Events and Faces Seen

Ox Emmons, with the wholehearted support of B. H. Hopkins, is planning a campaign to petition Texas A. & M. College to become a co-educational institution—since both are Aggie graduates and boosters, and both have new baby daughters.

Lynn Fowelson reports that he plans to start cutting wheat next Monday morning.

Fred Moreman of the Ward community is also getting ready for the harvest season; he has been busy all week building a new granary on his farm.

Residents of the Summerfield community recently realized one of his boyhood dreams, when he got a bicycle and rode it to his heart's content. The bicycle looked a little out of proportion, but Perry had a good time.

Mr. Glasscock has recently drilled a new well one and one-half miles south of Adrian. He struck water at 26 feet, and is pumping 12 gallons a minute. Other wells in the community are from 120 to 150 feet deep, and water is hard to find. The Glasscock well is located in the edge of Rock Lake, and is the subject of much comment.

Frank Daniel, son-in-law of Ike Crosthwait came here recently from Plainview, and will assist Mr. (Continued on Page 12)

"We will have plenty of buyers for the next two weekly sales," Barber said, "and we are expecting more consignments than ever before, at the two coming sales."

He said that the barn will be remodeled during the time it is closed, giving more pen room and affording more convenience to consigners and to buyers next fall.

Father Of Hereford Teacher Killed In Tornado, Mother Is Also Injured

Miss Rhita Jean Sullivan, home economics instructor in Hereford High School, left Saturday morning for Abilene, following arrival of information that her father, M. R. Sullivan, 65, was killed in a cyclone which struck their home at Cyle, Texas, last Friday afternoon. Her mother was also listed among those most seriously injured, and her condition was this week reported as critical, but hope was held for her recovery.

Funeral services for Mr. Sullivan were held at Llano, Monday, and Miss Sullivan remained with her mother.

Water Conservation Pictures on O. Wilder Farm

Some farmers work all their lives to keep water off their fields, but O. Wilder, eight miles northwest of Hereford, has proved since 1936 that his wheat needs all the water that falls on the land—and a little more. Wilder held all the water from the Spring rains of 1937 on the land where it fell, then dug diversion ditches and spreader dams and carried to his land the formerly wasted water that fell along the highways and on nearby pastures. The diversion ditch (top), constructed beside a 24-acre wheat field, catches run-off water from a 40-acre straight-row field and from a half mile of highway. By means of a "syrup-pan" terrace system, the water picked up from the roadside is spread evenly over Wilder's field. When a 3.23-inch rain fell last Spring, the run-off water in the ditch covered the land from terrace to terrace. Wilder has two other diversion structures, one taking run-off water to another field, and the other to his contour-furrowed pasture. Wilder's wheat field (middle), is shown shortly before the harvest last year. Because of his field's receiving the benefit of additional diverted water, Wilder harvested 12 bushels to the acre while straight-row fields in the same vicinity yielded less than seven bushels. The field received the benefit of diverted water again this Spring while being fallowed for wheat planting in October. Water from the Spring rains of 1937 is shown (bottom) being held where it fell on Wilder's contour furrowed field. Moisture held in the contour furrow rows enabled Wilder to grow a good wheat crop here also.

Hereford Farmer Saves "Lost Moisture" To Improve Yields

Millions of gallons of water which formerly flowed down the slopes of Texas Panhandle fields and into roadside ditches to increase possible flood dangers in lower areas this year are being diverted back to cultivated fields and pastures to become available for use in growing crops and grass, a survey by the Soil Conservation Service shows.

Farmers co-operating with the Soil Conservation Service in the demonstration areas are using various types of diversion structures and spreader systems to catch and distribute this run-off water, where it will be of benefit to their land.

Typical of this phase of soil and moisture conservation in the wind erosion area of the Texas Panhandle are the practices being used on the 320-acre farm of O. Wilder, located eight miles west of Hereford.

Knox Kinard New Hereford School Head

NEW SUPERINTENDENT COMES HERE FROM OKLAHOMA

Members of the Hereford Independent School Board this week announced that Knox Kinard of Oklahoma, Texas, has been selected to succeed C. H. Dillehay as superintendent of the Hereford Schools. Mr. Kinard will assume his duties here July 1, 1938, when Mr. Dillehay's resignation becomes effective.

Mr. Kinard comes to Hereford highly recommended as a school man, and for the past 14 years has been at Oklahoma, a large consolidated district which boasts an excellent elementary and high school. During the past 10 years Mr. Kinard has served as superintendent of the schools at Oklahoma, the school has carried a creditable rating with the Southern Association of Colleges and Elementary Schools and at the close of school, 1937, was listed with 24 affiliated credits.

Mr. Kinard saw service in the American Expeditionary Forces during the World War, and took four years of residence work in the University of Paris, at Paris, France. He took his bachelor degree from West Texas State College at Canyon, and in 1917, accepted the position of principal in the elementary schools at Vernon, Texas. After holding this position through the 1924 term, he went to Oklahoma as superintendent, and has held that position until the present time.

"Mr. Kinard is widely recognized as one of the leading school men of West Texas," members of the local board said, "and we feel that we are fortunate to secure the services of a man with such a distinguished record of service and accomplishments."

Conservation Of Water Cited By Federal Visitor

Declaring himself impressed with the "bigness of this county, the bigness of operations, the richness of its soil—and the hazards it affords," Chas. B. Ingram, assistant Secretary of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Wednesday told members of the Hereford Lions Club of his first impression of Deaf Smith County.

Mr. Ingram came here as a guest of the Hereford Soil Conservation office, and said that he will make reports to Henry A. Wallace and other officials upon his return to Washington.

He pointed out as the chief hazard, a need to conserve moisture in the soil, and declared that extraordinary practices to have resulted in wind erosion problems now faced by this country.

State Education Head Visits In Hereford Monday

Stressing the importance of education in connection with our democratic form of government, L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Monday morning at 11 o'clock addressed a group of local citizens in the court house.

"There are two methods of teaching: through percept and example," he declared. "When one contradicts the other, the purpose of both are defeated. We teach democracy in our schools, and if the state appoints the State Superintendent, we are defeating both means."

He also pointed to the rising cost of education in Texas, and attributed the increasing cost of state government to better roads and better school systems. He said that all (1,500,000) children in Texas are entitled to equal education, but that only a portion of the school districts are now offering full nine-month terms for their boys and girls.

Persons desiring farm work should leave their name and address at the county agent's office, according to A. R. Bateman, who said today that several inquiries have been made recently for farm hands.

He pointed out that several positions are now available, and said the office will be glad to perform this additional service.

Reduction On Insurance Rate Announced Here

With the 25 per cent good fire record credit Hereford will now be benefitted by the cheapest fire insurance rates in its history, according to the new rating schedule announced by Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, recently.

The additional reductions average an approximate 10 per cent and will apply on those classes of property which affect the greatest number of people. These include dwellings, household furniture, mercantile buildings, stocks of merchandise, farm property, garages, public buildings, churches and others.

The reductions, effective Wednesday, June 15, will save the insurance buyers of the state over two million dollars annually.

Drive Swells Membership Hereford C-C

MEMBERSHIP DOUBLED AS DRIVE NEARS CLOSE HERE THIS WEEK

A complete re-organization of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce was believed to be a reality today as committee members checked over partial results of a campaign which has already netted 122 members, and a fair income for the organization.

"The records now show a monthly income of $200 pledged by members," John Roberts, treasurer said. He also pointed out that many persons in town had not been solicited, and that only 12 farmers had yet joined the organization.

The membership committee, consisting of Joe Evans and Harold Close as chairman, said that the campaign will be continued until sufficient funds have been raised to secure a full-time secretary, carry on a live-wire organization, and meet obligations in full. The goal of the present drive is $300.

As soon as the present drive is completed, directors of the organization will meet and work out a budget to carry out phases of the program for this year. Different committees will outline plans for their particular programs, which include a post office building, Tierra Blanca dam, improved county roads; livestock, agriculture and dairy promotion, along (Continued on Page 12)

"Old Chicago" Feature Film Here Next Week

UNUSUAL PICTURE WILL OPEN WITH PREVUE SATURDAY NIGHT

"In Old Chicago" was inspired by Mrs. O'Leary's cow and the great fire of 1871, which she is supposed to have started by kicking over a lantern.

Pat O'Leary driving west with his brood talks and dreams of a great city on the plains, but impulsively racing with a locomotive, he is dragged out of the covered wagon to death; they bury him on the prairie and travel on to the sprawling city of mud, gambling dens and gay ladies, where Mrs. O'Leary piles the trade of a washer-woman and the boys grow up, clash on many subjects, but are still O'Leary's and are the sociological and political backbone of Chicago.

"In Old Chicago" opens on the prevue Saturday night for a continued run thru Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Scouts Return from Camp In Ceta Canyon

MERIT BADGES AWARDED TO MANY SCOUTS AT ANNUAL CAMP

By Dean Dunlap
Saturday afternoon the Boy Scouts of Hereford returned from their week's camp at Ceta Glen in the Ceta Canyons. All boys had a very good time, although they were almost exhausted. Every boy had at least one scratch or cut, but there were no serious injuries. Many merit badges were earned at camp besides numerous Second and First Class requirements. Richard Petersen and Donald Ray McDullough completed all their Second Class requirements. Merit badges earned were: Bobby Davis, Swimming, Handicraft, Civics, Cooking, First Aid; Kenneth Potter, Civics, First Aid, Cooking; Glenn Smith, Civics and Cooking; George Walker, Cooking, and Jack Nicks, Personal Health. Each night at 8 o'clock, all Scouts gathered around a camp fire. There was a special program every night, and each night Scoutmaster Thorns had a talk of good advice for the boys. One was on Habits; he said that the two most noticeable habits were Karl Shirley's "Why?" and Dean Dunlap's "I was afraid of that." At the last campfire Karl Shirley was awarded a mock merit badge on Full-sliding. Karl's unexpected descent of a hill was one of the outstanding humor features of the trip. The most embarrassing thing of the camp was the very sound trumpeting that the Laabuddy girls' basketball team gave the boys in softball and volleyball. The score of the softball game was 11 to 0, with the girls on the long end. This made the boys sort of discouraged so they challenged the girls to volleyball; fifteen or twenty games were played with the girls winning all of these. Who says Laabuddy hasn't any athletes? Several times during the week, parents of several of the boys visited the camp. The camp was located on a mesa some 10 feet above the creek bed. There were three patrols and each one had a separate tent. The troop officers had a tent and there was one cook tent. There was no special order for the tents, but the camp was always kept in neat order by an inspection each morning.

Food Stressed At Dawn Club

By Mrs. Carl Wimberley
"We are what we eat," stated Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, Home Demonstration Agent, in a discussion of family food supplies at the meeting of the Dawn Demonstration Club, Wednesday afternoon at the school house. The discussion placed special emphasis of selecting food of good quality, either in canning, storing or buying. In this locality, foods must be canned properly to prevent botulism and there is now available a bulletin of time tables for different sections of Texas. Adequate diets must be maintained for good health. Besides canning vegetables, fruits and meats may now be kept fresh for months by freezing. The latest idea in storing pork is in cottonseed oil. For a family of five their should be two dairy cows, 50 hens and 150 baby chicks each year, also 2 hogs. Among those present, were Mrs. R. A. Frye, Mrs. W. P. Caraway, Mrs. H. E. Miller, Mrs. Bill Fleming, Mrs. C. A. Wimberley, Mrs. J. Fields Matthews, Mrs. Carl Wimberley and Miss Oliver.

She says "Please" and "Thank you"

The alert, courteous voice of the telephone operator is known to all who use the telephone. To the little old lady in the shawl, the man in the big house on the hill, the tiny tot of six, the words are the same: "Number, please" and "Thank you". Like all those who work for the telephone company, from executives to office boys, the operator's aim is more than just giving fast, accurate, dependable telephone service, at a reasonable price to you. It is to serve you in such a manner that you can say, "They're nice people to do business with."

AGROL MAKES ITS DEBUT

Nothing has aroused greater interest in the Farm Chemurgic Movement in Texas than the recent commercial debut of agrol, power alcohol made from grain sorghums, corn, sweet potatoes or other crops, to be blended with gasoline into an efficient motor fuel. Although Texas probably has greater chemurgic potentialities than any other state, it is but logical that interest in the past has been limited largely to particular areas capable of producing needed raw materials for chemurgic industries such as East Texas pines for kraft or newsprint paper, sweet potatoes for starch or tungnuts for rapid drying oil.

The opening in Denison and Sherman last week of the first agrol filling stations in Texas may be milestones in agricultural history. Although agrol to date has its largest distribution in the Corn Belt, it begins to appear as if Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas were to play an important role in its further development. These states happen to be great petroleum producers as well as important farming states. Science and research are linking agriculture and industry more closely in commercial enterprises which in the end should make for a fuller development of the great Southwest with its wealth of raw materials.

The manufacture of agrol from crops, for which farmers are paid the market price or better, is now established on commercial lines. After three years of intensive research the Atchinson Agrol Company's plant is distributing high-powered motor fuel in twenty states with steadily increasing demand and satisfied customers. No one can have a quarrel with a program which would restore to grain growers a market for some 750,000,000 bushels of corn or grain sorghums which disappeared when 1,500,000 farm tractors and several million automobiles and motor trucks displaced 10,000,000 horses and mules. Internal combustion engines are to be made to consume a portion of the Nation's grain and compensate farmers for lost income. There is no charity phase about this program. It is based upon economical returns to both farmer and converter of grain. A 10 percent blend of agrol in the Nation's motor fuel would restore 30,000,000 acres to productivity. In Texas alone, it would add 2,000,000 acres to productivity. In the end petroleum and other industries would benefit from increased rural business. At any rate, Agrol, it seems, is winning its way on its own merits.—Dallas News.

HEREFORD

BULL

By Jimmie Gillentine

In this issue of The Brand you will find an editorial from the Dallas News concerning Agrol, a new alcohol fuel for motors. This editorial holds significance for every farmer, business man and individual in the country and I am glad to recommend that you read it.

Alton Fraser is tremendously interested in Agrol, and just as soon as harvest is over, Alton is going to make a special trip to Hutchinson, Kansas, where an Agrol factory is in operation. He told me recently that he has dreams of erecting an Agrol factory right here in Hereford—provided, of course, it is a paying product. By reading the editorial, you will find that Agrol is made from grain sorghums, wheat, sweet potatoes, and other farm products, and that it is an alcohol to be mixed with gasoline and used as a motor fuel. Recommendations are to use about one-third Agrol and two-thirds gasoline. Just think what it would mean to the farmers if one-third of all the gasoline used in the United States came from farm products; dry ice is made as a by-product.

I wrote Saturday to Victor Schoeffelmeyer of Dallas for some more information on Agrol. Mr. Schoeffelmeyer is Agricultural Editor of the Dallas News—and is boosting Agrol from start to finish. Just think what it would mean to have a half-million dollar factory right here in Hereford.

I am really interested in this phase of using surplus farm products, and again, let me recommend that you read the editorial. I would also like very, very much to know what some of the farmers think about Agrol after they have read the editorial. If you are at all interested, The Brand will publish some more material on Agrol. Although the idea is comparatively new to us, the little country of Bavaria has for a long time been burning alcohol as a motor fuel; Ger-teeth to get in to work on them. That is one thing in The Brand that I know people like to read, because they tell us about it. Last year I tried to get Homer to go to an Amarillo football game and write it up. I figured it would be a stepping stone to bigger things for him; I believe Homer has what it takes to be a "big-time" sports writer and I have two good reasons. First, because people like to read his articles, and second, because he is so darn lazy when it comes to writing them. Anyone with both of these attributes is bound to be a genius.

People say you are getting old when you start thinking of the past, but I would like for every man, woman, boy and girl to do just a little living in the past this week. I'll bet just about every man in this community can remember when his Dad used to take him fishing, and play baseball with him. And ladies, I'll bet most of you can remember when Dad made a sacrifice to buy you a new dress or that hat you wanted. We all stop each year and pay tribute to old Santa Claus, don't we? The answer is "Yes," and we get lots of fun out of it, too. I guess your Dad comes about as close to being Santa Claus as anyone who ever lived. Sunday, June 19, is Father's Day. Remember your Dad next Sunday. He deserves your thought, and remembrance.

It will be nice to send him a present, if you can—but he will be just as glad to get a nice, long letter, and to know that you still think about him. It will require small effort, and nothing could possibly make him happier.

Things are sort of changing with so much rain falling over this country. Some say it is because we are "living right" now days, and that it always rains on the "just." I always figured that it would be better to get rain on the unjust—and someone could take a bucket of water and pour it on the just. Anyway, this rain is mighty, mighty fine—and it looks like we are going to have good prospects for a row crop again this year. Wheat is alright, but I am getting to believe like George Muse; he says he will stake his lot on grass, row crops and cattle.

I guess everyone thinks the other fellow's job is easier, but it sure is hard to know what people want in a weekly newspaper. Down here at The Brand office we spend a lot of time and money trying to give the people things in which they are interested. We ran continued stories for four years—and when we quit not one single complaint was registered. These continued stories cost money, too. During the past week or two several people have been asking why we didn't have more editorials. I was sure surprised at this inquiry, because I figured in this streamlined age few people stopped to read editorials. I guess a lot of people never say what they like in a paper, all of which makes the newspaper business a little tough.

People change in regard to things they like to read, just as they change in the way they farm and operate their business. We are thinking about getting some new features for The Brand, maybe a serial or a column, or more pictures—and if you have any preferences, we would like to hear from you, because that's all we have to go by in making our selections.

That is one reason I get so vexed with Homer Fox. That flat-head can write the best, most interesting baseball stories I ever read—and it is like pulling eye-

After seeing what he did to Grant Fuller, Lee Morgan, Doc Wills, and the K-O boys, I would just like to read one of his articles on Dixie Dean. With such material, Homer could sure sling some wicked words, and I still believe they would hold the interest of a nation.

And speaking of slinging words, you should hear Jack Wayland and Cecil Guseman when they get to arguing about the coming fight between Joe Lewis and Max Schmeling. Jack is a strong booster for Lewis, and Cecil is equally as hot for Maxie.

A lot of different people have been asking lately what the word "30" means at the close of a news broadcast. It started back in days before the teletype—when Morse operators were employed to click out news of the world. These men worked in shifts, which generally changed at 4:30 each morning, and when the operator signed off, he also gave the time. For brevity, they gradually dropped the four, and started putting "30". The custom has grown to such an extent that today reporters, great and small, place "30" at the end of their copy instead of "The End" or "Finis". When a famous editor dies, the paper generally turns over the slugs on the Editorial Page, and carries an editorial entitled "30".

Most magazines for the press also carry a "30" column in which they announce the death of editors and newspaper employees over the state. A cut-off like you find at the bottom of this sentence is referred to as a "30" dash.

BY MRS. ALLEN BELL

Sunday School and services were well attended, Sunday morning. There were several visitors and all the young folks that have returned from colleges were present. Rev. Bruce delivered the sermon.

Mrs. Larson and son, Inman, who have been living in north Hereford, the past two years, have moved back to their farm, south of Adrian.

Mother Kline celebrated her 80th birthday, Sunday, June 5. Her daughter, Mrs. Haliburton and family of Vega, spent the day. In the afternoon several neighbors called, among them Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jacobson and Mr. and Mrs. John Skaggs.

Ira Stephenson and son, Donald, and daughter, Babe, came out Sunday afternoon to bring John Witt home.

Mrs. Manuel Loveless was hostess to the Adrian Community Club on Wednesday afternoon, honoring Mrs. Paul Kuhnly, of State College, N. M., with a bridal shower.

Mrs. Kuhnly was formerly Miss Chloe Freeman of Adrian High School and has attended State College for the past two years. She was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts. Dainty refreshments were served to about thirty-five guests. A surprise feature of the afternoon was a pink and blue shower, presented to Mrs. Loveless, the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Syms celebrated their 13th wedding anniversary, Thursday in Amarillo, with a dinner and a show.

Mr. and Mrs. Hare, who live on the Larson place, were out at church, Sunday.

Mrs. Johnnie Kemp's sister from Colorado, and a friend from Amarillo, were visiting her, Sunday.

Jack Balding, who is in the Marines in California, is here visiting his mother, Mrs. J. W. Brown. He is recuperating after an operation.

Miss Olive Witt of Amarillo, visited her mother over the week end.

Adrian and vicinity had three good rains in 10 days, ranging from four to six inches; the first came Monday, May 30, with 2 1-2 inches, and the second was Sunday, June 5, with 1 1-2 inches, and a third came June 8, with 1 1-2 inches.

Sunday night, June 12, another rain was received.

College students of this community have all returned home for the summer.

Evelyn Calhoun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Calhoun, who attended T. S. C. W. at Denton, came in Saturday, June 4.

Charles Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bell, who attended A. & M., came Tuesday, June 1, after spending two days with his brother in Dallas.

Walter Lemke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vick Lemke, came Tuesday. He attended Texas Tech.

John Witt, son of Mrs. Anna Witt, who has been in the University of Texas, returned home Sunday, June 12, after visiting his uncle in Oklahoma and with relatives in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Monahan and family and Miss Velma Howard have returned from a two-weeks visit in Colorado.

where she will go on to Snyder to live with another daughter, Mrs. Andy Logan.

The farmers are planting row crops and drilling cane. The ground is in good condition where it is dry enough to plant. Other places where more rain was received, it is too wet.

One inch of rain was received here, Monday evening — however, west of here there was a heavier rain and hail, which brought the draw up the second time but did not take the bridge out. Fences were washed out where tumble weeds had drifted in them.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Smith, and her husband, are visiting them a few days from Mineral Wells.

Mr. Smith's nephew from Oklahoma has been visiting here.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Messenger, and his mother, were in Hereford transacting business and shopping, Friday morning.

The Baptist Minister, Rev. Joe Wilson, from Friona, and Mr. and Mrs. Wimberley came to the school house, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Wilson will be back to preach at the Messenger school house, June 26, at 3:30. We hope there will be a good attendance.

A one-fourth inch rain was received here, Sunday evening, which will bring the crops up where they had been crusted from the hard rain received a few days ago.

Gillis' On Vacation Trip
Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gillis are vacationing in the New Mexico mountains. They left here last week, and plan short visits at several New Mexico points. They will also visit in El Paso before returning home. Mr. Gillis' health is reported to be much improved.

Water Sprinklers Knock K-C Boys Off Softball Ladder

HOMER SAYS YOU SHOULD HEAR BOB RENFRO PLAY PIANO SOMETIME

By Homer Fex
Last Thursday night the Fire fighting, smoke-smothering, water-sprinkling lot-savers scrambled up the old ladder and shoved that K-C bunch of flatheads out of that no-loss column, to the tune of 14-11, in a ball game that really was a ball game all the way.

The Firemen took the lead by two runs in their half of the first frame, when Brown, their Speedy catcher, poked out a double with two on. But the K-C boys came back and knotted the count on two singles and one error by Tubby Robinson in the second.

The first of the third the Spark-hunters netted four more eyes after a single by B. Witherspoon and three errors by the K-C; with the bases loaded this same mighty Brown stumbled to the plate and busted another double, clearing the bases and later scored himself some way.

But those Old Dutch boys said a four-run lead in this softball is just a breeze. G. Loerwald singled. E. Loerwald doubled and G. Albracht singled to net 2 runs and the score stood Firemen 6, K-C 4, and what a ball game.

The Smoke-smotherers stole another one in the fourth, when V. Stelzer dropped G. Witherspoon's fly, and A. Carroll singled.

K-C made two more in the fourth, when A. Carroll smeared Skypala's fly, T. Loerwald doubled, and Gene Loerwald sent them home with his second single of the game.

Three singles by W. Witherspoon, Pop-up Carroll and Tubby Robinson, sent a couple more runs across for the Firemen in the fifth, and took a lead 9 to 6.

Two successive singled by E. Loerwald and C. Albracht for one run was all the K-C could do in their half, Phillips chunking for the Firemen, using a blinding speed ball and you could hear the smack of the ball against the catcher's mitt distinctly in the top of the Stadium.

Catcher Brown was really taking the punishment, but what did these noble lads care for a little suffering when they had a chance to win a ball game.

No smoke for the Firemen in the sixth.

On four errors, the K-C boys made one in their half.

The fatal seventh cracked up a good ball game like nobody's business. Corbett, first man up for the Lot-savers, singled; Brown singled for his third hit of the game, Carroll singled, with the bases loaded; Tubby Robinson, who had been playing with the Firemen and for the K-C all evening, shouldered his meat cleaver and crashed one of Gene's pet balls for three bases, clearing the bases; G. Witherspoon singled, scoring Robinson. Carroll whiffed, Phillips singled and Witherspoon scored on a fly ball to center and the score stood 14 to 8 Firemen—but six runs don't mean a thing to those K-O lads.

Gene Loerwald got his third hit of the game, E. Loerwald singled for his third hit and old blind Tom called him out on first for leaving the base too soon; C. Albracht was safe on a bobble by A. Carroll, G. Albracht was safe on an FC, and so was everybody else. Tubby Robinson called time out and went into a huddle with Phillips; looked like Robinson was going into the box, but he took a side glance toward the fans and saw six or eight buys with a ball bat on their shoulders and decided to leave Phillips in. If you ever get a chance to hear Bob Renfro play a piano—well, don't miss it, then you will know how good this Tubby can pitch—only not that good.

By Grant Fuller, Jr.
June 8—The Lions literally murdered the Laundry team when they scored the first shut-out of the history of the softball league. The score was 22 to 0. Smith did the pitching for the Lions and allowed only three hits. The "meat-eaters" misused only three times, two of them by Dameron and one by Cogdell, but the errors amounted to nothing.

The third and fourth saw 17 of the total Lions' runs. They scored 10 in the third and 7 in the fourth. The runs were collected off 11 hits and 7 "soap suds" errors. The Laundry made 13 errors in all. Emmons led the Lion attack with 2 singles, a double with which he batted in 4 runs.

Score by Innings
Laundry 000000 0 3 13
Lions 08-10702x 22 15 3
Batteries—Laundry, Brock, Carl Kroff and Ayres. Lions, Smith and Hendrix.

June 10—The Laundry team was again snowed under by a large score. The IOOF banged out 16 hits and with the aid of 19 "soap suds" errors, scored a 20 to 6 victory over the adversaries.

The Odd Fellows scored in every inning but the third with two six-run innings, the fifth and sixth. By taking advantage of the Laundry's errors and knocking out timely hits, the IOOF gained such a lead the Laundry was never able to overtake them.

Score by Innings
IOOF 2102683 20 16 9
Laundry 1022010 6 6 10

Batteries—IOOF, Young and Roberson. Laundry, Brock, Carl Kroff and Ayres.

June 15—The Sunday School edged out a victory over the Laundry, the Laundry's third in a week's time, when they defeated them 3 to 2. This was the lowest score played here this year.

The Sunday School scores came in the first two innings. Successive singles by Harold Harlin, Whitlow and Hicks scored the first run in the first inning. The two runs in the second were scored when Allred was safe on an error by Brock and Click, next up was also safe on an error. Two more miscues, one each by Cockerell and L. Gutrie, put the two runs home.

The Laundry scored in the fourth inning. After two outs L. Guthrie doubled. Ayres followed up with a single and they both came home on Newman's triple down first base foul line.

Score by Innings
Laundry 0002000 2 9 5
S-S 120000x 3 4 3
Batteries—Laundry, Brock and Ayres. Sunday School, D. Boyer, Hicks, Click and J. B. Harlin.

June 14—Although outbit 11 to 3, the A. & M. nine cashed in on the Firemen's errors and defeated them 7 to 6.

A-M's first three runs were all gathered from errors. O. Carroll allowed two men on base when he muffed easy bouncers to him at short stop. Brown then began to throw the ball away and three runs came in. Clayton who had walked, and Coffee and Hartman both who got on by virtue of the Carroll miscues. The third inning saw two more runs cross the plate when Schroeter was safe on a fielder's choice and L. B. Russell proceeded to lambast a homer between right and center fielders. The other two runs came in the sixth.

Three successive singles in the fourth inning gave the Fireboys their first tally. The other 5 marks came in the sixth and seventh by virtue of errors by L. B. Russell and Coffee and four hits, one a triple by Babe Russell.

Earlana, June Pink, and Porter tomatoes were suggested as varieties most likely to bear in this locality.

Fire Demolishes Farm Home East Of Here Monday

Five members of the Gregor and Beckman families escaped without injury Monday morning, when a gasoline stove exploded at the farm home, 10 miles east of Hereford. The five-room house was demolished, and the residents escaped only with their clothing and a few personal belongings. H. W. Beckman arose early and started the stove, which exploded around 6:30 o'clock Monday morning. The explosion occurred in the kitchen and members of the family were in the bedroom at the time, escaping injury. The fire spread so rapidly, however, that they had only enough time to grab their clothing and more out a clothing chest, which contained a portion of their clothes. Others in the house besides Mr. Beckman were his wife and daughter, Genevieve; his father-in-law, Joe Gregor and daughter, Ernestine.

Gregor. The place is commonly known as the "Old Lupton Place," and is now under supervision of R. E. Underwood, trustee. The family is staying with Tom Ivy until arrangements are made for another house. They estimate a loss of $2,000 in household items, none of which were insured and were not able to estimate the value of the house.

Miller, who solicits for the Salvation Army here each Saturday, visited the office the other day and warned local persons to be on the lookout for grafters, who pose as representatives of the Salvation Army. She says they are numerous, and she wants to warn her friends, and she assures them that she still comes here, personally.

C. E. Brown, who has been employed by the Texas-New Mexico Utilities at Canyon for the past 15 years, has accepted a position with the Hereford Appliance Company, it was announced today by L. L. Womble, manager of the firm. Mr. Brown helped install the Utilities Company's plant at Canyon, having previously worked for the same company at Plainview.

E. S. Ireland, county Democratic Chairman, was just in and again warned all prospective county and district candidates that they must file their names not later than Saturday, June 18, if they want to get their names on the ticket.

of water was running off a 40-acre straight-row tilled field in the immediate vicinity and into a roadside ditch which carried drainage from a half-mile of highway, Wilder decided to salvage this "lost moisture" for the benefits of crops on his 24-acre field paralleling the roadway.

In co-operation with the Soil Conservation Service, Wilder constructed a ditch to divert the runoff water from the roadside into his field to be spread evenly by a "syrup pan" system of terraces.

Wheat Crop Improved
The ditch was soded with Buffalo grass and when a 3.23 inch rain fell within a brief period last spring, the diverted run-off water covered Wilder's field from terrace to terrace. As a result of his wheat crop receiving the benefit of this additional moisture, Wilder harvested 12 bushels to the acre while the yield on straight-row fields in the same area was less than seven bushels. The diversion ditch is carrying extra water to Wilder's field again this Spring, the land now being fallowed for wheat planting.

"I am greatly pleased with results from soil and moisture conservation practices on my farm," Wilder says.

A complete conservation program now is being used on Wilder's field, according to O. T. Williams, manager of the Hereford project. Two other diversion systems are used to spread run-off water on another field and a pasture, which is contour furrowed. The fields are terraced and contour tilled and both tree sites and woodland plantings have been made.

In addition to increasing his crop yields, Wilder also has found that soil losses from wind and water erosion are being checked, he says.

They pointed, however, to a need for more individual members, including farmers and ranchers, stating that these individuals will benefit greatly from the proposed campaign.

"Several farmers have pledged $1.00 a month, and others 50 cents a month," the committeemen stated. "Pledges like these will go a long way toward putting the movement over. If you will consider a pledge, please see Joe Evans or Harold Close, who will be glad to furnish you with a pledge card, and outline the program now planned by the organization."

A secretary will be elected and the complete program outlined as soon as the membership drive is concluded, said A. H. Streu, president. He indicated that the re-organized Chamber of Commerce will be in effect by July 1.
