Visiting Team Here For School Accreditation

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

The Hereford Independent School District has undergone study for accreditation by a visiting committee of administrators, principals and teachers from other schools in the Panhandle and Plains area, with Dr. T. Paige Carruth of West Texas State University in Canyon as consultant. Dr. Carruth is Dean of Student Life at West Texas State.

This phase of the evaluation began Sunday afternoon and continued through Tuesday. The visiting committee studied the Hereford school's own self-evaluation, which had been compiled September 1967 through March 1968, covering all local schools.

The self-study, Dr. Carruth pointed out, was made by committees assigned within each school to evaluate the various areas. A steering committee composed of faculty representatives from each school directed the study.

"The faculty of the Hereford School System is to be commended on the most excellent job done in making this self-evaluation report," Dr. Carruth said.

"If the same attitude of cooperation can be continued in considering the recommendations of the reports (these recommendations to be made some time following the visiting committee's personal study here), it is felt that the educational progress in this system is assured."

Also, Sam Thompson, Dumas; Ray Vineyard, Dumas; Jimmy

Viramontes, West Texas State; Elizabeth Watson, Muleshoe; Tavia Weinbroer, Borger; Donna Wilson, Canyon, and George Zoller, Perryton.

Bob Holman, the Hereford assistant school superintendent, estimated there were some 70 people present at the Caisson House dinner Sunday night, which set the beginning of the outside evaluation.

Dr. Carruth said that the accreditation of the Hereford schools was on the same principle as the recent accreditation of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce by the United States Chamber, and should the schools receive this accreditation, it will be an honor not unlike that of the local Chamber's.

The purpose of Hereford High School is to serve the needs of the individuals who attend high school and the society which supports the public school, the self-evaluation report read.

The goals of Hereford High School are (1) to provide a continuous educational program so that the high school pupils may grow into mature adults who have the ability and the desire to lead creative lives that are satisfying to themselves and to those around them and (2) to provide for all pupils the knowledge, skills, and attitudes necessary so that they may be competent members of the democracy in which they live.

Following a program which reflects the interests and standards of the community, Hereford High School will provide the pupils an opportunity (1) to understand their own culture and that of others; (2) to develop a free and reasoning mind and (3) to learn to live compassionately with their fellow man.

At his right is Rodney O'Rand, seated, the runner-up. But both boys lost to Ralph the following day.

Scott Is "Chronological" In Winning Spelling Title

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Ralph Scott, a student at Stanton Junior High School, will join all county champions in the Golden Spread Regional Spelling Bee to be held at Stephen F. Austin School at Amarillo on April 27.

Young Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Scott, of 204 Irving, became the best speller in Deaf Smith County during the finals held at Aikman Elementary School Wednesday afternoon. Last year, he was in second place.

The word that gave him the honor was "chronological." It was missed by the runner-up, Dennis Goheen of LaPlata. Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Goheen of 300 Centre.

The other eight contestants were Andrew Wingert of Aikman, Rodney O'Rand of Aikman, Stephen Leasure of Stanton, Alfred West of LaPlata, Joe Don Weaver of Walcott, Cindy Nolen of Walcott, Cathy Koozer of St. Anthony's, and Rita Betzen of St. Anthony's.

The judges were Bro. Ralph Bally of St. Anthony's, Ann Combs of Aikman, and Rose Marie Robinson of Bluebonnet. Scott is in the seventh grade. Winner of the contest to be held in Amarillo will attend the National Spelling Bee to be held later in Washington D. C.

Pronouncer for the spelling bee was Della Stagner.

Wingert, son of Rev. and Mrs. Russell A. Wingert of 306 Star and sixth grade student at Aikman Elementary School, won the Junior Spelling Bee, held Tuesday afternoon at Aikman, when opponent Rodney O'Rand, also a sixth-grader at Aikman, misspelled "inseparable."

Andrew spelled "inseparable" correctly and won the contest by properly spelling "inspection." Rodney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie O'Rand of 803 Brevard.

In the beginning, there were 14 spellers in the Junior Bee and they faced problems that were much harder than the spelling of the words, given them by Della Stagner, who acted as pronouncer.

They had to face three judges, a radio announcer, a microphone, and a newsman with a camera. And they had an audience of parents.

The judges were Rose Marie Robinson of Bluebonnet School; Betty Tylick of St. Anthony's; and Ann Combs of Aikman.

Prior to the time that KPAN began their remote broadcast from the Music Room at Aikman, the 14 contestants had dropped down to four — one girl and three boys. Announcer Bob Reed stopped them at this point and explained to them what they had to do at the microphone "before an unseen audience."

The four young students conducted themselves quite professionally during the time they were "on the air."

The girl, a student at Central, was the first to drop out, and then a boy from Shirley School. Consequently, Andrew and Rodney became pitted against each other.

Rodney missed. A flashbulb popped. It was ended.

Andrew was winner. But maybe there were no losers, after all. Miss Stagner pinned ribbons onto each of the 14 contestants.

Della Stagner is director for the spelling bees in the local schools. She distributed literature at the beginning of the semester to each school for their participation and has acted as supervisor throughout the entire program.

Open House Set At Frio Baptist

It has been announced that Frio Baptist Church will hold open house Sunday, from 3 to 4:30 p. m.

Dedication services will be conducted that morning at 11 a. m. and the public is invited to attend both the dedication and the open house.

Peter Nero

Concerts Series To Spotlight Pianist

Pianist Peter Nero will appear in a Sunday matinee concert here, the season's final for Hereford Community Concert Association. At the same time, members in this, the association's first year, will be invited to enroll for the 1968-69 season.

Already booked for that season is an appearance of the famed Norman Luboff Choir — the featured attraction. Other concerts will be scheduled later, following the annual membership campaign early next fall, when memberships will be offered to others than those now on roll.

Admission to Community Concerts is by membership card only; single admission tickets are not available and members may enroll only at the designated periods.

The full schedule of concerts is made up after the annual campaign, with a budget determined by the number of members. At least three programs will be offered.

Bill Thompson, first vice president and membership chairman on the local board, is in charge of the current pre-enrollment drive which enables renewals to be made at the concert Sunday or within the next few days. All memberships are priced at $10 each.

Nero's concert will begin at 2:30 p. m. in Hereford High School auditorium. Widely known through appearances on top television variety shows, record albums and nation-wide tours, Nero is in great demand as a concert attraction and is recognized as the foremost pianist in his field.

His style is entirely his own, running the gamut from pure jazz to an original use of the piano classics. Educated in Ju-

Deaf Smith County Chamber To Get Accreditation In Banquet Tonight

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce will receive an accreditation certificate from the United States Chamber of Commerce in ceremonies beginning at 7:30 p. m. at the Bull Barn.

Presentation of the prized accreditation will be made by Dennis O'Rourke, chairman of the board of Holly Sugar and a director of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

There are only five other chambers in the State of Texas and only 119 in the United States that have achieved accreditation — in the four years that the award has been offered. National Chamber President Allan Shivers of Austin will make the accreditation official today with an announcement.

Members of the Hereford Kiwanis, Lions, Optimist and Rotary clubs will be joining in a ladies night meeting tonight to honor the Chamber. Also appearing on the program will be the Hereford High School Mixed Choir, recent Sweepstakes winner in competition.

The accreditation night will be a highlight of "Chamber of Commerce Week" which has been observed across the nation this week.

The Accreditation Program was instituted by the National Chamber to recognize effective organization performance. It is a voluntary program developed to provide a method by which local chambers of commerce may make a self-study and analysis. The organization prepares and submits an evaluation report and requests an inspection visit by a representative of the National Chamber.

Approval and final Accreditation follow a review of the organization's application by a seven-man Accrediting Board appointed by the President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Each member of the group serves on the National Chamber's Board of Directors and is vitally concerned with the local chamber of commerce in their city.

The committee in charge of the Evaluation Report for the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce was headed by Johnny Pool.

This committee, the Board of Directors, and others met with Ralph Shelton from the Washington office of the National Chamber on Feb. 8, when the inspection visit was made.

In announcing the Accreditation Program, the following four fold purpose was outlined by the sponsoring body:

1. To define standards of planning and performance in chamber of commerce work, and to show how these standards can be reached and maintained;

2. To measure achievement;

3. To give recognition and encouragement to organizations and staff members — who meet basic standards of operation and performance, and who are contributing in a meaningful and effective way to the good of the community and the country;

4. To give recognition and encouragement to organizations and staff members — who meet basic standards of operation and performance, and who are contributing in a meaningful and effective way to the good of the community and the country;

PHOTOGRAPHY WINNER — Tyler Vance, staff photographer for the Hereford Brand, displays pictures which won high awards at the District 6 meeting of the Vocational Clubs of America in Lubbock last Friday and Saturday. Of the five pictures he entered, Vance received four "Excellent" ribbons and one "Good". There was only one other "Excellent" ribbon given in the show. Vance will now display the photos at the state meeting of VICA at Austin in April. A Hereford High School senior, Vance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Vance of 135 Beach.

Volunteer Worker Arrives At Camp

Vicky Montoya, 24-year-old VISTA worker from Mexico, arrived at the Hereford Labor Camp Sunday from San Antonio to begin work with the migrant workers there.

Born in Mexico and raised in San Juan, Texas, until she was 15, Miss Montoya moved to San Benito, Calif., where she graduated from San Benito High. Upon finishing high school, she went to work in the Oleo cannery in San Jose, Calif. where she worked for six months then went to Sunnyvale to work with migrants there.

Miss Montoya entered into VISTA work after leaving Sunnyvale, then went to Austin for six weeks of training. This training consisted of attending classes every morning for the six-week period where she learned of the different agencies and organizations such as welfare to aid in the Vista program. During the afternoon of the time she was in training, Miss Montoya taught Spanish to about 20 students.

From Austin, she was sent to San Antonio where she worked with the Guadalupe United Community Center with duties consisting of teaching kindergarten, supervising recreation, holding adult education classes once a week, and working with the Neighborhood Youth Corps and are to contribute to the development of social, moral, and spiritual values in the students; to provide a program which will enable the individuals to function effectively in private life and in society; to heighten the students' desire for knowledge; to instill in the students acceptable standards of conduct; to offer a program which provides for the individual needs and abilities of the students; to create a respect in the student for the dignity of the individual and the rights of others; to establish a pattern for the students' use of critical analysis and logical thinking, and to offer a sound educational background which will enable the students to fill their roles in society with credit.

Students of the junior high schools are primarily in a class to themselves due to their physical, mental and emotional characteristics. They are neither small children nor young men and women. Their needs are different from those of the younger or older groups. The three distinguishing characteristics of the junior high school are provisions for some form of vocational guidance, for some individual choice of subjects on the part of the student and for guidance in helping the student understand himself and his talents and capabilities.

We believe that the junior high school should provide quality education for all the students based on their specific needs as adolescents and their capabilities to learn. Their education should be organized in such a way that it will enable the students to live a full rich life and have an interest and pride in other people, the community, the country and in themselves.

The objectives of the junior high schools are to teach the whole child with special regard to each child's ethnic and socioeconomic background. The students in the Hereford district are of two distinct groups — the more permanent group and the migrant group. The educational background range within each group is wide.

To recognize that the adolescent child goes through a period of instability and has a great desire for peer approval, the school plans a general program that will best meet his needs. In this respect the school will present a flexible program to the degree that it provides satisfying learning experiences for the immature and retarded child and yet challenges the superior student.

The purposes of the elementary school system are to help each child develop within himself his greatest potentials in those skills, abilities, habits and attitudes which make for independent learning and wise use of leisure time, and which will lead toward economic efficiency and continuous education throughout his life.

Acknowledging that a good school program is founded on both the needs of the child and the society in which he lives, the committee looked at the Hereford community and the children enrolled in its schools. Of the 2,761 children enrolled in the elementary schools of Hereford, 50.4 per cent are Anglo-American, 47.8 per cent are Latino, and 1.8 per cent are Negro. Almost 20 per cent of the children are made up of children of migrant farm laborers. There are children with little or no knowledge of the English language. Other handicaps, mental, physical, and emotional are present. A small segment of the school population is accelerated children.

In exploring the needs of children and their environment as related to the task of the school, three main values were recog-

La Plata To Begin Three-Act Comedy

Modern youth and its troubles in growing up is the subject of the three-act comedy, June Mad to be presented by a student cast at LaPlata Junior High School this evening and Friday. Curtain time is 7:30 p. m.

Cheryl Cole and David Thomas as Penny Wood and Chuck Harris, who live next door to each other, head the cast in presenting a series of situations which range from amusing to hilarious. Mrs. Spicer Gripp is director, assisted by John Murdock.

When Penny's young Uncle Mervyn, played by Gary London, brings Roger, a senior and a real "coolie" home from college, she forgets that she is a man-hater and almost disrupts two families in an effort to attract the fascinating visitor, enacted by Charles Allison.

Action takes place in the living room of the Wood home in a four-day period of the present time. Nancy Brink and Jeff Loerwald appear as Penny's parents, who help her to the discovery that Roger is really trying to steal Mervyn's girl, Julie, which brings her back to normal.

Adding to the action is the chase after Mervyn by Millie Lou, the neighborhood nuisance played by Angela Grubbs. Jay West is seen as Elmer Tuttle, the handyman, and Sara Bell as the maid, Effie. Danial Higgins appears as Chuck's father, Mary Wheeler and Rocky Andrews as a couple of friends, and Joy Clark as Julie.

Cliff Herring is stage manager with Ricky Locke, Connie Walker and Mary Wheeler in his crew. Industrial art students of P. M. Miller are responsible for the set, and students from Mrs. O. Werlenberger's art classes for publicity posters and programs.

Other faculty assistance is given by Lynn McLarty, in charge of music, and Mrs. Schenck, of makeup. Steve Cavness will serve as master of ceremonies.

spot now being held by Lloyd Sharp.

Both Maxwell and Sharp had previously served as city commissioners for four years and decided not to seek re-election.

The city commissioners election site was transferred to Community Center because of the added space and parking facilities.

The three candidates filing for positions on the Deaf Smith County School Board are Don Baugous of 228 Ave. B, for trustee at large; Floyd Brown of Westway, for Precinct 2; and Elmo Hall of Westway, for the Walcott district.

This election will be held April 6 in the Deaf Smith County Court House. Absentee voting ends April 3.

Brown is up for re-election; Hall is seeking to fill the post previously held by J. V. Perrin, who is not seeking re-election; and Don Zimmerman did not file for re-election for trustee at large.

Loose Animals To Be Captured

Hereford residents have been warned to abide by city ordinances concerning animals — or face the possibility of losing that animal.

City officials told the Brand Wednesday afternoon that numerous complaints have come in that animals, mainly dogs, are running loose. "We're cracking down today in an effort to correct this," said one official. "We've been picking up animals and warning people all along, but they apparently haven't listened."

City ordinances say an animal must be in a pen, on a leash or under the master's control — meaning it would return to the master anytime it were called during an outing.

Lions Auction Plans Continue

Today is the deadline for local merchants to contribute a gift to the Hereford Lion's Club Radio Auction, to be held Monday through Thursday.

Lions Club members have been soliciting gifts from local merchants to sell in the auction, from which proceeds will go to the Campfire Building Fund. The larger the gift donated, the more advertising the merchant will receive on radio. Gifts are to be turned in at the Federal Land Bank Building.

Items to be sold during the auction will be displayed at a location where people may come by, look it over, and pick up a merchandise sheet. Bids will not be taken until the auction begins at 4 p. m. Monday.

For two hours each of the four days, KPAN radio will broadcast live from the auction location on U. S. 60, across the highway from the Big Burger Drive-In. Bids will be taken over the telephone, and when approximately 80 per cent of the retail value of the item has been reached, it will be sold to the highest bidder.

The Auction sale, said Boss Lion Rocky Lee, had earlier been earmarked for the Campfire and Boy Scout Building Fund. In a director's meeting Monday morning, it was agreed that the Lions Club would pay

Death Claims Visitor In City

The funeral of Mrs. Jewell Ann Turner, 71, who died Sunday afternoon in a local hospital, were planned in Ventura, Calif., her home city. Mrs. Turner became ill while she was visiting relatives in Hereford.

She was a sister of Mrs. Ben Medley, Harry Smith and Clarence Smith of this city and came here in February for a visit in their homes. Born Jan. 10, 1897 in Dallas, she married Bert A. Turner, who preceded her in death in 1965.

Mrs. Turner was a member of Community Presbyterian Church in Ventura and the funeral was planned there. Local arrangements were in charge of Gilliland Funeral Home.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Eskridge of Ventura; a son, James M. Turner of San Francisco; three sisters including Mrs. W. A. Epperson of Dimmitt; three brothers, a half brother, six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

25 per cent toward the cost of a new Campfire Girls building. Estimated cost of the building is $28,000. The resolution was to have been presented to the Lions membership meeting Wednesday at noon.

Easter Seal Drive Nearing Deadline

Deaf Smith County's Easter Seal Representative reported today that the 1968 Easter Seal Appeal of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas is going well. J. A. Hodges, Jr. serves as Easter Seal Appeal Treasurer for Deaf Smith County.

The 1968 Easter Seal Appeal will finance the Easter Seal Society's rehabilitation program for children and adults in Texas. Last year the Society helped 17,622 disabled persons through its program of assistance in finding and making effective use of services for the disabled and their families.

The Easter Seal Society helps support 21 treatment facilities in Texas where children and adults are treated regardless of ability to pay. These centers offer physical therapy, medical diagnosis, speech and hearing programs and related services to help the disabled build happier and more useful lives.

As Easter Seal Representative Hodges is the person to contact for services from the Easter Seal Society. He can be contacted at Hereford State Bank, Hereford, Texas 79045.

When contacted for services, Hodges will request the Easter Seal Society to investigate the needs of the disabled person and will ask that the Society advise the handicapped person of the best resources available to help him.

Hodges added that additional contributions to the Easter Seal Appeal should be sent him as soon as possible, as the 1968 Appeal ends Easter Sunday, April 14.

Two Are Made Life Members Of Art Guild

Life memberships were presented to Mrs. Ray Coneway and Mrs. Bess Werner, long active in Hereford Art Guild and cited as members 'who always give us inspiration', at a meeting in Deaf Smith County Museum Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Juston McBride spoke of Guild members' affection for the two as she presented each a plaque. The brief, frankly sentimental presentation was a prelude to a special program with Olive Bugbee of West Texas State University art department as the guest speaker.

In the opening business session with Mrs. Hilrey Aven presiding, Guild members voted to participate in a Fine Arts Festival week planned by the Chamber of Commerce Fine Arts Committee and set for April 20-27.

An exhibit of paintings will be in the Guild's part in the festival, and the hanging committee headed by Mrs. Leo Harper will hang pictures in the Museum Fine Arts Room for display Apr. 25.

Mrs. Bugbee, who is associated with the museum on WTSU campus, spoke of painting as a career or a hobby, saying that some paint for pleasure, some for prestige, some with a serious purpose, some as an outlet for creative impulses.

The aim of art is the representation of the individual, she continued, and art reveals moods, emotions, motive and purpose. She advised Guild members to "keep painting, and look at good paintings — but don't copy them."

Mrs. Earl Holt and Mrs. E. W. Young were hostesses for the guest night meeting. Work of Mmes. Alex Petersen, Joe Wade, A. E. Guinn and Young were on display for appraisal. A new member, Mrs. Goldie Criswell, was welcomed.

Another special meeting was planned for the April Guild session, when members will go to Amarillo to visit the Dord Fitz Gallery collection of area arts and then have dinner at a cafeteria.

Guests and members present Tuesday included Mr. and Mrs. Coneway, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Smith, Abe Davis, Mmes. Mark Schaffner, Ben Childers, E. E. Doak, Alwyn Foster, Harry Smith, Bruce Brown, Jim Higgins, J. R. Lipscomb, Luther Norvell, Paul Coneway, J. D. Newman, O. H. Culpepper, Vivian Major, W. D. Askew, Ernest McGee, and Miss Lucille Park.

Rx - Hybrid sorghum seed for your exact growing conditions
Signed R. B. Profits

Write your "PRESCRIPTION" to high sorghum crop yields and profits

Now, you don't have to be content with growing a "standard" sorghum seed under your "unique" growing conditions. Red Barn offers you eleven different hybrid sorghums — there's one to match your exact growing conditions. Follow the prescription and the result will be the highest yields you've ever had!

Your Red Barn man can help you with a production plan aimed at higher net profits for you. He'll help you select the right sorghum hybrid to fit your growing conditions: water availability, method of irrigation, soil fertility, land slope, herbicide program, insect and disease control needs.

Red Barn sorghum hybrids are clean growing, winter tested and high germinating. They are bred for outstanding yields, consistent performance, early vigor, good standability, and easy threshing.

Red Barn also offers three varieties of hybrid sorghum-sudangrass to meet different growing conditions.

Your Red Barn dealer is a good man to know. Give him a call or drop in to see him today. You'll be on your way to extra profits this season!

Turner, Chris Paetzold, John Mays and James Mays. At right is Kevin Glenn, who received the trophy for Most Outstanding Car.

Scouts Set Plans, Have Race Winners

Mike Turner was winner of the championship trophy during Pinewood Derby Slot Car Races held by Cub Pack 51 at St. Anthony's Auditorium Friday night.

Other winners in the races, which were judged by Hereford Mayor Ray Cowser and Chief of Police Marshall Padgett, included David Kreig, second; Greg Hacker, third, and John Mays, Chris Paetzold and James Mays, consolation awards.

Kevin Glenn received a trophy for constructing the Most Outstanding Car.

During the meeting, Martin Reed Moore, local Cubmaster, introduced one of the first Webelos Dens to be organized in Hereford. Members of the den are David Kreig, Marlin Wilcox, Ronald Rowland and Mike Cabbiness. Any Cub Scout who is 10 and wishes to join should contact Walter Kreig, den leader; Doyle Turner and Harlan Vander Zee.

Awards presented by Moore and Kreig included BOBCAT, Chris Paetzold, Gary Gallagher, Ricky Garcia, Sammy Davison and Mike Cabbiness; WOLF, Douglas Walterscheid, Terry Deline and Michael Foster; 1 Gold Arrow, David Kreig and Mike Turner; 2 SILVER ARROWS, Benny Moore, Douglas Reinart and Greg Hacker; 3 SILVER ARROWS Tommy Marnell; DENNER BARS, Mak Peters, and ASSISTANT DENNER, Dennis Evans.

It was announced that the Tierra Blanca District of the Llano Estacado Council will hold an exposition in the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn sometime in May, with all scouts in the district to participate. Pack 51 will have four dens to set up booths, with the Webelos being responsible for the Race Track set-up.

The Hereford Potato Growers Association was formed and operated a processing shed on South Main Street for the 1939 crop. Hereford's first carload of potatoes was shipped to the Santa Fe on July 23, 1940.

GETTING INTO SHAPE — Students at six of the local schools have been hitting the cinder as they begin getting into shape for the Second Annual Kiwanis Relays during the latter part of April.

Track Team Collects 178 Points To Win Local Meet

Against five other teams, the Hereford Whiteface cindermen found little opposition as they sailed to a 68 point margin win last weekend in the Hereford Invitational Track meet.

Grabbing seven out of a possible fourteen first place honors, the Herd swept the meet with 178 points compared to 110 for Levelland; 81 for Abernathy; 58 for Littlefield; 43 for Dimmitt; and 26 for Dimmitt.

Collecting first in the high jump was Jim Childers as he cleared the bar for 5 feet 10 inches with Rodney Dearing taking second place with a jump of 5 feet 9 inches.

In the discus event, the Whitefaces placed two men in the top three and these were Johnny Cornelius, with a toss of 131 feet 3 inches, and Donnie Fangman who threw the plate 129 feet 8 inches.

Two field events men placed in the shot put also and these were Cornelius and John Frank Martin. Cornelius threw the shot 45 feet 11 inches for a second place in the meet while Martin gave the ball a heave to take sixth place honors.

In the final two field events, the Whitefaces failed to get a place in the pole vaulting category, but nabbed down three places in the broad jump. Childers took the spotlight in this event as he leaped 21 feet 7 inches and was closely followed by Bobby Burwick who garnered a 21 feet 2 inch mark. Another who placed in the broad jump was Lenny Pretree who took sixth in the event.

A timing of 44.1 second proved to be the best in the 440-yard relay as the Herd again took another first in the meet. Members of the team were Gary Goodin, Burwick, Steve McAndrews, and Elgin Williams.

Only one place could be collected in the high school division of the 880-yard run by Hereford, and that was by Percy Mays as he came in third in the event.

The 120-yard high hurdles proved to be one of the most point-contributing events as the Whitefaces ended up one-two-three in the event. Goodin again took first in the event with a timing of 14.4 while Childers and Marsh Pitman came in second and third respectively.

Fourth, Fifth and sixth were all collected by local cindermen in the 100-yard dash, as Steve McAndrews took fourth, Willard Black who was fifth, and Jim Rakestraw who was sixth.

In the 440-yard dash, Burwick took first with a time of 51.5 and another Whiteface placed in the same event was Bill Russell who placed sixth.

Goodin nabbed another first as he was timed at 39.7 in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles and Childers got a fifth in the event also.

Three cindermen placed in the top six of the Mile run, and these were David Kelley, who was second, Charlie Inman, who was third, and Richard Lyons who was sixth. Also, in the 20-yard dash, Black and McAndrews placed fifth and sixth respectively.

Collecting the only other first for the team was the mile relay team which consists of McAndrews, Burwick, Mays, and Tony Malouf. They were timed at 3:34.9.

The next meet for the locals will be this Saturday when they travel to Borger for a get-together there. Following the meet at Borger, the cindermen will host the 1-AAA district meet here in Hereford on April 6th.

Former Students On OS Rosters

Jim Young and Danny Loerwald, students at Oklahoma State where they are listed on the golf and baseball rosters respectively, have both been pointed out as possible strong points in their respective fields this year by the linkster and baseball coaches.

Loerwald, a six foot, 175-pound junior, transferred from Amarillo Junior College this year where he was a team captain and hit .285 despite a leg injury. Being a lefthanded batter and a right handed thrower, Loerwald was a three-time high school letterman in the outfield as he also lettered one year in football.

Young, a sophomore at OS, is listed as a newcomer to the team and a player who "owns a reliable game." He is a 6 foot, three-inch sophomore majoring in business.

Jean Watts Is Star Of Week In Sunset Keglers

Jean Watts, with 118 pins over her average, was named the "Star of the Week" in Sunset Keglers for play this week.

Paulin McDonald picked up the 5-10 split while Pat Burnett picked up the same split also in league action.

Hereford Insurance collected both the "High Team 3-Games" and the "High Team Game" with rolls of 2321 and 809, respectively. Picking up the "High Individual 3-Games" and "High Individual Game" was Alice Lueb with rolls of 573 and 227. Revella Skypala was also in the running as she had a 201 game.

Standings show that Hereford Insurance is 72-32 (incomplete); Chester Gin, is 66-42; Medics, 65-43; Justice Realtors, 60-48; Hereford Welding, 58-50; Owens and Hollingworth, 57-51; Gault and Son, 55-53; Sunset Lanes, 53-55; Boyds Machine & Supply, 46½-61½; Hays Implement, 44½-63½; Thrift-Burger (incomplete), 40½-63½; and Imperial Coiffures, 26½-61.

ALL-STAR ACTION — Members of the Church League Basketball teams pitted themselves against each other Monday night in an All-Star game with players selected from each team by members of opposing teams.

Club To Sponsor Kiwanis Relays

For the second time in as many years, the Hereford Kiwanis will sponsor the Hereford Kiwanis Relays, it has been announced. The club sponsored the same event last year and have taken the reigns again this year in the event.

The meet, which is scheduled to take place on April 23rd, will have seven schools including Aikman, Bluebonnet, Central, Northwest, and Shirley, along with St. Anthony's and the Wacotts schools.

Events which will take place in the meet, will include 50, 75, and 100-yard dashes, the 440-yard relay, pullups, high jump, and broad jump for the fourth grade teams. The meet will also include the same events for the fifth graders with the exception of the pullups, and the additions of throwing the eight pound shot out, and the tunning of the 880-yard relay. The sixth grade will compete in the same events as do the fifth graders.

The local Kiwanis Club, which has taken the responsibilities of conducting the meet for the past two years, will give three trophies for each grade and will also give ribbons for the first five place in each event.

With each school working out in "afterschool P. E.," there are some 70-100 students expected to be entered in the meet.

Richest thoroughbred races in Europe are for 3-year-olds. In America the 2-year-olds have the biggest purses.

Pioneers indicated their intention to stay on the Plains by building permanent homes to replace their first dug-outs and pole houses.

Tag Match To Highlight Card

Ricky Romero and Terry Funk will go against Kurt and Karl Van Brauner in a tag-team match to highlight the wrestling card for this weekend.

Also on the agenda is a match between Nick Bockwinkle and Py Chung along with two other matches.

Starting time for the nights activities will be set for 8:30 p.m. in the Hereford Bull Barn. The matches are sponsored by the Hereford Lions Club.

Dick Mills, Bertha Arnold Are Winners In Kings, Queens Play

Dick Mills, who had a 647 series, and Bertha Arnold, who was 75 pins over her average, were named "Bowlers Of the Week" in Kings and Queens action last Friday.

Carl Hoffman took four honors in league play as he rolled 234 to take "High Single Game"; 590 to collect the "High Series"; 255 for the "High Game Handicap"; and a 653 to win the "High Series Handicap". Bertha Arnold took two more honors as she rolled a 513 in the Queens division to take the "High Series", and a 624 to take the "High Series Handicap". Alice Lueb nabbed the "High Single Game" with a 198, while Wilma Neill took the "High Game Handicap" with a roll of 219.

The Cougar Club took both the "High Team Game" and the "High Team Series" with rolls of 858 and 2408, respectively.

In league action, Sunset Foods won 1 and lost 3; Farmers Elevator won 3 and lost 1; One Hour Martinizing won 2 and lost 2; Hereford Labs Inc. won 2 and lost 2; Hereford Janitor Supply won 0 and lost 4; the Cougar Club won 4 and lost 0; the Quarter Horse Club won 4 and lost 0; and Vance Hall Sporting Goods won 0 and lost 4.

Standings show that Vance Hall Sporting Goods is 17-11; Sunset Foods, 17-11; Hereford Labs Inc. 15-13; The Cougar Club, 15-13; Farmers Elevator, 13-15; Quarter Horse Club, 13-15; Hereford Janitor Supply, 12-16; and One Hour Martinizing, 10-18.

Lion. At right, Harlon Barber is presented a certificate designating him as Lion of the Month for February.

Easter Lions Elect Officers

Kenneth Frye was elected Boss Lion of the Easter Lions Club during a Ladies Night and election meeting Monday night at the Easter Community Building.

Other new officers include Charles Self, first vice president; Leroy Botkin, second vice president; Wayne Walsler, third vice president; John Smith, secretary; Bill Warrick, treasurer; Ivan Block, tail twister; Harlon Barber, Lion tamer; and Harlon Frye and Clarence Berend, directors. The officers were elected after "rousing" campaign speeches.

During the meeting, Harlon Barber was named Lion of the Month during February for his work with the farm sale.

Music Study Club Hears Romantic Compositions

Early Romantic composers, who produced music "which is much-loved because it proves that pure beauty can exist in the tonal world," were the subject of Music Study Club program Monday afternoon, with Mrs. Dale Young as leader.

Mrs. Bill Brady and Mrs. W. E. Fisher were hostesses in the Brady home. Mrs. R. C. Godwin conducted the business period.

Mrs. Young named Brahms, Chopin, Liszt and Strauss as romantics of the music world, and sketched briefly the life of each. Their music, she said, creates "the land of make-believe, eternally young and wilfully fantastic."

Illustrating her talk, Mrs. Sam Long played a Chopin Mazurka, Mrs. J. C. McCracken the Song Without Words of Mendelssohn, and Mrs. Richard Jackson sang two of Schubert's songs, Death And The Maiden and Love's Message, accompanied by Mrs. Bill Devers.

The entire club sang the Hymn of the month, Lead Kindly Light.

Mrs. R. G. Blue was a visitor. Members present included Mmes. Wilton Green, Clifford Trotter, A. O. Thompson, J. J. Gilbreath, T. W. Roberson, A. T. Schroeter, Lowell Sharp, C. J. Mountz, Ellis Coombes, B. Y. Crosthwait, Bill Dameron, J. R. Allison, Eugene Brink, W. T. Carmichael and Miss Frances Dameron.

The first proposals in the plan to develop Jordan's Red Sea port of Aqaba into a great resort city by the year 2000 are now being completed.

Lewis R. Brady was active in the organization of Deaf Smith County in 1890 and served as a commissioner while the county seat was La Plata.

Joe Carter was manager of a Hereford baseball team in 1903.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Not blood-curdling, but sort of blood-boiling, describes the things that happened to Mrs. Dwan Pittenger on a recent trip downstate, and she used words like unbelievable and incredible to describe them.

IT'S NO laughing matter, either, but as her tale unfolds the ridiculous aspects come to the fore and her hearers go ahead and laugh while they sympathize with her — and get pretty mad themselves.

SHE WENT to Houston last week, accompanied by some relatives from other cities, to the funeral of her sister. On the day they planned to come home, they woke up to find that Mrs. Pittenger's car missing from its parking place at their motel.

She called the Houston police, who told her that she wasn't in Houston, but in the suburb of Humble, so they had no jurisdiction. She called the officers in Humble, who told her the motel was just outside that town, and in land recently annexed by Houston.

Another call to the Houston police brought only non-committal remarks about lack of jurisdiction, so she tried the highway patrol office. But she was told at the office that nobody was there to handle her case, not until a certain time quite a while away.

SHE GOT the impression that her story fell on completely deaf ears, that nobody even took down her name and license number. At least she got no inkling that any help was coming. And wasn't even referred to somebody else who might help her.

The group decided that getting home was the most important thing right then, so the Hereford woman's brother who lives at Houston started to drive them to Fort Worth. That was when the frustration gave way to an outright miracle, in Mrs. Pittenger's opinion.

Her brother started out the highway with plans to stop for gasoline, but decided his tank held enough for a good many miles so he took a short cut. Riding past a small field in the outskirts of Humble, Mrs. Pittenger saw her missing car setting in the middle of it.

THEY STOPPED and found it undamaged except for a few scratches and a couple of knobs off the radio, but with about half the gas gone, indicating that young joy-riders had probably taken it, driven a while and abandoned it.

So she called police again to report that she had found her own car and maybe they would like to investigate a bit. They said they certainly wanted to take fingerprints and look into the case and would be out immediately. An hour later she phoned a gain, and was told again that the police would come at once. While they waited another hour, the man who owned the land and lived nearby came back home and naturally asked what was going on.

THEY EXPLAINED and satisfied him that the car was Mrs. Pittenger's. He told them the car had been there early that morning and he had called the police to report it, giving a description and license number.

After the second hour of waiting, Mrs. Pittenger and her party simply got in the car and came back to Hereford. Whether or not the Houston police ever got out to the scene, whether they have a record of her missing car, or what — she doesn't know and since the incident turned out alright, doesn't much care.

Letter To The Editor

Ever so often someone comes up with the idea of changing a name of a street or some other point of interest in our area. For example the recent application by some to change the name of 25 Mile Ave. and other streets. I think this is because they do not know, or some may not care that they are part of our heritage and history and do mean something to many. Why can't we keep the name as it is, within the town and let it be known as Highway 385 out of town and on the map? Ever so often some come up with the idea of changing the name of The Bull Barn. That too is historical — a name carried over from the old sales barn across north of the depot which burned. It was decided when it was rebuilt in a new location and for new purposes, that it should be so named. Can you imagine a pretty name for it?

Several streets in Hereford have been renamed some pretty name replacing those of people who were once prominent in Hereford and given much to the community. The new name is found in many towns and means nothing.

Suppose for instance that fifty years from now other citizens and or newcomers wish to change the name of Dameron Park, John A. Pitman Golf Course, Gregg Park and others. Ones which now mean much to us as they serve as living memorials to those we thought deserving of such honors.

None of us now would like the idea and many of you who will still be here, will not either. Lets keep the ones we have and add others, as deserved and granted, in the future.

Names are not like buildings which have to give way for progress!

Corinne J. Neely

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Political Announcements Cause More Speculations

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — First flurries of activity in the 1968 presidential campaign front remind that it is going to be a long, long political year.
Entry of Sen. Robert Kennedy into the contest for the Democratic nomination set off more speculation than action.
Less than a week after Kennedy's announcement, however, a Beaumont college teacher announced he had accepted an invitation from the senator's office to head up his drive in Texas.
Ron Platt, chairman of the small group known as Texas Liberal Democrats and a Lamar Tech assistant professor, said the Texas Committee for Kennedy soon will open an Austin office.

Dissenting Democrats of Texas reaffirmed its support of Sen. Eugene McCarthy for president despite Kennedy's emergence. Co-Chairman Don Allford said DDT welcomes efforts of the Kennedy backers and expects help from them in some areas in opposing President Johnson.

On the opposite end of the political stage, supporters of former Alabama Gov. George Wallace held their state convention here and kicked off their drive for 14,259 signatures to petitions. Petitions are necessary to get Wallace's name on the November ballot as presidential candidate of the new American Party headed in Texas by former State Sen. Weaver Moore of Houston. Signers must not participate in Democratic or Republican primaries or conventions.
State Democratic Committee, meanwhile, has emphasized its support of President Johnson. Gov. John Connally has announced he intends to head a Texas delegation to the national convention committed to the president's renomination.

To date, there is little evidence of any major effort to take the Texas Democratic conventions away from Johnson.
Texas Republicans, already leaning toward Richard Nixon, were left one less choice when Gov. Nelson Rockefeller announced he would not campaign for the nomination.

COURTS SPEAK — Supreme Court will hear arguments April 17 on whether Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler should be required to honor the West Texas minerals claim filed by Cobra Oil and Gas Corporation in Pecos, Culberson and Reeves Counties.

Third Court of Civil Appeals agreed with Comal County trial court that a New Braunfels used auto parts and junk dealer had no right to keep the city from fining him for violations of "beautification" ordinances.

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld conviction and life sentence of San Antonian Jorge Maldonado for murder of a used car salesman. Same court affirmed the 99-year sentence of a Houston area druggist for possession of heroin.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SPEAKS — Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said State Liquor Control Board records and orders should not be made available for public inspection except as the result of legal proceedings. Apparently, he classes hearings before LCB administrator on violation allegations as legal proceedings.

In other new opinions, Martin concluded that:

"Abolished 'city' of La Grulla in Starr County can hold a new incorporation election in less than a year from the date its abolition was resolved in court (last November 15)."
"A school district that had issued no unlimited tax bonds can revert to limited tax status under a different statute and issue bonds subject to voter approval."

APPOINTMENTS — Former Atty. Gen. Will Wilson of Austin and Baylor University President Abner McCall were named co-chairmen of the Anti-Crime Council of Texas (ACT). Council has as its initial goal defeat of the May 4 referendum on pari-mutuel betting.

State Bar headquarters announced R. Glenn Jarvis of McAllen and George H. Nelson of Lubbock have been nominated for president-elect of the State Junior Bar. George F. Christie of Fort Worth and James Greenwood of Houston are vice presidential nominees; and Jack Norwood, Tyler, and Robert R. Sanders of Amarillo nominees for secretary-treasurer.
Carl F. Wheeler Jr. of Austin is the new president of the Texas Elementary Principals and Supervisors Association. Warren W. Green of Tyler is president-elect. Robert L. Holden of San Angelo first vice president, William C. Harter of Canyon, vice president and Mrs. Shirley Hale of Houston, third vice president.

MORE PARK AID OFFERED — Action to protect historic San Jacinto State Park from erosion and flood has been asked by Attorney General Martin.
He suggests moving De Zavala Cemetery, which floods at high tide, and an appropriation to Parks and Wildlife Department to protect the rest of the park.

A $319,915 federal grant has been approved for development of outdoor recreation facilities at 3,840-acre Monahans Sandhills State Park in Ward and Winkler Counties.

Another $11,450 federal grant will go to 332-acre Big Spring State Recreation Park, two miles south of Big Spring.
State matching funds will double project financing at both Sandhills and Big Spring facilities.

DRAFT CALL UP — State draft boards must furnish 2,378 men in April and, for the first time in two years, part of the group will go into the U. S. Marine Corps.

Figure compares with the quota of 1,947 for the Army in March and is the largest monthly call for draft boards since October, 1966, when Texas' share was 2,845.

Local boards will send 8,500 men to armed forces examining and entrance stations in April for pre-induction physical and mental examinations in preparation to fill future quotas. March total was 7,200.

April induction and pre-induction quotas were mailed to local boards by state Selective Service headquarters in mid-March. National quota for April is 48,000, of which Army will get 44,900 and Marines 4,000. Draftees are in 19-25 age bracket.

TRAFFIC DEATHS DECREASE — Traffic deaths in Texas last year totaled 3,367, according to latest Department of Public Safety tabulations.
This was a decrease of 1.15 per cent (first in seven years) from 1966 when a record 3,406 fatalities from auto accidents were recorded.

DPS noted that there was a five per cent increase in vehicle miles traveled in the state last year, for a death ratio of 5.8 persons killed for each 100,000,000 miles of travel. This is a decrease in death rate from 6.2 in 1966.

Total of 885,268 traffic accidents were reported in the state during 1967, with economic loss estimated at $793,000,000 and 205,000 injuries.

NURSES RECRUITED — State Board of Nurse Examiners registered 1,741 more nurses in 1967 than the 36,862 in 1966, and most of the new ones came from out of state.

Of all the new nurses, 1,494 moved to Texas from other states. Texas lost only 778 to other states. Also, 821 new RNs were registered after graduation from nursing school.

Recruitment programs by the Texas Hospital Association and the Health Careers Program were given much of the credit for the increased number of nurses. "And then a lot of people just like to move to Texas," an official said.

MIXED DRINK DEBATE SHAPING UP — One of the great debates of the season seems to be over the method of legalizing sale of liquor-by-drink. Former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, campaigning for governor argues no constitutional bill can be written on the subject, and that an amendment to the state constitution's "open saloon" ban is necessary to legalize mixed drinks. Eugene Locke is campaigning heavily for local option mixed drinks bill, as has Governor Connally.

SHORT SNORTS
Governor Connally approved $4,648 grant to Golden Crescent Council of Governments in the Victoria area. Sharon Connally, daughter of Gov. and Mrs. Connally, was married Saturday to Robert C. Ammann III at the Governor's mansion, the fourth daughter of a Texas governor to be married in the historic residence. Maj. Gen. Thomas S. Bishop, Adjutant General of Texas, will request more than $300,000 from the Legislature when it meets in special session to pay for new riot-control equipment. Attorney General Martin will file a support brief in an Alabama federal court suit against the State of Alabama over whether a state's having separate wet and dry areas violates the constitutional rights of residents in dry areas.

under protest for its 17 establishments in Texas. K. F. C. says it should have been required to pay only $146.

The 98th District Court of Travis County has not set the suit for trial.

Attorney General Martin, called on for advice by the House committee studying liquor laws, sidestepped the issue. He sent the committee the 29-year-old opinions of former Atty. Gen. Gerald Mann that the legislature in defining "open saloons" acted in obedience to command of the people. While acknowledging the legislature can change laws, Martin suggested that courts, not the attorney general, must test constitutionality of the new "open saloon" definition.

House committee, which is compiling a report for the special session this year, was advised that the Liquor Control Board should be "more forthright" to regain confidence of public.

Price Wants Bill On Sky-jacking

WASHINGTON —The House Republican Task Force on Crime today called on Congress for "prompt consideration" of federal legislation designed to make it more difficult to hijack airplanes.

The GOP Crime Group noted that Congressman Louis C. Wyman (R-N.H.), a Task Force member, had introduced a bill (H.R. 1469) in January 1967, which would protect the cockpit and crew by requiring structural changes within the aircraft and would require declaration and permission before carrying fire-sky-jacking is a capital offense has not deterred five sky-jackings of commercial planes in the last few weeks. For this reason our Crime Task Force believes a greater measure of protection is advisable for pilots and crew of commercial passenger-carrying aircraft.

"The legislation proposed would require bullet-proof construction for the door separating the pilot and passenger compartments; visibility of the passenger compartment from the cockpit; an improved warning system; and prohibit the carrying of firearms or explosives aboard aircraft unless they are first declared."

The most prevalent cause of bankruptcy is managerial incompetence, which is responsible for nearly half of all business failures, according to Dun & Bradstreet.

Washington Report

From Congressman
BOB PRICE 10TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1323 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. • 223-2738

Crime, lawlessness, and the implied threats of more violence this spring, and summer continue as the top domestic problem facing the nation.

In a recent message to Congress, the President pointed out the problems of the Nation's Capital and urged home rule for the District of Columbia. His message said of the Capital, "Washington — the city of noble monuments, quiet splendor and the close touch of history — is truly the nation's pride."

But there are many who live in the District of Columbia who feel something less than pride in the Nation's Capital. At the cashier's desk in a suburban drug store, I stood behind a lady who was comparing her experience of being held up and robbed with the cashier who had recently been hijacked at closing time by three armed men. The lady was payroll clerk for a university whose $26,000 payroll in cash had been taken from their office at gunpoint.

Serious crime is up 17 percent over last year in major cities including Washington. In the city of "quiet splendor" where murder, rape, robbery, and assault are so common place that they are buried back in the third section of the newspaper, the news media reported at the same time that Howard University, a federally supported institution, had been taken over by militants who demanded the resignation of the University President and creation of a "black democratic university" under a new president.

Other news stories noted that union officials said they may take drivers off bus routes where holdups have been most frequent. There have been more than 130 holdups of bus drivers in the city so far this year. There were 326 last year.

In February, the President delivered a crime message to Congress indicating that he not only is concerned but also that he finally means to do something about the problem of crime in the nation. I welcome the President's pledge to fight crime but have some doubts about the effectiveness of his proposed program. An analysis may reveal more of a political document than a much needed plan for national action.

Crime must be brought under control and substantially reduced. Republicans last year developed and introduced specific legislative proposals designed to control and prevent crime and lawlessness. The Republican Task Force on Crime, on which I serve, has drafted legislation and substantially improved administrative anti-crime legislation in this and the previous session of Congress. This includes an anti-riot bill and other legislation including amendments to the Law Enforcement Assistance Act of 1967 which was passed by the House but has not been acted on by the Senate. Wire tapping legislation which has been endorsed by the Task Force has received almost universal endorsement — except from the U. S. Attorney General.

The President vetoed a District of Columbia crime bill after adjournment of Congress in 1966. But he signed a similar bill at the last minute after Congress adjourned in 1967.

Apparently there has been a change in attitude and hopefully recognition of the inadequacies of measures taken so far to effectively combat the continuing rise of crime.

Crime is an issue in 1968 because the President did not make it an issue in 1967 or 1966 or 1965 or 1964. Since 1960, the reported rate of crime has increased over 88 percent. There has been an obvious failure during this period in the Administration of justice and the day of reckoning is now here.

Music Club Workshop Scheduled

A district workshop for Federated Music Clubs is to be conducted in the gold room of the Federated Club Building in Wolfin Village, Amarillo, Tuesday morning, Mrs. Carl Wimberley of Dawn Music Club, president of First District, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, will conduct the opening business session at 10 a.m.

She will also be leader of one of the group discussions, and will preside for the closing assembly as the workshop ends at 12 noon.

Mrs. A. O. Thompson of Hereford's Music Study Club, who is state chairman of choral music, will be in charge of another of the discussions, assisted by Mrs. Mack Bush of Canyon, a member of the Dawn club and district secretary.

Mrs. J. B. Caraway of Dawn, district corresponding secretary, will assist in still another of the four groups.

Duties of officers and committee chairmen, club finances, program planning, and the various divisions of music club work in Texas will be subjects of the workshop sessions. Music Study Club and Dawn Music Club are the two federated music clubs in this county.

The Hereford Community Concerts Association Presents
 As Its Featured Attraction For The 1968-69 Series

The Norman Luboff Choir

The popularity of this dynamic conductor-arranger-composer and his group was initially achieved through the many splendid recordings, on both the RCA Victor and Columbia labels, for which the group was originally created. The nucleus of the recording Choir consists of 25-30 virtuoso professional singers with an amazing repertoire that quite literally runs the gamut from Bach to the Blues.

Ranging from such "choral spectaculars" as "76 Trombones", arranged in the inimitable Luboff style, to an album of classical masterpieces, all of the Choir's 30-odd discs have the distinction of being best-sellers. The reason, to anyone who has heard any of them, is obvious: The enormous and mutually complementary gifts of Mr. Luboff himself, as a choral director of precision, elegance and verve, and an arranger of originality and solid musicianship, are clearly displayed throughout each of them.

Rotary Hears Mike Hagar Answer Vietnam Questions

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Cpl. Michael Wayne Hagar, home on leave from the Marine Corps prior to being shipped to Morocco, was guest speaker at the Rotary Club meeting in the Hickory Log during their noon luncheon Monday.

Cpl. Hagar was introduced by Rotarian Francis Hardwick, a man he had worked for at the Star Theatre prior to enlisting in the Marines.

Hagar left Hereford yesterday for New Jersey, where he will be embarked for Morocco by March 31. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hagar of 126 Ave. B.

The 22-year-old Marine, who had previously served 13 months in Vietnam, substituted a question-and-answer period for the regular speech and his audience had an opportunity to gain first-hand information in regard to the war.

The Rotarians were highly receptive.

Cpl. Hagar, who had been in Vietnam from July 1966 until August 1967, told them that he believed the American armed forces are there "to stop the Communists and their terrorist form of government. If we don't, we will be fighting them here (in the United States later.) We've got to stop them there."

He maintained that we are needed more now at Khe Sanh than at Saigon, but that they could not take and hold Khe Sanh because "they are outnumbered. The artillery camps could be overrun but it would be hard."

Hagar explained that the battles were mostly small sniper fire. "Usually they won't bother you unless they think they have you outnumbered."

Giving a brief history of Vietnam, he told the Rotarians that since the beginning of time they have been under foreign rule, until the French were removed in 1954. At that time, the country had been divided into North and South Vietnam. "Within a few days after that, Ho Chi Min said that he would liberate South Vietnam and place them under Communist rule."

Hagar said that, because of their government situation in South Vietnam "you just don't know who's who with the government there. But the people have been fighting as long as they can remember." The have a tendency to "go along with the winner."

When asked why the South Vietnamese does not cross the DMZ for raids as the North Vietnamese do, he replied that they largely depend on the Allied Forces. "I don't know the reason why they don't. They could."

Rotary speaker . . . Michael Hagar, Vietnam veteran, is welcomed to the Rotary Club meeting by Francis Hardwick, left.

The North Vietnamese are trained, armed and advised by the Chinese troops, he told them, "since the war ended with the French. They got the jump on us," he replied, in regard to the Allied Forces training the South Vietnamese. "The way the political situation is there (in both countries) we can only fight a hogan battle. Otherwise there would be total war with other countries," Hagar said.

"I feel that if it was up to the military, they would take more troops. It happens a lot that it takes time to get approval on various things from Washington. They have tried to cut this (situation) down, and they may have some since I left there."

Hagar explained, when asked about the fighting man's viewpoint on the political situation in Washington, that "the men he was around there tried not to think about it much." But he said, in regard to the current Pueblo situation in North Korea, that "in my opinion, we should go take the ship."

Returning to the Vietnam situation, he replied, "A lot of people think we ought to invade North Vietnam and try to stop it right there. All we are doing is fighting a defensive war. All we can hope for now is to hold South Vietnam." He maintained that the Communists want to keep the war going as long as they can.

Cpl. Hagar discussed the differences in the various weapons now being used and that the B-52's "are great for fortified position. The B-52's will not drive them off the hills but will 'tear them up!'" He said that the Allied ground troops have heavy losses in such battles.

Editor's Note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 269 W. 9th Street, Austin Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

A — When I reported for physical examination at the armed forces examining station, I was rejected for being 10 pounds overweight. I've lost 10 pounds. Am I expected to report that change to my draft board?

A — Yes, you're required to report it within 10 days of the date you discovered it.

Q — I'm in jail for 90 days, and my 18th birthday is coming up next week. I'm in enough trouble now. How do I get registered for the draft so I don't get in more?

A — Ask the superintendent of the institution. He may have a registrar who will register you when you get out. If not, he'll help you find the nearest one. Register immediately after your release and explain the delay to your local board in writing.

Q — I'm classified I-Y. Does this mean I'll be reexamined?

A — You may or may not be.

Q — I'm in jail for 90 days,

Local Woman's Husband Will Be Candidate's Aide

Dave McNeely, husband of the former Sandra Inman of Hereford, was made press aide to your local board will review your case.

Q — I'm a student in business college. A university student told me if I got deferred to attend business school I couldn't be deferred later as a father if I married. Is this right?

A — It's wrong. It won't disqualify you for Class III-A as a father in the future, but the university student will be so disqualified if he's deferred in Class II-S upon request after June 30, 1967.

Democratic gubernatorial candidate John Hill on Monday.

Mrs. McNeely is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burke Inman of 416 Star Street in Hereford. Inman is a widely known truck-line owner in Hereford.

The McNeelys have two children, Michelle, four and Candy, three.

The McNeelys were married in 1962. They met while he was a summer newspaper intern with the Amarillo Globe-News.

John Tower Speaks Out

Providing Decent Housing In Cities Is Big Problem

For the last couple of weeks the Senate's Housing and Urban Affairs Subcommittee, on which I serve, has been holding hearings on the housing needs of our citizens. We are concerned about what useful activities the federal government may take in this field.

The problems of our cities are many, but in my opinion the overriding problem needing speedy solution is that of providing decent housing for the many low-income families that live in our cities.

Late last year the Housing Subcommittee sent to the Senate a bipartisan housing bill which set out several innovative approaches to the production of low-income housing, including emphasis on homeownership.

Unfortunately the Administration delayed action on that bill until it could compile and submit a similar bill of its own. It is this new bill which prompted the current round of hearings.

Although I am pleased the Administration has recognized the merit of our original homeownership concept, I am concerned that the new bill fails to come to grips with the central issue of just who really needs governmental assistance and is justified in receiving it.

The goal of a decent home for every American family is, I feel, an achievable goal. But, in seeking this goal we must guard against a governmentally-induced erosion of individual initiative and responsibility. Government assistance to people who do not need government assistance destroys both initiative and responsibility — and it wastes tax resources.

In the past, federal housing programs, originally conceived and enacted to benefit families at the low-income level, have too frequently been administered so as to accommodate families with larger incomes. In effect past programs have bypassed those low-income families truly deserving of housing assistance.

Both with respect to existing federally-assisted housing programs and the new proposals now under consideration, I feel that we should strive to do the most good where it is most deserved. That is, we should give priority to lower income housing over so-called moderate income housing.

We should reach out to assist those who, but for such assistance, could not decently house themselves. We should resist the philosophy which urges us to reach out and subsidize higher incomes. Those funds that can be made available for federally-aided housing should be devoted to the area of greatest need.

Funds are not so earmarked now. It is my intent to work for approval of legislation that will provide meaningful progress in the area of true low-income housing.

There are some 14 million families in our country who have incomes of less than five-thousand-dollars. They constitute approximately 28-percent of our families. These families are by any measure the families who are least able to provide for their housing needs. If there is to be direct governmental assistance, there are the families among which the greatest need exists.

Whatever the amount of money we can allocate for our government to expend in the area of housing, this is where the money should be concentrated. The new Administration bill, instead, would overshadow true low-income families with an outburst of gratuitous concern for the imagined needs of families with so-called moderate incomes. Beyond this, the Administration would even propose as eligible for government housing assistance those families earning as much as ten-thousand-dollars a year. I cannot believe there is validity in this contention.

About 70-percent of American families make up to ten-thousand dollars annually. If this proposed trend toward increased federal involvement in housing were in fact to occur, we would become a nation inordinately dependent upon Washington for housing, contrary to everything that our form of government and way of life is based upon.

We should help those who truly cannot help themselves and we should encourage those who can help themselves to participate in bettering their status.

And, we should give long overdue recognition to the fact that our nation's housing problems will not be appreciably solved until we create meaningful legislation that will make possible the maximum use of the skills and resources of our free-enterprise system and the private sector of our economy. There is simply not enough tax money for government alone to do everything that needs to be done.

Every family in everyone of our cities, communities and neighborhoods, no matter what its financial means or status, certainly will respond to the fullest if offered encouragement and a helping hand by government rather than being offered only the prospect of complete reliance on the government.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

Beans In Bread? Yes!

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Pinto beans might justly be called the staff of life for pioneers of the Southwest, and for many residents since then.

Growing in climates too arid for most crops, easily stored and chock-full of protein and other nutritious substance, the ubiquitous frijole has fed generations of hardy westerners.

INDIANS, Spaniards, Anglos in turn have found the speckled bean an almost sure food crop and a tasty dish that can be prepared by the veriest amateur of cook, needing only plenty of time to simmer into a delicious meal whether the beans are paired with sowbelly, ham hock or scarlet chilies.

Boiled in an iron pot over a campfire by a chuckwagon cook, or in shiny aluminum in the kitchen of a finicky woman, pintos defy the cook to spoil their distinctive flavor.

Steaming hot on a blizzardy day, with buttered cornbread, they satisfy the appetite of a hard-working man or a hungry schoolboy; dished up cold, with maybe a thick slice of onion as a savory accompaniment they make an ambrosial snack for after-school or work.

CHEAP and plentiful, they have tided over many an early-day family of settlers in this area through lean times, and during the drought and depression years of the 1930's they were again a mainstay of menus where lots of food at little cost was in demand.

But the beans have not lost favor during more prosperous times; with a strong appeal to men's appetites, they are served often in homes where choice steak could be afforded. Chile con carne aficionados frequently demand pinto beans with the spicy meat mixture, while other gourmet palates of the Southwest prefer the pintos alone.

Although pintos are sometimes used with other varieties of beans in a popular salad, and they can be served in other ways, the odds-on favorite method of cooking is by plain boiling, and if properly done it produces a dish fit for any king or cowboy.

NOT MANY cooks, perhaps, have made bread with pintos. Mrs. M. L. Simpson, a Plains resident for half a century and well acquainted with the beans, found a recipe for pinto bean bread, a new one that she was happy to try.

She was introduced to the recipe on a recent visit to her daughters' homes in Albuquerque. A son-in-law, W. D. Adams, knows Mrs. Simpson's liking for trying new recipes and often asks her to test something that sounds good to him when she is visiting the Adams.

One of his fellow workers on a testing project for the University of New Mexico had brought in his lunch some sandwiches made of bean bread. Adams had sampled one, and asked for the recipe. It turned out to be in a cookbook filled entirely with recipes using pinto beans.

MRS. SIMPSON found that the bread resembles whole-wheat bread in appearance, but has its own flavor, a nutlike taste that would hardly be recognized as the familiar pinto bean. It is delicious buttered, either toasted or plain, and the flavor blends nicely with a variety of sandwich fillings. The Hereford woman adds 2 eggs to the basic recipe to make a lighter texture. Here is the recipe as given in the New Mexico cookbook:

PINTO BEAN BREAD

2 cups cooked unseasoned pinto beans, riced (Mrs. Simpson used an electric mixer instead of a ricer to cream the beans.)
2 cup milk, scalded
2 tsp. sugar
2 pkg. active dry yeast
2 tsp. salt
2 tsp. shortening
6 cups all-purpose flour
2 beaten eggs (optional)

Pour milk into large bowl and cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle yeast over milk and stir until dissolved. Blend in beans, salt, sugar and shortening (and eggs if used).

Gradually add about 4 cups flour, stirring in with a spoon as added. Add enough of the remaining flour to handle easily (This will take less flour than with ordinary bread). Knead until smooth and elastic.

Turn into greased bowl; turn over to bring greased side up. Cover and let rise in warm about 1 hour. Pound down, bring edges to center and turn over in bowl. Cover, let rise again until almost double.

Divide dough into two portions and shape into loaves. Place in greased pans. Cover, let rise until almost doubled in bulk, about 45 minutes. Bake in 350-degree oven about 50 minutes. Cool thoroughly on rack.

MRS. SIMPSON enjoys cooking, especially with an unusual recipe, and is pleased when one turns out as well as this.

She has been a resident of this area since 1916, when she was Naomi Hunter, one of a family moving to Castro County. Two years later she married and continued to live in that county until she and her husband came to Hereford ten years ago.

The Simpsons operated a dairy farm for many years. Their three sons are still farmers on a land southeast of Hereford that includes the home place. There are three daughters, Mrs. Joe Nelson of Dimmitt, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Virginia Hartman of Albuquerque. The latter two are both nurses.

The family boasts 18 grandchildren. All were together last Thanksgiving.

Active in the Presbyterian Church and its women's organization, Mrs. Simpson is also a member of Pioneer Study Club here. While she was living on the farm she had 35 years of membership in Home Demonstration Clubs, serving in all offices.

Civil Defense Meeting Is Set

Jerry Don George, chairman of the Civil Emergency Planning Committee, has announced that the committee will hold a meeting at noon Friday in the Hickory Log.

With this being the first meeting of the committee in two years, the objectives of the committee and a discussion of how it will function, will be the first order of business, it was pointed out.

Also on the agenda, will be the reviewing of past actions and recommendations of the committee and the planning of the best time and day for future meetings.

A slide film, "The Citizen and Civil Defense" will be presented by the Civil Defense director.

More than 27,000 ships, with a total displacement of 115 million tons, entered and cleared the port of Singapore in 1967.

An estimated 22 million Americans now own stocks in one or more companies.

STANTON CHOIR TROPHY — Carol Scott and John Sparks of the Stanton Junior High Mixed Choir exhibit a plaque symbolic of their I rating in the University Interscholastic League concert and sight-reading contests held last Friday at West Texas State University in Canyon. The Girl's Choir received a division II rating in concert and sight-reading, while the Mixed Choir also got a II rating in sight-reading. Only the I ratings earned plaques.

Council Changes H.D. Award Plan

A change in the manner of selecting the County Home Demonstration Club Woman of the Year, announcement of special 4-H Club plans in which H. D. clubs will cooperate, and plans for attendance at a district meeting of Texas H. D. Association were important items on the agenda of the County H. D. Council at its March meeting Monday.

Mrs. O. L. Williams presided in the county courtroom, with representatives of all 11 clubs present.

Mrs. H. L. Hershey announced that all clubs have approved the Council's recommendation that the H. D. Woman of the Year be selected from club nominees by a panel of three persons outside the county.

Previously, club nominees have been introduced at a luncheon open to all H. D. members, and vote of those present decided the award.

A county 4-H camp to be held in mid-June was announced in Mrs. Thurman Atchley's report on 4-H work. Initial meeting of leaders, parents of 4-H members and other interested adults is set for April 29 to form a County Adult Leaders Association.

Dates were announced for 4-H foods contests, March 30 for the county elimination, Apr. 20 for the district food show and Apr. 27 for the district elimination. Layne Young of Ford 4-H Club and Susie Shirley, Willing Workers Club, won the junior division of the county 4-H Food Show March 23.

Mrs. Paul Hoff, county THDA chairman, reported plans for the district meeting in Spearman Apr. 4. The Council voted that county delegates to this meeting give their reports at a covered dish luncheon Apr. 22 in the Bull Barn, preceding the April Council session.

Mrs. J. G. Gangy reported on a training meeting for members who will give club programs on the April topic, Venereal Disease in Texas. Mrs. Viola Williams reported that 15 women attended the annual recreation workshop March 18.

Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent, announced a training session to be held on drying, anti-queing and arranging flowers. Project reports were made by Mrs. Louie Olson of Cultural Club and Mrs. Dick Golden of Dawn Club, both on sewing for the Red Cross.

Mrs. J. E. Sorrells of Messenger Club conducted an opening contest, What Kind of Cloth?, in which Mrs. J. G. Gandy was winner.

Preceding the Council meeting, Mrs. Frank Brorman of Ford Club, Council publicity chairman, presided at a workshop for club reporters, who heard Mrs. Floyd Coleman of the Hereford Brand talk informally of their duties.

Present were Mrs. Lee Roy Burges of Young Homemakers, Mrs. Carl Schroeder of West Hereford, Mrs. Viola Williams of North Hereford, Mrs. S. N. Thweatt of Messenger, Mmes. Roy Thompson and Burke Inman of Cultural Club.

Others registered at the Council meeting were Mmes. Jimmie D. Bradley, C. F. Homfeld and Wayne Sifford, Bippus Club; Mrs. John A. Smith, Ford; Mrs. L. J. Lueb, North Hereford; Mrs. Grady Parsons, Cultural; Mrs. Elmer Northcutt, Messenger.

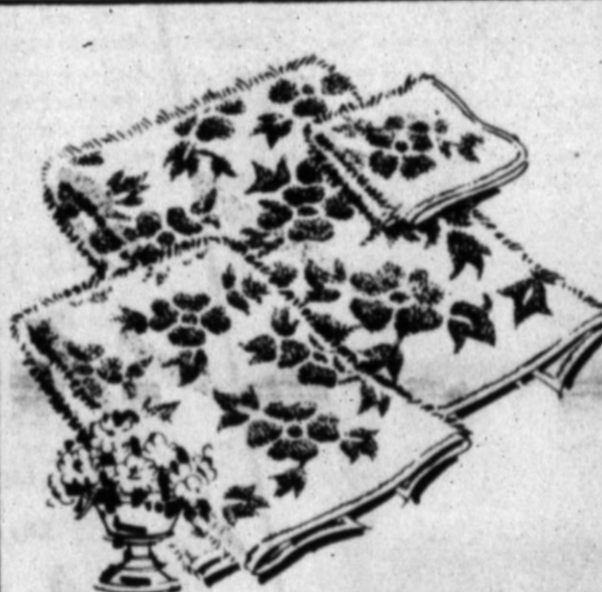

Also Mmes. Blanche Hardin and Carlos Vaughn, West Hereford; Mmes. Leroy Bodkin and C. F. Newsom, Wyche; Mrs. J. D. Gilbert Jr., Progressive; Mrs. R. L. Johnson, Dawn; Mrs. Albert Lamb, Westway; Mrs. C. R. Haas of Greenville, Ill., a guest of Mrs. Hoff, was a visitor.

 30 - Mid-Plains Pioneer Association at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn. Will feature the 70th anniversary of Hereford.
- Frontier country had a way of demanding use of every man's skills. When ranchers in the county learned that the new ranch hand on the Dr. Rucker Ranch was a veterinarian, his ranching days were over. Dr. F. E. Bowe established an office in Hereford and practiced here until 1941.
- S. W. Crawford was a pioneer employee of the Santa Fe Railroad in Hereford. He came here in 1903.
- W. B. Dameron made careful plans for his family's move to Hereford in 1900 by shipping lumber for a new home by rail and brick for a business building, the first 2-story brick building on Main Street.

Political Calendar

The first primary election will be held May 4, with absentee voting to be held April 15-30. The precinct conventions also will be held May 4 and the county conventions on May 11. The second primary election will be held June 1. Absentee voting will begin May 22 and end May 28. The state conventions will be held June 8, and another state convention is planned on Sept. 17 for parties holding primaries.

Absentee voting for the general election will be held from Oct. 16 to Nov. 1, with the general election set for Nov. 5.

Local Residents Are Listed On OSU Honor Roll

STILLWATER, Okla. - Virginia G. Newell and James Young of Hereford are among 3,405 students at Oklahoma State University named to the Dean's Honor Roll for the fall semester.

Miss Newell is a sophomore home economics major and Young is a sophomore business major.

Students making a 3.0, or B, grade average or above, with no grade lower than C and while carrying at least 12 credit hours are named to the Dean's Honor Roll each term, said Registrar Raymond Girod.

Name Omitted In Chamber List

Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce manager Bill Thompson reported that the name Bruce Miller had accidentally been omitted from the membership roster in the Sunday Brand. Thompson said the oversight was regretted and apologized to Miller for the oversight.

I. N. Dillard was one of a group of five who bought the first of the XIT land to be sold when it was dispersed in 1900.

Mrs. Carver Is Coffee Honoree

Farewell entertaining for Mrs. Russell Carver, who is moving to a home in Fort Worth, included a pretty coffee Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. Ivan Block, with Mrs. W. L. Davis Jr. and Mrs. H. A. Cavness as co-hostesses.

The Carvers are to leave Friday for the North Texas city, where he will be associated with a bank as an officer. Mrs. Carver has been active in the social life of Hereford, with particular interest in the Duplicate Bridge Club. An expert player, she holds a master point rating in the American Contract Bridge League.

Approximately 50 friends called for the coffee. An out-of-city name on the guest list was that of Mrs. Earl Wilbur of Dalhart, Mrs. Carver's sister-in-law. Mrs. Bill Waldrep and Mrs. Wayne Thomas poured coffee, which was served with fruit bits sweet rolls and cookies. The table was centered with pink pom-poms in a silver basket.

In 1902, the A. H. Elliston family was attracted to Hereford by the ambitious young town's institution of higher learning, Add-Ran College.

The Deaf Smith County Court House, "a Magnificent Temple of Justice" to quote the Hereford Brand of 1912, was built in 1910.

Glady's Garden

By Gladys Howton Manjeot

What is the most devastating disease of today? A famous doctor was asked this question and his reply was, "Loneliness, just plain loneliness. The longer I practice, the surer I am that there's no condition as acute, so universal. Everybody, at one time or another, is subject to its ravages. With many, the disease becomes chronic. And many live constantly under its blight. Some of its symptoms are melancholy, boredom, forlornness, lack of friends and an outlet for one's talents and self."

A remedy was not given by the doctor, but I would like to prescribe one. It is Have a Garden, be it small or large. If not a garden then some potted plants, something alive that you can work with, using your hands and mentality.

A gardener can make friends, because he has something to share. He can create beauty, which is very useful these days. Can produce food which is life sustaining. Many other outlets come from gardening, and I recommend it most sincerely.

The gardener has something in common with others, thereby conversation can be carried on, and this can lead to friendship, and comradeship. What more could one ask?

Last summer a neighbor shared a large container of fresh cut rhubarb with a friend of mine. She shared with me and others, therefore good came to many. Rhubarb is a very delectable plant to have in ones garden. The following are rules to use in growing rhubarb;

1. Plant in a sandy loam well supplied with organic matter.
2. If possible choose a southern exposure where there will be constant sunshine. This encourages constant growth.
3. Order or select good sections of crowns. Cover the crowns with 2 or 3 inches of soil, which should be firmed about the roots.
4. Make a depression around the planted hill so that it can be well watered.
5. Cultivate just enough to control weeds. Shallow cultivation is all that is necessary.
6. Use precautions by spraying with an insecticide, to keep the plant free from insects. The curculio beetle is one of its worse enemies, and it is bred in wild dock, so do not have any wild dock growing near garden plot.
7. Guard against diseases, such as stem rot, which is a fungus that attacks and rots the base of stalks, often killing the entire plant. To treat, remove diseased parts, then spray the base of the healthy stalks with a Bordeaux mixture.
8. The first year do not use the stalks until a good growth has been reached, then use sparingly, and in pulling stalks from the crown be careful not to bruise or harm the crown. It should be shaded, so don't leave the crown bare.
9. Do not let stalks seed, keep the seed cut off.
10. The second year's crop depends largely upon the care given to the plant the season before, so take good care of the plant while young.
11. After the growing season, and the ground freezes, then the rhubarb plant should be covered with a straw, or mulch to protect plant from the cold, and encourage early growth.
- One of the popular varieties is Victoria. This is used extensively by commercial growers, but it also is recommended for any gardener. It has large, well colored tender, juicy stalks. The best red rhubarb is Canada Red. Is extremely tender, lovely red color, mild and delicious. Rhubarb sauce is delicious and a real tonic for the person who needs an appetite pepper-upper. Many are fond of rhubarb pie or cobbler, served with a topping of whipped cream. A very satisfying and pretty punch can be made from rhubarb. It also makes delicious jelly. One of our favorite ways to use it is to make Rhubarb Conserve.

RHUBARB CONSERVE.
1 quart of cut prepared rhubarb
1 cup of raisins
1 orange seeded and cut into small pieces, add juice. Do not peel the orange.
2 1/2 cups of sugar, more if you want it sweeter.

Cook together over a slow flame. When clear and the liquid is syrupy remove from the burner and add 1 cup of chopped pecan meats, blend together, and serve with hot toasted brown bread, butter and a cup of coffee or glass of cold milk. Very good and satisfying.

To do: Sift wood ashes, from the fireplace, through a piece of 1/2 inch hogwire. They are netar and ambrosia, all in one to roses, dianthus, delphinium, and grapes. Be sure to give lilacs a feeding of lime. Lime will also benefit all gray-foiled plants. Iris should be fed, and if they have hard large center rizons, remove these and burn or destroy. After feeding, the plants should be watered.

Gardeners philosophy. . . . "You have to keep teaching a child — a taught child does not stay taught any more than a hood garden will stay hood."

GLAD.
Have You Seen, the pretty spring flowers in the Hereford Gardens? The hyacinths are very pretty. Their sweet fragrance perfumes the air. They are especially nice for a shut-in, and when used for corsages very pretty, one of these using the pink and rose colored florets pinned to a sick-friends pillow is a very thoughtful gift. Don't forget to use some of the grape hyacinths in your small arrangements, they combine well with jonquils.

Dawn Girl Put On Dean's List

Linda Combs, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. LaNoy Tooley of Dawn, has been placed on the Dean's List at Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Illinois, it was announced by Dr. Paul Schwada, vice president of Academic Affairs.

Mrs. Combs is a junior at Olivet, where she is studying to be a home economics teacher. Olivet Nazarene College, one of eight colleges sponsored by the Church of the Nazarene, is a fully accredited liberal arts college with an approximate enrollment of 1,700 students.

The Dean's List is made up of students with an average of 3.35 (high B) or above.

Yards and yards of material, from calico to silk, were sold to Deaf Smith County families by Mr. and Mrs. George A. Stambaugh. He established a grain and feed store across the railroad track on South Main.

Bureaucrats existed in Sumnerian society. A chronicler of about 2350 B. C. wrote, "The petty official who brought the dead to the cemetery has to be paid off with seven pitchers of beer and 420 loaves of bread. And the tax collectors lurk everywhere."

Birthdays Celebrated By Dozen With Dinner

March birthdays of 12 members of the group were celebrated at a gathering of relatives and neighbors at Easter Community House Sunday, the first time this group had been together in ten years.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Walser of Summerfield showed films of their recent trip by air to Tokyo, Hong Kong and Taiwan, which they took to meet their son, Sgt. Ken Walser, in Tokyo on a rest and recreation leave from U. S. Army duty in Viet Nam.

Two birthday cakes were cut after the covered dish dinner. One had the March calendar traced on; its icing, with dates marked and flags bearing the birthday honorees' names set in the appropriate date squares.

The dozen honorees were Mrs. Delbert Balmum, Mrs. C. J. Crump, C. R. Walser, Preston Hagan, Don Walser, Brad Walser, Reese Dawson Jr., C. J.

Lance, Wayne Walser, Jerry Don Lance, Preston Clark and Terry Rainey.

Others present, in addition to respective husbands and wives of the five first-named birthday celebrants, included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lance, Mrs. Billie Herrington and Jenene of Summerfield.

Also, from Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Walser, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Clark; the Richard Clarks and Jason, Dawson and Mitchell; the Reese Dawsons, Mike, Trinity and Terese; the Vance Robinsons, Kelle and Kari; Christie and Gary Tyler and Mrs. Lee Curry.

Also the Lenton Clarks, LeWana, Barry and Lance of Amarillo; The Gene Purosis, Mac, Becky and Don of Canadian; the Melvin Rainey, Steven and Monty of Pampa; Mrs. Betty Baker, Dee and Devra of Plainview; Mrs. David Hays and Scott of Dimmitt.

FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD

HE BLESSED the CHILDREN

As naturally as the flower turns its face to the sun, so does the human child respond to the love and grace of God. They know He loves them.

Jesus, who knew the Father's heart, said to some good people of His time — "Let the little children come unto me and forbid them not."

Surely no woman or man would detour a child in his natural search for God and goodness. Take them to church, show them the way...the Master still commands us. They may be ours for a few short years.

They are His forever. How important then to introduce them to Jesus. Here they meet Him, know Him and love Him, for such is the Kingdom of God.

Big Bend National Park, established in 1944, preserves some 708,000 acres of desert wilderness along the Rio Grande River. The land once was in grave danger of being destroyed by overgrazing and overhunting.

Though Hachijo Island rises out of the Pacific 175 miles south of Tokyo, it is legally a part of the Japanese capital, the National Geographic says. The isle, less than an hour from Tokyo by plane, is a favorite retreat for honeymooners.

MUST SELL!
OUR DOCTOR has told us to move to the desert before October. We are going to sell all our property before that time. Here is what we are going to sell first.

South Korea has attained a sharp increase in tourism. The number of visitors each year has nearly tripled since 1965; air flights have doubled. Half a dozen modern hotels are rising and others are being improved.

J. C. Allred talked many times over the telephone to Amarillo from the George Day Ranch, using the top barbed wire on the ranch fences for a line, in the early days of Hereford.
