

"Just Plain" Hugh Clearman Is "Good Influence"

BY EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

"I believe that the influence in any community—good or bad—depends upon the adults in that community. If there is something wrong with the children, I don't feel they are to be blamed. Adults should try to be good influences upon them. If they cannot, they are to blame for the wrongs that are committed by the children."

That is the opinion of Hugh L. Clearman, president of WAC Seed Inc., and a person who is active in the interests of Hereford in various fields.

However, while Clearman obviously believes in the daily practice of his opinion (which is substantiated by many people who know him, not only here but throughout the state), it is doubted that he pictures himself as any kind of an influence. To himself he is no doubt "just plain Hugh Clearman."

He can point out—truthfully—that there are many men in Hereford who can be classed as "good influences," in view of the fact that Hereford's youth problems are at a minimum when compared to the vast majority of cities and towns throughout the world at this moment.

who know Hugh Clearman, he is definitely in the "good influence" classification too.

And he is "just plain Hugh Clearman." Hugh Lee Clearman was born in a log cabin north of Kokomo in Eastland County, down in the west central Texas region. The date was August 27, 1910. But his residence didn't last very long at the log cabin. His parents took him to nearby Gorman. But his father died when he was six years old, and the family moved to Lamesa when he was 14.

"It was in the Dust Bowl days," Clearman said. He graduated from Lamesa High School in 1930. Later, he went to Texas A & M.

"I was in the class of 1938," he said, "but because I dropped out at times, I didn't finish there until mid-term 1940."

Before he was graduated he was offered a job with the United States Department of Agriculture, in the grasshopper and cricket control program. "It was a seasonal thing and I took it again the following year. That was the reason I didn't finish at A & M when I should have. And this is how I got acquainted with the Texas Panhandle—working around here with this program."

Clearman's having been previously employed for general farm work, and as a student laborer at the Texas A & M College Dairy Farm, followed by more work through the Department of Entomology, which consisted of making observations and taking notes in connection with pecan insect control, and later in the same connection with cotton insect investigation, it is easy to see that his interests were centered upon agriculture advancement, following the Great Depression.

He rose to state supervisor in the grasshopper control campaign in April 1938, in charge of all work in counties of the Texas South Plains and in the south part of the Panhandle.

Clearman first came to Hereford in February 1940 as assistant county agriculture agent. "I was assistant county agent here for about a year. Then I went to Lipscomb County, as county agent for about a year."

As assistant county agent, his duties included 4-H Club work, aiding farmers in insect control, terracing, irrigating, the selection and feeding of livestock, etc. As agent, all of the assistant's duties were added plus that of organizing farmers and businessmen for work in connection with the war effort.

From there he joined the U.S. Navy. It was during World War II:

5 August, 1947.

He had received orders for overseas duty in Japan, but the war ended before he could be shipped out.

Clearman got out of the Navy. "There was an opening as county agent for Deaf Smith County and I took it." It lasted for almost 12 years — from February 1946 through 1957.

"Then I came with WAC Seed."

"Certificate of Distinguished Service awarded to Hugh L. Clearman for Long and Efficient Service to the Agricultural Industry by The National Association of County Agricultural Agents, 1953. L. J. Kerr, president; Paul B. Barger, secretary."

(Seal) He had been associated with the Hereford Breeders Association; vice-president of the Hereford Foundation, was instrumental in the organization of the Hereford Junior Livestock and Poultry Show, and the county seed growers association. Hugh Clearman was also chairman for the Deaf Smith County Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP).

WAC Seed was organized in the latter part of 1957 and began operation in 1958. Besides Clearman, the four other men "who are in the seed business" (See CLEARMAN, Page 2)

Mrs. Wayne Thomas Is Elected President Of Concert Group

The Hereford Community Concert Association elected Mrs. Wayne Thomas as its president Thursday night for the coming year.

Mrs. Thomas succeeds Dale Young, who has served as the association's president for its first term of operation.

Other officers elected were Bill Devers, vice-president; Mrs. Tom Burdett, secretary; and Jeff Carlile, treasurer.

Young reported that the association's drive chairman and publicity chairman will become second and third vice-president. They will be elected later.

The directors who have been elected to serve are Mrs. Ed Line, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Lynton Allred, and Genevieve Guseman for full two-year terms.

Those who still have a year remaining are Dr. Milton C. Adams, Bill Thompson, Mrs. Joe Reinauer, Ben Gollehon, Charles Bell and Mrs. Wheeler Sears (who has been elected to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Bill Dameron.)

It was reported that the concert association was well pleased with their first season, which included Hereford appearances of pianist Peter Nero, organist Richard Leibert and the Texas Boys Choir.

Young reported that Elizabeth Taylor, with Community Concerts, would arrive in Hereford sometime this week. She will visit with the officers and directors in a preparatory meeting for the fall membership campaign.

Sears Is Named Committee Head

Henry Sears, president of the First National Bank in Hereford, has been named by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce as chairman of their agriculture committee.

Officers of the WTCC announced the committee chairman for 1968-69 at a meeting held in Abilene Friday. Sears will serve until the next annual convention, to be held in May 1969 at Brownwood.

President Beverly King, a Graham banker and rancher, and the other officers were high in their praise of the men who have accepted the positions of leadership.

King said, "We honestly think that we have the strongest leadership possible in every facet of our program of work. Details of the program will be revealed in a few days. These committee chairmen will provide the dynamic leadership needed in their particular fields of endeavor."

Other committee chairmen were named for community development, Blue Ribbon City, cultural affairs, education, industrial development, information, national affairs, parks, state affairs, tourist and travel, water and women's activities.

Feed Lot Tour Held Saturday

Eleven livestock farmers, feed manufacturers and agricultural editors from the United Kingdom were scheduled to make a tour of feedyards in Hereford Saturday afternoon.

They are in the United States to study the grain sorghum and livestock industry from May 24 through the 29th.

Bill Nelson, executive vice-president of GSPA, said that this is an important group to have in the area, in that the United Kingdom continues to be one of the large users of United States grain sorghum in their own livestock and poultry feeds despite a 10 per cent import duty, which makes grain sorghum generally higher than corn in the British feed market.

Nelson indicated that while in the area the group would visit typical commercial feedyards for both cattle and sheep, slaughtering plants, irrigation farms, country and terminal grain elevators, public and private research stations and grain exchanges, as well as be guests of the Lubbock Agricultural Club at their regular monthly meeting on Monday night.

The visiting delegation is a part of a 36-person group who have been studying United States agricultural practices for about three weeks. The 11 individuals here chose Texas for a specialized study of grain sorghum after the other individuals returned to London.

HAPPY DAZE . . . DAYS? — Edlana Vinson, one of the 247 graduating seniors of Hereford High School, appeared to be biting back a shout of exultation Friday night as she received her diploma from Olin Parris, school board president. An overflow crowd witnessed the ceremonies at La Plata Junior High School gymnasium.

Telephone Company Gets Huge Loan For Upgrading

An REA loan in the amount of $1,466,000 for the West Texas Rural Telephone Co-op was announced Thursday afternoon from Sen. Ralph Yarborough's office in Austin.

The telephone co-op's office is located at 214 N. 25 Mile Ave. in Hereford. Vernon C. Inmon is manager and James W. Dixon of Friona is president.

Sen. Yarborough's office stated that the loan had been approved for general upgrading and improvements throughout West Texas Rural Telephone Co-op's entire system in Deaf Smith

Castro, Bailey and Parmer counties.

Vivian Davis of Rep. Bob Price's office in Washington, D. C., told the Brand in a telephone call Friday morning more specific details in regard to the loan and pinpointed location where the improvements will be made.

She reported that the almost $1½-million is intended to "upgrade existing service in the Dawn, Frío, Hub and Parmer communities to one-party lines in place of their present one, two and five-party arrangements. Also, to finance facilities to extend service to 61 new subscribers."

To accomplish this, it was pointed out by Rep. Price's office, the co-op will be replacing overhead lines with buried cable in a major portion of the four exchanges.

"They will also add 15 miles of new line and install Direct Distance Dialing in the four exchanges."

A provision is made to expand the existing mobile dial system, including the installation of radio-telephone facilities to serve 23 of the new subscribers. It will also provide for the system operation and maintenance.

"Also included in the loan are funds to construct a new central office building in the Parmer exchange, and to complete (other) construction under a prior REA loan."

Inmon said, "This loan is needed to service new subscribers, to upgrade service to a one-party basis, replace and add central office equipment. Also, furnish ANI equipment and CAMA trunks for DDD service."

Inmon said that there are approximately 1,200 route miles of telephone lines in the area counties.

No positive starting date could be made at this time on these improvements, he reported—except that there was about two months of "paper work" ahead of them on the project before outside work could begin.

Inmon said the last REA loan to them was started in 1963 and finished in 1964.

West Texas Telephone Co-op has been in operation since 1952.

Construction Will Begin On Highway

The Texas Highway Department has announced a new highway construction project beginning 3.6 miles northeast of the junction of U.S. 385 and U.S. 60 in Deaf Smith County, south to U.S. 385.

A total of 0.822 miles of the new road is in Castro County and 6.239 miles is in Deaf Smith County.

In addition, there will be 0.340 miles of construction in conjunction with the intersection done on U.S. 60 in Deaf Smith County.

The construction will consist of grading, structures, base and surfacing.

The Texas Highway Department and the contractor, Givinterrill Inc., of Amarillo, stated that the construction will begin on the roadway June 10 and is to be completed about September 6, 1968.

William V. York, Supervising

Resident Engineer of the Hereford area, states that traffic will be routed through the project with the exception of the proposed bridge site crossing on Tierra Blanca Creek. This portion of the project will be closed to all traffic. The local traffic is asked to use other county roads at the bridge site during construction.

York pointed out that barricades and warning signs will be prominently displayed, but motorists should exercise extreme caution in passing through the area. Cooperation of the public is urged.

Veterans Plan Memorial Day

Families of Hereford's former servicemen who are now buried in local cemeteries may have flags for their graves on Memorial Day, it was announced by the Hereford American Legion Post 192.

A member of the local American Legion will be stationed at each cemetery Thursday morning with the flags.

The post's officers reported that it has been impossible to have complete records of the war dead in Hereford, and they do not wish to omit anyone entitled to the flag honor. They urge that all families of veterans come by and pick up a flag so that no one will be overlooked.

Those who wish one of these flags prior to this date for the purpose of placing them on gravesites are asked to come by Wilkins Barber Shop in the Jim Hill Hotel. Flags will be made available there, it was reported.

Post 192 will also be in charge of posting all flags on the city streets of Hereford on Memorial Day.

Pioneer Days To Be Thursday

The Mid-Plains Pioneer Celebration plans for Thursday at the Bull Barn are continuing, it was reported by Gladys Manjeot in charge of their publicity.

She also reported that other members of the Mid-Plains Pioneers have made a swing through the area in order to increase interest in the celebration, including appearances on television in Amarillo.

Other historical pictures which were made in Hereford in past years are published today in the Sunday Brand. In some cases, entire identifications of some of Deaf Smith County's pioneers could not be completed. Such pictures will have added interest to longtime residents—because they will have an opportunity to identify them for themselves.

Legion Works On Poppy Day, Display

The display for the area servicemen will be set up for public display at the Plains Insurance Company building at 213 N. Main in Hereford, according to the American Legion Auxiliary.

They invite the public to view these pictures during the week downtown, and have advised that the display will be moved following Memorial Day — possibly over the weekend — to Sugarland Mall.

A special display has been erected for Arthur C. Tijerina and James E. Pavlicek, the two Hereford Army veterans who recently lost their lives in Vietnam during battle, at the First National Bank at Main and Third.

The headquarters for the auxiliary will be at the Jim Hill Hotel, it was reported.

Wednesday has been designated as Poppy Day. The American Legion Auxiliary of Hereford will be in charge of local sales. Mrs. Leroy Williamson has been designated as Poppy chairman.

The poppies are made by the hospitalized veterans in the Legion Veterans Administration hospitals. Afterward, the ladies of the auxiliary go out and sell them for the patient.

Proceeds may be used for direct welfare of veterans and their families only. The actual cost of the poppies to the seller is $35 per thousand — or 3½-cents each. The veterans are paid 14-cents for each one sold. The rest is used for rehabilitation in the hospitals and 5 per cent is used for child welfare.

There is no set price on the poppies. The public is asked to contribute whatever they wish. Wild poppies "blooming between the crosses, row on row" See LEGION Page 2 are W. P. Axe, W. T. Carmichael, Chester Wiggins and Armon Lauderback.

Starting with three of the first men in the hybrid seed business, WAC Seed has grown into an accepted and prosperous business. WAC handles hybrid grain sorghum, forage sorghum, sorghum — sudan grass hybrids, cotton seeds, wheat, oats, barley, rye, alfalfa seeds and some grass seeds.

Carmichael said, "It's a specialty in a grain. We are fortunate to have started early and have done real well."

Carmichael helped to organize the company when hybrid seeds were practically unheard of. Clearman and Lauderback are in charge of the WAC Seed general operation.

And they stay busy!
"The State of Texas Veterans Land Board Commendation, whereas Hugh L. Clearman, a member of the Deaf Smith County Veterans Land Board Committee, has rendered invaluable service to our Veterans and Citizens of Texas, now therefore, I, Jerry Sadler, Chairman of the Veterans Land Board, do hereby express our gratitude and commend you for your fine service."

(Signed) Jerry Sadler, Commissioner of the General Land Office and Chairman of the Veterans Land Board.

(Seal)
Clearman has entered into his sixth year as a Hereford Independent School trustee and just completed a year as its president. In the past, he has also served it as secretary and vice-president.

He is also a member of the Texas Certified Seed Growers Association (with whom he has been one of the board of directors), and the Texas Seedman's Association, where he is currently on the board.

And Clearman is a member of the First Methodist Church. There he teaches a Sunday School class — "and I have been chairman of the church board of directors."

"I was a member of the Hereford Rotary Club for 14 years. But I got too busy to make the meetings and had to give it up."

He was married in 1952. He and his wife Dorothy live on South Dimmitt Highway.

And he has three daughters. Carole is a freshman at Southwestern University at Georgetown, Texas; Kay (he said she spells it "Caye") is an eighth-grader at LaPlata Junior High; and Lynette is a student at Bluebonnet Elementary.

It was not difficult at all for local people to voice their true opinions toward Clearman. There was no searching for proper words, no hesitation. As they would say, it isn't necessary in regard to such a fine man as he.

As space permits, some of them are quoted here:

Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor of the First Methodist Church where Clearman teaches a class for high school juniors and seniors, said, "He is a Christian gentleman in every sense of the word, and a responsible churchman. It's a real privilege to speak for him."

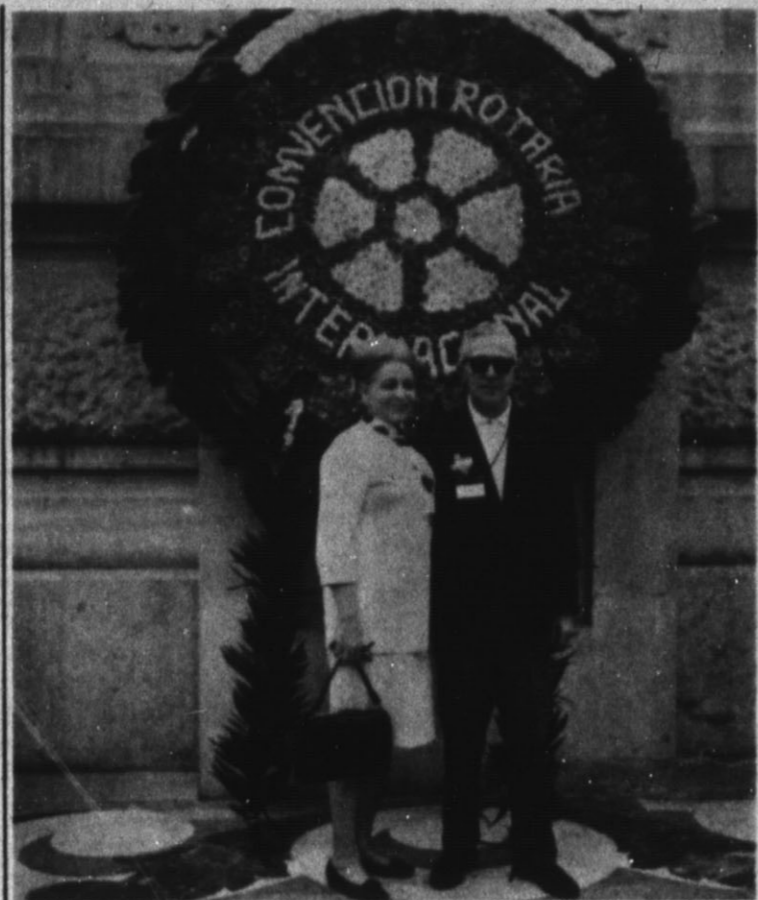

Armon Lauderback at WAC Seed said, "I have been working with him for about 10 years and I don't know of another man I would rather work with. For a man of high moral character, he is the best."

Olin W. Parris, who became president of the school board following Clearman, said, "I just couldn't think of enough to say about Hugh. I think Hugh Clearman is a real fine leader in the community and its welfare — for the youth as well as the adults. He holds to Christian principles in all things. 'Our lives are what we are.'"

Johnny Clark, Jr., superintendent of the Hereford schools, said, "I don't think I have ever known or worked with a better fellow on the board. I think he is one of the most humble fellows I have ever worked with — not only capable but humble."

With the help of his wife, Dorothy, and old clippings which had been previously published, the facts of his life were compiled. "There are so many things he wouldn't remember," she said, "because he does so many things — anything that he thinks is right."

She added, "One of the reasons he hated giving up being County Agent was giving up Mexico visitors . . . Mr. and Mrs. Les Combs.

Combs Returns From Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Les Combs of 150 Ranger Drive recently returned from Mexico City, where Combs represented the local Rotary Club at the Rotary International Convention.

The couple left Hereford on May 10 and flew from Amarillo to Dallas, then transferring on to Mexico City.

Highlight of the five-day stay in Mexico City, said Combs, was when a group of the Rotarians and their wives spent an evening with Dr. Walter Reinking, a native of Germany.

There were some 13,000 Rotarians from 142 countries attended the convention. Over 5,000 of the Rotarians were voting delegates, as was Combs, who is the immediate past president of the Hereford Rotary Club.

in the battle cemeteries of France and Belgium in 1918, constituted nature's tribute to the war dead. Since that time, poppy replicas have become a symbol of remembrance for all those who gave their lives in all wars in the defense of America.

The annual Poppy Day will be observed May 29. "Honor our war dead by wearing a poppy on that day," the auxiliary urges.

"Members of our Hereford unit of the American Legion Auxiliary are asking that we all wear a memorial flower on Poppy Day. By wearing a poppy on that day, all thoughtful citizens have an opportunity for a simple but sincere tribute to all those who have made the supreme sacrifice in behalf of our nation. Contributions on that day go entirely to aid living veterans of the war and the widows and children of our war dead."

An estimated 150,000 volunteer workers from the auxiliary and co-operating groups are needed to distribute some 29-million memorial flowers on Poppy Day nationally. The Hereford auxiliary has been doing this work since 1930 and has averaged about $300 per year.

Robinson Named To Select Group

J. W. Robinson, Jr., who handles Southland Life insurance at 218 W. Third, Hereford, has become a member in the Texas Leaders Round Table.

TLRT members are the life insurance industry's most successful salesmen in Texas, for men and women who have supported the highest ethical standards of character and performance in the insurance profession, it was announced from the Round Table headquarters in Austin.

Membership in the TLRT marks a milestone for the insurance salesman and provides him with specialized knowledge that enables him to improve abilities and service to the insuring public.

Hugh Lee Clearman is a "good influence." The vast majority has so testified.

Hansen Is Given New Managership

Gordon H. Hansen has been selected as the Refuge Manager of the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, it was announced Thursday by Regional Director William T. Krummes, of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, which operates the 4,726 acre nationally famed sanctuary on the Texas Gulf Coast.

Hansen, 32, a native of Utah, is no stranger to the winter home of the world's only wild whopping cranes, having served there as assistant refuge manager during 1963 and 1964.

Hansen obtained his Bachelor of Science degree in Wildlife Management from Utah State University in 1961. Even before graduation, he had been employed during the summers on the Bureau's Kirwin Refuge in Kansas and the Wichita Mountains Refuge in Oklahoma.

After completing his college training, he served in positions of increasing responsibility at Bear River Refuge in Utah, Hagerman Refuge in Texas, and Alamosa Refuge in Colorado before coming to Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge near Umbarger, in 1966.

A 1965 graduate of the Department of the Interior's Management Training Program, Hansen will assume his new duties at Aransas early in June. Mr. and Mrs. Hansen and their four children will live on the refuge. Mr. Hansen replaces Phillip Morgan who was promoted to the position of Assistant Regional Supervisor of Refuges in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Road Work To Be Done Here

Deaf Smith County is one of several counties which will receive special maintenance work, the Texas Highway Commission announced Thursday.

The local project calls for drainage improvements on U.S. 60 from 7 of a mile southwest of U.S. 385 westward 1,000 feet. Cost of the project was listed as $15,400.

The commission approved projects totaling $343,400 over the state.

Rites Held For Jacky Griffin

Final rites were conducted Saturday for Jacky Griffin, son of Jack Griffin, Sr., president of Griffin and Brand in Hereford.

Griffin died in a Fort Worth hospital Thursday and his funeral was held at McKinney, Texas.

Griffin previously lived in Hereford. No other information was available at press time.

42 Absentee Votes Are In

A total of 42 absentee votes had been turned into the Deaf Smith County Clerk's office shortly before closing time Friday for the June 1 runoff election.

Absentee voting will end Tuesday. Races to be decided in the runoff are that of Governor (Don Yarborough and Preston Smith are candidates) and Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals for the Seventh Judicial District (James Joy and Jack Hazelwood are candidates.) All are Democrats.

Every human enterprise is a mixture of a little bit of humanity, a little bit of soil, and a little bit of water. — Gean Brunhes.

Herd Lines

By Marshall Day

To a lot of parents, it doesn't seem too long ago that a little boy or girl of theirs began to toddle around the house, getting into mischief, trying out their new-found ability of co-ordination, and then putting it to work for their benefit. After twelve years of schooling and perhaps a little more improvement in their co-ordination, some of these young adults will take their first step all over again as graduation time has come and gone all too soon for the hapless mothers and fathers.

For many of these young persons, that ability began way back down the road of life and, perhaps by accident or perhaps even purpose, has made a lasting impression on their future. Several may even take the initiative to make a career out of it. You never can tell.

Little Gary Goodin could barely see over the edge of the red rubber buggy bumpers when he reached the age of six, but he stuck with it and all that jumping up and down trying to see what was over those bumpers did so something for him. By the time he reached the age where his legs equaled half of his top torso, he got his first look at a hurdle and decided to see what was on the other side. All he found was another hurdle and justly so, he took it in stride and kind of made a career out of it through his school years. Now it's all over except for the final hurdle-life itself.

Tony Malouf, the big grisly fullback for the Whitefaces for the past four years, was more than likely born with a football in one hand and a liking for bruising action in the other. After finding out what the football was for, he put both of his hand-born gifts together and probably struck terror in the hearts of the little third-graders who looked upon him as a giant. When he began playing with the bigger boys, though they weren't that big compared to him, he still managed to make them look twice before trying anything underhanded with him. He now must move on, but not without leaving a few lasting memories behind and getting ready for his place in the sun.

Berry Johnson, who saw his last year of high school baseball pass not too long ago, could have had his beginning with a little flat piece of wood which he used to swat bugs away from street lights with. Probably feeling that after he got too good at that, he decided to try his hand at chunking a few stones at the pesky little critters. As fate would have it, little Berry finally exterminated all the bugs around the home, and went in search of something a little more challenging. He found that when he was introduced to the game of baseball. He stuck with it and lead the team in home runs and all other assorted categories, and with the needed help, he just might continue along that line.

To Nancy Howard, a ball was something that was fun for her but was at the expense of another person, not a round object for the purpose of swatting across the volleyball net. Time slowly dawned the fact on her that the kind of ball she had been having was entirely different to the kind that she was to prove herself in. Could have happened one day, that she was crawling around on all fours, when she was a much younger tot, and a round sphere came sailing across the backyard fence. Thinking only of defending herself, she struck out with all her might and sent the invader sailing back across the fence. Well, as things would have it, that little round thing made an impression on her life and as things turned out, she turned out to be one of the many superb volleyballers that have seen their last year for good ole MHS. She, along with many other graduate from the athletic line, must now put the ball away and take things more serious.

Mistaking a golf ball for a bird's egg, and finding it awful hard to devour, Steve Hendon might have lost his temper, began knocking the ball around with his hand, and was thus introduced to the sport of golfing. After his hand got a little sore and bruised from the ordeal, he might have decided that it was time for a change of instruments and invented the club. Getting carried away with the game, he improved as the years went by and kind of made the game a hobby. Now it is time for him to either put the clubs away for a while and get down to some more serious thinking, or, if he can manage it, do both.

Basketball was another story altogether, as maybe one day two little toddlers, Bobby Burwick and Jim Childers by name, were having a little bull session in the nursery crib, and being the true sportsmen they were, wanted to try something different. Tiring of the old game of "Build the Blocks" and things of that nature, they snatched Jim's fathers hat from off the hat rack, wadded up the morning newspaper, and had a little contest of seeing who could miss the hat the most. As things turned out, neither could miss the hat so they decided something was wrong with that. They put their new-found ability together, along with three other young athletes in the neighborhood, and started a game called hatball, which they later changed to basketball when their fathers found out why all their hats were filled with confetti all the time. They went through school and now have graduated but with a little hope and ambition, they could manage to keep the little game circulating.

While just touching a few of the over 120 athletes who participated this year, these six will serve as examples to the parents who might have a little one romping around the house with a little peculiar attitude toward one of their new-found abilities. Graduation comes only once in a lifetime for a high school athlete, but there is always that lifetime of remembrance that athletics could have had a bearing on he or she today.

Crim Hurls First No-Hitter; Giants Take League Lead

Mike Crim became the first player this year in Major League play to pitch a no-hitter as he and his Cub team mates downed the Braves by a 16-1 margin. Crim, who sent 14 batters down swinging in his first pitching start this season, struck out 13 this time and walked 4.

James Massey almost matched Crim's feat as he pitched a one-hitter in leading the Giants past the Yankees, 8-0. This was the first defeat for the Yankees as they were knocked from the number one spot. Dave Loerwald had the only hit for the hapless Yanks.

In other games, the Angels handed the Cubs their first loss, 11-8, and the Angels also defeated the Dodgers, 9-6 to record their third win as compared to one loss. The Cubs nipped the Braves, 5-2 in other action.

The top ten hitters thus far this season who have at least ten at-bats include: Hennington, Braves, .727; Flower, Giants, .700; Bogard, Braves, .692; Barber, Angels, .636; Gonzales, Cubs, .600; McQuearey, Colts, .600; High, Angels, .586; Giants, .545; Mueller, Giants, .500; Allen, Giants, .500.

Standings to date show that the Giants are 3-0, the Angels are 3-1, the Cubs are 3-1, Yankees 2-1, Colts 2-1, Cardinals 0-2, Dodgers 0-3, and Braves 0-4. Two games were scheduled for Saturday night and the schedule for the coming week shows that the Yankees meet the Colts on the north field, Monday, May 27, and the Angels compete against the Cardinals on the south field on the same date. Tuesday, May 28, the Cubs battle the Giants on the north field and the Braves go against the Dodgers on the south field. The Colts meet the Cubs on the north field on Thursday, May 30 and the Angels play host to the Yankees on the south field. Ending the week, the Giants will be seeking to keep their record going as they meet the Dodgers on the north field and the Cardinals go against the Braves on the south field.

DEFENDING CHAMPION — Bill Howard, defending champion from last year's "Golf Begins at 40 Tournament", was one of the many past champs who competed in the tournament Saturday and Sunday. Results were not available at press time, but will be published in the Thursday Brand.

LITTLE LEAGUE ACTION — Action got into its second full week of Little League play last week as the eight teams began their fight for the league crown. At the present time, in the Major League, the Giants hold down first place with a three wins, no loss record.

STEELHEAD: A FISH FOR ALL SEASONS

This is a warning to Eastern trout fishermen. Don't venture West in search of steelhead. If you do, the Beaverkill, Neversink and your favorite local streams will never have quite the same appeal.

It was early December, and the first blanket of snow covered the East. Tying flies and recalling last summer's rainbow outings just wasn't enough.

I had been promising myself a go at the winter steelheads for years and the time seemed right. A call to "Pappy" Davis in Portland, Ore., reassured me of the more fascinating species available to sport fishermen. Born in the rushing rivers and streams of the Northwest, they make their way to the Pacific Ocean to grow big and strong. At spawning time they return to the site of their birth, fighting the currents for months and traveling perhaps 1,000 miles, without food. Stout and silvery as they leave the ocean, the steelhead gradually assumes the traditional rainbow markings of his non-migratory cousins.

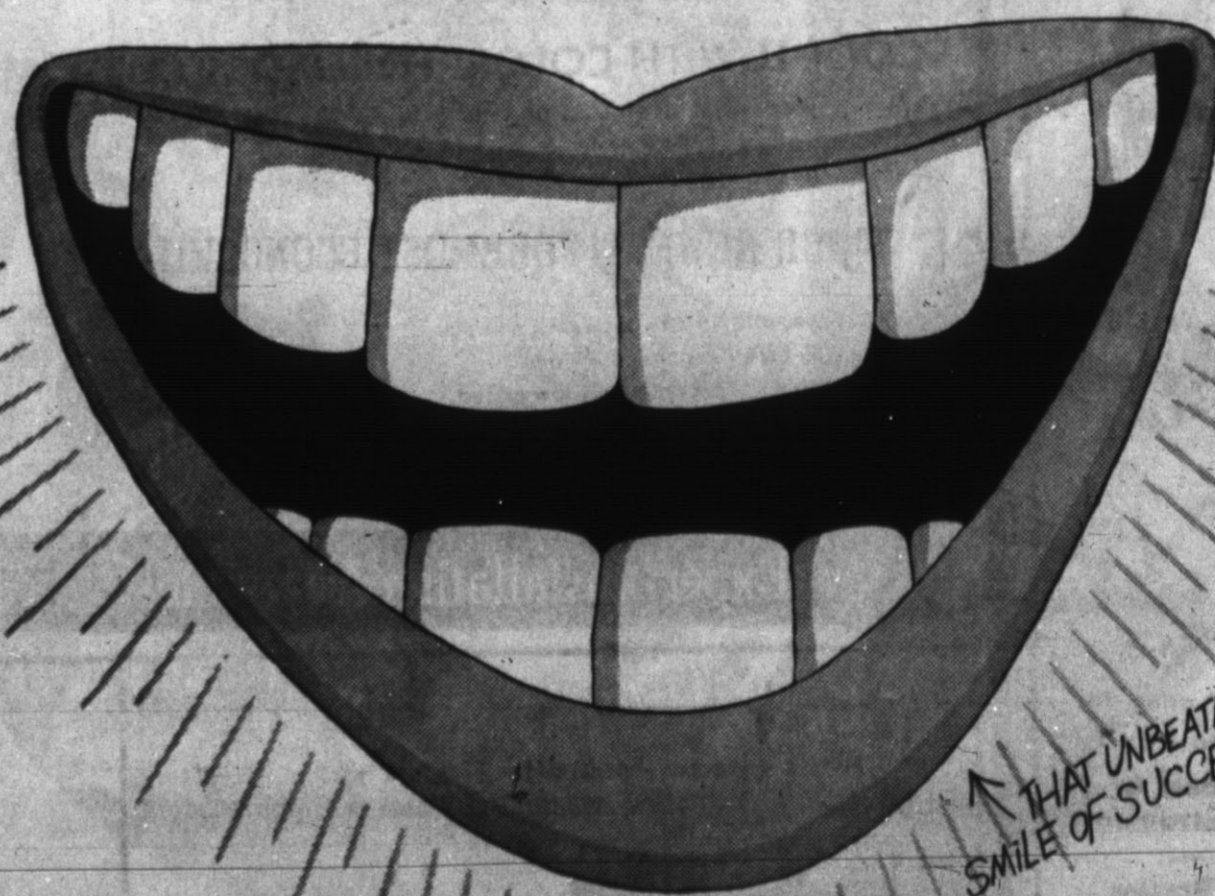

"Pappy" met me at the Portland airport and we headed southwest to a spot on the Nestucca River about 20 miles from the Pacific. Few men know this wild, wonderful country the way "Pappy" does, and the ability to locate holding water where steelheads rest on their long swim plays a major role in this kind of angling.

The weather was terrible. A cold, driving wind swept the steady drizzle across our faces as we took to our small boat. Just to keep upright in the muddy, swollen river seemed like an accomplishment. "Pappy" assured me that all the discomfort would be worthwhile when I landed my first "bragging size" steelhead.

I was using a Mitchell 410 fast-retrieve reel on an eight-foot, light action Conolon rod with 10-pound test Bonny mono. "Pappy" and I each chose lures of artificial salmon egg clusters. The lures are fast deep, the sinker bouncing along the river's rocky bottom. It takes time and a delicate feel to tell a hit from a snag. But soon a throbbing rod and singing line told me I had my first steelhead strike. He took off down stream as if he was returning to the sea. Suddenly he broke through the bubbling surface and arched his shining body like a crescent moon. My muscles ached from the cold, and my numbed fingers were hard put to keep a tight line. He continued his spectacular aerial offensive right up to the net, eight pounds of fighting fish, still trying to make his way home.

Relic Equipment Is Found By Boy

Roe Dale Clark, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Clark of Route 3, Hereford, recently made a discovery at the family home which has sent local historians to the reference books.

Clark was digging under the floor of a barn which was being torn down when he found a piece of leather with gold metal buttons containing the words "U.S." The leather, very stiff from age and exposure, was soon made soft with a good oiling by young Clark.

Vickie Inman Gets Scholarship

Vickie Inman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burke Inman of 416 Star in Hereford, was awarded the $600 Besse Marks Memorial Scholarship at the annual Honors Day Assembly of the University of Missouri - Columbia School of Journalism Friday.

Clark, who had been a Cub Scout until an attack of rheumatic fever forced him to drop out of any the activities, began to spread the word about his find. A brief check into the history of calvaries which passed through this area showed that the leather piece could have come from the "Lickie Buffalo Soldiers," a troop of Negro soldiers known to have been here between 1866 and 1875.

Another source could have been the calvary led by Ranald McKenzie, which traveled over the West Texas Plains in the years 1871 and 1876.

Whatever the year or the calvary, Roe Dale Clark is proud of his discovery. An avid collector of relics, arrowheads and odd rocks, the boy plans to continue looking for more and more.

The Clark family lives on the Lynn Axe farm some 10 miles south and a half-mile west of Hereford. Roe Dale attends the sixth grade at North Grade Elementary School in Dimmit.

Pant's Cage Has New Management

Mrs. Marcus Latham, a 17-year resident of Hereford, and her sister, Edith McKenzie of Midland, have taken over the management of the Pant's Cage in Sugarland Mall.

The new owners decided to go into partnership when Mrs. Latham was visiting her sister in Midland and happened to mention that an ad was out for the sale of the store, to experienced persons.

Miss McKenzie, who has been dealing in ladies wear for 20 years and has owned her own dress shop for 7, commented that she would like to look into this prospect. They did, and they bought the store without very much thought. It seemed to be pretty much what they wanted.

NEW OWNERS — Mrs. Marcus Latham, left, and Edith McKenzie have recently taken over the management of the Pant's Cage in Sugarland Mall. The sisters began the job Friday week. Mrs. Latham is a resident of Hereford, and Miss McKenzie is from Midland.

Storing Those Winter Clothes

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

Some very timely suggestions for care of winter clothes. As warm weather arrives, store your winter clothes carefully so they will be in good condition next fall.

Store only clean garments. Spots and stains will be harder to remove if they stay on the garment all summer and moth damage is more likely on soiled clothes.

Wash and dry thoroughly all washable garments — don't use starch. Send other soiled garments to the dry cleaner, and call his attention to spots and stains and to any care instruction given on the garments' hang tags.

All garments should be free of moths. Dry cleaning and washing will kill moths in all stages of growth. Brushing and sunning garments also rid them of moths, as well as moth eggs and larvae (the larvae do the damage to clothes.)

For added protection against moths, you may want to spray the clean garments with DDT, methoxychlor, chlordane, Strob and Perthane before storage — following directions and observing the cautions given on the container label. Directions for "moth balls," paradichlorobenzene crystals or naphthalene flakes or crystals, on the container suggest the amount to use.

Remove plastic buttons, buckles and other plastic ornaments before storing garments and avoid using plastic hangers. The plastic may cause a stain or melt into the fabric, especially if the garments are stored in a warm dry place such as an attic or if "moth balls" are put in with the clothes.

If space is available, store hangable garment bags on rust-proof hangers. Put sweaters and other knitted garments in garment bags or boxes.

Tightly-wrapped paper packages, air-tight boxes or chests or garment bags are the best storage places. Cedar chests are old favorites for winter clothing storage, but all garments must be moth-free before they are put into a cedar chest. Cedar oil vapor does kill small moth larvae but not older, larger ones and as a cedar chest gets older, there is less cedar oil vapor.

Other winter garments need the proper storage, too. Furs usually should be cleaned professionally and stored in fur storage vaults where the temperature is low. Summer heat is home closets tend to dry the skins.

Felt and yarn hats should be brushed thoroughly and the head bands should be cleaned with spot remover. Be sure to follow the manufacturer's directions on the remover's label and use it in a well-ventilated room.

Stuff the crowns of the hats with tissue paper and place them uncrowded, in boxes. You may want to add one of the moth preventatives to the boxes.

Clean and polish leather shoes and bags, using a leather cleaner or saddle soap. Protect them from dust by wrapping or placing them in boxes. Since leather

Brandywine by Thomasville
Collection

Early American cabinetmakers might have crafted this furniture. It's that authentic in design detail! And there's a rare rustic charm to the wood. It's wormy maple, both solids and veneers, characterized by natural wormholes in the grain to give it a remarkable texture. Thomasville has finished it beautifully in a burnished, glowing color called Hearthside. Come see the whole Brandywine Collection. Notice how edges have been smoothed away as though worn by generations of use. And open the drawers for a nice surprise: The lining reproduces old newspaper print!

RETURNED HOME — Private First Class Arthur C. Tijerina, 21 years old, killed in combat in Vietnam on May 10, 1968. Last rites in Hereford on May 24. In the U.S. Army six months, he was buried with full military honors.

Miss Bowers Becomes Bride Of Albert Cupell

An arch covered with greenery and flowers of blue and white with baskets of gladiolas on pedestals at each side of the arch decorated the church for the wedding of Miss Patsy Bowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe David Bowers of 207 Grand, and Albert Wayne Cupell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jo Ed Cupell of 349 Stadium Drive.

The wedding was held Saturday in the Temple Baptist Church with the Rev. Robert Williams of the Wesley Methodist Church conducting the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a linen gown cut with empire lines. Embroidered bodice lined with pearls and beads and a round neck with long pointed sleeves outlined in pearls gave finishing touches to the gown. The train was a full chapel attached at the waist. Cascade of white carnations carried on a white Bible were held by the bride.

The headpiece consisted of a small pill box with a wide bow on top and edged in pearls. The headpiece was embroidered to match the dress. It was covered with a small fingertip illusion veil.

Organist for Miss Bowers' wedding was Mrs. Albert Ricketts and the soloist was Miss Rosi Rogers. Both are of Hereford.

Before the ceremony, a medley of traditional wedding music was heard by guests, and as the bridal party entered Mrs. Ricketts changed to the bridal chorus by Wagner. As the bridal party left, the Wedding March by Mendel was played. Miss Rosi Rogers sang the "Wedding Prayer" at the close.

Ring bearer for the ceremony was Mark Williams, the groom's cousin from Hereford, and the groom's attendants were Noel Clifton from Lubbock serving as best man; David Cupell, the groom's brother, and John Long from Lubbock served as groomsmen. Ushers were Bill Hogan of Lubbock and Jimmy Goodman also of Lubbock.

Debra Bowers, the bride's sister, was the matron of honor, and Nita Cupell, the groom's cousin, served as bridesmaids. The girls wore dresses of pastel blue and embossed cotton. The dresses were street length with lowered round necklines, short sleeves and empire waists. Wide lace insertion with threaded pastel blue ribbon trimmed the dresses. The headpieces were wide white satin bows trimmed with pearls and the girls carried nosegays of white carnations with blue streamers.

The flower girls for the ceremony were Sheila Stephens, and Cindy Stephens, both nieces of the groom and both from Pampa. The girls wore white eyelet embroidered pinafores over blue embossed cotton dresses. A white satin bow decorated the dresses, and the girls wore beads in their hair.

Mrs. Joe David Bowers, the bride's mother, wore an apple green suit with white accessories, and Mrs. Jo Ed Cupell, mother of the groom, wore a pink outfit with pink accessories.

White net over white satin covered the table at the reception held at the Temple Baptist Church after the wedding. A silver candle stick centerpiece with the nosegays of the attendants placed at the base set off the lovely three tiered wedding cake topped with bride and groom figures. Mrs. Joe Inman served the cake and Dale Williams served the punch. Janene Suttle registered guests. Miss Bowers is a 1968 graduate of Hereford High School and plans to enter college at Texas Tech for summer courses. She plans on home economics for a major.

The groom, Albert Cupell, will be an August graduate of Texas Tech and is an accounting major. Cupell also plans to attend summer school at Texas Tech.

Eagle Nest and Red River will be the wedding trip for the bride and groom. The bride left the church in a plaid white and navy suit with white accessories and wearing a corsage of orchids from the bridal bouquet.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Louise Bowers, the bride's grandmother; Mrs. J. O. Mitchell and daughters, Becky and Sheri from Eagle Nest, N. M. Mr. and Mrs. Merle Hutchens and son Mike from Antonita, Colorado; Mr. U. D. Lovell from Tucumcari, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Henry and daughter Brenda from Ft. Stockton, and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Williams from Hartley. The Williams are the groom's grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Stephens of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Morrison of Estacate; J. E. Cupell of Vega, the groom's grandfather; Mr. and Mrs. Donald James of Wellington, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Naubauer of Fort Worth were also guests.

Social Security Representative To Visit Here

Although the district office for this area is located in Amarillo, social security service is available on a regular basis in most counties the Amarillo office serves, Travis C. Briggs, district manager said today.

"Ordinarily, the folks do not have to wait very long to be interviewed if they call at our office in Amarillo," according to

Briggs, "but we realize that it is not convenient for some to come to Amarillo."

"That's the reason our field representatives set up schedules so the people in a community will know when they will be available for assistance in filing claims for benefits or to answer questions about social security or Medicare."

"Headquarters For The Young Set!"

Some people plant tomatoes in the spring

Others plant carrots, or onions, or cucumbers, or asparagus, or lettuce. But there's one thing you can plant now that will create a variety of tastes. A gas barbecue grill.

We have several varieties. Any one lets you harvest a delicious meal any time of the year. Its perfect heat control and permanent briquettes give you year 'round cooking pleasure without the mess of a charcoal fire.

For best results, we recommend early planting. This will guarantee larger yields because you can start your harvest immediately.

New lower prices on the '68 models are in effect through July 31st. Prices start at $77.52 cash (includes installation and tax) or as little as $2.50 a month, whichever you prefer. After that, it will only cost a few cents per month for us to feed it.

Call us. We'll plant a gas barbecue grill in your yard.

That is, if you have a taste for the outdoors.

Buy a PATIO PAIR (one gas light and one gas barbecue grill) and save $26.00. Prices start at $103.70 (includes installation and tax) or $4.00 a month.

GRAIN ELEVATOR EXPLOSION — The E. W. Harrison Grain Elevator explosion, which occurred on Christmas Day, possibly 1925, according to Gladys Manjeot, publicity chairman for the Mid-Plains Pioneers' Celebration this year, was extremely destructive. It was reportedly caused from dust combustion and there was no insurance to cover damages. But Mrs. Manjeot said that area families came in, cleaned it up and rebuilt it. It was later sold to J. A. Pitman.

and Mrs. A. L. Manjeot (this year's Mid-Plains Pioneer Celebration Publicity Chairman.) Standing are Mrs. R. A. Daniel, Jr., unidentified, Mrs. Minton, Mrs. George Graham, Mrs. W. C. Kerr, Mrs. French, Mrs. E. E. Fridley, Mrs. Whiteside, Mrs. A. O. Thompson and Mrs. Jim Black.

Businesses, Organizations Have Aided City's Growth

(Gladys Manjeot, a pioneer of Hereford, has continued her story of the development of the Plains area and Hereford, which began in last Sunday's Brand. Mrs. Manjeot is publicity chairman for the Mid-Plains Pioneer Celebration, slated for Thursday at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.)

Many of the young ladies that came to the plains to teach in the schools were courted and won by the cowboys. They in turn established homes.

Houses were built, the virgin soil was broken by the plow, more barbed wire fences were strung, and the country prospered and grew numerically.

It has been said that a nation or a country is just as strong as its homes, which make up the nation and communities. Long have we remembered the old adage, "the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world." The homes of Hereford and surrounding area were the bulwark of this land.

It takes a lot of livin' in a house to make it home. The early homemakers were well aware of this, and those who have followed after the pioneers know well the impact which the early homes had.

The men plowed the land, kept watch over the herds, established businesses. The women were not idle, they used that which was theirs, and made of the houses homes. They looked well to the ways of their households, but they too were interested in the cultural, civic, musical, styles, and gardening.

Clubs were organized. Projects were adopted. Lawns, flower gardens, and vegetable gardens were planted, and things began to hum in Hereford.

The Bayview Club and The Pioneer Study Club are 60 years old.

The Pioneer Study Club is making plans now to celebrate their anniversary. The Pioneer Study Club was first organized as a Mother's Club, and during the early days they voted to sponsor the Mother's Park, which is still being maintained by the club, now known as Pioneer Study Club. Mrs. Willie Gilliland was one of the Pioneer women who had a large share in the acquiring and upkeep of the triangle park which has been maintained throughout the years. It is recognized today as one of the beauty spots of Hereford.

In the recent Music Week observation, we were made well aware of the outstanding work done by the Music Study Club, which is one of the oldest clubs in Hereford. All are indebted to this organization for their outstanding efforts in the promotion of this fine art. Mrs. G. A. F. Parker, Mrs. A. O. Thompson, Mrs. Calla Mountz, Miss Mattie Mae Swisher, Mrs. Homer Fox, Mrs. R. P. Coneway, along with many others were members of The Music Study Club, and have made tremendous contributions to its growth and accomplishments.

Mrs. J. H. Hicks, the wife of one of the pioneer doctors, was instrumental in the promotion of another art, that of china painting. She and Mrs. John P. Salton had many beautiful collections of china which had been hand painted. Oil painting was another art that found favor with the ladies, and Mrs. Bess Werner has been one of the most faithful persons in the leadership of this art.

Many times the lovely china, fine linens, silver and other pretties, along with cut flowers from the gardens were used at the luncheons, dinners, teas and receptions that the ladies hosted. Mrs. Mercert, Mrs. E. B. Black, and her daughter Mrs. Jess Stanfier, Mrs. H. G. Conkwright, Rex Iynes, Mrs. J. H. Pitman and many other lovely gracious ladies extended hospitality for numerous beautiful affairs. The Hereford Club ladies were hostesses to Federation Meetings, conventions and anniversary celebrations. Hereford was known throughout the plains areas as a wonderful, warm, hospitable town.

Mrs. Ray Johnson, who was serving as president of the Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs, organized the first garden club in Hereford. This club was The Hereford Garden Club, and Mrs. Homer (Monty) Brumley was the first president. Later the Garden Beautiful Club and The Bud to Blossom Garden Club were organized, by members of The Hereford Garden Club. Mrs. Lyle Blanton was active in the organization of these clubs. Hereford has been made a more beautiful and wholesome town in which to live and establish homes, through the activities of the garden clubs. Many beauty spots mark their contributions to the home town. Honors at home and abroad have been earned and won by members, and much publicity of Hereford has come out of the activities of members of the various clubs.

Yes indeed, many attributes of the very highest type were those of the homemakers of Hereford.

Others bells added their ringing tones to the atmosphere of Hereford. The Santa Fe train bells and whistles of the powerful engines as they pulled to stop at the railway station to unload prospectors for the new plains country.

The members of Snider and Edwards Development Company were at the station to welcome the newcomers, and to take them to see the land and urge them to make purchases.

Along about this time, the mode of transportation was changing. Cars were being used, not very many in number, but of interest both to the oldsters and young people. The real estate men would take the prospective buyers out across the prairie, and many were successful in making sales. To name a few of the early real estate companies, they were C. R. Smith, Ricketts, Ellistons, Tom Carter, D. H. Ashbrook, Geo. Suggs, J.H. Pitman and many others.

Ranching and farming came into their own, and Hereford became known for its fine cattle. Some of the finest and highest-priced cattle of the nation were raised, marketed, and shown in Hereford.

The pioneers in ranching were the L. R. Bradleys' Rat Jewell, O. G. Hill, Sr., the Norton Bros. Shore Bros. W. T. and G.H. Womble, T. G. Ivy, Wink Valentine, W. B. Phillips, Coombs, See BUSINESSES, Page 3

Ed East, Lee Cocanougher, Jones and W. E. Dameron, Konkright, McIntire Bros., and others.

Farming came into its own, in that the cattle had to have grain. Wheat was one of the leading crops, then later the growing of alfalfa, maize and other small grains. D. F. McDonald realized the great fertility of the soil, and the need for water to promote good growth, so he started the digging of irrigation wells. In truth the growth in all areas can be attributed to water.

No growth of any nature can be attained without the element of water which is divinely given.

The ranchers farmed and grew their grains, others moved into the area and many devoted all their energies to farming. Some of these were Edwards, Keith, Hutson, Dixon, Hogan, Jennings, Springer, Nun, Wyche, Owen, Higgins, and Ellisons along with countless others.

Businesses prospered. Some of the early merchants were D.

R. Gass and Son, E. B. Black and Company, Garrison Brothers, Cardwell Brothers, Williams Grocery, The Hereford Brand, Stambaugh's, Gilliland Undertaking, Drs. Hicks, LeGrand and Galbert, Harrison Grain Elevators (originally Grain and Wagon Yard), Dr. Turrentine and Heard Dentists, First National Bank, Western National Bank, and others.

They all had their ups and downs, and one of the disasters which hit, was when The Harrison Elevators were demolished, in 1925. This effected not only the town, but ranchers, farmers and all alike. All stuck together, and assisted Mr. Harrison in saving the grain, removing the rubble, and starting other elevators which were later sold to J. A. Pitman. At one time Pitman Grain Company had the largest privately owned grain elevator in the world.

Recent years have shown growth and prosperity in many other vocations, for all are grateful and thankful.

The Young Homemakers Home Demonstration Club held a meeting in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Smith Tuesday with Mrs. Delmo Williams as special guest and speaking to them on the planning of flowers.

Mrs. Williams stressed that to make a good layout for the flower garden was important in order not to bunch the flowers in one area.

Money Needs To Be Brought Home To Avoid Depression

Editor's note: The following editorial was written by Tim Gearn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Gearn of Hereford. A student at Trinity University for two years, during which time he was on the Dean's Honor List, Gearn transferred last year to the University of Texas.

Depression!
In any freshman economics course or in any high school history book one can find the meaning of this rather elementary word.

Along with the meaning one also will find a long list of causes of a depression, as well as what can be done to stop or avert this catastrophe.

It is my opinion that we, the people of these United States, are incapable of either learning from our past mistakes, or interpreting the present.

Our economy is once again under attack, but it does not appear that we the people are going to recognize the problem in its real magnitude, just as we did not recognize it in 1929.

First, the major indicator of economic stability is flashing an illuminated caution signal, yet it keeps on flashing and we continue to spend recklessly. In 1966, the alarm sounded — the consumer price index began rising to a dangerously high level, inflation was setting in — and Uncle Sam did nothing.

Do Nothing
It would be more correct to say that the people did nothing. We have been enjoying big cars and fine booze; why would we want to tax ourselves and cut down this high level of living? After all, we are the richest nation in the world.

Weren't the Romans also the richest nation in the world?

From 1960 to 1965, the consumer price index increased at a rate of only 1.3 per cent annually. But in 1966, it rose about 3 per cent, and further re-

Milepost 100

John Santa Fe turns 100 this year but you'd truly have to say he neither looks nor acts his age.

Through the years the railroad has scored some impressive transportation "firsts," including the first to become fully Dieselized in 1954; developing the Autovoyer car for shipment of automobiles in 1960, and the inauguration of "Super C," the world's fastest freight train in 1968, which operates on a 40-hour schedule between Chicago and Los Angeles although it consistently makes the run in little more than 35 hours. These are but a few; the list is almost endless.

While Santa Fe is pardonably proud of its distinguished past, its centennial theme is geared to the future — "Second Century of Progress — On to 2068."

The Brand wishes it God speed.

lately large increases were recorded for 1967 and 1968.

Your are saying to yourself, "Why should I be interested in some old index, I just want to live my life as I have done in the past."

The reason for concern is that if our nation doesn't start pulling in its belt and living within its means, we won't be able to continue living even similarly to the way we now live.

What is our major problem and what can we do to correct the problem before our economy collapses?

Dollar Attacked

The dollar is under fire both at home and abroad. It is deteriorating at a pace that should alert our government into curbing spending and raising taxes. We are presently printing money at a much faster rate than we can back it up.

The major reason for this imbalance is the fact that we are trying to act as the savior of the world.

Our foreign policy is that of helping any deserving nation raise their standard of living to a point similar to that of ours. In the process of trying to keep a world peace and also keep economic stability throughout the world, we are spending millions of dollars.

These dollars that are being spent to help foreign countries are the same dollars that are causing a deficit in our balance of payments.

What this means is that we are spending more dollars abroad than we are receiving from exports and investments. The dollars that are spent abroad are falling into the hands of people that wish to see our economy collapse, oftentimes these are the same people that we are attempting to help.

Money Weakened
After they get the dollars they trade them in for our precious gold, thus weakening the strength of the dollar.

The main point that needs to be made is that even though the United States is a strong country, it cannot take the entire responsibility of saving the whole world. If our capitalist neighbors won't help us to feed and protect the underdeveloped nations of the world, then we will be forced to withdraw from this glorious mission.

It is our attempt to help the world that is slowly bringing us down into the pit of poverty. Countries like France, that we have saved twice in the past 50 years, are causing the downfall of the dollar. The real problem is not one of the stability of the dollar, but is one of the fault of our international banking systems. If we had an international bank that was based on ability to pay instead of a useless shiny metal, we would be able to help other countries without putting ourselves into financial jeopardy.

The most important question is — how can we, as Americans, help correct this problem?

Stop Inflation
First, we need to curb inflation at home. A stiff reevaluation of government spending will be the first major step toward correction. We have been tending toward more and more give-away programs, both at home and abroad.

Americans need to realize that our national government is not free.

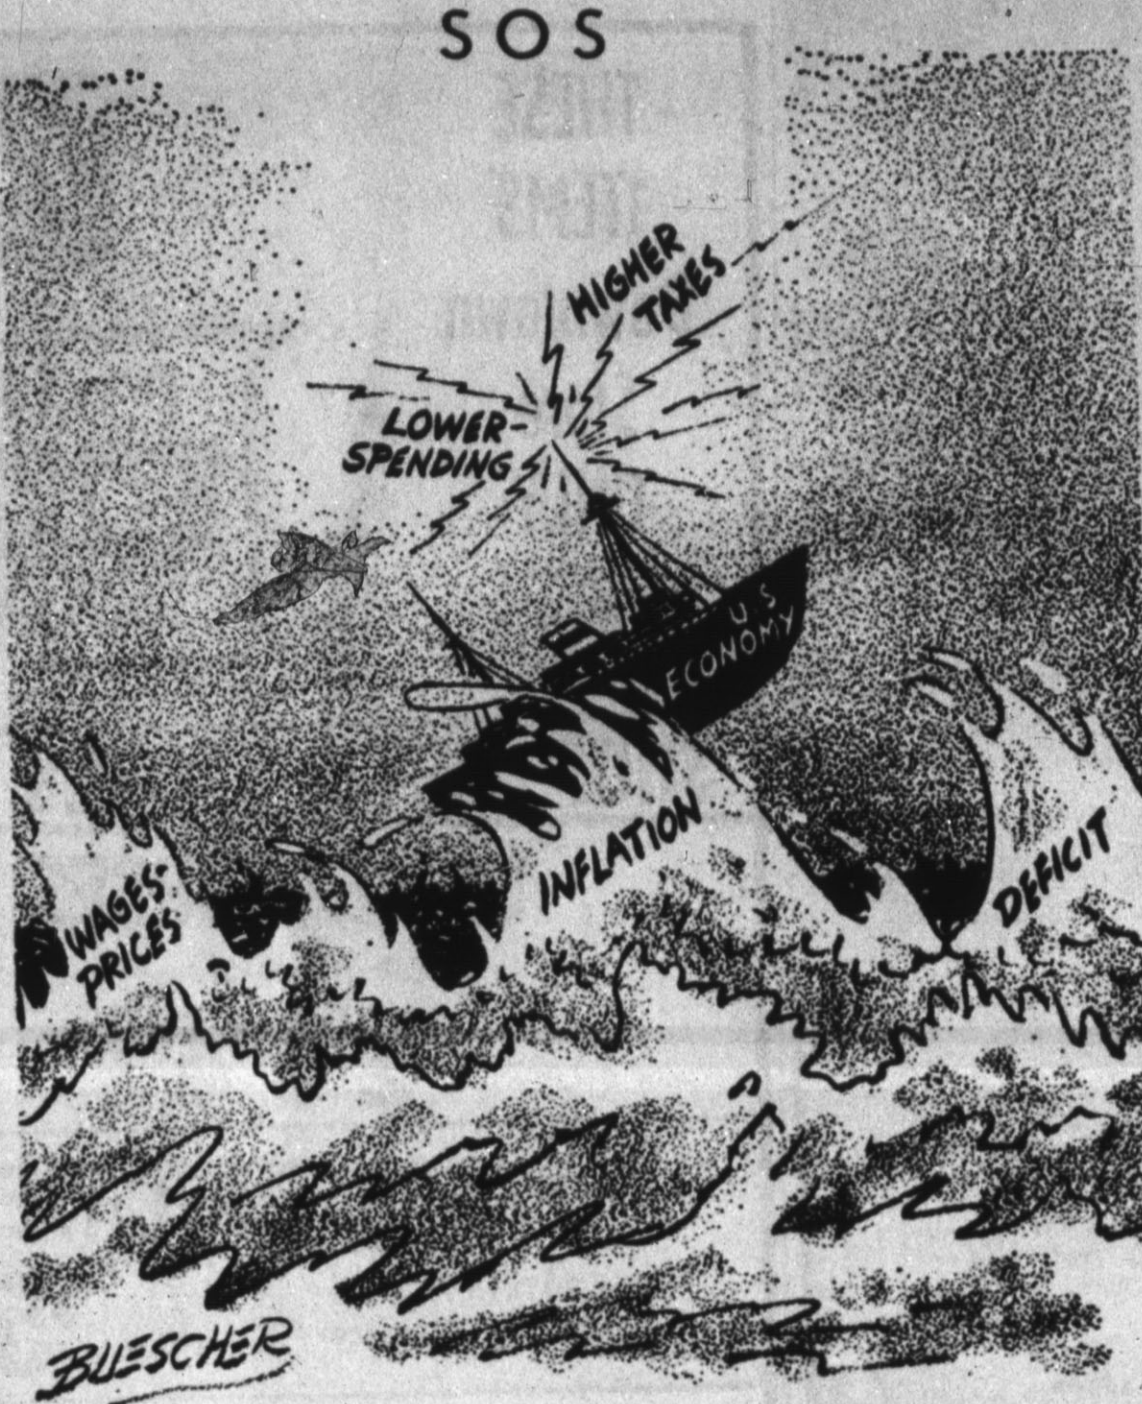

Just because the government can print money, that doesn't mean the money will continue to be worth anything. As more money enters the economy, its value continues to finance it.

If we continue to finance the war effort the way we have in the past — deficit spending — we will only worsen our monetary situation. To have both bread and guns it will be necessary to increase taxes and curb government give-away programs. This will provide more funds to finance government expenditures and will take money out of circulation, thus curbing inflation.

If we, as Americans, don't recognize the economic problem and don't attempt to elect officials that will slow our economy and correct our balance of payment problems, then we can expect a repeat performance of the 1929 crash.

It doesn't take a financial analyst to figure out that the economy is in trouble, or that the fate of this great country is at stake.

It's up to us, as voters, to correct this problem.

MAIN STREET, U. S. A.

Campus Riots Are Old Hat, But Are At Crisis Stage

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — Rebellion on the campus is an old story around the world but recent developments at American colleges have elevated the problem to crisis proportions and made it imperative that the revolution be suppressed.

Never mind whose fault it is that things are in such a mess. The obvious fact is that a crisis exists and that forceful action is necessary lest our system of higher education comes tumbling down, to the detriment of us all. Every American's tax dollars are involved in this conflict.

Colleges exist primarily to complete the educational process of those bright boys and girls who will be leading this country in the years to come. Attending college is a privilege not open to all and the public pays at least a part of the cost of educating each student.

Even those students whose families are able to pay as high as $4,000 a year to allow attendance at our best institutions are subsidized by the public in part. At many universities it costs twice as much to educate a student as he or she pays in tuition and fees. One way or another, the public makes up the difference.

Most students appreciate the opportunity they have received, and capitalize on it. However, a minority constitute a new breed whose goal is not educational attainment but destruction of the system created for their benefit.

Firm Action Required

The suspicion is that many college administrators have been much too tolerant of the right of protest. Too many presidents and deans have pussy-footed when confronted by militant agitator. They failed to say "no" in a loud and clear voice when the situation demanded such an answer.

One of our leading educators, President James A. Perkins of Cornell University, has referred to "the delicate balance between legitimate protest and illegitimate interference with the rights of others." Unquestionably that line of demarcation has been crossed on many campuses of late often without punishment of the offenders.

One of these days, some college president is going to be confronted with some unreasonable demand by his students and he is going to say "no." And he is going to tell those who choose to cross the line of "illegitimate interference with the right of other" — you are expelled; pack and go home.

That college president is likely to be enshrined as a national hero. The nation is waiting for some such firmness in cases of obvious overstepping by students. The obvious way to make collegiate revolutionaries a thing of the past is to make them ex-students with great dispatch.

Facilities Need Purging Too

Our mythical college president hero could earn an oak leaf cluster on his medal if he would deal with equal firmness with those members of his own faculty who insist on extending their right of academic freedom into the area of flagrant violations of the law.

College chaplains who burn their draft cards in public, or join with militant students in seizing property and committing vandalism, should be given a one-way ticket back to divinity school, there to undertake course in proper behavior of religious leaders, especially those entrusted with counseling the youth of America.

Professors and other academic personnel do not lose their rights as citizens when they don a cap and gown. They can protest national or local politics as loudly as anybody else. But when they cease to act as a law-abiding citizen, they forfeit their right to instruct the flower of American youth. There are a lot of professors today who richly deserve the title of ex-professor.

Let's restore our colleges to their rightful place on the American scene, by ridding them of over-tolerant administrators, revolutionaries posing as students, and faculty members who have forgotten how to behave.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

The Sands Of Time... And Money

Some time ago, a full page advertisement appeared in the Brand, encouraging voters to write to their congressmen in protest of the proposed open housing law. The advertisement was paid for by real estate men, whose profession will be subjected to unpleasant changes upon enactment of the new law.

Austin real estate men have reacted in a like manner upon a proposal by their city commission to implement a fair housing ordinance with stronger provisions than those of the federal law. It is understandable that the real estate profession would be opposed to legislation telling agents that discrimination on racial, ethnic, or religious grounds is prohibited. Indeed, one can sympathize with a real estate agent's point of view by realizing that the real estate business makes its money in providing a discriminatory service that its customers demand.

With all its emotion-ridden themes of individual rights, however, the controversy reeks. The economic overtones are too obvious to be ignored. The almighty dollar will keep real estate men opposed to open housing until people individually accept black men as neighbors — not just in the same town, but in the same block, and may be just across the fence. Until this happens, the real estate man will unjustly suffer. He will lose money on people who will insist on selling their homes themselves in order to escape the open housing law.

George Wallace recently expounded on open housing, claiming that it would be wrong to take away one man's right just to give it to another. This is not the case, however; it is a matter of extending constitutional rights to all citizens. At this point in time, the law is constitutional. Since the constitution is what the Supreme Court interprets it to mean, there is no reason to doubt its legality.

Open housing cannot be argued on moral grounds because, in the end, these arguments amount to nothing but dollar signs. The moral arguments are not founded on a quest for rights, but on bank balances. A case may be present for individual rights, but just as strong a case is present for the rights of members of minority groups.

Legislation concerning open housing and other civil rights measures will be decided by whoever can muster the power to push it through the legislative halls of this country, whether on the local, state or federal level. The same goes for poverty programs. A new power bloc is emerging, the same way labor emerged in the 30s.

Gross injustices once dealt to laborers in this country are not ignored in history books beyond the secondary school level. A typical reaction upon reading actual accounts of brutal labor-management conflicts is to wonder how the status quo could have been so indifferent. I wonder if this is what future generations will think of us.

Sawyer and Robert Andrew Gilliam. On Thursday, five more will entrain for Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio; T. W. Hamm, J. G. Larson, J. C. Houston, Lester Wilcoxon and W. E. Curtis. A charge of murder was filed in Castro County last Thursday afternoon against an area woman, following an inquest over the body of her husband, who was killed by a shotgun charge in the back, at their home farm ten miles south of Hereford. The woman's statement to officers was that her husband, on the front porch, called to her to bring the gun, as he wished to kill a jack rabbit. As she came through the door, she stated, the gun was accidentally discharged.

Several hundred Deaf Smith County pioneers are expected to begin registering at 9 a. m. Thursday for the annual Mid-Plains Pioneer Day in the Jim Hill Hotel lobby. The new ruling allows anyone who has lived in the county at least 30 years to be eligible. A giant parade down Main Street will kick off the general public's portion of the annual Deaf Smith County Pioneer Days, which will run through Saturday with rodeo performances and dances each evening.

Wedding Vows Repeated By Waltersheid-Shuval

Marriage vows were spoken by Miss Betty Waltersheid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Waltersheid of 115 Douglas, and Andrew Jackson Shuval, son of Mrs. Helene Schouvaloff of Connecticut, in an afternoon ceremony Saturday in St. Anthony's Church. Baskets of gladiolas decorated the archway and colors were of a soft yellow, as Reverend John Vandertil of St. Anthony's conducted the double-ring marriage service.

Matron of honor for Miss Waltersheid was her sister, Jeannette Waltersheid. Doris Waltersheid, another sister, was a bridesmaid. The girls were dressed in floor length soft yellow dresses holding long-stemmed roses in their hands. Bob Slagle, of Sherman, served as best man, and Kevin McAndrews, Steve McAndrews, and Larry Waltersheid were the ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowning in an empire waist with an A-line skirt and ribbed collar. Seeded pearls trimmed the waist and collar, and the gown was covered with flower and leaf designed lace. A shoulder veil with small petals was worn, and the bride carried a bouquet of gladiolas and yellow orchids. Organist for the wedding was Sharon Cramer, and the vocalist was Ed Dziuk Jr.

The reception was held at the KC Hall with C. R. Brandon and his band playing for the guests. Turkey and ham were served in buffet style. Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Waltersheid, parents of the bride; Mrs. Helene Schouvaloff, mother of the groom, and the bride and her husband made up the receiving line. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Al Waltersheid, Carl Waltersheid, Donald Endres, of Muenster, Texas; Bob Slagle of Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baughman of Amarillo, Claudia Brunnett of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hunter of Dalhart, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Cook of Vega, Mike Gold of Wheeler, and Anthony Gabel of Dimmitt. The groom, Andrew Shuval, is a graduate of Texas A&M and then attended the University of Texas Law School. Later, he set up a private business in Hereford and presently is a candidate for District Attorney. He is acting as vice-chairman of the Democratic Delegation to the State Convention, and also is a Lion's Club member. He is also a past president of the Hereford Rider's Club.

Miss Waltersheid is a graduate of Hereford High School and attended college at Santa Fe. She is active in art, gardening and skiing.

The couple is planning on going to Bandera, Texas, for their wedding trip, later to Austin and then on to San Antonio for the Hemisfair.

After the trip, the couple will return to Hereford where Shuval will continue his law work and they will live east of town.

Richard is attending San Bernardino Valley College and will be employed during the summer as program assistant by the Boy Scouts of America, Monterey Bay Area Council, Pico Blanco Scout Reservation.

CARIBBEAN VISITORS — Mr. and Mrs. Orval Watson of 216 Northwest Drive in Hereford paused long enough during their recent trip to the Caribbean to pose for a photo with Captain Robert R. Lindquist, who was in command of the SS Constitution. The local couple left on the 30,000-ton luxury liner on May 10 from New York and made calls at playground Bermuda, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands before returning to New York May 17. The couple had made the trip to the Caribbean on the SS Independence.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

DONKEY SERENADE — When the Democratic National Convention was held in Houston in 1928, every state delegation had its own live burro, long the party symbol.

The animals were presents from Will Horwitz, a Houston theater owner, who bought a herd of 48 donkeys in the Rio Grande Valley as a publicity stunt. Actually, 50 burros arrived in Houston; two had been born en route.

Horwitz presented one of the youngsters to Al Smith, the New York governor whom the Democrats picked as their nominee for president. Mrs. Smith was so enchanted with the donkey that she sent it back to Albany in a chartered Pullman with two nursemaids in charge.

AUTHENTICITY GUARANTEED — When a brewing enemy decided to present a Lone Star Hall of History as its HemisFair exhibit, it wanted to make every display as realistic as possible.

This was accomplished in part by bringing in actual materials from the site of each event depicted. In one scene showing the Texas Cavalry, for example, the soil is from old Camp Cooper where the soldiers trained. A diorama about LaSalle uses sand from Matagorda Bay. And so on.

LAND OF THE FREE — No tolls are charged for any of the bridges, ferries, roads or other facilities operated by the Texas Highway Department.

LOVE'S LABOR LOST — Ben Milam was a brave soldier who died a hero's death, but he was a failure at romance.

His first love was Jane Long, widow of Dr. James Long, who was killed in 1821 while trying to win independence for Texas. When Mrs. Long refused Milam's hand, he proposed to Annie McKinney and she accepted.

Before they could marry, however, Milam left for a business trip to Mexico. He didn't bother to write a single letter to the waiting belle during the three years that he was gone. When Ben finally returned to claim his bride, he discovered that she had married another.

THE LAW AND THE GOSPEL — The clock tower that serves in lieu of a spire for the Baptist Church in Sherwood, Irion County, isn't there to remind the preacher when to stop.

It happens that the building now used as a church once was the county courthouse. Finished in 1901, it was the headquarters of the Irion County government for several years. When a new courthouse was built at Mertzon, the folks in Sherwood converted the old one into a church.

FIRE WATER? — Sour Lake, in Hardin County, was a health resort almost from the time it was founded in 1935. And one of its famous springs proved to be invaluable to the Confederacy during the Civil War.

This particular spring produced water with a high content of sulphuric acid. In fact, it contained so much of the chemical that it proved effective in keeping charged the batteries along the military telegraph line that stretched from Shreveport to the Texas Gulf Coast.

Income Tax Facts

Dallas — Taxpayers who misinterpreted the medical insurance premium deduction provision in preparing their Federal income tax return should use Form 1040-X in filing an amended return, Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director for northern Texas, said today.

The yellow-colored 1040-X, introduced by IRS earlier this year for amending individual income tax returns, is especially suited for correcting errors such as those made in reporting medical insurance premium deductions.

Mr. Campbell said that reports from the Southwest Service Center, which services Texas taxpayers, indicate that on their original return many taxpayers overlooked changes in the law relating to the medical insurance premium deduction. For 1967 itemized tax returns, the law provides that one half the cost of premiums paid for medical insurance, up to a maximum of $150, may be deducted without regard to the three percent of income limitation.

It is no longer necessary for a taxpayer to file another complete 1040 or 1040-A to correct error on tax returns already filed, Mr. Campbell pointed out. Furthermore, Form 1040-X not only simplifies the filing of an amended return, it also speeds up processing of additional refunds that may be due on 1967 returns.

Copies of Form 1040-X and instructions may be secured from any IRS office.

Concerning Veterans

Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q — I am a World War II veteran with a 20-year G. I. insurance endowment policy that will mature in a few months. Do I have to take the face value of the policy or can I convert this to another type of insurance?

A — You may exchange it for a policy of lesser cash value if you present evidence of good health. However, this must be done before the policy matures.

Q — I was recently separated from service. During service I was treated for a condition that has now flared up again. Can I get treatment from VA?

A — In all probability you can. You should apply to the Veterans Administration for an examination and determination that your condition is service-connected. Once this has been accomplished, you should have no trouble getting treatment from VA.

Q — I am a veteran with a service-connected condition, recognized by VA as 60 per cent disabling. Does this degree of disability entitle my children to any type of educational assistance?

No. Only children whose parent is rated by VA as 100 per cent service-connected disabled and who is permanently disabled is entitled to assistance. Such children — and children of veterans who died in service or from service-connected causes — are eligible for War Orphans Educational Assistance benefits.

NAACP Man To Speak Monday

Gillespie C. Wilson, who is from the NAACP (National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) will give an informative talk in St. Anthony's School Auditorium, Monday.

Coffee will be served at the meeting following the talk which is to begin at 8 p. m. The public is invited to attend the talk.

Iran gave women the vote in 1963; now eight women serve in Iran's parliament.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I have an extension until the middle of June to file my return as the result of illness. Is it true I'll have to pay interest on my taxes when I do file?

A — Yes, interest at the rate of six percent a year must be added to taxes that are not paid in full by the filing deadline. This interest must be paid even though a taxpayer has received an extension of time to file his return.

Q — I made a mistake on my return which led me to overstate my income by several hundred dollars. Can I file for a refund on this even though I have not received the refund I requested on my original return?

A — Yes, you can correct this filing error even though the refund on your original return has not arrived. Obtain a copy of Form 1040-X from your local IRS office and follow the instructions on this form for correcting your mistake. You will receive a separate refund for the difference between your original refund claim and the corrected claim.

Q — Are school prizes and honors taxable? I just won a science award.

A — Whether the prize is taxable or not depends on the circumstances under which it was won. If you had to perform a specific art to win the prize, such as write an essay, or develop an experiment, the prize would be taxable. A prize given in recognition of past accomplishments is not taxable if the recipient is selected without action on his part and is not expected to render future services.

Q — My son is going to work this summer. How can he get a social security card?

A — Application for a social security number should be made on Form SS-5. This form is available at local Social Security and IRS offices.

Q — Do you have any publication that shows what taxes a mail businessman has to pay?

A — A tax calendar for businessmen is part of IRS Publication 334, "Tax Guide for Small Business." To obtain a separate copy of this tax calendar send a post card to your District Director asking for Document No. 5046, "Tax Calendar and Check List for 1968."

Q — My son is taking a job this summer and plans to put most of the money he earns in the bank to pay his college expenses in the fall. If he earns over $600, will we lose our dependency exemption for him?

A — If your son is under 19 or is a full-time student, the amount of money he earns will not disqualify him from being claimed as your dependent as long as the other dependency tests are met.

Importance Of Water Inc. Listed For Area Residents

By CLIF CHAMBERLAIN
 Executive Director of Water Inc.

Increase in food production is necessary to meet demands of a growing world population, improve our standard of living and eliminating mass malnutrition.

This increase can come from putting new land into production or by increasing production from land now being farmed.

Texas has the resources for both new acreage and increased productivity, provided the needs for water are considered and met.

The United States has developed faster than most nations who also have abundant natural resources. The primary reason for the faster U. S. development has been the realization by our early leaders of the importance of food and fiber production to the nation's strength. Among other things, these leaders over the years have provided research and educational institutions in the form of land grant colleges to help to assure a strong agricultural base to our economy. A result of establishing these institutions has been development of a technology and understanding that has enabled agriculture to move forward.

Looking into the future to determine the requirements for increased world food production can be done with considerable confidence because of the direct relationship between agricultural products and life itself. A study recently completed by Texas A&M University discusses present agricultural production and projects these agricultural figures into the future.

Agricultural production is closely related to water availability for irrigation. The projections into the future were based on assumptions of water availability as water availability determines Texas' production capability.

If all water was available that was needed without consideration of cost, the maximum potential of the state to produce agricultural products would be realized. At the opposite end of the scale is an assumption that no state development of water resources is undertaken and no additional water becomes available for agriculture. This will cause a decreasing contribution of Texas to agricultural production due to decreasing ground water supplies.

The real picture is somewhere between the extreme of all the water needed versus no development of water resources. The amount of development depends upon the amount of effort we all put into securing additional sources of water and in realistic planning for import and use of that water.
