Levee breach floods 2 California towns

By MARTIN STEINBERG
Associated Press Writer

Rescuers in helicopters worked feverishly today to lift to safety the remaining residents of two northern California towns flooded by a wall of water released when a levee unexpectedly crumbled, forcing 21,000 people to flee, many in panic.

Crews dumped truckloads of huge rocks today into the levee near the confluence of the Yuba and Feather rivers, which already had receded several feet since the breach occurred about 6 p.m. PST Thursday. It was the second levee to give way Thursday under the weight of nine days of rain.

Elsewhere in the West, cleanups were under way in the wake of waves of Pacific storms that killed at least 17 people, flooded thousands of acres and homes and set off hundreds of avalanches and mudslides. Preliminary estimates put the damage in California, Nevada and Utah near $100 million, and officials estimated that 20 percent of Napa County's vineyards were damaged.

About 33,000 people have had to flee their homes, including the 12,000 in Linda, Calif., and 9,000 in nearby Olivehurst evacuated Thursday.

A half-dozen police and National Guard helicopters plucked people from rooftops in Linda, whose residents were taken to five shelters within two hours of the breach, said Bill Helms of the state Flood Control Center in Sacramento.

Residents screamed, tapped pans and waved flashlights to attract the airborne rescuers "to come and get them from their rooftops," said David Gordon Hall of Sacramento radio station KFBK, who was in Linda.

A 40-foot breach grew to about 100 feet by this morning, said Naser Bateni, supervisor of flood control at the state Department of Water Resources. The breach was a surprise because the Yuba River was 5½ feet below flood stage and receding when the levee crumbled, said Bateni.

"The police could not set up guidelines quick enough at the different corners on which way to go to get away from there, so people were just going in circles, turning around going in other directions, trying to get out of there," said Marysville resident Jim Leary, who was in the Peach Tree Mall in Linda when the levee crumbled, releasing a 3- to 4-foot-high wall of water that covered cars in a low-lying parking lot.

Crews and volunteers also struggled today to reinforce other

Sacramento-San Joaquin river delta levees like the one along the Mokelumne River that collapsed Thursday morning, flooding Thornton. More than 1,300 residents were evacuated Tuesday by officials anticipating the danger.

Reagan has no plans for force in Nicaragua

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, warmly received in his first visit to Grenada since sending invading troops there to block a communist takeover, says he has no thought of similar action in Nicaragua.

"I think it's an entirely different situation," Reagan told reporters Thursday as he posed for photographs with Sir Paul Scoon, governor general of Grenada, during a four-hour visit to the island nation.

"So you're ruling out use of U.S. force in Nicaragua?" Reagan was asked.

"We never had any plans for such a thing," he answered.

Addressing an estimated crowd of 20,000 or more Grenadians at a playing field that was a command post during the 1983 invasion, Reagan indicated, however, that he plans to keep up the pressure on Nicaragua's leftist government.

"Today, in Nicaragua, we see a chain of events similar to what happened here," he told the Grenadians, who chose a democratic government after Marxist Prime Minister Maurice Bishop was murdered by fellow leftists, paving the way for the U.S. invasion.

"I will never be sorry that I made the decision to help you," said Reagan.

The president laid a green wreath, wrapped in lavender ribbon, at an oblong-shaped granite memorial to the 19 U.S. servicemen killed in the invasion.

The audience that jammed Queen's Park in St. George's, the Grenadian capital, interrupted Reagan's speech with applause more than two dozen times.

At the airport, at St. George's Medical School, at the park and along his motorcade route, Reagan was greeted with signs of thanks for the U.S. action and other assistance.

One sign said, "99 per cent of Grenadians think you saved their lives."

Another, held up by a child from an international school, said, "Room 82 thanks you."

People jammed bleacher seats at the park and stood in an adjacent field and on the brow of a nearby hill. Prime Minister Herbert Blaize said it was the biggest crowd in the history of the island, which has a population of about 90,000.

"I can't tell you how moved I have been," said Reagan, speaking as evening shadows lengthened and a freshening breeze off the ocean whipped U.S. and Grenadian flags scattered throughout the crowd.

The president planned a meeting with House Republicans on Capitol Hill today, but aides said it would deal with domestic issues, not with his bid for $100 million in assistance to rebels fighting Nicaragua's leftist regime.

He is expected to return to that subject, and touch on his Grenada visit, in a televised speech on defense issues next Wednesday.

New grocery opening set for Wednesday

Doors will open at 9 a.m. Wednesday for the grand opening of the new 65,000 square foot Save'n'Gain grocery store on North Highway 385.

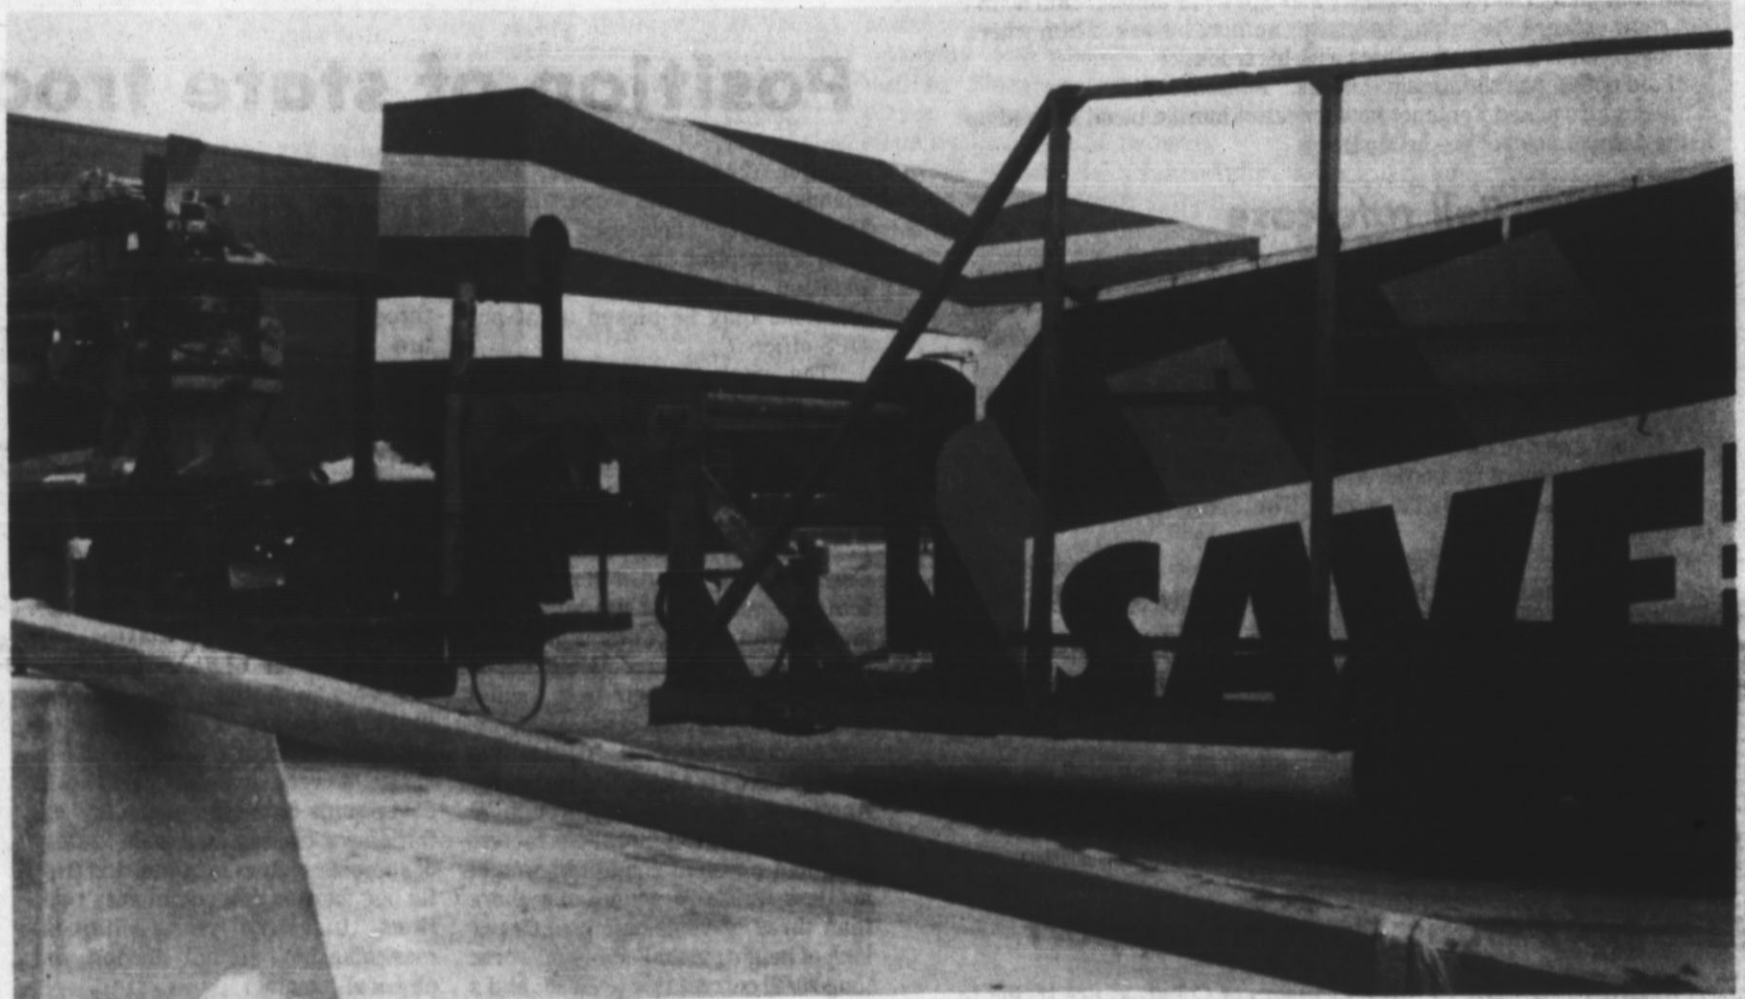

A Hereford Hustler ribbon cutting ceremony is set for 10 a.m. and the winners of a five-week puzzle contest which ran in The Brand will be announced through the day. Prizes include a week vacation for two in Hawaii, a Chevrolet Chevette, five trips to Las Vegas and five color televisions.

Richard Selmon, former manager of and Bag-N-Save in Hereford, will manage the new store. Many employees of the recently closed Price Less and Bag-N-Save have been transferred to Save'n'Gain by the parent company, Furr's Inc.

Hereford's store is the 22nd to open.

The grocery will include, in addition to typical stock, a tortilleria, a bakery, a pharmacy open seven days a week, a fresh fish counter, a plant department, a coffee shop, an international foods section, a bulk foods department where items are purchased by weight and a delicatessen.

House to limit aid to Philippines

WASHINGTON (AP) — With strong bipartisan support, a House panel voted unanimously to cut off aid to the government of Philippines President Ferdinand Marcos and await a legitimate government that has the backing of the Philippine people.

Filipinos still would receive humanitarian and economic aid under Thursday's House action, but it would be channeled through the Catholic church and other non-government organizations.

Most military aid would go into an escrow account to await "a legitimate government ... which commands the support of the people of the Philippines," the bill said.

Meanwhile, it was learned that the United States would be represented — at the most — by only a third-level embassy official at Marcos' inauguration, tentatively scheduled for Feb. 25. Such a move would be a diplomatic slap in the face to Marcos.

Vice President George Bush attended Marcos' 1981 inaugural and praised the Philippine leader for his "adherence to democratic principles."

In its 9-0 vote Thursday for an aid cut-off, the House subcommittee on Asian and Pacific Affairs overrode objections of the Reagan administration, which wanted it to wait until special presidential emissary Philip

Cold weather reappears in Texas

By The Associated Press

Cold Canadian air continued to invade the Lone Star State today behind a cold front that was situated along the central portion of southeast Texas, southwestward to the Coastal Plains, to the middle Rio Grande, and westward through the Trans-Pecos area.

Sea fog and low clouds covered portions of the Coastal Plains, while the remainder of the state had mostly fair skies with some high cloudiness.

Northerly winds at 10 to 20 miles an hour were common behind the cold front. Southeasterly winds at 10 miles an hour were reported in the coastal region, while light and variable winds prevailed elsewhere.

Temperatures ranged from the 20s and 30s over northwest and North Texas, and 40s and 50s in other areas behind the front. Temperatures in the 60s were common in the Coastal Plains just ahead of the front. Readings at or near 70 degrees were reported in South Texas.

Temperature extremes at 4 a.m. were 23 degrees at Amarillo and 70 degrees at Brownsville. One hour later, it was 28 degrees in Abilene and 33 degrees in Dallas-Fort Worth. Houston reported 59 degrees at 5 a.m., while Corpus Christi was 67 degrees.

The forecast showed partly cloudy over some parts of Texas. Mostly fair through tonight.

To go through churches

C. Habib returns from Manila to report on his talks there.

But subcommittee chairman Stephen J. Solarz, D-N.Y., said quick action was needed to make clear to Marcos that the United States "will not countenance a stolen election." He said it would "send a message to the Philippine people that the United States has withdrawn its support for the Marcos regime while continuing its support and assistance for the Philippine people."

The bill now goes to the House Foreign Affairs Committee, which is expected to take it up soon. Solarz said the full committee would have time to hear Habib — who is not expected back before Monday — before it acts.

Solarz said he had been assured by an intermediary earlier in the day that the legislation has the support of presidential opposition candidate Corazon Aquino, who has charged that fraud by Marcos and his supporters deprived her of an election victory.

"Mrs. Aquino supports the legislation ... and feels it reflects her own view about how the United States can contribute to the restoration of democracy in the Philippines," Solarz said.

The bill was introduced by Rep. Robert G. Torricelli, D-N.J., who said, "I have never seen both parties, or both houses in this institution, act more singularly than they have on this occasion." Four Republicans joined five Democrats in voting for it.

Rep. Gerald Solomon, R-N.Y., reflecting the deep shock and anger on both sides of the aisle over the Feb. 7 Philippine election, said he had been one of the strongest congressional supporters of the Marcos government.

"But one thing we Americans can't do is condone what happened in the Philippines in this election," he said.

Farm banks used cash to restructure

AUSTIN (AP) — The Farm Credit Banks of Texas said Thursday that the three agricultural lenders used some earnings from the last 11 months of 1985 to restructure their debt portfolio, contributing to a net loss of $67 million for the Texas banks and affiliates.

James A. Rogers, the banks' president, said the restructuring allowed the banks to pass on savings in interest rates to farmers and ranchers who borrow money from the $4 billion agricultural lender.

Rogers had projected last fall as much as $30 million in earnings for the three banks, the Federal Land Bank, Federal Intermediate Bank and Bank for Cooperatives. He said that with the

BASEBALL

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The New York Yankees are withdrawing their grievance against Don Baylor, which was scheduled to be reviewed on Saturday.

The Yankees had filed the grievance in mid-December, claiming that Baylor had relinquished his no-trade clause when he demanded a trade late last season.

FOOTBALL

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Thomas P. "Tommy" Bell, a prominent lawyer and former National Football League referee, died of chronic leukemia. He was 63.

Bell had been hospitalized since Feb. 6. He spent 15 years as an NFL referee before retiring in 1976. He headed the officiating crews of eight championship games and Super Bowls III and VII.

BASKETBALL

NEW YORK (AP) — Xavier McDaniel of Seattle, Tree Rollins and Kevin Willis of Atlanta have been fined for fighting in Monday's game at Seattle, the NBA said.

McDaniel was fined $3,500, Rollins, $2,500, and Willis $500. Although the fight began between McDaniel and Willis, Rollins was fined for joining in and being a participant rather than a peacemaker.

EMPIRE RACE

NEW YORK (AP) — New Mexico's Al Waquie usually does his running up the side of mountains. His victorious sprint up the stairs of the Empire State Building wasn't much different, he said, except for the lack of fresh air.

"The air's a lot cleaner out there," he said.

Waquie won the Empire State Run-Up, racing from the lobby to the 86th floor in 11 minutes, 26.13 seconds, defeating 51 other runners for his fourth victory in the nine years of Empire State Run-Ups.

"Once I start uphill, I can't stop," said Waquie, 33.

"The roughest part was the start; I had to struggle my way through the crowd, but I did it," he said, breathing heavily from the 1,575-step run.

Although the race is only one-quarter mile in distance, it's comparable to running 2½ miles uphill, said officials for the New York Road Runners Club, which co-sponsored the event.

The all-time record of 10 minutes 59 seconds was set in 1981 by New Yorker Pete Squires.

When Dallas defeated Miami, 24-3, in Super Bowl VI, the three points scored by the losers was a Super Bowl low.

Thinking About Taxes?
Thinking About Retirement?
Think Security.

Figuring out your financial future can be a puzzling job. Especially when year-end tax forms rear their ugly heads. But with a Security Federal retirement plan, you can save for the future while easing today's tax bite.

Security Federal IRAs offer up to $4,000* in household tax deductions. And there's still time to open an IRA and apply it to your 1985 taxes! As little as $100 will open an account, and you can add as much or little as you like, when you like.

We also have Simplified Employee (S.E.P.P.) and Deferred Compensation Pension Plans to fit any retirement need.

So when you're wondering what to do about tomorrow's retirement and today's taxes, make a brilliant deduction. Think Security.

Virginia Woodford, Rosemary Shook, Mozelle Neill, Peggie Fox and Clara Brown.

Avis White presented the Lyles with a gift from club members in appreciation for the program.

Ann Landers

Lay it on the line

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am one of six sisters. Five of us are married and have grandchildren. We all have our own homes. The sixth sister, Marion, is slightly retarded and epileptic. She lives in an apartment and takes care of herself.

I see Marion once or twice a month and talk to her on the telephone two or three times a week. Another sister sends her money regularly and calls her once a month. She has not seen Marion for five years. Another sister calls her three or four times a year. The other two sisters have not seen or talked to her for at least 20 years.

When I tell them how lonely Marion is and how much she would love to see them they all say, "We have families of our own."

When Mom was dying she asked, "What is going to happen to Marion?" I said, "Don't worry, Momma, I will always take care of her." My sisters have reminded me that I was the one who made the promise. I've told them I was not asking them to take care of Marion, just that they go see her once or twice a year.

I am writing this because I invited Marion over on her birthday and she had a bad seizure. It broke my heart to know that no one cares what happens to her.

I'm afraid her sisters think they are too high-class to be involved with someone who has nothing.

What can I do to open their eyes?—SAD SISTER (NEW YORK)

DEAR SAD: Send them each a copy of this column. I doubt that it will change anything, but you will have the satisfaction of knowing you laid it on the line.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You missed the mark when you answered the divorced mother of four whose live-in would not marry her unless her tubal ligation could be reversed. Surely she should realize that if the man cannot look upon her four children as his own, he is a very poor candidate for the demanding role of stepparent. She ought to drop him like a hot potato.

It has been well-documented that the percentage of child abusers is much higher among stepfathers than biological fathers. His attitude makes him a prime candidate.

Another consideration: Why did she wait until the relationship became serious before she told him she was sterile? It's one of the first things I'd mention if I thought the guy was even slightly marriage-minded. If a man is looking for a baby factory, I'd want him to know early on to look elsewhere.

I am open to being a foster parent or adopting. To me, a child is a child and I would love any child no matter whose genes are involved.—CARES ABOUT KIDS

DEAR C.A.K.: Well said. Thanks for your thoughtful comments.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have sent you four chain letters to bring you good luck. I asked you to let me know (each time) that you received my letter and followed the instructions. My name and address was on every envelope. So far, no word from you. Why?—J.L. IN OGDEN, UTAH

DEAR J: I never read chain letters. They go right into the wastebasket. No letter is answered unless it is accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Hurricane names

U.S. government agencies responsible for weather and related communications once used only female names to identify major tropical storms. A U.S. proposal that both male and female names be adopted for hurricanes starting in 1979 was accepted by a committee of the World Meteorological Organization.

Town split over suspension

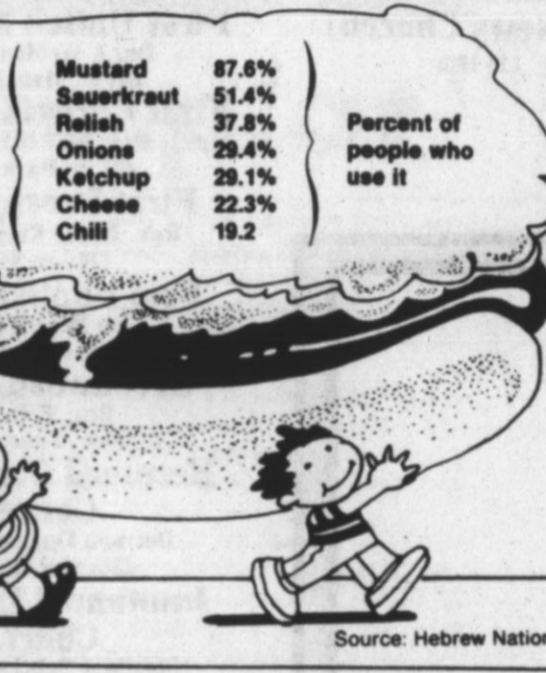

VICTORIA, Texas (AP) — Victoria Independent School District trustees have voted to oust a sex education consultant in a feud some say concerns religion and other maintain is about course curriculum. The controversy began after complaints were aired that sex education consultant Joan Robinowich advocates abortion and masturbation as a form of accepted birth control. But supporters and friends say the complaints came because Mrs. Robinowich is Jewish and not because of her teachings. Following a public hearing in January, the Victoria school board suspended Mrs. Robinowich's classes. Only Board President Jay Lack came to Mrs. Robinowich's defense Thursday night, voting to keep the current program operating. School board member Steve Bennett, who led the crusade to oust Mrs. Robinowich, denies her

Authorities are surprised when raiding rural neighborhood

CLEBURNE, Texas (AP) — Authorities who expected to find a small marijuana patch were surprised to discover an "extremely sophisticated" indoor garden containing about 700 plants when they raided a house based on a tip. Four people were held Thursday after the raid in a rural neighborhood in far north Johnson County about five miles south of Crowley. Charged with possessing more than 200 pounds of marijuana were Jimmy L. Ellison, 44; his wife, Joyce Ellison, 43; Thomas A. Newcomb, known also as Dennis Peterson, 35; and Gary L. Kavitz, 38. Thursday, the four were being held in the Johnson County Jail in Cleburne. Bail for each was set at $150,000. "This is extremely high-quality marijuana," said District Attorney Dan Boulware. "It was an extremely sophisticated operation. This was not somebody trying to grow a marijuana plant in their backyard." The plants were grown in plastic buckets in an air-conditioned metal building behind the Ellisons' brick home, county authorities said. Strands of high-intensity vapor lights were suspended from the ceiling of the 70-by-40-foot structure. Insulating material had been applied to the inside walls and ceilings for temperature control and to keep the aroma of the plants from wafting outside, authorities said.
