jim Lefebvre of the Los Angeles Dodgers will be tried at third base this spring. He played 40 games at the spot last season.

Castorbeans Are Good With Cotton

Lloyd Langford, Associate Agronomist at the High Plains Research Foundation, was asked about the utilization of castorbeans in the interplanting system in connection with the 1967 feed grain program. In the interview Mr. Langford said: "Farmers should now give consideration to planting castorbeans in the interplanting method with cotton, for increased profit in 1967. This system of planting two rows of cotton, a fallow row and two rows of castorbeans, etc. can be used successfully with the 1967 feed grain program."

Increases the lint yield, fiber quality, and maturity and requires less irrigation water. This should increase net profit to the farmer. Also, higher castorbean yields can be produced by interplanting.

For more details, consult the High Plains Research Foundation, your castorbean company, or the A. S. C. S. Office.

4-H Beef Contests To Provide Traditional Success Stories

Success stories about 4-H Club members crop up regularly in the news. The success usually stems from working on a specific 4-H project. The 4-H'er has a wide choice to choose from, and frequently carries more than one project.

Among the 1967 national 4-H programs offered to club members is the traditional beef program. More success stories will be written this year about scores of boys and girls who have devoted several years to raising beef animals.

Awards for best results will be provided by the sponsor, E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company. There will be medals (county); educational trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago (state); and six national $500 scholarships.

One of the recent scholarship winners was Dan Jones of Coolidge, Ariz. He first started with a calf to raise and groom for show. After raising four prize winning fat steers, he decided to raise commercial beef.

Meanwhile he had learned livestock judging which helped him start his commercial beef enterprise. He reported that his judgement proved sound for his projects "paid off handsomely."

Young Jones was able to achieve success because he had access to feeding, breeding and marketing information from the Cooperative Extension Service, plus the guidance of his county extension agent and local club leader.

Now a freshman at Colorado State University, Jones has applied his 4-H beef scholarship toward his college expenses.

Robinson Named A&M Fund Head

COLLEGE STATION — James W. Robinson, Jr., Route 5 has been appointed chairman of the 1967 Texas A&M Development Fund campaign for Hereford. A&M Former Student Association President Jack Crichton of Dallas named the 1949 graduate to the leadership position.

The development fund provides dollars for A&M programs of excellence not covered by state funds. Since the fund was started in 1942, $3.8 million has been given by former students and friends for scholarships, fellowships, faculty salary supplementation, building programs and special projects.

During 1966, 14,203 A&M men gave $379,000 to the fund. Goal for 1967 is a gift from three out of four former students totaling a million dollars.

Stubble mulching is leaving crop stubble on or near the soil surface to prevent wind and water erosion. Conservation district cooperators started this vital conservation measure on 114,000 acres of Texas lands last year.

LBJ Asks More Aid To Elderly

WASHINGTON, D. C. — President Johnson proclaimed April as Senior Citizens Month. He called on Americans to help make the month "memorable" by working to provide "benefits and opportunities which will add satisfaction and dignity to the lives of older Americans."

"Our society has made a commitment to enrich and improve the lives of the senior citizens among us," the President said, "A great part of that commitment to the 19 million Americans who are 65 or over has been advanced during this administration."

He referred to Medicare, which eased the "often crushing burden of hospital and doctor bills," the Older Americans Act with its emphasis on community services and other programs which provide assistance to senior citizens in housing and nursing care, public welfare, and special training programs.

The President said that recommendations now before the congress will make the older years of life "even more productive and more comfortable" by:

Increasing benefits under Social Security. Raising the level of public assistance for those who must depend on such welfare for the essentials.

Extending the benefits of Medicare to more people, and expanding its services. Increasing the educational, recreational and health services under the Older Americans Act.

Eliminating income tax discrimination because of age in employment. The legislation is needed to meet the objectives of the Bill

ONE MINUTE PLEASE

THE CHURCH I LOVE... IS COMPOSED OF CHRISTIANS WHO WANT TO BE BETTER. Someone has said, "The church is not made up of people who are better than the rest, but of people who want to become better than they are."

It is true that none of us are perfect, nor will we ever be. Yet there is a great deal of improvement for each of us to make. The best place to make this improvement is in the church where we have the help of our Creator. In the true sense of the word, there are no self-made men; only men who by the grace of God have become better.

As we read the New Testament we note the great improvement in the lives of the apostles. Peter, who did some ridiculous things, became strong in the Lord. Saul the persecutor, became Paul the apostle of the Lord. Neither claimed any personal merit or glory for his betterment, but noted with joy that God had made them better men.

Years after Paul became a Christian, he knew that there was much improvement to be made in his own life. He wrote, "Not that I have already obtained this or am already perfect;... I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus." (Philippians 3:12-14).

How can we become better than we are at present? A person is no better than that person or thing he aspires to become like. If we would be more nearly perfect, we must aspire to become like our Lord Jesus Christ who did no sin; was perfect. We must study the life, characteristics and teachings of our Lord. Christ can lift us to a higher plain if we commune with him; participate in his suffering, and keep our minds on him. At the Lord's Supper Paul reminds us, "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not a participation (communion) in the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not a participation in the body of Christ? (1 Corinthians 10:16)."

"Do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? We were buried therefore with him by baptism into death, so that as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, we too might walk in newness of life." (Romans 6:3, 4).

"If then you have been raised with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated at the right hand of God." (Colossians 3:1). Add to your faith the seven Christian graces listed in 2 Peter 1:5-11. "Grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ," (2 Peter 3:18). This will make us all better people.

Deadline For Records Met

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

A busy week at the office kept the efficient Jean Kennedy working overtime. However, everything like result demonstrations, economics letters and 4-H record books for current events met the deadline. We finished the week in fine fettle.

THE DRAPERY SHOW went off well at the premiere showing. This is the beginning of what is hoped to be an annual event. This same show will be presented in a number of towns. The show will be in Roswell on Wednesday afternoon.

PRUNING MAKES the difference between an expert gardener and an amateur, says Everett Janne, Extension horticulturist with Texas A&M University. Good pruning is essential to keep your property attractive and to keep ornamental plants healthy. However, you won't need to prune as much if you put plants in the best locations.

Early spring — before growth begins — is the best time to prune evergreens and late flowering shrubs. Early flowering plants, blooming in March, April May and early June, should be pruned immediately after flowering.

Avoid early fall pruning. It tends to produce late, immature growth, which is less tolerant to winter cold.

Prune or remove completely any dead, diseased, broken or injured branches at any season. And prune all plants when you are transplanting.

ORNAMENTAL PLANTS can be pruned several different ways. Shearing or clipping the ends results in a symmetrical shape which is usually very different from the plant's natural shape.

These geometric outlines are usually undesirable, and shearing often results in a bushy plant with a brown or bare interior due to shading. Hedge plants are an exception; they lend themselves to this type of pruning.

Most ornamental plants are pruned to keep their natural shape as much as possible. This means thinning, removing old branches at ground level, cutting back some branches, and removing dead, diseased, and broken wood.

It's more difficult and time consuming than shearing, but it improves flowering, natural beauty and plant health.

PURCHASING AND PREPARING the foods necessary for wise eating often becomes a burden for some older folks, says Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist with Texas A&M University.

Buying food for two may be made easier by keeping these tips in mind. Buy no more than can easily be used. A large economy-sized package or a large quantity of specially priced food is no bargain if it becomes spoiled or disliked before it is used.

Prices should be compared on the basis of price per serving rather than price per pound. Keep up on the current food prices, purchasing those foods that are plentiful. They usually cost less.

Canned meat and fish may be less expensive than fresh meat. They can also be stored on the shelf, but they do require more imagination for interesting preparation.

Split peas, dried beans and peanut butter, when used with a good protein source such as milk, meat, eggs or cheese, provide a good buy for main dishes. Cottage cheese, liver, and fish are bargains in food value, while bacon is often a luxury.

THE SAFETY COLORS of transportation and industry can work to make potential danger areas of your home less hazardous, says Jane Berry, Extension home furnishings specialist with Texas A&M University.

Nearly everyone is familiar with highway safety colors. Most of us recognize the red

Second Annual Teenage Baking Contest Opens

AUSTIN — The second annual Adams Extract Teenage Electric Bake-Off was officially announced this week by John G. Adams, executive vice president of the Austin firm.

This special bake-off with 175 prizes is limited to Texas junior and senior high school students. Local contests and eliminations will be held in schools with the 50 finalists going to Dallas for the Bake-Off at the Adolphus Hotel, June 15 and 16.

"Students may enter by contacting their local homemaking teachers or writing the Adams Extract Company in Austin," said Mr. Adams. "The contest closes midnight, May 8, 1967."

Grand prize is a six day all-expense paid trip for the winning student, a parent and the student's teacher to Mexico City and Acapulco. Second prize is a $500 scholarship award to any college or university for the student and a 1967 electric range for the teacher.

Additionally, there are 10 area winners spread throughout Texas. Each winning student and teacher will receive electric ranges.

stop sign, the yellow caution sign near schools, or the dividing lines on streets.

The homeowner can use the same colors to color-code the home for safety. For example, basement steps are common safety hazards. Painting the top and bottom steps a bright red or yellow will remind the climber to be alert.

IN THE BASEMENT itself, or in storage attics or garages, the same bright color techniques can be applied to any low overhead beam, a column, or a projection that may cause a knock on the head.

Have you ever stumbled about in the dark groping for a light switch? To save annoyance and perhaps injury, why not coat the switches with reflective enamel? Reflective paint on the doorknobs of cellars, attics, stairwells, and dark hallways may help prevent accidents.

Drab hallways are made safer by light coloring. Light walls offset any lack of illumination and make corridors not only safer, but more attractive, too.

Home safety equipment should be painted a color suggestive of its use. Fire extinguishers traditionally are red. Paint your first aid kit bright green or white.

Where there are small children in the home, take special precautions to use a completely safe, lead-free paint on doorknobs, door frames, window sills, stair rails, and other spots that tiny teeth are apt to chew on.

Nearly 10,000 Texas landowners have installed recreational facilities on their land for public use.

Teacher Pay Raise Bill Sees Problems In Appropriations

By VERN SANFORD
 Texas Press Association
 AUSTIN, Tex. — A $170,000,000 pay raise bill for Texas school teachers now is in its flight through legislative thunderclouds.

Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris, sponsor of the legislation, steered it through the Senate Education Committee with ease. Aikin indicated he will move for Senate passage after the general appropriations bill is passed. He has sufficient votes to send it to the House.

Texas State Teachers Association President Sam M. Anderson of Big Spring told the committee that this school year opened with an actual shortage of 1,300 teachers. Furthermore, some 5,000 of those now employed would not be working if capable replacements were available. By fall the teacher shortage is expected to grow worse unless salaries are improved.

TSTA says Aikin's bill — which provides raises of $61 to $100 a month with the biggest going to teachers with less experience — still would leave Texas teachers $4 below the national average.

Raises would necessitate a state appropriation of $170,000,000 for the next two years. Local school districts would add about $17,000,000 a year more, as their share.

Additional state money involved is almost as much as much as Gov. John Connally's entire $187,300,000 tax program. For that reason this bill will play a significant part in the overall complexion of this legislative session.

Connally's spending and revenue plans include $50,000,000 for teachers... or a total raise of five per cent across the board. This is about one-third of what TSTA wants.

While there is general feeling that teachers will get more money again this session, House sentiment appears to lean toward a lower figure than that covered by TSTA's bill, but a higher one than recommended by the governor.

COMMITTEES GO TO WORK
 Quick action by various committees of the House and Senate in reporting out notable bills will keep Senators and Representatives busy during the coming weeks. Bills coming out:

Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee reported favorably without debate or controversy the proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Joe Bernal of San Antonio to lower the state voting age to 18. Bernal didn't even get to present his testimony or the numerous witnesses from all over the state.

Same committee favorably reported a proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Wayne Connally of Floresville to gradually do away with ad valorem taxes.

Rep. Temple Dickson of Sweetwater pushed through the House Judiciary Committee his Tort Claims Act, which would do away with the doctrine that prohibits suits against the state and local governments without permission of the Legislature.

Senate Education Committee recommended passage of Sen. Wayne Connally's bill to exempt students from low-income families from having to pay tuition and fees at state-supported colleges and universities.

Rep. Temple Dickson of Sweetwater pushed through the House Judiciary Committee his Tort Claims Act, which would do away with the doctrine that prohibits suits against the state and local governments without permission of the Legislature.

Senate Education Committee recommended passage of Sen. Wayne Connally's bill to exempt students from low-income families from having to pay tuition and fees at state-supported colleges and universities.

Parks and Wildlife Department to issue $75,000,000 in bonds to finance the purchase and development of parks around the state was reported favorably by the House Committee on Parks and Wildlife. Its companion constitutional amendment to authorize the bonds has been passed by both houses, but in different forms so it, too, is pending.

BILLS SIGNED
 Governor Connally has signed two of this session's major bills into law: (1) Local option authority for cities to levy one per cent sales taxes and; (2) Strengthening of the Sunday closing law.

Sales taxation at local level will be delayed until after August. Under Sunday closing law amendments, merchants cannot sell 42 named items — including clothing, toys, furniture and hardware — on consecutive Saturdays and Sundays. Old "emergency purchase" certificate is out.

Two lesser bills also got Connally's signature. One establishes the Texas Fine Arts Commission on a permanent basis. Other allows the Parks and Wildlife Department to acquire, restore and maintain historical structures and sites and those relating to prehistoric animal or plant life.

OLD-AGE BENEFITS
 Awaiting the governor's signature is a bill by Senator Bernal to make eligible for old age assistance payments 10,000 persons who have lived in Texas 25 years or longer... but who are not U. S. citizens.

Bernal said that no one knows how many elderly non-citizens there are in Texas, though the figure may run as high as 12,730. However, State Department of Public Welfare figures that 5,000 will sign up the first year and 10,000 the second.

Estimated cost to the state is approximately $1,000,000 the first year and $2,000,000 the second.

"CIVIL RIGHTS" BILL PASSED
 First state "civil rights" bill in recent history has been passed by the Legislature.

Measure by Sen. Don Kennard of Fort Worth prohibits discrimination because of race, religion, color or national origin in employment with all branches of state and local government in Texas. It also forbids discrimination in agency-dealing with people.

Provisions extend to hiring employees, issuing permits, awarding contracts, use of facilities or participation in government programs. Violations are punishable by fines up to $1,000 and a year in jail.

Bill supplements the 1964 federal civil rights act and allows practices to be filed first in state courts rather than federal courts.

LONG TERMS DELAYED
 Proposed Constitutional amendment to provide four-year terms for governor and other statewide officials is bogged down in the Senate after booming through the House.

Senate placed the proposal on table subject to call after a motion to kill it failed 8-19. Sponsor, Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells, will need two-thirds vote to call it off the table, plus recognition of the presiding officer.

COLLEGE BILLS CLEARED
 Only a few hours after it cleared Committee, the Senate passed a bill authorizing a regional college district to operate a four-year Permian Basin College at Midland-Odessa.

Its fate in the House is uncertain. However, its author, Rep. Ace Pickens of Odessa. Even if passed, the governor has left some doubt whether he would sign the bill.

Senate also approved a bill to provide a separate board of regents for West Texas State University at Canyon.

NO JURY EXEMPTIONS
 Rep. Travis Peeler of Corpus Christi wanted to add veterinarians to the list of persons exempted from jury duty, but by the time the House had finished with his bill, it removed all exemptions.

Bill, which now goes to the Senate, would take away the exemptions enjoyed by mothers of small children, lawyers, small businessmen and other large groups. It would allow the judges to decide whom to exempt from duty.

NO-PIT BAN
 Texas Railroad Commission has issued a statewide order prohibiting the use of open earthen pits in the disposal of salt water produced in oil field operations. It takes effect January 1, 1969.

Order will not affect no-pit orders already in effect in individual counties and fields.

Ban was based on evidence given at the Commission's statewide hearing in December and from a study of conservation law and its own rules and regulations. Pits have been criticized because salt water sometimes leaks through and pollutes fresh-water supplies.

TORNADO SEASON
 Because April, May and June are the peak tornado months in the U. S. — and Texas leads the country in tornadoes — the Department of Public Safety has issued a warning to citizens to take care.

Department has prepared an informative "flyer" telling what to do when a tornado threatens. Citizens are urged to get in touch with their city or county civil defense director for more information.

Conservation Awards Given

Chip Guseman, son of Mrs. C. T. Guseman of 503 E. 5th, has been named winner of the Tierra Blanca Soil and Water Conservation District essay contest.

Second place winner is Margie Paetzold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Paetzold of Route 3, and third place winner is Kimberly Dameron.

Guseman, 10, is a fifth grader at St. Anthony's School, while Miss Paetzold, 13, is an eighth grader at St. Anthony's. Kimberly is a student at Aikman Elementary School.

First and second place awards were presented Wednesday morning at St. Anthony's by El-dred Brown, vice chairman of the TBSWCD. The third place award will be presented May 4 during a Parent-Teacher Organization meeting at Aikman.

SHORT SNORTS
 Bill to establish a nine-member Dairy Commission with power to set minimum price rates of milk in Texas received Senate Public Health Committee approval.

Texas building construction authorizations jumped 47 per cent during February while over all business activity declined three per cent, according to UT's Bureau of Business Research.

House unanimously passed bills authorizing a new state medical school in Houston and a dental school in Dallas advocated by the Coordinating Board Texas College and University System.

House Conservation and Reclamation Committee has favorably reported two bills to authorize river authorities to purchase, construct, improve, repair, operate and maintain sewage disposal systems, including the power of eminent domain inside and outside the district's boundaries.

Subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee is considering two bills by Rep. Grant Jones of Abilene which may mean a complete reorganization of Texas law: a recodification of the Business and Commerce Code (first of some 26 codes which will eventually include all the state's law in a more orderly manner) and provision for general rules for codes and acts.

Club Review Spotlight Texas Hero Deaf Smith

The Texas revolutionary hero for whom Deaf Smith County was named was chosen as the subject of Southwestern Biography, the program topic which Miss Clara Beth Holt presented for Calliopean Club study Thursday evening.

The meeting was in Mrs. A. T. Mims' home and officers for next season, with Mrs. Emil Dettman as president, were elected to feature the business period. Mrs. Hazen Woods was named vice president, Miss Holt secretary, Mrs. David Gibson correspondent and Mrs. D. C. McWhorter treasurer.

Miss Holt reviewed a biography by Fay Campbell Griffith of the colorful figure, Eras-mus Smith, famed in Texas history as Deaf Smith. Gen. Sam Houston's scout who is credited with the strategy which won the battle of San Jacinto and secured the state's independence from Mexico.

The author described Smith as dark-skinned, but with gray eyes and "pinkish-red hair." Born in New York state in 1787, he went west to Mississippi and then to Texas, finally bringing a load of cattle by boat from Mississippi and driving them from Velasco on the coast to San Antonio.

Her married a blonde, blue-eyed Scottish senorita and they had several children, but the restless Smith often left his family for scouting expeditions exploring portions of Texas. Miss Holt continued, saying that his hearing was poor and he liked solitude. An accident on a scouting trip left him totally deaf.

Attempting to be neutral in politics as the revolution brewed Smith was captured by Mexican soldiers and that decided him in favor of the Texas rebels. His services were termed "so valuable... that all titles sink to insignificance and he is known only by his name, Deaf Smith."

Recognition and reward came tardily for Smith, but he did receive due honors before his death. He became a Ranger captain and a surveyor after the war, the reviewer added.

An invitation to the club to visit the Amador Munoz home here, an example of traditional Spanish architecture of the Southwest which contains many building materials and furnishings imported from Mexico, was accepted and the visit is planned for this spring to climax the year's study on The Great South west.

Calliopean Club members accepted the assignment to serve as hosts on open days in Deaf Smith County Museum for the month of May.

Mrs. Jim Kruger was elected to membership. Those present in addition to the officers-elect included Mmes. George Warner, Emmett Milburn, Wes Owens, Alton Fraser, C. J. Crump, B. F. Cain, Ansel McDowell, Sue James, and J. T. Gilbreath Jr.

Wedding Is Conducted On Saturday Afternoon

Wedding vows were repeated Saturday afternoon in St. Anthony's Catholic Church by Miss Karen Sue Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cox, 210 Western, and Joe Zinser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zinser Sr. of Afton, Nev., and Hereford.

The single ring ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Ralph Zinser of Clovis, N. M., cousin of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Ralph Dutton of Panhandle was matron of honor, and Don Myers the best man. Mrs. Morris Hacker, organist, played a medley of wedding music and the marches.

The bride was dressed in an empire style frock of pink chiffon, street length, with jacket of white lace. A pink veil fell over her shoulders from a dior bow placed just above the forehead.

She carried a cluster of orchids on a bridal Bible.

Mrs. Dutton wore a jonquil yellow suit overlaid with lace, and a white pillbox hat. Her corsage was of orchids.

A reception at the Knights of Columbus Hall was held after the wedding. Mrs. Don Myers and Mrs. Don Dutton served the cake and pink punch from a table covered with lace over pink and centered with gladiolas in the same color.

After a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Zinser will be at home at 304 Western.

She attended Hereford schools and an Amarillo business college, and has been employed by Roger-Miller Drug Co. Zinser, who is a farmer in this county, attended school in Arkansas.

Congressman Recognizes City During Session

Congressman Bob Price, 18th District of Texas representative, just recently gave recognition to Hereford as being a fine example of what a community can do for itself during session of the House of Representatives on April 3.
From the Congressional Record which he sent exclusively to the Brand, it is noted that he inserted the "Hereford Story" that was just recently carried by the Wall Street Journal.
Price asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks and include extraneous matter.
He started out saying, "Mr. Speaker, in these days of more Federal aid for most everything, it is refreshing to note that a small city in my district, Hereford, Tex., has been successful in a phenomenal industrial expansion through its own efforts."
"The Wall Street Journal of March 24, 1967, featured Hereford's success in attracting new industry on its own through some rather unique and unusual procedures."
"I include the front-page story carried by the Wall Street Journal on March 31 in the Record as an example of what one small town did for itself through the resourcefulness and energy of its own citizens."
The Hereford Story followed.

Music Entertains Local Kiwanians

A variety of music was heard by members of the Kiwanis Club during their regular weekly noon luncheon meeting Thursday.

Featured during the program were Marilyn Smith and Kerri Dameron who sang four numbers. Also helping supply the entertainment were Morris Fields, Tex Rhodes and Woody McDermitt with four Dixieland selections featuring a guitar, piano and banjo.

Duke Powell is program chairman for this month but McDermitt was responsible for bringing the entertainment to the club Thursday.

Dean Herring, president of the club, announced that the local Kiwanis Club will be hosting an inter-club during the Ladies' Night Banquet on April 27.

Announced for next week's program was the showing of a film which some persons took of Russia. Cotton John (Garland Smith) farm and ranch director of KGNC, conducted the tour and made the film. Interested persons are welcomed to attend the club's meeting Thursday to see the film. The club meets at noon at the IOOF Building 205 E. 6th.

Jim Arney received the friendship dollar from Herring.

By MELVIN YOUNG
A statement made in this column last Thursday that the Dawn-Umbarger areas always get a little more rainfall than neighboring sections was somewhat shot asunder when the moisture reports started coming in.

R. Donald Hicks, commissioner of Precinct 4, which covers the entire northern part of Deaf Smith County, came by this week with proof that the really heavy downpour was in the Wildorado area.

Commissioner Hicks and his crews have been constructing a road approximately six miles north of Wildorado running from FM 809 which will service the American Telephone and Telegraph installation in that area.

An eight ft. culvert had been installed at one spot on the road to handle run off water. It should have been sufficient to take care of the needs there. After all, you can drive a pickup through an eight ft. culvert and have a little room left over. That's a pretty big hole.

The 10 inches plus of rain that fell Tuesday night however, left highway engineers wondering about the feasibility of the culvert. Crews stood by helplessly and watched while the runoff rain water washed over, around and under, leaving the eight ft. culvert intact, but with very little dirt around it. The blacktopping on the road, as the photos at right clearly show, remained intact, but the dirt between it and the culvert was completely washed out. It will have to be knocked out and a new fill put in.

Rampaging water can do a lot of damage.

While visiting with Commissioner Hicks about the washout, we could not help but wonder what the situation might have been if there had been a couple of dams up the draw to retain a portion of the water.

Although we seldom have such heavy rains, even the lesser amounts sometimes cause considerable damage when runoff is gathered over a rather large area. Perhaps this isn't feasible, but it's certainly worth investigating.

Is it possible that the low water dams now on the Tierra Blanca are preventing similar situation here? We can well remember a number of years ago when this little creek was lapping at the foundations of the Packard Milling building. It hasn't been that high for several years, and though it may only be because of insufficient rains, we feel that the dams along the creek have had some bearing on the situation.

Ira Scott, Andy Kershen and others have constructed dams along this waterway and it's surprising how much water can be backed up behind them.

Every now and then there comes along an old boy whose leadership ability surprises all his friends and acquaintances, and when elected to a position of responsibility, really gets an organization moving.

Such a man is Dean Herring who recently took over the reins of the local Kiwanis Club.

The club is now the second largest service organization in Hereford and if something doesn't stop them, they will soon be pushing the Lions for No. 1 position.

Their enthusiasm for service to their community and their fellow man is second to none. It's a pleasure to watch the fellows plan and execute a community service project.

And speaking of civic clubs, the Hereford Rotary Club will host the annual District Conference next weekend, and officials of the club are expecting something like 400 persons in attendance.

And at the risk of being accused of commercialism, we would like to remind the merchants that these people come to enjoy themselves, and they don't mind spending a little money. Conventions are good for any city.

We're reminded too, of the old saying which goes something like this:

Rotarians own the town; Kiwanians work in it; and the Lions play in it.

There are however, a few "poor" Rotarians.

The tourist and convention traffic is really worth going after and our own Chamber of Commerce has done an excellent job in encouraging organizations to gather here.

We have sufficient motel and hotel rooms, good restaurants, and sufficient meeting places. And the biggest asset of all: A town full of friendly people.

By the way, the IOOF is also holding a convention in Hereford this coming weekend. It will begin as the Rotary conference ends, and we're hoping, there will be sufficient rooms during the time when both groups are in town.

Gaston Baer has become somewhat of a fixture on Main Street, having established the Popular Store in its present location some 46 years ago, and the fact that he and son-in-law Irving Alexander are going to open a store in Sugarland Mall has had some folks wondering. For your information, the downtown store will remain as it is, with all departments operating, carrying the same lines of merchandise.

And Gaston will still be there to visit with his many friends. The new store in Sugarland Mall however, will not be just a "suburban outlet."

Plans call for a complete modern department store with ready-to-wear, men's furnishings, shoes, boys department junior department, etc. The whole works.

"You can't sit still," says Gaston. "You have to grow with the town." And after seeing the layout of the new store, we'll have to agree that this progressive merchant is indeed "growing with the town."

Pick Harman is another downtown merchant who has taken a space in the Mall.

Harman's layout is somewhat smaller than that which Gaston and Irving have taken, and present plans call for only a ready-to-wear operation.

Another dual operator is C. R. Anthony Co. with a store in both locations.

Work on the post office is nearing completion. At least the structure is beginning to look like a building again.

We're looking forward to opening day.

The Crow Indians that have been visiting Hereford the past few days, have created a great deal of comment.

And at least one hotel clerk is still wondering about the whole deal.

Joe Bran, staff photographer and reporter for the Brand, was trying to get in touch with the group Thursday morning when he called the Jim Hill Hotel.

"May I speak to Mr. Real Bird?" Joe asked the clerk. "Who?" was the puzzled reply.

"Mr. Real Bird," was Joe's answer. "He's a Crow."

"Perhaps you had better speak to the manager," the clerk hastily replied.

That terminated the conversation.

We wonder that the lady would have thought if Joe had asked for Mr. Not-Afrald.

This is national library week. If you are interested in a new library perhaps this is an appropriate time to write your county commissioner (and city too), or write a letter to the Brand. We'll be glad to print it.

We've heard it said: "My wife doesn't care how good-looking my secretary is — just as long as he's efficient."

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

Now that most of us have finally filed our income tax return for this year we are ready to forget about the task until 11:30 PM next April 15. The Internal Revenue Service says that good record keeping throughout the year can save you tax dollars at income tax filing time. If you plan to itemize your deductions on page 2 Form 1040 you should keep cancelled checks, receipts, statements and other data to support your deductions. Keep your records and your job will be easier next year.

National Library Week-April 16-22

LIBRARIANS OF THE NATION get their just dues in one week of the year, National Library Week, which is beginning today. As one manufacturer of machines used in many libraries comments, "The computer may help, but never displace the lady behind the reference desk. . . . She's a combination walking encyclopedia, mind reader, administrator and public relations expert."

PLAYING THAT ROLE in Deaf Smith County Library here is Lorene Newman, librarian, aided by a full-time assistant Gwen London, and three student helpers. Mrs. Newman looks over some of the 24,172 volumes in the library, center photo.

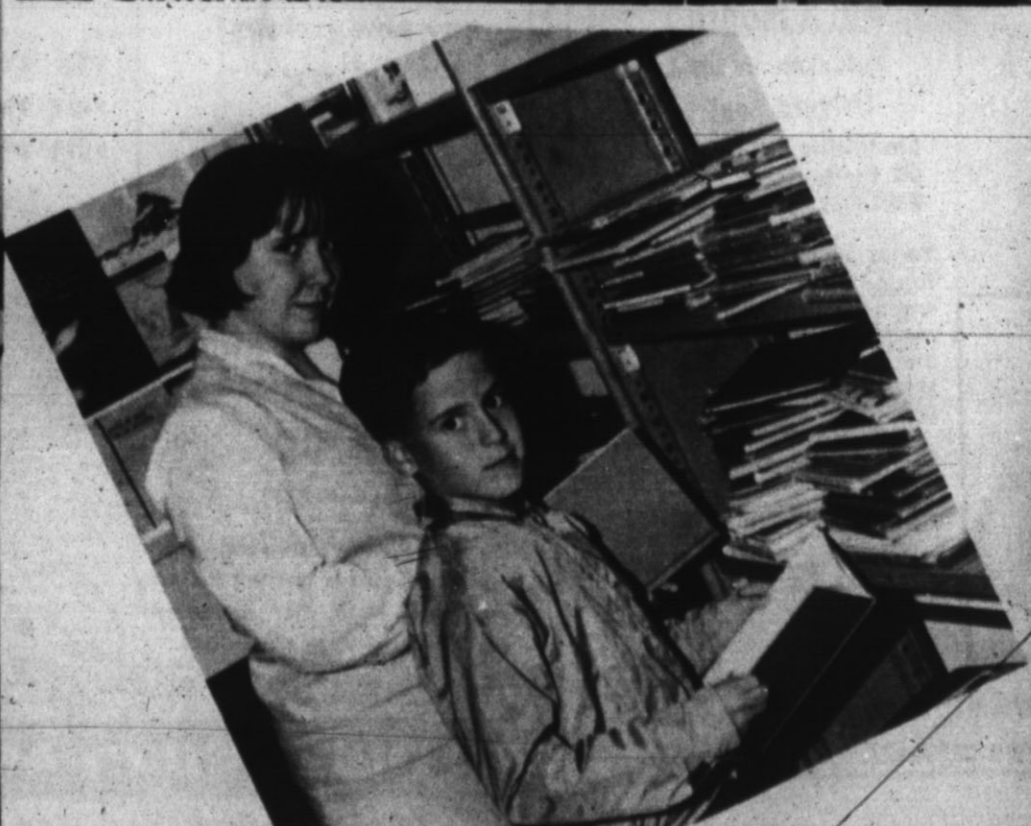

CHECKING BOOKS IN AND OUT keeps library workers pretty busy, as indicated by the circulation of books for 1966, a total of 65,816. Mrs. London and Yolanda Martinez, who works under the Neighborhood Youth Corps program, are busy at the files, lower left.

YOUNG READERS make up a large segment of the library's users, and are encouraged to browse in its stacks and select books. A teenager, Gayle McCutchen, and Tommy Roberts, 9, are looking over books, center below, while Rhonda Stewart, a student aide, is helping Toni Phillips find the reference work she needs, lower right.

Couple To Live In California

After a wedding trip through the Southwestern United States 2/Lt. Dennis James Johnson and his bride, the former Miss Maribeth Gilliland, will make their home in Sacramento, Calif. where the bridegroom is stationed at Mather Air Force Base.

The bride, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Jackson Gilliland, was graduated from Hereford High School and from Colorado State University with a BS degree in textiles and clothing. She is now participating in management training with Weinstock - Hale Department Stores in Sacramento.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Jesse Reed of Murfreesboro, Tenn., the bridegroom is a graduate of high school in that city, and of Middle Tennessee University with a BS degree in mathematics. He is a member of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce and of the Moose Lodge, a York Rite Mason and a Shriner.

The Rev. Russell Wingert, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony last Sunday afternoon in Rose Chapel. A large sunburst of greenery with two pair of 15-branch candelabra, connected with gold roping, backed a white prie dieu at the altar.

Proceeding the ceremony, Wedding Prayer was sung by Miss Janie Vick of Dimmitt, accompanied by Miss Jan Story of Dimmitt, formerly of Hereford. Miss Story played other traditional selections and the marches. Given in marriage by her father, Miss Gilliland was wed with a ring which belonged to her maternal grandmother, and has been in the family for five generations. Pinned to the bodice of her gown was a gold brooch which was handmade for her paternal great-grandmother's wedding.

She wore an A-line floor length gown of candlelight linen with empire waist, kabuki sleeves and scoop neckline. Venise lace extended in a panel the length of the dress front and decorated the sleeves. A lace bow at back waistline controlled skirt fullness.

Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion fell from a pillbox of the linen, accented with Venise lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascading bouquet of gardenias on a white Bible.

Miss Nancy Burran of Clovis, N. M., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She was dressed in chrysanthemum yellow silk and carried a bouquet of ti-leaf roses.

Mr. Reed was his son's best man. Ushers were 2/Lt. Jon Alexander of Montgomery, Ala., and 2/Lt. Gerald Svenson of Williston, N. D.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held for family and close friends at Hereford County Club. An arrangement of white gladioli and yellow iris in candelabra it not only with gifts but with service, and work to bring more people to the library, especially young readers.

Of course there are some things which can't be done here because of limited space, so maybe the library's supporters need to set as their first goal a new building. That's something to think about in Library Week.

style centered the refreshment table.

Miss Brenda Beasley of Sacramento poured the punch and Mrs. Ronald Laidley of Abilene served the wedding cake. Miss Royce Gilliland, cousin of the bride, was seated at the guest register.

Mrs. James David Durham Jr. of Clovis, Miss Terre Gerhardt of New York City and Miss Mar-Gwen Lackey of Amarillo greeted guests.

For a going-away costume the bride wore a lime green skimmer and multi-colored princess coat of linen with champagne accessories.

A family dinner to honor the couple was given by the Marlin Gillilands and the Reed Williams in the Gilliland home Friday evening preceding the wedding, ending a series of parties which have complimented the bride since the Easter weekend.

Guests with the couple were their parents, Mrs. J. M. Gilliland, Mr. and Mrs. John Gilliland and Susie Gilliland.

The rehearsal dinner for the wedding party was hosted by the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. James Albert Burran Jr. of Clovis, at the Country Club the evening before the ceremony.

Out-of-town guests included also, David and Vivian Burran and James David Durham Jr. of Clovis, Mr. and Mrs. Elba Ballew and Mrs. Lovett Noble of Clarendon, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Beene of Friona, Mrs. George Harbinson of Sacramento.

Also Mrs. Alma Lynn McGinty of Plains, Mrs. Mary Sliagar and Mrs. Bob Parsons of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Gilliland and Mrs. Pat Newman of Amarillo, Ron Laidley of Abilene, Suzanne Langley of Lubbock, Miss Jennilee Jenkins of Abilene and William Jackson Gilliland Jr. of Denton.

Aid In Cancer Society Drive Planned By Club

An annual service project of Veleda Study Club members, work in the house-to-house campaign of the American Cancer Society Monday evening, was planned at the club's recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Gene Parsley.

Each year club members are among volunteers who call at homes over the city, distributing educational material and asking for contributions. This year they will also ask residents for information in a survey aimed at improving the ACS program of cancer control.

A member of Veleda Club, Mrs. Armon Lauderback is chairman of the house-to-house phase of the county ASC unit's campaign.

Mrs. James McAndrews, a guest, gave the program, reviewing the book, Future of the Human Mind by George Estabrooks and Nancy Gross. It is described as "a study of the potential of the human mind in the light of recent scientific discovery," she said, and is concerned principally with experimental use of hypnosis in medicine and other fields.

Announcement was made that club officers will be elected at the next meeting, Apr. 25, in the home of Mrs. Johnny Clark. Refreshments were served to the program guest and 14 members.

HHS Students Place In Contest

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Let's see now - there was midsummer heat, dry days, sousing rainfalls with hail, reports of tornadoes, a silly of a sandstorm while water from the rains was still standing, and near-freezing chill, all in a week. Anybody want any more varied West Texas weather?

THAT LITTLE BOY at the chewing gum machine in The Brand office, whose picture was snapped and appeared in a recent issue of the paper, was not identified because there was really no intention of using the picture when the photographer took it in passing.

It turned out such an appealing study of childish concentration that we were sorry no one in the office knew who the boy was, but we used it without a name. Now we know - he is Jed Williams, 5, and he was in the office with his mother, Mrs. Eugene Williams of 120-A South Centre. And we're glad we found out.

VISITORS in Mrs. Carl Mountz' home for a week have been her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Favourite, and Mr. and Mrs. Orlie Elliott, all of Toledo, Ohio. They left at Midweek to return to their homes.

THERE ARE A FEW members of the American Iris Society here, and other iris growers will be interested in the fact that the South Plains Iris Society will be hosts to Region 17 of the national society early next month. All of Texas is in Region 17.

An iris show will be open in Lubbock Municipal Garden and Arts Center from 2:30 to 6 p. m. May 6, 1 to 5 p. m. May 7. Several iris graders in the city will also be open to visitors during the meeting. A judging school will be conducted by

Casa de Amigos

By MARTIN WIN-III
SPORTS, Part One

Nearly everyone agrees that recreation is a worthwhile pursuit for boys and girls, men and women alike. Recreation is essential to a child's physical and mental development. Recreation helps to maintain good physical and mental health. Sports and recreation is a worthwhile pursuit to develop a healthy sense of pride and self-confidence. Organized sports are indispensable to children and young people in learning fair-play, teamwork, and receptivity to competition in the achievement of excellence. Opportunities for recreation at the Labor Camp are limited, especially in the winter and spring. There are virtually no facilities for adult recreation. For several years, physical recreation programs for children and young people have been sporadically in operation at the Camp. Johnny Velasquez has annually organized boys' football and basketball teams under the auspices of the St. Joseph's Mission and the Knights of Columbus. During the summers, baseball teams have regularly been organized. Informal physical recreation has been encouraged at the Casa de Amigos since it was constructed in 1960. At the present, the Casa lends out softball bats, balls and mits, basketballs, volleyballs, jump ropes, a football and horseshoes. A sign-out list covers all equipment that leaves the Casa for use outside. Baseball can safely be played to the south of the Casa, on the standing consent of D. W. Finlan. An old baseball backstop in need of extensive repair is located to the northeast of the Casa on land owned by Hugh Clearman. To the east of the Casa there is space for volleyball, tetherball, and horseshoes as well as for basketball. Outside facilities for physical recreation at the Casa include swings, two basketball baskets, volleyball net, tetherball pole, and a rotating disc resembling a merry-go-round. Soon to be enclosed in a play area for small children are two more swings, a sand box, and four gaily-painted sections of two-foot concrete pipe. Ted Panciera donated a tractor tire and sand for the sandbox. Jim Arney and his Sunday school class have undertaken the relocation of the fence for the children's playyard. The existing swings were installed in the summer of 1961 by Bruce Coleman. He made an indestructible multi-purpose frame by welding together steel beams left from the construction of the Casa. Coleman also installed a magical rotating disc which sees use from at least eight in the morning until at least eight at night. To make this piece of playground equipment, he welded sheet steel into a disc eight feet in diameter. This he welded onto an automobile axle still mounted in the rear axle casing. The other end of this casing is sunk immobile about 25 degrees to the ground. The basketball baskets were installed to the east of the Casa in early January of this year. Deaf Smith County Electric Co-op donated and installed two used power poles opposite one another on the north and south lines of the fifty feet lot. Brother

Christopher of the St. Joseph's Mission provided a fork lift so that the backboards and baskets could be mounted on the two poles. Ball-playing is forbidden inside the Casa. But this understandable rule hardly discourages active indoor recreation. There is a nine-foot climbing rope hanging from the roof, a five-by-twenty-foot wrestling mat a ping pong table top which can be set up on benches, darts and a dart board, boxing gloves, and jumping ropes. The climbing rope can be used for swinging as well as for climbing. Invariably, little girls are the star performers. Jump ropes are often held horizontally over the mat for high jumping. A large orange toy box is filled with blocks, trucks, dolls, and other toys. Coloring books, crayons, paper and puzzles occupy the quieter hours. These facilities are in use regularly in the afternoons, and during the day and evening on weekends. Monday and Wednesday afternoon there are supervised boys' sports at the Casa. Friday afternoons are reserved for the girls. Recreation programs for boys and girls are also conducted at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn on a regular basis. These sessions will be discussed in next week's column.

Area Farmers Find Workers Plentiful

Deaf Smith County and area farmers have not had any difficulty in acquiring farm help this season, according to the local TEC office.

The Texas Employment Commission reported that for the past six months, there has been an abundant supply of farm workers. March set an all-high mark of 3,734 placements in the Hereford office. Previous to this the average was generally over the 3,000 mark but last month was the highest the office ever recorded.

Wage rate in this area has been reported to be "above average." Farmers in this area have long paid an average of over $1 an hour and still do so. Many, however, do not pay by the hour. In many instances, they pay by contract labor. That is to say, they pay so much for having an acre worked by the farm laborers.

"Permanent farm hands are usually in abundance but a good worker is always indeed welcomed," says Joe Bradley, manager of the office here.

The Crop Reporting Board of the United States Department of Agriculture has announced that the farm work force totaled 4,390,000 persons during the survey week of March 19-25. This represents a seasonal increase of 14 percent over the February 1967 survey week, but was 4 percent less than in the comparable period a year ago. The family work force, at 3,462,000 was down 3 percent from March 1966.

The number of hired workers totaled 918,000 a 24 percent increase over the February 1967 week.

The larger work force was kept busy as the tempo of farm work stepped up on farms across the nation.

Hired farm workers averaged 37.1 hours, up 1.8 hours from a month earlier. Most of this increase was contributed by hired workers in the south where field work was active. The work week was 4.2 hours longer in the South Atlantic, 5.3 hours longer in the East South Central, and 4.1 hours longer in the West Central States.

Wage rates as reported by farm operators on April 1, 1967 were up 6 percent from a year earlier and 46 percent higher than the 1957-1959 average. The average cash rate per hour without board or room increased to $1.34 per hour, 5 percent over April 1, 1966.

Monthly, weekly and daily rates showed advances of 6 or more percent. The monthly rates, at $253 with house furnished, and $192 with board and room furnished, were up 7 percent each.

Price Appointed To Task Force

Panhandle Congressman Bob Price has been appointed to a special Republican Task Force on Agriculture headed by Representative Odin Langen of Minnesota.

The GOP committee for the last two years has been making a study and a series of reports and recommendations to cope with what Langen termed, "the dire economic problems that beset American agriculture and rural areas."

Price said he was pleased to have been appointed to the group which will continue its efforts in behalf of American agriculture.

"The research and study this committee does will certainly be helpful to me and the other members of the House Agriculture Committee," Price added.

A Place For LVN's

It's a long way from Hereford to Austin, Texas, but as we have all found out, things frequently occur in Austin which affect us tremendously on the home front. Such, we would say, is the legislative proposal which would limit the use and duties of vocational nurses, known as LVNs.

The movement to limit LVNs seems to have been sponsored through state and national Registered Nurse groups, and is apparently gathering considerable support on Capitol Hill. While we are not too well informed on the subject of vocational vs. registered nurses, it does seem only practical that not nearly enough registered nurses exist to fill the need should the LVNs be eliminated. As a result, many places would be forced to close their hospitals.

Most of us can remember back a few years to the time before use of vocational nurses became so extensive, and the hospital service of Texas was far below that of today, despite the fact that the number of patients has consistently grown. It seems to us, in fact, that there should be little conflict between the two groups. Registered nurses are so scarce that, due to more extensive training, they appear in an entirely different category from that of the vocational nurse. This should be, and, no doubt is, reflected in salary scales of the two groups.

In truth, we cannot see why the RNs would even want to drop back to some of the chores now performed by LVNs.

Of primary importance, though, is the public and the hospitals themselves. Should 50 percent of Texas' hospitals be forced to close their doors due to lack of help, the remaining hospitals would be thrown into such a turmoil that their efforts would be impaired. We do need hospitals. We do need Registered nurses and, judging by results, it seems to us that we need vocational nurses as well.

A Do-Nothing Congress?

NOT SURPRISINGLY, the 90th Congress is already taking its lumps from liberals, who call it a do-nothing Congress. One commentator recently described it as "one of the dulllest and least effective" in years.

Before accepting such descriptions as fact, the citizen would do well to consider the sources. He might also review the context of the 90th Congress' operations.

One of the basic differences between what we call liberals and conservatives lies in their differing views of the role of Congress. While conservatives want a strong and independent legislative branch, liberals generally have favored a strong executive branch, with Congress in a subsidiary role. For this reason, liberal opinion-leaders have held, though not in so many words, that the best Congress is a lame Congress, a body that will not stand in the way of a strong, liberal administration.

A Congress that quickly rubber-stamps

Bald....Or Beetle?

A beetle haircut and unorthodox dress was ruled as sufficient reason for suspending an employee, according to an arbitrator recently.

The ruling, however, specified that should the employee remove his "flowing hirsute cranial adornment of an avant-garde nature" and adopt more conventional styles that he should be reinstated.

Anyway one chooses to look at the ruling, it becomes obvious that normal people do object to some of the present day hair styles for men and, despite the record Sampson managed to achieve, that a bit of discretion may well be in order for those seeking employment, friendship and general acceptance by society. Most of the flowing styles among males are probably an effort to create attention by those who find it difficult to achieve the same result through routine or normal channels so, in order to compete at all, they veer into another realm.

At the same time, we know a lot of old boys around town who would give their eye-teeth just to have a tenth as much hair as some of the "Beetle Boys". Fact is, if they ever start discriminating against bald heads, the whole country will be up against a real problem.

administration measures will win the praises of these advocates of a strong executive every time. Such a pet Congress gives the executive a black check to govern and that, the strong-executive line says, is as it should be.

CONSERVATIVES believe that such a Congress has in fact abdicated its responsibility to the people. Congress was established, and its several members are elected, to make laws, not to smooth the path for presidential decrees.

Congressmen are supposed to be the people's representatives, not White House yes-men.

We have seen several tame Congresses in the past few decades, and we have also seen the results of slipshod, ill-considered and poorly drawn legislation that they have approved.

Both the Democratic and Republican leaders of the present Congress announced at the outset that the current session will be devoted largely to the work of correcting such abuses and reviewing programs proved unwieldy or unworkable.

It is a good and necessary task that they have set for themselves. It is a task that the voters appear to have called for last November, and it is the sort of work that can restore some of the declining independence and dignity of Congress. But it is not a task to win the applause of those who measure the legislative output of a Congress by the bale.

HARD WORK is usually not exciting to watch. Careful deliberation, the gathering of facts, the weighing of opposing interests—the process of lawmaking may seem slow and ineffective. But without it, the republic cannot function as a true republic.

If dramatic developments and quick action are what is sought, the ultimate government is dictatorship. The dictator appears on his balcony before the waiting throng and declares what will be done. The law is laid down as dramatically and decisively as any critic of Congress could wish.

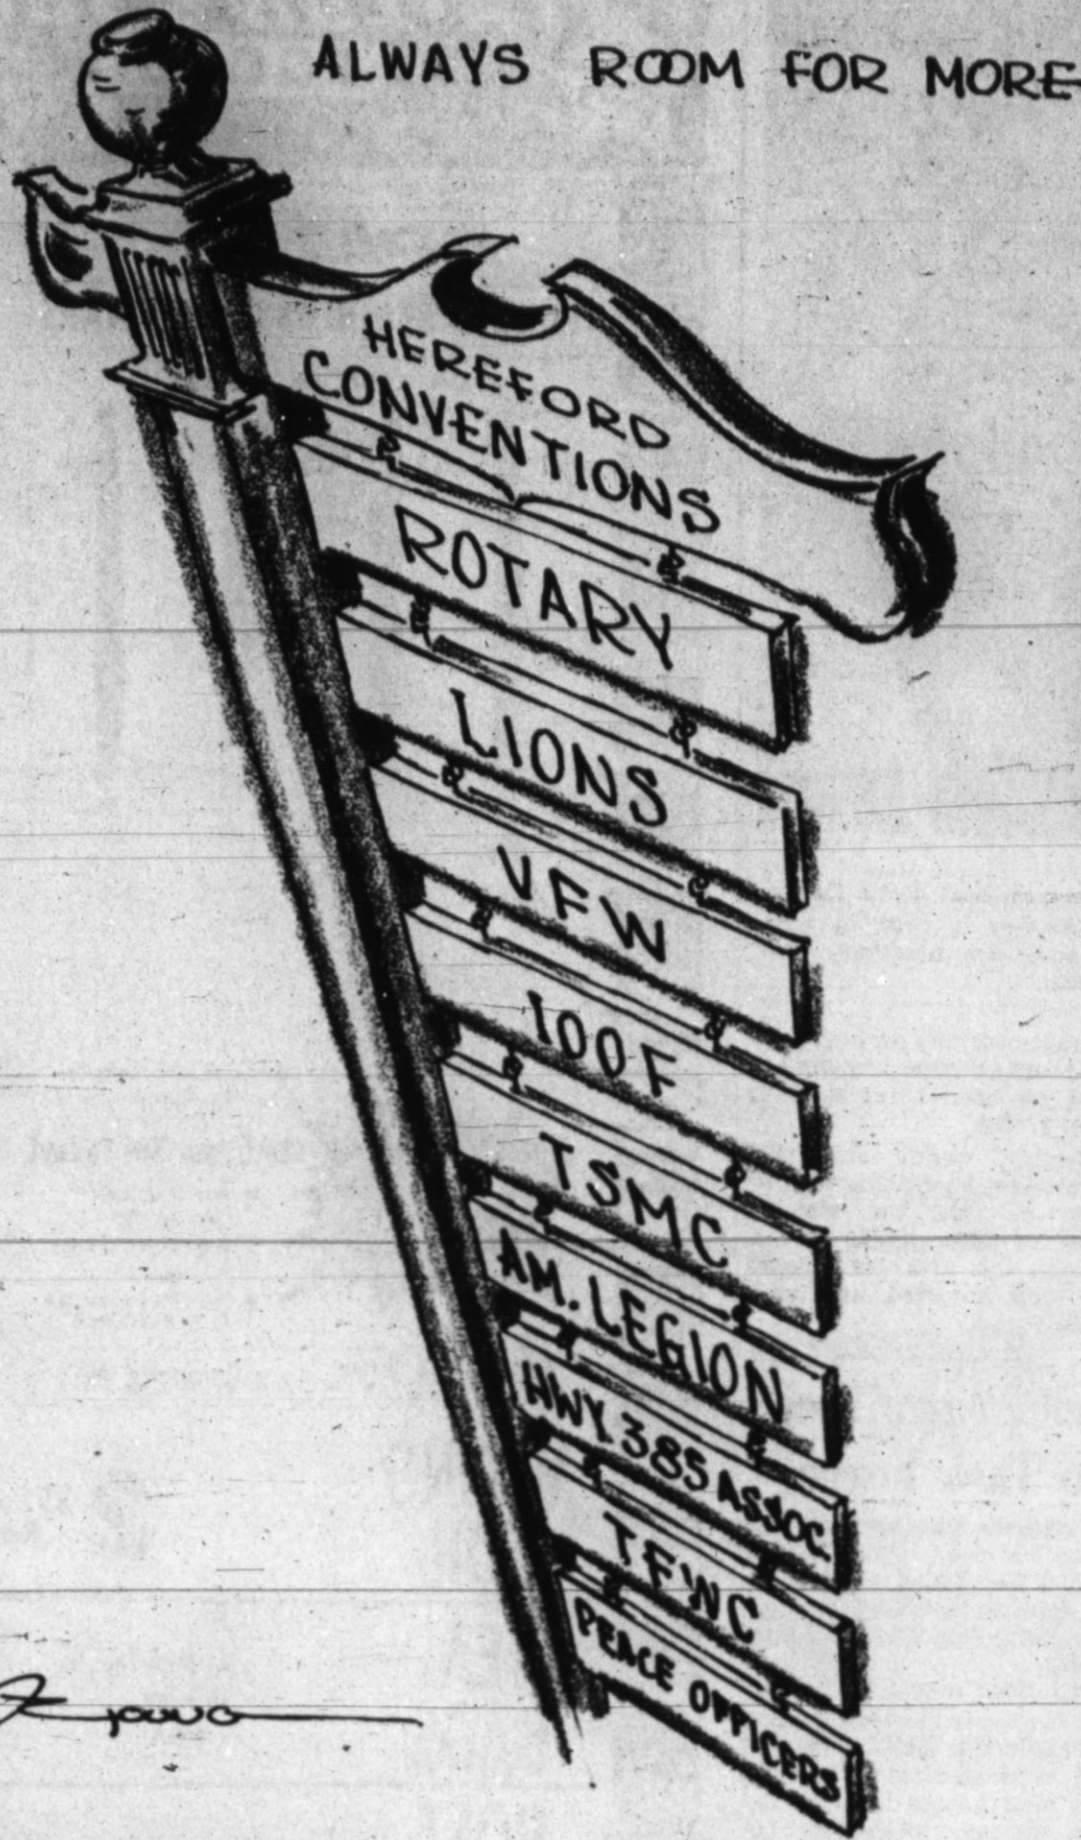

—The Dallas Morning News

Times Do Change

In these days of help shortages, high salaries, unions, and government regulations, we occasionally hear some harassed businessman or executive honestly wish for a return of the good old days, including the 1930's.

However, we doubt if even the most disgruntled of these employers ever dreamed of conditions such as those recently disclosed by Attorney Arno Windscheffel of Center, Kansas, as reported recently in Irrigation Age. The century-old rules were reported to be in common usage in most offices 100 years ago in this country:

1. Office employees will daily sweep the floors, dust the furniture, shelves and showcases.
2. Each day fill lamps, clean chimneys and trim wick. Wash windows once each week.
3. Each clerk will bring in a bucket of water and scuttle of coal for the day's business.
4. The office will be open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. except on the Sabbath, on which day it will remain closed.
5. Men employees will be given an evening off each week for courting purposes, or two evenings a week if they go regularly to church.
6. Every employee should lay aside from each pay a goodly sum of his earnings for his benefits during his declining years, so that he will not become a burden upon the charity of his betters.
7. Any employee who smokes Spanish cigars, uses liquor in any form, gets shaved at a barber shop, or frequents pool or public halls, will give good reason to suspect his worth, intentions, integrity and honesty.
8. Any employee who has performed his labors faithfully and without faults for a period of five years of service and who has been thrifty and attentive to his religious duties, is looked upon by his fellowmen as substantial and low-abiding citizen, will be given an increase of five cents per day in his pay, providing a just return in profits from the business permits it.

MAIN STREET, USA

Bureaucrats Plan Salary Raises

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — Government salaries are on their way up again, by unanimous decision of President Johnson, Congress, and the bureaucrats themselves.

The President has asked for pay hikes averaging 4.5 percent for both civilian and military personnel, effective October 1, 1967. The law that will surely be passed may go higher than LBJ proposed.

Since 1962, civil servants have received salary boosts averaging more than 23 percent, in addition to improved retirement and other fringe benefits bestowed by a benevolent government.

But according to the bureaucrats who add up the numbers for the President, government pay scales will still not be comparable to those of private industry when lifted another 4.5 percent. To achieve comparability, it would take 7.2 percent.

That would cost an extra $2.5 billion a year. This is too rich for LBJ's blood. He told Congress in a special message that his advisers informed him that "a pay raise of this magnitude would not be prudent."

So comparability will have to wait a bit longer but is promised by October 1, 1969. This would be achieved through a two-stage pay increase taking effect next year and the year after. This "comparability-catch up" would be in addition to the raise to be granted this fall.

Executive Pay to be Studied
President Johnson has also established a special commission to study executive salaries, in all three branches of the government. This is music to the ears of not only the bureaucrats but also the members of Congress.

Senators and Representatives are now paid $30,000 a year, plus extras. Some of them think this is not nearly enough. One pending bill would call for a 67 percent increase in Congressional pay, to $50,000 a year.

The author of this proposal is a Republican liberal persuasion, Rep. Ogden R. Reid, from New York. Cabinet members who now receive $35,000 annually would jump to $58,000 under his bill. Agency heads now drawing a mere $30,000 would move up to $50,000 along with Congressmen.

Nor would the judicial branch be overlooked by Rep. Reid. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, now a $40,000-a-year man would receive $67,000. The eight Associate Justices on the high court, now paid $39,500, would be raised to $66,000.

District judges would move up from $30,000 to $50,000, with an extra $1,000 for the boss man Judges of the Court of Claims, Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, and Court of Military Appeals, would ascend the ladder from $33,000 to $55,000.

The privileged few in high elective office would be handsomely rewarded. The Vice President and the Speaker of the House, now pegged at $43,000, would get a fat raise to $72,000. The majority and minority leaders of Congress, who vanced to $58,000.

Architect Would Get $45,000
One of the most controversial employees of Congress, the Architect of the Capitol, would get $45,000.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

MARCH OF EVENTS

BODD'S "PUNISHMENT" ALREADY SUFFICIENT | WAS GETTING CAUGHT THE FATEFUL ERROR

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—That "trial" of Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., before his Senate peers, probably has given some observers the feeling that to a man who has reached his state of life in public service, the punishment already is commensurate with the "crime."

Dodd certainly seems to have committed political suicide. Obviously, Dodd's ethical standards were below the meager limits of financial conduct, even for politicians in this cynical time. And just as obviously, the public will not accept his implication that he raised and used campaign funds because he was a "poor" man enmeshed in the high cost of official living in Washington.

One thing is apparent. At the time Dodd resorted to the personal use of funds raised in his political behalf, he did only what he believed was accepted practice among his congressional colleagues. Perhaps the saddest commentary of all is that Dodd's error was in getting caught.

Dodd's exposure by disaffected members of his Senate staff is a particular source of disturbed emotions on Capitol Hill. It is an unwritten rule on politics that the seemier side of the "profession" is not unveiled publicly, and now even that code has been violated.

Finally, Dodd faced judgment at a time when another branch of Congress had severely disciplined one of its members, and the public awaited parallel action in the Senate. The timing of these two events makes one shudder over the forces of coincidence.

SCHISM IN THE LODGE—Members of the famous Lodge family are supporting different 1968 GOP presidential hopefuls these days.

The retiring U.S. ambassador to Viet Nam, Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., who was Richard M. Nixon's vice presidential running-mate in 1960, is preparing to help Michigan's Gov. George Romney in his pre-convention effort. John Davis Lodge, Henry Cabot's brother, is actively supporting the unannounced effort of Richard M. Nixon to capture the GOP presidential nomination. George Cabot Lodge is also working for Romney.

At this writing Romney and Nixon are the apparent front-runners. In any event no member of the Lodge clan has found a way to align himself with that right-wing hopeful, California's Gov. Ronald Reagan.

It appears to be a case of the Lodge clan being willing to split their political eggs into two baskets, but unwilling to risk any of them with the un-moderate forces in the Republican Party.

50 YEARS AGO

THAT "NO MAN LIVETH UNTO HIMSELF" is true in a broader sense, and more completely, than in the time when this great truth was uttered. Whenever man has tried to live for self he has reaped a harvest of sorrow and disappointment.

Never was living for self and selfish ends, as ignoble as at the present time. This is true not only because our civilization has become very complex, but because our country is engaged in a conflict that will require that each do his duty if the burdens are to be borne.

The National Colors are being proudly displayed over the city. At the public schools and on residents and business houses the flag is floating. Now seems the opportune time for the city to commend this spirit of patriotism by purchasing and raising a large, handsome flag somewhere in the business center that it may be a constant call to the loyalty that means willingness to live or die in defense of the flag of freedom.

At a very quiet election last Saturday, in which not all of the qualified voters took interest enough to vote, the alternate trustees for the Hereford Independent School District were chosen as follows: W. E. Hicks, D. C. Laird, both re-elected and Will O'Brien to take the place of J. L. Wilson, who had refused to allow his name to be placed on the ticket. Only 41 votes were cast.

"THOU SHALT KEEP THY MOUTH SHUT" First ten commandment for civilians. New Jersey's aviation director, Gill Rebb Wilson, a former Presbyterian minister, says the first commandment for civilians in this war is "Thou shalt keep thy mouth shut."

Wilson's commandments for civilians are as follows:
I. Thou shalt keep thy mouth shut.

II. Thou shalt stay out of Washington, both thy and thy conventions and thy car and thy family's and all thy correspondence and thy personal problems; none of these shall thy bring to Washington, for thy clutter up the works.
III. Thy shall not harass thy son because he has not a commission; neither shalt thy make him feel the service of an enlisted man to be beneath a college education and thy colonial background; neither shall these things be held against him by other enlisted men if thou dost not make them an abomination.

IV. Thou shalt not hoard; only the squirrel hoardeth, and this he doeth because he is a squirrel.

V. Thou shalt not get ants in thy pants to put on a uniform only because thou are vain and hast no courage to hoe thy row. In thy place where thou art most needed.

VI. Thou shalt walk; even thou aid to save gas and rubber; thou shalt redeem the price of thy girdle and the doctor's bills and thy very hide.

VII. Thou shalt not strike; nor shall thou walk out; neither shalt thou sit down on the job; in order that thy days may be long in the land that the Lord hath given thee.

VIII. Thou shalt not in thy confidence measure the sea, for verily thy who have thought to hide behind the sea's are full of prune juice.

IX. Thou shalt not fret because evildoers, for thou hast not done so well thou self.

X. Thou shalt not lose faith; thou hast nothing beyond recovery if thy faith be not lost.

Both are members of Amarillis Porcelain Art Club, which includes women of several Panhandle cities who paint on china. With another Hereford member, Mrs. W. C. ### Mrs. Hutson Elevated To Top Office In OES

Advancement of Mrs. R. B. Hudson to the worthy matron's office marked the annual election of officers this week in the Hereford Chapter, Order of Eastern Star. Mrs. Hutson, now serving as associate matron, will succeed Mrs. Marple Cline in the top office.

Bernard Roberson, associate patron, was elected worthy patron for next year. Mrs. Art Lewis and Marvin Coffey were named associate matron and patron, Mrs. Coffey secretary, Mrs. Mack Noland treasurer, Mrs. J. B. Noland conductress and Mrs. Deward Roberson associate conductress.

The new officers will be installed in June, with appointive officers named by Mrs. Hutson.

Four new members were received at this week's meeting, to make a total of 23 added to the chapter in the current year. Latest additions are Mrs. Connie Baker, from Colorado Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lang from Littlefield and Mrs. Lucille Smith from Ralls.

Mrs. Tom Draper conducted the annual memorial service with the worthy patron, John Patton, the star point officers and conductresses participating. Mr. and Mrs. Deward Roberson Mr and Mrs. Bernard Roberson were hosts to 35 members in the Masonic Temple.

Reports were made on the recent school of instruction for OES chapters of District 2, Section 3, which was held here. The final count showed 212 persons registered for the all-day session, with all 16 chapters participating and 19 grand officers present.

Mrs. Charlie Noland, deputy grand matron of District 2, Section 3, who was in charge of the school here, reported that she and Mrs. Cline attended a similar school at Lubbock last weekend, where more than 500 registered and 78 grand officers were present.

Beet Payment Checks Mailed

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO — Dennis O'Rourke, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Holly Sugar Corporation, announced Thursday that additional beet payments of $3,100,000 would be mailed to Holly growers in the Corporation's eastern district on Friday.

Checks will be mailed to some 2000 growers in Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, Nebraska, Montana and North Dakota.

Continued From Page 6 chitect of the Capitol, would become a $45,000-per-year man, as would the Public Printer and Librarian of Congress. All are in the $27,000 bracket now.

The Comptroller General, whose job it is to serve as the watchdog for Congress to curb wasteful spending, would move up from $30,000 to $50,000. And so it goes, with even deputies to top office holders receiving $15,000 raises.

The suspicion is that these fancy salaries will be better received in Washington than elsewhere in U. S. A.

O'Rourke said that the $3,100,000 additional payment brings the total of payments received by Holly growers in the eastern district to date for the 1966 crop beets to just over $24 million

Percy M. Rosenow, agricultural manager for the Hereford district, stated that growers in Texas and New Mexico would receive about $783,000 in this additional payment. Rosenow reported that planting had been completed and that many fields were up. He noted that some 18% more acres had been planted to sugar beets on the High Plains and stated that the 1967 crop was off to a good start.

Billy Graham Movie Is Slated

Showing of Billy Graham's feature-length dramatic film, Shadow Of The Boomerang, will be in Hereford on Monday, at 7:30 p. m. at the First Baptist Church, 500 N. Main.

Starring Georgia Lee and television's Buffalo Bill Jr., Dick Jones, Shadow Of The Boomerang is an outdoor action picture with all of the excitement and breath-taking scope of the land, Down Under. Setting for the screen drama is Australia's Outback, the continent's vast interior region where some of the world's largest cattle stations are located.

The two young Americans head an All-Australian supporting cast, playing brother and sister roles in a turbulent story of homestead life. Their arrival in Australia to manage newly acquired family holdings, plunges the couple into strange surroundings and situations with which they find it difficult to cope. The brother is immature and impetuous, slow to accept Australian ways. His sister is much more democratic, readily accepted by her new friends with whom she joins in an attempt to instill understanding and tolerance in her brother.

Filed against the backdrop of the Billy Graham Australian Crusades, the movie seeks to underline the Godly reaction to human crises and conflicts. Spokesman for the Christian position is Billy Graham, seen in dramatic Crusade footage photographed at the site of the evangelist's record-breaking crowds in Melbourne and Sydney. An authentic landline relay meeting which shared the big city Crusades with the stockmen of the Outback, is used as an effective dramatic device in the story climax.

Admission for the showing will be free and the public is invited to attend.

University Art Head Is Native West Texan

WACO — He was a math and science teacher, taught biology, coached football and even girls' volleyball, but Dr. J. B. Smith wasn't satisfied. He wanted to paint.

Smith, chairman of the Department of Art at Baylor University was born in the West Texas town of Lamesa where, as he puts it, "Boys just didn't grow up to become artists."

His father had been a math teacher for 40 years and when Smith attended Baylor he chose an education major and math minor.

Upon graduating with honors in 1929, Smith began his teaching career in Athens, later moving to Malakoff. Teaching and coaching all day was tiring, but at night Smith would take out his artist's material and paint. Watercolor paintings were his specialty then as they are now.

Only by his personal interest did he keep his art interest alive. "I've been interested in art since the fourth grade, but there were no art departments at Baylor or the University of Texas. Opportunities for studying art in Texas in the 20's were almost nil.

"Finally after four years of teaching I decided to do something about my art. Moving north, I enrolled at the Chicago Art Institute, the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts and the University of Chicago.

"I attended classes in all three places and on Sundays went to Huet's Art School to study landscape painting. Since my art education was postponed I had to work double time to catch up," he said.

Smith continues his study of art, because he believes it is a subject one cannot know enough about. Occasionally he will take a year or a summer off to study. Industriousness must pay off. It has for Smith. Recently at the Art Educator's Association's annual state meeting, he was elected vice-president of the organization. According to the association's constitution, he will become president in two years.

Previously Smith had served as president of the Alabama, Kansas, Missouri and Wyoming Art Educator's Associations. He is recognized in Who's Who in America, International Who's Who in American Art. Smith is also a member of the professional fraternities Alpha Chi, Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi and Kappa Pi. A permanent collection of his watercolor paintings are in the Denver Art Museum.

Since coming to Baylor in 1960, Smith has concentrated on the quality and growth of the art department. From scattered locations on the campus, the department has been placed under one roof. This was a measure taken to bring the students closer together in order that they might learn from one another and establish what he terms a "community of artists."

Smith encourages many students to study in other countries if possible. He mentioned one who had attended the University of Vienna.

"One of our big jobs on the campus is to take art to the students, as in our exhibitions," he said.

"There has been an avalanche of interest in this country compared to 25 years ago, and we are confident that Baylor will keep pace with the country in general," he said.

DUST COVER

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — One hazard facing helicopter crews in Vietnam — blinding clouds of dust stirred up by the rotor blades on takeoff and landing — has been solved with the use of vinyl-surfaced tarpaulins to blanket landing areas.

MORE BOOKS ON ALASKA With the advent of Alaska as one of our newest and the largest state of the union there has been a step up in books of the state written by people who lived there in the past. Newest in the library is one with a catchy title of Two on the Rocks by Gerald F. Carlson.

The title is explained when we read that the author and his wife go to Alaska to teach school and are sent to the island of rocks, Little Diomed. They are sent 150 miles from Nome to live a strange life in a strange land. The couple are the only white people of the island among a clan of Eskimos.

One of the best chapters of the book previously appeared in the magazine, The Alaskan Sportsman. The author accompanied the Eskimos on a hunt did well, and won their praise.

Many incidents of humor, tragedy as well as every day living made life among these semi-primitive people an unusual story and an entirely different one.

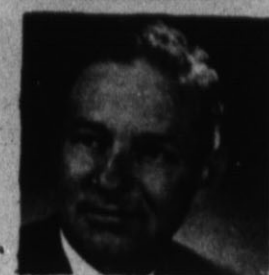

A second book is an altogether different type of story. Amy Greenwood is the author of Rolling North and she tells how she and her husband and three youngsters travel the Alaskan Highway to Alaska. They race against time and the spring thaws to reach their destination and homestead near Anchorage.

Her husband had been stationed in Alaska during WWII and had fallen in love with the country. He vowed to return and live there when the war was over. It was several years before he accomplished this because he went to school to earn his two degrees. He planned to be a prepared pioneer and able to make his own way in more than one profession.

Therefore it was in the 1950s before they left their staid Philadelphia parents and friends and went on a trek which took 50 days and nights. The trip was a real adventure with the meeting of many kinds of people headed for the Alaskan towns and wilds. This is a fast reading and attention holding tale which can be read in one sitting. Corinne J. Neely
