SWPS Also Asks Increase

An increase by Southwestern Public Service Company was presented to Hereford City Commissioners in a booklet which included a letter of explanation from Melvin Jayroe, district manager of the company.

Jayroe, who was not present, explained that the increase in electric rates was the first asked by SWPS in 18 years. The new rates already have been approved for New Mexico communities served by SWPS and will include an average increase of 7.62 per cent for residential and commercial customers in the Texas portion of the company's service area. Hereford average increase would be 5.85 per cent.

Judge Issues Restraining Order Tuesday

A temporary restraining order to prevent Fred B. Patton of Route 5 from continuing the practice of medicine was filed Tuesday in 69th District Court by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners.

A hearing on the order was set for 11:30 a. m. Tuesday by 69th District Judge Archie McDonald. At that time, Patton will have to show cause why an injunction should not be filed against him.

Patton, who is from Plainview, was charged with practicing medicine without a license Sept. 14 after he "diagnosed and treated" an inspector of the TSBME. He was released from Deaf Smith County Jail after posting a $1,000 bond.

The inspector said Patton had been practicing medicine — specifically reflexology — without being registered with the U. S. District Clerk's office. The temporary restraining order, filed by Deaf Smith County Attorney Bruce Miller in behalf of the TSBME, prevents Patton from continuing the practice until his case is settled.

Elks To Hold Ceremonies On September 23

Twelve Hereford candidates of the Elk's Lodge will be initiated in special ceremonies held on Sept. 23 at the Lodge Hall when one of the top three initiation teams in this area will be hosted by the local lodge.

The Borger team, headed by B. D. Scott, will be joined by special guests Virgil Sharp, State President of Elk's Lodge, and Gifford Preston, District deputy Exalted Ruler, and some 150 members of area lodges.

The event will feature a luncheon at 7 p. m., followed by initiation ceremonies at 9 p. m. with entertainment to follow. A public service organization, the Elk's Lodge has 73 local members, and has as its primary object the support of the Crippled Children's Hospital near Gonzales, Texas.

The 1961 increase, which added 10 per cent across the board to electric rates, is the only general rate increase the company has ever requested, the information sheet explained. There have been 25 reductions in rates, 14 of them since the company took its present form in 1942.

"For residential service in homes which are not electrically heated or do not heat water electrically, the new rate schedule is as follows:"

... $6.50 per kwh (kilowatt-hour) for the first 50 kwh used each month.

... $4.30 per kwh for the next 50 kwh used each month.

... $2.15 per kwh for the next 900 kwh used each month.

... $1.70 per kwh for all additional kwh used each month.

The average residential consumption is 350 kwh a month, SWPS officials explain. The increase in monthly bills to customers using the average would be about $1.16.

Giving other examples, the company says that under the monthly bills if 25 kwh are used, the old rate would be $1.58 and the proposed rate $1.63 on the monthly bill. If 100 kwh were used, the bill would be $4.50 under the old rate and $5.41 under the new.

If 500 kwh were used, the bill would be $12.76 under the old rate and $14.04 under the new increase. If 2,000 kwh were used, the old bill would be $42.76 and the new bill only $41.92.

Also proposed by SWPS is that residential customers whose average monthly bill is $15 or more may, on request, be billed monthly on a level payment plan based on one-twelfth of their estimated annual bill.

Included in the data booklet is a recap of last year's business and how the proposed increase will affect the company in Hereford. For the 12 months ending Dec. 31, 1966, SWPS had an average of 3,868 residential, small general service and other customers. Of that amount, 3,173 were residential customers.

Existing revenue for the Hereford branch of SWPS totaled $881,734.89, while the proposed revenue after the rate increase will be $933,357.51 — an increase of $51,622.62 or 5.85 per cent. The residential increase will be $35,750.85 or 9.51 per cent.

Vandals Damage Office Building

Coplin service station, located at 501 W. First, was the scene of much vandalism Tuesday morning which police are continuing to investigate.

The service station, officers were told, was entered between 9:15 p. m. Monday and 8 a. m. Tuesday when someone broke the rear window out of a portable building on the east side of the station.

Clothing, sewing materials, sales records and many other materials were scattered about the room, and ink from a duplicator machine was smeared on the clothes, walls, chairs, windows and other items in the building.

Nothing was taken from the station as far as could be determined.

GAINING ENTRY — Burglars knocked out a window pane Monday night to gain entry into an office annex at Coplin Chevron Station. Apparently not finding any money in the office, they wrecked the place, smearing ink from a duplicating machine over the walls and fixtures.

It was a frustrating night for Hereford City Commissioners during their regular meeting Monday.

After two months of dealing with a proposed rate increase by Pioneer Natural Gas Co. — including rejecting the proposal on August 21 — commissioners decided to accept the 11.5 per cent increase. Immediately after the vote, commissioners were handed a proposed rate increase from Southwestern Public Service Co.

The Pioneer rate increase, initially presented July 17 in the 55 cities covered by the company, means general service users will pay an average of 72 cents more each month. The new rate will go into effect no earlier than Oct. 15, Dale Young said Wednesday morning. At that time, all cities had approved the increase.

The SWPS rate increase will average 5.85 per cent for residential and commercial customers in Hereford. It will go into effect upon approval of the proposal.

Commissioners set Nov. 5 as the date for a hearing on the rate increase by SWPS.

Dale Young, manager of the Hereford district office for Pioneer, appeared before commissioners to ask that they reconsider their decision to reject the proposed rate increase. He stressed the approval of the increase by Lubbock, Canyon and the majority of the other city commissions in the area and reminded commissioners that an appeal would be filed soon with the Texas Railroad Commission.

Commissioners also discussed briefly the expenses which would incur if the appeal is fought, and were told by Young and City Attorney Earnest Langley that they would be very high. Mayor Ray Cowser urged passage of the increase, subject to Pioneer's paying the 3 per cent franchise tax.

Pioneer had proposed with their initial petition to raise the ad valorem tax from 2 per cent on the gross receipts to 3 per cent. By law, public utility companies must pay 2 per cent, but the tax can be raised by mutual agreement between the city and company involved. Young said the company intended to pay the 3 per cent. SWPS also has indicated it would pay the extra one per cent.

Commissioner D. C. Kinsey made the motion to reconsider the previous decision and approve the rate increase for Pioneer. Dick Barnard seconded the motion and it was stated that Commissioner Albert Maxwell had asked that it be shown in the records he favored the increase. Maxwell and Lloyd Sharp were not present at the meeting.

In other major business Monday night, commissioners approved terms of a lease with Santa Fe Railway for a strip of land between Main Street and the railroad tracks, just west of the depot.

The lease opens the door for a city park which will recognize Hereford as the "city of windmills." The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee has been working on the project for several months. The project is explained in detail in this issue of the Brand.

Terms of the lease with Santa Fe call for the city to pay $1 a year for the tract of land which covers the area from South Main east to the Santa Fe parking lot and from U. S. 60 south to the tracks. Santa Fe also will furnish water for the area.

Approved by commissioners was a zoning request by Grady Rogers and Robert Miller to rezone all of Lots 13, 14, 15 and 80 feet of Lot 16 in the Northdale Addition from "A-Single Family Dwelling" to a "B-Two-Family Dwelling."

The request had been turned down by the Zoning Board, but they informed commissioners they had not been aware of an amendment in city's charter dealing with such a case. Approximately 10 families had pre-

4-H Clubs Hold Crop Show At County Barn

Six 4-H'er's were awarded prizes at the Vegetable and Crop Show held at the Bull Barn Saturday. Open to all members of the area 4-H Clubs, 120 fruits and vegetables were on exhibit.

Awarded first place in the field crop division was Charles Atchley, who was presented a blue ribbon and $3 for his sugar beet entry. $2 and a red ribbon were awarded to Jim Marsh, second place winner with sugar beet entry, and third place, $1 and a white ribbon, were presented to Bill Cole, qualifying with his corn entry.

Winners in the fruit and vegetable division were Charles Atchley, who with an exhibit of apples, won first place; Joyce Bezner, showing summer squash, second, and Charlotte Bezner third with pumpkins as her entry.

Overall entry prizes were awarded to Grace Vasek, with 18 entries, while Don Vasek and Tommy Bezner tied for second place with 13 entries each.

Almost all the entries, after having been judged by Don Brazzil, Randall County Agricultural Agent and Hugh Clearman, manager of Wac Seed, were taken to Amarillo to be exhibited at the Deaf Smith County Booth at the Tri-State Fair. Decoration and arrangement of the booth was done by Mrs. Justin McBride and members of the participating 4-H groups.

Fire Damage Heavy At Local Produce House

A fire, which city officials think could possibly have been started by a burglar, caused an estimated $7,500 damage Monday night to the Koozer Produce Co., located directly west of the Dimmitt Highway near the Santa Fe Railway overpass. Discovered at 11 p. m., the fire gutted two offices and did considerable damage to the southeast corner of the building. There was no estimate of damage on the office equipment destroyed.

Fire Chief J. W. "Jap" Dickerson said it appeared as if someone had broken into the office because it was open when firemen arrived. Koozer employees said the office had been locked at the end of work Monday afternoon.

The blaze apparently had been going for sometime before it was discovered, said firemen, and had done considerable damage before they arrived. All units of the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department were dispatched to the scene on the first call.

Two of the units were able to leave the scene about midnight, while another remained there. See FIRE DAMAGE Page 2

Special Show At Speedway

A double attraction will be on tap Sunday at the Hereford Speedway as Championship Races and Demolition Derby are planned.

Races begin at 3 p. m. with admission being $1 for adults and children free when accompanied by an adult.

EYE CATCHER AT FAIR — The Deaf Smith County exhibit, sponsored by the Hereford 4-H Council and designed by Mrs. Ruth McBride, is one of the biggest crowd pleasers of the county exhibits at the Tri-State Fair, which began Monday in Amarillo. The items in the exhibit were selected from the Vegetables and Crops Show held in Hereford Saturday.

To Raise $32,465 Majors Begin Work On UF

Holly Sugar Corporation's four area field men will form the nucleus of workers to spearhead the United Fund's rural money-raising drive during the fall campaign scheduled for kick-off Monday, October 2, according to Bobby Owen, chairman of the rural division.

The four men, Clifford R. "Bud" Snyder, Robert Willmot, Bob Williamson and Roy Parten will direct the collections covering approximately the same area that they cover for Holly Sugar and will assign workers to make the actual canvass of these areas in preparation for a whirlwind campaign. The rural campaign last year, also directed by Owen, was one of the first to go over the top with approximately 103 per cent of their goal collected. Last year's goal was $4,200 which will be raised slightly this year to take care of the additional requests for money.

Overall goal for the United Fund drive this year is $32,465. Dean Herring is drive chairman and Elmore Rains is serving as president of the UF organization this year.

Owen, at a breakfast meeting at the Hickory Log Restaurant Tuesday morning said that the farmer's fair share of the needed money would be based on See MAJORS Page 2

An examination of the building by firemen after they had controlled the blaze resulted in discovery of an overloaded fuse box which also had burned out during the fire. Located about 10 yards from the offices which were burned, the fuse box possibly could have started the fire firemen theorized.

Firemen said they experienced great difficulty in getting to the fire and moving their trucks to water meters because of the persons attempting to get a first-hand look at the blaze.

(Continued From Page One) sent a petition to the Zoning Board protesting the rezoning. The petition stated that the families had moved into the addition with the understanding that it was restricted to residential dwellings and apartment houses, duplexes or other businesses could not build there.

Commissioners said the residential business could be constructed if they conform to the zoning requirements. Clowe and Cowan Inc. of Amarillo was low bidder for additional new fire hose for the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department. The city had advertised for bids on 500 feet of 2 1/4-inch hose and 500 feet of 1 1/2-inch hose. The Amarillo company bid was $1.17 a foot on the 2 1/4-inch hose and 81 cents a foot on the 1 1/2-inch hose.

There was one other bid on the hose, which is bought annually by the city.

Also purchased by the city was a 1968 Cushman Haulster for the golf course. Wheels Inc. of Amarillo was low bidder with a price of $1,530 — automotive steering being optional for $40. The machine will be used to haul sprinklers, hoses and other equipment at the golf course. There were three bids on the equipment.

Commissioners voted to advertise for new cars for the police department, and decided to give local dealers enough time to secure factory help in getting reasonable bids. Earlier this year, all of the bids on new cars were rejected because they were too high.

The city will trade in four 1966 vehicles when the 1968 models are purchased in about two months.

A dedication deed and field notes for a tract of property in the Price Addition, between Avenues F and H and north of 16th Street, were approved by commissioners.

City Manager Dudley Bayne told commissioners that the State Highway Department will be making a survey at the intersection of U. S. 385 and Park Avenue for the purpose of installing lights for making left hand turns. It was not known when the survey will be done.

Charles Frye, a partner in Aero, Inc., which leases the Municipal Airport from the city, appeared before the commission to discuss construction of a new hangar. Aero, Inc. has proposed building a hangar large enough for six planes and then lease the hangar from the city.

Frye gave a progress report on the plans and how the airport was operating to date. Commissioners told Frye to finalize his plans and return to make the requests.

OVERLOAD FUSE BOX — One of the possible causes of a fire late Monday at the Koozer Produce Co. was a heavily overloaded fuse box, firemen said. Although it was located about 10 yards from the heaviest part of the fire, the fuse box also was burned.

Cowsert asked that the minutes of the previous meeting be changed to show that he had not abstained during voting on the rejection of Pioneer's rate increase. The mayor said he could only vote in case of a tie between the four commissioners and he had only given his opinion during the voting. Cowsert had favored the approval because it would bring in more revenue for the city and he felt the company would get the decision when it appealed to the Texas Railroad Commission.

(Continued From Page One) the proposed rate increase are higher costs of labor, higher cost of materials and equipment, and higher taxes. Each of the items is listed in a 15-year period.

The booklet states 'the new rates will raise the company's rate of return on its investment from 5.64 per cent to 5.98 per cent. 6.5 per cent to 7 per cent is generally regarded as a fair rate of return and Texas law allows as much as 8 per cent.'

"Through the years, the company has introduced every possible economy in its operations. The most efficient generating equipment available has been installed and an automatic load dispatching system which utilizes the most economical equipment under all load conditions has been placed in operation."

"An annual payroll saving of nearly $1 million has resulted from not replacing employees who have terminated and through redeployment of existing employees."

"While these efforts have had some effect on rising costs, continuing price escalation of materials and supplies has made some rate relief necessary."

"Gas for making electricity, for example, has increased in price from 7.25 cents per meg to 19.21 cents for the 16 years since the last general rate increase. Steel for substations is 27 cents a pound today, compared to 15 cents in 1951. Copper wire has gone from 38 cents a pound to 57 cents. Hourly wage scales have increased more than 90 per cent, meters are 26 per cent higher and taxes have increased by almost 200 per cent."

Work Stoppages In July Idle Workers

WASHINGTON — Although the number of strikes in July was at a 4-year, low, several large work stoppages, including a 2-day railroad shutdown, caused strike idleness to rise to its highest monthly level for the year and to the highest July level since 1959, the U. S. Department of Labor Bureau of Labor Statistics announced today. The number of workers involved in these stoppages was the most since April 1952. Approximately 375 strikes, involving 804,000 workers, began in July. Another 255 continuing from June brought to 1,010,000

the number of workers directly idled by strikes in July. Strike idleness amounted to 4.7 million man-days, or 0.43 percent of estimated total working time. More than two-thirds of the month's idleness and four-fifths of the workers involved in July strikes were attributable to 13 stoppages of at least 5,000 workers each. The largest were in the railroad, rubber, and copper industries. Five affected the construction industry — two each in Louisiana and Ohio and one in Pennsylvania. The others occurred at plants of the Radio Corporation of America in Florida, Indiana, New Jersey, Ohio and Pennsylvania; Youngstown sheet and Tube Company in East Chicago, Indiana; Reynolds Aluminum Company in McCook, Illinois; Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company in Virginia, and the New York Telephone Company. So far this year, strikes have resulted in 19.2 million man-days of idleness, compared with 14.2 million in 1966. The lost-time ratio during this period was 0.24 percent, compared with 0.18 percent and 0.20 percent in 1966 and 1965, respectively.

Hospital Board Backs Nursing Program

The Board of Managers of Amarillo Hospital District met recently and pledged their unqualified support to the future of NORTHWEST TEXAS HOSPITAL SCHOOL OF NURSING. Of the six members voting this decision was unanimous in that the school is vital now and in the foreseeable future in meeting the nursing needs of the Tri-State area. The future of the school was threatened by the possibility of establishing a proposed baccalaureate program of Texas Women's University in Amarillo. T. W. U. officials had asked for a phase-out of the diploma schools in Amarillo so that adequate clinical facilities would be available to them. The Medical Staff at Northwest Texas Hospital had previously gone on record in strong support of the Northwest Texas School as being vital in supplying nurses for hospitals in this area. Northwest is enrolling the largest class in the history of the school this September. Already full class has been admitted for the spring enrollment in January and more than 175 applications on file of students who are enrolling for their one year of college pre-requisite work.

DRIVERS MUST BE PHYSICALLY FIT

Recognizing that the safe operation of a motor vehicle in drivers possess certain minimum physical abilities, the State's new traffic safety law permits the Department of Public Safety to deny a drivers license to a person with a physical or mental disability that prevents him from exercising reasonable control over a motor vehicle. SAFETY endorse this provision as being absolutely essential to the safety of other users of the streets and highways. Eleven per cent of the fatal traffic accidents last year involved drivers with physical or mental defects.

GOVERNOR RESPONSIBLE FOR TRAFFIC SAFETY

Texas' new traffic safety laws make the Governor responsible for preparing and administering a statewide traffic safety program designed to reduce traffic accidents. The new program will include better driver licensing, traffic engineering, vehicle inspection, traffic courts plus more traffic law enforcement manpower. An effective program of this type, TEXAS FOR TRAFFIC SAFETY say, can call a halt to the State's rapidly rising traffic death count.

BEHIND THE SCENES in Hollywood

NOVAK'S BIG PARTY NOT LIKE THE PAST

HOLLYWOOD Some Hollywood parties last all night but the one director Robert Aldrich is shooting for "The Legend of Lylah Clare" has been going on for a week when I arrive on the set. All this time, Kim Novak has been wearing a skin-tight white jersey evening gown with very little on underneath. This is supposed to be a press party staged by egomaniac director, Peter Finch, to introduce his new discovery, Kim, to the film colony press. She is the living image of his dead movie star wife, Lylah Clare. He is going to film Lylah's life story, starring Kim, a newcomer to the camera. Today is the tag end of the party. Everybody is a little tight. Kim already has insulted a feminine columnist and ordered her out of the house. She is dancing, a little weavy now, with Michael Murphy, son of studio head, Ernie Borgnine, who will back the picture. A photographer and a reporter with a tape recorder interrupt them. The photog starts taking a flashlight picture. The reporter addresses Kim: "Miss Campbell," he says, "what do you think of the Hollywood custom of advertising someone as a great star before they have even appeared in a film."

Kim Novak

"You're right," she smiles. "It does seem a little ridiculous." "Would you agree," asks the reporter, "that the key figure in a film is the director?" Kim has fallen in love with Finch but, a little drunk now, is in a mood to bug him. "Name one director," she says, "as well remembered, as well loved as Garbo, Gable and..." Distributed by Kink Feature Syndicate

FOR DANCING FRED IT'S EARLY TO BED Harlow. The director takes care of the mechanics. It is the actor who breathes life into a scene. "Elsa," calls Finch from the background, "I want to talk to you." Kim stops the dance, walks towards Finch, the man who murders her twice in the picture, once as Lylah Clare, next as Lylah's lookalike. "Cut!" calls director Aldrich. "Kim," I ask, "did you have a fancy party like this when you were brought out to Hollywood?" "Are you kidding?" she asks. "I came out in the fifties to do 'Pushover' for Dick Quine. It was a B-picture, but it turned out to be a sleeper." I compliment her on how beautiful she looks in the white jersey gown. On the Warner Brothers back lot, I watch director Francis Ford Coppola shoot a musical scene for "Finian's Rainbow," where a train load of luxuries has pulled up to be distributed to the share-croppers in the Southern town of Mistlucky. The number is "When the Idle Poor Become The Idle Rich." Warners has built three blocks of railroad track for this scene. The freight cars are being hauled by an 1875 Baldwin locomotive, which the studio has owned since 1942. The share-croppers are crowding around but there also are a couple of principals in the scene, Fred Astaire and Petula Clark. FRED plays Finian, who steals the pot of gold from the Irish leprechaun, Tommy Steele, and brings it to this country. Petula is his daughter. At the end of the scene, Fred will dance all over the village. At the break, I ask him what he does to keep in condition for all his dancing. "Nothing, really," he shrugs. "I play a little golf when I can find the time. Mainly, I just get to bed early."

Chamber Warns Of More Local Families Referral Scheme Netting Over $5'000

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce warned today that the chain referral sales racket still plagues the American consumer despite an effective drive on these high-pressure promotions by postal authorities. Bill Thompson, Manager of the local Chamber, said referral selling continues to victimize thousands of people each year, many of them debt-ridden low-income consumers.

According to the National Better Business Bureau, with which the local Chamber is affiliated through membership, Department of Justice sources have estimated that referral schemes now operating involve a public loss of $200 million. Referral selling, which borrows from the chain-letter ploy that flourished years ago, holds out the promise that the consumer can get an appliance or other product at a fraction of its cost by providing the names of friends and neighbors and collecting a bonus each time a sale is made.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 — Because most Deaf Smith County residents are earning more money, currently, than they did a few years ago, a larger proportion of them are now to be found in the middle or upper income brackets. The upward move has been noted all along the line, with the result that the median point on the income scale, locally, is several notches higher than it was then.

Smith County County, from $6,005 per household in 1963 to $6,682 in the past year, a gain of 11.3 percent, it is shown. This compares favorably with the rise in many parts of the country. As to the distribution of this income, no less than 47.0 percent of the households in the local area had net, spendable incomes of $5,000 or over in the past year. Noted especially in the report was the increase in the proportion of local families with net earnings in excess of $10,000. Listed in that category at the present time are 14.0 percent. The positions of other segments of the local population, with respect to income groupings, is also brought out in the study. It shows 25.3 percent of the households with net incomes of $5,000 to $8,000, another 7.7 percent in the $8,000 to $10,000 bracket and 23.3 percent in the $3,000 to $5,000 division. The rest are in the over $10,000 or under $3,000 categories. Since the data is limited to cash-income, it somewhat understates the real income in farm areas, where income in kind is a valuable consideration.

South Africa has three Henning brothers who golf. Harold and Allan Henning are playing in the United States this year. When Julius Boros won $6,500 in the PGA championship he ran his 1967 golf earnings to $100,735. John Yovicsin, a native of Steelton, Pa., is in his 16th season as a head football coach. He coached Gettysburg five years and the last 10 at Harvard. Linebacker Don Chiofaro of Belmont, Mass., Harvard football captain, made 59 unassisted tackles last season. Old-fashioned recipes for oatmeal-date bars often direct that the oatmeal be ground. To do so, put the rolled oats through the fine blade of a food chopper or "grind" in an electric blender. This method works for both regular and quick-cooking oats.

Did you know that barley comes two ways, regular and quick-cooking.

The Post Office Department has disclosed that 100 chain-referral schemes are under investigation for possible violations of mail fraud or lottery statutes. In four years, postal inspectors have completed the investigation of 200 referral promotions. The 200th was the significant, most involving Interstate Engineering Corporation, a California manufacturer of a vacuum cleaner sold through the referral method by about 100 distributors across the U. S.

Interstate was convicted by a Federal jury in New Hampshire of aiding and abetting a mail fraud. Also convicted was a franchised distributor in New Hampshire and five of its officers and salesmen. All defendants will appeal.

According to NBBB, it marked the first time that Interstate or any of its distributors had been charged in a Federal court with violation of the mail fraud statutes in connection with their chain referral operation.

Interstate and the distributor were charged with collaborating in referral scheme which led prospects to believe they could get Interstate a vacuum cleaner for a down payment of 19.90. Other costs supposedly would be recouped through bonus-commission payments of $25 each time someone on the referral

NBBB advises consumers to buy appliances or other products from local dealers whose reputations are known to them. In case of doubt, they should check with the local Chamber of Commerce.

HARDSHIP CASES
The State's new traffic safety laws permit the issuance of a drivers license to persons 15 years old when the refusal to do so would work an unusual economic hardship on the family or the detrimental to the general welfare of the family.

TEXANS FOR TRAFFIC SAFETY urge that licenses of this type be granted only in cases of real hardship as today's congested traffic conditions call for mature, well-trained drivers.

Michigan State won all nine football games in 1952 and was acclaimed national champion.

Juice from canned peaches, apricots or pears may be mixed with melted butter and lemon juice and used as a delightful baste for broiled chicken. Serve with buttered rice tossed with pine nuts.

When you are making thin pancakes that are cooked on only one side and are to be filled, turn each pancake out of the frypan so that the bottom side is uppermost — unless the recipe directs differently.

When creamstyle cottage cheese is used in cheese cake and a recipe directs you to put the cheese through a sieve, do so! This extra step usually helps to make the finished cake deliciously smooth.

As a go-along for baked ham, break up currant jelly with a fork; add finely diced mango chutney and mix well.

English muffins make an excellent base for ersatz pizza. Split the muffins with the tines of a fork so the cut surfaces will be rough. Using a knife to halve the muffins ruins the surfaces.

Here's something different in a whipped-cream topping for a cake or other dessert. Whip a cup of heavy cream until stiff, then fold in one-quarter cup of confectioners sugar and three tablespoons of chocolate shot.

'68 Buick. Now we're talking your language.

The new 230-hp., V-8 engine runs on regular gas. It's standard on all Skylark Custom models.

We changed the Skylark from front to rear, we gave it a whole new look, simply because we believe you want a car like this. In other words, we're talking your language.

We thought you'd like to have a little easier time parking. So we shortened the wheelbase of the two-door Skylark down to 112 inches.

We also refused to limit your choices. Skylark Custom comes in four models, 15 colors and 32 trim combinations. So talk to the man who talks your language, your Buick dealer.

All Buicks have a full line of General Motors safety features as standard equipment. For example, side marker lights and energy-absorbing steering column.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

Senator Tower Speaks

About Space Program

This year has seen considerable discussion about the objectives and management of our Space Program. The tragic accident in late January, in which Astronauts Grissom, White and Chaffee died in an Apollo ground test, coupled with the deficit-spending situation brought on by irresponsible federal fiscal managers, has served to rekindle vocal opposition to our space efforts.

I am not in sympathy with these space skeptics, because I believe very strongly in the value of space exploration to the continued growth and survival of the United States. And, although I have long advocated a close look at government spending with the aim of eliminating all non-essential expenditures, I have not felt — as some of my colleagues have — that our space programs should be a primary target for drastic cuts.

Not only would abandonment or curtailment of our space program make a mockery of individual sacrifices made by men like Grissom, White and Chaffee; but it would also short-change this nation scientifically and militarily.

As you know, we have a two-sided space program — with military uses developed by the Department of Defense and peaceful uses developed by NASA. Of course, there is much overlap because equipment — a camera, for example — developed by NASA may turn out to be valuable in satisfying Defense requirements. In addition, and equally important, there is free interchange of technical information, management methods, and even people between NASA and the Defense Department.

As a member of the Armed Services Committee here in the Senate, and being concerned about the military posture of the United States, I am especially interested in assuring that the United States has the ability to operate effective defense units in outer space.

As a matter of fact, there is strong reason for believing that observation from space is the most significant development in man's space experience. Historians may look back and agree that observation satellites are among the most important machines ever created by man.

Not only can these satellites help us watch crop and forest growth, to forecast weather, to improve our maps, and to assist navigation; but they can also tell us how many missiles an enemy has. They can "see" from orbital altitudes of some 200 miles, objects as small as garbage-can lids. By 1970 we can expect to be able to literally "look into" the ocean, obviously a big advantage to the fishing industry — and to the detection of enemy submarines. In fact, it is difficult to imagine a technical development with more military importance than the ability to see into the oceans.

One of the more significant space surprises of recent years is that a comparison of "photographs" made in several different parts of the electromagnetic spectrum yields far more information about the situation on the ground than any single camera ever would. The ordinary camera shows small objects, but other sensors, such as infrared, complement our knowledge by showing temperature, reflectivity, and color of the objects. Altogether these "photos" reveal a truly astounding amount of information: the type of construction materials in buildings and water content of soils, location of missile silos with grass growing over the top, the health of plants, the porosity of rock, and the contamination of water.

Another key development for tomorrow is the ability to transmit large quantities of information rapidly to the ground. In military operations today, film must be ejected from the satellite in a small reentry vehicle which in turn must be retrieved by aircraft. An obvious objective is to drastically shorten this operation by putting equipment in the satellite to transmit the "photos" to the ground as soon as they are taken. The Air Force's first attempts at such a system will probably be made with the Manned Orbiting Laboratory which has received a substantial increase in support this year, but will still not fly until 1969.

Orbital space stations, such as the Manned Laboratory, will provide far more information about the earth and man's activities on earth than we have ever known before. The basic value of this mass of satellite information is that it will take the guesswork out of many of man's most important activities. This capability will be worth billions of dollars as it stimulates more efficient use of resources everywhere on earth.

Militarily, equally ambitious hopes seem to be in order. Within a decade, it should be possible to keep an accurate record of not only the inventory, but the disposition of all the military forces of all nations, with this record updated several times a day.

Through the benefits I have just outlined, both military and commercial, our expenditures for space exploration are paying off. I will continue to strongly support our nation's space program.

Chamber Warns Of 'Sob-Story' Racket

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce warned local businessmen today to be wary of itinerant salesmen with a "sob story" to tell who are peddling overpriced office supplies.

Bill Thompson, Manager of the Chamber, said these salesmen use the name of a highly-placed executive in the company to ease their way and then relate a tale of hardship and woe to induce purchasing agents to place the substantial orders. According to the National Better Business Bureau, with which the local Chamber is affiliated through membership, the newest pitch used by these salesmen has it that the owner of their concern recently passed away and they are trying to dispose of the inventory to help the widow.

They are taking orders for ballpoint pens at 25 cents each in gross lots, claiming a list price of 49 cents, and carbon paper at $3 a box, supposedly worth $4.75.

NBBB said one large corporation which had been plagued with telephone calls for such office supply from sent a memorandum warning of the racket its purchasing agents and controllers.

Noting that the callers claim a top official of the corporation suggested the call, the company instructed its purchasing agents to "disregard any statements made about the relationship of the caller with any officer of the company unless you have received prior notice from that officer that the person will call you."

The memorandum also noted that the callers usually have a set story that they are helping a relative or close friend liquidate the business of a deceased relative.

NBBB advises purchasing agents and other executives solicited to buy material from unknown firms to ignore attempts to win their sympathies and to deal only with office supply firms of known reliability.

Legal Speeds Urged By DPS

(Note: This is the first of three articles on a new emphasis program and an all-out drive of the Texas Department of Public Safety to enforce the state speed laws in hopes of reducing highway carnage.)

Speed kills. This hard fact of life on the open road is universally accepted by the officers who are charged with the duty of making Texas highways safe, just as it is ignored by many of the drivers using those highways.

Because speed kills — and because the chances of a driver becoming involved in an accident increase with speed — the Texas Department of Public Safety has started a more intensive effort to encourage motorists to stay within a legal speed limit on Texas highways.

"Statistics prove that drivers are more likely to be involved in an accident at speeds over the legal speed limit," explained Major Luther C. Moore, Commander of the Department of Public Safety's Region 5, covering thousands of miles of highways in northwest Texas.

The average motorist might ask some questions about these statistics, and Major Moore can provide some eye-opening answers.

For instance, the motorist might ask if a driver is more likely to be involved in a traffic accident at 70 miles per hour than 65? What about 75 or 80 miles an hour? And if the accident chances increase above 65 miles per hour, then just how much do they increase?

This grim history from bloody Texas highways during daylight hours shows a 20 per cent increase in accident involvement at 70 miles per hour, compared to the 65 mile per hour rate.

Major Moore points out that by increasing the speed from 65 to 75 miles per hour (just 10 miles per hour) the motorist risks a 50 per cent increase in accident involvement, and at 80 miles per hour the risk jumps to 90 per cent.

The fast driver risks even more at night, the Regional Commander explains. Accident statistics show that a driver is more likely to become involved in an accident at any speed at night, and at 55 miles per hour the accident rate is nearly two and one half times as great as driving at the same speed in the daytime.

than three times as likely to become involved in an accident at 65 miles per hour than at the same speed in daylight. During night hours 75 mile per hour speeds produce about five and one half times as many accidents, and at 80 miles per hour the accident frequency is multiplied eight times!

And that's not all of it. Studies show that injuries sustained in motor vehicle accidents are more severe as speed increases.

Major Moore explains that researchers at Cornell University learned the severity of automobile accident injuries is twice as great at speeds over 50 miles per hour as slower speeds.

Research also shows that while a driver trying to maintain 80 miles per hour through traffic on typical rural highways can cut about 30 per cent from the time required for the trip at legal speeds, his chances of getting killed in an automobile mishap increase by at least 400 per cent. In hopes of encouraging drivers to stay within legal speed limits, the DPS is placing more patrolmen on the roads and more radar units beside highways to clock the persistent speeder in an effort to control speed.

When folding creamstyle cottage into scrambled eggs, it's best to do so just a few seconds before the eggs have finished cooking. If the cheese is overcooked, it will be watery.

Racing experts agree that Buckpasser's greatest race came in the 1966 Flamingo. He beat Abe's Hope after being seemingly beaten a few yards from the finish line.

A very important fact for people to know is that at least 80 per cent of the war materials used by North Vietnam are furnished by the Soviet Union and its European satellites.

City Leases Land For Historic Site

A windmill, symbolic of the days when Hereford was known as the "City of Windmills," is expected to be erected soon on a tract of land along U. S. 60 leased Monday night by City Commissioners.

Santa Fe Railway offered the lease, which includes the land from their parking lot on west to South Main and from U. S. 60 south to the railroad tracks, for $1 a year.

Plans call for the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee to see that a windmill is placed on the property, which will become a city park.

City Commissioners have offered for use a windmill they placed in the small park near the city dump grounds. They were told, however, that members of the beautification committee possibly have located the county's first windmill and hope to set it up in the new park.

In early planning stages, the committee indicated that a fountain also would be erected, with the windmill to pump the water.

The windmill will be painted a barn red.

New Autos Will Be On Display

Five new 1968 automobiles will go on display today at three local dealerships. Oldsmobile and Chevrolet will be shown at Orsborn Chevrolet-Olds, while Kinsey-Orsborn Motors, Inc. will display the new 1968 Buicks and Pontiacs. The new Fords will be on display at Orval Watson Ford Sales.

Reports are that many changes have been made in this year's models and the consumer will be in for a treat at this year's auto show.

In 1953 under Coach Biggie Munn, Michigan State extended its football winning streak to 28 games then lost to Purdue, 6-0.

After the first seven months of 1967, four pro golfers had earned more than $100,000 in prize money.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Readers Are Asking . . .

WHAT can cause hiccups to last for a few weeks? How can they be stopped?

Hiccups are also called singultus or hiccoughs. By any name they are most annoying and not nearly as amusing as they seem to be to people who are the observers.

A hiccup is caused by a sudden spasm of the muscles of the diaphragm which divides and separates the chest from the abdomen. A common series of nerves that run from the brain to the neck and down through the chest can be responsible for the spasm of the diaphragm.

The phrenic nerve, particularly, may be irritated by extremely hot or cold foods and may cause an occasional hiccup. When this condition lasts for a long time it is terribly debilitating. Conditions in the esophagus, stomach, intestines, pleurisy and alcoholism are a few of the causes. There are many emotional reasons for hiccups.

Everybody who has ever had an attack of hiccups has his own personal advisor for the method to stop them. Drinking a pint of cold beer without a stop is not too unpleasant an idea on a sultry day.

For teetotalers a glass of plain cold water may do the same. Rebreathing into a paper bag and thus building up the carbon dioxide in the body can stop it.

Swallowing crushed ice or hard bread, holding the nose tightly squeezed, smelling snuff to sneeze and pressure on the eyeballs may all singly or individually stop the attack.

There are now a number of drugs used under a doctor's supervision that can control these spasms. Hypnosis in specially chosen cases has been effective when used by physicians, psychiatrists and psychologists, all specially trained in the use of this method.

What can cause a feeling of heaviness, as if the womb and the bladder were coming down, in an elderly person?

Women who have had a number of children may have had some damage to the muscles and the ligaments that support the womb and the bladder. This is a rather frequent condition that may even appear many years after childbirth.

A fallen womb is called a prolapse. When the bladder falls or bulges into the vagina it is called a cystocele. The sense of heaviness is often noticed while straining in the bathroom or during violent coughing or sneezing.

A rectocele is a bulging of the rectum into the vaginal wall. This, too, is caused by a weakening of the supporting structures.

These conditions may occur singly or more commonly together. The discomfort, the associated back pain and other distress determines whether or not a plastic operation should be performed.

Since the condition is caused by a change of the tissues it will not get better alone. The type of surgery depends entirely on the judgment and findings of the surgeon. Sometimes a plastic pessary is inserted to hold the bladder and the rectum in position.

The vaginal plastic operation is safely performed and is very gratifying when the discomfort and heaviness and other symptoms are relieved.

Remember when you were a kid, and "I read it in the paper" was the best argument-stopper in the whole world? That simple declaration served as proof enough for anything . . . unless the other guy was a lot bigger and just naturally mean t'boot! There's a good point here . . . and that is that most of us grow up with respect for and genuine trust in what we "see in the paper".

VIETNAM WAR ISSUE TO UNITED NATIONS?

JOHNSON IS FOR IT BUT SOVIETS AREN'T

By HENRY CATHCART

Central Press Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The Johnson administration seems to have found common ground with hawks and doves on one aspect of the Vietnamese war—the idea of carrying the issue to the United Nations. Behind the idea is the obvious hope that, if no means of U.S. extrication can be found, there will be at least a record of efforts to marshal world opinion behind the U.S. position.

Leading Senate hawks and doves have appealed to the President to press the issue before the United Nations Security Council, and, lacking progress there, to carry it to the General Assembly. Administration spokesmen indicate that the President desires this course.

The principal difficulty in the plan is that some members of the Security Council, including Russia, do not. A Soviet veto is clearly indicated in that body. Carrying the issue to the General Assembly has its own risks and drawbacks. For one thing, an apparent majority in the General Assembly does not desire being put on a spot where it will be called upon to judge the merits of the fighting, nor does it wish to be called upon to make a material contribution to the fighting.

Even though the U.S. could make a case for direct U.N. member involvement, given the bystander desires of the majority, there are grave doubts that anything would come of it.

Finally, there is in the United Nations a bloc of anti-Johnson nations which has no desire to help pull Johnson's political chestnuts out of the fire. If Johnson hopes to have a record of U.N. debate on Vietnam to refer to during next year's political campaigning, he has a mammoth selling job to do to the General Assembly first.

THE GREAT SEARCH—Employers everywhere are under tremendous pressure to employ colored persons, particularly in upper-echelon jobs. Government is under the same pressures. The common problem is to find colored persons who are qualified to fill these vacancies. An experience of House Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., is a case in point.

McCormack is very anxious to fill a vacancy on the staff of individuals who report House debates. The basic pay scale is $8,880 a year. The principal qualification, of course, is the ability to take shorthand with sufficient speed under the sometimes difficult conditions in which House members conduct debate.

Thus far McCormack has been unable to find one Negro who qualifies and wants the job. He has asked every one of the nation's U.S. district attorneys to look for likely candidates from among local court reporters.

If he isn't careful, he'll come under pressure from white shorthand experts who want the job and will charge discrimination against them by holding the position for a colored person.

Local Group's Recording On Television

A local band, just recently formed, has received a communication from Dick Clark TV Productions, Inc. producers of American Bandstand, informing them of a 90 per cent rating on their record, "Baby, You Lied" received on that show.

The band, known as the Star Gazers, is composed of Donnie Huckert, who plays drums, Kenneth Cloud, vocalist and guitarist, Richard Gonzales, trumpet, and James Huckert, base guitar. The latter member has gone into the service, and will be replaced in the ensemble.

According to the letter from the TV company, the band's record will be played on Dick Clark's American Bandstand sometime between 11:30 a. m. and 12:30 p. m. Sept. 23. After having played locally for several dances, the band had an opportunity to travel to Odessa, where the record was made on June 2. Both sides of the record were cut in some two hours, attributing to the skill of the ensemble, as sometimes days and weeks are required to complete a single side. Words were added to the music, called a "new sound" the night before the record was made.

Mrs. Joe Huckert is agent for the band, and was with the members when publishers and copyrights were signed after completion of the record. Now on sale, the record is expected to be successful.

Hereford Teams To See Action

Hereford's two junior high schools and the Whiteface "B" team will play football games Thursday and Saturday, with two of the games being season openers.

La Plata Junior High will open its season at 6 p. m. Thursday when they host Canyon. When practice began this season at La Plata, there were 28 ninth graders suited out. The team had an open date last week.

The Stanton Junior High Dogies will take on Dimmitt in Dimmitt at 6 p. m. Thursday for their second outing of the season. The Dogies lost to Canyon in the opener last Thursday. A total of 47 ninth graders began the season for the Dogies.

In high school competition, the Whiteface "B" team travels to Nazareth for a game at 5:30 p. m. for their season opener. The Hereford Junior Varsity has won its first two games, but has an open date this week and next will play the Lubbock Monterey Junior Varsity in Hereford at 8 p. m. Sept. 28.

The 7th and 8th grade teams at Stanton Junior High will begin competition Oct. 3 by hosting Littlefield, while La Plata's 7th and 8th grade teams will not open until Oct. 10 when they play Tulla in Tulla.

Mrs. A. B. Higgins reviewed Findlay's book with that title, prefaced by a quotation from the British statesman Gladstone, "The American Constitution is, so far as I can see, the most wonderful work ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man".

The speaker said Americans need today to capture a renewal of patriotism as well as of religious faith. She insisted that each member of the club read the Constitution in its entirety, including the first ten amendments which make up the Bill of Rights.

Duties as well as privileges of citizenship are implied in the Constitution, she said, and one important way for a citizen to fulfill his duty is to vote.

"Remember that those in office are no better than those who put them there," she admonished.

Mrs. B. A. Reddell opened the program with a poem presenting the thought for the day.

Mrs. B. F. Markham conducted business. Members voted to contribute $20 to buy articles for filling Red Cross ditty bags to be sent to servicemen.

A reminder was given of the County Federation of Women's Clubs fall meeting, to be held at a covered dish luncheon Sept. 29. LAE is one of the clubs in the Federation.

Cost Of Litter Is Stressed In Club Program

Cost of clearing litter from Texas highways amounts to a million and a half dollars yearly, Mrs. T. J. Parsons told Progressive Home Demonstration Club members at a meeting in Mrs. Dale Hallows' home Tuesday afternoon.

That sum would buy 50 miles of farm-to-market road, or 20 miles of two-lane primary highway, she said in stressing the high cost of littering. Her topic was A More Beautiful Texas.

Mrs. J. D. Gilbert Jr., program leader, gave the opening talk and led a game based on identification of trademarks. Suggestions were given by members for craft programs they would like included in 1968 year-book plans.

"B" Team Takes Betty Rusher Is Second Victory Star Of Week

Bobby Burwick scored two touchdowns and two extra points last Saturday in leading the Hereford Whiteface "B" team to a 28-0 win over Portales, N. M. for their second straight victory. Burwick got the first touchdown on a 50-yard run and then ran over extra point, which counts only one point under the rules the teams played under.

Secretaries Have Banquet

A Hawaiian atmosphere surrounded approximately 61 members and guests of the Secretary's Association when the group held its second annual Boss of the Year banquet at the Angus Restaurant Saturday night.

Crowned Boss of the Year was O. D. Dishman, who won the honor from a letter written by his secretary, Janie Victor. Letters by each secretary about their employers were judged by a panel and the winner was selected on basis of personality, attitude towards employees, etc. Boss of the Year for 1966 was Bill Patton of Plains Ins. Agency.

Special guests to the affair were bosses and their wives. Ernest Langley was speaker, and entertainment was furnished by the Swingers, a local musical group.

President of the local chapter is Jean Kennedy, and Avis Northcutt is secretary.

ICT PRESIDENT — Carl Hollingsworth, an employe at the First Printing Company, is president of the ICT (Industrial Cooperative Training) program at Hereford High School. Under the program, students learn a skilled trade while completing high school requirements for graduation. School officials are seeking businesses wishing to participate in the program.

VANDALS smeared ink and generally littered the place Monday night at a small office belonging to Coplin Chevron Service Station. Vandals entered by breaking a small window at back of the office.

Crusty French-or Italian-style bread freezes and heats well. Because this type of bread stales fast, freezing it when it is fresh means that you can keep it conveniently on hand. Cheddar cheese soup often benefits by the addition of some finely grated carrot. The carrot should be added as the soup slowly heats so the shreds will partly soften.

ROTARY SPEAKER — Mrs. Jewel Smith, Deaf Smith County Welfare director, was guest speaker during the noon luncheon of the Hereford Rotary Club Monday. Mrs. Smith described her job and its different operations. Rotary club president Les Combs is at right.

County Welfare Director Speaks To Rotarians

"Welfare today is a big business," Mrs. Jewel Smith, Deaf Smith County Welfare Director, told members of the Hereford Rotary Club during a noon meeting Monday.

Mrs. Smith told Rotarians that "there is no such thing as boredom" in her job because social work concerns itself with people and each case is different.

"Need is always the first requirement for any welfare program," she continued. Talking mainly on the County Welfare Department she described it as a "welfare emergency program" which fluctuates daily because it is a temporary program.

She stated that the main objective is to "try to help people help themselves. We attempt to help them other ways first before we give them welfare. We've found that once a person has taken welfare, it is easier to do so the next time."

Mrs. Smith explained to Rotarians that she works closely with 69th District Court and County Court, and all service clubs. The most important thing in most cases, she continued, is to help the individual get employment.

A question and answer session followed Mrs. Smith's talk. During the meeting Monday, Rotarian Ken Rogers outlined a membership drive which runs into early December.

GARDEN TRENDS

Who plants a garden there will find, Strength of body, peace of mind;

Bring food and beauty to mankind.

Who plants a vine, a vegetable, tree or shrub,

Draws inspiration from above

He who plants a seed in up-turned sod,

Goes into partnership with God.

Alice H. Platt of Langrod S. D.

There is nothing comparable with gardening, and the needs it fills. The national trend in gardening is "grow your own," cut down the hi-cost of living. Make a big slash in your grocery bill, by furnishing food for your table. From experience I know that when one has vegetables from their garden that the cost of food, (the grocery bill) can be reduced. Personally this summer we reduced our bill approximately a fourth. We have had delicious meals, and they were well balanced.

While on vacation I read the following, which I want to share with you. It is titled "Nation's Gardeners Find Vegetables More Profitable Than Flowers," the author is Gay Payley, "The nation's green thumbs are increasingly turning their talents to the cultivation of vegetables, and fruits instead of flowers. The major reason is cut cost of living.

A national study made among 712 garden clubs and 5,160 heads of families with incomes of $5,000 to $12,000 annually brought out the shift from flowers.

It also found, using computer projection that the nation has 81 million home gardeners, 45 million gardens, that the number of city gardeners has jumped from 3.2 million to 4.4 million, 64 per cent of the petal pushers are women, and that gardening is the most popular adult hobby.

Union Fork and Hoe Company of Columbus, Ohio, did the 8 month survey of gardening habits, its interest in diggers being for obvious reasons. Among the questions were:

"Have you made any changes in your garden during the last 12 months?"

81 percent had, 74 per cent making gardens larger.

To the question regarding plantings 59 percent had cut down flowers and added vegetables, 54 per cent had reduced flowers and added fruit.

Reasons given for the change, "Vegetables and fruit prices increasingly rising in cost," "Makes budget go further," "home grown vegetables and fruits taste better, more nourishing, insures family gets food it likes, growing vegetables and fruits is just as relaxing as growing flowers." Many vegetables and fruits have beautiful and, bountiful blossoms.

The researchers said current survey showed that this was the first time since World War I's Victory Gardens that vegetables and fruits dominated gardens. "I well remember the Victory gardens. Texas Garden Club President, Mrs. Beavers made her slogan, everyone grow a Victory Garden, and throughout the state the response was practically 100 percent. Many grew flowers and vegetable together.

Making borders out of the low growing vegetables such as beets, radishes, and carrots. A lovely garden can be grown by combining vegetables and flowers. This season I planted three rows of vegetables, and then one row of flowers, the lovely colors of the blossoms among the growing vegetables was attractive. Now I have chrysanthemums almost ready to burst into bloom, with a background of okra.

Young marrieds are gardening more than their counterparts of three or four years ago. Men are sharing more with the women gardeners in assistance, and interest.

Apartment builders add more terraces and suburbanites are returning to town, all making it profitable to city dwellers to grow some vegetables.

Women dominate leadership of garden clubs and horticultural societies and the educational field. There is however an increased interest in the organization of men's garden club.

Increase of garden clubs is up 18 per cent. The goal of our Texas Garden Clubs Inc. 1967-1968, Mrs. A. E. Barton, President is to have a large percent increase of Garden Clubs and membership.

This is a most interesting item from the survey, "Researchers reported that 81 professional real estate appraisers questioned estimated that an attractive garden, depending on size, does increase the value of a house up to 30 percent." I know this to be true, because when my nephew purchased a home in California, he received an increase in loan value because of the large beautiful live-oak tree, and the gardens that he had.

All of this data places emphasis upon the fact that if one does not have a garden they are not in the high percentage of people who are enjoying a wonderful and profitable hobby. Let's aim now to have a large increase in Hereford next year, in gardening.

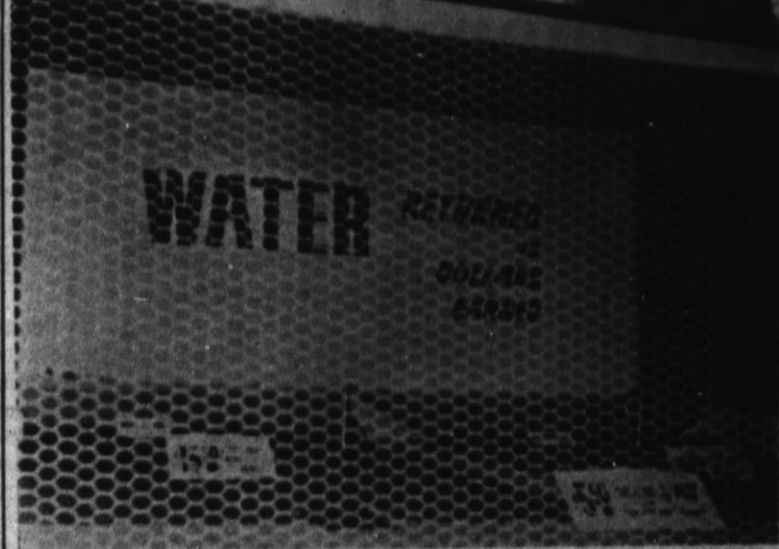

Check your chrysanthemums and other garden plants, you may find a need for spraying for grasshoppers.

The pyracantha or Firethorn are unusually beautiful this year the abundance of berries and coloring is marvelous. One of the loveliest plantings of Pyracantha that I have seen is that of Mrs. J. A. Pitman's on 25 Mile Avenue. There are many other lovely shrubs throughout the town.

Golden, black centered, fall daisies are in full bloom. They too have a wonderful profusion of blossoms. Some of the prettiest in town are those of Mrs. Geo. Beams on third street.

Have you seen the clever bird feeder at the home of Essie Cardwell and Mary Bourn? I passed by the other morning and the birds were having a happy time feeding and chirping, as they partook of the seeds, in the feeders.

"He who makes a garden Works hand in hand with God." GLAD Outstanding speakers of state and nationwide reputation will headline the program of the 64th annual state convention of Texas Farmers Union scheduled to begin its three-day meeting on Thursday, October 26, at the Ko Ko Palace in Lubbock.

"We are expecting a record attendance and will have a program worthy of the large turnout and the fine image of Texas' fastest growing farm organization," Texas Farmers Union president Jay Naman of Waco said.

Among the speakers who are scheduled to appear are National Farmers Union President Tony T. Dechant of Denver, U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough, Cotton Producers Institute board chairman Russell Giffen of Huron, California, Agriculture Commissioner John White of Austin, State Department official Jim Boren of Washington, D. C., former Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan of Denver and National Farmers Union Insurance Manager Ray Novak of Denver.

A special program of "commodity discussion" will feature a talk by National Farmers Union Director of Organization Dwyte Wilson of Denver; and commodity leaders from across the state have been invited to participate in discussions centering on bargaining power for producers.

The convention will adopt a policy program comprised of resolutions from affiliated county organizations and will elect state officers and delegates to represent the Texas unit at the National Farmers Union convention.

A delegation from Hereford will attend the Lubbock meeting, according to Clinton Jackson, local insurance representative.

Whitefaces Face Tough Opponent In Friday Duel

The Hereford Whitefaces, still smarting from a 21-20 defeat by Class AA power Olton, will attempt to get back on the winning trail here Friday night when they entertain the high-flying Hale Center Owls.

The game, scheduled to begin at 8:30 p. m. will be the third in a row against a team from District 3-AA for the Whitefaces. Hereford beat Floydada 41-6 and then lost to Olton last Friday 21-20.

Hale Center has been quite impressive so far this season in blasting Post 40-6 and Springlake 32-6. The team is playing its second season in Class AA and returns eight lettermen from the squad which compiled a 5-5 record last season. The Hereford "B" team was defeated by Hale Center 33-0 last year.

Larry Hammitt, 142-pound halfback, is the standout so far on the Owl squad. The speedster has scored 24 points and also is a top defensive player. Other stars are Fullback Marvin Wilson, Tackle Harold Bufe and Halfback Melvin Roberts.

Tulia continued to look impressive Friday night as they routed Floydada 48-0, while Dumas was clobbering Pampa 69-6 to look even more like the championship caliber team of District 1-AAA.

Perryton also remained unbeaten with a 41-8 win over Woodward, Okla. Canyon evened its record at 1-1 with a 19-18 victory over Levelland, while Muleshoe absorbed the only other loss among conference members by going down 28-12 at the hands of Littlefield.

To date, members of District 1-AAA have won eight games, lost three and tied one. In scoring, Dumas and Perryton each have tallied 69 points, but Dumas has allowed only six points and Perryton eight. Tulia has scored 62 points and allowed 13; Hereford has scored 61 and allowed 27; Muleshoe has scored 26 and allowed 41, while Canyon has scored 19 points and allowed 53.

This week, Dumas travels to Phillips to take on the Panhandle's top Class AA team; Muleshoe entertains Olton; Hale Center will be at Hereford; Tulia travels to Plainview; Lawton Eisenhower of Oklahoma will be at Canyon and Perryton has an open date.

In other games concerning Hereford opponents Friday night Monahans won its second straight game by downing Artesia, N. M., 27-0, and Portales, N. M., brought its record to 1-2 with a 20-12 loss to Eunice, N. M.

Larsen Counts Trials And Hardships A Blessing

By PAT SPURGEON
Staff Writer

A man who saw the rolling plains of Texas just once in 1930 and held the memory fresh in his mind for a year until he could return and make them his home is Daniel Jones Larsen, a retired farmer and feeder. He is a fairly newcomer to this part of the country, but confesses a great affection for the land and people.

Larsen is a native of Utah, having been born and reared in the small town of Monroe, in the South central part of that state. His parents were settlers of that town, having made their home there in 1871, shortly after the end of the Indian conflict known as the Blackhawk War. The town had been tentatively settled in 1864, but trouble with the Indians forced them to move into the more populated areas; however, a stalwart group, members again settled the area and made it a permanent town.

Larsen's father's family were seafaring folk from the rugged coast of Norway, while his mother's family was from Wales. Born in Rock Island, Ill., his mother's family made their home in Monroe, and it was here that the Larsens were married. Daniel Larsen was born there in 1895.

During his school days, Larsen recalls that the trials and hardships of his parents in settling that part of Utah were called "in the olden days," and although it had been a scarce 30 years or so before, he remembered that it seemed forever.

Larsen, three other children, and his parents lived on a 56 acre farm, on which, Larsen says it was very possible to rear a family, and very respectfully, too. Gardens were maintained, irrigated crops were grown, and the community and families prospered.

Being a farm boy, Larsen recalls that it was standard practice for the boys to start school two months after school had convened for the year. Already being late, the farm boys felt that they were very stupid, and finished school two years later than their classmates who attended the full term. Larsen counts this as one of his blessings, however, since a high school was established and he was able to go to school four more years and graduate, instead of finishing his education with the completion of only eight grades.

Larsen and Gladys Tuft were married in 1918, after having lived all their young years with hollering distance of each other. Together they began farming the 56 acres of his father's, plus 40 bought from her father, upon which they added several more, giving a total of 100 acres. Here they reared nine children.

Larsen and his wife had good memories of those days when their children were youngsters, and laughingly recall that each child was required to take a daily teaspoonful of cod-liver oil called "bottled sunshine." Larsen himself took the first spoonful, recalling how he took on so over the splendor of it for the benefit of the reluctant ones who disliked the tonic. He says that doctors were not readily available, and preventive medicine was practiced, giving as proof of the wisdom a healthy and hearty family.

Larsen began feeding lambs there on the 100 acre place, buying lambs at about 6-8 months of age, weighing about 65 lbs., feeding them grains grown on his land, and selling the lambs when they had reached 100 lbs. During the great crash and depression which followed, Larsen was wiped out. Money could not be borrowed from the banks, so

SHOWN 49 YEARS AFTER their marriage in Monroe, Utah, Mr. and Mrs. Larsen remember quite well the depression years in which everyone did their part to keep the family going.

lambs that had been bought for 11½ cents lb. were sold for 4 cents lb. after they had been fed and fattened. Larsen counts this, also, as one of his blessings, for he had to work himself out of it the best way he could.

After the depression came two years of drought, in which the family of eleven existed on $150 a year. Everything they could get their hands on was canned and preserved. Mrs. Larsen recalls, and they made do with what they had, and as a matter of fact, they got along quite well. The fact that other relatives and friends were undergoing the same hardships softened the couple's difficulties.

In 1930 the Larsens travelled to Mexico City to meet one of their sons who had been on a Mormon mission for 2½ years in Brazil. On their way home, they toured the area around Lubbock where one of the daughters lived, and it was here that Larsen first saw the golden spread with the cotton and milo "in all its glory." He made a promise then that he had to come back to this country, and he did, the following year. This time he brought his family and purchased a half section near the Easter community, where he saw more potential than the Lubbock area.

On this half section he again fed lambs and raised the golden grains of which he was so fond. Sugar beets were also grown, and he was one of the members of the committee who worked to bring a sugar refinery to the area. He was aware of the boost a refinery would give the local economy, since he awarded a plaque at a meeting held in Hereford of the Texas New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Assn. for distinguished service and outstanding leadership. The award was presented to him on Sept. 19 of this year.

Larsen calls his venture here a success. "Nature has a way in this country of keeping a man a person with faith and perseverance has a good chance of winning in the end." Now two have made their living from that half section, and improvements to the land have been made every year.

Now retired, Larsen and his wife live in a neat, attractive home on Ave. E, where they fill their time visiting with their 30 grandchildren and travelling. They have just completed a six-month tour in which they covered some 12,500 miles by car, bus, train, and plane. Included in the trip was a visit to Expo '67 and side trips to Yellowstone Park and Niagara Falls from the Canadian side.

During this trip Larsen had many opportunities to indulge his serious hobby of genealogy, and found several people in "unseemly places who are distant kin on both sides of the family. As members of the Mormon Church, they are encouraged to write their histories, and scrupulous records are kept of the families. Larsen has had counts of his family, and takes pleasure now in jotting down items for the benefit of his children and theirs in later years.

NEW PROVISIONAL LICENSES

According to the new Texas traffic safety laws, all persons be issued provisional permit to drive. Provisional licenses will help authorities keep track of accident-prone drivers and TEXANS FOR TRAFFIC SAFETY point out that this is highly desirable as youthful drivers are involved in a disproportionately high percentage of traffic accidents.

Mrs. Hower Goodwin with carvings from Ghana

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

Africa In Background

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A young mother in a remote area of the African country which was then the Gold Coast, a British Colony, and is now the nation of Ghana, Mrs. Homer Goodwin faced problems which she says "make us wonder now how we ever managed."

SITTING IN THE attractive living room of her present home, the Assembly of God parsonage at 800 Union, quiet-speaking Mrs. Goodwin recalls incidents of her work as a missionary wife in Africa, where she spent a total of 11 years. Carved pieces of ebony and other hardwoods of the tropical country and paintings of African scenes done by the natives decorate the room; others are in storage, she says, waiting to be polished and have their turn on display.

The Rev. Goodwin came here a few months ago as pastor of the Hereford church for the second time. The family was here in 1942-44 after their first term in mission work, which began in 1937. They later returned to Ghana and remained until 1964.

THEIR FIRST assignment was in the northernmost section of the Gold Coast, which is not jungle but grassland, Mrs. Goodwin says. However, the climate is very hot, mosquitoes were not only a pest but a health threat as malaria was prevalent.

"The mosquitoes didn't like me so I was lucky and didn't suffer from malaria" the minister's wife says with a smile, but adds that her husband and their son, then a baby, did have malaria.

Without electricity, ice or any modern equipment, she learned to keep house in a home where cooking was done on a wood-burning stove in an outdoor kitchen. It was outdoors partly to keep from adding heat to the living and sleeping rooms, and partly because fire was a danger since roofs were made of grass.

THE ASSEMBLIES of God had the first Protestant missions in that area and the Goodwins started new work in areas where the natives had scarcely seen a white woman — there had been some British officials' wives in the villages, but only for short times.

"We were very young then, so we adapted to the country more easily than we would now, is Mrs. Goodwin's explanation of her ability to work in the area, often as the only white woman for miles.

Her second child, a daughter, was born while they were in that work; Mrs. Goodwin went to a German mission hospital south of their home and says she and the baby had excellent care.

Her only preparation for life in the bush country was training, with her husband, at a Bible Institute of their church. Born at Mesquite, now a Dallas suburb, she grew up in and near Dallas and was married there. Her husband served pastored at Jester and Wellington before beginning missionary duty.

POLITICAL UNREST in Ghana affected the Goodwins relatively little. Violence in Accra, the capital, occurred after they left following their first period of work in Africa. During their last tenure, they found the new nation tense, but found that animosity was not directed to missionaries, nor to white people.

"Violence was generally a matter of black man versus black man," Mrs. Goodwin says "with communism as the chief issue. The non-communists gained control and apparently there has been no serious threat of communism since Nkrumah was defeated."

She sees the political situation as probably tense for years with slow progress of the new nation toward really stable self-government and an educated citizenry.

"PROBABLY THE biggest obstacle is one we always faced in our work, the fact that there are so many completely different tribes and languages. There are at least 20 languages, not counting the various dialects of each."

Mrs. Goodwin's work as a missionary was largely teaching; she worked with children taught English one term in a Bible school for older students, and she and her husband both sometimes gave religious instruction in periods set aside for that purpose in the public schools.

English is a required subject in public schools and is the official language of the nation, she explains, adding that education is technically compulsory, although it is not always available to children in villages.

THE GOODWINS OLDER daughter is married to a minister who teaches in a church college at Waxahachie and a younger daughter has lately returned from mission work in the Caribbean area.

Their older son and his wife had joined them in Ghana to share their work during their last term of service there, and he was killed in an accident.

His wife remained with them until their return to the U. S., and with her small daughter is making her home here now. The youngest Goodwin child, another son, attends Hereford High School.

In their latter years in Ghana

The Hereford Brand, Hereford, Texas, Thursday, Sept. 21, 1967
The Goodwins had worked in Accra and other larger cities, so their adjustment back to American life was not so abrupt as their introduction to African ways. Mrs. Goodwin fully appreciates things like air conditioners and modern ranges which make housework and home life more pleasant.

She chooses as a favorite recipe, one for a cake with good keeping quality, not complicated to make and with plenty of appetite appeal.

PRUNE SPICE CAKE

Preparation: Have shortening at room temperature. Assemble all ingredients and utensils needed. Grease two 9-inch layer cake PANS. Pit and drain prunes. Sift flour once before measuring. Pre-heat oven to baking temperature. Then sift together:

- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. soda
- 1/2 tsp. double acting baking powder.

- 1 1/2 tsp. double acting backing powder.
- 1 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. each nutmeg and allspice

PUT IN THE large bowl of electric mixer:

- 1/2 cup soft shortening
 - 1 1/2 cups sugar
 - 3 eggs, unbeat
- Beat on No. 8 speed two minutes, scraping bowl while beating. Stop mixer and add 1 cup cooked prunes, pitted and Scrape sides of bowl while beating, and beat only enough to blend, about 3 minutes. Pour batter into prepared pans, bake at 350 degrees (moderate oven) about 35 minutes. Remove from pan, cool and ice with seafoam or caramel icing. Makes a large cake.

Apricot nectar and ginger ale make a good non-alcoholic party punch if you add lemon juice to perk up flavor. The punch may be tinted with a little red food coloring and be served over a ring of ice in an attractive large bowl. Use an ordinary ring mold to freeze water for the ice.

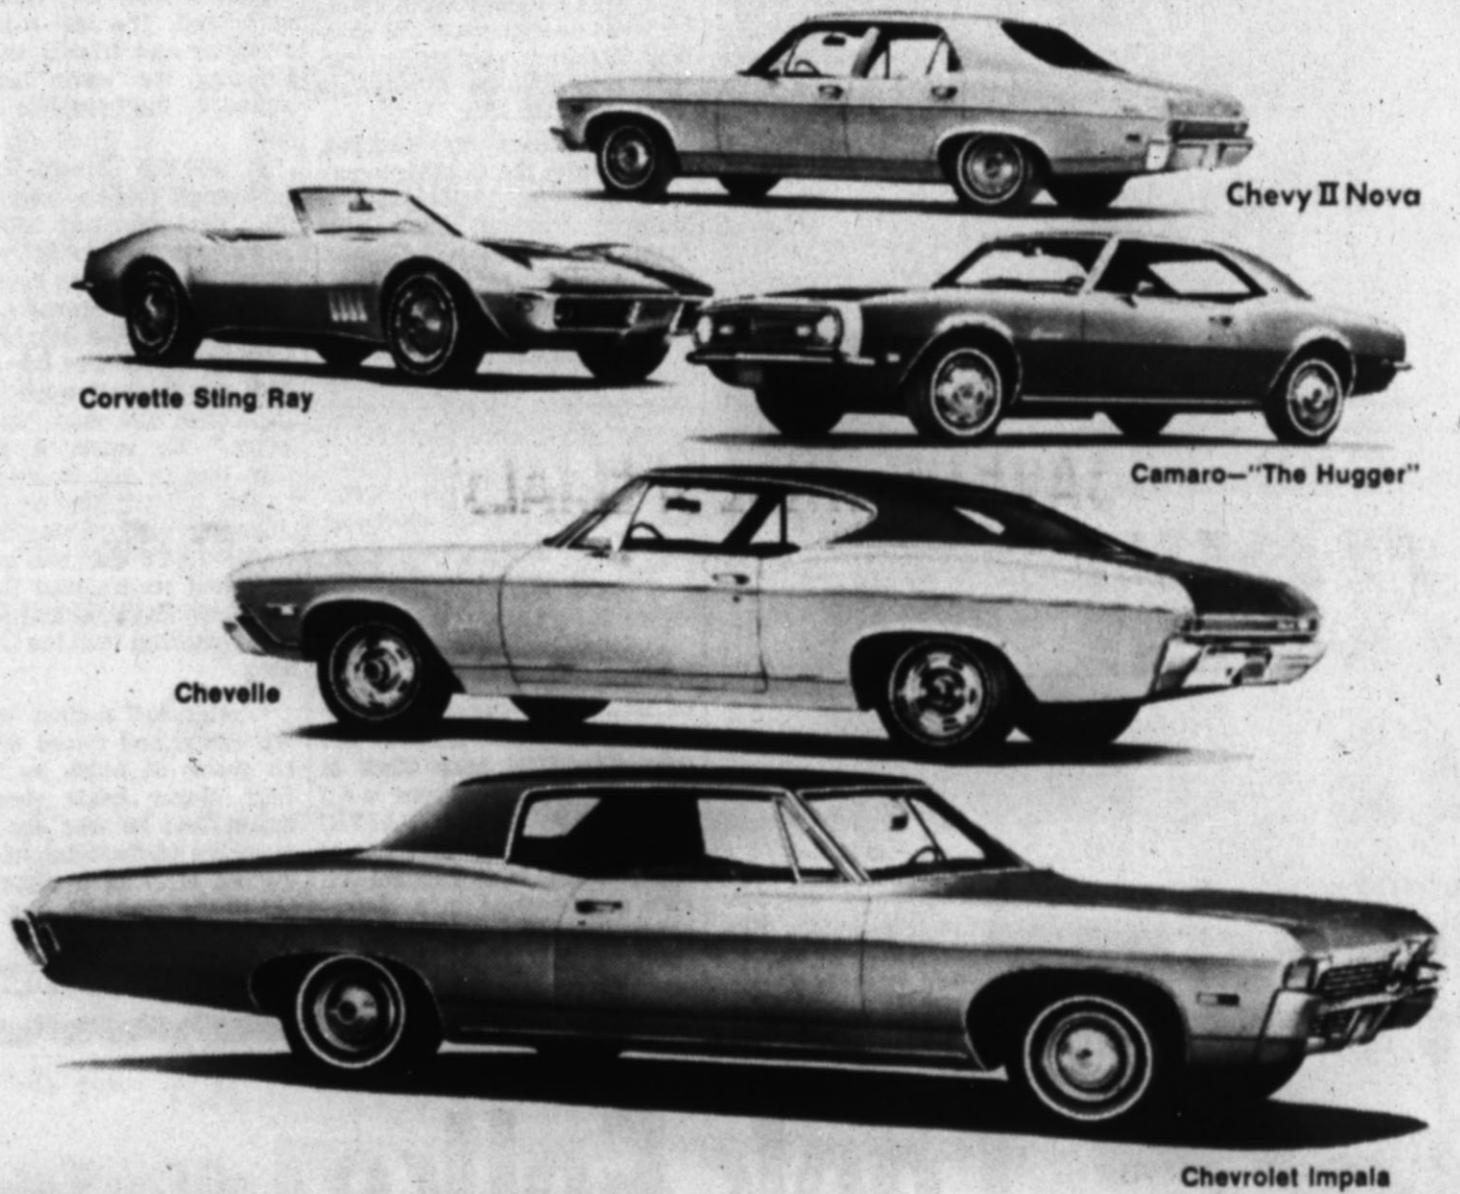

Add canned salmon to tomato soup for a hearty lunchtime chowder.

Dramatic! Distinctive! Daringly new!

'68s Top Secrets are here 1968 Chevrolets

The 1968 Chevrolets are the very essence of modern design. Every line, every curve is in close harmony. It's a smooth, uncluttered look with roof lines compatible with body lines, grilles and bumpers that blend gracefully into long, rounded fenders. Clean, flowing, beautiful in their simplicity, these '68 Chevrolets are rich and advanced in styling beyond any you've ever seen.

A MORE SILENT RIDE

And for 1968, we've gone to every length to give you more peace and quiet inside. The most sophisticated computers have been used to strategically place body mounts and successfully isolate noise and vibration. Shock absorbers have been improved. The wheel stance on many models is wider for greater smoothness. Exhaust systems have been redesigned to make them whisper-quiet. Even the clocks tick more softly. A sound car is a silent car. The '68 Chevrolets are the most silent, highest quality cars we've ever built.

BETTER PERFORMANCE

There are new engines, a bigger standard Six and V8. There's a new 250-hp V8 you can order that runs on regular fuel. Many new engine components increase dependability and keep your new Chevrolet running stronger. There's a new rear axle ratio you can add for greater economy. On most engines equipped with automatic transmissions, there's a special heater for the carburetor which gives you more efficient performance in cold weather. And with every engine, you get the new GM exhaust emission control.

UNIQUE ASTRO VENTILATION

There's a whole new idea in ventilation, called Astro Ventilation, for Camaro, Corvette and the elegant Caprice Coupe. It's also available on many other models. By opening two new vent-ports on the instrument panel, you bring in outside air that can be directed where you want it. This way, you can leave your windows rolled up and add still more to your peace and quiet.

PROVED SAFETY FEATURES

You get the proved GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column, folding front seat back latches, dual master cylinder brake system with warning light, plus many more new features. Among them: energy absorbing front seat backs, and safety armrests that shield the door handles.

MUCH MORE THAT'S NEW

There are new roof lines, some formal and graceful, others sporty and quick. There are new instrument panels, richly designed and all controls within easy reach. There are new interiors, new vinyls, new fabrics, new colors. There are models with Hide-A-Way windshield wipers and headlights that disappear behind grilles. There are new side marker lamps, new recessed taillights. There's even a new ignition alarm buzzer that reminds you not to walk away and leave your keys in the car.

These are the newest, the most different, the most dramatically changed Chevrolets ever. And they're at your Chevrolet dealer's now. You'll thoroughly enjoy slipping behind the wheel, experiencing the smooth new handling and library-quiet ride and, more than anything, seeing and feeling the even greater quality built into every new Chevrolet for 1968.

Be smart! Be sure! Buy now at your Chevrolet dealer's.

There's more quality and value built into Chevrolets than ever before, making every new 1968 model an even better buy!

Ex-Resident Is New Namesake Of CWF Group

A change in missionary partners for the night circle of First Christian Women's Fellowship has resulted in a name change for the group. The new partners are Mr. and Mrs. Danny Owens, missionaries in the Congo. He has served as a summer minister of the local church. Formerly called the Joyce Dawson Group, that name was replaced because Mrs. Dawson is now on furlough from the mission field.

The group met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Forrest Ricketts, chairman. Mrs. Eugene Brink gave a program in the series-titled Christ and the Faiths of Men, and Mrs. Keith Munnerlyn was the devotional speaker.

Mrs. Harold Beauchamp was chosen as worship chairman to replace Mrs. Bob Renfro, who recently moved to Seagraves. Members accepted a quota of ditty bags to fill as gifts to servicemen in Viet Nam through a Red Cross program. Information was given about the orphan living in Juliette Fowler Home at Dallas, whom the group has "adopted" for this year.

Members present included Mmes. C. Ora Cockrell, Hunter, B. F. Cain, Ted Pan-

Local Art Entry Wins Second Time

A painting by Mrs. Juston McBride of Hereford, titled Faces of the Sea, took first place in the adult division, mixed media, in the art show of the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo this week.

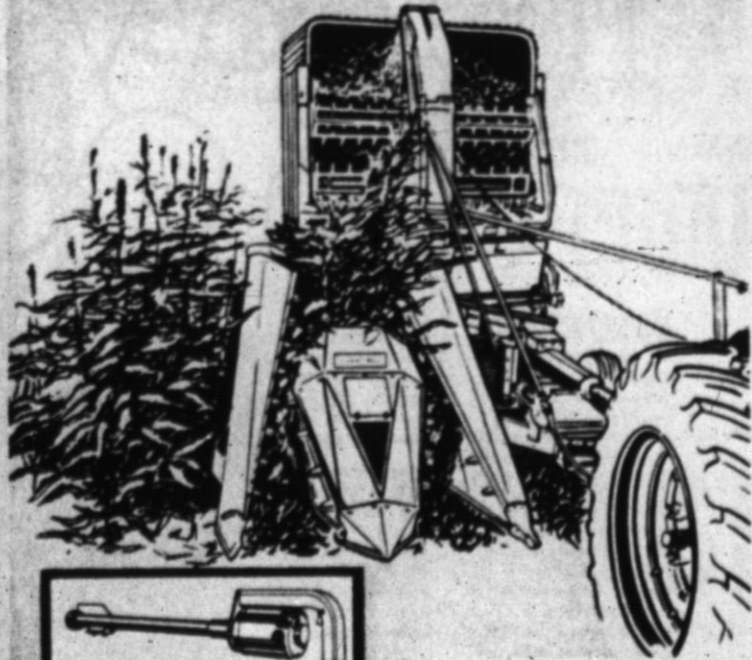

The painting had received a citation award in district competition of the Texas Fine Arts Association last May, and was returned earlier this month from Austin, where it has been hanging in the Association's Laguna Gloria museum.

A fantasy in impressionistic style, the winning painting is in vibrant colors washed down to achieve an overall effect of delicacy. It is done in watercolors and polymer on gesso board.

Mrs. McBride has been a consistent award winner in regional art contests of recent years, with work in oils and other media as well as watercolors. She paints in realistic style, also in impressionistic and semi-abstract moods.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Place names and street names always interest me as much as people's names (especially given names so odd that you wonder, "Why on earth would any parents be foolish enough to name a child THAT?")

REASONS FOR NAMES of towns are sometimes obvious, like Plainview, and often have historical backgrounds that make interesting stories. Street and community names are usually the ones that reflect local history and the longer I live in a place the more fascinated I become with its names.

For instance, where did Lawton Street here get its name? In the original townsite, it is located between a group of streets which make it easy to date the city's founding — those War notables, and another group named for pioneer families of the city — Jowell, Wither- spoon, Gough.

BUT NO STORIES I've read of Hereford old-timers include the name of Lawton, and I can't recall from high school history any mention of a Lawton concerned with the 1898 war.

West of the business district there are Ross and Miles Streets, sandwiched around Lee and Jackson which indicate which side in the Civil War held the sympathies of Hereford pioneers. But who were Ross and Miles?

Also, where did the Simms community get its name, and Walcott? If they run true to form, they preserve the names of some old-timers whose stories are yet of interest.

ROSES IN HEHEFORD which were especially beautiful in their spring blooming season this year are outdoing themselves this fall. Several rose growers have mentioned the wealth of bloom on their bushes.

Mrs. Ray Johnson, who has lived in this area many years and grown many roses, says she can't remember when there were more flowers per bush. She counted 18 fine long-stemmed roses on a bush of the White Knight variety that she set in her yard only last year.

OTHER AUTUMN flowers are making a good show, too. If you don't ordinarily drive down East Third, it's worth a detour to go by Mrs. George Bean's place at 601 and see the hedge around her backyard which bursts into bloom about this time each September.

The golden flowers, which look like they belong in the sunflower family, simply cover the lush green plants that grow head high, Magnificent!

And just behind that yard, at Mrs. J. L. Rogers' place, half a dozen huge old pear trees are dropping their yellow fruit by the bushel on the grass in a scene of all bounty.

BECAUSE A WEEKEND trip into the New Mexico mountains to see aspen leaves in their autumn color was delayed last year until most of the leaves had dropped, we went early this year and were rewarded Sunday with a splendid display of yellow leaves shading from pale lemon tint to deep orange. Early chill in the air has turned the leaves sooner than usual this fall. They will probably be as lovely this weekend as last. We were sorry to find, however, that fall fruit in the Espanola Valley, which was a

FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD

"Don't Chunk That Brick!"

... let him who is without sin do it." Of course we live in an imperfect world but we have no right to point a guilty finger. The cynic's seat is filled with accusers. The finger of scorn does but little good. This is the way of the Pharasee. the hypocrite. It is characteristic of a vain, boastful person who thinks everybody else makes mistakes but himself. Are you one of those low-principled, finger pointing, chunk throwers? Then, it is time for you to straighten up and show your compassion for your fellows. The sinner needs your help. He has to be understood. He requires assistance. He must be healed. We are each of us, our brother's keeper. We cannot afford to betray God, nor our brother. The penalty is too great. The American Indian would ask us to walk a moon in his moccasins before we criticize another. What a plan they used to bridle the tongues of the weak... the boisterous. Neighborliness is at the heart of democracy. Then, since we believe in men, in all men, let us help each other. Let us invite someone to worship with us in church this week.

You In The Church
The Church In You

Capitol Corridors Echo With Guesses

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. — Indecision still prevails.

Nobody knows for sure whether Gov. John Connally plans to run for an unprecedented fourth term. But Capitol corridors echo with the sound of guesses and counter-guesses, predictions and wagers about it. In any event, the decision may come earlier than the Governor a decision may be announced soon.

Some observers think an early decision would be a decision to step down. Announcement would be made early so that potential candidates waiting in the wings would know which way to jump. For instance, Speaker Ben Barnes, a Connally protegee, is expected to run for governor if Connally retires. Otherwise, Barnes would run for lieutenant governor.

So far, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith is the only announced candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.

A race between Smith, 55, and Barnes, 30, would pit the younger generation against the older. Both are conservatives.

Republicans appear to be grooming former Atty. Gen. Will Wilson for the race for governor.

There is some talk, too, that either Sen. Ralph Yarborough or Don Yarborough of Houston may get in the race. And there are those who think it possible that former Atty. Gen. Wagoner Carr may run.

Also mentioned as contenders for the office of Lieutenant governor on the Democratic ticket, in addition to Barnes, are former Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio, Sen. Murray Watson of Waco and Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall.

VOTE DRIVE SET
Liberal Democratic coalition groups in Texas have launched a campaign headed by former Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio to register 5,000,000 state residents to vote in 1968.

Representatives of the AFJ-CIO, Political Association of Spanish Speaking Organizations (PASO), Texas Liberal Democrats and Negro communities met here to kick off the drive. Spears' group will be known as the "Committee for Better Voter Participation."

STATE DEPOSITS EARN
State Bank deposits earned $10,000,000 in interest the past fiscal year. This is up 20 per cent over the previous year.

Treasurer Jesse James estimates that the current year's earning will total $11,600,000. He said an increase in interest rates and swelling balances in state funds brought the record yield.

About $252,000 in state funds is placed on interest in some 1,000 banks over the state.

COURTS SPEAK
Court of Criminal Appeals held that convicts seeking freedom under recent federal court decisions must file their petitions with district courts.

Habeas Corpus petitions have been received from some 35 prisoners a month, claiming violations of their constitutional rights. Most of them are handwritten and claim improper sentencing, illegal confinement or conviction because they did not have proper legal aid.

An amendment to the Code of Criminal Procedure this year permits district courts to consider such pleas.

GENTRY HONORED
Texas Highway Department will dedicate a new roadside park in Van Zandt County on September 24. It will honor the late Grady Gentry, former congressman. He was chairman of the Texas Highway Commission for six years in the early 1940's.

Park is located two miles southwest of Van on Interstate Highway 20. Gentry was born in Van in 1895.

LAW ENFORCERS MEET
Some 600 county attorneys, district attorneys, criminal district attorneys, county judges, judges of county courts-at-law and sheriffs from around the state will meet in Austin September 28-30 for the 17th Annual Attorney General's Law Enforcement Conference.

Speakers will include Pat Speir, assistant director of the Department of Public Safety; Nola White, chief of the Attorney General's crime prevention division; Harris County District Attorney Carol S. Vance; Travis County Attorney Bob Smith; First Assistant Dallas County Criminal District Attorney William F. Alexander; J. C. Davis of the Attorney General's staff; Lewis Berry, executive secretary of the Sheriff's Association of Texas; Gaines County Judge Charles E. Lawrence; and Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

APPOINTMENTS
Governor Connally has appointed Brownsville attorney Hector Yznaga and re-appointed J. F. Hulise of El Paso and Maurice Brooks of Abilene to the Texas Civil Judicial Council. He also named Alamo fruit and vegetable shipper John H. Ginsbach to the Tuberculosis Advisory Committee.

House Speaker Barnes has selected the following to serve on the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement: Carol Vance, Harris County District Attorney; Jack Young of Muleshoe, Texas District and County Attorney Association President; Nola White of Beaumont, Assistant Attorney General; Col. Wilson E. Speir of the Department of Public Safety; and State Bar Ralph Britte of San Antonio.

Mrs. Mary K. Wall, veteran assistant attorney general, has joined the staff of Secretary of State John Hill as an election law specialist. New amendments to the election code made the Secretary of State chief Texas election officer.

Attorney general Martin named Mrs. Mary Ellen Harvick as his new press aide. Mrs. Harvick has worked for the Galveston News-Tribune, the Austin American-Statesman and the San Angelo Standard-Times.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

Editor's note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 702 Colorado Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q — Can I still enlist in the National Guard or other Reserves and escape the draft?
A — Yes, if you can find a vacancy and enlist before receiving an order for induction. But you don't escape service.

Q — How's that?
A — You'd have to take four months or more of active-duty training, remain in the Reserves for six years, making weekly drills and summer camps, and take the chance of being called to active duty.

Q — How about the Navy?
A — Some Reserve programs, including the Navy, require two years of active duty?
Q — May I enlist in the Guard or Reserves after I get my induction orders?
A — No.
Q — I'm a college student and I have a chance to join the National Guard. What will that do to my student deferment?
A — You'll be deferred for your Guard service in Class I-D instead of Class II-S as a student.
Q — I'm getting in ROTC. How will I be classified?
A — In Class I-D as a student taking military training.

New Novels

Comparable to Jesse Stuart's writings and The Yearling by Marjorie Rawlings is the novel The Least One, by Borden Deal. The time of this story is during the depression days of the 30's and the place is a very small community in river bottom country. The bright ten-year old had a penchant for making or being in trouble. The conflict between the boy and his father, almost caused tragedy to the family.

This was brought about because of the father's refusal to name the two sons born into the family. Though he was a high school educated, which was more schooling than most in the community, he had a strange reason for not assuming this responsibility.

When the father was born he had been given a name he despised, so he took his second name of Lee. He then decided that his sons would find their own names as they grew old enough.

The first boy was called Son until he named himself at the age of ten. But the second son was called Boy. It was when he reached school age that he most resented this name — which to him was no name at all. And his resentment toward his father grew as he considered it was this parent's place to name his sons. This growing resentment lasted two years.

Strong characterization of the family made up of the father, two sons and a proud and stubborn mother, with the events of their day to day living make a good story.

Another novel has a very unique approach. Do you remember Jane Eyre by Charlotte Bronte? Jean Rhys, another English woman, has written The Wide Sargasso Sea. It is based on two of the characters of Bronte novel. She portrays the hero Rochester in the days of his youth and his marriage to his first wife — who became the mad woman imprisoned on the third floor of his home in England. The author captures in her
