Contract Ups Beet Payment

Results of negotiations between the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association and John Bunker, new president of Holly Sugar Corp., have brought growers an improved contract for the 1968 crop.

James W. Witherspoon, executive secretary of the beet growers association, announces that larger initial payments, price per ton, hauling allowance and additional piling facilities may all be a part of the contract. He outlined these points:

1) The price per ton will be increased again by another 30 cents per ton for the beets delivered by the grower;

2) The company will pay a hauling allowance of 5 cents per mile per ton that beets are hauled over ten miles to the factory or a dump; and

3) The company will place pliers near Wildorado and Dimmitt and other points, beginning stockpiling on the ground sometime in November and thus releasing growers to harvest all the beets they can as fast as possible. This action on the part of Holly will greatly accelerate harvesting operations, the growers say, cutting time down considerably from the three months it has required in the past.

Growers are also hopefully anticipating a larger initial payment on their beets; the payment to the farmer is based on sugar content (checked as the beets are first brought to the Holly mill) and the anticipated price of sugar. The initial payment is followed by smaller payments throughout the year, with the final payment coming after the selling price of the sugar has been seen. The 1968 initial payment is expected to be based on a higher sugar selling price.

The new contract, to replace the old Red River Valley contract, will be as good a contract as anyone in the beet growing business has, the growers believe.

California, in certain parts of its contract, has a little higher per ton payment, but there are other offsetting conditions. At 17 per cent sugar, the new contract is better if sugar content is over the 17 per cent mark (payments to farmers are based on sugar content).

Record Crop Seen; Midge Not Serious

Problems with the sorghum midge, a perennial pest with farmers, have not been severe throughout the area, a check with county agricultural agent Justin McBride indicates.

Although test results released by Texas A & M Experiment station officials indicate that the midge has emerged in samples of grain taken at random, the midge has not posed a problem much more serious than what typically exists at this time of year, the county agent said.

This is the first year that the grain pest has made its way this far north; in the past, it had sometimes made it to the southern reaches of the county, but had never gone past that boundary.

At this point, no affect has been seen in the crop due to the much dwarf mosaic virus, which hit the crop several weeks ago. However, it is too early to tell about quality since heads have not developed far enough. Yield should be as good or better than it has ever been, according to the county agent.

The presence of red-heads throughout the fields indicates sterility in those plants, McBride said, but it is not known if any of this can be attributed to the virus.

He urged farmers to check carrier plants, such as johnsongrass, for midge before determining whether or not to spray their sorghum crops; the crop should be sprayed when 70 per cent of the heads are coming out of the boot, before the midge has laid her eggs in the plant. The only part of the sorghum crop to benefit from general spraying without checking would be the late crop, according to McBride, since all earlier varieties are probably too far along at this time for benefit.

The 1967 grain sorghum crop is predicted to be the largest on record with 821 million bushels, according to Bill Nelson of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

Early reports of a low market price should change, Nelson points out, explaining these factors which indicate price should be better than what some are anticipating: the total supply of sorghum for 1968 use is down six per cent, while sorghum production itself is coming up 14 per cent in 1967; the carry-over from last year is down over 90 percent; domestic use of sorghum is up eight percent, exports are up 5 per cent; the 1967 seasonal price rise for sorghum is set at 36 cents (highest in five years); cattle are not being fed in as great numbers over the nation as they were a year ago, but there are more in the growing area of sorghum, and the total use of sorghum is up eight per cent.

Producers should watch the market, Nelson says, in planning to market their sorghum. Last year, the season low grain sorghum price in the High Plains area was hit in the mid-two week period in October, but in just two months had climbed 20 cents and in five months reached the season high of 36 cents over the October low.

Banquet Draws Crowd

Mayor Ray Cowser kept the tempo on the lighter side Thursday night while making the principal address before some 175 teachers, their sponsors and guests during the annual Teacher Appreciation banquet held at the Hereford Country Club.

Cowser, while taking some good natured pot-shots at his neighboring city, Amarillo, told the newcomers that Hereford is a town filled with people who work together to get the job done. He listed as some community projects, the Community Center and King's Manor, and intimated that many others could be added to the list.

Cowser, in pointing out the phenomenal growth of our area, which he calls the Magic Triangle, told the group that in 1960 Hereford had some 7200 good citizens, and 3500 head of cattle on feed. "Today," he said, "we have approximately 12,000 people and more than 50,000 cattle on feed, which goes to show that we've spent more time raising calves than children."

Hereford, according to the Mayor, lead the entire area in per capita home building this year, with Dimmitt coming in a close second, Lubbock third, Friona fourth and Amarillo trailing fifth.

"This is the area where the action is," Cowser said, and proved his point with the statistical records, pointing out that the trend is back to the rural areas.

Preceding Cowser's talk, all new teachers and their sponsors were introduced. Leo Forrest, manager of Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative, Inc., and chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Educational committee was Master of Ceremonies. Chamber President Neil Cooper gave the welcoming address and Johnny Clark Jr., Superintendent of School made the response.

Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor of the First Methodist Church gave the invocation and Keith Schroyer, VISTA worker at the Hereford Labor Camp presented several vocal selections, accompanied by Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwait.

C of C Committee Studies New Decoration Cost

Quannah Maddox, L. C. Williams Decorating Co. of Lubbock and Vance Cobb of Foreman Decorating Company of Odessa met with members of the decorations committee of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday at 12 noon in the Kings Chamber of the Hickory Log to discuss the purchase of new Christmas decorations for Hereford and the disposal of the old ones.

From previous meetings of this group, it was established that to use the chandelier-type decorations again this year would present the same problems that have been encountered the last years they were in use: too much weight and wind resistance.

The committee, headed by Buddy Bloomer, decided to get away from the chandeliers altogether, and replace them with decorations of an entirely different nature.

Maddox and Cobb both proposed perimeter-type trees, made of glass-plastic with chain and steel pipe foundations, to be erected upon and attached by means of guy-wires and bolts to the canopies of the pedestrian shelters on each of the intersections of Main Street, Seven, ten, 14, and 17 ft. heights were considered. The weight and wind resistance of each, plus the attractiveness from directly underneath to a distance across the street was discussed as opposed to the type used last year.

These trees would be placed atop each of the 16 shelters on Main Street, while the present drapes of string lights would be used at the intersections of the highways and on Sampson and Miles Streets. Additional strings of lights may be purchased for this purpose. The trees would glow brightly with a multitude See COMMITTEE Page 2

Marker Dedicated Friday

Dedication of a historical marker remembering Hereford as the "Town Without A Toothache," drew a sizable crowd to Gregg Park Friday afternoon.

Included in the group were George Heard and his wife of Amarillo; George is the son of the late Dr. G. W. Heard, the dentist whose observations brought Hereford the title on the marker; Mrs. W. E. Dameron, wife of one-time Hereford mayor and civic leader, and daughter of A. W. Gregg, for whom the park was named. Other Hereford citizens, some long-timers — Mrs. John N. Jacobsen Sr., Mrs. Bess Werner, Mrs. A. G. Bell, Frank Balt — and lots of younger faces were at the dedication ceremonies.

Mrs. Justin McBride, active in the Deaf Smith County Historical Survey Committee and especially interested in Dr. Heard's work here, made the dedicatory address, reproduced here:

"We are here today to commemorate this land, to place special emphasis upon its qualities of the sod and the water, for they contain mineral richness so great as to be almost unbelievable in their scientific analysis. The crops and foods grown in this soil contain special abilities to create extra strong teeth and bones, which became evident after years of observation and research done on the local, state and national level.

"The earth with all its strength and greatness does not stand alone; its fulfillment must come through man. The occasion today is no exception, for we can trace the beginning of this dedication to one man, Dr. George W. Heard, a Hereford dentist who came to Texas in 1916 from the state of Alabama. He came to practice dentistry and hoped the dry climate of Texas would improve his health, which was not good. Not too long after coming to Texas he had an opportunity to come to Hereford.

"Soon after he began his practice here he began to notice the low incidence of tooth decay among his patients in comparison to the heavy amount in Alabama. He began to ask questions, keep records, observe. He determined that those patients with low dental decay were those who had lived in Deaf Smith County a very long time, whose diet consisted of food and milk produced in the soil of the area. As his conviction grew that it was what these people ate that gave them strong teeth and bodies, he began to change his own diet using the whole wheat, the vegetables and milk grown here in this county.

"He regained his health, and set about to tell his fellow dentists in the Panhandle that there was something different in Hereford. He told of his theory, that it was the soil and water here which produced practically no decay; as a rule they listened patiently but without feeling that the dental situation here was any different from anywhere else. Year in and year out, when he attended the Panhandle District Convention of the Texas Dental Association, he told of his findings. No great interest was aroused, until 1939 when Dr. Edward Taylor, director of dental health for the State of Texas, was present at the meeting in Amarillo.

"Dr. Taylor listened to Dr. Heard and seemed interested, but Dr. Heard felt that it would be the last he would hear from Dr. Taylor. But much to his surprise about six months later he received a call from Dr. Taylor in Austin asking if he might come to Hereford.

"He came . . . he was amazed; research into why there was so little tooth decay in Hereford was begun. The recorded truth was established, the findings of these research teams was reported at the American Dental Association meeting in 1941 in Houston. The whole thinking on dental health was changed throughout the world by that conclusive report. Dr. Heard became a celebrity and Hereford became known as 'the town without a toothache.'

"It is fitting that this marker be placed here in Gregg Park for it was named for Austin Whitaker Gregg, a patient and prime example of all that Dr. Heard knew to be true of this country. Dr. Heard also believed that not only did this strong soil and water build good leaders, it also added to greatness of the person's mind. Truly Mr. Gregg was in every way the ideal example of all that Dr. Heard believed. Mr. Gregg not only gave beauty through this park, but began a beautification of this town that continues to this day. Mr. Gregg lived to be healthy and vigorous at 93 years, and he had only one false tooth.

"So the slogan that Dr. Heard's father taught him as a boy had not failed: 'Always be sure you are right, then take your stand, and no matter what happens, stick to it.'

Marcus Latham, commissioner of precinct two, accepted the marker for the county. Master of ceremonies for the late afternoon park ceremony was Melvin Young. Others attending the program included Mrs. Henry Sears and Mrs. Jesse Geron of the survey committee.

Huseyin Shevki Gets Ready For Year In America

Huseyin Shevki, 17, has joined Hereford youngsters for this school year as he acquaints himself with his new home for a year. A Turk from Cyprus, Huseyin is a foreign exchange student coming to the United States through the auspices of the American Field Service.

While in Hereford, he will be a member of the Rocky Lee family, 304 Centre. His three American brothers are Ren, 17, Rick, 14, and Rex, 10. Huseyin's home in Cyprus is in Paramali Village, Limassel, where his mother and sisters now live. One of his sisters herself came to the United States as an exchange student a few years ago.

"The plains of the central United States are new to Huseyin, whose environment has been somewhat more closed in with hilly terrain. He likes the wide open spaces, and he likes the people here — so he's happily set for a year of study in American culture.

The only kinks in his plans for an education have come in the annual problem here — youngsters can't get all the classes they want. Huseyin had to forget a couple of things he wanted to take, and had to grit his teeth and take a few he wanted to avoid, but he's not anticipating anything worse than what he had at home (five to seven hours of study every night he tells his American family).

Among his favorites, Huseyin will include movies, football (soccer as we know it), swimming, bicycling, gardening, reading and stamp collecting. He comes from an agriculturally inclined locale; he has tended vegetables in order to help make a living for his family at home, and he has also done work in the vineyards. His mother is a housewife who does some field work to help support the family.

Looking back to his homeland, situated in the northeastern sea of the Mediterranean Sea, Huseyin says that Cyprus is today engaged in another civil dispute, with two governments now attempting to rule the island. Opposing forces are the Christian Greeks and the Moslem Turks; Huseyin is a Turk, and his family has in years past been forced to move from village to village to escape the dispute. People are segregated throughout the country, in schools and community life in general.

Education is similar to that in the United States, a talk with Huseyin reveals. Youngsters there all put in 12 years behind either the books or in vocational training, and it's compulsory. When he returns to his native land, Huseyin will have to complete another year before he can go on to study at a university.

There are no universities on the island, so Huseyin is planning to attend the Middle Eastern University at Ankara, Turkey.

Huseyin's new friends are going to find him a little hard to understand at first (and he has to work at understanding fast-spoken English), even though he has studied it since he was in the fourth grade. This is only his second week in the country, though, and it appears that Huseyin is the kind to catch on fast.

Local Merchants Ponder Sunday Closing Law

Although greatly confused as to what will be lawful and what will not be, Hereford merchants expressed a willingness to comply with the new Sunday closing law which goes into effect Monday.

Approximately 35 store managers and owners met in the 69th District Courtroom Friday morning to discuss the new law with County Attorney Bruce Miller.

"We don't have a new law," Miller explained. "All it (the Legislature) did was amend Article 286a, doing away with the emergency clause."

Previously, under Article 286a, a buyer could sign an "emergency certificate" to sell items which had been restricted by the 1961 Sunday closing law. "No one ever signed them anyway," said Miller. Now, the law does away with the emergency certificate and requires stores to sell the restricted items either on Saturday or Sunday—but not both.

There are 41 items on the restricted list, including clothing, clothing accessories, wearing apparel, footwear, headwear, home, business, office or outdoor furniture, kitchenware, kitchen utensils, china, home appliances, stoves, refrigerators, air conditioners, electric fans, radios, television sets, washing machines, driers, cameras, hardware, tools, excluding non-power driven hand tools, jewelry, precious or semi-precious stones, silverware, watches, clocks, luggage, motor recordings, toys, excluding items customarily sold as novelties and souvenirs, mattresses, bed coverings, household linens, floor coverings,

Kindergarten Enrollment To Begin Monday

Enrollment of pupils in Hereford Goodwill Kindergarten will be held from 9 a. m. to 12 noon Monday in the Goodwill Center building just east of First Baptist Church.

Classes are to begin Sept. 5 in the kindergarten, which is held for Spanish-speaking children to prepare them for entering public schools. Mrs. W. C. Davis and Mrs. Jack Nunley are the teachers.

To be eligible for the kindergarten, a child must be five years old by Sept. 1. Each is to bring a birth certificate or baptismal record when he enrolls.

This will be the sixth term for Goodwill Kindergarten in Hereford.

Board Begins Study

The first action by the Texas Water Pollution Control Board to find the cause of pollution in Buffalo Lake began this week when local and area businesses were advised of a coming investigation.

In a form letter to owners of feed lots and vegetable sheds along the Tierra Blanca Creek and Frio Draw, the board stated that it will co-ordinate an investigation.

The letters, most of which arrived Wednesday, stated "You will no doubt be contacted by one or more of the survey party, and asked to provide some statistical data and to allow an inspection of your waste treatment facilities."

Letters were mailed to the cities of Hereford and Friona, the Hi-Plains Feed Yard, Inc., of Friona, and numerous Hereford businesses.

Included were: Dick Barrett Produce, Inc.; Griffin Brand Packers, Inc.; Hereford Growers & Shippers, Inc.; Hereford Produce Co.; Howard Gault Co.; E. C. Reinauer & Sons, Inc.; Renfro & Arnold, Inc.; Al Trautman; F. H. Vahlsing, Inc.; Western Feed Lots; Colville & Wilson, Inc.; Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.; Holly Sugar Corp.; Mike Betzen Feed Lot; Jack Bradley Feed Lot; G. E. Easley Feed Lot; Greeson Land & Cattle Co. Feed Lot; Koeing & Sons Feed Lot; Paetzold & Sons Feed Lot; Al Smith Feed Lot, and Stone Bros. Feed Yards.

When it begins, the investigation will be the first concrete action taken by the TWPCB in an effort to solve the pollution of Buffalo Lake in June and again in July.

Heavy rains at those times brought waters down the Tierra Blanca Creek and produced a massive fish kill. Investigation by officials of the Texas Department of Public Health, the Market conditions differ in California, Witherspoon pointed out, because of cane sugar competition. Cane sugar also has marked effects on prices of Holly's beet sugar in the South.

The task force committee, made up of Malcolm Young of the California Beet Growers Association, Al Blomquist of the Red River Valley Sugar Beet Growers, Richard W. Blake of the National Beet Growers Federation, Loren S. Armbruster of the Farmers & Manufacturers Beet Sugar Association, and Witherspoon of the Texas-New Mexico group, along with presidents of the five organized growing areas, are engaged in working on price factors and other national undertakings for the benefit of sugar beet growers.

ers, Witherspoon said. They also are watching the administration of the Sugar Act, as well as additional amendments to this legislation.

Holly has agreed to delay the 1967 harvest until Oct. 5 this year, Witherspoon pointed out, with better sugar content to be a likely result. Holly has also provided a new piler and converted an older one into an end and side dump piler which will allow for faster deliveries in 1967.

A great many of the growers had to replant this year, the association secretary said, and Holly agreed to take this factor into consideration. The growers' association, with 675 members, has 32,000 acres in sugar beets this year, with predictions aimed at 40,000 acres next year. President of the association is Jay Boston of Hereford.

Truck Totaled In Thursday Wreck

A 1957 Ford half-ton truck was considered a total loss following a one vehicle collision Thursday morning on East Fourth Street.

Jose Martinez of Alamo told officers he had lost control of the truck just before 11 a.m. and struck a power line owned by Southwestern Public Service Co. The pole was struck hard enough to break the insulator on top, officers said.

Martinez was not injured. A citation was issued for failure to control vehicle.

The new decorations would cost between 5,000 and $8,000 and the cost can be paid over a three year period, the same as it has been done in the past.

Both Cobb and Maddox agreed to take the chandeliers in trade for the new decorations. The amount of trade-in value varied, as well as the cost of the trees proposed.

Having decided that one proposal would represent a savings of well over $1500, it was agreed that the committee would contact a Texas city that used the tree-type decorations and gain knowledge of their wind-resistance and performance.

A week was given the two representatives in order to outline their separate offerings, prices, guarantees, etc., and to allow Cobb time to view the chandeliers now in storage and quote a definite trade-in value. The committee will meet again Thursday, August 31, at the Hickory Log, to arrive at a final decision, and make the order.

Members present for the luncheon meeting included Neil Cooper, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Dudley Bayne Ted Higgins, Jerry Detwiler, Morris Easley, Paul Harvey, Don French, Earnest Langley, and Bill Thompson.

Three Persons Hospitalized After Accident

Three persons were hospitalized just after midnight Wednesday as the result of a one-car accident in the 1100 block of Park Avenue. Treated at Deaf Smith County Hospital for cuts and bruises were Peggy Sue Drummond, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Drummond of 431 Ave. G; Mary Renfro, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Renfro of 310 W. 7th, and Ronnie Buse of Route 2, Friona.

Miss Drummond was released from the hospital Friday morning, while Buse was released Thursday afternoon. Miss Renfro was listed in satisfactory condition early Saturday, still receiving treatment for a deep laceration on the forehead.

Miss Drummond told officers she was driving east on Park Avenue about 11:55 p. m. Wednesday when some ashes dropped from her cigarette onto her dress. She lost control of the vehicle and hit a telephone pole on the right side of the street. No citations were issued. The Drummond vehicle was a total loss.

FINED
Eugene C. Martin was fined $1 and costs during the past week when he appeared before Deaf Smith County Judge H. C. Williams to face a charge of swindle with a worthless check.

Date Set For Kickoff

Kickoff dinner date for the initial membership campaign of Hereford's Community Concert Association will be Sept. 11. Announcement of plans was made at a lunch for board members at Ward's Hickory Log Restaurant Friday noon. The dinner will be on opening day of the one-week membership drive, which has a goal of 1100, the seating capacity of Hereford High School building. Bill Thompson, membership chairman, named team captains who will each choose ten workers to enlist members for the concert series. Dates of the two concerts already booked were announced

Damages Light In Accident

A two-car accident at First Street and Schley Friday night resulted in total damages of $150.

Police said a 1960 Plymouth driven by Archie Dobbins of King's Manor was going west on First Street and a 1964 Ford driven by Valentin Garcia of Hereford also was going west on First Street when the collision occurred. Damage to each vehicle was estimated at $75. A citation was issued for an improper right turn from the wrong lane.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

Several thousand young men and women who graduated from college in June accepted jobs with the Internal Revenue Service. First the young graduates were sent back to school to learn all about taxes. Since early July these young people have been going to an Internal Revenue Service school. They are learning the fundamentals of how to do tax work and how to determine whether the taxpayer owes more tax or is entitled to an additional refund because he failed to take all his deductions. We can all wish these fine young Americans every success, but we hope that they always talk to our neighbor about his taxes instead of us.

and Thomas had stopped for a stop sign at the intersection of Progressive Road when the accident occurred. A citation was issued for improper observation.

Classes Begin Monday

Enrollment figures at the end of registration week Friday indicated that some 4,120 students are ready to start in classrooms tomorrow morning.

The peak enrollment is not expected to be reached until sometime after Labor Day, school records indicate, with high figures running on into late fall and not coming down until after the first of the year.

The enrollment breakdown, according to Friday estimates and enrollments, are: high school, 839; La Plata, 518; Stanton, 500; Aikman, 484; Bluebonnet, 559; Northwest, 525; Central, 311; and Shirley, 384.

A lot of youngsters are expected to enroll when they report to classes tomorrow morning. Teachers have completed a week of in-service work, with several workshops and other training and briefing sessions prior to actual teaching duties starting tomorrow.

Citation Issued After Collision

Damage was estimated at $120 following the collision of two pickups on Dairy Road about 3:50 p.m. Friday.

A 1965 Ford pickup driven by Harvey D. Whaley Jr. of Vega sustained $40 damage when it collided with a 1966 Chevrolet pickup driven by Homer Thomas of 1009 Union Avenue. Damage to Thomas' vehicle was estimated at $80.

Officers said both vehicles were going east on Dairy Road

Theft Of Rings Reported To Hereford Police

The theft of three rings valued at approximately $1,600 was reported to Hereford Police this week.

W. J. Thomas of 109 Centre told officers that someone had entered his home sometime between July 13 and August 21 and took the jewelry. The house was not broken into, he reported.

Thomas said the last time he had seen the rings and a cameo brooch was in a chest of drawers in his wife's bedroom.

by Dr. Milton C. Adams, vice chairman who presided in the absence from town of Dale Young, board chairman.

Peter Nero will be the soloist Nov. 13, and Texas Boys Choir will sing here Feb. 22. There will be at least one other concert, more if funds from the membership drive are sufficient.

Memberships will be sold only during campaign week, and only members will be admitted to concerts. No single admission tickets are available for Community Concert programs.

Final campaign details will be reviewed by team captains at a lunch Tuesday at Hereford Country Club.

Those named as captains are Don Baugous, Mrs. John Douglas Pitman, Dr. Wes Owen, Wayne Thomas, Mrs. Frank Ford Jr., Mrs. Steve Clements, Mrs. George Turrentine, Stan Knox, Dick Jackson, Mrs. Gene Brink and Mrs. Elmer Kimball.

Also, from nearby communities, Mrs. Raymond Thompson of Vega, Mrs. Frank Spring of Friona, Mrs. Truman Touchstone of Dimmitt, Mrs. Steve Bavousett of Dawn and Mrs. John E. Smith of Easter.

The local campaign will follow a pattern set by the national Community Concerts organization. Each worker will receive the name of ten prospective members.

Reports will be made at meetings Sept. 13 and 15, and final reports at a lunch Sept. 16. Immediately afterward, with the budget determined, board members will select remaining programs for the 1967-68 season.

Get-Acquainted Plan Is Simple

By SUE COLEMAN

Her role has been that of an employed woman for 23 years and she is not one to sit idle, so Mrs. Lester H. Rape promptly found herself a job after moving here late in June.

AREA RESIDENTS are already acquainted with her as a saleslady in a Sugarland Mall department store.

She was employed in a store of that type at Lamesa, from which the Raipes moved to Hereford, and previously had been with Singer Sewing Machine Company for eight years.

Her husband is manager of the Texas Employment Commission office here, after a transfer June 1. Mrs. Rape came a few weeks later when their household furniture was moved.

THEY ARE LIVING at 333 Ave. B. Their only child is a daughter, married and living at Dallas, but their household includes a couple of "badly spoiled" dogs, a cocker and a part-Scotty.

One thing about working outside her home, the newcomer says, is that it takes no time at all to get acquainted in a new city. Friendly, brunette Mrs. Rape would probably have no trouble making friends quickly in any place.

She is a native East Texan and lived in that area until about five years ago. Born in Upshur County, she finished high school in Gilmer.

THE COUPLE HAS lived in Lubbock, Borger and then Lamesa, so they have had a glimpse of all parts of the plains. They miss the hilly, forested terrain of their former homes downstate, especially the accessibility of good fishing places.

"You have to go so far to fish up here," Mrs. Rape says in comparing the country to East Texas, "that it isn't a pastime you can enjoy unless you have some time off the job."

But she likes many features of the West Texas climate, only shuddering when dust storms are mentioned.

Both she and her husband like to just rest and watch television or play with the dogs in the backyard when they get home after work, she says.

They are members of First Baptist Church and also hold membership in the Order of Eastern Star, but have not transferred to the Hereford chapter.

Family Attends Rites In Kansas

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Angelo and daughter, Debbie, have returned from Wichita, Kan., where they attended the funeral of Angelo's brother-in-law, Arthur J. Lambert, 69, of that city.

Mr. Lambert's wife, who survives with a daughter, a sister and four brothers, is the former Myrtle Angelo. For a short time after their marriage they lived in Hereford.

Born in Burlington, Okla., Mr. Lambert had lived in Wichita several years and was an engineer for the Boeing Company until three years ago. He was a World War I veteran, a member of the American Legion and Masonic Lodge.

Bravo Head Testifies

Total removal of nicotine from cigarettes by cooperative efforts of government agencies and industry was urged Thursday by Puzant C. Torigian, a pharmaceutical chemist and president of Bravo Smokes, Inc. of Hereford. Torigian pointed out that nicotine is the lethal element in cigarettes and that European agronomists have developed methods of removing it from tobacco.

In testimony prepared for the Senate Committee on Commerce which is holding hearings this week on smoking, Mr. Torigian contended that there is abundant evidence that nicotine is linked with cardiovascular diseases, now the leading cause of death in the U. S. He called first for more stringent warnings on cigarette packages and in advertising, even to displaying the skull and crossbones symbol used on other nicotine products such as insecticides. He also advocated forcing cigarette advertisers to give the warning message "equal time" with their selling messages in television and publication advertising.

Torigian also contended that cigarette filters were self-defeating, since, he said, they have been made less dense and therefore less effective in recent years to permit more nicotine to pass through. This achieves what the industry calls a "more satisfying smoke," he said. Stronger types of tobacco are also used to compensate for the loss of nicotine in filter cigarettes, Torigian added.

The vast resources of the tobacco industry, in collaboration with government scientists could shortly develop smoking products — either of tobacco or other vegetable products — that would not carry the lethal nicotine into the human system, he contended. When such products are available generally and promoted, he said, smokers' "nicotine addiction" will gradually diminish, and a more rational approach can be taken toward the smoking habit.

Attacked by an enemy, many animals flee in a very erratic way, zigzagging, wildly bouncing or even spinning. Zoologists believe this behavior disorients the predator's attack and aids escape.

COOK UP A PARTY!

And what a party it's going to be with a new gas range to help. You can prepare all kinds of festive recipes. With a gas range you have a quiet temperature control, not just a few fixed dial settings. You adjust your gas range to the perfect temperature for the most delicate recipes. And when a quick temperature change is required, it's easy.

With instant on — instant off-control. No noisy over heat. A gas range lets you broil with the oven door closed. Inside, grease splatters and smoke are consumed by the gas flame. No mess, no over-heated kitchen. Your kitchen will shine! Delicious food always leaves a good impression. So, why not? Cook up a party with clean, economical gas.

KING'S MANOR ANNOUNCES A RECEPTION

On Tuesday evening, August 29th 7:30 to 8:30 in the assembly room at King's Manor an informal reception is to be held. Honorees of the reception include Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Thomas, Miss Alta Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Manson Waits, and their sons, Ralph and James. The Thomases are closing a season of service on the staff at King's Manor. Dr. Don R. Davidson, Executive Director at The Manor, spoke words of high praise for the Thomases in announcing the social hour.

Miss Alta Campbell, R. N., Supervisor of Nursing Service, and Mr. Manson Waits, Administrator of the Methodist Retirement Center, are recent additions to the staff at The Home. The residents, the entire staff, and the Board of Trustees join with Dr. and Mrs. Davidson in an invitation to the Hereford community to be present for the informal occasion.

Dr. Davidson reports that the home administration is pleased when executive personnel in the staff at King's Manor are active in community life. The honorees for the occasion are active community members and King's Manor is glad to share their friendship with the community.

Clothing Has
New 'Faces'

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

What's new to wear? Disposable dresses — leather dresses vinyl bikinis — garments of "chameleon cloth" that can be given a second set of colors when the owner gets tired of the first set.

THE FOLLOWING will be of special interest to the 12 wool producers and 504 cotton producers in Deaf Smith County.

Just as exciting are the new things being done to those long-time favorites, cotton and wool, says Kay Hunter, Extension clothing specialist with Texas A&M University.

Many of the new "faces" you see on these familiar fabrics are results of research by the U. S. Department of Agriculture — the development of chemical finishes to make these fabrics easier to care for, more comfortable, attractive, and durable.

SCIENTISTS IN USDA'S agricultural Research Service helped develop the first processes for wash-and-wear cotton. They developed a process called "slack mercerization" that gives stretch to cotton fabrics. This method has been adapted by industry for sportswear.

lounging apparel and other stretch clothing. The same process was later applied to cotton lace, giving it a three-dimensional appearance as well as stretch. A new process for treating wool, called "Wurlan," is used by industry to make woven and knit wool garments that can be washed without shrinking or matting.

A USDA-developed process for tanning leather makes it possible to launder leather garments without affecting their softness and beauty and opens up many new possibilities for the use of leather in wearing apparel.

NOW UNDER DEVELOPMENT are light-weight wool-cotton blends that resist shrinkage and wrinkles and hold a crease. They are wash-and-wear and, in tests, shirts laundered and tumble-dried more than a dozen times looked as smoothly pressed as when new.

Understanding fibers, fabric characteristics, and care makes it easier to buy wisely and prolong the life of garments, clothing specialists say. It is necessary to continually study the clothing needs of family members in terms of activities, special interests, and total family income. Then study fabrics, their fiber content, and finish.

It is difficult to alter permanent-press garments. The crease will show if a hem is let down; however, if the hem is taken up, a fairly sharp crease can be put in the garment, but it will need to be pressed after each laundering.

TO KEEP UP WITH spools of thread, make a spoolcard to hang on the wall by your sewing machine. Just cover a rectangle of plywood with a colorful cotton fabric, taping the edges of fabric in place in back.

For spool holders use two-inch nails, lightly driving them in even rows across the board. Slip the spools over the nail heads.

PIMIENTOS ARE sweet, cone-shaped peppers. They have very thick meat and a tough skin that must be removed before freezing. They are best harvested after the pods have shriveled slightly and the color is a deep red. The tough skins must be removed by roasting either in a flame or in a hot oven followed by repeated washing in water to remove the black, charred skins. The core and seeds must be removed completely.

The pods of thick meat may be flattened and frozen whole or cut into any desired size. In packing, as much air as possible should be excluded from the container, but no salt or water should be added. There will be enough syrupy juice from the pods to cover them after packing. Small leak-proof containers are needed. Pimientos are a rich source of Vitamins A&C.

DRYING FRUIT is not as popular in this area as other methods of food preservation. However, it might appeal to you.

Dried fruit such as peaches, apricots, and plums will keep a year or so when stored in a dry, cool, dark place.

Here are some food preservation tips from Frances Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A&M University. Select about 6 pound of fresh, ripe and firm fruit. Wash and drain and peel them if you wish. Then cut them in halves and remove pits.

TO PREVENT discoloration, soak fruit 15 minutes in a solution of 3 1/2 tablespoons sodium sulfite to 1 gallon water. A drug-gist can supply this chemical.

Arrange fruit on trays and place in 150 degree oven with the bottom tray 3 inches from the oven floor. Don't use the top unit in an electric oven. Prop the oven door open 1/2-inch if your oven is electric or 8 inches if it is gas to let out moisture. Alternate the trays every 1 to 2 hours.

The fruit is dry when pliable and leathery. Usually about 6 hours is required. Pieces around the edges of the tray will dry fast. Remove these as soon as they are dry.

Cool the fruit and package at once. Pack the dried fruit in glass jars, plastic, metal or heavily waxed cardboard frozen food containers. Use a tight seal.

Coffee Presents City Newcomer

Introducing Mrs. Gerald G. Payne to a large group of Hereford women, Mrs. J. H. McCrary was coffee hostess Friday morning at her home, 702 South Main.

Mrs. Payne moved here recently from Corpus Christi. Her husband and Dr. McCrary are associated in practice at the Family Medical Clinic.

Flowers from Mrs. McCrary's yard brought summer color to the house. After they were received by the hostess and presented to the honoree, callers registered at a table where marigolds were arranged in a straw hat from the West Indies.

On the dining table where coffee was served, the centerpiece was of citrus fruits and avocados impaled on spikes to hold them above a bed of fern leaves in a circular arrangement.

Mrs. McCrary was assisted by Mes. Bill Davis, Hap Cavness, Bob Bradley, Kenny Gearn and Gene Cope, who presided in turn at the refreshment table and the registry.

Attractive Mrs. Payne was dressed in beige and the hostess in green linen, both frocks styled on simple lines.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our heartfelt thanks for the prayers, cards, calls, beautiful flowers and the abundance of food, which made the passing of our beloved more bearable. A special thanks to the nursing staff and doctors at the hospital. May God reward each and everyone.

Mrs. G. B. Treadway and Sons

If a stew or soup is too salty add a sliced raw potato and boil 5 minutes. Remove the potato.

NEWCOMER INTRODUCED — Mrs. Gerald G. Payne, center, who recently moved to Hereford from Corpus Christi, was honored at a pretty coffee Friday morning in the home of Mrs. J. H. McCrary, right. Mrs. Bill Davis is pouring coffee.

Hereford Girl Graduates With Honors

Mrs. Jane Kay Scanlan Defee of Hereford was among 14 students who were graduated "with honors" from Texas Christian University during summer commencement Aug. 25 in Daniel-Meyer Coliseum.

The August, 1967, class is the largest summer class in the history of the University, reports Associate Registrar Joe L. Enochs. The previous record was 355 set in 1949. This summer's total, combined with 759 earned degrees conferred in May, brings to 1,119 the number of degrees awarded during this calendar year, which sets a new mark. The earlier one-year record was 1,078 for 1966.

Eleven Doctor of Philosophy degrees were conferred, the largest number to be awarded at one commencement and including the first two in the area of history. Bachelor's degrees will total 219; Bachelor of Divinity, 9; and master's degrees, 121.

A graduate of Amarillo high, Mrs. Defee now lives at 906 East Third. She was graduated "magna cum laude," with high honors as a physical education

GO-GO STUDENTS

BOSTON—Among the part-time jobs found by Harvard Student Agencies for Harvard and Radcliffe students are jobs as go-

One Radcliffe girl said they're good at it, "because we have personality and spirit and integrity. We're vivacious and, you know, exciting."

What's more, it's more fun to wiggle than work your way through college.

VFW Auxiliary Membership Rules Reviewed

By-laws were reviewed by the Ladies Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, on a program Thursday evening in the VFW Clubhouse.

Emphasis was placed on duties of officers, and the fact that mothers, sisters and daughters, as well as wives of men who have seen foreign military service for the U.S., are eligible for membership.

The 1968 membership quota of the local Auxiliary has been set at 39, and enlistment of new members was another topic of general discussion.

Hostess plans were made for a party in the Amarillo Veterans Hospital Sept. 1. Announcement was made of the district VFW and Auxiliary convention at Childress Sept. 2 and 3.

Members present were Mes.

Harry Coffin Jr., A.J. Ralston, Leonard Davis, Henry Murrell, Orpha Nickerson, Ada Hollabaugh and Wayne Driskill.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this opportunity to express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for every phone call, visit, card and prayer during the illness of my brother, Mr. Hial P. Witherpoon, for the past eleven months. Certainly, now, at his passing we feel most humble for every deed, for the food, the flowers and every thought in our behalf all help to make the sorrow lighter. Especially are we grateful to Dr. Finney and the nurses at both St. Anthony's and Northwest Texas Hospitals, as well as to Rev. James P. Arnold, Jr., pastor of the Summerfield Baptist church, the musicians, the pall bearers, and Gililand Funeral Home.

May God's richest blessings be upon each of you.

BEST MEAT IN TOWN

By MELVIN YOUNG
Lloyd McGee, owner-manager of McGee Furniture Co. in Hereford has just returned from a fishing-camping vacation to Durango, Colo. which he took with his son Vance and Floyd Perry, a brother-in-law from Shawnee, Okla.

The fishing was good, Lloyd reports, and it looks like the hunting might be excellent in that area. But while you're there, look out for the skunks. They're mighty friendly.

Lloyd had taken along some pop corn for the benefit of his son and after they had been in camp for about three days, he decided to fix-up a batch. He did and it was excellent.

But if you've ever fixed pop corn, you know that you can never get all the corn to pop and naturally have a little left over in the bottom of the bowl when finished. He did, and his first mistake was to dump it out in the tent.

Shortly afterwards Lloyd and Vance turned in for the night figuring to get a good night's sleep preparatory to some hard fishing the next day.

Only minutes after turning out the lanterns, Lloyd heard a noise in the tent and grabbed his flashlight to see what the commotion was all about. It turned out to be three live skunks lapping up the remains of the pop corn — inside the tent mind you.

Well, the light drove them away fortunately, without making the little guys mad, but they didn't go very far. Lights out again and a repeat of the same. They finally left for the night however, and Lloyd got a little sleep. Vance had long ago retired to the station wagon where he spent the rest of the night with Mr. Perry.

The next night, Lloyd says, the skunks came again. This time he gave up the fight and joined the others in the wagon. "I'd rather hear Floyd's snoring than to antagonize the skunks," he said.

Regardless, he left the scene rather hurriedly.

Skunks, by the way, make excellent pets — after of course, they have been "de-skunked."

The annual teacher appreciation — or welcome — banquet at the Country Club Thursday night was a whopping success again this year, and Mayor Ray Cowsert kept them laughing from the beginning to the end, at the same time, giving the new-comers an insight as to what to expect of Hereford and its people.

We've always know that Ray was a better than average speaker, but he was really in top-form Thursday night.

—HB—

Harlan Vanderzee, who has been here only about six months had the pleasure of introducing a "new" teacher at the banquet Thursday night, but the deal seemed a little strange. The "new" teacher, Mrs. Jack Rogers, was born and reared in Hereford and is just coming home to teach.

TEACHERS MEET — Teachers in Hereford schools have been in the buildings all last week, doing in-service work in preparation to the beginning of classes Monday morning. In top photo, Dr. Bruce Mattson, left, of Texas Tech in Lubbock discusses problems involving students enrolled in special education at a workshop at La Plata Junior High; the workshop attracted teachers also from Tulia, Friona and Dimmitt. In bottom photo, teachers get a briefing on handwriting from the author of the textbook used in the Hereford schools.

Casa de Amigos

By MARTIN WINCH

Used clothing sales are probably the oldest meeting ground for the lives of the comfortable and the poor. When the Hereford Latin-American Day Center began regularly to conduct activities at the Labor Camp in 1950, a used clothing sale was central to the program. This continued and expanded by the Migrant Ministry at the Casa de Amigos.

Current prices at the sale are low. Clothing for elementary-school children sells for 15 cents, shirts and housedresses sell for 15 cents, shoes for 10 cents, sweaters for 20 cents, refrigerators for $5. With every purchase, we include as many non-religious magazines as our supply permits. Volume is high at the sales. This year, sale income has ranged from $10 to $35 weekly.

Selling the clothing, rather than giving it away, encourages the second owners to take pride in the clothing and enables them to help support educational activities at the Casa de Amigos. Money saved on good clothing, at low prices allows families to save for other expenditures.

Clothing for the sale is donated by local families. It also comes in occasional box-fulls from churches and civic groups household items are often available at the sale. These include plastic containers, glasses, dishes, lamps, razors, and small and large appliances.

Each Thursday afternoon, local volunteers sort through the donated items, arranging them in the clothing room at the Casa de Amigos. Clothing is displayed in a 24 x 24 foot addition to the Casa, constructed last April by the Knights of Columbus with materials purchased by the Hereford Migrant Ministry.

The volunteers include Hardy Benson, Mrs. Nora Gillis, Fred Moreman, Ira Ricketts, Mrs. Fred Ruland, Mrs. F.S. Smith, and Mrs. R.O. Stark. They hang the clothing attractively on 75 feet of racks. Shoes, children's clothing, and other items are arranged on three tables and three 12-foot shelves.

Clothing not suited to our customers and clothing which is not in good repair is either donated to the Church World Service Missions or discarded. Some items can be adapted to other uses: torn shirts for fingerpainting, small remnants for craft work, rags for rags. Sometimes the less likely items hold the greatest appeal at the sale or as craft material.

It is no secret that there are many rummage sales and used clothing outlets in the Hereford area. At the Casa de Amigos, every effort is made to sell at low prices only good clothing, and to encourage intelligent buying on the part of purchasers.

We need more clothing and household items for the sale at the Casa de Amigos now that school is beginning. Toys are also in great need, as 50 children will enter our two fall pre-schools on Monday.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Creative cookery is much admired in some circles and, along with gourmet eating, has a certain snob appeal. But I'll bet not half as much of it is done by a chef or hostess who is consciously trying to invent a new dish, as by an average housewife in a hurry.

INVENTION IS the daughter of necessity, to turn an old proverb around, and necessity was what inspired Nancy Richie to turn out a different kind of cake which she served at a committee meeting in her home last week.

She started to make one of those popular strawberry cakes with white cake mix, strawberry flavored gelatine and frozen strawberries. Unfortunately, her kitchen yielded none of those ingredients and there wasn't time to shop.

SO SHE USED yellow cake mix, cherry gelatine and frozen raspberries. It's delicious, and different.

Someone may quibble that it isn't creative to change a recipe but creativity — or invention — in any field is really a matter of making changes, improvements, in something that is already there.

A long time ago a smart man said "There is nothing new under the sun," and that fact hasn't been repeated yet.

NOT LONG AGO Ola Davis and I were talking about the picnics we remember from childhood, when a picnic was an Occasion with a capital O and not just a matter of loading a few prepared foods in the car and driving out to a park with tables and benches waiting.

A Sunday School picnic at Memphis, when I was a youngster, was the big event of the summer for all the kids in town. Theoretically each was for the members of a certain church and there was some criticism of a Presbyterian or Methodist mother who let her children go to the Baptist picnic, and vice versa.

BUT EVEN IF YOU went only to your own church's picnic, as my mother ruled, you could live on the anticipation and the memory all summer. The excitement began when the Sunday School superintendent first announced the date, and mounted steadily.

For a week before the date, there was a bustle at home as all the kids' clothes were washed, starched, ironed and polished. Naturally, we wore our Sunday clothes to the picnic even though they were sure to be much worse for wear at evening.

Men of the church hung stout rope swings on the big cottonwood limbs down by the creek in Mr. Broome's pasture, and set up trestle tables and benches with new lumber whose scent I still associate with shady, sandy creek banks.

SOMETIMES THEY made see-saws and other play equipment, too, and on the picnic morning somebody's wagon and team were pressed into service to haul the big galvanized tank of drinking water and a smaller one of lemonade to the scene.

Meantime, back in the kitchen, Mother was stewing and baking for several days to produce cakes which would compare favorably with those of other good cooks in the church, and potato salad with homemade dressing that was the envy of the other cooks, and brown loaves of bread and stacks of fried chicken.

WE PACKED IT all in a big basket on the morning of the picnic, being sure not to forget the salt and mustard, and taking enough eating utensils because there were no paper plates and forks.

Just getting washed and dressed on time was a big chore but we made it, and when Uncle John drove up in the buggy we were ready. We romped frantically through the day, ate hugely at the noon dinner, drank quarts of pink lemonade and straggled home worn out but still ecstatic.

That was our total picnicking for the year; little family picnics were not thought of, but as Ola and I agreed, one was all we could stand until next summer!

The first coin specifically authorized for issuance in the United States was the Fugio cent of 1787. It bore a terse warning that was typically American: MIND YOUR BUSINESS.

The warmth and gentle charm of Early American give this room "that Thomasville look." The furniture, from our Post Road collection, has motifs handed down from Revolutionary times. And the bright hues of this homemaker's color scheme complement the glowing Heirloom finish.

From Early American to Contemporary, Classic to Provincial — our collections make it easy to give your home "that Thomasville look." Whatever the style, our design sources are always authentic. (Note the bold dentil molding on the dresser, the heavy brass Willow design drawer pulls.) And, like the handcraftsmen of long ago, we take great pride in our workmanship. Our woods are hand-picked, our finishes hand-rubbed. That's the way we think furniture should be made. You'll understand our feeling when you live with "that Thomasville look." It's a lovely life!

Miss Allison Married In Ceremony At Home

The gracious home in which she was reared was the setting for a wedding beautiful in its simplicity, in which Miss Ruth Ann Allison was married to Caris Mack Cansler early Saturday afternoon.

Exchange of vows was witnessed by only members of the two families and a few close friends, but the elegantly decorated rooms were opened to a wider circle of friends for the reception which followed.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Allison, 113 North Texas, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Zearl Cansler, 101 North Texas.

Dr. Winfred Moore, pastor of First Baptist Church in Amarillo, officiated in the double ring ceremony.

The wedding party stood in an alcove formed of greenery sunbursts around the front of the organ and piano and a similar arrangement of white gladiolas and chrysanthemums.

Topiary trees bordered an aisle on the front porch through which guests entered the house. Smilax garlands with small nosegays decorated doorways to the living and dining rooms. The mantel, which held a bouquet of white carnations and gladiolas, was draped with the garlands.

Mrs. Allen Zearl Cansler, vocal soloist, and Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwaite, organist, presented traditional wedding music. Songs were Because (d'Harlelot) and Wedding Prayer (Dunlap).

Proceeding the bride in the professional were Mrs. Kent Hance of Austin, her cousin and matron of honor, Miss Mary Hays of Dimmitt, another cousin, and Mrs. Wendell Vandiver of Canyon, bridesmaids.

Allen Zearl Cansler of Canyon acted as his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Jimmy Allison, brother of the bride, and Ken Cansler of Tulla, cousin of the bridegroom. Wendell Vandiver was an usher.

Mr. Allison gave his pretty daughter in marriage. Her bridal gown was of snowflake peau de soie and Chantilly lace.

The empire bodice with oval neckline and long sleeves was of the imported lace, which was applied in motifs down the skirt front and in wide borders around the hem of the controlled A-line skirt and the train which swept gracefully to chapel length.

Over it floated the illusion veil, in tiers from a pearl and rhinestone headpiece. Her bouquet was in cascade style, of white phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

The bride wore pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and for heirloom pieces her grandmother Conkright's ring and a diamond pendant which belonged to the late sister of the bride-peau de soie and a blue veil.

Bridesmaids were dressed in pink linen, floor length, with empire bodice and swing skirt. Dainty trimming was of rosebud lace in deeper pink and a rose with green velvet leaves and streamers.

Headpieces were of pink chiffon and crepe trimmed with green velvet leaves. Each carried a long cascading arrangement of pink roses with the natural foliage.

Mrs. Allison chose for her daughter's wedding and reception a pink alaskine dress with cap sleeves and notch collar, fastened with rhinestone buttons. Her shoes were dyed to match.

Mrs. Zearl Cansler was in midnight blue crepe hat ornamented with seed pearls. Both mothers had corsages of white cattleya orchids.

For the reception, pink roses in an epergne with smilax garlands were used on the table. Mrs. Lynton Allred served the wedding cake and Miss Brenda Burk the punch.

Mmes. B. F. Cain, Wayne Edwards, R. G. Peeler, and J. T. Gilbreath Jr. assisted at the reception.

A four-day cruise to the Bahama Islands and some time in Miami, Fla., will be included on the honeymoon trip. The couple left immediately after the ceremony and will be at home at 2707-6th Avenue in Canyon after their return September 13.

The bridegroom is a senior student at West Texas State University, a business-education major.

Miss Kaye Neill To Wed

Residence in Sidney, Australia, is planned by a couple to be married here Sept. 16. Miss Kaye Neill will become the bride of William Carter Youngblood on that date and they expect to live in Sidney where he will be employed by Geophysical Service, Inc.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat H. Neill, 121 Avenue C, and he the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. Wade Youngblood Sr. of Dallas.

Miss Neill received a BA degree from the University of Texas after previous graduation from Hereford High School. Youngblood attended both Texas Technological College and North Texas State University, where he was a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Bridal Shower Precedes Wedding Of The Weekend

Gifts for her new kitchen were presented to a bride-elect, Miss Sue Atchley, at a shower given by Misses Joellen Hamilton and Debbie Banks Thursday evening in First National Community Room.

Miss Atchley and Arnold Powell were married yesterday afternoon in the Baptist Church at Summerfield, the bride's home community.

In keeping with the theme of the informal party Thursday, punch was served from an old-fashioned crock and each cake square was decorated with a tiny plastic kitchen utensil.

On the guest list were school friends of the honoree. They included her sister, Mrs. Ronald Perry of Blythe, Calif., who was matron of honor in the wedding, Mmes. Dorman Duggan, Bobby Johnson of Canyon, Lonnie Skelton and Johnny Wayne Brownlow.

Also Misses Myrna Bodkin, Colleen Sanders, Ellen McGowan, Beverly Betzen, Donna Woodward, Cynthia McMinn, Judy Lookingbill, Kay Atchley, Jana Cole, Cynthia Beene and Patsy Stone.

YHT Changes Meeting Time At Guest Day Tea

Change in meeting time was adopted, delegates to an area convention named and a preview given of programs for the coming year, at a guest tea of the Hereford Chapter, Young Homemakers of Texas, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Larry Dobbs, who is closing a term as president, was hostess in First National Community Room. The program featured Mrs. Al Hunter's amusing review of a book titled Three Is a Family, by Edna Pettigrew, in which are related incidents familiar to most young homemakers.

Mrs. Bud Thomas and Mrs. Jerry Don Glover were elected delegates and Mrs. Clark Andrews alternate to the area meeting Sept. 9 at Tulla. Mrs. Dobbs will attend as state vice president for this area.

The Hereford group planned to take a basket of Deaf Smi th County agricultural products to Tulla to be awarded as a door prize at the convention.

Mrs. Raymond Gerk, vice president and program chairman for the 1967-68 season, sketched the program outlined for the yearbook which is ready for the printer.

Time of meetings will be changed for the coming season, to 3:45 p. m. on third Thursdays.

Members agreed to a request from the Young Farmers of Texas to assist in registration at an annual field day program at Halfway Sept. 14.

Guests were Mmes. Leland Shelton, Pete Walker, Virginia Harper, J. F. Nishimuta and the chapter's "little sister," Susan Bradley. Other members present were Mmes. Kenneth DeHart, James Dobbs, J. J. Durham and and Darlene Sparkman, organist.

Prayer services will begin at 7:30 p. m. today, while the evening services will begin at 8 p. m.

Wedding Is Conducted By Bridegroom's Father

Marriage of Miss Carolyn Sue Atchley and Arnold R. Powell, with the bridegroom's father officiating, was solemnized in Summerfield Baptist Church at mid-afternoon Saturday.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Atchley of Summerfield, the bridegroom the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Clarence Powell, 131 Greenwood.

A single large basket of gladiolas in white and apricot shades stood at the front of the church where Mr. Atchley gave his daughter in marriage.

Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Ronald L. Perry of Blythe, Calif. Lowell Powell of Paducah, uncle of the bridegroom, was his best man. The bride's brother, Charles Atchley, and Quinton Montgomery of Roswell, N. M., ushered.

White bridal satin was fashioned in simple design for Miss Atchley's dress, with A-line skirt and fitted bodice. Over it she wore a lace jacket with bell sleeves.

Her shoulder-length veil of bridal illusion was caught to a large fabric bow above her forehead. She carried a bouquet of white pom-pom chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Perry wore an apricot colored dress in similar style, but street length, and her flowers were white and apricot mums in a nosegay.

Miss Joellen Hamilton sang two solos, One Hand One Heart and Wedding Prayer, with organ accompaniment by Miss Cynthia McMinn, who also played the marches.

After the service a reception was held in the church education building. Miss Kay Atchley, sister of the bride, registered guests.

Miss Lou Riley of Hays, Kan., and Mrs. Charles Riley of Dodge City, her aunts, served wedding cake and punch from a table decorated all in white, with a net cloth over satin.

Mrs. Powell dressed for a trip to Colorado in a brown costume with a corsage of apricot-colored blossoms.

After September 1 the couple will be at home in Hereford, where the bridegroom is employed. Both are graduates of Hereford High School and the bride has attended West Texas State University, where she expects to continue studies as a sophomore.

Out-of-city guests for the wedding and reception included Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Woolwine, Charles Riley and children, Kathy, Vicki and David of Dodge City, Kan.; Mrs. Alice Riley of Hays, Kan.; Jimmy Montgomery of Roswell and Mrs. Lowell Powell of Paducah.

Innes-Bullard Vows Spoken At Perryton

Thomas Edwin Bullard and his bride, the former Miss Cheryl Gai Innes of Perryton, will return tomorrow from a Colorado honeymoon and be at home in the Simms community north of Hereford.

The couple exchanged wedding vows at First Methodist Church of Perryton Thursday evening with the pastor, the Rev. James E. Tidwell, reading the double ring service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Innes of Perryton, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bullard of Route 4.

Miss Debby Stephenson of Shreveport, La., the bride's cousin, was her maid of honor and Bill Waldrop of Canyon was best man.

Bridesmaids were Miss Karen Barnard of Perryton, Gail Call of Amarillo and Cheryl Dollar of Pampa; groomsmen, Bobby Tolleson of Stinnett, Virgil Barber of Hereford, cousin of the bridegroom, and Paul Tidwell of Perryton. The latter substituted for Johnny Mars of Friona, who was recently injured in an automobile accident.

Also in the wedding party were Janann Bullard of Hereford, the bridegroom's young sister, as flower girl, and David Casas of East Palo Alto, Calif., who carried the rings on a tasseled white satin pillow.

Guests were ushered by Billy Lloyd of Hereford and Larry Franklin of Stanton. Keith Dollar of Pampa and the bride's cousin Keith Moore of Shreveport, La., lighted candles before the ceremony.

Candelabra were placed at the altar with gladiolas, mums and bridal wreath.

Wedding music was by Lawrence Ellzey, who sang Wedding Prayer and One Hand One Heart, and Mrs. Clinton Unruh, organist who accompanied him and played the marches.

The bride's gown of silk organza had deep points of Chantilly lace at the neckline, wrists and bottom of the skirt, with seed pearls embroidering the pattern.

The organza cage dress was worn over a fitted peau de soie slip, and the circular chapel train was removable. Her veil was held by a large Dior bow and fell over her shoulders. Her flowers were white roses with trailing stephanotis.

For "something old" she wore a gold wishbone pin which was an engagement gift to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Lewis O. Franklin, and has been worn by six brides in its 56-year history.

Dresses of the attendants were in empire style with skirts of sage green peau do soie overlaid with chiffon and bodices of Saki silk. Trains were attached at the back of the low neckline with bows.

Mrs. Innes wore a yellow knit with matching accessories and Mrs. Bullard a knit dress in burnt orange with gold-tone accents.

The flower girl's frock was yellow peau do soie, in style similar to the bridesmaids. In her hair was a circlet of baby crystal mums and she carried rose petals in a yellow and white basket.

The wedding colors were repeated in table decor for the reception, with a three-tiered cake surrounded by yellow roses and smilax as the focal point. White tapers in crystal holders lighted the snowy organza cloth.

Aunts of the bride, Mmes. Don Taylor, Odell Moore and George Braswell, were assisted by Mrs. Orjan Bell and Miss Theresa Dollar in serving.

For the wedding trip, Mrs. Bullard changed to an antique copper knit suit with accessories in the same shade and an orchid corsage.

She has been employed this summer as a secretary for Perryton Equity Exchange. Attending West Texas State University after graduation from Perryton High School, she was a member of the Student Education Association. She attended grade schools in Oklahoma and in Ulysses, Kan.

Bullard has been a student at WTSU and previously in Stanton and Hereford schools. He will be engaged in farming in the Simms community.

Among wedding guests were his parents and Messrs. and Mmes. Harlan Barber, W.J. Williams, Dave Yandell and Robert Lloyd of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Barber of Lubbock, Jim Campbell of Hereford and Tom Bob Moss of Dimmitt.

Church Is Setting For Tinnin-Gray Marriage

Miss Sharon Deniese Tinnin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Tinnin, 217 Star, and Ronald Norman Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman P. Gray, 201 Star, repeated wedding vows Saturday in a double ring ceremony at candlelight hour.

The marriage was conducted by the Rev. C. E. Matthews, associate minister, at First Methodist Church, with the bride's father giving her in marriage.

She was attended by Mrs. Charles Springer, matron of honor, Misses Candace Lehne and Barbara Langley, bridesmaids, Kristi Springer and Judith Lee Smith dropped rose petals in the bride's path to the altar.

Charles Mims was best man, Dick Combs, Charles Kelly, Charles Springer, Wesley Smith, Billy Harris and Jerry Matthews the groomsmen and ushers. Rings were carried by Cory Springer on a lace-trimmed satin pillow.

Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwaite played traditional organ marches and accompanied Miss Betty Bergner, who sang before the ceremony, I'll Walk Beside You, and at the close, Wedding Prayer.

White gladiolas and chrysanthemums in floor baskets were used with massed palm at the altar, flanked by arched candelabra holding cathedral tapers.

Miss Tinnin chose a gown of peau de soie with an empire overblouse of peau d'ange lace. Sleeves were long and the skirt flared gently to the floorlength hem.

Lace motifs were repeated on the chapel train. Fabric petals encrusted with seed pearls made the coil which held her bouffant, elbow-length illusion veil.

The bridal bouquet was composed of white phalaenopsis orchids with stephanotis.

Pink dresses were worn by the bridesmaids, who carried pom-pom mums in the same color. Flower girls' frocks were of paler pink.

The newlywed couple and their parents greeted guests at a reception in the church fellowship hall after the wedding. A cluster of white and silver wedding bells topped the four-tiered cake which was the focal point of table decorations.

White net with satin streamers overlaid the satin cloth. Cranberry punch was poured from a crystal bowl by Miss Clarkie Adams while Miss Judy Nelson, assisted by Miss Betty Bergner, served the cake.

White gladiolas and red roses were in the center bouquet. Pink and white mints added to the color note, which appeared again on the registry table where Miss Suzanne Langley presided. A single deep red rose lay beside the guest book.

Another rose arrangement was on the piano where Mrs. Crosthwaite played during the reception.

Rice in white net bags tied with cranberry red ribbon were distributed to guests by the flower girls.

After the reception the couple left for a brief honeymoon trip, Mrs. Gray wearing a knit suit of larkspur blue with touches of brown matched in her accessories. Her corsage was a cluster of pink roses.

They will go to a home at Lubbock September 1. Gray is a graduate of Texas Technological College there and the bride has been a student at Tech two years.

Wedding guests from other cities included Mrs. H.W. Gray of Vernon, Mrs. O.M. Tinnin, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Lynch of Rails and Mrs. Doris Wall of Elida, N.M.

Motorists In For Shock

Motorists throughout Texas may wake up today with the realization that driving in our fair state must be taken more seriously than in the past — or suffer the consequences. This is due primarily to effects of legislation, effective today, making major changes in the licensing law.

Minimum age for acquiring a driver's license has been lifted to 18 years, according to the new statutes on the books, or 16 years of age if the prospective driver has had the benefit of a driver's education course.

All licenses issued to persons under the age of 21 will be stamped provisional and may be suspended if the operator is convicted of two traffic violations in a 12 month period. (This provision not effective until January 1.)

But don't get too smug parents. All the rules are not limited to those under 21. You're under the gun too.

Motorists convicted of driving while intoxicated (or similar offense) are subject to first suspension of 12 months (18 months for later offense) and may be required to attend a program of rehabilitation for problem drivers.

Driving while license suspended or revoked is punishable by fine of $25 to $500 or a jail sentence of three days to six months.

Department of Public Safety will in the future, receive from the Department of Public Welfare a list of all Texans receiving aid due to visual defects.

Effects of this legislation will, it is hoped, make more alert and careful drivers of each of us, since our right to operate a motor vehicle is virtually "on the line".

Our fast moving society leaves little room for those who are forced to dismount and plod along afoot.

We predict too, that the law will have more far reaching effects. It will undoubtedly crowd our traffic court dockets beyond comprehension. Cases that would normally have been plead "guilty", to be squared by a stiff fine, may now go before the jury. Faced with the prospect of not only a stiff fine, but possibility of losing one's license, a jail sentence or all three, the motorist will undoubtedly choose to take his case and his chances before a jury. He won't give in without a fight.

Certainly, there are many things about the new legislation on the plus side of the ledger, and perhaps it is long past due. But don't look for the new laws to eliminate all traffic accidents. It doesn't happen that way. Meanwhile, be careful, the license you save may be your own.

Facilities Excellent

If there are any youngsters who can't complain of having to go to school in dilapidated buildings, it's the kids in Hereford. Looking over the facilities as schools open their doors, the older folks can look with appreciation at the construction that their tax money has put up. As a matter of fact, it appears that there might be only one building within the school's district that can even stand criticism — and it won't be here forever.

Today's youngsters are going to school in bright, colorful buildings. The surroundings are indeed conducive to getting an education . . . and truancy may not hold the same pleasures it once did.

Hopefully, these youngsters will hold a sincere appreciation for their parents and the Hereford school trustees for providing such a pleasant environment in which to attend classes; such a good situation doesn't exist everywhere, and it indeed hasn't existed before when people weren't living in such prosperous times.

Hereford's school trustees consider the big, new buildings in our expanding city as a worthy investment in the future of the children, and we hope teachers and parents will carry through with their part of the deal to see that the generation coming up solely in these moneyed times will have a sense of gratitude and appreciation to pass on to their own children.

It used to be that hard times could help mold a child's character; today the older generation has to try a little harder to see that Johnny grows straight and true. We can't think of a better way to go, as far as attending school is concerned. Hereford youngsters have it made — let's hope they take advantage of their opportunities here and capitalize on them in order to become responsible citizens and leader of generations yet to come.

Whatever else it was, the gathering of National Farmers Organization members in Des Moines last week was an impressive demonstration of discontent.

For here were 35,400 farmers from all over the country adopting a "no price, no production" policy and authorizing the NFO president, Oren Lee Staley, to call for the withholding of all farm products from the market at a date to be selected later.

The purpose of such drastic action is, of course, to force farm prices higher. The idea is that if all NFO members — and other farmers similarly persuaded — hold their production off the market long enough, processors will be compelled to raise the prices they are paying for farm products. That, in turn would result in consumers paying more for their food.

Now the problem of giving the farmer a respectable income without penalizing the consumer is one that never has been solved to everybody's satisfaction. And it may never be.

It is, however, a problem one Washington administration after another has been groping to find an answer to. In so doing, however, the Federal farm agencies have managed to dislocate the farm economy and retard the forces working toward more efficient and productive farming.

In spite of governmental programs so badly designed that they encourage unproductive units to keep going and at the same time pour out millions of dollars to the giant mechanized farms which don't need them, the whole face of farming is changing. That is plain in the figures; there are about half as many farmers now as there were in 1940. Some foresee the day when today's 3.1 million farms will be reduced to 500,000.

Advances in marketing techniques, in the area between the farmer and processor, have not caught up to the advances that have been made in production and in retailing and which have been pinching the small and inefficient farmers. The trend is toward contract marketing, involving processor-farmer agreements on what is to be produced and for what prices, putting a premium on efficiency and high-quality volume, geared to market expectations.

Today's conditions are not likely to be changed for the better by the threat or use of force. For force is what the NFO—with an undisclosed number of members estimated between 200,000 and 300,000—is talking about. In the past, NFO's efforts to withhold livestock and milk from the market have not led to higher prices; they have led only to bloodshed, destruction of valuable property, and ill will.

As is all too expensively evident, the price problem is not going to be solved by planning from Washington. Nor is any scheme for marketing by muscle going to solve it. It has to be worked out by practical adjustments to the economic realities somewhere in between.

THE RESULTS WILL BE WORTH THE EXTRA PINCH . . .

MAIN STREET, U. S. A.

Social Security Proves To Be Popular Program

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Social Security is a popular program, particularly among the nearly 24 million beneficiaries who receive checks every month, and Congress is now engaged in its regular ritual of raising benefits.

Politicians love to give away money, especially in an election year like 1968, when the latter checks will probably start flowing. The bill passed by the House recently calls for higher benefits two months after enactment but by the time the Senate acts this fall the effective date is likely to be pushed back into the new year.

The annual price tag on the House bill is $3.2 billion. President Johnson would have been even more generous, his proposal having called for doing out $4.4 billion. LBJ wanted a 15 percent increase in benefits and the House went only as far as 12.5 percent. The Senate seems sure to vote no less than the House.

Old-age benefits for a husband and wife now range from a minimum of $66 a month to a maximum of $252. Under the House bill, the minimum would rise to $75 and the maximum to $318. Amount of benefits to retirees is based on average monthly earnings during working years.

Taxes Due to Jump
Naturally, Social Security taxes will have to be raised to pay for all this largesse, and the pleasure of oldsters at their increased benefits is likely to be matched by the displeasure of younger people at the bigger bite Uncle Sam will take out of their paychecks. The tax increase will be enough to hurt because both the rate and the taxable base will rise.

Politicians being sensitive about tax increases in an election year, the House bill is so arranged that low-income workers will not feel the Social Security pinch until 1969. Those earning $125 a week or less will pay no increase next year, but others with higher wages will be affected in 1968.

The tax rate, shared equally by employers and employees, is now 8.8 percent and would remain at that level in 1968 under the House bill. The taxable base is now the first $6,600 of annual earnings. This means that the worker who earns $6,600 or more a year pays $290.40, with his employer matching that sum. Nobody pays more no matter how high his earnings.

By holding the 1968 tax rate at 8.8 percent, drafters of the House bill prevented the election year tax increase on many millions of voters. But by raising the taxable base in 1968 to $7,600, the House, nicked better paid workers a sizeable sum, $7,600 a year is about $146 a week and every wage earner in that bracket or above is going to feel the impact on payday next year.

The $146-a-week man or woman will be socked with a 15 percent Social Security tax in See MAIN STREET Page 5

THE BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his hindweed farm sets out to teach Congress a few dollars, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

I have been interested in a debate in Congress I've been reading about in three different newspapers I found out here last week, dragged in by my neighbor's dog and only chewed up around the edges.

As I understand it, a lot of Congressmen are worried over whether the proposed 10 per cent surtax to be added on top of whatever income tax you're already paying will be temporary or permanent.

This is the type of debate that makes Congressmen entertaining. Obviously they're just going on for the fun of it.

It seems to me that all Congressmen should have known long ago that all temporary taxes are permanent. It's only women's permanent waves that are temporary.

Congressmen ought to get out of Washington more and brush up on the English language as it is used nowadays. They ought to learn for example that eternal love in Hollywood means a couple of years or so, that a letter from some outfit telling you "you may already have won $25,000" means the odds are 10 million to 1 that you haven't, that a weather forecast calling for a 20 per cent chance of rain means an 80 per cent chance of continued drought, that a giant quart is a two-pint bottle not quite-filled to the top, that whiter than white in your laundry is the same as saying a surface is flatter than flat or a ball is rounder than round, that the United Nations means disunited nations, that a dollar is 52 cents, that to be a financial success these days means you're just barely earning a living provided the transmission doesn't fall out of your car before it's time to trade it in or the picture tube doesn't blow out before the TV set is paid for.

I could go on, but Congressmen, who're always referring to each other as "distinguished," ought to be the first to know that words don't always mean what they say.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

I Would Rather Be Right Than Be President

—Henry Clay

The nebulous, foggy notion of public opinion has done it again. After the recent popularity poll, critics of Lyndon Johnson (namely, the general public) are found to on edge with the way things are being run in Washington.

The recent popularity poll may indicate that President Johnson's appeal to the people is somewhat less than desirable from his point of view; it also demonstrates just how finicky the general public can be.

It's only to be expected that there will always be those who will climb on any majority's bandwagon; and last week, that bandwagon just happened to favor the Republicans. Any opinion poll is sure to be short-lived, and President Johnson has shown his remarkable dexterity in getting the common folks to line up on his side.

One wonders, though, if part of the latest poll's negative results might be overly attributed to the actual way things have been happening. Another factor might be an idealistic one, centered around the fact that patriotic idealism — which has included a deep respect for any President — has taken a back seat to the "give me" attitude so contrary to what Johnson's predecessor had attempted to inspire.

Most are aware of the fact that the recent survey certainly wasn't the first to indicate that Lyndon Johnson's name was being taken in vain. I can well remember a little over a year and a half ago when blank stares of young draft-age men met the morning newspaper with all eyes focused on the latest news from Vietnam and wondered just whose side Lyndon Johnson was on.

President Johnson was able to respond to that little problem as the bombing raids on the North brought a few soldiers-to-be out of the dumps.

But now, indications are that the people are still unhappy with the situation in Vietnam. Lyndon Johnson will probably find a way to gain favor in the hearts of his citizens before long; he knows his game, as anyone will admit.

The thing that is missing, perhaps, is the lack of an idealism that people usually associate with heroes and leaders; what Lyndon Johnson's idealism is, no one apparently knows. Unlike his Democratic predecessor, John F. Kennedy, Johnson inspires little in today's youth.

Let Lyndon Johnson imitate John Kennedy in making the statement, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what can you do for your country?" and young people may well wonder what trick it is that he has up his sleeve.

The President has told congressmen that they have the right to take back their resolution supporting him in the war effort in Vietnam. It's somewhat gratifying to at least see him stick to his guns — and his bombs, if that's what he thinks is going to do the job — rather than try to pick some route that will only temporarily patch up the domestic political situation.

If he can stick out his position in the midst of this recent criticism rather than compromise to gain an immediate positive score on a popularity poll, he may in effect to demonstrating his own faith in his administration, something he heretofore has not really displayed. Congress is institutionally not the leader in the United States, so this could be Lyndon Johnson's chance to make a score for idealistically-inspired leadership. Who knows? In the long run, it may be just as effective (as far as votes are concerned) as the political variety.

50 YEARS AGO

Why don't you get a car? Stop putting it off. Don't hold to the old fashioned idea that an automobile is an expense. It is not. It's an economy.

Take the splendid new Overland, for instance. It costs only $635. It's a beauty. Large enough for your whole family, easy to run; your son and daughter can do it. It has a big, powerful 31½ horsepower motor and is as complete as the most expensive cars in the world. Also, it uses very little gasoline. Bring your family in today and see this Overland. It's the greatest value of the year.

The drought that has continued for many weeks has at least been broken by good rains that have been general all over this part of Texas.

The rains began last week with showers in different parts on Saturday and Sunday and Sunday night heavy rains came amounting to two and a half inches. On Monday night a two inch rain visited the entire section. All the lakes are well filled. The lake in the north part of town is assuming proportions like it did in the spring of 1915 and is already offering local riding for the boys.

While the rains are too late to make the immense fields of grain sorghum that grew here last year, they came in time to make an abundance of feed and much grain.

25 YEARS AGO

Postmaster J. R. Lipscomb this week pointed out that the V-Mail service recently instituted for communication with men in the armed forces is now well past the experimental stage but that postal authorities are still having some trouble with letters which are incorrectly addressed.

Some unusually good values in farm machinery and livestock are feature offerings at the sale tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the H. L. Benefield place 1½ miles northeast of Hereford on Highway 60.

H. L. and Mark Benefield, owners are selling the equipment because of difficulty in securing labor to carry out farming operations and with the shortage of new farm machinery manufactured, the equipment offered is a good buy at this time.

The Hereford Creamery asks that all sweet cream be delivered to the plant before 11 a.m. each morning and the price paid will be 47c per pound. A new flavor ice cream, "Victory", is the special of the week.

Races Today Feature Women

A Powder Puff Derby will highlight today's races at the Hereford Speedbowl, with the females set to go following the regular races.

Races begin at 3 p. m. on the track just south of East Highway 60. Drawings will be held for prizes, with the jackpot of $20 being offered by the Optimist Club.

U.N. OF TREES

NEW YORK—Central Park, not far from the headquarters of World Government, is itself a United Nations of the world of trees.

A new guide, "Trees of Central Park," shows that the 840 acres of greenery has: European beeches, birches, elms, lindens and hornbeam trees; English oaks and elms; Scotch (Wych) elms; Austrian pines; Norway maples; Siberian elms; Himalayan pines; Japanese red and white pines, and Ginkgo trees, from eastern China.

Talk of Texas

By Jack Maguire

WAKE OF THE BLACK WITCH

— Estevan, the Moor, arrived in what is now Texas in 1528 as a slave. He remained to become the favorite medicine man of almost every Indian tribe in the area.

Estevan was the property of an officer of the ill-fated Narvaez expedition that sailed from Spain in 1527 to conquer and colonize the Gulf of Mexico. After shipwrecks and intolerable hardships, four finally reached Galveston Island. Estevan was one of the four; so was Cabeza de Vaca.

After six years of captivity by hostile Indians, the quartet escaped and headed west. With a rudimentary knowledge of medicine and a little witchcraft learned from their captors, they began to practice faith-healing. And the black Estevan, the likes of whom no Indian had ever seen, became a sort of chief medicine man to the savages.

For years, Estevan remained a demigod among West Texas Indians. However, his career ended when he went to New Mexico to woo the Zunis. They regarded white men as gods and reasoned that a black man was a devil. They killed him.

POTEET'S PETITES

— Poteet Canyon, the blonde cutie in Milton Caniff's comic strip, "Steve Canyon," is a Texan all right — but she's really two girls instead of one.

Some years ago, Canyon created the character and made Poteet, in Atascosa County, her hometown. A Houston girl, Nancy O'Neal Ford, was the model. The current Poteet Canyon is Ann Meyer, also of Houston.

SUN LAND

— Only about once every six years does the city of El Paso have a day when the sun fails to shine at all.

It does rain in El Paso, but rarely more than eight inches annually. Rarely do the showers interrupt the sunshine for more than a few minutes.

GOOFY GEOGRAPHY

— There's a Waco County in Texas, but it last appeared on the map 117 years ago.

It was created by the Legislature on January 29, 1842; out of Robertson and Milam Counties. Strangely enough, Viesca, not the town of Waco, was designated as the county seat. Commissioners were named to organize the county government but not much was ever done.

Apparently the Legislature forgot all about the new county. At any rate, on January 22, 1850, they created McLennan County on approximately the same site. But Waco County was never abolished, and it still exists on paper, at least.

INDIAN LORE

— When the Alabama-Coushatta Indians decide to turn their East Texas reservation into a tourist attraction, they had a problem: Not one Indian knew how to build a wigwam.

Tribal fathers decided that two teepees housing guides would please the visitors. To get them built, however, they had to call in some Indians from another tribe to do the work.

Why? Because the Alabama-Coushattas are woodland Indians and they've always lived in log cabins. Most of them had never seen an authentic teepee because these were used only by Plains Indians.

BOOSTER CLUB ACTIVITIES

— Members of the Whiteface Booster Club began their season with a meeting Monday night in which the coaches were introduced (bottom photo). The coaches are, left to right, Keith Munnerlyn, athletic director and head football coach Larry Wartes, Jack Waggoner, Bill Narrell, Bill Defee, Cuby Kitchens and Larry Dipple. The top two photos were taken at a ice cream supper Tuesday night at the football field, when players, their fathers, coaches were guests of the Booster Club. The Whitefaces will be introduced during the club meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Community Center.

Main Street

(Continued from Page 4) crease next year. His or her OASI deductions will rise $43.60, from $290.40 to $334. Again, employers of such workers must watch that sum.

Eventual Rate is 11.8 percent

Nor is that the full story of the tax increases necessary to pay for the higher benefits. The tax rate would rise again in 1969, again in 1971 again in 1973 and finally hit a ceiling of 11.8 percent in 1987. The taxable base would remain at $7600 a year under the House bill. The president had asked it be escalated all the way to $10,800.

It used to be a rule-of-thumb of government planners that the practical limit of Social Security taxes was 10 percent. The Medicare was voted as part of the Social Security program and the ceiling was pierced. Nobody talks these days about a new ceiling because it is obvious that if the present system is to be continued higher benefits have to be met by higher taxes.

Nor is there much use in worrying about the prospective tax bite 20 years hence. Experience has shown that Congress rewrites the Social Security law about every two years. Future tax schedules are always superseded by still higher levies before the effective dates are reached.

FREE FODDER KITCHEN

CALCUTTA, India—While many relief agencies have opened free kitchens for 10 million famine-stricken people in eastern India's Bihar State, a local organization has started a "free kitchen" for cattle of the area.

Cow-worshippers have been contributing liberally so that the kitchen can import fodder from outside areas and save cattle from dying.

Booklet Gives Reasons For Social Security

Why should a man with a wife and young children concern himself with anything that seems far away as social security?

A new booklet, "Social Security Information for Young Families," specifically designed to answer this question is now available, social security field representative Bruce Gray has told Hereford residents.

"Social security is not just a retirement program, and it is not just for old people," Grady said. This new booklet gives the young worker important information about the survivors and disability protection that he and his family have now.

Nine out of ten families in Hereford have social security survivor protection which can amount to over $75,000 in benefits if the breadwinner in the family should die, Grady pointed out.

Disability insurance is the other social security program of particular importance to the young worker. After just five years of work under social security, the worker and his family are eligible to receive monthly benefit payments if he should become severely disabled and the condition is expected to last a year or longer.

Grady said that "Social Security Information for Young Families" explains in detail survivors and disability protection what it can mean to a family, and how to make an application should it become necessary. Also included is information on how to check your social security account and the financing of social security.

Services Held For Former Resident

Funeral services for Hial P. Witherspoon, 77, of Amarillo, a former Hereford resident, were held Monday in the Rose chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home. Burial was in West Park Cemetery.

Born Oct. 29, 1889, at Cleburne, Mr. Witherspoon died August 20 in Amarillo, where he had owned drug stores for many years.

Mr. Witherspoon moved to Hereford in 1901 and lived here until he was 18.

Survivors include a sister Mrs. Brunett McMinn, and a niece, Thelma McMinn, both of Hereford, and a nephew, Perry McMinn of the Summerfield community.

Airman First Class Richard K. Raley

Raley Named Outstanding Airman In Unit

SEMBACH, Germany - Airman-First-Class Richard K. Raley, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Raley of Vega, Tex., has been named Outstanding Airman of the Quarter in his unit at Sembach AB, Germany. Airman Raley, an aircraft equipment repairman, was selected for his exemplary conduct and duty performance. He is a member of the U. S. Air Forces in Europe, America's overseas air arm assigned to NATO. The airman recently returned from a tour of duty at Bien Hoa AB, Vietnam. He is a graduate of Ramona (Okla.) High School.

LEAPFROG CLASSES WAUKEGAN, Ill. - "Operation Leapfrog" classes have started for more than 100 adults with Spanish-speaking backgrounds to enable them to improve their ability to read, write and speak English.

The Rev. A. Paul Reicher, chairman of the Lake County, the program, said, "Operation Leapfrog is designed to help these people jump over the language and education barriers that block the road to a better life."

Program funds are provided by a grant from the federal Office of Economic Opportunity.

The Canada goose can submerge for three minutes and swim one hundred yards under water, the National Geographic says.

MANDRAKE THE MAGICIAN

BY LEE FALK

CONT'D

The PHANTOM

By Lee Falk

PIRACY, 6 MILES UP - AT 600 MILES PER HOUR.

LOWER TO 12,000 FEET. HOLD YOUR NORMAL COURSE.

ARE YOU CRAZY? WE'RE OVER MID-OCEAN! WHERE DO YOU EXPECT TO GO?

YOU CAN'T GET AWAY WITH THIS! WE'LL WORRY ABOUT THAT. FOLLOW ORDERS.

GET GOING BACK THERE, YOU GUYS!

UH!

I TOLD YOU -- SIT!

THOSE JEWELS, LADY-- AND THE CASH IN YOUR PURSE. DUMP IT HERE, PLEASE. NO CREDIT CARDS.

ALL THE PASSENGERS AND CREW, ROBBED.

JUST CASH, FATS. KEEP THE WALLET. HEY, ANOTHER WALLET! YOU HOLDING OUT ON US?

UH-- FORGOT--

FIND THE METAL BOX? YEAH - HERE IT IS. ONLY EIGHT POUNDS. HOW MANY CARATS IS THAT?

JEWEL SHIPMENT! HOW'D THEY KNOW?

THERE IT IS, RIGHT ON THE BEAM!

GREAT! LET'S CUT OUT!

WHAT BEAM?

OKAY, MADMEN, YOU'RE LOADED WITH LOOT AND NOWHERE TO GO. NOW WHAT?

JUST WATCH US!

BRINGING UP FATHER

by BILL KAVANAGH & FRANK FLETCHER

THE INTERIOR DECORATOR ADVISED ME TO MOVE MY PORTRAIT TO THE LIVING ROOM -

IT DOES LOOK BETTER THERE - I HOPE FATHER WILL LIKE IT -

WHY DON'T YOU CHILDREN STAY OUTSIDE IN THE FRESH AIR? WE'RE TIRED, AUNTIE -

WE WANT TO PLAY INSIDE - ALL RIGHT - BUT DON'T MAKE TOO MUCH NOISE -

I SEE MAGGIE MOVED HER PICTURE! I'D BETTER TELL HER I LIKE IT THERE -

I LIKE YOUR PORTRAIT IN THAT NEW POSITION - THANK YOU, DEAR--LET'S LOOK AT IT TOGETHER -

INSECT! I SHOULD HAVE KNOWN YOU WERE UP TO ONE OF YOUR TRICKS!

I HOPE AUNTIE WON'T GET MAD WHEN SHE SEES WHAT WE DID TO HER PICTURE!

Hi and Lois

by MORT WALKER and DIK BROWNE

LOOK AT TRIXIE.. ISN'T IT CUTE THE WAY SHE PLAYS BY HERSELF?

YEAH, IT SURE DOESN'T TAKE MUCH TO AMUSE HER!

OOK! YUK!

HEE. HEE HA HA HA

YAY YAY YAY

DO YOU THINK SOMEONE IS LOOKING DOWN ON YOU AND ME, SAYING, "IT SURE DOESN'T TAKE MUCH TO AMUSE THEM"?
