Red Cross Work Detailed; Awards Given At Meeting

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Sammy Belk, a Red Cross field director from Sheppard Air Force Base at Wichita Falls who had spent two years in Vietnam, spoke to the Hereford Chapter of the American Red Cross at the Hickory Log during their annual meeting following ceremonies where awards were presented to several local people for outstanding service.

Belk, with the Red Cross since 1965 after military service prior to this time, maintained that the Vietnam conflict was affecting the Red Cross differently because it is affecting the people differently. In the past, we had all the community backing in the world. But it is not true to day. During World War II, there were all kinds of movies about what was going on and the people were up on what we were trying to do through them. But how many movies have you seen about Vietnam? How many television programs? Vietnam has often no such publicity.

He felt that this area of communication had made it extremely hard for the Red Cross to gain the needed funds to carry on their work.

However, it was reported that Hereford has passed its goal by a few dollars.

Belk said, "I feel very concerned." He explained that he had two sons in the Navy — 20 and 21 years old — who are now serving in the Gulf of Tonkin off Vietnam. "I am very distressed that there is no publicity. This is not what I encountered while I was in the service during World War II."

He made reference to a seeming lack of interest because of this from the American people, along with the anti-war demonstrations, but pointed out that the Red Cross still had a job to do that was equally as important.

Most servicemen in Vietnam originally were career men," he pointed out. "At the beginning there was no call on reserves as in the Korean War — no large draft like there was in World War II."

Because of this, he explained, the Red Cross had to help the career man who was usually a married man with children, with car payments home, etc. "They were transferred to Vietnam on a few days' notice and were moved overnight. They just couldn't leave these responsibilities behind, and we had to help them."

And he explained that there were no green rookies in action at first — all well trained and apparently very dedicated men. "But they felt like they were being held back — with one hand tied behind their back." He referred to the various restrictions in which they had been placed under combat. "Imagine D-Day on Normandy if the high command had said there would be no more troops. They in Vietnam wonder: How are we supposed to win the war?"

Belk could only relate the war in Vietnam to our Indian wars back in the old days. "That's the best way to describe the terrain and battle there — except that it is done with modern weapons."

But he maintained that, although the men lack our support there, morale is skyhigh. "Maybe it's because they know they will be there only one year and be pulled out — not like World War II when we didn't know how long we were going to be fighting, all the way to the end."

Another reason may be, he assumed, that they receive at least one week of leave out of Vietnam, in Taiwan, Japan, Hawaii, etc. "And they are tremendous at removing the wounded in Vietnam, with fast medical care."

Consequently, Belk pointed out another problem for the Red Cross, which did have to do with current publicity.

"In the past wars, the people back home didn't know about the wounded until the G. I. was well enough to write home. Now they can get it on T. V. and from the newspapers. And, they might receive a letter from someone one day and then see a T. V. news clip the following day showing a battle in the same area the letter had come from. Maybe mention the same company. It scares them. Naturally, they turn to the Red Cross after seeing this news."

How is the Red Cross set up in Vietnam?

The Red Cross is only in Vietnam because there are chapters here at home who support them," he pointed out.

The records — which change overnight, he said — show that there are 39 to 40 field offices there, with numerous sub-offices in the "boondocks." There are also 13 staff hospitals and two hospital ships with over 350 Red Cross personnel of all types. "With that number you can see that it is stretched pretty thin."

And he said that in Thailand that there were 35 to 40 Red Cross personnel there.

To my knowledge, only three Red Cross personnel have been killed in Vietnam, and two ladies were wounded in a helicopter under fire.

The Red Cross people there are now rotated every 12 months.

Belk said that the equipment they use there is no better and no worse than that of the armed service have, but in a lot of cases this was under par. "But the communications are terrible there. A problem is getting information out."

He listed the relaxing of mess

More Jobs Needed For YES Program

The Texas Employment Commission now has more kids available than jobs.

TEC manager Lester Rape reported that they are very interested in having businessmen, housewives, etc., call his office when they have openings that can be filled under the Youth Employment Service (YES), so that the demand can meet the supply.

Rape listed the number for them to call as 364-2776. The office is located at Seventh and 25 Mile Ave.

"If the employer has a job opening," Rape pointed out, "they are actually doing a service for the local teenagers and the community. Our past experience with this program has shown that a number of our placements have done such a good job that their employers have requested them by name again."

He said that it has been explained to all the teenagers in

YES that they must do the job assigned them professionally and "not as they would do it at home."

Rape also pointed out this included any kind of work. The purpose of the program is to obtain a job for the teenager in the Hereford area for the summer months.

"It is a good idea for the teenager to have a job," he explained, "whether they need the money or not. It is actually the need of a job." On the other hand, he said that TEC did not expect the employer to create a job for anyone but to call them whenever the need arises.

These jobs include farm work, baby sitting, repair work, deliveries, etc. "Anything the teenager can do under the Child Labor Laws," he said.

Rape reported that last year there were not enough jobs offered for girls as he thought there should have been, and they hoped to correct that situation this year.

But he emphasized that TEC needed jobs for both boys

City Commission Has Varied Agenda

Edd Warren, W. T. (Tross) Carmichael and E. R. Kendall were named to the Tax Equalization Board for Hereford during the regular meeting of the City Commission Monday night.

Commissioners also appointed Charlie Owens as a member of the Board of Electrical Examiners. Owens was recommended by the other board members to fill the vacancy left when the term of Chuck Laing expired recently.

Also acting on a recommendation from the city's electrical inspector, commissioners amended the electrical code to require underground electrical service to customers to have a minimum cover of 36 inches. The cover presently is 24 inches, but the new ruling is expected to create more safety.

Three separate bids for water line and booster station, water storage tanks and three water wells were approved by commissioners, but the bids then were tabled for 60 days — contingent on what action is taken by Wilson and Co. in regards to construction of a large meat packing plant about 3 miles west of Hereford.

Wilson and Co. is expected to release bids for their construction in a few weeks, and the City of Hereford has agreed to supply water at the plant.

Mrs. Rowley will speak informally and answer questions about starting and carrying on a community theater. Purpose of today's meeting is to explore various possibilities rather than to form an organization immediately, says Mrs. R. C. Godwin, fine arts committee chairman.

Circus Funnyman Has Plied His Trade Over The World

By TYLER VANCE
Staff Writer

Burt McClellan likes to make people laugh. He does a good job too, because for the past 30 years he has been making people laugh all over the United States, as well as several foreign countries.

McClellan is a clown. To his public he is Mickey, and to his friends just Burt.

At 60 years old, with seven grandchildren, he is still going strong. San Francisco is home for Burt, when he gets there (He was home only six weeks last year).

How do clowns get into the act? Burt says he was just a kid who wanted to join the circus.

"When I first started with circuses, we traveled in sleeper cars, worked and ate under canvases and got cheap wages," said the long time clown recalling his first experiences with circus life.

Money wise, the pay is better now, although there are more expenses. Now, a clown has to provide his own transportation. I have two trailers, one at home.

It's necessary to like kids, the clown said.

"Once in a while you'll meet a real stinker, like the one who kicked me in the shins not too long ago."

"Clown Mickey says he enjoys working with the kids that the Shriners bring in."

Its real tragic, seeing crippled children in the stands, I try to play with them mostly."

But circuses aren't all play, there's more to getting a show set up and taken down than meets the eye of the normal spectator.

"Most circus shows today are one day stands, which means we have to set it up, and take it down all in the same day. I remember one time we got the show taken down about 11 p. m., traveled all night, reached our next lot at 4 a. m. and went to work setting it up at 7 a. m. We then gave three performances and moved on."

He also added that 90 per cent of the circus performers time is spent in traveling.

"Clowns must be ready for anything," said Mickey. "In case the act isn't ready when the time comes, the clowns must entertain the crowd while they get ready. We also do other things, like distributing the toys that are given away, and 'meeting and greeting' the kids before the show. Clowns have to have something 'up their sleeve' all the time."

Under his make up, a clown can hide his real face, but sometimes his feelings and emotions show through.

"There are sometimes I don't feel like working. Just like any other job though, you have to do. You have to be able to control your temper also."

For Mickey, it only takes about 10 minutes to put on his make-up. He uses a zinc-oxide base paint, which besides serving as his basic make-up, also helps keep his skin in shape.

"That's why clowns never have wrinkles," says Burt.

Other make-up items include powder, grease eye pencil and a bottle of baby lotion, used to take all the make up off.

For a traveling companion, the clown has his dog, Suzie. Together they have traveled to various points all over the United States.

Burt likes to travel. He has been to Japan, South America, Cuba and the Philippines, during the course of his circus work.

THE MAKING OF A CLOWN — Burt McClellan, a clown with the Shrine Circus which was in town Monday, is shown getting ready for the performance. At 60 years of age, "Mickey", which is Burt's clown name, is still going strong.

Clint Coneway Tells Of Navy In Vietnam

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Navy Lieutenant Clint Coneway had been branding cattle here all through Monday morning. Although he said that he had been around cattle all his life, it was a new experience for him.

On Tuesday he left Hereford for his second deployment to Vietnam. He will return to the USS Stoddard on June 10 and said that he would probably reach Vietnam some time in July.

Coneway, 25 years old this month, graduated from Hereford High School in 1961, and the University of Texas in 1966, with a degree in Engineering Science. He received a Navy scholarship and completed the Navy midshipman program while in college. On the USS Stoddard, a destroyer, he is navigator.

"It's really a dirty war —" But he stopped. "Maybe I shouldn't start out by saying that." He was more interested in explaining the Navy's operation in Vietnam.

"The Navy is divided into four phases — carriers for air strikes on North Vietnam. Then we have coastal interdiction (to prohibit) — destroyers and minesweepers. We try to interdict the North Vietnamese before they get there with supplies.

"The river boats, or PT boat type operation on rivers and bays of South Vietnam, are with in Vietnam itself. And the supply ships, with food, ammunition, movies, recreation, etc. They also supply the Marines on the beach.

But on the Stoddard, he explained, they generally operate as protection for aircraft carriers. "Or anything that might come up."

(On St. Patrick's Day last year, the Stoddard was attempting to rescue a Navy aviator who was downed about 5,500 yards off the beach of North Vietnam. The shore defense sites opened fire on the destroyer. But Coneway successfully directed his ship into the shallow waters near the aviator and, although it was damaged by enemy fire, it continued to blast the shore defense until the aviator was rescued via helicopter.

Coneway was awarded the Navy Commendation Medal for exceptional performance of duty for his part in the action.)

He said that the most interesting part to him was the Sea Dragon Operation, now going on there.

"This operation is north of the DMZ. We try to stop the enemy there. They are picked up on radar. We are also directed to shoot at selected points on the beach — definite points. And there is so much shooting (return fire) at you, that you can't help being hit."

Then he told about the Market Patrol — minesweepers, PT boats, etc. — who stop and inspect all shipping for supplies. "If Viet Cong supplies are located, they are turned over to the South Vietnamese."

This patrol also acts as support for the Marines on beach, he said. They will call for gunfire on support approaches and ask that the Navy fire on any type of target.

Coneway paused. "It's not a dirty war, it's political."

He had reference to their positions.

"You have to be careful not to shoot the South Vietnamese. They look so much like the North Vietnamese it's hard to tell them apart. You have to be well trained to tell the difference. That is one of our biggest problems."

He made reference to the accidental killing of the South Vietnamese by the firing of a rocket Sunday and indicated that mistaken identity may have been the cause. "Yes our biggest problem is identification — who you are shooting at."

He explained, however, that the river boats were the most dangerous operation. "They go on rivers that are 50 feet wide with jungle on both sides. They are the ones who have a heck of a time of it. I really feel sorry for those guys." They check for mines, etc.

Coneway pointed out that they can only strike in the southern portion of North Vietnam now, since the peace talks have started in Paris.

"Generally, destroyers stay off the coast from 30 to 40 days at a time," he said. "Then we go to places like ports on the South China Sea. Or we go to Hong Kong for R and R (rest and relaxation). But while we are out, we usually get about four hours sleep per night. We stay up pretty long hours, in a continual state of readiness — firing back at shore batteries. So when we get R and R, we like to catch up on our sleep."

He said that some of the ships hope to go to Australia this time — "it would be like a three-week liberty."

But he emphasized, "I can't say enough for the supply ships — movies, ice cream, mail, food. No problem. They always see to it you get as much as you need. They have my respect."

Coneway said, "Everyone is dedicated to their job. You don't hear anyone over there questioning our being there."

He pointed out that he had spent some time recently in California, where there are a number of anti-war demonstrations and that sort of thing. "Coming back to Hereford is like coming into a different world. The boys who were brought up here are not like that at all. They must have been brought up differently. Here they go about it as if it were a part of their lives. (to go into the service)."

He said that the people of the Far East take pride in their countries. The Far East people have an intense pride in their countries — especially the Japanese. And I have had a chance to learn that all people are different — how they think, why they think the way they do."

Asked about the three Vietnam casualties which Hereford had had, he said that he did not know Arthur Tijerina or Thomas Galvez but that he had known James Pavlicek well before going into the service. "His death really got me. Jim had such a good education and so much to live for."

ages which included childbirth, even a child desertion case back home. He also mentioned a case of an international problem where the Red Cross was able to take a hand, involving the United States forces taking a Chinese boat and crew under mistaken identity.

"We perform services," he said, "that couldn't be taken care of without the Red Cross. I can think of no one else who could do them."

Belk told about "Diddy Bags" — that he had helped distribute about 35,000 of them. These bags include items that the G. I. can use — from games to waterproof bags for personal effects.

"When the servicemen get something from home other than from his own family, it is highly recognized," he emphasized. "Most of them expect something from their families, but when they receive something from someone else back home it makes a tremendous difference."

He described the Red Cross recreation program in Vietnam — where they have tape recorders, record players, etc. "We have girls in the fixed recreation centers — who also go out into the boonocks to isolated places. Younger fellows — older fellows — they all enjoy it. And I don't know how you could place a dollar value on it."

Belk concluded, "As the father of two sons over there, I appreciate what the American people do for them."

Receiving awards were Char-bite Hill, Pam Miller and Dana Rush. They received the Water Safety Award.

Mrs. Margaret Durham, as an authorized Home Nursing Instructor and Homemaker

But Coneway's main point toward the serviceman in Vietnam was:

"Letters. We get a true feeling of what is going on at home through them. We prize every one of them. Please tell everybody to write — whether they know them too well or not. Everything there is so different than anything we have ever known before, and the letters are from people and places that are so much closer to us. Just write to anyone you know."

Coneway is not married. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. Paul Coneway of Rio Vista.

He didn't say whether the y branded cattle or not in Vietnam. But staying from 30 to 40 days off the coastline wouldn't give him much of an opportunity to find out. He expressed the desire to see more of inland Vietnam on this tour.

We have really been having sweet music the past few days, since it has been spring house cleaning time at our house. I have been having to stay inside and work. My friend the mockingbird sits atop the telephone pole and gaily sings his cheery and inviting songs. Seems he really says "Come on out, Come 'ere come 'ere". Perhaps I noticed it more because I really did want to go outside and join him in the spring song.

Speaking of spring house cleaning, NATURE has been busy with her chore too. Quoting from James Lane Allen, "I love to see Nature do her spring house cleaning, with the rain-clouds for her waterbuckets and the wind for her brooms. What an amount of drenching and sweeping she can do in a day. How she dashes painful and painful into every corner, till the whole earth is as clean as a new floor." She attacks many of the accumulations of winter and with her mighty brooms, she sweeps and cleans every nook and cranny, also brushes down all the cobwebs, and sends the unsightly, unclean things collected in her mighty rivers on their way. This done, she begins to hang up soft curtains at the forest windows, with overdrapes of beautiful flowering plants, and then spreads the floor with a brand new carpet of emerald green loveliness. Before she puts on the new carpet often she uses the hail stones to beat the earth clean and to re-new it. This all done invitations are sent out to the birds and bees to come over and spend the summer. The invitations are accepted and the earth becomes busy, busy with activities."

One of the pretty places that has been made ready in Hereford for a happy summer is Dameron Park, which is also one of our memorials. It was originally known as Lake Park, and Mayor Knight was instrumental in its beginning. One of the hazards of water accumulation from spring rains, was in time eliminated by engineers. In the early days, this was a favorite place for boating in spring time and in winter for skating. After the drainage problem was solved, plans went forward to take it an attractive place for recreation. Mayor Dameron did much to make this possible and in 1952 after his death in November the park was named in his honor. Today it is one of the best used areas in our city.

Each time I drive by the park and see the number of children and adults enjoying its spaciousness and facilities, I am reminded of Mayor Dameron and his many contributions to the welfare and happiness of our town. When one has been away on vacation or for other reasons, this is one of the welcoming sights that makes us GLAD to be home again.

Another memorial that has been used much and been a blessing, is the Childrens Wing at The Deaf Smith County Hospital, which was named in honor of Mr. Jim Hill. Mr. Hill was a man who had a big heart, and loved children, and had at heart their interests and welfare. He made generous provisions in his will for many avenues of helpfulness to our people.

Am sure that there are others Memorials, but I have not found data to substantiate such. Anyone knowing of other please let me know and I will be pleased.

Hereford is a more beautiful town, because of special plantings done by civic groups and Garden Clubs.

The Bud to Blossom Garden club planted and has added too and maintained a PEONY Garden planting at the Community Center. They have also shared in plantings at Kings Manor. This has been a continuing project since the establishment of King's Manor. Before school integration this club did some landscaping for the school grounds where the colored people attended school. The school house was located in South Hereford, and through their efforts there was some beauty around the building for the children.

Their projects were financed by personal contributions and Bake and Candle sales.

The Garden Beautiful Club has been active in many projects in Hereford. One of their first was their sharing in the landscaping of The Deaf Smith Hospital Grounds, another Civic Project of Beautification was at Munity Center, and then they too have shared in the landscaping of King's Manor grounds since it was established. They have made many contributions to the beauty and welfare of our community. The major part of this being financed by funds acquired through their annual Tour of Homes, which in itself has added much interest and stimulated the ideals of civic beauty.

The Hereford Garden Club, being the oldest of the Garden Clubs has perhaps aided in more areas of Civic Beautification and Development. Through-out the years they have promoted Clean Up, Paint Up and Fix Up campaigns, Christmas Light Contests, and Beautification.

This club was the one organization that did much to secure for Hereford systematic sanitation pick-up service. Mrs. Homer Brumley spearheaded this committee and searched the city records and led in securing a petition for the establishment of this most needed city maintained service. Northwest School, Hereford High School, Bluebonnet School, and LaPlata School have all been assisted by this club in their landscaping. Church grounds, landscaping the Post Office, business houses, Main Street cleanliness and plantings, vacant lot clean-up projects, selected areas in the various parks, and they too have been active in assisting with the landscaping of King's Manor and West Gate grounds. Various members of the club have been instrumental in the landscaping of individual home grounds, and of business grounds.

The Junior Garden Club, with the assistance of their leaders, Mrs. Brink, Mrs. Tom Sawyer, and others have also had a part in planting of annuals and shrubs at Kings Manor and West Gate, which are homes for the Golden Aged.

The Pioneer Study Club spearheaded by Mrs. H. C. Hromas, has created one of the beauty spots of the town, at Mother's Park, on Park Avenue and Main. Their members have also been most active in seeking to make Hereford more beautiful by their annual sale of Holland Bulbs, and plant exchanges. They have not only sold thousands of bulbs each year, but have given hundreds for other organizations to plant.

Again the listings may not be complete, but am open to information on others.

May friends say that the world is more beautiful because YOU have passed this way?

Sgt. and Mrs. Eual L. Perry returned to their home in Vanuys, Calif., after visiting here with Mrs. Everett Crisp and other relatives. They visited her mother Mrs. A. C. Blakenship in Hobbs before leaving on Saturday afternoon.

Margaret Sheffield of Oklahoma City arrived here for a two-week visit with her sister Mrs. Everett Crisp. The two will leave on 6 of June for her home in Oklahoma and will also visit in Pittsburg, Okla., with an uncle and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Scott.

Mrs. Don Heddings and children of Clovis visited on Monday and Tuesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morrison and Judith. Donna and Rhonda will remain for a longer visit with their grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Macivane of Pueblo, Colo., arrived on Wednesday to visit with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Drake. This is the first time in two years the families have been together. The Macivanes returned home on Monday.

Mrs. Edna Hurd of Tacoma, Wash., has been here visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Matthews. She was here for the Pioneer celebration held on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Fulkerson of Roswell spent Wednesday here with her sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyd. The Fulkersons manage a motel so it is hard for them to visit more than one day at a time.

removed. Sometimes it is almost necessary to cut the plant down to within a few inches of the top soil, because it has so much dead wood. This is especially true of spirea which has been planted a long time.

Following the hail damage to plants it will be necessary to cut off damaged leaves, and stems and clean around the base of the plants. While doing this remove old and faded blooms. Our flowering plants are always more attractive if kept well groomed.

Do not forget to remove all seed pods from the spring flowering bulbs and also the iris (unless perhaps in the later you would like to leave a seed pod to each clump and try raising some from seed).

Art and I had a most enjoyable evening last week. We visited a number of our friends and the visits were made usually from the backyard entrance so we could see the gardens. Some of those visited were the Dick Barnards. The roses were beautiful, and was thrilled to see the roses that Dick had rooted himself, and how well they have done. The Don Baugous' were very busy in their iris beds, removing those they did not want to continue to grow, and grooming the new varieties which they are to keep. This seemed to be a family project as the sons were assisting. Don and the Mrs. have some beautiful new iris.

They gave me a bouquet and we enjoyed the lovely blooms for several days. An especially good keeper was a deep yellow iris whose name is ASPEN GLOW, and it really did glow. While visiting in their garden we noted the lovely Catalpa tree in full bloom which was in Harry Lomas garden. It was a lovely picture, etched against the pretty evening sky. Another garden that I always love to visit is the Veigels. I always go via the alley. The roses were a profusion of bloom, and annuals and perennials were starting their seasonal bloom. This is a garden which receives loving and tender care, and pays off in big dividends.

On our tour we were pleased to see the fruit trees, which had promise of good eating. In the Tiefert garden (vegetable) the cherries were showing color and really glowed in the sunset hour. Visiting is PLEASURABLE GLAD.

Astros, Sonics Take Wins In First Tri-City Contests

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

Opening games for both the Hereford Colt league teams turned into slugfests and the two teams swept past their opponents in their respective games Monday night.

On the local diamond, the Astros battered the hapless Nazareth Braves to the tune of 9-1 on the six-hit pitching of Alan Wagner. Wagner went the distance for the Astros in striking out 9 batters and walking only two.

Holding the visitors scoreless in the top of the first, the locals garnered two runs in the bottom of the first to take a lead which they never relinquished. Scoring three more runs in the bottom of the second, and then going on to add at least one run in every other inning except the fourth, the Astros piled up 8 hits while 11 of the players received base-on-balls. The lone Nazareth run came in the top of the sixth frame in the dying minutes of the contest.

Bill McQueary and Harold Schumacher were the only two Astro players to connect for extra base hits as they both hit doubles. Wagner, McQueary, and Jeff Loerwald were the three players to collect two hits each in the initial outing of the team.

In the second game of the season, the Hereford Sonics blasted their way to victory over the Dimmitt White Sox by a resounding score of 9-5 to record their first victory.

Keith Anderson took on pitching duties for the Sonics as he also went the distance in their game. Anderson struck out 7 White Sox batters in walking only 2.

Playing on White Sox territory proved to be an early game handicap as the team's defensive unit couldn't hold the host team and allowed them to score four runs in their half of the frame. With they themselves going scoreless for the first inning, the Sonics came back in the top of the second to cut the host team's lead to three runs as they pushed one man across the plate. After allowing the Dimmitt team no runs in the bottom of the second, the locals came back with a heavy barrage of hitting as Anderson became the big gun for them as he slammed a two-run homer. Besides Anderson's homer, three additional runs were added to the Sonics' score to give them a lead which they never gave up.

The team added three more runs in the remainder of the contest to end their scoring and allowed the opposition only one run before the game ended with the Sonics coming out victors by a 9-5 margin.

Ten hits were collected by the Sonics in their rout of the White Sox with five of these being for extra bases. Connecting for extra base hits were Anderson, John Page, Gary Larson, John Sparks, and Tommy Stoy. All of these had doubles with the exception of Anderson's homer and Stoy's triple.

The next games for the league will feature the two local teams battling out for the first place spot today with game time set at 6 p. m.

Project Is Set By Little League

As an annual project, Hereford Little League players will go from house to house Saturday morning selling candy. And they will be in uniform.

"This is the only money-raising project we have," Mrs. James Higgins, chairman of the Little League mothers, said.

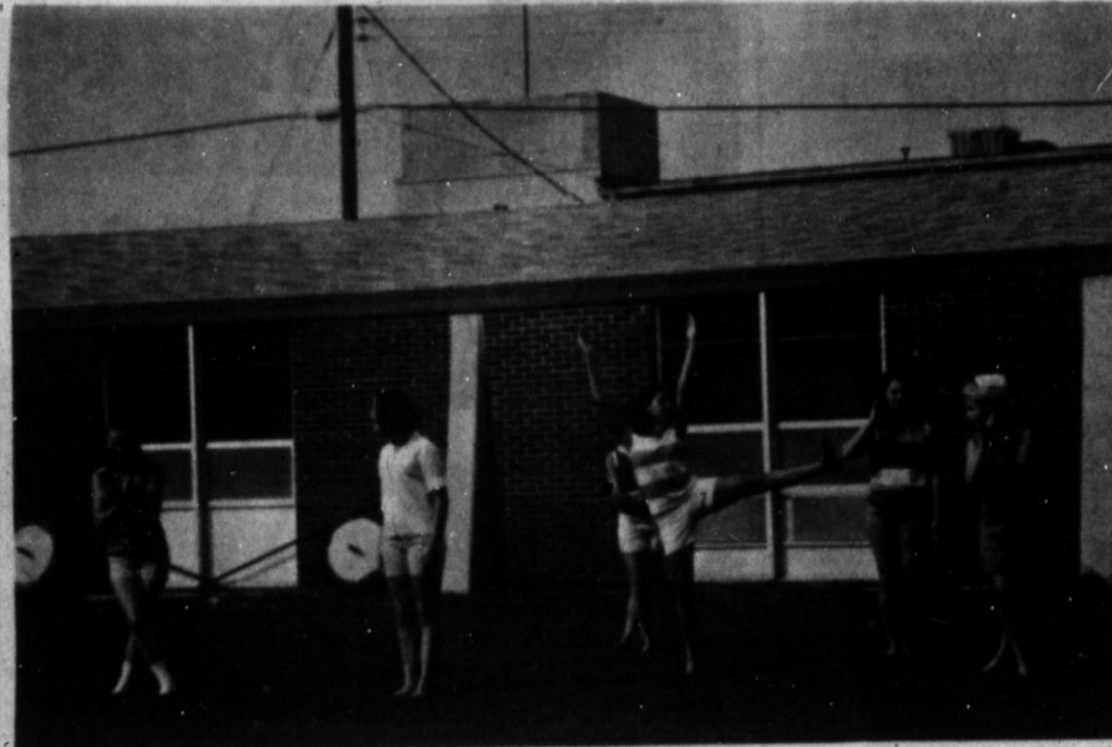

The money from the sale of the candy will go toward the Little League's benefit.

Players may meet at the Plains Insurance Company at 116 S. 25 Mile Ave. at 9:30 a. m. Saturday for their candy. Mrs. Higgins reported.

Meeting Is Set For Softballers

Redbirds, Rebs Lose Three Games To Amarillo Sunday

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

Disaster struck three times Sunday when both the American Legion and Irrigation League teams met defeat at the hands of two Amarillo teams in each of their leagues.

What started out as a close contest for the American Legion team ended up with the Tascosa Sheriffs bursting loose in the latter frames to take the contest 16-3.

After falling behind in the early part of the game by a 1-0 margin, the Redbirds fought back to take a 3-1 lead behind the pitching of starter Lynn Betts. After holding the host teams off until the bottom of the sixth frame, the locals just couldn't muster enough power to halt the Sheriffs as they exploded for 8 big runs in the bottom of the seventh.

Playing with a minimum of players, the locals fought back but to no avail as in the final two frames the Sheriffs slowly added more runs to their score to take the contest by a final score of 16-3. Jack Pierce, winning pitcher for the host team, sent 14 Redbirds down swinging as he notched his first victory of the season in as many starts. Tagged with the loss was Berry Johnson as he was assisted on the mound by Kenny Hagar and Tom McGowan in the latter part of the contest.

Things turned out even worse for the Irrigation League Rebels as they played a seven-inning double-header against the Amarillo Graham Plow and fell in both games by scores of 12-1 and 7-4.

In the first tilt, the host team from Amarillo didn't allow the Rebs a score in the game until the third frame and then stopped them cold as they went on to add up their 12. Scoring the lone run for the Rebels was Terry Hill.

Scoring for the Amarillo team came with one in the first, five in the third, five in the fifth, and one in the sixth. Winning pitcher for the Graham Plows was K. Williams while Ed Mims absorbed the loss for the Rebels.

The second game of the double-header was no run-away as the two teams battled it out with a tight finish ending the contest. The Amarillians allowed the Rebels one run in the first, one in the fifth, one in the sixth, and one last run in the seventh, while they themselves got two in first, three in the second, and two in the fourth. The deciding blow came in the second frame when the opposing shortstop connected for a three-run homer to kill the Rebels hopes.

Winning pitcher for the Amarillians was Cramer as Nacho Gonzales was credited with the loss, in the second game.

The next game for the American Legion team will be this Saturday, June 8 when they travel to Tulla to play in a 7:30 game. The Rebels will journey to Friona tonight where the winner of the contest will take over second place in league standings.

Benny Womble, manager for the American Legion team, has also ask that all boys who are still interested in playing with this league are urged to contact either him or coach Bill Defee. There are only 10 boys out now and more players are desperately needed.

Red Easton Takes Speedway Races

Red Easton, owner and operator of the Hi-Way 60 Truck Stop, drove his personally sponsored car to victory Sunday at the Hereford Speedway as he grabbed the trophy dash, and the main event.

Racing results were: Trophy dash: 1. Red Easton and 2. James Bradley. First heat: L. V. Watts; 2. James Davis and 3. Junior Polk. Second heat: 1. Clyde Seance, Amarillo; 2. Red Easton; 3. Mike Burns. First Semi-Main: 1. Coy House; 2. Bill Paetzold, and 3. L. V. Watts.

Second Semi-Main: 1. Mike Burns, Amarillo; 2. Red Easton and 3. Bill Byers.

Main Event: 1. Red Easton; 2. Bill Byers; 3. L. V. Watts and 4. James Davis.

Trophy girl for the afternoon's activities was Marilyn Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Murphy.

The Chevy-Ford duel continued as reinforcements were called in by the down-trodden Fords as Coy House, driving a new car sponsored by Louie Squire Dirt and Paving Construction, made his appearance at the track. Additional out-of-town cars and some local ones are expected for next week's races, it was announced.

Races begin at 2 p. m. every Sunday afternoon with prizes given to lucky ticket holders.

Camp Project Is Terminated

The Summer Day Camp project has been dropped, according to Don Blankenship, chairman of the Recreation Committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

It was reportedly done so through lack of interest. A large number of questionnaires had been mailed out by the committee and only some 36 were returned by parents.

The committee felt that a minimum of 100 would be needed for the continuance of the project.

Baseball Clinic Is Rescheduled; Try-Out Camp To Be Saturday

High school baseball coach Jack Waggoner has again reminded boys and their parents that the baseball clinic which was scheduled to begin June 3rd has been cancelled and will be held beginning June 10th.

Waggoner, who has been away from town for the past few weeks, has not had the opportunity to send all the application forms out and must do so before the clinic is to be held. The clinic is to be for boys 8 through 12 years of age.

The school will last three weeks and will deal in the major fundamentals of hitting, throwing, sliding, fielding and the boys who participate will be arranged in age groups to make for a more uniform clinic. The three weeks will give the enrolled boys 18 hours of hard work on correct baseball fundamentals.

Waggoner, who had 30 boys participate in the school last year, plans to keep the groups to a maximum of 12 boys.

Temporary class schedule, depending on the number of enrollment, will follow this pattern: age 8, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 8-10 a. m.; age 9, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 10-12 a. m.; age 10, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 8-10 a. m.; and age 11, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 10-12 a. m.

Horse Show To Be Held At Vega

Ralph Guest of Adrian, president of the Junior Horsemen Association in Vega, has announced that a registered Quarter Horse show will be held there Friday at the JHA Arena.

Trophies will be presented to the first place winners and the second place finishers will receive ribbons. Those finishing fourth, fifth, and sixth, will also receive ribbons. A special trophy will be presented to the high-point horse of the show.

The show will begin at 9 a. m. Friday with the competition of halter classes, with W. R. Collins of Zephyr acting as judge.

Parents who plan to have their sons participate in this school, are urged to get their enrollment forms in as quickly as possible. The cost of the school is set at $25 and checks should be made payable to Jack Waggoner. If more information is desired, persons are to contact Waggoner at 125 Juniper or call him at 364-4427.

YANKEE TRY OUTS
Also Jack Allen has announced that Hereford will host a New York Yankee try-out camp this Saturday at the Hereford High School diamond for boys interested in making baseball a future.

Hereford Realtors Have Plans For Convention, Action Program

An action program to "MAKE AMERICA BETTER" will be launched in this state when more than 1,000 Texas Realtors and their Associates convene in Galveston June 12-15, it was announced today by HAROLD KIDS, president of the Hereford Board of Realtors.

Kids and at least one other Hereford realtor will be attending the Galveston meeting. The other delegate or delegates will be chosen when the organization meets next Tuesday.

"The 'Make America Better' program with its seven specific objectives is directed toward solving the major problems of American cities and towns."

Kids reported, "Designed by the 85,000 member National Association of Real Estate Boards, the 'Make America Better' program will be introduced in Hereford and other Texas communities by dedicated local Realtors and their Associates," Kids continued.

"This program is practical, sensible and workable. It is also much needed in America today. It is for today — to build the better tomorrow in which every citizen of this country will want to share!"

"Realtors of Hereford have a long concerned themselves with the orderly growth and progress of this city, Kids concluded.

"Our members have worked diligently to make Hereford a better place in which to work and live. Soon now, two members of our Board will bring home from the TREA Convention a vigorous NEW program within which every segment of Hereford's cultural, economic, governmental and religious society can unite to achieve the worthwhile results every thinking American knows is needed now."

Fort Worth Realtor A. L. Purvis, President of the Texas Real Estate Association, outlines the seven objectives of the "Make America Better" program as (1) Encourage building rehabilitation and construction, with emphasis on housing, (2) Help provide education and training in living habits, to prevent property destruction that inhibits investment, (3) Modify unduly restrictive practices that increase residential construction costs and inhibit employment therein, (4) Work for education and training at earlier ages to provide employment capabilities and incentive's (5) Seek to improve attitudes toward law violation, law enforcement, and juvenile delinquency, (6) Assist property owners in marketing housing on a non-discriminatory basis, still preserving their freedom of contract, (7) Assist local organizations, and coordinate efforts to achieve the objectives of this program.

"This is a program," President Purvis concluded, "That can lead our country out of the disorder and uncertainty so prevalent today. It is based on human rights and human values, of which property rights are a basic foundation."

Wildlife Hearings Are Set For Area

AUSTIN—Interest in the 1968 hunting season will get a shot in the arm June 10 when the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department begins holding public hearings in some 213 counties throughout the State.

Deaf Smith County will hold its public hearing on June 10 at the County Courthouse in Hereford. The meeting will begin at 10 a.m. Other surrounding counties which will hold hearings include Castro, June 10 at 8 p.m. in the Courthouse in Dimmitt; Farmer, June 11 at 10 a.m. in the County Courthouse in Farwell; and Oldham, June 10, at 2 p.m. in the County Courthouse in Vega.

Hearings will be held only in those counties where the Department has been delegated the authority by the Legislature to regulate the taking of wildlife and fish. The only standard change to be proposed at the hearings this year will be to close the alligator season in counties under regulatory authority where the season has not already been closed.

At the hearings, Department personnel will present the recommended seasons and bag limits for species under regulatory authority of the Department. Sportsmen, landowners and other interested persons are invited to attend and participate in these meetings. Department biologists and game management officers will be on hand to answer questions concerning the proposed seasons, bag limits, and means and methods of taking wildlife species.

These proposed changes will not become effective until they are approved by the Parks and Wildlife Commission which is scheduled to meet prior to the opening of the seasons later this year.

Firemen Will Attend Meeting

The State Convention of the Fire Marshals Association, to be held at Austin next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, will be represented from Hereford by fire chief Jap Dickerson; Earl Phillips, a past president of the state; W. P. Hagar, W. O. Witherspoon and Glenn Witherspoon.

Also attending will be the wives of these men, who represent the Hereford Volunteer Firemen Auxiliary.

Fellowships Are Offered By Tech

College graduates with a bachelor's degree, who would like to reach in elementary school, are being offered fellowships by the Texas Tech Graduate School.

It does not matter what field the bachelor's degree covers. However, to qualify, graduates must be residents of towns from 10,000 to 35,000 in population size within 150 miles from Lubbock. These qualifications must be met before they will be considered for these fellowships. Graduates should not be active in the teaching profession at this time, nor have more than 12 hours toward a Master's degree. They also must want to teach elementary school.

Deadline for the transcript submissions and other material is June 15, 1968.

The purpose of the program is to encourage college graduates to prepare themselves for elementary teaching and special attention will be given to preparation for working with Latino students.

The program leads toward teacher certification and a master's degree, and each fellowship carries a stipend of $2,000 for the nine months period beginning in September. Tuition is free and there will be an additional $400 dollars for each eligible dependent. Summer school carries $400 plus $206 for each eligible dependent.

Those interested in this program should contact Robert Holman, assistant superintendent, Hereford Independent School District, P. O. Box 1698, Hereford, Texas, 79045. Holman may also be reached by telephoning 364-0606.

Summer Church Assistant Here

Rick Truitt of Quanah arrived this week to serve as summer associate minister of First Christian Church in the internship program which has supplied a student minister to assist in church activities each summer for the past eight years.

Truitt will be a senior at Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, next term. For the past two years he has served on the State Campus Youth Council, a unit of the Campus Christian Fellowship, and during the past year was a member of the Regional Committee for the Universal Christian Movement.

His parents reside in Quanah and he was graduated from high school in that north-central Texas city.

Duties of the associate minister here, explains the Rev. Gene Brink, minister, include assistance in worship services, preaching, calls, and work with young people and church committees.

Tech Delegation To Visit Here

A delegation of Texas Tech coaches have listed Hereford as one of the many area stop-over places in their tour of the Panhandle, it has been announced.

This delegation will arrive in Hereford on the 2nd of July and will play a round of golf at the local green before attending a luncheon that night. At the luncheon, coaches J. T. King and Gene Gibson are expected to make some daring predictions for the coming seasons and a film will be presented.

Additional information will be released in later additions of the Brand.

8 Are Indicted By Grand Jury

Eight persons were indicted by a Deaf Smith County Grand Jury Monday and four cases were heard in 60th District Court following the indictments.

Persons and the charges against them included Michael Padilla, sodomy; James A. Waits, driving while intoxicated, second offense; John Cannon Trotter, DWI, second offense; Mose Sawell Jr. (also known as Pruitt) armed robbery, and Edward Allen Lance, armed robbery.

Three persons not arrested as yet also were indicted. Four others were not billed by the Grand Jury.

In District Court action, Trotter received three years probation after pleading guilty to the charge against him; Mary Sue Chambers received a four-year probated sentence on a charge of forgery; Oscar Alvarez had his probation revoked and will spend five years in the state penitentiary, and probation was continued on Frank Perales, who had been charged with DWI.

Sawell and Lance, who are charged with the armed robbery of the J. P. Jones Texaco Service Station here April 25, had their bond raised from $10,000 to $25,000 by Justice of the Peace Ernest Wade. Sawell also is wanted in Cook County, Illinois for several offenses.

Relocation Is Set For Hereford Gin

After serving Hereford and the surrounding area for the past 20 years, Hereford Gin will terminate its service here as they make plans and preparations to move their facilities further south.

With the gin being built in 1948 on U. S. 60 in east Hereford and John Q. McCleskey taking over operational procedures in the following year, the gin held its own through many years as they served the area farmers in the cotton production business.

In 1957, the elder McCleskey bought the company out and took over the entire leadership of the gin before his son John E. McCleskey bought one-half interest in it in 1962. The other gin, the Deaf Smith County Gin, is also owned by the father-son combination and will go on serving the area.

The new location for the gin will be in Gaines County, 16 miles west of Seminole between Hobbs, N.M., and Seminole. The two McCleskeys began moving the entire complex last week and hope to have the building and machinery re-located by the middle of September of this year in order that they will be ready for the cotton season in the south. They estimate the moving cost in the thousands of dollars.

The younger McCleskey stated that the reasons for their making their decision were because of the bad conditions caused by the weather during the past three years and the government's plans for the changing of quantity to quality production in cotton.

Somewhere between 10,000 and 12,000 bales of cotton were ginned in Hereford in the three local gins before 1967. But, due to weather conditions, the total dropped to a meager 4,000 bales last year.

This drop has been occurring over the past several years, mainly due to the weather, but the McCleskeys do not feel that the cotton industry is falling to the wayside. On the contrary, they feel that with the new varieties coming along that have resulted from continual experimenting, this area is apt to have cotton in better shape that it has ever been in.

McCleskey is not settled at this time as to who will operate the newly located gin, but he stated that if no one is hired to do so, he will take over the responsibility.

COMING DOWN — The Hereford Gin, owned and operated by John E. and John Q. McCleskey, is presently being dismantled so that it can be moved to another location. The new location is to be near Seminole in Gaines County.

Kershen Is At National Confab

Andrew Kershen of Hereford is attending the 55th Annual National Convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress in Washington, D. C. this week.

Kershen was selected by Gov. John Connally as a delegate to attend the convention, which began Tuesday and ends Friday. Other delegates to the convention include State Representative Bill Clayton, John Kendrick of Petersburg, K. B. (Tex) Watson of Amarillo and Colonel Cliff Chamberlain of Lubbock.

Water, Inc. Gives Progress Report

By CLIF CHAMBERLAIN
Executive Director of
Water, Inc.

The Board of Directors of Water, Inc. met May 30, 1968 at the call of the president, John Kendrick. The purpose was to review the progress being made in planning for import water to West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. Business of the corporation requiring board action was also acted on.

The Directors present were A. L. Black, Friona; Russell Bean, Lubbock; Gene Benham, Morton; Lloyd Calhoun, Hobbs; Elwood Freeman, Lamesa; Ted Ford, Portales; John Kendrick, Brownfield; R. C. Godwin, Hereford; John Hickerson, El Paso; George McCleskey, Lubbock; Chester Mitchell, Lockney; D. B. Nelson, Amarillo; Hoyt Pattison, Clovis, New Mexico; Ray Joe Riley, Hart; J. D. Smith, Littlefield; Jim Ed Waller, Lubbock and K. B. Watson, Amarillo. Marvin Nichols, an advisory director from Ft. Worth was also present.

The May 1968 Progress Report on West Texas and Eastern New Mexico Import Project Investigations was reviewed. This was considered a major milestone in the water import program as the report confirms the presence of some surplus water in the Mississippi River.

Included in the conclusions of the study is the statement, "It is physically feasible to transport the projected year 2020 requirements of 16.5 million acre-feet per year from the lower Mississippi River System to West Texas and Eastern New Mexico if it is determined that there are surplus waters in the Mississippi River to meet these requirements."

The Bureau of Reclamation is continuing the study in coordination with the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Mississippi River Commission of Vicksburg, Mississippi.

A study of Agricultural Resources Related to Water Development in Texas, prepared by the Texas A&M University Water Resources Institute was reviewed. This study is very valuable as it contains data which points up the economic justification for how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. The test requires no preparation and is non-competitive — an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

The most important factor in the selection of the volunteers is the application form which they fill out. This application must be filled out and given to the tester before taking the test. Applications may be obtained from the local post offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D. C. 20525.

These tests are for persons who want to use their skills in helping to develop the nations around the world. The test takes about 90 minutes, to determine the water import plan.

The Board of Directors voted to express their appreciation to Dr. R. E. Patterson, Dean of Agriculture, Texas A&M University and Dr. J. R. Runkles, Chairman of the Committee also of A&M for their work in developing this report.

Amarillo was selected as the site of the 1969 membership meeting to be held February 18, 1969. The last membership meeting was held February 20, 1968 in Plainview and was attended by over 400 members from the three state area.

Water Documents Are Now Available

By CLIF CHAMBERLAIN
Executive Director of
Water, Inc.

Two study documents recently available, give added validity to water import plans in our area.

The first of these is the progress report on West Texas and Eastern New Mexico Import Project Investigations, by the Bureau of Reclamation. This study for the first time indicates that there is a surplus of water in the Mississippi River. The amount of water which is surplus and the seasons of the year when this water can be exported is still under study by the Mississippi River Commission and the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The second paper is a study of Agricultural Resources Related to Water Development in Texas. This study was produced by the Texas A&M University Water Resources Institute, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University. This study is of great value to water resource planners for Texas as it is an evaluation of the effects of water availability on the future state economy. Further search relative to the impact of water availability to agriculture is underway at Texas A&M University and the results of this research will be published when available.

A potential for development such as in California and Arizona today, exists in Texas. We have the resources for both a growing agriculture and industrial development. The A&M University report analyzes both the agricultural potential and the resources so that they can be used in developing the state water plan.

In projecting the future water requirements of Texas agriculture an overriding consideration is mankind's need for food. The agriculture of the future must produce to meet the needs of a growing population and an improving standard of living. It must eliminate the mass malnutrition that presently exists in the world. Texas should be prepared to develop resources to meet both these future needs and its evident potential to the greatest extent possible.

A conclusion drawn from the Texas A&M University study is that there are areas in Texas which can produce more as water is made available at a price which will allow a profit on the irrigated farmland.

Tests Set For Peace Corps

Saturday, June 15, at 1:30, in the Post Office Building in Amarillo, the Peace Corps Placement Test will be given to all interested Deaf Smith County residents.

These tests are for persons who want to use their skills in helping to develop the nations around the world. The test takes about 90 minutes, to determine

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Grandma Tries The New

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

"My grandmother is one of those persons who wants to try everything new that she hears about," explains Mrs. Dean Bryant of 516-A Ave. G. "so she clips any recipe that sounds a little different and tries out foreign styles of cooking, short-cut recipes and anything else that she hasn't tried before.

"MOST OF MY recipe collection came from her; every time I visit her down an Anson I come back with more recipes she recommends, and put them all in this box. Then when I'm bored with cooking the same thing and want a new recipe, I dig through these!"

Mrs. Bryant's only regret about cooking is that her family likes to stick to familiar fare so her experiments with new dishes don't always meet an enthusiastic reception.

"I like fancy cooking, but when an elaborate new food shows up on our table they just look at it and say 'What's that?', so I usually experiment when I'm cooking for other people," the young housewife laughs.

THE BRYANTS' family comprises four daughters, Pamela, at 12 the oldest, Deborah, Donna and brown-eyed Vickie, the baby of the family who is going on two; and one son, seven-year-old Jimmy.

Bryant's work is pipeline construction, and in recent years the family has twice left Hereford to live for a time near jobs they knew would keep him away for several months. The past winter was spent at Childress.

Mrs. Bryant became president of Young Homemakers Home Demonstration club in January, and "at the first meeting where I presided, I had to tell the others that I was leaving." She offered her resignation, but members refused to accept it and the club operated with an acting president until she returned.

AT FIRST Mrs. Bryant feared that interrupting the children's school year with a move might have a bad effect, but she says now, "I think it did them a lot of good. They found that schools are not all alike, but that they may like one' that's different, and learn as much from new teachers, and make as good grades as in the school they attended all their lives. And they made new friends easily."

Living in the not-really satisfactory quarters which are available for rent to temporary residents, gave the children a better appreciation for their own home, too, Mrs. Bryant believes.

A family vacation trip to Mexico a few months ago also broadened the youngsters' perspective, she says, as it gave them a view of how other people live.

Mrs. Dean Bryant with youngest daughter

TRIPS FOR THE Bryant family are not usually out of the country; they enjoy fishing excursions, usually to mountain streams or lakes in New Mexico. Both parents are avid fishermen and the children like that sport too, so they go fishing almost every weekend in summer.

In addition to work with her Home Demonstration Club, of which she has been a member four years and an officer most of that time, Mrs. Bryant spends a good deal of her time assisting in activities that interest her children; the three older girls are in Camp Fire groups and Jimmy is looking forward to Little League as he practices baseball with his father.

"As they get older I'm sure there will be many more things that will involve my husband and me," she says.

SHE LIKES to sew and stays pretty busy working on dresses for herself and the girls.

The former Barbara Turner, Mrs. Bryant has lived in Hereford since she was in the sixth grade. She left school to marry shortly before she was due to graduate. Her parents live in Anson now.

One of the favorite recipes she has from her grandmother's short-cut collection is for a cake which Mrs. Bryant likes especially in summer as a light, tart dessert. It's wonderful with ice cream, she adds.

LEMON CAKE
1 pkg. Duncan Hines yellow cake mix
1 pkg. instant lemon pudding
1/2 cup Wesson oil
1 cup water

4 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla and 1/2 tsp. lemon extract

Mix all ingredients except eggs; add eggs one at a time and beat well after each addition. Bake in greased and floured stem pan (the kind that scallops the edges of the cake is most attractive) at 325 degrees 50 minutes. Cover with orange icing.

ORANGE ICING
1 cup orange juice
2 cups sugar
2 tb. orange peel
Mix ingredients before you start mixing cake. Set in a warm place on the stove to melt the sugar, but don't cook.

While the cake is warm, punch the crust with a toothpick and pour the mixture on so it soaks into the cake and glazes the top.

Afternoon Recital Is Presented

Piano pupils of Mrs. Sam Long were presented in recital Sunday afternoon at First Baptist Church. Each played a group of solos for an audience of family members and friends. Those appearing were Debbie Cornelius, Annette Gooch, Patricia Hendon, Charlene Weaver, Lila Griego, Richard Waters, Sharon Watson and Joan Waters.

Mrs. Long's daughter and son assisted on the program as guests. Miss Becky Long is a piano pupil of Mrs. M. Meredith at Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, and Ricky studies piano with Mrs. Ellis Coombes.

Parties Given For Miss Kent

Miss Connie Kent is being complimented this week with parties preceding her wedding Saturday, when she is to be married to Ronald Sistrunk of Victoria. The bride-to-be is the daughter of the Lee Kents.

Mrs. John Douglas Pitman was hostess at a brunch in Hereford Country Club Wednesday morning, with a guest list comprising young women who were Miss Kent's friends while she was a student in Hereford High School.

A lingerie shower was a part of the entertainment. Gift packages were presented and opened before the brunch was served.

Flowers on the tables were in white and yellow, colors to be used in the wedding. Heavy silver candelabra twined with fresh foliage formed the centerpiece, with more of the greenery trailed across the cloth. Refreshments, featuring a guiche Lorraine and fresh fruits, were a part of the decoration.

A luncheon Tuesday, also at the Country Club, had Mrs. W. L. Davis Jr., Mrs. Ivan Block and Mrs. H.A. Cavness as hostesses. Places were laid for 30 guests at tables graced with yellow roses.

Miss Melinda Atkins of San Antonio, who will attend Miss Kent as maid of honor, was among the guests at both parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Waldrep are to be hosts in their home for the rehearsal dinner Friday evening.

Out-of-city guests here for the wedding are to be entertained at luncheon Saturday in the Country Club by Mrs. Leroy Aven, Mrs. Corinne Moore and Mrs. Bess Moore.

Local Residents Attend Funeral

A. T. Jones and several members of his family attended funeral services for his brother, Clarence V. Jones, at Childress Monday. The Childress man was a former mayor and city councilman, who had been in business there many years. He died Sunday after a heart attack.

Relatives who went to the funeral from this area included Messrs. and Mmes. J. P. Jones, George Jones and Elmer Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Benson of Dimmitt, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Brown, Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Harmon of Tulia.

In Fort Lauderdale, Fla., there is a bank with a drive-in dock.

THE BEAUTIFICATION COMMITTEE of the Chamber of Commerce chose Gilliland Funeral Home last week as the commercial Beauty Spot of the Month for June. The photo was taken after some of the flowers had bloomed and been removed after dying.

Thompson Will Attend Meeting

W. T. "Bill" Thompson, manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, will attend the 62nd Annual Conference of the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers in Longview, Saturday through Wednesday.

Headquarters for the state TCCM conference will be the Contessa Inn where registration begins Saturday afternoon.

The conference theme will be "Motivation-Methods-Mechanics and the program has been designed to equip TCCM members with the latest techniques in handling Chamber programs.

TCCM President L. E. Gilliland, manager of the Texarkana Chamber of Commerce described the conference program as being designed to "re-equip our Chamber managers to meet the challenges of change."

"The program will have practical application and is designed to give our member managers some fresh new ideas to meet the new challenges facing Texas Chambers," Gilliland stated.

Over 200 Chamber of Commerce Managers and their wives from all parts of the state are expected to attend the conference. TCCM is the oldest state association of Chamber of Commerce executives in the United States and is also the largest such association in the nation.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A willing substitute, the person who will cheerfully fill in even at the last minute and in a minor role, has a price above rubies in most organizations. So the Eastern Star chapter here is lucky; it has at least two.

Neil Culpepper, who says she was scheduled to be a substitute as organist for the installation ceremony Saturday night, landed in the hospital Friday so it was necessary to have a substitute for the substitute.

Rosemary Robinson filled the place graciously and earned the gratitude of new officers as well as that of retiring officers who were arranging the program.

The ceremony was an impressive one; Mildred Lewis, the new worthy matron, and women who will serve with her in offices for the coming year, surely looked pretty in their old-rose dresses all styled alike with gracefully full skirts and flowing streamers from bows at the center of the back-V necklines.

WHEN THEY extend a general invitation for "all" of Margaret Ann Durham's friends to come to a reception in her honor Sunday afternoon, members of the Young Homemakers of Texas know exactly what they are doing. They realize that practically everybody in the county may show up!

They hope so; they set the date late enough that college girls will be at home, and those who were Mrs. Durham's students in past years can be among the guests. The hostesses, who will have the assistance of present FHA members, really mean they want all of Mrs. Durham's friends who can get there to be at the reception.

And they are preparing for a crowd. Even if only the former students of the popular home-making instructor come to express their regards and offer best wishes for her future in retirement, there will be a lot of callers.

When I speak of Mrs. Durham's retirement, it is with tongue firmly in cheek. She can be retired from the job she has filled a good many years up at the high school, but it's a safe bet she won't spend her energy in the future operating a rocking chair.

DOROTHA PROWELL took time out from helping get ready for the reception (as an FHA sponsor) to go to Midland Monday and help her daughter and son-in-law, the Ron Laidleys, get settled in a new home.

Laidley lately received his bachelor of business administration on degree from Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene and is beginning work as an insurance adjuster in the Midland office of the Travelers company.

Mrs. Laidley, the former Sheri Powell of Hereford, has been teaching at Abilene and nearby Clyde while he finished his college work. With wives of the other H-SU graduates the other day, she was informed that she was being given the Ph T degree. Never heard of that one? It's an abbreviation for Putting Hubby Through.

VISITORS several days this week from Fort Worth are Mrs. Jerry Collier and her four children. She was Mary Helen McGilvary, and visited her mother, Mrs. R. C. McGilvary of 202 Kibbe and her brother, Reuben C. McGilvary and family.

MORE WILD flowers are getting into the show now, notably the yucca. It's a spectacular si-

ROSES BY BASKETFUL — Blooms Mr. L. H. Lookingbill Sr. is gathering to fill her basket are hardly missed from the bushes which make her yard, 115 Ave J, one of the June beauty spots of the city. More than 60 bushes bear roses of about 20 varieties; Mrs. Lookingbill's favorite are the huge pink and cream blossoms of the Peace rose. She gave roses for decorating the auditorium for high school baccalaureate and commencement exercises and other senior class events in which her granddaughter, Judy Lookingbill, was a participant. More of the flowers were cut for decorations at the Mid-Plains Pioneer Reunion last week; many bouquets have been given friends, and still the bushes are bright with color.

Range Grasses Can Survive Flooding

COLLEGE STATION — Bermudagrass, buffalograss, vine-mesquite and knotgrass can survive more than 20 days of flooding, according to a United States Department of Agricultural engineer.

E. D. Rhoades, working at the Oklahoma Agricultural Experiment Station at Chickasha, said these flood-tolerant varieties are suitable for planting in detention reservoirs.

Hundreds of retention dams have been built on upstream tributaries of United States rivers in recent years, and the acreage flooded at times is considerable.

The reservoirs store excess runoff water during flood seasons; at other times they are used for grazing livestock.

B. J. Ragsdale, Extension range specialist, said the engineer built six impoundment basins that simulated field conditions. Grasses in basins were established and flooded with water from five to 20 days at depths up to six feet.

Tests were run in early spring midspring, and late spring to correspond to normal flood seasons, Ragsdale said.

Varities which survived up to 20 days of flooding were Kanlow switchgrass, lowland switchgrass, Reed canarygrass, prairie cordgrass, and Florida paspalum.

Democrats Have Finalized Plans For Convention

Leo Witkowski, chairman; Andrew Shuval, vice-chairman, and Charles Bell, Clinton Jackson, Leo Forrest, Earl Holt and Raymond Higginbotham, chosen as delegates to the State Democratic Convention, are slated to go to Dallas Tuesday to represent Deaf Smith County.

The alternate delegates are Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas Pitman, Mrs. Clinton Jackson, Mrs. Andrew Shuval, Ted Dakil, O. G. Hill, Jr. Mrs. Clifford Kerr, George Ritter, C. J. Albracht, W. J. Albracht, Andrew Ker-shen, Mrs. Raymond Higginbotham, Mrs. Edward Paetzold, Mrs. Leo Forrest, Mrs. W. H. London, Jr., Mrs. James E. Higgins and D. C. Barnard.

They will endorse as favorite candidate Texas Governor John B. Connally, Jr., for President of the United States.

Free Workshops In Sewing Open At High School

Enrollment is open now for free sewing and knitting workshops to be conducted in the homemaking department of Hereford High School, annual summer program in charge of Mrs. Frank Prowell, homemaking instructor.

Classes in dressmaking and knitting are planned, and other courses may be offered if there is enough demand for them, Mrs. Prowell announces. They are open to adults and teenagers at no cost except for materials used.

Inquiries may be made to Mrs. Prowell at her home here by mail or telephone.

Gardeners sometimes locate colonies of squash bugs by their noxious odor. The pests take their name from squash, pumpkins and other gourds they eat.

(Signed) H. C. Williams County Judge.

rice cutgrass and smooth seed paspalum survived 15 days of flooding while big bluestem, sand bluestem, Virginia wildrye and beaked panicum survived for 10 days.

Varities that survived up to five days of flooding were eastern gamagrass, alkali sacaton, Elkan bluestem, KR bluestem, weeping lovegrass, Kentucky fescue, Indiangrass, smooth brome, and knotroot bristlegrass.

The Soil Conservation Service and the Oklahoma Agricultural Experiment Station cooperated in the tests at the Southern Plains Watershed Research Center, Chickasha, Oklahoma.

Ragsdale added that since many retention dams have been constructed in Texas, landowners who have such on their property or have land subject to flooding should consider establishing stands of the flood-tolerant grasses.

Wheat Field Day Set At Bushland

BUSHLAND. Varieties will be in the spotlight at a Wheat Field Day slated for Tuesday, June 11, at the USDA Southwestern Great Plains Research Center here.

Tours of research plots will begin at 1 p. m. and will continue throughout the afternoon, announces Dr. Kenneth Porter who is in charge of the wheat breeding program at the Center.

Visitors will see experimental short wheat varieties, hybrid wheat trials, crossing blocks of male sterile wheat, short barley varieties and irrigation tests on wheat.

Also of interest will be dryland and irrigation tests of River 68 and Triticales, a new man-made and wheat-rye species.

Most commercial varieties of wheat presently on the market are being grown in both irrigated and dryland tests at the Center, Porter points out, and will be observed and discussed on the tours.

Wheat producers and interested individuals throughout the High Plains are invited to attend the field day.

FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD

It Looks to GOD

Have you watched the face of the sunflower? It follows the sun all day so it will not lose one single ray... it looks to God, do you?

For such devotion the creative power of the sun blesses it with a tall, strong, sturdy stalk, with abundant beauty and fertility. Oh, that we could thus bask in the sunshine of God's grace and goodness! The ordinary might then take on radiant meaning if we would but turn our eyes toward Him. Going to church would be much easier if all week long we would realize our kinship to deity. The sunflower is a symbol of the rich harvest that fills the grainaries for bird and beast. But a place in Heaven awaits those who lose themselves in good service... those who keep their eyes fixed on God.

Republicans Are Set For Meeting

Joe Shollenbarger and Ruth Newsom, who were chosen last month as the local delegates to the Republican State Convention at Corpus Christi, will join the other state delegates there next Tuesday through Friday.
Among the resolutions passed by the county convention were to support Senator John G. Tower as favorite-son candidate for President of the United States at the National Republican Convention in August.
However, following the first ballot for Sen. Tower, his delegation is instructed to support California Governor Ronald Reagan, committed by resolution until personally released by Gov. Reagan.

Student Begins Summer's Work

Miss Becky Long, leaving Monday for Southwestern Seminary for a short orientation period before she begins summer work with a traveling team of Baptist young people, the Invincibles, was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Sam Long, her brother Ricky and her grandmother, Mrs. Lena Menefee of King's Manor.

Mrs. Menefee plans to visit relatives in the Dallas area for a while. Mrs. Long and son are returning home and Miss Long will join one of the teams for travel over various areas of Texas, working in vacation Bible schools at Baptist churches.

Miss Long has lately completed her freshman year at Wayland College, Plainview, after graduation from Hereford High School with the 1967 class.

Local Church To Be Honored

June 14 is the beginning of the General Assembly in which the local Church of the Nazarene, 248 W. 16, will be honored.

The church was chosen as the "outstanding church in this geographical area," and is one of 14 in the entire Church of the Nazarene denomination to receive such honors. The assembly will be at Kansas City, Mo.

The geographical area, in which the church was chosen, includes churches in the states of Texas, Kansas, Nebraska, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Dr. Orville Jenkins, executive secretary of the Department of Home Missions, reported in a letter to Southworth that the honor was given to the churches on the basis of all around growth and achievement. It is part of the church's "growing church achievement program."

The West Texas District Nazarene Assembly was held in May of 1967 and the Hereford church received the honor as the "Outstanding Small Church" in the district over some 60 churches.

Joshua Stoddard, who invented the calliope, envisioned it as a replacement for church bells. However, it found its true home in the circus. P. T. Barnum bought one of the first and spent 10,000, he said, to mount it on a gaudy red and gold wagon pulled by eight matched perchons.

The Mariboro Music Festival in Vermont will open its 18th season on July 6. Pablo Casals, renowned 91-year-old cellist and conductor, will be in residence for the eighth summer since 1960.

Rewriting Texas Charter Of Government Is Finished

BY—VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—Texas' Constitutional Revision Commission has completed its series of winter and spring work sessions rewriting the Texas charter of government. It will not meet again until August.

Any fair analysis of the status of constitutional revision in Texas would have to be based on a note of pessimism regarding the chances for ultimate acceptance of the committee's work to date.

Main problem for the 25 revisionists to overcome was created when the Commission was established—by a divided legislature—in the spring of 1967.

Originally the Commission was to be formed by a joint House and Senate resolution. However, the Senate refused to go along with the plan so the House acted alone. Speaker Ben Barnes named a House Committee. But Lt. Gov. Preston Smith declined to make any appointments. Gov. John Connally gave considerable moral support to the Committee, but now he is a "lame duck" and will not be governing when the Commission submits its report to the Legislature next January.

In terms of the substantive proposals for a new constitution, the Commission has been far from decisive to this point.

Reports have been heard from various subcommittees on the executive branch, the judiciary, political subdivisions, taxation and other topics.

These reports have been given tentative approval by the Commission as a whole, but on all votes it was made clear that decisions made now can be reversed during the next slate of meetings this coming fall.

One of the most heated debates in the brief history of the Commission came from a recommendation for the appointment of the judges on the Texas Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals by a five-man commission. Voters would either approve or remove them. At present these judges are elected by the people.

Two members of the Commission were particularly forceful in their argument against this proposal.

H. S. (Hank) Brown of San Antonio, president of the Texas AFL-CIO, opposed the measure as being a dangerous trend for a democratic society. Brown argued that the people have a right to elect their judges.

Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria contended that such a provision in the revised constitution would insure its defeat when the matter is put to a vote.

Dr. Janice May, government professor at the University of Texas, said Cory and Brown are overlooking the realities of the current system of judicial selection.

"Right now two-thirds of all our judges are initially named by appointment from the governor. Then, as a matter of practice, they run for re-election and are almost always retained in office," she said.

Most of the members of the commission have expressed some desire to strengthen the hand of the governor. They maintain that a majority of the state agencies are virtually free of his influence and can carry out policy without regard to his wishes. Opponents of the proposal point out that the governor already has authority to appoint 3,000 office holders.

Commission voted 8-7 to limit the governor to a single term—a procedure which would, in effect, make every Texas governor a lame duck for some undetermined portion of his term in office. Commission also favors providing the governor with a four-year term rather than the current two-year term.

Tentatively, the group approved a provision which would require the governor to be elected during "off-years"—years without presidential elections.

Many Capitol observers recall that a constitutional revision commission created by the Legislature in 1957 submitted recommendations after several years of meetings, but no action has ever been taken on them.

CONNALLY WIN CERTAIN—Governor Connally's control of the State Democratic Convention in Dallas on June 11 apparently will be by overwhelming majority.

Will Davis, Chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, says 25 of the 254 county conventions passed resolutions endorsing Connally's favorite son candidacy, and 22 more counties are sending uninvited delegations to the state convention.

SPECIAL SESSION There will be a hot time in this old town, extending from the June 4 opening of the special legislative session until whenever it ends, and that is anybody's guess.

Main business, of course, is passing a $2,500,000,000 appropriations bill to finance state government for the 1969 fiscal year beginning September 1 and approval of about $125,000,000 in new taxes.

Governor Connally has recommended general revenue spending of $465,200,000. That would require $123,800,000 in additional state taxation. Legislative Budget Board proposes a budget of $471,900,000 from the fund over which the legislature has direct control, which would boost the tax bill to $129,600,000.

Connally's tax bill calls for an increase of the state sales tax rate from two to three per cent, with cities to get most of the additional revenue in the form of a direct rebate. Many services not now taxed also would be included in the three per cent levy. Statewide tax would do away with one per cent local sales tax now charged in more than 300 cities that contain the vast majority of Texas' population.

NEW COLLEGES URGED—Public hearings will be held here June 15-July 10 on major new Higher Education Coordinating Board staff recommendations for creating six new state colleges to care for expanding big city enrollments.

Proposed program would cost $201,000,000 over 1973-1977. Staff also advised enrollment restrictions for existing schools after 1972. Full coordinating board is expected to pass on recommendations at July or August meeting.

New colleges were proposed to open in 1973 in these cities: San Antonio; Midland-Odessa (offering junior, senior, master's degree work only); Dallas-Fort Worth area (also upper-level work); and Houston (second campus of University of Houston).

Upper level facility was recommended for Corpus Christi in 1974. A third University of Houston campus is seen as needed by 1977.

Staff suggested an alternative would be for the state to contract with private institutions to enroll students.

COURTS SPEAK—State Supreme Court agreed with lower courts that mass applications for voter registration are illegal.

High Court in effect declared David Fuentes winner of a 1966 Presidio County commissioner's election. Decision upheld intermediate court finding that nine votes should be taken away from Frances E. Howard, a write-in candidate, because a notary public aided absentee voters by writing in his name for them.
