Arson Trial To Begin Monday

The trial of Bill Hartsfield, who was charged in connection with the Feb. 5, 1967, fire of the Butcher Boy Market last year, will begin Monday at 10 a.m.
Some 90 veniremen will be called in at that time, with the selection of the jury to begin soon after that.
Hartsfield was scheduled to be tried in the latter part of February of this year but due to the fact that his defense attorneys did not have sufficient time to prepare for the case, the trial was re-set for Monday.
Joe Floyd Umsted of Amarillo, and Floyd Lebow, 18 of the same city, were both tried in connection with the same case and Umsted was found guilty and sentenced to nine years in the state penitentiary. Lebow, who was the chief witness against Umsted, and will testify against Hartsfield also, pleaded guilty to the charge and received a five-year probated sentence last June.

Winners Named In Historical Contest

The Junior Historical Society has named the first, second and third place winners in its essay contest on the theme of "Deaf Smith's Part in the Battle of San Jacinto."
First place winner is Carol Elise Beene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Beene of RD 5, Hereford. Carol is 15 and a student in the 10th grade at Hereford High School.
She was the winner of $10.
Randy Corlis took second place and a check for $5. Randy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cletis L. Corlis of 113 Aspen, Hereford.
Third place winner is Kathy Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce L. Miller of RD 5, Hereford. Kathy received $3.
All prizes were awarded by the La Plata Study Club.
Miss Beene's essay follows:
DEAF SMITH AND THE BATTLE OF SAN JACINTO
The Battle of San Jacinto was one of the greatest victories in American history. All the Texans in that battle played an important part in Texas independence. Erastus Smith, better known as "Deaf" Smith, was an extraordinary scout and leader. He played a very important role in the battle that won Texas independence from Mexico.
Although many other scouts who were quite capable were available in the Texas Army, Sam Houston selected Deaf Smith to be his personal scout and advisor which Smith filled to the utmost. He led the scouting party that found Sue Dickinson, a witness of the Alamo massacre sent to Houston by Santa Anna. Another time he disguised himself as a Mexican farmer and wandered through the combined camps of Santa Anna and Cos finding out important data for General Houston. Houston could not have made a better choice than Deaf Smith to be his scout.

In the few hours before the Battle of San Jacinto took place Deaf Smith and five other volunteers destroyed the bridge over Vince's Bayou. With this bridge destroyed, no escape or retreat was possible for either the Texas Army or the Mexican Army. Just after the battle, many Mexican soldiers were drowned as they tried to escape, not knowing the bridge had been destroyed. Others were easily captured by the Texans as they turned back to find another escape route. The bridge incident encouraged the Texas soldiers on to victory much as the remembrance of the Alamo and Goliad had.
Deaf Smith spent the next two days, as did the rest of the Texas Army, rounding up the Mexicans. Houston assigned Smith to find Santa Anna and Cos. After a long night of searching, Deaf Smith, with a group of other scouts, discovered several soldiers, one of which was Cos. Other members of the same scouting party found Santa Anna later the same day.
In several ways Deaf Smith played a key role in the winning of the Battle of San Jacinto, which turned the tide of the war and secured Texas independence. His work as an exceptionally clever scout and spy; his leadership in the planning and the execution of the destruction of the bridge over Vince's Bayou; and his capture of General Cos — these things made him one of the outstanding men of the Texas Revolution.

Friona Plant Opens With 2,000 Visitors

By TYLER VANCE
Staff Writer
FRIONA — Some 2,000 area residents were on hand Saturday afternoon for dedication ceremonies of the nation's largest beef packing plant built by Missouri Beef Packers Inc.
The special activities, which will continue today with an open house from 1 until 5 p. m., went off as scheduled except for the excitement created by a rumor that President Lyndon B. Johnson was going to make a flying trip in for the afternoon. He failed to show, however, and many persons said there is a possibility that he will fly in for the tour today.
During the dedication ceremonies, MBP president Eugene Frye praised the workmen for "doing a tremendous job in putting together this huge plant and meeting the deadline." Frye, who also was architect and engineer on the project, said "the workmen have done their part and from now on it's up to us to perform."

Congressman Bill Hull of Missouri delivered the dedicatory address, marking the second time he had done so for MBP. He had made the address for the company's Missouri plant in 1966.
Hull lauded the Missouri Beef for locating in a rural area which he said would help keep rural workers in in the own area rather than adding problems by their moving to cities. He stated that industries need to look to rural areas "because of greater opportunities, safer investment and better water and cleaner air."
A. L. Black, who is chairman of Friona's Industrial Development Board, traced the development of the area from the dry land days through the record breaking maize production, the development of the cattle feeding business and now the packing industry.
Special guests at the ceremonies were some 100 dignitaries from Missouri who arrived on a special Santa Fe train. The dignitaries, including the Santa Fe president, John S. Reed, were taken on a special tour of the plant and a bus tour of area feedlots.
The ultra-modern plant is the second largest in the world and is expected to employ about 400 persons in the slaughtering and processing of cattle. A plant in Argentina is larger than the Friona plant, but the hourly output does not compare with that of Friona.
The Friona plant is equipped to process 200 head of cattle per hour.

Officers Elected For College Plan

In an effort to get the ball rolling on the proposed issue of building a junior college in the local four-county area, members of each of the counties steering committees met Thursday night in Hereford.
With some 24 persons present, the group put forth the need for a committee chairman and Preach Edelman, mayor of Friona, was selected to fill this position. Mrs. Louise Stone of Dimmitt was elected as the recording secretary for the committee.
Edelman stated the purpose of the meeting as being "to determine what the thinking is in the four-county area, and see if it will be a worthwhile effort to establish a college in one of the four counties, and also to determine what possibilities, and what the need for it is, and whether we can support a college in our junior college district."
Meeting the expected amount of opposition, the committee aired out opinions from various groups — representing Castro, Oldham, Farmer, and Deaf Smith counties. The representative from Oldham county expressed the fact that there is already a junior college in Amarillo and there seemed to be no apparent need for another college for that county.
Another representative, from Farmer County, stated facts given to him by a junior college president and stated that there was no immediate need for another college in the area because the present will be able to expand to accommodate the rising number of high school graduates.
Falling to come to any definite the committee agreed to have Mrs. Jimmy Gillentine contact a representative of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, and arrange a meeting for further discussion. The next meeting has been set for May 10, at 7:30 p. m. in the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative building.

Optimists Set Annual Contest

The Hereford Optimist Club will have their Boys Oratorical Contest at the LaPlata Junior High School auditorium Tuesday at 8 p.m.
The contest will have speakers from LaPlata, Stanton and St. Anthony's schools. All participants will be boys under the age of 18 years.
The official subject of the contest is "The Golden Opportunities of Youth." Each speaker will deliver his message in approximately 5 minutes, without the use of notes, props, ice-urns, or the use of prompters.
Scoring will be done on personal qualities, material organization, overall effectiveness, delivery and presentation.

Seigler To Head Hospital Group

T. E. Seigler, administrator of the Deaf Smith County Hospital, has been elected chairman of the Panhandle Division of the Texas Hospital Association.
Seigler has succeeded Emmett Johnson, administrator of the new High Plains Baptist Hospital at Amarillo.
The new officers were elected during a Blue Cross Insurance workshop at the Coronado Inn at Amarillo Thursday. Sister Thomasine, administrator of St. Anthony's Hospital at Amarillo is chairman-elect.
Other officers are Bill Barnett, administrator of the Swisher Memorial Hospital at Tulla, vice-chairman; and Ray Grimes, administrator of Nebbett Memorial Hospital at Canyon, secretary-treasurer.
The association meets at noon on the third Wednesday of each month in Amarillo at St. Anthony's.

FFA Team Is First In Contest

The Hereford High School Future Farmers of America chapter was first place winner in a District Grass Judging Contest held at Dumas Thursday.
Members of the winning team are Dan Hall, Steven Olson and Joe Patzold. Hall also was the high individual in the contest with a score of 486 points out of a possible 500; Olson was third high individual with 473 points; and Patzold was fourth highest with 470 points.
Team coach is Richard Robinson, vocational agriculture instructor. The contest was held at Dumas High School under the supervision of the Moore County Soil Conservation District.

School Nurses Making Visits

Hereford elementary school nurses are currently conducting annual pre-school visits and health conferences with those children who will enroll as first graders next September.
These visits will be carried out in the next two or three weeks. Names of the children have been obtained through the school census.
If a child's name has not been listed on the census, parents are urged to call the elementary school where that child will attend school, so he or she might be included in the visits.

School Board Likes Aerospace Science

The Hereford Independent School District Board of Trustees had their two re-elected members qualified, elected new officers, handled such business as proposed new courses and reported on the school tax payment increases.
Hilery Aven and Dr. A. T. Mims were qualified by County Clerk B.F. Cain at the Administration Building Thursday night, following which Olin W. Parris was elected chairman of the trustees for the new term. Raymond C. White became vice-president, and Dr. Mims was re-elected secretary.
Named to the Tax Equalization Board were Harold Morton, Wilber Axe and Rocky Lee.
Aerospace Science was discussed very favorably by the trustees as a proposed new course for the Hereford schools. Superintendent Johnny Clark, Jr. outlined the current importance of such a course and the availability of many better-paying jobs in the future for students involved in these studies — that it is now recognized by the state as an approved but elective subject. He told them that there were three teachers now available in the Hereford school system who were qualified to teach the subject.

Clark, Bob Holman, Roy Hartman and the trustees discussed the availability, also, of necessary aircraft parts and other equipment in the area which could be put to use in aerospace science instruction. They were very pleased with the prospects toward including the subject in the local curriculum.
Also discussed was a German language class.
There will be a new drivers education course offered, now financed by the state, for a full semester class. Under the new drivers education instruction, the time required for the student will be more than double the minimum time as in previous years.
Drivers ed. will also be included in summer school. All other courses offered during the summer will depend upon the number of students enrolled for a specific subject. Clark explained that if there were not enough to warrant teaching a certain subject, the student would accept an alternate subject that will be available will not be known until later.
Latin will not be discontinued at Hereford High School.
A review of the visiting committee's report (for the accreditation last month) was presented.

ed for study and discussion at the next trustee meeting. In view of the fact that it was a somewhat lengthy but nonetheless important survey of the good and bad points of the Hereford school system, it was believed that it could be understood more so following a period of study by the board of trustees, who had received it only Thursday night.
However, Clark did present "The Educational Philosophy of the Hereford Public Schools" to the board, which had been composed for the visiting committee's examination.
"Public schools must turn out young men and women whose years in the classroom have not only equipped them as wage earners but has also equipped them for social stability and the ability to enjoy leisure. No matter how enriched it is, the prevailing system has not educated. If the graduates have not been humanized. Any fruitful strategy for real education, therefore, must see the educational process whole. The perspective for education must embrace the large settings in which schools operate. The objectives of schooling have become the composite of the objectives set for each subject. One important question challenging every school: 'What kinds of persons do we wish our schools to produce?' A free in-

Board Honors Late Teacher

Mrs. Cawthon Bryant, a teacher at Aikman Elementary School with a total of 25 years in Deaf Smith County schools, died on April 11.
The Hereford Independent School District board of trustees issued the following resolution at their meeting Thursday night:
"Speaking for students, parents, and professional colleagues the Hereford School Board of Trustees expresses extreme sorrow to the family of Mrs. Ellen Bryant as her many fruitful years in education are acknowledged."
"Mrs. Bryant was not merely a teacher but a teacher's teacher. She served as a model for others. She took pride in her profession and observed its ethics; she staunchly supported the fundamental principles of democracy; she possessed both integrity of character and positive religious conviction; she had a sympathetic understanding of youth and its problems; and she possessed a personality that enabled her to meet problems with intelligence, energy, cheerfulness, and enthusiasm. These qualities, in summation, made her a great teacher.

"Though the passing of Mrs. Bryant leaves a shadow and much emptiness, there is a ray of satisfaction in knowing that her commitment to education will live forever in the lives of boys and girls — those who were taught to think for themselves, helped to understand their heritage as citizens, brought to respect authority and fellow man, and stimulated to develop native abilities.
"The Hereford Schools are better because of Mrs. Ellen Bryant, and the Board hereby expresses its appreciation for her twenty-one years of tremendous and dedicated community service in the Hereford Public Schools.
"Approved by the Board of Trustees of the Hereford Independent School District this 18th day of April, 1968.
"Olin W. Parris, President, Dr. A. T. Mims, Secretary."

Cooperative Plans Big Day Thursday

Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative will hold its 30th annual meeting on Thursday, at the Bull Barn beginning at 10 a. m. The meeting will climax one of the most successful years in its history, it was reported.
Featured speaker for the meeting is R. C. "Dick" Godwin, Godwin of the Deaf Smith County Water Association, will update the Panhandle and High Plains water development activities.
Co-op members and their families will be guests at a barbecue luncheon, catered by the Hereford Rotary Club. A large number of door prizes will also be awarded, and special entertainment is in store for those attending the business meeting.
Although the purpose of the annual meeting is to report to the membership the record of business for 1967 and the election of directors, it is designed to appeal to all members of the family. For the children of the group, motion picture cartoon subjects will be shown.
Capital credit checks for patronage in the years 1959 through 1967 will be given to co-op members who register between 10 and 12 noon. During this two-hour period before luncheon, local appliance dealers are scheduled to be on hand to display the latest models in modern electric household equipment.

The year 1967 showed large net gains in new meters added, miles of line constructed, kilowatt hours purchased and kilowatt hours sold. Board president Sloan Osborn and manager Leo Forrest will make a report on the co-op's progress.

dustrial society ostensibly supports schools to meet the needs of the individual and society.

"Preoccupation with 'traditional academic' subject matter often blinds schools to the 'affective' element in learning — the emotions and personal concerns of the students. More effective learning does not consist, of course, of scrapping or diluting traditional subject matter. But, it does demand that academic subjects be orchestrated with the learner's feelings, concerns, social, emotional, and recreational needs. 'Hard' knowledge — the fundamentals — is not compromised by real integration of affective with cognitive aspects of education. To assume that it is, is to deny that knowledge is relevant to life and that emotion is a spur to productivity and creativity.

"The Hereford Public School District, as a means of attending to the needs of the learner, has not only oriented its curriculum to careers in the work world but, also, to career concerns as a parent, as an adjusted citizen, and in personal development — the most humanistic of education. Both the school and the community have come to realize that 'education' is not a mass of inert facts or ideas, but an attitude, a style, an appetite, a frame of mind, a continuing function of the full personality. Thus, the 'fundamentals' of education have been increased to include all the fine arts and those courses that culturally elevate, as well as those courses that lend support to the preparation of students for productive lives in the employment world. Hereford recognizes that sometimes the level of culture is rather low in our country and that there is a new world to build — not for science, not for machines, not for materialism; but, for human beings, for man. Thus, education is viewed with an eye that sees what it does to people as people and not solely as wage earners. This is the type of education that will promote emotional security, stability of family life, and greater capacity to enjoy leisure. The attainment of full cultural maturity is the center purpose of the program of education in Hereford.

Development in none of these areas has been left to chance so that learners are ignorant of their own capacities for engagement in them. But, by means of programs that are vocationally oriented, programs that challenge a wide range of academic interest on every level of mental ability, and programs that contribute vitally to the enrichment of individual living, the Hereford School is attempting to assure learners of the best educational experiences economically feasible and possible.

"The administrative organization of the Hereford Public Schools is such that it enhances the implementation of the philosophy herein identified. Assistant superintendents, while assuming many business and financial responsibilities, are curriculum oriented. Directors of curriculum assure uniformity, quality, and variety in programs. All building principals, assisted by assistant principals and adequate secretarial aid, are relieved of excessive routine menial tasks that they might assume the more important role of building educational leader and director."

Clark pointed out to the trustees that there are now 10 students in Hereford High School with band scholarships. They were all pleased with the continued success of the Hereford Whiteface Band.

The Hereford School District now has 955 more students than it had on April 11 last year, Clark pointed out, and the ADA was 289.71 over last year. Total enrollment is now 4,374.

It was also pointed out that the total price on the five new buses was approximately $300 more each than the cost a year ago. They are all Chevrolets with Carpenter bodies.

Much discussion was centered upon the pre-school migrant classes. Clark said that he is set to check on seven portable classrooms in this respect. He detailed the costs of the break-down, as paying its own way and even showing a small profit. Plans are to enrich this program in the future, because it is believed to be very successful in getting and keeping the migrant children in school.

It was also clarified that not all migrant children are Latinos. Some are white and some are Negro. However, with the coming of the Wilson and Co. plant here, many of the children of the new employees will be classed as migrants for the first year — in the white bracket.

In the absence of Orpha Click of the School Tax office, Clark presented the report with the statement that it was a "good." During April, $7,781.97 had been collected "which is higher than we had projected it to be." Last year, only $5,700 had been collected at this time. "$2,600 has been collected in delinquent taxes — compared to only $300 collected by this time last April."

Clark reported that 38 cases of delinquent taxpayers are now ready to go into the Justice of the Peace court.

A case of an owner not rendering his own taxes was presented to the trustees, the owner having asked the board to make a ruling on rendering the taxes for him on a three-year deal. But the trustees reversed their decision, stating that it would set a precedent and would be unfair to other taxpayers.

Teachers elected were Mike Mills, Rosemary Turk, Judy McLarty, Opal Jones, Mayme P. Hunter and Marie M. Stringer. But resignations were accepted for Jim Hofmann who is going into the service; Nelda Rogers who plans to go to school; Mary Jones whose husband was transferred; Beatrice Nishimuta whose husband is going to Texas Tech; Mike Miles, Mrs. Joe R. Hill, 131 Ave. A; Tommy Inman, 626 Ave. G; H. C. Parvin, 232 Ave. A; Craig Carlton, 615 Austin; Diana Gonzalez, Rt. 5; Mrs. Claude J. Marchman, 444 Mable; Mrs. Frank Scott, Rt. 4.

William J. Smith, 513 Ave. J; Harold Head, 307 Western; Mrs. Herman Sifford, Adrian; Jimmy Brown, 504 Plains; Mrs. Earl Morgan, Dimmitt; Mrs. Lee Meek, Nazareth; Mrs. Tom Odom, Clarendon.

Eunice Vasquez

(who was elected but resigned at the same meeting) who has decided to take a fellowship in Michigan, and Melinda Newton, whose husband will be with North Texas State at Denton.

The calendar for auxiliary and administrative personnel was approved, as was a new contract with Columbia Securities. Plans for building needs were presented with an eye to future construction of a school properties.

Plans for attendance at two School Board Workshops were finalized. One is set for Canyon on April 25, but another is set earlier, on April 22, at Lubbock. Hereford will be represented at both workshops.

Eunice Vasquez Will Leave Casa de Amigos This Week

Eunice Vasquez, who has been with the Casa de Amigos for the past three years and four months, plans now to return to school in Mexico.

Miss Vasquez originally came to Hereford from her home in Piedras Negras in Coahuila, Mexico — below the Texas border.

She said that she has an opportunity to go to school in Mexico City and work at the same time.

However, before entering the school there she plans to work in Austin a few months.

Miss Vasquez has been program coordinator at Casa de Amigo. "I helped the VISTAS get organized and helped get the people of Hereford acquainted with our program here. In fact, I did a little bit of everything."

But the name "Vasquez" will not be eliminated at Casa de Amigos. She reported that her brother, Jose, is replacing her on her job here.

Miss Vasquez said, "I liked it here in Hereford — especially since there are a lot of nice people here. At the beginning, they made me feel like I belonged — right away."

Her only complaint was, "I don't like the wind, though."

Eunice was born in General Teran, Nueva Leon, Mexico. She has been a permanent employee of the Hereford Migrant Ministry at the Labor Camp. She has had an apartment at the east end of Casa de Amigos. But she had retained her Mexican citizenship 'with love, loyalty and pride.'

The eldest daughter of Jose Maria Vasquez, a Methodist minister, she has resided in Mexico City previously. Prior to coming to Hereford, she attended Nixon Clay College at Austin, while working part-time as a secretary and as social worker among Austin's Latinos.

Miss Vasquez has not only advised and coordinated the activities at Casa de Amigos, but she makes the programs run and work. She has been or constant call for everything from showers to serving as interpreter in County Court. She has taught English, sewing and cooking, and has helped make available to families in the Labor Camp medical and social services.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor

Christ is the answer. I hope not to bore the editor, and in the meantime, I have no intention of writing anything that would seem controversial. But after the death of Dr. Martin Luther King, while observing other unbecoming incidents, it made me feel thankful to God and more desirous to express my gratitude as I have wished to do previously, for being among people who are not lovers of violence.

Since time and space won't permit, I would like to attempt to give a synopsis of an answer to the pertinent questions that may come to our minds.

While seeing the tremendous growth of Hereford, population as well as industry growth, for the past few years, and in the meantime keeping peace and harmony; also the unity among churches, I feel that the goodness of the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ is the answer.

Jim Scott, 204 Irving, Hereford.

City Unaffected By Phone Strike

Wanda Underwood, service representative of the Hereford office of the telephone company, issued a statement Friday afternoon in regard to the strike of some 165,000 telephone workers Thursday, in a wage dispute — their first nationwide strike in 21 years.

"Bob Tarbet, manager of the Hereford office," she said in his absence, "stated that the Hereford office of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company had not been affected today by the strike of the Communication Workers union against the Western Electric Company. No pickets have been posted at the office by the Western Electric workers, presumably because no installations of equipment is in progress at the Hereford office."

"All employees of the Hereford telephone company are on duty."

Officials of the Bell Telephone System and its parent company, American Telephone and Telegraph Company, said they expect to maintain almost normal service throughout the country. Management officials said there might be some initial problems with person-to-person long distance calls and other services requiring an operator's assistance, but most of the system is automatic.

Fine Arts Festival Week Begins Today

Proclaimed by Mayor Ray Covert as a week to encourage and develop talents of Hereford residents, the first Fine Arts Festival Week in this county begins today, with daily programs scheduled through next Sunday.

Under leadership of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce fine arts committee, with Mrs. R. C. Godwin as chairman and Dale Young as Chamber board member concerned directly, the Festival Week has been planned with cooperation of school, church and civic groups as well as many individuals.

Since it begins on San Jacinto Day, the Festival program today will emphasize the Texas holiday with a display of paintings on historic themes at the County Museum, and a musical drama based on the life of Deaf Smith, to be presented twice in the large assembly room in the museum basement.

Open hours are from 2 to 5 p. m. and there is no admission fee. The play will be repeated Wednesday afternoon when the same hours will be in effect.

Also opening today is an exhibit of religious art from 1 to 5 p. m. at First Christian Church. It will be shown again from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Tuesday, and next Sunday afternoon.

A piano concert by Nicholas Osborn, Hereford music major at West Texas State University, is scheduled at 8 p. m. Monday in First Baptist Church.

Exhibits of work by Jon Birdson, SJHS art instructor, and of ceramics and china painting will be shown Tuesday in Community Center, where the fine arts program of County Federation of Women's Clubs will be open to the public at 1:30 p. m. featuring dance and music.

The high school band concert is set for Thursday evening and a one-act play Friday, with arts and crafts exhibits. Saturday will be Junior High Day at Community Center.

Library Week Begins Today

National Library Week, April 21-27, has been officially proclaimed by Governor John Connally for Texas, with emphasis on the theme, Be All You Can Be - Read!

"The library is one of the foundation stones of human freedom and human dignity... offers the opportunity to learn and to know, the opportunity without which the citizen cannot be free," the governor's proclamation says.

It calls attention to the importance of all types of libraries and their service to a community. Stimulation of better library support and recruitment to the library profession are other aims of the special week, in its eleventh annual observance.

No particular observance of the week is planned in Deaf Smith County Library, but residents are invited, as always, to visit it, choose books from its shelves and use its resources for reference material, says Lorene Newman, librarian.

Former Pastor Sets Retirement

The Rev. Herschel Thurston, former pastor of Hereford's First Methodist Church for seven years and pastor at Floydada the past two years, has announced plans to retire after the annual meeting of Northwest Texas Methodist Conference next month.

The minister told the Floydada church board that he and Mrs. Thurston will make their home at Ute Park, N. M., at the close of his 45 years in the Methodist ministry.

While they occupied the First Methodist parsonage here, the Thurstons were active in other phases of the city's life as well as in their duties with the church, and they are widely acquainted in the community.

Whitefaces Rally To Defeat Clovis

Pulling one of their thundering come-from-behind rallies, the Hereford Whiteface baseball team sent five runs home in the final inning Friday to defeat Clovis 9-5 in a non-conference game.

Leading the Herd's rally was Barry Johnson, who slammed two doubles and a two-run homer in the last inning. Johnson also picked up the victory — his third against one loss — when the Whitefaces went ahead after Johnson had relieved starter Sheldon White.

Hereford had taken a 3-1 lead in the first inning, then added another score in the fourth. However, the Wildcats picked up two runs in the bottom of the fifth and two more in the next inning.

The Whitefaces had 11 hits in the game, while the Wildcats could manage only four. Hereford committed 5 errors however, and Clovis had only 1.

Slamming the only other extra — base hit was Lynn Betts, who connected for a double.

The Whitefaces will return to District 1-AAA action Tuesday when they travel to Canyon to battle the Eagles. Canyon is currently last in the conference race as they have lost three games, including Friday's 23-3 loss to Dumas.

Dumas now has defeated Canyon twice and Hereford once to lead the district. Hereford has beat Canyon previously and lost to Dumas.

Spring Concert To Be Thursday

The Texas Honor Band of Hereford High School will appear in its annual spring concert at 8 p. m. Thursday in the school auditorium, directed by Ben Gollehon. A varied program with guest conductors and soloists will be heard.

Admission is one dollar, and the public is invited for the concert. It has been scheduled this spring to be a part of Fine Arts Festival Week sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce fine arts committee, and is the only one of the Festival events with an admission charge.

A member, Joy McCathern, will be soloist for Marcello's Concerto For Oboe, and Lowell Wiggins will play the alto saxophone solo in another selection, Misty (Burke-Garner). Don Baird of West Texas State University faculty will be a guest baritone soloist.

Lynn McLarty, director of LaPlata Junior High School band, and Jim Priest, who directs Stanton Junior High Band, will each conduct the high school musicians in a number. Vince Johnson, student teacher at West Texas State University, will also be a guest conductor for one selection.

BASEBALL TRYOUTS — Some 250 boys turned out for the baseball tryouts at the little league fields

Thursday and Friday. Coaches were on hand, looking over the crop, and choosing their teams for the up-coming season. Each boy had a different technique for impressing the coach, as can be seen above.

Herd Lines

By Marshall Day

He set 16 offensive college records, he threw for 348 yards against Nebraska in 1964 when Nebraska was the Big Eight champ, he was selected to the second team All-Conference on two occasions as a quarterback under Marvin Bass. Not enough? Well the real heartbreaker came when he was completely ignored in all the pro drafts.

Speaking of course of the now famous running back for the Dallas Cowboys, Dan Reeves. All of this just goes to point out even further why he is among the nations best backs in business.

Taking that big step from college football to the awesome plateau of pro ranks, Reeves made his debut when he stepped into the light from the free agent ranks as an ignored quarterback from South Carolina. During his first year with the Cowboys, he was switched from the quarterback position to the back slot where he immediately showed some promise through gaining 162 yards with 33 carries for an average of 3.1 yards-per-carry, with two touchdowns to his credit.

Tagged as "an intelligent athlete who is a gliding type of runner and uses his 4.7 speed effectively," Reeves' fancy footwork and quick movements spoke for themselves during his second season with the League winning Cowboys when he led the club in rushing with 737 yards. He gained these yards through 175 carries for a total of 4.3 yards-per-carry and eight TD's. His longest carry of the season was 67 yards.

Not limiting himself to being just a rusher, Reeves took on other duties including passing, kickoff returning, punt returning, and also receiving. In passing, for his three year span with the 'Boys, he has attempted 15 passes while completing 8 of these for a total of 254 yards and two touchdowns. In kickoff returning, Reeves gathered in five of the kickoffs and has returned them for a total of 101 yards for an average of 20.2 yards-per-return. While his punt returning is not up to par, he scorched the grass with his receiving pass patterns, as through three years, he has pulled in 89 passes for a total of 1257 yards, 15 touchdowns, and an average of 14.1 yards per catch.

Reeves, who is a native of Rome, Georgia and a resident of Andersonville, Georgia, works as a salesman for Gifford-Hill Western in Dallas on the off-season. He is scheduled to speak at two separate gatherings in Hereford during his travels through this area and mainly responsible for his being here is Gifford-Hill Western of Hereford.

He will speak for the Hereford Whiteface Booster Club's All-Sports Banquet on Tuesday, May 7 and then again to a local joint civic club meeting on Wednesday, May 8.

Once again a district 1-AAA player has been selected to an All West Texas Academic Team, basketball, and while he was not a member of the local Whiteface group, he is a representative of this district.

The nominations, which are made from over 400 schools in the 132 county area, are selected by a special committee named by President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Don Wooten of Abilene.

Selected to this coveted was Ronnie McInturff of Dumas with a scholastic average of 90.0 along with Pat Fees, Lamesa, with an average of 87.5; Thomas Hugh Bullard, Snyder, 87.3; Kevin Hutson, Littlefield, 84.7; Steve Brashear, Levelland, 82.0; Weldon Gooden, Waco Moore, 82.0; Johnny Hill, Levelland, 81.0; Mike Rodgers, Andrews, 80.0; Tim Pearson, Andrews, 80.4; and Ricky Laminack, Andrews, 80.1

Just putting in a punch for the local Kiwanis Relays again for you elementary track fans to remind you that the meet will be held Tuesday at Whiteface Stadium.

There are expected to be some 100 youngsters who will participate in the relays which include nine different events. These are 50, 75, and 100-yard dashes, 440-yard relays, pull-up, high jump, broad jump, shot put, and the 800-yard relay.

Sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club for the second time in as many years, schools entered in the events will be Alkman, Bluebonnet, Central, Northwest, Shirley, and St. Anthony's and Walcott.

Golf Team Is 4th In Tourney

The Hereford High School golf team fired a team score of 691 to finish fourth in the Class AAA regional tournament at Odessa Friday.

Scores for the Whitefaces included Russell Phillips, 82 and 83 for a total of 165; Marsh Pitman, 81 and 86 for 167 total; Steve Hendon, 87 and 88 for 175 total; Don Maxwell, 89 and 97 for a 186 total, and Wayne Stroerner, 92 and 92 for a 184 total. Dave Belding of Kermit was medalist in the tournament shooting a 73 and 81 for a 154 total.

Andrews won the regional meet with a team score of 658. Snyder was second with 658, Kermit was third with 665, Lamesa was fifth with 692, and Perryton finished last with a 708 score.

Pony League To Have Try-Outs

Pony League try-outs will be held Thursday and Friday, April 25 and 26 of this month it was announced, with the auction for players to be held in a meeting Friday after the try-outs are completed.

Try-outs will be at the Pony League park and the announcement of players will be published in the Sunday Brand.

It was also pointed out that applications must be filled out by all boys interested in playing regardless of whether or not they played on a team last season.

FINE ARTS

FESTIVAL WEEK

PROCLAIMED BY Mayor Ray Cowser, Fine Arts Festival Week will present an array of Hereford talent in a variety of programs beginning this afternoon, sponsored by the fine arts committee of Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce. All are open to the public and admission is free to all except the annual spring concert of Hereford High School Band Thursday evening.

OPENING PROGRAMS today will be in the County Museum, where a drama with music, based on incidents in the life of Texas hero Deaf Smith, will be presented at 2 and 4 p.m. by a cast from Stanton Junior High and an exhibit of paintings with historic significance has been hung by Hereford Art Guild; and at Central Christian Church where some 50 works of religious art, originals and prints of famous paintings, will be open from 1 to 5 p.m.

CREATION OF A THEATRE in the museum basement room, where there is ample seating space, was achieved by students directed by Jon Birdsong of the SJHS faculty, from materials as rugged as the play's subject. Dennis Sims, on the ladder, Glenda Cooksey and Billie Key, ready to sew, are putting up the background of gunny-sacks which were spray-painted to make the forest scene — example at right.

JUNIOR HISTORICAL Society officers, Randy Corlis, president, and Jan Turrentine, secretary, look over books in a display of Texas historical volumes and photographs at the County Library with Mrs. M. C. Adams, one of the group's sponsors. Juniors will assist at the museum this afternoon and Wednesday, when program will be repeated there. The library's exhibit, featuring heroes of the Texas revolution, comes at the beginning of National Library Week.

AWARD WINNING ensembles from La Plata Junior High Band will play for the fine arts program of County Federation of Women's Clubs at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in Community Center. A flute trio, Nancy Fisher, Kima Marsh and Lisa Williamson, and a clarinet quartet comprising of Sara Bell, who was not present for the photograph, Laura Pierce, Connie Walker and Gary London, will be heard.

The Floyd Neills plan to live in the home where her late grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Greeson, lived. They are re-decorating the house and will move in soon.

Debbie Banks spent the ten-day Easter holidays with her parents, the D. E. Banks, and returned to school at Tech Monday.

Weidon Stephan started as director of choir for a revival at Texline Baptist Church, last Wednesday. Mrs. Stephan and the children are spending the weekend there. They are staying with her sister, Mrs. E. H. Little and family.

Plans are being made for Vacation Bible School at Frio Baptist Church. Mrs. Earl Harkins will be the principal. Dates set are June 5-14 and will be from 4 until 7 each afternoon. Association-wide Bible school preparation day for teachers will be at Earth Baptist Church all day

April 22. Mr. and Mrs. Dee Taylor visited his parents, the Deward Taylors, at Friona Sunday and attended church with them at Calvary Baptist Church.

The hard wind Friday had the farmers out working small green beets and other crops to keep down damage. Some trailers and a shed were blown over on the Andrews farm, known as the Old Sparkman place.

Kiwanians Hear From Shriners

Bill Fairley, a full time professional Shriner from Amarillo, was on hand Thursday afternoon, to present a film showing the work of the Shriner's clinics to the local Kiwanis club.

The film was built around a case history of a small girl who went to the clinic for treatment.

Also present at the meeting to assist Fairley was Charlie Bell, outgoing president of the local Shrine organization.

President Ray Todd of Kiwanis reminded members of the up-coming track meet, the fertilizer sale, pancake supper, and of the Key Club candy sale, now going on.

The Key Club officers were guests of the club at the meeting. They included John Stagner, Gary Crume, Marvin Reidheimer and Paul Hendon.

Concerning Veterans

About $1 million in undeliverable checks is returned to the Veterans Administration each year.

This means that some 12,000 persons miss at least one payment of their monthly compensation, pension, or other VA benefit. In some instances, failure to receive a monthly check results in a hardship to the family involved.

To help solve this problem, the VA advises all recipients to give the VA and the Post Office Department their new address, including zip code, when they plan to move.

Mrs. Huckert Enjoys On-The-Go Life Of Working With Youth, 4-H Clubs

By PENNY YOUNG
Staff Writer

Mrs. Joe Frank (Rita) Huckert, Assistant County Home Demonstration Agent, has been employed by the County Extension Service for almost three years now and has been mainly concerned with helping the women and girls of Deaf Smith County with their work in various programs.

Mrs. Huckert began her homemaking career in a 4-H club in high school and, later as a college student at Texas Tech she majored in Home Economics. After graduating from Tech, she started her work as a home demonstration agent in the Deaf Smith County Courthouse.

Youth Work and 4-H clubs are what she is mostly concerned with. This involves working through the 4-H leaders in order to set up such things as year-books for the clubs, to assist in programs, monthly meetings, and project groups. Project groups are set up so any one interested in a certain subject may meet in a group for discussion on this subject. A few of the topics discussed are child care, foods, money management, and anything else that might interest a certain group of 4-Hers.

"Foods is a popular project with the girls," commented Mrs. Huckert. "It's something that they can do at home. Most of what they learn in a project group can be applied at home. We try to set up groups with the topics that they as students are interested in and get adult leaders to help. These leaders are usually parents but in the past we have gotten a few business men to assist us in this work. Men that know about photography and electricity have offered their services; and really anyone who feels that he would like to help and knows something about a certain subject is more than welcome to assist the leaders." Part of her work as a Home Demonstration assistant is to go to different clubs and organizations to deliver speeches and demonstrated lectures on material connected with the needs of the everyday woman or to further the education of a group of girls interested in homemaking.

"Mainly I work with the 4-H clubs and I've presented them programs," Mrs. Huckert explained. "Sometimes I talk with Home Demonstration clubs to tell them about the 4-H work being conducted, but most of my talks are with 4-Hers since I do work with them through their leaders. I usually talk about such things as manners and courtesy, bake show projects, give food demonstrations, talk about clothing, or any other subject connected with home economics that they would like to know about. Money management, bedroom improvement, and health are a few of the subjects. I can usually work up something on any subject that is requested. I gave a talk to a group of campfire girls one time about storage in their bedrooms."

In a 4-H program, Mrs. Huckert stresses citizenship. A 4-H program is held for equal training of the head, heart, hand, and health. Everything that people do has to do with citizenship.

For 10 minutes every Thursday, Mrs. Huckert is given time on the radio for a small program giving information on all phases of home economics. She gives pointers about such things as laws, clothing, foods and a recent problem that she has been explaining over radio is the sudden new sizing on the patterns. Actually the program consists of varied subjects on home economics.

"On this program," explained Mrs. Huckert, "I speak mainly to the homemakers since they are my biggest audience that time of morning, and try to give them information that might help them to have a better household or try to drop a few helpful hints."

MRS. JOE FRANK (RITA) HUCKERT, Home Demonstration Assistant at the Deaf Smith County Courthouse manages to keep busy through many scheduled speeches with youth groups, clubs, and 4-H meetings. She also conducts her own 10-minute radio program on Thursdays.

In youth work, Mrs. Huckert works closely with Juston McBride, coordinator of the boys activities. McBride is in charge of such things as the livestock raising, farming, and anything else that would come under the heading of boys activities. On joint activities they work together, such as money making projects and contest. Both work through the individual leaders of the 4-H clubs.

Many times, the Home Demonstration office will try to appoint adult leaders to work with the students on certain projects and Mrs. Huckert generally will try to give them a training period on the use of the project guides and in securing resource material.

"One thing that I do like about this job is meeting people. You meet all kinds of different people who are so kind and nice. I enjoyed my 4-H work when I was in high school and I would like to help the present 4-Hers to get as much out of the program as I did."

Colorado Confab Is Attended By Hereford Men

Two local men — Austin Rose Jr. and R. C. Godwin — were among 450 persons who attended an important water meeting Friday in Lamar, Colo.

Purpose of the meeting was to explain the Beck Plan for diverting water from the Missouri River at the Fort Randall Dam on into Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas, all the way to the Rio Grande River at the Mexico border.

If the plans materialize, said Godwin, it is planned in the future to bring in surplus water from Canada to join in with the Beck plan.

There were approximately 50 persons at the meeting from Texas. Also attending were Bruce Pharr and A. W. Anthony of Friona. Godwin and Rose represented the Deaf Smith County Water Association.

Church Showing Religious Art

An exhibit of religious art, with original painting by local artists and a collection of prints loaned by the Colonial Art Company of Oklahoma City, will be on view in First Christian Church, open to the public from 1 to 5 p. m. this afternoon, all day Tuesday and again, next Sunday from 1 to 5 p. m., free of charge.

The church has arranged this exhibit as one of the events of the Hereford Fine Arts Festival sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce fine arts committee, the Rev. Eugene Brink, minister, announces.

In addition to the collection of prints from Oklahoma City, which has reproductions of world-famous religious paintings as well as modern works, the exhibit will include paintings and a group of photographs which are in the permanent collection of the First Christian Church, some loaned by the minister and others, and some original works of Hereford painters loaned by the artists.

The paintings are numbered and visitors will be given leaflets to identify the various work. The exhibit begins in the church fellowship hall and numbers may be followed from there through halls to the narthex, prayer room, church office and minister's study.

Two paintings by Mrs. A. Petersen, Christ, and The Good Shepherd, are among those by local artists. Mrs. Howard Johnson's interpretations of The Seven Deadly Sins is actually seven separate pictures, representing Anger, Sensuality, Envy, Gluttony, Greed, Sloth and Pride. Mrs. O. H. Culpepper is loaning her original painting titled Man's Reach; Marie Roberson, The Christ Of The Andies, and Mrs. Mark Schaffner an appealing study, Child Praying.

Sculpture titled "Let Us Heartily Rejoice In The Strength Of Our Salvation," by Bettye Brown, is one of the pieces owned by the Rev. Brink. He also is loaning a print of the famous Durer drawing, Praying Hands, and another version of the same subject by Hodgell.

The Rev. Fred Toward, vicar of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, has loaned Unger's painting, The Cross, Crucifixion, by Signer, owned by Mrs. John D. Alkin, will be shown, as will the bas-relief by Keimand, Mary, owned by Mrs. Glenn Roberson. From the church's collection of art are photographs by Alberta Rae Richards depicting the Twelve Apostles; a copy of Saliman's familiar study, Head of Christ and another Head of Christ by Borosin; one of Rembrandt's paintings of Christ, and Zund's The Way To Emmaus.

Modern religious art such as Dali's Sacrament Of The Last Supper and Crucifixion and Gauguin's In Orana Maria will be among the 30 prints on display, as well as work of old masters such as Rembrandt's Supper at Emmaus, Michelangelo's Jeremiah and Raphael's Sistine Madonna.

There are also well-known pictures which tell Bible stories among them Christ An-The Rich Young Ruler, by Hofmann, Rest On The Flight To Egypt, Van Dyck; Christ At The Sea Of Galilee, Tintorette and Lost Sheep, Soord.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

Editor's Note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 200 W. 9th Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q - Now that the National Security Council has recommended that the lists of essential activities and critical occupations issued by the Departments of Commerce and Labor be suspended, is there a change in the authority for granting occupational deferments?

A - No. Draft boards still have the responsibility under law to use discretion in granting these deferments, based on facts in the individual case. Q - I understand that a man who lives with his child sometimes is deferred in Class III-A. How does Selective Service define the word "child"?

A - Regulations define the word "child," as including a legitimate or an illegitimate child from the date of its conception, a child legally adopted, a stepchild, a foster child, and a person who is supported in good faith by the man in a relationship similar to that of a parent and child, but does not include any person 18 or older unless he is physically or mentally handicapped.

Q - Must I have completed a certain number of hours of apprentice training before being considered for deferment in Class II-A (Apprentice) for my participation in an approved apprenticeship training program?

A - No. The requirement that a specific number of hours be completed before consideration could be given was eliminated by the Director of Selective Service in a change to the regulations published in 1967. The training program itself must have been in operation at least a year.

Funeral Conducted For Merchant Infant

Funeral services for Kyle Marchman, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James Marchman, 446 Mable, were conducted Saturday afternoon in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home by the Rev. Ron Harpster, pastor of Avenue Baptist Church. Bur-

James E. Young Funeral Rites Held On Friday

The funeral of James Ethridge Young, 73, of 129 Ave. E. was conducted Friday afternoon in the First Baptist Church by the Rev. J. I. Bishop, interim pastor. Burial in Rest Lawn Cemetery was directed by Gilliland Funeral Home.

Mr. Young, a retired carpenter, died Wednesday evening in local hospital after several weeks' illness. He had been a Hereford resident since May, 1934, when he moved here from Oklahoma. Born Nov. 24, 1894 at Dardanelle, Ark., he married Pearl Morten July 28, 1920 in Oklahoma City. He was a member of First Baptist Church and had a record of U.S. Army service in World War I. Surviving him are his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Frances Euler of Friona; two sons, Neal Young of Hereford and Edward Young of Memphis, Tenn.; a sister, Mrs. Belle Ewton of Colorado Springs; two brothers, Ted Young of Hereford and Will Young of Bakersfield, Calif.; and six grandchildren.

Hereford schools moved into the new high school building (now Central School) in the fall of 1910.

Flower Identity Game Completes Club Program

Pictures of flowers commonly grown in yards of this area were shown members of Wyche Home Demonstration Club after a program Thursday afternoon, and they were asked to identify the blossoms and designate annuals and perennials.

Mrs. C. F. Newsom was hostess in her home. Mrs. E. C. Hewitt discussed perennials and Mrs. Ira Ott annuals, each listing varieties which grow well here and giving suggestions for cultivating them.

Mrs. Hewitt reminded the club women that perennials should be arranged carefully in flower beds because they are relatively permanent plantings which come up year after year. They grow best from bulbs or roots of parent plants, and should be transplanted in fall or spring, she said.

Annuals are best for temporary planting, or where quick bloom is wanted, Mrs. Ott said. They grow from seed, live only one season, and generally bloom either in the spring or fall. She suggested planting seed indoors and setting plants out when danger of frost is past, to secure early bloom.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Guy Newsom, Dennis Farley and Schlicht.

In 1925, F. H. Oberthier sold the light plant he had begun in 1908 to a public utilities company which later became Southwestern Public Service Company.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our appreciation to our many friends and neighbors for all the help, food, flowers and words of sympathy during the illness and loss of our Mother. We would also like to thank Dr. Mims and Dr. Rush and all the nurses for their kindness and help during her stay in the hospital.

Piano Concert Festival Event

A Hereford pianist, Nicholas Osborn, will be presented in a solo program Monday evening, one of the features of Fine Arts Festival Week sponsored by the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce fine arts committee. The public is invited to hear the concert, without charge, beginning at 8 p. m. in First Baptist Church auditorium.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Osborn, 190 Westhaven, the young pianist is a sophomore in West Texas State University, where he is studying piano under Stanley Potter. His program Monday will open with two selections contrasting styles of a classic and a modern composer. Both are titled Prelude And Fugue In D Major; one is the work of Johann Sebastian Bach, who composed in the early eighteenth century and the other of the contemporary Russian composer Shostakovich.

The three movements of Beethoven's Sonata in D Minor, Op. 31, No. 2 will be presented, then a group of Chopin pieces; Nocturnes in D Flat Major and in F Major and the Waltz in A Flat Major.

Osborn appeared in solo recital here just before his graduation from Hereford High School two years ago, sponsored by the Music Study Club. He was frequently heard as piano soloist and accompanist for high school musical groups when he was a student.

Leron B. Gough, whose father was Hereford's first full-term mayor, set up a boothblack stand at the town barber shop in 1905 when he was fifteen. During the summer he shined the cowboy's boots when they came in from the range to get cleaned up and make "Whoopes."

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor, I and my family wish to thank you for putting my letter to the Editor in the Brand on Thursday, April 18, 1968, regarding the City's negligent part in the handling of a dog being held for observation that was suspected of being ill. I must apologize also for having given the wrong month (March) as to when the incident occurred. It was this month (April) that the incident occurred. I hope that the public and employees of Hereford and Deaf Smith County have benefited from this incident for it is good that come from such unfortunate matters as that happened. If there is a tight relationship and a united effort between the City and County in every respect, then the public will benefit and feel secure. Thank you, Bob Miller, 1122 South Main Hereford

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q - I owe about $50 on my 1967 taxes. Should I add that amount to my 1968 estimated tax check.

A - It is advisable to write separate checks or money orders for the two different tax liabilities to make sure your payments are properly credited. Identify each check with your name and social security number and indicate what tax the payment covers.

The reason for writing separate checks for your 1967 tax balance and your 1968 estimated tax payment is that separate processing operations are involved for the tax return and the estimated tax declaration. When one check is written to cover two tax payments, the entire amount may be credited to just one tax. This could result in a refund for overpayment on one return and a bill for additional tax on the other return.

It will also be helpful to mail each tax return with the check attached in a separate envelope. This will help assure that the return is properly processed. Q - I'm 59 and retired last year because of illness. Is my company pension taxable?

A - A pension received for retirement before normal retirement age because of sickness or injury may qualify as sick pay. In that case up to $100 a week may be excluded from income until you reach normal retirement age.

For details, send a post card to your district director and ask for Document No. 5016, Sick Pay.

Q - I filed my tax return over ten weeks ago. Shouldn't I have my refund by now?

A - Yes, if the return was complete and accurate. A return claiming a refund filed in the year takes from 5 to 6 weeks to process. In most cases, when refunds are delayed, a letter explaining the delay is sent to the taxpayer.

If you have not heard from IRS, check the address you used on your tax return to see if it is the same as your current address. If not, send your new address to the Service Center where you filed your return. Lack of a current address holds up the delivery of many refunds.

If your address has not changed, contact your local IRS office or write to the Service Center where you filed. Give your name, Social Security number, address, date of filing, type of return filed and ask them for advice about your refund.

Q - I pay medical care insurance for my mother. If she qualifies as my dependent, can I use the new rules on medical care insurance deductions?

A - Yes, premiums paid for medical care insurance for yourself, your spouse and your dependents are covered by the new rules. Total all of these premiums you paid last year and deduct one-half of them up to $150 without regard to the three percent rule. The balance of the premiums should be included with your other medical expenses which are subject to the three percent limitation.

You must itemize your deductions to use this new rule.

Q - My refund came last week and it is about $40 less than what I claimed. Why?

A - It could be that you made a mistake in arithmetic or used the wrong tax table. An explanation of why the change was necessary should be mailed to you shortly.

To avoid such mistakes in the future, double check your return before you file. If you are married and filing a joint return use the table for married couples filing jointly, not the one for married couples filing separately. Single taxpayers should not use the table for heads of household unless they meet the requirements described on page 3 of the 1968 instructions.

Q - My wife and I own stock which is registered in both our names. Are the first $200 in dividends we receive tax free?

Yes, if you file a joint return. If you file separately each may exclude up to $100 in dividends.

Q - We adopted a child last year although the final papers didn't go through until this year. Can we claim her as a dependent on our 1967 return?

A - Yes, if the child was placed in your home for adoption in 1967, was a member of your household and the support tests described on page 4 of the 1968 instructions are met.

Q - How do I get the taxes back that were withheld from my wages last summer? This was my only income and I earned less than $600 for the year.

A - To obtain a refund of withheld income taxes an income tax return must be filed. You may use the short Form 1040A available at banks, post office and local IRS offices. Be sure to include a copy of your withholding statement showing the wages paid and taxes withheld.

Q - I am employed as a painter and occasionally do some work on my own weekends. Do I have to pay self-employment tax?

A - If the net income from your part-time work is $400 or more you may be liable for self-employment tax. For an explanation of this tax send a post card to your district director and ask for a copy of Document No. 5017, Self-Employment Tax.

Q - I use my car for business. Is there anything I can deduct for its operation?

A - Yes, if the cost of its operation qualifies as an allowable business expense. In that case you may deduct your actual expenses in operating the car or a standard mileage rate of ten cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles of business use and seven cents a mile thereafter. Check your 1968 instructions to see if you qualify for this deduction.

If you use the standard mileage rate, a speedometer reading at the beginning and end of each business trip will establish the amount you can deduct. Tolls and parking fees are deductible in addition to the standard rate.

If you are reimbursed by your company for the use of the car, your deduction must be reduced by the amount of your reimbursement. Any excess of your reimbursement over the expenses should be declared as income.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

Hopeful News In Medicine

SUFFERERS from allergy, asthma and migraine very often are able, by "trial and error," to arrive at some conclusion about the foods they are allergic to. In a surprising number of cases, migraine sufferers claim that a severe attack can be started by eating chocolate or cheese.

Dr. Coleman

In many instances they were correct. When these foods in their diet became milder and sometimes were eliminated entirely.

It occurred to a research scientist at the Elizabeth Anderson Hospital in London that there might be some truth to this relationship. Mrs. Edda Hanington undertook a study that led to the interesting concept that a substance, tyramine, may be responsible for the migraine headaches, since this chemical was found in large quantities in cheese.

Mrs. Hanington then gave a fairly large dose of the chemical, tyramine, to those patients who had suspected cheese as a reason for their migraine. In a large number of cases, a sudden attack of migraine occurred when the drug was given to them. The amount of the drug equaled about four ounces of cheese.

There is sufficient validity to this study for other researchers to continue this line of research to learn why these "head-splitting" headaches start. When this is uncovered it is hoped that migraine headaches may be totally controlled.

The social problem of addiction to morphine is an overwhelming one. The catastrophic destruction of lives is terrifying.

The United States Food and Drug Administration carefully surveys every new drug for safety before they permit it to be patented by the public. A new drug, pentazocine, has been tried on more than 10,000 patients. It was given for the relief of pain over a long period of time without the threat that patients might become addicted as they now can be to morphine. This has tremendous value. Patients will benefit and hospital personnel will not need the rigid rules of security that now surround the morphine cabinet.

Cavalcade Of Cotton Is Style Show Theme

Cavalcade of Cotton will be the theme of a style show staged by Home Demonstration Club members of Deaf Smith County May 3 at Dawn. Plans for acting as hostess club for the show were completed in a business meeting of Dawn H. D. Club Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. D. Fowler.

Various club business was discussed at the Friday meeting the only program was a short talk by Mrs. R. T. Stewart on the subject, Good Things About Highway Safety.

She said that although traffic fatalities are increasing, the rate of deaths to miles driven has decreased. Safety experts attribute this fact to stricter laws including mandatory motor checks and use of safety belts, she added.

Mrs. Dick Golden, club president, was designated to make the presentation of a scholarship which the club will give this spring to a high school senior home economics student.

A report was made on Easter gifts sent to Brenda Ward, the 15-year-old resident of Gristown whom the club has "adopted" and will supply with clothing and other gifts during the year.

Announcement was made of a program on drying flowers and putting antique finish on flowers, to be given in Dawn Community Building May 17.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I've been unable to get a W-2 from my former employer. Should I file my return without it?

A — Yes, file your return even if you have not received all your W-2 forms. If a W-2 is missing, attach a note in explanation including your name and social security number, employer's name, wages and taxes withheld.

If wages and taxes are not known estimate them to the best of your knowledge.

Q — I just got my refund. Can I throw away last year's tax records?

A — No. Records should be kept as long as they are material in administering Federal tax law. Generally, this is three years from the date the return was due.

Some records, like those on the purchase of a home or stock may have to be kept indefinitely.

Q — Do weekends count in computing the waiting period for a sick pay exclusion?

A — Yes, count them unless the illness began on a weekend. In that case, the waiting period begins on the next work day.

Q — Where should I send my return?

A — On page 10 of the 1040 instructions and on the back cover of the 1040A instructions, you will find the mailing address to use. If you have a refund coming, use the envelope that came with your tax package.

Q — I read where missing scheduled held up some refunds. Which ones were they talking about?

A — Listed below are the schedules taxpayers are most often required to complete and

ITCHING, SWEATY FEET HOW TO STOP IT.

CAUSED BY A GERM. Kill the germ, stop the itching, sweating. Ordinary antipruritics are no use. Apply T-4-L POWERFUL GERM KILLER for itchy, sweaty feet, foot odor. If not pleased OVERNIGHT, your side back at any drug counter. TODAY at Rogers-Miller Drug send in with the Form 1040.

Schedule B — Required when income is from pensions, annuities, rents, royalties, partnerships, estates and trusts. This schedule should be used to claim the retirement income credit.

Schedule C — Required to report profit or loss from a business or profession.

Schedule D — Required to report gains or losses from the sale or exchange of property.

Copies of these schedules and instructions for filling them out are available at many banks and post offices as well as all local offices of the IRS.

Q — I support my uncle who lives with us. Will his social security pension affect my dependency claim for him?

A — Social security benefits do not have to be included in determining whether your uncle met the $600 gross income test, but they are counted in determining the support test. Check page 4 of the 1040 instructions for details on the dependency tests.

Q — I got a divorce in January 1968 and my ex-husband wants me to file a joint return with him for 1967. Can we do that?

A — Your marital status for 1967 is determined by whether you were married on the final day of the tax year, so you may file a joint return for 1967. Keep in mind, however, that if you file a joint return with your ex-husband, you will be as legally responsible as he is for payment of any tax due.

Q — When is the next social security payment due on my maid's wages?

A — Employers required to withhold social security taxes on household help should file Form 942 for the first quarter by April 30.

Q — How does the new rule on medical insurance deductions work? Can you only deduct $150 for this expense now?

A — Taxpayers who itemize their deductions, may now deduct one-half of their medical insurance premiums up to $150 without regard to the three percent limit. The balance of the taxpayer's medical insurance premiums should be added to his other medical and dental expenses and may be deducted subject to the three percent of Income limitation.

Q — I paid some medical bills for my daughter last year. Can I deduct them even though I'm divorced and my wife has custody of the child?

A — If you are entitled to claim your daughter as a dependent, then you may deduct the medical expenses you paid for her. If your former wife claims the child as a dependent, then you may not deduct these expenses.

Q — How much can you deduct for car expenses to obtain medical treatment — five or ten cents per mile?

A — The deduction is five cents a mile for travel costs to obtain medical care or treatment. However, when allowable travel expenses exceed this rate you may deduct your actual expenses.

The ten cents per mile figure is for business travel.

Income Facts Tax

Dallas — Now is the time for North Texas wage earners to take another look at their income tax withholding situation to see whether it covers their actual tax liability.

District Director of Internal Revenue, Ellis Campbell, Jr., said today that some wage earners may still owe additional tax. This is particularly true where income was derived from sources other than wages, and the taxpayer did not file an estimate tax return.

In those cases, Mr. Campbell suggested that taxpayers file a new withholding exemption certificate, Form W-4, with their employer to increase the amount of tax withheld each pay period.

If the taxpayer has already reduced his exemptions to zero, he may enter into an agreement with his employer to withhold additional amounts needed each pay period to meet his tax obligations.

Local Group To Hold Meeting

The first meeting of the year for the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce's Recreation Committee will be held at 5 p. m. Tuesday, at the local Chamber office it was announced.

The purpose of this meeting is to discuss the YMCA day camp for the upcoming summer and also the possibility of obtaining lights for the high school baseball field.

Chamber Officers Act On Policies

Directors of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, in a meeting Wednesday morning, set policy on riot and crime, farm labor, director's, and agreed to reprint more brochures about the county.

During the meeting, it was pointed out that the supply of brochures telling of the merits of Deaf Smith County has been nearly depleted due to tourists heading for the HemisFair.

Directors voted to use the profits made from this year's Chamber of Commerce banquet to reprint 10,000 brochures, and if there are enough funds that up to 20,000 brochures be authorized upon the discretion of the manager and the executive committee.

Directors drafted a resolution making it a policy of the chamber to oppose any legislation which would encourage the unionization of farm labor. The Government Affairs Committee of the Chamber had also passed the resolution on Tuesday. The motion to adopt the policy passed unanimously.

After a discussion, the directors unanimously passed a policy stating that "public officials at all levels of government be requested to express their support for the enforcement of laws relative to riots, insurrection, arson and such acts and that such officials should see that violators be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law." Copies of the policy will be forwarded to elected officials.

Directors also passed a policy declaring the R. L. Polk Company as the official directory publisher for Hereford and Deaf Smith County. A motion also passed that dues of $175 be paid to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Three firms were dropped from membership in the Chamber.

Those attending included Earnest Langley, president; Dale Young, vice president; Ed Line, treasurer, and directors, Don Zimmerman, Ed Wilson, Melvin Young, Don Baugous, Morris Easley, Virgil Marsh and Jerry Detwiler. Also in attendance were Bill Thompson, chamber manager, and invited members, Ray Pool, Stacy Starrett and Dick Barrett.

OUR HEALTH

By J. M. Amberson, M.D.

IS THERE ANY CURE FOR BURSTITIS?

Acute bursitis is probably one of the most excruciatingly painful conditions afflicting man. Since it is so terribly painful, a patient does not wait long before he sees his physician asking for relief.

In over 90 percent of the cases, aspiration, i.e., withdrawing the viscous fluid content and soluble calcium, followed by an injection of hydrocortisone will bring rapid relief from the intense pain.

What causes bursitis is this: Each of us has many bursae in our bodies, sac-like structures lying between muscles and joints or between ligaments and bone. These bursal sacs are lined with cells which secrete small amounts of viscous fluid which permit ligaments, muscles and other structures to move freely and with a minimum amount of friction.

Bursitis is an inflammation in which the bursa is increased or it may be an inflammation of the lining of the bursa. The condition is most commonly brought on by an injury or sudden sprain and unaccustomed heavy work involving the area. Bacterial infections have also been known to cause bursitis.

The most common sites for bursitis are the shoulder region, elbow, hip, knee, and even near the big toe. Altogether, in the human body, 237 bursae have been identified and described.

Your physician can treat the condition with cold applications, aspiration, and injections that we mentioned before, X-Ray treatment, physiotherapy, and, as a last resort, surgery.

WHAT WAS THE RECENT STATEMENT MADE ON X-RAYS TO AMERICA'S DENTISTS?

The American Dental Association has recently advised its members (virtually every practicing dentist in the U.S.) not to X-Ray a patient's mouth as a matter of routine. This is one more example of the growing awareness among the medical and dental profession that X-Rays have great potential for harm as well as good and should be used carefully as a diagnostic aid.

WHAT CURE IS THERE FOR DRY SKIN? DOES THIS CONDITION GET WORSE AS ONE AGES?

There is no real and certain cure for dry skin (called Xeroderma) and the condition tends to worsen as you grow older. Dermatologists, however, can treat the condition to bring the patient relief from the intense discomfort, the itchy, tight feeling that is characteristic of skin dryness.

If you suffer from dryness of your skin, I think that the addition of a capful or two of a therapeutic bath oil to your daily bath would bring relief. One such bath oil widely recommended by dermatologists, is called Alpha-Keri. Alpha-Keri adds an invisible film to your skin locking in moisture that relieves dryness.

Of course, if these simple steps do not relieve the condition within a few days, since there are about a half dozen types of Xeroderma, one of which may be a more malignant one, your dermatologist for a personal consultation.

Texas 4-H's Help In Peru

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

The Favorite Foods Show was held at Canyon yesterday. The results will be published next week. The persons attending the program of movies seemed to enjoy the pictures and the variety of pictures.

April 27th the District Contests will be held on the West Texas Campus. The 4-H members representing Deaf Smith County are working hard to make a good showing.

THE TEXAS Agricultural Ex-

Schoolday Friends Are Entertained

An informal party Monday morning in the home of Mrs. Marlin Gilliland was an opportunity for several schoolday friends of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Watson, to be together. Three of the group were visitors here from other cities.

Mrs. David Duncan of Portland, Ore., the former Tommie Kay Robinson, was a guest in the Tom Robinson home and Mrs. Bill McGee of Lewisville, before her marriage Wylagene Quattlebaum, has been visiting her parents, the W. C. Quattlebaums. Mrs. Harold Mays came from her home in Friona for the party.

Also present for coffee and conversation were Mrs. George Zetsche, the former Frances Andrews, and Mrs. Charles Springer, formerly Daline Tinnin; Mrs. Quattlebaum, Mrs. Robert Veigel and Mrs. John Gilliland.

tension Service is affiliated with the Texas Partners for the Alliance with Peru. We call it Texas and Peru partners in 4-H. It is a program to help Peruvians help themselves.

Numerous 4-H clubs have already made contributions of materials and money to Peruvian 4-H clubs. After a fact-finding trip to Peru, it was thought that it would be good if some Texas 4-Hers could visit the country.

We have just been advised that this kind of visit is possible through the National 4-H Club Foundation's Teen Caravan if at least ten 4-H members from this state are interested.

Much good can come from such a caravan. General purposes of such a program would be to provide Texas 4-H members with opportunities to develop a sense of world citizenship, learn through living in other cultures, obtain new perspectives on their own problems, develop the ability to appreciate, accept, and understand people who have problems and ideas which differ from their own, and to share skills which they have developed in their Texas 4-H Club work with clubs in Peru.

From such an exchange, quite a number of activities could result, such as club partnership programs, pen pals, all types of club projects and various service programs to support Peruvian projects.

It is proposed that a group of at least ten 4-H members from the State of Texas, ages 17-19 accompanied by an adult leader who is fluent in Spanish, participate in this caravan.

Proposed dates are June 24-August 22. The estimated cost is $950 round trip, Houston - Lima - Houston. The group leader will be provided cost-free travel and subsistence.

There are forms in the office for 4-H members to apply for this 4-H Teen Caravan - Texas to Peru.

IN TEXAS, 250 counties have appropriations for Extension personnel. All counties in the Panhandle have appropriations. The written county program is being revised in Texas.

Deaf Smith County Program Building Committee has begun the work of rewriting the program. This serves for long-range planning.

CALENDAR FOR next week:
MONDAY Report luncheon for all Home Demonstration Club members and visitors. Bull Barn 12 noon.

WEDNESDAY Program Building Committee 10 a.m. Leader training for home furnishings. Bull Barn - 2:30 p.m.

THURSDAY Office conference with Dr. Ed Schullt, Specialist from A & M.

FRIDAY Home Visits
SATURDAY District Contests West Texas Campus 9 a.m.

MRS. FRITZ Smith sent this recipe which she says is quite delicious.

CHEESE CAKE

1 package of lemons flavored gelatin

1 cup boiling water

1/2 pound of graham cracker crumbs

1 stick of butter or margarine

1 tablespoon powdered sugar

1 8-ounce and 1 3-ounce package cream cheese

1 cup sugar

1 teaspoon vanilla

1 tall can evaporated milk (cold)

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water and set in the refrigerator until thick, not hard. While this sets, in a saucepan melt butter or margarine and add graham cracker crumbs and powdered sugar. Line a 2-quart baking pan with the crumb mixture, saving 1/2 cup for the top of cake.

In a small bowl mix until smooth the cheese and sugar. Add the thickened gelatin and vanilla.

In large mixing bowl, whip the milk. When whipped, pour in the gelatin and cheese mixture. When combined, pour in lined baking dish and refrigerate for 2 hours. Sprinkle the 1/2 cup cracker crumbs over the top to complete.

Engler Will Speak At Area Meeting

Paul Engler, president of the Hereford Feed Lots, is one of the speakers on the Texas Veterinary Medical Association forum, which will meet Sunday, May 5, at the Johnson House Motel, 4801 Ave. Q in Lubbock, it was announced by Dr. A. I. Flowers of Bryan, president of the 1,000-member organization. Engler will speak on "What the Feedlot Manager Expects from a Veterinarian." Engler has been selected as Commercial Feeder of the Year for 1968 by Feedlot Magazine. He founded the Hereford Feed Yards in 1961, and has managed this lot from its original capacity of 4,000 head to its present capacity of 32,000 head. In addition, he manages a 125,000-acre ranch in Montana. He is from Wyola, Montana. Engler is considered by many to be the founder of the large commercial cattle feeding industry in Texas. He has been a speaker at many cattlemen's meetings across the country, and is qualified to explain how the feedlot manager sees the veterinarian, Flowers said. He was in the cattle feeding business in Nebraska before coming to Texas.

The program will start at 9 a.m. and conclude shortly after 3 p.m., it was announced. Dr. Flowers said the seminar will stress the role of the veterinarian in the state's skyrocketing commercial cattle feeding industry located in practically all areas of Texas, but concentrated in West Texas and the Texas Panhandle. "Indications are that the Texas Panhandle is rapidly becoming the nation's largest cattle feedlot area," Dr. Flowers said. Reason for this is credited to the fact that this is also a leading grain producing area, as well as an excellent climate for cattle feeding. Other speakers on the forum will be Lloyd Bergama of Amarillo, Dr. E. S. Erwin of Arizona, and Dr. George Crenshaw of California.

Chamber Warns Of Repair Gyps

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce warned today of itinerant repairmen who quote bargain prices for jobs but later submit exorbitant bills for inferior work.

Bill Thompson, manager of the local chamber, said that each year gypsy tool repairmen, house painters, mental replaters or refinishers and other operators victimize homeowners, churches, schools, hospitals, industrial plants, florists, restaurants and public and private institutions.

According to the National Better Business Bureau, with which the local chamber is affiliated through membership, a band of itinerant tool repairmen using the name of "White" has been the subject of a number of recent complaints to local Business Bureaus in the South.

Using several first names or initials and giving addresses in Atlanta, Savannah, Nashville, Louisville, New Orleans and other cities, the repair gyms quote low cost estimates but actually charged exorbitant prices for work that involved nothing more than the cost of the tools.

The chamber advised members of the community to be wary of unknown repairmen and to deal only with firms of known reliability.

Higher Education, Jobs Closer Than Students Think

In reading the interviews with six seniors and six community leaders concerning the opportunity Hereford affords young people, we were somewhat surprised to note the emphasis which the graduates put on lack of higher education facilities in the community.

Offhand, we cannot help but wonder if perhaps the youngsters, who have heretofore been associated only with education, were not inclined to over-emphasize this particular phase. Hereford is within daily driving distance of West Texas State University, Canyon, and Amarillo Junior College, which pretty well assures any interested youngster excellent facilities. Besides, it has been our observation that many students do not attend "home" colleges, probably because it is considered worthwhile to be away from home, during this period. Such, at least, has been the experience of Austin, home of Texas University; Lubbock, home of Texas Tech, and most other towns which support some of our larger schools.

The proposed area junior college, on the other hand, falls into the category of making continued education possible for many youngsters who would otherwise miss a college education. Location of a junior college places a youngster in the position of saving room and board by living at home and, in many instances, this means going to school or not going to school. Amarillo, is a good example of the large home enrolment which a junior college affords.

To say the last, not every town in the nation can support a recognized university and Hereford, back at the turn of the century, missed this boat when Hereford Christian College failed to make a go of it, later becoming part of Texas Christian University at Fort Worth.

Job availability was another topic which might need a bit of consideration. The graduates, for the most part, seemed to feel that Hereford only provided minimum-wage jobs. In contrast, hardly a day passes that we do not encounter tremendous moaning and groaning from local business men concerning the scarcity of capable help. It just is not to be found, according to employers, many of whom are operating their own training programs to help fill vacancies.

What's more, very few college graduates armed with bachelor or master degrees can expect to step into such offices as corporation president, sales manager, computer director, or board chairman. These positions are achieved through intelligence, application and hard work. It is our opinion that Hereford does afford many jobs of this type. We say this, because time after time we have seen local companies forced into importing such personnel, due to shortage in this area.

All in all, we thought the summaries of both graduates and adults were excellent. In addition to pointing out some specific problems, they were highly conducive to constructive planning, and offered a bird's-eye-view of what at least two segments of our population think about the community in which they live.

You Don't Work Hard!

Most people believe that they work hard. A great many believe that they work much to hard for the money they get and are always looking around at somebody else who works less and makes more.

Well, maybe none of us have such a hard time, at that.

Until he reaches the age of 21, a man's parents are responsible for him and take care of most of his expenses, if not all of them.

After he reaches the age of 65, the government takes over.

Subtracting 21 from 65, a calculation which is within the reach of most of us, we perceive that this leaves only 44 years in which a man is pretty much on his own.

But of these 44 years, the average man will, at eight hours a day, sleep one-third of the time, thus cutting the work life to about 30 years.

Add in the Saturdays off and the Sundays, the national holidays, the vacations with pay and other fringe benefits like the coffee breaks every working day and the sick leave, and you can see that the actual chore of working for a living steadily dwindles.

In fact, counting all the time a man doesn't work, you come up with the astonishing fact that the average person works only about seven years of his threescore and 10, or about one-tenth of the time.

In fact, if we really got down to it and scrutinized the work habits of a lot of people, we would find even this a generous estimate.

So quit griping. You don't work nearly as hard or as much as you think you do. Ochiltree County Herald.

Voter Interest Is Lagging

With primary elections scheduled Saturday, May 4, less than two weeks from now, it seems to us that area interest in the event is perhaps lagging — despite the fact that candidates, especially those for governor, have been quite active. Add to this the fact that three important issues (liquor-by-the-drink, race betting, and milk pricing) will be included on the ballot, and the apparent indifference of the voters is all the more amazing.

Possible lethargy concerning the governor's race may well be attributed to the fact that none of the candidates has emerged into leadership position. Many people are inclined to classify the entire slate as "underdogs" and, once the field settles down to two candidates, the runoff race could gain tremendous momentum.

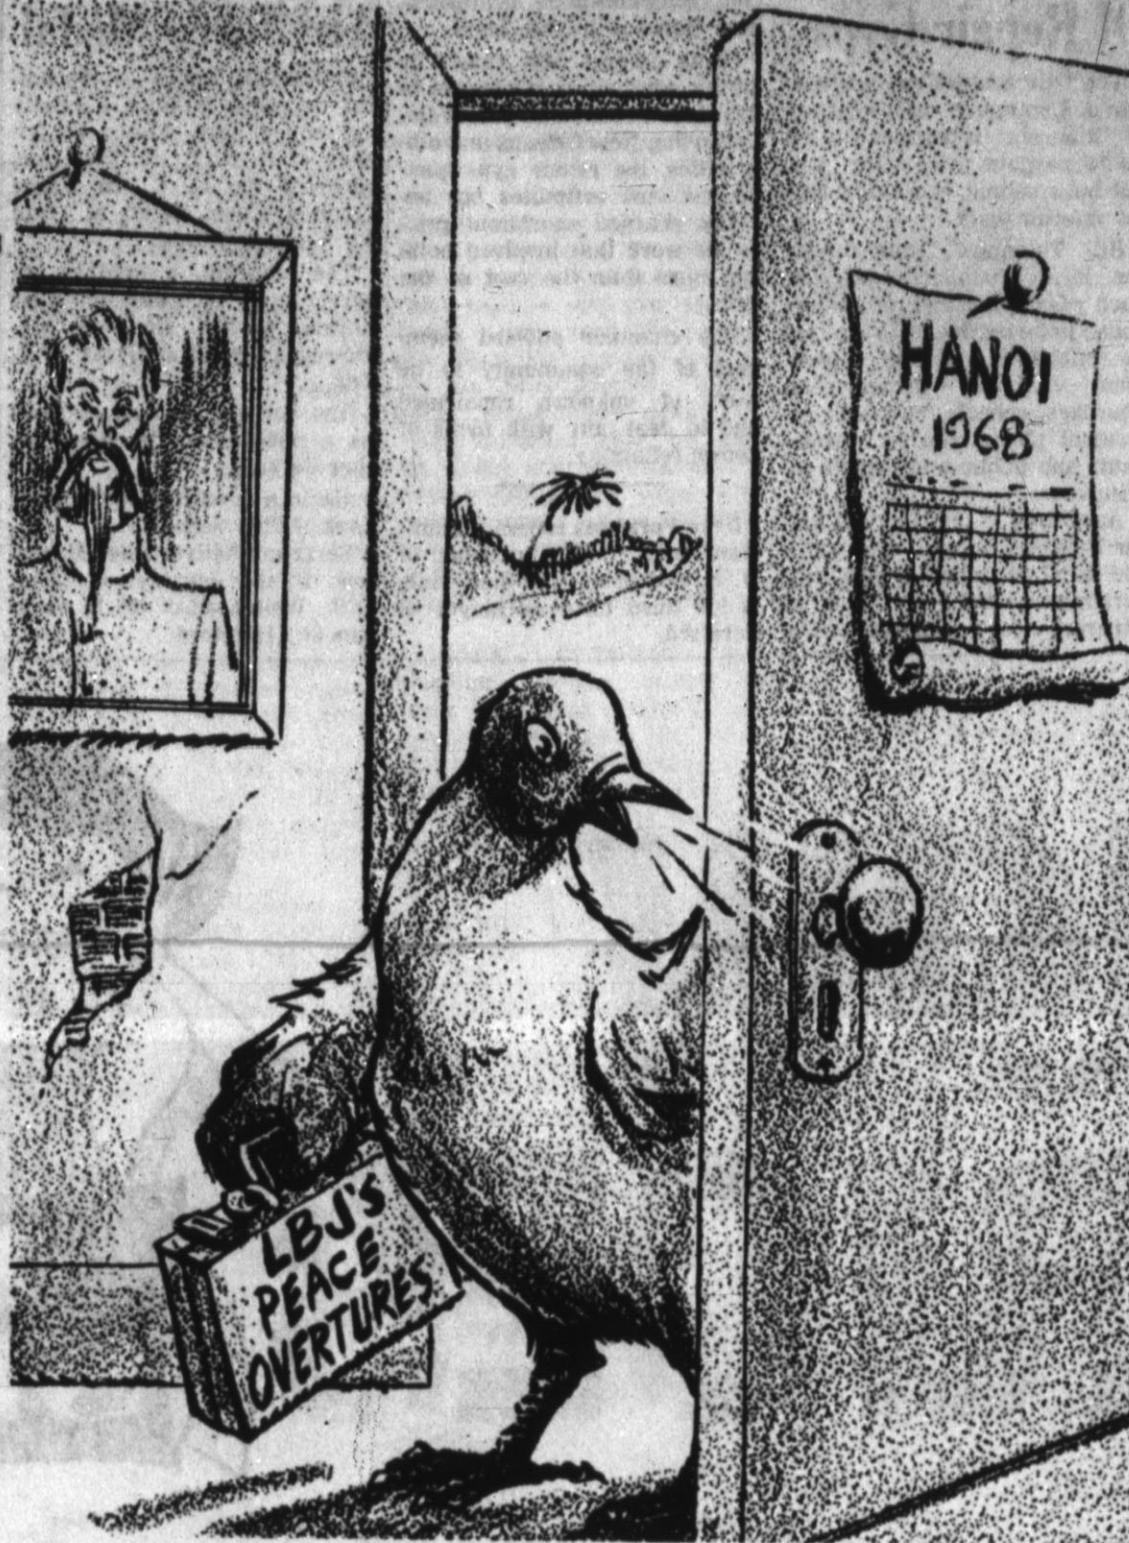

The three referendum propositions, likewise, will not be conclusive in that the wording leaves actual enactment up to the legislature on liquor-by-the-drink, parimutuel betting and fixing of milk prices by a Texas Dairy Commission. Both the liquor control and betting, have previously had extensive publicity, and appear on the ballot as a guide to indicate the desires of Texans on the two subjects.

The milk regulation, which would control both wholesale and retail prices, are comparatively new in this area and, in the face of recent price hikes, may well become highly arguable during the next two weeks.

Recent polls have placed labor candidate Don Yarbrough, Preston Smith Waggoner Carr and Eugene Locke as probable contenders for the runoff in the race for governor.

To say the least, all of us will know the outcome within a couple of weeks and as election time draws near, it is probable that interest will continue to increase in all four of the important decisions to be made in the first primary.

MAIN STREET, USA

Riots In Washington Were Leaderless, Purposeless

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — Unthinkable as it may seem, sacking of the capital city was narrowly averted on Palm Sunday weekend, and only the arrival of thousands of soldiers brought an end to Washington's worst riot.

Military force prevailed in the end, in Washington and many other cities, but the situation here was out of control for many hours. The long hot summer that has been predicted arrived many weeks ahead of schedule, and there is no reason to believe an even worse insurrection will not occur in the future.

Washington has been badly scared by recent events. The sight of machine guns mounted on the steps of the U. S. Capitol, and barbed wire surrounding the White House, will not soon be forgotten. These memories will remain long after the physical damage is repaired.

One frightening aspect of the Washington rioting was that it was both leaderless and purposeless. Stokely Carmichael did force the closing of some stores in a Negro area but this nefarious character could hardly be blamed for all that followed. He is not that important, and if he was he would have been arrested long ago.

The mobs that ransacked 500 blocks of Washington did not carry out any preconceived plan. They simply took advantage of a situation. The assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King supplied the excuse, but nothing more. The same sort of thing could have occurred without any murder. Few of the rioters were followers of Dr. King, who preached non-violence.

Police Face Heavy Odds Before the arrival of the troops — several hours too late to prevent major damage — police and firemen were virtually powerless to meet the emergency. One cop cannot stop a small army of looters and no fire department can battle hundreds of blazes set by firebugs.

The only thing that saved much of Washington from going up in smoke was a curfew. Everybody in the streets after 5:30 p. m. the first day was subject to arrest. Thousands of people did not meet this deadline but the curfew allowed police to arrest roving bands of thieves and arsonists. On succeeding days the curfew began at 4 p. m., and by that time soldiers were on hand in force to see to it the order was obeyed. Cars were stopped at key intersections.

When the rioting began about noon on Friday, April 5, the city was jammed by tourists attending the Cherry Blossom Festival. They departed in great haste as the pall of smoke appeared over the Capitol Dome. One motel whose 200 rooms were sold out for the weekend had four guests registered by Sunday.

President Johnson was a virtual prisoner in the White House for a few hours. He had planned to fly to Honolulu for Vietnam conferences but that trip was first postponed, then cancelled. For a few hours Friday afternoon when the looting and burning was at its peak, a massive downtown traffic jam would have prevented the President from moving by car, although he could have been evacuated by helicopter.

Over 7,000 Arrested
By the time relative calm was restored, over 7,000 arrests had been made, property damage from 1,900 fires was assessed at over $13 million, and 10 people were dead. More than 1,000 were treated for wounds in hospitals. It was amazing that the death toll was not higher, and police and soldiers were praised for not being trigger-happy.

Who caused all the trouble? That answer remains to be learned but reporters who interviewed those arrested found most were not desperate, jobless men. According to the liberal Washington Post, the typical person arrested was "about 20, who attended 11 grades of school, has a job paying $85 to $95 a week, and has not been in trouble with the law before." Only one of 10 were unemployed.

Many of those arrested are clerical employees of the Federal government. It will be interesting to see if those who are convicted will be allowed to return to the public payroll when they get out of jail.

Averages
Don't Tell
The Whole Truth

Although unemployment averages at times paint a rosy picture of the job situation, they obscure issues creating unrest in cities today.

Unemployment figures from the government include for statistical purposes only those persons who are not employed either full or part-time, and who are actively seeking work. A "subemployment" concept, however, includes all those in the unemployment index plus persons who have part-time jobs (but are seeking full-time positions), able-bodied working-age males who are not participating in the labor force, and individuals working full-time but earning less than $56 weekly.

Subemployment figures put realistic emphasis on urban problems. San Antonio has a subemployment rate of 47 per cent on its east and west sides, the highest rate in the nation. To say human resources have been wasted would be an understatement. Even in New York's Harlem, the highest subemployment rate is 33 per cent.

The Manpower Report of the President, 1967, cited these problem areas last year. Little has changed since then.

The technology explosion has been responsible for the upgrading of the demand for labor, and the consequent loss of jobs.

Some degree of inflation is inevitably going to be the cost of this advanced state of affairs, unless uneducated and unqualified people are allowed to put a damper on economic progress as they do today.

In the 30s, a person could get away with the idea that cutting taxes and increasing government spending would cut employment. Advocates of that philosophy today are merely endorsing marginal employment, the kind that won't last and that is sure to be automated. This philosophy is incompatible with demands on the labor force of the 60s and 70s. It is also incompatible when inflation is considered.

Jobs on the factory assembly lines are no longer available to anybody; between 1953 and 1963, not even one new production job was created in the entire manufacturing sector. A slight increase came between 1963 and 1966, but even it can be attributed to the war. Jobs are to be found not in agriculture or manufacturing, but in services. These are jobs demanding qualified personnel.

Marginal jobs are always being wiped out; agricultural employment is continually decreasing, both in real and relative terms. Pumping money into the economy won't bring these jobs back.

Training and retraining of the labor force are sure to be appropriate for government spending, a policy contrary to inflation curbing legislation.

As manpower productivity increases, however, inflation becomes less a problem. Wages going up do not necessarily contribute to an inflationary spiral unless their increase is in excess of the increase in productivity. As automation continues, labor's per capita output goes up by leaps and bounds. Some degree of inflation may be an attractive alternative to structural unemployment created via displaced workers.

50 YEARS AGO — 1918

The exact quota assigned Deaf Smith County for the Third Liberty Loan was $112,300. Up to noon Thursday the committee announced that a total of $160,000 had been pledged, and that work would continue until May 4, the last day of grace set by Uncle Sam. The outcome is extremely gratifying to every loyal citizen of Deaf Smith County. It was made possible by systematic, organized work of the County Council of Defense, headed by Carl Gilliland, chairman, and D. L. McDonald and associates of the Chamber of Commerce. The committee literally quit their businesses and devoted their entire time and thought to the task of making this county's quota good.

35 YEARS AGO — 1933

Women throughout the Seventh District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, are making plans to attend the annual convention which is being held in Hereford today, Thursday and Friday. Emphasized at this year's meeting will be the individual club and its work. Mrs. J. A. Hill, president, has announced that the program has been planned to help the clubs in their work and honor the delegates. Representatives from each of the 137 federated clubs to the district are expected to be in attendance.

25 YEARS AGO — 1943

Buddy Harris gave his life. Citizens of the Dawn community, where Buddy was born and spent all his life until he enlisted in the Coast Guard in May 1942, are being asked to give $26,600. That is the slogan of the Second War Loan Drive, translated into terms to fit Dawn community, and H. E. Miller, chairman of the bond sale committee at Dawn, believes that his people are going to raise that $26,600 — enough to buy the propeller and equipment for a U. S. Coast Guard cutter, the type of boat on which young Harris was serving April 1 when he was reported missing.

10 YEARS AGO — 1958

Two men — one an escaped dope addict — have been jailed here on charges of beating and robbing 79-year-old Ernest (Fatty) Brown at his isolated trailer home on Tierra Blanca Creek Tuesday night. Charged are Daniel Valentano, 26, of LaQuente, Calif., and Joe Parez Galindo, 31, of Plainview. Both men waived examining trial Wednesday morning and $10,000 bond each was set by Justice of the Peace Berry Miles. The aged Brown was left tied up with balling wire by his assailants. He wiggled out of the bonds and walked to Pitman's Service Station at First and Main. The attendant called the city police department. Captain Morris Brown and Patrolman Rex Cowart took Brown to Deaf Smith County Hospital. The assailants — both tall, husky men — were arrested by officers in Plainview on a drunk charge. Sheriff Charles Skelton and Deputy Bill McCarver immediately went to Plainview and brought the men back to Hereford.

1 YEAR AGO — 1967

A mild, sunny afternoon ended in tragedy Saturday as two small boys drowned in a small lake on the west end of Catalpa Street. The two Latin American boys were identified as Jesse and David Gonzales, ages 8 and 11, respectively, of 409 Knight Street. Officials at the hospital said the boys were dead on arrival there. Another near tragedy occurred as one of the boys was being rushed to the Deaf Smith County Hospital by ambulance. As the ambulance left the scene behind Fire Marshall Terry Hale, a 1961 Mercury pulled into the path of Hale about two blocks from the scene. The vehicle, believed to have contained two persons, was knocked up on its side and the fire department pickup front end extensively damaged.

Ball-Northcutt Wedding Vows Exchanged Friday

The marriage of Miss Sharolyn Darlene Ball and Johnny Mark Northcutt was solemnized in St. Anthony's Catholic Church in a mid-afternoon ceremony Friday, with the Rev. John VanderKuil officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Florence Ball of Nazareth are parents of the bride, and Northcutt is the son of Mrs. Jim Blakey, 508 North Jackson.

Altar decorations were white gladiolas, and other flowers of the Easter season were in place in the church.

Sisters and brothers of the bride were in the wedding party. Mrs. D. K. Robinson of Amarillo was matron of honor. Mrs. Thomas Simants of Lubbock and Miss Valeria Ball bridesmaids. Twila and Kirk Ball were the junior attendants; Renee and Kyle Ball carried the two rings.

Tommy Blasengame acted as best man with Darryl Ball as groomsmen, Fred Ball and Dennis Heiman as ushers. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

She wore a gown which she fashioned, of bridal satin in ivory shade with appliques of hand-clipped Alencon lace re-embroidered with seed pearls. Lace motifs circled the cameo neckline, accented the center front of the slim skirt and corners of the squared train which was attached at the shoulders.

The bodice was fitted at the waist; sleeves were long and pointed at the wrists. A double crown of seed pearls held her veil, tiers of illusion falling below the waistline. As an heirloom piece she wore a gold cross belonging to her grandmother.

All her attendants were dressed in silk faille brocade of muted iridescent yellow. Floor length skirts were in A-line silhouette with belted inverted plait at back, and sleeves were in modified bell style. Junior attendants' dresses featured tucked bodice.

Headpieces and shoes in matching pastel yellow complemented their costumes.

Wedding music included selections, Whither Thou Goest Ave Maria and Wedding Prayer.

A reception in Nazareth Community Hall was held after the wedding. When the couple left on a trip, Mrs. Northcutt was wearing a beige dress with A-line skirt and bell sleeves, with yellow accessories.

They will be at home in Lynette Apartments after the trip.

The bride is a graduate of Lubbock Vocational School of Nursing, which she attended after graduation from Nazareth High School. Northcutt, employed by Hi-Plains Feed Lots of Friona, was graduated from Grady High School.

Work Day Is Set And Building Cleanup Planned In Ford Club

A work day was slated May 15 in Ford Home Demonstration Club, for members to make comfort bags for hospitalized servicemen in Viet Nam as volunteer service in a county Red Cross project. Plans were made at a meeting in Ford Community Building Wednesday.

A cleanup of the building and purchase of some needed equipment for it, was also planned in the business session with Mrs. John A. Smith presiding. Members were urged to attend the County H. D. Council luncheon in the Bu'l Barn Monday to hear reports of a recent district meeting of the Texas H. D. Association, also to attend a county H.D. style show May 3 in Dawn Community Building.

Two programs were combined at the meeting. Mrs. Frank Brorman gave information from state and national Public Health Departments on venereal diseases, saying "It is everybody's business to be informed of this problem," and urging the importance of education for teenagers in view of increasing incidence of VD in that age group.

Mrs. Raymond Flores spoke of the cultivation of perennial plants to beautify yards, and listed iris, peonies, daylilies and chrysanthemums as some suited to this soil and climate. Easiest way to start perennials is by transplanting, she said, and the plants multiply and need little care to produce blooms each year.

Annuals, which grow from seed and must be planted anew every year, were discussed by Mrs. W. C. Carier. Soil in the Panhandle will grow almost every kind of annual, she said, and they take only a few weeks to bloom after planting. Popular types are zinnias, marigolds, stock and petunias.

Mrs. Flores was hostess. Mrs. W. H. Mason was welcomed as a new member. Others present were Mmes. J. C. Gossett, Raymond Smith and Troy Waller.

Miss Sexton Of Dimmitt Marries Hereford Man

Miss Darlene Sexton of Dimmitt became the bride of Roy Crofford of this city in a Saturday evening ceremony at the Presbyterian Church of Dimmitt, where the Rev. Michael Kennedy, pastor, read the double ring service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Sexton, 308 SW Fifth, Dimmitt, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Crofford of Route 2.

Mrs. Tommy Mathies of Houston, sister of the bride, was her matron of honor and Dean Crofford attended his brother as best man. Ushers were Charles Wolff of San Angelo and J. B. Sowell of Houston, brothers-in-law, of the bride.

White blossoms of gladiolas and chrysanthemums and fresh green foliage in standing arrangements were placed with two pairs of candelabra at the church altar as a background for the wedding party. Music was by Mrs. Keith Howard, organist, who played traditional selections.

Escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage, Miss Sexton was attired in crystal white tulle and Chantilly lace. Of Victorian period design, the gown had a figurine bodice with wide oval neckline outlined by scallops of the lace, and tulle skirt gathered over full petticoats.

Two tiers of the scalloped lace were set just below the waistline and short lace sleeves were complemented with sheer gloves to the elbow. Her waist-length illusion veil floated from a seed pearl coronet. She carried cymbidium orchids and white roses in a cascade bouquet.

A pink street-length dress was worn by Mrs. Mathies, who carried pink roses for a touch of wedding color.

At the reception in the church parlor after the ceremony, Mrs. Wolff and Mrs. Sowell were at the refreshment table. It was covered with airy white net over pink taffeta and the center of interest was the wedding cake, made and decorated in pink and white by the bridegroom's mother and set beside a bouquet of roses.

For a honeymoon trip, Mrs. Crofford changed to a pink costume with beige accessory accents.

She has been employed as bookkeeper by a Dimmitt service station. Crofford is with Kinsey-Osborn Motors here.

Guests Present For Program In Antonion Circle

Eleven guests were present with 30 members of the Antonion Circle at St. Anthony's parish school auditorium Thursday evening for a program by a guest speaker, Dr. J. H. McCrary. Hostesses were Mmes. Donald Meyer, Melvin Kalka and George Wilhelm.

Subject of Dr. McCrary's talk was Sex Education For Your Children. He noted that parents should take responsibility for giving honest, accurate information about sex, especially under today's changing conditions of family life and the frankness in books and movies which expose children to ideas which may be frightening unless they are explained.

Reports were given in the business session, by Mrs. Tommy Albracht on the recent Plainview Deanery meeting, by Mrs. Teddy Fangman and Mrs. Morris Hacker on benefit sales.

Mrs. Alfred Dziuk and Mrs. Wern Koelzer gave short reports on the program and tour of Church Women United last Tuesday, with women of First Christian Church as hostesses.

It was announced that election of officers is scheduled at the next Circle meeting, May 18.

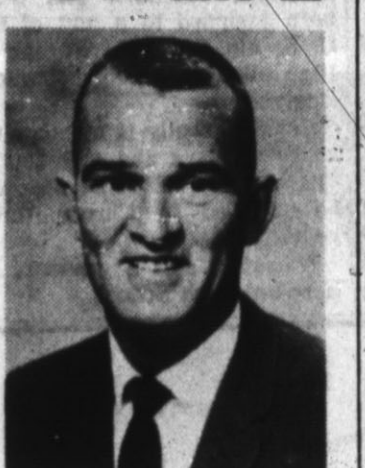

The door prize went to a guest Mrs. Gene Parsley.

Unusual Novel Basis Of Review

Review of an unusual novel by a noted American woman writer, Adela Rogers St. John, was presented by Mrs. Juston McBride for Bay View Study Club Thursday afternoon, when guests and members met in Mrs. Ansel McDowell's home.

Sketching briefly a biography of the writer, Mrs. McBride said the story told in this book, Tell No Man, is a true one and the characters are real although it is in the form of an absorbing novel.

It delves deeply into spiritual matters and has a positive message, she added. The reviewer emphasized the moving climax of the story which centers around a couple's life in Chicago and then in California.

Mrs. Tom Sawyer was elected to membership in a brief business period with Mrs. R.B. Miller presiding. Members were reminded of the annual spring luncheon slated for May 2 in Hereford Country Club with the social committee as hostesses, the final meeting of this club season.

The hostess served refreshments to five guests, Mrs. Earl Hughes of Santa Fe, house guest of her sister, Mrs. Francis Hardwick; Mmes. Si Darling Henry Sears, George Turrentine and C.J. Mountz.

Also to members, Mmes. Carl Swanson, Homer Powell, Carl Perrin, W.J. Gilliland, J.R. Allison, Howard Gault, Colby Conkright, Bruce Burney, H. L. Benefield, Hardwick, McBride and Miller.

Early Filing Is Important To SS

Want to get that first social security check on time? "Everyone does, but not enough people do anything about it," says Travis C. Briggs, District Manager of the Amarillo social security office.

According to Briggs, every person who files an application for social security benefits will be asked to present certain proofs. Most applicants will also be asked to give the exact amount of earnings for the past year and for the current year.

Most persons do not bother to find out ahead of time exactly what they will need. "George waits until the day he files an application," said Briggs. "Then he has to go back home and dig around for records, or write letters requesting the necessary documents, causing a delay in the processing of his claim."

A claim for social security benefits may be filed as early as three months before entitlement to benefits.

Briggs suggests that claimants get in touch with the social security office several months before this three month period to find out ahead of time what proofs and information will be needed.

"The satisfied applicant," continued Briggs "is the one who does this, and consequently has all necessary proofs and information with him. The result, everything is completely taken care of during this one contact with the office, and he gets that first social security check right on time."

JEANETTE ROE (top) and MARY BETH EDINGER (bottom) work as dispatchers for the police and sheriff's departments, respectively. The girls enjoy their work, undertaking different tasks such as secretaries, and of course, acting as dispatchers.

Dispatchers Are Satisfied In Law Enforcement Work

By PENNY YOUNG
Staff Writer

Sometimes they're called women police and even a time or two people have come up with titles such as a lady sergeant. But most generally they are called dispatchers, secretaries, office deputies, or corporation court clerks.

Mary Beth Edinger, dispatcher at the County Sheriff's office and Jeanette Roe, dispatcher for the city police department, have both been at their present jobs for a number of years and both seem to enjoy this type of work immensely.

Miss Edinger started out by working in a bookstore, where she met many people, including a woman who worked as desk clerk at the Jim Hill Hotel. When the vacancy in the sheriff's department came up, she was recommended.

Miss Edinger has a number of jobs that are connected with the department, such as working up civil papers. All papers of this type have to be served through the sheriff's office and all are usually completed by her. Small claim papers go through the office, tending to make it quite a job sometimes.

As the county and city dispatchers, Miss Edinger and Miss Roe are constantly in contact with the public. If someone needs assistance they will usually end up calling the dispatcher. It's up to the dispatcher to relate the information to the correct people. Most calls deal with an accident or anything having to do with traffic. Working in the city water department downstairs from the police department, Miss Roe wasn't far from her second job. For three years, she worked downstairs, later being transferred to the police department. She has been working with them for three years now. All out of town messages, or traffic as it is called in the departments, come in on radio, teletype, or telephone. Most of the traffic comes through on telephone, and all is received by the two girls.

"One time," commented Miss Edinger, "I received a message from a highway patrolman who had stopped a traffic violator to give him a ticket. We always give the patrolmen at least three minutes to give a ticket or to call us back after they have reported the capture of a criminal. If they don't, we check on them. Anyway, the patrolman brought the violator to court and after the ticket had been paid the man went on his way. About two hours later I received a message to be on the lookout for a carload of jewel thieves. The patrolman remembered the description of the people just in court for a traffic violation and the culprits were apprehended not long after that."

Making offense reports is another job that both girls undertake, and as secretary, they take care of the correspondence reports, letters, keeping up the files, and civil papers that come to the Sheriff's office.

"A dispatcher," explained Miss Edinger, "has to always keep track of her units. That's why we check on them so much. I would really feel bad if something happened to an officer or patrolman because of my negligence. If we have a new patrolman on duty, they sometimes will get a bit irritated at me because of my constant calling every three minutes, but it has to be done. I also check in the lady prisoners when they come our way. I remember one lady who I was searching came up with quite a line. She had on pants and I asked her if she had anything in the pockets of her pants. She confidentially leaned over, patted my shoulder and said — Honey, these aren't my pants, they're my son's."

"I don't have to take care of civil papers," commented Miss Roe, "but I do check in prisoners, and take accident reports. I also take complaints from the public such as noisy neighbors, unruly kids, a drunk husband that tries to beat his wife, or a call for a mean looking dog sitting on someone's lawn. I take all the fire calls too. I have to keep track of my units also. However, most of my calls deal with simple matters which the public creates."

"Several times I have gotten a few calls that have shook me up pretty bad, like the one I got when I first started my job. It was about a suicide and murder. I was so upset the rest of the day. A good part of the time I get calls from frantic mothers whose children are lost. There is nothing worse than an upset mother who does not know where her child is. You don't know whether the child has been kidnapped or is just off playing somewhere."

"A very interesting and rewarding job, Miss Edinger deducted. "Out of 12 years of working with the public I can say that I've never had a better job or boss. Working with the public is most enjoyable. We really feel needed when people call in. The time that we feel this need the most is when it snows and people call in to find out what the weather is going to be like in different towns. We average at least 200 calls a day on stormy days."

"It's very interesting working with the public," commented Miss Rose, "We really do feel that we are needed. We like to be there when people need help and to help them the best way we can. Another reason that our jobs are so enjoyable is that we have a wonderful group of people to work with, and especially my boss. He's wonderful. Everything is so organized and the departments cooperate with each other, working together on many different matters."

Adult Art-Craft Display Slated

A display of articles made in the evening class in arts and crafts, a part of the adult education program in Hereford schools, will be on view May 7 and 8 in the window of the Yardstick shop at Sugarland Mall, Mrs. Bob Wert, instructor, announces.

In connection with this display, adults and teenagers who would be interested in a summer arts and crafts class will have an opportunity to register. If enough persons want the course, the class will be held after the close of the regular school term.

Those interested may telephone the school office to register or receive information, Mrs. Wert said.

Local Board To Induct 11 In May

AUSTIN — State draft boards are being called upon to furnish 2,131 men for the Army in May.

Colonel Morris S. Schwatz, state Selective Service director, said Friday.

This compares to a quota of 2,378 for the Army and Marines in April.

Local Board 18 in Hereford has been given a quota of 11 men for induction in May, and 48 are to be examined.

The draft boards will forward 9,000 men to the armed forces examining and entrance stations in May for the pre-induction physical and mental examinations in preparation to fill future quotas.

This compares to 8,500 being forwarded for this purpose in April, 7,200 sent in March, and 4,800 in February.

The May induction and pre-induction quotas are scheduled to be mailed to all local boards

Friday by the state Selective Service headquarters.

The May call of 2,131 men for Texas is the state's share of a national quota of 44,000, all for the Army.

The order of selection to fill the May induction call may be from among examined and acceptable men who are:

- (1) delinquents 19 years old and older, (2) volunteers under age 26, and (3) nonvolunteers 19 through 25 years old, single and married, with those married after August 26, 1965, being selected ahead of those married on or before that date.

The state director of Selective Service also announced receipt of a state call for 42 doctors of medicine and two doctors of osteopathy for the Army during July, August, and September. The national quota is 1,070 medical doctors and 56 osteopaths.

Texans Are Urged To Take Advantage Of HemisFair

As all Texans know, last Saturday — April 6th — marked the opening of HemisFair in the 250-year-old City of San Antonio.

On a domain of 92 acres HemisFair visitors will for six months be treated to a colorful history lesson; and to review of the art, religion, social and economic development of each of the nations of this hemisphere.

San Antonio. World problems at that time withered the idea before its fruition. Then, about 1963, with a lead time of only five years, a handful of business and civic leaders revived the idea to coincide with the 250th Anniversary of the city.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE
SPACE AGE SHOPPING — Swains who can't promise the moon to their lady fair at least can buy her a piece of it.

For as little as a quarter (or as much as $25), the Houston Museum of Natural Science will sell visitors a tekite — a chunk of natural glass that dropped from the moon or some other planet.

FRONTIER FOODSTUFFS — The common cattail was an epicurean delight on many an early settler's table. The plant's tender core provided a passable green salad.

LIZARD CAPITAL — Dallardville, in Polk County, claims the unusual distinction of being the "lizard capital of the world."

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — Settlers in early Texas got fresh beef for their tables by picking up their rifles and going hunting for wild cattle in the brush.

NUTTY STATISTICS — The lowly pecan is big business in Texas. This year, the state will produce an estimated 35 million pounds for which commercial buyers will shell out some $10 million.

tourists into the state. The impact of these customers from out of state will be great, and the increased spending in Texas will be felt in every sector of our economy.

To the visitor to Texas, the message of HemisFair also is clear: Here in Texas exists one of the great economic centers of the world — a manufacturing center, a commercial relay point with enviable port and land transportation facilities, a ready labor market, a co-operative spirit, a consumer market of considerable potential, a very great reservoir of managerial skill and one of the primary financial centers of the country.

Thus, for six months San Antonio will be in the world's spotlight as never before. It is a unique and rare opportunity for us to attract industry and friends both domestic and foreign.

Voter Should Ask Candidate How He Feels About Water

"We have been asked to submit a few questions which may be put to the various candidates for government offices representing our area — questions which might allow (or induce, or compel, if you wish) our political prospects to divulge their thinking, and their policies, regarding water resources," said R. C. Godwin, president of the Deaf Smith County Water Association.

"Certainly, we need always to know what the candidates believe — about everything. Sometimes, we find out afterwards to our regret."

"It is the policy of Deaf Smith County Water Association that the area's water resources are basically important to its economic well-being and progress, that we need to face the fact that our water resources are rapidly depleting, and that unless realistic solutions to the water problem are planned and implemented soon, this area will experience not only cessation of economic progress, but indeed a gradual and certain decline of business, standard of living, and social affluence," continued Godwin.

"Further, it is our policy that the most outstanding realistic solutions are water conservation and water importation. And our involvement in these two programs has convinced us that the whole task is a 'people' task, and that what is holding us back is a 'people problem'."

and candidates everywhere that we are worried about our water problem, that we are willing to work on it, and that we expect solutions. Second, the solutions are accomplished through government — the 'people task' is a political task. We need people in government who will help us get the job done — give it more than 'lip service.' And we need to show our representatives that we are behind them in the task."

"If we are unsuccessful in our political representation, then we can think back and realize that we have only ourselves to blame. If we are successful, then we will realize what organized, interested effort can accomplish."

It is incomplete. You may wish to make up your own questions. Certainly, we wish you would help by offering your suggestions. The important thing is to lead the candidate to express his complete and true thinking, so that you may judge for yourself whether he is qualified in water matters and whether, if elected, he surely would work for solutions to our water problems. You will want to determine whether he tries to evade the questions, uses general phraseology, or wishes to pass off the whole issue," concluded Godwin.

Casa de Amigos

By KEITH SCHROYER

Once again it is going to be necessary to expand the preschool program at the Casa de Amigos, in order to take care of the additional children in camp. While there hasn't been a great increase in the number of families in camp, still the additional make the new preschool advisable.

As was done last summer, this preschool will be held in the afternoon and will take care of 20 children. This will make a total of 60 children, attending preschool at the Casa. We feel that the preschool program is among the most valuable programs at the Casa, as it has been shown over and over again that the answer to many of the problems facing migrant laborers is in education.

If the unskilled are to become employed, it will require that they learn a skill. This necessitates a return to a learning environment, whether it be the class room or on the job training.

However, there are a great many problems in moving the recent drop-out or older adult back into a learning situation. This is especially true when failure was the reason for leaving school. The young person who drops out of school because of this, does not see education as the chance for a brighter future and a better job. Instead, due to his failure he comes to believe he cannot learn, and to attend school only points this out and seems to emphasize that education is not the tool to opportunity and a better job for him. It may work that way for others, but he has come to doubt his ability to learn, and as a result education just points out his inabilities and failures, rather than helping him to overcome them.

There are many examples of young people with whom I have talked who have expressed the desire of becoming an auto mechanic or a hair stylist, but they have no hope of these dreams and aspirations coming true because they realize that a return to some type of school would be necessary, and they do not feel that they can learn.

This attitude begins early and it is possible to spot potential drop-outs during the first years of school. In the case of the children of migrants, the lack of English speaking ability, and encouragement from parents creates many problems for children as they enter school.

Contact with crayons, pencils, scissors and paper is very little at best. Also, there is little interaction with other children as there is little movement out of the family to meet other children.

When a child has a start like this, school only seems to point out failures and inabilities, and learning is unpleasant.

It is hoped that through preschool programs, such as the one at the Casa, that a child might be given a better start by reaching the child as early in life as possible. Through this means it is hoped that education and learning can be a good experience and a chance for a better life.

Facts About VD Are Quoted By Speaker On H.D. Club Program

Characteristics of the two most common venereal diseases, syphilis and gonorrhea, were listed by Mrs. Paul Hoff, speaker to North Hereford Home Demonstration Club Thursday after a luncheon in Miss Roberta Campbell's home.

In one of the programs which county H.D. Clubs are presenting this month to publicize information about these diseases, Mrs. Hoff gave facts from the Texas Department of Public Health:

"Germs of these diseases are passed from person to person through sexual contact. There is no vaccine or other immunizing agent against either disease and no lasting immunity; a person can catch either disease any number of times.

"The right drug properly given is the only cure for either. Both may be cured rather easily, but prompt treatment is important because damage already done by the disease cannot be repaired.

Anyone suspecting that he may have been exposed to either disease should go to a doctor and ask to be examined for both, the speaker concluded.

Mrs. Viola Williams opened the program with a humorous tale, The Dress Form. In the business session she was nominated by the club as a county delegate to the Texas H. D. Association meeting this summer.

Guests were Sharon Moore of Gristown, a house guest of Mrs. Williams, Mrs. W.H. Russell and Mrs. Earl DeHart. Also present were the County H. D. Agent, Argen Draper, and Mmes. C. L. Whitehead, Mary Bodkin, Otto Massie, R. E. Barrett, Fred Barrett, W. J. Lueb, Otto Olson, Clint Ward, O. L. Williams and Velma Salvi-

Gardeners Work At Kings Manor

Work day at Kings Manor was held by Bud To Blossom Garden Club Friday morning, when plans were completed for a special program May 3 with guests invited to hear an authoritative speaker on water problems of this area.

Mrs. Delmo Williams and Mrs. Sam Long were hostesses and co-chairmen of the work day. Residents at Kings Manor retirement home were assisted in planting seeds in the flower beds around the building, and in transplanting to the outdoors plants they had grown indoors through the winter.

A cleanup of flower beds in preparation for the blooming season was also conducted by the visitors.

Final arrangements were made for decorating tables and other hostess duties for the spring luncheon of Deaf Smith County Federation of Womens Clubs at Community Center Tuesday. The annual fine arts program will be given at this meeting, with the public invited as a part of the community Fine Arts Festival sponsored by

MAN WITH DYNAMITE SHOOT--

BUT WAY WIDE OF US, TONTO, AND IN ANOTHER MINUTE WE'LL BE OUT OF RANGE!

YOU KNOW, YOU MADE ME MISS, DYNAMITE!

RIGHT! I DIDN'T WANT YOU HITTING THAT MASKED MAN, WALLY!

THEN COUNT ME OUT OF YOUR TRAIN PARTY! I DON'T TIE IN WITH ANY YELLOW--

YELLOW, AM I?

I'LL TEACH YOU TO MIND WHO YOU CALL A COWARD!

BUT--WHY'D YOU LET--

FOOL! IF WE KILL THE MASKED MAN, WE'LL HAVE THE POSSE DOGIN' OUR TRAIL! JUST WHAT WE DON'T NEED! NOT WITH THE CHANCE OF HITTING A TRAIN CARRYING THREE MILLION IN GOLD! NOW, LET'S GET THE BEST OF THE TRAIN PARTY!

NEXT DAY--

YEAH, I'M CARLTON FENNORE!

PLEASSED TO MEET YOU! I WAS SORRY TO LEARN HOW THE RAILROAD FIRED YOU ONLY BECAUSE YOU OCCASIONALLY NEEDED A LITTLE LIQUID WARMTH IN THE ENGINE CAB!
