ONE-DAY HONEYMOON

Hagler Back In Ft. Worth Jail

FORT WORTH — In-again, out-again David F. Hagler Jr. was back in jail this morning.

He surrendered at 9:45 a.m. to Sheriff Harion Wright, after Gov. Shivers approved extradition to Oklahoma to face a murder charge.

But Hagler's attorneys asked Judge Dave McGee for a writ of habeas corpus to free Hagler while their extradition appeal is pending before the Court of Criminal Appeals.

McGee set a hearing on the request for 10:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Jerry Murad said he would fight setting of bond on the extradition appeal. Defense lawyers expect their appeal to delay Hagler's removal to Oklahoma for two to three months.

Hagler, looking refreshed after an overnight honeymoon, was wearing the brown slacks and white shirt he wore at his wedding yesterday afternoon to Elisabeth Maria Bergmann, 25.

Hagler, 36, and the shapely former German war bride of an American GI, were married yesterday by a county judge in a 4-minute ceremony.

The Fort Worth business man wore no coat and his bride wore the same gray jersey dress in which she flew back from Munich, Germany, to aid him in his fight against the murder charge. As his wife, she cannot be made to testify against him.

A charred corpse, believed to be Hagler's at first, was found near Davis, Okla., Oct. 10 in a station wagon he had borrowed from his ex-wife. Three days later, after police established the body was not Hagler's, he surrendered to police here and was charged with the slaying.

Stains Found Not Blood After All

OKLAHOMA CITY — Claude Seymour, assistant chief of the Oklahoma Bureau of Investigation, today said stains found in the apartment of David Fred Hagler Jr., Fort Worth murder suspect, were not blood.

Seymour said a chemist's report showed the stains probably were from a soft drink spilled on the walls and drapes.

The stains were found in Hagler's Fort Worth apartment.

Seymour also said officers were checking on the report D. W. Stanley, Fort Gibson, Okla., was missing and might be the unidentified victim.

Seymour said he was told Stanley left his mother's home at Apple Springs, Tex., at a time which should fit the situation. The charred corpse, first believed to be Hagler's, was found near Davis, Okla., Oct. 10.

The OBI operative said Stanley left Texas for Fort Gibson and has not been heard from since. He said he was about Hagler's size.

Favor To Queen Mother Allows Ship To Depart

By HAL COOPER

LONDON — Tugmen eased the liner Queen Elizabeth out of Southampton harbor in a loyal gesture to Britain's Queen Mother today—and then began debating whether to join the waterfront strike which has paralyzed Britain's major sea-ports.

Queen Mother Elizabeth, for whom the ship was named, sailed for New York and a month's visit to the United States and Canada.

It had been feared that the 18-day dock stoppage, now involving more than 43,000 men, might hamper her departure.

The walkout, loudly backed by British Communists, stems from a demand by dockers for the right to reject overtime work. Fewer than half the strikers have the backing of various unions involved.

Queen Elizabeth II, who began this morning a two-day tour of south Lancashire, made a pointed change in her schedule to avoid the picketed Liverpool dock area.

The still-growing stoppage held 296 ships idle in London, Liverpool, Birkenhead, Hull, Southampton, Garston and Rochester.

Export shipments worth more than $0 million pounds (234 million dollars) were piled up on the wharves.

Food reserves, especially of imported eggs, butter and bacon, were dwindling.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill's government gave no sign of any immediate intention to use troops for unloading essential imports as has been done in previous major dock stoppages.

A government board of inquiry, which began investigating the dispute yesterday, is expected to continue hearings until Saturday. The government likely will wait until the inquiry ends before ordering out troops.

Suggs Bids Low On Base Project

A. E. Suggs Construction Company of Big Spring is the apparent low bidder for the proposed post exchange building at Webb AFB.

The Suggs proposal, opened Wednesday at the U. S. Engineers district office in Albuquerque, N. M., was for $68,107, as compared with $64,898 for the government estimates. Leroy Lang of Big Spring was second low with a bid of $85,420 for the structure. Third was Westex Construction of Borger with a proposal of $101,000. Actual award has not been made.

The bid of $362,575 for base hangar and maintenance shops, submitted by Cooper Construction of Odessa, was still under study by the U. S. Engineers. Suggs was of $308,134 as against a government estimate of $413,654. Earlier the possibility of an error stated in extension by the low bidder was second low on this with a proposal taken into consideration.

Indecent Exposure Case Investigated

The city police were working with District Attorney Gullford Jones today in conducting an investigation of an alleged indecent exposure case.

The case involves a number of junior high school girls, who say that a man has exposed himself to them. Report was made to police yesterday at noon by teachers with whom the children talked.

District Attorney Jones stated that evidence concerning the case will be presented to the grand jury when it meets next week. No arrests had been made this morning, police said.

Medical Speakers Gather

Clinicians who are conducting today's medical meeting at the Big Spring Veteran's Hospital were snapped prior to the opening of lectures this morning. They are, left to right, Dr. Bromley Smith Freeman of Houston, Dr. Jackson H. Friedlander of the local VA Hospital, and Dr. Arthur Grollman of Dallas. The medical meeting is sponsored jointly by the Perlmutter Basin Medical Society and the VA Hospital and is the first of its type in this area. Doctors had registered this morning from a number of surrounding counties. Dr. Grollman, chairman of the experimental medicine department at Southwestern Medical School, was to have talked this morning on "The Hypothalamus and Its Disorders." Dr. Freeman, plastic surgeon and noted lecturer, is scheduled to speak on "Plastic Surgery of the Hand" this afternoon. Dr. Friedlander introduced the two speakers to West Texas physicians and led off the morning's discussion.

FIVE WOMEN, FOUR MEN

Ninth Juror Chosen For Trial Of Sheppard In Wife's Death

By WILLIAM NEWKIRK

CLEVELAND — The ninth member of the Sheppard murder trial jury was selected today as the trial began moving along at a swifter pace.

Two housewives were named to the panel today. The latest chosen was Mrs. Margaret E. Adams, wife of a vice president of a metal parts firm. At that point, five women and four men had been selected.

Earlier, Mrs. Beatrice Orenstein, wife of a postal clerk, was named.

The trial recessed for lunch after the ninth juror was picked.

Continuing the pattern of the first three days, defense attorneys hammered at the juror's views on sex as attempts were pressed to select a panel to try Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard on a charge of beating to death his pretty wife, Marilyn, 31, last July 4.

In questioning Mrs. Orenstein, William J. Corrigan, chief defense attorney, asked:

"Do you remember reading in the papers about a young lady named Susan Hayes?"

Then Corrigan asked whether she had read articles concerning a connection between the pretty, suburban-haired technician and the handsome Bay Village oostepath.

Again she said she had.

Finally Corrigan asked whether she had read where "Susan Hayes had revealed to a Press (Cleveland Press) reporter that she had had intimacies with Sam Sheppard."

She said she had read it.

Corrigan dropped that line of questioning and Mrs. Orenstein was seated in the jury box soon after she stated:

"I have already instructed my family not to question me at all about the case, but I've been in questioning prospective jurors yesterday.

They wanted to know if the venemore would be prejudiced against a person who might have engaged in illicit love.

The name of curvaceous Susan Hayes, 24-year-old hospital technician, came up with increasing frequency.

Dr. Sheppard, a boyish-faced oostepath, is charged with first-degree murder in the bedroom slaying of his wife Marilyn, 31, on July 4. He says a mysterious intruder killed her.

Miss Hayes' name came up at one point in questioning by Garmonne of Mrs. Louise K. Feuchler, eventually seated as a fifth juror.

Garmonne asked Mrs. Feuchler several questions about whether she had seen published pictures and stories about Miss Hayes, and for the first time was not met with objections from the prosecution and Judge Edward Blythin.

One of Garmonne's questions was:

"Susan Hayes made a statement to a reporter during her travels here from California about the fact that she had been intimate with Sam Sheppard. If you read that quotation by Miss Hayes, would that cause you to become prejudiced?"

Mrs. Feuchler replied, "No."

Later, Corrigan tried the same line of questioning with another prospective juror and was halted by the judge.

Corrigan was outraged. He

ANSWERS DEMO CRITICISM

Eisenhower Tells Nation Of Foreign Policy Hopes

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

NEW YORK — President Eisenhower told the nation last night his administration has "come far" toward blocking Communist aggression and winning lasting world peace, but that Russia and Red China still are dangerous threats.

The White House called his message "nonpolitical," and the President termed it a reply to sharp criticism fired at Republican foreign policy by former President Harry S. Truman and Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee.

But Eisenhower's assertion that the free world can "indeed take heart" over what he outlined as progress achieved in the struggle against communism contrasted with the picture painted by Truman and Stevenson last week.

On the President's calendar is another major address here tonight and it-like last night's—is being tabbed "nonpolitical" by the White House.

He will speak at the annual Alfred E. Smith Memorial Dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The address is scheduled for 10:30 p.m. EST.

The President spoke last night to 1,800 guests at a dinner marking the 30th anniversary of Jewish life in the United States.

Mentioning some obstacles still in the way of achievement of an enduring peace, he declared:

"The principal and continuing factor is the persistently aggressive designs of Moscow and Peking, which show no evidence of genuine change despite their professed desire to relax tensions and to preserve peace."

But, he said, much progress has been made toward thwarting the spread of communism — through the new Western Europe defense alliance agreement and through the Southeast Asia pact recently signed at Manila, for example.

He also mentioned improvement of the situation in Suez, Trieste and Guatemala. He cited other areas and other fields, too, and added:

"In these many ways our nation will continue tirelessly in its quest for peace based on justice. In recent months we have come far—and yet we know that the road ahead is long and difficult."

President Enters Governor's Race In New York State

NEW YORK — President Eisenhower told state Republican campaign workers today prior to a whirlwind tour of New York City that it was "tremendously important" that U. S. Sen. Irving M. Laves be elected governor to carry on the GOP program.

Newsmen traveling with the President said it was the most outright endorsement that Eisenhower has given to any individual candidate in the present political campaign.

The tour of the city, which began immediately after the brief talk to campaign workers, came as a surprise.

It was reminiscent of the famous motorcycle ride the President Franklin D. Roosevelt took, seeking a fourth term, toward the city he headed in a heavy rain during the 1944 presidential campaign.

Referring to the current political campaign in the state, Eisenhower said:

"One indispensable ingredient in any victory is heart."

He declared that many things were necessary to win—organization, plans, money—but that none was so important as the heart for a fight.

He said there was nothing secret about the ballot he intends to cast.

"I'm going to vote a straight Republican ticket," he said, adding that he was going to do so "enthusiastically."

To Ink Documents At Later Session

BULLETIN

PARIS — Seven European nations, including a West German on the verge of all but full sovereignty, today agreed to join a "Western European Union" for common defense. The United States and Canada will stand by as partners and guarantors.

PARIS — The three Western Powers and the Bonn Republic today reached complete agreement on steps to end the Allied occupation of West Germany and restore virtually all sovereignty to the West Germans.

The foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France took the action this afternoon in a brief session with West German Chancellor-Foreign Minister Konrad Adenauer.

The documents, along with a series of annexes covering West Germany's future relations with the West and the status of Allied armed forces in West Germany, are to be signed in a formal session Saturday.

Today's action cleared the way for West Germany's incorporation into a seven-power West European Union and membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Treaties embodying these steps are to be signed Saturday also, pending successful conclusion of additional talks to be held here.

The three Western Powers retained a few strings on West German sovereignty to enable them to negotiate with the Soviet Union on German reunification and on a peace treaty for a reunited Germany.

They also kept the right to resume the occupation in case of emergency and power to cope with the special situation in Berlin.

Following this brief session West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden and French Premier-Foreign Minister Pierre Mendes-France went into session with ministers representing Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Italy and Canada to study the projected "Western European Union."

This union, embracing a revised and reinforced Brussels alliance and grouping Britain, France, the Benelux countries, West Germany and Italy, is designed as a framework for West German rearmament within the NATO structure. Canada and the United States are in the role of guarantor nations.

The parley was considering measures to supervise and control German rearmament under such a pact. West German and other sources predicted quick agreement before nightfall.

The French-German dispute on the Saar appeared the only major hurdle in the tight ministerial schedule.

Mendes-France has said he will

Women's Group Exceeds Quota In UF Campaign

The Women's Division of the United Fund had exceeded its quota this morning and money still was trickling in Mrs. Norman Read general chairman, reported.

The Women's Division report was to be submitted along with reports from all other divisions at a noon meeting today.

Campaign leaders were hopeful the reports would put the one-year drive well past the half-way mark toward the $82,151 goal.

Response in the Employe Division appeared to be extremely favorable. A preliminary report from T&P Railway workers indicated the average contribution, per employee there is running about 25 per cent ahead of the 1953 average. It was hoped that employees of other organizations were responding equally as well.

Drive leaders pointed out that the Employe Division apparently must provide most of the 10 per cent increase in the United Fund budget, and widespread participation as well as liberal giving will be necessary to make the campaign a success. Leaders in the various divisions are plugging toward a wind-up deadline of Friday, Oct. 29—just eight days away.

Quota for the Women's Division was $1,250. Mrs. Read said this morning that $1,263 had been collected in a whirlwind canvass of residential districts Tuesday and Wednesday.

More than 50 women, organized into seven sections, conducted the canvass. The section chairmen are Mrs. A. K. Turner, Mrs. W. C. Foster, Mrs. Don Newsum, Mrs. Floyd Mayes, Mrs. H. W. Kirby, Mrs. Tootie Mansfield and Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr.

ONE OF SEVERAL MISHAPS Semi-Trailer Truck Burns After Crash

An 18 or 20-ton semi-trailer truck burned on Highway 90 west of Big Spring Wednesday after it collided with a 19-ton road roller being used in construction of the freeway.

Highway Patrol officers said the truck struck the rear of the big roller as both machines moved toward Big Spring.

The truck burst into flames and was destroyed following the collision. One wheel was knocked loose from the heavy roller.

Steve G. Morris, Big Spring, operator of the roller, suffered a wrist fracture as he was thrown off the machine. The truck driver, John Lee Odell Jr. of Denison, was not injured, the officers said.

The mishap occurred about noon Wednesday some six miles west of Big Spring at a point where freeway construction is under way. Damages were unofficially estimated at $7,500 or more, including $8,000 to the truck and its cargo and $1,500 to the roller. The truck, loaded with oil field equipment, was the property of the J. H. Rose Company.

The truck-roller crash was one of three highway mishaps reported near Big Spring Wednesday.

No one was injured in a three-vehicle smashup at Birdwell Lane and Highway 90 near the east city limits. A car, truck and pickup were involved.

Officers said a car operated by Oscar Gordon Hughes, 1556 Tucson, was struck in the rear by a pickup, driven by Gerald Dean Hartley, Box 642, as the car prepared to make a left turn. A truck, driven by James C. Killingsworth and approaching from the opposite direction, then was in a collision with the Hartley pickup. Both the truck and pickup are the property of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

The automobiles were described as "a total loss" following the accident, while damage to the pickup was estimated at about $300 and to the truck at about $50.

The other mishap occurred at the bridge on Highway 80 about 1.3 miles east of the city limits. A car driven by Neil Leroy Fleming of Odessa went out of control, spun around and skidded backward into the bridge abutment.

The investigating officers said a fire blew out on the car as it attempted to pass a truck which was passing another automobile.

Fleming received a cut on his face, but did not receive medical treatment.

Ambulances were dispatched to the scenes of two automobile accidents in Big Spring yesterday, but drivers said that none of the people involved were taken to local hospitals.

The collisions were at the intersection of Tenth and Nolan and in the 500 block of Northwest Fourth Street.

Claire Johnson Olask, Box 871, and Mary McNeil, Fort Worth, were drivers of cars in accident at the intersection. The collision was about 4:25 p.m.

Vehicles operated by Odeur Johnson, 507 NW 2nd, and Veto Gomez, 608 NW 4th, were in collision on Northwest Fourth. Driver of the Nalley ambulance said cars were damaged considerably, but that there apparently were no injuries.

T-Sgt. Sam Allcott, State Hotel, advised police about 10:45 p.m. that his parked automobile rolled into a 1951 Chevrolet behind Harris Cafe in the 200 block of Gregg.

A motorcycle was pushed over on the Hamby Used Car Lot last night and damage resulted to a neighboring car, police said.

not ask the French Assembly to ratify any agreement on German rearmament unless he is satisfied on the Saar issue by the end of this week.

Between conferences with Allied ministers, Adenauer was conducting delicate negotiations with leaders of other parties of his coalition cabinet in an effort to win wide backing for any eventual agreement with the French on the Saar.

He also was awaiting the arrival of opposition leaders from Bonn to see if German "bipartisan" policy could be worked out for a large-scale economic and commercial agreement with France.

Adenauer and Mendes-France already have conferred twice this week on the Saar issue. Leaders of Adenauer's coalition government, summoned here from Bonn, met today with the Chancellor, who told them of a French plan for sweeping economic, commercial and industrial coordination between France and West Germany. Mendes-France has proposed this program as a foundation for a compromise on the Saar dispute.

Adenauer came up with a surprise move this morning when he called Socialist opposition leader Erich Ollenhauer and Karl Mommer, one of the leading Socialist members of the Bundestag, to join him at the conference and perhaps hammer out a West German bipartisan stand on the Saar question.

Mommer is the Socialist's expert on the Saar and author of a plan for a French-German commission to supervise the area with a neutral chairman.

In the nine-nation conference, the minister studied two protocols or amendments to the Brussels Treaty. One would admit West Germany and Italy to membership. The other defines the functions and powers of the projected arms control agency to limit armaments of the Germans and the continental area.

Mendes-France is presenting a proposal for a "European armament pool" to control the import, production and distribution of weapons on the Continent. The French also are pressing for a longer list of weapons whose production would be forbidden to the West Germans.

The other Allies disagree. They think fewer weapons need to be controlled and by far less rigid methods. The others, with a possible exception of the West Germans, are cool to the arms pool scheme and think it should be shelved for the time being.

The United States opposes letting anyone else hand out arms it supplies to Europe.

Numerous Home Towns Are On HCJC Enrollment List

Howard County Junior College has drawn from two score Texas points outside of Big Spring as well as eight states other than Texas.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, said that the 404 enrolled included 171 full-time day students, the latter category representing an increase of 45 per cent over the same class a year ago. Total semester hours for HCJC rose by 850 over the previous year, an increase of over 30 per cent, Dr. Hunt added.

Of the total, Big Spring contributed the greater proportion of the enrollment of 264. This was divided between 111 regular academic students who are graduates of Big Spring High School and 153 adults who are participating in various classes, principally the night sessions.

There are 31 others from Howard County points, including 17 from Coahoma, nine from Forsan, four from Knott, and one from Luther. Martin County has contributed 11 with six from Stanton, two from Courtney and one each from Flower Grove, Tarran and Lenora. Dawson County has 13 in HCJC, with Lamesa sending seven, Ackerly four and Klondike two.

There are four enrolled from Sweetwater, two each from Westbrook, Denver City, Monahans, as well as Lovington, N. M., Clovis, N. M., and Long Beach, Calif.

Other points furnishing one student are Evansville, Ill., Wilmington, Del., Bridgeport, Conn., Marianette, Wis., Jacksonville, Ark., Watsonville, Calif. and Anthony, Kans., and from Orangeville, Fort Worth, San Angelo, Dallas, Comanche, Garden City, Friona, Gall, Knappe, Mobeetie, Cliffcreek, Fluvanna, Edgewood, Ballinger, Moran, Albany, Merkel, Edina, Pearsburg, Reagan and Slaton.

There also is one student from Cuba, a professional baseball player who decided to remain for college training. Sixty-eight men from Webb AFB also are enrolled in the college.

Decision Of Court In Fee Case Cuts Official's Pay Here

A decision of the Texas Supreme Court Wednesday will mean a reduction of about $15 per month in the pay received by the Howard County tax assessor-collector, Viola Robinson, county tax officer, estimated today.

The Supreme Court declared unconstitutional a 1951 law which provided that assessor-collectors in counties of more than 20,000 population be paid an extra nickel from the county's share of the fee for issuing automobile title certificates. The five cents was to pay tax officers for the extra trouble involved in collection of the fee for the county and state.

The certificate of title fee is 50 cents. This is shared on a 50-50 basis by the county and state. The 1951 law provided that five cents of the county's share should go to the tax collector.

Mrs. Robinson said the law has been under dispute virtually ever since it was passed. The test case was a dispute between Wichita County and Tax Assessor-Collector Jim Robinson and the court held that the act under which Robinson received extra pay was unconstitutional since the officer is paid on a salary and not a fee basis.

The Howard County tax collector estimated the five-cent fee amounts to an average of about $15 per month here. The county's share of certificate of title receipts in September amounted to $172.13, which would make the five-cent portion aggregate about $43 for that month.

Communist Warships Are Seen In Pacific

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — Communist warships have been contacted in the Pacific, the commander in chief of the U.S. Pacific Fleet said yesterday.

Adm. Felix B. Stump declared at a news conference that none of the Communist warships or submarines has acted in a hostile manner. He didn't identify the Communist craft but he obviously referred to Russia.

He indicated the Communist vessels, which he said have been sighted throughout the Pacific, were unaware that they had been seen, thus suggesting the contacts were made by U.S. submarines.

"We constantly observe movements of vessels in different parts of the Pacific, submarines and various types of craft whom we have identified as Communists," he said.

His remarks followed a two-day conference between Stump and the commanders of Navy forces from the Far East, Japan, the Philippines, the West Coast and Hawaii.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Reader Wonders If End Is To Justify The Means

Dear Sir:
At the first meeting of the P-TA in one of our ward schools the sale of candy to the children was voted to be discontinued on the grounds that "candy is ruining our children's teeth and appetites." The fact is that about a month ago sweets in the school was banned because they were bad for our children. Monday our children came home with the information "to raise money for a P-TA project, the P-TA will sell frosted cup cakes at both recesses and at noon with peanut butter and jelly sandwiches."

What kind of temporizing makes it wrong for children to eat candy because it harms teeth and dulls appetites and makes it right to eat frosted cupcakes, which will do the same effect, because the P-TA needs the money?

This is similar to a time in a small Montana town. A carnival moved in and the good people of the churches insisted the constable close up the wicked gambling, meaning the bingo game.

The same week the churches were holding bingo games to help build up a church fund. If gambling is bad in carnival grounds it is also bad in churches. If sweet candy is bad for children's teeth and appetites, sweet cakes are also bad.

By following the reasoning of these people, it would be proper for the police to sell narcotics for their widows and orphans fund, and for children to steal bus caps from parked cars so they may donate to the United Fund drive. These are both good and worthy causes, but is the end justified by the means?

Englishman Seeks American Papers

Dear Editor:
I write this letter hoping that by some means you may be able to get me a contact in your town who would be interested in an exchange of local newspapers and magazines. The reason I wish this is that I am very interested in America and the American people. There are plenty of travel books and articles on the American way of life but so few of them deal with the ordinary person, Mr. average Man. So by reading papers of towns like Big Spring, I hope to advance my knowledge.

The reason I am writing to you is that I know of no one in the States to whom I may write. So by looking at a map, I have tried pot luck.

Today with the world in a devil of a mess, I feel the peoples of the free world should get together and know each other better regardless to politics or religion. This I hope to do.

Before signing off I would like to mention that I live in Brighton, which is a seaside resort 50 miles south of London, and is a very wonderful town surrounded by scenic beauty and farmland. The population is approximately 140,000. The industry is only light, most of the towns' income is from holiday people and pleasure beaches.

My age is 25 and I have recently completed my Army service, most of which was done in North Africa. I hope that I will hear from someone in Texas before long. I thank you again.

Sincerely,
PETER C. HARRIS

Kremlin Opens Gap On Exports To Red Chinese

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
LONDON (U)—Russia and her European satellites have opened a big hole in Western barriers against war potential exports to Communist China. They are buying strategic goods from the West and selling them to the Chinese, making a neat profit in the bargain.

American and British officials, here and elsewhere know what is happening but say they can see no way of stopping it.
This is the Western gimmick the Kremlin has turned to Eastern advantage.
The United States and her allies forbid the export of certain strategic goods to both Eastern Europe and Red China. But the list of goods embargoed for Red China is far longer than the one for Eastern Europe.
Red Europe thus can buy Western goods that the Chinese cannot—things like generators, machine tools and petroleum equipment. Western officials say European Communist nations are buying these items for transshipment at top prices to the Chinese Reds.
One of the big Communist transshipment points is Gdynia, Poland. From there Western goods go by rail to Peiping via the Trans-Siberian Railway, or are carried into Chinese ports by Red ships able to evade the Chinese Nationalist naval blockade.
Several shipments of strategic items from the West were recently held up at Gdynia by a transport bottleneck, according to information reaching Western diplomats.
The strategic ban on Red China, imposed by the United Nations during the Korean War, has always been tougher than the cold war embargo on Soviet Europe. And with tensions easing in Europe, the West relaxed embargoes for the Soviet bloc last August, cutting the number of prohibited items from 250 to about 170.
But the Far East situation remained potentially explosive and similar action on the Red China lists was deferred.
Western European businessmen are urging their governments to let the Chinese Reds buy what European Reds can buy.
The United States opposes any change in the China lists before the signing of a full Korean peace.

Farmers Hurrying Small Grains Into Ground Over State

AUSTIN (U)—Texas farmers are hurrying small grain into the ground before all the scant moisture from recent showers gets away, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported Wednesday.
Wheat, oats, barley and winter legumes were being planted in all sections as winter wheat planting was near completion in the high plains.
A combination of high temperatures early in the week plus dry cold later in the period sapped much moisture from the soil, the USDA's weekly review said.
Cotton harvest was in full swing in the northwest and Trans-Pecos areas. Field work was resumed in commercial vegetable areas in the lower Rio Grande Valley as the effects of recent heavy rains were dissipated.
Northern blackland, northeast and southern counties were favored with rapid development of fall pasture grass after the early October rains and the following warm weather.
Almost everywhere else, the hot sun dried the ground before grasses could get started and the winter range outlook was not good.

Applications Flood Bowl Headquarters

DALLAS (U)—The public sale of Cotton Bowl tickets doesn't start until Oct. 25 but there already has been a flood of applications.
They'll all be returned, Cotton Bowl officials said today.
Football fans who want to see the Jan. 1 game between the Southwest Conference champion and an as yet undetermined visiting team must not mail in applications until Oct. 25 and none after Oct. 28.
Only ticket applications coming in on the proper dates will be included in a drawing for the 25,000 tickets available to the general public.
Applications should be mailed to the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, National City Bank Building, Dallas 1, Texas, with a check covering $4.80 for each ticket and a 25-cent mailing fee added to the check.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

times even later, are dahlias, asters and chrysanthemums.
In many places, especially in public parks, electric lights are employed to show off the flowers after sunset. In a garden near my hotel I counted 60 green-domed lamps, each about 36 inches tall. The purpose of these lamps is to let people see the flowers at night.
Time and again, while riding in a taxicab, I have seen a small vase fastened to the board in front of the driver, a little to the right of the steering wheel. Each vase contains one or more flowers.
In addition to the flowers which may grow in their home gardens, Dutch folk like to have bouquets inside their homes. Men and women sell flowers in the middle of the city, and cars filled with flowers go through the outer parts of Amsterdam. Many of the men with carts—flower merchants, as we may call them—have regular customers and sell bouquets to them at least once or twice a week.
Keeping in mind the love of Dutch folk for many kinds of flowers, let me refer again to the tulips. Thousands of bushels of tulip bulbs are exported each year, and they go to many foreign countries.
Tomorrow: Delftware.

DATE DATA

By Beverly Brandow

The Question Box

Dear Miss Brandow:
The boy I'm wild about works nights and calls me during his break. Lately I haven't been home to receive his calls. I would like to see more of him. What can I do to keep him interested and from getting mad?
Lois

Cupid would find it smooth flying if all the snarls of romance could be so easily set straight. Stay home and talk to him when he calls. If you're really wild about him, this will be a pleasure, not a chore. Be willing to "keep company" by phone for awhile, and I'm sure his interest will mount and he will find some way to take you on a date in person.
Dear Miss Brandow:
My date has loads of personality and appeal, but when we go out with his friends, he insists in showing off by getting drunk. Much as I've talked to him about it, it's always the same old story. Is there nothing I can do?
Charolotte

You can quit dating him. Perhaps that sounds drastic, but it takes drastic measures to control drastic problems.
Lots of boys drink themselves into instability these days because they think it is smart. Whether they go to the movies, watch television, or read a book they find the hero blurry-eyed and reeling, but nevertheless admired. We are all copy cats and oftentimes it takes a shock to make us realize that many of the movie situations just don't go in real life.

Regardless of what you think of the drinking problem, the fact remains that getting drunk on a date is a very serious breach of etiquette and certainly implies lack of respect on the part of your date.
You don't have to stand for this behavior. If you and your friends would refuse to date this type of boy but stubbornly insist on gentlemen, we would soon have more gentlemen.
Giving a party? Make it smooth. Send for Beverly Brandow's free booklet, "Party Plans," in care of The Herald.

By The Associated Press
Two Texas Democrats—the congressional leaders of their party—continued their appeals Thursday for a Democratic 84th Congress and promised it would not be "left wing."

Rep. Sam Rayburn, dean of Congress and the House Democratic Leader, spoke in Independence, Mo., home of former President Harry S. Truman, while Senator Lyndon B. Johnson plugged for party strength in Tucson, Ariz.

Both Rayburn and Johnson have been active for weeks in a gigantic drive to take control of Congress from the Republicans who held a bare majority in the 83rd session. Rayburn has predicted a Democratic House with a 20 to 40-seat majority. Johnson on Wednesday night in Las Vegas, Nev., predicted a 20 to 25-seat majority in the lower house and a 5-seat margin in the Senate.

Johnson told a press conference in Las Vegas that Republican assertions that a Democratic majority would push Congress toward the left were untrue. He said that if his party were victorious he probably would be Senate Majority Leader, and added:
"I'm certainly not left wing."

Johnson, currently Senate Democratic leader, in a Wednesday night speech on behalf of Nevada Democratic candidates, commented:
"I don't blame the Republicans for running scared. In fact, after what they have done, I would think they would be frightened to death to face the voters."
"They now have one campaign theme and one campaign theme only," he continued. "It is to elect a Republican Congress blindly, without regard to the merits or qualifications of individual Republicans. This is a strange note."

"They have concentrated on a myth that there will be a 'cold war' when a Democratic Congress is elected."
"If there is any cold war, the Republicans will have to start it themselves. We Democrats will be too busy trying to transact the business of the nation."
"However, I can well understand why the Republicans are so quick to accept the cold war interpretation of American politics. They have been carrying on that kind of war amongst themselves for the past two years."
"It seems only natural to them that they will have to carry on such a war against Democrats."

Johnson told the Las Vegas audience that it was Democrats overriding what he called the "Republican isolationists," that put through much of the program which President Eisenhower called for. The President had to rely on Democrats, he said, when his own party could not agree among themselves.

"It was a Republican committee majority that plunged a dagger into the heart of the President's resolution condemning Red Russia."
"It was a Republican committee majority that sought to emasculate the President's authority to streamline the government."
"Are we to assume that such chairmen and such majorities are to be re-elected in the 84th Congress to do what they refused to do in the 83rd Congress?

"It must be depressing to the President to have to surrender to the politicians of the Republican party. He is their only hope—and it is a slim hope indeed."
The Rayburn and Johnson appearances are part of campaign the Democratic National Committee says will cover 29 states in its drive for victory in the Nov. 2 general election.
State, national and congressional leaders are taking part in the drive.

'Hard-Core' Employers Sign Gotham Drivers' Wage Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—A five-day strike by truck drivers in the New York metropolitan area ended last night as the last "hard core" employer group agreed to the union demand for a 25-cent-an-hour package increase.

Trucking company officials predicted that the settlement will raise trucking fees by 10 to 15 per cent, that many trucking companies will go out of business and that manufacturing firms will flee the area to avoid the increased rates.

David Kaplan, chief economist for the union, urged the drivers to "give the employers a good day's work and to cooperate in every way possible to increase efficiency so as to minimize the unit cost of the wage increase."

To the employer predictions of the effect of the increase, Kaplan said it could not be "so disastrous or the strike would not have ended so quickly."

Two small northern New Jersey firms, employing about 1,000 drivers, continued to hold out. The reason for the firms' resistance is an added 41-cent-an-hour increase they would have to pay to close the gap between wages in their areas and those in New York City.

At the start of the strike, 24,000 drivers were out.

The walkout ended officially when Joseph M. Adelizi, chairman of the Area-wide Employer Negotiating Committee, announced that all of the area's 2,500 firms were released from a pledge to resist the demands of the striking AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

However, a majority of the firms broke the solid employer front Monday, the first work day of the strike, and signed individual contracts with the union.

Iran's Lower House Ratifies Oil Treaty

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The Iranian Majlis (lower house of Parliament) today ratified the new oil pact aimed at getting Iran's multimillion-dollar petroleum industry back in operation. The vote was 113-5, with 2 abstentions.

The final draft of the agreement, which gives a consortium of eight foreign countries the job of developing the nation's oil resources, was initiated Aug. 31.

The consortium includes British, French, Dutch and five American companies—Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, Standard of California, the Texas Co., Gulf Oil Co. and Socony-Vacuum.

The measure now goes to the Senate, where passage within 10 days virtually is assured.

Nixon Claims Demos Left Behind Plans For Socializing United States Economy

By The Associated Press

President Eisenhower buckled down today to some frankly political doings after an avowedly non-political speech last night in which he declared his administration has "come far" in its quest for lasting world peace.

Meanwhile, Vice President Nixon was giving a helping hand to Joseph T. Meek, who is running in Illinois for the Senate seat now held by Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas.

In a Chicago speech last night, Nixon said that when the Eisenhower administration took over 21 months ago it found the Democrats had left in the files what he termed "a virtual blueprint for socializing America" through "socialized medicine, socialized housing, socialized agriculture, socialized water and power and . . . socializing of . . . atomic energy." He did not elaborate.

At an earlier news conference, Nixon said the Republicans have been gaining ground in the last week or 10 days and that the congressional elections can be won or lost by either party between now and voting day, Nov. 2.

But Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, appearing on a television program in New York last night, said a Democratic trend is "fairly definable."

Other Democratic campaigners were busy yesterday peppering the Eisenhower administration and the Republican congressional record.

In Las Vegas, Nev., Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas said he doesn't "blame the Republicans for running scared . . . After what they have done, I would think they would be frightened to death to face the voters."

Johnson said Eisenhower is the GOP's only hope "and it is a slim hope indeed."

At Williamson, W. Va., Sen. Neely, a Democratic candidate for re-election, told an audience the Eisenhower administration has left many West Virginia miners jobless because of its policy on foreign oil imports. Neely referred to Eisenhower as a "cynic."

Defending the administration in Newark, N.J., Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said the Democrats are talking "nonsense" about the administration's tax program and unemployment. He said "every single" taxpayer had benefited from tax cuts since Eisenhower took office. And he said further, "It is the first concern of this administration to do everything in its power to relieve unemployment . . ."

Alteration In Lord's Prayer Under Study

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Episcopalians from the Middle Atlantic area today considered a suggested change in the wording of the Lord's Prayer.

The proposal would change the phrase, "Lead us not into temptation," to read, "And let us not fall when tempted."

It was met with mixed reaction on the floor of the meeting of the 25th Synod of the Episcopal Province of Washington. Representatives of 13 Episcopal church dioceses are attending.

Deep Breather

No tension for Paramount's lovely Maria English, and she gives the credit to simple deep breathing exercises. Maria is currently being seen in "Living It Up."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Breathing Exercises Help Relieve Tension

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—Maria English is headed for big things in Hollywood. Paramount has already featured the beautiful blue-eyed girl in "Living It Up," "Rear Window" and "About Mrs. Leslie." And you'll be seeing lots more of her in the future, too.

I met Maria in a department store in Beverly Hills the other day and even though she had been shopping for several hours and was loaded with packages, she looked calm, relaxed and refreshed. I told her she looked wonderful.

"It would be better for most persons' nerves and health if they spent more time relaxing," Maria said. "Even the people who wait on you in the shops rush about so that I feel like saying to them 'slower please, I am in no hurry.' I agreed with Maria that this was something we should work on and asked if she had any suggestions on how we should begin.

"Deep breathing is a fine way to help release tension." She suggested that everyone begin by taking note of how they breathe.

"Take a deep inhalation and hold it for a moment, then exhale deeply as if you were emptying your lungs of all gaseous residue and waste matter. Then breathe again and this time as you inhale think of the fresh, clean air that is filling your nostrils, windpipe, bronchial tubes and passing on to be absorbed by the bloodstream.

"After breathing this way several times, you should feel like yawning and after only this little rest, you should feel refreshed and much more relaxed.

"There is great power in breath," Maria continued. "In fact, the ancient Greeks had the same word for breath and spirit, and breathing exercises were part of most religious ceremonies."

"You sound like you have made quite a study of this," I commented.

"Not really," she smiled. "But I am quite a stickler on the subject of correct breathing and I was surprised to find that so many of my Hollywood friends who place so much emphasis on other types of exercise did not think breathing exercises were worth bothering about. I think, however, that I've managed to convert a few of them."

"The best time to do these exercises is before going to bed—especially if you have trouble sleeping. But," cautioned Maria, "remember that concentration is necessary and be sure you breathe from the diaphragm and not the chest."

Teachers See Skit, Flower Arrangements

"The Great Quovadis," a skit showing the benefits that can be had through concentrated efforts of professional organizations, was presented Tuesday evening for the Classroom Teachers Association.

Taking part were Del McComb, Mrs. John Coffey, Mrs. Ruth Burnam and Glenn Guthrie.

Seven members of three local garden clubs showed how flower arrangements can be used in the schools in social studies classes to bring about appreciation of and conservation of plant life. Mrs. C. M. Boles made a seasonal arrangement, which could be used all during the fall or for two holidays especially. This was a pumpkin, used with witches, cats and other Halloween decorations and changed into a Thanksgiving arrangement by the use of fruits, vegetables, or other fall material.

Mrs. J. B. Knox presented an autumn arrangement in the Line Mass class. She used fall foliage in shades of purple combined with pears and green and purple grasses.

Choosing a Western theme, Mrs. Royce Satterwhite made a grouping of an old ox-wagon filled with native grasses, cockle-burra, yucca and sunflowers. Mrs. W. D. Caldwell showed the club an assortment of bright flowers in a gay Mexican basket.

Mrs. D. M. Penn, with her Japanese Line arrangement, gave a short history of flower arranging. She told how the Chinese monks salvaged flowers and limbs of trees, which had been broken in storms, and used them in their cells and meeting places. The Japanese, learning the art, carried along the three elements of heaven, man and earth. To demonstrate the growth of life, she used a pomegranate as a small bud and one which had opened and was dried. These were placed in a cypress knee against a background of canna leaves.

Mrs. Obie Bristow, using "conservation material" made an arrangement of native plants and shrubs. She included algertia, Javelina brush, an evergreen native shrub, skunk brush, hybrid gallardia and a branch of hackberry with a bird's nest in it. With this, Mrs. Bristow impressed upon her listeners the importance of teaching their pupils not to molest birds and their nests.

It was announced that there is a possibility of the local association's having the national Classroom Teachers Association president come here this year to attend a meeting.

Thirty-three members attended.

News From Webb Air Force Base
By JAMES F. KRUEGER

CATHOLIC CHAPLAIN LEAVES
Catholic Chaplain Hugh Lennan left Webb AFB yesterday on furlough prior to departing the United States for a tour of duty with the Far East Air Forces. While no military replacement has been named for the popular chaplain, Father Benjamin Wagner of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Big Spring will conduct Catholic services on base. Chaplain Lennan arrived on Webb last December. This was his first military assignment after entering the Air Force chaplaincy and attending chaplain's school at Lackland AFB, Texas. He is a 1943 graduate of St. Bonaventure University in New York where he prepared for the priesthood.

CADETS ARE TOP MARCHERS
Webb squadrons were judged during the Wing Review held on base recently, and the Cadet Squadron was announced this week as best. The squadron will receive an Air Force blue and gold streamer for their gaudon during a retreat ceremony to be held soon.

Other squadrons among the top three were the Student Officers and 3561st Maintenance, respectively.

SPORTS FIELD BEING BUILT
Work began last week at the flying training base on an athletic field which officials hope to have open within four months. It is being built by Suggs Construction Company of Big Spring and will cost approximately $19,000.

Located in the center of the base, the field will include a football field, three volleyball courts, and one handball and one basketball court.

UNITED FUND GETS BOOST
The United Fund Appeal got off to a warm start at Webb yesterday with pay day collections being taken in every squadron. Lt. Col. Jack P. Goode, project officer, said he was well pleased with initial contributions. Although the donations have not yet been completely counted, the colonel said he believes Webb personnel were generous.

A second donation will be made Nov. 5, next pay day.

TOP PARACHUTE 'RIGGER'
Mrs. Claudene Reid is Webb's top parachute rigger. She has worked at Webb packing parachutes during two wars, WWII and the Korean War.

Mrs. Reid has helped save 17 lives. That's the number of pilots or crew members who have bailed out of their plane in an emergency and landed safely on the ground, thanks to a parachute packed by Mrs. Reid.

One of her most satisfied "customers" is Capt. Eber Neely, Commander of the 3562nd Periodic Maintenance Squadron at Webb. When he found it necessary to bail out in 1952, the captain thanked his lucky stars that the parachute had been packed so carefully. He has since requested that Mrs. Reid's personal attention be paid to his parachute whenever a re-pack or ten-day inspection is performed.

NEW PERSONNEL SERVICES OFFICER
Lt. John Kenahan has been assigned to Webb as Personnel Services Officer. He replaces Maj. Harry Long. Maj. Long has been named Personnel Morale Officer, a new function at the air base. Maj. Long's new job is an Air Base Group staff level function. The Personnel Morale Section maintains operational control over the Personnel Services office, base housing, postal facilities, and base clubs.

PAPER WINS FLYTAF AWARD
The Springboard, official newspaper for Webb AFB, has been awarded the "Certificate of Merit" in third quarter judging of the FlyTAF OIS base newspaper competition. The award was based on newspapers printed from July through September.

The Springboard is published by the Office of Information Services at Webb every Tuesday for distribution throughout the base on Wednesday. It is printed by the Big Spring Daily Herald.

ADABEL, Okla. (AP)—After seven straight girls, Mrs. Joe Herron has given birth to a son, thereby precipitating a family crisis. The parents had picked a girl's name for the baby before birth but—naturally—had not bothered to think up a boy's name. They were stumped.

Herron said he and the seven daughters are locked in arguments over a possible name.

Rebels Gunning For A Pighide

By JOE BENHAM
Associated Press Staff

Southwest Conference football teams stored up energy Thursday for a weekend into which all seven members will take some sort of axe to grind.

The squads ended rough work Wednesday with heavy scrimmages in all camps except Arkansas.

At Fayetteville, the Razorbacks kept up light but steady work which Coach Bowden Wyatt hopes may keep Arkansas in the unbeaten class after Saturday's meeting with Mississippi at Little Rock.

The game is left-handed conference affair, since it will have no bearing on Arkansas' leadership of the Southwest Conference race but will affect the standing of Ole Miss in the Southeastern Conference chase.

Ole Miss couldn't schedule enough games with SEC teams to qualify for the championship, so the loop fathers designated Saturday's game a conference clash as far as Mississippi is concerned.

Wyatt was no less serious in his outlook on the game because of its non-Southwest Conference standing, since the Porkers must win to keep their place in the nation's top ten football teams.

The Razorbacks were reported in top physical shape for the tilt. Southern Methodist, which matched Arkansas' 1,000 mark in the conference standings although with one victory to the Razorbacks' two, spent Wednesday working mainly on punting.

The Mustangs drilled long and hard, mixing in passing and occasional running with the kicking intended to bring their punting mark up from its point as the worst in the conference. Duane Nutt and John Roach stood out on the booting in preparation for Kansas.

At Houston, where Rice and Texas meet in a battle of the SWC's once-beaten Saturday, the Owls concentrated on defense while scrimmaging well over an hour. Coach Jess Neely said he expects the Owls to have the same lineup ready to go against Texas as that which lost, 20-8, last week to SMU.

Texas matched the stiffness of Rice's workout with the Longhorns' third straight day of contact work. Quarterbacks Pat Tolar and Charley Brewer were put through their toughest paces both on the ground and in the air as Coach Ed Price attempted to give Texas a more balanced attack by Saturday's game. Price noted improvement in the Longhorns' aerial game, but said the squad has a long way to go yet.

News of injuries came from both the Texas Christian and Baylor camps.

At TCU, Horned Frog Coach Abe Martin announced that starting end Bryan Ingram would miss Saturday's clash with Penn State due to a knee injured last week against Texas A&M. Sophomore Jim Cooper will start in his place.

Martin said. Another newcomer listed for the Frogs' forward wall was Bill Stephenson, who replaces second-string tackle Norman Hamilton.

Baylor's loss was Bill Green, junior right tackle, who was injured in Monday's practice and will miss Saturday's homecoming clash with Texas A&M. Sophomore Bill Parsely and junior college transfer David Lunceford were moved into Green's place. The Bears worked mainly on passing and defense Wednesday.

Gavilan Camp Cries 'Foul' As Saxton Crowned Champ

By MURRAY ROSE
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Johnny Saxton won the welterweight title from Kid Gavilan last night.

Today, with cries of "robbers" from the Gavilan camp echoing around him, Saxton went into court to face a possible 15-day sentence. He is charged with 12 traffic violations.

"I hope the judge will give me a break," said the 24-year-old New Yorker.

Gavilan insisted he got no breaks last night when a highly controversial unanimous 15-round decision relieved him of the 147-pound crown he had worn for 3 1/2 years.

While the referee and two judges were in accord and had Saxton the champion by the 12th round barring a knockout, 20 of 22 boxing writers at the ringside had Gavilan the winner in what had to be the worst fight of his career.

Gavilan, alternately crying and screaming and alternately retreating and unretreating, sobbed after the fight.

"People don't talk for nothing. I know from the first round on that I cannot win. The referee he gives Saxton everything his way. I no want to fight no more. I give my left hand—I give my right hand to the Pennsylvania commission. Everything steak."

"The Keed he is robbed," screamed his manager, Angel Lopez. "The Keed, he is jobbed. I know he have to win big but after he take last three rounds I figure for sure they must give him the decision. I say to the Keed, 'They cannot take it away from you.' I am wrong. I give you the Pennsylvania commission. They can take the championship and keep it."

"It never was contemplated that Mr. Mack would be given an opportunity to look for other purchasers, or to do anything except to talk to his family.

"It seems unbelievable to me that the agreement with me made in good faith ... has now been violated."

Miami Placed On Probation For One Year

By ED TUNSTALL

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The ambitious University of Miami (Fla.), rising to national football prominence in the past few years, today faced the possibility of going through the season undefeated and sitting out New Year's Day without an invitation to a bowl game.

The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. handed Miami and City College of New York one-year probation for alleged infractions of NCAA regulations.

The 18-member executive council of the NCAA also reprimanded the University of Portland (Ore.) and Western Illinois State College at Macomb for reported violations of other NCAA rules.

The committee on rules infractions reported Portland violated NCAA regulations by conducting tryouts for 11 prospective basketball players last April while Western Illinois State participated in the Corn Bowl football game at Bloomington, Ill., last Nov. 26. The Corn Bowl is not recognized by the NCAA.

The council also announced at its final session that Michigan State College, placed on probation in August, 1953, for conducting football tryouts, had been restored to all "rights and privileges of an NCAA member."

The probationary period handed CCNY bans the New York school's basketball team from playing in the NCAA National Championship tournament at Kansas City in 1955. The council's move was the first action taken against CCNY since the school's basketball scandals of 1950 resulted in a complete overhauling of the college's athletic setup.

The council's report said that the "high school records of 14 or more athletes admitted to City College of New York during the years 1945 to 1951 were sufficiently and fraudulently changed to establish eligibility for admission to the college."

The ruling affects only CCNY's basketball team with respect to NCAA-sponsored or approved tournaments or post-season events.

All of Miami's teams, on the other hand, are barred from competing in any NCAA-approved post-season game or tournament.

Steers Cover All Phases In Drill

The Big Spring Steers have covered practically every phase of defense and offense in workouts this week, in preparing for Friday night's District 1-AAA football game in Plainview.

Yesterday, the gridders took extended drills in kickoff workouts before "knocking heads" in an old-fashioned scrimmage.

Brick Johnson missed most of Wednesday's rough work, due to a recurring leg injury, but the speedy halfback is due to see lots of action against the Bulldogs, barring another mishap.

Scout reports paint a dark picture for the Steers. Coach Roy Baird, who saw the Plainview team in action against Breckenridge, said the Buckles did not deserve to beat the Bulldogs four touchdowns.

Plainview has been the hard-luck champion to date. The Bulldogs are winless in five starts but they outplayed Vernon before losing in the closing moments, 19-13. In other starts, they have shown great promise.

In other games, too, they have been plagued by injuries. Now, they're at near top strength and could be set to play the game of their lives.

The Bulldogs have great incentive to win this one, since the Steers have won by scores of 33-0 and 32-0 over them the past two years.

A defeat by the Bulldogs would just about eliminate the Steers from title competition, since the locals have already been tied by Vernon.

In Wednesday's workout, Quarterback Tommy McAdams and Halfback Frosty Robison were showing to good advantage in running with the ball.

Trust Newell picked off several passes as a defensive halfback, giving promise that the Steer aerial defense will improve over last week.

The Steers are due to taper off with a light workout this afternoon.

Trio Returns From Hunting Expedition

A party composed of Dr. Carl Williams, Rex Bishop and Hershel Petty—all of Big Spring—have returned from a hunting trip that carried them through Wyoming and parts of Montana.

The trio got as far north as Sheridan, Wyo., and saw antelope running in herds of from 30 and 40 alongside Highway 87. In the evenings, the deer would approach the highway.

After reaching Wyoming, each killed an antelope and each got a deer the second day.

The antelopes dressed out at about 90 pounds each. The deer weighed up to 170 pounds.

The hunting seasons are being extended in that area because of the prolonged drought. The game commissions do not want the herds to become too big.

In the Big Horn mountains, although the weather was not too cold, Bishop and Petty engaged in a snow ball fight.

The party traveled 3,250 miles and was gone about ten days.

Seven-Up retained its lead in Women's Bowling League standings by swamping Pinkie's Liquor Store in three straight games here Wednesday night.

Dibrell's Sporting Goods, which trails Seven-Up by one game, blanked Jax Beer by the same score.

In team scoring, Seven-Up registered a 641-1767 for top honors while Dibrell's trailed with 627-1734.

In individual play, Marie Brewer of Dibrell's boasted a 191 for the best single game and was second to Jesse Pearl Watson, Seven-Up, in aggregate point-getting with a 472. Miss Watson had a 505.

New Owners Of A's Sweat Out Threat Of Law Suit

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—The stock-buying syndicate of the Philadelphia Athletics, sweating out word of an American League blessing that would make their deal official to keep the club in Philadelphia, today was threatened with a big damage suit by Arnold Johnson.

The Chicago industrialist declared he felt "wronged by the Philadelphia group who so suddenly appeared on the scene," and has placed the matter in the hands of a Philadelphia law firm to study the advisability of filing suit.

"In view of the indicated advance ticket sale (in Kansas City) of almost two million dollars, the measure of my damages should be substantial," Johnson said. "The suit would be not only for the cash damages sustained by me, but also on the grounds that this group joined together to induce a breach of the contract which I made in good faith for the purchase of the A's."

In a Chicago meeting nine days ago, American League club owners voted to shift the A's franchise from Philadelphia to Kansas City.

"Roy Mack at that time agreed without equivocation to sell the team to me for transfer to Kansas City," Johnson said in a statement. "It never was contemplated that Mr. Mack would be given an opportunity to look for other purchasers, or to do anything except to talk to his family."

"It seems unbelievable to me that the agreement with me made in good faith ... has now been violated."

Lions Approve HCJC Singers

Orian Johnson took the wraps off his Howard County Junior College choir here Wednesday noon, and if applause is an indication, the unit scored its first hit of the season.

The 25 singers, who have been practicing for about a month, made their initial appearance before the Lions Club. From the spirituals to the novelties, they drew sharp and prolonged applause.

On Oct. 28, the choir will go to Pecos to appear on the program of the District No. 8 Federated Women's Club convention.

Wednesday the group sang an arrangement of the Twenty-third Psalm; a spiritual, "There Is A Balm in Gilead," Dennis Phillips as soloist; Dvorak's second movement from the "New World Symphony," using Reba Ruth Taylor and Nancy Milford as soloists; a syncopated arrangement of "Coming Thru the Rye," and the lively spiritual "Dry Bones."

Southern Association Group Accepts BSHS

Big Spring High School has been accepted without reservation by the Southern Association committee, W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, has announced.

County Parole Board Lends Helping Hand To Former Inmates Of Prison

Existing primarily as an agency to help convicted felons "go straight" is the Howard County Parole Board.

"We try to counsel with them on their problems, help them keep jobs, and guide them over the rough spots they're bound to run into," says Lt. Robert Hall of the Salvation Army, chairman of the local parole board.

The board, which includes Robert Stripling and Loyd Wooten, now has 12 parolees under its supervision. A 13th was discharged only last week, his prison sentence having run out.

Members of the board counsel with parolees at least once each month as a part of the program for rehabilitating former convicts and assisting them in "finding their place in the community," Lt. Hall explains.

The counseling session usually comes when the parolee makes his monthly report to the parole board. Board members are available for consultation at any time a problem arises, however.

The report normally is made to the chairman. The parolee must list his address, place of employment, income, the type of work he is performing, etc. Hall inquires into other activities and whether he is having any unusual difficulties.

If some problem arises, such as loss of employment, board members will assist with its solution. New jobs often are found, and the parole board also has assisted with the alleviation of family difficulties which arise in some instances.

The parole board chairman each month must make a report to the State Board of Pardons and Paroles concerning each parolee's conduct and progress toward rehabilitation as a citizen.

The board also may recommend that a parolee be revoked, if it finds that a parolee fails to abide by rules of his parole or if he fails to cooperate in some other manner.

This seldom becomes necessary, however. In the last three years, only one parolee has been revoked from this county. That was the case of a parolee who persisted in "getting into trouble" and who finally told Lt. Hall he'd "rather be in the penitentiary."

That prisoner now is attempting to secure a second parole.

Most parolees make every effort to stay out of prison the first opportunity they get. Some get into trouble occasionally, of course, but parolees aren't revoked ordinarily unless the person is convicted of some offense. If a parolee is convicted of a felony he goes back to prison automatically, of course. In the penitentiary he must finish serving out his old sentence before starting the new one and becoming eligible for another chance on the outside.

The county parole board never revokes a parole and it never secures a parole for a penitentiary inmate. It can only recommend, and local board members have been informed by the state board, which grants the parole, that its letter in connection with application for a parole will bear little weight.

County board recommendations have considerable influence, however, when it comes to revoking a parole.

To secure a parole, a convict must make application to the State Board of Pardons and Paroles. The application usually is accompanied by documents of concurrence from the sheriff, judge and other officials in the county to which the prisoner wishes to be paroled. The applicant also must have promise of employment in case of his release.

In receiving the application, the state board secures a report on the applicant's prison record. If it is satisfactory and if the prisoner has served a third of the time for which he was sentenced, the state board then writes the chairman of the county board to determine if the latter group is willing to accept the prospective parolee. If not, the parole will not be granted, at least not to the county requested.

If a prisoner receives a parole, he must report immediately to the board in the county to which he is released. The local board sets up his file and attempts to see that he fits into the new environment.

Lt. Hall points out that although the parolee must have promise of a job when he is released, he is under no obligation to accept that job. He may look around for a better position. The proposed employer is not required to keep the employee, either.

The parolee usually fits right into the job, but he may keep it only while he looks for a better post.

If the parolee becomes unemployed, he must report to the parole board daily until he finds a job. Otherwise, he reports once each month. Parole report days in Howard County are on the first, second and third of each month, unless one of these falls on Sunday. In that event the parolee may report a day earlier or later.

Parolees may be transferred from one state to another, if conditions warrant the transfer. Usual such transfers are made to per-

Parolee's Record Checked

Chinchilla Raisers Here View New Pelt Market With Optimism

By CLIFTON LAWHORNE

Despite the low prices received for chinchilla pelts in a recent public auction at New York City, local chinchilla raisers are as optimistic as ever concerning the value of the small animals.

One of the main reasons for optimism, as explained by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crosland of the Crosland Chinchilla Ranch, is that pelts are now selling for higher prices.

The Croslands are so enthusiastic that they will operate their ranch in the future for the production and marketing of pelts. In the past they have concentrated on the selling of breeding stock.

The 10 other people in Big Spring who raise chinchillas also have been encouraged since the let-down they received from the auction. This includes Roy Bell, who operates the only other large ranch in the city.

The auction was held last June, and some 10,000 Empress Chinchilla pelts were sold. The bulk of the pelts brought prices between $30 and $50, though some few did skyrocket to a high of $175. Average price was $36.77.

Mr. and Mrs. Crosland readily point out, however, that the pelts sold at the auction were in the main "culis," or those which were not so desirable. The few quality pelts brought good prices, even at the auction where buyers were offering as little as possible, they said.

Actually the auction was the first time that chinchilla pelts had been offered on the American market since the early 1930's. Buyers might not buy, the Croslands explained.

In a like manner, the chinchilla raisers did not kill their best animals for pelts until they knew what kind of payment to expect. The auction apparently was a trial balloon for all, the Croslands stated.

This theory is supported by the fact that buyers are now purchasing chinchilla pelts on "private treaty" deals and at the price asked, the Croslands explained. It has apparently been decided that chinchilla furs will sell to the public.

At a recent meeting in Lubbock of the National Chinchilla Breeders of America, Inc., a representative of Nieman-Marcus in Dallas said

Mississippi Clubs Fight To Retain Separate Schools

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A statewide organization to guide the activities of "Citizens Councils," groups of white men combining to keep segregation, has been created and its full-time executive secretary, Robert B. Patterson of Holly Ridge will open state offices in Winona. Representatives of 21 councils met there a week ago to form the state group.

The councils, insisting they will avoid violence if possible, plan to throw community weight against any attempt to break down segregation laws and customs in Mississippi.

Centered in the agricultural Delta where the Negro population is heaviest, the councils began springing up in the late summer. Membership now numbers an estimated 5,000.

that chinchilla pelts are selling there at $5,800 each. He encouraged those attending the meeting to continue raising the animals.

Chinchilla pelts are being marketed through the national association by the marketing organization, Farmers Chinchilla Cooperative of America. The pelts sell as Empress Chinchilla and are being advertised under that name in national publications.

Big Spring chinchilla raisers did not send any pelts to the first auction, but some now have pelts ready to sell. E. L. Stagner, Colorado City rancher, received $40 for one of his pelts at the auction.

The Croslands point out that the sale has also shown chinchilla raisers what to look for in an animal. Buyers showed they are interested in density, color and size, and ranchers are trying for perfection in these fields.

An inspector from the NCBA periodically visits Big Spring and other Texas cities having chinchilla raisers and rates the animals. The Croslands maintain records on all chinchillas and are proud of their animals, which they say have been graded of exceptional quality.

The Croslands started with one pair of breeders. They have sold a good many during the few years they have operated the business, and replacements have been frequent.

Some chinchillas sell for as high as $5,000 while alive, though the majority go for a figure between $500 and $1,500. This is much more than the pelt is worth, but the high price results from breeding possibilities.

Joe Venick is starting a chinchilla ranch in Stanton and Mrs. Earl Stephens has a ranch in Lamesa. Stagner, the man who sold a pelt at the auction, is in business at Colorado City.

The Croslands estimate that around 100 people are members of the West Texas Chinchilla Association, and an education field day is slated in the near future. Dr. C. D. Yarbrough of Coleman is president of the Texas branch of the NCBA.

There are more than 14,000 members of the NCBA over the United States.

Part Of Big Mural

Peter Hurd, San Antonio, N. M. artist, surveys a part of his 16-panel fresco mural in the rotunda of the museum at Texas Tech. The mural, largest of its type in Texas, will be completed early next month. Formal dedication is scheduled for Nov. 18.

DORA ROBERTS FEATURED

Big Mural At Texas Tech Pays Tribute To Pioneers Of Plains

LUBBOCK — A pictorial monument to the pioneers of West Texas—three years in the making—nears completion on the campus of Texas Tech.

Artist Peter Hurd is applying the final touches on a 16-panel fresco mural in the museum at Tech that will commemorate so long as the museum stands those men and women who carved an empire from the Plains. Included is the late Mrs. Dora Roberts, prototype of the pioneer woman.

The mural, forming a continuous landscape around the rotunda, will be completed early in November. Hurd began actual work in February, 1953, following almost two years of preparation.

Each panel will feature the likeness of a man or woman who made a significant contribution to the development of West Texas. While actual persons are portrayed, each has been chosen to represent a class of leadership.

Those persons honored are: Marcy Mathias Dupre, school teacher; D. R. Couch, farmer; Crone Webster Furr, merchant; Dr. Clifford B. Jones, civic leader; Mrs. Dora Roberts, pioneer woman; W. H. Bledsoe, lawyer; James L. Dow, journalist; M. V. Brownfield, townbuilder; the Rev. Robert F. Dunn, circuit rider; Sid Richardson, oilman; Sam C. Arnett, cowboy; Walter S. Posey, freighter; Dr. Marvin C. Overton, doctor; Charles Ernest Maedgen, banker; and William E. Haisell, rancher.

To complete the mural, a panel devoted to the chroniclers of West Texas is being donated by Hurd.

A panorama of the rugged West Texas land dominates the background and serves to bind together the lifesized panels.

Live models were used for all portraits and, where possible and feasible, the persons posed for themselves. In the case of those who were deceased or unable to pose, the heads were done from photographs. Models of approximately the same size and shape were used to get proper body dimensions.

Hurd signed a contract to paint the mural, the largest in Texas, in November, 1951. He began with charcoal sketches, advancing to a miniature model of the rotunda.

On the model the landscape, buildings and background were carefully reproduced with portraits of the persons to be memorialized being blocked in. From there, the artist prepared full scale cartoons or drawings. These were done to exact scale as they today appear on the walls of the Rotunda. He began actual work on the walls in January, 1953. All together, he has spent approximately one full year in the museum painting the mural.

A formal dedication has been scheduled for Nov. 18.

PURE CANE SUGAR AT ITS BEST

Drilling For Oil In Nudist Camp Is No Easy Task

SAN ANTONIO (U)—It was a distracting task for the drilling crew. They were simply making some core tests about 17 miles southeast of San Antonio to see about locating an oil well.

But the site of their operations was in the midst of a 13-acre nudist camp and there were some nude women standing around to watch the proceedings. There was a nude man, too.

A celebrity of the nudist world, Evelyn "350,000 Treasure Chest" West, was there, wearing shoes to make the occasion even fancier. She flew in from New Orleans, especially for the event.

Directing the oil test was M.P. "Monk" Wilson, San Antonio oil operator, and two associates, Victor Prassel and W. H. Winerich. Two photographers were there. Overhead, a helicopter hovered as another photographer tried to get close-up shots.

No one connected with the newspaper business remembered to find out how the coring tests went and whether they showed promise.

Although sugar cane was grown in Hawaii when it was discovered by the Western World, the people of the islands had not learned the art of making sugar from it.

Ticklish Job Unloading Mechanical Pachyderm

Workers here tackle a ticklish unloading job at the T&P yards where a heavy scraper, weighing almost 20 tons, was unloaded for W. D. Caldwell, local dirt contractor. Caldwell acquired a pair of the TS-200 models which develop 175 hp from the Diesel motors. Additional "boards" have brought capacity of the scraper to 15 cubic yards. A bulldozer pushes from behind while the scraper is loaded. Hydraulic lifts pick up the load and the unit chugs off with the cargo up to 21.5 miles per hour, if needed. Both units have been put to work in a big levelling operation in eastern Big Spring.

Farmers To Vote On Cotton Quotas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's cotton farmers will vote Dec. 14 on an Agriculture Department proposal that would reduce marketings of the 1955 fiber crop about 18 per cent below this year's restricted level.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson last week set the 1955 crop marketing quota at 10 million bales, the minimum permitted by law, in a move to restrict production and reduce a current surplus.

By comparison, this year's crop, also grown under controls, has been estimated at 12 1/2 million bales. The previous year's production was 16,400,000 bales.

To become effective the Benson proposal must be approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting. This year's control program won approval by a majority of 94 per cent. Growers never have rejected quotas on cotton.

To implement the quota program, Benson announced that the department will allot acreage planting shares totaling 18,113,208 acres. This year, 21,379,000 acres were allotted, but only an estimated 20 million were planted. In 1953, when there were no controls, farmers planted nearly 25 million acres.

The control program carries strong economic weapons for compliance. If a farmer overplants his allotment, he must pay a cash penalty equal to 50 per cent of the parity price on the excess cotton. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Furthermore, growers who plant more than their allotted acres are denied government price support loans, not only on cotton, but on other crops they grow.

Benson said farm legislation required him to put cotton quotas at the lowest level permitted by law because of a current excessive reserve supply of 9 million bales.

PAROLE

mit the parolee to be with his relatives or so that he may accept better employment.

The Howard County board has two out-of-state and one other out-of-county parolees in its files. One was paroled to California, another Travis County (Austin). The other nine were sentenced from Howard County and subsequently were paroled here.

While all of the 12 Howard County parolees are men, the board has had former women convicts under its supervision. Juvenile parole and probation matters are handled by the county juvenile officer.

A parolee lives under several restrictions and does not enjoy the rights of citizenship. He is not allowed to leave the county without permission. He cannot own or drive an automobile, and is not permitted to assume indebtedness, unless he secures permission. He can drink no alcoholic beverages and is not permitted to work around establishments where liquor is stored or sold.

When the parolee's penitentiary sentence expires, he is given a discharge but he still must make application for the restoration of his citizenship. This is made to the district judge and must bear the endorsement of the parole board chairman and at least six reliable citizens. When his sentence ends and citizenship has been restored, the parolee "has paid his debt" and is free to live and work like any other citizen.

Members of the county parole board are appointed by the governor, with the local Salvation Army officer traditionally serving as chairman. L. A. Hall has been chairman since he came to Big Spring in August, 1952. Stripling has served on the board since about 1947 and Wooten was appointed following the death of the late W. W. Inkman. The board has no regular meeting schedule but is subject to meet at any time.

Four In Family Attending College

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—Four Wrights, mother and three sons, are attending Pennsylvania State University.

Mrs. L. Kenneth Wright decided when she had some free time that she'd take a course in weaving. Somewhere along the line she got sidetracked and is now in the graduate school working for a master's degree in home economics.

The other Wrights attending are Stewart, 21, a senior in industrial arts; Larry, 19, a junior in hotel administration; and Darryl, 18, a freshman in arts and letters.

MRS. HAROLD TIBBS

Air Force Wife Gives Favorite Pie Recipe

Mrs. Harold Tibbs, 1200 Martje, has quite a reputation as a baker in her neighborhood, but one recipe that she hasn't tried on her neighbors is her sour cream raisin pie. Full of calories, but delicious. We're lucky to have scooped her friends on this.

Mrs. Tibbs is an Air Force wife. Capt. Tibbs is finance officer at Webb. They are both from California and she studied at the University of California preparing to be a dietitian. She did become one in her own home.

The Tibbesses have two children, Leslie and Richard, so Mrs. Tibbs is an active member of Washington Place P-T-A. Her other activities include singing in the St. Paul Presbyterian Church choir and sometimes teaching Sunday School.

To look at this slim young brunette you'd never think she ever even looked at a raisin cream pie or any other pastry. But here's her recipe.

SOUR CREAM RAISIN PIE

Ingredients:

- 1 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/4 teaspoon cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 2 large eggs
- 1 cup thick sour cream
- 1 cup apple (chopped)
- 1 1/2 cups seeded raisins (chopped)
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice

Method:

Mix sugar, flour and spices. Add to well-beaten eggs. Combine with remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly. Fill 8-inch pastry-lined pie pan. Adjust top crust and bake 10 minutes at 450 degrees, then 30 to 40 minutes at 350 degrees. The pie is tasty served warm or delicious when cooled and chilled.

This Will Pep Up Your Spanish Rice

For peppy flavor in Spanish rice, use a can of mixed vegetable juices as liquid when cooking the rice.

First brown four slices of bacon (diced) with one small onion (sliced) in a skillet. Add one-half cup rice, 1 can (1 1/2 cups) of vegetable juices, one-half cup water. Simmer about 30 minutes or until rice is tender and of consistency desired. Makes four servings.

Spaghetti, Meatballs Good After The Game

In your desire to try new recipes and serve unusual dishes to your guests, don't overlook the sure appeal of popular old favorites. Familiar foods are sure crowd-pleasers, particularly with the men. The sight of plump meatballs and tender spaghetti in a sea of spicy red tomato sauce is far more apt to "wow" your guests than is the most exotic new concoction. There is substantial proof of this statement. A recent survey made by one of the nation's leading magazines showed meatballs and spaghetti to be America's 3rd most popular dish.

Spaghetti and meatballs in an appetizing sauce makes an ideal quick and easy main dish if you're bringing several couples home after a football game or having guests drop in for an informal fall supper. With some advance preparation, it's entirely possible to serve this hearty meal within 20 minutes after you walk into the house. And the low cost... no more than 25 cents per huge serving... will tempt you to invite folks in more frequently. If you want to appear to have the "magic" touch, use the recipe below but cook the meatballs and sauce in advance and refrigerate them. Prepare the salad greens and have them ready in a plastic bag in the refrigerator. Have coffee measured and ready to perk; have your dessert tray arranged. And then you'll really be set for a brief 20 minutes of easy work before mealtime.

When you walk into the kitchen after the game, put the spaghetti on to boil and the sauce and meatballs on to simmer to piping hotness. Start the coffee, toss your salad. When the spaghetti is tender, drain it, and arrange it with the meatballs and sauce on an attractive platter or on individual plates. Your guests will be amazed at your speed and ease.

Round out your meal with a tossed green salad and Italian or Vienna bread. With coffee, serve fresh apples and pears with wedges of your favorite cheese.

SPAGHETTI AND MEATBALLS WITH TOMATO SAUCE

1 7-ounce package or 1 1/2 14-ounce package Long or Italian Style Vitamin Enriched Spaghetti

1/2 cup chopped onion

1 clove garlic, minced

4 tablespoons fat

1 pound ground beef

1 teaspoon salt

1 8-ounce can tomato sauce

1 cup water

2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce

1/2 teaspoon pepper

Grated Parmesan cheese

To 2 quarts boiling water, add 1 tablespoon salt. Add spaghetti gradually, stirring it around in kettle as it softens. Cook uncovered at rapid boil 12 to 15 minutes, or until tender when cut with fork against kettle. Drain. (The new enriched spaghetti needs no rinsing.)

MEATBALLS AND SAUCE

Heat fat in skillet, brown onion and garlic. Add salt to meat, form into small balls and brown in skillet. Add tomato sauce, water, spaghetti and sprinkle with grated cheese. Sliced ripe olives make an attractive garnish. If you prepare meatballs and sauce in advance and refrigerate, be sure to reheat over low heat so that meatballs are not overcooked. Serve 4. For larger quantity, simply double or triple all ingredients.

Sea Food Salad

Mix a couple of tablespoons of French dressing with half a cup of mayonnaise; add chile sauce or catsup, Worcestershire sauce and prepared horseradish to taste. Serve with a sea-food salad.

New Powdered Cream Is Used For Sauce And Spread

Steamed Stuffed Hen Has Party Manners

Neatest cooking trick we've come on lately: stuff a stewing chicken with pre-cooked rice, just as it comes from the package, and steam until the bird is fork-tender. The rice cooks just right during the steaming of the chicken. Bring the whole chicken to the table on a platter and listen to the applause from delighted eaters. To give the rice delicious flavor, it has onion, celery, parsley, and poultry seasoning added. But one caution: don't use regular raw rice in this recipe because it will not work the way pre-cooked rice does.

So take advantage of thrifty stewing chicken—otherwise known as hen—and do try this recipe. Although the hen has firm muscles, the moist-heat method of cooking assures tender juicy meat. Just be sure you use a tight cover. The rice stuffing is economical, too, because it does not call for butter or margarine. Weight-watchers will like this feature!

This chicken and stuffing is of delicate flavor. So pickled pears are perfect contrast to it—so pretty, too, if you serve them around the chicken with sprigs of green parsley. If your pickled pears are not already stuck with cloves you might insert some of the spice. Offer the pears cold, as they come from the jar, or heat them in their own syrup.

Or you might choose pickled crabapples instead of the pears to serve with this chicken. We notice these crabapples are available in jars in supermarkets.

Prunes, often suggested with poultry in Scandinavian recipes, are another good choice with this chicken and rice. We like to add a thinly sliced small lemon to a package of prunes, cover with water and simmer until tender. Then we put prunes, prune juice and lemon slices in a covered container and refrigerate for several days—sometimes longer. You'll find this helps blend flavors and gives delightful results. If you can find a lime at your market, use it sometime instead of the lemon for a delightful surprise. Both lemon and lime slices, prepared this way, are delectable eating.

Canned peaches and apricots may also be heated in their syrup to which whole cloves and a stick of cinnamon are added, and used as the fruit accompaniment. Choose yellow cling peach halves or unpeeled apricots.

After tasting the rice-stuffed chicken at our house, our Girl Friday promptly tried the recipe for a company dinner and raised compliments. She accompanied it with steamed frozen broccoli and lemon butter. She also had a big salad; romaine; thin circles of carrot, cucumber and radishes; tiny cauliflower; and a dressing of olive oil, tarragon vinegar and Roquefort cheese. For desert she offered one of our favorite nut loaves made with graham crackers.

For second-day lunch eating, make a sauce with the wonderful stock left after the chicken is steamed. This stock is rich because you have used a whole chicken for it—and researchers now find it is the chicken meat that contributes real flavor to broth. Bone and skin, food testers say, give only minor amounts of flavor. Add milk or light cream to the stock and thicken with butter or margarine and flour.

We suggest you use 1 1/2 tablespoons each of butter and flour to a cup of liquid when you make the sauce. Blend the butter and flour together and add it to the hot liquid; cook and stir constantly until thickened and bubbly. If the sauce is a little thinner than you like allow it to cook slowly, after it has thickened, so it reduces and concentrates. Taste the sauce for salt, add any herb you like with chicken and freshly ground pepper.

STEAMED STUFFED HEN

Ingredients:

- 1 cup package pre-cooked rice
- 1 1/2 cups finely diced celery
- 1/4 cup minced celery leaves
- 1/4 cup finely diced onion
- 2 tablespoons minced parsley
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon ground pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning powder
- 1 stewing chicken (3 1/2 to 5 1/2 pounds, read-to-cook weight)
- Water
- Salt

Method:

Mix rice, celery, celery leaves, onion, parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper and poultry seasoning. Spoon into body cavity of chicken. Truss chicken, as for roasting, with skewers laced with chicken cord or sew with strong white thread and large needle. Place stuffed chicken breast side down in heavy kettle. Add 1/2 cup water and 1/2 teaspoon salt for each pound chicken; put gizzard, heart and neck in water in kettle. (Do not add liver—cook it separately.) Bring water to boil quickly; simmer until tender—about 3 hours. Turn chicken when half cooked so breast is up. Test the chicken for tenderness by inserting a fork into the thickest part; the fork should pierce the meat easily to the bone. Remove chicken from kettle, drain well and place on platter. Makes 5 to 6 servings. Refrigerate strained broth, gizzard, heart and neck for later use.

Notes:

If the small size of chicken specified in recipe is used, some of the stuffing may be spooned into the neck cavity after stuffing, pull the neck skin back and fasten with a skewer.

Large Lima Beans

Some of the quick and easies we make with large dry limas are very tasty. A favorite of ours is to mix two cups of cooked dry limas with one cup grated cheese, 1/2 cup melted butter, a half teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and a couple tablespoons chili sauce. Heat the mixture slowly until cheese melts and it's ready to serve.

RICH DESSERT

...a frothy, rich chocolate chiffon pie that's easily made

This Chocolate Pie Is Bound To Please

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Here's a love of a pie for anyone who dotes on rich chocolate, fluffy texture and a graham cracker crust. Subtle flavors in this pie boasts, too because instant powdered coffee is used in the chocolate filling and a dash of cinnamon in the crumb crust. No baking needed for this dessert. The crust is chilled. The filling, with its sweetened condensed milk base, is cooked on top of the range. Prepare the pie in the morning or early afternoon; it will be ready to serve to dinner guests in the evening.

CHOCOLATE CHIFFON PIE

Ingredients:
1 9 1/4-inch graham cracker crust
3 squares (3 ounces) unsweetened chocolate (melted)
1 15-ounce can sweetened condensed milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 teaspoons instant powdered coffee

3 eggs (separated)
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1 cup heavy cream

Method:
Prepare graham cracker crust as directed below. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler over hot (not boiling) water. Add condensed milk, vanilla, powdered coffee and egg yolks; beat with a spoon until blended. Put 1/2 cup cold water in metal cup and sprinkle gelatin over water to soften. Place metal cup in pan of hot water and stir soaked gelatin until dissolved; blend into chocolate mixture. Place in refrigerator until it begins to set; watch because it will set quickly. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold into chocolate mixture. Whip cream and fold in. Place in refrigerator until almost set. Spoon into graham cracker crust, mounding the entire amount of filling into the pie shell. Chill a few hours until completely set. Makes 8 servings.

GRAHAM CRACKER CRUST
Stir 1-2 1/2 cups finely crushed graham crackers, 1/3 cup sugar and 1 teaspoon cinnamon together well. Melt 1/2 cup butter or margarine and add; mix until all crumbs are coated with butter. Pack crumbs evenly over bottom and sides of a buttered pie plate (9 1/4 inches).

Sausage Muffins Nutritious

Muffins containing meat are highly nutritive as well as differently delicious. Here is one using breakfast meats, which is guaranteed to bring everything to the table in the morning, wide-eyed and eager to start the day.

SAUSAGE MUFFINS

1/2 pound fresh pork sausage meat
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg slightly beaten
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons butter, melted
Heat skillet over moderate heat; add sausage meat, spreading it over bottom of pan. Cook meat until browned, stirring to brown evenly. Pour off fat as it accumulates in the pan. When sausage is done, drain on absorbent paper. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Combine egg, evaporated milk, water, crumbled sausage meat and slightly cooled butter. Four into flour mixture and stir just enough to wet dry ingredients. Do not beat. Fill greased, 2 1/2-inch muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) until golden brown, about 25 minutes.

Roast Leg Of Lamb

Do not have the fell removed from the leg of lamb. Season. Place skin side down on rack in open roasting pan. Insert meat thermometer so the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part of the leg, being sure the bulb does not rest in fat or on bone. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) to the desired degree of doneness. The meat thermometer will register 175 degrees F. for medium-done, 180 degrees F. for well-done lamb. Allow 30 to 35 minutes per pound for roasting.

Pantryshelf Salad

Here's a pantryshelf salad. Put a can of fruit cocktail (unopened) in your refrigerator freezer compartment overnight. When you are ready to serve, cut both ends from the can and push out the frozen fruit. Cut in slices, arrange on lettuce and serve with a dressing of whipped cream mixed with mayonnaise.

Company Appetizer

Center a fresh fruit cup with a small scoop of fruit-flavored sherbet or water ice and serve as a first course for a gala dinner. Team orange sherbet with fresh orange sections and seedless grapes; lemon sherbet with pineapple and raspberries, using the canned or frozen fruit.

Fill Scones With Apricot For A Treat

The very name scones sounds wonderful and will send many a cook scurrying into the kitchen. A scone is a flaky, light crust encircling a tart fruit filling and sprinkled with sugar, so that it fairly sparkles on the plate.

APRICOT SCONES

Apricot filling:
1 cup chopped dried apricots
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water

Combine all ingredients in saucepan and cover. Simmer until apricots are tender; stir to make a paste.

Dough:
1 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups rolled oats, uncooked
2/3 cup milk
Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add rolled oats and mix lightly. Add milk gradually, mixing until dough can be formed in a ball (add a little more milk if necessary to make a soft dough).

Turn out on lightly floured board and knead gently a few seconds. Roll out to 1/4-inch thickness. Cut into 3-inch circles (using a coffee can lid as cutter). Cut each circle in half. Place a small amount of apricot filling on one end of each half circle. Make a slash in other end. Fold cut end over filling and seal by pressing the edges together with a fork. Brush tops with melted butter and sprinkle with a little sugar. Place on an ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 15 to 18 minutes.

Smart Housekeeping

A smart housekeeper never considers her job is done until sponges, cloths, mops and pails have been washed clean for the next round. Cloths can be put into hot soapsuds in the washing machine after each use, and it takes remarkable little time to suds out sponges and sponge-mops.

Chewing Gum Is A Taste Treat For Those 'Tricksters'

Want to win youngsters' thanks instead of pranks when Halloween comes rolling around? It's easier than pie, less of a burden on little tummies, and costs a lot less, too. Just treat 'em to sticks or packages of wholesome, tasting chewing gum. Chewing gum is a real Halloween treat inspiration, because no matter how much gum a youngster receives, he won't have too much. Besides, even if little spooks and goblins descend on you in droves, you can treat them all without making a big dent in your pocketbook. Chewing gum is easy to dispense, too. It's compact, neatly and securely wrapped, and a cinch to handle. So better be ready with treats of tasty chewing gum when those boys and girls start ringing your doorbell. A stop at your friendly merchant's display of chewing gum will bring you rewards of smiling thanks on Halloween.

Serve rice fritters with creamed mushrooms and a topping of crisp bacon for a company lunch. Broiled tomatoes and a cucumber salad are good go-alongs.

Incidents At City Jail Points To Necessity Of More Facilities

Two beatings in the city jail over the weekend with resultant injuries to prisoners should come as a matter of concern, not alone that bodily harm has been done but that something ultimately will have to be done about the overcrowding of this facility.

There are at least two factors in the situation — the physical and the human. The physical is simple that the jail is being called upon constantly to accommodate far more prisoners than its designers ever dreamed would be within its confines at one time. This means that the freshly drunks, the toughs, the vagrants, the elderly and all other assorted prisoners are virtually thrown together. There are separate provisions for the sexes, and some minor divisions as to cells, but in general the male jail population is of commingled. Without almost constant supervision, it then is quite possible that

Election Stirs Speculation As To Chairmanships Of Committees

If the Senate and House should revert to Democratic control at the new session in January, Southern Democrats would become chairmen of 16 of 26 major committees in Congress.

That is one of the arguments GOP campaign orators are using in pleading for election of a Republican House and Senate. Not many politicians have the hardihood to ask for re-election so he can become chairman of a committee, or hold the post if he already has it, but it has been done. Senator McCarthy used it in 1953, and the late Senator McCarran of Nevada asked for a Democratic Senate so he could be returned as chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

In New Mexico, supporters of Senator Clinton Anderson argue for a Democratic Senate so Anderson could become chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, a whole of an important post in the eyes of New Mexicans. Two Texans are certain for high congressional posts if the Democrats win. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, now minority leader, would become majority leader, and Rep. Sam Rayburn, who served a longer term as Speaker than any man in history, would again become the most powerful man in the House, and one of the three or four most powerful in government.

Only Texan to inherit an important House chairmanship should the Democrats win would be Rep. Teague, one of the outstanding heroes of World War II, who would head — appropriately enough — the Veterans' Affairs Committee. Our Rep. Geo. Mahon would be right near the top on appropriations.

Most Southern inheritors of chairmanships are men of conservative cut. They include Senator George of Georgia, who would have the choice of Finance or Foreign Relations. He might choose the latter, and let Senator Byrd of Virginia, even more of an economy-minded operator than George, take the Finance post.

Senator Russell of Georgia would again head Armed Services. If he didn't want the Atomic Energy post. In the House, Vinson of Georgia, vastly respected for his knowledge and skill in military legislation, would head Armed Services.

Europe Sees Our Benefactions, But Wonders About Our Motives

There can be no longer be any doubt about the general European dislike for Americans and many minds speculate upon the phenomenon. Some say that it is due to McCarthyism which offends the European intellectuals, most of whom have so long been in the strait jacket of Stalinism that they react nervously to any expose involving events as far back as the 1930s. Others really accept "American Imperialism" as a fact, Soviet propaganda having established in their minds the belief that the United States must suffer a deep depression if war and the preparation for war ceases.

Indro Montanelli, and Italian journalist, writing for the "Corriere Della Sera" of Milan, adds a footnote to the discussion that may stimulate some pondering on the general subject of virtuous conduct. I read his article in the "Rome Daily American." Montanelli first gives all the reasons why Europe should be grateful to us but he finds no gratitude except among the Germans, who, he feels might have reasons for complaint as "... she (Germany), without American intervention, would have been slave of Hitler but master of the world! ..."

He then explains the ingratitude of the other Europeans in the following pungent paragraph:

"Unfortunately all these claims on our gratitude are obscured by one defect of which there isn't the slightest hope that Americans can be cured because it's in their blood, it's constitutional. It is the craze for improving us, for making us kinder to each other, juster, richer, happier."

This, of course, is human nature acting normally. It is a paraphrase of the adage "God helps those who help themselves." which is so true because those who are helped too readily by others become dependents and hate being dependents. That is why the do-gooder is so despised, even by those who gain advantage from his benefactions. Although he means well, he is generally a pain in the neck. Alcoholics Anonymous discovered very early that only an alcoholic can save an alcoholic because there is no one whose drunken man, who knows he is wrong, hates more than one who never does wrong. Perhaps if our teen-agers were members of good gangs there would be fewer crime problems among them. Good gangsters could do no worse than the sociologists and psychiatrists have done with young people whose difficulties arise not from lack of knowledge but from an inability to overcome the resistance of youth to the directives toward perfection.

Montanelli pursues his theme: "... they (the American people) never insisted on their government obtaining any direct material advantages from their victorious intervention. They asked for no colonies, no commercial servitude. On the contrary, they accepted further taxation to succor the defeated. All they asked was that these defeated nations should become better, that they should love each other and America, renounce their rivalries, carry out social reforms, and use DDT and refrigerators! And this was their mistake. From this developed the antagonism toward America."

How utterly true! For more than a century before 1948, Americans spent so far as can be estimated, nearly 200 million dollars, giving the Chinese people schools, hospitals, universities, churches, etc., etc. So far as I can discover, neither Communist nor Soviet Russia ever spent anything on the Chinese people but took much away from them. Nevertheless, Red China is not our friend and Lin Piao's army killed our sons in Korea at the behest of the Kremlin and the ordinary Chinese offered not even a show of resistance when the Communists tortured his good friends, the missionaries who devoted their lives to his improvement. Maybe we do too much for no return and arouse the suspicion that we must have a hidden motive or we should not do so much and be so anxious about it.

Liberian President Has Some Racial Problems To Work Out In His Nation

By ED CREAUGH (For James Marlow) WASHINGTON (AP)—Somebody ought to sit down with Brother Shad before he leaves town tonight and have a chat about race segregation and such matters. "Brother Shad" is the affectionate nickname many Liberian voters have bestowed on their President, who is winding up a three-day official visit to Washington. His full name is Dr. William V. Tubman. Close friends call him "Cousin Shad." As the Negro President of a Negro republic, Tubman knows a lot about racial problems such as many American communities are concerned with. "There is," he says, "not the slightest shade of discrimination of any kind in Liberia."

- 1. Only Negroes are allowed to vote. 2. For decades there have been barriers between the country's 100,000 "civilized" inhabitants and the more than two million tribesmen of the interior. 3. For decades, too, there have been feuds between the tribes. 4. The present political setup in Liberia stems from a revolt in the 1880s by darker-skinned "common men" against the then dominant Republican party, which was controlled by lighter-skinned Negroes.

Tubman, a dark-skinned, cigar-smoking son of a Methodist minister, has moved energetically to narrow the gulfs between differing elements of the population. He called a national council last May, fired two district commissioners and suspended a tribal chief, and gave his people a firm talking-to.

"It has been proved in our own lifetime," he said, "that the civilized population cannot get along without the uncivilized; neither element can exterminate the other."

"For more than 80 years since the founding fathers (from the American South) settled here, we have tried to destroy each other by internal war ... For the past 10 years we have been working hard for the unification of the people, but there are still a few diehards on both sides opposing the unification program."

Tubman is the friendliest of men and a good story teller. But when he lays down the law he does it bluntly. How do people take this? Well, the tribal chiefs, at least, seem to be solidly in Tubman's corner. "Tubmanism" has swept throughout the country," says Nyemoveh Chief Hible Langfor, according to the public relations firm which is publicizing the President's trip. And Johnnie Voker, head man of another clan, says: "We were all blind but President Tubman has opened our eyes. We will hold him tight."

One solid sign the Tubman technique works: The President has served one eight-year term and is re-elected to a four-year term and is an odds-on favorite to win a third term. The United States is helping Liberia through a five-year program of technical aid, mostly to industry and agriculture. Tubman is here in the hope of getting that program extended. He's also working in a few social engagements such as a dinner Friday night in Akron, Ohio, and — something that may surprise some people — a trip to Georgia at the invitation of Gov. Herman Talmadge.

Suicide Verdict In Death Of Girl

LA PORTE, Tex. (AP)—A verdict of suicide has been returned in the death of a 16-year-old LaPorte High School girl. The body of Linda Hershberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ella-worth Hershberger, was found across the bed in her room, a bullet wound from a .38 caliber revolver in her right temple. Justice of the Peace Calder Ewing said the girl apparently shot herself as the result of a disagreement with her mother over whether she should date a Baytown boy,

Office Workers, Arise! End White Shirt Habit

NEW YORK (AP)—The biggest mistake the white collar class makes today is to cling to the white shirt. The white shirt for a couple of generations has been a genteel badge of superiority in America, a stuffy emblem of stuffy respectability.

When a guy had nothing else to boast about, he could at least feel proud in his heart because he earned his living indoors and wore a white shirt. For some obscure reason this made him feel a cut above the rough-handed skilled workmen who went boisterously to their jobs in dungarees or old leather jackets.

Whatever reason existed for this feeling vanished when the skilled workmen began dragging down more take home pay than the office workers, and that has been true for some time now.

For years I have been crusading against the out-of-date snobbishness of the white shirt, which most men actually wear for one of three reasons:

- 1. Their fathers wore one. 2. They are afraid to wear a colored shirt because they don't want to stand out from their fellow white sheep in the herd. 3. Their wives tell them they look younger or cuter in a white shirt. (But the wives should know better.)

It is a pleasure indeed to note now that one of the nation's leading shirtmakers is attacking this old shibboleth in a series of ads entitled: "Never wear a white shirt before sundown."

"A white shirt with a business suit is really the loudest thing you can wear," this firm asserts. "It looks clean in the morning, but by afternoon it gets soiled at the collar and cuffs. This looks awful. Wearing a white shirt at the office is... a pitiful abdication of individuality.... No well-dressed man should wear a white shirt before sundown."

This verdict makes sense, even if one is so unkind as to suspect that it is part of an insidious campaign to get us into the two-shirt-a-day class—a colored one at the office, a white shirt in the evening.

But something has to be done to lift the American male from the anonymity and monotony of his invariable white shirt. Even the denim shirts of convicts at least have numbers stenciled on them, so they can be told apart. Men who stubbornly cling to the white shirt might take a tip from this and lend a little variety to their looks by having their auto license or social security number printed on their starch pale bosom fronts.

Personally, I blame American women for the fact their husbands generally look like penguins rather than people. They usually select the family clothing, and they buy papa white shirts because they are too lazy to take the trouble to dress him as well as they do themselves. Or else they fear to.

"Well, anyway, in case of a hydrogen bomb... you've had the satisfaction of getting your ticks in first..."

New Twist To Old Pickpocket Game Has Now Been Developed

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald. — Editor's Note.

The "moll buzzers" have just about displaced the old-fashioned "pickpockets" and some of the former may show up—even in Big Spring — during the Yule shopping season just ahead.

You have to keep your psychological guard up to avoid the "moll buzzer" who got his name because he picks on women and because he tries to get the victim's head to buzzing before he makes his haul.

There's not much to worry about from pickpockets anymore. That business got so risky that the lone operators teamed up to work the "moll buzzing game" which reduces the chances of being caught, at the same time increasing the proceeds from a day's work.

The moll buzzers run in pairs or trios. Their technique is to create some confusing situation. While the victim is struggling to grasp what is going on, the thieves loot her purse or shopping bag and disappear into the crowd.

Favorite place to work the game is a crowded store. The buzzers spot a woman with an arm full of bundles and a purse not too tightly held. One of them jostles the victim, causing her to drop the handbag. He (or she) then starts apologizing profusely, keeping the victim mentally off balance while the other buzzer retrieves the purse — in order to return it to its owner. But while the victim is accepting the apologies of the jostler, and with her mind momentarily off the handbag, the cash is lifted. By the time the victim discovers her loss the friendly jostler and the other buzzer have disappeared.

Another widely-practiced dodge requires three buzzers. Two of them start argument in the midst of a shopping crowd. Then, as bystanders become interested in the play, the third man dips into handbags, lifts packages, etc. When the argument suddenly ends, the third man is gone — and so is most of the available cash.

Best protection is to keep your eyes open and hands tight on purse or purchases. Don't carry too much money and never flash a big wad of the stuff, even if you can. And if what's going on seems to be confusing, don't get too curious. By the time you find out what's happening, it may be too late.

Washington Calling—Marquis Childs

Wilson Good Business Leader, Out Of Element In Politics

WASHINGTON — In the business administration which President Eisenhower brought to Washington Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson is the outstanding example of the skilled business organizer and production expert. But, as he has demonstrated by the political tornado he touched off with his dog story, he is also the outstanding example of the businessman out of his element in the field of politics.

Many familiar with the vast operation of the Department of Defense from the day when the late James Forrestal took over as the first Secretary of Defense believe that Wilson has done an effective job. He has carried through the paring and cutting needed to bring greater efficiency and economy to an organization spending two-thirds of the huge Federal budget.

He has sought to keep a civilian rein on the admirals and generals and in particular on those officers with four and five stars who have favored a far more militant policy in Asia. If there is a "war party" and a "peace party" within the Administration, on the issue of Red China and what America should do about the Peking regime, then Wilson is one of the stoutest members of the "peace party."

When it comes to politics, however, Wilson is a babe in the woods. The business executive from the top echelon suddenly dropped into the field of government and politics seldom realizes how much he has to learn. As a corporation executive he has been surrounded by expert public relations advisers well paid to screen his every public word. This has left him free to do the job of production and organization in which his genius lies.

When he steps out from behind his screen and is more or less on his own before the public he is likely to speak his mind with a frankness that is startling. He simply does not understand the political implications of what he is saying and of how he says it.

There are, of course, businessmen who adjust readily to government. A conspicuous example is Eric Johnston, formerly head of the United States Chamber of Commerce and now president of the American Motion Picture Producers Association. Johnston has moved from business to government and back again with complete ease and facility.

Another example was Wilson's predecessor in the Office of Secretary of Defense, Robert Lovett. Lovett set a precedent that Wilson might have done well to follow.

A Republican, partner in a large private bank and investment firm in New York, Lovett was drafted for the defense job by President Truman because of his distinguished record in war and postwar assignments. During his service in the Defense Department Lovett stayed completely out of partisan politics. And this was not merely because he was a Republican serving in a Democratic Administration.

He was convinced that the Administration of the Defense Department and the issues of defense policy should be kept, if possible, on a bipartisan basis. The security of every American of whatever party or creed is at stake just as it is in the fixing of foreign policy. He took no part in the heated campaign of two years ago.

Up to the end of his service he was working hard on a defense budget which would be ready for whatever Administration was to take over in January of 1953. When he was testifying later about the need to cut this budget, Secretary Wilson gave another instance of his capacity for inept expression. It would have been a better budget, he told the Senate Armed Services Committee, if Lovett, who suffers from a chronic ulcer, had not been in ill health and therefore unable to devote full time to it.

Senator Stuart Symington, Democrat of Missouri, called Lovett in New York to report Wilson's statement. In response the former Secretary of Defense made an often-repeated remark, which Symington appropriated in this comment on the hunting dogs and the kennel dogs: "That man had better keep a civil foot in his mouth."

Government, as perhaps even "engine Charley" is learning, is a continuing responsibility rather than something that can be tidied up and then left to run itself. Similarly, politics is a serious, unending responsibility which when it is neglected, as so often happens in America, falls into the hands of the bosses and corruptionists. To ignore these responsibilities, or to hand them on casually and indifferently to hirelings, is to get the kind of government and the kind of politics that are in the end most costly and most destructive of integrity and decency.

Political Playback

The term "liberal" as applied to Democratic Party politics in Texas, has been stripped of all relation to its ordinary meaning. This has pushed its opposite, "conservative" into a specialized corner pocket.

Since the victory of Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1931, the term "liberal" has been frozen into a connotation of federal paternalism, federal control or aid, regimentation under such things as the NIRA's Blue Eagle and the FEPC. It has come to mean advocacy of the national Democratic Party's ideas and leadership.

What has been Texas' background, and Texas' course, against this politically specialized meaning? Before the days of Roosevelt, James E. Ferguson rode into office on a platform of agrarian revolt. In later years, the two governors, James E. Ferguson and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, came on to support many of the newly-interpreted features of the national liberalism. This was an anomaly since both, even when Mrs. Ferguson had been chosen governor of her state, were outspoken against such modern liberalism as woman suffrage.

After the Fergusons, Texas had one governor who could be defined in political terms as a liberal. That was James V. Allred. Moody and Sterling in the earlier days were definitely conservatives. O'Daniel, who succeeded Allred, capitalized the protest vote of rebellious Texans, but he proved not only conservative but reactionary. Coke Stevenson was a conservative far to the right, in terms of the national party. Beauford Jester came on as a conservative middle-of-the-roader. His successor, Allan Shivers, was still more conservative, so much so that he led Texas entirely out of its traditional Democratic stand into support of Republican President Eisenhower.

In the early years of the long Roosevelt regime, Texans voted by a margin ranging up to 7 to 1, for the President. But on the home front, during the entire period of the New Deal, the Truman Fair Deal, and the Adlai Stevenson appeal, Texas has voted, in home affairs, on the liberalist side, directly and unmistakably, only in the two terms for Jimmie Allred.

India Debates Name

NEW DELHI (AP)—The old dispute over whether India should really be called Bharat has cropped up again, this time in the Delhi state assembly where some members urged use of that name. In Pakistan it is argued that the undivided sub-continent was India and that division in 1947 made it Pakistan and Bharat — not India.

But Indians say that as the legal and constitutional heir of the rights and liabilities of undivided India their country is rightfully called India. The word India is an Anglicized version of "Hindustan," the land of the Hindus.

Ancient maps show Bharat as covering not only what is now India but Pakistan, Afghanistan, parts of Iran, Nepal, Tibet, and most of the Chinese mainland.

Connecticut Governor Race Looks Tight Down To Wire

By RELMAN MORIN
 HARTFORD, Conn. (U)—The governor's race in Connecticut looks like a tight race right down to Nov. 2. Contestants are Gov. John Davis Lodge, Republican, and former Rep. Abraham A. Ribicoff, Democrat. Both express confidence, but their campaign lieutenants are running scared. Some neutral observers see Lodge leading at this point. Others, noting that Maine elected a Democratic governor for the first time in 20 years, believe New England is experiencing a "Democratic trend" which could carry Ribicoff to office. In neighboring Rhode Island, the Democrats hold the governor's office, both Senate seats and both in the House of Representatives. Political observers expect them to win all major contests next month. In Connecticut, the campaign so far is almost Chesterfieldian, high-level, devoid of personalities, name calling or rough stuff. Appearing together in New Haven recently—but not in the format of a debate—it was "My good friend, Abe" and "Our respected governor with whom I had the honor of serving in Washington," and so on. Nor have they produced any red-hot issues. Lodge is campaigning primarily on his four-year record. Ribicoff's emphasis is not an attack on this record. It is a program based on "economic growth, moral vision, administrative efficiency."

Unemployment, loss of overtime and economic conditions are factors in Connecticut as they are in other New England states. Ribicoff says there are 52,000 jobless. If true, this would be more than 8 per cent of the maximum working force—higher than the national average. But Lodge says the figure is 32,000, contrasted with 100,000 in 1949. And he adds that in nine years, 67 industries left the state while more than 1,300 came in to locate. Ribicoff is 44, slim, dark, quiet-spoken. He was born in New Britain, started life as a newboy. He is married and has two teen-age children. He has an easy, casual approach with the voters, impresses them with an air of quiet sincerity. Lodge gives no indication of undue anxiety. He is big, wiry, a man of imposing presence. He was once a movie actor and the Democrats do not discount his political appeal to the feminine vote. During World War II, he was in the Navy, saw considerable action, came out with some glittering decorations.

Police Dog Stops Holdup In Hurry

OWOSSO, Mich. (U)—Boots, a pedigreed police dog, did a fast job on a holdup man Tuesday. His master, Gail Shevalter, Perry Township farmer, was lousy in his orchard when a young man left a pickup truck on the road and approached him. "This is a holdup," he said, "give me all your money." Then he hit Shevalter on the head with a club. Shevalter called for Boots. Boots dashed up and drove the man to a fence, where he sank his teeth in his leg. The man jumped the fence in pain and drove off with a companion in the truck. Sugar is the most abundant pure chemical compound that man takes from nature.
