United Fund Day Proclaimed

Special Events Planned To Raise United Fund Budget

"Bucket brigade" bake sales and special night at the wrestling matches will highlight "United Fund Day" in Hereford Saturday as drive officials attempt to go over the top in their quest for $37,100.39.

Plans for the special day were formulated Friday when UF drive chairman Johnny Clark called together his workers, board of directors and officers of local civic organizations to report that the drive appeared to be stalled at $32,279, nearly $5,000 short of the budget set up to serve 10 organizations during the coming year.

Clark pointed out that even though the amount raised thus far is more than any previous total in the history of the United Fund, the goal had not been reached last year and several of the organizations such as Camp Fire Girls, Boy Scouts and the three baseball leagues had operated on reduced budgets. "They can't afford to do this again," he said.

After much discussion, the group came up with these plans: 1. The Hereford Lions Club offered to donate for the second time all of the proceeds from the Saturday night wrestling at the Bull Barn. Members from each men's civic club will work during the matches. Special activities are being planned to entertain the crowd during intermissions and baked goods will be on sale by women's organizations.

2. A "bucket brigade" will be manned at seven locations in the city throughout the day Saturday in another attempt to raise the funds. Each men's civic club will have members on street corners soliciting donations from shoppers or automobile drivers.

3. Bake sales will be held at several supermarkets by the women's clubs, with those goods not sold during the day to go on sale at the wrestling matches that night.

4. Bids will continue to be taken on a Shetland pony, and arrangements are being made to have the filly donated to Boys Ranch, if the person offering the high bid does not want to keep the animal. Martin Wagner donated the pony to the United Fund recently, but no bids had been received by Friday morning.

Melvin Jayroe was placed in charge of the "bucket brigade." Mrs. O. G. Hill was chosen to handle the bake sale, and Charles Bell is in charge of the Shetland pony auction and the specialty acts for the wrestling matches. Lions President Ray Moore is making arrangements for the wrestling. Friday afternoon, Hereford Mayor J. B. Pool issued an official proclamation which stated:

"WHEREAS, the Deaf Smith County United Fund, Inc. has established November 16, 1968 as United Fund Day; and WHEREAS, with all the worthwhile services that benefit from this fund, it is the responsibility of every citizen of the county and city to support and maintain the Deaf Smith County United Fund, Inc. NOW, THEREFORE, I, J.B. Pool, Mayor of the City of Hereford, Texas, do hereby designate November 16, 1968 as Deaf Smith County United Fund Day in the City of Hereford, and urge that every citizen and organization cooperate with the United Fund to put them over their goal for the year 1968."

The 10 organizations listed in this year's budget and the amount of money they are to receive from the UF, if the goal is reached, include: Camp Fire Girls, $6,369.25; Boy Scouts $7,200; Pony League, $2,025; Little League, $2,581.14; Colt League, $1,250; Salvation Army, $4,200; Red Cross, $11,000; Cerebral Palsy Center, $100; Council on Alcoholism, $750; U. S. O., $475; and local United Fund expenses and the Texas United Fund, $1,150.

More than 3,000 young people are participating in the various organizations, pointed out Clark. "It is hard to believe that Hereford will do less than it should for its youth and for those in need," he said.

Clark and Debbs Knox, UF president, emphasized that the budget is up 22 percent over that of 1966 because of the increased number of persons participating in the organizations supported by UF. "In donating this year, many persons gave the same amount they have in previous years and didn't think about the large increase in the budget," said Knox.

Clark also issued a special plea to "parents of all young people in organizations that are financed by contributions made through the United Fund" to do their "fair share" in supporting United Fund. Persons in the rural area often feel that they do not get benefit from the United Fund and therefore should not be asked to contribute, said Clark. But many of them have children participating in at least one of the programs and should do their "fair share."

Present for the meeting Friday were presidents of the Hereford Lions Club, Rotary Club, Optimist Club, Kiwanis Club and Easter Lions Club, plus members of the board of directors, Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr., Mrs. A. L. Manjeot Mrs. W. J. Howard and Wayne Williams.

Persons wishing to donate to the United Fund may mail their contribution to Debbs Knox, 519 Park Avenue, or drop it off at the post office in an envelope marked United Fund. Bids also may be made on the Shetland pony in the same way, with all bids going into the United Fund.

STILL RISING — The Deaf Smith County United Fund total reached $32,279 by Friday morning, but still is nearly $5,000 short of the goal of $37,100. Fred Fox is shown raising the figures on the board at the post office.

County To Act On Road Construction

County Judge H. C. Williams reported that the county commissioners decided Wednesday afternoon to go the warrant route instead of a tax bond for the four-lane construction of U. S. 60 from the Hereford city limits west to the Castro County line.

Now a two-lane thoroughfare, the commissioners pointed out that it would have to be widened because of increased traffic due to the construction of the Wilson & Co. plant in that area in addition to traffic from the Holly Sugar plant.

Judge Williams said that the warrants would be in the amount of $225,000. "But we will probably use about half that much when the purchase of the right of way is completed, since the state will reimburse the county for 50 per cent of the amount."

He explained that the county would, however, have to pay the full amount for the purchases in the beginning before the state would repay their half of the arrangement. "But the state will certainly pay later."

During the last regular County Commissioners Court meeting representatives of the Texas Highway Department told the commissioners that the state has already allocated the funds for the highway construction (not the right of way purchase), but these funds could be transferred for projects in other counties if they (the Court) felt the matter could be postponed here at this time.

The commissioners agreed that need for construction was important at this time. The debate on the subject was merely whether the project should be financed by warrants or a tax bond.

City of Hereford has had one successful revenue bond election, and one equally successful tax bond election for the schools, both within the past four months. However, Judge Williams said that the commissioners had expressed their opinion on how important this road construction project would be at this time and decided to protect its interests through the issuance of warrants 'because there is not time for a bond election.' Something had to be done immediately because of the distribution of the state construction funds, they decided.

The issuance of warrants will be discussed further by the commissioners at their regular county Commissioners Court meeting at 10 a. m. Monday.

Lions Set Date For Fish Fry

The annual Lions Club fish fry has been set for Dec. 6 at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn, Lions Boss Ray Moore announced Friday.

Lions had previously planned to hold the fish fry last Thursday, but postponed the event because it conflicted with the annual Kiwanis Club Pancake Supper.

Moore said tickets will go on sale soon. He also pointed out that tentative plans are to have chicken available at the fish fry for those persons who do not like fish.

Bank Deposits Up $8 Million

An increase of nearly $8 million since June 30 in bank deposits, index of a community's prosperity, was reported by the two Hereford banks in response to federal and state bank calls received this week.

The rise in deposits totals more than $6 million over the figure at the end of the third quarter last year, and more than three million over the record-setting amount on deposit at year end, 1967.

Total deposits as of Oct. 30 are $32,314,830.52, compared with $24,499,426.69 at the end of June, an increase of $7,815,403.83.

The amount is $6,223,323.57 above the total at the October bank call in 1967, and $3,277,835.96 more than deposits at the close of 1967, which broke previous records with $29,036,994.56.

The two local banks shared in the increased deposits. First National Bank showed deposits of $23,061,702.92 compared to $16,759,585.51 in the second quarter report at the end of June, while Hereford State Bank had $9,253,127.60 on Oct. 30 compared with $7,739,841.18 in June, a rise of $6,302,117.41 and $1,513,286.42 respectively.

Total resources reported by the two banks were $10,270,977.78 for the Hereford State and $25,250,592.00 for First National, or $35,530,569.78 for the county. This compares with $30,844,844.45 a year ago and $33,690,360.56 at the close of business last Dec. 31.

Sausage Festival Set For Today

Umbarger's annual German Sausage Festival will be held today at St. Mary's Parish Hall. In charge of the sausage preparations is Lee Haschke.

The sausage stuffing, which began Thursday, is said to have involved 39 Umbarger residents. Festival cooks, headed by Mrs. Ben Koch, Mrs. Alvin Friemel, Mrs. Vincent Myer Jr. and Mrs. Leonard Batenhorst, are scheduled to begin dinner preparations today at 6 a. m. with additional cooks to join them at nine.

Dinner will be served from 11 a. m. until 4 p. m. in the parish hall. In addition to the dinner, a country store with home baked and home canned goods will be open during the serving hours and a bazaar featuring handmade needlework and gift ideas will also be in operation.

Events will end this evening with a dance from 8:30 till midnight. Music will be under the direction of Al Rogers and his Band.

The festival is directed by John Wieck and Richard E. Friemel.

March Across 4 Countries

Veterans Day Has Special Meaning For W. C. Hromas

By EARL MOSELEY Staff Writer
W. C. Hromas saw four different European countries the hard way 50 years ago — he marched through them, and became a part of the Army of Occupation when he entered Germany after their surrender in 1918.

Hromas, a successful builder and contractor who is now retired, later served as Commander of Hereford American Legion Post 192. He has a scrap book of newspaper clippings during his term of office which shows the activities and advancement of the local post. Moreover, he is a Golden Anniversary member of the American Legion. The American Legion has celebrated its fiftieth anniversary this year — along with the fiftieth anniversary of the ending of World War I on Monday.

Hromas went into Army service on May 27, 1918, and trained at Camp Cody in Deming, New Mexico, with the 13th Infantry in Company D. "I left there about September 1 and went to Camp Dix, New Jersey.

We were going to sail across — only be there a week or two. But the influenza got so bad we were held up there until October 1."

He said they lost nine men to the flu there, out of a company of 250 men. "Fortunately, I didn't catch it."

They finally sailed on Oct. 13, in a convoy of 13 ships (and his birthday is April 13, so it is also fortunate that he is not superstitious!) They landed safely at Liverpool, England, where they marched through town to a Rest Camp. "But it wasn't Rest Camp for us!" After a couple of days, he said, they were sent out by train to another camp. Then they were put on another train for Southampton, the English port where there is a tower commemorating the sailing of the Mayflower to the New World in 1620. But he was headed for France — in the opposite direction.

"We laid around until after dark, before loading on the ships," Hromas said. Then they sailed across the English Channel to northern France. At the port, they stayed in — "we called it a bull pen. And we stayed in it."

From the "bull pen" they went to Lamons, France, where they were equipped to go to the front lines. And they were there the day the Armistice was signed.

"We marched through the town, but we couldn't get down the street because the French men, women and children got into the ranks and hugged us, loved us — they were so happy the war was over."

They were put on a slow train that night — "in little box cars, 40-by-80s. We traveled all that night and part of the next day on the way to the front. At the end of the line, we scattered and laid low until after dark. We hiked that night to the front. It was cold! We pitched our pup tents. But everything all around us was torn to pieces (from the war). In the morning, we got breakfast — and stayed three days."

RAINBOW DIVISION
The division was split. He went with the 42nd Rainbow Division, Company C, 168th Infantry, as a replacement.

This name the Rainbow Division, he was given to it by its first Chief of Staff, then Colonel Douglas MacArthur, who was its first member. The division had made "Rainbow" quite a name at Luneville, Baccarat, Champagne, Chateau Thierry, The Ourcq, St. Mihiel, Argonne-Meuse, and Sedan. And they had now become the Army of The Rhine.

It was equipped and prepared for the march to the Rhine, which began on November 20. It followed in long columns the highroad from Montmedy to Vireton, west of which it passed into Belgium, and thence through St. Leger and Arlon, east of which it passed into Luxemburg. On December 2, the Rainbow crossed into Germany.

"We were 25 days on this hike," Hromas said. "I like to have killed us!" They slept in billets — and barns — which sometimes still had stock in them.

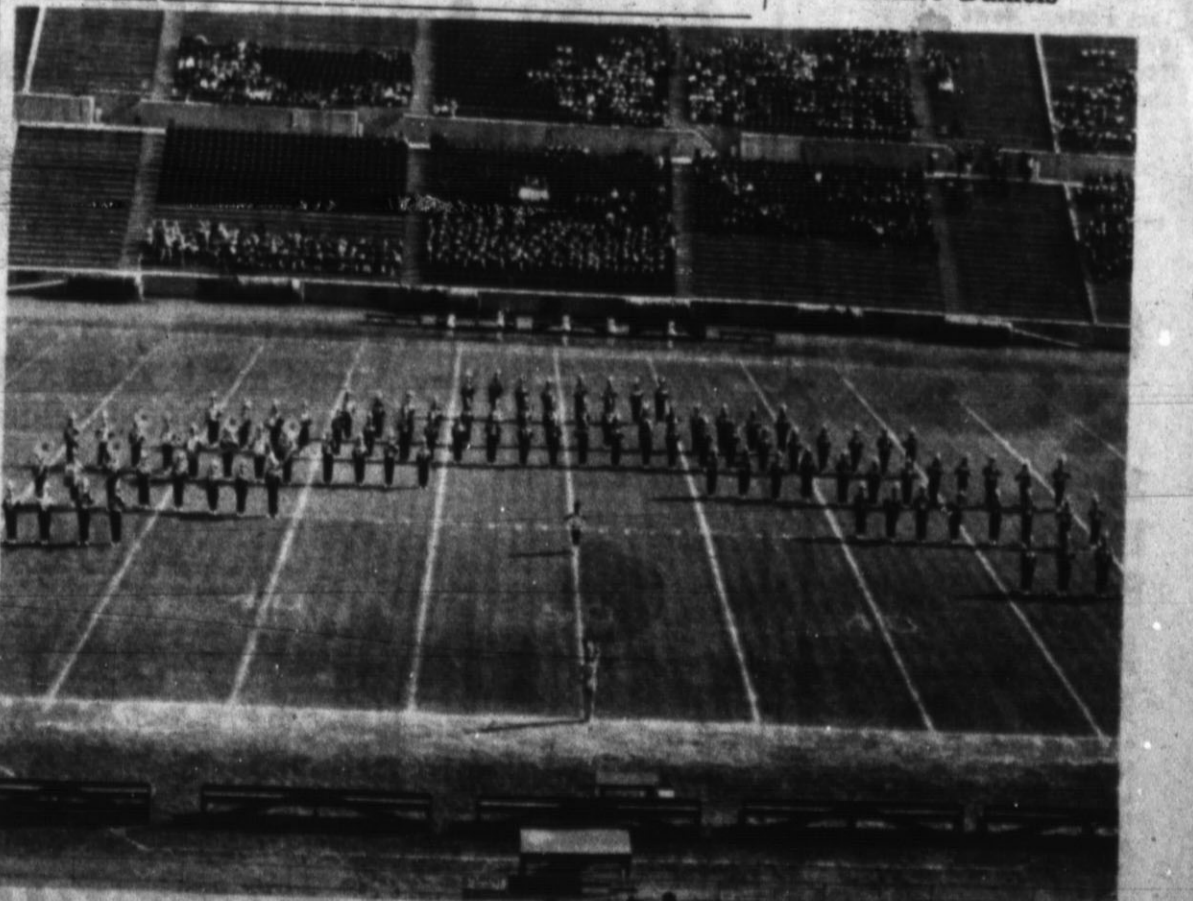

Their kitchen (a wagon) was pulled by mules. He explained how they would have breakfast, then hike again, and stop for a 15-minute break at noon to eat a sandwich. "Talk about hungry

I RATING RECEIVED — The Hereford High School Whiteface Band received a Division I rating during competition last Tuesday at Buffalo Bowl in Canyon. In doing so, the band began its drive for a seventh consecutive Sweepstakes Award in the University Interscholastic League contest. To cap the activities, Trish Hill and Denise Daniels, twirlers for the Whiteface Band, received Division I rating on twirling solos.

when night came!" And he got extra duty one time because of this! "I went back for seconds at supper. In the meantime, they reassembled the company and called the roll. I wasn't there!" He said that he had to help dig latrines before he was released that night.

"Lots of times on a hike we would get so hungry," Hromas remembered. "We would stop along the road and rest. The Germans would have turnips bedded up some places in dirt. We would watch for them. When we spotted some, we would run and uncover them, brush the dirt off any way we could and eat them. It gave us something extra to eat."

According to the records of the Rainbow Division, "The march had been difficult for both men and animals, covering as it did a distance of approximately 250 kilometers over the shortest route, the first half of which was under favorable weather conditions over fairly good roads, and the latter half in Germany through abominably wet and raw weather and over heavy roads that were badly torn up by the great German exodus over them."

"We stopped in a town on the banks of the Rhine — Niederbreisig. It had about 5,000 to 6,000 people — plus the three companies of us in town. It took a company to form a guard, so we alternated every third night. That gave us a chance to rest some."

He said they had arrived there just before Christmas and stayed till about April 1.

"Then they moved my company out away from the river about 20 kilometers, into a smaller town," he said. "We stayed there until we got orders to start home."

Being in the Rainbow Division, Hromas was among the first out of the Army of Occupation to return home. "I came back to the United States on the S. S. Leviathan, which crossed the Atlantic in eight days. This ship had been captured from the Germans and made into a troop transport. It carried about 11,000 soldiers, who slept on bunks stacked three and four high."

He returned to Camp Upton on Long Island, N. Y. on April 5, 1919. "There they cleaned us up, and we were separated so we could be sent to the camp nearest home. I was shipped to Camp Bowie in Fort Worth — which was about 150 miles from Moran, Texas, where I lived then. I was discharged on May 17, 1919, and received all my pay plus $60."

Originally from Kansas, Hromas had moved to Moran "about 1905 or 1906" from Fort Worth — and lived in Moran until 1926. He came to Bovina then, and later went to Dimmitt when the railroad tracks were being laid and there was a boom on. In the spring of 1930 he moved to Hereford. "Although I've been away from here a couple of times since then — for short periods — you could say I've lived in Hereford ever since."

He was married in 1941. But five years ago, Hromas and his wife flew to Europe with a group of 155 people — among them, Amarillo Daily News editor Wes Izard and his wife — and he got a bus tour back over the same route he had hiked 45 years previously. And he saw twelve countries there instead of the original four.

"We flew via jet from New York to London in 6 hours 20 minutes," he pointed out. "That was a lot faster than 12 days on the boat the first time."

Hromas said they had an opportunity to spend three or four days each in London, Paris and Rome — had taken a train back from Rome to Paris, where they flew back to New York. The trip lasted 29 days, including the four days spent in New York City.

"It was a well planned trip," he said.

LEGION COMMANDER
Hromas was elected Commander of the Hereford American Legion Post 192 and served during 1945-46. During that term, he started funds for a Legion home and raised $16,529.43; left a balance in the general fund of $639.17; bought and paid for furniture worth $500; increased the membership to an alltime high of 215; and had a Nov. 11 Banquet total attendance of 106.

He also enrolled the first lady member here and held the first public initiation. The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4818 were their guests at Christmas.

Every meeting was held on schedule during that term and he, as Commander, attended every meeting. They held a public memorial service and they celebrated the Legion's birthday.

Those are some of the items that can be found in his scrapbook, which is filled with clippings from newspapers, pictures and other mementos.

Presenting one of the most enjoyable programs of its kind, the American Legion and its Auxiliary held their annual Armistice Day Banquet at the First Christian Church Monday night, followed by a dance at City Hall.

Deaf Smith County Commissioners have voted to employ a special veterans service officer, County Judge Fred Baird announced this week, stating that the office is being created in response to local demand and in accordance with a law revised by the last session of the state legislation.

Members of the VFW, their wives and sweethearts will be special guests at the annual Christmas Party of the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary on Tuesday night, Dec. 18, it was announced this week by Legion Commander W. C. Hromas.

Plunkett's Variety Show, with ten Plunketts out of the family giving the performance, will set up in Hereford for a three-day run, starting Monday, under auspices of local chapters of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. The Plunketts were formerly with the Harley Sadler show.

Hereford war veterans will be aided by the local post of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars in obtaining their terminal leave pay, which was recently authorized by Congress.

Elsie Wilkins Smith, former member of the Navy WAVES, became the first woman member of the Hereford American Legion Post at a recent initiation ceremony, and was also the first 200th member of the local post.

Representatives of returned service men's organizations met Monday with the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court and filed an application to purchase the County Sales Pavilion, commonly known as the "bull barn."

The group outlined plans to remodel and beautify the structure, making it into a headquarters, recreational center and a glorified community hall which they would operate and sublet for community and organization affairs. Representing the returned service men were Bill Hromas and J. C. Ricketts, American Legion, and Roy V. Smith, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Committees from the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion began a drive this week for public subscriptions to help finance construction of the proposed Veterans Memorial Home in Hereford.

Veterans of at least two other wars will be on hand Saturday to help the Ex-Servicemen of World War II make their X-Day parade a big success. W. C. Hromas, Post Commander of the American Legion, says that the Legionnaires of World War I, though getting a little old, will still have some marching in the X-Day parade.

Nearly 500 Deaf Smith County war veterans marched in a parade last Saturday morning to inaugurate Hereford's first X-Day celebration, sponsored by the VFW and American Legion as a feature of their program to raise funds for a proposed Veterans Memorial Building.

Memorial Day poppies will be sold in Hereford Saturday by members of the Hereford American Legion Auxiliary and the Wecocantwaste Camp Fire Girls.

The Hereford Post No. 192 of the American Legion will be hosts to all Legion posts of this area at a mass induction ceremony at the Hereford High School auditorium next Sunday afternoon, June 8, at 3 p. m.

Legionaires paraded the streets of downtown Galveston and thirty Navy planes looped, barrel rolled and chandeled in a spectacular tribute to vets of two wars yesterday afternoon in the most colorful day of the state convention being held here.

Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, hero of Bataan and Corregidor; Lt. Gen. Fred L. Walker, fighting leader of the 36th Texas Division; Adm. C. A. F. Sprague, who wears the highest Navy decoration, the Navy Cross, who commanded an air force task force on the landing at Leyte, and who was given a crossroad assignment at Bikini for the atom bomb experiment — all seasoned veterans of both world wars pleaded for compulsory military and naval training of the youth of America so that democracy can continue to exist.

The American Legion Department of Texas, August 29, 1946. Dear Buddy: I want you to consider this as a personal letter from me to you. In appreciation of your splendid cooperation I am enclosing herewith a personally autographed likeness of myself. I want this to be an ever-present reminder of the splendid record that our team made this year. I am grateful to you and to the Legionnaires of Texas for the unselfish support you have given me; and I am asking of you that you continue your interest in our program. I assure you that I remain willing and anxious to serve this great Department in the future as I have endeavored to serve it in the past in any capacity in which you feel I am needed. Gratefully yours, (signed) Herman G. Nami, Department Commander.

Deadline Is Given Strikers At Friona

FRIONA — Employees on strike at the Missouri Beef Packers plant in Friona must report to work by Wednesday or be replaced, Clark Knowles, cooperate personnel director for the company, informed the Brand Saturday.

"The company and union met Friday for the first time since the strike began to discuss the possibility of ending the strike at Missouri Beef Packers," explained Knowles. "The union representatives still refused to honor their previous agreement on a contract settlement and insist that our company pay a higher wage rate than the same union representatives have asked other independent packers to pay."

"The company has little reason to believe that a settlement can be reached in the near future and, at the rate we are acquiring employees, we are rapidly approaching a point whereby we will have more people than we have available jobs."

"Therefore, the company is taking the following action to avoid a "double work force:"

"1. The company has a legal right to replace economic strikers with non-striking or newly-hired employees in order to avoid a "double work force."

"2. We are informing our employees who still remain on strike that unless that report for work no later than Wednesday they will be replaced by non-striking or newly-hired employees."

Continuing, Knowles said "the company resumed operation two weeks ago and is exceeding our anticipated ability to return to normal production. We are currently operating at approximately 50 per cent of capacity and expect to increase that rate as quickly as new employees can be trained."

"No further meetings have been scheduled with the union," said Knowles.

Charles Burfield... new manager.

New Manager At Tire Company

Charles Burfield is the new manager of Shook Tire Company at 600 W. First in Hereford.

Burfield has had five years in the tire business, but said that he has been "around the tire business most of my life. My uncle had the Shook Tire Co. in Plainview and I gained my experience there."

L. B. Worthan has sold his interest in the business here, it was announced, but will continue for a time as an advisor. Worthan lives at Frio.

The 28-year-old Burfield, who was raised at Plainview, has moved his family to Hereford. Their residential address is 122 Ave. D.

His family includes his wife, Jo Ann, and 4-year-old Michele and 10-month-old David Deane.

BIRTHDAY HONOREE — Celebrating her 15th birthday, Angelita Valdez will be given a mass at St. Joseph's Catholic Mission at 8 p. m. today and a reception will follow at the home of her mother, Mrs. Margarita Valdez, 507 Whittier. Angelita is a student in Stanton Junior High School.

Light Damage In Thursday Wreck

An accident which occurred Thursday night at the intersection of U.S. 385 and 15th St., resulted in an estimated $700 total damage to the two vehicles involved.

The 1966 Chevrolet, driven by Robert Doughman, sustained $400 damages and the 1966 Ford, driven by Jerry Wilburn, received an estimated $300 damages.

The accident occurred when the driver of one of the vehicles was traveling north on U.S. 385 and attempted a right hand turn at the corner of 15th St. Apparently traveling at a high rate of speed, the vehicle skidded while attempting the turn, and struck the other car stopped at the stop sign.

Investigating officers issued a citation for leaving the scene of an accident and another for improper turn.

Anniversary Is Set By Business

Spangler's Diamond Ltd. is holding its second anniversary in Sugarland Mall this week, having doubled its size since coming to Hereford.

Recently completed remodeling has enlarged the store to twice its original size. According to Bob Spangler, local manager, the store now offers a wide selection of radios, tape recorders television sets, china and silverware, as well as other new merchandise.

Spangler, who came to Hereford with his family in 1967, has had some 11 years experience as a jeweler. The family resides at 240 Centre St. He has been active in the local Lion's Club, Boy Scouts and Pony League.

New Officers, Resolutions Are Adopted By Farmers Union

Deaf Smith County Farmers Union convention held Thursday night in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Company building elected new officers for the coming year and adopted resolutions which will be presented at the Farmers Union convention in Austin on Dec. 5-7.

Re-elected president was Leo Witkowski, with Alfred Smith as vice-president and Mrs. Andrew Kershen secretary-treasurer.

The 12 resolutions adopted were:

WATER: Be it resolved that the subject of water is uppermost in the minds of every citizen in Deaf Smith County, Texas, and the Farmers Union as an organization desires to go on record as joining with the other citizens of this county and the many other organizations in urging our State Representative and our State Senator, as well as our Federal Representative and our U. S. Senators, to do everything possible within their power to make a feasible report and study on a national and state basis for the importation of water for the Deaf Smith County, Texas, area at the earliest possible time, and further that the water could be used and would be used if it could be delivered now, and the necessity and the need for the same will be greater with the passing of each and every year and month hereafter. We particularly urge our Congressmen and our Senators and our Representatives to coordinate all efforts and all facilities of both the federal government and the state government to preserve the national resources for use in our immediate area as quickly as possible with the understanding that the people of this county are willing to pay the price for water as we cannot live without it, and further that they recognize the importance of this county and its productivity to the state and the national welfare. We also recommend that the 150-acre limitation be raised to 640 acres.

SUGAR: 1. Be it resolved that our organization, which is vitally interested in the Federal Sugar Act, does urge our state and national organization to strongly work at the federal government level for increased domestic sugar beet acreage and domestic sugar beet acreage allotments, in connection with the extension of the present Sugar Act, as amended. Further that the Puerto Rican deficit be allocated fairly to the sugar beet growing states and areas and that the same not be made available for any one section of the country, and that the domestic cane not be given any more than its pro rata part or share of such deficit quota but on a pro rata basis with the domestic sugar beet areas.

2. Be it resolved that this organization express by this resolution its appreciation to the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association and to the Holly Sugar Corporation for their cooperation in the proposed plant expansion to the Holly processing plant at Hereford, Texas, through the availability of increased sugar beet acreage for the year 1969.

3. Be it resolved that copies of the first resolution be mailed to our U. S. Congressmen and our U. S. Senators, and to our State Representative, and to our State Senator; that copies of Resolution No. 2 be mailed to Holly Sugar Corp.

SOIL AND WATER: We urge that the Texas Flood Control and Surface Water Shed Conservation Program be accelerated with thousands of dams to hold water where it falls.

GRAIN SORGHUM: We are in favor of maintaining an adequate supply of feed grains to meet market demands, but we feel this supply should be low enough so that it will not depress the market for feed grains. We recommend the following:

A. That the price support for feed grains be maintained at a parity of income level.

B. We are in favor of the resale of Commodity Credit Corporation stocks to be at a minimum of 115 per cent of the loan rate plus storage and handling.

C. We recommend that barley be maintained as a feed grain.

D. We favor the diversion payment be maintained as a method of increasing farm income.

E. We favor continuation of the present ASCS regulation governing the substitution of wheat and feed grains.

F. We favor the continuation of the grower receiving one-half of the certificates payment at the time of signing up.

G. We are in favor of an increase in the certificates from 50 per cent of the base acres to 100 per cent of the planted acres.

WHEAT: A. We favor a loan price support of $1.50 per bushel and that a 65 cent export certificate be added to the program.

B. We are not in favor of increasing production to the extent that if would depress the market price and create a large carry-over.

C. We favor the resale of Commodity Credit Corporation stocks at a level of 125 per cent of the loan rate.

D. We favor the diversion payments be maintained as a method of increasing farm income.

E. We favor the continuation of the present ASCS regulations allowing substitution of wheat and grain sorghums.

F. We recommend that one-half of the certificates on wheat be paid at the sign-up time.

SOYBEANS: We are in favor of the present price-support program.

COTTON: We are in favor of a provision in the cotton program allowing skip-row planting.

BARLEY: We recommend that barley be maintained as a feed grain.

VEGETABLES: We favor that the same regulations be imposed on Canada as they impose on U. S. growers and shippers pertaining to the shipment of carrots between the countries.

LIVESTOCK: Cattle feeding: We favor the limiting of beef imports to where it will not depress the price of American beef.

We are in favor of all interstate meat to be inspected and conform to interstate beef regulations by a state agency.

We are in favor of limiting large packers and food processors from feeding in such quantities as to regulate or depress the price.

RURAL ELECTRIC AND RURAL TELEPHONE CO-OPS: A.

We urge that REA and RTA be continued as presently constituted with adequate administration and loan funds.

B. We urge that the REA use all diligence in making generation and transmission loans available to the cooperatives in Texas and the country as a whole, with a minimum of delay, in order that the cooperatives may be in a position to generate their own power when and wherever the economic need arises.

C. We strongly support the preference and withdrawal clause to protect first priority rights of REC to electric power generated at publicly-owned facilities.

D. We are strongly opposed to any increase in the interest rates of REA and RTA loans.

GENERAL: A. We urge all farm organizations to stop fighting each other and start working together for good of the farmer before it is too late.

B. We are in favor of "Right-To-Work Law" for the State of Texas.

C. We favor the Enabling Acts (commodity check-off) be amended thereby making them more like the cotton program.

D. We strongly oppose the diverting of Farm-to-Market road funds for any program other than new farm-to-market roads.

E. We favor the 7 per cent investment tax credit and recommend it be continued.

F. We salute the Young Men of Texas Agriculture and encourage related businesses and lending agencies to assist these future leaders of agriculture.

G. We strongly oppose the present accounting procedures used by the Budget Bureau which includes welfare programs, school lunch programs, meat inspection, foreign aid programs, etc., as a part of the USDA budget, thereby being charged against the farm programs in the eyes of the general public.

H. We support the state and national organizations in their battle against the policy which allows large corporations to write off farm losses against corporation taxable profits.

STATE CONVENTION
A three-day meeting will await Texas Farmers Union members when the state convention opens at the Terrace Motor Hotel in Austin on Thursday, December 5, according to state organization officials in Waco.

The farmers and ranchers who attend the convention this year are expected to hear from Tony T. Dechant of Denver, president of National Farmers Union, U. S. Senators Ralph Yarborough of Texas and Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota.

Patrol Probes 12 Accidents During October

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 12 accidents on rural highways in Deaf Smith County during the month of October, according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed, seven persons injured and an estimated property damage of $11,875.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first ten months of 1968 shows a total of 90 accidents resulting in one person killed, 39 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $67,323.06.

November and December are noted to be dangerous months in traffic and especially for pedestrians. Much is heard about the

Trophy Shoot Is Scheduled Today

The Hereford Gun Club will hold its third series of shoots today to see who will win the R. J. Cramer Trophy, it was announced.

All interested shooters are urged to be at the Hereford Gun Club building near the airport for practice shooting which begins around 1 p. m. The trophy shoot will begin about 2 p. m.

The R. J. Cramer Trophy, originated by R. J. Cramer, is a traveling trophy awarded to the top shooter in the matches. Any one winning the trophy three times in a row are allowed to keep it and another will begin the rounds. At the present time, C. J. Lance has won the coveted trophy two times in a row and is looking to nabbing it this time out.

Anyone wishing to enter the competition are required to pay the cost of $5, with 100 rounds to be fired under trap shooting rules. Extra ammunition will also be sold at the shoot building.

drinking driver and his responsibility for many serious accidents. Seldom is it known that many pedestrians have met their death on the streets and highways because they had been drinking to the extent that they were unaware of the danger they faced as they staggered along the road.

The sergeant stated the familiar saying, "If you drink, don't drive," might be changed to apply to the drinking pedestrian, "If you drink, don't walk — in traffic!"

Castro County had 15 accidents during the month, with one person killed, 11 injured and property damage totaling $14,745. Oldham County had 15 accidents, with eight persons injured and property damage totaling $12,055. Parmer County also had 15 accidents, with one person killed, seven injured and property damage totaling $17,125.

Registration will begin at 1 p. m. Saturday and a social hour beginning at 6:30 p. m. will be followed by a dance. A morning meeting of both organizations will begin the day Sunday; dinner will be served at noon and separate business sessions will be held at 1:15 p. m.

All events will be at the VFW Clubhouse. The state commander of the veterans' organization, Cleo Clayton of Amarillo, and the state Auxiliary president, Betty Craven of Houston, are to be guests of honor.

Plans Continue For VFW Meet

Entertainment of the fall convention of District 13, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was planned when the Hereford VFW met in the clubhouse at Veterans Park Thursday evening.

The district VFW and Ladies Auxiliary will convene here Saturday for weekend meetings.

Registration will begin at 1 p. m. Saturday and a social hour beginning at 6:30 p. m. will be followed by a dance. A morning meeting of both organizations will begin the day Sunday; dinner will be served at noon and separate business sessions will be held at 1:15 p. m.

All events will be at the VFW Clubhouse. The state commander of the veterans' organization, Cleo Clayton of Amarillo, and the state Auxiliary president, Betty Craven of Houston, are to be guests of honor.

A Veterans Day breakfast will be held Monday morning, and plans were completed for it at the Thursday meeting. Announcement was made that more toys are needed for the annual Christmas project, Toys For Tots, now in progress.

Members of the VFW each year collect and repair used toys for distribution at Christmas to less fortunate children of the community. Toys may be taken to the clubhouse or to Walker Refrigeration Co., across the street east of the courthouse. Stan Fry is chairman of the project this year.

The harvest moon is the full moon nearest the autumnal equinox (Sept. 22 in 1968). Farmers long ago thought the full moon rose early at harvest time to give them extra light to gather crops.

Carl Yastrzemski of the Boston Red Sox wasted no time in going after the 1967 American League batting title. He singled his first time up against Whitey Ford of the Yankees.

Local Men To Aid In College Fund Raising

Elmer Patterson of Hereford and Chester Wiggins of Summerfield have been appointed by the Trustees and Administration of Lubbock Christian College to serve as PROJECT IV ADVANCEMENT representatives for LCC in the local area.

Patterson will be representative for Deaf Smith County, while Wiggins will serve in that capacity for Farmer, County, Lamb, Hale and Swisher counties.

PROJECT IV ADVANCEMENT is LCC's drive to raise $3,192,000 in three years to advance from a junior college to a four-year senior college serving 1,200 students.

The two men will lead in contacting all alumni, parents of ex-students and prospective friends of LCC. They are described as being loyal boosters of LCC and are credited with helping the college grow to its present size with 10 permanent buildings and assets of over $6.5 million. A total of 735 students are presently attending the private junior college.

The funds will be used to increase the number and salaries of faculty members, double the library facilities, add a science building and laboratories, and arts and crafts building and to sustain the financial obligations of the college. Aid to worthy students through scholarships, loan and grants is also included in the fund-drive.

Lubbock Christian College expects to graduate its first four-year class in May, 1972.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:
 If you earn part of your income from tips, you are required to report the amount of tips to your employer, who is required by law to withhold Social Security and income taxes on them. If you do not earn enough wages to pay the taxes that should be withheld, you are required to pay the rest to Internal Revenue. A recent court decision upheld an Internal Revenue Agent who assessed taxes, interest and penalties on 10 per cent of the cost of all meals a waitress served. It pays to keep a record of your tip income.

VOTING SCENE — Busy was the word to describe the voting precincts over Deaf Smith as nearly 5,000 residents voted in the general election Tuesday. These pictures were shot at Precinct 5, the Community Center, during the noon hour. Voting booths were kept full during the "peak hours".

Reports Heard On Flower Show

Final reports were made on the fall placement show of Hereford Garden Club, held Oct. 25, at the club meeting Friday in Mrs. R. W. Mitchell's home. Mrs. S. S. Williams and Mrs. Arthur Stoy were co-hostesses.

Announcement was made that the club is entering competition this year on state and district levels in ten categories, including Honor Roll Club designation.

Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr., community service chairman, reported on the project of landscaping grounds at the Camp Fire Lodge and Mrs. Tom Sawyer reported on the junior club program. Data on community service by individual members was given by Mrs. R. L. Ethridge, and on horticulture to Mrs. R. L. Wilson.

Reporting on the state board meeting attended last month at Tyler, Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Manjeot called attention to a bill to be considered by the next Texas Legislature concerning reservation of state park land and wild life refuges.

Mrs. Manjeot, flower show chairman, said there were 92 entries in the recent show at the Herbert Friemel home, which was attended by approximately a hundred guests. She listed ribbon winners as follows:

Blue ribbons, artistic division: Mmes. G. W. Newsom, Mitchell, Sawyer, Hill, Friemel, J. V. Pickens and R. L. Layman.

Blue ribbons, horticulture: Mmes. Alfred Smith, W. C. Hromas, Viola Williams, Emmett Hale, Ray L. Johnson, Hill, Newsom, Manjeot, Friemel, Layman, Mitchell and Ethridge.

Red Ribbons, artistic: Mmes. John Jacobsen Jr., Luther Norvell, J. C. Lance, Hromas and Ethridge; horticulture: Mmes. Wilson, Newsom, Viola Williams, Mitchell, Manjeot, Johnson, A. O. Thompson, Ethridge, Norvell, D. K. Brook.

The Hereford Whitefacs stand a good chance of winning the district title with only two more games to play and a perfect record in conference play.

Like the Aggies of 1967, the Herd lost the first four games, all non-conference, and then caught fire to run wild over the Canyon Eagles, defeat the mighty Perryton Rangers and then clobbered Muleshoe Friday night. Next on the agenda is Tullia, which Perryton thoroughly trounced Friday night and then Dumas. Both games will be rough ones, but we can win them.

Actually, Hereford's football team was plagued with injuries early in the season and it took some time before they really

Famous Plane Flown In Film By Local Man Was Recently Sold

Gerald Martin of the Hereford Flying and Agricultural Service, reported that the aircraft used in the filming of "The Battle of Britain" has been sold and two of the Messerschmitt 109s used in the picture will go into the Confederate Air Force Museum at Harlingen.

Martin, who worked in the production on location in Spain earlier this year as a German pilot (also as an English Spitfire pilot, too, if the viewer looks closely), said it was part of the deal when he and four other Texas members of the Confederate Air Force got the two German museum pieces when filming was completed.

During production, producer Harry Saltzman was listed as the owner of the world's 35th largest air force. But Saltzman put the "almost thirty" planes up for sale when the camera work was ended — and Texan Wilson "Connie" Edwards (a Big Spring rancher) bought 12 of the Messerschmitts.

Martin said that he does not know if this includes the two that have been designated for the museum. But he said that Edwards was one of the pilots on the picture, as he was, and was expected back in Texas soon.

Martin had returned to Hereford when the location filming in Spain had ended, but said that Edwards had gone on to England to do more flying in the picture. A 34-year-old bachelor, he recently married an English girl. The aircraft are are now being dismantled and crated at the RAF field at Bovingdon in Hertfordshire.

The remainder of Saltzman's air force was bought by Group Captain Hamish Mahaddie, chief technical advisor on the picture.

Martin said that he believed the sales were "package deals." Although he was not a buyer, he said that he was very interested in having the Messerschmitts delivered to Texas for exhibition. A Spitfire will also be included in the CAF deal.

More than 100 of the 1940 vintage aircraft were assembled for the picture. The majority of the planes were on loan to the film and included three Spitfires and 1 Hurricane from the RAF Memorial Flight. Thirty-one Heinkel Bombers and a Junker's 52 have been returned to the Spanish Air Force.

Martin said that he still does not know if "The Battle of Britain" was finished in time for Battle of Britain Day in September or the release date here in the United States. He has plans to see Edwards on his return to the states and said he should be able to get more of the details then.

"The Battle of Britain," a large-scale production made by the producer of the James Bond series, will be released in wide screen and color by the United Artists Corporation with an all-star British cast including Sir Laurence Olivier and Rex Harrison.

And five Texans including Gerald Martin of Hereford.

had an opportunity to show their strength. Hopefully, we'll keep all these men on the field through the next two games. If so, our chances are excellent for the conference championship.

Perryton plays Dumas next week and should beat the Demons, but again luck may not be with the Rangers. Dumas is always a hard one, regardless. They'll be playing heads up football in these last two contests.

This is one of those years when our district conference standings are as confused as the Southwest Conference.

The elections are over and things are getting back to normal. Thanksgiving is just a few days off and it won't be long until Christmas is here. Understand the Chamber of Commerce is already working on raising money for the Christmas decorations and many of the local stores are beginning to get Christmas merchandise in. This year has passed entirely too fast.

Winter also arrived Friday morning, although the snow passed us by and fell farther to the south. Seagraves had two inches of snow (140 miles south) and the central area of Texas got as much as nine inches. Maybe our time will come soon. We could use the moisture any time.

Work is continuing on the new Wilson & Co. plant in the southwest of Hereford and building permits are up again in the City of Hereford. Bank deposits are also at an all time high, with better than $6 million increase over the October bank call last year and nearly $8 million over the mid-summer bank call. Things are looking brighter every day.

Have just returned from a trip to South Texas where I attended a joint meeting of the Texas State Historical Survey Committees and the Texas State Historical Foundation and discovered that both the president of the Survey group and the

Retired Travel Book Is New

The story of two retired people and their travels and a tale of horror following a man's recollection of the past are just two of the many books that can be found in Deaf Smith County Library.

You will find in R. L. Duffus' new book, ADVENTURE IN RETIREMENT, that retired persons don't have to play horse-shoes or sit around in the split-level equivalent of the chimney corner. Mr. Duffus and his wife have a much better solution. When he retired from his post as editorial writer on the New York Times, they decided to pursue their lifelong extravaganza — travel. Friends, when they heard the news, chorused "how wonderful," and although the year was not always wonderful it was challenging, sometimes unsettling, and often unexpectedly exciting. At the end of it Mr. Duffus found he had a new avocation: recollecting most of that year in this delightful account of two people who learned how to retire without really retiring.

Mr. Duffus has tried not to write a travelers' guide; as a matter of fact, he believes that the traveler, whether retired or not, should read his guide-book after inspecting the monuments and cathedrals. He is interested in cats, castles, boarding houses, drinks, taxi drivers, sidewalk cafes, and Italian ways of doing the washing, as well as in churches, art galleries, and ruins. He recalls the pleasures of getting lost, presents some conclusions about the relation of alcohol to linguistic ability, and finds that despite the wonders of progress the world hasn't changed much.

Wryly, even a bit ruefully, Mr. Duffus suggests that the young may not be old enough to appreciate the world. They are seeing it for the first time; the retired person relishes it anew, savoring it and re-reading it like a favorite book. The older traveler can enjoy himself without feeling compelled to educate himself. And although he must carry his small aches and frailties with him, he may find them less worrisome when the Pyramids come into view. Of his own adventure in retirement, Mr. Duffus says, "I am glad I did not stay home and learn how to knit."

A GRAVE MATTER, by L. P. DAVIES: The discovery of the remains of two small children in the village of Ashmead strangely recalls to John Morton a childhood scene. It was the day he had disobeyed his father, climbed a high brick wall for a forbidden look at the grounds of Maulden estate, and caught a glimpse of two ethereal children at play. Shortly after the incident, his family moved away from Ashmead. Now John felt he must return. The old estate house still stood — its grey, unornamented ugliness reflecting the austerity of the people within: Mr. Gerald Cawdrey, master of the house; this weak-minded brother, Mr. Ronald; Miss Elizabeth, their sister; and Miss Lloyd, the housekeeper.

John accidentally discovers that before the village roads were widened the children's gravesite lay within the grounds of Maulden. From this point on, a tale of horror and greed unfolds as John probes deeper into the tenuous connection his mind has made with the past.

Map To Show County Roads

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

The Family Living Committee is working hard on a map of the county showing roads and landmarks. Already there are 43 landmarks located. The committee is not planning to locate residences but will if it is considered a landmark to use in giving directions.

MEMBERS OF THE committee are: Mrs. Gene Cope, Mrs. Bess Werner, Mrs. Claude McDougal, Mrs. Paul Corbett, Mrs. T. B. Thomas, Mrs. Leo Witkowski, Miss Jane Witkowski and Mrs. A. J. Bezner.

For this project several resource persons have been asked for help. If you have a suggestion, it will be considered.

BAXTER LONDON will be missed on the city mail route as he has been appointed as carrier on Rural Route 3. We understand Baxter has been walking a route for over 22 years. He probably will enjoy riding for a change.

FOR WOMEN who sew, the feminine look is easy to achieve with a new offering in piece goods: fabric with matching trims. The color line-up for fall makes grey the leading shade, often spiced with bright colors.

White and cream are elegant accent touches. Brown in wide range of tones from chocolate to softened camel is back and more beautiful than ever.

If you are planning to sew with flower-printed fabric take this tip: When you lay out the fabric for cutting, fold it lengthwise with the right side out. Make sure the motifs on the under layer of fabric are directly under the ones on the top layer. Try to match the largest flower designs at the seamlines, not the cutting lines.

For sewing new fabrics, one company has developed a "polyspun" thread. It is designed to sew knits, stretch, bonded, synthetic and permanent press fabrics where elasticity, endurance and smooth seams are important.

IT CAN BE PRESSED at all iron settings but requires special adjustments for the sewing machine. Use a 10-12 stitch an inch length and loose, balanced tension.

A new pure silk thread has been introduced for home sewing and you can buy it in 90 colors. Use silk thread for sewing wool, silk, or a blend of the two. The thread is elastic, strong and soft and has a sheen. Use is for basting and it will remove easily leaving little or no mark on the fabric.

New covered zippers should prevent damage from repeated washings, heat and wearing. The new zippers have a fabric tape which completely covers front and back of them. The zipper itself is very fine and flexible with metal teeth and nylon coil. There is no chance it will show in the garment. A regular zipper foot can be used for inserting it.

OUTDOOR CARPETING, introduced about a year ago in a limited assortment of solid colors, today is available in colorful printed and embossed designs thanks to modern printing and dyeing processes.

Its variety of striking colors, handsome embossed and printed designs, texture variations and do-it-yourselfer's delight—carpet tiles have made it extremely popular this summer, said Jane Berry, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist.

Carpet styles, according to the Texas A&M University specialist, include needlepunched to produce a flat, felted texture that's easy to clean and easy to walk on; tufted with looped or cut-and-looped pile that resembles conventional indoor carpeting in texture; or tufted with a curly, grass-like pile of single filament yarns.

WHILE GREEN is a popular color for outdoor use, most manufacturers offer solids, tweeds and even printed styles in variations of blue, red, yellow, brown, and black.

Outdoor carpets are all made of man-made fibers and backing materials, including olefin (polypropylene), acrylic, nylon and polyester, explains Mrs. Berry. Resistance to mildew, sunlight, mildew, sunlight, moisture and harsh chemicals makes them ideal for patios, steps and porches, decks, poolside, and for work areas inside the home.

Installation can be quick and simple. Often outdoor carpets are cut to fit rather than installed. They may be taped or cemented in place for a more permanent installation.

One manufacturer is promoting outdoor-indoor carpet in 12 inch squares which can be easily installed by the home handyman. Striped, checkerboard and random patterned designs in an assortment of colors can be used to suit the individual decor. Tiles can be supplied indoors over a floor surface, and can be used above, on, or below grade.

Educator Will Speak 2 Times

Dr. Newell C. Kephart, nationally known authority in the field of learning and motor disabilities, will speak to interested parents and teachers at 7:45 p.m. Friday in the Stephen F. Austin Junior High School auditorium, according to Hereford School assistant superintendent Robert Holman.

Austin Junior High is located at 808 Wimberly in Amarillo. On Saturday at 9 and 10:45 a.m., Dr. Kephart will speak to physical education teachers, special education teachers, counselors and administrators in the ballroom of the Student Union Building at West Texas State University at Canyon.

Cultural Club Plans Annual Holiday Supper

A Thanksgiving supper for members and their families was scheduled for Nov. 19 by Cultural Home Demonstration Club at a meeting in Mrs. Paul Corbett's home Friday afternoon. Community Center will be the place of the annual holiday supper.

Mrs. Roy Thompson gave the program Friday, discussing a phase of the topic, Family Health. Mrs. Louis Olson reported the latest session of the County H. D. Council and Mrs. J. G. Gandy read a poem, Lord of the Harvest.

Others present were Mrs. George Parker, Grady Parsons, J. D. Love, Ole Larson, M. W. Sumner, and P. M. Houser.

Recent Changes In SS Benefits Affect Many Panhandle Residents

Many persons in the Panhandle may be losing valuable social security benefits. Despite recent publicity about changes in the law regarding disability benefits for some widows, the Amarillo Social Security office is still finding persons who are unaware of how these changes affect them.

Apparently many widows are relying on information they got from the social security office at the time their husbands died. They were told then that widows could not receive disability benefits on their deceased husbands' social security. Because they were told this many believe the new provision does not apply to them.

Any widow between age 50 and 60 who is disabled should check with the social security office to verify whether or not the new provision of the law applies to her. The local social security office is located at 1006 Adams Street, Amarillo.

Sears Named To Discussion Panel

Henry Sears, president of the First National Bank, will be a panelist in the 1968 annual meeting of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association scheduled for November 18-19 in Lubbock.

Jack Carrothers, president of the association said, "We expect the attendance to exceed 500 at the second annual meeting of the association, organized in 1967, to represent and serve the rapidly developing cattle feeding industry of the region."

The meeting, which will be held at the Ko Ko Palace in Lubbock, Texas, will begin at 2:30 p. m. on Monday, November 18. After a short business meeting, a panel "The next ten years in the beef cattle industry" will be moderated by Dr. L. S. Pope, associate dean, college of Agriculture, Texas A&M University. Those participating on the panel include: Kenneth Anderson, Anderson Cattle Company, Emporia, Kansas; Dr. Charles Deyhle, Clarendon Veterinary Clinic; H. C. Hitch, Jr., Hitch Ranches, Guyton, Oklahoma; Wade Lacy, Arizona Cattle Feeders Association, Phoenix, Arizona and Sears.

On Tuesday, November 19, the morning session will include a discussion of "Genetic influence on feeder cattle performance" by Dr. T. C. Cartwright, Texas A&M University. For a first hand look at the differences in carcass value, Dr. Ralph Durham will demonstrate "Carcass value on a yield grade basis."

The afternoon program will feature Dr. Herrell Degraff, president of the American Meat Institute, Chicago, Illinois, who will speak on "Will the beef industry meet the challenge of Tomorrow's Demands."

This year's meeting is especially privileged to hear from the honorable W. R. "Bob" Poage, Texas Congressman from Waco and Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture. Congressman Poage will speak on "Government and Agriculture-1969."

The afternoon program will conclude with a panel "what kind of feeder cattle for the feed lot." Panel moderator will be George Ellis, Jr., General Manager, Coronado Cattle Company, Midland, Texas. Panel members include: Richard Blinco, President, Idaho Cattle Feeders Association; Dr. T. C. Cartwright, Texas A&M University; Bill Clements, Double C Ranch, Longview, Texas; Tom Herrick, Randall County Feedyards, Amarillo and Lisle Mullins, Parris area Beef producers, Paris, Texas.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

Editor's Note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 209 W. 9th Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q — Recently I received a class II-C deferment for my farming activity. Since I intend to farm indefinitely, why is my deferment for one year only?
A — Class II deferments, including class II-C, are limited to one year. They may be renewed. If there is a change in status during the year, your classification must be reopened and considered anew. No deferment is granted on a permanent basis.

Q — Less than 30 days ago, my draft board mailed notice of my I-A classification, then ordered me to take my pre-induction physical, which I passed. Yesterday I mailed the board written notice of appeal, but today I received my induction order. Is this order valid?
A — No. Draft regulations provide that a local board must not issue an induction order to a man either during the period afforded him to take an appeal, or during the period an appeal is pending. Your order, therefore, is ineffective and must be cancelled by the local board.

Q — I've been out of town for six weeks. When I returned, I found an induction order with a reporting date of last week. My landlady did not forward the notice. What shall I do?
A — See your local board and explain the circumstances of your failure to respond to the order. It is the duty of a registered man at all times to keep his board advised of the address where mail will reach him.

Army Reservists May Volunteer For Active Duty

Army reservists may volunteer for tours of active duty to support Army Reserve training, administration and other activities, according to Maj. Gen. Francis J. Murdoch Jr., deputy commander for reserve forces, at Fort U. S. Army, Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

Tours may vary in length but may not run beyond June 28, 1969. In order of priority assignments are available in the following categories:

1. Positions which augment annual active duty for training (ANACDUTRA) of reserve units and Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) summer camps.
2. Advisory and support positions with reserve units at home stations.
3. Positions which augment staffs of inactive installations whose mission is to support the Reserve Components in before and after active duty training activities and equipment maintenance.
4. Staff positions at higher headquarters which directly support the reserve mission.

Officers above the rank of lieutenant colonel are not eligible to apply. Lieutenant colonels ordered to duty who have been selected for promotion to colonel in the Reserve may elect to complete their tour at the lower grade or be released from active duty.

Unit reservists may apply through their reserve unit commanders. Non-unit reservists should submit application to the unit or headquarters where active duty is desired.

Frona Man On Team Visiting European Grain Markets Now

A. W. Anthony, Jr., president of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, a Parmer County farmer north of Friona, has been named to a 10-member "feed grain and soy bean mission to Europe" by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman.

The joint USDA-grain industry mission will visit importing countries using United States corn, grain sorghum and soy beans in an attempt to find ways in which U. S. exports might be strengthened and to define problems which may be limiting current exports.

The group will visit Spain, Italy, Belgium, West Germany, and England. They will be working with the Agricultural Attache attached to the American Embassy in each of the countries.

In addition to Anthony who will represent the Grain Sorghum Producers Association on the mission, other producers are Fred Ludwig of Iowa, representing the National Corn Growers Association, and George Tredwell of South Carolina, representing the American Soy Bean Growers Association.

Other team members will be selected from USDA and the grain merchandising industry. After a briefing in Washington, D.C. the group was expected to have left Friday for Europe and will return Nov. 27.

Bill Nelson, executive vice president of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association in Amarillo, said that this is a similar mission, studying exports, to the ones on which Elbert Harp, past GSPA president, went to Europe and Melvin Barton, GSPA director, went to Asia last year.

He said that both of these past missions have been credited with providing the Secretary of Agriculture with important information on which to make major grain export policy decisions.

Nelson indicated that even though GSPA, the American Embassy and other groups had worked for 10 years toward the removal of a 14 per cent duty on grain sorghum in Italy, it

Farm Bureau Hits New High In Membership

WACO — For the first time in the history of the Texas Farm Bureau, the state's largest general farm organization has more than 110,000 member families.

Final 1968 membership tabulation shows TFB now has 110,689 member families, according to Wayne Little, TFB organization field services director.

Farm Bureau gained 5,036 member families during the past membership year which ended Oct. 31. The organization has more than doubled its membership in the last 16 years, having gained each of the 16 years.

Nine of every ten Texas farmers and ranchers who belong to a general farm organization are members of Texas Farm Bureau Little said.

There are 203 organized counties in the Texas Farm Bureau. The organization is supported by voluntary dues-paying members.

Veterans and surviving dependents of deceased veterans comprise almost half the population of the U. S.

Legion Members To Attend Meet

Hereford American Legion Post 192 Commander S. T. Wiseman reported that he and his wife, the Ira Otts, the Leroy Williamsons, Robert Betzen and possibly the Grant Hannas will attend the 18th District Convention of the American Legion on Nov. 16-17 at Memphis.

The National Commander of the American Legion, William C. Doyle of Vineland, New Jersey, will speak before the convention on Sunday afternoon, it was announced by convention chairman Bill Ballew.

Doyle recently returned from an official visit to the fighting fronts in Vietnam and is expected to report on his findings and his opinions on the halt of the bombings in North Vietnam as it affects the security of American forces in South Vietnam.

Doyle was elected National Commander of the American Legion at the final session of the 50th annual national convention in New Orleans in September. He is a World War II veteran having served with the U. S. Army in the European theatre. He holds the Silver Star and Bronze Star with Cluster and V-Clasp among his decorations.

He rose to the rank of Brigadier General in 1964 with the New Jersey National Guard. He presently serves as assistant Division Commander, 50th Armored Division. He has held many high offices in the American Legion, locally as well as statewide and nationally.

The convention will get underway on Saturday with registration beginning at 10 a. m. Visiting dignitaries and guests will be introduced by William E. Brady of Claude, District Commander. Garland DeLamar of Waco, department field representative, will explain the duties of the post officers. Committee reports will be heard from Earl Baskett, Amarillo; Brady McCoy, Amarillo; Jim McFarland, Amarillo; Jack W. Flynt, national executive committee member, Dimmitt; Dept. Vice Commander Henry H. Hill, Kingsland; Rhea Smith, Amarillo; Roy R. Beard, Amarillo; District Vice Commander Dennis Holland, Dodson; and Clifford Johnson.

Today's Soldier More Capable

More than 700 years ago, before Western inventors knew how to make gunpowder, the Chinese used rockets in warfare. And cannons were first used in war about 1350 A. D.

Today, the Army uses both rockets and cannons in its arsenal for the defense of our country. They are both part of the equipment used by the Army's Artillery branch.

The modern artilleryman bears little resemblance to his historical predecessor. He is more capable in every respect. This is traced directly to his more intense training in the use and maintenance of the modern artillery equipment.

And this modern artillery differs greatly from the ancient guns from which they have evolved. The first rockets are described by Chinese historians as "arrows of flying fire." The early cannons were cast of bronze and of wrought iron.

The rockets of today can span continents; the cannons deliver their destructive power farther and more accurately than ever before. But all the rockets and cannons in the world would just be so much iron and steel without the artilleryman to operate them.

Artillerymen are trained at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, in one of the specialized jobs related to Artillery. Also operating at Fort Sill is the Artillery Noncommissioned Officer Candidate Course. The NCOC trains and develops junior leaders and is patterned after the Officer Candidate School.

Through the NCOC, a young man enlisting in the Army for assignment to the Artillery branch can be promoted to the grade of Sergeant or Staff Sergeant in as little as 10 months.

Candidates for this program for rapid advancement are chosen from among volunteers who have shown leadership potential and ability during basic and advanced individual training.

Men entering the Artillery NCO Course are promoted to corporal and on graduation from the 12-week formal training phase are made Sergeants. Up to five percent can be promoted to Staff Sergeant.

Then the graduates attend an eight-week on-the-job training phase from which an additional six percent can be promoted to Staff Sergeant.

All of this training is designed to provide adequate leadership in the middle enlisted grades in the Artillery branch. Details about the job training opportunities in Artillery are available from Sergeant Pinales local Army recruiter. His office is at the U. S. Army Recruiting Station, U. S. Post Office, in Amarillo. He may be contacted at the Local Board in Hereford every Tuesday from 10 a. m. until 4:30 p. m.

Bravo Has Approval To Begin Operation

FT. WORTH — Bravo Smokes, Inc., Uvalde Division, a vegetable processing firm at 1522 Edison St., Dallas, has furnished a $9,000 surety bond to obtain a license under the Perishable Agricultural Commodities Act, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today.

Officials of USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service said the firm was required to post a bond in order to obtain a PACA license since the officers, directors, and stockholders of record had been responsibly connected with a firm that had been declared as bankrupt within three years prior to the date the firm applied for a license.

Under the provisions of the PAC Act, officials explained, U-SDA may refuse to issue a license unless a satisfactory bond is posted.

Since Bravo Smokes, Inc., has furnished the required bond and a license has been issued, the firm is now entitled to conduct business under the PAC Act.

Regulatory services of PACA for Texas and other southwestern states are handled by the Ft. Worth office, regulatory branch, fruit and vegetable division, C&MS, USDA. Joseph E. Ward is in charge of the office, Room 9 C-03 Federal Office Bldg., 819 Taylor Street.

The PAC Act establishes a code of good business conduct for the produce industry. As a means of enforcing that code it requires the licensing of interstate trader in fresh and frozen fruits and vegetables. The law authorizes the USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service to suspend or revoke a trader's license.

Area Soldier Gets Promotion

FT. HOOD — Hoy J. Morgan, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Morgan, 107 N. W. Ninth, Dimmitt, was promoted October 18 to Army specialist five at Ft. Hood, Tex., where he is serving with the 2nd Armored Division.

Spec. Morgan is assigned to Company C, 1st Battalion of the division's 66th Armor.

His wife, Linda, lives in Kilbuck.

There will be a social hour at 5 p. m., followed by a joint banquet for the American Legion and Auxiliary. Principal speaker for the banquet will be Department Commander Robert P. Walsh of San Antonio, Department Adjutant W. H. McGregor of Austin will bring greetings.

Annual convention date will begin at 9 p. m.

On Sunday morning Chaplain Henry Teubel of Tulsa will be in charge of the Memorial Service. At 1:30 p. m., the Legion and Auxiliary will hold their separate business sessions.

Club's History Is Reviewed In Wyche Program

Club history was reviewed and the future predicted in the program of Wyche Home Demonstration Club Thursday afternoon in Mrs. Ira Ott's home. Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent, was the speaker and Mrs. E. C. Hewitt was program leader.

Wyche club was organized in 1929, Mrs. Draper, said, but Home Demonstration work began in Deaf Smith County in 1915, when Mrs. Maggie Avant was the agent working in three counties.

She said the club's future as well as the county's will be affected by present plans for bringing more water to this area; with enough water the Plains area can produce food enough for the world, she added.

Plans were made to have club members act as models in a Cavalcade of Cotton style show which Dawn H. D. Club will sponsor next Friday, with other clubs of the county participating.

Mrs. T. J. Kelly was named hostess for the next meeting, Nov. 21, and Dec. 13 was set as the date for the annual holiday dinner of the club.

HONORED FOR SERVICE — Three Hereford men were honored for their service to the Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America during the annual Service Award Dinner Wednesday night in Clovis, N. M. From left to right are Percy Clough of 142 Kingwood, foreman; Floyd Eubanks of 112

Avenue H, maintenance man; Jack Hughes of 119 Fir, maintenance man, and Bill Burford, district pipeline superintendent in the Permian area and master of ceremonies for the evening. Eubanks and Hughes received 15-year-awards. About 40 employees attended.

Annual Cattle Sale Is Set In Clarendon

"The Rolling Plains Registered Beef Cattle Association will hold its annual sale in Clarendon on Nov. 20 at 12:30 p. m. at the fair building. Walter Britten will sell the bulls.

Seventy-six bulls will be offered for sale featuring top blood lines and good beef producing bulls and some herd bull prospects.

There will be 25 Herefords, 25 Galloways, and 15 Angus bulls in the sale. The new sales arena is heated and you will be comfortable.

If you wish to come by plane you can land at the city-county airport. Buzz the fair building and a car will meet you.

Those wishing a catalog in advance of the sale can write to H. M. Breedlove, Secretary, Clarendon, Texas 79226."

Of the 160,000 law books housed in the library of the New York County Lawyer's Association, only some 7,500 involve criminal law.

Fifty-four drivers turned in 100 or more harness racing victories in 1967. This was 13 more than the previous year and 19 more than in 1965.

Armistice-With A Surprise Ending!

The Hereford Brand issue of Thursday, November 14, 1918 — fifty years ago this Thursday — carried a headline in bold capital letters: ARMISTICE IS CELEBRATED WITH BIG NOISE.

The day that peace was declared between the Allies and Germany, Deaf Smith County had approximately 3,700 people living in it — with a number of men in the Armed Forces, mostly in France, and a total of six killed in action there who would never know what went on in Hereford on that joyous occasion.

But it might be interesting to note now what the people of Hereford did then — when Hereford was only 20 years old, a small West Texas cattle town with a railroad:

November 11, 1918, the First International Independence Day, was observed all over the nation, but nowhere more hilariously or more earnestly than in Hereford.

"The actual signing of the armistice seemed to lift a great weight from the spirits of the people, and everything was set aside for the moment and the afternoon devoted exclusively to celebrate the beginning of the end of the world's greatest tragedy.

"All stores closed at 2 p. m. and the people began to congregate in droves on the streets and around the Court house. The Liberty Girls and the Rainbow Girls, in automobiles, drove up and down the streets singing patriotic songs and leading the noise-making. The girls equipped themselves with tin pans and other noise-making devices, and made the welkin ring. At irregular intervals the booming of anvils absorbed all other noises. Shotguns and revolvers galore were fired all during the day and night. It was a miracle that no one was hurt by the promiscuous firing.

"At 2 1/2 p. m. a program was begun on the north steps of the Courthouse. Mayor Knight, W. K. Dameron, Rev. W. M. Baker, Rev. J. M. Asbell, Rev. W. E.

McCurken, D. L. McDonald and Carl Gilliland all made addresses, the Liberty Girls sang, and cheers were given with a will for the ending of the war and the lifting of its burdens.

"All of the talks were short, the mayor's being the longest, as he was the designated orator of the day. And, by the way, it was a cracking good talk, full of earnest, thoughtful pointers pertinent to the times and the occasion. Upon being congratulated upon his effort, Judge Knight replied thankfully that it was a poor citizen who could not make a pretty good talk under the circumstances, and especially considering the crowd who was doing the listening.

"You know," he added, "that the longer I live among these people, the more I am beginning to appreciate what good folks they are!" — And the mayor wasn't saying that for publication, either. "A unique feature of the day was the execution of Kaiser Bill by a firing squad selected by the Home Guards. Sheriff Charles Purcell, Orville Newell and others fixed up a life-sized imitation of his ex-Majesty that was a credit to their workmanship. Captain Whitehead of the Guards pinned a piece of white paper over the heart and ordered his squad to fire at it, but most of the boys seemed to have taken the head as the mark, judging from the shattered condition. Following the execution, all that remained of the High and Mighty was ignominiously dragged around on the end of a rope by the Liberty Girls' car. "The anvils sounded far into the night; the streets were crowded until a late hour by tired but happy throngs. It was a great day, and one to be remembered.

"But, if our people in Hereford felt the relief they expressed so fervently, how do you suppose the war-worn victims of four years in France and Belgium welcomed the day?"

But there was an advertisement in this same issue of the Brand fifty years ago which seems almost prophetic: "NOT OVER YET. . . even if we have licked 'em — not by a long shot. There's police work to do, and the Bolsheviks to spank, and ALL KINDS OF RECONSTRUCTION PROBLEMS. We have our United War Work pledges to meet, and our WSS (War Saving Stamps) pledges to pay, and some of us probably have our Fourth Liberty Loan to take care of yet! Yes, come to foot up the 'lems, there are lots of things left for the Banks to do in serving the people. The First National Bank." (The 'bolcheviki' were what the people of 1918 called the communists.)

Concerning Veterans

Children of deceased servicemen may be eligible for Veterans Administration pensions even though their mothers are not.

This reminder was made today by Jack Coker, Manager, VA Regional Office, Waco, Texas. "This situation occurs under two sets of circumstances," Coker said. "First, the unmarried widow may be ineligible because her income exceeds limits set by law.

"Second, when a widow receiving a pension for herself and her children remarries, she loses her personal eligibility for a pension based on her veteran husband's death."

Minor children, however, may continue to receive pension payments in either case, even though they live with their mother, Coker said. Their personal eligibility is limited only by their personal incomes.

If a child's income is greater than $1,000 per year, no pension payments in either case, even though they live with their mother, Coker said. Their personal eligibility is limited only by their personal incomes.

If a child's income is greater than $1,000 per year, no pension will be paid, but the child's own earnings are not counted.

Coker stressed that a widow's personal ineligibility should not prevent her making application to any Veterans Administration office.

"Unless an application is made, we have no way of knowing about children who might be eligible," he said.

Pensions may be paid to certain survivors of veterans of all wars, including the Korean Conflict and the Vietnam era, who die of causes not related to their service. Eligibility and the amount of pension are determined by the survivor's income.

Compensation, on the other hand, is paid to the survivors of veterans who die of service-connected causes, and income of the survivor has no bearing on eligibility or amount paid. Remarriage of the widow receiving compensation makes her ineligible, but as in the case of pensions, the mother's remarriage does not affect the eligibility of her children.

Full details are available at any VA office, Coker said. All applications should be accompanied by full identifying information on the veterans including, if possible, a VA claim number or insurance number.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their government provides for them through Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q — I will be separated from military service too late to enter school this fall. Must I start school in the spring semester or can I take it easy this year and enter school in the fall of 1969? I don't want to lose my G. I. Bill entitlement.

A — You can delay entering school without losing your G. I. Bill educational entitlement. However, you must use this entitlement within eight years of separation from military service.

Q — The premium on my $10,000 National Service Life Insurance policy has been waived because of total blindness. I have now been sufficiently trained, however, so that I can anticipate working full-time. Will this affect the waiver of premium?

A — No. The waiver of premium continues where the veteran suffers certain disabilities classified as STATUTORY, which includes total blindness.

Q — I got out of service without an injury and was discharged three months ago. Last month, however, I came down with an unexplained fever, and I wonder if it could be malaria. Can I go to an Army hospital to check on this and to get required treatment?

A — Since you have been separated from service, the Army cannot treat you. However, you are eligible for examination and treatment at the nearest Veterans Administration hospital or outpatient clinic.

For six months after separation from service, the VA will furnish treatment for any condition on the presumption that it is connected with service.

After six months, the service connection must be verified by physical examination and comparison with military medical records.

Visit the VA hospital or clinic as soon as possible. Don't take any chances on the six-months period going by.

Cathy Crist

Miss Crist Is Ambassador For Church Group

Cathy Crist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Crist of Rt. 1, Hereford, was recently commissioned as an Ambassador on the West Texas team.

The Nazarene Evangelistic Ambassadors are a group of outstanding Christian teens from the Churches of the Nazarene around the world, according to Hereford's First Church of the Nazarene Rev. Bill Ray. "Each district is trained in choir, speaking, and personal evangelism. They travel to various churches to help in revivals, rallies, opening of new churches, etc. The team is a select group and must meet rigid requirements."

Climaxing a year of intensive study, attending meetings and participating in team projects, Miss Crist received her team jacket, WTA emblem and certificate as she was commissioned in a ceremony in the Canyon Church of the Nazarene, where the WTA team was participating in a revival.

She is a member of the Hereford Church of the Nazarene. Among her many duties and offices in the church, she is an assistant Sunday School teacher, Membership Secretary for the Missionary Society, Sunday School music chairman, program chairman for the NYPS Teen Chapter, and social chairman for her Sunday School class. Rev. Ray reported that other teens from the Hereford Church of the Nazarene who helped in the weekend revival: Dee Ann Douglas, Tonya Jayroe, Carla Crist, Debbie Musick, Rodney Douglas, David Musick, Lanny Ronnberg, and Steve Ray.

Veterans May See Film Free

Francis Hardwick, manager of the Star Theatre in Hereford, announced that beginning today at 6 p. m. and continuing through Tuesday night, all veterans would be honored for services to the country by being admitted to see the motion picture "Rachel, Rachel."

The veteran must show his I. D. card or discharge papers at the Star box office as necessary proof of service. Then, he and his wife (or date) will be admitted on the same ticket.

Not a war picture, "Rachel, Rachel" is an adult story of a school teacher.

Legion Meets With Auxiliary

Hereford American Legion and Auxiliary had a joint meeting Tuesday night with Father John Van der Kull as guest speaker.

Post Commander S. T. Wiseman opened the meeting. Robert Betzen introduced the speaker, who gave a program on the Netherlands. With a brief history of the country — covering an area of 14,000 square miles with 511 people per mile — Father Van der Kull had two films, "The Magic Square" and "Holland Today."

Father Van der Kull is a priest at St. Anthony's Catholic Church here.

Five guests were at the meeting with 25 members.

Betrothal Announced

Plans for the marriage during Christmas holidays of Miss Barbara Zinser and Jerry Curry are announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zinser Jr., Route 5. The wedding is to be solemnized in St. Anthony's Catholic Church here.

Miss Zinser is a junior student at West Texas State University, Canyon. She was graduated from Hereford High School.

Mr. Curry, now stationed for U.S. Army duty at Fort Sill, Okla., has attended WTSU and taught at Hugoton, Kan., before entering military service.

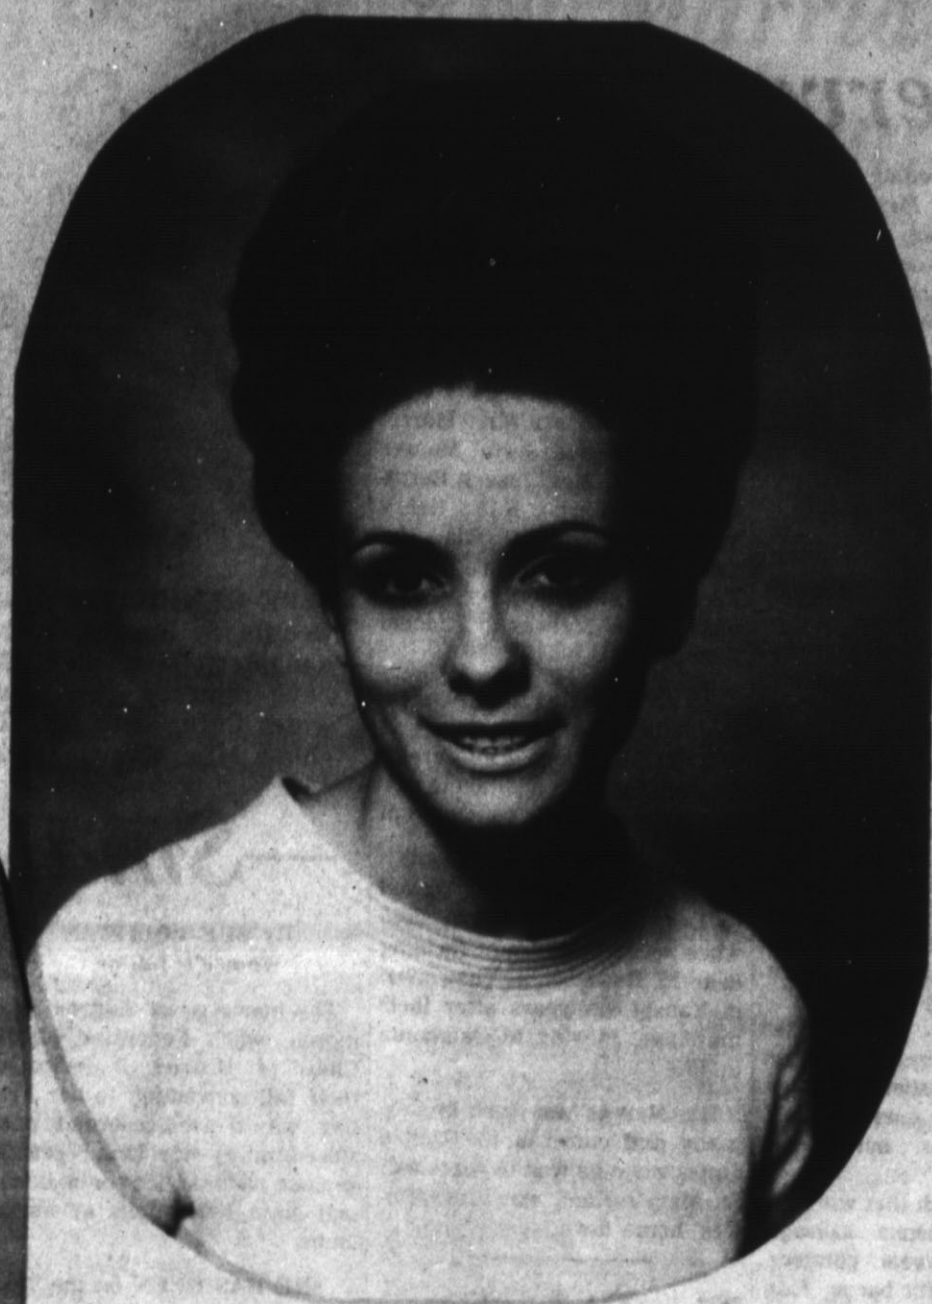

Miss Pierce To Wed

Engagement of Miss Deborah Lynn Pierce, 238 Avenue H, to Jesse Shirley of Friona is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Pierce of Dumas, former Hereford residents.

The wedding date is set for Dec. 21 and the ceremony is planned at 7:30 p.m. in First United Methodist Church here. Friends of the couple are invited.

The Pierce family, longtime residents of this city, moved to Dumas last summer. Miss Pierce is employed here. Her fiance is the son of Mrs. Christine Shirley of Friona and the late Jack Shirley.

Wedding Date Set

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Blankenship, 308 Jowell, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Levenie Benefield, to Marshall Day, and plans for a November 29 wedding at Central Church of Christ.

Miss Benefield is the daughter of Mrs. Blankenship and the late Troy Benefield, and her fiance's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Day of Andrews. The couple plans to reside in Hereford.

A graduate of Hereford High School with the 1968 class, the bride-elect was a member of the National Honor Society. She is employed by Beautiplate Draperies. Mr. Day has been sports editor for the Hereford Brand the past year, after graduating from Andrews High School in 1967.

Benefit Lunch Plans Reviewed

Reviewing plans for their annual benefit event, a sampling luncheon set for 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. Nov. 21 at the County Bull Barn, members of L'Allegra Study Club were assigned hostess duties at a business meeting in First National Community Room Thursday afternoon.

After the informal discussion of luncheon plans directed by Mrs. Danny Martin, general chairman, the group worked on recipe books which will be sold at the luncheon. Each member has contributed a special recipe for the book, and will make the dish as her contribution.

Mrs. John E. Smith is chairman of the group which will prepare main dishes, Mrs. J. H. McCrary of those making salads and dressings, Mrs. Gary McQuigg of the vegetable casserole cooks and Mrs. Buddy Bloomer of those who will prepare desserts. Tickets are on sale by club members.

Mrs. W. C. Russell is chairman of compiling the recipe books, which will have covers with an appropriate design, the work of Bill Lankford. Mrs. Jim McDowell, conducted the business meeting.

The luncheon will benefit the club's fund for contributing to Opportunity Plan, Inc., at West Texas State University, a loan fund for students. This is the major project of this year for L'Allegra members.

Date Moved For Party

Date of La Afflatus Estudio Club's Christmas party will be Dec. 10 instead of Dec. 3 as originally planned, members decided at a recent meeting in Mrs. B. F. Markham's home. The party will be at the home of Mrs. George Suggs.

Mrs. W. F. Johnson was in charge of the program on Classical Greece, one of a series on Cultures of the World. She gave an interesting review of a portion of C. T. Bowra's book, The Ages of Man.

Fourteen members were present for the program and refreshments.

Music Is Job, Hobby

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Music is her vocation and also a favorite recreation for Mrs. Wesley Gulley, who is choir instructor at LaPlata Junior High this year and the wife of a young attorney who began practice here in the summer.

"I LOVE TO SING and do so every chance I get," Mrs. Gulley says, and she also enjoys her work with the singing students. She taught in Plainview, Austin and Dallas before coming here when her husband became associated with a Hereford law firm.

The Gulleys moved here in July and have leased a house at 811 Brevard to occupy until they buy or build a home. A month's vacation after she finished teaching in Dallas preceded their move to Hereford, where she emphatically likes "the people and the climate."

Dark-haired and blue-eyed, Mrs. Gulley expresses her likes and dislikes enthusiastically. She likes such homebody tasks as cooking and sewing, quiet activities like reading and playing bridge, and outdoor sports like swimming and water skiing.

"WATER SPORTS, of course," she says, "because I was raised on a lake." But she wants to learn snow skiing and is looking forward to weekend trips to New Mexico ski slopes

Mrs. Wesley Gulley
... at prized piano

this winter.

She grew up in Grove, Okla., near Grand Lake and only eight miles from the Missouri state line. "A real hillbilly," she describes herself. Venita, also in eastern Oklahoma, was her birthplace. She was Jane Hampton before her marriage.

After graduation from Oklahoma City University, she has done graduate study in the University of Texas.

HER YEAR OF teaching at Plainview convinced her that she liked living on the Plains, where she sees beauty in the vast distances to match the very different beauty of her forested native hills.

It also gave her a friend whom she was pleased to meet again as Mrs. Norman Kerr, again a fellow teacher, when she came to Hereford.

She was a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, music fraternity, while she was in college.

One of her prized possessions and the center of interest in her living room is a piano, gift from a family friend, and the original certificate of purchase showing that the instrument was made in 1885. The dark wood has its original finish, and is handsomely carved as is the stool which accompanies it.

ALTHOUGH SHE is no collector of antiques, Jane Gulley, values the piano as a gift as well as a beautiful piece of furniture which is in excellent condition as it was kept by the same family for more than 75 years.

Her only other antique piece, she laughs, is a dipper that belonged to a great-grandmother and traveled westward in a covered wagon with family belongings in pioneer days.

She is more interested in the present and future than in the past, and with several other choir directors here hopes to see a community chorale formed in Hereford in the near future.

She is not impressed by the fact that Hereford is not as large as Dallas or Austin, where she knew such chorales, but is more impressed that there is plenty of vocal talent here to form a group, "unless everybody is too busy!"

Self-Struve Marriage Conducted At Dimmitt

An afternoon marriage in Dennis Memorial Chapel at Dimmitt was conducted for Miss Ellen Self and Kerry Struve, both of Route 2, Hereford, Saturday. The couple left for a Colorado honeymoon and will be at home after November 17 south of Hereford.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Bernadine Self of Lubbock and Glenn B. Self of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Struve, Route 2. The bride's brother, Frank Self, gave her in marriage.

Dr. Raymond Perkins of First Baptist Church, Dimmitt, officiated for the ceremony in an altar setting of greenery with baskets of chrysanthemums on either side, lighted by candles.

Miss Kita Struve, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor and Norman Harder the best man. Miss Nora Marie Self was bridesmaid for her sister; Gerald Harder served as groomsmen and J. D. Harder escorted guests to their seats.

The wedding soloist was Miss Marsha Driskel of Clinton, Okla. who sang Wedding Prayer and Whither Thou Goest, Mrs. James Horton of Dimmitt was the organ accompanist and played marches.

Miss Self chose a gown of pastel blue, a floor-length sheath with white lace bodice and a flowing oversheath and train of blue chiffon. Her lace veil fell over her shoulders from a white satin pillbox hat.

An heirloom piece in her costume was a diamond pendant which belonged to her great-grandmother. She carried a cascade of white roses centered with an orchid.

Moss green dresses were worn by her attendants, with antique white lace around the neckline. The gowns were floor length with short trains. Each carried a green orchid surrounded with white roses.

A reception in the home of the bridegroom's parents followed the ceremony. Miss Kita Struve served the wedding cake and Miss Noree Struve poured punch. The cake, decorated with blue and green sugar flowers, was a focal point of table decor.

For travel, Mrs. Struve changed and green sugar flowers, was the focal point of table decor. She attended West Texas State.

In 1900, there were fewer than 30 special libraries, not open to the public, in the United States. Today there are more than 10,000.

Holiday Plans For 4-H Told

Jane Witkowski presided over a 4-H Council meeting held last Monday at the Community Center.

Announcements made at the meeting were that 4-H Week, which was climaxed at the HemisFair, turned out very successfully, and that there will not be a county 4-H Christmas party this year. Instead, the local 4-H clubs will have individual parties.

Four-H Council members planned to make a trip to Amarillo Dec. 6 for an evening including eating supper and going to a movie.

Members present for the meeting were Jane Witkowski, Joette Hanna, Steven Olson, Steve Robbins, Tommy Bezner, Kay Atchley, Patsy Paetzold, and Rita Huckert, leader.

Shop And Show Films Will Be Shown At Star

First National Bank in Hereford will sponsor three "Shop and Show" matinees at the Star Theatre, according to Star manager Francis Hardwick.

Hardwick said that the three dates, with separate showings in the mornings and afternoons, have been booked for Nov. 29 (the day after Thanksgiving during the school holidays), Dec. 21 and 23.

He estimated that the free matinees — where mothers can leave their children as they shop in the downtown stores — will keep $20,000 to $30,000 from being spent elsewhere during the shopping season. "I am sure that these free Shop and Show matinees will prove to be the most desirable Christmas program Hereford has ever had," Hardwick said. "The First National Bank is paying the bill, so let us tell the world about Hustling Hereford."

The feature booked for Nov. 29 is "Namu, the Killer Whale" with a 3 Stooges comedy. On Dec. 21 "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion" will be shown and Dec. 23 will have "Battle Beyond the Sun."

The theatre will open at 9:45 a.m. and 1:45 p.m. for each program. Showings will begin at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The gray whale's breeding place is Mexico's lonely Scammon Lagoon, halfway down the Pacific coast of Baja California.

THIRD PARTY PRESENT — In this scene from Blithe Spirit, the comedy which Hereford Community Players are to present Nov. 21 and 22, Charles Condomine, played by Fred Howard, is trying to convince his wife, who has that role in the comedy as well as in real life, that the spirit of his deceased first wife is present in their living room. Imogene Anderson is directing a cast of seven in the Noel Coward play which will be staged in Stanton School auditorium, the initial production of the recently-organized community theatre.

Bell Choir Gives School Program

Elementary school pupils are being entertained by assembly programs given by the Ladies Bell Choir of First United Methodist Church, which rang in an assembly at Central School Thursday and has set another program for 1:30 p. m. next Thursday at Bluebonnet School.

Bob Wert is director of the unusual musical group, which rings handbells in a variety of tunes, many of them arranged especially for the bells by Mrs. Wert.

VICA Members Attend Meeting

The VICA Club of Hereford High School attended a District meeting at Caprock High in Amarillo all day Saturday.

This was a meeting of District Six at which the District Sweetheart was to be chosen. The candidates from Hereford were Becky Jesko, Auto Mechanic Sweetheart, Judy Farr, Cosmetology sweetheart, and Mary Renfro, sweetheart for Industrial Cooperative training.

Schools included in the competition for district sweetheart were Lubbock, Amarillo, Dalhart, Levelland and Plainview.

The Cosmetology VICA Club recently received an invitation from the Boys Ranch VICA Club to a steak fry and meeting to be held at Boys Ranch.

Ten girls from the Hereford Club, along with girls from Dalhart and Caprock High of Amarillo joined the boys for the supper.

Girls going from Hereford were Melody Ott, Becky Jesko, Mary Husmann, Sherry Jones, Kay Ward, Annie Nunley, Sharla Harrison, Carmen Malouf, Bonnie Walker and Rose Mary Fangman. Sponsors for the trip were Mrs. Jack Thurlow and Mrs. Sally Walker.

Most of the commercially marketed codfish is in the form of frozen fillets and fish sticks. But the eggs are ground as bait for sardines; codliver oil is extracted from the liver, and the air bladder is used in making ising glass.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

tered with IRS?

A — Certain gangster-type weapons such as machine guns, sawed-off shotguns, short barreled rifles and silencers have been required to be registered with IRS since 1934 when the National Firearms Act was passed.

Q — What's this business about an amnesty period for registering firearms? I didn't know firearms had to be regis-

The amnesty period from November 2 to December 1 permits anyone who owns a gangster-type weapon and has violated the law by not registering it, to register it without penalty during the 30-day amnesty period. Grenades, bombs, land mines and other destructive devices should also be registered during this period.

The Alcohol & Tobacco Tax Division of IRS has the responsibility for administering the gun control laws and can give you the details on registering these weapons. Your local IRS office can give you the address of the Alcohol & Tobacco Tax office nearest you.

Q — My return went through OK this year and I got my refund a month or so later. Is it true I can still be audited to have to pay additional tax?

A — Yes, IRS generally has three years from the due date of a return to make whatever checks might be necessary to assure that income and expense items are accurately reported and to assess additional taxes. For this reason it is advisable to keep tax records for at least three years.

It usually takes about 5-6 weeks to process a return calling for a refund. In that time it is only possible to make sure the return is complete, the arithmetic is accurate and that the taxpayer is not filing a duplicate refund claim or has an outstanding tax liability.

Q — Is the cost of an out-of-state hunting license deductible?

A — No, hunting licenses are not deductible.

Q — On a job overseas will I have to pay foreign income tax and ours too?

A — It depends on where you work and the circumstances of your employment. The U. S. has agreements with many countries to ease the problem of double taxation. A U. S. citizen may also, in many cases, be able to take a credit or a deduction on his U. S. income tax return for the foreign income taxes he pays.

Under certain conditions all or part of the income earned abroad may be exempt from Federal taxation. For details on this send a post card to your District Director requesting Publication 54, "Tax Guide for U. S. Citizens Abroad."

Q — We purchased tickets to a football game sponsored by a charity group. Can we deduct the cost of the tickets as a charitable contribution?

A — A portion of the ticket price may be deductible. To determine what this might be, find out what the cost of your seats would be at a comparable football game. The difference between the regular cost and the price you paid may be taken as a charitable contribution.

To make it easier for taxpayers to deduct the proper amount in these situations, the sponsors usually will list the deductible amount right on the ticket.

Q — I'm a free lance writer and one of the magazines to which I have sold a story wants my Social Security number. Have they a right to ask for it?

A — Yes, payments to self-employed persons need to be identified by the Social Security number of the recipient when they amount to $600 or more. These are reported to IRS on Form 1099 just as a bank reports interest payments to us.

WHAT DINNER, SIR?

THE POLITICAL CLUB--

WHY, THAT SOUNDS VERY INTERESTING, SIR--

OH, YOU'RE GOING OUT TOO, JAMES--

YES, SIR-- TONIGHT IS THE COOKS AND BUTLERS' ANNUAL BALL--

SAY, THAT SOUNDS LIKE A BALL THAT'LL BE A BALL!

I'D RATHER BE GOING WHERE YOU'RE GOING, SIR--

YOU WOULD?! SAY, MAYBE WE COULD MAKE A DEAL--

VERY WELL, SIR--

HERE'S MY TICKET, JAMES! NOT A WORD ABOUT THIS TO MRS. JIGGS--

MUM'S THE WORD, SIR--

IN RESPONSE TO DEMAND, THE POLITICAL CLUB MADE A LAST-MINUTE DECISION TO ADMIT WIVES TO ITS DINNER--
