Coach Pleased

"Even though we will be sending only one boy to the state meet, we still weren't dissatisfied with the over-all effort of the kids at Odessa."

So stated Hereford High School track coach Joe Brooks in summing up his team's performance in the Region 1 meet Saturday at Odessa. The Whitefaces racked up 23½ points in See COACH PLEASED Page 2

Herd To Face Dumas Demons

The Hereford Whiteface baseball team, fresh from two strong victories, will attempt to take over the District 1-AAA leadership Saturday when they tangle with the Dumas Demons.

Presently 2-1 in conference warfare after a 14-4 win over Canyon Tuesday afternoon, the Herd will attempt to put the first loss on the Demons, who have won two.

Backed by long-ball hitting against Canyon, the Herd varsity brought its season record to 12-4. The "B" team has lost two games. Hereford trounced Tucuman, N. M., last Friday 18-2.

Local fans were treated in Tuesday's game when the Whitefaces jumped on Canyon pitching for six hits and seven runs in the first inning. Included were home runs by Barry Johnson and Kenny Hagar and a triple by Lynn Betts, who picked up the pitching win.

Hereford got four more runs in the fourth inning, the big

At Bull Barn Stockholders Of REC Hold All Day Meeting

A barbecue lunch, presentation of awards, election of new directors, display of new electric appliances and allotting of Patronage Refund Checks will highlight the 29th annual meeting of the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative here today.

More than 1,500 co-op members and guests are expected to attend the meeting, which will be held in the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.

Registration for the meeting will be held from 10 a. m. until 12 noon, when a barbecue lunch prepared by the Hereford Rotary Club will be served.

Co-op members who received electric service in 1956 will have their Patronage Refund Checks waiting at the registration desk. Members will be refunded approximately $146,000 in capital credits this year.

Also between 10 a. m. and noon, electric appliances will be put on display by area dealers and demonstrations of the appliances given.

Following the barbecue, the meeting will be called to order by Earnest Langley, attorney for the Co-op. At that time, winners in the "Government In Action Youth Tour" — Levenie Benefield of Hereford and David Harris of Dimmitt — will receive plaques.

Following will be the featured address by Jim Morris, director of information for Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc., in Austin. Morris will speak on "Supplemental Financing for Rural Electric Cooperatives." "Legislation on supplemental financing, which calls for establishment of banks on the pattern of the Federal Reserve System, was scheduled to be acted on Tuesday in Washington.

Sloan H. Osborn, president of the board for the REC, will open the business session following the talk by Morris. Tom Draper, secretary of the board, will present his report, and then Langley will call for the election of three directors.

Osborn, who is from Friona, Noel Gollehon of Dimmitt and Draper of Deaf Smith County, are seeking re-election to the board. Other nominees are See STOCKHOLDERS, Page 2

Court Reviews Individual Problems

The old question of water in ditches along county right of ways came under discussion again in Commissioners Court at their regular session Monday.

Some roads that are being virtually undermined by dammed-up irrigation run-off water were discussed. One farmer met with the court and agreed to construct a holding and transfer ditch on his own property to keep water from being transported in the county ditch. Commissioners pointed out that they did not have a choice about the matter — that state law prohibits the transporting of water in a county ditch by an individual.

Other problems of water use were discussed. Commissioner Donald Hicks said that the pits being constructed by farmers to catch waste water should be carefully engineered to prevent problems from developing. Some farmers are using county ditches to try to catch all waste water and move it to their pits.

The commissioners pointed out that they were in favor of catching and saving all water that can be saved, but that the law will have to be respected and methods other than using the county ditches will have to be employed to utilize waste water.

An attorney was called to the Court for consultation as to measures the court should take to eliminate some dissention being voiced in some rural neighborhoods over the matter of waste water.

The court approved the moving of telephone poles along the Allison road by West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative. Cost to the county will be $2,001.87. Materials have begun arriving for construction of the bridge on that road which will connect Hereford Cattle Feeders Inc. with Farm to Market Road 1062 to the south of the feedlots. About four miles of road are involved. J. R. Allison is supplying all of the cattle base for the project and has secured See COURT Page 2

Area Peace Officers To Convene Tuesday

More than 150 members of the Texas South Plains and Eastern New Mexico Peace Officers Association are expected to be in Hereford Tuesday and Wednesday for the organization's spring meeting.

The annual meeting will begin with a reception from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Hereford Country Club.

Registration will be held from 8-9:30 a. m. Wednesday and the meeting will be called to order at 9:30 a. m. The peace officers will be welcomed to Hereford by Neil Cooper, president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, and Ray Cowser, Hereford mayor.

Business will begin at 10 a. m. with an address by Ross Malone of Roswell, N. M., a member of the Presidents Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice and past president of the American Bar Association. Bob Izzard of KVII-TV in Amarillo will speak from 11-11:45 a. m. Lunch will follow.

UFO Is Not Really One

That "Unidentified Flying Object" which appeared to hover over the Hereford area most of the day Wednesday wasn't really unidentified.

Officials of the Federal Aviation Agency, located at the Airport Traffic Control Tower in Amarillo, said the object was a radar-controlled balloon released by the U. S. Air Force in Clovis, N. M.

Although it appeared to be just east of Hereford, FAA officials said, the object actually was some 65,000 feet high and could be spotted over a wide area. The men said they had been told the balloon was 400 feet long, 140 feet in diameter and carried a huge payload of instruments.

The wind was gusty at times Wednesday, but the balloon remained in the same general vicinity. Purpose of the experiment was unknown.

Cattle Tax Enforced

Cattle feeders are being asked to render cattle in their feedlots for county and state tax or receive a bill for capacity head. Deaf Smith County Commissioners said Monday. Pon Henslee, collector in the county office, said that in prior years he had had some good cooperation from most of the feedyards, but that this year several of the larger lots were not assisting his office in obtaining numbers of cattle on feed for particular individuals as of January 1.

The Commissioners Court asked Henslee to give a report of taxes assessed and collected after they had reviewed a scabies report from the Texas Board of Animal Health. The State board after having inspected cattle in this county just after the first of the year, placed the number of cattle in Deaf Smith County at 205,528. Henslee said that last year 53,000 head were rendered for the county. The county has a clean bill of health as far as scabies goes, the court said.

Commissioners noted that several feedyards alone would account for that many cattle. In the discussion of the problem, it was suggested that serial shots of all feedyards be made at the beginning of the year and then there would be no doubt in the tax office as to what pens are being used.

Commissioners were told that excellent cooperation is always obtained from several of the feedlots including Holly, Her-Tex, and Jim McAndrews. Henslee said that others had refused to give an individual count and that owners had not responded to letters requesting that cattle on feed be rendered.

The Court pointed out that actually feeders are paying only about 10 cents a head on cattle since pens are filled about three times a year. Yearlings are assessed at $20 a head, Henslee pointed out, and figured on this county's tax rate, owners are assessed just over 32 cents per head. With the finishing of a feeder yearling in about 130 days each animal fed during the year is taxed the small amount of about 10 cents.

The Court suggested that Henslee take drastic measures and that they would go along with subpoena of feedlot books if owners do not cooperate.

Since the feeding industry is mushrooming in the area, the Commissioners Court decided to establish a firm policy so feeders would know what is required of them.

Corpus Is Trip Goal

More hard work but a lot of fun is the reward that band and choir students from Hereford High have won by being sweepstakes groups.

The two groups left yesterday for Corpus Christi where they will participate in the Buccanear Festival held annually there. Only bands and choirs receiving sweepstakes awards, all I ratings in contests held in their regions, are eligible to attend the festival.

Band members left mid-afternoon and will spend the night in San Antonio and will play a concert at noon today at Trinity University.

The choir left late last night and will sing at Trinity University at about ten o'clock this morning in San Antonio.

Band students are scheduled to perform in Corpus Christi at the Del Mar College auditorium early (7:00 a. m.) Friday morning. The girls choir will sing Saturday afternoon in Corpus Christi at 1:30 in the First Methodist Church. The A Capella Choir will sing that afternoon at 3:30 in the First Methodist Church.

The groups will be rated according to their performances much as they are rated in regional contests.

Accompanying the groups traveling by bus are Bill Michael, high school principal, Richard Jackson, high school choir director, Ben Gollehon, band director, and Mrs. Gollehon, Janice Boren faculty member and Jean Collard, faculty member.

Several short side trips are planned for the young people while they are on the coast, including a trip to Padre Island.

The groups plan to return to Hereford Sunday.

Clinic Is To Remain

The chance that Hereford may lose two of its medical doctors has spurred community leaders to action.

Dr. Howard Johnson and Dr. Noble Ballard, both of the Hereford Clinic, have received notice from the draft board asking if there are any reasons they could not serve in the armed forces. No dates were mentioned in the letter, but if everything is acceptable, the two could possibly be drafted early in 1968.

"It's not that we don't want to serve," said Dr. Johnson, "we just feel that we are needed here more than ever." Dr. Johnson said the clinic had been short-handed even before the death of Dr. Bruce Beene on April 16.

Earnest Langley, local attorney, said he has asked community leaders to write letters telling of the impact which could result in drafting of the two doctors. "I believe we would be defeating our purpose if we mailed from 100 to 150 letters. Some 25-30 letters from the community leaders would be very effective."

Beet Problems Hit At County Seminar

BY TOM PORTER
Staff Writer

Plant pathologists, entomologists and agronomists told approximately 75 area sugar beet growers Tuesday night at the Hereford Community Center that leafhoppers and the disease they cause in plants is on the increase in this area.

Five specialists from Hereford Lubbock and Bushland made similar warnings during a meeting for sugar beet producers.

Ron Rummel, entomologist with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service in Lubbock, was first speaker of the evening and described the leaf hopper as being about one-eighth inch long. It varies in color, usually being light tan and going from that to gray, to white, he said.

"The leafhopper doesn't do much damage by eating," he stated in opening. "It's damage is in the disease it carries." Although active through the winter also, the leafhopper is very active in warm weather, and shows no trace of hibernation.

Rummel said the leafhopper deposits its eggs in the leaves of the plant, from 300-400 at a time. The eggs hatch in only a few days if the weather is warm and go as long as 20 days if it is cold.

According to the entomologist the leafhopper doesn't change much as it grows, but develops wings as an adult. "The hopper transmits a virus disease which it can maintain and carry throughout its life, transmitting at any time," he stated.

Rummel gave a long list of plants which the hopper can infect, including the tumble weed, Russian-Thistle, bladder pod, and beets: "The hoppers move at random to the plants, leaving one when it becomes undesirable and going to another."

To control the leafhopper, some states have put insecticide in disease areas. "This wouldn't work here because we have too vast an area to cover. The hopper has been known to migrate as far as 500 miles." Rummel urged growers to get

CLOCK TIME USED

Time problems will develop as the weekend nears. State plans call for Sunday to see the time change at 2 a. m. April 30. That would mean that all clocks should be changed for early Sunday activities. Most community plans call for operation by clock time. That would mean going along with day light saving time. Check your own organization to see what policy will be maintained. Schools, banks, etc. will go along with the new clock time, operating an hour earlier by sun time.

Young Homemakers To Meet

Young Homemakers in Area I will meet in Hereford Friday for an activity day sponsored by electric cooperatives throughout this area.

The meeting will begin at 9:30 a. m. at the Bull Barn with sessions slated through part of the afternoon.

Members of the Young Homemakers in Deaf Smith County will be hostesses for the day, registering guests that morning.

Early birds will have a chance for a door prize and refreshments will be served that morning, before the business sessions begin.

Dr. Jean Rankin M. D. from Lubbock will be first lecturer and will discuss Child Development and the School Age. Mrs. Cathy Hunt, home economist and editorial assistant with the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association in Washington D. C. will discuss What's New Now and What's To Come in the electrical field.

The area electric cooperatives will be hosts to a buffet salad luncheon at 11:45 a. m.

Beginning at 1:00 p. m. Mrs. Fran Hochleitner, home economist with the John Oster Company in Dallas will demonstrate Ways with the Blender.

Last on the program will be a discussion of leadership in the home, community and in the Young Homemakers by Dr. Roy McClung, president of Wayland Baptist College.

Officers of the Hereford Young Homemakers are Mrs. Ruth Dobbs, president of the local chapter and a vice president of the area; Mrs. Carol Block, vice president; Mrs. Brenda Thomas, secretary-treasurer. Sponsors are Mrs. Margaret Durham and Mrs. Dean Bradley.

Between 65 and 70 Club representatives are expected for the meeting. Cooperatives sponsoring the meeting include: Deaf Smith County, Bailey County, Lighthouse Electric, South Plains, Swisher County, Greenbelt, North Plains Electric and Hall County.

Assassinating a President

To many foreigners, and to many Americans as well, one of the oddest aspects of the assassination of President Kennedy was that the United States had no law against it.

Was this just a legislative oversight? Not at all. On the contrary, such a law had been proposed and debated a number of times over the years—and had always been turned down.

Of course, that does not mean the assassination was legal. The lack of a federal law merely reflects the fact that, in this country, the punishment of crime has always been entrusted primarily to the individual states. The presidential assassination, while not forbidden by federal law, was clearly forbidden by the laws of every state.

Why this arrangement? For reasons both historical and geographical, most crimes fit more naturally into state and local jurisdiction. It would seem strange indeed to have the federal government prosecuting the man who holds up the corner grocery or who drives recklessly down Main Street.

And the Constitution itself, while giving the states a free hand to deal with crime, gives the federal government no such leeway. The federal government may punish crime only if the power is:

- 1) given expressly (for example, the power to punish treason); or
- 2) given by implication (for example, the power to punish interference with the United States mail).

As a rule, the crime of murder has no peculiar significance to the federal government. Neither expressly nor by implication does the Constitution give the federal government a general power to punish homicide.

Yet, murdering the President is more than just murdering a man. It is a blow at the government itself, because it destroys the central repository of the nation's executive authority.

Furthermore, as a practical matter, federal agencies—which have the duty to protect the President—should be better able to investigate such a crime.

The Kennedy assassination lent fresh urgency to these considerations. And at last, 176 years after the nation began, Congress has finally given overwhelming approval to a bill making it a federal offense to kill the chief executive. The maximum penalty: death.

abound for the small town," according to Claude W. Brown, Mc Camey, member of the Texas Industrial Commission and member of the Small Towns Task Force, who led the presentation on industrial potentials for the small town.

The report, entitled "The Small Community in West Texas," made several recommendations regarding industry potentials for the small communities which included: (1) Establishment of research centers for the development of cotton which would meet textile mill demands that will be compatible to the West Texas climate and growing conditions; (2) assignment by the Texas Industrial Commission of at least two members of its staff to work exclusively with small towns; (3) establishment of a fibers research center at Texas Tech to further the uses of natural and petrochemical feedstock fibers; (4) passage of legislation permitting issuance of industrial revenue bonds by cities and counties; (5) encouragement of home grown industries in the community; (6) apply the multiplier factor to raw products to increase the income of farmers, processors and finishers by developing more processing and finishing plants for raw materials and products in the West Texas area.

"Metropolitan areas have a definite need for the growth and development of the small towns if the metropolitan areas are to prosper," Wendell Mayes, Jr., Midland radio executive, told the convention. The large towns depend upon the small towns as retailers of the goods which the large towns distribute, according to Mayes.

Planning assistance, medical facilities, communication media, and industrial expansion assistance are all important assets available to the small towns from the metropolitan areas, the speaker stated. These aids to the small town should be asked for by the small town leaders to properly coordinate their own assets with those of the larger town.

Small towns were told to analyze the reasons for their continued existence. Too, they were admonished to develop their assets and advertise the good living conditions, the slower pace of living and the congenial atmosphere of the small communities.

High taxes, more aggressive leadership on the part of public officials and cooperation between governmental bodies were suggested as possible means of attaining goals in the small communities, when Mrs. Fred McCleskey of Stephenville, City Councilwoman, led the discussion on the role of city and county responsibilities in the development of the small towns.

Many towns, according to the surveys, listed low taxes as an asset, whereas the problems in the same towns were often listed as lack of facilities which are normally paid for with taxes. This paradox must be corrected, according to the report, before real progress can be achieved.

Elected officials should assume more of their civic responsibilities if they are to be kept in office and city and county governments, as well as school, hospital and water districts should coordinate their planning for the most effective utilization of the tax dollar, the study suggested.

Although the Task Force did not recommend specific Federal or State grant or aid programs that should be utilized by the small towns, it did suggest that a thorough analysis of available assistance from these sources in planning, as well as in financing, should be made by the leadership of the small towns.

"Do it yourself" programs were lauded in the study with specific examples cited of cities which have undergone tremendous revitalization through the efforts of local citizens and without the financial assistance of State or Federal government funds.

The final section of the printed report outlined Project STEP "Small Town Economic Progress" a program for the implementation of the suggestions and recommendations contained in this report as well as those developed through the community inventories conducted late in 1966. Copies of the study were presented to each of the mayors, county judges and other community leaders in attendance at the annual meeting. These leaders will be expected to call meetings of their own citizens when they return home and start the implementation of Project STEP. Members of the Small Towns Task Force, WTCC officers and staff members will provide assistance in the STEP program in each of the communities that request assistance, according to Shepperd.

For fixing things around the house nothing beats a man who's handy with a checkbook.

The Hereford High School Band and Choir are now on the way to Corpus Christi for the annual contests, and we're betting that they return home with a bus load of honors. We feel that Hereford has one of the finest bands in the nation, and the choir is second to none. We're proud of this fine group of youngsters.

When the world is full of beatniks, it's refreshing to see such groups as these.

And speaking of honors, the Brand picked up a few at the annual Panhandle Press Association meeting this past week in Amarillo.

Perhaps, more than we deserve.

However, we'll be like our neighbor, B. M. Nelson of the Castro County News. Deserved or not, just try to take them back.

—HB—

Actually, all we've ever tried to do over the years is to put out progressive newspaper for a very progressive community, and we sometimes feel that we get left at the post when our citizens start moving. It's hard to keep up with them. We realize that in a community such as ours, we need to be "on the ball" just to stay up and if we can do this, then the awards will have to come our way.

We do appreciate the

Glynda Kay Landers

Miss Landers Is Named To School

Miss Glynda Kay Landers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Landers, 205 Higgins Street, Hereford, has been selected as a student participant in the Summer Science Program at Centre College, Danville, Kentucky. She will be enrolled in a seven week course of study "Introduction to Systems Analysis," made possible by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

The sixteen year old Junior in Hereford High School has maintained a high scholastic average in all her subjects and has been a member of National Honor Society two years. She has been active in the Future Homemakers of America organization, serving as historian of her chapter, the past year and will serve as first vice president next year.

awards, and we do appreciate the fine people of Hereford who have led the way and make it possible for the Brand to continue as a winner.

The purpose of contests such as the above however, is for the betterment of the individual newspapers, and we have, probably learned more from the ones we win. We hope this year will be no exception.

We would however, like to pass out a few bouquets to our fine staff members. Without such dedicated people as Sue Coleman, Joe Bran, Tommy Porter and Naomi Hopson, as well as a fine advertising staff and mechanical department, we surely could not win so often.

We have singled out the above not because they are more dedicated or try harder than others on the staff, but because it was through their direct efforts that The Brand came home this year with three first place awards and one second out of a possible six. That's a pretty good batting average in any league.

You ladies who work closely with Sue Coleman can understand why the Brand was first in Women's Page News and Features. By the same token, photographers Joe Bran and Tommy Porter go all out to see that "we win" when we enter the Best News Photos contest as we did this year.

And last, but not least by any means, we are indeed proud of News Editor Naomi Hopson who directs the news department. She is also responsible for one of the finest special editions ever to hit the presses in Hereford.

Of course we're speaking of the Souvenir Edition of the Brand published for the Lions Club District Convention 1 a s t April. This was the paper that took top honors in the Special Editions contest. We might add also, that she repeated the performance this year with the Rotary Club District Conference special.

We sincerely appreciate these people.

In case you're one of those who think we're getting too much government just imagine what it would be like if we were getting as much as we're paying for.

You can look for some new announcements out of Bravo Smokes, Inc. within the next few weeks. Bravo is one of our largest industrial employers in the Hereford area and we've learned this week that they have now topped the first million dollar mark in sales. And as Puzant Torigian said Tuesday, "That's pretty good for a $90,000 corporation to do in its first 18 months."

Torigian has been in Hereford the last few days getting ready for an expanded marketing promotion.

Student Honored By Music Club

Kerry Thompson was awarded honorary student membership for four years in Hereford Music Study Club, in recognition of his receipt of a national honor. He has received the Edgar Stillman Kelly scholarship for study at Interlochen, Mich.

Kerry, a student in Hereford High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson. He expects to leave Hereford about June 20 to attend sessions of the nationally famous music school until Aug. 21.

Music Study Club honored the talented student at its meeting Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. D. W. Palmer, when Mrs. Bill Bradley, president, expressed the members' pride in his accomplishment.

She presided for business, and welcomed Mrs. Sam Long as a new club member.

Mrs. Palmer directed the program, which was devoted to mu-ing to this sometimes no-bright writer that I had said she was Mrs. Ike McCutchen. I promise however, not to do it again.

Beginning next week, when we start saving daylight, those of us who need to "brighten-up" a little will have more time to read — by daylight.

It's going to be interesting to see how the new daylight saving time will affect the community. You can bet on one thing though. You're going to have more time to work in the yard. And that may not suit you too well, but we're betting that the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce's Beautification Committee is going to be mighty happy about the whole deal. In fact, we're wondering if these ladies didn't have something to do with this time tempering.

By the way, Kinsey-Osborn Motors, Inc. will have a big blow-out down their way today. Delbert Kinsey and Glen Osborn have taken on Pontiac and GMC in addition to Buick and Opel and have spent a considerable amount of time and money dressing up their establishment.

Selections illustrating varied facets of Wagner's genius in opera, included Elsa's Dream from Lohengrin, sung by Mrs. Dick Godwin with Mrs. J. C. Crosthwait; another organ number, Minuetto, by Mrs. Lowell Sharp.

A stereo recording of the overture and finale of another Wagner opera, Parsifal, was played to conclude the program, which was prefaced by the club collect and the national anthem.

Mmes. Sharp and Crosthwait were co-hostesses at the meeting, and 25 members answered roll call.

LaPlata's All-School Comedy Opens Tonight

A comedy about teenagers whose home town is to be visited by movie talent scouts, titled Don't Take My Penny, will be staged Thursday and Friday evenings in LaPlata Junior High Auditorium as the all-school play.

Tickets are on sale and the public is invited to see the student actors' production, which is directed by Norma Gripp. Sherry White in the title role.

Mike McCathern, Greg Chisholm and Cheryl Cole as her best friends, Terrie Beth Line as a former child star and David Thomas as a French dress designer have major roles in the three act comedy, set in the living room of a small town home.

Schemes of Penny and her chum to attract the attention of the movie agent and plan author who are seeking a teenage star, a counterplot to outwit them the revelation that the new housemaid is a former child movie star, and other complications make a hilarious plot.

Supporting actors include Betty Hodges as Gram, Angela Grubbs as a young model, Rpejan Block as a southerner, Re-ne Hysinger as Penny's quiet sister, Steve Cavness and Mike Higgins as the author and agent. John Seiver as a businessman.

STAMPS NEEDED

About 700 more books of trading stamps are needed by St. Joseph's Mission for the completion of their bus purchase. The parochial school has been collecting stamps to pay for a New 72 passenger school bus used to transport students to and from the Labor Camp. Any type trade stamp is used.

Negligence Is Wreck Cause

Paul E. Hubbard, 815 S. Lee, driving a 1955 Ford, ran into a street sign at the intersection of 25-Mile Ave. and Clement St. Wednesday morning.

The auto sustained about $20 in damages while damages to the sign were estimated at about $25.

Hubbard explained that the mishap occurred because some subjects ran in front of him and he lost control of his auto while trying to avoid them.

A citation was issued for failure to keep proper control of a vehicle and causing negligence collision.

Paul Hendon as a serious young man, Laquita Robinson as a scatterbrained girl, Joy Clark as an attractive miss and Jay West as a delivery boy all have places in the cast.

Alan Hardin is serving as stage manager with Cliff Herring, Phillip Pursley and Laurel Davis on the crew, Susan Baldwin and Debbie Todd as make-up aides. Kenneth Justice will be master of ceremonies.

Faculty aides to the director are Gladys Legg, assistant; Bill Devers, technical director; Lynn McLarty, music director; Maxine Hartman and Joyce Schneck, makeup; P. M. Miller, set; Lottie Wertenberger, with art students, publicity.

HOW I GROW BLUE RIBBON CHRYSANTHEMUMS

(Note: The following was written by Mrs. Ray Johnson, president of The Hereford Garden Club. Mrs. Johnson has been a member of The National Chrysanthemum Society for twenty or more years, and grows some of the best and loveliest chrysanthemums grown in this area.)

MISS AMERICA JOINS FIGHT: Jane Anne Jayroe of Laverne, Oklahoma, puts down her beauty scepter to pick up the Sword of Hope — symbol of the AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY — to urge everyone to support the 1967 Crusade of the Society.

The culture of mums is not difficult but success comes from careful use of the following simple but basic rules.

Select a sunny well-drained spot, it is best if the bed is in the sun for at least a half day.

Chrysanthemums do best in a rich deeply cultivated soil. One fourth the volume of soil should consist of humus materials such as well rotted barnyard manure, compost, peat moss or leaf mold. In addition, super phosphate at the rate of 3 pounds per 100 square feet is broadcast and spaded to a depth of 12 or 15 inches.

You can divide an old clump in the spring as soon as new shoots are four to six inches tall. Dig the clump, shake off soil and merely pull off the single divisions. Never leave any of the old stalk attached to the plant you are to plant. The plant division can be planted in the prepared soil immediately, but I prefer to plant in peat pots, setting them in partial shade and protected from wind. These should be watered with weak liquid fertilizer. They usually have good root growth in two weeks, however they may be held as long as four weeks but delayed any longer may result in plants becoming hard and woody. In planting this way the same spot in the garden can be used year after year for these flowers.

Space plants about 18 inches apart. When 8 inches high tie to stake and pinch out top half-inch of terminal growth every 6 to 8 inches. Continue this pinching until mid July. If you wish to have big flowers limit each plant to two, three or four stems and one flower on each stem. Just roll the tiny buds out with your thumb, to disbud.

Chrysanthemums are shallow rooted plants, don't disturb the roots by deep cultivation. Mulching with coarse compost is desirable, this helps to keep down weeds and holds in the moisture. Lawn clippings, where clean and not weed seeded or from bermuda, may be used when dry.

Feed a balanced fertilizer, every two weeks until buds show color. I prefer RAPID-Grow, have used it for years. (A liquid of this fertilizer is good for transplanting plants also.)

Start a preventive spray program using combination insecticide and fungicide. For this, I use the same fertilizer and spray that I use for roses.

Mums require 10 to 11 hours of darkness for bud development. Frequently street lights or light from a window will delay bud development. The day can be shortened by the use of large corrugated boxes turned over plants to shut out all light. Cover as late as possible in the afternoon and remove in the morning before the sun gets hot. Save the boxes to use when early frost is expected, to protect the plants.

Mums have been cultivated for 2500 years. There are thousands of varieties of them. Check the catalogues and local nurseries and select the colors and types you prefer. One MUST choose the early bloomers. October 10th is the latest blooming date to choose.

I have had excellent luck with the following varieties and types

- Harvest Giants (grow disbudded)
- Spaceage (Distinctive materials for arranging.)
- Exhibition types (disbudded), Garnet King (deep garnet color, weather resistant), Albatross, white, Silver Sheen (an old mum but an excellent one), Yellow and White Ambassador, Brocade (rosy purple) Sundown (orange-bronze) Ben Tashima (tubulated petals purple and mauve), Greet Garson (soft pink).

- SPIDER MUMS
- Bess Witt (salmon color), Peggy Ann Hoover (comes in pink and white), Bunbu (a lovely orchid), Mary Garden (pink), Silver Queen, white Fuji.

The following Hardy Garden Varieties may be grown naturally or be disbudded for there will be classes in flower shows for both naturally grown sprays and disbudded specimens. Also disbudding a few of these varieties helps to have gradation in size for use in making arrangements.

HARDY GARDEN

Sunburst (golden yellow cactus type, very large if disbudded).

Melrose, (peach pink, combines with both purple and pink mums).

Indiana (large amber bronze cactus type a novelty when disbudded).

Micado (large red cactus type disbudding improves).

King's Ransom (showy yellow)

Lee Powell (fluffy Chinese

yellow-orange in center.

(There are many others, if interested call for names and habits)

Pompons . . . to be grown naturally

Carnival (orange red) James Stuart (apricot color) Linda (deep rose), Rosewood (bronzy rose) Astoria, (lemon yellow.)

Button type . . . always grown naturally.

Yellow and white Irene, Pink Yellow Bronze, Red and White Dot, Pinkette. (small pink) Little Boy (very small garnet),

Spoon Type

May be grown naturally or is most rewarding when a few are disbudded. Henry-ettes, (pure white), Gold Spoon, Remember Me (Red Bronze) Betty-ette (bright pink) Dolle-ette, bronze), Loveliness (carmine pink), Anemone Type (grown naturally or may be disbudded) bamm Ladygo (pink) Alaska (white), Powder Puff (pale yellow with deep yellow center).

Cushion . . . Grow naturally

Corsage cushion (white fringed like carnations), Minn Pink and Minn Bronze, Lipstick (ruby red) Fushia Fairy (very dainty) Red Mischief (deep red-daisy type flower).

In making your selections, it is well to keep in mind the various types, and sizes. This is as one needs large, intermediate and small in making arrangements. This is necessary for gradation and transition in materials, also adds interest and distinction.

There are many things which bring satisfaction in growing chrysanthemums. They respond to the grower, and the grower has the joy of sharing them with their friends.

FROM ME TO YOU

CORRECTION . . . Last week in discussing the planting of avocados, I said to plant them with point of seed up, do not do this the blunt flat side is planted down in the soil, with the tip of point left at the top uncovered.

Visit an Iris garden, as they are almost in full flower now, this is an excellent way to know and select the best growers. Mrs. David Janssen 710 Miles Ave. has had some very pretty iris of yellow and blue in full flower.

Many are planting vegetables. Of interest to me was the planting of onions, radishes, and other vegetables, on the Courthouse grounds. These are local-ed between the jail and the courthouse on the west side. They are neat and attractive — a good example of conservation.

Save your fireplace ashes and sift them through a piece of 1/2 inch hogwire netting. They are nectar and ambrosia, all in one, to roses, dianthus, delphinium, and grapes. This intensifies color, and fruitage.

Dig and spade, a good adage for not growing old.

Pony League Sets Hereford Tourney

Hereford will be site for the Sectional Tournament of the 1967 Pony League playoffs, tournament officials of Boys Baseball, Inc., announced Wednesday.

Jimmy Chapman of Dimmitt, director of District 2 of the Western Region Pony League, said games will be held in Hereford the first week in August.

The Hereford team, which earns a bye in the opening two playoff tournaments by hosting the sectional tournament, will be made up of All-Stars from the six local Pony League teams. Beginning August 1, four teams will play for the right to compete in the Pony League Region, Division and then the World Series. Teams entering the Sectional Tournament here will be winners from the Area and District tournaments.

Chapman said entries in the tournament will be from Lubbock, District 1; either Anton, Dimmitt, Littlefield Nazareth or Borger, District 2, and Oklahoma District 3. There are 39 teams in District 1; 27 teams in District 2, including Hereford, and 59 teams in District 3.

Don McNeese, president of the Hereford Pony League, said "this is the biggest thing we've ever had here. We're real proud and are looking forward to it already." McNeese and other officers of the local organization met with Chapman Monday night to sign contracts and finalize plans for the tournament. Other officers of the Hereford League are Martin Wagner, vice president; Floyd Driver, player agent; Joe Deavenport, purchasing agent, and George Olson, secretary, treasurer.

Sponsored by the United Fund Pony League baseball is open to boys 13-14. Tryouts for the local team will be May 4 and 5 at 5 p. m. each day in Damon Park.

News About Area Men On Duty

FT. BENJAMIN HARRISON, IND. (AHTNC) — Second Lieutenant William R. Dowell, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Dowell, 132 Greenwood St., Hereford, Tex., completed a finance officer orientation course at the Army Finance School at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Inc., April 24.

During the 10-week course, he was trained in accounting, controller responsibilities and administrative procedures of Army Finance offices.

Lt. Dowell, a member of Kappa Alpha Order and of Scabbard and Blade Society, received his commission through the Reserve Officers Training Corps program at West Texas State University at Canyon, where he received his B. B. A. degree in 1967.

His wife, Janna, lives at 1165 Nell Road, Pampa, Tex.

Pre-Season Sales Planned By Buffs

AMARILLO — With a goal of 10,000 season ticket sells before them, 40 leading businessmen and civic leaders of Amarillo and Canyon Tuesday launched the first of three proposed pre-season drives to sell West Texas State University football tickets.

Bill Butler of Davis, Davidson and Butler is serving as chairman of the Amarillo drive while J. W. Foust of Whitney Printing Co., and president of the West Texas Ex-Students Association, assisted by Carroll Dazier of Davis, Davidson and Butler, will coordinate ticket selling efforts of the school throughout the Panhandle area. The area drive will get underway within the next month.

"This first drive will be directed at businesses in Amarillo and Canyon," said Butler. "The drive will continue through May and we feel that with our 1967 prospects the six home games scheduled for Buffalo Bowl will be well worth the price of admission."

Frank Kimbrough, West Texas State athletic director, adds that season tickets sells are ahead of last year's pace and he encourages fans to purchase their 1967 tickets as early as possible to assure the seat of their choice.

Tickets and information may be obtained from the WTSU

Athletic Office, at OL 5-7141, Ext. 2204, or by writing Box 4, W. T. Station, Canyon, Tex.

As a special incentive to persons purchasing two or more season tickets, a parking space adjacent the stadium will be reserved for you. Season ticket holders may also choose from three reserved areas adjacent Buffalo Bowl for parking. KGNC-TV will also donate a film clip to persons purchasing four or more season tickets.

Season tickets for chair seats are priced at $24. Price without a chair is $21. Cost of bleacher seat tickets at the north and south ends of the stadium is $2 per game. Admission for students, high school age and under, is $1 for bleacher seats.

West Texas kicks off its 1967 home slate Sept. 16 when they host Montana State in Buffalo Bowl. The Buffs will then host Utah State (Sept. 23), University of Pacific (Sept. 30), Colorado State (Oct. 7) and San Jose State (Oct. 14) before their first road trip. The Buffs wind up their 1967 home slate with Arlington State Oct. 28. All home games will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Baggage regulations on the Trans-Siberian Railroad allow "one bird in a cage" at no extra cost.

Pro Bowling Is Slated For Area

LUBBOCK — Oakwood Lanes will be the scene this fall of one of the nation's largest professional bowling tournaments.

The Professional Bowlers' Association, in conjunction with Oakwood Lanes Benny Bennett will make a four-day stop here for the $27,500 Lubbock PBA. Open from September 7-10, Bennett announced Monday night.

This will be the first visit of the touring professionals to North Texas, although it will be the fourth Texas city to be visited in 1967.

Before getting to Lubbock, the nation's top professionals will have visited El Paso, Houston and Fort Worth as part of a 15-city summer tournament tour.

Bennett made the announcement at a press-radio-television dinner, and said that he had completed plans for the tournament last month in Akron, Ohio, at a meeting of tournament sponsors from other cities, along with officials of the Akron-based PBA.

The PBA, although comparatively young, is today acknowledged as the top organization of its kind in bowling and is the nation's fastest growing sports organization.

Bennett said that PBA officials assured him that virtually all of the top names in professional bowling would be here for the tournament, which means that Lubbock area bowling fans will get a chance to see the likes of Dave Davis, Billy Hard-

Last Of Follies Slated Tuesday

AMARILLO — Buffalo Follies, acclaimed as one of the most imaginative road shows to ever cross the Panhandle, will close its 1967 schedule here Monday and Tuesday night in the Tascosa High School Auditorium. Show time is set for 8 p. m.

As the catalyst behind the 1967 West Texas State University season football ticket drive, the Follies have captured audiences in Canyon, Dimmitt, Plainview, Spearman, Pampa and Hereford. The Follies cast consists of 36 West Texas football players and six volunteer performers headed by director Dixie Dice Watson. In six shows to date the Follies have attracted 4,700 persons for an average attendance of 783 per show.

FAMOUS CLASS

LAWRENCE, Kan. — A note for music lovers:

Judith Mendelsohn of Prairie Village, Kan., is enrolled in a music theory course at the University of Kansas.

Her instructor is Darrell Handel.

We took one look at the 1967 Pontiacs and decided to become the newest Pontiac dealer in town.

Everyone loves a winner. And we're no exception. So when we saw what Pontiac had to offer again this year we just knew that the Wide-Track Winning Streak was going to roll on unabated.

But don't get the idea that we're going to rest on Pontiac laurels. We know that when you're new you have to try harder. We've staffed our sales department with professional men who know that arm twisting is no substitute for an irresistible deal. And we've hired factory-trained service men whose motto is: Do it right the first time. On time. (And we've equipped our service department with the latest equipment to help them make sure it is.)

So come on in and try us, won't you? We'll do our best to make it a habit.

Sports Banquet Planned At WT

CANYON — West Texas State University athletes will be honored here May 4 when the annual All-Sports Banquet unfolds in the East Dining Hall on the University campus. The Banquet will begin at 7:30 p. m. Tickets are priced at $2.50 and may be purchased at the field-house ticket office or at the East Dining Hall on the evening of May 4.

Highlighting the annual banquet will be the selection of honorary captains for the 1966 football and basketball squads and the naming of recipients for the Kleinschmidt, Fighting Heart and President's awards. The Kleinschmidt Awards are presented by J. Wesley Kleinschmidt, Canyon businessman, to the most valuable players in each sport as selected by a committee headed by Kleinschmidt. The President's Award was created in 1955 by Dr. James P. Cornette, University president, and he established the criteria of "citizenship, leadership, loyalty and cooperation, general attitude." The Fighting Heart Award goes to the player who shows the greatest hustle, desire, teamwork and spirit.

"All right, all right, so we've made up. Just don't let it happen again."

WTCC Honors Earl Phillips

DEL RIO — Earl Phillips, Hereford, president of the State Firemen's & Fire Marshals' Assn. was honored Monday evening at the 49th annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce banquet for his outstanding service as president of a statewide voluntary organization.

The president of the WTCC, John Ben Shepperd, said "The people who devote so much time and effort to the responsibilities of a statewide organization are entitled to recognition by the entire public. Too often, they are commended only by the members of their own organization. We think the untold hours of travel and work, plus the thousands of dollars of personal funds spent in the performance of their duties should be noted."

The honorees were seated at a special head table, recognized for their leadership and leadership certificates by the WTCC president.

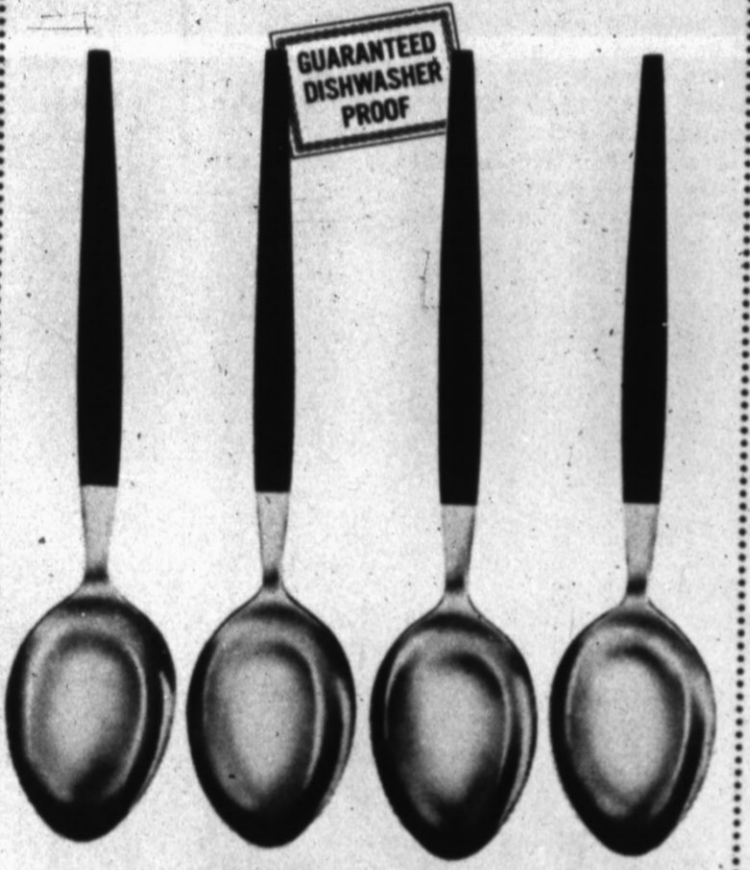

The banquet speaker was Dr. Dorothy Gregg, public relations specialist with U. S. Steel, New York. Her address was on the role of women in civic and political affairs and how women should insist upon participation by their husbands in civic affairs.

Car Dealership Expands Here

Kinsey-Osborn Motors, located at 142 N. Miles in Hereford, will hold its grand-opening celebration today, Friday and Saturday in recognition of having acquired the dealership of the Pontiac and GMC lines.

The company now handles Pontiac, Buick, Rambler and Opel lines of cars while in the truck series they carry GMC.

The dealership has been operated by D. C. Kinsey since 1954 when he bought the business from Wayne Wallace. Later in 1957, E. H. Glen Osborn joined him as partner.

Osborn had been in the car business for 13 years in Tulia prior to coming to Hereford. Before that, he worked for General Motors in Amarillo for 11 years.

Council Plans Youth Campaign

Plans to launch a program to educate the citizens of Hereford of the effects of alcohol were discussed by the Deaf Smith County Council on Alcoholism during their regular monthly breakfast and meeting which was held Wednesday at the La Cafe Hacienda.

Gene Fooks, chairman of the program committee, presented several ideas to the group for future projects. Such ideas included ways to let the youngsters of our town know the bad effects which alcohol has by ways of showing them films. The films would be shown during school hours next year. The idea was discussed and the group voted to have the council's secretary, Mrs. Hazel Rayburn, inquire about the films available and the cost for each one. The films are carried by the state commission on alcoholism.

Other ideas which were kicked around by the group were ways to present various programs to civic organization.

In order for the council to present films, if acquired, to the school children, permission would first have to be granted by the school system.

Authorized to work on that was the program committee. Plans call for arrangements to be made during the summer months so as to have everything in order for the school months.

A short radio program would also be carried by our local station, KPAN, at least once a week to inform the listeners about alcohol.

Also discussed was the possibility of having an essay contest for senior and junior high schools here. Prizes, such as savings bonds, would be awarded for the first, second and third place winners.

Plans call for such a contest to be held during the next school year.

Other ideas concerning such action included making the titles of speeches and other information about the effects of alcohol more appealing to the public.

The council will meet again May 24 at the same place.

Mrs. Willmot Is Club President

Officers headed by Mrs. Robert Willmot as president were elected in Veleda Study Club Tuesday evening, when Mrs. Johnny Clark was hostess and the program was by Tomas Graf German student attending Hereford High School under the American Field Service program.

Graf was introduced by Mrs. Gid Brown, who also sketched the operation of the American Field Service in bringing foreign students to American schools and sending American students abroad.

Illustrated with slides, the German youth gave facts about Germany and the locality in which he lives, then spoke informally of his family and his life at home. He answered questions of the club members afterward.

Mrs. Joe Frank Clark presided for the election, in which she was named to serve as parliamentarian next term. Mrs. Armon Lauderback was elected vice president. Mrs. Gene Parsley secretary. Mrs. Brown correspondent. Mrs. Dale Barkley treasurer and Mrs. Billy W. Sisson historian.

The new officers will be installed at the next meeting, May 9.

Other members present were Mrs. Bill Brady, Hugh Clearman, George Ritter, J. R. Oglesby and Glenn Watts.

AWARD WINNERS — Shirley Simpson was named outstanding ICT student of the year and her boss, Bill Bradley was picked out as standing employer. They were presented plaques at the annual ICT banquet.

Miss Kelley Is Honored Shirley Simpson Top ICT Student With Showers

A compliment to Miss Retha Kelley, bride-elect of Randal Banks of Amarillo, was a recent shower in the home of Mrs. O. G. Hill Jr. The honoree, daughter of the Kenneth Kelleys, is planning a June 5 wedding.

Shower hostesses with Mrs. Hill were Mrs. Bill Blackwell, J. T. Boynton, E. A. Clark, Floyd Cole, W. L. Davis Jr., M. G. Duvall, Robert Lemons, W. J. Lueb, James C. Mercer, Arthur Pursley, Darrell Rose, Dale Tinnan, Verdon Watts and Louis Woodford.

Guests were received by Miss Kelley, her mother and her sister, Miss Marlena Kelley who will be her maid of honor. Miss Ann Mercer was at the registry table.

Misses Edith Davis and Cindy Pursley served coffee and punch with dainty tea cookies and mints from a table covered in white net over blue. Blue carnations were arranged in a crystal bowl and tall blue tapers burned in crystal holders on either side. Other table appointments were in blue and crystal.

Shirley Simpson was named outstanding student of the year for Industrial Cooperative Training at their first banquet Friday night.

Her employer, Bill Bradley, was named outstanding employer for the year. Both were presented plaques.

ICT students attend school for half a day and train in a professional or trade situation during afternoons. The banquet was at Caison House and honored employers of the students.

Carl Hollingsworth was master of ceremonies and the sponsor of the class, Alvin Smith presented awards.

Ted Swindle was guest speaker and closed the program with the reading of appropriate poetry.

His topic was "The Generation Gap."

This is the first year that Hereford High School has had the ICT program for students. It is part of a cooperative training program that involves several areas, agriculture, business and trades. The school had had

Family Health Is Club Topic

Two phases of family health were emphasized in the program of Dawn Home Demonstration Club Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Glen Tucek. Mrs. Rea Cox illustrated her talk on care of the handicapped child, with slides showing equipment to aid both the patient and his parents.

Mrs. LeRoy Johnson's topic was Your Teenage Child and Smoking. She discussed not only the effect of smoking on health, but the expense involved as a handicap to a young person.

Mrs. H. D. Fowler was chosen the club's nominee as a delegate to the Texas H. D. Association convention next September. A community night which the club presented Friday evening was rehearsed after business directed by Mrs. Ray Stewart.

Mrs. Pat Cassels was welcomed as a new member, Mrs. W. T. Beavers as a guest. Nine members were present.

The Texas Highway Department distributed nearly a million copies of the Official State Highway Map in 1966. The map received worldwide distribution and invited both Texans and out-of-state persons to "Discover Texas, America's Fun-tier."

Can You Match These Mothers and Daughters?*

Mother-daughter and father-son combinations aren't unusual at Southwestern Bell. There are many reasons for this happy state of affairs. For one thing, ours is a good company to work for. For another, we offer a real opportunity for serving the public, an opportunity that calls for a true "spirit of service." We're pleased and proud so many of our Texas employees suggest a telephone career to their children. By doing so, they help insure the business will be in good hands for many years to come. We think this is a good thing for Southwestern Bell and for our customers.

College Courses Offered Students

PLAINVIEW —High school students who have completed their junior year can assess a maximum of 14 hours toward a college degree before they finish their senior studies.

Dr. Roy C. McClung, Wayland College president, said the college this summer will initiate the special study program for students who will be classified as high school seniors this fall.

To be eligible for enrollment, Dr. McClung pointed out, a student must be in the top 25 per cent of his junior class and must have approval of parents and his high school principal.

The high school students will take the same courses as college students enrolled in the summer session and may complete a maximum of 7 hours in each of the two terms in the summer session. Credits will be awarded the student upon his completion of his high school senior studies.

The plan has the approval of the Texas Association of Colleges, the Wayland president pointed out. Under the plan which has proved successful in other colleges it would be possible for a student to get off a year's college work before he became of draft age.

The Wayland College summer session will extend from June 5 to Aug. 25, with the first term extending from June 5 to July 15 and the second term starting July 17.

State Tightens Drivers Laws

AUSTIN — A greatly strengthened driver license law and an expansion of the State's driver education program have been recommended by the Highways and Roads Committee of the Texas House of Representatives.

Under the proposed law, regular licenses will be issued to persons 15 years of age when the existence of an emergency or hardship can be proven. Instruction permits will be issued to teenagers who have completed the classroom portion of driver education. Operators of motorcycles and motorcycles with five horsepower or less will be licensed at age 15.

Regular driver licenses will be issued at age 16 to teenagers who have completed driver education courses or who present a certificate from their superintendent of schools showing that driver education is not taught in their school. This provision will apply until June 1, 1969 in order to permit schools to gear up for the vastly expanded driver education program.

The minimum age for the issuance of chauffeur and commercial licenses will be 17.

Other provisions of the proposed driver license law contained in House Bill 354 will require that all motorcycle operators be licensed; that a birth certificate, thumbprints, and a description of the applicant be submitted with all original applications for driver licenses; and that provisional driver licenses be issued for all persons under 21. Regular tests must be passed before new drivers can be licensed.

Other provisions of the proposed law provide for the establishment of rehabilitation schools by the Department of Public Safety to be attended by persons whose driver licenses have been suspended or revoked and the creation of a four-year driver license plus two-year commercial and chauffeur's driver licenses.

The Highways and Roads Committee also recommended passage of House Bill 313 to permit offering of driver education to all persons over 15 years of age.

Earlier the Highways and Roads Committee recommended passage of House Bill 357, which provides for strengthening the State's vehicle inspection program.

Safety legislation recently passed by the Texas House includes the requirement that all motorcycle operators wear approved types of helmets and that the State Department of Health study the medical aspects of driver licensing, enforcement of traffic safety laws, and accident investigation.

Consideration by the Texas House of Representatives of the bills passed by the House Highways and Roads Committee this week is expected within few days. The Senate has yet to act on the traffic safety program.

"The 60th Legislature can go down in history as the one that helped save the lives of thousands of Texans," Robert F. Miller, President, Texas for Traffic Safety, said in commenting on the action taken by the House and Roads Committee. "A total of 3,406 persons were killed in Texas traffic accidents last year. This was an increase of 12 percent over the previous year. The dollars-and-cents cost of traffic accidents in our State last year exceeded $50 million. The remedial legislation now being considered by the Texas Legislature can be the first step in checking our State's terrible traffic toll.

"I hope that all Texans who believe that we should slow down the slaughter on our highways will let their legislators know how they feel.

"If the 60th Legislature will give the people of our State good modern traffic laws and if these laws are enforced and obeyed by Texans, I am confident that our traffic accident rate will nosedive. When this happens it will mean that the lives of hundreds of Texans will be saved, thanks to the enactment of forward-looking laws and their enforcement," Mr. Miller concluded.

An average automobile travel party visiting Texas in 1966 was composed of 2.9 persons. However, the time of year had considerable effect on party size. During the months of June, July and August, the months of the traditional family vacation, travel parties include more children and were larger than during other seasons.

Located just across the railroad tracks on Veteran Park Road, Hereford Grain Corp. is one of the few mammoth buildings that our city boasts proudly among its many other structures.

The corporation is actually a co-op with over 700 stockholders having a share in it. Running the huge operation are seven men who serve as board of directors. At present, serving as president is Austin C. Rose, followed by W. J. Albracht as vice-president.

The secretarial duties are taken care of by Charles Hoover. The rest of the board is made up by F. L. Eicke, Andrew Kershen, Gary Mason and Tony Hoffman.

The officers are elected annually and serve 3-year terms. Each year, one officer is elected as a term for some one expires.

Chosen to handle all the operations of the Hereford Grain Corp. is Joe Artho, serving as general manager.

Artho has had experience in the grain industry since 1955 when he started as a general utility man with Dimmitt Wheat Growers.

He was later transferred in 1959 to Nazareth to manage the elevator which Dimmitt Wheat Growers own until he accepted the position here in June of 1965.

The board of directors is responsible for all new business which deals with the corporation. Any new or different items which need to be discussed are generally taken up during the board of directors meetings which are held once a month.

With two locations, Hereford Grain Corp. has facilities for 1,373,000 bushels of grain. The other location is 511 W. 1st in Hereford.

The Sears location, which is what the one on W. 1st is called, has a capacity of 768,300 bushels of grain.

The name Sears implies to the location because it used to belong to J. H. Sears. The corporation bought the place in 1958 and has called it that name since then.

In Farmers Corner, 15 miles north of Hereford, a pick-up station is also located for the corporation.

The elevator on Veteran Park Road was bought by the corporation in 1952. At the time, about 25 farmers joined together and purchased the building from Jack Bradley. On June 2, 1952, a meeting was called and the first officers were elected. Serving on the first group of officers were Frank Knabe, Virgil Dodson, Jack Bradley, Pete Carmichael, S. H. Slagle, Harry Danforth and J. C. McCracken.

The operation only requires the help of about 12 men throughout the year. When the grain season is at its slowest, the firm participates in the selling of dry fertilizer and anhydrous ammonia. Also carried by the corporation at this time is some field seeds.

The elevator carries in abundance milo. Of this, about 80 percent of the grain is sold locally and the rest is shipped to P. G. C. in Amarillo. When the grain that is shipped out is sold in Amarillo, the corporation receives dividends at the end of the year.

As for the wheat it carries, all of it is sold to the Amarillo firm.

A nation-wide co-op industry is owned by farmers from throughout the country. The local elevator can send grain to each one of the many places and when it is sold, dividends are sent in return at the end of the year.

Such places that the farmers own throughout the country are located in Texas and California.

Elevators in Texas are, with the capacity in bushels of grain; Ft. Worth, 6,500,000; Lubbock, 8,073,000; Plainview, 4,826,000; Amarillo, 7,160,000 and Corpus Christi, 4,510,000.

In Colton, Calif. an elevator is located with a capacity of 550,000 bushels of grain.

Also in Amarillo is a farm supply warehouse and in Plainview, an anhydrous ammonia plant.

The Farmers Co-op also owns a bank in Houston that goes under the name of the Federal Land Bank. In this building, the Houston Bank for Co-operation and the Production Credit Association are located.

Artho and his wife, Theresa, have four children — all boys. The oldest is David, 10 years, and is a 4th grader at St. Anthony's School. Mike, 9, is in the 3rd grade and Dennis, 8, is a 2nd grade student in St. Anthony's also. Steve, at 5 years, is not yet in school.

The family lives on a farm northeast of Hereford. Artho pointed out that when his family moved to the farm near Dimmitt, the boys were real "city slickers." To show an example of how much city-minded they were, he recalled an incident that happened during the first days of living in the farm. "The boys went out to look for some eggs since the place had a few hens when we first moved there," Artho was saying, "and they gathered about a dozen of them — all rotten!" he exclaimed. "Boy, you should have smelled them!" he laughed.

"But aside from a few other incidents such as that in the later days, the boys did finally turn out to really like living out in the country," Artho pointed out later.

Artho is a member of the Agriculture Committee of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce and is also active in the Knights of Columbus organization. His favorite pastime, which is limited, is hunting.

In charge of the different operation of Hereford Grain Corp. is Jim Collier at Farmers Corner, Norbert Skypala and David Reinart in charge of fertilizer operations in Hereford, Bruce Parrack of the elevator at Sears and Arnie Carr of the elevator on Veterans Park Road.

Also helping with the many duties is Lorenzo Morin and J. C. Burt. Burt is bookkeeper for the firm. Office Manager is Mrs. Alta Thomas.

IN CHARGE of the elevator at the Sears location is Bruce Parrack. He is demonstrating how many of the operations on the top floor are carried out by just operating a control unit on the main floor. (Hereford Brand Photo)

DOING SOME of his many duties is Joe Artho, general manager of Hereford Grain Corporation. Artho is responsible for the operation of various elevators which the corporation owns in this area. (Hereford Brand Photo)

ON TOP OF the tall structures of Hereford Grain Corp. is the distributing section. The photo on the left shows where the grain is fed to each hole. From there, it goes to a certain bin by means of the tubes under that floor, right picture. The operation is carried out by pushing buttons on the main floor. (Hereford Brand Photos)

Garrison Seed & Company Now Formally Opened

By JOE BRAN
Staff Writer

Having just recently incorporated, Garrison Seed and Company has turned into an accepted and prosperous business among all the other seed companies which have long operated in this area.

The firm, located east on Highway 60, just finished celebrating their grand-opening day last Saturday in which many door prizes and other gifts were given away to the public.

The company was first opened for business in October, 1966 and has done well in the seed business ever since.

It was first formed by Shirley L. Garrison, his son, Harvey and an old acquaintance, Art Stoy, who is serving as manager.

The business started when the elder Garrison, having grown his own seed at his farm for many years, saw fit that they should form a business so as to process their own seeds for selling.

The idea has paid off, having sold several million pounds of seeds since the first opening day.

But the company does not, however, grow all of the seed it sells. Much of this is bought from farmers from throughout this area. Also offered by the firm is contract growing of seed to farmers.

The company sells all types of field seeds such as hybrid grain sorghum, hybrid forage sorghum, cotton, millets and legumes which consist of such things as cow-peas, soy beans, alfalfa and clover.

Also handled to some extent is grass seeds.

Garrison Seed and Co. sells much of their product to out-of-state buyers. Some of the buyers are from as far as Atlanta, Georgia. "Soon, the company will sell and distribute seed to businesses all over the southern states," Garrison stated.

Stoy received his degree in Agronomy from Texas Tech in 1948. In 1947, he was a member of the Crop Judging Team from the college. He started in the seed business in Spur, Texas in June, 1948. In his 19 years of experience, he has dealt with sorghum, field and grass seeds besides being a plant breeder.

He and his wife, Mary, live at 514 Union in Hereford. They have four children, the oldest being in college. Patsy, 19, is a sophomore at Texas Tech. Mary 17, is a junior at Hereford High and Tommy, 15, is a freshman at Stanton. John, the youngest at 10 years, is a 5th grader at Shirley.

Shirley Garrison and his wife, Mildred, live in the Easter community and they have 3 children. The oldest is Harvey at 25 and is married. Sherrin, 18, is a senior at HHS and Pam, at 11 years old, is a 6th grader at Bluebonnet elementary school.

Garrison graduated from Texas Tech with a degree in Agricultural Education in 1940. It was there while in college that he met Stoy.

Harvey Garrison, a graduate from Texas Tech in 1964 with a degree in Agricultural Education, farms northwest of town in Parmer County. He raises much of the seeds which the company processes.

He is married to Joyce and they have two children. The oldest is Kerry at 3 years and the other is Lana, 1 year old.

The company's processing of the seeds requires only the help of two men. The work consists of cleaning, treating and bagging the seeds. Some seed is not bagged because many buyers purchase them bulk to bag with their own packages and brand names.

The two men which deal with the processing are Joe Martinez and Juan Sustaiti. Taking care of the sales is Robert Woolsey.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Sweets On The Square

A new house in a row of new houses on a new street in Northwest Hereford is the home of Mrs. Ray Polvadore, whose family moved in last spring at 207 Greenwood.

SHE'S ACQUAINTED with all her neighbors now, and to her that is the important point in getting settled. Helen Polvadore likes people; other details are not so important to her. She admits offhandedly that she doesn't like to cook, and uses all shortcuts available in preparing meals for her family. What she does like to do in the kitchen is make a fresh pot of coffee and share it with neighbors and friends who drop in.

"And we all like to come to her house," says Mrs. Jerry Hodges from across the street, who sat at the lunch bar with a cup of coffee in hand while Mrs. Polvadore gave a favorite recipe to The Brand's collection. A recipe, by the way, for a confection which would be delicious with coffee.

CONGO SQUARES

Melt 1 stick of butter and 1/3 of another, in a large saucepan. Add 1 pound dark brown sugar. Let cool, then add 3 eggs, beating in one at a time.

Sift 2 2/3 cups flour with 2 1/2 tsp. baking powder and 1/2 tsp. salt. Add to sugar-butter mixture. Mix, and stir in a 6-ounce pkg. chocolate chips and a cup of chopped pecans. Bake 25 to 30 minutes at 350 degrees, and cut in squares.

A RESIDENT OF Hereford eight years, since soon after her marriage in her home-town of Ralls, energetic Mrs. Polvadore finds time for two part-time jobs and acting as leader for a group of Bluebirds, younger members of the Camp Fire Girls organization.

This in addition to her household duties and caring for her two children, Karla, who will be 8 years old in June, and Kip, 3. She works several hours a week in an office and acts as news correspondent for an area paper. The latter job, and a previous stint as local reporter for a television station, have reinforced her conviction that she would like news reporting

The Hereford Brand, Hereford, Texas, Thurs., April 27, 1967 for a career "after Kip is big enough to start to school."

HER INTEREST IN newspapers began when she acted as business manager for her high school paper in Ralls, where she grew up as Helen Cummings.

Another schoolgirl activity, membership in a 4-H Club and service as an assistant club leader, prepared for her the work she does with the Bluebird group. She has assumed that work because she wants her daughter to have the advantage of the organization.

Definitely not an outdoor type she says, she has learned to like some outdoor activity which she shares with her husband.

"I'M EVEN LEARNING to like camping," she explains, "and now I've agreed to help with the Girl Scout Camp in New Mexico this summer." Skiing is another sport she mentions with enthusiasm. She likes playing cards, too, and the Polvadores are among Hereford couples who enjoy together membership in the Citizens Band Radio Club.

Gardening is the phase of home improvement which she leaves to her husband while she admires the results.

"My help isn't valuable at all," she says, and at Mrs. Hodges' laughing urging she told the story of the seed she planted.

"I started reading the directions on the packet," she says, "and it said to loosen the ground

One of the big problems Congress faces, especially the House Agriculture Committee on which I serve, is the worsening farm situation. I have had many letters recently from both farmers and businessmen in smaller Panhandle communities about the continuing decline in farm income and the resultant depressing effect on business in smaller towns.

Actually, business in Amarillo, Borger, Pampa, Hereford and other communities with industrial payrolls is adversely affected by the comparatively low level of farm and ranch net income. Farm prices dropped in February to only 74% of parity and remained at 74% during March. In only one other month since 1934 have the prices farmers received for what they produce been so low in relation to the prices of the things they must buy to produce their crops and livestock and to live on the farm.

Consumers of this nation should understand that we might be short of food in this county today if our farmers depended solely on prices received in the market place and if these prices had been as low in all the years since 1940 as they are today. There probably would not be enough resources now left in the agricultural economy to provide abundance for our own people and certainly no possibility of sharing food with the hungry millions of other nations.

Addressing a farm credit group in Houston recently, Rep. W. R. (Bob) Poage, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said he was deeply concerned by the hue and cry last year from housewives and boy-cotts across the country when the prices farmers received for some of the goods they produce advanced moderately and prices at the grocery stores advanced more. And this all happened, Mr. Poage pointed out, in a year when prices farmers got for what they produced were below what they were 20 years before and they are substantially lower than that today. Food prices for the same period are up 35%. Today, the farmer receives only 5.5% of the U. S. consumer's total after-tax income for his products — one half the share he received in 1947. But during the past 20 years hourly earnings of industrial workers have advanced 123% and corporate dividends are up 232%.

This story could go on and on — the inflated prices a farmer must pay for everything — as machinery, building materials, care. In the nation as a whole and particularly in the Panhandle, agriculture is our biggest industry. It is also most vital industry but the least rewarded.

The competition of higher paying jobs and public assistance payments in cities keeps a steady stream of farmers and farm workers moving off the land. Our farm population today is down to 12 million, less than half what it was 18 years ago. And not many people are going into agriculture. More than half of our farmers are over 50 years of age and 18% above 65. So it is obvious that we are headed for trouble unless we put incentives back in agriculture and this means that the cities must be willing to return to the farmers in the price of food and fiber a profit on a parity with people in other undertakings that contribute to our well-being.

Because of his fewer numbers, the political force of the farmer has diminished to the extent that he must now depend upon members of Congress and administrators representing urban constituents and populations for approval of policies which are fair and equitable to agriculture. And I believe it is urgent that the great metropolitan areas understand what is involved before it is too late.

This is, therefore, one of the most vital issues facing Congress. We must forestall any probability of a food shortage in the United States and, hopefully, be able to help feed the hungry people in the Free World nations. A fair farm income and small industries in our smaller communities will hold people in rural areas and stop the flow into the slum-ridden cities.

MONSTER SALAMI JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Corrado Viola had one burning ambition — to make the world's biggest salami. And when he turned out a monster sausage five feet long and weighing nearly 100 pounds, he thought he's probably succeeded. Viola, 37, a chef in an Italian spent two days making his salami. He had to use a plastic skin because he couldn't find an orthodox casing big enough. Viola proudly hung it from the ceiling of the restaurant, adorned with red, green and white ribbons of the Italian national colors.

Maitre d'hotel Piero said: "Only in Bologna in Italy do they make such big salamis. And if ours is not the biggest one ever made, it is so close to it that it doesn't matter." Thieves who broke into the restaurant were apparently daunted by its size. They left Viola's masterpiece alone and stole a smaller, 20-pound version.

Texas Tourism Is Big Business

AUSTIN — The Texas Highway Department's 1966 Visitor Industry Report reveals that tourism entered the select circle of "billion-dollar" industries last year. A record 19,236,000 persons came to Texas by all forms of transportation spending a total of $1,680,000.

Again in 1966 the automobile was the overwhelming choice of transportation for the Texas visitor. The Department's survey shows a total of 14,157,000 out-of-state persons traveling by automobile visited the State in 1966 spending $723,847,000.

In addition, the Texas Tourist Council, a Austin headquartered association of travel-related businesses, estimates another 5,079,000 persons visited the State last year through the facilities of commercial carriers. The Council estimates the commercial carrier contribution to the total spending at $356,155,000.

In its survey to secure data on the State's rapidly developing Visitor Industry, the Texas Highway Department analyzed information from nearly 12,000 questionnaires returned by automobile visitors to Texas. These questionnaires were given to incoming tourists at the Department's port-of-entry Tourist Information Centers and were returned following completion of their trip. They provided data regarding expenditures, length of stay, purpose of visit, number in party, income groups, age groups and other key information.

While the total automobile visitors represented an 11.6% gain over 1965, the biggest gain for Texas was in their expenditures which increased by 18.1% or $110,689,000.

Average spending per person was $8.80 per day, while the party was $25.52 per day. Spending per visitor increased 93 cents per day over the average in 1965.

While the record 14,157,000 automobile tourists represented an increase of 1,470,000 (11.6%) over 1965, the actual length of stay of the visitor decreased slightly. A record 6.1 days was recorded in 1966 compared to 5.8 days last year. Even with this 3 day decrease in the length of stay, the increase in numbers and money spent recorded 1966 as the banner year in Texas travel history.

At least a portion of the slight reduction in length of stay can be attributed to Texas' fine highway system. Today, Texas' visitors can drive between distant points much faster. This shrinking of the State's size has a tendency to cut down their length of stay within Texas' borders.

The 20-page report, which reflects the combined activities of the Texas Tourist Development Agency and the Texas Highway Department, and in the private sector, the Texas Tourist Council, points out that the "billion-dollar" plus figure represents only money left in Texas by out-of-state visitors. This figure does not include expenditures of Texans traveling within their home state. Each year they make countless trips within the State's borders conducting business and visiting the scenic, historical, cultural and recreational points of interest offered by Texas. No figures on this spending are available, but a tremendous sum would be added to the substantial total of the measured travel market.

During 1966 the Texas Highway Department's eight Travel Information Centers played host to nearly 756,000 travelers. Trained counselors provided them with current travel information, literature on points of interest, travel maps and information about Texas' attractions.

In addition to assisting more than three-fourths million travelers in 1966, the Department received and processed 261,000 mail requests for information on Texas. A record 4 million pieces of travel materials were distributed. Of this total approximately 2 million were published by the Texas Highway Department, while the remainder was furnished by chambers of commerce and allied groups.

FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD

HOLD ON

How we love to watch these trapeze artists perform! We watch them in amazement, though feeling some peril in their doings. We can almost hear the crowd say "Hold On!" It is a parable of you — and me. God is the strong member of the team. We live every day in peril and difficulty... we hang from His hand.

We must hold to the hand of God if we win. Prayer is our aid to keep his hand in ours. We read The Book and attend His church for courage and strength. But a closer look will give us hope. We are "holding on" to God but better still God is "holding on" to us. God does not faint or grow weary. Then "hold on" to Him, for "He shall renew thy strength."

HONORED — Two-year scholarships have been awarded to three West Texas State University Reserve Officers' Training Corps cadets by the United States Army, for advanced military science training. Col. Henry L. Calder presents the awards to Charles E. Johnston of Odessa, John L. Lesley of Hereford, and Jerry C. Lewis of Monahans. The scholarships pay all college expenses for the cadets' junior and senior years at WTSU.

A 28-minute full color travel film produced by the Texas Highway Department was viewed by millions on TV stations throughout the nation during 1966. The film, "Texas-Land of Contrast," available with Spanish, German, French and English narrations, is the first of a series of travel films to be produced by the Department. This first film shows the variety of recreational facilities that can be found in Texas and seeks to erase the misconception that many out-of-staters have of Texas as one vast, barren wasteland. Only 55 cities in the world had populations exceeding one million two decades ago. Today there are 120.

FROM OUR AUSTIN BUREAU

Surprise Move By Governor Is Generally Well Received

Governor John Connally's address to a joint session of the Texas Legislature really took observers by surprise last week — and doubtless, it left many different impressions among lawmakers and citizens alike. Of course, the immediate reaction that TV watchers saw was one of tremendous support for the Governor's plan to appropriate state funds for only one year at a time (as opposed to the present system of the two-year budget). The House at this time appears in favor, more so than the Senate which apparently is taking a considerably more conservative attitude toward the whole thing.

Contents of the Governor's address were really kept "in the safe" until the last minute, giving predictors plenty of time to conjure up rumors of what the Governor had on his mind. It seems that someone was expecting the Governor to resign, in order that he could become President Johnson's Secretary of Defense, in order that Robert S. McNamara could become Secretary of State, in order that Dean Rusk could be named to the Supreme Court, which would make present Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith governor, putting him against Speaker of the House Ben Barnes for the gubernatorial position in 1968 in all likelihood. Sound a little far fetched? It appears someone may have been slightly disappointed at what the Governor had to say. Governor Connally's request seems to have come about as a result of a stalemate in the Legislature over the appropriations bill; something like a feud between the Senate and House of Representatives had developed, with a game going on to see who was going to last the longest and get the last word. Action of the Senate in passing a bill sparked the controversy. The Senate bill was ahead of the House bill in one respect, anyway. At least it got out. Speaker of the House Ben Barnes has been telling inquirers every week that "this week" the House Appropriations bill will make it through.

From the comments made by Texas lawmakers, an onlooker could conclude that legislators are really scared of the 1968 voters, particularly if a tax bill has to be passed in this election year coming up next on the calendar. However, this can have a two-way affect, as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah, pointed out. "Time is the healer of all things, and any time you can put off taxing the people its good. We can write a more advisable tax bill on a year-to-year basis than on a biennial basis."

Governor Connally called for the lawmakers to put away petty prejudices and differences in order to get the show on the road as far as the 60th Legislature is concerned. Governor Connally's program is meeting substantial (and obstinate) difficulties in getting through the maze of legislature-dominated Texas government.

Power fights in Texas may be more than slightly contrary to the democratic process — and there are areas of "legitimate concern to the people of Texas" which are not receiving their rightful share of attention in the august body of lawmakers whose first concern should be the citizens they represent.

"I know of no one who would budget a two billion dollar a year business for two years in advance without providing some degree of flexibility for unforeseen developments. Yet, that is what we do today in our budget process. Such a procedure can no longer be justified," Governor Connally stated.

The plan that the Governor put before the Legislators outlines spending of the $140 million surplus (predicted at the end of the fiscal year ending this August 31), plus income from present sources for appropriations for one year. No additional revenue would be necessary until at least 1968, which, as pointed out by many, just happens to be an election year. The budget for fiscal 1968 would be decided by a special session of the Legislature to meet early next year.

thus quipped, "If he is sure he wants to do it that way, it suits me fine, because if we work on appropriations and taxes at a time close to when we are running for re-election, maybe the people of Texas will have as much to say about it as the lobby." Suspicious confirmed, but that's the way things are done.

Senator Henry Grover claims the Governor's plan to be "fiscally folly reminiscent of the bookkeeping maneuvers of the Federal government. If the Governor wants to force the Democratic party back into a special taxing session in an election year, I know of no way more quickly to bring about a two-party system in Texas." Sen. Grover of Houston is the only Republican in the Texas Senate.

Another Republican, Rep. Frank Calhoun of Midland, asserts, "This proposal is a clear violation of the spirit of the Constitution and is a back door attempt to bypass the constitutional provisions for Texas to remain on a pay-as-you-go basis." How he gets this argument, anyone knows. Putting Texas on a pay-as-you-go basis seems to be one of the Governor's reasons for making budget appropriations annually instead of every two years. Calhoun also claims, "When the chief executive resorts to bookkeeping maneuvers to finance his program like the federal government does, he is obviously in desperate circumstances and Texas leadership is at a new low."

Considering the power given set-up, a "new law" lower to the Governor in the Texas than what the Governor already has would be hard to attain. It appears that John Connally has done alright for himself when one considers that Texas' top executive position is considered one of the weakest among the 50 states. If the Governor can get his way this time, there is a chance that something more important and less routine might get done after all. And that would be an accomplishment; pushing the unwieldy Legislature with its squabbling politicking leaders is no easy task. And the Legislature, not the Governor, carries the biggest stick in the State of Texas.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Consumer Credit Has Controversial Side Issues

By VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — House of Representatives has passed the Senate a far-reaching consumer credit code regulating most consumer loans and allowing banks higher interest rates.

Gov. John Connally recommended the code which resulted from a two-year study of the credit field.

Bill by Rep. Randy Pendleton of Andrews establishes maximum credit charges, limits required insurance on loans, requires disclosure to borrower of all charges he must pay and prohibits misleading advertising.

Pendleton said his measure would provide Texas with one of the most "comprehensive and effective" regulations of consumer loans in the nation.

But Rep. Paul Floyd of Houston claimed the bill would "increase cost of money to borrowers."

Code covers all fields of credit under $2,500, whether loans are by banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions or pawnbrokers. Installment purchases, including those of autos, are included.

Proponents contend that customers will have a better loan market if banks and other lending agencies can charge the same rates as finance firms.

These rates are authorized by the code:

Auto installment loans — $7.50 per $100 on new cars ranging to $15 per $100 on autos over four years old.

Regulated loans — $18 per $100 annually on first $300 and $8 per $100 above $300, to $2,500.

Secondary mortgage loans on residential property — $8 per $100, same rate as on installment loans.

Retail installment sales and services would be limited to $12 per $100 for first $500, ranging down to $8 over $1,000.

Revolving credit maximum would be one and a half percent per month for first 500 of unpaid balance and one percent on unpaid balance over $500.

OPTOMETRY BILL DELAYED

Bill to reverse State Board of Optometry ruling which restricts multiple-office practice and advertising of eye glass firms under trade names (e. g. Texas State Optical, Lee) was sent to sub-committee after hearing before Senate Public Health Committee.

Fate of the bill is uncertain. Contested ruling, upheld by State Supreme Court, was made by six-member Board, five of whom are independent optometrists.

Dr. N. Jay Rogers of Beaumont, TSO head, said Board ruling was aimed at curtailing competition and would run up prices of glasses.

House passed a bill to allow MH/MR board members to be paid for every day they attend a meeting; bill transferring the authority to license private mental hospitals from the State Department of Health to MH/MR; and a bill to allow the voluntary admission of mentally retarded persons to state schools.

House MH/MR Committee favorably reported a bill setting out the schedule of monthly payments for persons in mental retardation facilities; bill to allow MH/MR to make contracts for the provision of MH/MR services with hospitals and other private facilities; and a bill to require county attorneys of counties where community centers are located to file suit to collect fees for the treatment of non-indigent persons in those centers.

TRAFFIC SAFETY

House Committee on Highways and Roads favorably reported two bills and sent two others to subcommittee.

Reported back to the House were bill to expand motor vehicle inspection requirements to make them conform with federal statutes and bill to provide for reflectorized license plates to be issued in Texas beginning in 1969.

Sent to subcommittee were bill to establish a uniform crime reporting system and bill to increase the amount of damage required before a written accident report must be submitted to the Department of Public Safety.

MORE BILLS

Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall introduced resolution urging Congress to take action toward a constitutional amendment to permit voluntary prayers and Bible reading in public schools.

AG OPINIONS

Proposed law to prohibit sale of merchandise below cost "with intent to injure competition" would be constitutional, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that: State institutions can adopt reasonable standards of clothing and attire for students, inmates or employees. However, "anti-beatnik" bill by Rep. Delwin Jones of Lubbock is unconstitutional because caption does not cover all provisions.

Court would have power under new bill to require presence in courtroom of parents or guardians of a minor charged with driving while intoxicated.

Law does not require an employee be given time off to vote while working overtime hours for which he volunteered.

Galveston County may use flood control funds to maintain seawalls.

It is responsibility of the committing county to physically return an escaped juvenile offender to Texas Youth Council custody.

Bill authorizing exchange of benches by justices of peace in the same county is constitutional.

Harris County commissioners court cannot enjoin a subdivider from selling lots on the ground that he has failed to complete roads to standards of county engineers.

Chattel mortgages filed prior to last July 1 should be renewed or extended by filing affidavit with county clerk as required by law in effect before the Uniform Commercial Code adoption.

COURTS SPEAK

U. S. Supreme Court rejected the state's appeal from the ruling that Texas House of Representatives must be reappointed to form districts of more nearly equal population. House Committee is proceeding on that mandate, expected to have bill out by mid-May.

Third Court of Civil Appeals reversed Austin district court and held that last November's constitutional amendment repealing the poll tax and requiring an annual fee registration system is valid. Court said voters had ample notice by advertising and publicity that registration provision was included in repeal measure.

SHORT SHORTS

Governor Connally named R. Henderson Shuffler director of $10,000,000 Institute of Texas Cultures being constructed on San Antonio HemisFair site.

State Republican Chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr. named a coordinating committee, "Task Force on Clean Air and Water," headed by Dr. S. J. Skinner of Houston and Mrs. Robert Good of Dallas.

Dr. Robert L. Clinton Jr., superintendent of schools at Snyder, is new assistant commissioner of higher education in charge of development of public junior colleges.

Just over half of Texas' out-of-state automobile visitors (53%) reported vacations as their primary purpose for coming to Texas in 1966. The second largest category included those coming to Texas to visit members of their family and friends (27%). Some 15% said they were in Texas for business reasons, including conventions, or a combination of business and vacation.
