High Plains Hospital Is "An Idea Of The Future"

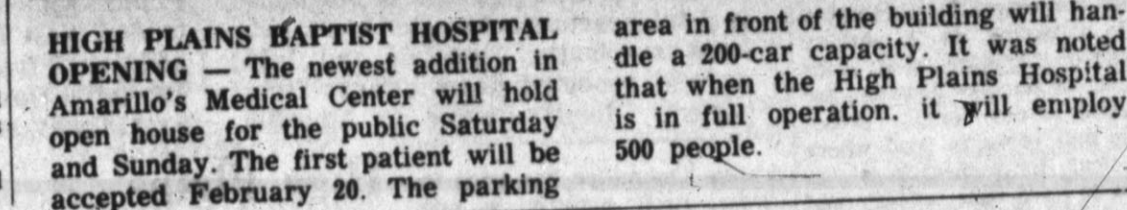

By EARL MOSELEY
AMARILLO — The new High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo can easily be compared with "an idea of the future" in the science-fiction vein, except that it is science fact.

From the emergency entrance for four ambulances to the Bivins Center for rehabilitation and chronic diseases, the interior of the entire building is ultra-modern in design and includes all the latest electronic devices of modern medicine and surgery.

Included are communication systems in all parts of the hospital for instantaneous service to the patient, x-ray equipment that can dry and process negatives in 90 seconds, and laboratory facilities that will deliver medicines to the patient through a system which almost entirely eliminates error.

Thus the description as "The Hospital of Tomorrow" — except that it is now.

A tour of the High Plains Hospital was conducted Friday afternoon for the press by its administrator, Emmett R. Johnson, in advance of its formal dedication ceremonies on Feb. 17. It was also announced that the hospital would hold open house for the public on that date and Sunday, and that it would begin accepting its first patients on Tuesday, Feb. 20.

HIGH PLAINS BAPTIST HOSPITAL OPENING — The newest addition in Amarillo's Medical Center will hold open house for the public Saturday and Sunday. The first patient will be accepted February 20. The parking area in front of the building will handle a 200-car capacity. It was noted that when the High Plains Hospital is in full operation, it will employ 500 people.

City Gets Aid, But Who From?

Federal money is running out of Hereford's ears, but no one seems to know why.

A $16,091 planning and assistance grant for Hereford was announced by Sen. Ralph Yarborough and verified by Rep. Bob Price through the Department of Housing and Urban Development. But — Hereford had not asked Uncle Sam for it.

In fact, according to City Manager Dudley Bayne, it is quite possibly a mistake. This amount may be intended for another city and Hereford's name was wrongly attached to it.

He and Mayor Ray Cowsett are busy trying to get the matter straightened out.

"You have to file an application to receive the money," Bayne told the Brand, "and we have not filed an application with the Federal Government."

There is a grant of some $27,000 pending with the State of Texas, Bayne said, but nothing has been heard from it as yet.

Some towns get all the breaks.

The site of the new hospital is west of the Veterans Hospital on Highway 66. It is a section of the new medical complex which will eventually house six separate installations for all types of physical and mental diseases.

The High Plains Hospital is the first major general hospital in the 400-acre Amarillo Medical Center. The hospital has been designed for expansion from an initial 241-bed capacity to 400 beds. All single-bed and two-bed rooms are identical with the others in architectural design and include television, telephones and direct signal systems with the nurses on duty.

Johnson said the price of the single rooms would be $35 per night and the doubles would be $29.

In addition the hospital will

Growth Of Deaf Smith County Shown In Annual Extension Service Survey

Editor's note: Presented below is a portion of the 66-page annual report on Deaf Smith County, as compiled by the extension service agents. Other subjects, including Vegetable Production, Livestock, Crops, 4-H and 4-H Limited Income, will be presented on the ABI (Agriculture, Business and Industry) Page in Thursday's Hereford Brand. Compiling the report was County Home Demonstration Agent Argen Draper, Assistant County HDA Rita Huckert and County Agricultural Agent Justin McBride.

growth due to mechanization and greater use of chemicals. Future gains seem to hinge in part on more efficient use of our resources.

People of the area think of Deaf Smith County as a prosperous county. According to the census figures; however, one-third of the people of the county have an annual income of $3,000 or less. Members of all Program Building Committees feel this indicated a need for consumer education in all areas.

Women of the county are highly organized, belonging to a wide variety of church groups, home demonstration clubs, garden clubs, study clubs and other women's organizations. Extension files show a list of 100 plus active women's groups and their presidents. The committees of Extension-connected groups feel that the program should take advantage of these ready-made audiences and offer programs to them in keeping with educational goals set by the various committees.

Approximately one-third of the families in the county have children six years old or younger.

There are five rural communities in the county. Two of them have regular monthly community meetings.

Deaf Smith County has a rapidly growing Latin American population. Twenty years ago, there were few Latins. In 1963, there were 3,500 here for the harvest and summer months and some 2,000 living in the county the year around. Most make their living as farm laborers, though in the last five years, many have taken positions as store clerks and relation positions.

The rural non-farm residents make up 22.1 percent of the total population with 19.5 percent rural farm people. There are an increasing number of vacant farm houses, as farm families move to town to be closer to school and to give their children more benefits of extra-curricular activities. Also, farm families move to town to retire.

Approximately twenty percent of the children 14 to 19 years of age are not in school, which indicates a significant number of children not finishing high school. A large number of these children are Latin American who attend only as long as compelled by state law.

There are 30 small industries in the county are in the labor large sugar beet factory. These, along with the general expanded economy of the county indicate that there are incentives for high school and college graduates to remain in the county.

By far, the overwhelming percent of men employed in the county are either farmers or farm laborers. Of the men of the county, who are 14 and older, 75 percent in the labor force are employed and 2 1/2 percent of the 75 percent are unemployed. Seasonally, however, the unemployed number among the 730 farm laborers rises sharply. Among women in the county who are employed, the largest group do clerical work. About 25 percent of the women in the county are in the labor force, with 4 percent of these women unemployed. Of the women who work, approximately 1000 are married women.

Living conditions for Latin Americans living at the Labor Camp are undesirable in many ways. There are 62 permanent residents at the Labor Camp. This has been a source of great concern for many in the county. Various efforts have and are being made to improve this situation, but those in charge feel that real improvement in the situation waits on furthering the education of these people. It has been very difficult to set groups together for educational meetings. Progress there has been exceedingly slow.

Deaf Smith County is an outstanding county and has a great deal of leadership among both men and women. Progress, naturally, seems slow to persons who realize the potential.

Consumer Competence

CLOTHING & TEXTILES
The Deaf Smith County Family Living Committee has given top priority to clothing consumer problems in 1967. The efforts of the members have been fruitful in informing county residents on how to make wise use of the clothing dollar. Representing the area of clothing on the Family Living Committee are: Mrs. J. D. Gilbert, Jr., Mrs. John Hammett and Cynthia Hanna.

Clothing standards are closely connected to social class in both teenage and adult circles. It appears that all girls and women will be well-dressed so they want to be accepted in both general behavior and social attitudes by their social class and peers. The psychology of clothing is very important in our society as families can afford adequate clothing and the kinds of clothing which individual groups accept.

Approximately ten percent of income in Deaf Smith County is spent on clothing. There are adequate establishments for retail sales of ready-to-wear, piece goods and findings. Also, adequate establishments for laundering and dry cleaning, both commercial and self-help. Repair shops of all kinds make clothing care easier.

There are approximately 2000 families in Deaf Smith labor force. From a recent survey, many families stated they need help in consumer buying. More calls come to the Extension Office in regard to clothing construction than in any other area. Of the Deaf Smith population, 46 percent are under 25 years of age.

The long time objective: Clothing consumers are better informed buyers of family clothing.

The goals: Families become better consumers and make the most of the clothing dollar to provide seasonal needs as part of the annual clothing needs, for girls and young to develop skills in clothing management.

The agents have used demonstration, lecture, programs, illustrated lecture, group meetings and training meeting to help attain the clothing goals of Deaf Smith County residents. The agents have trained adult leaders and 4-H subject-matter leaders in clothing; these clothing leaders have been from home demonstration clubs, 4-H clubs predominately of Anglo membership, 4-H groups in the mission school located in the Hereford Labor Camp and groups of Spanish-speaking women to teach others.

Fifteen groups have been given programs on Clothing Action - Fabrics. This bulletin was taken to all clerk who sell piece goods. Requests for the bulletin have been made by persons who have heard of its usefulness.

To improve consumer buying and to aid homemakers take better care of fabrics and garments through good information, the agent presented programs to 13 groups, study, service, home demonstration and non-home demonstration clubs, on Permanent Press.

EDUCATIONAL ACTIVITIES
In striving toward the goal for girls to develop skills in clothing management, ten 4-H adult leaders received training in preparation for clothing project groups. Subsequently, these trained leaders conducted projects. Ten of these girls were in 1st year groups and received Part I in the Know Your Sewing Machine course.

For five years, it has been the plan of the 4-H Leaders Council to hold a clothing consumer course the week before the County Dress Revue. The purposes are to give the group the programs in buying clothing, grooming, modeling and care or storage of clothing. This gives the entire 4-H membership the advantage of resource persons and also offers 4-H members the opportunity to prepare and present parts on the program. The course was held June 28 & 27 at the Hereford Community Center. Thirty girls and 5 leaders attended.

The course was centered on self-confidence and poise. The program included: Care of the hair and hands; the underwear story; lines and colors suitable for you; selection and care of hosiery; posture makes the difference; and be a model every day.

4-H members have improved their clothing selection, storage and improved their posture. The County Dress Revue showed evidences of improved appearances.

The 4-H program at St. Joseph's school (Hereford Labor Camp) again included clothing in the planned subject matter groups. A VISTA worker served as project group leader. Forty girls received instructions in grooming, consumer buying and clothing construction.

RESULTS:
A total of 82 girls have become better dressed. They have learned and begun using some of the principles of wise clothing management. Cynthia Hanna, one of the 82 girls, represented Deaf Smith County and District I in the State 4-H Dress Revue.

EVALUATION
The Family Living Committee is proud of the accomplishments made in 1967. Girls are becoming more confident and poised. Leaders are doing a better job. Teenage girls, especially, are using the knowledge they have learned about labels and fiber content. Girls are becoming better clothing consumers and managers.

The Clothing & Textile area of consumer competence is much in demand in Deaf Smith County and much help is given and family satisfaction achieved.
The Family Living Committee has met three times in 1967. The members representing foods and health on the committee are Mrs. Bess Werner and Mrs. Paul Hoff.

The Committee feels that good diet contributes to physical, mental and emotional health. Food nourishes the body and gives a feeling of well being. That feeling of well being that comes from being well nourished makes for better family relationships.

Brain and nerves are nourished by the same blood stream that builds brain and bone. Persons of every age and in every occupation require food of kinds and amounts that enable their bodies to maintain the best possible internal environment of all the cells and tissue.

Retail sales from survey: From the latest available figures the following buying power is listed. The Committee feels if figures were available; these amounts would be 2 1/2 times these figures: Food - Hereford, $3,410,000, and Deaf Smith County, $4,929,000; Eating and Drinking places - Hereford, $523,000 and Deaf Smith County, $548,000; Kind of Business Group - Food stores, 19 for $3,646,000, and eating and drinking places, 15 for $463,000.

Of the 31 industries in Hereford, 8 manufacture food. The committee thinks that good meals that go easy on the budget don't just happen. They result from careful planning, buying, storing and cooking of foods by the homemaker. Meals that meet the nutritional needs of each family members and also are satisfying, colorful, tasteful and economical should be the desire of each homemaker. The family's food program is not complete unless the homemaker improved the use of time, energy and money by planning meals in advance. Meals should be planned that give good returns in food value for the money. A true food bargain is one that gives good returns in food value for the money. Careful storage of food helps retain the nutrients in the foods.

The Committee's hope for good nutrition is for all homemakers to have a well balanced foods program incorporated which includes planning, buying and storage, plus preparation.

The problem areas are as follows:
1) Homemakers make many trips to the store
2) Homemakers have very little food stored
3) Food is not purchased nor meals planned by a dietary standard

Longtime objectives have been for homemakers to become better consumers by purchasing food according to a dietary standard; to store food for natural or nuclear disaster; for families to use locally grown foods and preserve food where practical; for homemakers to learn to save time, energy and money through better management; to train girls and young women in foods and nutrition.

County Program Building

The County Program Building Committee gave Water Control and Financial Management top priorities for 1967 and all programs stressed these areas. The Executive Committee and over all committees have expressed much satisfaction in the success of these efforts.

The annual reports of sub-committees as given a the annual meeting of the Deaf Smith County Program Building Committee in October, 1967, are as follows:

HOME ECONOMICS
Packets have been taken to all new residents in Hereford. These contain bulletins on Home Economics and Agricultural subjects of timely interest. The Welcome Wagon hostess has delivered 125 packets and a number of requests for further information have been made to the Extension Office.

Home Economics and Agricultural related information has been given in 90 radio programs and 52 news articles.
Twelve clubs (180) have been given programs on enrichment of three generations in a household and enrichment of retirement years. Too, home demonstration clubs have adopted older citizens as club projects so retirement years may be more enjoyable.

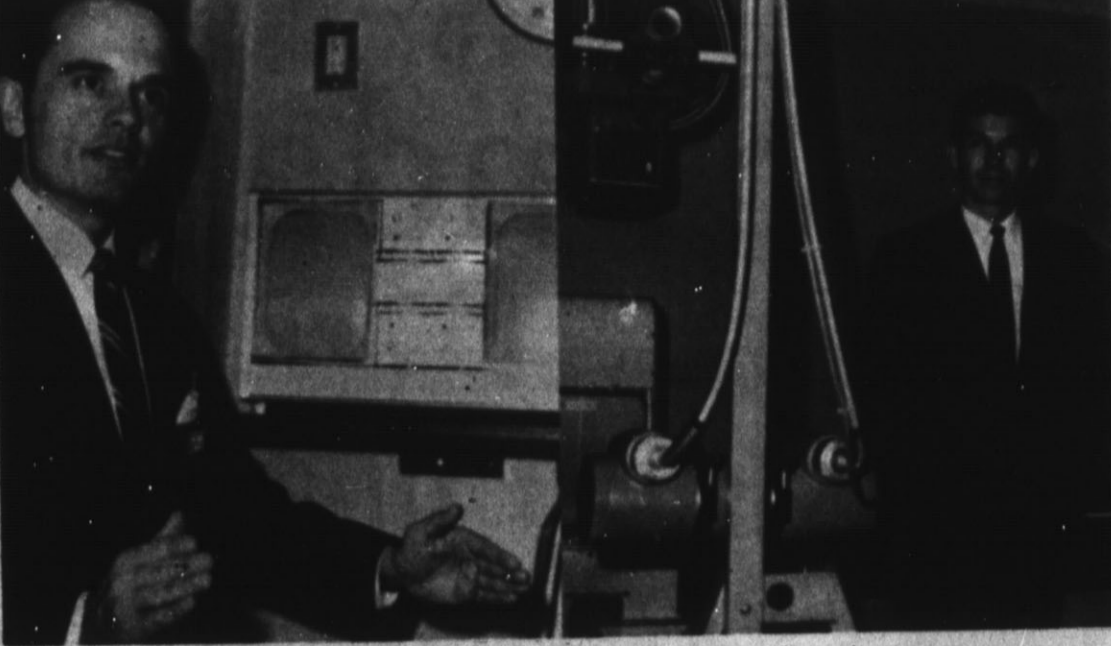

Clothing Shortcourse was given in a series of five lessons. Over 160 persons attended this; programs were on consumer buying and clothing construction as a method of supplementing family's resources. Other consumer buying programs were attended by 180 persons.

Packets of food preservation bulletins were given customers of supermarkets. Programs have been given on using locally produced food, food preservation, holiday meals, garden seed varieties and cooking tougher cuts of meats.

"Teaching persons finance is a step can improve financial welfare and enrich lives of Deaf Smith County" is a statement made by James Murphrey, PEP. A series of five letters on Consumer Economics, as recommended by PEP, were mailed to 175 young families.

The Deaf Smith County Program Building Committee met three times during 1967 in April, September and October. The executive committee met once each quarter on the second Wednesday of January, April, July and October. The April meeting has been for an overall review of the long-range plan of work, selection of areas of work, setting priorities and assigning committees for program execution. The fall meeting in October has been primarily for the hearing of committee reports, program evaluation and the election of officers.

The Executive Committee handles program building committee business between meetings. They have been responsible for most of the overall program planning and for implementation of programs of work selected by the County Program Building Committee. The Executive Committee has made sub-committee appointments and reorganized committees where necessary. In addition, the Ex-near the emergency entrance, is fully equipped for all types of surgery in each of six operating rooms. Space is reserved for two additional operating rooms as the hospital expands.

The recovery suite has space for 10 patients where nurses can keep a constant check on respiration, blood pressure and other vital signs as patients recover from anesthesia. Immediate care of the injured or suddenly ill is provided in four examination and treatment rooms in the Emergency Suite. Care is facilitated by a hydraulic patient lift which shields the patient from jolts or excessive motion.

Coronary, suspected coronary, seriously ill and injured patients are housed in two special third floor wings. A carefully devised floor plan will keep nurses within steps of their patients. Coronary patients will receive constant nursing, medical care and observation in four private patient rooms. They are equipped with monitors resuscitation units and emergency carts to provide emergency treatment the moment it is needed.

There are four private and eight two-patient rooms in the Intensive Care Unit. As patients progress and no longer require constant observation, they will be moved to the Special Care Unit.
Two floors will be devoted to the care of medical and surgical patients.

First floor labor and delivery rooms connect with the maternity and nursery wing by private elevator. There are three nurseries for 20 newborn babies, and ample space to expand the postpartum section from 14 to 40 beds. Patients recovering from gynecologic procedures will stay in the special third floor gynecologic wing.

Johnson pointed out that all planning was designed "for the immediate care of the patient" through time-saving locations of the various departments. A method of paging for nurses and other staff members was demonstrated, whereby each will carry a small radio receiving set in their pockets for contact from central points in the areas.

County Result Demonstration Handbook. Production guidelines covering twelve major agricultural enterprises were mailed to all producers in the County.
The Livestock Committee assisted in programs that re-certified the county as free of brucellosis and scabies. They held two educational meetings attended by 55 producers. Result demonstrations were conducted in calf weaning weights, grub control and Midland Bermuda grazing tests.

The program building committee is making steady progress in making plans and carrying out plans to meet needs in Deaf Smith County

Members of the J. M. Boone family were active in the First Baptist Church and many other phases of community life. They came to Hereford in 1906.

The wooden 2-story court house which served Deaf Smith County during the La Plata era also served as a community center, church - and at times a hotel.

Four out of every five acres of crops failed in 1934.

A County Vegetable Committee joined with the West Texas Vegetable Council and conducted the Vegetable Conference held in Hereford on January 17 and attended by 87 people.

The Crops Committee sponsored the "Water Use Day", a sugar beet and grain sorghum disease meetings and the Crops Tour which was attended by 286 farmers. Twelve result demonstrations based on proved research were conducted in the county and published in the Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.
These Are Your Questions

HOW LONG does it take to recover completely from an operation on the gall bladder, appendix or prostate?
Recovery from an illness or from surgery depends entirely on the individual. It is surprising to find that the elderly may sometimes recover far more rapidly than even the young, depending on their stamina and their emotional drive to get well.

I am always impressed by how rapidly young women, especially those who have young children, recover because of their anxiety to return home.
The age, general physical condition and the severity of the operation are all factors that enter into the length of convalescence. It is well-known that some people exploit their illness and remain emotional invalids for many months even though their bodies have returned to normal function.

Convalescence is shortened because patients are now encouraged to get out of beds within 24 to 48 hours after surgery. This method prevents some of the complications of surgery and acts as an incentive to a speedy return to full activity.

A week or 10 days after such surgery is the convalescent period for the operation itself. The weakness may persist for a number of weeks afterwards and must be catered to.

The return to a complete work program should not be hurried. Many people pretend that they are back to full activity only to find that they are performing only 50% of their capabilities. Don't rush your doctor into giving you the complete "go" signal.

Is there any reliable way to predict how tall a ten-year-old child will grow to be if he is shorter than most of the boys of his age?
There are tables of predictions by which endocrine specialists can speculate about the eventual size of a child. In order to use these tables accurately a complete endocrine survey is made. There is probably no more complex or difficult study than the hormone content of the blood and the urine.

When there is a known deficiency, treatment can begin and the rate of progress is used as an indication of what can be expected.
In normally growing children it is said that a boy of nine years of age and a girl of seven years of age have reached about three quarters of their expected adult height.

It is important to point out that the family pattern of height is a fair indication of the height a child will attain under ordinary health conditions and with good nutrition.
Parents of small children reflect their own anxiety when their child is one of the smallest in the class. It is likely that he will obtain normal height.

It is most important that he be made secure and happy and helped to adjust to his temporary height deficiency. When this is not done, he may grow to be "six feet tall," but be left with a feeling of inadequacy.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH-Be sure that that moving target is an animal and not your best friend during the hunting season.

It is important to point out that the family pattern of height is a fair indication of the height a child will attain under ordinary health conditions and with good nutrition.

Parents of small children reflect their own anxiety when their child is one of the smallest in the class. It is likely that he will obtain normal height.

It is most important that he be made secure and happy and helped to adjust to his temporary height deficiency. When this is not done, he may grow to be "six feet tall," but be left with a feeling of inadequacy.

Ron Durham family . . . Australia bound.

Missionary Family Calls Land-Down-Under Home

By TYLER VANCE
Staff Writer

Ron Durham, along with his wife Alma Faye and children, — former Hereford residents — will be leaving Monday enroute to Sidney, Australia.

Durham, now 36, is a missionary affiliated with the Church of Christ. He returned from Australia two years ago to get his STB degree from Abilene Christian college, and is now returning to take up where he left off. "We intend to establish a new congregation, along with a training program for Australian preachers and a Bible college," said Durham, who has been a minister for the past nine years. "We are looking forward to going back. Our older boys like the games such as cricket and other Australian sports. The people there are casual and friendly, and their customs are very similar to ours in the United States," said Durham. "The Australian people are beginning to feel as never before the need to be neither British or American, but Australian in their own right," the missionary added.

Of course, in missionary work there are sacrifices to be made. One of the things the family must give up is their dog, "Twinkle". "Twinkle was the first thing we bought when we got back two years ago," said Mrs. Durham. "If we wanted him with us in Australia, we would have to send him to a pound in England for four months before we could bring him into the country, so we are leaving him behind."

The Durhams, including Donald, 14, David, 11, Doug, 9, Dennis, 6, and Deleyna, 6 months, were guests of Mrs. Durham's family, the W. H. Knoxs' during their stay in Hereford, and were given a going away party at the home Wednesday evening.

The Durham family left Hereford in 1961 and have lived for the past two years in Abilene.

Numerous Thefts Are Reported

Tires, tools, batteries and a bicycle were stolen from Hereford residents during the past week, according to police department reports.

Max Bridges, Rt. 1 Hereford, had approximately $100 in tools taken from his car, parked at 201 Brevard, while they were lying on the back floorboard. It reportedly happened between 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Monday.

On Wednesday between 6:30 and 7 p. m. Jack Stovall, 510 Roosevelt, reported that his bicycle, valued at $45, had been stolen from his home.

On the same day, Charles Weems, 235 Ave. F, reported someone had taken a spare tire and wheel from his pickup, valued at $53.21.

Terry Hill, Rt. 1 Hereford, reported on Thursday that he had lost a spare tire from his 1968 El Camiro, which had been removed from inside the car behind the seat. Value was approximately $50.

Also on Thursday, Doyle Turner, 427 Ave. J, reported that within the past two or three days someone had stolen two 24-inch pipe wrenches from his pickup parked beside his house. The estimated value was $15.

On Friday, Tommy Provenge, 816 Blevins, reported two batteries were missing from a 1960 Ford and a 1958 Dodge, which he had parked in his backyard.

DPS To Discuss Severe Weather

AUSTIN — Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today that the Department's Division of Defense and Disaster Relief will hold a severe weather conference in Lubbock on March 7, 1968.

The conference, planned in cooperation with the West Texas-New Mexico Civil Defense Council, is scheduled to begin at 8:30 a.m. in the Lubbock City Council Chambers. It will conclude at approximately 2:30 p.m.

Thursday Wreck Injures Boy

A 3-year-old boy, Majin Garza Jr. was taken to the hospital following an accident Thursday between his mother's car, a 1960 Falcon, and a 1964 Chevrolet pickup, at Whittier and George at 6:15 p. m. However, injuries were not serious.

His mother, Barbara Fajarde Garza, 21, was driving south on Whittier as David Nicolas Aguirre, 32, was driving east on George. The right front of the Garza car struck the left front of the Aguirre auto at the intersection.

Damages to the Falcon was estimated at $250. The Chevy pickup received $100 damages.

Citations were issued for failure to yield right of way to vehicle on the right and for no drivers license, according to police reports.

Co., 205 S. 25 Mile Ave. According to Mrs. Minor's complaint, the break-in occurred between the afternoon of Sunday and 7:30 Monday morning. Mrs. Minor reported that she had come to her office at approximately 7:50 a. m. on Monday and discovered the glass in the north doorway of the building had been broken out. Inside she found her office door had been forced open, with the front panel of the middle drawer of her desk pried off, apparently with a large screwdriver.

In the statement to the police approximately $75 to $80 had been stolen from a small metal cash box, with several refund tickets to employees who had made prior company purchases with their own money.

It was indicated by Mrs. Minor that only the cash box was missing.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

Do I have to file a federal income tax return? Internal Revenue answers: Not if you made less than $600 — or less than $1200 if you are over 65 years of age. The good tax folks very quickly point out that if your wages were subject to withholding that you have already paid taxes on your earnings. You are entitled to get a refund of the taxes withheld but you must file to get a refund — the sooner the better.

Enrollment In Adult Education To End Tuesday

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE
FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — When Lieutenant Colonel Robert E. Lee left Texas for the last time, many considered him a traitor to the South.

Lee, who had been commanding Fort Mason in the hill country northwest of San Antonio, had been ordered to report to Washington. When he arrived in San Antonio on February 16, 1861, however, he learned that the commanding general of the Department of Texas already had surrendered U. S. troops to General Ben McCulloch and his Confederates.

When the San Antonio Committee of Public Safety asked Lee if he planned to join the Southern cause, he replied that he was an officer of the U. S. Army, that he was under orders and that he intended to obey them. To the Texans, this was tantamount to admitting that he was a traitor. Fortunately, however, friends helped Lee to leave Texas and return to Washington where he later resigned his commission in the U. S. Army and became the commanding general of the Confederacy.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS — Framers of the Texas Constitution believed that the state should always keep its debt at a manageable level. As a result, they included an article that prohibited the Legislature from ever creating a debt of more than $200,000 during any two-year period. "This restriction, like many others, has long since been removed by the more than 180 amendments that voters have made to the original constitution."

DEATH ROW — Although it hasn't been used for 68 years, a hangman's beam stands ready in the Austin County Jail at Belville. The steel beam has connections at two points for the rope to be attached.

LEGENDS THAT LIVE — After the McClesky No. 1 spudded in on October 21, 1917, and turned Ranger into a boom town, speculators tried to buy up the rights to drill everywhere in Eastland County.

One group, so legend says, even offered $100,000 to the Baptist Church at nearby Merriam for the right to drill on its cemetery. A nameless local poet preserved the church's answer in these words:

"All of oldtime knew the answer, when the chairman shook his head Pointing past the men of millions at the city of the dead. Why disturb the weary tenants in your narrow strip of sod? 'Tis not ours, but theirs — the title Fested by the will of God. We, the Board, have talked it over, pro and con without avail. We rejected your hundred thousand — Merriam is not for sale."

SHORT LINE — There's still one railroad in Texas where the round-trip fare is only 50 cents and children under five ride free.

It's the Moscow, Camden and San Augustine. It doesn't get to San Augustine, but it does operate over the seven miles between Moscow and Camden. It leaves Camden each weekday at 10:40 a. m., more or less, and takes a half hour for the run. After a layover in Moscow, the train returns.

Reviews that Sting

Tart reviews of movies, plays, books, and works of art have won many a chuckle from the reading public.
One reviewer was "underwhelmed" by a movie. Another said he saw a play under bad conditions: "the curtain was up." A third, having called an actor the worst he had ever seen, described his next performance as "not up to his usual standard."
But while readers chuckle, the person on the target end may be seething. If the criticism is really rough, may he collect damages for defamation of character?
He may—if the reviewer steps outside the legitimate bounds of criticism. The law frowns on attacks that are directed not at the work itself but at the character of the person who created it.

For example, an art critic was held liable for saying not only that a certain work of art was bad but also that the artist was a swindler.
But within his proper scope, the reviewer has enormous leeway. His honest opinion, however severe, is protected by the constitutional guarantees of free speech and free press.
Furthermore, the law recognizes that a critic may have to use pungent language to make his point. As one court put it, the critic may indulge in "all those delightful touches of style which go to make an article readable."
What about adverse comments outside the field of the arts? By and large, if it is a matter of legitimate public concern, the same broad freedom of opinion prevails.
This, courts have rejected the complaint of a public contractor, criticized for his workmanship; of a financier, criticized for promoting a new transit system; and of a football coach, criticized for his strategy.

True enough, such brickbats may be hard to bear. But the public is benefited. Not only is freedom upheld but also taste is fostered—by the encouragement of work that is good and the discouragement of work that is bad.
As for the hapless victim, he himself has invited criticism by submitting his work to the public in the first place.
"He should not be thin-skinned," commented one judge. "If the criticism so invited is not gentle."

IF YOUR LAWN IS CHOKING TO DEATH, power raking isn't enough!

Lawns which are fertilized regularly build a thatch layer over the roots that, left alone, will choke it to death. Power raking will remove part of this but will not open the soil. However, the Contour® G. P. M. power-slicing cutter will cut through the soil at the same time it power rakes, to open a path for water and nutrients to reach the roots. Only raking and slicing once or twice a year with the Contour® G. P. M. can keep your lawn from choking to death. Interchangeable Cyclo-Safe Cutter easily converts it to a lawn mower.

Income Tax Facts

DALLAS — Do you get a pension or an annuity? Pension and annuity payments received by residents of Texas during 1967 fall into one of these three classes for Federal income tax purposes: non-taxable, fully taxable, or partly taxable, the Internal Revenue Service said today.
Pensions that are tax-free and need not be reported on Federal returns, include Social Security payment, Railroad Retirement Act pensions, Veterans Administration pensions to veterans and their families — and disability (retirement pay of military personnel retired on disability resulting from active service.

Airman Known Here Is Cited

AMARILLO — Airman First Class Espiridon Leal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jose P. Leal of Edcouch, Tex., has been recognized for helping his unit earn the U. S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.
The airman, an aircraft mechanic in the 461st Bombardment Wing of the Strategic Air Command (SAC) at Amarillo AFB, will wear a distinctive service ribbon as a permanent decoration.
The unit was cited for achieving an exceptionally meritorious rating in making tangible contributions to the security of the free world and enhancing the efficiency and effectiveness of SAC's combat force.
"The commendable manner in which the wing maintained its alert posture was only surpassed by its outstanding proficiency and accomplishment in carrying out B-52 bombing raids in South Vietnam," the citation read.
Airman Leal is a graduate of Edcouch-Elsa High School. His wife, Sarita, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Granado of 800 Brevard, Hereford.

plan provided by his employer, without cost to the employee, are fully taxable.
If you purchased an annuity, or if you retired under a plan financed jointly by you and your employer, part of the payments received by you will be taxed. The computation of the taxable portion is based on a formula which permits the recovery of your cost tax-free.
If you contributed a part of the cost of your pension or annuity, and will recover your entire cost within three years after retirement, you report nothing as income until you recover your cost. After that, all amounts received are fully taxable.

FARMERS AND MARKETING

— Farmers like to shoot for numbers in marketing. The more people who eat their product the better. Numbers will always be important but W. E. Black, Extension marketing economist believes farmers should start paying more attention to the kind of people who eat what farmers produce. Eating habits change and demands for food soon reflect them, says the economist. Therefore, it's important for producers to know the kind of people who eat their products.

RESISTANT ROOTSTOCKS

— Home and commercial peach growers are advised by Jerral Johnson, Extension plant pathologist, that they can avoid trouble from root knot nematodes by planting only peach varieties which have been budded on root stock which is resistant to the insects. Local county agents can supply additional information.

FEED GRAINS PLENTIFUL

— Total utilization of feed grains

during the present marketing year is expected to be around 170 million tons, reports John McHane, Extension economist. Last year's near record crops will supply this amount and leave about 6 million tons to add to the carryover which should amount to about 43 million tons at the close of the 1967-68 marketing year.
FEDERAL CROP insurance in Texas — Some $25.6 million in Texas crop production expenses on more than 437,000 acres was protected by Federal Crop Insurance in 1967. An estimated $2.2 million was paid to Texas farmers to cover approximately 2,500 losses during the past year. A recent USDA announcement said the protection in 1968 would be available on irrigated cotton in Culberson County and on cotton and grain sorghum in Matagorda County and will bring the total Texas counties to 65 where the insurance is available. Grain sorghum insurance will also be available in Wharton and Fort Bend Counties.

An automobile accident Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at the intersection of Fourth and Witherspoon resulted in damages estimated at $125 to the two cars.
Betty Carney Koelzer, 424 Ave. J, was going west on Fourth Street Clayton Rex Lovelady of Amarillo was going north on Witherspoon, according to police reports, and struck the Koelzer vehicle.
The cars involved were a 1957 Ford and a 1968 Dodge.
A citation was issued for failure to yield right of way.

Postage Rates Are Different On Valentines

Postage for all valentines one ounce or lighter is six cents Postmaster Nolan Grady reminded mailers today.
The first class postage rate will provide jet flight service for valentines destined to servicemen in Vietnam and other overseas locations as well as airlift treatment for most domestic addresses more than 250 miles from the mailing point.
Legislation which went into effect January 7, eliminated the four-cent rate for greeting cards.
The expected high volume of cards in the mail just before February 14 will require extra help at postal installations all across the nation, Postmaster Grady reported. The local post office is expected to handle the extra volume without having to hire any additional employees at this time, he stated.

Concerning Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.
Q — Because I am being transferred, I must sell my G. I. loan financed home. I find it advantageous to let my G. I. loan be assumed by the purchaser. Is there any way I can be released from my liability to the Government on the G. I. loan?
A — Yes. You may be released from liability to the Veterans Administration if your G. I. loan is current, if the purchaser obligates himself by contract to assume all of the liabilities on your loan and satisfies the VA that he is an acceptable credit risk.

the beneficiaries, named by the insured. Responsibility for naming the correct beneficiary rests with the policyholder.
Q — Is a certificate of attendance needed each month for veterans who are training under Public Law 89-358, if the training is below the college level?
A — Yes. Payment may not be made to veterans in training below college level for any month until a certificate of attendance has been received.

Firm peeled pears may be used instead of apples for the favorite pudding called a "betty."

Three points prevented Coach Joe Paterno's Penn State football team from compiling an unbeaten 1967 season. The Lions lost by one point to Navy, by two to UCLA and tied Florida State.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — My son held down a full-time job before going into the Army last fall. I just got his W-2 statement. Does he have to file a return?

A — Yes, your son has to file a return if he meets the filing requirements. However, if he is stationed overseas, he has additional time to do it.

Taxpayers overseas have an automatic extension from April 15 to June 15 to file 1967 returns. If your son is in Vietnam, his return isn't due until 180 days after he leaves there.

Q — I understand there is a new rule on dependent children of divorced parents. What is it?

A — A new provision added to the tax laws last year provides that the parent who has custody of the children for the greater part of the year will usually be able to claim their dependency exemption. However, if the other parent contributes at least $600 during the year to the support of the child he or she, under certain circumstances, may be entitled to the exemption. There is also a special rule for a parent who does not have custody and furnishes more than $1,200 during the year.

The new rules only apply if the divorced or separated parents together provide more than half of the child's support and have custody for more than half the year.

Q — The tax form I got in the mail only shows my name on the label. Since I'm filing jointly with my wife this year should I use the label or not?

A — Use the label on the form you file but add your wife's first name and social security number to it. Write this in ink at the bottom of the label.

Q — I have a refund coming. Where should I send my return.

A — Send the return to your regional service center. An envelope addressed to the service center was included in the 1967 tax packages. If you don't have one of these envelopes, look on page 10 of the 1967 instruction booklet for the proper address.

Q — I'm in business and have a retirement plan for myself and my key workers. Is it true I can deduct more of my contributions to this plan now?

A — For 1968, the amount that may be deducted for contributions to a qualified self-employed retirement plan has been increased. A self-employed person can set aside up to 10 percent of his earned income with a maximum of $2,500 and deduct this amount on his tax return.

If you had a plan last year and are taking this deduction on your 1967 return then the previous limits on this deduction must be used. One-half of the allowable contribution to such a plan with a maximum deduction of $1,250 is allowable on 1967 returns.

Q — Do I have to put my wife's social security number on our joint return? Practically all of our income comes from my salary.

A — Her number is required if any of the following conditions are met:

1 — She had wages subject to withholding

2 — She had income subject to self-employment tax

3 — She had separate income from dividends or interest of $10 or more

If any of these conditions apply, a joint return without her social security number will hold up processing. You will then be contacted to obtain the missing information. This naturally delays processing and the issuance of any refund you have coming.

Q — What taxes can I deduct on my return?

A — State and local income, sales, gasoline, personal property, and real estate taxes are deductible?

Deductions are not allowed for: Federal taxes, drivers licenses, state and local taxes on alcoholic beverages, tobacco and certain miscellaneous taxes. Also, the cost of auto tags are deductible only to the extent it is based on the value of your car.

You will find further details on what is and is not deductible in the Form 1040 instruction booklet.

Q — Is an assessment for sewer or sidewalk construction deductible??

A — The law generally does not permit deductions for assessments for local benefits that tend to increase the value of the property. Capitalize the amount of assessment, however, and add it to the basis of your property.

Q — Can you exclude more than $100 in dividends from taxes if you file a joint return?

A — On joint returns, each taxpayer may exclude up to $100 in dividends received on stock he and she owns either jointly or individually. Therefore a maximum of $200 may be excluded in these circumstances.

Herd Lines

By Marshall Day

There was ease in Casey's manner as he stepped into his place.... This is the exact way to describe Darrell Royal and his easy-going manner. Royal, who slipped into Hereford last Tuesday in hopes of recruiting some prospective players for the freshman football team, at the University of Texas, can easily be described as "one of the gang".

Listening to his slow country drawl, you can hear him say things typical of his character, things such as a player with a hurt foot was, "grasshopping it around"; or "they massaged us at every spot" meaning he was beaten at running, passing and kicking; or like when the Longhorn lineup was changed last year due to several key injuries he was heard to say "They are selling a hell of a lot of programs because that's the only way you'll know who's out there."

Noted for his colorful football wording, this is the thing that makes Royal something that is just ordinary but in a special way.

Another time that he was heard to say something about his star player Chris Gilbert, Royal was commenting on the inability of Gilbert to handle punt returns. "He can't even catch his breath. We don't even let him field any punts in practice without his headgear on."

While he makes no attempt to be anything special, Royal has his own unique way of being just that. He is a warm and friendly person but, while not all of his statements are printable, he can take his place in any crowd and feel at home.

In the West Texas Chamber of Commerce's All West Texas Academic Football Team there were some five other players from district 1-AAA who received recognition to the coveted team other than Hereford's own Tony Malouf.

These others included four from Dumas and one from Muleshoe. Representing Dumas were Steve Burks, an end, with a 89.0 average; Ronnie McInturff, a tackle, with a 88.0 average; Mark Holt, a guard, with a 94.0 average; and Glenn Bonner, quarterback, with an average of 92.0; All of the Dumas representatives were placed on the offensive unit of the team.

Muleshoe was represented by Bobby Julian, a deep back, with an average of 91.4. He was named to the defensive unit.

For you basketball fans who don't know it yet, Perryton has just wrapped up the title after defeating Dumas Tuesday night by a score of 49-40, in Perryton.

The Rangers have a 17-2 seasonal record and are 9-0 in the overall district standings. The Rangers were unbeaten in the first half of district play and now a 4-0 mark in the second half of play.

Simmie Hill, the All-American candidate from West Texas University, who at one time owned an average of 26.8 points per game, is now ranked ninth in the nation scoring as of last week with a 28.3 points per game and a rebound average of 11.4. This average is just ahead of UCLA's Lew Alcindor.

Also, along with the sharp shooting of the West Texas basketballer is Dave Szymakowski who was chosen by the New Orleans Saints in the annual draft. Szymakowski, the slippery end from WT, broke all existing records last season as he caught 13 passes in one game for a new record of 219 yards to break a previous record he had set in 1965. Also on his list of records for last year and the year before are things such as ranking 11th in the nation as he had 59 receptions for 842 yards and six touchdowns, that broke the old record of receptions for one season as he hauled in 73 last year, and another record which was shattered by Szymakowski was the number of yard gained on receptions and the most number of touchdowns with 1,598 and 12 respectively.

All of these figures are now new season records.

This is mainly for you track fans...I'm sure you know of Jim Ryan, the 19-year-old University of Kansas sophomore who holds the current world record for the mile with a timing of 3:51.3. Well, he is the first American champ since Glenn Cunningham in 1937. But the main thing is that Ryan didn't make the track team in junior high school because he wasn't fast enough!

If you are an enthusiastic golf player, you had better beware of those new and dangerous weapons which are now active on the greens. Philnews, a paper which keeps up with the camitties of the sports world had this to report about the new device.

The Spanish detectives were standing over the body of a man named Juan Gonzales. "How was he shot?" inquired the first.

"I think eet was a golf gun," said the other.

"But what is a golf gun?"

"I don't know, but eet sure made a hole in Juan....."

Seasonal Plans For Giants Are Outlined By Managers

By MARSHALL DAY

In a luncheon at Rice's Dining Salon in Amarillo, Thursday, manager and field manager of the Amarillo Giants baseball organization, Chick O'Malley and Andy Gilbert, addressed the area news men and broadcasting networks and told of the purpose and plans for the upcoming season for the Giants.

O'Malley gave a detailed outline of the season schedule and the operation of the league. The league will consist of two divisions, Eastern and Western. The Western division will be comprised of San Antonio, El Paso, Albuquerque, and Amarillo, while the Eastern division will consist of Memphis, Arkansas, Shreveport, and Dallas.

At the seasons end, the winners of the two divisions will meet to determine the Texas League champion in a three out of five game series. Each team will play 140 games this year, 70 at home and 70 on the road. The annual Texas League All-Star game will be played August 12 against the Houston Astros at Turpin Stadium, home of the Dallas-Ft. Worth Spurs, in Arlington.

Andy Gilbert, who will begin his 16th year as manager, was the number one person at the luncheon and he used most of his time in getting acquainted with the persons present.

Gilbert will be starting his 32nd year in professional baseball, his 22nd year in the Giants organization, and his 16th year as manager.

He has managed at Springfield, Ohio; Muskogee, Okla.; Danville, Va.; Johnstown, Penn. Tacoma, of the Pacific League; and Waterbury, Conn.

Gilbert played all positions during his playing years, and had several shots with the Boston Red Sox, including the pennant winner in 1948.

There have been some 30 players who have made it to the major leagues after having played under Gilbert in the farm teams, and it was reported that, though they thought his going a little rough during the minor league, they feel that it was all worth it now and realize what he was doing.

The Wildcat cheerleaders, including Debra Holloway, Sharon White, Kerry Hall, Cindy Coleman and Cindy Brown, presented a gift to their sponsor, Junita Harrington.

Coach Harrington presented a silver basketball pin to each member of the team who had played all year. In presenting the pins, Harrington said, "This isn't a gift. These people have earned it." Those eighth graders receiving pins included Larry Roberts, Jimmy Monroe, Kent Jack, Roger and David Brown, Jo Don Weaver, Kenneth Bass, Jerry Odem, and manager John Torres. The girls were Debra Holloway and Cindy Coleman.

The cheerleaders also made another presentation Friday evening, in the form of a plaque to Coach Harrington. In receiving the plaque, Harrington said, "This will always have a place in my home."

Featured speaker at the event was high school coach Larry Wartes.

"We want to be as big a part of Amarillo and the surrounding area as we want them to be a part of us," O'Malley stated at the conclusion of the luncheon.

Malouf Is Sought By Texas Coach

Tony Malouf, senior at Hereford High who was contacted by Darrell Royal last Tuesday in hopes of obtaining him for use on the freshman football team at the University of Texas, left the Amarillo airport at 6:15 Saturday morning and flew to Austin where he was to meet Royal and his assistants to discuss the possibilities of attending UT on a football scholarship.

Malouf is to return sometime late this afternoon, but he has said that he will not make up his mind on which college or university he will attend for some time yet.

Royal, began his campaign for recruits last month but this portion of his recruiting began last Sunday, Feb. 4th. He has visited schools in Amarillo, White Deer, Ozona, Littlefield, Hereford and others around the area in hopes of finding players for next year's team.

Royal and his assistant visited Hereford for about three hours and talked to Malouf and made arrangements for his trip to Austin this weekend. In commenting about Malouf, Royal said, "We're looking for someone who can knock the tar out of you and I think we've finally found someone who will serve the purpose in Malouf."

After leaving Hereford, Royal and his assistant flew to Littlefield in hopes of recruiting someone there.

Walcott Banquet Is Held Friday

The annual Walcott sports banquet was held Friday night at the Cason House. Highlighting the event was the presentation of the "Hustling Wildcat" awards to Sharon-White and Kent Jack.

The annual award, presented by the Walcott cheerleaders, goes to the boy and girl who did the best job in basketball.

Coach Charles Harrington, speaking to group, noted, "We can say we are going to win half our games, because they have won 12 and lost 10. The boys have two games left to play. The boys have seemed to put together the games they needed. We put a couple of games together in our tournament, and won it. Then we went to Bushland and won that one, and won fourth place in Adrian and second in Farwell."

"This isn't a place to build a monument," continued Coach Harrington, "it is merely a stepping stone to greater things in the future. Walcott should be strong again next year. We will wind up basketball in two more weeks, but that isn't the end of athletics by any means. We secured enough property to put up a 440-yard dirt track. Present 3 is going to grade it off for us, so we can go right into the track program. After that we plan to take the boys into soccer, which will get them in shape for next year's program."

Coach Harrington presented a silver basketball pin to each member of the team who had played all year. In presenting the pins, Harrington said, "This isn't a gift. These people have earned it." Herd Averages Earlier Loss; Slaughter Mules 64-53

By MARSHALL DAY Staff Writer

Trailing in the contest at only one point, and that being by just one point, the Herd avenged the earlier loss to the Muleshoe Mules as they collected their third district win by a 64-53 tally.

The game started off with the visitors netting the first point of the game at the free throw line and that was the only time the Herd trailed. At first, the Mules and the Herd could not get the ball to do anything but roll around the rim and fall out.

Getting really fired up at the start of the game, the Whitefaces took a strong lead of eight points but the Mules failed to give up and closed the gap and got within one point of the home club before the Herd found the bucket and surged ahead 21-16 during the second period. Still not giving up, the visitors again closed the lead held by the Herd to 23-21 at half-time.

As the second half got underway, the Whiteface defense began to falter as the opposing club threatened, coming within four points in the third quarter. Finally the Herd defense found itself as they garnered bucket after bucket to stretch their lead to 30-39. Even though they were trailing by nine points, the Mules failed to come within one point again as the third stanza ended 41-40.

Causing all kinds of mental and physical mistakes, the Mules let the Whitefaces take a 10 point lead at one time during the final period.

As the crowd came alive during the last quarter, so did Coach Kitchens, who was up and jumping throughout the entire period. With the encouragement of the crowd—and the coach, the Whitefaces paced the period, taking shots only when they were available and keeping on the boards, to take a sweet 64-53 victory over the down-trodden Mules.

High pointer for the Herd was Bobby Burwick who burned the net for 22 points and David Kelley was not far behind him as he hopped the net for 17 points.

The B-team, having tasted defeat only once in district play, got their teeth into the Mules for the second time this season and nudged them out 61-57.

Trailing by 5 points until the final quarter, the thing which changed the outcome of the game was the fact that the locals hit for 27 of their 43 free throws while the visitors hit considerably less.

With two of their regular players absent with the band, Jim Rakestraw and Santry R.ush took on the scoring duties as they each collected 15 points. Scott Neville hit for 13 to get in the double figures, but Willie-Holmes took all scoring honors as he hit the net for 16 points.

The final game of the season will be played in Dumas next Tuesday, Feb. 13th.

Tour Of Asia Is Completed By USDA Representatives

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

Melvin Barton, a local grain sorghum producer, along with two Department of Agriculture representatives from Washington, D. C., an export representative representing all North American exporters, a soy bean producer from Indiana, and a corn producer from Missouri, toured Japan and Taiwan last month for the purpose of improving and looking over the grain sorghum, and other crop businesses in the two countries.

Barton, appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture, left Amarillo airport January 11th and flew to Washington, D. C. where he met the other members of the group on the 12th and discussed the trip with the Under-Secretary of Agriculture.

The group left Washington on the 13th and flew to Tokyo, Japan by way of Anchorage, Alaska and arrived in Japan on the 14th. The following day was spent on briefing the group and arranging the schedule for the following week. Also during the day the Americans met with members of trade groups and the Feed Grain Council, which is promoting the sale of grain in Japan.

With the population of Japan being 100 million people and it being the number one cash market for feed grain and soy bean sales, there is little room for farming in the country because the average farm is only 2 1/2 acres. With the raising of pigs, poultry, and dairy animals, Japan relies a great deal on the upkeep of these animals for their national income and so must import grain sorghums and other mixers for use in the feeding of their animals.

Japan, which did not know of the existence of grain sorghum until 1959, had a cash market of only 100,000 tons of grain sorghum in 1961 and to date they have had an increase of 2.2 million tons.

While the Japanese are like all businessmen and like to buy as cheap as they can, the United States is getting complications from closer countries such as Argentina, South Africa, and Mexico because the price for exporting the product is much cheaper than it is from the U.S.

In the use of soybeans, the Japanese not only use it for bran and mixed feeds, but also use it for human consumption. This is another product which is meeting competition from the closer countries, explained Barton.

Even though most of the Japanese wished to work with the U. S. in solving the problems, the complaints were numerous. These complaints involved things such as receiving corn with too high moisture content; corn that was broken from loading and unloading; the price was too high; and farm material and soybean prices were too high also.

After spending one week in Japan, the team left for Taipei, Taiwan on the 21st of January where they spent the time doing the same thing that they did in Japan.

With the island of Taiwan being only 290 miles long and 90 miles wide and having a population of about 13 million people, has an average farm of three acres and has a main crop of rice and sugar cane. While the price of sugar cane is slowly declining, the island is turning to the production of fruits and vegetables as their main crops.

Also with the increasing of the fruit and vegetables, the country is beginning to depend on the raising of pigs and poultry and Grain sorghum, Barton said, is practically unknown while they have been using corn in mixing. The countries need for advanced information on grain and corn use is being supplied by the Feed Grain Council which is making plans to open offices in Taipei to promote the use and need for grain and corn.

While Taiwan is mostly comprised of farming, the per cent is gradually decreasing but the equipment and utilities are now on the increase. The country is now producing 3.2 million hogs per year and that figure is expected to increase to 5 million in the next three years. This increase will also create a demand for the products the U. S. can produce.

With the construction of 70 U. S. companies opening businesses in the country, the people are becoming more and more pro-American in their views and seem to appreciate the help that is being given to them from the U. S.

After the group left Taiwan, Barton went to Hong Kong for one day with one of the other men, then proceeded on to Hawaii where he met his wife and they stayed there for four days.

In commenting about the trip, Barton said, "It was very educational and rewarding and I was grateful for having been able to make the trip."

Melvin Barton

This is increasing the need for the use of grain sorghum, soybean, and products of this type. This increase will create the demand and the U. S. is hoping to be the one to fulfill it.

Trick Archer To Present Program

Duke Gordon, nationally known archer, will make appearances at the Stanton and La Plata schools Monday.

Gordon will do his array of trick archery at the Stanton Junior High School at 12:40 Monday and then go on to the La Plata school at 2 p. m. where he will perform for the student body.

Gordon, who is from West Minister, Calif., has been all over the Panhandle of Texas and has made appearances in 40 different states. His performances have covered some 6,000 schools in the past 11 years in such places as Nevada, Arkansas, Texas, and California.

He has performed for various organizations all over the United States and has appeared at shopping centers, fairs, and things of that nature. He was at one time a television commentator in California for one year and he has made several movies. Also among his many achievements, he has made 21 Indian tribes, and was master of ceremonies of the first National Archery Tournament ever held.

Gordon is an ardent collector of bows and arrows and is noted to have a collection that goes back to the time of Christ. His trick shooting include such things as shooting eight arrows at once, displaying his skill with the crossbow, and shooting with his foot behind his head.

In commenting about the growing popularity of archery in the U. S., Gordon said, "There are over five million persons shooting the bow and arrow in the United States today, and in 1972, archery is to become an official sport in the Olympics."

District Garden Club Convention Plans Furthered

Final plans for Hereford Garden Club's duties as one of the hostess groups for the convention of District I, Texas Garden Clubs Inc., were made at a meeting Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Roy Botkin.

Mrs. Ray L. Johnson, club president, Mrs. R. L. Ethridge and Mrs. J. V. Pickens were named official delegates. Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. and Mrs. A. L. Manjeot are club members who will attend convention sessions as district-board members.

Hereford Garden Club and Bud to Blossom Club will be hosts for the district meeting here Feb. 26 and 27.

An office vacancy was filled by election of Mrs. Pickens as third vice president. Arrangements for a chartered bus trip to the state garden club convention in Corpus Christi March 26-28 were announced.

A major service project of this year, decoration of the County Bull Barn for the annual Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce banquet in January, was summarized by Mrs. W. C. Hromas, chairman. Mmes. Ethridge, James Brown and Tom Sawyer were on the committee with Mrs. Hromas, and other members worked.

Three hundred man-hours went into the project. The club gave a vote of thanks to committee members.

Mrs. Johnson reported that Junior Garden Club members had been given Dutch iris bulbs, taught how to plant them and also how to plant annuals in cartons for later transplanting to yards. The girls set Dutch iris bulbs in the yard of their leader, Mrs. Gene Brink.

Colored slides with taped comment on the 49th International Flower Show held in New York City, were presented by Mrs. Manjeot for the program. As club chairman of world gardening, Mrs. Manjeot spoke of that phase of work in the National Council of Garden Clubs. She also stressed the Council's emphasis on beautification of America by plantings in each yard.

Mrs. E. T. Hale gave the report from the National Gardener, with highlights of a recent National Council meeting and plans for the annual national convention at Biloxi, Miss. late in April. A tour of Mississippi gardens will follow, she said.

Mrs. R. L. Wilson, horticulture chairman, spoke of new varieties of fruit trees, shrubs, annuals and roses listed in the 1968 plant catalogs.

A flower arrangement of red carnations and Valentine symbols was on display. Valentine decorations appeared on dessert plates served after the program by Mrs. Botkin and the co-hostesses, Mrs. Pickens and Mrs. Jeff Roberson.

Also present were Mmes. Charles Dones, Glenn Boardman, A. O. Thompson, Luther Norvell, Viola Williams, S. S. Williams, A. M. Stoy, R. L. Layman, John Jacobsen Jr., Ben Childers and D. K. Brook.

round of visits with relatives here and at Amarillo before moving to Corpus Christi; also Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Kiser, formerly of this county and now living in Lexington, Okla.

The Sorrells, by the way, are getting settled in their new location, four miles west of town after a move cityward from on the Harrison Highway, Walcott. He has been repainting white trim on the grey house, and she is gradually getting the curtains up, she reports.

Casa de Amigos

By KEITH SCHROYER

The expression, "Pull themselves by their boot straps," is often voiced during the course of a conversation concerning how the poor can move out of poverty. The expression implies that those who do not move themselves up really do not deserve to be up at all because they are lazy.

However this philosophy makes two false assumptions. First it assumes that a hope for a better life is present. But, also it assumes that there exists the belief that a hope can become a reality. The fact is that these attitudes are not generally present among the poor. All too often we forget this and as a result misunderstand what poverty is all about.

This can be illustrated by looking at three young persons views of their future. They are Irene, Lupe and Elizandro Martinez, of the Crispin Martinez family.

Irene is 20 years old and has finished the 3rd grade. When asked what she would like to be she answered, a hair stylist. She has been styling her sisters hair for some time and really enjoys it. She feels that she could work as a hair stylist once she has learned all there is to know. And this is where the problem lies. Irene does not read or write and feels that she will never be able to learn to read and write. Without this, she could never go to school and learn. As a result she feels that she will never be a hair stylist.

Elizandro, 19, had a similar reaction to the question concerning his future. Several months ago while talking to Elizandro, he mentioned his desire to be an automobile mechanic. However, like Irene, he does not feel that he knows enough English to go to school and learn. Since that time, he entered the Neighborhood Youth Corp. He is presently working at the School Bus Barn while attending basic education classes and adult education classes in the area of automobile mechanics. In spite of this training, Elizandro still does not think he will ever be a mechanic. He is happy with the work and with school and is learning, however in his opinion this will not lead to a better way of life. Instead he will eventually find his living in the fields.

I believe that Elizandro's views in this regard will change to the point that he sees that he can learn and that this might lead to a better way of life. But, such a change in attitude will take time.

Lupe is 21 and represents another aspect of the problem. When asked what he would like to do, Lupe could give no answer. Several possibilities were suggested but to each one he answered, no. Either Lupe has never really thought about what he wanted to do, or he had thought about it and decided that these hopes would never become reality.

As a result, three young people who are about ready to make their own lives either do not have hope for a better life, or believe that what they do hope to be and do will have no effect on what they in fact will be.

It is very important to find the source of these attitudes and next week some possible causes will be discussed.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN

Women's Editor
Tomorrow is Lincoln's birthday, so quotations from his speeches will be recalled in print and in broadcasts. A good many years ago I remember reading that Lincoln was the most-quoted American, and more than likely he still holds that title.

MANY OF HIS remarks apply to politics — or statesmanship, but he said other things which apply to persons, and are worth remembering. One that was new to me was called to my attention this week by a friend:

"It is difficult to make a man miserable while he feels he is worthy of himself, and claims kinred to the great God who made him."

For something to think about, this is recommended not only to hippies but to ladies with mink coats who still feel sorry for themselves.

LAST SUMMER when I was exploring the far western reaches of this county and visiting homes 50 miles or so from town, part of the travel was on a county road into the Bridwell Ranch and down off the caprock where it breaks off into the Canadian River Valley.

That ride wasn't very far into the canyon country, but it whetted my appetite for more and recently there was an opportunity to satisfy it.

One of the pretty Sunday afternoons we've had lately was spent on a drive below the caprock, across numerous cattle-guards, through a gate that let us into New Mexico, and up a road just across the state line that took us to Highway 66 at Glenrio.

HEREFORD RESIDENTS who don't realize how many sections of land in this county are wide-open, never-been-plowed grassland, and those who suppose it is all flat country, should drive out northwest of Bootleg-Corner and on past the Wallcott School and then, past the Bippus Church. You don't really know the county until you've seen that big part of it.

As for the route down the Caprock, I could find it again, but couldn't tell anyone how to get there; there aren't any highway markers out there. You just go on west from Bippus, through a cattl guard where a bunch of the fine Bridwell Hereford yearlings were convened that Sunday afternoon, then another cattleguard or two, toward a windmill, off to the right.

Better find someone with better directions. And on yes, when I write about exploratory weekend trips and mention "we," the other half of the team is Atha McIver, the Brand bookkeeper who knows this part of the Panhandle better than I and also likes to go anyplace she hasn't been lately.

On the Sunday afternoon jaunt to Glenrio, she was driving and I was navigator, and she didn't have to back up and turn around but once.

VISITORS IN the Elton Sorrells home last weekend were her sister and brother-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. W. O. Sears of Lamesa, who were making a Married 55 years ago, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman celebrated the anniversary Friday afternoon when relatives and a few close friends were invited to their home on Highway 385 a mile south of Hereford.

T. L. Sparkmans Are Honorees

Children and grandchildren of the couple who live in this area were hosts for the informal tea.

The Sparkmans married Feb. 9, 1913 in Childress County, where both grew up. Their marriage was performed, as were many at that time, when the couple drove in a buggy to the home of the officiating minister and exchanged wedding vows while seated in the vehicle. A Baptist minister, the Rev. Mr. Osborn, conducted the service.

Mrs. Sparkman, born in Sidney, Ark., is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Springer and his parents were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sparkman, both families living near Childress for many years. His birthplace is Rio Vista, Johnson County. The couple moved to Castro County in November, 1917, coming to a home a mile east of Jumbo community center. Her brother, the late W. A. Springer, and Mrs. Springer came at the same time; all their possessions were moved in two covered wagons and a Model T Ford.

They farmed and raised cattle until their retirement Nov. 24 1954, when they moved to their present home.

Their children are T. L. Sparkman Jr. and Mrs. Owen Andrews; grandchildren are Clark Andrews, Joe Andrews, Glenn Andrews of Dumas, Mrs. Herbert Bruns, Mrs. George Zetsche, Tommy Sparkman, Mrs. Eugene Baldwin and Darlene Sparkman. There are 20 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Zetsche baked the anniversary cake for the party Friday, icing it in white decorated with wedding bells.

Mrs. Sparkman has four sisters, Mmes. A. T. Jones and D. B. Roberson of Hereford, Mrs. Lytle Johnson of Hale Center and Mrs. R. A. Gilliam of Merton, and two brothers, Earl Springer of Hereford and F. J. Springer of Kress. Sparkman's only living brother is Tolbert Sparkman of Electra.

Assistance With AFS Program Voted By Club

A cash contribution to the American Field Service program here was voted by Garden Beautiful Club at a recent meeting, in response to a request being made to women's clubs of the city to help support the AFS project of bringing foreign students to study in Hereford High School each year.

Mrs. B. E. Roberson and Mrs. Deward Roberson were hostesses to the gardeners in the former's home. Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr. gave the program on Care and Culture of Roses.

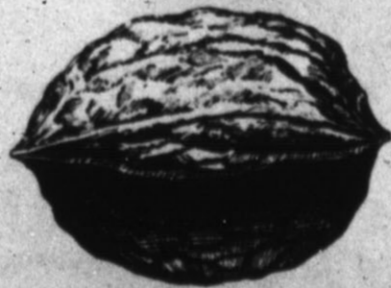

She spoke of her own experience in growing roses in this area and quoted authorities on rose culture in general. Year-round care of rose bushes was discussed.

Miss Holt Starts Teaching Career

Miss Virginia Sue Holt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Holt of Hereford, began teaching duties in Albuquerque public schools at the start of the new semester recently.

She is a member of the elementary school faculty there after receiving her B. S. degree at midterm from Texas Tech, Lubbock. Miss Holt, a graduate of Hereford High School, was an elementary education major specializing in history.

New York Show Supply Subject

An interest in the stage which was gratified while she was in New York last summer with attendance at a dozen evening plays, supplied Mrs. George Warner with material for an interesting report to Calliphan Study Club Thursday evening.

Mrs. D. C. McWhorter was hostess in her home. The program was one of a series with the subject expressed in the Spanish query, "Que Pasa?", or "What Is Happening."

Mrs. Warner reviewed the hit play, Fiddler on the Roof, which she said carries out the symbolism of its title, indicating the precarious position of man in the world. Other productions she saw were mentioned more briefly.

Broadway and off-Broadway shows were on her itinerary, musically, tragedy and comedy. She especially enjoyed a performance of Amelia Hernandez and the Mexican Folklore Ballet, a colorful, fast-moving and gay presentation at the Metropolitan Opera House.

She also saw Man of La Mancha, a dramatic study of the author of Don Quixote; the hit musical, Hello Dolly!; The Apple Tree, comprising three short plays; the comedy, I Do, I Do! and others.

Members were reminded that the next meeting date is changed from Feb. 23 when Hereford Community Concert Association will present the Texas Boys Choir in a program here, to Feb. 29, at that time Mr. and Mrs. Troyce Carmichael will show films made on a trip to Europe last year. The meeting will be in Mrs. Alton Fraser's home.

Estimated $100,000: Monthly County Social Security Benefits!

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

The last official report for Social Security payments for Deaf Smith County was $80,323 per month.

But Gerald W. Millard, field representative for the Social Security Administration out of Amarillo, estimates the total would be nearer $100,000 now, and it will be more shortly due to the recent changes that will enable older people and other beneficiaries who work to make more money and still draw some or all of their benefits under the new ruling.

But returning to the latest actual figures, covering all 24 of the Panhandle counties of Texas, Deaf Smith ranks number four in payment amounts. Potter (Amarillo) totals $825,800, Gray (Pampa) lists $239,205 and Hutchinson (Stinnett) has $193,006. It may be noted that Hutchinson County includes Borger. Nevertheless, Randall County does not equal Deaf Smith, although a third of its population is South Amarillo, which like Borger and Pampa, has a greater population.

Randall is one of the five counties served by Millard. He also serves Briscoe, Castro and Donley, and comes to Deaf Smith every Tuesday. He serves more people in Hereford.

On last count, Deaf Smith had 1,324 people receiving Social Security benefits. Old age represented 1,212 of them with 112 receiving disability benefits.

Retired workers represent 614, and 50 are disabled. Of the wives and husbands together the total is 194, of which 179 are old age and 15 are disabled. Children who are dependants of such beneficiaries are also covered. In fact, Deaf Smith has 299 that are — 252 through old age assistance and 47 through disability. Widows and widowers number 130, widowed mothers number 36 and parents number one.

"But these people have earned the right to receive these benefits," Millard pointed out. "They have worked and paid the social security amount for themselves."

He explained that the program is on the same basis as an insurance policy. The premiums are paid — the benefits are returned as per the covered need. Therefore, it is not actually a welfare operation, as such — no more so than similar policy plans of varying natures with the major insurance companies. The only difference seems to be, the benefits are directed through the federal government, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

And Social Security has been going on for some 30 years.

Millard said that the program is designed, first, to pay the people who are entitled to it and, second, to pay the cost of the program.

"And we spend very little of the people's money on the program — a little over two percent!" he said.

Millard doesn't even have a regular office for himself in the Deaf Smith County court house.

"I am not authorized to spend money for office space," he revealed. "Then, I am only here one day per week, and I can get office space on loan. It isn't hard to get, either — here or in the other counties. The county administrations are so glad to have a field representative in who can take care of the people that they willingly loan the space."

His office-loan space here is on the third floor, listed under Adult Probation. He also has a waiting room down the hall from it for his clients.

This provides the public in the outlying territories with the same service as Amarillo has — where he now lives. He takes claims from the clients and then takes the evidence to support their claims. He also makes employer contacts in regard to the Social Security taxes.

But Millard is not unknown in Deaf Smith County, long before his association with Social Security. His parents were among the early settlers of Hereford. Fred Millard came here in 1901. Nannie Mae Hughes arrived in 1902 and was a member of the first graduating class of Hereford High School.

Gerald Millard was born in Hereford and attended schools here. He served in the Navy during World War II and returned to this area to attend West Texas State College at Canyon, where he was a history and education major. He graduated there in 1951 and holds bachelor and masters degrees. Afterward he taught school at Amarillo Air Force Base for 6½ years. He is married and has two daughters.

Having been with the Social Security program nine years (seven years on his present assignment) it is part of his responsibility to conduct a public information program for his "company." He appears on KF DA-TV Channel 10 every Monday morning at 10:30. He also provides the newspapers with media information, which the Brand publishes regularly.

"We appreciate this," he said. "There are a lot of wide misconceptions about Social Security, and I especially like the opportunity to explain it to the people."

The Brand has presented articles during the past five Sundays explaining, probing and delving into the local, state and federal welfare programs. Included have been Vocational Rehabilitation, County Welfare, State Welfare, Child Welfare and Social Security. It has been our intention to create a better understanding between these departments and the people of Deaf Smith County. It is hoped that this series has succeeded in its attempts.

Moreover, each one has been a story concerning the people in charge of each of the programs here and with the people whom their services involve. It was intended as an accurate profile and not an expose. It is more than hoped that this portion has reached such a level.

It may have become a contrast between the "haves and the have nots." But the writer of each of these articles discovered that there was no real contrast between the two groups. It was discovered that each of the administrators in the programs are extremely dedicated to the job they had at hand — that of aiding those who needed aid. And it was also discovered there are those who need such aid that are most willing to work for it — and they are in the majority!

No one involved had any intention of wounding the pride of the others. To the contrary, it was learned, that giant steps are taken daily in an effort to preserve the pride of every recipient.

This reporter wishes to thank each individual who helped make this series possible — especially to those who paved the way for stories in other departments. It was suggested that the series would not be complete without stories on the local Red Cross, Salvation Army, the Ministerial Alliance and Casa de Amigos. These stories will follow in the near future.

However, this reporter did learn something of greater importance — to the foundation of human relations. From time to time, each of the welfare representatives are prone to receive criticism in regard to their department programs from various outsiders, they reported. And, in turn, there were those representatives who took us into their confidences by stated that they, too, did not approve of all the regulations they had

Cook of this city. The bride attended West Texas State University and Oklahoma State. Sports Appeal To Her

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Sports, almost any kind that she can take part in actively, appeal to Mrs. Rolland Wilcoxson, a slim blonde who just doesn't look like the athletic type.

She played on the girls basketball team at Comanche High School, where she also served as sports editor of the school paper. But her interest in more feminine pursuits was shown by her membership in Future Homemakers of America, a role she now plays with her husband and three children as co-stars.

The Wilcoxsons came to Hereford last October when he was made manager of the Furr Supermarket. They live at 512-B Ave. G and the older daughter, Teri, is a second grader in Hereford schools, Cathy is four years old and Mike a lively two.

Mrs. Wilcoxson is the former Betty Newhouse, who was born at Honey Grove but grew up in Comanche. Since their marriage the Wilcoxsons have lived mostly in the Panhandle, at Amarillo and Borger. The move here was from the latter city.

Their home was in Fayetteville, N. C., during his period of military service when he was stationed at Fort Bragg.

Betty Wilcoxson was employed in Fayetteville by a brokerage firm, and has also worked for Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Beene, stock exchange office at Amarillo.

She was employed as a teletype operator, but says "in a stock exchange office you learn to do nearly everything, and it's fascinating work". She also liked her taste of newspaper work in high school.

But she is too busy with her family just now to give too much thought to a career. For recreation she still likes active sports, especially bowling. Since they have moved to Hereford the Wilcoxsons have started square dancing and she finds that can be classed as an active enough sport.

She makes an exception of water sports, although they own a boat. She insists that she hasn't been able to learn water skiing, then smilingly admits that perhaps she is just water-shy, as she doesn't care for swimming either.

The family attends Greenwood Baptist Church. At Borger Mrs. Wilcoxson was a member of Beta Sigma Phi sorority and took part in its programs.

Smart People Are Admired

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Many persons have come to the office for water sample bottles. The Hereford Labs, Inc., 225 W. 4th, will analyze water samples. Call and discuss this with them. They make a charge for this service.

THE SAMPLE can be sent to a regional state public health laboratory. It can be mailed to Lubbock City-County Health Lab, Box 2348, Lubbock, Texas 79400. The samples should arrive in Lubbock the first of the week.

This analysis takes 2 to 4 days. Fill out the form that accompanies the bottle and also send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the results to be returned to you. Always be suspicious of the domestic water supply until it has been proved pure.

FIVE ALWAYS HAD great admiration for smart people and people who apply themselves. Our most sincere congratulations to David Nafzger, son of Mr. & Mrs. Bill Nafzger, who has made an excellent record again.

David, Junior at West Texas State, was one of 23 students with a perfect record for the fall semester. His grade point was 3.0 or straight A's, on all subjects. Since enrolling in the University, he has been on the honor roll every time and this is his second time to make all A's.

The Nafzgers are always good for an interesting story. David's sister, Danna, who is Mrs. Robert Woolsey, commutes with David to school.

As this is a cooperative project, the Woolsey children, ages seven and three, go to their grandparents early in the morning. Wayne catches the school bus and Carla, three, stays with her grandparents. To me, this is a very exciting family story.

THIS PAST WEEK we were invited to join a prominent professional organization. Being quite flattered, it was considered; however, a quick calculation. It shocked even me, that I belong to nine professional groups. It is difficult sometimes to decline some very worthwhile opportunities. But the practical side of things sometimes has to be considered.

ANOTHER THING I hate to miss is the Beautification Workshop of the Beautify Texas Council at Austin on February 18. The theme for the workshop is; Company's Comin' — Beauty Texas.

Is it new to call certain foods detergent food?

Cover and bake at 375 degrees until tender (45 to 60 minutes). Baste chicken occasionally with lemon-oil mixture. Uncover casserole for last 20 minutes to allow chicken to brown. Chicken may be kept covered for full baking time, then browned under broiler. Baste again with lemon-oil mixture before broiling. Sprinkle

AAA Honor Band Of Texas

STATE HONOR BAND for Class AAA high schools in 1967, Hereford High School's Whiteface Band is a fitting aggregation to exemplify the Parade of American Music Month here. Marching proudly and producing music of high quality, the band consistently wins sweepstakes awards in regional competition of Texas University Interscholastic League, enlivens grid games and school parades, presents classical and popular music in concerts. Members are returning today from Austin after playing by invitation for the Texas Music Educators Association convention. The following appraisal of the band was written by one of its All-State members for the magazine published by the music educators. February's Parade of American Music is sponsored here each year by the two Federated Music Clubs of Deaf Smith County, Music Study Club of Hereford and Dawn Music Club.

By CHRIS HUTCHERSON
First Chair Clarinet In The H.H.S. Band

Mr. Ben Gollehon has been director of the H.H.S. Band for the past eight years. Born in Dimmitt, Texas, he attended the Dimmitt schools where he was an exceptional singer and an outstanding instrumentalist. He received his Bachelor of Music Education Degree from West Texas State University in 1957 and directed band and choir in the Pampa Texas school system before coming to Hereford. Since then he has earned and maintained a most admirable record. He has become very much in demand as a band adjudicator and clinician, is very well-known and liked in the Panhandle area of Texas and was recently named to "Who's Who in Texas." All the kids in the band think Mr. Gollehon is a "great guy." He really knows how to communicate with us and we appreciate this. He loves and enjoys his work and makes it a pleasure to rehearse.

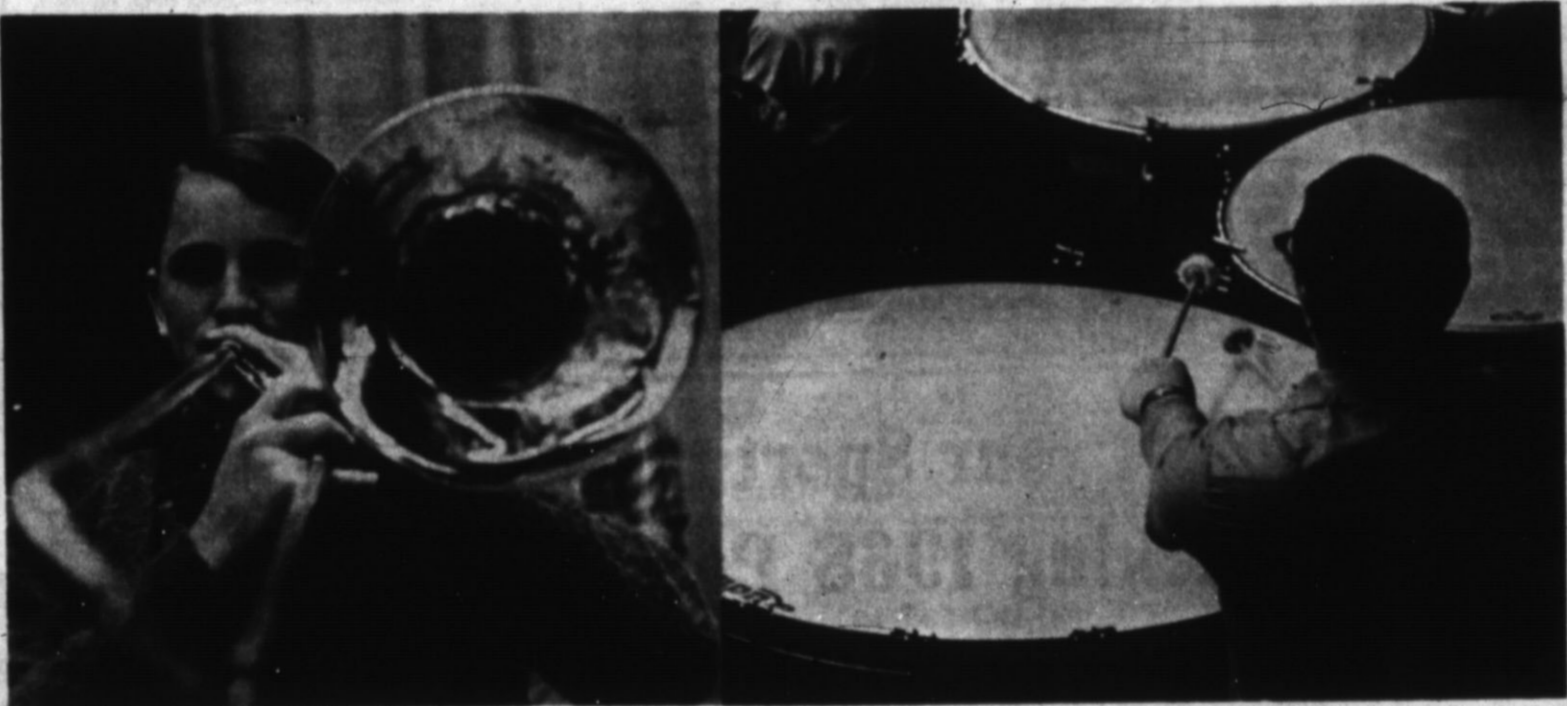

Marching is an important part of the band's activities each year. About two weeks before school starts we begin rehearsals. During these rehearsals, Mr. Gollehon passes out many marches. We sightread them and narrow them down to the ones we shall play. Consequently, when school starts we know the marches that we shall perform on the field and have them somewhat worked up. On the first day of school, Mr. Gollehon discusses with the band what our goals for the year are. The new students in the band usually sit in awe for a while; but after a while it all sinks in and everybody is ready to work. As you know, marching is the first step towards receiving a "Sweepstakes" award. From the first day of school until the day of marching contest we practice marching. We put emphasis on two things. A good sound is what we aim for first. Mr. Gollehon believes the difference between a good and a bad marching band is the sound that is produced. After the sound is there, we concentrate on marching. The last Tuesday in October each year we go to marching contest. Until this time everyone has waited in anticipation. A favorite phrase of the members is, "Oh boy, we start concert rehearsal tomorrow!" (The H.H.S. Band has made a 1 in marching for seven consecutive years.)

The majority of the students in the band think marching is all right; but we all love concert season. Every year following marching season we slack off somewhat for about a month. During this time we usually sightread different pieces of music and work up songs for the "Annual Christmas Concert." Also during this time many of us work on the pieces for All-Region Band. This year we placed 14 members in the Region Band; five of them on first chairs. For the last four years we have had at least two students representing us in the All-State Band.

After the Christmas holidays we really start to work again. The three works that we will prepare consist of a march, a piece from the AAA list, and usually a very difficult AAAA piece. We sightread them and begin preparing them for the U. I. L. Contest.

There are three factors behind the success of the H.H.S. Band. First is the instruction the students get in junior high school. Mr. Jim Priest and Mr. Lynn McLarty are the band directors in our two junior highs. The results they get from their efforts are exceptional. Stanton Junior High and La Plata Junior High are both recognized as two of the most outstanding junior high bands in the Texas Panhandle. Next is the methods used in teaching. Mr. Gollehon uses what he calls "team teaching." In "team teaching" the band splits up into three sections. Mr. Gollehon and Mr. McLarty work with the woodwinds and Mr. Priest works with the brass. This is usually the situation; but when a particular section of the band has trouble either Mr. Priest or Mr. McLarty will work with those people while Mr. Gollehon rehearses the rest of the band. The band works 50 minutes a day during class time and 2 hours every Thursday night. Mr. Gollehon, Mr. Priest, and Mr. McLarty work closely together and their combined efforts bring good results. The third and what I believe is the most important factor behind the success is Mr. Gollehon. This may seem some what like "hero worship" but it is a fact. Mr. Gollehon has the talent to bring out every bit of music possible from a band. He makes you want to work, and his hard work has really been the impetus for our band's success.

Early April is the time for U. I. L. Contest in concert and sightreading. We work very hard for this every year. Last year the band earned its fifth consecutive "Sweepstakes" award.

Every spring we also have many students who enter Solo and Ensemble Contest and the past few years many have made "Superior" ratings in this contest.

In May we have our Spring Concert. The proceeds from the concert are put towards paying for our "big trip of the year". At this concert the outstanding senior student in the band is given the John Phillip Sousa Award.

In 1963 the band went to Dallas to march in the Cotton Bowl Parade. This was the first time that the band had gone on a trip while under the direction of Mr. Gollehon. It started a tradition and since then the band has gone on a trip every year.

In 1964 we participated in the Tri-State Music Festival in Enid, Oklahoma. There the band won outstanding recognition in concert, sightreading, marching, and parade marching. This was the first time that the band had been in musical festival competition in many years and we were very pleased that we accomplished these ratings.

The trip taken in 1965 was to the Buccaneer Music Festival

Mr. And Mrs. Baum At Home After Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Hugh Baum are at home in Hereford after their recent marriage. Mrs. Baum is the former Miss Charlotte Ann Packard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Packard, Route 3, in whose home the ceremony was conducted by Gene Fooks, Central Church of Christ minister.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Baum, 233 Beach. Only members of the two families were present for the wedding.

Miss Cecilia Gay Packard attended her sister as maid of honor and Allen Bryan Curtis was best man. Her father gave the bride in marriage.

A fan of emerald leaves with white gladiolas, pompom mums and an accent of red carnation blossoms was arranged at a window as a background for the double ring ceremony.

Miss Packard wore a white knit A-line dress with standing collar, sleeveless. Her veil was a shoulder-length pouf of illusion gathered to a satin rose with triple petals and her bouquet a white orchid and carnations with two tiny red hearts.

It was carried on a Bible belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Charles Packard, and also carried by her mother as a bride. Another sentimental piece was the sixpence in her shoe, a gift from Baum's mother who brought it from her native Ireland.

The maid of honor was dressed in white knit, a yoked shift with roll collar, and had a red carnation corsage.

Close friends of the couple were invited for the wedding reception in the Packard home. Mrs. James Stallings, an aunt of the bride, poured punch while Mrs. Charles Packard served the wedding cake. It was in colonnade style, topped with bridal couple and cupid figurines.

Dan Lewis Is On Dean's List

For a short wedding trip, Mrs. Baum wore a full-length dotted navy coat over her bridal dress. She has attended Amarillo College after graduation last May from Hereford High School.

A student in West Texas State University and an employee of Boyd Machine Shop, the bridegroom is also an HHS graduate.

Out-of-town wedding guests were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark, and aunt, Mrs. Hal Bynum, with her family, from Muleshoe.

Dan C. Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Lewis, 722 Thunderbird, Apartment 4 in Hereford, has been placed on the Dean's List at the New Mexico Military Institute of Roswell, New Mexico, according to Major General Sam W. Agee, superintendent of the academy.

To be placed on the Dean's List, cadets must have an academic grade point average of 3.0 or better, based on a 4.0 maximum. For this past semester, 17.42 of the members of the Corps of Cadets achieved the Dean's List.

Lewis is a staff sergeant at NMMI.

Political Parties Have Changed Aims With Time

Time changes everything, they say, including politics. The word, "Republican", once a nasty name in this area, has come to be accepted by many people as a modern way of life. Where a few years ago, it was political suicide to appear on the G. O. P. ticket, Deaf Smith County is now represented in both the U. S. Senate and in the House of Representatives by a Republican. In addition, we have a candidate seeking the office of District Attorney on the Republican ticket, and we notice that Randall County lists candidates on the local slate, including county commissioner.

and conservatives. All of which recalls the days of Alexander Hamilton, Jefferson, Lincoln and finally Franklin D. Roosevelt, who is truly the "daddy" of today's ultra-liberal movement. People in general are better educated than ever before and, thanks to communications improvements, they are far better informed on local, state national and international levels. This, too, has doubtless contributed to the political dilemma of the nation. Many people, it seems to us, cannot decide exactly what they are when it comes to party affiliation, which is another way of saying "Independent". It is also an indication that the modern American is still taking his politics seriously — and this was the original attribute which basically made our nation strong and powerful.

Cocanougher Is Applauded

Many people today have adopted the terms, "Liberal" and "Conservative" in place of the former party labels. Still others declare that neither of the two national parties is conservative enough — with both far more to the left than was the Socialist party of the 1930's.

Recent recognition of R. L. Cocanougher by the Texas Hereford Association for his contributions to the purebred cattle industry comes to his many friends as a well earned award.

Known throughout the United States to his friends as "Lee", Mr. Cocanougher's cattle have come to be accepted as a hallmark of quality in fine Hereford-Breeding. Along with several other pioneer Hereford breeders in the area, he has contributed tremendously to the national and international reputation which this sections enjoys in the production of fine cattle. In addition, as his friends will quickly attest, "it couldn't have happened to a nicer fellow."

Mr. Cocanougher, in addition to his numerous endeavors and responsibilities, has always found time to help in other community activities. Like most of the other cattle breeders in this area, he envisioned tremendous potential and future growth for Deaf Smith County, and we feel sure that he is highly pleased to have seen some of these early day dreams realized. Consequently, The Brand would like to join in recognizing his accomplishments. We doubt if the community will ever have any more conscientious and devoted citizen than he has been, but we do hope that the future will bring us others who equally as capable and forthright in their endeavors.

Not Enough Water

One of the scientific rules that we seem to remember from our earlier education period is that it is impossible to destroy water. Water changes form, from water to steam to ice to rain to snow, etc., but there is just as much water in the world now as there ever has been.

We suppose this is still true. But there are a lot more people to use water for drinking, bathing, irrigating, flushing toilets, making industrial products, etc., until there is a growing concern throughout the world over water supplies.

Here in our own Panhandle and South Plains a group has formed Water, Inc., to work toward bringing river water across several states into our area for domestic, agricultural and municipal uses.

Water is just about the most precious commodity that we have here on earth. The necessities of life are not oil, gold, diamonds and the like. Water ranks at the head of the list, right behind air.

Water has always been cheap and often is free. But as it becomes more scarce, the price is bound to go up. Lack of water forces people to move where there is water. The dropping water table on the South Plains has caused people to get alarmed about their income and way of life.

Scientists say there may be water on the moon. We don't count much on that. What we need to do is conserve what we have here on earth.

The Sunday Herald, Perryton.

Citizens Earn Pat On Back

Deaf Smith county residents merit a vote of recognition in the establishment of an unheard of voting registration. At the same time, they also have office seekers a bit jittery trying to figure out the "cause and effects" for the tremendous surge.

In 1966, the last non-presidential election year, the poll tax count was 3217, but 1967, the first year without poll tax, a new record was set with 3800. This year, the registrations jumped to above 6500, an increase of 2700 which is well beyond 50 percent increase over last year's record.

Some of the questions which are arising are: "Did the previous $1.75 poll tax charge make this much difference?" "Has some group organized in a drive to blanket the area with a 'take-over' vote?" "Can it be that people are so unhappy in general that they have finally decided to do something about it?"

Frankly, we cannot see even a combination of these questions proving an answer to the sudden local increase, which definitely cannot be attributed to population increase and "older age" registration. At the same time, the new record registration is a true achievement.

Retirement Of Gen. Hershey Long Overdue, Writer Says

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — "Mr. Selective Service," Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, is a real patriot who has served this nation well for an over-long period. Having said that, it must be added that his retirement is long overdue.

Gen. Hershey is 74 years old and has operated the draft system through three wars. He has an impossible job; administering a law that is grossly unfair and probably could not be otherwise. His longevity is a testimonial not only to his own toughness but to the difficulty of finding a replacement.

Nevertheless, ours is a government of laws, not men. Nobody is irreplaceable. At some point, somebody else is going to have to run the conscription apparatus. It had better be today than tomorrow. Long since retired by the Army, his departure from government service should be arranged by President Johnson.

Gen. Hershey should be retired not because he is the hated symbol of all the deficiencies of our draft system but because he has become a liability to the Federal government. He has outlived his usefulness. Surely the President could find somebody else who could do a better job in meeting the military manpower needs of the nation.

Civilian Suggested for Post

The job of Director of the Selective Service System is to supervise a cumbersome apparatus with roots in every local community, whose mission it is to choose a minority of young males who will be required to sacrifice at least two years of their youth, and perhaps their life, in the national interest.

There is no particular reason why a military man should run the draft. Indeed, it might be a good idea to assign the thankless post to a civilian, particularly if one could be found whose fair-mindedness is beyond question. Possibly the job should go to a judge, or at least somebody with a judicial temperament.

In these trying times, when an unpopular war must be waged it is an unnecessary handicap to have the Selective Service System administered by an ex-soldier whose sympathies are entirely with the military establishment and not with the civilians who do much of the fighting and dying.

It would be hard to imagine a personality less likely to understand modern youth's rebellion against today's society than Lewis B. Hershey. His directives to local boards clearly indicate his single-minded goal, to provide manpower for the military come what may.

Hershey Has Defied President

In the recent past, Hershey has gone so far as to defy the President of the United States. Up to now he has gotten away with it, despite screams of protest in and out of Congress. It is hard for outsiders to understand why President Johnson has allowed this situation to continue, unless possibly he approves of Hershey's actions.

Last fall Hershey decided to punish draft protesters by expediting their entry into military service. Nobody loves a draft-dodger, but this was too much for the public to swallow, be they hawks or doves on the Vietnam issue. The White House was forced to intervene.

The result was a joint statement by the Attorney General and Hershey, which seemed to say the draft act would not be used to punish the young punks who burned their draft cards or otherwise registered their protest against a war they oppose. The ink was hardly dry on the pact when Hershey gave it his own interpretation, saying nothing had been changed.

At that point, Lyndon Johnson should have fired Hershey for insubordination. But no action was taken and the whole matter was swept under the rug. There it still remains, months later. See MAIN STREET Page 5

50 YEARS AGO

Another new business concern has been launched in Hereford. The firm name will be Scott and Mayhall Grain, Feed, Hides and Coal. The new firm has secured the old Fullwood building at the foot of Main Street across from the freight depot. Reid B. Scott, the senior partner, recently moved to Hereford from Childress and purchased the home of A. S. Fugua. Mr. Mayhill, up to January 1, was manager of the Panhandle Elevator Company and is well-known locally.

Owing to a steady increase in business The Brand is forced to go to a ten page paper with this issue. We are willing to print a 12-page sheet, if the merchants will support us with their advertising.

Dr. L. L. Jones and Charles Donald are back from a trip to Kansas. Mr. Donald picked up a bad cold enroute and was forced to return home ahead of schedule. While away Dr. Jones purchased several parcels of land in Kansas, carrying leases with them, thereby acquiring control of something like 1,900 20 sections. It is understood that Dr. Jones will immediately begin the development of his new holdings.

25 YEARS AGO

The housing survey, conducted last week by the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, revealed conclusively that the only relief for Hereford's acute housing shortage would be in the government sponsored housing program or in the release of critical materials so that persons now renting homes and apartments could build their own homes.

William F. Fontaine, son of Mrs. Jewel Murphy, Rt. 4, Hereford, was reported this week by the War Department as a prisoner of war by the Japanese. Sergeant Fontaine is held as a prisoner in the Philippines, according to the brief War Department notice.

A Southwestern writer and an artist. It is very likely that future generations will select the, unacceptable to the president, Lyndon Johnson portrait by Peter Hurd just as we now accept the unfinished portrait of George Washington. Why? Because Peter Hurd is no amateur, and his ability and prestige are growing. A fine author, Paul Horgan, has written a splendid book about the artist, Peter Hurd, A Portrait Sketch from Life. It is now in its third edition. Horgan is probably better fitted than most to write of Hurd because of their long friendship. It began when the two attended school together at New Mexico Military Institute of Roswell years ago. Horgan also has a large collection of the artist's works including sketches, water colors and oils. He has assembled them through the year.

He assures us that Hurd is a well educated man and a sophisticated one. He studied art in the east and spent much time under the famous N. C. Wyeth and lived with the family for some time. Later Hurd married Wyeth's artist daughter, Henriette. While studying under Wyeth he worked hard and served as his teacher's faithful aide. Wyeth's son, Andrew, is now famous in his own right as an artist.

For many years Peter Hurd and his family have lived in New Mexico. He chose to return from the east to the land of his birth. It was after his return that he developed a painting technique which was accepted and adopted by his former instructor, his wife and her brother, Andrew. New Mexico scenes and its people are the artist's first choice and most loved subjects. Because of this, his ranch and ranch-home, and his mode of dress have given him the title of "Cowboy Artist". But, says Horgan, he is much more than this, he is fitted to do commissions, such as the beautiful murals at Lubbock Tech and those in other cities, magazine covers, and even the president's portrait.

The artist has many facets which keep him from being a simple man, though he chooses this kind of life. He is not a conformist which he proves by the way he lives and dresses. Those who know him realize his depth, his complexities as a person, and his ability to paint into a picture a quality over and beyond the scene or portrait itself.

 The suspicion is that the President did not wish to offend a few powerful friends of Hershey who hold key positions in Congress. With all due deference to the patriotism and past contributions of "Mr. Selective Service," a new draft boss should be named.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frye flew to San Antonio last weekend on business connected with Hereford Airport. They are checking into the possibility of a charter trip service from the airport to San Antonio during the Hemisfair.

Accompanying the Fryes were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gunther, who visited friends there; Lee Kent who visited his daughter, Connie formerly a student at Trinity University and now teaching in San Antonio school system; and Candace Hill, who visited her sister, Charlotte, who is in college at San Marcos.

Mrs. H. M. Mobley and Austin Mobley are visiting the Ray-Mobleys at Farmington, N. M., this week. . . . Among those who came the first of the week for the funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Walker Parris' baby son were Mr. and Mrs. Dono Day, Mrs. Parris' parents of Abilene and her sister, Cheryl a student nurse at Baylor hospital Dallas. Mrs. Day remained a few days with the Parris. Also here Monday for the service were Mrs. and Mrs. Joe Shultz and baby of Melrose.

Mrs. B. H. Baldwin returned home Wednesday night from a week's stay with the Darold Baldwins at Brownfield, helping care for their new son. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Baldwin went for her.

Tea For Servicemen's "Sweethearts" Planned

A "Salute to Sweethearts" of men in military service and ex-servicemen, a Valentine tea will be given in the American Legion Hall beginning at 3 p.m.

King in Amarillo Tuesday.

The E. F. Voglers had a family gathering at their home Sunday in honor of a niece, Mrs. Herbert Heretz, Mr. Heretz and their three children, of South Bend, Ind.; who were visiting here a few days. Others who came Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Drager, Carlisbad; Mr. and Mrs. John Drager and Samuel of Friona; Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Drager, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vogler and son, Westway; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jesko, Muleshoe; the F. S. Dragers and Delbert, the David Dragers, the Rev. Herman Schelter, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran church, Hereford, and Mrs. Schelter.

Wednesday, Valentine Day, with Legion Auxiliary members as hostesses.

All wives, mothers and sisters of men now in the U. S. armed forces and those who have served, are invited to the tea. Mrs. Grant Hanna, Auxiliary president, announces.

The entertainment for these "sweethearts" of servicemen is planned to show the Auxiliary's appreciation to the men and concern for their families at home, she emphasized.

Mrs. Ira Ott and Mrs. Cecil Wilkins are on the committee for general arrangements. Mrs. Bill Gilleland heads the refreshment committee, Mrs. J. E. Young and Mrs. J. D. Love the serving committee.

Final tea plans were made at the Auxiliary meeting this week, when initiation was held for two new members, Mrs. H. V. Crawford and Mrs. Helen M. Hill. Mrs. Sam Williams of Friona, district president, conducted the initiation, assisted by Mmes. Hanna, R. E. Drager, Love, Gilleland and Ott.

Sgt. W. E. Wells of the local Department of Public Safety office was guest speaker on Civil Defense.

Announcement was made of dates for the spring district convention to be held in Childress April 27 and 28. Mrs. Gilleland and Mrs. J. G. Gandy reported on child welfare work, including Christmas gifts to Girlstown USA; members voted to send Valentine gifts to Girlstown.

Mmes. Hazel Sparks, Lester Wagner and Mabel Wagner were named on a committee to assist the Junior Auxiliary in a project of sending layettes to a hospital in Malaysia. Auxiliary members agreed to serve again as hostesses at Deaf Smith County Museum for a period next fall.

High School Band...

in Corpus Christi. We received a "Superior" rating for our concert performance. We were all delighted at this rating because of the many fine bands in competition.

Highlighting 1966 was a trip to Dallas to compete in the Six Flags Over Texas Music Festival. Our main piece was the "Finale From the Fifth Symphony" by Dimitri Shostakovich. The competition was stiff but we received the award for the "Outstanding Concert Band" in class AAA. We were all overjoyed at this. The next day the band went to Six Flags Over Texas. It was a great ending to a fun trip.

Last year our band was able to return to the Buccaneer Music Festival. We went with two things in mind: to be the "Outstanding Concert Band" and to have as much fun as possible. We succeeded in both endeavors. It was a delightful trip.

This year we were chosen as the AAA TMEA Honor Band. This was the band's goal last year. We are all extremely proud of this accomplishment and have been working very hard so that we may present a concert fitting of this honor.

ARE YOU SURE YOU KNOW HOW TO GET THERE?

CERTAINLY I'M SURE -

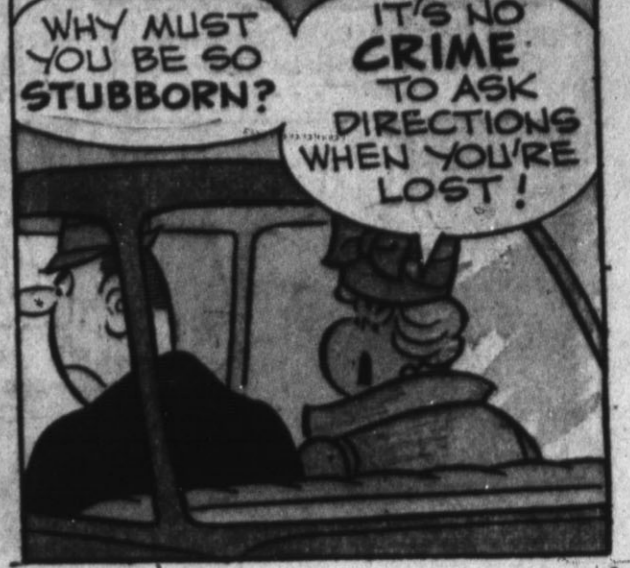

MAYBE YOU'D BETTER STOP AND ASK SOMEBODY FOR DIRECTIONS -

I DON'T HAVE TO ASK ANYBODY - I KNOW WHERE WE'RE GOING!

THAT'S WHAT YOU ALWAYS SAY - AND WE STILL GET LOST -

WHY MUST YOU BE SO STUBBORN?

IT'S NO CRIME TO ASK DIRECTIONS WHEN YOU'RE LOST!

WE ARE LOST - AREN'T WE?

WHY DON'T YOU ADMIT IT? WE'RE LOST!

FOR PETE'S SAKE, EMILY! STOP CARRYING ON LIKE THAT -

WE'RE NOT EVEN OUT OF OUR OWN DRIVEWAY YET !!

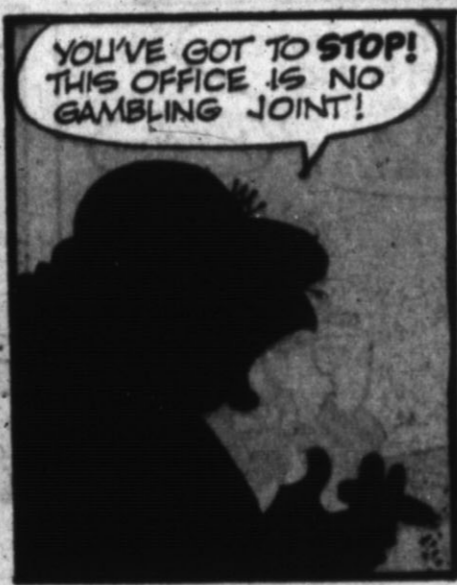

WELL - A GIRL HAS TO GET IN A LITTLE PRACTICE -
