

City Hikes All Salaries

The Hereford City Commission, meeting in special session Monday night, unanimously approved a longevity program for raising salaries of city employees, gave policemen an added boost in pay and created a position for a director of public works.

After much deliberation, the commissioners approved a program under which city employees will get their monthly salary raised $3 for each year they have worked for the City of Hereford. For example, an employee who has worked 10 years will get an increase of $30 a month.

Members of the Hereford Police Department were included in the longevity program, and also received salary increases at each level of the force. Base pay for patrolmen was raised from $430 to $450; the sergeant's pay rose from $450 to $465, and the captain's salary went from $460 to $475.

Increases also will be instituted for the chief of police — from $600 to $625 — and corporation court judge — from $335 to $360.

All of the salary increases will begin when the 1967-68 budget goes into effect May 1.

The longevity program was recommended to commissioners by City Manager Dudley Bayne, who said he felt it would give employees more incentive to stay. He also said it had been two years since all of the city employees had received an increase in pay.

Bayne told the commissioners that city employees were working on straight salaries and he would rather give the raises than put them on overtime at time and-a-half.

During the deliberation, Commissioner Joe Easley said "you get into an area where a job is worth just so much, and you've got to draw a line somewhere. Where, I don't know." It was decided that the longevity program would best serve the purpose.

Bayne, who also recommended hiring of the director of public works, said he would be looking for a man to fill the job by May 1. "In a position such as this, I feel that a degree or the amount of education is not the important thing, but how much experience he has had."

Duties of the director of public works will be to direct nearly all-outside departments of the city facilities. He also will serve as consulting engineer on construction jobs of the city.

Commissioners set aside $9,600 in the 1967-68 budget for enclosing a hangar at the airport — if they decide later in the year to do so.

Erection of stop lights at the corner of Third and Miles and Third and Sampson, also was discussed by commissioners. Bayne reported that the lights are included in the current budget and probably will be put up in the next few weeks.

A proposed 1967-68 budget was shown the commissioners and explained by Bayne. The salaries and capital improvements proposed by commissioners will be included in a final budget, which will be presented during the next commission meeting Feb. 6.

City commission meetings are open to the public as are county and school governmental meetings.

Herd Pulls Win Over Demons

The Hereford Whitefaces picked up their second straight District 1-AAA victory with a 54-40 win over Dumas Tuesday night to stay in the thick of the title race.

In bringing their record to 3-2 in district play, the aroused herd led in each quarter. They had a 14-12 advantage at the end of the first quarter, stretched it to 25-19 at halftime and then went ahead 40-27 at the end of the third stanza.

Gene Duvall led the winners with 18 points, while Rusty Kidder had 14 for the hapless Demons, who still are looking for their first win in inter-league play. The Dumas "B" team won over the Hereford "B" squad 46-35.

The Herd trounced Muleshoe 50-43 in La Plata Gymnasium Friday night, with Duvall getting 14 to lead the locals in scoring.

Tulla took over the league leadership Tuesday night with a 55-47 victory over Canyon. The Hornets now have a 5-0 record while Canyon is 4-1.

Hereford will get its chance to knock the lofty Hornets from their throne Friday night in a game at La Plata Gymnasium. The "B" team game begins at 7:15 p. m. and the varsity game at 8 p. m.

Barn Receives Heavy Damage

Numerous fires plagued the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department during the past five days, with two of the six calls being answered causing an estimated $10,700 in damages.

Action began at 3:32 p. m. Saturday, when an ironing board which had been placed in a hot water closet caught fire at 406 Ave. B. Firemen found little blaze when they arrived, but stayed at the scene about 30 minutes cleaning up the apartment.

At 5:00 p. m., the alarm sounded for a kitchen fire on Kibbe Street. Firemen were told that a carburetor had been receiving a gasoline cleaning in the kitchen when fire broke out. Cabinets, walls, the floor and a table were damaged in the flash fire, which kept firemen at the scene only about 20 minutes.

After a quiet day Sunday, work began again early Monday when a feed bin caught fire at Farr Better Feeds on Progressive Road at 6:26 a. m.

The burning alfalfa was quickly dumped from the feed bin into a truck and hauled outside to be extinguished. Little damage was caused.

At 11 a. m. Monday, a trash fire apparently got out of control at a residence on South Main Street.

Burglary Rash Plagues City Police This Week

The city's second rash of burglaries in less than two weeks also proved to be the largest in several months as more than $1,565 in cash and merchandise was lost by four Hereford businesses over the weekend and Tuesday night.

White Auto Store at 330 N. Main Street felt the brunt of the weekend breakins, losing nearly $1,500 in cash and merchandise.

White's manager, Buddy Bloomer told police that his store was entered between 7 p. m. Saturday and 7:45 a. m. Monday when a glass was broken out of the large service door in the back of the store. Patrolman Al Bagwell, investigating officer, said the lock was pryed off the door with some unknown instrument when the exit was made.

Taken from White's was a television set, an electric guitar with amplifier, a standard guitar, record player, three Walkie Talkie radio sets, eight radios, a $116 revolver, three new pistols, two derringers, one used pistol, four rifles, a rifle scope, 23 boxes of different kinds of ammunition, a movie camera, five wrist watches and some tools.

Bloomer said almost $50 in change was taken from two cash registers. The total lost in the burglary was approximately $1,496.

O. R. Sanders, manager of A. D. Gugenheim Co. Inc. at 309 S. Main, told officers that the business was entered between noon Saturday and 8:10 a. m. Monday. Sanders told Patrolman Frank Mansley he found the back door open and the bolt, which had been used to hold the door together, pryed out.

Mansley said the marks on the outside of the back door looked as if a crow bar had been used. The office in the building showed signs of having been searched, as the desk drawer was pulled out onto the floor. Sanders said he had found nothing missing from the office but several different type hand tools were taken amounting to $87.43.

Swift Announces New Plant Details For Mineral Feeds

Swift and Company released details this week for a mineral feed plant to be constructed here.

Construction by Wichita Industrial Manufacturing Company of Fort Worth will begin this month on an industrial lot east of Hereford.

The location is designated as Progressive Road and Commerce, the plot being called Industrial Park. It is just east across the paved road fronting Farr Better Feeds.

The announcement made by S. E. Cramer, vice president of the company said that the plant will manufacture special formulas for feedlots, as well as mineral and protein blocks for distribution in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado, and Kansas.

Eric Lorenz, company engineer has been in Hereford previously to discuss contracts and facilities necessary before construction begins. He will live in Hereford during actual construction.

The building is planned as a 160x200 foot warehouse and office building and will include a Landers automatic block press, bulk ingredient and finished feed storage, and a 60 foot truck scale.

Details as to cost and number of employees has not been released, but estimates place the employe number as being about 20 regular employes.

D. L. Staheli, general manager of the feed department of Swift said that the new plant is a result of increased demand for Swift's mineral and protein blocks in the west Texas area. It is designed to be part of Swift's long-range plan to provide modern production facilities for its growing feed business.

John Grace Jr., president of Wichita Industrial Manufacturing Company, said in a letter to the Brand this week that his company had been to Hereford on two occasions in connection with the construction of this plant and "We would like to say that we are looking forward to working in Hereford and to congratulate you on your fine community spirit."

In the January, 1967 stockholders report, sent to stockholders of Swift and Company, mention was made of the proposed plant.

The reports said "A new feed specialty plant, under construction at Hereford, Texas is slated for completion mid-year 1967. Other mills are in the planning stage." Distribution of the blocks will be made into West Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado and Kansas, the officials of Swift said.

Wilson and Co., Inc. announced today that it had taken an option on a tract of land adjacent to Hereford, as the site for a meat packing plant. A Wilson spokesman said, "We believe the Texas Panhandle is an excellent location for a beef dressing plant, and we particularly like the Hereford site. Final decision to proceed with the construction of the plant on this site will depend upon satisfactory arrangements for adequate water supplies and waste water treatment facilities; the availability of labor, transportation facilities, and the support and cooperation of the community."

Selection of the Hereford area is in keeping with the company's program of locating its new packing plants in the livestock producing areas of the country. In 1965, Wilson opened a new meat packing plant in Cherokee, Iowa, and last fall purchased a tract of land near Logansport, Indiana as the site for a hog dressing plant.

Wilson and Co. the third largest American meat packer is also, through its Wilson Sporting Goods Co. subsidiary the largest manufacturer of athletic equipment, and through its Chemical Industries Company, an important producer of pharmaceuticals and chemicals.

Employe Shifts Made By County

Deaf Smith County Commissioners this week approved the transfer of J. C. Simpson, now employed at the courthouse. Simpson will be in charge of the Bull Barn. Clay Angelo, who has been in charge of the Bull Barn and grounds will move to the hospital building and ground as a deputy. He will be working late in the evening and at night as security guard for Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Post Office Will Be Finished Soon

Construction on the Hereford Post Office building is 70 percent complete, Turney Whisenant, finishing superintendent, stated Monday.

Whisenant said he expected the building to be ready for occupancy again in three and one-half to four months.

Workmen, the superintendent explained, are setting stone and coping on the outside this week, while plasterers are working inside. Electricians and air conditioning workmen also are beginning their work inside.

Remodeling and enlarging of the Post Office at Fourth and Main began in June, 1966, with $218,132 set aside for the work. Postal business has continued at 313 Main Street.

The moves were made after T. E. Seigler, manager of the hospital had requested that a deputy be put on duty at the hospital to patrol corridors and parking areas. Angelo will also help to enforce visiting hour rulings.

Two commissioners, Bruce Coleman and Earl Holt reported to the court that their maintainers had been delivered by the Gallion representative and checks were authorized for payment of these machines.

The court also authorized assistance for the scales inspectors who are working the court. See EMPLOYE Page 2

Two Students Named To State Band Seats

Chris Hutcherson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kindsfather, 201 Avenue H. and Kerry Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson, 520 Avenue J. will go to Houston soon for state level competition for positions in one of two bands that will play for the Texas Music Educators Association Convention at the Sam Houston Coliseum during a night performance February 11th.

Chris won his opportunity to participate in state competition during tryouts held in Canyon, Texas, on January 14th. Out of more than 400 entrants in the All-State Band competition at Canyon, Chris was one of the three entrants selected to go directly to state level eliminations.

Kerry gained his chance to compete in the state finals at the area level contests, which were held at Lubbock, Texas last Saturday, January 21st. Out of some 300 students who competed at Lubbock, there were twelve French horn competitors; and Kerry, who plays first chair French horn in the

Teenagers Help With March Of Dimes Collection

Approximately 50 to 60 teenagers will be on hand in various stores throughout the city for accepting donations for the March of Dimes Saturday. Two booths will be set up in Sugarland Mall and approximately 12 more will be in various business stores. Each booth will have two persons on hand from 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. to accept donations. Gum or candy will be given to each donor, regardless of the amount donated. Approximately 1800 pieces have been acquired to be given away this year. There are about 1500 pieces of candy and 300 of gum. Cindy Cayness, Teen-age Program Director for the Deaf Smith County March of Dimes, heads this year's drive as youth chairman. She is assisted by co-chairman, Camille Pavlicek. Both girls are students at Hereford High School. Patty Roach, student at Texas Tech, will be home for the semester break this week and will assist these girls.

The annual Mothers March was conducted Sunday afternoon and netted $1,400.61. This year's drive was headed by Mrs. Jack Allen. She was assisted by Mrs. Mary Gibson and Mrs. Nicki Dameron.

This year the march netted somewhat less than the previous year. Last year, some $2,008 were collected.

Cleon Jones set a record for the New York Mets by stealing 16 bases last season. The former mark was 12 by Richie Ashburn.

Patriots' Music Is Club Topic

Nationalism in Music was the program subject for Music Study Club at a meeting Monday in the home of Mrs. Dale Young with Mrs. Bill Brady as co-hostess.

Director of the program was Mrs. Zack Pannell, who defined the subject as music peculiar to or identified with a particular nation.

Really great creators of music have succeeded in being nationalistic, or patriotic, while at the same time being individual and universal in their work she added.

During the romantic period, patriotism opened up a rich new field for music, the speaker said, and composers who used their gifts to glorify their national heritage included Tchaikovsky with his 1812 Overture, Chopin in his Polonaises, Sebelius with Finlandia and Liszt with his Hungarian Rhapsodies.

Nationalism in American music brings to mind the compositions of John Philip Sousa and Edward MacDowell, Mrs. Pannell said before introducing club members who illustrated her talk with music.

Mrs. R. C. Godwin, accompanied by Mrs. Joe Hacker, sang Over the Steppes (Gretchanoff) as an example of Russian nationalism the theme from Finlandia, Finnish; and L'heure Delicieuse (Victor Staub) French. Mrs. J. C. McCracken played the Polonaise Op. 26, No. 2 of Chopin, illustrating Polish feeling.

Mrs. Brady presided for routine business. Other members present were Mmes. Paul Lyoris, C. J. Mounts, T. W. Roberson, A. J. Schroeter, A. O. Thompson

Mrs. Williams Is Named To Board For Girlstown

Mrs. Viola Williams of Hereford was one of two persons named to an advisory board for Girls Town, U. S. A. during a meeting of the board of directors at Whiteface Saturday. The advisory board was created at the meeting to assist in the organization's operation. Mrs. Williams has been Deaf Smith County representative to Girls Town for several years. Also named to the board was James K. Golden of Eastland.

Mrs. Gus Wortham of Houston was reelected president of Girls Town during the meeting, with Sam J. Bell of Amarillo being named vice president and Burnett B. Roberts of Levelland elected chairman of the board.

In a report to the board, managing director Marshall Cooper stated that the Hereford Lions Club had donated $1,000 to Girls Town last week and planned to donate $50 a month for an unspecified period. The April 15 meeting of the board will be held in Amarillo, and March 12 was set as date for the annual open house at Girls Town. During the open house, Miss Girls Town, U. S. A. will be named.

Two... (Continued from Page 1) Hereford High School Band, came out first among the four who were selected to go on to state eliminations.

A junior student at Hereford High School, Chris plays the clarinet in the Hereford High School Band in which he holds the position of first chair. Various other awards and honors already dot his musical career. For the past three years, Chris has made the All-Region Band; and also during the past three years, he has made the Honors Band at the West Texas State University Band Camp. Making the All-Area Band in 1966, Chris was a member of the quintet which won the state ensemble contest last June. Asked about the importance of making All-State Band, Chris said, "For the last two years I have been really working hard, and I have put in many hours of practice. But it was worth all the effort!"

Last year, Kerry managed to win his way to the fourth chair French horn slot in the top band at state finals, in addition to playing with Chris in the quintet ensemble which won at state last June. Kerry's other awards include All-Region Band for three years; All-Region Band 1st Chair this year; and 1st Chair, West Texas State University Band Camp, two years. Kerry's comment on being asked of the importance of his selection was filled with enthusiasm. "This is the greatest experience that a high school instrumentalist could have — playing in the All-State Band."

The Texas Music Educators Association All-State Band Competition is held annually to correspond with its yearly convention of director of school bands, orchestras, and choirs. In Houston this year two bands — a symphonic band, which is the top band, and a concert band, which is considered to be the second band — will perform at the convention. Of course, Chris and Kerry will be aiming for positions in the symphonic band.

In addition to Chris, Kerry, and their band director Ben Gollehon, other local school band directors and choir directors will attend the convention in Houston, February 8-11.

Burglary...

(Continued from Page 1) The Hereford Grain Corp. on Dairy Road also was entered between 10 a. m. Sunday and 7:50 a. m. Monday. Mansley said the warehouse east of the office was entered by prying the lock off the entrance on the west side of the building. Inside the coke machine was entered by use of the key, which was in the machine, and four coles taken.

An office in the warehouse was searched but nothing taken. Damage to the door was estimated at $1. Burglars jimmied the door on the west side of Colville and Wilson Inc., located on Clovis highway, and entered the office there between 4:30 p. m. Tuesday and 8 p. m. Wednesday. Taken was a used radio, electric heater, check protector, 125 pens stamped with the company's name and 100 refills for the pens. Value of the stolen articles was estimated at $70.

On Jan. 13, five burglaries and attempted burglaries were reported to the Hereford Police Department and Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department.

Two alarms were reported to the department within three minutes of each other Tuesday afternoon, with the first one coming in at 5:21 p. m. The alarm was for a barn fire 19 miles west of Hereford and firemen didn't get a chance to do much fighting as the barn had burned to the ground by the time they arrived.

Also destroyed in the blaze was a pickup truck. Damages from the fire were estimated at about $10,000. Firemen stayed at the scene putting out hot spots for about 90 minutes. Vega Fire Department answered the call first but ran out of chemicals and could not pump wa-

Authorization to issue a check in the amount of $843.54 to pay for hospital and medical expenses incurred by Paul Arnpriester was given by Commissioners after hearing a decision by District Judge Archie McDonald settling the friendly suit. Arnpriester, a teenager, was injured while working for the county last summer. He had not worked long enough to come under a regular hospital plan, so the court agreed that the county would pay his expenses.

Sheriff Ed Roberson was also interviewed by the court in regard to needs for the sheriff's department and as to costs in the department.

In the discussion, it was pointed out by the presiding judge, that the county was liable for any accidents that might occur in the jail from midnight until about dawn, since a deputy or night watchman is not on duty.

In explaining the situation, Roberson and that a direct line is open to the city dispatcher and that two trustees are on duty during the night to report any problems.

Also discussed by the commissioners with the sheriff is the question of actual need for a deputy stationed at the labor camp. Roberson said that the deputy there handles many family quarrels and that he felt that his being stationed there was justified by that phase of his work alone.

As to costs of the department, Roberson, who has been in office only about two months as sheriff, said that he could see that the hiring of an extra deputy about 18 months ago accounts for some of the rise in costs for that department.

In reviewing the budget, commissioners noted that the sheriff's department costs had increased over $12,000 in 1966 over the costs for 1965.

Deputies salaries, being raised at the beginning of last year had jumped over $4,000 in 1966. Board for prisoners and extra help had each upped about $1,000 for this past year.

Car expense for the department ran about $2,000 more for the year than in other years, with minor increases in other phases of the department.

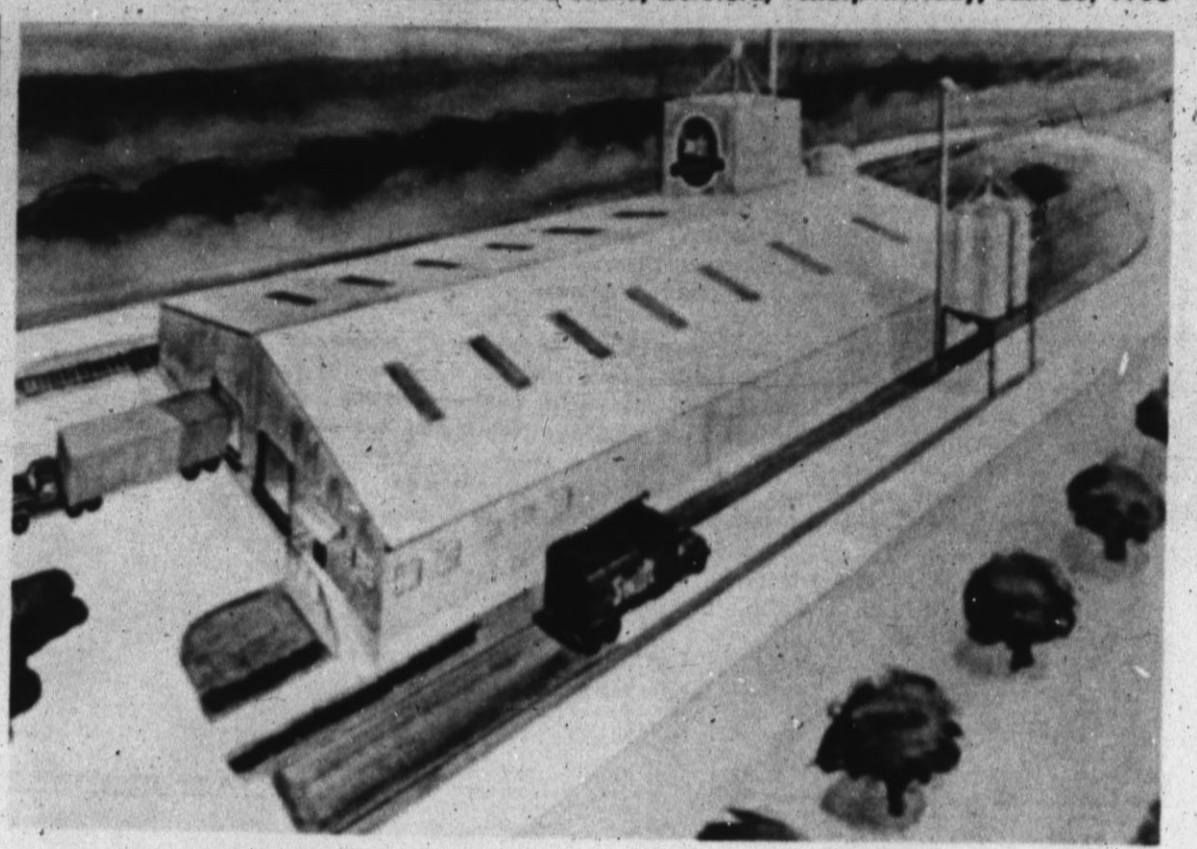

Telephone and radio expenses had dropped about $65 figured together.

Roberson said that he would review the department and see where costs are rising.

He said that meals are costing only about 26 cents per prisoner per meal, but that apparently the number of prisoners had increased.

Fire costs for the county were reviewed by the commissioners and it was determined that county fires are costing the court about $600 a month. City volunteer firemen answer the calls and the county pays for all that are outside the city limits.

Scabies Check Made In County

Full scale scabies inspections begin this morning in Deaf Smith County according to Deaf Smith County Commissioners.

Commissioners court Monday authorized local help to the state department of animal health to speed up the inspection.

Animals shipped from Texas to Colorado and California now have to be dipped because of previous scabies infestation according to Dr. G. D. Lindsey, area veterinarian with the animal service.

Dr. Lindsey said that 38 counties in the Panhandle are being inspected in efforts to lift the restrictions placed on Texas cattle shippers.

He said that lifting of the restrictions would mean more profit for local cattlemen and feeders since cattle shrink more when they have to be dipped. Too, he said that cattle are more acceptable in many markets if shipped from an area not restricted.

Employees of the various precincts in the county will help the inspectors to locate the herds, determine the owners and inspect the cattle. Inspection can be accomplished by driving through a herd, since scabies is a parasite that affects the skin and hair condition of an animal, Dr. Lindsey said.

Inspectors working the precincts are Doyle Daniels, Robert Striet and Odum Dolan. With three inspectors in the county, Dr. Lindsey, who works out of an office in Levelland, said that the work would take about a week. He said that Deaf Smith County is one of the heaviest counties, cattle population-wise in the Panhandle.

ONE MINUTE PLEASE THE CHURCH I LOVE... SOWS THE SEED OF THE KINGDOM Christ explained the parable of the sower when he said, "Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God. The ones along the path are those who have heard; then the devil comes and takes away the word from their hearts; that they may not believe and be saved. And the ones on the rock are those who, when they hear the word, receive it with joy; but these have no root, they believe for a while and in time of temptation fall away. And as for what fell among the thorns, they are those who hear, but as they go on their way they are choked by the cares and riches and pleasures of life, and their fruit does not mature. And as for that in the good soil, they are those who, hearing the word, hold it fast in an honest and good heart, and bring forth fruit with patience." (Luke 8:11-15)

EXPERT FARM AND ROAD SERVICE CALL US FOR FAST DEPENDABLE SERVICE

By MELVIN YOUNG
Some people's finances are in such a mess you'd think they were getting advice from the government.

One would think that Spring has arrived. At least those who have lived in the area long enough to be thoroughly familiar with the March winds. However, it's too early to put up your overcoat. There's bound to be some cold weather yet. And it will arrive. Right after the fruit trees bloom.

Farmers can look for some legislation in 1967 that will, if passed by Congress, drastically affect current farm programs giving the government much more flexibility. A study of the farm situation completed last year was shelved until after the Nov. 9 elections for fear of hurting the Democrats in congressional races.

They didn't fair so well in spite of the delay however, and this may be the year.

Certainly there will be a howl from the farm legislators in Congress if and when this subject is broached, but the folks "down on the farm" don't have much representation left. The big city vote is now the key. According to our information the parity price formula used for so many years, will be dumped.

"Parity" of prices means simply that if a farmer, actually got 100 percent of parity on prices, his economic position would be as strong as during the years of 1910-14. But rarely has the farmer ever gotten this. And the way it looks now, he never will.

Also in the mill is a change in the definition of a "farmer," and those operators who gross under $12,000 yearly on small farms will no longer be considered farmers. This will affect almost 2 million operators and leave only 900,000 classified as "farmers."

The idea, it would seem, is to squeeze out the little operator and force the farms into the hands of those who can operate more efficiently. And the purpose of the whole thing is to keep farm prices down — not up. The government wants to lower farm prices to make farm world markets as well as to hold them down for consumer happiness.

Apparently some Congressmen feel that the farmer is now enjoying the fruits of an affluent society and that it's time to hold the line on farm prices.

On the other hand, it's hard to convince a farmer that he is doing better than his city cousins. And it's going to be particularly rough to convince him that he's making too much money, particularly since he is now getting less per unit for his crops. The fact that he's learned to produce more on less land, not the price, has kept most farmers in business. He couldn't make it if he was producing on the basis of twenty years ago.

Of course, politics could enter into the farm picture as in past years. The big push in 1968 will be to reelect Lyndon Johnson and the administration is not going to be anxious to ruffle the feathers of the rural people. Although their vote is small now compared to a few years ago, it still carries some weight, a fact to which many of the would-be politicians of 1968 can testify.

Meanwhile, if you're one of those lucky souls who can afford a winter vacation, we can think of no better time than now to take one. Things are so quiet around Hereford that you will never be missed.

And have you heard about the non-scheduled ailing, inviting passengers to show their own home movies?

Land Bank Pays Farm Dividends

Dividend payments totaling $21,388.75 will be paid to members of the Hereford Federal Land Bank Association, Manager Woodrow B. Wilson announced.

Wilson said the dividend checks would be mailed immediately to the association's 256 farmer-rancher stockholders.

The Hereford Association is one to the 73 farmer-rancher owned associations in Texas served by the Federal Land Bank of Houston. The local association makes Land Bank Loans in Deaf Smith and Packer counties. The directors are Ira Scott, President, Hereford; Frank Bezner, Vice President; Hereford; Charlie Burk, Hereford; Geo. E. Turrentine, Hereford; J. R. Hickman, Hereford.

RETURN FROM TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pool returned Monday from a combined business and vacation trip to California. They visited Mrs. Pool's parents in Burbank and spent some time sightseeing on the West Coast as well as enroute. On their way home they stopped for a visit with their daughter and her family in Lordsburg, N. M.

Formby Serves On Radio Board

Clint Formby, general manager of KPAN radio, was among the 12 Radio Code Board members who recommended a change in advertising time standards. At a meeting of the National Association of Broadcasters, Friday January 26 in Los Angeles, Calif.

Under the proposed standard a subscriber would be required to adhere to the present maximum of 18 minutes of advertising in an hour, but would be allowed to exceed that figure for special circumstances and for good cause shown. This recommendation, to become effective, must be ratified by the NAB Radio Board which meets in Mexico City next week.

The action was taken to provide for a degree of flexibility while maintaining a standard in the public interest. Code Board Chairman Richard M. Brown, president of KPOJ, Portland, Ore., explained: "There are special circumstances that face broadcasters throughout the country that must be taken into consideration. This change would realistically recognize the need for some flexibility in the time standards when good cause is shown."

Howard H. Bell, Code Authority Director, stated: "This change does not mean a letting down of the barriers. The Radio Code will not accept just any reason as good cause for exceeding the present maximum of 18 minutes."

The proposed change in the time standards reads: "The amount of time to be used for advertising should not exceed 18 minutes within any clock hour. The Code Authority, however, for good cause may approve advertising exceeding the above time standard for special circumstances."

At the meeting the Radio Code Board also heard a staff report on the dramatic gains in monitoring of Radio Code stations for compliance with Code standards.

The Code Board also adopted a resolution that would encourage noncommercial radio stations to join the Radio Code at

Service Officer States Policies

About $9,561,500 will be distributed during 1967 to Texas veterans who hold National Service and U. S. Government Life Insurance policies, according to C. O. Wilkins, county veteran's service officer.

An estimated 192,100 World War II veterans will receive $1,918,900 in dividends on NSLI policies while 8,408 World War I veterans will be paid $643,500 in dividends on USGLI policies, according to Jack Coker, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco. Wilkins said, "Korean veterans will not be eligible for dividends because the government paid for their policies."

"Please contact me if assistance is needed," stated Wilkins, who is the local Veterans Service Officer for the Veterans Administration. Providing assistance in many problem areas for veterans of service in the U. S. armed forces, Wilkins maintains an office in his barber shop located in the Jim Hill Hotel building.

New Cadet Civil Air Patrol Class Being Formed

The local unit of the Civil Air Patrol is again accepting cadet applications, with a new class to be formed at 7:30 p. m. Monday at Northwest Elementary School.

Students ages 13 through 17 are eligible to participate in the program, which prepares young people for careers in aviation or the aerospace industries.

During the first training phase cadet beginners are given a general survey of the subject through the text, Introduction to Aerospace. After three weeks in the program, cadets may obtain the CAP uniform, which is identical to the Air Force uniform except for distinguishing CAP insignia and buttons.

Beginners are taught the fundamentals of marching drill and ceremonies, basic military courtesy and participate in a series of lecture discussions with the unit chaplain. After attaining the certificate of proficiency (at the end of approximately two years of training) the cadet is eligible for many fine college scholarships and to participate in such special activities as the Cadet Flying Encampment where he may gain his private pilots license and other awards of merit.

Civil Air Patrol is a civilian auxiliary of the Air Force. Prospective cadets should contact Lynn McLarty at La Plata Junior High and senior member aspects should contact Dr. Milton Adams.

WINNING DECOR — A Nativity painting done by Mrs. Mary Brashear, 233 Ave. E, was the focal point of a winning entry in a Christmas home decorations contest in Atlanta, Ga., at Christmastime. The painting, placed on a background on the door of his home, won second place in the religious category of a garden club-sponsored contest for Lt. Col. G. T. Brashear, U.S. Army Ret., son of the Hereford woman. Mrs. Brashear used the painting on the door of her home here the previous year, then gave it to her son when he admired it on a visit here. Colonel Brashear is shown with the painting.

BIBLE PARLEY — Roman Catholic, Protestant and Jewish churchmen join in a meeting here Oct. 29-31 to "explore and present new methods of communicating the Bible's message to men in the space age." Miss Ella Harilee, president of the Educational Communication Association, sponsor of the conference, said it is part of the "Year of the Bible" marking the 150th anniversary of the American Bible Society.

Castro County Gets OEO Funds For Head Start

DIMMITT — A grant of $37,425 for the Head Start program in Castro County has been made to the Castro County Community Action Committee in Dimmitt by the Office of Economic Opportunity in Austin.

Castro County will be included in 10 War on Poverty grants made in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arkansas. Superintendent of Schools Paul Hilburn said 60, six-year-old children are currently enrolled in the program, which began in the summer of 1965, and the grant will be used to continue that work.

Approximately $600 per year will be provided each student. Also, the grant will allow salaries for three teachers, equipment and supplies, insurance, medical and dental examination and lunches for children.

News About Area Men On Duty

Robert H. Bell, who has been stationed at Amarillo Air Force Base during his two and a half years in the USAF, is leaving this week to fly to Thailand, where he expects to be stationed a year.

Bell is the son of Mrs. Wilbur Bell and the grandson of Mrs. James R. Robinson of Hereford.

Miss Miller In Rainbow Office

Miss Kathy Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce L. Miller, became worthy advisor of Hereford Assembly of the Order of Rainbow for Girls at an open installation Saturday evening at the Masonic Lodge. She succeeds Carroll Todd in the office.

Elected officers installed with her were Lynda Jacobsen, worthy associate advisor; Barbara Brownlow, charity; Judy Lookingbill, hope; Regina Hampton, faith.

Abbie Hefley is the new confidential adviser; Sheri Waldrep, outer observer; Ginger Goodin, musician; Connie Bainum, choir director. Mrs. O. H. Culpepper, returned to the mother advisor's post, was also presented a pin as past mother advisor.

Mrs. Marple Cline presented the pin, and also a past worthy advisor's pin to Miss Todd.

Her father installed Miss Miller, and installing officers for the others were headed by Mrs. Janice Brownlow, Becky Long served as installing marshal, Miss Todd as recorder, Patty Roach as chaplain and Cynthia McMinn as musician.

As the new worthy advisor was conducted to her station, Stacy Lea presented her an arm bouquet of yellow and white daisies and Lynn Hale sang her song, Younger Than Springtime. Her gavel was presented by her sister, Pam Miller.

Theme she has chosen for her administration is Hope, and her scripture verse from the book of Joshua, "Be thou strong and very courageous." Her colors are yellow and white, her flower the daisy.

A large arrangement of daisies was placed in front of her station and a smaller bouquet on the lobby desk where approximately 70 guests registered. Pam Miller was in charge of the registry.

The retiring drill was followed

Church Basketball

End of the first round of play in the Church Basketball League Monday night found three teams in a tie for first place.

Each sporting a 4-1 won-lost record, the teams are the First Presbyterian Church, First Baptist Church No. 2 team and the First Methodist. First Baptist No. 1 team finished with a 2-3 record. First Christian and a 1-4 mark and St. Anthony's Catholic failed to win any of their five games.

by a refreshment hour in the dining room. In the evening's program, Mrs. Jack Nunley and Grant Hanna were installed as new members of the Rainbow Advisory Board.

In Monday night's games at the high school gymnasium, First Baptist No. 1 beat St. Anthony's 52-35, with Jerry Cutsinger getting 30 points for the Baptists and Ronnie Rainey 18 for St. Anthony's.

First Presbyterian won over First Christian 59-28, with Dave Hopper and Johnny Clark getting 12 each to lead the Presbyterians and Clyde Coleman getting 17 for the losers.

First Methodist trounced the First Baptist No. 2 48-33 with Ronnie Wetly getting 12 for the Methodists and Jerry Avery 14 for the Baptists.

Five straight ICA cross country championships were won by the Kennedys of Michigan State. Henry Kennedy won the title in 1955 and 1956. His brother Fordy won the title the next three years.

BURGLARS HIT CITY BUSINESSES — Three Hereford businesses were victims of burglars over the weekend, losing a combined total of more than $1,565 in merchandise. The desk drawer was pulled out in an apparent search for money at the A. D. Gugenheim Co., and the glass broken out of the service door in the rear of the White Auto Store for entrance. A hose placed in the broken window by the Brand photographer shows the point of entry. (Hereford Brand Photos)

County Residents Place In Show

Deaf Smith County residents left their mark in the first day of judging in the Amarillo Stock Show Monday and Tuesday, bringing home numerous first place ribbons.

In Monday's judging, James Simpson of the Hereford FFA exhibited the first place lamb in the heavyweight class of the fine wool division and Dale Schmidt of the Hereford FFA had the first place lightweight lamb in the medium wool division.

Rodney Brooks of the Hereford FFA showed the third place heavyweight lamb in the medium wool division.

In the Class A Quarter Horse Show of the Stock Show Monday, Caliente Hill, owned by O. G. Hill Jr. of Hereford, was judged reserve champion in the five classes of stallions. Foaled in 1962, the dark sorrel was the grand champion of the Denver show last week.

Heavy Damage Is Seen In Accident

A total of $1,000 damage was incurred at an accident involving Christy Elaine Hair, 209 Star and Sam James Nunnally, 311 Park. The collision occurred at the intersection of Union and Ave. I Sunday evening as the 16-year-old girl was going east on Union in a 1964 sedan and Nunnally was going south on Ave. I in his 1964 sedan.

Curtis Traweek, Rt. 3, is the owner of the car driven by Miss Hair. Both vehicles received $500 damages.

Symposium will be productive to all water users, agricultural, commercial and industrial, throughout the Southwest. The symposium is the result of the concern about the water future which dominates most conversations these days and the cooperation we have received from the experts that we have asked to attend assures all participants of a useful meeting." Ted Ford of Portales, chairman of the planning committee, said.

Kershens Notes Water Meeting

Water users in 10 Southwest states will gather in Portales, New Mexico on February 4th for the largest water planning meeting in the history of the area. Andrew Kershens, a director of High Plains Underground Conservation district said that Portales farmers have proposed the sinking of over a hundred wells near the Texas border.

The Southwest Water Resources Symposium, which will convene at 9 o'clock, Mountain Time, on February 4th, in the Physical Education Complex on the campus of Eastern New Mexico University, will be a down-to-earth approach to water planning. In addition to feature addresses by some of the leading governmental and educational figures of the area, it will include panel discussions with participation by outstanding water experts.

The speakers include Floyd E. Dornay, Commissioner of the Bureau of Reclamation; the Hon. Joseph Montoya, United States Senator from New Mexico; Dr. Grover Murray, president of Texas Technological College; and the Hon. David Cargo, Governor of New Mexico.

Among the congressional leaders who have been asked to participate in panel discussions are the Hon. Frank Moss, United States Senator from Utah; the Hon. George Mahon, Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee; the Hon. John Rhodes, congressman from Arizona; and the two new Mexico members of the House of Representatives, Thomas G. Morris and E. S. "Johnny" Walker.

Water conservation district executives from five states will participate in a panel session on "Water Needs and Availability in the Southwest," while the nation's leading water consultants and heads of water resources authorities will discuss "Regional and Continental Water Projects Under Construction and Planned for the Future."

Reservations for the symposium can be obtained by writing to Southwest Water Resources Symposium, Post Office Box 289, Portales, New Mexico 88130. The registration fee is $2.00. Tickets for the luncheon at $1.75 and for the dinner at $2.25 will be available on arrival in Portales. Registration should be forwarded to the symposium office prior to January 25th.

Glad's Garden

OUR FEATHERED FRIENDS

There is a very attractive new house in our part of town. It is a two-story house and has twelve rooms. It is painted white, and has a red-brown colored roof. It is very eye catching in its location. Earl Clark, was the architect and builder. The tenants have not moved in yet, but all are hopeful and patiently waiting for their arrival, and occupancy. The Clarks are wishing for a large family, and that the coming of warm weather, will find them taking possession of this pretty home.

What kind of a house is it? It is a BIRD house, designed exclusively for a Purple Martin family and is located at 107 Centre Street.

When I stopped by for a visit with the Clarks, he told me that, "the building of Bird Houses, was a hobby that he had taken up during his recovery from a recent illness. Mrs. Clark (Lottie) and I have read many articles in magazines, and newspapers about the Purple Martins, and decided that we would like to provide a home for them. The next step was to find a house plan. We drove about town, and found some very attractive, and different types of bird houses. One such Bird House, at a home in The Country Club Addition, I studied the construction, taking special notice of the size of the openings through which the birds would enter, the materials used in the construction, and rooms available. This particular house was a factory made Bird House, and the materials were metal. Since I had always liked to work with wood, I decided that I would make my house out of wood. The materials were assembled, and I started work on my first Martin house."

I asked how many such houses he had made and he replied, "I only made the one twelve room house, the others, I made for eight birds. I have made five or six, and these were given to friends and relatives at Christmas."

After we had discussed matters concerning the house, construction, I inquired as to the nature of the Purple Martin, and why they selected this type. Mrs. Clark told me, "that the Purple Martins, are migratory birds, migrating from the south to the north, in the early summer, and as they migrate they look for places to make their home, they have gone on to migrate through this area, and since there was no place for them to nest or make a home, they have gone on through. A number of people are interested in this, especially our bird watching friends. The Purple Martins feed on insects, and are known to eat their weight in one day. When the little ones are hatched the parents feed them very generously, so that they will grow real fast, and soon they too are eating insects, like their parents. We are hopeful that others will respond to this type project and furnish houses for the Martins. They would be a real asset to any of our gardens-after all this is nature's way of taking care of harmful and destructive insects in the gardens."

Soon the pretty robins will be coming, they are not noted for their song but they are colorful, and to the bird watchers most interesting and helpful. Their bright colors, and chatter, are inspiring to all who watch them. Other birds that have been seen in our area, are the junco, mockingbird, many kinds of sparrows, starlings, blackbirds woodpeckers and occasionally blue jays, red cardinals, and humming birds.

Roger Tory Peterson, in Birds Over America, says, "that about 530 of the approximately 650 species of North American Birds have been recorded on a recent Christmas count."

A count is made nationwide, and is conducted by three million members of 600 clubs over the nation, between December 21st and January 2nd.

Our feathered friends need our attention. Their physical needs should be met. These are water, food and shelter. These needs are influenced by climate and local weather conditions. In our area this year, we have had weather that is in their favor; they can find food and needed shelter, since the weather has been so good. However, drinking places should be provided for them, since it is so dry. Our gardens should have a place for them to find drink. Many of the garden club members do have watering places, this is one of the important phases of our conservation projects.

A low, concrete basin-shaped slab, with water dripping into it will meet this requirement, and the water should be fresh and plentiful. Law shrubs and plants, planted near the drinking place, will provide shelter, and places for perching.

When it comes to food for birds, you can add a little festive touch, by including slices of red apples to a suet ball. In making the suet balls, press chunks of peanut butter, or whole peanuts, into the suet, along with sunflower seeds, oats other seeds and millet.

This would be a good family project, the making of the suet balls, or seed balls as the children should be taught that the birds are their friends, and are not to be molested or killed. If they share in the provision of food for them they will respond with interest and helpfulness.

Many like to use cornbread crumbs, to feed the birds, and the following is a good recipe.

CORNBREAD RECIPE FOR BIRDS

Heat two cups of water, stir in until dissolved 1/4 cup of bacon grease, or other fried meat drippings. Mix together 1/2 cup sugar, and 1 heaping tablespoon of flour (this prevents clogging) and 1 cup of yellow corn meal. Stir this mixture into hot water and grease and when well mixed, pour into pan to cool. Serve in thick slices or chunks. This is recommended for self feeding or self-feeders. This can be made and frozen and used as needed. Emergency feeding is needed in our area only for a few weeks a year.

The care and attention needed in attracting birds to your garden is balanced with much joy bringing to all members of the family, satisfaction and especially so to the Bird-watcher, and friends of birds.

Reminders: Don't get in too big a hurry to work in the yard these pretty warm days. However they can be used to good advantage. Prune out the dead branches of the shrubs and roses, that were overlooked when the garden was put to bed this fall. Do not cut any other part of them, as we do not want to force growth now. Some feeding can be done, consult your nurseryman and he will recommend what is needed also a dormany spray should be used now, to kill diseases, and harboring insects.

HAVE YOU SEEN? the lovely potted plants at the Hi-Plains Offices, They are well cared for, properly placed, are beautiful and interesting.

May the Blue Bird of Happiness Fly at your house.

Information Day In Evaluated

"We were a captive audience, and I don't think the program did any good," were the words reported to the 7:00 a. m. meeting of the Deaf Smith County Council on Alcoholism, Wednesday, January 25th.

A high school student who had attended a December assembly program, part of the Information Day activities sponsored by the Council made the remarks.

At this assembly John DeFoore, pastor of the Highland Baptist Church in Waco, spoke to the subject of alcoholism, but primarily to the subject of personality adjustment.

Ron Harpster, pastor of the Avenue Baptist Church, said that Reverend DeFoore spoke only ten minutes, and primarily on material not directly related to alcoholism, at that.

Rey. DeFoore's talk centered around the ideas that men are made in the image of God and that each is important.

Francis Hardwick, a long-time member of the Council, stated "Captive audience or not, the students are being reached." Reverend Harpster added that if one person was reached the program was worth it.

General comments from those present at the meeting supported this view that the students did benefit from such talks in the long run.

Favorable remarks, as well as these critical comments by the one student, were given as a part of the program for the meeting, evaluating Information Day activities.

Reverend Harpster, who is Vice President of the Council, also made available copies of a book, God Made Me New, by Burnice Luck, a Texas railroad man who won out in his struggle against drink, gambling, and paganism.

Business at the meeting included the reading of the minutes from the last monthly meeting in November and a treasurer's report, both of which were given by Mrs. Hazel Rayburn, Secretary-Treasurer for the Council. Council Chairman, Mrs. O. G. Hill, Sr., also accepted a motion, which was approved, to send a contribution of $10.00 to the Crusader, a publication of TANE (Texas Alcoholic-Narcotic Education) which is a non-profit information organ-

Funeral Rites Held At Canyon

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon in Frist Methodist Church for Robert Stanley Lair, 34 of that city, brother of Mrs. Charles Bell of Hereford. Mr. Lair was found dead in his car Monday afternoon northwest of Happy.

Randall County officials are still investigating the death after the man was found by his brother, T. H. Lair, with a gunshot wound in his head and a .22 caliber rifle on the car seat beside him. Justice of the Peace W. A. Wilson said that foul play had been eliminated as a cause of death.

Mr. Lair, a former school teacher and veteran of military service, is survived by his wife; two stepsons, David and Byron Smith; his mother, Mrs. Tom G. Lair of Canyon; the sister and four brothers, Thomas and A. Vent Lair of Canyon, George Lair of Houston and James Lair of Spearman.

Pleasant luncheon salad plate: lettuce, sliced tomatoes, sardines, stuffed eggs. Serve with hot biscuits.

ization. Chairman Hill also appointed a nominating committee composed of Francis Hardwick, Mrs. R. L. Ethridge and Mrs. Bob (Chris) Brooks.

Opened with a prayer from Gene Fooks, minister of the Church of Christ, and closed by a prayer from Mrs. G. P. Owen, the meeting, which was held at the La Cafe Hacienda, 230 Avenue D, was attended by sixteen persons.

Local Attorney Works In Confab

James W. Witherspoon, Hereford attorney attended the mid-winter conference of the Texas Trial Lawyers Association in Dallas last Saturday and Sunday.

Those present at the conference gave their support to a number of issues, including a cost-of-living increase in workmen's compensation payments and for industrial safety legislation. At the Sheraton Hotel meeting, the association's directors voted unanimously to support a request to raise the maximum on workmen's compensation payments in Texas from the present $35 a week to $45.

Also, the directors were unanimous in their vote to urge the Texas Legislature to enact "strong and meaningful industrial safety laws." The board, in addition, endorsed pending legislation to make the jury wheel universal throughout all counties of the state, allow 9-3 jury verdicts in civil cases, provide for the examination and licensing of court reporters in the basis of comparative negligence in damage suits.

The directors voted unanimously to ask the membership to consider a position on legislation designed to require the State Board of Insurance to consider investment profits as income when setting insurance rates.

Over 100 attorneys from all parts of the state attended the TILA conference, January 21 and 22.

Rookie Flynn Robinson of the Cincinnati Royals set eight new school basketball records at Wyoming. He averaged 27 points a game as a senior.

"The primary purpose for our existence is to furnish supplemental feed to balance out the nutritional requirements in the feeding of livestock," explains John McNey, regional manager for the Farr Better Feeds Company.

"We add many ingredients to do this," he adds, "and the basic ingredient is protein. The main proteins we use are cotton seed meal, soy bean meal, meat meal, dehydrated alfalfa and a new product in recent years — Urea." With these proteins is blended antibiotics, hormones, vitamins and trace minerals to balance the roughage that the feed lot or rancher has available.

The antibiotics are added for general health, McNey says. They help to keep the animal from picking up pneumonia or diptheria in shipping, as well as preventing liver abscess. Without the antibiotic, McNey says there is a high condemnation of livers in livestock, which can cause the owner to lose $4.50 to $5 per animal. With the antibiotics, more livestock have good livers, he explained, thus saving the owner some money.

The hormones increase metabolism, stated McNey. He added that this increases the animal's appetite so they will eat more and gain faster in a shorter time. "The old-time rancher used to feed the livestock a year or more before he was ready to go to market," McNey stated, adding, "From these cattle they used to feed, meat cuts turned out to be too big for the housewife."

He feels that it is because of the pressures of economics which have caused the feed lots to shorten this feeding period to 120 to 180 days — almost half the time it used to take.

"This is where any feed company enters into the picture," McNey states, "We balance out the rations so that the feed lots can 'finish out the animal' to the desired grade in the shortest period of time possible with a completely balanced ration at the lowest cost possible. For a feed lot to survive it must make high daily gains and must do this at a cost that will stay within an ever-changing market."

"When we contact a feed lot or are contacted by one of their mangers — unless the manager especially demands an exact supplement of protein — we like to start working on his program by analyzing the various roughages and grains the lot has on hand. The nutritionalist, Ross Cooley, takes the analysis, works out the proposed program for the complete feeding period and figures the starting, intermediate and finish rations," explains McNey.

Cooley says he finds each and every program is entirely different due to the difference in cost of each location, type of livestock and marketing practices. McNey says Farr Better Feeds specializes in bulk loads of protein so "we can give the feeder the best cost possible."

He says, "We try to do this on a real personal basis, giving all our nutritional services free. We try to make it a service organization in that, if a feeder wants feed analyzed or medicine sent in on one of our trucks, we do it for them. We try to keep in touch with all our lots, contacting them at least once a month to see if they need anything."

He tells that the Hereford plant formerly supplied 16 lots in Kansas, but a new plant was just built in Garden City to supply Kansas feeders. McNey now says the Hereford plant will divert its attention to "stripping of the Texas Panhandle, Oklahoma and New Mexico areas. They supply supplemental protein to around 50 feed lots which includes almost 300,000 cattle a day.

McNey says, "We do welcome anybody, whether they have cattle or not, to come out and see our operation, which has almost doubled its capacity since it opened up 1 year and 8 months ago. We intend to have a major expansion soon."

"We feel that Hereford is as good a location as any — well, really the best location in the United States," he adds.

McNey was reared on a ranch with a lot of experience in feeding cattle and sheep, served as a county agriculture agent for 10 years in Colorado, was field man for a Denver stock yard and worked with the John Clay Commission Company prior to joining Farr Better Feeds in 1961. He and his wife, Joyce live at 527 Westhaven with their three children, John 13, Jim 11 and Julie, 9.

Mrs. McNey is a 1st grade teacher at Northwest Elementary School. John and Jim are active in 4-H and have fed out 30 steers in the last 4 years, their father stated. He says they enter steers in livestock shows every year.

Working with McNey is Cooley, the nutritionalist, Nancy Albright, office manager and bookkeeper, Billye Joe Woolbright, office secretary, Bob Templeton, plant manager, Jim Easley, salesman and special representative. Also employed at Farr are 18-24 men who work round-the-clock, 6 days a week.

"We feel the livestock feeding industry is still in its pioneer stages for the vast potential that this area offers in future years," he said.

Government Plans Will Help Low Income Farmers

The importance of an amendment to Title III of the Economic Opportunity Act recently signed by President Johnson has been pointed out by James Gouldy, Farmers Home Administration County supervisor for Deaf Smith and Oldham counties.

Gouldy said the amendment means additional and much needed resources for hard-pressed, low-income Texas rural people desiring to improve their farm income or start small businesses.

"This important Economic Opportunity Act amendment increases from $2,500 to $3,500 the loans that the United States Department of Agriculture FHA can make to individual Texas farmers or other rural residents," Gouldy added.

This amendment, he continued, also authorizes additional

Wheat Acreage Is On Increase

"Wheat growers will remember 1966 as the year the overburdening wheat surplus was finally worked off," Frank J. Bezner, chairman of the County Conservation Committee, reported Monday.

LUBBOCK — Members of the Texas State Unit, National Cotton Council, have been announced by Roy Forkner, Lubbock, unit chairman.

They are among delegates scheduled to meet in San Francisco, February 6-7, to review progress in research and promotion aimed at expanding cotton's markets and to make recommendations for 1967 programs.

Members of the Texas unit are:

Sign-Up Deadlines Facing Area Feed Grain Farmers

Area farmers have been cautioned by Frank J. Bezner, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, not to forget the sign-up dates for the 1967 Feed Grain Program.

Bezner said the four-week sign-up period begins Feb. 6 and ends March 3. "The 1967 voluntary program is similar to the program for 1966," he added, "although it has been strengthened in some respects. Bezner listed these changes:

The price-support loan rate has been increased. For 1967, the rate on crop corn is up 5 cents, from $1 to $1.05 per bushel. The loan rate for grain sorghum is up proportionally, from $1.52 to $1.61 per hundred-weight. "These changes will mean an average increase of about 5 percent in price support should provide a higher floor price for the market, according to USDA forecasters," said Bezner.

—The support payment rates continue at the 30 cent per bushel level for corn and 53 cents sorghum production on 50 percent of the farmers base acreage.

—The loan rate on barley is up from 80 cents per bushel to 90 cents, national average. This rate is available to all producers on their entire acreage. Barley is not included in the feed grain program this year. Farmers who grow barley and also participate in the 1967 wheat program may arrange with the County ASCS office to plant wheat as a substitute on barley base acres, on a full acre-for-acre basis.

Bezner also outlined some of the benefits that are continued in the 1967 program from preceding voluntary feed grain programs:

—There will be advance payments. If a farmer wants to take it he may receive one-half of his total payment at the time of sign-up. This provision will be of particular interest to farmers who earn only a price-support payment in 1967.

—The small base provision remains in effect. Small farms with feed grain bases of 25 acres or less may divert more than the qualifying minimum or 20 percent on up to as much as the entire base. They will be

Cattle Thefts To Be Difficult

Space Age Techniques combined with modern microfilming equipment newly installed at headquarters of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association in Fort Worth, Texas, promises to be the biggest boon of the century to men whose job it is to control cattle theft.

The new process and procedures were developed following several months of study and experimentation initiated by Ben H. Carpenter of Dallas, TSCRA president.

Don C. King of Fort Worth, TSCRA secretary-general manager, said development of the cattle identification and recording system could revolutionize techniques anywhere cattle theft is a problem and inspection of cattle is required.

Although microfilming has been standard practice in many industries for years, this is the first time for it to be used for this purpose.

Essentially, it involves a method utilizing codes on a standardized inspection form whereby an animal can be identified and this identification transferred to film. The coding Employers of farm workers are required to file Form 943, Employer's Annual Tax Return for Agricultural Employers — 1966, and pay over their share of Social Security taxes plus amounts withheld from employee wages, on or before January 31, 1967. (Continued from Page 1) procedures also make possible almost instantaneous retrieval of desired information.

This spells instant trouble for the man marketing stolen cattle. This is how it could work. Say a man steals a cow and yearling steer from Mr. Jones. When the animals go through the market they are inspected for brands and other identifying characteristics by TSCRA inspectors, a duty which has been performed by these men for years.

Under the new system the inspector indicates color markings breed characteristics, whether or not it is a cow, bull, steer or heifer, a calf or a yearling, and if it is a horned or a "mule" by simple check marks on the standardized form.

The form also includes blanks where the animals' tag numbers and any brands can be quickly recorded. In addition it provides a simple diagram where ear marks can be noted.

Each cattle shipper's name, address, vehicle license number the commission company handling the cattle, total head in the shipment, pen number in the market and date of shipment is also on the form.

Following completion by the TSCRA market inspector, the forms are immediately forwarded to TSCRA headquarters in Fort Worth where the information is coded on the form, a picture of it taken following coding, and the film is processed, loaded into magazines and filed for ready reference.

One of the big advantages of the new procedures is the speed it allows in retrieving desired information. This is accomplished through the use of the Recordak Miracode System, which in the words of the manufacturer, Eastman Kodak Company stands for "Microfilm Information Retrieval Access CODE."

Basically, all that is necessary to retrieve desired information is to select the film magazine, insert the magazine into what is called a reader key in the "search" question and depress the search button.

In non-technical terms this is how it works. After placing the magazine film in the machine, through the use of codes you tell the machine the description of the animal you would like to locate. The film "whirls" by until such an animal is found then it stops and a picture of the previously coded form is shown on a screen. If desired the machine also will make a copy of this form.

It is not necessary for the machine to know all the identifying characteristics. It will search and find on one or more. However, if the information is scant, a process of elimination may be necessary to locate the desired animal. In other words, if Mr. Jones knows only that his cow and yearling steer were branded with an "O" on the left hip, the machine would make a "search" of the film, and would stop on all cattle so branded.

In actual practice this will be the procedure which will be followed. Of course, the more information forwarded to headquarters the less searching will be required.

Here is what it means to you. If you go to your pasture in the morning and determine someone has stolen one or more head of your cattle, call either your field inspector or the TSCRA headquarters, just as you have in the past.

Give them a description of the missing cattle and the date they were taken from your pasture if this is known. Immediately all the processes of modern crime detection will come into action and the technical breakthrough of the Miracode system will be utilized to the fullest extent possible.

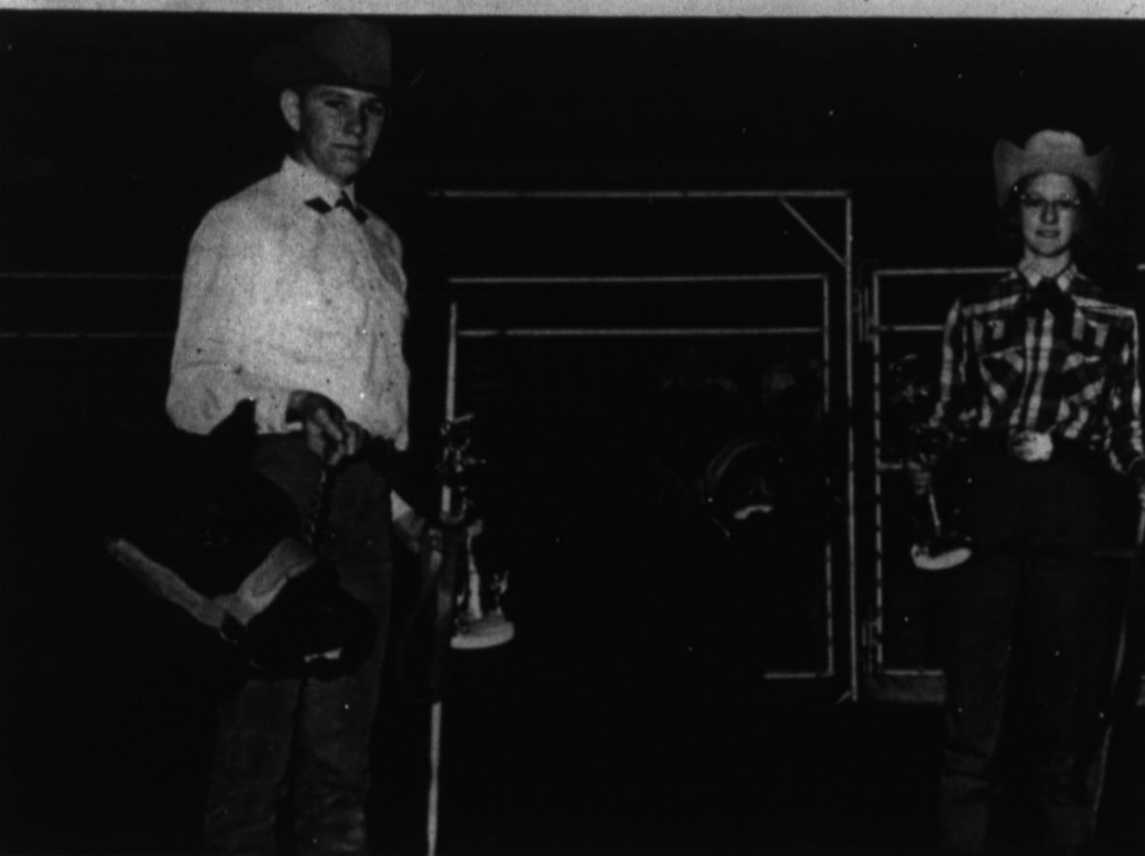

This increases the likelihood of early apprehension of the cattle thief and the possible return of the cattle to your pasture. It could mean untold thousands of dollars to the cattle industry of the Southwest.

The installation of the cattle identification, recording and retrieval system is the result of countless hours of trial and error in determining the information needed, formulating codes and designing forms which would best meet the requirements for which they were intended.

Innumerable options were dis-

"With the marketing year carryover down to a safe reserve level, wheat growers began to realize better market prices and look forward to increasing production instead of restricting it to work off the surplus," said Bezner.

He explained that the wheat carryover last July 1 was 536 million bushels and is expected to be between 400 and 425 million bushels next July 1. Production from the increased allotment in 1967 should bring the 1968 carry over back up to about 500 million bushels.

Bezner noted that the 1967 allotment for Deaf Smith County is 223,408 acres, about third larger than the 1966 allotment. This is the county share of the national allotment of 68.3 million acres.

"The improved outlook for wheat, with supply in good balance with demand, is the result of farmers cooperating through the wheat programs," Bezner continued. "The programs helped farmers maintain income while reducing production."

"Through continued cooperation in the wheat program, farmers can keep supplies balanced and realize better net credit to borrowers as long as their outstanding indebtedness for an economic opportunity loan does not exceed $3,500.

The new economic opportunity loan provisions will more adequately cover the financing of needed land, working quarters and equipment needed to establish many Texas economic opportunity individual enterprises on a sound basis, Gouldy explained. Another important point is that the program can now supplement original loans with capital for improvements of expansion.

Gouldy stated that "since this Office of Economic Opportunity loan program started in January, 1965, the FHA has extended $2,851,965 in credit to some 1,705 Texas families and $52 million in loans to over 30,000 families throughout the United States, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Economic Opportunity borrowers throughout the nation are operating more than 400 different kinds of non-agricultural farm incomes because they can grow more bushels, expect better market prices and earn domestic marketing certificates.

eligible for payment on all of such diversion.

—Farmers may plant soybean on any or all of their permitted corn and grain sorghum acres in 1967 without loss of program payments or loan eligibility. Bezner said the need to expand feed grain production in the range of 12 to 15 million acres in 1967 and divert 15 to 18 million acres is indicated by the reduced carry over this year.

"The marketing year begins Oct. 1 each year," said Bezner. "Last Oct. 1, the carry over of old corn was 896 million bushels, down one-fifth from a year earlier. Grain sorghum stocks in October were 363 million bushels, down nearly one-third from a year earlier. If we add in barley and oats, the total feed grain carry over is about 43 million tons. This is about the cushion or reserve that is desirable."

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Tales about the good old days of a generation or two ago are always assured of interested listeners, although it always sounds quite improbable to any group of youngsters that people actually lived in such primitive circumstances.

IMAGINE HOW much more difficult it will be when today's high school crowd, tells their grandchildren what things were like back in the ancient 1950's, when nobody had even landed on the moon, and there were planes which carried airline passengers at a poky 150 or 200 miles an hour.

It's common knowledge that things are changing these days probably faster than at any previous period in this inconstant world, and that even faster changes appear in store.

But looking back to a childhood when my grandparents' accounts of post-Civil War days in the South sounded like exciting fiction, I'm glad of a memory that goes back farther than the high schoolers', because not all the rapid change in this century has taken place since World War II.

SO FAR AS EFFECT on our everyday life is concerned, maybe the fastest changes of all happened earlier, because more of us ride in automobiles than in space ships, more of us press buttons to turn on the lights than to launch missiles.

It certainly dates one, but I'm glad I can remember when the first car came to our home town, and all the kids ran out to see it pass whenever it chugged from the home of its doctor owner to his Main Street office. . . when ladies carried parasols to keep the sun from spoiling their complexions as they strolled to the postoffice.

When there wasn't a foot of paved highway in the Panhandle and sunflowers grew head-high along the roads that were sandbeds in dry spells and mudholes when it rained. . . but we got where we started in the Model-T, even if we had to stop to patch a tire on the way. . .

WHEN ONE OF the most welcome sights on a country road at night was lamplight from a kitchen window in a lonesome-looking farmhouse. . . and electric lights, so much more efficient, never recapture that homey glow. . . when herds of cattle were driven right past our house, down residence streets of my hometown from nearby ranches to the loading pens on the railroad. . .

When we dangled our long, black-stocking-clad legs from the back of Grandpa's wagon as he drove the two miles from the depot, where he met us when we went for a visit, to his farm. . . of course Mother rode on the spring seat beside Grandpa. . .

When the scent of red four o'clock blooming in Miss Sallie Rainey's front yard was my idea of the height of elegance in flower gardening. . . and a flowered "art square" was the fashionable covering for the living room floor. . . and more, much more. . .

TRANSFER OF Dexter Lillie, a Holly Company manager, to a new location is the type of move to be expected in the business world, but is no less a blow to friends of the Lillies who will miss them here.

Mrs. Lillie is an officer in Bay View Study Club and lately was elected a vice president for next year. She has done her part in women's activities since she has lived in Hereford and her leaving will be regretted by the numerous friends she has made. . .

ANOTHER VIEW OF the mixed-up Texas climate of the past month was given a couple from North Dakota who visited last weekend in the home of Mrs. D. W. Palmer. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McNally of Devil's Lake came to Hereford after a vacation in South Texas, and were happy to find it much warmer up here.

This was the McNallys' first visit to Texas and they were impressed with our winter climate — at least with the sample they saw. Mrs. McNally, I was especially interested to learn, is

Juvenile Cases Down In County

Juvenile court delinquency cases involving girls increased to a greater extent in 1965 than did those involving boys, the latest report on juvenile court statistics reveals.

Issued by the Children's Bureau, Welfare Administration, U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the report states that it was the third year in the last six that girls delinquency cases increased.

Not so in Deaf Smith County, says Judge H. C. Williams. Records from the county judge's office show that although 1965 was a high for the county in cases involving females, the male cases still led by better than five to one. "And there's been a substantial drop in 1966," the judge added.

With juvenile delinquency in the county standing at only 47 per cent of the enrollment in Hereford schools, "Deaf Smith County can be proud of their kids," said Judge Williams.

Mrs. Katherine B. Oettinger, Children's Bureau Chief pointed out that the number of girls' delinquency cases increased by 8 percent in 1965 as compared with 1964, while the number of boys' cases increased by less than one-half of one percent. In urban areas, the increase in girls' cases in 1965 was even greater — 13 percent.

"We are particularly alarmed," she said, "by the fact that so large a percentage of girls are involved in sex offenses. In order of their frequency girls were referred to large city juvenile courts for running away and ungovernable behaviour larceny and sex offenses. Running away and ungovernable behaviour are often sex-related offenses and these together with other types of sex offenses comprise almost half of all girls' delinquency cases handled by the courts."

"The Children's Bureau has an obligation to report this information to the nation. But each community in the nation, particularly through action by parents, has an obligation to correct its own situation," she said.

The latest report shows that a total of 697,000 juvenile delinquency cases were handled in the courts during 1965, representing an overall increase of about 2 percent over 1964. During that time there was only a one percent increase in the child population aged 10 through

17. "This relatively small increase in delinquency cases in 1965 when added to the larger ones in prior years accounts for a 58 percent increase between 1967 and 1965," Mrs. Oettinger pointed out. "This is almost double the 32 percent increase in the 10-17 child population during that time."

"We can hope that last year's relatively small increase may reflect progress in programs aimed at delinquency prevention such as job training, back-to-school drives and the creation of new youth employment opportunities," she said.

The report, entitled Juvenile Court Statistics-1965 shows that in addition to delinquency cases, juvenile courts last year disposed of 460,000 juvenile traffic cases, an increase of 4 percent over 1964. Rural courts reported a sharp increase — 19 percent in such cases.

Single copies of the report are available from the Children's Bureau upon request.

Shower Is Event After Marriage

Mrs. James Faulkner, who was Miss Janice Brittain before her marriage here Dec. 26, was complimented with a shower recently in First National Community Room, with about 50 guests present.

Hostesses were Meses. Grady Morton, John Hunter, W. J. Culp, Jack Nunley, Jerry Carr, Raymond Hill, Charlie Kemp and Paul Hoff.

Gift packages were presented to the honoree to be unwrapped after a series of games. Pink punch and cakes were served from a table covered with net over pink and centered with bride and groom figurines set in front of a pair of candelabra with pink tapers.

Misses Betty Draper and Diana French were at the refreshment table, Miss Sue Hassell at the guest book. The bride wore a white knit suit with a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Faulkner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brittain, 523 Irving, is completing the school year here before establishing a home in Washington, D. C., where her husband is stationed on U. S. Air Force duty.

THE PRICE WENT DOWN
NEW YORK (AP)—An offer of $500,000 cash has been accepted for purchase of a Broadway playhouse that went on sale last year at twice that price.

Henry Miller's Theater, a 946-seat house which opened in 1918, is being added to the cross country chain operated by David T. Nederlander of Detroit and his five sons. The family also owns the Palace here, plus theaters in Chicago and Detroit and plans to build others in Dallas, Houston, Atlanta and Phoenix.

Mrs. Gilbert Miller, owner of the property said factors prompting acceptance of the offer included a pledge to keep the theater's name and to continue operating it for legit productions.

REPORT

The candy sale and annual project of Camp Fire Girls, which all groups here join each year, were discussed at a recent meeting of Oh-Ta-Ten-Ya Group. Cynthia McCauley, president, conducted the meeting. Her suggestion that the group buy a first aid kit was also discussed. Mrs. Collins, leader, presented plans for the candy sale. All members were present.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

Cook Starts Young

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

One of a group which has become numerous in recent years, young housewives who were married before their high school education was completed, Mrs. John Hammett was fortunate in having practiced the essentials of housekeeping as she grew up.

THE PETITE, green-eyed farm wife who lives a few miles northeast of Hereford knew her way around a kitchen before she married as a teenager, and says she is still learning about homemaking and preparing food for her family.

It now comprises three children, the oldest ready to enter school next year. Daughter Melissa will be six years old in March, David is four and Jamie just past two, and their mother says they all have good, healthy appetites like their father.

Mrs. Hammett likes to try new recipes, "but sometimes once is all I try one," and she has learned to cook substantial foods in family-sized quantities rather than sample sizes of more elaborate dishes.

THE FORMER LINDA Witherspoon, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Witherspoon, members of a longtime Hereford family and herself a lifelong resident.

She is a member of Young Homemakers Home Demonstration Club, a group of women in her own age bracket who are interested in broadening their knowledge and techniques of homemaking. She served last year as foods leader and is delegate to the County H. D. Council this year.

Basics of a family food supply on the Hammett farm begin with dirt gardening; the John Hammetts work with his parents, the E. C. Hammetts, in growing a vegetable garden. This winter they are eating corn, beans, okra and other products which they put in the freezer last summer. Mrs. Hammett also canned tomatoes grown there.

Meat is also kept in the freezer, which is relatively new so that Linda Hammett has not experimented as much as she plans to, with freezing baked food — and other supplies for meals-in-a-hurry.

"IT COULD BE handy for emergencies, but I like fresh-baked food," she smiles.

Linda Hammett likes to sew, and makes most of her own clothes and those of her daughter. She learned to knit recently and after practicing on a sweater for Melissa, made one for her husband. The phase of housework which she does not like is the routine of cleaning chores, she admits.

In addition to the H. D. Club, she is a member of a Woman's Missionary Union circle of First Baptist Church. When her children are all in school she plans more social and recreational activities, but says her family is her hobby at present.

She has a recipe for a meat and spaghetti dish which she says is a good meal when it is served with a green salad and a dessert.

MEAT BALLS AND SPAGHETTI

First make a spicy tomato sauce like this: Saute until yellow in 1/4 cup olive oil, 1 cup minced onion. Add slowly a mixture of

2 tb. minced parsley
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
8 drops Tabasco sauce
8-oz. can tomato sauce
4-oz. can tomato paste
Cover and simmer 30 minutes; add water if necessary to thin during cooking.

WHILE SAUCE is cooking, mix lightly, and shape into 1-inch balls:

3/4 lb. ground beef and 1/4 lb. ground pork (or 1 lb. beef),
1 cup fine dry breadcrumbs
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 tb. minced parsley
1 small onion, minced
1 clove garlic, minced fine
1/2 cup milk

Rotarians Hear About Eye Bank

Attending the regular luncheon of the Rotary Club Monday were visiting Rotarians from Floydada and Canyon as well as several guests. Bill Davis introduced the "Man of the Year," Ed Skypala who brought the program.

Skypala told the club about the Lion's Club Eye Bank of which he is a director and past president. "Working with the blind people, I actually feel that I am doing something worthwhile," he said, adding, "I have seen some of the things this project has done."

The Eye Bank was started a few years ago when it was discovered that 97 eyes had been shipped from Oklahoma to Amarillo for transplanting and the Lions "thought there was a need."

"There is one director from each area and from the 7 clubs in Amarillo," Skypala explained. These are the ones who run the bank. He told members how they could donate their eyes to the bank, adding that it was easier now than it had been previously.

The eyes from a person who has died instantly are better for transplanting than those of someone who died of a lingering illness, Skypala said. "We have lost several eyes because they can't be used after the body is embalmed," he added, explaining that the Highway Patrol is now working with the bank to prevent this happening to accident victims before the bank can see that the eyes are extracted. The eyes must be taken from the body within 6 hours after death and are to be used within 42 hours, he stated.

Skypala urged members to take donors cards and to sign up, before ending his program.

Rotary president, Alec Schroeter reminded members that district governor, Earl Wilbur, will be in Hereford again next Monday.

Appreciation Luncheon Plans Begun In County H.D. Council

An annual event in Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Clubs, the Appreciation Luncheon honoring community residents who aid the clubs' programs during the year, as well as outstanding members, received attention of the County H. D. Council at its January meeting Monday afternoon in the courthouse.

Feb. 27 is the date of the luncheon this year. As is the custom, the H. D. Club Woman of the Year will be chosen by vote of members, from nominees selected by the various clubs, Friends of H. D. Club work in the county will be invited as guests. The luncheon will be served in the County Bull Barn and the February Council meeting will follow.

Initial plans were discussed in the Council session with Mrs. O. L. Williams presiding. She is the new president, beginning a term which runs with the calendar year. Final reports on 1966 work were made by retiring committee chairmen, and recommendations for 1967 by new chairmen.

The latter include Mrs. Albert Lamb, Chairman of finance, Mrs. Viola Williams, recreation; Mrs. J. G. Gandy, yearbooks; Mrs. Frank Brorman, reporters; Mrs. A. E. Hodges, education. Duties of the standing committees were briefly outlined by Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent.

Mrs. Paul Hoff, county chairman of the Texas H. D. Association, announced that a district training meeting will be held in Stratford Jan. 31 and the annual district meeting in Claude April 6 with a program theme of "A World of Hope, Purpose and Peace."

Mrs. Hodges, THDA state treasurer, reported on a board meeting held in Abilene recently and said the 1967 state meeting has been set for Sept. 19 and 20 in Fort Worth, the national meeting July 31, Aug. 1-3 in Brookings, S. D.

Other Council members registering were Mrs. Louie Olson, Cultural Club; Mmes. H. L. Hershey, J. D. Gilbert Jr., E. C. Hammett and Dale Hallows, Progressive Club; Mmes. Jimmie D. Bradley, C. F. Burk and John E. Hill, Bippus Club; Mrs. John Hammett, Young Homemakers.

Also Mmes. Carlos Vaughn, Blanche Hardin and Carl Schroeder, West Hereford; Mrs. W. J. Lueb, North Hereford; Mrs. Elmer Northcutt and Mrs. J. E. Sorrells, Messenger; Mrs. J. C. Gossett and Mrs. W. A. Carter, Ford Club; Mrs. Don N. Cavanaugh and Mrs. E. C. Hewitt Jr., Wyche Club; Mrs. H. D. Fowler, Dawn Club, Mrs. Lamb represented Westway Club.

Mrs. Childers Presents El Llano Club Program

Community service projects were planned by El Llano Study Club members at their January meeting Monday evening in the home of Mrs. C. R. Winget, where Mrs. Jesse Geron conducted the business period.

Details of the "walking blood bank" project used in this county were explained, and members agreed to cooperate by having their blood-types recorded. They also planned to prepare a basket of food for a needy family here at Easter.

Mrs. Ben Childers presented the program, one of a series on various aspects of contemporary life. Her topic was Facts About Birth Control Pills, and she discussed medical and social effects of the widespread use of the pills.

Announcement was made of the quarterly meeting of Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs, with which El Llano Club is affiliated. All its members are invited to the covered dish luncheon in Community Center and the Federation business meeting and program afterward.

The club's social committee will be hostess at the next meeting, a party to entertain members' husbands on Feb. 27.

Those present included Mmes. Boyd Foster, R. A. Daniel, Clyde Coleman, Pete Caviness, Olen Caviness, Jim Bookout, Iva N. Block, Labry Ballard, Wayne Thomas, Jack Meredith, Elmer Kimball, John Jacobsen Jr., A. C. Hudson and Cecil Hart.

Visit Is Paid By OES Party

A group of members from the Hereford Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, including Mrs. Charlie Noland, district deputy grand matron, attended a Friendship Night program of the OES at Earth Monday evening. In the party were Mrs. Marple Cline, worthy matron, Mmes. Horace Hershey, Vivian Majors, C. P. Worthan, Wilton Green, Bill Hutson, A. L. Manjeot and Marvin Coffey.

North Hereford Club Has Guests

Two guests, Mrs. Steve Thomas and Mrs. F. A. Baca, met with 11 members of North Hereford Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Roger Williams recently for a program by Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent.

The club president, Mrs. Paul Hoff, was chosen as its nominee for a delegate to the district meeting of Texas H. D. Association, to be held April 6 in Claude. County delegates will be picked from the club nominees.

Money Management and Thrift was Mrs. Draper's topic. She quoted a Hereford banker as saying "A dollar planned will do more than five dollars loose in your purse," as she advised family financial planning before spending.

Members were reminded to register as voters before the end of this month.

Sales Tax Will Be Study Topic

Two proposals by the Texas Legislature — a city sales tax and closed circuit television network between educational institutions of West Texas — will be discussed during the noon meeting of the Government Affairs Committee Friday at the Hickory Log.

Mayor Ray Cowser has been invited to discuss the proposal permitting cities to vote a city sales tax. The proposal is pending action by the legislature.

The committee is expected to decide whether or not to support legislation which would appropriate the funds necessary to launch the Western Information Network. The system would link the educational institutions in an informational network using closed circuit, two-way television for sharing instructors, resource material and computer facilities.

It's a bigger bargain today than ever before

Your telephone gives you more for your money today than at any time since Mr. Bell invented it.

Pretty big statement. But it's true. There are more telephones in more places today than ever before. Two hundred million in the world; four million of them here in Texas.

On the average, there are more than twice as many telephones in each of our Texas exchanges as there were 20 years ago. So it figures you can reach more people, get more things done by phone than ever before.

And what about Long Distance rates? They've been going down while the cost of almost everything else has been climbing up. There've been 10 Long Distance rate reductions in Texas since World War II.

Another thing. The quality of service has never been better. Today's phone users can talk as though they were four feet apart. Back in the early 1930's, it was 35 feet.

Better service to more places at lower cost. We think that's a winning combination.

Auto Mechanics Offers Challenge To Students

By TED SWINDLE
Staff Writer

A 1962 blue Chevrolet growled at the raised double door of the old Coca Cola warehouse at 116 S. Avenue K, the address of the Hereford High School Auto Mechanics classroom, and rolled into a spot just in front of the chicken wire tool room. Amidst the confusion of cars being moved, energetic young men calling to one another, and tools being issued, the first period of Bill McDowell's class in auto mechanics was begun.

"This course involves more responsibility than other school courses," said Doug May, the driver of the blue Chevrolet. "When you start a job, you're expected to finish it."

The textbook, Automotive Essentials by Ray F. Kuns, is a compound of those essentials which make up the world of mechanics, automobiles, and the individuals who solve problems associated with cars.

The preface of Kuns' book reads as follows: "This is a beginner's textbook, based on fundamentals, and contains essential automobile information. This text will place the student in a position to intelligently select, use, and repair automobiles and automotive equipment."

And the young men who operate the old Coca Cola warehouse were gaining the "exact knowledge" with every turn of a wrench and with every adjustment of a purring motor.

"We teach the theory in the classroom," says McDowell, the tall, large man who deals with the complex of equipment and boys in his class room.

"Then, when the boys get into the shop with the cars, they get a chance to put the theory into practice."

Practice is what the boys get with several cars to work on and with plenty of problems to solve. "With the practice of four complete overhauls, now in progress," says McDowell, "the boys will have done twenty overhaul jobs on automobile motors."

Only a minor oil leak has marred the record so far, and the boys' enthusiasm for work throughout the whole shop indicates continued successful work.

Enthusiasm for the work and an interest in it possibly also account for the fact that the boys' behavior has produced few discipline problems.

"We don't have many problems at all," McDowell indicated, "probably because the boys are kept busy and interested." With the freedom to roam the shop area, working with various machines and other equipment, maintaining discipline could present difficulties but the boys seem more than willing to accept the individual responsibility which is thrust upon them.

Horseplay and mischief do crop up occasionally, according to McDowell.

Purposes of the course outlined by McDowell are to foster a deep respect for the dignity of work, to assist students in establishing realistic vocational goals, and to help students become sufficiently proficient to enter the field of mechanics.

The boys share the duties of sweeping up, toolroom keeper, and parts runner; and as McDowell proudly states, "These boys know how to operate almost any of these machines."

The Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) also plays an important role in helping the boys gain leadership skills. Through this extra-curricular activity the boys can participate in contests with other schools and hold district, state, and national offices. Membership in VICA is not required, but membership is encouraged. The local VICA group meets once a month at a night meeting.

Some of the rather complicated-looking machines are indicators of the age but the boys seem unperturbed by such complexity. The Marquette Dyna-Vision machine, used for checking out the complete ignition system of an automobile, was being used with confidence and frequency.

A Bear Brake lathe, a Marquette Generator-Alternator Regulator Tester, and a Sunning machine, which can be used to hone rods and pin bushings, all bear the marks of use. A large, metal vat, made at the school bus barn, is in a corner. A dark brown liquid (caustic soda) quietly did its work of cleaning motors and parts while the boys were busy at the machines.

Safety and space constitute the main problems McDowell said.

"We keep safety procedure tests on file," McDowell says "and the boys who miss questions must look up the answers to my satisfaction."

Safety first is the main thing taught and stressed constantly. Car body supports are used effectively and frequently, and shields and goggles are in abundance, both in number and use. Size of the building, or space, in connection with safety, has some effect on so much emphasis on being careful with machines and car bodies.

"There just isn't enough room to put the cars inside the building every time we need to work on a car," says Mr. McDowell, "so those cars with pulled motors are moved outside."

The state supervisors of the auto-mechanics program recommend 210 square feet per boy; but with 19 boys in the three-hour morning class and with 17 boys in the afternoon three-hour class the building in which classes are now being conducted is inadequate with only 2400 square feet. Even cleaning up is a problem in such small quarters, and some of the cars must be removed before sweeping-up operations can be conducted.

One additional problem, connected with cleanliness, concerns the boys' clean-up facilities. Working over dirty, greasy motors cannot help but cause the worker to get filthy, sometimes from head to toe; a day as one student said, "after getting so dirty in the morning, I hate to go back to school for the rest of the day." There is only one rest room and only one wash basin in the present building for cleaning thirty-four grimy hands.

These difficulties will be eased considerably when the boys and their instructor get to move into a new building to be constructed adjacent to the high school.

Asked if the course is succeeding, McDowell spoke quickly. "Yes, I believe it is. Almost any of the boys can operate the equipment. It will take a long time to see how well the boys do in industry, but I believe the course is doing what it was designed to do."

And, perhaps, the course is doing much more. Bill McDowell, who lives at 101 Aspen with his wife, Billie, and their two daughters, Kristi Lynn and Kathi Gwynn (twins), is leading these interested young men into a worthwhile future of employment and skill. One year at Paris Junior College, Paris, Texas, two years at West Texas State University, six weeks of special classes at the University of Texas in Austin, several years of practical experience as an auto mechanic, and one year of teaching auto mechanics at Pearsall, Texas. A visit to the Hereford High School Auto-Mechanics class shows education in action — with young men working, doing, learning, and acting in a practical skill, something that they can use today, as well as tomorrow.

"The course could be taught without the student working on an automobile — until he had demonstrated skill with test motors and other similar equipment," he adds, saying that such procedures would probably decrease motivation.

The pervading pleasure that these young men must feel when they have dismantled and re-assembled themselves — propel a modern automobile out of the old Coca Cola warehouse is a vital discovery in education. Here is a true sense of achievement of which the boys, McDowell, and the community can be justifiably proud.

NO CHURCH STORAGE
STONEVILLE, N. C. — This town, begun in 1857 by Frank Stone, a Baptist minister, has lived up to the heritage of its founder. With a population of only 951, it has 10 churches to serve the community.

Ex-Resident's Rites Conducted

Requiem mass for Clem Schumacher, former Hereford resident who died at Sunray last Thursday, was celebrated at Christ the King Catholic Church in Sunray Saturday afternoon by the Rev. Kevin Hand, pastor, and the Rt. Rev. Angelus Delahunt, S. A., of St. Anthony's Church Hereford.

Born June 6, 1891, in Illinois, Mr. Schumacher came to Texas in 1909 and from Cook County to Hereford in 1927. He had lived in Sunray the past 32 years. His death came suddenly as he was working at his trade as a carpenter.

Survivors in addition to his wife include two daughters in Hereford, Mrs. Gene Loerwald and Mrs. Ed Loerwald; two sons, Andy Schumacher of Dimmitt and Frank Schumacher of Supray, 18 grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren and two brothers.

Residents Attend Area Banquets

Hereford will be represented at Chamber of Commerce banquets in several Panhandle cities during the next few weeks, according to Bill Thompson, Chamber of Commerce secretary.

Chamber director Mike Justice and his wife attended the Dumas chamber banquet Monday night and Frank Ford Jr., Thompson, and their wives will be representatives at the Littlefield banquet tonight.

Also tonight, local chamber director Jerry Detwiler and his wife will attend the Tulla banquet, while next Monday's chamber banquet will be attended by Charles Bell, Oliver Streu and their wives.

The Feb. 9 chamber banquet will be attended by Dale Young and Melvin Jayroe and wives.
