Ben Gollehon Is Named To "Who's In Texas Today"

Ben Gollehon, band director at Hereford High School, has been named to appear in "Who's Who in Texas Today." His biography, along with that of 15,000 other prominent Texans, will be listed in the 1968 volume, to be published this month.

Born and reared in Dimmitt, Gollehon, 32, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Gollehon of that city. He graduated from Dimmitt High School in 1954, and took a Bachelor of Music Education degree from West Texas State University in 1958. He married Virginia Owen of Amarillo in 1958 and the couple have two children, John Noel, 8, a third grader at Northwest Elementary School and Julianne, four years old. The family resides at 111 Aspen.

Having taught band and choir two years in Pampa schools, Gollehon came to Hereford in 1961 to direct the Hereford High School Band.

Working as a team, Gollehon, Jim Priest and Lynn McLarty, band directors of Stanton and La Plata Junior High Schools, work with band students in sight reading, marching and other phases of work, besides giving individual instructions. Gollehon and McLarty are instructors of woodwind instruments, while Priest instructs students of brass instruments.

With a ratio that seems to level off at 60 percent boys and 40 percent girls, 117 students are engaged in band activities, and under the direction of Gollehon, have brought home honor after honor for Hereford High School.

Most recently being named Honor Band at a music festival in San Antonio, the band has won five other district Outstanding Concert Band Awards since 1963, one at Enid in 1964, another at 6 Flags Over Texas in 1966, and another at the Buccaneer Music Festival held in Corpus Christi in 1967.

Gollehon's band, in seeking its seventh award, is scheduled to give the featured performance at the Texas Music Educator's Conference in Austin on Feb. 9, 1968, and will represent Class AAA as Honor Band of Texas.

Gollehon drills his bands seven hours a week, one hour each day during regular band classes and two hours on Thursday night. These hours are used, during football season, in practicing precision marching while playing and for other phases of music, mostly concert practice during the other months of the school year. Sweepstakes contests are held during the height of the football season.

Gollehon, who lists only stimulation of interest and time to rehearse as his biggest problems with the band, seeks constantly to achieve perfection. Plenty of hard work and lots of extra work, he says, is required of students and director alike in order to become the Honor Band of the STATE.

Voting On Cotton Crop Is This Week

Voting on marketing quotas for the 1968 upland cotton crop will begin Monday and run through Friday, Dec. 1, according to Bill Beznar, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, and Texas Cotton County Committee, and Beznar, chairman of the Deaf Smith County farmers.

Beznar urged county farmers to return their ballots, either in person or through the mail, to the ASCS office in county. Marked ballots are to be postmarked no later than the closing date of voting.

Chairman Beznar explained that every effort has been made to inform farmers fully about the allotment quota program, so that the outcome of the referendum may represent the considered opinion of all the voters. At issue also are the "domestic allotment" diversion program provisions under which growers may qualify for price support and diversion payments in addition to loans — by diverting their cotton acreage at least 5 percent (up to a maximum of 35 percent) below the farm's allotment, putting the diverted acres into a conserving use, and meeting other program provisions. This part of the program can be used only if marketing quotas are approved.

The lease or sale of cotton allotments is included in the 1968 cotton program regardless of the outcome of the marketing quota vote.

Those eligible to vote are all producers who shared in the 1967 cotton crop or its proceeds and the owners and operators of allotment farms where no cotton was planted in 1967. Approval by at least two-thirds of the voters is necessary for the quota and the upland cotton program are to be effective for the 1968 growers who elect not to participate in the diversion program may apply for a share of an export market and age reserve and grow and export all their cotton without any payment assistance and without marketing quota penalties.

If the vote is not favorable there will be no quotas or penalties applicable to the 1968 upland cotton crop. 98¢ price support or diversion payments, no export market acreage reserve and price support loans to growers who do not exceed their acreage allotments will be at 50 percent of parity as directed by law.

Growers who have questions about any particular part of the cotton program are urged to get in touch with the ASC County Committee.

MARS Messages Are Due Soon

Anyone wishing to send a Christmas message to a close friend or relative in another country have only until Dec. 18 to do so. Bill Thompson, official of the MARS (Military Affiliate Radio System), has announced.

Thompson, who is assistant state director for training in the Texas Army MARS Program, told the Brand that there is no time lost in sending the message but it takes days to locate the person who is to receive the message.

There is no charge for sending the message, which should be limited to the greeting type. Persons wishing to send messages may contact Thompson at his home, 364-2259, or at the Chamber of Commerce office, 364-3333.

Driverless Auto Hits Tree

A driverless auto rolling back into the street and down into City Park, striking a tree, caused damage estimated at $1,000 in an accident occurring at 11 a. m. Friday.

The driver of the auto, a 1963 Ford Mustang, Stallings, Harris, parked her auto in the 700 block of Main Street, put the vehicle into reverse, and left the car to roll down the street into the park and struck the tree. The front door of the vehicle was damaged.

No citations were issued by investigating officers.

Sale Of Banquet Tickets To Begin

Tickets for the Chamber of Commerce annual banquet should be delivered to the Chamber office this week, according to Bill Thompson, manager, and will go on sale immediately following delivery.

A total of 800 tickets will be available for the January 18 banquet, costing $5 each, and will be sold at the Chamber office only. Featured guest speaker for the catered affair will be Miss Marilyn Van Derbur, a former Miss America, now greatly in demand as an emcee and public speaker.

Catering will be done by G. D. Cason. Decorations are being arranged by Hereford Garden Club. Theme of the decorations will be centered around the Miss America pageant in recognition of Miss Van Derbur's entrance into the public spotlight.

Arrangements have also been confirmed by Thompson of the installation dinner for the newly elected chamber directors and the appointment of officers for the coming year.

Don Zimmerman, Virgil Marsh, Don Baugous and Dr. Millard Nobles will be installed as new Board of Director members at the Chamber dinner to be held at the Country Club on Dec. 11. Tut Tawwater of KVOP Radio in Plainview will be guest speaker. No tickets will be sold, and chamber members and their wives will be guests.

The tentacles, he said, yielded a substance which appeared potent in arresting cancer in laboratory mice.
Dr. Tabrah said the creature is a specimen of Cephea conifera, a species common to the seas around Samoa and the Carolines.

Soybean Yield Is High At Halfway

Fifty-two bushels of soybeans per acre was the highest yield recorded in the 1967 Soybean Variety test at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway. Yields ranged from this high to a low of 32 bushels per acre, which is above the national average again this year.
Contrary to expectations, early maturing varieties yielded as well or better than the long-season varieties. An early light frost on Oct. 15 caused the leaves to shed and could have affected the yields of the later maturing varieties.
The test was planted on May 26, 1967 and the early maturing varieties were harvested Oct. 4. (These include the Patterson, Clark, and Wayne varieties.) All other varieties were harvested on Nov. 1. Irrigations were applied on July 28, August 16, and Sept. 4. The longer maturing varieties received an additional irrigation on Oct. 6. This last irrigation was applied to assure optimum moisture conditions for the full-season varieties. It is assumed that this late irrigation had no effect on yields and probably was not necessary because of the early frost.

Yields for all varieties were recorded in bushels per acre as follows: Clark 63 - 47 bushels; Dare - 44 bushels; Hood - 44 bushels; Patterson - 44 bushels; Wayne - 43 bushels; Lee - 39 bushels; Hill - 39 bushels; Bragg 35 bushels; Hinn - 33 bushels; Dorch Lee - 32 bushels.
Higher yields were obtained in a separate test known as the USDA Regional Variety Test for Group IV (early maturing) varieties. Their yields were as follows: Custer - 52.7 bushels; Delmar - 52.4 bushels; and Kent - 51.4 bushels.
These tests were under the direction of Dr. Douglas Owen, Agronomist at the Foundation.
In another test, under the supervision of Jim Valliapt, Soil Scientist, results of an irrigation study were compiled. Yields of early maturing soybean varieties were not affected by a late irrigation applied two weeks after pod set. Results of the 1967 test showed that the late irrigation appeared to increase vegetative growth. Clark 63 produced an average yield of 44 bushels per acre which was significantly higher than yields of other early maturing varieties. On late-maturing varieties such as Hinn, Hill and an experimental variety, PA8-963, the late irrigation increased yields from 44 bushels to 46 bushels.

Walk and Be Healthy

BABY'S FEET NEED LOVING CARE
Have you ever stopped to think how important a baby's feet are to his future health and happiness? Probably not. But since one out of three babies will eventually have foot problems, a few basic facts about new feet and their care should be useful.
Why are a baby's feet so important? For one thing, they must last through a lifetime of walking. During his life, the average person walks a distance equal to nearly two and one-half times around the earth. What a long trip that could be on aching feet!
Neglecting foot health in the early years invites problems later on, not only in the feet themselves but in the legs, lower back and other areas. There also can be undesirable effects on the child's personality. The youngster with troublesome feet walks awkwardly and usually has poor general posture. As a result, he may become shy or introverted.
Podiatrists consider the first year of life the most significant in development of the feet. Why? By the time your child reaches age one, his feet will have grown to almost half the size they will be in his twenty-first year. Such pliable, rapidly expanding structures are susceptible to deforming pressures. Here is what you should remember about infant feet.
Your child has no real need for shoes or socks until he begins to stand and walk.
Do not bind bed covers over baby's feet. This restricts movement and retards normal development.
Let the child lie uncovered for some time each day. This allows for kicking and other motion so necessary for strengthening the feet and preparing them for their later weight-bearing role.
Change baby's position several times a day. Lying too long in one position — especially on the stomach — can put excessive strain on feet and legs and may cause deformities.
Your child's feet should be examined periodically by a foot specialist before he begins to walk.
When your baby takes a few hesitant steps he is ready for shoes and socks. The first shoes should lace up over the ankle, because the young heels are quite narrow and will easily pull out of low-cut shoes during walking. He will wear high shoes until about age two, or at least until a good heel fit can be obtained in low shoes.
When your child reaches walking age keep in mind: Have his feet examined again by your family podiatrist — the doctor who specializes in foot care. He will give you valuable advice about your youngster's feet and shoes.
Since baby's feet do grow rapidly, his shoes and socks must be checked often. In early childhood it is often necessary to change shoe and sock sizes every month or two.
Don't force your child to walk before he is ready. When he is physically and emotionally prepared, he will walk. Let baby set his own pace. Comparisons with other children are misleading and often harmful.
The average child begins to walk alone anywhere from ten to eighteen months.
When your child starts walking, take him out for daily strolls. Walking is a most important health habit and the very best of all foot exercises.
One final word of advice to the new mother: The care you give your child's feet will have a tremendous influence upon his foot health later on. Feet are important — and we get only one pair.

By MELVIN YOUNG

A newspaper clipping, coming to us from Lynn Kester via the T. L. Sparkman family, tells about a clock, now hanging in the county courthouse, Irion County, that was new the year after the Wright Brothers made their first flight, and it's still ticking away.

"With each swing of the large brass pendulum of the old clock," the story goes, "the second hand makes one decisive tick. And it's missed few ticks since it first was purchased by the county."

What makes this old antique of particular interest here in Deaf Smith County? Well, that's a simple question to answer. The clock was purchased by the Irion County Commissioners Court for $74.45 in 1904 from F. M. Kester, a jeweler and barber at Sherwood. F. M. Kester, as most of you will remember, was the father of Lynn Kester of Hereford.

According to the newspaper clipping, the clock first was placed on the wall of the county judge's small room in the old courthouse in Sherwood. It stayed there until the county seat of Irion County was moved to Mertzon when the new courthouse was built in 1937. The clock followed. The county apparently has had little trouble maintaining it. When it needs some work, a man who enjoys working on old clocks donates his service.

And it still tells county employees when it is time to go home.

LION'S CLUB FISH FRY — Some 1,050 persons attended the Lion's Club fish fry held Friday evening in Deaf Smith County Bull Barn. Photos show Lion's club members frying and serving the fish.

Board Finishes Pollution Cases

AUSTIN — Four pollution cases were completed in October with two convictions and two dismissals according to a report by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to the Water Quality Board.

The cause of pollution in these cases was oil and salt water entering streams from drilling operations.

Field personnel for the Department received and investigated six water pollution complaints and filed three court cases. A total of three fish kills were reported: one in the Sabine River in Harrison, Gregg, Panola Counties; one in Big Cypress Creek in Morris County; and one in Highlands Bayou in Galveston County.

Field personnel held six conferences for the prevention or correction of water pollution.

Friena Man Will Attend Meeting

LUBBOCK — W. L. Edelman of Friena has been named as a unit delegate to the National Cotton Council's 30th annual meeting to be held Jan. 29-30 in Oklahoma City.

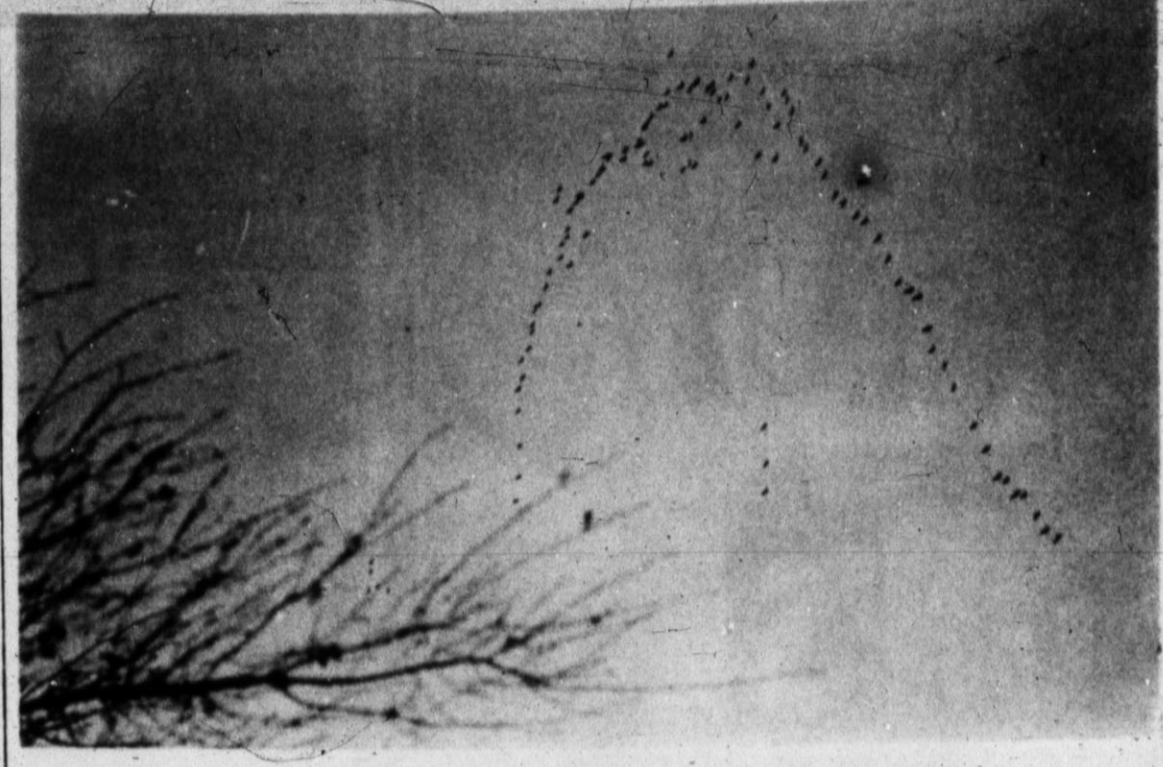

Edelman will join with delegates from the other 13-state units in reviewing the organization's research and promotion activities and mapping a program for 1968.

More Pheasants Are Available

AUSTIN — Pheasant hunters in the Texas Panhandle will find a moderate increase in populations from last year when they take to the fields according to Jack Parsons, wildlife supervisor for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in San Angelo.

The seven-day pheasant season, which began Friday, is open only in the Panhandle Regulatory District. The district is made up of Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Childress, Collingworth, Cottle, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Floyd, Foard, Gray, Hale, Hall, Hansford, Hardeman, Hartley, Hutchinson, Lipscomb, Moore, Motley, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher, Wheeler, Hemphill and Lamb Counties.

Bag limit is two cocks per day with a possession limit of four after the first day.

FAMILIAR SIGHT THESE DAYS — Large flocks of geese, usually traveling in a rigid formation, have been a familiar sight during the past few weeks as they migrate from the north. Hundreds of thousands of the honkers presently are making themselves at home at Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge and more are expected. Officials there are constructing blinds so that area residents may watch the activities of the fowl at close range.

Speedway Racing Planned Today

Weather permitting, race drivers will get in a little racing today at the Hereford Speedway something they have been itching to do since racing season ended several weeks ago.

Plans call for action to begin about 2 p. m. at the Speedway east of the city and south of U. S. 60, with the public invited to watch free of charge.

Pork Meeting To Be Held Monday

CANYON — Registration for the Southwest Pork Symposium, to be held at the Student Union Ballroom in Canyon, is set to begin at 8 a. m. Monday.

Presiding over the morning session of the symposium will be Charles M. Smallwood, Professor and Head of Agriculture at West Texas State University.

Several authorities in the field of pork production will be on hand to deliver addresses to the persons attending. Included among the morning speakers are Melvin Bradley, University of Missouri; I. T. Omtvedt, Oklahoma State University; T. D. Tanksley, Texas A&M University and Vaughn C. Speer, Iowa State University.

The University officials will be speaking on ways to improve the breeding and feeding programs for commercial breeders as well as individual ranchers.

Lunch will be served at 12:15 in the West Dining Hall. Cost is included in the registration fee of $2.50.

Milton England of Panhandle State College will preside over the afternoon session.

Highlighting the afternoon meeting will be addresses on such topics as "Pig Finishing Operations for the Southwest," by Euel Linder of Lubbock Swine Breeders, "Feeder Pig Production," by Melvin Bradley, "A Health Management Program for the Southwest," by David Bechtol, and "A Merit Hog Buying System," by Frank Wilson of Maurer-Neuer Packing Co.

Dates For Two Special Events In Camp Fire Program Slated

One definite date, Jan. 8 for the annual meeting of Hereford Camp Fire Council and adult leaders, and one tentative, Jan. 19 for the yearly Father-Daughter Banquet, were set at the December meeting of the Camp Fire Leaders Association Friday morning.

Officers for 1968 in the Association will be installed at annual meeting, after election at the leaders' regular meeting Jan. 5, the first Friday of the month.

The annual meeting is for all adults interested in the Camp Fire Girl program, parents of the girls as well as board members and those active in the council and leaders association.

Senior girls in Horizon Clubs will give the program for the father-daughter banquet, to be held in Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.

Final reports on the recent Camp Fire Girl candy sale were heard by the leaders. Mrs. Bill Dameron, Mrs. William Seyfert and Mrs. Lewis Lea were named as a committee to coordinate publicity pictures for various Camp Fire groups.

In 1896 Stanford played two scoreless ties in football. Both were against the Olympic Club.

Deer Meat Needs Good Handling

WACO — With very little effort venison becomes a delight even to the most discriminating, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Many people would not eat choice beef if the meat was processed like some people process deer. No housewife would purchase a piece of meat from a fat beef if she knew it had been hauled over a hundred miles tied on top of a car fender, exposed to road dust and heat from the sun and automobile motor.

The Department suggests that deer be field dressed and skinned as soon as possible after it is harvested. This will result in the meat draining and cooling faster and losing the wild taste. The carcass should be placed in a good game bag to ward off insects and to permit it to cool as quickly as possible.

If the meat is to remain in camp, hang it in a well ventilated shady place. If the weather is hot, refrigeration may be necessary. Let the meat hang until it is well drained and the body heat is gone before hauling it home. Then, wrap it in something which will retain as much low temperature as possible and pack on the inside of the vehicle away from heat and road grime. The Department cautions that

WHAT TIME IS IT?

The Lord Jesus, while talking to the religious people of his day, observed that these people could understand the working of nature in the weather, but could not understand the signs of the times; that is, the spiritual happenings. (Matt. 16:1-3) Also, as Christ wept over Jerusalem, he spoke of God's judgement that was to come, because they knew not "the time of their visitation". (Lu. 19:41-44) The rejection of God's time of dealing with us as individuals or as a nation, can only be followed by his chastening and judgement. Today we find a tremendous increase in knowledge about nature and it's workings; but, in many cases, a sad lack of knowledge of what the Lord is doing in this hour. How wonderful God is to unveil his workings to those who will seek after him in these days.

Certainly, the rebirth of the nation of Israel, especially their total control of Jerusalem, which they haven't had for many centuries, testify of the soon coming of Christ. (Ez. 36, Lu. 21:24) Also, we see in this land and around the world a spiritual stirring in the hearts of many people. Where, for many years people have been satisfied with only a form of religion; with little or no reality; now there is an increasing hunger for something real. Many are coming back to the Bible, in simplicity, and finding that Jesus Christ is still the same; and are experiencing the reality and life that the First Century Church experienced. The Apostle Paul spoke of the glorious Church that Christ would present to himself. (Eph. 5:25-27) Not a great organization, but a called out people, who would follow Christ in his way.

What time is it? Hosea said to break up the hardened ground of our hearts, for it is time to seek the Lord. (Ho. 10:12) The Apostle Paul said that time was short (I Co. 7:29-31); that it is time to awake (Ro. 13:11); that we should use our time correctly (Eph. 5:16). Then Paul said that NOW is the acceptable time with God (2 Co. 6:2). NOW is the time to find God; to learn his way, and walk with him. This is not the time to get busier in religious activities, but a time to put the Lord first in our lives and live in a personal relationship with him.

One day soon, time shall be no more. Let us use the remainder of our time to find and live for that which is eternal; even the living God and his Son, Jesus Christ. (Jn. 17:3)

Bo Padgett, 19-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Padgett, 220 Beach St., in Hereford, was home for the Thanksgiving weekend and reported his Paris Junior College baseball team has just completed "fall" workouts. PJC does not play football, thus places much emphasis on its baseball program.

Bo is attending Paris Junior College on a baseball scholarship and won five games as the second winningest pitcher on the Paris team last spring. The team won the Region LV North Zone Junior College baseball championship for the second straight year.

Padgett played his high school baseball at Terrell in East Texas where he was the mainstay of the pitching staff for two years. Bo is a sophomore this year and will continue to play baseball for Paris Junior College, to help defend its Regional Championship.

Oglesby of 107 Sunset Drive. Oglesby plans to return for the Christmas holidays in a few days.

Sgt. I. C. Ebb Martin and his wife, Delores, have been visiting in the home of his mother, Mrs. Bonnie Martin of 303 Ave. A, and his brother, Johnny. Sgt. Martin, who has been in service 16 years, arrived in Vietnam in August and must return there Monday, ending a 30-day furlough. He is in engineering with the service.

Sgt. Martin stated that GI's have lots of fruit and candy now, but have no peanuts or popcorn to pop. Any would be appreciated, he said.

Use Of Project Funds Decided

Money raised through Project Christmas Card this year will go toward purchase of a cardiac intensive care unit for Deaf Smith County Hospital, members of the sponsoring organization, Hereford Medical Auxiliary, have decided.

Contributions are already being made to the annual project and Auxiliary members have placed decorated canisters in banks, the hospital lobby and supermarkets here to receive donations.

Accounts are also open at both banks for deposit of funds for the project, which is sponsored each year at Christmas-time by the Auxiliary, composed of wives of Hereford doctors. Mrs. A. T. Mims is chairman this year.

A gift of needed equipment for the hospital, which cannot be provided in its regular budget, is made every year through Project Christmas Card by residents of the entire area.

The plan originated by the Auxiliary is for each person to give to the project the amount he would spend for greeting cards and postage to send holiday greetings to others living here. Then, names of all the contributors are published with a greeting message on a full page of The Hereford Brand's Christmas edition.

Thus, greetings are sent to local friends but the money which would have gone for cards, is put instead into a project of benefit to the community.

Contributions in any amount may be deposited in one of the bank accounts, dropped into the canisters which are marked by attractive posters, or given to any member of the Medical Auxiliary.

1966 Football Reviewed By Kiwanians

Football highlights of 1966 was the program during the regular noonday meeting of the Kiwanis Club on Thursday. In color, the film highlighted and side-lighted famous plays, passes and fumbles of the season of a number of big college games.

Dean Herring, club president, presented Truman Ragan, newly selected Kiwanian of the Month, a gift of a tie clasp. Herring told fellow Kiwanians that Ragan was selected on the basis of always having done his best for the club, working right along in every phase of activities.

Ladies Night was announced at the meeting, to be held on Dec. 14. Jeff Carlile is in charge of ticket sales. Wives of Kiwanians will be guests at the special dinner.

Form Can Be Used For Registration

Deaf Smith County residents still have about two months left to register for voting in the 1968 elections, but they are urged not to wait until the last day.

Mrs. Nell Miller, county tax assessor-collector, has provided the Brand a copy of the voters registration certification so that those unable to make the trip to the office may register to vote.

Fill in each necessary detail on the printed form, cut it out of the paper and mail it to the address in the lower left hand corner of the certificate.

All persons over 60 years of age must register this year if they wish to vote. There is no fee for registration, since the poll tax has been abolished.

Registration in person must be made by the applicant himself, his father, mother, wife (or husband), son or daughter.

Band Trip To Austin Is Topic Of Tuesday Meet

A meeting of the Band Aides is scheduled for Tuesday at 8 p. m. to discuss money making plans for a trip to Austin in February. All band parents are urged to attend.

The band will give a concert in February for the Texas Music Educators Association's convention in Austin. The local musicians were asked to play for the TMEA convention after being chosen the Honor Band in the state last summer.

The four-day trip to and from Austin, as well as sleeping accommodations will cost around $4,000. The school board will pay $2,000 of that total but the band will have to accumulate the remaining $2,000.

Also, the band has recently been named in the "First Chair of America," a publication similar to "Who's Who." Cost of putting information about the band, as well as pictures in the book will cost about $150.

According to Dr. Eugene Hendon, new president of the group, the cost per student for the Austin trip will be almost $25, not including meals. If the money cannot be raised, each student will have to pay his own way, Dr. Hendon said.

George Archer was crowding the $100,000 figure when the 1967 Thunderbird Classic began in Clifton, N. J. During the first eight months he had earned $81,698.

H.D. CHATTER Stock-Taking Time Is Near

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Annual report time is a good time for organizations as well as individuals to see how much work has been done and what accomplishments have been made.

AT HOME DEMONSTRATION Council Monday, the club presidents and council chairmen made accomplishment reports on the year's work. Progress reports on club projects were made as some club projects last more than a year.

The council met eight times during the year; the agent met all clubs five or more times. Most all club members were on the program during the year. Club presidents told of very interesting programs being given by guest speakers and informative hours being taken in Hereford. Members have attended district, state, and national meetings of the Home Demonstration Association.

IT IS AMAZING to me how much people can accomplish when bonded together in a united effort. Some of the things done by clubs: made contributions to all community drives, and helped at revisit center and museum. Improvement of community centers has been the project of three clubs.

Other club projects are gifts to Girlstown at Whiteface and Borger; making and filling ditty bags, dressing dolls for Santa Claus; sponsoring a 4H club, cooperating with VISTA programs and choosing senior citizens and shut-ins as club pals. West Hereford Home Demonstration Club has always been generous in helping where needed in 4H club work at the Labor Camp and with programs conducted by VISTA. Their most recent contribution to youth is sponsoring a 4H group with Mrs. Edna Anders as leader.

HAPPY WORKERS 4H Club was organized Thursday with 11 members and three more girls who will be members. The meeting dates are first and third Thursdays. The members: Shirley and Estel Anders, Leticia and Linda Campos, Ruth Fowler, Irene, Jamie, and Ramona Gonzales, Deanna King, and Joanne and Elma.

Another home demonstration service in 1967 has been to give packets of timely information to 125 new residents.

COOKBOOKS WILL be for sale Wednesday. I was thinking Mrs. Edwin Ramey of Dimmitt was the only out-of-town customer and was then reminded by Mrs. John A. Smith that Larry Burleson of College Station gave us an order when he was here for the Leadership Symposium.

Several requests for Pumpkin Bread have been received. Mrs. Jody Bezner of Dallam County and Mrs. J. F. Matthews of Dawn have asked for this. These two good cooks are both former home demonstration agents.

Bridge Group To Hold Fund Raising Project

Hereford's Duplicate Bridge group will hold its annual fund raising game at the Community Center Saturday at 7:30 p. m.

Each year, the Bridge group holds a fund raising game in order to purchase something for the Community Center. In the past, such things as a dishwasher, coffee urns, tables, chair, etc. have been purchased by the group, and given to the Center as a Christmas gift.

Mrs. Dwain Pittenger, publicity director of the group, explained that the price would be $1.50 for the session. "Everyone is invited to come out and try their hand at the game." Anyone not having a partner can call Mrs. Dick Gholson, 364-0007 or Mrs. F. W. Hill, 364-1706.

Wives, Secretaries Consulted For Ideas On Business Gifts

Women are a growing influence on current trends in corporate Christmas gift-giving.

Even top decisions makers have trouble deciding what and how to give. And often they turn to wives and secretaries for ideas.

The time was when many businessmen even questioned whether to give at all. But recent trends — plus Congress and the Internal Revenue Service — have helped solve that problem for most businessmen.

Today the trend is toward giving larger numbers of less lavish gifts. Seventy-one percent of corporate holiday gifts cost $10 or less. This tend to remove any onus from the traditional holiday practice.

Today's theme is more thoughtful giving. And many times the choice of gift items is made with the objective of giving pleasure to the entire family. Emphasis is now on gifts suited to specific personal relationships. And there is a continuing trend toward more home delivery of gifts.

Women have had much to do with this. Wives and secretaries increasingly advise husbands and bosses on their Christmas giving.

Businessmen give gifts at Christmas and other occasions to express thanks and help customers and associates remember them.

This is no different really than many of the other gestures businessmen make during the year — business lunches, get-well cards, long distance telephone, or occasional golf and tennis. Although Christmas gifts are usually less costly than these other gestures, businessmen have worried more over gifts than any other personal business gesture.

The Internal Revenue Service helped matters somewhat with its ruling permitting deductions of up to $25 per person for business gifts each year.

Concerning Veterans

More than two million veterans and widows receiving pensions from the Veterans Administration are being mailed cards on which to report their annual income, Jack Coker, Manager of the VA Regional Office in Waco, said today.

The check-sized income report cards, enclosed with the November pension checks, must be filled out and returned to the VA by January 31, or payment of the pension will be stopped, Coker reminded. The law requires that payments be stopped if income is not reported.

The forms have been simplified this year, and designed for faster processing in automatic accounting machines. It is important that the cards not be folded, torn or mutilated. The income questionnaires are going to all veterans and widows on VA's non-service-connected pension rolls, and to parents of deceased veterans who are receiving dependency and indemnity payments.

Advent Service Slated In Church

Advent services are scheduled in Immanuel Lutheran Church at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, the Rev. Herman J. Schelter, pastor, announces. This will be the first of special services leading up to Christmas observance in the church.

A Children's Christmas program by the Sunday School is to be presented Friday evening, Dec. 22. First rehearsal will be held at 2:30 p. m. today. Another meeting today will be of the Waltham League, youth organization, at 7:30 p. m.

Senior halfback Gordie Rule of Chandler, Ariz., has been starting on defense for Dartmouth's football team this fall.

The Kansas City Athletics in 1968 will be known as the Oakland Athletics. Owner Charles O. Finley says he's taking his mule with him.

Payment Plan Due From Bravo

Fuzant Torigian, president of Bravo Smokes, Inc., has until Monday to file a plan for payment of creditors of the tobaccoless cigarette corporation.

On Sept. 5, Torigian filed two petitions of voluntary bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Amarillo. One petition for Bravo Smokes Inc. of Hereford listed assets of $848,699.84 and liabilities of $705,546.75. The petition for Bravo-Uvalde Corp. listed assets of $89,796.84 and liabilities of $221,263.41.

Torigian told the bankruptcy referee that he could keep the company going and would repay 100 cents on every dollar if given the opportunity. The referee gave Torigian until Dec. 4 — Monday — to file a plan for payment of creditors.

The creditors have until Dec. 20 to confirm the plan which will be submitted by Torigian. If no plan of payment is filed by Torigian, or if the creditors should refuse to confirm the plan on Dec. 20, there would be a hearing called by the referee to determine if the Bravo companies should be bankrupt and bankruptcy action proceed according to the Bankruptcy Act. Also at that time, the referee could drop all the proceedings.

Holiday Snapshots Attractive With Gift-Wrap As Background

Save that Christmas wrapping paper this year! When the packages are opened, the children have settled down to playing with their new toys, and dinner is in the oven, carefully collect the paper, fold it and tuck it away. Next week, when the snapshots you took on Christmas day are developed, you'll find a clever and imaginative use for the gift wrap. Recording Christmas on film is a long standing custom in many families. When friends and relatives gather for gift opening and a big dinner, the camera catches all the warmth and fun of the day. But, too often, the photos are dropped in a drawer and forgotten until relatives return on another occasion. This year, mount your best snapshots in handsome frames with mats made from the prettiest wrapping paper. You might surround photos of Johnny with his teddy bear or Grandma in her new sweater with the paper that wrapped the packages. Visit your frame shop, department, gift, or variety store for frames to fit your photos. You may even want frames larger than your photos to give the picture a wide border of wrapping paper.

For the remainder of the photos you take on Christmas day, you might make a Christmas scrapbook. Cover each page with wrapping paper and attach the photos right to it. It will be a colorful and cheerful souvenir of your Christmas to keep or send to a close friend or relative who couldn't join you during the holidays.

Former Judge To Speak During Lions Club Fete

S. J. Sparks of Oklahoma City, a former district judge and present head of the Bar Association there, will be speaker for the annual Lions Club Christmas Party Thursday night in the Hereford High School Cafeteria.

Sparks, who will speak on "Laughs I've Had On The Bench," is described by Lion President Rocky Lee as one of

S. J. Sparks

Refusing a Job

Two men, both out of work, put in claims for unemployment insurance. Each was asked if he had tried to find another job.

The first man said: "I was offered a job driving a taxicab, but I turned it down. The cab had an automatic transmission, and I happen to prefer a stick shift."

The second man said: "I was offered a job as a paint sprayer, but I turned it down. Although I could do the work, I am extremely allergic to paint."

Were these men, having refused to take jobs that were offered, thereby disqualified from collecting unemployment insurance? All state do disqualify, in varying degree, the person who refuses a job—but only if the job he refuses is "suitable."

In the above cases, the first man was indeed held disqualified. The cab driving job was suitable, because his only objection to it was petty and unreasonable. But the second man was held not disqualified. The painting job was not suitable, because it involved a real danger to his health.

Another factor that may affect the suitability of a job is the distance the person must travel to get there. For example:

A man was held disqualified for unemployment insurance because he refused a job located only 11 miles from his home. Good transportation was available, and hundreds of other employees were making the same trip every day.

But an older man was held justified in refusing a job 34 miles away. In his case, the only way he could have gotten there was by driving an old and ailing automobile.

Hours and wages, too, may be taken into account. Thus:

A stenographer who refused a 9 to 6 job, because she preferred 8 to 5, was held too finicky—hence disqualified for unemployment insurance. But a man was held not disqualified when he refused a job at wages substantially below those prevailing in the community.

In this way, weighing individual factors, the law seeks to carry out the basic philosophy of unemployment insurance—to draw a reasonable line between those who do want to work and those who do not. As one court put it:

"(Unemployment insurance) was designed to alleviate the financial hardship of those unemployed through no fault of their own. It was not intended to provide a vacation with pay."

Gypsum Same As Salt In Feeding

MOUNT PLEASANT, Dec. 2 — Ranchers will soon begin feeding winter supplement to their cattle, and keeping the cost down is an important consideration.

E. E. Neal, the county agricultural agent here, has conducted demonstrations over a seven-year period which indicates gypsum can be used the same as salt to limit feed intake.

During the fall and winter months, cattlemen want to make sure their cattle get enough supplement to maintain body condition—but naturally want to keep costs as low as possible and not overfeed.

In the test here, one group of cows and calves was given a mixture of one-third salt and two-thirds cottonseed meal. An identical group of animals was put on a mixture of 14 percent gypsum and 86 percent cottonseed meal.

Neal says both groups of cattle ate about the same amount of feed per day and there was no noticeable difference in performance. And it took less gypsum than salt, since only half as much gypsum as salt is required to control feed intake.

Most cattlemen want their cattle to eat about 2.5 pounds of supplement a day. Neal says a mixture of 6 parts gypsum to one part gypsum will limit consumption to about 2.5 pounds a day.

However, he says, some ranchers start early in the fall with a 5 to 1 mixture, then when the going gets rough in the winter, go as high as an 8 to 1 mixture.

MUSEUM GETS ONCEOVER — Members of Cub Scout Troop 151 toured the Deaf Smith County Museum one day during the past week, getting a close look at the relics. This was one of the many projects which the troop has frequently.

Experiments Are Held On Ponds

LA PORTE — Fish kills in farm ponds bring the following lament to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department personnel hundreds of times per year: "All my fish have died, I need more fish to restock my lake."

What happened in an experimental pond at the Huntsville Hatchery serves to demonstrate why restocking is often unnecessary, even though the fish loss seems drastic.

In February, 1966, in one of several ponds where different stocking ratios were being tested, 1,900 redear sunfish fingerlings were introduced. In May, 1967, fingerling black bass were added. This pond, one-half acre in size, was kept heavily fertilized and the fish made rapid growth. By early 1967 it had reached its maximum carrying capacity of sunfish.

Beginning in March and ending in May, a series of fish kills occurred (just like the ones that happen in farm ponds when the oxygen supply becomes short). Thirty-three bass and 3,500 redear were found dead (the original sunfish had spawned).

In October, 1967, seventeen months after the bass were stocked, the pond was drained and all of the fish were counted. There were 18 bass which averaged 1.3 pounds each (a very good average when you consider one of the bass weighed only 9 ounces). This one was thought to be sole survivor of the spring bass spawn.

Almost 230,000 sunfish were found in the drained pond. These totaled 500 pounds in weight but less than 800 of the number were considered eating size (one-tenth of a pound or over). Two hundred and thirty thousand small fish had filled the weight vacuum created by the death of 3,500 larger fish.

Because it was heavily fertilized the pond produced over 500 pounds of eating size fish in one-half acre of water. But, because of two many sunfish, the pond had problems that could not be cured by restocking.

Statisticians for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department estimate a total of 13,090,000 persons will utilize State parks during the fiscal year Sept. 1, 1967 through Aug. 31, 1968.

A total of 12.4 million persons visited Texas State parks during the 1967 fiscal year ending Aug. 31 — the first time State park visitation has exceeded the population of the State.

Compare Prices In Holiday Shopping

COLLEGE STATION — Time seems to grow more important around the holiday season. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension specialist in consumer marketing, offers these suggestions to help save time and money, making "plans — ahead" for food easy.

To shell or not to shell may be a question regarding pecans. Compare the cost of the nuts in the shell and those shelled. Two pounds of well-filled out pecans will yield about one pounds of nut meats.

If pecans in the shell cost 69 cents a pound, one pound of nut meats would cost $1.38. Shelled pecans will cost about $1.70 a pound if bought in that quantity. If you buy three or four ounce packages of pecans, then the cost per ounce is more, the Texas A&M University specialist said. Broken pieces may be less expensive than whole kernel — check prices. The pecan crop is late this year and better prices may be available later in the season.

You may also be wondering whether to buy canned cranberry sauce or to make your own from fresh cranberries. A one pound can of cranberry sauce is two cups and makes 8 servings of one-fourth cup each. One pound of fresh cranberries will make three to three and a half cups of sauce and provide 12 to 14 servings of the same size. Of course, sugar must be added to the fresh cranberries when making sauce so add this to the cost of the fresh cranberries for accurate cost comparison.

To have all your cookies at their best on Christmas day, classify the kinds you plan to make according to their storage life. The first cookies to make are those that need to be stored for a time to mellow their spicy goodness (such as fruit cake cookies).

This is the peak season for coconuts, cranberries and tangelos. Grapefruit, tangerines, navels and juice oranges, apples, pears, grapes, avocados, bananas and persimmons are other good fruit choices.

In fresh vegetables, at moderate prices, are cooking greens, cabbage, squash, celery, sweet corn, sweet potatoes, turnips, rutabagas and head lettuce.

Vanderbilt beat Alabama in football 3-0 in their first meeting since the Southeastern Conference was formed in 1933 the University of Alabama has had six teams go undefeated and

GASOLINE TAX CREDIT — Farmers are reminded by James Mallett, Extension farm management specialist, that the federal gasoline tax of four cents per gallon on gas used on a farm for farming purposes will now be claimed as a tax credit on the annual income tax report. Mallett adds that the tax credit also includes lubricating oil at six cents per gallon and diesel fuel and special motor fuels used in other than highway vehicles.

GYPSUM IN WINTER FEED SUPPLEMENT — Demonstrations conducted over a seven-year period in Titus County and supervised by County Agent E. E. Neal, indicate that gypsum can be used the same as salt to limit feed intake of cattle during the winter supplemental feeding period. Neal said there was no noticeable difference in the performance of cattle eating a mixture of 14 percent gypsum and 86 percent cottonseed meal and another group getting 33 one-third percent salt and 66 two-thirds percent cottonseed meal. Both groups ate about the same amount of feed per day — about 2.5 pounds. Only half as much gypsum as salt is required to control feed intake, Neal explains.

FOOD CONSUMPTION UP — Per capita food consumption in the U. S. during 1967 is estimated at 1,434 pounds, up from 1,422 pounds in 1966. Con-

COLLEGE STATION — The Federal Gas Tax refund of 4 cents per gallon on gasoline used on a farm for farming purposes will now be claimed as a tax credit on the annual income tax report and must be filed before the end of the tax reporting period, which is April 15. Gas tax credits will not be allowed on late reports.

FOOD A BARGAIN — Total food expenditures, and per capita food expenditures are at record highs in the U. S. for 1967. But, percentage of disposable income spent for food was a record low, according to USDA's Economic Research Service. The percent of disposable income spent for food dropped from 18.3 percent in 1966 to 17.7 percent in 1967 — the lowest on record.

The tax credit has been extended to include the federal tax on lubricating oil at 6 cents per gallon, and on diesel fuel and special motor fuels used other than in highway vehicles, according to James Mallett, Extension farm management specialist at Texas A&M University.

Formerly the gas tax refund period was July 1 to June 30, and claims were to be filed by September 30, according to Mallett. Since this change was initiated in 1966, this will be the first full year for the new filing system. Farmers will claim the federal tax credit on qualifying fuels and lubricants purchased during the 1967 calendar year.

For more information, Mallett suggests that a copy of IRS publication number 308, be obtained from the district director of the Internal Revenue Service or from the local county agricultural agent.

Literally millions of extra dollars have been laid out by mills and merchants for the Plains' early harvest of "quality" cotton.

Growers have been paid from $10 to $75 and more per bale above set loan values for cotton of known variety, preparation and reputation.

More cotton buyers have been found working "cotton row" and gin offices on the Plains than at any time since 1960.

The government's offer to take cotton into Commodity Credit Corporation stocks at fixed minimum prices, an indispensable tool for orderly marketing in recent years, has been virtually ignored this year.

Cotton has moved, as it was intended to do, directly from the hands of the producer into the hands of the people for whom he produced it.

This has been the happy situation to date, November 28, 1967. Whether this market and these prices will hold or advance through the season, or even until these lines have the chance to be printed, is a question few will attempt to answer.

Don Anderson, Crosbyton farmer and President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., is one of the many producers fortunate enough to plant and harvest cotton with the necessary quality to command premium prices.

But Anderson is convinced that higher prices are not the most important aspect of this year's return to an active cotton market on the Plains. Here, intact, are his comments.

"The big question is whether these buyers will be back in 1968 and 1969 and the years that follow, or whether 1967 will prove to be a one-shot bonus. And that's a question we ourselves can answer.

"The tight supply situation this year actually forced buyers to come to the Plains to fill their cotton requirements. Even though we had told them through PCG and other means that we were making an all-out effort to upgrade the quality of our production, if there had been ample cotton elsewhere, most of them probably wouldn't have been here.

"Fortunately, I think we have proven to them that we can grow the kinds of cotton they want to buy. With careful production and harvesting practices and by ginning in blocks to maintain varietal purity we have given them thousands of bales of cotton they can depend on to meet their spinning specifications for a wide range of end uses.

"The mills should be, and I think they will be pleased with most of the cotton they buy from the Plains this year.

"But in future years we will be able to count on tight supplies or shortages to drive buyers to our door. Buyers will have to be lured to this area, in many instances from other sections of the cotton belt, by a reputation for producing true quality cotton. And that reputation must be built rapidly and strongly on the slight start made this year, because we certainly haven't presented such an image in the past.

"Producers, ginners and merchants alike, if we are to have continuing markets, will have to show the highest degree of integrity. When a bale of cotton is represented as of a certain variety, it must be that variety and not some other variety or a mixture of two varieties.

"Cotton can sometimes be sold under false pretenses, but it cannot be spun except for what it is. The mill buyer may be fooled, but you can't fool a spinning frame.

"And when it is known that cotton was falsely labeled by producer, ginner or merchant, next year's cotton from that farm, gin or merchant — and eventually cotton from that area — will be a drug on the market.

"We may never again see the day when cotton can be grown at a profit for the government loan. I doubt that we will. So all that is left is to produce for the market.

"It appears now that 1968 production will no more than equal the demand, and we will have a second opportunity to prove our ability to grow and market a quality, dependable product.

"I don't think we can afford to miss that opportunity."

Some are speculating on whether the Secretary of Agriculture will be able, under current law, to declare marketing quotas for the 1969 cotton marketing year.

Quotas can be declared whenever during any calendar year the Secretary determines that the total supply of cotton for the marketing year beginning in such calendar year will exceed the normal supply for such marketing year.

"Normal supply" is defined by the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, as "the estimated domestic consumption of cotton... plus the estimated exports of cotton for such marketing year, plus 30 per centum of the sum of such consumption and exports as an allowance for carryover."

So it would appear that to declare marketing quotas, and thus make a 1969 cotton program possible, the cotton produced in 1968 plus the cotton carryover on August 1, 1968 will need to exceed 130 per cent of the estimated cotton consumption during the 1968-69 marketing year. The cotton marketing year runs from August 1 to July 31.

The carryover of cotton on August 10 of this year was 12.4 million bales. Production this year is now estimated at about 7.9 million, giving a total supply for the 1967-68 marketing year of 20.3 million bales.

Assuming these figures to be correct, and assuming a total oftake this year of 13.5 million bales, the carryover on August 1, 1968 would come to 6.8 million.

That 6.8 million bales, added to 1968 production, would need

Auction Is Held As St. Anthony Guild Program

An auction of homemade gift items and foods, with Mrs. Edward Paetzold as auctioneer, provided amusement while it raised funds for St. Anthony's Guild at a meeting Thursday evening in St. Anthony's School auditorium.

The auction, sponsored by the ways and means committee which is headed by Mrs. Henry Kuper, replaced the regular program. The Very Rev. Angelus Delahunt, moderator, gave the opening prayer and explained purposes of a service set for Dec. 8, the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, as a memorial to the late Rev. Alexander Beaton.

Members voted to contribute to a project of the United to exceed 130 per cent of the Secretary's guess at 1968-69 total oftake.

If he estimates consumption for that marketing year at 13.7 million bales, which is probably as good a guess as any at this time, then 1968 production would have to reach a little over 11 million bales if marketing quotas are to be in effect for cotton in 1969.

Such production would bring total supply up to more than 17.8 million bales, exceeding the required 130 per cent of the estimated 13.7 million-bale consumption.

Church Women for sending gifts to Viet Nam.

They also planned to bring food, clothing and toys to fill Christmas baskets for needy local families, to a Christmas party the evening of Dec. 12 in Community Center. Guild and Antonion Circle members will join as hostesses to all women of St. Anthony's Parish.

Mmes. A. J. Beizer, Ray Wilhelm, Arnold Betzen and Joe Paetzold were hostesses to 30 members. All officers were present.

Funeral Service Set For Mother

Funeral services for Mrs. Lee Milburn, 86, of Nocona, mother of Emmett Milburn of Hereford, will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. today in First Methodist Church of Nocona, of which she was a member. She died Friday evening.

A resident of the North Texas city about 40 years, Mrs. Milburn was a native of Tennessee, where she was born April 8, 1881. She married and came to Texas in May, 1897, and with her husband lived on a farm in Cooke County a number of years before moving to Nocona.

She is survived by seven daughters, two sons, 22 grandchildren and 38 great-grandchildren. Her husband died in 1964.

Burial in Nocona Cemetery will be directed by Scott Brothers Funeral Home of that city.

Classes To Visit Indian Grounds

PLAINVIEW — Two Wayland College classes during the January microterm will make field trips that promise to be highlights of the courses, instructors said.

Sociology 373 taught by Alban L. Wheeler, assistant professor of sociology, and history 365 taught by Dr. Charles F. Ogilvie, assistant professor of history, are the courses that will take the instructors and classes to Santa Fe, N. M. during Jan. 17-20 for close-up study and observation of sociology in reality and history on the scene.

Wheeler's course emphasizes cultural anthropology as applied to the Indians of the Southwest. Dr. Ogilvie's course deals with history of Texas and the Southwest.

The instructors are confident that their students, as well as themselves, will profit immensely from "rubbing elbows" with the elements of the two courses.

The groups will visit Indian pueblos, both inhabited and uninhabited, and museums of both modern and ancient cultures. The museums of Navajo culture and international folk art are on the study list. Officials of the National Park Service, archaeologists and historians of note will address the classes.

The Wayland groups will stay at the Glorieta Baptist Assembly grounds near Santa Fe. They will buy, prepare and serve their food communally.

The Wayland microterm will be from Jan. 8 through Jan. 16 and will enable students to complete one course.

IT'LL COST TO TAKE OUT ANGER ON PHONE BOOK

NEW DELHI — Carelessness with the telephone directory is going to be costly in New Delhi. Telephone officials have decided that people who turn in mutilated directories in exchange for new ones will have to pay instead of receiving the new one free.

The reason is that the telephone company sells the old directories to people who paste pages into small paper bags. They refuse to buy mutilated directories.

Local Man Plans To Make Tour

Wilbur D. Gibson of Hereford plans to be among 75 area persons who will leave Amarillo and Lubbock by plane on Dec.

10 for California and a tour of that state's water projects.

Sponsored by Water Inc., the tour will end on Dec. 13 when the members return. Others from the Magic Triangle making the trip will be C. W. Anthony and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Maxwell of Dimmitt and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Black, Bruce Parr, S. L. Struve and N. D. Buske, all of Friona.

John Kendrick of Brownfield, President of Water, Inc., said that the group will visit state water officials in Sacramento and go from there to the giant Oroville Dam, the starting point of the $1,750,000,000 California Water Project. "And the starting point of the tour," Kendrick added.

While in California, the water group will visit Kern County, located in the San Joaquin Valley, one of the most intensely irrigated areas in the world. While there, the Kern County Water Agency in Bakersfield will explain the so-called "Master District" water agencies' operation to the tour members.

California, like the Water, Inc. region, is running out of underground water and has inaugurated a water transportation system to move over four-million acre-feet of water annually by open canal from northern areas of the state to the southern areas of need, a distance of some 440-miles. The system is fully coordinated with other water developments constructed by the Federal Government and local agencies.

Kendrick explained that Water, Inc. is "looking for some of the answers needed toward solving the water needs of West Texas, Eastern New Mexico and Western Oklahoma. Californians have impounded, conserved, transported and made water available for beneficial use by their people. We hope to find some possible methods and procedures which we could adopt and use to finance and secure supplemental water supplies for our area."

The tour group will leave Lubbock at 7:50 A. M., Sunday, Dec. 10th, and return Wednesday night, Dec. 13th.

CUB SCOUTS

By KEITH SCHROYER

During the Summer vacation and the first few months of school, Cub Scout Pack 153 has continued to be an important part of the program at the Casa de Amigos.

During the vacation months the Cubs took part in several activities. The first of these was a trip to the museum in Canyon where the boys had a glimpse into life as it used to be in the Wild West.

Later, Mr. Staley Hackley, aided by Mrs. Clyde Rush and Shelly Rush, conducted a beginning swimming class for the boys at the City Pool. When word of the class for the Cubs got around, the Packs membership swelled rapidly.

The class lasted for 2 weeks and some of the boys earned beginning swimming awards. Everyone developed some basic water skills and had a good time while doing it.

The swimming classes were followed by several trips to the pool to try out what they had learned.

The reforming of the Pack in September included the addition of six new boys to take the place of those who had moved from Hereford or stepped up into Boy Scouting.

Changes were also necessary in the Packs leadership. When VISTAS Pris Choate and Denise Waltman completed their service in Hereford, the Pack was without Den Mothers. However this problem was solved when newly arrived VISTAS Fran Galardo and Mary Schinnick moved into the vacant positions to help me with the Cubs.

One vital part of Scouting which had not been a part of the program was uniforms for the boys. Most of the families that these boys came from were not able to buy their son's a uniform.

As you are probably aware of, in such a program as Scouting a uniform is more than just a suit of clothes to the boy. Something seems to happen when he puts on his uniform. He seems to take much more pride in what he is and strives toward being the best. This is an attitude which was missing among the Cubs in the Pack.

For this reason, among the first projects for the year was an attempt to get the boys uniforms. Scout Executive Bob Jones was of great help here. He arranged a work project for the boys at Scout Camp Don Harrington in Palo Duro Canyon. In exchange for the work that the boys did at the camp, they were given new uniforms.

This project gave the boys a chance to earn their own uniforms and by doing so, to take pride in the accomplishment. It also taught the valuable lesson of working toward a goal.

The uniforms have been ordered and at every Pack meeting the question, "When are the uniforms coming" is asked several times.

When Mr. Frank Ford heard of the boys efforts to earn their uniforms, he arranged for each of the boys to receive Boy's Life, the official Scouting magazine. The arrival of the first issues was accompanied by calls from the boys wondering if the magazine that came in the mail was really for them.

With these matters taken care of, the pack settled into a program of varied activities.

Next week — Cub Scouts Part II.

Safety Of Toys Is Vital Factor

For preschool youngsters, the Christmas morning discovery of new toys from Santa is the high point of the holiday. But too often the fun and excitement are marred by the tragedy of accidents caused by unsafe toys. From the anxious moment of a cut finger to fatalities, the hazards of unsuitable toys take their holiday toll.

While no parent, grandparent, friend or relative who plays Santa Claus for a preschool child would knowingly give a toy not safe for play in the before-kindergarten world, they can be misled by the appeals of novelty, price, "cuteness," or color.

Making Christmas toys safe for preschoolers is a year-round job for a research firm which recommends the following guidelines for a safe, happy holiday for youngsters:

—Be sure all paint used on toys for children is non-toxic. A topiary tree was the central everything, this is particularly important.

—Check the material of which a playtool is made. The toy which breaks easily and unexpectedly into jagged or small pieces is a hazard for preschoolers. Wood and soft, strong plastic are especially acceptable for the preschooler's toys.

—Toys with small parts easily removed by eager little fingers — buttons, eyes of stuffed animals, small beads, or wires — are not for the younger preschool set.

—Sharp edges or corners, protruding nails, splinters in wood are safety hazards which can be avoided by checking the toy thoroughly before buying. Electric toys are not recommended for younger preschool children and, in addition, they tend to stifle the creative and imaginative challenges of "learning while playing."

—From the toddler stage, children should be taught to put their toys away. Providing a special place — toy box, shelves, or cupboard — encourages habits of neatness and safety.

Christmas is a happy time, particularly when the enthusiasm and delight of the season are shared with youngsters. Giving special attention to toy safety can help assure the happiest of holidays.

FRAME A LEGEND

To spread the Christmas spirit throughout the house, exchange framed pictures which hang in your home through the year for religious or winter scenes. Framed pictures of traditional holiday stories or scenes depicting Christmas legends are sure to become family favorites for holiday decorating and will be used again in coming years.

HOLIDAY PUZZLES

If that little extra Christmas gift for the preschooler in your heart or home is puzzling you this year, maybe that's the answer. Puzzles! From maps to animals to nursery rhyme characters to every-day objects, colorful wood puzzle plaques delight and fascinate youngsters long past the holiday season.

CITIZENS OF DEAF SMITH COUNTY!

The Hospital Bond Election...

AN EXPLANATION OF NEEDS AND COSTS

Your Board of Managers would like to explain the reasons for our need for the equipment and buildings we are attempting to purchase from the money from this bond issue. We have arrived at the decision to ask for this bond election after much discussion, serious thought and conferences with the Medical Staff and the Commissioners Court. We want you to understand it and we are being perfectly honest with you.

What We Need To Purchase

1. A new 500 Milliamp X-Ray machine with complete attachments and equipment with a new room to house the equipment.
2. New boilers large enough so that one boiler can heat the premises and furnish hot water should either boiler break down.
3. A larger warehouse in which to store bulk items.
4. New room lights for the Semi-private rooms and the Children's Wing.

WHY A NEW X-RAY DEPARTMENT

Our present x-ray machine was purchased in 1952. It is a 200 Milliamp machine and was as good as was available at the time. During the past 15 years, however, many improvements and developments have been made in all lines of hospital equipment and certainly in X-Ray. The machine we propose to install is two and one-half times more powerful than our present machine. It has spot film devices and image intensifiers not available 15 years ago. If you have ever seen an x-ray film, you know that it consists of shadows, spots, bone outlines etc. The shadows and spots mean much to the trained Radiologist — and we have the best in the country — so it stands to reason that the sharper, clearer the picture the better diagnosis the Radiologist can make. Films made from this machine will show much more than films made from our old machine. This is VERY IMPORTANT in diagnosing an early development which diagnosis could save the life of the patient. We all know that cancer can be cured IF FOUND EARLY ENOUGH. The rapid processor is important particularly during a surgical procedure where a series of pictures are necessary. Our present method takes from 15 to 30 minutes to obtain a dry, readable film. The rapid processor will develop a dry film in 90 seconds thus resulting in a much shorter time the patient must remain on the operating table under the anesthetic. Just as a 1968 model automobile will do many more things than will a 15 year old 1952 model car, so will this machine do more than our present machine. Our present machine will be kept for emergencies.

A new room is required for the X-Ray machine because this larger model requires a minimum ceiling height of 9 feet whereas all of our present rooms are only 8 to 8 1/4 ft. tall. The walls must be lined with lead and heavy wiring furnished. We feel we can serve our patients better with a department built for the purpose rather than a "make-do" renovation of some present area.

WHY NEW BOILERS

Insurance and Bonding Companies consider 20 years to be the life of a boiler particularly those used constantly as is ours. When our present boilers were purchased some 21 years ago, they were large enough so that one boiler would suffice in an emergency. Since that time, our hospital has more than doubled in size — so now it takes the entire output of BOTH boilers to heat our building in the Winter and to heat the water for dishwashing, bathing, etc. Since the boilers do heat the water we use, at least one boiler must remain on during the Summer so we have little time for renovation and repairs. Our boiler inspector has warned us to expect trouble at any time due to the age of our boilers. So, if one of our boilers should break down during cold weather, we would be in very serious trouble. Of all institutions, firm or public buildings using boiler heat, your Hospital is one place that CAN-

NOT EVER CLOSE DOWN FOR ANY REASON. We must protect the patients so we must have heat for our buildings. WE CANNOT GAMBLE ON OLD BOILERS — TOO MUCH IS AT STAKE.

WHY A NEW WAREHOUSE

A hospital is a combination of many businesses rolled into one. It is a hotel, restaurant, nursing home, pharmacy, clinic and others in addition to furnishing facilities for surgery and delivery and care of babies. We must purchase large quantities of bulk items such as canned foods, paper towels, toilet paper, underpads, obstetrical pads, kleenex, paper sacks, gauze sponges and many, many more items. Our present limited storage space forces us to buy these supplies in minimum quantities thereby paying the highest prices. We honestly feel that by being able to buy staple items in larger quantities we will save enough to pay for this warehouse in as little as two years.

WHY NEW LIGHTS

The room lighting in the areas mentioned is not adequate. We propose to furnish these rooms with the same light we installed in our new wing in 1964. We feel it will add much to the patients comfort and satisfaction while in the hospital.

WILL THIS RAISE MY TAXES?

We are taxpayers too and this is a question that was and is on all of our minds on any bond issue. We have been assured by the Commissioners Court that it will NOT. At the present time of the 80 cents per $100.00 valuation you are now paying in the form of County taxes, only .04c of that amount goes to the hospital and all of that is for retirement of the bonds voted in 1963 for our new wing. You are paying nothing in the form of taxes for upkeep, repairs, operations and maintenance of the hospital. In that respect we have been self-supporting for years. In other words, if your County tax bill is $200.00, only $10.00 of that amount goes to the hospital.

The Commissioners assure us that increase in construction and new valuations added to the rolls will be sufficient to absorb this small amount. The Commissioners are pledged to not raise taxes so long as the County can be operated under the present budget.

By way of further explanation and comparison of the amount it is costing the taxpayers of Deaf Smith County and what it is costing some of our neighbor Counties, we would like to give you this information. These Counties are paying IN ADDITION TO THE REGULAR COUNTY TAX the following amounts for hospital operations. Castro County, .32c. Swisher County is paying 40c. Ochiltree County is paying 45c. Potter County allots Northwest Texas Hospital 10c for charity work and in addition the City of Amarillo pays 16c for that hospital support.

We think you have been getting a bargain. Out of the hospitals listed above, only Northwest Texas Hospital is accredited. YOUR HOSPITAL IS ALSO ACCREDITED AND HAS BEEN FOR TEN YEARS. There are still only slightly over 30% of all Texas Hospitals that are accredited. We are proud of that fact and that we have been able to operate without being a burden to the County. We feel that we have not only added to the health of the community but to its economy as well.

During the period from January 1, 1955 through December 31, 1966, the County, through tax money, had contributed to the growth of the hospital a total amount of $418,000.00. This included our nurses home built in 1957, our emergency room and lobby and offices in 1962, our wing in 1963 and 1964 and other improvements of minor nature. Most of this — $350,000 — was for our 1964 addition and renovations.

During the SAME PERIOD, the hospital, through savings and gifts through Project Christmas Card, returned to the hospital a little more than $400,000.00. From gifts from the Jim Hill Estate, our excellent service clubs and many individuals, we invested more than $100,000.00. In addition, WITHOUT ONE CENT OF COST TO THE TAXPAYERS, we have absorbed the amount of $463,268.75 in the form of CHARITY and bad debts. In other words, the hospital has returned more than twice the amount to the County than the County has invested in the hospital.

WILL WE BE BACK FOR MORE IN TWO, THREE, FOUR, OR FIVE YEARS?

This question has been asked of us too. We want to be honest with you. If our community continues growing as it is now and as we feel that it will continue to grow, the need for more beds will be with us at sometime in the future. Under the laws with which we have to operate, the only way we can secure more space is through a bond issue. Right now, we have adequate bed space. When we will be pressed for more, only time will tell. BUT BEAR THIS IN MIND. What we are asking for now, will service quite a bit of additional bed space. So if we do have to come back to you in the future, we will ask for less money than we would have to if these facilities are not added now. This money will not be wasted.

We urge you to go to the polls on Saturday, December 16, and vote FOR the bond issue.

By SUE COLEMAN

Isn't it fun, having a season of weddings and "in-honors" for brides, almost like June, to make the holidays even more party-ful?

WEDDINGS ARE ALREADY announced to fill the calendar right up to New Years Day, then a few early in January, then you can tell that college mid-terms fall late that month because there will be another rush from campus to altar at that time.

It's true, everybody loves brides, and what would society pages be without 'em?

BESIDES PARTIES, this is the season for good-cause-begging, too. Seems like the mail every day has a letter or two from a home for these or those, or a foundation to combat familiar diseases and some you never heard of.

Maybe the spirit of Christmas generosity is prevalent at this time of year, or maybe people with too much money are thinking of income tax-deductible gifts, so maybe it's a good time for such campaigns.

But not from me, when any possible surplus has already been spent for Christmas gifts to next of kin. An income tax deduction is not my main problem right now. Or ever, come to think of it.

AN ITEM IN THE MAIL this week looks at first glance like something to make a funny remark about. It says South Plains College at Levelland will offer a short course in gift wrapping, and you might say something very clever about going to college to learn to wrap a package.

However, I've lived in a place where a junior college had such a course and after all the wisecracks had died away, several girls and women who had enrolled, turned up with good jobs in local stores for the Christmas season, and some went on to permanent jobs.

It sounds funny as part of a college curriculum, but it is actually a three-day training class, at very low cost to teach people a skill which is in seasonal demand for paying jobs, or which comes in handy for those who join me in thinking that wrapping your own gifts is half the fun of holiday giving.

Hereford schools' vocational department might consider something of the sort for next year, if not now, in case it can conduct short courses. It's plumb practical; not silly like it sounds.

LANIER TRIES BROADWAY

NEW YORK — Sidney Lanier, a former Episcopalian minister who cofounded the American Place Theater, is making his Main Stem acting debut opposite Jean Arthur in "The Freaking Out of Stephanie Blake."

He is to enact a Greenwich Village veteran bemused by current hippie activities. Lanier has appeared previously in summer stock and on TV.

BRIDE IN FALL WEDDING — Mrs. Dwight McLean Lyman, at home in Baton Rouge, La., after a trip following her marriage Nov. 24, is the former Miss Sandra Rae Winkler of that city. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Winkler, former Hereford residents. A number of relatives went from this area to the wedding, including her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr., whose wedding anniversary she chose for her marriage date. Soc pix to come set 2 col with 3-36 newcomers in w

Miss Dameron Directs Music Club's Program

Contrasting two of the most influential composers in the history of western music, Bach and Handel, Miss Frances Dameron directed the program in Music Study Club this week in the home of Mrs. D. W. Palmer. The subject was "Giants In Those Days."

She remarked that it was most unusual for two such figures in any of the arts to be living at the same time. Bach is noted for organ music and choruses, his most famous works those for the church. Handel is famed for oratorios, especially the well-loved and often-sung "Messiah."

In musical numbers on the program, styles of the two were compared as Mrs. W. T. Carmichael sang a religious composition of each, with Mrs. A. J. Schroeter accompanying.

Mrs. J. R. Allison played an organ selection and Mrs. Bill Bradley a piano solo from Bach's works, and Mmes. Bob Wert, Bill Dameron, T. W. Roberson, Dale Young and Wesley Fisher sang a Bach arrangement of a tune by Martin Luther.

Mrs. Sam Long accompanied, singing of the Hymn of the month, Thanksgiving Hymn, with Mrs. Carmichael directing. Mrs. Fisher, vice president, presided for business.

Mrs. R. Schroeter of Austin was a guest. Other members present were Mmes. Eugene Brink, S. F. Clements, Ellis Coombes, Joe Hacker, Richard Jackson, Paul Lyons, J. C. McCracken, C. J. Mountz, Lowell Sharp, A. O. Thompson, R. P. Conaway, J. T. Gilbreath, Jesse Stanford, Bill Devers, Clifford Trotter, Glenn Snyder and S. O. Wilson.

VATICAN CITY — Pope Paul VI has asked that the terminology, "His Holiness of Our Lord" be dropped in favor of a simpler designation, "The Holy Father."

Also, in appointments, the Pope said that hereafter he will simply "appoint" rather than "benignly deign to appoint."

WMS Spends Entire Day In Study

Preceding the annual week of prayer for foreign missions which the Day WMS of First Baptist Church will observe with daily programs beginning Sunday, a book concerning missions in Africa, From Arrows To Atoms, was studied under leadership of Mrs. Harvey Penner Wednesday.

A luncheon with menu and table decorations suggestive of Africa was held at noon, an intermission in the all-day study. A film strip emphasizing the book's message was shown during the noon recess.

Assisting Mrs. Penner was a panel comprising Mmes. Ray Don King, Eugene Sparks, Dean Herring, Waldo Baxter and Herschel Black, representing missionaries in Africa. Music keyed to the program was by Mmes. Bill Lanford, Bobby Owen, Lloyd Crume and John Sievers.

The program was arranged by the mission study committee, Mmes. Gwynne Owen, Ben Scott and Walker Parris. Social chairmen from the five WMS circles were in charge of meal preparation, assisted by Mmes. Virgil Justice, Cecil Boyer, Scott and King.

Mrs. Marlin Gilliland is general chairman for next week's programs, which will begin with the Sunday morning sermon by Dr. J. I. Bishop of Wayland College, now serving as interim pastor of the church. A special program is planned for Wednesday evening, with morning programs on other weekdays.

Parties Precede Dec. 9 Wedding

Miss Suzanne Langley, whose marriage next Saturday will climax a series of complimentary parties, was honored yesterday morning with a coffee and rice bag party in the home of Mrs. John Aikin, with Mrs. Hazen Woods as co-hostess.

Miss Langley and Lt. Dan Wall of Reese Air Force Base are to be married in First Methodist Church here. She is the Earnest Langley's daughter, and a teacher of German at Texas Tech.

Pastel blue and emerald, colors chosen for the wedding, appeared in decor for the table where coffee was served, and in the living room of the Aikin home.

Handmade to fit the scrolled oval outline of the table, a cloth with white felt base and emerald satin skirt was overlaid with net in the same green shade. Pale blue flowers were arranged in a center bouquet with evergreen branches.

Coffee and party breads were served to guests who spent an hour in conversation and making souvenir rice bags, each with a minute sprig of holly. The bride-elect was presented a gift from the hostesses, an assortment of exotic rice in a blue and emerald bread basket.

On the guest list, with Miss Langley, her mother and sister, Miss Barbara Langley, were Mmes. Wayne Thomas, J. W. Witherspoon, Tom Burdett, Tom Kendrick, Jerry Avery, Lynton Allred, Paul Conaway, Les Combs, Pete Caviness. Also Mmes. Jim Durham, Kenny Gearn, Dudley Bayne, Dick Godwin, Jimmie Gillentine, J. C. McCracken, Wayne Edwards, Bert Boomer, Ansel McDowell, Don Baugous, C. W. Fisher, Bill Dameron, A. T. Mims and Elmer Kimball.

A dinner Thursday evening in Lubbock was another courtesy, with Mrs. George E. Gilkerson and Mrs. George W. Gilkerson as hostesses at Hemp Hill's. The honoree's mother and sister Barbara were guests from Hereford.

A topiary tree was the centerpiece on the emerald and white table. The hostesses presented a gift of her silver to Miss Langley.

Dinner guests included Misses Cheryl Jones, Jane Smith, Joan Wood, Libby Collins, Helen Kott; Mmes. Melvin Trail and Lewis D'Elia.

Revival To Begin At Summerfield

Summerfield Baptist Church will be the scene of "Spiritual Conquest", a revival that is to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The young people of the church are to lead the revival.

Conducting the services will be a team from the Ministerial Alliance at Wayland Baptist College. The team consists of Jackie Lee, Brock Sanders, and Gary Moore.

On Friday and Saturday services will be held at 7 p.m. Sunday services will be: Sunday School 10 a.m.; Morning Worship at 11 a.m.; Training Union at 6 p.m.; and Evening Worship service at 7 p.m.

Dinner, Lunch In Pre-Wedding Party Picture

Continued parties honoring Miss Katherine Barnard before her pre-Christmas wedding to Mike Thurber were gay spoils in his weekend's social picture. A Saturday luncheon was given by Mrs. W. L. Davis Jr. and Mrs. Ivan Block, a dinner Friday by the James W. Witherspoons.

The couple, both seniors at Texas Tech, plans a Dec. 22 exchange of marriage vows. The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Barnard.

A rosy scene was created for the dinner, when Mr. and Mrs. Witherspoon were hosts in Hereford Country Club. Approximately 50 guests, many of them fellow-students of the honored couple, were seated at four tables laid with pink cloths and lighted with pink candles.

The color was repeated in candelabra arrangements of carnations and white wedding bells which centered each table. Friends of the bride-elect at Tech were also on the guest list for the luncheon, in the home of Mrs. Davis.

Sweetheart roses and English ivy around the base of silver candlesticks formed the center piece of the buffet table. Quartet tables where guests lunched were each centered with a silver goblet holding more of the flowers and ivy.

Those invited with the bride-to-be, her mother and her grandmother, Mrs. Jesse Stanford, were Mrs. Linda Defoyd, Mrs. Steve Gilbert of Amarillo, Miss Sally Bartow of Houston, and from Lubbock, Misses Janice Johnson, Paulette Gavin, Elizabeth Powers, Pam Shirley, Joycille Little, Vickie Nowlin and Ann Arnold.

Equal parts of dark molasses, prepared mustard and cider vinegar make a barbecue sauce that has become popular for use on fresh pork spareribs that are being ovenroasted.

Oilfields Were Home

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Boom towns and more sedate oilfield towns were homes for Mrs. Thomas W. Kendrick when she was growing up, daughter of an oil company employe who was periodically transferred to scenes of current activity in that picturesque industry.

PART OF THE TIME her family lived "on the lease," in one of the clusters of houses which oil companies formerly built for their employes near the location of drilling operations or processing plants.

Pretty honey-blonde Julia Kendrick, a teacher the past seven years and wife of a young attorney, looks back to the frequent moves of her childhood, and believes they enabled her to adjust well to whatever situation faces her, as well as giving her friends in many parts of West Texas.

The Kendricks moved here in July, although they had spent the previous summer in Hereford while Kendrick was a law student intern in the firm of Witherspoon, Aikin, Thomas and Langley, where he is now on the staff.

MRS. KENDRICK was born at Healdton, Okla., home of her grandmother, but her parents' home was actually at Muenster, in the North Texas oilfield region.

Later they lived in various places including Dumas; Kermit, where they went when it was a boom town and the family had to stay in a hotel for a time because there were simply no houses available; Andrews, where they lived longest; No trees, which Mrs. Kendrick always mentions because few people have heard of it; and Hobbs, N. M., where she was a high school graduate.

"Since I grew up expecting the unexpected in daily living, I was prepared to be a lawyer's wife," she says in reference to the irregular hours for meals and home routine which are necessary because of her husband's work. The couple married while they were college students.

HE WAS GRADUATED from the University of Texas Law School last spring. Mrs. Kendrick earned her bachelors degree from Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, and did some graduate work at Texas University while she was living in Austin. She taught in public schools there.

Her work in Hereford schools is with special education classes at Central School, her fifth year of working with retarded children whose progress she always finds "exciting."

Furnishing their home at 106 Northwest Drive, which they bought last May, is being done "piece by piece," Mrs. Kendrick explains, with only the living room complete.

SHE MADE THE draperies, her first experience with that type of sewing although she makes dresses for herself. Her other accomplishment in handwork is crocheting, but she says she is tired of that for the present.

The Kendricks are learning together to play bridge, and both enjoy water sports although they lacked time for them last summer. They own a pampered pet dog, Twinkle, a lively black Pomeranian with brown feet.

Julia Kendrick has sung in church choirs but disclaims talent in music. She is a member of teachers' organizations and has joined the Amarillo Chapter of the Council for Exceptional Children, her only memberships at present. In Austin she was in the Law Students' Wives Club.

Letters To Santa

Dear Santa,
I wish to get some Christmas for me, my sister, and my aunts and uncle. Because I think we are not going to get any Christmas because we are nine in this family and my father just earn enough to feed us all because my grandpa is unable to work. So please Santa try to get us something for Christmas this year. My name is Fidencio Pena my sister is Priscilla, six months and Juan 16, Roy 8, Sofia 10, and Elizabeth 13.

Dear Santa Claus,
This is what I want for Christmas. An electric shooting gallery, one raccoon trap, and two big boxes of b.b.'s. Thank you for last years presents. My little borther wants a watch, a rabbit trap, and two boxes of b.b.'s. My little sister wants a pedal car, an ironing board, and a doll. Please remember the other boys and girls.
Love,
Kerry Bell

Dear Santa,
I am a five year old girl and have been very good and I will leave you something to eat and drink Christmas night. I want a Baby Chatterbox, a Big Burger Grill, an Etch-a-Sketch, a Hot Potato and a vnitny and bench.

Spirit Of First Settlers Exhibited In Young Farmers

One of the most heartening expressions we have heard in a long time comes from an organization called the Hereford Young Farmers, who not only accepted responsibility for the annual Junior Livestock Show, but declare that they will make it the biggest and the best ever held in the county.

In addition to providing a type of enthusiasm and drive which we seldom run across these days, the boys outlined a series of plans which prove that they know what they are talking about, and which give every indication that they will do exactly what they promised toward making the show the biggest and best.

Our interpretation of their plan would be a sort of area competition with a Deaf Smith County show thrown in for good measure. The fact that most of these young men have personally shown calves in the same show during their boyhood certainly places them in a position to understand all phases of a first class livestock show.

Recognition of the fact that Hereford produces some of the finest purebred cattle in the world, along with an abundance of feed, has already marked the Magic Triangle as the nation's No. 1 cattle feeding grounds. We agree with the young farmers: Why, then, should we have to carry our livestock to other areas to gain the ultimate in recognition and sale price? Why not do what the area has done in the feed lot business, and establish the nation's top-ranking livestock show in the top livestock feeding area?

All of this is logical, even probable — but the thing that makes us happy is the fact that we have a group of common sense young men with enough imagination to realize the potential and, more important, enough ambition and spunk to organize the job with a will to see it through. This is the same spirit upon which our first settlers arrive on the Staked Plains, and regardless of what may come it is the type spirit which will insure continued progress and prosperity for the territory.

Keep an eye on the show, folks, and keep an eye on these young men. We predict they're going places.

Changing Times Is Evident During Christmas Season

Lo, these many years, a popular indoor sport among the older folks has been the prediction of havoc which essentially must come along with the younger generations.

In keeping with this situation is the

Happiness Is Toys For Tots

One of the most worthwhile and consistently pursued activities of the community is the VFW "Toys for Tots" campaign. This annual drive, followed by hours of volunteer repair work and handicraft, brings untold pleasure to hundreds of youngsters each Christmas at possibly the lowest cost of any other single campaign in the community.

The one pity of the event rests in the fact that so many people plan to contribute old toys, but simply never get around to it. Sometimes we wonder why the VFW does not seek assistance from the Boy Scouts and Campfire groups and, following sufficient publicity, have these youngsters make an early house-to-house solicitation?

Meanwhile, the Veterans have achieved wonders through their program and, oddly enough, probably no one else in the community honestly enjoys Christmas so much as those who devote their time and talents to making so many boys and girls happy. They work on Mondays and Wednesdays, 2:00 to 12:00 p. m., and will appreciate any toys delivered to the Rock Clubhouse in Veterans Park during these hours.

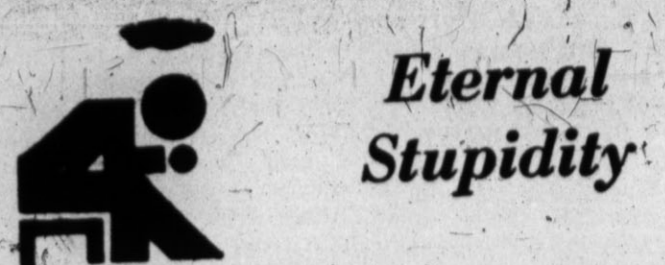

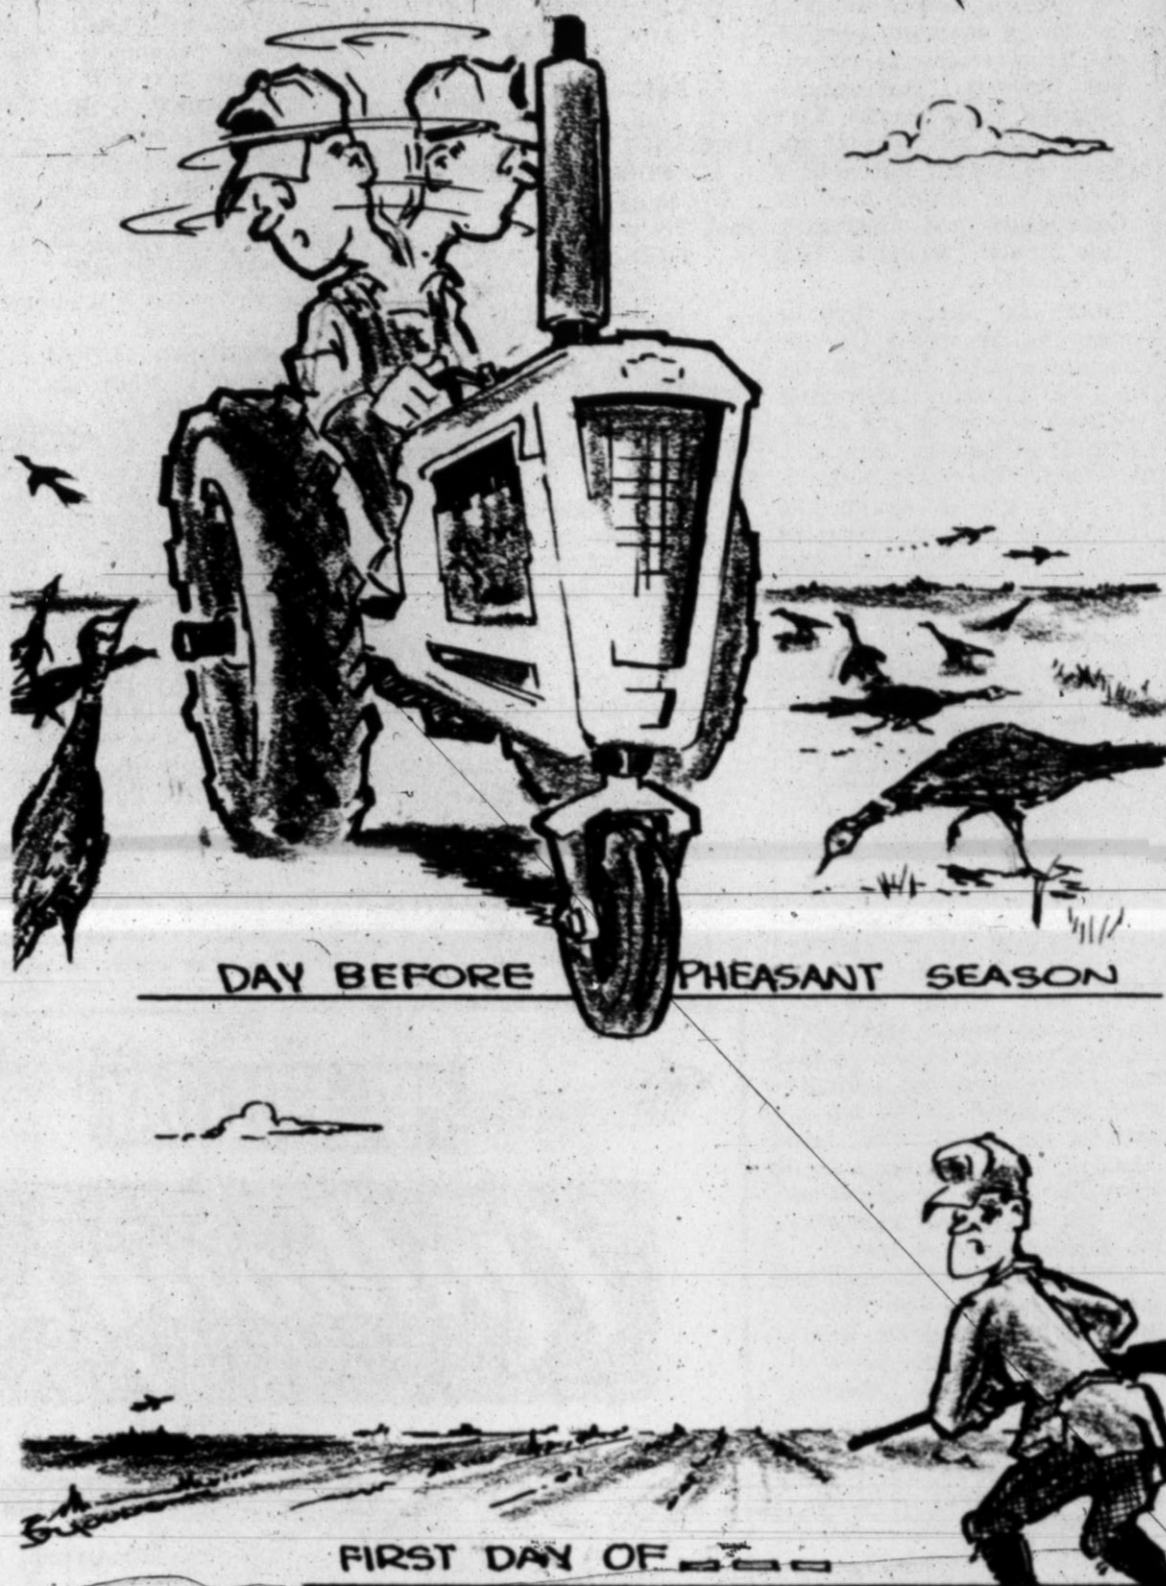

With a little cooperation on our part as individuals, we can help a truly worthwhile cause become larger and more serviceable.

President Johnson recently expressed his disappointment in being unable to make significant advances toward a peace in Vietnam. Unfortunately, this failure in Vietnam has had dire consequences on the President's popularity polls. I say unfortunate, because the President is by no means the only person who should bear the results of policy-making decisions. The blame rests on every American, because every American has had a part in the major decisions of the conflict. We favor war.

By the time a person receives his bachelor's degree, he has completed four years' study of United States history: in the fifth grade, eighth grade, eleventh grade, and finally as a college sophomore. In these years, our wars are reconstructed in all their ironic glory. The stories are of battles and destruction, of victory, victory, victory. Rot of this sort needs to be supplemented, perhaps best with pictures. Pictures of anguished faces of women and children suffering in war torn countries; pictures of blood, of mud, of hunger and cold, pictures showing what radiation burns look like; pictures that make war look grim, the way it is in real life. Our living generations have to be shown, since they have never experienced a war on their own shores.

When the safety of our homeland has been seriously threatened, young people have responded to the call. To those who have given their lives, we owe a more responsible attitude in the building of a world peace.

This is where too many of us get off. To wave the flag and shout "hurrah" for our armies is easy; to work without praise and without tangible rewards in the cause of peace is not so easy. But unless we at the grass roots develop unbiased attitudes respecting the other civilizations of the world, those soldiers who have made the greatest sacrifice will have died in vain.

Too often we forget that our country is but one of many; the odds are that we will not always be the top man in the game of world politics. We shudder at the thought that taking the Vietnamese problem to the United Nations might result in a decision that allows us no tangible victory. There are some among us who will go so far as to say that we should withdraw from the UN; we never question their loyalty.

Relationships between countries could be likened to relationships between individuals; give and take. The individual who is completely selfish cannot cultivate friendship and understanding.

When a person volunteers two years of his life for work in the Peace Corps, we wonder if he is a kook; if a person favors de-escalation of our Vietnam involvement, we think he is a traitor. But if a person favors cutting off foreign aid, we do not question his love of country; if a person screams for more war in Vietnam, we respect him as a patriot. We will go so far as to draft Peace Corps volunteers, all in the name of patriotism.

The answer to this mess lies only at the grass roots. This is where new attitudes need to be built. We need attitudes favoring peace and understanding, not military victory. We need attitudes respecting other races, cultures, and especially other forms of government. We will never build respect by going to war.

Rows and rows of crosses in Europe, flag-draped caskets in our churches, these have not been enough to show us or our world neighbors. We never recognize war as the seething, eternal stupidity of our civilized human race.

—Larry Fuhrmann

Senator Proposes Action To Relieve Aching Backs

By BERT MILLS
Washington, D. C. — Aching backs from coast to coast may be relieved to know they have at last one fellow sufferer in the U. S. Senate who thinks it is time the Federal government took action to relieve the widespread misery.

Senator Joseph S. Clark (D.,

Pa.) is 66 and in better shape than most men his age. In fact he feels fit enough to run for a third term next year. However he confessed in a recent Senate speech that he has been plagued from time to time with a common complaint, a sore back.

"Anyone who has ever suffered back pain and has sought medical assistance," he declared, "is well aware of how little is known about the back. The basic research is only beginning to be done, and on a scatter-shot and token basis. Much more must be done, and in a concerted and coordinated fashion."

So Senator Clark has proposed legislation to establish a National Back Institute, as part of the National Institutes of Health, NIH, which is part of the Public Health Service, already operates institutes doing research on cancer, the heart, allergies, arthritis, blindness and other afflictions.

The proposed Back Institute would conduct and support research for new treatment and cures, and training relating to diseases and disorders of the back, including research and training in the special health problems and requirements of persons suffering from back trouble.

Fellow Sufferers Sought
Senator Clark believes that "a census of Congress would turn up numerous other sufferers." For that reason, he did not drop his back bill in the hopper but simply printed it in the Congressional Record and urged that other Senators join him as co-sponsors.

He said that if enough interest is shown in his proposal, he expects to introduce the measure promptly, with the hope that hearings and committee and Senate action could follow fairly early next year.

He did not make an appeal for public support but the chances are that when the news gets around the sore-back fraternity will furnish plenty of backing for the back bill. Nobody knows how many Americans have back trouble but it must run into the millions.

The National Safety Council has estimated that there are more than 500,000 back injuries each year which are serious enough to cause workers to be off the job, at a cost to employers of about $1 billion annually in sick pay and wages to those who replace others who cannot work due to a back injury.

One third of all the workmen's compensation awards in California go to those who prove an injury to the back. Such awards have quadrupled in the See MAIN STREET Page 7

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his blindweed farm broadens his field of worry, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

Recently I wrote you about a public opinion poll which went to great lengths to discover that most people say their number one problem is money, like it's always been and which I knew all along, but I forgot to add that I have taken a poll myself, mostly by wracking my brain, among the governments of the world and can report that money is their biggest problem too. You name me a single government, local, state or national, anywhere in the world, which isn't scraping the bottom of the barrel and looking out the cracks in the staves to find more money.

I didn't know how serious this was until I picked up a copy of a newspaper the other day and read that the British government had asked for a billion-dollar emergency loan from the International Monetary Fund to stave off bankruptcy. Came right out and said it was on the verge of ruin.

I don't know anything about the International Monetary Fund, if it makes emergency loans to individuals please send me the address, I'd qualify, but what I got to thinking about is, what happens when a country goes bankrupt?

Who re-possesses it. What do they do with it?

I know what a bank does when it has to foreclose on a farm but what can you do with an entire country?

Furthermore, say England, despite its loans which for our part will have to be secured by a second lien or is it a third, still doesn't make it, goes broke, and its assets are put up for sale to pay off the creditors. Who's in the market for a busted country? The way countries are going nowadays, I can't think of many that could be called a sound financial investment.

I'll tell you, I don't think England is going under, but the mere idea of a country taking bankruptcy certainly gives a man something to speculate about.

I can see the advertisement the creditors would run in the newspapers of the world, including The Hereford Brand in order to get complete coverage: "For Sale At Public Auction to the highest bidder, the British Isles, entire contents to go, including the fixtures, such as Dukes, Earls, all sorts of Lords and other items too numerous to mention. Terms cash."

It's that last stipulation that's going to hamper the sale. By the way, I believe if I was you, when they send that ad in I'd ask for payment in advance.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

50 YEARS AGO

The Brand has been asked if letters to Santa Claus will be printed this Christmas.

The Brand will most cheerfully print Santa Claus letters, as in past years. Let the little ones write to Santa early, and mail the letters to us or hand them in at the office.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Webb are in receipt of a military card, stating briefly that their son, Edgar, a member of the Motor Transport Service, has landed safely overseas.

The report of the special Christmas Box committee of the local chapter, Red Cross, of which Mrs. Sherm Williams is chairman, shows that the total number of boxes shipped to the boys overseas amounts to 77.

A tremendous amount of work was involved in the shipment, and the committee deserves the praise and commendation of the people for their splendid work. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Fletcher Rogers and Mrs. Walter Dunlap.

In order to take up the Home Mission study book, "The Path of Labor" to complete the year's work, the Methodist ladies have decided to have an all day meeting Wednesday, Dec. 11, 1918, to be held in the annex of the M. E. Church. The meeting will start promptly at 9:45 and at noon a school lunch and hot coffee will be served. All desiring further information regarding the lunch, please phone 58.

To the Automobile Users: Your licenses are due before January first. As Collector, would appreciate your coming in early to avoid the rush; and as sheriff, I am asking you to see to this by that time.

Be sure and bring engine number, model of car, year made and, if registered, registration number.

25 YEARS AGO

Katherine (Kitten) Smith will be Hereford's representative in the company of Texas Rangerettes which will be sworn in Monday morning Dec. 7 at Amarillo as part of the recognition of Pearl Harbor Day.

Miss Smith took some entrance exams from Lr. Rose Smothers, WAAC recruiter who was in Hereford last week and she will leave Saturday for Lubbock to go through further induction procedure.

Do you need help? Someone to mind Junior, farm work, or even a clerk?

A voluntary students' employment bureau has been opened at the high school for students who want to work after school hours and on Saturdays. Around 60 boys and girls have voluntarily placed their names on the list in order to help in the shortage created by the war — and at the same time pick up some spending money for Christmas.

Experience in various lines and preference of work has been listed on the applications.

Santa Claus, still considered essential, even under wartime conditions, is going to be in Hereford Friday, November 18, and the kiddies of Hereford's Central School, St. Anthony's School and the rural schools of the county and adjacent trade territory have a cordial invitation to march in the parade, talk to Santa Claus and receive an early Christmas gift package.

If you have not yet received your copy of War Ration Book No. 1, make application before Dec. 15, because after that date the local ration board has been forbidden to issue the number one books.

County Men Promoted To Specialist 4th

Jim Handing of Umbarger was recently promoted to Specialist 4th Class along with Joe S. Parker, son of Mrs. Carl Mosely, 107 Catalpa. Both men are stationed in Viet Nam.

Parker is a squad leader in the 27th Infantry, 25th Infantry Division, and Handing is a machinegunner in the 27th Infantry (Wolfhounds).

Joe S. Parker

A former welder's assistant at Hereford Welding, Parker has been in the Army since January, 1967. He is a graduate of Hereford High School and attended West Texas State University. Both men are participating in Operation Attleboro II at their base in Viet Nam.

Agriculture Forum To Be Held Soon

LUBBOCK — Registrations are being accepted by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce now for a Plains Agricultural forum to be held at the Koko Palace here Thursday and Friday. Registration is $12.50 each and includes two luncheons, a banquet, and a copy of the proceedings.

Main Street

(Continued from Page Six) past decade, and the ratio of back problems to total cases has doubled. None of these figures take into consideration less serious cases which may be painful but not incapacitating.

Cause Often Unknown
The reason why doctors often cannot cure an aching back is that too often they do not know the cause. The old theory is that back trouble stems from an injury or bad posture. However, some researchers consider that chronic pain in the lower back is essentially a degenerative disease that afflicts everybody in some degree. A still newer theory is that back trouble may be hereditary. Surgery is tried in about one out of every 100 back cases. Sometimes a permanent cure is achieved but often a back operation is only partially successful. The late President John F. Kennedy suffered a back injury in a wartime boat accident. Two operations did not cure his problem and he suffered pain the rest of his life. Senator Clark has espoused a popular cause in seeking to establish a Federal program of back research. Taxpayers who have suffered spinal pains will regard as well spent any funds directed toward finding causes and cures.

Registrations can also be made on the first morning of the forum. Persons interested in attending are urged to contact the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce so that a carpool can be organized.

Subjects to be covered during the forum include "Purposes," "World Food and Fiber Problems," a keynote address and Commercial Bank Farm Credit Policy" on the first morning. After a luncheon break and "Welcome" address by Dr. O. Brandon Hull, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, "American Agriculture Exports in Western Europe" will be discussed. A discussion on "Farm Machinery Industry's Contribution to Agriculture" will be given also in the early part of the afternoon, with other topics to be discussed later.

A banquet is planned for 6:30 on the first night of the forum, the address, "A Look at the Future," to be given by Dr. John A. Schnitzler, U. S. Undersecretary of Agriculture. The second day's activities will begin at 9 a.m. with conclusion at 1:35 p.m. Among topics to be discussed then will be "Product Promotion through use of a Check-off," "Advantages of Marketing Orders," "Federal Reserve Credit Policy Outlook," and "An Overview." Keynote address of the day will be given at the luncheon at 12 when R. B. Tootell, governor of Farm Credit Administration, will speak on "Farm Credit Administration Policy for the Future."

High Prices Plague Today's Housewife

COLLEGE STATION—Nov. housing which is paid perhaps once a month. High prices in the grocery store continue to wary the American homemaker.

Dr. Evelyn Spindler, federal Extension specialist for Foods and Nutrition, pointed this out as a specific nation-wide problem to the homemaker. But the buyer is more aware of the rising prices of food because she purchases food more constantly than any other item such as and work. Although the per cent of the family's annual income on food decreasing, the federal specialist said diets are better than in the past. Studies indicate, however, that there have been few changes in the last 10 years.

With more convenience foods appearing on the market, emphasis increases on selection and buying food. More choices challenge the homemaker, said Dr. Spindler, and make her shopping more difficult.

But they allow her less time in the kitchen and give her time to concentrate on planning interesting meals that are tasty and attractive.

In 1945 Alabama had the three top scorers in the Southeastern Conference—Fullback Fred Grant with 66 points, Hugh Morrow with 64 and Lowell Tew with 60.

FAMILY SHOWED GRATITUDE

LOUISVILLE — C.E. Bohannon, a retired city fireman, noticed a soldier pacing nervously back and forth in front of the bus station.

Bohannon asked what was wrong and was told the soldier had lost his wallet and couldn't get to his home at Florence, Ky.

Bohannon took out the price of a ticket and handed it to the soldier, who asked his name.

A few days later, Bohannon got his money back along with a country ham — a gift from the soldier's grateful family.

Although Greatly Changed, Fishing Still Big Business

ROCKPORT, Tex. — When you plunge your fork into a shrimp cocktail, does the act bring visions of weatherbeaten seamen fighting the sea in leaky boats to bring you the little crustaceans?

The picture was valid at one time, but it is changing rapidly and may soon disappear from the shrimp industry.

A shrimper now is more of a businessman, sailing in tight-hulled steel craft, the helmsman sitting in a cushioned chair and possibly in an airconditioned wheelhouse.

This is part of a small revolution that within three years has seen the rise of the steel trawler instead of the wooden ship and a great many refinements.

At this time, it appears that 1967 will be a good year for the shrimpers. Catches were good in 1965 although the price was not as good as some would like. And 1966 brought $8.6 million in shrimp unloadings at Aransas Pass alone.

The most talked about development, however, is the rise of steel hulls.

The price is higher and some operators say they pose problems like the wooden hulls. One successful fleet operator has tried the steel craft and is adding three wooden ships to his fleet.

Yet the demand for steel hulls is keeping two firms in the Rockport-Aransas Pass-Fulton area busy.

They are the Rockport Yacht and Supply and the Bishop Marine Service with annual payrolls of $1.5 million and men working on a hurry-up production schedule.

Interviews by Travis Moorman of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times show several reasons for the popularity of steel.

One is the difficulty of getting a good wood trawler because the right kind of wood sometimes is hard to find. Another is the healthy financial position of the industry that enables operators to invest $70,000 to $105,000 in a ship. And mortgage loans of 15 years can be obtained through Interior Department with insurance of the debt much as the Federal Housing Authority insures home mortgages.

Rockport Yacht began building wooden trawlers in 1960 and converted to steel in 1964. Among the first sales were four 62-foot boats for the Japanese firm of Nippon Reizo Kabushiki of Tokyo. This year the Japanese company placed a second order for five 72-foot boats. Since converting to steel, Rockport Yacht has delivered 140 trawlers for use around the world and has about 25 more under construction.

The Irish Sea, delivered to J. D. Welborn of Aransas Pass in 1965, set that year's record catch of 10,500 pounds on its maiden voyage.

Bishop Marine largely was a repair and overhaul facility for 11 years until late 1963 when it started a steel boat for its own use. But it has to stop construction on the Dolly B when it received an order for six 55-foot boats from Resqueros Unidas de Columbia for fishing off Colombia.

Bishop recently completed an 84-foot, airconditioned trawler for Oscar Galjour. It is the largest trawler constructed by Bishop, which believes it is the first designed to pull three 65-foot nets, the third boom and winch operating from the stern.

Claims made for the steel boats are numerous, including more useable space, increased production, less maintenance and lower hull insurance costs.

However, many still prefer the wooden hulls. Galjour, for instance turned to steel partly because of the difficulty of obtaining wooden trawlers.

Starting with the 1950s, the industry was plagued by bad weather, low prices and poor catches. But industry leaders say that with one more year like 1966 the industry will be in the best financial condition in its history.

Concerning Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q — I entered military service last year before completing high school. When I get out of service will the Veterans Administration pay me any educational allowance while I complete high school? If so, how much?

A — Yes. The VA will pay you an educational assistance allowance while you complete high school. If you are a single veteran, you will receive $130 a month educational allowance; more if you have dependents. Public Law 90-77, which the President signed last August 31, entitles you to this allowance to complete high school without deducting anything from your entitlement to higher education. Contact your nearest VA office for further information and assistance.

Q — I have recently been honorably discharged from the Army. While stationed in the U. S. I received a service-connected disability. Since I was not injured while serving in a combat zone, will I be paid the wartime disability compensation rate or the peace time (80 per cent of wartime) rate?

A — Public Law 90-77, signed by the President on August 31, grants wartime compensation rates for service-connected disabilities for Vietnam era veterans (those serving in the Armed Forces after Aug. 4, 1964). It makes no difference where you were serving when you received the service-connected disability. Contact your nearest Veterans Administration office for information and assistance in applying for disability compensation.

Q — I was married to a World War II veteran for only three years before his death. When I applied for a widow's pension in 1962, following his death, the Veterans Administration said I was not eligible for a pension because my husband and I were married less than five years. Is this still the law?

A — No. The Veterans' Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967, which went into effect, for pension purposes, on October 1, 1967, changed the five-year minimum to one year. Further, a veteran's widow may qualify for benefits if a child was born to the couple either before or after the marriage. You should contact your nearest VA office for information and assistance in reapplying for a widow's pension.

Johnny Unitas completed 2,066 passes for 29,593 yards in 11 National Football League seasons with the Baltimore Colts. This is the 77th football campaign for Columbia University.

Dimmitt Church Has Fund Drive

DIMMITT — With a beautiful new church building as their goal, members of the First Baptist Church in Dimmitt have launched a $250,000 capital gift fund drive.

Members of the church voted on Nov. 12 to enter into an extensive building program, costing $663,000 of which $250,000 will be in capital gifts and the remainder to be supplied by church bonds.

Dr. Charles Vandiver will be campaign team chairman of the drive, while Ward Golden will serve as committee chairman. Charlie Hays will lead the capital-gifts campaign as general chairman.

The three men were selected from a confidential form sheet sent to the leadership of the church.

Over 80 campaign workers, in a team effort, are being trained to answer questions posed by congregation members and will be engaged in a "face to face" solicitation with heads of church families.

MOSCOW — Dr. Martin Niemöller, the German theologian who earlier this year received the Lenin Peace Prize for contributions to world peace, disclosed here that he will donate $11,000 of the $28,000 prize to the North Vietnamese Red Cross and the rest to German charities and peace organizations.

Founders Of Chisholm Trail Also Have Colorful History

This year marks the centennial celebration — 1867-1967 — of the founding of the Chisholm Trail. Two men, Jesse Chisholm and Joseph G. McCoy, played the key parts in the establishment and success of this famed cattle trail.

Jesse Chisholm was of Scottish and Indian ancestry. A scout, hunter, trader and trail-blazer, he spoke more than 40 Indian languages and dialects and was a respected influence among tribes of the southwest including the fierce Kiowas and Comanches.

Following the Civil War, Texans braving the hazards of trail drives, had used the Shawnee Trail to move their herds to market.

In 1866, Texas cowmen trailing a quarter of a million head of cattle, ran into more than the usual amount of trouble.

Midwest farmers were determined to keep Texas Longhorns off their land because of ticks carried by the cattle. The Longhorns were immune to "Spanish fever" carried by the ticks but domestic farm cattle were not.

Farmers gathered in armed mobs, stampeded many of the herds and killed several trail hands.

Peace came when a "quarantine line" was drawn, forcing drovers to seek safe trails to the west through Indian Territory.

Chisholm in trading with the Indians had laid a trail between present-day Wichita, Kansas and Council Grove near Yukon, Oklahoma, a distance of some 220 miles. Early day cattle drovers merely followed wagon tracks on "Chisholm's Trail" and before long the term was applied to the cattle trail that stretched from south Texas to the railheads in Kansas. Many of the branch or feeder trails, some reaching the Rio Grande, also received the Chisholm Trail name.

However, the main trunk of the trail followed a line north through or near the towns of San Antonio, Austin, Waco, Fort Worth and crossed the Texas-Oklahoma border at the Red River Station. Herds were fed into this main trail along its entirety.

In 1867, Joseph G. McCoy, a young Illinois livestock dealer still in his twenties, saw the opportunities awaiting a person bold enough to take decisive action.

During the Civil War, domesticated cattle from Texas settlements had escaped to the unfenced prairies and scrub bottoms mixing bloodlines with wild Spanish cattle. The end result was the Longhorn, a tough, wily animal. Left to themselves on the lush grassy prairies, these animals had experienced a literal population explosion.

Texans, returning from the Civil War, broke and destitute, found an abundance of Longhorns.

Thus Texas was in dire need of markets for their beef while the north, heavily industrialized during the war, was meat hungry.

McCoy first considered establishing a market at Fort Smith Arkansas, and shipping the cattle down the Arkansas River, but gave up the plan as impractical.

Then he visited some of the Kansas towns on the new Union Pacific Railroad — towns west of most of the farm settlements and near or beyond the quarantine line.

He decided on the village of Abilene, Kansas, and after making arrangements with the railroad, began building stockyards, a hotel and other facilities for drovers and their herds.

He hired Tim F. Hersey, a civil engineer, to conduct a surveying party and mark the new route. Chisholm's Trail was included in the survey.

Notices were sent to Texas cowmen advising them of this new route and market. Late in the summer of 1867, the first herd arrived in Abilene.

The importance of the Chisholm Trail and the new market founded by McCoy is best summed up by J. Frank Doble:

"The Chisholm Trail was a canal out of the mighty dammed up reservoir of Texas to meat-lacking consumers with money to buy. That trail became a fact when in 1867, Abilene, Kansas, with a railroad carrying stock cars eastward — and with construction pushing rail on toward the Pacific — established a definite, dependable market for Texas cattle."

Gift Ideas To Fit A Teen's Budget

By MISS BUSY BEE
Brand Correspondent

If the Christmas season starts you fretting over your budget and you are finding it hard to manage all the gifts you wish to give, then here are a few ideas for making several gifts that will please your friends, aunts and uncles and will give you much pleasure in the making.

Your monetary output will be meager and the results will be as professional as you are careful and imaginative. This is good for boys or girls.

You will need some good glue, some clear shellac, and some pin and earscrew backers. All the other necessities are usually found in the house. From a clay made from baking soda, cornstarch, and water, you will be able to turn out plaques, whatnots, jewelry boxes, items for a desk, bracelets, and any number of the wildest of mad, mad jewelry.

First, you make the clay. Mix together in a saucepan, 2 cups baking soda, 1 cup cornstarch. Blend. Stir in 1 1/2 cups water. This will be very stiff. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly. Mixture will thin down during cooking, but in about 4 minutes it will suddenly thicken. Remove from heat immediately. Turn onto a plate and cover with a damp cloth till cool. Then knead, as you would a bread dough. You are now ready to start modeling.

To make beads, model them on a large size, straightened out paper clip or a wire. These tunnel the holes and make for easier handling while painting and shellacking. You may wish to dunk the beads into the bottle of shellac. If you choose this method, be sure to hold them a few seconds to drain well. Make only three or four beads to the clip to aid in handling.

After the beads have been shaped to your satisfaction, place on a wire rack in a 350 degree (turned-off) oven. In about half an hour they will be quite hard. As soon as they are cool you are ready to paint with water colors in all sorts of colors. Let dry and then add a coat of shellac. If you wish a more professional finish, give them two coats of shellac. You may string on either dental floss or a good strong thread.

Bracelets, rings, flowers, fruits, or what not are even easier to make. The main thing to remember with these is to make smooth bottoms on anything that is to be glued onto a flat surface. Bracelets and rings are rolled into long cylinders and pinched together. Wetting the fingers will help in smoothing the connections, or any irregularities in designs. For plaques you will need pieces of wood or plates from a hobby shop. For jewelry boxes, old cigar boxes are just right, and only need painting first. Be generous with the glue to get a really good bond. Use a lot of bright colors and a lot of imagination and remember that the gift is most thought of that is a part of the giver. You need only to think what the recipient likes and then to enjoy the making to give a successful gift.

FAITH AND PSYCHOLOGY
WASHINGTON — "Today the church needs psychologists," says the Rev. Paul F. D'Arcy, president of the American Catholic Psychological Association. He told its convention that the new emphasis on religious freedom heightens the need for psychologists in helping people develop Christian maturity.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

ARTIST WITH A CAMERA — When Erwin E. Smith of Bonham, Fannin County, died 29 years ago, he left the world its finest collection of photographs of range life as it really was.

Smith never intended for history to remember him as a photographer. He wanted to be a cowboy, a sculptor and a painter in that order. To prepare for the work he planned to do later in bronze, he decided to photograph every aspect of ranch life while he worked as a cowhand.

Using only the primitive camera equipment available at the time, and developing his own negatives, Smith made more than 10,000 photographs. Tom Lea, the El Paso writer-artist, has called Smith's pictures the best ever made.

Today more than 1,800 of Smith's original negatives are on file in the Library of Congress, and 100 of his best prints are on permanent display at the Texas Memorial Museum in Austin.

OLD ROAD — Motorists can still drive over almost exactly the same route of the Central National Highway, the state's oldest road.

The Central National Highway began building in 1844 at the point where the Kiamichi and Red Rivers converge, then turned east to Paris, Lamar County. There it veered south along what are now State Highway 24 and Interstate 30 to Dallas. From Dallas to Galveston, today's Interstate 45 approximates the route of the Central National Highway.

THE DISAPPEARING RANGERS — At one time, there were 1,089 Texas Rangers. Today there are only 62.

MAN AGAINST NATURE — It took the white man only six years to wipe out the great buffalo herds that once roamed the Texas plains.

Buffalo hunters first began their methodical slaughter of the great, shaggy animals in 1873. By 1879, the commercial hunters had exterminated every herd in the Panhandle grazing lands.

DUEL IN THE SUN — Sophia Coffee Porter was a unique woman of the frontier in that she had four husbands in her lifetime. It is probable that she took two of them without the benefit of any kind of vows.

Her second husband, Holland Coffee, gave his life to satisfy Sophia's vanity. Coffee, a prosperous trader at old Preston on the Red River in Grayson County, had built Sophia a mansion called "Glen Eden." For seven years, they were happily married and the social leaders of North Texas.

In 1846, however, Sam Houston announced that he would come to Sherman to help dedicate the new courthouse. Sophia had known Houston earlier, and this caused Charles Galloway, a nephew of Coffee's, to make some insulting remarks about the relationship of his aunt and the first president of the Republic.

Although Sophia was insistent, Coffee was reluctant to challenge Galloway about the insult. She insisted, however, that she would rather be a brave man's widow than a coward's wife. On October 1, 1846, she got her wish when Galloway killed Coffee in a duel.

DE LOS ANGELES TOUR CANCELED NEW YORK - Victoria de los Angeles has canceled her North American tour this season. Sol Hurok has announced. Miss De los Angeles was scheduled to sing concerts in Oxford, Ohio; London, Ontario; Rye, N. Y.; Washington; Logan, Utah; Sacramento; Huston; Oklahoma City; Iowa City, and New York, and to sing three performances with the Dallas Opera. Alabama's freshman football team includes Jim Porter, a 240-pound 6-3 tackle from Birmingham. He's only 18.

Cagers At WTSU Host Rebs Monday

Canyon - West Texas State's basketball Buffaloes meet their first college opponent of the year when the University of Texas at Arlington (UTA) Rebels invade Buffalo Fieldhouse Monday. The varsity tipoff is set for 8 p. m.

UTA, formerly Arlington State lost only one starter and three lettermen from last year's 14-12 team. Barry Dowd is back for his second year at the Arlington helm, after coaching the Rebs to their first winning campaign in eight years last season.

The Rebels meet West Texas State with road games against New Mexico and Texas of El Buffs prepped for Arlington Paso under their belts. The with a non-collegiate tilt against the Phillips 66ers.

The Buffaloes hope to get quickly untracked from the losing rut that resulted in a 1-18 season last year. The West Texas, under the direction of new head coach Dennis Walling, have undergone a complete re-vamping.

Last season's leading scorer, Mike Mitchell, returns for his junior year after scoring at an 18.9 p.p.g. clip last year. This year's offense is tailored for his talents as well as those of Simlike Hill, a highly-touted junior college transfer. Joining Mitchell in the backcourt will be Lonnie Speck, Gale Rhine, Val Franklin, Mike Horton, and David Cole. Big men with Hill are 6-5 David Nowlin, 6-9 Maurice Savage, 6-10 Jim Neilson, 6-5 Jeff Rowles, 6-7 Mike Kimmins, and 6-7 Ricky Bacon.

Height - or a lack of it - is the big problem with the Rebels. John Shelton, a 6-2 junior whiz who averaged 10.6 points a game last year, leads the Arlington attack. Teaming with him are 5-9 Terry George (12-1), 6-6 Gene Wilson (8.4), and 5-11 Joe Gary Smith (12.0), all starters last year. The fifth starter will probably be 6-3 Eddie Stallings, 6-4 Larry Oakes, or 6-5 Larry Dunn.

The Rebel shooting should be good, but rebounding is a question mark due to lack of height. Paced by Shelton, a virtual leech on opposing ball handlers, UTA should be strong defensively.

"Size is our big question mark," Dowd says. "The second thing - and perhaps the key - is how our sophomores come through. Of our 17 boys, eight are sophomores and they're going to have to perform like juniors and seniors if we are to be successful. We have speed, quickness, and a winning attitude. If we can play with the big ones on the boards, we'll give a good account of ourselves."

SUMMER ATTENDANCE MANTEO, N. C. - The long-running historical pageant, "The Lost Company," was viewed by 54,680 spectators during its 50-performance run this summer. The tally marked a 7 per cent attendance drop from 1966, with rain and cool weather blamed.

I HATE TO PASS UP THAT POKER GAME I WAS INVITED TO --

BUT I DON'T DARE ASK MAGGIE! SHE'S NOT IN A VERY GOOD MOOD --

SO I GUESS I'LL STAY HOME, AS USUAL!

WHY DON'T YOU GO OUT WITH THE BOYS TONIGHT, DEAR?

I CAN HARDLY BELIEVE MY EARS!

WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO TONIGHT, DARLIN'? STAY HOME --

I WAS WATCHING TV, BUT THE PROGRAM WAS SO SILLY I SWITCHED IT OFF! SUCH A RIDICULOUS FEMALE CHARACTER!

NOW, IF YOU'RE GOING TO ASK ME IF YOU CAN GO OUT, THE ANSWER IS NO!

Hi and Lois

DAD, WE SHOULDN'T HAVE BROUGHT DITTO. HE DOESN'T KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT FOOTBALL!! I DO TOO!

THERE ARE USUALLY TWO GUYS AND A DOG OR A GIRL ON EACH TEAM. AND YOU GOTTA YELL "GOTCHA" WHEN YOU TAG THE RUNNER --

THE ROSE BUSHES ARE THE GOAL, AND IF YOUR FOOT TOUCHES THE DRIVEWAY YOU'RE OUT. NO FAIR PUSHING!

IF YOU DON'T LIKE YOUR KICK YOU CAN YELL "SECONDS" AND DO IT OVER. YOU ONLY GET FOUR CHANCES, THOUGH.
