Planning Begins For Little Theater

First steps toward formation of a community theater in Hereford were taken by a group which began plans for presenting two one-act plays this summer after hearing Oma Link Rowley of the Amarillo Little Theatre speak Thursday evening.

She was the guest of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce Fine Arts Committee, which invited others interested in drama to a meeting at Community Center. After adjournment of the committee session, Mrs. John Gilliland presided for temporary organization of the theater group, which includes several of the committee members.

Those present will serve as a temporary board of directors, it was decided, and will meet again June 30 to further plans and to consider choice of the first plays. Mrs. John Claypool and Ross Cooley will serve on a play-reading committee to work with Mrs. Gilliland in selecting them.

Mrs. George Warner will be telephone chairman; Mrs. Floyd Coleman and Darrell Rose were named as publicity committee and John Gilliland will be historian. Other duties will be assigned as need arises, or when organization is completed.

Mrs. Rowley, one of the founders of Amarillo Little Theatre, spoke informally and answered questions, giving advice based on her experience in the 40-year history of the ALT. Margaret Collins Mills, another longtime member, actress and director in that group, was with her to add suggestions.

They stressed the many phases of theater operation, including backstage work and suggested practical solutions of varied problems.

Mrs. Rowley listed the officers and chairmen who should be appointed from board membership advising a board with enough members to represent all community interests.

Mrs. Dick Godwin, chairman of the Fine Arts Committee, introduced the visitors from Amarillo and welcomed residents who were guests of the committee.

Local Men Unhurt After Plane Crash

Four local men escaped injury Friday afternoon when the light plane they were traveling in lost power and crashed into the Missouri River near Kansas City.

William H. Patton of Hereford was pilot of the four-passenger, 280 Bellanca, which also carried Robert R. Strain of Hereford and Jim E. McCabe and Steve H. Bavousett, both of Dawn.

An airport official stated that the plane was approaching the field for a landing when it apparently lost power and slammed into the river about 2,000 feet short of the main runway. The plane submerged, but not before the men could get to safety.

The men reportedly walked on to the airport and then continued their trip. It was not definite as to the men's final destination, but they had been en route to Kansas City from Dallas at the time of the accident.

Patton, who is affiliated with Hereford Aero Inc. here, was expected back in Hereford Saturday afternoon as a pilot from the local airport had taken Patton's plane to pick him up.

The plane crash occurred about 3 p. m. Friday. The men had left Hereford early in the day.

Richard Rickman Is In Vietnam

VIETNAM — Marine Lance Corporal Richard L. Rickman, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rickman Jr. of Rt. 3, Austin Road, Hereford, is serving with the First Tank Battalion, First Marine Division in Vietnam.

As a member of the Battalion he helps support units of the division, he helped cut roads through the dense Vietnamese jungle to provide support to the infantry units.

His unit is also engaged in a civic action program designed to assist the Vietnamese people in completing self-help projects, such as the building of wells, culverts, small bridges and schools. Equipment and materials are made available through the Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Fund.

Furniture Store Is Burglarized

Approximately $205 in cash and $292 in checks was reportedly taken in a burglary during the night Friday at Vernon's Furniture Store, West Highway 60.

James Edmonson reported to Hereford police Saturday morning that someone had broken the front door glass and entered the store. Inside, money was taken from the cash drawer. A piece of steel rod apparently used to break in the door was found.

Police officers, who are continuing to investigate, said their change was left in the store.

Young Girl Killed In Wreck At Tulia

Mary Acala, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Acala of Hereford, will be buried today in Rose Hill Cemetery at Tulia following services conducted by Rev. Raul Salazar at the Methodist Mission there at 4 p. m.

Rev. Acala is pastor of the St. Paul Methodist Church at 223 Kibbe here. His daughter was born in Clinton, Oklahoma, on October 10, 1959.

Mary, only eight years old, was fatally injured about 1 p. m. Friday when a car in which she was a passenger was in collision with a semi-trailer truck. The accident happened approximately 5 miles south of Tulia on Highway 87.

Reports indicate that she was pinned in the wreckage. She died about 1:25 p. m. in Swisher County Memorial Hospital.

Mary was a passenger in the car, reportedly driven by her grandfather, Jesus (Jesse) Delgado, 54, of Tulia. Also in the car were his 19 and 16-year-old daughters, and Mary's 5-year-old sister, Debbie. Delgado was released after treatment at the hospital, but the other passengers were retained for further treatment.

The truck was driven by a 43-year-old man of Lubbock. He was not injured.

The truck driver reportedly told investigating officers that he pulled out to pass the Delgado auto and as he did, it turned left in front of him. His truck struck the rear of the auto. Both vehicles were southbound on the highway, heading in the direction of Lubbock.

Survivors other than her parents and sister Debbie Ann are another sister, Edna, and a brother, Fidel.

Funeral arrangements were made through the Wallace Funeral Home of Tulia.

Those attending were Jerry Sublet, Martha Ann McBride, Teresa McAndrews, Mary Kay Wagner, Donna Olson, Joette Hanna and Cheryl Cole.

Others attending were Gary Goheen, Rodney Brooks, Mickey Ginn, Jimmy Christie, Bill Cole, and Tommy Bezner.

Savings Bonds Sales Continue

Sales of United States Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares during the month of April amounting to $4,434 in Deaf Smith County were reported today by Wheeler Sears, Chairman of the Deaf Smith County Savings Bonds Committee. Thirty-one per cent of the County's 1968 goal of $120,000 has been achieved.

Total purchases of E and H Bonds and Freedom Shares in Texas during April were $16,729,456 which is an increase of 21 per cent over sales during the same period of 1967. Year-to-date sales were $62,708,055 — 11 per cent higher than a year ago.

It was announced that rates are now 5 per cent on Freedom Shares and 4.25 per cent on Savings Bonds. Series E and H bond interest has been raised from 4.15 per cent to the 4.25 per cent when held to maturity. The added interest will be paid as a bonus at maturity.

Outstanding E and H bonds will return comparably higher yields for the remaining time to next maturity.

It also is possible now to buy the Bond-Freedom Share combination at banks, savings and loan associations or other issuing agencies any time. No monthly commitment required.

Local People Voice Strong Opinions On Nation's Violence Outbreaks!

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, 42, died early Thursday morning from gunshot wounds he had received the day before in Los Angeles, California.

The man accused of the shooting was captured on the spot. He was identified as Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian who had lived in California for the past 11 years.

President John F. Kennedy, 46, was shot to death on November 22, 1963, from gunshot wounds he had received less than 30 minutes earlier at Dallas.

Dallas police claimed that the evidence in the assassination against Lee Harvey Oswald, 25, was overwhelming.

In Chicago, eight student nurses were murdered in their apartment on July 14, 1966. Identified by fingerprints and a tattoo after he was hospitalized in an apparent suicide attempt, Richard Speck, 34, from Dallas, was charged with the multiple slayings and later convicted.

In Austin, Charles Whitman, also 24, hauled an arsenal of guns to the top of the University of Texas Tower on August 1, 1966. From his secluded perch, he terrorized the campus with gunfire for 90 minutes. Before he was shot by stalking police, Whitman killed 14 people and wounded 31. It is also believed that he had murdered his wife and mother earlier.

Also included could have been James Earl Ray, the accused assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., in Memphis, Tennessee, on April 4, but various representatives of Hereford's "society" were interviewed in regard to the crimes listed above.

(Ray is reported to have been apprehended by Scotland Yard in London Saturday morning, during the funeral of Sen. Kennedy in New York. Ray was reportedly traced through a false passport from identification by the Canadian Royal Mounted Police, who had studied a picture of Ray and compared it to one under another name in their passport files there.)

Six Hereford people, including a 25-year-old and a 20-year-old were interviewed on the following issue:

"With all the talk about juvenile delinquency in our time, the four most spectacular crimes in the history of the world have been committed by men in the 24-35 age bracket (Oswald, Whitman, Speck and Sirhan) between 1963-1968. No longer juveniles under the law, all were born during the World War II era.

"Do you think our society has failed this age bracket? If so, where?"

"Otherwise, what is your opinion?" Francis Hardwick, operator of the local Star, Texas and Tower Drive-In theatres, said, "When these kids were raised, growing up — these and the other sinners — the school authorities and the parents were all emphasizing the child's needs of self-expression. They encouraged self-expression. But in doing so, they overlooked the need to guide that self-expression."

"The two older generations — which includes the senior citizens and the present-day parents of teenagers — have not made the adjustment in the changing attitudes and have left the impression with the younger generation that they

(the older people) are right — and the younger generation has rebelled against all authority."

Hardwick continued, "The older generation has not accepted the fact that due to the advancement in education, reading materials, etc., that the younger generation is smarter. The only advantage that the two older generations have is the experience of realizing the results of a person's reactions."

"The four people mentioned here are extremes. Their desire was to be 'someone' — or express themselves. This is the primary cause of their actions."

"To overcome the present rebellious condition, the older people are going to have to learn to control the energy of youth instead of condoning it."

Hardwick added, "I feel like our religion as a whole has too many do's and too many don't's, instead of in-spite-of's. We are trying to buy our Christianity with money instead of See LOCAL, Page 2

90 Youths Are In YES

Approximately 90 boys and girls had registered for YES Youth Employment Service at the Texas Employment Commission by Friday for some type of work this summer. A total of 18 or 12 have been placed.

A few of the applicants have been placed in farming, some with the federal agency jobs, a few with pipe line companies, meat packing plants, and other such jobs. The coming week should bring in many more registrations and Lester Rape, TEC manager, is hoping that it will also bring in more job positions for these students.

One of the main problems that the commission is facing is the limited positions for girls. People should call in for girls to work at babysitting, housework, and office jobs. Most of the job positions already in have been for boys.

Around 300 students registered last summer for jobs and the agency is expecting about as many to register this year.

Age seems to play a major role in the obtaining of jobs for students. So many of the jobs require students 18 years of age and a lot of the registrants have been between the ages of 14 and 16. Federal Child Labor Laws forbid anyone under 18 years of age to work at certain jobs, such as one that would be dangerous.

Quite a few of the boys have been placed at the packing plant in Friona and various other places around town. However, there are some who have been in college that would like to work at something that will tie in with their major. "It's hard to find jobs in Hereford. A few of the students will hold out and look further if they can't find one right away."

Persons with a job for YES are urged to call 364-2776 or go by the TEC office at Seventh and 25 Mile Avenue.

But Hardwick pointed out that there are teenaged boys, and boys 9 or 10 years old, who have been early this year in asking for jobs in his theatres—some just for passes.

Fred J. Howard, Vicar at St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, stated, "The answer to the first question is definitely yes! I think definitely we have failed this age bracket and the generation that has followed them."

He explained, "I think we have failed them in our public education, in mass communication, and in the examples of life that we give them both private and public. I think we have failed them this way: We have not passed on to them a sense of values, primarily centering upon the acceptance of self and the acceptance of others."

"To break this down," Rev. Howard continued, "we are talking about violence as an outgrowth of hostility and hatred. And until such time as we as human beings learn that there are ways of solving differences without resorting to violence—and teach this to our children—then we will continue to have senseless assassinations and mass murders and violence of all sorts."

Rev. Howard was also plain in pointing out that the Church (as a whole) and the news media were equally to blame for present-day conditions. "The Church and the news media have tried to please too many people, with a fear that they were going to hurt somebody's feelings (by going in-depth with the facts). The history of the church shows that it goes bumping along behind the people. That is not right. The Church should be the leader!"

Mrs. Lorene Newman, the librarian at the county library, said, "I haven't really given it much thought. But I don't think society has failed. I think the Supreme Court is where our trouble is."

Mrs. Newman explained fully: "Our young people can't have any respect for the law when they are set-up the way they are. But I don't think society as a whole has failed."

She had said she hadn't read much about Whitman, Speck and Sirhan but she had about Oswald. "I think Oswald was an unstable person—and society cannot be blamed for that."

Sheriff Ed Roberson looked at the issue from the standpoint of his office—and perhaps from the standpoint of being a parent too.

"I know that the families lose contact with the kids younger than this (24 and 25)—from 15 to 18 or 19. The family and society as a whole lose contact."

"Some of the kids get into trouble," the sheriff said, "some don't. But if you help them during this period—help them to grow up—it is a great help."

Sheriff Roberson explained that he has had experiences in law enforcement with the younger age brackets since 1959. "Some of our local kids have been involved in stuff, but I believe if you keep a strong hand you can help them miss a lot of trouble."

The sheriff pointed out, "We try to keep them all (the law-breakers) from having a record because of their future, going into the armed services, and a lot of other important things. We go out of our way when it would be easier to go ahead and file charges on them. But that doesn't completely solve the problem."

Roberson told how the local sheriff's office has arranged such help in youthful cases here, with the sincere hope that future "bad record" will not come about.

On Wednesday afternoon prior to the death of Sen. Kennedy, a 25-year-old Hereford male came forth with the following statement, which included an interesting question: "A newsman with the Mutual radio network was tape-recording an interview with Bobbie Kennedy when he was shot and they are going to use it on radio stations all over the country. I wonder how much money that reporter will get paid for that tape?"

The thought arose, are all young people that mercenary? Richard Robinson, the Vocational Agriculture teacher at Hereford High School and Stanton Junior High, said, simply: "My opinion is that society itself hasn't failed, but that the problem lies in the home. Parents, I feel, are partially to blame for this." Robinson is 25.

Mike Harvey, a resident of Hereford, had this to say: "I don't think that we have failed them, because it seems there's always been an element of violence in our society in the United States, and you can't blame the society as a whole. This violence is something that has always been with us and always will be with us in our nation, which is not a police state. It's something that has to be dealt with if we are to remain a democracy."

This reporter has also been reminded of stricter gun control laws, other laws with stronger teeth in them to punish the offender, that the people themselves are too lax as jurors in passing sentence on the guilty, and that the law enforcement officer's hands are tied by new laws.

However, a set of laws long in force were also brought to this questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 209 W. 9th Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your reporter's attention:

"Let brotherly love continue. Be not forgetful to entertain strangers for thereby some have entertained angels unawares. Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them; and them which suffer adversity, as being yourselves also in the body. Marriage is honorable in all, and the bed undefiled; but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge. Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as you have; for He has said, 'I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee.' So that we may boldly say, 'The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me.' Remember them which have the rule over you, who have spoken unto you the word of God; whose faith follow, considering the end of their conversation. Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and forever."

These laws were enacted nearly 2000 years ago. It is suggested that we look at them closely. It is very possible that they still fit the needs of today.

Rites Still Pending For War Casualty

The final arrangements for Corporal Tom Galvez, killed in action in Vietnam on May 27, were still pending here late Saturday. His mother, Mrs. Lillie Galvez of 141 Bennett, Hereford, reported that no word has been received as yet as to the arrival of her son's body.

Rites are pending with Claiborne Funeral Home of Friona. Cpl. Galvez, 22, became the third local casualty to the war in Vietnam and the second listed for the month of May. PFC Arthur C. Tijerina was killed in action on May 10. The first casualty, Lt. James E. Pavlicek, died on November 3, 1967.

Galvez was reported by the Secretary of the Army to have been killed "as the result of wounds received while in defensive position when hit by fragments from hostile rocket round."

Galvez had attended St. Anthony's School here until he reached the sixth grade. The family had then moved to Arizona, where he graduated from Casa Grande High School at Casa Grande, Ariz., in 1965. He entered the Army shortly thereafter.

He had volunteered for Vietnam duty twice before being sent there. His promotion to corporal came less than two weeks before his death.

Survivors other than his mother are his father, Manuel Galvez of Vernon; brothers, Manuel, Jr., Casa Grande, Ariz., and John of 141 Bennett, Hereford; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gonzales, 141 Bennett; and aunts, Mrs. Rufus de los Santos, 117 Kibbe; Mrs. Jessie Casanada, 121 Kibbe; Mrs. Joe Noe Castro, Casa Grande; Mrs. Pete Vargas, 625 Stanton; Mrs. Kenneth Lineweaver, Blytheville Arkansas; and Mrs. Robert Hernandez, Jr. of Hereford. Galvez was born at Vernon.

Concerning Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q — I have a National Service Life Insurance policy that has been in force as an Ordinary Life Plan since 1945. My children are now grown and I am thinking about discontinuing the payment of premiums and taking a paid-up policy. If I do, will my dividends be discontinued?

A — No, but they will not be as large as on your existing policy. If you take a paid-up policy, the amount of insurance in force will be less than the present face value of your policy. The dividends will be computed on this reduced insurance coverage.

Q — I recently completed three years service in the Army. If I go back to school under the G. I. Bill, will I be permitted to work and still be eligible for the educational assistance allowance from the Veterans Administration?

A — Yes. The amount of G. I. Bill educational assistance allowance paid by VA is determined only by the amount of schooling or training a veteran receives (full time courses, half-time, quarter-time) and his number of dependents. Whether he works or has other income has no effect on this allowance. Of course, the veteran's school schedule, that is whether he can carry full-time courses, may be affected by an outside job.

Q — My daughter is receiving a monthly pension of $40 from the Veterans Administration because of the death of her father, a World War II veteran. She is a student in college. She plans to work this summer and her earnings, plus her Social Security, will exceed $1,800. Will this bar her from receiving the VA pension?

A — No. In the case of a child receiving a pension, earned income is not considered for income limitation purposes. Since her income, less her earned income, will be under $1,800, her pension will not be affected.

Up to $250 for burial expenses for eligible deceased veterans will be paid by the Veterans Administration if the claim is filed within two years after the veteran's burial or cremation, according to Jack Coker, Manager of the VA Regional Office in Waco, Texas.

Burial claims may be filed by the undertaker, if he has not been paid, or by the party who paid the undertaker, the VA spokesman explained.

Coker said the VA would reimburse up to $250 in expenses for the permanent burial or cremation of any veteran who was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable, if the veteran served during wartime or after August 4, 1964.

Coker pointed out that similar burial expenses are also paid by VA for veterans of peacetime service who were receiving service-connected disability compensation at the time of their death, or who had been released from service for disabilities incurred in line of duty.

(Burial expenses for servicemen who died on active duty are borne by the military, not the VA.)

Almost every deceased veteran is eligible for an American flag for his casket, Coker said. Flags are furnished undertakers, on request, by any VA office or post office.

Following the veteran's burial the flag may be given to the next of kin, or, if there is no next of kin, to the closest friend of the deceased veteran.

Further information may be obtained at any VA office.

Wilson Buys Illinois Plant

CHICAGO, ILL.—Wilson & Co., Inc., has agreed to purchase the Monmouth, Illinois plant of the Agar Packing Company, it was disclosed today in a joint announcement by Roy V. Edwards, president of Wilson & Co. and Fred W. Trenkle, president of Agar Packing Company. Mr. Trenkle stated the sale was an alternative to closing the plant which had not been a successful operation for Agar.

The plant, which was placed in operation in April 1966, houses a hog abattoir and pork-cutting operations, and employs about 300 persons. It is located on 29 acres of land in a heavy hog producing area in Western Illinois.

It is expected that Wilson & Co. will take over the operation of the plant in the near future. Production will be continued without interruption and employees will be continued in their jobs as part of the Wilson & Co. organization.

ALL-AROUND CHAMPION — Big Roll, being ridden by Wayne Brown of Amarillo, is the three-year old gelding which walked away with the all-around champion honors at the Vega Horse Show last Friday. Astros Slip Past Sonics In Extra Inning Contest

The Hereford Astros, one of the two local Colt League baseball teams, took the lead in the league by defeating the other hometown team of the Sonics by a score of 11-4.

A run-away though the score may seem, the game was everything but that as the two teams found themselves going into extra innings at the end of regulation play of seven innings.

No scores were made by either team in the initial frame, and the Sonics pitching starter

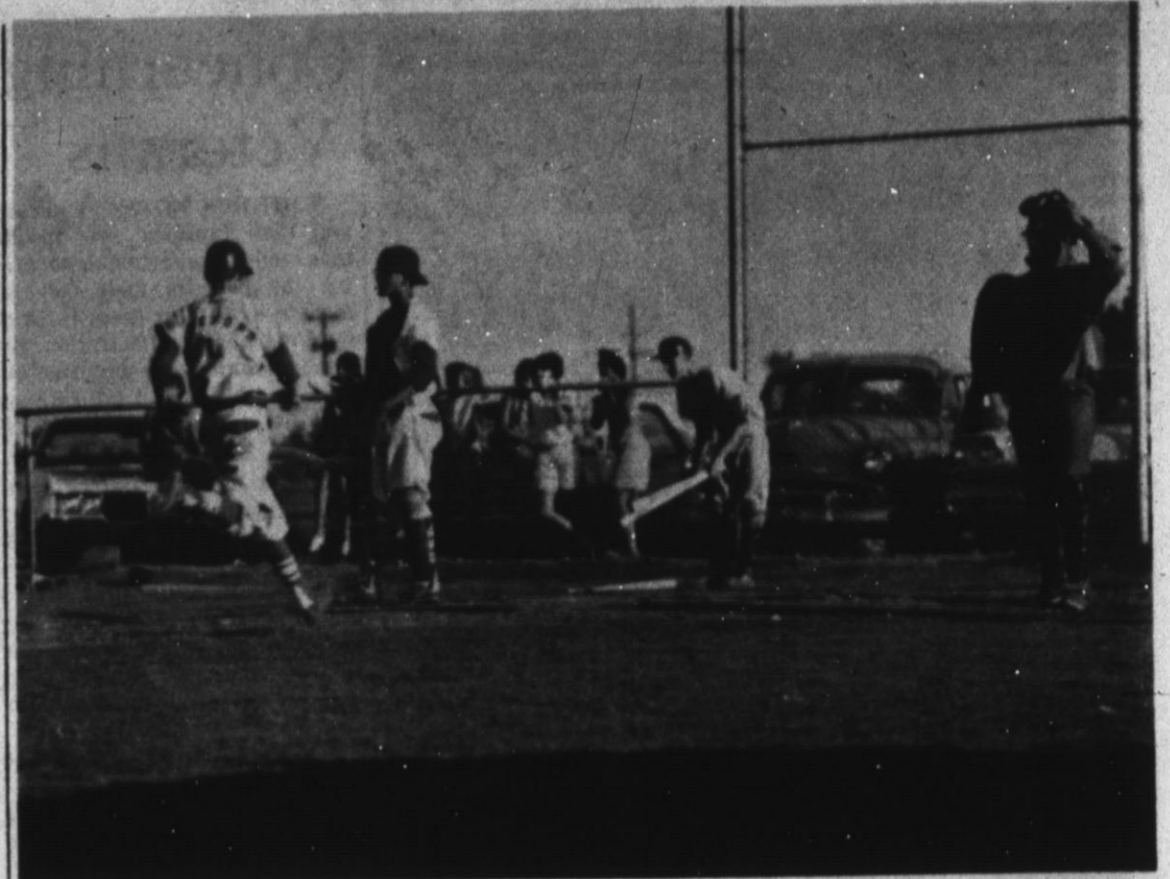

Gary Lemons held the Astros in the top of the second before he and his team mates sent two men scampering across home plate on a pair of doubles by John Page and Tommy Stoy. Lemons then went on to hold the Astros scoreless for the next two frames as his team added another run via a circuit smash by Donny McKerritt in the bottom of the third.

Neither team managed a tally in the fourth, but the Astros came back to put hope back into the game for them as they narrowed the opposition's lead to one run on a series of plays highlighted by a double by Bill McQueary. Both teams failed to score in their next time at bat.

The Sonics pushed another run across the fourth base in the bottom of the sixth to almost close the game up by a score of 4-2. But, as things went the Astros had other things to say about the situation as they came back in the top of the seventh frame and pushed the tying and go-ahead runs across to all but wrap up the contest.

Going into the first and last extra frame, Keith Anderson took over pitching duties for the Sonics because of the seven-inning rule on pitchers in the league. Anderson was immediately tagged for four base-on-balls and four singles to give the Astros six big runs in the inning. This ended the game with the exception of one last run by the Sonics in their last at bat as Anderson retaliated by stepping up and slashing one across the fence for a 1-6 finish for the Astros.

GO-AHEAD RUN — One of the Astro players is shown crossing home plate the first go-ahead run. The Astros won the game with a six-run outburst in the top of the eighth frame.

Hereford To Hold Wildlife Hearing

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will begin holding public hearings in some 213 counties throughout the State and these hearings will include Deaf Smith County.

The public hearing for the local area will be held Monday at the County Courthouse in Hereford with meeting to begin at 10 a.m.

Shoot Is Set For Gun Club

The third round of the Hereford Gun Club league team shoot will be held today at the local range near the Hereford Airport. It was announced by M. C. Knox, secretary of the organization.

So that the matches can be conducted in an orderly fashion, teams are urged to be at the range as early as they can. Practice shooting will be held from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. when the league shoot gets under way. Persons who would like to get in a few rounds before the league shoot starts are urged to be there at 1 p.m. to do so.

A practice round of 10 birds will be given with the price of 50 cents set for these targets. Teams will shoot at 50 targets each with 25 of these being shot at from the 16-yard line and the remaining 25 from the shooters handicap.

All interested persons are invited to be on hand for the shoot.

Other area counties which will hold their meetings will include Castro, June 10 at 8 p.m. in the Courthouse in Dimmitt; Oldham, June 10 at 2 p.m. in the County Courthouse in Vega; and Farmer, June 11 at 10 a.m. in the Courthouse in Farwell.

Sportsmen, landowners, and other interested persons are urged to be at the meetings as Department personnel will present the recommended seasons and bag limits for species under regulation of the Department. Hearings will deal mainly with the proposed change of closing the alligator season in counties where the season has not already been terminated.

Only in counties where the Department has been delegated the authority by the Legislature, will the hearings be held and these will deal with questions concerning the proposed season bag limits and means and methods of taking wildlife species. Department biologists and game management officers will be on hand at the meetings to answer questions pertaining to these subjects.

It was also pointed out that these changes will not become effective until they are approved by the Parks and Wildlife Commission which is scheduled to meet prior to the openings of the seasons this year.

Friena Clubs Rebs For Second Place

The Hereford Rebels were knocked from their perch Thursday night in the Irrigation League baseball standings as they fell at the hands of the Friena team to the tune of 3-1.

Two big runs in the bottom of the initial frame were all the Friena team needed as these were collected on a walk, a single, and an error. The big guns of both teams were quiet as the game then turned into a pitching duel with the Friena pitcher sending 13 Rebel batters down swinging and the combined pitching of Mike Ranspot and Lupe Ramirez striking 11 opposing players out.

The lone run for the Rebs came in the top of the second as Ray Martinez connected for a single then came around the bags to score on another single by Robby Lemons.

Friena came back to reimburse the run they had lost in the top of the second to add the single then came around the bases via a circuit smash. Collecting hits for the Rebels were Gary Tucker, who had the big day as he went two-for-four,

Terry Hill, with one single, and the singles by Martinez and Lemons.

Herd Lines

By Marshall Day

Just to drop away from the local scene and let you people know what it is like down at the HemisFair sportswise, got a little information as to what to expect if you have a touch of that sporting fever.

In a large showcase in the United States Pavilion exhibit, such notable things pertaining to every sport known can be found and these include shoes, bats, drivers, and things that make a person look back over the past century at the ever-changing world of sports. In addition to the world-famous athletes, the San Antonio World's Fair also has a $10 million Institute of Texan Culture which contains quite a display of medals, awards and equipment from the Texas world of sports.

Sticking to the Texas world, a visitor will be able to find in the exhibit the World's Welterweight Championship Belt won by Curtis Cokes of Dallas along with the Most Valuable Players Award won by Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs in 1959. The Rookie of the Year award which was presented to Lucious Jackson of the Philadelphia 76ers in 1964-65 is also at the exhibit, as are the all-star football awards to Dick (Night Train) Lane and Art Powell, the American Football League Players of the Year award won by Abner Haynes and Charley Taylor's trophy for topping the National Football League in pass receptions in 1966. All of these and many more awards, medals and equipment representing Texas and it's athletes in action are featured at the fair.

While Texas is probably uppermost on your mind, you may like to shy away from this when you see the other momentoes in the showcase of intriguing sports memory makers on display in the United States Pavilion exhibit.

Among these are the track shoes worn by Jim Ryun when he set two world records on the cinders, Ty Cobb's bat which he set numerous records with, the boxing gloves which made Joe Louis famous, and the Olympic Gold Medal won by Andrea Mead Lawrence in the Slalom events in Norway in 1952. If you take the time to investigate the pavilion further, you will find things such as the driver which Arnold Palmer used to win the 1964 Masters Golf championship, the helmet worn by Knute Rockne during his playing days with Notre Dame and the Massillon Tigers from 1911 to 1919, Willie Mays' baseball glove, the tennis racket used by Joseph S. Clark in 1885 when he won the National Doubles championship, and the helmet of Sam Huff which sports an impressive dent in it.

So if the sporting fever hits you at the right time while you are in San Antonio, go over and if you can remember back that long on some of the momentoes, stop and see what has happened since your childhood. If you happen to be a little young for some of the exhibits, ask one of those old-timers standing around and I am sure he will be more than glad to let you know all about the exhibit.

Get this little tid-bit from the Tombstone (Ariz.) Epitaph and thought it might interest some of you coaches, players, and fans who might find yourselves in the same position sometime during the diamond season.

Mrs. Jones, wife of a baseball pitcher and mother of five, left her husband instructions on how to diaper the baby. She laid out the diaper in the form of a baseball diamond.

"You take the batter's position at the low end of the cloth, then bring center field down to home plate. Put the baby in the pitcher's box. Bring first base, third base and home plate together and you're in.

P. S. If you get rained out, start all over again.

Crim Hurls Second No-Hitter Of Year

The Angels beat the Giants 13-7 Friday night to throw the Major League into a three-way tie between the Angels, Cubs and Giants for action during the week of June 3-7.

Highlighting the week's play was the second no-hitter tossed by Mike Crim as he registered this feat by striking out 12 Yankees. He came within one run of throwing a shut-out as the score ended in favor of his team 16-1.

Other games for the week included: Angels 13, Braves 8; Giants 11, Cardinals 4; Cubs 1; Dodgers 4 (in eight innings); Colts 18, Cardinals 7; Colts 5, Dodgers 3; and Yankees 24, Braves 5.

Team standings to date are: Angels 6 wins 2 losses; Cubs, 6 wins 2 losses; Giants 6 wins 2 losses; Colts 5 wins 3 losses; Yankees 5 wins 3 losses; Dodgers 3 wins 5 losses; Cardinals 0 wins 7 losses; and Braves 0 wins 7 losses. The cellar-dwelling Braves are 5 1/2 games out of first as are the Cardinals, while the Dodgers are 3 out and the Colts and Yankees are 1 out.

The top ten hitters for the league with 20 or more times at bat are: Bogard, Braves, .714; Martin, Giants, .650; Alaniz, Dodgers, .643; High, Angels, .600; Martinez, Dodgers, .591; Gonzales, Giants, .571; McQueary, Colts, .565; Seyfert, Angels, .524; Peacock, Dodgers, .524; and Massey, Giants, .520.

Leading the league in home-runs are High, Angels; McQueary, Colts; Priddy, Colts; Allen, Giants; Shipley, Angels; and Crim, Cubs, all with one each. In the triple department, McQueary, Colts and Peacock, Dodgers lead with two each. While in the doubles category, Gussman of the Yankees has 6 to lead and is followed closely by Shipley of the Angels with 5.

Games on tap for the coming week include the Braves and Giants on the north field on Monday, June 10, and the Dodgers and Yankees on the south field on the same day. On Tuesday, June 11, the Angels and Colts will see action on the north field and the Cubs and Cardinals will play on the south field. Thursday, the Cardinals and the Dodgers will meet on the north field and the Giants and Yankees will play on the south field. Ending the weeks activities will be the contests between the Cubs and Angels on the north field and the Braves battling the Colts on the south field on Friday, June 14.

Softball Women Schedule Meeting

Once again, as in past years, the local women have gotten it into their heads that they can compete in the sport of diamonding just as well as their male companions, and they have scheduled a meeting for June 11 at 8 p.m. at Dameron Park.

All interested women are urged to be present as officers will be elected and teams may be chosen to make up the summer softball league. If anyone is unable to attend the meeting, they are asked to phone either 364-1689 or 364-2418.

TEED OFF — Bill Defoe, coach at Hereford High School, was a member of the first foursome to tee off at the local green in the Open Partnership which began Saturday. Play is to continue through today.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — A gregarious international con man who rose to great riches and died in poverty is due much of the credit for opening Texas to Anglo-American settlement.

His real name was Philip Hendrick Nering Bogel, a Dutchman who had been forced to leave his homeland to escape an embezzlement charge. Texas history remembers him, however, as Felipe Enrique Neri — the Baron de Bastrop.

In 1795, the phony baron turned up in Spanish Louisiana and conned officials into giving him 850,000 acres of Ouachita Valley land for settlement. While in Kentucky rounding up potential colonists, he met Moses Austin and induced him to migrate to Louisiana, too.

The Baron later had his colonization plan cancelled by the Spanish and moved on to San Antonio de Bexar. There, in 1820, he again met Moses Austin and helped the latter get the grant that was to lead to the colonization of Texas by Austin's son, Stephen.

The Baron de Bastrop was never able to recoup his fortunes, however. He eked out a living as land commissioner for Austin's first colony and as a member of the Coahuila-Texas Legislature. He died in 1827, and his fellow legislators had to raise a purse to bury him at the capital, Saltillo.

FRONTIER PHARMACOPEIA — To cure a nosebleed, the sufferer simply held up the hand that corresponded with the side of the nose that was bleeding.

SAVE THAT GARBAGE — Texas spent a lot of time and money this spring in Sabine County poking into a rubbish heap that is 150 years old.

The search was around the old McGown house in Hemphill, an area which the waters of the Toledo Bend Reservoir on the Sabine River will cover. Searchers wanted the garbage to preserve in museums.

It seems that the early occupants of the McGown house were strong in cleanliness. They buried most of their household refuse in deep pits, and they included such discards as pottery, bottles, jugs and even farm tools. These items now have become valuable to history buffs.

TEXAS FIRST — San Pedro Park in San Antonio was the second municipal recreation area established in the United States.

Boston had the first city park which it gained by setting aside the municipal, or "common" cow pasture for recreational purposes. Not another was established, however, until 1852 when F. Giraud, a pioneer architect, surveyed the Alamo City. He persuaded the city fathers to set aside a plot of land around San Pedro Springs as a park for the citizens.

DRIVERS' BOOK — In the early days of motoring in Texas, each county clerk kept a careful record of every driver and his automobile.

The law required each driver to appear annually at the county clerk's office, write his name in a registration book kept for the purpose and receive a number assigned by the county. The cost only 50 cents a year!

Boy Known Here Is Compiling An Envious Record

Michael Engler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Engler of Wyola, Montana and formerly of Hereford, has been elected a class alderman in the Student Council at the Abbey School, Canon City, Colorado.

Engler will represent his class in the school's student government program as well as serving as a class officer. In addition to council activities, Engler has been active in extra-class scientific research projects, having been selected as a delegate to the Colorado-Wyoming Jr. Academy of Science in April.

He served as a member of the junior class prom committee and was also recently elected vice coordinator of the school's Voice of Youth program. Engler, school officials report, maintains the highest scholastic average in his class and is a member of the Golden Key and National Honor Societies.

He will be entering his fourth year at the Benedictine Institution conducted by the monks of Holy Cross Abbey.

Thomas Lesly Given Award

LEXINGTON, Mo. — Cadet Thomas L. Lesly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lesly, Route 4, Hereford, was among the award winners at the awards ceremonies held here at Wentworth Military Academy in connection with the 88th annual Commem-

REFRESHMENTS TIME — Children who have been attending Vacation Bible School at the Central Church of Christ, Plain and Sunset Drive, during the past week certainly enjoy a portion of the activities, that being the recreation time. Some 300 young people attended the school, which began Monday and ended Friday.

The report showed, Godwin continued, that it is definitely feasible to build a canal all the way from there to this area and transport 7 1/2 million acre feet of water annually.

Costs of importing water could probably not be paid for completely by irrigation, so farmers will be asking for long-term loans. The costs probably will be more than the farmer alone could afford to pay so other ways are being figured to help in paying expenses. These aids include navigation along the canal and supplying electrical power to cities along the route.

Non-farming benefits will benefit from the water also, stressed Godwin, since the water will boost the income to the farmers. He explained that the federal government has never approved money for such a project unless all the people in the area help pay for it.

Another report on the project is to be made July 15, Godwin said.

Water Importation Report Is Given

R. C. "Dick" Godwin of Hereford, a director of Water, Inc. and president of the Deaf Smith County Water Association, brought members of the Hereford Lions Club up to date Wednesday on latest developments to get water to this area.

Godwin spoke mainly on three reports, two of them which have recently been issued and the third which will be soon. The first report was given from the economic standpoint and concluded that "the national and world situation is such that there will be a food shortage in the world in the future, and that this area is one of the major areas of production."

It also concluded said Godwin, that this area will be able to sell all it can produce in the future. The economic report will be used in efforts to get legislation passed for getting water here.

The second report, released last month by the Bureau of Reclamation, was a completion of the preliminary study toward getting water transported here. The latest report shows that the Bureau of Reclamation feels it has found the source of surplus water, that being the lower Mississippi River. All other water plans have been eliminated and can only be revived through further legislation.

The plan for taking water from the Mississippi shows a preference to Louisiana as the spot for removing the water. A point below New Orleans is being given a long look, Godwin reported.

CHEVY PICKUPS HAVE MORE INNER STRENGTH!

In fact, only Chevrolet gives you all these tough truck components and features!

- ROAD-BALANCED RIDE — Husky coil springs at all four wheels soak up bumps, assure a smooth ride for people and cargo. Standard on 1/2-ton and 3/4-ton models, all-round coil springs team perfectly with Chevy's famed independent front suspension.
- LADDER-TYPE FRAME — The same type used on the biggest Chevy haulers. Heavy-gauge channel side rails are riveted to alligator jaw crossmembers. The result is an extra-strong chassis foundation that withstands tough usage.
- DOUBLE-WALL CARGO BOX — Fleetside pickups have double-wall side panels and tailgate to protect exterior sheet metal from damage caused by shifting loads. You wind up with a pickup that stays new looking longer.
- DURABLE CAB CONSTRUCTION — Added strength comes from double-wall construction in roof, cowl, door pillars and sills. Special insulation keeps out heat, cold and noise.
- FRONT FENDER LINERS — Major deterrent to rust and corrosion. Smooth contoured design prevents mud build-up. Guards exterior sheet metal from corrosive road splash.
- EXTRA WORKPOWER — Six hefty engines provide a wide range of power choices. Two Sixes and four V8's are available. All run on regular gasoline for exceptional operating economy.

Widows May Get Social Security Benefits As Early As Age 50

Many widows may now be able to get social security benefits as early as age 50, according to Travis C. Briggs of Amarillo social security office. A recent change in the law allows widows, 50 or older, who are unable to work because of a severe disability, and whose husbands worked long enough under social security, to receive reduced monthly benefits.

This new change also applies to women who were divorced from their husbands at the time of his death, but had been married to him at least 20 years and were still being supported by him when he died.

Under the new law, a widow may be considered disabled, if she has an impairment so severe that it would ordinarily prevent her from working. Vocational factors such as age, education, and previous work experience are not considered.

To be eligible, Briggs said, a widow must be at least 50 years of age and have a severe disability that started either before her husband's death or within seven years after his death. An exception is made if she received benefits as a widow with children. In this case, disability may begin at any time up to seven years after her payments as a widow ended.

The amount of the benefit depends on what her husband's retirement rate would have been had he been 65 at the time of his death, and how old the widow is when she starts getting checks. A full widow's benefit payable at age 62 is 82 1/2 per cent of her deceased husband's retirement benefit. If she starts receiving disability payments at an earlier age, her monthly benefit will be permanently reduced. Payments can start for the seventh full month of disability, but the first month for which payment can be made under the new provision is February 1968.

Briggs urges all widows who think they may be eligible to get in touch with the Amarillo social security office.

Dawn H.D. Club Plans Special July Program

A cash gift to Dawn 4-H Club was voted. A letter was read from Brenda Ward, the Girlstown USA resident whom the club has 'adopted,' thanking members for a recent gift of clothing and cash.

The program was by Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent, who spoke of the dangers of food poison and ways to avoid it by strict cleanliness, proper preservation and storage of food.

Captain Has Another Insight Into War

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Captain Adrian A. Ashley has returned from Vietnam to Hereford, where his wife, Mary Ann, and two young daughters, Dana and Julie, have been living during his overseas duty.

Mrs. Ashley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Young of 306 W. Seventh.

Capt. Ashley has been selected for promotion to Major within the next month to 45 days. He is slated to leave Monday for Indianapolis, Ind., for the Adjutant General Advance Course for officers.

He is 29 years old. "If this war continues another four or five years," he said, "there will be majors 24 years old. That is not at all beyond the realm of possibility in the Army. The Army's moving fast. My promotion is not necessarily anything that I have done. It is just that they are expanding."

Capt. Ashley had been previously awarded the Army Commendation Medal for his services at Fort Bragg, N. C., and a Bronze Star for his services in Vietnam.

In Vietnam, he lived the first three months in Saigon. From there he was moved to Long Binh for the rest of the time. He arrived on June 10, 1967, with the U. S. Army Support Command, Saigon—which did not change its name after the move. "My unit was primarily responsible for supplying everything from ice cream to artillery shells for the infantry," he said. However, he was in the administrative section, who gave administrative support to the command.

Ashley gave his opinion on the war operation there, how the men feel about the war and their own country, and the assassinations and lawlessness in America.

"Under the circumstances, I think probably things are being done well (in Vietnam). But there is a tremendous amount of waste, I think. However, that is nothing new. It will be remembered that after World War II we dumped a great amount of equipment into the ocean.

"However, this type of war—we have never been involved in anything like this before. But the local populace there have been fighting for more than 100 years and have had lots and lots of practice."

He went a bit deeper: "The one thing that makes the biggest impression on me—other than our own men losing their lives, of course—is the people there being driven out of their homes and losing their loved ones. This to me is a most unfortunate circumstance. You only have to look at T. V. to see this—their municipalities are practically crushed. But they keep on going."

In regard to the American participation in Vietnam, Ashley said, "We are there and there is no way out except an honorable peace. And if I knew the way to that, I guess I would be president." He pointed out that it was extremely complex.

"The assassinations here are very unfortunate," he said. "It upsets me to hear all of the American people being chastised for this. We have had many other crimes all through our history and the American people (en masse) haven't been blamed for them."

"The servicemen in Vietnam are very concerned about all these problems—the assassinations, the colored integration marches, the riots, the draft card burnings. They try to joke about it, but it is really on their minds." Ashley's duties in Vietnam were primarily concerned with "morale things"—such as promotions, "trying to get the right man in the right job and meet military requirements at the same time."

Asked about the morale of the fighting man there, he said, "Yes, they are very definitely patriotic. I don't know what else besides patriotism would cause them to do what they do. Perhaps the men are more intellectual now than they have been in the past—and are less demonstrative—but they are no less patriotic."

But he rephrased his reply. "The draft card burners and the draft dodgers who have gone to Canada may be patriotic in their own way. Don't misunderstand this—I am not recommending their actions. I think they are misguided. But it is possible that they are showing the type of patriotism in which they believe.

"But the card burners and the rest hurt the men who are fighting over there. I certainly think these people are no better than the men who are in Vietnam, and we do not need their type of publicity when they are needed over there.

"It makes me sick, in fact, to read about the draft card burners. If someone would rather spend five or 10 years in the Federal penitentiary, it is their own business. I am not advocating any disregard of the law and suggest that they examine themselves. But I think the newspapers and television should go deeper into the penalties involved in their stories than the just story of the card burner."

He added, wryly, "It is also strange that the 'draft card burner' can burn his card in five or six demonstrations, but when he is asked by the authorities to show his draft card he still has it."

Ashley said that the world press (all news media) has given the outside the wrong idea toward the war in Vietnam—"and it is certainly a morale factor to the men in Vietnam."

Capt. Ashley grew up in Abilene and graduated from high school there. He also graduated from Hardin-Simmons University in August 1961 and was married then.

"We went to Fort Sill, Oklahoma, after a short training period at Indianapolis. In April 1964, we moved to Heidelberg, Germany—May 1966 to Fort Bragg, and from there to Vietnam."

He said that it was awfully good to get back to the states and see his daughters. "Their mother met me in Hawaii last December, but the girls were not there. Dana was only about two months old when I left."

Mrs. Ashley was born in Hereford and graduated from high school here in 1957. She attended Hardin-Simmons in Abilene and graduated there in May 1961.

Capt. and Mrs. Ashley met as students there.

Ice Cream Is King's Dish

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

June is Dairy Month, so why not celebrate with some good homemade ice cream? Whether you use the freezing compartment of your refrigerator, an electric ice cream freezer or the hand-crank variety, ice cream of your very own making is sure to please the entire family.

Ice cream had its place in the annals of history. It was once a "state secret" reserved for exclusive use of the royal table of Charles I of England.

The King ordered his French chef to keep the recipe forever to himself and pensioned him with 500 pounds a year. When Charles was beheaded in 1649 the secret of the "frozen milk" already had been divulged.

It's an especially good time to enjoy ice cream. Milk, ice cream and other dairy products are in plentiful supply, according to USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service.

If you have an ice cream freezer, try this recipe for Homemade Vanilla Ice Cream:

- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
 - 2 cups sugar
 - 5 eggs, separated
 - 1 can evaporated milk
 - 2 cups whole milk
 - 1 pint half-and-half
 - 2 teaspoons vanilla flavoring
- Enough additional whole milk to fill freezer insert.

Beat egg yolks in mixing bowl until thick. Then mix 1/2 cups sugar and cornstarch together and add to the yolks. Continue beating mixture and add evaporated milk and 2 cups whole milk. Place in top of double boiler and cook over boiling water until mixture starts to thicken. Remove and cool. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Beat in 1/4c. sugar and fold into the cooled milk mixture. Add vanilla, half-and-half and enough milk to complete the insert. Freeze. Makes one gallon.

YOU SHOULD have seen Mrs. Tex McKnight at Ford Club. She was asked to have a short recreation, so she gave a memory test. She unpacked a suitcase and then had those present list the items.

It was hard to believe but she had 79 items in the suitcase. Mrs. John A. Smith was declared to have the best memory by remembering 42 items.

HISTORY is repeating itself. A request at the office for a bonnet pattern. I would appreciate getting it for this person who is making a garden.

Due to a skin condition, she cannot be in the sun, so she wants the bonnet for protection. I will appreciate getting some patterns to pass along and I'll keep these in the files.

A NUMBER of calls at the office in regard to getting permits to spray with 24D. After some checking, we have learned that Parmer and Lamb counties require permits and that the forms for the permits can be obtained at the Extension office at the Courthouses in those counties.

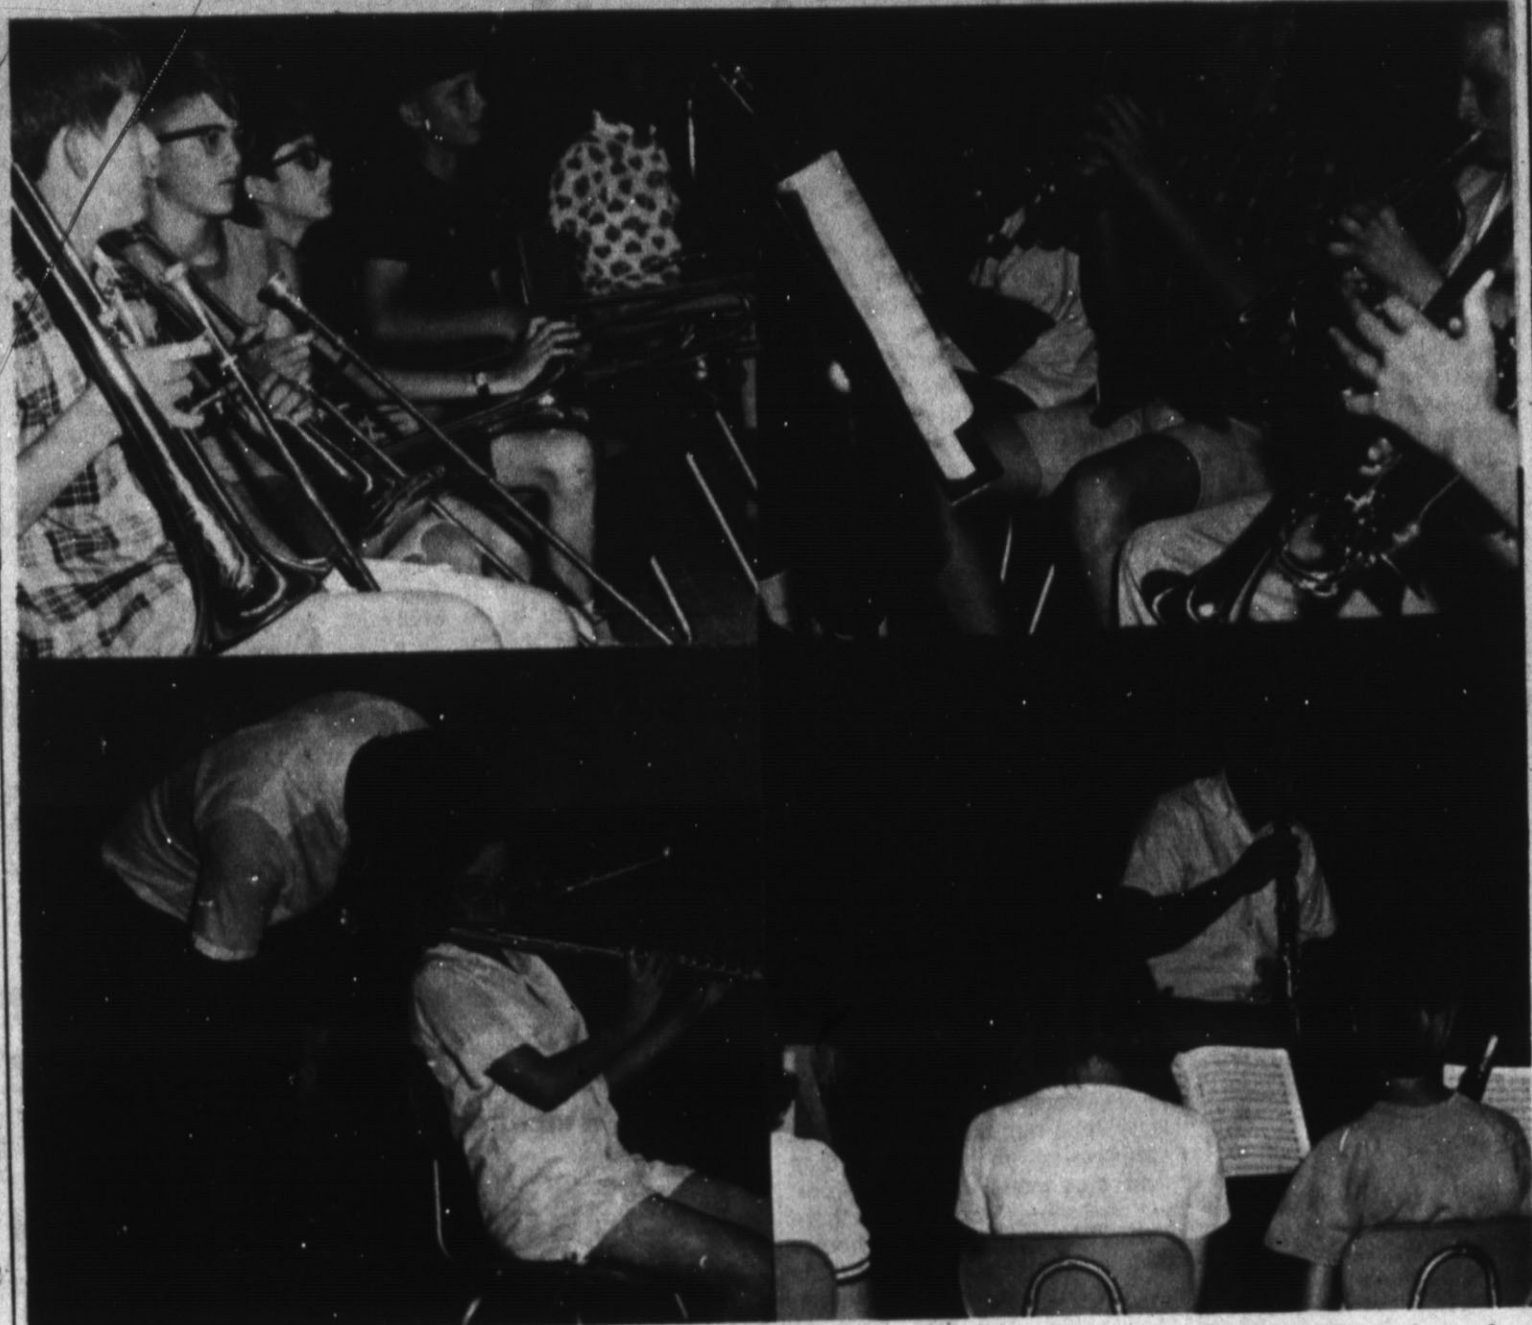

Bride-To-Be Is Honoree At Luncheon

Luncheon for a dozen friends complimented Miss Terry LeGate, bride-elect of Ricky Hutson, yesterday at the home of Mrs. Boyd Foster, northwest of Hereford. Miss LeGate's wedding date is June 30.

Garden flowers in varied colors of early summer were arranged on the two tables where guests were seated for luncheon. The hostess gift to the bride-elect was a shopping bag filled with items to use in her kitchen.

Guests in addition to the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Nolan LeGate, and sisters, Connie and Barbara; her fiancé's mother, Mrs. C. L. Hutson; Miss Carole Coffey, Mrs. B. H. Roberts, Mrs. Ronnie Andrews, Mrs. Jerry Field of Plainview, Mrs. Dale Stanley of Spade and Mrs. Preston Wilson of Littlefield.

Giant manta rays of the eastern tropical Pacific have a known wingspread of 22 feet; some reportedly grow even larger. Mantas move through water by flapping their large pectoral "wings."

THROUGH PROFESSIONAL INSTRUCTION, children and students participating in the Summer Band program being held at the Hereford High School Band Hall are learning correct techniques of playing a horn. The classes are held Monday through Friday from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and prepare the students for the junior high and high school bands to come.

Irrigation Age Has New Staffer

Richard D. Wilson

AMARILLO — Richard D. Wilson, a man well known to plains agriculture, has been named associate editor of IRRIGATION AGE magazine. Announcement was made jointly by Publisher C. Palmer Norton and Managing Editor John Mette.

Wilson was editor of The Cattleman in Ft. Worth, before resigning in April of 1968, to return to a Sentinel, Okla. grain and cattle farm. "When we heard of his resignation from The Cattleman, and his return to the farm, we played a hunch that Dick Wilson wouldn't feel comfortable not being associated with farm journalism," said Irrigation Age's C. Palmer Norton. "For a long time we've been looking for 'just the right man' to add to our editorial staff. His experience had to be diversified, he had to have imagination and spirit and he had to believe in our basic philosophies. When we shook hands and sealed the deal with Dick Wilson, we think we found that added journalistic asset we sought."

Born in Vernon, Wilson graduated from Sentinel, Okla. High School. After a stint in the U. S. Navy, he attended Oklahoma State University, receiving a B. S. Degree in agricultural education in 1951. At first a veteran's agricultural instructor at Stratford, Wilson proceeded to add to his experience, becoming a farm writer for the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram, then a farm reporter for WKY Radio and T V in Oklahoma City, and director of advertising for American Agricultural Services in Columbia, Mo. When in Stratford, he met and married Wederah M. "Dee" a music teacher at Stratford. Watkins of Danville, Ark., then

The Wilsons have three children: Steve, 12; Lane, 10; and Dana Leigh, 4.

In his new association with Irrigation Age, Wilson will visit in irrigated areas over most of the United States in pursuit of editorial material about water, its efficient utilization in agriculture and efficient marketing of irrigation-induced production. He will headquarter at Sentinel, Okla.

Initiated in August of 1966, Irrigation Age has experienced a growth unique in farm publishing. From 17,000 coverage in parts of three southwestern states, it is now circulated to over 70,000 irrigated farms in 10 plains' states — from New Mexico and Texas on the south, two states wide to the Canadian border. Conspicuously practical and unorthodox in its editorial approach and presentation, the magazine circulates solely to bona fide irrigators, farmers intending irrigation development and people in related agri-business.

Reds Are Up To Old Tricks: "Fighting And Negotiating"

It seems rather clear that we have reached the first real "crunch" in our attempts to negotiate at Paris with the North Vietnamese.

I hope that our negotiators are making it abundantly clear to the Reds that our patience in this matter is not inexhaustible and that our response will be massive and decisive if the enemy lets these talks flounder.

Containing elements of the communist anarchists. History is replete with examples of Communist takeovers or governments by the simple device of obtaining coalition control of key ministries such as defense, justice, police and propaganda.

Instead, we have been treated to the classic Communist tactic of "fighting and negotiating."

Clearly, the American people must take these negotiations with a grain of salt. Given the stalemate of the first few weeks we must adopt a realistic attitude toward the talks, not allowing our hopes and our expectations to outrun the harsh realities.

Finally, looking beyond these immediate talks and even beyond Vietnam, I think the Americans must remember that the conflicts in this world will not disappear when Vietnam is no longer their focal point.

The intensity of Vietnam fighting has increased, rather than decreased, since the Paris talks started. The Reds have matched our bombing restraint with vast resupply, infiltration and terror efforts.

We should not expect that we can win at the negotiating table what we have not won on the battlefield. Equally, we must avoid losing at the conference table those things we have fought so long and so hard to protect.

Vietnam is but an episode in our American effort to maintain a modicum of order and stability in this world. As the free world's leader we seek to keep the world's conflicting pressures within the bounds that permit the survival of mankind.

There is a unanimous opinion among our military leaders that Hanoi is doing its utmost to kill Americans so as to increase pressure on us both at the fighting front and here at home.

We must make it increasingly clear to Hanoi that we do not seek, nor will we accept, a camouflaged surrender of our interests in Southeast Asia. To do this we will require here at home a strong will and a determination that our men will not have sacrificed in vain.

We must realize that this world does require a measure of policing; it does rely on American power; it does look to the United States to preserve a decent level of international law and order.

When the United States entered these Paris negotiations in good faith we made it clearly understood that such talks are desirable if they lead to a mutual de-escalation of the conflict. It is equally clear that negotiations are both dangerous and undesirable if they develop into a long, drawn-out sequence of meaningless, round-table discussions while our servicemen continue to pay the price in blood.

I believe it was both right and moral for the United States, by its unilateral de-escalation of the conflict, to demonstrate to the world our devotion to peace. However, it would now seem both prudent and correct for us not to make any further concessions without reciprocal, although not necessarily simultaneous, acts from the other side.

Were we to withdraw from the world stage a great many small—and sometimes foolish—nations would immediately arm themselves with nuclear weapons. Before long somebody would be blown to bits and the radioactive fallout would drop upon us all.

I would go further and say that negotiations with North Vietnam will rapidly become insupportable if Hanoi continues to escalate its military effort in the face of our own restraint.

Mutual de-escalation must be a two-way street. Hanoi cannot always take and never give; always demand and never concede. A sequence of unilateral concessions by us, not reciprocated by Hanoi, would be the road to surrender.

It is the reality of American power that has so far prevented world holocaust. Should the United States cease to support order in the world, there soon would be no order—and we would ultimately suffer along with the rest of mankind.

Wyche Club Has Last Program Until Next Fall

Last meeting of Wyche Home Demonstration Club until next Sept. 5 was held Thursday in the home of Mrs. Bob Thuet, where members welcomed two guests, Mrs. Marlene Farley and Miss Evelyn Packard.

Cleaning, preparing and storing foods properly to prevent food poisoning were the points emphasized by Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent, in the program.

She said leftover food should not be kept more than 48 hours in the refrigerator, and food which is to be stored in a refrigerator after a meal, should not be kept more than two hours outside the refrigerator.

Non-acid foods should be boiled for 15 minutes to be sure that all bacteria which might cause food poisoning are killed, she added.

Members present were Mmes. H. C. Hewitt, C. F. Newsom, Bill Ellis, Ira Ott, Charles Packard and Courtney Brooke.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

While June brides are in center-stage, this year's brides naturally are getting the most attention but those of years past have a share in the limelight, too, as they celebrate anniversaries.

EVERYBODY knows those special anniversaries, the 25th or 50th, call for gifts of silver or gold respectively, but significance of the other years is listed differently by the various people who compile lists, as you may know if you've tried to find an appropriate gift for somebody's 7th or 12th anniversary, for instance.

Usually only immediate families give gifts on those odd years, but in case you want to make a present to a family member or dear friend, and would like a suggestion, here is a list from World Book Encyclopedia, which has lately expanded it to include new materials such as plastics, which aren't named by older authorities:

First anniversary: Paper, plastics.
Second: Cotton.

Third: Leather or any leather-like article.

Fourth: Linen, silk, rayon, nylon or other synthetic silks.

Fifth: Wood and decorative accessories for the home.

Sixth: Iron.

Seventh: Wool, copper or brass.

Eighth: Bronze or electrical appliances.

Ninth: Pottery, china, glass or crystal.

Tenth: Tin or aluminum.

Eleventh: Steel.

Twelfth: Linen, silk or nylon.

Thirteenth: Lace.

Fourteenth: Ivory or agate.

Fifteenth: Crystal or glass.

Twentieth: China or occasional furniture.

Twenty-fifth: Silver.

Thirtieth: Pearls or personal gifts.

Thirty-fifth: Coral or jade.

Fortieth: Rubies or garnets.

Forty-fifth: Sapphires or tour-malines.

Fiftieth: Gold.

Fifty-fifth: Emeralds or turquoise.

Sixtieth and over: Diamonds or gold.

OF THE NUMEROUS June weddings going on for Hereford folk, the most exciting is that of Lynn Hale, who flew to Germany to marry her paratrooper, Alan Gowdy.

There is much red tape affecting weddings of U. S. military personnel overseas, and some could not be cut until the bride and her parents reached Wiesbaden, so the Hale family left Tuesday without knowing the exact date and place of the ceremony.

That adds to the excitement, of course, but who wants suspense and last-minute solutions in wedding plans?

NOT SO FAR as Germany, but still a considerable trip will be taken by Jerry Bybee's family for his and Maria Iucci's wedding at Homestead, Fla. on the 22nd.

His mother plans to drive to Florida with him the last of this week then his father, Owen Bybee, and brothers will fly over in time for the wedding and Mrs. B. will join them for the plane trip back home.

BACK FROM a couple of weeks at Ojo Caliente, N. M., Mrs. W. H. Awtrey Sr. came as far as Melrose with her niece, Edna Sullen of Santa Fe, and stopped to help celebrate the birthday of Mrs. Sullen's father.

Mrs. Awtrey's son, Deon, of Friona, drove to Melrose and brought her on home. She says she feels much better after taking the baths and massages at Ojo Caliente.

Sale To Benefit Club Treasury Planned At Ford

A fund-raising project was approved and a summer party for members and their families was scheduled at a meeting of Ford Home Demonstration Club Wednesday in Ford Community Building. Mrs. Harry Bromman was hostess.

Mrs. John A. Smith presided for business. Club members planned to sell kitchen ware as a finance project. An ice cream supper for families was set for Thursday, August 1. The program was by Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent, whose subject was Food Poisoning: Salmonella, the most common, staphylococcus and streptococcus.

Botulisms occur in under-processed home-canned low-acid vegetables and meat, she continued; Warmth and moisture are the factors that determine growth of bacteria, so food should be cooled quickly and kept cool. Clean food properly, preserve properly and store properly, she stressed, to avoid the sometimes deadly botulism.

Mrs. Tex McKnight presented a skit, Getting Ready For Club, in the opening recreation period. Others present were Mmes. Frank Bromman, W. A. Carter J. C. Gossett, A. B. Kent, and a guest, Miss Doris Amerson of Tulia.

The annual sing-sing a dance festival at Mt. Hagen in New Guinea's western highlands held during May in 1968, attracts some 70,000 New Guineans and one to two thousand European guests. The event has been called "the wildest show on earth".

Webb-Flood Marriage Will Take Place Today

Darrell Flood of Hereford will take as his bride Miss Jacquelyn Sue Webb of Childress in an exchange of vows at 3 p. m. today in the sanctuary of King Memorial Methodist Church at Childress.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pascual Webb of Childress, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Flood, Route 4, Hereford. The newlyweds will be at home in the Lynette Apartments here after a Colorado honeymoon.

The Rev. R. T. Breedlove of Quanah, retired Methodist minister, will read the marriage ceremony at an altar where candelabra are arranged to hold tall pink tapers graduated to a center point, flanked by spiral twinkle lights and baskets of pink gladioli.

The candelabra are set among palm leaves and tied with pink satin bows matching those which mark family pews in the church.

Miss Pat Bartlett will be Miss Webb's maid of honor, Miss Sherry George first bridesmaid, Miss Grace Flood, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Joan Cheatham bridesmaids. Except for Miss Flood, they are Childress residents.

Ernest Flood Jr. will attend his brother as best man and ushers will be Larry Brown, the bridegroom's roommate at West Texas State University last term, Gary Richardson of Mount Pleasant and Robert Wagoner.

Junior members of the wedding will be the bride's cousins, Deedra Bradley of Odessa and Kelley Webb of Amarillo as flower girls and Joe Don Bradley of Odessa, ring bearer. Candles will be lighted by Joe Flood, brother of the bridegroom, and Rodney Lewis, the bride's cousin from Indiana.

The bride, to be given in marriage by her father, will wear a portrait gown of snowwhite silk organza and Chantilly lace, the fitted lace bodice fashioned with scalloped edge around the neckline and elbow sleeves.

The very full organza skirt, bordered with lace, is shaped redingote style over four wide tiers of lace ruffled down the front. It rounds into a chapel train, with the lace border conveys accent the lace motif at neckline and on the skirt ruffles.

Her veil of silk-illusion, elbow length, is edged with wide bands of lace and will be held by a tiara of seed pearls and iridescents. She will carry white carnations surrounding an orchid in a bouquet tied with long satin streamers.

Her attendants' dresses are in empire mode, of American Beauty peau de soie. A cowl collar of matching chiffon, accented with a row of pearl drops around the edge, drapes over each shoulder and extends into panels floating to the floor. Their bouquets will be of pale pink carnations with streamers of American Beauty satin.

The small flower girls will wear frocks styled like those of the bridesmaids and carry nosegays of the pink carnations. Miss Sue Yowell will be vocal soloist, whose selections are More and Hawaiian Wedding Song. Mrs. Ronald Atkinson will play organ accompaniments and the marches.

Guests will be registered in the church foyer by Miss Louanna Hull of Plainview, who was Miss Webb's roommate at WTSU the past year.

For the wedding and a reception in the church fellowship hall afterward, the bride's mother will be dressed in beige lace with accessories to match and Mrs. Ernest Flood will wear a pink knit sheath with bone accessories. Their corsages will be of pink rosebuds.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb will be reception hosts. The bride's table will be laid with pastel pink net over satin and centered with American Beauty carnations between pink tapers burning in a silver holder. The four-tiered roses and topped with white dove figurines on cluster of the flowers.

Miss Suzanne Thurman of McKinney will serve the punch, Mrs. Bennie Foard of Canyon and Miss Billie Hopkins the cake, assisted by Mrs. Woodrow Boyd and Mrs. Raymond Lassen.

For travel the bride will wear a pink silk costume suit, the jacket fastened with a bow in front, and a corsage from her bouquet. The couple expects to return to their home here June 13.

A native of Childress, Miss Webb was graduated from schools of that city and was a freshman math major at WTSU the past year. High school memberships included the National Honor Society three years, Future Teachers, Future Homemakers and the annual staff.

Also attending WTSU as a freshman, Mr. Flood majored in agriculture. He is a 1967 graduate of Hereford High School.

Wedding guests from other cities will include the Don Bradley family of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Matthews of Wildorado, Mrs. Roy Matthews of Abernathy; the George Webbs and Ed Floods, and Gayle Flood of Amarillo; Mrs. Leon Thurman of McKinney, Bennie Foard of Canyon; the H. L. Bridges, Mrs. Alice Davis, Vicki and Dee Ann Davis of Elgin, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Flood were hosts Saturday night to the wedding party at the rehearsal dinner in Chateau Inn Restaurant at Childress.

Nazarene Church To Be Honored

The local Church of the Nazarene, 248 W. 16, will be honored in an assembly held in Kansas City, Missouri beginning Friday at the General Assembly.

Chosen as the "outstanding church in this geographical area," the church is one of the 14 churches of this demonstration to receive these honors. Executive secretary of the De-

Mrs. Allen Dale Brown nee Sue McKinster

Former Miss McKinster At Home In Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dale Brown are at home at 7901 N. W. Fifth, Oklahoma City, after their marriage in First Presbyterian Church Chapel in that city in a candlelight ceremony May 31. Mrs. Brown is the former Miss Virginia Sue McKinster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McKinster, 111 Fir.

She was graduated from Oklahoma State University only the day before the wedding, which was solemnized by Dr. E. Lewis before massed palm leaves and lighted tapers. Cathedral candles burned at pew ends, and all light in the chapel was from candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in organza, fashioned in sheath style with long sleeves and a squared train, edged in galloon lace, attached at the shoulders. Lace extended across the shoulderline to form two bands down the front.

Her only jewel was a diamond drop, gift of the bridegroom, and she carried a wedding handkerchief that her mother had used. Her traditional blue garter was a keepsake worn by former brides from her sorority, Alpha Delta Pi. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. Mark Bailey of Stillwater, Okla., was her maid of honor; Miss Gayle Newell of Hereford, Miss Linda Wisdom of Denver and Mrs. Daymond McGaughey were bridesmaids, all wearing blue faille sheath dresses.

Jim Goodwin acted as best man, Woodie Ayers as groomsman, Mike Layhe and Paul Baker as ushers. The latter resides at Anadarko, the others in Oklahoma City.

Lisa Cluts of Oklahoma City, a niece of the bridegroom, and Susan Crowley of El Reno, cousin of the bride, were flower girls. George Hale and Daymond McGaughey lighted the candles as Mrs. Velma Hahn played an organ prelude. She also played traditional marches.

On her way to the altar Miss McKinster paused to present a rose to her mother, and in the recessional she gave a similar flower to her husband's mother.

A reception was held in the church parlor after the ceremony. Gardenias and palm leaves circled the punch bowl; the bride's bouquet was placed at the base of central candelabra and a nosegay of fresh flowers topped the tiered wedding cake to complete decoration of the refreshment table, which was covered in airy white organdy. Miss Oriana Hubbard of Tulsa registered guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown spent their honeymoon in Dallas. They will reside in Oklahoma City this summer, then move to Cushing, where Mrs. Brown will teach next term.

She has held offices in her sorority, served as president of the Army Blades, honorary organization, and held membership in Gallagher Girls, an auxiliary of Brown's sorority, Kappa Sigma. She was graduated from high school in North Platte, Neb., former home city of the McKinster family.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brown of Oklahoma City, is a business major at OSU.

San Antonio is celebrating its 250th anniversary during HemisFair '68.

Progressive Club Slates Luncheon

A luncheon at the Caison House will be the final meeting before a summer recess for Progressive Home Demonstration Club, members decided at this week's meeting in the home of Mrs. T. J. Parsons. The luncheon was set for 1 p. m. June 18.

The geographical region which the church belongs includes Texas, Kansas, Nebraska, Arkansas and Louisiana. Last year, the Hereford church received the honor as the "Outstanding Small Church" in the West Texas District Nazarene Assembly which was held in Amarillo. It was selected from among some 60 other churches.

The program was given by Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent, who discussed food poisoning and ways to avoid its dangers. She said poisoning is more likely to occur in summer when food is taken from refrigeration for picnics and such occasions.

Speed in cooling cooked food and keeping it cooled to 45 degrees or lower, is an important way to make it safe, she said. If food is kept hot it should be at no lower temperature than 140 degrees, she added.

Mrs. J. D. Gilbert Jr., club representative to the County H. D. Council, gave her report of the May Council session.

Refreshments were served to seven members and guests, Mrs. Edgar Lemons, Linda Hallows and the hostess' daughter, Miss Doris Parsons, at home for the summer from the University of Texas, where she is a student.

The mini-monorail at HemisFair '68 has a design capacity of 4,200 persons per hour.

Miss Connie Kent Weds W. R. Sistrunk Saturday

Miss Connie Helen Kent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Kent, 124 Star, and William Ronald Sistrunk of San Antonio exchanged wedding vows in a twilight ceremony Saturday in First Presbyterian Church, with the Rev. R. A. Winger, pastor, reading the service.

Seven-branched candelabra were set on either side of the altar, among sprays of jade foliage and white carnations. Mr. Kent gave his daughter in marriage.

Her only attendant was Miss Melinda Atkins of San Antonio, and the best man was Robert Scoville of that city. Ushers were Dwight McGee of Canyon, Jimmy Kassahn, David Dowell and Jerry Bybee.

Miss Paula Waldrep lit the tapers at the altar while Mrs. Joe Hacker played organ selections. Miss Rosiland Phillips of San Antonio, who was the bride's voice teacher at Trinity University, presented the solos "Be Thou With Me (Bach)" and "The Lord's Prayer in Mallot-the's setting."

Mrs. Hacker accompanied her and played the processional "St. Anthony Choral (Brahms)" and as the wedding party left the altar, "Now Thank We All Our Lord."

Her grandmother, Mrs. Harry Evans of Perryton, made the gown worn by the slender blonde bride, of candlelight satin with imported Chantilly lace yoke and sleeves fashioned with scallops of the lace at the wrists. A pearl necklace accented the circle neckline and matched her earrings.

Her shoulder-length veil was illusion, gathered to a ring headpiece of lace like that in the dress. She carried a single gardenia on a small Bible covered by Mrs. Evans with lace, decorated with a rosette of satin ribbons and seed pearls.

The sixpence she wore in her shoe for luck was brought to her from England by her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Apple of Perryton.

Chiffon in sand tint made the maid of honor's dress, styled with cowl neckline and gathered from the yoke. A chiffon rosette was worn in her hair and she carried miniature yellow chrysanthemums in a nosegay.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Kent were hosts for a wedding supper at Hereford Country Club. Mrs. Buddy Covin of San Antonio was at the guest registry. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Waldrep and Mrs. Leroy Aven assisted in the houseparty.

A round table covered in yellow net held the wedding cake, surrounded by garlands of plumosis fern studded with daisy blooms. Supper was served at small tables, each centered with an arrangement of candles, daisies and greenery.

Acapulco was the destination of Mr. and Mrs. Sistrunk as they left on the honeymoon trip. The bride traveled in a white knit suit trimmed in orange, lime and black stitching. Accessories were in white.

After June 14 the couple will be at home at 2618 Nacogdoches, San Antonio. Miss Kent has been teaching music there, after receiving her bachelor of music degree from Trinity University in 1967. She was a 1963 graduate of Hereford High School. She was affiliated at Trinity with a music fraternity, Nu Phi Epsilon, and Gamma Chi Delta social sorority.

Now a flight instructor with Nayak Aviation Company at San Antonio, Mr. Sistrunk attended Victoria College and Texas A&I at Kingsville after graduation from St. Joseph High School in Victoria. He is the son of Mrs. W. E. Sistrunk and the late Mr. Sistrunk of that city. The wedding followed a series of parties complimentary to

Fellowships Are To Be Offered

Fellowships, by the Tech Graduate School, are being offered to college graduates with a bachelor's degree, who would like to teach elementary school.

To qualify, graduates must be residents of towns from 10,000 to 35,000 in population size within 150 miles of Lubbock. The field the bachelor's degree covers has no bearing on the matter and one must meet the qualifications before being considered.

Deadline for the transcript submissions and other material is June 15, 1968. It was also stated that graduates should not be active in the teaching profession at this time, nor have more than 12 hours toward a Master's degree.

The program leads toward teacher certification and a master's degree, and each fellowship carries a stipend of $2,000 for the nine months period beginning in September. Tuition is free and there will be an additional $400 for each eligible dependent. Summer school carries $400 plus $200 for each eligible dependent.

For more information, persons should contact Robert Holman, assistant superintendent, Hereford Independent School District, P. O. Box 1698, Hereford, Texas, 79045. He may also be contacted at 364-0506.

The city of San Antonio built a $10.5 million three-building civic center complex on the site of HemisFair '68, including a 3,000 seat banquet hall and 2,800 seat theater.

Miss Axe, Mr. Needham Marry By Candlelight

Symbolic three-branched candelabra held tapers lighting the altar of Frio Baptist Church for the Saturday evening wedding of Miss Nancy Ruth Axe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Axe, Route 3, and Luther Thomas Needham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Needham, Route 1, Wellington.

Greenery twined bases of the candelabra and triple branches signifying two becoming one. Orange blossoms and white satin bows marked the aisle down which Mr. Axe escorted his daughter in the processional.

The Rev. C. E. Wainscot, pastor of Northside Baptist Mission at Plainview, conducted the double ring ceremony.

Miss Vicki Axe was her sister's maid of honor and Richard Needham of Amarillo his brother's best man. Miss Jana Cole and another sister, Miss Andrea Axe, were bridesmaids.

Lonnie Needham of Wellington, brother of the groom, and Harlan Hysmith of Plainview were groomsmen. Mike Odum of Lubbock and Alvin Petty of Welch the ushers, Johnny Needham of Wellington the candle lighter.

Karen Axe, daughter of the Marvin Axes of Vega and a cousin of the bride, was the flower girl and Ricky Needham, young brother of the groom, carried the rings.

Wedding music was by Miss Lanelle Spurgeon of Muleshoe, organist, and Irene Thornton of Dimmitt, vocal soloist whose selections were "The Greatest Of These and The Lord's Prayer."

Heirloom pieces in the bride's costume were a handkerchief which had been carried by her mother and several other brides in their weddings, and a white Bible borrowed from her sister.

Her gown was in empire style, entrain, of Alencon lace. Sequins accented the edges of the bell sleeves and the bottom of the slim skirt which rounded into a chapel train. A row of 37 tiny buttons fastened the dress in the back.

Illusion veiling, bordered with lace, drifted to her shoulders from a tiara of seed pearls. Roses and stephanotis surrounded a white orchid she carried on the bridal Bible.

Each of the attendants' crepe gowns was in a different shade of pink. The dresses, floor length, were sleeveless and had panels of chiffon flowing from the empire waistline in the back.

Their ringlet headpieces with circles of net matched their frocks. Their flowers were long-stemmed American Beauty roses.

The bride's parents were hosts for a reception in the church fellowship hall after the wedding. Mrs. Ronnie Andrews served the cake and Mrs. Dee Taylor ladled punch to guests who registered at a table where Mrs.

Richard Needham presided. Garden flowers arranged in a crystal bowl centered the refreshment table, which was covered with white linen cutwork.

The couple left after the reception for a trip to Lake Altus. Mrs. Needham was wearing a pink dacron knit suit with a matching hat. Her corsage was from her bouquet.

After midweek they will be at home at Collier Hall, Wayland Baptist College, Plainview. Both have been students in the college the past two years, the bride majoring in psychology and Mr. Needham as a ministerial student. He is employed in Plainview.

Miss Axe was a 1966 graduate of Dimmitt High School and the bridegroom completed high school studies at Quail the same year.

Among wedding and reception guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Axe, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Axe and daughters of Vega; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Winton of Wellington.

The theme for HemisFair '68 in San Antonio April 6-Oct. 6 is "The Confluence of Civilizations of the Americas."

Tea-Shower Honors Bride-To-Be

Miss Berta Mae Lindsay, bride-elect of Douglas Dodd of Fort Worth, was complimented with a tea and shower Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. H. Ford in Friona.

Miss Lindsay, employed by Southwestern Bell Company here, is the daughter of the F.H. Lindsays, Rt. 1, and a graduate of Friona High School.

Hostesses for the shower were Mmes. Kenneth Ford, O.D. Burchett, Haywood Vaughn, Carrie Shirley, Faye Shite, L.R. Hand, Russell Varner, and W. H. Ford.

As the bride-elect and her mother received callers, she was wearing a white brocade suit and all-white accessories. The tea table, covered with lilac net, had a centerpiece of flowers in lilac and white, colors to be used in the wedding. Cookies, nuts and mints were served with punch.

Miss Lindsay and Dodd are to be married next Friday and will live in Fort Worth this summer, then make their home in Ada, Oklahoma, for his remaining year as a student at East Central State College.

Rioting Today: Spontaneous Of Communist Inspired?

American college and university riots appear to be spreading all over the world, which is perhaps to be expected. Some of the ramifications, however, do hold more than passing interest.

Many of the riots in this country have doubtless been communist inspired, engineered and possibly financed. Consequently, it appears just retribution to see similar university riots break out in communist Yugoslavia. Though parallel in many ways, unrest in American colleges stems from liberal leanings, a desire for expression — often favorable to the communist causes — and Negro demonstrations to gain publicity and recognition. The communist riot, on the other hand, is based strictly on a need for adequate food, and better economic conditions after graduation.

Ironic though the situation may be, American students are rioting in behalf of a socialistic and communistic society, whereas the communist students riot because they are underfed and underprivileged, a situation which only capitalism has so far been able to solve. Perhaps, if we got with Russia and exchanged students for a couple of years, both groups might return to their own country happier and more sedate citizens.

Whether this particular series of university outbreaks comes as a calculated move, or whether it is spontaneous, is a good question. Student movements are not new, however; they have been occurring since we have had colleges and universities, and they dot the pages of history for several centuries past.

The business of telling a college or university how it should be run, it seems to us, is far from American in concept. In this country, when one does not like a particular place or store, he simply finds one he does like, and spends his money there. Already, the United States boasts hundreds of colleges and universities, many established by churches and other movements, primarily for this reason. Needless to say, the place or store which consistently fails to measure up to competitive standards will sooner or later flounder, perhaps even perish.

With such a broad choice of higher education in America, it does lead one to wonder if these student riots and protests are always inspired by the honest sincerity which the sponsors would have us believe.

West Texas Is Gaining Recognition

There is an old American custom that, once the elections are over, everyone settles down and goes to work with the winner. This, we hope, will be the case in Texas' hotly contested race for governor.

Democratic nominee Preston Smith has several things to offer people of this area. For one thing, he is the first Demo nominee for the high office who lives in the western half of the Lone Star State. While this may not hold much for the neophyte, it is of significance to the old timers, who recall the epoch making news of less than 25 years back when Harry Hines of Wichita Falls became the first State Highway Commission Chairman west of Ft. Worth. Hereford's own Marshall Formby was also an early West Texan, probably the second in history, to hold down this post.

A West Texas candidate for governor, even 10 years ago, would have been defeated before he even got underway.

This change in outlook is good for West Texas and, we hope, it will be good for Texas. Per capita, we pay more taxes in West Texas, we provide our share of jobs, produce our share of materials — and invariably wind up with fewer benefits than do our fellow Texans who live nearer to the Alamo, Houston, or the Dallas-Ft. Worth area. In fact, when compared all of the way, we have more of everything — except votes.

Consequently, with the Democratic nominee coming from Lubbock, and the Republican nominee from Wichita Falls, it does seem that West Texans are gaining recognition. Let us hope that the same follows for the area, along with its people.

Honors To Oberthier Appropriate

The Mid-Plains Pioneer Association met last week and, among other things, recognized F. H. Oberthier as Pioneer Citizen of the year. At age 98, Mr. Oberthier was also the oldest member in attendance.

Mr. Oberthier's award included a review of some of his many accomplishments: a financial contributor on the first irrigation well drilled here, founder of Hereford's first electric power plant (Oct. 12, 1908), civic worker, poetry lover, and numbers of other achievements.

All of these things are true and fine, but those who knew Mr. Oberthier down the years realize that his remarkable string of accomplishments may well be attributed to his basic nature. Well read, and always considerate, Mr. Oberthier carried himself with the manners and precision of a true Kentucky Colonel; he possessed the hearty endurance and optimism of all pioneers of the West. Most of all, though, Mr. Oberthier upheld the tenets and beliefs he considered right and just and, come what may, he would fight steadfastly against a n y odds for their continuation.

Times have changed, too be sure, but it seems to us that the very fundamentals which meant so much in the pioneer days of this community should still rank foremost in 1968. The same principles which made Mr. Oberthier an outstanding citizen of yesterday will, if conscientiously practiced today, make the outstanding pioneers of tomorrow.

FULL SPEED AHEAD

A Political Wasteland

After listening to political advertisements over the radio all spring, I have begun to wonder whether Texas voters even care about the political viability of this state.

The race for the democratic nomination for governor and the determination of Texas' votes to the national Democratic Convention were hardly conducive to a strong grass roots democracy. It is unfortunate that Texas voters will put up with this pseudo-democracy, where issues are hardly mentioned at campaign time.

In a state as large as Texas, there must be something better to do in campaigns than sling mud. Whether a candidate is liberal or conservative, there are plenty of issues that need to be faced squarely — taxes, liquor, education, and unemployment, to name four. But candidates have been too busy calling each other names to even seriously discuss this state's future. Voters fell for it, hook, line, and sinker.

No Texan will have any significant influence in determining who the Democratic nominee for president will be in the fall; voters firmly removed themselves from this responsibility of having to make a choice by leaving all the details to the big shots running the show. Is this the way we exercise responsibility?

Voters sit comfortably in front of their television sets and tolerate this political garbage. But any conservative who likes to hear his candidate sling mud can't have very much concern for the state of Texas. The same goes for any liberal. Texas voters evidently just don't care.

After the railroading session that committed the Democratic delegation to John Connally as favorite son for President, I was wondering whether this state's voters realized the responsibility they carried as citizens. After the same voters tolerated a gubernatorial campaign based on slander, I wondered if Texas voters even gave a tinker's damn about issues closer to home.

Liberal or conservative, no voter should condone the hanky panky he is subjected to in Texas. This is supposed to be a democracy, not a feudal state. Texas has gained no respect from other states; no presidential candidate has even bothered to cross our state line, since his presence here will make no significant difference at the national conventions; Texas has the city with the highest unemployment (unemployment) rate in the nation; our state has poor teacher salaries, and it has a large proportion of low income families. Do voters honestly believe that they need only stick their heads in the sand in order to make this state progressive?

The issues are here; the opposing forces, liberal and conservative, are here. The political leadership, however, is nil. This condition will exist as long as Texas voters sit complacently by to let an established paternalistic system make all the political decisions. Voters are hardly exercising individual responsibility.

Washington Is Scared City As Lawlessness Prevails

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D.C.—Mr. S. is a veteran correspondent for newspapers and magazines. He lives in Washington within two miles of his office and travels by taxicab. He carries a revolver, because he is afraid.

Mr. B. heads the Washington bureau of a daily newspaper. He thinks it is silly for Mr. S. to carry a gun. But Mr. B. recently spent $185 to install double locks on the doors of his Georgetown townhouse, plus steel screens over accessible windows, and a fire extinguisher in every room. He is afraid.

Mr. M. owns a prosperous liquor store about three blocks from the White House. His establishment escaped damage in the April rioting, although another store two doors away was looted. His store is covered with heavy steel screens now, at a cost of $1,800. He is afraid.

Mr. P. lives in the suburbs of Virginia. He has a 1968 car but when possible he rides to his country club on weekends with a friend, because new cars seem to be the chief target of thieves operating on the club parking lot in broad daylight. He is afraid.

Mrs. R. is a widow who until recently augmented her income by part-time work as a switchboard operator. She refused to risk her neck by being on the streets after dark, so she isn't working now. She is afraid.

Washington Is a Scared City. These are all true stories of actual people known to this writer. Dozens of other similar cases could be recited, all pointing to the same conclusion:

Washington Is a Scared City

At present, there are virtually no buses running at night in Washington. The drivers refuse to carry the money the transit company insists they have to make change. A driver was shot to death recently when he reached for his own gun in an attempt to protect his change box.

Many thousands of people work at night in Washington. The Government Printing Office, for example, works around the clock. But the wives of night workers have filed a formal protest against the lack of protection for their husbands, saying they fear robberies and beatings.

Hordes of high school students normally visit Washington during the spring. Few are seen this season because the word has been spread across the nation that Washington is not a safe place to visit, particularly for young people.

Numerous conventions scheduled to be held in Washington this spring have moved elsewhere, despite the best efforts of Mayor Walter Washington, who has proclaimed the capital city safe for visitors. Conventions that are held attract fewer people than expected, for obvious reasons.

Congress Divided on Safety Issue

Members of Congress are divided on the safety issue. Some are advising their constituents to stay away, and others are saying "come ahead, but be careful." Plenty of space is available in the hotels and motels, which are normally jammed at this time of year.

The Congressional Record makes unusual reading these days. Liberals insert words of welcome to those participating in the Poor People's Campaign. Those of the opposite view make sure that every arrest or other derogatory incident involving the visitors is reported in the Record.

A few white supremacy members of the House have dredged up reports of misconduct in past years by leaders of the demonstrators, and spread these accounts over the pages of the Record. Those opposed to the demonstrators set upon these stories as conversational fodder.

Washington always projects a complex and many-sided image to the rest of the nation but today's conditions are without precedent.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his hindweed farm asks us a question this week, the answer to which is no.

Dear editor:

Every once in a while people get discouraged about man's ability to run this world, claiming the more he invents the more he adds to his burdens and confusions, like for example the better automobiles get the slower you can get around in a city because of the traffic.

But these people don't have enough confidence in man. Just last night I read in a magazine about how newspapers are whipping the traffic problem. They've invented a portable machine called a teletypewriter.

Say a reporter is across town covering an ordinary attack on the city hall and can't get back to his office because traffic is snarled up ten blocks deep because some of the protesters got tired I suppose and layed down in the street. All he has to do is plug in his teletypewriter and start typing, and another typewriter in the newspaper office receives his story and types it out, ready to go to the printers provided they're not out on strike, thus whipping the traffic problem hands down.

I have been thinking. Now if you're planning on installing these machines in The Brand office, there'll have to be a few minor adjustments made on the original model I mean, if you're going to hook me up with one, what you need is not a teletypewriter but a tele-pencil. It may take some getting used to, me writing on tablet paper with a pencil attached to an electric cord over on this hindweed farm, and I don't know who you're going to get to produce and the traffic jam to justify the machine in the first place, but we'll do the best we can.

In the long run, I've been told, man can usually whip his problems, although in my own case, when I've done something by the long run, I usually wind up just that much tired.

50 YEARS AGO — 1918

A total of 19 men will be furnished for the various training camps by Deaf Smith County during the month of June. On June 15, John E. Dyer and Ed P. Price will report at the A&M College for special technical training. On June 27, Henry Cox and Roy Jowell will report to the University of Texas at Austin for the same kind of training. On June 24, fifteen men will have to be sent to Camp Travis, but the list will not be completed until the latter part of this week.

35 YEARS AGO — 1933

Dr. E. F. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist Church and president of the Hereford Minister's Association, called to order a group of interested citizens at a prohibition rally in the district court room at 8:30 Tuesday night. The blessings of God was invoked by Rev. J. A. Hornbeak, retired Presbyterian minister.

25 YEARS AGO — 1943

Funeral services for George Ellis Nixon, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nixon of Hereford, were held here Monday afternoon. Young Nixon died here Saturday as the result of injuries received several weeks ago when the horse he was riding ran into a tree and crushed Nixon's leg. Infection set in and amputation was not able to stop the spread of blood poison.

15 YEARS AGO — 1953

Funeral services for Gary Ohlig, 4, whose burned face and body has caused the people of Hereford and Deaf Smith County to open their hearts and pocketbooks in an effort to help him regain a normal appearance, were held Wednesday morning at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Officiant for the mass was Fr. Nathaniel Madden. Gary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ohlig, suffered severe burns in a gas explosion May 14. Gary and his small brother, Billy, were playing in the bathroom of the Ohlig home when the explosion occurred. The Ohligs were at a loss to explain what had happened, unless the boys had been playing with a butane heater in the room and caused gas to escape and ignite.

10 YEARS AGO — 1958

The amazing and heroic efforts of a Hereford man saving the lives of three other local people when the airplane in which they were riding crashed into the tops of some trees near the Ruidoso, New Mexico, airport Sunday afternoon. Though suffering from a leg being broken in four places and a cracked kneecap, Austin Rose Jr., was able to pull his wife, Helen, Mrs. Dick Ross and Cameron Gault out of the flaming 1958 Beachcraft plane before it was completely engulfed in fire.

5 YEARS AGO — 1963

A faulty journal was blamed as 40-cars of a speeding eastbound Santa Fe freight piled up four and five deep, ripping out several hundred yards of track southwest of Hereford. A railroad official explained Friday that the journal on one of the 128 cars broke, allowing the bed of a freight car to drop on the tracks. An axle broke and the car behind nose-dived into the roadbed and the pile-up began. As the cars began to crash into the wreckage ahead, they were splintered. Metal sides of boxcars were ripped open, allowing tons of zinc ore to spill over the right of way.

1 YEAR AGO — 1967

John Douglas Pitman has announced to the Brand that plans are being considered to merge Pitman Grain Company and Easley Feed Yards of Hereford, into a new company, to be named Pitman-Easley Industries. Joe Easley, president of Easley Feed Yards, joined with Pitman in issuing this announcement. A five-year probated sentence was given Floyd Lebow, 17, of Amarillo, after he pleaded guilty in 60th District Court Friday afternoon to a charge of arson in the February 5 burning of Butcher Boy Market.

Local Youths Set For Conferences

Richard Aven, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilery Aven, and Anna Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Johnson of Westway, were chosen last month as the boy and girl to attend the American Legion Boy's State and American Legion Girls State this year at Austin.

Aven, 17, joined a delegation of 750 high school junior boys assembling on the campus of the University of Texas, Saturday for the 1968 session of Boy's State.

The program sponsored by the American Legion, Department of Texas, is an annual event in which the organization teaches boys the responsibilities of citizenship in actual "do-it-yourself" type program from which comes its motto, "Learn by doing."

Delegates for the Boy's State converged on Austin and began registration Saturday afternoon at Moore-Hill Hall. Following their evening meal, the new citizens of Boy's State assembled for orientation in their respective Boy's State cities.

On Friday, the citizens of Boy's State will visit the State Capitol and actually sit in the chairs of the office to which they were elected and run the state government for a day.

A Governor's Ball will climax the week's activities at the Student Union on Friday night.

Miss Johnson, will travel to Austin for the American Legion Girl's State on Tuesday, and will join a large group of girls all over the state.

Registration for Girl's State will take place at Edwards University 3001 S. Congress, and afterwards the girls will set about to conduct their campaigns for their desired office. The campaigns will take place for the first few days that they are there.

Carrying out the government comes next, and a group of 50 girls assigned to each city and in the Senate of House will carry on the regular functions of our State Government for several days. Each girl will be placed in a part of the government

RECEPTION PLANNERS — Inviting former students and friends of Mrs. J. J. Durham from over this area to a reception in her honor this afternoon, members of the Hereford Chapter, Young Homemakers of Texas, are being assisted by Future Homemakers groups in planning the party, set from 4 to 6 p.m. in Hereford High School. Mrs. Durham, a YHT chapter advisor since its organization, retired at the end of the past semester as a high-school homemaking instructor and FHA sponsor. Seated, from left, are Mrs. Kenneth DeHart and Mrs. Larry Dodd, chairmen of reception committees in the YHT. Standing are Miss Lanny Buck, FHA member chosen as YHT "little sister" for this year; Mrs. Joe Bradley, co-advisor with Mrs. Durham of the YHT, and Mrs. Frank Prowell, FHA sponsor. The latter two are homemaking teachers.

Joan Marnell Is Bride Of Colorado Resident

The marriage of Miss Joan Marnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest A. Marnell, 124 Aspen, and Larry Minks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Minks of Saguache, Colo., formerly of Hereford, was conducted by the Rev. Brian Ryan at St. Anthony's Catholic Church in an early evening service Friday.

White gladiolus blossoms and candles decorated the altars, while pews were marked with clusters of green leaves and white ribbons.

Mr. Marnell gave his daughter in marriage in the double ring ceremony. She was preceded to the altar by her maid of honor, a sister, Miss Dorothy Marnell; Miss Frieda Copper of Perryton, bridesmaid, and a younger sister, Christine Marnell, junior bridesmaid.

His father served as Mr. Minks' best man; Gary Smith was groomsmen, Mick Tompkins and Don Holden of Albuquerque, Ted Hern of Santa Rosa, N.M. and David Marnell, the bride's brother, the ushers. Another brother, Tommy Marnell, carried the rings on a heart-shaped satin pillow.

Vocal solos by Ben Gollehon were Walk Hand In Hand, sung as a prelude to the ceremony, Whither Thou Goest and The Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Jim Cramer played organ accompaniment and the marches Rossini's Wedding March as a processional and the familiar Mendelssohn music for the recessional.

Wearing as a luck piece in her shoe a sixpence sent from Ireland by Maura McAndrews, the bride was gowned in silk organza with lace trim. The bodice, with cameo neckline, was cut with a waistline curved to empire height in front and natural length in the back.

Following the same lines the skirt, ankle length in front curved to the floor in slight backfulness held by a bow at the center waistline. Three tiers of scalloped lace formed short sleeves, and lace motifs were applied to the dress front with iridescent sequins.

A white orchid was circled with carnations and lilies-of-the-valley to form the bridal bouquet. Layers of illusion floated over the bride's shoulders from a cluster of silk organza flowers above her forehead.

Color varied the attendants' dresses, all made alike of silk organza over taffeta. Square necklines and lace-trimmed puff sleeves had a period air repeated in the row of lace and tucking around the bottom of floor-length skirts.

The maid of honor's dress was coral colored, the bridesmaid's mint green and the junior bridesmaid's jonquil yellow. Shoes were dyed to match each gown, and the girls wore daisies in their hair and carried daisy nosegays frilled with lace.

Guests were received by the newlywed couple and their parents after the ceremony in the church auditorium. Misses Nancy and Margaret Minks of Saguache, sisters of the bridegroom, and Miss Lou Ann Witkowski were at the refreshment table and Miss Mary Ellen Marnell, the bride's cousin, at the guest book.

Daisies were arranged in the center of the white satin cloth which covered the table. The three-tiered wedding cake, ornamented with sugar roses in shades of coral and cream, was served with sandwiches and punch.

Mrs. Minks changed to a blue silk dress before the couple left on a leisurely trip through New Mexico and Colorado which will take them to their home in Saguache. Made on simple lines, her dress was trimmed with tiny buttons covered with the fabric and worn with black patent accessories and the orchid corsage from her bouquet.

She was an honor graduate with the 1968 class at St. Anthony's School of Nursing in Amarillo this month. Born and reared in Hereford, she received previous education in schools here and was graduated from Hereford High School in 1965.

Mr. Minks was a member of the same HHS class and is now a marketing major in Eastern New Mexico University at Portales, where he was selected "Outstanding dorm resident" for the past term. He moved with his family from Kansas to Deaf Smith County when he was in grade school, and attended Walcott and Hereford schools.

Brand Article Reprinted By Cafe Magazine

The story of Mrs. Ollie Forbus, originally published in the April 18 issue of the Hereford Brand, has been reprinted in the May — June issue of The Chuck Wagon, the magazine of the Texas — Great Southwest Food Service Industry, published by the Texas Restaurant Association.

Mrs. Forbus is the owner of the Green Hedge Cafe on East Highway 60 in Hereford. The feature story told not only of her experiences in the cafe business but of her homelife. It centered upon how she, as a widow with a daughter, filled the gap in her life by adopting a boy — now a dentist in Dumas and president of the Panhandle Dental Society.

The story by staff writer Earl Moseley and pictures by Tyler Vance of the Brand were contributed upon the request of The Chuck Wagon's editor.

EMPLOYEE HONORED — Mrs. Christine Lance, long-time employee at Anthony's downtown was presented a pin and a corsage Tuesday by store manager, Jim Fields, for her 15 years of service.

Local Teacher Is In "Texas" Drama

Mrs. Sheri Davis Kerr, a new teacher for Hereford who has been assigned to Stanton Junior High School beginning in September, has been selected as a member of the "Texas" musical — drama production, to be presented for its third season this summer at Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Mrs. Kerr was costume mistress for the original "Texas" production.

She has been active in Alpha Psi Omega and Buffalo Masquers.

Prior to the Hereford schools, she had taught in schools at Plainview, Hale Center, Lubbock, and LaJunta, Colorado.

She was married on May 31 to Norman Kerr.

Mrs. Kerr reported for rehearsals on June 1, and will be working from 1 to 5 and 6 to 10 p. m. each day throughout this month. The presentation begins on June 29 and will continue through Labor Day, with performances slated every night except each Tuesday.

"TEXAS" is the story of the settling of the area. With a cast of 65, it is a drama intertwined with native folk songs and dances going back to the Panhandle country of the 1880's. The story is challenge, humor, pathos, and excitement — reliving an unforgettable era in the American history. Cowboys, Indians, horses, wagons, and western characters are in authentic settings. People marvel at the perfect acoustics, stereo sound and dramatic lighting in the amphitheatre with a 600 foot canyon wall for a backdrop in this spectacular setting for the stars.

The amphitheatre was built as a memorial by the people of the Panhandle in cooperation with the State of Texas. The drama was listed in the top twenty travel attractions over the United States by the National Association of Travel Organizations for the years 1966 and 1967. It has also been honored by the FREEDOMS FOUNDATION at Valley Forge and is being recommended to overseas visitors by the publication, FESTIVALS USA, a publication of

The Peace Corps Placement Test will be given to all interested Deaf Smith County residents this Saturday at 1:30 p. m. in the Post Office Building at Amarillo. The building is located on Fifth Street between Taylor and Fillmore.

The most important factor in the selection of the volunteers is the application form which they fill out. This application must be filled out and given to the tester before taking the test.

Applications may be obtained from the local post office or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D. C. 20525.

These tests are for persons who want to use their skills in helping to develop the nations around the world. The test requires about 90 minutes, to de-

Hereford Girl Has Begun Trip

Judy Hollingsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hollingsworth of Hereford, left Wednesday morning for Dallas to join a group of 100 other students for a two-week trip to Washington, D. C.

Miss Hollingsworth won the trip through the Rural Electric Cooperative speech contest held in April. One boy and one girl from each area is chosen to go to Washington, and Miss Hollingsworth and a Dimmitt boy were chosen out of five area towns, including Nazareth, Dimmitt, Hereford, Friona, Bovina. After arriving in Dallas, the two will join the other students on the chartered buses and leave from there for a tour of several states in the U. S. In Tennessee the group will have the chance to visit the "Grand Old Opry" and a tour of many of the large towns is in store for them also.

At Washington D. C., they will view the Washington Monument, Lincoln's Memorial, the White House, Capitol, and maybe even enjoy a speech from the President of the United States.

A magazine of slides of Washington, D. C., and several other photos, along with various material, will be given to them upon their return home.

The Tower of the Americas at HemisFair '68 has two observation levels offering a view of 100 miles around San Antonio.

Field Day Is Set On Wheat

Wheat Field Day is scheduled for Tuesday at the USDA Southwestern Great Plains Research Center at Bushland.

Dr. Kenneth Porter, who is in charge of the wheat breeding program at the Center, announced that tours on research plots will begin at 1 p. m. and continue throughout the afternoon.

Dr. Porter said that visitors will see experimental short wheat varieties, hybrid wheat trials, crossing blocks of male sterile wheat, short barley varieties and irrigation tests on wheat. Also shown will be dryland and irrigation tests of River 68 and Triticales, a new man-made and wheat-rye species.

Interested individuals and wheat producers have been invited to attend the Wheat Field Day. Most commercial varieties of wheat presently on the market are being grown in both irrigated and dryland tests, and will be observed and discussed on the tour.

The United States Travel Service.

The Palo Duro was once the sheltered passageway to the Southwest and was inhabited by dinosaurs, mammoths, buffaloes, Indians, comancheros, smugglers, and pioneers. The canyon is a tremendous abyss 120 miles long covering over 15,000 acres.

Paul Green, author of "TEXAS" has four other such productions currently operating in the United States. THE LOST COLONY at Manteo, North Carolina opened in 1937 and the play still draws thousands to that historic spot each summer. Other dramas are the COMMON GLORY at Williamsburg, Virginia; the STEPHEN FOSTER STORY at Bardstown, Kentucky and CROSS AND SWORD, at St. Augustine, Florida. Green is currently working on historic dramas for Ohio and Georgia.

Exchange Students Have Made Lasting Memories

By PENNY YOUNG
Staff Writer

The end of a big year, and the beginning of the long trip home are facing Housein Shevaki and Kaiji Laine, American Field Service students for Hereford High School, as they prepare to return to their homeland.

Shevaki, staying in the home of the G. R. Polen's at 119 Kingwood, will leave for Brownwood June 23 where he will meet buses carrying nearly 3,000 AFS exchange students. The bus that he will be riding will leave Brownwood at 4 p. m., June 24.

A tour of the United States, speeches, and a meeting at his embassy in Washington is in store for Shevaki before returning to his native island of Cyprus. The end of the line for the buses will be in the Baltimore-Washington area where the reception at the embassy will take place.

The students also enjoy a tour of New York where there is much sightseeing and local community activities. Finally at New York, Shevaki, along with the other AFS students, will be interviewed by the AFS International staff.

It seems that Hereford has left quite an impression on the exchange student as he states that his fondest memory will be with the senior class of 1968. Out of the 11 months that he has spent in Hereford, nine of them have been with the senior class.

"I'll remember all the nice people of Hereford," comments Shevaki, "as they always have treated us no nice. I'll never forget the Lion's Club either, and consider it as one of my most important memories. The Lion's gatherings are unforgettable. My U. S. family I will never forget either. They are as my own family in Cyprus, and you can never forget your own family. It's the same thing."

One thing that did impress Shevaki was the church organizations in the U. S. He states, "In my community, they never go to churches, at least not very often. The young people don't worship like they do here. I don't know why they don't worship."

School's also present a different story in Cypress and Shevaki explains, "Our schools are attended for studying only, and to learn. We have very little outside activities such as the ones in Hereford schools. Here, the students not only study but they have other activities. You can enjoy yourself better. They don't have such clubs as Lion's, Rotary, or Kiwanis in our country either but if they did, I would join them. All of the organizations, I would join. I was a member of the Key Club, Junior Historical Society, and Lion's and I was so busy all of the time. But I enjoyed it. If the people in our country could have these organizations, they might learn to be better united and organized. That's the aim of these clubs and organizations, to be united, and to work together. The Lion's Club has some 150 members and at least a 100 make every meeting. It's great that these men can be united and work together."

The university in Turkey was the first destination of Shevaki as he had planned on attending it, however, Cypress schools have a different system and Shevaki decided to go ahead and attend his last year of high school in his country even though he did qualify for the university.

"They said that I could attend the university," he explains, "but I wanted one more year in high school for the main reason that I wanted to be with my family. I also want to prepare myself for college better. Another reason is because I want to take the things that I've learned in the U. S. and practice them in my country. I was sent here to learn the ways of the U. S. and new ideas and it wouldn't be right if I didn't spend at least one year at home practicing them. I appreciate my stay and I am thanking all of the people of Hereford, the senior class, and teachers for all of their nice treatment and hospitality."

"KATIE" TO LEAVE

From Oklahoma City, with a very large group of AFS exchange students, Kaiji Laine, who is staying with the H. A. Caviness family, here in Hereford, will travel from there to Washington, D. C. Then she will go to the Netherlands, arriving there July 20 and arriving home in Finland, the first of August. But of course, Miss Laine couldn't leave the U. S. without an extended tour which will take about three weeks, after the boarding of the bus on the 25th of this month. A get-together at her embassy in Washington will also take place after her arrival there.

Miss Laine, having enjoyed her stay in Hereford immensely, seems to find it hard to express herself in the right words. She states, "I have so many wonderful memories from Hereford. It's hard to say what is most impressive. I can't separate my memories, it's all one big lovely memory."

Thinking first of her school back in Finland, Miss Laine states that she has many wonderful ideas to take back with her and she can't wait to try them.

"First of all for my school," she comments, "I am taking back the idea of Student Council, and the way it works. When I went to the Student Council Convention this year, I got many new ideas that we can use in my school. So many things that I've picked up in the U. S., I can't name just any one. When I go back, my family in Finland is going to be able to notice the changes, but I can't do much. They will notice my different actions, talk, and ways that I've picked up. I even think that I've acquired a certain Texas accent, but no one else seems to think so. Do I think that the students will be responsive to my ideas? Yes, indeed, because all of my Finnish friends are very open-minded and are always looking for new ideas to improve the old ways. I've made some notes about things worth using. This way we can try and get student life more active in our school. This keeps the kids interested in what's going on. Of course, it might be organized a bit different, but it will work."

After returning home, Miss Laine has two more years of high school to attend before she can really take that big step into college. Her high school diploma from the Hereford schools will mean nothing to the administration but only to herself. It can't be used for further education in Finland, therefore, she must receive her diploma from her Finnish school.

"I want to attend some type of university after my high school years," she states, "and in about 20 years when I am very very rich, I want to come back. If I just say that I'm going to miss Hereford, it doesn't get over what I really feel because I'm going to miss the people that I should thank and cherish. That's one thing that I do know. It's for sure that I'll never forget them or any of Hereford. There are so many people that I should thank and so many that have done so much for me that I can never say how grateful I am. Everybody has done so much and it would take many years to pay back the kindness."

Although Kaiji and Housein will be leaving Hereford in a few weeks, it can truthfully be said that they have left a lasting impression on the community and people in a way that they will never be forgotten.

The Confluence Theater at the HemisFair '68 federal pavilion will feature separating walls and screens growing increasingly larger until a single panoramic screen fills the viewer's field of vision.

C-C Manager Is At Confab

The 62nd annual Conference of the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers in Longview, which began Saturday and ran through Wednesday, is being attended by manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, W. T. "Bill" Thompson. The TCCM conference headquarters is the Contessa Inn where registration took place Saturday afternoon.

Over 200 Chamber of Commerce Managers from all parts of the state were expected to attend the conference to hear talks on the conference theme and the program has been designed to equip TCCM members with the latest techniques in handling Chamber programs. TCCM President L. E. Gilliland, manager of the Texarkana Chamber of Commerce, described the conference program as being designed to "re-equip our Chamber managers to meet the challenges of change."

"The program will have practical application and is designed to give our member managers some fresh new ideas to meet the new challenges facing Texas Chambers," Gilliland stated.

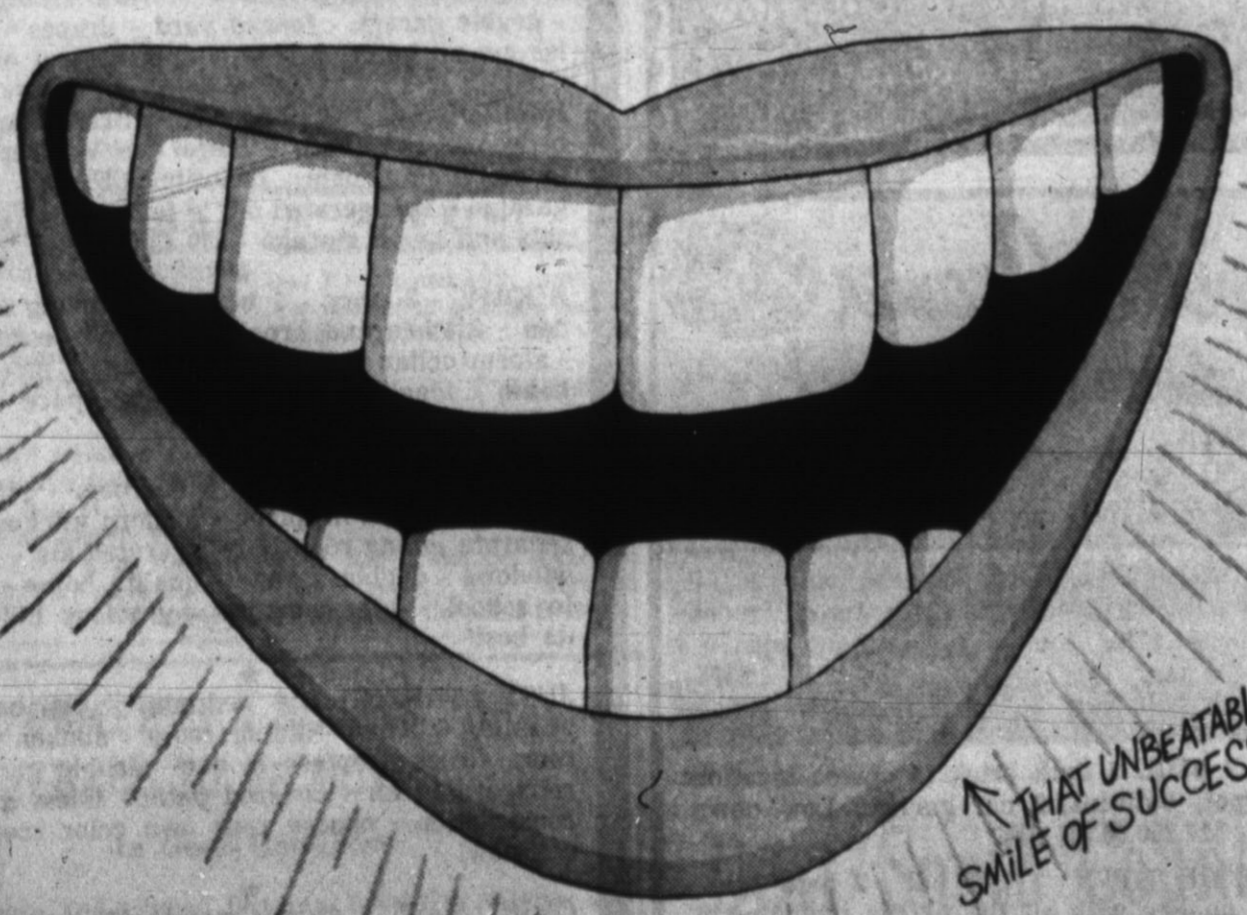

TCCM is the oldest state association of Chamber of Commerce executives in the United States and is also the largest such association in the nation.

The 622-foot Tower of the Americas is designed to accommodate 1,750 visitors to HemisFair '68 each hour.

HOMEWARD BOUND — Katie Laine and Housein Shevaki, AFS students of Hereford High School for the 1967-68 school year, will be returning home shortly after a year of United States and Texas life. Miss Laine and Shevaki are shown packing their bags for the trip home, and Miss Laine casts an admiring glance at her HHS diploma before packing it.
