

Area Growth Blankets Community Life

Which Comes First Homes Or Business?

Hereford Taps All Areas To Stay Even

By Tom Porter
Staff Writer

What effect are the new industries going to have on Hereford? Will there be adequate water, housing and educational facilities for the new workers and their families? Will the city grow too fast?

City, county and school officials say they expect very few problems with the new growth spurt and, as one stated, "these are the type problems we welcome."

At present, there are three major companies building in or near the city limits and a fourth still has its option on a large tract of land. Of the four, Allied Chemical Corp. and Swift's mineral feed plant are under construction on Progressive Road and Texas Meat Co. has marked off its construction site. Wilson and Co. is expected to announce soon final plans to construct a meat packing plant here.

Add the four to approximately 15 homes under construction, the large vocational school, service station, automotive garage, post office building and there is enough activity in the city to remind one of boom days.

Also, major expansion plans are expected soon from Farr Better Feeds and Beefmaster Livestock Supply Co.

None of the local officials have tabulated how many employees are expected to come to work for the new companies—mainly because all of the companies haven't announced their size—but estimates range from 150 families on upward.

Chamber Manager Expects 150 Families

Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Manager Bill Thompson made the guess of 150 families, stating that he was picking that number even though Texas Meat Packing Co. had announced that they alone would hire 150 persons. Thompson reminded that the company also had stated at the same time that they would hire as many persons locally as possible.

Even with Thompson's guess, the 150 new employees would mean about 600 persons, based on an average of four members in each family.

Thompson said he felt there is a critical shortage in rent housing for the middle income bracket family. "It's quite critical and I don't know exactly what the answer is unless it would be trailer houses."

The chamber manager also said he felt the new feed-lots in the area are just as important to employment as the businesses. "As they expand or begin, they are bringing in more people."

Asked if he felt the city might grow too fast, Thompson said "I don't believe we will experience that. Something like that is more apt to happen at an oil boom site." He added that he felt the population spurt "will be welcome to the local retailer. The city has been built for a larger population and I don't think we need any more retail businesses right now."

Statistics compiled for a recent edition of the Wall Street Journal showed that Hereford has captured 11 new industries since 1962. During the same period, the population has increased 42 per cent and bank deposits have risen 50 per cent.

In 1950, there were 1,342 acres in the city limits of Hereford. In 1960, there were 1,782.14 acres inside the city, and there presently are 2,877.40 acres—4 1/2 square miles—in the city limits.

No City Problems

City Manager Dudley Bayne said commissioners expect no problems with water and housing. "We have a number of vacant lots now and just need subdivisions filled in. The utilities are there and the streets are paved."

Concerning the possibility of growing too fast, Bayne said "You're always up against that problem. There's nothing you can do but cope with it as it comes up. I don't believe that will happen here, however."

Plenty of Room In Schools

William R. (Bill) Phillips, secondary coordinator for the Hereford Independent School District, said the question of new families and how many the school could take already has been discussed by trustees. "We have been picking up 150 to 200 students for the last three or four years. We could pick that up with no problems at all."

Continuing, Phillips said Supt. Johnny Clark and the other administration officials have concluded that they could "add five or six elementary school classes without any trouble. And, of course, the junior high and high school are in good shape."

Asked what would be done if the new growth brought in more than the normal enrollment increase, Phillips stated, "If we were to get over 400, we'd just have to take a look at it. If you figure that 55-60 per cent of that figure will be in elementary school, that would be about 250 and we could handle 200 with no problem at all."

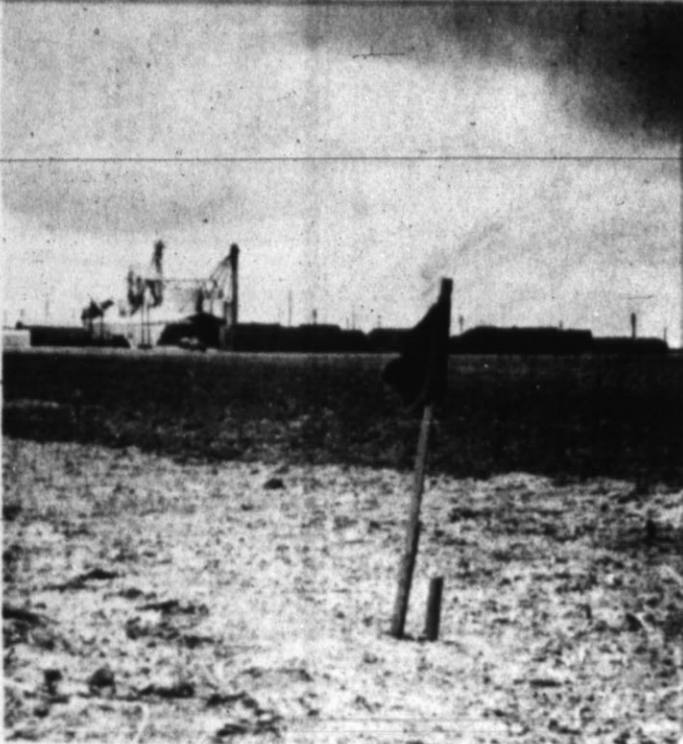

Phillips mentioned using classrooms which have been set aside for special purposes and used only frequently, and as a last alternative, have classes in churches.

When Holly Sugar Corp. came to Hereford, Phillips recalled, "they almost told us how many children they would bring and what grades they would be in. Of course, that didn't take care of everybody because when these people came in, there were some new businesses. But we don't have any indication in this case because they said as many as possible would be hired locally."

Joe Bradley, manager of the Texas Employment Commission, said figures compiled in his office show that there already has been a decrease in unemployment since the first of the year.

Bradley said the reports do not cover farm employment, where there has been some difficulty in finding qualified, year-round farm hands. The new companies, he continued, will require some semi-skilled people and it is possible that his office will have to go to other TEC offices to get the workers required. "We'll take care of them though," declared Bradley.

For the first four months of 1967, building permits totaled $1,151,540, with 37 residential units totaling $445,100.

Clinic Is Slated By Oasis Shrine

Parents have less than a week to plan to bring their children to the annual Oasis Shrine Children's Clinic. The free diagnostic clinic will be held Saturday with registration to begin at 8:30 a. m. at the Community Center. Pre-registration can be accomplished through the family doctor, but even children who have been pre-registered are asked to go to the Community Center, Park and Ave. C, where they will be assigned specialists to see.

Specialists from throughout this area and Dallas will see the children in examining rooms at the Hereford Clinic, Fourth and Miles.

Children with visual, dental or physical problems are invited, ages from infant to 18. No charge is made for the day at all — lunch will even be served in the High School Cafeteria. Oasis Shrine members and their wives are donating their time and paying all expenses of the clinic.

Area doctors, nurses and medical assistants are donating their time, as are the specialists. Thursday's Brand will have pictures of many of the people who have helped with the clinic which has been held for 11 years.

Charlie Bell, president of Oasis Shrine, emphasizes that the clinic is only as successful as the number of children who can be helped.

"This is not a charity clinic — it is a concentration of specialists that parents could never hope to see without an arrangement like this, Bell explained.

Khiva clowns will be on hand to keep the little ones entertained while parents are filling out forms and contacting doctors in the area or by talking with a Shriner.

Clean-Up; Fix-Up Urged For City

Building permits show that Hereford is growing with new construction, but they also show that many people are adding to homes, expanding businesses and generally improving property that they own. Spring is traditionally the time to paint trim, refurbish the whole house, and fix that sagging fence.

A town is only as progressive as its efforts to maintain what has been built.

Downtown Hereford has kept a fresh progressive look because merchants and building owners have maintained their stores. Buddy Bloomer has been out this spring with a paint brush brightening trim around his store front; N. D. Bartlett has put new fronts on some of the stores he owns in Hereford. Johnny Pool has done extensive remodeling of his store on Main Street. Many others work to keep their establishments in top notch condition.

Homeowners have a continuing job if Hereford is to stay bright and fresh. Harley Davis is one of many home owners who has undertaken extensive remodeling of the exterior of his home. Several houses on Ave. J have had new siding, screens about town are getting a dash of paint — in fact, painting and fixing are quite contagious — look around — see the improvements and let it "catch" at your home or business.

Mrs. Cayler Named Secretary Of Month

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

The variety in her job is a factor which appeals to Kathleen Cayler, newly-designated Secretary of the Month in Hereford. Mrs. Cayler is secretary to D. C. Martin, principal of Aikman Elementary School, but her boss is not the only one who has the benefit of her services.

Faculty members at Aikman praise Mrs. Cayler as a willing aide with some of their paperwork, and sometimes her help extends to the pupils.

Answering a telephone call recently she was asked by a friend who wanted to learn whether she was free for a moment's conversation, "What are you doing now?"

"You won't believe me if I tell you," Mrs. Cayler promptly replied, "but I'm sewing up a rip in a boy's pants!"

Such chores for the pupils are not common, but in an emergency the secretary is willing to lend a hand even though her chief responsibility lies in keeping office records and reports up to date.

For the past three years, since secretaries were assigned to elementary schools in Hereford, slender, blue-eyed Mrs. Cayler has had that position at Aikman. Previously she had substituted at Central School, and her secretarial experience includes seven years in an AS-CS office.

The former Kathleen Kelly of Perryton, she studied typing and related office skills in high school there, later in two years at West Texas State University. Her Irish ancestry indicated by her name, Kathleen is a native of the Panhandle, born in Higgins.

She and her husband, Harry E. Cayler, vice president of First National Bank, live in a ranch-style brick home at 218 Beach. Her only child is Mrs. Jim Burks of Spearman. The Caylers have lived in Hereford almost 20 years.

Work in their yard is an activity shared by Mr. and Mrs. Cayler; the couple keeps the attractive lawn and has the shrub-bordered back yard furnished with table, chairs and swings which indicate that it is a favorite spot for their hours at home.

Mrs. Cayler disclaims a hobby because she says her job and homemaking demand too much of her time, but she likes to read and to knit when there is spare time. She is a member of First Baptist Church and is

Man Is Injured In Fall

Billy Redmon, about 23, received a fractured pelvis Friday afternoon at Farr Better Feeds Co. when he fell through an open service door and fell some 25 feet.

Redmon, who lives in the 300 block of Barrett Street, was listed in good condition Saturday morning at Deaf Smith County Hospital. Dr. John McCrary, attending physician, said Redmon had numerous bruises but the major injury was the fractured pelvis.

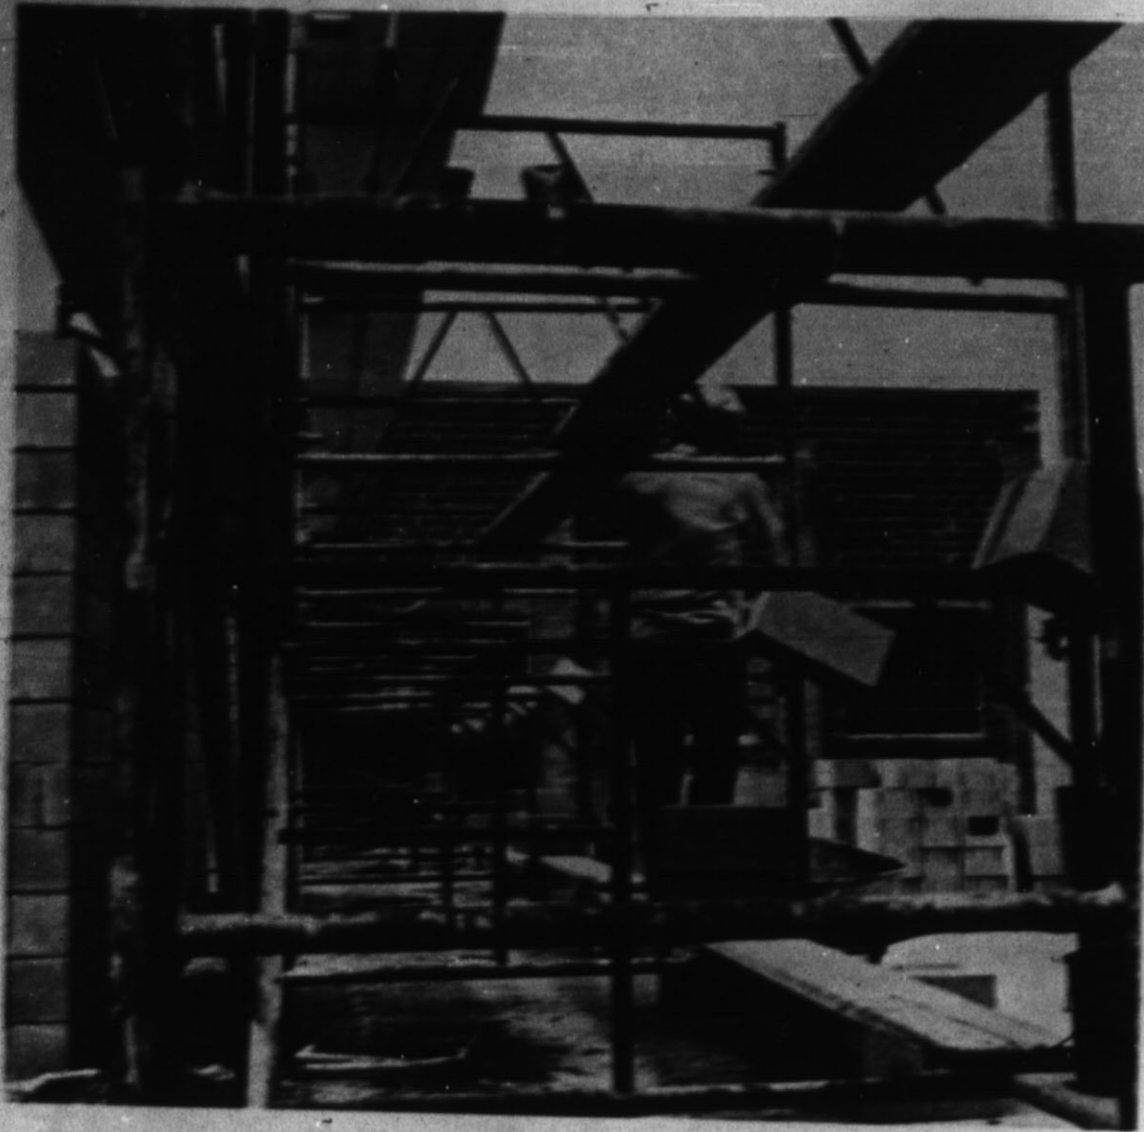

Workers at the scene said Redmon had fallen through an opening of a metal service door, which serves as part of the flooring when closed. The service door is just past the entrance on the inside of the building.

Fellow employees said Redmon who is mill operator for the company, had known the service door was raised but appeared to have been turned backward talking to someone as he entered the building and backed into the hole.

He was rushed to Deaf Smith County Hospital by ambulance about 12:45 p. m.

Youth Fined After Chase

A 19-year-old Oklahoma youth was fined $25 in Corporation Court Friday morning after he was arrested on 25 Mile Avenue Thursday night by an off-duty policeman.

Tommy Bradley Whorton was charged with speeding and failure to secure a Texas driver's license by city policeman.

A. J. Dickens, who was off duty at the time, said he saw Whorton speeding north on 25 Mile Avenue about 7:45 p. m. Thursday and gave pursuit. While still behind the auto, he met policeman Bill Stephens traveling south on 25 Mile Ave. and motioned for him to assist.

Dickens stopped Whorton and ordered him out of the car. Whorton refused because Dickens was not in uniform. Stephens arrived at the scene and Whorton left the car. Whorton accepted a ticket for not securing a driver's license, but refused to sign the ticket for speeding because he said he was not going 40 in the 30 mile zone, as the ticket indicated.

Whorton was arrested, jailed and later released on a $100 cash bond. He appeared before Corporation Court Judge Jim Nell Friday morning and received the fines.

Police officials said it was illegal for Dickens to stop the car because "by law, a policeman is a policeman 24 hours a day."

A CASE FOR NOISE

TUCSON, Ariz. — Don't make your kids turn off the radio when they're studying. It may improve their grades.

Two sixth graders, Patrick Spellman and Robert Dimus, asked six teachers to give their classes a list of 20 fairly difficult spelling words.

Students studied the words 15 minutes in complete silence in three classrooms, and made 365 mistakes.

where radios, record players and television sets were going full blast, the students made only 282 errors.

The 11-year-old researchers reported their findings at a science fair at the University of Arizona.

State or local officials, farmers and other persons interested in details of the 1967 Greenspan program should call, write, or visit the ASCS County Office.

Greenspan Plan Offered Farmers

Greenspan, a part of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Cropland Adjustment Program, is becoming increasingly popular, according to Frank J. Besser, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee.

Reports he has received show that cities, counties and other public entities confronted with conservation, recreation and open space problems, are turning in increasing numbers to the Greenspan program for help.

The Cropland Adjustment Program (CAP), authorized by the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965, is divided into two parts. One part applies to farmers, the other to public entities. For farmers, it provides adjustment payments and conservation cost-sharing to help shift land out of serving uses for periods of 5 to 10 years.

The Greenspan provision of CAP authorizes equivalent help to public entities — local, state, or federal — desiring to buy cropland for permanent conversion to nonfarm uses such as the preservation of open spaces and natural beauty, wildlife habitat and recreation, the prevention of air and water pollution.

Greenspan help is being applied to a wide variety of uses

Slight Injuries Caused By Wreck

A two-car collision late Wednesday night at the intersection of Park Ave. and U. S. 385 sent two persons to the hospital with little injuries.

The accident occurred when a 1966 car, driven by Virginia Martin, Fullwood Apts., ran a red light and struck a 1963 car, which was driven by Freda G. Dameron, 607 Star.

The damages totaled about $900 and the Dameron auto accounted for $400 of that.

Two citations were issued at the scene of the accident. One was for driving while intoxicated and the other for no driver's license.

No "joiner," Mrs. Caylor says she limits memberships in organizations because she does not like "the idea of joining an organization when you do not have time to work in it."

If she has a hobby it is her job. "You couldn't help liking to work when it is with such a wonderful group of people as the Alkman faculty," she says. A number of the teachers she has known since she began work as a substitute in the school system here.

That her liking for them is returned, is indicated by their seconds to Martin's recommendation that she be considered for Secretary of the Month Award.

"Efficient, pleasant and always helpful," were the descriptive terms her boss used.

Tribute Is Paid To School Trustee

By TOM PORTER
Staff Writer

In a brief, informal ceremony Friday afternoon, J. C. Morrison was saluted for 22 years of service to the Deaf Smith County school system.

Morrison, who farms 6 miles west of Hereford on Farm-to-Market 1058, was presented a plaque and "thanked" for a usually thankless job. Morrison did not seek re-election in the April 1 election.

The plaque, from friends of Morrison, was presented by Don Zimmerman, former county judge and present county school board president. County Judge H. C. Williams assisted.

A Deaf Smith County resident since 1927, Morrison was elected to the school board in 1945. At that time, he recalls, there were "somewhere between 1,300 and 1,500 students" in the county schools. Enrollment now is about 4,800.

Most vivid in Morrison's mind during his tenure is a six-week period in 1949 during which the board never adjourned. He explained that the period began when the Gilmer-Aikin law was passed reorganizing the public school system.

With passage of the law school boards over the state were given 30 days to dispose of the dormant school districts, including all facilities and property.

"We met every Saturday for six weeks," said Morrison. "We couldn't adjourn because we couldn't settle it. We put out lots of work there."

Morrison also saw the transition of schools from independent to a consolidated rural high school, and then back to an independent school district. The schools still operating when he joined the board included Westway Summerfield and Dawn.

Morrison guessed that he had served on the board with more than 20 men, who he described as being "all real fine men." Citing an example, he said board members knew the taxes would be higher when they joined the rural schools with Hereford, but it was the feeling of the board that it was best for the children.

Morrison served as secretary of the school board for most of his 11 terms. During the same period, he served on the West Texas Rural Telephone Board seven years, was a Deaf Smith County Commissioner four years

Paisano Honors Ladies, Seniors

The Paisano Lions Club, a civic club only a year old, held a banquet Friday evening at the Jim Hill Hotel in honor of 15 graduating seniors of Hereford High School. Also, the banquet was for the installation of the new club officers for the year, 1967-68.

Secretary, Charlie Moreno and treasurer, Robert Delgado. Lion Tamer will be Ernie Castaneda and tall twister will be Buz Abalos.

New directors who will be joining Soto, Joe Soliz and Paul Abalos will be Paul Villarreal and Domingo Rodriguez.

Outgoing president Joe Soto gave his thanks to the club for having served as its first president.

Appreciation awards were presented to outgoing tall twister, Richard Esquivel and Noe Salinas, who was cited as the workhorse for the year.

The seniors that were honored were George Pena, Alex Guerrero, Arthur Tijerina, Richard Gonzales, Emma Rodriguez, Irene Barola, Mickey Maldonado, Esther Cabrera and Inez Sambrano.

Also honored were Adrian Garcia, Hope Gallegos, Elio Del Toro, Domingo Pena, Virginia Barron and Aurora Salinas.

Edelman presented various awards to the incoming and outgoing officers of the club.

He also spoke on Lionism and what one must do to better it. Officers for the coming year are president, Ed Salinas; 1st vice-president, Alex Torres; 2nd vice-president, Julio Valdez; secretary, Charlie Moreno and treasurer, Robert Delgado.

LION COUNTRY
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — It's happened at last, South Africa, known for centuries as the lion country, now has to import the big cats.

They are coming from such "lionless" places as Europe and Britain.

"The 25 lions we are importing are undoubtedly the offspring of lions which had originally been exported from South Africa," a spokesman for the importing concern said here.

"We can in fact buy lions locally but this will result in a reduction of the lion population of our game reserves," she added.

The lions are destined for a 10 miles north of Johannesburg. Eventually the 900-acre reserve will sport 100 lions, giraffe, zebra, many species of willa buck rhino, hippo and monkeys.

The spokesman said, the 100 lions would be the largest single pride in Africa. They each cost 600 Rand ($840).

Morrison guessed that he had served on the board with more than 20 men, who he described as being "all real fine men." Citing an example, he said board members knew the taxes would be higher when they joined the rural schools with Hereford, but it was the feeling of the board that it was best for the children.

Morrison served as secretary of the school board for most of his 11 terms. During the same period, he served on the West Texas Rural Telephone Board seven years, was a Deaf Smith County Commissioner four years

Police Report Two Accidents

No casualties resulted from two separate traffic accidents which occurred Wednesday and Thursday afternoons.

In the Wednesday mishap, a 1960 car, driven by Jimmy E. Victor of 1412 Ave. K, was involved with a 1962 sedan that was driven by Jamie S. Edmonson of 801 Star.

Both vehicles sustained minor damages with the Victor auto accounting for $75 while the other resulted in about $150.

The accident occurred as both vehicles were traveling north on Ave. K and the one in front slowed to make a left turn onto 15th Street. The vehicle in back struck the one in front.

Improper observation was the citation issued at the scene of the accident.

In the Thursday mishap a 1963 Dodge pick-up, driven by Jerry H. Albracht of 221 Ave. B, and a 1968 pick-up, driven by John M. Gorman, 3300 W. 7th Clovis, were the two vehicles involved.

The accident occurred on 25-mile Ave. as both vehicles were traveling north in separate lanes. The vehicle on the inside memory of Henri Dunant, Swiss-born philanthropist who founded the humanitarian organization in Geneva in 1863.

May 18 is the anniversary of Dunant's birth, and is being celebrated by the international organization as World Red Cross Day. The 1967 theme is Protect. Health-Prevent Accidents-Save Life Through Your Red Cross.

On Red Cross Day this year, says Melvin Jayroe, president of Deaf Smith Chapter, the organization is stressing a recruitment campaign aimed to add hundreds of field representatives to the staff which is serving men in military service. Staff members are needed in military installations in this country as well as overseas, and the new recruits will be assigned to duty first in the United States and then outside. Information about this program may be secured by interested persons from the county Red Cross office here, at 319 Sampson.

Those eligible are U. S. citizens, preferably with military experience, 21 to 45 years of age, in good health, available to go overseas and with a college degree or acceptable work experience.

She and Mrs. A. L. Manjeot attended the state meeting and Mrs. Hill was on the program at the closing dinner, introducing the speaker.

Next year's state convention city will be Corpus Christi, and the new state governor is Mrs. A. E. Barton of Houston.

END-OF-SCHOOL FUN — Deborah Hodges, left above and at lower right, was hostess at a dance Friday evening to about 50 friends from classes which are leaving junior high schools this spring, ready for high school years ahead.

A thirsty crowd around the punch bowl at intermission, and dancers caught in candid shots on the ballroom floor at Hereford Country Club give varying views of the spring party.

Young Crowd Dances

Friends in school through junior high, many of them through the elementary grades as well, approximately 50 young guests danced at Hereford Country Club Friday evening when Deborah Hodges and her parents, the A. E. Hodges, were hosts.

Spring parties for the crowd have become traditional in the Hodges home; in the past there have been such informal entertainment as backyard wiener roasts and barbecues, but since the group is completing junior high this year the more formal party was held.

To music of the Tyrants, the young guests danced through the evening and enjoyed refreshments from the long table set up at one end of the ballroom, holding the punch bowl and snacks.

Gay red cloths covered side tables, each centered with a yellow taper held in a flower-decorated bottle.

Rites Held For W. A. Perciful, Ex-Resident

A burial service for William A. Perciful, 75, of Hutchinson, Kan., former Hereford resident, was conducted in West Park Cemetery Saturday afternoon by the Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor of First Methodist Church.

Mr. Perciful died in Hutchinson Thursday after a long illness. He had been associated with the American Express Co. for many years, at Greenville and Amarillo as well as Hereford in Texas, at Clovis, N. M., Winfield and Hutchinson, Kan.

Born Aug. 18, 1891 in Gainesville, he married Glenna Ruthford, who survives him. He is also survived by a daughter, Glenna Lee, of Hutchinson, and four sisters, one of whom, Mrs. Charles L. Smith, lives in Amarillo.

Funeral rites were conducted in a Hutchinson chapel Friday. The local arrangements were by Gilliland Funeral Home.

California Man Promotes Bravos

Bravo Smokes will be sold in Hawaii and in California by a man who pledged $1 million in radio air time to campaign against smoking.

Al Petker met with Puzant Torrigan, president of Bravo this week, to work out final details for distributing the nicotine free smokes manufactured in Hereford. Petker is president of Active Programming, Inc., a California corporation. He has worked actively in public relations and advertising for several years and made the million dollar offer after he quit smoking after suffering a heart attack. He said that the death of others due to lung cancer was instrumental in his decision. He said that millions are spent on research to prove that cancer and other disease are caused or aggravated by smoking but "no one is battling to help people overcome the hab-

Drivers School Plans Are Made

Adults desiring driver's license instruction in the Hereford area are being offered a free instructional course by the Department of Public Safety. Classes are tentatively slated for June 5, 6 and 8. The place has not been determined, but will be announced later.

The course, to last from 7:30 to 9 p. m. on the three nights, is designed to help people who are having trouble securing a driver's license. Patrolman Dick Burchfield, stationed in Amarillo with Safety Education Service, one phase of the department of public safety, said that he hopes to conduct the course

Dick Burchfield plans drivers school

He stated that interest in the tobaccoless smoke, Bravo, is high in Hawaii and that he is anticipating a good market there.

as a bi-lingual course.

"We could help so many more people that way," he explained. He said that driver's manuals had been printed in Spanish and that the test can be given in Spanish, but that many persons need oral instruction in Spanish before they can pass the test.

Persons registered in the school will not be charged at all and will be under no obligation. They will study the actual questions such as are asked on the test and modern techniques of audio-visual teaching will be used. Overhead projectors will be used to show driving rules in action and to illustrate signs and their meanings.

Registration will be conducted at the beginning of the first night and upon completion of the course, those attending will have assistance in filling out their application blanks for driver's license.

People who merely want to brush up on laws and proper driver rules are welcome to attend. Patrolman Burchfield said that many people fear regulations that will be imposed by proposed legislation requiring re-examining of drivers and that schools such as this will help them have more confidence if the laws are passed.

Burchfield said that he hopes to have Chester Fant of Quanah as an instructor for the course planned this June.

Similar schools have been conducted in Groom, Tulia and Lubbock and Burchfield said that later he hopes to conduct a driver improvement course

Cotton Farmers Set Referendum

Cotton farmers in Deaf Smith County will vote in the middle of May to decide whether they want to be able to sell or lease their cotton allotments outside the county, Frank J. Bezner, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County that will help drivers to meet problems posed by modern traffic and highway systems.

More information may be had by contacting the highway patrol office in Hereford.

The Sunday Brand, Hereford, Committee, has announced.

The referendum on the question will be conducted during the period May 15 through May 19. Ballots may be returned by mail or delivered by hand to the ASCS county office during that time.

The only question to be decided by the balloting is whether upland cotton allotments may be transferred during the next two years to farms which are owned or controlled by someone else and located in other counties. Such transfers may be made by sale or by lease. In no case may transfers be made outside the State.

An affirmative vote by at least two-thirds of the county's cotton farmers who vote will permit such transfers during the next two years, 1968 and 1969.

Two similar referendums were conducted in 1965 and 1966 throughout the Cotton Belt, and growers in 412 counties have already approved the allotment transfers. The vote this May will be held only in counties where such transfers have not previously been approved.

The Chairman points out that voting by mail is easy and convenient, and the vote therefore should be large and full representative of the wishes of cotton farmers in the county.

H.D. CHATTER New Fabrics Change Color

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Home sewing is booming and many women are making fashionable clothes from exciting fabrics on the market. Every spring it seems the fabrics are prettier. Simple designs and patterns make sewing easier.

One thing new this spring is the textile development of fabrics that change color. When a fabric or garment is purchased, a chemical is given the customer. When you tire of the color, use the chemical and the color will be different.

However, the color can be changed only once. The fabric is called chameleon, taken from the chameleon lizard that changes color for protection.

A quote from the National Institute of Dry Cleaners: Chameleon fabric is, no doubt, welcome by mothers who face the psychological block of hand-me-down clothes from one youngster to another. Color-changed dresses handed down from older to younger daughter take on new freshness.

Last season's sports clothes such as slacks, jumpsuits and bathing suits can take on fresh new hues. Tired colors of bedspreads and drapes can be changed to harmonize with the new color scheme.

Here is an impressive spring-time menu and idea for giving the hostess time to visit guests.

- SUNNY SALAD
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
3 tablespoons sugar
1 1/4 oz. can frozen orange juice, undiluted
3 drops red food coloring, optional
2 drops yellow food coloring, optional

- 1 cup canned crush pineapple, drained
2 cups canned applesauce
Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve in boiling water. Add sugar, frozen orange juice and food coloring if desired. Stir until orange juice concentrate is melted. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Fold in crushed pineapple and applesauce. Turn into a 1 1/2 quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Accompany with tangy sour cream dressing. Makes 6 servings.

- TANGY SOUR CREAM
1 1/2 cups sour cream
1/4 vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon onion, grated
1/4 teaspoon paprika
Combine all ingredients. Beat until stiff. Makes about 1 3/4 cups dressing.

- MOCK SOUR CREAM (Low Calorie)
1/3 cup skim milk
1 teaspoon lemon juice
8 ounces dry cottage cheese
1/4 teaspoon salt
Blend all ingredients in blender until smooth and creamy. Refrigerate until serving time. Delicious on molded fruit desserts or salads. Makes 1 cup. Each tablespoon - 15 calories.

- ASPARAGUS AND RICE CASSEROLE
4 cups hot cooked rice

Clinical Findings Released On Effect Of Bravo Smokes

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Four Philadelphia physicians have published clinical findings that show smoking of a new brand made from biochemically processed and cured lettuce leaves has "statistically significant" less effect on pulse rate and blood pressure changes than smoking tobacco cigarettes.

The tobaccoless smoking products used in tests at Lankenau Hospital, Philadelphia, were manufactured under U. S. patents by Puzant C. Torigian, pharmaceutical chemist, who heads the company now producing Bravo Smokes. Since the tests were conducted, his company in Hereford, Texas has sold 3.5 million packs of lettuce smokes and offers the product as a nicotine-free replacement for tobacco smoking.

In a report to the press, Torigian noted that the April issue of Angiology magazine carries the report (by Drs. Sandy A. Furey, Jan Schaaning, Stanley Spont and Newton C. Birkhead) on comparative tests conducted on 10 healthy young adults, all regular smokers between 19 and 30 years old. In controlled environment, on successive mornings, the subjects smoked either two lettuce-leaf smokes or two of a popular filter brand cigarette. Blood pressure, pulse rate and skin temperatures were recorded every four minutes for 32 minutes.

Torigian reported that the hospital tests showed:

The average maximal increase in pulse rate was 22 beats per minute for the tobacco smokers and four beats per minute for the users of the lettuce smokes. Average maximal increases in systolic blood pressure were 9mm of mercury among tobacco smokers and 4mm for those using lettuce. The same comparisons for diastolic blood pressure change were increases of 10mm for tobacco and 5mm for the lettuce users. Average finger skin temperature decreased to a maximum of 4.5 degrees Centigrade with the tobacco and 3.8 degrees with the lettuce smokes.

He quoted the medical report's statement that, "Smoking of lettuce leaf cigarettes had less effect on the circulation than smoking of tobacco cigarettes, when measured by these parameters."

Bravo Smokes were introduced — as a new concept in smoking — late in 1965, with regional marketing in Texas. In short supply, despite additions to the company's factories, they have been sold in other selected areas of this country and the United Kingdom, mainly through drug chains and some tobacco and confectionery wholesalers. There also has been distribution through mail-order channels.

The product gained its first retail exposure in the New York metropolitan area at mid-April, through the Genovese chain of drug stores in Queens, Long Island and Westchester.

Torigian, 44-year-old inventor who developed Bravos after eight years of laboratory work, is an avowed foe of nicotine and bases the case for his product on the absence of that chemical in lettuce leaves.

In its product information program, Bravo Smokes are billed as "The smoke for quitters," an appeal to smokers of tobacco who wish to give up the habit.

In most retail outlets and by mail (from Bravo Smokes' sales office in Hereford, Texas) the new smokes are sold by the carton only.

Recognizing that many smokers may not like the product initially, Torigian reports that, "It takes almost a carton for the smoker to get used to the different taste and aroma of Bravos. After giving the nicot-tine-free smokes a fair try, many people come to prefer them."

Torigian, a graduate of Columbia University's College of Pharmacy, puffs only a few Bravos a day and never touches tobacco.

"I believe people shouldn't smoke at all," he says, "but if smoke they must, they're better off with Bravos... until something safer comes along."

WHAT KIND OF BIRD? — This bird, seen for several mornings on the lake at the intersection of Progressive and Austin Road might possibly be an egret. Gerald Wilson, who passes that spot each morning about 8 o'clock said that he has seen three whites and two red birds and that he believes they are egrets. They seem fairly gentle, rarely flying at the approach of a vehicle, but being frightened when approached closely on foot. (Hereford Brand Photo) phase of the cattle industry.

"The commercial cattle feeding industry has experienced a phenomenal growth in Texas during the past ten years," he said, "and we anticipate a continuation of this enlargement of the number of commercial feedlots in the state during the immediate years ahead." During the past decade, Texas, already the leading cattle producing state, moved up from tenth place to third place as a cattle feeding state. Association officials anticipate that Texas will move into second place as a cattle feeding state within two years or less.

BURGLARS WORK — Police had little trouble in finding evidence of burglars at the Hereford Community Center and high school Wednesday morning. Shown are pry marks on a door in the school's business office and a broken door pane in the Community Center. The door in the center was opened after the pane was broken. (Hereford Brand Photos)

Burglars Strike School, Center

The Hereford Police Department is continuing to investigate burglaries at the Community Center and high school cafeteria and the theft of an automobile transmission, all having occurred during the night Tuesday.

Police said a coke machine in the cafeteria received about $31 damage when burglars apparently entered the building through an unlocked door. Also entered was the business manager's office, tax assessor-collector's office in the connecting administration office, and an attempt was made to get into the vault in the tax office. Desk drawers were searched.

The Community Center was entered after the sliding door on the east side of the building was forced open. A desk drawer was pried open, the key to a coke machine removed and used to open the machine. Damage to the door was estimated at $10 and an undermined amount of money taken from the machines.

Valention Hernandez of 510 Brevard reported to police that someone had taken a 1963 Chevrolet station wagon transmission from his property during the night. Hernandez said he and friends had taken the engine from the car so he could overhaul it and covered the engine with a tarp when they quit work about 10 p. m.

The transmission was unbolted from the engine by the thieves, who also stole an alternator. Total value of the stolen articles is about $185.

A burglary at Dick Barrett Produce, Inc. over the weekend was reported to officers Monday. Entry was gained into the building, located on E. New York, through a hole in the east side. A window pane then was removed in a west office door and entry made into the office, where all desk drawers were opened and a roll of fivecent stamps and box of pens inscribed with the company's name taken.

Candy and cold drink machines were damaged by prying on the doors and breaking of the glass front. Total damage and the value of the articles was about $70.

Steve Luxford, a defensive back from McLean, Va., will captain Dartmouth's 1967 football team.

Cattlemen Build Organization

Following a meeting of its executive committee this week, the Texas and Southwestern

Cattle Raisers Association announced plans to enlarge and expand its services and activities related to the cattle feeding industry in Texas. Ben H. Carpenter, president of the Association, stated that the Association would announce shortly the appointment of a new staff man to head up its enlarged activities in this important

Communication Is Kiwanis Topic

Communications was the topic discussed by two of Hereford's leading businessmen during the program of the weekly noon luncheon meeting of the local Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Clint Formby, manager of KPAN radio station, and Melvin Young, general manager of the Hereford Brand newspaper, gave each other's view of ways in which people communicate.

Formby discussed how sound creates imagination whenever heard and explained the advantages of it to other sources of information.

Young gave the history of the local newspaper and how it strived to stay alive among the many difficulties it met since it was first started in 1901.

During the program, Dean Herring, president of the club, announced that the Key Club, a school club sponsored by the Kiwanis, will meet for the last time this school year Monday at 7:30 at Ward's Restaurant.

Also announced was that the Kiwanis club had a 100 per cent attendance last month.

Gene Campbell, past president of the Kiwanis Club, introduced and welcomed three new members to the club. Accepting new membership were Orval Watson, Bob Sims and Carl McFaul, pushing the total number of members to 61.

The friendship dollar was awarded to Woodie McDermitt by Bill Wells.

METS SET SOME RECORDS

NEW YORK — In compiling their best won-lost mark in their five-year history, the New York Mets set 12 club records and six individual marks.

Chuck Hiller's 16 pinch hits, the 11 pitching victories by Jack Fisher, Dennis Ribant and Bob Shaw, the 16 stolen bases by Cleon Jones and the 13 games saved by Jack Hamilton were individual highs for the expansion club.

Brothers Home After Army Duty

Overseas military service which sent two brothers to widely separated parts of the world has ended for Billy and Julius Roberts, and the sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Roberts, Star Route, are back home in Hereford after three years.

Sp/4 Billy Roberts served in Viet Nam, jumping with the first combat parachute assault in that area. He had previously been stationed in the Dominican Republic.

As a radio carrier repairman Sp/5 Julius Roberts was in service in Italy and Germany. He was discharged from the army April 26.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Our new time arrangement reminds Mrs. Lee Curry of the story of the Indian whose blanket wasn't quite long enough to cover his feet. He solved the problem by cutting a strip off the top and sewing it on the bottom, she says.

AT THE SUMERFIELD, Study Club lunch where Mrs. Curry and others were commenting on dislocations incident to time shifts, Mrs. R. E. Lance put in a complaint that I can second.

She says the long evenings are not satisfactory replacement for the short mornings. We sleepy-heads who hate to wake up at any hour, hate it more if it is still darkish outside when the alarm goes off.

Another remark about the fast clocks came from an acquaintance who says the people who hold extra jobs, previously called moonlighters, will have to be known as daylighters because they now finish their second shift before the moon comes up.

ONE HAPPY FAMILY here, the Coneways have cause for celebrating the return to the United States of Ensign Clinton J. Coneway's ship which has been involved in the fighting in Tonkin Bay, one of the hot spots in Viet Nam.

The Paul Coneway family went to the West Coast this week to be in San Diego when their oldest son gets back from the wars. Ensign Coneway has been assigned to duty in that area for the present. His grandparents, the Ray Coneways, hope he will soon have a leave and can come here for a visit.

He is chief navigator on the destroyer Stoddard, one of the vessels hit in shelling on the bay, but fortunately not damaged past repair.

The Hereford man received his commission on graduation from the University of Texas last year, one of 11 in the field of nuclear engineering.

ON A ROUND OF club lunches Thursday (somehow women's clubs schedule their special meetings in bunches) it was nice to find Mrs. D. H. Alexander at the Bay View party. She's been spending a lot of time this winter at Seagraves, where her daughter lives.

Part of that time she has been in a hospital, she said with a little grimace of distaste for such frailty, but she was certainly looking chipper enough as her long-time friends in the club greeted her enthusiastically. As bright as the daisy deto make their homes here at present. Billy Roberts is married and his wife, Ina, has been living in Hereford several weeks awaiting his return.

Speedway Opens This Afternoon

The official opening of racing at the Hereford Speedway will be at 2 p. m. today, weather permitting, at the site east of the city on U. S. 60.

High winds and blowing dust prevented the opening ceremonies for the racing season last Sunday. At that time, the announcement was made that races would not be held that day. Speedway officials decided that the size of the crowd warranted the races, however, and they were held.

Drivers from Hereford, Clovis N. M., Amarillo and the surrounding areas are expected to participate in the races. General admission is $1, with children under 12 admitted free when accompanied by their parents. Prizes will be given on the ticket stub number.

The route to the Speedway is marked with flags.

Cokes Uses His Head And Moves Ahead Professionally

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Curtis Cokes, the fellow who found the gold when there wasn't even a rainbow, is a good fighter because he thinks things out.

Cokes became world's welter-weight champion at the age of 29 after retiring three times.

He had grown tired of chasing the rainbow that had long since faded. He couldn't get remunerative fights; when he did he was out of condition or ill and lost a TV appearance that could have put him on the glory road.

But suddenly it all opened up again when the champion was disqualified on ground he couldn't hold two titles at the same time. There had to be an elimination to decide the welter-weight crown.

Cokes was included and returned to boxing. But another fellow who was supposed to cash in — the guy who beat Cokes when he took a fight that might pay him some money only to fail because he wasn't prepared properly for it — didn't want in on the thing.

Thus Cokes got the title by winning one fight instead of two.

So he jumped into the big money and at the same time showed he was a capable fighter when given the opportunity to work at it with some thought — and with a chance to make something besides chicken feed.

But despite the fact that he defended his crown against Jean Josselin of France and won a non-title fight impressively, the fans criticized him for not being aggressive and of being too much a defensive fighter who made the action slow. Some said he bored them.

Cokes told the other night why he became that kind of a fighter.

"I started out as a slugger when I was an amateur but I got a broken nose and decided if a fellow wanted to keep clear of injury and not start walking on his heels he had to protect himself," said Cokes. "I started letting the other fellow be the aggressor and come to me."

When Cokes became a pro fighter, he went along with the trend and became aggressive once more. But he ran into this problem when he got to fighting the six-round preliminaries: All that action made him so weary he had trouble finishing, and he could imagine what would happen to him when he moved up to 10-rounders.

It was back to defense and counter-punching.

So Cokes has been fighting for nine years, is world champion and hasn't a mark on him. He also doesn't have his brains scrambled and doesn't walk on his heels.

"I would like to give the fans what they want but I believe it's more important that I fight the way I am best suited to fight," he explained. "I also want to come through it without being crippled up. And I believe winning is more important than putting up a show."

That sounds like the philosophy once expressed by Darrell Royal, the very successful football coach at Texas, who had teams that played dull but made a record that furnished the excitement. The old grads didn't worry about how the Longhorns played — the record was more invigorating.

A bright young fellow is Curtis Cokes. He has a Championship belt and money in the bank to prove it. Other things that attest to it are that he can look at you quite clearly, does not mumble, doesn't have to hide his scars and doesn't have to have a bright rainbow to guide him.

He'll make more when he defends his title against Francois Pavilla of France in Dallas May 19 than in all of his previous 56 fights.

Banquet Spots WTSU Seniors

CANYON — Seniors captured all the honors here Thursday night when the 1967 West Texas State University All-Sports Banquet unfolded in the East Dining Hall on the university campus.

Hank Washington, who shattered all West Texas passing marks in only two years with the Buffaloes, was named honorary captain of the 1966 squad that posted a 7-3 record. Washington won the Kleinschmidt Award, presented by J. Wesley Kleinschmidt, local businessman to the most valuable football and basketball players as selected by a committee headed by Kleinschmidt.

Cornerback Tom Krempasky, the Buffs' defensive signal caller last season, was selected as honorary co-captain of the 1966 football team. Both Krempasky and Washington have signed professional football contracts, Washington with the New York Giants and Krempasky with the Detroit Lions. Ten members of the 1966 Buff team have signed pro contracts more than any other university or college in the nation.

Phil Hampton, starting center on last year's football team, was named recipient of the President's Award. Aside from his role on the gridiron, Hampton is a member of Alpha Chi, National university honor society and was recently selected to es and Universities.

Who's Who in American College. The President's Award was created in 1955 by Dr. James P. Cornette, president of the university, and he established the criteria of "citizenship, leadership, loyalty and cooperation, improvement in ability and general attitude." The basketball awards were shared by guard Rodney Teague and forward Mickey Fitts. Fitts, the Buffs' field goal percentage leader for the second straight year, and Teague, the team play maker, were named as honorary captains of the 1966 team that led the nation in free throw accuracy.

Fitts, who never played high school basketball, also won the Kleinschmidt Award as the team's most valuable player. Mickey led the team in rebounding (7.6) field goal accuracy (.554), and ranked as the Buffs second leading scorer with an 17.6 average. This marks the second straight year that the 6-5 Canyon native has won the Kleinschmidt Award.

"Fitts selection marks only the second time that someone has won the award for two straight years," said Kleinschmidt. "The last time someone was selected for the second year in a row was 28 years ago when Foster Watkins repeated as our winner."

Teague, the Buffs' third leading scorer with a 9.7 average and a solid defensive performer, also won the Canyon Rotary Club's Fighting Heart Award for his hustle, desire, teamwork and spirit.

There was no featured speaker at the affair and Pampa radio man Warren Hasse served as master of ceremonies (MC.) Bob Davis, Buffalo Follies MC, provided the entertainment singing selected songs from the fast-paced musical revue that closed last week before turn-away audiences in Amarillo's Tascosa High School Auditorium

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Manion were called to Oklahoma Thursday by the serious illness of his father, who had suffered a stroke.

The H. L. Jenkins of Wellington brought their grandson, Sam Warrick, home Wednesday, after he had spent several days visiting them. Sam is the son of the Bill Warricks.

Mrs. Richard Price and her mother, Mrs. Paul Corbett, were moving Mrs. Corbett's parents Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Greer to Littlefield Hospitality Home during the first of the week. The Greers have lived many years at McLean, having reared their family there.

95 ENGINES FOR APOLLO

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. — The Saturn 5-Apollo spacecraft combination that will carry American astronauts to the moon late in this decade will have a total of 95 engines of various thrust.

Forty-one of the engines are on the 36-story-tall Saturn 5. The largest are five F-1 engines with total thrust of 7.5 million pounds to lift the 3,000-ton vehicle off the ground. Control engines ranging down to a thrust of only 70 pounds are located throughout the rocket.

The three-man Apollo spacecraft has 54 engines for steering through space, including the motor which two of the astronauts will use to launch themselves from the moon to rejoin the third spaceman who will orbit the moon while they explore.

PRE-SCHOOL

Pre-school children tend to be lovable, eager, and neglected. Each year, schooling becomes more important and also more accelerated. More is expected of a child as he enters first grade, and correspondingly more is demanded of him as long as he lasts in school. Especially with the recent emphasis on vocationally-related schooling, few persons doubt that an education extended at least through high school is an important asset to every individual, every family, and every community.

Many states include pre-school in the public education system and other states are weighing the merits of this step. It is known that a child tends to achieve in school in proportion to the cultural and moral support he receives outside of the classroom as well as according to the quality of the education that greets him in school. Thus, to be adequately prepared for school, a child must have had extensive visual, aural and oral experience before he can meet or master even the most elementary schoolwork. The child must also be psychologically prepared to enter a group situation and to function successfully and happily in it.

Pre-school is particularly important to Spanish-speaking children in the Hereford area because in school they will face a language barrier in addition to being deficient in earlier learning experience. The Hereford Labor Camp is the temporary or permanent home of a proportionately large number of pre-school-aged children, even during the winter and spring. The Casa de Amigos, the Goodwill Center, and the San Pablo Mission operate pre-schools which serve the Labor Camp and other Spanish-speaking families in greater Hereford. During the summer months, the St. Joseph's Mission conducts a large pre-school, but the San Pablo School is then discontinued.

The two pre-schools conducted at the Casa de Amigos currently have a steady enrollment of forty children ranging in age from four to seven. These children come from twenty-six separate families. All of these families speak only Spanish in the home, except for some English words in common use among Spanish-speaking people in this area. It is rare for any of these parents to have completed the sixth grade. Of the twenty-six mothers, fifteen speak no appreciable English and only five have a practiced facility in the language. Of the twenty-six fathers, twelve speak no appreciable English and only five have a reasonable command of the language.

With the exception of eight families (five on S. Schley St.) these twenty-six families live at the Labor Camp in private homes and in the barracks. At present, there are no children enrolled from the Griffin-Brand or A & P camps. While all but a few of these families have a television set (radio is tuned to Spanish programming; there

SENATOR YARBOROUGH REPORTS

Rural Electric Bank Will Provide Cooperative Funds

Dear Fellow Texan:

One of the most vital parts of the American economy is agriculture. The farmer also helps or culture. Whatever helps or hurts every other person in the country, whether that person lives in the rural areas or in the big cities. During my ten years as your United States Senator, I have devoted much time and effort to working for a prosperous agriculture in Texas and in the Nation. Outlined this week are a few of these actions I have taken during this present session of Congress in these first four months in 1967.

I am co-sponsoring with Senator John Sherman Cooper, a Republican of Kentucky, and Senator Walter Mondale, a Democrat of Minnesota, a bill to create a Rural Electric Bank. This Bank would provide more money to the electric cooperatives, which would be permitted to obtain low-cost loans from their own bank, somewhat similar to the federal farm loan banks. More electricity brings more production on our farms, benefiting all Americans.

The Rural Electric Bank would operate in such a way that eventually the government would leave control of the Bank to the cooperatives so they could finance themselves. This is a plan by which Congress, instead of appropriating all of the federal tax money to the coops to build their electric lines, would create a bank, thereby enabling the rural electric coops to finance themselves.

On March 16 of this year, I introduced a bill to provide for building of extensions to the American Canal at El Paso, Texas. The amount of irrigation water saved by this extension of the canal would relieve the great shortages of irrigation water that the Rio Grande project in the El Paso area has

LIVING THEATER RETURNS

The company, headed by Julian Beck and his wife, Judith Malina, will display five plays developed during travels abroad. In the meantime a final settlement of tax matters is being negotiated.

Program plans have been completed for the Mid-Plains Pioneer Day Celebration to be held in Hereford.

The annual affair is slated for May 30, a Tuesday at the Bull Barn.

Pioneer Study Club will register guests and will have a formal greeting for visitors.

The club will serve coffee and doughnuts to guests during registration time.

Mrs. W. C. Davis is in charge of dues and will have a table arranged for members convenience.

The meeting will be called to order at 10:30 a. m. with Cecil Gilliland Williams, president of Mid-Plains Pioneers, presiding. A. J. Schroeter will give the invocation and Mayor Ray Cowser will give the welcoming address.

Caldwell Hicks, Garden City, Kansas will respond.

Reading of the minutes and a treasurer's report will be presented by the secretary-treasurer.

A need for an expanded pre-school program. Starting in July three or four pre-schools will be held. Volunteers will be needed to conduct these pre-schools, with one VISTA worker for each pre-school group. Of course, it is important to the children and to their pre-school experience that volunteers be able to work on a regular basis with the same group of children. If you have questions to ask or time to give, please visit us at the Casa de Amigos or call Miss Vasquez at 364-2503.

TAKE A NUMBER

NEW YORK (AP) — The latest device used to ease the wait of ticket-buyers in long box-office queues is use of a theater auditorium as a waiting room.

Alexander H. Cohen, producer of the hit "Black Comedy," instituted the innovation, coupling it with an automatic number system so that no one would lose his place in line. To while away the wait, newspapers and magazines are distributed.

4-H CLUB SEES FILM

The Ford 4-H Club will show the film, "On The Square," Wednesday at 4:30 p. m. at the Hereford Community Center.

All 4-H Club members and their families are urged to attend as is the public. No admission will be charged.

Mothers Concert Planned May 14

CANYON, May 1 — A special Mothers' Day concert, which will also premiere two new compositions by Dr. Houston Bright, will be presented May 14 at 3 p. m. in the Fine Arts Auditorium at West Texas State University. The concert is free. Presenting the concert will be the select 44-voice University Chorale, the Brass and Percussion Company, and the University Woodwind Quintet, under the direction of Dr. Bright.

The "Matribus benedictio" will pay tribute to all mothers in the audience. To be sung for the first time is "The People that Walked in Darkness," composed by Dr. Bright this spring. Local audiences will also hear for the first time the WTSU composer-in-residence's "Panthea and the Echoes." The work for chorus, which features an off-stage girls' ensemble, was composed on commission last year for the Morgan School of Clinton, Conn. It was premiered in a February concert by the Morgan School choir.

Soloist on "Panthea and the Echoes" will be Helen Collard of Spearman, soprano. The "echoes" voices will be Nancy Davis of Canyon, mezzo soprano; Jean Gray of Pampa, soprano; Lela Harris of Canyon, mezzo soprano; and Sharon Smith of Midland, soprano.

Ronnie Reed of Amarillo, tenor, will be soloist for "In that Great Gettin' Up Mornin'" by Hairston. The University Woodwind Quintet will perform two numbers, "Divertimento No. 8" by Mozart and "Three Shanties" by Arnold. Members of the group are Darrell Garrison of Guymon, Okla., horn; Terry Milligan of Tulla, clarinet; Richard Rath of Pampa, oboe; Diane Smith of Amarillo, bassoon; and Randy Vaughn of Amarillo, flute.

The University Chorale will be accompanied on three selections by the 10-members Brass and Percussion Company. These will be works composed by Dr. Bright, "Now Deck Thyself with Majesty and Excellence," "West Texas State," and "The Final Encore."

Other selections on the program will be "Cantate Domino" by Pitoni, "Lament" by Leburg, "Il est bel et bon" by Passereau, "Alleluiah" and "Sheep May Safely Graze" by Bach, "Sure on this Shining Night" by Barber, and "Hospodi Pomilul" by Lvovsky.

In addition to local concerts, radio and television appearances, the Chorale tours the Tri-state area each year, performing in high schools, churches, and convention halls.

Many of the more than 50 published compositions by Dr. Bright have been performed in Europe as well as the Americas, and some have been professionally recorded under such labels as Capitol and RCA.

Last fall, his trilogy for chorus and orchestra, "Isaiah in the Temple" was premiered by the Amarillo Symphony orchestra and chorus.

AWARD CLIMAXES TERM — Two years' service as governor of District I, Texas Garden Clubs Inc., was climaxed for Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. of Hereford Thursday evening when she was one of the honorees at the awards banquet at the state Garden Club convention at Houston. Mrs. Hill was presented a life membership which members of District I voted to her at their convention last month. She has accepted the state chairmanship of presidents' reports. Mrs. Hill and Mrs. A. L. Manjeet, both members of Hereford Garden Club, represented Hereford gardeners at the Houston meeting.

Comings and Goings at King's Manor

April was a busy month at Kings Manor, with visits from garden club members who worked to get the grounds ready for summer and groups of entertainers who gave a variety of programs and parties.

Garden Clubs and a group of Bluebirds who are in a Junior Garden Club, came out on different days. They planted bulbs and seeds, cleaned flower beds and reset plants which will bloom in the months ahead.

They also had trees trimmed up in shape to look their best this summer. Grounds are already attractive as the grass and trees turn green, and rose bushes across the front of the Manor building are beginning to bloom.

A birthday dinner at mid-month honored several residents whose birth date falls in April. Each was serenaded with "Happy Birthday" on his special day. Some received lovely decorated birthday cakes from their families to add to their pleasure.

Entertainment during the month has been provided by visitors from the Future Homemakers, the Plainview Strummers and a musical group which calls itself the Red Hots, six members who all played homemade instruments in a program which was fun for the performers and listeners.

Friona Woman's Club members gave a program at the Manor, serving refreshments to all the residents and then introducing a girls sextet from First Baptist Church which sang several beautiful numbers. The club women also brought a number of books as gifts to the Manor library.

The Rev. Melvin Manette, pastor of the Methodist Church at Wildorado, has showed two film programs which were much enjoyed.

Other visitors, family members and friends of the residents, helped to make April a very pleasant month at the Manor, and were all greatly appreciated by the residents.

A group of members of First Baptist Church at Lazbuddie came with the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Beach, who conducted a prayer meeting one day. They sang special songs as part of the service.

Lunch And Trip Made Club Event

A field trip was taken by Simms Study-Craft members Wednesday afternoon, when they went to Canyon and visited a greenhouse where plants are grown and a florist shop where the plants and blossoms are marketed.

The outing began with luncheon at the Caison House, then the group drove to Canyon. After touring the florist shop they stopped for refreshments before the return home.

Plans were made for their final meeting of this season, a salad luncheon May 17 in the home of Mrs. Charles Durham.

In the party Wednesday were Mrs. J. M. Boothe, Arliss Edwards, F. L. Eicke, E. L. Young, Lewis West, Julian Perrin, Jim Perrin, Leland Burnes, James Cavin, Durham and James Bullard.

THE THREE MUSKETEERS . . .

ANTI-AMERICAN SEEDS ARE BEING SOWN WIDELY

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Preoccupation with events in the Orient seems to be an occupational ailment of news media these days. So it is all the more that President Johnson traveled to Pinar del Rio as a reminder that there is a Latin America.

Washington, Fed. China, Indonesia are matters of intense concern to Americans. There is war, and the threat of expanding conflict. Democratic interests and institutions are under severe attack there and meticulous care must be exercised in choosing the right policies to pursue.

But we submit that Latin America, Europe and Africa are important, too. In some ways they are equal or more important to the future of the United States than the Orient. Long range, the evolution of the governments and the peoples in these areas will have a vital impact on the development of our own democratic society.

It is more than an axiom that the squeaky wheel gets the grease, or that one's attention is called to the source of the loudest noise. In Latin America and in Africa, the time to help build strong democracy-oriented societies is now. Neglect could well sprout widespread anti-Americanism, the seeds of which already have been sown in these areas.

We are a big nation, with a big government. We should be able to meet the situation in the Orient and still have the human and financial resources to encourage democratic development in other parts of the world.

● FLORA—One of the new men in Congress is Rep. Gilbert Gude, R-Md. Gude is a Washington area florist. As one enters his office a variety of plant life lends color, and one naturally assumes that they were sent to him from his florist and nursery establishment. Not so. The beautiful flowers were sent to Gude's and other offices by the U.S. Botanic Gardens, and were found too attractive to turn away. One of Gude's aides commented wryly: "It's another example of the government competing with private business."

● GOOD QUESTION—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara summoned a press conference to discuss U.S. troop shifts in Europe. The secretary enthused on how much money was being saved in moving the American forces out of France without reducing combat effectiveness. His rosy picture nearly crumbled when a newsman asked disingenuously: "Why didn't we do it a long time ago?" McNamara gasped, then joined in the general laughter that swept the room. As a matter of fact, the same question could be asked of almost every announcement of improvement in government policies or procedures. And in most cases the candid answer would be: "We should have."

Golden Triangle Clasped By Hand Of Prosperity

Announcement this week of the huge beef packing plant in Friona came as welcome news not only in Friona, but in neighboring Hereford as well. Because the new installation is labeled the "biggest in the world", it is all the more important to the area.

While a few individuals have asked, "Why didn't Hereford get this plant?", it seems to us that the location in Friona is excellent. Neighboring communities are naturally rivals in seeking industry but, unless the entire area grows, it seems to us that the industry may not be too well adapted in the first place. Our feeling was the same about the grain sorghum processing plant announcement in Dimmitt, and we believe that it is sound, especially concerning the feeding, processing and handling of beef.

Most of this beef finishing industry is moving to this area from the mid-west, where it flourished for many years. We could not tell you the name of any single town which was outstanding in the area, but everyone knows that Iowa was the place where cattle were corn fed. "Where" was not too important, chiefly because most of the communities offered about the same advantages — and all of them drew as much volume as they could handle. The situation will, of course, be pretty well the same in this territory. Consequently, what helps Hereford will help Friona and Dimmitt just as new industry in these two towns will help Hereford.

As further proof, many of us have seen the vegetable industry grow from a few into a multi-million dollar income for the area under consideration and, always, the more vegetables grown in the district resulted in mutual growth and benefit to all three towns.

For more than three years we have been endorsing Mayor Cowser's proposal to establish a Golden Triangle organization which would include Deaf Smith, Farmer and Castro Counties. Representatives from all three communities could work together for mutual benefit and growth. Chiefly, because these counties rank among the top 10 in the world's highest per-capita income, the territory should be sold as a package, rather than individually. The feed lot and beef processing growth is a good example — and we feel that the surface has only been scratched in future progress along several lines in the entire triangle.

In more recent years, Amarillo has come to see things along the same line and, fortunately for all concerned, has replaced its previous "big I" attitude with one of help and cooperation. As a result, Amarillo is growing along with other towns within its trade area, and all are happier and more prosperous.

With a hungry, growing Southwest and definite economic advantages from Golden Triangle beef finishing, there is no end to the possibilities for the entire territory. We are happy indeed to see the people of our neighboring communities become aroused and go after some of this business. As we said, the result can be nothing but beneficial for all concerned, including Hereford and Deaf Smith County.

Shrine Clinic Is Rewarding Effort

The Oasis Shrine Clinic, scheduled for May 13, is an event which many of us have come to take for granted. In truth, it stands as one of the finest clinics of its type in the country.

Each year, 150 to 250 youngsters are examined and diagnosed for 300 to 400 different ailments, which establishes the country.

Cures frequently result from the clinic, which is the best accomplishment of all. In other cases, people learn how best to handle and live with some of the cases Hereford Clinic as unique throughout the which are not corrected, and this is equally valuable in many cases. To those not faced with health problems, this may not appear important but, to those who face such problems, it is the most important thing in the world. The fact that it is conducted on a cost-free basis to patients and parents is within itself a factor in which the sponsoring Shriners should take extreme pride.

In addition to direct benefits evolving from the annual clinic, it also provides the secondary benefits of foresight, community interest and brotherly love upon which this community was founded, and which it zealously upholds. All of us, without doubt, are indebted to the Oasis Shrine Club of Hereford, and to the members who have done so much in the name of humanity.

How Does Time Strike You?

How do you like Daylight Saving time after one week?

The answer to this question is strictly individual in opinion, and it varies quite extensively. Most people, however, seem to have turned their clocks up Saturday night and pretty well have taken the change in stride.

The most universal complaint against DST appears to center around the factor of early rising and this, after a time, will likely disappear. Almost everyone seems to like the extra time at the end of the day which, after all, is the prime excuse for existence of Daylight Saving time. Many are scheming ways to work in extra golf game or so each week, other figure more time with the family, and we heard of one old boy who is quite happy because he can spend a little more time with his horse. What's more, if resolutions of the wives of budding yard enthusiasts are carried out, Hereford will no doubt be the most beautiful little town in the country.

Pretty well promoted by national television networks, Daylight Saving time went near nationwide for the first time this year and, from what we hear, it will probably be with us from now on. There were mishaps, of course, like the young lady who reported for work at 12 o'clock Sunday on a 10 o'clock schedule with the excuse:

"My husband must have turned the clock back an hour instead of turning it forward."

Hereford, a mere 50 miles from another one-hour change to Mountain time, may well find DST less applicable than some cities in downstate and gulfland areas of Texas, which enjoy more "sun time". So far, it has not been too bad, and if we can find some way to eliminate the continual "yawning of folks in all walks, it does seem that we may live with Daylight Saving time at least until October, when the next change occurs.

AN EXPORT SOUGHT BY ALL

The label "Made in Japan" has come a long way since pre-World War II days when it was synonymous with toys whose durability was as slight as their cost. Today it applies to a variety of highly regarded products, many of them improvements on designs borrowed elsewhere.

Japanese are now also doing something else better than anyone else in the world — killing themselves and their countrymen in auto accidents at an unprecedented rate, five times that in the United States.

The government plans legislation designed to correct this. It is an effort the world will watch with interest for everyone would welcome an effective new system of highway safety, even stamped, "Made in Japan."

Youth Is Not A License To Disrespect Country

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — Patriotic Americans have endured much in recent years from youthful crackpots protesting one thing or another but surely outrage is the only word to describe the feelings of most people who saw the picture or read about the recent flag burning in a New York park.

Americans today hold few things sacred but if the flag is not on everybody's list there is no list at all. Patriotism may be old fashioned but respect for the flag ought to be mandatory for everybody claiming the protection that the flag symbolizes.

New York City policemen witnessed the Central Park flag burning but did nothing to prevent the misguided peace demonstrators from carrying out their traitorous act. Doubtless New York's finest were under strict orders to do nothing that would provoke a riot. Just possibly most Americans would have preferred police action to prevent the flag being burned, even at the risk of a riot.

Suppose a New York policeman, perhaps one with a son in the front lines in Vietnam, had been unable to stomach the flag burning. Suppose this patriot had disregarded orders, pulled his pistol and threatened to shoot anybody who desecrated the flag. Suppose the demonstrators had persisted and the policeman had shot and killed the first youth to touch a match to the flag.

Would that patriotic policeman have been adjudged a trigger happy cop guilty of murder? Or would the American public have backed up his defense of the flag? It is interesting to speculate on what verdict public opinion would have rendered.

No Law Protects Flag
Most people will be surprised to know that it is not a Federal offense to burn the American flag. There is a New York state law that apparently can be invoked to impose a $50 fine on the New York flag burners. No doubt the Communist Party would be delighted to pay that fine. If not, Hanoi would surely forward a check upon request.

Long before the New York flag burning, a bill was pending in Congress to make it a Federal crime to deface, mutilate, or desecrate the American flag in public. More than 150 House members supported the bill back in 1946 but it never even received a hearing. Possibly politics doomed the bill because it was introduced by a Republican Rep. Richard L. Roudsbush of Indiana.

The Roudsbush bill was reintroduced on the first day of the 90th Congress last January. It is H. R. 1297. It has rested in a pigeon-hole of the House Judiciary Committee ever since. Possibly a few patriots are still

THE BOOTLEG
—Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his birdwood farm northwest of Hereford seems a little tax happy this week, his letter indicates.

Dear editor:
It finally happened. I have no notion how it got out here, but a fat copy of the New York Times blew against my front gate some time last night and this morning I found it flat on its face. The paper was just a Thursday issue, and had it been a Sunday one, no telling what would have happened. Splintered the gate, I guess.

I can say this, the publisher of the New York Times may know a lot about the newspaper business but he doesn't know much about gates, or why else would he put so many pages in his paper? You won't catch The Hereford Brand pulling a stunt like that.

However, since it was here and all I had to do was bend over to pick it up, I picked the paper up and sat down on the front porch to read while I got used to the idea of not having to close that gate anymore.

New York, I discovered, like Lubbock or Houston or Dallas or nearly any other place you can name is having trouble finding enough tax money to operate on, and I was interested in one proposal.

A lot of people, it seems, live outside the city and come in to work, earning their living there and enjoying the cultural advantages, the running water, streets, parks, and whatever police protection they can get, but don't pay any city taxes.

Therefore, the idea was to tax them as they come in, to force them to carry their share of the load.

This suits me all right. Fair is fair. And then I got to thinking. A lot of people live in the city and come out in the country to enjoy the scenery, etc., but do they help pay for my running water and the fresh air and other advantages I produce out here?

Therefore, when a city taxes country people coming in, country people ought to tax city people coming out. They could use the same booth.

This way, both sides would increase its tax revenue. You'd have money coming in all the time, as people came and went.

The Chamber of Commerce has engaged the services of Miss Rambaugh, head of the department of Home economics in the Northwest Texas Normal College at Canyon, to deliver a series of lectures on the preparation and preserving of foods. These lectures will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, beginning Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 and continuing from day to day for four or five days. They are open to all women, and every housewife in Deaf Smith county is urged to attend.

A class of twenty-two pupils will be graduated from the Hereford High School on Monday evening. The following pupils will receive diplomas: Wesley Anthony, Glenn Boardman, Wallace Cox, Raymond Hawkins, Paul Guthrie, John Wesley Baker, Robert Wilson, Donald Duree, Bruce Sullivan, Jack Mountz, Ethel Sutton, Johnnie Mae Borne, Claudia Duncan, Eby Dendy, Mary Alice Dickert, Edna Hunter, Helen Jenkins, Ruth Myrick, Dot Owen, Hallie Womack, Dolores Daugherty, Irene Combs.

Tuesday afternoon the Boy Scout committee, appointed by the Parent-Teacher Club, held its first meeting. Claude Ricketts was elected chairman of the committee since Prof. Wilson is to leave the city and cannot act in that capacity. Mr. Ricketts was authorized to secure all the information necessary for organization at once and to have this effected as soon as possible.

Stating that the brief in support of a Farm Security labor camp for Deaf Smith County was "most complete and satisfactory," Jesse B. Gilmer, FSA area director, this week wrote to E. B. Posey, secretary of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, that the farm labor camp has been recommended to the national office of the government agency in Washington.

According to one Hereford flower-lover, it's almost disgusting the way Iris thrives with practically no care at all. It may be disgusting to the flower gardener who likes to work hard at his hobby, but it has certainly improved the appearance of many Hereford yards this spring; and with more and more gardeners beginning to make special collections of named varieties of the plant, Hereford can look to even more colorful springs in the future.

The grasshopper poison station will be open Friday at the Hereford Sale Pavilion, A. R. Bateman announced today, inviting farmers to come in early and get a supply of the poison mix.

"Grasshoppers are just beginning to hatch in this county," Bateman says. "But they are doing great damage to the wheat in the Lubbock area and we want to get an early start poisoning the pests here."

New regulations received this week by county agricultural workers have set the pattern for all future farm construction in Deaf Smith County, County Agent A. R. Bateman said this week, urging that farmers comply with regulations and get started now on the storage and labor housing construction which will be needed in the immediate future.

This issue of the Brand appears under adverse conditions due to the fact that the office was moved this week into the Buckner-Lambert building, immediately south of the Star Theatre.

Many regular features have been left out. Community correspondents have been shortened, along with general news coverage, society news and advertising. Moving 200,000 pounds of equipment is no small task at any time and the job was increased through shortages of materials and help.

NDEA Institute Accepts Teacher

Miss Paula Green of Hereford Public Schools has been selected as a participant, one of 22 from school districts in Texas and the Southwest, to attend an NDEA Institute in English for Speakers of Other Languages to be held at The University of Texas in Austin from June 5 to August 4. The announcement of the selection of teachers and administrators was made by Dr. Carl Personke, Institute Director, from his office on the University campus.

In announcing the selection, Dr. Personke noted that, "These participants have been selected from among a large number of highly qualified educators as potential leaders in their school communities. It is our hope, and the intent of this Institute, to supply them with new skills to improve and up-date the educational program offered the Spanish-speaking child in the important, formative years of the primary school."

The Institute, supported by funds from the U. S. Office of Education under Title XI of the National Defense Education Act, is being offered for the third consecutive summer in Austin. It will focus on techniques of teaching English to speakers of other languages through instruction and practice-teaching experiences with new audio-lingual materials developed in San An-this bill and make it law. H. R. 1207 would impose a fine of not more than $1,000 and a prison sentence of not more than one year on "whoever publicly mutilates, defaces, defiles, defies, tramples upon or casts contempt, either by word or act, upon any flag, standard, colors, or ensign of the United States." Surely that is not drastic legislation. Surely it will not vitiate the right of protest. Surely it will not violate the Constitutional liberties of any American. Surely it is a law that should have been added to the statute books years ago. What are you waiting for, Congress?

Protestors Coddled Too Long Flag waving has been cut of style for years but flag burning by Americans is an act of treason few thinking citizens can pass off as mere mischief by misguided youths. Congress recently passed a law to make it a crime to burn a draft card. Enforcement has been slow at best.

And maybe that slow enforcement explains why the lunatic fringe is now applying the match to the flag. Maybe officials have been leaning over backwards too long. Maybe it is time to crack down. Coddling of unruly demonstrators has not worked, the record shows. Patriotism can't be legislated

'Adopted' Club Friends Are Visited On Tour

Visits to the friends whom Messenger Home Demonstration Club has "adopted" this year, were included on an all-day tour by members on their meeting day Friday, which began at the home of Mrs. S. N. Thweatt.

The group drove to Hereford and made a short tour of residential streets, looking at new homes and at blooming lawns before going to the Caison House for lunch. Afterward they spent some time in Deaf Smith County Museum.

Their first visit was to Kings Manor, where their senior citizen of the year, Mrs. Edna Culver, is a resident. Mrs. Culver was out that afternoon so they left a basket of fruit as a gift and went on to the Westgate Hospital unit where a former club member, Mrs. Floyd Brown, resides.

They enjoyed a visit with her, took snapshots and showed her pictures of recent club activities, admired a picture she has painted lately with materials given by the club, and felt rewarded when she told them she has been happier the past month, since the club "adopted" her, than for several months before.

A bit of shopping and refreshments at sidewalk tables in Sugarland Mall followed, and after driving back to their own community in far western Deaf Smith County, they visited the J. L. Smiths and Mrs. G. W. Pinkerton, other senior citizen in whom they are interested. Baskets of fruit were left at each visit.

High Altitude Course Offered

The Texas Aeronautics Commission, in cooperation with the Commander, Reese Air Force Base and the Federal Aviation Administration, will sponsor a High Altitude Training Course at Reese AFB, Lubbock, Texas on June 23, 1967.

Pilots interested in attending this one day course should contact: Texas Aeronautics Commission, 204 West 16th Street, Austin, Texas 78701.

In the party were Mmes. John Jones, Elton Sorrells, Bill Page, Elmer Northcutt, H. D. Buse, Thweatt, and the club mascot, Mrs. Page's nearly-a-year-old daughter.

This training course will be limited to 33 pilots. Applications must be received not later than June 16, 1967.

The class will begin promptly at 8:00 AM in Building 1239 at Reese AFB. The Air Police at the main gate will give directions to Building 1239.

When training is to be accomplished at Air Force facilities for general aviation pilots, a training fee of $5.00 is required. Participants should bring pilot certificates and medical certificate dated within the past twelve months. Lunch will be "Dutch Treat." It is suggested that those who "fly in" plan to remain overnight due to the fatigue factor associated with the high altitude chamber "flight."

BOB PRICE NEW BRUNSWICK, TEXAS

1000 LINDENWOOD DRIVE, WASHINGTON, D.C. • 200-1706

The Armed Services have done a commendable job in helping indoctrinate new Congressmen in the defense posture of our country for a better understanding of the need for authorization and appropriations for present and new weapons, systems and methods.

A group of us were recently flown from Washington to a submarine base in Connecticut early one Saturday morning where we boarded one of the Polaris submarines for a test run. These nuclear-powered submarines are one of our greatest deterrent systems in that even should an enemy nuclear missile attack knock out some of our launching installations, the long-range submarines are still capable of a massive retaliation instantly from wherever they might be. This is undoubtedly the mightiest submarine force in the world in spite of any numerical superiority the Soviet Union might have.

The Polaris force is augmented by a fleet of fast nuclear-powered attack submarines whose main objective would probably be in defending our shipping lanes from enemy submarines.

The Air Force has also conducted inspection and acquaintance tours for the new Congressmen in groups. As a former Air Force jet pilot myself, these tours were extremely interesting and informative especially because I would like very much someday to serve on the Armed Services Committee in addition to the Agriculture Committee.

On the weekend Air Force tour, we visited the Strategic Air Force Command Headquarters at Offutt AF Base, Nebraska, the nerve center of SAC. We were briefed there on AF capabilities of countering an attack by a foreign country, the role of SAC in the Viet Nam war, the types of ordnance employed in Viet Nam and the effects of bombing in Viet Nam and future plans in that war.

The second stop was at Vandenberg AFB, California, where we witnessed a regular scheduled launching of a ballistics missile in a testfiring to a distant Pacific range. We were able to follow the pinpoint accuracy of the shot by radio communications with the target area. We also inspected some of the missile silos and discussed their capabilities.

We visited the First Strategic Aerospace Division at Vandenberg AFB, where we were briefed on the mission of the Space Systems Division, launch and orbiting vehicles, unmanned satellite programs and advanced planning and technology of the program.

At the Tactical Fighter Weapons Center at Nellis AFB, Nevada, we observed and were briefed on the latest types of aircraft and ordnance now being used by our fighter and attack bombers in Viet Nam as well as new type trainers. Inasmuch as I have kept my hand in flying, I arranged for a later check out in one of the newer Phantom F42 fighterbombers used by both the AF and Navy in Viet Nam. Earlier this year, I checked out in one of the new tactical jet trainers. The F42 is a much faster and more versatile plane than the F100's I flew in Korea and the one by which most of the Russian-built MIG's have been shot down in Viet Nam. The Navy version operates from carriers as well as land bases.

The stop-over at the Air Force Academy on the way back to Washington was also most interesting and especially because of the appointments each Congressman is allowed for outstanding applicants from his district. The AF curriculum is impressive as both a liberal education and the making of AF officers and pilots.

Although I have been critical at times of the conduct of the war in Viet Nam and some Department of Defense decisions, I am greatly encouraged with what I have seen and learned of our military preparedness and defense capabilities and confident that the United States can meet any aggressor at any time.

We were assured that there is no shortage of pilots for fighters, bombers or other types of aircraft nor of any type of ordnance, material or supplies necessary to present or possible missions of any of the services.

I hope we may keep it so, even though the cost is astronomical. Freedom once lost might never be bought back at any price.

Texas Not Real Tornado State

The tornado season is well under way in the United States, but for those Texans who become terrified at the thought of twisters, figures show that the state is far from being the most likely place for one to occur.

Tornadoes actually hit every state on the mainland and can swoop down at any time. But the worst period is from spring through much of the summer.

The Weather Bureau, through its Environmental Science Services Administration at Austin, reports that Texas has had an average of 3.1 tornadoes per square mile during the last 15 years. Compare this with Oklahoma with 9, Kansas 7.2 and 19 other states ahead of Texas.

Because of its size, however, the deaths have mounted in Texas since 1916 to 979, but only a fraction of the 8,827 of the United States.

Of that 879, one of Texas' great twin disasters took 125 lives in one day.

This came when a tornado struck San Angelo, killing 11 and injuring 159 with property loss of $3,239,000 May 11, 1953. Then within about an hour, the most severe one in Weather Bureau records struck Waco. Killed in that disaster were 114, while 567 suffered injuries. Property damage reached $41,156,000.

Strangely, 1953 was not a year for a great number of tornadoes, with only 32 striking ground in Texas.

For many years, a tornado at Goliad and the one at Waco were reported as having taken the same toll.

But two years ago, W. L. Lutenbacher, then 77, said the Goliad twister may have killed 285 persons.

"It took so long getting the names," he said. "Some of them we never did know who they were."

The Goliad tornado struck May 18 at 3:35 p. m. Lutenbacher said debris was carried 24 miles.

Highest in number came in 1867, when it seemed that one tornado after another played tag about the state, and the final count reached 145.

The climatologist report notes that an apparent increase in tornadoes is not that at all. It is credited to increased public awareness of tornadoes, better reporting and more people to see them as the population increases.

As example of how poorly tornadoes were reported in 1916, start of the compilations, when only 2 were shown for Texas. Since then, there has been an uneven increase in the number, but generally tending upward.

In the 50 years of records, there have been six years when there were no twister deaths and 32 years when there were less than 10 deaths a year.

In the last 15 years, through 1965, Texas has had 1,210 tornadoes, or an average of 80.1 a year. The majority of these swoop down in open country and cause minor damage.

Tornado Alley is a broad stretch of country from far West Texas northeastward to the Canadian border. But there are heavy incidences of the twisters along the eastern seaboard and many southern states—Massachusetts, Florida, Louisiana and Alabama, for instance, all have more tornadoes per square mile than does Texas.

Early warning signals are credited by some with the saving of life. The Weather Bureau often can determine weather conditions which might span tornadoes, and it issues warnings. Vehicle telephones and other good communications system often give residents time to seek shelter.

Basically a tornado is born when cool, dry air from the west overrides warm, moist air. The more moisture, the wilder the tornado. A complicated energy transformation occurs which can start a whirl.

"It seems probably that a tornado occurs only when there is a precise combination of several rather common but highly variable weather conditions," a Weather Bureau description says.

However, the Weather Bureau is still unable to say precisely that a tornado will strike at a certain spot at a specific time, unless a Weather Bureau man is watching the tornado pass, which makes it too easy.

Most tornadoes, although extremely rapid in their internal swirl, move slowly along the ground, sometimes lifting from the ground and then returning.

Normally they move from the southwest toward the northeast, but they have been known to take eccentric routes.

Richard E. Snyder, economist for the National Sporting Goods Association, said 1966 marked the first time sporting goods consumer sales topped the $3 billion plateau.

Chevrolet's room, ride and price. When Automotive News made its annual roominess study, Chevrolet got the most points. It's roomier inside, they reported, than any other American car. The ride is Full Coil suspension smooth. And Chevrolet hardtops and convertibles are still the lowest priced full-size cars of this kind you can buy. Chevelle's quick size. It's quick to climb, quick to turn. Other mid-size cars might be like Chevelle, true. But they're not as low priced. And they're not made by Chevrolet with Body by Fisher. GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column, inner fenders and Full Coil suspension. Camaro's road-hugging stance. At its price, Camaro is the only sportster to give you wide-stance design. It rides steadier, clings to curves better, hugs the road closer. It's the roomiest car you can buy. Plus, you get a bigger standard engine.

Only twelve days of school are remaining! It doesn't seem possible, but it is true.

A question which everyone is asking is, "When are we getting the annuals?" With only two more weeks of school left, everyone is getting anxious — and worried. Wouldn't it be terrible if they didn't arrive until after school is out?

The HHS Band and Choir both did very well at the Buccaner Band Festival in Christus Christi this past week-end. The band was chosen as "Honor Band" and the A Cappella Choir received a one rating. Congratulations are in order to members of both the band and choir.

Jack Aikin was named valedictorian for 1966-67 this past week. Phillip Cain was named salutatorian, and Laura Higgins was named as top girl in the senior class. All of these positions are a great honor. Congratulations!

Coch Wartes has been named as teacher of the month.

After placing some flowers on a grave in a cemetery, a man noticed an old Chinese placing a bowl of rice on a nearby grave and cynically asked: "What time do you expect your friend to come up and eat the rice?" The Chinese replied with a smile: "Same time your friend comes up to smell the flowers." Cheryl Solomon ANNIVERSARY HONOREES — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Edgar Cupell of Vega will be honored at a Golden Wedding reception from 2 to 5 p.m. today in the home of their son, Jo Ed Cupell, 347 Stadium Drive. Their children and grandchildren will be hosts. Mr. Cupell and Mary Edna Thurmond were married May 6, 1917 at Quitaque, where they lived until 1936. They resided at Silverton and then Amarillo before moving to Vega in 1948. In addition to the son here, their children are Mrs. Clara Belle Stodghill of Guyton, Okla., and LeRoy Cupell of Estancia, N.M.

Election, Book Review Feature Club Program

Electing officers for next year, headed by Mrs. Dennis Lomas as president, L'Allegre Study Club members also heard one of their outstanding programs of the season, a book review by Mrs. Howard R. Johnson.

Mrs. Alex Schroeter, who is ending a term as president this month, was hostess in her home and presided for business. Plans were made for installing new officers at the final spring meeting, a luncheon May 18 at Hereford Country Club.

May Events Scheduled In Auxiliary

Dates for several May events were set in the American Legion Auxiliary Tuesday evening, at a meeting in the Legion Hall. Members heard a program by a guest, Tomas Graf, German student in Hereford High School under the American Field Service.

The student showed slides as he talked of his home city and other sections of Germany, and answered questions about his school and other activities. He was introduced by Cynthia Hanna, a member of the Junior American Legion.

One of the dates announced at the meeting was for a Junior Legion event, a Mothers Day tea to be given May 13 from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m. in Community Center. Mrs. Ira Ott is leader of the juniors and will assist them in host plans.

Another was for Poppy Day, the annual sale of flowers made by hospitalized war veterans, which will be held this year on May 24. The Auxiliary scheduled a rummage sale for May 20, to be held in a downtown building. Mrs. Bill Gilleland presided for business.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. G. Gandy and Mrs. LeRoy Williamson, hostesses for the evening.

They include Mrs. Jim McDowell, vice president; Mrs. Hazen Woods, secretary Mrs. Bobby Veigel, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John E. Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Jimmy Conkright, historian; Mrs. Bill Warwick, reporter, and Mrs. Schroeter as parliamentarian.

Mrs. Johnson, a member of the club, reviewed Taylor Caldwell's novel, The Listener, saying that it offers a departure from the popular author's usual style of building a book closely around a single character.

This book combines the stories of 15 characters who have only one thing in common, their wish to unburden themselves to someone who will listen. In pursuit of this aim, all come to a building pervaded by peace and quiet, to pour out their woes to a listener who gives the novel its title.

The reviewer sketched each of the different stories which make up the book.

Present, in addition to the officers-elect, were Mmes. Houston Frye, Ronald Zimmerman, Bob Sims, W. C. Russell, Richard Pickens, David Gibson, and Noble Ballard.

Next Year's Program Is Club Topic

Suggestions for next season's programs were given by members of La Afflatus Estudio Club at their final meeting of the 1966-67 year this week. Mrs. A. H. Cook is chairman of the year-book committee which will consider the suggestions in drafting the new program.

A luncheon at the Cason House ended this year, with Mrs. B. F. Markham presiding for a brief business period in which Mrs. A. B. Higgins reported on the recent quarterly meeting of the County Federation of Women's Clubs.

In the study program of this year, club members heard an interesting series of discussions on First Ladies of the U. S. from Martha Washington to Lady Bird Johnson, then a group of programs on miscellaneous topics.

CHURCH-O-THEQUE

WASHINGTON — "Church-O-Theque," a worship service in modern mode which drew large crowds and stirred controversy at Mt. Vernon Methodist Church last fall, is spreading among other Christian groups.

Methodism's Wesley Foundation, the Episcopal Student Association, the United Christian Fellowship, the Unitarian Universalism Club and a Christian Science organization are promoting the lively service, which incorporates art, drama, dance forms and contemporary music,

Exercise Care In Taking Pills

Ever wake up, or at least about half awake, in the night with a splitting headache? Or a pain in the tummy? And stumble into the bathroom and reach for a bottle in the medicine cabinet. And gulp down a pill or two, or a spoonful of medicine?

Sure. All of us have. And we are risking serious trouble in taking medicine carelessly.

The medicine was prescribed by your physician, and he included specific orders for size and frequency of dose and how to take it. The American Medical Association reminds that there is a good, sound reason for these orders, and they're meant to be followed.

A few simple rules for taking medicine can help to avoid an accident that may make your minor discomfort a lot worse.

Never take medicine in the dark. Be certain you can see the bottle or pill box, to make certain it's the right one.

Read the directions carefully before taking. Those directions are there because they're needed.

Don't increase the dosage or take more often than directed without checking with your doctor.

The Sunday Brand, Hereford, Texas, Sunday, May 7, 1967

If the label says, "Shake well before using," it means what it says. Shake it.

Don't take medicine prescribed for someone else. Just because it helped your husband's cough doesn't mean it's right for you.

Keep medicine out of reach of children. The small child who is rushed to the hospital after eating a whole bottle of surgacoated tablets is an all too common occurrence.

Put the cap back on the bottle. Some medicines change strength if exposed to air too long.

Keep the medicine in its original box or bottle. Shifting sleeping pills into an aspirin bottle, for instance, could produce dire effects for someone else in the family.

NEW PLAY AT STRATFORD STRATFORD, Ont. — A play written by James Reaney of London, Ont., is to be presented during this summer's festival here under the direction of John Hirsch.

"Colours in the Dark" is described as "an attempt to show an imaginative Canadian's life, an unconventional centennial show." The show is to open July 25.

Mother Age 80 Honoree

The 80th birthday of Mrs. Henry Tiefel, 336 East Fourth was given special notice when her daughters, Mrs. Jim Loving of Black and Mrs. P. B. Sowell were hostesses at a coffee. Mrs. Tiefel has been a resident of Hereford since 1919, when she came from Indiana.

Informal conversation and refreshments of birthday cake and coffee made a pleasant occasion of the party in her honor.

Guests were Mrs. Herbert Bruns and children, Mrs. George Tiefel, Mrs. Arthur Tiefel, Mrs. Tom Johnson and Blake, Mrs. Bud Gibbons of Plainview, Mrs. Lois Powell, Mrs. Rodney Symons and Tad of Amarillo.

New Members, Guests Present At Wyche Club

Three new members and two guests met with Wyche Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. C. F. Newsom Thursday afternoon, when Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent, gave the program of Sewing 'n'aps.

She showed how to use new "invisible" fasteners, and how to set a sleeve in a garment with off-grain stitching for better fit. Samples of new fabrics to use in home sewing were displayed.

Contribution to a fund for medical care for a small leukemia victim, David White was voted by the club and members added individual gifts. The boy's mother, Mrs. Ross White, is a former member of Wyche Club.

The next meeting, last one until August, will be held May 18 in the home of Mrs. Wayne Jones, it was announced, and pictures made on a trip to Hawaii will be shown by Jimmie Alford.

Members present included Mmes. Ira Ott, Cecil Hart, E. C. Hewitt Jr., Charles Packard, Leroy Bodkin, Jones and Norman Hodges.

Luncheon Closes Study Club Year

Annual reports of the retiring officers, summarizing work of the club this year, were given before their successors were installed.

Contribution to various civic and charitable projects and work on such activities as community beautification and voter registration were reported, along with the year's study on the general theme, "Knowledge is the treasure but practice is the key."

Business included plans for members to serve as hostesses on open dates of Deaf Smith County Museum in November.

A salad luncheon was served at tables decorated with varicolored iris from Mrs. Noland's yard. Members present in addition to those named were Mmes. L. H. Lookingbill Sr., Lee Curry and R. B. Baker.

CHANGE OF LEADERSHIP

Mrs. R. B. Miller, left above, succeeded Mrs. Ansel McDowell, center, as president of Bay View Study Club in an installation of 1967-68 officers conducted Thursday by a club guest, Mrs. Claude McDougal, right. In the lower photo are, from left, Mrs. Will S. Kerr, who took office as treasurer, Mrs. Earl Holt, secretary, and Mrs. H. L. Benefield, first vice president. Other new officers are Mrs. Carl Swanson, second vice president, and Mrs. W. J. Gilliland, correspondent.

Family Has Reunion To Fete Visitor

Honoring a visitor from St. Louis, relatives of the C. J. Albrachts gathered Sunday afternoon at their home. Their daughter, Sister Mary Cyril, a registered nurse at the Incarnate Word Convent in St. Louis, had spent a 10-day vacation here and was leaving Monday to resume her duties.

Relatives who came from other cities for the basket lunch and afternoon of visiting were Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Kreighshausser and family of Clovis, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Toni Gerber of Nazareth, Dr. and Mrs. John J. Albracht and family of Amarillo.

Others were Mrs. Rosa M. Albracht and the families of Thomas Albracht, Duane Albracht, W. J. Albracht, Harold Kreighshausser, Jerry Cloud, Gerald Banner, Jerry Albracht, and Dr. E. A. Albracht.

Bay View Club Offices Filled

Next season's appointive officers and committees were named after new Bay View Study Club officers were installed at a luncheon in Hereford Country Club Thursday noon. Mrs. R. B. Miller became president, following a term as second vice president.

With a quotation, "I light my candle from their torches," as the theme, Mrs. Claude McDougal conducted the installation as 1967-68 officers lighted tapers from a large white candle set before one of the handsome arrangements of iris which decorated the green-covered tables.

Mrs. Ansel McDowell, completing a two-year term as president, introduced Mrs. McDougal, a guest of the club, after she had expressed appreciation to officers who served with her and presented each a remembrance.

Mrs. H. L. Benefield and Mrs. Carl Swanson took office as vice presidents, Mrs. Earl Holt as secretary, Mrs. W. J. Gilliland corresponding secretary and Mrs. Will S. Kerr treasurer.

Appointed by Mrs. Miller, Mrs. McDowell will be parliamentary and telephone chairman for the new year, Mrs. A. M. Jones will serve again as historian, Mrs. Colby Conkwright will be reporter.

On the social committee are Mmes. Jimmie Gillentine, Bruce Burney, Juston McBride and Swanson; membership committee, Mmes. Benefield and E. J. McMillan; cheer committee, Mmes. Conkwright and Francis Hardevjek; welfare committee, Mmes. Howard Gault and Jim Lang.

Luncheon hostesses were retiring Social committee members, Mmes. Kerr, Gault, Benefield, Holt and McMillan.

Mrs. D. H. Alexander, an honorary member who was an active member of the club for almost 40 years, and her daughter, Mrs. Joe Hudson of Seagraves, were guests. Places were laid for 14 members.

JOURNEYS, SENTIMENTAL AND OTHERWISE
Last of the Saddle Tramps is not a western as the title might indicate. But it is an adventure different from anything you may have read. It is the story of Mesannie Wilkins as told to her co-author, Mina Titus Sawyer.

Written from a diary which she kept as she crossed the country horseback from Maine to California it is an interesting tale. And to make it even more unique is that she was sixty-three years old when she started the trip which took well over a year.

Told in the first person, it is a simple humorous story of a woman whom the doctor had given a limited time to live. A map shows the long trek, with many side trips she made to see things or with messages to deliver and / or people to visit. Some will remember reading of her at the time of her travels or when she appeared on the Art Linkletter show after reaching California.

Another book of a different nature is one written by Harvey Jacobs who takes us on a sentimental journey in his story entitled We Came Rejoicing - A Personal Memoir of the Years of Peace. With his old-home-site in Indiana he reminisces of life as it was in the 1920s.

He tells of Sugaring Time, a process which most of us associate only with the New-England States. But the pioneers found sugar maples in Indiana when they were clearing their home sites. His grandfather was the big boss of this spring event. While his grandmother later in the fall took over the processing of the meat at hog killing time after the men had done the butchering.

The old fashioned store is described by him and he tells of its gradual growth and change up to the time it reached the super market age. In the early days the store was a social center and a source of information.

Now he says it is more like a clinic.

Familiar to our own area and remembered by pioneers will be his description of the cutting and threshing of wheat and grains. He writes of how the community or neighbors worked together using their combined equipment and manpower. But the highlight to him was the big dinner which was served by the women at the location of the harvest, often with as many as forty men, who were fed in relays at the largest table to be had. He tells of the mouth-watering food which was served in abundance.

The barnstorming days when young men learned to fly and then buy planes when WWI was over. They piloted their planes over the country-side in search of daring passengers for a fee of a few dollars. These are a part of his memories as was the first Model T Ford which improved into Model A's and other bigger and more sleek speedier cars of the time.

As the community developed there came consolidated schools the growth of the church with a minister who acted as a mail carrier all week and preached on Sunday. The coming of cars and better roads in time made the community life as he had known it pass away. The developing of the radio from ones with individual head pieces to bigger and better ones, decreased the size of the world when they began to get stations as far away as New York.

His story is one of happiness and peacefulness of an era in our history which has come and gone and he is glad, as many of us are, to have lived in such an era.
