Seigler Discusses Clinic Project; Hospital Audit

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

T. E. Seigler, administrator of the Deaf Smith County Hospital, gave his views of the current city-county clinic project begun in November by local doctors and also released the CPA's current report on the financial condition of the hospital.

Concerning the proposed clinic project, Seigler pointed out that "it would be exceedingly difficult for it to be a hospital project, because all the money we receive comes from our patients and we would not want to over-burden them."

He also pointed out that he could not speak for the hospital board. "Dr. John McCrary and Dr. Howard Johnson have already spoken to the board about the clinic project — prior to the meeting that was held at the Community Center on the subject last month — but no decision was made on the matter at that time. Quite possibly they will make a statement on it in the future."

Seigler explained that he had not attended the open meeting on the subject, although he had intended to be present. "I had taken part of my vacation just before the meeting and had come back to work on Tuesday morning. All day I had the feeling it was Monday and realized the following day that I was a day late." He said that he "regretted this perfectly natural mistake" and would have been there otherwise, because he had received an invitation.

But he indicated that he had some knowledge of the doctor's plans — with discussions "over coffee," at the board meeting, and through stories on the subject published in the Brand.

"I think the clinic would be a very fine thing," Seigler said, "and that it is needed. But it is going to take a lot of preparation and is going to have to be financed. A clinic building would be a minor part of it. The longrange plans are more vital — for maintenance, utilities, etc. And I believe a good welfare worker would be a more important thing — to screen the people who would qualify for the clinic's services."

Seigler continued, "I know this, the hospital board is willing to cooperate in any way they can." But he explained that through the Medicare and other government programs for hospitals, the hospital must limit the use of its medicines and drugs "to our own in-patients. And the use of the hospital's lab and x-rays would have to be answered by the hospital board. We would have to have the actual cost paid for these materials — but that would not be difficult to work out."

Seigler, who will celebrate his 25th anniversary with the hospital on January 1 — the first six years on the board and the rest of the time as administrator — reported that he was certain that his employees would "volunteer a lot of free time" for the clinic — "they always have."

He also pointed out the large number of charity patients the hospital handles each year. "There has never been any argument about it from anyone. We all simply felt that we were supposed to do it."

Deaf Smith County Hospital became the first "small county hospital" to receive accreditation in the north part of the Texas Panhandle 11 years ago — and still less than 40 per cent of Texas hospitals are accredited. Seigler said that he could not take credit for the hospital's excellent record — "a lot of people throughout the county are responsible" — and did offer a strong point for the proposed clinic on this basis.

"It is going to have to have the backing of the entire community in some manner," he stated.

HOSPITAL AUDIT REPORT

An audit for the Deaf Smith County Hospital, made by W.C. Russell, a certified public accountant with Brown, Graham and Glover of Hereford, was recently completed and submitted to County Judge H. C. Williams and the members of the County Commissioners Court, which indicated that the hospital was operating in the black.

Russell's audit was concluded at Dec. 31, 1967.

BEAUTY SPOTS — The Charlie Holt home west of Hereford and the Holly Sugar business office at the plant were chosen by the Beautification Committee of the Deaf Smith County

Chamber of Commerce as residential and commercial Beauty Spots of the Month for December. See story in this issue.

F. H. Oberthier Rites Set Monday For Local Pioneer

Funeral services for Fred Harrison Oberthier, 99, long a prominent figure in business and civic life of Hereford, will be conducted at 1:30 p. m. Monday in First Christian Church by the Rev. Eugene Brink, minister. Burial in West Park Cemetery will be directed by Gilliland Funeral Home.

Mr. Oberthier died at 9 a. m. Saturday in a local hospital. He had resided in recent years at Westgate unit of Kings Manor retirement home.

The pioneer businessman came to Hereford in 1908 and with a partner organized the Hereford Electric Light and Power Company to build the first light plant in the city. The next year he bought his partner's interest and operated the plant until 1925.

Until 1947, Mr. Oberthier and other businessmen here operated grain elevators at Black, Dawn and Amarillo, known as Farmers Associated Elevators. He was the last survivor of the 40 men who contributed $4,000 for the first irrigation project attempted in this area, a well drilled by D. L. McDonald in Frio Draw.

A charter member of Hereford Commercial Club, he helped organize in 1908 this group which was the forerunner of the local Chamber of Commerce. He served at one time as a school trustee.

During all the years of his residence here Mr. Oberthier was active in the First Christian Church. He served as chairman of the building committee of the first permanent building erected by that church, on Main Street.

At the annual Pioneer Round-up here last spring he was honored as the Pioneer Citizen of the Year as well as the oldest pioneer present.

Born in Rusk County August 4, 1869, he was a member of a pioneer family there. His grandfather, Frederick Oberthier, had brought the family to Texas in 1851.

His father, Henry L. Oberthier and his mother, Eliza Jones, married in Denton County in 1861. His father operated a mill See RITES, Page 2

Boy Is Trapped In Deep Freeze

An 8-year-old Hereford boy was trapped inside a deep freeze for some three hours Wednesday, but escaped with his life because the appliance had an air leak in it.

Louis Drerup of 313 Avenue J stopped a Hereford policeman about 7:30 p. m. Wednesday while the officer was on patrol and reported that his son, George, had been missing about three hours. Drerup and his wife were then aided in the search by the officer.

After a few minutes, the officer noticed a deep freeze beside the house. When it was opened, the boy was found huddled up with his head between his legs. He was rushed to the hospital for medical attention, but had suffered no ill effects and was allowed to leave with his parents.

State Wheat Growers Will Begin Meeting Here Monday

Over 200 wheat growers are expected in Hereford Monday and Tuesday as the city hosts the annual meeting of the Texas Association of Wheat Growers.

Registration for the two-day meeting will begin at 1 p. m. Monday in the Conference Room of the Red Carpet Inn, which will be headquarters during the meeting.

First on the agenda is a feed lot tour at 1:30 p. m., with Frank Zinser and Virgil Marsh in charge of arrangements for the tour. Committee meetings will begin at 7 p. m. in the Conference Room.

A directors meeting in the Conference Room will begin activities Tuesday. Following will be a report on committees at 10 a. m. and election of officers at 11 a. m. Association directors, wives and guests will join for a noon luncheon at 12 noon at the Caison House.

Registration for the general session of the meeting will begin at 1 p. m. in the Community Center Ball Room. A news conference will be held at 1:30 p. m.

School Board Meets Tuesday

Mike King, Georgia King, Billy Buck, and Flo Dickenson, Hereford school teachers, will make a report on the Fenton Social Studies at the Board of Trustees meeting at 7 p. m. Tuesday at the School Administration building.

During the past several meetings of the Hereford Independent School District board programs have been presented by local teachers on the various courses of instruction in the curriculum here.

Also on the agenda will be a review of the 1967-68 independent audit, and a further discussion of the new building program which will include additional plans for the new elementary school set for construction in South Hereford.

MEETING TO ORDER

Leo Witkowski of Hereford, current president of the Texas Association of Wheat Growers, will call the meeting to order at 2 p. m.

Guest speaker will be E. L. Hatcher of Lamar, Colo., president of the National Association Wheat Growers. Witkowski will give the president's report, followed by a talk on "Wheat Production Costs" by Ervain Friehe of McCook, Neb., president of the Nebraska Association of Wheat Growers. A coffee break will come at 3:30 p. m.

Busy Session Set Wednesday For Chamber Board

A full agenda faces members of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors when they hold their regular monthly meeting at 6:30 a. m. Wednesday at Ward's Restaurant, 215 S. 25 Mile Avenue.

Items on the agenda include a statement of receipts and expenditures, report of officer nominating committee by Neil Cooper and election of officers for the coming year. Those directors now in office or just elected will vote and the retiring directors will not.

A summary of Operation Housing Survey findings to date will be presented by Cooper. Dr. John H. McCrary will speak to directors concerning the establishment of a public health clinic in Hereford. The Chamber has been asked to support and actively work for the clinic.

A report on the installation dinner, naming of an auditor and membership report also are part of the agenda. The president-elect will have the opportunity to name a budget committee and a committee to study the program-of-work and the committees that will be required to accomplish it.

Ed Jaenke, associate administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Washington, D. C., will speak at 4 p. m. Jaenke helps direct the administration of farm action programs of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Among these are the Agricultural Conservation Program; the price support and production adjustment programs for wheat, feed grains, rice, cotton, tobacco and other commodities; the sugar program; disaster feed and other special programs assigned by the Secretary of Agriculture. These programs are designed to increase and stabilize farm income and assure abundance for consumers. Since Jaenke came to ASCS in 1961, he has been a key figure in, testifying on agricultural legislation, and, under direction of the Secretary has been instrumental in formulating legislative proposals on wheat, feed grains and soybeans.

Jaenke was selected for a 1967 Arthur S. Flemming Award which gives public recognition to 10 men in the Federal Government under 40 who have made "outstanding contributions in public service."

Prior to receiving the Flemming Award, Jaenke earned the Distinguished Service Award, highest in USDA, for the leadership, perception, and skill he has brought into the national farm program. For the past five See GROWERS, Page 2

VFW Contest Will Name H.S. Winners

Hereford VFW Post No. 4818 has released the names of the 12 top winners in the "Voice of Democracy" program here, and their plans to present the three top winners, who entered the contest on the theme of Freedom's Challenge, at the VFW banquet at 7 p. m. Monday in Ward's Restaurant.

The 12 top winners are Jane Zinser, Wayne Stoerner, Rita Schumacker, Laquita Robison, Julia London, Camille Langley, Connie Hoover, Diane Golden, Mike Gilbert, Phillip Diller, John Cockerhans, and Lawrence Burgess.

The contest is sponsored nationally by Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States and its Ladies Auxiliaries. Locally, it has been a project of VFW Post 4818 in cooperation with the high school. Four classes and one volunteer entered.

Mrs. Imogene Anderson, English, speech and drama teacher, and Mrs. Pic Thompson, English and creative writing teacher, at Hereford High School entered the students in the contest. They were judged by Dr. Jack Walker and a speech class at West Texas State University.

C. L. Walker, VFW Chairman of the committee, will be master of ceremonies at the banquet. Last year's top winner, Marsh Pitman, will present the trophy, medals and patches to this year's winners.

Top three winners have already been selected. However, they will not be announced until Monday night.

It was also announced that top winner from Hereford will go to District 13, the one on to State.

VFW has invited the public to attend its Monday night banquet. However, they pointed out that there must be advance reservations. Guests are asked to call either Mrs. Wayne Driskill at 364-3283 or Mrs. Pic Thompson at 364-0617.

The five top national prizes are scholarship awards: First place, $5,000; second place, $3,500; third place, $2,500; fourth place, $1,500; and fifth place, $1,000.

More than $200,000 in bonds and scholarships will be distributed by the VFW on the state, district and local levels. Fifty-three national finalists will receive all-expense paid trips to Washington, D. C.

"The Voice of Freedom" is a broadcast scriptwriting program designed to give 20th, 11th and 12th students the opportunity to voice their opinions on patriotic themes and to convey them via the broadcast media all over America.

It is an annual VFW contest.

VFW Plans Toy Dance

Members of the local VFW (Veterans of Foreign War) post, in their regular meeting Thursday night, voted to sponsor a Toy Dance to gather toys for their annual Toys For Tots drive.

The dance will be held from 9 a. m. until 1 a. m. next Saturday in the rock clubhouse in Veterans Park. Admission to the dance, which is open to the public, will be one new or one good used toy.

Wayne Driskill, VFW president, said the organization still needs many toys, especially tricycles, bicycles and wagons. Each year, when the VFW gives toys to children in needy families, they try to give one of the larger toys where there are several children. This year, the larger toys haven't come in.

Persons wishing to donate new or good used toys to the Toys For Tots drive may leave them at the rock clubhouse in Veterans Park or at Walker Sheet Metal, 365 East Third Street. Also, persons who cannot bring the toys in person may call Stan Fry or any other VFW member, and the toys will be picked up.

VFW members work a each night repairing toys donated to make some child's Christmas happier. They will continue until the toys are boxed for delivery by the members and Welfare Department about Dec. 22.

VFW members attended the annual Christmas party for patients in the Veterans Hospital at Amarillo. The area VFW Christmas party will be held at the hospital Dec. 17.

PICTURE TAKING TIME — J. M. Luckie, sergeant of the Driver License Service for the Texas Department of Public Safety, and Beverly Tisdale, who is in charge of the Hereford office, look over the camera which has become an essential part of new driver licenses. About 7,600 pictures have been taken in the local office since the first of the year, and some 8,000 are expected to be made by Dec. 31. Under the new law, a person's driver license expires on his or her birthday. A renewal card is sent out by the DPS 30 days before the expiration date. The person must get the license renewed before expiration date, including the picture taking. Sgt. Luckie is based in Plainview. —Staff Photo years, he has earned Outstanding Performance ratings for the excellent manner in which he is doing his job.

A question and answer session will follow Jaenke's talk. It is expected that several of the speakers will participate in the panel type session.

ANNUAL BANQUET
Speaker for the 7 p. m. banquet Tuesday will be Congressman Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls, chairman of the livestock and grains subcommittee of the House of Representatives. Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, will give the invocation, and Kenneth Kendrick of Stratford, vice president of the TAWG, will serve as master of ceremonies.

From the 13th District of Texas, Rep. Purcell attended Baylor University before graduating from Texas A&M in 1941. He served in the Army during World War II. The Congressman was keynote speaker during the annual meeting of the West Texas Grain Elevators Association in Hereford March 7.

The meeting will adjourn following the banquet.
LADIES ACTIVITIES
Women attending the meeting with their husbands will gather for a coffee in the lounge of the Community Center at 9 a. m. Tuesday. At that time, the film "As Far As The Eye Can See," which tells the story of sugar processing from the field to the plant. Mrs. Jay Boston is handling arrangements for the film showing.

At 10 a. m., the ladies will make a tour of the Holly Sugar plant, where most of the movie was made last year.

A tour of the Community Center, Sugarland Mall and shopping center downtown will begin at 11:30 p. m. for the ladies.

STATE OFFICERS
Present officers of the Texas Association of Wheat Growers are Witkowski, president; Kendrick, vice president; W. R. Moore Jr. of Munday, vice president, and Dick Brown of Hartley, secretary-treasurer.

Directors are Frank Zinser of Hereford, R. M. Lemon of Booker, J. W. Cox of Tulla, C. L. Edwards of Panhandle, Ed Stalowitz of Dumas, David Williams of Olney, John Harnley of Miami, Floyd Brannan of Stratford, Aubrey Russell of Panhandle and John Cogdell of Crowell.

Commissioners Court during the past year has shown "record patient months" along with building expansion and the introduction of a coronary care unit with closed-circuit television for heart patients, among other items. (The former equipment was paid for mostly through Operation Christmas Card funds from previous years.)

Total of current and fixed assets was $1,064,142 with hospital liabilities and equity attaining the same balance.

Income for the hospital through 1967 was listed as $576,316.04 with a net income from operations as $66,407.56. For 1966, total was $507,985.25 with a $52,281.47 net. The increase has been $14,126.09.

Other income, from such sources as collection of bad debts, gifts, etc., will raise the yearly total to $68,517.48. The previous year it totaled $68,494.59. However, through deductions, such as charge-off of uncollectable accounts, etc., net income will drop to $6,178.67.

For 1966, the hospital went $8,994.06 into the red.
Statement of Accumulated Earnings and Investments at the end of 1967 tallied $1,033,404.02. Balance per books in reconciliation with the First National Bank Operating Fund came to $30,000. Total checks outstanding is $1,000.

Beauty Spots Are Announced
Beauty Spots of the Month, just chosen by the selection Committee, are the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Holt on West Highway 60, residential, and the office of the Holly Sugar Corp., non-residential.

These are the last in a series of monthly selections made during 1968 and marked by plaques supplied by the C of C Beautification Committee, which is headed by Mrs. Tom Carter.

Mrs. Bruce Brown, in charge of this phase of the committee's work, has expressed thanks to members of the selection group, who must remain nameless, for their time and effort in this community project.

Byrle Elliston is at it again. This time he's been in someone's turnip patch. At least, when returning to the office late Wednesday afternoon, we found turnips all over the place and we're quite sure that Byrle didn't raise 'em on his own. In fact, he has quite a reputation as a cattle thief and it appears that he may be expanding operations. However, we've never thought of eating turnips in beef stew but maybe Byrle has come up with a new recipe.

The turnips are nice however and we're going to take a few home. They seem to be pretty large but that's the way we grow things around Hereford.

Alex Schroeder, the last of the big time gamblers, split it down the middle and guessed 1100 lbs.

Church To Have Mexican Meal For Project
San Pablo Methodist Church has scheduled their Christmas project dinner for Saturday between 5 and 8 p. m. in the still located at 223 Kibbe in Hereford. Rev. Fidel Alcalá is pastor.

Tickets are now on sale for $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children. They may be obtained from the San Pablo Church and any of its members, or at the First United Methodist Church at Fifth and Main.

A dinner delivery service has also been announced. For those who wish to have a Mexican dinner delivered to their home, they are asked to call 364-3100.

Rev. Alcalá reported that this project is "very important to the church" in that it will furnish funds for the church during the coming year.

Rewards Still Are Offered By City, County
Rewards for information leading to the conviction of a person or persons for vandalism are still being offered by the City of Hereford and Deaf Smith County.

Each of the governing bodies is offering $200 reward in an effort to curb the vandalism to signs, property and equipment. There is also a longstanding $50 reward by the City of Hereford for information leading to the arrest and conviction of a person or persons for committing arson to city property.

Information submitted to officers on such cases will be kept in strictest confidence, city and county officials said.

In recent months, signs have been defaced, destroyed or stolen in the city and county, equipment has been damaged through vandalism and the city had extensive damage to its equipment and maintenance building by arsonists and vandals.

Persons with information concerning such incidents are urged to contact the Hereford Police Department or the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office.

Goodby Said At Coffee

A farewell courtesy for Mrs. Bob Cooper, who left this weekend for a new home in Colorado Springs, was a coffee in the home of Mrs. R. N. Yarbrow Wednesday morning. Friends from Bud To Blossom Garden Club, of which Mrs. Cooper was an active member, were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper will reside in Colorado Springs where he has been transferred by Holly Sugar Corp. They have lived here the past five years.

Mrs. Sam Long assisted Mrs. Yarbrow in pouring coffee at the informal party. The table was covered with a red cloth and centered with a candelabra and Christmas greens.

Guests included Mmes. Bruce Brown, W. H. Gentry, Robert Ginn, Ernest Kendall, Bill Nelson, Jess Robinson, Hubert Storrer and A. L. Manjeot.

Lions Club Sets Annual Event

Hereford Lions Club will hold its annual Christmas party and Ladies Night next Thursday in the Hereford High School Cafeteria.

Deward Roberson, program chairman for December, said entertainment for the event will be divided into two halves. The first half will be presented by a barbershop quartet consisting of three Amarillo men and Bill Devers of Hereford.

Second half of the program will be brought by the "Top 20 Singers" of Caprock High School in Amarillo. Gordon Suits, a former show business personality and announcer for KGNC radio, is in charge of choirs for the school.

The event will begin at 7:30 p.m., with the meal to be served by cafeteria cooks.

Special guest for the supper will be Santa Claus. There will be no noon luncheon Wednesday.

Family Holiday Visits Are Made

Awards Won Together
By 17 Camp Fire Girls

Climaxing a year of activity, 17 members of Elu Can Da Camp Fire group have received Group Torchbearer awards, making the fourth rank in Camp Fire. The award is earned by exploring in a group the 25 individual Torchbearer fields of interest where the girls will advance next.

The 17 received the Group Torchbearer pin, a star surrounded by a circle, symbolic of work as a group toward ever-widening goals.

They are Deanne Allen, Kim Dameron, Linda Dickerson, Gail Gamez, Pam Garrison, Kim Gorrell, Susan Hickman, M'Lynn Hopson, Carolyn Langley, Sheila Lea, Pam Lindsey, Jane Lyons, Georgette Malouf, Lyndi Rojek, Carla Murphy, Elizabeth Word and Debbie Smith. Girls who received recognition with a junior high pin as new members of Elu Can Da are Karon and Sharon Matthews and Iris Garcia. Mrs. Earnest Langley is guardian of the group.

Beginning the year, the group took a child care course with a school nurse as instructor, gaining practical knowledge to become better baby sitters. Practicing this, members received job experience.

During National Music Week in the spring, the group recorded Camp Fire songs and other selections for a radio program. They visited Hereford Laboratories, learning of its work in bio-medical testing and Girls made decorations for the agricultural testing. annual banquet of the Sugar Beet Growers. In the field of sports they went on a bicycle hike, and for an outdoor activity, had a progressive picnic. They planned an Italian dinner honoring their guardian, where they reminisced about their years in Camp Fire, and closed with group singing.

Meeting another requirement they planned a ceremonial program, using a Thanksgiving theme and a nostalgic program with music recalling such activities as attendance at an Amarillo Symphony Christmas concert, programs on Austria participation with other Camp Fire Girls in the "Up With People" presentation at a father-daughter banquet, and a final selection from the musical Camelot, picturing the future.

Sessions of talk and action have made the girls familiar with many fields of interest for individual Torchbearer rank. Included were a visit to a city commission meeting and planning and serving a meal.

Seminar Recently

Janice Galley of Hereford recently attended an invitational Youth Seminar on the campus of Ora Roberts University, Tulsa, Okla.

Featured speaker for the three-day seminar was Oral Roberts, president of the Christian liberal arts university. Guests at the youth seminar met some of the school's 870 enrolled students and were introduced to electronic teaching media and curriculum offered at ORU.

Now in its fourth year of operation, the University graduates its first entering class in the spring. The school has a 21-million dollar campus in suburban Tulsa which is 60 percent completed, and projects an expected enrollment of 2,000 by 1975.

Flocked wallpapers, popular today, were used in the 17th century and sold in rolls that were four feet wide.

Gay as the red candy canes which decorated invitations, a holiday reception entertained scores of friends when Mrs. J. R. Allison, Mrs. O. G. Hill Jr., Mrs. S. F. Clements and Mrs. Clint Formby were hostesses Friday in Mrs. Formby's home.

One group called during morning hours and another in the afternoon at this, one of the big parties of Hereford's sparkling Christmas season.

The welcome to guests began outside the door, with candy canes blooming on an evergreen tree beside the walk, varicolored canes forming a border to hold garlands of Christmas lights, the lamp-post and porch pillars wrapped in red and white stripes.

Greeting callers in the entrance hall, the hostesses were all dressed in pink with corsages of tiny candy canes tied with red bows. Three wore identical dresses of silver-threaded fabric, styled with harem hems and full sleeves gathered tightly at the wrists.

Assisting at the refreshment table in the morning were Mmes. Ivan Block, Wayne Thomas, Frank Barrett, Neil Cooper and B. Y. Crosthwait; in the afternoon, Mmes. Buddy Bloomer, Don Chaney, Wes Fisher, Mack Cansler, Raymond White and Gerald Mann.

They were all dressed in red or white, with the candy cane corsages.

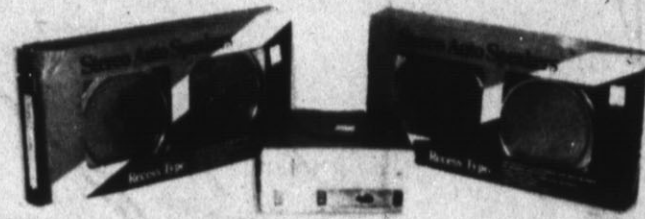

Christmas decorations contained the air of hospitality through the house. A huge Santa Claus face shaded a lamp in the living room, where white and gold arrangements were placed on the tables. Centering the dining table, tiny white angel chorister fi-

Mavs Undefeated Thus Far; Dogies Drop Five, Win One

By MARSHALL DAY
Sports Editor

Basketball season has begun with a bang for the La Plata Junior High Mavericks as they have won all of their games in each of the three grades, but things take on a rather different light with the Stanton Dogies as they have won only one game in their combined first six outings.

In the seasons opener for the Stanton seventh, eighth and ninth graders, they all met defeat at the hands of the Muleshoe squads, with the seventh graders falling 41-11, the eighth grade team being nipped 32-29 and the freshmen group meeting defeat by a 51-30 score.

Thursday night, the Dogies' three squads wound up with one win between them and that being a 31-25 win for the eighth graders. The ninth grade team fell 63-46 after trailing 30-0 at the half, and the young seventh grade bunch met defeat 33-27 as all three teams played the Dimmitt teams.

Those in the eighth grade include Keith Kitchens, Bill Phillips, Terry Scott, Alan Cornelius, Jimmy Yeager, Alan Hare, David Tipps, Wayne Moton, Vance McGee, Glen McQueary, Luther Mays, Keith Spearman, Wesley High and Dean Allen.

In the seventh grade basketball program are David Arriga, Danny Askew, Sammie Black, Gregg Dameron, Joel Findley, Chip Guesman, Shelly Hacker, James Higgins, Dale Lemons, Jake Northcutt, Rodney O'Rand, Gerald Payne, Robert Peacock, Ignacio Pena, Joe Priddy, Allen Reed, Ricky Rogin, Gerald Shipley, Crig Solomon, John Stoy, Micki Ward, Kenneth Wilcox, and Randy Williams.

La Plata, who opened their three-game season with wins Monday night kept their records perfect with additional wins Thursday against the Canyon teams.

Monday, the seventh grade team swept past the Plainview Estacado crew to the tune of 28-17 as they held the visitors to only one point during the first half of the game.

The Mavs led 10-1 at the end of the first period then added eight more points of their own in the second stanza for an 18-1 lead at half time. In the second half, the seventh graders, powered by the ten-point efforts of Jerry Brock and Jim Marsh, went ahead 23-7 at the end of the third then staved off a late rally by the Estacado team to defeat them 28-17.

Aiding in the scoring were James Waits with four, James Massey with two and Bobby Bogard with one.

Thursday night, the Canyon team found the going a little too stiff for them as the Mav seventh graders chalked up their second win of the season against no defeats by downing them 37-25.

Hereford trailed through the first half by a 12-3 score at the end of the first stanza and an 18-13 score at the end of the second quarter. From the beginning of the second half, it was all Mav's as they poured on the coal and smothered the Canyon team.

In the third period the locals held the Canyon team to only two points while they themselves added 14 to take a 27-20 lead. They kept their lead the remainder of the game and wound up with a 37-25 decision.

High pointer for the Thursday night game was Brock again as he had 12 points. Also contributing to the winning effort were Massey with seven, Marsh with six, Bogard with two and Waits with ten.

The Mav eighth graders kept their record unmarred for the season as they opened with a win last Monday over the Plainview team and another over the Canyon White team Thursday.

Monday, the Mavs fell behind 8-4 in the first quarter, then surged ahead to remain for the rest of the game as they took a 17-14 lead into the dressing room at the half. Plainview pulled within two points of the locals in the third period then the Mavs wasted little time in the fourth and final period to take the game away from the visitors, 36-30.

Chalking up points for the eighth graders were Terry Champ with 12; Wallace Hill with 10; Walter Olson with six; and Berry McNutt with eight.

Thursday night, the Mav eighth grade team mauled the Canyon team 55-30 and were never less than nine points ahead of the host Eagles.

The big period of play for the locals was in the third when they collected 12 points while holding the Canyon by to only six. They iced the game over in the fourth when defensive maneuvers held the Eagles to just six more while they added ten to finalize the score at 5-30.

Hitting in the double figures for the Mavs were Champ with 18, McNutt with 14 and Olson with 11. Also contributing were Berry McNutt with six, Hill with four and Joe Sheffy with two.

Plainview and Canyon both became early season victims of the La Plata Ninth grade cagers as the Mavs clipped the Plainview Blue Pups 55-47 Monday evening and the Canyon Eagles, 40-33 Thursday.

In the season opener against the Plainview team, Billy Bob Taylor led the scoring attack as he notched 22 points in the cliff-hanger. At the end of the first quarter, La Plata held a slim 17-22 lead then strengthened it even more in the second stanza as they added 12 points to the Blue Pup's eight.

They then really began hitting from all over the hardwoods in the third period and surged ahead 45-27, before closing the game up in the final period with 10 points to Plainview's 20 for a 55-47 win.

Pouring in the points along with Taylor were Danny Charest with 10, Ralph Waits with nine, Cliff Herring with eight and John Page with six.

Charest was the big gun in the 40-33 win over the Canyon White team Thursday night as he contributed 15 points to the score. Taylor also hit in the double figures with 13 while Page had six, Waits had five and Herring one.

Score by quarters showed Canyon ahead by a single point at the end of the first period, 7-6, but the Mavs pulled ahead to stay in the second as they popped the nets for 11 points and a 17-11 lead. The score read 31-23 at the end of the third stanza and the final went in favor of the locals as they took the game, 40-33.

Numerous Records Erased By 1968 La Plata Gridsters

By MARSHALL DAY Sports Editor

When high school coach Larry Wartes predicted earlier in the season that this was to be the "year of football," he could not have been more correct particularly if he had pointed the finger at the La Plata Mavericks.

The 1968 football season marked the breaking of six individual and team records at La Plata Junior High along with one of the most impressive seasons a team has turned out at that school.

John Page, Maverick back, erased two of the past records by gaining 1,316 yards during one season and the other by totaling 151 points through the regular season. The old record for one season's total yards gained was held by last year's Alan Wagner who had 1,070, and the most number of points in a single year was previously held by La Plata's 1966 ninth grader John Frank Martin who had 77. Page's 151 points came by scoring 22 touchdowns, running nine two-point conversions, and kicking one PAT.

Charles Allison and Billy Bob Taylor each set one individual record this year and combined their talents to establish another. Together, they hold the record for the longest pass play which covered 88 yards in this season's game against the Dimmit team. Allison set the record for individual passing in one season as he went to the air 32 times, completed 18 of these and garnered a total of 486 yards through the air. The previous record for this category was held by 1967's Mike Wartes who had 217 yards in the season.

Taylor's record came in the individual pass receiving department for one year with 16 receptions for 415 yards. This took care of the old mark set by William Hall in 1966 who caught four passes for 96 yards.

The 1968 season also provided the team that easily erased the old record of the number of yards gained rushing as they rolled up 2,431 yards on the ground. The old record was set by the 1966 squad which hit a high of 1,743.

Products of the 1968 Maverick team combined their efforts for the year to amass 326 points in nine games while allowing their opposition only 159. Aiding in the scoring for the year were Page with his 151 points; Danny Charest, eight TD's and five PAT runs for 38 points; Taylor, nine touchdowns for 54 points; Allison, six TD's for 36 points; Johnny Tijerina, three touchdowns for 18 points; Tony Hardin, one touchdown for six; Ralph Waits, one for six; Monty Smith, three PAT kicks for three points; and Gary London, one PAT conversion run for two points.

Individual rushing for the 1968 campaign was again headed by Page as he carried the pigskin 149 times and gained 1,316 yards for an average of 8.82 yards per carry; Charest, 101 carries for 582 yards and an average of 5.76; Allison, 32 totes for 86 yards and a 2.68 average; Taylor, 23 carries for 228 yards and an average of 9.91; Tijerina, 148 yards on 24 carries for an average of 6.16; Waits, three carries for a 15.7 average; and London, nine totes for 24 yards and a 2.66 average.

Season statistics and records for Stanton Junior High Dogles were not kept, and thus could not be given.

An average summer storm produces 50 times the energy of the first atomic bomb, the National Geographic Society says.

Turkey Shoot Is Scheduled Today

Gene Cope, president of the Hereford Gun Club, has announced plans for a Turkey Shoot, beginning at 2 p.m. today at the club shooting range east of the air port.

Shooters will be placed in groups of five's with each person in the groups being allowed five shots. The contest a n t with the highest number of "hits" will be awarded the turkey, Cope explained. In case there is a tie at the end of the round, the shooting will continue until a winner is determined.

Anyone who wins a turkey is still eligible to compete for another turkey, but rules will be that that person must shoot from the 22 yard line instead of the 16 where the first round is shot. If the shooter wins the second turkey, he may still shoot for another, but the yard line will then be set at the 27. Cope also said that there is no planned practice session prior to the shoot.

Former Resident Forms Business

Don Jackson, former Hereford resident and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jackson of Hereford, has formed a new business in Pampa.

Jackson is the president and general manager of United Agri Industries, Inc., which recently purchased the Whitener Feed Mill of Pampa and will assume operations by Dec. 15.

A complete line of horse, cattle, dairy, swine, poultry and miscellaneous feeds will be produced, including feed lot supplements. Markets for the new operation will be the eastern half of Texas Panhandle, Western Oklahoma and the Oklahoma Panhandle. Plans call for an immediate expansion of the mill, which will increase the capacity of production to 40,000 tons per year. The expansion program calls for completion within the next 18 months.

A Pampa resident for two years, Jackson was born and raised on a farm near Hereford. For the past few years he has been associated with the Paymaster Feed Mills as their sales representative for the eastern Texas Panhandle and western Oklahoma territory.

Jackson and his wife, the former Jeanne Brown, graduated from Hereford High School in 1959. Jackson graduated from West Texas State University in 1966, receiving a bachelor's degree in agriculture.

The Jacksons have two children, Eddy, 7, and Donna, 4. Mrs. Jackson is the daughter of the Howard C. Browns of Hereford and Amarillo.

Artichoke hearts make a notable first course for a company dinner that's on the formal side. Use drained canned or frozen cooked artichoke hearts and team them with a rich cream sauce: sprinkle copiously with grated Parmesan cheese and brown under the broiler.

When you need unsweetened applesauce to add to a cookie or cake batter, cook the apples in as little water as possible a quarter cup will be enough for half a dozen medium apple so the sauce is on the thick side when you strain it.

Summerfield Plan Missions Service

Summerfield Baptist Church will conduct a World Missions Conference beginning today and continuing through Wednesday, according to pastor Leo M. Buschur.

Rev. Buschur reported that this conference "will feature missionaries affiliated with the Home and Foreign Mission Boards of the Southern Baptist Convention. The purpose is to inform the local church about the various types of work done by the missionaries and to bring an awareness of how the local church can participate more actively in the mission program."

There will be five services or sessions in the Conference with a different missionary leading in each session. The first session will be at the 11 a.m.

worship service on Sunday. The missionary in charge of the service is Frank Venable. Venable, under appointment of the Home Mission Board, serves as pastor of the Central Indian Baptist Church in Oklahoma City.

Today at 7 p. m., the second session of the Conference will begin with Donald J. Richards in charge of the service. Richards has been an Evangelistic Worker in North Brazil since 1967. He was appointed to his field of work by the Foreign Mission Board in 1958.

Miss Norah Lee Brown, who serves as a missionary nurse at the Sellers Baptist Home and Adoption Center in New Orleans, La. will conduct the Monday session which will begin at 6:30 p. m.

Tuesday evening will feature a native Texan who was a District Missionary for 15 years and served one year in Panama under special assignment by the Home Mission Board. Rev. Don O. Covington, presently pastor of the Mercury Baptist Church, Mercury, Texas, will conduct this session and will include slides of his work in his presentation.

The final session will feature Rev. Walter T. Hunt who is a missionary to the Philippine Islands. Rev. Hunt is treasurer of the Philippine Baptist Mission, which is an organization of Southern Baptist Missionaries, and serves as pastor of a local church.

"A World Missions Conference will inform of the work being done as well as reveal needs that must be met. It will challenge individuals to a deeper commitment of themselves and call them to greater service," Rev. Buschur said.

"Everyone is invited to attend any or all of the sessions which will be held at the Summerfield Baptist Church. The times are as follows: Today, 11 a. m. and 7 p. m.; Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. There are no charges or fees, and there will not be any offerings taken. We encourage everyone to come and be prepared for a great spiritual blessing."

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — An Old Testament prophet helped to give Texas its first airline two years before the Wright brothers proved that man could fly.

A Bible-reading Texan became intrigued with the first chapter of Ezekiel wherein the writer recounts a parable in which men equipped with four wings and wheels flew like birds. From this and other Biblical accounts, a plan to build an airplane grew.

Ezekiel Airlines actually got a charter in 1901 and the public was offered stock at $25 a share. The organizers failed to raise the $20,000 needed to get the airline off the ground, however. Two years later, the Wright brothers, following scientifically sound principles of aerodynamics rather than the Bible, flew their plane at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina.

TRAVELING TEXAS — Time stands still at Yesteryear, the re-creation of an old-time Texas town.

Located ten miles north of Madisonville at the intersection of Interstate 45 and State Highway 21, Yesteryear has a general store, blacksmith shop, barber shop, post office, saloon, bank and other businesses that served Texas a half century ago. Darrell Hall, a Madisonville businessman, built the living museum in an effort to preserve some of the early heritage of the state.

TEXAS FIRST — A San Antonio postmaster, Jose Antonio de la Garza, probably opened and operated the first bank in the state. He carried on banking operations in connection with a mint he operated to produce coins for the Spanish government beginning in 1818.

HARD WAY TO GET A RAILWAY — Fort Worth citizens wanted a railroad so much that they left their regular jobs to help the Texas & Pacific lay its rails into town.

The T. & P. faced a deadline of reaching Fort Worth before the end of the 1876 legislative session or else sacrificing the state land grants that it needed. To help the railroad finish construction in time, leading citizens turned out to work as common laborers.

Tarrant County citizens organized a local company to help supply the needed manpower and materials. White collar executives volunteered to don overalls and help saw cross-ties and drive spikes. The ladies of Fort Worth kept the construction crews supplied with sandwiches and lemonade.

It was worth the effort, however. On July 19, 1876, Texas & Pacific locomotive No. 20 puffed into town and Fort Worth had a rail connection to the east.

IT'S THE LAW — If a Texan believes that his life has been threatened, the law says he may "arm himself" and "seek out" the person reported to have made the threat. Going armed to demand an explanation of a threat against one's life is not a violation of the law. But if an argument results and bloodshed follows, it's another matter.

Applications To Academies Are Being Accepted

Congressman Bob Price issued an appeal today for more applications from Panhandle youths who desire nomination to one of the nations service academies.

Price stated that vacancies exist in the classes starting in June 1969 at West Point, Annapolis, The Air Force Academy, and the Merchant Marine Academy.

Young men between the ages of 17 and 21 who are high school graduates and unmarried, are encouraged to apply to Congressman Price at 310 Post Office Building, Amarillo, Texas 79105.

Deadline for application to the Merchant Marine Academy is December 16, while Jan. 10, 1969 is the deadline for application to West Point, Annapolis, or the Air Force Academy.

These Academies provide a great opportunity for any young man who can qualify. It provides for one of the finest educations and careers that is offered any place in the world — and at little or no cost to the student.

Price Paints Bright Picture For Dimmitt Young People

Panhandle Congressman Bob Price predicted a brighter future for young farmers and young homemakers in an address to a group of them at Dimmitt Saturday evening.

At their banquet in the South Grade School Cafeteria, Price, a member of the Agriculture Committee of the House of Representatives, told the group that in spite of abnormally low farm prices during the recent years, and the continuing migration of small town America to the big cities, there were definite and encouraging signs of change.

Governors of the big city states and Mayors of the big cities, as well as business and industrial leaders, recognize the need and urgency of a revitalization of Rural America. They realize the futility of massive job training programs for the so called hard core unemployed in our over crowded and slum ridden metropolitan areas, when untrained and inexperienced workers from rural areas continue to pour into areas already overcrowded and unable to cope with resultant warfare and crime problems.

The answer must be a new approach to the problem in diversification of industry to rural areas and in training and retraining young people already in these areas for jobs that can be provided by such industry.

The thinking and planning at the Federal level has already turned in this direction. The Nixon administration has, in fact, pledged itself to a program of revitalization of our rural areas.

Many of our young people who have left the farm and small towns for the lure of better pay and living in the city, have found bitter disillusionment in the congested conditions, high living costs, crime problems, and the impersonal attitude of the metropolis.

Panhandle communities have already begun this transformation through community initiative and effort. The economy of this area is definitely agriculture oriented and attracts more agriculture oriented industry.

The Panhandle of Texas will undoubtedly, soon, be the nation's leading cattle raising, feeding, and processing area. Beef is agriculture's number one cash product, but not the only one in the Panhandle and South Plains area.

Research presently under way by both government industry and universities in this great area, are contributing to the further efficiency, progress, and prosperity in the over-all agriculture economy. And state, local, and the Federal government are recognizing, more and more, the necessity of better education — elementary, secondary, and advanced, but particularly vocational and technical education which has been neglected too long.

Dimmitt, Castro County, and this entire area have done more to take care of their own problems than most other areas of the country. Diversified agriculture has earned Castro Co. the reputation as one of the most prosperous counties in the United States. And there is no limit to the continued progress and development of the whole area — except for the solution of one problem — a future abundant water supply. And that will be solved if you, the coming leaders, in the community, stay here and help better the community you grew up in and join in the solution of the water problem as well as the many others that must be solved if we are going to go "forward together."

We must reverse the trend of migration to the cities and revitalize rural America into the preferred areas they should be for good, clean, all-American living, with jobs and opportunities for all.

I might quote from the news story about a youth farm meeting in Dallas last year as to the virtues of living "down on the farm" a compared to city dwelling. At least this came from the ladies' point of view: "Some of the 10 finalists in the Texas Future Farmers of America Sweetheart Contest had this to say about farm boys. They make better dates than city slickers. They have higher moral values. They are more responsible. And, they are not ashamed to talk about God and nature's simple beauty. Farm boys are decent, said one finalist. I used to think they were just hicks until I began to see how worthwhile their lives are."

And perhaps some of the boys' attitudes have something to do with how the girls feel. "I want to live out in the country where you can be alone and nobody rushes you" said one delegate.

Another, when asked if he planned to live in the city, replied, "not if I can help it."

And that is certainly the way I feel about it. Even though I have no choice but to spend most of my time in a big city, at least I can more fully appreciate communities like Dimmitt and the wonderful people who make it what it is, when Congress is not in session.

for their service to the Veterans Hospital. Saturday, they celebrated their 49th wedding anniversary. And in the center — Wilkins is shown in the club room of the local Legion headquarters waiting for a meeting to begin.

"Some time ago, one of our daughters asked me why we had gotten married on Pearl Harbor Day." He laughed about that.

Wilkins noted that his retirement as County Veterans Service Officer is due only to a retirement order (No. 1629) which requires its employees to relinquish their duties after age 65 or at such time as a suitable replacement can be found to fill the position after age 65.

County Judge H. C. Williams reported that no replacement has as yet been located to fill the post vacated by Wilkins — and he was strong in his praise toward the current Veterans Service Officer. "We certainly have no complaints toward his work," the judge stipulated.

He pointed out that County Commissioners Court was merely acting on the County Retirement Order.

Concerning Veterans

Veterans separated from service after Jan. 31, 1955, were reminded today by the Veterans Administration that they are now entitled to one and one-half months of educational assistance — up to a maximum of 36 months — for each month of military service.

A law which went into effect Dec. 1 liberalized the previous Post-Korean G. I. Bill limit of one month of educational assistance for each month of service for veterans with at least 181 days of service, including some after Jan. 31, 1955.

Another provision of the law which went into effect Dec. 1 grants veterans with at least 18 months of continuous service after Jan. 31, 1955, who have satisfied their military obligation, the maximum of 36 months of educational assistance entitlement.

Thus, for example, a veteran who may have entered service before the official end of the Korean Conflict (Jan. 31, 1955), but had only 18 months of Post-Korean service, will still be able to get four academic years of VA educational assistance.

Unchanged by this new law is the amount of educational assistance allowance which a veteran may receive. Currently, a single veteran taking full-time institutional training is paid $130 a month by the VA. The amount of additional allowance he may receive depends on the number of his dependents.

Post-Korean veterans have eight years from the date of their separation from service to complete training under the third generation G. E. Bill.

Some Post-Korean veterans have earned entitlement to educational assistance under more than one VA program — the Korean Conflict G. I. Bill as well as the current measure, for example. Previously they were limited to aggregate benefits of 36 months. Now, however, under the new law which went into effect on Dec. 1 they will be entitled to aggregate benefits of no more than 48 months.

The VA especially urged Post-Korean veterans who did not return to school because they could complete only a couple of years of college under the old formula — one month entitlement for each one month service — to contact their nearest office.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — How do you justify settling tax debts with famous people for just a fraction of what they owe when you get the full amount from the average taxpayer?

A — The same treatment is provided all taxpayers regardless of their income or amount of tax liability. The situations where some taxpayers settle their tax obligations for less than what IRS says they owe occur with average individuals as well as famous individuals even though it does not receive the same publicity.

There are two basic situations where taxpayers settle their liability for less than the amount assessed. The first occurs where the actual amount of the tax owed is disputed by the taxpayer. In these cases, a lesser tax liability may result following a court decision on the case or a pre-trial agreement between the taxpayer and IRS. The determining factors could be the court's interpretation of the law or the availability of records the taxpayer had not previously provided.

The second situation occurs when the amount of tax due is not questioned but the taxpayer doesn't have sufficient assets and income to make full payment over a reasonable period of time. In this situation, an agreement representing the taxpayer's maximum ability to pay may be made after first determining no greater amount can be collected by any other means. Such agreements also provide that if the taxpayer's financial situation improves payment will be increased according to maximum ability to pay.

Q — Can a farmer depreciate his breeding stock?

A — It depends on how the stock was acquired. If the breeding stock was raised rather than purchased then the stock can't be depreciated. The cost of raising is deducted as a farm expense.

If the stock was purchased, then depreciation is the only way to recover this investment over its useful life. The cost of purchased breeding stock is not deductible in one year where it has a useful life of more than one year.

Q — I've been asked to send in my records on contributions. If I do that and the records are all right, will I have to make a personal trip to your office?

A — The purpose of having a taxpayer mail his records to IRS is to avoid whatever inconvenience a taxpayer may experience by having to make a personal visit to offices. In some cases, however, the records supplied by the taxpayer are not adequate and a personal interview with the taxpayer is arranged.

So to answer your question, a personal visit to our offices will depend on the adequacy of your tax records.

Q — I want to sell some stock I own before the end of the year so that I can deduct my losses on this year's return. Does the stock actually have to be sold by the end of the year or is it enough to have notified your broker by December 31?

A — On the sale of stock, the date your stock was sold at a loss is the one you should use for tax purposes. If this date, or trade date as it is sometimes called, came in your 1968 tax year then the transaction can be reported on your 1968 return. However, gains are reported in the year you have actual or constructive receipt of the money.

Barber Not Ready To Fully Retire

By EARL MOSELEY Staff Writer

Cecil O. Wilkins, who has been Veterans Service Officer in Deaf Smith County for the past eight years and is scheduled to be retired at the first of the year, has been a barber much longer than that — and will continue to be one!

Wilkins has a shop at the entrance of the Hotel Jim Hill. He has been at this location for the past three years, but he said that he has had several locations in Hereford since he moved here in 1926. "I'm not ready to quit yet," he said.

After 42 years, Wilkins said, "I think Hereford has been good for me. It raised my family and got them all educated. I am very well satisfied."

Wilkins and his wife live at 108 Avenue G. They raised two daughters and a son.

AMERICAN LEGION HONORS Wilkins is a veteran of World War I. He was in the Army for a period of 18 months. "I was a barber at that time," he said.

But he joined a new organization called the American Legion at its inception. This year the Legion celebrated its 50th anniversary. The Hereford Post No. 192 presented him with a 50-year membership certificate in May, along with W. C. Hromas, Jesse Ford and J. C. Ricketts, who were present, and Ed Warren, Frank G. Smith, C. C. Acker, Ruben H. Roundtree, Carl G. McCaslin, Alvin L. Hewitt, and W. R. Williams, who could not be present on that night.

However, at that same meeting, Wilkins became the second honoree of the Hereford Post when he was awarded a lifetime membership in the organization. Presentation was made by the first honoree, Ira W. Ott.

In June, he and Mrs. Wilkins were both presented with 100-hour (and more) service certificates for work with the Veterans Administration Hospitals. And Wilkins has been Post Service Officer "off and on for 35 years."

EARLY CAREER

During the Burkburnett oil boom he barbered at nearby Fort Sill (Lawton), Oklahoma, "for three or four years. I had three different shops there — when an organization would leave Fort Sill, I would have to relocate."

While at Fort Sill, he married the former Florence Zea. Their wedding date was December 7, 1919 — which means that Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins celebrated their 49th anniversary.

Some Pressure Required for Live

A moderate amount of pressure is valuable in keeping people active and happy. But too much or too little can be dangerous. This applies to the body as well as mind. Abnormal blood pressure, too high or too low, is one of the most dependable indications that something in the body needs attention.

There is always a definite cause for abnormal blood pressure. Perhaps the cause lies in improper nerve function.

Chiropractors are thoroughly familiar with the working of the nervous system. They are trained to remove obstructions to the natural flow of nerve impulses.

Let a chiropractor check your blood pressure at least twice annually. If your blood pressure is abnormal, he will bring improvement and help restore your body's health by applying natural corrective techniques.

Coming: Six Easy Lessons

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

The correspondence course on Make Your Money Behave is receiving much comment. The course can be taken without watching the television show.

THIS TV SHOW will supplement the lessons but the two are independent. So, if you had any qualms about this, remember the six correspondence lessons will have references enclosed with the lessons. All the material that is needed will be in the lessons.

There are two television shows however, on each lesson. Also, each television show is independent. Mrs. Mona Hildreth, Potter County Home Demonstration Agent will give the programs on television under the direction of the Extension Service.

The correspondence courses have been successful in that it is a teaching method that has appeal to women who work and for women who can't conveniently leave home for group meetings.

Topics for the correspondence lessons are: 1) Your Values, Your Guiding Stars; 2) How Do You Rate as a Manager? 3) Keep Track of Your Money-Plan Your Spending; 4) How to Write a Check that Can't be Raised; 5) When Credit Pays) and 6)

Holly Announces New Assistant

COLORADO SPRINGS — The appointment of Patrick J. Nolan, 30, a specialist in the field of mergers and acquisitions, as assistant to Willard F. Cheley, vice president-finance of Holly Sugar Corporation, was announced today.

Nolan, a native of New York, will be based at Holly's New York office, 485 Madison Avenue. Cheley said Nolan would also work in corporate development and planning.

Nolan is a graduate of Fordham University and has a master of business administration degree from Pace College, New York City.

Prior to joining Holly, Nolan was employed by W. R. Grace and Company, New York City, as an acquisition and merger specialist, along with duties in economic and financial planning and analysis.

Holly has 10 factories in five states: Brawley and Santa Ana in southern California; Tracy and Hamilton City in northern California; Hereford, Texas; Delta, Colorado; Torrington and Worland, Wyoming; and Hardin and Sidney, Montana.

Hardwick Tells Of Human Star's Rise

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Francis Hardwick, manager of the Star Theatre in Hereford, released some information on the human star of the second Shop and Show matinee sponsored by the First National Bank (the animal star is "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion"), to be shown at no admission charge for children on Saturday, Dec. 21, while their mothers are Christmas shopping here.

Recalling past invitations in cooperation with the Brand Publishing Company for families of Vietnam veterans to see "The Green Berets" — "the first large-scaled motion picture about the war in Vietnam" — the human star of "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion" was producer, director and star of the first (and only) small-scaled Vietnam war picture, Marshall Thompson.

Although his Vietnam picture was not a financial success, Hardwick pointed out that — overall — Marshall Thompson was a success in show business. And he is a patient man. He waited 20 years for his first starring role in an MGM picture — which was "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion."

Placed under contract by Louis B. Meyer in 1944, Thompson appeared in 16 films during his nine-year tenure at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. He was seen with such greats as Clark Gable, Gregory Peck, Greer Garson, John Wayne, Robert Montgomery, Barbara Stanwyck, Walter Pidgeon, Claudette Colbert, and Lionel Barrymore, but never rose above co-star billing.

"When MGM eliminated its famous 'stable' of star talent in the early 1950's," Thompson said, "I decided I would use my motion picture career to do as much traveling as possible and concentrate on pictures with realistic backgrounds."

First he went to Africa, where he spent seven months in Kenya, Tanganyika and the Congo and worked in the film, "East of Killimnjaro." Then he went to England and Puerto Rico for three films with scientific backgrounds. Back home, he made frequent appearances on television and eventually played in the "Angel" series.

"But always in back of my mind were two things," he said, "a thirst for more travel and an urge to return someday to MGM."

In 1962, Thompson flew to South Vietnam and plunged almost singlehandedly into the task of making a motion picture about that nation's bitter war. The only Caucasian in the cast or crew and constantly under the threat of sniper's bullets, he produced, directed and acted in "A Yank in Vietnam."

(Hardwick pointed out that "The Green Berets" was filmed entirely on location within the United States and was a huge success here. But "A Yank in Vietnam," filmed entirely on the scene, was not popular in this country at the box office. It was partially because of its failure that other producers shied away from Vietnam war-background stories until John Wayne "took a chance.")

But when Thompson returned to the United States, his war film had come to the attention of producer Ivan Tors, who invited Thompson to join his staff at MGM.

Thompson's first assignment was to create a concept for a TV series which would spotlight the more than 150 wild animals at Tors' ranch, "Africa, U. S. A." The ranch, located 42 miles from Los Angeles, provided a wide range of wild animals for use by motion picture studios.

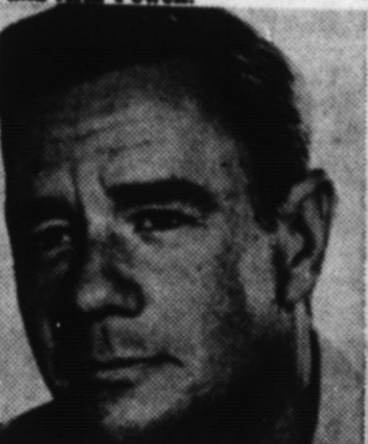

"On my first visit to Africa, U. S. A., I was introduced to a very forlorn looking cross-eyed lion which up to that time had been of no use to film companies because of its confused vision," Thompson related. "I named the animal after my pet house cat, Clarence, and came up with the idea for a comedy about an African veterinarian who tries to uncross the version of a cockeyed king of beasts."

MGM and Tors bought the idea and Art Arthur collaborated with Thompson on the story. The film went into production in the fall of 1964 with Thompson starring as the veterinarian. "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion" represents the fulfillment of not two but three of Marshall Thompson's ambitions. "I was back at MGM and playing my first starring role at the studio, and I was having the pleasure of watching a story I had helped create develop into motion picture."

And after the theatrical release of "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion" in 1965, it was so successful as a family film that it later became the basis for the "Daktari" television series, also starring Marshall Thompson, and, as his daughter, Cheryl Miller. It is in Metrocolor.

First National Bank is sponsoring Clarence's return to Hereford for two pre-Christmas showings, at 10 and 11:50 a. m. on Saturday, Dec. 2.

And the First National is set to sponsor another matinee on December 23. The title of this free-showing feature has been announced as "Battle Beyond the Sun," a science-fiction film in color. Showing at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m., it stars Edd Perry and Aris Powell.

MARSHALL THOMPSON — His Vietnam movie flopped but he became a success with "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion," the second free Shop and Show matinee in Hereford on Dec. 21.

BIRTH RATE DOWN
PRAGUE — Czechoslovakia last year had the lowest birth rate since the republic was founded in 1918. A report of the Statistical Office said in 1967 for each 1,000 inhabitants 15.1 babies were born.

The country's lowest birth rate so far was in 1937 at the height of the depression, with 16.7 births for 1,000 persons.

The word for cattle in Gaelic is "feah," which ultimately became the English word fee.

Gifts Exchanged Often At Party

Repeated exchanges of gifts were made by Simms Study-Craft Club members at the Christmas party Wednesday afternoon in Mrs. Jim Perrin's beautifully decorated home.

After the initial gift exchange by drawing numbers, a game was played in which an exchange could be demanded of any member who used the word "I" in telling her Christmas plans. Packages changed hands several times during the party.

Mrs. Jerry Roberts and Mrs. Willis Duggin were hostesses with Mrs. Perrin, in rooms bright with holiday color. A large tree trimmed in red and blue was the central feature of decorations. Refreshments were also in the Christmas motif.

Present were two new members, Mrs. Edgar Hartley and Mrs. Billy Stevens, and Mmes. Tommy Blasingame, Emmett Young, Julian Perrin, Robert Lloyd, Larry Harris, Arlis Edwards, Terry Creitz, James Cavin, Dwayne Cassels, Leland Burns, J. M. Boothe and the club president, Mrs. James Bulard, who conducted a short business session.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A note from Bess Werner has the welcome news that she hopes to "be back in circulation again soon," after spending quite a time in the hospital. Hope she is up and around again, and I get to see her at the Pioneer Club's Christmas lunch Tuesday.

BESS IS ONE of those persons, like Audrey Thompson, Kathlee Palmer, Sylvia Parsley, Roberta Campbell and several others I know who, I am convinced every time I talk with them, should be writing this column instead of me.

It's a temptation to quote them every time I see them but I'm not supposed to fill this with quotations from my clever friends; it's supposed to have a broader purpose and besides if I used them too much, they might demand pay!

ABOUT NOON Wednesday, when the sun had warmed the town up good-between "fronts," smoke was drifting in on the very light breeze with a scene of burning leaves, and suddenly it seemed like September instead of December.

Real Indian summer weather for a while. Don't know where the smoke came from — maybe someone was burning weeds off a vacant lot or along fence rows, but it added just the proper touch and convinced me that walking home for lunch would be much better than riding.

LAST WEEKEND the Junior Paul Hoffs were here from Austin, where he goes to the school for Texas Highway Patrolmen and is due to graduate Dec. 20. They visited the senior Hoffs and also her mother, Mrs. Eleanor Winkler.

Hoff has already received his first assignment as a patrolman and will be stationed at Matador. His work there will begin the day after Christmas so the couple expects to be rather busy getting moved while they are here for a holiday visit after graduation.

IF YOU HAVEN'T already visited the Art Guild's exhibit in the old Penney store location on Main Street, or even if you have seen it and want to look some more, it will be open from 1 to 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The members and other painters and craftsmen of this area are showing work which is for sale, possibly for Christmas giving, but if you don't want to buy you are welcome to visit.

and see the samples of art produced by your neighbors. Some of it may surprise you.

Mrs. Sanford N. Williams married last weekend

S. N. Williams And Bride To Live In Waxahachie

After a wedding trip to South Texas following their marriage in Austin November 29, the Rev. and Mrs. Sanford Nelson Williams will live in Waxahachie, where he is a senior student in Southwestern Assemblies of God

College. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobby Williams, 345 Avenue G. His bride is the former Miss Edith Kay Gooding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gooding of Austin. The wedding was in Central Assembly of God Church at Austin.

She wore a white crepe gown on-modified princess lines, with yoke and bell sleeves of lace. More of the lace formed a train. Her short veil was caught to a headpiece of lace roses and she carried an orchid on a bridal Bible. The bridesmaids' dresses were similar, of gold crepe and lace.

A reception at Hotel Gondolier was held after the wedding. The bride's mother wore a navy suit and Mrs. Hobby Williams a green wool dress, both with white carnation corsages.

The bride was attended by Misses Marilyn Willis of Wichita Falls and Marie Akins of Waxahachie, the bridegroom by Michael Whistler of Bartlesville, Okla. and his brother, Ronnie Williams of Hereford. Her father gave Miss Gooding in marriage.

SAINT JOSEPH'S MISSION MONDAY — Fried chicken, sweet potatoes, corn, carrot sticks, black berry pie, biscuits, butter and milk.

TUESDAY — Macaroni-cheese meat casserole, braccoli, peanut butter portion, jello with fruit, rolls, butter and milk.

WEDNESDAY — Turkey a-la-king, baked potatoes, mixed vegetables, orange, buns, butter and milk.

THURSDAY — Spaghetti and meat balls, green beans, cole slaw, sugar cookies, fruit combo, soda crackers, milk.

FRIDAY — Beef stew, pork and beans, peas, sweetpotato pie, cornbread, butter and milk.

Awards Given Red Cross Workers

Recognition night for Deaf Smith County Red Cross Chapter saw citations presented to residents who have served the past year in various fields of Red Cross work here, in a program Thursday at Community Center.

Mrs. Bruce Miller received a pin marking five years of service in the water safety program. This year she has been coordinator of water safety activities in this district, after completing the four year term permitted as county chairman of water safety.

Mrs. Kyle Cauble, Mrs. Sam Morgan and Mrs. R. B. Hutson were given their caps as uniformed volunteers, after attending a six-hour orientation course and working with the local Volunteers group a required number of hours in community service.

The caps were presented by Genevieve Miller, county executive secretary, and certificates denoting completion of the orientation course by Mrs. H. F. Neely, former executive. A certificate also went to Rodney Laughan.

Mrs. C. E. Rush, this year's water safety chairman, gave citations to volunteers who worked 50 hours or more in the summer program of swimming instruction, to Mrs. Wes Fisher, Mrs. David Brumley and Floyd Payne, instructors, and Mrs. Dick Jaegels, Karen and Kathy Jaegels, Sheila Lea, Lynn Fisher, Pam Miller, Diane Springer, Sarah Bell, Susan Balden and Charlotte Williams, aides.

J. R. Johnson, county Red Cross board chairman, and Bill Jean, national representative from the Amarillo area office, made other presentations to individuals and organizations who did outstanding work of making and filling Santa Claus ditty bags as Christmas gifts to U. S. servicemen in Vietnam, and in making garments for use in veterans' hospitals.

Individuals receiving citations are Mmes. Earl Poarch, Grady Parsons, J. E. Brooks, Henry Hastings and M. L. Simpson.

For church groups, Mrs. S. L. Garrison accepted the certificate for First United Methodist women, Mrs. James Hill for Immanuel Lutheran, Mrs. Morgan for First Baptist, Mrs. Rush for First Christian, Mrs. Guy Walsler for Summerfield Baptist, Mrs. Hastings for First Presbyterian.

Mrs. Louie Olson received the award for Cultural Home Demonstration Club, Mrs. Blanche Harden for West Hereford H.D., Mrs. Leroy Bodkin for Wyche H. D., Mrs. Mack Noland for Summerfield Study Club, Mrs. James Gandy for Star Street Friendship Club and Mrs. Garrison for Frio Homemakers Club.

Uniformed volunteers, of whom Mrs. T. B. Thomas is chairman, prepared refreshments which were served after the presentations. Mrs. Leo Forrest was assisted by the newly-capped members at the table.

A short film titled Vietnam Assignment was shown to open the program.

Cakes And Cookies, Even Pies, May Be Mailed With Confidence

COLLEGE STATION — Cookies and cakes which are long-lived and can stand a few knocks can be mailed with confidence, regardless of distance, says Elizabeth Barnard, food and nutrition specialist.

Soft drop cookies, chewy bar cookies, squared and filled cookies travel well, according to the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Applesauce, molasses, oatmeal and mince-meat cookies are good packers. Cookies flavored with honey and fruit improve with age.

If cookies are too rich, they may crumble or turn rancid, warns Miss Barnard.

Cakes are different to ship successfully because they dry and break. Syrups substituted for part of the sugar help to prevent rapid drying. Fruit cakes and those made with applesauce remain moist for some time.

The Extension specialist recommends sending cup cakes baked in fluted paper cups. Or, she says, cut a square cake and frost pieces on all sides, wrapping each piece individually.

To send pie, Miss Barnard suggests tarts or individual pies. They pack better.

Adding all-bran to the pastry dough helps prevent the crust from breaking up, she says. Firm fillings are less apt to soak through the crust. Miss Barnard recommends mince-meat and fruit thickened with cornstarch. Custard fillings spoil too rapidly to be safe.

The Extension foods specialist says products of these two recipes travel well.

The bride is a graduate of Southwestern Assemblies of God College, and the bridegroom expects to receive his BS degree there in May.

HONEY HERMITS

Melt 1-3 cup shortening and add it to 1-1.3 cups of strained honey. Then add 2 eggs, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1 cup chopped raisins. Sift together 3-1/2 cups flour, 1-1/2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves, and 4 teaspoons of baking powder. Add the dry ingredients to the moist and mix well. Drop on greased cookie sheet and bake in 375-400 degree F oven until done.

APPLESAUCE LOAVES

Cream together 1/4 cup shortening and 1 cup sugar. Add 1 cup applesauce. Sift together 2 cups flour, 1 level teaspoon baking soda, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, a pinch of salt and a pinch of nutmeg. Add dry to moist ingredients, then stir in 1 cup chopped raisins and currants. Mix and bake in individual small loaf pans, using 350-375 degrees F. oven. Chopped citron or currant mixture, if desired.

Useful Gifts Easy To Make

Covered hangers are easy to make — and are handy gifts if you have lots of friends and limited funds.

To make: Use bulky gift tie yarn that comes in fabulous colors. You will need 3 yards for each hanger.

Attach one end of the yarn to the hooked end of a wire coat hanger with scotch tape, and wind yarn all around the hanger covering the wire completely. Tuck end in, tape and cover with a yarn bow.

Sugar Plant Toured

A firsthand look at Hereford's main industrial plant, the Holly Sugar factory, was taken by members of L'Allegra Study Club at its meeting Thursday afternoon.

A preliminary to the tour was a short business session and refreshment period at the home of Mrs. Alex Schroeter, where the group met to leave for the Holly Plant west of town. Final reports on their recent benefit luncheon were heard there.

In the tour party were Mmes. Jim McDowell, Dennis Lomas, Sam Lesly, Jimmy Conkwright, Jim Carnahan, Buddy Bloomer, Noble Ballard, Gary McQuig, Danny Martin, W. C. Russell, Ronald Zimmerman and Schroeter.

They were shown through the plant by a guide who explained the various steps in making sugar, from the time beets reach the factory from the fields, to the time packaged sugar is loaded for shipment.

Dream Kitchen May Be Matter Of Organization

Space for everything, and everything in its place. That's the dream of every homemaker — particularly when it concerns the kitchen.

Imagine having recipes neatly filed. Bread near the toaster. And items such as plastic wrap and tea towels within fingertip reach of the area where they're used most often.

But this usually isn't the case in most kitchens. "Must have" gadgets have a habit of piling up in drawers, while spices, paper towels and other kitchen standbys are crammed on a shelf — or worse, on the counter.

What's more, few kitchens are without catchall corners for recipes, notepads and pencils.

No matter the season, it's always time to organize your kitchen and find space for everything.

Start by putting the three S's of kitchen organization to work — sort, separate and scrap. Toss out the rusty potato peeler, the broken can opener, the chipped plates and cracked juice glass.

Be an Organization Woman and reorganize everything according to where it's used, with cutlery near the cooking area (and out of children's reach) and measuring cups near the flour and sugar.

Follow Etiquet In Sending Card

When sending Christmas cards: Do sign your full name unless you are the only "Mary" that everyone knows; include your return address on envelope and use a zip code.

Don't address cards "and family"; or use nicknames; or abbreviate Christmas.

If you receive a Christmas card a few days before the 25th from someone not on your list, don't rush one into the mail. Instead, send a New Year's card on holiday notepaper and add a handwritten greeting.

JANUARY BRIDE-ELECT — Miss Mary Stoy and Brad Johnson have set January 18 as their wedding date, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Stoy of 514 Union, announce. The ceremony is to be conducted at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Margaret Pollock Johnson, 844 Park, and E. N. Johnson. (Angel Photo)

NEWLYWEDS VISIT — Linda and Glenn Toomey, here from Seattle for a Thanksgiving visit with his mother, Mrs. D. W. Palmer, right, returned home the first of this week. They were married at Seattle in late October, and Mrs. Palmer was among the wedding guests. A number of his friends here were invited to her home to meet the bride and have dinner. They were entertained also at a Thanksgiving brunch in the Warren Jorde home, where this picture was taken, and by the Keith Jordes and R. C. Godwins.

Bain-Crofford Wedding Set

The marriage of Miss Billie Bain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bain of 902 Irving, and Dean Crofford, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Crofford, Route 2, will be at the Avenue Baptist Church on December 14 with the Rev. Ronald Harpster officiating.

Miss Bain will be married in a white wool empire styled street length dress with a white lace shoulder veil. Attending Miss Bain as maid of honor at the couple ring ceremony will be Miss Judy Orsborn. Ray Crofford of Dimmitt will stand by his brother as best man.

After a short trip the couple will be at home in Hereford where Miss Bain is employed at the Deaf Smith County Hospital and Crofford at Chuck's Garage and Welding.

Holiday Program Entertains Club

Two new members and two guests were welcomed at the meeting of Bay View Study Club Thursday afternoon, when a holiday program was given in the home of Mrs. Jimmie Gillentine.

Other members of the social committee, Mmes. Bruce Burney, Howard Gault and Homer Powell, were hostesses with Mrs. Gillentine.

Mrs. J. R. Allison told the Christmas story, The Littlest Angel, and a sextette of high school girls, with piano accompanist, presented carols.

A box of gifts was filled to be sent to the Wichita Falls State Hospital as a Christmas project of the club.

Mrs. Earnest Langley and Mrs. Herman Ford were the new members. Guests were Mrs. Clarence Hicks, who is visiting from Virginia in the home of her son, Dr. C. E. Hicks and family, and Mrs. Charles Hood.

Members attending included Mmes. R. B. Miller, H. L. Benefield, Francis Hardwick, A. M. Jones, Ansel McDowell and Tom Sawyer.

Secretary Turns To New Career As Crop Duster

GRAND FORKS, N.D. (AP) — Skimming along in an airplane a few feet off the ground sure beats the monotony of a desk job, says a woman crop sprayer. And the pay is better, too.

Dawne Gullard tried office work just long enough to be sure it wasn't for her. Now she is on the runway shortly after 5 a.m. in calm weather mixing chemical sprays and pumping them into her single-engine Piper Pawnee.

Then it's up and away to spray against insects and crop disease in the Grand Forks agricultural area.

"I'm making almost twice as much as I did doing secretarial work," said the 28-year-old woman. "Besides I'm doing something I really like."

The auburn-haired flier is following her brother's lead in the crop spraying business. The brother, Allen Larson, is doing similar work at Minot, N.D.

"I think we've finally convinced mother that it isn't too dangerous," she said, "although she never flies with us."

Three years ago, Mrs. Gullard chucked a Minneapolis, Minn., office job to enter flying full-time and has logged more than 3,500 hours in the air so far.

She obtained her job in Grand Forks last fall and combines crop spraying with pilot instruction.

Pretzels Given Brand-New Twist

Here's a great new twist from the Pennsylvania Dutch country for your next barbecue — hot pretzels. (That's the way the pretzel bakers themselves eat pretzels.)

The trick is to put the pretzels on a pan or piece of foil where they'll stay oven hot — and eat them with a variety of simple dips (the pretzel bakers just dip them in mustard straight from the jar). For the barbecue itself — how about juicy hamburgers, minidogs (to be picked up in the fingers and dunked and eaten) — with fresh tomatoes? Thick slices of tomato are delicious and juicy with the hamburgers. For the hot dog and pretzels, use catsup, chili sauce or mustard as a dip — and use the same for spreading on the hamburgers.

The worst tornado on record killed 689 and injured 1,980 persons in the Midwest in 1925.

Time For Action

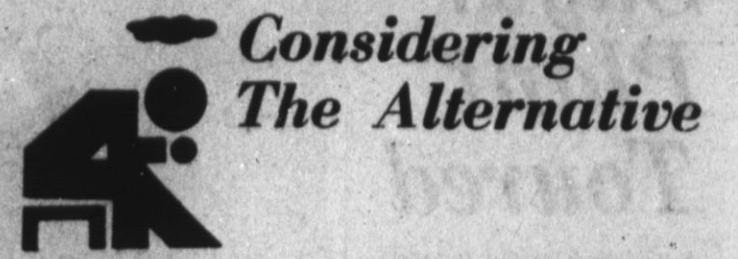

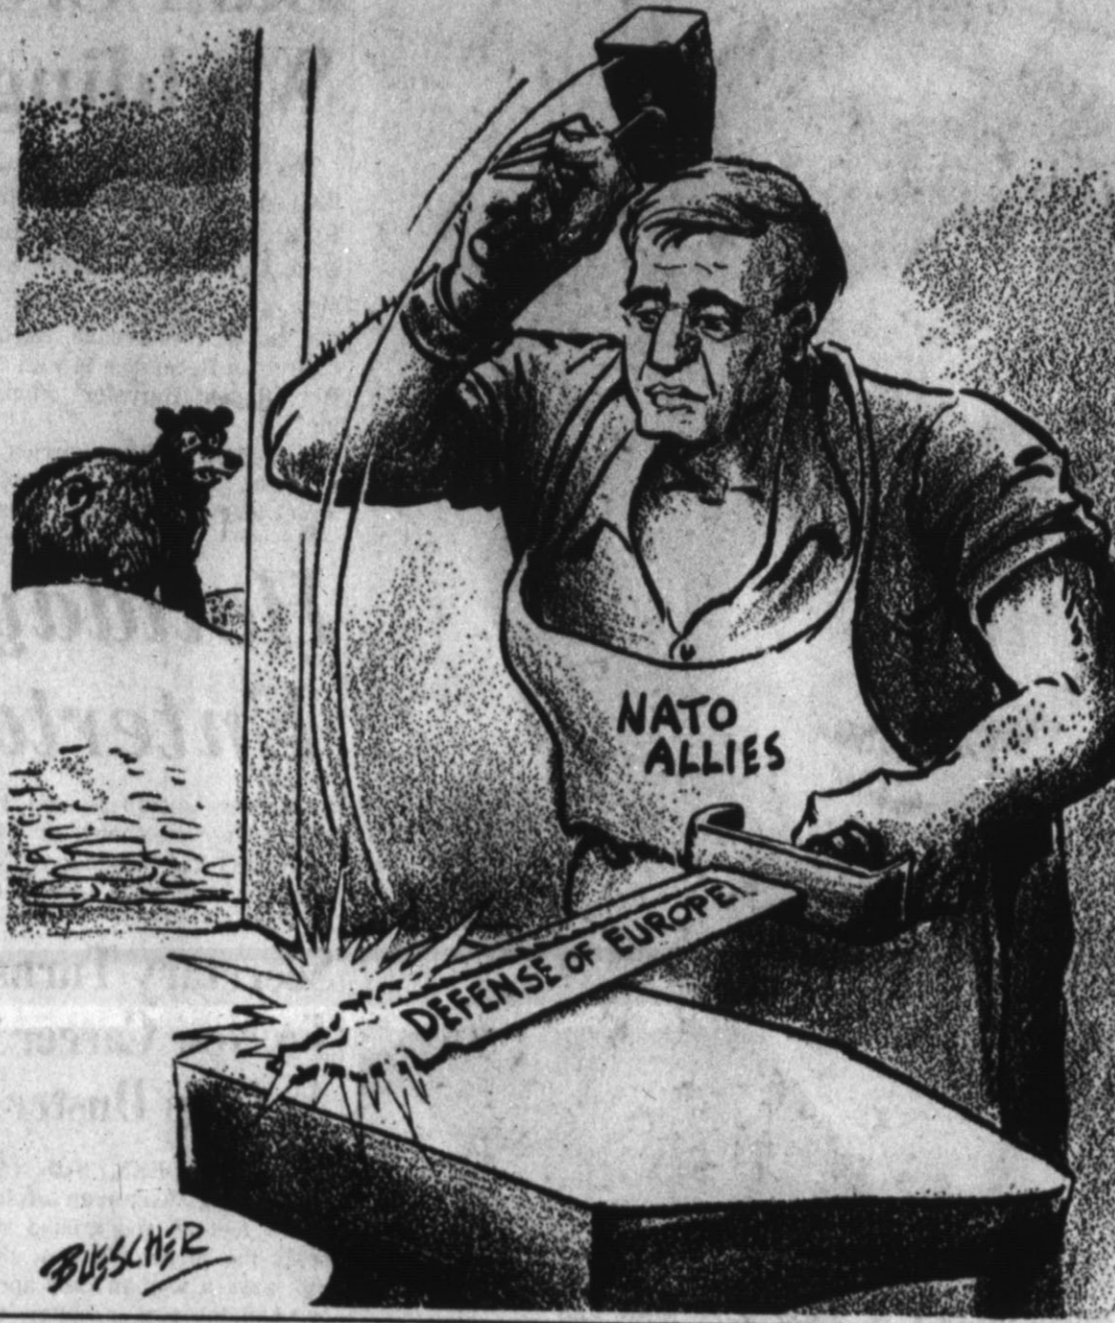

The troubles facing San Francisco State College at this time are apparently typical of the problems that are now disrupting classes at many major colleges and universities throughout the land, and makes the layman wonder why college officials will tolerate the existence of such groups as the students for Democratic Society.

The result of the agitation of this left-wing organization and others like it, likely will deny thousands of innocent students the right to continue their education under favorable conditions and in the end, will have accomplished nothing worthwhile. As a matter of fact, we cannot even understand why these people are demonstrating. At no time in our history have so many people been able to pursue higher education in institutions that are second to none in the world, with as little financial hardship. Students of the 1930s would have given a good right arm to have had the opportunities that are now afforded to our college age young people. Most of the students of that era, (those who could manage college at all) attended classes in the day time and worked nights to keep the wolf from the door. We're not saying of course, that this is not done now by some students, but we would say that it is the exception now rather than the rule. The percentage of students who can and do attend classes without the necessity of outside work is tremendous compared to even 20 years ago.

Colleges too, have more to offer the sincere student. Yet we allow militant organizations such as the SDS to disrupt classes and keep campuses in a state of turmoil. And for what reason? Obviously, there is no real purpose behind the demonstrations other than to create strife and dissension. We wonder then, if it would not be better to let such "kooks" work off their energies on the rock pile. In the meantime, those who have enrolled in college for the purpose of getting an education, could go about their business unmolested.

SHAPING UP

A popular bumper sticker through central Texas during the presidential campaign was 'HHH: Consider The Alternative.' The message was intended to remind voters of Dick Nixon's conservative stands on pressing domestic issues. But when a person looks at plans Nixon has at least acquiesced to put on the drawing board, he finds that "the same old Nixon" just might have something to further the cause of social justice in this country. As a matter of fact, Nixon's proposals could prod federal bureaucracy to get off its lethargic rear, to start practicing what it preaches. If this turns out to be the alternative that the bumper sticker warns about, then voters must know how to pick alternatives.

Problems of employment, property ownership, business ownership, economic discrimination in general, are getting attention from the Nixon people.

To begin with, there is the FHA and its mortgages. Federal bureaucracy in this agency has not responded to social needs because it has limited itself to safe investments. This means that FHA steers clear of the ghetto and, consequently, the black man. Property ownership is discouraged by current government practices, no matter how many civil rights laws have been passed. Nixon wants FHA to branch out a little on the wrong side of the tracks, take a few risks, and see what happens.

Likewise, Republicans have advocated changes in the Small Business Administration, encouraging it to move into ghetto areas to develop black ownership. Encouragement of black ownership and control of banks has also been advocated by the Republican administration.

Although business has never taken the initiating role in hiring the chronically unemployed before, Nixon's ideas favoring tax incentives for private efforts demonstrate that he has not turned his back on persons currently relegated to second class citizenship. A relaxation of the minimum wage law, provided that relaxation is not abused, may provide the stimulus for hiring marginal workers. What Nixon is advocating is a direct business confrontation with the problems. He is attempting to make the deal attractive via tax benefits.

Liberals may have gnashed their teeth when Nixon was elected president. But cause for alarm has not been too loud in the liberal camp, for it appears the liberals realize that even "the same old Nixon" has ideas that favor social justice, indeed, ideas that theoretically remove hypocrisy in the red tape jungle. While the new left may not like Nixon, it was obvious that they did not have any candidate to be considered an alternative to Humphrey. Voters had an alternative between a "conservative" and a "liberal." The conservative alternative can be a positive one, provided, of course, that Nixon comes through with his end of the deal.

Precious Resource

PRESIDENT Johnson has released the first national assessment of water resources and problems faced in the next half century. The 472-page document of the Water Resources Council will be studied for a long time, as will the Texas Water Plan soon to be released by the Texas Water Development Board.

More than study is needed, of course. One thing the national report says is that the water situation is critical now on the High Plains, in parts of North Central Texas, in the Winter Garden of Southwest Texas and in some Texas-Louisiana coastal areas.

The blunt, urgent report sent to Congress by President Johnson indicates that within 50 years the United States will be using more water than nature now provides. President Johnson described it as a "stark warning," adding that a nation which "fails to plan intelligently for the development and protection of its precious waters will be condemned to wither because of its shortsightedness. The hard lessons of history are clear, written on the deserted sands and ruins of once proud civilizations."

Texas' Winter Garden still flourishes, but its 50-year history should be an object lesson to other, newer irrigated areas.

In the early 1900s, water gushed from artesian wells there in flows as large around as a man's body. If anyone dreaded that it would dwindle, as wells probed deeper and deeper into the aquifer, he was a prophet little heeded.

Carloads of hopeful emigrants from the Corn Belt and Old South eagerly bought land, cleared away cactus and mesquite, and grew onions, strawberries and other produce. Winter Garden irrigation survived, though far less abundantly and economically, because the porous limestone replenishes its water as rains fall in the Hill Country.

Far different conditions exist on the Texas High Plains around Lubbock, Plainview and Amarillo. Underground water there is exhaustible and little can be done to date to replenish it. Pumping is at a tremendous rate, as 63,707 wells on 10,732 farms irrigate 5,564,000 acres in 42 counties.

Yet, too many High Plains farmers go blindly on, using water wastefully and blindly assuming that someone, somehow will replace the water they're exhausting. Their crisis is nearer than most suspect. Opposition in other states to sharing water with Texas will be far greater than some realize. Cost of pumping and storing water, if we can get it, will be gigantic. There is no certainty that taxpayers outside of the crisis sections will willingly assume their part of the cost.

In a spirit of unity and compromise, Texans must agree among themselves and work with neighboring states. Texans also must be more frugal in their use of water, rid themselves of wasteful practices and plants, to prove to others that we merit their cooperation in sharing their surplus.

Most of all, Texas and the nation must pay what it costs, do whatever it takes, to provide the water our generation and our children must have to survive.

Low Income Families Have Favorable Opportunity To Own Homes In Rural Areas

By BERT MILLS
WASHINGTON, D.C. — Low income families living in small towns or rural areas now have a golden opportunity to own their own home under the most favorable terms ever offered by a benevolent Uncle Sam.

Despite all the publicity about urban ghettos and the problems they cause, two out of three housing units considered substandard are located in small communities and in farm areas. Congress attempted to meet that situation when it passed the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968.

One provision in that law authorizes $25 million during the current fiscal year to help about 33,000 poor families buy their own homes. Of that sum, $2 million has been earmarked to help pay the interest on loans to finance 3,000 housing units in so-called "open country" areas and towns or villages with a population of 5,500 or less.

Interest rates can be as low as 1 percent for qualified applicants with large families or special problems. The maximum interest rate will be 5 percent and only a few applicants are expected to gain the bottom rate. The new program is just beginning and the first loan has not been made yet.

Funds can be used to build a new dwelling, buy an existing house and lot, or to rehabilitate an old home. Loans at the same low interest rate can be used to repair or replace buildings destroyed or damaged by floods, earthquakes or other natural disasters.

Apply to Local FHA Office
Farmers Home Administration, part of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is administering the small town program under an agreement with the Department of Housing and Urban Development. Applications are now being received at about 1,700 FHA offices located in county seat towns throughout the rural areas of the nation.

It costs nothing to apply for a housing loan. Successful applicants must agree to pay 20 percent of income in mortgage and interest charges and must meet legal costs of obtaining a clear title to a property, plus closing costs.

Loans are made by local lenders — banks or savings and loan institutions — with FHA providing interest assistance. Prospective home buyers may supply their own building plans or use one available from FHA. Plans must be approved by FHA, which will also check the construction while in progress to insure that a sound structure is being erected.

Maximum repayment period is 33 years. Borrowers will be expected to refinance their loans when able to do so at reasonable rates and terms. FHA will review each loan every two years and recompute the interest supplement in case of changes in family income.

The formula for determining the interest rate is based on the size of the family seeking to buy a home, and its total income, compared with prospective annual installments which include payment on principal, interest, real estate taxes, and insurance.

Hope to Stem Migration
Congress enacted the new rural housing program in hopes of stemming the migration of residents of farm areas to the crowded cities. Too many country people now wind up on the welfare rolls when they move to a metropolis.

Making small town living more attractive is a national goal that everybody favors. The home-buying program will affect only a relative few but it is hoped it will help restore what Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman has termed "a healthy balance of rural and urban life."

THE BOOTLEG

—Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson-grass farm talks about, or around, the world's monetary system this week.

Dear editor:
I was telling my wife the reason I was in town instead of being out here plowing was that a man hijacked my tractor and made me drive him in, but seeing I wasn't making any headway with this line of diplomacy I left the house and went out to the barn where I could read my newspaper in peace and quiet. It seems to me more reasonable that a man would force you to drive him to Hereford than Cuba. You notice I didn't say Amarillo.

The big headline in the paper reported that France was facing a crisis over money problems and DeGaulle was telling everybody not to panic.

And not long ago, England was trying not to panic over trouble with its money, and shortly after that all the world's governments were worrying themselves sick about the price of gold.

You know, it's a funny thing about governments. Let them run a little short of cash and they begin to panic.

If you and me panicked every time we ran low on money, along with everybody else, the organized world would have collapsed years ago.

If President DeGaulle or Prime Minister Wilson would come out here and examine the operating cash and financial structure of this Johnson grass farm they'd go back home and declare a national holiday for celebrating how well off they are.

Personally, I've never understood the monetary system, and haven't found anybody else who does. Oh, some experts claim they understand it, but they don't let on what it is they understand.

I don't understand, for example, why people would swap French francs for American dollars, or vice versa, or English pounds for Italian lire, or all of it for gold, when some scientist who ought to know better may come out tomorrow with a formula to mass produce gold by the millions of tons and throw the whole system into a tailspin, with Fort Knox left as nothing but a place to smoke sausage in.

There was one French woman I read about however who understands the monetary system. On hearing that the franc was in trouble, she grabbed a handful of her husband's money and rushed out to put it into something stable. She bought a fur coat.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

65 YEARS AGO — 1903
At a meeting of the board of directors of Add-Ran College on December 7, 1903, it was moved and carried that a resolution of thanks be tendered the Hon. John H. Stephens, through the Brand, for procuring from the government a Geological Atlas for the benefit of Add-Ran College. Also a vote of thanks was extended to the Ladies Aid Society of the Christian Church for a bedroom suite. Also a vote of thanks extended to Miss Ula Walcott for procuring from her friends at Midland sufficient funds to purchase a set of kindergarten furniture.

50 YEARS AGO — 1918
A wave of sadness swept over Hereford Wednesday afternoon when it became known that official confirmation of the report of Ceill Cocheil's death had been received by his parents. Cocheil marks the fifth death of local boys on the battlefields of France.

Despite the fact that there is seemingly no cottonseed or soybean meal or cake in this part of the Panhandle, Deaf Smith County stockman continued the rush this week to get certificates to purchase protein feed when and if any materializes. The cattle feed situation remains serious.

15 YEARS AGO — 1953
Bids for the rewiring of Hereford High School are scheduled to be opened at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, according to plans made Tuesday night at a meeting of the Hereford school board.

10 YEARS AGO — 1958
W. M. "Bill" Lenderman, manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, tendered his resignation Wednesday to the C. of C. board, effective January 1, 1959. Climaxing a 21-year fight for federal approval of a proposed north and south international parks route, State Highway 51 has been designated as a federal highway. The designation was announced by Marshall Formby, State Highway Commission chairman, and D. C. Greer, state highway engineer. Number of the new U. S. highway will be assigned later. Formby said.

5 YEARS AGO — 1963
Construction bids for addition of a new wing to Deaf Smith County Hospital and extensive remodeling of present facilities are to be opened and tabulated at 2 p. m. Monday during the regular meeting of the County Commissioners Court.

1 YEAR AGO — 1967
The largest number of persons ever to attend a Tierra Blanca District Awards Banquet heard former Attorney General Waggoner Carr Tuesday night urge them to become a part of a new movement which will soon sweep the country. In his recent travels over the state, Carr explained to those present, he has seen and heard a "thunderous reaction developing in the average American" which is going to drown out the sounds of the Stokely Carmichael and the Hap Browns. The Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor of the First Methodist Church, was chosen president of the Hereford Ministerial Association.

Once Mexican Resident

Ranch Wife Is Painter

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

It isn't unusual for half a dozen women of a community to share their interest in painting by forming a class and taking a series of lessons, but when they are ranch women, living from 20 to 40 miles from town over a wide-scattered area, it doesn't happen often.

MRS. JOHN E. HILL, who does not claim to rival Grandma Moses but who did take up her painting hobby later in life than most artists, was one of such a group which had painting lessons at Walcott School back in 1900.

Their first teacher was Mrs. Earl Plank, then Mrs. Ernest McGee. Mrs. Hill and another of the pupils became so interested they drove to Hereford for more lessons, then two years ago Mrs. Hill studied in Amarillo with a well known teacher for more advanced instruction.

Examples of her work are hung in every room of the comfortable red brick home the Hills occupy 25 miles northwest of Hereford, on the ranch which is part of a family estate known as the Hill Farms. They have lived there since 1958 when they moved from Sierra Blanca, N. M.

PREVIOUSLY the Hills lived on ranches on the South Plains and in New Mexico, part of the time near Melrose and House, where their son attended school. Now a geologist in Denver, he later studied at the University of Wisconsin.

There was also a residence of about three years in Old Mexico, and Mrs. Hill has many pleasant memories of her life there, and visits to Mexico City and other sightseeing spots. She feels that her son's schooling in that country, with the opportunity to learn Spanish thoroughly, was of much benefit to him.

Some of her paintings are of streets and buildings she remembers from the Mexican cities. She has preferred to paint landscapes, but lately found she enjoyed still life when the subject was flowers. Two paintings of rose bouquets, with subtle shading in the flower colors, are among those on her living room wall now.

HER FIRST painting was done in tempera, but she has seldom used that medium since she began work in oils. She has depicted some scenes of the plains country which is now her home, and plans to try more.

Not only does she paint flowers, she grows them and her neighbors say the iris in spring and gladiolas in summer make spectacular spots of color in her yard.

This year she experimented with a garden inside the walls of an abandoned, roofless chicken house, and with protection from the wind found her gladiolas nearly head-high and tomatoes of hot-house quality.

Sewing is another of Mrs. Hill's hobbies; she makes her own dresses and especially likes to sew for her two young granddaughters. Dresses from her needle will be Christmas gifts to them this year, as usual.

SHE READS A great deal, too, as witness the numerous

Mrs. John E. Hill with Christmas gift dress books on shelves in the living room and sunny den, where one shelf holds green plants during winter months while the yard is brown. She has done some china painting, without lessons, and has a whole set of dishes on which she painted Mexican designs "because when the club has lunch here they always want a Mexican meal."

She is speaking of the Farm and Ranch Club, made up of women from the vast northwest part of Deaf Smith County who meet monthly for lunch and conversation.

Mrs. Hill has also been a member of Bippus Home Demonstration Club since she came to this county and takes part in its activities often including the entire community — which stretches west to the New Mexico line.

LIFE AS A RANCHER'S wife during all her married years ("my husband was a cowboy since he was 16 years old") was an abrupt change at first for Mrs. Hill, who had "never been out of town before I married." Born at Malakoff, in Southeast Texas, she lived much of the time in San Angelo and Big Spring.

She is a real rancher now, though, with cattle of her own. From a cow which was given to her several years ago, she has a growing herd of which she is quite proud, although "the trouble is, I never want to sell one of them!"

Especially she is proud of triplet calves born last May to a young heifer of mixed breed who has the black coat of an Angus with a Herefords white face. Unusual in the cattle world, the triplets are thriving. Mrs. Hill has made pets of the three calves, a female which has been named Bebe, and two males, brownish-red in color, named Tommy and Dicky for the Smothers Brothers comedy team.

Murder Contract Is Book Subject

Two new novels, one dealing with the death of a president and the terrifying happenings that follow and the other about a murder contract, can now be found at the Deaf Smith County Library.

PRESERVE AND PROTECT
By ALLEN DRURY

A president lies dead, and the theme is: violence!
Out of the somber agony that wracks America, Allen Drury has drawn another of his frighteningly prophetic political novels of what could happen today.

This is one step beyond — to the day, perhaps all too close, when rioting becomes an arm of politics, and violence is dedicated to the cause of a presidential candidate.

All of the terrifyingly credible intrigues, and political machinations which distinguished Allen Drury's first three novels are again at work as would-be candidates, and the nation, pursue their separate and collective destinies in this shocking, spell-binding tale by the acknowledged master of the political novel.

Starting where "CAPABLE OF HONOR" left off, "PRESERVE AND PROTECT" describes the chaos that overtakes America and the world when the suspicious death of the president — just after his re-nomination — leaves the incumbent party without a candidate or a clear-cut way of selecting one.

As he has in the past, Allen Drury examines the motives and ambitions of a now-famous gallery of political characters, detailing their bitter power struggle against a backdrop of national and international chaos. An anti-American plot threatens to explode in Panama and an escalation war in Gorotoland promises even greater American involvement on the African continent.

As "PRESERVE AND PROTECT" moves to its dramatic climax, the question of what candidate will be nominated by what groups keeps the future of America and the world hanging in the balance.

THE CONTRACT
By HENRY CARLISLE

None of the three young men took it seriously when, more than slightly drunk following their prep school graduation, they made a blood pact where-by each would kill off the other's rich old aunt and all share in the inheritance profits. They have to when, some years later, one of the trio returns to San Francisco and proves in the most sinister manner his intention to make good on the contract.

What follows is an eloquent, witty, and bloodcurdling diversion through San Francisco and the Voodoo-haunted Caribbean Island of San Sebastian. Avery, hero, alternately chases and runs away from Warren, Arch friend; Shag, Third party to the contract, tips in and out to help, commiserate and tremble; Timberline, bright and sexy girl, is there with good advice and the true love, while wonderful old dowagers issue imperious edicts over their elegantly appointed dinner tables. Warren, arch friend, is foiled in the end, after the full extent of his evil machinations has been exposed. True love finds fulfillment; dowager is made safe, their fortunes intact, and the villain gets his just deserts.

Happy endings are not allowed these days, but this one leaves the reader ready to start all over again. With this new novel, Henry Carlisle takes his place as a comic novelist of major dimensions.

In 1943, in Boise, Idaho, according to the paperback book, "Time Capsule in 1943." Police Chief R. G. Haskin caught up with a speeding motorist. He asked him his name, learned it was Aloises Abernathy Meffen-wallerberry, and instead of writing out a ticket, let him off with a lecture.

Postmaster Has Important Xmas Mailing Ideas

Postmaster Nolan Grady has some special ideas about how Christmas can be made merrier based on his twenty years of service in the Post Office.

"Visit the Post Office this week while the crowds are still small. Buy all the extra stamps you'll need. Stock up on enough boxes, tape, stuffing, cord, and wrapping paper to see that packages are wrapped solidly and well.

A Christmas tip from MR. ZIP

POSTMASTER SAYS: The penny difference has been eliminated except for unusually heavy Christmas cards (over one ounce), so seal your envelopes and include your return address in order to receive forwarding and return privileges."

"The time of mailing is especially important — the earlier the better.

"Always write or print addresses carefully and use ZIP Code in both mailing and return addresses.

"Use of first class postage on greeting cards will make sure your mail is forwarded if the recipient has moved. Mail will be returned to you if it is poorly addressed or there is no forwarding address.

"Wrap your packages neatly and well. A loose piece of wrapping may get caught and ripped. Pad your gifts securely so there is no rattling and there is sufficient support for other packages. The sack carrying your glass cup may have two or three bowling balls riding on top of it.

"Place a card or a piece of paper inside the package including your name and address and the name and address of the person to whom the parcel is being sent. This will allow the post office to forward your package in case the wrapping comes loose.

"Place the address and return address on only one side of the parcel. Postal employees who are working at top speed to meet transportation connections for mail do not have time to check other sides. They assume that postage is due if the address side without stamps is all that is seen.

"The important thing is to do your shopping and mailing early.

"The Army Green" Has Introduction

By Sgt. BERT PINALES
U. S. Army

Welcome to "The Army Green."

This is the first in a series of weekly columns aimed at telling you a little about today's modern Army, the opportunities available for young men and women in the Army and about some of the local residents in the service.

First off, I would like to extend an invitation to all of you to drop in and see us anytime you are in the neighborhood of the Recruiting Station. We are located in the Post Office Bldg., 207 East 5th Ave. in Amarillo, Texas.

WRITTEN GUARANTEE

I know veterans of World War II will laugh at this one but it is true. A young man can enlist in the Army and receive a written guarantee assuring him of the training courses for which a man can enlist, including electronics, automotive mechanics, aircraft maintenance, communications repair, missile systems repair and radar operations.

In order to qualify for a written guarantee, a man must pass aptitude tests in the field in which he wants his training. If he passes, his enlistment is accepted. If he does not pass the test, he is under no obligation to enlist in the Army.

The Army will go to all lengths to guarantee his training too. Not long ago, they discovered that a man who had enlisted for a specific field of training did not get that training and was instead serving overseas. The Army immediately brought him back to the States for his promised training.

FACTS ABOUT THE ARMY

Did you know: —That the Air Force was originally part of the Signal Corps? It was organized in 1907 as the Aeronautical Division of the Army Signal Corps. It didn't receive its first plane until 1909.
—That the famed Lewis and Clark Expedition that opened the Northwest was sponsored by the Army? Lewis was a captain and Clark was a lieutenant.
—That the invasion of France, during World War II, actually started on June 5 and not on D-Day, June 6? The evening before the 6th, men of two airborne divisions landed in France by parachute and glider. These men paved the way for the invading troops that landed on Normandy beaches the following morning.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Each week, we will answer the questions most frequently asked us by residents of the community. If you have a question, send it along, call us or drop in and ask it in person. We'll answer all questions personally. However, because of space limitations, we will answer one a week in this column.

For how many years does a young man or woman have to enlist in order to be guaranteed training in a particular skill or career field? The answer is for a period of three years.

We'll be at the Local Board in Hereford every Tuesday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. If we don't see you during this week, we'll look forward to meeting you again next week in "THE ARMY GREEN."

Travis C. Briggs, social security district manager in Amarillo, urges everyone signed up for the doctor bill insurance part of Medicare, to spend some time before the end of the year in reviewing whether the program owes them some money.

He said that this is most important for those older people who incurred expenses for covered medical services between October 1, 1966 and September 30, 1967. If a claim isn't made for these expenses by December 31, 1968, it will not be possible to collect for them.

Briggs pointed out that in the past, some Medicare beneficiaries postponed making a claim because they thought that if the doctor did not take assignment of the bill, the patient had to submit a receipted bill — one which had been paid — with his application. The 1967 amendments to the Medicare law eliminated the requirement that a bill submitted with a claim must be receipted to show that it was paid in full or part. Starting in 1968, an itemized bill showing the services or medical goods received and the charges for these, even if unpaid, became sufficient.

All social security offices are prepared to help people make claims for doctor bill insurance payments. Those who still haven't applied for reimbursement for medical services and goods received during the above period should apply before the deadline.

The Amarillo office is located at 1006 Adams. Phone number is 376-5151. Office hours are from 8:15 am to 4:30pm and until 6:30 pm on Thursdays.

READ THE WANT-ADS.

Widows of servicemen who died of service-connected injuries, as well as the wives of veterans who are totally and permanently disabled, are eligible for educational assistance from the Veterans Administration.

Midland Is Set For Industrial Meet

Midland will host a joint board meeting of the Texas Industrial Development Commission on Friday, Dec. 13. It will mark the first time the TIDC has met west of Abilene.

Bill Thompson is scheduled to attend from Hereford.

Members of the current board will join with incoming board members in a business session at 9:30 a. m. in the board room of the First National Bank. A luncheon is slated for noon in the Petroleum Club of Midland.

George R. McVay, president of Hunt Properties, Dallas, is the outgoing president. Taking over as president of the TIDC will be Perry J. Shapard, research economist at Texas A&M University, College Station.

One of the top items of business will be formulating plans for the 1969 Texas Industrial Development Council's annual conference, which will be held in September at Dallas. Criteria for selection of the winner of the VIDY Award to the Volunteer Industrial Developer of the Year will be discussed by the joint board.

Also due for review will be selection of scholarship winners to attend the Basic Industrial Development Course that will be held in March at College Station and the Industrial Development Institute scheduled for August at the University of Oklahoma.

Members of the joint boards expected to attend include: Shepard; McVay; Bill R. Shelton, industrial department manager, Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce; Robert B. Seal, industrial department vice president, Republic National Bank of Dallas; John E. Babcock, research and development supervisor, Lower Colorado River Authority, Austin;
