

Deaf Smith County Has Bigger Auto Population

NEW YORK (Special to the Brand) July 20 — The average Deaf Smith County resident has become more dependent upon the automobile in his daily life than ever before, according to a new survey.

It shows that a relatively small percentage of local families are now without cars. Many families, on the other hand, have more than one.

The net result is that car registrations are higher in the local area. The rise is attributed to the income gains of the last few years, which have brought bigger and better cars within reach of more people.

The figures on car distributions show an average of 173 cars for every 100 families in Deaf Smith County as of the first of this year, which is more than was reported for many sections of the country.

The data is contained in the current consumer markets study, released by the Standard Rate and Data Service. It covers every county in the United States.

An increase in the auto population has a direct impact on the economy as a whole, it is shown. More money is spent in the purchase and maintenance of the additional cars, more people are needed to service them and more roads and parking areas are needed to contain them.

The amount of business done by Deaf Smith County service stations alone in the past year, for gas, oil, accessories and repairs, came to $3,079,000, as compared with the 1963 total of $2,696,000, according to the report.

A number of factors are listed by the automobile industry to account for the increased number of cars. One is the nation's economic strength, which has produced higher incomes and better living standards.

Another is the expanding networks of roads, which have made suburban living more feasible. Also cited is the car-hungry teen-agers, who have made the second car a necessity in many families.

In Deaf Smith County, the effect has been to raise car re-registrations from the 5,620 reported five years ago to the 7,760 listed now.

It was equivalent to a net increase of 38.1 percent, after allowing for those that were discarded.

In the rest of the United States, the gain in the period was only 23.6 percent and, in the West South Central States, it was 23.7 percent.

Highway Work Set In County

The Texas Highway Commission today announced plans for development of 10 miles of Farm to Market Road in Deaf Smith County as part of the 1968 Texas Farm to Market Road Program.

District Engineer Charles W. Smith of Amarillo said the estimated cost of the work is $203,400.

The Texas Highway Department Engineer in charge of the work will be W. V. York, supervising resident engineer at Canyon.

The project involved is in Deaf Smith County on FM 1057 from intersection of FM 1062 and US 385, W. & S., a distance of 10 miles, for grading, structures and surface.

The work is part of 826 miles of Farm to Market road development included in the program.

The 1968 Farm to Market Road Program includes the addition of 545 new miles, bringing the designated mileage of the Texas FM-RM system to almost 39.5 thousand miles.

The program includes advance stage construction on some roads already begun in addition to new mileage. Total cost of the work is $23.8 million.

AND UP WE GO — The ferris wheel at the Lions Club Carnival is only one of 12 rides which local residents may enjoy during the next three days. See story on this page and pictures inside for more details.

Lions Carnival Excitement Will Last Three More Days

By VICKIE INMAN
Staff Writer

Promising fun for everybody, the annual Hereford Lions Club Carnival is back in town until Saturday, bringing with it the excitement and laughter of previous years.

"We've got something for everybody," Ray Moore, president, promises. "If the little fellows aren't big enough to reach the game booths, we can always pick them up and sit them inside."

For elderly people, none of the games are strenuous and the bingo stand offers a place to sit, relax, play and watch others, he said.

"There are a field of goodies to eat, if the Lions booth doesn't have what you want to eat, the outside booth manned by high school girls is bound to have it."

This year the carnival, which has come to Hereford courtesy of the Lions Club for the past 15 or 20 years, is offering around 12 rides, 12 game booths and two concession stands.

"We hope everybody gets a chance to win something, whether it's a whistle or a radio." There's plenty of opportunity to win with such booths as number darts, coke bottle pitch, key pitch, golf ball roll, bear pitch, bingo and others.

"Everything's fair and square. If you have a little skill, you can win," Moore said.

People interested in rides can choose from the satellite, roller coaster, rocket, tilt-a-whirl, ferris wheel and scrambler. Smaller children have the merry-go-round, boats and little ferris wheel.

"There is always a slight contest in popularity between the bingo stand and bear pitch," Moore said. On rainy days, the bingo stand is more popular because the booth is covered and people can get out of the rain. During good weather, the bear pitch wins.

All rides are popular, but the rocket and scrambler are usually in greater demand. The carnival opens between 7 and 7:30 each night, or whenever one of the Lions members arrives to open a booth. With in the half hour, the rest of the booths are opened and the carnival is in full swing.

Closing time is not set either. "Just when people decide to go home," Moore said. During the week, it's around 11 p. m. and on Friday and Saturday, midnight or 1 a. m.

"We are always looking for ways to expand the carnival and add new games," he said. "If a new booth would interest people and help us, we might add it."

Moore had one idea for a booth that might interest people, provided he could ever work out the details: a dunking booth for public officials.

Rides are provided by S. B. Rhodes who has brought the carnival to Hereford for the past 15 or 20 years. "He's tops in his field. All he does is handle amusement rides."

All ticket sales are handled by the members. The club gets all the money made from the booths and a percentage on the rides. At the end of the carnival, a settlement is made with Rhodes.

Rocky Lee, 304 Centre, is chairman of the carnival this year. He selects a chairman for each booth and divides the club roster according to the needs of the booths. Each individual chairman arranges nights for those on his committee to work.

"A good percentage of the members work every night, especially on Saturday," Moore said. For the past 15 or 20 years, Lions Club has sponsored wrestling matches every Saturday night. During the annual carnival, members double up and work a little harder to keep both projects running.

"With a good chairman like Rocky Lee, everything runs smoothly and takes care of itself," Moore said.

Members enjoy working at the carnival, almost as much as the youngsters who come to play. "We have a lot of fun and kid each other, but there is a lot of hard work involved."

The eight-day carnival takes a good, full two weeks to set up, run and take down, he said. "This is two weeks of their time and they work for nothing except for the satisfaction of raising money for worthwhile projects. All time and labor is absolutely donated."

Money raised from the carnival this year is earmarked for the Campfire Hut. The club has committed $7,500 for the building and will possibly contribute more.

Any remaining amounts will go for other projects, such as Boys Ranch, Girls Town and Hi-Plains Eye Bank. Each year the club allots at least $500 to buy eyeglasses for needy children.

Most of the money from the wrestling matches goes to the United Fund and Heart Crusade. Last year, a month's proceeds from wrestling went to the Migrant Ministry.

In other years the Lions Club has purchased $500 worth of kitchen facilities for the Bull Barn and table and chairs for 800 people.

"As far as spending the money raised during the year, we consider several projects and pick the ones more worthwhile," Moore said.

The biggest money-making enterprise is the carnival. Other annual projects are weekly wrestling matches, pancake supper, fish fry, radio auction and variety show.

"We are always looking for a good man to join our organization, especially just before carnival time."

Postal Service To Change Saturday

Saturday postal service to local residents will be changed beginning this week as the local Post Office Department begins cutting its expense as called for in the new national budget.

Nolan Grady, local postmaster, explained that the service office in the department will be open from 10 a. m. until 12 noon beginning Saturday. He stressed that patrons may pick up parcel post, registered mail or certified mail, so long as there is no financial transaction.

The Saturday collection service will be eliminated except for spots downtown, and Grady urged residents to check closely the time on the service boxes around town.

Grady pointed out that the reduction of Saturday employees will be about 40 per cent and therefore, the mail Saturday will not be in the boxes until about 9:30 or 10 a. m.; instead of 8 a. m. as usual.

At the present time, the department will continue to deliver to the rural routes and the city carriers will be on their beats.

The postmaster stated that local residents could help by mailing earlier in the day. "So many wait until late in the day, that it is difficult to get it up at the usual times."

"We will continue to do the best job we can with the number of people we have," Grady emphasized.

Wagoner Elected To Board For State Association

AUSTIN — A Hereford man, Robert E. Wagoner of Robert E. Wagoner Trucking, 115 Centre Street, has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Texas Motor Transportation Association.

Wagoner will serve a three-year term as a member of the association's Livestock Carriers Division.

Texas Motor Transportation Association is the official organization of bus and truck operators in Texas and is affiliated with the American Trucking Associations, Inc., Washington, D. C.

TMTA is composed of nearly 900 motor transportation companies based in or with authority to operate in Texas.

Employing more than 675,000 and with an annual payroll in excess of $3 billion, the motor transportation industry of Texas is now the state's third largest.

Progressive Folks Recall Old Times

Deaf Smith County had a demonstration Sunday at the Hereford Community Center. But it was quite different from today's usual violent demonstrations, with handshaking, back slapping, hugging and kissing dominating the scene.

The demonstration was the annual Progressive Community reunion, which some 110 persons from Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona and Texas had made a point to attend to see old friends and relatives again.

The old "country folks" began gathering at the Community Center soon after 10 a. m. Sunday and continued to group together until shortly after noon when the lunch baskets were spread out and eating began.

The business meeting began following the meal, with Millard Gregory, president, presiding. Entertainment was provided by individuals and different groups, with a special selection being a memorial reading for those who had died since the last reunion.

Will Harris, the "Mayor of Goathhead Prairie," was presented an all-day sucker as his award for being the oldest person present. Harris is 85. April Melugin, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Melugin, was the youngest present. D. Y. Edwards received an award for having the largest number of relatives present — 14 — and

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ricketts were second in the "voting" with 12 relatives present.

In the business session, those present voted to meet again next year, and then elected officers. Clyde Russell was chosen to replace Gregory, and Mrs. Claude Melugin was elected to replace Mrs. H. L. Hershey as secretary-treasurer.

To close the meeting, the entire group sang several of their favorite religious selections.

Sidewalk Sale Begins Today In Sugarland Mall

Sugarland Mall's annual July "Sidewalk Sale" starts today at 9:30 a. m., and will continue for three big days.

Some stores will remain open until 7 p. m., while others will close at 6:30 p. m.

The inside of the mall will take on a light-hearted carnival atmosphere, as the merchants are planning to decorate with bright colored streamers and balloons.

The Mall merchants will be selling fast and furious, to make way for new fall merchandise now arriving daily. Some 21 merchants will be taking part in the annual event.

Westway Will Have Reunion

Westway Community will have a Tri-Year reunion Sunday at the Westway Community House. A singsong will start the day's activities at 11 a. m., followed by dinner at 12:30.

All present and former residents of the community are invited to attend and bring a basket lunch to the reunion. Paper plates and ice will be furnished.

Campfire Girls Set Project, Trip

Campfire girls are collecting clear aspirin and Alka-Seltzer bottles. They are being sought to make hummingbird feeders.

The bottles will be taken to Campfire Camp at Tres Ritos, New Mexico, on July 28-Aug. 3. Anyone with such empty bottles are asked to bring them to either the Hereford Brand or Radio Station KPAN between now and Saturday morning.

A box will be set up inside each office for the bottle collection.

Campfire Camp will be attended by approximately 186 girls from Hereford and Dimmitt. As their project, the Hereford girls will be making hummingbird feeders.

Around 200 area Campfire girls will leave 12:30 Sunday afternoon from the Hereford Campfire Hut for a week's stay at the Campfire Camp in Tres Ritos, N.M., from July 28 to Aug. 3.

"If farmers or anyone in the area with fresh produce, such as tomatoes, cucumbers, cabbage or lettuce, would like to donate it to the girls for their trip, we would certainly appreciate it," Mrs. Bill Seyfert, 113 Aspen, said.

"It is very important for the girls to have their luggage loaded Saturday before noon on the truck at the Campfire Hut," she said. Mrs. Seyfert stressed that all luggage and bedrolls be labeled to avoid anything being lost.

A letter sent to the girls giving the required list of clothes failed to include long pants.

The girls must have three of four pair of long pants and one pair of navy blue pants of the required," Mrs. Seyfert said.

Anyone who wants to donate fresh produce can either bring it by the Campfire Hut about 10 a. m. on Saturday or call Mrs. Lewis Lea, 405 Ave. I, at 364-1624 and somebody will pick up the produce.

NFO Meeting Is Planned Friday

In an effort to improve the prices of farm products, farmers, ranchers, and feeders will hold a meeting Friday night at the Community Center beginning at 9.

The newly organized Deaf Smith County Chapter of the National Farmers Organization will discuss the low prices they have been getting for their products and will then elect permanent officers for the organization. In a meeting held two weeks ago, temporary officers were elected to serve until the chapter was organized and these included Gerald McCathern, as temporary chairman, Frank Zinser, vice chairman, and Ron Crist, secretary.

In the chapter meeting, only 12 of the approximately members were present and the delaying of the electing of the permanent officers was due to this. It is hoped that enough will be present at the meeting Friday night to elect officers in the right manner.

John Oster of Ethan, S. D., charter member of the original NFO, who spoke at the first meeting of the local chapter is expected to be present at the next meeting. Ladies are invited to attend the meeting and donuts and coffee will be served.

Scoter Driver Needs License

Officials of the Hereford Police Department have reminded local residents of violations concerning small scooters.

According to police, "the driver of anything with a motor must have a driver's license, regardless of the size of the vehicle."

Drivers of the scooters need not only the license, but a helmet. Parents may be fined for allowing the drivers to operate without a license.

NEW OFFICERS — Clyde Russell and Mrs. Claude Melugin, at right, were elected new president and secretary-treasurer during the Progressive Community Reunion Sunday and will serve during the coming year. They replace Millard Gregory and Mrs. H. L. Hershey at left. See other picture on the reunion inside.

Winners Are Announced In Annual Bridge Tournament

First winner of a traveling trophy for the most master points was Steve Lawrence of El Paso, as awards were made at the close of the annual Harvest Festival Tournament sponsored by Hereford Duplicate Bridge League's schedule for sectional tournaments. Mrs. Pat Robbins was tournament chairman.

The traveling trophy, named for Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hill who were leaders in starting the yearly Harvest Festival competition, was given for the first time this year and will go to leading master point winners in succeeding tournaments.

Lawrence and Mrs. Greely Warner of Pampa were winners of the two-session Masters event Friday. He also earned points by placing in several other events. Mrs. Bill Dye and John Wallace of Hereford were among those placing in the Masters, as winners in the second session.

In open play Saturday, top honors went to two Amarillo entrants, Lester Dewey and Mrs. Pat Norris. The tourney closed Sunday afternoon with the Team of Four event, in which Mrs. H. S. Stromberg, G. W. Roberts, L. O. Roberts and Dan Treadwell of Hobbs, N.M. placed first.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schroeder of Hereford were on the second-place team, while Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Robbins played on another of the teams which placed. Mrs. Russell Carver, until recently of Hereford, and Mrs. John Wallace formed a Fort Worth team which captured Women's Pairs Thursday night as the tourney opened. Amarilloans Paul Kelly and Curtis Bell led in Men's Pairs.

Mrs. Ansel McDowell and Mrs. J. D. Neill were teamed to take first place in Sugar Beet Pairs Friday morning, with Mrs. Dick Gholson and Mrs. W. B.

Finley as runner-up team to make a clean sweep of the event for Hereford players.

In Grain Sorghum Pairs Friday evening, Mrs. Bill Kendall and Mrs. Ann Woodward of Hereford were second to a Lubbock team, Mrs. T. L. Leach and Don Bagwell. Mrs. Roy Northrup and Martha L. Allen of Amarillo placed first, Mrs. Wheeler Sears and Mrs. Noble Ballard of Hereford second in Mainnutrition pairs.

Commission Acts On Varied Agenda

Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court heard the first reading of the budget by Tax Consultant Homer Henslee during the morning session Monday, and during the afternoon agreed to pay $290 for the adjustment of poles for the Santa Fe Railroad communications and signal controls for its traffic system.

Easement had been granted at this point on June 24 pertaining to a crossing in Precinct 2 to the Wilson & Co. plant.

Following Henslee's first reading of the budget, the commissioners stipulated that its second reading would be on August 19.

Tax Assessor-Collector Nell Miller reported to the court that Mrs. Joyce Gouley will be leaving the tax office by November 1, but "would be available for future help." She gained permission to train another person as her replacement on a part-time basis, in lieu of fulltime employment at the first of the year.

Mrs. Miller also offered a good recommendation for Vance Crume, the county's newly-appointed tax consultant. Crume discussed various tax matters with the commissioners later.

Charles Stone was officially named public weigher for Precinct 2, following his appointment at the last meeting.

The Deaf Smith County Hospital report showed a profit of $8,292.04 for the first six months of 1968. Administrator T. E.

Elson Rose Is Winner At Tulia

Elson Rose of Hereford, captured a second place finish in saddle bronc riding at the 78th anniversary celebration at Tulia over the past weekend.

Rose scored in the final performance of the rodeo which climaxed the two-day celebration. The two day's activities included a parade, barbecue and the rodeo. Also along with the other activities, a float contest and riding contest were held.

Dendrocygna Bicolor Helva Is An Independent Duck

VICTORIA, Tex. — It is easy to tell that dendrocygna bicolor helva is a smart bird. He gets out of Texas before the hunting season.

On the other hand, he hasn't learned much chemistry in all the million — or whatever — years he has been around. So maybe he isn't so smart after all. He or she. You can't tell the difference. But they know.

The sometimes smart-sometimes ignorant bird brought two biologists to this area a few months ago and they may remain some time. They are Edward L. Flickinger and Kirke A. King of the Interior Department.

The bird is generally known as the fulvous tree duck. It looks like a cross between a duck and a swan and is just slightly smaller than a mallard.

He and she have a black bill and legs. The tail band is white and they have a slightly white ring on their neck. They have a honey colored breast.

The tree duck flies like a goose with its legs extended. Other ducks retract their legs under their body.

Don't oil up the shotgun looking for some tree ducks. They will be long-gone into Mexico before the duck season begins. And they are a protected bird by Texas law but not by federal regulations.

Until about 1800, the tree duck was an inhabitant of the marshes. Then people began raising rice and he left the marshes in the United States and began living in the rice paddies along the Louisiana and Texas coasts. When he heads south for the winter, however, he lives in the marshes again.

He might be expected to be

On behalf of the group from Crane, Texas, Caravan of Highway 385 we would like to thank your group for the many courtesies shown us during our stay in your city.

The lovely meal served us and the manner in which it was served was a delight.

You all come to see us when in Crane. Sincerely yours, (12 signatures.)

The joint boards of tax equalization will meet Monday at 10 a. m. in the County Commissioners Courtroom.

the target of the rice planters except for two reasons. He doesn't eat rice but eats the seeds of weeds along the rows of rice shoots and gobbles organisms living in the water. The second reason is that he is not very numerous.

But he hasn't learned his chemistry lessons and his number is growing smaller, which is one reason Flickinger and King have a station here to do some research.

The waters of the rice fields are filled with pesticides and other chemicals such as fertilizers and weed killers. There is a possibility these are contributing to the signs of extinction.

That point about chemicals is one the biologists are seeking to determine. Another is why the birds left the marshes, which must have as much food they like as do the rice fields.

The tree duck apparently numbers in the hundreds, while the hunter's favorite, the mallard, numbers in the millions.

Largest concentration of the tree duck in Texas is in the El Campo area of Texas. A few have been found south of this area and in the Rio Grande Delta section. Other settlements are in Louisiana mainly around Lafayette and Maxie, both rice areas.

Flickinger said there is a widespread belief that chemicals of one sort or another are affecting the population but there is very little concrete evidence at this point and the biologists hope to settle that question.

The solution would be, under any outcome of the study, to lure the ducks into homing on a refuge.

Efforts in that direction have been fruitless.

Luncheon Held For 2 Ladies

A luncheon was held Thursday, July 18, in the home of Mrs. Robert Hickman, of 814 Star St., honoring Mrs. L. E. Ruffe, of Sun City, Ariz., and Mrs. Willa Williamson.

The party was in honor of Mrs. Willa Williamson whose birthday was on July 17. She is the mother-in-law of Mrs. LeRoy Williamson, of Route 4, Hereford.

Another honoree, Mrs. Ruffe, is in Hereford visiting her daughter, Mrs. Williamson for two weeks.

Mrs. Pic Thompson was also a guest at the luncheon.

A centerpiece, made of pink roses and satin ribbons, was centered by a candle stick weather vane made of iron representing the four corners of the world.

Siegler added to the report by saying that the hospital "is in better shape than it has been for the past 18 years." He said that the hospital staff is cooperating better than they have in years, and that he had made the discovery recently that "Deaf Smith County Hospital has become known throughout the state" for its additions for modern improvements.

Sheriff Ed Roberson was given permission "to shop" for a new car, as a replacement for a department car which has been quite expensive for repairs. Approval for one year was also gained for an insurance policy covering law suits against public servants, at $20 per year for the sheriff and four of his deputies. Roberson said that this policy is underwritten by Lloyds of London.

The court received two letters: "Thank you for sponsoring our 4-H trip. I was on the Entomology team with three others. But we only got tenth place in the Entomology contest. I feel very lucky in getting to go, as this was my first year in Entomology, as well as in Texas. I hope to get to go to College Station next year and I hope to do better. I had a lot of fun and the trip also helped me to be a little more careful with money and to keep track of where it is going to. Sincerely yours, Mickey Glinn. The second letter read:

GOING UP FAST — The Campfire Girls new building is rapidly progressing, as evidenced by this photo. The building, on Fourteenth Street, is being built through contributions from the Jim Hill Estate, Hereford Lions Club, Hereford Rotary Club, and other local organizations.

More Work Orders Needed For County YES Program

Lester Rape, manager of the Texas Employment Commission in Hereford reported that they still need more work orders for young people here — and more applicants.

Rape said that they especially needed boys at this time, but that they would also take applications from girls.

Youth Employment Service (YES) has released some graphic facts concerning the employment of young people nationally.

There were 12.4 million 16-to-21 year olds in the labor force last year. Nearly 11-million youngsters went to work last summer.

But nearly 1.5 million did not — though they wanted to.

These figures show that though the great majority of young Americans who seek work in the summertime find jobs, it is also found that the job is not automatic.

The "Summer Jobs for Youth" campaign focuses on the problems of finding a summer job that will help a youngster continue in school or help him gain the experience or training that will lead to a meaningful career job.

It is estimated that since the first "Summer Jobs" campaign in 1965 more than 3 million extra jobs have been developed through the cooperation, largely, of the American businessman.

Unfortunately job finding is most difficult for those young people who most need the help a summer job can be.

For example, the summer of 1967:

The unemployment rate for nonwhite girls was two-and-a-half times that of white girls.

The unemployment rate for all young people was 12.1 per cent — the highest in the world for an industrialized nation.

The unemployment rate for white youngsters was 10.5 per cent compared to less than four per cent for the country as a whole.

The unemployment rate for nonwhite teenagers was 23.5 per cent.

The estimated number of 16-to-21 year olds in the labor force in the summer of 1968 is 13.5 million.

If we do everything we did last year, it is estimated that youth unemployment will still rise by 8 per cent.

But everyone can help. Businessmen can make a place for a youngster.

We can all think summer jobs.

Is there a better way to do things this year? You bet there is! Hire young workers for summer jobs. They can do a lot for you and your community.

When you plan your summer vacation, make a few plans to hire young workers to help keep the job rolling this summer while you are away.

Everybody talks about what is wrong with our young people but what are you doing about it? Here's your chance. Put them to work this summer.

If a youngster cares enough to look for a summer job, he's interested in his future. It's your future as well.

Did you work your way through school? Millions of youngsters are trying the same thing today. Help them help themselves.

If business deserves consumer confidence, youth deserves business confidence.

Build buying power. If you have an opening for a summer job, there will be over 13 million youngsters looking for it this summer.

There are over 5 million private businesses operating in the United States today. There will be over 2 million youngsters whose chances of finding jobs this summer are very slim. If each business cooperates, it would mean hiring 2-5ths of a youngster this summer. But you can do better than that.

Work provides more than a livelihood. It means dignity in the community. The promise of a job can keep a youngster in school. It can give him a purpose — the chance to "make something" of his life. Help him reach out. Give him a job this summer.

Driver Hurls 1-Hitter; All-Stars Slap Anton

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

After taking a couple of staggering steps in the first frame of the game against Anton, the Hereford Pony League All-Stars jumped back to take the contest by a whopping score of 12-2.

Allowing the Anton Bulldogs an unearned run in the top of the first inning on a couple of errors, the Hereford team exploded in the bottom of the second for six runs. The inning was highlighted by a two-run homer by David Spain. Following Spain's homer, a base-on-balls, a single and a double added the finishing touches to the game as the locals never gave up their lead after that inning.

The Anton team tallied a final run in the third inning on a fielders choice which was followed by a double by the Bulldog pitcher.

Not letting up, after all but humiliating the Anton team, the locals proceeded to add two more runs to their score in the bottom of the fourth when Keith Kitchens led off with a single with Eugene Suttle following with a base-on-balls. They were both brought home on a single by John McNey which gave the Hereford All-Stars an 8-2 lead.

They again scored in their final at-bat in the sixth when Rudy Gonzales led off with a triple and Suttle then came to bat and sent one sailing over the fence for another two-run homer. Three errors by the Bulldogs then sent two additional Hereford players tearing around the circuit before the side was retired and the game ended with the Hereford team taking a 12-2 victory and a place in the winners bracket of the five-day District 1 Pony League Baseball Tournament.

Larry Driver was the winning pitcher for the Hereford team as he sent seven Anton players down swinging while allowing only one hit which was a double in the third frame.

Kitchens and Gonzales led the hitting attack for the Hereford All-Stars as they both went two-for-four at the plate with Kitchens getting a double and a single and Gonzales collecting a triple and a single. Others collecting hits for the win were Walter Olson, with a single; Suttle, with his homer; McNey, with a single; Bezner, with a double; Gage, with a single and Spain with his circuit smash.

The local team will now meet the winner of the Borger-Littlefield game which was played Tuesday night with Borger coming out the victor. Hereford and Borger will play tonight at 8:30 and the winner of that game will go into the winners bracket for a game which will be played Saturday, July 27, at 8:30.

Coach for the Hereford All-Stars this year is Cuby Kitchens and Denzil Vaughn is acting as manager. The winner of the tournament will journey to Tulsa, Oklahoma for the regional tournament which begins July 30.

PONY LEAGUE TOURNAMENT — Action was fast and furious on opening night of the District 1 Pony League Tournament where fans saw Littlefield slap Castro County and the local All-Stars slaughter the Anton Bulldogs 12-2. Hereford will play Borger tonight at 8:30 in the winners bracket to see who will go into the finals.

Amarillo Man Wins Raceway Title Here

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

Ken Sandridge and Red Easton tied for high point honors in the "A" modified class Sunday in the mid-season championship races, but Sandridge, from Amarillo, won the trophy on a flip on the coin and took the spotlight.

Both drivers had ended the day's activities with a total of five points for the tie but Sandridge edged out the local racer via the flip.

L. V. Watts captured the class "B" championship with a total of six points in his car powered by a 327 cubic inch Chevviolet engine. The car is owned and was built by Ray Bain of Hereford.

Trophies were awarded to Bill Byers and James Davis prior to the days' racing opener for capturing top spots in their respective racing categories. In the mid-season championship, Davis' car is owned by Vernon Lewis of Lewis Enco Service Center while Byers owns his car. Other trophies were handed out at the racing afternoon as Henry Elizondo, Chuck Scott, Robert Kubaick, and James Bradley became members of the "Roll-Over" Club.

A total of 24 cars gathered at the Hereford Speedway for the championship races with home-lands for some racers being as far away as Borger. P. J. Becker from Clovis; E. J. Webb from Claude; Jerry Elrod and Eddie Derr from Borger; Sandridge, Gary Taylor and Jim Helms all from Amarillo with the remainder of the entrants from Hereford. The majority of these drivers stated that they would be back and make every week a championship week at the local speedway.

Results for Sunday's races disclosed that in the Trophy Dash, Bill Byers nipped Coy House and Red Easton for the win, with House and Easton coming in second and third, respectively.

In the first heat, L. V. Watts won that event with H. W. Johnson ending up second. Max Bridges took third and James Bradley wound up in fourth.

Ken Sandridge won the second heat with Easton, second, Jim Culpepper third and Jim Helms fourth. In the first semi-main event, Watts won the first place spot with Travis West nabbing second, Davis, third, Bradley, fourth and Eddie Derr, fifth.

Bill Paetzold took the first place position in the second semi-main event as he clipped E. J. Webb who got second and Jim Helms collected third. Jerry Elrod ended up fourth and Gary Taylor fifth in that event.

Nearing the final event, Coy House won the first main event with Max Bridges taking second. Eddie Derr won third, Henry Elizondo, fourth and Travis West, fifth.

Edning the days' events was the second main event in which Byers won with Easton finishing second. Sandridge was third Jim Culpepper, fourth and Jerry Elrod, fifth.

Owen Moore and Bary Glover won free passes to next weeks races and Gary Starrett won three free lines of bowling, compliments of Sunset Lanes.

Races will begin this Sunday, at 2 p. m. at the Hereford Speedway just east of town as the second half of the season gets underway with numerous cars from other places expected.

Seasons, Bag Limits Adopted By Texas Wildlife Department

AUSTIN — The interest in hunting in Texas took a big step forward last week as the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission adopted seasons and bag limits for the 1968 hunting seasons in those counties under the regulatory responsibility of the Commission. As discussed in public hearings, the Commission closed the alligator season in all counties where they had authority to do so.

The mourning dove season in the north zone will be held for 60 consecutive half-days beginning on Sept. 1 through Oct. 30 in the north zone. South zone hunting will begin Sept. 21 and continue through Nov. 19 except in those counties having a white winged dove season where it will be Sept. 1 and 2, and Sept. 7 and 8 from Sept. 21 and Nov. 15.

Bag limits for mourning doves will be 12 per day and 24 in possession. Bag limits for white-winged doves is 10 per day and 20 in possession. However, a bag limit of mourning and white-winged doves may be taken during the concurrent season in those counties having a white-winged season.

Shooting hours for both species will be 12 Noon, Central Standard Time or 1 p. m. Central Daylight Saving Time, to sunset each day.

In the Panhandle Regulatory District, the pheasant season will open Dec. 14 and extend through Dec. 22 with a bag limit of two per day and possession limit of four.

Season days, limits and other specifications for seasons will be upheld in the Panhandle counties of Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Childress, Collingsworth, Cottle, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Floyd, Foard, Gray, Hale, Hall, Hansford, Hardeman, Hartley, Hemphill, Hutchinson, Lamb, Lipscomb, Moore, Motley, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher, and Wheeler.

Deer season will be Nov. 30 through Dec. 15 with a bag limit of 1 deer-either buck or antlerless. However, antlerless deer may be taken by permit only. Antelope season will begin Sept. 28 and run through Oct. 1 with a bag limit of 1 per season and may be taken by permit only.

There is no open season on javelina. Squirrels may be taken between May 1 and July 1 and Oct. 1 through Dec. 1 with a bag limit of 5 per day and 5 in possession.

Turkey may be taken between Nov. 30 and Dec. 15 with a bag limit of 1 turkey per season, either sex.

Quail season will be between Nov. 9 and Jan. 31 except in Briscoe, Childress, Cottle, Hall and Motley Counties where the season will be Dec. 1 through Jan. 31. Bag limit of quail is 12 per day and 36 in possession. Quail seasons and bag limits for Hardeman, Hemphill and Lamb Counties are determined by statute.

Boxing Program Is Being Viewed

Barney Wegant of the Amarillo Lions Club, explained in a recent meeting of the local club that plans have gotten underway at Amarillo to form a boxing program and that if at all possible to also form one of the same type here in Hereford.

Wegant told local Lions that if Hereford could establish such a program, then the Amarillo team would hold a one-night tournament in preparation for the Golden Gloves tournament which will be held in Amarillo during the last week in January of 1969.

Anyone interested in the organizing of the program are urged to contact Glen Nelson of Hereford.

Whopping Scores Talled By Fems

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

On Tuesday night, the Kitty Stompers raced past the Sunshine Girls 33-12 in chalking up another victory for the surging team.

At the end of the first inning, the Stompers led 3-2 and it seemed that the contest would turn out to be a close one all the way. Then an explosion occurred as the Kitty Stompers banged out 12 runs in the next two frames while holding the Sunshine Girls to one tally. Kathy Eller hit a homerun in the second while others contributing homers to the cause were Shelley Rush and Loretta Eller.

Brenda Short, Iretta Greenway, and Margie Tiner hit homers for the Sunshine Girls' losing effort.

The bottom fell out from under the Sunshine Girls in the top of the fifth when the Stompers cut loose for 15 additional runs for their final total of 33.

Loretta Eller took on hurling duties for the Kitty Stompers while on the mound for the Sunshine Girls were Brenda Short and Doris Perry.

In Monday night's action in the Women's Softball League, the Jolly Green Giants won a 20-10 decision over the Blue-Belles to remain undefeated for the season. Zula Arney was the winning pitcher for the Giants while Ruth Dobbs and Nancy Morgan collected the loss for the Blue-Belles.

Tallying three runs in the first two innings and then allowing the opposition ten, the Belles found the going a little rough for them as they fell behind quickly and remained there for the rest of the night. During the next inning the Belles managed to tally five while allowing the Giants only one, but this was not enough to take the lead as they trailed 11-7 after three innings of play.

In the fourth inning, the big bats of the Giants exploded for six runs as the entire line-up batted around. The big gun for the inning was Joy Morton who drove in three runs with her triple.

The Blue-Belles scored five runs in the next two innings with Ruth Dobbs slapping a homerun, but to no avail as the Giants took the game by a 20-10 score.

The next two games this week pit the Sunshine Girls against the Jolly Green Giants tonight and then against the Blue-Belles Friday night.

Rebels To Play Sunday In Texas NBC State Tourney

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

From all of the semi-pro teams that exist in Texas, Hereford's was one of 16 which were chosen to participate in the State Semi-Pro Tournament which begins this Sunday, July 28 in Lubbock for the local team.

Winner of the State Tournament will receive $2,000 in prize money plus the honor of going on to Wichita, Kansas for the National tournament. Second place finisher will receive $200 in prize money.

Representing the Rebels at the tournament will be Robby Lemons, Ray Martinez, Gary Tucker, Alex Diaz, Robert Wagner, Nacho Gonzales, Ed Mims, Max Goforth, S. D. Baize, Charlie Moreno, Terry Hill, Mike Ranspot, Danny Loerwald, Jim Wynn, Berry Johnson and Sid Shaw. Lupe Ramirez was chosen as alternate for the team.

The tournament, which is to run through Sunday, August 4, will feature teams such as the Bonham Rams, Ft. Worth Rams, Lubbock Hubbers, Clyde Raiders, San Angelo Vikings, Plainview Colts, Lubbock Electric, Arlington Cards, Abilene "Sports", Amarillo Graham Plows, Longview Bulls, Merced Lions, Lubbock Raiders, San Antonio and the Marshall Skippers. The Lubbock Hubbers, who won the Texas National Baseball Congress State Tournament a few years back and garnered a fourth place finish in last year's competition, are picked as the favorites in the tournament this year in the

Name Is Sought By Hockey Club

AMARILLO — Franklin Jeffers, chairman of the Sports Committee of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, and Jack Button, general manager of the Amarillo Hockey Club, have announced the start of a contest to name the new hockey team.

Rules for the contest state that a person may enter as many names as they wish, but each entry must be a separate ballot. Other rules include: any type of name is acceptable except the names already used by other Central Hockey League teams which are: Dallas Black Hawks, Ft. Worth Wings, Houston Apolles, Kansas City Blues, Memphis South Stars, Oklahoma City Blazers, Omaha Knights, and Tulsa Oilers; the Judging Committee will be the sole judge and if the winning name is submitted by more than one contestant the winner of two season tickets will be selected by drawing from all contestants submitting the winning name.

The drawing, if necessary, will be held publicly; entries must be mailed no later than Tuesday, July 31; the Amarillo Hockey Club will not enter into any correspondence regarding the contest. No entries will be returned and the decision of the Judging Committee will be final on the selection of the winning name. The club does not agree necessarily to continue to use the chosen name indefinitely and the name shall become the property of the Amarillo Hockey Club; and all entries must be sent to the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, Amarillo Building, Amarillo, Texas 79101.

33rd annual state tournament.

Two of the 16 teams entered in the tournament start out with 20 or more wins and these are the Hubbers who stand 33-5-1 and the Amarillo Graham Plows who are 20-4-1. One of the Amarillo losses has been to the local team and that came in the last meeting of the two teams this season. Plainview takes the most impressive won-lost record into the tournament as they stand at 13-1. Abilene has a 14-2, Clyde is 13-2, Longview and Marshall at 16-3, and then the local Rebels at 15-4.

Prior to the State Tournament the Hereford Rebels will be one of the four teams to compete in the Irrigation League play-offs which will be held on two different days. The first round of the play-offs began last night (Wednesday) but results were not available at press time. The next round will be held Wednesday, July 31 at Nazareth.

In an effort to raise money for the trip to Lubbock, Charlie Moreno, player-coach for the team, has been getting donations from various persons around town. Persons who have donated thus far include the First National Bank; Ray Cowser; May Varsity; Javel Martinez; Poarch Brothers; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Casarez, Taylor Evans; Sportsman Club and Felix Albiar. Anyone who wishes to contribute to the expenses for the team are urged to contact Moreno at 414-A at Sugarland Mall.

The Rebels ended the season Sunday, when they downed the Umlinger team to the tune of 8-3 in pushing their record to the present 15-4. Gametime for their opening play in the State Tournament will be 7 p. m. and if they win they will play again Tuesday, July 30. If they fail to win, they will play Monday, July 29.

Grid Tickets Set For Sale

Football fans are reminded that tickets for the 1968 season will go on sale at the administration office August 1 for persons wishing reserved seats.

The cost of the tickets for the five home games this year is set at $7.50 and the administration office is the only place where they can be purchased. For persons who had reserve seats last season, they have been mailed letters informing them that they have until September 6 to get their tickets.

"The Green Berets" Paints Vivid Picture Of Vietnam

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

The motion picture version of "The Green Berets," now showing at the Star Theatre in Hereford through Monday night, shows the current war in Vietnam in its own kind of depth, which may not be too far removed from its actual being at this point.

Offered to parents and wives of Deaf Smith County Vietnam veterans for a free showing as guests of the Hereford Brand, Star manager Francis Hardwick also arranged a special preview screening for the press on opening day here, so that an accurate review could be published for all viewers of the first large-scale motion picture with a Vietnam war background.

"The Green Berets" is highly reminiscent of the 1944 Errol Flynn movie, "Operation Burma." Twenty-four years apart, both had similar characterizations — even to that of including a newspaperman. Their locales were not too far removed — except the first one had the Japanese as the enemy in World War II and the new one has the Viet Cong. And the two pictures depicted the shocking atrocities of death in battle in Far East campaigns.

The current picture will be shocking, without a doubt, while "Operation Burma" of a quarter-century ago was not. This could be explained through the differences in circumstances. When the first one was released the movie-going public had seen countless war pictures for three years. They had become accustomed to seeing American G. I.'s fight and die in battle. That is not true of the present generation. After six years of war in Vietnam, "The Green Berets" is the first such movie that the public has paid any attention thus far.

No, "The Green Berets" is not a pretty picture — but it must be remembered, what war picture has been?

This does not mean that the Technicolor and Panavision photography of Winton C. Hoch is not up to standard. On the contrary, his lensing of the story borders on the superior as far as capturing the action is concerned. It may also be noted that the photographic special effects created by Sass Bedig for the story also ranks with the best on the screen to date — although most of them are steeped in gore. They, along with co-director Ray Kellogg, have actually filmed a "horror" movie in several scenes — but it is highly possible that "such is the way of the war in Vietnam."

WAR TALK — John Wayne, as a Special Forces colonel in Vietnam, has a serious discussion with David Janssen, as a U.S. war correspondent, in "The Green Berets," now showing at the Star Theatre in Hereford.

No filming was actually done in Vietnam. Instead, the cast and crew went on location at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, for the opening sequences, and recreated the battle zones in Georgia and Alabama. But according to "real" reports to the Brand from local Vietnam vets, such a substitution couldn't be far wrong. Furthermore, this reporter's viewing of Army battle maneuvers at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, recently can vouch for the movie battle scenes as depicted as being correct.

The scenes of sniper fighting have also been verified by local interviews.

Star John Wayne was also co-director, and it is obvious that he had a strong hand in handling the cast in delivering their lines. They each sounded as they have in many previous Wayne pictures — which really isn't bad. A few "cuss words" were used by the predominantly male cast, but the only sexy scene in the film was not really "dirty." Wayne has often bragged that he "has stayed on top" simply by appearing in pictures the entire family could see without becoming embarrassed.

David Janssen appeared in the film as a cynical newspaperman. But he had to learn about the men by being with them — and about the Vietnamese.

Jim Hutton as Sgt. Peterson and child actor Craig Jue had perhaps the most sympathetic roles in "The Green Berets" — which ranged from comedy to deep tragedy for the two of them. Little Craig, as a young Vietnamese boy, did much to give the plot its true meaning and Hutton seen in several past comedy roles, portrayed a better-than-typical Army man.

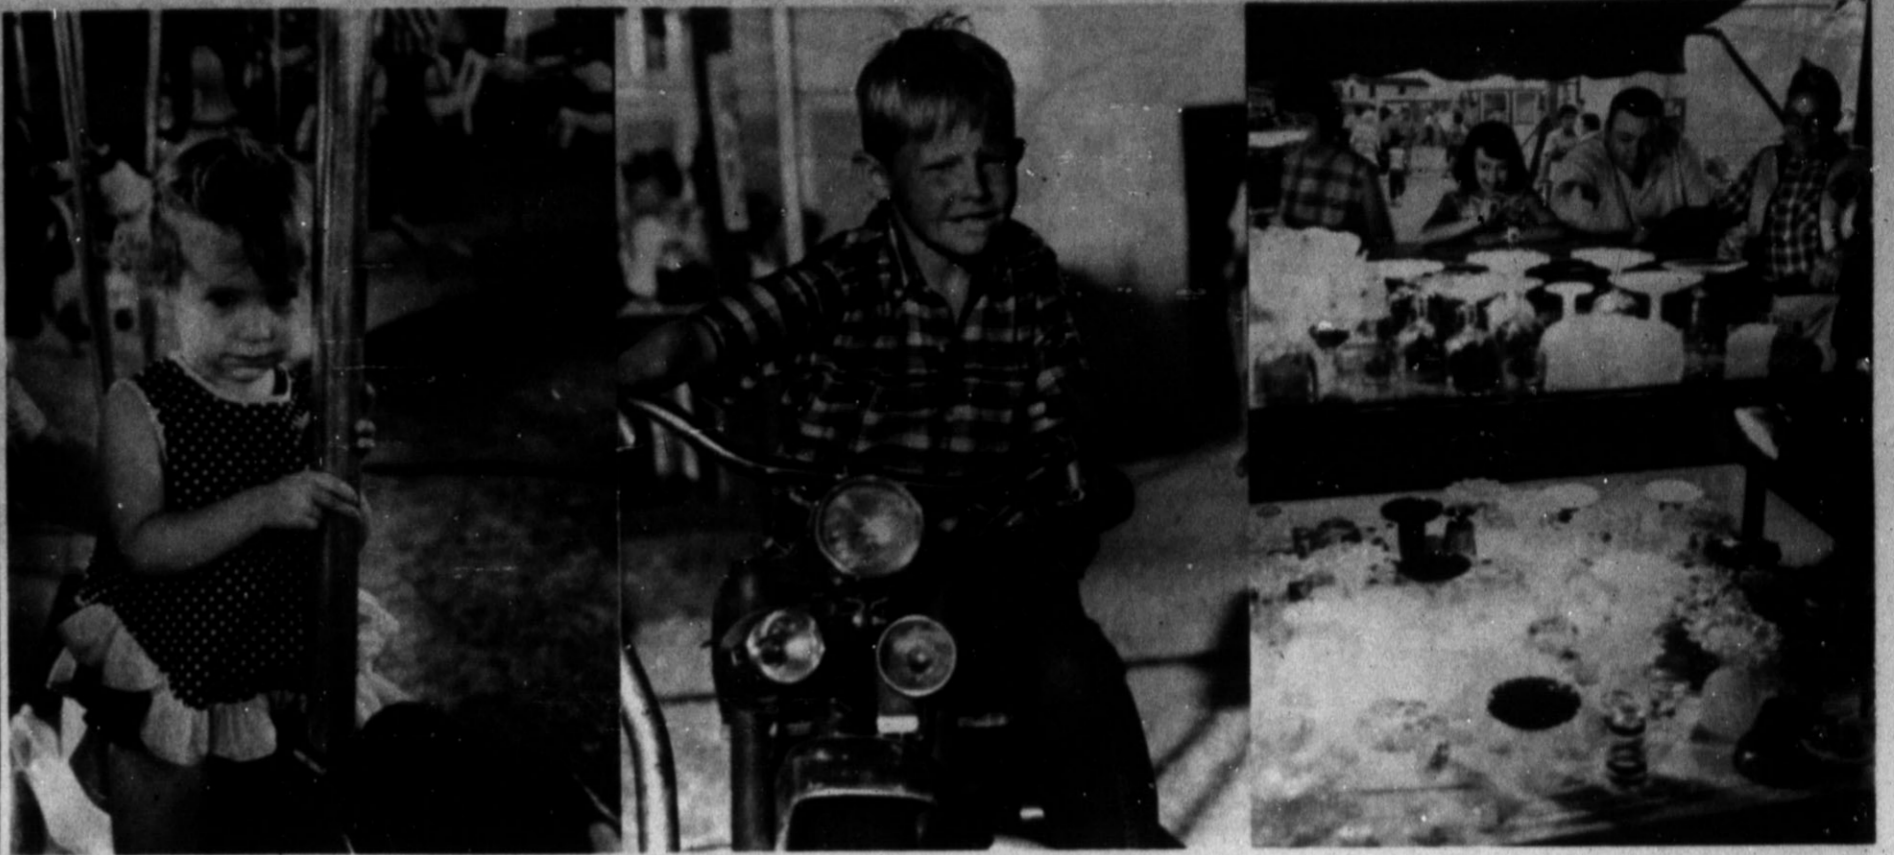

James Lee Barrett retained a bit of politics in the screenplay during the first 15 minutes of the 2-hour and 21-minute adaptation of the novel by Robin Moore (leaving in virtually the same words as spoken to this reporter during several interviews at the Brand) with Aldo Ray and Raymond St. Jacques speaking to a press conference at Fort Bragg. From that point, there was no mention of politics.

Such is the case for the almost 50 invitations mailed to area people from the Brand. The idea had nothing whatever to do with the political angle of the war. It was for something believed to be far more important — the men in the armed forces.

"The Green Berets" is not recommended for anyone who cannot physically or mentally undergo the brutal facts of war. But it is recommended for those who have a desire to see what transpires now with our men in action.

And it is hoped that politics will become secondary throughout the nation in the matter of the war, and that first thought will be given to the backing of the Armed Forces man.

Saute lots of onion and green pepper and heat with tomato sauce and drained canned kidney beans; sprinkle with grated cheddar cheese and serve with hamburgers.

CARNIVAL TIME

The Lion's Club Carnival is in town again—with its full assortment of rides, lights, sounds, and smells. Over $10,000 has been collected by the local club since the carnival opened Friday night. The money will be used for the Campfire Hut now under construction, and other worthwhile causes.

There are 12 game booths, including bingo, glass pitch, baseball throw and others. The Future Homemakers of America and high school girls are also operating a refreshment booth. "We hope everybody gets to win something—from a whistle to a radio" said Lion's President Ray Moore.

Comic Book Is Informing Persons On Welfare Rulings

AUSTIN — A simple comic book might be the best way to help people understand they have a right to appeal welfare rulings.

This is the opinion of two University of Texas law students, Alexander W. Bell and G. Todd Norvell who expressed their views in a recent issue of the Texas Law Review (TLR).

They said the Texas welfare system does not serve those it deals with most — the poor and uneducated — who may even be afraid to appeal.

"Welfare recipients as a group are among the persons least likely to work their way through the mass of forms necessary to perfect an appeal," the students said. "More importantly, they might even read or be told that they can appeal without comprehending what this right is."

"The same conditions that have forced poverty and illiteracy upon a welfare applicant often have also robbed him of his capacity for self-assertion. For him, if the word 'appeal' is charged with meaning at all, its connotations — being legal — are threatening and possibly frightening." Bell and Norvell said year before last, 141,286 Texas welfare recipients had their applications denied or their grants reduced or cut off, but only 693 appealed to the State Department of Public Welfare — an appeal rate of less than one-half of one percent.

"Welfare applicants generally do not want to cause trouble; they tend to shun contacts with strangers and are especially wary of officials of any sort," they said.

They said one woman they assisted in an appeal "became so nervous at the prospect of the hearing that she became ill."

Another problem, they said, is that most clients like their caseworkers and hesitate to appeal because they fear the worker will get in trouble. Also, "they are afraid to alienate the person upon whom future welfare stipends will depend." In turn, they said, some workers discourage appeals because they appeals have been rejected.

— "Clearly stated and properly publicized" hearing procedures.

— A separate hearing division, maybe of non-department people, perhaps even interested citizens.

— That the hearing officer be allowed to decide the case at the time of the hearing, so people who need financial aid would not have to wait an extra 2 to 3 weeks, without funds, for a decision.

— Matching state funds so clients can get legal aid from legal services groups funded by the federal Office of Economic Opportunity.

— That the client's right to appear should be publicized. They concluded, "if the present appeals board is retained, it should be converted to a full-time body, and its decisions on welfare appeals should be published. Finally, a new appeals process is needed that will permit an appellant to challenge directly department policy."

Report Is Made On Credit Use By Average American Family

The average American family is not in financial danger from too much installment buying, even though many fail to use credit wisely, a U. S. Department of Agriculture economist said recently.

Katherine D. Smythe, family economist in USDA's Agricultural Research Service, spoke before the American Home Economics Association meeting in Minneapolis, Minn. She reported that a study of average income families in four stages of the life cycle showed each having assets or investments that could be converted into cash in amounts sufficient to continue payments on personal debts and provide living expenses during a reasonable period of unemployment or illness. This could be done without sacrificing investments in home, automobile, or business.

In the study aimed at determining safe credit limits ARS economists used data assembled by the Census Bureau, Department of Agriculture and Labor, and the Federal Reserve Board. Using this information, hypothetical families in four broad age groups were set up with family heads in the following categories: under 35 years (the young family); 35 to 54 years (the growing family); 55 to 64 (the contracting family where the children are beginning to leave home); and over 65 years (the retired family).

These families had two things in common — all had more money in readily convertible assets than in personal installment or non-installment debts, and all could live for some time on the money from these assets if the need arose. Both the young family and the growing family could continue their current rate of spending for 15 weeks, while the contracting family could live at its current level for almost two years.

Accidents Plague Police Saturday

Two wrecks occurred Saturday afternoon which resulted in a total of $185 in damages in the two separate collisions.

At 1:50 p. m. Saturday, near the intersection of 13th Street and Ave. A, a 1965 Ford, driven by Rosie B. Sellers, collided with a 1955 Mercury driven by Travio Oran Morrison. The Morrison vehicle received about $10 damages while the Sellers car had $75 damages.

According to police reports, three vehicles were going east on 13th Street when the last car attempted to pass the two vehicles ahead of him. The front car, which had its signal indicator on for a left turn, started to make the turn when the passing car struck it in the side.

A citation was issued for improper passing by investigating officers.

Later Saturday afternoon, a collision occurred near the intersection of Main Street and 5th Street which involved a 1967 Chevrolet driven by Henrietta Kemp and a 1965 Oldsmobile driven by Carolyn Sue Chapman, of Canyon. The Kemp car sustained $75 in damages and the Chapman car about $25.

One of the vehicles, which was parked, did not see the other car which was waiting for the traffic to clear ahead of her, and proceeded to back out of the parked position when it struck the side of the other vehicle.

4-H'ERS AWAY! — Seven local 4-H members for Cloudcroft, New Mexico Monday morning where they will spend five days at the 4-H Electric Camp. A chartered bus picked the seven members and two adult sponsors up at the Southwestern Public Service building. The trip is sponsored each year by Southwestern Public Service.

2 Will Attend Waco Seminar

Suzanne Oglesby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Oglesby, and Robert Grady, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Grady, will attend the sixth annual Texas Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar July 30 - August 3 on the Campus of Baylor University in Waco.

The annual training school for the high school junior and senior students is an intensive course in citizenship, our American heritage and the proper role of government.

The Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau sponsors the local students by paying their tuition, room and board and transportation to and from Waco. Travel is by chartered bus. A total of 425 students from 156 counties are enrolled for this year's seminar.

Four nationally-known lecturers will address the 1968 school. They are Dr. Clifton L. Ganus, president of Harding College, Searcy, Ark.; Dr. C. L. Kay, president of Lubbock Christian College; John Noble, author of "I Was a Slave in Russia," and W. Cleon Skousen, author, lawyer, and former FBI agent.

Emphasis will be placed on the economic, moral and social aspects of American society. Instruction will consist of lecturers, films and panel discussions.

SUZANNE OGLESBY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Oglesby, and Robert Grady, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Grady, will attend a Texas Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar July 30 - August 3, on the campus of Baylor University in Waco. The trip is sponsored and paid for by the county Farm Bureau.

The welfare system as it now functions is designed to protect adequately the rights of the average, white, middle-class citizen who has a clear idea of what his rights are and feels the need to enforce them," they said. However, they said, "It must necessarily function with the poor, uneducated submissive people who compose the welfare class — people who regard assistance as charity and who would not know how to assert a right even if they believed they had one."

The students recommend that the welfare department use comic books to explain to the clients, in words they can understand how to appeal.

"Use of radio and television to explain welfare programs in the same way Social Security information is broadcast might be useful," they said, and listed as another method group meetings to show movies depicting a "typical" appeal.

Also, they proposed: — That a special staff member deliver all unfavorable decisions to clients, so the decision would not be connected so closely with the client's regular worker.

— That someone other than the regular caseworker help to prepare appeals.

— That clients should be told orally and in writing why their

Civic Involvement Is Key To Success Of Local Man

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

Melvin Jayroe, district manager of Southwestern Public Service, has had what most people would call a very fruitful career in a very short time, and this has been through constant involvement in local community activities.

Born on January 7, 1930 in Amarillo, Jayroe attended and graduated from Amarillo High School in 1948, then went on to attend Amarillo College, where he graduated in 1952. Interrupting his college stint was the one year he spent in the United States Air Force where he was discharged in 1949. From the Air Force, he then went on to Amarillo College. Though he has attended college, Jayroe does not feel that he has what it takes so is presently attending West Texas State University in Canyon where he is working on his degree in business administration.

Following his graduation from Amarillo College, Jayroe met and married the former Iva Dell White while in Amarillo. They were married in 1952 at which time he also began working for Southwestern Public Service in Amarillo. After working five years there, he and his wife moved to Pampa in 1957 where he served as chief clerk for SWPS. Ending six years work there, during which time a daughter was born to them, Jayroe then moved to Hereford in 1963.

Having always been active in civic projects, he was not an idle person during his childhood days. He was a Cub, Boy and Sea Scout and attained the rank of Eagle Scout with the Bronze Palm in the latter Scouting organization. Also, after his time in the Air Force, where Jayroe became very active in roller skating, he returned to Amarillo where he taught the sport. He continued this throughout the time he was in Pampa, but due to the great demand of his time on other matters, he was forced to terminate this after a short time.

While many men can boast of having earned the Distinguished Service Award through service to the Jaycees, there are very few who can boast of hav-

Rites Are Today For Mother Of Mrs. Lamb

Mrs. C. A. Bearden of Lubbock passed away Tuesday. Her funeral will be conducted today at the Trinity Baptist Church there at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Bearden is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Albert Lamb of Westway.

Her other survivors include her husband, five other daughters and one son.

At 74, Mrs. Bearden had been a resident of West Texas all of her life.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunt and their son, Timothy from Ipswich, England, are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Oglesby. Last weekend the group attended the opera in Santa Fe where they saw Madame Butterfly and La Traviata in the beautiful new outdoor opera house. The Oglesbys then entertained their guests at their trailer home at Ute Lake and enjoyed fishing and waterskiing. The guests especially enjoyed this as the weather in England is much to cold to participate in these activities. The Oglesbys visited the Hunts in England last summer and made an extended tour of the European Continent.

A devoted member of the Church of Nazarene, Jayroe and his family are all in one way or another connected with activities in the church. Jayroe himself is a member of the board of trustees, YPS president, and Sunday School superintendent for this year. His wife, known as "Teenie" to most of the people that know her closely, has been a Sunday School teacher for the past four years.

Their daughter, Tonya, 13, has just about followed her father step-for-step as far as being involved in activities, as she has taken piano lessons for the past four years, has won superior rating the last three years on the piano, and has displayed a remarkable talent for playing the flute. She has played the flute in the La Plata Junior High School Band for a few years and is now looking forward to continuing this through high school.

Melvin Jayroe . . . civically active

Through all of his examples of success, one might think he would just about be succeeded-out, but far from it. Just recently he added another first to his long list of achievements and this as his first par for the nine-hole course at the John Pitman Golf Course, a thing which he is very proud of. Though this may seem a small thing, Jayroe feels that it is the small things that add up in making the large ones. If this is so, he has done far more than he has been given credit for.

Elson Rose Is Winner At Tulia

Elson Rose of Hereford, captured a second place finish in saddle bronc riding at the 78th anniversary celebration at Tulia over the past weekend.

Rose scored in the final performance of the rodeo which climaxed the two-day celebration. The two day's activities included a parade, barbecue and the rodeo. Also along with the other activities, a float contest and riding contest were held.

Sgt. Manuel Valdez

Manuel Valdez Is Returning From Vietnam

Marine Sgt. Manuel A. Valdez, son of Eulogio D. Valdez of 511 Knight, Hereford, is now in San Francisco following a year of duty in Vietnam and will return home Friday.

Sgt. Valdez has served with the First Battalion, 27th Marine Regiment, First Marine Division. He will receive his discharge on July 26. His battalion in Vietnam had been assigned to capture and destroy enemy forces through weapons fire, tactical maneuvering, in both large and small scale operations.

His unit has also been engaged in a civic action program designed to assist the Vietnamese in completing self-help projects, such as the building of wells, culverts, small bridges and schools.

Valdez, 22, is a 1965 graduate of Hereford High School. He arrived in Hawaii last week.

A HAPPENING
One day last week Kirk Garrison was mowing the lawn with his tractor mower at a fairly safe 3 miles per hour. Up and down the fence, between, and at the cars parked immediately to the rear. Just at the finish, he aimed at his sister Kathy's Cougar (named Sherman) intending to slow down and stop directly before hitting it. At that time the brake was pushed in and horror of horrors, they failed. Smack into the side of Sherman! Later, Kathy awoke from her nap, stepped outside and nearly fainted after seeing the deep dent in the door of Sherman. Asked later what she would do to offset the damage, she replied: Find some new breaks-in Kirk's neck!!

Roll that lemon between the palms of your hands to soften it before squeezing out the juice or use a cutting board and the palm of one hand for the rolling.

Chicken breasts that are coated with batter and deep-fried are good served with sauteed pineapple rings and crisply cooked strips of bacon.

Failing Brakes Cause Accident

Defective brakes were the cause of an accident which occurred Sunday, July 21, about 7 p.m. at the intersection of North Street and Fourth Avenue.
Israel Rivera, driving a 1966 Chevrolet pickup, had about $125 in damages sustained to his car while a 1967 Oldsmobile, driven by Stella Rodriguez, received $70 in damages.
The accident occurred when Rivera was traveling west on North Street and saw that the Rodriguez vehicle was not going to stop at the intersection, so swerved toward a bar ditch. The Rodriguez car then went on through the intersection and struck the Rivera car in the side. Mrs. Rodriguez told investigating officers that her brakes had failed.
Investigating officers issued citations for no drivers license and defective brakes.

Services Today For Dr. Harris

Funeral services for Dr. Norman H. Harris, 60, a former resident of Hereford from 1941-49 and of Amarillo, who died Tuesday night from a heart attack in Enid, Okla., will be at 10 a.m. today in Enid.
Burial will be in Enid where Dr. Harris, an osteopathic physician and surgeon, had practiced for the past 13 years. He was a member of Immanuel Baptist Church in Enid.
Friends of the family said the family has requested that those who wish to send flowers contribute instead to the Heart Fund or Arthritis Foundation.
Survivors include his wife, Marian, and two sons, John, 23, and Lowell, 19.

The Singing Deweys — At Hereford Assembly of God Church.

Assembly Of God Church Plans Special Services Three Days

The Singing Deweys, an evangelistic musical group made up of two brothers and their families, will be featured in special services at the Hereford Assembly of God Church this Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

Tim Dewey and his wife, Sheryl, were active soloists with the Harvester Choir of Southwestern Assemblies of God College in Waxahachie, Texas, while in school there. Later, they travelled with a fine group known widely as the Master's Four.

Levoy Dewey, the older brother, is a noted arranger of choral music and does the arranging for the Deweys. Until recently he worked as music and youth director in some of the most prominent churches, and was District Music Director for the West Texas District for four years. During this time he was Music and Youth Director at First Assembly of God, Amarillo. He also sang with the Harvester Choir, Men of Southwestern, and the Ambassador Travelers. The Statesmen Quartet recently helped Levoy make a solo album by doing the background music.

Lavoy's wife, Cleo, who is from Anton, accompanies the group with a piano. She has worked with him in all of his endeavors and accompanies the choirs and ensembles under his instruction. She adds variety with the organ and accordion.

Levoy and Cleo's daughters, Cynthia, 4, and Suzanne, 3, also join the Deweys in singing several numbers.

Preceding each evening service, the Deweys will be working with the choir and young people of the church in a choral clinic and soul-winning clinic.

Pastor Goodwin and congregation invite one and all to attend these special services Friday and Saturday night at 8 p. m. Sunday morning at 11 a. m. and Sunday night at 7 p. m.

Foundation Sets Annual Field Day

A display of oil seed crops including plants, care, and products will be an interesting feature of the 12th Annual Field Day of the High Plains Research Foundation on September 12.

Hosts for the afternoon will be members of the Oil Seed Commodity Committee of the Board of Trustees of the Foundation. The display will be located in the Seed Processing Laboratory.

Soybeans, Sunflower, and Rapeseed are included in the Research Program at the Foundation. The display will include all these crops, with emphasis on soybeans. Short, medium, and long-season soybean varieties will be compared. Differences in yield and quality as affected by cultural practices will be shown. A soybean production guide, published by the Foundation, will be available. Producers have found this information valuable in selecting planting dates, irrigation procedures, and harvesting methods.

Sunflowers will be on display to show plants of acceptable combine height and desirable head size. Products of both soybeans and sunflower will be on display.

The Oil Seed committee reviews the research presently underway and makes recommendations for future research to the Board of Trustees and the staff. W. B. Tilson of Plainview, is Chairman of the committee. Other members are W. L. Goble, Levelland; Delwin Jones, Lubbock; Fred Mercer, Silverton; Macy Orman, Fort Worth; J. Ray Pritchett, Clovis, N. M.; Cloyce Terrell, Sunray; Raymond Thompson, Vega; Harmon White, Cotton Center and Clarence Wright, Plainview.

Members of some of the Young Homemakers chapters of Area One will again be hostesses at the Annual Field Day. They will welcome visitors, help them register for attendance prizes, and distribute copies of the program outlining the tours, displays and evening program. Their activities will be under the direction of Area One President, Mrs. R. B. Stanton, Idaho, and her staff.

Thicken canned stewed tomatoes with flour or cornstarch and serve as a sauce for omelet. Strips of onion and green pepper, skillet-cooked in butter, may be added to the stewed tomatoes if you like. Makes a pleasant luncheon or brunch dish.

If you want your asparagus spears to be of even length, cut off the ends instead of breaking them. Always peel asparagus spears up to the buds before cooking; this way the whole spear will be edible.

Hobby Became Second Job, Then Profession For Bradley

By PENNY YOUNG
Staff Writer

When Bill Bradley was nine years old, he got his first camera for Christmas. The fact that his father was a rancher and his grandfather brought the first herd of registered Hereford cattle to this town didn't seem to slow him up in his quest for photography.

After graduating from Hereford High School, Bradley attended college at West Texas University, majoring in Industrial Arts. Photography by then had become a very interesting hobby at which he spent most of his time. While attending school, he worked for the Taylor and Sons Planning Mill in Canyon.

In May 1948, Bradley married and returned to Hereford, not to ranch as his father had done and not to set up a photography business but to work for Carl McCaslin Lumber Company. At the time he was still using photography as a convenient hobby.

For 10 years, Bradley worked for the lumber company, doing photography on the side and making quite a bit of money.

"My hobby was turning into a second job," comments Bradley.

The Bradlys reside at 110 Star in Hereford and have been there since the move back to Hereford in 1948.

They have three children, Truitt, 13; Jeannine, 11, and Janie, 17.

"The place of business where it is located now," explains Bradley, "is right across the street where my grandmother's house used to be. My grandmother's house burned in 1931, and I can vaguely remember when the telephone rang and someone told my father that his mother's house was burning."

Because of the great amount of photo work that Bradley was doing at the time, he opened his own shop in January, 1961, and began working on his studio. The first shop was located at 340 Schley right beside the Credit Union. After the studio was moved to its present location, the old building was torn down and the space was converted into a parking lot.

The first professional camera used by Bradley was a Busch Pressman, which he used for taking his wedding shots, individual shots, group pictures, portraits and commercial shots. He and his wife Marcella processed their own black and white film and most of the color was sent to Dallas. This is still done.

Commercial shots were done a lot by Bradley. He has done shots of several feed-lots, a process report for Holly Sugar, Allied Chemical, and for Swift Feed. He also does quite a few aerial shots, and enjoys taking scenery shots also.

"When we go on vacation," explains Mrs. Bradley, "he does not fish, or swim like most people do. He packs up his camera equipment and takes pictures of scenery. In fact, everyone in the family packs cameras."

For printing pictures, Bradley has equipped his studio with two enlargers, washers, dryers, retouching machines, and timing machines.

"These timing machines are most important," he said, "in photography there's a lot of timing."

Marcella does some of the printing and if there are any white spots on the pictures, she will spot them with a retouching pencil or with the retouching brush. These are used to make a more perfect picture. The color of pencil or brush is determined by the different shades of pictures.

After a picture is taken, the film is usually placed on the shelf until Monday. All proofs are promised to customers on Wednesday, and orders on Friday, so Bradley will process the film Monday night.

To develop the film which has See HOOPY Page Two

MRS. BILL BRADLY helps around the studio by developing film and printing pictures. She also keeps books and has been since the business first began.

Feeding Grain To Market Hogs Is Worth More To The Farmer

COLLEGE STATION — Grain sorghum marketed on the hoof could be the answer for both grain and swine producers in Texas, Dr. Donald B. Hudman, Extension swine specialist with Texas A&M University, says.

According to tests conducted at the Stiles Foundation Farm near Thrall, grain sorghum fed to market hogs netted twice as much as grain sold at harvest-time in the area. On the market, grain was valued at about $2 per hundred pounds, but the hogs returned about $4 per hundred.

In the nursery unit, pigs from four to five weeks of age raised to 75 pounds, consumed about two pounds of feed per pound of gain. Hogs from 75 pounds to finishing, about 210 pounds, consumed approximately three and one-half pounds of feed per pound of gain.

The herd average at the Stiles Farm was approximately 334 pounds of feed per 100 pounds of gain, including sows and boars.

In the tests, 196 sows have farrowed 2,077 pigs, but more important, says Hudman, is the See FEEDING Page Two

Agriculture Briefs

ALERT FOR SCREW-WORMS — The number of screwworm cases in the Southwest continues to increase and is the highest since 1963. Weather conditions continue to be near ideal for the propagation of this costly livestock pest. Officials of the eradication program continue to emphasize the importance of livestock producers checking their animals at frequent intervals and submitting worm samples from all infested wounds. Knowing where the new cases are permits the dropping of sterile flies at the earliest possible time, the officials said.

FARM SAFETY WEEK — Agriculture currently ranks third among the nation's industries in accidental death rate.

In 1957 about 8,000 farm residents were accidentally killed and nearly 750,000 more suffered disabling injuries. Traffic accounted for about 40 percent of the deaths, followed by farm work and home accidents. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council is asking all rural residents to participate in the 1968 observance of Farm Safety Week, July 21-27, and to join friends and neighbors in community programs to reduce accidents.

PRETREAT FOR TERMITE CONTROL — Home builders are reminded by Phil J. Hamman, assistant Extension entomologist, that pretreating a new home for termite control is relatively inexpensive and highly desirable, especially for buildings constructed completely or partly on concrete slabs. He suggests hiring a reliable pest control operator to work with the building contractor or architect in getting the job correctly done.

Fertility of the soil is the wealth of our Nation.

That country is rich whose people do the most with its land, its water, and its forest. All else depends on that. — Hon. Sam H. Jones, former Governor of Louisiana

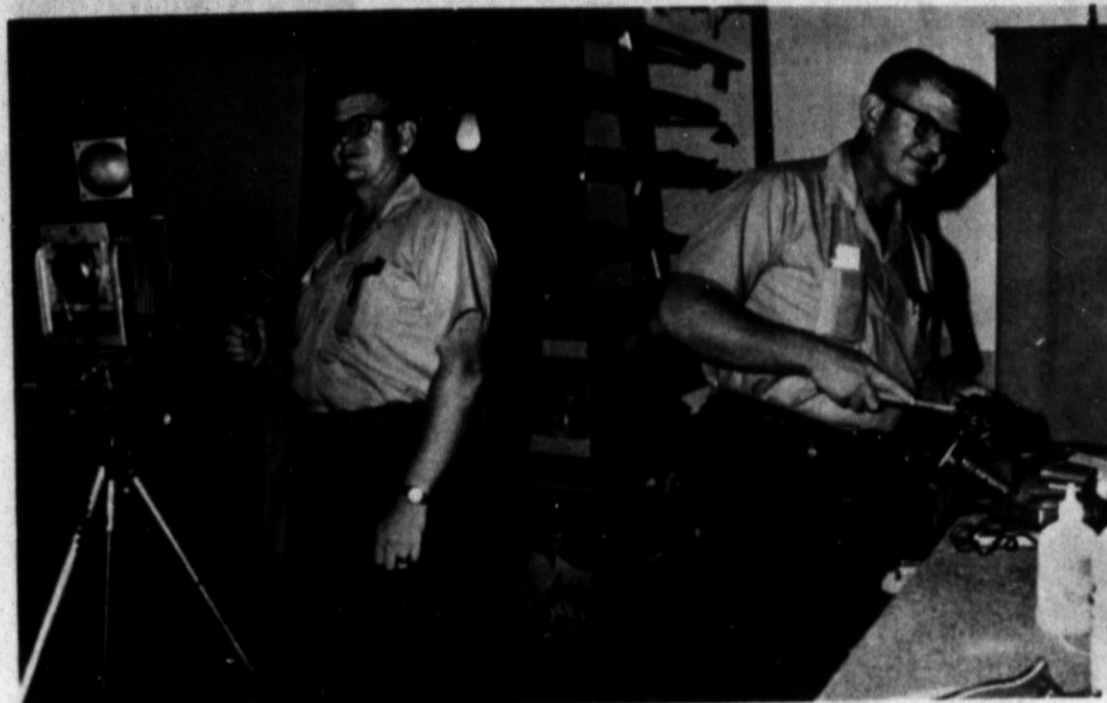

Wheat Growers Want Extension Of Farm Act

"Farmers from Texas and other major wheat growing states are pointing out to rural and city congressmen the critical economic facts of the inadequate and declining farm income from wheat production," George Meeker, president of the 10-state National Association of Wheat Growers, reports from Washington, D. C.

"Farmers are pointing out the urgency for the extension of the Farm Act of 1965," said Meeker. "Congressmen are being informed that farm income is too low for farmers to make ends meet."

"They are being told that wheat income must be raised if wheat farmers are to enjoy the same standard of living as most other people in our nation. They are being shown how wheat farmers provide raw materials for industry and labor — food for our people... and for humanitarian purposes around the world — and food to maintain our public relations and our good image among other nations."

"We are pointing out that the agricultural situation is a direct problem and concern of other businesses. And we are recommending a simple extension of the Farm Act of 1965 as a means of allowing producers and Congress more time to consider improvements, keeping in mind that 40 percent of all persons employed have jobs related to agriculture and agribusiness, said Meeker.

BILL BRADLY, local photographer got his start in the photography business by shooting pictures for local citizens. A few years later he began his own studio, now located on Park Ave. Besides photography, Bradley makes frames to sell along with his pictures.

Wilson Elects New Treasurer

CHICAGO, ILL. — Vincent Cotter has been elected treasurer of Wilson & Co., Inc., subsidiary of Ling-Temco-Vought, Inc., by the company's board of directors, it was announced today by Roy V. Edwards, Wilson president and chief executive officer.

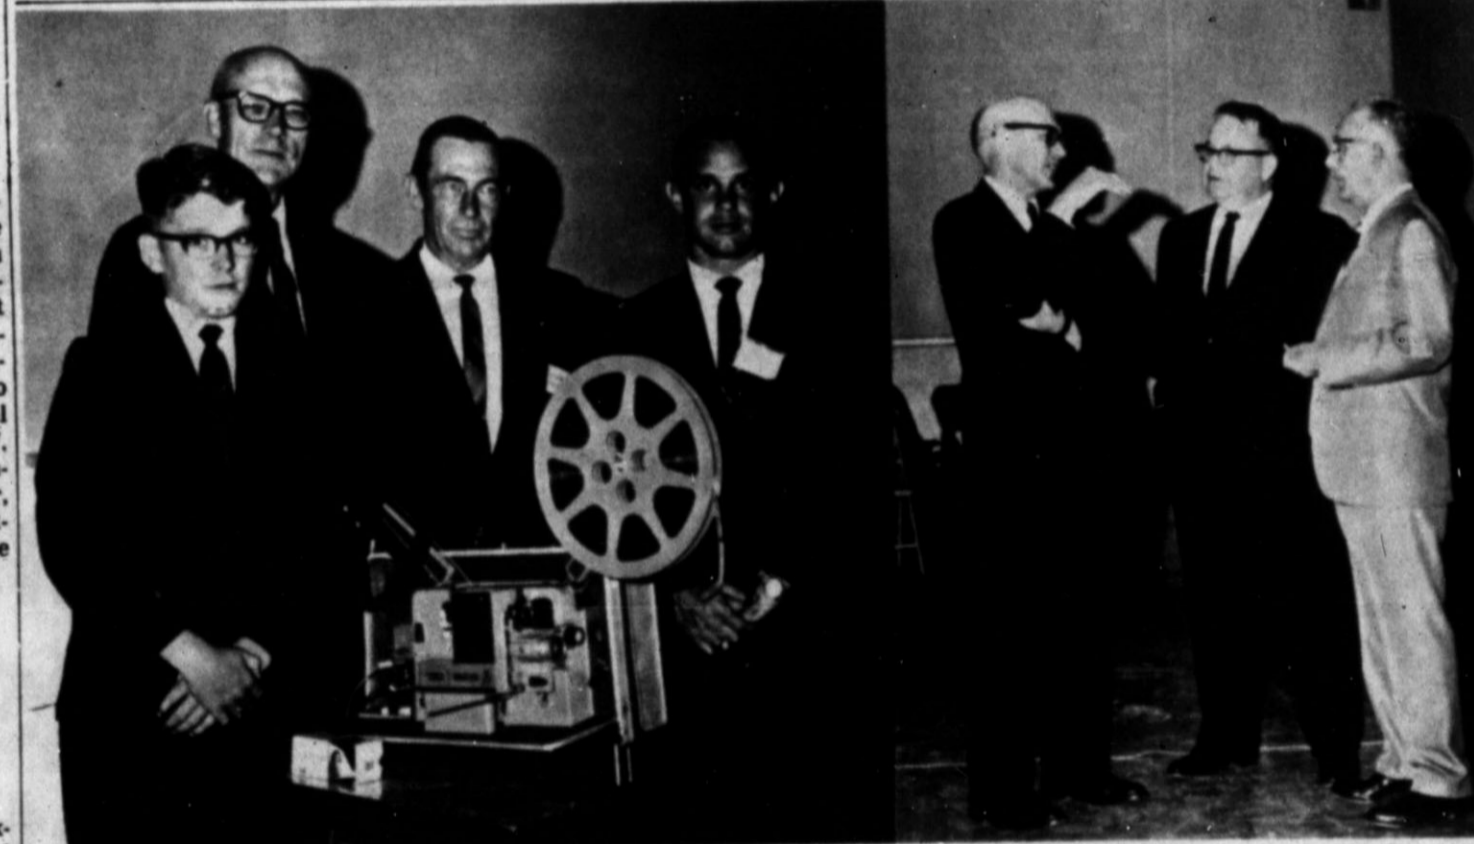

Cotter, who has been assistant treasurer, replaces Frank E. Dubach, who is retiring after 37 years of service with the company.

Cotter began his Wilson career at the Boston office of the Wilson Sporting Goods Co. in 1954. He held positions of increasing responsibility in that office, and in 1966, he was transferred to the headquarters offices of Wilson & Co. in Chicago as assistant manager of real estate and insurance. In 1967, he was appointed administrative assistant to the treasurer, and in April, 1968, he was elected assistant treasurer of the company.

Groundbreaking Is Set For Mill Near Dimmitt

DIMMITT — Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new $10 million Wet Mill Plant to be built in Dimmitt will be held at 4 p. m. Saturday.

The new plant will be constructed adjacent to the present Dimmitt Wheat Growers-Elevator.

Markets Generally Slow On Potatoes And Onions Here

A full report on marketing conditions of vegetables in Hereford and competing cities was outlined Tuesday by John Engle, officer-in-charge of the Fruit and Vegetable Market News office here.

Under "National Shipping Point Trends Section I," the report Monday on potatoes from Hereford-High Plains-Panhandle District-Texas stated that "the market during the week ranged a dollar lower on Round Reds with trading generally slow. Supplies of Round Reds are expected to be lighter this week as most varieties have been harvested. Increased offerings of Norgolds expected this week. Early yields and size have been below normal."

In Northeastern Alabama points, the "trading was moderate. Prices lower with round reds U. S. No. 1 A, $3 to $4 and Round White Chipping Stock at $2.75 to $3 CWT. Movement heavy. Harvesting past peak with several shippers finished on Round Reds but some will be available through July. Round White harvesting will extend into August. Quality good."

Also on potatoes from the Perris-Chino District-California, the report stated "trading light to moderate. Prices for Long Whites U. S. No. 1A closed the week at $2.75 to $3 CWT. Well below the previous week. Limited supplies of Norgolds were unchanged at $4 to $4.25. Rail shipments were below the previous week as demand from distant markets fell off. Truck shipments increased with heavier volume going to nearby markets. Overall supplies should hold at about the level of last week but improved demand could stimulate harvesting activity. Quality of Long Whites variable but generally good. The market for U. S. No. 1 size B has been good as supplies were somewhat short while Baker sizes are in good supply. Norgolds cleaning up as they become available. Weather generally ideal."

In the report on onions under the Hereford district, it stated that "trading was moderately active with lower prices after a period of unsettled market conditions. Harvesting was curtailed in some areas during the week by rain heavy in some areas. Supplies will remain about the same levels during the week. Yellow Grano and White varieties are being offered."

FOB (Free On Board) information on sales Tuesday for the Hereford district included CABAGE — "demand slow, market dull. Domestic Round type medium large 50-pound meshed sacks selling for $1.25 to $1.35 and 1 and three-fourths bushel cartons a few for $1.50 to $1.75." Demand for CARROTS was "fair, with the market barely steady. Topped and washed, 48-one pound film bags meshed master containers medium large $3, 50-pound meshed sacks large loose $1.75 to $2.

ONIONS had a fair demand slow market. 50-pound meshed sacks Yellow Grano large $1.90 to $2.25, mostly $2. Medium heavy maximum size $1.50 to $1.75, a few $2. Prepacks, $1.85 to $2.25, mostly $2. White large $3.90 to $4, Medium $3.25. Medium Heavy maximum size, $3.40 to $3.50. Prepacks $2.75 to $3.

POTATOES had a fairly good demand and about steady market. 100s washed U. S. No. 1 (unless otherwise stated) Round Reds size A $2.75 to $3, mostly $3. The 2 and three-fourths and 3 and three-fourths size in $3, occasionally $3.25. U. S. No. 2, $2, few at $1.75 and occasionally at $2.25. Norgolds size A $4.50 to $5. The 6-14 oz. for $5.50 to $6, mostly $5.50. PCT 10-oz. large $6.50. Non size A Min size $3.25 to $3.75, mostly $3.50 to $3.75. U. S. No. 2 $2.50 to $3. CTNS 6-14 oz. few at $7.

THAT TIME OF YEAR — It is that time of year again as onions, carrots and potatoes are shipped from the field to the different sheds around town to be sorted and sacked and prepared for market. Above are some scenes from the shed of T. J. Power, which is located on New York Street.

to be done in total darkness. Brady will unload the holders, and load them in film hangers. A rack will hold 12 of these hangers each with four sheets. A total of 48 sheets are developed in one load. After putting them on the rack, they are placed in the developer for the required length of time according to the film and developer. A maximum of two minutes for the film is required. Then it's taken out, washed in water, and put in the fixer. The film is washed for an hour after it has been taken out of the fixer. The water is run at 68 degrees, and in the winter hot-water has to be run to maintain this degree. The film is hung up to dry and the next morning, proofs are made in a group of six shown to the customer and orders are made. Frame making is another department in the Brady studio and a lot of this is done by son, Truitt. The past year he has been working on frames and during school, he was photographer for the Stanton Dogie yearbook at Stanton Junior High. The largest frame that the studio has made was a 45 by 65 and they make all sizes from 1 1/2 by 2 to 30 by 40, usually.

All the negatives at the studio are filed and recorded on a card catalog for convenience. It's a system like most libraries have, Brady said. Brady is a member of the Panhandle Professional Photographers Association and at the time is serving as 2nd vice-president of the organization. He was installed in October, 1967. Postcards are another project taken on by Brady as he makes pictures for postcards of different places around Hereford. Several of the cards are on sale at the time. Downtown Hereford is displayed by the postcards and others are Holly Sugar, Hereford Feed Yards Sugarland Mall, and the county Courthouse, last years Fourth of July celebration, and the companies that placed their own on display are Deaf Smith County Rural Electric Cooperative building, and the Red Carpet Inn.

Brady does plastic lamination for anything that people might want laminated. His wife keeps busy with the books, and son, Truitt, isn't planning on being a photographer, but an architect. "I love photography," states Brady, "there's nothing more enjoyable than this profession."

Trail Ride Set In Palo Duro

The Second Annual Palo Duro Trail Ride will be held August 23, 24 and 25. The magnificent scenery of Palo Duro Canyon will be utilized to the fullest. Those interested in horseback riding will participate in the viewing of Nature's wonder and should certainly find this trip to be very fulfilling, officials of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce stated.

Cost of the trip will be $20 per person which includes the following: Admission to the park, six meals, plus any entertainment provided. The trip will begin on Saturday morning and will be set up in three categories. Each rider will be able to select his own particular time. Also, those who are not professional riders can enjoy the entertainment which will be provided for the trail sitters.

The trip is a family participation affair and with church services on horseback for Sunday morning. No unnecessary drinking or boisterousness will be allowed at any time. For those wishing to attend the musical production "Texas" arrangements will also be made with the Trail Ride. Inquiries and reservations should be made as soon as possible to the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, Amarillo, Texas.

number of pigs per litter —10.6. At 35 days of age the litters averaged 9.4 pigs, or about 2 pigs per litter more than the national or state average.

The term "mortgage lifter" could once again be applied to hog raising in Texas if producers follow good production practices, says the specialist. Market hogs should weigh approximately 200 pounds at 154 days of age for optimum economic production. A desirable product must be marketed by the hog raiser and it should be one which the consumer wants and demands. About 90 percent of the market hogs should grade "Number One."

"Today, Texas producers must shoot for the meat-type hog with a loin-eye area of about four and one-quarter inches. An even better indication of the amount of meat a hog is carrying is the back-fat probe — an ideal hog is one with a back-fat measurement of 1.4 inches or less," Hudman says.

PROPER SERVICING NEEDED — The dry-type air cleaner on farm tractors must be properly serviced if it is to do its job. Henry O'Neal, Extension agricultural engineer, says a cup of sandy soil, if allowed to get by the air cleaner, can become about the most expensive soil on earth. He says if this should happen, that cup of soil could be the cause for a complete engine overhaul to say nothing of time lost to down time.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

New Workable Regulations Coming For Private Clubs

By VERN SANFORD
 Texas Press Association
 AUSTIN — Texas Liquor Control Board is studying new regulations for private clubs where "spirits" are sold. Members won't reveal the recommendations that were submitted to them by Acting Administrator O. N. Humphreys Jr. until after careful study. Last set of regulations banning cash sales in the clubs and curbing the issuance of guest cards by manager-members was knocked out by a district court order in May. Humphreys termed the new rules "workable" but "not rigid."

Meanwhile, he submitted a long report on the steps taken to restore public confidence in the LCB which has been hard hit on investigation of irregularities. Humphreys detailed steps taken to upgrade personnel and improve administration, a case handling and record keeping. At their July 18 meeting, the board also:

Approved retirement for LCB Enforcement Chief A. R. Carlidge and named as his temporary replacement Don Fishell, 39.

Announced that a permanent successor to resigned Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr. will be appointed in 30 to 60 days.

Acknowledged that Stevenson told members he had received an expensive watch as a gift but they did not question his acceptance of it.

Reported law enforcement activities and collections are on a substantial increase over last year.

"The future looks good," commented Chairman W. D. Noel of Odessa, who is scheduled to step down soon after 16 years of service.

TAX BILL LAW — Now there's no way out of paying those new taxes approved by the Legislature in special session. Gov. John Connally has signed into law the bill which is designed to raise $160.2 million for 1969 state operations. It's effective October 1, and here's what it does:

Raises the general sales and auto sales tax rates from two to three per cent statewide. In cities which levy 1 percent local option sales taxes the rate will be four per cent. (No change was made in exemptions.)

Increases the corporation franchise tax rate (collectible May 1) from $2.25 to $2.75 per $1,000 of taxable capital, surplus and undivided profits. Portion of the franchise tax on corporate debt will be reduced from $2.25 to $2.00 in 1969 and phased out by 1973.

TOURIST RECORD IN MAKING — Tourist travel is expected to far surpass all previous records this year, according to State Highway Department's travel and information division soundings.

One Highway Department travel bureau on Interstate Highway 10 near Orange reported "customers" for first half of 1968 more than doubled total for January-June 1967. Ninety per cent of the visitors were on their way to the HemisFair in San Antonio.

All eight established bureaus run by the Highway Department reported big increases. Total services went up 14.2 per cent for the first half of this year compared with the same period in 1967. Travel and information division said its mail inquiries are up 27 per cent.

Last year Texas was visited by 20.6 million persons who spent $1.2 billion. This was an eight per cent increase in visitors over 1966, and an 11 per cent jump in spending.

COURTS SPEAK — Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has urged the U. S. Supreme Court to reconsider its decision that the Texas tidelands boundaries must be measured from 10.3 miles of shoreline as it existed in 1845, without regard to recessions.

State Supreme Court reversed an $862,000 verdict favoring foreign car dealers. They had sued the city of Houston for flood damage to autos, claiming inadequate drainage.

High court set October 16 for review of the lower court orders directing a charter be granted to Mission Savings and Loan Association, San Antonio.

Court said National Surety Corporation has a valid judgment of $18,237 against the Friendswood Independent School District, Galveston County, but cannot collect.

It ordered a new trial in a Hansford County landowner's suit against a professional wheatcutter whose truck started a fire in his field.

Third Court of Civil Appeals held that the State Board of Education could order a hearing on the appeal of a Lumberton school superintendent who was fired by a local board.

Third Court directed a new trial in a case involving disannexation of 550 acres of land from Temple.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — City cannot force on a landowner higher air control standards than those set by State Air Control Board, Attorney General Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

A Texan is qualified to vote in a local liquor election if he resided in the state a year, the county six months before election and is a resident of the city where the election is held.

Dallas County Hospital District has no authority to build and operate a crime laboratory.

State Insurance Commissioner has authority to release a surety bond on an insurance company that is in receivership when all claims are satisfied and when the one-year statutory time limit is satisfied.

Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners cannot vary fees set by state law.

Plaintiff could not recover for faulty workmanship, labor and materials and-or negligence under a surety bond required by the Water Well Drillers Act.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNplacing Bryce V. Beard, Amarillo. O'Donnell appointed Mrs. Pierce P. Langford Jr. of Wichita Falls Region V as deputy state vice-chairman.

OPERATION YOUTHLIFT — August has been declared by Governor Connally as Youth Month at HemisFair.

Ben Barnes, Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, heads a statewide committee to organize special youth excursions to the Fair. He is meeting with youth leaders in key cities of Texas to plan the August trips.

Special, low-cost package-plan excursions, including overnight accommodations in San Antonio, have been developed by HemisFair to tie in with the program.

Any youth group in Texas desiring to participate in "Operation Youthlift" should contact HemisFair Headquarters or the Speaker's office at the state capitol.

New $7 million bond issue has been sold to aid Texas college students needing tuition loans. First court penalty — $10,000 — has been directed against a chemical company accused of polluting the air near Galena Park.

Governor Connally approved $1,683 regional planning grants to aid Lubbock Metropolitan Council of Governments and Smith County-Tyler COG, benefiting Tyler, Arp, Bullard, Lindale, Troup, Whitehouse and Winona.

Veteran University Interscholastic League Director Rodney J. Kidd will go on modified service September 1, as UIL scholarship program head.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler reports that 2,262 active contracts have been received from purchasers under the revitalized Veterans Land Program.

The tiny holes in saltine crackers are necessary to assure uniform baking of the entire cracker and to prevent "blistering" during the baking process. Without the holes, the center of the cracker would be unbaked while the edges and "blisters" were burned.

... of Revelations said: "Gather the clusters of the vine of the earth, for her grapes are fully ripe." How beautiful! How far-reaching is this challenge! It is up to us. Throughout the Bible the grape and the vine hold great spiritual meaning. They emphasize the close union between Christ and His church. We judge the vine from the fruit it bears. St. John warned us in the first place, that the branch cannot bear fruit, except it abide in the Lord. In a spiritual sense, man makes his own harvest. His reaping is strictly in accordance with how well he has taken care of the vineyard, how thoroughly he has supported the charities of the Lord, and how genuinely he has served God.

Class Of '48 Meets Saturday

A reunion of the Hereford High School Class of 1948 will be held Saturday night at the Hereford Country Club with a dance starting at 9:30 p. m. Around 28 of the class are making definite arrangements attend from San Antonio, Colorado, Ohio and other states, Mrs. Calvin Goodin, 430 Star, announced. Invitations have been extended to everybody who would like to come and visit. This will be the third reunion for the high school class. Others have been held on the fifth and 10th anniversaries.

We cannot afford to curtail soil conservation, either in the East or the West. It is vital to the future of our farm areas, and though you may live in a city, what happens to the land of your country touches you as closely as if you were a farmer. — Eleanor Roosevelt

Crop yields go up as moisture goes down — down deep into the soil.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Away back when I was in high school, we thought it was a rather funny joke about the earnest youth who laid his ambition was to do something big and clean in life, so he was advised to get a job with a circus and wash the elephant.

DON'T KNOW whether or not Wilma Baugous had the same high aspiration, but she certainly accomplished something big and clean in her summer's work; she painted the house. No ladylike dabbling, but a complete job that began with sanding off the old paint.

For a Dresden china figurine-type like Wilma that sounds like quite a chore, and she admits she got sort of tired of it before the last brushful was spread. But it should rest her quickly when she looks at the result, and thinks of all the fine exercise she got which no doubt benefited her figure — at least she can tell herself that is what is keeping her in trim.

FIRST I HEARD about the Merlin Kauls moving to town from their longtime home at Westway was when I met Leta in a coffee shop the other day. It's one of those moves that will take some time, she says, but preliminary painting is finished and now belongings can be transferred. She was figuring on arrangements for moving the piano and deepfreeze. After those heavy things, the rest will be simple, she thinks.

Since she is not accustomed to moving, she may not know that the process is never as simple as you plan, and afterward comes the straighten-up period. But maybe she will be happier if no one reminds her of that yet. Anyway, it's nice to have her for a nearer neighbor.

LOTS OF PEOPLE talk solemnly about influence of the press, take surveys and write books about it but never bother about one little phase that always fascinates me.

That is the way mention of someone's name in a routine story can bring an unexpected response from far off. Occasionally you hear of long-separated sweethearts or lost relatives united when one reads about the other.

Nothing so dramatic happened to Donnie Click, but she received a letter from a relative in Arkansas, from whom she had not heard in years, after her photograph and name appeared last spring in a Hereford Brand story about a group of antique collectors. The relative once lived here, but Donnie had no idea she was still a subscriber to the Hereford paper, or would notice the photograph and be inspired to write the welcome note.

HAVE YOU NOTICED that the woman who says it's ridiculous for her daughter and granddaughter to spend so much time in the beauty parlor having their hair back-combed for a fashionable hairdo, is the one who used to be late for school because it took her so long to put her hair into the huge puffs over her ears which were stylish just after World War I? Only she didn't call it back-combing — it was tangling.

Piano Teachers' Workshop Is Set

A three-day teachers' workshop, to be taught by Mrs. Ivan Fowler, Guild judge from Lubbock, is set for area teachers Aug. 5-7 at Hereford High School band hall. Tuition fee is $10.

An honor student as a music major at Texas Tech, Mrs. Fowler has studied in seminars in Germany, Beirut, Italy and at Aspen, Colo. She has done graduate work in organ under Dr. Judson Maynard at Texas Tech.

Mrs. Fowler has combined group lessons with private teaching and has conducted several experiments aimed at improving her methods to make them as effective as possible.

She is expected to give many helpful suggestions for integrating classwork, including theory, technique, ear training, sight-reading and improvisation, with regular private lessons.

Lecture time for the three-day workshop begins at 2:30 p.m. and runs until 5:30 p.m. Private lessons are from 9-11 a.m. During this time, each teacher present may schedule a private session with Mrs. Fowler to last 30 minutes.

Teaching techniques, materials and suggested achievements for the first year student will be discussed the first day of workshop. The second day will concentrate on the second year student, and the topic the third day will be the needs and goals of the fourth and fifth year student.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Tom Burdett, 135 Sunset, or Mrs. Wilton Green, 219 Elm.

Open House To Follow Tea-Review

Open house today will continue a celebration of the Christian Book Store's fifth anniversary, which started at a book review-tea Tuesday afternoon in Community Center.

Visitors are invited to browse in the shop today. Mrs. Earl Springer and Mrs. Glen Osborn, managers, will serve coffee.

They greeted approximately 50 guests at the tea, where Mrs. Clint Formby gave an entertaining review of Sam Levenson's book, Everything But Money, a recollection of amusing and serious incidents in the "parent-centered home" of the author's boyhood, where "we could buy only the necessities, like books and a violin"

Wives of present and past board members of the corporation owning the book shop were hostesses. Mrs. Arthur Nafzger of Olton was at the guest registry.

Mrs. Welda Groneman poured punch; Mmes. Hubert Stoerner, Martin Wagner and Ewald Vogler assisted at the refreshment table. It was covered with ecru lace and centered with a large bouquet of white and yellow daisies.

Mrs. Springer introduced the reviewer. Mrs. Osborn presented a gift book to Mrs. Formby, and assisted by Pam Nafzger of Olton, gave books as door prizes to Mmes. Richard Barnard, S. S. Williams, Wayne Thomas, H. E. Miller, Catherine Cope, F. A. Marnell, Mrs. Mildred Elliott, Nancy Nafzger and Margaret Thomas of Olton.

Other side in time. New people had to take the responsibility for certain props. A different cowboy had to hold the horse for the surrly. The musicians had to take a new route. And finally, some crew members had to cross over an extra time to stage left because only women in party dresses were available to move the ranch house. Each cut made set a similar chain of action in motion.

With the changes, closing time has moved very close to 11:30 P.M.

Coffee Honors Double

Two former teachers in Aikman Elementary School, one leaving for a home in Dimmitt and the other visiting from California, were complimented with an informal coffee Monday morning in the home of Mrs. Ted Swindle, an Aikman faculty member.

Honorees were Mrs. B. L. Davis of San Jose, Calif., and Mrs. Jean Morris, who will teach and live at Dimmitt next term.

Mrs. Davis, wife of the former pastor of First Baptist Church here, is in Texas visiting her daughter, Mrs. Don Taylor of Belton, and other relative including a brother at Amarillo. Mrs. Taylor accompanied her here from Belton.

Area Man Has Ended Training

FT. GORDON, GA. — Army Private Juan J. Perez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Perez, Dimmitt completed nine weeks of advanced infantry training July 5 at Ft. Gordon, Ga. His last week of training was spent in guerrilla warfare exercises.

During his guerrilla training, he lived under simulated Vietnam conditions for five days, fighting off night attacks and conducting raids on "enemy" villages. He was taught methods of removing booby traps, setting ambushes and avoiding enemy ambushes.

Other specialized training included small unit tactics, map reading, land mine warfare, communications, and firing the M-14 rifle, M-60 machine gun and the 3.5-inch rocket launcher.

A score of Aikman teachers were guests for the coffee, spending an hour in casual conversation with the honorees. Mrs. Swindle served refreshments.

Washington Report

From Congressman

BOB PRICE 10TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1323 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. 205-3706

I joined with other members of the House Republican Task Force on Crime last week in introducing a bill to empower Federal judges to increase prison terms for certain types of hard-core criminals.

This proposal would attack some of the most serious problems of law enforcement — "the habitual offender or repeater"

"The professional or organized crime hoodlum."

"Individuals who use firearms during the commission of a crime"

— by giving Federal judges authority to extend prison terms up to twenty years over the maximum for the specific offenses of which the accused is convicted.

The bill gives judges an effective tool to protect society as a whole from hard-core undesirables.

The Crime Task Force's proposal works in this way. Following a trial, and conviction, a Federal court would hold a hearing in which the government and the offender present evidence related to the proposed finding. If, after such a hearing and prior to sentencing, the Court finds that the defendant falls into one of the specified categories of hard-core offenders, the grounds for which are clearly set forth in the proposed statute, then the Court may impose the additional sentence. Nothing is mandatory, however.

The bill also contains a unique proposal requiring that all federal conviction records contain the defendants fingerprints and provides for the creation of a central repository for such records from State and Federal Courts within the Department of Justice.

This is designed primarily to facilitate the sentencing of repeaters. If all the States were to adopt the fingerprint requirement, it would greatly increase efficiency in seeing to it that all repeaters are recognized and dealt with as such when they are convicted again. As it is now, the process of proving prior convictions is uncertain and cumbersome and nobody really knows in how many instances they are never proven because the evidence is not brought to light.

Some of the provisions of the new bill implement recommendations of the President's Crime Commission and the American Bar Association and would, I believe, substantially strengthen the effectiveness of Federal courts in nationwide fight against crime.

The alarming and continuing increase in crime over the country indicates that something is drastically wrong with the policies, means and methods being used in the Federal anti-crime fight.

In spite of an all-time high of persons employed in the Justice Department and record expenditures — up 55 percent since 1960 — there has been a nationwide increase of 88 percent in crime during the same period.

The record for the District of Columbia where the Justice Department has exclusive jurisdiction over all crimes is even worse. Serious felonies in the nation's capital have climbed 17 percent since 1960 while felony convictions were down by 37 percent. During 1967, for every 45 felonies committed in the District of Columbia, only one felony conviction resulted.

Some criminologists would doubtless blame the courts for such a show of ineffectiveness. However, Attorney General Ramsey Clark, has consistently denied any adverse effect of court decisions on law enforcement. So it certainly appears that if the courts are not to blame for this ineffectiveness, the Department of Justice must be.

SS Service Is Available Here

Although the district office for this area is located in Amarillo, social security service is available on a regular basis in most counties the Amarillo office serves, Travis C. Briggs, district manager, said today.

"Ordinarily, folks do not have to wait very long to be interviewed if they call at our office in Amarillo," according to Briggs, "but we realize that it is not convenient for some to come to Amarillo."

"That's the reason our field representatives set up schedules so the people in a community will know when they will be available for assistance in filing claims for benefits or to answer questions about social security or Medicare."

Those of you living in Deaf Smith county may wish to contact Gerald Millard in Hereford at the Courthouse on August 6, 13, 20 or 27, 1968.

"Texas" Pageant Is Shortened By Construction Of Sidewalks

Some minor construction was completed at the Pioneer Amphitheatre this week which reduced backstage motion and enabled the cast and crew of "TEXAS" to shorten the production a little by making faster scene changes.

Guests Feted At Rebekah Supper

An old-fashioned ice cream supper, with homemade cake and ice cream, followed the regular meeting of the Rebekah Lodge Tuesday evening in the IOOF Hall. Several guests were entertained with the members.

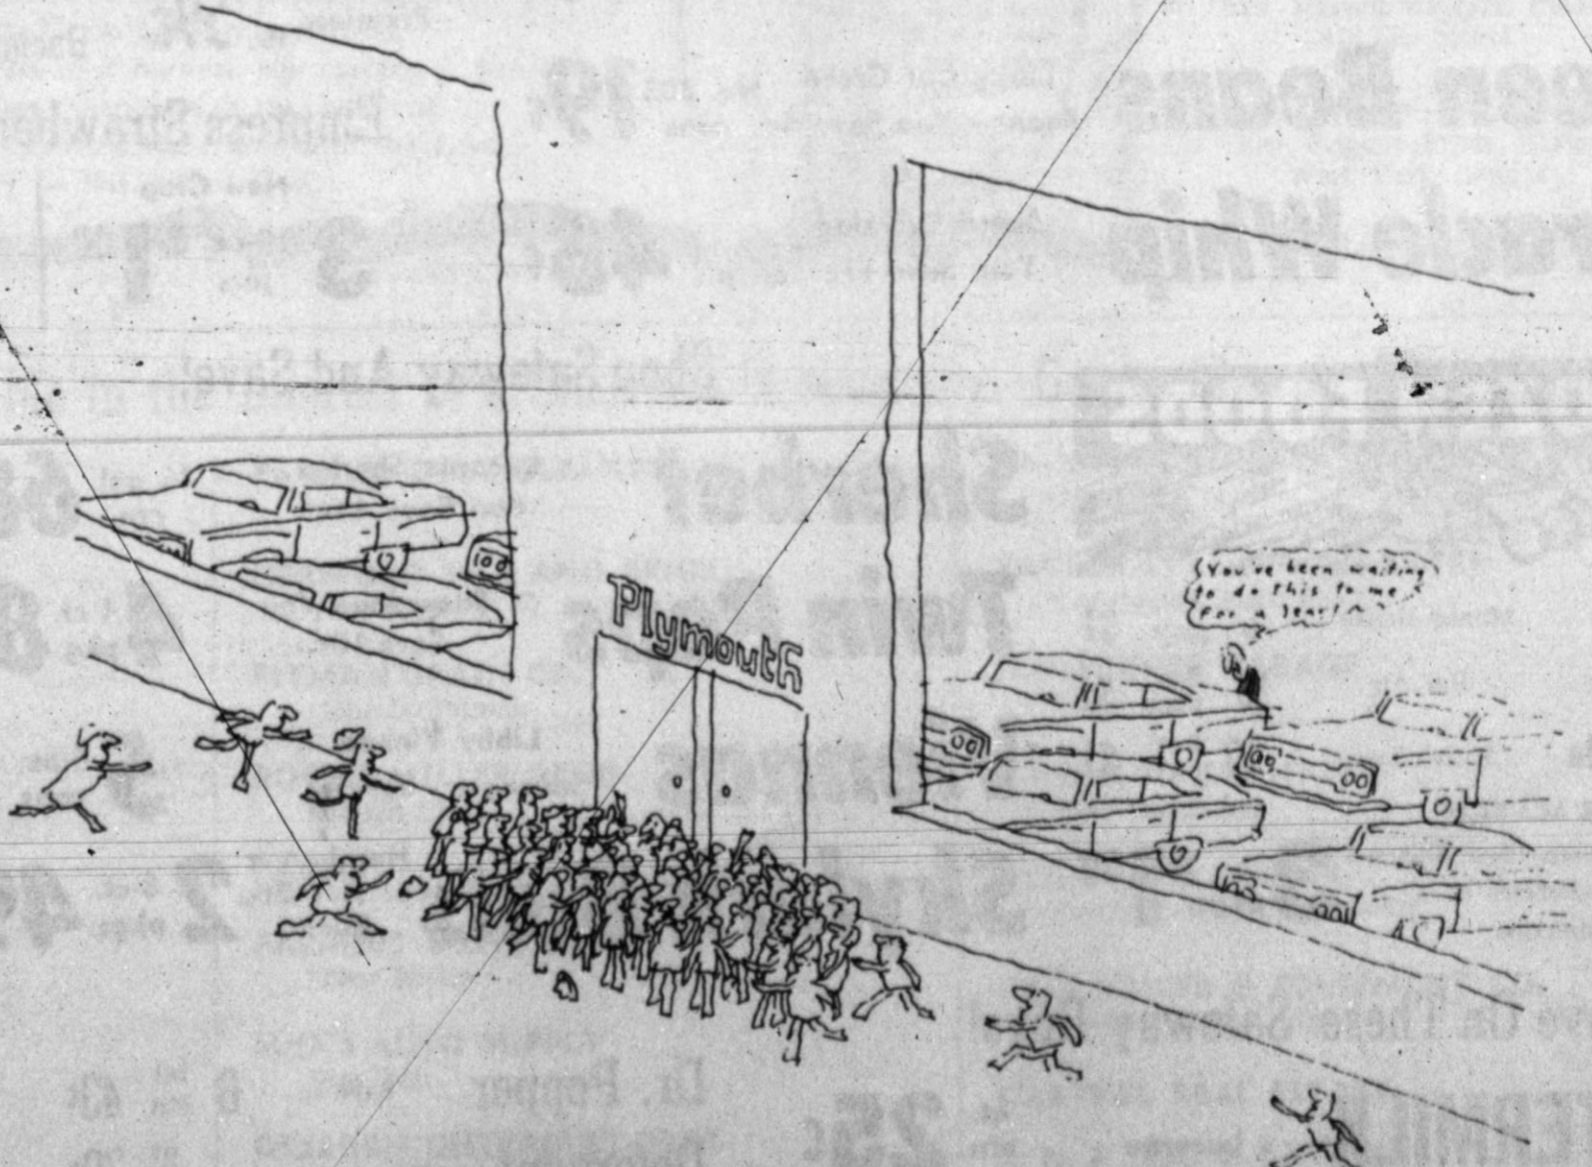

Hostesses were Mmes. A. N. Hopson, Leonard Davis and Naomi Murrell, Mr. and Mrs. George Millard, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Blue and E. E. Bishop were guests, as were members' children, Melissa and Chris Cooper and Amy Rogers.

Mrs. Guy Lawrence conducted the business session, when first nominations were made for next term's officers. Another nominating period is scheduled before the election next month.

Sidewalks leading to all the stage entrances were just finished, and now people and scenery can move smoothly and directly to their usual entrances even in bad weather.

Two other changes made earlier have also helped: construction of emergency dressing rooms just behind the wings, and a long cement tunnel below the stage at the edge of the gully which acts as a cross over.

Putting each shorter scene is difficult because this changes many other things in the show. For example, a rehearsal of one cut involved the following people and actions. The dancers had to dress more quickly between numbers. New crew men were assigned to put the make up on the backs of some of the Indians. Some actors had to run instead of walk through the cross over to be in place on the FOOD FUN PARTY — Pupils in two of the junior Food Fun classes taught this summer by Miss Nancy Hicks, marked the end of their lessons with a tea for their mothers and other guests, serving punch, sandwiches and relishes they had prepared. Afterward class members were served at the flower-decorated table in Stanton Junior High homemaking rooms, and these candid shots were taken then. The girls are from 9 to 12 years of age.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

Girls Learn Rapidly

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor
Enthusiasm and eagerness to learn are characteristic of student cooks from 9 to 12 years old who fill the classes she is conducting this summer, Nancy Hicks has learned.

SHE HAS TAUGHT some 200 girls of this area in one-week classes, and will have more than a hundred others in later groups.
Food Fun For Juniors is the name of the summer program sponsored by Rural Electric Cooperatives serving Hereford and nearby cities. Miss Hicks, who will be a senior in Texas Tech's school of home economics next term, is the instructor. Majoring in child development, she says she is learning as much in the classes as her students are.

The pretty brunette coed is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Hicks of Canyon. She plans to continue studies until she receives a masters degree, then teach. Following this summer's experience with the junior classes, she will get practice teaching in a kindergarten this fall.

AS A HOME economics student in high school three years, she was a member of Future Homemakers of America and served as state president a term. She likes to read and sew but says her hobby is "just people; I like to meet them and talk with them."

Sports she enjoys as a spectator, especially football. She swims, but admits that she never expects to be a champion in the water, and she hasn't learned to like water skiing.

She finds her classes full of surprises, with 200 different reactions from as many girls. The young pupils are careful in learning to use kitchen tools, she says, and neat and clean at their work.

"ONE PART of the first lesson is teaching them basic facts about the range and I was afraid some of them would be burned while they were learning, but only one has had a minor burn. Of course I start by insisting that they be careful with such things as hot stoves and knives."

She makes the lessons much like a game, letting the girls work in groups so they can learn to enjoy cooking. At the first session she teaches them the meaning of terms used in recipes and the use of kitchen utensils. A display of utensils in the average home illustrates that lesson.

Actual cooking starts with the first lesson, too, and girls leave the classroom with samples of the Martha Washington candy they have made by melting a stick of margarine, adding half a can of sweetened condensed milk, then 1 box confectioners sugar, half can flake coconut and 1 cup chopped pecans, mixing well, rolling the mixture into small balls and coating them with chocolate.

For the latter operation they melt a half package of semi-sweet chocolate chips and one-fourth pound of paraffin in the top of a double boiler and dip the coconut balls.

THEY LATER make cinnamon-nut coffee ring with canned biscuits as a base, pizza sandwiches, cheese bunnies and an assortment of relishes from olives, pickles, cucumbers, radishes and other vegetables.

Many of the girls report that they try the recipes again in their homes and their families like the results. Miss Hicks says mothers comment that new daughters are learning new things in class, but one mother was disappointed that no test was given at the end of the course!

The young instructor is conducting morning and afternoon classes here this week and will go to Dimmitt next week, then back here. She has taught girls in Nazareth, Bovina, Farwell and Friona already, as well as those here.

A recipe that has been a favorite in all classes is for a substantial meal-in-a-sandwich:

PIZZA SANDWICHES
2 loaves brown'n'serve French bread
1/2 lb. ground beef
1/4 cup ripe olives, chopped
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/4 tsp. oregano, crushed
3/4 tsp. salt
1 1/2 tsp. chopped onion
1 cup Parmesan cheese
1 can (6-oz) tomato paste
2 tomatoes

6 slices process cheese.
Cut loaves in half, horizontally. Combine meat, olives, seasonings, onions, Parmesan cheese and tomato paste. Spread mixture on cut sides of each loaf. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes.

Remove from oven and place sliced tomato on top of meat. Cut cheese slices in half, diagonally. Slightly overlap 3 cheese triangles on each half loaf. Bake until cheese softens. Cut each loaf into 6 servings.

Glady's Garden

By Gladys Howton Manjeot

HIT AND MISS
These fine summer days are days in which we can enjoy the fruits of our labor in gardening. Seeds, bulbs, plants, etc., have all been planted and now the time has come to watch them grow, produce and add beauty to the surroundings.

Art and I are thoroughly enjoying these lovely summer evenings. Our favorite place is on the patio. We usually have our evening meal outside, and it consists chiefly of Hereford products. Broiled steak, baked potatoes, onions, and for something tangy fresh beets with a vinegar dressing. Perhaps a bowl of tossed salad greens, and some home cooked cookies or pound cake with a small serving of sherbert. Last week our table was more beautiful because of the addition of the pretty sweet pea arrangement in their varied colors. These were a gift of Mrs. Arlie Dean. (Thanks! Mrs. Dean, am coming out to see your garden.)

After our meal, and the dishes have been placed in the dishwasher, we find a comfortable seat either on the lounge or a favorite chair, and get ready for the entertainment which is exciting and entertaining. We do not have need to go anywhere to find entertainment because we have a choice seat for a fantastic show. It is started off with the insect orchestra tuning in, and then they burst into their symphony. I think the crickets take the lead, as their music is the first notes heard, then the caterpillars join in, and soon the grasshoppers, katydids, and other insects add their melody, and it is nice evening-tide music. Soon the birds which are flitting in and out of the beautiful trees (our neighbor Mrs. Houser) come out and add their bit to the entertainment. Some sit on the telephone or electric wires, while others fly endlessly in and out of the leafy trees, taking food to their young. The solo part is usually sung by the mockingbird from the tip-top of the tallest pole. There is music, drama and tragedy portrayed. The dramatic setting against the lovely sky, and the playing together of the birds, and their pretty costumes. Tragedy when a bird makes a quick heartrending catch of a flying insect and takes it as captive to their mother and their baby birds. The de martins, sparrows, (both small and large) and the charming junco all are attentive listeners to the music. Then comes the homing pigeons, they belong to Oliver Streu to perform their aerial stunts. The black gleam in the evening sunlight, and the white wings flash clear and bright against the beautiful blue sky. They soar into the heights and then come tumbling down, and away they go. Nature and its varied contributions to our life is meaningful and interesting. As nighttime approaches, the music and entertainment ceases, and then the gleaming stars appear in the nights darkness. It is truly good to be alive and to enjoy such marvels.

HEREFORD IS BECOMING UNSIGHTLY WITH WEEDS
Check lawns, and other growths for fungi, and use a preventive at once. Do not over-water the grass. One good thorough soaking will be much better than two or three sprinklings, done hastily. One of the most lush lawns in town is at the Richardson's home on 314 Union.

HIRE YOUTHS TO CLEAN YOUR YARD
Now is the time for late plantings of zinnias, also gladioli can be planted now, but do not tarry, as they must be in the ground in JULY. Fall grown gladioli have lovely color, and produce beautiful full spikes. If you haven't tried the miniature gladioli, be sure and plant some, or list them on your plans for next year.

RID YOUR PROPERTY OF TRASH
For excellent roses, and late blooms, pinch back rose buds. This is recommended at least six weeks prior to desired blooming. Check for mildew and treat for same. It has a way of creeping upon the gardener almost over night. Do not water roses with a spray, but use a soaker or slow method for watering. If sprayed and this is done late evening, these cool nights and the moisture are excellent breeding steps for mildew.

LET'S HAVE A CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN
It is interesting and inspiring to drive in the country. The crops are fine, and beautiful, the sugar beets are really growing. In a recent paper I read the following, "Sugar beets were used both as a garden vegetable and a cattle food for centuries before the 1747 discovery that the sugar in their juice was the same as that in sugar cane. Almost 100 years elapsed before sugar beets were providing 5 per cent of the world's sugar production. Yet 40 years later, in 1880, they surpassed cane and held the dominant position until World War I." Now that we are producing beets, and have the wonderful Holly plant here it would be well for us to make a thorough study of BEETS. I hope that it will be possible for everyone to see the movie which has been made and shown, featuring Hereford Holly Plant.

Snap dragons are doing well, and many lovely flower spikes are being produced. I note that there are many dwarf snap dragons being grown. Some very attractive ones are at the Parrish home 232 Ranger. They make good border plants and the colors are rich and full, and they withstand weather hazards better. However the tall spikes are especially fine for flower arranging, so grow some of both. Keep flowers cut, so there will be a continuous blooming period.
Beautiful trees really do inspire me, and one of the loveliest ones in town is the large mimosa tree at the Viejels, on East 6th.
Be adventurous, plant new things, and You will be GLAD.

Homecoming Set For Wellington

WELLINGTON — Plans for the Wellington Ex-Student Homecoming, to be held August 3, have been finalized.
Registration will begin at 9 a. m. in the Community Building and will continue throughout the day. The reunion will move to Ellison Park from 6 to 7:30 p. m. for a barbecue, and then will move again to the Bura Handley Community Center for a dance beginning at 9 p. m.
The 1953 class will meet in the club room of the Greenbelt Electric Cooperative at 2 p. m. The Wellington Ex-Student Homecoming is to be held every other year, due to the drop in attendance in the past few years. The next homecoming will be August 8, 1970.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER I. COLEMAN, M.D.

Readers Are Asking...

WHY DOES water accumulate in the body of some people?
An unusual accumulation of fluid in the body tissue is known as edema. There are many causes of edema. Some are temporary, others are long-standing.
Disorders of the heart, liver and kidneys may produce edema. Imbalance of the hormones of the body and changes of metabolism or the functioning of the body can cause the retention of fluid.
Some women tend to accumulate fluid during pregnancy and change of life, or menopause. Some drugs, and a marked increase in the salt or fluid intake, can also be responsible.

the nose, the sinuses and the pharynx.
In addition to infection in the sinuses that may drain down into the throat, one other important factor must be considered. In a surprising number of cases, in the adult, there are extensions of tonsillar tissues running down the back of the tongue. These are called lingual tonsils. Very often they are responsible for chronic soreness on swallowing, especially immediately on awakening in the morning.

The irritation and inflammation of the lingual tonsils may last for a considerable length of time, because the tongue is never really at rest. The tongue moves during talking, swallowing and chewing and seldom has a chance to reduce the swelling of the lingual tonsils. Only occasionally are these lingual tonsils removed by surgery. Most often, with the simple use of heat to the neck and by sucking on an ordinary candy lozenge without antibiotics—the pain can be relieved.
When patients are once assured that the persistent pain does not indicate real trouble, the mild discomfort seems to disappear almost immediately.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH—When driving an automobile, a sneeze can be exceedingly dangerous. The eyes become closed, and, at a fast rate of speed, accidents can happen. Stop the sneeze by pressing the fingers hard on the middle of the upper lip.

Dr. Coleman welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

What is the cause of a persistent sore throat in an adult who has had his tonsils taken out?
The causes of sore throat are many. They can only be tracked down by detailed examination of

Funeral Planned For Ex-Resident

Funeral services for Mrs. Zada Howard, 84, former Hereford resident and mother of W. J. Howard, 302 Westhaven, are to be conducted Friday afternoon in Gainesville, with Keel Funeral Home of that city in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Howard died Monday morning in San Bernardino,

Calif., where she had made her home since 1958 with her daughter, Mrs. Paul Daffron. She is survived by five daughters and four sons including Tom Howard of Denver, also a former resident of Hereford.

A native of Texas, Mrs. Howard was born in Cooke County, near Gainesville.

Among the first vessels on Long Island Sound were Indian canoes hewn from the trunks of tulip trees.

Bill Introduced By Price And Others

A bill to establish a new Hoover type commission has been introduced by Panhandle Congressman Bob Price and more than 100 other members, both Democrats and Republicans.

An earlier bill introduced by Representative William N. Roth of Delaware after an 8 months research and study of the Federal programs, establishment would catalog all Federal assistance programs and pave the way for the commission.

Roth said his study revealed 1571 identifiable Federal programs but his questionnaire to the various agencies drew a spotty response. "We found that no one, anywhere, knows exactly how many Federal programs there are," Roth said. "Our investigation also reveals that the government does not know who is spending how much or for what." Price's bill would establish a commission for the Improvement of Government Management and Organization — a 12-man independent, bi-partisan group drawn from the top ranks of American leadership outside of government. "The commission would be set up to go over Federal programs periodically," Price said, "and to determine whether our tax dollars are being well spent."

"Our country is facing a serious economic crisis," Price said. "Huge budget deficits and massive borrowing to pay Federal bills are threatening to drive prices into a further inflationary spiral that could rob all of us of our savings and earnings if not stopped soon."

Residents Kin Dies Sunday

Mrs. Mattie Hyatt, grandmother of five local residents, died Sunday night in Abernathy.

Services were held in the Church of Christ in Abernathy with burial in Dickens. She is survived by her daughters, Mrs. Edgar Duggan and Mrs. Gerald Hall, both of Abernathy.

She is also survived by several Hereford residents including her grandchildren, Leland, Bobby, Gary, Dorman and Janice Duggan.

Rotarians Hear About Work For The Mentally Retarded

By PENNY YOUNG Staff Writer

Local Rotarians enjoyed a program given Monday at their regular noon meeting by Burtis Hollis from the Amarillo State Center for Human Development. Hollis spoke to Rotarians on the work being done by the department which is connected with the State Department of Mental Health and Retardation, and showed slides of the school and children in Amarillo.

The program is set up to teach mentally retarded children or those suspected of being retarded, and has two classes of children-pre-schoolers and post-schoolers. Post-schoolers range from about 15 to 28 years of age, Hollis told the men.

Enrollment in each class ranges from four students to about nine, which is their largest class, and the children are geared in the direction of motor development and teaching them how to use their bodies. Language development is also important in a program like this. It teaches them functional words - words that they would use every day.

Hollis also mentioned that all types of training and work that is done are set up in the form of play because of the low span of attention a child will give a project. It usually lasts only a few minutes. They are now being taught how to finish a job that has been started. Puzzles that teach them hand co-ordination, blocks to promote vision perception, motor skills and hand co-ordination, peg boards to lengthen the attention span and to teach the child how to make designs and mosaics. Also working with designs and vision perception is used frequently during training.

"Post-schoolers," explained Hollis, "participate in sewing, crafts, and swimming. There is also a swimming program for the pre-schoolers. Several of these students before coming into this program had developed a case of laziness, refusing to do anything but watch television. After a week in the school they became deeply interested."

This program tries to build conversations and concepts that many would never have had if they hadn't enrolled, Hollis explained to the listeners. It will teach them balance by walking a balance beam and develop their motor movements.

There are now five Satellite (outside Amarillo) classes and by the 1st of September, the organization hopes to have enough funds to begin classes in other towns such as Perryton, Tulia, Wellington, Spearman, Clarendon and Hereford.

The program is financed by state appropriate tax dollars available through the State Department of Mental Health and Retardation.

"This is not a federal grant," Hollis explained, "although we need one." To set up a program in Hereford, the organization in Amarillo would set up an advisory committee made up of local interested citizens who will advise them of the work through the committee. A teacher would be hired from Hereford and trained in Amarillo with the Amarillo branch paying the salary and for the training and supervision of the teacher. The community would provide the teacher aids and a place for the classes to meet with utilities and custodial service. The program would also need the support of the community.

Children in this area who may or may not be mentally retarded - all those who may show some signs of retardation - will be screened for a Day Satellite Program for Hereford on Aug.

5 and 6. For appointments, parents are to call Robert Holman, assistant superintendent of schools, at 364-0607. The screening is free of charge and will be done at Northwest Elementary School.

Crisp homemade dry bread crumbs in butter, slightly browning the crumbs, and sprinkle over cooked snap beans. The crumbs are delicious, too, served over asparagus and cauliflower. Don't crush the bread too fine when you make the crumbs.

Ever add capers (drained) to a cream sauce for fish? Good!

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

Editor's Note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 209 W. 9th Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q — My draft board now has me in class II-S on the basis of my first year as a full-time graduate student in economics. I am now completing this year. Since I have been informed that I will not be eligible for II-S next year, will I qualify for a class II-A occupational deferment if I teach part time?

A — Existing authority provides that a full-time graduate student shall not be considered for an occupational deferment because he is engaged as a part-time teacher.

Q — When must my son register with Selective Service?

A — Your son must register with the Selective Service System on his 18th birthday, or within five days thereafter.

Q — Where does one go to register with Selective Service?

A — An individual required to register may go to any draft board of the Selective Service System to register. If the individual is at home, he normally will register with the local board which will have jurisdiction over him in the future. If he is away from home and goes to the nearest board to register, he should give his normal place-of-residence address, which will cause his registration card to be sent to the local board having jurisdiction over that address. If there is a local board in your town, you can find it in the phone directory under "United States Government — Selective Service System." If the board is not in your town, your local post office will be able to tell you where the nearest one is. There may be a local registrar near you.

Comings and Goings at King's Manor

A farewell party for Mrs. Lola Carpenter, leaving Kings Manor after six years as a resident, was given last week before she left to visit her son and his family at Del Rio for a month, then go to Davis, Calif., to make her home.

HER DAUGHTER, Mrs. J. W. Ellison, lives in the California city and Mrs. Carpenter resided there with her. Mrs. Carpenter was one of the first persons to move to the Manor after it was built here.

Refreshments were served at the party from a table brightened with a bouquet of garden flowers. Mrs. Maggie Hamilton presided at the table.

In addition to Manor residents several members of Mrs. Carpenter's Sunday School class were guests.

THREE CARS took 16 residents of Kings Manor on an all-day excursion to Boys Ranch Tuesday. The group had lunch in the Boys Ranch dining room, and took gifts for the ranch.

Mrs. Oia Davis, Kings Manor supervisor, has made several visits in Amarillo recently with her brother who lives in that city, and who has undergone surgery in a hospital there.

MRS. BESSIE PETTY is spending a few days in Borger visiting with her daughter.

MRS. C. W. FISHER, director of activities at the Manor, and Mrs. M. Blake, a hostess, are to leave the last of this week for a tour of Scandinavian countries. They are looking forward to the trip by air and the exploration of historic and modern cities as well as sight-seeing in the unusual scenery of northern Europe.

Area Women Republicans To Have Meeting

Possible organization of a Republican Women's Club in Deaf Smith County will be discussed at a coffee at 9:30 a. m. today in First National Community Room, where Mrs. Terry Thomas of Amarillo will be the speaker.

Mrs. Thomas is the 31st Senatorial District director of the Texas Federation of Republican Women. She will speak informally and answer questions concerning the purposes of a county club for women of the party.

All interested women of this area are invited for the coffee hour.

Austria expects to open its first national park, an area of more than 1,300 square miles, by 1970. The park, to be modeled after Yellowstone National Park, will contain the Gross Glockner, Austria's highest peak, the Grossvenediger Ridge, the Pasterze Glacier and Krimml Falls, Europe's highest.
