

Water Quality Control Director Visits Hereford

Many questions Deaf Smith County residents had about pollution were answered Tuesday when Hugh Yantis, executive director of the Texas Water Quality Board, explained how and why his organization will conduct a survey of Buffalo Lake and its entire watershed.

"When you fail to comply with the sewage code in your area, you are polluting your stream. When you fail to keep pressure on your city government to meet its responsibilities in water pollution control, you are polluting your stream. You do this if you do not cooperate in any regional venture, such as a council of government which is seeking overall to work out all types of governmental programs."

"So really, there is no such thing as 'they' are polluting our streams. It is we who are polluting our streams, and only we can stop it."

"We don't even know when we measure the bacteria whether they are the normal organisms that live in the soil, whether they are what we call coliform bacteria which may or may not come from people, or whether they are a strain more specific to the insides of people, so called fecal coliform. We don't even know for sure what kind they are."

"Certainly in a broad category, they are the type of bacteria that you find in sewage polluted water. But this does not, in this more scientific day, give us any real indication as to their origin. And without knowing their origin, you have no measure of the hazard, if any, that they represent."

"So this is the first point. We have had samples taken. These were taken by the federal government in a cooperative project. These have been run through some laboratory procedures and then given some evaluation and some thought. And a report is in the mail today to me, I am told, and this will tell us whether or not we should be looking for one kind of bacteria or some other kind of bacteria in the study which we are going to start off with."

"Obviously, Tierra Blanca Creek was not selected at random. It was selected in part because of articles which have appeared in the newspapers and in part because of concern by public health authorities for conditions in Buffalo Lake. The concern was properly expressed. We do not of course know whether the real hazard was there. You can't afford to gamble. This is the public health viewpoint."

"But we did pick this area because there is an extensive feed lot industry here, vegetable packing industry and sewage treatment plant. And there was a published problem in Buffalo Lake. But other studies of similar nature go on all the time around the state. So it would not be correct to say that this is the only study that we are making, that this area has been picked unfairly to be made an example of. This is certainly not the case."

SCS To Hold Election

The Soil Conservation Society of Hereford County will hold its annual election on Oct. 10 at 10 a. m. at the Hereford County Courthouse. The election will elect a board of directors for the next year. The board will be responsible for the county's soil conservation program. The election is open to all members of the society. The society has been active in soil conservation work in the county for many years. It has helped many farmers improve their soil and increase their crop yields. The society also provides technical assistance to farmers in soil conservation practices. The election is an important event for the society and its members. It is a chance for members to elect representatives who will work for the best interests of the county's soil conservation program.

Services Held For Mother Of Local Attorney

Funeral services for Mrs. A. M. Aikin, 87, of Paris, Tex., mother of John D. Aikin, of Hereford, and State Senator A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris, were held Tuesday afternoon in the Milton community near Paris.

Mrs. Aikin, who had lived in Paris since 1907, died Monday in a Paris hospital. The former Martha I. Stephens, she was born in Tennessee June 7, 1880. She was married Nov. 27, 1904.

Founders Dinner Is Successful

More than 100 persons gathered at the Hereford Feed Yards on Oct. 3 for the 50th Anniversary Founders Dinner. The dinner was a success and raised $1,000 for the Hereford Feed Yards. The dinner was held at the Hereford Feed Yards, which is a major industry in the county. The dinner was a celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Hereford Feed Yards. MOVIE MAKING DAY IN HEREFORD
The Hereford Feed Yards and aerial shots from other industry in Deaf Smith County will be included in a film being made in this county by a French Beef Cattle Team. Scenes at left from top to bottom include movie making in the feed yards and a serious conference about the financial aspect of the feed lot industry with Henry Sears, (with glasses) president of the First National Bank.

In Monday Action Approves Property Sale

The sale of a piece of city property, which had been advertised for the past month, was approved Monday night during the regular meeting of Hereford City Commissioners.

The property, which includes all of Lots 9 through 14 in Block 30 of the Whitehead Addition, was sold to Ernie Flippo of Hereford for $1,800. There were no bids received on the property, which is located in the 200 block of New York Street and had been purchased for water testing.

Paisano Lions Send Aid To Storm Victims

The Hereford Paisano Lions Club, in a special drive conducted through the aid of Radio Station KPAN, Sunday filled a large truck with food, bedding and clothing to be sent to Harlingen, Texas in an effort to help the disaster victims of Hurricane Beulah.

Goodin Should Return To School Monday

Gary Goodin, outstanding halfback for the Hereford High School Whitefaces football team, will probably be back in school next week his physician reported Wednesday.

Hearing Series Set

A series of 12 informal hearings concerning the 1968 feed grain program will continue through Friday in major producing areas, Sec of Agriculture Orville Freeman announced, September 27.

Farmers Union Meets Tonight

Several important business items will be decided at 8 p. m. today during a meeting of the Deaf Smith County Farmers Union members in the Community Center.

Three Fined: Sentences In Court

Three persons were fined in court Tuesday for violations of the city ordinance. The fines were $50 each. The violations were related to the city's new ordinance regarding the use of public places. The court heard the cases and found the persons guilty of the violations. The fines were imposed as a penalty for the violations. The court also heard other cases, but they were not reported in this article.

Frenchmen Make Movies -- Inspect Feeding Operations

Deaf Smith County's fastest growing industry — beef cattle fattening — and the impact that industry has had on the community will be an important part of a film to be shown soon to leaders of France.

The films were shot Monday morning by a French Beef Cattle Team composed of four men and one woman who are nearing the end of a five week tour of agricultural centers in the United States.

He explained that there is a possibility that France will go farther into the feeding industry. Contant has been elected to the French Senate since his visit here and is now a member of the Agriculture Committee. He has continued the campaign for getting more cattle feeding done in France, with one of the main purposes to prevent a build up of the wheat supply.

The Chicago Board of Trade in Chicago, Ill., was filmed on Sept. 12 as the team studied the function of the board and the importance it has in relation to the beef cattle industry with the trading of feed grains. Activity on the floor at the Board of Trade also was filmed.

Also, family activities at home and in the community were shot and are considered an important part of the film. Beukenkamp, a Dutchman who speaks six languages, described in a thick accent the experiences in Iowa. "We even got a young farm couple to go to bed about three o'clock in the afternoon and filmed them as they got up," he said.

"The husband put on his pajamas, but he wouldn't let us put his wife in a negligee," she laughingly explained. "She wore some kind of sack thing. The first time we started filming and he pulled the covers back, we noticed he had on his socks. I asked if he slept in his socks and he said no so we told them to be natural. We have all the bright lights, cameras and people in the room and they are supposed to act natural."

"So we tell the wife to wake up and slowly wake up her husband by rubbing his cheek, then show how much she loves him by kissing him on the cheek as he cocks an ear to listen to the weather forecast on the radio."

Sears of the First National Bank, and Richard Jagels, Manager of the Hereford Feed Yards. Shortly after arrival by car at the airport, Deleule and Maria were flown over the Magic Triangle area by Steve Taylor of Amarillo. The flight included passes over feed yards in Deaf Smith County, Dimmitt and Friona, and Holly Sugar Corp. facilities for aerial movies and photographs.

By MELVIN YOUNG

It appears that the Rio Grande Valley area is destined to be lambasted again by hurricane winds and the resultant rains and flooding, almost before the folks there can catch their breath from the last storm.

Hurricane Beulah is barely dead, Hurricane Fern at this writing is building up steam and heading for the valley area.

Many organizations, including the American Red Cross, the Salvation Army, the Seventh Day Adventist and others, have rushed aid to the unfortunates in south Texas who have been left homeless in many cases, and in need of help in almost all cases.

But the smallest organization offering help that we know of may well be the Hereford Paisano Lions Club. This fine organization recognized the need at hand and turned their words into deeds as they gathered up a large truck-load of food and clothing to ship to the valley, to be distributed with the help of the American Red Cross at Harlingen. Almost $500 in cash was also sent south, some of it contributed by little children who brought their pennies and gave them willingly to help relieve the suffering of their friends and neighbors.

It's one thing for us to sit here, high and dry, and express our sympathy for those in the wake of the devastating hurricanes. It's something else entirely to do something about it. The Paisano Lions have.

Their reward will be in the knowledge that they have contributed a little to alleviating the suffering that must be rampant in South Texas.

Certainly we hope that the area escapes another such devastating storm, but Hurricane Fern may well be in the area by the time you read this.

We have all seen the actions taken by the American Red Cross and the Salvation Army during this disaster, and this should give us all the more reason for donating our "fair share" to the Deaf Smith County United Fund drive that is currently underway.

The local Red Cross chapter is requesting $10,250 this year while the Salvation Army is asking for $4,200.

Let's be sure to give "our fair share."

And the Junior Class will have a Smorgasboard Supper Friday night, Oct. 6, from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m. preceding the portales Rams-Hereford Whiteface game. The tab for the supper will be 75 cents for students and $1.25 for adults.

The folks over at the Hereford State Bank are real proud of their new carpet out in the bank lobby. It's really nice.

However, when you go in over there, you don't necessarily want to believe everything that you're told.

Waldo Baxter, loan executive of the bank, tried to tell us Monday morning that they had sprinkled a little Kiwanis fertilizer around the entry way and up popped that green grass.

That one need to be checked out a little further.

However, we must admit that the face lifting has done wonders for the bank, and we might add that the addition of Irene McKinster in the public relations department helps too.

Now, if they can just do something about those pesky notes that keep coming due.

Superintendent of Schools Johnny Clark Jr. has sent us a copy of a letter received from John Crimer, Superintendent of the Hale Center Public Schools apologizing for the letter from the Hale Center fan. Johnny received a copy of the same letter that appeared in this column last week.

Supt. Crimer writes; "I feel that the letter was in very bad taste and regret very much that the writer of the letter did not see fit to make the complaint to me. I think you know that had I been aware of a problem, I would have contacted you and discussed it with you. Perhaps the drummer was a little loud. I am not really sure because I was not annoyed by it."

Well now, that takes care of the irate Hale Center fan. But, what about the poor seating arrangement on the visitors side of the stands?

Whitefaces To Battle Portales

2x36 whitefaces
The injury-plagued Hereford Whitefaces will run up against a deceivingly strong Portales, N. M. Rams football team at 8:30 p. m. Friday in Whiteface Stadium for the final non-conference contest of the season.

The Whitefaces have been regrouping their forces this week to fill the spots vacated by injuries to Quarterback Jim Childers and Halfback Gary Goodin. Childers did not play against Monahans due to a leg injury and Goodin received a fractured vertebrae in the game which will sideline him for the season.

Childers was replaced at the helm last week, as he will be this week, by Sid Shaw, who raised a few eyebrows with his passing against Monahans. He tossed for one touchdown — a seven-yarder to Lenny Petree — and had one pass travel more than 50 yards in the air before being gathered in by Donnie Fangman to set up the TD.

Hereford will sorely miss the abilities of Goodin, but several fine halfbacks are fighting for his position and perhaps only need that chance to show the coaches what they have been missing.

Portales, which returned nine starters from a team which compiled a 3-7 record last season, currently has a 1-4 mark. They have lost to Eunice, N. M. 20-12; Clovis, N. M., 34-6; Albuquerque West Mesa, N. M., 26-13; Goddard, N. M., 33-9, and defeated Fort Sumner, N. M., 31-7.

Leading the Rams will be End

Marv Markham, Fullback Tom Burke, Halfback Paul Baca, Quarterback Dale Fullerton, Tackle Gene Couch, and Guard Phillip Heselton.

The Whitefaces are 2-2 after their 27-7 loss to Monahans.

First Baptist WMS Circle Plans Previewed By Executive Board

At an executive board meeting, plans for fall activities of Day Circles of First Baptist Women's Missionary Society were outlined, with glimpses farther into the future. Mrs. Dean Herring, new president, conducted the session. Other new officers are Mrs. Bill Lankford, vice president; Mrs. E. B. Moseley, secretary; Mrs. Bobby Owen, treasurer. Mrs. Lankford is pianist and Mrs. Virgil Justice organist. Chairmen are Mrs. Gwynne Owen, mission study; Mrs. Marlin Gilliland, prayer; Mrs. Edgar Vinson, stewardship; Mrs. Lloyd Crume, program; Mrs. John Seiver, benevolence; Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr., social; Mrs. Eugene Sparks, community missions. Day circle chairmen are Mrs. Owen Stagner, R. L. Wilson, Owen, Crume and Moseley. Members were reminded that the community mission project for this month is collection of commercially canned foods to be trucked to the South Texas area hit recently by Hurricane Beulah. A special program of this fall will be given at an all-day meeting Nov. 29, when the mission study book, Arrows to Atoms, will be reviewed and luncheon will be served.

Special Palo Duro Show Postponed

A special production of They Came From Spain, planned for the Pioneer Amphitheatre in Palo Duro Canyon on Oct. 10 has been cancelled, according to Mrs. Ples Harper, public relations official for that organization. A demonstration on sound and light techniques as they have developed in Europe, called "son et lumiere" has been scheduled to fill the program on that date. The program, which was especially prepared for the convention of Texas Tourist Counselors and officers of the Highway 66 Association which is meeting in Amarillo on Oct. 9 and 10, was postponed due to technical difficulties encountered in the taping of portions of They Came From Spain. Mrs. Harper states, however, that a program will still be presented, and the public is invited. There will be no admission charge, and the lights will go on at 8:30 p. m. Special guests of the Amphitheatre, the Highway and Tourist Associations, will remain the same.

Pioneer Reunion Slated October 10

Everything points to a great day, Tuesday October 10, Pioneer Day and historical dedication ceremonies in Carson County, Texas. Many members of pioneer families and others interested in preserving the history of Texas, have indicated they plan to be in Panhandle on this important occasion. Numerous special committees and individuals continue to put in long hours to make Pioneer Day what it should be.

The Square House Museum and the Opal Weatherly Purvines Annex will be open all day for guided tours. The Pioneer Tea in the War Memorial Building at one thirty o'clock will open the special activities. The Federated Club of Carson County with Mrs. Minor Simms in charge, are the sponsors of this well planned tea.

At two o'clock the Ralph Rands, the Harold O'Neals and the O. M. Spurlocks will sponsor a tea in the Randal home, 400 Charles Street, for federal and state officials and company representatives, many from great distances.

When three o'clock arrives, all will be gathered on the East Lawn of the Carson County Courthouse for a most interesting program. The guest speaker will be the Hon. John Ben Shepherd, former Attorney General of Texas, immediate past president of the Texas Historical Survey Committee and now president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. His address, "History on Exhibit," contains much of interest to all Texans and their friends.

Superintendent Freeman Melten of the Panhandle Schools will serve as master of ceremonies. Invocation will be given by Mr. Truett Latimer, Executive Director of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee. A most sincere welcome will be extended to all persons present by County Judge Clarence C. Williams and Mayor Richard E. Nunn of Panhandle. Mayors of all cities of the county have been invited to appear on the platform with Judge Williams.

The group will assemble in sections and each section will be introduced by Mr. J. C. McCollough, Chairman of the Special Sections Committee. Some of these sections will be by families such as the Weatherly-Deahl family. The Polish Pioneers Section will be a very important portion of the group. Those associated with the Santa Fe Railway will comprise a very worthy section. There will be numerous sections.

The tour to dedicate the state markers and the Men's Garden Club of America marker will be in charge of Sgt. Jack Crowner of the Texas Highway Patrol. Sgt. Crowner is also president of the United Peace Officers of America. The Opal Weatherly Purvines Marker will be dedicated by Charles Woodburn of Amarillo president of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee. He will be assisted by Mrs. Purvines. The Dugout marker will be dedicated by Mrs. Cliff Carr Vincent and Mrs. Harold V. O'Neal. The Railway Bell Marker will be dedicated by Senator Grady Hazelwood and Mr. F. N. Stuppi of the Santa Fe Railroad. The Men's Garden Club of America marker will be a director of the club, Mr. Joe Woodward of Dallas and Mr. C. C. Michel of Odessa, president of the Texas Club and J. O'Brien Thompson of the Amarillo club. Mr. Dor-man Winfrey, Texas State Librarian, will be present to dedicate the marker for the First "Inside Service" Bookmobile in Texas. Our guest speaker, Mr. John Ben Shepherd, will dedicate the Square House Museum. There probably is no better informed person on the history of Texas than John Ben Shepherd. Carson County is indeed fortunate to have this gentleman with us for the dedication of the museum. The Johnny Holmes marker dedication will be handled by a group from Borger, very much interested in law enforcement. Mr. W. L. (Bill) McConnell will assist with the unveiling. All past District Attorneys, judges, Rangers and other friends of Johnny Holmes, are asked to be in attendance at this dedication.

Upon the completion of the speaking program, and the tour of marker dedications, the focal point will be the Carson County Ag. Building where the well known barbecue George Rohan and the V. F. W. will serve the Carson County Barbecue at five o'clock. All food used was grown and prepared in Carson County. The beef was contributed by O. M. Spurlocks, the pin-tops, onions and potatoes by the Carroll Brothers, the sour dough bread by Dr. Robert Hall and his associates, the jellies etc. from Carson Co. homemakers, and the White Deer community and home grown pickles prepared by the Ralph Rands.

Following the barbecue, many have indicated they would like to attend the special dramatic "Sound and Light" presentation at the Palo Duro Canyon Amphitheatre sponsored by the Texas Heritage Foundation.

The only football game ever played between Army and Southern Methodist resulted in a 14-13 Army victory in New York in 1928.

Spectacular Roll-Over Highlights Hereford Speed Bowl Races Sunday

Numerous good races and a spectacular roll-over by a new car named 007 created excitement aplenty at the Hereford Speed Bowl Sunday.

Winners of the day Sunday included Gerry Easton in the "B"

Trophy run; L. V. Watts in the "A" Trophy run and Lou Shackelford in the Powder Puff Derby.

In the women's race, Donna Johnson and Mae West were fighting for first place and leading the pack by a good margin when they bumped together on the last lap on No. 4 turn. The two cars went in opposite directions and by the time they stopped spinning Lou Shackelford had won her third Powder Puff Derby of the season.

In a special grudge race between Red Easton and Buster Campbell, the judges declared that the drivers finished in a dead heat.

Featured this Sunday at Hereford Speed Bowl will be a race with non-experienced race drivers of the teenage variety. Cars will be furnished the drivers.

Plans still are underway to make the final week of racing on Oct. 15 the biggest day of the season. A Demolition Derby and another special feature already are on the schedule.

Other results from Sunday's races include "B" TROPHY — Easton, first, and H. W. Johnson, second. "A" TROPHY — Watts, first; Mike Burns, second, and Don Loafman, third. FIRST HEAT — Bill Byers, first; Henry Elizondo, second; Max Bridges, third, and Johnson, fourth. SECOND HEAT — Stacy Starrett, first; Byers, second; Burns, third, and Bill Paetold, fourth.

FIRST SEMI-MAIN — Charley Vasek, first; Byers, second; Johnson, third; Elizondo, fourth, and James Bradley, fifth. SECOND SEMI-MAIN — Jim Culpepper, first; Burns, second; Loafman, third; Buster Campbell, fourth, and Johnny Watford, fifth. "B" MAIN — Byers, first; Bradley, second; Vasek, third; Elizondo, fourth, and Johnson, fifth. "A" MAIN — Culpepper, first; Campbell, second; Starrett, third; Burns, fourth; Watts, fifth and Easton, sixth.

Races begin at 3 p. m. Sunday with admission being $1 for adults and children under 12 admitted free when accompanied by an adult.

Three winners of the Belmont Stakes — Nashua, Gallant Man and Jaipur — are stallions at Leslie Combs' Spendthrift Farm in Lexington, Ky.

Michigan State's football team ranked third in the nation in rushing defense last season and eighth in total defense.

Notre Dame is the oldest rival on Michigan State's football schedule this fall. The teams first met in 1897.

School Teams To Appear On TV

Teams from Hereford and Dumas high schools will compete at 3:30 p. m. Saturday on Channel 10 in the first round of the "Learn and Live Program." The 30-minute program will be in color.

Making up the Hereford team will be Laquita Robison, Jane Zinser and Jerry Odom, with Kenneth Justice serving as the alternate. All are sophomores at HHS.

There are 16 Panhandle schools participating in the program, which is being sponsored by the Department of Public Safety, the Amarillo Chapter of the Society of Safety Engineers, and KFDD-TV.

In a drawing for dates on which the teams will participate, Hereford and Dumas drew the first round. The winning team will appear in the second round of the program, to be on Dec. 2, while the loser is eliminated from further competition.

Under the rules set up by the DPS, the questions will be number 1 through 6. Each contestant will draw for a number and answer that question for a certain number of points for his team. If he misses, the other team gets the chance to answer the question for half the number of points. Some of the questions are worth more than others because they are more involved and harder to answer.

DPS officials make up the questions and judge the answers given by the contestants. Purpose of the 30-minute programs is to inform and interest both students and adults in driving laws and safety procedures.

After the finals of the program are held, all of the teams participating will be feted at a banquet sponsored by the Society of Safety Engineers. The chapter will present trophies to the first round winners, the second round winners and the finalists.

The Hereford contestants are Mrs. Jean Schumacher. All of the students who had expressed an interest in the program were given a test by Mrs. Schumacher and those making the highest scores placed on the team. The fourth highest scorer became the alternate.

A night in Palo Duro Canyon was the outing enjoyed by girls of Wa-Can-Ki-Ya Camp Fire Group Saturday.

Members on the camp-out were Nancy Barrett, Judy Scott, Beth Self, Nancy Newsom, Sandra Patterson, Melinda Bradley, Rhea Ann Wesson, Becky London, Rhonda Cromer, Elizabeth Lyons, Holly Layman and Glenda Baum.

Mrs. William Seyfert is leader of the group, Mrs. Newsom, Mr. and Mrs. Baum also accompanied the girls on the overnight camp.

WAS IT WORTH IT? — Lou Shackelford, who won her third Powder Puff Derby of the season at the Hereford Speedway Sunday, may have wondered if it was worth it. First, she had to kiss the Trophy Boy Max Bridges before a large crowd, and second, she had to get in and out of the car to do it.

WATER QUALITY CONTROL . . .

"I think in all fairness that it should be stated equally positively we cannot say there is not a connection. We're only trying to find out. So we will measure the way in materials that originate in the Hereford area migrate down the creek, both in the water and as the sediment moves down the bottom of the creek. We'll have to find out if these materials in fact go all the way to the lake and then if they are the same materials that have caused some of the problems in the lake."

"Now this sounds like we are trying to prove that nothing in the Hereford area caused it. This is absolutely not the case. Because obviously there is a lake problem, and there has to be a source. And we are only seeking to find out what the source is and what the degree of hazard is."

"We are not attempting — and this is saying it in a negative way — to so rigidly regulate industry of every kind that it has to move somewhere else. We are interested as any of you are in maintaining a healthy industry in this town, or any other town. We are as interested as you are in bringing industry into your town so that your kids can stay at home when they get out of high school or somebody else's kids can move to your town. All I am saying here is that we know that an industry must have a waste discharge to some degree. And this degree has to be carefully controlled and evaluated to see whether or not it is acceptable in the place it is proposed to be put. We know there is a measurable impact on the stream, and in this case on Buffalo Lake, perhaps."

"But we are trying to find the balance between giving adequate protection to Buffalo Lake which is one of the few recreation spots that you have in this area for water recreation. Balance this and the legitimate need for people in the watershed to also get rid of their waste products. Some people feel that we can control industry that we can totally eliminate waste discharges or purify them to a point that the water which is discharged is completely pure. This is not the case."

"There will be some measurable impact from any waste which is discharged today from any type of commercial enterprise. The best you can hope for right now is to keep the impact within tolerable limits. When you do get to the point where you can so purify the water that it will have no effect on the stream, you've got to you've got to the point where you can reuse it."

"We are trying to investigate a problem and come up with a reasonable answer. Now, since the cattle feed lot business is one of your larger industries up here; and I share the hope along with most of you that its going to be 10 to 20 times as big in the next 20 years; you must find methods of adequately controlling this waste. And I don't know what they are any more than you do. Right now, the best we can offer is that the first thing you need to do is find the location which is well chosen and then have sufficient dikes and ditches around it to pick up the sufficient runoff water when it does runoff and pump it up to someplace for irrigation."

"But we don't know enough about feed lots. And neither do you. So we are sponsoring, as are some of you, research at Texas Tech to try and find out more about basic feed lot operation. What is the impact of the various types of rations fed to the cattle, how should a feed lot be built, what can the economy stand in the way of more sophisticated construction. Even putting them under a roof and things like that."

"But we are starting out now on a feed lot to find out what a reasonable regulation is for the immediate time we face now, and for the future, where can we go when the feed lot industry is much larger."

"We will have within our board a committee, and some of you may wind up serving on this committee. We are going to try and put together a little committee of one or two board members and some industry people, some college professors and actually work out what a fair regulation on a feed lot is. This means that I'm saying very definitely that some sort of regulation is necessary to control the waste from feed lots. But this is not the same thing as saying right now that feed lots are causing pollution. Because some of them are and some of them are not. And I don't know which ones are which because I haven't been out there."

"But I think this is enough about feed lots. I think you recognize that you have a problem. We know you have a problem. The public thinks you have a problem. We're just trying to get the thing together into one basket and do it right."

"Now I think perhaps the vegetable packing industry has a little bit less understanding of water pollution control needs than even does the feed lots. We've had several tell us that there's absolutely nothing in my water that would hurt anything. It's just vegetable parts and the mud which came off of the vegetables. You know that even clean vegetable parts, when they begin to decay a little bit can be pretty unpleasant. And certainly the silt that is washed off a vegetable, if it goes into a stream, can result in silting up the stream. So even a vegetable plant must have some type of screening and sedimentation pond and whatever else it may need."

"Within the city there are probably literally dozens of little industries which all add their little bit. Washateria's may or may not go to your sanitary sewage system. If they go to a creek or storm sewer or just a roadside ditch, they count. Service stations certainly pollute with the sand that comes out of the car wash, the oils and greases which come out of their operations — and of course the city sewage treatment plant. It can be well run or poorly run."

"So, the pollution problem is never the result of just any one thing. It is the result of everything that the people do in that area."

"I feel that this study may be at least a year long. If you don't have a full run of the seasons, you don't have a fair sample of what's happening. Some of these things do take a certain amount of time to evaluate, so I think that we will during this same period of time, be working with anyone involved."

Before calling for questions, Yantis explained that State Representative Bill Clayton had planned to be present but had called to say that he was in bed with the flu. Yantis also pointed out "we work under a state law. We have a board and the board has a staff with me directing the staff. But we don't make the water pollution control law. We do not have any authority to dream up these procedures out of the air and just put them into force. The legislature passed the law, which is fairly detailed, and we merely carry out the law. We do try, between legislatures to influence what the law is. If we think the law should be changed, we try to get it changed. But basically, we have no authority other than that given us by the legislature to do any of the things that we do at all."

Questions asked Yantis and his answers included:
How far up stream above Hereford will you make your tests? "I can't answer that except to say that as far as there is a stream above Hereford that has water in it or has silt in the bottom. We propose to cover the entire watershed."
Will the city receive reports from the tests up and down the stream or just inside the city limits? "Everybody who wants it can receive all of it. But I warn you here that to receive data at random without having the whole picture can certainly lead to misunderstandings. I do not wish to cast doubt on the scientific validity of a study like this, but if you take any single sample, it could be wrong.' How liberal are you going to be to let any of the reports that are coming in periodically be published and information from them be quoted? This is state information, public files. And I say that anybody can do anything with it that they want to. We don't act as censors in any way. If the newspapers wanted to move a desk into my office and set a man down there eight hours a day, personally I don't care. This is a public business and it's conducted in public. And this means you do have to run the risk of misuse or the misunderstanding of some information."

Will this be a joint operation of the state and federal government? This is a joint state-federal study with the state running it. This was most clearly understood at the meeting to start this out. We are using state agencies, some local governmental agencies and federal agencies, but you can rest assured that we are running it. But if a local or federal agency wants to release a statement, we can't stop them and wouldn't try. We have agreed that all information will be released through my office, but if any agency decides to do it differently we can't stop them."

About how many people will be involved in the study, about when will it start and about how long will it take? "Well, it's already started. It started with a meeting in my office about a month ago. Most of you know about the initial sampling under taken by the some of federal people two or three weeks ago and I'd say at various times there will be about 30 people working on this. There will be three or four federal agencies, five to seven state agencies, local departments like the Potter-Randall County Health Department and your county health officer."

Is there a possibility of the federal government taking jurisdiction in this matter? Yes sir, very definitely. There are many, many people and perhaps a feeling in the federal government that it just ought to be controlled by the federal government in the first place. We don't think so."

What type of priority has your department placed on the study here? "We haven't assigned any priority to it at all, we're just doing it. We didn't even think in the terms of priority. It was just something that we wanted to do, and something that we felt was necessary to be done, so we started out. We did not make a list of 10 or 15 projects and then decide which one we were going to do first. This one was evaluated all by itself. As I said in the beginning, one of the reasons we wanted to undertake it was the federal people felt they were under pressure, both from Washington and from the general public, to find out what was going on at Buffalo Lake. And the state itself, was, both in the newspapers and from the people. Probably, eventually a study of this sort would have been done anyway, but it might have been several years away. The timing was directly related to the publicity."

Would you detail some of the enforcement procedures? "I consider that we are in the Water Pollution Control business. If a correction is needed and we can get it without any particular argument, regardless of what has gone on in the past, personally, I see no point to levy any fine or bring any type of court action whatsoever. We are just trying to keep the streams in the shape that people want them and we're not in business to try and harass any enterprise whatsoever. If somebody wants to see if we can make them do it, we don't mind meeting them in a courthouse at all. And we're generally pretty confident that we'll win because we don't go to court unless we think it's necessary."

"But so far as going out here and fining people just because we can, we're not interested in it. There will be enough people that we, in effect, have to make by court action do something, that we don't just have to go out and hunt people to go to court. To me, every time you go to court, it's a sign of failure."

"I do not see any reason what ever that any lawsuit will come out of this whole Tierra Blanca Creek investigation. But the people sitting right around this table can tell me whether this is going to be true or not."

"Let me point out one thing when you start going to court. There can be a jury unless everybody waives a jury. We cannot win a case unless the judge and jury think we're reasonable. The law itself, every rule and action we take has got to be reasonable and necessary. The court will not uphold, even though it meets the letter of the law, an unreasonable, arbitrary or capricious action."

Yantis also told those present that the board will be making investigations of waste products being discharged from the industries from now on, independent of the survey. In closing,

Junior High Football Games Leave Hereford Fans Breathless

Junior high school football in Hereford is running hot and heavy at the present time as two games were played Tuesday night, one contest is to be played tonight and four are scheduled for next week.

In a doubleheaded Tuesday night, the Stanton Junior High 7th and 8th graders beat Littlefield 6-0 and the La Plata 7th and 8th graders lost a thriller to Dumas 16-8.

Stanton countered on a six-yard run by Fullback Ignacio Santos in the second quarter, and the Dogie defense held Littlefield away from a score.

Dumas scored in the first and third quarters to take a 16-0 lead over La Plata. The Mavericks warmed up then and scored on a short pass from John Paige to Mike Watts. Paige then ran over the extra points to narrow the gap with about five minutes left in the game.

La Plata continued to eat away at the Dumas, but were stymied by the clock as the game ended with them on the Dumas 4-yard line. Outstanding players for the Mavericks, as listed by the coaches, were Center Carroll Ross, Tackle Larry Driver, Quarterback Charles Allison and Paige.

In last Thursday's game against Friona, the La Plata freshmen won their second straight game of the season 19-6 behind the three-touchdown effort of Allen Wagner.

The Hereford Junior Varsity will travel to Dumas for a game at 7 p. m. Oct. 12.

Dave Osborn of the Minnesota Vikings formerly played football at North Dakota.

Southern Methodist's football team this fall includes three Whites, three Richardsons, two Jordans and two Livingstons. None is related.

JV's, Red Ants Play Tonight

The Hereford Junior Varsity will be after their first victory in three starts when they go to Clovis, N. M.

The JV's will go up against Hart at 7:30 p. m. and coaches have already predicted an exciting football game. The local school will receive half the gate receipts from the contest.

The "B" team game will begin at 6:30 p. m. (MST) as the locals attempt to take their first victory after losses to Nazareth and Friona.

In the Friona game last Thursday, the local Red Ants lost their starting Quarterback play of the game when he sustained a broken leg. The injury appeared to demoralize the locals and they fell behind 18-0 before fighting back for a touchdown.

Woody Woodward put the Red Ants on the scoreboard when he rammed over from the two-yard line. He had set up the TD on a 40-yard gallop, and also ran over the extra points. Friona drove for a long touchdown in the final minutes to make the score 25-8.

Next game for the JV's will be against Dumas in Dumas at 7 p. m. Oct. 12, and next game for the "B" team will be at 7:30 p. m. Oct. 19 when the team goes to Plainview.

Chamber Of Commerce Education Committee To Conduct Survey

Are you interested in teaching an elementary, junior high, or senior high school class of students for an hour or so based on a subject, topic, hobby, or experience of your own choosing?

In an effort to give the lay individual an opportunity to play a vital role in the task of educating youth other than just paying taxes and lending moral support, the education committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce is conducting a survey (a blank will appear in this paper) to find individuals who are willing to devote an hour or so of their time to give a lecture or demonstration on a particular phase of their profession or business in some homemaking, biology, chemistry, auto mechanics, history, English or other class. "In this particular era when changes are taking place faster than textbooks can record them, the public schools could draw upon and make use of the knowledge, talents and skills of lay citizens who could give lectures, present demonstrations, or serve on panels in the classroom, giving students up-to-date, interesting, first-hand, realistic, on-the-spot information," said Bob Holman, a assistant superintendent of schools.

"The layman may want to exhibit and discuss art work," Holman said, or display materials of interest from some foreign country, demonstrate some of his own handiwork. "In whatever category, subject area, or topical classification desired, regardless of position or educational background, the layman will have the opportunity to serve in one of the many classrooms in Hereford and before a live audience of eager students. The Hereford Public Schools believe that lay citizens can contribute a great deal to the educational program of the many various skills, talents and practical knowledge within classrooms. Presentations of this nature would supplement the efforts of the teachers, Holman said, and give students "first-hand" information on subjects that are highly correlated with the curriculum program being taught.

To locate citizens who would volunteer to present a topic to students, the administrative staff of the public schools have sought the assistance of the Chamber of Commerce and the Hereford Brand.

The education committee of the Chamber of Commerce, under the direction of Leo Forrest chairman, has undertaken the project of surveying the community in an effort to recruit citizens for this task. If you are interested please call the Chamber of Commerce, 364-333; Leo Forrest, 364-1166 or 364-3559 or complete the printed form below and mail to:

Burglars Net $10; Inflict Heavy Damage

Approximately $10 in change was taken from the W. T. Garage and Machine Shop, East Highway 60, during the night Tuesday by persons who also caused heavy damage in the building.

Deaf Smith County Sheriff's deputies said numerous racing trophies were destroyed and heavy damage was done to a coke machine and candy machine, from which the money was taken.

Entry into the building was gained by breaking out a window of the front door and reaching through to unlock it. There was no immediate estimate of damage.

SPECIAL INTERESTS

Introduction by Roy Rogers makes a new book worthwhile. Entitled Performing Horses — A Pictorial History by Charles Phillip Fox it is easily read and will be welcomed by all lovers of horseflesh. We were pleased to learn that Trigger, Roy's horse is still around and has not been duplicated by other horses. He has no substitute in any way claims Rogers after all these 27 years.

Trigger still does tricks which he learned as a colt and still proudly performs with Roy aboard. Both, along with Dale, Roy's wife often appear at fairs, on T. V. specials and at stock shows. They, along with the Rogers eight children (some adopted) make a happy family with a full life.

Since the book is made up of mostly pictures, it is easy and fast reading on the whole or one may choose from the table of contents the type of horse in which he is most interested. Included in its contents are: early history of horses, intermediate history, the high school horse, bareback horses, the li-berly horse, special equestrian horse, Wild West and Rodeo, Circus ponies, the circus horse in advertising, baggage stock and a complete glossary of terms to inform you on the unfamiliar terms.

Under another head of specialization in reading you can make your own choice following something which has aroused your interest. Our latest is historical book on England — a place from whence so many of our ancestors came. For this reason and the late reading of a number of books with English backgrounds we have been on a binge of reading on England. The latest is one entitled Charles Elliott R. N. (Royal Navy) 1801-1875, a man who carried on assignments for England in our own state of Texas. It is believed this is a first and only story about this man, with so much delegated power, left to make many and big decisions.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

Editor's note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 702 Colorado Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your question.

Q—In order to qualify for a II-S student deferment, must enter college in the first class commencing after graduation from high school?

A—No. If you are not reached for induction on account of your age before you enter college, you may receive the deferment even though a period has passed when you were not in school, provided you are not yet 24 years old. Once enrolled, you must request deferment from your draft board in writing, then remain a full-time, satisfactory student

Q—How can I become a member of the local draft board?

A—If you are a citizen, at least 30 years of age, reside in the area over which the board has jurisdiction, and are not a member of the armed forces or its reserves, you are eligible. Contact the present members of the board, or write the State Selective Service Director, or the Governor, indicating your interest. Members are recommended by the Governor and appointed by the President of the United States.

Q—I am a graduate student. Will I be eligible for a I-S (C) classification?

A—Yes, if you were deferred from your draft board in writing, then remain a full-time, satisfactory student

National 4-H Week Observed

National 4-H Week, Sept. 30-Oct. 7, points up the accomplishments of American girls and boys whose club membership means they are being trained in the four H's — Head, Hand, Heart and Health — of the organization which has approximately 150 enrolled in Deaf Smith County.

They are among some 100,000 4-H'ers of Texas who this week are joining those of the other 49 states in the annual national observance. Climax of the week here will be a 4-H Club Carnival at Community Center Saturday beginning at 7:30 p. m.

The public is invited to the carnival, which will feature various booths for entertainment. Arrangements are in charge of the County 4-H Council, with Rodney Goheen as chairman.

Theme of the national week is "Join 4-H: A World of Opportunity."

Observance of the week in Deaf Smith County gives 4-H Clubbers occasion to honor members who have recently won state or district honors in the program.

Cynthia Hanna of Ford 4-H Club leaves today to compete in the State 4-H Dress Revue Friday and Saturday, a feature of the State Fair in Dallas. She has won in county and district contests and is one of 46 state finalists.

First place winner will receive a trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago Nov. 26-30, and Cynthia is also competing for an award given by Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association for first and second place wool garments.

Already a winner of a 4-H Congress trip is Joyce Bezner, who last weekend was announced as one of a dozen Texas girls and boys to receive the Santa Fe award. This is given for outstanding overall records in 4-H work.

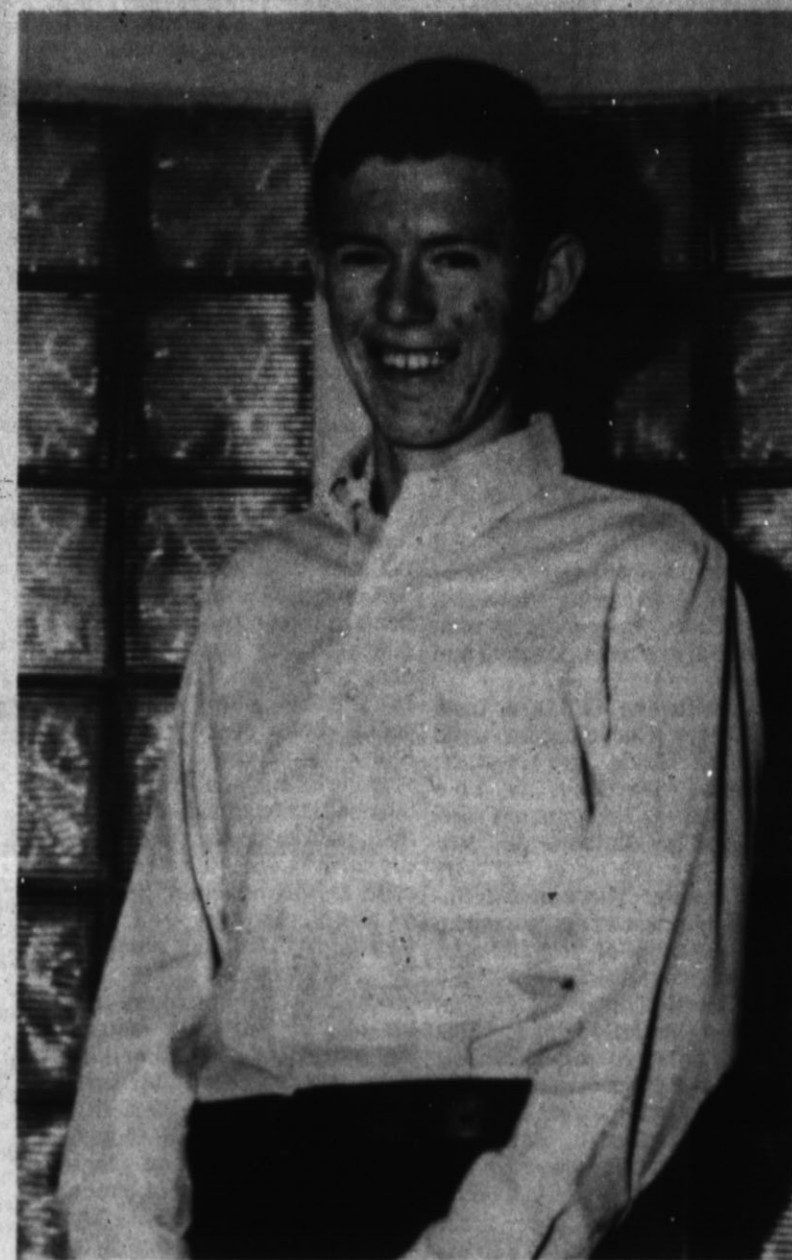

Also in state competition are the records of Jane Witkowski in a leadership contest, after first-place rating in the district. Judging is on the basis of her leadership in church, school and community activities as well as in 4-H clubs.

In district baking contests held at the recent Amarillo Tri-State Fair, Patsy Paetzold won third place. She was awarded first place in preliminary county contests.

State Dress Revue winners are to be announced at a luncheon Friday at the Sheraton-Dallas. Entrants will tour the Dallas Apparel Mart in the afternoon, and will be presented in two public fashion shows Saturday morning.

Cynthia will wear the pink wool dress of modified tent cut and strawberry-colored coat which she made for the contest. Accessories are a strawberry velvet billed hat, black gloves, calfskin pumps and matching bag.

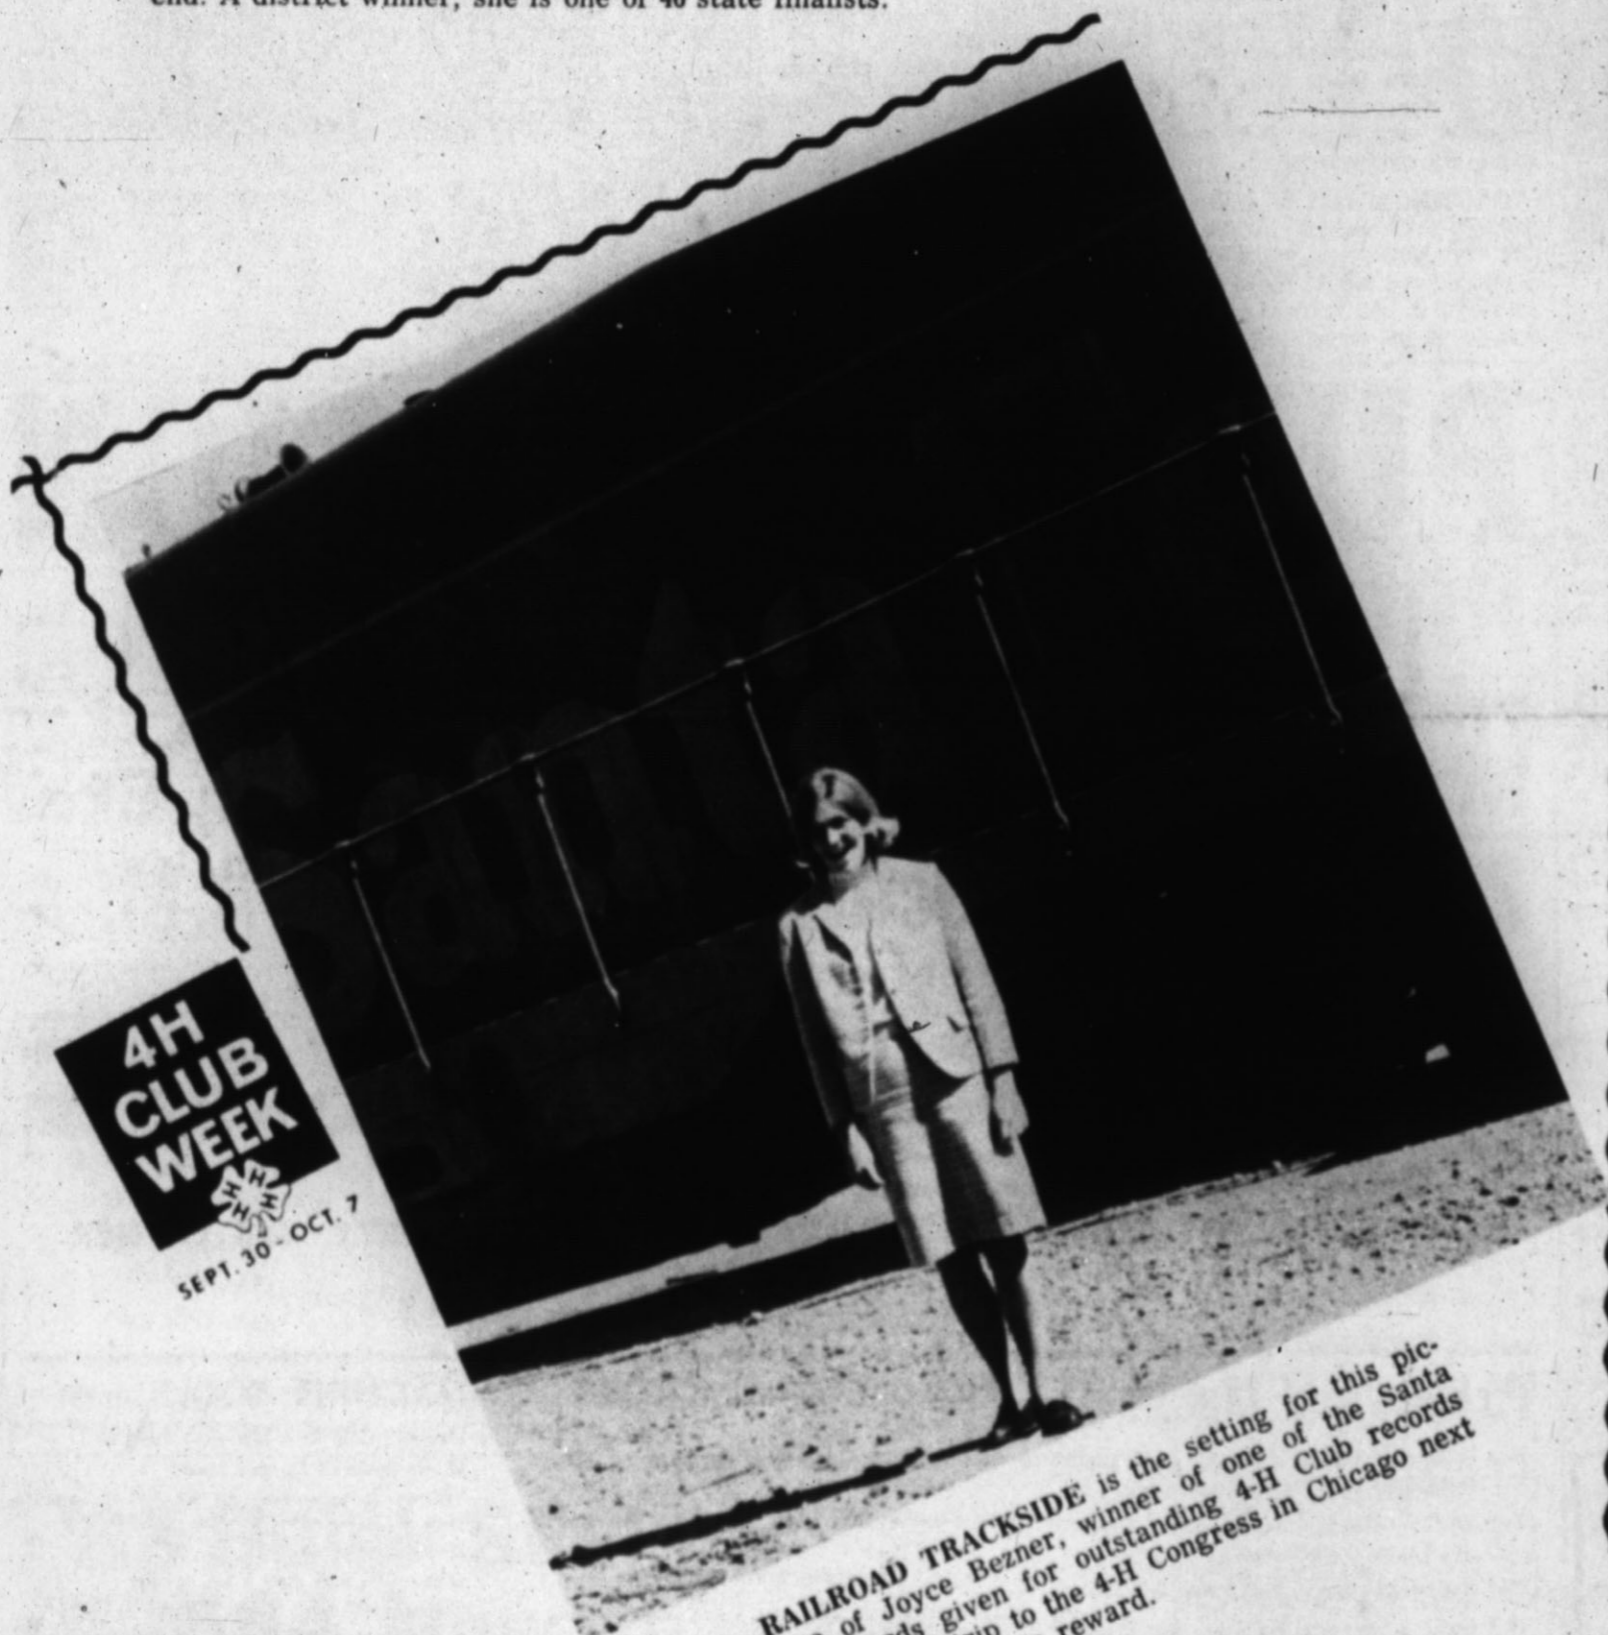

Her records in other 4-H clothing work will be considered in judging. During her nine years in a 4-H club, the 17-year-old high school senior has completed 50 garments and 16 other articles. She has taught a clothing subject-matter group for younger club girls.

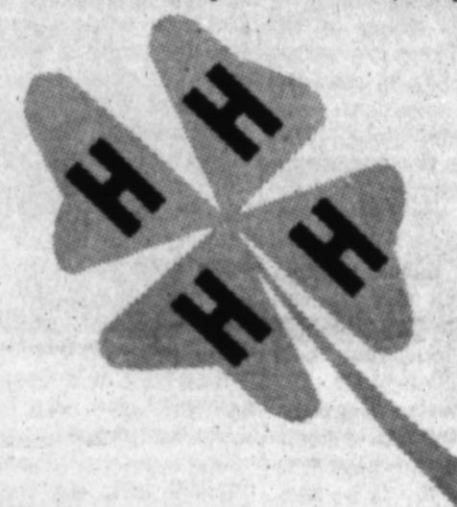

COUNTY CHAIRMAN of the 4-H Club Council is Rodney Goheen, Hereford High School student who also fills a part-time job in a local supermarket. The council is in charge of the final 4-H Club Week event, a carnival at Community Center Saturday evening.

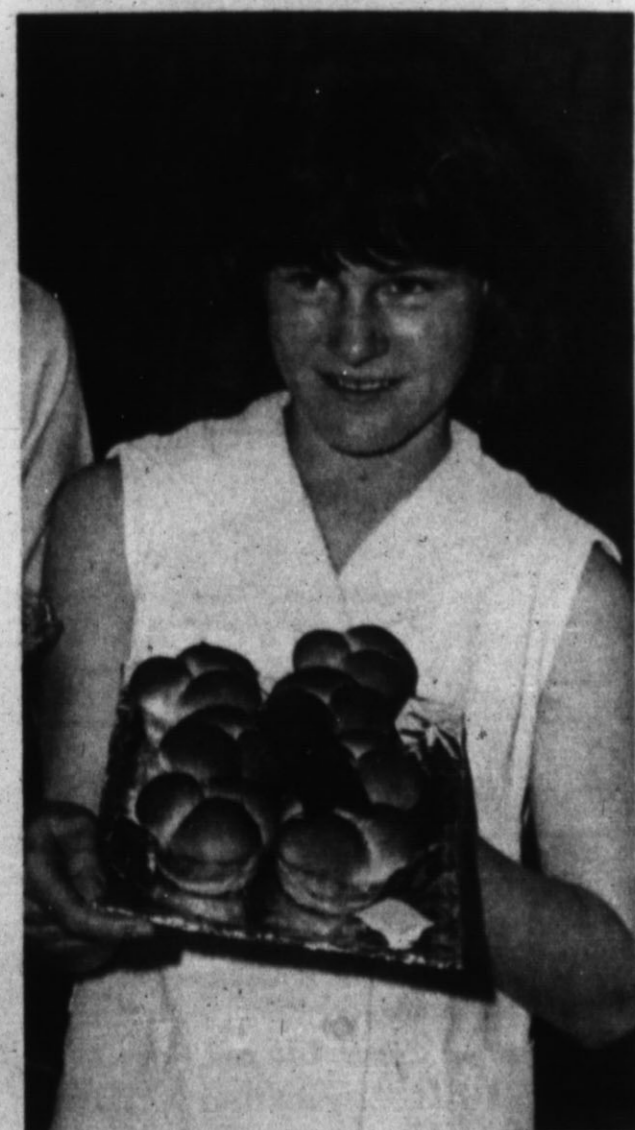

HER OWN CREATIONS are the dress and coat paraded by Cynthia Hanna, who will model them in the State 4-H Dress Revue at the Dallas Fair this weekend. A district winner, she is one of 46 state finalists.

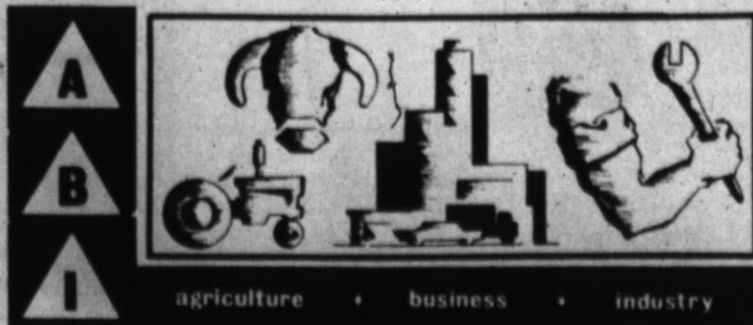

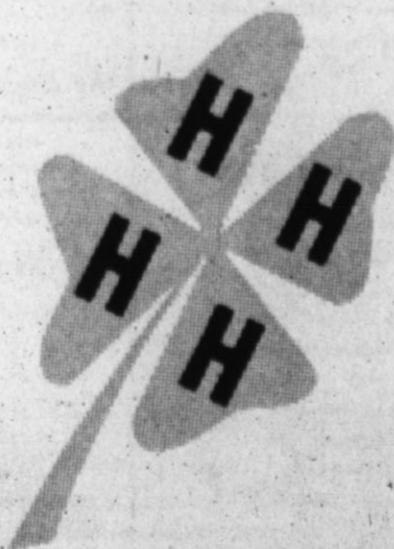

RAILROAD TRACKSIDE is the setting for this picture of Joyce Bezner, winner of one of the Santa Fe awards given for outstanding 4-H Club records in Texas. A trip to the 4-H Congress in Chicago next month will be her reward.

WIELDING A GAVEL as presiding officer is one of the accomplishments practiced by Jane Witkowski as a step toward her goal of a state 4-H Club Leadership award. Records of her various activities in 4-H work have been submitted for state judging at winning in the district.

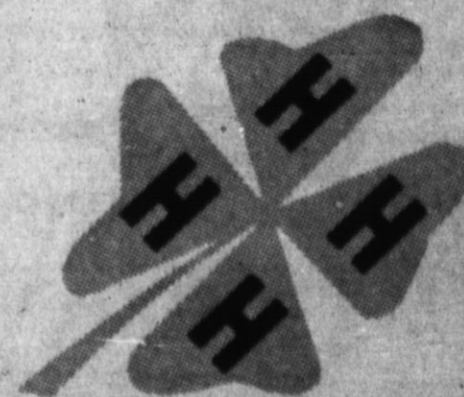

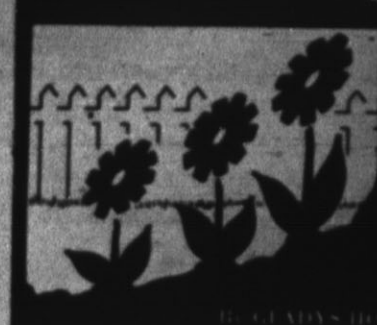

BAKING AWARD was won in Deaf Smith County this year by Patsy Paetzold, displaying her blue ribbon cloverleaf rolls. She placed third in the district contest held at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo.

Glad's Garden

SPRING FLOWERING BULBS

"I love the yellow daffodils. The first that comes in Spring. So glad! So glad! So joyous! Such a dainty and happy flower."

I like it's haughty challenge Of winter's biting cold. This messenger of Spring-time.

Golden yellow, tender and bold." Holman. To have daffodils in the garden in the springtime adds color, brightness and a happy note of bright yellow, and crystal white, not only for the gardeners but for the neighbors and the passers-by.

Last year a number of people inquired about the names of some of the spring flowering bulbs. There was confusion relative to the daffodils, jonquils and narcissi.

The following is taken from the Flower Encyclopedia and Gardeners Guide, by Albert E. Wilkinson. "Narcissus is the name used for the common Narcissus, and for daffodils and jonquils." They are all of the Narcissus family. The name daffodil and narcissi are synonymous.

The growers of Holland and England, combined with The Royal Horticultural Society reclassified the daffodil, and this became effective in 1956. They fall into ten chief divisions. This information was given by Vera Deason, the Garden Columnist for a neighboring newspaper, and one of the areas leading horticulturist.

All are spring blooming, hardy bulbous plants, and are much used for forcing, either for cut flowers or for potted plants, and are grown extensively in gardens, parks, etc. The narrow leaves and flower stalks arise directly from the bulb. The flowers are born either singly or in clusters. The shape of the bloom varies. They are either trumpet or cup shaped, but each have 6 flaring segments surrounding a central tube. This tube is known as the cup, trumpet, corona or crown. The surrounding petals are the perianth.

A continuous bloom of six weeks or more can be attained by planting of the ten types according to divisions, and their blooming cycle. To achieve this, one should familiarize themselves with the several types, keeping in mind that to have the continuous bloom it will be necessary to plant the various types which have a variation of bloom and bloom sizes, also height and general habit of growth.

The classification according to the Horticulturist Society are, Trumpet, Large Cupped, Small Cupped, Double, Triandrus, Cy-Poeticus, Species of Wild Forms. Plant first the Cyclamineus. They are single flowering, with reflex perianth. "February Gold" is recommended. Selections from the other divisions, namely the Trumpet, will give some of the most popular, for example, "King Alfred," "Beersheba," and "A tonic."

In the Doubles, Cheerfulness, is an excellent grower, and Golden Perfection, in the Jonquilla Division. The Paperwhite Narcissus, falls in the Tazetta Division. This is a great favorite because of its fragrance, and the delicate sheer clusters of blossoms. This is also very good for forcing for house plants. My mother always planted some of this variety, so that they would be in bloom for Christmas, they added a festive note to our Christmas dinner. (they are especially nice for gifts for shut-ins.)

To complete the cycle of bloom, plant some of the Poeticus. They too are white and fragrant, height approximately 18 inches, narrow double-edged leaves, with about 4 to the plant. Flowers open wide, a good example is the "Actaea." Some of the named varieties in the various Divisions may not be available, but the local dealers can advise substitutes.

Planting for Spring Bloom, will not be complete unless there are some Hyacinths. The stately Hyacinths, are suited to any garden. The unmistakable fragrance, vivid colors, and alluring pastel colors, with the beautiful bell like florets have endeared the hyacinth to gardeners for generations (since 1630). The other day I was selling bulbs for The Pioneer Study Club, and was interviewing some men, regarding a purchase. We discussed, the tulips, daffodils, etc. and one of the men said, "Oh," my favorite is the hyacinth, they are so pretty, fragrant, and... oh well I just like them best. They are FIRST on my list."

Hyacinths are members of the lily family. They are suited to any garden be it small or large. They can be used to create symmetrical designs that fit into formal gardens, or they are equally at home when planted in a very small plot of ground. For effective or accent planting, group them, placing 6 to 8 bulbs in a group. The later is very attractive when planted in front of evergreens. Larger informal drifts are delightful in front of brick or stone walls. They are also excellent for border planting, since they grow straight and do not overlap the paths or walk ways. They are fine for planting with other flowers, especially species tulips, miniature daffodils, and minor bulbs such as Grape Hyacinths, (Muscari) Scilla, Crocus, etc. They can be used for mass planting, for background plant (WK (where one wishes for mass color effect), or for border. In the famous gardens of Holland they are used profusely, and are most effective.

Hyacinths are easy to grow, and will give satisfaction for three or more years without lifting them. Plant in well drained soil, six to 8 inches depending on size of bulb, and six inches apart. Personally I often plant mine a bit closer, to attain the effect I wish, and to shield each other from winds and dust. A layer of mulch will protect bulbs from deep freezing and early frost. Use care in removing the mulch in the spring, do not get in too big a hurry as the late freezes are what we need to watch for in our area.

For indoor forcing buy exhibition or top size bulbs, and bedding sizes for outdoor plantings. The later is more resistant to weather conditions. Flower bulbs can brighten interiors as well as bring color and attractiveness to the outdoors. One of the best and least expensive ways to inject a breath of spring, when the landscape is gray and dreary and the rooms seem winter weary, is to have potted bulbs. A dish of paperwhite narcissi, a pot of gay tulips, or daffodils, a fragrant potted hyacinth, or small pots with the lesser or minor bulbs growing in them, one or all will brighten a room for weeks.

NOTE: Mark on your calendar the date Friday, 13th. This is the date for the Garden Beautiful Garden Tour of homes. Four lovely new homes will be shown, and all of them will be enhanced with beautifully arranged flowers or other plant materials.

Another date which is coming up is that of The Rose Panorama. Roses will be featured in arrangements. Garden Club members, and other arrangers will be invited to participate in this event. All will be open to the public.

The accent planting of the deep red chrysanthemums, which are in bloom at the Jim Lipscomb home, 108 Centre St., is very effective, also those of varied hues of yellow and bronze at the Wm. Hardwick home, 1203 Park Avenue are beautiful.

It is interesting and inspiring to drive in the countryside and note various beauty spots. The first sign of autumn foliage, was noted at the Turrentine home, on Harrison Highway. The trees with their new autumn dress are pretty. Another attractive spot is the planter box, at the J. V. Pickens home, on the Frio Draw Road.

While driving take it SLOW lest you miss something real special. For instance the beautiful pheasants, with their lovely, fall plumage, the varied grasses. The picturesque milo fields, soy beans, lettuce, beets late corn and the new tender green wheat, all WONDERFULLY beautiful. . . and inviting to the artist with brush and canvas, or the camera bug with camera.

So much for which to be thankful. . . and

Miss Stengel Receives Commendation

Carla S. Stengel, a senior student at Hereford High School, is among 40,000 students in the United States who have received Letters of Commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC). Miss Stengel was awarded her letter following results of the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test taken in March.

Letters of Commendation were awarded to 40,000 1968 graduates for high performance in the tests. Although they will advance no further in the Merit Scholarship competition, their outstanding record in a nationwide program deserves public recognition. These students ranked just below the 14,000 semifinalists announced in Sept. by the NMSC.

According to John M. Stainaker, president of NMSC, the students commended should be encouraged to pursue their education since their intellectual talent represents an important and much needed natural resource. Their significant academic attainment gives promise of continued success in college.

The commended students names are reported to other scholarship granting agencies and to the colleges they named as their first and second choices at the time they took the NMSQT. The reports include home addresses, test scores, anticipated college majors and career intentions of the students.

Miss Stengel, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John William Stengel of Rt. 5.

Messenger H.D. Club Prepares For Election

A nominating committee to present a slate of 1968 officers in Messenger Home Demonstration Club was appointed at the recent meeting in Mrs. N. A. Brown's home. On the committee are the hostess, Mrs. W. N. Thweatt and Mrs. Bill Page.

With Mrs. J. E. Sorrells presiding, club members discussed suggestions for fund-raising projects. The next meeting was set for Oct. 13 in the home of Mrs. Thweatt, a salad luncheon and demonstration on cake decorating. Mrs. Elmer Northcutt gave the County H. D. Council report.

A program on window shades and draperies was given by Argen Draper County H.D. Agent. She showed new fashions in window decoration, and said tie-back curtains are popular again.

Garden Center Tour Is Scheduled In Club

A change in the meeting date for Bud to Blossom Garden Club has been made so members may attend a special event, a flower show and tour of the Lubbock Garden and Art Center Oct. 14.

The trip to Lubbock will replace the regular club meeting of Oct. 6. Members are to assemble at Community Center by 9 a. m. Oct. 14 to drive to Lubbock for the tour.

At the Garden and Art Center, arrangements made by garden club members of the Lubbock area will be on display. The grounds of the center contain beautiful rose gardens, with the plants labeled to show variety names, also a recently-completed tea garden.

Chrysanthemum gardens on Texas Tech campus will be visited. A flower show in the Plant Science building at Tech will begin at 3:30 p. m. Much of this show is devoted to horticulture entires.

LaPlata Club Program Surveys Youth Rebellion

"Youth rebellion is certainly no new thing; it has been going on since that time of Adam and Eve," Mrs. Raymond White told LaPlata Study Club members as she presented the program in Mrs. Emil Dettman's home Tuesday evening.

She spoke of current national concern over the turn taken today by rebellious youth and described the hippie movement. Although it has baffled the nation in many ways, the movement has a great deal in common with youth rebellions of the past and there is some good in it, she concluded.

Mrs. Clint Formby, vice president, directed the business period. Refreshments were served to Mmes. Louis Woodford, M. H. Richie, Frank Prowell, J. D. Neill, Ansel McDowell, Howard R. Johnson, Tom Harkey, Merle Campbell, Larry Dippel, Jack Brown, Milton Adams, White and Formby.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Cortez and daughter Lidia traveled to Michigan on vacation to visit his brother.

Earnest Langley, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Bloomer, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Young, and Mr. and Mrs. Clint Formby all attended the Tech football game in Lubbock last weekend.

Teddy Alexander entertained the Calliopean Study Club Friday night with an interesting review of the latest in fall fashions. It was held at the Amoire room at the mall.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Chaney have just returned from Austin where he attended a Texas Association of Broadcasters Convention.

Carole Clearman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Clearman, pledged Zeta Tau Alpha at Southwestern University, George town, Texas.

STUDENT IS VISITED

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Caraway and son, Bill, visited over the weekend with their daughter, Alice Ann, a student in Oklahoma Christian College, Oklahoma City. Miss Caraway has become a member of two campus clubs, the Dorians and the Gleaners, and has been assigned to the staff of the college yearbook, The Aerie.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Her Hobby? Mexico

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Travel in Mexico and a farm wife's work of canning and freezing food may not sound like activities that have anything in common, but they are two of the things Mrs. Joe Edd Andrews "just loves to do."

CARING FOR HER three children and Jeeping about over the Andrews farm and ranch property in the Frio community with her husband, helping him with his work, are other chief interests of young Mrs. Andrews.

Mexico has been the favorite vacation spot for the Andrews since their marriage seven years ago. Their first major trip was made south of the border, and they have returned there whenever they had time to travel.

Both speak Spanish; Andrews was fluent in the language and Mrs. Andrews had studied it in high school before they made their first trip, and they have polished their accents on their travels.

"WE HAVE" had no difficulty even with the children, in finding lodging and food, buying whatever we wanted to bring back and making friends with people we met since we can speak their language," she says.

"After trips every year, we have made some good friends whom we try to see on every visit. We like the people and the country and when we think of a pleasure trip, we always think of Mexico."

As a result, their home at Frio has touches of Mexico in its furnishings and accessories, things like carved wood, leather and wrought iron furniture, candlesticks, paintings on velvet, pottery and picture frames.

For the future they have dreams of a home built in Spanish style and furnished completely in authentic pieces from Mexico.

NOT SO NOTICEABLE in the Andrews house as the Mexican souvenirs, are evidences of its mistress' hobby, a large pantry and two freezers full of food. She keeps one freezer almost filled with baked goods and such dishes as the stuffed peppers for which she gives her recipe.

Jars of green beans, tomatoes peas, carrots, beets, onions, new potatoes and various pickles, as well as chili, fill the pantry shelves. The vegetables were grown in her own garden, and the many trees around the Andrews house include fruit trees which supply contents of other jars.

Born at Vernon, where her parents grew up, Mrs. Andrews was Judith Raye Haseloff. Her family moved to Hereford in time for her to enter the first grade and stayed until she was in high school, then moved to Abilene where she finished high school.

SHE MARRIED SOON afterward, and after living in Canyon until Andrews completed studies at West Texas State University, came back to his family's place south of Hereford. They farm and raise cattle: Judith keeps records of the registered cattle as a part of her assistance in the ranch work.

The Andrews children are Jo Elizabeth, who has just started to school; Valerie, two years old and Jason Herbert, 10 months. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews direct the young people's Training Union at Frio Baptist Church and the entire family attends services there.

COOKING IS ONE of Mrs. Andrews' favorite household tasks and she likes to use basic recipes, varying them occasionally in her own way. Her family likes plain food, she says, so she seldom tries exotic recipes.

She makes stuffed peppers in large quantities and freezes using the following recipe. Instead of cutting the peppers in half she cuts the tops off and stuffs whole peppers.

PLANTATION STUFFED PEPPERS

Choose plump, crisp bell peppers to fill this flavorful meat mix:

- 1 pound ground beef
 - 1 cup chopped onion
 - 1 clove garlic, chopped
 - 2 tsp. chili powder
 - 1 tsp. salt
 - ½ tsp. pepper
 - 2 cans condensed tomato soup
 - ½ lb. sharp process cheese, shredded or sliced
 - 1½ cups cooked converted rice
 - 8 medium green peppers
- Cook ground beef, onion, garlic in skillet until meat is browned. Add seasonings and tomato soup, simmer covered for 10 min. Add cheese. Cook slowly, stirring occasionally, until cheese melts. Stir in rice and cool.

Cut peppers in halves lengthwise, remove membranes and seeds. Cook in boiling salted water to cover until barely tender—about 3 min. Drain and cool. Place in baking sheet or shallow pan (Mrs. Andrews uses muffin tins). Stuff with rice mixture.

To freeze, place in freezer until peppers are frozen. Remove and wrap separately in foil or saran. Seal, label, date and return to freezer. Recommended storage time, 3 to 4 months.

To serve, remove wrapping, place partially thawed peppers in shallow pan. Cover with foil and bake in hot oven, 400 degrees, 30 to 45 minutes.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Among my favorite people are those who tell me, as soon as I answer the phone, just who they are. It's so much simpler to transact business or hold a pleasant social conversation after that.

IT'S BAD ENOUGH to be talking face to face with someone I know but can't remember her name. In that case, you can at least associate the face with an incident or two to furnish conversational topics, but on the phone you are much further lost.

Of course the best bet would be to ask at once, "Who is this?" but always when someone calls and starts talking, assuming that I know her voice, I keep hoping there will come a clue to her identity. Sometimes that works but when it doesn't, it's more embarrassing to have to ask the identity at the end of a conversation.

It can happen that a club reporter will phone and give me the entire account of a meeting of "our club" — and I don't know who she is or which club.

AND IT OFTEN doesn't help when she says "This is Susie," or some not uncommon name. Trouble there is, you keep worrying all through the conversation about which Susie, and lose track of whatever the call is about.

However, I can always forgive the person who just forgets to mention the name but it's hard to feel kindly toward the caller who begins with, "Guess who this is" or "I suppose you know who this is."

That person is deliberately trying to confuse you, and I'm easily enough confused without anyone trying.

SINCE MY COMMENTS about street names, I've been told that Gene Fooks once worked up an original story using the names of streets in Northwest Hereford, all in order.

Something about a Western scene at Sunset, one of the amusing spots was introduction of the story's hero, a Texas Ranger named Emma. Now the name of Emma Street has been changed, and I'm wondering if the genial minister has changed his story to conform.

While I'm wondering, wonder who Emma Street was named for in the first place, and whether Emma, if she is still around, feels badly about having her name replaced by the impersonal label, Northwest Drive.

Easter News

Bill Stuve, Alvis Jolly and Trent Downing attended the Zone meeting of the Lions Club at Dawn this past week.

Mrs. John H. Burnett visited her mother Mrs. Ida Robinson in the Lou Lenn Manor, Mangum, Oklahoma this past week. Also other relatives in southwest Oklahoma while there.

Maurine Henderson visited Bettye Renfro Thursday afternoon. The Easter Lions goals are guests of Kenneth Frye and Jerry Terrell, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Flood visited their son and family, the Edwin Flood's in Amarillo Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Burnett of Dalhart, spent the first of the week visiting their parents the John H. Burnetts and the F. S. Dragers.

Mrs. Fred Walton said she had a letter from her sister Mrs. Nan Fogle, who lives at Mercedes, Texas. She reported the flood waters did not reach her trailer house, which was located on the East side of the dam. Mrs. Fogle was one of the lucky ones.

Sandra K. Howell spent the week end with her aunt and uncle the W. A. Eppersons.

Bettye and Clyde Renfro met O. C. in Amarillo Friday and attended the fair. Bettye said it was really a good fair this year.

Don and Linda Parks are visiting this week with his parents the C. C. Parks. Don will be leaving Monday for the Air Force. Carl Parks came and visited with them Wednesday.

John and Gary Burnett made a business trip to Perry, Oklahoma Sunday returning Monday.

Bettye Renfro had supper with Nina Thorpe in Amarillo recently.

Anna Mae and Jenalee Burnett shopped in Amarillo Monday, and visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kirkland. Mr. Kirkland is a patient in the North West Texas Hospital.

Bettye Renfro attended a salad supper in the home of Mrs. Oleta Golden Tuesday evening. The ladies visited after supper.

Easter Ladies Club met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. John H. Burnett, with 5 present. There was discussion on adopting a foreign child as a club project, also suggested we invite all the women in the community to a social and membership drive.

Mrs. Burnett gave a demonstration on Dacapage. Some very pretty pictures and frames can be made that way. Present were Anna Margaret Moss, Mary Flood, S. T. Walton, Ruby Stone and Hostess.

"A Thought! The fact that an Owl can't talk, may have something to do with its reputation for wisdom."

BAND PARENTS TO MEET

Parents of all Hereford High School Band members are urged to attend a meeting of Band Parents at the high school band hall at 7:30 p. m. today.

At this first meeting of a new year, plans will be made to begin activities, including fundraising to support band trips and other events. Dr. Roy J. Brubbs is the new Band Parents president.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

Lots of us can't really tell how we got in this financial mess because we don't keep records. Every year Internal Revenue tries to verify thousands of tax returns where the taxpayer failed to keep records. The taxpayer ends up being embarrassed and the tax man saddened.

The Internal Revenue Service advises taxpayers to check over their records of deductions for the current year. It is always a good idea to make sure that you have a complete record of the additional income that you received. It is much easier to get your records straightened out in October before the end of the tax year than on April 15—the day that too many taxpayers wait for.

FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD

This Sacrament

What a privilege to have seen Jesus in the flesh... to have talked with Him, and supped with Him. To His disciples that was a never-to-be-forgotten experience.

Though 1900 years intervene, the Man of Galilee still stands in our midst and says, "This do in remembrance of me." This outward and visible sign of inward and spiritual grace separates man from the world and commemorates the death of Our Lord. He said, "Do it in remembrance of me."

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are observed with benevolence that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy to the church the ministerial and uplifting religious character. In essence today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of men in these perilous times. Thus we urge our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "Go to the Church and the Church to you" have a responsibility for good in a regular CHURCH. GOES and a daily BIBLE READER.

Open House Set To Celebrate 92nd Birthday Of R. M. Gunn

His 92nd birthday, observed Wednesday with a family dinner, will be further celebrated by R. M. Gunn Sunday with a reunion of relatives for a noon dinner in the IOOF Hall, followed by open house with local friends invited.

Birthday cake and coffee will be served to callers all afternoon, with Mr. Gunn's two daughters, Mrs. Guy Lawrence and Mrs. Joe Landers, his five grandchildren and their families as hosts.

Born Oct. 4, 1875, in Morgan County, Mo. Mr. Gunn has been a resident of the Hereford area since 1925.

He had moved from Missouri to Oklahoma, then Indian Territory, in 1894, and married Mary Emily Richmond July 3, 1898. They came westward to the plains country in 1920, living first near Hollene, N. M., and then moving to Hereford, where they lived on West Norton Street.

Mr. Gunn farmed and operated a trucking service. Many old-timers recall his driving a Ford truck, following the gasoline threshing machines over wheat fields of this county and hauling the grain.

In 1929 he bought the Westway Store and operated it until he retired in 1946 and moved to Hereford. Mrs. Gunn died in 1948 and he has resided since in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lawrence.

All his descendants, including 11 great-grandchildren and two in Hereford except for one grandson, Ross Joe Landers of El Paso.

Bruce Lafayette Miller

Miller Enters College Of Arts And Sciences

Bruce Lafayette Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Lyman Miller of Hereford, is one of 846 students to enroll in the College of Arts and Sciences of the University of the South this fall.

The enrollment is approximately the same as last year's according to a release from the college. It is the University's plan to hold the figure in the college until the new J. Albert Woods Science Laboratories and additional dormitory space are ready, when a division into two colleges is planned and an increase in student admissions at the rate of 50 a year is foreseen.

This year's number of freshmen, 233, is down from last year's 246. The new men were selected from 100 fewer completed applications than last year, a decrease that Mr. John Ransom, director of admissions, says is reflected nationally.

"The baby boom has run its course," Ransom says, "and the next rise is not predicted until three years from now.

Competition for admission was very stiff. The new class is one of our best statistically," he said.

The 233 new freshmen represent 33 states and five foreign countries. The average freshman ranks in better than the top fourth of his high school class, and in better than the top ten percent of the nation's high school seniors on College Board scores.

Two-thirds of the new freshmen are from public schools and one-third from private schools. Forty are sons or brothers of alumni.

Washington Report
From Congressman
BOB PRICE 18TH DISTRICT, TEXAS
1223 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20535

Although our voting records in Congress are about as far apart as the North and South poles, my colleague in Congress from Illinois, Representative Melvin Price and I found ourselves both voting "Price is right" on a bill last week.

The bill known as the Fair Labor Standards Foreign Trade Act as passed by the House and sent to the Senate will establish procedures to relieve domestic industries and worker injured by increased imports from low-wage areas.

The legislation is the result of several years of study and work by its sponsors and both Democrats and Republican members of the House Committee on Education and Labor.

Principal sponsor of the legislation, Representative John H. Dent of Pennsylvania, is also chairman of the Labor Subcommittee which heard testimony on the impact of imports for more than six months during this and last year.

Other imports are running at even higher rates. And not only are we heavy importers of agricultural commodities but also our tax money is spent to improve the ability of foreign countries to export to the United States.

Many members, including myself, have introduced various bills to limit imports of meat, cotton, oil, textiles, dairy products and many other cheaply produced foreign items.

own welfare accept approximately five percent of most goods produced outside the country, but when the rate goes over five percent we reach a stage where the growth of that particular industry stops.

The World Bank has just announced a $40 million loan to Brazil to increase beef, mutton and wool production — all of which we are presently importing from Brazil.

It is high time that Congress took effective action to protect domestic industry and agriculture from its own government actions.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

Connally Candidacy Still Big Question

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. — Although the primaries are not until next May, Texas politicians, here and there, already are beginning to get in and out of statewide races.

Big question still is whether Gov. John Connally will run for an unprecedented fourth term. He says he hasn't made up his mind.

If he doesn't run, it now appears that it will be at least a three-way race in the Democratic primary — between Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, who already has announced, Speaker Ben Barnes and former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr.

If Connally does run, Barnes and Carr probably will vie for lieutenant governor, though neither has as yet announced a definite decision.

In the state Supreme Court, both Associate Justice James R. Norvell and Meade F. Griffith say that they will not seek reelection in 1968.

The World Bank has just announced a $40 million loan to Brazil to increase beef, mutton and wool production — all of which we are presently importing from Brazil.

HIGHWAY OFFICIALS PROMOTED

On January first B. L. DeBerry, Dallas district highway engineer, will replace Assistant State Highway Engineer J. C. Dingwall.

There will be four other administrative changes in the Highway Department:
*Archie J. Sherrod, now district engineer in Odessa, will be promoted to chief engineer of maintenance operations.

John G. Keller, Beaumont district engineer, will succeed DeBerry.

*Franklin Carter Young, district administrative engineer in San Antonio, will take over Keller's job.

*Paul H. Coleman, assistant district engineer at Odessa, will replace Sherrod.

RESEARCH AWARD TO TEXAS

Texas Research League was presented the top research award of the Governmental Research Association for its report, "Metropolitan Texas: A Workable Approach to Its Problems."

Award was made in Boston. Accepting were Alvin A. Burger, executive director of the League, and James W. McGrew research director and head of the project.

League's report was made after an 18-month study requested by Governor Connally. It contained seven legislative recommendations, but only one of them passed the Legislature.

That one provided $250,000 of state money for regional planning.

TEXAS TOURISM PUSHED

Texas' official travel exhibit pushing the state as a vacation land with a "world of Difference" — was seen by approximately 450,000 persons at the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto.

So says Walt Warner, director of programs for the Texas Tourist Development Agency, which sponsors the exhibit.

important but unexplored market for the Texas travel industry. "Many (Canadians) were unaware that Texas lay just 1,200 miles from Toronto's border," he said.

OIL PRODUCTION DOWN

Texas oil production was reduced by 109,071 barrels for October. Texas Railroad Commission cut the allowable after finding demand lower as the Middle East crisis eases off.

Commission was to have announced its decision immediately at its regular statewide production hearing, but delayed it four days to see what effect Hurricane Beulah would have on production and refining.

After studying that situation, it was decided that no major damage had been incurred, though there were temporary disruptions.

CAMINO DEL NORTE PROPOSED

A group of Midland citizens appeared before the Texas Highway Commission to request a study on the feasibility of an interstate highway stretching from the Big Bend Country to Denver.

Dubbed "Camino Del Norte" by the applicants, the highway would begin at U. S. 90 near the Mexican border and would run through Midland, Lubbock, Amarillo and on to Denver.

Delegation presented the Commission with copies of a brochure outlining the proposed highway — examining the population, education, cultural, recreational, historic and national security aspects of the project.

Commission took the request under advisement.

CITY SALES TAX FAVORED

Saturday midnight was an important hour in Austin, in so far as many Texas municipalities were concerned. That was the deadline date for reporting city sales tax election results to State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert.

As of this writing, 12 of the 13 municipalities that have voted on whether or not to adopt a 1 per cent city sales tax, along the lines of the state's 2 per cent sales tax, have favored the proposal.

Voters in Electra, near Wichita Falls, turned it down.

Voters in the following cities adopted the new-to-Texas taxing device: Aransas Pass, Austin, Elgin, Orange Grove, Henrietta, Ingleside, Nacogdoches, El Paso, Port Aransas, Taylor, Texas and Wichita Falls.

SHORT SNORTS

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has ruled that the State Textbook Committee is covered by the 1967 Open Meetings Bill, which requires that all meetings of most state and local agencies be open to the public.

State Republican Headquarters announce that Jay Anderson of East Bernard has been appointed deputy state Republican chairman for Region III, and Jim Griffith of San Marcos has been named Republican district committeeman for the 14th Senatorial District.

Texas Highway Commission celebrated its 50th birthday in Austin last week with former officials joining current ones and leading elected officials in festivities.

Pvt. Raymond G. McCurdy

Pvt. McCurdy Completes Basic Training

Marine Private Raymond G. McCurdy, son of Mrs. Mary E. Perryman of 1505 Park Ave., Hereford, Tex., was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, Calif.

He will now undergo from two to four weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance.

Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and 45-caliber pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects, hygiene, first aid and sanitation, and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join the Marine combat forces.
