

Commissioners Court Hike Deputies Salaries

Deaf Smith County Commissioners voted raises for sheriff's deputies during a regular session Monday and passed a resolution which will pay the county road workers for overtime. Salaries of the deputies were raised at the request of Sheriff Ed Roberson. They include Bill Rowland, who recently was named chief deputy, from $425 to $475, Johnny Fields, from $425 to $450, and Travis McPherson, from $400 to $425 effective July 1. Rowland and Fields also receive $25 per month each from the school district for aiding as truant officers. Fields has resigned, effective August 10 or sooner if a replacement is found, to become a highway patrolman. Passed by commissioners was the resolution which said that all county road employees who work will be paid $2 an hour for work done after their regular five days. The motion amended previous action in which commissioners decided that employees would not be paid for grading or work done during snow storms because that was part of the job. Final action also was taken on the purchase of 40 acres of land by the city and county for dump grounds use. City commis-ioners had met in special session last Thursday to give their approval to the land purchase, which will cost a total of $22,369.41. County Commissioners agreed to the purchase Monday. The land, being bought from Sam Nunnally, is located north of the present dump grounds. A road is expected to be constructed soon and the new land put into use. Condemnation proceedings on a 35-by-1,595 foot tract of land in Precinct 2 near Hereford were initiated by commissioners. The county is seeking easement in that area for drainage channels. Owners of the land are Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Johnson of Oklahoma, and Mary Ruth Davis Player of Dallas. Approximately $2,000 was transferred from the county's general fund to the jury fund on a vote of commissioners.

County Judge H. C. Williams told commissioners that the transfer was necessary because of the number of trials so far this year. Commissioners received the June fire report from Hereford City Manager which showed that the county had four fires and the city nine during the month. The county is charged when the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department is called into the county. In other action, commissioners heard a report from Jewel Smith, county welfare agent, and discussed taxes with Jim McMorris of Amarillo, tax consultant for the county, school and city. Tax Equalization Boards representing the Hereford Independent School District, City of Hereford and Deaf Smith County will meet July 24 and 25 in the Commissioners Court Room.

Health Dept. Takes Samples

A representative of the State Health Department was in Hereford Monday to take samples of water from Tierra Blanca Creek in connection with the continuing pollution check. Millard Bruce said he had taken six samples in and around the Hereford sewage plant at the request of the city, and expected the results in about 17 or 18 days. A copy of the report will be sent from Austin, where the samples will be analyzed, to City Manager Dudley Bayne. Samples Bruce said included one of raw sewage, one at the filter effluent, one of the final effluent, one downstream about 200 yards below the sewage plant, one upstream about 50 yards, and another one upstream about 250 yards. The City of Hereford also had an Amarillo biologist take samples of water at the sewage plant last Saturday for analysis. Those results are expected within the next few days. Henry B. Burkett of San Angelo, regional director of the State Parks and Wildlife Commission, said Tuesday that he felt the pollution problem along the Tierra Blanca Creek could not be attributed to one thing. ## Officers Check City Burglaries

The theft of duplicate keys Sunday night from the glove compartment of a car owned by Clifton Ueckert of 222 Avenue I was one of three thefts reported to police this week. The keys were used to open the rear of the car and a one-fourth inch Black and Decker drill and seven and one-fourth inch Black and Decker Power Saw taken. Also stolen from the car was the key case, four keys, a gold wedding band, a pair of prescription sun glasses and a flashlight. Total value of the articles was estimated at nearly $95. Workmen at the construction site of Allied Chemical Corp. on Progressive Road said an air compressor and electric motor were taken sometime between noon Saturday and 1 p. m. Monday. The two pieces of equipment were still in the crate at the construction site when workmen left Saturday. There was no immediate estimate of value on the stolen goods. Hereford police also were told See OFFICERS CHECK Page 2

A slight tax increase of 8 1/4 cents per $100 evaluation was included in the 1967-68 budget for the Hereford Independent School District, approved Tuesday night by the board of trustees. The tax raise, Supt. Johnny Clark told the school board members in his presentation of the budget, was made necessary by recent legislation action which increased the teachers salaries paid by the schools.

He pointed out that the total added cost to the district from the state minimum salary increase was $65,848, while the salary increases recently approved by the district itself totaled $69,000. The total salary increase cost over the previous year will be $134,848. Continuing, Clark explained that tax re-evaluations on industries usually take care of such increases, but there is no re-evaluation on grain elevators for next year.

Clark said the tax raise would bring in an estimated $53,721, still leaving a total of $81,127 which would have to be trimmed from the budget before it is submitted August 1. He based the money raised on the tax increase by anticipating that 94 per cent of the $62 million tax evaluation would be paid.

Four faculty members already have been cut from the school system and there will be a tightening up in each part of the budget until it is on the level with the anticipated revenue. Clark told trustees that he had either cut or kept the same expenses in each department except teaching supplies. The expenses for teaching supplies during the last school year were $30,300, while they will be $33,000 in the 1967-68 budget.

The proposed budget, with the cuts still to be made and teaching changes expected, totals $2,574,832. It was $2,611,545 in 1966-67 and $3,199,922 in 1965-66.

A breakdown shows $1,914,104 in local maintenance; $78,000 in transportation; $391,928 in interest and sinking fund, and $190,800 in building. The local maintenance was $1,781,527 last year, and $1,618,732 in 1965-66; the transportation was $119,941 last year and $84,440 in 1965-66; the interest and sinking fund was $389,177 last year and $306,750 in 1965-66, and the building was $320,900 last year and $1,190,000 in 1965-66.

The district will not have to buy any new buses next year, Clark stated, because an order had arrived early this year and a total of seven buses were bought on the 1966-67 budget.

Figures in the budget also show that the costs for transportation will be $11,000 more than the revenue expected, and the local maintenance costs will be See SCHOOL BOARD Page 2

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman this week gave 1968-crop wheat State acreage allotments based on the national allotment of 59.3 million acres announced June 23. The 1968 national allotment compares to a 1967 allotment of 68.2 million acres and a 1966 allotment of 51.6 million acres. As indicated in the announcement of June 23, the 1968 acreage allotment would provide a crop of approximately 1.5 million bushels with average weather. A crop of this size will balance with estimated domestic use of 735 million bushels and an export target of at least 750 million bushels during the 1968-69 marketing year which begins July 1, 1968.

As directed in the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965, State, County and farm allotments for 1967 and subsequent years are determined on the basis of the preceding year's State, County and farm allotments, respectively. Thus, for 1968, the State allotments are based on those of 1967. As in previous years, eligibility for price-support loans and wheat marketing certificates will depend on farmers' meeting program provisions. Other operating details for next year's crop will be announced soon. The 1968 wheat allotment for Deaf Smith County compared to 1967 and 1966 is as follows: 1966-169,360, 1967 - 223,408, 1968 - 193,749.

GI Requests LoneStar Flag

A Hereford man presently serving his second tour of duty in Vietnam will soon be showing off the flag of the great state of Texas, due to the efforts of several local residents. Charles D. McClure, hospital corpsman in the U. S. Navy, explained his situation in a letter dated June 30 and addressed to Hereford Mayor Ray Cowsett. "We have been here a month and in a very short amount of time, the Enlisted Men's Club is scheduled to open. Many other men in the battalion have written to their home town mayors requesting their state flag. Many flags have arrived already, and many men are planning to display them on our club walls when it opens. However, nobody has yet acquired a flag for the great state of Texas." "Being a resident of Texas, I am requesting if you could and would be so kind to help myself and other fellow Texans in the battalion to save face, by being able to put the Lone Star Flag on the wall with the other state flags." Mayor Cowsett turned the job of finding a flag over to Chief of Police Marshall Padgett. After several near misses, which included numerous offers of American flags, Padgett finally located a Texas flag at the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office. The large flag received a repair job, was cleaned and packaged for mailing at Gwynne's Cleaners, and soon was on its way to save face for McClure and several other Texans. McClure's address is Charles D. McClure, HM3, USN, 794 45 34, U. S. Naval Mobile Construction Battalion THREE, Medical Department FPO, San Francisco, Calif., 96601.

RIGHT SIDE UP? However you look at it, this Texas Flag will be sent to Vietnam to be displayed on wall of Enlisted Men's Club. The flag is being held (wrong side up) by Miss Becky Owen and Mrs. Edna Mathes, both employees of Gwynne's Cleaners.

Miss Della Stagner, co-ordinator of the pre-school program presently underway at Shirley Elementary School, gave the board a report on the school, describing it as "the best pre-school program we've had." She said there are 360 presently enrolled in the 40-day program which ends Aug. 11. Orpha Clark, tax assessor-collector for the school, reported that tax collections are down four per cent compared to last year. He said only $2.86 per cent of the taxes have been paid an unusually low amount in the past eight to 10 years. The drop in collections began since February 1, he stated. ## Deaf Smith Sends Four To District

Four Deaf Smith County youngsters will be in Pampa this weekend to compete in the District 1 4-H horse show. The group is leaving with high hopes of surpassing last year's superb performances, when county youngsters fared so well as to gain spots in state contests. In the competition Friday morning will be Rodney Brooks son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brooks, Donna Woodward, and Pat and David Cooper daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Cooper. Donna has served as vice-president of the 4-H Horse Club and Pat has been secretary-reporter this past year. President is James Lee. The contest in Pampa will include winners from the 22 counties in the district. County agent Justin McBride says that about 150 entries are expected. Of the 150, some 20 performers will go on to the state meet at Odessa later in the summer. Each youngster will be entered in one higher class and two performance classes, with choices of western pleasure, reining, pole bending or barrel racing. Pat and her older brother, Jim, both were state entrants a year ago, after district wins. Jim won 2nd (out of 80) in his halter class and Pat received 3rd place in her class. Another Hereford rider, James Lee, was eligible but was unable to attend. Deaf Smith County was second only to Moore County in last year's district meet. Moore County had a margin of only one point, although they had entered 22 performers compared to Deaf Smith's five.

The camp, which offers eight other divisions, including Latin and science, is unique in that it offers six weeks of intensive professional training for high school students considered tal-mer Miss Gloria Franklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Franklin of Abilene.

The home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gid Brownd, 241 Star, was the setting for the wedding service, read by the Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor of First Methodist Church.

Only members of the families were present for the ceremony. Miss Penny Oliver of Clyde attended Miss Franklin as maid of honor, and Carl Brownd was his brother's best man. Mrs. Trotter played a medley of wedding music before the bridal party entered to stand in front of candelabra set in arch form, ornamented with palm leaves and daisies and placed before a window.

The bride wore a pink silk sheath with a chiffon scarf caught by pink daisy applique to drape around the neckline and float to one side. Her slippers were in matching color and she carried a bouquet of daisies.

Miss Oliver's sheath dress was in green and her flowers were yellow daisies. An informal reception followed the exchange of vows. An arrangement of red roses and pink carnations was flanked by the cake, iced in pink with white decorations, and the bowl of pink punch.

Brownd is a student in summer classes at McMurry College and is employed at St. Ann's Hospital, Abilene. Both he and his bride plan to continue college studies in the fall.

By MELVIN YOUNG

Two Texas productions are among the top 20 U. S. Travel Events for July and September, according to the Texas Tourist Development Agency. The selection is made each month by the National Association of Travel Organizations.

In July, NATO is recommending "TEXAS," Paul Green's musical drama which kicked off its season June 30 in the Pioneer Amphitheatre of Palo Duro Canyon. Chosen for September is the International Cotton Carnival which salutes in Brownville the Texas-Mexican cotton industry.

Tourism should be on the increase in Texas in 1968 with the HemisFair being held in San Antonio and presents an opportunity for every community throughout Texas to capitalize on the situation. The motel business, service stations and restaurants should do a booming business in the summer of 1968.

Tourism is one of the bigger industries throughout the nation, although Texas has, for many years, been dragging behind in promoting the state. We note with interest however that the Texas Tourist Development Agency recently approved spending $235,000 in print media to advertise the state's tourist attractions.

New Mexico has probably done more than any state in the Southwest to promote tourism, and others should follow its example. Arizona publishes one of the finest state magazines ("Arizona Highways") that we have ever seen. It has circulation in all 50 states of the nation and a readership unsurpassed by any magazine of its type. These people have learned, it seems, that the tourist dollar is worth going after.

By the way, our own highway associations have done a good job in Hereford and should be supported and encouraged.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce will hold a meeting in Hereford in August by the way. We'll have more details on this one as it develops. And, unless some difficulty arises, the West Texas Press Association will hold its winter meet in Hereford next February.

There are numerous other meetings on tap of course, but these two just happened to come to mind. Certainly, the citizens of Hereford are making every effort to promote convention traffic to Hereford — through the Chamber of Commerce — and any support that you and I as individuals can give these groups will be much appreciated. It's important to our economy.

And speaking of economy, the lack of bumper crops and good prices for some crops has certainly hurt the local economy, but in looking over the area, we would say that Hereford and surrounding towns are still in better shape than other areas of the state. Sometimes the picture looks black, but as usual, Hereford will bounce back with bigger and better things to come.

Failure of the packing companies to make a firm commitment concerning Hereford has also dampened spirits of many of our business leaders, but it might be noted that Wilson & Co., the Number 1 prospect, recently renewed its option on the Jack Allen property east of town and apparently is still very much interested in the Hereford area.

The merger with the Ling-

Tempco-Vaught organization upset the apple cart somewhat and has delayed final decision concerning the new plant. It is unfortunate that this should happen right in the middle of negotiations with Wilson, but in the long run it could be for the best. Both are strong companies, and Wilson has been on the scene for many, many years.

Texas Meat Packers also experienced some internal problems with one partner purchasing stock from the other which has created problems that have delayed the proposed new plant. Overtures have been made to the company by another area town as well, but we're hoping that in the end they will settle on the original location east of Hereford Feed Yards.

It is strange that so many things have entered into the picture in our efforts to secure industry for Hereford. But if you will remember, the negotiations with Holly almost fell when Merrill E Shoup the strong advocate of a plant in our city and chairman of the board of Holly, passed away. Shoup's death could have cost us the plant. Fortunately, and perhaps because of some fast work by local civic leaders and the genuine interest of Holly's board, everything worked out.

Of course, the Holly facility has been good for Hereford, and we hope that Hereford has been good for Holly.

Ervin Ward, local cafe operator, has taken over the Hickory Log in Sugarland Mall and has been operating the restaurant for the past week. Ervin opened quietly, trying to get his crew accustomed to the new working quarters before being hit by large crowds but he seems to be doing a bumper business in spite of the lack of publicity.

The Hickory Log has experienced difficulty in the past, but with a local operator at the helm it should be a going concern.

The local Ben Franklin store will close its doors Saturday at 9 p. m. and will remain closed approximately a week or 10 days. The store plans a complete remodeling and restocking program and will have some surprises for the shoppers when they reopen, according to Truitt Thames, local manager.

The weatherman we understand, is right 80 per cent of the time — it's the weather that's wrong.

Coach Danny Litwhiler's Michigan State baseball team had an 8-10 Big Ten record this spring.

The league was organized for this summer at a meeting in First National Community Room Monday, when Mrs. Jimmy Gilliam was elected president and Ruth Dobbs secretary. Thirty prospective players were present then.

Games will be played on the field on St. Anthony's School campus, beginning at 7 p. m.

Information about membership in the league may be obtained by telephone from Mrs. Gilliam or Mrs. Dobbs, but no advance notice is required of

Red Cross Has Board Meeting

First quarterly board meeting of a new year for Deaf Smith County Red Cross Chapter was held Tuesday morning with J. R. (Monk) Johnson, new president, in charge.

Reports from the recent American Red Cross convention at Dallas, the first national meeting of the ARC ever held in the southwest, were made by the chapter's delegates, Mrs. Floyd Coleman and Pam Miller.

Miss Miller told of activities for Red Cross Youth, which were emphasized in observance of the 50th anniversary of the junior organization.

She was one of five Panhandle youth chosen to assist in demonstrating a multipurpose disaster unit from the Greater Amarillo Chapter, one of several pieces of disaster equipment shown on a convention program.

Vital role of volunteers in the Red Cross program around the world was stressed in all sessions. Mrs. Coleman reported, and chapters were urged to recruit and train more helpers in the varied services.

Services to military personnel and their families, in growing demand because of the war in Viet Nam, was the other point of emphasis by top ARC officials and noted guests.

Genevieve Miller, county executive secretary, told of increasing calls on the local office for emergency aid.

She also reported on a Combined Service Territory meeting at Plainview last month, when results of a study on proposed national reorganization were discussed.

Deaf Smith Chapter has been designated one of several key chapters in the Panhandle territory, she said, to assist chapters in neighboring counties.

Methodist Hold Community Christian Week

Sunday, July 9, a group of Hereford youth from the First Methodist Church started their Community Christian week with a talk from Reverend Clifford Trotter on "Honest Self." After the sermon, everybody gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kimball for a bigger and better party. Others helping during the week were, Bob Wert, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Trotter, Mrs. A. T. Mims, Mrs. Pete Caviness, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harkey.

Monday morning the youth again gathered at the Kimball's house to organize a slave day. The group washed cars, cleaned house, and did other odd jobs to earn money. That afternoon at 4:00, the workers were rewarded for their hard work with a trip to Palo Duro, and later that night, after a talk from Rev. Trotter on "Honest Parents," the group went to see "Texas," and then returned home.

A swim party that was scheduled for Tuesday went off with a big bang and was followed by another talk from Rev. Trotter. "Honest Community" was the topic for the Tuesday night talk.

Wednesday night was the round-up of Community Christian Week and it started off with a pizza party at the Kimball's. Rev. Trotter made his last speech on "Honesty to God" and the gathering was closed with a devotional.

Fisherman Is Cook

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

"When we get ready to go to the lake, we buy a dozen eggs and a loaf of bread and take off!" Thus H. E. Wester describes the absence of a supply problem at the Westers' cabin on Conchas Lake.

YEAR-ROUND, the Hereford couple leaves the cabin ready for occupancy so they can drive up for an overnight stay, a week end, or longer with a minimum of fuss. Staple food is left there and they expect to catch enough fish to supply their wants.

"We usually take fresh vegetables for our meals up there," Mrs. Wester says "but we can manage with the supplies we leave there."

Only a very few times in the four years the Westers have had the cabin at Conchas, have they failed to catch fish to cook on any trip. Sometimes they take steak or hamburger to broil, just for a change of menu.

THERE IS CHARCOAL boiling equipment at the cabin, as well as in their backyard at 311 Ave. J, but it is used for meat, not fish. Wester is the one who cooks the fish they both catch.

"There isn't any way of cooking fish that beats rolling them in corn meal and frying them," he says positively. "I've tried baking, broiling outdoors and in, with and without foil wrapping, and nothing is as good as plain fried fish."

That is the method he recommends for channel catfish which the Westers catch on trot lines at the lake, or pike which they catch trolling. They like to fillet the fish, slicing them so there are no bones.

Just roll them in meal, use plenty of salt and fry them in deep fat at a high temperature so they brown quickly on the outside and stay moist and flaky inside, Wester says. He isn't more specific because he doesn't measure or take temperatures.

Neither does Mrs. Wester when she prepares baked beans, a favorite at the Wester cabin to accompany the fish.

"Or if we don't happen to catch fish for a meal, these are good for the main dish," she adds.

BAKED BEANS

For a quick start, use canned pork and beans. Season to taste with chopped onion, chopped celery, Worcestershire sauce, catsup and brown sugar. Add crisply fried bacon, crumbled, and bake in a moderate oven.

THE WESTERS enjoy their cabin at the lake, often with visitors, and have made many improvements on it during their ownership. In the past year they have stuccoed the frame building, with its two large rooms and a screened back porch. Now they are setting more trees and otherwise improving the yard. They leave at the cabin their boat and fishing tackle, even the clothing they like to wear at the lake, appreciating the convenience of its permanent status. In past years they have made many camping trips and actually "roughed it," so deluxe camp life appeals to them.

While their children were at home they took camping jaunts to Colorado and to many Texas lakes. A tent was their shelter then, and they took it and other equipment with them.

"That was fun once, but maybe we are getting older," chuckles Wester. Now the children are widely scattered; one son lives in Capetown, South Africa and the other in Durango, Colo., and they have daughters in Hartley, Fort Worth, Dallas, Mineral Wells and California.

They regret that their grandchildren are not nearer; to join them at the lake oftener. It was when one young grandson was with them that Wester made his most unusual catch, snagging in a duck on a trot line.

His biggest was a 38-pound cat from Lake Stamford. And his most hazardous moment in boats on numerous lakes? That was in nearby Buffalo Lake, when he was sitting fishing in calm water, and another boat ran smack into his.

Not into him, because he had just jumped into the lake. He managed to swim to his damaged boat and get it back to shore.

Wester, a stucco and concrete contractor, has lived in Hereford 39 years and Mrs. Wester has been here 20 years. She teaches in Hereford schools, and a favorite hobby is painting.

She has used the lake and its surroundings as the subject of paintings. Wester does it easier — he is a hobby photographer and puts his pictures on colored slides.

Implement Co. In Same Location Since 1935

JOHN HALL, parts manager for Davis Implement has been with the firm, since it was organized and worked with W. L. Davis Sr. in the produce company prior to founding of the implement company.

One of the oldest, if not the oldest, implement dealers in Hereford which has served many farmers in the magic triangle area is Davis Implement Company, 144 West 2nd Street in Hereford.

The reason for it being acclaimed as perhaps the oldest is that it started operations in 1935 in the same location it now occupies.

The location it now stands on used to be a wagon yard and livery stable, according to W. L. Davis, Jr., co-owner of the company. His father, W. L. Davis, Sr., came from Grayson County in 1931 with his family to manage Wilson Produce Co. until he decided to engage in the implement business. The produce company was located where Dolly Textiles is now located in the 100 block of Main Street.

In 1935, he and J. C. McCracken joined and purchased the wagon yard for their implement business.

They operated the business in the livery stable for 3 years until they constructed the brick building which they now occupy.

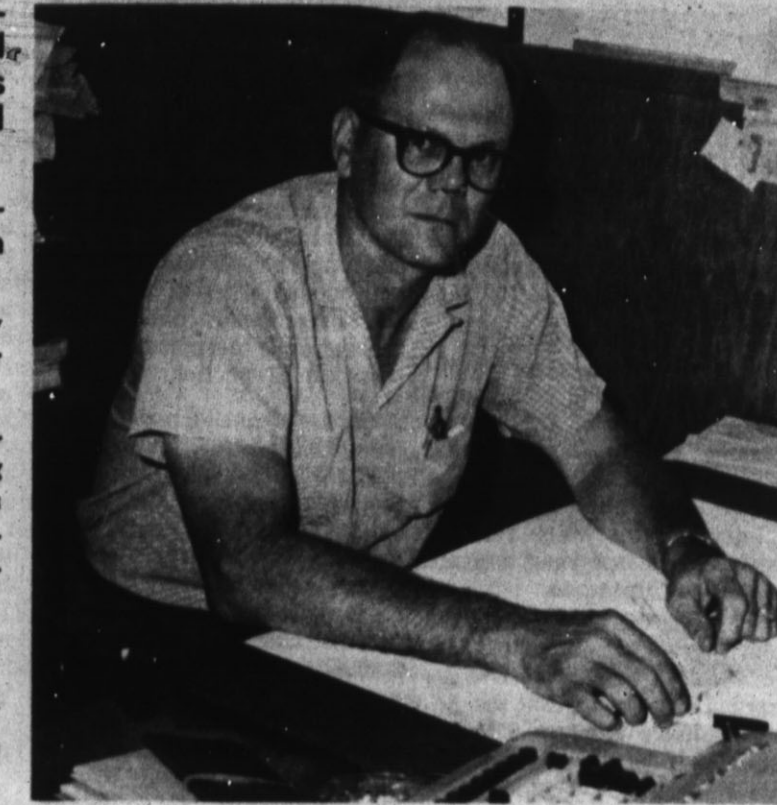

In 1957, W. L. Davis Jr., joined his father in the company and they took complete ownership. The older Davis passed away later that year and

The company first started selling Minneapolis-Moline farming equipment and still does. It has been said that they are the oldest dealers of one single company in this area.

Besides selling the M-M line, which is made up of tractors, farming implements and many other farming necessities, the company is also the authorized dealer for the Graham Plow Co. of Amarillo. They were the first dealers of this plow in Hereford.

Davis Implement Co. specializes particularly in the irrigation field. The industrial motors are acclaimed by several leading implement companies as being the best made. Their service of farming implements and machinery extends to all makes and models. Their service department consists of three men who are highly experienced in the farming implement and machinery field.

W. L. DAVIS, Jr. heads firm founded by his father and J. C. McCracken in 1935. The Co. has handled M-M equipment since its beginning.

The men are John Green, Fred Fogg and Harvey Hammett. Handling the parts department is the oldest employee of the company, John Hall. Hall has been with the company ever since it began and even before they were organized, working with Davis in the produce company.

W. L. Davis, Jr., was born in Hereford and graduated from Hereford High School in 1942. He attended college at Texas A and M in College Station and received a bachelor of science degree in agriculture in 1946.

Washington Report

From Congressman
BOB PRICE - 11TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1233 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. • 205-3706

Recent testimony before Congressional committees has revived the possibility of a Presidential request to Congress for a surtax on income but a 10% rather than 6% tax he had previously indicated he would ask.

This rumor comes on the heels of predictions of a budget deficit during the coming fiscal year that may well be close to $30 billion rather than the $8 billion—estimate the President made last January.

Last year, an election year, the President also predicted a deficit for the fiscal year just ended of $1.8 billion which has—or will when the score is tallied—amount to more than $11 billion.

And there has been no effort by the President to curtail domestic spending as the costs of the war in Viet Nam continue to spiral and the cost of living index points to further and worse inflation. Rather, the President has asked for more new spending programs on the home front and railroaded another huge debt ceiling increase through Congress, so that the government can borrow more money to finance its insatiable spending appetite.

Government borrowing on a tight money market forces interest rates up and contributes to the problems of small businessmen and the homebuilding industry which is already in a depressed condition as a result of interest rates which reached record levels last year and are on the way up again.

Last week the Chairman of the Joint Economic Committee, Senator William Proxmire (D-Wis.) charged in a report that the Administration's January 1966 underestimate of the cost of the Viet Nam war caused an "unnecessary and punishing" rise in both interest rates and prices.

The report, based on hearings held in April on the domestic economic effects of Viet Nam spending, said: "The pursuit of the objectives of growth, full employment and stability, established as national policy by the Employment Act of 1946, can only be served by timely and adequate action to prepare and recommend policies that are carefully designed to avoid economic dislocation.

"Had it been known early in the spring of 1966, for example, that $12 billion over and above the budgetary estimates for fiscal 1967 would be appropriated for the Viet Nam war, Congress certainly would have given more serious consideration to a tax increase or spending cut and quite probably would have acted on one or the other or both. Such action would have dampened the subsequent inflationary pressure and avoided the havoc caused by the excessive reliance on restrictive monetary policy in 1966.

"Among the Committee's specific findings were these: "The President has a clear responsibility to take prompt and adequate measures to counterbalance the effects of sudden increases or decreases in military requirements under the mandate set forth by the Employment Act of 1946.

"The incremental estimates used for Viet Nam expenditures by the Defense Department should be considered an understatement and, therefore, the economic effects are greater than these estimates would indicate.

"We again face serious problems in fiscal year 1968 with respect to making an adequate assessment of the public policy actions required to maintain high employment, growth and relative price stability. There are already signs that actual Viet Nam spending in the upcoming fiscal year will outrun the original estimate by as much as $4 to $6 billion."

What the report didn't say which now must be obvious is that the military services in the Department of Defense must have known the amounts necessary to complete the 1967 fiscal year or at least could come closer than $12 billion in estimating those costs.

But the $12 billion plus another $2 billion in supplementary appropriations voted recently for other agencies was deferred, as it was the year before, until all of the Great Society programs were passed and funded—and until after the elections higher. And as Arthur Krock, the noted journalist said in his final column when he retired last year: "A frontal attack on inflation would also require a meaningful reduction in government spending for non-military projects. . . . But this reduction would be opposed by another powerful ally of the Administration, the group whose goal is the total welfare state to which the President's grandiose design of the Great Society is both kith and kin."

If you are worried about your heirs owing an estate tax on your property when you die, here are the rules: An estate tax return must be filed if the fair market value of your property is more than $60,000 on the date of your death. However, the community property laws usually allow the estate to be worth $120,000 in community property since each spouse is entitled to a $60,000 exemption. Remember these rules apply only to Federal estate tax and not to Texas State Inheritance Taxes.

All American Sale Draws 209 Nominees

A whopping list of 209 horses have been nominated for the sixth All American Quarter Horse Futurity Sale, scheduled for Sept. 1-3 at the Chaparral Hotel Convention Center at Rudoso, N. M.

Nominations Secretary Liz Devine reported that the 209 yearlings set a new record.

To be eligible for the sale, owners must keep their horses eligible for the 1968 All American Futurity which is likely to gross a record $500,000. A total of 701 have been nominated for the world's richest horse race next year.

With the large entry list, three sessions will be held for the first time and Auctioneer, Dean Parker, will offer approximately 65 yearlings each evening. Last year's sale of 96 yearlings broke all existing All American Sale records in average and gross.

The average was an excellent $3,874 and the gross, a high of $379,775.

The sales topper was the splendid race prospect, First Kiss. A daughter of Three Bars out of the fine Be Sure Now matron Cute Trick and thus a half-sister to the classy Suki Tadre, First Kiss changed hands for a record shattering $45,000. This broke the mark established the previous year when Jet Dick's full brother, Jet Too was bought for $37,500.

Jet Too since has won the Sunland Fall Futurity and is one of the leading contenders for the $200,000 Rainbow Derby, slated for Aug. 6. First Kiss made her first start last week and was a close-up fourth in top company.

This year's roster of sales eligibles is dotted with outstanding prospects, many of them sons and daughters of such brilliant sires as Three Bars, Jet Deck, Moon Deck, etc.

Damage to the car driven by King was estimated at $200 and the car driven by Steward at $150. A citation was given for failure to yield the right of way at a stopped intersection.

Championship Races Sunday At Dragway

AMARILLO DRAGWAY — The second annual Texas Fuel Championship races, set for Sunday at Amarillo Dragway, will feature the greatest single saturation of double-A fuel dragsters in the history of Texas motor sport.

Headlined by the appearance of "Big Daddy" Don Garlits and his reknowned "Wynn's Charger" dragster, the Sunday-only event will feature at least 26 of the best known fuel cars and drivers in the Southwest, all shooting for a $1,000 top prize.

Out of the 26 pre-entered cars which will begin timed runs at 7 a. m. Sunday, only 16 will qualify for the top fuel field which will inaugurate first round eliminations at 2 p. m.

Each car will be allowed as many timed runs as its crew terms necessary with the cars posting the 16 best elapsed times by the 1 p. m. trial deadline qualifying for top fuel.

Those not making the feature field will battle for a second fuel eliminator prize with runs in those of the top eliminators, ginning immediately following those of the top eliminators.

With entries continuing to trickle in at press time, almost all of the hard-charging fuelers in the Texas-New Mexico-Oklahoma area have already entered the competition.

Brother Chrysostom Lane, S.A. to Celebrate Silver Jubilee

Veteran Graymoor Brother Observes Silver Jubilee

GARRISON, N. Y. — Brother Chrysostom, S. A., the former Patrick Lane, of Bell Island, Newfoundland, will celebrate his silver jubilee as a member of the Graymoor Brothers on July 15.

A concelebrated Mass of Thanksgiving will be offered by the Graymoor Friars in Our Lady of the Atonement Chapel, at Graymoor, Garrison, N. Y.

Brother Chrysostom, has been stationed at the Graymoor mission of St. Joseph in Hereford, Texas since 1959. There he has done missionary work among the Mexican migrant workers and has helped turn the poor mission into a vital and bustling center of activity.

In 1963, Brother Chrys started plans for a school at St. Joseph's. By 1964, to the surprise of many, classes were in session in the new school. He also constructed a center at the mission.

In 1966, Brother Chrys made news across the country when he successfully collected enough trading-stamp books to provide a school bus for the mission. People from all over the country sent trading books to Brother Chrys.

The energetic Brother has come up with another novel idea. He acquired a box-car which he moved to the mission to store vegetables in for the poor.

In addition to his post at St. Joseph's, Brother Chrys has held various posts for Graymoor during his 25 years as a Brother. He has served at the Graymoor seminaries at Montour Falls and Saranac Lake, New York and at the Brothers Training school in Rhode Island. He studied architecture at Catholic University in Washington for three years.

Born in Newfoundland on November 29, 1914, Brother Chrys attended St. Michael's grammar and high school in Bell Island before entering the Graymoor Brothers in 1937. He made first profession of vows as a Graymoor Brother in 1942.

Brother Chrys has two brothers, Robert and Henry Lane and one sister Mrs. Margaret Stamford, all residing in Newfoundland. One sister Mrs. George Lane of Georgetown, make application for enrollment in the fall semester is Aug. 28. The fall semester will start Sept. 5 with enrollment, about a week earlier than in the past, and will be concluded Dec. 22.

Ontario and Mrs. Josephine Newman of Peekskill, N. Y.

Graymoor Brothers are specialists who use their skills to further the work of their Society. Some fill administrative positions, others run farms and care for the seminary grounds. In their ranks are found skilled accountants, carpenters, electricians, masons, mechanics, painters and printers.

In the missions the Brothers may be called upon to run a dispensary or to build a chapel, to purchase supplies to teach catechism to a group of youngsters. Graymoor Brothers are stationed at mission posts in Japan, Brazil, British Columbia, Nova Scotia, North Carolina and Texas.

Weekend Thefts Reported To Police Dept.

Two larceny thefts were reported to the Hereford Police Department Saturday and Sunday, having occurred at Gibsons Discount and the Holiday Inn Motel.

Officers were told that three guns were shoplifted from Gibsons between 9 a. m. and 1 p. m. Saturday, having a value of approximately $150. Two of the guns were Llama .38s, while the other was a .22 high standard.

F. E. Dolph of Hobbs, N. M. told police early Sunday morning that someone had entered his room about 2:30 a. m. at the motel and took a pair of slacks, a pair of socks. Inside the pants were a belt, credit card case, $15 cash and all of his papers. The total value was estimated at $30.

Dolph said he had developed a sore throat from the motel's air conditioner, so had cut it off and left the door open.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

This is the season that gives meaning to the expression, riot of bloom. Bursts of daisies, drifts of alyssum, waves of petunias, flocks of phlox and swirls of verbenas toss their colors at you from flower beds in nearly every yard you pass.

SECOND BLOOMING of roses this year rivals the first in number and size of blossoms; late varieties of daylilies are still blazing, and no-telling-how-many other summer flowers add to the riot, in greater or lesser numbers.

Our June rains no doubt contributed to the fine showing and supplied the green framework with sets off the flower colors. It's a delight to get out where the fields and pastures are all green, too, even though you know the emerald sweep that rests your eyes is 90 percent weeds.

FLOWERS ARE also rioting on summer dresses, along with blobs of dye in gay abstract prints that may have no rhyme or reason, but do brighten up the scene.

Even without color, the black-and-white print that Brucie Rose was wearing as she went into the bank one day last week, couldn't be called dull. The pattern looked like an explosion of the diagrams in a geometry text. The effect, very smart!

Some geometrical figured dresses, more disciplined, still draw attention. Like the blue-grey with bold black stripes that Bea Hutson wore out for a coffee break, or the crisp and fresh peppermint-striped seersucker of Velma Hodges.

Geometry and flowers are combined in a pretty sheer cotton that Gladys Braly had on at work, a print blocked off with wide white lines, and a floral design inside the lavender blocks.

SEVERAL TIMES lately I've noticed in passing the museum (The Deaf Smith County Museum if you want to be formal) groups going in and out, or exploring the outdoor exhibits, that looked like Mama, Papa and the children.

Mostly they were in the sort of clothing that families wear on motor trips, and I've wondered whether they were travelers who stopped just to see the museum.

If they are, the museum is fulfilling one of the objectives of the people who worked to establish it. But if they are local families there is another objective accomplished, for one of the purposes is to interest today's residents in the city's yesterdays.

I CAN'T THINK of a better way for the museum to be visited than by families; its exhibits could provide plenty of mealtime conversation in any family, and both adults and children could learn a lot, pleasantly.

It could be a good family resolution in any home in the county to set one afternoon this summer for a museum tour, all together, taking plenty of time for everybody to see everything he wants to.

But the parents had better be ready with answers to a lot of questions, because there are a lot of things in the home settings there which are not found in our homes, and which will prompt questions from any bright kid.

Page Five will be offered to all classes of swimmers as well as for those who wish to take Junior and Senior Life Saving.

Squid, a delicacy in many parts of the world, feeds more people than any other sea staple except scale-bearing fishes.

Thompson To Perform With Camp Orchestra

INTERLOCHEN, MICH. — Kerry Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Thompson, 520 Ave. J, Hereford, is a French horn player in the World Youth Symphony, the National Music Camp orchestra that is to accompany Van Cliburn when the noted pianist performs here July 18. This is Kerry's first summer at Interlochen. Cliburn will be giving his ninth Interlochen performance in seven years. He is to play the Rachmaninoff Concerto No. 2 under the baton of Dr. George C. Agent To Attend Regional Confab

Gerald M. Banner, of Hereford, agent for the Prudential Insurance Co's Amarillo District Office, will attend the company's regional business conference July 12-15 in Los Angeles, Cal. The business conference will be attended by field representatives invited from district offices in Texas and southeastern New Mexico. Purpose of the conference, a company spokesman said, is to provide instruction in specialized insurance subjects. Conference sessions will be held in the Century Plaza Hotel. They will be conducted by executives from Prudential's Southwestern Home Office, with headquarters in Houston, Tex.

The concert will benefit the Joseph E. Maddy Interlochen Memorial Fund. The Maddy fund, being raised now, has a $25 million goal, toward which the Stone Foundation of Chicago is contributing $5 million — provided that the remainder is raised in five years. Cliburn is an Interlochen trustee.

College Checks Arrive Earlier

Checks for more than two hundred thousand veterans who will attend college next fall under the new GI Bill for Vietnam veterans will arrive about ten days earlier each month because of an improved system adopted by the Veterans Administration.

Future checks will normally arrive about the 10th of the month, according to Jack Coker, Manager of the VA Regional Office in Waco.

The 10-day speed-up results from dropping the requirements for monthly certification, Coker said. Now a veteran who is attending a regular course at an approved college or university certifies his attendance at the beginning of the school year. continues in regular attendance

Checks continue as long as he continues in regular attendance or until his eligibility expires, the VA Manager said. The additional certifications required are handled independently of the checks.

"Behind the clouds the sunlight lurks
To quicken the rain-drenched soil."

The rains came. Giving underground moisture and a build up of water resources. The lawns, trees, gardens did not have to be watered for a few days. The sunshine is with us again, and there are many chores to be done, this summer time.

Heading the list is the chore of ridding the garden and other places of weeds and grasses. They must be pulled, cut, or killed. (If killed with weed-killer, be sure and use care in the application. Read labels carefully. Close containers tightly when you have finished with them.) The weeds and grasses will soon out grow the small new plants (of the last planting) and in weeding watch for the tiny new plants that they are not destroyed or damaged. Keep a sharp eye for the weeds which have grown tall. They may fool you for a minute, in that they are growing among the tall flowers and can be easily overlooked. (There is a tall weed growing in a geranium bed, in one of our parks. Some day I am going to stop and pull it as it will have a million - gillion seeds if not destroyed.) Also keep an alert eye for the elm sprouts. They grow so quickly and soon you will have a tree growing where you don't want it. PLEASE do not overlook the alleys. Almost as quick as I write this, the weeds and grasses are taking over. Vacant lots SHOULD be cleaned of weeds and other growth. These make perfect places for insects, worms, and plant diseases to hibernate and later become active in well kept lawns, flower beds, as well as making it impossible to enjoy the out-of-doors these lovely summer days, and evenings.

Secondly, the pruning of the shrubs and trees that have completed their bloom. Most flowering shrubs need annual pruning after blossom time to keep them in shape and encourage new development. Never whack or tear. Resolve to take your time. Use sharp pruners for this garden chore. If SHARP, then the cut will be easy and be made correctly. Also makes your task easier and more enjoyable. Study each cut before you make it. Start pruning flowering shrubs while they are young. It is much easier and better to keep them shapely than to administer a major cut-back after letting them overgrow. If however they have become overgrown, some of the wood should be cut back to the crown or trunk. It may be necessary if much growth is shown to use a pair of long handled clippers or small pruning saw. Again be sure they are sharp and in good condition. Protect large pruning cuts, especially on trees, with a tree wound dressing to prevent advent of insects or disease, or a drying out.

Some of the flowering shrubs to prune now are: lilac, spirea, tamrix, weigela, A bella, holly, nandina (in pruning the later ones use care that the berries are not pruned away) wisteria, boxwood, flowering almond, plum, flowering peach, flowering quince, Kolkwitzia (beauty-bush) viburnums, forsythia and many others.

In a recent magazine I noticed a new style for pruning the forsythia. The author had taken a well developed forsythia, with several years growth, and had pruned off all the lower branches, leaving the shrub only with the top branches. These should be cut back, and cut so that compactness will be promoted. The results were attractive, and different. These had been used for accent planting, near a drive-way. The same method can be used with a climbing wisteria vine. Plant it in an attractive spot in the garden, train all to the original trunk, and keep pruned so it will pattern after the wisteria tree or weeping peach. The twisted trunk, along with the new form is most interesting and different. My neighbor, Mrs. R. W. Mitchell, has such a tree and we have found it interesting and adds a spot of beauty. Mrs. Mitchell had several of the wisteria vines, and this is an experiment for her.

Pines, firs, and spruces need little pruning. If you want to control their size and keep them compact, you can do so by pinching or cutting back the "candles" These are the fingerlike new growths that form at branch ends in early summer. Snap them off at half to three-fourths their length. If you desire a tight compact plant then keep the tender growth pinched carefully.

Pruning mistakes to avoid. 1. Avoid bobbing trees or shrubs indiscriminately to even them up. Study branching and prune clear back to large limbs to obtain balance. 2. Crew cut. Avoid shearing shrubs that look better growing in their natural shapes. Shearing makes harsh architectural lines. Proper pruning takes longer but it is correct for your tree or shrub, and in the long run you will have a beautiful tree or shrub to be proud of. 3. Do not tear in the removal of heavy lines, or any other branches. For the heavy limbs make three cuts. It may be necessary to have some help with the heavier limbs. 4. Do not twist with the pruners. Cut straight through. A haggard cut looks bad, and makes an ideal place for insects to collect. Also the haggard or uneven cut will catch and hold water, and deterioration can set in. 5. Never leave stubs. Stubs will die. New bark cannot grow over them.

Remember always, neatness, loving care, and patience are some of the chief attributes of a good gardener. Just as you admire a well kept person, and a man that has just been to the barber and has that certain something of a well-groomed man, so is your garden admired and appreciated.

Congratulations to Mrs. Obe (Grace) Roberson for the Garden of the Month Award. Her yard and gardens certainly show loving tender care. The address is Centre and Plains.

The red geraniums, growing in the window boxes at the home of Mrs. Sank (Mildred) Rameys home, on Ave. B, and Union are pretty.

The lovely nasturtiums in tints and tones of yellow at the home of Mrs. Whiteside, 123 Ave. C. and the tall spikes of gladiolus makes an attractive picture, for the passers-by.

REMEMBER: Take time to enjoy your flowers, shrubs, trees and lawns. Many beautiful spots in Hereford. Some of the back yard living rooms are like those we see in the magazines. To my knowledge I have never taken a tranquilizer orally, but I do recommend this one. Sit down in a comfortable chair on the porch, or patio in full view of a beauty spot have in reach a tall cold glass of buttermilk, and rock and enjoy the created beauty. This is real enjoyment, and a sure cure for tense nerves.
