Carter Trying to Ease U.S.-Soviet Tensions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration, in an apparent move to ease tensions, is assuring the Soviet Union that the United States is not trying to exploit the unrest in Poland or revive the Cold War.

"It would be a pity if East-West relations were thrown back a quarter of a century by the translation of an internal dilemma into intensified East-West hostility," Zbigniew Brzezinski, President Carter's national security adviser, said Thursday.

"I do not believe American interest would be served by that," he added. "I do not believe Soviet interest would be served by that. I don't believe the cause of humanity would be served by that."

Brzezinski said his message to all parties is "restraint, moderation, compromise."

Both Brzezinski and Secretary of State Edmund S. Muskie said they saw no prospect of an imminent Soviet invasion of Poland. At a news conference in Kansas, in fact, Muskie said, "It's clear that the Soviets are reluctant to launch a military intervention in Poland."

Their remarks appeared to soften the approach taken Wednesday by President

Carter and White House officials expressing "growing concern" over what they called an unprecedented buildup of Soviet forces on the Polish border.

However, Muskie continued to describe the situation as "very delicate and sensitive," and the State Department again cautioned the Soviets that Americans are united in their concern over any possible Russian intervention.

Muskie, in Topeka, Kan.,

reiterated Carter's description of the Soviet buildup as unprecedented and added: "It continues to be a very delicate and sensitive situation. The military activities continue to concern us and all countries in the West."

But Brzezinski said of the Polish situation: "We mustn't on the one hand become almost hysterical about it and conclude that a massive intervention is either imminent or inevitable."

He added, though, that

Carter would not have issued his statement Wednesday if he had considered the Soviet buildup insignificant.

Brzezinski also appealed to all parties in Poland — workers, the government and the Catholic Church — to exercise moderation, restraint and compromise.

He said the Carter administration has made it clear to the Soviet Union that "the United States has no interest in exploiting the situation."

Unemployment Rate Dips in November

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dipped a notch to 7.5 percent in November while wholesale prices rose 0.6 percent, down from October's 0.8 percent increase, the government said today.

Despite the overall, slower rate of inflation last month, gasoline prices increased for the first time in six months and food prices continued their substantial climb, the Labor Department said.

Last month's price increase translates to a seasonally adjusted 7.9 percent compound annual rate of inflation, the department said. However, for the first 11 months of 1980, wholesale — or producer — prices rose at a 10.1 percent yearly clip.

Unemployment, meanwhile, declined from the 7.6 percent rate registered in October, as the number of people holding jobs grew by 220,000, the labor department said in a separate report.

The jobless rate has remained fairly static since May, when the recession caused it to soar to 7.8 percent.

A Labor Department economist attributed last month's slower price rise entirely to automobiles and trucks.

"There's still a lot of inflationary pressure," said Craig Howell. "The prices of intermediate goods such as steel, chemicals and plastics are rising and this is worrisome."

The cost of those products will increase prices of finished wholesale goods, and these, in turn, will be passed on eventually to consumers, he noted.

The Labor Department's Producer Price Index measures three levels: finished goods, intermediate items and raw materials.

The department reported that:

—Food prices rose 0.5 percent last month, the same as in October. Most economists expect this rate to pick up in coming months, the result of (See PRICES, Page 2)

Lack of Key Witness Causes Case Dismissals

Proceedings continued in 22nd District Court here today in the criminal mischief and aggravated assault trial of John Mendoza, 18, of Hereford.

The jury was expected to get that case sometime today after cases involving four other individuals on aggravated assault and criminal mischief charges were dismissed Thursday when a key prosecution witness failed to appear.

Mendoza is charged in connection with an incident in the spring of this year involving the breaking of a car window with a chain belt and a subsequent attack on Joe John Villareal, 17, of Bay City, involving a chain belt.

If convicted, Mendoza could be sentenced to 2-10 years in the state penitentiary.

Cases dismissed yesterday involved Tony and Joe Mendoza, Julian Garcia and Adolpho Aguilar.

According to District Attorney Roland Saul, cases involving those men were dismissed when an aggravated assault victim who was to have testified for the prosecution failed to appear.

Westway Bazaar Tomorrow

The public is invited to attend the Westway Extension Homemakers Club's Fourth Annual Bazaar tomorrow at the Hereford Community Center from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

As many as 50 tables will feature displays ranging from doll furniture and patries to metal sculptures and needlework. Santa Claus is expected to be at the Community Center also to visit with children of all ages. Besides the 40 entries from Hereford residents, some 10 displays will be entered from area cities including Canyon, Nazareth, Lubbock, Amarillo and Friona.

"Everyone is encouraged to attend this year's bazaar Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.," said this year's chairman Debbie Keyes.

To Solicit Bangles

Members of the Hereford Key Club will present bangles Saturday at Sugarland Mall to individuals who donate to the American Lung Association. Bangle Day is an annual fund-raising event in which the Key Club participates. The group will also solicit bangles at the Hereford Basketball Tournament today and Saturday and Dec. 13 at Sugarland Mall. (From left) John Claypool, HHS faculty member, is shown with Mitchell Clark, drive chairman, and Trent Thomas, Key Club president.

Westgate Craft, Bake Sale Set

Westgate Nursing Home will hold its third annual bazaar and bake sale Saturday from 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. at 430 Ranger.

Craft items will range from afghans and quilts to Christmas decorations and nursery ceramics. The items, in addition to baked goods, will be on display at the activity room of the home.

Each year the proceeds from the annual activity have been used for special needs of the residents. "The money that is raised at the bazaar stays at the home," Mrs.

Kirkeby activity director, commented.

According to Mrs. Kirkeby, residents have worked with staff members and volunteers in preparing for the bazaar.

Some of the featured items this year include Tri-Chem painting on tea towels and pillow cases by Billie Brown, afghans crocheted by Ola Hacker and stuffed cloth dogs created by Lena Menefee.

Mrs. Kirkeby is assisted in activities at the nursing home by Noreen Trowbridge.

Tour of Homes Scheduled Sunday

Three Hereford homes will be open for the public to tour Sunday when La Madre Mia Study Club hosts its 11th annual Tour of Homes from 2-5 p.m.

This year's tour will include the Allen Cansler home, 102 N. Texas, the Troy Sublett home 511 E. 5th, and the Garth Merrick home east of town.

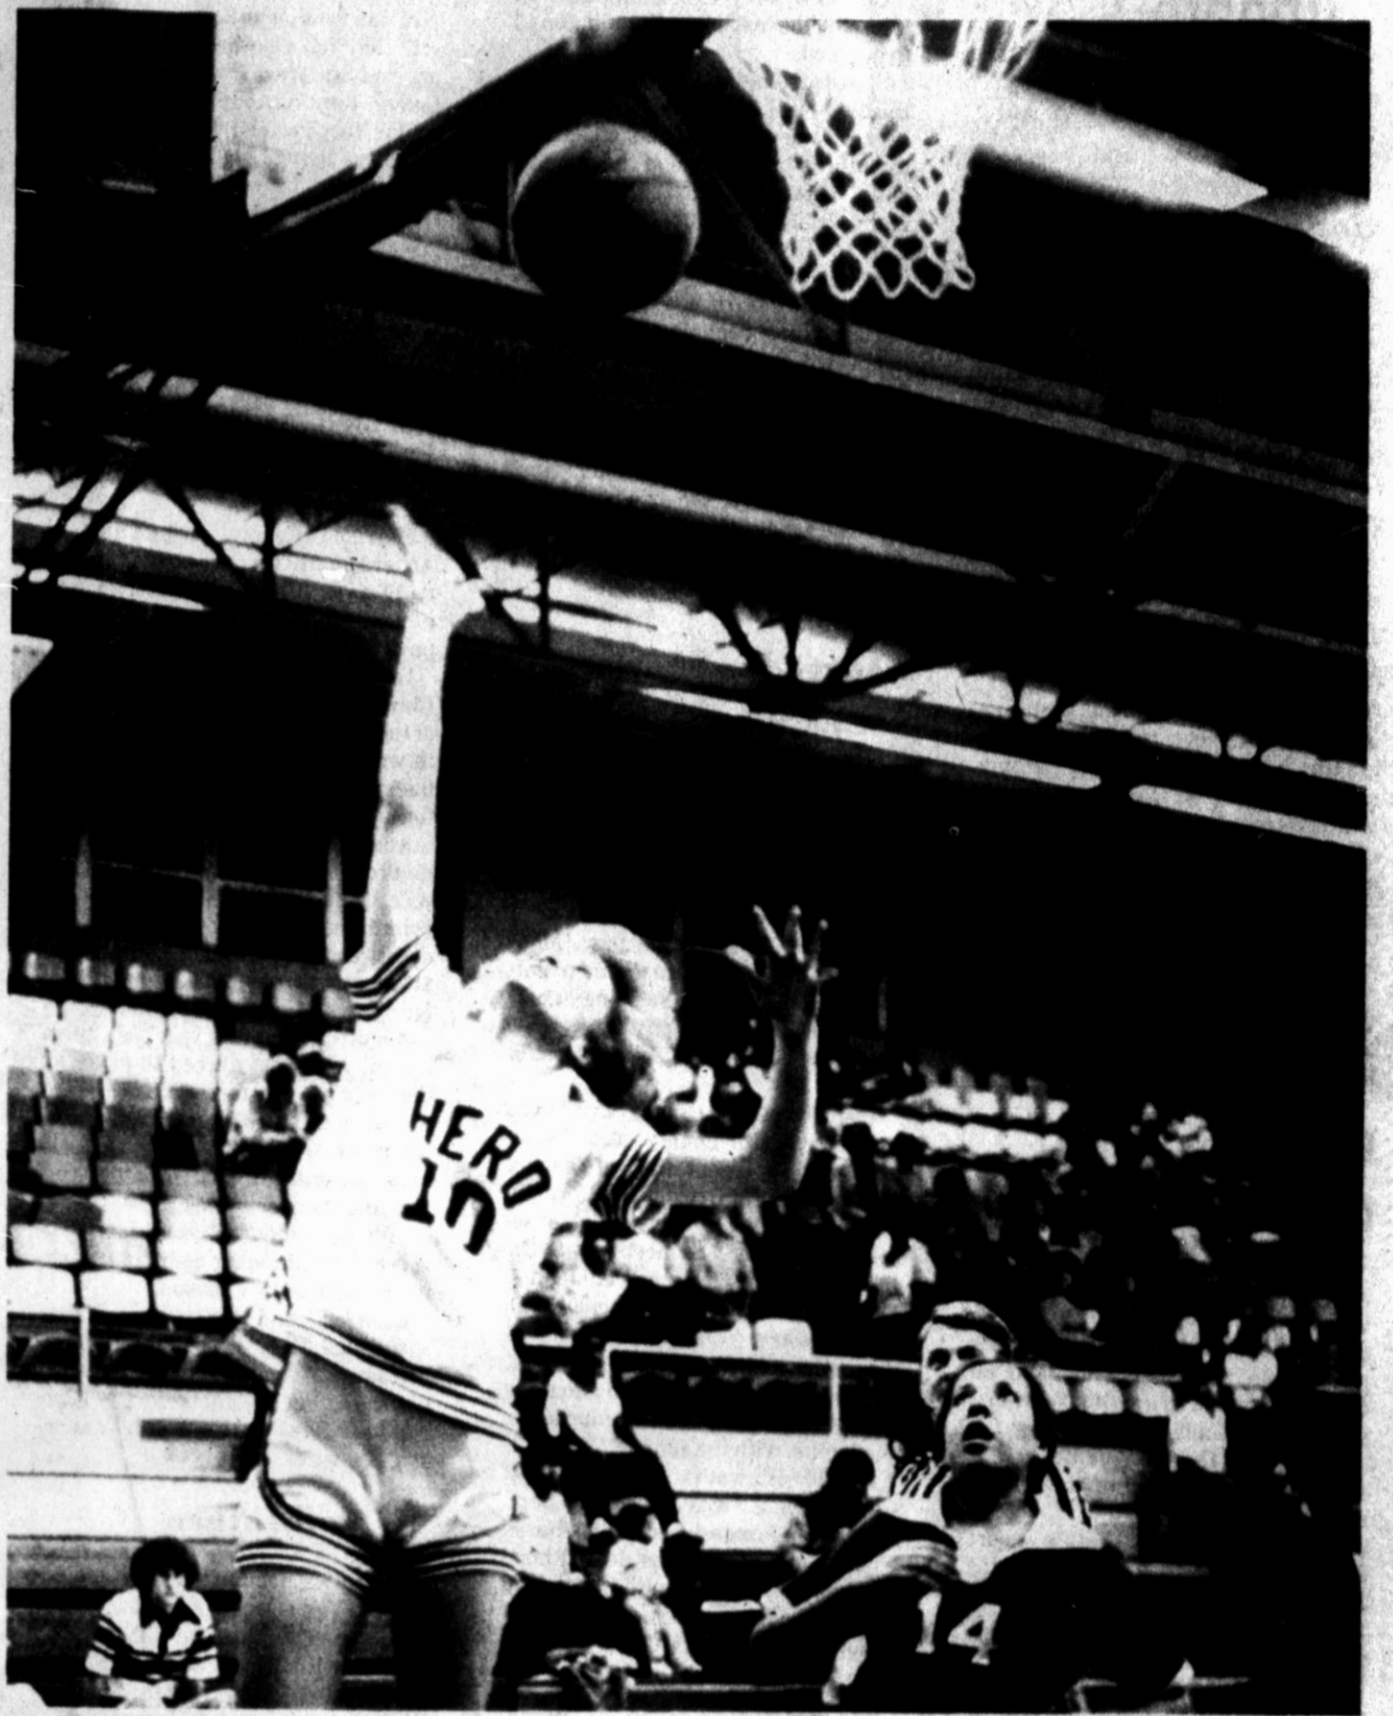

Each year, homes which members feel offer unique decorating or remodeling ideas are chosen for the tour. This year those homes on the tour are older homes which the present owners have remodeled.

A special addition to this year's tour will be an art show displaying the works of Russell Brown at the E.B. Black House.

A door prize of one of Brown's paintings will be offered at the E.B. Black House and members will be on hand to serve refreshments.

Tickets for the tour are $2 and may be bought from members at the E.B. Black House, or at any of the three homes Sunday.

Last year, the club members contributed to the construction of the gazebo at the E.B. Black House.

leading scorer for the Whitefaces behind Terri Harkins with 14. Last night's victory was the sixth of the season against one defeat for the lady Whitefaces and marked their fifth straight win. Carter Vetoing Anti-Busing Legislation in Final Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a final battle with Congress, President Carter is vetoing legislation he says would undermine the powers of the presidency by barring the government from seeking court-ordered busing to desegregate schools.

With the lame-duck session of Congress in its last hours, some congressional leaders say Carter's position may prevail — at least until Republican Ronald Reagan takes office and the more conservative 97th Congress convenes next month.

Carter told congressional leaders late Thursday he will veto the $9.1 billion appropriation bill containing the anti-busing amendment.

"For any president to accept this precedent would permit a serious encroachment on the powers of this office," Carter said. "I have a responsibility to my successors and to the American people not to permit that encroachment to take place."

Carter said the anti-busing amendment "would effectively allow the Congress to tell a president that there are certain constitutional remedies that he cannot ask the courts to apply."

Annoyed anti-busing leaders in Congress expressed little optimism that they could overturn the president's decision.

"We will do our best to override, but it is going to be difficult because the departing senators, many of whom are more liberal than those who will replace them, will vote to uphold the veto," said Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C. "I don't anticipate that we will win, but we will have a vote."

Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, called the Carter decision a "sorry mistake" and added: "I think there would be enough votes to override that kind of a veto, but I am not sure that the Congress will have enough time to do it."

Senate Republican leader Howard H. Baker of Tennessee said rather than trying to override the veto, Congress probably will adopt a stopgap spending resolution to defer the issue until next year.

However, Congress also may attach the anti-busing amendment to the stopgap resolution as well.

Carter said he would veto that as well despite the operational problems such an action would cause for the government.

"But I would be shirking my constitutional responsibilities if I allowed this unprecedented encroachment on executive authority and responsibility to prevail," Carter said.

The president said busing should be used only as a last resort, but he added: "Busing is not the real issue here. The real issue is whether it is proper for the Congress to prevent the president from carrying out his constitutional responsibility to enforce the Constitution and the laws of the United States."

Hotel Inferno Traps Businessmen

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) — Business executives gathered for meetings at a hotel here "didn't have a chance" when an electrical fire raced through conference rooms with heat so intense that it melted walls, fire officials said.

The blaze Thursday at the suburban Stouffer's Inn killed 26 people and injured at least 40.

"The fire was so strong, so fast, that it was like a bomb exploding," said Franz Eichenauer, an executive chef for General Foods.

"It appears it flashed up suddenly and these people didn't have a chance," said Purchase Fire Chief Robert Makowski.

Most of the victims were believed to be executives of Arrow Electronics Inc. and Nestle Company Inc.

The families of the victims were gathered at the Westchester County medical examiner's office early today, working with authorities who were trying to identify the remains of victims (See FIRE, Page 2)

Houston Girl Tries Out for 'Annie'

HOUSTON (AP) — A 9-year-old Houston girl competing for the lead in the movie musical "Annie" has returned home, hoping to be one of three selected to audition for the coveted role as America's favorite orphan.

Jamie Flowers returned to Houston on Thursday after six days of competition in Hollywood. She and the eight other finalists were among 8,000 youngsters who auditioned earlier this year in 22 cities.

Columbia Pictures said tentative plans are to select three girls late this month. A spokesman for Columbia said rehearsing the three girls will be a safeguard because there is always a chance the first choice might grow out of the role.

The movie version of the singing ragmuffin — now a Broadway hit — is scheduled for release in 1982.

The other eight finalists are from Colorado, Pennsylvania, Florida, Massachusetts, California and Great Britain.

Wilmington 10

Convictions Ousted

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A federal appeals court has thrown out the convictions of the Wilmington 10, whose prosecution was protested for years by civil rights groups and depicted around the world as a symbol of racist justice in the United States.

The ruling Thursday came a year after the last of the Wilmington 10 was released from prison.

"I'm very happy that a court somewhere in the United States agrees with the Wilmington 10," said the Rev. Ben Chavis, a leader of the 10 who now lives in Washington, D.C. "We should have never been convicted. We were totally innocent of those frame-up charges and had to suffer many years unjustly."

Cnavis was released from prison in late 1979, the last of the Wilmington 10 to be freed.

State Attorney General Rufus Edmisten said late Thursday he would seek a review of the decision, issued by a three-judge panel of the appeals court, before the full appellate court and possibly before the U.S. Supreme Court. He gave no indication, however, whether new trials would be ordered for the group.

They were convicted on charges connected with the firebombing of Mike's Grocery — a white-owned neighborhood store on the fringe of a black community ravaged by racial turmoil in Wilmington in January and February of 1971. The nine black men and one white woman pleaded innocent.

Tyler Man Charged in Murder

TYLER, Texas (AP) — A member of a wealthy Tyler family has been arrested on a capital murder charge in connection with the fatal shooting of a grocer five years ago.

Bobby Joe Manziel, 38, was arrested Thursday on a sealed indictment returned earlier in the day by a 7th District Court grand jury. Manziel, who described himself as a self-employed oil and land leasing agent, was released after posting $25,000 bond set by District Judge Donald Carroll.

The arrest was made by Texas Rangers, Smith County sheriff's officers and representatives of District Attorney Hunter Brush.

The indictment also named a second Tyler man in connection with the 1975 slaying of Tyler grocer Johnny Lee "Red" Hopson. The second man was arrested Thursday but not officially booked.

A third man was arrested two months ago and charged with murder in connection with the slaying.

Harold Hiawatha Stokes, 36, of Granite, Okla., was arrested on Sept. 3 by Texas Rangers and Dallas-based FBI agents. Stokes was denied bond and has been in the Smith County jail at Tyler since his arrest.

Hopson was killed on April 3, 1975 at his grocery store-residence on Highway 64 west of Tyler by a man who broke into the house with a sledge hammer and fired several shots at Hopson.

At the time of the slaying, officers said they felt Hopson was killed during an apparent burglary-robbery. Later, they have declined comment on the motive, and Brush indicated Thursday he will not contend that all three suspects were present when Hopson was killed.

Judge Jails

Judge

BELTON, Texas (AP) — An East Texas county judge recently found himself on the other side of the bars in the Bell County Jail.

Harrison County Judge Richard Anderson, 31, was ordered Thursday to 10 days in jail for contempt and non-payment of child support payments.

However, 169th District Judge J.F. Clawson suspended all but four hours of the sentence after Anderson agreed to write checks for almost $10,000 in back child support payments, attorneys' fees and court costs.

Anderson, a Marshall lawyer, was divorced in October 1974 from his wife, Dale Owens of the Bell County community of Harker Heights, but court records showed he had not paid $175-a-month payments for the past four years. His daughter is now 12.

About 30 minutes his jail term began, Anderson agreed to make up the back payments and was released about 4 p.m. to go to Clawson's court, where he wrote checks for $9,100 in back payments, $500 in attorneys' fees and $87 in court costs.

Anderson then returned to jail to serve the remaining hours of punishment imposed by Clawson.

Clawson said the sentence was suspended after 8 p.m. on condition the checks would be honored when presented for payment to the First National Bank in Marshall by Anderson's ex-wife.

Opposition Building Against Two Reagan Cabinet Prospects

WASHINGTON (AP) — Strong opposition is building against two leading prospects for Ronald Reagan's Cabinet, forcing the president-elect to consider alternatives to Alexander M. Haig Jr. as secretary of state and banker Walter B. Wriston as treasury secretary, Republican sources report.

Haig, the former NATO commander and White House chief of staff during the final days of Richard Nixon's administration, was under fire from some conservative Republicans for his longtime association with former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, one source said. Other Haig detractors are concerned about his connections to the Watergate scandal, which forced Nixon to resign the presidency in 1974, the source said.

Wriston, chairman of Citicorp, the nation's second-largest bank, was encountering conflict-of-interest questions. Citibank, a Citicorp subsidiary, is involved with claims against Iranian assets and loan guarantees for New York City, two issues before the Treasury Department.

Sources involved in putting together a Reagan administration said Haig and Wriston emerged this week as Reagan's first choices for secretaries of state and treasury after two other prominently mentioned candidates withdrew from consideration.

Nixon's former treasury secretary, George Shultz, had been considered the frontrunner for the State Department post and William E. Simon, treasury secretary in the Ford administration, had been considered likely to return to his old job until both men declined to come back to Washington.

News reports elevating Haig and Wriston to frontrunner status have encouraged the men's enemies to draw their long knives, said the sources.

"The longer a name is out there, the more people will try to shoot it down," said one source.

In a column printed in Thursday's New York Times, liberal columnist Anthony Lewis said Haig "did a lot of nasty jobs" during his White House years, including carrying out the firing of Watergate Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox during the famous Saturday Night massacre in October 1973.

Another question about an appointment to head the State Department involved his health. Haig underwent coronary bypass surgery last April.

As a result, one source said, Haig was a possible "klunker" in the emerging lineup of Cabinet secretaries.

There was a rumor Thursday that Reagan was asking Shultz to reconsider the State Department job, but sources at Reagan's transition office here said they were unaware of a new effort to recruit Shultz.

Wriston, meanwhile, reportedly faces, in addition to the conflict-of-interest questions, complex problems over what to do with his financial holdings.

In taking the Cabinet position, Wriston would be exchanging his $433,333 salary with Citicorp plus $200,000 in additional compensation for a $69,630 salary as a department head. As of Jan. 1, 1980, Wriston owned 104,499 shares of Citicorp stock, now worth about $2.25 million.

Some sources close to the Reagan transition team say Wriston's financial situation and continued competition from other candidates for the Treasury post could still torpedo his chances for the job.

"His star is in ascendancy," said one source, who added that Charles E. Walker, a deputy treasury secretary in the Nixon administration, remained in the running for the Treasury post. The source also said another candidate, Donald T. Regan, chairman of Merrill Lynch and Co., the nation's largest brokerage firm, was "closing in fast."

It was learned Thursday that former Wyoming Sen. Clifford Hansen, a top candidate for interior secretary, withdrew from Cabinet competition. One knowledgeable source said he was a casualty of the ethics laws.

Sen. Alan Simpson, R-Wyo., said in a telephone interview Thursday that Hansen had withdrawn his name from consideration for the Interior Department job for "personal reasons."

Republican sources said other candidates being considered for the Interior Department post are Rep. John Rhodes of Arizona, Rep. Manuel Lujan Jr. of New Mexico and Richard Richards, a Salt Lake City attorney who is prominent in Utah Republican politics.

Realty Office Is Vandalized

A patrolling officer noticed a broken window at Griffin Real Estate, 508 S. 25 Mile Ave., last night. Investigation showed that a 2x4 was thrown through the window causing an estimated $150 in damages.

Pedro Morales of 503 Irving reported that someone entered his home yesterday and took his 19-inch color television set. The burglary is under investigation at this time.

Julianne Jorde reported the theft of four chrome hubcaps valued at $250 from her car which was parked on the north end of Avenue F near the high school.

Mrs. Algerita Bell said her purse was stolen from her car parked on Sixth Street near the Oddfellows Temple Building.

Mrs. Carol Gerck said that someone stole a load of assorted clothing out of a dryer in a laundry on 13th Street while she was getting change across the street.

Officers issued 16 traffic citations Thursday.

Bullock Tax Rep Here

AUSTIN — State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced he is sending a representative from his Amarillo office to Hereford on December 17, 1980, to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes.

Bullock said Enforcement Officer Silvestre Bonilla will meet with local taxpayers at the Hereford County Court House from 10:00 thru 12:00. "If Hereford and area merchants, or anyone else for that matter, have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing tax forms, Mr. Bonilla will be there to assist them," Bullock said.

Bullock reminded those taxpayers who are unable to meet with his representative on December 17, 1980, that they can still get their questions answered by calling his toll-free tax information number in Austin. That number is 1-800-252-5555.

"We're trying to cut the red tape in this office and we believe these face-to-face sessions with taxpayers help do just that," Bullock added.

Cabinet Was Easy Until Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — Picking Ronald Reagan's Cabinet was easy — until he was elected president.

Plenty of lists circulated in Washington and Los Angeles. Among the names on most were William Simon, George Shultz, Caspar Weinberger and Alexander Haig.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson was the early favorite to be secretary of state or defense. For reasons never told — least of all to Jackson — he now is a sure bet to remain a Democratic senator from Washington.

Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, had the job of secretary of defense nailed down for about three days. Now it seems Tower will have to be satisfied with chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Simon and Shultz either jumped or were pushed out. Weinberger and Haig still look like strong bets to join the Reagan administration.

The ritualistic political mating dance that has taken place since Reagan's landslide election 31 days ago is typical of presidential transitions. Some are touted as ideally matched ideologically, politically or temperamentally with the president-elect and then someone comes up with reasons why the match is less ideal.

The transition is the president-elect's first real taste of the power he is about to assume. But it's not a full bite. Like the lame-duck president, the president-elect faces unique frustrations.

Filling a Cabinet is no longer akin to a high-level parlor game. Reagan is deciding who will hold power in the government.

Before he sends a Cabinet nomination to the Senate for confirmation, the president-elect is the target of intense lobbying.

Some of it is difficult to ignore. Simon was pushing to be Reagan's treasury secretary and to make the job one of economic overlord. He had strong backing from Reagan's conservative supporters.

a long-term grain short age. The largest advances in November were for pork, cereal, bakery products, dairy goods, fresh fruits and vegetables.

Prices for beef and veal declined due to a large slaughter by farmers who chose not to feed cattle such high-priced grain. Poultry prices also fell.

All energy prices at the finished goods level advanced 1.3 percent, after falling 0.4 percent in both September and October. Gasoline prices jumped 1.7 percent after declining for five straight months. Home heating oil costs rose 0.9 percent following two months of small decreases.

Automobile prices rose only 0.7 percent last month, far less than the 3.4 percent increase in October when 1981 models were introduced.

The department's Producer Price Index, before seasonal adjustment, stood at 253.2 last month. That means that a marketbasket of goods and services that cost $100 in 1967 sold for $253.20 in October. The price of all intermediate, or semi-finished goods, climbed 1 percent last month, about the same as in October and substantially more than September's 0.6 percent rise.

Raw goods prices accelerated 1.1 percent after going up 1.9 percent the month before, the department said. "The November data provide further evidence of the gradual improvement that has been in effect since late summer," said Janet Norwood, commissioner of the through fingerprints or dental records.

A police spokesman said he had received calls indicating that people "from California to Canada" were at the hotel.

It was the second major hotel fire in the United States in two weeks. On Nov. 21, a blaze at the MGM Grand hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., killed 84 people and injured more than 700 others.

Makowski said he determined the Stouffer's fire was electrical because "the partitions in the walls melted. It was a very hot, hot fire."

There were no sprinklers in the area where the fire spread.

"It is tragic that the safety codes did not require sprinklers in such areas because they are not regarded as guest living areas," said Carl Vergari, Westchester County district attorney.

Sprinklers were not required in most areas of the MGM Grand and were not installed there either.

Executives of Arrow, Nestle, General Foods Corp., International Business Machines Corp., PepsiCo Inc. and other companies were at meetings on the same floor of the three-story brick building where the fire broke out.

The 3-year-old inn, which cost $20 million and has 366 guest rooms, is located 20 miles north of mid-Manhattan along a hillside strip dubbed the "Platinum Mile" because of its concentration of modern corporate headquarters.

The inn was bustling with activity when the fire exploded at 10:20 a.m. in a secondstory conference room where officials of Arrow Electronics of Greenwich, Conn., were holding a budget meeting.

"We could hear noises in the hallway," said Thomas Goodrum of Danbury, Conn., a General Foods employee who was in a meeting next door.

"I heard someone say, 'Oh, my God.' Smoke started coming over the top of our door.... We couldn't open the windows," he said.

A man picked up a chair and heaved it at a window, but it bounced off, Goodrum said. Then two men picked up a table and smashed the window and the people in the room jumped 35 feet to a rocky slope below.

"I jumped blind," said Nancy Yates, who was in the General Foods room. "I couldn't see the ground when I jumped."

Seven bodies were later found in a closet of the Arrow Electronics room. The victims apparently mistook the closet door for an exit. Three others were found behind a Christmas tree near an emergency door whose dead-bolt lock apparently would not open.

Most of the deaths apparently were from smoke inhalation and the 40 injuries apparently were suffered in leaps from second-story windows.

John C. Waddell, Arrow executive vice president and its ranking corporate officer after the fire, identified three of the dead as company President Biddle Duke Glenn, 44; Executive Vice President Roger E. Green, 42; and Norman Kelly, another ex-

The group will also sell Christmas wrapped praline pecans at the bazaar for $3.50 per can.

During the meeting which was held at the home of Marilyn Culpepper, plans were finalized for the children's Christmas party.

Members decided to have a party for their children Dec. 13 at the Community Center.

In other business, the group voted unanimously to take a CPR course next spring. The course will be taught by the Homemakers little sister, Dana Barber, who is a certified instructor.

Home fire safety during the holidays was the program presented by Jay Spain, Fire Marshall, and Mike Watts, fireman before the business meeting.

Spain talked to the group about fire safety throughout the year and emphasized the need for extra caution during the holiday season concerning Christmas trees and lights.

"Artificial trees do not catch fire as easily as live trees. If live trees are used, they should be fresh. They need plenty of water while in the house," Spain said.

"Never leave Christmas lights turned on when away from the house or when everyone has gone to bed," he continued.

Spain spoke about the use of lights outside the home. He stressed that only lights equipped for outdoors should be used. If indoor lights are used a situation for fire is created.

"Always make sure your house outlets are strong enough for all the extra lights. If it throws a breaker, and you continue to use the lights a fire could start," he explained.

Spain told the members about the importance of calling the fire department even if the fire seems small or if a fire has been brought under control.

"Always call the fire department. It's better to be safe than sorry," he concluded.

After the program, members were served refreshments by hostesses Linda Goss and Karen Smith. Secret Pal gifts were opened by those present.

Gift wrapping on gag gifts each member brought to the meeting was judged by Mrs. Burlsmith, advisor, and Mrs. Goss for the most beautiful and most comical.

Gail Blain and Mrs. Smith were awarded Christmas balls for winning the contest.

Members present at the meeting included Mrs. Blain, Shirley Carlson, Bobbie Patzig, Mrs. Goss, Nelva Swopes, Connie Gilbert, Anne Kemp, Marilyn Culpepper, Brenda Campbell, Kathy Ganey, Barbara Weatherford and Mrs. Burlsmith.

To Participate in Bazaar

Cara Dearing, a member of Hereford Young Homemakers, displays the sign the club will have at their table display at the Westway Extension Club's Country Christmas Bazaar Saturday at the Community Center. Members will be on hand to take pictures of children with Santa Claus for $2.50 and to sell cans of praline pecans for $3.50. The bazaar will be open from 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN

A one-man show of paintings by Marguerite Newell of Hereford is in progress at the Texas National Bank at San Angelo, and Mrs. Newell was in the southwest Texas city Monday for the opening.

The show, to continue two weeks, includes work in various media, mostly watercolors. It was arranged by Barbara McCrary, a former Hereford resident. With her husband, Dr. Hugh, and their two children she now lives in San Angelo.

A Thanksgiving visit in New Braunfels preceded the show for Marguerite and her husband, Charles. They flew down to spend the holiday with their son Pat and his family, including his two older children who were at home from Fort Worth and Three Rivers.

Charles flew back home Saturday, then Pat and his family drove Marguerite to San Angelo and were there when the art show opened.

Thanksgiving at the old home place at Lazbuddie was a happy occasion for Lena Menefee and 31 members of her family. She was accompanied by her daughter and son-in-law, Ruth and Sam Long.

Mrs. Menefee's granddaughter, Mrs. Joe Cox, and family now occupy the home. The Hereford woman's daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lovelace of Farwell, were among the guests.

Those in the next generation included the Longs' sons, Ron and Ricky, and Ron's wife, all of Dallas; sons of Mrs. Lovelace and their families; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Treider and their sons, Mr. and Mrs. Brad Treider and Mr. and Mrs. Stan Treider, all of Lazbuddie, also Mr. and Mrs. Larry Treider and children, Devette and Shane of Lubbock.

Daughters of Mrs. Lovelace were Billie McGee of Oxford, Calif., Bobbie Grant of Oregon, Jeanette Hurt and children, Pat of Craig, Colo. and Marnette Reeves of Lubbock.

In the great and great-great-grandchildren bracket were children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Cox; Fontella Lewis, Colene and Judson of Lubbock, Clint Cox and daughter Amy of Clovis and Juaneen Cox of Lubbock.

Besides their children from Dallas, the Sam Longs had as guests during the holidays his sisters and brothers with their families.

There were the Fred Longs of Riverside, Calif., Charles Long of Muleshoe and his children, Mr. and Mrs. Don Long of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Long and Jarrett of Houston, Lucille Wright of Littlefield, Waunita Paul, Lana and Bryan of Spearman, Karen and Kari of Muleshoe.

Ann Landers

Desperate for Help

DEAR ANN: Four years ago our daughter started dating this boy in high school. Two years later she got pregnant. They were not married but decided she should keep the baby. We took care of her and paid everything.

The boy couldn't have cared less. He doesn't want to be a father or a husband. But he won't stay away from our daughter. It's like he thinks that since he gave her the baby, we should support him.

He spends his entire paycheck on pot and goes to bars every night. He never gives her a dime.

She works so hard to make ends meet, taking care of her little girl and the slob, too. We are afraid she will have a nervous breakdown.

He is such a con man he has her fooled into thinking he will change, but he never will. What can we do to help our daughter?--Thinking Of Murder

DEAR THINKING: Nothing. The more you talk against him, the more determined she will be to defend him.

Your daughter needs to talk to a professional about her problem and hear from some source—other than the family—precisely what she is doing with her life.

Try the Salvation Army, the Y.M.C.A. counseling program, the Family Service Assn. It is obvious that she has a low opinion of herself, or she would not permit that immature, spaced-out kid to treat her so shabbily. He, of course, needs counseling as badly as she does, but he sounds as if he's a long way from facing up to the fact. The important thing now is to save your daughter, if possible. Good luck to all of you.

Watch Ann Landers tonight on "NBC" Magazine with David Brinkley. Check your local listings for the time in your area.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Can you print one more letter about answering services? I work for one, and would like to pass on a few helpful suggestions to the general public.

1. If you find you have reached an answering service, please don't hang up. At least leave a name. A client may hear the phone ring and be unable to get to it. He will call the answering service and ask, "Who was the call from?" It's annoying to hear, "I'm sorry, sir, they hung up."

2. When I say, "Sorry, but I cannot give you a home telephone," it means I've been TOLD NOT TO.

3. If a doctor is away, he is away. When he puts another doctor on call, we have instructions on how to proceed. Please don't insist we reach YOUR doctor. We all have families and we understand how you feel, but we must follow the doctor's direction.

Sometimes our service makes it possible for a doctor to reach a frantic mother or a stockbroker to earn a big commission, or a person may find an understanding ear when he needs it during the night.

We try hard to do the job our clients pay for, and we need your help. Just remember that the client pays for EACH call. If it takes two pages to write the message, or if I must say, "The person refused to leave his name and said he will call back," the cost is the same.--Thank You For Waiting. DEAR FRIEND: You are mighty welcome. I learned something today, and I'm sure thousands of others did, too.

What kind of wedding goes with today's new life styles? Does anything go? Ann Landers' completely new "The Bride's Guide" tells what's right for today's weddings. Three generations of the "Hoover" family held their first family reunion during the Thanksgiving holidays at the Baptist Assembly Grounds outside Canyon.

The Hoover family first settled in the western part of the Deaf Smith County in the early 1930's.

The late Charlie Hoover, rancher and farmer, had six children. They are Charles Hoover, Allen Hoover, Herbert Hoover, Pearl Robbins, Sande Jorsengen and Vera Lee Case.

Approximately 50 members out of 56 attended the festivities. The family attended a luncheon, an outing in Amarillo, and a Sunday breakfast for the men at Palo Duro State Park, hosted by Allen Hoover.

Those present represented Hereford; Lewisville; San Diego Calif.; Canyon; Houston; Dallas; Palm Springs, Calif.; Mesa, Ariz.; Island, N.Y.; Center Sherman Oaks, Calif.; Moriches, N.Y.; Lakewood, Walnut Creek, Calif.; Long Colo.; and Ponca City, Okla.

Signing Proclamation

December has been declared Christmas Seal Month in Hereford with a proclamation signed by Mayor W.B. Dowell in conjunction with the 1980 Christmas Seal Campaign of the American Lung Association of Texas. The proclamation notes that over 800,000 Texans are afflicted with one or more chronic respiratory diseases. Mayor Dowell urges the citizens of Hereford to use Christmas Seals on holiday cards and packages, which support a multi-faceted program of education, research, and community services to fight lung diseases. Shown with the Mayor while he signs the proclamation are members of the American Lung Association Texas Council left, June Rudd and Jewel Smith.

December Declared 'Christmas Seal' Month by Mayor Dowell

Mayor W.B. Dowell recently signed a proclamation declaring the month of December as "Christmas Seal" month in Hereford, in conjunction with the 1980 Christmas Seal Campaign of the American Lung Association of Texas.

Diseases of the lung continue to cause the citizens of the state of Texas much suffering and many untimely deaths. Cancer remains the second leading cause of death in the state. Cancer of the lung has long been the most common cancer among men and has now become the most common cancer among women.

In 1977, 5,187 Texans died of this disease. Influenza and pneumonia combined are the state's fifth most common cause of death, killing 2,714 citizens in 1977. Chronic bronchitis and emphysema, the sixth leading cause of death, accounted for the mortality of an additional 2,689 persons. Tuberculosis caused an additional 106 deaths in 1979.

Such appalling mortality statistics only suggest the suffering and disability caused by lung diseases. Approximately 5 percent of the population has asthma, a disease that rarely kills but may cause tremendous morbidity.

As a voluntary health agency the American Lung Association uses weapons to attack these problems including programs for in-service training of health professionals, public awareness seminars, emphysema clubs, post graduate educational programs for health professionals, and asthma programs for school children, among others. The ALAT has made great strides in devising such worthwhile programs.

Most programs neglect music for special audiences. Arts and crafts are usually the vehicle for individual expression, points out Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist.

However, music has two elements that make it particularly adaptable to special audiences—it is a sensory experience with tangible outcomes, and it usually involves some type of physical activity, she notes.

Edward Livingston Trudeau, a doctor who was recovering from tuberculosis, founded the first tuberculosis hospital in Saranac Lake, N.Y. and soon, other doctors were establishing small TB hospitals. They, their former patients, and other friends formed the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association in 1904, the same year Einar Holboell, a Danish postal worker, created the first Christmas Seal.

The first U.S. Christmas Seal was designed by Emily Bissell and sold in the Wilmington, Delaware post office. A penny was asked for each seal.

Now children throughout the United States design the Christmas Seals. Because clean, dry air was thought to be good for TB patients, they flocked to Texas. About the turn of the century the death rate from TB reached 400 to 800 per 100,000 population in some Texas cities. In 1908 the Texas Anti-Tuberculosis Association was formed.

In 1911 the legislature approved funds for the construction of a sanatorium in Carlsbad—not in New Mexico—but Texas, near San Angelo. At the peak of its service that sanatorium housed 950 patients, had 36 buildings and its own post office, chest hospitals were established in several Texas cities, but in World War II times, drugs that seemed miraculous brought TB under substantial control.

Drawing upon the association's recommendations, the legislature in 1965 consolidated all state-supported TB services into one unit now called the Texas Department of Health Resources.

In 1968, the Texas Tuberculosis Association was renamed the Texas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association. In 1973 it became the American Lung Association of Texas.

In order to provide optimum service to Texas residents, the Lung Association is divided into five affiliates and eight areas. Affiliated offices are located in San Antonio, Temple, Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston. Population centers through which the areas are served are: Harlingen, San Angelo, Corpus Christi, Tyler, Beaumont, El Paso, Lubbock and Amarillo. The Top of Texas area of the ALAT is comprised of the 26 panhandle counties, and has two paid employees, an area executive and an area secretary.

The ALAT overall concern is the prevention and control of lung disease. Their approach is to concentrate efforts in four major divisions of this concern: (1) respiratory disease, such as asthma, emphysema, chronic bronchitis, influenza (2) tuberculosis (3) smoking—helping people either avoid acquiring the habit or to quit smoking (4) air conservation. "The public is encouraged to help support the ALAT fit lung diseases by using their Christmas Seals this year," according to Jewel Smith, ALAT Counsel member.

Bangle Day Set Tomorrow at Mall

Bangles depicting the American Lung Association of Texas emblem will be presented Saturday to individuals who donate to the American Lung Association. Accepting donations Saturday in Sugarland Mall will be members of the Hereford Key Club.

Bangle Day is an annual fund-raising event of the Lung Association with all proceeds going toward the fight against respiratory diseases, such as emphysema, bronchitis, asthma and tuberculosis. Local residents are urged to support the Bangle Day project with tax-deductible donations. Gifts to the Lung Association are also being accepted now through the annual Christmas Seal campaign.

Key Clubbers will begin soliciting bangles Saturday morning. Clubbers will also solicit bangles during the Hereford Basketball tournament this weekend at La Plata gym.

Bay View Study Club Hosts Christmas Party

Bay View Study Club held their annual Christmas Coffee Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Howard Johnson, 318 Centre. Co-hostesses for the special event were members of the social committee, being Mrs. R.B. Barnard, Mrs. Charley Hays, and Mrs. Jack Case.

Mrs. Johnson began the party with a reading by Sophia P. Snow entitled "Anne and Willie's Prayer." Members then exchanged gifts and secret pals were revealed.

An assortment of finger-sandwiches, cookies, and candies was served from a table laid in a white cloth, centered with a miniature Christmas tree made by Marie Kline. Crystal appointments were used to serve those present.

The next meeting was scheduled for Jan. 15 in the home of Nancy Josserand.

A responsible and caring babysitter is a boon to new parents. To assure the baby's and the sitter's health and safety in their absence parents should follow certain guidelines.

- Leave and return on time. If you are unavoidably detained, call and notify your sitter.

- Post a list of important telephone numbers—neighbors, doctor, fire and police departments, a number where you can be reached—near the phone.

- Give your sitter specific instructions related to bathing, feeding and bedtime. Don't ask your sitter to do housework or the laundry. The sitter's main and only responsibility should be caring for your child.

This will be the club's annual business meeting. All members are encouraged to attend.

Additional members present included Mrs. J.R. Allison, Dudley Bayne, Bruce Burney, Jim Cavin, S.M. Davis, R.W. Eades, D.N. Garner, Homer Garrison, John Gilliland, W.J. Gilliland, Jimmie Gillentine, W.K. Golden, Aaron Hulto, Justin McBride, Ansel McDowell, Lester Mehlberg, Jack Wilcox, James Witherspoon, Austin C. Rose, H.L. Benefield and W.S. Kerr.

The Newspaper Bible

COULDN'T SEE THE WOODS FOR THE TREES

Soon afterwards, He left that section of the country and returned with His disciples to Nazareth, His home town. The next Sabbath He went to the synagogue to teach, and the people were astonished at His wisdom and His miracles because He was just a local man like themselves. "He's no better than we are," they said. "He's just a carpenter, Mary's boy, and a brother of James and Joseph, Judas and Simon, and his sisters live right here among us." And they were offended!

Then Jesus told them, "A prophet is honored everywhere except in his home town and among his relatives and by his own family."

And because of their unbelief He couldn't do any mighty miracles among them except to place His hands on a few sick people and heal them.

And He could hardly accept the fact that they wouldn't believe in Him. Then He went out among the villages, teaching.

And He called His twelve disciples together and sent them out two by two, with power to cast out demons. He told them to take nothing with them except their walking sticks - no food, no knapsack, no money, not even an extra pair of shoes or a change of clothes.

"Stay at one home in each village - don't shift around from house to house while you are there," He said.

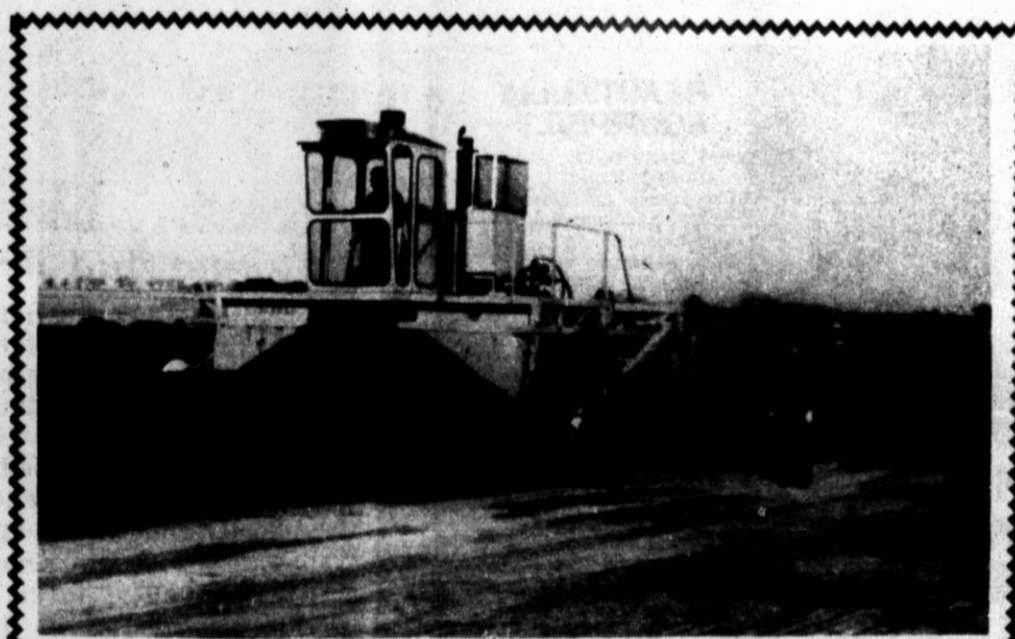

"And whenever a village won't accept you or listen to you, shake off the dust from your feet as you leave it; it is a sign that you have abandoned it to its fate."

So the disciples went out, telling everyone they met to turn from sin.

And they cast out many demons, and healed many sick people, anointing them with olive oil.

In Opening Rounds of Hereford Invitational

Hereford Girls Overwhelm Jefferson

By MAURI MONTGOMERY

Brand Sports Editor

The Hereford Whiteface girls' basketball team should have acquired a billing such as the Beauties of Boardwalk here Thursday night after they foreclosed on El Paso Jefferson 78-24 in the opening rounds of the Hereford Invitational Basketball tournament.

Not only did the Whitefaces hold an unlimited monopoly on the bucket (both offensive and defensive boards), but they made Jefferson High pay dearly for each stop on either of the two featured real estate lots.

As it turned out, the prices were much too steep for the out-of-pocket El Paso cage team. The long-distance traveler fell behind in the rent — never passed go and never collected $200.

The overburdening win shoved the Herd to a 6-1 mark on the year, and kept a healthy five game winning streak plus further attempts at gaining the tournament crown alive.

"I don't think El Paso was really as bad as the score might have indicated them to be," said a humble coach Larry Sowers after the massacre: "They just didn't get any shots tonight. I think you could say they've probably seen better shooting performances than what they came out with this time. They just never got the opportunity to put it up."

coach after countless stolen offensive passes left the cage crew facing a 20-6 deficit by the time first quarter play had concluded.

But the HHS defensive game was only half of the tragedy for El Paso in that opening first period play. Led by two back-to-back shots from junior guard Amy Schumacher early, (the Whitefaces' second leading scorer on the night with a tal-then drove inside and down the lane to narrow Hereford's beginning dominance to 10-6, but five consecutive outer-limit shots by Mays, captain Terri Harkins (the Herd's high point person with a spree of 16), Stephanie Foster and Joyce High gave Jefferson some idea of what the clash might be like for the rest of the night.

More than half of Hereford's roster had netted some type of score in the opening round, and before the runaway battle terminated the whole HHS bench had a debut on the scoreboard.

The Whitefaces went virtually untouched in the second quarter as four HHS field goals went unanswered to extend the tally to 27-6, and that 21 point margin eventually came to rest at a 27-point ball game before El Paso was saved briefly by the halftime buzzer.

Expected cries of intentionally running up the score were never directed toward Sowers even at that early stage of the contest because he had done everything short of benching his whole team to restrain such accusations. No Hereford player could wash her hands of the slaughter.

Even so, Hereford went on to out-score Jefferson 22-7 in the third quarter and put the El Paso squad out of its misery in the final period with a 17-5 onslaught.

"We did what we wanted to do tonight," Sowers said. "We got the ball up and down the court real well and we set up when we didn't have the good shot — the kids played smart. Defensively we kept them away from the bucket and that's what we've had in mind all along."

But if the coach already harbored thoughts of sweeping the tourney following his squad's easy ride in the opening round, he didn't indicate it through his abundant modesty.

"We don't have this thing locked up by any means. We'll be playing Dunbar in our second game and they're a good team. They don't have the height they had a year ago, but they've got a lot more quickness. The mere fact that they beat Borger is an example of how good a team they are because Borger is nothing to laugh at," he said.

"We're only going into this thing with the thought of improving with each game we play I hope," he said. "If we look ahead we're defeating our whole purpose in playing pre-district ball and it will hurt us eventually. But I think the kids are looking only to the next game, and that's what you've got to do to be successful in the long run. You need all your concentration just to win one game much less several at a time."

The Whitefaces are scheduled to meet the Dunbar Pantherettes at 6 p.m. today following Dunbar's narrow 53-52 victory over Borger in first round competition.

Marie Brooks and Carolyn Mitchell knocked in respective tallies of 26 and 11 to lead all other Borger scorers, but the point spread wasn't enough to push the Borger squad over for the win. Lisa Caviel (5-5 senior) drilled in 16 points to garner high point honors for Dunbar while Brennett Lewis followed with 10 to provide the scoring help needed to retain the victory.

In other first round tournament competition, Stephanie Peoples and Cassandra Mann hit combined tallies of eight points behind teammate Rita Lang's nine point run to surpass the efforts of the Pampa Harvesters 60-40. Jeannette Britt led the Harvesters with 13 points on the night while Sharolyn Salisbury hit the bucket for 10.

The loss sent Pampa heading toward the consolation bracket and is as a result the Harvesters will have played Tascosa Friday morning in consolation bracket play. Tascosa fell to the Dimmitt Bobbies 65-53 after Dimmitt's Becky Andrews hit her mark for an awesome 20 points, Beth Benton netted 16 and Chris Salinas popped in a tally of 14 on the night. Estacado and Dimmitt will have pitted their talents Friday in championship bracket play and the winner of the contest will play the Dunbar vs. Hereford victor for the crown at 6:30 p.m. Saturday.

The winner of the El Paso vs. Borger squad will compete against the winner of Tascosa vs. Pampa for consolation at 12 p.m. Saturday.

The losers of those four contests will meet each other at 3 p.m. and 9 p.m. Saturday.

Blazers Strike in Last Second

By WILLIAM K. BARNARD
AP Sports Writer

It looked like another sad verse of "On the Road Again" for the Portland Trail Blazers until some last-second lightning struck at San Diego.

The Blazers, who had 17 road losses in a row dating back to last March 27, appeared to have lost again as San Diego's Brian Taylor dribbled the ball upcourt with only about 10 seconds remaining and the Clippers ahead 100-98 Thursday night.

Taylor, expecting an intentional foul, was ambushed by Calvin Natt, who tipped the ball away to teammate Kelvin Ramsey, who passed to Jim Paxson for a tying layup with six seconds to go. Taylor compounded his error by fouling Paxson, who sank the free throw to put Portland ahead.

A dunk at the buzzer by Tom Owens sealed the Blazers' 103-100 victory in the National Basketball Association game, breaking a five-game losing streak in addition to the road losing skein.

"You can play good basketball in this league and not win," said Portland Coach Jack Ramsey. "At some point I thought things would turn for us. I'm glad for Jim to get the winning points.

When you're not winning, even one win can be significant."

"It will be tough for me to forget this one," said Taylor. "I was the one who had the ball. I waited in the backcourt for them to make the intentional foul. Natt fouled me. It leads one to question the officiating."

In the only other NBA games, San Antonio blitzed Cleveland 130-100 and Utah edged Denver 122-118.

Paxson, who had 10 points in the final 2½ minutes of the game, joined Mychal Thompson with 21 points to lead the Blazers. Freeman Williams led all scorers with 30.

Rookie Michael Brooks, the Clippers' leading scorer, was held to six points and San Diego had just 12 free throws, making seven.

Spurs 130, Cavaliers 100
George Gervin scored 28 points and rookie Johnny Moore added a career-high 20 as San Antonio rolled over Cleveland.

The Spurs led 62-51 at halftime but outscored the Cavs 35-21 in the third quarter to make the game a romp.

Jazz 122, Nuggets 118
Adrian Dantley scored 40 points, including five in the final 1:30, as Utah won a seesaw battle with Denver.

Waiting And Watching

Hereford's Deborah Rogers comes back down under the defensive efforts of an El Paso Jefferson cager after having just let a shot go toward its target underneath the basket. Rogers, teammate Lori Albracht (40) and the El Paso defenders all watch the ball bounce in its course on the rim of the bucket. The ball eventually dropped through the hoop like it was supposed to. Rogers hit seven points as one of the ten Hereford cagers to hit the scorebooks as the Whitefaces rolled to their fifth straight successful venture on the year with a 78-24 decision over Jefferson in opening play of the Hereford Invitational Cage Tournament Thursday. WBC Rules Violated In Duran-Leonard Bout

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Nobody took urine samples from Roberto Duran or Sugar Ray Leonard after their championship fight here, violating World Boxing Council rules, state boxing officials acknowledge.

"It is a violation of the rules, but not by the fighters," said Jose Sulaiman, WBC president. But he said he did not blame Louisiana State Boxing Commission Chairman Emile Bruneau, who was responsible under WBC rules for making sure the samples were collected. Duran lost the title to Leonard when he quit fighting in the eighth round of the Nov. 25 fight, complaining of stomach cramps.

There was no evidence that either fighter is suspected of using illegal drugs or violating any regulation. WBC rules require antidoping tests on both fighters after a championship bout.

"Duran never had a urinalysis. We couldn't get a sample because it was bedlam in Duran's locker room.

Loss Plummets Whitefaces Even Further Into 1-5 Nosedive

Brownfield Bludgeons Lackluster Herd

By MAURI MONTGOMERY
Brand Sports Editor
No one came right out and said it verbatim, but no one really had to. The Hereford boys' basketball team had probably hit the hallmark of their, as of yet, unwholesome cage season after falling 57-39 to the Brownfield Cubs in the opening round of the Hereford Invitational Basketball Tournament here Thursday. The loss sent the Herd out of competition for one of the helpings of championship bracket play, but perhaps more importantly, dropped the crew to a threadbare 1-5 season ledger. And it was a loss that left head coach Dan Gillison almost speechless. "I don't think we could have made a bucket tonight even if we'd have paid for it," said Gillison following the night's aftermath. "This was undoubtedly the worst game we've had this year and a good reason for that is that we were flatter than a pancake - we were really flat tonight and you can't win ball games when you're not ready to play." Ironically enough, the lackluster Whitefaces didn't fare that badly in the first quarter after they bounced to within a 13-12 deficit of the Cubs at the termination of first quarter play, but the old-hat turnovers and dry shooting spells brought Hereford back into familiar territory - a make-up-ground chase.

Buffered by resounding 30-footers amassed by Gary Parman, (the Herd's leading scorer with a sum of 10 compiled in the affair), Alan Wartes, Norman Hill and a lane splitting free-throw by Wayne High - the Whitefaces held their own (shot-for-shot) under the pressures of Brownfield's leading combination of Dick Bush and Keny Fisher.

Bush, a 6-8 All-District post, commanded everything under the baskets en route to 12 points on the night as the Cubs' most prominent shooter while Fisher ripped the nets for 11 points from his forward position in Brownfield's potentially volatile outside threat.

Those two players in addition to Hereford's own miscues gave Brownfield all the gusto it needed in establishing dominance in the contest. Following Hereford's thriving performance in the opening quarter, Bush dropped a 15 foot shot from his position

Triple Play

Brownfield post Dick Bush vaults for a jump shot beneath the basket as HHS's Don Delozier (40) and Bert Wofford (52) do their best to thwart the play. The Whitefaces weren't successful in stopping Bush in either the offensive and defensive segments of the clash as Bush hit 12 points

Thursday night to lead the Cubs to a 57-39 win over the now, 1-5, Herd in the first round of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce Invitational Basketball Tournament. (Brand photo by Mauri Montgomery) in the key to set a Brownfield pace that would eventually outscore the Whitefaces 15-6. Alan Wartes fed a thrifty pass of HHS post Bert Wofford to bring the score to 18-17 with just 3:45 remaining before intermission, but Brownfield retaliated with five unanswered field goals to push its advantage to 28-19 before halftime.

But things weren't always so easy for the Cubs. With the start of the third period, Hereford managed to pull to within four points of the leaders under well-timed jump shots relinquished by Chris Schumacher (who refurbished the wandering Herd by running up a tally of eight total points - all of them coming in second half play).

The rise of expectancy was short-lived however. The new Herd receded into the old as countless rebounds went awry to the fleet-footed Brownfield squad. Hereford pulled down only eight total bounces off the boards in the offensive category, and managed a mere 16 on defense.

"We just didn't hustle all night long - we got killed on the boards and it wasn't because of a height disadvantage I don't think. We could have taken a lot of those if we would have only been hurrying to get there," Gillison said. Soon after Hereford's brief struggle to gain the lead in the waning minutes of the third quarter, Brownfield iced the clash with unmolessted volleys in the final quarter. The Cub's Bush reeled off consecutive deliveries early to set Brownfield's scoring thrust in motion again. Hereford complemented the BHS scores only with intermittent buckets.

With 4:32 left in the game Cub post Brent Wilkes yanked down an offensive rebound and pumped in a layup while Mike Jones and Robert David added two more to bring Brownfield off front 50-33. And that advantage was only reproached with moderate success by Hereford with the final ticks on the clock. The Whitefaces had just lost their fifth game of the year.

The loss pushed Hereford into a consolation bracket with the Caprock Longhorns after the Amarillo team met a similar fate against Lubbock Dunbar. Panther Turon Patterson sunk a tally of 17 points to lead the Dunbar scoring punch while Roland Camancho and Barry Pillow clipped off respective marks of 15 and eight in that victory. The Panthers are scheduled to play Brownfield at 6 p.m. Friday in that segment of championship bracket play. The Canyon Eagles and Monterey Plainsmen will have played at 3 p.m. Friday in the second-half of the championship playoff. David Harbin hit the buckets for a high tally of 26 points in Canyon's 62-59 victory over the Dimmitt Bobcats. Steve Beck and Butch Bearden followed in that scoring attack with 10 points apiece. The Plainsmen, led by Gary Hodges and Ian Hyslop's 15 point scoring spreads, routed Roswell very handily 63-42. Dimmitt and Roswell will have settled-out Friday in the other consolation bracket playoff.

Texas Christian University coach Jim Killingsworth knew the Horned Frogs had their work cut out for them when they journeyed to South Bend, Ind., to face the fighting Irish of Notre Dame.

Southwest Conference basketball teams won three of five non-conference games Thursday night, highlighted by the Texas victory. Baylor beat Southwestern, 73-66, and Texas Tech downed Western Kentucky, 68-58. On the losing side of the ledger, Notre Dame easily rolled past Texas Christian, 79-63, and Southwest Texas of the Lone Star Conference edged Rice, 68-67.

Texas basketball coach Abe Lemons perhaps understated Montgomery's performance, saying, "Montgomery did have a good night's shooting." When the Aggies attempted to bottle up Montgomery, the Longhorns passed off to

Falcons: This Year's Cinderella Squad

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer
Give the Atlanta Falcons an inch and they'll take a yard - or as many yards as they need to win. The Falcons are this year's Cinderella team with seven straight victories and they are in position to nail down a National Football League playoff berth when they play Philadelphia Sunday. But Atlanta will need more than a glass slipper against the Eagles, who are already in the playoffs. Philadelphia has football's best record and wants to maintain that distinction. The Pro Picker thinks they will, too. Last week's 7-5 straight up (3-9 with those dread points) left the season's record at 107-70-1 with winners and losers and 69-109 against the points. The picks: Eagles 17, Falcons 13 Atlanta just did make it against have-not Washington last week and it will be a lot tougher against the Eagles. Philadelphia favored by 6 points. Colts 27, Bengals 10 The Colts are still in the AFC chase. The Bengals are not. That makes a big difference. Baltimore favored by 2. Rams 27, Bills 14 Los Angeles is simply too deep and too talented for the Bills, who have spent this season on a roller-coaster. Game is listed as even. Cowboys 31, Raiders 17 Dallas will be working with nine days rest and Oakland with just six. That's a big edge. Dallas favored by 2. Chiefs 14, Broncos 10 Improving Kansas City bounces back at home after last week's disappointment against Cincinnati.

"THE ARCH" is the title of this Henry Moore sculpture that was recently unveiled at London's Kensington Gardens. The 50-ton, 19-foot-tall marble work was commissioned two years ago as an 80th-birthday tribute to the British abstract sculptor. Bronze versions of "The Arch" are on display in Oslo, Norway, and Columbus, Ohio.

Families Remain Away from Homes

MONT BELVIEU, Texas
(AP) — One fourth of an area contaminated by hazardous gases has been purged in a cleanup operation, but officials in this small Chambers County town still are uncertain when 80 families may return to their homes.
"We're encouraged by the work so far and we're working as quickly as possible to return the families to their homes," said Keith Owen, spokesman for Warren Petroleum Co. which is funding the operation.
The families were evacuated two months ago
after officials discovered gas fumes seeping from the ground and into the city's sewer line.
Tests revealed the fumes were a mixture of propane and ethane gases.
Mont Belvieu, a city of about 1,700 located 33 miles east of Houston, sits atop a salt dome that has the nation's largest petrochemical storage capacity.
City manager Jay Jordan said the cleanup operation is not "moving as fast as we would like. We are just having to live with this until it is taken care of."
Cleanup crews have drilled

290 test wells and plan to drill
50 additional wells in an effort to pinpoint the exact location of the escaping gas, Owens said.
The purging process injects nitrogen gas into the contaminated areas, displacing and diluting the flammable gases.
The Texas Railroad Commission said the flammable gases were moving underground in the water sands about 200 feet deep and surfacing near porous ground.
Owen said a reservoir where most of the propane and ethane is located has been depleted by drilling of relief wells.
Warren Petroleum has admitted it has a leaky well which may have contributed to the gas leaks. But company officials said other gases, such as propylene and methane, not stored by the Houston-based company
have been found.
Evacuations and cleanup
costs are being paid by Warren Petroleum and by Mutual Aid Mont Belvieu, a group of companies operating on the dome.
Officials are uncertain how much the total cleanup cost will be.

City Wants Revenue Sharing Bill Passed

ATLANTA (AP) — City officials see revenue sharing as lifeline and glue, and they're worried that it might be dripping away in Congress, says the new president of the National League of Cities.
"As I understand it, revenue sharing is being held hostage while the debate is going on in the Senate over fair housing," Mayor William H. Hudnut III of Indianapolis said Wednesday, as he took the helm of the NLC.
Hudnut called revenue sharing "the lifeblood of many municipal budgets," the "glue that holds many budgets together," and the NLC's top priority.
"Everything else is secondary to that," he said.
Mayors attending the league's annual conference flooded congressional offices Wednesday with telephone calls and telegrams calling for an end to the Senate filibuster by conservative opponents of fair housing legislation.
Hudnut said delegates to the conference signed more than 1,400 forms asking senators to close debate on any filibuster that might stand in the way of action on revenue sharing funds. The forms were to be flown to Washington for delivery.

An effort to close debate on the fair housing bill, which would strengthen government enforcement of a 1968
law banning housing discrimination, failed Wednesday in the Senate by nine votes. Senate leaders scheduled new cloture votes.
Hudnut said the Indianapolis budget includes $12 million in general revenue sharing.
Mayor Maynard Jackson of Atlanta, which is host to this year's NLC conference, said his city expects about $7.5 million in revenue sharing funds, all earmarked for firefighters' salaries. Atlanta's budget totals $153
million.
Hudnut was elected president of the National League of Cities during the closing business session Wednesday.
Other officers chosen were Mayor James F. Conway of St. Louis as first vice president and Mayor Ferd Harrison of Scotland Neck, N.C., second vice president.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
Smart mother demands milk

DEAR DR. LAMB — How many glasses of water and milk should a girl of 14 drink a day? My mother says at least three glasses of milk.
Doesn't that seem a bit much?
DEAR READER — No, it doesn't seem like too much to me. That will provide you with about 850 mg of calcium.
The recommended daily allowance for calcium for girls in your age group is about 1200 mg a day which would be closer to four glasses or one quart of milk. I presume your mother is counting on your getting the rest of your calcium from other foods in your balanced diet. You need sufficient calcium for skeletal growth.
You can't always decide how much of one specific food item a person should have. It depends on the contents of the entire diet plan. As a general rule, I would say for a young girl in your age group, three glasses of milk sounds like a minimal requirement. It can be fortified skim milk or fortified low-fat milk if you prefer and wish to avoid calories from the fat in whole milk.
The values for protein and calcium are in The Health Letter number 7-2, Milk Products: Good and Bad, which I am sending you. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.
Isn't it surprising how smart mothers are sometimes?

DEAR DR. LAMB — After being married almost 21 years, my wife is being turned off when I start yawning after sex. She feels that I never did this before and that it shows a lack of interest which upsets her terribly.
Of course, I'm often breathing heavy. If I'm not saying how wonderful it was and thank you and then start yawning, she starts hollering.
I think I've always been this way because I'm tired and sleepy even though I don't always go to sleep right away.
I've always thought that most men tended to want to go to sleep afterward. Is this true? I couldn't find a handy reference to the yawning problem.
Incidentally, my wife is 39
and I'll be 44 soon.
DEAR READER — One of my old professors used to say that it was surprising what a large hole a man could get himself into by opening such a comparatively small aperture as the mouth — I guess that includes yawning. It is normal for a man to feel sleepy after sex. There are an infinite number of variations in human responses to sex but in general it's probably true that women are more inclined to want to have moments of tenderness and communication after sharing sex whereas men are more inclined to want to go to sleep. You won't be the first man who's had trouble because of that basic difference.
It helps, however, if both parties understand the other's normal inclination and makes an effort to make each other happy — in this case meaning being wanted and loved. If you can learn to stop yawning and provide a sufficient amount of tenderness for your wife before or after sex, your problem should solve itself rather easily.
Your wife could probably learn to realize it's a natural inclination for you to want to go to sleep and not expect a long period of lovemaking
after sex is over.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I read your column about heart attacks and jogging. I realize that you can have a heart attack in bed just as well as having a heart attack while jogging. And I understand your point that if you spend a third of your time exercising you have one chance in three of having a heart attack while exercising — if you are going to have one at all. I sleep eight hours a day so I presume that other things being equal I have one chance in three of having a heart attack during sleep, unless I can prevent one from happening at all.
That brings me to my point.
Will exercise help to prevent heart attacks? Is my daily jog really helping? Do you have any guidelines about minimizing any risks from jogging?
DEAR READER — Good
point. We can't get so excited about an occasional heart attack in a person during exercise that we forget that properly done exercise may prevent such events.
Exercise uses calories. That in turn helps to prevent and control obesity. It is often better, if used regularly, than a diet, certainly better than the crash diets many undergo.
As you eliminate fat deposits
you also lower your blood cholesterol and your blood pressure. Even a person with so-called normal blood pressure may have lower levels after elimination of unwanted body fat. So exercise can help you

THE RIGHTS OF FREE PEOPLE INCLUDE THE CHOICE OF FAITH

The citizens of a free country never take their freedoms for granted, but have wisely provided a specific list of them in the set of rules by which they are governed. These freedoms include among other things the right of peaceable assembly, to speak and write whatever they see fit, and one of the most basic rights of all: to worship God in any manner they choose; a privilege consistent with the theory that freedom itself is man's God-given birthright. Be ever prepared to defend your your freedom against anyone who would take it away from you, and avail yourself of one of its principal blessings by attending, the Church of your choice every week on the Sabbath. And thank God for your right to do so, wherever you are.

"Whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein...this man shall be blessed in his deed."

—James 1:25

We owe it to our ancestors to preserve entire those rights, which they have delivered to our care: we owe it to posterity, not to suffer their dearest inheritance to be destroyed.
